The Daily Intelligencer.

LET THERE BE HARMONY IN THINGS ESSENTIAL—LIBERALITY IN THINGS NOT ESSENTIAL—CHARITY IN ALL.

VOL 28. BELLEVILLE ONTARIO MONDAY OCTOBER 1 1894 NO. 127

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

MEDICAL.

DR WISHART.

47 GROSVENOR ST., Toronto, will be at the Huffman House, Belleville, Saturday, Sept. 1st, '94. 192dw1y

DR. QUACKENBUSH, M.D., U.M.D., M.D., P.S.O.

HOMŒOPATHIC Physician, Surgeon and Accoucheur, has removed his office over store lately occupied by J. C. Overell, Residence George St., opposite H. Corby's.

JOHN J. FARLEY, M. D., C. M., M. R. C. S. England.

OFFICE and Residence—corner of Bridge and George Streets—three streets east of Post Office.

LEGAL.

FLINT & McCAMON.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public, etc. Solicitors for the Canadian Bank of Commerce. Office, City Hall, Front Street, Belleville, Ont. d84tf
JOHN J. B. FLINT, W. J. McCAMON.

STEWART MASSON.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, Notary, Conveyancer, etc. Office, South side Bridge st., over Wallbridge & Clark's, Belleville, Ont, Money to loan at lowest rates. 76dwtf

J. F. WILLS' LAW OFFICE.

REMOVED to Campbell Street (south side) 2nd door from Front Street, on ground floor.

MIKEL & ROBERTS.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notary Public, Conveyancers, etc. Offices Bridge St., Belleville. Monies to loan at lowest rate.

THOMAS & HALLIWELL.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Conveyancers, &c. Money to loan. 293d3mw1y
J. PARKER THOMAS, J. EARL HALLIWELL.

PONTON & MORDEN,

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public, Conveyancers. Office over Express and Telegraph Office, Bridge St., Belleville. Money to loan—private funds.
WM. N. PONTON, M. A., Solicitor Hastings Loan and Investment Society.
W. S. MORDEN, B.A.

E. GUSS PORTER.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, Notary Public, etc. Office in the Robertson Block, east side of Front Street.
Private Money to Loan, 271dw1y

FRANCIS S. WALLBRIDGE.

(Successor to Hon. Lewis Wallbridge, Q.C.) BARRISTER, Solicitor, Conveyancer, etc. Office, McAnnany building, corner Front and Bridge streets, Belleville, Ont. Private and Company money to loan at 6 per cent., on easy terms upon good land security. Charges moderate.

A. GOODRICH.

LAWYER, 124 Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill., 28 years' experience; secrecy; special facilities in several States; Goodrich on Divorce; with laws of all States in press. 76d1y

GEO. A. KINGSTON.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, etc., with Lount, Marsh and Cameron, 25 Toronto St., Toronto. Money to loan on farm property at lowest rates. 233dtf9w.

MISCELLANEOUS.

AGENCY of the Liverpool and London and Globe Fire and Life Insurance Companies.
W. P. HUDSON, Agent.
Office Campbell street, Belleville. d,w

HENRY CARRE, C. E.

M.C. Soc C.E.,
DOMINION AND PROVINCIAL LAND SURVEYOR.

Special attention paid to Hydraulics and Land Drainage. Patents obtained and Drawings made. Office—McAnnany Block, under Ontario Business College, Front St. P.O. address—Box 203, Belleville.

A. G. NORTHRUP.

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Shire Hall, Belleville. 226dkw1y

D. I. DULMAGE, L.D.S., D.D.S. (Tor. University).

DENTIST—Office over Brignall & Thompson's. Night calls at residence on Forin Street. d,w

CHAS. JOSE.

VETERINARY Surgeon, Graduate Ontario Veterinary College, Member Ontario Veterinary Society. Office and residence, Foxboro, Ont. Calls by mail or telegram promptly attended to. 304d,w1y

TO LET.

TO LET 2 snug, warm brick houses in terrace, situated on Harriett St., West Belleville, known as Morten's, or Filliter's terrace. For terms of rent apply to R. C. Filliter, collector, or sub agent to the estate of the late H. E. Filliter. Residence at Mr. Jardin's Corner of William and Dundas Sts., East Belleville. 85d2m

12 Hours Saved.

— ON AND AFTER —

MONDAY, SEPT. 3RD, '94,

— THE —

CANADIAN PACIFIC RY.

—EXPRESS FOR—

Winnipeg & the Pacific Coast

(Via NORTH BAY,)

Will leave Toronto at 12:30 p. m., noon.

S. BURROWS, C.P.R. Agent, Belleville.

Buttermilk
Toilet . . . .
Soap . . . . .

We have just placed in stock 60 dozen of the above

ELEGANTLY PERFUMED TOILET SOAP
10c per cake at the Pharmacy.

D M WATERS

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

ACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York.

Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

Charles H. Hutchings.

Sick Headache

CURED PERMANENTLY

BY TAKING

Ayer's Pills

"I was troubled a long time with sick headache. I tried a good many remedies recommended for this complaint; but it was not until I

Began taking Ayer's Pills

that I received permanent benefit. A single box of these pills freed me from headaches, and I am now a well man." —C. H. HUTCHINGS, East Auburn, Me.

Awarded Medal at World's Fair

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the Best.

ACETOCURA
TOUCHES THE SPOT IN NEURALGIA.

ACETOCURA
TOUCHES THE SPOT IN NEURALGIA

Mr. A. Weir, Kew Beach, September 7th, 1894, writes:—"Since then I have used it for neuralgic pains in the head, with immediate relief."

ACETOCURA
TOUCHES THE SPOT IN PARALYSIS.

ACETOCURA
TOUCHES THE SPOT IN PARALYSIS

ACETOCURA
TOUCHES THE SPOT IN PARALYSIS

Mrs. B. M. Hall, Fernwood, Ill, U.S.A., August 15th, 1894, writes:—"I am 61 years old. For two years I had been afflicted with partial paralysis of the lower limbs, rendering me unable to walk a block without complete exhaustion. After using Acetocura for five days the pain had entirely disappeared permitting me to enjoy a good night's rest, and after ten day's treatment I was able to walk two miles without fatigue."

Write for gratis pamphlet to COUTTS & Sons, 72 Victoria street, Toronto. Head offices—London, Glasgow and Manchester, (G.B.) Cologne, Germany, Aaron, Switzerland.

Local Agents—
L. W. YEOMANS & CO.,
DRUGGISTS,
BELLEVILLE.

PREPARE

FOR the STRUGGLE.

The course of study offered by the Belleville business College gives a young person a thorough and practical knowledge of business, and also that mental culture and discipline which sharpens perceptive faculties, stimulates ambition, develops ability and prepares for the struggle of making a living. Every step in the work is characterized by thoroughness. Besides we use the most practical methods.

In teaching shorthand we dictate actual letters and legal evidence. Other schools have undertaken to imitate our methods, but the quality of their work bears that relation to practical business which the imitation does to the real.

We represent things exactly as they are.

Belleville Business College.

ROBERT BOGLE, Proprietor.

Daily Intelligencer.

BRITISH POLITICAL GOSSIP

Irish, Radicals and Liberals Clamor for the Cabinet's Policy.

LORD ROSEBERY SHIRKS THE ISSUE

Certain of the Ministry Do Not Fall in With the Agitation Against the Upper House, Which Tends to Complicate the Premier's Position—Welsh Disestablishment Must Come First.

LONDON, Oct. 1.—Both the private appeals and public warnings by the leaders of the Irish party have failed to disturb the reticence of the ministers with regard to the policy they intend to pursuing the coming session of Parliament, and the position of affairs politically verges on a great crisis. Lord Rosebery shirks in every way bringing before the cabinet the question of the Government's policy with reference to the House of Lords, fearing that dissensions will arise and that the ministry will be disrupted through the withdrawal of the members opposed to the abolition of the peers' veto power. Since the retirement of Mr. Gladstone, although the question of abolishing the veto power of the Lords has been in the fore front of the country's politics it has not once been discussed by the cabinet. Every section of the Liberal party is waiting with strained anxiety for some ministerial declaration, while Lord Rosebery urges them to be patient.

The edition of the programme recently proposed by the Duke of Devonshire and Mr. Chamberlain, making the complete absorption of the Unionists by the Conservatives, the chief feature of which was the revision of Mr. Chamberlain's scheme for Irish local government to the extent of creating county councils, with the central legislature located in Dublin, is now doubtful. Lord Rosebery's communications rather indicate that until the Cabinet shall have settled upon the policy to be pursued regarding the House of Lords at the councils to be held in November and December, no definite pronouncement upon the subject ought to be expected.

The feeling of distrust of the sincerity of the premier is not confined to the Radicals and the Irish, but pervades the whole of the Liberals and only a straightforward declaration of policy of the House of Lords and Home Rule questions can save him from being overthrown.

In a recent written letter Mr. Henry Labouchere says he despairs of the Government and that he and those acting with him in the future will pursue an independent course. Messrs. William O'Brien, Justin McCarthy and Timothy Healy have made concurrent declarations, in which they notify the Government that unless the Government's attitude in the House of Lords is clearly defined at the opening of Parliament they will use their undoubted power to bring about a dissolution. If Lord Rosebery decides to satisfy these demands, he will find it necessary to reconstruct the Ministry, expelling therefrom the element hostile to the Lord's reform.

Once the Irish leaders are made to feel absolutely certain that a bill abolishing the Lords' veto power will be introduced it is understood that they will allow the Government to act at their discretion as to the time of the measure's presentation to Parliament. Lord Rosebery has already promised the Welsh members that the first measure to be considered at the coming session shall be the bill for the disestablishment of the Church in Wales.

The Conservatives, as soon as a bill depriving the House of Lords of the power to veto shall have been announced, will adopt obstruction tactics on every measure presented and will continue on this course until the House of Commons and the public at large shall have had ample opportunity to discuss in full its bearings upon such a vital change.

Mr. Gladstone is out in a letter affirming his adhesion to local option, though, he says, he hoped further steps might have been taken to cope with the frightful evils of drink. This letter from the ex-Premier has restored the equinimity of the temperance people, the organs of which advocated the issue of an ultimatum by the Goverment on the subject.

The Weekly Sun announces that Mr. Gladstone's eyesight has been completely restored and that he now reads and writes as usual and is working very hard.

Archbishop Croke, of the diocese of Cashel, in an interview had during the past week said that he thoroughly agreed with the views expressed in the recent letter of Dr. Thomas A. Emmet, president of the Irish National League in America, to Mr. Justin McCarthy, in which the writer strongly condemned the public discussion of dissensions which might arise in the party. The advice of Dr. Emmet seems to have been taken, for throughout the week the voice of leaders have harmonized on most points and internal disputes have not been heard.

Ratte Refused a Stay of Proceedings.

BUFFALO, Oct. 1.—J. A. Nelson Ratte, of Montreal, sentenced to one year and one month in the Erie County Penitentiary and to pay a fine of $200 for smuggling fur goods into New York, appeared in the United States Court to have his commitment deferred. He asked for a stay of proceedings pending an appeal. Ratte is a sufferer from hip disease and did not want to be confined. Judge Coxe denied the motion and it is probable that Ratte will be placed in the hospital department at the penitentiary.

A Dutch Fight With Bolinese.

THE HAGUE, Oct. 1.—A despatch from Java announces that the Dutch forces have captured Mataram, Lombok Island. A concurrent attack was made on three sides of the town. The fighting was stubborn and lasted eight hours. On the Dutch side one officer and twelve men were killed and four officers and 45 men were wounded. The Bolinese lost heavily.

Bull Fighting Must Stop in France.

PARIS, Oct. 1.—Premier Dupuy received the mayor and municipal authorities of Nimes, who called to protest against the government's course in prohibiting bull fighting. M. Dupuy said that the government could not reconsider the matter and that the decision must be enforced.

Royalists Desert Queen Lil.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 1.—Honolulu advices state that a number of Queen Liliuokalani's supporters have taken the oath of allegiance to the republic, chief among them being Paul Neumann, the Queen's adviser, and Editor Logan of the Bulletin, the ex-royalist organ.

No Disquiet in Brazil.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—An officer of the steamer Cuvier which arrived here from Santos says that there was no evidence of any uprising in Brazil and that the conditions were favorable for a quiet election in November.

THE CZAR'S ILLNESS.

His Attack of Bright's Disease Was Aggravated by a Cold.

LONDON, Oct. 1.—The Standard's correspondent in Berlin is authority for the statement that President Leyden diagnosed the Czar's ailment as bright's disease in an advanced stage.

On the other hand the Vienna Tageblatt maintains on the authority of a Russian diplomat maintains that the Czar is suffering from neurasthenia coupled with anaemia in addition to kidney disease.

The Czar's condition, it is said, was made worse by a cold which he caught two nights before leaving St. Petersburg. He went to the telegraph office in the winter palace at 1 o'clock in the morning and dictated a message to Abbas Tuman in the Caucasus concerning the health of his favorite son George and waited an hour and a half in the dark bare office for a reply from the doctor. He was not satisfied with the reply and returning to his bed-room threw himself into an arm chair and wept. He cried: "Oh God, what have I done to be so severely punished." The Czar could not sleep through thinking of his son.

During the first night of his stay in George's residence in Spala the Czar arose from his bed and went to his son's room and watched his sleeping son for a long time. When returning to his room he went through a cold passage and was attacked with rheumatism, which made his condition still worse. It is said that he greatly prefers George to the Czarewitch.

The Times publishes the following despatch from its correspondent at St. Petersburg:

"The Czar and Czarina and Grand Duke George will start immediately for Livades, where they will pass the winter. The imperial yachts Polar Star and Tsarona will sail on Monday from Fronstadt for the Crimea. The Czar has lost enormously in weight in the last few weeks. He now looks very ill."

JAPAN'S GREAT SCHEME.

If Successful She Will Divide China Into Three Kingdoms.

LONDON, Oct. 1.—The Times publishes the following dispatch from its Berlin correspondent:

"The London agent of the Frankfort Zeitung has been informed by a personage intimate with affairs in Eastern Asia that the Japanese intend, if their good fortune continues, to divide the Chinese empire into three independent kingdoms to be ruled over by native princes. One kingdom is to be given to Li Hung Chang, who is cognizant of the scheme. If necessary Japan will summon a conference of the European powers to decide as to the division.

"The Frankfort Zeitung says: 'This scheme is not so wild as it at first appears, Japan's object is to weaken China permanently. Russia will not tolerate the annexing of Corea. The execution of the scheme would be helped by the antagonism between the Chinese and Manchurins.'"

Mr. Blake to Speak in the States.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—The Irish National Federation of America sends out the following: "Invitations to Hon. Edward Blake, M.P., to address a public meeting on the Irish home rule question in several of our large cities have reached this office. As the time which Mr. Blake can devote to public meetings is limited to between the 17th and 27th of October he will be forced to decline many of the invitations. Mr. Blake has accepted invitations to speak in New York on the 17th of October, Philadelphia on the 25th, Brooklyn on the 26th and in Pittsburg, Atlanta and Memphis if it is possible to fix dates between the 17th and 25th of October."

A Single Tax Colony.

MOBILE, Ala., Oct. 1.—The Fair Hope Industrial Association of Des Moines, Ia., has determined to establish a colony based on Henry George's single tax theory in Baldwin county, Alabama. The lands are located between Daphue and Battles, on the eastern shore of Mobile Bay, and officers of the association will be here shortly to start things moving. Twenty-five families will come as soon as preparations are completed and this number will be increased by spring. They will engage in trucking, fruit growing and small manufacturing.

Found Dead in an Organ Loft.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 1.—Yesterday James Cunningham was found dead in the organ loft of St. Peter's Episcopal Church, and in the same room was found Franklin Beckert, organist of the church, nearly dead. Their condition was the result of poisoning. They had eaten a lunch together at noon. There has been some trouble in the church concerning Mr. Beckert's duties as organist and he was to have closed his engagement to-day. A rigid inquiry will be made by the authorities.

The Deed of a Drunken Brute.

CHASKA, Minn., Oct. 1.—Louis Scharf and family, who had attended the fair, started home in the evening. Scharf was intoxicated and was driving fast. When within a block of the river he was stopped by J. Kunze, of Minneapolis, who told him to drive slower. Scharf promised to do so, but no sooner was he released than he whipped his horses furiously and dashed down the river bank over the ferry and into the river. His wife, five children and Miss Mary Roskus, Mrs. Scharf's sister, were drowned. Scharf clung to the wagon box and was rescued.

Bound and Robbed by Masked Men.

TIFFIN, Ohio, Oct. 1.—Four masked men approached the home of Levi Keller, a wealthy farmer of Reed township, at dusk and successively secured Mr. and Mrs. Keller, their hired man and a neighbor who came to their home on an errand and bound them to four separate beds. After ransacking the house and securing $80 and four watches the robbers left in Mr. Keller's buggy. Miss Bloom, a seamstress in Melmore, was bound and robbed of $180 the previous night presumably by the same men.

Robbed and Nearly Murdered.

CHICAGO, Oct. 1.—T. Peterson, of Kenosha, Wis., was waylaid by four men on Chicago avenue and robbed of $70 and a gold watch and chain. After robbing him the men fled, pursued by Peterson. He succeeded in capturing one of them, Thomas Harrity, when the latter drew a revolver and shot him three times, probably fatally wounding him. Harrity and his companions were arrested.

Chicago's Crusade Against Gambling.

CHICAGO, Oct. 1.—Among the indictments returned by the grand jury was those of J. Irving Pearce, Owen F. Aldis and a number of other well known citizens who own buildings in which gambling was carried on and numerous members of the gambling profession. This is the first batch of indictments that has been returned under the law in this county.

SOURCE OF LABOR TROUBLES

Cardinal Gibbons Speaks on the Question of the Times.

ARBITRATION FOR ALL GRIEVANCES

His Eminence Counsels This Means of Settling Labor Difficulties and Hopes That Strikes Will be Done Away With—There Are Too Many Combines and Companies All Along the Line.

FROSTBURG, Md., Oct. 1.—Cardinal Gibbons preached on "Labor" to a large congregation in St. Michael's church yesterday. In the course of his remarks his Eminence said:

"Labor has its rights, chief among which is the privilege of organizing and forming into societies. Our modern labor organizations are the legitimate source of our American labor grievances. In our times there is a great tendency in every department of business throughout the United States as well as Great Britain to form companies. There is a continuous network of companies and partnerships. When corporations combine it is quite natural for the laboring men to follow their example. But labor societies have many dangers menacing them. They are composed of men formidable in numbers and varying in character and nationality.

"They are naturally more difficult to manage and more liable to be dissolved than companies or corporations. They are in want of leaders of tact and ability who will aid the members of the societies with their employers.

"One of the most difficult questions of our times to discuss is the question of strikes. Perhaps this is not an unfavorable time to allude to this subject as the great strike is ended and men are disposed to be more dispassionate in their judgments than they were some months ago. Strikes, as experience has demonstrated, are very questionable for the redress of the laborer's grievances. They check industry and excite passion. They often lead to the destruction of property and they result in inflicting many injuries by keeping the laborer in idleness while his mind is clouded by discontent and his family not unfrequently suffer for the comforts, and often for the necessaries of life. I earnestly hope that some efficient remedy will be found to put an end to our recurring strikes, and arbitration seems to be the most potent method that can be conceived of. A method that entails misery and loss is not the best means of adjusting labor grievances. A plan that will carry with it good and true Christian civilization should be sought for and adopted."

EITHER SUICIDE OR MURDER.

Mysterious Circumstances Surround a Woman's Death at East Jordan.

CHARLEVOIX, Mich., Oct. 1.—Mrs. Hannah Holborne, who died very suddenly at East Jordan last July, was at the time acting as house-keeper for Wm. Morrison, a teamster of that town. Morrison was a widower with three children and Mrs. Holborne was a widow with two children. She had kept house for him over a year. Her sudden death caused talk and her stomach was sent away for analysis. Yesterday Prosecuting Attorney F. W. Mayne, of Charlevoix, received word that the analysis showed undoubted evidence of poisoning by strychnine, this drug being present in the stomach in large quantities. The post mortem at the time of the woman's death showed that she was in a delicate condition.

Shortly after Mrs. Holborne's death Morrison was married to Miss Edith Cole, with whom he is now living. Morrison has always borne a fair reputation. The certainty that Mrs. Holborne was poisoned makes it evident that it was either suicide or murder.

The prosecuting attorney is now en route for the scene of the crime and talks of making arrests.

Rescued From a Living Tomb.

SCRANTON, Pa., Oct. 1.—Rescued from what was believed a certain death on Thursday when a portion of the workings of the Northwest Colliery at Simpson near Carbondale caved in, Wm. Mitchell, George Arney, John Fanning and Andrew Klapowsky are the objects of demonstrative rejoicing in the village. Yesterday when it became a certainty that all four were alive, the agony of Thursday was turned into rejoicing. The men were faint from the lack of food and drink but these were supplied them and they were shortly after midnight restored to their friends, hundreds of whom stood at the mines mouth to receive them. Their escape from death is regarded as almost a miracle.

Doubled the R. and O.'s Claim.

MONTREAL, Oct. 1.—The Court of Appeals has just decided a most important case affecting the Richelieu and Ontario Navigation Company. The Superior Court granted the company $20,000 insurance on the burning of the steamer Corinthian two years ago. The company appealed from this and awarded the full amount claimed, $40,000, with two years' interest at 6 per cent. and costs against the insurance companies, sixteen of whom are interested.

Suing Her Husband for Alimony.

HAMILTON, Oct. 1.—Mrs. Adeline M. Lawry, wife of T. H. Lawry, the well-known butcher, has instructed her solicitors, Culham & Wilton, to issue a writ against her husband for $60 per month for alimony for the support of herself and children. Mr. and Mrs. Lawry cannot agree and have lived apart for some time, but it was hoped the matter would be amicably settled and would not get into courts.

A Primrose Victim Recovered.

HALIFAX, Oct. 1.—The body of Samuel Hutton, who lost his life by the capsizing of the yacht Primrose five weeks ago, was found five miles off Upper Harbor or about thirty miles from here on Saturday. The remains were brought here last night. The body was easily identified by the gold watch which contained the inscription, Samuel Hutton, champion oarsman.

Incendiary Fire at Peterborough.

PETERBOROUGH, Oct. 1.—A fire of undoubted incendiary origin occurred here. The brigade was called out for a blaze on Aylmer street, in the buildings belonging to the residence of Mr. J. H. Glass. The fire was confined to the outbuildings, which were destroyed along with their contents. Loss estimated at about $800, of which there is an insurance of $500.

Mrs. Dunseath's Body Found.

MEAFORD, Oct. 1.—The body of Mrs. W. C. Dunseath, of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., who disappeared from here on Tuesday last, was found in the river just above the woollen mill dam. It is supposed she became low-spirited over her illness and threw herself into the river. Dr. Cameron, of Owen Sound, will hold an inquest.

House Full of Steam! A big fire, heavy lifting, hard work is the usual way of doing the wash . . . .

There is an easier and cleaner way.

A TEA KETTLE

will give all the hot water required when

Surprise Soap

is used according to the directions on the wrapper. It does away with boiling or scalding the clothes and all that miss and confusion. The clothes are sweeter, whiter and cleaner, washed in this way.

Thousands use Surprise Soap on wash day, why don't you?

169a. THE ST. CROIX SOAP MF'G. CO., ST. STEPHEN, N. B.

HE VIEWED THE SCAFFOLD.

MacWherrell Has a Look at the Gruesome Machine—Death of a Bramptonian.

BRAMPTON, Oct. 1.—Mr. Geo. Graham died at his residence at Elizabeth street, aged 74. Mr. Graham has been identified with the County of Peel for many years and has held the position of county treasurer ever since the separation of the county of York and Peel. He has also been the presiding magistrate of the town for the last twenty years. Prior to his moving to Brampton he was a successful farmer at Grahamsville. He was also for many years treasurer of the Provincial Exhibition and for a number of years a local preacher of the Methodist denomination and was at the time of his death an official of St. Paul's church. In politics he was a staunch Liberal.

Preparations had been made to convey MacWherrell and Williams, lately sentenced to three years in Kingston, to-morrow morning, but on account of the death of Mr. George Graham, with whom Sheriff Broddy had been officially associated for so many years, will no doubt delay the removal of the prisoners till Wednesday. On Saturday crowds of people visited the jail and yard where the scaffold still stands. MacWherrell and Walker were both out to inspect the gruesome object. Walker acted as master of ceremonies and explained its operations. Walker is as lively as a cricket and appears quite contented.

Mr. John E. Wood, a most respected citizen of Brampton for thirty years, was committed to jail for contempt of court for 21 days. Mr. Wood was at one time in comfortable circumstances, but fire and a series of financial disasters has at last landed him within the stone walls of the county jail.

A Mystery Cleared Up.

MONTREAL, Oct. 1.—The mystery surrounding the disappearance of E. A. Benjamin, the well known business man and social favorite, has been cleared up. Friends of the missing man have received letters from him stating that he is in New York and that he will probably return to Montreal at an early date. The real reason of his disappearance is said to be a purely domestic matter and his friends are much incensed at the sensational stories that have been published concerning him and his financial transactions. Several of the firms which it was claimed were victimized deny the statement and declare that Benjamin's transactions with them were perfectly straight. Benjamin's friends say that he will shortly return to Montreal.

Suicide at Brighton.

BRIGHTON, Ont., Oct. 1.—M. P. Ketchum, an old resident of this village, committed suicide by shooting himself in the right temple with a revolver in C. K. Lockwood's orchard. He was once owner of the wonderful trotting dog "Doc." The coroner deemed it not necessary to hold an inquest, as the cause is supposed to be temporary insanity. He will be buried on Tuesday afternoon by the Masonic order. Deceased leaves a widow and two children, a daughter and son. It is supposed the cause was financial losses on real estate in Winnipeg.

Heavy Gales Of Newfoundland.

ST. JOHNS, Nfld., Oct. 1.—A fierce gale has been raging here since Saturday. Two of our fishing vessels returning from Brazil anchored off the harbor mouth. There was no tug to bring them in, the Graham, the only one attached to the harbor, having gone on an election canvas to Fogo. Two other crafts anchored in the same neighborhood, and one of these was abandoned owing to heavy seas. They are in dangerous situations and if the wind changes there is no hope for their safety.

The Ahr Valley.

It is becoming the custom among European travellers to stop at Remagen on the Rhine, and make a little excursion to the beautiful Valley of the Ahr, with its picturesque villages along the vine clad slope. Here is also located the spring from which flows that world wide favorite "Apollinaris Water." At Neuenahr, in the valley, the river Ahr is very beautiful, and one can find few more quaintly attractive spots than the Upper Gate at Ahrweiler, or the old mill at Heppingen.

A tax on dogs was levied in Rome during the reign of Nero.

For Over Fifty Years

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by druggists throughout the world.
17d&w1y

In the time of Queen Anne soap was taxed £28 per ton.

DEAR SIRS.—I have used Yellow Oil for two or three years, and think it has no equal for croup. Mrs. J. S. O'Brien, Huntsville, Ont.

The tithes in England amounted to £4,050,000 a year.

Dyspepsia and Indigestion.—C. W. Snow & Co., Syracuse, N.Y., writes: "Please send us ten gross of Pills. We are selling more of Parmelee's Pills than any other Pill we keep. They have a great reputation for the cure of Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint." Mr. Chas. A. Smith, Lindsay, writes: "Parmelee's Pills are an excellent medicine. My sister has been troubled with severe headache, but these pills have cured her."

Russia raises $1,5000,000 a year by the sale of passports.

THAT TIRED, LANGUID FEELING and dull headache is very disagreeable. Take two of Carter's Little Liver Pills before retiring, and you will find relief. They never fail to do good.

SAFE

PLEASANT

THE GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER

PRISTOL'S SARSAPARILLA

CURES ALL Taints of the Blood.

RELIABLE

CERTAIN

Trafalgar Institute.

(Affiliated to McGill University.)

No. 83 Simpson Street, Montreal.

— FOR THE —

Higher Education OF Young Women

With preparatory department for girls between 10 and 14.
President, REV. JAMES BARCLAY, D.D.
Vice-President, MR. A. T. DRUMMOND.
Principal, MISS GRACE FAIRLEY, M.A., Edinburgh.

The institute will re-open with an efficient staff of twelve resident and visiting teachers, on

Tuesday, 11th September 1894.

The Institute buildings are situated on the mountain side overlooking the City. The spacious grounds are attractively laid out and the surroundings are not only beautiful but very healthful.

For copy of Prospectus and other information apply to the principal, at the Institute, or to

A. F. Riddell, Secretary, 22 St. John St., Montreal.

LAKEHURST SANITARIUM

OAKVILLE, ONT.

For treatment and cure of

ALCHOLISM, MORPHINE HABIT, TOBACCO HABIT AND NERVOUS DISEASES.

The system employed at this institution is the familiar Double Chloride of Gold System. Through its agency over 200,000 Slaves to the use of these poisons have been emancipated in the last fourteen years. Lakehurst Sanitarium is the oldest Institution of the kind in Canada, and has a well earned reputation to maintain in this line of medicine. In its whole history there is not an instance of failure to remove the appetite for these poisons. In its whole history there is not an instance of any after ill effects from the treatment. Hundreds of happy homes in all parts of the Dominion bear eloquent witness to the efficacy of a course of treatment with us. For terms and full information write

THE SECRETARY,
28 Bank of Commerce Chambers,
aug7d3m34w3m) Toronto, Ont.

STOVE PIPES!
STOVE PIPES!!
STOVE PIPES!!!

WHIPS!	LANTERNS!
WHIPS!!	LANTERNS!!
WHIPS!!!	LANTERNS!!!
Lamps,	Flower Pots,
Lamps,	Flower pots,
Lamps,	Flower Pots.

—AT—

THE FAIR,

FRANK WEEKS, MANAGER.

ALBERT - COLLEGE

MUSICAL DEPARTMENT.

MR. W. H. DINGLE, Principal.
MR. C. M. TRIPP, MISS MARIETTA WILSON, Assistants.

The next term begins Sept 5th.

Instruction at home if desired.

A graded course of instruction, all under the supervision of the Principal.

TERMS,—$6, $8, $12, according to grade. 20 half hour lessons.

Apply at once to either DR. W. P. DYER, or MR. W. H. DINGLE. 104d&w1m

Babies

ought to be fat. Give the Thin Babies a chance. Give them

Scott's Emulsion

the Cream of Cod-liver Oil, with hypophosphites, and watch them grow Fat, Chubby, Healthy, Bright. Physicians, the world over, endorse it.

Don't be deceived by Substitutes!

Scott & Bowne, Belleville. All Druggists. 50c. & $1.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, MONDAY, OCT. 1.

POLITICAL PROSPECTS.

The Toronto Telegram thus expresses the view which it takes, fr m an independent standpoint, of the prospects in the next general elections to Parliament:—"Sir John Thompson's declaration that Conservative prospects were never brighter in the Maritime provinces, can be readily believed. Genius and integrity of character distinguish Sir John Thompson, and strengthen his party even here in Ontario, where he is comparatively unknown. It is impossible that the Conservatives can lose under him the advantages which they gained in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick under another leader. Ontario trusts the Premier, and the province which have known him the longest are not likely to keep from an old friend that degree of confidence which the honesty and genius of Sir John Thompson win from new acquaintances.

WHO PAYS THE DUTY!

This old question is once more being threshed out in the press.

The Ottawa Citizen having shown that the protection upon a reaper worth $100 amounts to $13.50, the Globe asks who pays the $13.50? To this the Hamilton Spectator replies: "Nobody pays it. The protection of $13.50 keeps the American machine out, and enables Massey to sell his Canadian machine at a cheaper price than the American machine is sold for in the United States. Protection gives Massey the Canadian market. The duty on agricultural machines has been reduced from 35 to 20 per cent., and the price of the machines has not fallen one cent. That bare fact ought to be sufficient to convince the Globe that nobody pays the $13.50."

THE RICH AND THE POOR.

Rev. Mr. Baker touched a key note yesterday morning which will never become more popular in church than in state. Whilst the bible admonishes not to rest the poor man in the meanest seats, but place him where he stands in the sight of God, the equal of the rich. The fulfillment does not come within the pale of church administration of the present age.

Sympathy can be found in the dictionary, and such heavenly doctrine only in the bible. The trend of public feeling is year by year leaning in the opposite direction, towards the oppression of the poor, and a worship of the almighty dollar. The hold that the Salvation Army has on the public is traceable to the fact that they appeal to a class who are not wanted in our comfortable churches, and in our cushioned pews for which we pay rent, whilst the free pews for the poor, which are the most uncomfortable in the church, don't signify that church management is at all in accord with the admonitions of the Apostle.

That Joyful Feeling.

With the exhilarating sense of renewed health and strength and internal cleanliness which follows the use of Syrup of Figs, is unknown to the few who have not progressed beyond the old time medicines and the cheap substitutes sometimes offered but never accepted by the well informed.

Is you Asthma?

B. Schiffmann, St. Paul, Minn., will mail a trial package of "Schiffmann's Asthma Cure," free to any sufferer. He advertises to stand relief in worst cases and cures where all fail. Name this paper and send address for a free trial package.

The Haines & Lockett Fire.

Owing to our loss by the recent fire, we placed what few accounts we had on our books in the hands of W. J. Diamond, with instructions to send them in without respect of persons, and to urge immediate payment. We hope all parties concerned will respond promptly at Mr. Diamond's office.

d115tf HAINES & LOCKETT.

Look Here.

Do you feel blue and despondent? Do pains rack and tear away at nerve and muscle, and have you been disappointed in finding a remedy that will afford certain and speedy relief. If so, go at once to any drug store and buy a bottle of Polson's Nerviline. Polson's Nerviline never fails to relieve neuralgia, cramps, headache, rheumatism, and all internal and external pains. J. B. Carman, druggist, Morrisburg, writes: "All the partial I supply speak very favorable of Nerviline, and always purchase a second lot." Polson's Nerviline is sold in bottles at 25 cents by all druggists and country dealers everywhere.

Asthma Cured

By Schiffman's Asthma Cure. No waiting for results. Its action is immediate, direct and certain. Price 50 cents and $1 of druggists or by mail. Trial packages to convince the most skeptical, free. Address Dr. Schiffman, St. Paul, Minn.

PLUMP CHEEKS,

A clear skin, and all the other indications of good health will quickly follow the use of Campbell's famous

Skrei Cod Liver Oil.

It is pure and almost tasteless.

RICHELIEU'S PROSPERITY

Under Mr. Gildersleeve's Management—The First Dividend in Nine Years.

[Montreal Star, Sept 27

At a meeting of the Directors of the Richelieu & Ontario Navigation Company yesterday afternoon a statement was submitted which showed the gross earnings of the Company from the opening of navigation till September 22nd to have been $999,870.06, against $487,360.40 for the same period of last year, being an increase for this year of $112,474 66. The net earnings for the same time showed over ten per cent. on the capital, which is now $1,350,000. In view of the favorable statement the Directors declared a three per cent. interim dividend, leaving over the question of the regular dividend until January. This is the first time in nine years the Company has paid a dividend to its shareholders, and to day the Directors received congratulations from different places in Canada and the States, where the shareholders reside.

THE DRAWING CONTESTS.

Result of the Competitions in the Public Schools.

Following are the results of the competitions in the Public Schools for the prizes for freehand drawing offered by Mr. S. E. Summerville:

Central School—Prize awarded to Willie Hambly. Honorable mention—F. Ferguson, Roy Mines.

No. 2 School—Prize awarded to Agide Symons. Honorable mention—Emma Robin, Bessie Thompson.

The No. 1 and Grier St. Schools were contesting for the same prize, and it was awarded to Ida Moore, of Grier St. School. However, honorable mention is made of Willie Hambly, of the Central School, both of whom are pupils of No. 1 School. Violetta Durand, of the Grier St. School, also received honorable mention.

The No. 3 and Station Schools were also contesting for the same prize,—it being awarded to Walter Taylor, of No. 3 School, and to Arthur Hallett, of the Station School, received honorable mention.

As the High School was unable to get all the drawings in on Friday, the result of their school will be mentioned in Tuesday's or Wednesday's paper.

Bill Nye on Adjusters.

An insurance adjuster is one who stands between the insured and immediate wealth. If it were not for the adjuster the insurance company would soon give away all its money and fetch up in the poor house. When notice of my loss was sent in, the company wanted to pay me for the house, grounds and barn at once, but the adjuster said: "No, you must not give Mr. Nye all your money, for you will run short and be a vagrant inside of a year." So the adjuster came. After awhile I convinced him that I did not set the house afire, and I could see that it was a relief to him, for he was a man who loved to believe in his fellowmen.

I proved that my wife was very danger ously ill on the night of the fire, and that her life for three days had been despaired of, and so, looking into my great, deep, honest eyes, he said: "Some men might say that you had selected this time to become a wealthy widower and skip, but I am not so soured against my fellowmen as that. I believe that if the house was set afire some one else did it."

I am insured in five companies besides the one that carries my piano, and so really there should have been six adjusters and the local agent in addition to the independent adjuster; but the climate here is so pure and bracing that one can do the brain work of two, and so they did not all come. The local agent and the adjuster, I find, are two different men. One is a social favorite and a pleasing conversationalist, while the other is a man who tells you how cheaply houses like yours can be built nowadays.

The agent gives you all sorts of advantages over the company, and when the adjuster comes you find that these things, after all, were not put into the policy. He also takes you around behind the barn and shows you that, as a matter of fact, your policy has been vitiated seven or eight times the past year, but he will say nothing of that, because you evidently did not set the house on fire yourself, and you seem to want to do better and live a purer life, so he will give you $22 and pass receipts. Then he looks at his watch and says he must hurry away and make somebody home happy with his ready John, and away he goes.

The agent and the adjuster are both lovely characters, but in a diff rent way. One tries it so that you will, in case of fire, be about $1,000 better off, while the other makes you feel so glad that the company has not slapped you into jail for fraud that you tremble all over till he goes away.

I was glad that all the adjusters did not come. If they had, I would have been a poor man.

Once I had a house insured for $15,000, and lightning struck one of the chimneys and destroyed the roof, the falling bricks cutting through the tin, so that an entire new roof had to be put on. I had planned to go to Italy that summer, but I had to stay at home and prove that I did not dip that chimney over on the house myself, in order to get a new roof.

Life insurance is not quite so bad, though I expect to be dug up by seven or eight companies, in order that they may be plumb sure that I am not playing possum on them.

When the adjusters went away I felt from what they said to me, that I was a sort of janitor for these companies, and that if I did not use more care in protecting the property I would be discharged, and another man put in my place.—Coast Review.

Nothing Stronger.

Intelligent people, who realize the importance that the blood holds in keeping the body in a normal condition, find nothing so strange in the number of cases Hood's Sarsaparilla is able to cure. So many troubles result from impure blood, the best way to treat them is through the blood Hood's Sarsaparilla vitalizes the blood.

HOOD'S PILLS are the best after-dinner pills, assist digestion and prevent constipation.

Customs Returns.

The customs business of the port of Belleville for the month of September compares as follows with the same month of 1893:

	IMPORTS. Value.	Duty.
1893	$25,410	$7,251.86
1894	22,375	5,533 89
Dec.	$ 3.035 Dec.	$1,717.97
	EXPORTS. Value.
1893	$ 94,326
1894	99,862
Inc.	$5,556

At the Army.

The naval brigade, under Staff Capt. Jewer, held four services in the Salvation Army barracks yesterday besides three outdoor services. Six persons professed conversion during the day. Capt. Birchall, who is a musician of no mean ability, was stationed here about a year ago. He's delighted the audiences with choice solos then. A recent member of the corps is a fine singer. They left for Dee ronto today.

General Booth and staff have arrived at St. John, N. B.

CAPTURED A BAIL-JUMPER

Louis Larivee, a Montreal Absconder, Arrested in Brooklyn

HE IS CHARGED WITH FORGERIES

Finding That He Was to Be Indicted He Ran Away From Montreal, Skipping His Bail—H: Claims Not to Be the Guilty Party, but Had Been Made a Catspaw of by Rascally People.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Louis Larivee, 24 years old, who is wanted in Montreal for forgery, was arrested in the Brooklyn police station yesterday. Larivee's arrest was in a brokerage business with a man named Gauthier in Montreal. Shortly afterwards he disappeared. Then it was discovered that a number of checks he had discounted at the Bank Nationale, of Montreal, were forgeries. He was traced to Chicago and arrested. He was taken back to Montreal and placed under $5,000 bail, pending the action of the grand jury. In June the grand jury indicted him, and when he heard this, he jumped his bail. The amount of Larivee's forgeries is not definitely known, but it is thought to be in the neighborhood of $10,000.

Louis Larivee is said to be well connected in Montreal. He was a commission house broker. While the charge on which he was arrested is only that of larceny of how hundred dollars Queen's Detective Carpenter, who came to Brooklyn to take the prisoner back, says the irregularities will probably reach into the thousands. The complainant against Larivee is the National Bank of Montreal.

A friend wrote Larivee a letter addressed under a name assumed name to 157 Sands street, Brooklyn. The letter was traced and detectives placed on the case. These detectives learned that Larivee was seeking employment. They called at the Sands street house and left word for their man to call at the postoffice for a registered letter. They watched the federal building several hours and finally Larivee walked up to the window and asked for the letter. He was then taken into custody.

"I am sorry I ran away," said Mr Larivee yesterday. "There is no proof against me. When this affair is investigated it will be found that I have been made the catspaw of rascally people."

Detective Carpenter said he understood Larivee referred to his former partners in the brokerage business.

The Meaning of Sympathy.

It was a clever Frenchwoman who said: "Those who have suffered much are like those who know many languages. They have learned to understand and to be understood by many. It is an impossibility to fully sympathize with another's experience unless it has been at some time one's own. In trouble or grief we turn instinctively to some one whom we know has been through the same experience. It is the old human longing for companion ship that shows itself. The feeling is strong within us that 'she will feel and know with me.' Therein lies the meaning of sympathy."

Fashion Hints From Paris.

A shadow of the melancholy days to come when the woods have lost their fleeting splendors in an odd and effective introduction of black into every costume, no matter what occasion it may be designed. The new street gown of dark cloth, and the airiest tulle gowns for young girls, are alike treated with black, with what one might call reservations, for nowhere does this sombre shadow dominate. Narrow strips of black satin on the skirt bottom or upper half of the bodice, a collar, cuffs or a narrow, close folded line of it at the waist, are the bounds within which the most delicate conceits restricts her use of this effective shading.

It is really delightful to note the ingenuity of soft fingered Parisian women who are making new neckwear more than ever affected in their toilets. They love all dainty adjuncts of the toilet. Of tulle, mousseline de sole and chiffon they fashion bows, ruffs and collarettes with or without ends, and in such infinite variety of form and color that in many places sets of these neck doings are sold with every gown.—Emma Nina Fitch's Paris Letter.

Shot His Sister While Drunk.

WORCESTER, Mass., Oct. 1.—Helen Lucier, wife of William Lucier, was shot and killed by her brother, William Carr, yesterday. There was some trouble over a will and while drunk Carr shot the woman.

Thrown From a Waggon and Killed.

NORWICH, Ont., Oct. 1.—John Lumsden, a farmer living about four miles east of here, whilst driving home with a load of apple pumpkins, was thrown from his waggon and killed. He was a married man with a family and about 55 years old.

Will Push Intercolonial Trade.

MELBOURNE, Oct. 1.—Mr. Turner, the new Premier, speaking at a banquet given by railway officials, said that the principle of intercolonial free trade would be pressed forward.

Scandal in a Convent.

ROME, Oct. 1.—The authorities are inquiring into a scandal in a convent in Naples in connection with which a lady superior and others have been arrested.

Disastrous Flood in Cuba.

HAVANA, Oct. 1.—The Sagua river overflowed its banks and the city of Sagua la Grande is flooded. Many of the residents of the city have been drowned and the damage to property is immense. More than twenty houses have been carried away and many others have been damaged. Thousands of people saved themselves by taking refuge in the roofs of the houses whence they were rescued by passing boats. The water in the streets is now six feet deep.

The Maine Not the Fastest Warship.

LONDON, Oct. 1.—The statement contained in a cable despatch received here that the warship Maine of the United States navy having made 17.55 knots had proved herself of the fastest vessel of her class in the world is denied. Clyde builders assert that the new Spanish cruiser of a similar type to the Maine, though with heavier armament, recently built on the Clyde, has recently made 24 knots.

The Fatal Lamp.

BLOCTON, Ala., Oct. 1.—Mrs. Nancy Wilson with a lamp in hand went to look at her sleeping grandchildren in their crib. The lamp ignited a mosquito bar hanging over the bed, which fell burning upon her and the children. James Devereaux, her son-in-law, went to the assistance of the group, and was badly burned, possibly fatally. Mrs. Wilson inhaled flame and died soon afterwards. Her two-year-old grandchild was also burned to death.

Fought Over a Cigarette.

BUFFALO, Oct. 1.—Frank Waring and Michael Teresi quarrelled over a cigarette. Teresi drew a knife and fatally stabbed Waring, who is in a dying condition at the Fitch hospital.

Mr. Higgins Finds a Backer.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—The Sun devotes a column editorial to Senator Higgins' recent speech at Ogdensburg. The editorial remarks are very laudatory of the matter and tone of the Senator's speech, one of the editorial grievances being the refusal of the Dominion to exclude Chinese.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Monthly Standing of Pupils in the Various Classes.

No. 2 SCHOOL.

N. Yeomans, Teacher.—Senior Part II.—Myrtle Cobb, Albert Carr, Robbie Carmichael, Ralph Gibson, Bobbie Tobe, Olive Parks.

Junior Part II.—Hadlie Flagler, George Irvine, Russel Bell, Olive Earle, Isabella Brown, Nelson Baker.

Bertha Richards, Teacher. — Senior Second Class.—Addie Coulson, Roy Mc Mullen, 367; Maitland Mikel, 361; Harry Downer, 352; Joe Wilson, 318; Allen Miller, 311; Florence Kiser, 306.

Junior Second Class.—Jimmie Wills, 300; Johnnie Kaplan, 282. Willie Thompson, Eddie Kellaway, 275; Una Cartwright, 264; Wilhelmina Green, 262; Nellie Parsons, 261.

Miss Bosely, Teacher.—Senior Third Class.—Mabel Davis, 360; Kathleen Mc Murray, 276; Willie Hudson, 274; Alex Hays, 270; Carrie, Caley, 264; George Mossman, 260.

Junior Third Class.—Frank Rathmus, 294; Kerry Carr, 292; Gertrude Thompson, 290; Louise Baudin, 276; Hackney Woodley, 266; Charley Earle, 260.

A. Harold, Teacher.—Senior Third Class.—Jessie Biggs, 401; Ethel Denyes, 396; Lona Wilson, 383; Helen Sills, 379; Gordie Flagler, 375; Jennie Rutlan, 346.

Junior Third Class.—Minnie McCoy, 398; Blanche Mikel, 390; 289; Mabel Thompson, 384; Florence Moynes, 347; Fred Mikel, 332; Mabel Coulson, Bessie Moon, 324.

J. W. Dafoe, Teacher.—Senior Fourth Class.—Harry Mikel, 418; Geo. Bennett, 392; Eva Pauter, 362; Bert Bowers, 360; Manis Lyon, 345; Norine Davidson, 335.

Junior Fourth Class.—Evelyn Ashley, 276; Laura Longman, 269; Maud Reed, 268; R. Cartwright, 222; Harry Jones, 214; A. Watson, 213.

MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION.

They Discuss the Sale of Milk on Sunday —An Invitation to Meet Gen. Booth.

The Ministerial Association met this morning at 10:30 a.m. in the parlor of the Y.M.C.A. rooms.

There were present Rev. Messrs. George, Marshall, Bolle, Trotter, Baker, and McCamus. The Rev. J. L. George, M.A., occupied the chair.

The matter of the selling of milk on the Sabbath came up again for discussion. The committee appointed to make enquiries on this subject, reported that the milk men were generally strongly in favor of stopping the business on the Sabbath and were of the opinion that the public could be accommodated by a Saturday night delivery. It was also stated that the Police Magistrate regarded the movement with favor and would co-operate provided the public could be duly accommodated. A committee consisting of Rev. Messrs. Marshall, Trotter, Bolle and Maybee were appointed to take further steps.

Mr. Wiseman, of the Salvation Army, presented an invitation to the Association to meet Gen. Booth on the morning of the 17th inst before he left the city.

The Rev. Mr. Trotter read an excellent paper on Conversion, the discussion of which was left over until next session.

SPORTING NEWS

The fall ducks are beginning to arrive, principally whistle wings.

A quoit match, open to all, will be pitched on the Commercial House grounds on Friday.

Lord Hawke's cricketers defeated Philadelphia in the second match by an innings and 50 runs.

On Saturday at Chilliecothe, Ohio, Flying Jib, hitched to a running mate, paced a mile in the phenomenal time of 1:59½, lowering the record of 2:01¾ made by Westmont in Chicago in 1894 as this style of racing. The last half was made in 58½.

The performance does not constitute a record, as this method of pacemaking is not recorn sed as legal.

The Aeeia of London defeated the Maple Leafs of Guelph, in a baseball match at London on Saturday, by 9 to 7.

SPECIAL MENTION

—The population of Hamilton increased 253 last year.

—The Pope is said to be opposed to a Legitimist agitation in France.

—On Saturday night all the tin plate plants in the United States closed.

DR. LOW'S PLEASANT WORM SYRUP removes worms of all kinds from children or adults.

—Mr. Mercier is no better, and all hope is gone. There seems to be no immediate danger, however.

THAT HACKING COUGH can be quickly cured by Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam. Price 25c.

—Mr. George Graham, for 29 years Treasurer of Peel County, died at Brampton yesterday.

—Writs have been issued for the North-west Territories General Assembly elections and polling day is Oct. 31.

—Two Grand Trunk conductors have been arrested at Montreal, charged with defrauding the company.

ALWAYS AVOID HARSH PURGATIVE PILLS. They first make you sick and then leave you constipated. Carter's Little Liver Pills regulate the bowels and make you well. Dose, one pill.

—The Czar of Russia is so ill that his physicians say his life cannot be prolonged for more than a few months.

ALL CASES OF WEAK OR LAME BACK, backache, rheumatism, will find relief by wearing one of Carter's Smartweed and Belladonna Backache Plasters. Price 25 cents. Try them.

—Sir Henry Frederick Ponsonby, private secretary to Queen Victoria, has resigned his position.

—Mr. J. H. Tilden has decided to oppose Mayor Stewart at the municipal elections in Hamilton, in January.

—The latest report from the bedside of Prof. James Anthony Froude, the historian, is that he is sinking fast.

No person should go from home without a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial in their possession, as change of water, cooking, climate, etc., frequently brings on summer complaint, and there is nothing like being ready with a sure remedy at hand, which oftentimes saves great suffering, and consequently valuable lives. This Cordial has gained for itself a wide spread reputation for affording prompt relief in all summer complaints.

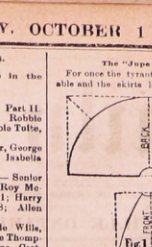

GREAT DISCOVERIES.—The astronomer who discovers a new star, the scientist who finds a new face, or the geologist who slights upon a new spices of fossil, becomes deservedly famous; but the actual good such discoveries do is nothing when compared to the finding of a medicine which is an infallible cure for certain diseases. Such a discovery was made nearly half a century ago by an Eastern gentleman named Perry Davis, and his preparation is now known to the world as PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER. It is a sure cure for Diarrhœa, Cramps, Cholera Morbus, Cholera, and indeed all bowel complaints, 25c. only for Big 2 c. bottle.

Lane's Medicine Moves the Bowels Each Day.

In order to be healthy this is necessary

The "Jupe Eventail."

For once the tyrant fashion is reasonable and the skirts lately adopted being found graceful, becoming and convenient hold their own against drapery, loopings, panlers and other innovations. What is called the "jupe eventail" is something new and is bound to become popular. As the diagram shows it has a gored front with circular back, and when properly cut should fit snugly about the hips and measure five yards round the bottom. This skirt is more stylish when devoid of trimming and short enough to just clear the ground. A petticoat of moreen cloth with two or three ruffles across the back breadth should always be borne under this skirt to give the desired "spread" to the back; for, be it understood, these skirts are not stiffened at all, but softly padded. This idea of padding the skirt, by the way, we owe to the French, and after one has enjoyed wearing one treated in this manner the wonder generally arises how we ever endured the stiff, ugly-looking and uncomfortable innerlining of haircloth so much in vogue the past season.

THE JUPE EVENTAIL.

KATE GARDNER.

Ginger Cakes.

Six ounces of butter, eight ounces of sugar for each pound of flour. Wet the ingredients and mix into a paste with eggs. A little lemon peel grated will add an agreeable flavor.

Treatment of Cut Glass.

To wash cut glass and have it clear and shining you should have a soft brush, and dry it lastly, after using a linen towel, with tissue paper.

New Advertisements.

WANTED.

WANTED—A General Servant. Apply to MRS. WALMSLEY, Belleville, Oct. 1, 126 d3t.

LOST OR STOLEN.

ON or about 27th Sept., 1894, a wallet, containing notes to the amount of $1,800 or $2,000. I hereby forbid anyone cash or buying notes drawn in favor of Francis or James Murphy. A reward will be given for recovery of same by leaving at Ontario office or INTELLIGENCER office.

JAMES MURPHY, Bogart P.O., Ont.

127d&w2t

BELLEVILLE PLATING WORKS

HARRIS & WALTON'S FACTORY, MILL ST.

ELECTRO—Gold, Silver, Nickel, Copper, Brass and Bronze.

PLATES—Also Carriage Plating, Polishing, Buffing and Lacquering. Antique finishes of all kinds.

BURTON & MILLER.

WALL - STREET

OPERATE SUCCESSFULLY IN WALL ST.

THROUGH OUR

Co-Operative B.R. Stock Syndicate.

Large Profits Realized with Minimum Risks.

"PROSPECTUS AND DAILY MARKET LETTER" MAILED FREE. HIGHEST REFERENCE.

WEINMAN & CO.

Stock and Grain Broker,

NO. 41 BROADWAY, NEW YORK CITY.

[d Oct. 3rd, 1m eod

FRESH . . .

GROCERIES . . .

Are in demand by every careful housewife. They do not stay fresh long, and many people are bitten every day by buying stale goods. The undersigned has opened a store on Front Street in the stand occupied by Messrs McMullen for so many years, and has put in stock a full line of Provisions, Groceries, Confectionery, Oysters, Fruits, &c., &c., all fresh. The store opened to-day, and everyone is invited to look over the stock.

J. A. ELLIOTT.

THIS MATTER CHANGED DAILY.

MONDAY, Oct. 1.

TIME!

When October arrives it is time to think of winter dry goods, especially for children. It's a shame to leave the little one any longer in cotton stockings or underwear. Our stock of childrens' wear is good, and we invite inspection.

W. FLINT JONES.

Next door to Haines & Lockett.

FINE CLASS

Underwear

ALL GRADES.

STOCK - IS - ALL - NEW

- - AT - -

GEO. P. MINAKER'S.

Opposite Tickell & Son's.

YES,

The Crockery trade is interesting. We've just about finished the heaviest fruit jar season on record. Now we'll pitch into LAMPS and FLOWER POTS. Prices are amazingly low. This month will see the lamp stock complete with 150 kinds. We have just placed an order for an elegant new stock of the celebrated "Meriden Britannia Co's." SILVER PLATE and Sterling Ware.

W. J. REID & CO'Y.

CRYSTAL HALL. Rous' Old Stand.

London and Belleville.

Schiffmann's Asthma Cure

instantly relieves the most violent attacks facilitates free expectoration and insures rest to those otherwise unable to sleep except in a chair, as a single trial will prove. Send for a free trial package to Dr. R. Schiffmann's, St. Paul, Minn., but ask your druggist first.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY

WESTERN - EXCURSIONS

On October 4th, 5th and 6th. Return Tickets will be issued from Belleville to—

DETROIT and PORT HURON and CLEVELAND		$6.50 9.00
SAGINAW and BAY CITY and GRAND RAPIDS		9 50 10 50
CHICAGO and CINCINNATI		12 50
ST. PAUL and MINNEAPOLIS	via Chicago or North Bay	35.50
ST. PAUL and MINNEAPOLIS	via Lake and Rail	37 50

Tickets will be good to return until Oct. 22nd. For tickets and all information apply to

U.E. THOMPSON.

General Ticket Agent, Bridge Street.

GENTLEMEN . . . .

Before ordering your Fall Clothing don't fail to take a look through

A. N. REID'S

New Fall Importations of

Scotch, English and Irish Suitings, Overcoatings, Pantings, Irish Serges, Cheviots, Hop Sackings and Black Worsteds

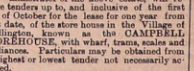

First Class Goods and Prices low.

Mr. Minor, our cutter, is one of the best in Ontario.

EVERY GARMENT GUARANTEED!!

Please call and inspect our New Goods.

A. N. REID.

Str. C. H. "Merritt."

The weather permitting, this steamer will run an excursion to Picton Fair on Thursday, October 4th,

Leaving Stewart's wharf at 8:30 a.m.; returning will leave Picton at 7 p.m.

TICKETS, - 35cts.

DONALD CAMPBELL ESTATE.

THE Toronto General Trusts Company, Administrator of the above estate, will receive tenders up to, and inclusive of the first day of October for the lease for one year from that date, of the store house in the Village of Wellington, known as the CAMPBELL STOREHOUSE, with wharf, trams, scales and appliances. Particulars may be obtained from Highest or lowest tender not necessarily accepted.

C. H. WIDDIFIELD, Esq., Barrister, Picton.
W. CLEMINSON, Esq., Wellington.
The Toronto General Trusts Co.,
Cor. Yonge & Colborne Sts.
Toronto.

Dated at Toronto, September 19th, 1894.

DON'T

Fail to see our fine display of

CANDIES

—AND—

FINE BAKERY GOODS

To morrow (Saturday).

H. C. DICKENS & SON.

P.S.—Oysters now arriving in fine order.

GRAPES . . . .

It is claimed that Grapes are the most healthy, and therefore the most nutritious fruit grown.

We have and will have through the season, large consignments and will sell very cheap, as crop is very large in the west. They are selling to day at

25c. per Basket . . .

Jas. Wallace & Co.

Peaches while season lasts.

CANADIAN . . MERCHANTS . FOLLOW . . .

OBC METHODS.

Some of the largest importing firms in Canada that have relations with great English houses, send their financial statements at the end of each year to Britain on O. B. C. Balance Sheet Forms. Following is a sample of an order.

Office of
RYAN BROS., Importers,
OWEN SOUND, Feb. 7, '94.

MESSRS. ROBINSON & JOHNSON,
Ontario Business College,
Gentlemen.—Please send us five Balance Sheet Blanks, same as you supply to Messrs. G. B. Ryan & Co., of Guelph.

Yours truly,
RYAN BROS.

NO DOUBT YOU WILL REQUIRE A . . . . .

New Hat Or Bonnet . .

The Most Stylish and Wearable . . .

MILLINERY IS AT

J. P. THOMPSON & CO.

STOCK COMPLETE IN ALL DEPARTMENTS.

- PLUMBING -

We have added to our Workmen,

MR. GEORGE JOHNSON,

Who has for the past six years been prominent on large contracts in Victoria, V. C., San Francisco, Denver, and Chicago.

- - ALSO - -

MR. EDWIN W. BISHOP,

A graduate of the New York School for Plumbing (class 92), who comes highly recommended.

With these men added to our staff, we feel sure of giving satisfactory to all in Sanitary Plumbing.

C. F. Smith & Co.

HAPPY HOME RANGES.

Best in the Market.

—ALSO—

A Full Line of

Art Garland and Famous Heaters.

—(o)—

Wm. McGIE.

Next to Nathan Jones.

Telephone 38. Front St.

New Carpets,
New Carpets,
New Carpets,
New Curtains,
New Curtains,
New Curtains.

We have just taken out of Bond and placed in Stock our FALL IMPORTATIONS of CARPETS and CURTAINS, and are now in a position to show as complete a line as any House in Central Ontario in the following lines:

Wilton and Velvet Carpets,
Brussels and Tapestry Carpets,
All Wool and Union Carpets,
Hemp Carpets,
Velvet Squares and Rugs,
Wool Crumb Cloths,
Smyrna Rugs,
Chenille and Lace Curtains,
Chenille and Brocatelle Covers,
Linoleums and Oilcloths,
Window Shades,
Brass Goods in great variety,
Curtain Poles in all the newest designs.

Special Value In
Grey and White Blankets,
White Quilts, and Comforters.

We intend paying special attention to our Carpet and House Furnishing Departments and will endeavor to keep it one of the most attractive between Toronto and Montreal.

Large lines of Canadian Staples at close cash prices.

VANDERVOORT & GIBSON,
Successors to the late J. W. Dunnet.
GLASGOW WAREHOUSE,
Belleville, Sept. 28, 1894.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, MONDAY, OCT. 1.

Chauncey Ashley, issuer of marriage licenses, Division Court Office, Pinnacle street or at residence over Benmore & Benson's store. d&w

CITY AND DISTRICT.

It's savings that make a man rich.

To-day is the Jewish New Year's Day.

Mrs. Wardhaugh reported to the police the loss of a gold brooch.

Farmers are hustling to get their crops out of reach of J. Frost.

The Magnet has been floated and is on her way to Montreal for repairs.

The vital statistics for the month of September were births 10; marriages 8; deaths 5.

S. Wardhaugh says some one stole a coat from the front of his second hand store.

Be sure and attend Grant's cheap cash sale if you want bargains in Boots and Shoes.

Late heavy winds have done a great deal of damage in orchards by shaking down the fruit.

Do you have headache, dizziness, drowsiness, loss of appetite, and other symptoms of biliousness? Hood's Sarsaparilla will cure you.

We are offering at the present time great snaps in shoes, both ladies' and gents'. Over 1500 prs. of traveller's samples at about half price.—VERMILYEA & SON.

J. R. Brower lost a valuable, two-year-old, Prince Imperial colt on Saturday from inflamination. The animal took first prize at the exhibition here and was valued at $100.

A canary which had escaped from its cage in West Belleville six weeks ago, was caught on Saturday on the roof of Harte's blacksmith shop, near its home and returned to its owner, Mrs. George Minns.

Madame Ceunynck, teacher of the German language, born and educated in the Kingdom of Prussia, takes class and private pupils for grammar and conversation at moderate terms.—Ridley Street, corner of Grier St. 127d2t

The posing in Greek costume of Miss Hext was one of the cleverest things ever seen in Toronto.—Toronto Globe Nov. 11, 1893. At the Queen's Opera House, Oct. 5, '94. Plan open at Riggs', Tuesday morning.

The funeral of the young man, Spratt, who died on Friday, took place yesterday afternoon. The Juvenile Sons of England, of which he was a member, turned out in a body, as did also many of the senior lodges and citizens.

The universal prevalence of scrofula is a fact well known to physicians. The only medicine that has hitherto proved a specific for his dreadful complaint is Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which expels every germ of poison from the blood. You cannot begin to use it too soon.

"For several months, I was troubled with a persistent humor on my head which gave me considerable annoyance, until it occurred to me to try Ayer's Hair Vigor. Before using one bottle, the humor was healed."—T. T. Adams, General Merchant, Turbevill, Va.

A Club Run.

There is to be a new bicycle club in the city next year and the charter members had a run yesterday. They were a bright, intelligent looking lot of fellows that left the city early in the forenoon, but the rain that fell in the afternoon dampened their smart clothes if not their ardor, and they were a sorry looking lot that came home in the evening. It is reported that the roads over which they returned are badly torn up from frequent falls and some of them may be held responsible for carrying away the grading and bringing it to the city on their clothes and wheels.

We are in it.

Does the Oak Hall do the clothing trade? We rather think so. On Saturday last we had the largest September day ever known in the existence of our establishment and we finished the month hundreds of dollars ahead of any previous September. The people appreciate our efforts to do a strictly first-class clothing business.

Pure Spice.

Lovers of pickles would do well to purchase Curry Powders, Turmeric and Spices from L. W. Yeomans & Co. Strict attention is given to securing the purest quality. The Curry Powder is from an old and well tried receipt. Flavoring extracts of unsurpassed quality are kept constantly in stock.

Cold in the head—Nasal Balm gives instant relief; speedily cures. Never fails.

THE TYENDINAGA EXHIBITION.

A FINE DISPLAY IN ALL CLASSES AT SHANNONVILLE.

Belleville and the Surrounding Country Well Represented—A Fine Day, Well-Filled Classes and Interesting Races—Courteous and Efficient Officers.

The Tyendinaga Township Agricultural Society held their annual fair on Saturday in the village of Shannonville, and it was in every respect a great success. The weather was all that could be desired, the sun pouring forth its warm rays the whole of the day. In the early part of the morning people commenced to gather in the village from all directions and by noon the borough and fair grounds presented an animated appearance. At the hour of 1 o'clock it was estimated that upwards of 2000 persons were upon the grounds.

Before the proceedings in the ring were commenced a representative of this journal made an inspection of the exhibits, which were numerous and varied. There was a fine exhibit of swine, including improved Yorkshire and Berkshire. The principal exhibitors were J. M. Hurley, R. J. Garbutt, R. G. Martin, W. Clazie and R. Frink. In some of the classes the judges found the competition to be exceedingly keen. In sheep there were a large number of entries principally of the Shropshire and Leicester class. A large Dorset horn sheep, the property of Mr. Geo. Monroe, attracted much attention. The exhibitors in sheep were R. J. Garbutt, R. G. Martin, W. Brown, B. Frink, W. Clazie and J. M. Hurley. The display of cattle was also fine, including Jerseys, Ayrshire and grade animals. The show of horses was exceptionally good, especially in the general purpose, road and carriage classes. The poultry exhibit was not an extensive one, but some fine birds were to be seen. In the building upon the grounds was to be seen grains, fruits, dairy products and fancy work. The building, which is not a very large one, was filled and was the centre of attraction to a large number. Whilst the vegetables shown were not numerous, some were fine. Some mangel wurtzel shown were the largest which have been seen in any of the fairs in this district. In the ladies' department, Miss Barber was the principal exhibitor and succeeded in carrying off a number of prizes. Mr. H. Fowell, of this city, exhibited harness in this building. Upon the grounds were to be seen a fine collection of farming implements.

TROTTING RACES.

This part of the proceedings furnished much amusement to all. Some of the races were well contested. The track which is about half a mile around was in first class condition, but was very dusty. Considering everything, good time was made by some of the speeders.

THREE MINUTE TROT.

Twice around the track. Best 2 in 3. Four to enter and three to start. 1st, $12; 2nd, $7; 3rd, $5. Entrance fee ten per cent. of purse.

For this event there were four entries, namely: W. Clarke's Maud Duke, Geo. Stewart's Shoemaker, D. Lake's Brown Tom, and John Latta's Little Maid. After a number of unsuccessful attempts at scoring, the horses were sent off. Maud Duke took the lead and maintained it to the finish, although she was closely followed by Shoemaker, Little Maid being second third and Brown Tom had fourth. Time 2:56½.

In the second heat Brown Tom was withdrawn. Shoemaker won the heat, Little Maid being second, Maud Duke 3rd. Time 3 minutes.

The third and last heat was a repetition of the second. Shoemaker being first, Little Maid being 2nd, and Maud Duke 3rd. Time 2:59½.

FREE FOR ALL.

Mile heats. Best 3 in 5. Four to enter and three to start. 1st, $20; 2nd, $12; 3rd, $8. Entrance fee ten per cent. of purse.

There were four entries but only three horses started, namely: Hugh Milling's S. J. B., D. Lake's Black Jessie, and R. Fairman's Annie Laurie. S. J. B. came in 1st in the three heats, Black Jessie 2nd, and Annie Laurie 3rd. Time 2:35, 2:39, and 2:38.

ONE HALF MILE RUNNING RACE.

1st, $5; 2nd, $3; 3rd, $1. Best 2 in 3. First prize by C. E. Lyons, Esq., Belleville.

For this event but one horse was entered, and the judges decided to allow it to go around the track. It was W. Fairman's Farmer Girl. The animal exhibited good speed. This concluded the races.

The Judges were Messrs. J. Johnson, D. R. Leavens, and Dr. Leslie.

NOTES.

The officers of the Society are a courteous body of gentlemen and were assiduous in their duties. The following comprise the officers: S. Geddes, President; M. Hill, Vice-President; A. McFarlane, Secretary; D. McLennan, Treasurer. Directors.—J. C. Hanley, J. J. Sutton, R. J. Garbutt, R. G. Martin, Geo. Munro, John Cole, F. West, H. Liddle, A. Pitman.

A large number were present from the city and appeared to take much interest in the proceedings. Visitors were also present from Deseronto, Napanee and other places.

No accident occurred. A team hitched to a waggon started to run away, but were fortunately captured before proceeding far.

The grounds were alive with side shows and small ware vendors. Some fakirs were also upon the grounds.

Mr. H. Corby, M. P., placed his yacht Ometa, at the disposal of a party from the city who wished to attend the fair. The following gentlemen were among the party; W. B. Northrup, M. P., W. P. Hudson, ex-M. P. P., Dr. Clinton, Dr. Gibson, Ald. Wills, A. Roberts, R. Fenwick, H. Curry, W. Carnew and W. Brown. The party arrived home at 6:30, p.m., much pleased with the trip and the courtesy extended them by Capt. Dunning.

Child's Overcoats.

Before making their purchases mothers should see the beautiful range of childrens overcoats Gough is showing this fall. We are well within the mark when we say we are showing the finest assortment in Belleville and at prices at least 30% less than they can be bought elsewhere. Make no mistake Gough's Clothing is "always good and cheap."

"The Canadian Mute."

This elegantly printed and cleverly edited organ of the Deaf Mutes, published at the Provincial Institution here, has made its first appearance for the present session. Mr. Geo. F. Stewart will no doubt prove a valuable addition to the editorial staff.

A Great Catch.

Major Caswell secured the largest string of bass for the season Saturday last, returning with nine beauties weighing 21 lbs, 9 oz.

Births.

WATERS—On Oct. 1st. a son to Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Waters.

HARRIS—Belleville, Sept 29th, the wife of B. K. Harris, G. T. R., of a daughter.

RALLY DAY AT THE TABERNACLE.

A Grand Rally—A Good Programme—Feeling Tributes Paid to the Late Dr. Wright—Presentation of Banner.

Yesterday was Rallying Day in the Tabernacle Sabbath School, or the annual re-union. This school of late, has had a wonderful growth, both in increase of scholars and prosperity. What is now one of the finest Sabbath School rooms in the city, was seven years ago a large, bleak and cheerless room in which about fifty scholars assembled from Sunday to Sunday with about an average collection of about 25 cents. Although they were in such an impoverished condition both in number and finance, they took upon themselves the responsibility of rebuilding this room, which cost about one thousand dollars. And we congratulate them that to-day they are out of debt, and have a large surplus, as will be seen in their report.

The meeting yesterday was full of enthusiasm and zeal for the work of the coming year. The programme was opened by an address of welcome from the superintendent, Mr. W. H. Gorden, in which he welcomed all old scholars who had returned, as well as any new ones who felt they would like to connect themselves with the school. Miss Fry gave an amusing as well as an interesting sketch of their annual outing to Glenora. Miss Lena Lazier also gave a very fine recitation entitled "Herod." The school has a good method of increasing their scholarship and collections. They have a record on which are the months of the year along the top and the numbers of the classes down the side. To the class which has been the most faithful in attendance during the month is given a gold star, to the one that brings in the most new scholars a silver star, and the class with the largest collection per head a blue star. Since this method has been inaugurated there has been an increased growth in every department, and the class that has the largest average over all at the end of the year receive a banner. We noticed on their record that one class had the blues bad, as they only missed obtaining that star once in the year. Dr. Dyer presented the banner to class No. 8; he also spoke very feelingly of their late teacher Dr. Wright.

Mayor Walmsley, the secretary, gave the annual report. He told how the school had been established twenty-five years ago with a membership of thirty, with Dr. Carman as Superintendent. He also demonstrated the fact that Sunday School Superintendents may also be superintendents in the Methodist church. The School has some 12 officers, 16 teachers, 287 scholars, or 315 of a membership, while the average attendance is 9 officers, 14 teachers, 165 scholars; the average collection per Sunday is $2.98. They also distribute 280 papers, have 190 temperance pledges signed, and $110 on hand. The school during the past year has increased 100 per cent. in all departments; also fifty scholars have taken up the cross of Christ, and are serving Him in the ranks of the Church. This rapid growth is pleasing, as well as the work that is being accomplished by this school, and we hope they may be as prosperous in the future as in the past.

AN ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION.

Horace Faull, Late Supt. of Halloway St. Sunday School, the Recipient.

Mr. Horace Faull, who has been the superintendent of the Halloway Street Sunday School for about a year, has resigned, as he intends to pursue a course at Victoria University. Yesterday was the last he appeared as their officer, and the occasion was made a memorable for him. Before the close of the school he was called upon, and Miss Maggie Meyers read a nicely worded address, which was beautifully engrossed by Prof. Swayze. Accompanying the address was an encyclopedia of the bible. Miss Addie Abraham made the presentation on behalf of the officers of school. Mr. Faull made a feeling reply. short addresses were given by Prof. Swayze, Rev. J. A. McCamus, Mr. Fairman and others, who spoke in a complimentary manner of the services rendered the school by Mr. Faull. Mr. Wrench, a student of Albert College, has been appointed temporary superintendent. The school is at present in a flourishing condition.

SOCIAL & PERSONAL

The INTELLIGENCER invites all its readers to contribute to this column. If you or your friends are going away on a holiday trip or if you have friends visiting you, drop a card to this office.

Mrs. J. Gosnell is visiting relatives here.

Dr. and Mrs. Day spent yesterday in Trenton.

Mr. "Bud" Bogart enters Toronto University to day.

Mr. Fred Bourne, of this city, spent Sunday in Cobourg.

Mr. Jos. Caldwell, dentist, is on crutches—a sprained ankle is the cause.

C. J. Boldrick and M. Maclean, Stirling, were registered at the Queen's yesterday.

Mr. Walter Mills, who is attending the Toronto Conservatory of Music, is in town.

Mr. W. H. Johnson, of Hamilton, is in the city. He will remain a couple of days.

Mr. Corby, M.P., and a party will go on a shooting expedition to the north woods next week.

Miss Edith Johnson left for Peterborough to-day, to enter as a nurse in training in the Nicholls Hospital there.

Col. Hamilton, of the Queen's Own, Toronto, was in the city on Saturday, the guest of D. B. Robertson, City Clerk.

Mr. Austin McCreadie, a nephew of the Rev. H. T. Crossley, and Mr. Jno. Edward Hancock, a nephew of Rev. J. E. Hunter, are amongst the students at Albert College.

W. L. Payne and W. W. Knapp, Colborne; Peter H. Fox, Northport; John Welsh, Hastings; E. A. Payne, Campbellford; John F. Baker, Kingston; F. B. Parker, Stirling; J. B. McRae, Galt, were at the Anglo to-day.

Married to-day.

A pleasant event took place at the residence of Mr. John J. Haines, jr., Hotel St., at 2 p.m. to day, it being the marriage of his only daughter, Edith, A. to Mr. Sidney Dotlor, teller at the Merchants' Bank, Chatham, formerly of the same institution in this city. The bride was assisted by Miss Nettie Lockett and Mr. A.E Bignell, of the Merchants' Bank, was groomsman. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. R. Wallace, in the presence of a few of the relatives of the contracting parties, after which the party sat down to a splendid spread prepared by John Fleming, the popular caterer. The young couple are very highly esteemed, and this city's loss is Chatham's gain. The happy couple left for the west on the 5:05 train amid the congratulations and good wishes of a host of friends. The bride received a handsome array of costly presents.

One Night Only, a Chance for Men.

To-night from 6 till 10 o'clock we will sell any gents' fine laced or gaiter boots, Size 9½, 10, 10½ and 11 for one dollar a pair. Some of these boots worth four and five dollars.—HAINES & LOCKETT.

PROBABILITIES.

TORONTO, Oct. 1.—Westerly winds; fine and cooler.

NOTES OF THE CHURCHES.

LARGE CONGREGATIONS IN ALL THE CHURCHES YESTERDAY.

Special Sermons in the Tabernacle—A Praise Service in John St. Presbyterian Church—Rev. E. N. Baker Strikes a Key Note in Bridge St.—From Other Pulpits.

Emmanuel Reformed Episcopal church services were well attended yesterday. The Rev. J. Simpson Trotter's morning subject was, The distinction between Forms and Formalism in divine worship, from Matt. 15—81. In the evening his text was "There went with him a band of men whose hearts God had touched." Some important life lessons for christian workers being banded together for the extension of the Kingdom of Christ were presented. The secret of success, he said, is in keeping the heart in touch with God.

Rev. E. N. Baker, at Bridge St. Methodist church, took for his text at the morning service, James II, 1: "My brethren, have not the faith of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Lord of glory, with respect to persons." From the text and context he argued that we should have respect for the man, and not for the position he held or the clothes he wore, for God says "Honor to whom honor is due." He showed conclusively that such was not the rule that governed churches, as, he said, it was as much as an usher's life would be worth to place ragged worshippers in some people's pews. He claimed that if the Church did not take hold of the question it would lead to social revolution, but if they did, it would result in a social revolution which would redound to the glory of God.

The congregations of St. Andrew's church under the ministry of Rev. M. W. Maclean appear to have increased rather than diminished, since owing to the destruction of their own beautiful edifice, they have been worshipping in Belleville Business College, the acoustic properties of which are excellent, and the location most central. The congregational meeting to decide upon plans for the restoration of the church, is to be held this evening, at 8 o'clock. Yesterday the choir rendered two fine anthems, showing the careful training of Mrs. York. The texts of Mr. Maclean's morning sermon were 1 Peter, III. 7, and James IV. 14, the grace of life—"What is your life?" The evening sermon was founded on Philippians, III., 12: "Not as though I had already attained, either were already perfect." We should be fit to live as well as fit to die. We devise and plan worldly things so we are permitted to choose for ourselves whom we will serve. Our bodily and intellectual powers are only tools of the soul. Life is not so stable as it appears. Nature's law of change asserts itself everywhere. Set your affections on things above where you cannot be wounded. Alas for man if this life or even the love of it were all and naught beyond the earth. Men are often deaf to the voice of events and only listen when it thunders, when some great trial overwhelms. Life is not rest. A starving soul in a pampered body means a starved life. The discipline of life is to wean us from the uncertainties of temporal affairs and to cause us to cast anchor in everlasting life and love. God gives us a high ideal to strive for. We must not be content with being in Christ we must win Christ more and more. Life implies growth. Let us press on to the mark, the attainment of the character, and the prize—the blessing of the Most High will follow, namely Eternal Life.

Rev. J. L. George occupied the pulpit of John St. Church yesterday at both services. His text in the morning was Matthew V—3 to 11, his subject being, "The Beatitudes." His text in the evening was Hebrew VI—6. The choir in the morning rendered the anthem, "Forgive our Transgressions," Mr. Fax taking the solo. The evening service was one of praise, and the choir of twenty four voices, under the leadership of Mr. Geo. Fax, rendered some excellent music. They sang an anthem entitled, "The Lord is in His Holy Temple," and a full chorus anthem by Dr. J. L. Hopkins, with angels and arch angels. Mr. Frank Eaton sang the solo Jerusalem during the offertory.

Rev. Mr. Roberts preached two excellent sermons in the Tabernacle yesterday, in connection with the rallying day of the Sunday School. His text in the morning was for parents, and was: "Take this child and train it up for me, and I will give thee thy wages." His sermon was along the line of parents' duty to their children, admonishing them to look after their moral, spiritual and physical training. His subject in the evening was for children, and was concerning the three Hebrew children, and their resolution not to bow down to the idol set up by Nebuchadnezzar. He advised young people to emulate their fidelity to truth.

Dominion Square Methodist church, Montreal, celebrates its thirtieth anniversary to-day.

Read.

The annual meeting of the W. C. Association will be held on Tuesday next, Oct. 2nd., at three o'clock in the Council chamber. All ladies interested in this Godlike work of Hospital and Home for the friendless are cordially invited and urged to meet with us.

126d2t ELIZA J. FLINT.

Police Court.

There were several cases on the docket at the police court this morning. Mr. F. B. Parker, of Stirling, occupied a seat on the bench and was an attentive listener to the different cases.

John Brims and Adolphus Clement, drunk, were allowed to go.

The case against John Thompson was enlarged for a week, the girl Lizzard not being able to appear. The same bonds were accepted for his appearance next Monday.

John Geddes, of Shannonville, charged James Black, of Tyendinaga, with allowing his stallion to run at large on the public roads and also for rescuing said stallion after being seized by John Geddes. The charges were tried conjointly. Geddes swore that the animal attacked his team and trampled them and himself and that he took the horse and fastened it up, but Black secured it before he got it to the pound.

After several witnesses had been examined, the case was enlarged till Friday.

PIERCE GUARANTEES A CURE
or Money paid for His Medicines is Returned.

Wesson, Copiah Co., Miss.
DR. R. V. PIERCE: Dear Sir—My daughter has been sick all her life, and the older she grew, the worse she was until she was the picture of death: the physicians could not do her any good.

MISS LOYD.

I heard of your "Favorite Prescription," for women, and I gave her three bottles, and now she is a perfectly healthy girl.

Have recommended it to a great many sufferers from "female complaints," and it has cured them.

I think it is the greatest medicine in the world, and I have never found anything to compare with it.

Yours truly, MRS. M. J. LOYD.

The Plan of Selling Medicines ON TRIAL, IS PECULIAR TO PIERCE

A TALE OF WOE

Told by a Bernado Home Boy This Morning.

A young lad wandered into the police court this morning and leaned up against a door frame for support while a case was in progress. As soon as the witness who was giving evidence stepped from the dock he mounted the platform and addressed the chief, saying he had something to tell him about how a farmer had used him. The chief told him to wait his turn and the poor lad stepped back to make room for others. He is about sixteen years of age, has one eye out and looks as though he had been starved or overworked. To a reporter he told the following story:

His name was James Wild and he came from London, England, to the Bernardo Home, at Brockville, four years ago. He had worked at different places until last March, when he went to work for a man named McDonald, on the Kingston Road. He said he was to get good clothes in the spring and then this winter, if he stayed, he was to be paid wages. He worked eight months but got no clothes. He did all the work he was put at and even more than he could endure, but this did not satisfy his employer and he got nothing but abuse. He was forced to leave the other day and came to the city, when some benevolent lady gave him a shirt, which he was very much in need of. His appearance indicates hardship and he does not look able to bear much. He will see what can be done with McDonald.

TWO SERIOUS CHARGES.

A Young Man from Rawdon Held for Seduction and Subornation of Perjury.

A girl named Maggie Wilson, sixteen years of age, of rather prepossessing appearance, has laid a charge against a young man named Wm. John Hagerman, of the township of Rawdon, of seduction.

The girl has been working for the father of the accused for some months and she alleges that during the summer the young man seduced her. To cover the evidence of his crime, it is alleged that young Hagerman induced the girl to make a declaration that another young man was responsible for her trouble. Hagerman will have to answer to two charges, that of seduction and subornation of perjury. The case went on at the police court this afternoon. E. Guss Porter appeared as private prosecutor and P. J. M. Anderson for the crown; S. Masson acted for the defence.

FASHIONABLE DRESS . . . TRIMMINGS. AT . . . . . RITCHIE'S!

We show a splendid assortment of Dress Trimmings in the following popular styles.

Silk Gimps,
Jet Gimps,
Plain Braids,
Fancy Braids,
Beaverettes,
Velvets,
Plain Silks,
Moire Silks,
Fancy Silks,
Pearl Buttons,
Ivory Buttons,
Metal Buttons,
Etc., Etc., Etc.

Also the new Butter Colored
Vandyke Laces &
Lace Collarettes.

GEO. RITCHIE & CO.

Changed Daily.

MONDAY, Oct. 1st, 1894.

"GREAT WILL BE . . THE FALL . THEREOF".

"Yes, we expect a great trade this fall. WHY? because we bought very largely and never secured such nice goods and bargains before. This week we will be very busy opening up new goods.

STROUD'S TEA STORE.

Mr. J. Alcide Chaussé
Montreal, P. Q.

A Marvelous Medicine

Whenever Given a Fair Trial Hood's Proves Its Merit.

The following letter is from Mr. J. Alcide Chaussé, architect and surveyor, No. 153 Shaw Street, Montreal, Canada:

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass..

"Gentlemen:—I have been taking Hood's Sarsaparilla for about six months and am glad to say that it has done me a great deal of good. Last May my weight was 152 pounds, but since

HOOD'S Sarsaparilla CURES

I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla it has increased to 163. I think Hood's Sarsaparilla is a marvellous medicine and am very much pleased with it." J. ALCIDE CHAUSSÉ.

Hood's Pills cure liver ills, constipation, biliousness, jaundice, sick headache, indigestion.

How to Get a "Sunlight" Picture

Send 25 "Sunlight" soap wrappers (wrapper bearing the words "Why does a woman look old sooner than a man") to Lever Bros., Ltd., 43 Scott St., Toronto, and you will receive by post a pretty picture, free from advertising, and well worth framing. This is an easy way to decorate your home. The soap is the best in the market, and it will only cost 1c. postage to send in the wrappers, if you leave the ends open. Write your address carefully.

NEW . . GOODS —AT— FISH'S.

New Neckwear, the very latest, the colorings are entirely new, shapes very nobby, and prices very low.

New underwear, in all weights, all kinds, all prices, all sizes and cheaper than ever.

New half hose in cashmere, merino, Scotch lamb's wool and hand knitted Our 25c socks are great value.

See our new pink and blue shirts, our own make, the very latest.

A. E. FISH & CO.
The Noted Shirt Makers of Belleville.

RIBBONS!

We have an extra large stock of Ribbons on hand in all the light and fancy shades including

BABY RIBBONS,
SILK " "
SATIN " "
MOIRE " "
ETC., – ETC.

Our prices are the lowest, and we will be pleased to have you give us a call whenever wanting Ribbons.

SILK ELASTICS . . . .

We have a splendid stock of Fancy Silk Elastic, made in Yellow, Blue, Green, Orange, Cardinal, Black, Pink, Mauve, White. All one price, 25c yard, at

THE BEEHIVE
CHAS. N. SULMAN

MORE ROOM WANTED!
- - AT THE - -
. . . LEADING BARGAIN HOUSE!

Daily the reminder comes to us that we're crowded for room. New Goods keep coming in upon us. We must make room by quickly reducing stocks. Reducing prices will do it.

A CHOICE STOCK . . . .
. . . . Bargains everywhere.

For reasons best known to themselves, some manufacturers offered us strong inducements to buy sundry lines of Dress Goods, Hosiery and Underwear.

The Millinery Department fairly sparkles with Novelties, and the prices are to say the least very tempting.

H. A. LAYTON, BELLEVILLE.
Front St., Opposite Campbell St.

WALL-PAPER!

SEE THAT?

CLEANLINESS!
HEALTH!
ECONOMY!
HAPPINESS!
FURNISHING!
CHARACTER!
ART!
Common Sense

There's a Lot of Meaning in it for You!!

There's an array that is hard to beat!
Could you ask more? Here it is

A Discount of 10 per cent. for 30 days.
Test our Ability to Advise on Interior Decorations.

C. B. SCANTLEBURY.

ESTABLISHED 1870.

Greenland Seal Driving Capes 24 Inches Long $12.00
Wool Seal Empire Capes 26 Inches Long $18.00

Persian Lamb Jackets made to order from $60.00 up, according to length and quality.
Seal Jackets made to order, $125.00 up, according to length and quality. Thousand of dollars worth of Skins to pick from.

S. A. HYMAN.
Manufacturing Furrier.

P.S.—Old Furs cleaned, dyed and made over in latest styles.

IT - HAS - BEEN - ADMITTED
— BY OVER 125 PEOPLE IN BELLEVILLE THAT THE —
John Bull Wrought Steel Range,
Is the most Economical, Everlasting and Useful Range on the market.
How is this for three Seasons.

SEE THEM AT FOSTER'S.

Also the Duchess of Oxford Cast Iron Range.

His Dyspepsia Cured.

Dear Sirs,—
I write you to say that for some time I had been suffering from acute indigestion or dyspepsia, and of course felt very great inconvenience from same in my general business. I thereupon decided to try Burdock Blood Bitters, and after taking two bottles I found I was quite another man, for

MR. GEO. READ.

B. B. B. CURED ME.

I have also used it for my wife and family, and have found it the best thing they can take, and from past experience I have every pleasure in strongly recommending B. B. B. to all my friends.
I write you because I think that it should be generally known what B.B.B. can accomplish in cases of indigestion.

GEORGE READ, Sherbrooke, Que.

HAMILTON,
TORONTO, AND MONTREAL,
Via Bay of Quinte, Calling at all Ports weekly.
THE FAVORITE STEAMER

"MAGNET"
Leaves St. Catharines Tuesday 9 a. m.
" Toronto " 4 p. m.
Leaves Belleville for Montreal Wednesday 7:30 a m
Leaves Belleville for Toronto Sunday 8 p. m.
First Class Passenger Accommodation, Large Freight Capacity. Lowest Rates
For Tickets, Rates, &c., Apply to the RATHBUN COMPANY, Agents, or to
Capt. J. J. Towers, Superintendent, No. 2 King st., Toronto.
C. F. Gildersleeve, General Manager, 228 St. Paul st., Montreal.

ROCHESTER,
KINGSTON AND MONTREAL.
Weekly Service Calling at Way Ports
The Favorite Steamer.

"ALEXANDRIA"
Leaves Montreal, Thursday at 10:00 a. m.
Arrives Belleville, Saturday at 11:45 a. m.
Leaves for Rochester " 1:15 p m.
Arrives from Rochester, Monday at 6:00 a m.
Leaves for Montreal, " 7:30 a m.
Spacious and elegant Saloon. Ample Stateroom accommodation The choice at and best Meals furnished. Safety, comfort and enjoyment ensured by personal supervision of Capt. Smith and Purser Melrose. Careful handling of freight.
For Tickets, State rooms at lowest rates apply to
THE RATHBUN COMPANY, Agents.

Bay of Quinte Steamb't Route
TRI-WEEKLY
DESER'TO, PICTON & KINGSTON
1894 - 1894

STR. "HERO"
THIS favorite steamer is now lighted by electricity and will have a strong search light for excursion business and the boat is heated by steam.
Commencing Monday, April 9th, will leave Belleville Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 6 a m, returning Tuesday, Thursday and Friday at 11 p m.
The very best facilities are offered to shippers of freight. The lowest through and local rates quoted.
No wharfage at Picton on freight for this steamer.
Full information given by Gilbert Johnston board, or to the
RATHBUN COMY,
J. H. GILDERSLEEVE, Ticket Agents, Kingston.

ROCHESTER.
STEAMER

NORTH KING
Leaves for Charlotte, N. Y., every Sunday, 11:45 p.m.
Leaves for Picton and Kingston every Sunday, 2:30 a. m.
Arrive from Picton and Kingston every Sunday, 11:45 p.m.
Arrives from Charlotte, N. Y., every Sunday, 3:30 a. m.
Special attention given to passengers and freight
WEEK DAYS.—Steamer leaves Port Hope week days for Charlotte, N. Y., at 9:45 a.m.
Calls at Brighton Monday 2 a.m., and Wednesday 3:30 a.m., and at Colborne Wednesday and Fridays 4 a.m.
Connection made by Grand Trunk morning trains.
THE RATHBUN Co., Agents, U. E. THOMPSON, 43tf Agent.

Steamer "Iona"
Will eave Belleville three times each week for Oswego, connecting with trains for New York.

INSURANCE.
Western Assurance Company,
Fire and Marine Head Office, Toronto.
North British & Mercantile Ins. Co.,
Fire and Life, Head Office (Can.) Montreal.
Atlas Insurance Company,
Fire Head Office (Canada), Montreal.
M. M. THOMPSON
Water Works Office, Bridge St.

Daily Intelligencer.
At Death's Door—Dyspepsia Conquered —A Great Medical Triumph.

GENTLEMEN,—My medical adviser and others told me I could not possibly live when I commenced to use Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery for Dyspepsia. My case was one of the worst of its kind. For three years I could not eat meat and my weight decreased from 319 to 119 lbs. All the food I took for thirteen months previous to taking the Vegetable Discovery consisted of milk. I am now entirely cured and have regained my usual weight, can eat anything with a keen relish and feel like a new man. I have sold over thirty dozen Vegetable Discovery since it cured me, as I am well known, and people in this section know how low I was, and thought I could not possibly be cured. They are eager to try this grand medicine. It certainly saved my life, as I never expected to recover when first I commenced using it. I am not exaggerating anything but feel glad to be able to contribute this testimonial and trust it may be the means of convincing others of its merits as a certain cure for Dyspepsia.
Signed JEAN VALCOURT,
Wotton, P. Q.

In 1888 the people of Great Britain paid taxes on 492,200 carriages.

Is there anything more annoying than having your corn stepped upon! Is there anything more delightful than getting rid of it? Hollaway's Corn Cure will do it. Try it and be convinced.

In Portugal the tobacco tax brings £900,000, the land tax £700,000.

Some people laugh to show their pretty teeth. The use of Ivory White Tooth Powder makes the laugh more than ever. It's so nice. Price 25c. Sold by druggists.

Worms cause feverishness, moaning and restlessness during sleep. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator is pleasant, sure and effectual. If your druggist has none in stock, get him to procure it for you.

The rate of taxation has nearly quadrupled in France since 1830.

Dyspepsia causes dizziness, headache, constipation, variable appetite, rising and souring of food, palpitation of the heart, distress after eating. Burdock Blood Bitters is guaranteed to cure Dyspepsia if faithfully used according to directions.

Until about forty years ago, the Persian Government levied a tax on cats.

Mr. T. J. Humes, Columbus, Ohio, writes: "I have been afflicted for some time with kidney and Liver Complaint, and find Parmelee's Pills the best medicine for these diseases These Pills do not cause pain or griping, and should be used when a cathartic is required. They are Gelatine Coated, and rolled in the Finest of Licorice to preserve their purity and gives them a pleasant, agreeable taste.

Norway Pine Syrup cures Bronchitis.

For cholera morbus, Cholera Infantum Cramps, Colic, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, and Summer Complaint Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is a prompt, safe and sure cure that has been a popular favorite for over 40 years.

STEAMER VARUNA

A. HICKS, Captain.
WILL leave Trenton every morning, (Sunday excepted) at 7:00 o'clock, calling at Redeserville and all points between the head of the bay and Trenton, reaching Belleville at 8:30 a.m., Deseronto at 10:20 a.m.
On Tuesday and Thursday evenings to meet North King at Brighton, returning will leave Brighton Wednesday and Saturday mornings at 8:30.
Will connect at Picton with stage for Sand Banks.
Parties wishing to arrange for excursion rates will see Capt. Hicks on board
Will leave Picton at 1 p.m. on return for the head of the bay, Deseronto 2:30 p.m., Belleville, at 4:30 p. m., and Trenton, at 6.
Omnibuses in waiting at Picton, Belleville and Brighton.
The Rathbun Co., Agents, Belleville and Deseronto.
A. W. Hedburn, Agent, Picton.

ALLAN LINE
Royal Mail Steamships, Liverpool, Calling at Moville.

	From Montreal Daylight.	From Quebec. 9 a. m.
PARISIAN	Sept. 1	Sept. 2
MONGOLIAN	Sept. 8	Sept. 9
*LABRENTIAN	Sept. 15	not calling
SARDINIAN	Sept. 22	Sept. 23
NUMIDIAN	Sept. 29	not calling
PARISIAN	Oct. 6	Oct. 7

RATES OF PASSAGE,
First Cabin, Derry and Liverpool, $45 and upwards, single; $90 and upwards return. Second Cabin, Liverpool, Derry, Belfast, Glasgow, $30; return $55. Steerage at lowest rates (everything found).
*Carries cabin only.

STATE LINE SERVICE.
NEW YORK, LONDONDERRY AND GLASGOW
STATE OF CALIFORNIA.....Aug. 31
STATE OF NEBRASKA.....Sept. 14
STATE OF CALIFORNIA.....Sept. 28
Cabin passage $40 and upward, return $80 and upward; Second Cabin, $30, Steerage at lowest rates.
For tickets and every information apply to U. E. THOMPSON, General Ticket Agent, Bridge St., Belleville or to R. BURROWS, Agent

REMOVAL
MR. JOSEPH CALDWELL, DENTIST
Has removed his office to the new premises which he has had specially fitted up in the
Caldwell Block,
First door south of the Anglo-American Hotel Front street. 108t

SPORT.
Lacrosse Sticks,
Foot Balls,
Tennis Goods,
Croquet, etc.,
Base Ball Supplies.
Also, Wall Paper,
Window Shades,
Hammocks,
Fans,
Purses,
Albums, Bibles and Novels.
—AT—
Overell's Book Store.
Next to Glasgow Warehouse.

THE KISS OF GOLD.

By KATE JORDAN.

[Copyright, 1893, by J. B. Lippincott Company and published by special arrangement with them.]

"Isn't it strange," said Tom after a pause filled only with the crunch of their footsteps on the frost hardened snow, "I used to think myself awfully wretched and forsaken sometimes? I had an arrogant idea that I was the most abused fellow in New York. But after I had grouped my characters and gone over to know their imagined faces, after I had knotted the tragic thread that held them, then I knew the difference. Poverty and the small perplexities of my life lost their sting when I faced the picture of a stricken soul of my own creating. No, I can never be bitter or discontented again. I have learned a new and sweet philosophy—to accept the littlenesses of life gladly, if only peace go with them."

Delatole's eyes were fixed upon him now. The burning end of the cigar between Tom's lips threw a red gleam upon his darkly handsome face at every respiration. The dreaminess softening it, the lingering tenderness with which he spoke the last slow words, told his companion that what he had half divined before was true—if Murray had not lived, at least love had not passed him by.

A species of envy mixed with Delatole's alert attention. His thought of his exhausted sensibilities and of the jaded commonplace which even the best and brightest in life had become to him. What would he not give to have back the youth of heart he saw in Tom's eyes!

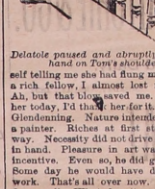

"Fresh for the feast with spring," he fantastly won in the fray and under the domination of a romantic passion—perhaps the first. And he is so untried he doesn't know he has cause to cry aloud and beat his hands for joy. It won't last. It never does. By and by, when life has left a bitter taste in his mouth, he will remember with wonder and envying that he once thought one particular woman worth this impulsive worship. He's quite capable of making a fool of himself. I know the tone. I know the look. So her name's Virginia, and she's been much to him? But I needn't laugh. Was I not just such a deliriously happy idiot once?"

They had reached a broad, windswept street that crossed Madison avenue not far above the square, and Delatole turned the corner.

"You have heard of Max Glendenning, of course. He leaves for Japan tomorrow and gives a farewell hurrah tonight. Quite informal, you know. Meats on the sideboard, help yourself, come and go as you please, plenty to drink, some good stories, some pretty women. Any friend of mine is his. We were chums, had chambers together and lived a free, ideal existence until"—and a savage sneer twisted Delatole's lip still farther to one side—"he went down before Madeline Sorel, the burlesque woman. I never saw a man so madly in love. She kept running after him, too, making herself confoundedly at home in our quarters with her rouge, her songs and her cigarettes. I wouldn't stand it. We split and parted irrevocably, but with no hard words. He'll marry her yet—the fellows are making bets on it—and when he does—bah!" Delatole stood still in the street. "Have you ever thought, my young friend, to what lengths a man's infatuation for a woman may lead him?" Raising his elbow he lowered his extended index finger with a jerk. "Straight down. There's no help for him."

"A woman like that!" exclaimed Tom, with sweeping disgust.

"Any woman, if she becomes necessary to him, can kill ambition in an artist. Perhaps she does it with sugared poison, but the dose is sure. Oh, don't suppose I haven't loved romantically, wildly, and not a woman of the Sorel type either. The girl who fired my heart—it seems a century ago—was a lovely little thing with heavenly eyes, and I used to sing hymns with her. When she sent me a little note as sweet as her self telling me she had flung me over for a rich fellow, I almost lost my mind. Ah, but that blow saved me. If I met her today, I'd thank her for it. Look at Glendenning. Nature intended him for a painter. Riches at first stood in his way. Necessity did not drive him, whip in hand. Pleasure in art was his only incentive. Even so, he did good work. Some day he would have done great work. That's all over now. He is under a spell. What does it matter if the woman he so weaves it is unfit to black shoes? It's the absorption of love I'm speaking of—good, bad or indifferent. Once you surrender to an influence stronger than the charm of creation the fetich worship of fancy will pale, the hand weaken, the artist be lost."

Delatole paused and abruptly laid his hand on Tom's shoulder.

Tom blew a cloud of smoke into the air and remained silent. The words had startled and shocked him a little. They set a new circle of impressions moving in his brain. Could love wield a weakening influence? Was it not love—passionate love—which had taught him to sing?

"Here we are." And Delatole stopped at a house.

It was square, solid, chocolate colored, capped by the sky's frosty blue. Half a dozen cabs stood at the door. A great jutting window on the second story was flooded with rose colored light.

Half way up the high flight of steps Delatole paused and abruptly laid his hand on Tom's shoulder.

"Look here. Now you mustn't think me officious, you know. You mustn't, for you know I like you, Murray, and I always speak my mind. I'm frank sometimes to rudeness. You won't be angry?"

"I'm sure I won't. But I can't accept your biting skepticism yet—you mustn't blame me. Are you going to tell me not to fall in love?" And throwing away his cigar Tom feigned a careless laugh and met his companion's alert, serious gaze.

"You regard me as a cynic who reviles romance because he has lost the power of feeling it, but you're wrong. I reason

(To be Continued.)

THE C. P. R. WITHDRAWS.

Quebec Will Not be Called Upon to Accept Repayment.

MONTREAL, Oct. 1. — The Canadian Pacific has withdrawn notice of its intention to pay the Quebec Government $7,000,000 due on account of the North Shore Railway.

Said Vice-President Shaughnessy, of the C.P.R., "Under our contract with the Quebec Government for any purchase of two sections of the Quebec, Montreal, Ottawa and Occidental Railway, we had the right after March, 1894, to pay off the purchase money of seven million dollars by giving the Government six months notice and the Government had the right to demand payment of that sum at any time after 1894 by giving six months notice. As the interest charges under the the contract were five per cent., we were naturally anxious to pay the debt as soon as possible and thereby reduce our annual interest charge, as we have been able to borrow for some years past at a trifle under four per cent. Indeed our four per cent. debentures are now quoted at 103 1-2."

"In June last we notified the Government of our intention to pay at the end of six months. Secretly it was intimated to us that the Government might desire to negotiate with us for the retention of the amount which I believe can only be used for the redemption of provincial bonds maturing in 1904, and 1906 and to the redemption of which the proceeds of the sale of the railway are stated to be pledged. In view of the large sum involved, it was thought best for the convenience of both parties that pending negotiations the notice should be withdrawn by mutual consent and both the Government and the company restored to the position which they would have occupied had no notice been given. This has been done. It is the desire of the company to do whatever is most convenient and best for the province without injuries affecting the company's interest. The notice of withdrawal was sent yesterday."

Affairs of the Grand Trunk.

LONDON, Oct. 1.—In disproof of the suggestion of the default of the Grand Trunk made in the Economist, the company announces that on October 13, it will post the warrants for the quarter's interest on the 4 per cent debentures. The amount of this stock is $10,381,234. Mr. Household, the late auditor of the Grand Trunk, is again negotiating for a committee of enquiry into the Grand Trunk's affairs. His cry is meeting with some success and to this may be attributed the article in the Standard referred to, but it is doubted if he can induce the shareholders to reject Sir Henry Tyler as president at the annual meeting on October 30.

Mrs. Haun's Suit Settled.

TORONTO, Oct. 1.—When R. T. Haun, of Orangeville, committed suicide in Buffalo, he was a defaulter to the county of Dufferin, of which he was treasurer, to a large amount. His executors made over the property to the county and Bank of Hamilton. His wife sued for $19,000, the amount of her husband's insurance money. The suit has now been settled by the payment to Mrs. Haun of $7,000.

A McCarthyite-Patron Candidate.

MILTON, Ont., Oct. 1.—At a joint meeting of the McCarthyite and Patron executive committees for the county held here, the nomination for the House of Commons was tendered to P. D. Scott, ex-warden of the county. Mr. Scott, although a life long Conservative, has not for many months been in accord with his party on the trade question.

Hurricane on Orleans Island.

QUEBEC, Que., Oct. 1.—During a heavy hurricane Lizotte's Hotel at Ste. Petronville, Island Orleans, was reduced to ashes, a part of the wharf was also burnt down, and the whole village had a narrow escape. The losses are about $20,000. Lizotte's Hotel was well known to American tourists.

Killed His Wife With an Axe.

SAC CITY, Iowa, Oct. 4.—Wm. Tole, a laborer, attacked his wife with an axe and killed her with a blow on the head. He had a neighbor to witness his crime and then cut his own throat.

Deseronto Navigation Company (Limited

Steamer Ella Ross.

This fast sailing and comfortable steamer leaves Belleville for Trenton daily (Sunday excepted), at 10 a.m. Leaves Belleville for Deseronto and Picton at 3 p.m., connecting at Deseronto with steamers for Napanee and Oswego. Lowest freight and passenger rates. For further information apply to the Rathbun Co., Bridge street, or to R. C. Carter, General Manager, Deseronto.

Norway Pine Syrup cures Coughs.

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry cures Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cramps, Colic, Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum, and all looseness of the bowels. Never travel without it. Price 35c.

In parts of Peru taxes are paid in cocoa leaves and Peruvian barks.

For coughs, colds, bronchitis and all lung and throat troubles, there is no preparation of medicine can compare with Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup. It never fails to afford prompt and permanent relief. It removes all soreness, and heals the diseased parts. It immediately soothes the most troublesome cough, and by promoting expectoration, removes the mucus which stops up the air tubes which, causes difficulty in breathing, thereby gives relief to that depressing tight ness experienced in the chest. Public speakers and singers will find Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup of inestimable value, as it speedily and effectually allays all irritation, and hoarseness in the throat and bronchial tubes, and gives power to the vocal cords, rendering the voice clear and sonorous. If parents wish to save the lives of their children, and themselves from much anxiety trouble and expense let them procure a bottle of Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup, and whenever a child has taken cold, has a cough or hoarseness, give the Syrup according to directions.

Norway Pine Syrup heals the lungs.

A stinted wife can find a vest pocket in the dark.

Ample warning is given us by our lungs when they are in danger. If foolhardy enough to neglect the warning signal, we incur imminent peril. Check a cough at the outset with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil—which is a sovereign pulmonic—besides being a remedy for soreness, lameness, abrasions of the skin, tumors, piles, rheumatism, etc.

Burdock pills, small, safe, and sure, regulate the liver and cure constipation.

Robert Lubbork, Cedar Rapids, writes: "I have used Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil both for myself and family for Diptheria with the very best results. I regard it as the best remedy for this disease, and would use no other.

Holland is the only country in Europe that admits coffee free of duty.

Dyspepsia arises from wrong action of stomach, liver and bowels. Burdock Blood Bitters cures Dyspepsia and all diseases arising from it, 99 times in 100.

DOCTORS DIFFER
Occasionally, but never on the question of "HEALTH BRAND" Combinations being absolutely the best thing for women and children to wear.
Every first-class dry goods house keeps them. Look for the word "Health" on silk label at neck.
Buy no imitations.
THE MONTREAL SILK MILLS CO., Ltd.
MONTREAL.

The "PUBLICK"
Are respectfully asked to show their appreciation of the improvements and progress of the city by leaving their orders for Coal, Wood & Shingles.
—AT—
S. A. LAZIER & SONS.
TELEPHONE C 68.

NATHAN JONES,
IMPORTERS.
We have opened up the most varied and attractive stock of
FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC DRESS GOODS ALSO DRESS TRIMMINGS.
Misses Mounder and Gardner are giving satisfaction in dress and mantle making.

Why Don't You Stop?
And think seriously of the benefits it would be to you to take out a Policy with the
ONTARIO MUTUAL LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY.
Their 20 years Survivorship Distribution Plan embraces both
PROTECTION and INVESTMENT,
And you can go about your business without worry as to the future.
S. BURROWS
Can give you facts and figures. Ask him ! !

The Sale of Boots and Shoes:
Slightly damaged by Smoke and Water will continue until everything is sold.

HAINES & LOCKETT
Opposite Anglo-American Hotel

TO THE PUBLIC.
When we decided to add the manufacture of carriages, phaetons, democrats, &c., to our business, we immediately put under construction a few of each. As we decided to place no vehicle on the market which is not A 1 in every detail, and knowing that no first-class vehicle can be produced on the rush, it has been necessary for us to take sufficient time to produce what we aimed at. We think we have succeeded; and we now have a few rigs completed, and others nearing completion to offer for sale. The iron work is all hand forged; the wood work carefully made, and strongly ironed; and the painting and upholstering done with the best material and greatest care. We can freely recommend these rigs. We will be pleased to have parties who may need anything in the above line, call and inspect our work.
ST. CHARLES & PRINGLE.
JAS ST CHARLES. HENRY PRINGLE

THE - FALL - RAINS
ARE WITH US.
YOUR HOUSE WANTS A NEW ROOF—
WE HAVE THE SHINGLES.
In all grades, at lowest prices. Ask for quotations and see XX. XXX. Clear Butts,
THE RATHBUN COMPANY.

Belleville and Napanee, Office, Bridge St. Telephone A. 4.
COAL — AND — WOOD.
—THOS. STEWART,—
The only dealer in Scranton Coal in Belleville and Napanee. The very best facilities for delivering to any part of the city or surrounding towns the coal, which is the best and cheapest mined.
No Gas. No Clinkers. No Waste
Clean, quick, hot, strong, cheerful fire. Smithing, Cannell, Briar Hill, Run of Mine coal and Coal Screenings always on hand. Hard and soft wood, Blocks and Edgings delivered to any part of the City.

DR. WOOD'S

Norway Pine Syrup.
Rich in the lung-healing virtues of the Pine combined with the soothing and expectorant properties of other pectoral herbs and barks.
A PERFECT CURE FOR
COUGHS AND COLDS
Hoarseness, Asthma, Bronchitis, Sore Throat, Croup and all THROAT, BRONCHIAL and LUNG DISEASES. Obstinate coughs which resist other medicines yield promptly to this pleasant pine syrup.
PRICE 25 CTS. AND 50 CTS. PER BOTTLE.

D'FOWLER'S EXT. OF WILD STRAWBERRY
CURES
COLIC
CHOLERA
CHOLERA-MORBUS
DIARRHOEA
DYSENTERY
AND ALL
SUMMER COMPLAINTS
OF
CHILDREN OR ADULTS
Price 35 CTS
BEWARE OF IMITATIONS

Camping Supplies!
—AND—
Picnic - Requisites!
Our list of articles suitable for Picnic Lunches and Camping, includes:

Canned Meats.
ARMOUR'S COOKED BEEF,
ARMOUR'S OX TONGUES,
ARMOUR'S LUNCH TONGUES,
ARMOUR'S POTTED HAM,
ARMOUR'S COOKED TIG BEEF
ARMOUR'S LUNCH ON MEAT.
ARMOUR'S POTTED TONGUE
ARMOUR'S BRAWN,
SANDWICH MEATS,
BONELESS CHICKEN,
BONELESS TURKEY,
POTTED BEEF,
POTTED GAME,
ETC.! ETC.!! ETC.!

Canned Fish.
FINEST SARDINES IN OIL,
FINEST SARDINES IN TOMATO,
HERRINGS IN TOMATO SAUCE,
KIPPERED HERRINGS,
FRESH HERRINGS,
SALMON, LOBSTERS,
FINNAN HADDIES,
BLOATER PASTE,
ANCHOVY PASTE,
SARDINE PASTE,
ETC.! ETC.!! ETC.!!!

Sundries.
Condensed Milk in Tins, Cream in Tins, Biscuits (in great variety), Fine old Cheese, McLaren's Imperial Cheese (in small crocks), Dried Beef, Choice Hams and Bacon, Lime Juice, Spanish Olives, CROSSE & BLACKWELL'S Pickled White Onions, Walnuts, Chow Chow, and and Mixed Pickles.

WALLBRIDGE & CLARKE,
Grocers and Wine Merchants,
33 and 37 Bridge Street. Also Front Street, in Caldwell Building.

Remember:
In order to secure good Pickles, Sauces, Catsups, Etc., it is necessary to use good Vinegar and pure spices. We have just imported some English Malt Vinegar,
And we have choice Cider and White Wine Vinegar. Pure Spices a specialty.
BENMORE & BENSON
FAMILY GROCERS. TELEPHONE 190.

TELLIGENCER PRINTING AND PUBLISHING COMPANY (LIMITED).
J. C. JAMIESON, President. | J. W. LONDON, Secretary

THE Treasurer is the only person authorized to receive money from the Company, or to grant receipts for the same.
All Bills, Notes, Cheques and other documents binding on the Company, will require the signature of the President, in addition to that of the Treasurer.

THE INTELLIGENCER is printed and published by the Intelligencer Printing and Publishing Company (Limited) by James C. Jamieson, resident in Belleville, at the Office, Front St., south of Hotel St.

The Daily Intelligencer.

LET THERE BE HARMONY IN THINGS ESSENTIAL—LIBERALITY IN THINGS NOT ESSENTIAL—CHARITY IN ALL.

VOL 28. BELLEVILLE ONTARIO TUESDAY OCTOBER 2 1894 NO 128

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

MEDICAL.

DR WISHART.

47 GROSVENOR ST., Toronto, will be at the Huffman House, Belleville, Saturday, Sept. 1st, '94. 192dwly

DR. QUACKENBUSH, M.D., V.M.D., M.D., P.S.O.

HOMŒOPATHIC Physician, Surgeon and Accoucheur, has removed his office over store lately occupied by J. C. Averell, Residence George St., opposite H. Corby's.

JOHN J. FARLEY, M. D., C. M., M. R. C. S. England.

OFFICE and Residence—corner of Bridge and George Streets—three streets east of Post Office.

LEGAL.

FLINT & McCAMON.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public, etc. Solicitors for the Canadian Bank of Commerce. Office, City Hall, Front Street, Belleville, Ont. d84tf
JOHN J. B. FLINT, W. J. McCAMON.

STEWART MASSON.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, Notary, Conveyancer, etc. Office, South side Bridge st., over Wallbridge & Clark's, Belleville, Ont, Money to loan at lowest rates. 76dwtf

J. F. WILLS' LAW OFFICE.

REMOVED to Campbell Street (south side) 2nd door from Front street, on ground floor.

MIKEL & ROBERTS.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notary Public, Conveyancers, etc. Offices Bridge St., Belleville. Monies to loan at lowest rate.

THOMAS & HALLIWELL.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Conveyancers, &c. Money to loan. 293d3mwly
J. PARKER THOMAS, J. EARL HALLIWELL.

PONTON & MORDEN,

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public, Conveyancers. Office over Express and Telegraph Office, Bridge St., Belleville. Money to loan—private funds.
WM. N. PONTON, M. A., Solicitor Hastings Loan and Investment Society.
W. S. MORDEN, B.A.

E. GUSS PORTER.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, Notary Public. etc. Office in the Robertson Block, east side of Front Street.
Private Money to Loan, 271dwly

FRANCIS S. WALLBRIDGE.

(Successor to Hon. Lewis Wallbridge, Q.C.)
BARRISTER, Solicitor, Conveyancer, etc. Office, McAnnany building, corner Front and Bridge streets, Belleville, Ont. Private and Company money to loan at 6 per cent., on easy terms upon good land security. Charges moderate.

A. GOODRICH.

LAWYER, 124 Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill., 28 years' experience; secrecy; special facilities in several States; Goodrich on Divorce; with laws of all States in press. 76dly

GEO. A. KINGSTON.

BARRISTER Solicitor, etc., with Lount, Marsh and Cameron, 25 Toronto St., Toronto. Money to loan on farm property at lowest rates. 233dtf9w.

MISCELLANEOUS.

AGENTCY of the Liverpool and London and Globe Fire and Life Insurance Companies.
W. P. HUDSON, Agent.
Office Campbell street, Belleville. d,w

HENRY CARRE, C. E.
M.C. Soc C.E.,
DOMINION AND PROVINCIAL LAND SURVEYOR.

Special attention paid to Hydraulics and Land Drainage. Patents obtained and Drawings made. Office—McAnnany Block, under Ontario Business College, Front St. P.O. address—Box 203, Belleville.

A. G. NORTHRUP.

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Shire Hall, Belleville. 226dkwly

D. I. DULMAGE, L.D.S., D.D.S. (Tor. University).

DENTIST—Office over Brignall & Thompson's. Night calls at residence on Forin Street. d,w

CHAS. JOSE.

VETERINARY Surgeon, Graduate Ontario Veterinary College, Member Ontario Veterinary Society. Office and residence, Foxboro, Ont. Calls by mail or telegram promptly attended to. 304d,wly

TO LET.

TO LET 2 snug, warm brick houses in terrace, situated on Harriett St., West Belleville, known as Morten's, or Filliter's terrace. For terms of rent apply to R. C. Filliter, collector, or sub agent to the estate of the late H. E. Filliter. Residence at Mr. Jardin's Corner of William and Dundas Sts., East Belleville. 85d2m

12 Hours Saved.

— ON AND AFTER —

MONDAY, SEPT. 3RD, '94,

— THE —

CANADIAN PACIFIC RY.

—EXPRESS FOR—

Winnipeg & the Pacific Coast

(Via NORTH BAY,)

Will leave Toronto at 12:30 p. m., noon.

S. BURROWS,
C.P.R. Agent,
Belleville.

ALBERT - COLLEGE

MUSICAL DEPARTMENT.

MR. W. H. DINGLE, Principal.
MR. C. M. TRIPP, MISS MARIETTA WILSON, Assistants.

The next term begins Sept 5th.

Instruction at home if desired.

A graded course of instruction, all under the supervision of the Principal.

TERMS,—$6, $8, $12, according to grade. 20 half-hour lessons.

Apply at once to either DR. W. P. DYER, or MR. W. H. DINGLE. 104d&wlm

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE

is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York.

Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

Charles H. Hutchings.

Sick Headache

CURED PERMANENTLY

BY TAKING

Ayer's Pills

"I was troubled a long time with sick headache. I tried a good many remedies recommended for this complaint; but it was not until I

Began taking Ayer's Pills

that I received permanent benefit. A single box of these pills freed me from headaches, and I am now a well man."
—C. H. HUTCHINGS, East Auburn, Me.

Awarded Medal at World's Fair

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the Best.

ACETOCURA
TOUCHES THE SPOT IN NEURALGIA.

ACETOCURA
TOUCHES THE SPOT IN NEURALGIA

Mr. A. Weir, Kew Beach, September 7th, 1894, writes:—"Since then I have used it for neuralgic pains in the head, with immediate relief."

ACETOCURA
TOUCHES THE SPOT IN PARALYSIS.

ACETOCURA
TOUCHES THE SPOT IN PARALYSIS

ACETOCURA
TOUCHES THE SPOT IN PARALYSIS

Mrs. B. M. Hall, Fernwood, Ill, U.S.A., August 15th, 1894, writes:—"I am 61 years old. For two years I had been afflicted with partial paralysis of the lower limbs, rendering me unable to walk a block without complete exhaustion. After using Acetocura for five days the pain had entirely disappeared permitting me to enjoy a good night's rest, and after ten day's treatment I was able to walk two miles without fatigue."

Write for gratis pamphlet to COUTTS & Sons, 72 Victoria street, Toronto. Head offices—London, Glasgow and Manchester, (G.B.) Cologne, Germany, Aaron, Switzerland.

Local Agents—

L. W. YEOMANS & CO.,
DRUGGISTS,
BELLEVILLE.

PREPARE

FOR the STRUGGLE.

The course of study offered by the Belleville business College gives a young person a thorough and practical knowledge of business, and also that mental culture and discipline which sharpens perceptive faculties, stimulates ambition, develops ability and prepares for the struggle of making a living. Every step in the work is characterized by thoroughness. Besides we use the most practical methods.

In teaching shorthand we dictate actual letters and legal evidence. Other schools have undertaken to imitate our methods, but the quality of their work bears that relation to practical business which the imitation does to the real.

We represent things exactly as they are.

Belleville Business College.

ROBERT BOGLE, Proprietor.

Apollinaris

"THE QUEEN OF TABLE WATERS."

"HAS RESTORED TO HEALTH A GREAT NUMBER OF DYSPEPTICS WHO OWE TO IT A REPAST THE MORE EVERY DAY AND AN INDIGESTION THE LESS AT EVERY REPAST."

Professor Diday.

Daily Intelligencer.

SEIZING MERCHANTS' GOODS

Wealthy Chinese Plundered of Their Property and Maltreated.

JAPAN RAPIDLY NEARING MOUKDEN.

China Orders Troops Into Formosa—Friction Expected Between the New President and Li Hung Chang — Terrible Details of the Naval Fight Off the Yalu River.

LONDON, Oct. 2.—A despatch from Shanghai to the Central News says the Japanese have occupied Wiju without meeting with any opposition on the part of the Chinese troops.

Friction between Prince Kung, the Emperor's avuncular appointee to the presidency of the Foreign Board, and Li Hung Chang, the despatch says, is inevitable. The viceroy is certain to be hampered in his conduct of operations against the Japanese. The Imperial council is completely disorganized and the corruption which has prevailed in the commissary department for years has left the troops with no suitable clothing and a scanty supply of food. Cannons, rifles and other munitions of war, which from time to time were alleged to have been bought and paid for, cannot now be found and presumably the money represented to have been expended for them was appropriated by the officials into whose hands it was entrusted.

The immense camp between Tien-Tsin and Taku is filled with raw levies of troops who are without arms and in many cases without sufficient clothing to cover them. Disorder in the camp is rampant, there being not the slightest degree of discipline. Executions take place daily, the merest infraction of rule or law being punishable by the loss of the offender's head.

European residents of China are taking refuge in the treaty ports under the protection of the warships of their respective countries. A large number of Chinese merchants are also seeking safety in flight. Their goods are being seized, and in many cases men of large means have been plundered of every vestige of property they possessed, and beaten and otherwise maltreated if they protested. Most of these have also made their way to the treaty ports. The troops stationed at Canton have been ordered to Formosa.

The Pall Mall Gazette publishes a despatch from Shanghai stating that the Japanese troops are reported to be rapidly nearing Moukden.

The Daily News prints a despatch under a Vienna date stating that the Chinese government is removing from Moukden all the treasures stored there and taking them to Jahol, whither the Emperor Hien Jong fled in 1860 because of his being pursued by the English and French armies.

A British naval officer attached to the Chinese naval squadron which was engaged in the fight off the mouth of the Yalu river has written a letter to the Graphic, which is published in that paper. In this letter the writer gives additional details of the fighting and says:

"On board the warship Chen-Yuen the fighting was awful. The decks and space around the guns were strewn with human fragments and three of five men working a four-ton gun were blown up by a shell from the Japanese warship Naniwa. A fourth gunner was shot while trying to escape from the turret, and the fifth stuck to his post. This man fired three rounds at the Naniwa, one shell entering the engine room of the Japanese ship and another smashing the forebridge. The Naniwa then hauled off. The Chinese admiral rewarded the surviving gunner with a present of 1,000 taels.

"A shell glanced from the steel deck of the Chen-Yeen and went through her tower shattering everything therein. A lieutenant who was in the act of speaking through the tube leading to the engine room, was blown into atoms and his head was left hanging to the speaking pipe. Huge fragments of armor and the teak backing the roof was carried away by shot crushing a large number of sailors into a shapeless mass. A European engineer who was groping about in an endeavor to repair a steam pipe was drenched from head to foot with the blood of an assistant who was disembowelled by his side by a shot from the enemies' ship. The Chen-Yuen arrived at Wei-Hai-Wei the day after the fight in the same condition in which she left the battle. No attempt had been made to wash the blood from her or to remove the corpses which strewed her decks."

The writer expresses the opinion that if the European powers could have seen the decks of the Chen-Yuen they would have foresworn war henceforth and forever.

An Oil Laden Steamer Sunk.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 2.—The British tank steamer Allegheny, which left this port for Bergen loaded with oil, was run into and sunk by the Belgian tank steamer Caucus, inward bound. The accident happened in Delaware Bay, about 65 miles below Philadelphia. The Allegheny was valued at $250,000 and is partially insured. Her cargo was valued at $30,000 and was shipped by the Standard Oil Co.

Plot to Murder an Italian Consul.

PARIS, Oct. 2.—Eight anarchists were arrested at Marseilles yesterday on a charge of plotting the murder of Signor Durando, the Italian Consul, and an attempt to blow up the Italian Consulate. Letters found in the lodgings of the prisoners showed that they were connected with an Italian Brotherhood, having ramifications in London, Triesto, Genoa and other European cities.

Four Persons Burned to Death.

KENOSHA, Wis., Oct. 2.—Four persons were roasted alive and two others badly burned in the farm residence of B. B. Pierce, in the town of Wilmot. Mr. Pierce and family were in the house. The youngest son of the first noticed the fire and leaped down stairs. He then returned to arouse the others who were upstairs and four were overcome by smoke and perished.

UNCLE SAM'S DEBT INCREASES.

The Receipts for September at the U. S. Treasury Department.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—The receipts of the Treasury Department for the month of September under the operation of the new tariff law have been made public. The aggregate receipts for the month were $22,621,288, as compared with $24,582,756 for the month of September, 1893. According to the estimates upon which the new tariff bill was based it was to produce from sugar $43,000,000 a year and from the income tax $15,000,000. No revenue from either of these sources is shown in the current receipts, for the reason that the income tax does not become operative until January 1, 1895, and three or four months' supply of sugar was imported prior to the new law in anticipation of the ad valorem tax placed upon it.

From present indications, when revenue from sugar and the income tax begin to be received, and customs and internal revenue receipts assume their normal conditions, as they are now gradually doing, a surplus for the fiscal year of between fifty and sixty millions at the present ratio existing between receipts and expenditures, is indicated. For the current year to date the expenditure exceeds the receipts less than a million dollars.

The debt statement issued yesterday shows a net increase in the public debt less cash in the Treasury during September of $8,152,700.84. The interest-bearing debt increased $140,000, the non-interest bearing debt increased $824,182.95, and the cash in the Treasury decreased $7,228,337.89.

BOLD TRAIN ROBBERY.

A Southern Pacific Express Held Up by Three Masked Men.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Oct. 2.—The Southern Pacific eastbound express was held up two miles east of Maricopa by three men, two of whom were masked. They boarded the train as it was leaving Maricopa, capturing the head brakesman. He was compelled to turn on the air brakes and stop the train. The engineer and the head brakesman, with pistols at their heads, were compelled to go back to the express car and induce the messenger to open the door. One of the bandits was then put in the car and searched for valuables while the other stood guard. The amount taken is not known, but it is supposed to be small. The trainmen were then marched away a short distance and liberated, the robbers mounting their horses and striking southward.

Deputy Prothero and a posse are in pursuit and it is expected they will soon capture them. The men are undoubtedly the same who robbed the Congress State several weeks ago. The penalty for train robbery in Arizona is death.

That Alien Labor Law.

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 2.—George Booth, of Toronto, was arrested at Cadillac by Deputy United States Marshal Campau on a warrant charging him with violating the alien labor law. The particular charge is that Booth imported James L. Hutchinson from Toronto in 1892. Mr. Booth is president of the Detroit Steel Bath Mfg. Co., and also of the Toronto Steel Bath Co. It is charged that Hutchinson, who was employed in Toronto, was brought over here under contract. Mr. Booth was arraigned before Commissioner Graves, who held the respondent for examination under $1,000 bail, which was furnished.

A Faith Curist on Trial.

TRENTON, N.J., Oct. 2.—Mrs. Glenn, a faith curist, is the first one of her class in New Jersey to be held for trial under the new law passed by the recent legislature, making it a misdemeanor for any faith curist or mind reader to practice in the state. She tried to cure Sadie Bell, of Palmyra, of consumption, but the girl died, and a corner's jury decided that she died for the want of recognized attention. The constitutionality of the act is to be tested.

Back Broken While Wrestling.

BUFFALO, Oct, 2.—Alvin Carnahan and Winslow Breedy, athletic students at the Erie street normal school, engaged in a catch-as-catch-can wrestling match on Sunday evening. Carnahan, in attempting to throw his adversary, broke his own back. Carnahan fell to the ground paralyzed from the breastbone down. Doctors have little hope of his recovery.

A Negro Suspected of Poisoning.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 2.—George Thomas, a negro, is under arrest for sending a poisoned lunch to St. Peter's Episcopal church last Saturday which caused the death of James Cunningham and the almost fatal illness of Franklin S. Beckett, the church organist. Thomas was supplanted as janitor of the church by Cunningham six months ago.

The Czar's Illness.

LONDON, Oct. 2.—A despatch from Berlin to the Standard says that Prof. Leyden has returned to that city and expressed himself regarding the Czar's condition as decidedly unfavorable to the imperial patient. Dr. Leyden thinks his majesty may possibly recover if he is kept in good spirits and his strength maintained.

Dutch Decoyed Into Ambush.

THE HAGUE, Oct. 2.—A despatch from Batavia says that a detachment of Dutch troops on the island of Lombok were decoyed into ambush a few days ago and a captain and a lieutenant were killed and a considerable number of soldiers were killed and wounded.

A Brantford Burglar Sentenced.

BRANTFORD, Oct. 2.—Joe Gillies, the burglar, was brought up in court yesterday. He was convicted in four different cases of burglary and that of assaulting Policeman Adams in the discharge of his duty, for all of which he was sentenced to six years at Kingston penitentiary with hard labor.

An Insane Woman Attempts Suicide.

TORONTO, Oct. 2.—Mrs. Martha Jane Hutchinson, 132 Elm street, made an attempt to end her life yesterday, but did not succed in seriously injuring herself. She was removed to the asylum, Dr. Burns, of College street, pronouncing her insane.

DEED OF A JEALOUS MAN

An Unjust Suspicion Prompts Him to Commit a Fearful Crime.

MURDERED HIS BOARDER IN BED

He Suspected Him of Paying Undue Attention to His Wife, But There Seemed Little Ground for His Suspicions—His Son, Sleeping With the Victim, Was a Witness to the Crime.

ST. JOHN, N.B., Oct. 2.—A horrible murder was committed yesterday at Fairville. Guifford Crawford, a middle-aged man, battered in the head of a young Englishman named John Henry Branton. The deceased boarded with Crawford.

Not long ago Crawford got an idea into his head that Branton was paying attention to his wife, although there does not appear to be any justification for any such suspicion. He did not accuse Branton openly, but accused his wife, and although she denied the allegation, and his son and daughter pointed out that it could not be true, he still harbored the unjust suspicion.

The night before the members of Crawford's family and Branton went to bed in excellent spirits. They had all been sitting in the kitchen conversing freely. Crawford was there too and said nothing that would show that he was disturbed in mind. The family retired to bed at about 10.30. Branton slept in the same bed in a room with Hartley Crawford, son of Guifford Crawford.

About half-past four o'clock Hartley heard his father come down stairs from his sleeping apartment, with a lighted lamp in his hand. He called out and asked him what he was doing up so early. His father replied: "It's five o'clock." He then went out and lit the fire and Hartley fell asleep. The next thing he knew he was awakened suddenly and saw his father standing at the side of the bed, with an axe uplifted in his hand.

Before he could realize what was the matter or do anything to prevent his father from committing a crime the blow fell, the corner of the blunt end of the axe striking Branton, who was sleeping on the inside of the bed, on the temple over the left eye. He saw no more than one blow struck and thinks his father must have struck one or two blows before he was awakened.

Poor Branton never stirred. Stunned by the blows and terribly injured he lay in the bed, while the blood gushed from three small wounds around the left eye and from his mouth.

Seeing what his father had done Hartley turned to him and said: "You've done it now; you've killed him sure."

The father made no reply, but going out left the axe with which he had committed the dreadful deed near the door of the kitchen and began walking up and down the kitchen floor. Afterwards he walked upstairs and laid in bed, where he was arrested by the police. Branton never recovered consciousness and died shortly before 7 o'clock. An inquest brought out the facts as about stated.

It is claimed that Crawford was slightly insane at times. The jury returned the verdict "that Branton came to his death by a blow from an axe in the hands of Guilford Crawford."

The Signatures Were Forged.

LONDON, Ont., Oct. 2.—A case containing a number of points of especial interest was heard before Judge W. Elliott yesterday. The Bank of Toronto sued Mr. W. H. Bartram, barrister, of this city, for $225 on a note presumed to be made by T. T. Warren, a Westminster farmer, living near Belmont, and endorsed by Mr. Bartram. T. T. Warren was called, and swore that he never made the note bearing his alleged signature. Mr. Bartram swore that he believed Warren, the witness, was the man who made the first transaction with him. A number of the farmers whose names were attached to the notes were present and those who were called denied having made the notes or to know anything regarding them. The notes are believed to be the work of the notorious Godfrey McTaggart, who operated so extensively around Belmont a year ago and who left the country. Judgment was reserved.

A London Murder Trial.

LONDON, Oct. 2.—The fall sittings of the High Court for Middlesex county were opened in the court house by Mr. Justice Robertson. The first case was that of murder. The party accused was Edward Bowers, of the township of Biddulph, and the victim, William Cain, a near neighbor. Justice Robertson, in speaking of the case, reviewed the evidence given at the coroner's inquest. A party returning home on the night of the alleged crime were engaged in some friendly tussling in front of Bowers' house, when some one demanded to know who was there. The crowd scattered and a shot was fired, the bullet mortally wounding Cains. While on the way for medical aid Bowers admitted having fired the shot.

What McWherrell's Clergyman Says.

BRAMPTON, Oct. 2.—MacWherrell is rejoicing still at his reprieve from death. Sheriff Broddy, High Constable Hurst and another officer will take him to Kingston this week. Rev. Mr. Pearson, who has visited MacWherrell in jail since his conviction, expresses the opinion that justice would not have been astray had the sentence of death been carried out. He is of the opinion that MacWherrell is infatuated with the notoriety he had gained through the sensational trial and the accounts in the newspapers.

A Bosanquet Farmer's Untimely End.

FOREST, Ont., Oct. 2.—David Brand, a prominent farmer of Bosanquet township, met with an accident which has resulted in his death. Threshing was going on at the farm of John Brand, a brother, and at supper time, while some of the men were fooling, Mr. Brand was accidentally struck in the eye with a pitchfork. The tine touched the brain and paralysis instantly set in. He lay unconscious for forty-eight hours and died without rallying. Mr. Brand was for several years deputy reeve of Bosanquet and was one of the wealthiest farmers of the township. He was 46 years of age and leaves a wife and nine children. He was a member of the Sons of Scotland and Canadian Foresters and had $1,000 insurance in each society.

Fierce Tornado in Kansas.

WICHITA, Kas., Oct. 2.—A tornado struck the northern part of the city last evening and destroyed much property. Several people were injured, but so far as known no fatalities occurred. A number of residences were lifted off their foundations and some of them overturned, and a score of barns and outhouses were demolished. Telegraphic and telephone wires are down in all directions and no news has yet been received from the surrounding country.

House Full of Steam! A big fire, heavy lifting, hard work is the usual way of doing the wash . . . .

There is an easier and cleaner way.

A TEA KETTLE will give all the hot water required when

Surprise Soap

is used according to the directions on the wrapper. It does away with boiling or scalding the clothes and all that muss and confusion. The clothes are sweeter, whiter and cleaner, washed in this way.

Thousands use Surprise Soap on wash day, why don't you?

169a. THE ST. CROIX SOAP MF'G. CO., ST. STEPHEN, N. B.

Perry Davis' PAIN-KILLER

Buy Big 25c. Bottle

NO OTHER MEDICINE ON EARTH is so efficacious for Colic, Canadian Cholera, Cramps, Chills, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum and all Bowel Complaints.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

TORONTO, Oct. 2, 1894.

The visible supply of barley at principal points of accumulation is 2,265,000 bushels, against 1,746,000 last week and 920,000 for the corresponding week of 1893. The movement so early in the season is phenomenal.

THE FARMERS' MARKET.—The receipts on the street comprised 400 bushels of wheat, which sold at 54c for white, 53c for red, and 50c for goose; 400 of barley at 42 to 44c; 200 of pease at 59 to 60c, and 800 oats at 30 to 31½c. Outside prices are unchanged.

The Chicago wheat market was a little stronger, and closed a shade higher for December and ½ to ⅛c for cash. May corn closed 3-8 to 1-2c higher. Oats were dull and about steady.

At East Buffalo the sheep and lambs market closed steady, with sales of Canada lambs at $4.15 to $4.30, and ruling prices $4.25.

The London stock markets generally were dull, with flatness in the case of Americans, which closed 50c to $1 lower on the average.

Nearly all security prices declined on Wall street under a steady pressure from the usual operators. Investors are not marketing their holdings, but many houses took on a rather heavy load of long stock during the August rise and some of them have apparently during the past few days been letting their surplus holdings go. Sugar certificates broke again, the factors in the movements being the same as usual. There was no news of importance.

Counterfeiter Ryan Sentenced.

WINDSOR, Oct. 2.—John B. Ryan, who is held on the charge of making counterfeit coin, was arraigned in the police court yesterday and had sentence passed upon him. As there were extenuating circumstances in Ryan's case it mitigated against a heavy sentence. He and his accomplice, Alfred Weaver, were arrested about a month ago. Weaver was allowed to go on suspended sentence. Ryan had several examinations in court and his case was thoroughly investigated. The sentence imposed by the magistrate was one year in Toronto central prison at hard labor.

A Fatal Schoolboy Fight.

TORONTO, Oct. 2.—Harry Fletcher, a young lad who lives at 29 McCaul, became engaged in a fight with a companion coming from St. Patrick's school. Fletcher received an injury to the head at the time but it was not considered a dangerous wound. The affair, however, assumed a serious aspect and on Sunday the lad died of his injuries.

Shot at by a Burglar.

LAMBTON MILLS, Oct. 2.—Frank Winters, proprietor of the Senate hotel, was awakened by a noise in the house and thought it was the hostler. He called down through a chimney hole where he saw a light, and was answered by a bullet grazing his ear. On investigating he found that burglars had ransacked the place and taken what money they found in the bar.

The Ahr Valley.

It is becoming the custom among European travellers to stop at Remagen-on-the-Rhine, and make a little excursion to the beautiful Valley of the Ahr, with its picturesque villages along the vine-clad slope. Here is also located the spring from which flows that world wide favorite "Apollinaris Water." At Neuenahr, in the valley, the river Ahr is very beautiful, and one can find few more quaintly attractive spots than the Upper Gate at Ahrweiler, or the old mill at Heppingen.

A tax on dogs was levied in Rome during the reign of Nero.

For Over Fifty Years

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhœa. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by druggists throughout the world.
17d&wly

In the time of Queen Anne soap was taxed £28 per ton.

DEAR SIRS.—I have used Yellow Oil for two or three years, and think it has no equal for croup. Mrs. J. S. O'Brien, Huntsville, Ont.

The tithes in England amounted to £4,050,000 a year.

Dyspepsia and Indigestion.—C. W. Snow & Co., Syracuse N.Y., writes: "Please send us ten gross of Pills. We are selling more of Parmelee's Pills than any other Pill we keep. They have a great reputation for the cure of Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint." Mr. Chas. A. Smith, Lindsay, writes: "Parmelee's Pills are an excellent medicine. My sister has been troubled with severe headache, but these pills have cured her."

Russia raises $1,5000,000 a year by the sale of passports.

THAT TIRED, LANGUID FEELING and dull headache is very disagreeable. Take two of Carter's Little Liver Pills before retiring, and you will find relief. They never fail to do good.

SAFE
PLEASANT
THE GREAT
BLOOD PURIFIER

BRISTOL'S
SARSAPARILLA
CURES ALL
Taints of the Blood.
RELIABLE
CERTAIN

Trafalgar Institute.
(Affiliated to McGill University.)
No. 83 Simpson Street, Montreal.
— FOR THE —
Higher Education
OF
Young Women

With preparatory department for girls between 10 and 14.
President, REV. JAMES BARCLAY, D.D.
Vice-President, MR. A. T. DRUMMOND.
Principal, MISS GRACE FAIRLEY, M.A., Edinburgh.

The institute will re-open with an efficient staff of twelve resident and visiting teachers, on

Tuesday, 11th September 1894.

The Institute buildings are situated on the mountain side overlooking the City. The spacious grounds are attractively laid out and the surroundings are not only beautiful but very healthful.

For copy of Prospectus and other information apply to the principal, at the Institute, or to

A. F. Riddell, Secretary, 22 St. John St., Montreal.

LAKEHURST SANITARIUM
OAKVILLE, ONT.
For treatment and cure of
ALCHOLISM, MORPHINE HABIT, TOBACCO HABIT AND NERVOUS DISEASES.

The system employed at this institution is the familiar Double Chloride of Gold System. Through its agency over 200,000 Slaves to the use of these poisons have been emancipated in the last fourteen years. Lakehurst Sanitarium is the oldest institution of the kind in Canada, and has a well earned reputation to maintain in this line of medicine. In its whole history there is not an instance of failure to remove the appetite for these poisons. In its whole history there is not an instance of any after ill-effects from the treatment. Hundreds of happy homes in all parts of the Dominion bear eloquent witness to the efficacy of a course of treatment with us. For terms and full information write

THE SECRETARY,
28 Bank of Commerce Chambers,
aug7d3m34w3m) Toronto, Ont.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY.

WESTERN - EXCURSIONS

On October 4th, 5th and 6th. Return Tickets will be issued from Belleville to—

DETROIT and PORT HURON		$6.50
CLEVELAND		9.00
SAGINAW and BAY CITY		9.50
GRAND RAPIDS		10.50
CHICAGO and CINCINNATI		12.50
ST. PAUL and MINNEAPOLIS	via Chicago or North Bay	35.50
ST. PAUL and MINNEAPOLIS	via Lake and Rail	37.50

Tickets will be good to return until Oct. ... For tickets and all information apply to

U.E. THOMPSON.
General Ticket Agent, Bridge Street.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 75c. bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, TUESDAY OCT, 2.

THAT SPEAKERSHIP.

The Empire comments as follows: "It seems that there is a movement afoot to elect Mr. Biggar Speaker of the Legislature. Mr. Biggar hasn't the kindest feeling towards the Government, and his election to the Speakership would reduce the independent vote by one."

THE FISHERIES COMMISSION.

The Department of Marine and Fisheries has published in blue book form the report of the commission which enquired into the fisheries of Ontario last year. The two commissioners were Messrs. Samuel Wilmot of Ottawa, and Edward Harris of Port Dover. The report shows that the fisheries are being depleted. Mr. Wilmot assigns the following reasons for this state of things;

1. Fishing in the spawning seasons and while fish are congregating for that purpose, going to and returning from the shores, bars, bays, reefs and rivers, which are their breeding haunts.

2. The great destruction of immature fish in pound and gill nets and seines.

3. The waste of great quantities of fish by the use of unlimited lengths of gill nets.

4. The use of too small meshes in all nets.

5. The great deposits of refuse matter from saw mills, and from the towage of immense rafts of sawlogs across the fishing grounds into the United States.

These causes, each or combined, are in direct violation of nature's laws in not giving all fish full freedom to replenish the waters at their spawning times, and killing them before reaching maturity for reproductive purposes.

The evidence, Messrs. Wilmot and Harris say, shows conclusively that United States fishermen regularly trespass in Canadian waters. The duty of three quarters of a cent per pound intended to be levied on Canadian fish entering the United States, is easily and generally avoided.

That Joyful Feeling.

With the exhilarating sense of renewed health and strength and internal cleanliness, which follows the use of Syrup of Figs, is unknown to the few who have not progressed beyond the old time medicines and the cheap substitutes sometimes offered but never excepted by the well informed.

Cheese Markets

LONDON.

LONDON, Sept. 29.—Thirty-one factories offered 7,584 boxes August and 375 September. Sales:—735 boxes of August at 10⅝c; market dull.

OGDENSBURG.,

OGDENSBURG N. Y., Sept. 29.—To-day 1,550 boxes of cheese were offered: 539 boxes sold at 10⅛c and 530 boxes at 10¼c.

Schiffmann's Asthma Cure

Instantly relieves the most violent attacks facilitates free expectoration and insured rest to those otherwise unable to sleep except in a chair, as a single trial will prove. Send for a free trial package to Dr. R. Schiffmann's, St. Paul, Minn., but ask your druggist first.

Look Here.

Do you feel blue and despondent? Do pains rack and tear away at nerve and muscle, and have you been disappointed in finding a remedy that will afford certain and speedy relief. If so, go at once to any drug store and buy a bottle of Polson's Nerviline. Polson's Nerviline never fails to relieve neuralgia, cramps, headache, rheumatism, and all internal and external pains. J. B. Carman, druggist, Morrisburg, writes: "All the parties I supply speak very favorable of Nerviline, and always purchase a second lot." Polson's Nerviline is sold in bottles at 25 cents—by all druggists and country dealers everywhere.

The Haines & Lockett Fire.

Owing to our loss by the recent fire, we placed what few accounts we had on our books in the hands of W. J. Diamond with instructions to send them in without reserve ... persons, and to urge immediate payment. We hope all parties concerned will respond promptly at Mr. Diamond's ...

p15tf HAINES & LOCKETT.

PALE CHILDREN ... appetite ... and frequent coughs, ... bottles of ...
Skrei Cod Liver Oil.
Doctors recommend it because it is pure and easy to take and to digest.

BANCROFT.

OCT. 1.—We regret to state that the law abiding character of North Hastings has latterly been much disturbed, chiefly from the influx of strangers attracted by the Railway works now in progress. The serious crimes of house-breaking, obtaining carriages and chattels under false pretences, forgery, etc., have placed the far north too much on a level with the less enviable advantage of more civilized districts. On the 25th Sept. District Police Magistrate Cleak was called on by P. P. Clark, J.P. of St. Ola, to hold trial on John Boldock, at Gilmour, for house-breaking. The man was sentenced for one month with hard labor for larceny, but the trial was concluded by evidence being brought forward to show that although the prisoner had borne a good character up to within the last two years, he has since been lazy and worthless, wild and eccentric in his talk and actions, negligent, threatening and abusive to his family, in fact the testimony showed that he is a lunatic and dangerous to be at large. Probably if not benefitted by a month in gaol he will be committed on that score.—Dealing in real property has recently been very active in Bancroft. A great number of village lots have changed hands to the profit of speculative owners. —The Government restrictive game laws work well as a preservative, as fish, game birds and deer are much more plentiful than formerly.

CARRYING PLACE.

Mr. Strike, our young Methodist preacher, went off last week to take an interest in a life long partnership. The happy couple are expected home this week. The people should give the bride a hearty welcome. A good wife is an important part of the ministerial equipment.—Some of our villagers and residents in the vicinity availed themselves of the annual excursion of C. O. R. to Coe Hill, at the time of the fair. The fair was a success, the display made was most creditable. It was remarked by some that the roots and vegetables were ahead of what were raised on the front this year on account of the dry weather. Many fair ones received tickets for the various articles of fancy work. A Cheap John merchant made many happy by his witty remarks. Booths were erected for the purpose of supplying the people with refreshments. The only drawback to the excursion was the gang of toughs, who were playing cards, drinking whiskey and blaspheming at the top of their voices. The superintendent was appealed to, but Mr. Collins failed to exercise his authority. The conductor did what he could, the toughs were quiet while he was in the car, but as soon as he left the reign of iniquity was resumed. It is too bad that ladies and young men should be subjected to such a deluge of blaspheming. If the authorities of the C. O. R. would only eject a few of the worst, a salutary effect would be produced. A special car should be attached, (if the officials are afraid to lose a few fares), for convenience of the tough element, who have no respect for themselves or anybody else.

PENETANGUISHENE.

N. Courtemance has the roof on his new skating rink. It took two hundred and seventy five thousand shingles to cover the roof. When done it will be one of the finest rinks in Ontario.—Mr. Desome is building a new brick hotel. When finished it will be a credit to the town.—Mr. Beck, the Mayor of the town, is building a fine brick store on Main street, which is nearly completed. This store is to be occupied when done by Gillespie & Co., general merchants.—Mr. C. G. Gendron's new brick store has the roof on, and will be open for business in a short time. Mr. Gendron has built a new residence, one of the finest in the town.—S. A. Gendron, general grocer, has been building an extension to his store, which now makes it one of the largest in the town.—Some eight or nine new houses have been built in the town this season.—We have been informed that Mr. Beck has a contract for cutting 200,000,000 feet of lumber for an American firm. This will keep both of the mills running night and day for ten years.—Miss Bertha Marks, daughter of Wm. Marks, of Belleville, is visiting at Mr. Hawkers', of this place.—What place can beat Penetang. on taxes? The rate is 33 mills on the dollar.

FOXBORO.

We have had several showers of rain here lately, and everything looks much better for it; even the people have improved in appearance, and as we see them hurrying past they present much more pleasant countenances than they wore during the hot, dry season.—Mrs. Fred Roote and her little daughter have returned to Pontiac, Mich.—Rev. R. Bamforth has gone to Kingston, where he intends pursuing his studies at Queen's University. —E. H. Vandervoort is spending a few days at Garden Hill, visiting his sister.—Miss Mary Martin, of Campbellford, is in our midst renewing old acquaintances.—Mr. G. N. Brown has been confined to the house for some time, because of an inward abscess in the head, but he is now gradually improving.—This year Foxboro presents a most remarkable showing at the Belleville High School. The following are representatives: Messrs. A. and F. Long will, H. L. Ashley, A. C. Benedict, D. A. Brown, B. A. Holgate, N. Davis, P. C. S. Gay, W. A. and J. Shaw, and Misses B. Ashley and E. Gowsell. This suggests that Foxboro is going to have many professors, lawyers and M. D.'s.

ALBURY.

On Saturday, Sept., 12th, two deaths occurred in this vicinity. One was Jane Weese, aged 55, relict of the late James Weese, who died 22 years ago. Mrs. Weese was only sick a very short time and died at the residence of her son Mr. Addison Weese. Mr. Dupreu conducted the funeral service.—Aaron Pierson, aged 63 died on Sunday Sept. 12th. The deceased was in poor health for the last year. On Friday before his death, he received a stroke of paralysis and never rallied from its effects. The funeral service was conducted at the house by the Rev. J. W. Foster, assisted by the Rev. M. Armstrong of Trenton.—Both funerals were on Tuesday afternoon and same pall-bearers officiated at both funerals, which were largely attended by the friends of the deceased.

—Counterfeit 5 and 10 cent pieces are in circulation in Windsor.

—A meeting of the creditors of H. Dorenwend, of Yonge street, Toronto, was held yesterday afternoon, when the affairs of the estate were thoroughly discussed.

GREAT DISCOVERIES.—The astronomer who discovers a new star, the scientist who finds a new face, or the geologist who alights upon a new spices of fossil, becomes deservedly famous; but the actual good such discoveries do is nothing when compared to the finding of a medicine which is an infallible cure for certain diseases. Such a discovery was made nearly half a century ago by an Eastern gentleman named Perry Davis, and his preparation is now known to the world as PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER. It is a sure cure for Diarrhoea, Cramps, Cholera Morbus, Cholera, and indeed all bowel complaints, 25c. only for Big 2 oz bottle.

GOVERNMENT APPEALED TO

Quebec Protestant Missions Want Those Outrages Stopped.

THE POLICE SERVICE DEFECTIVE

Rev. Mr. Lariviere, of the Episcopal Mission, Says the Police Are Either Cowardly or Are in Sympathy With the Mob —The Citizens of Quebec Indignant and Demand the Arrest of the Ruffians.

OTTAWA, Oct. 2.—Rev. R. N. Lariviere, of the French Episcopal Church, Quebec, is in the city. Along with Dr. Ami, of the Geological Survey Department, he called at the office of the Premier to see what could be done to put a stop to recent assaults which have been made on Protestants in their places of worship in that city. Sir John Thompson was not in his office at the time, but his private secretary, Douglas Stewart, told Mr. Lariviere that the matter was one which ought to be laid before the Attorney-General of the province, who had charge of the administration of justice in the event of the municipality not acting. If the Attorney-General refused to act then it might be a question for the Minister of Justice to consider. It is, therefore, likely that Mr. Lariviere will interview the Quebec Attorney-General before seeing the Premier.

Mr. Lariviere condemns the cowardly action of the Quebec police.

Mr. Lariviere says the police either acted cowardly or they are in sympathy with the mob. He says that the riot was caused by a false statement in the press to the effect that the Salvation Army had paraded the streets of St. Roch's and had attempted to get converts. The Army did not do so because the laws of the province forbid them parading the streets.

Quebec Citizens Incensed.

QUEBEC, Oct. 2.—Rev. Mr. Stobo, a member of the Evangelical Alliance, has sent a letter to Mayor Parent protesting against the action of the young roughs who stoned the Baptist Mission on Friday night. The rev. gentleman complains very much of the defective police service of Quebec. Mayor Parent will cause the perpetrators to be hunted up and will have them severely punished. The people of Quebec are highly incensed at the dastardly conduct of these loafers and all newspapers in the city are unanimous in demanding their speedy arrest and punishment.

NOTES FROM OTTAWA.

Some Scandalous Revelations Expected—The French Treaty.

OTTAWA, Oct. 2.—British Columbia promises to be an early beneficiary by the new French treaty. One of its provisions is the admission, under specially advantageous tariff treatment, of fish from Canada in their natural state. Information comes from New Westminster, B. C., that two French capitalists have made arrangements with the Cold Storage Co, there to store a large quantity of British Columbia salmon for shipment to Paris. They will go into the business of exporting salmon to France on a large scale.

The Premier has agreed to perform the ceremony of unveiling the monument to Sir John A. Macdonald in Toronto on the 15th inst.

Sir John Gorst is in the city.

Rev. W. W. Quicke, of St. David's Church, in the course of his sermon on Sunday, strongly condemned the exhibition of such pictures of the Redeemer as that shown at the fair grounds during the past week. He declared such pictures were infinitely degrading to the Son of God and that they represented neither history nor dignified art.

Some interesting revelations which implicate a professional man of this city are likely to develope in the course of a few days, and it is intimated that when thoroughly unfolded the scheme will turn out to be one which was very extensive in its operations. Unfortunate girls who were in the care of the home for friendless women have been enticed away by men of position, and afterwards turned adrift to resume the most degraded calling. One of the inmates of the O'Conner dive, raided last week by the county police, had still pride enough left to attempt to conceal her real name and respectable connections and her history is a sad one. She is now only seventeen years of age, though the life of dissipation makes her look much older. Friends tried to reclaim her and were beginning to flatter themselves that they had been successful when she fell away at the instance of a man who soon discarded her and it is suspected that she has again gone into the same company. Nor is this a solitary instance; but fortunately in the other cases the friends were able to interfere in time to prevent two other girls from falling into the same trap.

Humorous.

SLIGHT VARIATION.

"I wish your mother were also my mother," said he, looking at her tenderly.

"All right," she said, "I will be a sister to you."—N. Y. Press.

HIS DESIRE FOR LACE.

"Yes, sir," said the clerk, briskly, "we have lace of all kinds. Would you like to see Valenciennes or point lace?" "It's a shoe lace I want," explained the customer. —Detroit Free Press.

USES OF THERMOMETERS.

Little Dot—Phew! I'm most roasted. Can you read the thermometer?

Little Dick—Yep.

Little Dot—Well, go look at it, an' see if I'm as hot as I feel.—Good News.

MODERN SPINNING-WHEEL

Don't talk about grandmother's turning the reel,
Just see how her grand daughter takes to the wheel!
She's up with the dawn, and, as neat as a pin,
Sets ou every day for a 20-mile spin

SPECIAL MENTION

—Mr. Samuel Auglin, died yesterday in Kingston, aged 85.

DR. LOW'S PLEASANT WORM SYRUP removes worms of all kinds from children or adults.

—Ex-Premier Mercier's friends fear he will not live another 24 hours.

THAT HACKING COUGH can be quickly cured by Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam. Price 25c.

—The United States public debt increased $8,052,701 during September.

ALWAYS AVOID HARSH PURGATIVE PILLS. They first make you sick and then leave you constipated. Carter's Little Liver Pills regulate the bowels and make you well. Dose, one pill.

ALL CASES OF WEAK OR LAME BACK, backache, rheumatism, will find relief by wearing one of Carter's Smartweed and Belladonna Backache Plasters. Price 25 cents. Try them.

No person should go from home without a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial in their possession, as change of water, cooking, climate, etc., frequently brings on summer complaint, and there is nothing like being ready with a sure remedy at hand, which oftentimes saves great suffering, and consequently valuable lives. This Cordial has gained for itself a wide spread reputation for affording prompt relief from all summer complaints.

—The steamer Passport has been placed on the Montreal route for the balance of the season in place of the steamer Magnet.

Lane's Medicine Moves the Bowels Each Day

In order to be healthy this is necessary

AN ARREST IN LIFE'S JOURNEY.

HAD TAKEN THE WRONG ROAD.

Enduring Many Trials and Sufferings.

HEARD OF THE GLAD NEWS OF PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND.

Mr. Church Says: "It Snatched Me From the Grave."

THE CURED MAN'S HONEST TESTIMONY.

He Urges All Sufferers to Use the Medicine that Gave Him New Life.

An important arrest in life's journey! A man saved who had travelled far on the road that leads to the silent, dark grave! His trails and sufferings were heavy and severe; he had made many efforts to rid himself of the shackles and chains that bound him, but for long months his endeavors were futile.

While on the great highway of disease and suffering Mr. John A. Church, of Coldbrook, N. S., heard the glad news of victories won over disease by Paine's Celery Compound; his heart bounded with joy and fresh hope, and he lost no time in testing the virtues of nature's great healer.

The first bottle produced a mighty change, and warranted Mr. Church in continuing with the medicine. After using nine bottles of the great Compound, a thorough cure was effected, and a new lease of life was obtained.

Before hearing of Paine's Celery Compound Mr. Church was literally robbed of his money, as he bought medicines of all kinds that proved useless and worthless. His experience is of great value to every sick and suffering man and woman in Canada. He writes thus:—

"It is with pleasure that I gave testimony in favor of your Paine's Celery Compound. In the spring of 1892, I had an attack of La Grippe, which put me into such a condition that I could not sleep or eat. I was completely run-down, had extreme nervous prostration, and lay for days in a half stupefied state.

"After spending all my money for medicine which did little good I gave up to die, when one day a paper on Paine's Celery Compound was brought to me. I at once procured the medicine, and derived great relief from the first bottle. I slept better, ate better, and digestion improved. After using nine bottles I feel like a new man. I can truly say that Paine's Celery Compound snatched me from the grave, and gave me a new lease of life.

"I earnestly urge all sufferers to use Paine's Celery Compound, feeling sure it will cure them. Do not spend your money for medicine that cannot cure you."

SPORTING NEWS

The reduction of pacing records has been phenomenal. They are to date:

Fastest mile with running mate (Flying Jib) reduced from 2:01¾ to 1:59½.

Fastest mile against time, (Robert J.) reduced from 2:04 to 2:01½.

Fastest stallion record (John R. Gentry) reduced from 2:05½ to 2:03¾.

Fastest gelding against time, (Robert J.) reduced from 2:04 to 2:01½.

Fastest gelding race record (Robert J.) reduced from 2:04 to 2:02½.

Fastest three heats in a race (Robert J.) reduced 2:03¾, 2:02½, 2:04¾.

Fastest mile in race (Robert J.) reduced from 2:04 to 2:02½.

Fastest three year old filly (Whirligig) reduced to 2:10.

Fastest two year old record (Directly) reduced 2:07¾.

Fastest three year old stallion (Brookside) 2:11½.

A meeting of the Belleville Football League, will be held at 4:15 to morrow afternoon at Belleville Business College, to arrange for league matches.

Corbett still declines to meet Fitzsimmons, and the latter will claim the championship.

The Bowlingbrook Club, of London, offers a purse of £3,000 for a fight between Corbett and Fitzsimmons. The club will allow each man £100 for expenses. As soon as they accept the offer the whole amount of money will be deposited.

Dr. Carver and J. A. R. Elliott will shoot another match, October 11th, 12th, and 13th, for the live bird championship of the world, and $400 a side. Articles of agreement have been signed.

ONLY A WORD OR TWO.

THE MOTHERS MOST INTERESTED.

Babies and Lactated Food.

Just a few words to day, dear mothers, on a subject that you are much interested in, and on which much of your happiness depends.

Are you aware of the fact that thousands of mothers in Canada—your relatives, friends and neighbors have to thank Lactated Food for what it has done for their babies?

Many pale-faced, drooping, puny and half-dead babies have been made strong, bright, charming and good-natured by Lactated Food, after all other forms of nourishment had failed. Hundreds of mothers have written to the manufacturers of the great Lactated Food, and honestly confessed that their babies would have died, if Lactated Food had been wanting.

To-day the attention of the whole medical world is directed to this wonderful health producing food, and our ablest doctors gladly advise mothers to adopt its use. Why will mothers and nurses use inferior and dangerous foods when the Lactated saves life, gives health, strength and heartiness? Baby's life is always protected when Lactated Food is used.

—British residents are leaving Blue fields, Nicaragua.

—Brantford has now a population of 15,553, an increase of 99 during the past year. There are less than 30 vacant houses in the city.

New Advertisements

WANTED.

WANTED.—A General Servant. Apply to MRS. WALMSLEY,
Belleville, Oct. 1, 126 d3t.

LOST OR STOLEN.

ON or about 27th Sept., 1894, a wallet, containing notes to the amount of $1,800 or $2,000. I hereby forbid anyone cash or buying notes drawn in favor of Francis or James Murphy. A reward will be given for recovery of same by leaving at Ontario office or INTELLIGENCER office.

127dw2t JAMES MURPHY, Bogart P.O., Ont.

BELLEVILLE PLATING WORKS

HARRIS & WALTON'S FACTORY, MILL ST.

ELECTRO—Gold, Silver, Nickel, Copper, Brass and Bronze.

PLATING—Also Carriage Plating, Polishing, Buffing and Lacquering. Antique finishes of all kinds.

BURTON & MILLER.

QUEEN'S · OPERA · HOUSE.

- SATURDAY -

MATINEE & EVENING, OCTOBER 6TH.

Margart L. Sheppard & Co.,

In a great Drama of her own life,

"TRIED AS BY FIRE,"

By the eminent English Actor,

MARTIN CLEWORTH,

And a specially selected Company with Magnificent Costumes and Scenery.

Matinee Prices, - 25 & 35c.

Evening Prices, 25, 35 & 60c.

PETTYJOHN'S

CALIFORNIA BREAKFAST FOOD

Dyspeptics can eat this food.
It is particularly adapted for children and persons of sedentary habits.
It is made from Pacific coast wheat hulled and crushed by improved machinery.
It can be easily prepared for breakfast, as this crushing process makes it soft and tender and easy to cook
Ask your physician which is best for you to eat, oats or wheat
Pettijohn's California Breakfast Food is sold in packages by

BENMORE & BENSON.

No-To-Bac.

Guaranteed to Cure

TOBACCO HABIT

In Every Form

at the Pharmacy.

D. M. WATERS.

-PLUMBING-

We have added to our Workmen,

MR, GEORGE JOHNSON,

Who has for the past six years been prominent on large contracts in Victoria, B. C., San Francisco, Denver, and Chicago.

-- ALSO --

MR. EDWIN W. BISHOP,

A graduate of the New York School for Plumbing (class 92), who comes highly recommended.

With these men added to our staff, we feel sure of giving satisfaction to all in Sanitary Plumbing.

C. F. Smith & Co.

THIS MATTER CHANGED DAILY.

TUESDAY, Oct. 2.

HATS!

The millinery this fall is certainly very pretty. We have some beautiful pattern hats on display, and our trimmers are hard at work on orders from ladies who appreciate fine work. We pay special attention to children's hats, and we are sure to please all who give us a call.

W. FLINT JONES.

Next door to Haines & Lockett.

GRAPES....

It is claimed that Grapes are the most healthy, and therefore the most nutritious fruit grown.
We have and will have through the season, large consignments and will sell very cheap, as crop is very large in the west. They are selling to day at

25c. per Basket...

Jas. Wallace & Co.

Peaches while season lasts.

The 'Publick'

Are respectfully asked to show their appreciation of the improvements and progress of the city, by leaving their orders for

Coal, Wood & Shingles.

— AT —

S. A. LAZIER & SON'S.

TELEPHONE C 68.

YES,

The Crockery trade is interesting. We've just about finished the heaviest fruit jar season on record. Now we'll pitch into LAMPS and FLOWER POTS. Prices are amazingly low. This month will see the lamp stock complete with 150 kinds. We have just placed an order for an elegant new stock of the celebrated "Meriden Britannia Co's." SILVER PLATE and Sterling Ware.

W. J. REID & CO'Y.

CRYSTAL HALL. Rous' Old Stand.

London and Belleville.

GENTLEMEN....

Before ordering your Fall Clothing don't fail to take a look through

A. N. REID'S

New Fall Importations of

Scotch, English and Irish Suitings, Overcoatings, Pantings, Irish Serges, Cheviots, Hop Sackings and Black Worsteds

First Class Goods and Prices low.

Mr. Minor, our cutter, is one of the best in Ontario.

EVERY GARMENT GUARANTEED!!

Please call and inspect our New Goods.

A. N. REID.

FRESH...

GROCERIES...

Are in demand by every careful housewife. They do not stay fresh long, and many people are bitten every day by buying stale goods. The undersigned has opened a store on Front Street in the stand occupied by Manson McMullen for so many years, and has put in stock a full line of Provisions, Groceries, Confectionery, Cigars, Flour and Feed, Etc., all fresh. The store opened to-day, and everyone is invited to look over the stock.

J. A. ELLIOTT.

STOVE PIPES!
STOVE PIPES!!
STOVE PIPES!!!

WHIPS!	LANTERNS!
WHIPS!!	LANTERNS!!
WHIPS!!!	LANTERNS!!!
Lamps,	Flower Pots,
Lamps,	Flower pots,
Lamps,	Flower Pots.

—AT—

THE FAIR,

FRANK WEEKS, MANAGER.

Str. C. H. "Merritt."

The weather permitting, this steamer will run an excursion to Picton Fair on Thursday, October 4th,

Leaving Stewart's wharf at 8:30 a.m.; returning will leave Picton at 7 p.m.

TICKETS, - 35cts.

DON'T

Fail to see our fine display of

CANDIES

—AND—

FINE BAKERY GOODS

To morrow (Saturday).

H. C. DICKENS & SON.

P.S.—Oysters now arriving in fine order.

CANADIAN..
MERCHANTS.
FOLLOW...

O
B
C
METHODS.

Some of the largest importing firms in Canada that have relations with great English houses, send their financial statements at the end of each year to Britain on O. B. C. Balance Sheet Forms. Following is a sample of an order.

Office of
RYAN BROS., Importers,
OWEN SOUND, Feb. 7, '94.
MESSRS. ROBINSON & JOHNSON,
Ontario Business College,
Gentlemen.—Please send us five Balance Sheet Blanks, same as you supply to Messrs. G. B. Ryan & Co., of Guelph.
Yours truly,
RYAN BROS.

NO DOUBT YOU
WILL REQUIRE
A.........

New Hat
Or —
Bonnet..

The Most Stylish and Wearable...

MILLINERY
IS AT —

J. P. THOMPSON & CO.

STOCK COMPLETE
IN ALL DEPARTMENTS.

HAPPY HOME RANGES.

Best in the Market.

—ALSO—

A Full Line of

Art Garland

and

Famous Heaters.

—(o)—

Wm. McGIE.

Next to Nathan Jones.

Telephone 38. Front S

New Carpets,
New Carpets,
New Carpets,

New Curtains,
New Curtains,
New Curtains.

We have just taken out of Bond and placed in Stock our FALL IMPORTATIONS of CARPETS and CURTAINS, and are now in a position to show as complete a line as any House in Central Ontario in the following lines:

Wilton and Velvet Carpets,
Brussels and Tapestry Carpets,
All Wool and Union Carpets,
Hemp Carpets,
Velvet Squares and Rugs,
Wool Crumb Cloths,
Smyrna Rugs,
Chenille and Lace Curtains,
Chenille and Brocatelle Covers,
Linoleums and Oilcloths,
Window Shades,
Brass Goods in great variety,
Curtain Poles in all the newest designs.

Special Value In
Grey and White Blankets,
White Quilts, and Comforters.

We intend paying special attention to our Carpet and House Furnishing Departments and will endeavor to keep it one of the most attractive between Toronto and Montreal.

Large lines of Canadian Staples at close cash prices.

VANDERVOORT & GIBSON,
Successors to the late J. W. Dunnet.
GLASGOW WAREHOUSE,
Belleville, Sept. 2d, 1894.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, TUESDAY OCT. 2.

Chauncey Ashley, issuer of marriage licenses, Division Court Office, Pinnacle street or at residence over Benmore & Benson's store. d&w

CITY AND DISTRICT.

The river is lower than it has been for years.

To-day's market was very slimly attended.

A new floor is being laid in the main entrance to the post office.

Some goods were found outside a grocery store at a late hour last night.

Work was commenced this morning on the extension of the Catherine St. drain.

Be sure and attend Grant's cheap cash sale if you want bargains in Boots and Shoes.

County Court without a jury was to have been held to-day, but no cases were reported.

A horse buyer is in the city, who with Mr. Fanning is buying horses for the Glasgow market.

It was the Rev. Mr. Marshall, not Rev. Mr. Wallace, who united Miss Haines and Mr. Detlor in marriage yesterday.

The Str. Varuna will run an excursion to Picton fair, Wed. and Thurs. 3rd and 4th. Fare 50c good for both days. 1288tc.

Owing to broken granite being used up, work on the granolithic pavement was suspended this morning. More arrived to-day.

As the Philharmonic music has not arrived, there will be no rehearsal to night. No doubt it will be here soon, for next Tuesday night.

A child stayed away from its home on Bridge street last evening and was found by Officer Hayes, who returned it to the anxious parents.

During the hot weather impurities in the blood may seriously annoy you. Expel them by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier.

To-night and Thursday night Mr. Wm. Slomans, the converted Jew will speak in Bethel Hall, commencing at 8 o'clock. Seats all free, and all welcome. 1t

David Connor, who was tried at Omemee yesterday on the charge of safe-cracking, was discharged. He was re-arrested on the charge of stealing a coat at Peterborough.

The police last night received a call to the G. T. R. station, it being reported that a drunken woman was there. She however took a train for the west before the officer arrived.

Madame Oeuninck, teacher of the German language, born and educated in the Kingdom of Prussia, takes class and private pupils for grammar and conversation at moderate terms.—Ridley Street, corner of Grier St. 127d2t

Miss Hext, elocutionist, Master Larkin, cornet soloist, O. Brickman, Saxaphone soloist, W. Fairman, W. McLean, Master Riggs, and I.O.O.F. orchestra, all appear at the Opera House on Friday evening. Plan now open. Secure your seats. [1t

The universal prevalence of scrofula is a fact well-known to physicians. The only medicine that has hitherto proved a specific for his dreadful complaint is Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which expels every germ of poison from the blood. You cannot begin to use it too soon.

"For several months, I was troubled with a persistent humor on my head which gave me considerable annoyance, until it occurred to me to try Ayer's Hair Vigor. Before using one bottle, the humor was healed."—T. T. Adams, General Merchant, Turbevill, Va.

PROBABILITIES.

Toronto, Oct. 2.—Fair to-day; increasing easterly winds, followed by stationary or a little higher temperature.

Trunks and Valises.

If you want a trunk or valise, call and see us, as we have a good assortment and very cheap.—Vermilyea & Son.

Paints and Tar Stains.

When needing a preparation for removing grease, tar or stains from garments, neckties or kid gloves, try Lightning Soap, which answers this purpose admirably. It is easily used and can be found at L. W. Yeomans & Co.

Arrival of the Remains.

The remains of the late John White, ex-M.P., arrived at the village of Tweed last night and have been conveyed to his late home at Roslin. The funeral will take place on Thursday under the auspices of the Provincial Orange Grand Lodge.

Catarrh—Use Nasal Balm. Quick, positive cure. Soothing, cleansing, healing.

INSTANTLY KILLED.

ONE OF THE SADDEST ACCIDENTS EVER SEEN IN BELLEVILLE.

Wm. Docter's Son Meets his Death in Front of his Father's Door—A Vicious Colt Rears and Falls Upon Him and Crushes Him.

Wm. Docter's eldest son has been home on a visit during the past few weeks, and this afternoon whilst breaking a vicious colt, in front of his father's hotel, the animal reared and fell backwards on the young man, crushing him so badly that he only lived a few moments.

AMUSEMENTS

MARGARET L. SHEPHERD IN "TRIED AS BY FIRE."

The above is the title of a realistic dramatization of Margaret L. Shepherd's romantic life, and will be presented at the Queen's Opera House on Saturday afternoon and evening by that lady in the leading part, supported by a specially engaged and first class company, including the well known English actor, Martin Cleworth, who will also undertake the stage management, his wife, Ada G. Cleworth, Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Brandon, Miss Grace Norton, Dudley Broughton and Geo. Saunders. The entire scenery has been designed and painted by a well known leading English artist, and every attention has also been paid to costume and detail of every kind. In these last particulars there will be representations which, in their originality and beauty, are unique in the history of stagecraft.

To the Hon. Robert Read, Senator of the Dominion of Canada.

Sir:—I have to acknowledge the honor of no less than two personal and public communications received by me through the medium of the Intelligencer. Touched by my narrative of facts which you cannot attempt to deny, you fall back upon the usual resource of a defendant, who has been made to pay an honest debt and you abuse the court and profession that set the wheel of justice moving in the cause of right. I should not have noticed your letters had it not been for your general attack upon an honorable profession, whose existence is justified by such cases as the one which has called forth your recriminating remarks,—a case in which even a Senator of the Dominion has been obliged to pay, at least, part of honestly earned wages to poor men who though only "those French" (to quote from your own evidence) were British enough to know their rights and to dare maintain and enforce them through our instrumentality, after courteous demand made. No doubt your curiosity as to how these 'poor men" (both of whom, by the way, are still my clients, and my tenants, and one of whom is in my employ), were satisfied with the results of the litigation to which they were obliged to have recourse, could be better gratified by consulting themselves, than by indulging in splenetic insinuations, or using such old campaign specimens of your vitriolic vocabulary as "sharks," "scrambling," etc. Modern public men respect their own utterances and see some good in their fellow-men—even in lawyers and magistrates! Do you? As a man of peace, yet fully appreciating a good fighter, and always ready to resent an insult even from a veteran Senator who should know better. I shall regret if this correspondence begun, as I honestly and simply intended, to remove the misapprehension occasioned by an apparently inspired paragraph, should lead to personal feelings which would make you my enemy without at the same time making me

Yours,
W. N. Ponton.

September Examinations.

PINNACLE ST. SCHOOL.

Senior Part 2—Arthur Cousins, Cora Moxam, Sarah Hutchison, Gerald Spafford, Nellie Kaitting, Ethel Ackerman.

Junior Part 2—Florence Burke, Mary Ayers, Morley Taylor, May Smith, Sadie Dubensky, Lena McConnell.—M. Frost, teacher.

Junior 2—Frank Smith, May Payne, Libby Kiser.

Senior 2—Maggie Cousins 262, Frank Wallace 204, Maggie Smith 160.

Junior Third—Harry Clarke, George Moxam, Maud Littlewood.

Senior Third—Pauline Backus 336, Richard Burke 301, Willie Gilbert 297.

A. McRae, Teacher.

CENTRAL SCHOOL.

Senior Second.—Rob. Hay, Evelyn Ellenor, Eddie Bowen, Bessie Naylor, John Marks, Fred Ridley.

Junior Second.—Willie Pratt, Fred Foster, Eva Thompson, Harry Mayo, Clara Phillips, Jessie Garret.—B. Emmons, Teacher.

Senior Second.—Alice Ormond, 532; John Simpson, 494; Alice Adams, 493; Willie Sargent, 464; Cora Reid, 444; Sam Rainbow, 428.

Junior Second.—Claire Hitchen, 446; Lizzie Moore, 442; Elora Gordanier, 436; Stewart Lazier, 434; Harry Tessier, 406; Kate Calhoun, 404.—L. Craig, Teacher.

Junior Third.—Maggie Mathieson, Ida Ridley, Lena Marshall, Warren Bogart, Roy Chown.

Senior Third.—Donnie Roote, Sydna Browne, Maggie Cooke, Leonard Howe, Carrie Jones, Annie Falconer.—M. Fleming, teacher.

Senior Third.—Ethel Ling, 1470; Ned Milburn, 1438; Millie Foster, 1422; Lillie Backus, 1400; May Stratton, 1292; Arthur Parker, 1163

Junior Third.—Marion Calhoun, 724; Maude Fairborn, 640; Mabel Vermilyea, 562; Stanley Carman, 558; Clarrie Brasier, 522; Rose Jackson, 502.

Passed from Junior to Senior Third.—Harold Baker, 577; Elsie Ewen, 544; Florence Moon, 479; Marguerite Perkins, 458; Pearl Zwick, 425; Eugene Hyman, 396; Nettie Roote, 392.—M. A. Northcott, teacher.

Senior Fourth.—Elsie Price, 470; Ross Frost, Ada Greenleaf, 468; Roy Diamond, 463; Florence Tammadge, 457; Eva Phippen, 454; Helen Wallbridge, 445.

Junior Fourth.—Bertha Frost, 430; Ella Hudgins, 427; Rosa George, 403; J. Templeton, 400; Florence Snell, 583; Samual Roberts, 379.—S. A. Gardiner, Teacher.

Senior Fourth.—Arthur Johnson, 341; Maud Phillips, 340; Robert Tennant, 328; Harry McGuire, 322; Essie Dool, 815; Morley Day, 309.

Junior Fourth.—Fred Roy, 275; Harry Finkle, 262; Mabel Row, 259; George Rutledge, 244; Arthur Rodbourn, 240; Emma Hill, 236.—C. Urquhart, Teacher.

—London fruit importers say that many barrels of Canadian apples are much depreciated in value owing to careless packing.

—Three inches of snow fell in northern Minnesota on Sunday night.

—Work has been resumed on a limited scale on the Panama canal.

SOCIAL & PERSONAL

The Intelligencer invites all its readers to contribute to this column. If you or your friends are going away on a holiday trip or if you have friends visiting you, drop a card to this office.

Miss Stella Appleby left yesterday for Buffalo.

Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Retallack were in Kingston yesterday.

Mr. P. O Rourke, barrister, of Trenton, was in the city to-day.

Mr Lionel Parker left for his home in Minneapolis last night.

Mrs. Buck, a sister to Mr. D. B. Robertson, is seriously ill.

Mrs. G. W. McCarthy, of Cleveland, and child, is in the city, the guest of Mr. C. P. Holton.

Miss Annie Swayze left last evening for New York, where she will spend the winter.

Mr. P. Vankleek, of Madoc, Supt. of the County gravel roads and bridges, was in the city to-day.

Miss Nina Markea, of Syracure, N.Y., is on a visit to her aunts, the Misses McGarry, Parker St.

A lot of students left for Kingston yesterday, amongst others Embury, McKeown, Walker, Fraleck.

Mr. and Mrs. Adam Henry, Mrs. Dr. Eakins, and her mother, Mrs. Warner, left to day for New York.

Mrs. W. J. Clokey and daughter, of Toronto, are in the city visiting at Mrs. J. C. Wills' Yeomans street.

Mrs. F. Bresee and two daughters, who have been visiting friends at Lyndhurst, returned home last evening.

Mason J. Clarke, son of Ald. Clarke, is in Toronto attending the Royal College of Dental Surgeons of Ontario.

Dr. J. Gibb Wishart delivered the opening lecture yesterday afternoon at Trinity Medical College, Toronto, yesterday.

Mr. James Macdonald, one of the assistant editors of the Pall Mall Gazette, of London, (Eng.) has arrived in Montreal on his way west.

Mr. F. Abraham, proprietor of the Canadian Horseman, published at Toronto, who has been laid up for some time, left for home this evening.

Hon Mr. Bowell has returned from western Ontario. He will attend the funeral of the late John White, ex-M.P. which takes place at Roslin on Thursday.

Mr. James Stephenson, superintendent of the Grand Trunk Railway, and Mrs. Stephenson, arrived at Montreal from Europe on Saturday. Mr. Stephenson's health is quite restored.

The Queen, who is suffering greatly from rheumatism, has at last confessed to the burden of her growing weight of years by having elevators put in Balmoral and her other palaces.

Mr. John S. Hall, who recently resigned the treasureship of the Province of Quebec, is believed to have finally separated himself from the Cabinet, and will resume the practice of law.

The Governor General and Lady Aberdeen visited St. Mary's church, Winnipeg, yesterday, and an address was presented by the Roman Catholics, but no reference was made to the school question.

Mrs. Geo. H. Pope, who has been in Montreal for some months, is in the city for a few days. She will again return to Montreal until navigation closes, when she and Mr. Pope will come back to this city.

Mr. "Ed." Pope, who has been purser of one of the R. & O. steamers during the summer, returned to the city on Saturday, and left for Kingston yesterday, where he will resume his studies at Queen's College.

Mr. Glenco Hulme, well known in town, has severed his connection with the Woodstock branch of the Bank of Commerce. He leaves on a trip shortly to the west, Mrs. Hulme accompanying him.—Peterborough Review.

Mr. George H. Allen, of the Winnipeg Post Office Department, who has been in the city for some days, the guest of his personal friends Mr. and Mrs. Meacham, leaves for home to-morrow. He has been visiting at Mrs. Wilson's at Glenora, and other points on our historic Bay, and he returns to his western home more convinced than ever of the beauty of our city and its surroundings.

WOMAN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

Annual Meeting of the Bay of Quinte Conference Society at Port Hope.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist church reported to the General Conference a remarkable growth. Its auxiliaries increased in four years from 300 to 537. The membership nearly doubled, and the income more than doubled. The income of the last year was $37,974, and during the twelve years of its existence its receipts were $219,309. In diffusing missionary information and awakening missionary interest the persistent, pious and practical methods of these zealous women deserve the highest praise. They have thirty two women missionaries now in the field. The annual meeting of the Bay of Quinte Conference Society commenced in Port Hope to-day and will be in session to-morrow and Thursday. It is expected that a hundred or more delegates will be present. Mrs. (Dr.) Carman will preside. Mrs. (Rev.) E. N. Baker and Mrs. A. G. Vermilyea are in attendance from Bridge street church. The delegates from Holloway street church are Miss Wilson and Miss M. Galey; from the Tabernacle Mrs. (Rev.) E. Roberts and Mrs. (Rev.) A. C. Maybee.

SERIOUS RUNAWAY.

A Young Man Dangerously Hurt on his Father's Farm.

Yesterday afternoon, while Phillip Badgeley, a farmer of the 3rd concession of Tyendinaga, and one of his sons were loading a waggon with pumpkins, the horses took fright from some unknown cause, and ran away. The young man bravely held on to the reins, and was dashed violently against a gate post. He was taken home as quickly as possible, and medical aid was procured from Melrose. On examination it was found that young Badgley was badly injured, both internally and externally, and the doctor gave but little hope of his recovery.

The waggon was badly smashed and the horses sustained severe injuries.

A Boy Gone Wrong.

Some two weeks ago a horse was stolen from W. E. Hazzard, of Selby. The animal was found in Marmora village in the possession of Hugh Boyd, liveryman. Boyd having bought it from Charles H. Burley. Constable Bouter, of Hastings, returned the horse to Hazzard and brought Burley to Napanee for trial. He pleaded guilty to the charge and was remanded till Saturday next for trial. Burley is a lad of about 17 years of age, and did not seem to realize the crime he had committed. He comes from Havelock and was never known to commit an act of this sort before, is well spoken of by the citizens and comes of a very respectable family.

A Great Snap.

The Oak Hall have struck a great snap on 500 pairs of men's heavy fullcloth pants. Did you ever hear of these at $1 per pair? We think not. But in a few days we can get one pair or fifty at the Oak Hall. This is one of the greatest snaps we have ever struck. Remember, only $1 per pair, and we never advertise nonsense.

HE TOOK HIS OWN LIFE.

MELANCHOLY DEATH OF MR. PARK KETCHUM.

The Owner of the Celebrated Trotting Dog "Doc," Overcome by Business Worries Deliberately Shoots Himself—The Village of Brighton Startled by the Sad Affair—A Victim of the Boom Period in Winnipeg.

The village of Brighton was on Sunday agitated by the saddest tragedy in its history, the suicide of M. Park Ketchum, ex-Reeve a well known and highly respected citizen. The deceased was known throughout Canada as the owner of "Doc" the celebrated trotting dog, and in Brighton, his native town, he was esteemed as one of the most enterprising and public spirited citizens. He was warm hearted and generous, and nearly every citizen grieves for him as for a brother. Mr. Ketchum had suffered much for some time past from despondency, occasioned by worry over business matters, being greatly troubled about property he purchased in Winnipeg during the boom, which was a drain on his income, as he could not sell it to advantage, and the taxes and the expense of keeping it up were a heavy burden. During the last five years he has toured Canada and the United States with his trotting dog "Doc," and MADE A GREAT DEAL OF MONEY.

but his expenses were necessarily heavy, and his savings were not as large as generally estimated. The last venture was as a manufacturer of champange cider in Toronto, and the speculation was not satisfactory. He entered "Doc" at the Toronto Exhibition and scored another victory, after which he succeeded in selling the dog for $500. After the Toronto Fair he returned to his commodious home in Brighton. His melancholy mood was remarked by his friends, who thought, however, his affairs would probably take a turn for the better, and cheer up. The deceased went out on Sunday evening about 7 o'clock, and when he did not return at bedtime his family became alarmed. Thinking perhaps an accident had befallen him, his friends set out to search for him. The search continued all night, but was unsuccessful, and his friends began to think he had taken the train and left the town. Clarence Lockwood, a neighbor, set out about 7 o'clock this morning to milk his cow, and as he passed through his orchard he discovered Mr. Ketchum's body stretched upon the ground with in the right temple. He at once summoned the neighbors and the coroner was sent for. The body when discovered was under a tree lying face downwards. The deceased wore a silk skull cap under his hat. He was dressed as usual and wore a heavy ulster. A carriage rug was wrapped around him and in his hand he clutched the fatal revolver. An empty bottle of laudanum was found near the body. While in a fit of melancholy the deceased had evidently determined to take his life and proceeded with great deliberation. It is thought that after leaving his residence at 7 o'clock he went to Lockwood's orchard and lay down. Wrapping the rug around him, he drank the contents of the laudanum bottle, then placing the revolver upon his right temple, fired, rolled on his left side and expired without a struggle.

A GHASTLY BULLET WOUND.

HE HAD BEEN DEAD FOR HOURS

when found. The deceased was in the 50th year of his age and an old resident of Brighton. He was popular in Brighton and throughout the surrounding country. He was prominent in municipal affairs and took an active interest in the political affairs of the riding, having been an unsuccessful candidate for Parliament in 1891. He was a Freemason and one of the most active members of the local lodge. His wife and two children, a girl and a boy, survive him, and the most heartfelt sympathy is felt for them in their affliction. The deceased, it is said, was heavily insured. Coroner Dean did not deem an inquest necessary, there being no doubt that the deceased took his life while temporarily insane. The funeral took place with Masonic honors this afternoon.

Mr. Ketchum was well known in Belleville, and much respected here.

Died.

Duhaime—At Deseronto, on the 25th Sept., Joseph Ephraim, infant son of Ephraim and Rosie Duhaime, aged 10 months and 6 days.

Marriages.

Detlor,—Haines.—On Oct. 1st, by Rev. R. Marshall at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. J. J. Haines, jr., Belleville, Ont, Edith J., to Mr. W. Sydney Detlor, teller, Merchants Bank, Chatham, Ontario.

Fair,—Johnston.—On Sept. 19th, at the residence of the bride's father, by Rev. W. H. Adams, Mr. Benjamin Hagerman Fair, to Emily Alice, daughter of Mr. Robert Johnston, all of Rawdon.

Brant—Maracle—At Christ Church, Tyendinaga, on Monday the 27th Sept., by the rector, the Rev. G. A. Anderson, M. A., William J. Brant to Mary, fourth daughter of the late David C. Maracle, all of the Reserve.

Irwin—Chapman—At Deseronto on the 26th Sept., by Rev. C. Taylor, Mr. John A. Irwin, merchant, of Campbellford, to Miss Effa Chapman, eldest daughter of Mr. Jeremiah Chapman, of Deseronto.

Lapp—Topliff—At the residence of the bride's father on the 25th Sept., by Rev. S. Shibley, Mr. E. H. Lapp, of Deseronto, to Miss Annie Topliff, daughter of Mr. T. Topliff, of Glenvale, Frontenac county.

Stone—James—At Perth, on the 25th Sept., by Rev. A. H. Scott, Mr. Harry Stone to Miss Hattie James, all of Perth.

The Youngsters Delighted.

The scholars of the Central School were delighted yesterday afternoon to have a call from an amateur photographer who "took them all in" as they stood in line after recess. They were all the more pleased when they found that it was a former pupil of the school who wanted to get some views of "the old playground" its school and surroundings to take home with him to remind him of "Childhood's happy hours." The artist was Mr. W. H. Johnson, of Hamilton, who has the reputation of being a clever amateur photographer and who has been "taking in" a number of citizens and places while on his holidays.

GOOD SPIRITS

follow good health while low spirits, melancholia, impaired memory, morose, or irritable temper, fear of impending calamity and a thousand and one derangements of body and mind, result from pernicious, solitary practices, often indulged in by the young, through ignorance of their ruinous consequences. Nervous debility, and loss of manly power, not infrequently result from such unnatural habits.

To reach, reclaim and restore such unfortunates to health and happiness, is the aim of an association of medical gentlemen, who have prepared a treatise, written in plain but chaste language and treating of the nature, symptoms and curability, by home treatment, of such diseases.

A copy of this useful book will, on receipt of this notice, with 10 cents in stamps, for postage, be mailed securely sealed in a plain envelope. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

Correspondence.

Whilst correspondents will be accorded space for the expression of their ideas on topics of public interest, it must be in all cases understood that the views so expressed are simply those of the correspondents themselves.

To the Editor of the Intelligencer.

Dear Sir—Ever since my earliest years I was always taught to put into practice the command God gave us called the golden rule and with His help I have always practiced it and in no case is it more needed than in the present case. Picking up a daily Ontario the other day I was surprised to read an item called "A Tomato Festival," which was held at the house of Mr. Wickett. Now, Mr. Editor, I happened to be a guest on that evening and they had a nice party assembled for an evening's enjoyment and the refreshments served were not tomatoes but plenty of good coffee and cake and everything passed off pleasantly. In justice to the family I wish to state that there is a strong suspicion who the party is who would try to harm his neighbors by circulating such base lies and cruel insinuations simply because a member of the family occupies a position in one of our large industries (would that there were more of them). He will wish before he gets through with this matter that he had practiced the golden rule better. I understand that the case is to be put in the hands of a private detective and ferreted to the bottom and it is to be hoped that the guilty one will be severely punished by law for circulating such slander of a fellow creature through the press.

It seems strange that whenever there is a case of this kind we never read anything of them through the columns of the Intelligencer. Now, Mr. Editor, I want you to justify this man and his family in the eyes of the people by printing this letter in the columns of your valuable paper and I remain yours,

A Friend of the Family.

Tired, Weak, Nervous,

Means impure blood, and overwork or too much strain on brain and body. The only way to cure is to feed the nerves on pure blood. Thousands of people certify that the best blood purifier, the best nerve tonic and strength builder is Hood's Sarsaparilla. What it has done for others it will also do for you—Hood's Cures.

Hood's Pills cure constipation by restoring peristaltic action of the alimentary canal.

FASHIONABLE
DRESS . .
TRIMMINGS,
AT . . . . .
RITCHIE'S!

We show a splendid assortment of Dress Trimmings in the following popular styles.

Silk Gimps,
Jet Gimps,
Plain Braids,
Fancy Braids,
Beaverettes,
Velvets,
Plain Silks,
Moire Silks,
Fancy Silks,
Pearl Buttons,
Ivory Buttons,
Metal Buttons,
Etc., Etc., Etc.

Also the new Butter Colored
Vandyke Laces &
Lace Collarettes.

GEO. RITCHIE & CO.

Changed Daily.

Tuesday, Oct. 2nd, 1894.

NEW TEAS

NEW . . . .
PRESENTS!

We will be very busy all this week and next, opening up new goods. Our new Teas are also opened and are splendid values. As a sample we recommend our

40c. TEA . . . .

It is a high grade Tea at a fair price. The flavor is there, and also the strength.

STROUD'S
TEA STORE.

Broken in Health

That Tired Feeling, Constipation and Pain in the Back

Appetite and Health Restored by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Mr. Chas. Steele
St. Catherine's, Ont.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"For a number of years I have been troubled with a general tired feeling, shortness of breath, pain in the back, and constipation. I could get only little rest at night on account of the pain and had no appetite whatever. I was that tired in my limbs that I gave out before half the day was gone. I tried a great number of medicines but did not get any permanent relief from any

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

source until, upon recommendation of a friend, I purchased a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, which made me feel better at once. I have continued its use, having taken three bottles, and

I Feel Like a New Man.

I have a good appetite, feel as strong as ever I did, and enjoy perfect rest at night. I have much pleasure in recommending Hood's Sarsaparilla." Charles Steele, with Erie Preserving Co., St. Catherine's, Ontario.

Hood's Pills are prompt and efficient, yet easy in action. Sold by all druggists. 25c.

How to Get a "Sunlight" Picture

Send 25 "Sunlight" soap wrappers (wrapper bearing the words "Why does a woman look old sooner than a man") to Lever Bros., Ltd., 43 Scott St., Toronto, and you will receive by post a pretty picture, free from advertising, and well worth framing. This is an easy way to decorate your home. The soap is the best in the market, and it will only cost 1c. postage to send in the wrappers, if you leave the ends open. Write your address carefully.

NEW . .
GOODS
—AT—
FISH'S.

New Neckwear, the very latest, the colorings are entirely new, shapes very nobby, and prices very low.

New underwear, in all weights, all kinds, all prices, all sizes and cheaper than ever.

New half hose in cashmere, merino. Scotch lamb's wool and hand knitted. Our 25c socks are great value.

See our new pink and blue shirts, our own make, the very latest.

A. E. FISH & CO.
The Noted Shirt Makers of Belleville.

RIBBONS!

We have an extra large stock of Ribbons on hand in all the light and fancy shades including

BABY RIBBONS,
SILK " "
SATIN " "
MOIRE " "
ETC., – ETC.

Our prices are the lowest, and we will be pleased to have you give us a call whenever wanting Ribbons.

SILK ELASTICS . . . .

We have a splendid stock of Fancy Silk Elastic, made in Yellow, Blue, Green, Orange, Cardinal, Black, Pink, Mauve, White. All one price, 25c yard, at

THE BEEHIVE
CHAS. N. SULMAN

MORE ROOM WANTED!
- - AT THE - -
. . . LEADING BARGAIN HOUSE!

Daily the reminder comes to us that we're crowded for room. New Goods keep coming in upon us. We must make room by quickly reducing stocks. Reducing prices will do it.

A CHOICE STOCK . . . .
. . . . Bargains everywhere.

For reasons best known to themselves, some manufacturers offered us strong inducements to buy sundry lines of Dress Goods, Hosiery and Underwear.

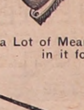

The Millinery Department fairly sparkles with Novelties, and the prices are to say the least very tempting.

H. A. LAYTON, BELLEVILLE.
Front St., Opposite Campbell St.

WALL-PAPER!

SEE THAT?

CLEANLINESS!
HEALTH!
ECONOMY!
HAPPINESS!
FURNISHING!
CHARACTER!
ART!
Common Sense

There's a Lot of Meaning in it for You!!

There's an array that is hard to beat!
Could you ask more? Here it is

A Discount of 10 per cent. for 30 days.

Test our Ability to Advise on Interior Decorations.

C. B. SCANTLEBURY.

ESTABLISHED 1870.

Greenland Seal Driving Capes 24 Inches Long $12.00

Wool Seal Empire Capes 26 Inches Long $18.00

Persian Lamb Jackets made to order from $60.00 up, according to length and quality. Seal Jackets made to order, $125.00 up, according to length and quality. Thousand of dollars worth of Skins to pick from.

S. A. HYMAN.
Manufacturing Furrier.

P.S.—Old Furs cleaned, dyed and made over in latest styles.

IT - HAS - BEEN - ADMITTED

BY OVER 125 PEOPLE IN BELLEVILLE THAT THE

John Bull Wrought Steel Range,

Is the most Economical, Everlasting and Useful Range on the market. How is this for three Seasons.

SEE THEM AT FOSTER'S.

Also the Duchess of Oxford Cast Iron Range.

His Dyspepsia Cured.

MR. GEO. READ.

Dear Sirs—
I write you to say that for some time I had been suffering from acute indigestion or dyspepsia, and of course felt very great inconvenience from same in my general business. I thereupon decided to try Burdock Blood Bitters, and after taking two bottles I found I was quite another man, for

B. B. B. CURED ME.

I have also used it for my wife and family, and have found it the best thing they can take, and from past experience I have every pleasure in strongly recommending B. B. B to all my friends.

I write you because I think that it should be generally known what B.B.B. can accomplish in cases of indigestion.

GEORGE READ, Sherbrooke, Que.

HAMILTON,
TORONTO AND MONTREAL.

Via Bay or Quinte, Calling at all Ports weekly.

THE FAVORITE STEAMER

"MAGNET"

Leaves St. Catharines Tuesday 9 a. m. for Montreal " 4 p. m.
Leaves Belleville for Toronto } Wednesday 7:30 a m
Leaves Belleville for Toronto } Sunday 8 p. m.
First Class Passenger Accommodation, Large Freight Capacity. Lowest Rates For Tickets, Rates, &c., Apply to the RATHBUN COMPANY, Agents, or to
CAPT. J. J. TOWERS, Superintendent, No. 2 King st., Toronto.
C. F. GILDERSLEEVE, General Manager, 288 St. Paul st., Montreal.

ROCHESTER,
KINGSTON AND MONTREAL.

Weekly Service Calling at Way Ports
THE PRINCE'S FAVORITE STEAMER.

"ALEXANDRIA"

Leaves Montreal, Thursday at 10:00 a. m.
Arrives Belleville, Saturday at 11:45 a. m.
Leaves for Rochester " " 1:15 p. m.
Arrives from Rochester, Monday at 6:30 a m.
Leaves for Montreal, " " 7:30 a m.
Spacious and elegant Saloon. Ample Stateroom accommodation The choicest and best Meals furnished. Safety, comfort and enjoyment ensured by personal supervision of Capt. Smith and Purser Melrose. Careful handling of freight.
For Tickets, State rooms at lowest rates apply to
THE RATHBUN COMPANY, Agents.

Bay of Quinte Steambt Route
TRI-WEEKLY
DESER'TO, PICTON & KINGSTON
1894 - 1894

STR. "HERO"

THIS favorite steamer is now lighted by electricity and will have a strong search light for excursion business and the boat is heated by steam.
Commencing Monday, April 9th, will leave Belleville Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 8 a. m, returning Tuesday, Thursday and Friday at 11 p.m.
The very best facilities are offered to shippers of freight. The lowest through and local rates quoted.
No wharfage at Picton on freight for this steamer.
Full information given by Gilbert Johnston on board, or to the
RATHBUN COMY,
H. GILDERSLEEVE, Ticket Agent, Kingston.

ROCHESTER.
STEAMER

NORTH KING.

Leaves for Charlotte, N. Y., every Sunday, 11:45 p.m.
Leaves for Picton and Kingston every Sunday, 8:30 a. m.
Arrive from Picton and Kingston every Sunday, 11:45 p m.
Arrives from Charlotte, N. Y., every Sunday, 3:30 a. m.
Special attention given to passengers and freight
WEEK DAYS.—Steamer leaves Port Hope week days for Charlotte, N. Y., at 9:45 a.m.
Calls at Brighton Monday 3 a.m., and Wednesday 2:30 a.m., and at Colborne Wednesday and Fridays 4 a.m.
Connection made by Grand Trunk morning trains.
THE RATHBUN CO., U. E. THOMPSON, 69tf Agents. Agent.

Steamer "Iona"

Will eave Belleville three times each week for Oswego, connecting with trains for New York.

INSURANCE.

Western Assurance Company,
Fire and Ma ine Head Office, Toronto.
North British & Mercantile Ins. Co.,
Fire and Life, Head Office (Usa) Montreal
Atlas Insurance Company,
Fire Head Office (Canada), Montreal
M. M. THOMPSON
Water Ward Office, Bridge St.

Daily Intelligencer.

At Death's Door—Dyspepsia Conquered —A Great Medical Triumph.

GENTLEMEN,—My medical adviser and others told me I could not possibly live when I commenced to use Northrop & Lyman's VEGETABLE DISCOVERY for Dyspepsia. My case was one of the worst of its kind. For three years I could not eat meat and my weight decreased from 219 to 119 lbs. All the food I took for thirteen months previous to taking the VEGETABLE DISCOVERY consisted of milk. I am now entirely cured and have regained my usual weight, can eat anything with a keen relish and feel like a new man. I have sold over thirty dozen VEGETABLE DISCOVERY since it cured me, as I am well known, and people in this section know how low I was, and thought I could not possibly be cured. They are eager to try the grand medicine. It certainly saved my life, as I never expected to recover when first I commenced using it. I am not exaggerating anything but feel glad to be able to contribute this testimonial and trust it may be the means of convincing others of its merit; as a certain cure for Dyspepsia.

Signed, JEAN VALCOURT,
Wolton, P. Q.

In 1888 the people of Great Britain paid taxes on 492 200 carriages.

Is there anything more annoying than having your corn s'epped upon? Is there anything more delightful than getting rid of it? Holloway's Corn Cure will do it. Try it and be convinced.

In Portugal the tobacco tax brings £900,000, the land tax £700,000.

Some people laugh to show their pretty teeth. The use of Ivory White Tooth Powder makes people laugh more than ever. It's so nice. Price 25c. Sold by druggists.

Worms cause feverishness, moaning and restlessness during s'eep. Mother Gra es' Worm Exterminator is pleasant, sure and effectual. If your druggist has none in stock, get him to procure it for you.

The rate of taxation has nearly quadrupled in France since 1830.

DYSPEPSIA causes dizziness, headache, constipation, variable appetite, rising and souring of food, palpitation of the heart, distress after eating. Burdock Blood Bitters is guaranteed to cure Dyspepsia if faithfully used according to directions.

Until about forty years ago, the Persian Government levied a tax on cats.

MR. T. J. HOBBS, Columbus, Ohio, writes: 'I have been afflicted for some time with kidney and Liver Complaint, and find Parmelee's Pills the best to relieve and cure these diseases. These Pills do not cause pain or griping, and should be used when a cathartic is required. They are Gristine Coat d, and rolled in the Powder of Licorice to preserve their purity and give them a pleasant, agreeable taste.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP cures Bronchitis.

FOR CHOLERA MORBUS, Cholera Infantum Cramps, Colic, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, and Summer Complaint Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is a prompt, safe and sure cure that has been a popular favorite for over 40 years.

STEAMER VARUNA

A. HICKS, Captain.

WILL leave Trenton every morning, (Sunday excepted) at 7:00 o'clock, calling at Redeerville and all points between the head of the bay and Picton, leaving Belleville at 8:30 a.m., Deseronto at 10:30 a.m.
On Tuesday and Thursday evenings to meet North King at Brighton, returning will leave Brighton Wednesday and Saturday mornings at 5:30.
Will connect at Picton with stage for Baud Banks.
Parties wishing to arrange for excursion rates will see Capt. Hicks on board
W. ll leave Picton at 1 p.m. on return for the head of the bay, Deseronto 2:30 p.m., Belleville, at 4:30 p. m., and Trenton at 5.
Omnibuses in waiting at Picton, Belleville and Brighton.
The Rathbun Co., Agents, Belleville and Deseronto.
A. W. Hepburn, Agent, P ton.

ALLAN LINE
Royal Mail Steamships, Liverpool, Calling at Moville.

	From Montreal Daylight.	From Quebec 9 a. m.
PARISIAN.....	Sept. 1	Sept. 2
MONGOLIAN.....	Sept. 8	Sept 9
*LAURENTIAN.....	Sept. 15	not calling
SARDINIAN.....	Sept. 22	Sept. 23
NUMIDIAN.....	Sept. 29	not calling
PARISIAN.....	Oct. 6	Oct. 7

RATES OF PASSAGE,
First Cabin, Derry and Liverpool, $45 and upwards, single; $95 and upwards return. Second Cabin, Liverpool, Derry, Belfast, Glasgow, $30; return $55. Steerage at lowest rates (everything found).
*Carries cabin only.

STATE LINE SERVICE.
NEW YORK, LONDONDERRY AND GLASGOW

STATE OF CALIFORNIA.....Aug. 31
STATE OF NEBRASKA.....Sept. 14
STATE OF CALIFORNIA.....Sept. 28

Cabin passage $40 and upward, return $80 and upward; Second Cabin, $30, Steerage at lowest rates.
For tickets and every information apply to U. E. THOMPSON, General Ticket Agency, Bridge St., Belleville. or to R. BURROWS, Agent

FINE CLASS
Underwear
ALL GRADES.
STOCK - IS - ALL - NEW
— AT —
GEO. P. MINAKER'S.
Opposite Tickell & Son's.

SPORT.
Lacrosse Sticks,
Foot Balls,
Tennis Goods,
Croquet, etc.,
Base Ball Supplies.
Also, Wall Paper,
Window Shades,
Hammocks,
Fans,
Purses,
Albums, Bibles and Novels.
—AT—
Overell's Book Store.
Next to Glasgow Warehouse.

THE KISS OF GOLD.

By KATE JORDAN.

[Copyright, 1893, by J. B. Lippincott Company and published by special arrangement with them.]

CHAPTER VII.

Dawn, a monotone in level gray, hung over the town ere Tom with the last of the revelers left Glendennice's.

"Ugh! how cold it is. My blood is thin at this unearthly hour," said Delatole, lighting a cigarette as they paused to separate at Madison square. "I've often thought if I ever do assist my own departure from this perpetual dressing and undressing it will be in this gray stillness, when one seems to feel the pulse of the world. Will you be on the stage tonight?"

"Yes, but suppose—now, suppose you dine with me," said Tom, with a hazy recollection of the manager's advice.

His speech was thick and wavering. Delatole's head seemed spinning round like a top. The trees in the square were certainly dancing a minuet.

"Charmed. And now go home, Murray, and go to bed. Not used to wine, are you? You might forget my address, and I'll put my card in your pocket—there. Come down at 4 and have a smoke in my den. Not such a fine place as Glendenning's, but cozy, you'll find."

When Tom reached Chelsea square, the sparrows were chattering as if mad. Their shrill clamor and his own unsteady footfalls made the surrounding silence seem more dense. The college buildings, like great gray watchers, frowned upon him from behind a blue haze, trembling and mysterious.

He had walked down the street only the preceding evening on his way to the theater, and yet in a bewildered, hazy fashion he felt that between that hour and this there had come a rent in his moral fiber, like a narrow cleft in a riven rock.

A blinding pain stung his tired eyes. There was a burning in his chest. The thought of reaching his room unseen and letting slumber blot out the medley of impressions besieging him was so seductive he quickened his steps.

How the sparrows kept chattering among the denuded boughs!

"Here he comes," they seemed to chirp rapidly. "Look! look! Here he comes. Oh, see! oh, see! Here he comes. Here he comes."

Was there an accusing note in their shrill chorus? Or did he from an unexplained sense of guilt only fancy it?

He stole like a thief through the deserted halls. When he had locked the door of his room, he threw himself half disrobed upon the bed and sank into a feverish, broken sleep. It was a sleep of drams. He was again in Glendenning's house, filling his senses with a surfeit of the delicious coloring, the evasive fragrance, wandering among the treasures gathered from mosques and throne-rooms, the rugs everywhere changefully glowing like huge chameleon skins, the armor looming with feudal significance in shadow.

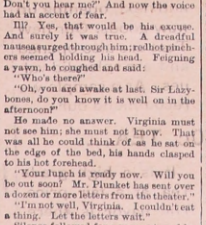

The memory floated back to a blur of wine and smoke; the soft bite of the champagne was again in his throat, its delicate fire mounting to his brain and shedding over it a confusion soft and witchlike. Nor did he forget the jesting slings at things he had hitherto viewed as sacred, nor the laughter that turned virtue to ridicule. They were recalled with the same genial palliation that had marked his acceptance of them.

The rosy light, the crowd where women fluttered like bright-hued butterflies, the evidences of reckless wealth on every hand, the complete absence of all restraint, had captured him, and in a mental saturnalia he heard the toasts and saw the money changing hands at cards, the refrains of songs that shook the windows and the dances that called forth screaming cheers. As half wakeful he tossed upon his bed his memory reveled in every detail of this new phase of life—a wildly joyous thing, holding no thought of the morrow, only the delight of the dear, the living moment.

A faint tapping sounded through the nebulæ. At first it seemed that Glendenning was knocking on the table for silence. No, it was rain beating on the window. But as it sounded still clearer and woke him to full consciousness he opened his heavy eyes and listened. Some one was gently knocking at his door.

"Tom," came softly to him, "there are letters for you."

Virginia's voice! He started up, leaned his head on his hands, but kept silence. The gay delirium of his dream departed, and he felt sick at heart. He seemed strange to himself. The room was strange. Only Virginia outside the door calling to him was fearfully real.

Virginia outside the door calling to him.

If she should see him, she would know —she might even guess from his voice—that he was drunk.

He could not finish the thought.

"Tom, it's 2 o'clock. Are you ill? Don't you hear me?" And now the voice had an accent of fear.

Ill? Yes, that would be his excuse. And surely it was true. A dreadful nausea surged through him; redhot pincers seemed holding his head. Feigning a yawn, he coughed and said:

"Who's there?"

"Oh, you are awake at last. Sir Lazybones, do you know it is well on in the afternoon?"

He made no answer. Virginia must not see him; she must not know. That was all he could think of as he sat on the edge of the bed, his hands clasped to his hot forehead.

"Your lunch is ready now. Will you be out soon? Mr. Plunket has sent over a dozen or more letters from the theater."

"I'm not well, Virginia. I couldn't eat a thing. Let the letters wait."

Silence followed for a moment, and he could fancy the undeserved pity in her sweet eyes.

"Isn't there something I can do to help you? Isn't there something that would tempt you to eat? I must go out, but I'd like to leave you comfortable first."

"Nothing, thank you. My head is achin: that's all. A little quiet, and I'll be all right. You mustn't wait in on my account."

"You've worked too hard, Tom," came the delicious voice with tender severity. "The strain is telling now. No wonder your head aches, you poor fellow. I'm sorry I called you. I'll leave lunch ready for you." And she added with determination, "Now do try and eat a little by and by."

She gave a short sigh as she turned away, and Tom felt himself a monster of deceit. He remained quite still, with blood pounding and something very like self contempt flowered in his heart. In one wild night he had become better acquainted with himself and the dark possibilities of his nature than in all the peaceful years gone by.

Weak! That was the word an elfin voice seemed whispering in his ear. Brilliant, impetuous, gentlemanly, with aspiring motives, but weak, vacillating as water dimpling in new circles with every pebble thrown.

(To be Continued.)

CONDUCTORS IN TROUBLE.

Two More Arrested in Toronto—Sensation in Railway Circles.

TORONTO, Oct. 2.—Fred Tamblin, 26 Sullivan street, and Samuel Defries, 220 Bellevieu avenue, are in custody at police headquarters. They are both Grand Trunk railway conductors, and are charged with defrauding the railway by taking fares that no returns were made of, and also with conspiring to defraud the company.

The arrests were made by Detective Flynn, of Montreal, and they are but the sequel to the similar arrests that were made in Montreal on Saturday.

It is said that there will be more railway men in custody before many hours have passed.

Both of the men arrested are old employes of the railway and have been for many years passenger conductors. Defries is one of the oldest and best known conductors in the service. He is also well known all over the city. He is a prominent Orangeman and is a brother of the Defries who was shot in the Fenian raid.

MONTREAL, Oct. 2.—A great sensation has been produced in Grand Trunk circles by the arrest of the two conductors. It was stated yesterday on good authority that more arrests were to follow.

The action of the company in seeking the intervention of the Attorney-General instead of going on record as private prosecutor is variously commented on. It is said that the reason for this action lay in the possibility of appeal, in which case the company would not be liable for a counter action for damages for false arrest.

It is the habit of the Grand Trunk to keep a conductor on the same route for many years. The public thus get to know the man by sight and name, and it is contended that this familiarity is unfriendly to honesty. If the system were such as it is in England, where the guard is changed during the journey, and no one knows what man will be put on, the conductor would be less exposed to temptation. The conductor, it is said, should not know his train till the latter was ready to start. This would prevent any man being approached by the class of men who still make a boast that they never pay full fare on the Grand Trunk.

A Young Englishman's Good Luck.

MONTREAL, Oct. 2.—William Atwater, an Englishman who has only been in this country a few weeks, received a letter yesterday announcing that he had fallen heir to £200,000. The letter gives full particulars of the death of his mother's uncle in Switzerland. Atwater's life has been a hard one since coming to this city. Two weeks ago he had not a cent in the world, and while asking for a small loan was advised to go to the Bewery Mission, where he had two meals and a bed there and left on the following day. Poverty stared him in the face at every turn. No matter where he went, it was impossible to get work. On Friday night he sought refuge at the Salvation Lassie house, and in the morning, after feeding on some bread and water, walked with weary steps to the post-office, where he received the welcome letter. Atwater will leave for England this week.

A Blaze at Collingwood.

COLLINGWOOD, Ont., Oct. 1.—There was a big blaze here yesterday. Fire started in one of the lumber sheds of D. G. Cooper, mill owner, and before it could be controlled, it spread to the sawmill and lumber sheds on the opposite side, and to the store of the Bryan Manufacturing Co. on the other. The latter firm had a large quantity of dry mouldings and manufactured wood work in their store house and the fire made short work of it. The loss will exceed $7,000. Mr. Cooper's loss on lumber and shingles will be about $5,000 which is fairly covered by insurance. The Bryan Manufacturing Company's loss will foot up over $2,000. No insurance.

Deseronto Navigation Company (Limited

Steamer Ella Ross.

This fast sailing and comfortable steamer leaves Belleville for Trenton daily (Sunday excepted), at 10 a.m. Leaves Belleville for Deseronto and Picton at 3 p.m., connecting at Deseronto with steamers for Napanee and Oswego. Lowest freight and passenger rates. For further information apply to the Rathbun Co., Bridge street, or to R. C. Carter, General Manager, Deseronto.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP cures Coughs.

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry cures Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cramps, Colic, Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum, and all looseness of the bowels. Never travel without it. Price 35c.

In parts of Peru taxes are paid in cocoa leaves and Peruvian barks.

For coughs, colds, bronchitis and all lung and throat troubles, there is no preparation of medicine can compare with Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup. It never fails to afford prompt and pertinent relief. It removes all soreness, and heals the diseased parts. It immediately soothes the most troublesome cough, and by promoting expectoration, removes the mucus which stops up the tube: which causes difficulty in breathing, thereby gives relief to that depressing tight most experienced in the chest. Public speakers and singers will find Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup of inestimable value, as it speedily and effectually allays all irritation, and lubricates in the throat and bronchial tubes, and gives power to the vocal cords, rendering the voice clear and sonorous. If parents will but save the lives of their children, and themselves from much anxiety trouble and expense let them procure a bottle of Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup, and whenever a child has taken cold, has a cough or hoarseness, give the Syrup according to directions.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP heals the lungs.

A stinted wife can find a vest pocket in the dark.

Ample warning is given us by our lungs when they are in danger. If foolhardy enough to neglect the warning signal, we incur imminent peril. Check a cough at the outset with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil—which is a sovereign pulmonic—besides being a remedy for soreness, lameness, abrasions of the skin, tumors, piles, rheumatism, etc.

BURDOCK PILLS, small, safe, and sure, regulate the liver and cure constipation.

Robert Lubbock, Cedar Rapids, writes: "I have used Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil both for myself and family for Diptheria with the very best results. I regard it as the best remedy for this disease, and would use no other.

Holland is the only country in Europe that admits coffee free of duty.

DYSPEPSIA arises from wrong action of stomach, liver and bowels. Burdock Blood Bitters cures Dyspepsia and all diseases arising from is, 99 times in 100.

SUNLIGHT SOAP

Has proved by its enormous sale that it is

The best value for the Consumer

of any soap in the market.

Millions of women throughout the world can vouch for this, as it is they who have proved its value. It brings them less labor, greater comfort.

EVERY LADY WHO WANTS
UNDERWEAR

and understands what pure wool is and appreciates exquisite finish buys the

"HEALTH BRAND,"

both for herself or children. These goods are made in Vests, Drawers, Tights and Combinations, and are kept by every first-class dry goods store.

THE MONTREAL SILK MILLS COMPANY, Ltd., MONTREAL.

Severe Pain in Shoulder 2 Years
Cured by "The D.&L." Menthol Plaster.

My wife was afflicted for two years with a severe pain under the left shoulder and through to the back; after using many remedies without relief, she tried a "D.&L." Menthol Plaster, it did us work, and owing to this cure hundreds of these plasters have been sold by me here, giving equal satisfaction.

J. R. SUTHERLAND Druggist, River John, N.S.

Sold Everywhere, 25c. each.

NATHAN JONES,
IMPORTERS.

We have opened up the most varied and attractive stock of

FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC DRESS GOODS ALSO DRESS TRIMMINGS.

Miss s Mounder and Gardner are giving satisfaction in dress and mantle making.

Why Don't You Stop?

And think seriously of the benefits it would be to you to take out a Policy with the

ONTARIO MUTUAL LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY.

Their 20 years Survivorship Distribution Plan embraces both

PROTECTION and INVESTMENT,

And you can go about your business without worry as to the future.

S. BURROWS

Can give you facts and figures. Ask him ! !

THE - FALL - RAINS
ARE WITH US.

YOUR HOUSE WANTS A NEW ROOF—

WE HAVE THE SHINGLES.

In all grades, at lowest prices. Ask for quotations and see

XX. XXX. Clear Butts

THE RATHBUN COMPANY.

TO THE PUBLIC.

When we decided to add the manufacture of carriages, phaetons, demorats, &c., to our business, we immediately put under construction a few of each. As we decided to place no vehicle on the market which is not A 1 in every detail, and knowing that no first-class vehicle can be produced on the rush, it has been necessary for us to take sufficient time to produce what we aimed at. We think we have succeeded: and we now have a few rigs completed, and others nearing completion to offer for sale. The iron work is all hand forged; the wood work carefully made, and strongly ironed; and the painting and upholstering done with the best material and greatest care. We can freely recommend these rigs. We will be pleased to have parties who may need anything in the above line, call and inspect our work.

ST. CHARLES & PRINGLE.

JAS ST CHARLES. HENRY PRINGLE

The Sale of Boots and Shoes:

Slightly damaged by Smoke and Water will continue until everything is sold.

HAINES & LOCKETT

Opposite Anglo-American Hotel

Belleville and Napanee, Office, Bridge St. Telephone A. 4.
COAL — AND — WOOD.
THOS. STEWART,

The only dealer in Scranton Coal in Belleville and Napanee. The very best facilities for delivering to any part of the city or surrounding towns this coal, which is the best and cheapest mined.

No Gas. No Clinkers. No Waste

Clean, quick, hot, strong, cheerful fire. Smithing, Cannell, Brier Hill, Run of Mine coal and Coal Screenings always on hand. Hard and soft wood, Blocks and Edgings delivered to any part of the City.

DR. WOOD'S
Norway Pine Syrup.

Rich in the lung-healing virtues of the Pine combined with the soothing and expectorant properties of other pectoral herbs and barks.

A PERFECT CURE FOR
COUGHS AND COLDS
Hoarseness, Asthma, Bronchitis, Sore Throat, Croup and all THROAT, BRONCHIAL and LUNG DISEASES. Obstinate coughs that resist other remedies yield promptly to this pleasant syrup.
PRICE 25c. AND 50c. PER BOTTLE.

D'FOWLER'S EXT. OF WILD STRAWBERRY
CURES
COLIC
CHOLERA
CHOLERA-MORBUS
DIARRHŒA
DYSENTERY
AND ALL
SUMMER COMPLAINTS
OF
CHILDREN or ADULTS
Price 35 CTS
BEWARE OF IMITATIONS

Camping Supplies!
AND
Picnic - Requisites!

Our list of articles suitable for Picnic Lunches and Camping includes:

Canned Meats.

ARMOUR'S COOKED BEEF,
ARMOUR'S OX TONGUES,
ARMOUR'S LUNCHEON TONGUES,
ARMOUR'S POTTED HAM,
ARMOUR'S COOKED PIG FEET
ARMOUR'S LUNCHEON MEAT.
ARMOUR'S POTTED TONGUE
ARMOUR'S BRAWN,
SANDWICH MEATS,
BONELESS CHICKEN,
BONELESS TURKEY,
POTTED BEEF,
POTTED GAME,
ETC.! ETC.!! ETC!

Canned Fish.

FINEST SARDINES IN OIL,
FINEST SARDINES IN TOMATO,
HERRINGS IN TOMATO SAUCE,
KIPPERED HERRINGS,
FRESH HERRINGS,
SALMON, LOBSTERS,
FINNAN HADDIES,
BLOATER PASTE,
ANCHOVY PASTE,
SARDINE PASTE,
ETC.! ETC.! ETC.!!!

Sundries.

Condensed Milk in Tins, Cream in Tins, Biscuits (in great variety), Fine old Cheese, McLaren's Imperial Cheese (in small crocks), Dried Beef, Choice Hams and Bacon, Lime Juice, Spanish Olives, CROSSE & BLACKWELL'S Pickled White Onions, Walnuts. Chow Chow, and and Mixed Pickles.

WALLBRIDGE & CLARKE,
Grocers and Wine Merchants,
33 and 37 Bridge Street. Also Front Street, in Caldwell Building.

REMOVAL

MR. JOSEPH CALDWELL, DENTIST

Has removed his office to the new premises which he has had specially fitted up in the

Caldwell Block,

First door south of the Anglo-American Hotel Front street. 1084

THE INTELLIGENCER PRINTING AND PUBLISHING COMPANY (LIMITED).

J. O. JAMIESON, President. | J. W. LONDON, Secretary

THE Treasurer is the only person authorized to receive money from the Company, or to grant receipts for the same.

All Bills, Notes, Cheques and other documents binding on the Company, will require the signature of the President, in addition to th of the Treasurer.

THE INTELLIGENCE is printed and published by the INTELLIGENCER Printing and Publishing Company (Limited) by James O. Jamieson, resident in Belleville, at the Office, Front St., south of Metal St.

The Daily Intelligencer.

LET THERE BE HARMONY IN THINGS ESSENTIAL—LIBERALITY IN THINGS NOT ESSENTIAL—CHARITY IN ALL.

VOL. 28. BELLEVILLE ONTARIO WEDNESDAY OCTOBER 3 1894 NO 129

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

MEDICAL.

DR WISHART.

47 GROSVENOR ST., Toronto, will be at the Huffman House, Belleville, Saturday, Sept, 1st, '94. 192dwly

DR. QUACKENBUSH, M.D., U.M.D., M.D., P.S.O.

HOMŒOPATHIC Physician, Surgeon and Accoucheur, has removed his office over store lately occupied by J. C. Overell, Residence George St., opposite H. Corby's.

JOHN J. FARLEY, M. D., C. M., M. R. C. S. England.

OFFICE and Residence—corner of Bridge and George Streets—three streets east of Post Office.

LEGAL.

FLINT & McCAMON.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public, etc. Solicitors for the Canadian Bank of Commerce. Office, City Hall, Front Street, Belleville, Ont. d84tf
JOHN J. B. FLINT, W. J. McCAMON.

STEWART MASSON.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, Notary, Conveyancer, etc. Office, South side Bridge st., over Wallbridge & Clark's, Belleville, Ont, Money to loan at lowest rates. 76dwtf

J. F. WILLS' LAW OFFICE.

REMOVED to Campbell Street (south side) 2nd door from Front Street, on ground floor.

MIKEL & ROBERTS.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notary Public, Conveyancers, etc. Offices Bridge St., Belleville. Monies to loan at lowest rate.

THOMAS & HALLIWELL.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Conveyancers, &c. Money to loan. 293d3mwly
J. PARKER THOMAS, J. EARL HALLIWELL.

PONTON & MORDEN,

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public, Conveyancers. Office over Express and Telegraph Office, Bridge St., Belleville. Money to loan—private funds.
WM. N. PONTON, M. A., Solicitor Hastings Loan and Investment Society.
W. S. MORDEN, B.A.

E. GUSS PORTER.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, Notary Public, etc. Office in the Robertson Block, east side of Front Street.
Private Money to Loan, 271dwly

FRANCIS S. WALLBRIDGE.

(Successor to Hon. Lewis Wallbridge, Q.C.) BARRISTER, Solicitor, Conveyancer, etc. Office, McAnnany building, corner Front and Bridge streets, Belleville, Ont. Private and Company money to loan at 6 per cent., on easy terms upon good land security. Charges moderate.

A. GOODRICH.

LAWYER, 124 Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill., 28 years' experience; secrecy; special facilities in several States; Goodrich on Divorce; with laws of all States in press. 76d1y

GEO. A. KINGSTON.

BARRISTER Solicitor, etc., with Lount, Marsh and Cameron, 25 Toronto St., Toronto. Money to loan on farm property at lowest rates. 233dtf9w.

MISCELLANEOUS.

AGENTCY of the Liverpool and London and Globe Fire and Life Insurance Companies.
W. P. HUDSON, Agent.
Office Campbell street, Belleville. d,w

HENRY CARRE, C. E.
M.C. Soc C.E.,
DOMINION AND PROVINCIAL LAND SURVEYOR.

Special attention paid to Hydraulics and Land Drainage. Patents obtained and Drawings made. Office—McAnnany Block, under Ontario Business College, Front St. P.O. address—Box 203, Belleville.

A. G. NORTHRUP.

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Shire Hall, Belleville. 226d&wly

D. I. DULMAGE, L.D.S., D.D.S. (Tor. University).

DENTIST—Office over Brignall & Thompson's. Night calls at residence on Forin Street. d,w

CHAS. JOSE.

VETERINARY Surgeon, Graduate Ontario Veterinary College, Member Ontario Veterinary Society. Office and residence, Foxboro, Ont. Calls by mail or telegram promptly attended to. 304d,wly

TO LET.

TO LET 2 snug, warm brick houses in terrace, situated on Harriett St., West Belleville, known as Morten's, or Filliter's terrace. For terms of rent apply to R. C. Filliter, collector, or sub agent to the estate of the late H. E. Filliter. Residence at Mr. Jardin's Corner of William and Dundas Sts., East Belleville. 85d2m

12 Hours Saved.

— ON AND AFTER —

MONDAY, SEPT. 3RD, '94,

— THE —

CANADIAN PACIFIC RY.

—EXPRESS FOR—

Winnipeg & the Pacific Coast

(Via NORTH BAY,)

Will leave Toronto at 12:30 p. m., noon.

S. BURROWS,
C.P.R. Agent,
Belleville.

ALBERT - COLLEGE
MUSICAL DEPARTMENT.

MR. W. H. DINGLE, Principal.
MR. C. M. TRIPP, MISS MARIETTA WILSON, Assistants.

The next term begins Sept 5th.
Instruction at home if desired.
A graded course of instruction, all under the supervision of the Principal.
TERMS,—$6, $8, $12, according to grade. 20 half hour lessons.
Apply at once to either DR. W. P. DYER, or MR. W. H. DINGLE. 104d&w1m

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE

is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.
CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold everywhere, or sent by mail.
CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York.
Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

Charles H. Hutchings.

Sick Headache
CURED PERMANENTLY
BY TAKING
Ayer's Pills

"I was troubled a long time with sick headache. I tried a good many remedies recommended for this complaint; but it was not until I

Began taking Ayer's Pills

that I received permanent benefit. A single box of these pills freed me from headaches, and I am now a well man." —C. H. HUTCHINGS, East Auburn, Me.

Awarded Medal at World's Fair

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the Best.

ACETOCURA
TOUCHES THE SPOT IN NEURALGIA.

ACETOCURA
TOUCHES THE SPOT IN NEURALGIA

Mr. A. Weir, Kew Beach, September 7th, 1894, writes:—"Since then I have used it for neuralgic pains in the head, with immediate relief."

ACETOCURA
TOUCHES THE SPOT IN PARALYSIS.

ACETOCURA
TOUCHES THE SPOT IN PARALYSIS

ACETOCURA
TOUCHES THE SPOT IN PARALYSIS

Mrs. B. M. Hall, Fernwood, Ill, U.S.A., August 15th, 1894, writes:—"I am 61 years old. For two years I had been afflicted with partial paralysis of the lower limbs, rendering me unable to walk a block without complete exhaustion. After using Acetocura for five days the pain had entirely disappeared, permitting me to enjoy a good night's rest, and after ten day's treatment I was able to walk two miles without fatigue."

Write for gratis pamphlet to COUTTS & Sons, 72 Victoria street, Toronto. Head offices—London, Glasgow and Manchester, (G.B.) Cologne, Germany, Aaron, Switzerland.

Local Agents—
L. W. YEOMANS & CO.,
DRUGGISTS,
BELLEVILLE.

PREPARE
FOR the STRUGGLE

The course of study offered by the Belleville business College gives a young person a thorough and practical knowledge of business, and also that mental culture and discipline which sharpens perceptive faculties, stimulates ambition, develops ability and prepares for the struggle of making a living. Every step in the work is characterized by thoroughness. Besides we use the most practical methods.

In teaching shorthand we dictate actual letters and legal evidence. Other schools have undertaken to imitate our methods, but the quality of their work bears that relation to practical business which the imitation does to the real.

We represent things exactly as they are.

Belleville Business College.
ROBERT BOGLE, Proprietor.

Daily Intelligencer.

THE WAR IN THE ORIENT

Chinese Fear the Japs Will Succeed in Capturing the Capital.

THE EMPEROR'S THRONE IN DANGER

Li Hung Chang Deposed From the Command of the Army, and Several High Officials Disgraced—Anxiety Felt for the Safety of Foreign Residents—Accuracy of Ping Yang Reports Challenged.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—A Central News despatch from Shanghai, says influential Chinese have given expression to a feeling of certainty that the Japanese will succeed in capturing Pekin. The fright over the anti-foreign feeling is increased in the Chinese capital. Many of the Chinese residents of Moukden are removing their treasure from that city as rapidly as possible.

It is now announced that Li Hung Chang will not proceed to Corea.

The Shanghai correspondent of the Central News telegraphs: "There is no sign in Tien-Tsin that Li Hung Chang's power is waning. His audiences are as well attended as ever. He has several thousand well armed and regularly paid troops who protect visiting Europeans. Much anxiety is felt for the foreign residents as the populace is behaving insolently and becoming unusually threatening. The removal of the treasure and archives from Moukden has made a bad impression, being regarded as a display of weakness."

In response to a letter written to the Times by Sir Halliday Cartney, Secretary of the Chinese Legation, in which the writer states that the reports of the battle between the Chinese and Japanese at Ping Yang are not yet confirmed, the Japanese Legation affirms the accuracy of the previous statements that the Chinese were completely routed. An official telegram received at the Legation stated that the number of Chinese troops engaged exceeded 20,000 and that, with the exception of some who fled, all were killed, wounded or taken prisoners.

As Sir Halliday McCartney especially challenged the accuracy of the Central News despatches describing the disaster, a representative of the Westminster Gazette interviewed the manager of the Central News who denied that Sir Halliday had any authority to impugn the correctness of the despatches in question. "The existing state of affairs in Corea," the manager said, "confirms the truth of these despatches. According to the Chinese official statement there have been 38,000 Chinese troops in Corea: according to Sir Halliday 9,000 of them retreated; where are the rest of them?"

The manager of the Central News writes a letter to the Times in which he says:

"Allowance must be made for the exceptionally trying position of Sir Halliday MacCartney, but, seeing that there is not a single armed Chinaman between Fusan and Wei-Ju, it is superfluous to discuss the question whether the defeat of the Chinese at Ping-Yang was complete. Sir Halliday says we have no correspondent at Seoul. We have a correspondent at the front with the fighting force and his first message was sent through Seoul and was dated at the place where it was handed in."

SHANGHAI, Oct. 3.—The Emperor of China will very likely be dethroned in favor of Prince Kung's son, who will treat with the Japanese.

Li Hung Chang has been superseded in the supreme command by General Sang Tsing, of the province of Hunan, who has received full powers. Li Hung Chang retires disgusted to Pha-Ting-Foo, the capital of the Province of Chi-Li. His alleged defection to the Japanese is only canvassed consequent to the recall of Prince Kung.

Twenty thousand Hunan soldiers are gathered around Shanhai-Kwan, the terminus of the great wall where it forms the boundary between the Provinces of Chi-Li and Shinh-King. Li Hung Chang's army is disgusted.

Shen-Tao-Tai, a customs commissioner, and several other high officials of Tien-Tsin, have been disgraced for malfeasance.

The Birr Case Re-Opened.

DUBLIN, Oct. 3.—The cases of Kathleen O'Donovan and Annie Desmond, the servant girls who in July last charged certain officers of the garrison at Birr, were re opened by Judge Curran yesterday and leave was granted to send to the Grand Jury a bill charging Captain Armstrong and Lieutenants Moore, Gibson and Saunders with indecent assault. When the officers were previously arraigned on the charge, the trial ended without a decision being rendered, the court being divided upon the question of the guilt of the defendants and as a result of having brought the charges against the officers the girls were dismissed from their employment, the adjutant general ordering that they be not allowed to reside within the garrison. The Grand Jury found true bills against the accused officers.

Antwerp Exhibition Closed.

ANTWERP, Oct. 3.—The world's exhibition, which was opened here on May 5 by the King and Queen of the Belgians, was formally closed yesterday with the distribution of awards. King Leopold and several members of the cabinet, attended the closing ceremonies and the city was en fete. The largest number of awards granted to any one nation was received by France. Among her awards were 159 grand prizes.

London's New Lord Mayor.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—A poll of the guild electorate of London was taken yesterday to decide who should be the next Lord Mayor. The poll was made necessary by the opposition shown to Ald. Sir Joseph Renals, who ought to have been elected according to the regular rotation. The voting resulted: Ald. Sir Joseph Renals, 1,462; Ald. George F. Phillips, 1,460.

Four Seamen Drowned in a Gale.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—The British ship Ainsdale, Captain Owen, from Tacoma, May 10, for Queenstown, has arrived at Fayal for medical aid. She reports encountering terrible weather, during which four seamen were washed from her decks and drowned.

The Czarewitch to be Regent.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 3.—It is understood here that the Czar and his family will pass the winter in Corfu with the exception of the Grand Duke George, who will go to Cairo. The Czarewitch will probably act as regent in the Czar's absence.

Four Cholera Deaths in France.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—Cholera is reported in Constantinople, and four deaths from the disease are reported at Cognac, France.

OUT ON BAIL.

The Case Against the Toronto Conductors Argued—The Charge.

TORONTO, Oct. 3.—The case of Frederick Tamblin and Samuel Defries was argued at Osgoode Hall yesterday before Judge McMahon. Judgment was reserved but an order for bail in $1,000 was made and the prisoners were allowed out.

The two men are perhaps better known than any other two conductors who come into Toronto.

Defries has been in the service of the Grand Trunk for thirty two years and for the last twenty-six has had charge of a passenger train. He has succeeded in laying by a comfortable competence and he now can afford to live in a palatial residence on Broadview avenue. He is a prominent Orangeman and is as well a Mason.

Tamblin has had charge of a train for eighteen years, having formerly run to Belleville. He too has something laid aside for a rainy day.

The charge is this. It appears two men offered the clerk of the Queen's hotel, Montreal, $5 to secure them tickets for Toronto. The tickets were accordingly forthcoming and the "spotters" started on their journey. They were carried by the two conductors now in trouble at Montreal as far as Kingston, and when the tickets were presented at this end of the line they were duly honored.

Defries and Tamblin protest their innocence. They say that the tickets were accepted in good faith. They were just like the ordinary ticket and were in all probability counterfeit.

But the railway authorities, on the other hand, claim that no returns of these tickets were made to the auditor, and for that reason the two were arrested.

Lieutenant Peary Determined.

PORTLAND, Me., Oct. 3.—E. C. Reynolds, of Cape Elizabeth, one of Lieut. Peary's staunchest friends has received a letter from Lieut. Peary, dated Anniversary lodge, Greenland, Aug. 16. In this letter Peary writes that while he did not fully realize his plans last year he has still another year before him in which he is confident he will win. The main difficulty this year was the terribly antagonistic weather, rough and cold. He then goes on to say: "Whatever you may see in the papers to the contrary, I have ample provisions for the next year. My party, though small, is an effective one, and we can remain here with the most complete safety. Every member of the tribe is a friend and a willing assistant, and I shall take no risks. I am only working to carry out my plans and shall take no risk to accomplish them."

A Stowaway Drowned.

MONTREAL, Oct. 3.—A drowning occurred off the R.M.S. Numidian, of the Allan line here. The Numidian was docked at the Glasgow sheds where she was loading ranche cattle. Hay was piled on the top deck and things were hurried for sailing at daybreak. Concealed on one of these hay bundles was a man whose presence was only made known by his sudden shout and the immediate splash of water, where he had jumped or fallen. Sailors rushed to the scene and threw a line over, boats were lowered, diligent search made, but the only trace was the tell-tale cap floating ownerless on the water's surface. But this cap told a story. The man's name is C. C. Ferguson, aged about 32 years, and he is a native of Oshawa, Ont.

Victims of a Sharper.

HAMILTON, Oct. 2.—Mr. and Mrs. Goldstein, of Buffalo, who were on their way to Montreal, had to stop off at Hamilton owing to a sharp trick which was practised on them by a Buffalo sharper. When Mrs. Goldstein was waiting for her husband in Buffalo a man with whom she was slightly acquainted approached her and asked her where she was going. She told him to Montreal, and he offered to purchase her tickets for her as she had a child to care for. Mrs. Goldstein gave him $18 and the man returned with two tickets. When the conductor came around collecting they learned that the tickets were from Buffalo to Hamilton. The couple had very little money but Hamilton Hebrew citizens helped them on their journey.

Mrs. Rabbitoy Acquitted.

HAMILTON, Ont., Oct. 3.—Sarah E. Rabbitoy, accused of bigamy in having married Thomas Simons while her husband, Ernest Rabbitoy, was still alive, was arraigned before Judge Muir yesterday. Neither of her husbands appeared in court, and as Crown Attorney Crerar said he had no evidence to offer, the prisoner was discharged.

Harris in a Precarious Condition.

CHATHAM, Oct. 3.—John Harris, the man who, with his brother, attempted criminal assault on Mrs. Langtot, of Dover township, and who was shot by her in self-defence, is alive but cannot last long. He is still at the scene of the shooting, it being deemed inadvisable to bring him to town. His brother has been arrested and lodged in the cells here.

The Trick of a Detective.

BROCKVILLE, Oct. 3.—William Prosser, of Kemptville, charged with placing obstructions on the Canadian Pacific railway, was tried before Judge McDonald and acquitted. According to the evidence he had been frightened by Detective Ross into signing a paper confessing that he was the guilty party, imagining that it would save him further trouble.

Larivee Remanded for Trial.

MONTREAL, Oct. 3.—Louis Larivee, accused of forgery, and who was arrested on Friday last in Brooklyn by Detective Silas Carpenter, was brought into the city yesterday. Larivee agreed to come back without waiting for the formal extradition papers from Washington. He was remanded for trial.

Remains of a Hero of 1813.

HALIFAX, N.S., Oct. 3.—The remains of Capt. McNeal, killed at Toronto in 1813 and which were unearthed in that city a few days ago, have arrived here and were taken possession of by the officers of the King's Liverpool regiment and conveyed to the Military Hospital. They will be interred in Fort Massey Military Cemetery to-day with military honors. The 66th Princess Louise Fusilers will attend as a battalion. The other militia corps have also been asked to take part.

Mr. Mercier's Condition.

MONTREAL, Oct. 3.—Ex-Premier Mercier had another bad attack last evening with frequent fainting fits, but he rallied towards midnight and at a late hour is resting quietly.

Quebec to Hold a Carnival.

QUEBEC, Oct. 3.—At a meeting of citizens held at the city hall, at which Mayor Parent presided, it was unanimously decided to hold a carnival this winter.

Three Tramps Killed.

MEADVILLE, Pa., Oct. 3.—Three tramps were wrecked in a freight wreck on the New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio road near Geneva.

WHY THIS SUDDEN CALL?

Imperial Ministers Receive a Hurried Summons to Council.

NEW DEVELOPMENTS WITH FRANCE

Sir William Vernon Harcourt's Trip to Italy Cut Short—The Hasty Summons Gives Rise to the Fear That Matters of Alarming Importance Are to be Discussed.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—A special Cabinet council has been called for to-morrow and the members of the Ministry who are absent from the city have been hurriedly summoned to return. Telegrams have been sent to Sir William Vernon Harcourt, who had started for Italy, and other of the Ministers who are in the country. Sudden new developments regarding the relations between Great Britain and France are without doubt the reason for the hasty summoning of the Ministers.

The Daily Chronicle alludes to the occasion for summoning the cabinet as a grave and serious matter. It deplores the fact that the condition of both the civilized and uncivilized world gives only too abundant cause for disquietude. After discussing the various questions pending between England and France the Chronicle expresses the opinion that Egypt will be the test question, and advocates a European conference with the object of completely neutralizing Egypt. The Daily Chronicle regards the alarm shown as absurd. The nation, it says, his implicit confidence in Lord Rosebery's diplomacy.

The Times makes no comment on the cabinet meeting.

FROM THE CAPITAL.

New Superintendent of Lachine Canal—Supreme Court in Session.

OTTAWA, Oct. 3.—It is learned at the Department of Railways and Canals that John Conway, of Montreal, had been appointed superintendent of the Lachine canal, in the place of Kennedy, who was dismissed for his connection with the Curran bridge affair.

Hon. George E. Foster will leave for England on Saturday. It is said he is going to float a new Canadian loan.

The Supreme Court met yesterday, there being on the bench Chief Justice Strong and Justices Tacherean, Gwynne, Sedgwick and King. The Quebec list was the first taken up. Two motions were made, one to quash the case of Webster v Sherbrooke, and the other to quash the case of Liliberg v Equitable Life. Decisions in both motions were reserved.

Sir Adolphe Caron has gone to Quebec, where he will officiate at the opening of the Beauce county railway. He will probably address his constituents before returning. He will also, it is said, while in Quebec, discuss with the local Conservative leaders the question of opening the constituency made vacant by the death of the Hon. John Hearn.

At the annual meeting of the Protestant Hospital it was shown that the expenditure for the year for provisions, salaries, wages and medicines was $14,598.19, compared with $14,851.17 for the previous year. The number of patients admitted during the year was 552, compared with 449 last year. The aggregate number of days spent by patients in the hospital was 21,776 while last year it was 16,748. The new officers of the institution will not be elected until the next monthly meeting.

Hon. Mackenzie Bowell, who has returned from the west, will attend the funeral of John White, ex-M.P., at Belleville to-morrow.

Canadian Schemes in London.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—Taking advantage of the better tone of the markets several Canadian schemes are being pushed in the city. One is promoted by the friends of the Montreal, Sorel and Baie des Chaleurs Railway. It is proposed to float a loan of £4,000,000 in bonds in order to develop the through route between Baie des Chaleurs and Sault Ste. Marie, via Montreal and Ottawa, and thus be in a position to compete for the traffic of the western states. A financial scheme, which is being worked up here, is one for irrigation in Alberta for the purpose of developing ranching. This proposal is being submitted to prominent men.

Windsor's "Jack the Hugger."

WINDSOR, Oct. 3.—William Marshall, the colored man who was captured and locked up on Sunday night for forcible hugging Miss Bertha Mitchell, has pleaded guilty to the charge. He claims the unenviable distinction of being Windsor's "Jack the Hugger." Marshall was arraigned for a hearing and on acknowledging the charge was remanded until Friday for sentence. The ladies who have been subjected to the disagreeable experience will be called upon by the police to endeavor to identify him as their assailant.

The Scandal in a Naples Convent.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—The Daily Chronicle publishes a despatch from Naples giving the following details of the scandal affecting a convent in that city: "Silvia Palmieri, aged 18 years, was placed in the Convent of St. Joseph by her parents fifteen years ago, to be educated. When the parents applied for her release she was forcibly prevented from departing. The girl declares she was drugged and assaulted by elderly men who visited the Abbess Ferranti, who is 70 years old. Seven persons are said to be involved in the scandal."

Cyclone in Nebraska.

PAWNEE CITY, Neb., Oct. 3.—A cyclone has visited the southeast section of this county. The house of John Nelson, near here, was demolished and six members of the family were blown into the field. A daughter of Nelson, 9 years old, had a board driven into her skull. She will die. Another member of the family was badly injured. The wind covered a limited area, but levelled everything in its path, missing the towns and devastating the country districts.

Turkish Students Arrested.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 3.—Forty students in the Gulham Medical School in this city were recently arrested on the charge of conspiring against the Government. In their possession were found documents that were printed in Liverpool, Marseilles, Geneva and other cities, proving the existence of a widespread secret society. The prisoners declare that their movement was not aimed against the Sultan but only against a corrupt ministry.

MacWherrell Goes to Kingston.

BRAMPTON, Oct. 3.—MacWherrell and Williams will be moved to Toronto to-day. The sheriff and Alex. Shaw, the turnkey, will have charge of the prisoners, who will be handcuffed together, except when changing cars, when they will have shackles on their ankles in addition to handcuffs.

House Full of Steam! A big fire, heavy lifting, hard work is the usual way of doing the wash . . . .

There is an easier and cleaner way.

A TEA KETTLE will give all the hot water required when Surprise Soap is used according to the directions on the wrapper. It does away with boiling or scalding the clothes and all that muss and confusion. The clothes are sweeter, whiter and cleaner, washed in this way.

Thousands use Surprise Soap on wash day, why don't you?

169a. THE ST. CROIX SOAP MF'G. CO., ST. STEPHEN, N. B.

Salvadorean Historian Assassinated.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 3.—The steamship Colon brings news of the assassination of Silvero A. Louis, a well-known historian of Salvador. He had just finished a history and geography of that country, and had engaged passage on the Colon, intending to bring his works to San Francisco and have them published. In his history he dealt severely with the Ezetas and their friends, which fact had leaked out. The morning before the Colon sailed Louis was found on a side street in San Salvador with a dirk sticking in his heart. His manuscript was missing.

Fifty-Four Years of Courtship.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Oct. 3.—After 54 years of courtship John Shilling and Ruth Sears, who were born and reared in the Sugar Loaf Mountain district, Grand county, were married in the little Baptist church on the mountain last Sunday. The bridegroom is 96 years old and the bride 74, but neither appears over 60. Just before the marriage ceremony they were baptized and admitted to membership in the church.

Broke Into a Burglar-Proof Safe.

BURLINGTON, Ia., Oct. 3.—A guaranteed burglar-proof safe in the fireproof vaults of the state bank of Mediapolis, this county, was blown almost to atoms by a tremendous charge of nitro-glycerine. Cracksmen forced the vault locks without difficulty. The bank estimates its loss at $4,000. The robbers escaped.

The Ahr Valley.

It is becoming the custom among European travellers to stop at Remagen on the Rhine, and make a little excursion to the beautiful Valley of the Ahr, with its picturesque villages along the vine-clad slope Here is also located the spring from which flows that world wide favorite "Apollinaris Water." At Neuenahr, in the valley, the river Ahr is very beautiful, and one can find few more quaintly attractive spots than the Upper Gate at Ahrweiler, or the old mill at Heppingen.

A tax on dogs was levied in Rome during the reign of Nero.

For Over Fifty Years

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by druggists throughout the world. 17d&wly

In the time of Queen Anne soap was taxed £28 per ton.

DEAR SIRS.—I have used Yellow Oil for two or three years, and think it has no equal for croup. Mrs. J. S. O'Brien, Huntsville, Ont.

The tithes in England amounted to £4,050,000 a year.

Dyspepsia and Indigestion.—C. W. Snow & Co., Syracuse, N.Y., writes: "Please send us ten gross of Pills. We are selling more of Parmelee's Pills than any other Pill we keep. They have a great reputation for the cure of Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint." Mr. Chas. A. Smith, Lindsay, writes: "Parmelee's Pills are an excellent medicine. My sister has been troubled with severe headache, but these pills have cured her."

Russia raises $1,5000,000 a year by the sale of passports.

THAT TIRED, LANGUID FEELING and dull headache is very disagreeable. Take two of Carter's Little Liver Pills before retiring, and you will find relief. They never fail to do good.

FRANTIC WITH BOILS

And Itching, Would Scratch Until Blood Ran Down His Limbs. Forced to Take to His Bed. Whole System Affected. Doctor after Doctor Without Cure. Instant Relief, Speedy Cure by Using Cuticura Remedies.

My sufferings might have been stopped if I had only known of your CUTICURA REMEDIES eighteen years ago. I contracted the fever and ague, and it effected my kidneys so badly that I had to have an operation, from which resulted blood poison, and I suffered untold agonies. To make my sufferings more, my left leg below the knee broke out in large blood boils, and commenced a scaly, itching irritation, so that at times I was almost frantic, and would scratch until the blood would trickle down my leg. In the summer these large boils would commence, during which time I would have three or four which were so painful that at times I was forced to take to my bed. Every winter a dry itching scaly mass would gather on my leg, which with the boils, seemed to effect my whole system. During all this time, a period of three to nine months, I had doctor after doctor, but they gave me only temporary relief. This last fall I commenced using your CUTICURA, CUTICURA SOAP, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, and now the scales have all gone, the itching all gone, I have not felt sick, and have worked all winter. I would not suffer again as I have for the past eighteen years for anything. I had doctors from the west to the east, all to no purpose. I have not felt so well or been so long without a sick spell since taking your remedies. Thanks to them and to you, and the great Maker of mankind for my returning health.
DANIEL P. WOODWARD,
Warren, Washington County, Vt.

CUTICURA WORKS WONDERS

CUTICURA REMEDIES cleanse the system by external and internal medication of every eruption, impurity and disease, and constitute the most effective treatment of modern times.

Sold throughout the world. Price, CUTICURA, 75c.; SOAP, 35c.; RESOLVENT, $1.50 POTTER DRUG AND CHEM. CORP., Sole Proprietors, Boston.
"How to Cure Skin Diseases," mailed free.

PIMPLES, blackheads, red, rough, chapped, and oily skin cured by CUTICURA SOAP.

WEAK, PAINFUL KIDNEYS
Backache, nervous and muscular pains, and weaknesses relieved in one minute by the Cuticura Anti-Pain Plaster. The only pain-killing plaster.

SAFE
PLEASANT
RELIABLE
THE GREAT
BLOOD PURIFIER

BRISTOL'S SARSAPARILLA
CURES ALL
Taints of the Blood.
CERTAIN

Trafalgar Institute.
(Affiliated to McGill University.)
No. 83 Simpson Street, Montreal.
— FOR THE —
Higher Education
OF
Young Women

With preparatory department for girls between 10 and 14.
President, REV. JAMES BARCLAY, D.D.
Vice-President, MR. A. T. DRUMMOND.
Principal, MISS GRACE FAIRLEY, M.A., Edinburgh.
The institute will re-open with an efficient staff of twelve resident and visiting teachers, on
Tuesday, 11th September 1894.
The Institute buildings are situated on the mountain side overlooking the City. The spacious grounds are attractively laid out and the surroundings are not only beautiful but very healthful.
For copy of Prospectus and other information apply to the principal, at the Institute, or to
A. F. Riddell, Secretary, 22 St. John St., Montreal.

LAKEHURST SANITARIUM
OAKVILLE, ONT.
For treatment and cure of
ALCHOLISM, MORPHINE HABIT, TOBACCO HABIT AND NERVOUS DISEASES.

The system employed at this institution is the familiar Double Chloride of Gold System. Through its agency over 200,000 Slaves to the use of these poisons have been emancipated in the last fourteen years. Lakehurst Sanitarium is the oldest Institution of the kind in Canada, and has a well earned reputation to maintain in this line of medicine. In its whole history there is not an instance of failure to remove the appetite for these poisons. In its whole history there is not an instance of any after ill effects from the treatment. Hundreds of happy homes in all parts of the Dominion bear eloquent witness to the efficacy of a course of treatment with us. For terms and full information write
THE SECRETARY,
28 Bank of Commerce Chambers,
aug7d3m34w3m) Toronto, Ont.

RIBBONS!

We have an extra large stock of Ribbons on hand in all the light and fancy shades including

BABY RIBBONS,
SILK " "
SATIN " "
MOIRE " "
ETC., — ETC.

Our prices are the lowest, and we will be pleased to have you give us a call whenever wanting Ribbons.

SILK ELASTICS....

We have a splendid stock of Fancy Silk Elastic, made in Yellow, Blue, Green, Orange, Cardinal, Black, Pink, Mauve, White. All one price, 25c yard, at

THE BEEHIVE
CHAS. N. SULMAN

GRAPES....

It is claimed that Grapes are the most healthy, and therefore the most nutritious fruit grown.
We have and will have through the season, large consignments and will sell very cheap, as crop is very large in the west. They are selling to day at

25c. per Basket...

Jas. Wallace & Co.

Peaches while season lasts.

Babies

ought to be fat. Give the Thin Babies a chance. Give them

Scott's Emulsion

the Cream of Cod-liver Oil, with hypophosphites, and watch them grow Fat, Chubby, Healthy, Bright. Physicians, the world over, endorse it.

Don't be deceived by Substitutes!

Scott & Bowne, Belleville. All Druggists. 50c. & $1.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, WEDNESDAY, OCT. 3.

Montreal Markets.

MONTREAL, Oct. 1.—Flour—Receipts, 4,300 bbls.; market quiet and unchanged; patent winter, $3 20 to $3 40; do spring, $3 40 to $3.50; straight roller, $2 70 to $2 85; extra, $2 40 to $2 50; superfine, $2 25 to $2 35; strong bakers', $3 25 to $3 30; Ontario bags, $1 20 to $1 30.

Grain—Wheat, No. 2 Manitoba hard, 62 to 64c. Corn—68 to 70c. Peas—68 to 69c. Oats—34 to 35c. Barley—50 to 53c. Rye—52 to 54c. Oatmeal—$2 to 2 10. Cornmeal—$1 20 to $1 30. Provisions: Pork—$21 to $22. Lard—8 to 10c. Bacon—10 to 12c. Hams—11 to 13c. Cheese—10 to 11c. Butter—Townships, 16 to 18c.; Western, 14 to 16c. Eggs—12 to 13c.

Stocks in store here this morning: Wheat 636,900 bushels; barley, 1,406 bush; rye, 7,312 bush; peas, 71,518 bush; flour, 69,899 bbls.; oats, 50,849 bush.; oatmeal, 259 bbls.

LIVE STOCK.

Eleven of the best cattle on the market sold at 3¾c per pound. Pretty good stock sold at from 3 to 3½c per pound; and a lot of moderately good Manitoba cattle were sold at 2¾c per pound; the leaner beasts sold at from 2 to 2½c per pound.

There was a good demand for calves, and a lot of nine superior calves, which would weigh from 300 to nearly 500 pounds each, were sold for $100 for the lot. Common calves sold at from $3 to $6 each.

Shippers are paying less for sheep than is being paid for them in Toronto, or about 3½c per pound. The other sheep sell at from $2 to $3.25 each, and lambs sell at from $1 50 to $3 25 each.

Fat hogs are lower in price, at from 5 to 5½c per pound.

Canada Barley in the U. S.

Messrs. Downey, Irwin & Co., Oswego, successors to Gaylord, Downey & Co, write under date of September 28:—Receipts of barley from the west are increasing owing to the prevailing low lake and canal rates, and the moderate prices asked for barley, maltsters are buying freely; 48-pound No. 2 barley can be bought to day at 75½c to 58c, c.i.f., Oswego.

No new Canada barley has yet been received although one or two cargoes are now loading for Oswego; 65c is asked for No. 1 Toronto, weighing 48 pounds, to arrive prompt shipment. Owing to the impression that the crop is inferior in quality and much smaller in quantity than usual, the trade do not seem to attach much importance to Canada barley this year. We believe, however, that maltsters can be induced to give a premium over western barley for all that reaches here soon. We therefore urge the importance of sending over a small cargo of your new barley as soon as possible, and of the best quality you can get together. This will enable us to talk up your barley and get as many of our old customers started back using it again as possible.

Business Bits.

On the 21st Sept., the C.P.R. sent 300 cars of Manitoba wheat forward.

The Lexington Hotel, Chicago, valued at one million dollars, has been sold for $6410

The deposits in Post Office savings banks during August were $582,264 and withdrawals $508,968, leaving a balance at the credit of depositors of $25 406,951.

Mr. Sharp, electric engineer, Birmingham, Eng., has invented a process for regulating electric lights just as gas is done, by taps.

The Patrons in Manitoba, dissatisfied at the prices of Canadian binder twine, got a lot from the States. They then discovered that it run only 500 ft. to the pound, while Canadian runs 600 feet, so they were some what sold. They paid also 2 cents a pound more than they could have got it for at home Altogether, they lost over 30 per cent. by their preference for the American article.

There are plenty of apples in sight now. Half a dozen schooners are in with whole or part cargoes, two full ones arriving yesterday. There are many hundreds of barrels to choose from. Good Gravensteins can be got at about $2 50.—St John, N.B Sun.

Large quantities of Ontario apples are being sold in Winnipeg.

In Columbia County, Washington, U.S., the price of No. 1 wheat is 26c. per bushel, and other grades about 5c. less for No. 2, and so on down the scale. This is the market that the Grits would like opened to enrich our farmers.

Mr. Blue, Director of Mines, urges the manufacture of vitrified brick to be entered upon, as the necessary material was abundant and the opening for it extensive, as it was better than asphalt for paving.

Cheese Markets

UTICA.

UTICA, Oct. 1.—Cheese sales to day—210 boxes at 9½c, 250 boxes at 9⅞c, 4,945 boxes at 10c, 735 boxes at 10¼c, 3,960 boxes at 10½c, 550 boxes at 10⅝c, 515 boxes at 10¾c, 172 packages of creamery butter at 23c to 25c, bulk at 24c. The market is strong and active.

LITTLE FALLS.

LITTLE FALLS, Oct. 1.—Cheese sales to-day were—235 boxes at 9½c, 2,074 boxes at 9⅞c, 1,840 boxes at 10c, 607 boxes on commission, 260 boxes dairy at 9½c to 10c, 110 packages of creamery butter at 22c to 23c, 90 packages of dairy butter at 21c to 23c.

That Joyful Feeling.

With the exhilarating sense of renewed health and strength and internal cleanliness, which follows the use of Syrup of Figs, is unknown to the few who have not progressed beyond the old time medicines and the cheap substitutes sometimes offered but never accepted by the well informed.

PALE CHILDREN

With poor appetites and frequent coughs, should be given a few bottles of . . . . . Campbell's

Skrei Cod Liver Oil.

Doctors recommend it because it is pure and easy to take and to digest.

AN INTERESTING WEDDING.

A Young Gentleman From Peterborough Carries off a Belleville Belle.

St. Thomas' church was the scene of a most interesting wedding this afternoon at half past three o'clock, when Mr. Robert H. Stratton, of Peterborough, was married to Miss Clare S. Wilkins, only daughter of the late Henry Wilkins, of Montreal, and grand daughter of the late Charles Wilkins, Esq. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Canon Burke, assisted by Rev. H. Blacklock, curate. The bride was attired in a handsome and stylish "going away" gown, of fawn and white camel's hair cloth, trimmed with bleuet velvet, large hat to match adorned with ostrich plumes of same color. It was a most becoming costume and suited the bride's graceful and petite figure well. The charming young bridesmaid, Miss Nonie Milburn, wore a golden brown, mixed tweed, trimmed with pink silk, brown hat and feathers with pink velvet roses. Both carried shower bouquets of cream tea roses, the gift of the groom. The bride wore a handsome diamond scarf pin and the bridesmaid a diamond and sapphire ring also gifts to the groom. Mr. W. A. Stratton, of Peterborough, officiated as groomsman. The chancel was adorned with flowers by the Junior Guild, of which the bride was a member. As the bride entered the church on the arm of her uncle, Mr. George Ranney, of Peterborough, Mrs. Campbell played the wedding march. The guests were near relatives, with a few exceptions. The church was well filled with spectators, principally friends of the bride. The brilliant tones of the fall costumes of the guests lent a charm to the happy scene. The invited guests were Mrs. James Stratton, mother of the groom; The Misses Stratton, J. R. Stratton, M. P. P. and Mrs. Stratton, Mrs. Hunter, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Matthews, Mrs. Geo. Ranney, Mr. and Mrs. R. Maitland Roy jr., Mrs. Charles Ranney, Peterborough; Mrs. E Gingras, Mrs. McAunany, Miss Smart, Mrs Burke, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Hamilton, Mrs. George Dickson, Miss Dickson Mr. and Mrs. J. P. C. Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Wragg, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Dougall, and Paul Denys. The following gentlemen officiated as ushers: Messrs. Angus Dickson, H P. Thomas, and Arthur Dupuis. The bride was given away by Mr. George Ranney. After the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the residence of the bride's grandmother, where a reception was held and refreshments served. The happy couple will leave by the six o'clock train for New York, Philadelphia and other eastern cities. They will take up their home in Peterborough, where the residence is ready for their occupancy. Mrs Stratton will be much missed by her young friends in Belleville. All unite in wishing the nouveaux maries, joy and life-long happiness. The presents were elegant and numerous. The following is a list of a few: china tea-set, Mrs. James Stratton; a quantity of family silver, Mrs. C. Wilkins; a handsome silver epergne, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Stratton; an onyx clock with brass mountings, from the staff of "The Examiner," and the employees of Mr. Albert Stratton; a silver water service, Mr. W. A. Stratton; a silver tea-set, by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Matthews.

Y. M. C. A. BOARD MEETING.

The Association Will be Incorporated—Religious and Other Work.

The Board of Directors of the Y.M.C.A. met last evening in their rooms, and as an evidence of the interest taken in the Association, only two members were absent, and they were out of the city. The report of the committee on corporation was heard and it was decided to close the matter at once by having the Association incorporated.

The religious work received the greater part of the attention of the meeting. It was decided to draft a number of subjects and leaders for Sunday afternoon meetings and have them posted up so that the members could see them. They appointed representative members of the Board to take turns at being at the rooms each evening of the week to act as a reception committee.

A number of accounts, most of which were for appliances, were passed. The Secretary's report showed an increasing interest in the coming winters' work. A special meeting of the directors has been called for Friday evening to devise means of raising the necessary funds for current expenses.

After the above business had been transacted the members met and held an auction sale of papers and periodicals, which realized good prices. It was decided to add two more to the already large list of papers and magazines, namely: "The English Engineer," and the "Nineteenth Century.".

The class in Mechanical Drawing, under the direction of Mr. Couldrey, will meet to-night for the first time. Quite a number have already entered for the course. If any young man feels that he cannot afford the cost of the course he should call on the Secretary, as he will have something for him, if he means business.

Obituary.

JOHN DONALDSON.

In the death of Mr. John Donaldson, which occurred yesterday at his home in the 2nd con'n of Thurlow, the Grand Trunk Company has lost one of the pioneer engineers of the road. Mr. Donaldson, familiarly known as John Donaldson by all railroad men on the Grand Trunk in Canada, although having retired from the employ of the Company some years ago, was still kept on the roll of Engineers, to be called on at any time, on account of his past good services. He was a man most deservedly popular among railway people, and others with whom he came in contact. He was 72 years of age, and leaves a widow, two sons and four daughters, to mourn their loss. His funeral will take place to-morrow, from his late residence to the cemetery.

County Court.

Williams vs. Cook.—An action by a tenant against his landlord for damages for improperly distraining his goods for rent and for an account. Deft. denied improper distress and counter claimed for an account against plff. At the last County Court the case was referred to A. G. Northrup, Esq., Special Referee, for final determination. The Referee now finds that deft. made an excessive distress for more rent than was due and fixes damages at $150 less rent actually due and directs judgment for plff. for $119 42 and full costs. Mikel & Roberts for plff.; F. S. Wallbridge for deft.

A Grand Feature

of Hood's Sarsaparilla is that while it purifies the blood and sends it coursing through the veins full of richness and health, it also imparts new life and vigor to every function of the body. Hence the expression so often heard; "Hood's Sarsaparilla made a new person of me." It overcomes that tired feeling so common now.

HOOD'S PILLS are purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, always reliable and beneficial.

Schiffmann's Asthma Cure

Instantly relieves the most violent attacks facilitates free expectoration and insures rest to those otherwise unable to sleep except in a chair, as a single trial will prove. Send for a free trial package to Dr. R. Schiffmann's, St. Paul, Minn., but ask your druggist first.

MORE PARTICULARS.

Concerning the Accident Which Caused William Docter's Death.

We were able to day to get further particulars concerning the accidental death of W. J. Docter, which we mentioned briefly yesterday.

W. J. Docter was the eldest son of Mr. Wm. Docter, hotel keeper at the G. T. R. station, and was thirty years of age. When quite young he entered the G. T. R. shops here and learned the trade of a machinist. Almost eleven years ago he went west with Mr. W. T. Reed, then locomotive foreman G. T. R. shops here, to the C. P. R., at Winnipeg, and he proved himself such a skilful and reliable workman that Mr. Reed continued to employ him in responsible positions on the several roads with which he had been connected, and it was his intention to join Mr. Reed on his return from the old country

He had been locomotive fireman at Kansas City on the Chicago Great Western for about two years. About two weeks ago he came home on a visit to his parents and brothers and sisters. Yesterday afternoon he saddled a horse six years old to take a canter and was gone about an hour, when he returned and was just entering his father's yard when he met two old friends and halted to speak to them. After talking for a few minutes he started the horse to go to the stable, when the animal apparently tripped and fell sideways, taking its rider down with it. Mr. Docter was unable to extricate his feet from the stirrups and the horse fell on his thigh and rolled upon his body, Willing hands at once lent assistance in pulling the unfortunate man from under the animal but he never breathed after being taken out.

A doctor was summoned and upon examination found that the thigh bone was crushed to a pulp, the skull crushed in and internal injuries in the region of the bowels, where the pommel of the saddle, which was of Mexican pattern, had struck him.

The young man, who was unmarried, is highly spoken of by all who knew him and the sympathy of a host of friends is extended to the sorrowing family.

At a regular meeting of the Oxford Lodge No. 17, Sons of England, of which deceased was a member, last evening passed a letter of condolence to the family and directed that a floral design accompany it.

The funeral will take place to-morrow (Thursday) afternoon from his father's residence at 2:30 to the cemetery and will be under the auspices of the Sons of England.

SIDNEY CROSSING.

Dame nature is gaudily decking our native woodlands with nondescript colors. —Mrs. Bates of Belleville is visiting friends in this vicinity.—Mr. Dave McGowan had the sad misfortune of having a number of sheep badly mangled and killed this week. It is supposed that some of the neighboring canines are causing this devastation, as several other flocks have been attacked.—Helen, little daughter of Mr. Kirkconnel, B.A., Principal of the Collegiate Institute at Port Hope, was visiting her aunt Mrs W. R. Vandervoort last week.—Mrs. P. W. Fairman, of West Belleville, was renewing old acquaintances here last week. She is always gladly welcomed by her many friends.—Miss Etta Miller, of Mill Haven, is the guest of her cousin, Miss Minnie Fletcher.—Mr. Henry Hyde, of Toronto, is spending his holidays with his brother, Mr Dan Hyde. "Harry" is highly delighted with rustic hospitality.—The farmers who raised beans for the Allan Seed Co., of Picton, have disposed of their crops to the same firm at $1 40 per bushel. The crop was exceedingly abundant this year, as the season was very favorable.—Mr. Robert McMullen, of Belleville, has been attending to the fruit on his farm this week. He is supposed to own the finest orchard in the vicinity.—Miss Harris, of Belleville, is the guest of Miss May McCune.—Messrs. Percy Vandervoort and Dan McClaren paid a flying visit to Foxboro on their wheels on Saturday. —Mr. Harry Godfrey is relieving agent at Milton.—Dame rumor reports that a wayward bruin is prowling about the woods in front of the station.

DESERONTO.

Oct. 2.—Rev. J. J. Rice, of Tamworth, was in town last Thursday.—Mr. T. K. Henderson has returned from a pleasant visit to New York city.—Mrs. Geo. Fields has returned from a few months' visit to friends in Toronto and Hamilton.—Mr R. Vanalstine is building a fine residence on East Thomas St.—Mr. E. W. Rathbun is making extensive improvements to his residence.—Mr. Geo. E. Clement is making repairs to the Methodist church spire, which was recently struck by lightning.—Rev R. J. Craig preached his farewell sermon to a very large congregation in the Church of the Redeemer, on Sunday evening last, previous to his departure with his family this week, to reside in Germany during the next three years.—There are numerous amusements on at the Opera House this week.—The Salvation Army Naval Brigade were here yesterday.—Last Thursday forenoon, Murney Dean's residence on Dundas St. caught fire from the chimney, and before the flames were extinguished considerable damage was done to the house and contents, which were fully covered by insurance.

GILEAD.

October 1.—The leaves are falling off the trees, and things have an autumn appearance.—Apple picking is the order of the day; several parties have sold winter fruit to the shippers.—Jack Frost made his first appearance last Tuesday night.—Mr. and Mrs. A. Palmer are here, and Mr. and Mrs. Covert, of Ameliasburg, spent a few days with friends last week.—Wm. Balcanquel lies very ill at his home; he suffers considerably from a cough, which renders him very weak.—Mr. H. Smith last spring planted one bag of potatoes, and last week he dug 18 full bags from it; beat that who can.—The Methodist Sunday School closed for the season last Sunday. In future the regular service will commence at 2:30 p. m.

The Haines & Lockett Fire.

Owing to our loss by the recent fire, we placed what few accounts we had on our books in the hands of W. J. Diamond with instructions to send them in without respect of persons, and to urge immediate payment. We hope all parties concerned will respond promptly at Mr. Diamond's office.

d115 f — HAINES & LOCKETT.

Effect of the French Treaty. Clarets at Half Price.

The Bordeaux Claret Company established at Montreal in view of the French Treaty, are now offering the Canadian connoisseur beautiful wines at $3 00 and $4.00 per case of 12 large quart bottles. These are equal to any $6 00 and $8 00 wines sold on their label. Every swell hotel and club are now handling them, and they are recommended by the best physicians as being perfectly pure and highly adapted for invalids' use. Address Bordeaux Claret Company, 30 Hospital Street, Montreal.

11418t Wed.&Sats.

Lane's Medicine Moves the Bowels Each Day

In order to be healthy this is necessary

A WESTERN TORNADO.

A Belleville Minister Has a Marvellous Escape From a Tornado in Minnesota.

We have been shown a private letter received by Rev. Mr. Martin from his daughter, Mrs. Hambly, wife of Rev. T. Hambly, pastor of the M. E. church, Spring Valley, Minn., one of the places visited by the terrible cyclone of last week, resulting in fearful loss of life and property. The cyclone passed over the northern portion of the town with terrific force, levelling houses, barns, trees and fences, accompanied by terrible lightning and torrents of rain. So dazed were the people by the suddenness of the shock that a dozen different stories were afloat, so that people did not know what to do in the darkness, till the truth began to be be known that the whole northern part of the town was demolished. G. G. King's house, a mile away from the town, was first swept away and Mrs. King, in night dress and in her bare feet, bleeding and sore, ran to town to give the alarm. A long list of houses destroyed and people injured and dead follows. Mr. Hambly carried around the lantern for Dr. Utley. He describes the sight as a terrible one—women in their night dresses, covered with mud, blood and bruises. Some had broken limbs, some looking for their lost children, some with their children in their arms, looking for the doctor, and others buried in the ruins of their houses and dead. Mr. and Mrs. Hambly walked over the scene next morning and say it is too terrible to describe. Fortunately their church and their new parsonage were just outside the track of the cyclone, but they felt the shock distinctly and their house shook with the concussion.

The above is taken from the Sutton Herald of last week. Mr. Hambly is a Belleville boy, known to many of our readers. Mrs. Hambly spent three years in Albert and Alexandra Colleges, and is a matriculant of the former and a graduate of the latter. She attended the closing exercises of these colleges last summer.

SOCIAL & PERSONAL

The INTELLIGENCER invites all its readers to contribute to this column. If you or your friends are going away on a holiday trip or if you have friends visiting you, drop a card to this office.

Mrs. (Rev.) E. N. Baker is visiting at Port Hope.

Mrs. English is in the city, a guest of Mrs. Neilson.

Mr. Charles Hudson, jr., left to-day to attend the Queen's Medical College, Kingston.

Miss Mary Hutchinson, of Chicago, is in the city, the guest of her cousin, Miss Minnie Johnson, Charles St.

Miss Edith Johnson, who is attending the Nicholls Hospital, Peterborough, expresses her delight in the study of her chosen profession. It is her intention to graduate in medicine as well.

Our old friend P. M. Nulty has developed into a quill-driver, he being the local and political editor of the Courier, published in Dayton, Wis., U. S. In his bow to the public, Pat makes known his political leanings when he says, "Remember, we are Democrats."

Mr Chas. Gerald, who for the past eight years has been Excise officer in charge of Messrs. Hiram Walker & Sons' Walkerville distillery, will leave for Toronto on the fifteenth instant to assume a similar position in Messrs. Gooderham and Worts, in that city. Mr. James Shearman, of Belleville, will succeed Mr. Gerald at Walkerville.

Borne to the Grave.

The funeral of the late Mr. W. A. Shepard, for many years manager of the Mail printing department, and last year President of the International Typothetae, took place yesterday afternoon from his late residence, 202 Spadina avenue, Toronto, to New St. Andrew's church and thence to Mount Pleasant Cemetery, and was largely attended by personal and business friends of the deceased, and representatives from various societies with which he had been connected. Many exquisite floral tributes rested on and around the casket. The six sons of the deceased acted as pall-bearers.

Service of Praise.

A service of praise, in which, after prayer by Rev. E. N. Baker, a fine programme of vocal and instrumental music will be rendered, will take place in the Bridge st. Methodist church to-morrow (Thursday) evening. Mr. Dingle will preside at the organ, and the vocalists will include some of the best talent in the city.

Another Fish Yarn.

We have been describing so many extraordinary catches of fish lately, that we would imagine the record could not be surpassed, but we are informed that Mr. and Mrs. Lance were fishing yesterday and succeeded in securing several extraordinarily large—bites.

Successful Students.

We are informed that Messrs. Cecil Fralick and John Doyle of the High School, have passed their Supplemental Examinations at Queen's College, Kingston, while Mr. R. Weller has been conditioned in Latin. We congratulate them on their success.

Look Here.

Do you feel blue and despondent? Do pains rack and tear away at nerve and muscle, and have you been disappointed in finding a remedy that will afford certain and speedy relief. If so, go at once to any drug store and buy a bottle of Polson's Nerviline. Polson's Nerviline never fails to relieve neuralgia, cramps, headache, rheumatism, and all internal and external pains. J. B. Carman, druggist, Morrisburg, writes: "All the parties I supply speak very favorable of Nerviline, and always purchase a second lot." Polson's Nerviline is sold in bottles at 25 cents by all druggists and country dealers everywhere.

A Lesson in Hygiene.

Now that water supplies are recognized as the chief vehicle for propagating typhoid fever, medical and scientific authorities throughout the world are constantly dwelling on the necessity of using water of known purity. While this has no bearing on medicinal waters, which, however valuable, cannot safely be made part of the ordinary daily diet, because of the active chemical substances they contain, it has, however, given a wonderful stimulus to the consumption of dietetic or table waters, such as Apollinaris. It is little wonder, however, that the use of Apollinaris is on the increase, for who does not gladly take the beverage which, besides being pure and healthful, is delightful and refreshing?

How to Get a "Sunlight" Picture

Send 25 "Sunlight" soap wrappers (wrapper bearing the words "Why does a woman look old sooner than a man") to Lever Bros., Ltd., 43 Scott St., Toronto, and you will receive by post a pretty picture, free from advertising, and well worth framing. This is an easy way to decorate your home. The soap is the best in the market, and it will only cost 1c. postage to send in the wrappers, if you leave the ends open. Write your address carefully.

SPECIAL MENTION

DR. LOW'S PLEASANT WORM SYRUP removes worms of all kinds from children or adults.

THAT HACKING COUGH can be quickly cured by Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam. Price 25c.

ALWAYS AVOID HARSH PURGATIVE PILLS. They first make you sick and then leave you constipated. Carter's Little Liver Pills regulate the bowels and make you well. Dose, one pill.

ALL CASES OF WEAK OR LAME BACK, backache, rheumatism, will find relief by wearing one of Carter's Smartweed and Belladonna Backache Plasters. Price 25 cents. Try them.

No person should go from home without a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial in their possession, as change of water, cooking, climate, etc., frequently brings on summer complaint, and there is nothing like being ready with a sure remedy at hand, which oftentimes saves great suffering, and consequently valuable lives. This Cordial has gained for itself a wide spread reputation for affording prompt relief from all summer complaints.

GREAT DISCOVERIES.—The astronomer who discovers a new star, the scientist who finds a new face, or the geologist who alights upon a new spices of fossil, becomes deservedly famous; but the actual good such discoveries do is nothing when compared to the finding of a medicine which is an infallible cure for certain diseases. Such a discovery was made nearly half a century ago by an Eastern gentleman named Perry Davis, and his preparation is now known to the world as PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER. It is a sure cure for Diarrhœa, Cramps, Cholera Morbus, Cholera, and indeed all bowel complaints, 25c. only for Big 2 oz bottle.

New Advertisements.

WALL - STREET!

OPERATE SUCCESSFULLY IN WALL ST.

THROUGH OUR

Co-Operative R.R. Stock Syndicate.

Large Profits Realized with Minimum Risks.

"PROSPECTUS AND DAILY MARKET LETTER" MAILED FREE. HIGHEST REFERENCE.

WEINMAN & CO.

Stock and Grain Broker,

NO. 41 BROADWAY, NEW YORK CITY.

1d Oct. 3st, 1m eod

QUEEN'S - OPERA - HOUSE.

- SATURDAY -

MATINEE & EVENING, OCTOBER 6TH.

Margart L. Sheppard & Co.,

In a great Drama of her own life,

"TRIED AS BY FIRE,"

By the eminent English Actor,

MARTIN CLEWORTH,

And a specially selected Company with Magnificent Costumes and Scenery.

Matinee Prices, - 25 & 35c.

Evening Prices, 25, 35 & 60c.

PETTYJOHN'S

CALIFORNIA BREAKFAST FOOD

Dyspeptics can eat this food.

It is particularly adapted for children and persons of sedentary habits.

It is made from Pacific coast wheat hulled and crushed by improved machinery.

It can be easily prepared for breakfast, as this crushing process makes it soft and tender and easy to cook

Ask your physician which is best for you to eat, oats or wheat

Pettijohn's California Breakfast Food is sold in packages by

BENMORE & BENSON.

ALLAN LINE,

Royal Mail Steamships. Liverpool, Calling at Moville.

	From Montreal daylight	From Quebec
PARISIAN	Oct. 6	Oct. 7
MONGOLIAN	" 13	" 14
HIBERNIAN	" 20
LAURENTIAN	" 27	" 28
NUMIDIAN	Nov. 3	Nov. 3
PARISIAN	" 10	" 11

RATES OF PASSAGE.

First cabin Derry and Liverpool, $45 and upwards single; $95 and upwards return. Second cabin, Liverpool, Derry, Belfast, Glasgow, $30; return $55. Steerage at lowest rates (everything found).

All steamships except the Hibernian carry 1st cabin, 2nd cabin and steerage passengers.

STATE LINE SERVICE

NEW YORK, LONDONDERRY AND GLASGOW.

STATE OF NEBRASKA	Oct. 12
STATE OF CALIFORNIA	" 26
STATE OF NEBRASKA	Nov. 22

Cabin passage, $40 and upward, return $80 and upward; Second cabin $25. Steerage at lowest rates.

For tickets and other information apply to U. E. THOMPSON General Ticket Agency, Bridge St., Belleville, or to S. BURROWS, Agent.

NEW.. GOODS

—AT—

FISH'S.

New Neckwear, the very latest, the colorings are entirely new, shapes very nobby, and prices very low.

New underwear, in all weights, all kinds, all prices, all sizes and cheaper than ever.

New half hose in cashmere, merino, Scotch lamb's wool and hard knitted Our 25c socks are great value.

See our new pink and blue shirts, our own make, the very latest.

A. E. FISH & CO.

The Noted Shirt Makers of Belleville.

IT - HAS - BEEN - ADMITTED

— BY OVER 125 PEOPLE IN BELLEVILLE THAT THE —

John Bull Wrought Steel Range,

Is the most Economical, Everlasting and Useful Range on the market. How is this for three Seasons.

SEE THEM AT FOSTER'S.

Also the Duchess of Oxford Cast Iron Range

GENTLEMEN....

Before ordering your Fall Clothing don't fail to take a look through

A. N. REID'S

New Fall Importations of

Scotch, English and Irish Suitings, Overcoatings, Pantings, Irish Serges, Cheviots, Hop Sackings and Black Worsteds

First Class Goods and Prices low.

Mr. Minor, our cutter, is one of the best in Ontario.

EVERY GARMENT GUARANTEED!!

Please call and inspect our New Goods.

A. N. REID.

THIS MATTER CHANGED DAILY.

WEDNESDAY, Oct. 3.

DRESS GOODS!

Just received a case of new dress goods at much below value:

35c Dress Goods for	.. ..	25c
50c " " "	.. ..	40c
75c " " "	.. ..	50c

These are the latest styles.

JACKETS.

Value excellent all around our jacket department.

Call and see them.

W. FLINT JONES.

Next door to Haines & Lockett.

-PLUMBING-

We have added to our Workmen,

MR. GEORGE JOHNSON,

Who has for the past six years been prominent on large contracts in Victoria, B. C., San Francisco, Denver, and Chicago.

— ALSO —

MR. EDWIN W. BISHOP,

A graduate of the New York School for Plumbing (class 92), who comes highly recommended.

With these men added to our staff, we feel sure of giving satisfaction to all in Sanitary Plumbing.

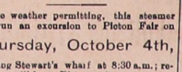

C. F. Smith & Co.

FRESH ...

GROCERIES...

Are in demand by every careful housewife. They do not stay fresh long, and many people are bitten every day by buying stale goods. The undersigned has opened a store on Front Street in the stand occupied by Manson McMullen for so many years, and has put in stock a full line of Provisions, Groceries, Confectionery, Cigars, Flour and Feed, Etc., all fresh. The store opened to-day, and everyone is invited to look over the stock.

J. A. ELLIOTT.

Str. C. H. "Merritt."

The weather permitting, this steamer will run an excursion to Picton Fair on Thursday, October 4th,

Leaving Stewart's wharf at 8:30 a.m.; returning will leave Picton at 7 p.m.

TICKETS, - 35cts.

DON'T

Fail to see our fine display of

CANDIES

—AND—

FINE BAKERY GOODS

To morrow (Saturday).

H. C. DICKENS & SON.

P.S.—Oysters now arriving in fine order.

CANADIAN.. MERCHANTS. FOLLOW...

O B C METHODS.

Some of the largest importing firms in Canada that have relations with great English houses, send their financial statements at the end of each year to Britain on O. B. C. Balance Sheet Forms. Following is a sample of an order.

Office of RYAN BROS., Importers, OWEN SOUND, Feb. 7, '94.

MESSRS. ROBINSON & JOHNSON, Ontario Business College,

Gentlemen.—Please send us five Balance Sheet Blanks, same as you supply to Messrs. G. B. Ryan & Co., of Guelph.

Yours truly, RYAN BROS.

NO DOUBT YOU WILL REQUIRE A.........

New Hat Or Bonnet..

The Most Stylish and Wearable...

MILLINERY IS AT

J. P. THOMPSON & CO.

STOCK COMPLETE IN ALL DEPARTMENTS.

No-To-Bac.

Guaranteed to Cure

TOBACCO HABIT

In Every Form

at the Pharmacy.

D. M. WATERS.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY.

WESTERN - EXCURSIONS

On October 4th, 5th and 6th. Return Tickets will be issued from Belleville to—

DETROIT and PORT HURON	}	$6.50
CLEVELAND	}	9.00
SAGINAW and BAY CITY	}	9 50
GRAND RAPIDS	}	10 50
CHICAGO and CINCINNATI	}	12,50
ST. PAUL and MINNEAPOLIS	via Chicago or North Bay	35.50
ST. PAUL and MINNEAPOLIS	via Lake and Rail	37.50

Tickets will be good to return until Oct. 22nd. For tickets and all information apply to

U.E. THOMPSON.

General Ticket Agent. Bridge Street,

HAPPY HOME RANGES.

Best in the Market.

—ALSO—

A Full Line of

Art Garland

and

Famous Heaters.

—(o)—

Wm. McGIE.

Next to Nathan Jones.

Telephone 38. Front St.

GLASGOW WAREHOUSE,

BELLEVILLE.

We are now showing complete lines in the following goods:

Ladies' Hygeian Underwear
Misses' Hygeian Underwear
Boys' plain and ribbed Underwear
Ladies' " " Cashmere Hose
Ladies' " " Wool Hose
Boys' " " Wool Hose
Ladies' black and colored Kid Gloves
" " " Cashmere Gloves
Ladies' Cashmere and Silk Mitts
Baby Ribbons in all makes and colors
Laces, Handkerchiefs and Corsets.

CARPETS, OILCLOTHS and CURTAINS in endless variety.

Larger lines in Canadian Staples at close cash prices.

VANDERVOORT & GIBSON,

Successors to the late J. W. Dunnet.

Belleville, Oct. 3, 1894.

P.S.—A large show case and table for sale, cheap.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, WEDNESDAY, OCT 3

Chauncey Ashley, issuer of marriage licenses, Division Court Office, Pinnacle street or at residence over Benmore & Benson's store. d&w

CITY AND DISTRICT.

At his watch he looks intently,
While a smile lights up his face,
And I know as well as can be
There's a woman in the case.

Division Court was held to day and fourteen cases were disposed of.

Be sure and attend Grant's cheap cash sale if you want bargains in Boots and Shoes.

The Ramblers' Bicycle Club intend giving a concert in the opera house about the 1st of November.

Business is looking up at the G.T.R. station. Receipts for September are in excess of the same month last year.

The Str. Varuna will run an excursion to Picton fair, Wed. and Thurs. 3rd and 4th. Fare 50c good for both days. 128d2t.

The hose company at the G.T.R. station had a practice run this morning and their work with the reel and hose was quickly done.

"All run down" from weakening effect of warm weather, you need a good tonic and blood purifier like Hood's Sarsaparilla. Try it.

The Panopticon offers great attractions. Let all good citizens avail themselves of this unique entertainment, as the object deserves the encouragement of all.

The annual meeting of the Junior Conservative Association of Belleville will be held at the office of Messrs. Mikel & Roberts on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

Willie J. McCormick, 14 years of age, is the winner of Mr. Summerville's prize for free-hand drawing in the High School, Gertrude Pringle, also 14 years old, and Florence Doughan, 14 years old, received honorable mention.

The universal prevalence of scrofula is a fact well-known to physicians. The only medicine that has hitherto proved a specific for his dreadful complaint is Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which expels every germ of poison from the blood. You cannot begin to use it too soon.

"For several months, I was troubled with a persistent humor on my head which gave me considerable annoyance, until it occurred to me to try Ayer's Hair Vigor. Before using one bottle, the humor was healed."—T. T. Adams, General Merchant, Turbevill, Va.

PROBABILITIES.

TORONTO, Oct. 3 —Fresh to strong south-easterly to south-westerly winds; mostly fair, with higher temperatures; some local showers.

Ladies' Fine Rubbers.

Be sure and see our Ladies' fine rubbers with rolled edge, as it is almost impossible for them to break at the side.—VERMILYEA & SON.

Mr. John White's Funeral.

A carryall will leave the Orange Hall, Front St., to-morrow morning at 7:30 for Roslin. Mr. White's funeral takes place at 10 o'clock.

Died.

DOCTER.—At Belleville, on Tuesday, Oct. 2, 1894, WILLIAM J. DOCTER, aged 30 years, 2 months and nine days.

The funeral will take place from the family residence, near G.T.R. station, on Thursday, Oct. 4 h, 1894, at 2:30 p.m.

Kansas City and St. Paul papers please copy.

Police Court.

Patrick Ryan, who was alleged to have set a dog on a boy named La Palm, whom it is said to have bit, was charged with assault and remanded until to-morrow.

The police had two calls last night, but found all quiet.

For Men Only.

Wednesday and Thursday (to-day and to-morrow) any of our gents' very broad toe lace or gaiter boots, any size, for one dollar, also a lot of gents' heavy sole lace shoes worth three or four dollars for one dollar. Open to-night till 10 o'clock.—HAINES & LOCKETT.

The Walk Too Low.

There is a kick among some of the merchants on the west side of Front St. above Hotel St. over the granolithic pavement being laid lower than the old walk, and even lower than the centre of the street. They say that it will be impossible to keep the water off it in the spring. It looks as though their kick was coming too late, as the walk is nearly completed on that side of the street.

Cold in the head—Nasal Balm gives instant relief; speedily cures. Never fails.

WOMAN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION.

FIFTEENTH ANNUAL MEETING AND THE ELECTION OF OFFICERS FOR 1894.

The Secretary Reports a Successful Year—Interesting Statistics of the Work—Some Improvements Needed.

The annual meeting of the Woman's Christian Association was held in the city hall yesterday afternoon, when the affairs of the Association were reported upon and discussed.

Mrs. C. E. Bell, the highly efficient Secretary, submitted her annual report, of which the following is a summary:

240 patients have been treated in the hospital since October 1893, an increase of 48 over the number admitted last year. Of these, 159 were from the city, 57 from the county, 11 from other counties, and 3 from the United States. There were 134 admitted to the private wards, (29 more than last year). There were 17 cases of typhoid fever, 3 births, 101 surgical cases, 51 of which necessitated operation, all of which were successful. Ten persons died during the year, 2 from typhoid fever—one of these patients came in during the third week of the disease—1 from diphtheria 24 hours after admission. The remainder had been received in an incurable state.

Amount received from patients $1889 60. Private nursing $236 75, medicines and dressings $161.50, making a total of $2287.85.

The training school for nurses is now in operation; a regular course of lectures being given during the winter by the lady superintendent and members of the medical staff.

The Hospital board are gratified by the success which has attended the work of the nurses, not only in the city, but in several towns where their services have been engaged.

The various improvements made during the year are referred to, as detailed in these columns, in an illustrated article, and the report continues:

Eight aged persons have been cared for in the home, 3 men and 5 women. Two of the latter, and one of the former all over seventy, passed away during the summer.

The expenses are given under the various heads. The total being $5,398 83, and the building of a new wing to the hospital is strongly urged upon the public.

The death of Mr. Dunnet is feelingly referred to, and regret is expressed at the retirement of Mrs. (Rev. M. W.) Maclean, President, and Mrs. W. Tennent, one of the Vice-Presidents.

The monthly collections for the year fall far below those of last year, only $207.90 in all being subscribed in this way. The boxes brought $25.99.

The sum of $1,200 granted by the City Council for the city poor was supplemented by donations from the following kind friends: From the Literary Society of the Belleville Business College, $91 11; from Mr. H. Corby, $75.00; from Miss Biggar, $25, and various small sums from other friends, which money was distributed among the poor as conscientiously as possible by the ward committees. Nine hundred lbs. of beef was given out at Xmas to 85 families, and a number of city poor nursed in the hospital.

Following is the expenditure:—Wards, $929 03; city poor and hospital, $317 00; undertaking and cemetery bill, $50 00; Christmas beef, $36 00; cartage, $12 75; ward books, etc., $3 50. Total, $1,348 28.

The Dorcas Society met every Wednesday afternoon, during the winter to sew for the hospital, make garments for the poor and also to receive and distribute second hand clothing to the needy. They appeal to all kind friends to send, before winter sets in, such wearing apparel as they can find or spare.

The Association express their appreciation of the services of the lady superintendent, Miss Gordon, who so well fulfils the arduous duties of her responsible position, and also thank Mr. J. L. Biggar for auditing the books.

Mrs. Stewart, Corresponding Secretary, and Mrs. Flint, Treasurer, presented their reports. The funds stand as follows:

HOSPITAL AND HOME.

Balance on hand, Oct. '93	$ 667 07
Grants contributions, etc	5,152 43
Membership fees	196 00
	$6,015 50
Expended during year	5,636 41
On deposit	379 09
	$6,015.50

BUILDING FUND,

Balance brought down	$1,250.00
Interest	30 75
Excursion given by friends of the Ometa	77.50
Excursion given by musical young men	14 50
R. Filliter	2.00
	$1,374 75
Withdrawn for talent use	125.00
On Deposit	1,249.75
	$1,374 75

INDIGENT.

Grant from city	$1,200.00
B.B.C. Literary Society	91.11
Mr. and Mrs. Corby	75 00
Donation	25.00
"	2 00
"	2.00
	$1.395.11
Expended	1,348.28
Repaid Loans	58
Balance on hand	40.25
	$1,395.11

Mrs. Maclean handed in her declination of being again elected to the Presidency as follows:

ST. ANDREW'S MANSE, Oct. 2, '94.

MY DEAR FRIENDS,—I cannot retire from the honorable position of President, to which you have elected me year after year for the last nine years, without thanking you all for the great kindness you have shown and the way in which you have borne with me in my efforts to fulfil the duties of the office.

It is with a good deal of pain, and after much thought, that I made up my mind to withdraw from active work in the Association for a time at least.

It has been a great pleasure to me to watch the steady growth and prosperity of our work. When I look back to the time when we first organized and remember with what eagerness we planned, and to how many of us our dreams of providing a hospital seemed like "castles in the air," and now that we witness the more than fulfilment of our most sanguine expectations, I feel deep gratitude to our Heavenly Father.

In handing over the duties of my office to my successor, I have the greatest satisfaction in knowing that everything in connection with our work is in a most flourishing condition.

Our building is free of debt; we have also been able year by year to make many and necessary improvements and have also had the funds on hand to pay for them.

The hospital has been growing steadily in favor with the public and is now doing the work we hoped it would do when we tried so hard to establish it, namely the relief and comfort of our sick poor as well as the benefit of those who are able to pay for the care and treatment they receive, and also furnishing a place where the most critical operations can be performed with all the skill and all the means which the rapid and marvellous studies in Surgery have placed at our disposal.

I must also express the deep gratitude I feel at the harmonious manner in which our various committees have done their work during the whole time I have held office. We have not had a single jar or expression of dissatisfaction, which is remarkable when you remember that we have representatives of every Church in the city working together.

I have also to thank the medical staff for their kind courteous treatment and their willingness to agree to any plan devised that had the interests of the Hospital in view. In retiring for this year at least to be relieved from all office and committee work, after a time I hope, if it is the wish of the Association, to take an active part again.

I need not assure you of my continued and hearty sympathy with you all, and my earnest prayer will be that our work may go on and prosper much more abundantly in the future than it has done in the past.

I shall be very glad to give any assistance and advise in my power to our new President.

Everything is now working in such a systematic way that I do not think she will experience much difficulty in fulfilling the duties of her important office.

Your obedient servant,
ISABELLA E. MACLEAN.

The resignation was accepted with great regret, and the following resolution was passed:

Moved by Mrs. T. Stewart, seconded by Mrs. Flint, whereas Mrs. M. W. Maclean has declined again to accept the office of President of the W.C.A. we desire to place on record our regret at her decision and we thank her very heartily for the able and efficient manner she has performed the duties of President during the past nine years amid difficulties and trials, joys and sorrows, she has always had the best interests of our Association at heart, guiding the affairs with energy and tact. We trust she may long be spared to wield her influence for God in our beautiful city until the Master calls her to one of the many mansions prepared for those who love him.

ERSKINE STEWART.
Cor. Sec. W.C.A.

The following officers and trustees were elected:

President—Mrs. Clarke,
1st Vice.—Mrs. Tannahill,
2nd Vice.—Miss Eppes,
3rd Vice.—Mrs. Yeomans,
Cor. Sec.—Mrs. T. Stewart,
Rec. Sec.—Mrs. R J. Bell,
Treasurer.—Mrs. Flint.

Trustees: Mesdames Maclean, Tannahill, (Dr.) Clarke, Denmark, Parker, Furnival, Yeomans, Greatrix, R. J. Bell, Corby, Thos. Stewart, Ritchie Coleman, N. Jones, Garratt, J. L. Biggar, Geo. Walker, St. Charles, Alexander, John Bell, Perkins, Hudson, McAnnany, Geo. Hope, Dunnet, Casey, A. Cartwright, J. Lewis, W. R. Aylsworth, Anning, Duncan, Thos. Lingham, W. W. Chown, (Dr.) Sprague, Misses Hope, M. Murney, Eppes, M. Holden, Ritchie, Casswell, Brignall, Williamson, M. G. Gibson, Hay, Chandler, Smart, Parker, and Dr. Embury.

A communication was received from Dr. Gibson, formally handing over to the hospital the surgical instruments and appliances of the operating room at the hospital, which he had supplied by the request of the late D. Stoddart.

A resolution was passed thanking Dr. Gibson for the interest which he had taken in the matter.

A Greater Snap.

Thousands of heavy all wool full cloth pants, only 85c. per pair at Gough's, the big clothier—no use, the small fellows ain't in it. Two years ago you had to pay $2.25 for these same pants in quality, but Gough soon brought them down to $1.25, then $1, and now only 85cts. per pair. Remember, we are the clothing firm who say what we mean and can prove what we say, and we can prove that we are selling those pants at less than they cost the baby clothiers. Don't forget, "Always good at Gough's," leaders of the clothing trade in Canada.

Tea for Belleville and Surrounding District.

Messrs. Stroud Bros., the tea dealers, are now receiving their fall importations of new crop teas. Their second large shipment arrived on Saturday last by steamer Alexandria, and formed an immense pile in front of their store. This totals over 4 tons 125 bf.-chests, new crop teas received by them, and that have still another large shipment arriving next week.

St. Andrew's to be Restored.

The congregation of St. Andrew's church met on Monday evening and decided to ask for plans for a new building and to commence removing the old walls and debris at once. The ladies of the congregation have formed themselves into a society, whose object will be to secure funds for interior furnishings for the new building.

Emergency Meeting.

The members of Oxford Lodge No. 17, Sons of England, are requested to meet at their Lodge rooms to-morrow, 4th inst., at 1:30 o'clock, p.m., to attend the funeral of our late brother, William J. Docter. The brethren of Lydford Lodge are invited to join the members of Oxford Lodge. By order, WM. HOPKINS, President, J. Fenn, Secretary.

Birthday Party.

Miss Blanche Cochrane held a birthday party last evening, and invited a number of her young friends. The evening was passed very pleasantly, and the young people enjoyed themselves in a most pleasing manner. At an early hour this morning the party retired to their various homes feeling happy over their evening's enjoyment.

A Finger Taken Off.

Mr. Greenfield, foreman in the Belleville Canning Factory, had the first finger on his left hand taken off yesterday in a corn machine. Dr. Gibson dressed the wound and the patient is doing well as could be expected.

Make the Comparison.

In buying your new overcoat this fall, kindly remember that the Oak Hall have the reputation for selling a superior class of made up goods. Now, if the reader has a doubt about the matter, make a comparison. This is fair, surely. We are willing to abide by the decision of any one.

R. J. McCurdy's Death.

Mr. Jas. McCurdy received a letter today from the widow of R. J. McCurdy, his brother, whose death we noted some days ago, and it stated that her husband died from intestinal ulcers. He was only ill three weeks and his death was quite unexpected.

Stoves and Stove Pipes.

The best varnish for pipes and stoves may be had in small tin cans for 10 and 15 cents, at L. W. Yeomans & Co's. It is more durable than ordinary pipe varnish, and less offensive when the fire is first started.

Sent Up.

Peter Collins, a tramp who stole some tools from Friend Andrews' workshop, was yesterday convicted before Judge Lazier and sentenced to one month in gaol.

HUNGERFORD EXHIBITION.

A SPLENDID FAIR HELD AT TWEED YESTERDAY.

Large Crowds Turn Out to See the Exhibits—Tweed and Its Growth—Splendid Horses and Cattle—Fancy Work Department—The Association Require Grounds—Notes.

The annual fall fair of the Hungerford Agricultural Society was held in the village of Tweed yesterday, and its success more than met the most sanguine expectations of the officers and directors. The weather, which was threatening in the morning, cleared toward noon and though cool was all that could be wished. The farmers turned out in large numbers and they all seemed greatly pleased by the advancement evident not only in the fair, but also in the beautiful village. Tweed has made rapid strides of late and what was once a struggling country village is now fast arriving at the proportions of a modern town. Everywhere one sees the signs of prosperity. In newly erected houses, mostly brick, large blocks of stores, fine churches and last but not least good hotels well managed and equipped. There seems to be a feeling of reliance in the future of the town by the merchants and business men and all appear to be working toward a common end—the advancement of everything that will tend towards the growth and development of the town.

The Hungerford Agricultural Society have every reason to feel proud of the display made yesterday, and they deserve all the success they have attained, for they have fought against great odds in not having grounds on which to hold their exhibitions, and also in having to hold their show in Tweed and Thomasburg alternately, which is a condition of the charter, but they hope to get it transferred to Tweed in the near future, when they will move toward securing proper grounds and equipments. The officers of the Society are: President, Robt. Sayers; Vice President, Robt. Tufts, sr.; Secretary, David Beatty; Treasurer, Geo. H. Clare; Directors, Norman Dafoe, Samuel Elliott, John Newton, Thos. Barber, Samuel Good, Thos Graham sr., and Thos. Graham jr.; Committee of Management, Wm. White, Adam McGowan, Sandy Grant, Jas. Quinn, Robt. Robinson, W. H. Craig and Robt. Tufts sr.

The principal exhibitors were:

CATTLE.—William Elliott, Durhams; Robt. Tufts sr., Jerseys; Sidney Way, Ayrshire and Durham grades; John Newton, Ayrshires; David Beatty, Ayshires; John Gordon, Ayrshires; Samuel Good, Ayrshires; Robt. Sayers, Holsteins.

HORSES.—Draught and General Purpose Class.—E. Maines, Wm. Brown, J. H. Elliott, Thos. Barber, Ed. Johnson, Robt. Sayers, Jas. Clare and Jas. Bateman, Carriage teams—Murney Coulter, John Dwyer, Thos. Graham, Jas. Tucker, J. L. Newton, Robt. Casky, Jas. Parks and Levi O'Coin. Single drivers—M. Coulter, S. Grant, Ed. Fritchett, Wm. Brown, Thos. Graham, jr., Samuel Bowers, J. M. Grills, J. L. Newton, J. Dean, S. Fluke, Jas. Parks, H. Badgley, Wellington Embury and Geo. Frost.

SHEEP.—Thos. Barber, Geo. Clare, Wm. E. Elliott, J. H. Elliott, Jas. Tucker, S. Fluke and Jas. Clare.

SWINE—Ed. Johnson, Robt Tufts, J. Dean, E. Maines, Wm. Hicks, Geo. Clare, Robt. Sayers, Jas. Tucker and Robt. Casky.

POULTRY.—E. Maines, J. H. Elliott, Thos. Barber, Wm. Elliott, J. Dean, Robt. Tufts, sr., and Robt. McGuire.

Lady's Work and Home Manufactures.—John H. Maines, M. Coulter, Robt. McGuire, Geo. Sherry, Norman Dafoe, J. M. Grills, Ed. Johnson, Thos. Graham, sr., Wm. Brown, Ed. Fritchett, Geo. Gullet, Geo. Graham, J. W. Shaw and Jas. Tucker.

There were several special prizes offered by the merchants of the village and others. A competition that drew a large crowd was for prizes offered by hotel keepers for a team that could draw a load farthest in five minutes. The contest took place in a vacant lot in front of Mr. Esterbrook's large mill. A stone boat was loaded with pig iron and several teams entered for the prize. Wm. Brown won the first prize amid loud acclamations of applause.

NOTES.

The crowd, which was large, was the most orderly we have ever seen, and that without official restraint.

The Town Hall was used for the display of fancy work, fruits, vegetables, grain and domestics' manufactures, and a large number visited the display.

The officers of the Society are most courteous and obliging, especially the secretary, Mr. Beatty, who is serving his first year in that capacity.

A horse ran away in the afternoon on the main street but no one was hurt.

The carriage teams were numerous, and we think Hungerford can beat any of her sister townships in this class of animals.

Another pleasing feature of the exhibition, was the absence of fakirs, who were not allowed to work their nefarious games in the village.

CRIMINAL ASSAULT.

A Very Mysterious Case Alleged to Have Happened at a Hotel.

Yesterday Mr. Byron Way, proprietor of the Hub Hotel, was advised that a girl named Lena Frier, in his employ, had been criminally assaulted on his premises by Wm. Lynch, bar tender in the hotel. When questioned the girl said that the assault had been committed; and that she had been ashamed to inform Mrs. Way or himself and had taken action through Mr. W. P. McMahon.

Lynch, when charged with the offence, admitted his guilt, and after having been visited by Mr. McMahon, left his employment and disappeared. The girl was dismissed by Mr. Way for having failed to report the facts to Mrs. Way or himself. She also was not to be found this morning and the police say she has not laid an information in the matter.

September Examinations.

NO. 1 SCHOOL

E. Waterhouse.—Senior Part II.—Gilbert Gardner, Christie Pratt, Minnie Ruttan, Aggie Bowler.

Junior Part II.—Harry Stapley, George Handley, Jessie Hodgins.

GOOD SPIRITS

follow good health while low spirits, melancholia, impaired memory, morose, or irritable temper, fear of impending calamity and a thousand and one derangements of body and mind, result from pernicious, solitary practices, often indulged in by the young, through ignorance of their ruinous consequences. Nervous debility, and loss of manly power, not infrequently result from such unnatural habits.

To reach, reclaim and restore such unfortunates to health and happiness, is the aim of an association of medical gentlemen, who have prepared a treatise, written in plain but chaste language and treating of the nature, symptoms and curability, by home treatment, of such diseases.

A copy of this useful book will, on receipt of this notice, with 10 cents in stamps, for postage, be mailed securely sealed in a plain envelope. Address, WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, Buffalo, N. Y.

GEO. RITCHIE & CO.

HIGH GRADE GARMENTS

At Moderate Prices!

OUR stock of LADIES' JACKETS and WRAPS is very complete. It embraces the very latest modes from Great Britain, Paris and Berlin. Our facilities for buying enable us to show the very latest novelties at the lowest possible prices. Our Mr. Ritchie spent a fortnight in Berlin this season making a personal selection of the newest shapes and materials from the best makers known to the trade. We cordially invite you to pay a visit to this department whether you wish to buy or not.

GREAT VARIETY
. . . . OF STYLES!

Three-quarter length Prince Albert Coats in Cheviots, Friezes and Beavers.

Three-quarter length Cheviot and Serge Coats, fur trimmed, beautifully finished.

Three-quarter length Frieze Jackets, tight fitting, with Eton front, braid trimmed.

Three-quarter length Fancy Tweed Coats, large reveres, tight fitting, strap seams, very nobby.

Three-quarter length Fine Beaver Coat, tight fitting, full sleeves, silk lined, trimmed with moire, fur edged, very new style.

Golf Capes, with silk-lined Hoods, in a variety of choice materials, plaid linings.

A Fine Assortment of Children's Garments

Geo. Ritchie & Co.

Hood's Cured After Others Failed

Scrofula in the Neck—Bunches All Gone Now.

Sangerville, Maine.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"Gentlemen:—I feel that I cannot say enough in favor of Hood's Sarsaparilla. For five years I have been troubled with scrofula in my neck and throat. Several kinds of medicines which I tried did not do me any good, and when I commenced to take Hood's Sarsaparilla there were large bunches on my neck so sore that I could not bear the slightest touch. When I had taken one bottle of this medicine, the soreness had gone, and before I had finished the second the bunches had entirely disappeared." BLANCHE ATWOOD, Sangerville, Maine.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

N. B. If you decide to take Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to buy any other.

Hood's Pills cure constipation by restoring the peristaltic action of the alimentary canal.

Changed Daily.

WEDNESDAY, Oct. 3rd, 1894.

SALAD . .

DISHES . .

We have some nice China Salad Bowls and Fruit Dishes at 80c and $1.00 each, China

BERRY . .

SETS . . . .

at $1.20, $1.25 and $1.50 a set. Take a look at them when you want to get a set.

Stroud's

TEA STORE.

BELLEVILLE PLATING WORKS

HARRIS & WALTON'S FACTORY, MILL ST.

ELECTRO—Gold, Silver, Nickel, Copper, Brass and Bronze.

PLATING—Also Carriage Plating, Polishing, Buffing and Lacquering. Antique finishes of all kinds.

BURTON & MILLER

MORE ROOM WANTED!

- - AT THE - -

. . . LEADING BARGAIN HOUSE!

Daily the reminder comes to us that we're crowded for room. New Goods keep coming in upon us. We must make room by quickly reducing stocks. Reducing prices will do it.

A CHOICE STOCK . . . .

. . . . Bargains everywhere.

For reasons best known to themselves, some manufacturers offered us strong inducements to buy sundry lines of Dress Goods, Hosiery and Underwear.

The Millinery Department fairly sparkles with Novelties, and the prices are to say the least very tempting.

H. A. LAYTON, BELLEVILLE.

Front St., Opposite Campbell St.

WALL-PAPER!

SEE THAT?

CLEANLINESS!
HEALTH!
ECONOMY!
HAPPINESS!
FURNISHING!
CHARACTER!
ART!
Common Sense

There's a Lot of Meaning in it for You!!

There's an array that is hard to beat!

Could you ask more? Here it is

A Discount of 10 per cent. for 30 days.

Test our Ability to Advise on Interior Decorations.

C. B. SCANTLEBURY.

Perry Davis' PAIN-KILLER

Buy Big 25c. Bottle

NO OTHER MEDICINE ON EARTH is so efficacious for Colic, Canadian Cholera, Cramps, Chills, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum and all Bowel Complaints.

ESTABLISHED 1870.

Greenland Seal Driving Capes 24 Inches Long $12.00

Wool Seal Empire Capes 26 Inches Long $18.00

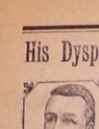

Persian Lamb Jackets made to order from $60.00 up, according to length and quality. Seal Jackets made to order, $125.00 up, according to length and quality. Thousands of dollars worth of Skins to pick from.

S. A. HYMAN.

Manufacturing Furrier.

P.S.—Old Furs cleaned, dyed and made over in latest styles.

His Dyspepsia Cured.

MR. GEO. READ.

DEAR SIRS,—I write you to say that for some time I had been suffering from acute indigestion or dyspepsia, and of course felt very great inconvenience from same in my general business. I thereupon decided to try Burdock Blood Bitters, and after taking two bottles I found I was quite another man, for

B. B. B. CURED ME.

I have also used it for my wife and family, and have found it the best thing they can take, and from past experience I have every pleasure in strongly recommending B. B. B. to all my friends.

I write you because I think that it should be generally known what B.B.B. can accomplish in cases of indigestion.

GEORGE READ, Sherbrooke, Que.

HAMILTON,
TORONTO AND MONTREAL.
Via Bay or Quinte. Calling at all Ports weekly.

THE FAVORITE STEAMER

"MAGNET"

Leaves St. Catharines Tuesday 9 a. m.
Toronto " 4 p. m.
Leaves Belleville for Montreal } Wednesday 7:30 a m
Leaves Belleville for Toronto } Sunday 8 p. m.
First Class Passenger Accommodation. Large Freight Capacity. Lowest Rates
For Tickets, Rates, &c., Apply to the RATHBUN COMPANY, Agents, or to
CAPT. J. J. TOWERS, Superintendent, No. 2 King st., Toronto.
C. F. GILDERSLEEVE, General Manager, 228 St. Paul st., Montreal.

ROCHESTER,
KINGSTON AND MONTREAL.
Weekly Service Calling at Way Ports
THE FAVORITE STEAMER

"ALEXANDRIA"

Leaves Montreal, Thursday at 10:00 a. m.
Arrives Belleville, Saturday at 11:45 a. m.
Leaves for Rochester " 1:15 p. m.
Arrives from Rochester, Monday at 6:30 a m
Leaves for Montreal, " 7:30 a m

Spacious and elegant Saloon. Ample Stateroom accommodation. The shortest and best Meals furnished. Safety, comfort and enjoyment ensured by personal supervision of Capt. Smith and Purser Melrose. Careful handling of freight.

For Tickets, State rooms at lowest rates apply to
THE RATHBUN COMPANY, Agents.

Bay of Quinte Steamb't Route
TRI-WEEKLY
DESER'TO, PICTON & KINGSTON
1894 - 1894

STR. "HERO"

THIS favorite steamer is now lighted by electricity and will have a strong search light for excursion business and the boat is heated by steam.

Commencing Monday, April 9th, will leave Belleville Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 6 a m, returning Tuesday, Thursday and Friday at 11 p m.

The very best facilities are offered to shippers of freight. The lowest through and local rates quoted.

No wharfage at Picton on freight for this steamer.

Full information given by Gilbert Johnston on board, or to the
RATHBUN COMP'Y.
J. H. GILDERSLEEVE, Ticket Agent, Kingston.

ROCHESTER,
STEAMER

NORTH KING

Leaves for Charlotte, N. Y., every Sunday, 11:45 p.m.

Leaves for Picton and Kingston every Sunday, 3:30 a. m.

Arrive from Picton and Kingston every Sunday, 11:45 p.m.

Arrives from Charlotte, N. Y., every Sunday, 3:30 a. m.

Special attention given to passengers and freight.

WEEK DAYS—Steamer leaves Port Hope week days for Charlotte, N. Y., at 9:45 a.m.

Calls at Brighton Monday 2 a.m., and Wednesday 2.30 a.m., and at Colborne Thursday and Fridays 4 a.m.

Connection made by Grand Trunk morning trains.

THE RATHBUN CO., U. E. THOMPSON, 43d Agents, Agent.

Steamer "Iona"

Will eave Belleville three times each week for Oswego, connecting with trains for New York.

INSURANCE.

Western Assurance Company,
Fire and Marine Head Office, Toronto
North British & Mercantile Ins. Co.,
Fire and Life, Head Office (Can.) Montreal
Atlas Insurance Company,
Fire, Head Office (Canada), Montreal
M. M. THOMPSON
Water West at Office, Bridge St.

Daily Intelligencer.

At Death's Door—Dyspepsia Conquered —A Great Medical Triumph.

GENTLEMEN,—My medical adviser and others told me I could not possibly live when I commenced to use Northrop & Lyman's VEGETABLE DISCOVERY for Dyspepsia. My case was one of the worst of its kind. For three years I could not eat meat and my weight decreased from 210 to 119 lbs. All the food I took for thirteen months previous to taking the VEGETABLE DISCOVERY consisted of milk. I am now entirely cured and have regained my usual weight, can eat anything with a keen relish and feel like a new man. I have sold over thirty dozen VEGETABLE DISCOVERY since it cured me, as I am well known, and people in this city know how low I was, and thought I could not possibly be cured. They are eager to try this grand medicine. It certainly saved my life, as I never expected to recover when first I commenced using it. I am not exaggerating anything but feel glad to be able to contribute this testimonial and trust it may be the means of convincing others of its merits as a certain cure for Dyspepsia.
Signed, JEAN VALCOUR,
Wotton, P. Q.

In 1888 the people of Great Britain paid taxes on 402 200 cartridges.

Is there anything more annoying than having your corn stepped upon? Is there anything more delightful than getting rid of it? Belleway's Corn Cure will do it. Try it and be convinced.

In Portugal the tobacco tax brings £900,000, the land tax £700.000.

Some people laugh to show their pretty teeth. The use of Ivory White Tooth Powder makes people laugh more than ever. It's so nice. Price 25c. Sold by druggists.

Worms cause feverishness, moaning and restlessness during sleep. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator is pleasant, sure and effectual. If your druggist has none in stock, get him to procure it for you.

The rate of taxation has nearly quadrupled in France since 1830.

DYSPEPSIA causes dizziness, headache, constipation, variable appetite, rising and soaring of food, palpitation of the heart, distress after eating. Burdock Blood Bitters is guaranteed to cure Dyspepsia if faithfully used according to directions.

Until about forty years ago, the Persian Government levied a tax on cats.

MR. T. J. HAMES, Columbus, Ohio, writes: "I have been afflicted for some time with kidney and Liver Complaint, and find Parmelee's Pills the best medicine for these diseases These Pills do not cause pain or griping, and should be used when a cathartic is required. They are Gelatine Coated, and rolled in the Finest of Licorice to preserve their purity and give them a pleasant, agreeable taste.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP cures Bronchitis.

FOR CHOLERA MORBUS, Cholera Infantum Cramps, Colic, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, and Summer Complaint Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is a prompt, safe and sure cure that has been a popular favorite for over 40 years.

STEAMER VARUNA

A. HICKS, Captain.

WILL leave Trenton every morning, (Sunday excepted) at 7:00 o'clock, calling at Belleville and all points between the head of the bay and Picton, leaving Belleville at 8:30 a.m., Deseronto at 10:30 a.m.

On Tuesday and Thursday evenings to meet North King at Brighton, returning will leave Brighton Wednesday and Saturday mornings at 5:30.

Will connect at Picton with stage for Sand Banks.

Parties wishing to arrange for excursion rates will see Capt. Hicks on board.

Will leave Picton at 1 p.m. on return for the head of the bay, Deseronto 3:30 p.m., Belleville, at 6:30 p. m., and Trenton, at 6.

Omnibuses in waiting at Picton, Belleville and Brighton.

The Rathbun Co., Agents, Belleville and Deseronto.
A. W. Hepburn, Agent, Picton.

STOVE PIPES!
STOVE PIPES!!
STOVE PIPES!!!

WHIPS! LANTERNS!
WHIPS!! LANTERNS!!
WHIPS!!! LANTERNS!!!

Lamps, Flower Pots,
Lamps, Flower pots,
Lamps, Flower Pots.

—AT—

THE FAIR,

FRANK WEEKS, MANAGER.

FINE CLASS

Underwear

ALL GRADES.

STOCK - IS - ALL - NEW

— AT —

GEO. P. MINAKER'S.

Opposite Tickell & Son's.

SPORT.

Lacrosse Sticks,
Foot Balls,
Tennis Goods,
Croquet, etc.,
Base Ball Supplies.

Also, Wall Paper,
Window Shades,
Hammocks,
Fans.
Purses,
Albums, Bibles and Novels.

—AT—

Overell's Book Store,

Next to Glasgow Warehouse.

THE KISS OF GOLD.

By KATE JORDAN.

[Copyright, 1893, by J. B. Lippincott Company and published by special arrangement with them.]

If he were not weak, he could not so easily have thrown away his shy reserve and lent his voice and ear to words that stood forth now stripped of all captivating glamour, coarse, cynical, shameful. Distinctions would not so soon have grown misty.

He had loved Virginia as dearly as it was possible for him to love. Yet for a night he had forgotten her. Her resistless eyes and guiding hand had not stood with him to lead him away from the flattery and easy comradeship of women unfit to breathe her name. He loved Virginia. But was he worthy of her love?

Thrown amid varied temptations as he saw now he must be in a crowded, worldly life, would his heart remain unsoiled? Could he keep faith with her? Virginia, without one wavering doubt, he would have said "Yes." Today he felt a gloomy, tormenting fear. No, he dare not say that the bright wave of success would touch him and its backward surge bear away no moral wreckage.

He sprang up determined that a first failure should not rob him of courage. He would not think. He could not fancy his life apart from Virginia's.

When he entered the sunny front room, he found the round table drawn close to the window. The sun struck scintillations from the glass and eddied in swimming beauty around a bowl of fresh hyacinths placed beside his plate. He picked out a cluster and pinned it in his coat, caressing for a moment the uplifted, perfumy bells.

"They are like herself—fair and sweet and pure. I wish she was here now."

Just before him his bloodshot eyes flamed from a mirror. They seemed repeating the question:

"Are you worth her love?"

CHAPTER VIII.

Delatole's apartments were in the University building. He loved the weather stained pile because it was old—so little was old in New York. He loved the gloomy halls and the high, dusty windows. His rooms were a medley where discord in the extreme blended into a startling harmony. Curiosity shops had been ransacked for treasures, and he had even paid flying visits to ship chandlers' shops upon the wharves in the desire to collect antagonistic bits. Fish nets that had the salt of the sea woven into their fibers took the place of more conventional hangings. Mugs of every size and the most fanciful shapes, some of them very old, hung in a line around the mantel, each a mirror for the crackling fire below. Divans swathed in Turkish stuffs jutted from shadowy angles and held palpitating gleams from hanging lamps in their oriental, bespangled folds. His bed had curtains of pale tapestry fragrant as spice and looped up by spears. It was screened by a leathery Indian mat resembling the back of a huge turtle and suspended by hooks from the ceiling.

Delatole had many sides to his character. He was a rake, a parasite, but he was also a genuine artist and loved his work. He loved the somber dreams which stole in upon his solitude in this old house, in this old street. They tipped his pen with cabalistic power. When the wind howled and the snow fell, the drafty passages seemed trodden by ghostly feet, and fancy often crossed his threshold, garbed in some fluttering rag of the dead years. Sometimes he had but to half shut his eyes, and looking across his untidy desk to the limits of the spacious square beyond see the roof tops stretch away into a sun kissed desert, and the hanging smoke become the white tents of a waiting army.

Yes, he loved the place, but it must go and his life there be remembered as a dream. On this November afternoon while he waited for Tom he held in his hand, which was trembling with rage, a notice to leave these self same apartments or pay a very large sum in a very short time. Curious that a man should prefer to tenant some commonplace fellow with money instead of a brilliant critic who made cigarette lighters of his dunning letters! A few oaths that reduced creation to chaos, and a few puffs of a cigarette cleared his brain. He sat back to think.

So much money had gone at the gambling table; so much on the races; so much in speculation. And the result? Enormous bills flowing in from every quarter, chief among them an appalling array of figures for more than a year's rent.

"There's not a hole or corner where I can borrow a third of it," he exclaimed impatiently, and tightening the girdle of the eastern robe infolding his slight figure he strolled to the window, and through the tangle of bare branches looked across at the snowy grass plots of Washington square.

He scarcely moved for many minutes. Was there nothing he could do? Nothing? One plan after another was dismissed as impracticable until his eyes fell upon Tom coming across the park, the orange light streaming from the west full upon him, making a moving silhouette of his vigorous figure.

Delatole's eyes became inscrutable, the smoke wreaths curled furiously around his head, and he caressed his lip with the point of his tongue, as if he had literally tasted a palatable thought.

"You fool! Why didn't you think of him before?" he said aloud and burst out laughing.

When the sedate English valet, who had almost forgotten the look of American mockery, opened the door for Tom, his host strolled from the window with hands outstretched.

"Only half an hour late!" he said airily in his drawling voice. "Not bad for a new celebrity. Did you see the Challenge this morning? Good—wasn't it? Here, read this."

He picked up some loosely scattered pages covered with his delicate, cramped writing and pushed them into Tom's hands.

"This will be in on Thursday morning. You see, it's a minute review of the play. You certainly can't complain."

Tom carried them to the window and turned one rustling page after another. Glorious words were these—magnetic, intense. And how true!—how marvelously true! His own intimate struggles in writing the play had been divined by the keen, critical understanding of the writer. The lines flowed delicately, subtly, and were sweet as incense. They throbbed in his brain; his eyes lightened.

"I had not hoped for this," he said with a grateful glance as he came back to the table while slowly drawing off his gloves. "How awfully kind of you! My conviction that you mean it all is far dearer than that New York will read these words."

"Yes, I mean it all."

Delatole handed him a cigarette, gave

Tom carried them to the window.

an abrupt glance at his narrassed, weary face, and said musingly—

"You don't look like yourself today. Haven't you been well?"

"I'm quite well."

(To be Continued.)

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

TORONTO, Oct. 3, 1894.

THE FARMERS' MARKET.—The receipts on the street were comprised: 460 bushels of wheat at 64c for white, 55c for red and 50c for goose; 1,000 barley at 42c to 44c, 200 peas at 59c to 61c, and 1,000 oats at 29c to 30½c. Prices outside were unchanged.

Western barley is a little easier, and quite a fair business was done in buffalo at quotations. Canada mill, quoted: No. 1 western, 60c; No. 2, 56c; sample, 55 to 57c; Canada choice, 67c.

Wheat was weak in Chicago. December closed 1 1-8c and cash 1-2c lower. Corn was declining. The close being 1-2c lower for May and 1-2c for cash. Oats were weak, closing 3-4c lower.

At East Buffalo sheep and lambs market total offerings were 20,000 head; closed very dull and weak with a number of natives and 2,000 head of Canada lambs unsold.

American securities in London merely reflect the New York market. The general tone remains apathetic. The next rise is expected to begin with the gilt-edged stocks on the glut of money.

So far as the railway stocks were concerned the New York stock market was a favorable one. Particularly in the Granger stocks there was first an abrupt movement of recovery, then a lapse into dull steadiness at the higher level. The market appeared to be separated into two parts, neither of which had any influence on the other. In the later trading it might fairly be said that there was no market at all save that distinguished by the leisurely decline in sugar.

GEORGE BOOTH'S CASE.

Three Suits Entered for Violating the Alien Labor Law.

DETROIT, Oct. 3.—As instant United States District Attorney Wilkins says that Mr. George Booth, sr., who was arrested by Inspector Sharpe for violating the alien labor law, is held to answer in three suits, two civil and one criminal. The civil suits are for bringing aliens into this country or encouraging them to come here, and the criminal one for contracting for the services of James L. Hutchinson and bringing him here from Toronto and getting him to work in his (Booth's) bath manufacturing establishment.

Mr. Booth and some partners early in 1892 formed the Peninsular Steel Bath Manufacturing Company at Toronto, Canada. In the following May the same parties established a branch concern in Detroit under the name of the Steel Clad Bath Manufacturing Company. This company was not incorporated until the September following. On May 13th, 1893, it is claimed that Booth made an agreement in Toronto with Watson J. Taylor, a machinist, to come to Detroit and set up machinery, giving him an order for the payment of his fare. On May 16 accordingly he came to Detroit and went to work for the local manufacturing concern.

On June 6, 1893, it is claimed, that Mr. Booth personally brought James L. Hutchinson to Detroit, paying his fare, etc., to Detroit and employed him in the local establishment. There is a suit pending against Booth for bringing one O'Keefe into this country in June, 1893, in violation of the alien labor law.

Not the Work of Conspirators.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—A special from San Juan Del Sur, Nicaragua, says: The recent explosion under the barracks in Granada, which at first was thought to be the work of conspirators, is now discovered to have been caused by the carelessness of a soldier who was extracting gunpowder from a cartridge. It is supposed the soldier attempted to light a cigarette by means of a lighted steel. More than one hundred bodies have been recovered from the ruins.

Deseronto Navigation Company (Limited

Steamer Ella Ross.

This fast sailing and comfortable steamer leaves Belleville for Trenton daily (Sunday excepted), at 10 a.m. Leaves Belleville for Deseronto and Picton at 3 p.m., connecting at Deseronto with steamers for Napanee and Oswego. Lowest freight and passenger rates. For further information apply to the Rathbun Co., Bridge street, or to R. C. Carter, General Manager, Deseronto.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP cures Coughs.

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry cures Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cramps, Colic, Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum, and all looseness of the bowels. Never fail without it. Price 35c.

In parts of Peru taxes are paid in coca leaves and Peruvian barks.

For coughs, colds, bronchitis and all lung and throat troubles, there is no preparation of medicine can compare with Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup. It never fails to afford prompt and permanent relief. It removes all soreness, and heals the diseased parts. It immediately soothes the most troublesome cough, and by promoting expectoration, removes the mucus which clogs up the air tubes which, cause difficulty in breathing, thereby gives relief to that depressing tight ness experienced in the chest. Public speakers and singers will find Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup of inestimable value, as it speedily and effectually allays all irritation, and hoarseness in the throat and bronchial tubes, and gives power to the vocal cords, rendering the voice clear and sonorous. If parents wish to save the lives of their children, and themselves from much anxiety trouble and expense let them procure a bottle of Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup, and whenever a child has taken cold, has a cough or hoarseness, give the Syrup according to directions.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP heals the lungs.

A stinted wife can find a vest pocket in the dark.

Ample warning is given us by our lungs when they are in danger. If foolhardy enough to neglect the warning signal, we incur imminent peril. Check a cough at the outset with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil—which is a sovereign pulmonic—besides being a remedy for soreness, lameness, abrasions of the skin, tumors, piles, rheumatism, etc.

BURDOCK PILLS, small, safe, and sure, regulate the liver and cure constipation.

Robert Lubbock, Cedar Rapids, writes: "I have used Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil both for myself and family for Diphtheria with the very best results. I regard it as the best remedy for this disease, and would use no other.

Holland is the only country in Europe that admits coffee free of duty.

DYSPEPSIA arises from wrong action of stomach, liver and bowels. Burdock Blood Bitters cures Dyspepsia and all diseases arising from it, 99 times in 100.

The 'Publick'

Are respectfully asked to show their appreciation of the improvements and progress of the city, by leaving their orders for

Coal, Wood & Shingles.

— AT —

S. A. LAZIER & SON'S.

TELEPHONE C 68.

YES,

The Crockery trade is interesting. We've just about finished the heaviest fruit jar season on record. Now we'll pitch into LAMPS and FLOWER POTS. Prices are amazingly low. This month will see the lamp stock complete with 150 kinds. We have just placed an order for an elegant new stock of the celebrated "Meriden Britannia Co's." SILVER PLATE and Sterling Ware.

W. J. REID & CO'Y.

CRYSTAL HALL. Rous' Old Stand.
London and Belleville.

NATHAN JONES,
IMPORTERS.

We have opened up the most varied and attractive stock of

FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC DRESS GOODS ALSO DRESS TRIMMINGS.

Misses Mounder and Gardner are giving satisfaction in dress and mantle making.

Why Don't You Stop?

And think seriously of the benefits it would be to you to take out a Policy with the

ONTARIO MUTUAL LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY.

Their 20 years Survivorship Distribution Plan embraces both PROTECTION and INVESTMENT,

And you can go about your business without worry as to the future.

S. BURROWS

Can give you facts and figures. Ask him!!

THE - FALL - RAINS

ARE WITH US.

YOUR HOUSE WANTS A NEW ROOF—

WE HAVE THE SHINGLES.

In all grades, at lowest prices. Ask for quotations and see XX. XXX. Clear Butts

THE RATHBUN COMPANY.

TO THE PUBLIC.

When we decided to add the manufacture of carriages, phaetons, demorests, &c., to our business, we immediately put under construction a few of each. As we decided to place no vehicle on the market which is not A 1 in every detail, and knowing that no first-class vehicle can be produced on the rush, it has been necessary for us to take sufficient time to produce what we aimed at. We think we have succeeded: and we now have a few rigs completed, and others nearing completion to offer for sale. The iron work is all hand forged; the wood work carefully made, and strongly ironed; and the painting and upholstering done with the best material and greatest care. We can freely recommend these rigs. We will be pleased to have parties who may need anything in the above line, call and inspect our work.

ST. CHARLES & PRINGLE.

JAS ST CHARLES. HENRY PRINGLE

The Sale of Boots and Shoes:

Slightly damaged by Smoke and Water will continue until everything is sold.

HAINES & LOCKETT

Opposite Anglo-American Hotel

Belleville and Napanee, Office, Bridge St. Telephone A. 4.

COAL - AND - WOOD.

—THOS. STEWART,—

The only dealer in Scranton Coal in Belleville and Napanee. The very best facilities for delivering to any part of the city or surrounding towns this coal, which is the best and cheapest mined.

No Gas. No Clinkers. No Waste

Clean, quick, hot, strong, cheerful fire. Smithing, Cannell, Briar Hill, Run of Mine coal and Coal Screenings always on hand. Hard and soft wood, Blocks and Edgings delivered to any part of the City.

DR. WOOD'S

Norway Pine Syrup.

Rich in the lung-healing virtues of the Pine combined with the soothing and expectorant properties of other pectoral herbs and barks.

A PERFECT CURE FOR
COUGHS AND COLDS
Hoarseness, Asthma, Bronchitis, Sore Throat, Croup and all THROAT, BRONCHIAL and LUNG DISEASES. Obstinate coughs which resist other remedies yield promptly to this pleasant pine syrup.

PRICE 25 CTS. AND 50C. PER BOTTLE.
SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

DR. FOWLER'S EXT. OF WILD STRAWBERRY CURES COLIC CHOLERA CHOLERA-MORBUS DIARRHOEA DYSENTERY AND ALL SUMMER COMPLAINTS OF CHILDREN OR ADULTS
Price 35 CTS
BEWARE OF IMITATIONS

Camping Supplies!
AND
Picnic - Requisites!

Our list of articles suitable for Picnic Lunches and Camping, includes:

Canned Meats.

ARMOUR'S COOKED BEEF,
ARMOUR'S OX TONGUES,
ARMOUR'S LUNCH TONGUES,
ARMOUR'S POTTED HAM,
ARMOUR'S COOKED PIG FEET
ARMOUR'S LUNCHEON MEAT.
ARMOUR'S POTTED TONGUE
ARMOUR'S BRAWN,
SANDWICH MEATS,
BONELESS CHICKEN,
BONELESS TURKEY,
POTTED BEEF,
POTTED GAME,
ETC.! ETC.!! ETC!

Canned Fish.

FINEST SARDINES IN OIL,
FINEST SARDINES IN TOMATO,
HERRINGS IN TOMATO SAUCE,
KIPPERED HERRINGS,
FRESH HERRINGS,
SALMON, LOBSTERS,
FINNAN HADDIES,
BLOATER PASTE,
ANCHOVY PASTE,
SARDINE PASTE,
ETC.! ETC.!! ETC!!!

Sundries.

Condensed Milk in Tins, Cream in Tins, Biscuits (in great variety), Fine old Cheese, McLaren's Imperial Cheese (in small crocks), Dried Beef, Choice Hams and Bacon, Lime Juice, Spanish Olives, CROSSE & BLACKWELL'S Pickled White Onions, Walnuts, Chow Chow, and and Mixed Pickles.

WALLBRIDGE & CLARKE.

Grocers and Wine Merchants,
88 and 87 Bridge Street. Also Front Street, in Caldwell Building.

REMOVAL

MR. JOSEPH CALDWELL, DENTIST

Has removed his office to the new premises which he has had specially fitted up in the

Caldwell Block,

First door south of the Anglo-American Hotel Front street. 1084

TELLICENCER PRINTING AND PUBLISHING COMPANY (LIMITED).

J. C. JAMIESON, President. | J. W. LONDON, Secretary

THE Treasurer is the only person authorized to receive money from the Company, or to grant receipts for the same.

All Bills, Notes, Cheques and other documents binding on the Company, will require the signature of the President, in addition to th of the Treasurer.

THE INTELLIGENCER is printed and published by the INTELLIGENCER Printing and Publishing Company (limited) by James C. Jamieson, resident in Belleville, at the a Office, Front St., south of Hotel St.

The Daily Intelligencer.

LET THERE BE HARMONY IN THINGS ESSENTIAL—LIBERALITY IN THINGS NOT ESSENTIAL—CHARITY IN ALL.

VOL. 28. BELLEVILLE ONTARIO THURSDAY OCTOBER 4 1894 NO 130

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

MEDICAL.

DR. WISHART.

47 GROSVENOR ST., Toronto, will be at the Huffman House, Belleville, Saturday, Sept. 1st, '94. 192dwly

DR. QUACKENBUSH, M.D., H.M.D., M.D., P.S.O.

HOMŒOPATHIC Physician, Surgeon and Accoucheur, has removed his office over store lately occupied by J. C. Overell, Residence George St., opposite H. Corby's.

JOHN J. FARLEY, M. D., C. M., M. R. C. S. England.

OFFICE and Residence—corner of Bridge and George Streets—three streets east of Post Office.

LEGAL.

FLINT & McCAMON.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public, etc. Solicitors for the Canadian Bank of Commerce. Office, City Hall, Front Street, Belleville, Ont. d84tf
JOHN J. B. FLINT, W. J. McCAMON.

STEWART MASSON.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, Notary, Conveyancer, etc. Office, South side Bridge st., over Wallbridge & Clark's, Belleville, Ont. Money to loan at lowest rates. 76dwtf

J. F. WILLS' LAW OFFICE.

REMOVED to Campbell Street (south side) 2nd door from Front Street, on ground floor.

A. GOODRICH.

LAWYER, 124 Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill., 28 years' experience; secrecy; special facilities in several States; Goodrich on Divorce; with laws of all States in press. 76dly

GEO. A. KINGSTON.

BARRISTER Solicitor, etc., with Lount, Marsh and Cameron, 25 Toronto St., Toronto. Money to loan on farm property at lowest rates. 233dtf9w.

MIKEL & ROBERTS.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notary Public, Conveyancers, etc. Offices Bridge St., Belleville. Monies to loan at lowest rate.

THOMAS & HALLIWELL.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Conveyancers, &c. Money to loan. 293d3mwly
J. PARKER THOMAS, J. EARL HALLIWELL.

FONTON & MORDEN,

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public, Conveyancers. Office over Express and Telegraph Office, Bridge St., Belleville. Money to loan—private funds.
WM. N. PONTON, M. A., Solicitor Hastings Loan and Investment Society.
W. S. MORDEN, B.A.

E. GUSS PORTER.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, Notary Public, etc. Office in the Robertson Block, east side of Front Street.
☞Private Money to Loan, 271dwly

FRANCIS S. WALLBRIDGE.

(Successor to Hon. Lewis Wallbridge, Q.C.) BARRISTER, Solicitor, Conveyancer, etc. Office, McAnnany building, corner Front and Bridge streets, Belleville, Ont. Private and Company money to loan at 6 per cent., on easy terms upon good land security. Charges moderate.

HENRY CARRE, C. E.

M.C. Soc.C.E.,

DOMINION AND PROVINCIAL LAND SURVEYOR.

Special attention paid to Hydraulics and Land Drainage. Patents obtained and Drawings made. Office—McAnnany Block, under Ontario Business College, Front St. P.O. address—Box 203, Belleville.

A. G. NORTHRUP.

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Shire Hall, Belleville. 226d&wly

D. I. DULMAGE, L.D.S., D.D.S. (Tor. University).

DENTIST—Office over Brignall & Thompson's. Night calls at residence on Forin Street. d,w

CHAS. JOSE.

VETERINARY Surgeon, Graduate Ontario Veterinary College, Member Ontario Veterinary Society. Office and residence, Foxboro, Ont. Calls by mail or telegram promptly attended to. 304d,wly

MISCELLANEOUS.

AGENTCY of the Liverpool and London and Globe Fire and Life Insurance Companies.
W. P. HUDSON, Agent.
Office Campbell street, Belleville. d,w

TO LET.

TO LET 2 snug, warm brick houses in terrace, situated on Harriett St., West Belleville, known as Morten's, or Filliter's terrace. For terms of rent apply to R. C. Filliter, collector, or sub agent to the estate of the late H. E. Filliter. Residence at Mr. Jardin's Corner of William and Dundas Sts., East Belleville. 85d2m

12 Hours Saved.

— ON AND AFTER —

MONDAY, SEPT. 3RD, '94,

— THE —

CANADIAN PACIFIC RY.

—EXPRESS FOR—

Winnipeg & the Pacific Coast

(Via NORTH BAY,)

Will leave Toronto at 12:30 p. m., noon.

S. BURROWS, C.P.R. Agent, Belleville.

ALBERT - COLLEGE

MUSICAL DEPARTMENT.

MR. W. H. DINGLE, Principal.
MR. C. M. TRIPP, MISS MARIETTA WILSON, Assistants.

The next term begins Sept 5th.
Instruction at home if desired.
A graded course of instruction, all under the supervision of the Principal.
TERMS,—$6, $8, $12, according to grade. 20 half hour lessons.
Apply at once to either DR. W. P. DYER, or MR. W. H. DINGLE. 104d&w1m

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE

is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York.

Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

ready acceptance in Toronto. Harry Jackman, of the Davenport hotel, writes to the Mail:—I have an "unknown" in this city who will accommodate Mr. Claus with a match. He is prepared to play for a stake of from $100 to $500 a side. Best and best quoits to be used, and the game to be played under the Dominion Quoiting Association rules. I will allow Mr. Claus all expenses. Should this prove satisfactory to that gentleman, I will immediately place in the hands of the Sporting Editor of this journal $25 as a guarantee of good faith. The match to take place on Friday, October 19th, to commence at 1 p. m. sharp, on the grounds of the Davenport hotel, Toronto. If this is acceptable to Mr. Claus, kindly answer through these columns.

J. Richardson writes to the Mail:—I hereby offer to meet Mr. Claus for the stakes mentioned, but if Mr. Claus will play me in Toronto I will allow him $25 for expenses, or I will go to Belleville to meet him if he will allow me the same amount for expenses. I would also prefer a date one week later than that mentioned in Mr. Taylor's letter, or about October 19. I would also prefer to play him one single game, rather than two out of three. If this offer is accepted, I will put up the forfeit of $25 with the Sporting Editor of the Mail, and would require him to place his forfeit in the same hands.

The celebrated trotters Alix and Directum, have been matched to trot within 30 days for $2,500 a side.

The directors of the Olympic Club of New Orleans have declared Robert Fitzsimmons heavyweight champion of the world, because of Corbett's failure to defend the title.

ACETOCURA
TOUCHES THE SPOT IN NEURALGIA.

ACETOCURA
TOUCHES THE SPOT IN NEURALGIA

Mr. A. Weir, Kew Beach, September 7th, 1894, writes:—"Since then I have used it for neuralgic pains in the head, with immediate relief."

ACETOCURA
TOUCHES THE SPOT IN PARALYSIS.

ACETOCURA
TOUCHES THE SPOT IN PARALYSIS

ACETOCURA
TOUCHES THE SPOT IN PARALYSIS

Mrs. B. M. Hall, Fernwood, Ill., U.S.A., August 15th, 1894, writes:—"I am 61 years old. For two years I had been afflicted with partial paralysis of the lower limbs, rendering me unable to walk a block without complete exhaustion. After using Acetocura for five days the pain had entirely disappeared permitting me to enjoy a good night's rest, and after ten day's treatment I was able to walk two miles without fatigue."

Write for gratis pamphlet to COUTTS & Sons, 72 Victoria street, Toronto. Head offices—London, Glasgow and Manchester, (G.B.) Cologne, Germany, Aaron, Switzerland.

Local Agents—
L. W. YEOMANS & CO.,
DRUGGISTS,
BELLEVILLE.

PREPARE

FOR the STRUGGLE

The course of study offered by the Belleville business College gives a young person a thorough and practical knowledge of business, and also that mental culture and discipline which sharpens perceptive faculties, stimulates ambition, develops ability and prepares for the struggle of making a living. Every step in the work is characterized by thoroughness. Besides we use the most practical methods.

In teaching shorthand we dictate actual letters and legal evidence. Other schools have undertaken to imitate our methods, but the quality of their work bears that relation to practical business which the imitation does to the real.

We represent things exactly as they are.

Belleville Business College.

ROBERT BOGLE, Proprietor.

Daily Intelligencer.

FRANCE IN MADAGASCAR

Their Actions the Cause of the Summoning of the Cabinet.

THE SITUATION AN ALARMING ONE

London Papers Discuss the Possible Object in Summoning the Cabinet Together, and Agree That Matters of Grave Importance Require Attention — France's Policy in the Island Aggressive.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—The Central News adheres to its assertion that the summoning of the Cabinet Council is due to the fact that France has made representations to the British Government concerning England's alleged responsibility for the attitude of the Hova government in continuing their strenuous opposition to the treaty rights of France in Madagascar.

It also claimed that France has protested against the shipment of munitions of war from England to Madagascar and the enrollment of British subjects in the military service of the Hovas. It is known that an ex-cavalry officer in the British army has gone out to Madagascar to act as commander-in-chief of the Hova forces, he having taken part in the Hova campaign against the French in 1885. Another British officer has engaged to serve as adjutant-general in the Hova army, and hundreds of settlers in South Africa of all nationalities are prepared to join the Hovas in the event of war, they having been offered five shillings a day and a plot of land if the Hovas are successful. The Hova army now consists of two divisions of infantry, well armed and drilled, and the Hova authorities claim that they will be able before January 1 to take the field with 100,000 men. Later advices say that there is no foundation for the report that the Madagascar ports have been blockaded. Foreign diplomats regard the situation as hopeful and believe the differences between England and France will be settled amicably.

The Chronicle, after its quivering terror over the situation in its issue of yesterday, this morning reads a lecture to the alarmists and trusts that they are ashamed of their story of strained relations with France and of the wholly unjustifiable report of a blockade of Madagascar, a report which was an invention on the face of it. The Chronicle professes to state upon authority that the Cabinet was summoned in connection with the reports of maltreatment of British subjects in China.

The Telegraph says it cannot be pretended that the circumstances which caused the summoning of a Cabinet council are otherwise than alarming. The paper declines to even guess at the cause, but says the weight of opinion is in favor of attributing it to the French question, inasmuch as the mere matter of reinforcing the garrison at Hong Kong for the purpose of furnishing protective escorts to Tien-Tsin and elsewhere could not require Cabinet authority.

The Daily News deprecates the scare which was produced on the stock exchange by alarming reports in regard to the relations between France and England and characterizes the alleged anxiety concerning them as a mere flurry. The paper admits, however, that the business for whose discussion the cabinet was summoned is of a most urgent nature but says that a glance at the political horizon suggests reason for wonder why cabinet councils are not held more frequently. The war between China and Japan, the state of the Czar's health, the situation in Madagascar and several other minor questions affecting France and England supply topics concerning which the cabinet may well be summoned.

The Standard says that for whatever purpose the cabinet may have originally convened it is certain that one of the subjects occupying its attention will be the relations between Great Britain and France, which the paper believes are of the most cordial nature. But if they are to continue so French public opinion should be courteously acquainted with the misgivings Great Britain has in regard to the consequences of armed action on Madagascar. If France will give a frank disclaimer of any intention to annex the island, or to turn the malagassy positions into French military garrison and French posts it would be pretty certain to disarm all such suspicion in England. The Standard disavows any intention of hectoring, but warns France that England will not allow her interests to be imperilled.

A despatch to the Daily News from Paris says there is nothing pending between France and England sufficiently grave to justify a scare. Madagascar is the only black spot on the horizon and according to Paris opinion Great Britain ought to restrain her officers from drilling Hova troops or to insist that they quit the British service, but there is no sign of a national paroxysm against England. The anti-government newspapers, seeking to make capital, denounce the lethargy of the cabinet in defending the interests of France.

A despatch to the Daily News from Berlin says the German foreign office sees no cause for alarm and ascribes the English and French cabinet meetings to be held to-day to the situation of eastern affairs. Reuter's agency virtually denies the report it circulated that the Madagascar ports have been blockaded. It expresses the opinion that the report arose from the fact that the French warships had been ordered to exercise increased surveillance over the Madagascar coast to prevent the landing of munitions of war.

The Times publishes a despatch from Vienna referring to the conciliatory diplomacy of M. Decrais, the French Embassador to England, when that diplomat was in Austria, which says: "The public reports received strengthened the opinion that a difference between himself and M. Hanotaux, French Minister of Foreign Affairs, prompted M. Decrais' resignation while private accounts confirm them. It is believed that M. Hanotaux will negotiate with England in an arbitrary and uncompromising spirit."

The Times says: "We are bound to assume that the cabinet was not convened without some serious cause."

The remainder of the editorial is devoted to French questions and concludes: "Most persons acquainted with the situation will be more disposed to seek the cause in the east than anywhere else. These influences may be wrong but they cannot be deemed irrational."

Hawke's Cricket Team in Toronto.

TORONTO, Oct. 4.—The cricket match between Lord Hawke's team and an eleven representing the Ontario Cricket Association came off yesterday, as intended. Lord Hawke won the toss and sent his men to bat. L. J. Hill and C. E. De Trafford opened the inning for the Englishmen to the bowling of Laing and McGiverin. De Trafford was bowled and caught by Laing without scoring. Score, 0, 1, 0.

TAILLON'S PARIS LOAN.

Racial Prejudice Said to be at Work in the Matter.

MONTREAL, Oct. 4.—The Star, in a leading article, says: "Some of our French contemporaries have within the last few days adopted a threatening tone towards the English-speaking people of this province which cannot fail to be, as it is evidently intended to be, in the highest degree offensive. The English-speaking minority could well afford to disregard any irresponsible utterances of this kind, but unfortunately they have the appearance of being inspired by persons in authority, from whom they have every right to expect more courteous treatment. The bone of contention is the new Paris loan, which, having been condemned on its merits, is now sought to be defended on the ground that having been negotiated in France by a French-Canadian lieutenant-governor and a French-Canadian premier, against the advice of an English-speaking provincial treasurer, any criticism of the loan must be actuated by anti-French prejudices. This is purely gratuitous and their childish assumption is an indication that practical arguments in favor of the transaction are difficult to discover.

"This line of argument has reached its legitimate conclusion in the patronising declaration by the French Conservative press that the English-speaking minority may have a representative in the cabinet so long as he is content to be a mere cipher but that the moment he ventures to have any ideas of his own, even in connection with the department for which he is directly responsible to the legislature and the country, the Government must undertake to run the province without English assistance. This means that as a slight acknowledgment of the support which the Government gets in English votes, influence and money, the English-speaking people of this province may have an English-speaking dummy in the cabinet for both sides of the House to laugh at. Our French contemporaries must have got their ideas of the spirit of the English-speaking people from reading the flabby editorials in the Gazette."

"There is only one English speaking member of the Legislature who is even suspected of being willing to hold the dummy hand in the game at Quebec, and he is willing to accept anything that is going, from an empty portfolio to a judgeship. There is not the slightest excuse for raising the race question in connection with the Paris loan. The transaction injuriously affects the taxpayers of every nationality and particularly the people of Montreal who have to bear the greater part of the burden. It is a question upon which French and English representatives from Montreal ought to stand shoulder to shoulder. The English speaking representatives cannot with any self respect allow a bad transation to pass unchallenged, simply because it is bolstered up by interested appeals to race prejudice against them. If they are to be treated with open contempt by the French Conservatives, they may possibly meet with more appreciation in the French Liberal camp. The Liberal party has been purified in the fires of adversity. The Conservative party has waxed fat and never kicked."

TRUSKY SPEAKS OF HIS CRIME.

He Would Have Killed Another Man If He Had the Chance.

WINDSOR, Oct. 4.—For the first time since Joseph Trusky was convicted of the murder of Constable Lindsay at Comber on May 3 last and was sentenced to be hanged at Sandwich on December 14 next, he has opened his lips and made a confession which shows that he contemplated the killing of another man as well, before he put a bullet into his own breast. Trusky sent for Deputy Sheriff Rumble and said that the only thing which troubled him at all was the fact that his brother-in-law, George Taylor, was still alive.

"He was the man I wanted to get at first," said Trusky, "but how I came to shoot Lindsay before I settled him is more than I know. He was the —— —— —— who told Lindsay that I killed the horse and it was through him that I was arrested. I would feel perfectly satisfied if he were out of the way, but as it is I want to live in order that I can get a chance to finish my work."

The murderer expresses himself as not pleased with the attempt made to prove that he was not responsible for the deed but wishes it understood that he knew well what he was doing. He thinks the fact of the constable arresting him for killing his own horse was sufficient provocation, and cannot understand how any jury or judge could have seen it in any other light. On these grounds only he thinks he is entitled to a new trial. He says that he does not expect to be hanged, but is perfectly willing to spend a few years in the penitentiary. In his mind, such a thing as hanging is simply out of the question.

"Had I killed both Lindsay and Taylor," he said to the deputy sheriff, "I would be satisfied to go up for five years, but under the circumstances three years is plenty. When I get out I will attend to Taylor, and after serving a few years for that I will settle down, providing no one else meddles in my affairs. Hanging may be all right for those who kill men for money. When they do so they deserve to hang, but if the laws of this country don't allow a man to get any satisfaction, then the sooner I get out of it the better."

Turks Slaughtered by Armenians.

VIENNA, Oct. 4.—Advices from Erzeroum, Armenia, say that the Turkish and Kurdish soldiers at Sussun have been attacked by the people of that region and more than 800 of them killed and wounded. The Turkish troops are reported as being in a pitiable condition, their sufferings being greatly increased by the severe weather prevailing.

The Czarewitch's Wedding Postponed.

VIENNA, Oct. 4.—A despatch from St. Petersburg says the marriage of the Czarewitch to Princess Alix of Hesse has again been postponed. This latest postponement is due to the illness of the Czar. No subsequent date is given, but it is expected that the marriage will not occur until next June.

Grist Mills Burglarized.

GANANOQUE, Ont., Oct. 4.—The grist mills of Reid & Shenneman, of this town, were broken into by burglars. The contents of the safe, $45 in cash and $550 in bank drafts and promissory notes were abstracted.

Annual Arrival of the Sea Gull.

NEWPORT, R.I., Oct. 4.—"Dick," the sea gull, which has made his winter home on the Brenton Reef lightship for many years, again made his appearance last night. This is his twenty-third recorded annual arrival.

Smallpox in Winnipeg.

WINNIPEG, Man., Oct. 4.—A case of smallpox was discovered here. The victim, whose name is Beecher, has been traveling in the Territories, where he is supposed to have contracted the disease.

IN A CHINESE PROVINCE

The Japanese Troops Effect a Landing in Lan Chun.

THEY ACHIEVE ANOTHER VICTORY

A Town Opposite Wi-Ju Captured—Chinese Massing Their Soldiers for the Defence of the Capital—British Troops to be Sent From India to Protect British Subjects.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—A despatch to the Central News says that the soldiers who escaped from Ping Yang have taken a position at Ngan where they were joined by the troops that were landed on the bank of the Yalu river and by others from the province of Shun-King. They are said to be entrenching themselves and it is possible that a decisive battle may be fought there.

The Chinese officials made an attempt a day or two ago to arrest a Japanese traveler, who had arrived from Manchuria, on suspicion of being a spy. The police were informed of the fact and the traveller was turned over to the U. S. Consul. A despatch from Yokohama says the Japan Herald announces that the Mikado has requested a Captain Richter, a German military officer, to pay him a visit. Captain Richter was for several years attached to the Chinese army. The German warships which were assembled at Yokohama during the last few days have been ordered to ports in northern China.

A despatch received here from Shanghai says that the Governor of Kirin, Manchuria, reports that the Japanese have effected a landing in the rear of Lan Chun. The whole province is in a state of consternation, but measures for its defence are being adopted.

Another heavy levy has been made upon Chinese merchants in order to meet the expenses of the war.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—A special to the Herald from Shanghai says: "It is reported the Japanese have captured Klu Li En Chang, on the eastern side of the Yalu river, nearly opposite Wi-Ju.

"A hundred and fifty thousand men have been gathered at Pekin for the defence of the city, but only 7,000 are effectively armed. Only fifty thousand soldiers are available for the defence of the province of Chi-Li—that of Li Hung Chang—and these are raw levies.

"A Japanese army has landed to the north of the Yellow, or Hoang-Ho river, in the southern part of the Gulf of Pe-Chi-Li, to intercept the transport of troops from the south via Grand canal to Tien-Tsin. A Japanese fleet of seventeen ships is blockading the Gulf of Pe-Chi-Li.

"Prince Kung is favorable to foreigners and to the western development of the Chinese empire. French troops are massing in Tonquin."

The Times this morning refers in summing up the war situation in the east, to Sir McCartney's admission of doubt as to the precise number of Chinese prisoners taken at Ping Yang as immaterial. That the victory of the Japanese was complete has been abundantly confirmed and the Chinese army in Corea has ceased to exist is shown by the Chinese themselves. The defeat has been absolute and the exact number of fugitives is of little moment.

British Troops for China.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—The Earl of Kimberley, Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, has opened communications with the Indian Government with a view of making drafts upon the English troops now serving in India, for the purpose of strengthening the defences of the treaty ports in China, in anticipation of an uprising of the natives. The sanction of the Cabinet must, however, be obtained before any such step can be taken.

The Whipping Post for New York State.

ALBANY, N.Y., Oct. 4.—Commodore Eldridge T. Gerry addressed the final session of the convention of the humane societies in favor of introducing the whipping post into the State of New York, to be used especially in the punishment of those who are cruel to children. Dr. Thomas Hendricks, of Rochester, a Catholic priest, spoke in the same line, and also thought corporal punishment would prevent many of the abuses that are developed upon children.

Corbett Will Meet Fitzsimmons.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—James J. Corbett has changed his mind about fighting Bob Fitzsimmons for the championship of the world. He has overcome his objection to meeting a middle-weight and has announced his intention of covering Fitzsimmon's money, now held by the sporting editor of the Herald and he will be in the city to make the match one week from to-day.

Killed in a Railroad Smash.

OAKLAND, Cal., Oct. 4.—As the Southern Pacific narrow gauge train was crossing the Oakland estuary a car jumped the track and went into the water, taking down about sixteen persons. The killed were: P. Kyley, ticket seller; unknown boy, body not recovered.

Sold His Wife for 25 cents.

BUTLER CENTRE, N. Y., Oct. 4.—"Kike" Culliford, a young married man, publicly sold his wife to Ambrose Dratt, of Slybury, on Sunday, for the nominal sum of 25 cents, which was immediately paid and the transfer duly consummated.

MONTREAL, Que., Oct. 4.—A preliminary meeting was held here last night to organize a winter carnival in Montreal for the coming winter. It was decided to hold a carnival and the leading hotel men promised their support. It is also expected that the M. A. A. A., and other leading sporting organizations will support the movement. Over $2,000 has already been raised and more is expected.

Ranchman Robbed and Murdered.

MONTEREY, Mex., Oct. 4.—Senor Clar Frias, a well-known ranchman, accompanied by his wife and their three children, left Espinoza in a wagon on an overland journey to Parras last Monday. A laborer, whose name is not known, also accompanied them. While in camp Frias and his wife were murdered by the laborer and robbed of $1,000. The country is being searched for the murderer.

Frenchman Arrested in Italy.

PARIS, Oct. 4.—A French inspector of forests named Tourtel and the mayor of Saorge, a town in the department of Alpes Maritimes, both of whom are members of the commission appointed for the delimitation of the Franco-Italian frontier, were arrested by the Italian authorities.

Eleven Horses Burned.

KINCARDINE, Ont., Oct. 4.—The stables of the Queen's hotel were consumed by fire with the contents, which included eleven horses, some other animals and a number of conveyances.

House Full of Steam! A big fire, heavy lifting, hard work is the usual way of doing the wash . . . .

There is an easier and cleaner way.

A TEA KETTLE will give all the hot water required when Surprise Soap is used according to the directions on the wrapper. It does away with boiling or scalding the clothes and all that muss and confusion. The clothes are sweeter, whiter and cleaner, washed in this way.

Thousands use Surprise Soap on wash day, why don't you?

169a. THE ST. CROIX SOAP MFG. CO., ST. STEPHEN, N. B.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

TORONTO, Oct. 4, 1894.

No grain at all was brought in on the street. Outside prices were unchanged.

Wheat was higher in Chicago on reports of a crisis in European affairs, the close being 1-4c higher. Corn advanced 3-8 to 1-2c and oats 3-8c for the same cause.

The London stock market closed with considerable recovery of prices after the early decline. It is believed that the only object of the summoning of the cabinet concerns the despatch of troops to the Chinese treaty ports. Americans at the finish were nearly a dollar above the worst.

At the opening of the New York market another vigorous attack on prices was begun. Under the cover of a further fractional decline in sugar stock, the heavy short interest began to buy again and by noon prices had advanced again 4 points to 86. This recovery was quite as lacking in any basis other than surface speculation as was the long decline which went before it. The railroad shares, after participating in the first reaction, gained strength throughout the balance of the day's light trading. At the close prices were firmer, though irregular, sugar certificates receding considerably at the last. There was no local news, the day's real development of interest being the railroad gross earnings for September.

Damage by a Water-sprout.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—A special from Caracas, Venezuela, says: "The rains following the water-spout have ceased. The loss of life and property is greater than at first reported. Putrifying bodies are causing much sickness. Many families are in distress, suffering from lack of food and clothing. Subterranean rumblings are heard, frightening the inhabitants."

The End of a Drunken Spree.

BRAMPTON, Ont., Oct. 4.—A middle-aged man was found in an unconscious condition under the railway bridge where the G.T.R crosses the track. He was partly in the water. He was carried to Mr. McCulla's planing mill and later to the jail. Dr. Heggie reports him dying. He was seen on the streets last night in an intoxicated condition. He must have wandered to the creek and fallen in a drunken stupor and laid out all night. He is said to be a farm laborer named Jas. R. Lewis, of Hanlan, Toronto township. He is suffering from Bright's disease. He has a wife and family in England and has been a bookkeeper.

An Incendiary Attempt at Kingsville.

WINDSOR, Oct. 4.—The office of Dr. Andrew Wigle, at Kingsville, was set on fire, but the flames were extinguished by E. J. Wigle, who lives next door, in time to save it and probably the whole block from destruction. This is the second attempt within a short time, and the citizens are taking steps to ascertain, if possible, who the guilty parties are.

The Sword Not Genuine.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—Sir Henry Green states that in his opinion the sword purchased by Hon. J. C. Patterson, Canadian Minister of Militia, as belonging to General Wolfe is not genuine.

Duke of Somerset Dead.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—Algernon Percy Banks St. Maur, fourteenth Duke of Somerset, died suddenly. He was born December 22, 1813.

Woollen Mills Destroyed.

PAISLEY, Ont., Oct. 4.—Yesterday fire broke out in D. Fisher's woollen mill property here, destroying it completely.

The Ahr Valley.

It is becoming the custom among European travellers to stop at Remagen-on-the Rhine, and make a little excursion to the beautiful Valley of the Ahr, with its picturesque villages along the vine-clad slope. Here is also located the spring from which flows that world wide favorite "Apollinaris Water." At Neuenahr, in the valley, the river Ahr is very beautiful, and one can find few more quaintly attractive spots than the Upper Gate at Ahrweiler, or the old mill at Heppingen.

A tax on dogs was levied in Rome during the reign of Nero.

For Over Fifty Years

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by druggists throughout the world. 17d&wly

In the time of Queen Anne soap was taxed £28 per ton.

DEAR SIRS,—I have used Yellow Oil for two or three years, and think it has no equal for croup. Mrs. J. S. O'Brien, Huntsville, Ont.

The tithes in England amounted to £4,050,000 a year.

Dyspepsia and Indigestion.—C. W. Snow & Co., Syracuse, N.Y., writes: "Please send us ten gross of Pills. We are selling more of Parmelee's Pills than any other Pill we keep. They have a great reputation for the cure of Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint." Mr. Chas. A. Smith, Lindsay, writes: "Parmelee's Pills are an excellent medicine. My sister has been troubled with severe headache, but these pills have cured her."

Russia raises $1,5000,000 a year by the sale of passports.

THAT TIRED, LANGUID FEELING and dull headache is very disagreeable. Take two of Carter's Little Liver Pills before retiring, and you will find relief. They never fail to do good.

SAFE — PLEASANT — RELIABLE — CERTAIN

THE GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER

BRISTOL'S SARSAPARILLA

CURES ALL Taints of the Blood.

Trafalgar Institute.
(Affiliated to McGill University.)
No. 83 Simpson Street, Montreal.
— FOR THE —
Higher Education
OF
Young Women

With preparatory department for girls between 10 and 14.
President, REV. JAMES BARCLAY, D.D.
Vice-President, MR. A. T. DRUMMOND.
Principal, MISS GRACE FAIRLEY, M.A., Edinburgh.
The institute will re-open with an efficient staff of twelve resident and visiting teachers, on
Tuesday, 11th September 1894.
The Institute buildings are situated on the mountain side overlooking the City. The spacious grounds are attractively laid out and the surroundings are not only beautiful but very healthful.
For copy of Prospectus and other information apply to the principal, at the Institute, or to
A. F. Riddell, Secretary, 22 St. John St., Montreal.

LAKEHURST SANITARIUM
OAKVILLE, ONT.
For treatment and cure of
ALCHOLISM, MORPHINE HABIT, TOBACCO HABIT AND NERVOUS DISEASES.

The system employed at this institution is the familiar Double Chloride of Gold System. Through its agency over 200,000 Slaves to the use of these poisons have been emancipated in the last fourteen years. Lakehurst Sanitarium is the oldest Institution of the kind in Canada, and has a well earned reputation to maintain in this line of medicine. In its whole history there is not an instance of failure to remove the appetite for these poisons. In its whole history there is not an instance of any after ill effects from the treatment. Hundreds of happy homes in all parts of the Dominion bear eloquent witness to the efficacy of a course of treatment with us. For terms and full information write
THE SECRETARY,
28 Bank of Commerce Chambers,
aug7d3m34w3m) Toronto, Ont.

RIBBONS !

We have an extra large stock of Ribbons on hand in all the light and fancy shades including

BABY RIBBONS,
SILK " "
SATIN " "
MOIRE " "
ETC., - ETC.

Our prices are the lowest, and we will be pleased to have you give us a call whenever wanting Ribbons.

SILK ELASTICS . . . .

We have a splendid stock of Fancy Silk Elastic, made in Yellow, Blue, Green, Orange, Cardinal, Black, Pink, Mauve, White. All one price, 25c yard, at

THE BEEHIVE

CHAS. N. SULMAN

GRAPES . . . .

It is claimed that Grapes are the most healthy, and therefore the most nutritious fruit grown.

We have and will have through the season, large consignments and will sell very cheap, as crop is very large in the west. They are selling to day at

25c. per Basket . . .

Jas. Wallace & Co.

Peaches while season lasts.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 75c. bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, THURSDAY OCT. 4.

BRIDGE STREET SEWER.

Notwithstanding that the Toronto engineer has certified to the Bridge street sewer and sent in his little bill, there is every evidence of its being a bungled job which, before being paid for, should be scrutinized carefully. That it leaks was proven by the Street Surveyor's inspection; then the public ask why should home engineers be passed over and an engineer from a distance be imported who will pass a job which the Street Surveyor, although not a civil engineer, was not long in learning its defects? Then, again, the way in which the street has been left by the contractor is disgraceful. The earth removed from the excavation should either have been washed back or pummeled down instead of being thrown in loose, opening up great fissures after every rain storm. It is about time that the Council should insist upon the roadway being replaced in good order after excavations are made for any purpose.

A DISCREDITED PROPHET.

Senator Higgins, of Delaware, has come in for some rude criticisms and unkind remarks at the hands of the United States press over his recent address at Ogdensburg, in which he cursed Canada but wanted her annexed to the States. The New York Journal of Commerce points out a certain inconsistency in his argument as follows:—"Mr. Higgins' idea seems to be that while Canada is under the British flag her eggs and barley would undersell the barley and eggs of New York, but that if Canada were under the American flag the farmers of New York would have nothing to fear from the barley and eggs of Canada. This is difficult enough to understand, but it becomes an impossibility when we try to combine this with Mr. Higgins' additional idea that Canada would be greatly benefitted by annexation, because she would get so large a market for her produce! Let us go over this thing again in order to get it clear. In the event of annexation Canadian farmers would sell a great deal more produce than they do now, but no more barley and eggs would come into the State of New York, because that would ruin our farmers, and we certainly will not permit anything of that kind. What will become of all the produce that Canada will sell and we won't buy? The statesmen who want to deliver the American farmer from destructive competition with Canada, and also to annex Canada, have squared the circle, and discovered the fourth dimension."

EDITORIAL BREVITIES.

John Brandon secured a verdict of $1 damages in a breach of promise suit against Annie Turnbull, at Stratford. The verdict was appropriately small.

Dr. A. O. Doyle, the novelist, arrived at New York on the Etbe, from Southampton. He comes to lecture. If Dr. Doyle is as observant as his "Sherlock Holmes," and will put a selection from his observations into a book, it will sell well.

Mr. J. D. Evans, Reeve of Etobicoke, who was selected by the Patrons of Industry as their candidate for West York in the next Federal elections, has published a letter declining the honor. "After having supported Mr. Wallace in all his previous contests," he says, "I think it would be dishonorable for me to oppose him without better reasons than I now have." There spoke a man of honor.

The experiment of shipping Canadian cattle to France is not likely to prove a success at first. The steamship Bruxelles, with a consignment of 400 head, sailed from Montreal for St. Malo on Sept. 15, and the S.S. Aurore leaves this week with another consignment. Advices received from France are to the effect that the markets there are very bad, being overstocked. Cattle have lost 80 fr. a head lately, and the despatches say there are no signs of prices being better.

The writer's cramp is well known in this country, but it is only in a few articles where the use of the cigarette displaces all other forms of enjoying the weed, that smoker's cramp is heard of. This affection is common enough in Spain, notwithstanding that the Spaniard is so expert that he can roll a cigarette with a single movement of the hand. It is now finding its way into France, where the Government tobacco, Caporal, is hot and acrid in a pipe, but tolerable to the taste when enclosed in rice paper. It appears, however, that the complaint did not make its advent until some Governments assented to the sale of cigarettes made by hand. The persons who are now suffering from this painful form of cramp are the work-girls, who got their living by rolling cigarettes.

FARM NOTES.

Grasshoppers make good egg food.

As a rule spinach is a very profitable crop.

In butter color and flavor have no relation to each other.

The ashes of the corn cob contain a large amount of potash.

Overfeeding is the most fruitful cause of a failure to lay.

It is said that fowls that lay white eggs are more prolific than those which lay dark eggs.

An eight-frame hive for bees is now preferred to the ten-frame hive which has been so long in use.

A great deal of wet land along the banks of streams and ponds can be used for growing the basket willow.

A solution of silicate of soda is said to be a perfect preservative of eggs, and does not injure them in any way.

There is no better grain for poultry any time of the year than wheat, except when fattening. When ready to fatten corn should be used.

ODDS AND ENDS.

The habit that merchants have of fixing prices at $1.99, $3.49, 99 cents, etc., has called attention to the need of a 9-cent piece as a convenience and to save time lost in waiting for change.

An original certificate of membership in the Order of Cincinnati, issued to a signer of the declaration of Independence and signed by George Washington, was recently sold at Wilmington, Del., for $32.

A plant in Sumatra called the Rafflesia Arnoldi is said to bear the largest flower in the world. Some of the largest are thirty-six inches in diameter, and the central cup will hold six quarts of water.

Most of the so called marble houses of the Rome of Augustus were not such in reality. The plasterer's art had then reached a high state of perfection, and gave a stucco the appearance of the finest marble.

Last Scene in MacWherrell's Case.

KINGSTON, Ont., Oct. 4.—MacWherrell, accompanied by the Sheriff of Peel and a constable, and attached to a fellow convict named Williams, stepped off the fast express at the outer station yesterday, jumped into a cab and was hustled off to the penitentiary. On arrival at that institution he was divested of his clothing and given what is known as uniform No. 2. By good behavior he can gain No. 1 garb or by bad conduct can be reduced to No. 3. The guard questioned him, measured him, weighed him and made inventories of a very critical character. After his bath, hair cut and general transformation he was conducted to the warden's office, where he was again subjected to investigation, his record, age, crime, etc., being gutted. His former history was gleaned as far as he would divulge it. He was sent off to work, and as No. C 160 he loses his identity to the outside world.

Victims of the New York Police.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—The Senate investigating committee heard the story of Mrs. Urchittel who told a pitiful tale of her ill-treatment by two detectives who blackmailed her and tore her children away from her and broke up her home without cause. One of these officers named Hussey seems to have put up a conspiracy to place the blame of the affair upon another and innocent policemen and in the court room threatened the life of a witness named Pfeffer, using vilest language. He swore a denial of the last charge but half a dozen reputable witnesses testified to his having perjured himself. Hussey nearly broke down under a searching cross-examination.

Freedom in Religious Worship.

BUDA PEST, Oct. 4.—The Hungarian Upper House yesterday opened debate on a bill granting liberty of worship to all sects. In the course of the discussion Cardinal Schlauch, arch-bishop of Transylvania, declared that the bill if it became law would ruin society and the state. The Servian patriarch and the Roumanian and Orthodox bishops spoke in a similar strain. Ex-Minister Csaky and the Calvinist bishop Szasz warmly supported the proposed reform which was introduced by the minister of public education, Baron Eoetvoes. The debate was adjourned.

Vicarious Knowledge.

Kitty (scornfully)—An unmarried man doesn't know what home means!

Tom (mildly)—He knows it is something his married friends seem to consider a desirable piece to get away from.—Life.

Look Here.

Do you feel blue and despondent? Do pains rack and tear away at nerve and muscle, and have you been disappointed in finding a remedy that will afford certain and speedy relief. If so, go at once to any drug store and buy a bottle of Polson's Nervi'ine. Polson's Nervilline never fails to relieve neuralgia, cramps, headache, rheumatism, and all internal and external pains. J. B. Carman, druggist, Morrisburg, writes: "All the parties I supply speak very favorable of Nervilline, and always purchase a second lot." Polson's Nervi'ine is sold in bottles at 25 cents by all druggists and country dealers everywhere.

Paradisi Gloria.

There is a city, builded by no hand,
And unapproached by sea or shore,
And unassailable by any hand
Of storming soldiery forevermore.

There we no longer shall divide our time
By acts of pleasures—doing petty things
Of work or warfare, merchandise or rhyme,
But we shall sit beside the silver springs

That flow from God's own footstool, and behold
Sages and martyrs, and those blessed few
Who loved us once and were beloved of old,
To dwell with them and walk with them anew

In alternation of sublime repose,
Musical motion; be personal play
Of every faculty that heaven bestows
Through the bright, busy and eternal day.

—Thomas William Parsons.

How to Get a "Sunlight Picture.

Send 25 "Sunlight" soap wrappers (wrapper bearing the words "by does a woman look old sooner than a man") to Lever Bros., Ltd., 43 Scott St., Toronto, and you will receive by post a pretty picture, free from advertising, and well worth framing. This is an easy way to decorate your home. The soap is the best in the market, and it will only cost 1c. postage to send in the wrappers, if you leave the ends open. Write your address carefully.

Lane's Medicine Moves the Bowels Each Day

In order to be healthy this is necessary.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL

Judge Casault Appointed to a Supreme Court Chief Justiceship.

FARM LIFE IN THE WESTERN STATES

An Ottawa Gentleman Receives a Sorrowful Description From a Canadian Resident in South Dakota—Horses Sold for Fifty Cents—A Quebec Dispute Settled in the Supreme Court.

OTTAWA, Oct. 4.—The appointment of Justice Casault of the Supreme Court of Quebec to the Chief Justiceship of that court has caused considerable talk and surprise here. There has been always a thoroughly understood and equally as well observed compact between English-speaking and French-speaking people of the province that one of the Chief Justiceships, either of the Court of Queen's Bench or the Superior Court, should be held by an English judge. It was on these grounds that Sir John Macdonald had the late Justice Johnson appointed, although Justice Casault was the main applicant for it. Sir John Thompson and Mr. Ouimet have violated this compact and for the first time, not only since Confederation, but for many years before, both Chief Justices of the Province are Frenchmen.

Provincial Health Inspector Bryce is in the city talking over the best methods of disinfection in connection with the diphtheria cases that are reported here.

Mr. R. G. Klyne, a former resident of this district, now located in Warner, South Dakota, in a letter written to a friend here gives a sorrowful description of the western states. He says: "Things are very dull here this fall. Wheat was almost a failure; from 1 to 5 bushels per acre and of very inferior quality. It is worth from 20c to 40c per bushel, so you can readily see how the previously impoverished farmer is circumstanced when it costs about 45 cents to raise a bushel. The only thing there is any money in this year is potatoes. In fact they are good property any year. Our weather is excellent but everything is blue and there will be a good deal of scouring and some suffering this winter. Still we are better off here than they are farther south in Kansas, Nebraska and Iowa. Down there they have nothing whatever, not even feed for their stock. They have for six weeks been selling their hogs, from 75 to 150 pound hogs, for 50 cents and they are killing horses and cattle to keep them from starving to death. A man can buy horses from 50 cents up down there, and in some places the traveller sees such notices as this stuck up on the fences enclosing the pastured stock: "Please walk in and take your pick." "

The De Kuyper v. Vandulken case, a dispute as to a trade mark, was concluded in the Supreme Court and judgment reserved. A constitutional point was involved in the case of Fortier and Lambe in the Supreme Court. Lambe is an Inland Revenue officer of Montreal and Fortier a stattoner of the same place, and an act of the Quebec Legislature is the point in dispute, being an act to raise money by a tax on all unincorporated companies of anywhere from $10 to $100 if the stock kept is over $500 in value. Fortier seeks the annulment of the statute on the grounds that it is an interference with trade and commerce and a license law.

CHINESE EDUCATION.

They Are All Students So Far as Their Light Goes.

In no country is education more highly esteemed than in China. The child of the workingman, as a rule, can not hope to get more than a mere smattering. But scattered through the country are numberless families, the members of which for generation after generation are always students, and from whom, as a rule, the officials come. They have no knowledge of any branch of trade. They sorrespond very closely to what are, or used to be, called gentlemen in England, and preserve their position with great tenacity, even when hard pressed by poverty.

Rich parvenues, as a matter of course, engage tutors for their children and in the humblest ranks of life occasionally parents will stint themselves to give an opportunity to some son who has shown marked intelligence at the village school. But neither of these classes compete on an equality with those to whom learning is an hereditary profession. The cultivation and intellectual discipline prevailing in such families give their members a marked advantage over those who get no help of the kind at home, and who must, therefore, depend entirely on what they learn from their paid teachers.

The orthodox scheme of education is entirely concerned with the ancient literature of China. The original works which occupy the student's attention were for the most part written before the literature of either Greece or Rome had reached its prime. But there are commentators belonging to later periods who must be perused with diligence. China has not been an influx of new races such as have overrun Europe since the days of our classical authors, but, still, from mere lapse of time, the language of the country has greatly changed, and the child beginning his studies cannot without explanation understand a single sentence, even if he has learned to read the words of the lesson which he has before him. The student makes himself acquainted as thoroughly as possible with these classical works. The more he can quote of them the better, but he must master the matter contained in them as well.

He must get to know the different readings and different interpretations of disputed passages, and, finally, he practices himself in prose and verse composition. In prose he carefully preserves the ancient phraseology, never admitting modern words, though there are certain technicalities of style which will prevent his productions being an exact imitation of the ancient literature. His verses must be in close imitation of the old-time poets. They must follow elaborate rules as to rhythm, and the words must rhyme according to the classical sounds, which are very different from those of to-day.—Nineteenth Century.

Burglars at Port Hope.

PORT HOPE, Oct. 4.—Burglars entered the coal office of Brown & Henning, Mill street. Getting nothing there they proceeded to the butcher shop of Geo. Stacey, Walton street, where they broke open the till, carrying away 34 cents. Their next visit was to Thomas A. Thompson's butcher shop on Queen street, where they blew the front plate off the safe door. Nightwatch Jarvis hearing the explosion hurried to the scene, arriving just in time to see two men making their escape. Jarvis gave chase, and when opposite Patterson's lumber yard one of the burglars turned and fired two shots at Jarvis, then jumped the fence and disappeared in the lumber yard.

Oh, Yes.

When some ministers struggle with a sermon a limited-round contest is preferable to a fight to a finish.—Yonkers Gazette.

Quite So.

The "hey-day" of life generally comes when we grow hard of hearing.—Richmond Dispatch.

SPECIAL MENTION

—Last year the population of Windsor, Ont., increased 1 460.

DR. LOW'S PLEASANT WORM SYRUP removes worms of all kinds from children or adults.

—D. Fisher's woollen mills at Paisley, Ont., were burned yesterday.

THAT HACKING COUGH can be quickly cured by Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam. Price 25c.

—Kingston's new assessment roll shows an increase of 600 in the city population.

ALWAYS AVOID HARSH PURGATIVE PILLS. They first make you sick and then leave you constipated. Carter's Little Liver Pills regulate the bowels and make you well. Dose, one pill.

ALL CASES OF WEAK OR LAME BACK, back ache, rheumatism, will find relief by wearing one of Carter's Smartweed and Belladonna Backache Plasters. Price 25 cents. Try them.

No person should go from home without a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial in their possession, as change of water, cooking, climate, etc., frequently brings on summer complaints, and there is nothing like being ready with a sure remedy at hand, which oftentimes saves great suffering, and consequently valuable lives. This Cordial has gained for itself a wide spread reputation for affording prompt relief from all summer complaints.

GREAT DISCOVERIES.—The astronomer who discovers a new star, the scientist who finds a new face, or the geologist who slights upon a new species of fossil, becomes deservedly famous; but the scurf good such discoveries do is nothing when compared to the finding of a medicine which is an infallible cure for certain diseases. Such a discovery was made nearly half a century ago by an Eastern gentleman named Perry Davis, and his preparation is now known to the world as PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER. It is a sure cure for Diarrhœa, Cramps, Cholera Morbus, Cholera, and indeed all bowel complaints. 25c. only for Big 2 oz bottle.

That Tired Feeling

Is a dangerous condition directly due to depleted or impure blood. It should not be allowed to continue, as in its debility the system is especially liable to serious attacks of illness. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the remedy for such a condition, and also that weariness which prevails at the change of season, climate or life.

HOOD'S PILLS are purely vegetable, carefully prepared from the best ingredients. 25c.

The Haines & Lockett Fire.

Owing to our loss by the recent fire, we placed what few accounts we had on our books in the hands of W. J. Diamond with instructions to send them in without respect of persons, and to urge immediate payment. We hope all parties concerned will respond promptly at Mr. Diamond's office.

HAINES & LOCKETT.

That Joyful Feeling.

With the exhilarating sense of renewed health and strength and internal cleanliness, which follows the use of Syrup of Figs, is unknown to the few who have not progressed beyond the old time medicines and the cheap substitutes sometimes offered but never accepted by the well informed.

A Lesson in Hygiene,

Now that water supplies are recognized as the chief vehicle for propagating typhoid fever, medical and sanitary authorities throughout the world are constantly dwelling on the necessity of using water of known purity. Idle this has no bearing on medicinal waters which, however valuable, cannot safely be made part of the ordinary daily diet, because of the active chemical substances they contain, it has, however, given a wonderful stimulus to the consumption of dietetic or table waters, such as Apollinaris. It is little wonder, however, that the use of Apollinaris is on the increase, for who does not gladly take the beverage which, besides being pure and healthful, is delightful and refreshing?

CAMPBELL'S QUININE WINE

CURES: Dyspepsia, low spirits, loss of appetite, painful digestion, malaria, and gives tone and vigour to the whole system.

Be sure you get CAMPBELL'S.

THIS MATTER CHANGED DAILY.

THURSDAY, Oct. 4.

Convenient.

OUR MILLINERY parlor is very convenient now. Another new lot of shapes just received and thus we keep in touch with the latest styles. We urge the ladies to inspect our stock, for we have nice fine goods.

W. FLINT JONES.

Next door to Haines & Lockett.

GENTLEMEN....

Before ordering your Fall Clothing don't fail to take a look through

A. N. REID'S

New Fall Importations of

Scotch, English and Irish Suitings, Overcoatings, Pantings, Irish Serges, Cheviots, Hop Sackings and Black Worsteds

First Class Goods and Prices low.

Mr. Minor, our fcutter, is one of the best in Ontario.

EVERY GARMENT GUARANTEED!!

Please call and inspect our New Goods.

A. N. REID.

New Advertisements.

WANTED.

WANTED by married couple (no family) two or three unfurnished rooms suitable for housekeeping. Apply Enquirer. dlt INTELLIGENCER Office.

BELLEVILLE PLATING WORKS

HARRIS & WALTON'S FACTORY, MILL ST.

PLATING—Gold, Silver, Nickel, Copper, Brass and Bronze.

PLATES—Also Carriage Plating, Polishing, Buffing and Lacquering. Antique finishing of all kinds.

BURTON & MILLER

QUEEN'S - OPERA - HOUSE.

- SATURDAY -

MATINEE & EVENING, OCTOBER 6TH.

Margart L. Sheppard & Co.,

In a great Drama of her own life,

"TRIED AS BY FIRE,"

By the eminent English Actor,

MARTIN CLEWORTH,

And a specially selected Company with Magnificent Costumes and Scenery.

Matinee Prices, - 25 & 35c.

Evening Prices, 25, 35 & 60c.

CANADIAN MERCHANTS. FOLLOW . . .

OBC

Some of the largest importing firms in Canada that have relations with great English houses, send their financial statements at the end of each year to Britain on O. B. C. Balance Sheet Forms. Following is a sample of an order.

Office of
RYAN BROS., Importers,
OWEN SOUND, Feb. 7, '94.
MESSRS. ROBINSON & JOHNSON,
Ontario Business College,
Gentlemen.—Please send us five Balance Sheet Blanks, same as you supply to Messrs. G. B. Ryan & Co., of Guelph.
Yours truly,
RYAN BROS.

METHODS.

PETTYJOHN'S CALIFORNIA BREAKFAST FOOD

Dyspeptics can eat this food.

It is particularly adapted for children and persons of sedentary habits.

It is made from Pacific coast wheat hulled and crushed by improved machinery.

It can be easily prepared for breakfast, as this crushing process makes it soft and tender and easy to cook.

Ask your physician which is best for you to eat, oats or wheat

Pettijohn's California Breakfast Food is sold in packages by

BENMORE & BENSON.

No-To-Bac.

Guaranteed to Cure

TOBACCO HABIT

In Every Form

at the Pharmacy.

D. M. WATERS.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY

WESTERN - EXCURSIONS

On October 4th, 8th and 6th. Return Tickets will be issued from Belleville to—

DETROIT and PORT HURON / CLEVELAND		$6.50 / 9.00
SAGINAW and BAY CITY / GRAND RAPIDS		9 50 / 10 50
CHICAGO and CINCINNATI	via Chicago or North Bay	12.50
ST. PAUL and MINNEAPOLIS	via Chicago or Lake	35.50
ST. PAUL and MINNEAPOLIS	via Rail	37 50

Tickets will be good to return until Oct. 22nd. For tickets and all information apply to

U.E. THOMPSON.

General Ticket Agent. Bridge Street.

NEW GOODS

—AT—

FISH'S.

New Neckwear, the very latest, the colorings are entirely new, shapes very nobby, and prices very low.

New underwear, in all weights, all kinds, all prices, all sizes and cheaper than ever.

New half hose in cashmere, merino, Scotch lamb's wool and hard knitted. Our 25c socks are great value.

See our new pink and blue shirts, our own make, the very latest.

A. E. FISH & CO.

The Noted Shirt Makers of Belleville.

The 'Publick'

Are respectfully asked to show their appreciation of the improvements and progress of the city, by leaving their orders for

Coal, Wood & Shingles.

—AT—

S. A. LAZIER & SON'S.

TELEPHONE C 68.

MORE ROOM WANTED!

- - AT THE - -

LEADING BARGAIN HOUSE!

. . . .

Daily the reminder comes to us that we're crowded for room. New Goods keep coming in upon us. We must make room by quickly reducing stocks. Reducing prices will do it.

A CHOICE STOCK . . . .

. . . . Bargains everywhere.

N JONES,

RTERS.

e most varied and attrac stock of

ESS ODS

ALSO DRESS TRIMMINGS

are giving satisfaction in dress de making.

You Stop?

fe it would be to you to take out a

URANCE COMPANY.

lbution Plan embraces both

MENT

manufacturers offered us strong inhosiery and Underwear.

t fairly sparkles with Novelties, and

N, BELLEVILLE.

Campbell St.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

RSUANT to Chapter 110 of the Revised Statutes of Ontario, notice is hereby given that all creditors of the persons having claims upon the estate Liam McKay, late of the city of Belleville, Deceased, who died on or about the 25th day of August, are required to deliver the same to John Parker Jun, of said city, solicitor for Donald M. Waters, ctor of the last will and testament of said William y, deceased, on or before the 27th day of October, 1894, full particulars of their claim, with ed items and particulars of the security, if any, held by them; and after the said last mentioned date said executor will proceed to distribute the assets of said deceased amongst the parties entitled thereto, having regard only to the claims of which notice have been given as above required and shall not be liable for the assets or any part thereof to any person of whose claims the said executor had not notice at the time of the distribution thereof.

Dated at Belleville this 27th day of September 1894.

J. PARKER THOMAS,
Solicitor for Executor.

DOUBT YOU WILL REQUIRE A . . . . . .

New Hat Or Bonnet . .

The Most Stylish and Wearable . . .

MILLINERY IS AT

J. P. THOMPSON & CO.

STOCK COMPLETE IN ALL DEPARTMENTS.

C. F. Smith & Co.

ALLAN LINE,

Royal Mail Steamships. Liverpool, Calling at Moville.

From Montreal. From Quebec daylight

PARISIAN	Oct. 6	Oct. 7
MONGOLIAN	" 13	" 14
HIBERNIAN	" 20
LAURENTIAN	" 27	" 28
NUMIDIAN	Nov. 3	Nov. 3
PARISIAN	10	" 11

RATES OF PASSAGE.

First cabin Derry and Liverpool, $45 and upwards single; $95 and upwards return. Second cabin, Liverpool, Derry, Belfast, Glasgow, $30; return $58. Steerage at lowest rates (everything found).

All steamships except the Hibernian carry 1st cabin, 2nd cabin and steerage passengers.

STATE LINE SERVICE

NEW YORK, LONDONDERRY AND GLASGOW.

STATE OF NEBRASKA	Oct. 12
STATE OF CALIFORNIA	" 26
STATE OF NEBRASKA	Nov. 22

Cabin passage, $40 and upward; return $80 and upward; Second cabin $25. Steerage at lowest rates.

For tickets and other information apply to U. E. THOMPSON
General Ticket Agency,
Bridge St., Belleville.
or to S. BURROWS,
Agent.

FRESH . . . GROCERIES . . .

Are in demand by every careful housewife. They do not stay fresh long, and many people are bitten every day by buying stale goods. The undersigned has opened a store on Front Street in the stand occupied by Manson McMullen for so many years, and has put in stock a full line of Provisions, Groceries, Confectionery, Cigars, Flour and Feed, Etc., all fresh. The store opened to-day, and everyone is invited to look over the stock,

J. A. ELLIOTT.

DON'T

Fail to see our fine display of

CANDIES

—AND—

FINE BAKERY GOODS

To morrow (Saturday).

H. C. DICKENS & SON.

P.S.—Oysters now arriving in fine order.

HAPPY HOME RANGES.

Best in the Market

—ALSO—

A Full Line of

Art Garland

and

Famous Heaters.

—(o)—

Wm. McGIE.

Next to Nathan Jones.

Telephone 38. Front St.

GLASGOW WAREHOUSE,

BELLEVILLE.

We are now showing complete lines in the following goods:

Ladies' Hygeian Underwear
Misses' Hygeian Underwear
Boys' plain and ribbed Underwear
Ladies' " " Cashmere Hose
Ladies' " " Wool Hose
Boys' " " Wool Hose
Ladies' black and colored Kid Gloves
" " " Cashmere Gloves
Ladies' Cashmere and Silk Mitts
Baby Ribbons in all makes and colors
Laces, Handkerchiefs and Corsets.

CARPETS, OILCLOTHS and CURTAINS in endless variety.

Larger lines in Canadian Staples at close cash prices.

VANDERVOORT & GIBSON,

Successors to the late J. W. Dunnet.

Belleville, Oct. 3, 1894.

P.S.—A large show case and table for sale, cheap.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, THURSDAY OCT. 4.

Chauncey Ashley, issuer of marriage licenses, Division Court Offices, Pinnacle street or at residence over Benmore & Benson's store. d&w

CITY AND DISTRICT.

Now does the crafty old M. D.
Rejoice in autumn, sad and sear;
He rubs his hands in fiendish glee,
Because the football season's here.

Amelissburg fair will be held at Robiln's Mills to-morrow.

Fifteen cottages at Thousand Island Park are still occupied.

The police have a gold cuff button, for which they want an owner.

Bridge Street church—praise service to-night, Oct. 4th, at 8 o'clock.

Potato contracts are being made at Brockville at 40 cents per bushel.

The city made the first payment to-day on account of granolithic pavement.

Be sure and attend Grant's cheap cash sale if you want bargains in Boots and Shoes.

A large number from the city went down to Picton to-day to attend the Prince Edward county fair.

A Brantford minister, Rev. Mr. Hobbs, in a recent sermon describes dancing as "hugging set to music."

The cool nights are here, and with them have come the tramp to the police station. Three of them sought protection last night.

The case of La Palm vs. Patrick Ryan for assault was disposed of in the police court to-day. Ryan had to pay the doctor bill.

Lewis Soles has been awarded the contract of removing the debris from the ruins of St. Andrew's church and began work this morning.

The Waddell Dredging Company, of Trenton, has been awarded a large contract at the Lachine canal, amounting to some $250,000.

The people quickly recognize merit and this is the reason the sales of Hood's Sarsaparilla are continually increasing. Hood's is "on top."

We offer for this week only, over 100 pairs of men's French calf and Shell Cordovan Boots, sizes 6 and 7, only $2 per pair; former price, $4.—VERMILYEA & SON.

MacWherrell, the murderer of old man Williams at Port Credit, passed through the city yesterday, en route for Kingston penitentiary, where he will spend the rest of his life.

"For several months, I was troubled with a persistent humor on my head which gave me considerable annoyance, until it occurred to me to try Ayer's Hair Vigor. Before using one bottle, the humor was healed."—T. T. Adams, General Merchant, Turbevill, Va.

For the first time in the history of the Kingston penitentiary, prisoners have been admitted on Sunday. The new convicts passed through the dark browed gates on the 30th ult. Heretofore prisoners arriving in the city on Sunday have been kept at the police station or jail until Monday.

The universal prevalence of scrofula is a fact well-known to physicians. The only medicine that has hitherto proved a specific for his dreadful complaint is Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which expels every germ of poison from the blood. You cannot begin to use it too soon.

Surrogate Court.

John O'Connor, of the township of Marmora, letters of administration granted to Mary O'Connor, administratrix. Estate, $1700. W. B. Northrup, solicitor.

Cheese Markets

WOODSTOCK, Oct. 3.—There were 33,527 boxes of cheese offered. Sales: 370 boxes at 10 3 16 to 10½; 10½ was freely offered. Next market Oct. 10.

The Works in Operation.

The plating works of Messrs. Burton & Miller have been opened in the upper flat of the building occupied by Harris & Walton, Mill St., and began operations today. The firm have a large amount of work ahead and orders are coming in fast.

Two Funerals To-day.

At 11 o'clock this morning, the funeral of the late John Donaldson, who died on Tuesday, took place to the cemetery and was largely attended.

The funeral of W. J. Doxter took place at 2:30 this afternoon to the cemetery. Both lodges of the Sons of England turned out to pay their last respects to their departed brother. The G. T. R. men also turned out in large numbers.

Catarrh—Use Nasal Balm. Quick, positive cure. Soothing, cleansing, healing.

SOCIAL & PERSONAL

The INTELLIGENCER invites all its readers to contribute to this column. If you or your friends are going away on a holiday trip or if you have friends visiting you, drop a card to this office.

Mr. Geo. F. Hope, left as noon to-day for Montreal.

Mrs. H. Lalonde left to-day to visit her daughter in Ottawa.

Mrs. H. Austin and children returned from Toronto to-day at noon.

F. W. Breuton returned from a business trip to Montreal this morning.

Wm. M. Spurr, of Madoc, was booked by S. Barrows to-day for England.

Fred Pole left at noon to day for Montreal, where he will take a situation.

Lieutenant-Governor Chaplean, of Quebec, is confined to his house by illness.

R. B. Denike and Jas. H. Diamond, Campbellford; D. Hicks, Colborne, were at the Anglo to-day.

John Andrews, Port Hope; Edgar Jennings, Jas. Whittomb and Arthur Summers, Cape Vincent, N.Y., were at the Queen's to-day.

A letter to a friend from Arthur Wallbridge in New York, states that he has left the Press and is now with the New York World.

Hon. Mackenzie Bowell arrived from Ottawa last evening, and went to Roslin to attend the funeral of the late John White to-day.

Miss Canfield of Belleville, has been in town visiting friends.—Miss Florence Meyer, of Belleville, who has just returned from a month's visit to friends in Indiana, spent Sunday at "Rosemount," the guest of Mrs. (Dr.) McKenzie.—Trenton Courier.

SPORTING NEWS

Mr. T. S. Clarke his son "Tom" and Mr. E. F. Ketcheson have returned from a few days sport amongst the partridge in the northern townships. They got thirty-six brace.

To-morrow's quoit match at the Commercial House promises to be a success. Claus, Morton, Mundell and other good local men will take part.

Claus' quoit cup challenge has met with ready acceptance in Toronto. Harry Jackman, of the Davenport hotel, writes to the Mail:—I have an "unknown" in this city who will accommodate Mr. Claus with a match. He is prepared to play for a stake of from $100 to $500 a side. Best and best quoits to be used, and the game to be played under the Dominion Quoiting Association rules. I will allow Mr. Claus all expenses. Should this prove satisfactory to that gentleman, I will immediately place in the hands of the Sporting Editor of this journal $25 as a guarantee of good faith. The match to take place on Friday, October 19th, to commence at 1 p. m. sharp, on the grounds of the Davenport hotel, Toronto. If this is acceptable to Mr. Claus, kindly answer through these columns.

J. Richardson writes to the Mail:—I hereby offer to meet Mr. Claus for the stakes mentioned, but if Mr. Claus will play me in Toronto I will allow him $25 for expenses, or I will go to Belleville to meet him if he will allow me the same amount for expenses. I would also prefer a date one week later than that mentioned in Mr. Taylor's letter, or about October 19. I would also prefer to play him one single game, rather than two out of three. If this offer is accepted, I will put up the forfeit of $25 with the Sporting Editor of the Mail, and would require him to place his forfeit in the same hands.

The celebrated trotters Alix and Directum, have been matched to trot within 30 days for $2,500 a side.

The directors of the Olympic Club of New Orleans have declared Robert Fitzsimmons heavyweight champion of the world, because of Corbett's failure to defend the title.

At Portland, Me., on the 3rd, Directum defeated Nelson in 2:10¼, 2:13¼, and 2:08¼.

Lord Hawke's cricketers made 147 runs in their first innings at Toronto yesterday.

New York and Baltimore base ball clubs were to have played their first match for the Temple cup at Baltimore this afternoon.

John Walker Again.

The notorious John Walker, who has given the police no end of trouble in years past, and who served six months in the Central Prison for abusing his wife and family about a year ago, came home yesterday from the west, where he had been for the past five months, and began to celebrate. He got on a good load of intoxicants and went to his home on Hartley St., where he began to raise a row. The police were notified, but when they went up there he was as docile as a lamb. He has threatened to kill his wife time and again and the neighbors fear he will carry out the threat. Severe punishment will be his lot if he comes before the Magistrate again.

A Pleasant Wedding,

At Stockdale, on the evening of the 26th Sept., Mr. Geo. A. Bonesteel and Miss Alice Anderson were married by the Rev. Mr. Depew, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Anderson. The bride's dress was cream crepon, and the maids of honor were dressed in Swiss muslin. The genial hostess, Mrs. Anderson, provided a magnificent banquet for the numerous company. The music of Frankford Cornet Band was delightful and fully appreciated. In the early morning hours the party wished the happy couple God Speed, on a trip to Niagara and adjoining cities. The bride was the recipient of many handsome presents.

John White's Funeral.

The funeral of the late John White took place to-day at Roslin. A large number from the city attended. H. Corby, M. P., took with him N. B. Falkiner, President West Hastings Conservative Association; J. F. Wills, Secretary; Curtis Bogart, Treasurer; and Jas. Starling, President of the Junior Conservative Association. Many Orangemen and prominent citizens drove out and the funeral was undoubtedly the largest ever held in that part of the county. Full particulars to morrow.

A Good Reputation.

How does a business house get a good reputation? It cannot be possible that the people praise a one-price establishment like the Oak Hall and recommend them to their friends, unless such a firm have honestly won their honest reputation. Good goods, low prices, and all around fair treatment, has its reward in the long run. The Oak Hall are having their reward.

Superior Quality.

Improvement is continually being made in refining coal oil, so that in both Canadian and American oil now being received in tank cars by L. W. Yeomans & Co., the quality is superior. It burns bright, and is free from odor.

PROBABILITIES.

TORONTO, Oct. 4.—Partly fair, with fresh south west to north west winds; some showers; a little lower temperature.

A BUSY, THRIVING TOWN.

CAMPBELLFORD A SEAT OF FLOURISHING INDUSTRIES.

Surrounded by a Rich Farming Country —An Unlimited and Unfailing Water Power in the Front—A Lively and Pleasant Place.

The village of Campbellford is located in the east riding of the county of Northumberland, some 35 miles from the city of Belleville. It has a population of about 2,600 inhabitants. The village is beautifully situated upon the banks of the river Trent, and the country adjoining is a fine agricultural district. Its business citizens are noted for their energy and business tact, and as a consequence the shops show everything to suit the most fastidious purchaser, and the farming community of the surrounding district purchase largely in the village. A visitor to Campbellford cannot but be impressed with the tireless business energy which is so manifestly seen on every hand. He will also soon be convinced that the community is possessed of great public spirit. The mechanics and working men, are to a great extent the owners of the houses in which they reside, all of which manifest an appearance of thrift and good taste. There are a number of handsome residences with fine lawns, flower plots and other neat surroundings. The corporation is ever ready to make an expenditure for anything which will tend to add to the village's welfare. With all the advantages of the great power afforded by the mighty and rushing water of the river, it is not surprising that Campbellford is destined to become a great manufacturing centre. There are already established manufacturing concerns which have a far famed reputation, notable amongst which is the famous Trent Valley Woollen mill. This mill is is among the largest of its kind in the country. It is situated upon the river's bank in the heart of the village, and is indeed an ornament to the place. It is five stories in height and of an immense length. It is built of red brick. At the present time it is running in full blast and employs between 150 and 200 men and women. The goods which are here manufactured are sent to all parts of the world. It is a concern of which the citizens feel justly proud. There is also situated here another woollen mill of much smaller dimensions, but which nevertheless employs a large number of hands and turns out a fine class of work. The celebrated flour mill of Mr. J. D. Smith is situated here. This is also a fine brick and stone building and is equipped with every appliance for the manufacturing of first class flour. There are also two foundries at present in operation and Mr. Dickson is having erected a fine brick building adjoining Mr. Smith's flour mill which will also be used for a foundry. When completed it will be a valuable addition to the village. There are other small manufacturing concerns which give employment to a number of hands. The Rathbun and Gilmour lumber companies have also large interests in this village. The mill of the former is still running at full blast. Both of these firms transact much business during the year. The Gilmour Co. have at the present time a large drive of logs at Heeley's falls, which is about five miles from the village. These logs will no doubt be brought down before navigation closes. The village has also first class planing mills.

Whilst endeavoring to further the material progress of the village in every respect its inhabitants have not been inattentive to matters appertaining to their intellectual development. There are excellent Public and High Schools, both of which are provided with a capable staff of teachers. The schools occupy a commanding situation overlying the village. Few schools in Ontario are more pleasantly situated. They are built of brick, the Public School being somewhat of the Roman design, whilst the new High School building is of the modern design. The rooms are large and equipped with all the modern appliances. It is ventilated with the Smead-Dowd system. There are extensive grounds which are kept very neatly. The school at present is to the front as one of the best in the province. The grounds in front are tastefully laid out with flower beds and walks, whilst in the rear is a large playground.

In religious matters the village is also to the front. The Presbyterian, Methodist, Baptist and Roman Catholics have fine places in which to worship. The Salvation Army have also quite a following.

For protection against fire the village is finely equipped.

The place is supplied with fine water works and has also an electric fire alarm. The village owns the electric fire alarm system. It is also provided with hose reels and a fine hook and ladder wagon.

Campbellford can boast of good hotel accomodations, with courteous hosts. An old established house is the Windsor, conducted by Mr. T. Blute, who is ever ready to do all in his power to make his guests feel at home. The village boasts of being an orderly place, and although the writer was in there but a day, it was long enough to convince him that the boast was by no means an unwarranted one. Arrests are very few, whilst there is almost a total absence of noisy quarrels. All this speaks well for the law abiding character of the population and the legion of workingmen who make this busy town their home. With its advantages it is not at all surprising that Campbellford is a great manufacturing centre and the seat of various thriving industries.

CHIEF JUSTICE MEREDITH.

W. R. Meredith, Q.C., as Sir Thomas Galt's Successor.

It is reported on good authority that the position of Chief Justice of the Court of Common Pleas, rendered vacant by the recent resignation of Sir Thomas Galt, has been offered to Mr. W. R. Meredith, Q.C. When seen regarding the report Mr. Meredith declined to be interviewed or to make any statement about the matter. Some of his friends say, however, that he will shortly accept the appointment and retire from political life. During the past ten years rumors have occasionally associated Mr. Meredith's name with a place on the bench, and, on these occasions, the possibility of his becoming a judge has drawn forth warm testimonies of public respect from all quarters, and a general recognition of his fitness for the post. He is highly thought of all over Ontario, and a much better qualified by talents, eminent standing at the bar and personal character could not be selected. If Mr. Meredith accepts the position approval of the choice will be general and genuine.—Empire.

Known Here.

Mr. Geo. Clendenning, one of the oldest engineers on this division of the Grand Trunk Railway, and who of late years has been running the mixed train between here and Belleville, left Sunday night for London, Ont., where he will hereafter have charge of a passenger train out of that city. This is a well deserved promotion, for Mr. Clendenning has been a faithful employe. His family will join him in the course of a few weeks. Mr. R. M. Bell will now assume charge of Mr. Clendenning's former train.—Brockville Recorder.

SEYMOUR TOWNSHIP FAIR.

Postponed on Account of the Inclement Weather.

The annual fall exhibition of the township of Seymour Agriculture Society was dated for Tuesday and Wednesday of this week, to be held in the village of Campbellford. The weather, however, was against it. On Tuesday morning and after noon rain fell slightly, which interfered somewhat with the day's proceedings. On Wednesday a representative of this journal visited the grounds, but found them in a bad condition, owing to the heavy rain early in the morning. It was at first thought that the fair would be carried out, but about 10 o'clock, rain again commenced to fall and continued until after the hour of noon. The directors held a meeting and decided to postpone the fair until Thursday and Friday the 11th and 12th inst. Had the weather been favorable, there is no doubt, but that the fair would have been the most successful ever held by the society, as there were upon the grounds more exhibits in the various classes than had ever before been seen there. In the main building was to be seen a large and varied display of vegetables, potatoes especially being numerous and fine specimens. Turnips and mangel wurzels were also shown in large quantities. In field grains many specimens were to be seen. A large display here was that of home made bread; there being upwards of 40 loaves shown. Considerable butter and cheese were seen. Carriages and harness were also exhibited. Upstairs was devoted to the display of fruit and ladies' fancy work. In the former class there was a large variety and some fine specimen of fruit were to be seen. In the ladies' department Miss Jewell, of Hastings village, was a promising exhibitor. Her paintings upon silk, plaques and canvas were beautiful works of art and much admired. Mrs. O. J. Irwin also showed some fine specimen of paintings. In needlework there was a good display.

A large number of cattle were upon the ground, including Mr. Wm. Stewart's Worlds Fair prize herd, one of the animals being valued at $1,000. Mr. A. Hume also had a number of fine Ayrshires. The other exhibitors were F. Bonnycastle, J. Ketcheson, W. Stillmen, J. Armstrong, and W. Clark. There were a number of sheep brought up in the grounds but owing to the rain they were not unloaded. There were some fine Leicester, Shropshire and other breeds. The show of swine was first class mostly of the Berkshire and Yorkshire breeds. A fine lot of poultry was also to be seen. It was a matter of regret that the fair could not be held, and it is to be hoped that next week the directors will be favored with fine weather, when no doubt a good show will be held.

AMUSEMENTS

TRIED AS BY FIRE.

Mrs. Margaret L. Shepherd will make her first appearance as an actress in this town on Saturday evening in the above interesting play. All the main incidents in her extraordinary career will be faithfully portrayed, even to the minutest detail of costume and scenery. The company has been carefully chosen, and embraces such experienced people as Martin Cleeve, the accomplished English actor, (who is also engaged for the stage management), Ada G. Oleworth, George Saunders, Grace Norton, Dudley Broughton and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brandon. The play has been carefully rehearsed and pronounced by some of the most eminent critics, who were present by invitation in its later stages of advancement, as a model of everything new, striking and original.

The Judge's Divorce Case,

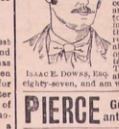

"Belleville is getting so be as bad as Chicago," said one citizen to another this morning. "How's that?" was the minutest question. "Why, only a day or two ago the Judge divorced a married couple with as little ceremony as the Chicago divorce Judges use." "You're convincing." "No, I am not; it's the solid truth. You know the man and woman who robbed Goodfellow's store? well, they were found guilty, and the Judge divorced them by sending one to the Central Prison and the other to the Reformatory." "Ha! ha! not a bad joke for you, but it's rather rough on the Reynolds'." "Not a bit of it; they didn't get half what they deserved. No punishment can be too severe for a man who will rob a store when he can get clothing honestly for next to nothing by going to 'gough's, the wonderful cheap man, Front Street, Belleville.' "By Jove, you're right; I got a first class overcoat of gough, and the price was so low that I felt as though I had robbed him. But I needn't feel so, for that's the way everybody fares. His clothing is of prime quality, and the prices are wonderfully low." "So I've heard—good as the wheat, and cheap as the dirt it grows in."

Arrests in Kingston Expected.

The Grand Trunk Railway authorities claim that they have unearthed one of the largest conspiracies ever engineered on the continent, says the Kingston News. The way the scheme is described is the company was worked was this: It is alleged that Wilkinson and Tallefer issued forged passes, which were sold by William Lewis, a porter at the Queen's hotel, Montreal. Those who purchased the passes, were told to take the trains on which Conductors Mulligan or Stone were running. These conductors acknowledged the passes, and turned the passengers over to Conductors Tamblyn or Defries in the run between this city and Toronto. The conductors who took up the passes did not turn them in, and the consequence was that it was impossible to discover the crime by comparing the passes with the stubs. If a spotter worked the train he overlooked the passes, thinking them genuine.

Some of the passes were given away in this city, but the people who received them were not told to travel with any special conductor. It is rumored in Montreal that important arrests will be made in Kingston to-day, and that the road will experience a shaking up second to none in its history.

WASTED TO A SKELETON.

Spring Valley, Scotland Co., N.Y.
DR. R. V. PIERCE: Sir—For three years I had suffered from that terrible disease, consumption, and heart disease. Before taking Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery I had wasted away to a skeleton; could not sleep nor rest, and many times wished to die to be out of my misery. Step by step, the sights and realities of returning health gradually but surely developed themselves while taking the "Discovery." To-day I tip the scales at one hundred and eighty-seven, and am well and strong.

ISAAC B. DOWNS, Esq.

PIERCE Guarantees a CURE.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" has also cured my daughter of a very bad ulcer located on the thigh. After trying almost everything without success, we purchased three bottles of your "Discovery," which healed it up perfectly. Respectfully yours,

ISAAC B. DOWNS.

GEO. RITCHIE & CO.

HIGH GRADE GARMENTS

At Moderate Prices!

OUR stock of LADIES' JACKETS and WRAPS is very complete. It embraces the very latest modes from Great Britain, Paris and Berlin. Our facilities for buying enable us to show the very latest novelties at the lowest possible prices. Our Mr. Ritchie spent a fortnight in Berlin this season making a personal selection of the newest shapes and materials from the best makers known to the trade. We cordially invite you to pay a visit to this department whether you wish to buy or not.

GREAT VARIETY .... OF STYLES!

Three-quarter length Prince Albert Coats in Cheviots, Friezes and Beavers.

Three-quarter length Cheviot and Serge Coats, fur trimmed, beautifully finished.

Three-quarter length Frieze Jackets, tight fitting, with Eton front, braid trimmed.

Three-quarter length Fancy Tweed Coats, large reveres, tight fitting, strap seams, very nobby.

Three-quarter length Fine Beaver Coat, tight fitting, full sleeves, silk lined, trimmed with moire, fur edged, very new style.

Golf Capes, with silk-lined Hoods, in a variety of choice materials, plaid linings.

A Fine Assortment of Children's Garments

Geo. Ritchie & Co.

Mr. J. W. Dykeman, St. George, New Brunswick.

After the Grip

No Strength, No Ambition

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cave Perfect Health.

The following letter is from a well-known merchant tailor of St. George, N. B.:

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"Gentlemen—I am glad to say that Hood's Sarsaparilla and Hood's Pills have done me a great deal of good. I had a severe attack of the grip in the winter, and after getting over the fever I did not seem to gather strength, and had no ambition. Hood's Sarsaparilla proved to be just what I needed. The results were very satisfactory, and I recommend this medicine to all who are afflicted with rheumatism or other afflictions caused by poison and poor blood. I always keep Hood's Sarsaparilla in my house and use it when I need a tonic. We also keep Hood's Pills on hand and think highly of them."—J. W. DYKEMAN, St. George, New Brunswick.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

Hood's Pills are purely vegetable, and do not purge, pain or gripe. Sold by all druggists.

Changed Daily.

THURSDAY, Oct. 4th, 1894.

35cts. Buys. A .... Lamp!

That will give you a great light. Our 35c. Glass Lamp is great value. Large Burner, Flint Glass Chimney, and they give light.

Stroud's

TEA STORE.

Schiffmann's Asthma Cure

Instantly relieves the most violent attacks facilitates free expectoration and insured rest to those otherwise unable to sleep except in a chair, as a single trial will prove. Send for a free trial package to Dr. R. Schiffmann's, St. Paul, Minn., but ask your druggist first.

YES,

The Crockery trade is interesting. We've just about finished the heaviest fruit jar season on record. Now we'll pitch into LAMPS and FLOWER POTS. Prices are amazingly low. This month will see the lamp stock complete with 150 kinds. We have just placed an order for an elegant new stock of the celebrated "Meriden Britannia Co's." SILVER PLATE and Sterling Ware.

W. J. REID & CO'Y.

CRYSTAL HALL. Rous' Old Stand.

London and Belleville.

WALL-PAPER!

SEE THAT?

CLEANLINESS!
HEALTH!
ECONOMY!
HAPPINESS!
FURNISHING!
CHARACTER!
ART!
Common Sense

There's a Lot of Meaning in it for You!!

There's an array that is hard to beat!

Could you ask more? Here it is

A Discount of 10 per cent. for 30 days.

Test our Ability to Advise on Interior Decorations.

C. B. SCANTLEBURY.

IT - HAS - BEEN - ADMITTED

BY OVER 125 PEOPLE IN BELLEVILLE THAT THE

John Bull Wrought Steel Range,

Is the most Economical, Everlasting and Useful Range on the market. How is this for three Seasons.

SEE THEM AT FOSTER'S.

Also the Duchess of Oxford Cast Iron Range.

ESTABLISHED 1870.

Greenland Seal Driving Capes 24 Inches Long $12.00

Wool Seal Empire Capes 26 Inches Long $18.00

Persian Lamb Jackets made to order from $60.00 up, according to length and quality.

Seal Jackets made to order, $125.00 up, according to length and quality. Thousand of dollars worth of Skins to pick from.

S. A. HYMAN.

Manufacturing Furrier.

P S.—Old Furs cleaned, dyed and made over in latest styles.

His Dyspepsia Cured.

MR. GEO. READ.

DEAR SIRS,—
I write you to say that for some time I had been suffering from acute indigestion or dyspepsia, and of course felt very great inconvenience from same in my general business. I thereupon decided to try Burdock Blood Bitters, and after taking two bottles I found I was quite another man, for

B. B. B. CURED ME.

I have also used it for my wife and family, and have found it the best thing they can take, and from past experience I have every pleasure in strongly recommending B. B. B. to all my friends.

I write you because I think that it should be generally known what B.B.B. can accomplish in cases of indigestion.

GEORGE READ, Sherbrooke, Que.

HAMILTON, TORONTO AND MONTREAL,

Via Bay of Quinte, Calling at all Ports Weekly.

THE FAVORITE STEAMER

"MAGNET"

Leaves St. Catharines Tuesday 9 a. m.
Toronto " 4 p. m.
Leaves Belleville for Montreal } Wednesday 7:30 a m
Leaves Belleville for Toronto } Sunday 8 p. m.

First Class Passenger Accommodation, Large Freight Capacity. Lowest Rates
For Tickets, Rates, &c., Apply to the RATHBUN COMPANY, Agents,
or to
CAPT. J. J. TOWERS, Superintendent, No. 2 King st., Toronto.
C. F. GILDERSLEEVE, General Manager, 228 St. Paul st., Montreal.

ROCHESTER, KINGSTON AND MONTREAL.

Weekly Service Calling at Way Ports

THE PEOPLE'S FAVORITE STEAMER.

"ALEXANDRIA"

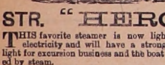

Leaves Montreal, Thursday at 10:00 a. m.
Arrives Belleville, Saturday at 11:45 a. m.
Leaves for Rochester " " 1:15 p. m.
Arrives from Rochester, Monday at 6:30 a. m.
Leaves for Montreal, " " 7:30 a. m.

Spacious and elegant Saloon. Ample Stateroom accommodation. The choicest and best Meals furnished. Safety, comfort and enjoyment ensured by personal supervision of Capt. Smith and Purser Melrose. Careful handling o freight.

For Tickets, State rooms at lowest rates apply to
THE RATHBUN COMPANY.
Agents.

Bay of Quinte Steamb t Route

TRI-WEEKLY
DESER'TO, PICTON & KINGSTON
1894 - 1894

STR. "HERO"

THIS favorite steamer is now lighted by electricity and will have a strong search light for excursion business and the boat is heated by steam.

Commencing Monday, April 9th, will leave Belleville Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 6 a m, returning Tuesday, Thursday and riday at 11 p m.

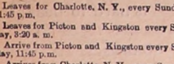

The very best facilities are offered to shippers of freight. The lowest through and local rates quoted.

No wharfage at Picton on freight for this steamer.

Full information given by Gilbert Johnston on board, or to the
RATHBUN COM'Y,
. H. GILDERSLEEVE, Ticket Agents, Kingston.

ROCHESTER.

STEAMER

NORTH KING

Leaves for Charlotte, N. Y., every Sunday, 11:45 p.m.

Leaves for Picton and Kingston every Sunday, 3:20 a. m.

Arrive from Picton and Kingston every Sunday, 11:45 p.m.

Arrives from Charlotte, N. Y., every Sunday, 3:20 a. m.

Special attention given to passengers and freight.

WEEK DAYS.—Steamer leaves Port Hope week days for Charlotte, N. Y., at 9:45 a.m.

Calls at Brighton Monday 2 a.m., and Wednesday 2.30 a.m., and at Colborne Wednesday and Fridays 4 a.m.

Connection made by Grand Trunk morning trains.

THE RATHBUN CO., Agents. U. E. THOMPSON, Agent. 43tf

Steamer "Iona"

Will eave Belleville three times each week for Oswego, connecting with trains for New York.

INSURANCE.

Western Assurance Company,
Fire and Ma ine Head Office, Toronto

North British & Mercantile Ins. Co.,
Fire and Life, Head Office (Can) Montreal

Atlas Insurance Company,
Fire, Head Office (Canada), Montreal

M. M. THOMPSON
Water Works Office, Bridge St

Daily Intelligencer.

At Death's Door—Dyspepsia Conquered —A Great Medical Triumph.

GENTLEMEN,—My medical adviser and others told me I could not possibly live when I commenced to use Northrop & Lyman's VEGETABLE DISCOVERY for Dyspepsia. My case was one of the worst of its kind. For three years I could not eat meat and my weight decreased from 219 to 119 lbs. All the food I took for thirteen months previous to taking the VEGETABLE DISCOVERY consisted of milk. I am now entirely cured and have regained my usual weight, can eat anything with a keen relish and feel like a new man. I have sold over thirty dozen VEGETABLE DISCOVERY since it cured me, as I am well known, and people in this section know how low I was, and thought I could not possibly be cured. They are eager to try this grand medicine. It certainly saved my life, as I never expected to recover when first I commenced using it. I am not exaggerating anything but feel glad to be able to contribute this testimonial and trust it may be the means of convincing others of its merits as a certain cure for Dyspepsia.

Signed. JEAN VALCOURT,
Wotton, P. Q.

In 1888 the people of Great Britain paid taxes on 492 200 carriages.

Is there anything more annoying than having your corn stepped upon? Is there anything more delightful than getting rid of it? Holloway's Corn Cure will do it. Try it and be convinced.

In Portugal the tobacco tax brings £900,000, the land tax £700,000.

Some people laugh to show their pretty teeth. The use of Ivory White Tooth Powder makes people laugh more than ever. It's so nice. Price 25c. Sold by druggists.

Worms cause feverishness, moaning and restlessness during sleep. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator is pleasant, sure and effectual. If your druggist has none in stock, get him to procure it for you.

The rate of taxation has nearly quadrupled in France since 1830.

DYSPEPSIA causes dizziness, headache, constipation, variable appetite, rising and souring of food, palpitation of the heart, distress after eating. Burdock Blood Bitters is guaranteed to cure Dyspepsia if faithfully used according to directions.

Until about forty years ago, the Persian Government levied a tax on cats.

Mr T. J. Humes, Columbus, Ohio, writes: 'I have been afflicted for some time with kidney and Liver Complaint, and find Parmelee's Pills the best medicine for these diseases These Pills do not cause pain or griping, and should be used when a cathartic is required. They are Gelatine Coat d, and rolled in the Flour of Licorice to preserve their purity and give them a pleasant, agreeable taste.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP cures Bronchitis.

FOR CHOLERA MORBUS, Cholera Infantum Cramps, Colic, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, and Summer Complaint Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is a prompt, safe and sure cure that has been a popular favorite for over 40 years.

STEAMER VARUNA

A. HICKS, Captain.

WILL leave Trenton every morning, (Sunday excepted) at 7:00 o'clock, calling at Rednerville and all points between the head of the bay and Picton, leaving Belleville at 8:30 a.m., Deseronto at 10:20 a.m.

On Tuesday and Thursday evenings to meet North King at Brighton, returning will leave Brighton Wednesday and Saturday mornings at 5:30.

Will connect at Picton with stage for Sand Banks.

Parties wishing to arrange for excursion rates wil see Capt. Hicks on board

Will leave Picton at 1 p.m. on return for the head of the bay, Deseronto 2:30 p.m., Belleville, at 4:30 p. m., and Trenton, at 6.

Omnibuses in waiting at Picton, Belleville and Brighton.

The Rathbun Co., Agents, Belleville and Deseronto.

A. W. Hepburn, Agent, P ton.

STOVE PIPES!
STOVE PIPES!!
STOVE PIPES!!!

WHIPS!	LANTERNS!
WHIPS!!	LANTERNS!!
WHIPS!!!	LANTERNS!!!
Lamps,	Flower Pots,
Lamps,	Flower pots,
Lamps,	Flower Pots.

—AT—

THE FAIR,
FRANK WEEKS, MANAGER.

FINE CLASS
Underwear
ALL GRADES.

STOCK - IS - ALL - NEW
— — AT — —

GEO. P. MINAKER'S.
Opposite Tickell & Son's

SPORT.

Lacrosse Sticks,
Foot Balls,
Tennis Goods,
Croquet, etc.,
Base Ball Supplies.

Also, Wall Paper,
Window Shades,
Hammocks,
Fans,
Purses,
Albums, Bibles and Novels.

—AT—

Overell's Book Store.

Next to Glasgow Warehouse.

THE KISS OF GOLD.

By KATE JORDAN.

[Copyright, 1893, by J. B. Lippincott Company and published by special arrangement with them.]

"But you seem depressed."

Tom smoked for a moment in silence.

"Not so much depressed. I am disgusted," he said fiercely. "Did you know that I was—drunk last night?"

Delatole opened his eyes very wide and softly laughed as if infinitely amused.

"I wish you wouldn't laugh," Tom said, a little sullenly, a streak of color crossing his cheek. "It was the first time and is not pleasant to remember."

Delatole's eyebrows twitched; he lowered his eyes and thoughtfully moved some trifle on the table.

"But, I say, are you going in for respectability—for that cumbersome respectability that 'strains at a gnat?' Are you?"

The languid curiosity of his tone was more contemptuous than his laugh.

Tom was troubled by a strange feeling as he listened. He did not like Delatole in his usual genial, unreserved way. Just to watch the slow movements of his listless hands held an enigmatical fascination. He felt a strong desire to emulate his ease and sagacity, but underneath and through it all there floated an ill defined repulsion.

The man seemed the product of a forced, perverted life. Something about his dark pallor and sneering lips dimly reminded Tom of a flower forced into a semblance of bloom by the aid of a noxious gas, but with life and color and strength missing.

"You see, my dear fellow," Delatole continued, "I know that you are fresh from a religious environment—that you are young; therefore I don't accept your views seriously. Perhaps they are but natural. I won't label you 'prig' and give you up. I'll only give you time. Here comes my man with some brandy and soda. Perhaps your saintship won't have any?"

"Of course I will. You don't suppose I meant to draw such fine distinctions. Surely you understand," said Tom earnestly, and he looked away into the leaping golden heart of the fire. "Last night's events gave a blow to my preconceived ideas of life. I mean to hold to them, you see."

"Rubbish! A little laxity only makes a man's nature wholesomely expand. Now, look here, Murray," and Delatole spoke impressively as he stroked his pointed beard, "I'm going to transplant you, and to a soil where you'll grow mentally. If you don't astound us with a play even more unforgettable than 'The World's Way,' because more mature, it won't be my fault."

A question darkened Tom's eyes, and he leaned eagerly forward.

"You made a wonderfully good guess at life's flavor in 'The World's Way.' But I'm going to make you taste it in truth, the brackish and the sweet. In short, I'm going to ask you to pitch in your fortunes with mine and share these rooms with me. Since Glendenning disappointed me I have preferred to live and dream alone. But—frankly—I like you. The suite is large. We would not clash. Besides, just across the hall is an atelier left vacant since De Courcey ran away only recently to escape his debts. You'll probably find the drapery of a departed model still upon the platform. You could furnish it as you please and have it as your own particular den."

He watched Tom's eyes travel half wistfully around the odd, artistic place.

"Charming," he said at length and added slowly, "but impossible. You see, I'm going to marry very soon."

Delatole stared at him as if incapable of grasping the statement.

"Yes," said Tom, and now a blunt tenderness rang in his voice, "I am going to marry Virginia Kent."

"Are you mad?" and the words were a slow exclamation.

Delatole rose as he spoke, lifted one of the fragile glasses on the table and contemptuously flung it from him. It lay upon the hearth, a mass of opaline splinters.

"In another year you will be as artistically ruined as that glass."

Not dreaming of the selfish motive prompting this violent objection and listening to words that were a passionless prophecy, Tom could not resist the shudder that ominously passed over him.

"One would think I talked of committing a crime." And the words were breathless.

"And so you are. Isn't it a crime to throw away your chance? Life doesn't offer too many of them. Let me tell you, too, my dear fellow, that you do not strike me as one who would cultivate the virtues of patience and humility under the stress of failure and poverty. Marry now, when you have just crossed the line, before your strength has had a fair test, and you'll not only fail, but probably break your wife's heart in a year. You remember what I said to you last night. I did not dream then that you were thinking of the madness of an early marriage; that you stood on the verge of the abyss strewn with the ruins of good beginnings."

As Tom listened his face grew stern, his eyes searching.

"Why should I fail because I keep my word to a woman, better, truer, a hundred times, than I am—not a woman to retard any man's progress? She has been my inspiration. You don't know Virginia. She is more to me than anything in the world. I need not fail. I will not fail."

He looked very stalwart, very determined, as he towered above Delatole, his blue eyes flashing in his intense face.

"What interest can I have but for your good?" asked his new friend, and the silken voice held a soothing gentleness after Tom's hot, strained tones. "Let us look at this matter dispassionately. You are young. You have written one play of startling strength and charm. It will bring you so much money. Alone, independent, you would have a good income, be able to mix with the world, travel a little and feed your brain until it teemed with digested impressions gathered from boudoir and barroom. The same money will not support a home and a wife except in a cramped, obscure way. Your love for her will be another drawback to earnest work. The treadmill of your dull, loving, respectable existence day in and day out in some little flat will afford no feverish impetus to your imagination. You will never write a play worth having typewritten on the inspiration offered by a baby's fists. Ah, have I not watched the mental paralysis set in before? Love is bad enough, but love and poverty"——

Tom turned away and faced the window. He did not seek the park. For just one moment the gray picture Delatole stretched rose before him, and an acute, unmeasured despair took hold of him.

He beat it back fiercely. He would not believe. But the resistance was no longer buoyant; it was forced.

"Then there is the other side—freedom knowing no limit," continued Delatole in a soliloquizing tone as he walked up and down smoking, never once glancing at the silent, erect figure in the window. "Freedom. Only those who have surrendered it know the full sweetness of that word. Every door would be open to you. You need not only be a Bohemian. A fellow like you, of undoubted talent, well looking, clever, independent and with some money would not have to knock at society's golden door for admission. It would fly open to you. For myself I hate the stiff set, but it is always well for an artist to become acquainted with every sort of human. Under conditions of this sort your artistic vein would warm and expand, your nature vibrate to change after change. The man who enters a race fettered is a fool. When I have said this. I have said all."

(To be Continued)

CANADA BITTERLY ATTACKED.

Congressman Wilson Says Some Hard Things—Protection Assailed.

LONDON, Oct. 4.—In an article in the Investor's Review Congressman Wilson makes a bitter attack on the Canadian Government. He says the system of logrolling pursued by the merchants is disgraceful. The Canadian Government is assailed in denunciatory terms. Minister of Finance Foster's budget speech is likewise denounced, as well as the policy of protection pursued by the Canadian Government. The Canadian Pacific Railway, he says, had been promoted by devices the most unscrupulous ever employed. This line's completion had nearly ruined the Grand Trunk's credit.

In the province of Quebec, Mr. Wilson pursued, the public credit was so low that no money could be obtained in England on any terms.

The Chronicle, in a criticism of these remarks, says Canada has been injured by much injudicious booming. The Canadian Government has prepared misleading immigration returns. English and Irish immigrants speedily discovered that Canada's resources do not begin to compare with the States, and leave the Dominion. Protection has done nothing but mischief to Canada.

The Times publishes a letter from Mr. Moreton Frewen, saying that Congressman Wilson's recent speech will be likely to leave the impression upon the public mind that the Democrats of America are at the beginning, rather than the conclusion, of a free trade departure. The attempt to wrest the sources of direct taxation from the State and transfer them to the federal power has failed to secure popular approval and Mr. Wilson's speech has likely been the swan song of American free trade.

Burial of Captain McNeale.

HALIFAX, Oct. 4.—The funeral of Captain McNeale took place to-day. The cortege left the hospital and went to the garrison chapel where services were held. At the conclusion the funeral cortege reformed and proceeded to Fort Massey cemetery, the procession headed by a firing party of 100 men from King's Regiment. The casket, covered by a flag, was borne on a gun carriage drawn by four horses. All the men of King's Regiment marched in the funeral procession with sergeants and officers in rear. On arrival at the gates of the cemetery, the casket, on which was floral emblems, was taken from the carriage and carried on the shoulders of men of the regiment to the grave. The claim that these were not McNeale's remains have been made before, but the authorities are perfectly satisfied that the remains sent here were those of Capt. McNeale.

The Tornado in Arkansas.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 4.—News from the Arkansas State Insane Asylum confirmed the first report concerning the damage to that institution by the tornado which caused destruction and death in this city. All of the male department and annex was razed to the ground, four floors falling in a mass. Dr. Ingale, formerly of Mobile, Ala., and two patients were instantly killed, and four other patients were seriously and perhaps fatally injured. The destruction in the residence part of the city in the vicinity of the penitentiary is very great. State Senator Vest's daughter, who lived in that neighborhood, was injured by a falling roof. The house was blown down and everything destroyed. The other occupants escaped serious injury.

Too Good a Judge.

Wagstaff—Where's that's famous dog of yours that was such a good judge of tramps?

Hopscotch—I was obliged to give him away. To be frank, when I came home from the races the other night he bit me."

Deseronto Navigation Company (Limited

Steamer Ella Ross.

This fast sailing and comfortable steamer leaves Belleville for Trenton daily (Sunday excepted), at 10 a.m. Leaves Belleville for Deseronto and Picton at 3 p.m., connecting at Deseronto with steamers for Napanee and Oswego. Lowest freight and passenger rates. For further information apply to the Rathbun Co., Bridge street, or to R. C. Carter, General Manager, Deseronto.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP cures Coughs.

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry cures Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cramps, Colic, Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum, and all looseness of the bowels. Never travel without it. Price 35c.

In parts of Peru taxes are paid in cocoa leaves and Peruvian barks.

For coughs, colds, bronchitis and all lung and throat troubles, there is no preparation of medicine can compare with Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup. It never fails to afford prompt and permanent relief. It removes all soreness, and heals the diseased parts. It immediately soothes the most troublesome cough, and by promoting expectoration, removes the mucus which stops up the air tubes which, cause difficulty in breathing, thereby gives relief to that depressing tightness experienced in the chest. Public speakers and singers will find Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup of inestimable value, as it speedily and effectually allays all irritation, and huskiness in the throat and bronchial tubes, and gives power to the vocal cords, rendering the voice clear and sonorous If parents wish to save the lives of their children, and themselves from much anxiety trouble and expense let them procure a bottle of Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup, and whenever a child has taken cold, has a cough or hoarseness, give the Syrup according to directions.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP heals the lungs.

A stinted wife can find a vest pocket in the dark.

Ample warning is given us by our lungs when they are in danger. If foolhardy enough to neglect the warning signal, we incur imminent peril. Check a cough at the outset with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil—which is a sovereign pulmonic—besides being a remedy for soreness, lameness, abrasions of the skin, tumors, piles, rheumatism, etc.

BURDOCK PILLS, small, safe, and sure, regulate the liver and cure constipation.

Robert Lubbork, Cedar Rapids, writes: "I have used Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil both for myself and family for Diptheria with the very best results. I regard it as the best remedy for this disease, and would use no other.

Holland is the only country in Europe that admits coffee free of duty.

DYSPEPSIA arises from wrong action of stomach, liver and bowels. Burdock Blood Bitters cures Dyspepsia and all diseases arising from it, 99 times in 100.

SUNLIGHT SOAP
LESS LABOUR GREATER COMFORT!

DOES YOUR WIFE DO HER OWN WASHING?

IF she does, see that the wash is made Easy and Clean by getting her SUNLIGHT SOAP, which does away with the terrors of wash-day.

Experience will convince her that it PAYS to use this soap.

DRESSMAKERS DIFFER

About fashions in dresses, but everyone agrees that the best foundation for any costume is the

"HEALTH BRAND,"

Black tights, which allow the figure to be shewn to perfection and do away with over-stockings, bloomers, and unnecessary skirts.

All ladies in Montreal wore them last fall and winter, and during the coming season nothing else will be considered, they were such a success.

Send for our illustrated catalogue, free by post, if your own dealer has not got them.

THE MONTREAL SILK MILLS CO., Montreal.

Perry Davis' PAIN-KILLER
Buy Big 25c. Bottle
NO OTHER MEDICINE ON EARTH is so efficacious for Colic, Canadian Cholera, Cramps, Chills, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum and all Bowel Complaints.

NATHAN JONES,
IMPORTERS.

We have opened up the most varied and attractive stock of

FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC DRESS GOODS ALSO DRESS TRIMMINGS.

Misses Mounder and Gardner are giving satisfaction in dress and mantle making.

Why Don't You Stop?

And think seriously of the benefits it would be to you to take out a Policy with the

ONTARIO MUTUAL LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY.

Their 20 years Survivorship Distribution Plan embraces both

PROTECTION and INVESTMENT,

And you can go about your business without worry as to the future.

S. BURROWS

Can give you facts and figures. Ask him!!

THE - FALL - RAINS
ARE WITH US.

YOUR HOUSE WANTS A NEW ROOF—

WE HAVE THE SHINGLES.

In all grades, at lowest prices. Ask for quotations and see

XX. XXX. Clear Butts

THE RATHBUN COMPANY.

TO THE PUBLIC

When we decided to add the manufacure of carriages, phaetons, democrats, &c., to our business, we immediately put under construction a few of each. As we decided to place no vehicle on the market which is not A 1 in in every detail, and knowing that no first-class vehicle can be produced on the rush, it has been necessary for us to take sufficient time to produce what we aimed at. We think we have succeeded; and we now have a few rigs completed, and others nearing completion to offer for sale. The iron work is all hand forged; the wood work carefully made, and strongly ironed; and the painting and upholstering done with the best material and greatest care. We can freely recommend these rigs. We will be pleased to have parties who may need anything in the above line, call and inspect our work.

ST. CHARLES & PRINGLE.
JAS ST CHARLES. — — — — HENRY PRINGLE

The Sale of Boots and Shoes:

Slightly damaged by Smoke and Water will continue until everything is sold.

HAINES & LOCKETT

Opposite Anglo-American Hotel

Belleville and Napanee, Office, Bridge St. Telephone A. 4.

COAL — AND — WOOD.

THOS. STEWART,

The only dealer in Scranton Coal in Belleville and Napanee. The very best facilities for delivering to any part of the city or surrounding towns this coal, which is the best and cheapest mined.

No Gas. No Clinkers. No Waste

Clean, quick, hot, strong, cheerful fire. Smithing, Cannell, Brier Hill, Run of Mine coal and Coal Screenings always on hand. Hard and soft wood, Blocks and Edgings delivered to any part of the City.

DR. WOOD'S

Norway Pine Syrup.

Rich in the lung-healing virtues of the Pine combined with the soothing and expectorant properties of other pectoral herbs and barks.

A PERFECT CURE FOR COUGHS AND COLDS

Hoarseness, Asthma, Bronchitis, Sore Throat, Croup and all THROAT, BRONCHIAL and LUNG DISEASES. Obstinate coughs which resist other remedies yield promptly to this pleasant piny syrup.

PRICE 25C. AND 50C. PER BOTTLE.
SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

DR FOWLER'S EXT OF WILD STRAWBERRY
CURES
COLIC
CHOLERA
CHOLERA-MORBUS
DIARRHOEA
DYSENTERY
AND ALL SUMMER COMPLAINTS OF CHILDREN OR ADULTS
Price 35CTS
BEWARE OF IMITATIONS

Camping Supplies!

— AND —

Picnic - Requisites!

Our list of articles suitable for Picnic Lunches and Camping, includes:

Canned Meats.

ARMOUR'S COOKED BEEF,
ARMOUR'S OX TONGUES,
ARMOUR'S LUNCH TONGUES,
ARMOUR'S POTTED HAM,
ARMOUR'S COOKED PIG FEET'
ARMOUR'S LUNCHEON MEAT.
ARMOUR'S POTTED TONGUE
ARMOUR'S BRAWN,
SANDWICH MEATS,
BONELESS CHICKEN,
BONELESS TURKEY,
POTTED BEEF,
POTTED GAME,
ETC.! ETC.!! ETC!

Canned Fish.

FINEST SARDINES IN OIL,
FINEST SARDINES IN TOMATO,
HERRINGS IN TOMATO SAUCE,
KIPPERED HERRINGS,
FRESH HERRINGS,
SALMON, LOBSTERS,
FINNAN HADDIES,
BLOATER PASTE,
ANCHOVY PASTE,
SARDINE PASTE,
ETC.! ETC.!! ETC.!!!

Sundries.

Condensed Milk in Tins, Cream in Tins, Biscuits (in great variety), Fine old Cheese, McLaren's Imperial Cheese (in small crocks), Dried Beef, Choice Hams and Bacon, Lime Juice, Spanish Olives, CROSSE & BLACKWELL'S Pickled White Onions, Walnuts, Chow Chow, and and Mixed Pickles.

WALLBRIDGE & CLARKE

Grocers and Wine Merchants,
33 and 37 Bridge Street, Also Front Street, in Caldwell Building.

REMOVAL

MR. JOSEPH CALDWELL, DENTIST

Has removed his office to the new premises which he has had specially fitted up in the

Caldwell Block,

First door south of the Anglo-American Hotel Front street. 108t

INTELLIGENCER PRINTING AND PUBLISHING COMPANY (LIMITED.

J. O. JAMIESON, President. | J. W. LONDON, Secretary

THE Treasurer is the only person authorized to receive money from the Company, or to grant receipts for the same.

All Bills, Notes, Cheques and other documents binding on the Company, will require the signature of the President, in addition to th of the Treasurer.

THE INTELLIGENCE is printed and published by the INTELLIGENCER Printing and Publishing Company (Limited) by James C. Jamieson, resident in Belleville, at the Office, Front St., south of Hotel St.

The Daily Intelligencer.

LET THERE BE HARMONY IN THINGS ESSENTIAL—LIBERALITY IN THINGS NOT ESSENTIAL—CHARITY IN ALL.

VOL. 28. BELLEVILLE ONTARIO FRIDAY OCTOBER 5 1894 NO 131

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

MEDICAL.

DR WISHART.

47 GROSVENOR ST., Toronto, will be at the Huffman House, Belleville, Saturday, Dec. 1st, '94. 192dwly

DR. QUACKENBUSH, M.D., H.M.D., M.D., P.S.O.

HOMŒOPATHIC Physician, Surgeon and Accoucheur, has removed his office over store lately occupied by J. C. Overell, Residence George St., opposite H. Corby's.

JOHN J. FARLEY, M. D., C. M., M. R. C. S. England.

OFFICE and Residence—corner of Bridge and George Streets—three streets east of Post Office.

LEGAL.

FLINT & McCAMON.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public, etc. Solicitors for the Canadian Bank of Commerce. Office, City Hall, Front Street, Belleville, Ont. d84tf
JOHN J. B. FLINT, W. J. McCAMON.

STEWART MASSON.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, Notary, Conveyancer, etc. Office, South side Bridge st., over Wallbridge & Clark's, Belleville, Ont. Money to loan at lowest rates. 76dwtf

J. F. WILLS' LAW OFFICE.

REMOVED to Campbell Street (south side) 2nd door from Front Street, on ground floor.

A. GOODRICH.

LAWYER, 124 Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill., 28 years' experience; secrecy; special facilities in several States; Goodrich on Divorce; with laws of all States in press. 76dly

GEO. A. KINGSTON.

BARRISTER Solicitor, etc., with Lount, Marsh and Cameron, 25 Toronto St., Toronto. Money to loan on farm property at lowest rates. 233dtf9w.

MIKEL & ROBERTS.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notary Public, Conveyancers, etc. Offices Bridge St., Belleville. Monies to loan at lowest rate.

THOMAS & HALLIWELL.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Conveyancers, &c. Money to loan. 293d3mwly
J. PARKER THOMAS, J. EARL HALLIWELL.

PONTON & MORDEN,

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public, Conveyancers. Office over Express and Telegraph Office, Bridge St., Belleville. Money to loan—private funds.
WM. N. PONTON, M. A., Solicitor Hastings Loan and Investment Society.
W. S. MORDEN, B.A.

F. GUSS PORTER.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, Notary Public, etc. Office in the Robertson Block, east side of Front Street.
Private Money to Loan, 271dwly

FRANCIS S. WALLBRIDGE.

(Successor to Hon. Lewis Wallbridge, Q.C.) BARRISTER, Solicitor, Conveyancer, etc. Office, McAnnany building, corner Front and Bridge streets, Belleville, Ont. Private and Company money to loan at 6 per cent., on easy terms upon good land security. Charges moderate.

HENRY CARRE, C. E.

M. C. Soc C.E.,
DOMINION AND PROVINCIAL LAND SURVEYOR.

Special attention paid to Hydraulics and Land Drainage. Patents obtained and Drawings made. Office—McAnnany Block, under Ontario Business College, Front St. P.O. address—Box 203, Belleville.

A. G. NORTHRUP.

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Shire Hall, Belleville. 226d&wly

D. I. DULMAGE, L.D.S., D.D.S. (Tor. University).

DENTIST—Office over Brignall & Thompson's. Night calls at residence on Forin Street. d,w

CHAS. JOSE.

VETERINARY Surgeon, Graduate Ontario Veterinary College, Member Ontario Veterinary Society. Office and residence, Foxboro, Ont. Calls by mail or telegram promptly attended to. 304d,wly

MISCELLANEOUS.

AGENTCY of the Liverpool and London and Globe Fire and Life Insurance Companies.
W. P. HUDSON, Agent.
Office Campbell street, Belleville. d,w

TO LET.

TO LET 2 snug, warm brick houses in terrace, situated on Harriett St., West Belleville, known as Morten's, or Filliter's terrace. For terms of rent apply to R. C. Filliter, collector, or sub agent to the estate of the late H. E. Filliter. Residence at Mr. Jardin's Corner of William and Dundas Sts, East Belleville. 85d2m

12 Hours Saved.

— ON AND AFTER —

MONDAY, SEPT. 3RD, '94,

— THE —

CANADIAN PACIFIC RY.

—EXPRESS FOR—

Winnipeg & the Pacific Coast

(Via NORTH BAY,)

Will leave Toronto at 12:30 p. m., noon.

S. BURROWS,
C.P.R. Agent,
Belleville.

ALBERT - COLLEGE

MUSICAL DEPARTMENT.

MR. W. H. DINGLE, Principal.
MR. C. M. TRIPP, MISS MARIETTA WILSON, Assistants.

The next term begins Sept 5th.
Instruction at home if desired.
A graded course of instruction, all under the supervision of the Principal.
TERMS,—$6, $8, $12, according to grade. 20 half hour lessons.
Apply at once to either DR W P. DYER, or MR. W. H. DINGLE. 104d&w1m

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

ACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York.

Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

Charles H. Hutchings.

Sick Headache

CURED PERMANENTLY

BY TAKING

Ayer's Pills

"I was troubled a long time with sick headache. I tried a good many remedies recommended for this complaint; but it was not until I

Began taking Ayer's Pills

that I received permanent benefit. A single box of these pills freed me from headaches, and I am now a well man." —C. H. HUTCHINGS, East Auburn, Me.

Awarded Medal at World's Fair

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the Best.

ACETOCURA
TOUCHES THE SPOT IN NEURALGIA.

ACETOCURA
TOUCHES THE SPOT IN NEURALGIA

Mr. A. Weir, Kew Beach, September 7th, 1894, writes:—"Since then I have used it for neuralgic pains in the head, with immediate relief."

ACETOCURA
TOUCHES THE SPOT IN PARALYSIS

ACETOCURA
TOUCHES THE SPOT IN PARALYSIS

ACETOCURA
TOUCHES THE SPOT IN PARALYSIS

Mrs. B. M. Hall, Fernwood, Ill., U.S.A., August 15th, 1894, writes:—"I am 61 years old. For two years I had been afflicted with partial paralysis of the lower limbs, rendering me unable to walk a block without complete exhaustion. After using Acetocura for five days the pain had entirely disappeared, permitting me to enjoy a good night's rest, and after ten day's treatment I was able to walk two miles without fatigue."

Write for gratis pamphlet to COUTTS & Sons, 72 Victoria street, Toronto. Head offices—London, Glasgow and Manchester, (G.B.) Cologne, Germany, Aarou, Switzerland.

Local Agents—
L. W. YEOMANS & CO.,
DRUGGISTS,
BELLEVILLE.

PREPARE

FOR the STRUGGLE

The course of study offered by the Belleville business College gives a young person a thorough and practical knowledge of business, and also that mental culture and discipline which sharpens perceptive faculties, stimulates ambition, develops ability and prepares for the struggle of making a living. Every step in the work is characterized by thoroughness. Besides we use the most practical methods.

In teaching shorthand we dictate actual letters and legal evidence. Other schools have undertaken to imitate our methods, but the quality of their work bears that relation to practical business which the imitation does to the real.

We represent things exactly as they are.

Belleville Business College.

ROBERT BOGLE, Proprietor.

Daily Intelligencer.

CHINESE STILL IN COREA

The Report That They Have Evacuated the Kingdom Denied.

COMMENTS ON THE SITUATION

London Papers Think the War Has Gone Far Enough and Call on the Powers to Interfere — The Dangerous Condition That Would Exist Should Japan Cripple China.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—Commenting on the eastern situation the Post says:

The present position of China cannot be lightly regarded. If that empire were broken up or its position imperiled the outlook would be extremely grave. Hitherto we have been accustomed to regard China as an ally and we have treaties and agreements with her which require close attention. Li Hung Chang is the only man of eminence in China capable of advising the Emperor at this juncture. He deserves any aid that England can afford him in the effort to save his country from the terrible dangers with which it is menaced.

The Graphic says: It is time a halt was called by the European powers interested in keeping the peace. Neither Great Britain nor Russia can wish to see China permanently crippled by the Japanese. A state of chaos in the former empire would raise problems that might set the world ablaze.

Still Occupying Corea.

The Times publishes a despatch from its Shanghai correspondent, saying a despatch from Tien-Tsin denies the report that the Chinese have evacuated Corea and also denies that the Japanese are near the Yalu river or are occupying Thorntown Haven. It is stated that Chinese transports are moving with the utmost freedom in the Gulf of Pechili and that the warships at Port Arthur which were engaged in the Yalu fight will soon be repaired and ready for sea with the exception of the Lai-Yuen which was almost wholly burned.

Advices Per Steamer Gaelic.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 5.—Advices per steamer Gaelic are that a private letter from Shanghai received at Yokohama says:

"The Chinese government, while on the one hand at war with Japan, has been brought to task by the French government for the murder of a French missionary. According to China's reply to France she may possibly have additional troubles upon her. At home the secret societies such as the Kotai Hwy, Peleon Hwy and the Tiente Hwy are on the point of rising. Details of these internal dissensions have been communicated by a foreigner who has recently returned from Chefoo. The Chinese at Kwang Tung are said to be secretly rejoicing at these troubles as they believe that they presage the downfall of the Tsin dynasty and the restoration of the Han rule.

A Shanghai telegram states that the Chinese government has declared to the French Minister at Pekin that the French missionary had been murdered, not by Chinese troops, but by a remnant of the Japanese who had been defeated by the Chinese at Gazan and dispersed in all directions to vent their rage at their defeat. The Chinese government therefore disclaims all responsibility for the murder.

The government of Pekin sent to the foreign ministers a despatch in which it expressed its fears that Japanese men-of-war sailing under foreign flags might attack China, and requested the Ministers to allow China to stop foreign men-of-war by firing blank cartridges at them and to examine them before they proceeded on their way. The foreign ministers all refused their consent.

Beheaded Their Own Priest.

The government recently ordered the local officials to seize Japanese ships wherever found. The government believes that there are 800 or 900 Japanese who are disguised as Chinese and travelling in the interior. A Japanese gentleman who was travelling in Chinese dress was seized the other day at Shanghai and thrown into prison. He assured the Chinese that he was not a spy and asked them to examine a certain Chinese priest, as he was a personal friend of his. The priest was summoned, but before he came the Japanese effected his escape. The authorities were so angry that when the priest came to their court they threw him into prison and beheaded him in the other's stead.

The Japanese papers devote considerrble space to reports on the preparations for the battle of Ping Yang but as the Gaelic sailed from Yokohama only a few days after the great conflict had taken place no definite particulars had been obtained. The news of the Yalu river had also been received but nothing more than short despatches indicating victory for the Japanese fleet.

Confidence of the Japs.

The following will serve to illustrate the confidence felt in Japanese success: "All our loyal and valiant military men," says the Shin Chova, "are confident that by the third of November the Japanese army will have taken Ping Yang, crossed the Yalu and stormed the Youkden and, in that treasury of China, the Japanese flag will be unfurled and the Emperor's birthday and the Japanese victories celebrated on that day." The victory at Ping Yang followed almost immediately the arrival of the Japanese Emperor at Hiorshima where he is directing the war operations.

Representatives of the Taigai Koha, or "Strong Foreign Policy" party now in Tokio held a meeting recently and discussed the policy to be pursued in the approaching session of the Diet. They arrived at a resolution that peace must not be made with China until an agreement can be come to with her securing the permanent peace of the Orient. They further determined that no expense must be spared to achieve the above result.

"It would tickle Viceroy Li did he see the personification of himself upon the Japanese stage by the now celebrated Soshi actor Kawakami in the Asak Usa theatre," says the Japan Mail. "The Chinese statesman is made to appear in a very prudent role, for whenever news is brought to him of the advance of the Japanese soldiers he issues orders to his own braves to run away."

The Star prints a despatch received by a London news agency to the effect that the married foreign customs officials resident in Pekin are hastily leaving the city with their families.

Mourning for a Famous Preacher.

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 5.—The residence of the late Prof. Swing, on the lake shore drive, was filled yesterday with friends of the famous preacher, who called to express their sorrow to the family. The trustees of Central Church, of which Prof. Swing was the pastor, called to arrange the funeral matters with the bereaved relatives. It was decided to have the services in Central Music Hall where Prof. Swing preached, on Sunday afternoon.

BRITISH ALARM SUBSIDES.

The Cabinet Meeting is Over and Peace is Still Assured.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—The Cabinet Council, so hurriedly called on Tuesday last, met yesterday. Sir William Harcourt, Chancellor of the Exchequer, was the only notable absentee.

It is understood that a perfect agreement was arrived at respecting the plans submitted for the protection of British residents in China. It is announced upon authority that the Cabinet Council, after discussing the state of affairs in China, decided to send troops to that country in order to protect British interests. It is also probable that additional ships will be sent to strengthen the fleet in Chinese waters, under the command of Admiral Freemantle. It is also said that in consequence of the meeting of the Cabinet, the British legation at Pekin will shortly be guarded by British blue jackets and native Indian soldiers.

The Admiralty have ordered to proceed to China the first-class cruiser St. George now at Plymouth, and the second-class cruiser Aeolus from the Mediterranean squadron. The gunboats Redbreast and Pigeon of the East India squadron have also been ordered to Chinese waters. This action is understood to be in accordance with the decision of the cabinet council.

Lord Rosebery has gone to his seat at Dalmeny Park, Linlithgowshire, and the other ministers are returning to the several resorts in the country whence they were summoned.

The newspapers have apparently recovered from the bad scare caused among some of them by the hasty calling of a Cabinet Council. Wednesday's papers apparently seriously apprehended war with France. Now they are unanimous in expressing the opinion that there is not the slightest need of any anxiety as to a serious dispute.

The Daily News says: There is no reason whatever to believe that the alarmist rumors of the last few days were the offspring of any inspiration but that arising from a complete misunderstanding of the actual state of things.

The Standard says: Whatever truth there may be in the rumors, all danger of a rupture, if such had existed, has vanished, thanks to the conciliatory disposition of the French statesmen.

The Telegraph, in an article written in a similar strain to that of the Chronicle, remarks that three of the five ships ordered to China could not possibly arrive there in time to prevent a possible massacre of British subjects nor could a vessel of the type of the first class cruiser St. George be needed merely to keep order at treaty ports. The paper thinks that possibly a further emergency is being provided for.

TWO LINEMEN KILLED.

The Deadly Live Wire Gets in its Work in Boston.

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 5.—C. E. Day and A. J. Munroe, employes of the Boston electric light company, were killed yesterday. Day was at the top of a pole on Congress street trimming an arc lamp when, with a shriek, he suddenly fell back and clutched the wire with his hand. He was prevented from falling to the ground by a body belt fastened about the pole. As he hung limp and lifeless his hands and clothing were burning with a sizzling noise and sending up clouds of light smoke.

The electric company was quickly notified, and in a few minutes a repair waggon was at the scene with several employes of the company. Munroe ran up the pole to his comrade's rescue with a pair of nippers with which to cut the wire. As soon as he touched the wire with the pincers he received a heavy shock and was thrown from the pole into the street, striking on his head and fracturing his skull. Other help was secured, and Day was finally lowered from the pole. He was still breathing, but died on the way to the hospital. Munroe died an hour later, without recovering consciousness.

At the same time this accident happened, Thomas McCarthy, an employe of the same company, who was working on a light on the corner of Congress and Shanning streets, on the same electric current, received a severe shock and was knocked from the pole, falling heavily on the sidewalk. His condition is serious. One of his hands was badly burned. The cause of the current being on full strength while the men were working on the wires has not been explained, but it is thought the trouble was in the power station and that the accidents were the results of carelessness.

THE CZAR IS DYING.

His Health is Much Worse Than Has Been Officially Stated.

BERLIN, Oct. 5.—The Kreuz Zeitung, which generally obtains accurate news of the Russian court, learns that the Czar is in a far worse state of health than has been officially admitted and that his death may be expected within a few weeks. The Czarina, according to this information, has been made fully aware of her husband's condition.

The visit of the Czarewitch to Darmstadt was postponed upon the advice of the Czar's physicians, and the marriage of the Czarewitch to Princess Alix was also postponed upon the same advice. It was rumored that the engagement of the Czarewitch to Princess Alix had been broken, but this is untrue.

Corbett Sick of Pugilism.

HARTFORD, Conn., Oct. 5.—In an interview James Corbett gave his reasons for covering Bob Fitzsimmons $1,000 forfeit to fight him in July for the championship. Corbett said he had never any desire to fight Fitzsimmons until "Fitz" had first fought Steve O'Donnell, but the talk of the Olympic Club of New Orleans had put him in a false light before the public. He would fight Fitzsimmons and any others who desired during the first week in July and would then retire from the ring as champion. He was sick of pugilism, but he will not propose to be bluffed down.

Hall Writes a Letter to His Confreres.

MONTREAL, Oct. 5.—Provincial Treasurer Hall has written a lengthy letter of explanation to the British members of the local House. He deals at length with the loan and claims that Premier Taillon has not done just what he should.

Notables in a Collision.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—The Scotch express, en route to London, collided with a freight train, near North Hallerton. Baron Tweedmouth, Lady Aberdeen's brother, Baron Hindlip and Postmaster-General Morley were shaken up but escaped unhurt.

Crispi's Seventy-Fifth Anniversary.

ROME, Oct. 5.—Premier Crispi celebrated his 75th birthday yesterday. He received hundreds of despatches of congratulation, including a communication from King Humbert.

Violating Neutrality Laws.

LIVERPOOL, Oct. 5.—The Shipping Telegraph asserts that a British steamer laden with munitions of war is on her way to China from a continental port.

GOTHAM'S CORRUPT POLICE

How Disreputable Characters Were Bled by Officers of the Law.

ONE WOMAN DISGORGES THOUSANDS

She Bestowed Vast Amounts of Jewellery to a Wardman and Furnished His House to the Amount of $1,000—During Twenty Years She Gave $10,000 to the Police to Save Her House From Being Pulled.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—The star witness of the Senate police investigating committee yesterday was Susan Martin, ... cigar store at 86 Allen street when Captain Allaire was in the eleventh precinct and Frank Wilson was his wardman. Wilson, who was independently rich, she said, had resigned and was now in Pennsylvania with his mother. She gave Wilson money, she said, and she cried as she told it. She had given a great deal of money in her time. She had given him jewellery and had furnished a house for him. She kept a disorderly house in the precinct twelve years in one place and Wilson always protected her. She used to give him $25 or $50 every month and gave him $100 at Christmas time. He wanted a diamond ring for his wife and daughter and she gave them to him. She also bought silk dresses for his wife. She bought silverware for his family—water pitcher, goblets and the like, and paid $1,000 for the furniture for his house. She was in his house at 293 Grand street very often. His wife picked out a carpet and the witness paid $300 for it.

"Did his wife know what kind of a house you kept?" asked Senator Bradley bluntly.

"She did," was the answer. "It was his second wife." Wilson was subsequently with Captain Cortright as wardman in the first precinct. She remembered too when Captain McLaughlin took command of the precinct. She had to pay Burns, McLaughlin's wardman, $300 and $50 every month. Burns sent a man to her with a diamond stud, and ordered her to buy the stud for him. She did so and paid $165 for it. She pawned everything she had to buy the stud. The man who sold the stud to her was Solomon "who always hangs around with Silver Dollar Smith," said the witness. Every house in the precinct paid money to the Gerry men, Mrs. Martin said. Other persons told Captain Cross of it. Mr. Goff came down to the time when Captain Cross' wardman, with Agents Finn and Becker, then of the Gerry society, raided the house.

She brought the money and Captain Cross marked the bills. She met Becker and Finn at the corner of Second avenue and Twenty-fourth street, Captain Cross having his men ready to arrest the Gerry men. The witness said that then Captain Cross told her she would have to move. She went to Newark and bought a saloon. She said she saw ex-Wardman Burns at headquarters and that he offered her $25 and a passage to Europe if she would not testify against him. He also promised to return the money she had given him.

"Now, how much money have you given up to the police altogether?"

"Well, for the last twenty years I have given between $8,000 and $10,000."

The woman is entirely destitute now.

The Feeling in Hawaii.

OTTAWA, Oct. 5.—Mr. T. B. Walker, vice consul for Great Britain at Honolulu, was in the city yesterday on his way back to England. He is a member of a large mercantile firm in Honolulu, and in speaking of sugar cane, which forms the island's principal output, said that 115,000 tons are shipped annually. The United States is their chief market for this and he believes will continue to be for some time. Honolulu also exports, he says, large quantities of fruits. He thinks the revolutionary feeling has died down and that, while they have the best of feeling for the United States, they are tending towards even greater friendship with England.

Association of Architects Convenes.

MONTREAL, Oct. 5.—The Association of Architects of the province are holding annual meeting in the city. The reports of the secretary, the treasurer and the auditors were of a satisfactory nature, showing the association to be in a healthy condition both as to membership and finances. A pleasing feature of the meeting was the presentation of a large photograph of the Montreal members to their conferres in the ancient capital. Two years ago the Quebec architects gave a photograph to their fellow members here, and now their courtesy was fittingly recognized.

Badly Injured by a Train.

GUELPH, Oct. 5.—The trainmen of the fast express noticed a mon lying beside the track between Guelph and Rockwood. Section men were sent back from Rockwood to bring in the supposed dead body. They found him still alive but probably fatally injured. His name is James Slavin and lives near Rockwood. It is supposed he jumped off a moving train and was struck by it.

Undesirable Immigrants for the U.S.

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y., Oct. 5.—A treasury official says there are now in the vicinity of Toronto quite a number of Chinamen who are waiting a chance to cross to the United States. The officials are being daily posted as to the movements of the persons who have the Chinamen in charge.

An Aged Hamiltonian Dead.

HAMILTON, Oct. 5.—Mr. Robert Lottridge, one of the oldest inhabitants in this part of the province and a descendant of an U. E. loyalist, died at the residence of his son, Mr. J. Lottridge, Bay street north, in the 86th year of his age. He was for many years engaged in the lumber business in East Flamboro township, and was afterwards engaged in the general shoe business, besides running a flour mill in Watertown. He has been retired from business for the past twenty-five years and lived with his son here. He was universally respected by all who knew him.

Victims of the Hurricane.

KEY WEST, Fla., Oct. 5.—More than 50 human bodies have been washed up along the reefs along here within the last few days, most of them being badly decomposed. They were buried where they were found. The bodies probably came from vessels wrecked by the recent hurricane in the Gulf of Mexico and were carried here by the Gulf stream.

Birr Officers Acquitted.

DUBLIN, Oct. 5.—The trial of Capt. Armstrong and Lieutenants Moore, Gibson and Saunders, of the Birr Garrison, on charges of assault made by two servant girls attached to the garrison, has ended in the acquittal of the defendants.

Dr. Haas Expelled.

BERLIN, Oct. 5.—Dr. Hass, the Alsatian deputy who sent his son to the St. Cyr military academy in France, has been deprived of his position in the German civil service.

House Full of Steam! A big fire, heavy lifting, hard work is the usual way of doing the wash . . . .

There is an easier and cleaner way.

A TEA KETTLE will give all the hot water required when Surprise Soap is used according to the directions on the wrapper. It does away with boiling or scalding the clothes and all that miss and confusion. The clothes are sweeter, whiter and cleaner, washed in this way.

Thousands use Surprise Soap on wash day, why don't you?

169a. THE ST. CROIX SOAP MF'G. CO., ST. STEPHEN, N. B.

DEATH OF HON. S. RICHARDS.

He Was Once a Member of the Sandfield Macdonald Government.

TORONTO, Oct. 5.—The Hon. Stephen Richards, Q.C., one of the few remaining members of the John Sandfield Macdonald Government, and a well-known legal practitioner in the city, dropped dead yesterday afternoon at the Toronto Ferry Company's shelter on the dock at Centre Island.

Hon. Mr. Richards was a brother of the late Sir W. B. Richards, Chief Justice of Queen's Bench. He was born in Brockville in 1820, was educated in Toronto, called to the bar in 1844, and created a Queen's counsel in 1858. His law practice became extensive and few became better known than he in legal circles. His eminent standing at the bar won for him the Conservative nomination in South Leeds for the Local House in 1861, but he was unsuccessful, and his first return to Parliament was in December, 1867, on the resignation of the then sitting member for Niagara. In that year he was appointed a member of the Executive Council and Commissioner of Crown Lands. The following year he was appointed by the benchers treasurer of the Law Society, of which he was active member.

Upon the defeat of the Sandfield Macdonald administration Mr. Richards practically retired from active politics and resumed his legal practice. He was married shortly before his call to the bar to the daughter of the late Benjamin Chaffey, the contractor. He was a brother of Hon. A. N. Richards, of Victoria, B.C., who was Provincial Attorney-General of the Northwest Territory in 1869, and who served the term of 1875-81 as lieutenant-governor of British Columbia.

Of late years Mr. Richards' health has been fast failing. The last two or three winters he has spent in France, endeavoring to recover his health, but without success. The deceased gentleman was about 70 years of age. He was one of the counsel for the Mowat Government in the celebrated bribery case.

Beat His Wife for Saving His Life.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Oct. 5.—Ellsworth Hupp, a well-to-do farmer, quarrelled with his wife and left the house. Half an hour later Mrs. Hupp found him hanging by the neck to a tree. She cut him down, and, after working over him a long time, succeeded in reviving him. When Hupp recovered somewhat he took the severed rope and beat the woman nearly to death and then fell exhausted. He lies in a critical condition and may yet die.

Nebraska's High Winds.

PAWNEE, Neb., Oct. 5.—A cyclone struck the home of John Nelson, seven miles south of here. The family of seven persons were blown into an adjoining field, and a little girl nine years old had a stick driven through her skull and cannot live. Five others of the family were severely injured.

A New Panama Canal Company.

PARIS, Oct. 5.—The first general meeting of the formation of the new Panama Canal Company was held last evening, at which 800 interested persons were present. It was announced that part of the capital of the new company had been deposited as a legal trust fund and a committee of three were appointed to examine the various reports on the scheme.

New Victorian Parliament.

MELBOURNE, Oct. 5.—The new Victorian parliament met yesterday. Sir Graham Berry was elected Speaker of the Legislative Assembly and Hon. Wm. A. Zeal was re-elected President of the Legislative Council. The two Houses then adjourned until October 30.

The Ahr Valley.

It is becoming the custom among European travellers to stop at Remagen-on-the Rhine, and make a little excursion to the beautiful Valley of the Ahr, with its picturesque villages along the vine clad slope Here is also located the spring from which flows that world wide favorite "Apollinaris Water." At Neuenahr, in the valley, the river Ahr is very beautiful, and one can find few more quaintly attractive spots than the Upper Gate at Ahrweiler, or the old mill at Heppingen.

A tax on dogs was levied in Rome during the reign of Nero.

For Over Fifty Years

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhœa. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by druggists throughout the world. 17d&wly

In the time of Queen Anne soap was taxed £28 per ton.

DEAR SIRS.—I have used Yellow Oil for two or three years, and think it has no equal for croup. MRS. J. S. O'Brien, Huntsville, Ont.

The tithes in England amounted to £4,050,000 a year.

Dyspepsia and Indigestion.—C. W Snow & Co., Syracuse, N.Y., writes: "Please send us ten gross of Pills. We are selling more of Parmelee's Pills than any other Pill we keep. They have a great reputation for the cure of Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint." Mr. Chas. A. Smith, Lindsay, writes: "Parmelee's Pills are an excellent medicine. My sister has been troubled with severe headache, but these pills have cured her."

Russia raises $1,5000,000 a year by the sale of passports.

THAT TIRED, LANGUID FEELING and dull headache is very disagreeable. Take two of Carter's Little Liver Pills before retiring, and you will find relief. They never fail to do good.

SAFE — PLEASANT — RELIABLE — CERTAIN

THE GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER

BRISTOL'S SARSAPARILLA

CURES ALL Taints of the Blood.

Trafalgar Institute.

(Affiliated to McGill University.)

No. 83 Simpson Street, Montreal.

— FOR THE —

Higher Education OF Young Women

With preparatory department for girls between 10 and 14.
President, REV. JAMES BARCLAY, D.D.
Vice-President, MR. A. T. DRUMMOND.
Principal, MISS GRACE FAIRLEY, M.A., Edinburgh.

The institute will re-open with an efficient staff of twelve resident and visiting teachers, on

Tuesday, 11th September 1894.

The Institute buildings are situated on the mountain side overlooking the City. The spacious grounds are attractively laid out and the surroundings are not only beautiful but very healthful.
For copy of Prospectus and other information apply to the principal, at the Institute, or to
A. F. Riddell, Secretary, 22 St. John St., Montreal.

LAKEHURST SANITARIUM

OAKVILLE, ONT.

For treatment and cure of
ALCHOLISM, MORPHINE HABIT, TOBACCO HABIT AND NERVOUS DISEASES.

The system employed at this Institution is the familiar Double Chloride of Gold System. Through its agency over 200,000 Slaves to the use of these poisons have been emancipated in the last fourteen years. Lakehurst Sanitarium is the oldest Institution of the kind in Canada, and has a well earned reputation to maintain in this line of medicine. In its whole history there is not an instance of failure to remove the appetite for these poisons. In its whole history there is not an instance of any after ill effects from the treatment. Hundreds of happy homes in all parts of the Dominion bear eloquent witness to the efficacy of a course of treatment with us. For terms and full information write

THE SECRETARY,
28 Bank of Commerce Chambers,
aug7d3m34w3m) Toronto, Ont.

STOVE PIPES!
STOVE PIPES!!
STOVE PIPES!!!

WHIPS! LANTERNS!
WHIPS!! LANTERNS!!
WHIPS!!! LANTERNS!!!

Lamps, Flower Pots,
Lamps, Flower pots,
Lamps, Flower Pots.

—AT—

THE FAIR,

FRANK WEEKS, MANAGER.

GRAPES . . . .

It is claimed that Grapes are the most healthy, and therefore the most nutritious fruit grown.
We have and will have through the season, large consignments and will sell very cheap, as crop is very large in the west. They are selling to day at

25c. per Basket . . .

Jas. Wallace & Co

Peaches while season lasts.

Babies

ought to be fat. Give the Thin Babies a chance. Give them

Scott's Emulsion

the Cream of Cod-liver Oil, with hypophosphites, and watch them grow Fat, Chubby, Healthy, Bright. Physicians, the world over, endorse it.

Don't be deceived by Substitutes!

Scott & Bowne, Belleville. All Druggists. 50c. & $1.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, FRIDAY OCT. 5

WILL NOT RUN AGAIN.

During the past few days there have been indefinite rumors afloat to the effect that Mr. Corby was about to resign his seat in the House of Commons. There is not the slightest foundation for the rumor, further than that Mr. Corby has definitely decided not to be a candidate again when the next Dominion election may take place. His many friends will regret with us that his state of health has compelled him to make this decision, as his physician demands of him a complete release from the turmoil of life, which demand Mr. Corby would be rash to disregard, as his life depends upon perfect rest. During his term of office he has done very much for West Hastings, and the surrounding ridings, and the people, we feel, fully appreciate his self sacrificing labor of the past. With the regret that must be experienced at his compelled decision, there is pleasure in knowing that Mr. Corby remains as fully convinced as ever that the policy of the Conservative party is the policy that is most in accord with the best interests of the country, and when the time comes, that he will give his hearty support to any candidate whom the Conservative party may decide upon for West Hastings.

LIVE STOCK SHIPMENTS.

The shipment to Great Britain of sheep and horses is a feature of the trade returns of the port of Montreal this season, remarks the Gazette. The export of sheep, which shows great variation in different years, fell off in 1893 no less than four thousand. This year to the end of September the figure had risen to 90,754, which, with a full month of navigation yet before us, is higher than any full year in the record save one, 1886, when 93,850 sheep were exported from Montreal. The shipment of sheep very much more than makes up for the decline in the export cattle trade, the figures of which show the shipment of 69,879 head, compared with 70,541 to this date in 1893. The number of horses exported to Great Britain in the season of 1894 has been 3,988, which shows an increase of 200 per cent. over the record of 1893, when the exports to date were 1,310. From all accounts, also, of the position of affairs in the two countries, this trade may continue on the present enlarged basis for some time.

JAPAN AND RUSSIA.

The official announcement from Tsin Tsin that 5,000 Japanese troops have landed at Passiet Bay, is puzzling. This bay is on the north side of the Corean peninsula, and there are no Chinese troops in that quarter. It is a mystery, therefore, what on earth the Japanese can want there. It would be an admirable position from which to watch the Russians in Vladivostock, but it is useless for any operations against the Chinese. If the report of the landing there is true it might mean that Japan is making preparations to resist any interference by Russia in case the Czar's Government should attempt to prevent the Japs from reaping the full fruits of their victory. Russian journals have declared that Japan never would be permitted to annex Corea. The landing at Passiet Bay looks as if the Japanese already consider that they have practically annexed the peninsula and are beginning to garrison the Russian frontier.

CHIEF JUSTICE MEREDITH.

If it should prove true that Mr. W. R. Meredith, Q.C., M.P.P., leader of the Conservative party in the Legislature, has accepted a judicial appointment, his retirement from the political arena will be regretted almost equally by both parties. So conspicuous have been his talents, so honest his endeavors to legislate for the public good, irrespective of party, so moderate his course in the House, so kind and courteous his demeanor towards his fellow members of the Legislature, that he has not made an enemy during his career. That he has long been the foremost figure in the Legislature has been patent to all, and that Sir Oliver Mowat and his colleagues recognized this fact, was shown by their offering to him of a salary equal to that of a member of the Administration—an offer which, with noble self-abnegation, he refused in the spirit in which it was offered.

William Ralph Meredith has been a model for political leaders. That he will be a model Judge is equally certain—and whilst we regret his retirement from the leadership of our party in Ontario, we are pleased that his eminent abilities will still be at the service of his country in another field of usefulness.

CAMPBELL'S QUININE WINE. It will tone up your system, and restore the appetite. | JUST WHAT YOU NEED — THIS SPRING.

The best cure for Debility.

Correspondence.

Whilst correspondents will be accorded space for the expression of their ideas on topics of public interest, it must be in all cases understood that the views so expressed are simply those of the correspondents themselves.

To the Editor of the Intelligencer.

SIR,—The evangelists Crossley and Hunter are credited with having effected a wide spread moral reform here on the occasion of their last visit. They were especially severe on dancing, believing it to be demoralising; and one of these gentlemen, to point his argument, asked the ladies present the pertinent question: If you saw a fallen woman enter the ball-room would you not take up your hat and cloak and leave? Well, sir, we will have a public test of the permanency of the reform in the opera house on to-morrow. A dramatic performance is announced for that date; the drama is based on the life of a fallen woman; the leading character is the woman herself, and this barefaced creature, sad to say, gave testimony on oath, in a public court in Toronto lately, as to her immoral character. And this woman expects the ladies of Belleville to be present in large numbers. If she has formed a true estimate of them I shall indeed be sorry for the ladies of my native city, and shall blush for my sex. I would say to husbands, fathers and brothers, if you love your wives, daughters and sisters, raise your voices against the degradation; ask your loved ones, shall they put on their hats and cloaks and go to see and hear this self-confessed fallen woman, and thus, by word and act, proclaim her shame. If they will not respect your counsel then tell them to veil heavily their faces, that shame may not come upon you, before leaving for this immoral feast of eye and ear.

PURITY.

Belleville, Oct. 5th, 1894.

To the Editor of the Intelligencer.

SIR,—Now that the notorious Margaret L. is about to make another bow to a Belleville audience, there is some curiosity to know by what kind of "fire" she has been "tried" since she last graced the boards of the Belleville Opera House. Certain damaging confessions made by her in a court recently held in Toronto and presided over by his Lordship, Judge McMahon, would naturally leave the impression that the "fire" which touched her soul may be anything but a purifier.

In the light of these disgusting revelations, it will be interesting to note what class of Belleville citizens will patronize the self-confessed jail bird, bigamist, &c., &c., &c

Yours &c,
DECENCY.

SERVICE OF PRAISE.

The Rain Interfered, but it will be Repeated on Sunday Night.

The Service of Praise in Bridge Street Methodist Church last evening was attended by a select audience. Only lovers of music could have faced the deluge which descended. On Sunday night the service will be repeated, and it is quite safe to say that the spacious church will be taxed to its utmost to accommodate the expected multitude. Mr. Dingle presided at the organ and rendered several selections with exquisite taste and skill, the "Marche Nuptiale," from Guilmant, was perhaps his best number. The gem of the evening, the most brilliant, artistic triumph, was rendered by Mrs. Grant, in a selection from Handel's "Messiah," and there were Shepherd's recitation, "Air rejoice greatly." Mrs. Grant's silvery tones, clear, pure soprano, marvellous execution of the difficult passages which were taken with ease, more than delighted the audience. "Jesus, lover of my soul," was also given by Mrs. Grant most acceptably. Mrs. Walker's pure, melodious voice, was heard to much advantage in "Come unto Me," from Cornen. We always expect a great deal in listening to Mrs. Walker, and are never disappointed. Misses Garratt and Phillips have been so often eulogized in your columns, and have won such great praise that it is unnecessary to say more than that they were listened to with great pleasure, their sweet young voices, filled the church with harmony. Mr. Spence possesses a beautiful voice, and his "Coming of the King," was pleasantly rendered. The surprise of the evening was occasioned by Mr. Eaton, who is a very young man, never having taken a lesson in music. Mr. Eaton possesses a phenomenal voice, and should at once place himself under the best instructions. His selections, "Fear ye not, O Israel," and duet with Miss Garratt, "Rest in the Lord," were excellent. Mr. Eaton's compass, power and expression are remarkable.

The large and efficient choir has, under Mr. Dingle, approached a degree of perfection that is most gratifying. Their performance of several selections was greatly admired.

Police Court.

The case of Geddes vs. Black, enlarged from Monday till to-day for judgment was enlarged for one week, the Magistrate wishing to confer with the Reeve of Tyendinaga as to the by-law affecting this case.

The case of Jones Phillips vs. Ross, of Foxboro, was further enlarged for one week, Mr. Ross not being able to appear.

Robt. Bates, the Kingston tailor, for being drunk, was run in last night. The Magistrate told him to leave the city, which he promised to do.

The case of Wm. J. Hagerman, who is accused of seducing Maggie Wilson, a young girl, who was in the employ of his father, was continued at the court to-day. The case was still in progress when we went to press.

Death of George Thompson.

About 1 o'clock this afternoon George Thompson, cigar maker, expired after a somewhat lingering illness, although his death was not anticipated so suddenly. He was a son of Mr. William Thompson, and a brother of Robert, an employee of this office. Deceased was 28 years of age, and for some years has followed the avocation of cigar making in several places in the United States and Canada. He was taken ill some time ago, consumption finally developing. The parents and friends will have the sympathy of a large circle of friends.

Home and Abroad.

It is the duty of everyone, whether at home or travelling for pleasure or business, to equip himself with the remedy which will keep up strength and prevent illness, and cure such ills as are liable to come upon all in every day life. Hood's Sarsaparilla keeps the blood pure and less liable to absorb the germs of disease.

HOOD'S PILLS are hand made, and perfect in proportion and appearance.

S.S. Convention.

The Secretary desires us to say that, so far he has not received the names of any of the delegates. As soon as possible after the names come to hand the list will will be placed in the Bridge St. reading room, where those interested may call and examine it, due notice of which will appear through the daily papers. The members of the billeting committee are pushing their canvass and it is hoped that our citizens will gladly open their hearts and their homes to receive these workers in the master's vineyard.

USE ONLY CANADA'S PORTS

Maritime Boards of Trade Condemn Shipping Via United States.

THE ROUTE SHOULD BE CANADIAN

Goods Should Not be Shipped From American Ports on Steamers Subsidized by Canada—Railroad Matters Discussed —A Maritime Board of Trade to be Formed.

ST. JOHN, N.B., Oct. 5.—The conference of Provincial Boards of Trade opened here yesterday with a very large attendance from all the leading points in New Brunswick and President Troop, of the Halifax Board, and E. Curry, of Amherst. After an address of welcome from the president of the St. John board the business of the conference was taken up. The question first considered was the license fees of peddlers and this provoked considerable discussion.

A resolution was moved asking that the Provincial Legislature amend the law governing them and that each licensed peddler shall wear a badge with a number. Mr. McLean, of Toronto, said they had fought the question out and the decision of the Privy Council had shown the Provincial Legislatures had not jurisdiction in the matter. In view of this it was decided to postpone the matter.

The next topic was railway freight rates, and under this [illegible] the Canadian Pacific came in for considerable discussion, the merchants present from non-competitive C. P. R. points claiming that the road has arbitrary rates, which is a source of great grievance to manufacturers and business men. A resolution condemning the rates as arbitrary against Woodstock was carried unanimously. Another resolution was passed condemning the discriminating policy of the Grand Trunk and I. C. R. in freight matters against the northern portion of New Brunswick.

A resolution seeking to adopt standard time provoked a lengthy discussion and was finally defeated.

President Troop, of Halifax, moved a resolution to the effect that it was advisable to form a maritime board of trade. This was carried unanimously and a committee appointed to carry the idea of the resolution into effect.

At the evening session Lieut.-Governor Frazer was present and addressed the convention at some length on the importance of the matters to be considered.

The resolution touching the peddlers was again taken up and passed.

The next subject was the necessity of the importation of Canadian goods through Canadian ports. This brought out a round of speeches and all were of one mind that Canadian goods should not be brought into the country through United States ports, nor should they be shipped from the United States on steamers subsidized by Canada. Resolutions strongly condemning this were passed.

A resolution was also passed in favor of a short credit system.

A scheme was submitted and adopted for the organization of the Maritime Board of Trade. The next meeting is to be held at the call of the president of the Halifax Board.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—A despatch to the Chronicle from Naples says the scandal alluded to in a despatch to that paper from Naples on Tuesday, as affecting the abbess of the convent of St. Joseph, in that city, upon investigation attaches no discredit to that lady or any other member of the convent except the complainant (Silvia Palmiori) herself. Inquiry shows that the girl laid a plan to elope, but was prevented by the abbess. A local newspaper elaborated the story, alleging that the girl had declared that she had been drugged and assaulted by elderly men who visited the abbess, herself 70 years of age, and is now being sued for libel. The story as told in that paper had no foundation in fact.

Committee Work.

The various civic committees met last night and transacted considerable business.

The Fire Committee recommended the payment of a few accounts, and also recommended some necessary improvements to be made to No 2 fire hall. Specifications of the work will be prepared and tenders asked for.

The Market Committee passed a number of accounts. The tenders for coal were opened and all were found to be of the same price, namely, $5 75 per ton. It was finally decided to accept Mr. Thos. Stewart's tender, as he had in the past supplied coal which gave every satisfaction.

The Public Works Committee passed upon the pay list and some accounts. It was also decided to grant the prayer of the petition for the extension of the granolithic walk on the north side of Bridge street leading to the river. The work cannot be carried far owing to the present walk being built upon trestle work near the bridge. The committee also decided to use the $400 which was granted toward the Front street drain, for other work, as the sum was inadequate for the work upon the drain.

The Market for Mica.

Mr. H. Baumgarten, of London, England, arrived in this city yesterday after noon from Ottawa, says the Kingston News. He represents an English syndicate, which has been investing in Canadian mica mines, and after attending to business in the Province of Quebec and the neighborhood has come to Kingston for the purpose of looking after certain interests acquired by the syndicate in Frontenac. He was seen by a representative of the News half an hour after his arrival, and though extremely busy with his extensive correspondance, readily conveyed a general idea of his operations. The market for mica has not been very encouraging lately, but the English syndicate now at work in Canada has entered into contracts with foreign governments which will afford an outlet for all the material it is likely to be able to produce at satisfactory prices. The prices of amber mica, in sheets extending three by four inches in size, is now about $60 per ton. White mica is much more valuable, and will bring almost anything that may be asked for it.

MAYNOOTH.

OCT. 3.—Leaves are turning fast.—Those attending the Green View picnic were much pleased with it.—A meeting to organize the Epworth League was held on Thursday.—The funerals of Mrs. Stuart and Miss Carswell took place here on Thursday at the same place and hour, Mr. Leigh, B. A., officiating.—Many of the boys are already leaving for the shanties. —The public school examination held in Fern Vale school on Friday last was well attended. The programme, supplied solely by the pupils, was well rendered.—His many friends are pleased to see A. Orr back again. He will work with S. Ross at the blacksmithing.—The show Oct. 2nd was rather slimly patronized this year. It seems the stimulus is not great enough. Something should be done to excite competition among the farmers of this part.—The party given by A. Barr was a decided success, and despite the wet state of the weather there was a large attendance.—I. Knight is visiting friends in the vicinity. —Miss Jane Murdock is home for a few days. — The Misses Livingstone, of L'Amable, are visiting in the North Settlement.

SOCIAL & PERSONAL

The INTELLIGENCER invites all its readers to contribute to this column. If you or your friends are going away on a holiday trip or if you have friends visiting you, drop a card to this office.

Mr. Boldrick, of Stirling, was in the city to-day.

Miss Mabel Ham, has left for her home in Philadelphia.

Dr. Chamberlain, Inspector of Prisons, is in the city.

Ald. F. M. Clarke was in Cobourg to-day on business.

George Thrasher is President of the Bachelor's club at Stirling.

Mr. J. B. Mathison has gone to Toronto to pursue his dental studies.

Miss Ethel Ruttan, Belleville was in town over Sunday.—Picton Gazette.

Miss Bella Tammadge returned home last night from Toronto, where she has been visiting for some weeks.

Messrs. H. Corby, M. P., W. L. Hamilton and W. W. Pope leave to-morrow for the north on a hunting expedition.

Miss Andrews, John St., who has spent the summer amongst numerous relatives in Maine and Massachusetts, returned to the city this morning.

Dr. Oronhyatekha, Supreme Chief Ranger of the Independent Foresters, has just returned from the Old Land after a month's very successful work in the interests of the order.

Mr. G. A. Masters from Bermuda is among the new arrivals at Ontario Business College this week. Mr. Masters' brother Alexander, graduated at the College several years ago.

Mr. Collins, of Belleville, has accepted the position of cutter in the establishment of Thos. Cross.—Mr Roberts, of Grant's boot and shoe store, Belleville, was the guest of Mrs. Brown, of Durham street, last week.—North Hastings Review.

Mr. David Gilmour and family, of Trenton, who will spend the winter in Montreal, have taken the fine residence of Mr. A. W. Morris, M.P.P., on Drummond St., in that city. Mr. Morris and family will take up their quarters at the Windsor for the winter months.

A. H. VanNorman, traveller for the J. C. Wilson paper mills, of Quebec, who, on account of illness, was detained at the McGregor house here for nearly a month, having recovered sufficiently, proceeded to his home at Belleville on Friday last.—Norwood Register.

SPECIAL MENTION

—Large quantities of Ontario apples are being sold in Winnipeg.

DR. LOW'S PLEASANT WORM SYRUP removes worms of all kinds from children or adults.

—There were 21 convicts received at the Kingston Penitentiary during the month of September.

THAT HACKING COUGH can be quickly cured by Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam. Price 25c.

—Butter has "flopped" at Ottawa. It now sells at 17c to 19c for best pails and 23c to 25c for best tubs.

ALWAYS AVOID HARSH PURGATIVE PILLS. They first make you sick and then leave you constipated. Carter's Little Liver Pills regulate the bowels and make you well. Dose, one pill.

—A consignment of one thousand bales of sisal has been received at the Penitentiary from the West Indies for use in the manufacture of binder twine.

ALL CASES OF WEAK OR LAME BACK, backache, rheumatism, will find relief by wearing one of Carter's Smartweed and Belladonna Backache Plasters. Price 25 cents. Try them.

—Eleven men will receive their freedom during this month from the Kingston Penitentiary, among them "Prof." Kauffman, of Brockville, who is just completing a 7 years' sentence for forgery and embezzlement of $86,000.

No person should go from home without a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial in their possession, as change of water, cooking, climate, etc., frequently brings on summer complaint, and there is nothing like being ready with a sure remedy at hand, which oftentimes saves great suffering, and consequently valuable lives. This Cordial has gained for itself a wide spread reputation for affording prompt relief from all summer complaints.

—No less than seven steamers reached Montreal on Wednesday: no less than twelve cleared. This shows a wonderful traffic. Every ship is putting forth every effort to do the best possible trade before the close, which will doubtless be about November 17th.

—The Kingston News says: "The Locomotive Works are making another shipment of machinery to the Sault to-day. This time it is an appliance for opening mechanically the lock-gates of the big canal. It weighs 20,000 pounds, and occupies a whole car. There is a considerable amount of machinery now in course of manufacture, which, when completed, will go to the same destination.

GREAT DISCOVERIES.—The astronomer who discovers a new star, the scientist who finds a new face, or the geologist who alights upon a new spices of fossil, becomes deservedly famous; but the actual good such discoveries do is nothing when compared to the finding of a medicine which is an infallible cure for certain diseases. Such a discovery was made nearly half a century ago by an Eastern gentleman named Perry Davis, and his preparation is now known to the world as PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER. It is a sure cure for Diarrhœa, Cramps, Cholera Morbus, Cholera, and indeed all bowel complaints, 25c. only for Big 2 oz bottle.

That Joyful Feeling.

With the exhilarating sense of renewed health and strength and internal cleanliness, which follows the use of Syrup of Figs, is unknown to the few who have not progressed beyond the old time medicines and the cheap substitutes sometimes offered but never excepted by the well informed.

Look Here.

Do you eel blue and despondent? Do pains rack and tear away at nerve and muscle, and have you been disappointed in finding a remedy that will afford certain and speedy relief. If so, go at once to any drug store and buy a bottle of Polson's Nerviline, Polson's Nerviline never fails to relieve neuralgia, cramps, headache, rheumatism, and all internal and external pains. J. B. Carman, druggist, Morrisburg, writes: "All the parties I supply speak very favorable of Nerviline, and always purchase a second lot." Polson's Nerviline is sold in bottles at 25 cents by all druggists and country dealers everywhere.

How to Get a "Sunlight Picture

Send 25 "Sunlight" soap wrappers (wrapper bearing the words "Why does a woman look old sooner than a man") to Lever Bros., Ltd., 43 Scott St., Toronto, and you will receive by post a pretty picture, free from advertising, and well worth framing. This is an easy way to decorate your home. The soap is the best in the market, and it will only cost 1c. postage to send in the wrappers, if you leave the ends open. Write your address carefully.

A Lesson in Hygiene.

Now that water supplies are recognized as the chief vehicle for propagating typhoid fever, medical and scientific authorities throughout the world are constantly dwelling on the necessity of using water of known purity. While this has no bearing on medicinal waters, which, however valuable, cannot safely be made part of the ordinary daily diet, because of the active chemical substances they contain, it has, however, given a wonderful stimulus to the consumption of dietetic or table waters, such as Apollinaris. It is little wonder, however, that the use of Apollinaris is on the increase, for who does not gladly take the beverage which, besides being pure and healthful, is delightful and refreshing?

Schiffmann's Asthma Cure

Instantly relieves the most violent attacks facilitates free expectoration and insured rest to those otherwise unable to sleep except in a chair, as a single trial will prove. Send for a free trial package to Dr. R. Schiffmann's, St. Paul, Minn., but ask your druggist first.

New Advertisements.

REMOVAL.

THE Hastings Loan and Investment Society will removed Monday, October 8th, from their present premises to their new office, Bridge Street, two doors east of Corby's.

J. P. C. PHILLIPS,
Oct. 5, '94. 131d2t 44wt Manager.

BELLEVILLE PLATING WORKS

HARRIS & WALTON'S FACTORY, MILL ST.

ELECTRO—Gold, Silver, Nickel, Copper, Brass and Bronze.

PLATING—Also Carriage Plating, Polishing, Buffing and Lacquering. Antique finishes of all kinds.

BURTON & MILLER

WALL - STREET!

OPERATE SUCCESSFULLY IN WALL ST.

THROUGH OUR

Co-Operative R.R. Stock Syndicate.

Large Profits Realized with Minimum Risks.

"PROSPECTUS AND DAILY MARKET LETTER" MAILED FREE.

HIGHEST REFERENCE.

WEINMAN & CO.

Stock and Grain Broker,

NO. 41 BROADWAY, NEW YORK CITY.

[d Oct. 3st, 1m eod

We Are..

Busy.....

Our new groceries are going with a rush, but more are arriving daily, and that's why we keep our stock fresh and wholesome. We take pride in our confectionery for it's the best money can buy and our prices are away down. See the values we offer in teas and sugars. Provisions, and flour and feed also receive our particular attention.

J. A. ELLIOTT.
Front St., Belleville.

QUEEN'S - OPERA - HOUSE.

- SATURDAY -

MATINEE & EVENING, OCTOBER 6TH.

Margart L. Sheppard & Co.,

In a great Drama of her own life,

"TRIED AS BY FIRE,"

By the eminent English Actor,

MARTIN CLEWORTH,

And a specially selected Company with Magnificent Costumes and Scenery.

Matinee Prices, - 25 & 35c.

Evening Prices, 25, 35 & 60c.

PETTYJOHN'S

CALIFORNIA BREAKFAST FOOD

Dyspeptics can eat this food.

It is particularly adapted for children and persons of sedentary habits.

It is made from Pacific coast wheat hulled and crushed by improved machinery.

It can be easily prepared for breakfast, as this crushing process makes it soft and tender and easy to cook

Ask your physician which is best for you to eat, oats or wheat.

Pettijohn's California Breakfast Food is sold in packages by

BENMORE & BENSON.

No-To-Bac.

Guaranteed to Cure

TOBACCO HABIT

In Every Form

at the Pharmacy.

D. M. WATERS.

GENTLEMEN....

Before ordering your Fall Clothing don't fail to take a look through

A. N. REID'S

New Fall Importations of

Scotch, English and Irish Suitings, Overcoatings, Pantings, Irish Serges, Cheviots, Hop Sackings and Black Worsteds

First Class Goods and Prices low.

Mr. Minor, our cutter, is one of the best in Ontario.

EVERY GARMENT GUARANTEED!!

Please call and inspect our New Goods.

A. N. REID.

YES,

The Crockery trade is interesting. We've just about finished the heaviest fruit jar season on record. Now we'll pitch into LAMPS and FLOWER POTS. Prices are amazingly low. This month will see the lamp stock complete with 150 kinds. We have just placed an order for an elegant new stock of the celebrated "Meriden Britannia Co's." SILVER PLATE and Sterling Ware.

W. J. REID & CO'Y,
CRYSTAL HALL. Rous' Old Stand.
London and Belleville.

CANADIAN ..
MERCHANTS .
FOLLOW ...

O B C METHODS.

"Some of the largest importing firms in Canada that have relations with great English houses, send their financial statements at the end of each year to Britain on O. B. C. Balance Sheet Forms. Following is a sample of an order.

Office of
RYAN BROS., Importers,
OWEN SOUND, Feb. 7, '94.
MESSRS. ROBINSON & JOHNSON,
Ontario Business College,
Gentlemen.—Please send us five Balance Sheet Blanks, same as you supply to Messrs. G. B. Ryan & Co., of Guelph.
Yours truly,
RYAN BROS.

THIS MATTER CHANGED DAILY.

FRIDAY, Oct. 5.

SEE HERE.

We have opened a large lot of children's all wool vests of a fine quality, the wholesale price of which was $6.50 a dozen. By clearing the lot we are enabled to sell them at 25c. each. This is a speciman of the kind of bargains that have built up our business.

W. FLINT JONES.

Next door to Haines & Lockett.

- PLUMBING -

We have added to our Workmen,

MR. GEORGE JOHNSON,

Who has for the past six years been prominent on large contracts in Victoria, B. C., San Francisco, Denver, and Chicago.

— ALSO —

MR. EDWIN W. BISHOP,

A graduate of the New York School for Plumbing (class 92), who comes highly recommended.

With these men added to our staff, we feel sure of giving satisfactory to all in Sanitary Plumbing.

C. F. Smith & Co.

ALLAN LINE,

Royal Mail Steamships. Liverpool, Calling at Moville.

	From Montreal daylight	From Quebec
PARISIAN	Oct. 6	Oct. 7
MONGOLIAN	" 13	" 14
HIBERNIAN	" 20
LAURENTIAN	" 27	" 28
NUMIDIAN	Nov. 3	Nov. 3
PARISIAN	" 10	" 11

RATES OF PASSAGE.

First cabin Derry and Liverpool, $45 and upwards single; $95 and upwards return. Second cabin, Liverpool, Derry, Belfast, Glasgow, $30; return $55. Steerage at lowest rates (everything found).

All steamships except the Hibernian carry 1st cabin, 2nd cabin and steerage passengers.

STATE LINE SERVICE
NEW YORK, LONDONDERRY
AND GLASGOW.

STATE OF NEBRASKA	Oct. 12
STATE OF CALIFORNIA	" 26
STATE OF NEBRASKA	Nov. 22

Cabin passage, $40 and upward, return $80 and upward; Second cabin $25. Steerage at lowest rates.

For tickets and other information apply to
U. E. THOMPSON
General Ticket Agency,
Bridge St., Belleville.
or to S. BURROWS,
Agent.

DON'T

Fail to see our fine display of

CANDIES

—AND—

FINE BAKERY GOODS

To morrow (Saturday).

H. C. DICKENS & SON.

P.S.—Oysters now arriving in fine order.

NO DOUBT YOU WILL REQUIRE A.........

New Hat Or — Bonnet..

The Most Stylish and Wearable...

MILLINERY IS AT —

J. P. THOMPSON & CO.

STOCK COMPLETE
IN ALL DEPARTMENTS.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY.

WESTERN — EXCURSIONS

On October 4th, 5th and 6th. Return Tickets will be issued from Belleville to—

DETROIT and PORT HURON		$6.50
CLEVELAND		9.00
SAGINAW and BAY CITY		9 50
GRAND RAPIDS		10 50
CHICAGO and CINCINNATI		12,50
ST. PAUL and MINNEAPOLIS	via Chicago or North Bay	35.50
ST. PAUL and MINNEAPOLIS	via Lake and Rail	37.50

Tickets will be good to return until Oct. 22nd. For tickets and all information apply to

U.E. THOMPSON.

General Ticket Agent, Bridge Street,

NEW..
GOODS
—AT—
FISH'S.

New Neckwear, the very latest, the colorings are entirely new, shapes very nobby, and prices very low.

New underwear, in all weights, all kinds, all prices, all sizes and cheaper than ever.

New half hose in cashmere, merino, Scotch lamb's wool and hard knitted Our 25c socks are great value.

See our new pink and blue shirts, our own make, the very latest.

A. E. FISH & CO.

The Noted Shirt Makers of Belleville.

HAPPY HOME RANGES.

Best in the Market.

—ALSO—

A Full Line of

Art Garland

and

Famous Heaters.

—(o)—

Wm. McGIE.

Next to Nathan Jones.
Telephone 38. Front St.

GLASGOW WAREHOUSE,

BELLEVILLE.

We are now showing complete lines in the following goods:

Ladies' Hygeian Underwear
Misses' Hygeian Underwear
Boys' plain and ribbed Underwear
Ladies' " " Cashmere Hose
Ladies' " " Wool Hose
Boys' " " Wool Hose
Ladies' black and colored Kid Gloves
" " " Cashmere Gloves
Ladies' Cashmere and Silk Mitts
Baby Ribbons in all makes and colors
Laces, Handkerchiefs and Corsets.

CARPETS, OILCLOTHS and CURTAINS in endless variety.

Larger lines in Canadian Staples at close cash prices.

VANDERVOORT & GIBSON,

Successors to the late J. W. Dunnet.

Belleville, Oct. 3, 1894.

P.S.—A large show case and table for sale, cheap.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, FRIDAY, OCT 5.

Chauncey Ashley, issuer of marriage licenses, Division Court Office, Pinnacle street or at residence over Bennmore & Benson's store. d&w

CITY AND DISTRICT.

Special sale of underwear for Saturday. Come, at Fish's dlt

Be sure and attend Grant's cheap cash sale if you want bargains in Boots and Shoes.

Canadians all over the Dominion are now trampling under foot the beautiful emblem of their country.

A steel vault is being put into the new offices of the Dominion Bank, cor. Front and Bridge Sts.

The Prince Edward County Fair, held at Picton on Wednesday and Thursday, was a decided success.

A large number of people from the city went over to the Ameliasburg Fair at Roblin's Mills to-day.

The police got a call to the North Front St. railway bridge to arrest some tramps. Three were caught and the other two got away

It is important to keep the liver and kidneys in good condition. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the remedy for invigorating these organs.

The rain is by no means unwelcome to the farmers. It will require a great deal more of it to raise the springs to their usual heighth.

We have just received the first ladies' kid button boot at $1.25 ever offered in the city, made by one of the best makers. —VERMILYEA & SON.

Front Street is one of the muddiest streets in the world at present. The Street Surveyor ought to have the crossings kept in a somewhat cleaner condition.

Mr. P. C. Jones has erected a very handsome flagstaff on his place of business and has, as well, had his name inscribed in brass letters in the granolithic walk.

A farmer sold a bag of apples to a citizen yesterday on the market and took 30c on them, but was unable to find the address given him. He left the money with the police.

The School Management Committee of the Board of Education will meet this evening to select a teacher of modern languages and classics for the High School from ten applications now in their hands.

The October poets are out in full force. Every magazine and paper is literally deluged with touching odes on the merits of the present month. October is a long month, and they ought not to use up all their divine afflatus during the first few days of it.

"For several months, I was troubled with a persistent humor on my head which gave me considerable annoyance, until it occurred to me to try Ayer's Hair Vigor. Before using one bottle, the humor was healed."—T. T. Adams, General Merchants, Turbervill, Va.

Landscape gardening is becoming a fad with women. Miss Wilkinson first aroused interest in this line in England. Vauxhall Park, Miss Wilkinson's latest work, was recently opened by the Prince of Wales, who said that it was the finest piece of gardening he had ever seen.

The universal prevalence of scrofula is a fact well-known to physicians. The only medicine that has hitherto proved a specific for this dreadful complaint is Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which expels every germ of poison from the blood. You cannot begin to use it too soon.

PROBABILITIES.

TORONTO, Oct. 5.—Fresh to strong west to north west winds; partly fair and cool; some light local showers.

A Difference in Boys' Suits.

Once parents buy a little suit or overcoat of Sanford's and they will have no other. The Oak Hall have made a careful study of the children's clothing trade, and for fit, finish and good wear you must have Sanford's. The Oak Hall has exclusive control for Belleville of this celebrated Maker's clothing.

The Haines & Lockett Fire.

Owing to our loss by the recent fire, we placed what few accounts we had on our books in the hands of W. J. Diamond with instructions to send them in without respect of persons, and to urge immediate payment. We hope all parties concerned will respond promptly at Mr. Diamond's office.

d115tf HAINES & LOCKETT.

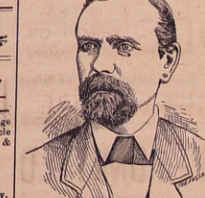

Cold in the head—Nasal Balm gives instant relief; speedily cures. Never fails.

JOHN WHITE'S FUNERAL.

An Immense Gathering.

An Imposing Funeral Procession—Universal Regret—The Grand Orange Lodge of Ontario East Conducts the Funeral—Grand Chaplain Dupras's Sermon—The Hon. Senator Bowell Speaks of his Departed Friend—Friends and Brethren From Near and Far Shed Tears With the Family.

But one theme has been the subject of conversation in the county for the past two days. "John White is dead" were the words on every lip. Like other men who have risen to prominence and "left their footprints in the sands of time," his death has been a revelation of the hold he had on the hearts of the community, who knew and honored him. John White has not only been a prominent man for a quarter of a century, but he had a striking personality. His indomitable will, his "pluck," his devotion to his friends, his kindness to fallen foes, and his "never say die" in every cause he undertook won people to him in spite of themselves. Commencing the struggle of life amidst the most adverse circumstances, sailing ever against the wind, and with only his nervy heart and his wondrously sanguine nature to aid him, he turned that which would have thwarted a less brave soul, to his gain. The obsequies proved how deep set was the affection entertained for him. The funeral was remarkable above anything else for the number of ladies present. This was but their way of showing how much they valued the man "who set such store" on them. How often has he been heard to say "give me the ladies on my side and I don't care much for the men," and he could ever count on them as his staunchest friends and greatest admirers.

THE LATE JOHN WHITE.

Though the day was threatening, and the roads heavy from the recent rains, the concourse at Roslin on the 4th inst., exceeded anything in its annals. The casket containing the body arrived at the family residence on last Monday evening, having been just a week in crossing the continent, and since then streams of people have visited the home and gazed on the familiar features. Yesterday people visited and re-visited the room in which the body lay, and could scarce tear themselves away. There were many floral tributes; chief amongst which were, a pillow from the children, having on it "Father"; a pillow from the Provincial Grand Lodge of Ontario East, with the words "our Brother"; a pillow from N. B. Falkner, Esq., a crown from Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Hamilton.

THE FUNERAL SERVICE.

The funeral service was held at the home of the deceased, by Rev. J. Black, Presbyterian minister at Roslin, and Rev. S. A. Dupras. There was a concourse of friends of the deceased, having taken a last silent farewell of him of whom they were so fond in life, completely filled the spacious lawn, and it was a solemn sight in the bright sunlight of a perfect afternoon, as they with reverential awe sang "Safe in the arms of Jesus," after which Rev. J. Black offered up prayer for those so suddenly afflicted, and Rev. S. A. Dupras read the Bible selections of the Presbyterian church for service of the dead.

Mr. Wm. Johnson then read the following letter received by Mrs. White from Rev. S. Cleaver, of Vancouver:

107 Quadra St., Victoria, B. A.

DEAR MRS. WHITE.—Our hearts are bleeding for you and yours to-night. We have just been holding a quiet service over the remains of him you loved so well. We read several short passages of Scripture, gave out the familiar hymn:

"Jesus, lover of my soul,
"Let me, to Thy bosom fly, etc.

and bowed our heads and hearts in prayer together. We felt all the while that he needed not our prayers or sympathy, for his tired spirit had found rest in that land where God's own loving hand wipes away all tears and there shall be no more pain, but our thoughts wandered over the continent to his far-away home, where the widow and the fatherless were bowed with broken hearts, and earnestly we prayed for you and still do.

There seems to be a great gap in our lives. Ever and anon he would come home with us after church, and we would spend such a happy hour together. Only a week ago Sunday, our dear Brother was at church and tarried behind for a friendly chat with Mrs. Cleaver and her mother, with his usual cheerfulness. I was absent from home that Sunday, and last Sabbath I missed his face from the services. And after coming home, I asked my wife if she had seen him, and she replied "No, I expect he must have gone east, for he was speaking of it when last I saw him."

Then Monday morning the fearful intelligence came that he was dead. We could not believe it, and I hurried over to the hospital, only to find the sad report too true.

We were so grieved that we had not heard of his illness that we might have visited him and done something for him. But he was always so unselfish and so careful to give no one trouble, that I fear he thought he would not trouble us and would soon be all right again.

Still, even in this dark night of your sorrow, the thick blackness is broken by stars of hope and promise. His interest always in the good assures me that, with the Author of all good, he has at last found an eternal home.

Do not think of husband and father as dead, but as living in that land where friends never sever, and try and look forward in hope to that day not far distant, when there shall be the grand family reunion with no more separations, and may the mantle of his unselfish devotion rest upon his children.

Mrs. Cleaver joins me in christian love and sympathy for you all, and in the earnest prayer, that the God of all consolation may by his presence and love, comfort your sad hearts.

Ever yours in suffering fellowship,

S. S. CLEAVER,
Pastor of Pandora Ave., Methodist Church.

Rev. Mr. Dupras said that he was not in the habit of making apologies, but that it was due to the audience as well as himself to state, that he had not expected to have been called to address them upon this solemn occasion, but when exiled upon to do work for the Master or his fellow creature, he did the best he could and left the result with God. He took for his text part of the 14th verse of 4th James. "For what is your life." The more he pondered on the subject he said the more he felt that life was a problem, which in considering we confine ourselves to its duties. It is a vapor, simply "a tale that is told." Many he said exerted every physical energy to the accumulation of wealth, whilst many others bend their efforts towards becoming famous, whilst the sole aim and ambition in life of others was the accumulation of knowledge. The accumulation of wealth was a worthy object when done with the purpose of using that wealth for good and not as the miser. And as well there was a laudable desire for fame, but those who were most famous were not always the most happy, and the accumulation of knowledge was desirable but not carried to extremes. He believed that it was man's duty to take as much innocent pleasure out of life as possible as "days will come and days will go" but life not the whole of life to live, as many live only to exist, with no aim or object, but its the greatest opportunity given to man to glorify God, and in the end to enjoy Him for ever. No one glorifies God who does not use life as the Maker intended it should be used. If he was going by default in life strictly from an earthly standpoint, he would say that life was given us in which to make ourselves comfortable, and to distribute these comforts to all humanity. He said that he had not what could be called an intimate acquaintance with the deceased, who was noted for his unselfishness, as he would forget himself in the care of others. Human life was long enough, he said, in which to do an infinite amount of good, whilst it was too short to squander in dissipation or selfish pleasure. Every time that man benefitted his fellow, he lifted this world nearer heaven. This life, he claimed, was a preparation for a longer spiritual one in a better world, and by way of illustration, he compared the old log shanty of the early settlers to the present commodious homes of our industrious farmers. He said that our dear friend did not cease to exist, but that his active temperment was as active as ever in another and better world. The duration of human life was a probation in which to prepare for eternity, as he who served God best here would enjoy his presence best in eternity. Death, he said, was the most certain thing in the world, and the hour of its coming the most uncertain. He would say to the bereaved widow that she married until "death did part," that God had blessed her with many years of happy married life and many loving children, but like others, she found now her only hope resting in her Saviour, and like others under similar circumstances, she would find her Saviour ever precious in time of trouble. To the sons he would say that they had the memory of their father's life which was well worthy of imitation, as he began life in a humble sphere and made it a glorious success, and he admonished them to go forth to battle with the world relying on God, and they would be honored in death as their father was, and it was his prayer that God would gather them in the end, an unbroken family.

The conduct of the procession was in charge of the Grand Lodge of Ontario East, and reflected great credit on it, and the Association of Orangemen.

The Grand Orange Lodge of British America was represented by the Hon. M. Bowell, Past M. W. Grand Master, Ottawa; Robt. Birmingham, Grand Secretary, Toronto; Rev. S. A. Dupras, Deputy Grand Chaplain, Redneville; Wm. Anderson, Past Grand Treasurer, Mountain View; H. A. McFaull, Past Deputy Grand Treasurer, Hillier; Wm. White, Past Grand Director of Ceremonies, Tweed.

The Provincial Grand Orange Lodge of Ontario East, had as its representatives: Capt. T. A. Kidd, Grand Master, Burritt's Rapids; Wm. Johnson, Past Grand Master, Belleville; F. M. Clarke, Grand Secretary, Belleville; Albert Bradley, Junior Deputy Grand Master, Hazeldean; Robert Gordon, Grand Treasurer, Tweed; W. H. Craig, Grand Director of Ceremonies, Tweed; Capt. John R. Orr, Deputy Grand Secretary, Madoc.

County Officers: W. H. Gordon, County Master, South Hastings; Jas. English, County Master, Central Hastings; Thos. Wills, Past County Master, South Hastings; Jas. Haggerty, M. P. P., Past County Master, North Hastings; John Caskey, Past County Master; John Graham, Past Deputy County Master; Thos. Robinson, Past Deputy County Master; Robert Porter, Past County Master; Peter Mather, Past County Master; W. J. Allen, Past County Master; S. Tammon, Past County Master; Thos. Tammon, Past County Master; M. Hill, Past County Master; A Collins, Director of Ceremonies.

District Officers: D. T. Rutledge, District Master No. 1, South Hastings; Archie Latta, District Master No. 3; John Beatty, District Master No. 2; T. J. Porte, District Master No. 4; D. E. K. Stewart, District Master; Jas. Gilmour, Past District Master. Past District Masters Geo. Rollins, Madoc; Wm. Wray, Tweed; R. Robinson, Tweed; G. W. Halstead, Roslin; Joseph Elliott, Thomasburg; Jas. E Brown, Thomasburg; Jas. E. Elliott, Thomasburg. Masters of Primary Lodges—L.O.L. No. 3, W. H. Cook; No. 94, Wellington Roxbury; No. 99, Jonah Brant; No. 116, James Colden; No. 131, Wm. Robinson; No. 179, Wm. J. Hall; No. 240, Alex. Beatty; No. 242, J. S. Kerr; No. 274, O. Reid; No. 295, Franklin Carter; No. 292, W. St. Kerr; No. 727, S. A. Gardner; No. 747, Sandy Grant; No. 838, W. H. Carlson; No. 974, Richard McNeggany; No. 1135, J. W. Beatty; No. 1,375, John Ketchen; No. 110, James Monigomery; No. 160, Geo. A. Rollins; No. 251, H. B. Lowry; No. 253 Charles Thompson; No. 900, R. Haggerty; No. 422, J. B. Reynolds; No. 435, D. Wallace; No. 437, W. H. Kells; No. 509, J. E. Halliwell; No. 517, J. B. Fox. These, with many others, whose names we were unable to procure, representing almost every Primary Lodge in the Counties of Hastings, and Prince Edward, and numbering several hundred, formed a procession fully half a mile long.

At the request of Mrs. White and family the bearers were chosen from Mr. White's most intimate personal friends and were Messrs. A. N. Reid, W. L. Hamilton, N. B. Falkner and Chas. Hudson, of Belleville; Robt. Gordon, Tweed; and M. Hill, Shannonville.

The pall bearers selected by the Provincial Grand Lodge of Ontario East were Hon. Mr. Bowell, P.G.M., B.A.; Capt. A. Kidd, Grand Master; Wm. Johnson, P.G.M.; F. M. Clarke, Grand Secretary; A. Bradley, Deputy Grand Master; Wm. White, P. G. D. of C. of B. A. The procession was in charge of Mr. W. H. Craig, of Tweed, Grand Director of Ceremonies of Ontario East, who was ably assisted by Past County Master Robt. Porter, of Hungerford.

Amongst the vast assemblage present we noticed H. Corby, M.P., Belleville, W. B. Northrup, M.P., Belleville; Jas. Haggerty, M.P.P., Huntingdon; W. F. Hudson, ex-M.P.P.; Rev. Geo. Anderson, Deseronto; Rev. R. Duke, Thomasburg; Rev. D. Williame, Plainfield; Rev. W. J. Sanders, Shannonville; Rev. H. C. Garbutt, Lonsdale; Rev. H. H. Adams Ivanhoe; Rev. Thos. P. Steele, West Huntingdon; Rev. S. Daw, Belleville, and a host of influential citizens from all parts of the County.

Rev. Mr. Black then gave out that pathetic and touching hymn, "Jesus, lover of my soul," to which the vast assembly joined, when after a short prayer, the procession was formed from the house to the place of interment in the following order:

Members of Primary Orange Lodges,
Officers of Primary Orange Lodges,
Officers of District Orange Lodges,
Officer of County Orange Lodges,
Royal Black Knights,
Officers of Provincial Grand Lodge,
Officers of Grand Lodge of British America,
Past Masters,
Dr. Hudson, Rev. Mr. Black, Mr. Jno. Wilson,
Bearers—The Hearse—Pearers,
Chief Mourners,
Liberal Conservative Association of East Hastings,
Liberal Conservative Association of West Hastings,
Liberal Conservative Association of North Hastings,
Citizens on foot,
Carriages.

The end of the procession had not left Mr. White's late residence, when the head of it reached the graveyard, three quarters of a mile distant.

Besides Mrs. White, her five daughters, two sons and three sons in law, Mr. Jas. White and Mr. Joseph White, brothers of the deceased, were the chief mourners.

AT THE GRAVE.

The funeral service at the grave was conducted by the Rev. Mr. Black, after which Hon. Mr. Bowell touchingly referred to a life long acquaintance with the deceased. He said:

Hon. Mr. Bowell said that it was always a difficult task on an occasion like this to speak of one with whom he had been so intimate as with the deceased, an intimacy which had existed from the time he came to the county of Hastings until so suddenly terminated by the hand of death. In lodge work and in business matters he had known the deceased intimately and although he had his foibles like others, none being free from them, he was a true friend. It was their duty as brethren to bury the foibles and then remember only the estimable traits in his character as he, with others, had found John White always ready to do his duty. As the head of a family he had always found the deceased a kind and affectionate husband and father, anxious that his family should not only grow up respectable but that they would occupy positions second to none in the community. The deceased, he said, possessed wonderful natural ability and force of character, which had gained for him a position in the country of which anyone might feel a just pride.

He referred to the sanguine temperment of the deceased, which knew no such word as failure, and which caused him to look upon the bright side of life, which with his industry and push was one of the reasons of his success.

He then referred to the great shock it was to him when he heard of the sudden death of his friend and tendered his deepsympathy to the stricken widow, and hoped that she would bear her affliction with the resignation of those who believe in the christian religion, and closed with the wish that the children might emulate the good qualities of the father who had gone.

The Orange service was then read by Provincial Grand Master T. A. Kidd, Past Grand Master of British America the Hon. M. Bowell, and Grand Chaplain Rev. S. A. Dupras.

CONDOLENCE FROM HIS PARTY.

The following resolution of condolence from the Liberal Conservative Association, of East Hastings, was received by Mrs. White:

Mrs. John White, Roslin:

DEAR MADAM,—The members of the East Hastings Liberal Conservative Association desire to express their sympathy with yourself and family, in the death of your loved husband, and if human words could assuage your grief or make loss keen your pangs of sorrow, would add them. We know, however, that they cannot, so that if our message be brief, it is none the less heartfelt.

His death has come to us so unexpectedly that we cannot yet realize that he with whom we have fought so many political battles, is gone forever. We recall his manly, cheering words in hours when hearts less brave than his would have given up the conflict in despair, and we will treasure through life the privilege we had of being counted his friends.

Dear Mrs. White, be assured that the members of the East Hastings Liberal Conservative Association share somewhat with you in the loneliness of these hours, are deeply touched with your bereavement and acutely feel the loss of him who is gone.

P. R. DALY,
President.
CHAS. HUDSON,
Secretary.

ROSLIN, 2nd Oct., 1894.

THE COUNTY GAOL.

Interesting Figures from Gaoler Appleby's Report.

The annual report of Mr. L. A. Appleby, County Gaoler, on the institution under his charge presents several details of interest. During the year ending Sept. 30th there were 110 male and 20 female prisoners committed. Of these 86 were Canadian, 18 English, 14 Irish, 5 Scotch and 7 from other lands. There were 68 Roman Catholic, 23 Church of England, 11 Presbyterian, 48 Methodist and 2 other denominations. Forty-six could neither read nor write, 72 could imperfectly and 36 intelligently. The cost of maintenance was $2,279, and the daily cost per prisoner was but 6½ cents—a very low figure, which is equalled by few prisons in the province.

Writ Issued.

Mr. Swayze late Principal of the Belleville Business College has issued a writ against Mr. Robb. Begle, the proprietor, for a claim of $941.

Married at Brooklyn.

On Monday last Mr. William M. Swayze, only son of Prof. G. A. Swayze, of this city, was married to Miss Lalilau Whitenack, of Brooklyn, N Y. The event took place at the residence of Mrs. Euphemia O. Bower, an aunt of the bride. They will reside in New York. The many friends of Will in this city join in congratulations.

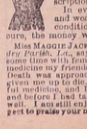

YOUNG GIRLS entering womanhood ought to have just the special help that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription can give.

They need to be started right. The "Prescription" aids and promotes the proper functions, corrects the delicate weaknesses and derangements that might become chronic, establishes regularity and health, lessens pain.

They want a nourishing, supporting, strengthening tonic, such as an experienced physician has especially prepared for the female system, in the "Prescription."

In every "female complaint" and weakness, and in all nervous conditions, if it doesn't benefit or cure, the money will be returned.

MISS MAGGIE JACKSON, of Barbreck, St. Landry Parish, La., says: "I was tying sick for some time with female complaints, and all the medicine my friends gave me did me no good. Death was approaching. I heard of your wonderful medicine, and I bought two bottles of it, and before I had taken the last, I got entirely well. I am still enjoying good health, and say just to praise your medicine every where I go."

Lane's Medicine Moves the Bowels Each Day

In order to be healthy this is necessary.

Geo. Ritchie & Co.

HIGH GRADE GARMENTS

At Moderate Prices!

OUR stock of LADIES' JACKETS and WRAPS is very complete. It embraces the very latest modes from Great Britain, Paris and Berlin. Our facilities for buying enable us to show the very latest novelties at the lowest possible prices. Our Mr. Ritchie spent a fortnight in Berlin this season making a personal selection of the newest shapes and materials from the best makers known to the trade. We cordially invite you to pay a visit to this department whether you wish to buy or not.

GREAT VARIETY .... OF STYLES!

Three-quarter length Prince Albert Coats in Cheviots, Friezes and Beavers.

Three-quarter length Cheviot and Serge Coats, fur trimmed, beautifully finished.

Three-quarter length Frieze Jackets, tight fitting, with Eton front, braid trimmed.

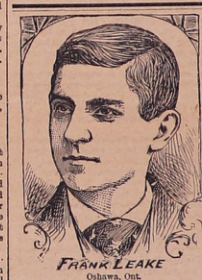

Three-quarter length Fancy Tweed Coats, large reveres, tight fitting, strap seams, very nobby.

Three-quarter length Fine Beaver Coat, tight fitting, full sleeves, silk lined, trimmed with moire, fur edged, very new style.

Golf Capes, with silk-lined Hoods, in a variety of choice materials, plaid linings.

A Fine Assortment of Children's Garments

Geo. Ritchie & Co.

FRANK LEAKE
Oshawa, Ont.

Pains in the Joints

Caused by Inflammatory Swelling

A Perfect Cure by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"It affords me much pleasure to recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla. My son was afflicted with great pain in the joints, accompanied with swelling so bad that he could not get up stairs to bed without crawling on hands and knees. I was very anxious about him, and having read so much about Hood's Sarsaparilla I determined to try it, and got a half-dozen bottles, four of which entirely cured him." MRS. G. A LAKE, Oshawa, Ontario.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

N.B. Be sure to get Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Hood's Pills act easily, yet promptly and efficiently, on the liver and bowels. 25c.

WALL-PAPER!

SEE THAT?

CLEANLINESS!
HEALTH!
ECONOMY!
HAPPINESS!
FURNISHING!
CHARACTER!
ART!
Common Sense

There's a Lot of Meaning in it for You!!

There's an array that is hard to beat!

Could you ask more? Here it is

A Discount of 10 per cent. for 30 days.

Test our Ability to Advise on Interior Decorations.

C. B. SCANTLEBURY.

MORE ROOM WANTED!

— AT THE —

LEADING BARGAIN HOUSE!

Changed Daily.

FRIDAY, Oct. 5 h, 1894.

FRAGRANT..

And .....

DELICIOUS!!

This is what we say of our celebrated 30c. Coffee. Its a rich, fine flavored blend of Coffee, and is our fast selling coffee. Try a 15c. package of it and judge for yourself.

Stroud's

TEA STORE.

Daily the remainder comes to us that we're crowded for room. New Goods keep coming in upon us. We must make room by quickly reducing stocks. Reducing prices will do it.

A CHOICE STOCK ....

.... Bargains everywhere.

For reasons best known to themselves, some manufacturers offered us strong inducements to buy sundry lines of Dress Goods, Hosiery and Underwear.

The Millinery Department fairly sparkles with Novelties, and the prices are to say the least very tempting.

H. A. LAYTON, BELLEVILLE.

Front St., Opposite Campbell St.

ESTABLISHED 1870.

Greenland Seal Driving Capes 24 Inches Long $12.00

Wool Seal Empire Capes 26 Inches Long $18.00

Persian Lamb Jackets made to order from $60.00 up, according to length and quality. Seal Jackets made to order, $120.00 up, according to length and quality. Thousand of dollars worth of Skins to pick from.

S. A. HYMAN.

Manufacturing Furrier.

P S.—Old Furs cleaned, dyed and made over in latest styles.

His Dyspepsia Cured.

MR. GEO. READ.

DEAR SIRS.—
I write to you to say that for some time I had been suffering from acute indigestion or dyspepsia, and of course felt very great inconvenience from same in my general business. I thereupon decided to try Burdock Blood Bitters, and after taking two bottles I found I was quite another man, for

G. B. B. CURED ME.

I have also used it for my wife and family, and have found it the best thing they can take, and from past experience I have every chance in strongly recommending it. It is for sale by druggists.

I write you because I think that it should be generally known what B.B.B. can accomplish instead of indigestion.

GEORGE READ, Shoebrooke, Que.

HAMILTON,
TORONTO AND MONTREAL,
Via Bay of Quinte, Calling at all Ports Weekly.

THE FAVORITE STEAMER

"MAGNET"

Leaves St. Catharines	Tuesday	9 a. m.
Toronto	"	4 p. m.
Leaves Belleville for Montreal	Wednesday	7:30 a m
Leaves Belleville for Toronto	Sunday	8 p. m.

First Class Passenger Accommodation, Large Freight Capacity. Lowest Rates For Tickets, Rates, &c., Apply to the RATHBUN COMPANY, Agents, or to
CAPT. J. J. TOWERS, Superintendent, No. 2 King st., Toronto.
C. F. GILDERSLEEVE, General Manager, 228 St. Paul st., Montreal.

ROCHESTER,
KINGSTON AND MONTREAL.
Weekly Service Calling at Way Ports
THE FINE FLAT STEAMER

"ALEXANDRIA"

Leaves Montreal, Thursday at	10:00 a. m.
Arrives Belleville, Saturday at	11:45 a. m.
Leaves for Rochester	"	1:15 p. m.
Arrives from Rochester, Monday at	6:30 a m.
Leaves for Montreal,	"	7:30 a m.

Spacious and elegant Saloon. Ample Stateroom accommodation The choicest and best Meals furnished. Safety, comfort and enjoyment assured by personal supervision of Capt. Smith and Purser McIrose. Careful handling of freight.
For Tickets, State rooms at lowest rates apply to
THE RATHBUN COMPANY, Agents.

Bay of Quinte Steamb't Route
TRI-WEEKLY
DESER'TO, PICTON & KINGSTON
1894 - 1894

STR. "HERO"

THIS favorite steamer is now lighted by electricity and will have a strong search light for excursion business and the boat is heated by steam.
Commencing Monday, April 9th, will leave Belleville Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 8 a. m. returning Tuesday, Thursday and Friday at 11 p m.
The very best facilities are offered to shippers of freight. The lowest through and local rates quoted.
No wharfage at Picton on freight for this steamer.
Full information given by Gilbert Johnston at board or by the
RATHBUN COM'Y.
J. H. GILDERSLEEVE, Ticket Agent, Kingston.

ROCHESTER.
STEAMER

NORTH KING.

Leaves for Charlotte, N. Y., every Sunday, 11:45 p.m.
Leaves for Picton and Kingston every Sunday, 9:30 a. m.
Arrive from Picton and Kingston every Sunday, 11:45 p.m.
Arrives from Charlotte, N. Y., every Sunday, 3:30 a. m.
Special attention given to passengers and freight.
WEEK DAYS.—Steamer leaves Port Hope week days for Charlotte, N. Y., at 9:45 a.m.
Calls at Brighton Monday 2 a.m., and Wednesday 2:30 a.m., and at Colborne Wednesday and Fridays 4 a.m.
Connection made by Grand Trunk morning trains.
THE RATHBUN CO., 43tf Agents. U. E. THOMPSON, Agent.

INSURANCE.
Western Assurance Company,
Fire and Marine Head Office, Toronto
North British & Mercantile Ins. Co.,
Fire and Life, Head Office (Can.) Montreal
Atlas Insurance Company,
Fire Head Office (Canada), Montreal
M. M. THOMPSON
Water Works Office, Bridge St.

Steamer "Iona"
Will ave Belleville three times each week for Oswego, connecting with trains for New York.

Daily Intelligencer.
At Death's Door—Dyspepsia Conquered —A Great Medical Triumph.

GENTLEMEN,—My medical adviser and others told me I could not possibly live when I commenced to use Northrop & Lyman's VEGETABLE DISCOVERY for Dyspepsia. My case was one of the worst of its kind. For three years I could not eat meat and my weight decreased from 219 to 119 lbs. All the food I took for thirteen months previous to taking the VEGETABLE DISCOVERY consisted of milk. I am now entirely cured and have regained my usual weight, can eat anything with a keen relish and feel like a new man. I have sold over thirty dozen VEGETABLE DISCOVERY since it cured me, as I am well-known, and people in this section know how low I was, and thought I could not possibly be cured. They are eager to try this grand medicine. It certainly saved my life, as I never expected to rec ver when first I commenced using it. I am not exaggerating anything but feel glad to be able to contribute this testimonial and trust it may be the means of convincing others of its merits as a certain cure for Dyspepsia.
Signed, JEAN VALCOURT,
Wotton, P. Q.

In 1888 the people of Great Britain paid taxes on 492 200 carriages.

Is there anything more annoying than having your corn stepped upon? Is there anything more delightful than getting rid of it? Holloway's Corn Cure will do it. Try it and be convinced.

In Portugal the tobacco tax brings £900,000, the land tax £700,000.

Some people laugh to show their pretty teeth. The use of Ivory White Tooth Powder makes people laugh more than ever. It's so nice. Price 25c. Sold by druggists.

Worms cause feverishness, moaning and restlessness during sleep. Mother Gray's Sweet Worms Exterminator is pleasant, sure and effectual. If your druggist has none in stock, get him to procure it for you.

The rate of taxation has nearly quadrupled in France since 1830.

DYSPEPSIA causes dizziness, headache, constipation, variable appetite, rising and souring of food, palpitation of the heart, distress after eating. Burdock Blood Bitters is guaranteed to cure Dyspepsia if faithfully used according to directions.

Until about forty years ago, the Persian Government levied a tax on cats.

MR T. J. HUMES, Columbus, Ohio, writes: 'I have been afflicted for some time with kidney and Liver Complaint, and find Parmelee's Pills the best medicine for these diseases These Pills do not cause pain or griping, and should be used when a cathartic is required. They are Gelatine Coated, and rolled in the Flour of Licorice to preserve their purity and give them a pleasant, agreeable taste.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP cures Bronchitis.

FOR CHOLERA MORBUS, Cholera Infantum Cramps, Colic, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, and Summer Complaint Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is a prompt, safe and sure cure that has been a popular favorite for over 40 years.

STEAMER VARUNA

A. HICKS, Captain

WILL leave Trenton every morning, (Sunday excepted) at 7:00 o'clock, calling at Redeerville and all points between the head of the bay and Picton, leaving Belleville at 8:30 a.m., Deseronto at 10:20 a.m.
On Tuesday and Thursday evenings to meet North King at Brighton, returning will leave Brighton Wednesday and Saturday mornings at 5:30.
Will connect at Picton with stage for Sand Banks.
Parties wishing to arrange for excursion rates will see Capt. Hicks on board
Will leave Picton at 1 p.m. on return for the head of the bay, Deseronto 2:30 p.m., Belleville, at 4:30 p. m., and Trenton, at 8.
Omnibuses in waiting at Picton, Belleville and Brighton.
The Rathbun Co., Agents, Belleville and Deseronto.
A. W. Hepburn, Agent, Picton.

FINE CLASS
Under ear
ALL GR
STOCK - IS - ALL - NEW
AT -
GEO. P. MINAKER'S.
Opposite Tickell & Son's.

SPORT.
Lacrosse Sticks,
Foot Balls,
Tennis Goods,
Croquet, etc.,
Base Ball Supplies.

Also, Wall Paper, Window Shades, Hammocks, Fans, Purses, Albums, Bibles and Novels.
-AT-
Overell's Book Store,
Next to Glasgow Warehouse.

RIBBONS!
We have an extra large stock of Ribbons on hand in all the light and fancy shades including
BABY RIBBONS,
SILK " "
SATIN " "
MOIRE " "
ETC., - ETC.
Our prices are the lowest, and we will be pleased to have you give us a call whenever wanting Ribbons.

SILK ELASTICS....
We have a splendid stock of Fancy Silk Elastic, made in Yellow, Blue, Green, Orange, Cardinal, Black, Pink, Mauve, White All one price, 25c yard, at
THE BEEHIVE
CHAS. N. SULMAN

THE KISS OF GOLD.

By KATE JORDAN.

[Copyright, 1893, by J. B. Lippincott Company and published by special arrangement with them.]

There was silence after these words and then the rustling of paper. Tom hastily turned and saw Delatole leaning against the table, looking scornfully over each of the pages whereon the criticism was written that had so delighted him. A painful premonition made him cold, but he said nothing.

"Ah, well, I wish I had known that you contemplated this idiocy before I wasted time and ink on you, Murray. You didn't tell me, of course. No reason why you should. But I assure you, had I guessed what manner of man you were I wouldn't have plunged into such a bewildering prophecy about your future greatness. I'm not usually so impulsive," and he rent the sheets half across before Tom's voice made him pause.

"Is this fair? If you really liked 'The World's Way,' why won't you say so?"

The mysterious violet gray of twilight, stealing through the high windows behind him touched his young face with shadows. It was pinched, eager, watchful.

"Oh, I'll do that, of course. A few lines, a paragraph, will suffice, but not this psalm of victory, this heralding of a new voice that is not to be stilled, but will rise again and again—not that. You'll have to prove all I've said false before I write of you in that strain." And he was the incarnation of bland, impersonal regret as the papers once more fluttered in his hands.

He looked them over half regretfully.

"It's one of the best things I've ever written, but in submission to my honest opinion I must destroy it."

In a few strides Tom was beside him. They looked intently at each other. Tom's eye wavered and fell.

"Don't—don't," he said, and his voice was half choked. "Give me time. Let me think."

Half an hour later they were walking up University place. They dined at a chophouse frequented by Bohemia, where tables were bare and beer was served in mugs.

"Better than Delmonico's in certain moods," said Delatole as they crossed the sanded floor; "the food is excellent and cooked to suit Lucullus. As accompaniments you have art, devil-may-care-ism, smoke and even socialism."

His friends were scattered through the long room, and merry greetings were called out to him, which he repaid in kind. The hours passed in sparkling reminiscences, jests and laughter. Delatole's levity became astonishing, and in this impudent wag, who soon formed a group around himself, there was not a trace of the cynic, the philosopher, the serious man of letters. Much that he said was coarse, but so audaciously humorous it was impossible not to respond.

Tom found himself moved to enthusiasm and laughter. His pulses were alive; his eyes glistened. Yes, let him reason as he would, he was attuned to this reckless brilliancy, this mingling of wits, this clatter of defiant freedom and spontaneity. Delatole was right. Chance words here and there gave him a new insight into a happy, modern paganism that filled his brain with imagery. The witchery, the sweep of it were intoxicating.

He regretted when 9 o'clock came and Delatole parted with him to keep an appointment at his club. No word had been exchanged between the two men upon the subject that so nearly concerned them both. Now, as Tom hurried up town the undecided question danced before his eyes, his heart became suddenly weighted.

Should he cast the old life behind him utterly and enter upon a new one—free?

He reached Union square. It sparkled in crystal whiteness. The branches patterned on the pavements waved fantastically about his feet as he strode on, his head down. Passionate indecision went with him like a wraith in the white rays. He thought of his enchanted dreaming of the night before. Only last night! Ah, he had learned much since then. Had he ever really reasoned or understood before?

"Keep yourself unshackled. The man who enters a race fettered is a fool."

The frosty breeze that whistled past his ears seemed whispering these words to him.

His memory flew back to a miserable childhood spent among the rigors of a poor western farm, and he shuddered. Only by a hard fight and incredible sacrifice had his father saved the money necessary for his support and education.

Poverty! How he loathed and feared it! How he had always loathed it! Ingrained in his nature was a love for the poetry of life, a hatred of the commonplace, and now—let him be careful, lest by one ill advised step he taste all the old bitterness again.

The fragrance of the hyacinths in his coat came to him in the crisp air, so penetratingly sweet it gave him a heartache—the flowers she had given him.

With a groan he flung himself into a seat.

"I love her! I love her! And she? Have I not had the confession in her eyes—in her kiss? Who has helped me—who has understood me like her? How can I pain her—how can I leave her?"

For himself, if the reckless ambition mastering him required it, he could put love away, blot it from his life, and the thought had some of the ecstasy of martyrdom. But Virginia loved him, and he knew it. The thought of hurting her was cruel, and in the agonized tumult of the moment cold drops stood on his brow. Again as in the morning came the inward avowal of his own weakness. Oh, what if Delatole had spoken truly, and the sovereignty of love meant the enslaving of the talent he had sworn should make him famous! Then—oh, then, to what depths his ruined hopes would fling him! And he would drag her with him in his fall, perhaps making her taste a bitter anguish to which this younger disappointment was but little. And the other side of the picture—the life of the artist purely, the untrammeled, easy, earnest life, where great things would be accomplished—was it not better?

Hours passed in this mute conflict. Love with dove's eyes first pleaded, then changed to a fury and scourged him. Doubt, fear of himself, insatiable ambition, passed in mocking line and with shadowy lips whispered predictions that terrified him.

When he rose from the seat, he was benumbed. The frost seemed to have made a casing for his heart. The midnight traffic of the town, like the throbbing of massive machinery, swept across the white silence of the square imperatively rousing him to a sense of action. Yes, there lay his world, his life. No more dreaming. He had dreamed long enough. The conflict was finished. Love had received its death wound.

CHAPTER IX.

Day by day the breach widened between the life Tom had led and the one newly opening before him. The atelier had been transformed into an eastern nest, fragrant, harmonious. He had given Delatole the money that paid the bills, had also advanced half a year's rent for the suite and stood hopelessly committed to the agreement.

The hours spent in Chelsea square were like the vigor of an unsought penance, but the days drifted on while his new home awaited him, and still he could not find the courage to cut the old ties. He was in continual antagonism to his better nature. His honest instincts asserted themselves only to be stifled, for his decision had been taken, his steps set upon a road that allowed no turning back.

(To be Continued.)

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

TORONTO, Oct. 4 1894.

Western barley was dull at Buffalo; 25,000 bushels of No. 2 Canada sold at 65c.

The wheat market in Chicago was active and higher on sales of 915,000 bushels of spring wheat for Buffalo. The close was 1-2c higher. Corn closed strong and 1-8c higher. Oats were firm, closing 1-4 to 1-3 higher.

THE FARMERS' MARKET.—The receipts on the street comprised 200 bushels of wheat at 64c for white, 55c for red and 50c for goose, 1,000 bushels of barley at 40 to 45c, 150 bushels of peas at 59 to 60c, and 60c straight for blackeyes, and 1,000 bushels of oats at 30 1-2 to 31c.

In the 40 cars of sheep and lambs on sale at Buffalo were 11 cars Canada lambs. The market was a shade better for these and closed steady with about all sold at $4 to $4.20.

The Treasury gold reserve at Washington is only a few thousand dollars below the $60,000,000 mark, having gained $1,000,000 in the past two days.

In London full details of the Cabinet meeting are not disclosed, but the restoration of confidence is almost complete. Consols recovered most of the fall and also other securities, including Americans. It is believed the position of stocks is materially strengthened by the sharp shake out of weak bulls.

The tone of the New York stock market was distinctly strong. Hardly one active security missed the early movement of recovery. In the second hour, however, a curious attack was made upon the market, attributed, and no doubt rightly, to the strongest and most expert combination of local bear speculators. Sugar certificates and Chicago Gas were particularly strong, and before the day had ended it was plain that the movement against the Grangers was merely a feint to protect the bear's retreat in other quarters. The closing hour was devoted to almost indiscriminate buying by recently aggressive bears.

Sugar Under the Wilson Law.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—The Democratic committee has issued a circular which they propose to widely distribute showing that the price of sugar has not increased under the operations of the Wilson law. The figures are taken from the official records.

TRIAL OF THE CONDUCTORS.

Tamblin and Defries, the Toronto Men, Taken to Montreal.

MONTREAL, Oct. 5.—High Constable Bissonnette and Detective Flynn arrived here with the two Grand Trunk conductors who were consigned to Montreal for trial by Judge MacMahon of Toronto on a charge of defrauding the company. The two men were arraigned before Judge Dugas and pleaded guilty. Messrs. D. Murphy and John Pevey appeared and offered bail for the two prisoners which was accepted by his honor to the amount of $500 each for each, and the prisoners themselves giving $1,000 each as a guarantee. Mr. Donald MacMaster, Q. C., appears as defence for Tamblin, Defries, Stone and Mulligan.

The enquete in the case of the five accused, Tamblin, Defries, Stone, Mulligan and Lewis commenced in the afternoon. Mr. MacMaster announced that he was not ready to proceed, and as a consequence an adjournment was made till to-day. Mr. R. D. McGibbon appeared for William Lewis, one of the five accused, but his client did not appear. Mr. J. N. Greenshields, for the prosecution, then asked that a bench warrant be issued for the defaulting man's arrest if he did not appear. This was granted. In the case of the other four men the bail has been renewed. There is much excitement in railway circles over the arrests and the court room was crowded with conductors and trainmen curious to know the result of the cases.

Deseronto Navigation Company (Limited

Steamer Ella Ross.

This fast sailing and comfortable steamer leaves Belleville for Trenton daily (Sunday excepted), at 10 a.m. Leaves Belleville for Deseronto and Picton at 2 p.m., connecting at Deseronto with steamers for Napanee and Oswego. Lowest freight and passenger rates. For further information apply to the Rathbun Co., Bridge street, or to R. U. Carter, General Manager, Deseronto.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP cures Coughs.

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry cures Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cramps, Colic, Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum, and all looseness of the bowels. Never travel without it. Price 35c.

In parts of Peru taxes are paid in cocoa leaves and Peruvian barks.

For coughs, colds, bronchitis and all lung and throat troubles, there is no preparation of medicine can compare with Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup. It never fails to afford prompt and permanent relief. It removes all soreness, and heals the diseased parts. It immediately soothes the most troublesome cough, and by promoting expectoration, removes the mucus which stops up the air tubes which, causes difficulty in breathing, thereby gives relief to that depressing tight mess experienced in the chest. Public speakers and singers will find Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup of inestimable value, as it speedily and effectually clears all irritation, and lends keenness in the throat and bronchial tubes, and gives power to the vocal cords, rendering the voice clear and sonorous. If parents wish to save the lives of their children, and themselves from much anxiety trouble and expense let them procure a bottle of Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup, and whenever a child has taken cold, has a cough or hoarseness, give the Syrup according to directions.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP heals the lungs.

A slanted wife can find a vest pocket in the dark.

Ample warning is given us by our lungs when they are in danger. It foolhardy enough to neglect the warning signal, we incur imminent peril. Check a cough at the outset with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil—which is a sovereign pulmonic—besides being a remedy for soreness, lameness, abrasions of the skin, tumors, piles, rheumatism, etc.

BURDOCK PILLS, small, safe, and sure, regulate the liver and cure constipation.

Robert Lubbock, Cedar Rapids, writes: "I have used Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil both for myself and family for Diptheria with the very best results. I regard it as the best remedy for this disease, and would use no other.

Holland is the only country in Europe that admits coffee free of duty.

DYSPEPSIA arises from wrong action of stomach, liver and bowels. Burdock Blood Bitters cures Dyspepsia and all diseases arising from it, 99 times in 100.

The 'Publick'

Are respectfully asked to show their appreciation of the improvements and progress of the city, by leaving their orders for

Coal, Wood & Shingles.

-AT-

S. A. LAZIER & SON'S.

TELEPHONE C 68.

NATHAN JONES,
IMPORTERS.

We have opened up the most varied and attractive stock of

FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC DRESS GOODS ALSO DRESS TRIMMINGS.

Misses Mounder and Gardner are giving satisfaction in dress and mantle making.

IT - HAS - BEEN - ADMITTED
BY OVER 125 PEOPLE IN BELLEVILLE THAT THE
John Bull Wrought Steel Range,
is the most Economical, Everlasting and Useful Range on the market. How is this for three Seasons.

SEE THEM AT FOSTER'S.

Also the Duchess of Oxford Cast Iron Range.

Why Don't You Stop?
And think seriously of the benefits it would be to you to take out a Policy with the
ONTARIO MUTUAL LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY.
Their 20 years Survivorship Distribution Plan embraces both
PROTECTION and INVESTMENT,
And you can go about your business without worry as to the future.
S. BURROWS
Can give you facts and figures. Ask him ! !

THE - FALL - RAINS
ARE WITH US.
YOUR HOUSE WANTS A NEW ROOF—
WE HAVE THE SHINGLES.
In all grades, at lowest prices. Ask for quotations and see
XX. XXX. Clear Butts
THE RATHBUN COMPANY.

TO THE PUBLIC.

When we decided to add the manufacture of carriages, phaetons, democrats, &c., to our business, we immediately put under construction a few of each. As we decided to place no vehicle on the market which is not A 1 in in every detail, and knowing that no first-class vehicle can be produced on the rush, it has been necessary for us to take sufficient time to produce what we aimed at. We think we have succeeded; and we now have a few rigs completed, and others nearing completion to offer for sale. The iron work is all hand forged; the wood work cared ully made, and strongly ironed; and the painting and upholstering done with the best material and greatest care. We can freely recommend these rigs. We will be pleased to have parties who may need anything in the above line, call and inspect our work.

ST. CHARLES & PRINGLE,
JAS ST CHARLES. HENRY PRINGLE

The Sale of Boots and Shoes:
Slightly damaged by Smoke and Water will continue until everything is sold.

HAINES & LOCKETT
Opposite Anglo-American Hotel

Belleville and Napanee, Office, Bridge St. Telephone A. 4.
COAL - AND - WOOD.
- THOS. STEWART, -
The only dealer in Scranton Coal in Belleville and Napanee. The very best facilities for delivering to any part of the city or surrounding towns this coal, which is the best and cheapest mined.
No Gas. No Clinkers. No Waste
Clean, quick, hot, strong, cheerful fire. Smithing, Cannel, Brier Hill, Run of Mine coal and Coal Screenings always on hand. Hard and soft wood, Blocks and Edgings delivered to any part of the City.

DR. WOOD'S

Norway Pine Syrup.
Rich in the lung-healing virtues of the Pine combined with the soothing and expectorant properties of other pectoral herbs and barks.
A PERFECT CURE FOR
COUGHS AND COLDS
Hoarseness, Asthma, Bronchitis, Sore Throat, Croup and all THROAT, BRONCHIAL and LUNG DISEASES. Obstinate coughs which resist other remedies yield promptly to this pleasant pine syrup.
PRICE 25c. AND 50c. PER BOTTLE.
SOLD BY ALL DEALERS.

DR. FOWLER'S
EXT. OF WILD STRAWBERRY
CURES
COLIC
CHOLERA
CHOLERA-MORBUS
DIARRHOEA
DYSENTERY
AND ALL
SUMMER COMPLAINTS
OF
CHILDREN or ADULTS
Price 35 CTS
BEWARE OF IMITATIONS

Camping Supplies!
AND
Picnic - Requisites!

Our list of articles suitable for Picnic Lunches and Camping, includes:

Canned Meats.
ARMOUR'S COOKED BEEF,
ARMOUR'S OX TONGUES,
ARMOUR'S LUNCH TONGUES,
ARMOUR'S POTTED HAM,
ARMOUR'S COOKED PIG FEET
ARMOUR'S LUNCH ON MEAT.
ARMOUR'S POTTED TONGUE
ARMOUR'S BRAWN,
SANDWICH MEATS,
BONELESS CHICKEN,
BONELESS TURKEY,
POTTED BEEF,
POTTED GAME,
ETC.! ETC.!! ETC!

Canned Fish.
FINEST SARDINES IN OIL,
FINEST SARDINES IN TOMATO,
HERRINGS IN TOMATO SAUCE,
KIPPERED HERRINGS,
FRESH HERRINGS,
SALMON, LOBSTERS,
FINNAN HADDIES,
BLOATER PASTE,
ANCHOVY PASTE,
SARDINE PASTE,
ETC.! ETC.! ETC.!!

Sundries.
Condensed Milk in Tins, Cream in Tins, Biscuits (in great variety), Fine old Cheese, McLaren's Imperial Cheese (in small crocks), Dried Beef, Choice Hams and Bacon, Lime Juice, Spanish Olives, CROSSE & BLACKWELL'S Pickled White Onions, Walnuts, Chow Chow, and and Mixed Pickles.

WALLBRIDGE & CLARKE,
Grocers and Wine Merchants,
33 and 37 Bridge Street. Also Front Street, in Caldwell Building.

REMOVAL
MR. JOSEPH CALDWELL, DENTIST
Has removed his office to the new premises which he has had specially fitted up in the
Caldwell Block,
First door south of the Anglo-American Hotel Front street.
1084

TELLIGENCER PRINTING AND PUBLISHING COMPANY (LIMITED).
J. O. JAMIESON, President. | J. W. LONDON, Secretary

THE Treasurer is the only person authorized to receive money from the Company, or to grant receipts for the same.
All Bills, Notes, Cheques and other documents binding on the Company, will require the signature of the President, in addition to that of the Treasurer.

THE INTELLIGENCER is printed and published by the INTELLIGENCER Printing and Publishing Company (Limited) by James O. Jamieson, resident in Belleville, at the Office, Front St., south of Hotel St.

DOUBLE NUMBER.

The Daily Intelligencer.

EIGHT PAGES.

LET THERE BE HARMONY IN THINGS ESSENTIAL—LIBERALITY IN THINGS NOT ESSENTIAL—CHARITY IN ALL.

VOL 28. BELLEVILLE ONTARIO S TURDAY OCTOBER 6 1894 NO. 132

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

ACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York.

Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

Charles H. Hutchings.

Sick Headache

CURED PERMANENTLY

BY TAKING

Ayer's Pills

"I was troubled a long time with sick headache. I tried a good many remedies recommended for this complaint; but it was not until I

Began taking Ayer's Pills

that I received permanent benefit. A single box of these pills freed me from headaches, and I am now a well man." —C. H. HUTCHINGS, East Auburn, Me.

Awarded Medal at World's Fair

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the Best.

ACETOCURA

TOUCHES THE SPOT IN NEURALGIA.

ACETOCURA

TOUCHES THE SPOT IN NEURALGIA

Mr. A. Weir, Kew Beach, September 7th, 1894, writes:—"Since then I have used it for neuralgic pains in the head, with immediate relief."

ACETOCURA

TOUCHES THE SPOT IN PARALYSIS

ACETOCURA

TOUCHES THE SPOT IN PARALYSIS

ACETOCURA

TOUCHES THE SPOT IN PARALYSIS

Mrs. B. M. Hall, Fernwood, Ill., U.S.A., August 15th, 1894, writes:—"I am 61 years old. For two years I had been afflicted with partial paralysis of the lower limbs, rendering me unable to walk a block without complete exhaustion. After using Acetocura for five days the pain had entirely disappeared permitting me to enjoy a good night's rest, and after ten day's treatment I was able to walk two miles without fatigue."

Write for gratis pamphlet to COUTTS & Sons, 72 Victoria street, Toronto. Head offices—London, Glasgow and Manchester, (G.B.) Cologne, Germany, Aaron, Switzerland.

Local Agents—

L. W. YEOMANS & CO.,

DRUGGISTS,

BELLEVILLE.

PREPARE

FOR the STRUGGLE

The course of study offered by the Belleville Business College gives a young person a thorough and practical knowledge of business, and also that mental culture and discipline which sharpens perceptive faculties, stimulates ambition, develops ability and prepares for the struggle of making a living. Every step in the work is characterized by thoroughness. Besides we use the most practical methods.

In teaching shorthand we dictate actual letters and legal evidence. Other schools have undertaken to imitate our methods, but the quality of their work bears that relation to practical business which the imitation does to the real.

We represent things exactly as they are.

Belleville Business College.

ROBERT BOGLE, Proprietor.

Daily Intelligencer.

CHIEF JUSTICE MEREDITH

His Appointment Officially Made by the Dominion Government.

HE HAS ACCEPTED THE POSITION

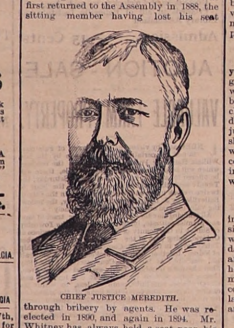

The Conservative Party Loses its Brilliant and Gifted Leader and Toronto Loses Its Able City Solicitor—Who Are Talked Of to Succeed Him—A Tribute to Mr. Whitney.

TORONTO, Oct. 6.—Mr. Meredith has sent to the city hall his resignation as city solicitor, giving as his reason that he has accepted the position of Chief Justice of the Common Pleas, and that he had telegraphed his acceptance to Ottawa. He thought he would be able to arrange with the Department of Justice at Ottawa for two weeks' time in which to arrange the legal business of the city.

William Ralph Meredith is 54 years of age. He was born on March 31st, 1840. In 1859 he entered Toronto University and in 1861 was called to the bar. He moved to Toronto in 1888 when he replaced the late W. A. Foster, Q.C., in the firm of Foster, Clarke & Bowes. Mr. Meredith was first elected to the Ontario Legislature in 1872, succeeding Sir John Carling, and elected one month before Sir Oliver Mowat was first chosen in Oxford. The member from London was chosen as leader of the Opposition in 1878. A few years ago Mr. Meredith was offered a junior judgeship, but he refused the appointment.

There are two names that are seriously spoken of by the party as likely members of the Conservative party in the Ontario Legislature to succeed Mr. Meredith as the leader. These are Messrs. J. P. Whitney and O. A. Howland. It is conceded that Mr. Howland would be the choice of the party if he had had a long experience in politics. There are staunch supporters of the Conservative party who do not know Mr. Howland. At his nomination a prominent Tory politician even called into question his orthodoxy, and said he had never heard his name mentioned before in a Tory caucus or a Tory gathering of any kind. Mr. Howland was elected by the largest majority ever given a Conservative candidate in Toronto.

James Pliney Whitney, Q. C., is the member for the county of Dundas. He was born at Williamsburg, Dundas county, in 1843, and was called to the bar in 1876, and was married in the following year. He is a lieutenant-colonel in the militia reserve. Mr. Whitney was unsuccessful in the general elections of 1886, and was first returned to the Assembly in 1888, the sitting member having lost his seat through bribery by agents. He was re-elected in 1890, and again in 1894. Mr. Whitney has always held a seat near his leader on the front row and is recognized as the strongest remaining member of the past Parliament. There are other prominent Conservatives mentioned, men who would first have to secure a seat in the local Parliament.

CHIEF JUSTICE MEREDITH.

The Appointment Signed.

OTTAWA, Oct. 6.—Sir Henry Strong, Chief Justice of Canada, who is Deputy Governor-General, has signed the Order-in-Council which was passed at Thursday's meeting of the Cabinet, appointing Mr. W. R. Meredith, Chief Justice of the Court of Common Pleas of Ontario. The appointment of Mr. Meredith will therefore date from yesterday, when his salary of $6,000 per year will begin. It will take a couple of days before Mr. Meredith's commission is prepared and engrossed, so that it is just probable he will not care to be sworn in until it reaches him. There is, however, nothing to prevent him being sworn in and taking his seat on the bench at once.

Mayor Essery for London.

LONDON, Ont., Oct. 6.—The Advertiser (Liberal) says: "With regard to the appointment of Mr. Meredith to one of the most responsible positions in the service of the people, whatever the motive which has induced the Dominion Premier to make it, we have no doubt at all that his large ability, his habits of industry, his splendid memory, will enable the new chief justice to become a most efficient, fair-minded and upright judge. Leaving the past to take care of itself, we feel sure that we but voice the sincere views of the citizens of London when we say that they join with us, irrespective of party, in wishing the new chief justice of the Court of Common Pleas a long and useful career in the high position to which he has been called."

During the recent contest in this city Mayor Essery said that Mr. Meredith was the only man in the Conservative ranks whom he would step aside for, and that he had no hesitation in stating that he would prefer the nomination himself next to seeing Mr. Meredith with it. Mayor Essery has never expressed a change of opinion. He will likely be in the field in a few days. The Reformers are anxious to have Mr. Thomas Hobbs in the field again, and they think they can beat the Mayor in a race for Parliamentary honors.

A Warm Tribute to Mr. Whitney.

MORRISBURG, Ont., Oct. 6.—The news of W. R. Meredith's retirement from the position of leader of the Opposition in the Ontario Legislature to accept a position on the bench was received here with regret. In that event the not unexpected suggestion that J. P. Whitney, Q.C., M.P.P., Morrisburg, should be his successor, was received here with much general favor by all classes of the community by whom he is held in high esteem. His manly, straightforward course in all matters pertaining to the welfare of his constituents has given him a warm place in their affections. His appointment would meet with much satisfaction in this part of the province and would no doubt result favorably in the interests of the party.

COMPETITION IS KEEN.

Canadian Companies Are Proving Formidable Rivals to Americans.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—The importation of natural gas from Canada into the United States is assuming such proportions on the northern frontier as to call serious attention to the rivalry thus occasioned between Canadian companies and companies supplying cities with illuminating gas from wells in the United States. The Treasury Department, when appealed to protect American gas in the case of a Canadian company which brought natural gas into Buffalo by means of a pipe line, at once placed a duty of 20 per cent. ad valorem upon it as a mineral product. Subsequently this duty was, by decision, reduced to 10 per cent. ad valorem, and the latest ruling on the subject by the Treasury Department is that the Canadian gas is free as an unenumerated unmanufactured article.

"Jack the Hugger" Remanded.

WINDSOR, Oct. 6.—"Hugger" William Marshall was brought into the police court yesterday. T. M. Morton appeared for him and wanted him discharged as Bertha Mitchell, the young lady whom he hugged on Goyeau street, did not appear against him. Bertha and a companion were in the chief's private office. She is a handsome brunette, 22 years of age. She refused to appear before the curious crowd of court loungers. Magistrate Bartlett said that Miss Dixon, who was struck a violent blow while on Ouellette avenue two weeks ago by a man whose description corresponded to Marshall's, was lying seriously ill from injuries caused by the blow. The attending physician regards her entire recovery as doubtful. Marshall was remanded till next Friday.

They Were Captain McNeale's Remains.

HALIFAX, Oct. 6.—Col. Hamilton and the officers of King's Regiment are morally certain that the remains interred at Fort Massey cemetery are those of Captain Neil McNeale. They say only one officer of King's Regiment was killed at York. The buttons found on the remains are undoubtedly those of an officer of King's. As there was only one officer of the regiment killed they take it for granted the remains in question must be those of McNeale. Colonel Hamilton received several communications from Rev. Dr. Scadding, Toronto, but after making inquiries into the matter his opinion is that the doctor must be mistaken.

Cruel Death of a Child.

PORT STANLEY, Oct. 6.—Coroner Gustin and Crown Attorney Donahue held an inquest here to inquire into the circumstance attending the death of the infant found on the beach here. Evidence was given by the parties who found the body, and Dr. Mothersill who performed a post-mortem. The opinion was that the child had not been drowned but had been placed on the beach by some parties unknown. The verdict arrived at was that the child had met its death from the hands of some party or parties unknown.

Perry Weinberg Found Guilty.

TORONTO, Oct. 6.—Before the magistrate yesterday Perry Weinberg was found guilty on the charges of stealing two watches left with him by Mrs. Sterne to be repaired and also on two similar charges. As the magistrate was about to deliver judgment Mr. Robinette asked that judgment be not delivered until his worship had looked up some cases in which it would appear that there is no case of larceny, where goods are given voluntarily into the custody of the accused. Sentence will be passed on Monday.

Acquitted of a Serious Charge.

TORONTO, Oct. 6.—N. W. Prittie, a prominet citizen, who was on trial at the sessions on a charge of arson in connection with the burning of his house, was yesterday morning found not guilty by the jury after a short retirement. Mr. Prittie's house was heavily insured and contained much valuable furniture and numerous costly paintings; also insured. The case lasted two days, but Pritti clearly proved an alibi.

Nipissing Enters Dominion Politics.

NORTH BAY, Ont., Oct. 6.—The first Liberal-Conservative convention ever held in Nipissing for Dominion election purposes is being held here. This district is not yet represented in Parliament, but the last redistribution bill entitles it to vote for a member at the next general election and it is to choose a candidate to carry the Conservative banner then that this convention is being held.

They Died Together.

HALIFAX, N.S., Oct. 6.—Alex. McEachren and his wife committed suicide at Dartmouth by poisoning. At the coroner's inquest last night on the remains the doctors who held the post mortem examination could not, at such short notice, give any opinion of the cause of death and adjournment was made until Thursday.

Crop and Implements Burned.

KINTAIL, Ont., Oct. 6.—The barn and all the season's crops, including hay, and nearly all the implements, belonging to Maurice Wallace, Ashfield township, have been destroyed by fire. Loss at least $1,200, partly insured. The fire was caused by children playing with matches at or near the straw stack.

A Mayor Charged With Assault.

HAMILTON, Oct. 6.—Mayor Stewart has been served with a summons charging him with assaulting William Lottridge at the Jockey Club track on September 22nd, the day of the Gymkana. The summons was handed to the Mayor by Magistrate Jelfs, and the case will be called at the Police Court to-day.

The Case Against the Conductors.

MONTREAL, Oct. 6.—The enquete in the case of the G. T. R. conductors, charged with "knocking down fares" was again postponed until Tuesday, at the request of the counsel for the prosecution. Lewis, the missing Queen's hotel porter, has not put in an appearance yet, but the detectives expect to secure him before long.

Goodrich's Government Successful.

ST. JOHNS, Nfld., Oct. 6.—The Goodrich Government in Newfoundland, which obtained office through the unseating of the whole Whiteway party for bribery and corruption, is being sustained by the constituents. The Government has now won four seats, being victorious in every district contested.

Disastrous Floods in Austria.

VIENNA, Oct. 6.—Rains and floods are causing much damage in Austria. Several villages are submerged. Many bridges, buildings and railway banks have been destroyed. The Gratz district suffers the worst. No deaths have been reported. The floods are increasing.

France's Policy in Madagascar.

PARIS, Oct. 6.—Referring to affairs in Madagascar, the Matin says France will allow the people of Madagascar complete religious liberty, but will not permit British missionaries under cover of religion to politically influence the ministers of the queen.

STRENGTH FOR GIBRALTAR

Britain Orders the Home Defence to Proceed to Gibraltar.

NO REASON HAS BEEN ASSIGNED

But the Action is Considered One of Unusual Importance—Opinion is General That There Was Something More Important Than the Eastern Situation to Necessitate the Call of the Cabinet.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—Threatened eventualities in the east is the official explanation of the summoning of the emergency cabinet council which on Wednesday plunged all Europe into a veritable war panic. This explanation will not find ready acceptance in the light of such knowledge of the eastern situation as the public possesses. An order issued by the Lords of the Admiralty will be regarded as of vastly greater importance and significance than the announcement which came from official hands after the adjournment of the council. This decree transfers at once the headquarters of the channel fleet from Portsmouth to Gibraltar. In other words the strongest section of the British navy, that designed for the home defence, is suddenly ordered practically to reinforce the British squadron in the Mediterranean.

There are so many explanations possible of this action that in the absence of all definite knowledge it is perhaps useless to speculate.

It is reported from another semi-official source that no issues between France and England are in such an acute stage that they cannot be safely left to diplomacy for adjustment. Yesterday's strange naval order tends to confirm this statement, for although in the event of hostilities between France and England the former power would probably strike the earliest blow against the British Mediterranean fleet, yet Great Britain would never leave her own coast unprotected in order to meet a lesser danger.

There is not even a hint as yet of this sudden and startling tidings which caused the hasty summons of the Cabinet. It is definitely ascertained that all 11 o'clock on Tuesday morning there was nothing in sight to call the Cabinet together until the meeting in the ordinary course, six weeks hence. Five hours later the most urgent messages were sent to the absent Ministers in all directions. The attempt to intercept Harcourt in Paris failed, and none of the messages sent to various points of his journey reached him until he was too far away to get back to London in time.

The Chronicle says: "It is difficult to understand why an act so purely administrative as that of increasing the squadron in Chinese waters could not have been decided without summoning the Cabinet in hot haste from all parts of the United Kingdom and Europe."

Review of Canadian Trade.

MONTREAL, Oct. 6.—There is a moderate activity in general trade at Toronto, favorable reports being received from commercial travellers. Jobbers here report an improved demand from the interior in some lines. Nova Scotia's apple crop is reported exceptionally large and exports from Halifax are heavy. Advices from New Brunswick are that the general business situation on the north shore is improving, with prospects good for lumber operations this season. Bank clearings at Hamilton, Toronto, Montreal and Halifax aggregated $21,248,000, an increase of 13 per cent. compared with last week, but nearly 9 per cent. as compared with the corresponding week one year ago. There are 40 failures reported from the Dominion of Canada this week, compared with 31 last week, 30 a year ago and 36 two years ago.

The Times on Lynching.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—The Times this morning has an editorial on the letters exchanged between Florence Balgarnie, the secretary of the anti-lynch committee, and the governor of Alabama. The Times banters Miss Balgarnie about the "delicious pharisaism" of her letter which, it says, innocently illustrates Lowell's saying, "What's good's all English," etc. In conclusion it says: "While we have little or no sympathy with lynching we have none with the procedure of the anti-lynch committee. The members are doubtless actuated by excellent motives, and probably had not the least suspicion that the letter was likely to be resented as officious impertinence. We should not be surprised if the letter multiplied the number of lynchings."

Wanted to Shake With the Duke.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—As the Duke and Duchess of York were proceeding in a carriage at Leeds to the Yorkshire College, at the opening ceremonies of which they were to be present, a man rushed from the crowd which lined the route to the college buildings and attempted to force his way to the side of the carriage. One of a detachment of Lancers which was acting as escort to the Duke and Duchess struck the man repeatedly with his sword and drove him back to the crowd, where he was taken in charge by the police. The prisoner proved to be an imbecile and it is believed that his action in rushing toward the carriage was prompted solely by a desire to shake hands with the Duke and Duchess.

Treachery of African Natives.

LISBON, Oct. 6.—The government is informed that the situation of affairs at Lourenzo Marquez, Delagoa Bay, is growing worse. Chief Matupas' men offered to aid the Portuguese against the Kaffirs and the garrison has great hopes as the result of this assistance. The chiefs arrived at Lourenzo Marquez and were supplied from the Portuguese arsenal. In the morning they all ran away taking their rifles, etc., with them.

Ten Years for an Ex-Constable.

TORONTO, Oct. 6.—Ex-Constable William Thompson, of York County, convicted of numerous thefts in the county while acting as constable, was yesterday sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary.

Convicted of Wholesale Incendiarism.

OTTAWA, Oct. 6.—John White, the alleged firebug, was committed to stand his trial on eight charges of incendiarism. White will be tried on all these charges at the next court of general sessions.

A Farmer's Fatal Fall.

BRADFORD, Ont., Oct. 6.—H. A. Sutherland, farmer, fell from his waggon on Wednesday, striking his head. Paralysis supervened which resulted in his death.

Caused by One Man's Carelessness.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 6.—In answer to a suit filed in the District Court yesterday Wisdom & Cannon, owners of a saw mill at Pine City, charge that the recent fire which destroyed Hinckley and cost several hundred lives was caused by the carelessness of an employe of Laird & Boyle, who owned a saw mill at Mission Creek. So far as indicated in the paper there is no charge that the fire was maliciously set.

KILLED BY FALLING WALLS.

Five Detroit Firemen Lose Their Lives—Others Injured.

DETROIT, Oct. 6.—Five men of the fire brigade were killed and four or five seriously injured by the falling walls at the burning of Kennan & Jahn's furniture store yesterday.

The front wall of the building tumbled into Woodward avenue. At the time several firemen were working on the sidewalk and all were buried beneath the brick and mortar. The first man taken from under the debris was Lieut. Michael H. Donoghue, of chemical engine No. 1. He was dead. The next body found was that of Richard Dely, pipeman of engine No. 9. He was lying under two iron columns and the head and back were frightfully crushed. The next dead man to be taken out was Pipeman John Pagel, of No. 9. He was crused by the tumbling walls. Frederick A. Bussey, a spectator, was taken to Grace Hospital and died.

Mike Gray was taken to Grace hospital, where he was found to be so badly injured about the head that he may die. Mike Boyle, pipeman of No. 9, is still in the ruins and certainly dead.

The loss on the building, which was a five-storey brick structure, will be in the neighborhood of $100,000.

A Steamer's Wheelman Killed.

BUFFALO, Oct. 6.—By a peculiar accident Nicholas Cheever, wheelman on the steamer W. H. Gilbert, lost his wife. The Gilbert was lying at the Lackawanna trestle at the foot of Erie street. Cheever and a fellow sailor were lifting a cover to put it over a hatchway. The other sailor lost his grip and his end fell through the hatch. Cheever hung on to his end and tried to prevent it from falling to the bottom of the hold. But the cover was too heavy for him, and, losing his balance, he followed it through the hatchway. He fell to the bottom of the hold, crushing his skull. Death was almost instantaneous.

Brazil's Abrogation of the Treaty.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—The notification of the abrogation of the reciprocity agreement between Brazil and the United States under the McKinley law which has just been officially received by the State department, says: "I am sure that the cessation of our reciprocity agreement will in no wise affect the commercial relations of our countries, considering that their mutual interests and spirit of cordial friendship now rests on a firmer basis than a written contract."

The Vexed Wool Question.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—The vexed questions arising in connection with the wool schedule of the new tariff bill will be finally settled in the courts. Until January 1 next the position taken by the Board of General Appraisers at New York that the McKinley rate of duty obtain on wool, and that hair of animals is wool, will be followed by the Treasury Department in assessing duties under this schedule. Importers can file their protests and await the decision of the courts.

The Mormons in Session.

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 6.—The sixty-fifth semi-annual conference of the Mormon Church opened yesterday with a large attendance from all parts of Utah and surrounding states and territories and delegations from Canada and Mexico. It is expected that considerable attention will be paid to politics in so far as the formation of the new state constitution is concerned, but no partisan utterances are looked for.

Preparing a "Bismarck Annual."

BERLIN, Oct. 6.—Dr. Kohl, of Berlin, who is editing Bismarck's speeches, is about to start a "Bismark Annual." The first volume will appear in November and will contain certain letters that passed between Prince Bismarck and the old Emperor William, King Victor Emmanuel, Prince Geortichakoff and others, besides a selection of letters in which Prince Bismarck is threatened with violence.

Shot at Himself and Killed His Wife.

UXBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 6.—Friends of ex-Consul Hubbard, who shot his young wife and her escort in Chicago last Tuesday, have received letters from him in which he intimates that legal proceedings against him on the grounds of attempted murder are to be dropped and that he will be released from custody. Hubbard states that the bullet which pierced his wife's side was intended for himself and that his rash act was the product of an unbalanced mind brought on by weeks of terrific mental strain.

Robbed at the Point of the Revolver.

UTICA, Mich., Oct. 6.—Two masked men entered the house of Samuel Hotchkiss, a wealthy farmer, and at the point of a revolver held the entire family up. Hotchkiss made some show of resistance, and was struck on the head with a club and fatally wounded. The men then ransacked the house, securing $350 in cash and a large amount of jewellery.

Bank Robbers Get a Big Haul.

BLOOMFIELD, Ind., Oct. 6.—After a desperate fight near here, in which one of the Bloomfield bank robbers was shot, the three men who got away with $5,000 of the bank's money were run down. The wounded robber, who gave the name of Charles Rivers, of Indianapolis, was taken to Swiss City. He had $1,100 of the money on his person. He will die.

The Czar's Condition.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 6.—Nothing official concerning the condition of the Czar has been published in this city during the last four days. The newspapers are forbidden to publish any unofficial reports and the members of the Imperial family and household are forbidden to hold any communication on the subject.

Two Italian Laborers Killed.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Oct. 6.—Frank de Churchi and Nicoli Worra, Italian laborers were killed by the caving in of a trench at the west end of Fairfield avenue crossing, where the railroad company is eliminating a grade crossing. The coroner says that sufficient precautions were not taken by the contractor.

A Wealthy Widow Suicides.

MOUNT KISCO, N.Y., Oct. 6.—Mrs. J. E. Butler, a wealthy widow of this place, has committed suicide by shooting. Mrs. Butler was the wife of the confederate general, who died a year ago. It is said she killed herself on account of the waywardness of her son.

Poisoned by Toadstools.

ALTOONA, Pa., Oct. 6.—Mrs. Winifred Smith's son brought home a bunch of toadstools, thinking they were mushrooms. They were cooked, but Mrs. Smith was the only one who ate them. She was soon overcome by the poison and died.

Y. M. C. A. Building Destroyed.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 6.—Fire has destroyed the Y.M.C.A. building. The editorial rooms were temporarily located in the fourth story of the building. Loss, $100,000; partially insured.

House Full of Steam! A big fire, heavy lifting, hard work is the usual way of doing the wash . . . .

There is an easier and cleaner way.

A TEA KETTLE

will give all the hot water required when

Surprise Soap

is used according to the directions on the wrapper. It does away with boiling or scalding the clothes and all that miss and confusion. The clothes are sweeter, whiter and cleaner, washed in this way.

Thousands use Surprise Soap on wash day, why don't you?

169a.

THE ST. CROIX SOAP MFG. CO., ST. STEPHEN, N. B.

FROM THE SEAT OF WAR

Chinese Forces Retreat Before the Advancing Japanese.

WARSHIPS HARASSING WEI-HAI-WEI

The Province of Mongolia in a State of Rebellion—Troops Sent Out From Pekin—Missionaries in Han-Kow Report Their Safety and Do Not Apprehend Any Danger.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—The Central News correspondent in Shanghai telegraphs: "Seventy Japanese transports passed the northeast promontory near Chee-Foo on the morning of October 2. New-Chwang reports are to the effect that the Chinese are in full retreat from Moukden. Ten thousand armed Coreans are receiving Japanese pay."

A despatch to the Morning Post from Shanghai says that several Japanese warships are patrolling the sea near Wei-Hai-Wei with the object of preventing the Chinese from leaving Wei-Hai-Wei or Port Arthur. The warships approach the coast at nightfall and steam away again at dawn.

The Morning Post insists that it is impossible to allow Japan to dictate terms to China without consulting the European powers. The Post discusses America's interest in the questions and concludes that these are purely commercial while Europe's are also political. For the sake of the world's peace, it says, Russia, Germany, France and Great Britain must intervene.

The Japanese Prince Yamashina, who was recently recalled to Japan to assume an important command, is a passenger on the Hamburg-American steamer Augusta Victoria which sailed from Southampton yesterday for New York. Prince Yamashina has been serving in the German navy.

The British missionary society has received a telegram from the missionary station at Han-Kow saying: "We are all well and apprehend no danger."

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 6.—J. S. Van Buren, agent of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company at Hong Kong was one of the passengers on the steamer Gaelic which arrived here. Mr. Van Buren says that it is impossible to get trustworthy news of the war at any place in the east. All Chinese news comes by way of Shanghai, and as the government controls the wires all information concerning engagements between the contending forces is garbled to suit the Chinese authorities. The news obtainable at Yokohama is no more satisfactory as it is modified or exaggerated to suit the ideas of the Japanese authorities.

TIEN-TSIN, Oct. 6.—According to reports received here, the Province of Mongolia is in a state of rebellion and troops have been despatched from Pekin to subdue the revolt. There is also said to be grave trouble in the Pekin palace, but full information is lacking. Every precaution is being taken by the residents of Tien-Tsin against a threatened attack by the natives.

Another of Da Gama's Plots.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—A cable from Buenos Ayres says: "Montevideo advices state that the Brazilian foreign minister announces that he has discovered a plot on the part of Admiral Saldahana da Gama to gain control of the squadron of warships in the Upper Uruguay river. The minister also says he has reliable information that the revolutionists in Rio Grande do Sul, Brazil, have received money from Europe through Selveira Martins.

Pimply Girls
Pimply Boys
And Every Person
Afflicted with Torturing
Disfiguring
Humiliating Humors
Find Instant Relief
And Speedy Cure
By Using
Cuticura Remedies

Sold throughout the world. POTTER DRUG AND CHEM. CORP., Boston, sole Props. "All about the Blood, Skin, Scalp and Hair," free.

Pimples, blackheads, oily skin and falling hair prevented and cured by Cuticura Soap.

That Joyful Feeling.

With the exhilarating sense of renewed health and strength and internal cleanliness, which follows the use of Syrup of Figs, is unknown to the few who have not progressed beyond the old time medicines and the cheap substitutes sometimes offered but never excepted by the well informed.

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

MEDICAL.

DR. WISHART.

47 GROSVENOR ST., Toronto, will be at the Huffman House, Belleville, Saturday, Dec. 1st, '94. 192dwly

DR. QUACKENBUSH, M.D., U.M.D., M.D., P.S.O.

HOMŒOPATHIC Physician, Surgeon and Accoucheur, has removed his office over store lately occupied by J. C. Overell, Residence George St., opposite H. Corby's.

JOHN J. FARLEY, M. D., C. M., M. R. C. S. England.

OFFICE and Residence—corner of Bridge and George Streets—three streets east of Post Office.

LEGAL.

FLINT & McCAMON.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public, etc. Solicitors for the Canadian Bank of Commerce. Office, City Hall, Front Street, Belleville, Ont. d84tf

JOHN J. B. FLINT, W. J. McCAMON.

STEWART MASSON.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, Notary, Conveyancer, etc. Office, South side Bridge st., over Wallbridge & Clark's, Belleville, Ont. Money to loan at lowest rates. 76dwtf

J. F. WILLS' LAW OFFICE.

REMOVED to Campbell Street (south side) 2nd door from Front street, on ground floor.

A. GOODRICH.

LAWYER, 124 Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill., 28 years' experience; secrecy; special facilities in several States; Goodrich on Divorce; with laws of all States in press. 76dly

GEO. A. KINGSTON.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, etc., with Lount, Marsh and Cameron, 25 Toronto St., Toronto. Money to loan on farm property at lowest rates. 233dtf9w.

MIKEL & ROBERTS.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notary Public, Conveyancers, etc. Offices Bridge St., Belleville. Monies to loan at lowest rate.

THOMAS & HALLIWELL.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Conveyancers, &c. Money to loan. 293d3mwly

J. PARKER THOMAS, J. EARL HALLIWELL.

PONTON & MORDEN.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public, Conveyancers. Office over Express and Telegraph Office, Bridge St., Belleville. Money to loan—private funds.

WM. N. PONTON, M. A., Solicitor Hastings Loan and Investment Society.

W. S. MORDEN, B. A.

F. GUSS PORTER.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, Notary Public. etc. Office in the Robertson Block, east side of Front Street.

Private Money to Loan, 271dwly

FRANCIS S. WALLBRIDGE.

(Successor to Hon. Lewis Wallbridge, Q.C.) BARRISTER, Solicitor, Conveyancer, etc. Office, McAnnany building, corner Front and Bridge streets, Belleville, Ont. Private and Company money to loan at 6 per cent., on easy terms upon good land security. Charges moderate.

HENRY CARRE, C. E.

M.C. Soc C.E.,

DOMINION AND PROVINCIAL LAND SURVEYOR.

Special attention paid to Hydraulics and Land Drainage. Patents obtained and Drawings made. Office—McAnnany Block, under Ontario Business College, Front St. P.O. address—Box 203, Belleville.

A. G. NORTHRUP.

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Shire Hall, Belleville. 226d&wly

D. I. DULMAGE, L.D.S., D.D.S. (Tor. University).

DENTIST—Office over Brignall & Thompson's. Night calls at residence on Forin Street. d,w

CHAS. JOSE.

VETERINARY Surgeon, Graduate Ontario Veterinary College, Member Ontario Veterinary Society. Office and residence, Foxboro, Ont. Calls by mail or telegram promptly attended to. 304d,wly

MISCELLANEOUS.

AGENCY of the Liverpool and London and Globe Fire and Life Insurance Companies.

W. P. HUDSON, Agent.

Office Campbell street, Belleville. d,w

PETTYJOHN'S

CALIFORNIA BREAKFAST FOOD

Dyspeptics can eat this food.

It is particularly adapted for children and persons of sedentary habits.

It is made from Pacific coast wheat hulled and crushed by improved machinery.

It can be easily prepared for breakfast, as this crushing process makes it soft and tender and easy to cook.

Ask your physician which is best for you to eat, oats or wheat.

Pettijohn's California Breakfast Food is sold in packages by

BENMORE & BENSON.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 75c. bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, SATURDAY, OCT. 6.

THE BRITISH EMPIRE.

In a recent article in the Forum, Dr. Geffcken, one of the most eminent of living statisticians, gives the following concerning the great and glorious empire of which we form a part:—The British Empire is a political creation unparalleled in the world's history, not only by its extent and population, in both which respects it is slightly surpassed by China, but because, with an area of more than 10,000,000 square miles, and with 352,000,000 inhabitants, it is scattered over the whole globe. It embraces all zones, from the icy wilderness of Hudson Bay to the tropical jungles of India and the mahogany forests of Honduras; there is scarcely a product which a British province does not bring forth in excellent quality; and not less various are the degrees of civilization of its inhabitants, from the Kaffirs of the Cape to the highly cultivated citizens of Toronto or Sydney. We find, with Christians of all confessions 200,000,000 Hindoos, about 70,000,000 Mohammedans, and 8,000,000 Buddhists; and the Bible is printed in 130 languages and dialects represented in the empire—yet notwithstanding such promiscuous elements, the Government, with rare exceptions, maintains order, and no sign of dissolution is visible.

EDITORIAL BREVITIES.

In Chicago the highwaymen assault and rob the policemen. In New York the policemen have turned highwaymen, and assault and rob the citizens.

Only the innumerable accidents to which fish's eggs are subject, prevent the over peopling of all bodies of water containing fish. A single carp has yielded 300,000 eggs; a single cod, 9,000,000; a sole, 100,000; a mackerel, 500,000; a flounder, 1,857,000; and a pike, 160,000. The eggs of one sturgeon when counted numbered 1,567,000,—and there is a tradition of a giant sturgeon from which 119 pounds of roe were taken. That would indicate 7,650,000 eggs.

A curious sort of a restaurant is soon to be opened in New York; it is for the benefit of the women vegetarians. The women, who are enthusiastic over the idea, propose to locate their luncheon room somewhere near Broadway, in the shopping district. There they will serve one meal a day—an ideal vegetarian luncheon. The restaurant is called the Applebough. The managers are very confident of success, for they believe that no sane American woman can fail to accept the tenets of the vegetarians' doctrine which teaches not only the economy in living on fruits and cereals, the gain of mind and body in vital force, but that there is an increase in physical beauty, as the natural result of such a diet.

Nothing Stronger.

Intelligent people, who realize the important part the blood holds in keeping the body in a normal condition, find nothing strange in the number of cases Hood's Sarsaparilla is able to cure. So many troubles result from impure blood, the best way to treat them is through the blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla vitalizes the blood.

Hood's Pills are the best after-dinner pills, assist digestion, prevent constipation.

Effect of the French Treaty. Clarets at Half Price.

The Bordeaux Claret Company established at Montreal in view of the French Treaty, are now offering the Canadian connoisseur beautiful wines at $3.00 and $4.00 per case of 12 large quart bottles. These are equal to any $6.00 and $8.00 wines sold on their label. Every swell hotel and club are now handling them, and they are recommended by the best physicians as being perfectly pure and highly adapted for invalids' use. Address Bordeaux Claret Company, 30 Hospital Street, Montreal.

1141$t Weds&Sats.

Lane's Medicine Moves the Bowels Each Day

In order to be healthy this is necessary.

October 25, 1893.

My health was completely restored by Campbell's Skrei Cod Liver Oil. 3 bottles taken in 22 days increased my weight by 18 lbs.

HENRY ZIVERN,
Montreal.

Prop. Renovo Co.

WOMEN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

Close of the First Annual Meeting of the Bay of Quinte Branche.

The above Society, which met at Port Hope, has closed its meeting, at which there was a great deal of useful business transacted.

Memorials were received from Belleville District Convention. (1) That the time of financial year be charged to May instead of September, and annual meeting be held in June, instead of October. (2) That the names of the President and Corresponding Secretary of the Mission Bands be printed in the Annual Report. These memorials were passed on to the General Board for their approval.

Invitations for next annual meeting were received from Peterborough and Oshawa. That from Oshawa was accepted.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Mrs. (Dr.) Carman, Belleville; 1st Vice Pres., Mrs. (Rev.) J. C. Wilson, Tweed; 2nd Vice-Pres., Mrs. Massey, Wallbridge; 3rd Vice-Pres., Mrs. (Rev.) A. R. Campbell, Hastings; Rec. Sec., Mrs. Jas. Hendry, Peterborough; Cor. Sec., Mrs. G. D. Platt, Picton; Treasurer, Mrs. (Rev.) G. H. Copeland, Newcastle; M. B. Cor. Sec., Miss Howley, Bath.

Organizers.—Belleville District, Mrs. Massey; Brighton Dist., Miss Taggart; Bowmanville Dist., Miss Tourgee; Canington Dist., Mrs. Hazard; Cobourg, Mrs. (Rev.) M. E. Wilson; Campbellford, Mrs. (Rev.) A. R. Campbell; Lindsay, Mrs. (Rev.) Totten; Napanee, Mrs. Gibson; Madoc, Mrs. (Rev.) J. C. Wilson; Uxbridge Mrs. Crosby; Picton, Mrs. Platt and Miss Murray; Peterborough, Mrs. J. C. Sherin.

Delegates elected to General Board are: Mrs. Jas. Hendry, Mrs. (Rev.) J. C. Wilson, Mrs. Massey, Mrs. Copeland, Miss Hawley, Mrs. Crothers. Alternates—Miss Murney and Miss Currie.

Mechanics' Institute.

List of Books placed in the Library, Saturday, Oct. 6:—China and its People, W. H. Withrow, D.D.; A Veteran of 1812, Mary Agnes Fitzgibbon; Discourses and Addresses, George Douglas, D.D., LL.D.; How to be Happy though Married; Essays at Home and Elsewhere, E. S. Nadal; The Coming of the Friars, Rev. A. Jessop, D.D.; The Friendship of Nature, Mabel Osgood Wright; A History of Greek and Roman Classical Literature, Rev. A. Lonage, C. S. C.; Life and Writings of H. T. Buckle, Alfred Henry Hutte; Modern Meteorology, Frank Waldo, Ph.D.; Electricity in Modern Life, G. W. Tunglemaides, B.S.C.; Wonders of Plant Life, Sophie Bledsoe Herrick; Wonders of Science, Wm. Lackland; Birds of Ontario, Thos. McIlwraith; Days Spent on a Doger's Farm, Margaret Symonds; On Sunny Shores, Clinton Scollard; Travels in a Tree Top, Chas. C. Abbott, M.D.; A Canadian in Europe, W. H. Withrow; Low Tide on Grand Pre, Bliss Carman; Later Canadian Poems, J. E. Wetherell; Gentleman Dick, of the Grays, H. K. Cockin; The White Conquerors of Mexico, Kirke Munroe; Under the Red Robe, Stanley Weyman; A Daughter of To-day, Susa S. Duncan; A Foolish Marriage, Annie S. Swan; Up Among the Ice Floes, J. Macdonald Oxley; Doreen, Edna Lyell; Wormwood, Marie Correlli; The Second Wife, Marlitt; The Great Taboo, Grant Allen; Mary St. John, R. N. Carey; Vivian, the Beauty, Mrs. Annie Edwardes; Polly Oliver's Problem, Kate Douglas Wiggins; Bristol Bells, Ed'd Marshall; The Jungle Book, Rudyard Kipling; Pembroke, Mary E. Wilkins; Constance and Calbot's Rival, Julian Hawthorne; Frozen Hearts, G. W. Appleton; Scheherazade, Florence Warden; Without a Compass, Fred. B. Van Vorst; A Prince of Darkness, Florence Warden; David Poindexter's Disappearance, Julian Hawthorne; Aline, Henry Greville; Dimitri, F. W. Bain; Giraldi, Rose George Dering; In the Wild Grass, Louis Pendleton; A Comedy of Elopement, Christian Reid; The Foresters, Berthold Auerbach; Trilby, Du Maurier.

In the Woods.

Frederick George Scott.

This is God's house; the blue sky is the ceiling,
This wood, the soft green carpet for His feet,
Those hills, His stairs down which the brooks come stealing,
With baby laughter making Earth more sweet.

And here His friends come, clouds and soft winds sighing,
And little birds whose throats pour forth their love,
And Spring and Summer, and the white snow lying
Pencilled with shadows of bare boughs above.

And here come sunbeams through the green leaves straying,
And shadows from the storm-clouds overdrawn,
And warm, hushed nights, when Mother Earth is praying
So late that her moon-cradle burns till dawn.

Sweet house of God, sweet Earth so full of pleasure,
I enter at the gates in storm or calm,
And every sunbeam is a joy and treasure,
And every cloud a place and a balm.

THE MODEL WIFE and DIAMOND DYES.

A model wife can realize
Great benefits from Diamond Dyes;
No matter what her family's size
She dollars saves by Diamond Dye;
She happy makes her children's lives,
By using often Diamond Dyes;
Her home is bright as cloudless skies,
Because she uses Diamond Dyes;
All other brands she must despise,
When she can choose the Diamond Dyes;
Her faded dress she deftly tries
To renovate with Diamond Dyes;
Her husband's coats, vests, pants and ties
Are soon renewed with Diamond Dyes;
At Fair this day she took the prize,
For goods dyed with the Diamond Dyes;
She causes wonder and surprise,
By tinting walls with Diamond Dyes;
She with the artist often vies,
By coloring maps with Diamond Dyes;
She's economical and wise.
This comes through using Diamond Dyes;
Good nature sparkles in her eyes,
Because she's helped by Diamond Dyes;
On those grand colors she relies,
She knows the best are Diamond Dyes;

The Haines & Lockett Fire.

Owing to our loss by the recent fire, we placed what few accounts we had on our books in the hands of W. J. Diamond with instructions to send them in without respect of persons, and to urge immediate payment. We hope all parties concerned will respond promptly at Mr. Diamond's office.

d115tf HAINES & LOCKETT.

Marriages.

LAWREY—MCRAE.—At Toronto, on Wednesday, August 1st, by Rev. A. R. Chambers, JAMES D. A. LAWREY to AGGIE E., eldest daughter of Thos. McRae, of Trenton.

HENRY—CUMMINGS.—At the residence of the bride's mother, Warkworth, on Friday, 14th Sept., 1894, by the Rev. James McFarlane, W. H. HENRY, proprietor of the Warkworth Journal and MISS FRANK CUMMINGS, youngest daughter of Mrs. M. M. Cummings, all of Warkworth.

SMITH—CROSSEN.—At 'Cedar Hedge,' Cobourg, by Rev. Prof. Reynar, LL.D., assisted by Rev. R. N. Burns, B.A., ELLA, daughter of the late James Crossen, and JAMES R. SMITH, of Montreal.

THE PREACHER'S TRIAL.

AN INTERESTING CHAT WITH THE REV. W. J. CHAPIN.

In the Strain of Pulpit Labor He had Overdrawn his Health Account—How he met the Crisis and Returned to his Duties with Renewed Health.

From the Springfield Ill., Journal.

In the pretty village of Chatham, Ill., there lives a Baptist divine whose snow white hair is the one outward sign that he has encroached upon the days beyond the allotted three score years and ten. His clear eye, keen mental faculties and magnificent physique all bear witness to a life well spent. This pioneer in God's eternal vineyard is Rev. W. J. Chapin, whose 72 years are crowded with noble deeds in the Christian ministry.

To a Journal representative who asked him something of his career in the ministry, Mr. Chapin talked in an interesting strain, and said that, in spite of the indications to the contrary, his life had not all been sunshine and good health.

"As my present appearance testifies, I was fortunate in the possession of a very vigorous constitution. But, as is too often the case, I overestimated my physical resources, and when it was too late learned that I had overdrawn my health account. The crisis came about eighteen years ago. At the time I was preaching the gospel from the pulpit, and I became suddenly so ill that I was compelled to stop before my sermon was finished. It was a bad case of nervous prostration, and for a time my friends and family were greatly exercised over my condition. Complete rest was imperative, and Mrs. Chapin and I planned and took a long trip. My health was sufficiently restored to resume my work, but I was not the same man. I felt absolutely worthless, physically and mentally. I had so lost control of my muscles that my fingers would involuntarily release their grip upon a pen, and my hand would turn over with absolutely no volition on my part. About two years ago, to intensify matters, I was seized with a severe attack of la grippe. I recovered only partially from it and had frequent returns of that indescribable feeling which accompanies and follows that strange malady. I looked in vain for something to bring relief and finally I read an account of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Something seemed to tell me that they would do me good and I commenced using the pills. They gave me additional strength from the start and toned up my system from a condition of almost absolute prostration so that I was able again to resume my duties as a minister. The improvement was simply marvellous, and the credit is due Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Mrs. Chapin was present during the conversation and said: "I don't think Mr. Chapin could ever have resumed his preaching after he had the attack of la grippe had it not been for Pink Pills. They did him so much good that I decided to try their efficacy on myself. I have been troubled for years with what our physician, Dr. Hewitt, called rheumatic paralysis, and since taking the Pink Pills I have been stronger, and the pain in my right arm and hand is less acute. We keep the pills in the house all the time, and they do me a great deal of good in the way of toning up my system and strengthening me."

In all cases like the above Pink Pills afford a speedy and certain cure. They act directly upon the blood and nerves. Sold by all dealers, or sent by mail, post paid, on receipt of 50 cents a box, or $2 50 for 6 boxes, by addressing the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., or Schenectady, N.Y. Beware of substitutes and nostrums alleged to be "just as good."

How to Get a "Sunlight" Picture.

Send 25 "Sunlight" soap wrappers (wrapper bearing the words "Why does a woman look old sooner than a man") to Lever Bros., Ltd., 43 Scott St., Toronto, and you will receive by post a pretty picture, free from advertising, and well worth framing. This is an easy way to decorate your home. The soap is the best in the market, and it will only cost 1c. postage to send in the wrappers, if you leave the ends open. Write your address carefully.

Look Here.

Do you feel blue and despondent? Do pains rack and tear away at nerve and muscle, and have you been disappointed in finding a remedy that will afford certain and speedy relief. If so, go at once to any drug store and buy a bottle of Polson's Nerviline. Polson's Nerviline never fails to relieve neuralgia, cramps, headache, rheumatism, and all internal and external pains. J. B. Carman, druggist, Morrisburg, writes: "All the parties I supply speak very favorable of Nerviline, and always purchase a second lot." Polson's Nerviline is sold in bottles at 25 cents by all druggists and country dealers everywhere.

A Lesson in Hygiene.

Now that water supplies are recognized as the chief vehicle for propagating typhoid fever, medical and scientific authorities throughout the world are constantly dwelling on the necessity of using water of known purity. While this has no bearing on medicinal waters, which, however valuable, cannot safely be made part of the ordinary daily diet, because of the active chemical substances they contain, it has, however, given a wonderful stimulus to the consumption of dietetic or table waters, such as Apollinaris. It is little wonder, however, that the use of Apollinaris is on the increase, for who does not gladly take the beverage which, besides being pure and healthful, is delightful and refreshing?

ALL CASES OF WEAK OR LAME BACK, backache, rheumatism, will find relief by wearing one of Carter's Smartweed and Belladonna Backache Plasters. Price 25 cents. Try them.

—Gen. Booth is in Quebec. He was given a reception by a committee from the Protestant churches last night.

—At a meeting of the creditors of Messrs. Withrow & Hillock yesterday it was decided the firm should close down.

—Judge William J. Gaynor has declined to accept the nomination for Judge of the Court of Appeals on the New York Democratic State ticket.

—Lieut.-Col. Toller has retired from the command of the Governor General's Foot Guards and Major Hodgins will succeed him.

—Toree Government candidates were elected in Newfoundland on Tuesday with largely increased majorities over Whitewayites.

GREAT DISCOVERIES.—The astronomer who discovers a new star, the scientist who finds a new face, or the geologist who alights upon a new spices of fossil, becomes deservedly famous; but the actual good such discoveries do is nothing when compared to the finding of a medicine which is an infallible cure for certain diseases. Such a discovery was made nearly half a century ago by an Eastern gentleman named Perry Davis, and his preparation is now known to the world as PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER. It is a sure cure for Diarrhœa, Cramps, Cholera Morbus, Cholera, and indeed all bowel complaints, 25c. only for Big 2 oz bottle.

DANCING AND DANCERS.

Gallial, in his "Travels in Africa," declares that the people of the west coast are exceedingly fond of dancing. He once tried to tire them out, but as long as he could raise his hand to his violin they continued to dance, and he was forced to desist.

One of the most famous early ballet dancers was Mlle. Maze, who, being ruined by Law's financial schemes, dressed herself in her finest robes and committed suicide publicly by jumping off a Seine bridge at noon in the presence of thousands of people.

Maria Taglioni, the danseuse, was the daughter of an Italian ballet master. She was born in 1804, went on the stage in 1822 and continued her appearances in public until 1847, when she retired. Her greatest successes were in La Bayadere, La Sylphide and La Fille du Danube.

Heine's ballet, "Mephistophela," displays "Faust" tempted by a female Mephistopheles, who exhibits to her victim the most celebrated female danseuses of antiquity, including "Salome," the daughter of "Herodias," while David is also represented as doing a pas seul before the ark.

The ballet d'action is said to have been revived from the ancient models by the famous Duchesse du Maine, who took a well-known play, had music written for it, and set the characters to act it through from beginning to end without speaking a word. It was extremely popular, and so established a fashion.

ACROSS THE SEAS.

The manuscript of Tannhauser has just been sold to a Leipsic amateur for 10,000 marks ($2,500.)

In the Marquesas group the recent absolute prohibition of the sale of opium has increased at once the demand for liquor.

The forest land owned by the state is in Germany 33 per cent. of all forests; in Scandinavia, 15 to 20; in France, 10; in Switzerland, 4, and in Italy, not 2.

The English postmaster-general has just announced that private cards with a half penny stamp affixed will be accepted as postal cards within the United Kingdom.

M. Schneider, the head of the great Creusot foundries, was married the other day in Paris. Creusot has grown in sixty years from a village of 500 inhabitants to a town of 30,000 people—larger than Krupp's town of Essen.

Russia proposes to connect the Baltic with the Black Sea, according to recent report. The rivers Dneiper and Dwina are to be joined by a canal; surveying has been begun at both ends of the route, and Cherson is spoken of as the harbor for the canal on the Black Sea.

Newspapers in Russia were forbidden some time ago to make any reference to the dresses worn by the empress on state occasions. This was done because one paper by mistake reported her as wearing a dress which at that time was completely out of fashion.

Answers the Purpose.

He—Can you remember the names of Howells' novels?

She—Oh, yes; Aunt Beaconhill makes me memorize them. But I can't remember the stories.—Judge.

Large Birds.

"Wa-al," said Farmer Cranberry of New Jersey as he looked for the first time on the grated window of a large insane asylum, "they must have bigger mosquitoes here than we have at home."

The Modern Method.

"Do you take any interest in the Corbett-Jackson matter?"

"Yes, indeed; but it looks to me now as if they might settle it by arbitration."—Judge.

Always Good Form.

"He is wretchedly bad form in every particular."

"Except, my dear, his bank account."—Truth.

The General Purpose Cow.

Beef production and milk production in the same animal are often useful to the farmer, but should not be the aim of him who desires to receive the greatest amount of profit from the dairy. A first-class beef and milk and butter cow, combined in the one animal, is rarely, if ever seen; either the beef tendency will prevail, or the dairy qualities. All animals require so much food for support, and the balance that they are able to digest goes to keep up heat in the body and to the production of fat. This fat will not be evenly distributed,—half in the animal frame and half in the milkpail. If the animal has been bred long in the line of beef production rather than milk and butter, the greatest amount of this fat will go to beef, and the reverse. The first-class dairy cow cannot be made very fat while in good flow of milk. She cannot digest enough rich food above the amount required to maintain support to deposit a large amount of fat on her bones and maintain a heavy flow of milk at the same time. The general purpose cow, then, is not a strict reality, though there may be good milking strains of beef breeds, which are useful where beef is the main object.

SPECIAL MENTION

—Frederick W. Mount shot himself through the heart at St. John, N. B.

DR. LOW'S PLEASANT WORM SYRUP removes worms of all kinds from children or adults.

—Alex. McEachren and his wife committed suicide at Dartmouth, N. S., by poisoning.

THAT HACKING COUGH can be quickly cured by Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam. Price 25c.

—John Welsh, for years bookkeeper for the Messrs. Folger, of Kingston, died last night.

—The annual Provincial Convention of Christian Endeavors will be held at Kingston on Oct. 10—12.

ALWAYS AVOID HARSH PURGATIVE PILLS. They first make you sick and then leave you constipated. Carter's Little Liver Pills regulate the bowels and make you well. Dose, one pill.

—Dr. Peterson, Principal of Dundee University, has been appointed Principal of McGill, Montreal.

—Lord and Lady Aberdeen at Brandon, were addressed by the school children and citizens. His Excellency replied.

—Mr. Laurier expects to leave Winnipeg for the east on October 25. A banquet will be given him on the preceding day.

No person should go from home without a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial in their possession, as change of water, cooking, climate, etc., frequently brings on summer complaint, and there is nothing like being ready with a sure remedy at hand, which oftentimes saves great suffering, and consequently valuable lives. This Cordial has gained for itself a wide spread reputation for affording prompt relief from all summer complaints.

GOSPEL OF GOOD ROADS.

A THOROUGH-GOING SERMON ON THE SUBJECT BY A WOMAN.

Kate Field as a Teacher—She Says It is Part of the Christian Religion—Why Farmers Should Favor and Work for Better Highways.

Everybody has a panacea nowadays for curing our national ills. In the general madness perhaps I may be permitted to suggest that the most evident duty is the duty that lies next us, and that on the fulfilment of the duty of the majority depends the welfare of all.

It is a self-evident proposition that the salvation of this nation depends upon the intelligence and integrity of the masses. All crime, all bad legislation are due to ignorance, the one unknown quantity which it is impossible to overcome. Admitting the power of the masses to make or mar, the question arises which class constitutes the bulk of our population. It is easily answered: Farmers. To them, then, we must look for the preservation of republic institutions. As they prosper so will the state. It is, therefore, of profound interest to the nation that farmers stand at the top instead of the bottom of the social and financial ladders.

As ye sow so shall ye reap. By ignoring the farmer, by leaving him in his ignorance, the churches of this country have a deal to answer for. Their missionary work lies here, not in Japan and Africa. The beam needs to be cast out of our own eye before we seek the mote in our brother's. Christianity begins at home and Christianity begins with good roads.

"But farmers oppose them. They fear greater taxation. Moreover, rich men holding unimproved property for speculative purposes also oppose them," say many.

What of it? Is not this proof positive of the need of home missionaries? Nothing has given me greater satisfaction than the congress of good roads at Chicago during the world's fair and the more recent good roads convention at Asbury Park, N.J., the state that proves its faith by its works and shows the value of good highways by the increase of valuations and of population.

The good roads congress of a year ago was an evidence of practical Christianity that should have been the crowning glory of the world's parliaments in point of attendance and enthusiasm. That it was not establishes the fact of urban as well as suburban ignorance and makes the need of an earnest propaganda all the more apparent.

Among various interesting papers read at this congress, that of Professor Lewis M. Haupt, consulting engineer, of Philadelphia, furnished unlimited food for rumination. Professor Haupt's paper should be published as a tract and sent to every farmer in the United States. It would do more as an opening wedge to a change of opinion than anything I know of on this vital subjects of roads.

Seeing is believing. What makes economy in transportation? Reduced resistances to locomotion. Why is water transportation cheaper than that of the rail? Because of reduced resistance. Thirty millions of improvements on the great lakes has saved in the cost of transportation, as compared with rail, $150,000,000 in one year! How does the greater part of tonnage reach rail and water? By earth roads. What is the comparative cost of this earth movement? Twenty-two times greater than by rail and 26 times greater than by water. What further argument is needed to convince enlightened minds of the duty that lies next them?

Bad roads can be made good at comparatively small expense. How to raise the money is the next question. Albert A. Pope, of Boston, suggested at this congress that every state should establish a graduated succession tax of 1 per cent on all estates valued from $10,000 to $100,000, 2 per cent on estates valued from $200,000 to $500,000, and so on, gradually increasing the tax as the inheritance increased. Thus taxation could never fall on the poor, and when good roads were once established they could be maintained at very little cost.

Another speaker at the congress advocated appropriating a part of saloon licenses to improving roads. The detail of taxation must be left to the states. When it is realized that Illinois alone loses millions yearly on account of bad roads, their appalling extravagance becomes evident to all but human bats.

Look at certain counties on Long Island, New York, that have redeemed themselves while less intelligent communities rebel at any improvement that necessitates additional taxation. Towns that never before knew each other are now perennial visitors; farms of little value are making small fortunes for their owners in garden truck hauled to New York markets over good roads, and urban business men seek permanent homes where they can enjoy country pleasures and fresh air within a short distance of the metropolis. The very farmers who were loudest in denunciation of good roads are now their most enthusiastic advocates for the good reason that they reap the greatest benefits.

There are many bats among farmers, not because nature has made them blind, but because bad roads have cut them off from intelligent intercourse. When they learn that the friction of bad roads wears out wagons, harness, horses, oxen and temper, and that the friction of humanity at the far end of a good road means joy and prosperity begotten of better farming, the republic will look to farms not only for occasional Abraham Lincolns, but for its unflinching and enlightened conservators.—Kate Field, in Chicago Herald.

A Button Bag.

A novel button bag consists of a cocoanut shell sawed in two, with holes bored in the lower end of one half. A bag is then made of brown silk, hemmed at the the top, slightly gathered at the bottom, and in a casing made in the hem are inserted draw strings of ribbon an inch wide, to match the silk. The bag is then fastened inside the shell by sewing a piece of ribbon to the bottom of it. Draw an end of this ribbon through each hole at the bottom of the shell, and tie them together with long ends and loops.

A Tomato Omelet.

Beat together the whites and yolks of six eggs, season with salt and pepper. Heat two tablespoonfuls of butter in a frying pan, turn into it a cupful of stewed and chopped tomatoes from which the liquor has been drained, cook for two minutes and then stir in the beaten eggs. Let the omelete brown on the other side, fold over and serve.

Was Qualified.

Tom (during the political debate)—What do you know about municipal government, I'd like to know? Billy—What do I know? Hang it all, wasn't I lookout in a Chicago gambling-house for two years?—Chicago Record.

CHURCH DIRECTORY.

JOHN ST. PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Pastor—Rev. J. L. George.

Morning service, 11 o'clock. Bible class and Sunday school, 3 o'clock. Evening service, 7 o'clock. Wednesday evening prayer meeting, 8 o'clock. Young people's meeting after the evening service. All are welcome.

TABERNACLE METHODIST CHURCH, Church St.

REVD. E. ROBERTS—PASTOR.

Preaching to-morrow at 11 a m by the Rev. John Dinnick, of Toronto. Subject, 'Glorious Prospects,' and at 7 p m. by the pastor. Subject, "Christ's Problem."

Sunday school at 2:30 p.m.

At the Epworth League on Monday evening a lecture will be delivered by the Rev. E. Roberts on "A boy who rose to renown." Admission silver collection.

You are cordially invited to be present at all these services.

"Exaltation and Humiliation"

Will be the subject of the Rev. E. N. Baker, M.A., B.D.'s, sermon at 11 a.m. in

BRIDGE STREET METHODIST CHURCH

To-morrow.

In the evening at 7 o'clock the Praise Service of last Thursday evening will be repeated.

Strangers in the city, Students at Albert College, Business Colleges, Schools, and all other visitors are invited to these services or to Sunday School at 2:30 p.m.

New Advertisements.

REMOVAL.

THE Hastings Loan and Investment Society will removed Monday, October 8th, from their present premises to their new office, Bridge Street, two doors east of Corby's.

J. P. C. PHILLIPS,
Manager.

Oct. 5, '94. 131d2t 44wt

Jewelry Business For Sale

TENDERS, at so much on the $ per stock list, will be received by the undersigned, at his office, 151 Wellington street, Kingston, up to Saturday, October 20th 1894, for the Stock-in-Trade and other assets of the business of W. J. Arniel & Co., 339 King street, Kingston.

The goods and stock list (about $1,600) may be seen on application to the undersigned. The store may also be secured by the purchaser if desired. Terms cash. No tender necessarily accepted.

W. MUNDELL,
Barrister.

Kingston, Oct. 4th, 1894. d4t,Oct6,9,13,18

Drill Hall . . .

PANOPTICON!

A Combination of Special Attractions, Novel & Varied.

Refreshments will be served by attendants in the National Costumes of Germany, Scotland, France, America, Japan and Egypt.

Also a Gallery of living pictures, Dickens' "Old Curiosity Shop," Fancy Drills, Etc.

The finest exhibition of Art Needle Work ever shown in the city.

PLANTATION SONGS and ORCHESTRA.

Will be held in the DRILL HALL on

Wednesday and Thursday,

Afternoon and Evening,

OCTOBER 10TH & 11TH.

Doors open at 4 o'clock p. m. each day.

Proceeds in aid of Belleville Institute and Library Association

Admission, - 15 Cents.

AUCTION - SALE

— OF —

VALUABLE FARM PROPERTY.

UNDER and by virtue of the Power of Sale contained in a certain Mortgage made by the late William Hamilton Ponton, deceased, to the vendors, which will be produced at the time of sale, there will be offered for sale by Public Auction, on Saturday, the Twenty-seventh day of October, 1894, at the hour of twelve o'clock noon, at the Court House, in the City of Belleville, by J. Lyons Biggar, Auctioneer, the following valuable real estate in one parcel, namely:—

All and singular that certain parcel or tract of land and premises situate, lying and being in the Township of Sidney in the County of Hastings, in the Province of Ontario, being part of the west half of Lot number Thirty-seven in the First Concession of the Township of Sidney, together with the broken front of said half lot, described as follows:—Commencing at the Bay Shore between numbers Thirty-six and Thirty-seven, thence north sixteen degrees west one hundred and eleven chains, nine links, more or less, to within six chains, sixty-six and two-thirds links of the allowance for road in rear of said Concession; thence north seventy-four degrees, east nine chains, thirty-three links more or less to the centre of said lot; thence south sixteen degrees, east one hundred and eight chains, nineteen links, more or less to the Bay of Quinte; thence westerly, following the windings of the Bay shore, to the place of beginning, containing by admeasurement One Hundred and one acres, one rood and thirty-six perches, less twenty acres sold to the Queen off the west side of the same; also reserving about one half of an acre of land heretofore sold to the Queen, on the north side of the Trenton Road; also reserving five acres off the north end of the land above described, herethfore sold to Edward Welsh by deed, dated August 19th, 1873; also reserving two acres south of the Kingston Road, as described in a deed dated the 27th day of August 1888, and registered as No. 6584 T.

On the premises there are said to be erected a s'one dwelling house, also a brick cased dwelling house and two frame barns. This property lies immediately east of the Ontario Institut on for the Deaf and Dumb.

TERMS.—Ten per cent of the purchase money must be paid at the time of sale, when easy terms for the balance can be arranged. For further particulars and conditions of sale, apply to the Auctioneer, or to Ponton & Morden, Barristers, Belleville, or to Lount, Marsh & Cameron,

Vendors' Solicitors,
25 TORONTO ST., TORONTO.

3rd October. d4t,Oct6,13,20,25

THIS MATTER CHANGED DAILY.

SATURDAY, Oct. 6.

A - LIST.

Wool Hose, 15c. pr.
Ladies' vests, 15c. each.
Children's Wool Vests, 25c.
Cashmere Gloves, 15c. pr.
All silk Handkerchiefs, 8c.
Beautiful Dress Goods, 25c.
75c. Dress Goods, 50c.
Heavy Twill Grey Flannel, 15.
New Heavy Jackets, $5 to $7.
New prints, 5c, 10c,
Brown Windsor Soap, 2 for 5c,

W. FLINT JONES.

Next door to Haines & Lockett.

BEST QUALITY

CANADIAN
"Silver Star,"
—AND—
AMERICAN
"Water White"

COAL OIL.

Delivered promptly to any part of the city.

D. M. WATERS.

CANADIAN . . MERCHANTS . FOLLOW . . .

O B C METHODS.

Some of the largest importing firms in Canada that have relations with great English houses, send their financial statements at the end of each year to Britain on O. B. C. Balance Sheet Forms. Following is a sample of an order.

Office of
RYAN BROS., Importers,
OWEN SOUND, Feb. 7, '94.

MESSRS. ROBINSON & JOHNSON,
Ontario Business College,

Gentlemen.—Please send us five Balance Sheet Blanks, same as you supply to Messrs. G. B. Ryan & Co., of Guelph.

Yours truly,
RYAN BROS.

QUEEN'S - OPERA - HOUSE.

- SATURDAY -

MATINEE & EVENING, OCTOBER 6TH.

Margart L. Sheppard & Co.,

In a great Drama of her own life,

"TRIED AS BY FIRE,"

By the eminent English Actor,

MARTIN CLEWORTH,

And a specially selected Company with Magnificent Costumes and Scenery.

Matinee Prices, - 25 & 35c.

Evening Prices, 25, 35 & 60c.

We Are.. Busy.....

Our new groceries are going with a rush, but more are arriving daily, and that's why we keep our stock fresh and wholesome. We take pride in our confectionery for it's the best money can buy and our prices are away down. See the values we offer in teas and sugars. Provisions, and flour and feed also receive our particular attention.

J. A. ELLIOTT.

Front St., Belleville.

-PLUMBING-

We have added to our Workmen,

MR. GEORGE JOHNSON,

Who has for the past six years been prominent on large contracts in Victoria, B. C., San Francisco, Denver, and Chicago.

- - ALSO - -

MR. EDWIN W. BISHOP,

A graduate of the New York School for Plumbing (class 92), who comes highly recommended.

With these men added to our staff, we feel sure of giving satisfaction to all in Sanitary Plumbing.

C. F. Smith & Co.

ALLAN LINE,

Royal Mail Steamships. Liverpool, Calling at Moville.

	From Montreal daylight	From Quebec
PARISIAN	Oct. 6	Oct. 7
MONGOLIAN	" 13	" 14
HIBERNIAN	" 20
LAURENTIAN	" 27	" 28
NUMIDIAN	Nov. 3	Nov. 3
PARISIAN	" 10	" 11

RATES OF PASSAGE.

First cabin Derry and Liverpool, $45 and upwards single; $95 and upwards return. Second cabin, Liverpool, Derry, Belfast, Glasgow, $30; return $55. Steerage at lowest rates (everything found).

All steamships except the Hibernian carry 1st cabin, 2nd cabin and steerage passengers.

STATE LINE SERVICE

NEW YORK, LONDONDERRY AND GLASGOW.

STATE OF NEBRASKA	Oct. 12
STATE OF CALIFORNIA	" 26
STATE OF NEBRASKA	Nov. 22

Cabin passage, $40 and upward, return $80 and upward; Second cabin $25. Steerage at lowest rates.

For tickets and other information apply to
U. E. THOMPSON
General Ticket Agency,
Bridge St., Belleville.
or to S. BURROWS,
Agent.

GENTLEMEN....

Before ordering your Fall Clothing don't fail to take a look through

A. N. REID'S

New Fall Importations of

Scotch, English and Irish Suitings, Overcoatings, Pantings, Irish Serges, Cheviots, Hop Sackings and Black Worsteds

First Class Goods and Prices low.

Mr. Minor, our cutter, is one of the best in Ontario.

EVERY GARMENT GUARANTEED!!

Please call and inspect our New Goods.

A. N. REID.

GLASGOW WAREHOUSE,

BELLEVILLE.

We are now showing complete lines in the following goods:

Ladies' Hygeian Underwear
Misses' Hygeian Underwear
Boys' plain and ribbed Underwear
Ladies' " " Cashmere Hose
Ladies' " " Wool Hose
Boys' " " Wool Hose
Ladies' black and colored Kid Gloves
" " " Cashmere Gloves
Ladies' Cashmere and Silk Mitts
Baby Ribbons in all makes and colors
Laces, Handkerchiefs and Corsets.

CARPETS, OILCLOTHS and CURTAINS in endless variety.

Larger lines in Canadian Staples at close cash prices.

VANDERVOORT & GIBSON,

Successors to the late J. W. Dunnet.

Belleville, Oct. 3, 1894.

P.S.—A large show case and table for sale, cheap.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, SATURDAY, OCT. 6

Chauncey Ashley, issuer of marriage licenses, Division Court Office, Pinnacle street or at residence over Bennett & Benson's store. d&w

CITY AND DISTRICT.

Tabernacle Teameeting on Thursday the 18th inst.

The little deaf boy who ran away from the Institute, returned this morning.

The contractors of the granolithic pavement are hustling their work these days.

Be sure and attend Grant's cheap cash sale if you want bargains in Boots and Shoes.

The Executive Committee met last evening and passed the accounts of the other committees.

The str. Corsican passed down yesterday on her last trip. She will winter at Sorel, Que.

The gate receipts at the Lennox Agricultural Association exhibition at Napanee this year were $828.

There is likely to be a lively discussion on the stone crusher account at the Council on Monday evening.

The price of coal have been reduced in Picton. It is now selling for $5.25 in the yard and $5.50 delivered.

Mr. A. W. Hepburn's new mill at Picton is being roofed, and will be ready for operation in the near future.

The members of the Bay of Quinte Clerical Union will meet in Picton on Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 10, and 11th.

Margaret L. Shepherd and company are registered at the Queen's. They gave a matinee this afternoon of "Tried as by Fire."

The Hagerman case, which occupied the attention of the police court all yesterday afternoon, was enlarged till the 15th inst.

It came out in evidence at Hamilton the other day that a nurser in that city charged 60 per cent. interest on a chattel mortgage.

The scrofulous taint which may have been in your blood for years, may be thoroughly expelled by giving Hood's Sarsaparilla a trial.

A three year-old colt belonging to Mr. Fred Macoun of Seymour west, was weighed in Campbellford on Tuesday, and balanced the beam at 1420 pounds.

The annual rifle matches of the 49th Battalion will be held on Capt. Graham's farm, front of Sidney, on Wednesday next on account of the ranges being condemned.

The Globe has a group portrait of the Guelph base ball club, in which the Belleville lads Bradford and Downs—two of the best men on the team—look "as natural as life."

Rev. D. O. Crossley had a busy day last Sunday. He preached a sermon in the morning, addressed the Sunday School immediately after, and in the afternoon made two funeral addresses, and preached again in the evening.

"For several months, I was troubled with a persistent humor on my head which gave me considerable annoyance, until it occurred to me to take Ayer's Hair Vigor. Before using bottle, the humor was healed."—T. T. Adams, General Merchant, Turbevill, Va.

Rev. E. Roberts will deliver a lecture in the Tabernacle S. S. room on Monday evening next, at 8 o'clock, on "A Boy who rose to renown." Those who have once heard Mr. Roberts, will feel sure that this will be worth listening to. Admission by silver collection.

The universal prevalence of scrofula is a fact well-known to physicians. The only medicine that has hitherto proved a specific for his dreadful complaint is Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which expels every germ of poison from the blood. You cannot begin to use it too soon.

Mr. Burrows, general agent Ontario Mutual Life Insurance Co., has just received a check for $2,000 for one of his policy holders for a limited endowment. If this plan of saving money was more generally adopted, there would be fewer men obliged to saw wood in the cold storms of winter.

PROBABILITIES.

TORONTO, Oct. 6.—Fresh to strong west to north west winds; fair weather; not much change in temperature; light local showers.

The Worth of Your Money.

When you hear a man say: "The last ready-made suit I got went all to pieces in no time," just please ask him where he got it." We will guarantee you he did not buy it at the Oak Hall. Once our customer you are always our friend and advertiser. Why? Because the Oak Hall never take one dollar from any man without giving him the full worth of his money or more.

Catarrh—Use Nasal Balm. Quick, positive cure. Soothing, cleansing, healing.

PRINCE EDWARD COUNTY FAIR

THE EXHIBITION A SUCCESS IN ALL ITS DEPARTMENTS.

The Display in the Main Building an Artistic One—Fine Show of Cattle, Sheep, Swine and Horses—The Races Were Exciting, and one was Especially Novel—A Large Crowd in Attendance.

The Prince Edward County Fair was held in the beautiful town of Picton on Wednesday and Thursday of this week, and it was one of the best exhibitions which has ever been held by the Society. Owing to rain on Wednesday, the attendance was limited, and the races were postponed until the second day. A representative of the INTELLIGENCER visited the fair on Thursday, and upon arriving on the grounds saw an animated scene. The exhibition had all been arranged and judges were busily engaged in making the awards. The competition in some of the classes was so keen that the judges found their duties rather arduous. Upon entering the grounds at the main entrance the first place to attract attention is the fine substantial frame building, used for the display of mercantile wares, fruits, flowers, and fancy work. The exhibit made was one of the finest which has ever been seen not only in that town, but in any exhibition held in this section of the country. Messrs. Gilbert & Lighthall had a most tastefully and carefully selected show of furniture. Messrs. H. S. Wilcocks, W. A. Rockwell and J. Johnson, had a fine exhibit of musical instruments. Prince Edward County is noted as a great fruit growing county and the display made in this department was exceptionally large. It occupied three large tables, filled with a choice selection of apples, pears and grapes, among the chief exhibitors being Messrs. J. Bristol, D. Spencer, J. Cozin and R. Dalmage. In the horticultural department there was also a large display. The floral emblems were an especial feature and called forth the commendation of the visitors. To the ladies too much praise cannot be given for the exhibit made by them. It occupied the northern portion of the building and was so arranged as to present a most attractive appearance. There were hundreds of pieces of fancy work of various kinds, such as quilts, spreads, draperies, crewel work and others too numerous to mention. Paintings were also shown in profusion, namely: oil paintings of landscapes, animals, flowers, fruits, and portraits. There was also a beautiful collection of water color pictures, crayon work, paintings on glass, china, wood, satin, plush, etc. In the building W. Boulter & Son had a large exhibit of canned goods. Beneath the grand standjwas to be seen the display of roots vegetables, and field grain. The collection was indeed a fine one. In the building was also to be seen a superb collection of elegant vehicles, including buggies, democrats, sleighs, cutters, etc., made by Mr. R. Ringer.

CATTLE.

The show of cattle was large, and some fine animals were to be seen. W. Boulter & Son exhibited a fine herd of Durhams, all of which succeeded in carrying off prizes.

In Ayrshires there were considerable competition, the exhibitors being F. Macdonald, N. Calhoun, E. Sultzer, Alfred Brown and N. Empey.

The exhibitors in Jerseys were Mrs. T. Shannon, Bruce C. Johnson and J. Sprague & Son.

In Holsteins the exhibitors were P. Haight and J. Mallory.

There was an excellent show of grade cattle, the principal exhibitors being W. Boulter & Son, R. J. Way, J. Fraleck and Mrs. T. Shannon.

SHEEP.

The show of sheep was very large, there being on exhibition 25 pens, consisting of Leicesters, Southdowns, Oxford, Shropshires and Cotswold. Amongst the animals was Mr. R. J. Garbutt's fine Leicester sheep which obtained a sweepstake on the world's fair. Other exhibitors were A. Brown, R. G. Martin, H. Murley, R. J. Garbutt, R. Jamieson and J. Gilbert.

HORSES.

There was a fine class of horses to be seen upon the ground, especially in the general purpose class. In some cases the judges found it to be a difficult task in making the awards. In matched carriage teams there were upwards of twenties and the animals shown in each case fine in appearance. The entries were so numerous in this section that the judges were kept busy until nearly 6 o'clock.

FANCY DISPLAYS.

Scattered about the grounds were numerous exhibits, such as agricultural implements, wire fencing, gates, pumps, etc. These, of course, proved to be an attraction to a great number who were upon the grounds.

THE RACES.

The various events were of an interesting character and proved to be of much attraction to all present. The races were keenly contested, and in some cases good time was made. The track was kept clear during the whole proceedings, which speaks well for those who had this part of the programme under their control. The result of the events were as follows.

GREEN RACE.

For this event there were 4 entries, namely F. Burlingham's Dr. Gift, A. A. Hudgins' Advancer, Ed. Smith's Red and W. Heiforty's Daisy H. The purse was for $30 divided proportionately. Daisy H. was withdrawn after the second heat as she was a bad fourth in the first two heats. The result was as follows: Dr. Gift 1st, Advancer 2nd and Red 3rd. Five half mile heats were trotted. Time 1:24, 1:24½, 1:24, 1:24½ and 1:24½.

THREE MINUTE TROT.

For this contest there were but three contestants, namely A. A. Hudgins' Beethoven, P. K. Demill's Edith D. and Ed. Kenny's Essie C. B. Beethoven proved an easy winner, taking three straight heats. Edith D. two seconds and one third. The purse was $60. Time, 1:13, 1:11½ and 1:11. Half mile heats.

RUNNING RACE.

This event brought forth four horses and three heats were run, which were all of an exciting nature. The horses were Geo. Thurston's Cohoes, E. R. Plumbton's Black Hawk, F. Burlingham's Wildy II. and S. D. Crandall's Marquis. The latter proved an easy winner, taking three straight heats, Wildy II. second and Colorow third.

The judges were J. Boyes, W. Hatch and A. Vancleak.

FARMER'S RACE.

This proved to be one of the most interesting events of the afternoon. The conditions of the race were that the horses were to walk a mile from a mile and go as you please a mile. The starters were Hi; White's Queenie; W. Harman's Nina, R. J. Way's Prince, C. Cole's Commonwealth and J. in Bell's Julia. In the walking contest Prince took the lead at the start and maintained it to the end, finishing a long distance ahead of Commonwealth, who was second and Nina third. The driver of Commonwealth made a great effort to overtake Prince in the trotting and go as you please, but was unable to do so. Commonwealth secured 2nd place, Nina 3rd, Queenie 4 h and Julia 5th. This completed the races, but there was some speeding to Wellington between carriage horses and stallions. When these contests were over it was almost dark and rain had commenced to fall.

NOTES.

The officers of the Society were: Chas. C. Spencer, President; Alfred A. Hudgin, first Vice-President; A. G. McDonald, second Vice-President; Thomas Wallbridge, Secretary Treasurer; directors—Wellington Boulter, John Cavan, C. H. Osborne, Dr. D. H. McKenzie, F. R. Young, Wm. Newman, Wm. McFaul, Thomas Wellbanks.

A large number were present from this city and intermediate points on the Central Ontario Railway by night down a large number from Consecon and other points north. Trenton was also largely represented.

Everything passed off pleasantly, no accident occurring.

STOLE A HORSE AND BUGGY.

Henry Revoy Got Drunk Last Night and Took a Drive.

John Palmer and Chas. Grass, two young men from the front of Thurlow, a few miles from the city, were up to the city last night, and were waiting for a friend who had asked for a ride home with them. They tied their horse in front of the Balmoral hotel and went into the house. This was near midnight. When they were ready to go home they came out, but could not find their horse. They secured a lantern and traced the buggy through the lane to the west of the post office to the market square and thence around and up Front St. to the lower bridge. They went across the river and found the buggy pretty badly smashed near Keegan's house on the flats. They then notified the police, and finally the horse was found in the possession of Henry Revoy. He said he had found it loose from the buggy on the bay bridge road. He was arrested by Officer Cook at his home at 3:30 this morning and locked up. At the police court he told a very inconsistent story about finding the horse on the road with a robe on its back and the lines dragging, but when asked to account for the whip which he carried and which belonged to one of the young men, he was at a loss for an evasion of escape. It was clearly proven that he took the rig while drunk, for several witnesses stated that he had been drinking. The Magistrate remanded him for sentence till the 15th inst.

A SURPRISING STATEMENT.

Engineer McDougall Admits Bridge St. Sewer is Defective, But Thinks it Will Remedy Itself.

A letter has been received from Engineer McDougall, of Toronto, who recently inspected the Bridge St. sewer and reported it all right. In this letter he admits that the sewer is defective but thinks that it will remedy itself.

This statement is truly surprising in the face of his former report, as he was hired by the city to protect its interests and of course received his salary for such work.

The engineer's admission is also another proof of the Street Surveyor's ability in these matters, as some of the aldermen discountenanced Mr. Hulme's suspicions of the leakage before he had made the test. The whole matter will come up for discussion at Monday evening's session of the Council.

North-West Products.

The Canadian Pacific Railway exhibition car, containing samples of all the products of the North-West Territories, arrived in the city to-day and is lying on the track at the post office. They have all kinds of grain, fruits and vegetables, together with solls, flour from the Manitoba wheat, and pictures of some fine herds of cattle. Among the latter were a herd of Scotch cattle, which have been introduced lately and their fur is becoming quite valuable, as they are very thin skinned. The car also contains four samples of the Banff anthracite coal and one of the Edmonton bituminous coal, both of which appear equal in quality to the Pennsylvania product. Mr. L. O. Armstrong, will give an illustrated lecture in the City Hall at 7:30 this evening, on "Around the World Through Canada." There will be no admission fee.

In Constant Demand.

Miss Ella Metcalfe left this morning for Huntsville, where she has secured, through the Ontario Business College, the position of book keeper for Mr. W. E. Hutchison, merchant, who is himself a graduate of the O.B.C. Miss Metcalfe's two sisters are likewise graduates of this college. Miss Emma is book keeper for Mr. C. B. Donnelsbery of the city; and Miss Lillie is stenographer and secretary to Mr. R. Mathison, Principal of the Institution for the Deaf and Dumb.

McDonald Paid the Costs.

The young Bernardo boy Tommy Wild, whose tale of woe appeared in these columns some days since, had his employer, McDonald, up in the court this morning for a settlement. McDonald said the boy was ungovernable and had cost him more than he earned. The case was finally settled by McDonald paying the boy $1.50 and the costs.

Encounter With a Bear.

Encounters with bruin are becoming quite numerous since the recent fires in the north country. On Thursday of last week Wm. Emerson, of the 4th con. of Hunting-don, had a company with his two bull dogs and a lively time with one of these unwelcome visitors. After a good deal of trouble they succeeded in treeing the monster, when Mr. Peterson secured a gun and brought him down.

Cheese Markets

BROCKVILLE, Oct. 4.—There were 1,700 boxes of cheese boarded here to day; about half white and half colored; 10½ was offered on contract, but none sold. The board adjourned for two weeks.

LISTOWEL, Oct. 4.—At the cheese fair here to day, 31 factories boarded 7,897 bxs. mostly August cheese; no sales; 10 5 16c offered; factorymen holding for 10¾c. and over.

Where he Made a Mistake.

He seems to think, since at the fair
He took the highest prize,
There is no further call for him
His goods to advertise.
But this is where to make mistakes
The fellow has begun.
For since he doesn't advertise,
Why no one knows he won.—Detroit Tribune.

Men's Small Sizes.

Remember, we are offering over 500 pairs of men's fine boots, also 6 and 7, at exactly one half price. Some extra good bargains.—VERMILYEA & SON.

AMELIASBURG ANNUAL FAIR.

OVER TWO THOUSAND ENTRIES IN THE VARIOUS CLASSES.

Commendable Management—A Large Crowd of People—Heavy Draught Teams in Competition—A Magnificent Display of Poultry and Fruit—Some of the Exhibitors—Notes.

The 39th annual exhibition of the township of Ameliasburg Agricultural Society was held yesterday on their grounds at Rossmore, which are situated on the shore of Roblin's lake, a beautiful sheet of water. There is a good track on the grounds and a large building for the display of the various small classes of exhibits, such as fruit, vegetables, fancy work, domestic manufactures, etc. The management of the fair is complete in every particular. Every one had his work to perform and did it in a manner that made everything move smoothly. The officers of the Society are as follows:

Officers—President, R. H. Herman, Rossmerville; Vice-President, John Barber, Mountain View; Secretary Treasurer, Edward Robins, Ameliasburg. Directors—George Williamson, Albury; Herman Weese, Rossmerville; D. T. Safford, Rossmerville; C. Bonter, Rossmerville; D. Walker, Rossmore; S. G. Wey, Mountain View; Samuel Allen, Ameliasburg; David Gibson, Ameliasburg; C. H. Osborne, Consecon. Honorary Director—Wesley Weese, James Broad, H. Wellbanks, J. H. Parliament, A. J. File, N. A. Peters jr., F. Hall, sr., H. G. Stafford, Silas Wallbridge. Auditors—James E. Giens, W. H. Stafford.

A TEST OF STRENGTH.

A feature of the show that attracted the most attention during the afternoon was the drawing by heavy draught teams. A stone boat was loaded with stones in the centre of the grounds and the team that could draw the largest load won the prize. The following men entered team: Geo. W. Anderson, H. Anderson, J. E. Nightingale, J. H. Young, E. Anderson, J. W. Hess, R. B. Hubbs, Robt. How, Henry Black, J. Stevens and R. Welsh. It took nearly the whole of the afternoon to decide which team was the heaviest pullers, and was finally decided in favor of J. H. Young, of Consecon, who had a fine pair of Clydesdales.

POULTRY AND FRUIT.

We have never heard that Prince Edward county or even Ameliasburg township was particularly noted for poultry raising, but our representative was more than surprised to see so large an exhibitin this class, and all the birds were of the best breeding. Mr. Phillip Hart, who was one of the judges in this class, said that the poultry display was the largest and best, outside the Toronto exhibition, this year. Mr. M. Dalmage, of this city, showed some very fine fowls.

If there is one product more than another in which the township of Ameliasburg prides herself it is fruit, and the display in the main building yesterday would give a person a fair idea of the quality grown, especially in apples, in which class the farmers of this township have a large crop this year. There were some fine specimens of grapes shown also.

THE PRINCIPAL EXHIBITORS.

There has never before in the history of this fair been keener competition in the various departments than yesterday, there being over 2000 entries on the Secretary's book. Following were the principal exhibitors:

HORSES.—Henry Draught,—Geo. W. Anderson, H. Anderson, D. Stafford, J. P. Phillips, J. E. Nightingale, Geo. B. Christie, John Roblin. Ellwood Spencer, J. H. Young, R. J. Delong, E. Anderson, A. D. Wallbridge, J. W. Hess, R. B. Hubbs, Robt. How, Henry Black, J. Stevenson, R. Welsh, B. Palmer, J. A. Howell, R. W. Herman, Chas. Young, J. E. Stafford, S. Delong. General purposes.—D. Walker, Jas. Reid, E. Anderson, J. W. Hess, A. E. Walbridge, J. E. Nightingale, R. J. Delong, W. H. Redner, C. L. Cunningham, R. B. Hubbs, Wm. Weese, M. Howell, Broadmares.—B. Howe, M. Howell, C. Bonter, F. Anderson, R. Bonter, A. M. Weese, Fred Weeks, C. Brooks, E. Carnwright, John Tice, R. B. Hubbs, H. Anderson, Silas Wallbridge, D. A. Walker, Jas Belcliman, Y. Thompson. The following teams were entered for a special prize offered by the Walker Co., of this city, for fancy driving: E. Babbit, W. H. Redner, M. Howell, C. Bonter, F. Cunderdonk.

Carriage Horses—Rufus How, J. W. Hess, A. A. Morden, J. B. Phillips, Peter Bonter, D. A. Walker, John Tice, A. Weese, W. W. Herman, C. L. Cunningham, C. E. Brooks, H. Anderson, E. Wallbridge. Single Driver.—E. Palmer, H. Anderson, F. McDonald, W. Peck, G. Sprague, J. Barber, H. Wellbanks, R. F. Redner, C. Young, R. B. Hubbs, F. McDonald, E. Roblin, J. A. Howell, E. Wallbridge, J. Roblin, H. G. Stafford, E. Spencer, J. E. Nightingale, J. R. Anderson, R. How, N. A. Peterson, D. Gibson, John Nightingale, Geo. Wood, H. G. Stafford, W. W. Anderson, D. A. Walker, A. J. File, Ellwood Spencer, Fat Steers.—Chas. Young, Elias Wallbridge, J. E. Nightingale.

SHEEP.—J. W. Frink, D. Stafford, W. Newman, F. Wallbridge, C. R. Christie, S. Christie, A. Brown, N. A. Peterson, John Roblin, R. W. Herman, R. J. Garbutt.

SWINE.—W. W. Anderson, R. J. Garbutt, R. N. Wey, W. Herman, C. C. Young, J. W. Frink.

POULTRY.—E. A. Hubbs, Dr. File, W. Choats, B. Boulter, A. J. Huff, J. W. Frink, Geo. Weese, A. E. Wallbridge, A. Brown, M. Dalmage, Elias Wallbridge, A. Brickman, F. McDonald, R. W. Herman, D. Stafford.

LADIES' WORK.—Stella Barber, Mrs. Potts, Mrs. Morden, Mrs. Mendell, B. Howe, B. H. Robinson, H. W. Weese, W. H. Potts, J. H. Parliament, A. J. File, Mrs. Jas. Williams, Jno. Tice, M. Howell, E. Roblin, S. Adams, A. Sager, C. Jackson, L. G. Stafford, J. H. Howell, M. Sprague, J. Nightingale, Wm. Black, A. M. Weese, Wesley Weese, J. C. Weese.

NOTES.

Some splendid buggies were shown by different firms.

Reeve Anderson had his eye open for fakirs and when he discovered some of these nimble fingered gentlemen (!) doing business near the hotel, he quickly stopped them, and when they began to banter with him he read them a certain by law which suited their case exactly.

The hotel yards and nearly every available spot in the village was filled with rigs. The hotel man only charged twenty five cents for a bating of hay and that had to be fed outside at that.

Geo. Ritchie & Co.

HIGH GRADE GARMENTS

At Moderate Prices!

OUR stock of LADIES' JACKETS and WRAPS is very complete. It embraces the very latest modes from Great Britain, Paris and Berlin. Our facilities for buying enable us to show the very latest novelties at the lowest possible prices. Our Mr. Ritchie spent a fortnight in Berlin this season making a personal selection of the newest shapes and materials from the best makers known to the trade. We cordially invite you to pay a visit to this department whether you wish to buy or not.

GREAT VARIETY .... OF STYLES!

Three-quarter length Prince Albert Coats in Cheviots, Friezes and Beavers.

Three-quarter length Cheviot and Serge Coats, fur trimmed, beautifully finished.

Three-quarter length Frieze Jackets, tight fitting, with Eton front, braid trimmed.

Three-quarter length Fancy Tweed Coats, large reveres, tight fitting, strap seams, very nobby.

Three-quarter length Fine Beaver Coat, tight fitting, full sleeves, silk lined, trimmed with moire, fur edged, very new style.

Golf Capes, with silk-lined Hoods, in a variety of choice materials, plaid linings.

A Fine Assortment of Children's Garments

Geo. Ritchie & Co.

SOCIAL & PERSONAL

The INTELLIGENCER invites all its readers to contribute to this column. If you or your friends are going away on a holiday trip or if you have friends visiting you, drop a card to this office.

Mrs. Buck's health has improved much of late.

Mr. G. W. Ostrom, ex-M.P.P., Trenton, was in the city to-day.

Mrs. J. A. H. Meyers, of Kingston, is in town visiting relatives.

Archbishop Cleary will conduct confirmation service in Trenton to-morrow.

Mr. Frank Miller, the well-known blacking manufacturer, was in town last night.

Mr. Jacob Wilson, of Belleville, is registered at the Central.—Peterborough Examiner.

Mrs. Doctorese Orr, an inmate of the house of industry, will be 110 years of age if she lives a few weeks longer.—Whig.

Miss E. Hicks, Colorado Springs; G. A. Masters, Berwick; S. A. Olds, Martinsville, Ind.; J. W. Shields, Hamilton, are at the Huffman.

Mr. R. T. Musson, accountant at the Bank of Commerce, who has been spending his holidays with his parents at Cobourg, returned last night.

J. E. Lockwood, G. W. Ostrom, W. Gibson and Willie Ostrom, Trenton; Colin G. Young, Queen's College, Kingston; W. W. Grant, Peterborough, are registered at the Anglo.

Judge Fralick has returned from circuit in the northern townships, during which he travelled upwards of 300 miles. He reports good duck shooting and fishing, but that he saw only five partridges. Mrs. Fralick accompanied her husband.

Miss Agnes Thompson spent last week with friends in Belleville.—Capt. W. Bloomfield has taken charge of the steamer Hero in place of Capt. Johnson who left for Washington.—Mr. Gaudin Embury, of Belleville, was the guest of Miss Blanche Grieve on Thursday.—Miss Blanche Hill, Belleville, is spending a few days with Miss Edith Scott, Graham st.—Napanee Beaver.

Mr. Frank Elliott paid Belleville a visit on Thursday.—Mr. W. Hudson, Belleville, was a visitor at the Fair on Tuesday.—Mr. Robert Bogle, principal of the Belleville Business College, was among our callers on Fair Day.— Messrs. H. Austin, of the Belleville INTELLIGENCER, and Chas. Marshall, of the Toronto News, were in town on Tuesday attending the township fair.—Mrs. Edward Harrison, who has been living in Buffalo, N. Y., for the past year or so, has moved to Hastings Co., and has taken up her residence at Moira. Mr. Harrison will arrive in a few days.—Tweed News.

Rich and Handsome.

A lot of finely finished brass lamps have just been opened by W. Corby & Co. They are handsome American goods, and were bought at special prices. They are marked below what such goods can be imported for in the regular way.

Died.

THOMPSON.—At Belleville on Friday, Oct. 5th, GEORGE THOMPSON, aged 27 years and 6 months.

The funeral will take place from his father's residence, corner Catherine and Sinclair Streets, on Sunday, Oct. 7th, at 3 o'clock p.m. Service at the house at 2:30.

HUCK.—At his father's residence, Frankford, on Monday, Oct. 1st, 1894, Wm. M. Huck, aged 24 years and 6 months.

HUCK, aged 24 years and 6 months.

HAY.—In Seymour township, on Sept. 26th, ELIZABETH HAY, wife of James Hay, aged 64 years.

BLAND.—In Seymour township, on Sept. 26th, BARBARA BLAND, aged 84 years and 10 months.

BRYCE.—In Campbellford, on Sept. 27th, ELIZABETH BRYCE, wife of Mr. J. R. Mc Crea, aged 39 years.

SPORTING NEWS

In the quoit match yesterday, Frank Olms won first prize and W. Morton the second prize.

Olms does not think that any of the Toronto players will meet him on the terms proposed.

Mr. George Thomas, Belleville's well known dog and bird fancier, was in town this morning and on his return to Belleville, took with him a couple of extra fine game cocks, of whose capabilities in the pit he had doubtless heard.—Peterboro' Examiner.

Lord Rosebery's bay colt Sir Visto won the Imperial stakes of 5,000 sovereigns at Kempton park yesterday.

Deseronto will have horse and bicycle races on Tuesday next. Liberal prizes are offered.

Magistrate Flint, Messrs. Thos. Ritchie, C. M. Burk and Hugh Reed leave on Monday for a week's fishing and hunting at Crow Lake.

Personal.

Miss Annie Graham, daughter of Mr. Donald Graham, of this city, was one of the bridesmaids at the wedding of Miss Annie Evelyn Billings and Walter H. Bruce at Christ Church Cathedral, Hamilton, on Wednesday, the 3rd inst. The wedding was a most sopherche affair. The Spectator says that the bridesmaids wore dresses of pink foulard with large picture hats of white Leghorn trimmed with pink roses. Each carried a shepherd's crook tied with pink ribbon, and they presented as fair a picture as could be imagined. The maid of honor was distinguished by large white lace rovers.

Big Maskinonge.

The Buffalo Express of this day's date contains a reproduction of a photograph of Messrs. A. N. Reid and L. A. Appleby, with the three fine maskinonge weighing untiedly 82 lbs., which they caught lately near Massassaga Park, The Express makes, however, an annoying mistake in crediting these fish to Lake Erie. Lawrence river, whereas they were taken in our good old Bay of Quinte, where there are plenty more as big. Mr. Appleby has designs on our "whale," the horseboats of which he wots of and of which more may be heard shortly.

One Night Only.

We will sell this evening a big lot of ladies' very fine shoes and slippers, all slightly soiled, at prices that will astonish —from 25c to 75 cents a pair.—HAINES & LOCKETT.

Apple Exports.

Messrs. M. H. Peterson & Co., apple exporters, Colborne, Ont., report that 60 (4) bbls of apples were shipped from Cobourg station for the week ending Sept. 29. The same week a year ago 65,588 bbls. were sent to Great Britain. The following cable was received by the firm from Liverpool on the 4th: "Market active; prices rather higher; Sundry Canadians, 12s to 15s 6d."

IT SEEMS TOO SMALL

to do any good, when you look at one of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. But just try it, when you're bilious or constipated, or have a sour stomach, or a fit of indigestion—and you'll own up that they're the best things in the world.

That's because they cure permanently, and do it, pleasantly. They're tiny, sugar-coated, and easy to take. There's no disturbance to the system, diet, or occupation. Satisfaction guaranteed, or money refunded.

Houston, Miss.

DR. R. V. PIERCE: Dear Sir—I could tell of a number of cases where Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines have cured. A friend of mine, Mr. Williams, was about used up with liver trouble; now he says that "Pleasant Pellets" have helped him more than any or all the medicines that he has ever taken.

James Colby

Stroud's

TEA STORE.

MR. GEO. MERRETT
Toronto, Ontario.

As Well as Ever

After Taking Hood's Sarsaparilla

Cured of a Serious Disease.

"I was suffering from what is known as Bright's disease for five years, and for days at a time I have been unable to straighten myself up. I was in bed for three weeks; during that time I had leeches applied and derived no benefit. Seeing Hood's Sarsaparilla advertised in the papers I decided to try a bottle. I found relief before I had finished taking half of a bottle. I got so much help from taking the first bottle that I decided to try another, and since taking the second bottle I feel well, and what I did have my life." GEO. MERRETT, Toronto, Ont.

HOOD'S Sarsaparilla CURES

Hood's Pills are prompt and efficient, yet easy of action. 25c.

Changed Daily.

SATURDAY, Oct. 6th, 1894.

Our.. New.. Stock

Keeps piling in every day. The Str. Alexandria arrives to-day with crates of

Dinner Sets,
Chinaware,
Silverware,
Glassware,

After this paving business is completed we will invite you to see the nicest goods we have ever shown, and prices equally as tempting.

Stroud's

TEA STORE.

"AN ALL ROUND MAN"

CAN'T DODGE THE OVERCOAT

QUESTION.

One of our good live preachers delivered a stirring sermon the other Sunday on the subject of "The All Round Man," Among some of the things the INTELLIGENCER reported him to have said, was :—"A man with self will and well defined ambition alone, was incomplete He must have breath, and health, and length to attain that moral excellence and symmetry of character which would approximate the ideal of the All Round Man he has endeavored to present.

We cordially endorse every word of the above ; but, from our point of view, the All Round Man is still incomplete without an OVERCOAT Men judge by appearance. If there be sermons in stones, books in the running brooks, and good in everything, THERE IS LIFE IN AN OVERCOAT—and the All Round Man is not complete without one To day, too—OUR TEXT IS OVERCOATS

We haven't had an opportunity to say a word about OVERCOATS ; but, we have a few COLD facts for you now When you are ready to "shake" your summer duds, we're ready to serve you with winter ones No man, who has any respect for his pocket book, can help "feeling" for it when he sees our pile of New Overcoats just out of the case. If you imagine we can't RETAIL Overcoats at WHOLESALE prices, your imagination fools you No barbed wire-high-priced fence around our Overcoats. No adjective, however strong, no statement, however extravagant, can exaggerate our banner stock of Light and Heavy Weight Overcoats for Fall and Winter wear. Keep on paying war prices for Overcoats if you will, but let the name of GOUGH remind you that you needn't. Giving you merely good value doesn't satisfy us—we aim to give you BETTER VALUE than you get elsewhere. No matter what you have been accustomed to paying or to wearing, we'll show you a $7 Bargain in an Overcoat that you can't afford to ignore—whoever you are.

Light Fall Overcoats for $5.75. $7 50 and $10.00, fit for any business , and any man who wears one of these can readily palm it off as a custom-made. Every garment a novelty, made by artists of the first standing. Don't pay other dealers $12 to $15 for an Overcoat you can buy at Gough's for $9 Don't pay other dealers $8 to $10 for an Overcoat you can buy at Gough's for $5. GOUGH'S OVERCOATS ARE FLYERS !

Mothers, save !—by buying our reliable Boy's Overcoats at Gough's, for we are giving extraordinary values for little money. We show every new idea for this fall. Now, will the tailor get all your money, or may we sell you one of our tightly made tailor Overcoats at a price about a third of what the merchant tailor demands?

LOWER AND LOWER go the Prices. HIGHER AND HIGHER we grow in public estimation. FINER AND FINER grades of goods all the time.

"ALWAYS GOOD AT GOUGHS"

GOUGH, The Wonderful Cheap Man, Belleville.

NEW.. GOODS

—AT—

FISH'S.

New Neckwear, the very latest, the colorings are entirely new, shapes very nobby, and prices very low.

New underwear, in all weights, all kinds, all prices, all sizes and cheaper than ever.

New half hose in cashmere, merino, Scotch lamb's wool and hand knitted Our 25c socks are great value.

See our new pink and blue shirts, our own make, the very latest.

A. E. FISH & CO.

The Noted Shirt Makers of Belleville.

HAPPY HOME RANGES.

Best in the Market.

—ALSO—

A Full Line of

Art Garland

and

Famous Heaters.

—(o)—

Wm. McGIE.

Next to Nathan Jones, Front St.

Telephone 38.

DON'T

Fail to see our fine display of

CANDIES

—AND—

FINE BAKERY GOODS

To morrow (Saturday).

H. C. DICKENS & SON.

P.S.—Oysters now arriving in fine order.

NO DOUBT YOU WILL REQUIRE A.....

New Hat

Or

Bonnet..

The Most Stylish and Wearable...

MILLINERY

IS AT

J. P. THOMPSON & CO.

STOCK COMPLETE IN ALL DEPARTMENTS.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY

WESTERN — EXCURSIONS

On October 4th, 5th and 6th. Return Tickets will be issued from Belleville to—

DETROIT and PORT HURON	$6.50
CLEVELAND	9.00
SAGINAW and BAY CITY	9 50
GRAND RAPIDS	10 50
CHICAGO and CINCINNATI	12 50
ST. PAUL and MINNEAPOLIS via Chicago or North Bay	35.50
ST. PAUL and MINNEAPOLIS via Lake and Rail	37 50

Tickets will be good to return until Oct. 22nd. For tickets and all information apply to

U. E. THOMPSON.

General Ticket Agent, Bridge Street.

END OF THE CENTURY.

MRS. E. LYNN LINTON WRITES ON ITS MORALS AND WAYS.

True Feminine Scolding—Are Old-Time Restrictions Dying Away, and Is Immorality a Right of the Individual?—Demands of the Revolted Daughters.

In civilized countries, men have not generally gloried in their offenses against the moral law. When they tripped they did not call a crowd to witness to their fall, nor vaunt it as a better way of going than upright walking. Still less, keeping themselves clean, did they induce others to besmear themselves with mud; nor did they endeavor to show that this mud was a beautiful and wholesome substance, and that to besmear with filth was much the same thing as to crown with roses and be diademed with rubies.

Respect for virtue has hitherto obtained even among the backsliders of those countries where society was founded on certain well-defined ethical principles. And if this has been true of the backslider, how much more then of the practically innocent. It is different with us English folk at the end of the nineteenth century—we of this self-laudatory fin-de-siecle, who openly advocate immorality as among the rights of the individual, and as openly deride those old-time restrictions by which social order and purity have hitherto been maintained.

Turn where we will, not one of the former landmarks dividing the permissible from the forbidden, has been left in its place. In the home and in the streets, in the press and in Parliament, are preached doctrines which upset all existing arrangements and introduce a new rendering of the Decalogue. The virtues once made obligatory are now nowhere in the field. The mutual interdependence of the various members of the community and the disciplined interaction, which makes the general good of more account than individual desire, have given place to an unchecked egotism which destroys the very root-work of organization.

The good of the community counts for nothing at all, and the desire of the individual sweeps the board. The due subordination of inferiority—the rightful influence of education and the authority of knowledge—the headship of man and the fitting functions of women—the grace of patience—the modesty of humility—the reticence of maidenhood—the courage of self-restraint—respect for the law—loyalty and patriotism—all forms of obedience in short, have vanished from our code. Instead of that self-respect in self-control which used to be the virtue practiced by pagans like Marcus Aurelius and Christians like Sidney and More and Melancthon, we hear only of the right of the individual to live such kind of life as he shall deem best for his own happiness.

This upsetting of old principles gives a phantasmagoric aspect to life, at once bewildering and distressing. Is there really no such thing as elemental morality—no difference between right and wrong, for the simple reason that nothing is right but as we make it—nothing wrong if we desire it? Are the virtues which Christ taught mere scarecrows put up by age and authority the better to subdue youth and disobedience? or were they the expression of the Higher Law of life and the truer wisdom?

Filial obedience, for example, is there such an obligation, or are parents the enemies and tyrants of their children, who are therefore in the right to defy and oppose them? Is it true that the reason why grandfathers and grandsons are generally good friends is, because they have a common enemy in the son of the one and the father of the other? As for mothers and daughters we have it on the testimony of one who speaks with authority—the former are unsympathetic, restrictive, coercive beyond reason, and the latter are therefore justified in their rebelliousness—are in right when they demand the dangerous liberties embodied in the symbol of the latch key.

The purity of maidenhood, bound up in its ignorance of certain forms and facts of life, which once all good men and motherly women regarded as a girl's most precious possession, of which only devils would rob her, that purity in ignorance has come to be a broken idol, open the flood-gates of moral filth to the young girl, hitherto guarded from defilement. Let her mind attune itself to those key-notes of impurity which the modern woman writes for the enlightenment of the modern girl—let her dabble in the obscene wreckage which our young men elaborate out of the depths of their own diseased imagination.

Let the grand distinction between the sheltered maiden and the wastrel of the streets be broken down; and under the delusive plea of the "protective power of knowledge" let the lady-girl learn betimes all that the gutter-bred has mastered from the beginning. In the apotheosis of immorality now fashionable, this mental defloration has its own place of honor; and the premature initiation is one of the rays of the infernal aureole about the head of the modern woman.

Yet where does the balance of practical immorality lie?—with the conscious, free and instructed wastrel, or with the sheltered and ignorant lady-girl? Ask a school-mistress what is the effect of a theoretically "knowing" girl on the minds of the ignorant—one academically instructed in certain things which some among us now say all the unmarried should understand. Her answer ought to settle that question; for there is not a capable and understanding woman in all England who has to deal with girls, who does not know the infinite evil of this theoretical initiation. Instead of protection it is incitement, filling the mind with thoughts and speculations destructive of all that it is most desirable to preserve.

Meanwhile, things are disheartening enough for those who care for the good of their country, the honor of the English name, and the general well-being of society. For, summing up the situation, what do we find? The forces of disorder strong and bold, face to face with a government weak, timid, and truckling. An outbreak of feminine impatience of restraint which relates to purity of mind and modesty of manners. Together with this outbreak, in some sense intelligible enough in the girl, we have the open advocacy of older women, who, themselves mothers, should be the careful guardians of those maidenly characteristics which hitherto all ages have agreed to reverence and require.

Instead of this, it is they who formulate the demands of the Revolted Daughters, who rest the right to be acquainted with vice in the chief item.—E. Lynn Linton, in Philadelphia Press.

Review of American Trade.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—R. G. Dun & Co's weekly review of trade says the lowest prices ever known for wheat and cotton necessarily imply somewhat restricted consumption of other products. Wheat has touched the lowest point ever known for options and cotton the lowest ever known in any form with the present classification, and the accumulation of stocks in both products is discouraging to purchasers for an advance. Producers are compelled to sell at prices below the ordinary cost of raising crops and in some western states there is also a lamentable failure of the corn crop. Under the circumstances it would be very strange if the demand for manufactured products should be quite as large as in other years. The condition of the industries is in some respects more satisfactory. The boot and shoe trade continues to deliver more goods. The new demand in dry goods is not as large as it has been and in spring goods the market is called remarkably dull.

A Novel Egg-Laying Contest.

An interesting egg-laying contest is in progress under the auspices of the National Stockman and Farmer. It is to cover a period of one year and is participated in by over two hundred contestants, who have varying numbers of hens entered, ranging from three to two hundred. A similar contest was conducted four years ago in which first place was won by a pen of Single-Comb Brown Leghorns, which averaged 222½ eggs each during the year. A pen of Silver-Laced Wyandottes stood second, with 200½ eggs each. In the present contest the first six months closed August 1, with a pen of eight Single Comb Brown Leghorns ahead with a record of 1,255 eggs to their credit, or nearly 157 for each hen and six months more for industry. Second place in the present contest is held by a pen of nine White Plymouth Rocks, with a credit of 1,295 eggs, or nearly 144 to each hen.

The Deadly Electricity.

YONKERS, N. Y., Oct. 6.—John Yeager, engineer at the Schuyler Electric Light Works, was killed by a shock of electricity. He was throwing a switch and is thought to have touched both poles at the same time.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

TORONTO, Oct. 6, 1894.

The total of available stocks of wheat in the United States and Canada, both coasts, afloat for and in Europe is 1,162,206,000 bushels.

Wheat was unsteady in Chicago, December closing weak while cash was firm. May corn closed unchanged. Oats closed ½c lower for May and ⅛c higher for cash.

THE FARMERS' MARKET.—On the street 400 bushels of wheat sold at 53c for white, 52c for red and 50c for goose; 300 bushels of barley changed hands at 42 1-2c to 45c; 150 of peas at 58 1-2c to 59c, and 400 oats at 30 1-2c to 31c. Outside prices remain unchanged.

In Buffalo the barley supply was in even demand.—For No. 1 Canada a bid of 62c was made and 66c asked. Quoted—No. 1 western, 60c; No. 2, 58c; sample, 55 to 57c; choice Minnesota, 60 to 61c; state, nominal; Canada, 61 to 66c.

The East Buffalo sheep and lambs market closed the meanest of the season. Good lambs sold $3.40 to $3.70 and several loads unsold.

The London stock markets opened firm but quickly gave way on continental selling accompanied by rumors of the death or critical condition of the Czar. Neither report was confirmed, but the latter statement is generally believed.

YES,

The Crockery trade is interesting. We've just about finished the heaviest fruit jar season on record. Now we'll pitch into LAMPS and FLOWER POTS. Prices are amazingly low. This month will see the lamp stock complete with 150 kinds. We have just placed an order for an elegant new stock of the celebrated "Meriden Britannia Co's." SILVER PLATE and Sterling Ware.

W. J. REID & CO'Y,

CRYSTAL HALL. Rous' Old Stand.

London and Belleville.

—ESTABLISHED 1870.—

Greenland Seal Driving Capes 24 Inches Long $12.00

Wool Seal Empire Capes 26 Inches Long $18.00

Persian Lamb Jackets made to order from $60.00 up, according to length and quality. Seal Jackets made to order, $125.00 up, according to length and quality. Thousand of dollars worth of Skins to pick from.

S. A. HYMAN.

Manufacturing Furrier.

P S.—Old Furs cleaned, dyed and made over in latest styles.

IT - HAS - BEEN - ADMITTED

—BY OVER 125 PEOPLE IN BELLEVILLE THAT THE—

John Bull Wrought Steel Range,

Is the most Economical, Everlasting and Useful Range on the market. How is this for three Seasons.

SEE THEM AT FOSTER'S.

Also the Duchess of Oxford Cast Iron Range

Schiffmann's Asthma Cure

Instantly relieves the most violent attacks facilitates free expectoration and insured rest to those otherwise unable to sleep except in a chair, as a single trial will prove. Send for a free trial package to Dr. R. Schiffmann's, St. Paul, Minn, but ask your druggist first.

GRAPES....

It is claimed that Grapes are the most healthy, and therefore the most nutritious fruit grown.

We have and will have through the season, large consignments and will sell very cheap, as crop is very large in the west. They are selling to day at

25c. per Basket...

Jas. Wallace & Co.

Peaches while season lasts.

BELLEVILLE PLATING WORKS

HARRIS & WALTON'S FACTORY, MILL ST.

ELECTRO—Gold, Silver, Nickel, Copper, Brass and Bronze.

PLATERS—Also Carriage Plating, Polishing, Buffing and Lacquering. Antique finishes of all kinds.

BURTON & MILLER

TELLIGENCER PRINTING AND PUBLISHING COMPANY (LIMITED.

J. C. JAMIESON, President. | J. W. LONDON, Secretary

THE Treasurer is the only person authorized to receive money from the Company, or to grant receipts for the same.

All Bills, Notes, Cheques and other documents binding on the Company, will require the signature of the President, in addition to that of the Treasurer.

THE INTELLIGENCER is printed and published by the INTELLIGENCER Printing and Publishing Company (Limited) by James C. Jamieson, resident in Belleville, at the Office, Front St., south of Afolot St.

Why Don't You Stop?

And think seriously of the benefits it would be to you to take out a Policy with the

ONTARIO MUTUAL LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY.

Their 20 years Survivorship Distribution Plan embraces both

PROTECTION and INVESTMENT,

And you can go about your business without worry as to the future.

S. BURROWS

Can give you facts and figures Ask him ! !

THE - FALL - RAINS

ARE WITH US.

YOUR HOUSE WANTS A NEW ROOF—

WE HAVE THE SHINGLES.

In all grades, at lowest prices. Ask for quotations and see

XX. XXX. Clear Butts

THE RATHBUN COMPANY.

His Dyspepsia Cured.

MR. GEO. READ.

DEAR SIRS,—

I write you to say that for some time I had been suffering from acute indigestion or dyspepsia, and of course felt very great inconvenience from same in my general business. I thereupon decided to try Burdock Blood Bitters, and after taking two bottles I found I was quite another man, for

B. B. B. CURED ME.

I have also used it for my wife and family, and have found it the best thing they can take, and from past experience I have every pleasure in strongly recommending B. B. B. to all my friends.

I write you because I think that it should be generally known what B.B.B. can accomplish in cases of indigestion.

GEORGE READ, Sherbrooke, Que.

DR. WOOD'S

Norway Pine Syrup.

Rich in the lung-healing virtues of the Pine combined with the soothing and expectorant properties of other pectoral herbs and barks.

A PERFECT CURE FOR

COUGHS AND COLDS

Hoarseness, Asthma, Bronchitis, Sore Throat, Croup and all THROAT, BRONCHIAL and LUNG DISEASES. Obstinate coughs which resist other remedies yield promptly to this pleasant piny syrup.

PRICE 25C. AND 50C. PER BOTTLE.

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

HAMILTON, TORONTO, AND MONTREAL,

Via Bay of Quinte Calling at all Ports Weekly.

THE FAVORITE STEAMER

"MAGNET"

Leaves St. Catharines Tuesday 9 a. m.
Toronto " 4 p. m.
Leaves Belleville for Montreal } Wednesday 7:30 a m
Leaves Belleville for Toronto } Sunday 8 p. m.

First Class Passenger Accommodation, Large Freight Capacity. Lowest Rates

For Tickets, Rates, &c., Apply to the RATHBUN COMPANY, Agents, or to

CAPT. J. J. TOWERS, Superintendent, No. 2 King st., Toronto.

C. F. GILDERSLEEVE, General Manager, 228 St. Paul st., Montreal.

ROCHESTER, KINGSTON AND MONTREAL.

Weekly Service Calling at Way Ports

THE PEOPLE'S FAVORITE STEAMER.

"ALEXANDRIA"

Leaves Montreal, Thursday at 10:00 a. m.
Arrives Belleville, Saturday at 11:45 a. m.
Leaves for Rochester " " 1:15 p. m.
Arrives from Rochester, Monday at 6:30 a. m.
Leaves for Montreal, " " 7:30 a. m.

Spacious and elegant Saloon. Ample Stateroom accommodation. The choicest and best Meals furnished. Safety, comfort and enjoyment ensured by personal supervision of Capt. Smith and Purser Melrose. Careful handling of freight.

For Tickets, State rooms at lowest rates apply to

THE RATHBUN COMPANY.
Agents.

Bay of Quinte Steamb't Route

TRI-WEEKLY

DESER'TO, PICTON & KINGSTON

1894 - 1894

STR. "HERO"

THIS favorite steamer is now lighted by electricity and will have a strong search light for excursion business and the boat is heated by steam.

Commencing Monday, April 9th, will leave Belleville Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 6 a m, returning Tuesday, Thursday and Friday at 11 p m.

The very best facilities are offered to shippers of freight. The lowest through and local rates quoted.

No wharfage at Picton on freight for this steamer.

Full information given by Gilbert Johnston on board, or to the

RATHBUN COM'Y,
H. GILDERSLEEVE, Ticket Agents,
Kingston.

ROCHESTER.

STEAMER

NORTH KING

Leaves for Charlotte, N. Y., every Sunday, 11:45 p.m.

Leaves for Picton and Kingston every Sunday, 3:20 a. m.

Arrive from Picton and Kingston every Sunday, 11:45 p.m.

Arrives from Charlotte, N. Y., every Sunday, 3:20 a. m.

Special attention given to passengers and freight

WEEK DAYS.—Steamer leaves Port Hope week days for Charlotte N. Y., at 9:45 a.m.

Calls at Brighton Monday 2 a.m., aand Wednesday 2.30 a.m., and at Colborne Wednesday and Fridays 4 a.m.

Connection made by Grand Trunk morning trains.

THE RATHBUN CO., Agents. U. E. THOMPSON, Agent.
43tf

STEAMER VARUNA

A HICKS Captain.

WILL leave Trenton every morning, (Sunday excepted) at 7:00 o'clock, calling at Rednersville and all points between the head of the bay and Picton, leaving Belleville at 8:30 a.m., Deseronto at 10:20 a.m.

On Tuesday and Thursday evenings to meet North King at Brighton, returning will leave Brighton Wednesday and Saturday mornings at 5:30.

Will connect at Picton with stage for Sand Banks.

Parties wishing to arrange for excursion rates will see Capt. Hicks on board

Will leave Picton at 1 p.m. on return for the head of the bay, Deseronto 2:30 p.m., Belleville, at 4:30 p. m., and Trenton, at 6.

Omnibuses in waiting at Picton, Belleville and Brighton.

The Rathbun Co., Agents, Belleville and Deseronto.

A. W. Hepburn, Agent, Picton.

ALLAN LINE

Royal Mail Steamships, Liverpool, Calling at Moville.

	From Montreal Daylight.	From Quebec. 9 a. m.
PARISIAN	Sept. 1	Sept 2
MONGOLIAN	Sept. 8	Sept 9
*LAURENTIAN	Sept. 15	not calling
SARDINIAN	Sept 22	Sept. 23
NUMIDIAN	Sept. 29	not calling
PARISIAN	Oct. 6	Oct. 7

RATES OF PASSAGE.

First Cabin, Derry and Liverpool, $45 and upwards, single; $95 and upwards return. Second Cabin, Liverpool, Derry, Belfast, Glasgow, $30; return $55. Steerage at lowest rates (everything found).

*Carries cabin only.

STATE LINE SERVICE.
NEW YORK, LONDONDERRY AND GLASGOW

STATE OF CALIFORNIA	Aug. 31
STATE OF NEBRASKA	Sept. 14
STATE OF CALIFORNIA	Sept. 28

Cabin passage $40 and upward, return $80 and upward; Second Cabin, $30, Steerage at lowest rates.

For tickets and every information apply to
U. E. THOMPSON,
General Ticket Agency
Bridge St., Belleville
or to S. BURROWS,
Agent

Daily Intelligencer.

At Death's Door—Dyspepsia Conquered —A Great Medical Triumph.

GENTLEMEN,—My medical adviser and others told me I could not possibly live when I commenced to use Northrop & Lyman's VEGETABLE DISCOVERY for Dyspepsia. My case was one of the worst of its kind. For three years I could not eat meat and my weight decreased from 219 to 119 lbs. All the food I took for thirteen months previous to taking the VEGETABLE DISCOVERY consisted of milk. I am now entirely cured and have regained my usual weight, can eat anything with a keen relish and feel like a new man. I have sold over thirty dozen VEGETABLE DISCOVERY since it cured me, as I am well-known, and people in this section know how low I was, and thought I could not possibly be cured. They are eager to try this grand medicine. It certainly saved my life, as I never expected to recover when first I commenced using it. I am not exaggerating anything but feel glad to be able to contribute this testimonial and trust it may be the means of convincing others of its merits as a certain cure for Dyspepsia.

Signed. JEAN VALCOURT,
Wotton, P. Q.

In 1888 the people of Great Britain paid taxes on 492,200 carriages.

Is there anything more annoying than having your corn stepped upon? Is there anything more delightful than getting rid of it? Holloway's Corn Cure will do it. Try it and be convinced.

In Portugal the tobacco tax brings £900,000, the land tax £700,000.

Some people laugh to show their pretty teeth. The use of Ivory White Tooth Powder makes people laugh more than ever. It's so nice. Price 25c. Sold by druggists.

Worms cause feverishness, moaning and restlessness during sleep. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator is pleasant, sure and effectual. If your druggist has none in stock, get him to procure it for you.

The rate of taxation has nearly quadrupled in France since 1830.

DYSPEPSIA causes dizziness, headache, constipation, variable appetite, rising and souring of food, palpitation of the heart, distress after eating. Burdock Blood Bitters is guaranteed to cure Dyspepsia if faithfully used according to directions.

Until about forty years ago, the Persian Government levied a tax on cats,

Mr. T. J. Humes, Columbus, Ohio, writes: 'I have been afflicted for some time with kidney and Liver Complaint, and find Parmelee's Pills the best medicine for these diseases. These Pills do not cause pain or griping, and should be used when a cathartic is required. They are Gelatine Coated, and rolled in the Flour of Licorice to preserve their purity and give them a pleasant, agreeable taste.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP cures Bronchitis.

FOR CHOLERA MORBUS, Cholera Infantum Cramps, Colic, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, and Summer Complaint Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is a prompt, safe and sure cure that has been a popular favorite for over 40 years.

SAFE
PLEASANT
RELIABLE
THE GREAT
BLOOD PURIFIER

BRISTOL'S
SARSAPARILLA
CURES ALL
Taints of the Blood.
CERTAIN

Railway Time Tables

Grand Trunk Railway.

Trains arrive at and depart from Belleville Station as follows:

GOING EAST.

	Arrive.	Leave.
Express	11:05 p.m.	11:10 a.m.
Express	12:45 p.m.	12:50 p.m.
Mixed	5:50 p.m.	6:00 p.m.
Mixed		6:25 a.m.
Express	1:00 a.m.	1:05 a.m.

GOING WEST.

	Arrive.	Leave.
Express	2:45 a.m.	2:50 a.m.
Limited Express	4:15 a.m.	4:20 a.m.
Passenger	11:25 a.m.	11:55 a.m.
Express	5:00 p.m.	5:05 p.m.
Mixed	9:30 p.m.

MIDLAND RAILWAY,
GRAND JUNCTION DIVISION.
Going West. (Leave.)

Mail	5:45 a. m.
Mixed	4:40 p. m.
Mixed	11:50 a. m.

(Going East Arrive.)

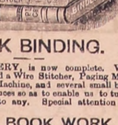

Mail	4:30 p.m.
Mixed	11:40 a.m.
Mixed	8:30 a. m.

CENTRAL ONTARIO RAILWAY,
PICTON DIVISION.

Leave G T R Jct.	6:30 a m	12:25 p m
Arrive Picton	8:05 "	2:25 "
Leave Picton	8:30 "	3:15 "
Arrive G T R Jct.	10:05 "	5:05 "

COE HILL DIVISION.

Going North. A M		Going South. P M
6:45	Trenton	4:55
7:00	G T R'y Junction	4:40
7:20	Frankford	4:20
7:35	Chisholm's	4:05
7:40	Anson (Mid R'y Junction)	4:00
7:55	Rawdon	3:45
8:10	C P R'y Junction	3:10
8:50	Marmora	2:55
9:25	Eldorado	2:25
9:40	Bannockburn	2:10
0:25	Gilmour	1:25
11:00	Ormsby (Rathbun)	12.50
11:15	Coe Hill	12:35

BOOK BINDING.

OUR BINDERY, is now complete. We have added a Wire Stitcher, Paging Machine, Backing Machine, and several small but necessary appliances so as to enable us to turn out work equal to any. Special attention is given to

BLANK BOOK WORK.

Merchants and others requiring books with special rulling and extra stock will find that they can be supplied at our bindery.

Books neatly repaired and all work promptly executed.

ADDRESS,

INTELLIGENCER P. & P. CO.,
(LIMITED.)
BELLEVILLE - ONT.

FARM AND GARDEN

FERTILIZERS.

Method in Applying in Order to Obtain the Best Results.

Considerable attention has of late been given by foreign investigators to the methods of applying fertilizers in order to obtain best results. Especially has the question of distribution and depth demanded attention. Among these investigators are Schlosing, Grandeau, Heinrichs, Hansen, Prunet and Peterman. The first of these has been experimenting several years, and his results seem to be accepted by many as conclusive, as they have been confirmed more or less fully by others. They indicate a decided advantage from replacing the common method of uniformly mixing the fertilizing material with the whole mass of surface soil, by that of applying the materials in rows parallel to those in which the plants are seeded. Schlosing experimented on a very poor artificial soil, in water-tight boxes, with a fertilizing mixture containing sulphate of potash, nitrate of soda, bone superphosphate and sulphate of magnesia. In the first series, the salts were dissolved in water and intimately mixed with the soil; in the second, they were mixed with an equal quantity of distilled water, the surface leveled, and applied in trenches four or five inches apart and about five inches in depth. Wheat, potatoes, beets, peas and beans were grown in the boxes. The excess of yield in the second series was 6.3 per cent. in the case of the wheat, 29.9 in the beans and 26 in the potatoes.

Prunet experimented in the same line with potatoes grown on plats of hills and plain soil, with fertilizers carefully mixed with the soil in one series, and in the other applied in trenches parallel to the rows of potatoes. The yield of tubers was larger where the fertilizer was applied in rows than where it was mixed with the soil.

The theory is presented that the sulphate of potash remains partly in solution and partly in a fixed state in combination with humus, and that the superphosphate is probably entirely fixed by the bases of the soil; that on the plats where the fertilizing material was thoroughly dissminated, the surfaces of contact of the potassic and phosphatic fertilizers with the constituents was very great, and therefore the fixation of those substances was very rapid. On the plats that received the fertilizers in rows parallel to the line of plants, the surface contact was greatly reduced and the fertilizers were rendered insoluble more slowly. It is reported that the roots were more thoroughly developed in the vicinity of fertilizers, which were more completely utilized.

Hansen has experimented for three years past on the comparative action of liquid manure spread over the whole surface, or applied only between the rows, and on the differences in results of application in June, July and August. The crop was sugar beets. The average of three years' results shows that, as compared with effect of application between the rows taken as 100, that of fertilization uniformly of the whole surface was 86, when made in June, 65 when made in July, and 26 when made in August.

The results are interesting and suggestive, yet the conditions of the experiments have not been altogether favorable to the final settlement of the question, as the organic nitrogenous fertilizers used have all been of a kind readily transformed into nitrates and carried down by drainage into the lower levels of the soil. It is true, also, that the pots received a larger amount of water at more regular intervals than would ordinarily be furnished in farm practice by rainfall. It is evident that this increase of yield is of sufficient practical importance to render desirable further tests and more detailed study of the subject.—Country Gentleman.

A CONVENIENT RURAL COTTAGE.

One That is Artistic as Well and Can be Built at Small Cost.

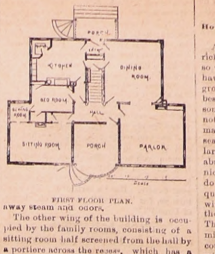

A house design, to be acceptable for the country home of a family of about five or six members, should have the exterior modest and unique in appearance, with a symmetrical arrangement of the house so as to give large, sunny rooms, with plenty of cozy piazza room. The design shown in the illustrations embodies these features. The residence is well adapted to a site necessarily near the road, but overlooking a pleasant prospect from the sides and rear. The hiproofed wings, at either side, seem to guard the domestic life affording a restful quiet and often obtained in an exposed location, and the high central roof rising above the porch adds dignity to the whole. The construction of this frame cottage is such as lends a character to the house different from a conventionally plain building, and yet it lacks the expensive detail work usually found in an original plan—the framing of the roofs being the most difficult part of the construction, and will readily be understood from a little study of the plans. Entering at the front (see first floor plan), winding steps lead to a square porch, whose curved front affords an extensive view up and down the street; and on summer evenings this is an attractive place, with windows opening out upon it from the two front rooms.

REAR VIEW OF COUNTRY RESIDENCE.

The transverse hall is lighted by a large window at the farther end; at the right of the entrance is a large square parlor, with windows on every side. A mantel with a pleasant chimney corner seat for reading is at the rear, alongside the wide folding doors opening into the dining-room; a fireplace is also placed in a corner of this room, which communicates with the outside chimney running up in the angle of the house. A door leads into the front hall, and through an entry access is had from the back porch; while an inside passage, fitted up with china and pantry closets, is lighted from the entry, and separates the dining room from the kitchen and cellar stairs. The kitchen has the conveniences of a range, with hot water boiler upon a broad hearth in a niche at one side, a sink with set tubs near by, and a cupboard with sliding doors opposite, under the stairs. A corner is cut out of this room to provide for a very convenient, light and airy pantry; although it is small, yet with the closet room already spoken of, it is sufficient for the usual needs. A passage between the kitchen and hall isolates it from the front of the house, keeping away steam and odors.

FIRST FLOOR PLAN.

The other wing of the building is occupied by the family rooms, consisting of a sitting room half screened from the hall by a portiere across the recess, which has a coat closet at one end; at the farther corner of the sitting room another portiere shuts off a small sewing room. The symmetry and regularity of the sitting room aid the decorator in making this a very pretty apartment. Between the sewing room and the passage is a bedroom with fireplace, closet and wardrobe. The central feature of the hall is the broad staircase, rising between the partition walls and having a baluster on either side; at the head of the stairs a windowed door opens upon a balcony over the rear porch. Three large chambers surround this hall, with plenty of closet room in each, and chimney connection in every room. There is room enough under the main part of the house for a cellar, and such basement conveniences as are desired. Winding steps outside lead down to a basement entrance beneath the porch in the rear. [The size of all the various apartments may be found by comparing the scale of feet accompanying the first floor plan given in the illustration first floor plan.]—D. Comings, in American Agriculturist.

SECOND FLOOR PLAN.

Agricultural Science.

At the recent meeting of the Society for the Promotion of Agricultural Science, held at Brooklyn, N.Y., Prof. Wm. Saunders, president, in his opening address, gave a review of the work of experiment stations in the United States and Canada, particularly the latter. A feature much dwelt on was the experiments in hybridizing grain and fruit. Over 700 varieties of grain have been produced, of which 400 are still under cultivation, in the attempt to develop useful sorts. The most numerous hybrids have been those of different kinds of wheat. The Red Fife, the leading Canadian wheat, has been crossed with many imported varieties, the most noteworthy being the Ladoga wheat, a bearded variety from Russia, grown in high latitudes near the lake of that name, and ripening earlier than the Red Fife, and several varieties from the Himalaya mountains, at altitudes from 400 to 11,000 feet. Hybrids have been produced, ripening from four to six days sooner than the Red Fife. The drawbacks have been that the Ladoga wheat makes flour which gives bread of dark color; and the Himalayan wheat is generally less vigorous than Red Fife. However, by selecting the best hybrids, improved varieties of wheat are being developed; 227 of the 400 thus created, are still preserved and cultivated.

In barley, numerous hybrids have been produced, the two-rowed and six-rowed having been crossed, as well as other varieties.

Prof. Saunders believes that he has produced a genuine cross between wheat and rye, and that for the first time, as he discredits the alleged cross claimed by a New Yorker several years ago. Successful crosses been made also of different varieties of peas.

Small fruits have been the subject of numerous experiments. The black currant has been crossed with the gooseberry, and with the white currant. These several crosses produced bushes which blossomed profusely, but utterly failed to ripen fruit. The leaves in many cases were entirely divested of the strong odor characteristic of black currant.

A more successful venture was the crossing of a large red raspberry with black cap, resulting in a large purple cap berry.

Prof. Saunders was re-elected president for the current year, and Prof. Wm. Frear, Pennsylvania State College, secretary and treasurer.

Budding Fruit Trees.

Fruit trees which are almost worthless can be rendered valuable by budding good varieties on them. The months of early fall are best for this as the work should be done before the sap ceases to flow.

A Rock-Ribbed Truth.

Time put into farm improvements is a better patrimony than money in the ban for your children.

Fertilizers in the Garden.

The effect produced by applying nitrate and superphosphate to flowers, vegetables and lawns is often wonderful. I have seen plants change from a sickly yellow to a luxuriant green within two days after applying nitrate of soda to them. The effect on grass is to keep it green and healthy during dry weather. This is accomplished, in part, by causing the roots of the grass to penetrate deep into the soil, following the nitrate, which has been washed down by rains earlier in the season, and thus enabling the grass to procure water from the moist soil below the surface. Where the food is, there you will find the roots.

There are a few plants known as "leguminous plants," among which are peas, beans and clover, which do not require an additional supply of nitrogen. To fertilize these, all that is necessary is superphosphate, ground bone, or some other form of phosphoric acid, and muriate of potash, or wood ashes. For all other crops or plants nitrate of soda should be added to the above materials.—S. M. Harris, in Florist and Gardener.

Sheep After Plowing.

Where plowing is done for wheat, sheep are the best stock to keep on the plowed land to compact its surface. They will eat down weeds and the growth of scattered grain and thus prevent any need of cultivation which makes the soil too light. Their manure is scattered more evenly than that of any other stock. Sheep can be put on wheat in the fall to crop its growth with advantage to the crop.

SWEET PEAS.

How the Best Results May Be Obtained by Cultivators.

A near neighbor of mine, says D. Hendricks in Country Gentlemen, has succeeded so well this season with sweet peas that I have learned a lesson or two about their growth and what is needed to secure the best results, which may be unfamiliar to some. The first desideratum is a wet soil—not merely a moist soil, but one which remains continuously wet all through the season. That is the spot where this popular vine thrives best and blooms most abundantly. He thinks they would grow nicely in a tank of undrained soil, but I do not put them in the list of acquatics quite yet. His garden is low and wet, with a heavy soil that never gets dry, though he has supplied partial drainage. There he planted Eckford's varieties, mixed, as early last spring as the ground could be worked, making the drills rich with stable manure, and using plenty of seed. He has four rows, with a total length of perhaps 100 feet. The plants received no special after-culture, except to provide upright support. For this the ordinary wire netting was used to good effect. The vines grew rapidly and with great vigor from the start, and came into bloom very early.

From that time to the last week in August, they had continued to bloom with marvelous abundance and great beauty, surpassing anything I have heard or read of. He and his family, his friends and neighbors from far and near, have been picking them daily, by the peck and half-bushel; and yet the bright, sweet blossoms are there anew, to greet the beholder each succeeding morning, as abundant as ever, and "Mac's" sweet peas are the wonder of the city in which they grow. He is a newspaper man, without floral knowledge or garden experience, but he loves flowers, and his sweet pea harvest has made him enthusiastic. He has had a world of pleasure in gathering the blossoms and supplying his friends with the fragrant beauties. The vines are now about twelve feet high, and still running upward as rapidly as ever, with no sign of stopping. Sections of wire netting have been added from time to time, and a series of scaffolding has been erected on either side of each double row.

He estimates that from the middle of June, when he began to gather the blossoms, until September, the daily picking has averaged one peck for last two weeks of June, two pecks through July and three pecks for August, making a total product to September of 42 bushels. The flowers have been closely gathered each day. It would be idle, of course, to attempt any estimate as to the number of sprays contained in such a mass of bloom. The vines are to-day as green and fresh as ever, and nothing but frost is likely to end their luxuriant career.

VINCA ROSEA.

The gentleman thinks that next season he will set ten-foot posts along on either side of the double rows at convenient distances, at the time of planting. To these he will nail cross-pieces, upon which the plank scaffolding can be placed, having steps at each end to reach the platform, from which the flowers can gathered.

The secret of his success seems to be—wet soil and plenty of sunshine; although I should add that his garden is partly shaded late in the afternoon, it being on the northerly side of a ridge upon which is a row of buildings. All other sweet peas in this vicinity have ceased to bloom weeks ago, and many of the plantings are dead.

A Farm Stable.

A writer in The Tribune gives his method of ventilation and of making a cement floor. We quote a fraction of his remarks:

"My plan of ventilation is to have an open hay chute above the manger and extending the entire length of it, and we arrange the barn so that this hay chute comes at the side of the barn floor above and just under the edge of the hay bay, my barn being a basement barn. With plenty of windows and doors below and this opening over the manger, and good bedding used freely, the air of the stable is always sweet and wholesome. For laying stable floors only Portland cement should be used, but as a barrel of it will make nearly 100 square feet of floor for a cow stable, and good Portland cement can now be bought at $3 per barrel, the cost of the material is actually less than that of plank and joist, for with suitable joist and a two-inch floor it will require nearly 400 feet of lumber for 100 square feet of floor, and this would cost me $2 a hundred for pine or $2.50 a hundred for oak lumber. My entire stable is floored with cement—horse and cow stalls, manger, manure ditch, cellar and bedding room and a walk two feet wide back of the manure ditch.

"To make this concrete, we mix one part of cement to six parts of good gravel, or finely broken stone four parts and coarse sand two parts, will answer. This is thoroughly mixed dry, then slightly wet by sprinkling with a watering pot, and thoroughly mixed until every pebble is coated with the cement, and then rammed solid. The finishing coat is mixed, two parts of sand to one of cement, thoroughly tempered and poured on quite thin and level, and then left to harden. Little skill is required to put down a cement floor, as any one can, with a level and straight-edge, get it level, and it does not need to be troweled smooth, as horses and cattle would be less likely to slip on it if left rough. We lay in sections four or five feet wide by staking 2x4 or 2x6 edges and level it with a light straight edge."

Splitting Cabbage Stems.

A description is given of a method for arresting the growth of cabbage heads nearly mature, and thereby preventing their cracking. This is performed by cutting the cabbage stem half or two thirds across with a sharp pruning knife and then extending the cut either up or down for a short distance. If the cabbage does not bend over by its own weight and thus widen the split, a splinter of wood should be inserted to keep the cut surfaces apart. By this means the further growth of the heads is arrested, and yet sufficient sap reaches them to keep them fresh until wanted for use.

CRATES IN HARVESTING.

Saving Effected by Their Use in Marketing Apples and Potatoes.

One of the most successful potato growers in the United States harvests all his potatoes into bushel crates, says the American Agriculturist, piling them up upon a two-horse wagon until fully loaded, when they are drawn directly from the field to market or to the railroad to be loaded upon the cars, or to the cellar to be stored for a later market. The advantage in the use of such crates is obvious. They afford a receptacle into which the potatoes can be picked from the ground and carried to the cart, and as the crate is set into the cart and an empty crate taken, there is no bruising of the tubers, as when poured several times into and out of baskets in getting them from the field to their destination. The same advantage has even more force in the case of gathering apples, which should be handled as little as possible to preserve the keeping qualities of the fruit. Of course a large number of crates is required where one's potato field or orchard is extensive, but well-made crates once provided will last almost a lifetime, and become better and better appreciated the longer they are used. The particular crate figured has solid ends and slat sides and bottom. The ends have two upright cleats and a horizontal cleat at the top, which forms a handle on each end, by which the crate is readily carried. Cut nails and spruce boards would best be used in the construction of these crates, for cut nails and spruce lumber do not readily part company. The crates can be made in bushel or two-bushel sizes, as preferred, being made of such a size in length, breadth and height as will make them fit most economically into one's cart or farm wagon box, taking care always to keep the cubic contents the same, that called for in a bushel or two-bushel measure. Where one is hauling his crops directly to market, such crates will help very materially in selling the crops, for if the dealer can receive them in the crates, pile them up in his cellar without emptying, and bring them up and sell them from the crate as wanted—when the empty crate can be stored away for its owner,—he will be much better pleased, and will often accept produce thus crated in preference to the offering of another which must be handled over at least twice, increasing labor and injuring the fruit. The making of a supply of such crates will afford occupation for some rainy days, when other work cannot be done.

BUSHEL CRATE.

Oil the Harness.

There are often rainy days at this season of the year when little can be done to good advantage. The farmer has a full working force at his command, and must be on the lookout to make the best of the time at his disposal. A day cannot be more profitably appropriated than by giving the harness a good oiling.

Many farmers wholly neglect this, while others think this work can only be done in a proper manner by the expert harness-maker. The "know how," of course, must be at your command or your labor may be even worse than lost. There are a few things that must be understood to do this work to be a benefit to your property.

Separate all the parts of the harness and give it a thorough washing. This is best done in a common washtub. Put in all the parts; cover with clean, soft water of a temperature of about 100 degrees; about a pint of good, home-made soft soap can be added to each set of harness. Harnessmakers use salsoda to remove the dirt, but I prefer good soft soap. Allow the harness to soak about half an hour; then with a good stone rag or brush remove all the dirt. Use a board to wash over; put in the tub washboard fashion; also have a sharp hickory stick to dig around the loops and buckles. Wash clean and hang up to dry in a place free from dust. Do not hang in the sun. For oiling, use good neatsfoot oil. A little tallow can be added with good success in proportions of one to ten. Also add a little lampblack. About three pints of oil will be absorbed per set of harness. Heat well and apply as hot as your hand will bear.—Ohio Farmer.

A "Tail-Board" Fastener.

The device shown in the accompanying illustration was recently seen in use upon a cart that was made for the carriage of heavy loads, and worked so well that its general use is commended. Where the "tail-board" is fitted in behind two upright rounds of wood, a heavy load presses out so hard upon the board as to make it difficult to move. One end may be retained in the old way, and the device that is shown, made of half-inch round iron, placed upon the other end, the convenience of which will be appreciated when it is in use.—American Agriculturist.

TAIL-BOARD FASTENER.

French Agricultural Education.

M. Leon Vassilliere, agricultural commissioner for France, in a recent interview detailed the French system of agricultural education. The system may be divided into three parts, that for the young, that for adults out of school, and that for scientific and practical education. The principal institute at Paris has a course of two years that requires a stiff examination to gain admittance. The first year the fundamentel sciences are studied for paving the way to the applications that follow during the second year in more practical work. This institute has a farm. In addition to the illustrations of the farm the students are required to work two months on a farm that is well managed.

The Ecoles Nationales is one-half year longer than the institute mentioned, but here more of manual labor is required. The schools have for an object the education of managers of large farms. There are Ecoles practiques for the education of managers of medium-sized farms. A professor of agriculture is salaried by the government for each department of France for the direct teaching of farmers and for conducting experiments. One of his functions that should attract attention is his duty to teach in the normal schools. Here a great work can be done in instructing the teachers that have the charge of the common schools.

Horticultural Notes.

By growing strawberries in matted rows they are better able to withstand the winters.

With many varieties of small fruits protection is a decided advantage. This is especially the case of gooseberries, currants and blackberries.

In transplanting it is always a safe rule to set out plants reasonably deep, to take care in removing the plants to have them in as good condition as possible and to have the earth solid and firm around the plants.

AT HEROD'S BANQUET.

SALOME, THE DANCER, AND HER DISTINGUISHED VICTIM.

A Wicked Woman's Influence—The Disgusting Scenes at that Blood Revel—The Ball-room Then and To-day—Dr. Talmage on Dancing and Its Concomitants

BROOKLYN, September 30, 1894.—Rev. Dr. Talmage, who is still absent on his round the world tour, has selected as the subject of to-day's sermon, through the press: "The Quick Feet," the text chosen being Matthew 14, 6: "When Herod's birthday was kept, the daughter of Herodias danced before them, and pleased Herod."

It is the anniversary of Herod's birthday. The palace is lighted. The highways leading thereto are all ablaze with the pomp of invited guests. Lords, captains, merchant princes, the mighty men of the land, are coming to mingle in the festivities. The table is spread with all the luxuries that royal purveyors can gather. The guests, white robed and anointed and perfumed, come in and sit at the table. Music! The jests evoke roars of laughter. Riddles are propounded. Repartee is indulged. Toasts are drank. The brain is befogged. The wit rolls on into uproar and blasphemy. They are not satisfied yet. Turn on more light. Four out more wine. Music! Sound all the trumpets. Clear the floor for a dance. Bring in Salome, the beautiful and accomplished princess. The door opens, and in bounds the dancer. The lords are enchanted. Stand back and make room for the brilliant gyrations. These men never saw such "poetry of motion." Their soul whirls in the reel and bounds with the bounding feet. Herod forgets crown and throne and everything but the fascinations of Salome. All the magnificence of his realm is as nothing now compared with the splendor that whirls on tiptoe before him. His body sways from side to side, corresponding with the motions of the enchantress. His soul is thrilled with the pulsations of the feet and bewitched with the taking postures and attitudes more and more smazing. After a while he sits in enchanted silence looking at the flashing, leaping, bounding beauty, and as the dance closes and the tinkling symbals cease to clap and the thunders of applause that shook the palace begin to abate, the enchanted monarch swears to the princely performer, "Whatsoever thou shalt ask of me I will give it thee, to the half of my kingdom." Now, there was in prison at that time a minister of the Gospel by the name of John the Baptist, and he had been making a great deal of trouble by preaching some very plain and honest sermons. He had denounced the sins of the king and brought down upon him the wrath of the females of the royal household. At the instigation of her mother, Salome takes advantage of the extravagant promise of the King and says, "Bring me the head of John the Baptist on a dinner plate."

Hark to the sound of feet outside the door and the clatter of swords. The executioners are returning from their awful errand. Open the door. They enter and they present the platter to Salome. What is on this platter? A new glass of wine to continue the uproarious merriment? No. Something redder and more horrible—the gory, bleeding head of John the Baptist, the death glare still in the eye, the locks dabbled with the gore, the features still distressed with the last agony. This woman, who had whirled so gracefully in the dance, bends over the awful burden without a shudder. She gloats over the blood, and with as much indifference as a waiting-maid might take a tray of empty glassware out of the room after an entertainment, Salome carries the dissevered head of John the Baptist, while all the banqueters shout with laughter, and think it a good joke that in so easy and quick a way they have got rid of an earnest and out-spoken minister of the Gospel.

Well, there is no harm in a birthday festival. All the kings from Pharaoh's time had celebrated such occasions, and why not Herod? No harm in kindling the lights. No harm in spreading the banquet. No harm in arousing music. But from the riot and wassail that closed the scene of that day every pure nature revolts. I am not at this time to discuss the old question, is dancing right or wrong? but I am to discuss the question, Does dancing take too much place and occupy too much time in modern society, and in my remarks I hope to carry with me the earnest conviction of all thoughtful persons, and I believe I will.

You will all admit, whatever you think of that style of amusement and excercise, that from many circles it has crowded out all intelligent congression. You will also admit that it has made the condition of those who do not dance, either because they do not know how, or because they have not the health to endure it, or because through conscientious scruples they must decline the exercise, very uncomfortable. You will also admit, all of you, that it has passed in many cases from an amusement to a dissipation, and you are easily able to understand the bewilderment of the educated Chinaman, who, standing in the brilliant circle where there was dancing going on four or five hours, and the guests seemed exhausted, turned to the proprietor of the house and said, "Why don't you allow your servants to do this for you?"

"The feet were not given for dancing, but to walk modestly, and not to leap impudently like camels. One of the dogmas of the ancient Church reads:—"A dance is the devil's possession, and he that entereth into a dance entereth into his possession. As many paces as a man makes in dancing, so many paces does he make to hell." Elsewhere the old dogmas declared this:—"The woman that singeth in the dance is the princess of the devil, and those that answer are her clerks, and the beholders are his friends, and the music is his bellows, and the fiddlers are the ministers of the devil. For as when hogs are strayed, if the hogherd call one all assemble together, so when the devil calleth one woman to sing in the dance, or to play on some musical instruments, presently all the dancers gather together." This indiscriminate and universal denunciation of the exercise came from the fact that it was utterly and completely depraved.

But we are not to discuss the customs of the olden times, but customs now. We are not to take the evidence of the ancient fathers, but our own conscience, enlightened by the Word of God, is to be the standard. Oh, bring no harsh criticism upon the young. I would not drive out from their souls the hilarities of life. I do not believe that the inhabitants of ancient Wales, when they stepped to the sound of the rustic harp, went down to ruin. I believe God intended the young people to laugh and romp and play. I do not believe God would have put exuberance in the soul and exuberance in the body if he had not intended they should in some wise exercise it and demonstrate it. If a mother join hands with her children and cross the floor to the sound of music, I see no harm. If a group of friends cross and recross the room to the sound of piano well played, I see no harm. If a company, all of whom are known to host and hostess as reputable, cross and recross the room to the sound of musical instrument, I see no harm. I tried for a long while to see harm in it. I could not see any harm in it. I never shall see any harm in that. Our men need to be kept young, young for many years longer than they are kept young. Never since my boyhood days have I had more sympathy with the innocent hilarities of life than I have now. What though we have felt heavy burdens! What though we have had to endure hard knocks! Is that any reason why we should stand in the way of those who, unstrung of life's misfortunes, are full of exhilaration and glee? God bless the young! They will have to wait many a long year before they hear me say anything that would depress their ardor or clip their wings or make them believe that life is hard and cold and repulsive. It is not. I tell them, judging from my own experience, that they will be treated to a great deal better than they deserve. We have no right to grudge the innocent hilarities to the young.

As to the physical ruins wrought by the dissipations of social life there can be no doubt. What may we expect of people who work all day and dance all night? After awhile they will be thrown on society nervous, exhausted imbeciles. These people who indulge in the suppers and the midnight revels and then go home in cold unwrapped limbs, will after a while be found to have been written down in God's eternal records of suicides, as much suicides as if they had taken their life with a pistol, or knife, or strychnine.

How many people have stepped from the ball-room into the graveyard! Consumptions and swift neuralgias are close on their track. Amid many of the glittering scenes of social life, diseases stand right and left and balance and chain. The breath of the sepulchre floats up through the perfume and the froth of Death's lips bubbles up in the champagne. I am told that in some of the cities there are parents who have actually given up housekeeping and gone to boarding that they may give their time illimitably to social dissipations. I have known such cases. I have known family after family blasted in that way in one of the other cities where I preached. Father and mother turning their back upon all quiet culture and all the amenities of home, leading forth their entire family in the wrong direction. Annihilated, worse than annihilated—for there are some things worse than annihilation. I give you the history of more than one family when I say they went on in the dissipations of social life until the father dropped into a lower style of dissipation, and after a while the son was tossed out into society a nonentity, and after a while the daughter eloped with a French dancing-master, and after a while the mother, getting on further and further in years, tries to hide the wrinkles but fails in the attempt, trying all the arts of the belle, an old flirt, a poor miserable butterfly without any wings.

If there is anything on earth beautiful to me it is an aged woman, her white locks flowing back over the wrinkled brow—locks not white with frost as the poets say, but white with the blossoms of the tree of life, in her voice the tenderness of gracious memories, her face a benediction. As grandmother passes through the room the grandchildren pull at her dress, and she almost falls in her weakness, but she has nothing but candy or cake or a kind word for the little darlings. When she gets out of the wagon in front of the house the whole family rush out and cry, "Grandma's come!" and when she goes away from us never to return, there is a shadow on the table, and a shadow on the hearth, and a shadow on the heart. There is no more touching scene on earth than when grandmother sleeps the last slumber and the little child is lifted up to the casket to give the last kiss, and she says, "Good-by, grandma!" Oh, there is beauty in old age. God says so. "The hoary head is a crown of glory." Why should people decline to get old? The best things, the greatest things I know of are aged. Old mountains, old seas, old stars and old eternity. But if there is anything distressful, it is to see an old woman ashamed of the fact that she is old. Clad with all the artificial appliances, she is too much for my gravity. I laugh even in church when I see her coming. The worst looking bird on earth is a peacock when it has lost its feathers. I would not give one look of my old mother's gray hair for fifty thousand such caricatures of humanity. And if the life of a worlding, if the life of a disciple given to the world is sad, the close of such a life is simply a tragedy.

You know as well as I do that the dissipations of social life are destroying thousands and tens of thousands of people, and it is time that the pulpits lift their voice against them, for I now prophesy the eternal misfortune of all those who enter the rivalry. When did the white, glistening boards of a dissipated ball-room over become the road to Heaven? When was a torch for eternity ever lighted at the chandelier of a dissipated scene? From a table spread after such an excited and desecrated scene who ever went home to pray?

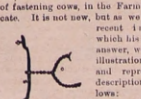

As the [illegible] religious [illegible] Christian young woman spoke to me in regard to his soul's salvation. He floated out into the world. After awhile she became worldly in her Christian profession. The man said one day, "Well, I am as safe as she is. I was not a Christian; she said she was a Christian. She talked with me about my soul; if she is safe, I am safe." Then a sudden accident took him off without an opportunity to utter one word of prayer. Do you not realize, have you not noticed, young and old—have you not noticed that the dissipations of social life are blasting and destroying a vast multitude? While the masquerade ball of life goes on, they trip merrily over the floor, gemmed hand is stretched to gemmed hand, and gleaming brow bends to gleaming brow. On with the dance! Flash and rustle and laughter of immeasurable merriment. But after awhile the languor of death comes on the limbs and blurs the eyesight. Lights lower. Floor hollow with sepulchral echo. Music saddened into a wail. Lights lower. Now the masqueraders are only seen in the dim light. Now the fragrance of the flowers is like the sickening odor that comes from garlands that have lain long in the vaults of cemeteries. Lights lower. Mists gather in the room. Glasses shake as though quaked by sullen thunder. Sigh caught in the curtain. Scarf drops from the shoulder of beauty, a shroud. Lights lower. Over the slippery boards in dance of death glide jealousies, envies, revenges, lust, despair and death. Stench the lamp-wicks almost extinguished. Torn garlands will not half cover the ulcerated feet. Choking damps. Chilliness. Fest still. Hands closed, voices hushed. Eyes shut. Lights out.

Oh, how many of you have floated far away from God through social dissipations, and it is time you turned. For I remember that there were two vessels on the sea and in a storm. It was very, very dark, and the two vessels were going straight for each other and the captains knew it not. But after a while the man on the one vessel saw the approaching ship, and he shouted, "Hard a larboard!" and from the other vessel the cry went up, "Hard a larboard!" and they turned just enough to glance by, and passed in safety to their harbors. Some of you are in the storm of temptation, and you are driving on and coming toward fearful collisions unless you change your course. Hard a larboard! Turn ye, turn ye, for "why will ye die, oh, house of Israel?"

STALL FASTENINGS.

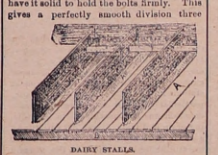

A Voice From Quebec Giving Some Good Counsel.

George Reburn, of the province of Quebec, describes and illustrates his method of fastening cows, in the Farmers' Advocate. It is not new, but as we have had recent inquiries which his article will answer, we have had illustrations made and reproduce his description as follows:

SLIDE AND CHAIN.

I would by all means advise the use of the chain in tying cattle. After twenty years' experience, I have found this to be the best way. I shall never forget the first time I saw cattle fastened in stanchions; it reminded me of the pictures I had seen of the way prisoners were punished in the olden times by being put in the stocks, and I cannot understand how any enterprising breeder would for one moment endure it in his buildings. The way we fasten our Jerseys is by a chain sliding up and down on an iron rod, made with 1-inch iron, twenty inches long, bolted to the side of the division, top and bottom. All our cows are in single stalls (which is by far the best) four feet wide by seven feet in length, including manger; the divisions are six feet long, three and one-half feet in height at the cow's head, and three feet behind; this is sufficient to separate them and does not hide them in the least. The divisions are made with one-inch planed T. & G. boards; posts at each end three by six, and grooved sufficiently to allow the board to be sunk into the post. Opposite where the rod is we put a one-inch board on end between the planed boards, so as to have it solid to hold the bolts firmly. This gives a perfectly smooth division three inches thick, and no posts projecting to rub the skin off the animal's hips when it lies down. Our mangers are made so as to slide out like a drawer; they are about four inches above the floor, and can be removed any time to remove any foul stuff that has gathered. We have the front of the stalls boarded up with one and one-quarter-inch boards, but if water is kept in front of the cows a slide will have to be made above the manger so as to feed by it instead of over the top. This is easily done by having a one and a half-inch plank one foot wide, at an angle of forty-five degrees, just above the manger and fastened at every division with iron.

DAIRY STALLS.

When I make my nightly visit to the stables and notice the comfortable way in which the cattle are resting, with their heads curled round just the same as if they were on pasture, I am satisfied that the chain is by far the best and most humane way.

An Effective Harrow.

The Ohio Farmer gives this cut and description of a harrow in use on the farm of Mr. Leister, and says that it is very effective in work.

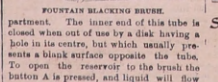

MR. LEISTER'S HARROW.

Description—Beams, A, 2x3 inches. Cross-pieces, B, 1½x2 inches. Length of beam, 4 feet 6 inches. Distance between teeth, 10 inches. Length of teeth, 10 inches by 1 inch in diameter. Slope of teeth, 4 inches in 10.

A Fountain Blacking Brush.

Fountain ink wells and pens are not novelties in these days, but the reservoir principle has just been applied to a brush by an English manufacturer. In this device the handle, A to C, is hollow and forms the storage vessel. C is a cap with a screwed junction uniting it to the body of the brush. B is a cap of a similar kind, but formed with a hollow circular space at its centre. Through this the bristles of the brush proper pass.

The peculiarity of this brush is that it is arranged on a separate former, with the centre hollow at its inner end, and into this a tube passes from the reservoir compartment. The inner end of this tube is closed when out of use by a disk having a hole in its centre, but which usually presents a blank surface opposite the tube. To open the reservoir to the brush the button A is pressed, and liquid will flow out at the rate which it is being used. The valve arrangement is very similar to that employed in oil cans, but has the addition of two flat springs, keeping the disk valve close up to the partition against which it works, and therefore doing away with the creepage which so often takes place through a valve of this kind.

FOUNTAIN BLACKING BRUSH.

Extraordinary Adulteration.

Wood pulp has been put to many uses, but the most extraordinary is in adulterating woolen yarn. A way of spinning the pulp has been discovered, and the product can be combined with wool in making yarn, in the proportion of one part of wood to two parts of wool. Much of the composite yarn said to have been made into hosiery, and few complaints as to wear have been received.

Times of Terror and Fear.

Terrible Misery of a Well-Known Toronto Gentleman.

Mr. J. B. Butts Says: "I am satisfied Paine's Celery Compound Saved My Life."

J. B. BUTTS, TORONTO, ONT.

Times of terror and fear, of horrible nightmares and dreams, of terrible misery and sufferings!

This is no overdrawn picture: these statements are in no way exaggerated or too darkly painted.

A well-known Canadian—a respected citizen of Toronto—was plunged into the slough of despondency and darkness owing to a nervous and broken-down system, indigestion and loss of sleep. Medical skill was invoked without avail, and a special patent medicine failed to give relief, although it was recommended.

Providence in its own wise and good way brought to the sufferer that infallible balm of relief—that life-giving and strength-giving medicine, Paine's Celery Compound. The wonderful remedy was Mr. Butts' salvation; it was his rescuer and deliverer from the grave.

Mr. J. B. Butts, who was so wonderfully saved from death, is the proprietor of the principal hand laundry in Toronto; his establishment is at 309 Spadina Avenue, is the busiest of the kind, and the best patronised in the Queen City.

Mr. Butts writes as follows about his sufferings and troubles, his marvellous success with Paine's Celery Compound, and his perfect restoration to health:—

"Two years ago I had a very bad attack of La Grippe which left me with a nervous and broken down system; I also suffered terrible from indigestion, and insomnia or sleeplessness added to my misery At night I could not sleep, naturally; I was troubled with horrible nightmares and dreams; indeed, my sleeping hours were to me times of terror and fear. I commenced to use a patent medicine for my troubles, but derived little benefit from it. I happened to get one of your books at my house, and after reading about the wonderful cures effected by Paine's Celery Compound, I decided to give it a trial. I procured a bottle, and began using it, and within 48 hours I was benefitted. In three months I found myself fully and perfectly restored to health, and had gained 16 pounds in weight.

"I am satisfied Paine's Celery Compound saved my life, and that without it, I would not now be alive. I have recommended Paine's Celery Compound to dozens of people, and the results have proved satisfactory in every case. It is without doubt the best remedy in the world."

The Ahr Valley.

It is becoming the custom among European travellers to stop at Remagen on the Rhine, and make a little excursion to the beautiful Valley of the Ahr, with its picturesque villages along the vine-clad slope Here is also located the spring from which flows that world wide favorite "Apollinaris Water." At Neuenahr, in the valley, the river Ahr is very beautiful, and one can find few more quaintly attractive spots than the Upper Gate at Anrweller, or the old mill at Heppingen.

A tax on dogs was levied in Rome during the reign of Nero.

For Over Fifty Years

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhœa. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by druggists throughout the world.

lfd&wly

In the time of Queen Anne soap was taxed £28 per ton.

DEAR SIRS:—I have used Yellow Oil for two or three years, and think it has no equal for croup. Mrs. J. S. O'Brien, Huntsville, Ont.

The tithes in England amounted to £4,050,000 a year.

Dyspepsia and Indigestion.—C. W. Snow & Co., Syracuse, N.Y., writes: "Please send us ten gross of Pills We are selling more of Parmelee's Pills than any other Pill we keep. They have a great reputation for the cure of Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint." Mr. Chas. A. Smith, Lindsay, writes: "Parmelee's Pills are an excellent medicine. My sister has been troubled with severe headache, but these pills have cured her."

Russia raises $1,5000,000 a year by the sale of passports.

THAT TIRED, LANGUID FEELING and dull headache is very disagreeable. Take two of Carter's Little Liver Pills before retiring, and you will find relief. They never fail to do good.

STOVE PIPES!
STOVE PIPES!!
STOVE PIPES!!!

WHIPS! LANTERNS!
WHIPS!! LANTERNS!!
WHIPS!!! LANTERNS!!!

Lamps, Flower Pots,
Lamps, Flower pots,
Lamps, Flower Pots.

—AT—

THE FAIR,

FRANK WEEKS, MANAGER.

THE.....

SOUVENIR....

RANGE.....

What Miss Surridge, Principal of the Toronto School of Cookery, Says:—

TORONTO, MONDAY, APRIL 2ad, 1894.

GENTLEMEN:—I have much pleasure in saying SOUVENIR RANGE you put in at Hamilton for the use of the cooking class recently held there, gave me Every Satisfaction. It is certainly the Very Best Stove I have over used, being Cleanly, Reliable, and Most Economical, consuming an Astonishingly small quantity of Fuel.

I have the honor to remain, yours sincerely,
Signed, FLORENCE SURRIDGE.

C. F. Smith & Co.,

AGENTS, - BELLEVILLE.

The Sale of Boots and Shoes:

Slightly damaged by Smoke and Water will continue until everything is sold.

HAINES & LOCKETT

Opposite Anglo-American Hotel

Belleville and Napanee, Office, Bridge St. Telephone A. 4.

COAL - AND - WOOD.

THOS. STEWART,—

The only dealer in Scranton Coal in Belleville and Napanee. The very best facilities for delivering to any part of the city or surrounding towns this coal, which is the best and cheapest mined.

No Gas. No Clinkers. No Waste

Clean, quick, hot, strong, cheerful fire. Smithing, Connell, Brier Hill, Run of Mine coal and Coal Screenings always on hand. Hard and soft wood, Blocks and Edgings delivered to any part of the City.

DR. FOWLER'S EXT. OF WILD STRAWBERRY CURES COLIC CHOLERA CHOLERA-MORBUS DIARRHOEA DYSENTERY AND ALL SUMMER COMPLAINTS OF CHILDREN or ADULTS Price 35cts BEWARE OF IMITATIONS

Camping Supplies! —AND— Picnic - Requisites!

Our list of articles suitable for Picnic Lunches and Camping, includes:

Canned Meats.

ARMOUR'S COOKED BEEF,
ARMOUR'S OX TONGUES,
ARMOUR'S LUNCH TONGUES,
ARMOUR'S POTTED HAM,
ARMOUR'S COOKED PIG FEET
ARMOUR'S LUNCHEON MEAT.
ARMOUR'S POTTED TONGUE
ARMOUR'S BRAWN,
SANDWICH MEATS,
BONELESS CHICKEN,
BONELESS TURKEY,
POTTED BEEF,
POTTED GAME,
ETC.! ETC.! ETC!

Canned Fish.

FINEST SARDINES IN OIL
FINEST SARDINES IN TOMATO,
HERRINGS IN TOMATO SAUCE,
KIPPERED HERRINGS,
FRESH HERRINGS,
SALMON, LOBSTERS,
FINNAN HADDIES,
BLOATER PASTE,
ANCHOVY PASTE,
SARDINE PASTE,
ETC.! ETC.! ETC!!!

Sundries.

Condensed Milk in Tins, Cream in Tins, Biscuits (in great variety), Fine old Cheese, McLaren's Imperial Cheese (in small crocks), Dried Beef, Chinese Hams and Bacon, Lime Juice, Spanish Olives, CROSSE & BLACKWELL'S Pickled White Onions, Walnuts, Chow Chow, and and Mixed Pickles.

WALLBRIDGE & CLARKE

Grocers and Wine Merchants.
33 and 37 Bridge Street. Also Front Street, in Caldwell Building.

RIBBONS!

We have an extra large stock of Ribbons on hand in all the light and fancy shades including

BABY RIBBONS,
SILK " "
SATIN " "
MOIRE " "
ETC., ETC.

Our prices are the lowest, and we will be pleased to have you give us a call whenever wanting Ribbons.

SILK ELASTICS....

We have a splendid stock of Fancy Silk Elastic, made in Yellow, Blue, Green, Orange, Cardinal, Black, Pink, Mauve, White. All one price, 25c yard, at

THE BEEHIVE

CHAS. N. SULMAN

REMOVAL

MR. JOSEPH CALDWELL, DENTIST

Has removed his office to the new premises which he has had specially fitted up in the

Caldwell Block,

First door south of the Anglo-American Hotel Front street. 1084

Steamer "Iona"

Will leave Belleville three times each week for Oswego, connecting with trains for New York.

FRUIT AND FLOWERS

WINDOW GARDENING.

Suggestions for Those Who Mean to Cultivate Home Plants in Winter.

Most window gardens are filled with a miscellaneous selection of so-called flowering plants, whose few poor scattering blossoms scarcely pay for their care, and might with profit give place to those without beauty of flower, but whose foliage is at least attractive. Indeed, so often is this the case, that many householders are banishing all flowering plants, depending solely upon palms, aspedistras, etc., for their window adornment.

But if one prefers flowers to foliage—and most people do—this is all wrong. A few fine foliage plants are indeed attractive, but they do not take the place of fragrant blossoms, that never seem half as lovely as when all outside nature is hidden beneath snow and ice. It is not necessary for the window to be flowerless, even with the poor facilities of the common living room, if the following rules are adhered to:

1. Select only such plants as are winter bloomers.

2. Choose only those that will thrive in the temperature at which you keep your room. Select carefully to suit the amount of sunshine or shade in your window.

3. Examine every plant to make sure that it is entirely free from insects before bringing to the window in the autumn.

4. Shower the leaves of your plants once a week, to keep down dust and insects. If insects appear, fight them at once, and never give up until they are routed.

5. Keep flowering plants in small or medium sized pots. See that the soil is rich, the drainage an inch deep at bottom of pot, and a crust of hard earth is never allowed to form at the top of the pot.

6. Water only when dry, then give sufficient water to wet to the bottom of the pot. Be chary of water in severely cold weather.

7. Turn the pots frequently, pinch off withered flowers and faded leaves. Allow all Holland bulbs to root six or eight weeks in the dark before bringing to the window.

8. Give weak liquid manure once a fortnight to all plants showing buds—never to half-grown plants.

To comment a little on these rules. It is useless to select summer blossomers for the house in winter. A few begonias, abutilons and petunias are practically ever bloomers, but most plants must have their season of rest. Few roses, geraniums or fuchias bloom well in winter, but these few any florist can name. Alliums, ageratums, cannas, cyclamen, cinerarias, petunias, nicotiana, callas, the otalicite orange, hyacinths, paper white and double Roman narcissus, and Chinese sacred lilies are among the surest bloomers for the beginner.

Nearly all plants can be grown in a moderately warm room, but in either a very warm or quite cool room the choice must be more restricted. For instance begonias, heliotropes, impatients, sultani, salvias and torentias would soon come to grief in a low temperature (unless protected well at night), while they would flourish in the warm room. The exact reverse would be the case with carnations, ten-week-stocks and camelias. In the same way begonias, primulas, nicotiana, and a few other plants will flower well in a shady window, while roses, geraniums and heliotropes must have sun, and plenty of it, to bloom.

It is the attention to the minutae of plant culture that makes the successful amateur. Yet these rules are not burdensome to the true flower lover, for it is not a task to minister to our friends' resonable wants, as our plants' wants are? Clean, well fed plants are always ready to bloom if they have half a chance.

The Cecropia Emperor Caterpillar.

This gigantic and strikingly colored caterpillar is probably the largest of all our insects, and if they were at all abundant would prove a devastator without an equal. However, they are too few in numbers to cause any great injury except to individual trees, and their large size and conspicuous coloring enable them to be easily detected, when they can be easily picked or knocked off and destroyed. The caterpillar is shown in figure above, and when it is full fed it will spin a large brown cocoon on the tree. Next spring from such cocoons there will emerge a large, beautiful moth which proceeds to deposit eggs for other caterpillars. Although many eggs are deposited comparatively few develop caterpillars. Plum and pear trees are the objects of their ravages.

CECROPIA EMPEROR CATERPILLAR.

CECROPIA EMPEROR MOTH.

Beautiful Things.

Beautiful faces are those that wear—
It matters little if dark or fair—
Whole-souled honesty printed there.

Beautiful eyes are those that show,
Like crystal panes where heart fires glow,
Beautiful thoughts that burn below.

Beautiful lips are those whose words
Leap from the heart like the song of birds,
Yet whose utterance prudence girds.

Beautiful hands are those that do
Work that is earnest, brave and true,
Moment by moment the long day through.

Beautiful feet are those that go
On kindly ministries to and fro—
Down lowliest ways, if God wills so.

Beautiful shoulders are those that bear
Ceaseless burdens of homely care
With patient grace and daily prayer.

Beautiful lives are those that bless—
Silent rivers of happiness,
Whose hidden fountains but few may guess.

A Cunning Animal Villain.

The wolverine, carcajou or glutton is better known as being the trapper's evil genius than for the value or beauty of his own fur. He is the greatest thief and the most cunning villain in our whole mammalian fauna, and mountains of hard words have been heaped upon his ugly head. In fighting weight he is about the size of a setter dog, but in form he may best be described as a cross between a badger and a bear. He has the head, legs, feet and tail of a badger, and a bear-like body.

THE APIARY.

Wagner's Flat Pea Valuable for Honey as Well as For Forage.

A plant, that will pay land rent in honey alone has long been wanted. Figwort, the spider plant and many others have been tried and found wanting. At present German beekeepers are very enthusiastic over a new forage and honey plant, which it may be worth while to give a trial on this side of the water. A few seeds of this plant were sown this season, by beekeepers in this country, and their exprience with it will be gratefully received by this department. The American Bee Journal has the following to say concerning the plant: "It seems that a scientist named Wagner, of Munich, Germany, has been at work for the last thirty years, crossing and improving, and from a bitter weed has developed a succulent forage plant unusually rich in sugar, and relished by all kinds of stock. The illustration of plant shows its resemblance to the sweet pea, to which it is closely related.

WAGNER'S FLAT PEA.

"The roots are said to penetrate the hardest, driest and rockiest soils, reaching to the depth of ten or twenty feet. Drouth has little effect upon it. Barren land occupied by it has its fertility improved. Those who understand how red clover takes so much of its nourishment from the air, will have little difficulty in believing this as the flat pea, like the clovers belongs to the leguminosæ family. Four tons of dry hay per acre can be obtained if three cuttings are made. The first cutting takes away all chance for an early honey crop, but, if we understand it correctly, the bees gather a rich harvest after the first cutting, and not until October is its yield of nectar over. A somewhat serious drawback to growing it in this country is the difficulty of getting a start as it is very liable to be winter-killed during the first and second years."

Sugar Syrup as Food for Bees.

I have tried many different recipes for making bee feed without any of them proving very satisfactory. If the syrup is too thin it will sour and if too thick it will granulate. The principal trouble I had with it was that it would get so hard in the cells that even a robber bee could not eat it. A beekeeper who has had twenty years of experience in making syrup for soda fountains, etc., and had encountered the same difficulties, recently made public the process he now uses. He says: "Many years ago we commenced the cold-water process, and since then we make a uniform quality of syrup that will keep—probably indefinitely—without souring or crystallizing.

"Our plan is to take a ten gallon keg (a barrel could be used if necessary), knock out the head and with it make a false bottom that will fit inside the keg. Bore the false bottom full of small holes and put in pegs to hold it up about six inches from the bottom of the keg. Then take about three or four thicknesses of white flannel and put it over the false bottom, stuffing it around the edges. Put in granulated sugar until about half full, pour in cold water, set the keg in the cellar and let the mixture percolate through the flannel.

"When the chamber below the false bottom is full draw the liquid off through the faucet and pour back. After the first draught the syrup is fit for the bees. All you have to do then is to draw off the syrup and add more sugar and water. We have always fed our bees with this when they needed winter feeding. With a barrel, a large quantity can be made in a short time."

The recipe given above has been copied by all the bee periodicals, and tried by many veterans, who pronounce it a success. In this way a find syrup can be made for the table which will not annoy the housekeeper by granulating in the pitcher.—Mrs. L. Harrison, in Orange Judd Farmer.

Raise Your Own Fish.

Every farmer should raise his own fish as well as his cattle. There is no reason in the world why every farmer should not have a big fish pond. Tell that to your people, try to impress upon them that they can raise their own fish, and raise them at a tremendous profit for the surrounding market. Now the fish department, of course, does the same for fisheries and for everything connected with fish, that the agricultural department does for the raising of wheat and live stock. It tells the people as well as the country, what kind of fish can be best raised in certain sections and in certain waters and how they can be most profitably raised. It furnishes young fish and sends its experts out to instruct people in their growth. Fish raising, as the fish department teaches it, is immensely profitable as an industry. But, find out for yourself.

The Weight of Hay.

Compact timothy hay requires about 500 cubic feet to weigh a ton, but the quantity will vary with the pressure caused by the height of the mow, and with the age of the grass when cut, ripe and stiff grass yielding less under pressure, and requiring more in bulk to weigh a ton. Stiff coarse hay will be found to weigh less than fine and flexible hay, which will pack solid. The amount stated is a fair average for well-settled hay. If farmers, who frequently sell hay, or others who purchase it, would frequently test the quantity by measuring as above, they would learn to make estimates with the hay before them with considerable accuracy.

Correct Tree Planting.

As long as planters, in procuring trees, give more attention to large size than to good, evenly expanding roots, they will be likely to see trees in their new orchards that are distorted out of shape, bent by the wind or twisted by insufficient support. The rule should be adhered to of giving the roots sufficient length to support the trees when strong winds strike them. A well removed tree should have enough strong and bracing roots to need no extraneous bracing. A tree of straight growth will be worth more if held firmly by its long roots than if supported by artificial propping. Those who set their trees some months ago with insufficient roots, may now improve matters by light, skillful pruning, bringing the tree gradually into its natural straightness.

FARM AND GARDEN

GRANARY WEEVILS.

An Interesting Letter From Mr. Fletcher, Dominion Entomologist.

James Fletcher, Dominion entomologist, writes in regard to this pest:

"A good deal of consternation was felt lately at the World's Columbian exposition, at Chicago, when it became known that all the exposed grain, including the ornaments and decorations in the different courts of the Agricultural building, was infested by injurious insects. An order was issued by the superintendent of the agricultural department forbidding the distribution of any grain from those courts, even when brought in from outside for that express purpose. Being in Chicago at the time, I made a careful examination of the agricultural exhibits and found that the injury in the Canadian section was due almost entirely to two insects, the common rice weevil, Calandra oryzæ (Fig. 8, where the insect is shown natural size, and nine, where it is shown enlarged) and the 'fly weevil,' better known as the Angoumois grain moth, Gelechia cerealella, a small moth at first sight, closely resembling the too well-known carpet moth. With the rice weevil were also found a few specimens of the granary weevil, Calandra granarid (Fig. 6, 7).

"The important question for Canadian farmers was, of course, whether there was any danger of introducing into Canada any new pests which would afterwards give trouble either in the field or in the granary. In my opinion, Canadian farmers need have no anxiety on this score; for both of the pests have already from time to time been imported from the south with various kinds of grain, but have failed to propagate and become established. This is due to the fact that they are tropical insects, which, although they are very injurious in the southern states, cannot exist for any length of time in our climate.

GRANARY WEEVILS.

"The granary weevils are small brown beetles, a little more than one-eighth of an inch in length, which lay their eggs in holes which they bore by means of a slender beak in the dry grain. When young grubs hatch, they complete their growth and turn to beetles again inside the grain where the egg was laid. By this time they have eaten out all the interior of the kernel. The beetles then emerge and continue the work of destruction. When grain is kept in store for a long time, this injury may be considerable in hot climates; but in Canada the cold of our winters stops their development and destroys the beetles.

"The 'fly weevil' has never developed in Canada even to the same extent as the true weevils, although occasional instances of its occurrences have been brought to my notice. In the southern states, where it is very abundant, the moths fly from the granaries and lay their eggs upon the ripe grain in the fields; the eggs of young caterpillars are thus carried back again into the granary, and frequently are the cause of much loss. This never takes place in Canada.

"Remedy: Should grain at any time be found to be infested by these insects, often repeated experiment has shown that the insects can be easily and cheaply destroyed by treating it with bisulphide or carbon, in the same way that peas are now regularly treated to free them from the pea weevil."

THE AMERICAN BEAUTY.

Romantic Origin of a Handsome and Popular Rose.

There is an interesting story about the origin of the American Beauty. It was first grown in Washington, and here it attained its renown. The late Hon. George Bancroft, besides being a historian and scholar, was one of the first amateur rose-growers in America. Every year he imported cuttings from the leading flower-growers of Europe. The King of Prussia—when old Kaiser Wilhelm was king—allowed the American historian to have a slip of whatever he might fancy in the royal conservatories. Mr. Bancroft's gardener used to cultivate some of his roses in an old house away out on F, or perhaps it was G street, above Twenty-second street, in the west end of the city. Mrs. Grant had a florist named Field in charge of the White House conservatory. He was a rose-grower of rare merit and skill in his artistic work. One day he happened into the old building where Mr. Bancroft's gardener potted his plants and budded his roses. Over in a corner he observed a rose of a variety utterly unknown to him, and of wonderful size and perfection in form and odor. "Where did this come from?" he carelessly inquired of his rose-growing confrere. "Oh, it is an offshoot from some cuttings we imported from Germany," the man replied. It was evident to Mr. Field that the other did not in the least comprehend the value of the new plant. After some talk Mr. Field bought the cuttings he had seen for $5. A year thereafter, when he had propagated his new purchase, and become convinced that he had a new and very valuable variety of rose, which he named the American Beauty, he sold his find for $5,000, the most wonderful result of the investment of $5 on record. Fields invested his easily-earned $5,000 in lands near the city, which in a little less than three years were sold for $50,000. Truth is sometimes stranger than fiction. In this instance it certainly was. —Washington Post.

About Celery Raising.

The claim that it requires contact with earth to remove the acid properties of celery is said to have little foundation. The quality of brittleness and fine nutty flavor which is so much appreciated can be acquired by forcing the plants to a quick growth in a moist cool atmosphere. Celery blanched while stored in cellar is often of superior quality and in this process no soil is brought in contact with the stalks. Heat and dryness are probably responsible for the development of that strong, bitter taste which is often objectionable.

An Excellent Hint.

Flowering plants, such as asters, chrysanthemums, etc., which are being grown for fall or winter blooming will flower better if given a heavy mulch of fine manure now.

SMALL FRUITS WISDOM.

Suggestions Respecting Their Growth and Care by One Who Knows.

Mr. A. M. Thayer is in the habit of issuing monthly bulletins that contain crisp sentences of advice in relation to the growth of the small fruits. We have collected below sections of seve al bulletins that for the most part are timely for those who are expecting the agent of fruit plants along a little later or who may be contemplating putting out stock for this fall or caring for old stock:

All plants on which orange rust, curly leaf or other diseases appear, should be dug out, root and branch, and burned.

Winter covering should be raked between rows for summer mulch.

Old canes should be cut out and burned as soon as done bearing.

Winter protection is necessary for small fruits here.

The cheapest and best protection is to cover with fresh earth.

With a little practice, bushes may be laid down without breaking.

Plants should be purchased only of responsible dealers.

New, high priced plants are generally disappointing.

A garden of small fruit gives health of body and peace of mind.

Leave high-priced novelties to the professional grower. They are generally disappointing. Never buy poor plants. The best are cheapest.

The space allowed for different plants should be determined by the varieties grown, the quality of soil and the method of trimming and training.

The following distances give best results in most cases: Strawberries set in rows three and one-half feet apart and about two feet in the row; blackberries and raspberries in rows seven feet apart and three feet in the row; currants and gooseberries in rows five to seven feet apart and three to five feet in the row; grapes eight to ten feet apart each way.

The Horse Nettle.

The troublesome weed, the well-known Horse Nettle (Solanum Carolinense), is apparently spreading north, though not so fast as some annual ones. Horse nettle is a native from Connecticut south to Florida and west to Texas, but it will soon be indigenous much further north if it spreads as it has done lately. It is now often seen in the streets of Canadian cities, on vacant lots and too often in cultivated fields, where it does great injury to crops.

Its common name does not indicate that this weed is closely related to the cultivated potato, but the botanical name of the genus shows close relationship. An examination of its flowers will show that they much resemble those of the potato, being bluish or whitish in color. The berry, commonly called the "seed" also resembles that formed on the potato. The leaves have large prickles on the midrib and some of the larger lateral ribs. They are also slightly hairy. The stem is beset with numerous stout prickles.

Many of the related plants of this genus are annuals but horse nettle is a deep-rooted perennial, its roots often extending three feet or more into the soil. This fact makes it a very tenacious weed, very difficult to exterminate. For this reason the weed grows in dense patches, which are carefully avoided by stock in pastures. Plow the land at this time, allowing none of the leaves to appear. The plants should be kept down the succeeding year. Plow the ground again next summer. Sow thickly with rye and keep watch of the nettle, allowing none to grow. Careful work for two seasons should remove it.

THE HORSE NETTLE.

Evergreens Healthful.

Dr. Alfred L. Loomis of New York gives this interesting scientific testimony to the value of evergreens: "It is stated that whenever the pine, with its constant exhalation of turpentine vapor and its never-failing foliage can be distributed in a proportion to the population, the atmosphere can be kept not only aseptic, but antiseptic by nature's own processes, independent of other influences, except a certain amount of sunshine and moisture. It is not possible for everyone to take his weak lungs to an antiseptic air, but it is possible to render the air of most localities antiseptic. I would, therefore, impress on the public the importance of preserving our evergreen forests and cultivating about our homes evergreen trees."

The Peasant Emperor.

M. de Blowitz tells a story of the Czar, who lately discussed with his courtiers the title by which he might afterward be known in history. His father had been called Alexander the Liberator and Alexander the Martyr. What should the son be called?

"Alexander the Just," suggested one.

"Oh, no,' replied the Czar. "I am, and shall remain, the 'Peasant Emperor.' So some of my nobility have styled me in derision, scoffing at my affection for the moujik. But I accept the title as an honor. I have tried to procure for the humble the means of livelihood, and this, I think, is the best and only means of keeping the world going.

"Henry IV. dreamed of giving every peasant a fowl in the pot, and my greatest ambition is to save the Russian peasant from dying of hunger. For, when people begin to understand that they run no danger of starvation, they begin to bless God, and end by loving the sovereign who represents Him on earth. My greatest ambition is to deserve to bear to the last the title of the 'Peasant Emperor.'

In spite of the many professional theories about the nature of bark and the injury to it from being coated with outside material, the German farmers of Pennsylvania have extremely healthy apple trees by washing the bark with lime. No cleaner or healthier bark may be seen on apple trees anywhere than those German trees present. The white color of the lime is of course objectionable, but this may be readily obviated by putting a little yellow clay or even coal ashes in.

SAFE

PLEASANT

THE GREAT
BLOOD PURIFIER

BRISTOL'S
SARSAPARILLA
CURES ALL
Taints of the Blood.

RELIABLE

CERTAIN

Trafalgar Institute.
(Affiliated to McGill University.)
No. 83 Simpson Street, Montreal.
—FOR THE—
Higher Education
OF
Young Women
With preparatory department for girls between 10 and 14.
President, Rev. James Barclay, D.D.
Vice-President, Mr. A. T. Drummond.
Principal, Miss Grace Fairley, M.A., Edinburgh.
The Institute will re-open with an efficient staff of twelve resident and visiting teachers, on
Tuesday, 11th September 1894.
The Institute buildings are situated on the mountain side overlooking the City. The spacious grounds are attractively laid out and the surroundings are not only beautiful but very healthful.
For copy of Prospectus and other information apply to the principal, at the Institute, or to
A. F. Riddell, Secretary, 22 St. John St., Montreal.

TO LET.
TO LET 2 snug, warm brick houses in terrace, situated on Harriett St, West Belleville, known as Morten's, or Filliter's terrace. For terms of rent apply to R. C. Filliter, collector, or sub agent to the estate of the late H E Filliter. Residence at Mr. Jardin's Corner of William and Dundas Sts, East Belleville.
85d2m

SPORT.
Lacrosse Sticks,
Foot Balls,
Tennis Goods,
Croquet, etc.,
Base Ball
Supplies
Also, Wall Paper,
Window Shades
Hammocks,
Fans,
Purses,
Albums, Bibles and Novels.
—AT—
Overell's Book Store
Next to Glasgow Warehouse.

12 Hours Saved.
—ON AND AFTER—
MONDAY, SEPT. 3RD '94,
—THE—
CANADIAN PACIFIC RY.
—EXPRESS FOR—
Winnipeg & the Pacific Coast
(Via NORTH BAY,)
Will leave Toronto at 12:30 p. m., noon.
S. BURROWS,
C.P.R. Agent,
Belleville.

FINE CLASS
Underwear
ALL GRADES.
STOCK - IS - ALL - NEW
— — AT — —
GEO. P. MINAKER'S.
Opposite Tickell & Son's.

LAKEHURST SANITARIUM
OAKVILLE, ONT.
For treatment and cure of
ALCHOLISM, MORPHINE HABIT,
TOBACCO HABIT AND
NERVOUS DISEASES.
The system employed at this institution is the familiar Double Chloride of Gold System. Through its agency over 200,000 Slaves to the use of these poisons have been emancipated in the last fourteen years. Lakehurst Sanitarium is the oldest Institution of the kind in Canada, and has a well earned reputation to maintain in this line of medicine. In its whole history there is not an instance of failure to remove the appetite for these poisons. In its whole history there is not an instance of any after ill-effects from the treatment. Hundreds of happy homes in all parts of the Dominion bear eloquent witness to the efficacy of a course of treatment with us. For terms and full information write
THE SECRETARY,
28 Bank of Commerce Chambers,
aug7d3m34w3m) Toronto, Ont.

WALL-PAPER!
SEE THAT?
CLEANLINESS!
HEALTH!
ECONOMY!
HAPPINESS!
FURNISHING!
CHARACTER!
ART!
Common Sense

There's a Lot of Meaning in it for You!!
There's an array that is hard to beat!
Could you ask more? Here it is
A Discount of 10 per cent. for 30 days.
Test our Ability to Advise on Interior Decorations.
C. B. SCANTLEBURY.

MORE ROOM WANTED!
- - AT THE - -
...LEADING BARGAIN HOUSE!
Daily the reminder comes to us that we're crowded for room. New Goods keep coming in upon us. We must make room by quickly reducing stocks. Reducing prices will do it.
A CHOICE STOCK....
....Bargains everywhere.
For reasons best known to themselves, some manufacturers offered us strong inducements to buy sundry lines of Dress Goods, Hosiery and Underwear.
The Millinery Department fairly sparkles with Novelties, and the prices are to say the least very tempting.
H. A. LAYTON, BELLEVILLE.
Front St., Opposite Campbell St.

The 'Publick'
Are respectfully asked to show their appreciation of the improvements and progress of the city, by leaving their orders for Coal, Wood & Shingles.
—AT—
S. A. LAZIER & SON'S.
TELEPHONE C 68.

Directions for easy washing are on all wrappers of Queen Laundry Bar. READ THEM, save the wrappers, and when you have 60, tie them up ends open, post (3c), addressed to the ALBERT TOILET SOAP CO, 168 McCord st., Montreal, and you will receive in return a handsome MACASSAR, 17x24 in., imported direct from France, and which is worthy of a place in any drawing room.
A HINT.—Are your neighbors saving their Queen Laundry Bar wrappers? Get them also. You will soon have 60 and a Macassar.
SHE RESTS EASY
After her day's washing, the woman who uses
QUEEN'S LAUNDRY BAR.
It does its work so quickly and well that it takes away half of the labor of wash day. Queen's Laundry Bar is a good toilet soap also, so every household should have some.

NATHAN JONES,
IMPORTERS.
We have opened up the most varied and attractive stock of
FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC
DRESS GOODS
ALSO DRESS TRIMMINGS.
Misses Mounder and Gardner are giving satisfaction in dress and mantle making.

WAITING IN AN ICE LOCKED SEA.

Wellman's Ship In Frozen Bonds.

RELEASE COMES A LITTLE LATER.

But the Weather Was So Bad and the Ice to the North So Forbidding That It Was Found Impossible to Go Forward—Shooting and Eating Bear—Disagreeable Experiences.

(Published by special arrangement.)

SUNDAY, May 13.—Officer of the day, Dr. Mohun.

This has been our first unlucky day. Not that anything very terrible has happened, but we are not in as good position as we were this morning. In fact, the Ragnvald Jarl is frozen in, and there is no telling when she will get loose. It is a great consolation to us to know that if we must be frozen in we have been caught as far north as we had ever dared hope to go with the ship.

Our experiences of the day show the uncertainties of arctic navigation in a most striking manner. Last night we arrived here and were surrounded by many miles of open water. Though the pack was to be seen to the north, we were not without hopes of being able to find an opening in it through which the ship could be pushed some distance farther north. This morning a change came upon the scene. Before we were out of bed Captain Bottelfsen had found it necessary to move the ship, as the ice threatened from the northward, a fresh wind having sprung up from that quarter. The sky was overcast, and snow was falling. Where the night before had been a bright arctic scene, with a flood of glorious sunlight, it was now thick and dark, and we found it impossible to see the Table island, distant about two miles. Two or three times during the forenoon Captain Bottelfsen moved the Jarl to a place of greater safety nearer the bit of open water. About 3 in the afternoon an incident occurred which came near getting us into serious trouble. An iceberg came within a trice of costing us the destruction, or at least the serious injury, of the Ragnvald Jarl.

Captain Pedersen, who has a nose for bear, was sitting in the forecastle telling sailors' yarns when he happened to spy two bears on the ice near the ship. Cautioning every one to keep quiet, the captain seized his winchester and generously gave the other gunning men the tip. Such a scrambling for guns and cartridges as there was for a couple of minutes! Captain Pedersen, Mr. Dodge, Mr. Franklin and Mr. Wastfalt rushed on deck, guns in hand, and saw two ice bears—one large one and one smaller, a mother and her cub—about 100 yards from the ship. Six or eight shots were fired, and the cub fell to the ice, the blood flowing from two wounds. The mother bear was hit, too, for a great red blotch appeared upon her side, and at the wound she bit savagely, imagining in her vain rage that her tormentor was near at hand. Reluctantly and slowly she moved away, turning about every few moments to look at her poor cub, kicking his last in the snow. Though Mr. Wastfalt fired several more shots with his long range kreg jorgenson rifle, he was not able to hit the mark, and the dam dragged herself into some heavy ice and out of view, leaving a bloody trail after her.

Some of our Norwegians put the small aluminium boat overboard, fastened skis to their feet and went over the thin, spongy ice after their prey. Two or three of them narrowly escaped falling through into the water, but there is no ice so thin or weak that a Norwegian is afraid to go over with a pair of skis under him.

While we were all busy with this bear hunt a large floe of pack ice and pressed up shore ice had been stealing in behind us. Captain Bottelfsen was the first to notice the danger and at once began efforts to move the ship. But she had been so tightly wedged in by the pressure of the heavy ice behind that it was next to impossible to move her. After a two hours' struggle, in which the column of heavy ice came closer and closer, in time completely cutting off the egress, Captain B. changed his tactics and ran the Jarl away from the pack column into an area of the thin ice, but toward open water. Another hour of hard work, with all hands out breaking the ice and trying to help the ship through, Captain B. came into the cabin and announced that he was unable to go any farther. The streams of pack ice had closed in around the ship, completely cutting off escape to a large bay of open water lying to the southwest.

We were not wholly grieved by this announcement, for the only avenue of escape was toward the south, and at this season of the year we are radically and constitutionally opposed to going in that direction. We did not at all like the idea of giving up even the few miles of the handsome northern advance which we have made and were therefore quite reconciled to the imminent freezing in when Captain B. gave it as his opinion that the ship was in no danger whatever, now that she was in the midst of a lot of soft young ice. In a few moments the pressure of the heavy masses driving down with the northwest wind began pressing the thin ice about the ship.

We could hear the grinding and sliding, and now and then the Jarl quivered and creaked as she felt the force of the pressure. In an incredibly short time the ship was completely imbedded in this soft ice, with ice under her keel as well as all about her hull, and both Captain B. and Captain P. said this would protect her from injury.

There was nothing for us to do but to sit down and await developments. We might be frozen in for a day or for a month. No one could tell. It all depended upon the wind. We are a little south of Table island and about three miles west of it, or in latitude 80.44. The temperature today is 31 degrees F., and late in the evening the barometer begins to rise, indicating that the northwesterly storm, only the edge of which we have felt, will soon have passed by us.

Gloomy Forebodings.

MONDAY, May 14.—Officer of the day, Mr. Dodge.

Last night we had a little experience of sleeping in an ice nipped ship. The Ragnvald Jarl was not very badly squeezed, having enough of the light, spongy ice about her to make a bed for the hull to lie in, safe from harm. Yet she had some wrenchings, grindings and groanings that did not conduce to sound sleep on the part of the members of the expedition. Considering the manifestations which we had all about us of the power of the ice pressure, it was not pleasant to lie in our ranks and think of what might happen if a column of heavy pack ice should move down upon the little Ragnvald Jarl. She might be crushed into fragments and we turned out of bed to climb over the masses of screwed ice to a bleak and inhospitable shore. Though masses of heavy ice did grind toward the shore all about us, fortunately none of them struck the Jarl, and we awoke this morning to find the ship just where she was last night and safe and sound.

Our two skippers assured us that the Jarl is in no immediate danger. Unless a severe storm from the northwest comes on she can lie here in security for some time to come. She could not get out now, even if we wanted her to move. There is not a direction in which she could move an inch, and the only direction we want her to go is to the north. There is nothing to do but sit down and wait for wind or tide to open a way for us. It is not easy to cultivate the divine quality of patience. Our progress up to this time has been so rapid and we have lost so little time in our march to the north that it comes hard to stop and wait, with little or nothing to do and all day to do it in.

It becomes a serious question with us how we are to follow up the advantage which our good fortune has given us. We have not yet reached the polar pack, properly speaking. Between the land and the great northern ice lies a belt of debris, of the detritus of the sea glacier, of the sweepings of the great ice magazine. This is composed of detached masses from the edge of the pack, shore ice, pieces swept out of the fiords and straits and sheets of young ice, all jammed—or, as the arctic navigators call it, "screwed"—together. With the shore to offer resistance, these masses telescope one another, grind and twist and are broken into fragments and piled in hopeless confusion. Over such ice it is as much as a man can do to climb or crawl. We know, because we have tried it. Our boats and sledges might be carried over such ice as this, but it would be next to impossible. Should we attempt it our rate of progress could not be more than a couple of miles a day.

We knew before we came here that much of such ice would be found along the shore or between the land and the pack. It is the result of what we have already described as the process of throwing irresistible motion against immovability. What lies between is ground into powder. Our plan was arranged not to traverse such ice as this, or, if any of it, very little. The surface which we had made provision for was that of the true polar ice, the undulating floes broken by ridges of hummocks at their margins. We had hoped to find a way through the debris and to the main ice by the ship.

We have today been seriously discussing whether or not we shall leave the ship in a day or two, abandon all efforts to steam farther north and try the virtue of human muscle. We say human muscle, because in this sort of ice dogs will be absolutely useless. Only power directed by reason is of avail here. But for the present we are debarred even this somewhat desperate trial of strength, for the young ice about the ship and existing everywhere perhaps between the floes is not strong enough, except here and there, to sustain the weight of a man. At the same time it is too tough for a steamer to make headway through, let alone a small boat like the Lockwood, the Parry or the Kane.

Some of our men go out on the ice today to find, if they can, the carcass of the she bear shot yesterday. They find traces of her by the blood on the snow, but finally lose the trail. Without much doubt she crawled into the ice to die and was buried by the pressure which piled huge blocks upon her.

After consultation between the two ice pilots and the officers of the expedition it is agreed that our plan for a few days to come will be as follows: To exercise patience in waiting for a favorable opening of the debris ice to the north and then endeavor to push to the edge of the main pack with the Ragnvald Jarl. This being our plan, it may easily be imagined how anxiously we watch the wind and the shifting of the ice.

This evening, after a calm and for the most part bright and enjoyable day, the alert eyes of Captain Bottelfsen detected signs of a storm in the northeast, and he decided to move the steamer to a safer position. Some open water had appeared, and in that, if the wind should come on to blow, the ship would be at least manageable, so that some choice might be made of a place wherein to lie for safety from the heavy ice. The question was how to get her out of the pocket in which she had been held for so long, and this problem was solved by all hands getting on the ice with axes and oars and literally chopping a channel 200 feet long for the hull to make way through. This cost our men a good three hours' work and a number of them a good wetting, but a little before midnight, by dint of pushing and chopping, a grand chorus of "She do move!" went up in three or four languages.

Such daredevils as our Norwegians are! If they know what fear is, they do not show it in the manner in which they work upon little pieces of treacherous ice, apparently as indifferent to falling into the sea as the average American would be of getting his feet wet. Professor French and Mr. Dodge, just to show that Americans are not to be outdone by any one, wallowed about in the slush and took their share of the duckings too. With cigars and hot coffee all around, musical instruments and song, we made merry till far into the morning, all but Captain Bottelfsen unmindful of the lowering clouds and gathering fog in the northeast.

The Ice Cleared Away.

TUESDAY, May 15.—Officer of the day, Professor French.

The morning showed us a strong wind from the east, justifying Captain Bottelfsen's move of last evening. The Jarl lay quiet and secure, anchored to the shore ice under the lee of Table island, while a moderate gale from the east raged outside. The ice had disappeared with surprising rapidity. Except that adhering to the shore, none was to be seen in the neighborhood, and the pack was just discernible to the north and northwest. For the first time since our arrival here there was a chance to make a little northing with the ship.

Captain Bottelfsen expressed the opinion that as long as the wind continued to blow from the east it would be better to lie in harbor, for the longer the wind kept up the farther from shore would be the winter ice and small broken up floes by which we had lately been surrounded. Moreover, the high wind from the east would consume so much more coal in making northing and easting. It was decided, therefore, that as long as the wind continued we should remain where we are, keeping careful watch for a more promising opportunity to push on.

Coal power is an important consideration with us now. We brought out from Tromso all the coal we could get aboard, even building a bunker on the deck to hold an extra quantity. We knew the time would come in which our coal supply would be worth its weight in gold, and that time is now here. We might have been better off if we had left the dogs in Europe and devoted the space which they have occupied in the ship to coal. It would also have been better had we had a larger steamer, with a greater coal endurance, but one cannot have everything in this world. We had and still have reasonable expectations that the dogs will be found useful, especially if we are able quickly to reach the polar pack, where the surface of the floes may be expected to be comparatively level. As to the size of the steamer, she is as costly a vessel as we could afford. In this world, in arctic work, as in everything else, one has to do what he can and not what he likes, and it must be remembered that steamers fit for ice work are not plentiful, even in Norway, and the few big sealing steamers that were adapted to the purpose cost too much for a private arctic enterprise to afford.

Instead of putting many more thousands into a larger steamer, we prefer to give our skipper and his crew something to work for, knowing that skill and courage work wonders in the arctics more than big ships or coal power. So we today addressed the following letter to Captain Bottelfsen:

ON BOARD RAGNVALD JARL,
TABLE ISLAND, May 15, 1894.

Captain Johan Bottelfsen:

DEAR SIR—This expedition hereby offers you and your crew the following rewards for latitudes attained by certain dates and while the members of the expedition are on board:

Latitude.	By May 23. Kroners.	By June 1. Kroners.	By June 7. Kroners.
81.15	1,000	750	500
81.30	1,500	1,000	750
81.45	2,000	1,500	1,000
82.00	2,500	2,000	1,500
82.20	3,000	2,500	2,000
82.30	3,500	3,000	2,500
82.45	4,000	3,500	3,000

One thousand kroners additional for each quarter degree of latitude attained beyond 82.45.

The expedition will remain on board as long as there is a reasonable chance of getting farther north with the ship.

Time is to run until midnight of the dates given, and the latitude attained is to be determined by yourself and Professor French.

Hoping that you and your crew will be able to earn at least a part of the above, I am, sincerely yours, WALTER WELLMAN.

This offer was made not because we had any fear Captain Bottelfsen and his men would fail to do the best they could without reward, but because we wanted them to feel that they as well as ourselves had something to work for, and that there was to be some compensation for the hardships they are compelled to endure while navigating the arctic seas.

Captain Bottelfsen thanked us for the offer and modestly announced his intention to do the best he could, with or without reward. But that he was pleased with the opportunity given him was as natural as obvious. The master of the Jarl has hopes of being able to make at least 81.30 before the 23d of May and says if he had more coal in the bunkers he might a little later beat the world's record for a ship, or 82.16. That record was made by Captain Hall's Polaris in the Greenland waters. Ten miles farther north was claimed for the Polaris on that occasion, but 82.16 is all that has been allowed by critical arctic historians.

First Taste of Ice Bear.

We had our first taste of ice bear today when Mr. Franklin took the place of Seward Wastfalt and prepared the lean parts of the cub shot on Tuesday for our dinner table. A platter 2 feet long and 15 inches broad, heaped full of hamburg steaks made of cub flesh, was none too much for 15 men—a sure indication of the popularity of the meat in a crew like ours. Young bear is much esteemed by all the Norwegian sailors, but the old animals, they say, are rather rank. A peculiarity of ice bear as an article of food is the supposed danger of eating its liver, which is generally believed to be poisonous. This theory has been contradicted on what appears to be good authority, but you couldn't hire a Norwegian to taste bear's liver for love or money.

Captain Pedersen has been mourning the loss of the she bear that was shot on Sunday and got away to the ice. He refused to believe the poor brute had been buried by ice or drowned in the sea and today organized a party to go ashore and look for the dead or dying victim of too much curiosity. They searched Table island and crossed on the ice to Phipps' island, but could find no bear, either living or dead. Nor were they able to get a shot at anything else. Steward Wastfalt, who was out on his own hook, secured half a dozen arctic birds of beautiful, thick plumage, perfectly white. The wounded bear must have been drowned or buried by ice unless she was shrewd enough to perform upon herself the surgical operation which the polar bear is known to be adept in—the stoppage of hemorrhage by pulling out clawfuls of her own hair and stuffing them in the wound, thus gaining enough strength to make good her escape.

The polar bear is a peculiar beast in more respects than one. If a man comes upon a bear unexpectedly, the best thing to do is to run at him, shouting and waving the arms, whereupon Mr. Bear becomes frightened and runs away. If the man run from the bear, the bear will be sure to run after the man. In such an emergency the best thing the pursued biped can do, if he is not too badly scared to think, is to take off his hat, his coat, his mittens and other articles of wear, one after another, and toss them to the pursuer. The bear can easily outrun a man, but is burdened with so much curiosity that he will stop to snuff at every strange object found in his path. The weak and awkward feature of the little game of running at the bear and scaring him out of a week's growth before he gets a chance to scare you is that, while the bear never fails to improve his opportunity when it comes, sometimes he is boorish enough to refuse to run in the right direction when you take your turn. A collision under such circumstances is not greatly to the disadvantage of the bear, but is likely to be uncomfortable for the man. The Norwegians are not afraid to meet a bear face to face at close range if they have a boathook or pikestaff in their hands. They approach the bear on the sunny side, where he has his front paw up to shade his eyes, he being unable to see in the bright sun without taking this precaution. The experienced Norwegians take the sunny side because the bear cannot see them very well there, and coming close to him they plant the end of their pikestaff in the snow or ice and permit him to rush upon it and stab himself to death.

The Worst Day Yet.

WEDNESDAY, May 16.—Officer of the day, Captain Pedersen.

During the night the gale increased in violence, the wind occasionally veering more to the north, and Captain Bottelfsen found it necessary to move the ship two or three times in order to keep her away from the waves, which broke against the ice with considerable force. The temperature was not low; but, with driving snow and a strong wind, the weather was anything but pleasant, even in the lee of the islands. Outside the moderate gale had increased to a strong gale, and it was interesting to watch the ice go drifting—or, as Captain B. terms it, "shooting"—by. Enormous masses, resembling now high buildings or castles, with here and there turreted towers or the spires of churches, went drifting by at an incredible speed. In such a storm, with the air so thick with snow that but a few miles of sea could be seen even from the crow's nest, Captain Bottelfsen recommended a policy of inaction, at least for a few hours. This was also our own judgment, hard as it is to lie still and see the days slip by in idleness.

Mr. Franklin, whose success as a caterer of bear's meat has made him frisky, goes out on the ice dressed in a complete suit of fur clothing belonging to one of the crew. He even takes the precaution to blacken his mustache and eyebrows with charcoal. As he turns back toward the ship his archconfederate, Captain Pedersen, rushes frantically into the cabin and calls out to us that a strange man is on the shore, coming toward the Jarl. Our incredulity the veracious captain meets with a solemn declaration that the stranger is not one of our own men; that he looks like "one of them Eskimo fellers," or that he may be one of the crew of Dr. Nansen's Fram, come to pay us a visit. Though strongly suspicious that a practical joke is being attempted, we go out to look at the mysterious stranger, and as soon as he comes a little nearer see through the fur suit and charcoal disguise and recognize the roguish fast skater. We were not at any moment inclined to believe that Dr. Nansen's Fram had reached this neighborhood. The Fram doubtless is 200 or 300 miles from the coast of Siberia, fast in the pack and perhaps slowly drifting toward Franz-Josef Land. We have no idea of meeting her, though we have letters with us for Dr. Nansen and members of his crew, and also for Astrag, who is Lieutenant Peary's companion in northern Greenland.

Today we put one of our aluminium sledges, with its three cases packed with concentrated food, over the side of the ship into the water. The process was watched with great interest by all hands, and all were delighted when the sledge floated as steadily as a boat, showing that our scheme of making a sledge that would also serve as a boat had been successfully worked out.

During the afternoon the gale increased in violence, and all thoughts of leaving for the north were out of the question. There was nothing to do but wait. Captain Bottelfsen thinks the strong east and southeasterly wind has driven the floating ice against the pack edge with great force, and that even if we should be able to get to the heavy ice at the north it would endanger the ship and the lives of all on board to attempt a disembarkation.

This has been the worst day since we came within the arctic circle. The temperature is not low—16 degrees above zero F.—but the strong wind and driving snow make this degree of cold exceedingly disagreeable. In the Spitzbergen region the first half of May is noted for storms, especially from the northeast and east, while the latter half is generally comparatively calm.

THURSDAY, May 17.—Officer of the day, Mr. Dodge.

It was a stormy morning, but with a brightening sky and a cessation of snow Captain Bottelfsen concluded to go out and have a look at the ice. So he steamed out a short distance beyond Little Table island, or to latitude 80.50, but the gale was still violent, and the heavy ice was coming in large quantities from the northeast. He therefore returned to anchor within the ice of Table island, where we spent a greater part of the day.

This is the Norwegian Fourth of July, the anniversary of the adoption of the national constitution, and the Norwegian members of the expedition joined with the crew of the Jarl in celebrating the occasion. They hoisted the American and Norwegian flags to the masthead, fired a salute with the cannon which the Jarl carries fore and aft for shooting bottle nosed whale, which make her look somewhat like a miniature man-of-war.

In the afternoon the barometer rose a little, and the wind went down, inducing Captain B. to try another look at the ice to the north. At 3 o'clock he steamed out past Little Table island, past a point of pack ice that had drifted to the lee of that rock, famous as being the northernmost land of the Spitzbergen archipelago and only 40 years ago believed to be the northernmost land in the world. It was in these waters more than a century ago that a young naval officer, Nelson by name, had an encounter with a polar bear which afterward figured in history. It was Clements R. Markham, president of the Royal Geographical society of England, who said that the young officer's experiences with arctic storms and polar bear bore fruit at Trafalgar. We have no naval ambition, but feel that we are becoming pretty good sailors. As the Jarl steamed northward in a lead of ice Captain Bottelfsen called the writer to the crow's nest for consultation. The wind was still blowing strong, and the temperature was the lowest we have yet seen—11 above zero F. But we mounted to the nest in good sailorman style, and after a quarter hour's study of the situation agreed with Captain Bottelfsen that it was useless to go farther. Only scattered patches of open water could be seen ahead, and with the ice in rapid drift to the west we might be nipped and carried far out of our position, so we reluctantly gave the order to turn back and to round a point of ice just to the west to what appeared to be a large bay of open water, extending as far north as 81.15 and possibly to 81.30. Captain Bottelfsen is eager to make this much northing for us in order to earn the reward which we have promised him and his crew therefor, but we care more now for reaching the solid pack, where we can begin our sledge journey, than for the latitude in which it is to be found.

We have been a little disappointed in not finding a way to the northeast from the Seven islands. There have been years in these waters in which, even as early as this, in May, a ship could follow the edge of the pack to the northeast for a great distance. Such was Scoresby's experience in 1806, and with the ease with which we reached the Seven islands we had reason to hope for better luck beyond that point. Nothing but ice greets the eye in that direction, however, and for an outlet to the north we are compelled to look westward.

It has been a favorite theory of ours that to the north of the Seven islands, or eastward thereof, we should be less likely to find the pack in drift to the south. There is supposed to be the dividing line between two main currents, one flowing to the east of Spitzbergen and the other to the west. In this supposition we have been strengthened by a letter, received just before we left civilization, from Mr. Prentiss of Bangor, Me., who is noted as a careful and intelligent student of the hydrography of the arctics. Mr. Prentiss' opinion coincided with our own—that the best chance for pack work lies to the east. Still it is only a theory, and we may do quite as well a little farther to the west.

WALTER WELLMAN.

FARM AND GARDEN

SCIENCE IN FARMING.

Interesting Data Concerning the Experimental Schools of Canada.

The splendid record which Canada made at the world's fair in 1893 in the department of agriculture is not only evidence of the fertility of the soil in the dominion, but it is also a proof of the rapid strides which the Canadian farmer has made during the past ten years in the adoption of the latest and most approved methods of scientific and economic farming. The excellence of the agricultural and horticultural exhibits made by Canadians at Chicago on that occasion was due in a large degree to the effective system of experimental farms established in various parts of the dominion a few years ago. Though of comparatively recent origin, these farms have done more to improve the condition of the agricultural classes, especially in the older and more densely populated provinces of Canada, and raise the standard of Canadian farm products than is generally known even among the people of the dominion themselves.

In the United States, as far back as 1861, congress passed an act providing for the endowment of a college of agriculture and mechanic arts in the different states of the union by making a large grant of public land for that purpose. The quantity appropriated for each state was equal to 30,000 acres for each senator and representative in congress under the representation fixed by the census of 1860. The money derived from the sale of these public lands was invested in safe securities and the interest only was used for the maintenance of the institutions. The states themselves provided the necessary land and paid for the erection of all college buildings. It was in this way that the foundation was laid for the present system of experimental colleges and stations in the United States. The federal government under the provisions of the Hatch bill, passed in 1886, made a further appropriation of $15,000 a year for the establishment and maintenance of scientific experimental stations in every state of the union, and in the following year the office of experimental stations in Washington was created, giving the entire system a central advisory head.

Canada first felt the need of a similar system when the completion of the Canadian Pacific railway opened up for settlement the vast grain producing areas of the Northwest Territories and the Province of Manitoba. The farmers of Ontario found that they were unable to produce the standard grains in competition with the farmers of the great west, who paid little or nothing for their land and were able from the rich alluvial soil to obtain a larger and more profitable crop than could be grown on the well-tilled acres of the older provinces. Then began the gradual evolution in the methods of tilling the soil in the eastern provinces of the dominion. Fields of golden grain gave place to fruit farms. Stock raising became an essential instead of an incidental feature in the work of the farmer. Local associations were formed, and practical instruction given as to the latest and most improved methods of making the dairy a profitable source of revenue. The provincial government of Ontario in 1873 provided for the establishment of an agricultural college near Guelph, in the western portion of the province. Skilled instructors were brought from the United States and Great Britain to teach the youth what science had done in those countries to make mixed farming, stock raising and fruit culture take the place of the primitive methods of continual grain production. Although this institution did its work in a most effective manner, the need of a comprehensive system, which would extend to all the provinces, was soon felt. Instruction by local dairy and fruit growing associations, aided by grants of public money, partially filled the want until 1886, when the Dominion Government appointed a commissioner to visit the various experimental stations and agricultural colleges in the United States and Europe for the purpose of obtaining information necessary for the establishment of a system of experimental farms, which could be extended to every province of Canada. As a result of this investigation, parliament in the following year passed an act providing for the establishment of five experimental farms, one in the province of Nova Scotia to meet the wants of the farmers of the maritime provinces, one in Manitoba, one in the Northwest Territory, one in British Columbia, and a central farm near the capital of the dominion, intended to meet the wants of the farmers in Ontaria and Quebec. The provincial farms are managed by a superintendent, who is responsible and receives his instructiions from the director of of the system stationed at the central farm at Ottawa. All scientific investigations of a general character are conducted on the farm at Ottawa, which comprises some 600 acres and is provided with extensive buildings. The results of experiments made on the central farm are given to the provincial experiment stations, where they are treated locally for the benefit of the farming community in the different provinces.

The work on the different farms comprises the conduct of researches and verification of experiments designed to test the relative value for all purposes of different breeds of stock and their adaptability to the varying climate which prevails in different parts of the country, the examination into economic questions involving the production of butter and cheese, testing of the merits, hardiness and adaptability of new or untried varieties of wheat or other cereals and of field crops, grasses and forage plants, fruits, vegetables, plants and trees, and to disseminate among persons engaged in farming, gardening or fruit growing information obtained and samples produced as the result of successful experiments. Also the analyzing of fertilizers in order to test their comparative value as applied to crops of different kinds; examination into the composition and digestibility of foods for domestic animals; experiments in the planting of trees for timber and shelter purposes; examinations into the diseases to which cultivated plants and trees are subject, and also into the ravages of destructive insects and the discovery of useful and effective remedies to be used in such cases; to conduct investigations into the causes of diseases from which domestic animals suffer and ascertain the vitality and purity of agricultural seeds.

My second letter will show the importance of this work by a record of the actual results accomplished in various fields.

WM. SMITH.

How?

How does the green get into the grass?
How does the look get into the glass?

How does the sweet get into the roses?
How does the smell get into our noses?

How does the blue get into the skies?
How does the see it get into my eyes?

How does the twinkle get into a star?
How does the sunshine come so far?

The Apple Tree Borer.

If the apple trees were not protected against borers during the summer no time should be lost during any open weather we may have in examining them and digging the borer out. The longer he works the greater the damage is done, and the more the tree must be hacked to dislodge them. Young orchards are most affected by the borer. Not only do they offer the best chance for depositing the egg in plentiful supplies of palatable wood, but a very little boring will destroy a young tree while it would only slightly injure one that has come to full bearing.

Deseronto Navigation Company (Limited

Steamer Ella Ross.

This fast sailing and comfortable steamer leaves Belleville for Trenton daily (Sunday excepted), at 10 a.m. Leaves Belleville for Deseronto and Picton at 3 p.m., connecting at Deseronto with steamers for Napanee and Oswego. Lowest freight and passenger rates. For further information apply to the Rathbun Co., Bridge street, or to R. C. Carter, General Manager, Deseronto.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP cures Coughs.

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry cures Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cramps, Colic, Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum, and all looseness of the bowels. Never travel without it. Price 35c.

In parts of Peru taxes are paid in cocoa leaves and Peruvian barks.

For coughs, colds, bronchitis and all lung and throat troubles, there is no preparation of medicine can compare with Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup. It never fails to afford prompt and permanent relief. It removes all soreness, and heals the diseased parts. It immediately soothes the most troublesome cough, and by promoting expectoration, removes the mucus which stops up the air tubes which, cause difficulty in breathing, thereby gives relief to that depressing tightness experienced in the chest. Public speakers and singers will find Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup of inestimable value, as it speedily and effectually allays all irritation, and huskiness in the throat and bronchial tubes, and gives power to the vocal cords, rendering the voice clear and sonorous. If parents wish to save the lives of their children, and themselves from much anxiety trouble and expense let them procure a bottle of Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup, and whenever a child has taken cold, has a cough or hoarseness, give the Syrup according to directions.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP heals the lungs.

A stinted wife can find a vest pocket in the dark.

Ample warning is given us by our lungs when they are in danger. If foolhardy enough to neglect the warning signal, we incur imminent peril. Check a cough at the outset with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil—which is a sovereign pulmonic—besides being a remedy for soreness, lameness, abrasions of the skin, tumors, piles, rheumatism, etc.

BURDOCK PILLS, small, safe, and sure, regulate the liver and cure constipation.

Robert Lubbork, Cedar Rapids, writes: "I have used Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil both for myself and family for Diptheria with the very best results. I regard it as the best remedy for this disease, and would use no other.

Holland is the only country in Europe that admits coffee free of duty.

DYSPEPSIA arises from wrong action of stomach, liver and bowels. Burdock Blood Bitters cures Dyspepsia and all diseases arising from it, 99 times in 100.

Mysteries of the HUMAN BRAIN!

The latest discovery in the scientific world is that nerve centres located in or near the base of the brain control all the organs of the body, and when these nerve centres are deranged the organs which they supply with nerve fluid, or nerve force, are also deranged. When it is remembered that a serious injury to the spinal cord will cause paralysis of the body below the injured point, because the nerve force is prevented by the injury from reaching the paralyzed portion, it will be understood how the derangement of the nerve centres will cause the derangement of the various organs which they supply with nerve force; that is, when a nerve centre is deranged or in any way diseased it is impossible for it to supply the same quantity of nerve force as when in a healthful condition; hence the organs which depend upon it for nerve force suffer, and are unable to properly perform their work, and as a result disease makes its appearance.

At least two-thirds of our chronic diseases and ailments are due to the imperfect action of the nerve centres at the base of the brain, and not from a derangement primarily originating in the organ itself. The great mistake of physicians in treating these diseases is that they treat the organs and not the nerve centres, which are the cause of the trouble.

The wonderful cures wrought by the Great South American Nervine Tonic are due alone to the fact that this remedy is based upon the foregoing principle. It cures by rebuilding and strengthening the nerve centres, and thereby increasing the supply of nerve force or nervous energy.

This remedy has been found of infinite value for the cure of Nervousness, Nervous Prostration, Nervous Paroxysms, Sleeplessness, Forgetfulness, Mental Despondency, Nervousness of Females, Hot Flashes, Sick Headache, Heart Disease. The first bottle will convince anyone that a cure is certain.

South American Nervine is without doubt the greatest remedy ever discovered for the cure of Indigestion, Dyspepsia, and all Chronic Stomach Troubles, because it acts through the nerves. It gives relief in one day, and absolutely effects a permanent cure in every instance. Do not allow your prejudices, or the prejudices of others, to keep you from using this health-giving remedy. It is based on the result of years of scientific research and study. A single bottle will convince the most incredulous.

Sold by L. W Yeomans and R. Templeton.

DOCTORS DIFFER

Occasionally, but never on the question of "HEALTH BRAND" Combinations being absolutely the best thing for women and children to wear.

Every first-class dry goods house keeps them. Look for the word "Health" on silk label at neck.

Buy no imitations.

THE MONTREAL SILK MILLS CO., Ltd.
MONTREAL.

OXFORD WOOD and... COAL FURNACES

..FOR ALL SIZES OF BUILDINGS..

Capacity from 10,000 to 80,00 Cubic Feet

"CYCLONE STEEL RADIATOR"

OXFORD WOOD FURNACE

WOOD FURNACE
HEAVY GRATE, especially adapted for wood burning
Heavy Steel Plate Fire Box Dome and Radiator, which heat quicker and are more durable
RADIATOR of Modern Construction and Great Heating Power
LARGE ASH PIT

COAL FURNACE
Large Combustion Chamber
Long Fire Travel, encircling radiator
Large Heating Surface
Large Feed Door
Sectional Fire Pot
Rotating Bar Dumping Grate
DEEP ASH PIT

Full Guaranteed Capacity: Send for... CATALOGUE and TESTIMONIAL BOOK.

....Manufactured by....

The GURNEY FOUNDRY COMPANY Ltd., TORONTO.

TO THE PUBLIC.

When we decided to add the manufacure of carriages, phaetons, democrats, &c., to our business, we immediately put under construction a few of each. As we decided to place no vehicle on the market which is not A 1 in every detail, and knowing that no first-class vehicle can be produced on the rush, it has been necessary for us to take sufficient time to produce what we aimed at. We think we have succeeded; and we now have a few rigs completed, and others nearing completion to offer for sale. The iron work is all hand forged; the wood work carefully made, and strongly ironed; and the painting and upholstering done with the best material and greatest care. We can freely recommend these rigs. We will be pleased to have parties who may need anything in the above line, call and inspect our work.

ST. CHARLES & PRINGLE.

JAS ST CHARLES. HENRY PRINGLE

The Daily Intelligencer.

LET THERE BE HARMONY IN THINGS ESSENTIAL—LIBERALITY IN THINGS NOT ESSENTIAL—CHARITY IN ALL.

VOL. 28. BELLEVILLE ONTARIO MONDAY OCTOBER 8 1894 NO. 133

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

MEDICAL.

DR. WISHART.

47 GROSVENOR ST., Toronto, will be at the Huffman House, Belleville, Saturday, Dec. 1st, '94. 192dwly

DR. QUACKENBUSH, M.D., H.M.D., M.D., P.S.O.

HOMŒOPATHIC Physician, Surgeon and Accoucheur, has removed his office over store lately occupied by J. C. Overell, Residence George St., opposite H. Corby's.

JOHN J. FARLEY, M. D., C. M., M. R. C. S. England.

OFFICE and Residence—corner of Bridge and George Streets—three streets east of Post Office.

LEGAL.

FLINT & McCAMON.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public, etc. Solicitors for the Canadian Bank of Commerce. Office, City Hall, Front Street, Belleville, Ont. d84tf
JOHN J. B. FLINT, W. J. McCAMON.

STEWART MASSON.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, Notary, Conveyancer, etc. Office, South side Bridge st., over Wallbridge & Clark's, Belleville, Ont. Money to loan at lowest rates. 76dwtf

J. F. WILLS' LAW OFFICE.

REMOVED to Campbell Street (south side) 2nd door from Front Street, on ground floor.

A. GOODRICH.

LAWYER, 124 Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill., 28 years' experience; secrecy; special facilities in several States; Goodrich on Divorce; with laws of all States in press. 76dly

GEO. A. KINGSTON.

BARRISTER. Solicitor, etc., with Lount, Marsh and Cameron, 25 Toronto St., Toronto. Money to loan on farm property at lowest rates. 233dtf9w.

MIKEL & ROBERTS.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notary Public, Conveyancers, etc. Offices Bridge St., Belleville. Monies to loan at lowest rate.

THOMAS & HALLIWELL.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Conveyancers, &c. Money to loan. 293d3mwly
J. PARKER THOMAS, J. EARL HALLIWELL.

PONTON & MORDEN,

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public, Conveyancers. Office over Express and Telegraph Office, Bridge St., Belleville. Money to loan—private funds.
WM. N. PONTON, M. A., Solicitor Hastings Loan and Investment Society.
W. S. MORDEN, B.A.

F. GUSS PORTER.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, Notary Public. etc. Office in the Robertson Block, east side of Front Street.
☞ Private Money to Loan, 271dwly

FRANCIS S. WALLBRIDGE.

(Successor to Hon. Lewis Wallbridge, Q.C.)
BARRISTER, Solicitor, Conveyancer, etc. Office, McAnnany building, corner Front and Bridge streets, Belleville, Ont. Private and Company money to loan at 6 per cent., on easy terms upon good land security. Charges moderate.

HENRY CARRE, C. E.

M.C. Soc C.E.,
DOMINION AND PROVINCIAL LAND SURVEYOR.

Special attention paid to Hydraulics and Land Drainage. Patents obtained and Drawings made. Office—McAnnany Block, under Ontario Business College, Front St. P.O. address—Box 203, Belleville.

A. G. NORTHRUP.

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Shire Hall, Belleville. 226d&wly

D. I. DULMAGE, L.D.S., D.D.S. (Tor. University).

DENTIST—Office over Brignall & Thompson's. Night calls at residence on Forin Street. d,w

CHAS. JOSE.

VETERINARY Surgeon, Graduate Ontario Veterinary College, Member Ontario Veterinary Society. Office and residence, Foxboro, Ont. Calls by mail or telegram promptly attended to. 304d,wly

MISCELLANEOUS.

AGENTCY of the Liverpool and London and Globe Fire and Life Insurance Companies.
W. P. HUDSON, Agent.
Office Campbell street, Belleville. d,w

NEW . .
GOODS
—AT—
FISH'S.

New Neckwear, the very latest, the colorings are entirely new, shapes very nobby, and prices very low.
New underwear, in al weights, all kinds, all prices, all sizes and cheaper than ever.
New half hose in cashmere, merino, Scotch lamb's wool and hand knitted. Our 25c socks are great value.
See our new pink and blue shirts, our own make, the very latest.

A. E. FISH & CO.
The Noted Shirt Makers of Belleville.

STOVE PIPES!
STOVE PIPES!!
STOVE PIPES!!!
WHIPS! LANTERNS!
WHIPS!! LANTERNS!!
WHIPS!!! LANTERNS!!!
Lamps, Flower Pots,
Lamps, Flower pots,
Lamps, Flower Pots.
—AT—
THE FAIR,
FRANK WEEKS, MANAGER.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

ACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold everywhere, or sent by mail.
CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York.

Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

Dr. H. F. Merrill.

No Other Medicine
SO THOROUGH AS
AYER'S Sarsaparilla

Statement of a Well Known Doctor

"No other blood medicine that I have ever used, and I have tried them all, is so thorough in its action, and effects so many permanent cures as Ayer's Sarsaparilla."—Dr. H. F. MERRILL, Augusta, Me.

Ayer's The Only Sarsaparilla
Admitted at the World's Fair.

Ayer's Pills for liver and bowels.

ACETOCURA
TOUCHES THE SPOT IN NEURALGIA.

ACETOCURA
TOUCHES THE SPOT IN NEURALGIA

Mr. A. Weir, Kew Beach. September 7th, 1894, writes:—"Since then I have used it for neuralgic pains in the head, with immediate relief."

ACETOCURA
TOUCHES THE SPOT IN PARALYSIS.

ACETOCURA
TOUCHES THE SPOT IN PARALYSIS

ACETOCURA
TOUCHES THE SPOT IN PARALYSIS

Mrs. B. M. Hall, Fernwood, Ill., U.S.A., August 15th, 1894, writes:—"I am 61 years old. For two years I had been afflicted with partial paralysis of the lower limbs, rendering me unable to walk a block without complete exhaustion. After using Acetocura for five days the pain had entirely disappeared permitting me to enjoy a good night's rest, and after ten day's treatment I was able to walk two miles without fatigue."

Write for gratis pamphlet to COUTTS & Sons, 72 Victoria street, Toronto. Head offices—London, Glasgow and Manchester, (G.B.) Cologne, Germany, Aaron, Switzerland.

Local Agents—
L. W. YEOMANS & CO.,
DRUGGISTS,
BELLEVILLE.

PREPARE
FOR the STRUGGLE

The course of study offered by the Belleville business College gives a young person a thorough and practical knowledge of business, and also that mental culture and discipline which sharpens perceptive faculties, stimulates ambition, develops ability and prepares for the struggle of making a living. Every step in the work is characterized by thoroughness. Besides we use the most practical methods.

In teaching shorthand we dictate actual letters and legal evidence. Other schools have undertaken to imitate our methods, but the quality of their work bears that relation to practical business which the imitation does to the real.

We represent things exactly as they are.

Belleville Business College.
ROBERT BOGLE, Proprietor.

Daily Intelligencer.

LET THEM FIGHT IT OUT

The British Ministers Are Not in Favor of Foreign Interference

TO PROTECT FOREIGN RESIDENTS

Ten Thousand Troops to Occupy the Leading Treaty Ports—Missionaries Refuse to Leave Their Posts in the Unprotected Districts—The Foreign Powers to Act in Concert for Their Protection.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—It can be stated on authority that the developments of the past week in eastern affairs will lead to concerted action on the part of the European powers. On Monday last N. B. O'Connor, the British Minister at Pekin, warned the foreign office by cable that the condition of affairs was such that the Government was not able to guarantee protection to the foreign residents at the treaty ports and the missionaries in the interior of the country. The Minister in the same despatch stated that the Chinese imperial council was disorganized and that the collapse of the government was not looked upon as an impossibility and advised that instant action be taken for the protection of the lives and property of British subjects in China.

The substance of this despatch was at once communicated by Lord Rosebery to the Governments of France, Russia and Germany, with the suggestion that the powers co-operate in increasing the guard at the treaty ports and in measures for the protection of the missionaries. When the cabinet met on Thursday, friendly responses from all three of the powers named had been received, and those so thoroughly cleared up the situation as to enable the ministers to give the premier and the Earl of Kimberley, Secretary of State of Foreign Affairs, a free hand to take whatever steps in the matter they might consider necessary.

No question of intervention between Japan and China has arisen, however. It is reported that preparations are being made to send 10,000 troops to occupy the leading treaty ports, and if the present intention is carried out Parliament on reassembling will be asked to grant a credit of £4,000,000 to cover the expenses of the expedition. Since the holding of the Cabinet council instructions have been cabled to the British Minister at Pekin and to the British consuls at all the treaty ports to send to the mission stations in the interior imperative instructions for the withdrawal of all the missionaries to the protected coast districts. The consuls are empowered by their instructions to call for assistance upon Vice-Admiral Freemantle, commanding the British fleet in Chinese waters, who is authorized to send gunboats to any possible distance if such action be deemed necessary to cover the withdrawal of the missionaries. The instructions also direct that all missionaries without regard to nationality shall be protected.

The few and meagre telegrams thus far received from the Minister and consuls from the nearest mission stations indicate that the missionaries there are determined not to desert their posts, but to continue their work in the face of all risks.

Private advices to the Army and Navy Gazette explain away the Japanese charge that Vice-Admiral Freemantle signalled to the Chinese the approach of the Japanese fleet. The British vessels, it is said, used their search lights in order to reveal their nationality and thus preventing an assault upon them by mistake.

The offers of mediation between China and Japan are all widely divergent. The truth of the matter is that it is the general belief in official circles that the members of the Cabinet are unanimously against any foreign interference, and so far as Great Britain is concerned, favor allowing the Japanese to reap the full fruits of their victories unless, of course, they seek to injure the commercial interests of Europe.

The largest Protestant inland mission in China is engaged in the provinces of Se-Chuen and Hu-Pei, in which provinces anti-foreign riots have most often occurred. The managers of these stations think of withdrawing the workers under their supervision or sending fresh drafts of missionaries to the various stations in their district, they having received advices that there is no more cause for fear or ill-treatment than usually exists.

The same may be said of the Catholic missionaries, whose numbers are largely in excess of the Protestants. In New Chang and Moukden, which are near the centre of the district where the war is now being carried on, there were stationed 23 Catholic and 17 Protestant missionaries. The latest mail advices received from these points state that the churches and houses of native converts have been pillaged and burned, but that the foreign residents have meanwhile remained unharmed.

The position of affairs debars the Admiralty from sending explicit orders as to how to dispose of the vessels covering the post, but Vice-Admiral Freemantle has been advised to station gunboats at Che-Foo, Ichang and Hankow and also at the furthest inland port, Chun-King. At Shanghai the Indo-European police force will be increased on representations made by British shippers there.

The British Government at Hong Kong recently asked the home government for a decision upon the question whether or not rice was to be considered as contraband of war. The Earl of Kimberley, Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, telegraphed a negative answer and at the same time warned the Japanese authorities of the refusal of the Government to admit rice as contraband. The settlement of this question was shirked during the Franco-Chinese troubles and the decision is against the interests of the Japanese and will not tend to increase the friendliness of that nation towards England.

An English Capitalist Under Arrest.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Hubert F. Allen, financier of Brighton, England, the manager of the Dand and Property Investment Syndicate of America with offices in London, was arrested on Saturday at the Fifth avenue hotel, on a telegram from the chief of police of Des Moines, Ia., charging him with obtaining $1,500 from D. B. Lyons, of Des Moines, on false pretences. The company of which the defendant is manager was organized for the purpose of interesting English capital in American farm loans. Allen is held for examination.

Protest Against Germany's Tobacco Tax.

BERLIN, Oct. 8.—Five social democratic mass meetings were held here yesterday to protest against the tobacco tax which is to be proposed by the government. In their resolutions they protested against depriving 50,000 workingmen of employment by increasing the tax on tobacco, and denouncing the government for violating its promise to put the burden of the last army bill on the shoulders of the rich.

SUING FOR $150 ALIMONY.

This Now Celebrated Case Again Before Montreal Courts.

MONTREAL, Oct. 8.—The celebrated Browne desertion case is once more before the courts.

Andrew White Browne, the son of a very wealthy merchant, left his young wife in New York and coming to Montreal took up lodgings at the Windsor, where he lived most of the summer. His young wife followed him to Montreal, but he refused to have anything to do with her. To compel young Browne to recognize his wife proceedings for desertion were taken in the Police Court and Browne was convicted. Later he returned to New York. His father having come to Montreal, proceedings were taken against him together with his son for an allowance.

Messrs. McGibbon & Davidson, counsel for Mrs. Browne, ask for $150 a month. On Friday a motion was made in court for an order on Mr. Lyman Browne to appear in court for examination on Saturday morning. The motion set forth that Mr. Browne contemplated leaving Montreal. The motion was granted.

The case came up for hearing before Judge Tait in chambers. Mr. J. N. Greenshields appeared on behalf of Mr. Browne, sr., and asked that an extension of time be granted, so that he might test the jurisdiction of the court in trying the case. He contended that the deposition made would be again used against Mr. Browne in the case that is at present going on in New York. The judge overruled his objection and ordered the case to proceed.

In answer to a question by Mr. McGibbon, Q. C., counsel for plaintiff, Mr. Browne, sr., stated that if the court granted Mrs. Browne alimony of $150 a month he was willing and able to pay the amount.

A recorder's court warrant was also issued on Friday summoning Mr. Lyman Browne, sr., of New York to appear to answer to the charge of failing to support his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Andrew Browne.

CHEATED THE EXAMINERS.

A Civil Servant Got a Medical Student to Personate Him.

OTTAWA, Oct. 8.—The board of civil service examiners have reported to the Justice Department a case which has come before them at their rooms in the Ontario Chambers in regard to a member of the civil service getting another party to personate him in the civil service qualifying examination. The civil servant referred to is H. L. Desilettes, a mail clerk from Three Rivers. He was asked certain questions concerning his examination and as to how he secured his certificates. These questions he refused to answer at first, but the appearance of a Dominion policeman on the spot ready to arrest him and place him in jail had the desired effect and with some hesitation he gave the information desired.

The story of Desilettes is that at an examination in Montreal some three years ago, a medical student from Quebec personated him. Desilettes says that he does not know where the medical student has gone since that time, but he is somewhere outside of Quebec practising his profession. The name of the young doctor is withheld until such time as Desilettes' story is verified.

Hamilton's Mayor Fined.

HAMILTON, Oct. 8.—At Saturday's session of the police court Mayor A. D. Stewart was found guilty of assaulting William Lottridge and was fined $1 and costs. On September 22 the mayor in his capacity as secretary of the Hamilton Jockey Club undertook to eject Lottridge from the club house because the latter was trespassing on the private quarters of the club where only members are permitted. Lottridge, who had been drinking, was in an ugly mood, assumed a pugilistic attitude, whereupon the mayor knocked him down. Magistrate Jelfs decided that the mayor in his capacity as Jockey Club secretary had a right to eject Lottridge if he was trespassing, but should not have struck the blow complained of.

An Old Cornwall Resident Dead.

CORNWALL, Ont., Oct. 8.—An old and highly respected citizen of Cornwall was on Saturday removed from his life labors in the person of Francis Lally, at the ripe age of 85 years. Mr. Lally came from Westport, County Mayo, Ireland, fifty years ago, taking up his home in the then small village of Cornwall, where he carried on a boot and shoe business for upwards of thirty-five years. He was also connected with the High Court sessions in Cornwall, and parties having law business here will miss his smiling face and pleasant countenance.

Governor Curtin Dead.

BELLEFONTE, Pa., Oct. 8.—Andrew Gregg Curtin, the war governor of Pennsylvania, died yesterday. Governor Curtin was born April 22 1817. Was admitted to the bar in 1837, and in 1854 was appointed Secretary of State by the governor. In 1868 he was a prominent candidate for the nomination for vice-president on the ticket with Grant, but was defeated. Shortly succeeding Grant's election Governor Curtis was appointed minister to Russia and spent nearly four years at St. Petersburg. He later on renounced his allegiance to the Republican party and as a Democrat served six years in Congress.

Fight Between Negroes and Whites.

HAWESVILLE, Ky., Oct. 8.—A fight occurred at Poawer's station, west of this city, between three dozen negroes and a few white men. An excursion train was returning from the Owensboro' fair, when the negroes, enraged because they were made to ride in a separate coach, made a rush for the other cars. Soon the blacks began shooting and United States Deputy Marshal Moses Bullington and others replied. Several of the whites were wounded, but none killed, though every window in one car was shot out. Bullington and his comrades assert that at least seven negroes were killed and many others wounded.

Terrible Death of a Female Balloonist.

FRANKLINVILLE, N.Y.. Oct. 8.—Beatrice von Dressen, the young female balloonist, made an ascension on the Franklinville Fair grounds at 6 o'clock and when over fifteen hundred feet in the air she fell from the balloon and was instantly killed. She had a parachute attached to the balloon and was trying to loosen it and lost her balance. Where she struck the ground it was indented nearly a foot with the imprint of her head, shoulders and arm. She was but 17 years old and had been in the business three years.

"General" Kelly Clubbed.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 8.—"General" Kelly, leader of the industrial army which left here last summer and went to Washington, while addressing a crowd Saturday evening in Oakland, was ordered by Officer Scanlan to desist. Kelly refused and Scanlan took him into custody. They had not gone far when Scanlan suddenly began clubbing Kelly and fractured his skull Scanlan was arrested.

FLIGHT OF A POETIC SOUL

Oliver Wendell Holmes, the Famous Poet, is Dead.

SKETCH OF HIS LIFE AND WORKS

He Passed an Honored and Brilliant Career in His Chosen Profession—"The Autocrat of the Breakfast Table"—Besides Being a Great Poet He Was a Valued Contributor to Medical Journals.

BEVERLY, Mass., Oct. 8.—Oliver Wendell Holmes, the poet, died at his residence at Beverly Farm yesterday.

[Oliver Wendell Holmes was born at Cambridge, Mass., August 29, 1809. He was graduated at Harvard College in 1829, and began the study of law, which he subsequently abandoned for that of medicine. Having attended the hospitals of Paris and other European cities he commenced practice in Boston in 1836. In 1838 he was elected professor of anatomy and physiology in Dartmouth College and in 1847 was appointed to a similar professorship in the

THE DEAD POET.

Massachusetts Medical School, from which he retired in 1882. As early as 1836 his contributions in verse appeared in various periodicals.

As a writer of songs, lyrics and poems for festive occasions he occupied the first place. He was for many years a popular lecturer.

In 1857 he commenced in the Atlantic Monthly, a serious of articles under the title, "The autocrat of the breakfast table," which were followed in 1860 by "The Professor at the breakfast table," in 1872 by "The Poet at the breakfast table," and in 1885 by "The new portfolio." In addition he published "Astrea" in 1850; "Currents and counter currents in medical science," 1861; Elsie Venner, a Romance of Destiny" 1861; "Borderlands in some provinces of medical science," 1862; "Songs in Many Keys," 1864; Soundings from the Atlantic," 1861; Humorous poems," 1865; "The guarding angel," 1868; "Mechanism in thought and morals," 1870; "Songs of Many Seasons;" 1874; John L. Motley, a memoir," 1878; "The Iron Gate and other poems," 1880; "Medical essays," 1883; "Pages from an old volume of life," 1883; "Ralph Waldo Emerson," 1884; "A Mortal antipathy," 1885; "One hundred days in Europe," 1887; "Before the Curfew," 1888; and numerous poems recited at various dinner and reunions.

In 1886 he visited England where he was received with great cordality. Editions of his collected poems have appeared from time to time, the first in 1836 and the last in 1889. He has contributed largely to current medical literature as well as to literary journals and reviews. A series of genial papers from his pen entitled "Over the teacups," appeared in the Atlantic Monthly during 1890.]

A Woman Brutally Murdered.

IRVING, Ky., Oct. 8.—Mrs. White, who lived about six miles west of here, was murdered by an unknown man, who beat her to death with a club. It is thought to have been an attempt at outrage. The people are hunting the murderer.

Four Colored Children Cremated.

FLORENCE, Ala., Oct. 8.—Four children of J. D. Chandler, all under five years of age, were cremated in the burning of the homestead, near Smithsonia, on Saturday. The people are all colored.

Shot Nails Into His Heart.

CAMBRIDGE, Md., Oct. 8.—Capt. Grant Simons loaded a shotgun with nails and fired the charge through his heart. The cause of the suicide is unknown.

The Latter Day Saints.

PETROLEA, Oct. 8.—The semi-annual conference of the Chatham district of the organized Church of Jesus Christ, the Latter Day Saints, is in session there. Of the fifteen branches in the district nine reported by resolution. The officers for the district were elected, and other business connected with the organization was gone through with. Elder J. H. Lake was chosen as the delegate to represent the district at the general conference to be held at Independence, Mo., commencing April 6, 1895.

Licenses Given to American Vessels.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Oct. 8.—Advance sheets of the report of the Canadian Department of Marine and Fisheries show 52 American vessels have taken modus vivendi licenses for the year of 1894, for which they paid a total sum of $46,603. Of the number securing licenses 43 were from Gloucester, 3 from Boston, 2 from Portland, 2 from Provincetown and one each from Rockland and Salem. Licenses taken out in Newfoundland are not included.

Boy Drowned at Lindsay.

LINDSAY, Ont., Oct. 8.—A sad drowning accident occurred here yesterday. Four boys were out in a boat near the pumping station when the boat upset. Three of the boys got out safely, but Willie Brown, messenger boy at the G. N. W. office, was unable to reach the shore and was drowned. It is supposed he was taken with cramps as he was a good swimmer. The body will be buried at Woodville.

Zola Goes to See the Pope.

ROME, Oct. 8.—Emile Zola, the French author, one of whose latest works, "Lourdes," has been placed on the index librorum prohibitorum by the Vatican authorities, will arrive in this city on the 28th instant. The object of Zola's visit is said to be to obtain an audience with the Pope, but the Vatican officials declare he will not succeed.

The Ontario List Next Week.

OTTAWA, Oct. 8.—The Supreme Court concluded the Quebec list on Saturday and adjourned. It will take up the Ontario list a week from to-morrow.

USE
SURPRISE SOAP
ON WASH DAY;
AND EVERY DAY.

"THE FUTURE MUSKOKA."

Lake Tamagami Teems With Fish of Many Varieties.

OTTAWA, Oct. 8.—A. E. Barlow of the Geological Survey, returned yesterday from three months' field work in the Lake Tamagami and Temiscamingue regions. His party made this summer the first survey of Lake Tamagami. He reports this lake to be about 30 miles long and 21 wide. It is full of islands, he says, and will be "the future Muskoka." Its waters also abound with splendid fish of many varieties. The vicinity of the lake is rocky and there is no farming land whatever. To the southeast end of the lake there is splendid timber. The rocks contain what may prove to be valuable deposits of copper, iron and silver ores. If the Nipissing and James Bay Railway, which passes by the east end of the lake, is ever completed these deposits will likely be developed.

Mr. Barlow also explored Lake Temiscamingue and reports that there is good farming land at the northeast arm of the lake as can be found anywhere in Canada. Settlers are rapidly colonizing this part.

Fatal Trolley Accident in Montreal.

MONTREAL, Oct. 8.—Another fatal street railway accident occurred on Saturday on St. Catharine street. Edward Maher, a young man who was being trained as a second conductor, was in the act of crossing from a trolley car to a trailer to collect a fare, when he missed his footing and fell heavily to the ground. The front wheels of the trailer passed over his body, which was dragged for a considerable distance before the car could be brought to a standstill. The man was dead by the time the ambulance arrived at the scene of the accident.

Quebec's New Treasurer.

QUEBEC, Oct. 8.—At a meeting of the Cabinet Hon. L. O. Taillon was chosen Provincial Treasurer pro tem. It is said on good authority that Judge Wurtele will be named senior judge of the Court of Queen's Bench. Judge Davidson will be appointed at Judge Wurtele's place at the Court of Appeals and Hon. J. S. Hall will succeed Judge Davidson in the Supreme Court.

A Montreal Woman Badly Burned.

MONTREAL, Oct. 8.—The firemen on Saturday evening were called to No. 558 Laval avenue where a fire had started in a room. The fire was started by the upsetting of a coal oil lamp. While the lady of the house, Mrs. E. Houle, was attempting to subdue the fire, she was very badly burned about the face and had her hair scorched. She is in a critical condition.

Haggard's Suit Against the Publishers.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8.—Judge Acheson, of the United States Circuit Court, heard argument on Saturday on a demurrer to the bill of complaint of the novelist, H. Rider Haggard and the publishing firm of Longmans, Green & Co., of New York, against the Waverley Co., of New York, for an alleged infringement by the latter of the copyright of Haggard's novel, "Nada, the Lilly." This is the first case arising under the new international copyright law passed in 1890 and involves the constitutionality of the Act.

Cincinnati Druggists Arrested.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 8.—Four of the leading druggists of Cincinnati were arrested on Saturday upon warrants issued by the food inspector, charging them with selling adulterated drugs. The warrants were issued after a chemical analysis of the articles in question—paskola, vin mariana and unfermented wine. The analysis is said to have shown all these preparations to be adulterated within the meaning of the statutes of Ohio.

A Fatal Gun Accident.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—Geo. S. Nixon, an employe of the Parisian Steam Laundry Company, was killed on Saturday night by the accidental discharge of a gun which he was removing from a buggy. The hammer caught in some manner and exploded, the charge blowing off the top of the young man's head.

The Ahr Valley.

It is becoming the custom among European travellers to stop at Remagen on the Rhine, and make a little excursion to the beautiful Valley of the Ahr, with its picturesque villages along the vine clad slope. Here is also located the spring from which flows that world wide favorite "Apollinaris Water." At Neuenahr, in the valley, the river Ahr is very beautiful, and one can find few more quaintly attractive spots than the Upper Gate at Ahrweiler, or the 1d mill at Heppingen.

A tax on dogs was levied in Rome during the reign of Nero.

For Over Fifty Years

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by druggists throughout the world. 17d&wly

In the time of Queen Anne soap was taxed £28 per ton.

DEAR SIRS,—I have used Yellow Oil for two or three years, and think it has no equal for croup. Mrs. J. S. O'Brien, Huntsville, Ont.

The tithes in England amounted to £4,050,000 a year.

Dyspepsia and Indigestion.—C. W. Snow & Co., Syracuse, N.Y., writes: "Please send us ten gross of Pills. We are selling more of Parmelee's Pills than any other Pill we keep. They have a great reputation for the cure of Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint." Mr. Chas. A. Smith, Lindsay, writes: "Parmelee's Pills are an excellent medicine. My sister has been troubled with severe headache, but these pills have cured her."

Russia raises $1,5000,000 a year by the sale of passports.

THAT TIRED, LANGUID FEELING and dull headache is very disagreeable. Take two of Carter's Little Liver Pills before retiring, and you will find relief. They never fail to do good.

SAFE
BRISTOL'S SUGAR-COATED

VEGETABLE PILLS
EASY TO TAKE — INFALLIBLE
PROMPT

LAKEHURST SANITARIUM
OAKVILLE, ONT.

For treatment and cure of
ALCHOLISM, MORPHINE HABIT, TOBACCO HABIT AND NERVOUS DISEASES.

The system employed at this institution is the familiar Double Chloride of Gold System. Through its agency over 200,000 Slaves to the use of these poisons have been emancipated in the last fourteen years. Lakehurst Sanitarium is the oldest Institution of the kind in Canada, and has a well earned reputation to maintain in this line of medicine. In its whole history there is not an instance of failure to remove the appetite for these poisons. In its whole history there is not an instance of any after ill effects from the treatment. Hundreds of happy homes in all parts of the Dominion bear eloquent witness to the efficacy of a course of treatment with us. For terms and full information write
THE SECRETARY,
28 Bank of Commerce Chambers,
aug7d3m34w3m) Toronto, Ont.

HAPPY HOME RANGES.
Best in the Market.
—ALSO—
A Full Line of
Art Garland
and
Famous Heaters.
—(o)—
Wm. McGIE.
Next to Nathan Jones.
Telephone 38. Front St.

BEST QUALITY
CANADIAN
"Silver Star,"
—AND—
AMERICAN
"Water White"
COAL OIL.
Delivered promptly to any part of the city,
D. M. WATERS.

PETTYJOHN'S
CALIFORNIA BREAKFAST FOOD

Dyspeptics can eat this food.
It is particularly adapted for children and persons of sedentary habits.
It is made from Pacific coast wheat hulled and crushed by improved machinery.
It can be easily prepared for breakfast, as this crushing process makes it soft and tender and easy to cook.
Ask your physician which is best for you to eat, oats or wheat.
Pettijohn's California Breakfast Food is sold in packages by
BENMORE & BENSON.

CONSUMPTION

is averted, or if too late to avert it it is often cured and always relieved by

Scott's Emulsion

the Cream of Cod-liver Oil. Cures Coughs, Colds and Weak Lungs. Physicians, the world over, endorse it.

Don't be deceived by Substitutes!

Scott & Bowne, Belleville. All Druggists. 50c. & $1.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, MONDAY, OCT 8

MR. CORBY'S RETIREMENT.

The Mail remarks: "In the retirement of Mr H. Corby, M P, from politics the Conservatives lose a popular and honorable supporter. Last session it was discovered that Mr. Corby had unconsciously violated the Independence of Parliament Act, owing to the fact that spirits had been bought by the Department of the Interior from his distillery. He immediately resigned, but was promptly re-elected without opposition. Mr. Corby's reason for retiring is ill-health. If the sessions of Parliament were shorter such men as he would not be compelled to quit politics."

EDITORIAL BREVITIES.

The transference of the headquarters of the channel fleet from Portsmouth to Gibraltar indicates anything but war with France.

Down in New Orleans, satirically remarks the Montreal Gazette, one Mr. Fitzsimmons has been declared champion pugilist of the world. This, however, is all nonsense. Mr. Fitzsimmons has not had half as much to say as Mr. Corbett, or Mr. Jackson, or Mr. Sullivan. He cannot possibly be a modern pugilistic champion.

The sword purchased by Hon. J. C. Patterson in the belief that it was worn by General Wolfe at the capture of Quebec, proves to be spurious.

In commenting on the butter trade, the Toronto Mail cautions Canadians against shipping inferior butter. It says it is useless to send to England butter that is strong enough to work its way across the Atlantic.

The death rate in New York city is decreasing, according to the following figures compiled by the Health Board. With a population of 1,893,308 last year, the total number of deaths reported up to Sept. 15th was 33,586. In the same period there were 35,437 births, and 11,289 marriages. During the same period this year, with an increase of population to 1,957,452, the deaths numbered only 30,919. Births increased to 40,579, and marriages to 11,406, showing a decrease in the number of deaths, with an increased population.

PRINCE EDWARD.

PICTON, Oct. 5.—The rain on Wednesday prevented many from bringing their exhibits to the annual fair, still the exhibition was a creditable one, the grain, vegetables and fruit surpassing in size and quality that of former years. The weather on Thursday was more favorable and the attendance was good.—Rev. Davidson McDonald, missionary of Japan, who has been visiting in the country, preached in the Methodist church, Wellington, on Sunday evening.—Mr. Willett D. Garratt, of Wellington, has received the sad news of the death of his little daughter, aged 10 months, on Sept. 22nd near Riverside, Cal. His wife died there in December last. Soon afterwards Mr. Garratt returned to his former home in Wellington, bringing with him his two older children. The babe was left in the charge of a kind friend until a suitable age to be brought here, and the father and other relations were much shocked to hear that she had died after an illness of only a few hours.—The apple crop throughout the county is much better than was expected earlier in the season, snow apples being of an unusually good quality, and winter apples are bringing a good price.—Mr. and Mrs. Allen M. Young, of Athol, have returned from a week's visit to Watertown, N. Y.—Mr. and Mrs. Adam H. Garratt left this week to spend a few days with friends in New York State.—Butter on the Picton market has been bringing from 25 to 28 cents per pound during the past month.

The Haines & Lockett Fire.

Owing to our loss by the recent fire, we placed what few accounts we had on our books in the hands of W. J. Diamond with instructions to send them in without respect of persons, and to urge immediate payment. We hope all parties concerned will respond promptly at Mr. Diamond's office.

d115tf HAINES & LOCKETT.

A Lesson in Hygiene.

Now that water supplies are recognized as the chief vehicle for propagating typhoid fever, medical and scientific authorities throughout the world are constantly dwelling on the necessity of using water of known purity. While this has no bearing on medicinal waters, which, however valuable, cannot safely be made part of the ordinary daily diet, because of the active chemical substances they contain, it has, however, given a wonderful stimulus to the consumption of dietetic or table waters, such as Apollinaris. It is little wonder, however, that the use of Apollinaris is on the increase, for who does not gladly take the beverage which, besides being pure and healthful, is delightful and refreshing?

Lane's Medicine Moves the Bowels Each Day

In order to be healthy this is necessary.

TO CURE DEBILITY,

Loss of appetite, sleeplessness and all nervous troubles, physicians recommend

Campbell's Quinine Wine.

Do not let your druggist persuade you that some other is just as good.

K. CAMPBELL & CO., Mfrs., MONTREAL.

FRUIT & FLOWERS

BUDDING PEACH TREES.

Object Lessons in Budding Peaches by A Michigan Expert.

The necessary materials for budding are the seedling stocks, bud sticks or cions cut from trees of improved varieties, a budding knife, raffia (the epidermis of the leaves of one of the palms), and yarn, or the bast layer of basswood bark to bind on the buds. If but little budding is to be done, a sharp pocket knife will serve the purpose of a budding knife very well. Usually a number of seedling stocks come up by chance about every farm home, but should a large number be desired it is well to secure pits taken from seedlings of natural fruits. The pits should be first subjected to the action of frost in order to secure prompt germination. This process is known among nursery growers as "stratifying the seed." The seed is frequently planted in the spring before it sprouts, by scattering the pits and covering them with light soil to a depth of about two inches, following with the roller or other tool to firm the soil. The young stocks should be cultivated often to secure an even and vigorous growth; especially is this necessary in dry seasons. These seedling stocks often get a half inch in diameter by September of the first season, and are then of a good size for budding. Budding should, as a rule, be done two weeks before the growth stops; a favorable time is during the latter part of August and the first half of September. Good results have, however, been obtained by budding as late as October. Buds from bearing trees are most reliable, yet buds taken from younger trees are preferable, being more easily obtained and more reliable. The buds from near the upper or lower end of the cion should not be used. Care should be taken to select only healthy, plump, and well-ripened buds. The leaves should be promptly removed from the cions as soon as cut leaving only about one quarter of the leaf-stem as a convenient handle to use in inserting the buds.

OBJECT LESSONS IN BUDDING PEACHES.

A T-shaped cut is made in the bark of the seedling stock, about three or four inches from the ground, taking care not to injure the bark more than is absolutely necessary. Workers differ as to their method of making this cut, but it is of little consequence whether the horizontal cut is first made or the vertical one. In either case the insertion should be made so as to loosen the edges of the bark in order to easily slip in the freshly cut bud. In cutting the bud take the bud stick in the left hand, resting it on the forefinger, with the upper end toward the body. The knife should be inserted a half-inch, or a little less, below the bud, and a cut is then made under the bud and deep enough to take off with the bud a thin shaving of wood, extending about a half inch above the bud. The knife is then taken out, and the bud severed from the cion by a straight, horizontal cut. Budders are about equally divided as regards the question of removing the wood from the bud. The bud is now ready to be placed in the seedling. Take the leaf stalk—left on the bud for this purpose—between the thumb and forefinger of the right hand and insert it in the cut in the bark of the stock, pushing it down until the upper edge of the bud is slightly below the horizontal cut of the stock. The stock should now be wrapped snugly with raffia, two to four times around the stock below the bud, and about three times above it. Unless this is thoroughly done the air is not excluded and the buds dry out so that union with the stock cannot take place. After two or three weeks the bands should be cut on all stocks where the buds have taken. This is generally all the precaution necessary to observe the first year. In the spring the stocks should be cut back with a slanting cut, of about a slope of forty-five degrees, and commencing from the opposite side from the bud, and about half an inch above it. This completes the operation, except that all suckers which start up from the stub should be removed.—Herbert W. Mumford, in American Agriculturist.

SPECIAL MENTION

DR. LOW'S PLEASANT WORM SYRUP removes worms of all kinds from children or adults.

THAT HACKING COUGH can be quickly cured by Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam. Price 25c.

ALWAYS AVOID HARSH PURGATIVE PILLS. They first make you sick and then leave you constipated. Carter's Little Liver Pills regulate the bowels and make you well. Dose, one pill.

ALL CASES OF WEAK OR LAME BACK, backache, rheumatism, will find relief by wearing one of Carter's Smartweed and Belladonna Backache Plasters. Price 25 cents. Try them.

No person should go from home without a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial in their possession, as change of water, cooking, climate, etc., frequently brings on summer complaint, and there is nothing like being ready with a sure remedy at hand, which oftentimes saves great suffering, and frequently valuable lives. This Cordial has gained for itself a wide spread reputation for affording prompt relief from all summer complaints.

THE GREAT FAMILY MEDICINE OF THE AGE.—There is probably, no family medicine so favorably and so widely known as DAVIS' PAIN KILLER. It is extensively used in India, China, Turkey—and, in every civilized country on earth, not only to counteract the climatic influences, but for the cure of bowel troubles, Cholera and Fevers. It is used internally for all diseases of the bowels, and externally for wounds, burns, bruises, &c. Sold by druggists generally. 26c. for a big bottle

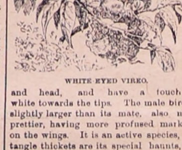

How to Get a "Sunlight" Picture

Send 25 "Sunlight" soap wrappers (wrapper bearing the words "Why does a woman look old sooner than a man") to Lever Bros., Ltd., 43 Scott St., Toronto, and you will receive by post a pretty picture, free from advertising, and well worth framing. This is an easy way to decorate your home. The soap is the best in the market, and it will only cost 1c. postage to send in the wrappers, if you leave the ends open. Write your address carefully.

WHITE-EYED VIREO.

This little bird, Vireo Noveboracensis, shown in the illustration, is interesting from the fact that it has a habit of frequently using bits of newspaper for the construction of its nest, and has thereby gained the sobriquet "polititian," given by Wilson, that well-known writer and authority on birds.

The white-eyed vireo, also known as the white-eyed greenlet, is one of about eighteen varieties. It spends its summers mostly in Ontario and Quebec and in the eastern part of the United States, and its winters in the Gulf States and vicinity. The back and head of the female bird is a mouse-colored gray, the breast more whitish in color, and the eye, as its name itdicates, is white, surrounding the black pupil. The wings are a little darker than its back and head, and have a touch of white towards the tips. The male bird is slightly larger than its mate, also much prettier, having more profused markings on the wings. It is an active species, and tangle thickets are its special haunts, although sometimes found in the shrubbery of towns and orchards. It has a varied song, which is quaint and emphatic. In its neatly-made cup or purse-shaped nest one may find the eggs, which, as usual in the vireo's, is a clear white ground, sprinkled with specks of reddish brown and dark purple. The eggs are three to five in number. The white-eyed vireo shares all the traits which are characteristic of its family, being bold, reckless, impulsive (especially when its nesting precincts are disturbed), and gifted with agreeable vocal powers. The nest is usually found on the outskirts of woods, covered with a tangle of blackberry, or other briars, networks of bushes and creeping vines. It is seldom found more than four feet above the ground and is usually built from two to three feet from it. The nest is suspended by the brim from a forked twig, as shown in the illustration.

WHITE EYED VIREO.

The red-eyed vireo (Vireo olivaceus) is larger than the white-eyed, and has rather a longer head with a bright red eye. On a long, hot summer's day one may hear its gay and cheerful song floating on the air, when all others are silent. The nest of this tireless songster is built much higher than his brother's with the white eye, it usually being built from five to twenty-five feet above ground, but seldom higher. This nest is also suspended by the rim from horizontal forks of branches. It consists of miscellaneous strips of fibrous bark and fine grasses on the inside, making a strong, durable structure. The red-eyed vireo frequents the banks of streams, and seems especially fond of pouring forth its joyful notes from among the branches of some sycamore.—American Agriculturist.

Bees and Grapes.

Nelson W. McLain, who was appointed by the United States agricultural department to investigate the complaint that bees destroyed grapes, has reported. He says:

The bees daily visited the fruit in great numbers and labored diligently to improve the only remaining source of subsistence. They inspected and took what advantage they could of every opening at the stem or crack in the epidermis or puncture made by insects which deposit their eggs in the skin of grapes. They regarded the epidermis of the peaches, pears, plums and other fruits having a thick covering simply as subjects for inquiry and investigation, and not objects for attack. If the skin be broken or removed, they will, in case of need, lap and suck the juices exposed. The same was also true of the grapes, if the skin was broken by violence or burst on account of the fruit becoming over-ripe; the bees lapped and sucked the juices from the exposed parts of grapes and stored it in cells for food. They made no attempt to grasp the cuticle of grapes with their mandibles or with their claws. If the grapes were cut open or burst from over-ripeness the bees would lap and suck the juices from the exposed segments of the grape until they came to the film separating the exposed and broken sedgments from the unbroken sedgments. Through and beyond the film separating the sedgments they appear to be unable to penetrate. I removed the outer skin from many grapes of different kinds, taking care not to rupture the film surrounding the pulp. When these were exposed to the bees they continued to lap and suck the juices from the outer film until it was dry and smooth as was the film between broken and unbroken sedgments. They showed no disposition to use their jaws or claws, and the outer film, as well as the film between broken sedgments remained whole until the pulp decayed and dried up.

After continuing the test for thirty days we sent to Michigan for varieties not obtainable here; another colony of Italian bees were added to the rest and twenty varieties of grapes again exposed upon plates and suspended from the rafters. The conditions naturally prevalent during a severe and protracted drouth were again produced and the test again continued for twenty-five days. The bees showed no more capacity or disposition to offer violence to one kind of grape more than another. No more attention was given the thin-skinned varieties than the thick-skinned. As long as the skin remained whole they did not harm the grapes. When the skins were broken by violence, such as by cutting or squeezing, the juices exposed were appropriated.

An Aged Tulip Tree.

It is said that on Lord Holmes' estate in the county of Berwickshire, England, is a tulip tree that is known to have been planted over 200 years ago.

The Candidate (gloomily)—The majority of voters against me was enormous. His Friend (consolingly)—Never mind; just think what it would have been if everybody had voted.—Chicago Record.

Loved—The Money.

An absent-minded Southwark woman went to bank the other day to have cashed a check her husband sent her. She indorsed it thus: "Your loving wife, Mary Miller."—Philadelphia Record.

So Appropriate.

"Mrs. Patter's parrot died last week and they conducted a burial service."

"Who officiated?"

"Mr. Patter. You know the parrot loved to hear him swear."

A PARKDALE YOUTH SHOT

He Receives a Probably Fatal Wound at the Hands of an Unknown.

THE CASE A MYSTERIOUS ONE.

The Dying Boy Knows Who Fired the Shot But Refuses to Give His Name or the Circumstances That Led Up to the Deed—Jealousy Supposed to Be at the Bottom of the Crime.

TORONTO, Oct. 8.—A tragedy attended by circumstances of an unusually sensational character was enacted on Saturday night at the residence on Jamieson avenue, Parkdale, of one of the most prominent citizens of the West End, Mr. B. Westwood, whereby his son Frank, aged 19, received probably fatal injuries.

The house and grounds of Mr. Westwood have a large frontage on the lake, and are known to everyone for their beauty and extent. The front door of the residence is a very considerable distance from the street and in the intervening space their dog, an exceedingly savage one, is let loose at night to guard the house from possible nocturnal prowlers.

About 11 o'clock on Saturday night while Mrs. Westwood and Frank were sitting in the parlor their came a sudden ring at the door bell, and immediately afterwards Mrs. Westwood was startled by seeing the face of a man peering through the window.

Frank at once rose and went to answer the summons. He had no sooner opened the door than a pistol shot rang out on the night air, startling the already frightened mother and rousing the entire household.

Mrs. Westwood ran to the door, but for a moment could not see her son or anyone else for the smoke from the powder. When it cleared away she saw the form of her son lying prone on the floor with his life-blood oozing from a wound in his side.

Although almost prostrated by the terrible event the mother recovered herself sufficiently to reach the side of the wounded lad, and with the other members of the family who had hastened horror-stricken to her assistance, conveyed him into the parlor. In the meantime Mr. Westwood, senior, had secured a revolver and fired a couple of shots in the direction the probable murderer was supposed to have taken, but without eliciting any response.

Dr. Aylesworth was at once sent for, and, on his arriving, it was ascertained that the bullet had entered Frank's body between the lower ribs on the right side, and that it had embedded itself somewhere in the back, making a wound so serious that it is regarded as improbable that the young man can recover, and his death is looked for momentarily.

All kinds of rumors are in circulation, but mystery though the tragedy is to the family and the world, the would-be murderer is known to his victim, who pertinaciously refuses to divulge his name. A gaming incident or jealousy is said to lie at the bottom of his reticence, but he may yet be prevailed to tell the full particulars of the events leading up to Saturday night's tragic affair.

The glimpse secured of the man revealed a person of about thirty years with a dark moustache and an intensely white face.

About a month ago, it is admitted by the wounded lad, a man threatened him, saying that he would yet get even with him (Frank Westwood). From words that dropped from his lips it is surmised that Frank thought he would be visited on Saturday night by his Nemesis, and, despite the well-known savagery of the dog, which ordinarily would have allowed no one to pass, the avenger, if avenger he be, succeeded in reaching his marked victim, although the dumb guardian was abroad. It is surmised from this latter fact that the would-be murderer must have been a friend and that the dog was acquainted with him to let him pass without even a growl, so far as anyone heard.

The stricken household is in great sorrow, in which the whole community shares, for the family is very well known, especially in Parkdale, in which they are prominent in the Methodist church.

It is hoped that the young man who is so near death's door will yet reveal the name of his assailant.

MOVEMENTS IN THE EAST.

A Large Force of Japanese Land on the Chinese Coast.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—Tien-Tsin correspondent of the Times telegraphs: "The Japanese are pursuing the campaign toward Moukden cautiously, avoiding all dashing enterprises. Japanese cruisers are closely watching the Chinese fleet in the Gulf of Pechili. The Japanese by paying for supplies and keeping discipline are gaining the sympathies of the Coreans.

The Daily Graphic prints a despatch from Shanghai saying that Japanese transports have landed a large force at Talien-Wan, on the Chinese coast, northeast of Port Arthur.

A despatch from Shanghai says: "Native reports from the Corean frontier say that the Chinese have abandoned their positions at Ngan and retired upon Kai-chan. There is a vague rumor that the Chinese officials contemplate totally blocking the Woo-Sung bar."

The Standard's Berlin correspondent telegraphs: "The Japanese government has instructed Gen. Count Yakagata to inform the diplomatists at Seoul that the Japanese will not be allowed to plunder Pekin in the event of their capturing the city."

The Central News correspondent in Rome says: "It is semi-officially announced that the Italian minister in Pekin has offered the Chinese government Italy's mediation in the question at issue between China and Japan."

PARIS, Oct. 8.—The French warships Isly, Alger, Duguay-Tronin and Lutin have been ordered to Chinese waters. It is semi-officially stated that, besides the protection of French residents in China, the French government has in view possible contingencies arising from the war. The Temps says that the naval officials at Brest have been ordered to hold the warships in readiness to proceed at a moment's notice.

ROME, Oct. 8.—Despatches from Pekin say that the Board of Foreign Affairs has issued a note to the representatives of the foreign powers limiting the irghts of neutrals. The British, Russian, French and Italian representatives decline to accede to China's wishes in this respect.

BERLIN, Oct. 8.—Under the approval of the Emperor Chancellor von Caprivi has telegraphed to Lord Kimberley, British Foreign Minister, informing him that the German squadron will co-operate with the English fleet to protect Europeans at Chinese ports.

THE WIDOWED FARMER.

Since Hanner died the sun don't shine so bright,
The stars don't twinkle near so keen at night,
The church bell Sunday mornin' an't the cheer
It had when she was here,
Since Hanner died.

The very chickens misses Hanner's care,
And go 'round with a sorter lonesome air,
There ain't no kind of joy about the place
Without her smilin' face,
Since Hanner died.

The garden tools hang in the apple trees,
The hossweeds are a-killin' off the peas;
There's no one here to hoe the taters now,
Er feed the hogs an' cow,
Since Hanner died.

I s'pose, of course, I'd orter be resigned,
But when I go out in the shed and find
The ax she chopped the wood with all them years,
I wet it with my tears,
Since Hanner died.

BORROWED MIRTH.

Fortune Teller—Your husband will be rich, handsome and clever. Brown (to fiancee)—By Jove! wonderful! How did she guess it?—From Sketch.

Debutante—Don't you ever gossip or talk scandal? Woman Hater—No, I never discuss women.—N. Y. Journal.

Mrs. Hale (just married)—Maria, we will have eels as a second course for dinner. Maria—How much ought I to get, ma'am? "I think twelve yards will be sufficient."—Vogue.

Amateur Poet—It was at the time when my fiancee jilted me that I discovered my poetic vein and— Good Friend—Yes, yes; a misfortune never comes alone.—Fliegende Blaetter.

Ada—Flo was just going down for the third time when Dr. Watson dived off a yacht and caught her. Grace—And saved her life! Wasn't that wonderful? Ada—Yes, for a doctor.—Life.

Mistress—Did you tell the lady I was out? Ward—Yes, ma'am. Mistress—Did she seem to have any doubts about it? Ward—No, ma'am. She said she knew you wasn't.—Harlem Life.

"But what is this new story like?" "Like? Never was anything like it. That's the reason it's so delightfully absurd, don't you know. There isn't a natural character or probable situation in it. Oh, you must read it."—Boston Transcript.

THE ORIGIN OF THINGS.

The design of the American flag was probably borrowed from the family arms of Gen. Washington, which consisted of three stars in the upper portion and three bars across the escutcheon.

Watches originated at Nuremberg as early as 1477. They were at first called Nuremberg eggs, which they resembled both in shape and size. They were often fitted into the tops of walking-sticks.

The first English book on stenography, so far as known, was written by Dr. Timothy Bright in 1588. Its earlier invention is attributed to the Latin poet Ennius, to Seneca, Cicero and several others.

Guns are said to have been used by the Chinese before the beginning of the Christian era. The oldest dated piece of European artillery bears an inscription declaring that the gun was cast in 1303.

Marine insurance was practiced in Rome B. C. 45. It was very general in Europe before the discovery of America, and it is altogether probable that the ships of Columbus were insured for their full value.

Coats of arms were first employed in England during the reign of Richard I., and became hereditary in families in the following century. They originated from the painted banners carried by knights and nobles.

RELIGION AND REFORM.

The rate of growth of the Christians in India is more than double that of the population.

Ground will be broken this fall for the erection of the American Methodist university at Washington.

It is stated that out of the forty thousand men employed by the railroads of Canada and United States only about one thousand attend church regularly.

The evangelistic work conducted by Rev. John McNeill in Africa has been eminently successful. He addressed the natives through interpreters.

An anti-cigarette crusade has been begun in Jersey city, where about fourteen hundred pupils of the schools are now wearing the badge of the Anti-Cigarette league

The Church Missionary society has opened a medical mission station at Bunnu, on the borders of Afganistan, a country which has been as firmly closed to missions as Tibet.

The Christian Herald has headed a subscription for the relief of the Coreans, with one thousand barrels of flour. The Corean minister at Washington has expressed his gratitude to the paper.

THE WOMEN.

Lady Brooke has about twenty small Japanese spaniels, worth $300 each.

Mrs. George W. Childs, widow of the Philadelphia editor, has arranged for the building of a palatial mansion in Washington.

Mrs. S. E. Taylor, a Georgia preacher, is said to surpass Sam Jones in the plainness and persuasiveness of her pulpit eloquence.

The widow of Senator Hearst, of California, is said to be the most heavily insured woman in America. She has policies amounting to $300,000 on her life.

TRY.

In the water for purple and blue calicoes, soda added.

Purifying jars from grease, by soaking in strong soda water.

For washing ceilings blackened by a kerosene lamp, soda water.

In the rinsing water for pink or green calicoes, vinegar added.

Washing an oilcloth with a flannel and warm water, wiping dry, and rubbing a little skim milk over.—Good Housekeeping.

NAMED BY THE PUBLIC.

The Duke of Wellington was called the Achilles of England, from the victory at Waterloo.

James Fenimore Cooper has been called the Scott of the Seas, from his stories of marine life.

Charles I. was called the Man of Blood by the Puritans and the Royal Martyr by the Royalists.

Sir Philip Sydney was the Poet of Kissing because of the amatory character of much of his verse.

Henry Fielding was called the Prince of Novelists, from his skill in depicting character in fiction.

Haydn was called the Father of Symphony, from the prominence he gave that form of composition.

Charles James Fox was called the Man of the People, from his generally taking the opposition in politics.

WALL - STREET!

OPERATE SUCCESSFULLY IN WALL ST.

THROUGH OUR

Co-Operative R.R. Stock Syndicate.

Large Profits Realized with Minimum Risks.

"PROSPECTUS AND DAILY MARKET LETTER" MAILED FREE.

HIGHEST REFERENCE.

WEINMAN & CO.

Stock and Grain Broker.

NO. 41 BROADWAY, NEW YORK CITY.

(d Oct. 3st, 1m eod

TRUE

Always—and why do we lead always in our line. It's not mixed up with other trades. The London and Belleville Crystal Hall is to day the oldest Wholesale Crockery House in Canada. A resident European buyer is constantly sending out new wares as they come from the Kilns, which enables us to sell at what the small general trader has to pay. The goods look better because they are better. We can't afford to handle poor stuff such as is made for the "give away ticket" trade. That's why we always lead. Our new Fall Stock when all in, of China, Silver, Crockery and Lamps, will this year be the most beautiful disply of the potter's art ever seen in Belleville, and prices are a long way below last year.

W. J. REID & CO'Y.

CRYSTAL HALL. Rous' Old Stand.

London and Belleville.

New Advertisements.

Ask how you can get a CLOCK!

...At MINAKER'S...

The Men's Furnisher.

Drill Hall...

PANOPTICON!

A Combination of Special Attractions, Novel & Varied.

Refreshments will be served by attendants in the National Costumes of Germany, Scotland, France, America, Japan and Egypt.

Also a Gallery of living pictures, Dickens' "Old Curiosity Shop," Fancy Drills, Etc.

The finest exhibition of Art Needle Work ever shown in the city.

PLANTATION SONGS and ORCHESTRA.

Will be held in the DRILL HALL on

Wednesday and Thursday,

Afternoon and Evening,

OCTOBER 10TH & 11TH.

Doors open at 4 o'clock p. m. each day.
Proceeds in aid of Belleville Institute and Library Association.

Admission, - 15 Cents.

We Are..

Busy.....

Our new groceries are going with a rush, but more are arriving daily, and that's why we keep our stock fresh and wholesome. We take pride in our confectionery for it's the best money can buy and our prices are away down. See the values we offer in teas and sugars. Provisions, and flour and feed also receive our particular attention.

J. A. ELLIOTT.

Front St., Belleville.

GRAPES....

It is claimed that Grapes are the most healthy, and therefore the most nutritious fruit grown.

We have and will have through the season large consignments and will sell very cheap, as crop is very large in the west. They are selling to day at

25c. per Basket...

Jas. Wallace & Co.

Peaches while season lasts.

THIS MATTER CHANGED DAILY.

MONDAY, Oct. 8.

JUST IN.

More New Dress Goods just received. Silks, Velvets, Gimps, Braids for Trimmings in great variety.

REMEMBER - OUR - JACKETS.

W. FLINT JONES.

Next door to Haines & Lockett.

CANADIAN PACIFIC RY.

EVERY - FRIDAY

-- FROM --

TORONTO!

At 12:30 noon runs a—

THROUGH TOURIST CAR

-- TO --

SEATTLE and the PACIFIC COAST.

Making 12 Hours quicker time.

Full information can be had from

S. BURROWS,

General Ticket Agent, Belleville.

TO LET.

TO LET 2 snug, warm brick houses in terrace, situated on Harriett St., West Belleville, known as Morten's, or Filliter's terrace. For terms of rent apply to R. C. Filliter, collector, or sub agent to the estate of the late H E Filliter Residence at Mr. Jardin's Corner of William and Dundas Sts, East Belleville.
85d2m

BELLEVILLE PLATING WORKS

HARRIS & WALTON'S FACTORY, MILL ST.

ELECTRO—Gold, Silver, Nickel, Copper, Brass and Bronze.

PLATING—Also Carriage Plating, Polishing, Buffing and Lacquering. Antique finishes of all kinds.

BURTON & MILLER

CANADIAN..

MERCHANTS.

FOLLOW...

O B C

Some of the largest importing firms in Canada that have relations with great English houses, send their financial statements at the end of each year to Britain on O. B. C. Balance Sheet Forms. Following is a sample of an order.

Office of
RYAN BROS., Importers,
OWEN SOUND, Feb. 7, '94.
MESSRS. ROBINSON & JOHNSON,
Ontario Business College,
Gentlemen.—Please send us five Balance Sheet Blanks, same as you supply to Messrs. G. B. Ryan & Co., of Guelph.
Yours truly,
RYAN BROS.

METHODS.

GENTLEMEN....

Before ordering your Fall Clothing don't fail to take a look through

A. N. REID'S

New Fall Importations of

Scotch, English and Irish Suitings, Overcoatings, Pantings, Irish Serges, Cheviots, Hop Sackings and Black Worsteds

First Class Goods and Prices low,

Mr. Minor, our cutter, is one of the best in Ontario.

EVERY GARMENT GUARANTEED!!

Please call and inspect our New Goods.

A. N. REID.

·PLUMBING·

We have added to our Workmen,

MR, GEORGE JOHNSON,

Who has for the past six years been prominent on large contracts in Victoria, B. C., San Francisco, Denver, and Chicago.

-- ALSO --

MR. EDWIN W. BISHOP,

A graduate of the New York School for Plumbing (class 92), who comes highly recommended.

With these men added to our staff, we feel sure of giving satisfactory to all in Sanitary Plumbing.

C. F. Smith & Co.

ALLAN LINE,

Royal Mail Steamships. Liverpool, Calling at Moville.

	From Montreal daylight	From Quebec
PARISIAN	Oct. 6	Oct. 7
MONGOLIAN	" 13	" 14
HIBERNIAN	" 20
LAURENTIAN	" 27	" 28
NUMIDIAN	Nov. 3	Nov. 3
PARISIAN	" 10	" 11

RATES OF PASSAGE.

First cabin Derry and Liverpool, $45 and upwards single; $95 and upwards return. Second cabin, Liverpool, Derry, Belfast, Glasgow, $30; return $55. Steerage at lowest rates (everything found).

All steamships except the Hibernian carry 1st cabin, 2nd cabin and steerage passengers.

STATE LINE SERVICE

NEW YORK, LONDONDERRY AND GLASGOW.

STATE OF NEBRASKA	Oct. 12
STATE OF CALIFORNIA	" 26
STATE OF NEBRASKA	Nov. 22

Cabin passage, $40 and upward, return $80 and upward; Second cabin $25. Steerage at lowest rates.

For tickets and other information apply to
U. E. THOMPSON
General Ticket Agency,
Bridge St., Belleville.
or to S. BURROWS,
Agent.

GLASGOW WAREHOUSE,

BELLEVILLE.

We are now showing complete lines in the following goods:

Ladies' Hygeian Underwear
Misses' Hygeian Underwear
Boys' plain and ribbed Underwear
Ladies' " " Cashmere Hose
Ladies' " " Wool Hose
Boys' " " Wool Hose
Ladies' black and colored Kid Gloves
" " " Cashmere Gloves
Ladies' Cashmere and Silk Mitts
Baby Ribbons in all makes and colors
Laces, Handkerchiefs and Corsets.

CARPETS, OILCLOTHS and CURTAINS in endless variety.

Larger lines in Canadian Staples at close cash prices.

VANDERVOORT & GIBSON,

Successors to the late J. W. Dunnet.

Belleville, Oct. 3, 1894.

P.S.—A large show case and table for sale, cheap.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, MONDAY. OCT. 8.

Chauncey Ashley, issuer of marriage licenses, Division Court Office, Pinnacle street or at residence over Benmore & Benson's store. d&w

CITY AND DISTRICT.

There was a heavy frost on Saturday night.

No appointments to the 15th battalion have as yet been gazetted.

The Village Council of Tweed has purchased a Waterous fire engine.

The black birds are congregating for their annual migration southwards.

The Lezard vs. Thompson case was further enlarged this morning by consent.

Be sure and attend Grant's cheap cash sale if you want bargains in Boots and Shoes.

Hear Rev. Roberts, Tabernacle to-night, on "A boy who rose to renown." Silver collection.

Thursday, November 22nd, was formally proclaimed in Saturday's Canada Gazette a Thanksgiving Day.

The police had another call to John Walker's house on Saturday night. He was raising the usual disturbance.

A great improvement is being made in the appearance of the Anglo American Hotel by the application of light colored paint.

Purify your blood, tone up the sytem, and regulate the digestive organs by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. Sold by all druggists.

Chief Newton has been presented with a genuine Irish blackthorn cane by a lady who had just returned from the old country.

A weatherwise counsellor of the INTELLIGENCER says two storms are due here to-night, one from the Pacific and one from Lake Superior.

Mayor Walmsley was down to take the bench this morning in the absence of Magistrate Flint, but there was nothing to bring before him.

George and William Babcock and Hugh Welsh got into a fight on Front St. Saturday, night but the police did not get there in time to take a hand.

The steamer Alexandria came down from Trenton yesterday afternoon, and left on her Montreal trip this morning. She will make several trips yet this fall.

A number of the local lodge of the C.O. O F. went to Deseronto yesterday on the Nellie Cuthbert, to attend divine service with the brethren of that town.

Miss Aggie Wills, Station St., gave a birthday party to a number of her young friends Friday evening. A most enjoyable evening was spent by all present.

The contract for the furniture for the Hotel Quinte has been let, at a very low price, to the London Furniture Company, who have furnished many of the leading hotels in Canada.

Remember the extra value we are giving in men's boots sizes 6 and 7 over 500 prs. at half regular price, a few pairs of J. D. King's hand sewed calf $2, size 6 and 7 only.—VERMILYEA & SON.

To remove the constipated habit the only safe treatment is a course of Ayer's Pills, followed by a laxative diet. Most other cathartics do more harm than good, therefore leading physicians recommend Ayer's Pills, especially as a family physic.

"I was troubled for a long time with an itching humor on the scalp," says Mr. D.P. Davis, Neal's Landing, Fla., "but at last, being recommended Ayer's Hair Vigor, I tried it, and a complete cure was effected." Every one who has used it speaks well of this dressing.

The new bicycle club had their second run yesterday to Frankford, thence to Trenton and return. A stout member of the party committed great havoc with a sap bush near Frankford. He lost his pedals whilst descending a steep hill which runs through the bush, and when he reached the bottom his path looked like the track of a Minnesota cyclone. It is only fair to the maker of the machine to say that the wheel was uninjured.

That Joyful Feeling.

With the exhilarating sense of renewed health and strength and internal cleanliness, which follows the use of Syrup of Figs, is unknown to the few who have not progressed beyond the old time medicines and the cheap substitutes sometimes offered but never excepted by the well informed.

Died.

LEWIS—Saturday, Oct. 6th, JOHN LEWIS, in his 74th year.

Funeral from his late residence, cor. Bridge and Charles sts., at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Service at the house at 2 30.

Cold in the head—Nasal Balm gives instant relief; speedily cures. Never fails.

SOCIAL & PERSONAL

The INTELLIGENCER invites all its readers to contribute to this column. If you or your friends are going away on a holiday trip or if you have friends visiting you, drop a card to this office.

P. O. Nash spent Sunday in Milford.

Ex Premier Mercier was slightly better yesterday.

Mr. E. D. O'Flynn, of Madoc, was in town to-day.

Rev. Geo. Nicholl, of Vennachar, was in the city to day.

Mr. C. Laidlaw, of the Bank of Montreal, has gone on a holiday trip.

Miss Brooker, of Chicago, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Jas. Woodley, Murney st.

Rev. Dr. Wild has resumed his duties at the First Congregational church at London.

Dr. Montague, M.P., is visiting his brother near London, recuperating his health.

William Thompson returned home today, after a three weeks' visit to friends in Chicago.

Daniel Y. Williams, who has been seriously ill for the past two weeks, is able to be out again.

Mr and Mrs. Glenco Hulme have gone to Detroit, where they will take up their residence for a short time.

Mrs. Jas. Fleming left last night on the North King for Rochester, on a visit to her daughter, Mrs. Geale Donnelly.

Arthur Hendricks, of Rochester, is visiting friends in the city. He has not been here for some years, but the boys all remember Arthur.

Mr. J. L. Lewis, of the Hamilton Spectator, arrived in the city last night, having been called here by the death of his father.

Mr. H. Brooks, head waiter on the steamer Alexandria, yesterday received word here that his sister, Miss Maggie, was dying at Picton. He drove down last evening.

CHARGE of BRIBERY.

Mr. Ronald Arrested in Tweed at the Instigation of Two Members of the Council.

TWEED, Oct. 6.—A disastrous fire occurred here July last, and on account of not having proper fire apparatus a heavy loss was incurred. Since that time fire protection has been under consideration. The Village Council have for some time been negotiating with the Waterous Engine Co. of Brantford and the Ronald Engine Co. Brussels, and on Thursday a contract was signed by the Reeve and Council for the purchase of a Waterous engine. On the same date Mr. Ronald arrived in town, and, learning of the action of the Council, advertised for a public meeting in the Town Hall the same evening, which was largely attended by the ratepayers. Mr. Ronald's object was to get permission from the meeting to bring his engine down and test the same in the presence of the citizens free of cost, but he did not succeed. At the close of the meeting Mr. Ronald was placed under arrest for the night, on a warrant issued at the instigation of two members of the Council, who claim they had been offered a bribe by Mr. Ronald to purchase his engine. The case came up for hearing at 10 a.m. yesterday before Magistrate Newton and McCann. After hearing the evidence, Mr. Ronald was committed to stand his trial on both charges. Mr. Ronald gave bail in $400, which was accepted, and he left by the C. P. R. for the west. The main reason that Mr. Ronald's engine was not purchased, was that it was too high in price.

Margaret L. Shepherd.

'Tried as by Fire" is supposed to be a dramatization of Margaret L. Shepherd's life. If the performance given by the company of barnstormers on Saturday night is true to the lines of the leading lady's life she is indeed to be pitied. The performance was not even a burlesque on good acting, and as for Mrs. Shepherd her attempt was mockery. The audience, of whom there were perhaps one hundred, appeared more "tired" at the fall of the curtain than did Margaret. John H. Gordon, bailiff, attached the box receipts before the show began on an account from Mr. Robinson, of Peterborough, and the $29 of receipts were swept away and nothing was left for the company.

Cheese Markets

WATERTOWN, N. Y., Oct. 6.—At the cheese board to-day sales amounted to 3,000 boxes; the leading and ruling price was 10½c.

OGDENSBURG, Oct. 6.—The total offering on the cheese board here to-day was 915 boxes; 10 1-36c was bid for the entire offering but none sold.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—Sixteen factories offered 4,000 boxes August and 430 September. Sales, 225 boxes boxes August at 10c. Market dull.

Horticultural Society.

This society met Saturday evening and decided the protests which had been entered, some of them being sustained and others not allowed. The Sec.-Treas. was ordered to pay the premiums. The Directors then amended their regulation in order to prevent similar irregularities at future exhibitions and thus avoid as much as possible protests being entered.

You Will Help Us.

The Oak Hall staff last Saturday numbered ten, and yet, from 12 to 2 o'clock we were rushed so hard that we lost quite a few customers. We are very sorry that any would go out of our store without being served, as it is a sign of prosperous business to see the store full of customers. The Oak Hall ask as a favor that Saturday traders will try and come in before noon or after 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Married at St. Michael's.

Robt. Slavin and Miss Maggie Burns, of "Little Ireland," were married in St. Michael's church at 7:30 this morning, by Mons. Farrelly. Miss Cummings, of Deseronto, was bridesmaid and Mr. Mannigan, of Deseronto, was groomsman. After the ceremony the newly married couple drove to the residence of the bride's father, where they took breakfast and left on the noon train for the west.

One Night Only.

To-night is the only night this week except Saturday that our store will be open for customers. Boys long boots sizes 1 and 2 will be sold this evening at 50c a pair worth $2.00 and $2 50.—HAINES & LOCKETT.

Big Price for a Hog.

Mr. J. M. Hurley, the well-known stock raiser, has purchased from Mr. R. G. Martin, of Marysville, his imported Yorkshire stock hog, Maxim, (No. 577), for $100 cash, the largest amount ever paid for a hog in this part of the country.

Panopticon.

Tea served from 6 o'clock to 8 o'clock Wednesday and Thursday, in styles of nations. Light refreshments during the evening.

PROBABILITIES.

TORONTO, Oct. 8.—Strong winds and gales from southwest and northwest; unsettled, with occasional rain; lower temperature to-morrow.

NEWS OF THE CHURCHES.

COOL WEATHER BRINGS OUT LARGE CONGREGATIONS.

A Stranger at the Tabernacle—A Strong Sermon in St. Andrews'—Mr. Price Hits at the Scandal Monger—Mr. McCamus Continues His Series on the "Fall and Redemption of Man"—Other Churches.

A harvest thanksgiving service was held in Emmanuel Reformed Episcopal church yesterday morning, when an able and suitable sermon was preached by the rector from the words: "He reserveth unto us the appointed weeks of harvest." In the afternoon Mr. Trotter conducted the funeral service of Mr. George Thompson, which was largely attended. And in the evening his text was Job 14: 1—3. He gave an instructive exposition of this beautiful passage, which sets forth the frailty of men and the condescension of God. Kind words were spoken on the deaths which have recently occurred in our midst.

At Bridge St. Methodist church yesterday morning, Rev. Mr. Baker took for his text the 9th and 10th verses of 1st James. Luther, he said, called this Epistle an epistle of straw, and some say that the Epistle is unjustly severe on the rich, making poverty a virtue. The world, he said, always criticised such doctrine, but after all, is it not a fact that only the rich despise the poor? It was true that certain virtues only developed in poverty, and it was a nice thought that different virtues developed under difficult circumstances. The old Testament, he said, developed blessings out of riches, but it was not so with the new Testament. He did not know that the taking away of wealth or that family afflictions, led to God, as the person so afflicted was apt to become revengeful and bitter. It was not riches, position, or place in life, but the grace of God which developed the true man. Many had spent their life's energies in the accumulation of wealth to the damnation of their souls, and they passed away like the flower or the grass and were forgotten, for their works did not live after them. Riches, he claimed, were to be desired to the extent that they were used for the glory of God.

Rev. Mr. George preached at both services in John St. church yesterday. He took for his text in the morning Matthew, 5—13, "Ye are the salt of the earth." His subject in the evening was "The Rich Man and Lazarus," from Luke 16—19 to 31. The choir sang W. F. Sudds' anthem "Hear my Prayer," in the evening.

Rev. J. Denick, of Toronto, preached an eloquent sermon in the Tabernacle yesterday morning on the subject "Glorious Prospects." He took his text from I John 3—2, "Beloved, now are we the Sons of God and it doth not yet appear what we shall be, but we know that when He shall appear we shall be like Him, for we shall see Him as He is." Rev. Mr. Roberts preached in the evening from the subject "Christ's Problem," taking for his text Matthew XVI. 26: "For what is a man profited if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul?" He went on to show that a man might gain the world by the accumulation of money, securing fame, or by indulging in pleasure, but against all these was the loss of the soul; and he endeavored to show what the soul was worth.

Rev. M. W. Maclean addressed St. Andrew's congregation, morning and evening yesterday in Belleville Business College, there being a large attendance at both services. The praise service of the choir was excellent, considering the absence of an organ, which militates against the general congregational singing. A full meeting is to be held at the college this evening to consider plans, and ways and means for the rebuilding of the church. The morning text of an able sermon was, II Corinthians, 5 9, "Wherefore we labor, that whether present or absent, we may be accepted by Him." The evening text was Roman 19.4, "For whatsoever things were written aforetimes, were written for our learning, that we might have hope." Labor is to be valued for its own intrinsic merit and also as an example tending to decent honest citizenship. The so called socialist, loses sight of the individual elements of character and labor. Each man contributes. It is not the painting but the man behind it that makes the work good or bad. We ought to acknowledge our debt for life and plenty in the great storehouse provided for us, with pillars of mountains, roofs of sky and clouds, carpets of rich verdure and flowers. There is the manward and Godward aspect. God calling, man answering; God commanding, man obeying; exercise self denial, do the nearest duty, stop slandering, for every idle word God will call us to account. Speak the truth, more than intellectual acquirements are needed, grasp spiritual truth, do not be easy going christians. All men are immortal but all have not everlasting life. We have the sense of obligation and also the sense of our own deficiency, hence restlessness and contradictoriness of character. We need more than the consciousness of faith, we need the aid of faith. As our faculties develope with exercise so our spiritual powers grow. Advance in prayer and work and the haze will clear. Why tarry when you can, if you only will, even now win the changeless prize and be accepted of Him. The hope of reward is a great incentive to action. The christian has many blessings here now, but still greater expectations beyond. The reliability of our hope is proved by the ages long gone by. If the men and women who are shown to us in that wonderful photograph gallery of God's bible obtained the prize after strife and trial, so can we.

Rev. J. A. McCamus preached at both services in Holloway st. church yesterday. His sermon in the morning was the second in the series on "The Fall and Redemption of Man," and his text was from Romans 5—19. The evening subject was "The Gospel the Perfect Law of Liberty," his text being James 1—25. The male voices of the choir sang an anthem at both services and the male quartette under Prof. Canfield sang very acceptably during the offertory in the evening.

Rev. Mr. Daw preached at Christ Church yesterday morning. In the evening Rev. Mr. Price, curate, preached, and he scored the scandal mongers right and left. He admonished his audience to guard their tongues, and be careful what they said regarding their neighbors. One idle word had often parted husband and wife, and caused the separation of the best of friends. The sermon was most practical, and a strong lesson to those who speak disparagingly of others.

A Large Funeral.

The funeral of the late George Thompson took place yesterday afternoon and was largely attended by his numerous young friends. Rev. Mr. Trotter, of the Reformed Episcopal church, conducted the services The bearers were: Jas. Harold, Robt. Wilson, Geo. Johnston, Chas. Cook, W. Irwin and A. Thompson.

Be Warned.

Don't be a fool; know what you want, and refuse to be imposed upon by greedy dealers when they attempt to palm off sore producing substitutes for Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor; the only safe, sure, and painless corn cure. Putnam's Pain Extractor is the best, the safest, and only painless corn remedy. Sold by all dealers in medicine.

SUDDEN AND UNEXPECTED

Was the Death of Mr. John Lewis on Saturday Evening.

The many friends of Mr. John Lewis will be both surprised and grieved to learn of his death, which took place on Saturday evening at seven o'clock. Mr. Lewis arose as usual on Saturday morning and was at breakfast when he was stricken with faintness. He soon recovered, but not sufficiently to come down town. Towards evening he grew worse and died as above stated. Dr. Eakins, who was called to attend him, gave as his opinion that heart failure was the cause of death. Deceased was an active man for his age, being at his place of business every day and looked after every detail with the utmost care. He had just got settled in his new premises and had stood the strain of moving and consequent annoyance well until his sudden collapse. His wife, daughter and son Frank were with him to the end, but the summons was so sudden that the family had not time to send for the other two sons, Jones and Arthur, the former of whom is sub-editor of the Hamilton Spectator, and the latter is in business in Souris, Manitoba.

Mr. Lewis was a native of Chatham, England, where he was born on March 31st, 1821. Though of English birth he is of pure Welsh extraction, both his parents having been natives of Wales. His father Lewis Lewis enlisted in the British army early in life, and was drafted into the Royal Engineers. In 1823 his corps was sent to the West Indies, and during his service there, his children resided with their grandparents, near Aberystwith, South Wales. The family moved to Devonport, England in 1827, and lived there until 1831, when Lewis Lewis come to Quebec with his regiment, and his family came with him. The father was a singularly upright and Godfearing man, and was so noted in the regiments for his piety that he was called by his comrades, "the holy Lewis." The influence of his precepts was not lost on his children. His eldest son Eben became a prominent and useful minister of the Congregational church in England, and afterwards labored for many years, with much success, as a missionary in Hindostan. John, the subject of this sketch, was the fourth son. In 1834 he was apprenticed to a liquor merchant, but the business was distasteful to him, and after five years apprenticeship had expired he abandoned the calling and went into the hardware business. For eight years, from 1841 to 1849, he served as a clerk in a wholesale house in Montreal, but his enterprise and ambition prompted him at last to launch into business on his own account, and in September 1849, he established the first hardware store in Belleville, and he had continued in business every since. Mr. Lewis did much towards encouraging the manufacturing interest of the city. He was for some time engaged in the lumber business on an extensive scale, and was largely interested in the manufacture of skates, carriage springs and hames, but as none of these enterprises proved profitable, they were one after the other abandoned. Mr. Lewis was always regarded as one of the soundest and ablest of Belleville's business men. He was several times elected by his fellow citizens, to represent them at the municipal board, and while he served as a town councillor he was an energetic and faithful guardian of the town's interests. Deceased was a member of the first Oddfellows lodge established in Montreal, the Prince of Wales Lodge, which he joined in 1844. He was also a member of the Masonic Society. For many years he has been a justice of the peace and a notary public. From early manhood Mr. Lewis had been in politics a staunch supporter of Reform principles, and was one occasion the standard bearer of his party. When the provincial elections occurred in 1875, he was President of the West Hastings Reform Association and was selected by the Reformers of the riding to contest it in their interest. There were two other candidates in the field, namely, the late Ketchan Graham and Thos. Wills, Esq and the vote was split, and after a vigorous and exciting contest Mr. Lewis was defeated by a narrow majority. In religion deceased was a Methodist all his life, having joined the church of his father and grandfather while a boy and remained true to it up to the time of his death. For many years he was Secretary of the Board of Trustees of Bridge st. church. He was twice married. In 1851 he was wedded to Mary E Jones, eldest daughter of Rev. R. Jones, of Cobourg, Ontario. In 1871 Mrs. Lewis died and two years later Mr. Lewis placed her sister at the head of his household. She, with a family of three sons and one daughter, survive him.

The funeral will take place on Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Service at the house at 2:30.

The Panopticon.

We have been asked what is the Panopticon, which the ladies are about to produce in such brilliance this week at the drill shed. The question is easier asked than answered. There is to be a May pole dance which will be indescribably pretty, and for which young girls are being drilled by Miss May Price. The fancy drill is equally pretty. Then, if you want your fortune told, two ladies hold court for that purpose, and if your face is not your fortune they may discover some other and greater charm. There will be a Japanese booth, in which will be displayed a thousand and one curiosities made by these cunning carvers, the Japs. Then again there will be an American booth, and everyone will want to see the living picture, but space will not permit the telling of all that's to be seen; you must go yourself and feast your eyes.

In Their New Quarters.

The Hastings Loan and Investment Company have moved their office from Front st. to Bridge, where they are located in handsome rooms in the Carman block, opposite Pitceathly & Kelso's. The new office has been most handsomely fitted up. The walls and ceiling have been nicely papered and the counter, shelving and business office rail are finished in birch and stained with cherry. A beautiful stained glass partition separates the main office from the board room and vault in the rear. The vault will be one of the best in the city when completed. The window will have the name of the company lettered in gold upon it and the office will be one of the brightest and cosiest in Belleville.

Hit on the Head With a Bottle.

Two young men drove down from Trenton yesterday and put their horse in the Huffman House stable. When they went to take it out about seven o'clock a dispute arose between one named Mike Ryan and Mike McMahon, the stable man, as to the the pay for the horse feed. McMahon called Ryan a name which did not suit him and a scuffle ensued in which McMahon was hit over the head two or three times with a bottle. He telephoned for the police, but the men skipped and were not caught.

The Bath and Toilet.

The white Castile soap cannot be surpassed for the bath or toilet, unless care is taken to purchase a reliable brand. It is made with pure vegetable oil—not grease—and is healing and refreshing to the skin. The finest quality may be obtained of L. W. Yeomans & Co. at 20c. per pound.

SPORTING NEWS

Frank Claus' challenge has been accepted by a quoit pitcher named Joshua Armstrong, of the Toronto Quoit Club. The match will take place on the Belleville Quoit Club grounds on the 23rd inst, and will be best two of three 61 point games. The stake is $150, and $25 was put up by Mr. A. W. Taylor, Claus' backer, to day as a forfeit. The Toronto men will be allowed their expenses down and back, and while here. The match will be a hard fight, as the Toronto man is spoken of as a clever pitcher, and we can say the same for Claus.

The annual rifle match of the Royal Grenadiers occurred on Saturday afternoon at Long Branch.

Henry of Navarre won the big race at Morris Park on Saturday, Clifford second, and Domino third.

In Saturday's senior football matches, Osgoode Hall defeated Varsity, and Hamilton defeated Toronto.

The winners of the Hunt Club meeting on Saturday were Beefeater, Dodo, Coquette, Idaho and The Piper.

At New York on Saturday, the New Yorks for the third time beat the Baltimores for the Temple cup, by 4 to 1.

The Guelph base ball team beat London at Guelph on Saturday, by 6 to 5. Bradford pitched for the Guelphs.

Dixon and Griffo are matched to fight to a finish before the club that will offer the largest purse.

George Gould has returned from England. He says he had fair and courteous treatment everywhere, but he still thinks Vigilant can beat Britannia in heavy weather on outside courses.

Beyond Comparison

Are the good qualities possessed by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Above all it purifies the blood, thus strengthening the nerves; it regulates the digestive organs, invigorates the kidneys and liver, tones, and builds up the entire system, cures Scrofula, Dyspepsia, Catarrh and Rheumatism. Get Hood's and only Hood's.

HOOD'S PILLS cure all liver ills, biliousness, jaundice, indigestion, sick headache. 25c.

Ministerial Association.

The Ministerial Association met in the Y.M.C.A. rooms this morning at 10:30.

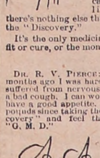

The Rev. J. L. George presided. The Rev. E. Roberts conducted devotional exercises. There were present the Rev. Messrs. George, Dingman, Maybee, Bedle, Marshall, Baker, Wallace, Roberts, Trotter, Faull and McCamus.

The Rev. Mr. Trotter read the report of the committee appointed to make out a list of subjects for discussion. The report was adopted. The committee on the Sabbath milk traffic reported progress and was continued for further action.

It was resolved that each minister be responsible for hospital visitation during the week following his appointment for the Sabbath service. Mr. Trotter's paper on "Conversion," read at a previous session, was then discussed, all the members taking part. The paper was highly commended by the various speakers, and on the various points raised there was practical unanimity.

Around the World.

The City Hall was filled on Saturday evening to hear Mr. L. O. Armstrong deliver his lecture entitled a "Trip Around the World." Starting from Montreal, the lecturer took his audience across the Atlantic to Great Britain, thence to France, Egypt, India, China, Japan, and then over the Pacific to British Columbia, and down through our great country, showing a large number of enchanting lime light views taken of the scenery in British Columbia, Assiniboia, Alberta, the Saskatchewan Valley, and Manitoba. The views which were thrown on a large square canvas, were about the finest we have ever seen. The lecture was full of information relative to the Northwest, and given in such an eloquent and humorous style that kept the audience in the best of humor until near ten o'clock. Those who failed to attend missed a rich treat.

SEE TO IT that you're not put off with some poor substitute, when you ask for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Get it of an honest dealer.

As a blood-cleanser, strength-restorer, and flesh-builder—a certain remedy in every disease caused by an inactive liver or bad blood, there's nothing else that's "just as good" as the "Discovery."

It's the only medicine guaranteed to benefit or cure, or the money is refunded.

Glen Brook, N. C.

DR. R. V. PIERCE: Dear Sir—Twelve months ago I was hardly able to work at all, suffered from nervousness and weakness, had a bad cough. I can work all the time now and have a good appetite. I have gained twelve pounds since taking the "Golden Medical Discovery" and feel that it's all due to the "G. M. D."

A. A. Hill

Changed Daily.

MONDAY, Oct. 8th, 1894.

ABSOLUTE . .

CONFIDENCE .

IN OUR ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Remarkable results follow our printed announcements. Never has this been truer than now. Every line, no matter how small the type, does its share towards building up our business. And to the fact that our advertisements are always free from exaggeration and free from anything which in the slightest way misleads, we must largely attribute this favorable Showing.

Stroud's

TEA STORE.

Like a Miracle

Consumption—Low Condition

Wonderful Results From Taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Miss Hannah Wyatt
Toronto, Ont.

"Four years ago while in the old country (England), my daughter Hannah was sent away from the hospital, in a very low condition with consumption of the lungs and bowels, and weak action of the heart. The trip across the water to this country seemed to make her feel better for a while. Then she began to get worse, and for 14 weeks she was unable to get off the bed. She grew worse for five months and lost the use of her limbs and lower part of body, and if she sat up in bed had to be propped up with pillows. Physicians

Said She Was Past All Help

and wanted me to send her to the 'Home for Incurables.' But I said as long as I could hold my hand up she should not go. We then began to give her Hood's Sarsaparilla. She is getting strong, walks around, is out doors every day; has no trouble with her throat and no cough, and her heart seems to be all right again. She has a first class appetite. We regard her cure as nothing short of a miracle." W. WYATT, 89 Marion Street, Parkdale, Toronto, Ontario.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

Hood's Pills are purely vegetable and perfectly harmless. Sold by all druggists. 25c.

NO DOUBT YOU WILL REQUIRE A . . . .

New Hat Or Bonnet . .

The Most Stylish and Wearable . . .

MILLINERY IS AT

J. P. THOMPSON & CO.

STOCK COMPLETE IN ALL DEPARTMENTS.

LOOK AT THESE FINE CLOAKS

These Represent a few of the hundreds of beautiful garments now on exhibition in our Mantle Department. The evidence that we are giving special attention to this department will be apparent to anyone who visits it. Never was there such a fine collection of Moderate Priced Overgarments under our roof before. We invite YOU to come and see for yourself.

Geo. Ritchie & Co.

A GOOD, WARM, CHEERFUL FIRE!

Will soon be in order as the cold weather is rapidly approaching

SO . . . . .

. . . Do not Lose any Time

In ordering your supply of

Telephone C 68.

Coal and Wood

. . . FROM . . .

S. A. LAZIER & SON'S.

The Leading Coal and Wood Merchants.

WISDOM & ECONOMY . . .

Lead the Way to Our Store . . . . .

Just a line to draw your attention to the splendid list of Bargains we offer you this week at less than Wholesale Prices.

DRESS GOODS . . . .

From 8 to 75cts. per yard, in all shades and qualities; Colored Cashmeres from 25 to 75cts. per yd.; Black Cashmeres from 26c. to $1.00 per yard; Estamine Serge, 56 inches wide, in Black, Brown and Navy, only 50c. worth at least 75c.

GREY FLANNELS . . .

Unions at 12½ and 15c.; all wool at 10c.; plain or twill, and 27 inches wide, cheap at 22c; Navy Blue Flannels from 20c. to 40c. per yard; Opera Flannels in all shades at 40c. per yard.

HOSIERY . . . .

Just received our Fall and Winter Hosiery in Cashmere and Wool for Ladies', Misses' and Boys' Wear; a Ladie's fine cashmere hose at 20c. worth 25c; Misses' and Boys' double rib, all wool, at 20c,

Ladies' Underwear . . .

In Hygeian, Paragon and Jersey Vests, Long Sleeves, at 20, 30, 40, 50c.

Gents' Wear . . . .

Our stock is complete in this line, and prices to suit the times.

☞ Do not fail to visit our MILLINERY DEPARTMENT.

H. A. LAYTON, BELLEVILLE.

Front St., Opposite Campbell St.

ONTARIO MUTUAL LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY.

S. Burrows, Esq., General Agent, Ontario Mutual Life Co., Belleville, Ont.

DEAR SIR, Received your company's check for $2,000 for our Matured Endowment, and we both wish to show our gratitude to you and the Company for the straightforward and satisfactory way you deal with policy holders, and that we are more than satisfied with our investment. I will always urge our friends to follow in our footsteps. Thanking you very kindly.

Yours very sincerely,
Mr. & Mrs. GOODWIN, Bowmanville,
Formerly of Belleville.

Miss Flora McDonald.

AN ACHING HEAD.

Dear Sirs,—I had severe headache for the past three years, and was not free from it a single day. I used doctors' medicines and all others I could think of, but it did me no good. My cousin said I must

TRY B.B.B.

because it is the best medicine ever made, and I took three bottles of it, with the result that it has completely cured me. I think Burdock Blood Bitters, both for headaches and as a blood purifier, is the

BEST IN THE WORLD,

and am glad to recommend it to all my friends. Miss Flora McDonald, Glen Norman, Ont.

HAMILTON,

TORONTO AND MONTREAL,

Via Bay of Quinte, Calling at all Ports Weekly.

THE FAVORITE STEAMER

"MAGNET"

Leaves St. Catharines Tuesday 9 a. m.
Toronto " 4 p. m.
Leaves Belleville for Montreal } Wednesday 7:30 a m
Leaves Belleville for Toronto } Sunday 8 p. m.
First Class Passenger Accommodation, Large Freight Capacity. Lowest Rates
For Tickets, Rates, &c., Apply to the RATHBUN COMPANY, Agents,
or to
Capt. J. J. Towers, Superintendent, No. 2 King st., Toronto.
C. F. Gildersleeve, General Manager, 228 St. Paul st., Montreal.

ROCHESTER,

KINGSTON AND MONTREAL.

Weekly Service Calling at Way Ports

The People's Favorite Steamer.

"ALEXANDRIA"

Leaves Montreal, Thursday at 10:00 a. m.
Arrives Belleville, Saturday at 11:45 a. m.
Leaves for Rochester " " 1:15 p. m.
Arrives from Rochester, Monday at 6:30 a. m.
Leaves for Montreal, " " 7:30 a m.

Spacious and elegant Saloon. Ample State-room accommodation. The choicest and best Meals furnished. Safety, comfort and enjoyment ensured by personal supervision of Capt. Smith and Purser Melrose. Careful handling o freight.

For Tickets, State rooms at lowest rates apply to THE RATHBUN COMPANY, Agents.

Bay of Quinte Steamb't Route

TRI-WEEKLY

DESER'TO, PICTON & KINGSTON

1894 - 1894

STR. "HERO"

THIS favorite steamer is now lighted by electricity and will have a strong search light for excursion business and the boat is heated by steam.

Commencing Monday, April 9th, will leave Belleville Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 6 a m, returning Tuesday, Thursday and Friday at 11 p m.

The very best facilities are offered to shippers of freight. The lowest through and local rates quoted.

No wharfage at Picton on freight for this steamer.

Full information given by Gilbert Johnston on board, or to the RATHBUN COM'Y,
. H. GILDERSLEEVE, Ticket Agent, Kingston.

ROCHESTER.

STEAMER

NORTH KING.

Leaves for Charlotte, N. Y., every Sunday, 11:45 p.m.

Leaves for Picton and Kingston every Sunday, 3:20 a. m.

Arrive from Picton and Kingston every Sunday, 11:45 p.m.

Arrives from Charlotte, N. Y., every Sunday, 3:20 a. m.

Special attention given to passengers and freight.

WEEK DAYS.—Steamer leaves Port Hope week days for Charlotte, N. Y., at 9:45 a.m.

, Calls at Brighton Monday 2 a.m., aand Wednesday 2.30 a.m., and at Colborne Wednesday and Fridays 4 a.m.

Connection made by Grand Trunk morning trains.

The Rathbun Co., Agents. U. E. THOMPSON, 43tf Agent.

INSURANCE.

Western Assurance Company,
Fire and Ma ine Head Office, Toronto

North British & Mercantile Ins. Co.,
Fire an l Life, Head Office (Can.) Montreal

Atlas Insurance Company,
Fire Head Office (Canada), Montreal

M. M. THOMPSON
Water Works Office, Bridge St.

Steamer "Iona"

Will eave Bellevil'e three times each week for Oswego, connecting with trains for New York.

Daily Intelligencer.

At Death's Door—Dyspepsia Conquered —A Great Medical Triumph.

Gentlemen,—My medical adviser and others told me I could not possibly live when I commenced to use Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery for Dyspepsia. My case was one of the worst of its kind. For three years I could not eat meat and my weight decreased from 219 to 119 lbs. All the food I took for thirteen months previous to taking the Vegetable Discovery consisted of milk. I am now entirely cured and have regained my usual weight, can eat anything with a keen relish and feel like a new man. I have sold over thirty dozen Vegetable Discovery since it cured me, as I am well-known, and people in this section know how low I was, and thought I could not possibly be cured. They are eager to try this grand medicine. It certainly saved my life, as I never expected to recover when first I commenced using it. I am not exaggerating anything but feel glad to be able to contribute this testimonial and trust it may be the means of convincing others of its merits as a certain cure for Dyspepsia.

Signed. Jean Valcourt, Wotton, P. Q.

In 1888 the people of Great Britain paid taxes on 492 200 carriages.

Is there anything more annoying than having your corn stepped upon? Is there anything more delightful than getting rid of it? Holloway's Corn Cure will do it. Try it and be convinced.

In Portugal the tobacco tax brings £900,000, the land tax £700,000.

Some people laugh to show their pretty teeth. The use of Ivory White Tooth Powder makes people laugh more than ever. It's so nice. Price 25c. Sold by druggists.

Worms cause feverishness, moaning and restlessness during sleep. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator is pleasant, sure and effectual. If your druggist has none in stock, get him to procure it for you.

The rate of taxation has nearly quadrupled in France since 1830.

Dyspepsia causes dizziness, headache, constipation, variable appetite, rising and souring of food, palpitation of the heart, distress after eating. Burdock Blood Bitters is guaranteed to cure Dyspepsia if faithfully used according to directions.

Until about forty years ago, the Persian Government levied a tax on cats,

Mr T. J. Humes, Columbus, Ohio, writes: 'I have been afflicted for some time with kidney and Liver Complaint, and find Parmalee's Pills the best medicine for these diseases These Pills do not cause pain or griping, and should be used when a cathartic is required. They are Gelatine Coat d, and rolled in the Flour of Licorice to preserve their purity and give them a pleasant, agreeable taste.

Norway pine syrup cures Bronchitis.

For cholera morbus, Cholera Infantum Cramps, Colic, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, and Summer Complaint Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is a prompt, safe and sure cure that has been a popular favorite for over 40 years.

STEAMER VARUNA

A. HICKS, Captain.

WILL leave Trenton every morning, (Sunday excepted) at 7:00 o'clock, calling at Rednerville and all points between the head of the bay and Picton, leaving Belleville at 8:30 a.m., Deseronto at 10:20 a.m.

On Tuesday and Thursday evenings to meet North King at Brighton, returning will leave Brighton Wednesday and Saturday mornings at 5:30,

Will connect at Picton with stage for Sand Banks.

Parties wishing to arrange for excursion rates wil see Capt. Hicks on board

Will leave Picton at 1 p.m. on return for the head of the bay, Deseronto 2:30 p.m., Belleville, at 4:30 p. m., and Trenton, at 6.

Omnibuses in waiting at Picton, Belleville and Brighton.

The Rathbun Co., Agents, Belleville and Deseronto.

A. W. Hepburn, Agent, Picton.

DON'T

Fail to see our fine display of

CANDIES

—AND—

FINE BAKERY GOODS

To morrow (Saturday).

H. C. DICKENS & SON.

P.S.—Oysters now arriving in fine order.

SPORT.

Lacrosse Sticks,
Foot Balls,
Tennis Goods,
Croquet, etc.,
Base Ball
Supplies.

Also, Wall Paper,
Window Shades,
Hammocks,
Fans,
Purses,
Albums, Bibles and Novels.

—AT—

Overell's Book Store.

Next to Glasgow Warehouse.

RIBBONS !

We have an extra large stock of Ribbons on hand in all the light and fancy shades including

BABY RIBBONS,
SILK " "
SATIN " "
MOIRE " "
ETC., - ETC.

Our prices are the lowest, and we will be pleased to have you give us a call whenever wanting Ribbons.

SILK ELASTICS....

We have a splendid stock of Fancy Silk Elastic, made in Yellow, Blue, Green, Orange, Cardinal, Black, Pink, Mauve, White All one price, 25c yard, at

THE BEEHIVE

CHAS. N. SULMAN

THE KISS OF GOLD.

By KATE JORDAN.

[Copyright, 1893, by J. B. Lippincott Company and published by special arrangement with them.]

So a fortnight dragged by, bringing Christmas snow and greens to the town. Chelsea square was a patch of crystal brightness, the snow undisturbed in the seminary grounds. The bells in the chapel pealed gladly morning, noon and night.

But the benedictory chimes were like mockery to Virginia. These days, when every window and shop gave evidence of Christmas cheer, were black and cold to her. Tom was changed. He avoided her eyes. When left for a moment alone with her, he relapsed into a constrained silence. His life became daily more irregular, his moods more uncertain. The simplicity that matched his blue eyes was slowly vanishing before new, insincere mannerisms.

When Virginia remembered the kiss that had opened paradise to her, shame burned her, and her pain changed to fierce self contempt. It was the fruit of a moment's passing impulse with him, and it had meant everything to her. He had forgotten or set aside the unfinished sentence that had shot like a rainbow across her life. He had forgotten, and she had remembered. She had hugged these things to her heart as memories precious beyond words, a half spoken promise of a love that matched her own.

Furious pain, wounded, aching pride, sometimes made the defiant little head droop wearily and a passion of wild sobs leave her lips in a stifled cry. But only when she was alone. Let him come and go as he pleased, let him hurt her by this other side of his nature daily revealing itself more fully, but he must not guess she had dreamed of that which might never be hers.

But, oh, to see him, speak to him, and never by a single glance mirror the mutiny that kept singing one question in her brain—"Why—why—why has he changed?"—this was pain of that cruel and particular kind that dwarfs in its penetrating torture the endurance required for larger griefs.

And worse to bear than all was her father's assumption of a secret understanding existing between them.

"I say, now, you and young Murray are not quite so indifferent to each other as you'd have me believe, are you?" he asked her one morning as he lingered over his paper and cup of chocolate.

"Tom will always be my friend, I hope," Virginia answered steadily, but almost inaudibly.

Mr. Kent gave a sharp side glance at her pale face and a shrug.

"You don't mean to say there's nothing else? Stuff and nonsense! He was in love with you, whatever he may be now. Just before that play of his was put on, when he was on the tenter hooks of anxiety, I saw him watching you many a time. The tender passion reveals itself now just as it did when I suffered from it, and Tom looked sheepish. I dare say I used to look so. I know my rivals always appeared so to me. Has anything changed him?"

No word came from Virginia's quivering lips. No word could come.

"Then you are not secretly betrothed to him?"

She went hurriedly to her father's side, and holding his arm tightly looked at him with dry, burning eyes.

"You must not fancy such a thing. I am nothing to him. Oh, you wouldn't speak to him about this, father! You wouldn't! No; it would kill me if you did!"

"Speak to him? I? What are you talking about? Am I likely to do so? Do I strike you as that sort of person? The man who wants to marry my daughter must sue for that honor."

He studied her face hard for a moment, and his lips settled into a thin, straight line. The tragedy in her dilated eyes told him the truth, and a haughty anger against Tom awoke within him. Virginia's love won and thrown away seemed an insignificant thing beside the thought that any man should indulge in desultory lovemaking with his daughter and then repent of it. His daughter! There lay the sting that was unbearable.

It was after 8 o'clock that night before Tom entered the house. Delatole and he were to leave for a visit to the south in the morning. He could no longer postpone his going. But how to tell them? How to say goodby? Would Virginia remain his friend? Would she understand? Oh, she must, she must. He could not bear to think she would hate or despise him.

As he walked slowly up stairs he met Mr. Kent coming down. The old man's greeting was chilling, but courteous. Tom drew his breath hard and plunged into explanations at once. The words were feverish, rapid—polite regrets for his necessary departure, mingled with a recital of his future plans.

Mr. Kent heard him unmoved to the end.

"I don't wish to bandy any words with you, Mr. Murray," he said in a calm, colorless tone. "One thing I must say, however. When I was young, people did not repay hospitality as you have done. Pardon me, if you please. Don't interrupt. Without plunging into stupid detail I am sure you understand me. I will say goodby to you now. You cannot go too quickly to please me. I dare say you will succeed. The sensitive and forbearing man is often left in the background, but men of your stamp, never."

He passed down the hall, leaving Tom hot and indignant. Had Virginia told him, or did he only guess? It was impossible to retaliate, impossible to tell this selfish dreamer he had never been his guest. Besides the words did rankle, oh, so deeply! for, though uttered from a partially mistaken sense of wrong, they were true. He had acted a cowardly part.

His face was worn and reckless as he turned to the hall window, endeavoring to conquer the quivering of his pulses before facing Virginia.

It had commenced to snow again. He could hear the students practicing a new Christmas hymn in the chapel opposite. In a moment the years spent in the college, so different from his present life, passed in a series of pictures before him, and with them the thought of all he owed Virginia. But for her "The World's Way" would never have been written. Looking back, he saw how clearly her companionship had nerved him to continual effort. Hers was the voice that had urged him on, hers the dauntless optimism that had sent a rift of glory into his darkest days.

An ache rose in his throat; the snow, in the light from the open chapel door, whirled mistily before him. Now that he was actually going the thought that he was leaving her was exquisite pain. The familiar landmarks frowned an unbearable reproach.

"What a fool I am!" he thought and gave his shoulders an impatient shrug. "When I'm with Delatole, I see I've done right. When I'm here—pshaw! what's the use of these regrets? They lead nowhere. I can't turn back. I must go on. I'll never forget Virginia, we can be friends still, and some day, in a year maybe, when I'm sure of myself, if she but loves me, all will somehow come right."

He went first to his own room and sat down, looking before him in a dazed way. Would it all come right? Did he believe that? Was he trying to deceive himself at the last? Then for the sake of action and to keep thought away as much as possible he put his clothes and books in his trunk, locked and addressed it. Even when that was done he hesitated. A tumult seemed striving to tear his heart asunder. His hands were like ice.

"I must go to her. I must. Why delay longer?"

He found her leaning against the melodeon, her fingers buried in the fur of the little white kitten he had often teased. Her face was perfectly colorless. She looked at him steadfastly, coldly and uttered no word. It was evident she had heard his voice in the hall and was waiting for him.

(To be Continued.)

IN MEMORY OF PARNELL.

The Anniversary of the Great Irish Leader Fittingly Celebrated.

Dublin, Oct. 8.—The anniversary of Charles Stewart Parnell's death was celebrated impressively here yesterday. No such crowds have been seen in Glasnevin Cemetery since the day of his funeral. Special trains came from all parts of Ireland, bringing thousands of the dead leader's admirers. The procession was marshalled by Timothy Harrington and was punctual and orderly from beginning to end. The memorial contained countless wreaths and designs in flowers from Ireland, America, Australia, India and several continental countries.

Among the most conspicuous persons in the procession were J. H. Parnell, the agitator's brother; Mr. Dickinson, his sisters, John Redmond, Wm. Redmond, James McGuire, John Nolan, J. E. Kenny, John J. Clancy, William Field, L. P. Hayden, (all members of parliament), many ex-members of parliament, the Lord Mayor of Dublin and the Mayor of Cork, each in full robes of his office.

The procession was led by a mounted guard of citizens who wore mourning scarfs. The band came next, followed by the memorial car. The most notable among the flowers was a great harp of lilies, sent by the staff of the Independent. Round it were the flowers from America, Dublin, Cork and Waterford.

The Irish Parliamentary party followed the car and behind them walked the staff of the Independent, the Lord Mayor, the majority of the corporation, the Foresters, representatives of the Dublin trades, post office officials and delegates from every county in Ireland. There were 49 bands besides the large one near the head of the procession and all played the "Dead March, from Saul" as they marched to Glasnevin. Thousands along the line of march wore the ivy leaf and many houses were draped.

When the procession arrived at Glas Nevin the crowd near Parnell's grave was parted and the delegations filed slowly by, each placing flowers within the grave circles. As they left the line the delegates retired to the outskirts of the cemetery and dispersed.

Nitrates at Rothamstead.

A party of gentlemen delegated to investigate the action of nitrates visited the farm of Sir John Lawes. A Lewiston paper gives the following data secured during the visit. "The yield per acre of an unmanured plot of roots last year was 8¼ cwt.; of a plot dressed with minerals and nitrogenous manures, 24 tons, 18 cwt. Taking an acre of mangels to which no nitrates had been applied the weight of sugar in the crop was 1,136 lbs. The addition of a proper quantity of nitrates brought the weight of sugar per acre up to 3,093 lbs. In other words, the addition of 1 lb. of nitrates per acre increased the sugar by 22.8 lbs. Experiment has shown that a crow would take up 60 per cent. of the nitrate applied."

Fayetteville, N.C., Oct. 8.—Louis Crawford, a veteran convict, who has done time in both the Carolinas, made a rush at Jailor Clark on Saturday with the intention of smothering him with a blanket. Clark, perceiving his object, shot, mortally wounding the prisoner in the left side. Several other prisoners rallied to Crawford's assistance, and in the desperate battle which ensued Jailer Clark's pistol was again discharged, seriously wounding Assistant Jailer Bramble and a prisoner. After a terrible fight the prisoners were driven back to their cells.

Deseronto Navigation Company (Limited

Steamer Ella Ross.

This fast sailing and comfortable steamer leaves Belleville for Trenton daily (Sunday excepted), at 10 a.m. Leaves Belleville for Deseronto and Picton at 3 p.m., connecting at Deseronto with steamers for Napanee and Oswego. Lowest freight and passenger rates. For further information apply to the Rathbun Co., Bridge street, or to R. C. Carter, General Manager, Deseronto.

Norway pine syrup cures Coughs.

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry cures Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cramps, Colic, Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum, and all looseness of the bowels. Never travel without it. Price 35c.

In parts of Peru taxes are paid in cocoa leaves and Peruvian barks.

For coughs, colds, bronchitis and all lung and throat troubles, there is no preparation of medicine can compare with Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup. It never fails to afford prompt and permanent relief. It removes all soreness, and heals the diseased parts. It immediately soothes the most troublesome cough, and by promoting expectoration, removes the mucus which stops up the air tubes which, cause difficulty in breathing, thereby gives relief to that depressing tightness experienced in the chest. Public speakers and singers will find Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup of inestimable value, as it speedily and effectually allays all irritation, and huskiness in the throat and bronchial tubes, and gives power to the vocal cords, rendering the voice clear and sonorous If parents wish to save the lives of their children, and themselves from much anxiety trouble and expense let them procure a bottle of Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup, and whenever a child has taken cold, has a cough or hoarseness, give the Syrup according to directions.

Norway pine syrup heals the lungs.

A stinted wife can find a vest pocket in the dark.

Ample warning is given us by our lungs when they are in danger. If foolhardy enough to neglect the warning signal, we incur imminent peril. Check a cough at the outset with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil—which is a sovereign pulmonic—besides being a remedy for soreness, lameness, abrasions of the skin, tumors, piles, rheumatism, etc.

Burdock pills, small, safe, and sure, regulate the liver and cure constipation.

Robert Lubbork, Cedar Rapids, writes: "I have used Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil both for myself and family for Diptheria with the very best results. I regard it as the best remedy for this disease, and would use no other.

Holland is the only country in Europe that admits coffee free of duty.

Dyspepsia arises from wrong action of stomach, liver and bowels. Burdock Blood Bitters cures Dyspepsia and all diseases arising from it, 99 times in 100.

WALL-PAPER !

SEE THAT?

CLEANLINESS !
HEALTH !
ECONOMY !
HAPPINESS !
FURNISHING !
CHARACTER !
ART !
Common Sense

There's a Lot of Meaning in it for You ! !

There's an array that is hard to beat !

Could you ask more ? Here it is

A Discount of 10 per cent. for 30 days.

Test our Ability to Advise on Interior Decorations.

C. B. SCANTLEBURY.

—ESTABLISHED 1870.—

Greenland Seal Driving Capes 24 Inches Long $12.00

Wool Seal Empire Capes 26 Inches Long $18.00

Persian Lamb Jackets made to order from $60.00 up, according to length and quality. Seal Jackets made to order, $125.00 up, according to length and quality. Thousand of dollars worth of Skins to pick from.

S. A. HYMAN.

Manufacturing Furrier.

P S —Old Furs cleaned, dyed and made over in latest styles.

NATHAN JONES,

IMPORTERS.

We have opened up the most varied and attractive stock of

FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC DRESS GOODS ALSO DRESS TRIMMINGS.

Misses Mounder and Gardner are giving satisfaction in dress and mantle making.

TO THE PUBLIC.

When we decided to add the manufacure of carriages, phaetons, democrats, &c., to our business, we immediately put under construction a few of each. As we decided to place no vehicle on the market which is not A 1 in in every detail, and knowing that no first-class vehicle can be produced on the rush, it has been necessary for us to take sufficient time to produce what we aimed at. We think we have succeeded; and we now have a few rigs completed, and others nearing completion to offer for sale. The iron work is all hand forged; the wood work carefully made, and strongly ironed; and the painting and upholstering done with the best material and greatest care. We can freely recommend these rigs. We will be pleased to have parties who may need anything in the above line, call and inspect our work.

ST. CHARLES & PRINGLE.

JAS ST CHARLES. - - - - HENRY PRINGLE.

The Sale of Boots and Shoes :

Slightly damaged by Smoke and Water will continue until everything is sold.

HAINES & LOCKETT

Opposite Anglo-American Hotel.

IT - HAS - BEEN - ADMITTED

— BY OVER 125 PEOPLE IN BELLEVILLE THAT THE —

John Bull Wrought Steel Range,

Is the most Economical, Everlasting and Useful Range on the market. How is this for three Seasons.

SEE THEM AT FOSTER'S.

Also the Duchess of Oxford Cast Iron Range

THE - FALL - RAINS

ARE WITH US.

YOUR HOUSE WANTS A NEW ROOF—

WE HAVE THE SHINGLES.

In all grades, at lowest prices. Ask for quotations and see

XX. XXX. Clear Butts

THE RATHBUN COMPANY.

Belleville and Napanee, Office, Bridge St. Telephone A. 4.

COAL — AND — WOOD.

THOS. STEWART,

The only dealer in Scranton Coal in Belleville and Napanee. The very best facilities for delivering to any part of the city or surrounding towns this coal, which is the best and cheapest mined.

No Gas. No Clinkers. No Waste

Clean, quick, hot, strong, cheerful fire. Smithing, Cannell, Brier Hill, Run of Mine coal and Coal Screenings always on hand. Hard and soft wood, Blocks and Edgings delivered to any part of the City.

DR. WOOD'S

Norway Pine Syrup.

Rich in the lung-healing virtues of the Pine combined with the soothing and expectorant properties of other pectoral herbs and barks.

A PERFECT CURE FOR

COUGHS AND COLDS

Hoarseness, Asthma, Bronchitis, Sore Throat, Croup and all THROAT, BRONCHIAL and LUNG DISEASES. Obstinate coughs which resist other remedies yield promptly to this pleasant piny syrup.

PRICE 25C. AND 50C. PER BOTTLE.

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

Dr FOWLER'S EXT. OF WILD STRAWBERRY CURES COLIC CHOLERA CHOLERA-MORBUS DIARRHOEA DYSENTERY AND ALL SUMMER COMPLAINTS OF CHILDREN OR ADULTS Price 35 CTS BEWARE OF IMITATIONS

Camping Supplies!

— AND —

Picnic - Requisites !

Our list of articles suitable for Picnic Lunches and Camping, includes :

Canned Meats.

ARMOUR'S COOKED BEEF,
ARMOUR'S OX TONGUES,
ARMOUR'S LUNCH TONGUES,
ARMOUR'S POTTED HAM,

ARMOUR'S COOKED PIG FEET
ARMOUR'S LUNCHEON MEAT.
ARMOUR'S POTTED TONGUE
ARMOUR'S BRAWN,

SANDWICH MEATS,
BONELESS CHICKEN,
BONELESS TURKEY,
POTTED BEEF,
POTTED GAME,
ETC,! ETC.!! ETC.!

Canned Fish.

FINEST SARDINES IN OIL,
FINEST SARDINES IN TOMATO,
HERRINGS IN TOMATO SAUCE,
KIPPERED HERRINGS,
FRESH HERRINGS,

SALMON, LOBSTERS,
FINNAN HADDIES,
BLOATER PASTE,
ANCHOVY PASTE,
SARDINE PASTE,
ETC.! ETC.! ETC!!!

Sundries.

Condensed Milk in Tins, Cream in Tins, Biscuits (in great variety), Fine old Cheese, McLaren's Imperial Cheese (in small crocks). Dried Beef, Choice Hams and Bacon, Lime Juice, Spanish Olives, CROSSE & BLACKWELL'S Pickled White Onions, Walnuts. Chow Chow, and and Mixed Pickles.

WALLBRIDGE & CLARKE

Grocers and Wine Merchants,

33 and 37 Bridge Street. Also Front Street, in Caldwell Building.

REMOVAL

MR. JOSEPH CALDWELL, DENTIST!

Has removed his office to the new premises which he has had specially fitted up in the

Caldwell Block,

First door south of the Anglo-American Hotel Front street. 108t|

INTELLIGENCER PRINTING AND PUBLISHING COMPANY (LIMITED.

J. C. Jamieson, President. | J. W. London, Secretary

THE Treasurer is the only person authorised to receive money from the Company, or to grant receipts for the same.

All Bills, Notes, Cheques and other documents binding on the Company, will require the signature of the President, in addition to the of the Treasurer.

THE INTELLIGENCE is printed and published by the Intelligencer Printing and Publishing Company (Limited) by James C. Jamieson, resident in Belleville, at the Office, Front St., south of Hotel St.

The Daily Intelligencer.

LET THERE BE HARMONY IN THINGS ESSENTIAL—LIBERALITY IN THINGS NOT ESSENTIAL—CHARITY IN ALL.

VOL 28. BELLEVILLE ONTARIO TUESDAY OCTOBER 9 1894 NO. 134

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

MEDICAL.

DR. WISHART.

47 GROSVENOR ST., Toronto, will be at the Huffman House, Belleville, Saturday, Dec. 1st, '94. 192dwly

DR. QUACKENBUSH, M.D., C.M.D., M.D., P.S.O.

HOMŒOPATHIC Physician, Surgeon and Accoucheur, has removed his office over store lately occupied by J. C. Leverell, Residence George St., opposite H. Corby's.

JOHN J. FARLEY, M. D., C. M., M. R. C. S. England.

OFFICE and Residence—corner of Bridge and George Streets—three streets east of Post Office.

LEGAL.

FLINT & McCAMON.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public, etc. Solicitors for the Canadian Bank of Commerce. Office, City Hall, Front Street, Belleville, Ont. d84tf
JOHN J. B. FLINT, W. J. McCAMON.

STEWART MASSON.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, Notary, Conveyancer, etc. Office, South side Bridge st., over Wallbridge & Clark's, Belleville, Ont, Money to loan at lowest rates. 76dwtf

J. F. WILLS' LAW OFFICE.

REMOVED to Campbell Street (south side) 2nd door from Front Street, on ground floor.

A. GOODRICH.

LAWYER, 124 Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill., 28 years' experience; secrecy; special facilities in several States; Goodrich on Divorce; with laws of all States in press. 76dly

GEO. A. KINGSTON.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, etc., with Lount, Marsh and Cameron, 25 Toronto St., Toronto. Money to loan on farm property at lowest rates. 233dtf9w.

MIKEL & ROBERTS.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notary Public, Conveyancers, etc. Offices Bridge St., Belleville. Monies to loan at lowest rate.

THOMAS & HALLIWELL.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Conveyancers, &c. Money to loan. 293d3mwly
J. PARKER THOMAS, J. EARL HALLIWELL.

PONTON & MORDEN,

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public, Conveyancers. Office over Express and Telegraph Office, Bridge St., Belleville. Money to loan—private funds.
WM. N. PONTON, M. A., Solicitor Hastings Loan and Investment Society.
W. S. MORDEN, B.A.

F. GUSS PORTER.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, Notary Public, etc. Office in the Robertson Block, east side of Front Street.
Private Money to Loan, 271dwly

FRANCIS S. WALLBRIDGE.

(Successor to Hon. Lewis Wallbridge, Q.C.) BARRISTER, Solicitor, Conveyancer, etc. Office, McAnnany building, corner Front and Bridge streets, Belleville, Ont. Private and Company money to loan at 6 per cent., on easy terms upon good land security. Charges moderate.

HENRY CARRE, C. E.

M.C. Soc C.E.,

DOMINION AND PROVINCIAL LAND SURVEYOR.

Special attention paid to Hydraulics and Land Drainage. Patents obtained and Drawings made. Office—McAnnany Block, under Ontario Business College, Front St. P.O. address—Box 203, Belleville.

A. G. NORTHRUP.

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Shire Hall, Belleville. 226d&wly

D. I. DULMAGE, L.D.S., D.D.S. (Tor. University).

DENTIST—Office over Brignall & Thompson's. Night calls at residence on Forin Street. d,w

CHAS. JOSE.

VETERINARY Surgeon, Graduate Ontario Veterinary College, Member Ontario Veterinary Society. Office and residence, Foxboro, Ont. Calls by mail or telegram promptly attended to. 304d,wly

MISCELLANEOUS.

AGENTCY of the Liverpool and London and Globe Fire and Life Insurance Companies.
W. P. HUDSON, Agent.
Office Campbell street, Belleville. d,w

NEW . .
GOODS
—AT—
FISH'S.

New Neckwear, the very latest, the colorings are entirely new, shapes very nobby, and prices very low.
New underwear, in al weights, all kinds, all prices, all sizes and cheaper than ever.
New half hose in cashmere, merino, Scotch lamb's wool and hard knitted. Our 25c socks are great value.
See our new pink and blue shirts, our own make, the very latest.

A. E. FISH & CO.

The Noted Shirt Makers of Belleville.

STOVE PIPES!
STOVE PIPES!!
STOVE PIPES!!!

WHIPS! LANTERNS!
WHIPS!! LANTERNS!!
WHIPS!!! LANTERNS!!!

Lamps, Flower Pots,
Lamps, Flower pots,
Lamps, Flower Pots.

—AT—

THE FAIR,

FRANK WEEKS, MANAGER.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

ACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York.

Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

Dr. H. F. Merrill.

No Other Medicine

SO THOROUGH AS

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

Statement of a Well Known Doctor

"No other blood medicine that I have ever used, and I have tried them all, is so thorough in its action, and effects so many permanent cures as Ayer's Sarsaparilla."—Dr. H. F. MERRILL, Augusta, Me.

Ayer's The Only Sarsaparilla

Admitted at the World's Fair.

Ayer's Pills for liver and bowels.

ACETOCURA
TOUCHES THE SPOT IN NEURALGIA.

ACETOCURA
TOUCHES THE SPOT IN NEURALGIA

Mr. A. Weir, Kew Beach, September 7th, 1894, writes:—"Since then I have used it for neuralgic pains in the head, with immediate relief."

ACETOCURA
TOUCHES THE SPOT IN PARALYSIS.

ACETOCURA
TOUCHES THE SPOT IN PARALYSIS

ACETOCURA
TOUCHES THE SPOT IN PARALYSIS

Mrs. B. M. Hall, Ferawood, Ill., U.S.A., August 15th, 1894, writes:—"I am 61 years old. For two years I had been afflicted with partial paralysis of the lower limbs, rendering me unable to walk a block without complete exhaustion. After using Acetocura for five days the pain had entirely disappeared permitting me to enjoy a good night's rest, and after ten day's treatment I was able to walk two miles without fatigue."

Write for gratis pamphlet to COUTTS & Sons, 72 Victoria street, Toronto. Head offices—London, Glasgow and Manchester, (G.B.) Cologne, Germany, Aaron, Switzerland.

Local Agents—

L. W. YEOMANS & CO.,
DRUGGISTS,
BELLEVILLE.

PREPARE

FOR the STRUGGLE.

The course of study offered by the Belleville business College gives a young person a thorough and practical knowledge of business, and also that mental culture and discipline which sharpens perceptive faculties, stimulates ambition, develops ability and prepares for the struggle of making a living. Every step in the work is characterized by thoroughness. Besides we use the most practical methods.

In teaching shorthand we dictate actual letters and legal evidence. Other schools have undertaken to imitate our methods, but the quality of their work bears that relation to practical business which the imitation does to the real.

We represent things exactly as they are.

Belleville Business College.

ROBERT BOGLE, Proprietor.

REPORT OF THE ACADÉMIE DE MÉDECINE OF FRANCE.

Apollinaris

"THE QUEEN OF TABLE WATERS."

THE RESULTS OF THE RECENT INVESTIGATIONS IN PARIS AND THE REPORT OF THE ACADÉMIE DE MÉDECINE OF FRANCE HAVE PLACED APOLLINARIS WATER AT THE HEAD OF ALL THE WATERS EXAMINED FOR PURITY AND FREEDOM FROM DISEASE GERMS.

Daily Intelligencer.

CONTRADICTS THE STORY

Young Westwood's Father Denies That His Son Knows His Assailant.

SAID TO BE THE DEED OF A CRANK.

Although the Name of a Young Lady Is Mentioned in Connection with the Case—Her Father's Description Tallies with That of the Man Who Shot Him—The Wounded Boy at Death's Door.

TORONTO, Oct. 9.—Mr. Benjamin Westwood, father of the Parkdale youth shot under such mysterious circumstances on Saturday night, was seen by a reporter with regard to the rumor circulated that the boy knew who his assailant was, but for some unknown reason refused to say. Mr. Westwood expressed great indignation at the story.

"My son never wronged anyone in his life," he said, "and I am confident that if I went to the door on Saturday night instead of him I would have been shot."

Mr. Westwood accused the police authorities of trying to cover up their own negligence by making insinuations against the truth of his and his son's story.

It is now generally thought that the shooting was the crazy freak of some crank, though the fact that a man made inquiries for the location of the Westwood home early in the evening is unexplained. The name of a lady living in Victoria Crescent had been mentioned in connection with that of Frank Westwood. And it was said that that the description of the father tallied exactly with that of the man who fired the shot on Saturday night. What amount of credit may be given to this story is hard to say, as there are many ridiculous rumors circulated as an explanation of the unfortunate affair.

A consultation was held, attended by Drs. Cameron, Peters, Scadding and Lynd. All the medical men were of the opinion that an operation was imperative. The sufferer was put under the influence of opiates. An incision was made in the abdomen and an outlet given for the internal hemmorhage that has been going on ever since the wound was inflicted. Probing for the wound was unsuccessful, and it was considered dangerous to proceed further at the present. The operation was necessary and was only a chance at saving the boy's life. He may live but the chances are against him.

Rev. Mr. Scott, the family pastor, visited the boy's bedside, and to him young Frank told the story he had already related to the detectives. He was quite positive that he could not identify the man who shot him.

Serious Explosion in a Bank Vault.

WATERLOO, Ont., Oct. 9.—A serious explosion occurred here at the Waterloo branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce at the hour for beginning the day's business. Ed. Kreutziger, junior clerk, was in the act of lighting the gas to illuminate the vault, which had just been opened, when a deafening explosion took place, knocking him with great force against the counter and otherwise bruising him. He is badly burned and lacerated on the face, neck and hands, the skin hanging in shreds in several places. He was taken to a drug store and his wounds dressed by Drs. Webb and Armitage. He will recover, but will probably be laid up for some weeks. A serious conflagration was averted by Teller Snyder rushing in and putting out the fire which had already caught the bank's books. The heavy plate glass windows were badly wrecked, having been blown out and across the street against the opposite building by the force of the concussion. The cause of the explosion was due to the leakage in the gas pipes allowing gas to escape into the vault.

Captured a Yankee Bail Jumper.

MONTREAL, Oct. 9.—Deputy Marshal T. F. Freel, of New York, made quite a clever arrest in this city when he gathered in one Henry Gottleib, charged with arson, who had skipped his bail bonds. The accused was arrested in New York and the grand jury brought in a bill for arson in the second degree. He was allowed out on $350, but when the day for trial arrived he had skipped and the bail was forfeited. The deputy marshal got an intimation that he was in Montreal and arrived here yesterday, and after watching the house for three hours observed his man going into a boot and shoe store near by. He at once arristed him. He will fight extradition.

A Halifax Divorce Case.

HALIFAX, Oct. 9.—A divorce case commenced here yesterday. The petitioner is Mrs. Lovett, wife of Mr. I. M. Lovett, of Yarmouth. They were married in 1887 at Woodstock by Rev. Thos. Dunstead. Two children were the result of the marriage. The wife alleges in her petition that the husband has been in the habit of remaining out late at night and drinking. She also alleges that her husband became acquainted with Miss Fanny Wade and that the latter alienated her husband's affections. Mrs. Lovett also charges her husband with cruelty. The petition contains various other statements relative to alleged bad conduct and cruelty of her husband.

Killed in Saving Her Child.

CARLETON PLACE, Ont., Oct. 9.—Mrs. John E. Irvine, with her two children, were driving into town and when near the railway crossing one of the children slipped out. Mrs. Irvine, in trying to rescue the child, tripped on the reins, fell out and broke her neck.

FROM THE CAPITAL.

Hon. Mr. Daly Arrives From the North-west—Political Rumors.

OTTAWA, Oct. 9.—Hon. T. M. Daly is expected to arrive here to-day. Within the next few days after his arrival it is said that the lieutenant-governorship of Manitoba will be settled one way or another. Mr. Ross will then be appointed or will be told that the constituency of Lisgar cannot be opened until after the next general election.

The report is current in official circles to the effect that the Hon. J. C. Patterson, Minister of Militia, will retire from the Government and accept the lead of the Opposition in the province in the place of Mr. Meredith. His retirement would mean that Dr. Montague would be included in whatever shuffle was to be made to bring this about.

Justice Burbidge, in the Exchequer Court, has refused to amend the judgment in the Larkin-Connolly case, so as to include the terms of settlement made by counsel.

There has arrived in Ottawa from China on a brief visit to his relative, Sir C. H. Tupper, one of the youngest commanders in the Imperial navy. Commander R. Tupper is only 34 years of age, but has a splendid record of naval service in different parts of the world, which doubtless accounts for his rapid promotion. Until a few weeks ago he was first lieutenant on H.M.S. Mercury, of the Chinese squadron, but having received his promotion, he is now on his way to England to join another ship. Commander Tupper leaves for England via New York.

A Bicyclist Killed by a Trolley.

HAMILTON, Oct. 9.—Trolley car No. 44, going east, ran down and killed Robert Welshman, a salesman employed at Oak Hall clothing store. Welshman was mounted on a bicycle and attempted to cross the track in front of the car at the corner of King and Catharine streets, but either misjudged the car's distance or its speed. The motorman stopped the car within sixty feet, but both wheels passed over Welshman's chest and he died almost instantly. Deceased was almost 30 years of age and leaves a widow and two children, who reside on Aikman avenue.

Paris' New Presbyterian Church.

PARIS, Ont., Oct. 9.—The opening of the new Presbyterian church took place on Sunday. The dedication services were conducted in the morning and evening by Principal Grant, of Kingston, and in the afternoon by Rev. Wm. Cochrane, of Brantford. The seating capacity, which is 1,200, was taxed to the utmost. The Presbyterians of Paris may well feel proud of their edifice. The cost will reach $40,000. It is very neatly finished and has a splendid ventilating apparatus.

A Milton Forgery Case.

MILTON, Oct. 9.—Amos Dorland has entered an action against Joshua Butterfield, formerly manager of the Bank of Hamilton here, and now of Mount Forest. The Bank of Hamilton held notes belonging to Joseph Brothers, of Milton, to the value of $11,000. He reduced it to $5,000 by obtaining an endorsation from Amos Dorland. For security Dorland received $5,000 in notes from Brothers. Brothers fled some time ago. The notes given to Dorland, it is said, were forgeries, and Dorand claims that the bank knew that the notes were forgeries and he seeks to recover from the bank.

A Newfoundland Bye-Election.

ST. JOHNS, Nfld., Oct. 9.—The Trinity bye-election campaign has opened. The government candidates are Moses Monroe, oue of the leaders of the party last fall; Robert Bremner and Campbell MacPherson. They started with a strong force of canvassers. The Whitewayites were taken by surprise, though the election had been gazetted, as they thought the government was not making preparations. Their probable candidates are Horwood and Johnson Layers and Gussue Planter, all comparatively unknown men. A keen contest is expected as the Whitewayites carried all three seats last November by good majorities. Polling is to-day fortnight.

Opposition to Huddart's Scheme.

LONDON, Oct. 9.—The opposition to the proposed fast Canadian steamship line is observable in more than one quarter, and the most ingenious rumors are being circulated with a view to unpopularize the scheme. One of these is embodied in a statement made public, and in which the officials in London of the Occidental and Oriental Steamship Company deny most emphatically that there is any truth whatever, that their company and the Pacific Mail Company had entered into a combination with a view to bringing a strong opposition to bear against the projected Canadian line.

A Dishonest Grand Trunk Cashier.

HAMILTON, Oct. 9.—Fred Filgiano, cashier in the freight office of the G. T. R. here, left the city suddenly a few days ago and since then nothing has been heard of him. Several days ago Mr. J. McLerin, the freight agent, handed in his resignation to the company and on account of his departure it became necessary to make an audit of the books. Filgiano learned that an auditor was coming from Montreal and shortly afterwards left town. There is a shortage in his accounts and it is charged that he has been using the company's funds for his own private use.

Threw Himself Before a Train.

SHELBURNE, Ont., Oct. 9.—William Wrand, a young printer, committed suicide by throwing himself before a fast approaching freight train. Wrand was clad in a night robe and concealed himself near the track until the train was quite close to him, when he leaped forward on the rails. The train passed over him, cutting him in two. No motive can be assigned by the young man's parents.

Perry Weinberg Gets a Year.

TORONTO, Oct. 9.—In the case of Perry Weinberg, who was convicted on three separate charges of larceny last week, sentence was pronounced by the magistrate yesterday. Weinberg was extradited from New York after a vast amount of trouble and the expenditure of over a thousand dollars. In the first case, of stealing a watch and money from Mrs. Stern, he was sent to the Central Prison for one year, and on the other two six months each, the sentences to run concurrently. This makes just a year that Weinberg will have to spend in custody and ends the whole matter.

Gignac Becomes Insane.

WINDSOR, Oct. 9.—Dr. Casgrain has been requested to consult with Dr. Pare of Sandwich upon the condition of Albert Gignac, the Sandwich West farmer who was murderously assaulted by ex-Constable Sam Wilson and Montgomery Bell. Gignac's mind has been deranged as a result of the assault and he is now totally insane. The case will be placed in the hands of the county crown attorney, who will get witnesses to prosecute as a criminal case for the Crown.

FIREBUGS IN CHATHAM

Four Incendiary Fires Follow in Quick Succession.

RACE QUARRELS LEAD TO THE DEEDS

Ill-Feeling Has Existed for Some Time Between the White and Colored Men at Threshings—Lynching Threatened the Perpetrators if They Are Caught by the Vigilance Committee.

CHATHAM, Ont., Oct. 9.—Yesterday between 2 and 3 o'clock the barns of Mr. Lucas, 3rd concession of Chatham, were discovered to be on fire and in a short time were completely destroyed, together with contents. About half past three a hay stack belonging to Mr. Tompkins was fired. After a hard struggle the barns were saved. While this fire was in progress the barns of Mr. Kahue were found to be in flames and in a few minutes were a complete loss; no insurance. The next barn fired was that of Mr. Marshall and it was also destroyed with its contents.

These fires all took place within a distance of one mile and were undoubtedly the work of incendiaries.

For some time past considerable ill feeling has existed between white and colored men at threshings as to dining at the same table and threats were made that they, the latter, would take revenge. The whole neighborhood is thoroughly aroused and a vigilance committee is now hunting down the firebugs, and it is declared that if the culprits are caught they will never be brought to trial.

The total loss in barns, cattle, agricultural implements and crops will amount to between $6,000 and $7,000. About half of this is said to be covered by insurance.

TWO HUNDRED KILLED.

The Military Barracks in Grenada, Nicaragua, Blown Up.

PANAMA, Oct. 9.—A despatch to the Star and Herald from Granada, Nicaragua, says: "A terrible catastrophe has occurred here. The military barracks has been blown up and a whole quarter of the city has been badly damaged. The number of dead is estimated at 200. The number of wounded is much greater but no estimate is as yet obtainable.

Sunday Baseball in Windsor.

WINDSOR, Oct. 9.—There was an exciting time at the Windsor Driving Park on Sunday when Officers Giles and Lister arrived to stop a game of baseball between the Chiefs of Detroit and the Liners of Windsor. The police seized the pile of coats and the score card with the names, while the players disappeared over the fence. A hot race for the ferry began. So fleet footed were they that only one was arrested. The police hold the coats and baseball paraphernalia until the matter is settled. Smidt, the player captured, was fined yesterday, the charge being desecration of the Sabbath. There were over 200 spectators at the driving park and with them the two officers had a lively altercation, the crowd demanding that the coats be given up.

British Postal Officials in Canada.

MONTREAL, Oct. 9.—There has arrived in Montreal by the Mongolian three gentlemen of the British postal service who have none of them had less than thirty years experience of official duty. These are Mr. Lafin Hill, one of the assistant Secretaries of the General Postoffice, London, an office which controls the whole letter and telegraph arrangements of the United Kingdom; Mr. James J. Gardin, the Receiver land Accountant General of the same office, and Mr. J. D. Rich, the Postmaster of Liverpool. They will go west as far as Vancouver.

Blown to Death by Dynamite.

IRONWOOD, Mich., Oct. 9.—John Ravell, a miner, last evening put half a box of dynamite in the kitchen stove to thaw it out for use in the morning. The family, consisting of seven persons, was gathered about the stove conversing with a neighbor, Mrs. Paterson. In a few minutes there was a terrific explosion. Ravell and three of his children and Jessie Paterson were instantly killed and Mrs. Ravell and the two other children so badly injured they will probably die. The house was blown to atoms.

Terrible Explosion in Steel Works.

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—Three men were killed in the Illinois Steel Works and four others injured by the explosion of a steam pipe. The dead are, William Miller, John Holstrom and A. B. Sparrow. The recovery of the injured is doubtful. All were employes at the South Chicago mills and the injured were taken to the company's hospital there. The room in which the accident occurred was filled with steam and almost every one of the 50 men in it was burned more or less severely.

Objected to Being "Hazed."

KINGSTON, Oct. 9.—Cadet Plummer, of Toronto, has gone home for the second time since the term opened at the Royal Military College. It is stated that the senior cadets attempted to "haze" him on two occasions and he resisted strenuously. On the first occasion he returned to the college with his father, but this time, it is understood, his friends will request an investigation, so that his tormentors may be punished.

Four Wrecked Passengers Missing.

SYDNEY, N.S.W., Oct. 9.—The steamer Londondo, from Adelaide for Fremantle, went on Pollock Reef, off the West Australian coast, on October 6. Of the 164 passengers all but four made their way on boats and rafts to the southeast of the island. Thirty-six members of the crew were saved also. The four missing passengers are supposed to have been drowned.

Canadian Killed in Buffalo.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 9.—William Farmer, a lithographer employed by G. H. Dunstan & Co., was instantly killed at the Genessee street crossing of the Erie railroad. He was struck and thrown 20 feet. Death was immediate. Farmer was 40 years old, unmarried, and it is said he formerly resided in Lancaster, Ont.

Mercier in the Hospital.

MONTREAL, Oct. 9.—Mr. Mercier, at the request of his family and himself, has been removed from his residence on St. Denis street to Notre Dame hospital. Madame Mercier remains with him night and day. The malady has now reached its most advanced degree and gangrene has set in in his limbs.

Fire in Dutton.

DUTTON, Ont., Oct. 9.—Fire broke out in a small oil house at the rear of the store of D. H. Taylor. The frame store owned by Mr. Savage, G.T.R station agent of Guelph, also those of B. A. Kirkland, druggist; T. Smith, boots and shoes, and J. S. Ostrander, jeweller, were burned. The goods were saved. Loss, $4,000; partly insured.

USE SURPRISE SOAP ON WASH DAY; AND EVERY DAY.

MONGOLIANS GUARD PEKIN.

The Native Chinese Not Trusted by the Emperor.

LONDON, Oct. 9.—The Vienna correspondent of the Daily News telegraphs: "The palace in Pekin is guarded by Mongolians, because the Chinese are no longer trusted. There are daily fights petween the Chinese and the Mongolians; the latter are greatly hated."

A Times reporter writing from Tien Tsin in August compares the scenes there with what he had observed earlier in the month during a visit to Japan. He says: "The change was like that from one planet to another. Japan throbbed with silent energy and was quietly working to a definite end. China was in a state of aimless turmoil, like a colony of perturbed ants. Japan made a careful and orderly provision for war. There was no hurry, no friction. Everybody knew his duty and everybody performed it. The world has seldom beheld an executive machine in better working order and worked with more consumate skill. In China, on the other hand, the only system which is general is the system of sham, and the navy is a sham. They are not fighting forces, but means of livelihood."

The reporter reiterates the stories of corruption and peculation of officers, and continues: "The troops are mostly rabble and the Japanese ought to march through them like a snow-plough through snow."

The reporter throws a new light on the Asan fight. The Japanese, he says, vainly attempted the tactics adopted at Ping Yang, but the movements were so managed that separate Japanese divisions fired upon each other with disastrous effect. The Chinese cut their way through and reached Ping Yang after twenty-six hours' fighting.

The Tien-Tsin correspondent of the Times says that railway construction in China has been suspended and all the European officers have been engaged by the government for the naval service.

Parnellite Meeting in Dublin.

DUBLIN, Oct. 9.—John Redmond, leader of the Parnellites, presided over a large meeting in the rotunda last evening. He denounced the Government for accepting with equanimity the decision of the House of Lords against home rule and for removing home rule from the category of urgent questions. If the agitation to abolish the House of Lords be interposed now home rule would be relegated to the back ground for a generation. The abolition of the right of entail would be the greatest revolution in English history. The meeting passed a resolution to the effect that everything possible should be done to force the immediate dissolution of Parliament and obtain from the electors a fresh mandate as to home rule.

Stabbed a Mute Couple.

BOSTON, Oct. 9.—Joseph Finnegan and his wife Hannah, both mutes, were stabbed while in bed. The man has a cut in his arm from the shoulder to the elbow, an ugly gash, clear into the bone. The woman has two wounds, one in the throat and one in the breast. Mrs. Finnegan awoke to see a strange man bending over her. Her husband was aroused, and as he was struck at he threw up his arm, and the knife, instead of striking his body, slashed his muscles. The intruder leaped to the ground below. He was captured.

Killed by a Wrecked Train.

TOMAHAWK, Wis., Oct. 9.—Train wreckers sawed the supporting timbers of the Soo road bridge at Tomahawk Junction and the engine of an early west bound passenger train went through the structure. Fireman Charles Cottrell, of Minneapolis, was instantly killed, and Engineer James E. Dutch, of Minneapolis, was badly hurt. An attempt was made to wreck the train a week ago.

North Essex Conservatives.

WINDSOR, Oct. 9.—Dr. H. R. Casgrain has informed a committee of the Windsor Conservatives that he would consent to be a candidate at the convention for nomination as a member of the Dominion House to represent the north riding of Essex.

The Ahr Valley.

It is becoming the custom among European travellers to stop at Remagen on the Rhine, and make a little excursion to the beautiful Valley of the Ahr, with its picturesque villages along the vine clad slope. Here is also located the spring from which flows that world wide favorite "Apollinaris Water." At Neuenahr, in the valley, the river Ahr is very beautiful, and one can find few more quaintly attractive spots than the Upper Gate at Anrweiler, or the old mill at Hepplngen.

A tax on dogs was levied in Rome during the reign of Nero.

For Over Fifty Years

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by druggists throughout the world. 1Yd&wly

In the time of Queen Anne soap was taxed £28 per ton.

DEAR SIRS.—I have used Yellow Oil for two or three years, and think it has no equal for croup. Mrs. J. S. O'Brien, Huntsville, Ont.

The tithes in England amounted to £4,050,000 a year.

Dyspepsia and Indigestion.—C. W. Snow & Co., Syracuse, N.Y., writes: "Please send us ten gross of Pills. We are selling more of Parmelee's Pills than any other Pill we keep. They have a great reputation for the cure of Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint." Mr. Chas. A. Smith, Lindsay, writes: "Parmelee's Pills are an excellent medicine. My sister has been troubled with severe headache, but these pills have cured her."

Russia raises $1,5000,000 a year by the sale of passports.

THAT TIRED, LANGUID FEELING and dull headache is very disagreeable. Take two of Carter's Little Liver Pill's before retiring, and you will find relief. They never fail to do good.

SAFE
BRISTOL'S SUGAR-COATED
EASY TO TAKE INFALLIBLE
VEGETABLE PILLS
PROMPT

LAKEHURST SANITARIUM
OAKVILLE, ONT.

For treatment and cure of
ALCHOLISM, MORPHINE HABIT, TOBACCO HABIT AND NERVOUS DISEASES.

The system employed at this institution is the familiar Double Chloride of Gold System. Through its agency over 200,000 Slaves to the use of these poisons have been emancipated in the last fourteen years. Lakehurst Sanitarium is the oldest Institution of the kind in Canada, and has a well earned reputation to maintain in this line of medicine. In its whole history there is not an instance of failure to remove the appetite for these poisons. In its whole history there is not an instance of any after ill effects from the treatment. Hundreds of happy homes in all parts of the Dominion bear eloquent witness to the efficacy of a course of treatment with us. For terms and full information write
THE SECRETARY,
28 Bank of Commerce Chambers,
aug7d3m34w3m) Toronto, Ont.

Trafalgar Institute.
(Affiliated to McGill University.)
No. 83 Simpson Street, Montreal.
—FOR THE—
Higher Education
OF
Young Women

With preparatory department for girls between 10 and 14.
President, REV. JAMES BARCLAY, D.D.
Vice-President, MR. A. T. DRUMMOND.
Principal, MISS GRACE FAIRLEY, M.A., Edinburgh.
The institute will re-open with an efficient staff of twelve resident and visiting teachers, on
Tuesday, 11th September 1894.
The Institute buildings are situated on the mountain side overlooking the City. The spacious grounds are attractively laid out and the surroundings are not only beautiful but very healthful.
For copy of Prospectus and other information apply to the principal, at the Institute, or to
A. F. Riddell, Secretary, 22 St. John St., Montreal.

For Sciatic & Neuralgic Pains
TRY ONE APPLICATION OF THE "D.&L." MENTHOL PLASTER
IT WILL DISPEL THE PAIN LIKE MAGIC

HAPPY HOME RANGES.
Best in the Market.
—ALSO—
A Full Line of
Art Garland
and
Famous Heaters.
—(o)—
Wm. McGIE.
Next to Nathan Jones.
Telephone 38 Front St.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 75c. bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, TUESDAY OCT. 9.

CONSERVATIVES.

This is the last week to get your names on the Dominion Voters' List. Call at J. Will's law office, Campbell St., any evening between 7 and 9 o'clock, and make declaration. Don't delay longer.

BUSINESS IN THE STATES.

The latest circular issued by Henry Clews, the well known financier of New York, take a very conservative view of the business situation in the United States. Mr. Clews says the recovery of trade following the passage of the Tariff Act appears to have exhausted its first effects on Wall Street. The two months of active distribution of merchandise has sufficed to meet the immediate wants of the retail trade, and there is consequently a curtailment of the demand at wholesale, and an interval of waiting until the usual second demand for replenishing stocks appears. There seems, however, to be no real reason for doubting that this second half of the season will prove reasonably satisfactory. The retailers themselves were the best judges of what amount of goods they could dispose of, and it is reasonable to suppose that, liberal although their purchases have been, they have taken no more than their customers will want during the first and more active half of the season; and, assuming that, it may be allowable to hope for a fair renewal of demand during the later period of the season. Wholesale dealers however are making conservative estimates upon this late demand, and are pursuing a tentative course in their contracts with the manufactures. They are likely to follow a like policy in respect to orders for next season's business; which is no more than would be dictated by sound business policy; indeed, there is nowhere any disposition to discount the future from the standpoint of sanguine expectations. A continued gradual recovery of business through 1895 is counted upon, but no early "boom" is generally anticipated. The imports of merchandise show a large increase, being for the last week of September $10,200,000, against $6,200,000 for the same time of 1893. This may be regarded as partly the effect of the revival of business, and partly a reaction from the holding back of goods in anticipation of the new duties. The movement is therefore not to be regarded as in any way excessive.

SPECIAL MENTION

DR. LOW'S PLEASANT WORM SYRUP removes worms of all kinds from children or adults.

THAT HACKING COUGH can be quickly cured by Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam. Price 25c.

ALWAYS AVOID HARSH PURGATIVE PILLS. They first make you sick and then leave you constipated. Carter's Little Liver Pills regulate the bowels and make you well. Dose, one pill.

ALL CASES OF WEAK OR LAME BACK, backache, rheumatism, will find relief by wearing one of Carter's Smartweed and Belladonna Backache Plasters. Price 25 cents. Try them.

No person should go from home without a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial in their possession, as change of water, cooking, climate, etc., frequently brings on summer complaint, and there is nothing like being ready with a sure remedy at hand, which oftentimes saves great suffering, and frequently valuable lives. This Cordial has gained for itself a wide spread reputation for affording prompt relief from all summer complaints.

THE GREAT FAMILY MEDICINE OF THE AGE.—There is probably, no family medicine so favorably and so widely known as DAVIS PAIN KILLER. It is extensively used in India, China, Turkey—and, in every civilized country on earth, not only to counteract the climatic influences, but for the cure of bowel troubles, Cholera and Fevers. It is used internally for all diseases of the bowels, and externally for wounds, burns, bruises, &c. Sold by druggists generally. 25c. for a big bottle.

Lane's Medicine Moves the Bowels Each Day

In order to be healthy this is necessary.

PALE CHILDREN

With poor appetites and frequent coughs, should be given a few bottles of . . . . Campbell's

Skrei Cod Liver Oil.

Doctors recommend it because it is pure and easy to take and to digest.

Prize List.

(Continued from Page 3.)

butter, roll, not less than 4 lbs., Russel Reed, G. R. Christy, Robt. Carson; loaf bread, homemade, 1 loaf, Ed. Case; loaf bread, baker's, 2 loaves, J. G. Johnson; buns or biscuits homemade, 12, Mrs. A. Davison, Ed. Case; bakers' buns, J. G. Johnston; maple sugar, not less than 5 lbs., Chas. McDonald, Geo. McDonald; maple syrup 2 quarts, Geo. McDonald, T. E. Young, C. McDonald; honey in comb, 5 lbs, Mrs. Hartman; extracted honey, 5 lbs., B. Frink, J. W. Frink; collection canned fruit, factory, W. Boulter & Sons; collection canned vegetables, factory, W. Boulter & Sons; collection canned fruit in jars, domestic, Mrs. J. A. Way, Ed. Case, R. Ringer; collection canned vegetables in jars, domestic, Mrs. J. A. Way; evaporated fruit, domestic. Mrs. J. A. Way; cheese, August make, not bored, 2, R. Benson, J. M. Hurley; domestic grape wine, Mrs. Moyle; raspberry vinegar, Mrs. Moyle; winter apples, 6 kinds, 3 of each, named, R. I. Way; fall apples, 6 kinds, 3 of each, named, S. J. Bowerman, J. V. Cooper, D. Spencer; apples, collection, 10 varieties, 3 of each, named, S. J. Bowerman, P. N. Gilbert, Geo. McDonald.

FRUITS.

1 plate apples, 5 apples, Snow, J. S. White, J. H. Stafford; 1 plate apples, Baldwins, P. N. Gilbert. Geo. Wood; 1 plate apples, R. I. Greenings, R. S. Way, J. S. White; 1 plate apples, Golden Russet, N. A. Peterson, D. A. Spencer; 1 plate apples, Northern Spy, D. A. Spencer, R. H. Robinson; 1 plate apples, K. Tompkins, P. N. Gilbert, Robt. Jamieson; 1 plate apples, S. Pommegrise, N. A. Peterson, J. S. White; 1 plate apples, Red Canada, Alf. Brown, N. A. Peterson; 1 plate apples, S. N. Further, R. H. Robinson, P. N. Gilbert; 1 plate apples, Talman Sweets, R. I. Way, J. S. White; 1 plate apples, St. Lawrence, J. S. White, R. N. Robinson; 1 plate apples, Ben Davis, S. Christy, N. A. Peterson; 1 plate apples, Oran. Pippin, Robt. Jamieson, J. S. White; 1 plate apples, Rib. Pippin, S. J. Bowerman, Wm. Newman; 1 plate apples, Spitzenburgh, P. N. Gilbert, S. J. Bowerman; pears, variety, 3 of each named, J. P. Thorn, George Wood; grapes collection, named, A. Bristol, Alf. Brown; grapes, 3 kinds, named, Alf. Brown, Sheldon Orser; plums, Lombard, best 12, A. S. Patterson, R. I. Way; fruits, col., 3 of each named, C. C. Spencer, Chas. McDonald.

DOMESTIC MANUFACTURE.

Coverlet china, Stinson Christy, Ed. Case, C. C. Spencer; counterpane, crochet, Mrs. Hartman, Miss Gael; horse blanket, home made, fitted, S. A. Hanley, Stinson Christy; white flannel, Ed. Ackerman, Stinson Christy, R. P. Yerex; plain flannel, S. A. Hanley, Stinson Christie, Robt. Jamieson; yarn, woollen, Miss Mulholland, Ed. Ackerman, Geo. Effis; stockings, knit, wool, Miss Mulholland, Wm. Hartman, Jennie C. Gibson; socks, knit, wool, Mrs. N. S. Morden, Mrs. Meudell, S. P. Thorn; mits, mens', knit, wool, Mrs. Hartman, Ed. W. Case; mits, ladies' knit wool, Ed. W. Case, Miss J. C. Gibson, Wm. Hartman; stockings, knit, cotton, Mrs. Meudell, Mrs. N. S. Morden; carpet wool, S. J. Bowerman, Geo. Hughes, S. A. Hanley; carpet, rag, E. D. Ackerman, R. H. McKibbon, E. P. Yerex; door mat, C. C. Spencer; bed spread, knit, C. C. Spencer, Wm. Owens, C. E. Ringer; quilts, calico, patch work, Ed. H. Case, C. E. Ringer, J. P. Thorn; quilts, woollen, George Hughes; quilts, woollen, log cabin, J. P. Thorn, R. P. Yerex, Miss Gael, comforters, patch work, S. A. Hanley.

LADIES WORK.

Class O.—Applique work, Mrs. Hartman, Mrs. Jno. A. Wright; arrasene, Mrs. Keith, R. H. Robinson, J. M. Malloy; bead work, Mrs. N. S. Morden, Mrs. Meudell, J. S. White; braiding with silk, Mrs. Meudell, C. E. Ringer; braiding with cotton, Mrs. Hartman; braiding with worsted, Mrs. Hartman, Miss Mulholland, C. E. Ringer; Berlin wool work, raised, Mrs. Hartman, Mrs. J. G. Johnston; Berlin wool work, flat, Mrs. Hartman, Mrs. J. G. Johnston, Mrs. Morden; crewel work, Miss Jennie C. Gibson, Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Morden; crochet work, cotton, Mrs. Hartman, Jno. A. Ranson, Miss J. C. Gibson; crochet work, woolen, Mrs. Keith, Miss Gibson, Mrs. Meudell; chenille work, Mrs. Hartman; cretonne work, Miss Mulholland, Mrs. J. G. Johnston, Miss Gael; carriage or sofa afghan, Mrs. Keith, F. W. Adams, A. Bristol; sample crazy patch work, silk, Miss Gael, Mrs. J. G. Johnston, Miss Mulholland; crazy patch work quilt, silk, whole quilt, R. P. Yerex, C. E. Ringer, Miss Mulholland; chair scarf, Mrs. Hartman, R. P. Yerex, Mrs. J. C. Rogers; Drawn work, Mrs. Morden, Mrs. Meudell, Miss J. C. Gibson; darning in net, Mrs. J. C. Rogers, Mrs. R. Carson, Miss J. C. Gibson; darning socks or stockings, John A. Ranson, Mrs. J. G. Johnston; edgings, specimens of not less than 3 pieces, Miss J. C. Gibson, R. H. Robinson, C. C. Spencer; embroidery on lace or net, Mrs. Johns on; embroidery on silk, Mrs. Morden, Mrs. Keith; embroidery on cloth or flannel, Mrs. Morden, Mrs. Adams; embroidery on muslin or cotton, Mrs. Hartman, Miss Fralick, Mrs. Morden; etching, C. E. Ringer, C. C. Spencer, Mrs. Keith; feather work, flowers or others, Miss Geal, Miss Mulholland, Mrs. Woodrow; guipure work, Mrs. Johnston, Mrs. Hartman; German raised work, C. E. Ringer, Mrs. Hartman, Mrs. Woodrow; hair work in wreath, Mrs. Johnston, Mrs. R. H. McKibbon; hair ornaments, Mrs. E. M. Conger; honiton lace, Mrs. Meudell; point lace, Mrs. Hartman, Mrs. Meudell, Mrs. Jno. A. Wright; leather work, C. E. Ringer; macrame work, Ed. Bradley, Mrs. Meudell, Mrs. Keith; lambrequin bracket, R. H. Robinson, Mrs. Keith. Mrs. Meudell; table drape, R. H. McKibbon, Mrs. Meudell, Mrs. Keith; needle work, ornamental, hand, Mrs. Meudell, Mrs. Morden, Mrs. Hartman; netting, fancy, in cotton, Mrs. E. M. Conger, Mrs. Morden, Jno. A. Ranson; netting, fancy, in wool, Mrs. E. M. Conger, Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Morden; knitting, fancy, in cotton, Mrs. E. M. Conger, Mrs. Morden, Mrs. R. P. Yerex; knitting, fancy, in wool, Mrs. Hartman, Mrs. Meudell, Mrs. Morden; mats, fancy, table set, Mrs Moyle, Mrs. Yerex, Mrs. Meudell; mats, lamp, Mrs. E. M. Conger, Mrs. Fralick, Mrs. Wright; outline work, J. P. Thorn, R. Ringer, R. H. Robinson; ottoman, upholstered, Miss Moxon, Mrs. R. P. Yerex; ottoman, not upholstered, Mrs. O. Dingman, Mrs. Wright, Mrs. E. M. Conger; rick-rack lace work, Mrs. Morden, C. E. Ringer, R. H. Robinson; sofa pillow, Miss J. C. Gibson, Mrs Moyle, Mrs Wright; tatting, fine, C. E. Ringer, R. Ringer, Mrs. Hartman; toilet set, cotton, Mrs. E. M. Conger, Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Hartman; toilet set, wool, Mrs. E. M. Conger, Mrs. Keith, C. E. Ringer; tinsel work, R. H. Robinson, Mrs. Hartman, Mrs. Morden; transfer work, Mrs. E. M. Conger; tea table, 5 o'clock, Miss Fralick, Miss Moxon, Mrs. McKibbon; tidy, canvas, Mrs. Meudell, Mrs. Morden; any other tidy, R. H. Robinson, Mrs. Morden, C. E. Ringer; quilt, log cabin silk, J. A. Rawson, Mrs. C. A. Shannon; quilt, silk, large patch work, J. A. Rawson; quilt, silk, small, Mrs. Yerex, Mrs. Thomas, Geo. Hugh ; slippers, worked, Mrs. Meudell, Mrs. Flood, Mrs. Morden; pillow shams, Mrs. Hartman, Mrs. McKibbon, Mrs. Keith; wall pocket, Mrs. Keith, Mrs. Wright, Mrs. McKibbon; whisk holder, Mrs. McKibbon, Mrs. Hartman, Mrs. E. M. Conger; paper flowers, C. C. Spencer, Mrs. Morden, McKibbon; tea cozy, Mrs. Morden, Mrs. Yerex, Mrs. Wright. Extras—Doyley, Miss Moxon; candle pen wiper, Miss Moxon; centre piece, Miss Moxon; spatter work, Mrs. Wright; braid crochet, Mrs. Adams: pitcher and Tumbler mats, Mrs. Wright.

FINE ART.

Class P.—Oil painting, landscape, original, Miss Wrenshall 2nd; oil painting, landscape, from copy, Miss Haddan, Mrs. Lowrie; oil painting, marine, original, Miss Wrenshall, R. H. Robinson; oil painting, marine, from copy, Mrs. R. Carson, Miss Haddan; oil painting, portrait, original, Miss Wrenshall, Miss Wycott; oil painting, portrait, from copy, Mrs. Carson, Miss Wycott; oil painting, animals, original, Miss Lowrie; oil painting, animals, from copy, Miss Wrenshall, Miss Moxon; oil painting, fruits, from nature, Miss Wrenshall, Miss Wycott; oil painting, fruits, from copy, Miss Wrenshall, Mrs. O. Dingman; oil painting, flowers, from nature, Miss Wrenshall, Miss Lowrie; oil painting, flowers, from copy, Miss Wrenshall, Miss J. C. Gibson; water colors, landscape, original, Miss Wrenshall, Miss E. Fraser; water colors, landscape, copy, Miss Wrenshall, Miss E. Fraser; water colors, marine, original, Miss Wrenshall, Miss E. Fraser; water colors, marine, copy, Miss E. Fraser, Miss Wrenshall; water colors, portrait, original, Miss Wrenshall, Miss Gael; water colors, portrait, copy, Mrs. Wright, Miss Wrenshall; water colors, flowers, original, Miss J. C. Gibson, Miss E. Fraser; water colors, flowers, copy, Miss Gael, Miss E. Fraser; water colors, birds, original, Miss Wrenshall, Miss J. C. Gibson; water colors, birds, copy, Miss E. Fraser; crayon, plain portrait, original, Miss Wrenshall, Mrs. H. Welbanks; crayon, plain portrait, copy, Miss Wrenshall, Mrs. H. Welbanks; crayon, any other subject, copy, Miss J. C. Gibson, Miss Wrenshall; crayon, colored landscape, copy, Miss Wrenshall; pencil drawing, Miss Wrenshall; pen and ink drawing, Miss Fraser, Miss Wrenshall; painting on glass, flowers, Miss Wrenshall, Miss Haddan, Miss Moxon; painting on glass, birds, Miss Hadden, Miss Wrenshall; painting on glass, any other subject, Miss Haddan; painting China, M. Bradley, R. H. Robinson, Miss Wright; painting wood, Miss Hadden, Miss Gael; painting plush or velvet, Miss Wycott, Mrs. O. Dingman, Miss Wrenshall; painting satin or silk, Miss Wrenshall, Miss E. Fraser, Miss J. C. Gibson; painted plaque, Miss Wycott, Miss Moxon, Miss Haddan; zephyr painting, or on bolting cloth, flowers, Miss Fralick, Miss Wrenshall, Miss J. C. Gibson; zephyr painting, or on bolting cloth, birds, Miss Wrenshall; zephyr painting, or on bolting cloth, any other subject, Miss Wrenshall; sepia, Miss Fraser, Miss Wrenshall, Miss Fralick; wax work, white, Mrs. Woodrow, Mrs. M. Werden; wax work, colored, Mrs. Werden. wax work, fruit, Mrs. McKibbon; shading from antique, Miss Wrenshall; design for book cover, Miss Wrenshall; ornamental penmanship, boys, Master Wright; map drawing, Miss Wright, Miss Wycott, Miss Wrenshall; penmanship, girls, Miss Wycott, Miss A. L. Patterson; painting Tambourine, Miss Moxon; rose jug, Miss Moxon; deer and elk heads, M. B. Wenden.

MANUFACTURES.

One horse covered buggy, B. Ringer, Brockville Carriage Co.; one-horse open buggy, R. Ringer, Brockville Carriage Co; one-horse pleasure sleigh, R. Ringer, Brockville Carriage Co.; one horse cutter R. Ringer, Brockville Carriage Co.; one horse surrey, Brockville Carriage Co.; democrat waggon, Brockville Carriage Co.; lumber waggon, Brockville Carriage Co.; lumber sleigh, Angus Brisbane; set bedroom furniture, Gilbert & Lighthall; plow, Moxon & Barber, J. Herring; harrow, Tolton Brothers; cultivator, Moxon & Barker, J. Herring; pea harvesters, Tolton Brothers.

MERCHANTS' CLASS.

Class R.—Cabinet ware, Gilbert & Lighthall, Jas. Love.

HORTICULTURAL.

Class S.—Annuals, collection of not less than 20 varieties named, W. J. Porte; annuals, collection not less than 12 varieties named, amateurs, F. Wycott, Mrs. Thorn; annuals, best 12 distinct named, W. J. Porte, Mrs. Thorn; antirrhinums, best collection, Mrs. Thorn, W. J. Porte; baskets, hanging, with plants, 2, John Thomas, F. Wycott; basket of flowers, best arranged, Mrs. Thorn; vase of flowers, best arranged, Mrs. Thorn, F. Wycott; boquet table, nurserymen 5, J. Thomas, W. J. Porte; boquet table, amateurs, F. Wycott, Mrs. Thorn; boquet, hand nurserymen, J. Thomas; boquet, hand, amateurs, W. J. Porte, F. Wycott; boquet everlasting flowers, J. Thomas, W. J. Porte; boquet, 6 gents' button, dissimilar, Miss Wycott, W. J. Porte; boquet, wild flowers, Mrs. E. M. Conger, Mrs. Thorn; dahlias, collection double, Mrs. Thorn, W. J. Porte; everlastings, collection, John Thomas, W. J. Porte; floral design for supper table, Mrs. Thorn, W. J. Porte; floral wreath or other design, white, amateurs, W. J. Porte, Mrs. Thorn; floral wreath or other design, colored, amateurs, W. J. Porte, Miss Wycott; floral design drooping in case, amateurs, Miss Wycott, Mrs. Thorn; floral design, funeral, flat, amateurs, W. J. Porte Miss Wycott; floral any other funeral design, amateurs, Mrs. Thorn, W. J. Porte; gladioli, collection not less than 6, Miss Wycott, Mrs. Thorn; gladioli, 3 spikes, distinct, J. Thomas, Mrs. Thorn; hollyhock, collection, Mrs. Thorn, W. J. Porte; marigolds, best collection, French and African, I. Roland Brown, W. J Porte; phlox drummondii, collection, single truss, n.d., J. P. Blakely, Mrs. Thorn; phlox drummondii, 6 trusses distinct, J. P. Blakely, J. R. Brown; phlox perennial, collection, Mrs. Thorn; pansies, best collection, Mrs. Thorn, W. J. Porte; pansies, 12 collections, J. R. Brown, Mrs. Thorn; petunias, collection, single, Mrs. Thorn, J. P. Blakely; pinks, collection, single, Mrs. Thorn, J. P. Blakely; stocks, collection, 10 week, single spikes, n.d., W. J. Porte; stocks, 10 week, 6 spikes, J. R. Brown, W. J. Porte; salpiglossis, collection, J. R. Brown, Mrs. Thorn; sweet William, collection, Miss Wycott, Mrs. Thorn; bunch of sweet peas, W. J. Porte, P. R. Blakely; verbenas, collection, single truss, n.d., Mrs. Thorn, W. J. Porte; verbenas, 6 trusses, dissimilar, J. P. Blakely, Mrs. J. G. Johnson; Zinnias, double collection, n.d., W. J. Porte; Zinnias, 6, dissimilar, W. J. Porte; best display of cut flowers, any other sort or design; arrangement and quality considered, W. J. Port, Mrs. Thorn; salvia, scarlet, bunch, W. J. Porte, Mrs. Thorn; scabious, bunch, W. J. Porte, Mrs. Thorn.

PLANTS IN POTS

Begonia tuberous, colored in pots, W. J. Porte; begonia tuberous, 1 specimen, single, W. J Porte, Mrs. Thorn; begonia tuberous, 1 specimen, double, W. J. Porte; begonia, green house, 1 specimen, Miss Wycott, J. Thomas; cactus, single specimen in bloom, C. C. Spencer; calla lily in bloom, Miss Wycott; coleus, collection, amateurs, Miss Wycott; coleus, 1 specimen, John. A. Ranson, Jno. Tallcott; coxcomb, 1 specimen, Mrs. Thorn; ferns, collection, amateurs, Miss Wycott; fuchsia, 1 specimen, double. distinct, W. J. Porte, John Thorn; fuchsia, 1 specimen, single, W. J. Porte, Miss Wycott; geraniums, collection, single and double, amateurs. W. J. Porte, Miss Wycott; geraniums, 1 specimen, double distinct, named, J. Thomas, W. J. Porte; lantana, Miss Wycott, D. A. Spencer; mignonette, in bloom, best pot, J. Thomas. Mrs. Thorn; oleander, in bloom, Miss Wycott; petunia, double, J. Thomas; smilax, best pot, Miss Wycott; tuberose, two or more in pot, Mrs. Thorn.

FALSE - STATEMENTS.

Away With Them!

It is Only the Lever of Truth That Moves the Great World.

Statements Made in Favor of Paine's Celery Compound Always Ring With Honesty.

A Marvellous Cure in Virden, Manitoba.

A Minister of the Gospel Can Endorse the Testimony,

False statements, like counterfeit coin, for a time will pass current and undetected.

The false statements made in connection with a host of common medicines have duped and disappointed thousands of our suffering people in the past, and at the present time there are many who are being deceived from day to day. These worthless and deceptive medicines, with all their false assertions about curing disease, are now being posted on the black list in all well regulated communities, and are carefully avoided and abhorred by the wise and prudent.

It is the only powerful lever of truth that can move intelligent communities and peoples. This mighty lever is Paine's Celery Compound, an agent that has never had an equal in the history of medicine for the curing of the sick and diseased.

Every statement made in favor of Paine's Celery Compound, rings out with honesty and truth. The letters of testimony come from our own Canadians, whom doubters may interview or write to for particulars.

Paine's Celery Compound has thousands of records of victories over rheumatism, sciatica, neuralgia, dyspepsia, nervousness, headache, sleeplessness, kidney and liver troubles, general weakness and lost vitality.

The marvellous cure of Mr. Jas. Leverington, of Virden, Man., by Paine's Celery Compound, after the failures of doctors and other agencies, should be sufficient proof for all fair-minded men and women who are honestly seeking for health, strength, and new life.

Mr. Leverington writes as follows about his success with the world's best medicine:

"I think it my duty, without solicitation from any one, to write in the interests of other sufferers, and give you a testimonial in favor of your (to me) almost miraculous remedy, Paine's Celery Compound. For more than a year I was suffering from the agonizing pains of sciatica; and after trying all that medical skill could devise, and using many remedies, patent and otherwise, I concluded to try the Hot Springs of Banff, under the able superintendence of Dr. Brett. I took the treatment thoroughly and carefully for six weeks, and came home at the end of that time racked with pain and weighing 43 pounds less. At this juncture, when hope had almost fled, I heard of Paine's Celery Compound. It seemed suited to my case, and I sent to my druggist, Mr. J. W. Higginbotham, of this place, and asked about it. He recommended it to me, and I took a bottle. I soon began to feel better, and after taking a second bottle I was a cured man, and threw away my crutches.

"I keep a bottle on hand in case of any return of the complaint. I am now 58 years old, and I feel as spry and healthy and free from pain as I ever did in my life. I was born in Norfolk, England, and came to Canada when only three years old. I was brought up in the township of Cornwall, Ontario, and came to Manitoba eight years ago. Have always been a farmer, and am as able to do hard work now as ever I was.

"With a heart full of gratitude for the benefits derived from the use of your remedy, and a wish to influence others who may suffer, I gladly and freely indite this letter.

"Rev. M. Talbot, Methodist Minister, of Elkhorn, can confirm my statements, and will do so if written to."

Mr. Higginbotham, the successful and extremely popular druggist of Virden, vouches for Mr. Leverington's statements, as follows:—

"I have known Mr. Leverington for two years or more, and can confirm what he says in regard to his cure by Paine's Celery Compound. Ever since his cure he has been sounding its praises, and he is a perfect enthusiast on the subject of Paine's Celery Compound. I believe him to be thoroughly reliable."

A MOTHER'S WORDS.

"Lactated Food Saved My Baby's Life."

INCOMPARABLE IN QUALITY

IT SAVES BABY'S LIVES.

A mother's statement as to how her baby's life was saved, may induce many mothers to pause and consider the important question "Am I using the best food for my baby?"

A mother, the wife of a storekeeper in the east end of Montreal, says:

"My baby was never breast-fed; it had to be brought up on prepared foods. When my baby girl was two months old, it was so thin and weak that the doctor said it would not live many days. Seeing a notice in one of the daily papers about Lactated Food, I bought a package and tried it. There was new life for baby in the first meal, though small in quantity. After using Lactated Food for ten days, I found that baby was getting brighter and smarter. I continued using the food, and now baby is five months old, and is fat and healthy. Your Lactated Food saved my dear baby's life; it is worth its weight in gold."

That Joyful Feeling.

With the exhilarating sense of renewed health and strength and internal cleanliness, which follows the use of Syrup of Figs, is unknown to the few who have not progressed beyond the old time medicines and the cheap substitutes sometimes offered but never excepted by the well informed.

To remove the constipated habit the only safe treatment is a course of Ayer's Pills, followed by a laxative diet. Most other cathartics do more harm than good, therefore leading physicians recommend Ayer's Pills, especially as a family physic.

New Advertisements.

TO LET

TO LET 2 snug, warm brick houses in terrace, situated on Harriett St. West Belleville, known as Morten's, or Filliter's terrace. For terms of rent apply to R. C. Filliter, collector, or sub agent to the estate of the late H. E. Filliter. Residence at Mr. Jardin's Corner of William and Dundas Sts., East Belleville. 85d2m

Jewelry Business For Sale

TENDERS, at so much on the $ per stock list, will be received by the undersigned, at his office, 151 Wellington street, Kingston, up to Saturday, October 20th 1894, for the Stock-in-Trade and other assets of the business of W. J. Arniel & Co., 339 King street, Kingston.

The goods and stock list (about $1,600) may be seen on application to the undersigned. The store may also be secured by the purchaser if desired. Terms cash. No tender necessarily accepted.

W. MUNDELL, Barrister.

Kingston, Oct. 4th, 1894. d4t, Oct6,9,13,18

THERE IS A . . . . .
CONSTANT DEMAND . .
FOR . . . .

- FROM -

Saturday's "INTELLIGENCER"

O B C

Miss Ella Metcalfe left this morning for Huntsville, where she has secured, through the Ontario Business College, the position of bookkeeper for Mr. W. E. Hutcheson, merchant, who is himself a graduate of O. B. C. Miss Metcalfe's two sisters are likewise graduates of the college. Miss Emma is book-keeper for Mr. C. B. Scantlebury of this city, and Miss Lillie is stenographer and secretary to Mr. R. Mathison, Principal of the Institution for the Deaf and Dumb

GRAUATES.

O. B. C. Training makes young men and women independent. . . . .

Drill Hall . . .

PANOPTICON!

A Combination of Special Attractions, Novel & Varied.

Refreshments will be served by attendants in the National Costumes of Germany, Scotland, France, America, Japan and Egypt.

Also a Gallery of living pictures, Dickens' "Old Curiosity Shop," Fancy Drills, Etc.

The finest exhibition of Art Needle Work ever shown in the city.

PLANTATION SONGS and ORCHESTRA.

Will be held in the DRILL HALL on

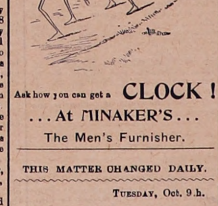

Wednesday and Thursday,

Afternoon and Evening,

OCTOBER 10TH & 11TH.

Doors open at 4 o'clock p. m. each day.
Proceeds in aid of Belleville Institute and Library Association.

Admission, - 15 Cents.

Ask how you can get a CLOCK!

. . . At MINAKER'S . . .

The Men's Furnisher.

THIS MATTER CHANGED DAILY.

TUESDAY, Oct. 9th.

Going!

Jackets are going now, but they always go well with us for we get them from Germany and guarantee the value. Call and see them.

W. FLINT JONES.

Next door to Haines & Lockett.

BEST QUALITY

CANADIAN "Silver Star,"

—AND—

AMERICAN "Water White"

COAL OIL.

Delivered promptly to any part of the city,

D. M. WATERS.

PETTYJOHN'S

CALIFORNIA BREAKFAST FOOD

Dyspeptics can eat this food.

It is particularly adapted for children and persons of sedentary habits.

It is made from Pacific coast wheat hulled and crushed by improved machinery.

It can be easily prepared for breakfast, as this crushing process makes it soft and tender and easy to cook

Ask your physician which is best for you to eat, oats or wheat

Pettijohn's California Breakfast Food is sold in packages by

BENMORE & BENSON.

WALL-PAPER!

SEE THAT?

CLEANLINESS!
HEALTH!
ECONOMY!
HAPPINESS!
FURNISHING!
CHARACTER!
ART!
Common Sense

There's a Lot of Meaning in it for You!!

There's an array that is hard to beat!

Could you ask more? Here it is

A Discount of 10 per cent. for 30 days.

Test our Ability to Advise on Interior Decorations.

C. B. SCANTLEBURY.

TRUE

Always—and why do we lead always in our line. It's not mixed up with other trades. The London and Belleville Crystal Hall is to-day the oldest Wholesale Crockery House in Canada. A resident European buyer is constantly sending out new wares as they come from the Kilns, which enables us to sell at what the small general trader has to pay. The goods look better because they are better. We can't afford to handle poor stuff such as is made for the "give away ticket" trade. That's why we always lead. Our new Fall Stock when all in, of China, Silver, Crockery and Lamps, will this year be the most beautiful disply of the potter's art ever seen in Belleville, and prices are a long way below last year.

W. J. REID & CO'Y.

CRYSTAL HALL. Rous' Old Stand.

London and Belleville.

ONTARIO MUTUAL LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY.

S. Burrows, Esq., General Agent, Ontario Mutual Life Co., Belleville, Ont.

DEAR SIR, Received your company's check for $2,000 for our Matured Endowment, and we both wish to show our gratitude to you and the Company for the straightforward and satisfactory way you deal with policy holders, and that we are more than satisfied with our investment. I will always urge our friends to follow in our footsteps. Thanking you very kindly.

Yours very sincerely,
Mr. & Mrs. GOODWIN, Bowmanville,
Formerly of Belleville.

BELLEVILLE PLATING WORKS

HARRIS & WALTON'S FACTORY, MILL ST.

ELECTRO—Gold, Silver, Nickel, Copper, Brass and Bronze.

PLATING—Also Carriage Plating, Polishing, Buffing and Lacquering. Antique finishes of all kinds.

BURTON & MILLER

GENTLEMEN . . . .

Before ordering your Fall Clothing don't fail to take a look through

A. N. REID'S

New Fall Importations of

Scotch, English and Irish Suitings, Overcoatings, Pantings, Irish Serges, Cheviots, Hop Sackings and Black Worsteds

First Class Goods and Prices low.

Mr. Minor, our cutter, is one of the best in Ontario.

EVERY GARMENT GUARANTEED!!

Please call and inspect our New Goods.

A. N. REID.

DON'T

Fail to see our fine display of

CANDIES

—AND—

FINE BAKERY GOODS

To morrow (Saturday).

H. C. DICKENS & SON.

P.S.—Oysters now arriving in fine order.

We Are . .
Busy . . . . .

Our new groceries are going with a rush, but more are arriving daily, and that's why we keep our stock fresh and wholesome. We take pride in our confectionery for it's the best money can buy and our prices are away down. See the values we offer in teas and sugars. Provisions, and flour and feed also receive our particular attention

J. A. ELLIOTT.

Front St., Belleville.

GRAPES . . . .

It is claimed that Grapes are the most healthy, and therefore the most nutritious fruit grown.

We have and will have through the season, large consignments and will sell very cheap, as crop is very large in the west. They are selling to day at

25c. per Basket . . .

Jas. Wallace & Co.

Peaches while season lasts.

CANADIAN PACIFIC RY.

EVERY - FRIDAY

- - FROM - -

TORONTO!

at 12.30 noon runs a—

THROUGH TOURIST CAR

- - TO - -

SEATTLE and the PACIFIC COAST.

Making 12 Hours quicker time.

Full information can be had from

S. BURROWS,

General Ticket Agent, Belleville.

-PLUMBING-

We have added to our Workmen,

MR, GEORGE JOHNSON,

Who has for the past six years been prominent on large contracts in Victoria, B. C., San Francisco, Denver, and Chicago.

- - ALSO - -

MR. EDWIN W. BISHOP,

A graduate of the New York School for Plumbing (class 92), who comes highly recommended.

With these men added to our staff, we feel sure of giving satisfactory to all in Sanitary Plumbing.

C. F. Smith & Co.

ALLAN LINE,

Royal Mail Steamships. Liverpool, Calling at Moville.

	From Montreal daylight	From Quebec
PARISIAN	Oct. 6	Oct. 7
MONGOLIAN	" 13	" 14
HIBERNIAN	" 20
LAURENTIAN	" 27	" 28
NUMIDIAN	Nov. 3	Nov. 3
PARISIAN	" 10	" 11

RATES OF PASSAGE.

First cabin Derry and Liverpool, $45 and upwards single; $95 and upwards return. Second cabin, Liverpool, Derry, Belfast, Glasgow, $30; return $55. Steerage at lowest rates (everything found).

All steamships except the Hibernian carry 1st cabin, 2nd cabin and steerage passengers.

STATE LINE SERVICE

NEW YORK, LONDONDERRY AND GLASGOW.

STATE OF NEBRASKA	Oct. 12
STATE OF CALIFORNIA	" 26
STATE OF NEBRASKA	Nov. 22

Cabin passage, $40 and upward, return $80 and upward; Second cabin $25. Steerage at lowest rates.

For tickets and other information apply to
U. E. THOMPSON
General Ticket Agency,
Bridge St., Belleville
or to S. BURROWS,
Agent

GLASGOW WAREHOUSE,

BELLEVILLE.

We are now showing complete lines in the ollowing goods:

Ladies' Hygeian Underwear
Misses' Hygeian Underwear
Boys' plain and ribbed Underwear
Ladies' " " Cashmere Hose
Ladies' " " Wool Hose
Boys' " " Wool Hose
Ladies' black and colored Kid Gloves
" " " Cashmere Gloves
Ladies' Cashmere and Silk Mitts
Baby Ribbons in all makes and colors
Laces, Handkerchiefs and Corsets.

CARPETS, OILCLOTHS and CURTAINS in endless variety.

Larger lines in Canadian Staples at close cash prices.

ANDERVOORT & GIBSON,

Successors to the late J. W. Dunnet.

Belleville, Oct, 3, 1894.

P.S.—A large show case and table for sale cheap.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, TUESDAY OCT, 9.

Chauncey Ashley, issuer of marriage licenses, Division Court Office, Pinnacle street or at residence over Benmore & Benson's store. d&w

CITY AND DISTRICT.

Eighteen inches of snow has fallen at Whitewood, Assiniboia.

Mrs. Jno. E. Irvine, of Carleton Place, was killed by falling out of her buggy.

Be sure and attend Grant's cheap cash sale if you want bargains in Boots and Shoes.

Dyspepsia seldom causes death, but permits its victims to live on in misery. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures dyspepsia and all stomach troubles,

"I was troubled for a long time with an itching humor on the scalp," says Mr. D.P. Davis, Neal's Landing, Fla., "but at last, being recommended Ayer's Hair Vigor, I tried it, and a complete cure was effected." Every one who has used it speaks well of this dressing.

Boots and Shoes Repaired.

If you need your Boots repaired, send them to us, as we keep a first-class man and can do them quickly. —VERMILYEA & SON.

Dominion Voters' List.

Conservatives, call at J. F. Wills' Law office, Campbell St., any evening between 7 and 9 o'clock, and make declaration. This is the last week.

Asthma Sufferers.

Who have in vain tried every other means of relief, should try "Schiffman's Asthma Cure." No waiting for results. Its action is immediate, direct and certain, as a single trial proves. Send to Dr. R. Schiffmann, St. Paul, Minn., for a free trial package, but ask your druggist first.

Philharmonic Rehearsal To-night

One hundred copies of the Messiah arrived from England to day. Let all who intend joining the society be present tonight if possible, and make a right royal beginning of the study of this master-piece. Music price 80cts., to be obtained from the Treasurer, Mr. A. L. Geen, at his store, up to 8 p.m. Also fees paid there.

The Haines & Lockett Fire.

Owing to our loss by the recent fire, we placed what few accounts we had on our books in the hands of W. J. Diamond with instructions to send them in without respect of persons, and to urge immediate payment. We hope all parties concerned will respond promptly at Mr. Diamond's office.

d115tf HAINES & LOCKETT.

How to Get a "Sunlight Picture

Send 25 "Sunlight" soap wrappers (wrapper bearing the words " hy does a woman look old sooner than a man") to Lever Bros., Ltd., 43 Scott St., Toronto, and you will receive by post a pretty picture, free from advertising, and well worth framing. This is an easy way to decorate your home. The soap is the best in the market, and it will only cost 1c. postage to send in the wrappers, if you leave the ends open. rite your address carefully.

A Lesson in Hygiene.

Now that water supplies are recognized as the chief vehicle for propagating typhoid fever, medical and scientific authorities throughout the world are constantly dwelling on the necessity of using water of known purity. hile this has no bearing on medicinal waters, which, however valuable, cannot safely be made part of the ordinary daily diet, because of the active chemical substances they contain, it has, however, given a wonderful stimulus to the consumption of dietetic or table waters, such as Apollinaris. It is little wonder, however, that the use of Apollinaris is on the increase, for who does not gladly take the beverage which, besides being pure and healthful, is delightful and refreshing ?

Last Night's Lecture.

Under the auspices of the Epworth League, a lecture was delivered last evening by the popular pastor of the Tabernacle, who is evidently as much at home on the platform as in the pulpit.

The chair was occupied by Mr. W. H. Gordon, President of the League, in his usual easy and graceful manner. A fair sized audience greeted the lecturer, yet there was room for more, and the absent ones missed an intellectual treat that is rarely presented to a Belleville audience. The somewhat ambiguous title of the lecture, "A Boy who rose to Renown," excited the curiosity of his hearers to know the who, how, when and where of that boy, and when as the lecturer proceeded they learned it was the wonderful boy, John Kitto, of Plymouth, England, whose deeply interesting and very voluminous writings have long been the surprise and admiration of such a host of readers, there interest was in ensified, and continued so to the end.

SOCIAL & PERSONAL

The INTELLIGENCER invites all its readers to contribute to this column. If you or your friends are going away on a holiday trip or if you have friends visiting you, drop a card to this office.

Mr Fred Grea'r x left this morning for Buffalo.

T. D Kinsella and S.J Colley, of Trenton, were at the Queen's to day.

Rev. M. W. Maclean is attending the Committee on Home Missions, of which he is chairman.

W. A. Stewart, Tweed; J. C. Grant, Peterborough, Wm. Norris, Trenton; W. L. Runick, Kingston, are at the Anglo.

GAVE HIMSELF UP.

Albert Morton in Court Charged With Desertion and Non-Support of His Wife.

Albert Morton, whose trouble with his wife has been thoroughly gone into in these columns, came back to the city on Sunday morning. This morning when he came down town and heard there was a warrant out for his arrest he gave himself up. He appeared in court on the charge of desertion and non support of his wife. He pleaded "not guilty" and the case was enlarged until Tuesday, the 16th inst. Bail was accepted for Morton's appearance on that date, himself in $500 and two sureties of $250 each Mr W. B. Northrup, M P., appeared for Morton.

To a reporter Morton said he had heard of the ugly things the papers had been saying about him and had come back to fight the case. Speaking of his wife he said he would never live with her, and he had told her so before he married her. He said she ought to know enough about him to undertand when he made a statement he meant it. The public will hear both sides of the case now, said Morton.

Morton may have something up his sleeve which he intends to spring on the court next Tuesday. The case will be interesting to say the least.

THE NEW ST. ANDREWS.

The Congregation Accept the Outline of Messrs. Gregg & Gregg. With few Amendments.

The Congregational meeting of St. Andrew's church was well attended last evening. The outline plans of the building prepared by Messrs. Gregg & Gregg, architects, Toronto, were submitted to the meeting and the final plans were ordered on the lines of the outlines with a few amendments. Work, however, will not be started until $10 000 has been subscribed. A subscription list was opened and $3,500 was secured as a starter.

It was found that the old foundation could not be utiliz d in the new building as they would not stand the weight of a stone structure. The cost of the bare church, according to the plans submitted, will be about $21,000, so that the new church when complete will necessitate an expenditure of at least $30,000

Belleville Humane Society.

The gathering which assembled in the Mechanics' Institute yesterday afternoon and made a Humane Society, an accomplished fact, was not large in numbers, but a spirit of beneficient enthusiasm pervaded the meeting and, an earnest of its labors of love, was as a bright halo of promise, about the brow of the infant society.

However there were enough for the work. Among those present were Mr. Hunter, Mrs. Flint, Mrs. York, Mrs. Tracy, Mr. Gardiner, Miss Anning, Miss Stocking and Constable Johnson, the press also was represented. Having determined to inaugurate the Belleville Humane Society forthwith, Mr. Hunter was elected to the chair. The election of officers was proceeded with and the positions were filled as follows;—President, Curtis Bogart, Vice-Presidents, Mrs. J. J. B. Flint, Mr. Gardiner, Mrs. York; Treasurer, Mrs. Tracy; Sec'y., W. S. B. Armstrong; Executive, Miss Anning, Mr. Hunter, Mr. Johnston, Miss Stocking, Dr. Tracy, W. N. Ponton, Major Caswell.

This was as far as the organization could be proceeded with until a constitution and by-laws has been adopted, so it was decided that the Executive should meet for this purpose Friday afternoon next at 4:15 and a further meeting of the society will be held the following Monday.

The Football League.

The Belleville Football League have elected the following officers for the season: Hon. President, H. Corby, M. P.; Hon. Vice.-Pres., R. Mathison; Pres., W. Hardy; Vice-Pres., F. D. Diamond; Sec.-Treas., P. Doyle; Executive Committee, W. Douglass and F. D. Diamond. Only two clubs could be induced to enter the league, the D. & D. Institute and the City's, and representatives of these two teams met yesterday and arranged for the following games: Friday, 19th inst, on Institute grounds; Friday, 26th, on the City grounds; if necessary a third game will be played on the following Friday. It is to be regretted that no other clubs have entered.

The Panopticon.

The preparations for the panopticon at the drill shed are proceeding briskly. Already the interior of the prettily tinted hall is filled with decorated booths, bunting, etc. until it resembles a veritable fairyland. Two great attractions of this event are the fancy drills under the direction of Miss Price, and the "Midway Plaisance" of booths and villages of all nations. Refreshments are to be served in the intervals. Music will be furnished by the I.O.O.F. band and orchestra, Tea will be served in the evening.

A Good Test.

Some weeks since Street Surveyor Hulme sent samples of the cement being used on the pavements to Toronto to be tested. They have arrived back and the result of the test is most satisfactory. The highest stood a test of 437 lbs. tensile strain, while the lowest stood 310 lbs. The specifications only call for 260 lbs., so that the city is getting value in the cement at any rate.

Without Investigating.

One can scarcely realiz the importance of wearing the proper ready made suits and overcoats the Oak Hall are offering at $10 and $12. They could be no better, if we charged double the price. They have as much style and tone to them as any custom-made clothes, besides the variety is greater to choose from, whether you want an overcoat or a cut-away, or a double breasted suit. The Oak Hall have the desire and the goods to please the people.

The Long Evenings.

With the long evenings it becomes of increasing importance to find a coal oil of excellent illuminating power. This may be found at L. W. Yeomans & Co's. Their Canadian and American oils burn brightly, and free from smoke or disagreeable smell.

PROBABILITIES.

TORONTO, Oct. 9.—Fair weather; moderate to fresh winds, shifting to southeasterly; not much change in temperature.

Catarrh—Use Nasal Balm. Quick, positive cure. Soothing, cleansing, healing.

A SHORT SESSION LAST NIGHT

THE CITY FATHERS GOT DOWN TO BUSINESS FOR ONCE.

The Public Works Committee Given More Money for Necessary Work—Ald. Doyle Resigns and Ald. Geen is Elected Chairman of the Public Works Committee—Improvements to be Made to No. 2 Fire Hall.

At a regular meeting of the City Council held last evening the following members were present: Mayor Walmsley, Ald. Wills, Collins, Landenberger, Diamond, Moon, Graham, Doyle, Foster, LaRoche, Petty, Starling, Liscombe, Hart, Marshall, Haigh, Lazier, Clarke and Geen.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and confirmed.

COMMUNICATIONS AND PETITIONS.

From Street Surveyor Hulme suggesting a trial of a granolithic crossing between Rathbun's office and Hotel Quinte on Pinnacle St., as an experiment.

A petition from a number of ratepayers on North Front St., asking for a drain on that street.

A number of accounts were also read.

The report of the City Clerk and Assessor on the petition for the George street sewer.

A communication from the Gas Company, re more electric lights.

The above were referred to their respective committees.

The reports of the various committees, as already published, were read.

The Council went into Committee of the Whole, Ald. Doyle in the chair.

The report of the Executive Committee was passed without discussion until it came to the account of the G. & J. Brown Manufacturing Co., for the stone crusher. The Public Works had recommended in their report that half the price of the crusher be paid this year and half next, and that the money in hand for such purpose be appropriated to this committee.

Ald. Diamond said the agreement with the company was that the crusher was to be paid for this year, and that the Public Works Committee had no right to override this agreement.

Ald. Clarke favored the recommendation of the Public Works Committee of carrying half the price of the crusher over to 1895. He said the Public Works had not sufficient money to carry out incidental work that was necessary.

Mayor Walmsley said the Street Surveyor had told him that if he had $350 he could carry out all the necessary work this year He enumerated six plans for raising money for the committee, the last of which was to vote the committee $350 out of the bonus on the sale of the debentures.

Ald. Diamond agreed with this proposition. He said the $400 estimated for Front St. sewer could be kept on hand for next year,

Ald. Starling said he was surprised to hear the Chairman of Finance state that the grant for Front St. sewer would be kept on hand for next year. He surmised that it would be like the money appropriated for the opening of George Street, and which had never been heard of since. He thought $350 would not be enough for the Public Works Committee.

Ald. Landenberger moved that a clause be added to the report, that $350 be taken from the bonus on the sale of debentures, and be given to the Public Works committee.

Ald. Green said he understood that no cash was to be paid for the crusher, but that it was all to be paid in taxes. He thought the Public Works Committee had not been dealt fairly with in having the crusher bought out of its appropriation.

The clause finally carried, as did also the amendment of Ald. Landenberger.

The Public Works Committee recommended that the prayer of a petition for a granolithic walk on the north side of Bridge Street from Front St. to the lower bridge be granted, but the Council could not see their way clear to pass a by-law, and the clause was struck out.

The recommendation of the Fire committee that certain improvements be made to No. 2 Fire Hall, was carried.

The tender of Thos. Stewart for coal for the city was accepted, at $5 75.

Ald. Doyle said there had been a mistake between himself and the City Clerk as to his resignation as Chairman of the Public Works Committee. He thought he had handed it to the Clerk, but he said he had not received it. He said he had tried to do his best in the city's interest, but there had been some difficulty, and he thought it better to resign.

Ald. Starling said that Ald. Doyle had objected to different pieces of work that the Committee wished done.

Ald. Doyle wanted Ald. Starling to name an instance, and Ald. Starling named several, but Ald. Doyle did not remember the work complained of.

Ald. Diamond said that Ald. Doyle had handed in his resignation, and he thought the Council should accept it.

It was decided to let the resignation stand for a further order of business.

The committee of the whole rose and reported. Report received and adopted.

INQUIRIES.

Ald. Green asked whether the Council had the authority to recommend a citizen without home or friends to the Home for the Friendless, if not what course should be pursued.

Ald. Diamond said the Council had nothing to do with it. They gave a yearly grant but did not send people there.

Ald. Hart inquired what had been done towards securing water for the pump on the Caulfton Road and who owned the pipes.

Ald. LaRoche said the pipes had been tapped and that they belonged to the city.

Ald. Doyle asked the Treasurer if he had paid out any money to the contractors for the granolithic pavement.

The Treasurer said he had paid something over $3,000 on the receipt of the Street Surveyor.

Ald. Wills asked if the leases for the old market building had been prepared.

The City Solicitor said they had been prepared.

Ald. Doyle's resignation as chairman of Public Works was next taken up.

Ald. Diamond moved that the resignation be accepted.

Ald. Doyle said he repudiated the statement made by Ald. Starling. He had been discourteously used by the Street Surveyor and at last meeting he was not allowed to speak on a question, which he had a right to do. He stated several other instances of friction between himself and the Street Surveyor.

No objection was taken to the statements of Ald. Doyle and the resignation was accepted.

Ald. Wills moved, seconded by Ald. Liscombe, that Ald. Green be elected chairman of Public Works.—Carried.

Council adjourned.

Poor Digestion

Leads to nervousness, fretfulness, peevishness, chronic Dyspepsia, and great misery. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the remedy; it tones the stomach, creates an appetite, and gives healthy action to all the organs of the body. Take Hood's, for Hood's Sarsaparilla cures.

HOOD'S PILLS become the favorite cathartic with every one who tries them. 25c.

Prince Edward Fair Prize List.

HORSES

Class C.—Draught Class—Pure Clydesdale.—Stallion in bridle, Christopher Louder; brood mare (with foal by side), John A. Shannon; 2 year old filly or gelding, Geo. R. Christy; span of horses in harness, J. B. Leavitt, Geo. R. Christy, G. V. Christy.

Class D.—General Purpose horses—Por Bred Percheron and Clydesdale B rred.—Stallion in harness, Peter Burr, W. A Munroe; brood (with foal by side), Ed McCaw, Manly Hicks, George Wood; foal 1894, Manly Hicks, Ed. McCaw, Georg Wood; yearling colt, Chas. Cahoon; 2 year old filly or gelding, M. R. German, Ed, D. Ackerman, Claude Cole; single carriage horse in harness, 15½ hands and over, John H. Allan, Peter Burr, A. G McDonald; single driver, under 15½ hands, Edward Ackerman, D. Vanclea', Hiram McDonald; matched carriage horses in harness over 15 hands, P. J. Pearsoll, George Hughes, Edward McCaw; matched carriage horses in harness, 15 hands and under, George Wood, J P. Hudgin, T E Young; span horses, Angus Stanton, R O. Gorstive, J. S White.

Class E.—Roadsters.—Stallion in harness, must speed best 2 in 3, ½ mile heats, A. A. Hudgin, Claude Cole; brood mare (with foal by side), R. H. Pettingill, F. W. Adams, George Hughes; foal of 1894, F W. Adams, R H. Pettingill, J. H. Allan; yearling colt, Wm. Owens, Rev. E Loucks; yearling colt, R. B. Martin 1st and 2nd, Josiah Benson; single roadster, trotters or pacers, mare or gelding, 3 minute class in harness, must speed best 3 in 5, ½ mile heats, P. R. Demill; pair roadsters, trotters or pacers, mare or gelding, must speed best 3 in 5, ½ mile heats, Wm. Stone, Geo. Boulter, S. A. Handly.

Class F.—Standard Class.—Registered pedigree must be produced at the time See rule governing this class.—Speed, style and action to be considered in judging.—Stallion in harness, A. A. Hudgins; brood mare (with foal by side), A. A. Huggins, J. H. Allan 2nd and 3rd; foal of 1894, J. H. Allan, A. A. Hudgins, J. H. Allan; 2 year old filly or gelding, J. H. Allan, Wm. Owens, John H. Allan.

CATTLE.

Durham bull, 2 years and over, Wellington Boulter; Durham heifer, 2-year old, W. Boulter; Durham heifer, 1 year old, W. Boulter; Durham heifer calf under 1 year, W. Boulter; Jersey bull, 2 years and over, Bruce E Johnson; Jersey bull, yearling, W. W. McCaw; Jersey bull, under 1 year, J. A. Sprague & Son; Jersey cow, Mrs. C. A. Shannon, A. A. Hudgin, B. E. Johnson; Jersey heifer, 2 years old, Mrs. C. Shannon, Sprague & Son, A. A. Hudgin; Jersey heifer, 1 year old, Sprague & Son, B. E. Johnson; Jersey heifer calf under 1 year, Mrs. C. A. Shannon; Holstein bull, 2 years and over, J. M. Mallory; Holstein cow, Philip Haight, J. M. Mallory, J. M. Mallory; Holstein heifer, 1-year-old, J. M. Mallory, Philip Haight; Holstein heifer calf under 1 year, J. M. Mallory; Ayrshire bull, 2 years and over, M. N. Empy, N. Cahoon, E. Switzer; Ayrshire bull, 1 year old, M. N. Empy; Ayrshire bull calf under 1 year, M. N. Empy, A. J. File, A. J File; Ayrshire cow, Fred McDonald, M. N. Empy, Alf. Brown; Ayrshire heifer, 2 years old. A J. File; Ayrshire, heifer, 1 year old, M. N. Empy, Alf. Brown, A J. File; Ayrshire heifer calf, under 1 year, M. N. Empy, Fred McDonald; grade cow (4 prizes) 1st $4. W. Boulter, Mrs. C. A. Shannon, Geo. Boulter. R. T. Way; grade heifer, 3 years old, Charles McDonald; grade heifer, 1-year-old, E. Switzer, R. H. Pettingill, Chas. McDonald; grade heifer calf under 1 year, Chas. McDonald, S A. Cole, W. Boulter.

SHEEP.

Lincoln or L'eicester Ram 2 shears or over, R. J. Garbutt, R. Martin; Lincoln or Leicester Ram shearling, R. J. Garbutt, R. G. Martin; Lincoln or Le'cester ram lamb, R. J. Garbutt, R. G. Martin; Lincoln or Leicester 2 ewes, aged, R. G. Martin, R. J. Garbutt: Lincoln or Leicester 2 shearling ewes, R. G. Mastin, R. J. Garbutt; Lincoln or Leicester 2 ewe lambs R J. Garbutt, R. G. Martin; Southdown Ram, 2 shears or over, Wm. Newman, Fred McDonald; Southdown Ram, shearling, Wm. Newman, Wm. Newman: Southdown Ram lamb, Wm. Newman, Wm. Newman; Southdown 2 ewes, aged, Wm. Newman, Stinson Christy; Southdown, 2 ewes, shearling, S. Christy, Stinson Christy; Southdown 2 ewes, lambs, S Christy, Geo. R Christy; Oxford Down Ram, 2 shears or over, Wm. Newman, 1st and 2nd; Oxford Down Ram, shearling, Wm. Newman 1st and 2nd; Oxford Down Ram lamb, Wm Newman 1st and 2nd; Oxford Down 2 ewes, aged, Wm. Newman 1st and 2nd; Oxford Down 2 ewes, shearlings, Wm. Newman 1st and 2nd; Oxford Down 2 ewes, lambs, Wm. Newman 1st and 2nd; Shropshire Down Ram, 2 shears or over, Alf. Brown, J. Christy; Shropshire Down Ram shearling, Alf. Brown, Geo. R. Christy; Shropshire Down Ram lamb, Alf. Brown, R. G. Martin; Shropshire 2 ewes, aged, N. A. Peterson, Alf. Brown; Shropshire 2 ewes, shearlings, N. A. Peterson, Stinson Christy; Shropshire 2 ewes, lambs, Alf Brown 1st 2nd; Cotswold Ram, 2 shears or over, J. W. Frink; Cotswold Ram shearling, J. W. Frink, B. Frink; Cotswold Ram lamb, B. Frink, J. W. Frink; Cotswold 2 ewes, aged, J. W. Frink, B. Frink; Cotswold 2 ewes, shearlings, J.W. Frink; Cotswold 2 ewes, lambs, J. W. Frink, B. Frink.

SWINE.

Small breed boar, 1 year or upwards, R.J, Garbutt, J. W. Frink, A. Kirby; small breed breeding sow, J. W. Frink, R. J. Garbutt, Robt. Jamieson: small breed pigs of this year, Robt. Jamieson, J. W. Frink, Robt. Jamieson; small breed boar pig under 1 year, R. J. Garbutt, Geo. Affis, W. W. McCaw; large breed boar, 1 year or upwards, J. M. Hurley; large breed breeding sow, J. M. Hurley, W. W McCaw; large breed 2 pigs this year, Geo. Affis 2nd; large breed boar pig under 1 year, J. M. Hurley.

POULTRY.

Brahmas, dark, cock and hen, Thomas H. Hubbs, J. W. Frink. A. J. File; Brahmas, light, cock and hen, George McDonald, Thos. Hubbs, Mrs. C. A. Shannon; Cochin, buff, cock and hen, C B. Grimmox, F. A. Mosgrove, Chas. McDonald; Langshans, cock and hen, Chas. McDonald 1st and 2nd; Dorkings, silver grey, cock and hen, Alf. Brown 1st, 2nd and 3rd; Lefleche, cock and hen, F. A Mosgrove; Wyandottes, black, cock and hen, Chas. McDonald; Wyandottes, white, cock and hen, F. A. Mosgrove 1st and 2nd; Wyandottes, silver laced, cock and hen, W. T. Gibbart 1st and 2nd, Alf. Brown 3rd; Wyandottes, golden faced cock and hen, W. T. Gibbard, F. A. Mosgrove; Plymouth Rock, grey, cock and hen, W. T. Gibbard, Geo. McDonald, J. W. Frink; Plymouth Rocks, white, cock and hen, W. T. Gibbard, J. W. Frink, B. Frink; Game, brown and red, cock and hen, F. A. Mosgrove, Geo. McDonald; Game, black red, cock and hen, F. A. Mosgrove 1st and 2nd; Game, duck wing, cock and hen, F. A. Mosgrove, 1st and 2nd; Hamburgs, black, cock and hen, F. A. Mosgrove 1st and 2nd; Hamburgs, golden pencilled, cock and hen, Alf. Brown, C. B. Grimmox 2nd and 3rd; Hamburgs, silver pencilled, cock and hen, C. B. Grimmox, J. W. Frink, C. B. Grimmox; Hamburgs, golden spangled, cock and hen, F. A. Mosgrove; Hamburgs, silver spangled, cock and hen, Alf. Brown, F. A. Mosgrove; Leghorns, white, cock and hen, Chas. McDonald 1st, 2nd and 3rd; Leghorns, brown, cock and hen, W. T. Gibbard. Chas. Ringer, J. W. Frink; Leghorns, rose comb, brown, cock and hen, F. A. Mosgrove, Chas. Ringer, J. W. Frink; Leghorns, rose comb, white, cock and hen, W. F. Gibbard, B. Frink, Chas. McDonald; Spanish, black, cock and hen, A. J. File, F. A. Mosgrove; Minorcas, black, cock and hen, H. Kirby, F. A. Mosgrove 2nd and 3rd; Polands, white crested, black, cock and hen, F. A. Mosgrove; Polands, white, cock and hen, F. A. Mosgrove; Polands, silver, cock and hen, Alf. Brown. Turkeys, bronze, male and female, H. Kirby, T. H. Hubbs, J. W. Frink; turkeys, any other variety, male and female, Geo. McDonald. Robert Jamieson. Geese, Bremen or Embden, male and female, Chas. McDonald; geese, Toulouse, male and female, J. W. Frink, B. Frink; geese, any other variety, male and female. T. H. Hubbs, Geo. McDonald, Jas. Newman. Ducks, Rouen, male and female, T. H. Hubbs, Chas. McDonald, Jas. Newman; ducks, any other variety, W. T. Gibbard, T. H. Hubbs, C. B. Grimmox; red game bantams, C. Ringer; brown game bantams, C. Ringer; Indian game, W. T. Gibbard.

FARM AND GARDEN.

Winter wheat, 1 bushel, Robt. Jamieson, D. A. Spencer, S. A. Cole; spring wheat. 1 bushel, George McDonald, Chas. McDonald. W. A. Benson; barley, 1 bushel, Robt. Jamieson, C. McDonald, W. A Benson; black-eyed peas, 1 bushel, George McDonald, James Rankin; small peas, 1 bushel, George Affie, Chas. McDonald, Robt. Jamieson; corn in ear, 1 bushel, white, Geo. Affis; corn in ear, 1 bushel, yellow, Roy Leavens, George McDonald, Robt. Jamieson; sweet corn in ear, ½ bushel, early, R. T. Way; sweet corn, late, J, S. White; oats, black, 1 bushel, J. W. Frink, C. McDonald, W A. Benson; oats, white, 1 bushel, C. McDonald, W. A. Benson, M. R. German; rye, 1 bushel, M. R. German, W. A. Benson, C. McDonald; buckwheat, 1 bushel, 1893, C. McDonald, E. A. Ackerman, M. R German; clover seed, 1893, ½ bushel, Claude Cole, S. A. Cole; timothy seed, 1893, ½ bushel, R. G. Mastin, George McDonald A. S. Patterson; beans, white, 1893, ½ bushel, J. P. Horn, James Rankin; onions white, 1 peck, Alf. Brown, Jas. Newman, Wm Newman; onions, red, 1 peck, Wm. Newman, Jas Newman, A. S. Patterson; onions, yellow, 1 peck, Alf. Brown, Jas. Newman, Wm. Newman; potatoes, Early Rose, ½ bushel, S. A. Cole, G. R. Christy, Geo. McDonald; potatoes, Beauties of Hebron, D. A. Spencer. Robt. Jamieson, J. S. White; potatoes, Freeman, ½ bushel, Alf. Brown, J. P. Thorn; potatoes, White Elephant, ½ bushel, Alf. Brown, Chas. Brown; potatoes, late Rose, ½ bushel, S. A. Cole; potatoes, Crown Jewel, ½ bushel, Ed. Bradley, John Cavan, J. P. Thorn; collection 4 varieties potatoes named other than above, 6 tubers each, Alf. Brown, Chas. McDonald, G. R. Christy; cauliflower, 2 heads, Jas. Newman, A. Bristol; celery, 2 heads, Wm. Newman, F. A. Wycott, Jas. Newman; turnips, white, 6 roots, Alf. Brown, Chas. McDonald; turnips, yellow, 6 roots, Wm. Newman, A. Bristol; beets, long, 6 roots, R. T. Way; beets, turnips, 6 roots, J. W. Frink, Peter Burr; mangolds, globe, Chas. Cahoon, J. W. Frink; mangolds, long red, 6 roots, Alf Brown, Mat Branscomb; carrots, white, 6 roots, C. Cahoon, Nelson Cahoon; carrots, yellow, 6 roots, N. Cahoon, Wm. Newman; carrots, table, J. H. Stafford, Wm. Newman; cabbage, white, 2 heads, R T. Way, F. Wycott; cabbage, flat Brunswick, Jas. Newman, J. H. Stafford; cabbage, red, 2 heads, B. Frink, J. H. Stafford; tomatoes, large varieties, 12, R. T. Way, Jas. Newman; peppers, 12, J. H. Stafford, S. Orser; raddishes, 12 roots, J. W. Frink, Jas. Bedborough; parsnips, 6 roots, F. Wycott, water melons, 2, Theodore Martin; musk melons, 2, Wm. Newman, Jas. Newman; squashes, table, 2, J. H. Stafford, George McDonald; squashes, other sorts, 2, A. S. Patterson, J. W. Frink; pumpkins, 2, J. S. White, N. Cahoon; citrons, 2, J. H. Stafford.

HOME MANUFACTURES.

Butter in firkin or jar, not less than 25 lbs., Robt. Jamieson, Ed. D. Ackerman; are lightened when she turns to the right medicine. The chronic weaknesses, delicate derangements, and painful disorders that afflict her sex, are cured by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. In bearing-down sensations, periodical pains, ulceration, inflammation, and every kindred ailment it's a positive remedy.

(Continued on Page 2)

A WOMAN'S BURDENS

MISS FUGATE.

Madisonville, Hopkins County, Ky.

DR. R. V. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y.: Dear Sir—Please accept my thanks for the good your medicines have done for me. I truly believe the "Favorite Prescription" saved my life; it is a sure and certain cure. I am having perfect health; I am stout and can do all my housework.

Every invalid lady should take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and Golden Medical Discovery.

Yours, ROZZIE FUGATE.

PIERCE Guarantees a CURE OR MONEY RETURNED.

Changed Daily.

TUESDAY, Oct. 9th, 1894.

WHAT IS BREAKFAST?

Without a cup of delicious tasting Tea, or a cup of refreshing Coffee.

ONLY A MOCKERY!

Would you provide your family daily with good wholesome Coffee and fragrant Tea, then,

MAKE A CHANGE!

And try Strouds, the the Tea Dealers, their New Teas are now arriving and will satisfy you as to price and quality.

Stroud's

TEA STORE.

Mr. J. Alcide Chaussé
Montreal, P. Q.

A Marvelous Medicine

Whenever Given a Fair Trial Hood's Proves Its Merit.

The following letter is from Mr. J. Alcide Chaussé, architect and surveyor, No. 153 Shaw Street, Montreal, Canada:

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.,

"Gentlemen:—I have been taking Hood's Sarsaparilla for about six months and am glad to say that it has done me a great deal of good. Last May my weight was 152 pounds, but since I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla it has increased to 163. I think Hood's Sarsaparilla is a marvellous medicine and am very much pleased with it." J. ALCIDE CHAUSSE.

HOOD'S Sarsaparilla CURES

Hood's Pills cure liver ills, constipation, biliousness, jaundice, sick headache, indigestion

NO DOUBT YOU WILL REQUIRE A ....

New Hat Or Bonnet..

The Most Stylish and Wearable ...

MILLINERY IS AT

J. P. THOMPSON & CO.

STOCK COMPLETE IN ALL DEPARTMENTS.

LOOK AT THESE FINE CLOAKS

These Represent a few of the hundreds of beautiful garments now on exhibition in our Mantle Department. The evidence that we are giving special attention to this department will be apparent to anyone who visits it. Never was there such a fine collection of Moderate Priced Overgarments under our roof before. We invite YOU to come and see for yourself.

Geo. Ritchie & Co.

24TH - - - - - - YEAR.

Our Novelties in ...

Fur Capes and Jackets

Are the talk of the City, and our Goods are

FIRST CLASS!

The reason for this is we have the

RIGHT STYLES AND PRICES

And our Furs are quite different from any other house in the City.

S. A. HYMAN.

Manufacturiug Furrier.

Old Furs of all kinds cleaned, dyed and made over,

A GOOD, WARM, CHEERFUL FIRE!

Will soon be in order as the cold weather is rapidly approaching

SO .....

... Do not Lose any Time

In ordering your supply of

Telephone C 68.

Coal and Wood

... FROM ...

S. A. LAZIER & SON'S.

The Leading Coal and Wood Merchants.

WISDOM & ECONOMY...

Lead the Way to Our Store .....

Just a line to draw your attention to the splendid list of Bargains we offer you this week at less than Wholesale Prices.

DRESS GOODS....

From 8 to 75cts. per yard, in all shades and qualities; Colored Cashmeres from 25 to 75cts. per yd.; Black Cashmeres from 26c. to $1.00 per yard; Estamine Serge, 56 inches wide, in Black, Brown and Navy, only 50c. worth at least 75c.

GREY FLANNELS ...

Unions at 12½ and 15c.; all wool at 10c,; plain or twill, and 27 inches wide, cheap at 22c; Navy Blue Flannels from 20c. to 40c. per yard; Opera Flannels in all shades at 40c. per yard.

HOSIERY ....

Just received our Fall and Winter Hosiery in Cashmere and Wool for Ladies', Misses' and Boys' Wear; a Ladie's fine cashmere hose at 20c, worth 25c; Misses' and Boys' double rib, all wool, at 20c,

Ladies' Underwear ...

In Hygeian, Paragon and Jersey Vests, Long Sleeves, at 20, 30, 40, 50c.

Gents' Wear ....

Our stock is complete in this line, and prices to suit the times.

☞ Do not fail to visit our MILLINERY DEPARTMENT.

H. A. LAYTON, BELLEVILLE.

Front St., Opposite Campbell St.

AN ACHING HEAD.

DEAR SIRS,—I had severe headache for the past three years, and was not free from it a single day. I used Doctors' Medicines and all others I could think of, but it did me no good. My cousin said I must

TRY B.B.B.

because it is the best medicine ever made, and I took three bottles of it, with the result that it has completely cured me. I think Burdock Blood Bitters, both for headaches and as a blood purifier, is the

BEST IN THE WORLD,

and am glad to recommend it to all my friends. MISS FLORA MCDONALD,
Glen Norman, Ont.

HAMILTON,
TORONTO AND MONTREAL.
Via Bay of Quinte, Calling at all Ports weekly.
THE FAVORITE STEAMER

"MAGNET"

Leaves St. Catharines Tuesday 9 a. m. Toronto " 4 p. m.
Leaves Belleville for Montreal } Wednesday 7:30 a m
Leaves Belleville for Toronto } Sunday 8 p. m.
First Class Passenger Accommodation, Large Freight Capacity. Lowest Rates
For Tickets, Rates, &c., Apply to the RATHBUN COMPANY, Agents,
or to
CAPT. J. J. TOWERS, Superintendent, No. 2 King st., Toronto.
C. F. GILDERSLEEVE, General Manager, 228 St. Paul st., Montreal.

ROCHESTER,
KINGSTON AND MONTREAL.
Weekly Service Calling at Way Ports
THE PEOPLE'S FAVORITE STEAMER.

"ALEXANDRIA"

Leaves Montreal, Thursday at 10:00 a. m.
Arrives Belleville, Saturday at 11:45 a. m.
Leaves for Rochester " " 1:15 p. m.
Arrives from Rochester, Monday at 6:30 a m.
Leaves for Montreal, " " 7:30 a. m.
Spacious and elegant Saloon. Ample Stateroom accomodation The choicest and best Meals furnished. Safety, comfort and enjoyment ensured by personal supervision of Capt. Smith and Purser Melrose. Careful handling of freight.
For Tickets, State rooms at lowest rates apply to
THE RATHBUN COMPANY, Agents.

Bay of Quinte Steamb t Route
TRI-WEEKLY
DESER'TO, PICTON & KINGSTON
1894 - 1894

STR. "HERO"

THIS favorite steamer is now lighted by electricity and will have a strong search light for excursion business and the boat is heated by steam.
Commencing Monday, April 9th, will leave Belleville Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 6 a. m. returning Tuesday, Thursday and Friday at 11 p m.
The very best facilities are offered to shippers of freight. The lowest through and local rates quoted.
No wharfage at Picton on freight for this steamer.
Full information given by Gilbert Johnston on board, or to the
RATHBUN COMPY.
H. GILDERSLEEVE, Ticket Agent, Kingston.

ROCHESTER.
STEAMER

NORTH KING.

Leaves for Charlotte, N. Y., every Sunday, 11:45 p.m.
Leaves for Picton and Kingston every Sunday, 9:30 a. m.
Arrive from Picton and Kingston every Sunday, 11:45 p.m.
Arrives from Charlotte, N. Y., every Sunday, 9:30 a. m.
Special attention given to passengers and freight.
WEEK DAYS.—Steamer leaves Port Hope week days for Charlotte, N. Y., at 8:45 a.m.
Calls at Brighton Monday 2 a.m., and Wednesday 2:30 a.m., and at Colborne Wednesday and Friday 4 a.m.
Connection made by Grand Trunk morning trains.
THE RATHBUN CO., Agents, U. E. THOMPSON, Agent, 434f

INSURANCE.
Western Assurance Company,
Fire and Marine Head Office, Toronto
North British & Mercantile Ins. Co., Fire and Life, Head Office (Can.) Montreal.
Atlas Insurance Company,
Fire Head Office (Canada), Montreal
M. M. THOMPSON
Water Works Office Pinto St.

Steamer "Iona"

Will eave Belleville three times each week for Oswego, connecting with trains for New York.

Daily Intelligencer.

At Death's Door—Dyspepsia Conquered —A Great Medical Triumph.

GENTLEMEN,—My medical adviser and others told me I could not possibly live when I commenced to use Northrop & Lyman's VEGETABLE DISCOVERY for Dyspepsia. My case was one of the worst of its kind. For three years I could not eat meat and my weight decreased from 219 to 119 lbs. All the food I took for thirteen months previous to taking the VEGETABLE DISCOVERY consisted of milk I am now entirely cured and have regained my usual weight, can eat anything with a keen relish and feel like a new man. I have sold over thirty dozen VEGETABLE DISCOVERY since it cured me, as I am well known, and people in this section know how low I was, and thought I could not possibly be cured. They are eager to try this grand medicine. It certainly saved my life, as I never expected to recover when first I commenced using it. I am not exaggerating anything but feel glad to be able to continue this testimonial and trust it may be the means of convincing others of its merit, as a certain cure for Dyspepsia.
JEAN VACQUIER.
Signed.
Wotton, P. Q.

In 1888 the people of Great Britain paid taxes on 492 200 carriages.

Is there anything more annoying than having your corn stepped upon? Is there anything more delightful than getting rid of it? Holloway's Corn Cure will do it. Try it and be convinced

In Portugal the tobacco tax brings £900,000, the land tax £700,000.

Some people laugh to show their pretty teeth. The use of Ivory White Tooth Powder makes people laugh more than ever. It's so nice. Price 25c. Sold by druggists.

Worms cause feverishness, moaning and restlessness during sleep. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator is pleasant, sure and effectual. If your druggist has none in stock, get him to procure it for you

The rate of taxation has nearly quadrupled in France since 1830.

DYSPEPSIA causes dizziness, headache, constipation, variable appetite, rising and souring of food, palpitation of the heart, distress after eating. Burdock Blood Bitters is guaranteed to cure Dyspepsia if faithfully used according to directions.

Until about forty years ago, the Persian Government levied a tax on cats.

MR. T. J. HOMES, Columbus, Ohio, writes: 'I have been afflicted for some time with kidney and Liver Complaint, and find Parmelee's Pills the best medicine for those diseases These Pills do not cause pain or griping, and should be used when a cathartic is required. They are Gelatine Coat d, and rolled in the Flour of Licorice to preserve their purity and give them a pleasant, agreeable taste.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP cures Bronchitis.

FOR CHOLERA MORBUS, Cholera Infantum Cramps, Colic, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, and Summer Complaints Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is a prompt, safe and sure cure that has been a popular favorite for over 40 years.

STEAMER VARUNA

A. HICKS, Captain.

WILL leave Trenton every morning, (Sunday excepted) at 7:00 o'clock, calling at Redeerville and all points between the head of the bay and Picton, leaving Belleville at 8:30 a.m., Deseronto at 10:20 a.m.
On Tuesday and Thursday evenings to meet North King at Brighton, returning will leave Brighton Wednesday and Saturday mornings at 5:30.
Will connect at Picton with stage for Sand Banks.
Parties wishing to arrange for excursion rates will see Capt. Hicks on board
Will leave Picton at 1 p.m. on return for the head of the bay, Deseronto 2:30 p.m., Belleville, at 4:30 p. m., and Trenton at 6.
Omnibuses in waiting at Picton, Belleville and Brighton.
The Rathbun Co., Agents, Belleville and Deseronto.
A. W. Hepburn, Agent, Picton.

USE PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER
FOR ALL BOWEL TROUBLES

SPORT.

Lacrosse Sticks,
Foot Balls,
Tennis Goods,
Croquet, etc.,
Base Ball Supplies.

Also, Wall Paper.
Window Shades,
Hammocks,
Fans,
Purses,
Albums, Bibles and Novels.
—AT—
Overell's Book Store.
Next to Glasgow Warehouse.

RIBBONS!

We have an extra large stock of Ribbons on hand in all the light and fancy shades including

BABY RIBBONS,
SILK " "
SATIN " "
MOIRE " "
ETC., — ETC.

Our prices are the lowest, and we will be pleased to have you give us a call whenever wanting Ribbons.

SILK ELASTICS....

We have a splendid stock of Fancy Silk Elastic, made in Yellow, Blue, Green, Orange, Cardinal, Black, Pink, Mauve, White. All one price, 25c yard, at
THE BEEHIVE
CHAS. N. SULMAN

THE KISS OF GOLD.

By KATE JORDAN.

[Copyright, 1893, by J. B. Lippincott Company and published by special arrangement with them.]

There was a long and painful silence. The words that came thronging to Tom's lips were those he dared not speak.

"You have come to say goodby," Virginia said abruptly, still bending down his face that fell, disconcerting gaze. I heard all you said to father. There is no need to go over it again."

She held out her hand, and he seized it eagerly, only to find it cold and unresponsive. Oh, if she but uttered one pleading word, one reproach, that he might in some measure defend himself! But this chilling repose was a wall which shut him away from her.

"Do not misjudge me," he burst out passionately, his voice broken and all the words she looked away. "I am going away for a time to work hard, very hard. And I want to believe that your good wishes go with me, that you still remain my friend."

No reply, but her eyes were upon him again, as eloquent with reproach as the eyes of the murdered Cæsar gazing on the face of Brutus.

That look told all. He felt it in his inmost heart. He knew himself contemptible. But Delisle's worldly wise, humorously cynical counsel was with him, impressive and significant as the tenets of a new creed to a convert.

He dropped her cold hand in silence and half turned away.

"I'll come and see you very often. Virginia, if I may," he said haltingly. "Now York is not a wilderness, you know. Whenever my work permits, I'll come and have a chat with you, just—just the same."

The words died on his lips. He knew he lied. He knew it would be long ere he should choose to see her changed face, if indeed ever again.

Her silence maddened him.

"Have you nothing to say, Virginia?"

"Goodby," she said, and smiled—but such a smile! There were agony and scorn in it.

"Is that all?"

She held up her little head proudly, and again from her pale, tense lips came a murmur clear and defiant:

"Goodby."

Then her eyes closed. When she looked up, he was gone.

Her body seemed weighted, and she moved with an effort to the window, finding a dreaminess that soothed the hurt in her heart in watching the even fall of snow.

The chapel yonder was ablaze with light, rainbow coloring from the window falling in bars upon the fresh snow that lovingly outlined every twig and angle. And now the students came thronging out, still singing the chorus of the Christmas hymn, passed from her sight, and silence fell again.

"Have you nothing to say, Virginia?"

A light touch on her arm made her turn, and she saw her father. There was an angry light in his eyes, although he smiled.

"So our young gentleman has gone?"

"Yes."

"M-m," and he pursed up his lips reflectively as he swayed lightly to and fro, his hands behind his back. "Just so. It's the way of the world. I know it. I have seen my friends depart one by one. Only the few stanch ones have remembered and remained. But there is one consolation. We haven't lost much. Our young friend was a fair specimen of the genus cad."

Virginia winced at the word and shielded her face with her hand.

"We don't want him. I've learned to snap my fingers at the pleasures that won't stay and make the most of those that will. We'll snap our fingers, Virginia. He's gone away like a puppy with a bone he wants to eat alone. Let him go."

But still Virginia looked out at the snow and felt each of the city's muffled sounds like the surge from a sea on which her dearest had embarked, leaving her alone.

"We'll not miss him, Virginia," pursued her father in the meditative voice that maddened her to a dumb fury in that moment. She opened and closed her hands and set her lips hard. "I say we'll shed no tears for him. We'll forswear all sentimental dreams if we had any. We'll remember that his leaving the church for the stage was, viewed in this latter light, but an evidence of the rowdiness inherent in any young friend. Very, very rowdy. We will console ourselves by remembering how much we are above him and that we couldn't have expected more from a man whose father was a brown fisted Irish immigrant, his mother an ignorant girl of the plains."

He lit a cigar with a nice deliberateness and put on his cape and hat.

"I'm going for a walk in the snow now. This room depresses me. Stir the fire and turn on the light. When I come back, I'll have you play that little tune by Mozart."

He turned her lightly to him and kissed her on the brow. If her flesh had been touched by marble lips, they could not have chilled or sickened her more. She could not cling to her father and sob out her pain. He had always quietly transferred his griefs to her. How could she expect him to help her now?

But when he was gone the loneliness became unbearable. His voice could at least keep the shadows from closing around her like a tomb. Her heavy glance took in each familiar thing. The girl with the mask laughed at her from a corner. The keys of the organ flashed back an eerie intelligence.

"Never again," they seemed to say. "Never again."

A trembling seized her. She fell face downward on a couch and threw her arms out wide. How cruel it was, this sting of human love flung back to feel in bitterness upon itself! Oh, was there nothing more in life than this? Was this all? How had she failed? What had she forgotten or passed by that might have held him?

For, say what we will, a woman's heart does not beat only for the strong and true. Weak men and bad ones have without effort controlled a love the angels might have coveted. There is sometimes sufficient fascination in a trick of manner, just the fall in a voice, to outweigh in love's inconsequent balance all the Christian virtues.

It was from Virginia loved. No one better, no one higher. He alone had understood her. His sympathy, his smile had made her sunshine. And now he was gone.

A soft purring at her side, an animal warmth against her throat, aroused her, and she saw that the white kitten had crept under her arm and now lay cuddled against her like a ball of down, lapping her flesh in soft sympathy with its purr of a fairy engine.

A cry broke from her. She caught it wildly to her heart. It was something living that pitied her. But the little thing wriggled from the impulsive embrace, spat at her and scratched her on the cheek.

(To be Continued.)

The Cyclone Reaches Florida.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 9.—The cyclone reported raging in the Gulf near Galveston, Texas, has reached Florida. At noon the wind at Pensacola was reported to be blowing at a velocity of 64 miles an hour. Shortly after that the wires went down between that place and Pensacola and it is impossible to learn whether any damage has been done.

Old Antwerp Buildings Burned.

ANTWERP, Oct. 9.—Fire started in the buildings on the exhibition grounds known as "Old Antwerp," and for a time the destruction of the entire group was threatened. The flames were extinguished after a block of seven houses had been burned. The greater part of the "Old Antwerp" buildings were saved.

Fire Loss for September.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—The Journal of Commerce to-day says that the fire loss in the United States and Canada for September was $19,144,000, as compared with $10,508,-000 for September, 1893. The total loss for the first nine months of 1894 was 97,000,000, and for the corresponding period of 1893 it was $121,000,000.

Crispi's Following Reinforced.

LONDON, Oct. 9.—A despatch from Rome to the Central News says that the majority of the Piedmont deputies have declared their purpose to support the government, henceforth in the Chamber. Their action will greatly strengthen Crispi and will reduce the following of Zanardelli and Giolitti to about forty.

Cotton Spinners' Strike Settled.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Oct. 9.—The cotton spinners' strike was settled at a conference between the mill owners and the operatives, the latter agreeing to accept a reduction of 5 per cent. in wages with the understanding that the final settlement reached at Fall River shall also apply here.

New Mexico Doesn't Want Them.

EL PASO, Oct. 9.—Gov. Thornton of New Mexico returned an answer to the query from El Paso parties relative to having Corbett's next fight in New Mexico, stating that the territory statutes prohibit anything of the kind and he will do what he can to prevent it.

Balfour in the Netherlands.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—The Morning Post has a despatch from Buenos Ayres, reporting that Jabez Spencer Balfour, who wrecked the Liberator Building Society, escaped from Salta on August 16, and is supposed to be in the Netherlands.

British Elections at Hand.

LONDON, Oct. 9.—In addressing the Liberals of Louth, Shaw Lefevre, president of the local government board, said that the general election could not be postponed long. It would certainly be held before the end of another year.

To Meet a Growing Cattle Trade.

LONDON, Oct. 9.—After a conference with the Cattle Traders' Association the Mersey board have agreed to extend the woodside lairages at an expense of £100,000 to accommodate the growing trade in cattle.

A Guelph Boy's Sudden Death.

GUELPH, Oct. 9.—Jas. Alfred Vincent, a young man aged about 20 years, was found dead by his father, who was bringing him a lunch to where he was working in a garden. The young man was suffering from a sore throat, but whether this was the result of his death is not definitely ascertained.

Died After Fifty Days' Fasting.

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—Prof. William Sloan died at his home yesterday after a fast of fifty days. He has frequently lived three or four weeks without nourishment.

Deseronto Navigation Company (Limited

Steamer Ella Ross.

This fast sailing and comfortable steamer leaves Belleville for Trenton daily (Sunday excepted), at 10 a.m. Leaves Belleville for Deseronto and Picton at 3 p.m., connecting at Deseronto with steamers for Napanee and Oswego. Lowest freight and passenger rates. For further information apply to the Rathbun Co., Bridge street, or to R. O. Carter, General Manager, Deseronto.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP cures Coughs.

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry cures Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cramps, Colic, Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum, and all looseness of the bowels. Never travel without it. Price 35c.

In parts of Peru taxes are paid in cocoa leaves and Peruvian barks.

For coughs, colds, bronchitis and all lung and throat troubles, there is no preparation of medicine can compare with Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup. It never fails to afford prompt and permanent relief. It removes all soreness, and heals the diseased parts. It immediately soothes the most troublesome cough, and by promoting expectoration, removes the mucus which stops up the air tubes which, cause difficulty in breathing, thereby gives relief to that dreadful tightness experienced in the chest. Public speakers and singers will find Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup of inestimable value, as it speedily and effectually allays all irritation, and hoarseness in the throat and bronchial tubes, and gives power to the vocal cords, rendering the voice clear and sonorous If parents wish to save the lives of their children, and themselves from much anxiety trouble and expense let them procure a bottle of Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup, and whenever a child has a cough, has croup, or hoarseness, give the Syrup according to directions.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP heals the lungs.

A stinted wife can find a vest pocket in the dark.

Ample warning is given us by our lungs when they are in danger. If foolhardy enough to neglect the warning signal, we incur imminent peril. Check a cough at the outset with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil—which is a sovereign pulmonic—besides being a remedy for soreness, lameness, abrasions of the skin, tumors, piles, rheumatism, etc.

BURDOCK PILLS, small, safe, and sure, regulate the liver and cure constipation.

Robert Lubbork, Cedar Rapids, writes: "I have used Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil both for myself and family for Diphtheria with the very best results. I regard it as the best remedy for this disease, and would use no other.

Holland is the only country in Europe that admits coffee free of duty.

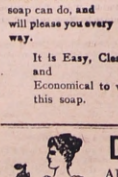

DYSPEPSIA arises from wrong action of stomach, liver and bowels. Burdock Blood Bitters cures Dyspepsia and all diseases arising from it, 99 times in 100.

DON'T LET ANOTHER WASH-DAY GO BY WITHOUT USING

YOU will find that it will do what no other soap can do, and will please you every way.

It is Easy, Clean, and Economical to wash with this soap.

SUNLIGHT SOAP

DRESSMAKERS DIFFER

About fashions in dresses, but everyone agrees that the best foundation for any costume is the

"HEALTH BRAND,"

Black tights, which allow the figure to be shewn to perfection and do away with over-stockings, bloomers, and unnecessary skirts.

All ladies in Montreal wore them last fall and winter, and during the coming season nothing else will be considered, they were such a success.

Send for our illustrated catalogue, free by post, if your own dealer has not got them.

THE MONTREAL SILK MILLS CO., Montreal.

LAME BACK

NEURALGIA, PLEURISY, SCIATICA AND RHEUMATISM CURED EVERY TIME WHEN THE "D. & L." MENTHOL PLASTER IS USED.

NATHAN JONES,
IMPORTERS.

We have opened up the most varied and attractive stock of

FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC DRESS GOODS ALSO DRESS TRIMMINGS.

Misses Mounder and Gardner are giving satisfaction in dress and mantle making.

TO THE PUBLIC.

When we decided to add the manufacture of carriages, phaetons, democrats, &c., to our business, we immediately put under construction a few of each. As we decided to place no vehicle on the market which is not A 1 in every detail, and knowing that no first-class vehicle can be produced on the rush, it has been necessary for us to take sufficient time to produce what we aimed at. We think we have succeeded; and we now have a few rigs completed, and others nearing completion to offer for sale. The iron work is all hand forged; the wood work carefully made, and strongly ironed; and the painting and upholstering done with the best material and greatest care. We can freely recommend these rigs. We will be pleased to have parties who may need anything in the above line, call and inspect our work.

ST. CHARLES & PRINGLE.
JAS ST CHARLES. — — — HENRY GLE

The Sale of Boots and Shoes :

Slightly damaged by Smoke and Water will continue until everything is sold.

HAINES & LOCKETT
Opposite Anglo-American Hotel.

IT - HAS - BEEN - ADMITTED
—BY OVER 125 PEOPLE IN BELLEVILLE THAT THE—
John Bull Wrought Steel Range,
Is the most Economical, Everlasting and Useful Range on the market. How is this for three Seasons.

SEE THEM AT FOSTER'S.
Also the Duchess of Oxford Cast Iron Range

THE - FALL - RAINS
ARE WITH US.
YOUR HOUSE WANTS A NEW ROOF—
WE HAVE THE SHINGLES.
In all grades, at lowest prices. Ask for quotations and see
XX. XXX. Clear Butts
THE RATHBUN COMPANY.

Belleville and Napanee, Office, Bridge St. Telephone A. 4.
COAL—AND—WOOD.
—THOS. STEWART,—
The only dealer in Scranton Coal in Belleville and Napanee. The very best facilities for delivering to any part of the city or surrounding towns this coal, which is the best and cheapest mined.
No Gas. No Clinkers. No Waste
Clean, quick, hot, strong, cheerful fire. Smithing, Cannell, Briar Hill, Run of Mine coal and Coal Screenings always on hand. Hard and soft wood, Blocks and Edgings delivered to any part of the City.

DR. WOOD'S
Norway Pine Syrup.
Rich in the lung-healing virtues of the Pine combined with the soothing and expectorant properties of other pectoral herbs and barks.
A PERFECT CURE FOR
COUGHS AND COLDS
Hoarseness, Asthma, Bronchitis, Sore Throat, Croup and all THROAT, BRONCHIAL and LUNG DISEASES. Obstinate coughs which resist other remedies yield promptly to this pleasant pure syrup.
PRICE 25c. AND 50c. PER BOTTLE.
THE T. MILBURN CO., PROPRIETORS, TORONTO.

D'FOWLER'S EXT OF WILD STRAWBERRY CURES
COLIC
CHOLERA
CHOLERA-MORBUS
DIARRHOEA
DYSENTERY
AND ALL
SUMMER COMPLAINTS OF ADULTS OR CHILDREN
PRICE 35CTS
BEWARE OF IMITATIONS

Camping Supplies!
—AND—
Picnic - Requisites!

Our list of articles suitable for Picnic Lunches and Camping, includes:

Canned Meats.

ARMOUR'S COOKED BEEF,
ARMOUR'S OX TONGUES,
ARMOUR'S LUNCH TONGUES,
ARMOUR'S POTTED HAM,
ARMOUR'S COOKED PIG FEET
ARMOUR'S LUNCH MEAT.
ARMOUR'S POTTED TONGUE
ARMOUR'S BRAWN,
SANDWICH MEATS,
BONELESS CHICKEN,
BONELESS TURKEY,
POTTED BEEF,
POTTED GAME,
ETC.! ETC.! ETC!

Canned Fish.

FINEST SARDINES IN OIL,
FINEST SARDINES IN TOMATO,
HERRINGS IN TOMATO SAUCE,
KIPPERED HERRINGS,
FRESH HERRINGS,
SALMON, LOBSTERS,
FINNAN HADDIES,
BLOATER PASTE,
ANCHOVY PASTE,
SARDINE PASTE.
ETC.! ETC.! ETC.!!

Sundries.

Condensed Milk in Tins, Cream in Tins, Biscuits (in great variety), Fine old Cheese, McLaren's Imperial Cheese (in small crocks), Dried Beef, Choice Hams and Bacon, Lime Juice, Spanish Olives, CROSSE & BLACKWELL'S Pickled White Onions, Walnuts. Chow Chow, and and Mixed Pickles.

WALLBRIDGE & CLARKE
Grocers and Wine Merchants.
33 and 37 Bridge Street, Also Front Street, in Caldwell Building.

REMOVAL

MR. JOSEPH CALDWELL, DENTIST
Has removed his office to the new premises which he has had specially fitted up in the
Caldwell Block,
First door south of the Anglo-American Hotel Front street, 1084

TELEGRAPH PRINTING AND PUBLISHING COMPANY (LIMITED.
J. O. JAMIESON, President. J. W. LONDON, Secretary

THE Treasurer is the only person authorized to receive money from the Company, or to grant receipts for the same.
All Bills, Notes, Cheques and other documents binding on the Company, will require the signature of the President, in addition to that of the Treasurer.

THE INTELLIGENCER is printed and published by the INTELLIGENCER Printing and Publishing Company (Limited) by James O. Jamieson, resident in Belleville, at the office, Front St., south of Hotel St.

The Daily Intelligencer.

LET THERE BE HARMONY IN THINGS ESSENTIAL—LIBERALITY IN THINGS NOT ESSENTIAL—CHARITY IN ALL.

VOL 28. BELLEVILLE ONTARIO WEDNESDAY OCTOBER 10 1894 NO. 135

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

MEDICAL.

DR. WISHART.

47 GROSVENOR ST., Toronto, will be at the Huffman House, Belleville, Saturday, Dec. 1st, '94. 192dwly

DR. QUACKENBUSH, M.D., H.M.D., M.D., P.S.O.

HOMŒOPATHIC Physician, Surgeon and Accoucheur, has removed his office over store lately occupied by J. C. [illegible]verell, Residence George St., opposite H. Corby's.

JOHN J. FARLEY, M. D., C. M., M. R. C. S. England.

OFFICE and Residence—corner of Bridge and George Streets—three streets east of Post Office.

LEGAL.

FLINT & McCAMON.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public, etc. Solicitors for the Canadian Bank of Commerce. Office, City Hall, Front Street, Belleville, Ont. d84tf
JOHN J. B. FLINT, W. J. McCAMON.

STEWART MASSON.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, Notary, Conveyancer, etc. Office, South side Bridge st., over Wallbridge & Clark's, Belleville, Ont. Money to loan at lowest rates. 76dwtf

J. F. WILLS' LAW OFFICE.

REMOVED to Campbell Street (south side) 2nd door from Front Street, on ground floor.

A. GOODRICH.

LAWYER, 124 Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill., 28 years' experience; secrecy; special facilities in several States; Goodrich on Divorce; with laws of all States in press. 76dly

GEO. A. KINGSTON.

BARRISTER. Solicitor, etc., with Lount, Marsh and Cameron, 25 Toronto St., Toronto. Money to loan on farm property at lowest rates. 233dtf9w.

MIKEL & ROBERTS.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notary Public, Conveyancers, etc. Offices Bridge St., Belleville. Monies to loan at lowest rate.

THOMAS & HALLIWELL.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Conveyancers, &c. Money to loan. 293d3mwly
J. PARKER THOMAS, J. EARL HALLIWELL.

PONTON & MORDEN,

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public, Conveyancers. Office over Express and Telegraph Office, Bridge St., Belleville. Money to loan—private funds.
WM. N. PONTON, M. A., Solicitor Hastings Loan and Investment Society.
W. S. MORDEN, B.A.

E. GUSS PORTER.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, Notary Public. etc. Office in the Robertson Block, east side of Front Street.
☞ Private Money to Loan, 271dwly

FRANCIS S. WALLBRIDGE.

(Successor to Hon. Lewis Wallbridge, Q.C.) BARRISTER, Solicitor, Conveyancer, etc. Office, McAnnany building, corner Front and Bridge streets, Belleville, Ont. Private and Company money to loan at 6 per cent., on easy terms upon good land security. Charges moderate.

HENRY CARRE, C. E.

M.C. Soc C.E.,

DOMINION AND PROVINCIAL LAND SURVEYOR.

Special attention paid to Hydraulics and Land Drainage. Patents obtained and Drawings made. Office—McAnnany Block, under Ontario Business College, Front St. P.O. address—Box 203, Belleville.

A. G. NORTHRUP.

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Shire Hall, Belleville. 226d&wly

D. I. DULMAGE, L.D.S., D.D.S. (Tor. University).

DENTIST—Office over Brignall & Thompson's. Night calls at residence on Forin Street. d,w

CHAS. JOSE.

VETERINARY Surgeon, Graduate Ontario Veterinary College, Member Ontario Veterinary Society. Office and residence, Foxboro, Ont. Calls by mail or telegram promptly attended to. 304d,wly

MISCELLANEOUS.

AGENTCY of the Liverpool and London and Globe Fire and Life Insurance Companies.
W. P. HUDSON, Agent.
Office Campbell street, Belleville. d,w

NEW . . GOODS —AT— FISH'S.

New Neckwear, the very latest, the colorings are entirely new, shapes very nobby, and prices very low.

New underwear, in all weights, all kinds, all prices, all sizes and cheaper than ever.

New half hose in cashmere, merino, Scotch lamb's wool and hand knitted. Our 25c socks are great value.

See our new pink and blue shirts, our own make, the very latest.

A. E. FISH & CO.

The Noted Shirt Makers of Belleville.

STOVE PIPES!
STOVE PIPES!!
STOVE PIPES!!!

WHIPS! LANTERNS!
WHIPS!! LANTERNS!!
WHIPS!!! LANTERNS!!!

Lamps, Flower Pots,
Lamps, Flower pots,
Lamps, Flower Pots.

—AT—

THE FAIR,

FRANK WEEKS, MANAGER.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

ACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York.

Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

Dr. H. F. Merrill.

No Other Medicine SO THOROUGH AS AYER'S Sarsaparilla

Statement of a Well Known Doctor

"No other blood medicine that I have ever used, and I have tried them all, is so thorough in its action, and effects so many permanent cures as Ayer's Sarsaparilla."—Dr. H. F. MERRILL, Augusta, Me.

Ayer's The Only Sarsaparilla

Admitted at the World's Fair.

Ayer's Pills for liver and bowels.

ACETOCURA TOUCHES THE SPOT IN NEURALGIA.

ACETOCURA TOUCHES THE SPOT IN NEURALGIA

Mr. A. Weir, Kew Beach, September 7th, 1894, writes:—"Since then I have used it for neuralgic pains in the head, with immediate relief."

ACETOCURA TOUCHES THE SPOT IN PARALYSIS.

ACETOCURA TOUCHES THE SPOT IN PARALYSIS

ACETOCURA TOUCHES THE SPOT IN PARALYSIS

Mrs. B. M. Hall, Fernwood, Ill., U.S.A., August 15th, 1894, writes:—"I am 61 years old. For two years I had been afflicted with partial paralysis of the lower limbs, rendering me unable to walk a block without complete exhaustion. After using Acetocura for five days the pain had entirely disappeared permitting me to enjoy a good night's rest, and after ten day's treatment I was able to walk two miles without fatigue."

Write for gratis pamphlet to COUTTS & Sons, 72 Victoria street, Toronto. Head offices—London, Glasgow and Manchester, (G.B.) Cologne, Germany, Aaron, Switzerland.

Local Agents—

L. W. YEOMANS & CO., DRUGGISTS, BELLEVILLE.

PREPARE FOR the STRUGGLE.

The course of study offered by the Belleville business College gives a young person a thorough and practical knowledge of business, and also that mental culture and discipline which sharpens perceptive faculties, stimulates ambition, develops ability and prepares for the struggle of making a living. Every step in the work is characterized by thoroughness. Besides we use the most practical methods.

In teaching shorthand we dictate actual letters and legal evidence. Other schools have undertaken to imitate our methods, but the quality of their work bears that relation to practical business which the imitation does to the real.

We represent things exactly as they are.

Belleville Business College.

ROBERT BOGLE, Proprietor.

Daily Intelligencer.

JAPS CAPTURE CHEE-FOO

An Unconfirmed Report That the Treaty Port is in Their Hands.

PREPARING FOR A SIEGE OF CANTON

A Panic Prevails in the City—Increasing Number of Assaults on Foreigners at Pekin — The London Times Predicts Trouble for the Power That Attempts to Interfere in the War.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—The St. James' Gazette prints a despatch from Chemulpo, dated October 3, saying that fourteen Japanese transports are in the harbor, having on board 7,800 troops, and that 756 coolies had been landed since September 27. Owing to fears of an uprising of insurgent tribesmen the garrison at Seoul had been reinforced by 4,000 men. The Japanese pay for everything they get from the Coreans. The daily expense of Japan in maintaining her army in Corea is £60,000.

The Westminster Gazette publishes a despatch from Yokohama, which says it is reported there that the Japanese have captured Chee-Foo. The government, however, has received no information confirming this report. A despatch from Hong-Kong says the Foo-Chow river has been closed to shipping.

The Times publishes a despatch from its correspondent in Yokohama confirming the report that the Japs have taken Chee-Foo. The correspondent adds that a Japanese force has also landed at Tarascada, near Port Arthur.

The Times also publishes the following despatch from its Tien-Tsin correspondent: "Five thousand Russian troops are posted on the Corean frontier facing a Japanese force at Hun-Chun."

"Assaults on foreigners at Pekin and its environs are increasing in frequency and gravity, as it has been always predicted must happen owing to the toleration of the foreign representatives who are really responsible. Each minister thinking to conciliate the government, leaves it to his colleagues to make protests, the result being plenary indulgence to street rowdies. For the same reason commercial rights are invaded with impunity. Serious trouble must follow unless the foreign agents deal firmly."

The Central News correspondent at Shanghai says the British and German clubs in Tien-Tsin have adopted concerted measures for the defence of European residents. The volunteers are drilling steadily. Business in Tien-Tsin is at a standstill. Stores of skins and hides from the interior are accumulating on the bund. The Viceroy works night and day, but he keeps himself secluded. He has not been seen in port since the recent Chinese reverses.

It is reported that reinforcements of marines for the British squadron in Chinese waters will go to their destination by way of the Canadian Pacific railway, as that is considered the quickest route.

The British warship Undaunted has been ordered to Nagaski and the gunboat Firebrand to New-Chwang.

It is reported that the Japanese army is encamped to the north of the Yulu river. The despatch also says that a battle is imminent.

The Manchester Guardian publishes a despatch from its St. Petersburg correspondent saying that Russia sent a note to Japan in September claiming an interest in the future government of Corea. Japan's reply, it is asserted, was unfriendly to Russia's proposal.

A despatch to the Times from Hong Kong says the Chinese are preparing for a siege of Canton, and that a panic prevails in that city. The Shanghai despatch referring to the report of the capture of Chee-Foo says: "Two Japanese warships closely reconnoitered Chee-Foo harbor and the neighboring coast and then departed.

The Times, in an editorial on the war between Japan and China, contends that any attempt on the part of the powers to stop the war will be doomed to failure unless supported by a tremendous display of force, which it says is out of the question. "The power taking the initiative," it says, "would make an enemy of the most powerful and progressive nation in the east without advancing the cause of peace and humanity a jot. China and Japan must be allowed to fight out their quarrel."

The Berlin correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says that reports of the capture of Chee-Foo were received in official circles in Berlin yesterday, but were not confirmed.

The Merritt Family in Trouble.

WALKERTON, Oct. 10.—In the trial of the Merritt family, of Kincardine, true bills were found against Rachael Merritt and her mother, Mrs. Sophia Merritt, for conspiracy to shoot Wm. Stewart Judge MacMahen, however, entered a verdict of not guilty, without allowing it to go to the jury. A true bill was found against Charles Merritt for shooting at Wm. Stewart with intent to do grievous bodily harm. This met the same fate as the other in being dismissed without going to the jury. A true bill was also found against Sophia Merritt, Rachael Merritt, James Merritt, John Merritt and Charles Merritt for conspiracy to burn the crops of Wm. Stewart. All these were bound over in their own recognizances to appear for trial when called upon. It is altogether likely that they will never be called upon. They are a very respectable looking family of good standing in the county and got into their present difficulty through the act of the prosecutor, Stewart, who is alleged to have seduced Rachael Merritt and then married another girl. The latter gave evidence on behalf of her husband and had no doubt at all that he was entirely innocent of the charge made against him by Rachael Merritt. No one else in court, however, had the same opinion.

A Democrat Opponent of Hill.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Everett P. Wheeler, the gubernatorial nominee on the third ticket for this state, is a leading lawyer of this city. He has always been a democrat, and his father and grandfather were prominent in the councils of the party. Mr. Wheeler has seldom worked in harmony with the regular "Democracy" of the state, and has been known as a bitter opponent of Senator Hill.

Established Church in Congress.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—The English church congress opened at Exeter yesterday, the Bishop of Exeter presiding. In his opening speech the bishop urged the need of thorough church reform, a catholicity of spirit toward other denominations of Christians, religious education and the enforcement of temperance laws on the lines of the Gothenburg system.

For Anglican and Catholic Reunion.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—The Standard publishes a despatch from Rome saying that the Pope will shortly address a special appeal to the clergy of the Anglican church on the subject of reunion.

TRUE BILL AGAINST GREEN.

He is on Trial at Cornwall for the Murder of Cosgrove.

CORNWALL, Ont., Oct. 10.—The grand jury brought in a true bill against Charles Green for the killing of Patrick Cosgrove on the night of September 10. It may be well to recall a few facts in connection with the crime. On that night Cosgrove and Green were seen together. Cosgrove was found the following morning in an unconscious condition on Water street east and died shortly afterwards. Two men named Kearney and Henderson were suspected and skipped the town, but were subsequently arrested in Morrisburg and brought back to Cornwall and divulged the confession of Green that he had murdered Cosgrove by hitting him a blow with his fist behind the car and then went through his pockets, but failed to get any money. Green was caught in his sister's house, secreted in a cistern, after a hot chase, and waived extradition. The trial will be reached to-day and is creating considerable excitement.

Temperance People Persecuted.

SUTTON, Que., Oct. 10.—The sequel to the lead pipe murderous assault upon Mr. W. W. Smith, president of the Brome County Alliance, occurred on Saturday last. It has been well known that the liquor men, baffled in their attempt to murder Mr. Smith, had, however, not abandoned their plan to ruin him and discourage other temperance workers in the county. The scheme was known to the temperance people, but it was not thought possible that it would succeed. It was nothing more nor less than the securing of the dismissal of Mr. Smith from his position as agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway. They have, however, succeeded. Mr. Smith was notified on Saturday last of his dismissal from the company's employ. Some astonishing revelations may be expected, as the temperance people are intensely indignant that the company should have yielded to the demands of the liquor party and removed from its service one who has been for years a trusted servant and faithful officer.

A Toronto Customs Officer Dead.

TORONTO, Oct. 10.—At his residence, 135 Sorauren ave., Thomas McLean, chief clerk of the customs house, died yesterday. He had been sick only a few days, and his death was a shock to his friends. Mr. McLean came from Ireland many years ago, and soon after arriving in Toronto embarked in the newspaper business, becoming editor of The British Herald, at one time the Orange organ in Canada. In 1871 he entered the civil service, and became, after long years of service, chief clerk in Toronto. He was prominently connected with the Church of the Epiphany, and for some time was delegate to Synod from that church. He was also a liberal supporter of Wycliffe College. He leaves one child, a daughter, who is married to Mr. Robert Wright, an employe in the customs department. The position opened by the death of Mr. McLean is a lucrative one, one of the best at the disposal of the Dominion Government.

Desperate Attempt to Regain Liberty.

MONTREAL, Oct. 10.—The guards of the Montreal jail yesterday discovered that Edward Collins, one of the inmates had disappeared and an investigation showed that he had made a desperate attempt to regain his liberty and had probably met his death in consequence. When last seen Collins was noticed entering the closet, an isolated building in the jail yard. Not returning, the guard instituted a search, which resulted in the astonishing discovery that the prisoner had escaped through the closet by a sixteen inch drain pipe leading to the main sewer, which empties into the river. The main sewer was thoroughly searched, without any trace being found of the missing man. It is believed that his body is in the drain connecting with the main sewer.

Religious Excitement in Madrid.

MADRID, Oct. 10.—The excitement over the recent consecration of the Protestant bishop of Madrid is increasing. The papal nuncio's letter supporting Cardinal Monesillo's protest against the consecration has added fuel to the fire. The liberal newspapers defend the consecration and plead for tolerance. They attack the papal nuncio for meddling as a diplomat in domestic affairs of Spain, and suggest that the government hand him his passports.

Smallpox Scare Near Buffalo.

BUFFALO, Oct, 10.—The neighboring village of Anglo has a smallpox scare. Mrs. Madison came there sick from Chicago and was taken to the house of a relative. There she showed symptoms of the disease, and the village doctor failed to diagnose the case. Dr. Wendt, the Board of Health Commissioner, has been asked to examine the woman. His reply is that it is out of his jurisdiction.

A Strike on the Stage.

BROCKTON, Mass., Oct. 10.—The first strike in the history of the Actors' Protective Union of America, which was formed last May, occurred in this city at the Park theatre last night, on account of the discharge of Ed. Joyce and Verona Carroll, vocalists and dancers. The audience was dismissed and the money refunded. After the house closed the matter was adjusted satisfactorily.

Murdered by a Jealous Lover.

SCRANTON, Pa., Oct. 10.—Frank Bezec murdered his sweetheart, Maria Kerzic, at the home of the latter's sister in Olyphant yesterday. Bezec and the girl came to America last Saturday from Bohemia. Jealously prompted the crime, the girl having announced her intention of marrying an old lover who had preceded her to this country.

Another Victim of the Wreck.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 10.—Engineer Sam Smith died here yesterday, adding another victim to the list of those who were killed in the wreck of the Washington and Chattanooga limited last Sunday. Mail agent Tucker will not live and three more of the injured are in a dangerous condition.

Fierce Storms in Florida.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 10.—The western portion of Florida was swept by the gulf storm, but it is impossible to ascertain the extent of the damage, as the wires to the west are down. The storm is supposed to have been severe between Tallahasse and Pensacola. The loss to farmers will be heavy.

An Erie County Tragedy.

BUFFALO, Oct. 10.—Louis Kessler shot and killed his wife Annie while the latter was at lunch with her mother and then blew his own brains out, near Holland village, Erie county. The couple had for some time been separated and were on bad terms.

Convention of Railway Trackmen.

OTTAWA, Oct. 10.—The second annual convention of the Brotherhood of Railway Trackmen of Canada was in progress here yesterday. About fifty delegates are in attendance. They come from the far Pacific to the Atlantic.

NO CLUE TO THE MYSTERY

The Attempted Murder of Young Westwood Puzzles the Police.

SEEKING A MOTIVE FOR THE DEED

The Young Man's Relatives Say They Know of No Reason for the Crime—He is Said to Have Made a Statement Which the Authorities Are Keeping Quiet—The Boy at the Point of Death.

TORONTO, Oct. 10.—An absence of motive is puzzling the detectives who are looking for the person who shot Frank Westwood on Saturday night. The victim is lying in a precarious condition, while the officers are scurrying about looking for a clue. No one who could possibly wish harm to the young man has been found. His father and his acquaintances vouch for the reputation of the lad, whilst his comrades and chums know of no entanglements, and the police are unable to ascribe a motive for such a deed. As time passes the mystery deepens. The slight threads of evidence are becoming tangled by tales that were born in the imaginative faculties of gossip. The police are not even decided whether it is a man or woman who did the shooting.

The detective department has been hard at work on the case, notwithstanding the fact that they have not shown the results yet. Every clue that bears on its face a degree of probability is traced to its source. Many people weave hearsay gossip with a gifted imagination and bother both detectives and reporters with the impossible results. Like all puzzles, it may prove the most simple form of mystery when it is solved. The police argue that the crime was committed either by a crazy person or by a person with a motive. The first theory they have counted out of the calculation, and they are looking for some person with a motive. A lad of nineteen summers is not likely to inspire anyone, even a frenzied youth or a girl with a passion that would be productive of such a mad crime. When the lad is a sturdy, fine-looking young fellow, free of all visible vice, and a favorite in the circle where he moves, the search for a motive becomes still harder.

It is said that the boy has made a statement to the detectives which they, for some reason, are keeping quiet at present. It would seem from this to be beyond all doubt that there are circumstances connected with the case which the family are desirous of keeping quiet. If a statement has been made, as is rumored, interesting developments may be expected.

The boy is hovering between life and death and little hope is entertained for his recovery. The rumor that the vital spark had gone out was circulated throughout the city, and on the strength of this a coroner's warrant had been issued for an inquest. This action has been subjected to severe comment as it is the duty of the coroner in such cases to thoroughly investigate before issuing his warrant.

DECISIONS IN THE SUPREME COURT.

The London Betting Case—The Landslide at Quebec Citadel.

OTTAWA, Oct. 10.—A number of judgments were given in the Supreme Court yesterday, but the "power to prohibit" case was not touched. It is held over until next week.

An important case deciding as to the liability of the Crown in the landslide which occurred at the Citadel of Quebec some years ago was disposed of. The city of Quebec sued the Crown to recover damages. The court held by three to two that the Crown was not liable. The case will likely be carried to the Privy Council.

In the London election betting case, as to the result of the Carling and Hyman election, between Trebilcock and Walsh, the court held that Walsh, who was the stakeholder of a $1,000 bet between Richards and Trebilcock, ought not to pay the bet over, as betting was illegal. Trebilcock sued Walsh as to paying over the amount, and the court below held with him. The judgment was reversed, Taschereau dissenting.

Another important case whereby the subsidy to the Hereford Railway Company had been diverted to pay the workmen engaged in constructing the road. The company sued the Quebec Government for doing so. The case was decided in favor of the Government.

Charged With Firing Coal Sheds.

NIAGARA FALLS, Oct. 10.—Coulson's coal shed was discovered in a blaze by men working in the G.T.R. yards. They promptly manned the Company's fire appliances and soon had the fire under control. Meanwhile the police had arrested a young man named Connolly who resides near the coal shed and who has been twice arrested before for setting fire to the shed and Buckley's furniture ware rooms adjoining. On each occasion the police were unable to furnish sufficient evidence to convict. They claim on this occasion Connolly was seen to remove oiled waste from some cars on the M.C.R. tracks and take it in a direction leading to the coal shed. As soon as the fire was discovered the police ran to Connoly's house and found him lying on the bed in an intoxicated condition with but part of his clothing removed and with hands stained from handling the oil waste. He will have a hearing by Magistrate Hill on Saturday.

Trial of the Conductors.

MONTREAL, Oct. 10.—The case of the Grand Trunk conductors, Stone, Mulligan, Defries and Tamblin, charged with defrauding the company by "knocking down" fares, was commenced in the police court yesterday. High Constable Bissonnette, of Montreal, was examined and related the particulars of the arrest. He produced the valises found in the possession of the accused at the time of their arrest, and an examination was made of their contents before the court. Nothing of an incriminating nature was found, the only article of use being some packages of tickets which were filed as exhibits.

Nine Hop-Pickers Killed.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—A waggon containing a party of hop-pickers started to cross the railroad tracks at Chatham when a train, which could not be seen owing to a dense fog, struck the vehicle. Nine persons were instantly killed, and all the others more or less seriously injured.

Orange Crop Damaged by a Cyclone.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 10.—A telegram has been received from Port Eads to the effect that the orange crop in that vicinity was damaged one-third by the storm. The wind had attained a velocity of 84 miles an hour when the guage broke.

Wife Murder and Suicide.

MARBLE ROCK, Ia., Oct. 10.—Geo. Reams murdered his wife yesterday in a horribly brutal manner, cutting her throat from ear to ear. He then severed his own windpipe. Domestic infelicity was the cause.

USE SURPRISE SOAP ON WASH DAY; AND EVERY DAY.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

TORONTO, Oct. 10, 1894.

The Grand Trunk Railway's return of traffic for the week ending October 6 show a decrease for the week this year of $51,093.

On the street 400 bushels of wheat sold at 52 cents for white, 50 to 51 for red and 50 for goose; 1,000 of barley at 43 to 48; 200 of peas at 57 to 58, and 500 oats at 30 to 31. Outside prices are unchanged.

Wheat was weak in Chicago, December closing 1-8c and cash 1-2 lower. The bears had complete control of the corn market and forced the price down. Oats were weak.

In the East Buffalo live stock market, when all in, the offerings were 37 cars including 14 cars of Canadas. Canada lambs closed dull with some sales of good at $4.10 to $4.15 per cwt. and of common to fair at $3.75 to $4.

The settlement in London disclosed a reduced bull account and was easily arranged. The tone was dull. Americans were flat. Prices closed at the lowest. South Americans were exceptionally firm.

Evidence of a carefully concerted plan to shake the New York market for securities was further visible. The professional contingent bent its efforts against Louisville, General Electric and St. Paul. In the afternoon appearances suggested some considerable buying in of shorts, but the market closed extremely tame. There was nothing in the day's outside news to influence prices.

Killed on the Grand Trunk.

LINDSAY, Ont., Oct. 10.—While Mr. John Free was driving across the tracks of the Grand Trunk railway, near the freight shed, the shunting engine with two flat cars attached backed into Free's waggon, throwing him out, and one of the cars ran over his body, killing him instantly. It appears that just before Mr. Free saw the engine his horses became restive and he was unable to hold them.

The Ahr Valley.

It is becoming the custom among European travellers to stop at Remagen on the Rhine, and make a little excursion to the beautiful Valley of the Ahr, with its picturesque villages along the vine clad slope. Here is also located the spring from which flows that world wide favorite "Apollinaris Water." At Neuenahr, in the valley, the river Ahr is very beautiful, and one can find few more quaintly attractive spots than the Upper Gate at Ahrweiler, or the old mill at Heppingen.

A tax on dogs was levied in Rome during the reign of Nero.

For Over Fifty Years

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by druggists throughout the world. 17d&wly

In the time of Queen Anne soap was taxed £28 per ton.

DEAR SIRS.—I have used Yellow Oil for two or three years, and think it has no equal for croup. Mrs. J. S. O'Brien, Huntsville, Ont.

The tithes in England amounted to £4,050,000 a year.

Dyspepsia and Indigestion.—C. W. Snow & Co., Syracuse, N.Y., writes: "Please send us ten gross of Pills. We are selling more of Parmelee's Pills than any other Pill we keep. They have a great reputation for the cure of Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint." Mr. Chas. A. Smith, Lindsay, writes: "Parmelee's Pills are an excellent medicine. My sister has been troubled with severe headache, but these pills have cured her."

Russia raises $1,5000,000 a year by the sale of passports.

THAT TIRED, LANGUID FEELING and dull headache is very disagreeable. Take two of Carter's Little Liver Pills before retiring, and you will find relief. They never fail to do good.

FACE LIKE A BURN

Bloody Water Oozed Out Constantly. No Peace Day or Night. Doctors Failed. Cured by Cuticura.

My child's disease, which was the worst kind of Eczema, started on one cheek like a ringworm. It spread and itched so the poor little fellow had no peace night or day. Then it started on the other cheek and chin, until all were raw as a piece of beefsteak, like a burn where you would rub off the skin, and bloody water oozed out constantly. His sufferings were terrible I know, although he was but six months old and could not tell how he suffered. I tied his hands that he would not scratch, then he would rub his poor little cheeks on his shoulders to relieve the intense itching. I had as good a doctor as was in Philadelphia, but he failed to relieve him. I read of the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and at once purchased them. Strange to say that very night he rested without scratching his face, and from that on he improved and soon was entirely cured. I would like anyone suffering from this terrible disease to see my boy, who is in his twelfth year now. His complexion is as clear and smooth as can be. This is an unsolicited testimonial, and every word is true. I thank God for my child's recovery, and I thank the manufacturer of CUTICURA.

MRS. E. S. GAMBLE,
852 N. Forty-Second St., Philadelphia.

CUTICURA WORKS WONDERS

And have effected the most wonderful cures of torturing and disfiguring skin and scalp diseases of infants and children ever recorded. They afford instant relief, permit rest and sleep, and point to a speedy cure when the best physicians and all other remedies fail.

Sold throughout the world. Price, CUTICURA, 75c.; SOAP, 35c.; RESOLVENT, $1.50. POTTER DRUG AND CHEM. CORP., Sole Proprietors, Boston.

☞ "How to Cure Skin Diseases," mailed free.

BABY'S Skin and Scalp purified and beautified by CUTICURA SOAP. Absolutely pure.

IF TIRED, ACHING, NERVOUS Mothers know the comfort, strength and vitality in Cuticura Anti-Pain Plasters, they would never be without them.

SAFE — BRISTOL'S SUGAR-COATED

EASY TO TAKE

INFALLIBLE

VEGETABLE PILLS

PROMPT

LAKEHURST SANITARIUM OAKVILLE, ONT.

For treatment and cure of ALCHOLISM, MORPHINE HABIT, TOBACCO HABIT AND NERVOUS DISEASES.

The system employed at this institution is the familiar Double Chloride of Gold System. Through its agency over 200,000 Slaves to the use of these poisons have been emancipated in the last fourteen years. Lakehurst Sanitarium is the oldest Institution of the kind in Canada, and has a well earned reputation to maintain in this line of medicine. In its whole history there is not an instance of failure to remove the appetite for these poisons. In its whole history there is not an instance of any after ill effects from the treatment. Hundreds of happy homes in all parts of the Dominion bear eloquent witness to the efficacy of a course of treatment with us. For terms and full information write

THE SECRETARY,
28 Bank of Commerce Chambers,
aug7d3m34w3m) Toronto, Ont.

WALL - STREET!

OPERATE SUCCESSFULLY IN WALL ST.

THROUGH OUR

Co-Operative R.R. Stock Syndicate.

Large Profits Realized with Minimum Risks.

"PROSPECTUS AND DAILY MARKET LETTER" MAILED FREE.

HIGHEST REFERENCE.

WEINMAN & CO.

Stock and Grain Broker,

NO. 41 BROADWAY, NEW YORK CITY.

[d Oct. 3st, 1m eod

PETTYJOHN'S

CALIFORNIA BREAKFAST FOOD

Dyspeptics can eat this food.

It is particularly adapted for children and persons of sedentary habits.

It is made from Pacific coast wheat hulled and crushed by improved machinery.

It can be easily prepared for breakfast, as this crushing process makes it soft and tender and easy to cook

Ask your physician which is best for you to eat, oats or wheat

Pettijohn's California Breakfast Food is sold in packages by

BENMORE & BENSON.

HAPPY HOME RANGES.

Best in the Market.

—ALSO—

A Full Line of

Art Garland

and

Famous Heaters.

—(o)—

Wm. McGIE,

Next to Nathan Jones.

Telephone 38. Front St

CONSUMPTION

is averted, or if too late to avert it it is often cured and always relieved by

Scott's Emulsion

the Cream of Cod-liver Oil. Cures Coughs, Colds and Weak Lungs. Physicians, the world over, endorse it.

Don't be deceived by Substitutes!

Scott & Bowne, Belleville. All Druggists. 50c. & $1.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, WEDNESDAY, OCT 10

Montreal Markets.

MONTREAL, Oct. 8.—Grain—The demand for peas is gradually falling off, and although the supplies are quite limited prices are easy. Business has been done at 67c afloat for No. 2. Canadian peas in England are quoted at 5s 1d. Oats are quiet also, but prices are well maintained. Barley shows little activity and the same can be said of rye and buckwheat. Wheat No. 1, hard, 65c to 66c; wheat, No. 2, hard, 63c to 64c; corn, duty paid, 65c to 69c; peas, per 66 lbs, afloat, 67c to 67½c; oats, per 34 lbs, store, new, 34c to 35c; rye, No. 2, 52½c to 53c; barley, feed, 45c to 46c; barley, malting 50½c to 52c.

LIVE STOCK MARKETS.

The situation at present is absolutely void of a single encouraging feature. Dealers are generally inclined to think that sheep shippers will eventually overdo the market by shipping too many and certainly if the statistics at hand are reliable the expectation is fully justified. A prominent Boston dealer says in a letter that while 8,000 sheep went out of Boston last week he fully expects to see between 8,000 and 9,000 and probably more, go out this week. A very conservative estimate places the probable New York shipment at 3,000 head, and these added to the Montreal shipments present a fair idea of the immensity of the outflow. It is certain that the English market cannot stand the excessive supplies much longer, and the present fair profits before a great while may develop into losses. Cables to day quoted prime Canadian sheep at 6½d in Liverpool and 6d to 6½d in London.

There is very little doing in cattle. There are still a good many to come forward from the Northwest, however, and freights are firm in consequence. Insurance premiums are advancing. There were about 500 head of butchers' cattle, 130 calves, and 1,200 sheep and lambs, offered at the East End abattoir to day. Butchers were present in considerable numbers, but trade in cattle was very dull, excepting for the best animals, which were in active demand at about 3¾c per lb.; pretty good animals sold at from 3c to 3½c, but much the greater number of cattle sold at from 2½c to 3c per lb., with the leaner beasts at from 2c to 2½c per lb. Calves sell at about former rates, common veals selling at from $3 to $5 each, and good ones at from $6 to $10 each. Shippers are paying about 3¼c per lb. for good large sheep, which is considerably lower than is being paid for shipping sheep in Toronto. The other sheep sell at from 2c to 3¼c per pound and lambs at from 2½c to 3½c per lb. Fat hogs are in moderate supply and bring higher prices, or from 5½c to 5¾c per lb.

Cheese Markets

UTICA, Oct. 8.—Cheese sales to-day:—120 boxes at 9½c, 4,340 at 10c, 160 at 10⅛c, 3,920 at 10¼c, 1,430 at 10⅜c, 700 at 10 1 2c; 93 packages of creamery butter at 24c to 24½c, bulk at high price; market strong, and somewhat higher.

LITTLE FALLS, Oct. 8.—Cheese sales today were: 1,328 boxes at 9¾c, 3,326 at 10c, 344 boxes of dairy at 9 1-2c to 10¼c, 1,060 at commission; 60 packages of dairy butter at 22c to 23c, 52 packages of creamery butter at 23c.

BARLEY MARKET.

OSWEGO, Oct. 8, 11 a.m.—Barley market quiet: No. 1 Canada, 64c; No. 2 Canada, 62c; No. 3 Milwaukee, 57c asked. Stock in store, 210,000 bush. Shipments 50,000 bushels.

CORBYVILLE.

October 8.—Mrs. R. L. Hayes and Miss Maggie Viant, of Consecon, spent Sunday at Mr. P. Goodwin's.—Mr. Wm. Fairman and bride, of Havelock, are visiting at the home of the groom's father, Mr. S. Fairman. We join with Will's many friends in this vicinity in wishing the newly wedded pair every happiness.—W. R. Taylor, Sr., has been ailing for a week with his old enemy, erysipelas.

AN OCCASIONAL CORRESPONDENT.

SPECIAL MENTION

DR. LOW'S PLEASANT WORM SYRUP removes worms of all kinds from children or adults.

THAT HACKING COUGH can be quickly cured by Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam. Price 25c.

ALWAYS AVOID HARSH PURGATIVE PILLS. They first make you sick and then leave you constipated. Carter's Little Liver Pills regulate the bowels and make you well. Dose, one pill.

ALL CASES OF WEAK OR LAME BACK, backache, rheumatism, will find relief by wearing one of Carter's Smartweed and Belladonna Backache Plasters. Price 25 cents. Try them.

No person should go from home without a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial in their possession, as change of water, cooking, climate, etc., frequently brings on summer complaint, and there is nothing like being ready with a sure remedy at hand, which oftentimes saves great suffering, and frequently valuable lives. This Cordial has gained for itself a wide spread reputation for affording prompt relief from all summer complaints.

THE GREAT FAMILY MEDICINE OF THE AGE.—There is probably, no family medicine so favorably and so widely known as DAVIS PAIN KILLER. It is extensively used in India, China, Turkey—and, in every civilized country on earth, not only to counteract the climatic influences, but for the cure of bowel troubles, Cholera and Fevers. It is used internally for all diseases of the bowels, and externally for wounds, burns, bruises, &c. Sold by druggists generally. 26c. for a big bottle

PALE CHILDREN

With poor appetites and frequent coughs, should be given a few bottles of . . . . . Campbell's

Skrei Cod Liver Oil.

Doctors recommend it because it is pure and easy to take and to digest.

Correspondence.

Whilst correspondents will be accorded space for the expression of their ideas on topics of public interest, it must be in all cases understood that the views so expressed are simply those of the correspondents themselves.

McCullough vs. Anderson.

To the Editor of the Intelligencer.

SIR.—The statements contained in the letter signed by Edward McCullough, touching the above case and published in your paper of the 23rd of September last, are false and untrue, and written, I believe, to create a false impression.

Now, as to the character of the horse "Jo" being vicious, or as to harnessing him and "leaving the harness on him night and day for a week," his evidences which he produced in court proved all such statements to be false. And as to my house, I never ordered him out of it nor authorized anyone else to to do so. He was to have the house for a year and he moved into it on the 22nd of February, 1893, and continued to live there peaceably and unmolested till the 15th of August, 1894, and then left it of his own free will. And if he lacked means enough to support him decently it was because his wages were garnisheed in my hands and taken by the court to pay one of his old debts contracted before he came to work for us.

I am, sir, very truly yours,
WM. ANDERSON.

Mountain View, Oct. 8th, 94.

To the Editor of the Intelligencer.

DEAR SIR,—Mr. Elias Wallbridge has kindly allowed Mr. Henry Pretty to put up a small shanty on what is known as Nightingale's point, in the immediate vicinity of the maskinonge fishing waters.

Mr. Pretty offers the use of shanty and utensils to storm-bound fishers and hunters, expecting, of course, no damage be done to shanty or contents. But some vandal visitors have already committed the indictable offence of breaking in shutter, drawing back staples, &c., and some envious persons calling themselves sportsmen threaten to burn up the place. These parties may find themselves in a "hot box" if such threat is carried out, as no steps will be spared to trace the act to the guilty ones, and not allowed to drop, as was the case when Harry Day's shanty was burned, viz. because suspicion rested on some respectable party.

Yours,
H. PRETTY.

Belleville, Oct. 8th, 1894.

Mrs. White's Reply.

Following is the copy of Mrs. John White's reply to the resolution of the L.C.A. of East Hastings:

ROSLIN, Oct. 10, 1894.

To the Members of the Liberal Conservative Association of East Hastings.

DEAR FRIENDS.—I desire to convey to you my sincere and heartfelt thanks for your kind and sympathetic letter received on the death of my husband. It is very comforting to find that in our bereavement we have the sympathy of those whom we know he deemed his friends. It is indeed a sad trial for us, but we know "He doeth all things well," and we can but bow in submission to the will of Him who is Lord of Life and Lord of Death. Again thanking you, I am

Yours very truly,
ESTER WHITE.

COOPER.

The grass is showing a spring appearance after the rain we had last week.—There was no school for three days last week. Our Pedagogue, Mr. P. D. Vankleek is laid over with a heavy cold. We are hoping for his speedy recovery.—Wm. Fuller Esq., had his brother visiting him from Michigan last week. Mrs. McCallum from Fort William, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Peter Vankleek.—Mr. Mallett is starting services in a vacant house on the farm of Mr. Jas. Trotter, the house was occupied at one time by Mr. Geo. Cuttle.—Mr. H. M. Phair is building new cow stables, the prospect for cheese is great enough to pay for fixing up stables and feeding cows as well.—The Rathbun Co. are sending in their limits a lot of men, they intend to shove a good business in the lumber line this winter.—The hunters are counting the days until time to slay the deer, which seem to be very plentiful in this locality.—Mr. Ed. Gordon killed a bear last week and saw two more but failed to kill them.—Robt. Phillips is catching a number of fish.

PLAINFIELD.

The West Methodist church Sabbath School, under the management of Mr. John Clark, Superintendent, is in good marching order and well attended. There has lately been a rearrangement of the staff of officers and teachers. For the last month the school has been steadily increasing in numbers. Our teachers and officers expect to attend the great Sabbath School Convention which will shortly be held in your fair city.—Mr. F. D. Hicks left on Saturday last for Toronto, where he expects to stay till Xmas.—Miss Blanche Outwaters, of Phillipsburg, P.Q., has been spending a few days here visiting friends and relatives. Mr. Marley Gould, who has been spending the summer at Sidney Crossing, was home on Sunday.—Mr. Robert Thompson is home from the Georgian Bay. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Barnes, Miss Annie and Master Harry from Canifton spent Sunday at Mr. H. O. Garrison's.—Miss Effie Baugley, and Miss Jarvis, from Madoc, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. Badgley on Sunday.—Mr. and Miss Arbuckle, of Hungerford, were visiting friends at Mr. Henry Thompson's.—The agricultural shows are over and the nights are getting longer. The order of the nights now will be apple cuts and husking bees. Also we will soon hear those announcements of socials, tea meetings, etc.—COM.

FOXBORO.

The tile works of Mr. A. Reed have once more closed. This has been an exceedingly good season for tile making, he having burned seven kilns or about 250,000 tile. The men, however, will be kept at work drawing clay for next year's manufacture.—Mr. Reed and a party from Belleville, are spending the week fishing and hunting on Crow Lake, near Marmora.—Mrs. A. Hubble has returned home after spending a few days in Port Hope.—V. M. Purdy, of Keen, Ont., spent Sunday with us.—Our pastor, Rev. Mr. Adams, is once more with us. His health is very much improved and he has come to stay this time.

Effect of the French Treaty. Clarets at Half Price.

The Bordeaux Claret Company established at Montreal in view of the French Treaty, are now offering the Canadian connoisseur beautiful wines at $3.00 and $4.00 per case of 12 large quart bottles. These are equal to any $6.00 and $8.00 wines sold on their label. Every swell hotel and club are now handling them, and they are recommended by the best physicians as being perfectly pure and highly adapted for invalids' use. Address Bordeaux Claret Company, 30 Hospital Street, Montreal.

114 18t Weds&Sats.

Lane's Medicine Moves the Bowels Each Day

In order to be healthy this is necessary.

TRAPPED IN A BURNING MINE

Five Men Meet a Horrible Fate in a Pennsylvania Colliery.

RESULT OF DISREGARDING ORDERS

The Men Were Repairing the Shaft When Boards Saturated With Oil Caught Fire From a Lamp—The Interior of the Shaft a Seething Mass of Flame—Valuable Coal Ruined.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., Oct. 10.—The most disastrous mine fire in the history of the anthracite regions of Pennsylvania started at the Luke Fidler colliery from the naked lamp of a workman.

Five persons are known to be dead. They are Irwin Buffington, carpenter; George Brown, miner; John Cierze, laborer; Michael Buzofiskie, laborer, and Anthony Cobert, driver boy.

Buffington, with a number of other carpenters, was at work half way down the shaft calking up holes in the side of the brattice which connects the shaft with the air passage. It is the rule when doing this work for the men to use lanterns, but in this case the rule was disregarded and naked lamps were substituted. Detecting a leak Buffington placed his lamp to the draft and the flame immediately caught the boards, which were saturated with oil, and was taken into the air chamber. Realizing the consequences of his act the man at once started for the bottom of the shaft to notify the workmen employed there of their danger, his companions in the meantime rushing up the shaft to safety.

When Buffington had notified the workmen below he stopped to exchange his rubber boots for a pair of shoes and the delay in doing this cost him his life. He staggered to within thirty feet of the door of a passage-way which led to the open air but here he was overcome by smoke and fell. His body was found in the morning. The other bodies are still in the mine.

The fire had been scarcely a minute started before up through the air passage shot a sheet of flame 20 feet high. In three minutes the fan house was a mass of blackened cinders. The flames by this time were creating havoc with the workings below and in addition to the timbers which were nearly all on fire, the beds of anthracite were beginning to ignite and the whole mine in the vicinity of the bottom of the shaft were soon a seething furnace.

The Shamokin fire department began pouring water into the mine within an hour after the fire started, but thus far has not produced any perceptible effect.

One thousand men were employed at the Luke Fidler colliery and another thousand were given employment at the Gimlet and Hickory Ridge collieries, all of whom are thrown out of work. This valuable coal property is practically ruined, entailing a loss of several hundred thousand dollars. Considering the rapidity with which the fire did its work, it is considered fortunate that no more lives were lost.

Old Rates on Pig Lead Restored.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—Paragraphs 165 and 166 of the new tariff law, which reduce the duties on pig lead from 2 cents a pound to 1 cent and on lead dross from 1 1-2 cents to 1 cent a pound, contained a provision that the old rates should be restored "in case any foreign country shall impose an export duty upon lead ore and lead dross or silver ores containing lead exported to the United States." A circular to collectors of customs, issued by the Treasury Department, advises them that "Italy and Spain impose export duties on lead ores and that Japan imposes an export duty on lead," and consequently the old rates of the McKinley law will apply to lead imports from those countries.

Spiritualists in Convention.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—The National Spiritualists' Association of the United States met in convention at the Masonic Temple yesterday, with about 150 delegates present, half of whom are women. The annual report of the president, Harrison D. Barrett, was presented. The report said that nearly 100 local organizations are now connected with the national body. Mediums have been arrested in several States and subjected to persecution, and Prof. Barrett recommended the formation of a defence fund for their protection. He recommended the adoption of a vigorous missionary policy.

Death of Earl Gray.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—Earl Gray, the third Earl of that name, died at his country seat, Howick House, Bilton, Northumberland, aged 92. Henry Gray, third Earl Gray, was born in 1802, and was the only son of the second Earl, the eminent statesman and reformer. The deceased in 1832 married a daughter of the late Sir Joseph Copley. He leaves no children. Earl Gray has been Under-Secretary for the Colonies, Under-Secretary for the Home Department, Secretary of War and Secretary of State for the Colonies. He was a lifelong friend of Mr. Gladstone.

Tried for Reuben Tew's Death.

HAMILTON, Oct. 10.—The manslaughter case against Francis Hancock and Charles Carter was tried yesterday. The prisoner are young men, both living in Hamilton. On June 23 when Reuben Tew, a Greensville farmer, was driving home from Hamilton his rig collided with a rig driven by the prisoners. The shaft of the prisoners' rig pierced Tew's groin and he died shortly afterwards. Mr. Clute, of Belleville, crown prosecutor, said the crown would endeavor to prove the young men were driving furiously and were responsible for the accident. The jury, however, returned a verdict of not guilty.

Filgiano Thought to Have Suicided.

HAMILTON, Oct. 10.—The friends of Fred. A. Filgiano, the missing cashier of the G.T.R. freight department here, are getting very anxious about him and believe he has committed suicide, as no person has heard from him since last Thursday when he disappeared. It will be two or three weeks before the auditor has completed his work on the books and until then the exact amount of the shortage will not be known.

Neale to Sail To-Morrow.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—Neale, the absconding Canadian customs official, was remanded again at Bow street until to-morrow. Inspector O'Leary, of the Dominion police, is expected to arrive here from Ottawa, and in his custody Neale will probably be returned to Canada by the Sardinian, which sails to-morrow.

Liberals Meet at Harrowsmith.

HARROWSMITH, Ont., Oct. 9.—At the Liberal convention held here yesterday for Addington, George W. Dawson, the present member, was unanimously chosen to contest the county for the Commons at the next general elections. The attendance of delegates was unusually small.

A Canadian Receives Foul Play.

BROCKPORT, N.Y., Oct. 10.—James Heffron, aged 30, a saloonkeeper, has been missing for several days and it was thought he had met with foul play, as he had considerable money with him. His body was found in the canal, also part of the money. He formerly lived in Canada.

Brampton Gas House Burned.

BRAMPTON, Oct. 10.—The gas house was gutted by fire and work cannot be resumed for several weeks. The first gas was being made since spring. The loss is not heavy.

His Pipe Caused His Death.

MONTREAL, Oct. 10.—Pierre Dufault, aged 78, died from the effect of burns. A hot coal dropped from the old man's pipe and his clothing caught fire.

EXILED FROM HOME.

It is said that at this time there are twenty one ex-sovereigns residing in different parts of Europe, none of them in the countries they once ruled.

Pius IX., the late pontiff, was driven from Rome during the stormy days of 1848. He fled in disguise to Gaeta, and remained there until restored by foreign aid.

Emperor Charles V. lived in voluntary exile during the last years of his life. His chief occupation in his retirement was devising new viands to tempt his gluttonous appetite.

A great many of the popes have been forced into exile, generally by emeutes among the turbulent Roman populace. A few were restored, but most of them died in exile.

Marie de Medici, the mother of three queens, was driven into exile by the influence and address of Cardinal Richelieu. She lived in great poverty, often wanting the necessaries of life.

Jerome Bonaparte remained in exile from 1815 to the revolution of 1848, when he was restored to his military rank and made governor of the Invalides. He died in Paris in 1860.

Whole families have sometimes been exiled at one time. The Stuart family was twice driven from England, and at different times the Bourbons and the Bonapartes have been expelled from France.

MUCH IN LITTLE.

Understand your antagonist before you answer him.—Anon.

Better to go to bed supperless than to get up in debt.—Spanish Proverb.

The world would be a place of peace if men were all peacemakers.—Ruskin.

The more one speaks of himself the less he likes to hear another talked of.—Lavater.

What seems to us the merest accident springs from the deepest source of destiny.—Schiller.

Content can soothe, where'er by fortune placed; can rear a garden in a desert waste.—H. K. White.

And yet I know out of the dark must grow, sooner or later, whatever is fair, for the heavens have willed it so.—Anon.

All men have their frailties; and whoever looks for a friend without imperfections will never find what he seeks.—Cyrus.

It is far more important to me to preserve an unblemished conscience than to compass any object however great.—Channing.

It was as if the spirit of life in nature were but witholding any too precipitate revelation of itself, in its slow, wise, maturing work.—W. Pater.

RELIGION AND REFORM.

The rate of growth of the Christians in India is more than double that of the population.

Ground will be broken this fall for the erection of the American Methodist university at Washington.

It is stated that out of the forty thousand men employed by the railroads of Canada and United States only about one thousand attend church regularly.

The evangelistic work conducted by Rev. John McNeill in Africa has been eminently successful. He addressed the natives through interpreters.

An anti cigarette crusade has been begun in Jersey city, where about fourteen hundred pupils of the schools are now wearing the badge of the Anti-Cigarette league

The Church Missionary society has opened a medical mission station at Bunnu, on the borders of Afganistan, a country which has been as firmly closed to missions as Tibet.

The Christian Herald has headed a subscription for the relief of the Coreans, with one thousand barrels of flour. The Corean minister at Washington has expressed his gratitude to the paper.

THE WOMEN.

Lady Brooke has about twenty small Japanese spaniels, worth $300 each.

Mrs. George W. Childs, widow of the Philadelphia editor, has arranged for the building of a palatial mansion in Washington.

Mrs. S. E. Taylor, a Georgia preacher, is said to surpass Sam Jones in the plainness and persuasiveness of her pulpit eloquence.

The widow of Senator Hearst, of California, is said to be the most heavily insured woman in America. She has policies amounting to $300,000 on her life.

TRY.

In the water for purple and blue callcoes, soda added.

Purifying jars from grease, by soaking in strong soda water.

For washing ceilings blackened by a kerosene lamp, soda water.

In the rinsing water for pink or green calicoes, vinegar added.

Washing an oilcloth with a flannel and warm water, wiping dry, and rubbing a little skim milk over.—Good Housekeeping.

NAMED BY THE PUBLIC.

The Duke of Wellington was called the Achilles of England, from the victory at Waterloo.

James Fenimore Cooper has been called the Scott of the Seas, from his stories of marine life.

Charles I. was called the Man of Blood by the Puritans and the Royal Martyr by the Royalists.

Sir Philip Sydney was the Poet of Kissing because of the amatory character of much of his verse.

Henry Fielding was called the Prince of Novelists, from his skill in depicting character in fiction.

Haydn was called the Father of Symphony, from the prominence he gave that form of composition.

Charles James Fox was called the Man of the People, from his generally taking the opposition in politics.

OF GENERAL INTEREST.

In New York city it takes people from twelve to sixteen seconds to get into and out of cars. In London it requires thirty seconds.

In the sixteenth century no lady was considered in full dress unless she had a mirror at her breast. It was oval in shape, about four by six inches in size.

The catacombs of Rome contain the remains of about six million human beings, and those of Paris about three million. The latter were formerly stone quarries.

London bridge is nine hundred and twenty feet long, fifty six feet wide and fifty five feet in height. It has five semi-elliptical arches, the centre one being one hundred and fifty feet.

BORROWED MIRTH.

Fortune Teller—Your husband will be rich, handsome and clever. Brown (to fiancee)—By Jove! wonderful! How did she guess it?—From Sketch.

Debutante—Don't you ever gossip or talk scandal? Woman Hater—No, I never discuss women.—N.Y. Journal.

Mrs. Hale (just married)—Maria, we will have eels as a second course for dinner. Maria—How much ought I to get, ma'am? "I think twelve yards will be sufficient."—Vogue.

Amateur Poet—It was at the time when my fiancee jilted me that I discovered my poetic vein and— Good Friend—Yes, yes; a misfortune never comes alone.—Fliegende Blaetter.

Ada—Flo was just going down for the third time when Dr. Watson dived off a yacht and caught her. Grace—And saved her life! Wasn't that wonderful? Ada—Yes, for a doctor.—Life.

Mistress—Did you tell the lady I was out? Ward—Yes, ma'am. Mistress—Did she seem to have any doubts about it? Ward—No, ma'am. She said she knew you wasn't.—Harlem Life.

"But what is this new story like?" "Like? Never was anything like it. That's the reason it's so delightfully absurd, don't you know. There isn't a natural character or probable situation in it. Oh, you must read it."—Boston Transcript.

ODDS AND ENDS.

The habit that merchants have of fixing prices at $4.99, $3.49, 99 cents, etc., has called attention to the need of a 9-cent piece as a convenience and to save time lost in waiting for change.

An original certificate of membership in the Order of Cincinnati, issued to a signer of the declaration of Independence and signed by George Washington, was recently sold at Wilmington, Del., for $32.

A plant in Sumatra called the Rafflesia Arnoldi is said to bear the largest flower in the world. Some of the largest are thirty-six inches in diameter, and the central cup will hold six quarts of water.

Most of the so called marble houses of the Rome of Augustus were not such in reality. The plasterer's art had then reached a high state of perfection, and gave a stucco the appearance of the finest marble.

A Safe Stimulant.

Hot milk is one of the very best stimulants for a person weak from hunger or long fasting.

SIDNEY CROSSING.

Oct. 8.—The weather continues cold, and the farmers are beginning to think about their winter's fuel.—Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Vandervoort have been enjoying the past week with friends in Picton, Deseronto, &c. The "Governor" has many warm friends, who are always delighted to see him.—Mr. Will. Hadrell, cheese-maker at Foxboro, spent Sunday under the parental roof.—Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Chisholm, of Foxboro, were visiting friends here on Sunday.—Mr. Austin Hogle unfortunately had two sheep killed last week, while eight of Mr. Wanamaker's flock were badly mangled. The depredators, which prove to be two ferocious looking canines, are being watched for by enraged sheep owners.—Mr. and Mrs. Emory Finkle are visiting friends in Rawdon.—Miss Macfarlene, of Keene, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Wm. Boulsteel.—Mrs. Massey, organizer of Mission Band, addressed the Sidney Crossing M. B. on Sunday. She is exceedingly enthusiastic in her efforts for the promotion of Mission work, and her address was overflowing with many bright and encouraging suggestions, which have inspired the workers with new zeal and courage to make the ensuing year more profitable than ever. The Band consists of 45 members, with the following officers: Minnie Fletcher Pres., Mrs. Finkle Vice-Pres., Mrs. Geo. Cox Treas., Mr. Harry Spafford Rec. Sec., Miss Gerow Cor. Sec., and Miss Carl Spafford Organist.—Miss Irene Faull, of Belleville, was the guest of Miss Annie Spafford over Sunday.—Miss Minnie Hogle, of Trenton, was visiting her sister, Miss Emma Hogle, this week.—Mr. Stanley Vandervoort has his men busily engaged unloading a car of tiles which he ordered from Foxboro last week.—Irrigation seems to be the craze just at present, as a large number of our hardy yeomen are tiling their farms. A car load of elm is also being unloaded at the station for Vandervoort's box factory.—Mr. Rightly, theological student, occupied the pulpit on Sabbath.—The apple packer was canvassing this section this week; a number of orchards were disposed of at a good price.

HILLIER.

HILLIER, Oct. 8th.—A large number from this place took in Picton fair, which was pronounced a success.—Apple pickers and packers are busy at work here. Most all of the apples here are sold by the orchard. Mr. James Alexander sold his orchard for $500, and one day last week the packers packed 50 bbls. of apples that had blown off by the recent wind storm.—The crows are becoming so destructive to corn that the people are hustling it inside.—We are having lots of rain at present and the grass and fall grain are growing fine. It is rather backward with buckwheat, however, as one shower hardly dries up before another comes.—Mr. Paul Leavens was somewhat under the weather last week. He is, however, slowly recovering.—Mr. Joseph Conkey has bought the farm formerly known as the McFaul farm, about three miles below the village, and he is busily plowing.—Mrs. James Conkey was at Wellington yesterday, and when she returned home she found, to her sorrow, that during her absence her house had caught fire from the chimney, and was burned up, with a lot of its contents, although the neighbors got out a fine lot of things, including her bedding, stove, table, etc.—Mr. John H. Young attended Roblin's Mill's fair on Friday, and secured a fine, new, gang plow, given by The Massey, Harris Manufacturing Co. for the team that could draw the biggest load, consisting of stone, piled up about four feet on a stoneboat.—Mr. and Mrs. Ervan Valeau, of Ameliasburg, spent Sunday at Mr. Levi Palmer's.—Mr. Nelson Palmer and wife and Miss Maud Flendal spent Sunday at Murray.

SPORTING NEWS

The City Rugby football team, of Kingston, have sent a challenge to the Belleville Rugby team for a match in either city but as there is no team of that description here, the challenge will have to go unanswered.

Harford Ashley will have trotting races on his half mile track at Foxboro on the 24th.

That Joyful Feeling.

With the exhilarating sense of renewed health and strength and internal cleanliness, which follows the use of Syrup of Figs, is unknown to the few who have not progressed beyond the old time medicines and the cheap substitutes sometimes offered but never excepted by the well informed.

Floor Oil Cloths . . .

We have now in stock, FLOOR OIL CLOTHS up to 24 ft. wide

. . . . FOR STOVES !

- - ALSO A LINE - -

ENGLISH OIL CLOTHS

Suitable for under Stoves at 30c. sq. yd.

NATHAN JONES.

Asthma Sufferers.

Who have in vain tried every other means of relief, should try "Schiffman's Asthma Cure." No waiting for results. Its action is immediate, direct and certain, as a single trial proves. Send to Dr. R. Schiffmann, St. Paul, Minn., for a free trial package, but ask your druggist first.

New Advetrtisemens.

TO LET.

TO LET 2 snug, warm brick houses in terrace, situated on Harriett St., West Belleville, known as Morten's, or Filliter's terrace. For terms of rent apply to R. C. Filliter, collector, or sub agent to the estate of the late H. E. Filliter. Residence at Mr. Jardin's Corner of William and Dundas Sts., East Belleville.

85d2m

Before putting up your STOVES have the

TRIMMINGS RE-PLATED

— AT THE —

BELLEVILLE PLATING WORKS

HARRIS & WALTON'S FACTORY, MILL ST.

QUINCES . . . .

Are said to be, by those who know their uses best, the nicest fruit grown.

We expect to receive regular supplies each day, also

Grapes and Peaches.

Those who may not have bought their peaches early in the season can get fully as good value now as the "Smock" variety is one of the best grown for canning or pickling, and is now the only peach in the market.

Jas. Wallace & Co.

THIS MATTER CHANGED DAILY.

WEDNESDAY, Oct. 10th.

BUSINESS.

That there is a better feeling for business prospects is evident. In the U. S. things are improving, and it is the same in Canada. Let us all now do our best, and things will soon hum.

W. FLINT JONES.

Next door to Haines & Lockett.

THERE IS A . . . . .
CONSTANT DEMAND . .
FOR . . . .

- FROM -

O

Saturday's "INTELLIGENCER"

Miss Ella Metcalfe left this morning for Huntsville, where she has secured, through the Ontario Business College, the position of book-keeper for Mr. W. E. Hutcheson, merchant, who is himself a graduate of O. B. C. Miss Metcalfe's two sisters are likewise graduates of the college. Miss Emma is book-keeper for Mr. O. B. Scantlebury of this city, and Miss Lillie is stenographer and secretary to Mr. R. Mathison, Principal of the Institution for the Deaf and Dumb.

B

C

GRAUATES.!

O. B. C Training makes young men and women independent. . . . .

Ask how you can get a CLOCK !

. . . At MINAKER'S . . .

The Men's Furnisher.

We Are . .
Busy. . . . .

Our new groceries are going with a rush, but more are arriving daily, and that's why we keep our stock fresh and wholesome. We take pride in our confectionery for it's the best money can buy and our prices are away down. See the values we offer in teas and sugars. Provisions, and flour and feed also receive our particular attention.

J. A. ELLIOTT.

Front St., Belleville.

CANADIAN PACIFIC RY.

EVERY - FRIDAY

- - FROM - -

TORONTO !

At 12:30 noon runs a —

THROUGH TOURIST CAR

— — TO — —

SEATTLE and the PACIFIC COAST.

Making 12 Hours quicker time.

Full information can be had from

S. BURROWS,

General Ticket Agent, Belleville.

-PLUMBING-

We have added to our Workmen,

MR. GEORGE JOHNSON,

Who has for the past six years been prominent on large contracts in Victoria, B. C., San Francisco, Denver, and Chicago.

— — ALSO — —

MR. EDWIN W. BISHOP,

A graduate of the New York School for Plumbing (class 92), who comes highly recommended.

With these men added to our staff, we feel sure of giving satisfactory to all in Sanitary Plumbing.

C. F. Smith & Co.

GENTLEMEN . . . .

Before ordering your Fall Clothing don't fail to take a look through

A. N. REID'S

New Fall Importations of

Scotch, English and Irish Suitings, Overcoatings, Pantings, Irish Serges, Cheviots, Hop Sackings and Black Worsteds

First Class Goods and Prices low,

Mr. Minor, our cutter, is one of the best in Ontario.

EVERY GARMENT GUARANTEED ! !

Please call and inspect our New Goods.

A. N. REID.

DON'T

Fail to see our fine display of

CANDIES

—AND—

FINE BAKERY GOODS

To morrow (Saturday).

H. C. DICKENS & SON.

P.S.—Oysters now arriving in fine order.

ALLAN LINE,

Royal Mail Steamships. Liverpool, Calling at Moville.

	From Montreal daylight	From Quebec
PARISIAN	Oct. 6	Oct. 7
MONGOLIAN	" 13	" 14
HIBERNIAN	" 20
LAURENTIAN	" 27	" 28
NUMIDIAN	Nov. 3	Nov. 3
PARISIAN	" 10	" 11

RATES OF PASSAGE.

First cabin Derry and Liverpool, $45 and upwards single; $95 and upwards return. Second cabin, Liverpool, Derry, Belfast, Glasgow, $30; return $55. Steerage at lowest rates (everything found).

All steamships except the Hibernian carry 1st cabin, 2nd cabin and steerage passengers.

STATE LINE SERVICE

NEW YORK, LONDONDERRY AND GLASGOW.

STATE OF NEBRASKA	Oct. 12
STATE OF CALIFORNIA	" 26
STATE OF NEBRASKA	Nov. 22

Cabin passage, $40 and upward, return $80 and upward; Second cabin $25. Steerage at lowest rates.

For tickets and other information apply to U. E. THOMPSON, General Ticket Agency, Bridge St., Belleville or to S. BURROWS, Agent

GLASGOW WAREHOUSE.

BELLEVILLE.

We are now showing complete lines in the following goods:

Ladies' Hygeian Underwear
Misses' Hygeian Underwear
Boys' plain and ribbed Underwear
Ladies' " " Cashmere Hose
Ladies' " " Wool Hose
Boys' " " Wool Hose
Ladies' black and colored Kid Gloves
" " " Cashmere Gloves
Ladies' Cashmere and Silk Mitts
Baby Ribbons in all makes and colors
Laces, Handkerchiefs and Corsets.

CARPETS, OILCLOTHS and CURTAINS in endless variety.

Larger lines in Canadian Staples at close cash prices.

ANDERVOORT & GIBSON,

Successors to the late J. W. Dunnet.

Belleville, Oct. 3, 1894.

P.S.—A large show case and table for sale cheap.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, WEDNESDAY, OCT. 10.

Chauncey Ashley, issuer of marriage licenses, Division Court Office, Pinnacle street or at residence over Benmore & Benson's store. d&w

CITY AND DISTRICT.

There was no police court to day.

The dredge is expected back a few days hence.

Be sure and attend Grant's cheap cash sale if you want bargains in Boots and Shoes.

Remember the West Belleville choir concert to-morrow evening, 11th inst., in the church. Come. Admission 15cts.

We were in error in stating yesterday that W. A. Morton gave himself up to the police. He was arrested by Officer Morton.

The Salvation Army would deem it a favor if citizens would raise their flags on the occasion of Gen. Booth's visit on Tuesday next.

Pure blood is absolutely necessary in order to enjoy perfect health. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood and strengthens the system.

In putting up your stove remember if the mica needs cleaning that salt mixed with vinegar makes an excellent preparation to do it with.

A pick-pocket named George Thomas, was sentenced to two years in the Central, at Peterborough yesterday, for extracting eight dollars from a farmer's pocket at the recent fair in that town.

A recent letter from Barrie says: "The demand for men to work in the lumber woods this fall is greater than for a number of years back. This will have a good effect on our business generally."

The office of Meldrum Bros., at Auburn near Peterborough, was entered by cracksmen on Monday night while men were working in another part of the building. They picked the combination of the safe and got away with $150.

To remove the constipated habit the only safe treatment is a course of Ayer's Pills, followed by a laxative dose. Most other cathartics do more harm than good, therefore leading physicians recommend Ayer's Pills, especially as a family physic.

"I was troubled for a long time with an itching tumor on the scalp," says Mr. D.P. Davis, Neal's Landing, Fla., "but at last, being recommended Ayer's Hair Vigor, I tried it, and a complete cure was effected." Every one who has used it speaks well of this dressing.

Belleville's favorites, the Guy Bros. Minstrels will appear at the Queen's Opera House to-night. They have a fine company this season, with new songs, dances and specialties. The music alone is worth the price of admission. There is nothing on the programme to offend the most fastidious. Prices 25, 35 and 50c.

PROBABILITIES.

TORONTO, Oct. 10.—Increasing east to north winds; unsettled; some local showers; little change in temperature.

First Rehearsal.

The first rehearsal of the "Messiah" by the Philharmonic Society took place in the Institute Hall last night. The room was full of enthusiastic singers and the conductor, Mrs. York, seemed to have again reached her native element, as she once more swung the baton. Those desirous of becoming members can secure their membership ticket and music by calling at the store of the Treasurers, the Rev. A. L. Geen.

Fine Overcoats.

To those men who are in the habit of leaving their measure for fine clothing, the Oak Hall wants to say: We have had a fine lot of overcoats and ulsters made specially for our select trade. They are of an extra quality, and outside of the Oak Hall, you cannot get such garments in Belleville. Remember, we have the exclusive control of sanford's, Johnston & Mackodie's cloth ing, and we consider them the best in Canada.

The Y.M.C.A.

The educational classes in Mechanical Drawing meet to-night at 8 o'clock. A good attendance of those wishing to take this work is requested.

The opening number of the lecture course, that of Prof. Waddell, of the Royal Military College, Kingston, on "Electric Light" will be made free to all who would like to attend, both ladies and gentlemen. It will be full of interest and instruction. A demonstration of the principles involved will be given and it will be an hour well spent. The lecture will take place Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

There will be a meeting of boys of the ages from 12—16 in the room Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock to arrange for the boys' branch of the Association.

PANOPTICON ENTERTAINMENT.

A BRILLIANT SPECTACLE FOR THE CITIZENS OF BELLEVILLE.

Its Object is a Worthy one—A Description of the Midway Plaisance—Beautiful Women and Costly Decorations—The Living Picture Gallery.

There was a lively scene in and about the spacious drill shed on Church St. this morning, and when a reporter went inside he was at once struck with beautiful decorations on every hand. The cause of all this decoration and bustle is the entertainment, styled "The Panopticon," which opened at 4 o'clock this afternoon. The reception of the entertainment, which will be open this evening, to-morrow afternoon and evening, will be devoted to the Institute and Library Association fund. The Institute being for everyone, the entertainment should be liberally patronized.

The large hall is laid out in booths on either side, and each booth is most tastefully decorated in color and style to suit the nationality which each represents. On entering the hall to the right hand side, first is the Irish booth, which is most tastefully decorated in green and white and gold shamrocks. The booth is in charge of Mrs. Sidley, who represents an old Irish woman, Misses S. Mackie, M. Allen, and the Misses Bawden, and little Maudie Mackie. The young ladies will all be dressed in Irish costume, and will sell warm coming to their nationality. Visitors will be given a true Irish welcome to this booth.

The next booth is called the Curiosity Shop, for which will be found all sorts of curious things from the ends of the earth. Everything that is rare and quaint is to be found in this small enclosure, and visitors will be shown these interesting articles and given their history. Misses Thompson and Urquhart will be found in charge.

The music stand comes next and the I.O.O.F. orchestra will occupy it to night and give some of their best selections.

The Japanese booth comes next, and to describe it is almost beyond our power. The space is hung about with nice silk tapestries and oriental and art draperies, mixed with vines and flowers. On entering the booth, one is struck with the taste displayed by the ladies in charge in arranging the display of Japanese goods and curios. We noticed a sago palm, direct from Japan, a rare plant in this country, little Japanese shoes, specimens of carvings, cushions, vases and pottery and other articles, the names of which we had not the least idea. There are luxurious chairs and settees, and visitors will be sure of a warm welcome. The ladies in charge are Mesdames J. G. Frost, J. C. Jamieson, W. B Robinson, Landers, Misses C. Stinson, Amy Denmark, Thompson, H. Kelly, A. McRae and J. McRae. They will serve tea in the true Japanese style, and sell candy in small Japanese baskets wrapped in Japanese napkins.

Next in order comes the gipsy tent. The motto over the entrance is "Past, Present and Future," which would suggest palmistry. The section is fitted up in true gipsy style, even to the kettle and tripod in the back ground. Mrs. May and Misses Templeton and B. Kelso, the ladies in charge, will tell your fortune or sell you useless trifles for silver.

We have now arrived at the end of the northern side and as we turn to cross the hall we are struck with a magnificently decorated booth at the west end, designed by she art booth. Mesdames H. O'rby, Geo. Stewart, Clarke, Geo. Walker, John Bell, R. J. Bullard Miss Clarke, who have charge of the booth, were busy arranging the display, which will consist of handsome oil paintings, bits of fancy furniture, bric-a-brac, rare hand-painted China, candelabras and other beautiful articles of art. The hangings and draperies of the booth are beautiful. On the rear wall hangs a portrait of Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen, with this motto: "Our Queen, whose empire girds the world by land and sea."

Next in order comes the United States booth, in charge of Mesdames Geo. Hope, J. T. Warrington, Alexander and Grant, and Misses Williamson, Hulme, Hungerford and Julia Fenton. The predominating feature of the decorating here is the stars and stripes. The ladies will serve "Cafe au lait," chocolate, and bon-bons.

The German booth, with Mrs. Fred Lingham in charge, is perhaps the most correct representation of the nation which it is meant to represent as to coloring, paintings, etc., in the building. The decorations are all in the colors of the German empire, yellow black and white, yellow, red and black and the Emperor's standard of black and white. Two pictures by the founder of the Fiesole school and the master of Rosa Bonheur, are shown. They are the only ones of this eminent painter in Canada. The ladies in charge will serve coffee in the German style which will be well worth seeing. In connection with this booth is the German beer garden, where those wishing it can get a slice of bologna, a piece of brown bread and a glass of ginger ale for five cents.

What will prove one of the greatest attractions is the art gallery upstairs, where living pictures of prominent people will be given. The gallery will open when the chimes ring and remain open five minutes, when a change will be made. The gallery, which is in charge of Mesdames W. W. Pope, Thos. Duncan and W. N. Ponton, will open for the first time at 8 o'clock.

Taken as a whole, the entertainment has never been approached in this city and there will doubtless be a large crowd there this evening.

The ladies in charge of the booths, assembled at 4 o'clock this afternoon in their places and Mr. W. N. Ponton opened the Panopticon by a short address. It is only fair to say that a more beautiful company of ladies could not be found anywhere than those serving teas, coffees, candies, etc., and the gentlemen will be sure to turn out and pay their respects to the efforts of their lady friends.

The Haines & Lockett Fire.

Owing to our loss by the recent fire, we placed what few accounts we had on our books in the hands of W. J. Diamond with instructions to send them in without respect of persons, and to urge immediate payment. We hope all parties concerned will respond promptly at Mr. Diamond's office.

d115tf HAINES & LOCKETT.

SPORTS AT DESERONTO.

Excellent Horse and Bicycle Racing—A Large Attendance.

The excellent programme of sports announced to be held on the Deseronto driving park on Tuesday, the 9th inst., attracted a large crowd of spectators from all places in the district, the swift Varuna and the calm Annie Lake taking about 75 from Bal ville, while some rode down on bicycles and a few others drove down. The day was fine, the management excellent, and the horse races were fast and generally well contested. We give below as full details as space will permit.

The judges in the horses races were Messrs P. R. Young and A. A. Hudgins, of Picton; and Mr. J. A. Sowell, of Oswego, as per festival who also acted as starter. In which position he was very efficient.

Three Minute Class.

There were six entries, of all of which started. They were: b. g. Kingsto, e. g. Charlie S., bl. m. Black Joss, br. m. Kate O'Brien, br. Stallion, owner, A. B. Phillips, Colborne; b. g. Mark Time, Gananoque. Two of those were hobbies, namely, Mark Time, (trotter), and Kate O'Brien, (pacer.) There was name jumping just after the start, when the O'Brien mare got the lead and held it all the way, Charlie S. 2nd, Black Joss 3rd, Kingston 4th, Mark Time 5th, and the Phillips horse last. Time 2:30¼.

Second heat—An intolerable lot of scoring took place before Starter Sowell could get them off on their journey. Kate O'Brien went away very fast and won once more, but the contest was by no means a walk-over this time. The others finished in their same order as before. Time 2:30—a fast mile for this part.

Third heat—Kate won again very easily, the others finishing as per summary. Time 2:39¾

SUMMARY.

3:30 class, purse $125 —
Kate (O'Brien, br m, F. Kenny, Picton..1 1 1
Charlie S. g g, W. Anderson, Cardinal.....2 2 2
Jess, blk m, Dennis Lake, Belleville.....3 3 3
Kingston, b g, H. Switzer, Kingston.....4 4 5
Mark Time, b g, W. Wallace, Gananoque..5 5 6
Dr. Stalli n, A. B. Phillips, Colborne.....6 6 4
Time—2:39½, 2:30, 2:37¼.

2:22 Trot.

Four took the word in this race, namely, Chloe; S. J. B., chg (pacer), Phil Mack, b g., (pacer) and Daisy S., bl m. (pacer.) Seven times they scored and at last got off, Phil Mack having the best of it, but when Chloe collared him on the third quarter he went off his feet and Chloe won, two lengths ahead of S.J.B., who beat Daisy by a length. Time—2:30¼

Second heat.—But little time was wasted in scoring. Chloe broke soon after starting and S.J.B. passed her, but she soon regained the previous position and won easily. It was a sharp struggle as the close between S.J.B. and Daisy but the horses finished in the same order as in the previous heat. Time—2:31.

Third heat—This finished it, but it was the best heat of the race. Daisy S. passed hard for the front, but the grey was too speedy for her. Phil Mack paced a good heat, finishing second, S.J.B. third and Daisy, who had broken, last. Time—2:28¼.

SUMMARY.

2:30 class, purse $200.—
Chloe, gr. m., H. M. Metcalf, Kingston. 1 1 1
S. J. B., ch. g., H. Miling, Napanee.....2 2 2
Daisy B., blk m., J. Loyer, Napanee.....3 3 4
Phil Mack, b g, Jas Hanley, Picton.....4 4 2
Time 2:30¾ 2:31 2:28¼.

Running Race.

Livery Boy, of Brighton, Glorlall of Kingston, and Illusion of Morrisburg, made up the field for a running race, mile heats, Illusion got the best of the start and won by a length from Livery Boy, who unfortunately struck a stone, laming himself and had to be drawn.

Second heat, Johnny Allision was put up on Glorlall, but after running side by side for an eighth of the Morrisburg mare drew away and won as she liked.

SUMMARY.

Running race, mile heats, purse $125,
Illusion, b m., H. M. Rose, Morrisburg....1 1
Glorlall, ch g, J. D. Petrie, Kingston.....3 2
Livery Boy, M Simpson, Brighton.....2 dr
Time—1:24, 1:54 1/2.

Bicycle Races.

Half Mile Club Race, (Deseronto Club)—Lowey 1st Dart 2nd, Pierson 3rd, Sexsmith 4 h and Rowland 5 h. Time, 1:28½

One Mile, Three Minute Class—Lowey, Deseronto, 1st; Wright, Picton, 2nd; Dart, Deseronto, 3rd; Lalonde, Napanee, 4 h. Time, 2:58.

One Mile Open.—Lowey, Deseronto, 1st; Wright, Picton, 2nd; Lalonde, Napanee, 3rd; Dart, Deseronto, 4th. Time, 3:17½.

Deseronto Club Handicap, Two Miles.—Prickett 1st, Lowey 2nd, Pierson 3rd, Sexsmith 4th, Nasmith 5th, Scott 6th. Time, 8:20.

NOTES.

The track was from 3 to 5 seconds slow.

Mr. Jas. Metcalfe, M.P., was present—was on hand to see his jaunty little mare win.

Kate O'Brien had most of her training hauling a steam thresher this fall. She could have gone two seconds faster had it been necessary.

Mr. Claus won the quolt match, Mr. Mundell second.

Deseronto looks well and wears a prosperous air.

Married in Buffalo.

An event in which a popular young man from Belleville was one of the interested parties, took place in Buffalo at 11:30 this forenoon, it being the marriage of Mr. Fred. Gabriel to Miss Charlotte P. Haw thorn, youngest daughter of Mr. W. Hawthorn, of that city, formerly of the St. George's Hotel, this city. The ceremony was performed in church, but was of the quiet order. After the knot had been securely tied, the wedding party took dinner at the residence of the bride's father, and the bride and groom left for Toronto. They will arrive in this city to-morrow, and go to their new home on Dunbar Street. The bride, while a resident of this city, became very popular in society, and will be well welcomed back by a host of friends. The INTELLIGENCER extends congratulations to the young couple.

Laid to Rest.

The remains of the late John Lewis were taken at 3 p. m. this afternoon from his late residence corner Ridge and Charles Sts. to the cemetery. The service at the house was conducted by Rev. E. N. Baker, in which he was assisted by Rev. Dr. Carman, Rev. G. J. Bingman, Rev. J. A. McCamus and Rev. W. D. Balfour, of Manitoba. The attendance was very large notwithstanding the almost incessant down pour of rain. The floral tributes were numerous and beautiful and attested the esteem in which the late Mr. Lewis was held by his many friends. The bearers were Messrs. Thos. Walters, J. W. Walker, Walter Alford, Curtis Bogart, H. Pringle, and Arthur McGinnis.

Banquet Lamps and Silk Shades.

A very handsome display of brass Banquet Lamps may be seen at L. W. Yeomans & Co's. These goods are very fashionable, and form a rich decoration. They have superseded the library hanging lamps, that have now become somewhat out of date.

Cold in the head—Nasal Balm gives instant relief; speedily cures. Never fails.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

DID A LOT OF BUSINESS AT LAST NIGHT'S MEETING.

The Recommendation to Promote Mr. Milburn Adopted—Mr. Taylor, of Harriston, the New Assistant—Some of the Members Wanted Miss Ross, of Iroquois—New Seats and Floors.

The Board of Education held a regular meeting last evening with Chairman Hugh Walker in the chair. Present,—Mrs. R. I. Diamond, Henry Pringle, S. A. Moore, John Harris, John Mantle, John Hinds, Jas. Mills, Wm. Kemp, Wm. Tennent, Thos. Wills, Wm. Johnson, John Dyle, Rev. Canon Burke.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and confirmed.

A letter was read from the Deputy Minister of Education re the Kindergarten school.

The reports of the various committees were read.

The monthly report of Mr. E. F. Milburn, head master, was read. According to the report there are forty seven non-resident pupils in the High School, six of whom are from outside the county and one has been admitted provisionally by the Minister of Education.

An application introduced empowering the township of Thurlow to levy a certain sum for school purposes.

The Board went into committee of the whole on reports, S. A. Moore in the chair.

The accounts recommended by the Finance Committee were passed without discussion.

In reference to the resigning of some of the High School Mr. Wills said there were some 11-inch seats in some of the rooms and they thought that if forty new seats were purchased they could remove these, as they were too small for the large scholars.—Carried.

The clause regarding the purchase of a vaporizer was carried, as was also that recommending that nothing be done as to teaching of singing in the schools at present, as the present curriculum took up all the time. The clause recommending the relaying of the floors next midsummer so that they could be cleaned with a damp cloth instead of sweeping was also carried.

The recommendation of the School Management committe that Mr. Milburn be promoted to the position of head master, made vacant by the death of Dr. Wright, was next taken up.

Mr. Johnson said he did not approve of the promotion system. He thought our High School should be kept up to the standard of the best schools in the Dominion. He would have liked to have seen a head master appointed with more scholastic attainments than Mr. Milburn, still he would support Mr. Milburn in his position so long as he did his duty. He only wished to make this statement to the Board as he had done elsewhere.

Mr. Diamond said the committee thought they had got the best they could in appointing Mr. Milburn to the position of head master. He paid a glowing tribute to the late Dr. Wright. The committee, he thought, had done wisely in not advertising for a new teacher.

Mr. Walker said he was most to blame in not calling the Board together for the appointment of a head master. He had received a petition signed by all the pupils of the High School asking for Mr. Milburn's appointed, and he handed it to the School Management Committee, who recommended Mr. Milburn. He thought the school would lose nothing by Mr. Milburn's appointment, and that at the next examination we would see Belleville High School in a prominent position.

Mr. Wills said, as chairman of the High School Committee, he had visited the school quite often, and he had seen the school under Mr. Milburn's management. He said the order of the school was now better than it has ever been. As far as Mr. Milburn's reputation as a scholar was concerned he was an honor graduate and he knew that the late Dr. Wright had the highest opinion of Mr. Milburn's qualifications.

After some farther discussion the clause carried

The committee also recommended the appointment of Mr. A. W. Taylor, of Harriston, as assistant teacher of the High School at $600 per year.

Mr. Johnson moved in amendment to the report that Miss Ross, of Iroquois, be appointed. He said that different members of the Board had mentioned Miss Ross, while Mr. Taylor was absolutely unknown to them. He thought it would be better to have another lady teacher with the qualifications of Miss Ross.

Mr. Pringle said he had had an interview with Miss Ross and she had greatly impressed him. As to salary, he read a letter from the lady, stating that she would be willing to take less than the amount stating in her application.—$750. He advanced several arguments in favor of Miss Ross' application.

Testimonials accompanying the applications of Mr. Taylor and Miss Ross were read.

After quite a lengthy discussion, in which Messrs. I. Diamond, Wills, Walker, Johnson and Doyle took part, the report was adopted.

A letter from the Deputy Minister of Education was read stating that a kindergarten school must be under the control of the School Board and that the Government grant was based upon the average attendance. Therefore the grant for the school must be under a qualified kindergarten teacher.

Mr. I. Diamond said he was in favor of the kindergarten school, but as the school would have to be under the control of the Board and they would have to be responsible for the means necessary to conduct it he though the Board were not in a financial position to assume the responsibility.

It was stated that as soon as the school came under the control of the Board it would have to be made a free school.

It was decided to leave the matter in the hands of a committee consisting of Messrs. Walker, I. Diamond, Wills and Johnson and that they call upon the ladies interested in the kindergarten school and explain the situation to them.

The Committee of the Whole rose and reported. Report received, but on motion that it be adopted Mr. Johnson moved, seconded by Mr. Pringle, that the report be referred back for the purpose of substituting the name of Miss Ross for that of Mr. Taylor in the report of the School Management Committee.—Lost.

Following are the Yeas and Nays:—

YEAS.—Doyle, Hunter, Johnson, Kemp, and Pringle.—5.

NAYS.—Rev. Canon Burke, I. Diamond, Harris Mantle, Milk, Moore, Tennant and Wills.—8.

The Report of the Committee of the Whole was adopted unanimously.

The by law requiring the township of Thurlow to levy $1207 for the Board of Education of Belleville, was read a first, second and third time, passed and numbered 53.

The Board adjourned.

Travellers' Samples.

Gentlemen wearing sizes 6 and 7, and Ladies wearing size 4, can get some great bargains in fine Boots from us, at one half regular prices.—VERMILYEA & SON.

A SENSATIONAL EPISODE.

Rev. S. Daw Resigns from Christ Church and from the Ministry.

We learn, on authority, that the Rev. S. Daw, Rector of Christ Church, in this city, has resigned his pastoral charge and also from the ministry of the Church of England. It is also stated that the Rev. gentleman has handed over the keys of the church to Mr. Ackerill, V. S., the Rector's Churchwarden.

We have been unable to ascertain the exact cause of Mr. Daw's action, but we understand it is the outcome of a difference with the management.

We understand that the resignation of Mr. Daw is deeply regretted by the congregation of his church.

A reporter called at Mr. Daw's residence on John St., this afternoon, but was told that Mr. Daw would not see him. A call was made at Dr. Ackerill's office, but he was absent from home.

It is rumored that Mr. Daw will go to Toronto and take up the study of law.

SOCIAL & PERSONAL

The INTELLIGENCER invites all its readers to contribute to this column. If you or your friends are going away on a holiday trip or if you have friends visiting you, drop a card to this office.

G. Truscott will remove to Belleville to reside.—Whig.

Major Harrison, of the State Department, Ottawa, was in town to-day.

Miss Birdie Strong, Colborne, is visiting her sister, Mrs. R. E. Clarke, Hotel St.

Mrs. C. E. Hadden, Picton, is in town, the guest of her sister, Mrs. H. J. Clarke, Foster Avenue.

A. W. Taylor, of Harriston, the newly appointed Classical Master at the High School, has arrived.

Mr. W. R. Fish, representing the Geo. E. Tuckett & Son Co., tobacco and cigar manufacturers, Hamilton, is in town.

When Others Fail.

Hood's Sarsaparilla builds up the shattered system by giving vigorous action to the digestive organs, creating an appetite and purifying the blood. It is prepared by modern methods, possesses the great curative powers, and has the most wonderful record of actual cures of any medicine in existence. Take only Hood's.

Hood's Pills are purely vegetable, and do not purge, pain or gripe. 25c.

PROTECTING THE DEER.

A Man Convicted for Allowing Dogs to Run at Large and Chase Deer.

The Bobcaygeon Independent says: For a considerable time complaints have been made of hounds being allowed to run at large, and several deer have been seen in the lakes having been chased by the hounds. H. K. Smith, the Warden of the district, came to hear of it, and he made some pretty sharp enquiries, so it is said, of the local deputies, and gave instructions that the Act must be observed. A case came before H. Seymour, Esq., J. P., on Friday last when Mr. Fremont Crandell was charged with an infraction of the game law. It was proven that his dogs were running at large and in the habit of chasing deer. The Magistrate imposed a fine of $20 and $1 costs, the being the lowest fine under the Act, and ordered payment on Oct. 3rd.

Clothing for the Mission.

Mrs. Schuster, who has devoted so many years to the relief of suffering among the poor of our city, requests that anyone who has cast-off clothing to spare will send it to her at once for distribution among the needy. It is the cold weather is coming, and there are many who will suffer if they are not provided for.

A SURGEON'S KNIFE

gives you a feeling of horror and dread. There is no longer necessity for its use in many diseases formerly regarded as incurable without cutting.

The Triumph of Conservative Surgery is well illustrated by the fact that RUPTURE oilly cured without the knife and without pain. Clumsy, chafing trusses discarded. They never cure but often induce inflammation, strangulation and death.

TUMORS Ovarian, Fibroid (Uterine) and other tumors are always now removed without the perils of cutting operations.

PILE TUMORS, however large, Fistula and other diseases of the lower bowel, are permanently cured without pain or resort to the knife.

STONE in the bladder, no matter how large, is crushed, pulverized, washed out and perfectly removed without cutting.

STRICTURE of Urinary Passage is painlessly and safely removed without cutting in hundreds of cases. For pamphlet, references and all particulars, send 10 cents (in stamps) to World's Dispensary Medical Association, 663 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y.

Changed Daily.

WEDNESDAY, Oct. 10 h, 1894.

A MAN . . .

When a man goes to buy anything for the house, nine times out of ten he goes when some woman tells him to—with her generally.

THAT SHOWS . . . .
JUDGMENT . . . . .

SO . . . . .

A WOMAN . . .

When a woman goes shopping, first, she goes where nice goods and assortment are to be found. Second, where the qualities and prices are right, and third where the clerks are most accommodating.

THAT SHOWS . . . .
EXPERIENCE . . . .

A CHILD . . .

When a child goes to buy an article he or she goes where no advantage is taken in selling or forcing a sale.

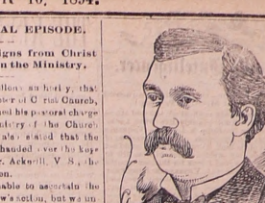

THAT SHOWS . . . .
FAITH . . . . . .

Judgment,
Experience
And Faith !

Are what bring our customers to us, and keep them as patrons, and are what we offer to all.

Stroud's

TEA STORE.

Mrs. J. W. Dykeman
St. George, New Brunswick.

After the Grip

No Strength, No Ambition

Hood's Sarsaparilla Gave Perfect Health.

The following letter is from a well-known merchant tailor of St. George, N. B.:

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"Gentlemen—I am glad to say that Hood's Sarsaparilla and Hood's Pills have done me a great deal of good. I had a severe attack of the grip in the winter, and after getting over the fever I did not seem to gather strength, and had no ambition. Hood's Sarsaparilla proved to be just what I needed. The results were very satisfactory, and I recommend this medicine to all who are afflicted with rheumatism or other

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

Hood's Pills are purely vegetable, and do not purge, pain or gripe. Sold by all druggists.

NO DOUBT YOU WILL REQUIRE A . . . . . .

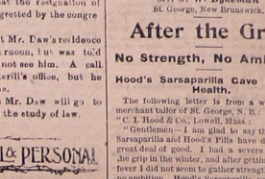

New Hat
Or Bonnet . .

The Most Stylish and Wearable . . .

MILLINERY IS AT . . .

J. P. THOMPSON & CO.

STOCK COMPLETE IN ALL DEPARTMENTS.

669

LOOK AT THESE FINE CLOAKS

These Represent a few of the hundreds of beautiful garments now on exhibition in our Mantle Department. The evidence that we are giving special attention to this department will be apparent to anyone who visits it. Never was there such a fine collection of Moderate Priced Overgarments under our roof before. We invite YOU to come and see for yourself.

Geo. Ritchie & Co.

LISTEN FRIENDS ! !

We SAY because we KNOW !

Our COAL ! This Season is unexcelled for quality because the Bill of Lading bears the Brand of the Delaware & Hudson Canal Company.

Out this out and test this "Ad" when the Winter Winds whistle.

THE RATHBUN COMPANY.

24TH - - - - - YEAR.

Our Novelties in . . .

Fur Capes and Jackets

Are the talk of the City, and our Goods are

The reason for this is we have the

FIRST CLASS ! RIGHT STYLES AND PRICES

And our Furs are quite different from any other house in the City.

S. A. HYMAN.

Manufacturiug Furrier.

Old Furs of all kinds cleaned, dyed and made over.

A GOOD, WARM, CHEERFUL FIRE !

Will soon be in order as the cold weather is rapidly approaching

SO . . . . .

. . . Do not Lose any Time

In ordering your supply of

Telephone C 68.

Coal and Wood

. . . FROM . . .

S. A. LAZIER & SON'S.

The Leading Coal and Wood Merchants.

ONTARIO MUTUAL LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY.

S. Burrows, Esq., General Agent, Ontario Mutual Life Co., Belleville, Ont.

DEAR SIR, Received your company's check for $2,000 for our Matured Endowment, and we both wish to show our gratitude to you and the Company for the straightforward and satisfactory way you deal with policy holders, and that we are more than satisfied with our investment. I will always urge our friends to follow in our footsteps. Thanking you very kindly.

Yours very sincerely,
Mr. & Mrs. GOODWIN, Bowmanville,
Formerly of Belleville.

AN ACHING HEAD.

DEAR SIRS,—I had severe headache for the past three years, and was not free from it a single day. I used doctors' medicines and all others I could think of, but it did me no good. My cousin said I must

TRY B.B.B.

because it is the best medicine ever made, and I took three bottles of it, with the result that it has completely cured me. I think Burdock Blood Bitters, both for headaches and as a blood purifier, is the

BEST IN THE WORLD,

and am glad to recommend it to all my friends. MISS FLORA MCDONALD, Glen Norman, Ont.

MISS FLORA MCDONALD.

HAMILTON,

TORONTO, AND MONTREAL,

Via Bay of Quinte, Calling at all Ports Weekly.

THE FAVORITE STEAMER

"MAGNET"

Leaves St. Catharines Tuesday 9 a. m.
Toronto " 4 p. m.
Leaves Belleville for Montreal } Wednesday 7:30 a m
Leaves Belleville for Toronto } Sunday 8 p. m.

First Class Passenger Accommodation. Large Freight Capacity. Lowest Rates For Tickets, Rates, &c., Apply to the RATHBUN COMPANY, Agents,

or to
CAPT. J. J. TOWERS, Superintendent, No. 2 King st., Toronto.
C. F. GILDERSLEEVE, General Manager, 228 St. Paul st., Montreal.

ROCHESTER,

KINGSTON AND MONTREAL.

Weekly Service Calling at Way Ports

THE PEOPLE'S FAVORITE STEAMER.

"ALEXANDRIA"

Leaves Montreal, Thursday at 10:00 a. m.
Arrives Belleville, Saturday at 11:45 a. m.
Leaves for Rochester " " 1:15 p. m.
Arrives from Rochester, Monday at 6:30 a m.
Leaves for Montreal, " " 7:30 a m.

Spacious and elegant Saloon. Ample Stateroom accommodation. The choicest and best Meals furnished. Safety, comfort and enjoyment ensured by personal supervision of Capt. Smith and Purser Melrose. Careful handling of freight.

For Tickets, State rooms at lowest rates apply to

THE RATHBUN COMPANY, Agents.

Bay of Quinte Steamb t Route

TRI-WEEKLY

DESER'TO, PICTON & KINGSTON

1894 - 1894

STR. "HERO"

THIS favorite steamer is now lighted by electricity and will have a strong search light for excursion business and the boat is heated by steam.

Commencing Monday, April 9th, will leave Belleville Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 6 a m, returning Tuesday, Thursday and Friday at 11 p m.

The very best facilities are offered to shippers of freight. The lowest through and local rates quoted.

No wharfage at Picton on freight for this steamer.

Full information given by Gilbert Johnston on board, or to the

RATHBUN COM'Y,
. H. GILDERSLEEVE, Ticket Agents, Kingston.

ROCHESTER.

STEAMER

NORTH KING.

Leaves for Charlotte, N. Y., every Sunday, 11:45 p.m.

Leaves for Picton and Kingston every Sunday, 3:20 a. m.

Arrive from Picton and Kingston every Sunday, 11:45 p m.

Arrives from Charlotte, N. Y., every Sunday, 3:20 a. m.

Special attention given to passengers and freight.

WEEK DAYS.—Steamer leaves Port Hope week days for Charlotte, N. Y., at 9:45 a.m.

Calls at Brighton Monday 2 a.m., and Wednesday 2.30 a.m., and at Colborne Wednesday and Fridays 4 a.m.

Connection made by Grand Trunk morning trains.

THE RATHBUN CO., Agents. U. E. THOMPSON, Agent.
43tf

INSURANCE.

Western Assurance Company,
Fire and Marine Head Office, Toronto.

North British & Mercantile Ins. Co.,
Fire and Life, Head Office (Can.), Montreal.

Atlas Insurance Company,
Fire Head Office (Canada), Montreal

M. M. THOMPSON
Water Works Office, Bridge St.

Steamer "Iona"

Will eave Belleville three times each week for Oswego, connecting with trains for New York.

Daily Intelligencer.

At Death's Door—Dyspepsia Conquered —A Great Medical Triumph.

GENTLEMEN,—My medical advisor and others told me I could not possibly live when I commenced to use Northrop & Lyman's VEGETABLE DISCOVERY for Dyspepsia. My case was one of the worst of its kind. For three years I could not eat meat and my weight decreased from 219 to 119 lbs. All the food I took for thirteen months previous to taking the VEGETABLE DISCOVERY consisted of milk. I am now entirely cured and have regained my usual weight, can eat anything with a keen relish and feel like a new man. I have sold over thirty dozen VEGETABLE DISCOVERY since it cured me, as I am well-known, and people in this section know how low I was, and thought I could not possibly be cured. They are eager to try this grand medicine. It certainly saved my life, as I never expected to recover when first I commenced using it. I am not exaggerating anything but feel glad to be able to contribute this testimonial and trust it may be the means of convincing others of its merits as a certain cure for Dyspepsia.

Signed. JEAN VALCOURT,
Wotton, P. Q.

In 1888 the people of Great Britain paid taxes on 492 200 carriages.

Is there anything more annoying than having your corn stepped upon? Is there anything more delightful than getting rid of it? Holloway's Corn Cure will do it. Try it and be convinced.

In Portugal the tobacco tax brings £900,000, the land tax £700,000.

Some people laugh to show their pretty teeth. The use of Ivory White Tooth Powder makes people laugh more than ever. It's so nice. Price 25c. Sold by druggists.

Worms cause feverishness, moaning and restlessness during sleep. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator is pleasant, sure and effectual. If your druggist has none in stock, get him to procure it for you.

The rate of taxation has nearly quadrupled in France since 1830.

DYSPEPSIA causes dizziness, headache, constipation, variable appetite, rising and souring of food, palpitation of the heart, distress after eating. Burdock Blood Bitters is guaranteed to cure Dyspepsia if faithfully used according to directions.

Until about forty years ago, the Persian Government levied a tax on cats.

Mr T. J. Humes, Columbus, Ohio, writes: 'I have been afflicted for some time with kidney and Liver Complaint, and find Parmelee's Pills the best medicine for these diseases. These Pills do not cause pain or griping, and should be used when a cathartic is required. They are Gelatine Coated, and rolled in the Flour of Licorice to preserve their purity and give them a pleasant, agreeable taste.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP cures Bronchitis.

FOR CHOLERA MORBUS, Cholera Infantum Cramps, Colic, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, and Summer Complaint Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is a prompt, safe and sure cure that has been a popular favorite for over 40 years.

STEAMER VARUNA

A. HICKS, Captain.

WILL leave Trenton every morning, (Sunday excepted) at 7:00 o'clock, calling at Rednersville and all points between the head of the bay and Picton, leaving Belleville at 8:30 a.m., Deseronto at 10:20 a.m.

On Tuesday and Thursday evenings to meet North King at Brighton, returning will leave Brighton Wednesday and Saturday mornings at 5:30.

Will connect at Picton with stage for Sand Banks.

Parties wishing to arrange for excursion rates will see Capt. Hicks on board

Will leave Picton at 1 p.m. on return for the head of the bay, Deseronto 2:30 p.m., Belleville, at 4:30 p. m., and Trenton, at 6.

Omnibuses in waiting at Picton, Belleville and Brighton.

The Rathbun Co., Agents, Belleville and Deseronto.
A. W. Hepburn, Agent, Picton.

BEST QUALITY

CANADIAN
"Silver Star,"

—AND—

AMERICAN
"Water White'

COAL OIL.

Delivered promptly to any part of the city.

D. M. WATERS.

SPORT.

Lacrosse Sticks,
Foot Balls,
Tennis Goods,
Croquet, etc.,
Base Ball
Supplies.

Also, Wall Paper,
Window Shades,
Hammocks,
Fans,
Purses,
Albums, Bibles and Novels.

—AT—

Overell's Book Store.

Next to Glasgow Warehouse.

RIBBONS!

We have an extra large stock of Ribbons on hand in all the light and fancy shades including

BABY RIBBONS,
SILK " "
SATIN " "
MOIRE " "
ETC., - ETC.

Our prices are the lowest, and we will be pleased to have you give us a call whenever wanting Ribbons.

SILK ELASTICS....

We have a splendid stock of Fancy Silk Elastic, made in Yellow, Blue, Green, Orange, Cardinal, Black, Pink, Mauve, White. All one price, 25c yard, at

THE BEEHIVE

CHAS. N. SULMAN

THE KISS OF GOLD.

By KATE JORDAN.

[Copyright, 1893, by J. B. Lippincott Company and published by special arrangement with them.]

Virginia started up, laughter heavy with sobs leaving her quivering lips. She pushed the kitten from her with a frantic movement, and then with contradictory tenderness picked it up again and held it against her lips, weeping wildly, as women do when pain is robbed of hope. Why should she hurt it? What had it done more cruel than Tom? She had held him too closely to her heart. He turned and scratched her.

CHAPTER X.

A year went by unmarked for Virginia by a single incident out of the common, gray as the wastes of a sea unruffled by a storm, unmarked by the approach of a sail.

Another year came, and when the opulent sunlight of early summer was deluging with its gold the dusty streets a coupe stopped one day at the door of the house in Chelsea square, and a man, a stranger, asked for Virginia Kent.

Crossing the threshold of her home, he had entered her life. Looking into her eyes, full of unforgotten days, something of his lost youth had awakened in his heart that could only die with death.

This man was Richard Monklow. Virginia had often heard her father speak of him, especially of his meeting with him in the auction room the day he had purchased "The Masker."

The first glance at him gave an impression that forever remained. He had followed the sea and followed it as a commander. His straight, powerful shoulders had a fearless poise. His glance was level, soft; his face, its first youth faded, brown as sere grass, under the shorn, glittering frost of his hair. His humanity was deep, strong, farreaching, as one could see who looked into his eyes, and his smile had a warm, bright sympathy. There were times when he looked startlingly youthful with his white hair. There were unguarded moments of sadness when the chronicle of his years flared eloquently—a confession in every deepened line. Then one knew he had lived the full life of a man in a crowded 40 years, in the sowing and harvest time, had garnered barren hopes and pain, yet without bitterness had tied the sheaves.

He had come to bring Virginia to her father's bedside. The tremors against which the old man had struggled so long had culminated after an excessive debauch in a paralytic stroke resembling death. He had drifted to Monklow's rooms and lay where he had fallen.

As she drove away with him that day Virginia did not dream that the summer would be past ere she returned to live again at Chelsea square, but so it was. In Richard Monklow's home, where the softness and fragrance of modern luxury were more caressing than the breath of the perfect summer mornings, she nursed her father to a semblance of health.

Her lonely heart won back a little of its freshness in these surroundings. Her lips again voiced joyous laughter. Friendship that rang like gold had been generously poured into her life. Her gratitude went out with equal strength to Richard Monklow, and to his sister, a soft voiced, sympathetic woman, who made her dimly realize what her mother's love might have meant to her.

Then she came home again, and the days settled back to their wonted placidity, but with this difference—that a bent and shrunken figure lay limply in a great chair, and the energy and pride in her father's still stubborn heart could only be read now in the hollow, morose eyes flashing beneath the puckered brows.

She stood beside the window one September morning, a letter crushed between her hot hands. A mild rain was drifting like tangled skeins through the gray air. Beyond lay the college grounds, a vista of damp greenness.

She opened the crumpled sheet, smoothing out its creases almost tenderly. Her lips quivered like a child's.

"You know what I am going to say," she read again. "During the summer that has been like no other to me, many

"So you'll be a fool, will you?"

"It's from Monklow. He's asked you to marry him. There, there, I know. When a man is robbed of almost every faculty but sight and speech he uses them to advantage. Of course you're going to marry him. Of course you are. He is genuine. He is stanch. He has a few more years than a novelist would allow an impatient lover—what of it? times the words I longed to speak have trembled upon my lips, but something in your eyes always silenced me. Virginia, I can be silent no longer. I love you so! The years are dark before you, dear, but I would keep you safe. No harm, no pain, should touch you. Too old and sad, perhaps, you think me. The years have left their ashes on my hair. I am asking too much when I ask for your youth. Yes, yes, I know. But, oh! child, your eyes lured me to dream again. You woke my poor, chilled soul, and it is yours. It but responded to your unconscious call. Turn from me, if you must, and I will put away my dream, but my soul is forever yours. You possess it, and I would not have it back. But, oh, if you would come to me, Virginia!"

How the words awoke all the old pain! She drew her breath in hard, the lips fell over her heavy eyes, and reading Richard Monklow's letter she thought of Tom. These words of searching strength, quivering with the rejuvenating breath of love, had been the lever that rolled the stone from the old grave, and she stood looking at memories she had believed were crucified.

"My soul is forever yours. I would not have it back."

The words were in her mind. She seemed speaking them in the darkness to that other who had not listened. Was it so always? Must one speak and one not hear? One live, the other wait?

"You have a very interesting letter there, Virginia. You haven't made a sound for half an hour." And at her father's voice, reduced now to a petulant piping that anger made shrill, she started guiltily and thrust it in her pocket.

[illegible] half the emasculated, [illegible] this town. He is the most picturesquely handsome man I have ever seen and in the meridian of his strength. He is a gentleman by birth. The blood of ladies and gentlemen for generations flows in his veins. Ah, ha! lots of girls in his own set would stay at home and chase no more the poverty stricken duke if they thought there was a chance of catching Richard Monklow. I have no objection to him. He is everything I admire and commend. I give my consent, Virginia."

Since his illness Virginia had grown accustomed to treating her father like a pettish child. She went to him, laid both her warm palms on his bald crown, and smiling looked tenderly at him.

"No, daddy. I don't want to marry. I'll stay with you yet awhile."

The sudden fury of his gaze was like the leaping of an unlooked for flame from a dead fire.

(To be Continued.)

THE CZAR WILL DIE.

His Physician Tells Him That His Malady is Incurable.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—The Standard's correspondent in St. Petersburg sends the following story, the facts of which he says he learned through an ear witness: "When Dr. Zacharin told the Czar that his malady was incurable, that care and attention might prolong his life a few months, but that it was useless to conceal the fact that no remedies would avail beyond a certain period, the Czar was terribly affected. He entered another room and exclaimed to the occupants: 'Dr. Zacharin has just told me that there is no hope.' Everybody was thrown into consternation by the Czar's change of face and mien and greatly blamed Dr. Zacharin for speaking so bluntly."

The correspondent vouches for the correctness of this story. He adds: "The Czarewitch will very shortly return here accompanied by Grand Duke Michael. The two will preside over the council of state and act jointly. They will be regents in everything except in name. Army reports have already been submitted to the Czarewitch, who will probably assume the chief command almost immediately. His marriage appears to be somewhat remote, partly owing to the tradition that no Czar may marry within a year of his coronation.

It is reported that Prof. Leyden is less hopeless concerning the Czar than is Dr. Zacharin. He considers that the disease must have existed two years, and he is astonished that it was not detected at an earlier stage when treatment is more likely to be efficient.

KAFFIRS MURDER WHITES.

Outrages Continue at Lourenzo Marquez, Southeast Africa.

LISBON, Oct, 10.—A despatch from Lourenzo Marquez, on Delogoa Bay, Southeast Africa, says that Chief Mahazula's Kaffir tribesmen massacred several whites and a large number of Kaffir allies in the outskirts of the town. There is continual raiding and looting in the vicinity. At a meeting of the European residents the incapacity of the government was denounced and immediate action was demanded. Business is paralyzed and the public offices are closed.

The steamer Cazengo will sail from Lisbon for Lourenzo Marquez on October 15 with reinforcements of troops.

Rubbing it Into the Committee.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—Truth, Henry Labouchere's paper, commenting upon the British anti-lynching committee's letter to the governor of Alabama says: "For a consummate piece of impertinence, put forward with unblushing effrontery, I have never come across so fine a specimen as the reproof administered by the anti-lynching committee to the governor of Alabama. Little Peddlington chastising the American eagle is so irresistibly comic that there is difficulty in treating the subject from a serious point of view. Considering the irresponsible nature of the body who strutted out to deliver the assault it is only wonderful that the governor condescends to make a reply. He employed a Nasmith hammer to kill a fly."

THAMESFORD, Oct. 10.—A fatal accident occurred at Mr. Hughes' place in East Nissouri, about seven miles north of here. Matthew Young, who with Mr. Abbott runs a threshing machine, had completed the threshing and was removing the thresher from the barn when his team became frightened and started off. Mr. Young lost his footing and fell, both wheels passing over his body killing him instantly. He was unmarried and a highly respected man.

Drowned at Three Rivers.

THREE RIVERS, Que., Oct. 10.—Mr. John Rennie, engineer of the Laurentian pulp mills, Grand Mere, was accidentally drowned in the St. Maurice river at that place yesterday.

Deseronto Navigation Company (Limited

Steamer Ella Ross.

This fast sailing and comfortable steamer leaves Belleville for Trenton daily (Sunday excepted), at 10 a.m. Leaves Belleville for Deseronto and Picton at 3 p.m., connecting at Deseronto with steamers for Napanee and Oswego. Lowest freight and passenger rates. For further information apply to the Rathbun Co., Bridge street or to R. C. Carter, General Manager Deseronto.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP cures Coughs.

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry cures Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cramps, Colic, Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum, and all looseness of the bowels. Never travel without it. Price 35c.

In parts of Peru taxes are paid in cocoa leaves and Peruvian barks.

For coughs, colds, bronchitis and all lung and throat troubles, there is no preparation of medicine can compare with Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup. It never fails to afford prompt and permanent relief. It removes all soreness, and heals the diseased parts. It immediately soothes the most troublesome cough, and by promoting expectoration, removes the mucus which stops up the air tubes which, cause difficulty in breathing, thereby gives relief to that depressing tightness experienced in the chest. Public speakers and singers will find Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup of inestimable value, as it speedily and effectually allays all irritation, and huskiness in the throat and bronchial tubes, and gives power to the vocal cords, rendering the voice clear and sonorous. If parents wish to save the lives of their children, and themselves from much anxiety trouble and expense let them procure a bottle of Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup, and whenever a child has taken cold, has a cough or hoarseness, give the Syrup according to directions.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP heals the lungs.

A stinted wife can find a vest pocket in the dark.

Ample warning is given us by our lungs when they are in danger. If foolhardy enough to neglect the warning signal, we incur imminent peril. Check a cough at the outset with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil—which is a sovereign pulmonic—besides being a remedy for soreness, lameness, abrasions of the skin, tumors, piles, rheumatism, etc.

BURDOCK PILLS, small, safe, and sure, regulate the liver and cure constipation.

Robert Lubbork, Cedar Rapids, writes: "I have used Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil both for myself and family for Diptheria with the very best results. I regard it as the best remedy for this disease, and would use no other.

Holland is the only country in Europe that admits coffee free of duty.

DYSPEPSIA arises from wrong action of stomach, liver and bowels. Burdock Blood Bitters cures Dyspepsia and all diseases arising from it, 99 times in 100.

WALL-PAPER!

SEE THAT?

CLEANLINESS!
HEALTH!
ECONOMY!
HAPPINESS!
FURNISHING!
CHARACTER!
ART!
Common Sense

There's a Lot of Meaning in it for You!!

There's an array that is hard to beat!

Could you ask more? Here it is

A Discount of 10 per cent. for 30 days.

Test our Ability to Advise on Interior Decorations.

C. B. SCANTLEBURY.

WISDOM & ECONOMY...

Lead the Way to Our Store.....

Just a line to draw your attention to the splendid list of Bargains we offer you this week at less than Wholesale Prices.

DRESS GOODS....

From 8 to 75cts. per yard, in all shades and qualities; Colored Cashmeres from 25 to 75cts. per yd.; Black Cashmeres from 26c to $1.00 per yard; Estamine Serge, 56 inches wide, in Black, Brown and Navy, only 50c. worth at least 75c.

GREY FLANNELS...

Unions at 12½ and 15c.; all wool at 10c.; plain or twill, and 27 inches wide, cheap at 22c.; Navy Blue Flannels from 20c. to 40c. per yard; Opera Flannels in all shades at 40c. per yard.

HOSIERY........

Just received our Fall and Winter Hosiery in Cashmere and Wool for Ladies', Misses' and Boys' Wear; a Ladie's fine cashmere hose at 20c. worth 25c.; Misses' and Boys' double rib, all wool, at 20c,

Ladies' Underwear...

In Hygeian, Paragon and Jersey Vests, Long Sleeves, at 20, 30, 40, 50c.

Gents' Wear.........

Our stock is complete in this line, and prices to suit the times.

☞ Do not fail to visit our MILLINERY DEPARTMENT.

H. A. LAYTON, BELLEVILLE.

Front St., Opposite Campbell St.

TRUE

Always—and why do we lead always in our line. It's not mixed up with other trades. The London and Belleville Crystal Hall is to-day the oldest Wholesale Crockery House in Canada. A resident European buyer is constantly sending out new wares as they come from the Kilns, which enables us to sell at what the small general trader has to pay. The goods look better because they are better. We can't afford to handle poor stuff such as is made for the "give away ticket" trade. That's why we always lead. Our new Fall Stock when all in, of China, Silver, Crockery and Lamps, will this year be the most beautiful disply of the potter's art ever seen in Belleville, and prices are a long way below last year.

W. J. REID & CO'Y.

CRYSTAL HALL. Rous' Old Stand.

London and Belleville.

The Sale of Boots and Shoes:

Slightly damaged by Smoke and Water will continue until everything is sold.

HAINES & LOCKETT

Opposite Anglo-American Hotel

TO THE PUBLIC.

When we decided to add the manufacure of carriages, phaetons, democrats, &c., to our business, we immediately put under construction a few of each. As we decided to place no vehicle on the market which is not A 1 in in every detail, and knowing that no first-class vehicle can be produced on the rush, it has been necessary for us to take sufficient time to produce what we aimed at. We think we have succeeded; and we now have a few rigs completed, and others nearing completion to offer for sale. The iron work is all hand forged; the wood work carefully made, and strongly ironed; and the painting and upholstering done with the best material and greatest care. We can freely recommend these rigs. We will be pleased to have parties who may need anything in the above line, call and inspect our work.

ST. CHARLES & PRINGLE.

JAS ST CHARLES. - - - - HENRY GI E

IT - HAS - BEEN - ADMITTED

— BY OVER 125 PEOPLE IN BELLEVILLE THAT THE —

John Bull Wrought Steel Range,

Is the most Economical, Everlasting and Useful Range on the market. How is this for three Seasons.

SEE THEM AT FOSTER'S.

Also the Duchess of Oxford Cast Iron Range

Belleville and Napanee,

Office, Bridge St. Telephone A. 4.

COAL - AND - WOOD.

THOS. STEWART,

The only dealer in Scranton Coal in Belleville and Napanee. The very best facilities for delivering to any part of the city or surrounding towns this coal, which is the best and cheapest mined.

No Gas. No Clinkers. No Waste

Clean, quick, hot, strong, cheerful fire. Smithing, Cannell, Brier Hill, Run of Mine coal and Coal Screenings always on hand. Hard and soft wood, Blocks and Edgings delivered to any part of the City.

DR. WOOD'S

Norway Pine Syrup.

Rich in the lung-healing virtues of the Pine combined with the soothing and expectorant properties of other pectoral herbs and barks.

A PERFECT CURE FOR COUGHS AND COLDS

Hoarseness, Asthma, Bronchitis, Sore Throat, Croup and all THROAT, BRONCHIAL and LUNG DISEASES. Obstinate coughs which resist other remedies yield promptly to this pleasant piny syrup.

PRICE 25C. AND 50C. PER BOTTLE.

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

DR. FOWLER'S EXT. OF WILD STRAWBERRY CURES COLIC CHOLERA CHOLERA-MORBUS DIARRHOEA DYSENTERY AND ALL SUMMER COMPLAINTS OF CHILDREN OR ADULTS

Price 35 CTS

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS

Camping Supplies!

— AND —

Picnic - Requisites!

Our list of articles suitable for Picnic Lunches and Camping includes:

Canned Meats.

ARMOUR'S COOKED BEEF,
ARMOUR'S OX TONGUES,
ARMOUR'S LUNCH TONGUES,
ARMOUR'S POTTED HAM,

ARMOUR'S COOKED PIG FEET
ARMOUR'S LUNCHEON MEAT.
ARMOUR'S POTTED TONGUE
ARMOUR'S BRAWN,

SANDWICH MEATS,
BONELESS CHICKEN,
BONELESS TURKEY,
POTTED BEEF,
POTTED GAME,
ETC.! ETC.!! ETC!

Canned Fish.

FINEST SARDINES IN OIL.
FINEST SARDINES IN TOMATO,
HERRINGS IN TOMATO SAUCE,
KIPPERED HERRINGS,
FRESH HERRINGS,

SALMON, LOBSTERS,
FINNAN HADDIES,
BLOATER PASTE,
ANCHOVY PASTE,
SARDINE PASTE,
ETC.! ETC.! !ETC.!!

Sundries.

Condensed Milk in Tins, Cream in Tins, Biscuits (in great variety), Fine old Cheese, McLaren's Imperial Cheese (in small crocks), Dried Beef, Choice Hams and Bacon, Lime Juice, Spanish Olives, CROSSE & BLACKWELL'S Pickled White Onions, Walnuts, Chow Chow, and and Mixed Pickles.

WALLBRIDGE & CLARKE

Grocers and Wine Merchants,

33 and 37 Bridge Street. Also Front Street, in Caldwell Building.

REMOVAL

MR. JOSEPH CALDWELL, DENTIST

Has removed his office to the new premises which he has had specially fitted up in the

Caldwell Block,

First door south of the Anglo-American Hotel Front street. 108tj

INTELLIGENCER PRINTING AND PUBLISHING COMPANY LIMITED.

J. C. JAMIESON, President. | J. W. LONDON, Secretary

THE Treasurer is the only person authorized to receive money from the Company, or to grant receipts for the same.

All Bills, Notes, Cheques and other documents binding on the Company, will require the signature of the President, in addition to the of the Treasurer.

THE INTELLIGENCE is printed and published by the INTELLIGENCER Printing and Publishing Company (Limited) by James C. Jamieson, resident in Belleville, at the Office, Front St., south of Hotel St.

The Daily Intelligencer.

LET THERE BE HARMONY IN THINGS ESSENTIAL—LIBERALITY IN THINGS NOT ESSENTIAL—CHARITY IN ALL.

VOL. 28. BELLEVILLE ONTARIO THURSDAY OCTOBER 11 1894 NO. 136

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

MEDICAL.

DR. WISHART.

47 GROSVENOR ST., Toronto, will be at the Huffman House, Belleville, Saturday, Dec. 1st, '94. 1924wly

DR. QUACKENBUSH, M.D., C.M., D., P.S.O.

HOMŒOPATHIC Physician, Surgeon and Accoucheur, has removed his office over store lately occupied by J. C. Yerell, Residence George St., opposite H. Corby's.

JOHN J. FARLEY, M. D., C. M., M. R. C. S. England.

OFFICE and Residence—corner of Bridge and George Streets—three streets east of Post Office.

LEGAL.

FLINT & McCAMON.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public, etc. Solicitors for the Canadian Bank of Commerce. Office, City Hall, Front Street, Belleville, Ont. 484tf

JOHN J. B. FLINT, W. J. McCAMON.

STEWART MASSON.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, Notary, Conveyancer, etc. Office, South side Bridge st., over Wallbridge & Clark's, Belleville, Ont. Money to loan at lowest rates. 765wtf

J. F. WILLS' LAW OFFICE

REMOVED to Campbell Street (south side) 2nd door from Front Street, on ground floor.

A. GOODRICH.

LAWYER, 124 Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill., 28 years' experience; score cy; special facilities in several States; Goodrich on Divorce; with laws of all States in print. 764ly

GEO. A. KINGSTON.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, etc., with Lount, Marsh and Cameron, 28 Toronto St., Toronto. Money to loan on farm property at lowest rates.

MIKEL & ROBERTS.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notary Public, Conveyancers, etc. Offices Bridge St., Belleville. Monies to loan at lowest rate.

THOMAS & HALLIWELL.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Conveyancers, etc. Money to loan. 293d3mwly

F. PARKER THOMAS, J. RAOUL HALLIWELL.

FONTON & MORDEN.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public, Conveyancers. Office over Express and Telegraph Office, Bridge St., Belleville. Money to loan at private funds.

WM. N. FONTON, M. A., Solicitor Hastings Loan and Investment Society.

W. S. MORDEN, B.A.

F. GUSS PORTER.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, Notary Public etc. Office in the Robertson Block, east side of Front Street.

Private Money to Loan. 271dwly

FRANCIS S. WALLBRIDGE.

(Successor to Hon. Lewis Wallbridge, Q.C.) BARRISTER, Solicitor, Conveyancer, etc. Office, McAnnany building, corner Front and Bridge streets, Belleville, Ont. Private and Company money to loan at 6 per cents., on easy terms upon good land security. Charges moderate.

HENRY CARRE, C. E.

M.C. Soc C.E.

DOMINION AND PROVINCIAL LAND SURVEYOR.

Special attention paid to Hydraulics and Land Drainage. Patents obtained and Drawings made. Office—McAnnany Block, under Conservative College, Front St. P.O. address—Box 203, Belleville.

A. G. NORTHRUP.

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Shire Hall, Belleville. 226dwly

D. I. DULMAGE, L.D.S., D.D.S. (Tor. University)

DENTIST—Office over Bingnall & Thompson's. Night calls at residence on Forin Street. d,w

CHAS. JOSE.

VETERINARY Surgeon, Graduate Ontario Veterinary College, Member Ontario Veterinary Society. Office and residence, Foxboro, Ont. Calls by mail or telegram promptly attended to. 304d,wly

MISCELLANEOUS.

A GENTCY of the Liverpool and London and Globe Fire and Life Insurance Companies. W. P. HUDSON, Agent. Office Campbell street, Belleville. d,w

GENTLEMEN....

Before ordering your Fall Clothing don't fail to take a look through

A. N. REID'S

New Fall Importations of

Scotch, English and Irish Suitings, Overcoatings, Pantings, Irish Serges, Cheviots, Hop Sackings and Black Worsteds.

First Class Goods and Prices low,

Mr. Minor, our jointer, is one of the best in Ontario.

EVERY GARMENT GUARANTEED!!

Please call and inspect our New Goods.

A. N. REID.

STOVE PIPES!

STOVE PIPES!!

STOVE PIPES!!!

WHIPS! LANTERNS!

WHIPS!! LANTERNS!!

WHIPS!!! LANTERNS!!!

Lamps, Flower Pots,

Lamps, Flower pots,

Lamps, Flower Pots.

—AT—

THE FAIR,

FRANK WEEKS, MANAGER.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

ACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York.

Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

Dr. H. F. Merrill.

No Other Medicine

SO THOROUGH AS

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

Statement of a Well Known Doctor

"No other blood medicine that I have ever used, will so thoroughly cleanse the blood thorough in its action, and effects so many permanent cures as Ayer's Sarsaparilla."—Dr. H. F. MERRILL, Augusta, Me.

Ayer's The Only Sarsaparilla

Admitted at the World's Fair.

Ayer's Pills for liver and bowels.

ACETOCURA TOUCHES THE SPOT IN NEURALGIA

ACETOCURA TOUCHES THE SPOT IN NEURALGIA

Mr. A. Weir, Kew Beach, September 7th, 1894, writes:—"Since then I have used it for neuralgic pains in the head, with immediate relief."

ACETOCURA TOUCHES THE SPOT IN PARALYSIS.

ACETOCURA TOUCHES THE SPOT IN PARALYSIS

ACETOCURA TOUCHES THE SPOT IN PARALYSIS

Mrs. B. M. Hall, Fernwood, Ill., U.S.A., August 15th, 1894, writes:—"I am 61 years old. For two years I had been afflicted with partial paralysis of the lower limbs, rendering me unable to walk a block without complete exhaustion. After using Acetocura for five days the pain had entirely disappeared, permitting me to enjoy a good night's rest, and after ten days's treatment I was able to walk two miles without fatigue."

Write for gratis pamphlet to COUTTS & Sons, 72 Victoria street, Toronto. Head offices—London, Glasgow and Manchester, (G.B.) Cologne, Germany, Aaron, Switzerland.

Local Agents—

L. W. YEOMANS & CO., DRUGGISTS, BELLEVILLE.

PREPARE FOR the STRUGGLE.

The course of study offered by the Belleville business College gives a young person a thorough and practical knowledge of business, and also that mental culture and discipline which sharpens perceptive faculties, stimulates ambition, develops ability and prepares for the struggle of making a living. Every step in the work is characterized by thoroughness. Besides we use the most practical methods.

In teaching shorthand we dictate actual letters and legal evidence. Other schools have undertaken to imitate our methods, but the quality of their work bears that relation to practical business which the imitation does to the real.

We represent things exactly as they are.

Belleville Business College.

ROBERT BOGLE, Proprietor.

Daily Intelligencer.

COLLAPSE OF A BUILDING

Falling Walls of a Brick Structure Wreck a Tenement.

INMATES BURIED IN THE RUINS

Nine Bodies Taken Out Dead, While a Number of Persons Are Severely Injured —A Whole Family Killed—The Brick Building Was in Course of Erection and Was Tumbled Down by the Gale.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—A seven-story brick structure in course of erection at 72 Monroe street, collapsed yesterday during a terrific gale and rainstorm. Part of it fell the other way on the house of 70 Monroe street. At least fifteen persons were known to be in this house, which was utterly crushed. A few minutes after the crash the shrieks of the imprisoned victims could be heard blocks away.

At 6 o'clock three bodies had been taken from the ruins, two of them mutilated almost beyond recognition, and eighteen persons are under treatment for severe injuries received. The schoolhouse next door to the wrecked structure was temporarily turned into a hospital.

At 2.15 o'clock in the afternoon the body of Solomon Kroness was taken from the ruins. Shortly after five o'clock the body of Rosie Abrahams, aged 3 years old, was discovered in the ruins. She lay beneath a huge mass of debris. Till the finding of this body a slight hope was entertained that life might yet linger in those known to be in the ruins.

During the afternoon the few remaining members of the Abraham's family sorrowfully watched the search for their mother, father, sister and brother. Later in the afternoon it was decided to continue the search for the dead during the night and arrangements were made to have electric lights erected.

Captain Grant had his detectives hunting for a man named Amelsky, said to have had charge of the erection of new buildings, acting for the owner.

The most remarkable incident in connection with the disaster was the almost miraculous escape from death of Jacob Koroness. For nearly nine hours he lay under the debris, threatened every minute with instant death should a cave-in occur. A wire mattress had fallen across a couple of beams directly above him, thus giving him space in which to breathe. Notwithstanding the terrible mental and physical strain to which he had been subjected the young man maintained his nerve until he was placed on a stretcher. He fainted while being carried to an ambulance. He did not show any signs of outward injury, but the doctors at Gouverneur hospital say he died here. Bertha Koroness, 48 fear he is hurt internally.

years old; Abraham Koroness, aged 9; Solomon Koroness, aged 21; Rosie Abrahams, aged 18; Meyer Steinman, aged 31; Jennie Steinman, aged 60.

Fourteen persons were injured, more or less severely. Isaac Abrahams, 50 years old and 7-year-old son were missing, but were taken out of the ruins dead at midnight. None of the injured will die.

Funeral of Poet Holmes.

BOSTON, Oct. 11.—Amid a wealth of flowers, the brightness of which was a pleasant contrast with the gloomy skies and steady rainfall without, the plain blackcloth covered bier containing a plate on which was inscribed "Oliver Wendell Holmes," and containing all that was mortal of the famous poet who has just passed away in the fullness of his years and fame, was placed at the head of the main aisle in King's Chapel yesterday and the simple funeral rites were held. After the service the body was taken to Mount Auburn and buried in the Jackson lot in which Mrs. Holmes, the wife of the poet, was interred. Only the family and most intimate friends were present at the last rites, which consisted simply of selections sung by a quartette.

Coal Schooner Sunk in a Collision.

FORT MONROE, Va., Oct. 11.—The schooner Henry Lippit, Capt. Howes, with coal from Georgetown, while anchored in the roads was run into by the Schooner Pool wing and sunk. Captain Howes, the mate and steward took to the rigging and were rescued. Midnight by the crew of the Bay line steamer Alabama. Two of the crew took to the boats and have not since been heard from. Captain Howes thinks but two of the men reached the boat before the vessel sank.

Shamokin Miners Still Entombed.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., Oct. 11.—The entombed miners in the burning Fidler mines have not yet been found. Two slight falls of the explosions occurred in the main shaft yesterday, the shock being felt on the surface one mile distant. No rescuing party has been able to penetrate the workings since the accident.

Bartholomy to be Imprisoned.

BUFFALO, Oct. 11.—The jury has brought in a verdict of murder in the second degree against George Bartholomy, who shot and killed Wm. E. Delaney. The sentence will be life imprisonment in the Auburn penitentiary.

Bessemer Steel Works Close Down.

TROY, Oct. 11.—The fires in the Bessemer steel works were drawn last night and operations were suspended. The works are part of the Troy Steel and Iron Company's plant and gave employment to about 400 men.

A Section Man Killed.

BOTHWELL, Ont., Oct. 11.—William Little, who lived about one mile out of town, while working with G. T. R. section gang near Thamesville, was struck and instantly killed by an accommodation train going west this noon, being thrown into the ditch. Little failed to move out of the way of the train in time. His body was taken to Thamesville, where an inquest will be held. He had been an employe of the company for fifteen or twenty years.

The Czar's Despondency.

LONDON, Oct. 11. The Daily Telegraph's correspondent in St. Petersburg says: "Physical pain has almost ceased in the case of the Czar, but his despondency lends a darker color to his malady than the facts made public seem to warrant."

Bowers Sentenced to Five Years.

LONDON, Ont., Oct. 11.—At the Middlesex assizes yesterday Edward Bowers was sentenced to five years in Kingston penitentiary for the manslaughter of Wm. Cain.

Mr. Mercier's Condition.

MONTREAL, Oct. 11.—Ex-Premier Mercier was very much weaker last night and his condition is again causing his friends anxiety.

GREEN IS DISCHARGED.

The Cornwall Jury Brings in a Verdict of Not Guilty.

CORNWALL, Ont., Oct. 11.—The trial of Charles Green for the murder of Petrick Cosgrove on the night of September 8, was concluded last night, when the jury brought in a verdict of "not guilty," and the people of Cornwall were once more relieved to hear the horrible death sentence pronounced on the prisoner. The room was literally packed to the doors and when the jury filed out a deathly silence prevailed. When the verdict of "not guilty" was rendered, the prisoner was lectured and finally discharged. He thanked the judge and going over to his lawyer, Mr. MacLennan, shook his hand warmly and the court adjourned.

Mrs. Beaton's Libel Suit.

HAMILTON, Oct. 11.—At the assize court before Judge Falconbridge the libel suit of Beaton vs. Brierley was concluded yesterday. This came of a series of suits brought by Mrs. Elizabeth Beaton, of Burlington, against several newspapers for publishing an article taken from the New York World in August, 1890, regarding the mysterious disappearance of a wealthy gentleman named Cleary. Harrison Case, who was lost overboard from the old Dominion Line steamer Guyandotte on a voyage from South Carolina to New York. Mr. Brierley defended himself and made an eloquent defence. The judge charged strongly in favor of defendant. After being out a considerable time the jury returned a verdict of $1 and costs for plaintiff. It is understood the verdict was a compromise one, seven of the jurors being strongly in favor of a verdict for defence.

Result of Fooling With a Gun.

BRAMPTON, Ont., Oct. 13.—Herb Joyce, a boy about 18 employed in the Banner office, shot his brother Will, a lad a year or two younger, with a shot gun. The whole charge struck the boy square in the face at not more than twenty feet range, and the only wonder is that he was not instantly killed. He was taken to Toronto hospital. It appears the youths were alone when Will playfully told his brother to point the gun at him and see if it was loaded, which was done, and Herbert found to his sorrow it was loaded, and he is now almost wild with grief at his rash act.

Railway Accident in Quebec.

QUEBEC, Oct. 11.—A railway accident occurred on the Q., M. and C. railway yesterday. It was caused by a couple of cows running across the construction train. Six men were thrown off the platform and the train was derailed. This occurred between Grand River and Cape Tourmente. George Desbien and Louis Lessard were killed instantly. Four men were seriously injured. One of them named Lambert had his left leg cut off and his left arm almost severed. He will die. The others received more or less bodily injuries and one or two are in a critical condition.

Only Land Workers Wanted.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—The Mansion House relief committee has been advised by the Dominion Government that there is no room in Canada for any class of immigrants other than farm laborers. The partial failure of the committee's emigrants sent to Montreal in the past season, it is expected, will not discourage the people in their charitable emigration. It is now being urged upon the committee that they should bring back to England the emigrants now without work at Montreal.

A Chicago Absconder on Trial.

HAMILTON, Oct. 11.—Frederick Murphy, who was arrested here on a warrant charging him with passing forged paper to the value of $1,300 on the First National Bank in Chicago in September last, was brought before Judge Muir yesterday and remanded for eight days. Murphy says he will fight extradition, and has secured Frank Fitzgerald as his counsel. The prisoner has been here about three weeks living with relatives, and during this time he has been watched by a Pinkerton detective also named Murphy.

Died From His Injuries.

TORONTO, Oct. 11.—Harvey S. Qua, the 6-year-old son of Samuel E. Qua, 11 Gwynne avenue, died yesterday. The little fellow was riding on a coal waggon when it was stopped at the house of his uncle across the street. When the waggon started the little chap attempted to get off. In doing so he fell under the wheels and was fatally crushed. The accident happened over a week ago, and the little fellow lingered in much agony until death released him.

A Missing Man's Body Found.

TORONTO, Oct. 11.—The body of Robert Irving, 27 Gladstone avenue, who has been missing for over three weeks, has been found on the lake shore, opposite the Exhibition Park. Deceased wandered from his son's home. A search was made. The police were notified, but were unable to trace the missing man. Robert Irving, the son, has not been slack in his endeavors to find his missing parent. Deceased was about fifty years of age.

Cleaning Out the Detroit River.

AMHERSTBURG, Ont., Oct. 11.—The Dominion dredge Ontario has removed several large boulders from the Detroit river, 120 feet out from the docks. One of them is nine feet by six by four feet. These are the rocks on which the Calumet damaged her forefoot, which caused her loss four years ago on Lake Michigan. At the place where the A. A. Parker struck last fall. Another big boulder has been located and will be removed at once.

Conductors' Case Adjourned.

MONTREAL, Oct. 11.—The enquete into the case of the Grand Trunk conductors charged with defrauding the company has been adjourned. At the afternoon's session Richard Wallace, of Toronto, testified that he had bought a ticket from Montreal to Toronto, in Montreal, from Lewis, the Queen's hotel porter, for $5.

Engines for a Brazil Railway.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Twenty-five engines, more or less dismembered, arrived at Jersey City on twenty-eight cars over the Erie road from Dunkirk, for the new South American republic, Brazil. The twenty-five engines were part of the order of sixty engines placed with the Brooks Locomotive Works, Dunkirk, for the Central railway of Brazil.

Norwegian Elections.

CHRISTIANIA, Oct. 11.—The Norwegian elections by delegates from the constituencies have begun in several districts. Most members of the late government have been returned. Steen, ex-minister and a most pronounced separatist, has been elected in Kongsberg.

Dust Explosion in a Mine.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 11.—A special from Newcastle, Wash., says: A dust explosion occurred in breast 38 of the fifth level of the Oregon Improvement Co's. mine yesterday, with the result that one miner is dead and 10 are seriously burned, two probably fatally.

STORMS ALONG THE COAST.

Immense Damage to Shipping Interests in the New England States.

LOSS OF LIFE AT ST. PIERRE.

French Fishing Vessels Believed to Have Gone Down With a Loss of Four Hundred Men—Along the Atlantic Seaboard the Hurricane is Greater Than Has Been Known for Years.

ST. JOHNS, Nfld., Oct. 11.—St. Pierre the French colony on the south coast of Newfoundland, was visited by a terrible gale which caused the loss of at least 10 lives and unprecedented damage to shipping. More than 60 vessels anchored in the roadstead were driven ashore and most of them were destroyed. Their crews escaped only by the merest chance. A fleet of more than 300 French fishing vessels had arrived at St. Pierre within a few days, having been compelled to make port for repairs after the disastrous blizzard in the gale on the Sunday before last, which raged furiously on the banks. All vessels reported serious losses. Several ships are missing and are believed to have foundered with 200 lives.

HUNTSVILLE, N.J., Oct. 11.—During the heavy gale last night seven barges loaded with coal bound east and the large steamtug Belle McWilliams went ashore at Lloyd's harbor, and it is reported that children were lost. Some men belonging to the crews are missing and are believed to have been drowned. The beach for a mile is covered with wreckage.

The woman who was lost was aboard the barge Jennie Hughes, whose captain is James Murphy, was her brother. With her were her three children. At the height of the storm the woman and children took refuge in the cabin, which was the only one the deck. A wave tore away the cabin and carried it into the sea. The wrecked cabin in which Mrs. Murphy and child was afterwards found about a mile from where the large went ashore. One of the children, a 11-year-old boy, still alive, was found on the beach and was taken aboard the tug, which lays high and dry on the beach. The bodies of the other children have not yet been found.

The exact loss of life and property cannot be ascertained until the searchers report from the scene of the wreck. The gale was the fiercest ever witnessed by dwellers near the bay.

ATLANTIC HIGHLANDS, N. J., Oct. 11.—The storm was the most violent that has visited these and adjoining shores for many years. A large number of small craft were destroyed and roads washed out, trees uprooted and buildings unroofed.

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., Oct. 11.—A terrible rainstorm, accompanied by a northeast wind, swept over this place. The tide is the highest ever recalled here, and many docks are under water. A number of small craft were driven in the bay and have been driven ashore. The sloop Dexter, H. A. Townsend, was sunk.

JERSEY CITY, Oct. 11.—The storm did great damage to the ship and greatly interfered with the working of the trolley cars owned by the Consolidated Traction Co. The trolley service was stopped in every direction and caused several accidents, two of which proved fatal to horses.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—The wild windstorm along the South Atlantic coast doubtless caused many marine disasters. The bark Ogir of Norway, from Hull, Eng., to Wilmington, N. C., in ballast, grounded on Cape Fear Bay and became a total loss. The crew of eleven men were rescued by the life savers.

AUGUSTA, Me., Oct. 11.—During the storm here the wind reached a velocity of 60 miles an hour. The heavy sea ripped up a portion of the floor of the Auburn Park pavilion. Telegraph, telephone and electric light wires were blown down all over town.

SALEM, Mass., Oct. 11.—Considerable damage is reported to yachts moored in the harbor. An unknown schooner is reported in the bay off Manchester, disabled and flying a signal of distress. Word has been telegraphed to Gloucester to try to render the vessel assistance.

BEVERLY, Mass., Oct. 11.—The worst storm of the season prevails here. The wind blew a gale along the water front. The streets are strewn with broken limbs and branches of trees.

British Imports From Canada.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—British imports from Canada show an increase of 3 per cent. for the month of September, according to the returns published by the British Board of Trade, as compared with September of last year. There is also an increase of 7 per cent. in the imports for the nine months of the year, as compared with the same period of last year. Cheese increased 120,000 pounds. Exports from Great Britain to Canada decreased 6 per cent. in September and for the nine months 39 per cent., as against the returns of last year.

Brantford Weavers on Strike.

BRANTFORD, Oct. 11.—The weavers in the Dominion cotton mills here went out on strike. A new schedule of prices, to take effect next Monday, had been posted. When the weavers saw the prices they would not return to work. They claim the cut of ten per cent. last June and this cut will make a cut of about fifteen per cent., and they cannot make sufficient to maintain themselves. On account of the weavers going out the mill is closed down and will remain closed until such time as the weavers accept the schedule prices.

Ontario C. E. Convention.

KINGSTON, Oct. 11.—Yesterday the sixth annual convention of the Ontario Christian Endeavor Union opened in the First Congregational Church. The first session was opened by Rev. A. M. Phillips, Montreal, who presided at night. Addresses of welcome were delivered by Mayor Herald and others in Sydenham street church.

Twelve Years for Firebugs.

PRESQUE ISLE, Me., Oct. 11.—The lifeless body of Wm. Tears of St. George, N.B., was found on the track six miles south of here. His head was completely severed from the body and presented a horrible sight. How the accident occurred is not known, but particulars may be brought out at the inquest to-day.

Found Beheaded on the Track.

FREDERICTON, N.B., Oct. 11.—George Brown and Jefferson Mount were sentenced to twelve years each in the penitentiary for setting fire to the Salvation Army barracks.

Hungarian Civil Marriage Bill.

BUDA PESTH, Oct. 11.—The third reading of the bill providing for civil marriage was passed by the House of Magnates yesterday.

Dr. Moon Dead.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—Dr. Moon, the inventor of a system of printing for the blind, died at Brighton yesterday.

USE SURPRISE SOAP ON WASH DAY; AND EVERY DAY.

EASY TO TAKE

BRISTOL'S SUGAR-COATED VEGETABLE PILLS PROMPT

SAFE

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

TORONTO, Oct. 11, 1894.

Buffalo markets report Canada barley flat. Maisters say they will wait a few weeks before taking hold.

On the street here 300 bushels of wheat sold at 66c for white and 65c for red; 300 of barley at 44 to 48c; 150 of peas at 57 to 58c and 500 of oats at 31 to 31½c. Outside prices were firm, but not any higher.

Wheat was dull in Chicago, traders not caring to take any chances on the government report. Corn was weak. Oats were bearish in tone, but closed unchanged.

At the East Buffalo live stock market of the 10 1-2 cars Canadas offered all were sold, a few lots of the best bringing $4.75, a little better price than has prevailed for a week back. Some very good sold at $4.15 to $4.25, and $4 to $4.10, with common at $3.75 to $3.90.

In London the Jewish holiday and the miserable weather caused an idle day. Americans were flat. At the close they were slightly above the worst. South Americans were firm.

There was little in the New York stock market to merit comment. Nearly all the movements in securities were of insignificant proportions and largely governed by the "turns" of petty speculators.

French Expedition to Madagascar.

PARIS, Oct. 11.—Preparations for fitting out the expedition to be sent to Madagascar by the French government are being rapidly advanced. The cruiser Arethuse is being armed at Brest to take part in the expedition.

Catholic Archbishops in Session.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 11.—The annual conference of the Archbishops of the United States, at which several questions of much importance to the Catholic Church in America are to be settled, is going on here at the residence of Archbishop Ryan. The conference is secret and but little could be learned of the result. Archbishop Ryan said that very little of public importance had come up and that the time had been mostly taken up in the discussion of matters of discipline. When asked what action had been taken upon the question of recognizing the Hibernian society, the Archbishop said: "We have decided to recognize the Ancient Order of Hibernians, that is the American order, as a most admirable society."

Suicide of a British Consul.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—The foreign office was the scene of a tragedy which created great excitement within the precincts of that department. P. Henderson, British consul at Calla, who was in London on leave of absence, called at the foreign office, and in the course of the business which led him there, engaged in conversation with H. St. G. Foley, the precis writer of the foreign department. Suddenly he drew a revolver and, before Mr. Foley could interfere, he shot himself in the head and fell to the floor, dying in a few minutes. Mr. Henderson's motive for taking his life is unknown.

The Australian Ministry's Policy.

MELBOURNE, Oct. 11.—Premier Turner has issued a manifesto concerning the new ministry's policy. He pledges himself to the principle of "One adult one vote," and promises a royal commission to consider the question of founding a state bank of Victoria. He will promise in Parliament bills providing for the taxation of unimproved land and absentee landlords, and will propose a temporary income tax to be in force for seven years. Measures are not otherwise taxed. He will support imperial federation.

Lived on Pemican Ten Years Old.

CHRISTIANA, Oct. 11.—An interview with Astrup, one of the members of Lieut. Peary's Arctic exploration party, is published in the Morgenbladt. Astrup was respectful in speaking of Peary, but spoke with some reservation. Among the many things he said was that the pemican comprised in the stores of the expedition was spoiled and unfit to eat. It was more than ten years old, he said, having been made for the Greely expedition.

The Abr Valley.

It is becoming the custom among European travellers to ship their goods on the Rhine, and make a little excursion to the beautiful Valley of the Abr, with its picturesque villages along the vine clad slope. Here is also located the spring from which flows that world wide favorite "Apollinaris Water." At Neuenahr, in the valley, the river Abr is very beautiful, and one can find few more quietly attractive spots than the Upper Gate at Ahrweiler, or the 14 mill at Hoppingen.

A tax on dogs was levied in Rome during the reign of Nero.

For Over Fifty Years

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for children teething. It soothes the child, soft ens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhœa. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by druggists throughout the world. 17d&wly

In the time of Queen Anne soap was taxed £28 per ton.

DEAR SIRS,—I have used Yellow Oil for two or three years, and think it has no equal for croup. Mrs. J. S. O'Brien, Huntsville, Ont.

The tithes in England amounted to £4,050,000 a year.

Dyspepsia and Indigestion.—C. W. Snow & Co., Syracuse, N.Y., writes: "Please send us ten gross of Pills. We are selling more of Parmelee's Pills than any other Pill we keep. They have a great reputation for the cure of Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint." Mr. Chas. A. Smith, Lindsay, writes: "Parmelee's Pills are an excellent medicine. My sister has been troubled with severe headache, but these pills have cured her."

Russia raises $1,500,000 a year by the sale of passports.

THAT TIRED, LANGUID FEELING and dull headache is very disagreeable. Take two of Carter's Little Liver Pills before retiring, and you will find relief. They never fail at do good.

LAKEHURST SANITARIUM OAKVILLE, ONT.

For treatment and cure of ALCHOLISM, MORPHINE HABIT, TOBACCO HABIT AND NERVOUS DISEASES.

The system employed at this institution is the facilities Double Chloride of Gold System. Through its agency over 200,000 cures to the use of these poisons have been accomplished in the last fourteen years. Lakehurst Sanitarium is the oldest institution of the kind in Canada, and has a well earned reputation to maintain in the line of medicine. In its whole history there is not an instance of failure to remove the appetite for these poisons. In its whole history there is not an instance of any after ill effects from the treatment. Hundreds of happy homes in all parts of the Dominion bear eloquent witness to the efficacy of a course of treatment with us. For terms and full information write

THE SECRETARY,
28 Bank of Commerce Chambers,
sog7g30w34*3w) Toronto, Ont.

Trafalgar Institute.
(Affiliated to McGill University.)
No. 83 Simpson Street, Montreal.
FOR THE—
Higher Education of Young Women

With preparatory department for girls between 10 and 14.
President, Rev. JAMES BARCLAY, D.D.
Vice-President, Mrs. A. T. DRUMMOND.
Principal, Miss GRACE FARLEY, M.A., Edinburgh.
The institute will re-open with an efficient staff of resident and visiting teachers, on Tuesday, 11th September 1894.
The Institute Buildings are situated on the mountain side overlooking the City. The spacious grounds are attractively laid out and the surroundings are not only beautiful but very healthful.
For copy of Prospectus and other information apply at the principal, at the Institute, or to
A. F. Riddell, Secretary, 22 St. John St., Montreal.

PETTYJOHN'S CALIFORNIA BREAKFAST FOOD

Dyspeptics can eat this food.
It is particularly adapted for children and persons of sedentary habits.
It is made from Pacific coast wheat hulled and crushed by improved machinery.
It can be easily prepared for breakfast, as this crushing process makes it soft and tender and easy to cook.
Ask your physician which is best for you to eat, oats or wheat
Pettijohn's California Breakfast Food is sold in packages by
BENMORE & BENSON.

HAPPY HOME RANGES.
Best in the Market.
—ALSO—
A Full Line of
Art Garland and Famous Heaters.
—(o)—
Wm. McGIE.
Next to Nathan Jones.
Telephone 38. Front St

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 75c. bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, THURSDAY OCT. 11

EDITORIAL BREVITIES.

"Protection has no friends," says the Globe. This is true as to a majority of the Grits; and yet they do not dare to declare for free trade.

Earl Grey is dead at the age of 92 years. He was a man of slight bodily strength but a "stayer"—tough as a bone.

Father Ritchie, rector of the high church St. Ignatius, in New York, announces that he will refuse the Eucharist to divorced persons who remarry.

The Catholic Register is advocating the starting of a fund for the purpose of erecting a statue to D'Arcy McGee, in Queen's Park, Toronto. An excellent scheme, which we heartily endorse. McGee, one of the most eminent of Irish Canadians, was murdered by the selected tool of a disloyal conspiracy, because of his loyalty to British Canada, and therefore loyal subjects ought to unite in perpetuating his memory. Besides, he was one of the most genial and generous of men—a true lover of his kind—and therefore worthy the loving regard of all Canadians.

The Oswego Times is one of the most bitter haters of Britain and of Canada. It is, indeed, a McKinleyite, and has a strong desire to annex or conquer us. And yet, coward-like, the Times is very much afraid of the object of its hatred. In a recent issue it said:

If any one is disposed to rely on the friendship of the British or Canadian people as an assurance that no trouble may be anticipated from this quarter, he should remember the hostility shown this country during the war of the rebellion, when the enmity of the Canadians was simply rampant.

Don't be alarmed, Mr. Times. Canada won't hurt you. There were about 75,000 of the hated Canadians in the Northern army, but for whose bravery the South would probably have conquered the North. So, friend Times, we would advise you to be more grateful to the men who saved the union.

SPECIAL MENTION

Look out for Art Series No. 9 on October 15th.

DR. LOW'S PLEASANT WORM SYRUP removes worms of all kinds from children or adults.

THAT HACKING COUGH can be quickly cured by Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam. Price 25c.

ALWAYS AVOID HARSH PURGATIVE PILLS. They first make you sick and then leave you constipated. Carter's Little Liver Pills regulate the bowels and make you well. Dose, one pill.

ALL CASES OF WEAK OR LAME BACK, backache, rheumatism, will find relief by wearing one of Carter's Smartweed and Belladonna Backache Plasters. Price 25 cents. Try them.

No person should go from home without a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial in their possession, as change of water, cooking, climate, etc., frequently brings on summer complaint, and there is nothing like being ready with a sure remedy at hand, which oftentimes saves great suffering, and frequently valuable lives. This Cordial has gained for itself a wide spread reputation for affording prompt relief from all summer complaints.

THE GREAT FAMILY MEDICINE OF THE AGE.—There is probably, no family medicine so favorably and so widely known as DAVIS PAIN KILLER. It is extensively used in India, China, Turkey—and, in every civilized country on earth, not only to counteract the climatic influences, but for the cure of bowel troubles, Cholera and Fevers. It is used internally for all diseases of the bowels, and externally for wounds, burns, bruises, &c. Sold by druggists generally. 25c. for a big bottle

That Joyful Feeling.

With the exhilarating sense of renewed health and strength and internal cleanliness, which follows the use of Syrup of Figs, is unknown to the few who have not progressed beyond the old time medicines and the cheap substitutes sometimes offered but never accepted by the well informed.

CAMPBELL'S QUININE WINE. It will tone up your system, and restore the appetite. | JUST WHAT YOU NEED — THIS SPRING.

The best cure for Debility.

The MARKETS

BELLEVILLE MARKETS

INTELLIGENCER OFFICE,
Belleville, Oct. 10, 1894.

The grain market is nominal at last week's prices, in the absence of receipts of any great amount. Mr. McGuinnes reports that the amount of Hogs are increasing, for the reason that a good home market is secured to them.

Dressed hogs are selling at 6c to 6½c. A car of live hogs were shipped east yesterday for which 6½c was paid.

Egg gathering is over for the season. Mr. McGuinness received 40 cases from Picton for which he paid 12c. The care he has shown in shipping eggs has had the desired effect, as his European consignor writes that the eggs he is shipping are equal to Irish, and warns him to keep up the quality. The local market for eggs is bare, 15c to 16c being paid.

Butter is also scarce, selling up to 25c for choice dairy, and 20c for tub. Lard, 9½c to 10c.

In hog products, long clear is selling at 9c.; Hams green, 9 1 2c to 10c; cured, 11c to 12c; pork sausage, 13 lbs. to the dollar. The demand for all kinds of smoked meats is dropping off. A brisker demand resulting for fresh.

WHEAT—50c to 52c.
BARLEY—40c to 45c.
RYE—40c to 45.
OATS—26 to 27c.
PEAS (Common)—52c.
RUNNER PEAS—56c.
BUCKWHEAT—43c. to 45c
BUTTER—Roll, 25c.
EGGS—15c per doz
LIVE HOGS—$4.50 to $4.75 per 100 lbs
DRESSED BEEF—5c.
LAMB—8c
HIDES—$3.00,
CALFSKINS—50c.
LAMB SKINS—50c.
DEAKINS—30c.
TALLOW—Rough, 3c.
TALLOW—Rendered, 5½c.
WOOL—17c to 18c.
LARD—10c.
POTATOES—65c. per bag.
HAY—$7 to $8.00 per ton.
CHICKENS—40c to 60c per pair.
DUCKS—50c. to 60c.
ONIONS—20c. to 25c per peck.

HOPS.

The outlook for hops is as gloomy as ever, without a prospect for better prices in the future. A lot of 1894, slightly damaged, were sold here at 5 cents; and a lot of several tons from the Brighton district was offered here at 9c, which did not induce trade.

The Wheat Situation.

BELLEVILLE, Oct. 10, 1894.

Is still as unsatisfactory as it has been during the past many months, during which time prophets without number have risen to say that the time had arrived for a boom in the price of this cereal, but all prophets have proved false, and the long desired rise in the price seems as far distant as ever. Notwithstanding the large quantity of wheat which has gone into consumption for feeding purposes on account of the low price, stock continues to accumulate, until there seems to be no end to the supply.

Last week an average of 275 carloads of wheat left Winnipeg over the C.P.R. for the east every day and up to the 26th Sept. no less than 2,177,000 bushels had been delivered along the line of the Railway against 752,965 bushel for the same period last year, or nearly three times as much. No doubt this increase is due as much to favorable weather as to the crop. The visible supply of wheat increased last week about two million bushels which leaves the visible supply five million bushels more than last year, when there was an unprecedented abundance. Compared with last year wheat is 14c per bushel lower, corn, 10c and oats 1c per bushel higher.

Messrs. Lindborn & Coy's., Chicago, circular says truly that there is no possibility of prices improving until farmers cease to rush wheat to market, but when that time comes as it will shortly, the good roads having led to an earlier marketing of wheat than usual, there will be plenty of room for the market to improve.

Cheese Markets

BELLEVILLE, October 10, 1894.

The market for cheese has been a steady one, with a fall of 6¹. in the cable—which did not tend to strengthen it, so that it looks as if those who contracted for their cheese at the liberal prices offered, acted wisely. The shipments, local and through, last week amounted to 77,015, a falling off of about 40,00) when compared with the week before. The total for the season so far, however, is in excess of that of last year by 73,622. Quotations in Montreal are:—Finest Ontario colored, 10⅝ to 10⅞; finest Ontario white, 10 1 2c to 10⅝c; finest townships. 10½c to 10 1 2c; Quebec finest, 10½c to 10½c.

INGERSOLL, Oct. 9—Offerings to-day, 4,190 boxes; 3,250 August; balance, September; no sales, not even a bid made; market adjourned for two weeks.

STIRLING.

On Sunday next, there will be a thanksgiving service in St. Thomas church, 8 h line Rawdon at 3 p.m. The choir of St. John's church, Stirling, have kindly promised to be present and assist in the service. The following evening, Monday the 15th inst., a fruit social will be held in the Orange Hall, near the church, in aid of the Sunday School. Several prominent gentlemen promised to be present. Jas. Haggarty, M.P.P., Professor Monroe, and others. A cordial ivitation is extended to all, a good time expected.

MY SWEETHEART.

'Twas a quaint rhyme scrawled in a spelling-book,
And handed to me with a bashful look
By my blue-eyed sweetheart so fondly true,
In the dear old school days long years ago—
"If you love me as I love you,
No knife can cut our love in two."

That Saunder's speller, so tattered and torn,
Has always a halo of romance worn,
And never a poet with a honeyed pen
Has written so precious a rhyme since then—
"If you love me as I love you."
Ah dear, you know I did—and do.

I've kept it safely for many a year—
This dog-eared, shabby, old spelling book dear,
And now as I hold it within my hand,
Again in the schoolroom I seem to stand,
Reading once more with rapture new—
"If you love me as I love you."

How some foolish saying from out the past
Like a rosebranch is over the pathway cast,
And the time of flowers we still remember,
Till winds blow cold in the bleak December
God grant it always may be true
"That you love me as I love you."

—Carolyn L. Bacon, in "Chicago Mail."

How to Get a "Sunlight" Picture.

Send 25 "Sunlight" soap wrappers (wrapper bearing the words "Why does a woman look old sooner than a man") to Lever Bros., Ltd., 43 Scott St., Toronto, and you will receive by post a pretty picture, free from advertising, and well worth framing. This is an easy way to decorate your home. The soap is the best in the market, and it will only cost 1c. postage to send in the wrappers, if you leave the ends open. Write your address carefully.

IS SEARCH OF THE ASSASSIN

Young Westwood Gave No Clue to His Slayer Before His Death.

OFFICERS WORKING ON THE CASE

All Toronto's Detective Force Engaged in Looking for Some Explanation of the Crime—The Adjourned Inquest Expected to Bring Out Some Interesting Facts Connected With the Case.

TORONTO, Oct. 11.—Frank Westwood's death was a terrible shock to the family. Around his bedside were gathered his father, mother and two brothers. All night long an anxious watch was kept in the silent chamber, for the physicians had intimated that in their opinion the unfortunate lad would not live through the night. His youth and vitality held out for hours against approaching death.

The statement which has been reported was made by the boy was taken on the advice of Dr. Lynd, who advised the youth to tell of the affair as he remembered it. He detailed the story of the events of the fatal Saturday night when he answered the door bell and was shot down ere he had time to peer out into the darkness. The statement did not differ from that made to Coroner Lynd in the presence of Detective Slemin early on Sunday morning just after the shooting. On securing the statement the officer of the law left the room to continue the search for the assassin.

The deceased lad was quite resigned and content when told he could not live. During his 79 hours suffering since the assassin's bullet was fired he has been brave and courageous, bearing untold agony without murmur or complaint. He said he was not afraid of death, and that he felt quite prepared. The police confess that they are puzzled by the case. It is a mystery that they have not fathomed. Any amount of theory has been disproved. After securing the ante-mortem statement the detectives made several calls and verified the last recital of Frank Westwood. So intensely interested in the case are the officers of the law that the chiefs of the departments are endeavoring to assist their subordinates in tracing a criminal who did not leave any tracks. At any moment they expect to find a missing clue, but up to to-day they are groping aimlessly about. With a hope that justice will not allow such a dastard to escape, and that the wide publicity given to the case will assist them, the police will continue the search for the assassin.

Dr. Lynd called at the Westwood home a few minutes after Frank had breathed his last. He at once informed the Crown Attorney of his patient's demise. Coroner R. B. Orr at once issued a warrant for an inquest.

The coroner's jury assembled at Lakeside hall. Reporters who sought admittance to the house were not allowed to enter by the relatives of the youth. This fact causes some comment, as it is almost unprecedented. This adds further to the mystery surrounding the case. After the jury was sworn in they viewed the body and listened to an explanation of the position of the wound, the course of the bullet and the probable position of the revolver from which came the fatal shot. The jury then chose their foreman and Coroner Orr fixed to-morrow evening at the hour of eight at No. 6 Police Station as the time and place of the next sitting.

The circumstances surrounding the shooting and subsequent death of Frank Westwood are unparalleled by any previous tragedy in Toronto or Canada. All attempts at finding some explanation of the crime have so far only tended to deepen the mystery. Some startling developments are expected at the inquest to-morrow night, and it is more than generally conceded that an arrest will soon be made.

NEWS FROM THE ORIENT.

The Chinese Emperor Getting to Work—Defence of Pekin.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—The Times has this despatch from its correspondent in Tien-Tsin:

Minister N. R. O'Connor has arrived at Chee-Foo aboard H. M. S. Alacrity and is proceeding in haste to Pekin. The Emperor is now taking the initiative and is infusing new energy into the work of national defences, mustering military resources the existence of which was scarcely suspected. The viceroys of Yun Kwei and Hukwang have been summoned to Pekin for counsel.

The Japanese admiral has been making sham demonstrations with dummy ships, painted white like war vessels, but there always have been the same two cruisers appearing about the promontory of Shang Tung.

The Japanese are taking elaborate pains to conceal their losses in the recent engagement, nevertheless the truth is gradually coming out. Their fleet was crippled more seriously than the Chinese were aware.

The English papers received contain a falsified version of the Chinese emperor's declaration of war. The phrase "rooting the pestilential Japanese from their lairs," is not in the original. Experience has shown that Japanese accounts of events preceeding and during the war have been systematically misleading.

THE ORIGIN OF THINGS.

The design of the American flag was probably borrowed from the family arms of Gen. Washington, which consisted of three stars in the upper portion and three bars across the escutcheon.

Watches originated at Nuremberg as early as 1477. They were at first called Nuremberg eggs, which they resembled both in shape and size. They were often fitted into the tops of walking-sticks.

The first English book on stenography, so far as known, was written by Dr. Timothy Bright in 1588. Its earlier invention is attributed to the Latin poet Ennius, to Seneca, Cicero and several others.

Guns are said to have been used by the Chinese before the beginning of the Christian era. The oldest dated piece of European artillery bears an inscription declaring that the gun was cast in 1303.

Marine insurance was practiced in Rome B. C. 45. It was very general in Europe before the discovery of America, and it is altogether probable that the ships of Columbus were insured for their full value.

Coats of arms were first employed in England during the reign of Richard I., and became hereditary in families in the following century. They originated from the painted banners carried by knights and nobles.

Loved—The Money.

An absent-minded Southwark woman went to bank the other day to have cashed a check her husband sent her. She indorsed it thus: "Your loving wife, Mary Miller."—Philadelphia Record.

So Appropriate.

"Mrs. Patter's parrot died last week and they conducted a burial service."

"Who officiated?"

"Mr. Patter. You know the parrot loved to hear him swear."

Answers the Purpose.

He—Can you remember the names of Howells' novels?

She—Oh, yes; Aunt Beaconhill makes me memorize them. But I can't remember the stories.—Judge.

EXILED FROM HOME.

It is said that at this time there are twenty-one ex-sovereigns residing in different parts of Europe, none of them in the countries they once ruled.

Pius IX., the late pontiff, was driven from Rome during the stormy days of 1848. He fled in disguise to Gaeta, and remained there until restored by foreign aid.

Emperor Charles V. lived in voluntary exile during the last years of his life. His chief occupation in his retirement was devising new viands to tempt his gluttonous appetite.

A great many of the popes have been forced into exile, generally by emeutes among the turbulent Roman populace. A few were restored, but most of them died in exile.

Marie de Medici, the mother of three queens, was driven into exile by the influence and address of Cardinal Richelieu. She lived in great poverty, often wanting the necessaries of life.

Jerome Bonaparte remained in exile from 1815 to the revolution of 1848, when he was restored to his military rank and made governor of the Invalides. He died in Paris in 1860.

Whole families have sometimes been exiled at one time. The Stuart family was twice driven from England, and at different times the Bourbons and the Bonapartes have been expelled from France.

MUCH IN LITTLE.

Understand your antagonist before you answer him.—Anon.

Better to go to bed supperless than to get up in debt.—Spanish Proverb.

The world would be a place of peace if men were all peacemakers.—Ruskin.

The more one speaks of himself the less he likes to hear another talked of.—Lavater.

What seems to us the merest accident springs from the deepest source of destiny.—Schiller.

Content can soothe, where'er by fortune placed; can rear a garden in a desert waste.—H. K. White.

And yet I know out of the dark must grow, sooner or later, whatever is fair, for the heavens have willed it so.—Anon.

All men have their frailties; and whoever looks for a friend without imperfections will never find what he seeks.—Cyrus.

It is far more important to me to preserve an unblemished conscience than to compass any object however great.—Channing.

It was as if the spirit of life in nature were but witholding any too precipitate revelation of itself, in its slow, wise, maturing work.—W. Pater.

FARM NOTES.

Grasshoppers make good egg food.

As a rule spinach is a very profitable crop.

In butter color and flavor have no relation to each other.

The ashes of the corn cob contain a large amount of potash.

Overfeeding is the most fruitful cause of a failure to lay.

It is said that fowls that lay white eggs are more prolific than those which lay dark eggs.

An eight-frame hive for bees is now preferred to the ten-frame hive which has been so long in use.

A great deal of wet land along the banks of streams and ponds can be used for growing the basket willow.

A solution of silicate of soda is said to be a perfect preservative of eggs, and does not injure them in any way.

There is no better grain for poultry any time of the year than wheat, except when fattening. When ready to fatten corn should be used.

He wore a coat of shining mail,
A visor closed and tight;
Like a soldier of crusades
And wars he was benight,

And when with wassail good and pipes
He filled the dusk with light,
The neighbors knew there was a sound
Of revelry by knight.

—J. J. Meehan.

Couldn't Do It.

"The gentleman you see pacing up and down yonder as if he were mentally deranged is Schmidt, the famous accountant." "What is the matter with him?" "He was trying yesterday to unravel the complications of his wife's housekeeping book."—Handelszeitung.

Finesse.

Old man Sam was sitting one morning in front of his cabin enjoying the warmth of the sun, while his two little grandsons played about his feet.

Just then two young sons of his former master, who were visiting in the neighborhood, strolled up to have a chat with Sam. After talking with him awhile they handed him a bag of tobacco, and a handful of cigars, and were about to leave when they observed the children, and one of them asked whose they were.

"Dem's my gran'sons, Mimy's boys," replied Sam.

A sudden thought seemed to come to him as he looked at the young men, and a crafty look crept over his face as he added.

"Dey's named after you an' Mars' Andrew, Mars' Milton, 'cause dey's twins, jes' like you is."

The brothers commented on the fine looks of the children and their wonderful difference in size, for twins.

"One twin is generally bigger'n t'er one," explained Sam.

The young men smiled and gave each child a quarter as they left.

They had scarcely turned the corner of the cabin when they saw, through a crack, Sam take the coins from the children, look at them, and with a grunt of disappointment at what he considered the small return of his artifice, drop them in his own pocket.

"Mimy," he called to his daughter, standing in the door, "you call dem chillens Sam and Jake, same ez you always done. Dey ain't no two-bit chillen. Hit's wuth er dollar ter change dey names, an' I had to make 'em twins, too."—M. E. S. in Kate Field's Washington.

New Metal Process.

A method lately patented in England by Mr. R. A. Hadfield is described as follows: A heat of ordinary steel is made in any convenient manner; this steel is preferably low in carbon. The steel is then transferred to a ladle. Another ladle is hung from a Denison suspended weighing machine, and has poured or placed into it the necessary quantity of molten or heated ferro manganese of suitable percentage, according to the percentage required in the steel to be produced. There is then added to this as much of the ordinary steel as will increase the weight of the contents to that of the required quantity of manganese steel. In this way thorough admixture may be effected, but, if desired, there may be additional stirring. The admixture will then be ready for pouring into ingots or castings.

Correspondence.

Whilst correspondents will be accorded space for the expression of their ideas on topics of public interest, it must be in all cases understood that the views so expressed are simply those of the correspondents themselves.

THOMASBURG, Oct., 8th, 1894.

To the Editor of the Intelligencer.

Please correct the report about the drawing at the East Hastings Fair for the Walker & Co. prize. The way it was, the boat was loaded and M. J. Hodgins' team was hitched and drew nearly forty feet. Then E. Maynes hitched on and drew it up a slight grade about fifty feet, then more stones were put on and Mr. Hodgins' again hitched on and swung it twice, and then E. Maynes hitched on swung it and broke the chain out off the boat, consequently he could do no more.

FAIR-PLAY.

MADOC.

Whilst Mr. George Hartly, who lives north of Millbridge, was returning from the Jordan Fair, his team became frightened and ran away. Mrs. Hartly was hurt seriously, Mr. Hartly was cut about the face, the team was stopped before further damage was done.—Mr. A. F. Wood, who has been ill for some time, is much improved and is able to be around.—Mr. M. W. Maybee, who has been very sick is improving.—Mr. George Conlin is very ill.—Mine host, Ben Church, since he took charge of the Windsor house, has been making improvements.—On the way north I note many improvements have been made of late. Eldorado has added much to her looks by the erection of some fine residences. Bannockburn has some new buildings going up, which, when completed, add to her appearance. I took a walk to the Gold Crusher, but as we were about to enter, a young John Bull would not allow us to do so. We asked for Mr. Miller, one of the partners of the business, who kindly showed us all through the buildings, explaining the workings of the different machines. We were shown some fine samples of gold bearing rocks that were the best we had ever seen. The company have added about $1000 worth of new machinery, and will in a short time be running the works to the full capacity. Its good effects are already felt by the increase in trade both at Bannockburn and Madoc.—Madoc has a number of candidates for the Gold Cure and there is some talk of taking up a subscription to send them away.—Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Rollies, old residents of Madoc, have moved to Joe Hill for the winter.

HALLOWAY.

OCT. 9th.—A large number of the Orangemen of this place attended the funeral of the late John White at Roslin last week.—Mr. Wm Tufts has sold his lot of hogs amounting to nearly 6,000 lbs, to Mr. Thos Campbell—Mr. Asa Cadman, of Cadman & Rose, millers, was in the city last Saturday to see about purchasing a rubber belt for the mill, which will enable them to not only crack faster, but a great deal finer than they have been doing—Miss Jennie Carter and Miss Etta Rose, who have been spending the summer at the 1000 Islands, have returned home—Mr. H B Lowery, who has been threshing in Murray, is home suffering with a sore throat and a pain in the lungs. We hope that it will prove nothing serious.—Mr. Edward Lowry was visiting friends in Tyendinaga last Saturday and Sunday—Mr Lewis Marsh, of this place, has been rusticating with Mr. James McMullen for the last couple of weeks.—The residents of Pig street have begun their husking bees. We heard of three or four last week—We would like to hear from Maynooth correspondent concerning their cheese maker. We like to hear from "our boys" occasionally.—From reports gleaned our cheese factory will close down about the first week of November—Mr. Finn, of Foxboro, took charge of the service in the Methodist church here last Sunday, while Mr. Marshall, of Belleville, officiated in the Baptist church in the afternoon.—Mr. George Rose is unearthing some of his monster potatoes.—The section men of this division, are completing their wire fence through Halloway.—Hiram McMullen, son of Mr Jas. McMullen, sr, had the misfortune of breaking his arm. The boy is doing nicely under medical treatment—Mr. Milton Fass, son of Mr. Jno Fass, is home from the far west visiting his friends.

ROBLIN'S MILLS.

The A O U W Lodge are erecting a fine brick building to replace the former that was destroyed by fire. It will be more commodious than the former one, as well as more artistic in design, and reflects great credit on the Lodge for their enterprise—Mr J K Graham has moved into his new house which has just been completed.—Mr John Loucks and daughter, of Napanee, who have been visiting at Dr File's, returned home on Monday.—Mr Jacob Patterson of Consecon, was visiting at W C Delong's on Sunday last—Misses Ida and Inez Humphrey are the guests of Miss Effie Tout this week.—Mr George Tice, our popular mail carrier, has taken up his residence in a more central locality of the Village.—Miss Ella Minns, of Belleville was visiting at Mr John Carnrite's this week—Mr Reuben Way and daughter Ada, have been renewing acquaintances in the Village this week.—Miss Annie Tomblin is on a visit to her sister, Mrs Mark Sprague—Mr Harry Webb and family, of Cobourg, are visiting at his grandfather's, Mr Owen Roblin.—Miss Lena Cunningham and Abbie Henderson, two of our most promising young ladies, left this week for Belleville, where they have both secured situations.

CAMPBELLFORD.

A good sized bear was shot and killed by Thomas Arnott, one mile east of this town. The mother and two cubs were seen in this vicinity, and were patiently watched for by the above named person until he got a shot. The two cubs escaped, and are now being hunted by the citizens with gun and rifle.—The galvanized iron roof of Dickson Bro's new foundry is now being put on, and the building now presents a very creditable appearance.—The Campbellford members of the Dominion Rifle League carried off about $60 in cash and prizes, during the match held in Cobourg last week.—The Seymour Fair, owing to unfavorable weather, has been postponed until Thursday and Friday, October 11th and 12th, 1894,

Lane's Medicine Moves the Bowels Each Day

In order to be healthy this is necessary.

New Advetrfisemens.

TO LET.

TO LET 2 snug, warm brick houses in terrace, situated on Harriett St, West Belleville, known as Morten's, or Filliter's terrace. For terms of rent apply to R. C. Filliter, collector, or sub agent to the estate of the late H. E Filliter. Residence at Mr. Jardin's Corner of William and Dundas Sts., East Belleville.
85d2m

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

PURSUANT to Chapter 110 of the Revised Statutes of Ontario, notice is hereby given that all creditors and other persons having claims upon the estate of William McKay, late of the city of Belleville, deceased, who died on or about the 25th day of August, 1894, are required to deliver the same to John Parker Thomas, of said city, solicitor for Donald M. Waters, executor of the last will and testament of said William McKay, deceased, on or before the 30th day of October next, 1894, full particulars of their claim, with dates and items and particulars of the security, if any, held by them; and after the said last mentioned date the said executor will proceed to distribute the assets of the said deceased amongst the parties entitled thereto, having regard only to the claims of which notice shall have been given as above required and shall not be liable for the assets or any part thereof so distributed to any person of whose claims the said executor had not notice at the time of the distribution thereof or any part thereof.

Dated at Belleville this 27th day of September 1894.
J. PARKER THOMAS,
124d4t law Solicitor for Executor,

WISDOM & ECONOMY . . .
Lead the Way to Our Store . . . . .

Just a line to draw your attention to the splendid list of Bargains we offer you this week at less than Wholesale Prices.

DRESS GOODS . . . .
From 8 to 75cts. per yard, in all shades and qualities; Colored Cashmeres from 25 to 75cts. per yd.; Black Cashmeres from 25c. to $1.00 per yard; Estamine Serge, 56 inches wide, in Black, Brown and Navy, only 50c. worth at least 75c.

GREY FLANNELS . . .
Unions at 12½ and 15c.; all wool at 18c.; plain or twill, and 27 inches wide, cheap at 22c; Navy Blue Flannels from 25c. to 40c. per yard; Opera Flannels in all shades at 40c. per yard.

HOSIERY . . . .
Just received our Fall and Winter Hosiery in Cashmere and Wool for Ladies', Misses' and Boys' Wear; a Ladie's fine cashmere hose at 20c, worth 25c; Misses' and Boys' double rib, all wool, at 20c,

Ladies' Underwear . . .
In Hygeian, Paragon and Jersey Vests, Long Sleeves, at 20, 30, 40, 50c.

Gents' Wear . . . .
Our stock is complete in this line, and prices to suit the times.

☞ Do not fail to visit our MILLINERY DEPARTMENT.

H. A. LAYTON, BELLEVILLE.
Front St., Opposite Campbell St.

QUINCES . . . .
Are said to be, by those who know their uses best, the nicest fruit grown.
We expect to receive regular supplies each day, also

Grapes and Peaches.
Those who may not have bought their peaches early in the season can get fully as good value now as the "Smock" variety is one of the best grown for canning or pickling, and is now the only peach in the market.

Jas. Wallace & Co.

H. C. DICKENS & SON.
Bread . . .
We wish to say a word or two about Bread. This being the great staple of our business and one of the greatest necessities of life, it seems but natural that the baker should turn out the best that can be produced and that the customer should demand the same. This we pretend to have; while one can hardly expect to please everybody (there being some who will even turn off a good thing) yet we do claim to please nine out of every ten, so if you are dissatisfied with your bread, have our driver call upon you and you will not be able to say good bread is not turned out in Belleville.

H. C. DICKENS & SON.

THIS MATTER CHANGED DAILY.

THURSDAY, Oct. 11th.

FINISHED !

Our new ceiling is now finished, and once more we feel settled and in good order.

New Store,
New Goods,
New Customers,
Old Customers,
Old Principles.

Our new and improved cash carrier system will be here in a day or two.

W. FLINT JONES.
Next door to Haines & Lockett.

Before putting up your STOVES have the
TRIMMINGS RE-PLATED
— AT THE —
BELLEVILLE PLATING WORKS
HARRIS & WALTON'S FACTORY, MILL ST.

- PLUMBING -
We have added to our Workmen,
MR, GEORGE JOHNSON,
Who has for the past six years been prominent on large contracts in Victoria, B. C., San Francisco, Denver, and Chicago.

— — ALSO — —
MR. EDWIN W. BISHOP,
A graduate of the New York School for Plumbing (class 92), who comes highly recommended.

With these men added to our staff, we feel sure of giving satisfactory to all in Sanitary Plumbing.

C. F. Smith & Co.

Ask how you can get a CLOCK !
. . . At MINAKER'S . . .
The Men's Furnisher.

THERE IS A . . . . .
CONSTANT DEMAND . .
FOR . . . .

O B C

- FROM -
Saturday's "INTELLIGENCER"

Miss Ella Metcalfe left this morning for Huntsville, where she has secured, through the Ontario Business College, the position of book-keeper for Mr. W. E. Hutcheson, merchant, who is himself a graduate of O. B C. Miss Metcalfe's two sisters are likewise graduates of the college. Miss Emma is book-keeper for Mr. C. B. Scantlebury of this city, and Miss Lillie is stenographer and secretary to Mr. R. Mathison, Principal of the Institution for the Deaf and Dumb.

GRAUATES.!

O. B. C. Training makes young men and women independent . . . .

NO DOUBT YOU
WILL REQUIRE
A . . . .
New Hat
Or Bonnet . .
The Most Stylish
and Wearable . . .
MILLINERY
IS AT
J. P. THOMPSON & CO.
STOCK COMPLETE
IN ALL DEPARTMENTS.

CANADIAN PACIFIC RY.
EVERY - FRIDAY
— — FROM — —
TORONTO !
At 12:30 noon runs a —
THROUGH TOURIST CAR
— — TO — —
SEATTLE and the PACIFIC COAST.
Making 12 Hours quicker time.

Full information can be had from
S. BURROWS,
General Ticket Agent, Belleville.

ALLAN LINE,
Royal Mail Steamships. Liverpool, Calling at Moville.

	From Montreal daylight	From Quebec
PARISIAN	Oct. 6	Oct. 7
MONGOLIAN	" 13	" 14
HIBERNIAN	" 20
LAURENTIAN	" 27	" 28
NUMIDIAN	Nov. 3	Nov. 8
PARISIAN	" 10	" 11

RATES OF PASSAGE.

First cabin Derry and Liverpool, $45 and upwards single; $95 and upwards return. Second cabin, Liverpool, Derry, Belfast, Glasgow, $30; return $55. Steerage at lowest rates (everything found).

All steamships except the Hibernian carry 1st cabin, 2nd cabin and steerage passengers.

STATE LINE SERVICE
NEW YORK, LONDONDERRY AND GLASGOW.

STATE OF NEBRASKA	Oct. 12
STATE OF CALIFORNIA	" 26
STATE OF NEBRASKA	Nov. 22

Cabin passage, $40 and upward, return $80 and upward; Second cabin $25. Steerage at lowest rates.

For tickets and other information apply to
U. E. THOMPSON
General Ticket Agency,
Bridge St., Belleville
or to S. BURROWS,
Agent.

Seasonable Goods
. . AT THE . .
GLASGOW WAREHOUSE.

We are now fully prepared to show one of the largest and best assorted stocks of Staple and Fancy Dry Goods in the city, and at the lowest possible prices, consisting of the following:

STAPLE DEPARTMENT.

Grey and white Blankets, Elder Quilts and Pillows, navy and grey Flannel, grey and white flannel sheeting, grey and fancy Homemade Flannel, Towels, Towellings, Table Linens, Tickings and Ginghams, Table plush.

50 pieces Flannelettes, just received. Splendid value.

Mantles and Mantle cloths, Velvet and Cloth Shawls, Sealettes, all prices. Dress goods in great variety.

Carpets, Oilcloths, Rugs, Lace, and Chenille Curtains, and Table Covers in the very newest designs.

VANDERVOORT & GIBSON,

Successors to the late J. W. Dunnet.

Belleville, Oct. 11, 1894.

P.S.—A large show case and table for sale cheap.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, THURSDAY OCT. 11.

Chauncey Ashley, issuer of marriage licenses, Division Court Office, Pinnacle street or at residence over Benmore & Benson's store. d&w

CITY AND DISTRICT.

Look out for Art Series No. 9 on October 15th.

The W.C.T.U. will meet to morrow at 3 p.m., in the R. T. Hall.

A number of the bay fishermen have taken out licences, and are fishing with gill nets.

The volume of water in the river has been increased but slightly by recent rains.

Be sure and attend Grant's cheap cash sale if you want bargains in Boots and Shoes.

Owing to the unfavorable state of the weather, the Panopticon will be continued Friday afternoon and evening. 1t

Hood's Sarsaparilla, acting through the blood, reaches every part of the system, and in this way positively cures catarrh.

Mr. Chas. S. Falconer, principal of the Cayuga High School, died of heart disease at the Hamilton, Ont., hospital on Tuesday.

Mr. S. Eustace has an apple tree in his garden in full bloom. The tree did not bear fruit this season as it usually does. The blooms are full size and very fragrant.

The police are sweeping everything before them these days. They found ten brooms outside a store last night and they went the way of the tramps.

In our report of the Panopticon yesterday we inadvertently omitted the names of Mrs. Thos. Ritchie, of the Japanese booth, and Mrs. McGinnis, of the Scotch booth.

The telegraphy and mechanical drawing classes in connection with the Y.M.C.A., met last evening. The attendance was good and the interest in these subjects is increasing.

The Guy Bros.' Minstrels gave a splendid performance last evening before a good audience. They have some very funny comedians, and their musicians are the best that have appeared here in years.

The Guelph Board of Trade have been discussing a proposal from Mr. Patterson, of Wyandotte, Michigan, for the establishment of iron smelting works in that city. Over $8000 was subscribed on the spot.

The lecture on "The Principles of the Electric Light," by Prof. Waddell, of the Royal Military College, Kingston, in the Y.M.C.A. rooms this evening, should be largely attended. All who take an interest in the subject are invited,

A wise precaution is to boil water taken at this season from wells that have been dry, before using it. Our medical health officer, Dr. Tracy, attributes most of the few cases of fever now in the city to the water from the wells.

To remove the constipated habit the only safe treatment is a course of Ayer's Pills, followed by a laxative diet. Most other cathartics do more harm than good, therefore leading physicians recommend Ayer's Pills, especially as a family physic.

There is likely to be a great shortage in the lobster supply this year, and the price is likely to go up accordingly. The scarcity is attributed to the increasing annual catch caused by the demand for them in interior cities, and also to the cannibalistic propensities of the small fry, one half of which are eaten up by the other half.

"I was troubled for a long time with an itching humor on the scalp," says Mr. D P. Davis, Seal's Landing, Fla., "but at last, being recommended Ayer's Hair Vigor, I tried it, and a complete cure was effected." Every one who has used it speaks well of this dressing.

We have received a copy of the prospectus of the Canadian Entertainment bureau, which has been recently established in Toronto. A former Belleville boy, Mr. Finlay Spencer, is the secretary. The object of the bureau is to furnish at a moderate cost first class talent for all classes of entertainment. They have on their list most of the leading Canadian vocalists, elocutionists and musicians.

Rubbers.

We have a good assortment of Rubbers, and every cheap. See our Gents' Rubbers at 55 cents, good and neat.—VERMILYEA & SON.

Asthma Sufferers.

Who have in vain tried every other means of relief, should try "Schiffman's Asthma Cure." No waiting for results. Its action is immediate, direct and certain, as a single trial proves. Send to Dr. R. Schiffmann, St. Paul, Minn., for a free trial package, but ask your druggist first.

Catarrh—Use Nasal Balm. Quick, positive cure. Soothing, cleansing, healing.

SOCIAL & PERSONAL

The INTELLIGENCER invites all its readers to contribute to this column. If you or your friends are going away on a holiday trip or if you have friends visiting you, kindly send a card to this office.

Wm. Cross, barrister, Madoc, was in the city to day.

Mr. Thomas Donnelly, of Detroit, was in town to day.

Chas. Smith, of the Campbellford Radical Mills, was in the city to-day.

T. O. Bolger, C.E., City Engineer of Kingston, was in the city to-day.

Hon. M. Bowell presided at Gen. Booth's great meeting in Ottawa on Tuesday night.

Mr. E. Brush, of the G.T.R. Bellefontaine office, was in Hamilton yesterday on business.

Miss Lillie Massey, and Miss Rose, of Toronto, are in the city, the guests of Prof. Massey, of Albert College.

O. A. Marshall, son of Ald. Marshall, has passed his degree of D.D.S. and is located in Woodstock.

Wm. Coates, Brockville; Henry Lock, Guelph; J. Johnson and T. B. Carlaw, Warkworth, are at the Anglo.

J. M. Campbell, Kingston; R. H. Potter, Toronto; R. G. Murphy, Elgin; Chas. Gyde, Montreal are at the Huffman.

R. Lambton Sewell, purser during the past season of one of the R. & O. steamers between Toronto and Montreal, is at home again.

Chas. A. Massey, grandson of Mr. H. A. Massey, manufacturer, of Toronto, has entered upon a course at Albert College.

Mr. R. Keat, of the G.T.R., and wife, who have been visiting friends in western Ontario, have returned to the city, much improved by their visit.

W. R. Bass, of West Huntingdon, has left for Nipigon district, where he is employed by the St. Anthony Lumber Company of Minneapolis, as bookkeeper and culler.

The delegates from this district who are attending the Christian Endeavor Association convention at Kingston are: Belleville, Miss Wendell; Picton, Miss Redmond; Hastings, Miss Maggie Fowler; Trenton, Miss A. G. Waldron, Rev. J. G. Lewis, Mrs. Lewis; Deseronto, Miss Lowe; Madoc, Mrs. A. Milne, Misses J. V. Wright and J. Moore, Mr. W. Mackintosh.

Look out for Art Series No. 9 on October 15th.

AMUSEMENTS

Montreal Gazette, Oct. 2.—Mr. Hilliard is an actor of ability and a host in himself. The part of the fun loving young husband suits him to the ground and he was repeatedly applauded during the evening. Mr. Theodore Babcock as Dr. Bunyan was excellent, and made a great success. Mr. Frederick Perry and Mr. Edwin Brown were very good. The ladies of the company were one and all excellent. Mr. Hilliard was presented with a handsome cane, to which he responded in a few happy and well chosen words which "brought down the house." Queen's Opera House, to-morrow evening, Oct. 12th. Prices, dress circle, $1; orchestra chairs and balcony, 75c; benches, 50c, and gallery, 25c.

SAD ACCIDENT.

A Well-Known Newspaper Man Drowned in the Desjardins Canal.

HAMILTON, Oct. 10.—Mr. J. G. Buchanan, city editor of the Hamilton Times and one of the best known and universally liked residents of this city, was drowned in the Desjardins canal while returning from Rockton Fair this evening. He, in company with H. F. Gardiner, editor of the Times, started from Rockton at about 10 o'clock by a road that runs beside the canal. When they found they had not taken the main road, Mr. Buchanan, who was driving, went to turn the rig back, and in turning the conveyance slipped over the side of the canal. Mr Gardiner swam out, and seeing his single efforts would be fruitless to save his companion in the darkness, he ran for assistance. In 20 minutes the body was found and brought back to the city to night.

At the Ranges.

The 49th Battalion, No. 1 Co., rifle matches, took place yesterday at Sidney Town Hall Rifle Range, 29 competitors. The following are the winners of prizes:

Sergt Ross	50
Staff Sergt. Tammsaige	48
Sergt. Ridby	46
Corp. Austin	45
Priv. Cochrane	43
Priv. Jose	39
Priv. Kemp	37
Lieut. Watts	36
Sergt. Austin	36
Priv. Bone	34
Priv. Monk	34
Priv. Cryster	33
Priv. Sergeant	33
Sergt. Major Bland	30
Priv. McCoy	28
Priv. Dobbs	22
Priv. R. Howe	20

New Steamship Line.

Tacoma papers contain lengthy descriptions of a clipper line being established which is to be called the Puget Sound and Delagoa Bay steamship line, which will consist of six clippers and two steamships which will be built at once to trade between Tacoma and Australia. What gives it local interest here is the fact that the chief promoter is Mr. F. R. Lingham, of this city, who will be manager. Messrs. G. F. Neame & Co., of London, one of the largest lumber firms in that city, are interested in the enterprise, which will be pushed to speedy completion.

Mr. Lingham is at present making a shipment of two million feet of lumber to Australia and the difficulty experienced in securing ships to charter has been the incentive to the new enterprise, as well as the prospects of a large trade both ways.

The Haines & Lockett Fire.

Owing to our loss by the recent fire, we placed what few accounts we had on our books in the hands of W. J. Diamond, with instructions to send them in without respect of persons, and to urge immediate payment. We hope all parties concerned will respond promptly at Mr. Diamond's office.

d11bf HAINES & LOCKETT.

Buy the Best for your Boy.

A lady was looking at boys' clothing in the Oak Hall a few days ago, and she made this enquiry: "Is this Sanford's make?" Upon being assured that all boys' clothing was made by this celebrated manufacturer, she said: "I never can get any other suits or overcoats to fit my boys." Parents who want their boys to look nice, should buy Sanford's clothing. To be had at Oak Hall only.

Thermometers and Weather Glasses.

An importation of English, American and German thermometers and weather glasses is received by L. W. Yeomans & Co. These are handsomely finished goods and the prices are much lower than former figures.

"THE GOOD OLD TIMES"

AS EXEMPLIFIED IN A SCOTCH NEWSPAPER OF 1794.

A Great Debate in Parliament, in which the Oratorical Giants Took Part—War on the Continent—Scene in the French Chamber—Other Matters of Interest a Century Ago.

Old periodicals are not always interesting, but Mr. T. S. Clark is in possession of an old newspaper of peculiar interest, as it was issued in a stirring war times, and its parliamentary reports reach historic names as Pitt, Burke, Sheridan, Fox, and their contemporaries appear, so that we feel, from reading their speeches, that those statesmen were in touch with them than would be possible from their record as it appears in history.

The paper in question is a copy of the Edinburgh Advertiser issued April 25th, 1794. The paper is of unusual size for those days. Its first page gives a summary of parliamentary news copied from London papers of the 8th, in which Mr. Harrison rises to make his promised motion, when he proposes that those who enjoyed sinecure places and official places where no official duties were annexed, worth £500 per year or upwards, should contribute one half their salary towards carrying on the war.

Mr. Burke expressed surprise that any member should dare to propose such a measure. Mr. Pitt and the Speaker both supported Mr. Burke, who when called to order, remarked in diplomatic terms, "that for the sake of the honorable gentleman he would alter his expression, and say that he could not help admiring the courage, and moderation, and wisdom of those gentlemen who wished so wisely to shake a legal tenure, by which property in this country was held." Mr. Sheridan was severe on Mr. Burke, who said that "every principle of justice, humanity and policy called upon him to support the motion." Mr. Fox took the same gloomy view of the nation's progress as is often done in the present day and, said that "commerce was diminishing, manufactures were decaying, the poor rates increasing, and land falling in value."

From London papers of 11th April, the Advertiser gleans that "the Dutch troops, under the command of the Hereditary Prince of Orange, have approached Philippeville so very closely, that the garrison of that place has only one passage left free, to a place where the cavalry used to water the horses. The French are now reduced to catch the rain water to water their horses."

These were spirited times in all European countries, as the French news of March 11th, reports "Legendre having moved that Danton and the arrested Deputies be heard at the bar, a violent tumult took place in the convention, Legendre insisting in the liberty of speech. Robespierre desired to be heard. Several members cried out, 'we shall all be assassinated in case of success.'

A deputation from the popular society of Cette appeared at the bar, when the spokesman said "Legislators, make death the order of the day!" Marat said, "cut with three hundred thousand heads and liberty is secured forever."

From London there also appears a brief sketch of the trial of Warren Hastings, then going on.

At that early date advertisers seem to have fairly well appreciated the advantages of the newspaper as an advertising medium, but we presume it was too early for the circulation liar to be abroad. In the advertising columns can be seen that even then "money was wanted immediately," while advertisements of rewards kept standing for use at all times since. "A miller was wanted to go to Quebec"; servants and houses are wanted, and land is to rent. Wives and husbands apparently did not always live happily, even in those good old days, as an advertisement reads: "If the person who left his family yesterday morning will return I am desirous of reading this advertisement, he may be assured that the person he has most offended (and who he said he never would face), will forgive all that is past, and give him the best advice for his future conduct." Let us hope that the "guid men" has come home before this, and taken the advice as freely and openly tendered. There, as now, tradespeople were not always able to meet their liabilities, as a number of meetings of creditors were called by advertisement, a habit which has remained fashionable to this day. Their market reports is not such an elaborate affair as at the present day, as it occupies only one line and gives the following average prices: In London, for the week ending April 5th, 1894—wheat 40s 8d, per 31s 6d, barley 33s 5d, oats 25s 9d, sugar 48s 10d per 100 lbs.

The Advertiser was printed for James McDonald every Tuesday and Friday and sold at his printing office, Castle Hill, where it could be had for £1-10-0 per annum, who called for, £1-12-0 delivered to any house in Edinburgh—when sent by post, to any town in Scotland or England, £1-16-0—and £2-0-0 when sent to Ireland.

REV. MR. DAW'S RESIGNATION.

He says He has not Resigned From the Ministry, but Will not say He Will Not.

The report in our issue of yesterday that Rev. S. Daw had resigned the rectorship of Christ church has caused quite a sensation.

Mr. Daw was met on the street by a reporter this morning, and when asked as to the faithfulness of the rumors on the street, he appeared excited and not himself. He said he had not resigned the rectorship of Christ church, and he was now free to act as any man. When asked if he had resigned from the ministry he said "No, the Bishop is in England."

"Will you resign?" asked the reporter.

"I cannot say; my plans for the future are not yet made up," was his reply.

Speaking of the article in yesterday's issue regarding the matter, he said we were in error in stating that his resignation from Christ church was due to a difference between himself and the management, as there had been no friction whatever, and the Wardens now wished him to reconsider his resignation.

Dr. Ackerill, rector's church warden said our report was about the correct version of the affair. He said no action had been taken on the resignation, and there would probably be no meeting of the vestry till after next Sunday. Dr. Ackerill thought it probable that Mr. Daw would occupy the pulpit next Sunday.

Trent Valley Canal.

Mr. Stevenson, M.P., and Mr. Barnhart, M.P., had an interview with Hon Mr. Haggart on Wednesday, and were assured that the specifications for the Trent Valley canal extensions were being rapidly prepared and would probably be completed by Saturday or Monday. It is expected that tenders for the works will be called for about the 20th. The proposed new works involve the construction of two lifts locks on the stretch of water between Peterborough and Lakefield, one being located near each of these points. The construction of the lifts locks will obviate the necessity of building some six or seven ordinary locks.

PROBABILITIES.

TORONTO, Oct. 11.—Strong westerly winds; fair weather; little change in temperature.

The High and Central School.

Following is the report of the Committee on these schools as presented at the last meeting of the Board of Education.

To the Board of Education of Belleville.

The Committee of the High and Public School beg leave to report that the High School requires a number of seats of larger dimensions than any now in said school.

That some of the higher divisions of the Central School also require larger seats than some of those now used in them. That there are now too many of the 12 inch seats in said school, which are only adapted to the Junior classes.

As the junior division of No. 1 School has yet the old wooden desks, your Committee would suggest that said wooden desks be replaced by surplus 12 inch seats now in the Central School, and that 40 new desks of 16 and 18 inch seats be substituted therefor.

2nd.—Without acknowledging that there is any special necessity for vaporizing the school with disinfectants, yet there can be no doubt that at times it is advisable to allay the fears of infection, and if the vaporization of essential oils had no other effect it would be wise to use them. But when it is claimed that they have a beneficial effect on tuberculosis, asthma, catarrh, etc., it certainly strengthens the claim for trial. Your Committee therefore recommend the purchase of one of Comfort's Vaporizing Instruments, with a small stock of essential oils, to be used in the High and Central Schools as may be required.

3rd.—An application having been made to teach singing in the Central School, your Committee find that the present curriculum takes up the whole teaching hours of the school and we therefore recommend no interference at present with the said curriculum.

Your committee would also call the attention of the Board that at the next midsummer holidays to the advisability of having the floors of the Central and High Schools oiled with hardwood, waxed and grooved, so that the French system of cleaning with damp cloths be adopted, in lieu of sweeping and dusting of late. All of which is respectfully submitted.

THOS. WILLS,
Chairman.

BELLEVILLE, Oct. 9, 1894.

The Panopticon.

This hand work of the ladies brought together a good sized audience last night, notwithstanding the disagreeable weather, and all were delighted at the display, and as well the admirable manner in which the programme was conducted. One of the chief attractions is the gallery of living pictures, which was thronged constantly by visitors, who were more than delighted with the conception and execution of this unique phase of the exhibition.

Facing you, upon entering, is "an ideal," always smiling, for an ideal could not do less than smile at the chief justice, who, with powdered hair and wig, looking from the next frame as wise as an owl. The heavenly twins beam on you out of the next frame, or rather they beam on each other, and don't seem at all terrified at the fierce brigand who scowls upon the audiences from the next frame. Ponore and the Spanish lady from their respective frames look the personification of the characters which they represent, and it is well that they look circumspect, as they are under the ægis eye of Her Gracious Majesty Queen Victoria. The Italian gipsy and Italian girls fill their respective frames in fitting style, next to which sweet Mary Stewart smiles forth from her frame without any apparent horror of the impending fate of that hapless Queen.

Charity and Harvest adjoining are well represented, next to which Sir John A. McDonald with due solemnity and impressive eye directs his gaze towards Her Majesty, as if willing and anxious to do her bidding. Then there was the sweet little tot, Miss Leland and Ida Capels, looking out upon a wondering audience with such a captivating expression that all were delighted with this department of the exhibition.

At different booths light refreshments were to be obtained in quality and quantity suited to the several nationalities which they represent. The Gipsy Queen in her tent was the delight busy with the incessant stream of visitors, anxious to cross her hand with silver and have this sight seer look into the mysteries of the future, which can only be explained through time.

In our issue yesterday descriptive of the different booths, we accidentally passed over the names of numbers who were most diligent in the efforts for the success of the entertainment. In the Japanese booth there was Mrs. Ritchie, in the gipsy tent Miss Ethel Robertson in the picture gallery Mrs. Col. Lazier and in the Scotch booth Mrs. Arthur McGinnes and as well the ladies in charge of the German booth, Mesdames St. Charles, Lingham, McMahon and Murdoch. The latter contributed the two pictures which attracted such general attention. To the indefatigable exertions of Mrs. Lingham, Mrs. Donald and the secretary, Miss Ritchie is the success of the entertainment to a great extent attributable. The management wish to express their thanks to Mr. Robb for his kindness in furnishing headlights and flowers, and as well to all those who kindly assisted and worked so assiduously in making the Panopticon a success.

This afternoon the children of the D. & D. Institute were entertained, and no doubt to night the drill shed will be crowded. An effort is being made to have it kept open for the balance of the week that all can see and enjoy this great art exhibit.

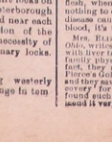

Ringing Noises

In the ears, sometimes a roaring, buzzing sound, are caused by catarrh, that exceedingly disagreeable and very common disease. Loss of smell or hearing also results from catarrh. Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier, is a peculiarly successful remedy for this disease, which it cures by purifying the blood.

HOOD'S PILLS are the best after dinner pills, assist digestion, prevent constipation.

A Fraternal Visit.

About fifty of the members of Thomasburg Lodge I.O.O.F., are expected to visit Belleville Lodge No. 81 to night, when they will be given an exemplification of the dramatized degree work. After Lodge work, the visitors will be entertained to luncheon.

HEAD AND SHOULDERS

above every other blood purifier, stands Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, on the evidence of its. It's sold in every case, on trial. If it ever fails to benefit or cure, you have your money back.

"In restoring your strength, when you're run-down" and "used-up," in cleansing your blood from every impurity, whether it's a simple eruption or the worst scrofula; and in building up wholesome flesh, when you're thin and weak—there's nothing to equal the Discovery." In every disease caused by a torpid liver or impure blood, it is the only guaranteed remedy.

Mrs. ELIZABETH J. BRINSWAW, of Sidney, Ohio, writes: "My little boy was so afflicted with liver trouble and other diseases that our family physician said he could not live, in fact, they all thought so. I gave him Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Pellets and they saved his life. We have used the Discovery for throat and bronchial trouble, and found such perfect relief that we can recommend it very highly."

A SERIES OF MISHAPS.

A Little Rob Roy Gives Her Crew Some Trouble on the River.

A party composed of Mr. and Mrs Lax, Miss Mabel Roy, Mr. Belcher, Mr. Cargeole and Mr. Ed Roy, says the Peterborough Examiner, were taken down the river as far as Hale's Bridge the other day on the Rob Roy by her popular proprietor, Mr. R. M. Roy.

The down trip was accomplished with pleasure and safety, but darkness setting in earlier than was expected and a dense fog were responsible for a number of mishaps, which occurred after the little launch's prow had been turned up the river for the homeward trip.

The first mishap was caused by running into a bed of weeds and losing her wheel, then she ran high and dry on a bed of rocks, struck a roof, sank a log, and finally climbed a fence. She got safely expected to get home at six o'clock, but were about six hours short in their calculations. They had a nice lunch on the up trip of lemons, pickles and anchovy sauce.

"Bob" was a pretty good mariner when he lived here, but he couldn't make a yacht climb a fence.

Owing to the unfavorable state of the weather, the Panopticon will be continued Friday afternoon and evening. 1t

Women's Work.

The Ladies' Auxiliary held their regular monthly meeting in the parlor of the Y.M.C.A. on Tuesday, at 3 o'clock. The meeting was opened in the usual way by singing, and with hardwood, waxed and grooved, so that the French system of cleaning with damp cloths be adopted, in lieu of sweeping and dusting of late. All of which is respectfully submitted.

The Treasurer's report was very satisfactory, showing the Auxiliary to be entirely free of debt, with a small balance in the treasury. A liberal donation of $75 from "a friend" was received, to be applied in payment for the Hoolenm which has been laid in the reading room and hall, and which greatly enhances the comfort and brightness of the room for our young men. An interesting article on Tithing was read by one of the members, the system of tithing being very generally commended. The meeting was closed with earnest prayer for the spiritual work of the Association during the ensuing winter. All members who have not paid their yearly subscription are kindly asked to do so, as the ladies have other projects in mind for the continued help of the young men of Belleville.

The Auxiliary meets regularly the second Tuesday of each month.

Look out for Art Series No. 9 on October 15th.

For Men!

"CURRIE'S"
GUARANTEED . . .
IMPENETRABLE . .
INODOROUS . . .
WATERPROOF . .
COATS . . . . .

"Currie's Waterproofs are now recognized to be the best Coats for men made anywhere. They remain ALWAYS SOFT and NEVER DECAY no matter how long in use. We have them in newest shapes and colors at $8 50, $9 50 $11 00 and $14.00.

Every coat guaranteed.

FOR FIVE DOLLARS!

For $5.00 we sell an Inverness Tweed Rubber Coat, any size or color, with cape 30 inches long, $5.00

VERY SPECIAL!

We are offering very special value in Men's Silk Umbrellas with Steel Rods at $1 76 and $2 00.

GEO. RITCHIE & CO.

Changed Daily.

THURSDAY, Oct. 11th, 1894

STROUD'S . .
ENGLISH . . .
BREAKFAST . .
TEA . . . . .

A well recommended tea, Judiciously blended tea, Comforting, pleasing, Always appeasing, Best sort of black tea.

At 30, 40, 50 and 60c. per lb.

Stroud's
TEA STORE.

FRANK LEAKE
Oshawa, Ont.

Pains in the Joints

Caused by Inflammatory Swelling

A Perfect Cure by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"It affords me much pleasure to recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla. My son was afflicted with pain in the joints, accompanied with swelling so bad that he could not get up stairs to bed without crawling on hands and knees. I was very anxious about him, and having read Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures so much about Hood's Sarsaparilla I determined to try it, and got a half-dozen bottles, four of which entirely cured him." MRS. G. A. LAKE, Oshawa, Ontario.

N.B. Be sure to get Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Hood's Pills act easily, yet promptly and efficiently, on the liver and bowels. 25c.

UNDERWEAR . . .
. . . AT FISH'S!

Don't go shivering around any longer, but come and get some of our warm underclothing, and you will be happy and comfortable.

Sizes run from 30 to 46 inches. Our prices suit all pocket books.

We give value that cannot be beaten.

Pains in the Joints

Caused by Inflammatory Swelling

A Perfect Cure by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"It affords me much pleasure to recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla. My son was afflicted with pain in the joints, accompanied with swelling so bad that he could not get up stairs to bed without crawling on hands and knees. I was very anxious about him, and having read Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures so much about Hood's Sarsaparilla I determined to try it, and got a half-dozen bottles, four of which entirely cured him." MRS. G. A. LAKE, Oshawa, Ontario.

N.B. Be sure to get Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Hood's Pills act easily, yet promptly and efficiently, on the liver and bowels. 25c.

A. E. FISH & CO.

Try our King Shirt, and you will buy no other.

We Are . . .
Busy. . . . .

Our new groceries are going with a rush, but more are arriving daily, and that's why we keep our stock fresh and wholesome. We take pride in our confectionery for it's the best money can buy and our prices are away down. See the values we offer in teas and sugars. Provisions, and flour and feed also receive our particular attention.

J. A. ELLIOTT.
Front St., Belleville.

A GOOD, WARM, CHEERFUL FIRE!

Will soon be in order as the cold weather is rapidly approaching

SO . . . . .

. . . Do not Lose any Time

In ordering your supply of

Telephone C 68.

Coal and Wood

. . . FROM . . .

S. A. LAZIER & SON'S.

The Leading Coal and Wood Merchants.

TRUE

Always—and why do we lead always in our line. It's not mixed up with other trades. The London and Belleville Crystal Hall is to-day the oldest Wholesale Crockery House in Canada. A resident Kerosene buyer is constantly sending out new wares as they come from the Kilns, which enables us to sell at what the small general trader has to pay. The goods look better because they are better. We can't afford to handle poor stuff such as is made for the "give away ticket" trade. That's why we always lead. Our new Fall Stock when all in, of China, Silver, Crockery and Lamps, will this year be the most beautiful display of the potter's art ever seen in Belleville, and prices are a long way below last year.

W. J. REID & CO'Y.

CRYSTAL HALL. Rous' Old Stand.
London and Belleville.

Floor Oil Cloths . . .

We have now in stock, FLOOR OIL CLOTHS up to 24 ft. wide

. . . . FOR STOVES!

- - ALSO A LINE - -

ENGLISH OIL CLOTHS

Suitable for under Stoves at 30c. sq. yd.

NATHAN JONES.

LISTEN FRIENDS!!

We SAY because we KNOW!

Our COAL!

This Season is unexcelled for quality because the Bill of Lading bears the Brand of the Delaware & Hudson Canal Company.

Cut this out and test this "Ad" when the Winter Winds whistle.

THE RATHBUN COMPANY.

24TH - - - - - YEAR.

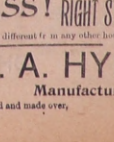

Our Novelties in . . .
Fur Capes and Jackets

Are the talk of the City, and our Goods are

The reason for this is we have the

FIRST CLASS! RIGHT STYLES AND PRICES

And our Furs are quite different to any other house in the City.

S. A. HYMAN.

Manufacturing Furrier.

Old Furs of all kinds cleaned, dyed and made over,

AN ACHING HEAD.

DEAR SIRS,—I had severe headache for the past three years, and was not free from it a single day. I used doctors' medicines and all others I could think of, but it did me no good. My cousin said I must

TRY B.B.B.

because it is the best medicine ever made, and I took three bottles of it, with the result that it has completely cured me. I think Burdock Blood Bitters, both for headaches and as a blood purifier, is the

BEST IN THE WORLD,

and am glad to recommend it to all my friends. MISS FLORA McDONALD, Glen Norman, Ont.

HAMILTON, TORONTO, AND MONTREAL.

Via Bay of Quinte, Calling at all Ports Weekly.

THE FAVORITE STEAMER

"MAGNET"

Leaves St. Catharines Tuesday 9 a. m.
Toronto " 4 p. m.
Leaves Belleville for Montreal } Wednesday 7:30 a m
Leaves Belleville for Toronto } Sunday 3 p. m.

First Class Passenger Accommodation, Large Freight Capacity. Lowest Rates

For Tickets, Rates, &c., Apply to the RATHBUN COMPANY, Agents,

or to

CAPT. J. J. TOWERS, Superintendent, No. 2 King st., Toronto.

C. F. GILDERSLEEVE, General Manager, 228 St. Paul st., Montreal.

ROCHESTER, KINGSTON AND MONTREAL.

Weekly Service Calling at Way Ports

THE PEOPLE'S FAVORITE STEAMER.

"ALEXANDRIA"

Leaves Montreal, Thursday at 10:00 a. m.
Arrives Belleville, Saturday at 11:45 a. m.
Leaves for Rochester " " 1:15 p. m.
Arrives from Rochester, Monday at 6:30 a. m.
Leaves for Montreal, " " 7:30 a. m.

Spacious and elegant Saloon. Ample Stateroom accommodation. The choicest and best Meals furnished. Safety, comfort and enjoyment ensured by personal supervision of Capt. Smith and Purser Melrose. Careful handling of freight.

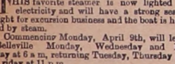

For Tickets, State rooms at lowest rates apply to THE RATHBUN COMPANY, Agents.

Bay of Quinte Steamb't Route

TRI-WEEKLY

DESER'TO, PICTON & KINGSTON

1894 - 1894

STR. "HERO"

THIS favorite steamer is now lighted by electricity and will have a strong search light for excursion business and the boat is heated by steam.

Commencing Monday, April 9th, will leave Belleville Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 6 a m, returning Tuesday, Thursday and Friday at 11 p m.

The very best facilities are offered to shippers of freight. The lowest through and local rates quoted.

No wharfage at Picton on freight for this steamer.

Full information given by Gilbert Johnston on board, or to the RATHBUN COM'Y,

. H. GILDERSLEEVE, Ticket Agent, Kingston.

ROCHESTER.

STEAMER

NORTH KING.

Leaves for Charlotte, N. Y., every Sunday, 11:45 p.m.

Leaves for Picton and Kingston every Sunday, 3:20 a. m.

Arrive from Picton and Kingston every Sunday, 11:45 p m.

Arrives from Charlotte, N. Y., every Sunday, 3:20 a. m.

Special attention given to passengers and freight.

WEEK DAYS.—Steamer leaves Port Hope week days for Charlotte, N. Y., at 9:45 a.m.

Calls at Brighton Monday 2 a.m., and Wednesday 2.30 a.m., and at Colborne Wednesday and Fridays 4 a.m.

Connection made by Grand Trunk morning trains.

THE RATHBUN CO., Agents. U. E. THOMPSON, Agent.
43tf

INSURANCE.

Western Assurance Company,
Fire and Marine Head Office, Toronto.

North British & Mercantile Ins. Co.,
Fire and Life, Head Office (Can.), Montreal.

Atlas Insurance Company,
Fire, Head Office (Canada), Montreal.

M. M. THOMPSON
Water Works Office, Bridge St.

Steamer "Iona"

Will leave Belleville three times each week for Oswego, connecting with trains for New York.

Daily Intelligencer.

At Death's Door—Dyspepsia Conquered —A Great Medical Triumph.

GENTLEMEN,—My medical adviser and others told me I could not possibly live when I commenced to use Northrop & Lyman's VEGETABLE DISCOVERY for Dyspepsia. My case was one of the worst of its kind. For three years I could not eat meat and my weight decreased from 219 to 119 lbs. All the food I took for thirteen months previous to taking the VEGETABLE DISCOVERY consisted of milk. I am now entirely cured and have regained my usual weight, can eat anything with a keen relish and feel like a new man. I have sold over thirty dozen VEGETABLE DISCOVERY since it cured me, as I am well-known, and people in this section know how low I was, and thought I could not possibly be cured. They are eager to try this grand medicine. It certainly saved my life, as I never expected to recover when first I commenced using it. I am not exaggerating anything but feel glad to be able to contribute this testimonial and trust it may be the means of convincing others of its merit as a certain cure for Dyspepsia.

Signed JEAN VALCOURT,
Wotton, P. Q.

In 1888 the people of Great Britain paid taxes on 492 200 carriages.

Is there anything more annoying than having your corn stepped upon? Is there anything more delightful than getting rid of it? Holloway's Corn Cure will do it. Try it and be convinced.

In Portugal the tobacco tax brings £900,000, the land tax £700,000.

Some people laugh to show their pretty teeth. The use of Ivory White Tooth Powder makes people laugh more than ever. It's so nice. Price 25c. Sold by druggists.

Worms cause feverishness, moaning and restlessness during sleep. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator is pleasant, sure and effectual. If your druggist has none in stock, get him to procure it for you.

The rate of taxation has nearly quadrupled in France since 1830.

DYSPEPSIA causes dizziness, headache, constipation, variable appetite, rising and souring of food, palpitation of the heart, distress after eating. Burdock Blood Bitters is guaranteed to cure Dyspepsia if faithfully used according to directions.

Until about forty years ago, the Persian Government levied a tax on cats.

Mr T. J. Humes, Columbus, Ohio, writes: "I have been afflicted for some time with kidney and Liver Complaint, and find Parmelee's Pills the best medicine for these diseases. These Pills do not cause pain or griping, and should be used when a cathartic is required. They are Gelatine Coated, and rolled in the Flour of Licorice to preserve their purity and give them a pleasant, agreeable taste.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP cures Bronchitis.

FOR CHOLERA MORBUS, Cholera Infantum Cramps, Colic, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, and Summer Complaint Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is a prompt, safe and sure cure that has been a popular favorite for over 40 years.

STEAMER VARUNA

A. HICKS, Captain.

WILL leave Trenton every morning, (Sunday excepted) at 7:00 o'clock, calling at Redersville and all points between the head of the bay and Picton, leaving Belleville at 8:30 a.m., Deseronto at 10:20 a.m.

On Tuesday and Thursday evenings to meet North King at Brighton, returning will leave Brighton Wednesday and Saturday mornings at 5:30.

Will connect at Picton with stage for Sand Banks.

Parties wishing to arrange for excursion rates will see Capt. Hicks on board

Will leave Picton at 1 p.m. on return for the head of the bay, Deseronto 2:30 p.m., Belleville, at 4:30 p. m., and Trenton, at 6.

Omnibuses in waiting at Picton, Belleville and Brighton.

The Rathbun Co., Agents, Belleville and Deseronto.

A. W. Hepburn, Agent, Picton.

BEST QUALITY

CANADIAN
"Silver Star,"
—AND—
AMERICAN
"Water White"

COAL OIL.

Delivered promptly to any part of the city.

D. M. WATERS.

SPORT.

Lacrosse Sticks,
Foot Balls,
Tennis Goods,
Croquet, etc.,
Base Ball
Supplies.

Also, Wall Paper,
Window Shades,
Hammocks,
Fans,
Purses,
Albums, Bibles and Novels.

—AT—

Overell's Book Store.

Next to Glasgow Warehouse.

RIBBONS!

We have an extra large stock of Ribbons on hand in all the light and fancy shades including

BABY RIBBONS,
SILK " "
SATIN " "
MOIRE " "
ETC., - ETC.

Our prices are the lowest, and we will be pleased to have you give us a call whenever wanting Ribbons.

SILK ELASTICS....

We have a splendid stock of Fancy Silk Elastic, made in Yellow, Blue, Green, Orange, Cardinal, Black, Pink, Mauve, White. All one price, 25c yard, at

THE BEEHIVE

CHAS. N. SULMAN

THE KISS OF GOLD.

By KATE JORDAN.

[Copyright, 1893, by J. B. Lippincott Company and published by special arrangement with them.]

"So you'll be a fool, will you? You'll say no? You'll fling away wealth that could give me, in my last accursed days, a few of the luxuries I was accustomed to? And why? Oh, you fool!" and his blue, quivering lips seemed to spit out the words, "and why? Because you are still thinking of that fellow, that scamp, that Murray, who gave you the go by. Don't I know? You sentimental idiot, he had no romantic memories to hold him back! He has looked to it that his bread will be plentifully buttered. Read today's paper. After a splurge in Europe, a courtship on the steamer coming home, he's going to marry General Baudoine's widow—a woman worth millions. Do you hear? Refuse to marry Monklow, and I'll never forgive you."

He was a terrible sight in this sudden spasm of rage—repression, his lifelong habit, fallen from him like a garment loosed by his palsied fingers.

Virginia straightened her young figure, her arms hanging loosely at her sides and as white as "The Masker" laughing beside her.

The patience and silence of the past fled away like shades, and resistance, fully armed, took their place.

"Then you'll never forgive me, for I do refuse," she said steadily, but scarcely louder than a breath. "What sort of life have I lived here at your very side? Will you hear, now, at last? You flung away your money while you could. You thought wholly of your pleasures. You gave me nothing. You didn't think. You didn't care. And I have worked with my hands, my brain, at anything I could find to do—yes, often while you slept. Now you have said all you could to wound me," and there was an angry, sobbing break in the accusing voice. "I could bear even that. But you shall not take all, father—not my body, my soul. They are my own."

Everything was dark as she went blindly from the room. She had a faint intention of going out in the rain—a sense of supreme and awful loneliness. The door closed upon her, and she would have stumbled had not strong arms caught her. She looked up and saw Richard Monklow. One glance at his face, drained of the hue of life underneath the brown, the lips contracted, the kind eyes sad, and she saw he had heard all.

"I asked for too much. Forget my words, Virginia," he said when he could speak. "Forget all save these—that I can only live if you will let me serve you, see you sometimes, be near you. I am yours. Use me as you will."

CHAPTER XI.

Delatole was dressing to dine out. As he struggled with a collar button he turned his head to listen to the lazy lilt of a song coming from a room across the hall. His face wore an ill humored frown. It was very evident that the song and the singer impressed him with equal unpleasantness.

"Do stop that humming, for God's sake!" he cried out at last. "It's enough to drive one mad."

There was no reply, and a few moments later Tom lounged across the hall.

He was very different from the wavering, tempted man who rushed from Virginia's presence that snowy night almost two years before. His face had lost the flashing earnestness that rose from an ecstatic heart. It had taken on resolute lines and an expression of worldly subtlety. The cheeks were slightly hollowed, the eyes placidly heavy, cold, showing the haggard lines of dissipation.

"Was I singing? I swear I didn't know it," he said languidly.

Delatole surveyed him with a cold, unchanging glance.

"Still in your blouse and slippers. Won't you look in upon the theater party at all?"

"I don't care a hang about it."

"Aren't you afraid Mrs. Baudoine will send out a search warrant for you?"

"Let her send."

"Cool for a prospective bridegroom."

"Prospective idiot!" And Tom settled himself very comfortably on his back on a low divan. "I'll never marry Mrs. Baudoine. As the girl in the song says, 'Something tells me so.' Couldn't you, with your managerial tactics, help me out of that scrape? You know she did all the running—not I."

Delatole drew on his gloves in silence. He grew white, and when he came to the foot of the divan and let his eyes travel slowly over Tom's supine length a rage only half controlled made his lips tremble.

"In my opinion," he said slowly, with emphasis, "you'll be in a fair way to need the material help of Mrs. Baudoine's money very soon."

"Really? Oh, then there are times when marriage seems good unto you?" And a burning glance was flashed at him from beneath Tom's lowered lids.

"My opinion about marriage has not altered in the least. But if a man can only fail, if he can't even support himself, the most practical thing is to find some woman silly enough to shoulder the responsibility."

"Go on. Your English grows more vigorous day by day. It's really a liberal education to be allowed to hear you. Surely you haven't finished yet. You said more than this yesterday."

"No, I haven't finished. I want to remind you once more that you owe me money. More than that, I want it. I'm sick of your spiritless languor. I never knew a man let himself drop as you have done. Because you go at a rapid pace is no reason why you should die mentally. I haven't. But you can't drink at all without drinking too much and keeping it up too long. In fact, you are an extremist in everything. There's a genius in moderation."

"Don't stop for breath. I am a-thirst for the rest. More—more," said Tom without moving an eyelash.

"You shall have it all. The time has come for plain talking," and there was a savage snarl in the words. "I want my money. It seemed there was some hope of getting it from this Baudoine marriage, as I don't believe you'd write another word."

"Don't you?"

"No. It may be you've tried and can't—it may be you don't care. In either case I've been bitterly disappointed in you. You're the last embryo genius I'll put on a pedestal. Genius? By heaven! that's rich. Why, you've fallen into psychical ruin. You exhausted yourself in 'The World's Way.'"

An unwilling, dusky red started up in Tom's hollowed cheek. It ebbed slowly away as, opening his eyes wide, he smiled at Delatole with an expression of positive hatred.

"That is one of those charmingly soothing speeches we must learn to expect from those we live with. But you are wrong. The trouble lies here. I unfortunately must still be sincere and must put something of myself into everything I write. When one believes in and cares for so little, it is very hard. I have not yet matched your stride, you see—you who with one arm around your neighbor's wife could write an essay on the beauty of morality."

The door banged, and Delatole's footsteps grew fainter in the echoing passage. In the silence that followed Tom still lay motionless, his wide open eyes fixed upon the ceiling, the small unobtrusive sounds of a quiet room fluttering the loneliness that settled around him.

(To be Continued.)

COLONIES OUGHT TO ASSIST.

They Should Take Part in the Defence of Coaling Stations.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—The Morning Post publishes a leader on "British naval movements in the east." In its discussion of imperial defence it says:

"The colonies hold aloof from Great Britain and are content to look on while the Mother Country pays premiums for their assurance policies. The time has come for a change. We would not do the colonies the injustice of supposing they would refuse to share the expense of the navy's coaling stations if they were asked, but we are surprised that not a single colony has offered to do so. This being so, imperial authority must take the initiative. It is clearly the duty of the Government to summon a conference of delegates from Australia, Canada and the Cape to discuss with the War Office and Admiralty some partnership scheme having a sound commercial basis."

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL.

"Hazing" at Kingston Must be Stopped—A Supreme Court Vacancy.

OTTAWA, Oct. 11.—Hon. J. C. Patterson was seen by a reporter in reference to the reported hazing at the Kingston Military College, which was so brutal as to force a son of Inspector Plummer, of Toronto, to leave the college. He seemed very much annoyed and said he was determined to put a stop to that sort of thing and would order an investigation at once. "However," he added, "we have only heard one side of the story." He received the following reply to a telegram: "Up to the present I have failed to obtain the slightest confirmation of alleged hazing. The report you require will be sent to-morrow." (Signed.) D. R. Cameron.

It is reported that Christopher Carter, of Montreal, will get the vacancy on the Superior Court bench. John S. Hall, ex-treasurer of the province of Quebec, is said to have refused the position.

Aylmer branch of the Canadian Pacific Railway may soon have new owners. The Pontiac and Pacific Junction Railway is dickering for it. Rumor says that a deal has been reached. Mr. H. J. Beemer, who is the president and probably the largest owner of the P. & P. J. Railway, says nothing definite has yet been arrived at. This reply, while not confirming the rumor of a sale, confirms the idea of a deal being under way.

John Burnham, M. P., and James Stevenson, M. P., are here to-day interviewing the Premier and other members of the Cabinet on a variety of questions affecting their constituents. Among other things they want a drill shed at Peterborough.

In an interview with Mayor Cox, who is interesting himself with the proposed winter carnival to be held here January 15, Sir John Thompson said that Parliament would positively not open before January 22.

Hon. J.C. Patterson emphatically denies that he will accept the Ontario leadership or resign his present seat in the Cabinet.

Probably an Accident.

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I., Oct. 11.—Robert Laurie, aged 35, a farmer on St. Peter's road, went duck shooting yesterday and a few hours after his body was found on shore at East River, near Falconwood asylum, shot through the heart, the gun lying by his side. Nothing further is known regarding the accident. Deceased was married only a few months ago.

Canada's Prairie Sheep in England.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—The first shipment of Canadian prairie sheep from the Northwest Territories, numbering some 1800, has been sold at Deptford. The price realized was four shillings per stone dressed.

A Steamer's Officer Drowned.

PORT MORIEN, N.S., Oct. 11.—Robert Willis, second engineer of the steamer Wylo, was found drowned yesterday. He probably fell over the company's pier going on board the night before.

Miss Willard Seriously Ill.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 11.—Miss Frances E. Willard, world's president of the W. C. T. U., is seriously ill here. Lady Somerset is with her.

Deseronto Navigation Company (Limited

Steamer Ella Ross.

This fast sailing and comfortable steamer leaves Belleville for Trenton daily (Sunday excepted), at 10 a.m. Leaves Belleville for Deseronto and Picton at 3 p.m., connecting at Deseronto with steamers for Napanee and Oswego. Lowest freight and passenger rates. For further information apply to the Rathbun Co., Bridge street, or to R. C. Carter, General Manager, Deseronto.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP cures Coughs.

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry cures Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cramps, Colic, Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum, and all looseness of the bowels. Never travel without it. Price 35c.

In parts of Peru taxes are paid in cocoa leaves and Peruvian barks.

For coughs, colds, bronchitis and all lung and throat troubles, there is no preparation of medicine can compare with Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup. It never fails to afford prompt and permanent relief. It removes all soreness, and heals the diseased parts. It immediately soothes the most troublesome cough, and by promoting expectoration, removes the mucus which stops up the air tubes which, cause difficulty in breathing, thereby gives relief to that depressing tightness experienced in the chest. Public speakers and singers will find Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup of inestimable value, as it speedily and effectually allays all irritation, and huskiness in the throat and bronchial tubes, and gives power to the vocal cords, rendering the voice clear and sonorous. If parents wish to save the lives of their children, and themselves from much anxiety trouble and expense let them procure a bottle of Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup, and whenever a child has taken cold, has a cough or hoarseness, give the Syrup according to directions.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP heals the lungs.

A stinted wife can find a vest pocket in the dark.

Ample warning is given us by our lungs when they are in danger. If foolhardy enough to neglect the warning signal, we incur imminent peril. Check a cough at the outset with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil—which is a sovereign pulmonic—besides being a remedy for soreness, lameness, abrasions of the skin, tumors, piles, rheumatism, etc.

BURDOCK PILLS, small, safe, and sure, regulate the liver and cure constipation.

Robert Lubbork, Cedar Rapids, writes: "I have used Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil both for myself and family for Diptheria with the very best results. I regard it as the best remedy for this disease, and would use no other.

Holland is the only country in Europe that admits coffee free of duty.

DYSPEPSIA arises from wrong action of stomach, liver and bowels. Burdock Blood Bitters cures Dyspepsia and all diseases arising from it, 99 times in 100.

SUNLIGHT SOAP

Has proved by its enormous sale that it is

The best value for the Consumer of any soap in the market.

Millions of women throughout the world can vouch for this, as it is they who have proved its value. It brings them less labor, greater comfort.

EVERY LADY WHO WANTS UNDERWEAR

and understands what pure wool is and appreciates exquisite finish buys the

"HEALTH BRAND,"

both for herself or children. These goods are made in Vests, Drawers, Tights and Combinations, and are kept by every first-class dry goods store.

THE MONTREAL SILK MILLS COMPANY, Ltd., MONTREAL.

WALL-PAPER!

SEE THAT?

CLEANLINESS!
HEALTH!
ECONOMY!
HAPPINESS!
FURNISHING!
CHARACTER!
ART!
Common Sense

There's a Lot of Meaning in it for You!!

There's an array that is hard to beat!

Could you ask more? Here it is

A Discount of 10 per cent. for 30 days.

Test our Ability to Advise on Interior Decorations.

C. B. SCANTLEBURY.

ONTARIO MUTUAL LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY.

S. Burrows, Esq., General Agent, Ontario Mutual Life Co., Belleville, Ont.

DEAR SIR, Received your company's check for $2,000 for our Matured Endowment, and we both wish to show our gratitude to you and the Company for the straightforward and satisfactory way you deal with policy holders, and that we are more than satisfied with our investment. I will always urge our friends to follow in our footsteps. Thanking you very kindly.

Yours very sincerely,
Mr. & Mrs. GOODWIN, Bowmanville,
Formerly of Belleville.

The Sale of Boots and Shoes:

Slightly damaged by Smoke and Water will continue until everything is sold.

HAINES & LOCKETT

Opposite Anglo-American Hotel

TO THE PUBLIC.

When we decided to add the manufacure of carriages, phaetons, democrats, &c., to our business, we immediately put under construction a few of each. As we decided to place no vehicle on the market which is not A 1 in in every detail, and knowing that no first-class vehicle can be produced on the rush, it has been necessary for us to take sufficient time to produce what we aimed at. We think we have succeeded; and we now have a few rigs completed, and others nearing completion to offer for sale. The iron work is all hand forged; the wood work carefully made, and strongly ironed; and the painting and upholstering done with the best material and greatest care. We can freely recommend these rigs. We will be pleased to have parties who may need anything in the above line, call and inspect our work.

ST. CHARLES & PRINGLE.

JAS ST CHARLES. — — — — HENRY G[illegible]E

IT - HAS - BEEN - ADMITTED

—BY OVER 125 PEOPLE IN BELLEVILLE THAT THE—

John Bull Wrought Steel Range,

Is the most Economical, Everlasting and Useful Range on the market. How is this for three Seasons.

SEE THEM AT FOSTER'S.

Also the Duchess of Oxford Cast Iron Range

Belleville and Napanee, Office, Bridge St. Telephone A. 4.

COAL — AND — WOOD.

THOS. STEWART,

The only dealer in Scranton Coal in Belleville and Napanee. The very best facilities for delivering to any part of the city or surrounding towns this coal, which is the best and cheapest mined.

No Gas. No Clinkers. No Waste.

Clean, quick, hot, strong, cheerful fire. Smithing, Cannell, Brier Hill, Run of Mine coal and Coal Screenings always on hand. Hard and soft wood, Blocks and Edgings delivered to any part of the City.

DR. WOOD'S

Norway Pine Syrup.

Rich in the lung-healing virtues of the Pine combined with the soothing and expectorant properties of other pectoral herbs and barks.

A PERFECT CURE FOR COUGHS AND COLDS

Hoarseness, Asthma, Bronchitis, Sore Throat, Croup and all THROAT, BRONCHIAL and LUNG DISEASES. Obstinate coughs which resist other remedies yield promptly to this pleasant piny syrup.

PRICE 25C. AND 50C. PER BOTTLE.

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

DR FOWLER'S EXT. OF WILD STRAWBERRY CURES COLIC CHOLERA CHOLERA-MORBUS DIARRHOEA DYSENTERY AND ALL SUMMER COMPLAINTS OF CHILDREN OR ADULTS

Price 35 CTS

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS

Camping Supplies!

—AND—

Picnic - Requisites!

Our list of articles suitable for Picnic Lunches and Camping includes:

Canned Meats.

ARMOUR'S COOKED BEEF,
ARMOUR'S OX TONGUES,
ARMOUR'S LUNCH TONGUES,
ARMOUR'S POTTED HAM,
ARMOUR'S COOKED PIG FEET'
ARMOUR'S LUNCHEON MEAT.
ARMOUR'S POTTED TONGUE
ARMOUR'S BRAWN,
SANDWICH MEATS,
BONELESS CHICKEN,
BONELESS TURKEY,
POTTED BEEF,
POTTED GAME,
ETC.! ETC.!! ETC!

Canned Fish.

FINEST SARDINES IN OIL,
FINEST SARDINES IN TOMATO,
HERRINGS IN TOMATO SAUCE,
KIPPERED HERRINGS,
FRESH HERRINGS,
SALMON, LOBSTERS,
FINNAN HADDIES,
BLOATER PASTE,
ANCHOVY PASTE,
SARDINE PASTE,
ETC.! ETC.!! ETC!!!

Sundries.

Condensed Milk in Tins, Cream in Tins, Biscuits (in great variety), Fine old Cheese, McLaren's Imperial Cheese (in small crocks), Dried Beef, Choice Hams and Bacon, Lime Juice, Spanish Olives, CROSSE & BLACKWELL'S Pickled White Onions, Walnuts, Chow Chow, and and Mixed Pickles.

WALLBRIDGE & CLARKE

Grocers and Wine Merchants,

33 and 37 Bridge Street. Also Front Street, in Caldwell Building.

REMOVAL

MR. JOSEPH CALDWELL, DENTIST

Has removed his office to the new premises which he has had specially fitted up in the

Caldwell Block,

First door south of the Anglo-American Hotel Front street. 108tf

INTELLIGENCER PRINTING AND PUBLISHING COMPANY (LIMITED).

J. C. JAMIESON, President. | J. W. LONDON, Secretary

THE Treasurer is the only person authorised to receive money from the Company, or to grant receipts for the same.

All Bills, Notes, Cheques and other documents binding on the Company, will require the signature of the President, in addition to that of the Treasurer.

THE INTELLIGENCER is printed and published by the INTELLIGENCER Printing and Publishing Company (Limited) by James C. Jamieson, resident in Belleville, at the Office, Front St., south of Hotel St.

The Daily Intelligencer.

LET THERE BE HARMONY IN THINGS ESSENTIAL—LIBERALITY IN THINGS NOT ESSENTIAL—CHARITY IN ALL.

VOL 28. BELLEVILLE ONTARIO FRIDAY OCTOBER 12 1894 NO. 137

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

MEDICAL.

DR. WISHART.

47 GROSVENOR ST., Toronto, will be at the Huffman House, Belleville, Saturday, Dec. 1st, '94. 192dwly

DR. QUACKENBUSH, M.D., H.M.D., M.D., P.S.O.

HOMŒOPATHIC Physician, Surgeon and Accoucheur, has removed his office over store lately occupied by J. C. Overell, Residence George St., opposite H. Corby's.

JOHN J. FARLEY, M. D., C. M., M. R. C. S. England.

OFFICE and Residence—corner of Bridge and George Streets—three streets east of Post Office.

LEGAL.

FLINT & McCAMON.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public, etc. Solicitors for the Canadian Bank of Commerce. Office, City Hall, Front Street, Belleville, Ont. d84tf
JOHN J. B. FLINT, W. J. McCAMON.

STEWART MASSON.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, Notary, Conveyancer, etc. Office, South side Bridge st., over Wallbridge & Clark's, Belleville, Ont. Money to loan at lowest rates. 76dwtf

J. F. WILLS' LAW OFFICE.

REMOVED to Campbell Street (south side) 2nd door from Front Street, on ground floor.

A. GOODRICH.

LAWYER, 124 Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill., 28 years' experience; secrecy; special facilities in several States; Goodrich on Divorce; with laws of all States in press. 76dly

GEO. A. KINGSTON.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, etc., with Lount, Marsh and Cameron, 25 Toronto St., Toronto. Money to loan on farm property at lowest rates. 233dtf9w.

MIKEL & ROBERTS.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notary Public, Conveyancers, etc. Offices Bridge St., Belleville. Monies to loan at lowest rate.

THOMAS & HALLIWELL.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Conveyancers, &c. Money to loan. 293d3mwly
J. PARKER THOMAS, J. EARL HALLIWELL.

PONTON & MORDEN,

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public, Conveyancers. Office over Express and Telegraph Office, Bridge St., Belleville. Money to loan—private funds.
WM. N. PONTON, M. A., Solicitor Hastings Loan and Investment Society.
W. S. MORDEN, B.A.

E. GUSS PORTER.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, Notary Public, etc. Office in the Robertson Block, east side of Front Street.
Private Money to Loan, 271dwly

FRANCIS S. WALLBRIDGE.

(Successor to Hon. Lewis Wallbridge, Q.C.)
BARRISTER, Solicitor, Conveyancer, etc. Office, McAnnany building, corner Front and Bridge streets, Belleville, Ont. Private and Company money to loan at 6 per cent., on easy terms upon good land security. Charges moderate.

HENRY CARRE, C. E.

M.C. Soc C.E.,
DOMINION AND PROVINCIAL LAND SURVEYOR.

Special attention paid to Hydraulics and Land Drainage. Patents obtained and Drawings made. Office—McAnnany Block, under Ontario Business College, Front St. P.O. address—Box 203, Belleville.

A. G. NORTHRUP.

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Shire Hall, Belleville. 226d&wly

D. I. DULMAGE, L.D.S., D.D.S. (Tor. University).

DENTIST—Office over Brignall & Thompson's. Night calls at residence on Forin Street. d,w

CHAS. JOSE.

VETERINARY Surgeon, Graduate Ontario Veterinary College, Member Ontario Veterinary Society. Office and residence, Foxboro, Ont. Calls by mail or telegram promptly attended to. 304d,wly

MISCELLANEOUS.

AGENT of the Liverpool and London and Globe Fire and Life Insurance Companies.
W. P. HUDSON, Agent.
Office Campbel. street, Belleville. d,w

HAPPY HOME RANGES.

Best in the Market.

—ALSO—

A Full Line of

Art Garland

and

Famous Heaters.

—(o)—

Wm. McGIE.

Next to Nathan Jones.
Telephone 38. Front St

STOVE PIPES!
STOVE PIPES!!
STOVE PIPES!!!

WHIPS! LANTERNS!
WHIPS!! LANTERNS!!
WHIPS!!! LANTERNS!!!

Lamps, Flower Pots,
Lamps, Flower pots,
Lamps, Flower Pots.

—AT—

THE FAIR,

N WEEKS, MANAGER.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE

Is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York.

Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

Dr. H. F. Merrill.

No Other Medicine

SO THOROUGH AS

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

Statement of a Well Known Doctor

"No other blood medicine that I have ever used, and I have tried them all, is so thorough in its action, and effects so many permanent cures as Ayer's Sarsaparilla."—Dr. H. F. MERRILL, Augusta, Me.

Ayer's The Only Sarsaparilla

Admitted at the World's Fair.

Ayer's Pills for liver and bowels.

ACETOCURA

TOUCHES THE SPOT IN NEURALGIA.

ACETOCURA

TOUCHES THE SPOT IN NEURALGIA

Mr. A. Weir, Kew Beach, September 7th, 1894, writes:—"Since then I have used it for neuralgic pains in the head, with immediate relief."

ACETOCURA

TOUCHES THE SPOT IN PARALYSIS.

ACETOCURA

TOUCHES THE SPOT IN PARALYSIS

ACETOCURA

TOUCHES THE SPOT IN PARALYSIS

Mrs. B. M. Hall, Fernwood, Ill., U.S.A., August 15th, 1894, writes:—"I am 61 years old. For two years I had been afflicted with partial paralysis of the lower limbs, rendering me unable to walk a block without complete exhaustion. After using Acetocura for five days the pain had entirely disappeared, permitting me to enjoy a good night's rest, and after ten day's treatment I was able to walk two miles without fatigue."

Write for gratis pamphlet to COUTTS & Sons, 72 Victoria street, Toronto. Head offices—London, Glasgow and Manchester, (G.B.) Cologne, Germany, Aaron, Switzerland.

Local Agents—
L. W. YEOMANS & CO.,
DRUGGISTS,
BELLEVILLE.

PREPARE

FOR the STRUGGLE.

The course of study offered by the Belleville business College gives a young person a thorough and practical knowledge of business, and also that mental culture and discipline which sharpens perceptive faculties, stimulates ambition, develops ability and prepares for the struggle of making a living. Every step in the work is characterized by thoroughness. Besides we use the most practical methods.

In teaching shorthand we dictate actual letters and legal evidence. Other schools have undertaken to imitate our methods, but the quality of their work bears that relation to practical business which the imitation does to the real.

We represent things exactly as they are.

Belleville Business College,

ROBERT BOGLE, Proprietor.

Daily Intelligencer.

CHINESE ROUTED AT WI-JU

The Japanese Have Complete Communication Through Corea.

A LETTER FROM A CHINESE OFFICIAL

He Writes to a Friend in Washington, Giving China's Side of the Events Leading Up to the War—Japan Acted in an Arbitrary Manner and Forced the Fighting on the Celestials.

LONDON, Oct. 12.—A despatch to the Central News from Tokio says that a detachment of Japanese cavalry and infantry made an attack upon and routed a force of 2,000 Chinese at Wi-Ju, and that the place remains in the hands of the Japanese.

The Japanese force had been greatly delayed in its advance by the badness of the roads. The heavy guns could be brought forward but slowly and the troops were compelled often to wait for supplies. Pioneer troops had to be brought and used repeatedly to make the roads passable.

The main Japanese column reached Yung-Chon, a short distance to the south of Wi-Ju, on October 4. There was no sign of the enemy. Four days later the scouts who had been sent out toward Wi-Ju reported that a small Chinese force still occupied the city. The strength of the enemy was estimated about 2,000.

A strong body of infantry and cavalry supported by light artillery was thrown forward at once. The Chinese offered little resistance. They retired before the first attacking party and eventually broke and fled across the Yalu. The Chinese loss was hardly more than a hundred killed and wounded.

The Japanese line of communication is now complete throughout Corea. They expect further reinforcements to come to Wi-Ju by water.

A Japanese officer has been appointed commissary of Wi-Ju. The field telegraph has been in working order since last evening and a regular courier service between Wi-Ju and the rear of the column has begun.

Lays the Blame on the Japs.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—The first authoritative statement of the Chinese side in the present war with Japan has been given out through the medium of a personal letter received by a gentleman in Washington of international reputation. Chang Yen Hoon, a member of Toung Li Yemen, or Foreign Office, and formerly Minister to the United States, is the writer of the letter, and while it is of a personal character, he asks that it be given to the press. The letter follows:

"PEKIN, China, Aug. 21, 1894.

"MY DEAR FRIEND,—Since I last had the pleasure of writing you the evils of war have fallen upon my country most suddenly. It may be of interest to you to know the exact causes of the unfortunate trouble between this government and the government of Japan, and which may be more correctly reported by me than it is likely to be reported in the papers of America.

"In the month of June last riots of a rebellious character broke out in the southern part of Corea, and as that country is tributary to this government it sought from us military assistance. Accordingly 1,500 troops were despatched by the Viceroy Li to the vicinity of the rebellion, a place named Ya-Shan, about 70 miles from the Corean capital, with no other aim but to suppress the rebels and restore peace to those unfortunate people.

"The Japanese government on hearing of the action of the Imperial government sent immediately large forces, took possession of the Corean capital and fortified themselves in all the important positions.

"When the Chinese troops arrived at Ya-Shan the rebels dispersed and peace was restored. In accordance with a treaty between the two governments that the forces of both countries should immediately withdraw after a riot or rebellion had been suppressed, the Imperial government was about to withdraw its troops but Japan insisted on permanently stationing her military forces in that country. Soon afterwards Japan demanded that certain reforms should be forced on Corea, modifying its laws and asking the Imperial government to renounce all claims over Corea. My government could not consent, for it is not the custom nor do the laws permit that we should control the internal affairs of a tributary country. I need not remind you that history has for years told us that Corea is tributary to this country. And at the time when Corea sent her first representative to Washington, on my call at your state department the Secretary of State did not hesitate to acknowledge that Corea was tributary to the Imperial government and that it was with its consent that she carried on treaties and negotiations with foreign powers.

"As matters were developing into a very dangerous state her Britannic Majesty's minister to this court was good enough to offer his services in the hope that the two nations might solve the question peaceably by arbitration.

"The Imperial government was most willing to act according to the treaty's stipulation between the two countries. On an intimation of her Britannic Majesty's minister that the withdrawal of troops of both would assist in a speedy arrangement we expressed our perfect readiness to recall our troops. The Japanese minister at Seoul informed our representative there that he would advise his government to withdraw its troops and put a stop to further forces about to be despatched to Corea. But Japan would not listen to reason and disregarded all the solemn promises contained in the treaty stipulations. Her Britannic Majesty's minister's well-meant intervention was of no avail. On being asked by this government your noble President also reported to the Japanese government in most strong terms how sorry he would feel to hear of the friendly relations being broken between the two countries, and that he would consider it an unjust and unreasonable and unnecessary war.

"Finally, the Japanese legation sent this Foreign Office a most unreasonable note, insisting that should hostilities break out it would not be Japan that commenced them. If it had been the intention of this government to gain any advantage from the Corean trouble we would have sent more than 1,500 troops to that country and they would have occupied themselves in other ways than in the suppression of rebels. I am sure the world will be thoroughly convinced that China, not only in this case, but in all previous troubles, has never taken the offensive.

"As Japan continued to increase her forces in Corea and affairs became more threatening, the imperial government sent reinforcements thither to protect the Chinese subjects and the interests she had enjoyed and which had been recognized by the civilized world for many years; and it was not until our transport ships had been fired upon without a previous declaration of war, and one of them sunk, that this government gave up all hopes of arbitration and entered upon war.

"In the fear that the exact causes of this unhappy trouble may not have been properly presented in the American newspapers I write to you in the hope that you will be convinced that my government has done the utmost to maintain friendly relations and that it was not China that commenced hostilities. If it is not improper and not against the usual custom I would like to have this letter published in your leading newspapers, hoping that its publication may gain for my country the sympathy of the American people.

"I remain yours very truly,
"CHANG YEN HOON."

New York's Corrupt Police.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—Lawrence Carney, a policy writer testifying before the Lexow committee, produced a list of 600 policy shops which had been running up to a few days ago. They were, he said, all known to the police who were paid by the backers of the game. All classes of people play the game; poor people play a penny, but the witness knew of down-town backers to put $100 on a gig. He had known of school children to play in Captain Siebert's precinct where the police used to guard the game. Another witness testified that to secure $50 rent paid for polling places, he paid the sergeant $15 to get it in his house. Mr. Goff said he had received several communications all pointing to the conclusion that every polling place in the city had to pay the police.

Striking Cloakmakers Clubbed.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—The gathering of the cloakmakers in Rutger's Square last night, to form a parade to Union Square, where a mass meeting was to be held, was the scene of indiscriminate and brutal clubbing by the police of the Madison street station, acting under instructions of and aided by Captain Grant. When the strikers began to gather Superintendent Byrne's permit for the parade had not arrived and the police claim that they were not aware of its existence. They dispersed the gathering with drawn clubs, one officer being particularly brutal. Finally one of the cloakmakers arrived, bearing the superintendent's permit, and the procession then proceeded.

Race Trouble in Virginia.

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 12.—Richmond has a regiment of white volunteer military, a howitzer battery and a cavalry squadron, all white. All of these have armories maintained at the city's expense. There is also a battery composed of colored men. The board of aldermen passed a resolution recently appropriating $2,500 to maintain an armory for the colored troops. Mayor Taylor has vetoed this, saying: "I deem it unnecessary, unwise and against public policy to maintain colored soldiers in this city." The board has unanimously passed the resolution over the mayor's veto.

Aftermath of the Storm.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 12. — Communication has been re-established with all points on the west coast visited by the storm which raged Monday night and Tuesday morning and despatches tell woeful tales of the destruction it caused. Apalachicola and Cedar Keys were directly in the storm's path and the damage at those places is almost incalculable. Two lives were lost at the former place. Fifteen fishing smacks belonging to this port were on the Gulf during the storm. Nothing has yet been heard of them and much anxiety is felt.

The Czar's Condition.

LONDON, Oct. 12.—The Daily News' correspondent in Vienna telegraphs: Russian embassies abroad have received official details of the Czar's condition. It is admitted to be very grave. The most difficult symptoms to be combatted are his great weakness and continued drowsiness. There is hardly ever a meal at which he does not drop asleep, and he has to be roused before he can be helped out of the room. Nevertheless it is hoped he will survive the winter.

Arresting Land Agents for Perjury.

GUTHRIE, O.T., Oct. 12.—Charles W. Garland, a prominent politician, was arrested on a charge of perjury in a land case. For a month or more from one to three residents of the territory have been arrested daily on the same charge. Fully two hundred indictments are now pending in the United States court for the said crime, and about 50 persons have been sentenced to the penitentiary, all for committing perjury in attempting to secure homesteads under the present land laws.

Foundered in Lake Ontario.

UTICA, N.Y., Oct. 12.—A special from Adams says that an unknown three masted schooner foundered in Lake Ontario, five miles south of the Sandy Creek life-saving station yesterday noon. She was loaded with wheat. Two of her masts and other wreckage have come ashore but nothing to identify her. The vessel was one and one-half miles from shore when she went down. The gale was very heavy on the lakes yesterday.

Daniel Campbell Dismissed.

CHICAGO, Oct. 12.—Daniel Campbell, ex-member of the Canadian Parliament, and formerly postmaster under the same government, was dismissed in Justice Bradwell's court after being held eleven days on a charge of embezzlement. No evidence was obtained against defendant, and it was claimed that a police magistrate had no jurisdiction over his case had there been evidence.

Convicts Effect Their Escape.

ASHEVILLE, N.C., Oct. 12.—Nine prisoners escaped from Madison county jail at Marshall last night, among them George and William Cody, sentenced to hang for burglary, and George Roberts and George Hensley, indicted for murder.

Charged With Firing a G. T. R. Car.

MONTREAL, Oct. 12.—Four men named Thomas Johnston, James O'Reilly, S. O. Spears and John Cross were brought into the city under arrest last night on the charge of setting fire to a Grand Trunk car at Coteau Junction.

Convention of St. Andrews Brotherhood.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—The ninetieth annual convention of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew began here yesterday. Twelve hundred delegates are present, representing Scotland, Canada and nearly every state in the Union.

A Glenelg Young Lady Killed.

DURHAM, Ont., Oct. 12.—Miss Kate Black, daughter of Mr. Neil Black of Glenelg township, was instantly killed while driving home with her brother-in-law, Mr. Patrick Sullivan. On going down a pretty steep hill the neck yoke gave way causing the horses to run away and upsetting the rig. Miss Black was instantly killed, while her sister, Mrs. Sullivan, had her jaw broken.

A. R. U. Men Indicted.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 12.—Twenty-five railway men, including Eugene V. Debs, president of the American Railway Union, have been indicted by the United States grand jury here.

LOST IN THE BIG STORM

French Fishing Vessels Go Down at Sea With all Hands.

ST. PIERRE FISHERMEN LOSE HEAVILY

They Are Compelled to Abandon Bank Fishing for This Season—Two New Brunswick Toilers of the Deep Blown Away to Sea and Have a Thrilling Night's Experience.

ST. JOHNS, Nfld., Oct. 12.—The gravest apprehensions exist in St. Pierre concerning many fishing vessels that were on the banks in the recent gale. All returning ships were more or less damaged, not one escaping without loss. The French banking fleet numbers nearly 400 vessels. From accounts brought by several vessels it is believed that many were unable to withstand the gale and were lost with all hands. The damage done in this gale is so great that the fishermen will be compelled to abandon bank fishing for this season.

A Thrilling Night at Sea.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Oct. 12.—Wm. Dakin and his son Kenneth, who live at Trout Cove, had a night's experience in the Bay of Fundy last night which they never will forget. These two toilers of the sea went out fishing on Wednesday afternoon in a staunch fishing boat about twenty feet long with about seven feet beam. They were in company with a number of other boats, and although the wind was blowing quite hard they had no thought of danger until about 5 o'clock, when the storm had increased to such an extent that they decided to run for home, but the wind was against them and all the boats were obliged for their own safety to take in their sails and run before the wind with bare poles. They were immediately blown off shore in different directions, and darkness coming on shut them off from each other's view.

The boat in which Dakin and son were was out further than the others and soon distanced them. Unshipping their mast, the father took the tiller and kept the boat before the wind, while the son kept constantly bailing, for the sea was running mountains high and the little craft was taking in water steadily.

It was a desperate fight for them as darkness settled around and the gale increased in violence. At daybreak they found themselves off Point Le Preaux, and putting on such sail as he dared Dakin headed for St. John, reaching here at ten in the morning. He at once telegraphed to his family.

How such a craft lived through that night's storm even Dakin himself cannot comprehend.

ENDEAVORERS AT KINGSTON.

The Treasurer's Report—Officers Elected for the Year.

KINGSTON, Oct. 12.—The third session of the Ontario Christian Endeavor convention was opened with a sunrise prayer meeting led by C. K. Callahan, Lindsay. The fourth session followed with devotional exercises led by Rev. J. L. George, M.A., Belleville. G. Tower Ferguson, Toronto, general secretary, read his annual report. H. W. Barker, treasurer of the provincial union, reported that the total subscriptions received during the year with the balance on hand at date of last convention amounted to $436.49, which amount has been disbursed in the carrying on of the business of the union.

The nominating committee proceeded to choose officers for the ensuing year, the understanding being that the list recommended would be accepted by the convention without question. In most cases ballots were taken. The following was the final result: President, G. Tower Ferguson of Toronto; vice-presidents, Rev. George Munro, Mr. George Best, Mr. Geo. Mills, jr., and Rev. A. F. McGregor, general secretary, Mr. Thomas Morris, jr. No statistical secretary was chosen, the office being merged in that of general secretary-treasurer, Mr. W. H. Doherty; editor, Rev. J. A. R. Dickson; superintendent of junior work, C. J. Atkinson; councillors, Mr. W. R. Harris, Rev. Wm. Johnston and Rev. Ray R. Smith.

After a brisk contest between Brantford and Hamilton as the place of meeting next year Brantford was selected.

The Anglican Endeavor rally was held in St. George's hall this morning. About 250 delegates are in the city.

Prominent Canadians Cross the Line.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Oct. 12.—A prominent party of officials visited the other side of the river yesterday. The personnel of the party was Sir Oliver Mowat, Premier of Ontario, Provincial Secretary of State Gibson and Commissioner of Crown Lands Hardy. They arrived from Toronto over the Grand Trunk and were met by James Wilson, superintendent of Queen Victoria Park and Commissioner Orchard. The whole party took a trip over the Niagara Falls Park and River Railway. Another prominent Canadian party passed through here. They were the Hon. John Haggart, Minister of Railways of the Dominion and Millionaire E. Peter McLaren, the Perth, Ont., lumber merchant. They were joined here by Dr. Montague and were bound for the southern states to look after business interests.

A Lumber Barge Wrecked.

SAND BEACH, Mich., Oct. 12.—In the southwest gale on Lake Huron the barge Wesley, laden with lumber, was totally wrecked. The crew were taken off at Point Aubarques and the barque was then abandoned. The lumber keeps the wreck afloat and it will probably go ashore on the Canadian side below Goderich.

Montreal Police Investigations.

MONTREAL, Oct. 12.—The city council yesterday extended the powers of the police investigation so as to enable it to hold an investigaaion into the general workings of the force. Some interesting developments are expected when the committee commences to hear evidence.

Centre Wellington Reformers.

FERGUS, Ont., Oct. 12.—The Centre Wellington Reformers met here yesterday in convention. A good representation of delegates from all parts of the riding were present. Andrew Semple, the present member for the House of Commons, was again selected as the standard bearer.

Loss of the Majella and Crew.

PROVIDENCE, R.I., Oct. 12.—The flat-bottomed steamer Majella, owned by W. C. Caswell, of Narragansett Pier, lies bottom up on the coast between Matunack Beach and Point Judith. She foundered in the gale and her crew of six men went down with her.

A Former Kingston Man Killed.

BUFFALO, Oct. 12.—Michael Montague, who was formerly a resident of Kingston, Ont., was blown from the top of a car of lumber yesterday, falling on his head. His skull was fractured and he died in a few minutes. His family at present lives in this city.

USE SURPRISE SOAP ON WASH DAY; AND EVERY DAY.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

TORONTO, Oct. 12, 1894.

The Grand Trunk elevators at Sarnia are blocked with grain and there are no cars available to relieve the glut.

On the street here 300 bushels of wheat sold at 53 cents for white and 51 1-2 for red; 1,200 of barley at 45 to 49 1-2; 300 of oats at 32 to 32 1-2, and one load of peas at 58. Outside prices were unchanged.

At Buffalo barley remains steady but there is no particular demand at holder's prices. Malsters here say they do not need barley now and will not purchase till January; the few sales reported from time to time are for outsiders. Receipts continue to be heavy and shipments moderate.

After petering out day by day since Monday, the grain trade in Chicago practically collapsed. Vessel agents reported that not a bushel of any kind of grain was offered for shipment.

At the East Buffalo live stock market the offers were 20 cars, including 7 cars of Canadas. All the latter were sold, some selling up to $4.30, top price for a week, but most of the choice 85 lb. lambs sold at $4.25 per cwt. Market closing steady with a few lots of rather common lambs unsold.

London was responsible for the strong opening at the New York stock exchange, the foreigners having turned purchasers of Louisville and Nashville, St. Paul and other of their favorites. The government crop report had no influence on the market as the general opinion is that the bureau of agriculture has underestimated both the yield of corn and wheat. Towards the close a firmer tone prevailed, owing to the somewhat weaker condition of sterling exchange.

The Wild Man of Aylmer.

OTTAWA, Oct. 12.—Aylmer has a wild man, who, if he does not reside within the limits of the town, lives in such close proximity as to make the residents uneasy. No one knows who or what he is. He is only known as a wild man and everybody is frightened of him. His headquarters are on the farm of the late John Newman, about a mile and a half above the town. Every morning for about two weeks past as the Pontiac and Pacific Junction railway train has passed through the farm on its way cityward the wild man has made an appearance in a field at the side of the railway track, stark naked. He has not threatened to do harm, but merely stood and watched the train. He is a middle-aged man of good build and has a long black beard reaching to his waist. No one knows where he sleeps and the people in the neighborhood are even more perplexed to know what he lives upon, for he never asks anyone for food.

A Kentucky Mail Robber Arrested.

WINDSOR, Oct. 12.—Chief Wills and Officer Honey have arrested Edmond Chittenden. He is wanted at Lexington, Ky., on a charge of robbing the United States mails. He had a hearing there and was liberated on $1,000 bail. He is 22 years of age and his family is one of the most influential in Kentucky. He admits robbing the mails two months while a mail clerk and since then has been a fugitive from justice.

New Bridge Over the Trent.

TRENTON, Ont., Oct. 12.—The new steel bridge known as Gordon's bridge, across the river Trent, about a mile north of the town limits, has been inspected by Warden Farley and the county bridge committee and accepted from Mr. Robert Weddell, the contractor. It is a magnificent structure and was finished fifteen days ahead of the time called for. The bridge is a credit to the County of Hastings and to the noble river it spans.

Neale Admits His Guilt.

LONDON, Oct. 12.—Neale, the Canadian customs official who absconded from St. Mary's, Alberta, and was captured here, came up on remand at Bow street and pleaded guilty to all the charges preferred against him. Inspector O'Leary, of the Dominion police, who arrived from Ottawa recently to take charge of the prisoner, will return with Neale on the Numidian, which sails on Thursday next.

The Ahr Valley.

It is becoming the custom among European travellers to stop at Remagen on the Rhine, and make a little excursion to the beautiful Valley of the Ahr, with its picturesque villages along the vine-clad slope. Here is also located the spring from which flows that world wide favorite "Apollinaris Water." At Neuenahr, in the valley, the river Ahr is very beautiful, and one can find few more quaintly attractive spots than the Upper Gate at Anrweiler, or the old mill at Heppingen.

A tax on dogs was levied in Rome during the reign of Nero.

For Over Fifty Years

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for children teething. It soothes the child, sof ens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhœa. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by druggists throughout the world.
17d&wly

In the time of Queen Anne soap was taxed £28 per ton.

DEAR SIRS.—I have used Yellow Oil for two or three years, and think it has no equal for croup. Mrs. J. S. O'Brien, Huntsville, Ont.

The tithes in England amounted to £4,050,000 a year.

Dyspepsia and Indigestion.—C. W. Snow & Co., Syracuse, N.Y., writes: "Please send us ten gross of Pills. We are selling more of Parmelee's Pills than any other Pill we keep. They have a great reputation for the cure of Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint." Mr. Chas. A. Smith, Lindsay, writes: "Parmelee's Pills are an excellent medicine. My sister has been troubled with severe headache, but these pills have cured her."

Russia raises $1,5000,000 a year by the sale of passports.

THAT TIRED, LANGUID FEELING and dull headache is very disagreeable. Take two of Carter's Little Liver Pills before retiring, and you will find relief. They never fail to do good.

SAFE

EASY TO TAKE

BRISTOL'S SUGAR-COATED

VEGETABLE PILLS

INFALLIBLE

PROMPT

LAKEHURST SANITARIUM

OAKVILLE, ONT.

For treatment and cure of

ALCHOLISM, MORPHINE HABIT, TOBACCO HABIT AND NERVOUS DISEASES.

The system employed at this institution is the familiar Double Chloride of Gold System. Through its agency over 200,000 Slaves to the use of these poisons have been emancipated in the last fourteen years. Lakehurst Sanitarium is the oldest Institution of the kind in Canada, and has a well earned reputation to maintain in this line of medicine. In its whole history there is not an instance of failure to remove the appetite for these poisons. In its whole history there is not an instance of any after ill effects from the treatment. Hundreds of happy homes in all parts of the Dominion bear eloquent witness to the efficacy of a course of treatment with us. For terms and full information write

THE SECRETARY,
28 Bank of Commerce Chambers,
aug7d3m34w3m) Toronto, Ont.

GENTLEMEN....

Before ordering your Fall Clothing don t fail to take a look through

A. N. REID'S

New Fall Importations of

Scotch, English and Irish Suitings, Overcoatings, Pantings, Irish Serges, Cheviots, Hop Sackings and Black Worsteds

First Class Goods and Prices low.

Mr. Minor, our cutter, is one of the best in Ontario.

EVERY GARMENT GUARANTEED!!

Please call and inspect our New Goods.

A. N. REID.

PETTYJOHN'S

CALIFORNIA BREAKFAST FOOD

Dyspeptics can eat this food.

It is particularly adapted for children and persons of sedentary habits.

It is made from Pacific coast wheat hulled and crushed by improved machinery.

It can be easily prepared for breakfast, as this crushing process makes it soft and tender and easy to cook

Ask your physician which is best for you to eat, oats or wheat

Pettijohn's California Breakfast Food is sold in packages by

BENMORE & BENSON.

QUINCES....

Are said to be, by those who know their uses best, the nicest fruit grown.

We expect to receive regular supplies each day, also

Grapes and Peaches.

Those who may not have bought their peaches early in the season can get fully as good value now as the "Smock" variety is one of the best grown for canning or pickling, and is now the only peach in the market.

Jas. Wallace & Co.

CONSUMPTION

is averted, or if too late to avert it it is often cured and always relieved by

Scott's Emulsion

the Cream of Cod-liver Oil. Cures Coughs, Colds and Weak Lungs. Physicians, the world over, endorse it.

Don't be deceived by Substitutes!

Scott & Bowne, Belleville. All Druggists. 50c. & $1.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, FRIDAY OCT. 12.

GET YOUR NAME ON.

The Dominion elections will be held on the lists of voters now being prepared. It is the duty of all Conservatives to see that their names are on, and if not, to make the necessary declarations to have them put on. Only one day more is left for this work. Don't delay. Better be sure than sorry.

To be entitled to vote in Dominion elections a voter must be—

1. British subject 12 months in Canada.
2. Twenty-one years of age, and
3. Have one of the following qualifications:

a.—Have been an occupant in the constituency for 12 months.

b.—Have been owner for 12 months real estate value—

$300 in cities.
$200 in towns.
$150 elsewhere.

c.—Earn $300 a year.

d.—Be a farmer's or owner's son.

There are some other qualifications for uncommon cases.

No time limit of residence is required for an "income voter."

An occupant or owner for less than 12 months can, if so entitled, claim under the income qualification.

HENS AND EGGS.

According to an Ottawa despatch, Mr. George Johnson, Dominion Statistician, and Mr. A. C. Gilbert, manager of the poultry department of the Experimental Farm, have collaborated in the production of a capital bulletin on poultry and eggs. The object of the report is to give information respecting the stock of poultry in Canada, the markets open to the produce of the poultry, and the exports of those products, gathered from the trade returns of Canada and other countries; (2) cf giving extracts from various reports on the poultry industry in other countries, and (3) offering practical suggestions to poultry keepers embodying the results of Mr. Gilbert's observations at the Central Farm. According to the census of 1891, there were that year in Canada 12,096,701 hens and chickens, 458,306 turkeys, 537,932 geese, and 91,994 other fowls. Mr. Johnson quoted interesting figures to show the markets in which Canadian eggs and poultry are sold, and the fluctuations consequent upon the adoption of the McKinley tariff.

Mr. Johnson says the average produce of eggs by each hen in the year is generally estimated at 150, which, however, may be exceeded by adopting prolific breeds, and by good care, food, &c. The cost of poultry in Canada averages as follows:

First cost of hens, 30 cents apiece; first cost of turkeys, 90 cents apiece; first cost of ducks, 45 cts. apiece; first cost of geese, 90 cents apiece.

The cost of keep is estimated as follows:

Hen, 70 cents a year; turkey, $1 a year; goose, 75cts. a year; duck, 60 cents a year.

After the hens have passed their period of profitable laying (two or three years) they may be sold, at little if any loss on their first cost.

The closing part of his report is a review of the poultry industry in foreign countries.

Mr. Gilbert's share of the report is of an exceedingly practical character. As poultry manager at the farm he has proved himself to be especially the right man in the right place, and his experiences with fowls as embodied in his report, are of great value. Mr. Gilbert sets out with the object of giving such information to the farmers of this country as to methods of management and breeds of fowls, as will enable them to take advantage of any or all opportunities, to make a revenue producer of their poultry department. In his report, Mr. Gilbert calls attention to the winter home market, the proper food for egg production, the proper quantity to feed, the best fowls for the farmer, how to take care of the stock, most profitic egg layers, &c. The pamphlet should be in great demand, and the Hon. Mr. Angers has rendered good service to the arming community in authorizing its publication.

That Joyful Feeling.

With the exhilarating sense of renewed health and strength and its genial cheerfulness, which follows the use of Syrup of Figs, is unknown to the few who have not progressed beyond the old ideas of medicines and the cheap substitutes sometimes offered but never excepted by the well informed.

Asthma Sufferers.

Who have in vain tried every other means of relief, should try "Schiffman's Asthma Cure." No waiting for results. Its action is immediate, direct and certain, as a single trial proves. Send to Dr. R. Schiffmann, St. Paul, Minn., for a free trial package, but ask your druggist first.

TO CURE DEBILITY,

Loss of appetite, sleeplessness and all nervous troubles, physicians recommend

Campbell's Quinine Wine.

Do not let your druggist persuade you that some other is just as good.

K. CAMPBELL & CO., Mfrs. MONTREAL.

HOLMES'S BON MOTS.

Some of the Bright Things Remembered by Friends who Talked with Him.

New York corr. Troy Press.

The biographers, in reviewing the lifework of Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes, have overlooked many of the brighter flashes of wit and humor which have emanated from the grand old poet of Beacon Street—those unconscious sayings which are recorded in the memory of friends rather than in his books. This is not strange, however, for it is often the case, and frequently with men of Dr. Holmes's temperament, that their best efforts are spontaneous. In the case of Dr. Holmes, not all of his wit was engrafted in the personality of "The Autocrat." One of the best things he ever said related to Miss Siddons, the actress, at the time the great English statesman, Fox, fell in love with her. Dr. Holmes had been introduced to the actress in England, and, later, in discussing Fox's infatuation he remarked, "I can't understand a man falling in love with her. She is too grand—It is like falling in love with the pyramids; perhaps an association of cook makers or board of aldermen might love her—never!"

On one occasion, in speaking of the easy way in which men attributed their frailties to the temptation of women, Dr. Holmes said, raising a glass of wine to his lips: "Woman tempted me to eat, but I have no idea that Eve had nothing to do with his drinking." Again, at a dinner party, he remarked with mock gravity: "I really must not smoke any more. I must turn over a new leaf—a tobacco leaf—and have a cigar after each." Here he paused, and those present expected that he would say "weak." But he continued: "After each cigar." When the smile which this grave announcement elicited had vanished, the poet leaned back in his chair and said: "A foreigner is an alien, a foreigner who drinks too much is a bacchanalian, and may not a foreigner who smokes too much be a tobacconalian?" Once, when he would been heavily lionized by a party of longbaired Westerners and some one asked him if he did not enjoy it, Dr. Holmes said: "Enjoy it? Why, I felt like the small elephant at the Zoo with a cheap excursion party on his back." Of Prof. Agassiz he remarked that the professor was the Liebig's extract of the wisdom of ages. "When he goes off on long voyages to remote islands," added the poet, "I can't help thinking what a feast the cannibals would have if they boiled down such an extract."

How Small Yankeedom Is Anyway!

From out of the British Isles has come many a ludicrous commentary on affairs American. The Star of Bethlehem, a religious paper, published at Leeds, is the latest candidate in the field of blundering journalism. Here is what it says with reference to the recent industrial disturbances:

"A big revolution is now going on in the United States of America and there is little doubt that the government will be defeated. The dictator, Debs, has been driven from his palace and he and his mistress are now hiding in the mountains. The greatest trouble has been experienced in the capital of Chicago, where Grover Cleveland has obtained complete control. The railroad at that place has been torn up and thrown into the Mississipi river, and the stock yards has been raised to the ground."

Mistakes of Reformers.

When we speak of "financiers" we do not necessarily mean "capitalists." One of the most glaring errors of the advocates of labor interests is to confound the capitalist with the bondholder and money changer. Those who would serve the masses—the laboring class—should learn that they must do so with the assistance of, not in opposition to, the capital that employs; and employing capital suffers as greatly from the rapacity of the money lender as does the laborer himself. It is against the unprofessional financier, the money broker, and his pliant tools, the susceptible scribblers and legislators, that we would warn our readers, not against the employing capitalist—the owner of mill, or mine, or factory—who, equally with his humblest employe, is being crushed to death beneath the golden chariot.—Blue and Gray.

Carved Out His Pardon.

Gesa Berger, the actor and shyswagger man, has a picture in his gallery that has a remarkable history. It is in size 30x43 inches, and is the work of Joseph Loew, the most noted counterfeiter that the Austrian government ever knew.

When an application is made to the pardon in Austria the red tape policy of that country causes the applicant to address all the emperor with all his titles. Emperor Ferdinand had about forty titles. Loew engraved all of these names, together with his petition for a pardon, on a cherry stone.

The letters were so fine that it required the aid of a powerful microscope to decipher them. One day when the emperor visited the prison Loew in person presented a cherry stone to the emperor and told him what it contained. The emperor made an examination and was so amazed at the work that he gave him an unconditional pardon. Not only did he pardon him, but gave him a position as a detective to trail down counterfeiters. Loew was a well-informed man in all the arts and rascalities of counterfeiters, and in less than two years after his pardon he ran to the earth almost every counterfeiter in Austria, and died a few years ago covered with decorative honors. The picture, although made fifty years ago, is in a remarkable state of preservation.

Poor Girl.

"I have almost made up my mind to break the engagement," said the young woman with a flaxen-colored hair.

"Why so?" emphatically asked the woman who had been married twice.

"I'm afraid we can never be happy together. Fido and he are madly jealous of each other already.—Indianapolis Journal.

MISSING LINKS.

The best bricks in the world are made by the tribes of Central Asia.

New York city has thirty-four thousand miles of underground wires.

Every Yankee warship has an outfit of over one hundred and fifty flags.

In England householders have to pay a tax on each male servant in their employ.

Street bands are not permitted in Germany unless they accompany processions.

In 1850 the foreign-born population formed 9.68 per cent of the whole; now it is 14.77.

Couldn't Do It.

"The gentleman you see pacing up and down yonder as if he were mentally deranged is Schmidt, the famous accountant." "What is the matter with him?" "He was trying yesterday to unravel the complications of his wife's housekeeping book." Handelszeitung.

Too Good a Judge.

Wagstaff—Where's that's famous dog of yours that was such a good judge of tramps?

Hopscotch—I was obliged to give him away. To be frank, when I came home from the races the other night he bit me.

TERRIFIC BOILER EXPLOSION

Twenty-Six Boilers Blow Up at a Shamokin Colliery.

WORKMEN BURIED IN THE DEBRIS

One After Another the Boilers Burst, Scattering in All Directions—The Report of the Explosion Heard for Miles Adjoining Buildings Wrecked — Sixteen Hundred Hands Thrown Out of Work.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., Oct. 12.—A terrible boiler explosion occurred at Henry Clay shaft yesterday. Three dead bodies have been taken from the debris. Thomas Carr, married; William Boyle, married, and William Eslick, single. William McLoughlin and J. J. Dellain died after being conveyed home. Six men were injured, two fatally.

At the time of the accident there was, as far as known, seven men around the boiler house. Nobody seems to be able to give a correct statement as to the cause of the explosions. Without a moment's warning the last boiler on the west side of the nest went up and it was followed by the others in rapid succession. The workmen were knocked in every direction, and what had been but a few minutes before a strong corrugated iron building disappeared as if by magic, and all that remained was a tumbling mass of bricks and timber, besides numerous pieces of twisted pipe and battered boiler iron.

The nine remaining boilers were so injured that they will never be used. Pieces of heavy steel were carried hundreds of yards while half of a boiler was found over a quarter of a mile up the mountain. The terrific report was heard for miles and it was scarcely a minute before many of the employes of the colliery were upon the scene of devastation and at once set to work to liberate the men under the debris. Fireman Dichanstin is internally hurt besides having several fractured bones and it is feared he cannot recover. Peter Heck was knocked senseless by flying bricks. His scalp is badly torn and he is severely bruised.

The disaster, coupled with the calamity on Tuesday at the Lake Fidler shaft, has plunged the city into mourning. The accident happened at 7.30 o'clock, a defective boiler exploding and causing 7 others out of a nest of 36 to blow out of their nesting places. One was hurled a quarter of a mile, while others were blown in all directions, some lodging against the breaker, and the slate pickers narrowly escaped death. The breaker was working at the time and the escapes were many and thrilling.

The explosion occurred just after the coal company had started to work. The men who were killed and injured were standing around the boilers, getting warm. The explosion came without the slightest warning. First one boiler went up and the others followed almost together. The report of the explosion was heard for miles. The big boiler house and several adjoining building, the blacksmith shop and storehouse were wrecked.

The boilers had become greatly weakened by the mine water that was used during the drought last summer.

The colliery is operated by the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company and is the best equipped plant of that company in this region. The pecuniary loss is $100,000. Sixteen hundred men and boys are thrown out of employment.

Another Fatal Explosion.

DEXTER, Mo., Oct. 12.—The boiler in D. H. Hough's saw and grist mill, on Andrew northeast of Dexter, exploded, killing the two Johnson brothers and a young man named Wilkinson.

Attempt on a Soubrette's Life.

BUFFALO, Oct. 12.—Eunice Vance, the soubrette, who was recently reported as being engaged to a Toronto gentleman, son of a prominent clergyman of that city, while driving in the park with her maid was shot at by one of two men who drove rapidly past the carriage in which Miss Vance and maid rode. The facts were at once reported to the police but the soubrette's assailants escaped.

VANCOUVER HAS A SCANDAL.

One of the Wimbledon Team Dying in Vancouver From a Knife Wound.

VANCOUVER, B.C., Oct. 12.—Frederick Turner, a member of one of the leading families of New Westminster, is dying from a knife wound inflicted on him by Gracie Irwin, with whom he had been living. He was a fast artist and a crack rifle shot and went to Wimbledon with the Canadian team.

Turner told the woman that they must separate. He is in an unconscious condition and the doctors have no hopes of his recovery. His mother is dying from the shock. The woman was arrested. It is said her real name is Bowman and that she was born in London, Ont.

The Browne Alimony Case.

MONTREAL, Oct. 12.—In the case of Maud Ray Browne vs. Andrew White Browne and Lyman Browne, the New York millionaire, in which the plaintiff (Mrs. Browne) seeks to recover $150 per month alimentary allowance from her husband, Andrew White Browne and her father-in-law, Lyman Browne. Mr. R. D. McGibbon, Q.C., moved in the Practice Court yesterday for an interim allowance of $150 per month, to be paid by Lyman Browne to Mrs. Browne during the pendency of the present proceedings. The parties were married on the 28th of January last at Fulton, N.Y. Mrs. Browne, in her petition for alimentary allowance, alleges that she is in want and at present dependent for support upon certain relatives, who were under no obligations to support her. Her father is dead. She has no brothers and her mother has no means to support her. The defendant, Lyman Browne, is a wealthy man, and able to pay the $150 per month demanded. The defendant was given till Monday to file his reply.

The Bullet That Killed Westwood.

TORONTO, Oct. 12.—The result of the post-mortem examination on the body of young Westwood was that the bullet was found to have entered the body a few inches above and about one inch to the right of the navel. It had passed through the liver, gone close to the kidneys and lodged near the spinal column, having gone almost through the body. It had gone close to a number of large blood vessels without injuring them. The wound caused internal hemorrhage and gave rise to acute peritonitis. From the position taken by the bullet, which was directly through the body, it was evident that Frank Westwood when shot was standing perfectly erect. There was no indication from the examination that the young man had been suffering from any disease except that resulting from the wound received from the pistol shot, and there was nothing in the examination which would contradict the account of the shooting as given by himself.

MISSING LINKS.

The best bricks in the world are made by the tribes of Central Asia.

New York city has thirty-four thousand miles of underground wires.

Every Yankee warship has an outfit of over one hundred and fifty flags.

In England householders have to pay a tax on each male servant in their employ.

Street bands are not permitted in Germany unless they accompany processions.

In 1850 the foreign-born population formed 9.68 per cent of the whole; now it is 14.77.

A Hint to Farmers.

"Why don't you feed your pig to-day, John?"

"Because I don't want her to be too fat, and by feeding her only every second day I'm sure to get good streaked bacon."—Fliegende Blaetter.

CURIOUS INDIAN BOOKS

THE ALPHABETS OF THE ABORIGINES AND THEIR DIALECTS.

Perhaps the most remarkable small library in this country is the property of James C. Pilling, the well-known ethnologist of Washington, save the Post of that city. It is the largest existing collection of books in Indian languages, and of these languages there are no less than fifty-five in North America north of Mexico. All of them are distinct tongues, as different from one another as Chinese and English.

More than one-half of the 500 dialects into which the fifty-five languages referred to are divided are preserved in books. It is believed that the first book printed on this continent was in an Indian language—the "Nahuatl"—published at the City of Mexico in 1539. The first Bible printed in America was in an Indian tongue—the celebrated Eliot Bible. This is one of the most costly of all rare books. About forty copies of it were specially prepared, with a dedication to Charles II. One of these in good condition is now worth about $2,000.

The first printing done west of the Rocky Mountains was in the Nez Perce language. It was a primer for Indian children, turned out from the mission press of Clearwater, Idaho, in 1839. The press that did the work had been brought by the missionaries all the way from the Hawaiian Islands.

The first book printed in Dakota was a dictionary of the Sioux language, produced in 1866 at Fort Laramie. It was prepared by two officers of the United States army, Lieutenants Hoffman and Starring, to pass away the weary hours during a long and cold winter at that lonely outpost of civilization. They were aided in the work by an interpreter and by the Indians who came to trade at the fort. The type was set up by the soldiers, and fifty copies were struck off on a crude hand press. Only two copies are now known, one of them belonging to General Starring, of New York, a brother of the author, and the other to Mr. Pilling.

The Cherokee Alphabet.

The only existing alphabet that is the product of one man's mind and in which a literature has been printed was the invention of a half-breed Cherokee Indian. His name was Se-quo-yah, and he had no education whatever; but it occurred to him that he could express all the syllables in the Cherokee tongue by characters. Finding that there were eighty-six syllable sounds in the language, he devised for each one of them a peculiar mark. From some of the marks he took characters of our own alphabet, turning them upside down. With these symbols he set about writing letters, and by means of them a correspondence was soon maintained between Indians of his race in Georgia and their relatives 500 miles away.

At present this alphabet—or, more properly speaking, syllabary—is in general use among the Cherokees. In no other language can the art of reading be learned so quickly. Whereas a fairly bright child learns to read well in English in two and a half years, a Cherokee youngster is able to acquire fluency in reading books written in this syllabary within three months and a half. In 1827 the American board of foreign missions defrayed the cost of casting a font of type of the characters. The literature composed with them is now very extensive, numerous books and some of the newspapers of the Cherokees being published in the syllabary.

The Wa-Wa.

Later, in 1840, an improved syllabary was devised by Rev. James Evans, a missionary among the Crees. It was phonetic and the characters were simpler, being composed of squares and parts of squares and circles and parts of circles. The zealous clergyman cut his type out of wood and made castings from the original blocks with lead from tea chests, which he begged from officers of the Hudson Bay Company. He manufactured ink out of soot and on a hand press of his own construction printed many little tracts and leaflets for the benefit of the Indians. Only some modifications his characters have come into general use not only among the Crees, but also among many tribes of the northwest which speak languages in nowise akin to that of the Crees, and scores of books have been printed in them.

The queerest periodical in existence is a weekly now published by a French priest at Kamloops, British Columbia. It is called the Kloopa Wa-wa, which means "writing" and is in the Chinook jargon. This jargon is a sort of international speech, composed of half a dozen different Indian tongues, mixed with fragments of English, such as French or German. It is the language of trade intercourse among all the people of the sparsely settled northwest as far as Alaska.

Origin of the Chinook Jargon.

The mission field of the holy father who publishes this periodical extends over about 500 square miles. Much of his time is spent in making long journeys between distant settlements, and during his pauses for rest and study he edits and prints himself with editorial work. The weekly is written in three columns—the first column in jargon, the second in shorthand characters and the third in English. The matter is current news of the locality, sermons, prayers, etc. It is multiplied by the mimeograph and distributed among the priest's wild fy scattered parishioners. The paper on which the printing is done is blue, green, pink or yellow, according to the taste of the people who give it to the good father. The periodical is delivered free of charge, Mr. Pilling being, in all probability, the only paying subscriber.

The jargon was started by the early white explorers who visited the Pacific coast. Lewis and Clark, the first adventurers in that direction, were followed by the people of the American Fur Company, sent out by John Jacob Astor. The passing of these commercial travelers among the tribes of Indians resulted in a composite vocabulary, which is now used by people who speak

75 per cent of all the consumptives who go to Florida and the Bahama Islands are never above 55, and Tierra Del Fuego 55 degrees. The northern districts of Iceland are the warmest. In midsummer the sun does not set for a week and during this period the thermometer reaches 48 degrees. The southern extremity of Nova Zembla, which lies near the Arctic Ocean, has practically no summer, as the thermometer is never above 39 degrees.

SPECIAL MENTION

Look out for Art Series No. 9 on October 15th.

DR. LOW'S PLEASANT WORM SYRUP removes worms of all kinds from children or adults.

THAT HACKING COUGH can be quickly cured by Haggard's Pectoral Balsam. Price 25c.

—Diphtheria is so bad in Dalhousie Ward, Ottawa, that it has been found necessary to close the schools.

—At Chicago the birth of Father Mathew was celebrated in a temperance parade, in which 15,000 persons participated.

ALWAYS AVOID HARSH PURGATIVE PILLS. They first make you sick and then leave you constipated. Carter's Little Liver Pills regulate the bowels and make you well. Dose, one pill.

ALL CASES OF WEAK OR LAME BACK, backache, rheumatism, will find relief by wearing one of Carter's Smartweed and Belladonna Backache Plasters. Price 25 cents. Try them.

No person should go from home without a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial in their possession, as change of water, cooking, climate, etc., frequently brings on summer complaint, and there is nothing like being ready for it. Be ready at hand, which oftentimes saves great suffering, and frequently valuable lives. This valuable has gained for itself a wide spread reputation for affording prompt relief from all summer complaints.

THE GREAT FAMILY MEDICINE OF THE AGE.—There is probably, no family medicine so favorably and so widely known as DAVIS PAIN KILLER. It is extensively used in India, China, Turkey—and, in every civilized country on earth, not only to control the climatic influences, but for the cure of bowel troubles, Cholera and Fevers. It is used internally for all diseases of the bowels, and externally for wounds, burns, bruises, &c. Sold by druggists generally. 25c. for a big bottle

Be Warned.

Don't be a fool; know what you want, and refuse to be imposed upon by greedy dealers when they attempt to palm off sore producing substitutes for Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor; the only safe, sure, and painless corn remedy. Putnam's Extractor is the best, the safest, and only pain less corn remedy. Sold by all dealers in medicine.

New Advertisemens.

TO LET.

TO LET 90 Dundas st., opposite South John st., barn, hard and soft water. Apply next door. 137-3td

TO LET 2 sunny, warm brick houses in terrace, situated on Harriett St., West Belleville, known as Morton's, or Fillter's terrace. For terms of rent apply to R. C. Fillter, collector, or sub agent to the estate of the late H. E Fillter Residence at Mr. Jardin's Corner of William and Dundas Sts., East Belleville. 85d2m

$2.00 REWARD.

LOST on Monday night, the 8th inst., on Bridge Street, a Carriage Wrap. Any person bringing same to MADDEN & CASS WELL will receive the above reward.

BELLEVILLE, October 11th, 1894. 137d1t.

CARD OF THANKS

To the Grand Master, Grand Officers, and Members of the Canadian Order of Oddfellows.

GENTLEMEN,—Allow me to thank you for the prompt payment of $1,000, being the amount of claim under Policy No 2,362, on the life of my son, B. S Billings, who died in Detroit April 23rd, 1894. I also wish to thank the members of the order at Huntsville for their kindness in caring for and forwarding the remains to Marmora, where the members of Loyal Queen Lodge received them with all due respect and interred them in a manner that fully exemplifies the true principles that abounds in the heart of every member of the order.

May the Almighty continue to bless and prosper the Order.

CHARITY E. BILLINGS.

North Hastings Review please copy.

Jewelry Business For Sale

TENDERS, at so much on the $ per stock list, will be received by the undersigned, at his office, 151 Wellington street, Kingston, up to Saturday, October 20th 1894, for the Stock-in-Trade and other assets of the business of W. J. Arnist & Co., 339 King street, Kingston.

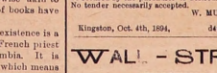

The goods and stock list (about $1,600) may be seen on application to the undersigned. The store may also be secured by the purchaser if desired. Terms cash. No tender necessarily accepted.

W. MUNDELL,
Receiver.
Kingston, Oct. 4th, 1894. 4d, Oct6,9,13,18

WALL - STREET!

OPERATE SUCCESSFULLY IN WALL ST.
THROUGH OUR
Co-Operative R.R. Stock Syndicate.
Large Profits Realized Monthly.
"PROSPECTUS AND DAILY MARKET LETTER" MAILED FREE.
HIGHEST REFERENCE.

WEINMAN & CO.
Stock and Grain Broker,
NO. 41 BROADWAY, NEW YORK CITY.
(4 Oct. 26, 1m eod

Railway Time Tables.

Grand Trunk Railway.

Trains arrive at and depart from Belleville Station as follows:

GOING EAST	Arrive	Leave.
Express	11:05 p.m.	11:10 a.m.
Express	3:40 p.m.	12:05 p.m.
Mixed	5:50 p.m.	6:00 p.m.
Mixed		6:25 a.m.
Express	1:00 a.m.	1:05 a.m.

GOING WEST.	Arrive.	Leave.
Express	2:45 a.m.	2:50 a.m.
Express	9:15 a.m.	9:20 a.m.
Passenger	11:25a.m.	11:55 a.m
Express	5:00 p.m.	5:05 p.m
Mixed	2:30 p.m.

MIDLAND RAILWAY,
GRAND JUNCTION DIVISION.

Going West. (Leave)
Mail	5:45 a. m.
Mixed	8:40 a. m.
Mixed	11:50 a. m.
(Going East Arrive.)
Mail	4:30 p.m.
Mixed	11:40 a m
Mixed	8:30 a. m.

CENTRAL ONTARIO RAILWAY,
PICTON DIVISION.

Leave G T R Junct	12:25 p m
Arrive Picton	2:25 "
Leave Picton	8:15 "
Arrive G T R Junct	5:05 "

ORR HILL DIVISION,

Going North.	Going South
a m	p m
6:45 Trenton	4:55
7:00 G T R Junction	4:40
7:30 Frankford	4:10
7:35 Chisholm's	4:05
7:40 Ames (Mid R'y Junction)	4:00
7:55 Rawdon	3:45
8:10 C P R'y Junction	3:10
8:50 Marmora	2:50
9:25 Eldorado	2:25
9:40 Wannockburn	2:10
9:35 Glen ur	1:35
11:00 Ormsby (Rathbun)	12.50
11:15 Orr Hill	12:35

TRUE

Always—and why do we lead always in our line. It's not mixed up with other trades. The London and Belleville Crystal Hall is to-day the oldest Wholesale Crockery House in Canada. A resident European buyer is constantly sending out new wares as they come from the Kilns, which enables us to sell at what the small general trader has to pay. The goods look better because they are better. We can't afford to handle poor stuff such as is made for the "give away ticket" of China, Silver, Crockery and Lamps, will this year be the most beautiful display of the potter's art ever seen in Belleville, and prices are a long way below last year.

W. J. REID & CO'Y.
CRYSTAL HALL. Rous' Old Stand.
London and Belleville.

THERE IS A . . . .
CONSTANT DEMAND . . . .
FOR . . . . . .

= SILKS =

We have in stock a full line of the

Corticelli Embroidery and Knitting Silks

— IN —

Honiton Lace Emb'y Silk.
Outline do do
Knitting Silk,
Twist Embroidery,
Roman Floss,
Filo Floss.

— ALSO —

27 INCH PURE JAPANESE SILK IN

LIGHT BLUE,
CREAM,
ROSE PINK,
CORAL PINK,
BUTTERCUP,
CARDINAL,

BLACK - SILKS!

In all the leading makes.

J. P. THOMPSON & CO.

OBC GRAUATES.

- FROM -
Saturday's "INTELLIGENCER"

Miss Ella Metcalfe left this morning for Huntsville, where she has secured, through the Ontario Business College, the position of bookkeeper for Mr. W. E. Hutcheson, merchant, who is himself a graduate of O. B. C. Miss Metcalfe's two sisters are likewise graduates of the college. Miss Emma is book keeper for Mr. O. B. Shenbury of this city, and Miss Lillie is stenographer and secretary to Mr. R. Mathison, Principal of the Institution for the Deaf and Dumb.

THIS MATTER CHANGED DAILY.

FRIDAY, Oct. 12th.

DRESS - GOODS

Our late fire sale cleared us well out of old stock of dress goods, so that our stock now is new, stylish and of good value.

See 25c Dress Goods,
See 35c Dress Goods,
See 40c Dress Goods,
See 50c Dress Goods.

They are great value.

- PLUMBING -

We have added to our Workmen,

MR. GEORGE JOHNSON,

Who has for the past six years been prominent on large contracts in Victoria, B. C., San Francisco, Denver, and Chicago.

— ALSO —

MR. EDWIN W. BISHOP,

A graduate of the New York School for Plumbing (class 92), who comes highly recommended.

With these men added to our staff, we feel sure of giving satisfactory to all in Sanitary Plumbing.

C. F. Smith & Co.

CANADIAN PACIFIC RY.

EVERY - FRIDAY
— FROM —
TORONTO!
At 12:30 noon runs a —
THROUGH TOURIST CAR
— TO —
SEATTLE and the PACIFIC COAST.

Making 12 Hours quicker time.

Full information can be had from

S. BURROWS,
General Ticket Agent, Belleville.

ALLAN LINE,

Royal Mail Steamships. Liverpool, Calling at Moville.

	From Montreal daylight	From Quebec
PARISIAN	Oct. 6	Oct. 7
MONGOLIAN	" 13	" 14
HIBERNIAN	" 20
LAURENTIAN	" 27	" 28
NUMIDIAN	Nov. 3	Nov. 3
PARISIAN	" 10	" 11

RATES OF PASSAGE.

First cabin Derry and Liverpool, $45 and upwards single; $95 and upwards return. Second cabin, Liverpool, Derry, Belfast, Glasgow, $60; return $55. Steerage at lowest rates (everything found).

All steamships except the Hibernian carry 1st cabin, 2nd cabin and steerage passengers.

STATE LINE SERVICE
NEW YORK, LONDONDERRY AND GLASGOW.

STATE OF NEBRASKA	Oct. 12
STATE OF CALIFORNIA	" 26
STATE OF NEBRASKA	Nov. 23

Cabin passage, $40 and upward, return $80 and upward. Second cabin $25. Steerage at lowest rates.

For tickets and other information apply to
H. E. THOMPSON,
General Ticket Agency,
Bridge St., Belleville
or to S. BURROWS,
Agent

BOOK BINDING

OUR BINDERY, is now complete. We have added a Wire Stitcher, Pacing Machine, Backing Machine, and several small but necessary additions so as to enable us to turn out work equal to any. Special attention is given to

BLANK BOOK WORK

Merchants and others requiring books with special ruling and extra stock will find that they can be supplied at our bindery.

Books neatly repaired and all work promptly executed.

ADDRESS,

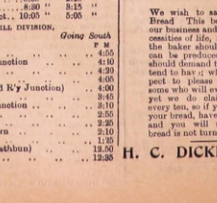

INTELLIGENCER P. & P. CO.,
(LIMITED.)
BELLEVILLE ONT.

H. C. DICKENS & SON.

Bread . . .

We wish to say a word or two about Bread. This being the great staple of our business and one of the greatest necessities of life, it seems but natural that the baker should turn out the best that can be produced and that the customer should demand the same. This we pretend to have; while one can hardly expect to please everybody (there being some who will even turn off a good thing) yet we do claim to please nine out of every ten, so if you are dissatisfied with your bread, have our driver call upon you and you will not be able to say good bread is not turned out in Belleville.

H. C. DICKENS & SON.

Ask how you can get a

CLOCK!

. . . At FINAKER'S . . .

The Men's Furnisher.

Seasonable Goods
..AT THE..
GLASGOW WAREHOUSE.

We are now fully prepared to show one of the largest and best assorted stocks of Staple and Fancy Dry Goods in the city, and at the lowest possible prices, consisting of the following:

STAPLE DEPARTMENT.

Grey and white Blankets, Elder Quilts and Pillows, navy and grey Flannel, grey and white flannel sheeting, grey and fancy Homemade Flannel, Towels, Towellings, Table Linens, Tickings and Ginghams, Table plush.

50 pieces Flannelettes, just received, Splendid value.

Mantles and Mantle cloths, Velvet and Cloth Shawls, Sealettes, all prices. Dress goods in great variety.

Carpets, Oilcloths, Rugs, Lace, and Chenille Curtains, and Table Covers in the very newest designs.

VANDERVOORT & GIBSON,

Successors to the late J. W. Dunnet.

Belleville, Oct. 11, 1894.

P.S.—A large show case and table for sale cheap.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, FRIDAY, OCT. 12.

Chauncey Ashley, issuer of marriage licenses, Division Court Office, Pinnacle street or at residence over Benmore & Benson's store. d&w

CITY AND DISTRICT.

Oh, for a thousand tongues to tell
In pleasant tones to Jack,
How very, very, very much
She needs a sealskin sacque.

Panopticon this evening.

Look out for Art Series No. 9 on October 15th.

A purse found at the Panopticon has been claimed by Miss Jardine.

Be sure and attend Grant's cheap cash sale if you want bargains in Boots and Shoes.

The schr. D. Freeman is expected to-morrow, from Oswego, with coal for Thos. Stewart.

The Salvation Army wish the flags to fly on the occasion of the visit of General Booth to Belleville.

The Rev. A. L. Geen is in Brighton, taking part in a harvest festival service held there to-day.

Everything is very quiet in police circles these days, and Mayor Walmsley's duties as Magistrate pro tem. are not very onerous.

Mary Lezzard, the young woman who was injured about three weeks ago, and has since been in the hospital, was able to be out to-day.

Keep your blood pure and healthy and you will not have rheumatism. Hood's Sarsaparilla gives the blood vitality and richness.

Str. North King makes her last trip from Belleville, this season, for Charlotte on Sunday, Oct. 28th, and from Charlotte, Oct. 31st.

There will be half fare on the Grand Trunk this evening and to-morrow morning to Toronto for the unveiling of the statue of the late Sir John A. Macdonald.

The street Arabs follow the men who are tearing up the old board walks on Front St. like buzzards do an army on the field of battle. Some of them have been rewarded by finding numerous small pieces of silver, which had fallen through the cracks.

To remove the constipated habit the only safe treatment is a course of Ayer's Pills, followed by a laxative diet. Most other cathartics do more harm than good, therefore leading physicians recommend Ayer's Pills, especially as a family physic.

"I was troubled for a long time with an itching humor on the scalp," says Mr. D.P. Davis, Neal's Landing, Fla., "but at last, being recommended Ayer's Hair Vigor, I tried it, and a complete cure was effected." Every one who has used it speaks well of this dressing.

Effect of the French Treaty. Clarets at Half Price.

The Bordeaux Claret Company established at Montreal in view of the French Treaty, are now offering the Canadian connoisseur beautiful wines at $3.00 and $4.00 per case of 12 large quart bottles. These are equal to any $6.00 and $8.00 wines sold on their label. Every swell hotel and club are now handling them, and they are recommended by the best physicians as being perfectly pure and highly adapted for invalids' use. Address Bordeaux Claret Company, 30 Hospital Street, Montreal. 114d8tWeds&Sats.

A Lesson in Hygiene.

Now that water supplies are recognized as the chief vehicle for propagating typhoid fever, medical and scientific authorities throughout the world are constantly dwelling on the necessity of using water of known purity. hile this has no bearing on medicinal waters, which, however valuable, cannot safely be made part of the ordinary daily diet, because of the active chemical substances they contain, it has, however, given a wonderful stimulus to the consumption of dietetic or table waters, such as Apollinaris. It is little wonder, however, that the use of Apollinaris is on the increase, for who does not gladly take the beverage which, besides being pure and healthful, is delightful and refreshing?

How to Get a "Sunlight" Picture.

Send 25 "Sunlight" soap wrappers (wrapper bearing the words "hy does a woman look old sooner than a man") to Lever Bros., Ltd., 43 Scott St., Toronto, and you will receive by post a pretty picture, free from advertising, and well worth framing. This is an easy way to decorate your home. The soap is the best in the market, and it will only cost 1c. postage to send in the wrappers, if you leave the ends open. rite your address carefully.

Cold in the head—Nasal Balm gives instant relief; speedily cures. Never fails.

SOCIAL & PERSONAL

The INTELLIGENCER invites all its readers to contribute to this column. If you or your friends are going away on a holiday trip or if you have friends visiting you, drop a card to this office.

Mr. E. G. Sills, of Frankford, is in town.

Dr. Chamberlain, Prison Inspector, is in the city.

A. L. Chandler, of Deseronto, was in the city to day.

G. A. Redner, Picton, was a guest at the Queen's to-day.

Mr. M. Wilber Dyer, manager for Mr. Robt. Hilliard, gave us a call to-day.

Mr. Robert Hilliard and his dramatic company visited the Panopticon this afternoon.

Mr. Chas. Hunter, manager of the Hotel Quinte, returned last week from a holiday trip east.

J. A. Pierson and Wm. Croft, Toronto; Jas. Brennan, Syracuse; E. Davis, Brockville are at the Anglo.

Dr. Boyce, M.D., has rented the rooms formerly occupied by the late Dr. Abbott and lately vacated by Dr. Cook.

Arthur Lewis, youngest son of the late John Lewis, who was summoned home from Souris, Manitoba, by the death of his father, arrived last night.

Mrs. McLean, modiste with Messrs. Geo. Ritchie & Co., has returned from New York, where she has spent a week, noting the latest styles for Fall and Winter.

Miss Reid and Miss Baker, Belleville were among the visitors to our exhibition last weeks.—Miss Florence Meyer, Belleville, was in town last week.—Picton Gazette.

Mrs. Robert Gray, we are grieved to state, is very ill and but slight hopes are entertained of her recovery.—Mrs. Sylvester Ross has been very ill but last reports state that she is improving.—A. F. Wood, Esq., is able to drive out again after his recent severe illness.—Madoc Review.

Miss Stella Taylor, of Belleville, is in town the guest of Miss Hawley, at the Homestead.—Mr. Geo. Lloyd and family have removed to Belleville. Trenton regrets to lose them.—Messrs. N.B. Falkiner and J.P. Thomas, barristers, of Belleville, were in town on Tuesday.—Messrs. Delany & Mastin, Miss Delany of Black River Bridge, and Miss Clark, of Belleville, were visiting relatives and friends in town last week.—Trenton Advocate.

General Booth at Ottawa.

The reception of General Booth, the originator of the Salvation Army, at Ottawa, was quite an event. On his arrival at the Capital he was met at the station by Mayor Stewart and the City Council and an address of welcome was presented to him by the Mayor on behalf of the citizens. In the evening he held a welcome meeting in Bank St. Presbyterian church—Rev. Dr. Moore's—and in the evening another meeting was held in the Salvation Army Barracks, which was presided over by Hon. Mr. Bowell. The Evening Journal reports the Minister of Trade and Commerce as saying, "Hon. Mackenzie Bowell then spoke briefly. He thanked the representatives of the local corps for the honor conferred on him in choosing him as their chairman. He congratulated General Booth upon the way in which he had been received by the people since he had entered Canada, also upon the work in which he was engaged and to which he wished him God speed."

French Models.

A French model is a young woman with a figure like a fashion-plate, who shows pattern toilets and costumes to buyers. In Paris a good model gets $20 a month, three meals a day and is dressed by the firm in whatever style her employer fancies. The great Ducet keeps six models of different types of beauty, but all tall, slender and well poised women. Positions of this sort are very desirable, easy to get but hard to keep, for as soon as the perfect figure begins to lose the delicate lines a successor is under consideration. The history of the models of Paris is curious and interesting. It is not unusual for a pretty bonne or a well built cook to be promoted to the ranks.

The North King Disabled.

The Port Hope Times of yesterday says: The North King started on her regular trip on Wednesday but had not proceeded far when it was discovered that the shaft of the boat was badly cracked, and fearing it would not hold out for the voyage the Captain turned and brought the boat in again. It is thought that the damage was done in the storm the previous night. The North King after landing her passengers here, proceeded to Kingston. The Resolute will be up to-morrow to take her place and the North King will likely lay up for the season.

Surrogate Court.

Jas. McKee, of Township of Huntingdon, probate of will granted to Wm. McKee, executor. Estate $1,800. F. E. O'Flynn, solicitor.

Jacob Johnston, Township of Sidney, probate of will granted to Hannah Johnston, executrix. Estate $3,000. F. E. O'Flynn, solicitor.

George Sills Wright, City of Belleville, letters of administration granted to Mary Peterson Sills Wright, administratrix. Estate $4,800. Wright & Walmsley solicitor.

The Nominee.

Mr. Hilliard is the most finished and humorous comedian that has appeared on our stage, and is gifted with a fine presence; his demeanor is perfect, his repose something to admire, and his action entirely graceful. He was greatly honored with numerous recalls. The entire company is great.—Cleveland News and Herald.—Dress circle $1, orchestra chairs 75c, balcony and benches 50c, gallery 25.

Double-Breasted Suits.

Is there anything nicer for fall and winter than a nice double breasted suit? The Oak Hall have a large stock this fall of these suits at $6, $8 and $10. We give you a sure fit every time and you know what a reputation the Oak Hall have for selling good wearing clothing. Our suits and overcoats are always low in price, but never so low that they will not give good wear.

Michigan Products.

Mr. George Dafoe, of West Huntingdon has shown us some products grown by Mr. Baldwin McMullen, in Lapeer Co., Michigan. They are potatoes that weigh over a pound each, field corn that measures $11\frac{1}{2}$ inches to the cob, and some nice sweet corn. They are fine articles but Canada can beat most of them.

Cheese Markets

BRANTFORD, Oct. 11.—At the cheese market to-day 13 factories offered 1,793 boxes September; one lot of 400 boxes sold at 10 3-16c; 10c to $40\frac{1}{2}$c offered for balance and refused.

Gordon's Bridge.

The new Gordon's Bridge was inspected on Wednesday by the Bridge Committee of the County Council and was accepted from Mr. R. Weddell.

PROBABILITIES.

TORONTO, Oct. 12.—Southwest to southeast winds; fair weather; a little higher temperature.

NO. 81 ENTERTAINS SUMPTUOUSLY

The Thomasburg Brethren and Others Partake of Their Hospitality.

A number of the brethren of Thomasburg lodge I.O.O.F. drove to the city last evening to pay a visit to Belleville lodge No. 81. After the lodge had assembled the dramatized work of the initiatory and third degrees was put on in faultless style. A great deal of the credit for the excellent work of the team is due to Mr. L. C. Pascoe, who has been instructor for eight years, and their work last evening showed careful preparation.

After the functions in the lodge room were completed, the visitors were invited to the large assembly hall, where a feast for the inner man had been prepared. P. W. Fairman, N.G. of Belleville lodge, acted as chairman, and with him at the head of the table sat Ald. G. H. Allen, of Kingston Lodge, Kingston; W. B. Northrup, M.P.; Rev. Black, P.G., E. Morton, N.G., R. Morton, R. S. and John Stoker, Thomasburg Lodge; S. G. Chamberlain, Rev. A. L. Geen, P.G., John Coon, P.G., John Weese, P.G. Among the Thomasburg brethren we noticed, besides those already mentioned, W. Holbert, W. Morton, J. C. Morton, F. Fargey, H. Mouck, Jas. Hart, G. H. Clare, Jas. Saulsbury, Philip Ketcheson, J. S. Ransom, Albert Arbuckle, and E. N. Gould, of Plainfield.

The vice chair was acceptably filled by Bro. Geo. Hanwell. Among the members of the local lodge present were C. H. Vermilyea, Allan McFee, L. C. Pascoe, E. F. Dickens, Chas. Dickens, Frank Eaton, Joshua Lang, Ald. Green, A. Bates, Chas. Elvins, Wm. Ketcheson, J. McKeown, J. Harry, F and G. Jones and B. Ostrom, Sidney; Sid. Vandervoort, E. T. Cherry, N. Thompson, L. Moore, T. S. Clark, R. Ham, O. Brickman, E. Cooley, F. Mills, Jas Mills, jr., W. Nelson, Thos. Marshall, W. Campbell, B. Sills, A. Morton, R. Ranson, D. Pringle and others.

After the repast had been duly honored the chairman announced the toasts.

The first toast was "The Queen," which was heartily drank. "God Save the Queen."

"The Prince of Wales and the Royal Family" was the next toast, with which was coupled the names of Rev. A. L. Geen, Ald. Green and T. S. Clark, all of whom responded in patriotic addresses.

Mr. Frank Eaton favored the company with a well rendered song, and was rapturously encored, to which he graciously responded with "The Midnight Fire Alarm," which he sang in splendid voice.

"The Order" was the next toast and was honored amid great enthusiasm. The names of Messrs. Geo. Hanwell, L. C. Pascoe and S. G. Chamberlain were coupled with this toast, and they all spoke in the most glowing terms of Oddfellowship at large, and Belleville Lodge in particular.

W. B. Northrup responded to the toast of "Our Country and Legislature," in one of his happy speeches. In speaking of the House of Commons, of which he is a member, he was sure every member, in both sides, with one exception, were endeavoring to legislate for the country's best interests. We have the greatest country in the world and we have a great future before us. There is no country on the face of the earth that has been more blessed by Heaven than this Canada of ours. One thing is alone necessary and that is that the people of Canada should properly appreciate these blessings and turn them to the best possible advantage. There had been great changes during the past fifty years. While half a century ago Canada was almost unknown to the rest of the world, to-day we are recognized by every nation and our products are sought after in every market. We are chief among the colonies of that great empire of which we form a part. We as Canadians have the blood of the best races in the world in our veins. But with all these advantages we must not fold our arms, but should be up and doing. He thanked the company for the hearty manner in which they had honored the toast and also for calling on him. He hoped to see the Thomasburg brethren with them again. (Loud Applause.)

"Our Guests," was the next toast and brought to their feet Rev. Mr. Black and John Stoker, of Thomasburg Lodge, Bro. Anderson of Hamilton, and Ald G. H. Allen, of Kingston Lodge, Kingston. Mr. Stokes made a felicitus address. He said he was a Canadian, he thought, as he was born in Canada and had never been out of it. He was much pleased with the entertainment accorded the lodge and himself. Rev. Mr. Black spoke briefly on the great work the order was doing and expressed his gratification at being a member of it. Bro. Anderson, of Hamilton, said that although a total stranger in Belleville, he had found a warm welcome among Belleville Oddfellows. He spoke of the prosperity of the order in the Ambitious City, and extended an invitation to any of the brethren to visit them. Ald. Allen said he had run into this banquet rather unexpectedly. He saw the light outside and thought that Bro. Pascoe was conferring the Oriental degree and he came up to witness the ceremony, but was surprised to find the entertainment afforded. He said they had two lodges in Kingston with a membership of about 350 each and they worked together harmoniously. He assured the brethren of a warm welcome if they visited Kingston.

"The Press," the last toast of the evening, was proposed by Bro. Allan McFee, and responded to by Mr. McConnell, of the Sun, and H. Austin, of the INTELLIGENCER.

The gathering then broke up by singing "God Save the Queen." We understand these reunions are to be carried on at certain periods through the winter, and we must say the idea is a happy one, as they not only bring the members together, but strangers who know little or nothing of the social side of the order, can here see this one great advantage most explicitly set forth. The entertainment last evening was whole-souled, and Belleville Lodge are to be congratulated on the manner in which they did the honors.

The spread was prepared by Dickens & Son, and the catering was excellent both in point of cuisine and arrangement. These popular caterers have a style particularly their own, and their spreads are always as pleasing to the eye as to the palate.

THE PANOPTICON.

It Has Been a Great Success—Visit it To-Night.

The Panopticon drew a very large crowd last night and gave the same entire satisfaction which it had given on previous nights, the living pictures being particularly attractive.

During the evening the assembly was prettily entertained by a fail dance by young girls under direction of Mrs. Fax, a May Pole dance under direction of Miss May Price, and Miriam and her Maidens under direction of Miss Brown. Mrs. Geo. Stewart was to the front with a new attraction, being no less than the mother-in-law of George Washington. Those who have not seen it should do so to-night, as well as the old attraction which drew so many shekels from the audience and which can be seen at the same time for silver of any denomination.

Stoves and Stove Pipes.

The best varnish for pipes and stoves may be had in small tin cans for 10 and 15 cents, at L. W. Yeomans & Co. It is more durable than ordinary pipe varnish, and less offensive when the fire is first started.

PRIZE LIST

Of Monteagle, Herschel et al Agricultural Society.

LIVE STOCK

Class A.—Stallion of any age, 1st Jas. McAlpin; stallion, 3 years old, Patrick Rody; stallion, 2 years old, John Bresnahan, Wm. Best, Jno. Bresenhan; draught horses, Thomas Carswell, Samuel Haryett, David Carswell; general purpose horses, Samuel Haryett, Jas. McAlpin, John Steel; brood mare with foal, Wm. Dillon, Wm. Cassidy, Wm. Dillon; saddle horse, Jas Haryett, Samuel Haryett, Simon Rouse; colt, 3 years old, Simon Rouse; colt, 2 years old, Fred Fiss, Jas. Cannon, Thos. Netterville; colt, 1 year old, John Ward, Darius Card; carriage horses, Howard Hudson.

Class B.—Horned Cattle.—Milch cow, Jno. Rody, Jas. B. Cleak, Thos. Netterville; heifer, 2 years old, David Carswell, Thos. Netterville, John Lynch; heifer, 1 yr. old, David Carswell, Edward Lynch; beef, ox, cow, steer or heifer, David Carswell, John Ward, John McAlpin; yoke steers, 3 yrs. old, David Carswell 1st and 2nd; yoke steers, 2 yrs. old, David Carswell, Thos. Carswell.

SHEEP.

Class C.—Ram, John Steel, Wm. Best; 2 ewes, Edward Lynch; 2 lambs, John Rody, Edward Lynch.

PIGS.

Class D.—Boar, Samuel Haryett, 1st and 2nd; brood sow, Samuel Haryett, Jas. Haryett; spring pig, Jas. Haryett, Sanford Card.

FOWL.

Class E.—Geese, Thomas Netterville, John Rody; hens, Jas. McAlpine, John Rody; ducks, John Bresnahan, Andrew Barr; turkeys, Thomas Netterville.

SEEDS AND GRAIN

Class F.—Spring wheat, Mrs. Ed. Fitzgerald, John McAlpine, Chester Card; barley, Wm. Dillon; rye, Fred Fiss, Wm. Dillon; white oats, Wm. Dillon, Jas. McAlpine; black oats, John Steel; large field peas, Jas. McAlpine, Saml. Haryett; small field peas, John Steel; corn, Mrs. Edward Fitzgerald, John Ward; Timothy seed, John McAlpin, Fred Fiss; white beans, Wm. Best, John Steel, Jas. McAlpin.

ROOTS.

Class G.—Cup potatoes.—Jno. McAlpin, Jno. Lynch, Mrs. Rody; imported seed potatoes, John Rody, John Lynch, Simon Rouse; early rose potatoes, Jas. McAlpin, John, McAlpin; beets, John McAlpin, Sanford Card; cabbage, Wm. Dillon, John Lynch; cauliflower; Richard Evans, Mrs. Rody; seed onions, Thos. Netterville, Mrs. Edward Fitzgerald; potato onions, Joseph Lynchok, Jas. McAlpin; carrots, table use, John Lynch, Richard Evans; tomatoes, John Lynch, John Ward; cucumbers, John Lynch, Mrs. Edward Fitzgerald; watermelons, Jas. McAlpin.

DAIRY PRODUCE.

Class H.—Roll butter. John Rody, Mrs. Rody; tub butter, John Ward, Darius Card; best factory cheese, George Rose.

DOMESTIC MANUFACTURES.

Class I.—Maple sugar, Jas. Lynchok, John Steel; bread homemade, Jas. McAlpin, Jas. Rody; satinet, Andrew Barr, Jos. Lynchok; woollen blankets, Mrs. Rody, Thomas Netterville; flannel, Andrew Barr, Jas. McAlpin; dyed yarn John McAlpin, Darius Card, Jas. McAlpin.

LADIES' DEPARTMENT.

Class J.—Crocheting in wool, John Lynch; crocheting in cotton, John Lynch, Wm. Best, Anna George; worsted embroidery, Anna George; patch quilt, cotton, Danl. McLeod, Thompson Libon, Mrs. Rody; patch quilt, woollen, Danl. McLeod, John Lynch; woollen stockings, Darins Card; John McAlpin, Sanford Card; woollen socks, Richard Evans, Thomas Netterville; woollen mittens, Jas. McAlpin; Danl. McLeod, Richard Evans; rag mat, Mrs. Roby, Maurice Fitzgerald, Danl McLeod.

FRUITS.

Class K.—Apples, Jas. McAlpin; crab apples, John Lynch, Wm. Dillon.

Class L.—Best neck yoke, ironed, Thompson Libon; set horseshoes, Thompson Libon.

Cleak's special prize offered by Jas. B. Cleak, merchant, Maynooth, for best tub of packed butter, was won by John Ward.

Haryett's special prize offered by Jas. Haryett, general merchant, Maynooth, for best pr spring lambs, was won by John Rody.

The Haines & Lockett Fire.

Owing to our loss by the recent fire, we placed what few accounts we had on our books in the hands of W. J. Diamond with instructions to send them in without respect of persons, and to urge immediate payment. We hope all parties concerned will respond promptly at Mr. Diamond's office.

d115tf HAINES & LOCKETT.

WELCOMED HOME.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred R. Greatrix Made the Recipients of a Handsome Present.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Greatrix, whose marriage in Buffalo we mentioned in Wednesday's issue, arrived in the city last evening. They were met at the depot by some of their relatives and conducted to their future home on Dunbar St. Here a surprise was in store for them. A number of Fred's friends had purchased a very handsome silver tea set, and left it at the house before their return. Accompanying the beautiful present was the following address:

To Mr. and Mrs Fred R. Greatrix:—

We the undersigned desire to express our congratulations on this the most eventful and happy day of your life, and trust that you will receive this small present as a token of our esteem, love and friendship. Trusting that your future life may be one of continued bliss and happiness.

We remain,
Yours very faithfully.

Signed by about ninety friends.

To say that Mr. and Mrs. Greatrix were surprised would be putting it mildly indeed. Recognizing the difficulty of thanking each of their friends personally they wish through the INTELLIGENCER to return their heartfelt thanks not alone for the handsome present but for the kind expressions for their future happiness.

IT'S A MILLSTONE

About a young man's neck to be a sufferer from nervous exhaustion, nervous debility, impaired memory, low spirits, irritable temper, and the thousand and one derangements of mind and body that result from, unnatural, pernicious habits, contracted through ignorance. Such habits result in loss of manly power, wreck the constitution and sometimes produce softening of the brain, epilepsy, paralysis, and even dread insanity.

To reach, re-claim and restore such unfortunates to health and happiness, is the aim of the publishers of a book written in plain but chaste language, on the nature, symptoms and curability, by home treatment, of such diseases. This book will be sent sealed, in plain envelope, on receipt of ten cents in stamps, for postage. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, 663 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y.

SPORTING NEWS

A party of local sportsmen are in the woods to-day in pursuit of the nimble black and grey squirrels.

Ducks are seen in fair numbers—but only seen—on the bay; they do not decoy readily, and keep out in the open water during daylight.

The Cumberland Park Association of Nashville, Tenn., has arranged a match race between Robert J., John R. Gentry, Hal Braden and Joe Patchen, at Nashville, October 19th, for $4,000.

At the meeting in New York on the 11th between Corbett and Fitzsimmons, it was agreed to battle some time after July 1st next at the Florida Athletic Club, Jacksonville, the club to fix the date of the fight.

Look out for Art Series No. 9 on October 15th.

Births.

GILKERSON.—In Trenton, on the 7th inst., the wife of W. J. Gilkerson of a daughter.

HUNT.—On October 11th, the wife of H. Campbell Hunt, Trenton, of a son.

Marriages.

MASSEY—LAWSON—On Monday, Oct., 8th, by the Rev. Mr. Johnson, at the residence of the bride's mother. Mr Charles E. Massey, of Shawano, Wis., and Miss Maud Lawson, of Trenton.

Died.

EVANS.—In Trenton, on Wednesday, Oct. 4th, 1894, Violet, youngest daughter of J. D. Evans, C. E., aged 15 years 10 months.

GERMAN.—In Trenton, on Oct., 5th, 1894, Martha, youngest daughter of William German, aged 14 years, 8 months and 20 days.

Look out for Art Series No. 9 on October 15th.

Common Sense

Should be used in attempting to cure that very disagreeable disease, catarrh. As catarrh originates in impurities in the blood, local applications can do no permanent good. The common sense method of treatment is to purify the blood, and for this purpose there is no preparation superior to Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Hood's PILLS cure constipation by restoring peristaltic action to the alimentary canal.

For Men!

"CURRIE'S"
GUARANTEED...
IMPENETRABLE..
INODOROUS...
WATERPROOF..
COATS.....

"Currie's Waterproofs are now recognized to be the best Coats for men made anywhere. They remain ALWAYS SOFT and NEVER DECAY no matter how long in use. We have them in newest shapes and colors at $8.50, $9.50 $11.00 and $14.00.

Every coat guaranteed.

FOR FIVE DOLLARS!

For $5.00 we sell an Inverness Tweed Rubber Coat, any size or color, with cape 30 inches long, $5.00

VERY SPECIAL!

We are offering very special value in Men's Silk Umbrellas with Steel Rods at $1.76 and $2.00.

GEO. RITCHIE & CO.

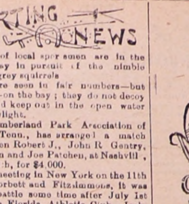

Changed Daily.

FRIDAY, Oct. 12th, 1894.

Not A... Word

Have we said lately about those wise quaint tea kettles that we are selling so many of, wise small ones just handy for the coal stove. We sell them from 90c. up and bear in mind they are the best quality of granite ware.

Stroud's
TEA STORE.

Toronto, Ontario.

As Well as Ever
After Taking Hood's Sarsaparilla

Cured of a Serious Disease.

"I was suffering from what is known as Bright's disease for five years, and for days at a time I have been unable to straighten myself up. I was in bed for three weeks; during that time I had leeches applied and derived no benefit. Seeing Hood's Sarsaparilla advertised in the papers I decided to try a bottle. I found relief before I had finished taking half of a bottle. I got so much help from taking the first bottle that I decided to try another, and since taking the second bottle I feel as well as ever I did in my life." GEO. MERRETT, Toronto, Ont.

HOOD'S Sarsaparilla CURES

Hood's Pills are prompt and efficient, yet easy of action. Sold by all druggists. 25c.

UNDERWEAR... AT FISH'S!

Don't go shivering around any longer, but come and get some of our warm underclothing, and you will be happy and comfortable.

Sizes run from 30 to 46 inches. Our prices suit all pocket books.

We give value that cannot be beaten.

A. E. FISH & CO.

Try our King Shirt, and you will buy no other.

We Are.. Busy.....

Our new groceries are going with a rush, but more are arriving daily, and that's why we keep our stock fresh and wholesome. We take pride in our confectionery for it's the best money can buy and our prices are away down. See the values we offer in teas and sugars. Provisions, and flour and feed also receive our particular attention.

J. A. ELLIOTT.
Front St., Belleville.

SOME HINTS!
Upon the Uses of Wall and Ceiling Paper.

TEN Per Cent Discount Now.

1. The better grades of paper last longer, are easier to hang and can be purchased at but slight advance in cost over the poorer grades.

2. Whitewash and calsomine are but little cheaper than ceiling papers and add nothing to the appearance of the room, in fact they more often destroy the harmony. To think of furnishing all the rest of your room (the floor even, which you deliberately tramp upon) and leave the most important part of it (the ceiling) without a particle of furnishing or character, except that of cleanliness, is beyond comprehension. Your upper wall and ceiling are the only unbroken decorative feature of a room. Furniture breaks the view of the lower wall and it is still further obscured by the hanging of pictures upon it; therefore let special attention be paid to the selection of wide border that shall be in harmony with wall and ceiling, and of ceiling that fittingly completes the beauty of the room.

3. Narrow borders are sufficient, if your aim is only to conceal the ragged ends of paper, but a wide border or frieze serves to heighten the appearance of a room and gives it a more artistic finish—makes it appear as if frescoed.

4. In making your selections, if the room has a north window, let some warmth appear in the paper. If the exposure is south or west, cooler shades can be appropriately used. For Dining-rooms let the walls be mellow in tone, indicative of hospitality.

Parlors can be treated according to individual taste, care being used to have wall and ceiling decorations in harmony with carpets and furniture.

Use for sleeping rooms, light ground papers with a spice of color in the pattern. Floral decorations are most in favor for such purposes.

5. Whatever may be the room or rooms that you are about to paper, don't forget that the better qualities of paper will retain their lustre long after cheaper grades have become dull and colorless.

6. Ten per cent. discount now.

CHAS. B. SCANTLEBURY.

A GOOD, WARM, CHEERFUL FIRE!

Will soon be in order as the cold weather is rapidly approaching

SO.....

...Do not Lose any Time

In ordering your supply of

Telephone C 68.

Coal and Wood
...FROM...

S. A. LAZIER & SON'S.
The Leading Coal and Wood Merchants.

WISDOM & ECONOMY...
Lead the Way to Our Store.....

Just a line to draw your attention to the splendid list of Bargains we offer you this week at loss than Wholesale Prices.

DRESS GOODS....
From 8 to 75cts. per yard, in all shades and qualities; Colored Cashmeres from 25 to 75cts. per yd.; Black Cashmeres from 25c. to $1.00 per yard; Estamine Serge, 56 inches wide, in Black, Brown and Navy, only 50c. worth at least 75c.

GREY FLANNELS...
Unions at $12\frac{1}{2}$ and 15c.; all wool at 18c.; plain or twill, and 27 inches wide, cheap at 22c.; Navy Blue Flannels from 25c. to 40c. per yard; Opera Flannels in all shades at 40c. per yard.

HOSIERY........
Just received our Fall and Winter Hosiery in Cashmere and Wool for Ladies', Misses' and Boys' Wear; a Ladie's fine cashmere hose at 20c. worth 25c.; Misses' and Boys' double rib, all wool, at 20c.

Ladies' Underwear...
In Hygeian, Paragon and Jersey Vests, Long Sleeves, at 20, 30, 40, 50c.

Gents' Wear.........
Our stock is complete in this line, and prices to suit the times.

☞ Do not fail to visit our MILLINERY DEPARTMENT.

H. A. LAYTON, BELLEVILLE.
Front St., Opposite Campbell St.

24TH - - - - - - YEAR.

Our Novelties in... Fur Capes and Jackets

Are the talk of the City, and our Goods are

FIRST CLASS!

The reason for this is we have the

RIGHT STYLES AND PRICES

And our Furs are quite different from any other house in the City.

S. A. HYMAN.
Manufacturing Furrier.

Old Furs of all kinds cleaned, dyed and made over.

AN ACHING HEAD.

Dear Sirs,—I had severe headache for the past three years, and was not free from it a single day. I used doctors' medicines and all others I could think of, but it did me no good. My cousin said I must

TRY B.B.B.

because it is the best medicine ever made, and I took three bottles of it, with the result that it has completely cured me. I think Burdock Blood Bitters both for headaches and as a blood purifier, is the

BEST IN THE WORLD, and am glad to recommend it to all my friends. Miss Rosa McDonald,

Glen Norman, Ont.

HAMILTON,
TORONTO, AND MONTREAL.
Via Bay or Quinte, Calling at all Ports weekly.
THE FAVORITE STEAMER

"MAGNET"
Leaves St. Catharines Tuesday 9 a. m.
" Toronto " 4 p. m.
Leaves Belleville for Montreal } Wednesday 7:30 a m
Leaves Belleville for Toronto } Sunday 8 p. m.
First Class Passenger Accommodation, Large Freight Capacity. Lowest Rates For Tickets, Rates, &c., Apply to the RATHBUN COMPANY, Agents, or to
Capt. J. J. Towers, Superintendent, No. 2 King st., Toronto.
C. F. Gunnesberve, General Manager, 228 St. Paul st., Montreal.

ROCHESTER,
KINGSTON AND MONTREAL
Weekly Service Calling at Way Ports
The Pe ple's Favorite Steamer.

"ALEXANDRIA"
Leave Montreal, Thursday at 10:00 a. m.
Arrives Belleville, Saturday at 11:45 a. m.
Leaves for Rochester " 1:15 p. m.
Arrives from Rochester, Monday at 6:30 a m.
Leaves for Montreal, " 7:30 a m.
Spacious and elegant Saloon. Ample State-room accommodation The choicest and best Meals furnished. Safety, comfort and enjoyment ensured by personal supervision of Capt. Smith and Purser Melrose. Careful handling o freight.
For Tickets, State rooms at lowest rates apply to
THE RATHBUN COMPANY, Agents.

Bay of Quinte Steamb t Route
TRI-WEEKLY
DESER'TO, PICTON & KINGSTON
1894 - 1894

STR. "HERO"
THIS favorite steamer is now lighted by electricity and will have a strong search light for excursion business and the boat is heated by steam.
Commencing Monday, April 9th, will leave Belleville Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 6 a m, returning Tuesday, Thursday and Friday at 11 p m.
The very best facilities are offered to shippers of freight. The lowest through and local rates quoted.
No wharfage at Picton on freight for this steamer.
Full information given by Gilbert Johnston on board, or to the
RATHBUN COMPY.
. H. GILDERSLEEVE, Ticket Agents, Kingston.

ROCHESTER.
STEAMER

NORTH KING.
Leaves for Charlotte, N. Y., every Sunday, 11:45 p.m.
Leaves for Picton and Kingston every Sunday, 3:30 a. m.
Arrive from Picton and Kingston every Sunday, 11:45 p. m.
Arrives from Charlotte, N. Y., every Sunday, 3:30 a. m.
Special attention given to passengers and freight.
WEEK DAYS.—Steamer leaves Port Hope week days for Charlotte, N. Y., at 9:45 a m.
Calls at Brighton Monday 2 a.m., and Wednesday 2.30 a.m., and at Colborne Wednesday and Fridays 4 a.m.
Connection made by Grand Trunk morning tra ns.
The Rathbun Co., 43tf Agents. U. E. THOMPSON, Agent.

INSURANCE.
Western Assurance Company,
Fire and Ma ine Head Office, Toronto.
North British & Mercantile Ins. Co.,
Fire an l Life, Head Office (Can.) Montreal.
Atlas Insurance Company,
Fire Head Office (Canada), Montreal
M. M. THOMPSON
Water Works Office, Bridge St.

Steamer "Iona"
Will eave Belleville three times each week for Oswego, connecting with trains for New York.

Daily Intelligencer.
At Death's Door—Dyspepsia Conquered —A Great Medical Triumph.
Gentlemen,—My medical adviser and others told me I could not possibly live when I commenced to use Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery for Dyspepsia. My case was one of the worst of its kind. For three years I could eat no meat and my weight decreased from 219 to 119 lbs. All the food I took for thirteen months previous to taking the Vegetable Discovery I assisted of milk. I am now entirely cured and have regained my usual weight, can eat anything with a keen relish and feel like a new man. I have sold over thirty dozen Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery since it cured me, as I am well known, and people in this section know how low I was, and thought I could not possibly be cured. They are eager to try this grand medicine. It certainly saved my life, as I never expected to recover when first I commenced using it. I am not exaggerating anything but feel glad to be able to contribute this testimonial and trust it may be the means of convincing others of its merits as a certain cure for Dyspepsia.
Signed) Jean Valcourt,
Weedon, P. Q.
In 1888 the people of Great Britain paid taxes on 492 200 carriages.
Is there anything more annoying than having your corn stepped upon? Is there anything more delightful than getting rid of it? Holloway's Corn Cure will do it. Try it and be convinced.
In Portugal the tobacco tax brings £900,000, the land tax £700,000.
Some people laugh to show their pretty teeth. The use of Ivory White Tooth Powder makes people laugh more than ever. It's so nice. Price 25c. Sold by druggists.
Worms cause feverishness, moaning and restlessness during sleep. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator is pleasant, sure and effectual. If your druggist has none in stock, get him to procure it for you
The rate of taxation has nearly quadrupled in France since 1830.
Dyspepsia causes dizziness, headache, constipation, variable appetite, rising and snorring of food, palpitation of the heart, flatulency after eating. Burdock Blood Bitters is guaranteed to cure Dyspepsia if faithfully used according to directions.
Until about forty years ago, the Persian Government levied a tax on cats.
Mr. T. J. Hume, Columbus, Ohio, writes: "I have been afflicted for some time with kidney and Liver Complaint, and find Parmelee's Pills the best medicine for these diseases These Pills do not cause pain or griping, and should be used when a cathartic is required. They are Gelatine Coated, and rolled in the Finest of Licorice to preserve their purity and give them a pleasant, agreeable taste.
Norway pine syrup cures Bronchitis.
For cholera morbus, Cholera Infantum Cramps, Colic, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, and Summer Complaint Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is a prompt, safe and sure cure that has been a popular favorite for over 40 years.

STEAMER VARUNA

A. HICKS, Captain
Will leave Trenton every morning, (Sunday excepted) at 7:00 o'clock, calling at Redeerville and all points between the head of the bay and Picton, leaving Belleville at 8:30 a.m., Deseronto at 10:20 a.m.
On Tuesday and Thursday evenings to meet North King at Brighton, returning will leave Brighton Wednesday and Saturday mornings at 5:30.
Will connect at Picton with stage for Sand Banks.
For rates relating to arrange for excursion rates will see Capt. Hicks on board
Will leave Picton at 1 p.m. on return for the benefit of the bay, Deseronto 2:30 p.m., Belleville, at 4:30 p. m., and Trenton, at 5.
Omnibuses in waiting at Picton, Belleville and Brighton.
The Rathbun Co., Agents, Belleville and Deseronto,
A. W. Hepburn, Agent, P ton.

BEST QUALITY
CANADIAN
"Silver Star,"
—AND—
AMERICAN
"Water White"
COAL OIL.
Delivered promptly to any part of the city.
D. M. WATERS.

RIBBONS!
We have an extra large stock of Ribbons on hand in all the light and fancy shades including
BABY RIBBONS,
SILK " "
SATIN " "
MOIRE " "
ETC., - ETC.
Our prices are the lowest, and we will be pleased to have you give us a call whenever wanting Ribbons.
SILK ELASTICS....
We have a splendid stock of Fancy Silk Elastic, made in Yellow, Blue, Green, Orange, Cardinal, Black, Pink, Mauve, White. All colors, 25c yard, at
THE BEEHIVE
CHAS. N. SULMAN

SPORT.
Lacrosse Sticks,
Foot Balls,
Tennis Goods,
Croquet, etc.,
Base Ball Supplies
Also, Wall Paper, Window Shades, Hammocks, Fans, Purses, Albums, Bibles and Novels.
—AT—
Overell's Book Store.
Next to Glasgow Warehouse.

THE KISS OF GOLD.

By KATE JORDAN.

[Copyright, 1893, by J. B. Lippincott Company and published by special arrangement with them.]

"How I hate him!" and though the words were but a whisper their reality was intense.

He thought of the past.

That year in Paris—every detail of it returned to him as he lay there—that crowded, riotous, unholy year. His first taste of pleasure, his exuberant appreciation of life carrying him along with the rush of a roaring stream going down hill; the new, fevered atmosphere; the days spinning by in a sort of moral vertigo; the crowd that called him to follow—where it was brightest, that brightness lining the sheer descents of vice.

And now? Now he was back in familiar New York, bound by honor by a woman who wearied him, inclined to rid himself of the obligations he had assumed in the beginning through sheer disinclination to the trouble of resisting, following pleasure with a foreknowledge of weariness, in debt to Delatole while straining at the strongest cord that bound them, struggling against the maddening inactivity that palsied his faculties in the art still dear to him.

A sharp, quivering breath came from his lips.

Delatole had spoken truly. Something had withered within him, or in the degradation of his life he had lost it forever. He had striven to write and always in vain. His ideas were no longer vivid, stirring, flowing to a logical sequence, but thin, abortive—a haze of tangled threads. Heaps of closely written paper, upon which the best efforts of his brain had been expended with the feverish intensity a man feels in running a race, had been cast aside as worthless. The day was surely coming when his world would know the truth and liken him to a plant that puts forth radiant blossoms once and withers in a night.

How miserably he had failed! Was there no escape from social annihilation except by trading on the infatuation of a woman 10 years older than himself? And once—once—when he had thought like one inspired, and honor was a shining reality in his life, he had betrayed love for a chimera. But he must not remember that, and least of all tonight in the silence, when his thoughts were like knives in his heart.

He stood up, shivering, and from habit turned to the sideboard. He half filled a goblet with brandy and laughed aloud as the decanter clinked against the glass in his hand, a laugh that subsided to a chuckle and rose again, beating upon the stillness like the wings of a caged bird.

"It wouldn't be out of order to drink a toast to my own defeat."

When he re-entered his studio a few months later, his eyes were flaming, though the smile—a hideous contortion—lingered on his lips.

An open letter on his disordered desk faced him as he sat down. The closing lines caught his eye:

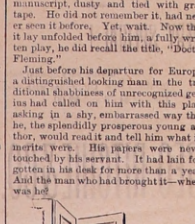

"I will finally withdraw "The World's Way" from the road in a fortnight. Now that four act society drama is what I'm waiting for. In two years I've had only two curtain raisers from you—rags of things that only drew at all because your name was to them. If I can't rely on you, I must look elsewhere. If you're not going to write any more, for God's sake say so.
George Pickel."

He read it and tore it to bits. There was a sob in his throat as his eager hands went searching through the mass of papers for half sketched plots and notes of ideas and the work that the leaves they were scrawled upon. He would not even leave a scrap. All should be destroyed.

And these crowded, dusty drawers, they, too, must be emptied, lest some day when he had sunk into comfortable apathy, with only a profound respect for the well being of the body, he might open them and hear each fluttering leaf whisper how he had once dreamed a drama.

He worked with an eager intensity, as if following his heart's desire, even went on his knees and scattered the scrawled sheets right and left, then paused abruptly and looked with puzzled eyes at what he had dragged out—a long roll of manuscript, dusty and tied with gray tape. He did not remember it had never seen it before. Yet, wait. Now that it lay unfolded before him, a fully written play, he did recall the title, "Doctor Fleming."

Just before his departure for Europe, a distinguished looking man in the traditional shabbiness of unrecognized genius had called on him with this play, asking in a shy, embarrassed way that he, the worldly prosperous young author, would read it and tell him what its merits were. His papers were never touched by his servant. It had lain forgotten in his desk for more than a year. And the man who had brought it—where was he?

"If it were mine."

Still sneering among the mass of dusty papers, he turned the leaves. A letter fluttered to the ground:

Dear Sir,—I inclose this note, as it may not be possible to have an interview with you. The play "Dr. Fleming," which I beg you to read as a favor to me, has for its basis incidents in my own life. The scene in Russia is particularly truthful, and I think presents a dramatic situation distinctly new. Your respectfully,
Felix Dawson, No.— Bedford street.
P. S.—If you can find time to look it over, you will be doing me an inestimable favor. I beg that you will be careful of it, as I have no copy, and even though commercially worthless it is very dear to me.

"Very dear to you," Tom said slowly. "I know just how you felt, Mr. Felix Dawson, when you wrote those words, 'Very dear to you.' You shall have your treasure back."

He turned the first page with a pitying, half languid interest, but only the first. After that he knelt amid the destruction of his own work, paying tribute with enraptured senses to the genius of another man. The manuscript fluttered to the floor when the last climax was reached—a climax that made every nerve vibrate and awoke his senses like a trumpet call—and with strained, hot hands he grasped the chair.

He looked around the silent room and down at the bundle of half furled papers.

Oh, that imagined life pictured there through laughter and sighing, like gems through dust and tears! It was more precious than a magician's wand.

"If it were mine—if it were mine!" he said aloud, and a woman's laugh drifted up from the street, as if she had heard that cry and mocked him.

He sprang up and turned the key in the door. Then he stood listening. The action was guilty, almost before the thought.

"No one will know if I make it mine."

It was foolish to tremble so, of course. The cold drops on his forehead were foolish, too, and his fast beating heart.

"No one will know," he said again, and there was a note of defiant joy in the breathless cry as he picked up the play.

A sound attracted his attention. It was the faraway throbbing of a street band; the air, a German battle march. It was long since he had heard the heavy, rolling sweetness, with that flowing underbeat of sadness creeping in like a knell for many of the multitude who marched onward to the setting. A flicker of pain crossed his uneasy eyes. He knew that march. Virginia had often played it, and it pulsed through the warm night with a wake of memories. Her face in its diurnal beauty rose before him; then a slim, white robed body floated to join the face, an arm, a hand, with finger pointing at the play, crushed in his grasp. Yes, her very voice was in his ears.

"You will not—you will not steal it, Tom! You could not fall as low as that!"

He dropped into a chair, hiding his face upon his clinched hands. A sudden nostalgia weighed sickeningly upon him.

"You will not steal it, Tom," rang the voice in his soul.

But he looked up again after awhile. The face was gone. The German march had dwindled to an echo.

"Yes, I will," he said steadily, as if defying an invisible mentor. "I'll take it. I'll not be a fool. It's a chance to redeem myself, and I cannot let it go. I can't. The man who wrote it must be dead—he is dead—and—there's no copy of it. I can choke down Delatole's sneers—I can pay my debts—I can start afresh. It will be life, honest bread to my soul. I'm not going to let a fancy befool me. If it had fallen from heaven, it could not have come more opportunely. Conscience? Bah!"

But for all his bravado the violence of the temptation made him stand petrified peering into the shadowy corners. Every creak in the silent house appalled him as he mentally weighed the chances for and against detection. He passed his hand across his trembling lips, his narrowed eyes upon the locked door.

"I'll do it," he whispered.

All night he bent over the pages, copying the play, here and there touching it with wit that came to him then with diabolical readiness. His heart warmed over it. It seemed to become his own by the mere changing of the names of places and people.

He left no chance fragment of the original play to betray him nor of the letter and even tried to forget the man's name. By morning all was done and done well.

As he stood up, a wan and haggard ghost, a crimson haze swept in, enveloping him like a blur of blood, and the lamps of a new day were lit in the east.

CHAPTER XII.

From that day Tom was never alone. His secret went with him everywhere. When after a month's hurried preparation the play, re-named "In the Name of the Czar," was put before the public, and he knew again the intoxication of praise and applause, his secret had much to say to him of a confidential and contemptuous nature.

"If these people only knew the truth! Can't you fancy how the friendly hand clasp would grow startled, cold, and the fingers leave yours as if they had touched something unclean? You have the arena all to yourself. The plaudits are all yours. They do not know. But I do: I do."

He listened with a growing equanimity to these whisperings. He saw the philosophy of getting on the friendliest terms with his secret, since it would never leave him. Besides he possessed it absolutely. He never considered that some day it might possess him.

(To be Continued.)

Deseronto Navigation Company (Limited
Steamer Ella Ross.
This fast sailing and comfortable steamer leaves Belleville for Trenton daily (Sunday excepted), at 10 a.m. Leaves Belleville for Deseronto and Picton at 3 p.m., connecting at Deseronto with steamers for Napanee and Oswego. Lowest freight and passenger rates. For further information apply to the Rathbun Co., Bridge street, or to R. C. Carter, General Manager. Deseronto.

Lane's Medicine Moves the Bowels Each Day
In order to be healthy this is necessary.

Norway pine syrup cures Coughs.

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry cures Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cramps, Colic, Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum, and all looseness of the bowels. Never travel without it. Price 35c.

In parts of Peru taxes are paid in cocoa leaves and Peruvian barks.

For coughs, colds, bronchitis and all lung and throat troubles, there is no panacea of medicine can compare with Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup. It never fails to afford prompt and permanent relief. It removes all soreness, and heals the diseased parts. It immediately soothes the most troublesome cough, and by promoting expectoration, removes the mucus which stops up the air tubes which, cause difficulty in breathing, thereby gives relief to that oppressive tightness experienced in the chest. Public speakers and singers will find Bickle's Anti Consumptive Syrup of inestimable value, as it speedily and effectually allays all irritation, and hoarseness in the throat and bronchial tubes, and gives power to the vocal cords, rendering the voice clear and sonorous. If parents wish to save the lives of their children, and themselves much anxiety trouble and expense let them procure a bottle of Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup, and whenever a child has taken cold, has a cough or hoarseness, give the Syrup according to directions.

Norway pine syrup heals the lungs.

A stinted wife can find a vest pocket in the dark.

Ample warning is given us by our lungs when they are in danger. If foolhardy enough to neglect the warning signal, we incur imminent peril. Check a cough at the outset with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil—which is a sovereign pulmonic—besides being a remedy for soreness, hoarseness, abrasions of the skin, tumors, piles, rheumatism, etc.

Burdock pills, small, safe, and sure, regulate the liver and cure constipation.

Robert Lubbork, Cedar Rapids, writes: "I have used Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil both for myself and family for Diphtheria with the very best results. I regard it as the best remedy for this disease, and would use no other.

Holland is the only country in Europe that admits coffee free of duty.

Dyspepsia arises from wrong action of stomach, liver and bowels. Burdock Blood Bitters cures Dyspepsia and all diseases arising from it, 99 times in 100.

SUNLIGHT SOAP Has proved by its enormous sale that it is
The best value for the Consumer
of any soap in the market.
Millions of women throughout the world can vouch for this, as it is they who have proved its value. It brings them less labor, greater comfort.

CHOLERA MORBUS
ALWAYS PROMPTLY CURED BY
PERRY DAVIS' PAIN-KILLER

Floor Oil Cloths...
We have now in stock, FLOOR OIL CLOTHS up to 24 ft. wide
....FOR STOVES!
- - ALSO A LINE - -
ENGLISH OIL CLOTHS
Suitable for under Stoves at 30c. sq. yd.
NATHAN JONES.

LISTEN FRIENDS!!
We SAY because we KNOW!
Our COAL! This Season is unexcelled for quality because the Bill of Lading bears the Brand of the Delaware & Hudson Canal Company.
Cut this out and test this "Ad" when the Winter Winds whistle.
THE RATHBUN COMPANY.

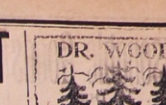

ONTARIO MUTUAL LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY.
S. Burrows, Esq., General Agent, Ontario Mutual Life Co., Belleville, Ont.
DEAR SIR, Received your company's check for $2,000 for our Matured Endowment, and we both wish to show our gratitude to you and the Company for the straightforward and satisfactory way you deal with policy holders, and that we are more than satisfied with our investment. I will always urge our friends to follow in our footsteps. Thanking you very kindly.
Yours very sincerely,
Mr. & Mrs. GOODWIN, Bowmanville,
Formerly of Belleville.

TO THE PUBLIC.
When we decided to add the manufacture of carriages, phaetons, democrats, &c., to our business, we immediately put under construction a few of each. As we decided to place no vehicle on the market which is not A 1 in every detail, and knowing that no first-class vehicle can be produced on the rush, it has been necessary for us to take sufficient time to produce what we aimed at. We think we have succeeded; and we now have a few rigs completed, and others nearing completion to offer for sale. The iron work is all hand forged; the wood work carefully made, and strongly ironed; and the painting and upholstering done with the best material and greatest care. We can freely recommend these rigs. We will be pleased to have parties who may need anything in the above line, call and inspect our work.
ST. CHARLES & PRINGLE.
JAS ST CHARLES. — — HENRY GLE

IT - HAS - BEEN - ADMITTED
— BY OVER 125 PEOPLE IN BELLEVILLE THAT THE —
John Bull Wrought Steel Range,
Is the most Economical, Everlasting and Useful Range on the market! How is this for three Seasons.
SEE THEM AT FOSTER'S.
Also the Duchess of Oxford Cast Iron Range

The Sale of Boots and Shoes:
Slightly damaged by Smoke and Water will continue until everything is sold.
HAINES & LOCKETT
Opposite Anglo-American Hotel

Belleville and Napanee, Office, Bridge St. Telephone A. 4.
COAL - AND - WOOD.
THOS. STEWART,
The only dealer in Scranton Coal in Belleville and Napanee. The very best facilities for delivering to any part of the city or surrounding towns this coal, which is the best and cheapest mined.
No Gas. No Clinkers. No Waste
Clean, quick, hot, strong, cheerful fire. Smithing, Cannell, Briar Hill, Run of Mine coal and Coal Screenings always on hand. Hard and soft wood, Blocks and Edgings delivered to any part of the City.

DR. WOOD'S

Norway Pine Syrup.
Rich in the lung-healing virtues of the Pine combined with the soothing and expectorant properties of other pectoral barks and herbs.
A PERFECT CURE FOR
COUGHS AND COLDS
Hoarseness, Asthma, Bronchitis, Sore Throat, Croup and all THROAT, BRONCHIAL and LUNG DISEASES. Insist upon obtaining the reliable compound which resist other remedies yield promptly to this pleasant pine syrup.
PRICE 25C. AND 50C. PER BOTTLE.
MADE BY THE PROPRIETORS.
T. MILBURN & CO., TORONTO, ONT.

DR. FOWLER'S EXT. OF WILD STRAWBERRY
CURES
COLIC CHOLERA
CHOLERA MORBUS
DIARRHŒA DYSENTERY
AND ALL SUMMER COMPLAINTS OF CHILDREN OR ADULTS
Price 35 CTS
BEWARE OF IMITATIONS

Camping Supplies!
—AND—
Picnic - Requisites!
Our list of articles suitable for Picnic Lunches and Camping, includes:
Canned Meats.
ARMOUR'S COOKED BEEF,
ARMOUR'S OX TONGUES,
ARMOUR'S LUNCH TONGUES,
ARMOUR'S POTTED HAM,
ARMOUR'S COOKED PIG FEET,
ARMOUR'S LUNCHEON MEAT,
ARMOUR'S POTTED TONGUE
ARMOUR'S BRAWN,
SANDWICH MEATS,
BONELESS CHICKEN,
BONELESS TURKEY,
POTTED BEEF,
POTTED GAME,
ETC.! ETC.!! ETC.!
Canned Fish.
FINEST SARDINES IN OIL,
FINEST SARDINES IN TOMATO,
HERRINGS IN TOMATO SAUCE,
KIPPERED HERRINGS,
FRESH HERRINGS,
SALMON, LOBSTERS,
FINNAN HADDIES,
BLOATER PASTE,
ANCHOVY PASTE,
SARDINE PASTE.
ETC.! ETC.! ETC.!!
Sundries.
Condensed Milk in Tins, Cream in Tins, Biscuits (in great variety), Fine old Cheese, McLaren's Imperial Cheese (in small crocks), Dried Beef, Choice Hams and Bacon, Lime Juice, Spanish Olives, CROSSE & BLACKWELL'S Pickled White Onions, Walnuts. Chow Chow, and and Mixed Pickles.
WALLBRIDGE & CLARKE
Grocers and Wine Merchants,
33 and 37 Bridge Street. Also Front Street, in Caldwell Building.

REMOVAL
MR. JOSEPH CALDWELL, DENTIST
Has removed his office to the new premises which he has had specially fitted up in the
Caldwell Block,
First door south of the Anglo-American Hotel Front street.
1084

TELLIGENCER PRINTING AND PUBLISHING COMPANY (LIMITED.
J. C. Jamieson, President. | J. W. London, Secretary
The Treasurer is the only person authorized to receive money from the Company, or to grant receipts for the same.
All Bills, Notes, Cheques and other documents binding on the Company, will require the signature of the President, in addition to that of the Treasurer.
The Intelligencer is printed and published by the Intelligencer Printing and Publishing Company (Limited) by James C. Jamieson, resident in Belleville, at the Office, Front St., south of Hotel St.

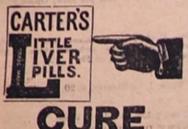

DOUBLE NUMBER.

The Daily Intelligencer.

EIGHT PAGES.

LET THERE BE HARMONY IN THINGS ESSENTIAL—LIBERALITY IN THINGS NOT ESSENTIAL—CHARITY IN ALL.

VOL. 28. BELLEVILLE ONTARIO SATURDAY OCTOBER 13 1894 NO. 138

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

ACHE

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York.

Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

Dr. H. F. Merrill.

No Other Medicine

SO THOROUGH AS

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

Statement of a Well Known Doctor

"No other blood medicine that I have ever used, and I have tried them all, is so thorough in its action, and effects so many permanent cures as Ayer's Sarsaparilla."—Dr. H. F. Merrill, Augusta, Me.

Ayer's The Only Sarsaparilla

Admitted at the World's Fair.

Ayer's Pills for liver and bowels.

"FOR THE BENEFIT OF RHEUMATIC SUFFERERS,"

ACETOCURA

MADE ME ANOTHER MAN

G. H. Reeves,
(Reeves & Beebe),
169 State street, Chicago.

Coutts & Sons,
72 Victoria street, Toronto.

Write for gratis pamphlet to COUTTS & Sons, 72 Victoria street, Toronto. Head offices—London, Glasgow and Manchester, (G.B.) Cologne, Germany, Aaron, Switzerland.

Local Agents—
L. W. YEOMANS & CO.,
DRUGGISTS,
BELLEVILLE.

-PLUMBING-

We have added to our Workmen,

MR. GEORGE JOHNSON,

Who has for the past six years been prominent on large contracts in Victoria, B. C., San Francisco, Denver, and Chicago.

— ALSO —

MR. EDWIN W. BISHOP,

A graduate of the New York School for Plumbing (class 92), who comes highly recommended.

With these men added to our staff, we feel sure of giving satisfactory to all in Sanitary Plumbing.

C. F. Smith & Co.

Daily Intelligencer.

AN ORPHAN CHRISTIAN

THE STORY OF THE BEAUTIFUL JEWESS HADASSAH.

Rev. Dr. Talmage's Superb Word Picture From the Text: "And He Brought up Hadassah"—What Anyone May Become Under Christian Tutelage.

BROOKLYN, Oct. 7, 1894.—Rev. Dr. Talmage, who is still absent on his round-the-world tour, has selected as the subject of to-day's sermon through the press: "Hadassah," the text chosen being Esther 2: 7: "And he brought up Hadassah."

A beautiful child was born in the capital of Persia. She was an orphan and a captive, her parents having been stolen from their Israelitish home, and carried to Shushan, and had died, leaving their daughter poor and in a strange land. But an Israelite who had been carried into the same captivity was attracted by the case of the orphan. He educated her in his holy religion, and under the roof of that good man this adopted child began to develop a sweetness and excellency of character if ever equalled, certainly never surpassed. Beautiful Hadassah! Could that adopted father ever spare her from his household? Her artlessness; her girlish sports; her innocence; her orphanage had wound themselves thoroughly around his heart, just as around each parent's heart among us there are tendrils climbing, and fastening and blossoming, and growing stronger. I expect he was like others who have loved ones at home,—wondering sometimes if sickness will come, and death and bereavement. Alas! Worse than anything that the father expects happens to his adopted child. Ahasuerus, a princely scoundrel, demands that Hadassah, the fairest one in all the kingdom, become his wife. Worse than death was marriage to such a monster of iniquity! How great the change when this young woman left the home where God was worshipped and religion honored, to enter a palace devoted to pride, idolatry and sensuality! "As a lamb to the slaughter!"

Ahasuerus knew not that his wife was a Jewess. At the instigation of the infamous prime minister the king decreed that all the Jews in the land should be slain. Hadassah pleads the cause of her people, breaking through the rules of the court, and presenting herself in the very face of death, crying, "If I perish, I perish." Oh, it was a sad time among that enslaved people! They had all heard the decree concerning their death. Sorrow, gaunt and ghastly, sat in thousands of households, and mothers wildly pressed their infants to their breasts as the day of massacre hastened on, praying that the same sword-stroke which slew the mother might also slay the child, rosebud and bud perishing in the same blast.

But Hadassah is busy at court. The hard heart of the king is touched by her story, and although he could not reverse his decree for the slaying of the Jews, he sent forth an order that they should arm themselves for defense. On horseback; on mules; on dromedaries, messengers sped through the land bearing the king's dispatches, and a shout of joy went up from that enslaved people at the faint hope of success. I doubt not many a rusty blade was taken down and sharpened. Unbearded youths grew stout as giants at the thought of defending mothers and sisters. Desperation strung up cowards into heroes, and fragile women, grasping their weapons, swung them about the cradles, impatient for the time to strike the blow in behalf of household and country.

The day of execution dawned. Government officials, armed and drilled, cowed before the battle shout of the oppressed people. The cry of defeat rang back to the palaces, but above the mountains of dead, above 75,000 crushed and mangled corpses, sounded the triumph of the delivered Jews, and their enthusiasm was as when the Highlanders came to the relief of Lucknow, and the English army, which stood in the very jaws of death, at the sudden hope of assistance and rescue, lifted the shout above belching cannon and the death-groan of hosts, crying, "We are saved! We are saved!"

My subject affords me opportunity of illustrating what Christain character may be under the greatest disadvantages. There is no Christain now exactly what he wants to be. Your standard is much higher than anything you have attained unto. If there be any man so puffed up as to be thoroughly satisfied with the amount of excellency he has already attained, I have nothing to say to such a one. But to those who are dissatisfied with past attainments, who are toiling under disadvantages which are keeping them from being what they ought to be, I have a message from God. You each of you labor under difficulties. There is something in your temperament; in your worldly circumstances; in your calling, that acts powerfully against you. Admitting all this, I introduce to you Hadassah of the text, a noble Christian, notwithstanding the most gigantic difficulties. She whom you might have expected to be one of the worst of women is one of the best.

In the first place, our subject is an illustration of what Christain character may be under orphanage. This bible line tells a long story about Hadassah. "She had neither father nor mother." A nobleman had become her guardian, but there is no one who can take the place of a parent. Who so able at night to hear a child's prayer; or at twilight to chide youthful wanderings, or to soothe youthful sorrows? An individual will go through life bearing the marks of orphanage. It will require more strength, more persistence, more grace, to make such an one the right kind of a Christain. He who at forty years loses a parent must reel under the blow. Even down to old age men are accustomed to rely upon the counsel, or be powerfully influenced by the advice of parents, if they are still alive. But how much greater the bereavement when it comes in early life, before the character is self-reliant, and when naturally the heart is unsophisticated and easily tempted.

And yet behold what a nobility of disposition Hadassah exhibited! Though father and mother were gone, grace had triumphed over all disadvantages. Her willingness to self-sacrifice; her control over the king; her humility; her faithful worship of God, show her to have been one of the best of the world's Christians.

There are those who did not enjoy remarkable early priviledges. Perhaps, like the beautiful captive of the text, you were an orphan. You had huge sorrows in your little heart. You sometimes wept in the night when you knew not what was the matter. You felt sad sometimes even on the playground. Your father or mother did not stand in the door to welcome you when you came home from a long journey. You still feel the effect of early disadvantages, and you have sometimes offered them as a reason for your not being as thoroughly religious as you should like to kind man who adopted her, suggest a condition of poverty. Yet from the first acquaintance we had with Hadassah we find her the same happy and contented Christian. It was only by compulsion she was afterwards taken into a sphere of honor and affluence. In the humble home of Mordecai, her adopted father, she was a light that illuminated every privation. In some period in almost any man's life there comes a season of strained circumstances, when the severest calculation and most scraping economy are necessary to maintain subsistence and respectability. At the commencement of business, at the entrance upon a profession, when friends are few and the world is afraid of you because there is a possibility of failure, many of the noblest hearts have struggled against poverty, and are now struggling. To such I bear a message of good cheer: You say it is a hard thing for you to be a Christian. This constant anxiety, this unresting calculation, wear out the buoyancy of your spirit, and although you have told perhaps no one about it, cannot I tell that this is the very trouble which keeps you from being what you ought to be? You have no time to think about laying up treasures in heaven when it is a matter of great doubt whether you will be enabled to pay your next quarter's rent. You cannot think of striving after a robe of righteousness until you can get means enough to buy an overcoat to keep out the cold. You want the Bread of Life, but you think you must get along without that until you can buy another barrel of flour for your wife and children. Sometimes you sit down discouraged and almost wish you were dead. Christians in satin slippers, with their feet on a damask ottoman, may scout at such a class of temptations, but those who themselves have been in the struggle and grip of hard misfortune can appreciate the power of these evils to dissuade the soul away from religious duties. We admit the strength of the temptation, but then we point to Hadassah, her poverty equalled by her piety. Courage, down there in the battle! Hurl away your disappointment! Men of half your heart have, through Christ, been more than conquerors.

Again, our subject illustrates what religion may be when in a strange land, or far from home. Hadassah was a stranger in Shushan. Perhaps brought up in the quiet of rural scenes, she was now surrounded by the dazzle of a city. Heads as strong as hers havd been turned by the transit from country to city. More than that, she was in a strange land. Yet in that loneliness she kept the Christian integrity, and was as consistent among the allurements of Shushan as among the kindred of her father's house.

Perhaps I address some who are now far away from the home of their fathers. You came across the seas. The sepulchres of your dead are far away. Whatever may be the comfort and adornment of your present home you cannot forget the place of your birth, though it may have been lowly and unhonored. You often dream of your youthful days, and in silent twilight run off to the distant land and seem to see your forsaken home, just as it was when your people were all alive. Though you may have hundreds of friends around you, you often feel that you are strangers in a strange land. God saw the bitter partings when your families were scattered. He watched you in the ship's cabin floundering the stormy seas. He knew the bewilderment of your disembarkation on a strange shore, and your wanderings up and down this land have been under an eye that never sleeps, and felt by a heart that always pities. Stranger far from home you have a companion in the beautiful Hadassah, as good in Shushan as in her native Jerusalem. Indeed, very many of you are distant from the place of your nativity. Some of you may be pilgrims from the warm south, or from hardier climes than ours, from latitudes of deeper snows and sharper frosts. You have come down in these regions for purposes of thrift and gain. You have brought your tents and pitched them here, and you seldom now go back again, except to visit the old village with wide streets and plenty of trees on some holiday. This is not the climate in which many of you were born. These mothers are not the neighbors who came to the old homestead to greet you into life. These churches are not those under the shadow of which your grandfather was buried. These are not the ministers of Christ who out of the baptismal font sprinkled your baby brow. Far away the kirk! Far away the homestead! Far away the town! Have you formed habits which would not have seemed right in the places and times of which we speak? Have you built an altar in your present abode? Is the religion of olden time, once planted in your heart, come up in glorious harvest? Is your present home an eulogy upon that from which you were transplanted? Then are ye worthy companions of Hadassah, the stranger as holy in Shushan as in Jerusalem.

Again, our subject illustrates what religion may be under the temptation of personal attractiveness. The inspired record says of the heroine of my text, "She was fair and beautiful." Her very name signified, "A myrtle." Yet the admiration, and praise, and flattery of the world did not blight her humility. The simplicity of her manners and behavior equalled her extraordinary attractions. It is the same divine goodness which puts the tinge on the rose's cheek, and the whiteness into the lily, and the gleam on the wave, and that puts color in the cheek and sparkle in the eye, and majesty in the forehead, and symmetry into the form, and gracefulness into the gait. But many through the very charm of their personal appearance have been destroyed. What simperings, and affectations, and impertinences have often been the result of that which God sent as a blessing. Japonicas, anemones and heliotropes never swagger at the beauty which God planted in their very leaf, sepal, axil and stamen. There are many flowers that bow down so modestly you cannot see the color in their cheek until you lift up their head, putting your hand under their round chin. Indeed, any kind of personal attractions, whether they be those of the body, the mind, or the heart, may become temptations to pride, and arbitrariness, and foolish assumption.

Again, our subject exhibits what religion may be under bad domestic influences. Hadassah was snatched from the godly home into which she had been adopted, and introduced into the abominable associations of which wicked Ahasuerus was the centre. What a whirl of blasphemy, and drunkenness and licenti-be. But these excuses are not sufficient. God's grace will triumph if you seek it. He knows what obstacles you have fought against, and the more trials the more help. After all there are no orphans in the world, for the great God is the Father of us all.

Again, our subject is an illustration of what religion may be under the pressure of poverty. The captivity and crushed condition of this orphan girl, and of the ousness! No altar, no prayer, no Sabbath, no God! If this captive girl can be a Christian there, then it is possible to be a Christian anywhere. There are many of the best people of the world who are obliged to contend with the most adverse domestic influences, children who have grown up into the love of God under the frown of parents, and under the discouragement of bad example. Some sister of the family having professed the faith of Jesus is the subject of unbounded satire, inflicted by brothers and sisters. Yea, Hadassah was not the only Christian who had a queer husband. It is no easy matter to maintain correct Christian principles when there is a companion disposed to scoff at them, and to ascribe every imperfection of character to hypocrisy. What a hard thing for one member of the family to rightly keep the Sabbath when others are disposed to make it a day of revelry; or to inculcate propriety of speech in the minds of children when there are others to offset the instructions by loose and profane utterances; or to be regularly in attendance upon church when there is more household work demanded for the Lord's Day than for any secular day. Do I speak to any laboring under these blighting disadvantages? My subject is full of encouragement. Vast responsibilities rest upon you. Be faithful, though you stand as much alone as did Lot in Sodom, or Jeremiah in Jerusalem, or Jonah in Nineveh, or Hadassah in the court of Ahasuerus.

Finally, our subject illustrates what religion may be in high worldly position. The last we see in the Bible of Hadassah is that she has become the Queen of Persia. Prepare now to see the departure of her humility, and self-sacrifice, and religious principle. As she goes up you may expect Grace to go down. It is easier to be humble in the obscure house of her adopted father than on a throne of dominion. But you misjudge this noble woman. What she was before, she is now—the myrtle. Applauded for her beauty and her crown, she forgets not the cause of her suffering people, and with all the simplicity of heart, still remains a worshipper of the God of heaven.

Noble examples followed only by a very few. I address some who, through the goodness of God, have risen to positions of influence in the community where you live. In law, in merchandise, in medicine, in mecanics, and in other useful occupations and professions you hold an influence for good or for evil. Let us see whether, like Hadassah, you can stand elevation. Have you as much simplicity of character as once you evidenced? Do you feel as much dependence upon God; as much your own weakness; as much your accountability for talents entrusted? Or are you proud, and over-demanding, and ungrateful, and unsympathetic, and worldly, and sensual, and devilish? Then you have been spoiled by your success, and you shall not sit on this throne with the heroine of my text. In the day when Hadassah shall come to the grander coronation, in the presence of Christ and the bannered hosts of the redeemed, you will be poor indeed. Oh, there are thousands of men who can easily endure to be knocked down by misfortune, who are utterly destroyed if lifted up of success. Satan takes them to the top of the pinnacle of the temple and shoves them off. Their head begins to whirl and they lose their balance and down they go.

While last autumn all through the forests there were luxuriant trees with moderate outbranch, and moderate height, penetrating but little, there were foliage shafts that shot far up, looking down with contempt on the whole forest, clapping their hands in the breeze and shouting, "Aha! Do you not wish you were as high up as we are?" But last week a blast, let loose from the north, came rushing along and grappling the boasting oaks, hurled them to the ground, and, as they went down, an old tree that had been singing psalms with the thunder one hundred summers, cried out, "Pride goeth before destruction, and a haughty spirit before a fall." And humble hickory, and pine and chestnut that had never said their prayers before, bowed their heads as much as to say, "Amen!"

My friends, "God resisteth the proud, but giveth grace to the humble." Take from my subject encouragement. Attempt the service of God, whatever your disadvantages, and whatever our lot, let us seek that grace which outshone all the splendors of the palaces of Shushan.

North Bruce Patrons.

TARA, Ont., Oct. 13.—At the Patron's convention for North Bruce held here yesterday Mr. P. L. Potts, ex-reeve of the township of Arran, was made the unanimous choice of the convention as a candidate for the next Dominion election. It will be remembered when Mr. McCarthy held a meeting here a year ago Mr. Potts was chosen as the candidate by the McCarthyites. He is also a P. P. A. and formerly a Conservative. His prospects are considered good.

His Grandson His Executioner.

KOKOMO, Ind., Oct. 13.—Louis Marquis, a wealthy farmer, 71 years old and for seven years paralyzed and unable to move hand or foot, used his five-year old grandson as his executioner yesterday. The old man induced the boy to hold to his lips a solution of carbolic acid kept in the room as a deodorizer. Marquis drank it all, and sank back in his chair dead almost before the boy could remove the saucer from his lips.

The Death of an Aeronaut.

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., Oct. 13.—The coroner's jury investigating the death of Charles Marble, alias Ray, the aeronaut, who lost his life here by falling into the Frazer river with his balloon, rendered a verdict that death was caused by drowning and that no one was to blame.

Albanians Out for a Fight.

BELGRADE, Oct. 13. — Two Albanian tribes have taken the field to settle a dispute and have some 3,000 men ready for action. The Governor of Kossowo is trying to negotiate an amistice.

Bismarck's Token to His Soldiers.

BERLIN, Oct. 13.—Bismarck has sent his photograph inscribed with his name to each soldier of the footguards who did sentry duty at his rooms when he visited Emperor William in Berlin last winter.

Unveiling the Macdonald Monument.

TORONTO, Oct. 13.—The unveiling of the monument erected in Queen's Park to the memory of Sir John A. Macdonald takes place to-day and will be performed by the Right Hon. Sir John Thompson and speeches will be delivered by himself and the Hon. Sir Adolphe Caron, Hon. G. W. Ross, M.P.P., Hon. Mackenzie Bowell and Hon. Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper. The school children will be addressed by Hon. J. C. Patterson, Minister of Militia and Defence, and Mr. R. S. Baird, chairman of the Public School Board, from a special platform to the right of the statue, and shortly before the opening of the ceremonies.

Fred Turner Out of Danger.

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., Oct. 13.—Fred Turner, the young real estate and insurance agent, who was stabbed by his mistress, Grace Bowman, is pronounced by his physicians to be out of danger. The woman has been remanded for a week.

STILL A GREAT MYSTERY

No New Facts Brought Out Connected With Westwood's Death.

NUMEROUS WITNESSES ON THE CASE

Their Evidence Only Corroborates the Statements Already Made Public—A Man Was Seen Entering the Westwood Grounds About the Time of the Tragedy—An Adjournment Made Till Monday.

TORONTO, Oct. 13.—The curtain was rung up on another act in Parkdale's tragic drama last evening when the inquest into the cause of the death of Frank B. Westwood was opened at No. 6 police station.

The inquiry took place before Coroner Orr and a jury composed of residents of the West End. A host of witnesses, police officers and newspaper men were present, and, as some interesting, not to say startling developments were expected, half the people of the classic suburb were in the vicinity of the station where the enquete was in progress, and there was a strong current of suppressed excitement running through the assembly.

The witnesses were numerous, and among them were several members of the Westwood family and a number of prominent Parkdalians.

Dr. Griffin was first sworn. He had nothing of importance to tell, except that Frank Westwood had called upon him about 8.15 Saturday evening and secured a prescription for a slight kidney trouble. After the shooting the victim had told him that he did not know who shot him. He knew deceased intimately but had not the slightest knowledge of anything which might account for the shooting in any way.

Mr. Westwood, father of the murdered boy, had practically nothing new to tell, his evidence being in detail almost the same as already published. Frank's first words to him after the shooting he could not remember at all. The boy had assured him that he had not the slightest idea who shot him. Frank had said he knew of not a single person who had a spite against him. The family relations all around were of the most cordial character. His, Mr. Westwood's, revolver was the only one in the house and was a 44 calibre of the bull-dog pattern. He had not the slightest idea of any reason why any person should shoot any member of the family.

Mr. Westwood's examination was long and exhaustive, occupying considerably over an hour.

Police Sergt. Hert, of No. 6, and other officers gave evidence, which, however, showed nothing more important than the fact that the police protection was totally inadequate, there being only two policemen south of Queen street and west of Strachan avenue.

Mrs. Rice, of 17 Starr avenue, repeated in substance the story she had previously given to the press. A queer fact which she stated was that the first shot was very much the louder of the two.

The medical evidence elicited nothing having an important bearing on the case. Dr. Caven read the formal report of the doctors who made the post-mortem. The bullet was found near the backbone, pointing downward. It had travelled diagonally downward, but in the opinion of the doctor this amounted to nothing, as bullets are very easily deflected. The bullet was a 38 calibre, rim fire, as near as could be judged.

Mrs. Card, of Jamieson avenue, repeated the story she had previously told of a young man who had preceded her down that street about 11 o'clock on the night of the shooting. He wore a fawn overcoat and a derby hat, was of medium height, had dark hair and a sallow complexion and smoothly shaven face. She saw this man enter the grounds of Lakeside Hall—of this she was positive. Her young son heard a pistol shot a few minutes later, but she did not. She was positive it was not Frank Westwood who entered the gate.

A number of witnesses were examined whose evidence amounted to nothing.

The evidence of Miss Card was in some respects contradictory of her mother's, but still the Crown attaches some importance to the latter's story.

Miss Cora Wesley's story seemed to indicate that the young man who wore the fawn overcoat was Frank Westwood. She knew the murdered boy well, having been out with him several times, but she had not been with him since March last.

Miss Wesley's sis[illegible] swore positively that the man she saw [illegible]d a dark overcoat on. She had also been out with Frank Westwood, but not during the past summer.

Shortly before midnight the inquest was adjourned until Monday evening.

Trade in the Dominion.

MONTREAL, Oct. 13.—Trade is fairly active throughout the Dominion, though a slackening in demand is noted from September activity. Groceries are in better demand here and the export apple trade is very large here and at Halifax. Profitable returns are hoped for. Mild weather in the Maritime Provinces checks the demand for heavy goods. Bank clearings at Hamilton, Toronto, Montreal and Halifax aggregate $20,299,000, a decrease of 4.04 per cent. from last week, but an increase of 5 per cent. over last year. There were 37 failures reported from the Dominion of Canada this week, compared with 40 last week, 32 a year ago, and 36 two years ago.

Another Whiteway Man Unseated.

ST. JOHNS, Nfld., Oct. 13.—Justice Little delivered judgment in St. George's election case, unseating and disqualifying James Keating, Whiteway member, for bribery and corruption. Personal bribery was decided to be proven by promises of employment on public works. Costs were given against Keating. He is the sixteenth Whitewayite unseated. The trial of Parsons, editor of the Telegram, and member for St. Barbe, is now proceeding. This is the last batch of the seventeen petitioned against.

Suicide of a Montreal Millionaire.

MONTREAL, Oct. 13.—W. R. Elmenhorst, president of the St. Lawrence Sugar Refinery Company, Montreal, committed suicide by shooting himself with a revolver at his residence here yesterday. W. L. Elmenhorst was one of the richest men in Montreal. He went in the back of his stable and put a bullet through his head. The reason assigned by the family for the rash act is nervous prostration. Elmenhorst, nothwithstanding his heavy losses during the past and present year, was still a millionaire.

Alleged Elopement in Lockport.

LOCKPORT, N.Y., Oct. 13.—It is alleged that Frank Barton, a sewing machine agent with a wife in Canada, has eloped with Mrs. Barrell. The latter leaves a husband and four children. Her friends and Barton's friends deny that they have gone together.

USE SURPRISE SOAP ON WASH DAY; AND EVERY DAY.

FOUR TIMES ITS PRESIDENT.

W. B. Prescott Re-elected by the International Typographical Union.

LOUISVILLE, Mo., Oct. 13.—W. B. Prescott has been re-elected President of the International Typographical Union. This is the fourth term for Mr. Prescott as the chief executive of the organization.

W. B. PRESCOTT.

He was first elected when he attended the Boston session in 1890 as a delegate from Toronto Union, No. 91, of which he was a member for a number of years, and has thus had the affairs of the union in charge during the most trying time in the history of that body.

James Reid, of Toronto, has been elected organizer for Ontario, in place of Geo. W. Dower, who has held the position for the past year.

The Trial of the Conductors.

MONTREAL, Oct. 19.—The case of the Grand Trunk conductors charged with defrauding the company by "knocking down" fares was continued yesterday, when W. Brown, of Toronto, who acted as a spotter with Wallace, was examined and corroborated Wallace's evidence. Brown said he and Wallace had been paid by the Grand Trunk to work up the case and they had come to Montreal for that purpose. After some unimportant evidence the further hearing was adjourned until next Thursday.

Vice-President Howard Robbed.

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—Vice-President G. W. Howard, of the A. R. U., who, next to President Debs, was the most aggressive enemy of the railroads, was robbed of a pocketbook containing about forty annual passes on the largest railway systems in the country while taking a ride on an electric car with Debs yesterday.

BRANTFORD, Oct. 13.—The contract for building the T. H. and B. Railway from Cainsville (three miles east of Brantford) to Hamilton has been awarded to Brasey & Co., Chicago. The contractors agree to have grading completed by December 5th, 1894. The rails are procured from the Caunmell Co., Maryport, England, and are guaranteed of best quality. The ties are now at Courtright ready to ship. The track will be a single track to Hamilton and a double track from Hamilton to Welland.

Trevelyan Addresses Glasgow Liberals.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—Sir George Trevelyan, Secretary for Scotland, addressed the Liberals of Glasgow last evening. He said the last parliamentary session proved that the country would be better off without a House of Lords. The majority of people against popular measures was so overwhelming that there was no prospect of the Liberals carrying out their business before the Upper House should be reformed. The hostility between the two houses had become open and permanent.

About six months ago my little son, aged three, was very much troubled with a breaking out on his scalp and behind his ear. The places effected were about as large as a silver dollar, the flesh seemed raw and covered with little blisters. The child suffered considerably, and was naturally very fretful. I tried several remedies without obtaining any beneficial results, in fact the eruptions seemed to be spreading and new places breaking out. I concluded to try the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and bought a box of CUTICURA, a cake of CUTICURA SOAP, and a bottle of CUTICURA RESOLVENT. I washed the effected parts with the CUTICURA SOAP, taking care not to irritate the flesh, and applied CUTICURA. I noticed a change for the better in the appearance of the eruptions in twenty-four hours. I continued the treatment morning and night, and in two weeks the eruptions entirely disappeared, leaving the skin smooth and the scalp clean, in fact a perfect cure, as I have not seen any indications of any eruption or breaking out since. I gave the child only a few doses of the CUTICURA RESOLVENT. I consider your CUTICURA REMEDIES very valuable, and expect to keep a small supply constantly on hand. I believe CUTICURA would be excellent for applying to insect bites, which are very annoying in this country. C. A. ARMSTRONG, Swift Island, N. C.

CUTICURA REMEDIES cleanse the system by external and internal medication of every eruption, impurity and disease, and constitute the most effective treatment of modern times.

Sold throughout the world. Price, CUTICURA, 75c.; SOAP, 35c.; RESOLVENT, $1.50. POTTER DRUG AND CHEM. CORP., Sole Proprietors, Boston.

☞ "How to Cure Skin Diseases," mailed free.

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

MEDICAL.

DR. WISHART.

47 GROSVENOR ST., Toronto, will be at the Huffman House, Belleville, Saturday, Dec. 1st, '94. 192dwly

DR. QUACKENBUSH, M.D., H.M.D., M.D., P.S.O.

HOMŒOPATHIC Physician, Surgeon and Accoucheur, has removed his office over store lately occupied by J. C. Overell, Residence George St., opposite H. Corby's.

JOHN J. FARLEY, M. D., C. M., M. R. C. S. England.

OFFICE and Residence—corner of Bridge and George Streets—three streets east of Post Office.

LEGAL.

FLINT & McCAMON.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public, etc. Solicitors for the Canadian Bank of Commerce. Office, City Hall, Front Street, Belleville, Ont. d84tf
JOHN J. B. FLINT, W. J. McCAMON.

STEWART MASSON.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, Notary, Conveyancer, etc. Office, South side Bridge st., over Wallbridge & Clark's, Belleville, Ont. Money to loan at lowest rates. 76dwtf

J. F. WILLS' LAW OFFICE.

REMOVED to Campbell Street (south side) 2nd door from Front Street, on ground floor.

A. GOODRICH.

LAWYER, 124 Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill., 28 years' experience; secrecy; special facilities in several States; Goodrich on Divorce; with laws of all States in press. 76dly

GEO. A. KINGSTON.

BARRISTER Solicitor, etc., with Lount, Marsh and Cameron, 25 Toronto St., Toronto. Money to loan on farm property at lowest rates. 233dtf9w.

MIKEL & ROBERTS.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notary Public, Conveyancers, etc. Offices Bridge St., Belleville. Monies to loan at lowest rate.

THOMAS & HALLIWELL.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Conveyancers, &c. Money to loan. 293d3mwly
J. PARKER THOMAS, J. EARL HALLIWELL.

PONTON & MORDEN.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public, Conveyancers. Office over Express and Telegraph Office, Bridge St., Belleville. Money to loan—private funds.
WM. N. PONTON, M. A., Solicitor Hastings Loan and Investment Society.
W. S. MORDEN, B. A.

F. GUSS PORTER.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, Notary Public. etc. Office in the Robertson Block, east side of Front Street.
☞ Private Money to Loan, 271dwly

FRANCIS S. WALLBRIDGE.

(Successor to Hon. Lewis Wallbridge, Q.C.) BARRISTER, Solicitor, Conveyancer, etc. Office, McAnnany building, corner Front and Bridge streets, Belleville, Ont. Private and Company money to loan at 6 per cent., on easy terms upon good land security. Charges moderate.

HENRY CARRE, C. E.
M. C. Soc C.E.,
DOMINION AND PROVINCIAL LAND SURVEYOR.

Special attention paid to Hydraulics and Land Drainage. Patents obtained and Drawings made. Office—McAnnany Block, under Ontario Business College, Front St. P.O. address—Box 203, Belleville.

A. G. NORTHRUP.

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Shire Hall, Belleville. 226d&wly

D. I. DULMAGE, L.D.S., D.D.S. (Tor. University).

DENTIST—Office over Brignall & Thompson's. Night calls at residence on Forin Street. d,w

CHAS. JOSE.

VETERINARY Surgeon, Graduate Ontario Veterinary College, Member Ontario Veterinary Society. Office and residence, Foxboro, Ont. Calls by mail or telegram promptly attended to. 304d,wly

MISCELLANEOUS.

AGENCY of the Liverpool and London and Globe Fire and Life Insurance Companies.
W. P. HUDSON, Agent.
Office Campbel. street, Belleville. d,w

PETTYJOHN'S
CALIFORNIA BREAKFAST FOOD

Dyspeptics can eat this food.
It is particularly adapted for children and persons of sedentary habits.
It is made from Pacific coast wheat hulled and crushed by improved machinery.
It can be easily prepared for breakfast, as this crushing process makes it soft and tender and easy to cook.
Ask your physician which is best for you to eat, oats or wheat.
Pettijohn's California Breakfast Food is sold in packages by

BENMORE & BENSON.

QUINCES....

Are said to be, by those who know their uses best, the nicest fruit grown.
We expect to receive regular supplies each day, also

Grapes and Peaches.

Those who may not have bought their peaches early in the season can get fully as good value now as the "Smock" variety is one of the best grown for canning or pickling, and is now the only peach in the market.

Jas. Wallace & Co.

KNOWLEDGE

brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live bet-ter than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and has with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 75c. bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, SATURDAY, OCT. 13.

BLAKE WILL AID US.

"To Mr. A. Young, secretary of the West Durham Reform Association, Hon. Edward Blake writes: 'May I be permitted to say how glad I am to think that the re cently resolution of the late Reform convention has ended that difference which led to the severance of my connection with that riding, and that, though no longer to be associated with them as their representative, I am not to be divided from them in opinion.'"

So says a despatch from Toronto. Mr. Blake's defection from his party on the eve of the election of 1891, on the U. R. issue, which he properly denounced as disloyal, aided in defeating them on that occasion. His congratulations to them on repudiating that traitorous fad at this time will have a similar effect on this occasion, as evidencing to those who reflect on the matter, that the Grits are insincere, and have no policy on the subject. They tried to win in 1891 by means of a policy disloyal to the British Empire. That attempt having failed, they will try at the next election to secure a majority by a profession of loyalty. Their action has come too late. The people will not trust those who are anxious only to attain to office, regardless of the means by which they achieve their object.

THE ELECTION PROTESTS.

The Empire, having made an endeavor to find out, as far as possible, what protests in the provincial elections are likely to come into court, names the following as the most likely to be pressed:

Monck—Against Hon. R. Harcourt, Reform, who had 72 majority over Crawford, Patron.

South Huron—Against McLean, Reform, who had 22 majority over Welsmiller, Conservative.

West Huron—Against Garrow, Reform, who had 76 over Connolly, Conservative.

Welland—Against German, Reform, who had 99 over McCleary, Conservative.

North Ontario—Against Chapple, Reform —who had 75 majority over Glendinning, Conservative.

Kingston—Against Smythe, Conservative —who had one majority over Hon. W. Harty, Reform.

West Algoma—Against Savage, Conservative, with 7 majority over Conmee, Reform.

Haldimand—Against Sunn, Patron, who had 15 majority over Baxter, Reform.

South Perth—Against McNeil, Patron, who had 23 majority over Ballantyne, Reform.

EDITORIAL BREVITIES.

A violent discussion is going on in France over co-education. French public sentiment is very much opposed to it.

The railway barometer is going up again. The earnings of the Canadian Pacific for week ended Oct. 7, were $471,000, an increase of $4000.

A new scrubbing machine is whirled over the floor like a lawn mower. It soaps wets, rubs and dries the floor, and two or three movements of the machine make the boards shine.

The immense sleeves which are the proper thing at the present time, and will be for some time to come, were really first introduced by Queen Mary. She was very fond of gorgeous stuffs which could not be shown to advantage in the small sleeves. That the sleeves are pretty from an artistic point of view is shown by the fact that one never sees very small sleeves on the stage.

Lane's Medicine Moves the Bowels Each Day

In order to be healthy this is necessary.

October 25, 1893.

My health was completely restored by CAMPBELL'S SCOTT COD LIVER OIL. 3 bottles taken in 22 days increased my weight by 15 lbs.

HENRY ZIVERN.
Prop. Renovo Co. Montreal.

FOR IMPERIAL FEDERATION

Discussion of a Scheme for Furthering the Objects of the League.

TO EMANATE FROM THE WHOLE RACE

Courses of Lectures on the Expediency of Imperial Federation it is Proposed to Deliver Throughout the Empire—The Daily News Comments on the Future in Store for the Plan.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—The Daily News comments on a prospectus of a scheme for promoting imperial federation. The scheme, which was formulated by a body of public men headed by Sir Charles Dilke, includes a proposal that courses of lectures on the expediency of imperial federation be delivered in all the large towns of the United Kingdom and the colonies.

"This is an excellent plan," says the News, "and appeals to all classes. Many of the lectures will be especially designed for workingmen's clubs. As yet no detailed plan of federation has been prepared, but such a one will be formulated by degrees after full discussion. The promoters regard certain principles as necessary to the bond of union, primarily the continuance of our maritime supremacy as the mainstay of our commerce."

After remarking that the new scheme means the resumption of the labors of the Imperial Federation League the News continues: "The latter began at the wrong end, namely, with men of light leading, and exciting the masses. It was soon captured by private interests, especially the reciprocity men whose fad is merely protection writ small. Sir Charles Tupper struck the league a fatal blow when he wrote that its main purpose was to levy large contributions on the colonies to support the mother country's army and navy. This was not true, and Sir Charles afterward admitted his error, but the mischief was done.

"Imperial unity can never emanate from the learned political doctors. It must derive its first impulse from the sentiments and aspirations of the whole people, we may almost say the whole race, for Mr. Carnegie's generous utterance of a larger hope should not be forgotten. The people must wish for unity before unity can be anything more than a mere transaction in statecraft.

"If the promoters succeed in firing the whole working class with enthusiasm, the idea will soon be in the domain of practical politics. It is a crusade of love and trust and race pride that is to be preached. No series of political alliances will be negotiated as it is. There is something disheartening in the aloofness of our great imperial masses from one another, arising from their ignorance of one another's personal pursuits and habits of thought. To thousands of us Canada and Australia and the Cape are merely places on the map, associated with the conception of higher wages and cheap mutton. Any feeling of real brotherhood and common origin, common destinies and a great patrimony of rights and duties is unknown. We must change all that."

AFTERMATH OF THE STORM.

Tales of Destruction Wrought at Sea—Several Lives Lost.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Oct. 13.—The schooner Silver Wave, from Weymouth, N. S., to Bell River, was towed into port in a very delapidated condition by the schooner Gladys Slocumb from Bridgewater. The Silver Wave was out in Wednesday night's gale, and both fore and main mast, heads and all her rigging were gone, while the jib-boom was broken off and hung down by some of the gear. All hands report that they never want to experience such a night again.

OSWEGO, N.Y., Oct. 13.—The great storm which wrought so much damage up and down the eastern coast on Wednesday night, switched its tail around and hit the lakes with disastrous results. A vessel, supposed to be the schooner Hartford, from Detroit to Cape Vincent, with 2,000 bushels of wheat, was driven ashore in Mexico bay. Her crew of seven is supposed to be all lost. The vessel went to pieces. The body of a child was washed ashore this morning, which would indicate that the captain's family must have been on board. The captain was William O'Toole, of Clayton, N.Y., and he was a part owner of the vessel.

DETROIT, Oct. 13.—The schooner Hartford, which was wrecked near Oswego, left this port Saturday with a cargo of 2,000 bushels of wheat shipped by Lapham & Co. The wheat was insured for $1,500. The vessel was valued at $4,500. She was owned by Captain O'Toole and a couple of partners. She carried a crew of seven—captain, mate, cook and four seamen. Mr. O'Toole was the cook and she had her baby with her. The number of persons drowned is eight.

BOSTON, Oct. 13.—The schooner Yulan, from Machiasms for Boston, lumber laden, was abandoned in the gale off That her's Island on Wednesday morning, a complete wreck. Capt. Garnet and the crew were rescued after a terrible experience on a raft. The schooner split open and turned bottom up. The crew were standing on the deck load of lumber and when the vessel went over they slid away from her and secured enough of the rigging to lash the boards together. Capt. Garnet tied his flannel shirt to a stick and used it as a signal. This was finally seen by the barque Hudson, of New York, which rescued the men.

FAIRPORT, N. Y., Oct. 13.—The schooner Columbian went ashore on Erenchy's flat, half a mile east of here, in the furious storm. The life-saving crew went to the wreck and rescued the crew from the stranded vessel. The Columbian is light and bound from Lorain to Cleveland. She measured 356 gross tons and was built in Green Bay in 1864.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—The Norwegian bark Adele Hansen, Captain Hansen, from Newcastle, N. B., September 15, arrived at Queenstown with the crew of the Norwegian bark Ethiopian, Captain Evensen, from St. Thomas, Que., September 17, for Cork. The Ethiopian was abandoned as a derelict and her crew, with the exception of the second mate, who was drowned on September 30, were rescued by the Adele Hansen.

BOSTON, Oct. 13.—The schooner Janie Lippitt arrived from Philadelphia with a part of the crew of the schooner Laura V. Rose aboard, having rescued them from their water-logged vessel. Capt. Smith and steward Briggs were washed overboard and lost.

A Well Known Lake Captain Dead.

TORONTO, Oct. 13.—Captain Thomas Harbottle, steamboat inspector of the Customs Department, expired suddenly in his office yesterday. Captain Harbottle was one of the best known lake captains prior to accepting the post of steamboat inspector. He was the father of Capt. J. K. Harbottle, of the Chicora, and grandfather of the well-known Bicyclist. At the time he was seized with the epileptic fit he was just walking through the door of his office. Medical aid was summoned but he died before the doctor arrived.

Serious Accident in Ayr.

AYR, Ont., Oct. 13.—An accident which may prove serious happened here to Mrs. John Guthrie and her daughter Bessie. They drove to Baker & McColl's store, where Mrs. Guthrie alighted from the buggy and Miss Guthrie turned to proceed up the street, when the horse took fright, turning suddenly, throwing her under the buggy, which overturned. She was carried into Mr. McGeorge's drug store and afterwards to Mr. John Wylie's house, where she still lies unconscious.

U.S. STAMP ROBBERIES.

Systematic Stealing in the Printing Bureau—Government Employes Implicated.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—The stamp robbery at the bureau of engraving and printing turns out to be much larger than at first suspected. Instead of one package containing 50,000 two cent stamps, it is now believed that over 200,000 and possibly 250,000 stamps of various denominations are missing. Postmasters in all parts of the country, it is thought, have received fewer stamps than they ordered and failed to notice the deficiency. When their quarterly reports are made up these shortages may be found.

The stealing has been going on for thirty days and seems to have been the result of a plot. William B. Smith, formerly of Plainfield, N. J., and George W. Longstreet, who were employed in the stamp department of the bureau of engraving and printing, are under arrest and detectives are looking for Wm. A. Beach who was until recently employed in a hotel billiard room in this city and a man whose name is believed to be Simmerslitz.

Both men left Washington on Wednesday for the purpose of selling stamps. Smith has made a proposition to the authorities to turn state's evidence and make a full confession if they would sign a paper guaranteeing him protection. He said he would implicate seventeen employes much higher than himself. He was told that such protection could not be granted. The authorities are in a hole but to make of Smith's offer as he has told many conflicting stories since his arrest.

THE KINGSTON HAZING.

Investigation Into the Charges Against the Senior Cadets.

KINGSTON, Oct. 13.—At the investigation held at the Royal Military College into the alleged hazing of Cadet Plummer, his father moved two separate charges against Cadet Kennet, said to be the leader of those guilty of practices, which at the first sitting were so far proven that they were accepted by the authorities as the justification for young Plummer's absence without leave. He is now at home on leave, pending the question of his further medical discharge, for which his father has applied.

It is understood that the charges will be fully investigated by the authorities who are determined to put down the evil practices of which Mr. Plummer has complained. During the investigation enough was developed to show that the treatment of the junior cadets, particularly the recruits, by the seniors is open to very serious objection.

Eastern Press Association.

CARLETON PLACE, Ont., Oct. 13.—The Eastern Press Association met here and although not very largely attended the meeting was a very pleasant and profitable one. There were two sessions, morning and afternoon, the sittings being held in the hall over the Canadian Express office. It was decided to reduce the limits of the association to that formerly covered by the Ottawa Valley Press Association and to adopt the old name. The officers elected were: President, W. J. A. Macdonald, Arnprior Chronicle; 1st Vice-President, W. H. Allen, Carleton Place Herald; Secretary-Treasurer, James Macleod, Almonte Gazette; Executive Committee, G. F. McKinnis, Lanark Record, Smith's Falls; A. W. Cliff, Carleton Place Central Canadian; W. H. Bone, Pembroke Standard; W. J. Smallfield, Renfrew Mercury; W. T. Walker, Perth Courier. The following were elected honorary members: J. G. Jamieson, Belleville; J. Pollard, Napanee; T. Shannon, Kingston; C. Whitworth, Brockville; B. Lanc, Winchester. The date fixed for the next meeting is the second Friday in June, 1895, at Carleton Place.

Mr. Robillard's Resignation.

OTTAWA, Oct. 13.—There was a rumor around town that H. Robillard, had resigned his seat in the House of Commons, although nothing definite could be learned from some foundation. The fact of the matter is Mr. Robillard not long ago wrote out his resignation to be forwarded to the Speaker. That the document went to Ottawa is evident by the fact that his signature was witnessed by two members of Parliament. However, it is said, he did not know the contents of the paper. It is understood the resignation was put in the hands of a prominent member of the party. His intended resignation was the result of a dispute, it it said, between himself and members of the ministry respecting patronage. For numerous good reasons the resignation was withdrawn a few days ago. Mr. Robillard was seen and admitted the facts as stated above but declined to say anything more.

American Trade Reviewed.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—Bradstreet's says: An accentuation of favorable features is revealed in the telegraphed reports this week. In New England, although demand is classed as only moderate and a conservative trade is doing, the industrial situation improves owing to the ending of the great cotton mill strike. At Chicago business in staple lines is large, though a slackening from previous weeks is noted. Export trade is active at San Francisco. A number of prominent southern points report increased activity. The number of business failures in the United States this week is 258, against 215 last week. Bank clearings at 72 cities for the week ending Thursday aggregate $927,438,877, a decrease from last week of 7.5 per cent., but an increase of 3 per cent over last year.

Spinners Strike Settled.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Oct. 13.—The spinners strike was settled yesterday. The following proposition was accepted: That the spinners return to work under a reduction of 5 per cent. If the margin holds at 8½ cents as at present for 60 days the other five will be restored. If it declines to 6½ cents or below the 5 per cent. will be increased to 10 per cent. reduction.

A Passenger Train Held Up.

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 13.—The northern bound passenger train on the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac railroad was held up near Quantico. The engineer and fireman were forced from their engine and the engine cut loose and sent ahead. The express car was then entered, the messengers covered with pistols and the safe robbed.

At the Mercy of the Kaffirs.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—A despatch from Capetown to the Times says that Lourenzo Marques, on Delagoa Bay, is in a complete stage of siege and would be at the mercy of the Kaffirs should they attack it. Guns have been mounted in the streets and barricades have been erected. One hundred and seventy Portugese marines are on guard.

Prince Yaunshina in New York.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—Prince Yamashina, of Japan, arrived here by steamer Augusta Victoria. He will remain in town for a few days and will probably visit Washington before proceeding to San Francisco whence he will take a steamer for Japan.

By the Deep Sea.

They are watching the foam as it trailed itself in strange, fantastic shapes along the yellow sands,

"How wonderful, how mysterious is the sea!" exclaimed Paul. "How superior in its majestic naturalness it is to all the achievements of art. Think, darling, into what beautiful, harmonious forms you bobbling foam is wrought."

"I am thinking," replied Fantine, catching his enthusiasm, "thinking what lovely embroidery patterns it would make."

FOR INVALID FRIENDS.

TWO USEFUL GIFTS THAT ARE SURE TO BE PRIZED.

A Lap Tablet Fitted Up With Writing Materials—A Bag for the Feet of a Convalescent—The Materials and How to Fashion Them.

No matter how small is the gift sent a shut-in friend, it is an evidence to her of loving thought, and therefore precious in her eyes.

It is always a pleasure to watch green things growing, and any plant which will blossom and is not too large to be easily moved from the window to the stand beside the bed is a welcome gift to most invalids.

A lap-tablet fitted up with writing materials would give pleasure to a friend who is too feeble to sit at a table or desk to write. The chief thing to be borne in mind is the weight of the tablet when finished. A seasoned pine board that is not over a quarter of an inch in thickness is suited to this purpose, but a better foundation is paper board such as is used for book covers, and can be found at any publishing house. Have it cut the desired size—eighteen inches by twenty-two inches is a good measurement. This is covered with felt which is made an inch wider than the width of the cardboard, and twelve inches longer, and is pinked around each edge with a pinking iron.

The arrangements shown by the sketch is a simple and convenient one. Pinked corners are stitched to this cover, into which the blotter is slipped; straps are stitched above it for the pen handle and pencil. Pinked pockets are stitched each side of the blotter to accommodate different sizes of paper and envelopes, and a pretty pennyjet is placed at the right of the pens.

The flaps are provided with two pockets each for holding letters, notes or memoranda. These are cut in one piece, pinked on all the edges, and then stitched to the flaps. A row of stitching separates them into the pockets.

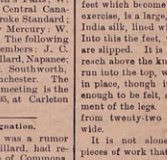

When all is completed, glue the cover firmly to the four corners of the paper board, stretching it smoothly across, and when this has thoroughly dried, glue a leather-covered shaving tablet, which has a strong spring, to the left of the pens and pencils.

The space which the pockets and writing materials will occupy must be carefully considered when they are adjusted, that they may be kept within the limits of the paper-board foundation.

If a pine board is used instead of the paper board, the cover is first tacked to it by means of tiny gilt-headed nails, after the pocket flaps are a etached to it; and then the other pockets, with corners and flaps, are tacked to the board through the cover.

A useful gift that will be highly prized by an invalid who lies on the lounge and feels the need of a covering to protect the feet which become chilled from want of exercise, is a large, flat bag of dark-colored India silk, lined with either red flannel, Into this the feet, with or without shoes, are slipped. It is made long enough to reach above the knees, and an elastic is run into the top, which will help keep it in place, though it should not be tight enough to be felt, or to restrain the movement of the legs. The bag should be made from twenty-two to twenty four inches wide.

It is not alone the more formidable pieces of work that will give pleasure to a shut-in. There are many people who have but little time or money to spend on a gift, and yet are desirous of showing their sympathy in some friendly attention. Some little thing such as a painted card, or a favorite poem copied in one's own handwriting, a bookmark, or even a flower, will often start the glad tears as an evidence of tender consideration to the receiver.

LAP TABLET FOR INVALID.

THE HAIR AND ITS TOOLS.

Hints on Keeping One's Brushes and Combs in Good Condition.

The hair will not fall out if the scalp is kept clean and brushed regularly. Few thick-haired women brush the scalp. The hair can be readily cleaned with bay rum or a good toilet water, but the scalp must either be washed or brushed clean. Men generally have good hair brushes, usually a pair of them; women have fancy brushes that are of no use to themselves or to anybody else. A good barber's brush of palm wood, hand-sewed with the natural boar's bristles, cut short, but trimmed irregularly so as to reach the ups and downs of the scalp, is worth a case of silver-mounted brushes for a service.

Never put a fine hair brush in water. The hog is not aquatic. A bath always loosens his feathers. If the bristles are wiped with a towel immediately after the toilet and rapped on the window sill to dislodge any waste tissue the brush will always be nice. Long journeys that load the air with dust tell on the brush. Then special care should be taken to clean the bristles. Dip them in alcohol, ammonia or bathing whisky, shake dry and leave in the open air. A reason, other than native refinement, for cleaning the brushes is the fact that an unclean brush will not clean the head.

Water may clean a shell or rubber comb, but it is also apt to ruin it. Use an old brush to clean the teeth, or pass a ribbon, fine twine, or, better still, blotting paper, between them, then polish the comb with flannel or chamois skin.

Furniture Polish.

Equal parts of sweet oil and vinegar, or raw linseed oil and vinegar, makes a good furniture polish.

Bold Escape From Whitby Jail.

WHITBY, Oct. 13.—Last evening when locking up the prisoners for the night in the county jail here turnkey Alex. Bruce was nearly killed by Geo. Arnold, a prisoner from Oshawa recently committed to jail for 3 months for theft by Judge Dartnell. While Bruce's back was turned Arnold snatched a ring of heavy keys from Bruce and attacked him furiously, beating him into insensibility. Arnold then leisurely dressed and made his escape.

Suicide at Chatham.

CHATHAM, Ont., Oct. 13.—The body of Joseph Laird, a carpenter living on concession 4, M. C. R., Harwich, was found hanging by the neck from the ceiling of his house. Deceased was a bachelor and lived alone. It is supposed he had become despondent and committed suicide.

AN IMPORTANT INCIDENT AT A Country Auction Sale.

Quite recently a country store stock was sold off by auction in lots to suit purchasers.

The sale, which had been well advertised by circulars distributed throughout the country, drew a large crowd of sturdy farmers and their good wives; the bidding was fast and spirited, and good prices were realized for all useful and staple goods.

Amongst the vast variety of articles put up for sale were two lots of package dyes for household dying. The auctioneer announced that he would first dispose of the "Diamond Dyes," goods that every farmer and farmers' wife knew well and favorably. The women, being most interested in these goods, did the bidding, and in ten minutes time, some 48 gross of the "Diamond Dyes" were sold to anxious buyers.

The other dyes were then brought forward, and introduced by some oriental name. Said the auctioneer: "I give you the name of these dyes, but I know little about their manufacture or qualities; come, give me a bid, any price."

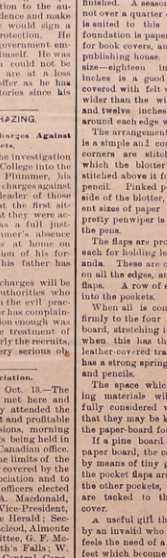

There was no response—not a bid to encourage the auctioneer's heart. Seeing that time was being lost, and anxious to get rid of these dyes at any price, the auctioneer, in a joking way, said: "You surely want your garden fences and barns painted: if these dyes are not good enough to color your dresses, shawls, jackets, coats, silk and ribbons, they will surely do for common wood painting."

The idea was a novel one—it was a revelation—and seemed to meet with the favor of a few, and for a small price, the entire stock of worthless dyes designated by a high sounding name, was sold to one farmer, who was thus advised at.

There is a most important moral to be deduced from the results of the auction sale just referred to. The several taught is, that poor and worthless dyes, wherever sold, are dear at any price—even when used for common fence painting.

The "Diamond Dyes" are and will known, popular and always reliable; they sell everywhere and under all circumstances, and give wonderful results in restoring to beauty and usefulness all old and faded articles of wearing apparel. "Diamond Dyes" save many dollars each year in every farmer's home.

THE ROCK AHEAD.

1—SALUTATION.

2—PRECIPITATION.

3—HUMILIATION.

THE IRREPRESIBLE.

The Little Brother and His Remarks Again En Evidence.

He—(having long sought an opportunity to see her alone and having failed because of the ubiquity of her little brother)—Miss van Dorn—Ida——

Her Little Brother—Say, where'd you git that watch charm? Tain't much.

He—I have endeavored to see you alone for some time. I wish——

Her Little Brother—Got yer initials on it, ain't it? What's the J for? Huh! What's it for?

She—Geoffrey!

He—Miss van Dorn, I think—I hope you can guess—

Her Little Brother—Say, us fellers beat Tim Baxter's nine all to nuthin' last Sat'day. Say, want to know the score? Thirty to——

He—I hope you are not wholly unprepared for what I wish to——

Her Little Brother—Shucks! you don't know nuthin' about baseball, do you? Huh?

She—Geoffrey!

He—I have thought sometimes—I have hoped—that your manner has not been discouraging, and——

Her Little Brother—You seen the new soda fountain down to McVitty's? It's a dandy. Say——

He—I have found courage to ask you whether you can bring yourself to consider——

Her Little Brother—They got splendid soda down to McVitty's, Raspb'ry 'n strawb'ry 'n everything. 'Taint but three blocks from here anyhow.

She—Geoffrey!

Her Little Brother—Shucks! I don't give ruthin' for folks that's stingy.

He (in desperation, explosively)—Miss van Dorn, will you grant me the unutterable privilege of becoming Geoffrey's brother-in-law?

She (flushed and tremulously smiling)—I—I—yes.

He—Darling!

Her Little Brother—(with canny shrewdness)—Say, if you'll gimme 10 cents, I'll go down—— (Exit)—Emma A. Opper, in Judge.

His Something.

"Johnson always hits the nail on the head."

"Yes—his thumb-nail."

Even in Zion.

Jerusalem has 135 saloons.

WISDOM & ECONOMY...

Lead the Way to Our Store.....

Just a line to draw your attention to the splendid list of Bargains we offer you this week at less than Wholesale Prices.

DRESS GOODS....

From 8 to 75cts. per yard, in all shades and qualities; Colored Cashmeres from 25 to 75cts. per yd.; Black Cashmeres from 25c. to $1.00 per yard; Estamine Serge, 56 inches wide, in Black, Brown and Navy, only 50c. worth at least 75c.

GREY FLANNELS...

Unions at 12½ and 15c.; all wool at 18c.; plain or twill, and 27 inches wide, cheap at 22c.; Navy Blue Flannels from 25c. to 40c. per yard; Opera Flannels in all shades at 40c. per yard.

HOSIERY.....

Just received our Fall and Winter Hosiery in Cashmere and Wool for Ladies', Misses' and Boys' Wear; a Ladie's fine cashmere hose at 20c., worth 25c; Misses' and Boys' double rib, all wool, at 20c.

Ladies' Underwear...

In Hygeian, Paragon and Jersey Vests, Long Sleeves, at 20, 30, 40, 50c.

Gents' Wear.....

Our stock is complete in this line, and prices to suit the times.

☞ Do not fail to visit our MILLINERY DEPARTMENT.

H. A. LAYTON, BELLEVILLE.

Front St., Opposite Campbell St.

24TH YEAR.

Our Novelties in Fur Capes and Jackets

Are the talk of the City, and our Goods are

The reason for this is we have the

FIRST CLASS! RIGHT STYLES AND PRICES

And our Furs are quite different from any other house in the City.

S. A. HYMAN.

Manufacturiug Furrier.

Old Furs of all kinds cleaned, dyed and made over,

That Joyful Feeling.

With the exhilarating sense of renewed health and strength and internal cleanliness, which follows the use of Syrup of Figs, is unknown to the few who have not progressed beyond the old time medicines and the cheap substitutes sometimes offered but never excepted by the well informed.

CHURCH DIRECTORY.

JOHN ST. PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Pastor—Rev. J. L. George.
Morning service, 11 o'clock. Bible class and Sunday school, 3 o'clock. Evening service, 7 o'clock. Wednesday evening prayer meeting, 8 o'clock. Young people's meeting after the evening service. All are welcome.

Mr. J. Parsons Smith, of the Emerald Trio, at 11 a.m.
Rev. E. N. Baker, M. A., B. D'n., subject "Signs of the Times" at 7 p.m. in
BRIDGE STREET METHODIST CHURCH
To-morrow.

Strangers in the city, Students at Albert College, Business Colleges, Schools, and all other visitors are invited to these services or to Sunday School at 2:30 p.m.

New Advertisements.

TO LET.

TO LET 99 Dundas st., opposite South John st., barn, hard and soft water. Apply next door. 127dtw

TO LET 2 semi, warm brick houses in terrace, situated on Harriett St., West Belleville, known as Morten's, or Fillifer's terrace. For terms of rent apply to E. G. Fillifer, collector or sub agent to the estate of the late H. E. Fillifer Residence at Mr. Jardin's Corner of William and Dundas Sts., East Belleville. 85d2m

Jewelry Business For Sale

TENDERS, at so much on the $ per stock list, will be received by the undersigned, at his office, 151 Wellington street, Kingston, up to Saturday, October 20th, 1894, for the Stock-in-Trade and other assets of the business of W. J. Abell & Co., 339 King street, Kingston.

The goods and stock in trade (about $1,600) may be seen on application to the undersigned. The store may also be secured by the purchaser if desired. Terms cash. No tender necessarily accepted.

W. MUNDELL,
Barrie st.
Kingston, Oct. 4th, 1894. 4dt, Oct8,9,13,16

Telephone Rings, IS THAT OBC?

YES.

R. J. Graham is speaking:
We are rushed in the office. Send us another good man at once.

ALL RIGHT,

We shall have a man there in ten minutes. We sent J. R. Sweddon, who had just graduated. Mr. Graham has now three graduates of

ONTARIO BUSINESS COLLEGE.

In his office here, namely Managing Accountant, Assistant and Stenographer.

THIS MATTER CHANGED DAILY.

SATURDAY, Oct. 13th.

ANOTHER.

Another Noteworthy List:

Blankets, $1 50 to $5.
Shawls, $1 to $5.
Jacket Cloth, $1, $1.25, $1.50.
Ladies' Vests, 15c, 25c, 50c.
Table Linens, 25c, 35c, 40c, 50c up.
Cardigan Jackets, $1—extra.
Dress Goods, 25c also extra.
Jackets, $3.50 up.
Feather Tickings, 10c up.

W. FLINT JONES.

Next door to Haines & Lockett.

AUCTION - SALE - OF - VALUABLE FARM PROPERTY.

UNDER and by virtue of the Power of Sale contained in a certain Mortgage made by the late William Hamilton, deceased, to the vendors, which will be produced at the time of sale, there will be offered for sale by Public Auction, on Saturday, the Twenty-seventh day of October, 1894, at the hour of twelve o'clock noon, at the Court House, in the City of Belleville, by J. Lyons Bigger, Auctioneer, the following valuable real estate in one parcel, namely:—

All and singular that certain parcel or tract of land and premises situate, lying and being in the Township of Sidney in the County of Hastings, in the Province of Ontario, being part of the west half of Lot number Thirty-seven in the First Concession of the Township of Sidney, together with the broken front of said half lot, described as follows:—Commencing at the Bay Shore between numbers Thirty-six and Thirty-seven, thence north sixteen degrees west one hundred and eleven chains, nine links, more or less, to within six chains, sixty-six and two-thirds links of the allowance for road in rear of said Concession; thence north seventy-four degrees, east nine chains, thirty-three links more or less to the eastern limit of said lot; thence south sixteen degrees, east one hundred and eight chains, nineteen links, more or less to the Bay of Quinte; thence westerly, following the windings of the Bay shore, to the place of beginning, containing by admeasurement One Hundred and one acres, one rood and thirty-six perches, more or less, save and except the Queen off the west side of the same; also reserving about one half of an acre of the southeastern corner of the Queen on the north side of the Trenton Road; also reserving five acres off the south end of the land above described, heretofore sold to Robert Reid, by deed, dated August 19th, 1872; also reserving two acres south of the Trenton Road, as described in a deed from Reid to Gay of August 1888, and registered as No. 6584 T.

On the premises there are said to be erected a stone dwelling house, also a brick cased dwelling house and two frame barns. This property lies within the limits of the Ontario Institution for the Deaf and Dumb.

TERMS.—Ten per cent of the purchase money must be paid at the time of sale, when easy terms for the balance can be arranged. For further particulars and conditions of sale, apply to the Auctioneer, or to Ponton & Morden, Barristers, Belleville, or to Lount, Marsh & Cameron,

Vendors' Solicitors,
25 Toronto St., Toronto.
3rd October. 4dt, Oct8,13,20,25

UNDERWEAR... AT FISH'S!

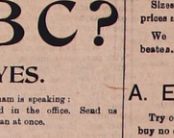

Don't go shivering around any longer, but come and get some of our warm underclothing, and you will be happy and comfortable.

Sizes run from 30 to 46 inches. Our prices suit all pocket books.

We give value that cannot be bestes.

A. E. FISH & CO.

Try our King Shirt, and you will buy no other.

Ask how you can get a

CLOCK! ...At MINAKER'S... The Men's Furnisher.

We Are.. Busy.. ..

Our new groceries are going with a rush, but there are arriving daily, and that's why we keep our stock fresh and wholesome. We take pride in our confectionery for it's the best money can buy and our prices are away down. See the values we offer in teas and sugars. Provisions, and flour and feed also receive our particular attention.

J. A. ELLIOTT.
Front St., Belleville.

Seasonable Goods

..AT THE..

GLASGOW WAREHOUSE.

We are now fully prepared to show one of the largest and best assorted stocks of Staple and Fancy Dry Goods in the city, and at the lowest possible prices, consisting of the following:

STAPLE DEPARTMENT.

Grey and white Blankets, Elder Quilts and Pillows, navy and grey Flannel, grey and white flannel sheeting, grey and fancy Homemade Flannel, Towels, Towellings, Table Linens, Tickings and Ginghams, Table plush.

50 pieces Flannelettes, just received, Splendid value.

Mantles and Mantle cloths, Velvet and Cloth Shawls, Sealettes, all prices. Dress goods in great variety.

Carpets, Oilcloths, Rugs, Lace, and Chenille Curtains, and Table Covers in the very newest designs.

VANDERVOORT & GIBSON,

Successors to the late J. W. Dunnet.

Belleville, Oct. 11, 1894.

P.S.—A large show case and table for sale cheap.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, SATURDAY, OCT. 13.

Chauncey Ashley, issuer of marriage licenses, Division Court Office, Pinnacle street or at residence over Benmore & Benson's store. d&w

CITY AND DISTRICT.

October is making a record for rain.

Wide awake people always use Wide Awake Soap.

There were no arrests last night by the police and no police court this morning.

Wash your prints with Wide Awake Soap and notice how the colors are brightened.

Be sure and attend Grant's cheap cash sale if you want bargains in Boots and Shoes.

The Salvation Army are preparing for the reception of their leader, General Booth.

Wide Awake Soap is a solid bar of pure soap that will not vanish like snow in hot water.

Fine grapes are selling freely in the County of Essex at one and a half cents a pound.

Walter Fanning, who has been buying horses for the British market, shipped eleven on Thursday.

The market this morning was not as large as usual on Saturdays, no doubt on account of the rain.

The only way to cure catarrh is to purify the blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood and tones up the whole system.

Remember we are selling a lot of Gents' Fine Boots in small sizes at half price,over 100 pairs of Travellers' samples very cheap. —VERMILYEA & SON.

Miss Purdy will form a class in club swinging and marching for children on Monday, Oct 15th, at 4:30 p. m., in Royal Templar's Hall. 138i1t

Margaret L Sheppard has come to the conclusion that her acting is not a howling success and has disbanded her company. She will go back to her trade—lecturing.

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Rose, of Geddes St., celebrated the twentieth anniversary of their marriage a few evenings ago. There was a large attendance of friends, who contributed many numerous and costly presents.

To remove the constipated habit the only safe treatment is a course of Ayer's Pills, followed by a laxative diet. Most other cathartics do more harm than good, therefore leading physicians recommend Ayer's Pills, especially as a family physic.

Rev. D. O. Crossley last Sunday asked for a collection of $60 to pay this year's coal bill of the Western church at Napanee and received in response $73.50. Surely this is the better way of raising church funds instead of the objectionable means often resorted to.

"I was troubled for a long time with an itching humor on the scalp," says Mr. D.P. Davis, Neal's Landing, Fla., "but at last, being recommended Ayer's Hair Vigor, I tried it, and a complete cure was effected." Every one who has used it speaks well of this dressing.

Persons accustomed to take students or others to board, and who can provide rooms and board for delegates to the Provincial Sunday School Convention, will please write to the undersigned on or before the 19th inst., stating number they can accommodate, and terms.—W. H. GORDON, Sec'y. 138d4t

Any one passing Mr. Burrows' office will observe two very fine pictures, the property of the C.P. Ry. One is a "harvest scene," the other a beautiful sketch of the "City of Winnipeg." A look at these pictures will repay any one, as the former shows the magnitude in which farming is carried on in Manitoba. The latter shows its magnificent buildings, and what progress Winnipeg has made from the vast territory of a few years ago, to the beautiful city of to day.

No person should go from home without a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial in their possession, as change of water, cooking, climate, etc., frequently brings on summer complaint, and there is nothing like being ready with a sure remedy at hand, which oftentimes saves great suffering, and frequently valuable lives. This Cordial has gained for itself a wide spread reputation for affording prompt relief from all summer complaints.

One Night Only.

A CHANCE FOR THE GIRLS.—We will sell this evening any of our misses' Slippers or Laced Shoes for fifty cents a pair, including size 2½.—HAINES & LOCKETT.

Catarrh—Use Nasal Balm. Quick, positive cure. Soothing, cleansing, healing.

SOCIAL & PERSONAL

The INTELLIGENCER invites all its readers to contribute to this column. If you or your friends are going away on a holiday trip or if you have friends visiting you, drop a card to this office.

Fred. Weese, of Toronto, is in the city.

Mrs. Seymour of Madoc is visiting in the city.

Miss Porter is visiting her brother Mr. E. Guss Porter.

Wm. Mackintosh, I.P.S., Madoc, was in the city to-day.

Mr. Wm. Cross, barrister, Madoc, was in the city to-day.

Wm. Andrews, tailor, is confined to his room through illness.

Mr. Chas. Fanning, of Milwaukee, is visiting his uncle, Mr. Walter Fanning.

Miss Lizzie Abraham leaves on Monday morning to visit her home in Londonderry, Ireland.

Mrs. J. T. Hamm, of Chicago, Ill., is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. W. V. McCarthy, Alexander St.

Mr. D. Houston will arrive to-night from Brooklyn, N. Y., on a visit to his father-in-law, Mr. James Macoun.

Miss Mabel Hunter has returned to her duties and is furnishing stamps as fresh and free from imperfections as ever.

J. D. Wilkinson, of London, who has the contract for the furniture of the Hotel Quinte, is in the city, a guest at the Huffman.

Allan McDougall and M. M. Cohen, Toronto; E. W. Smith and W. B. Hutchins, Boston; W. W. Kennedy, Pittsburg, Pa., are at the Huffman.

The Panopticon.

This delightful entertainment closed last night with as large an attendance as on previous nights. All who attended found something to admire particularly, and Mr. Hilliard and his dramatic company were not the least outspoken in their admiration. The Panopticon has been a success in all respects, artistically and financially, and the ladies who rendered their valuable services are entitled to the utmost credit for the success which attended their efforts.

NOTES.

The ladies in charge of the Japanese booth wish us in their behalf to thank the ladies who so kindly loaned their Japanese works of art, and Mrs. Couldrey for the loan of a Japanese quilt.

A feature of the evening's entertainment was the doll exhibit. There were dolls of all sizes, ages and colors most gorgeous to behold, with little children making the booth an ideal girl's play-house. It was the centre of attraction during the evening. Mrs. Frost and Mrs. Fax carried the quaint idea of this feature of the exhibition to perfection.

The competition for a prize cheese presented by Mr. J. T. Warrington, created no end of amusement, and brought a round sum to the management. The cheese was divided into four equal parts, which were won by Messrs. J. P. Thompson, H. C. Thompson, Stanley Hulme, and Ben Hargrove.

Items from the Institute.

1,018 pupils had been entered on the register of the D. & D. Institute up to the 30th Sept. last.

There has been a little change in the class rooms this term. Mr. Campbell succeeds Mr. McAloney, Mr. Balls takes the late Mr. Ashley's class and room, and Mr. Stewart succeeds Mr. Balls in charge of the class of boys in Wood Hall.

There are only four pupils working all day in the shops this term, distributed as follows: sewing class, 2; printing office, 1; shoeshop, 1. Last year there were thirteen. Too many pupils leave before they have completed a full course of training.—Canadian Mute.

The Nominee.

Pure, sparkling wit, together with a cleverly constructed story, are the constituents of the comedy presented by Bob Hilliard and his excellent company last evening. Mr. Hilliard's acting was something new to last night's audience. He had a commanding appearance combined with easy grace, and crowned by a faculty of saying commonplace things in a mirth provoking manner. His support have been chosen from the front rank, and a more evenly balanced company it would be difficult to bring together. The "Nominee" is a sure cure for dyspepsia or the blues.

Effect of the French Treaty. Clarets at Half Price.

The Bordeaux Claret Company established at Montreal in view of the French Treaty, are now offering the Canadian connoisseur beautiful wines at $3.00 and $4.00 per case of 12 large quart bottles. These are equal to any $6 00 and $8 00 wines sold on their label. Every swell hotel and club are now handling them, and they are recommended by the best physicians as being perfectly pure and highly adapted for invalids' use. Address Bordeaux Claret Company, 30 Hospital Street, Montreal. 114d8tWeds&Sats.

Its Twenty-Sixth Year.

New students are entering Ontario Business College daily. Although at this early period in the fall there are students in attendance from the states of New Hampshire, New York, and Delaware; St. Vincent, Bermuda and West Indies; the provinces of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Quebec, Alberta, and Ontario. Ontario Business College is the most widely attended Business College in America, and has been for many years.

Mr. Hilliard Entertains.

Mr. Bob Hilliard, of the "Nominee" company entertained a party of friends to supper at the Queen's last night. Among them were C. A. Ellis, of Clayton, and C. R. Nott and R. W. Ivers, of New York, who have been fishing in the St. Lawrence and came up to call on Mr. Hilliard, on the steam yacht Vedette. A most pleasant time was spentby those present.

A Great Battle.

Is continually going on in the human system. The demon of impure blood tries to gain victory over the constitution, to ruin health, to drag victims from the grave. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the weapon with which to defend one's self, drive the desperate enemy from the field, and restore bodily health for many years.

HOOD'S PILLS cure nausea, sickness, indigestion and biliousness. 25c.

Marine.

The steam yacht Juanita, of Alexandria Bay, is in the harbor.

Mr. Jack Robin has hauled out the schooner Echo on his ways at the island.

Rubbers.

We have a good assortment of Rubbers and very cheap, our storm Rubbers for Ladies are cheaper than ever before.—VERMILYEA & SON.

Do you know that Wide Awake Soap is the cheapest you can use for all purposes?

PROBABILITIES.

TORONTO, Oct. 13.—Showery in morning, then clearing, with strong westerly to northerly winds; fine and cool Sunday.

397.

The Sunday School Convention—Meeting of Committees Last Night—397 Billets Secured—250 More Needed.

With the Rev. Mr. Maclean in the chair and Mr. W. H. Gordon as Secty., the various committees appointed to arrange for the Sunday School Convention, met in the parlor of Bridge St. church last night. The attendance was large and the earnest workers present had written on every lineament of their features "We are bound to succeed." As usual the task of those who have been securing homes for the delegates has been a difficult one. Many citizens have not yet waked up to the importance of the gathering which is to convene here. Others have not thought of the commercial value of bringing six or seven hundred wide awake and intelligent strangers to our city, and of the advertisement it will be to us, while others seem only to think of themselves and are not disposed to go to some inconvenience for the purpose of maintaining the city's reputation for hospitality. As one gentleman remarked last night, "scarcely a citizen but has benefitted either directly or indirectly by the unselfish, unpaid and zealous labors of Sunday School teachers, and yet now, when it is a question of this entertainment for three days, refuse to show their gratitude for these invaluable services." Everyone who has at all thought of it has realized what an important factor these great gatherings are to the places in which they meet, and that they cannot convene in places the size of Belleville with its limited hotel accommodation, unless private entertainment is provided. It is easy to say "Let the delegates go to hotels!" those who use that expression are not aware that there is not to day in Belleville, rooms for fifty persons more than the hotels are now provided for, and that if conventions must remain away from Belleville until they can be entertained at hotels, it will have to be until we become like Toronto.

The following appeal was prepared, and we have been requested to publish it.

AN APPEAL TO THE CITIZENS OF BELLEVILLE.

The annual Convention of the Sunday school workers in the Province of Ontario, will be held in our city on the 23rd, 24th, and 25th of this month, for which active preparations are now being made. The committees appointed to secure accommodations for the delegates have reported, and we find billets have been secured for nearly four hundred. As there will probably be between six and seven hundred in attendance we appeal to the householders of our city, who have not yet consented to receive and entertain these faithful and disinterested workers in the Lord's vineyard, to kindly do so during the early part of the coming week.

The good name of our city for generosity and hospitality; our deep interest in the great work our Sunday schools are accomplishing; our earnest desire to increase their usefulness, and widen the sphere of their opportunities as well as fidelity, and obedience to the Master's command, all combine to press upon us the duty and privilege of making this conference a decided success.

Those who will respond to this appeal can give their names to any of the committees of ladies, to the pastors of the various churches, to the secretary of of the city Sunday School Association, Mr. W. H. Gordon, or leave them at the reading room of Bridge st. church.

M. W. MACLEAN,
President.
W. H. GORDON,
Secretary.

Belleville, Oct. 12th, 1894.

THE BRIDGE STREET SEWER.

Allan McDougall, C.E., Says the Work is Not Finally Accepted.

Allan McDougall, C.E., of Toronto, is in the city giving expert evidence in a case now pending, and a reporter met him this afternoon in the Huffman House. When questioned about the leakage in the new Bridge St. sewer, which he had reported was completed to his satisfaction, he stated that any new sewer was liable to leak, it being almost impossible to make them perfectly tight. From what he had seen and heard he believed the leak was near Rev. Mr. Burke's well. He stated that his letter to the Council was in substance that the work had been satisfactorily done, and with that letter began the six months' maintenance of the sewer, to which Mr. Grant was bound by his contract with the city. He thought that at the end of that time the sand would settle about the pipes and stop the leakage, but if it did not the sewer would have to be opened up and made good at the contractor's expense. The contractor would also have to make the road bed as good as it formerly was. Mr. McDougall does not consider the leakage as serious.

The Humane Society.

The Executive Committee of the newly organized Humane Society met yesterday afternoon in the Belleville Institute and Library rooms, Mr. Curtis Bogart in the chair. The work of the committee was the drafting of a constitution and by-laws, which was successfully done. The committee also fixed the tarriff of fees as follows: Life membership, $25; yearly active membership, 25 cents; children 10 cents. Dr. Ackerill was added to the Board of Management. The Society will meet the first Thursday in every month.

How to Get a "Sunlight" Picture.

Send 25 "Sunlight" soap wrappers (wrapper bearing the words "Why does a woman look old sooner than a man") to Lever Bros., Ltd., 43 Scott St., Toronto, and you will receive by post a pretty picture, free from advertising, and well worth framing. This is an easy way to decorate your home. The soap is the best in the market, and it will only cost 1c. postage to send in the wrappers, if you leave the ends open. Write your address carefully.

Be Warned.

Don't be a fool; know what you want, and refuse to be imposed upon by greedy dealers when they attempt to palm off sore producing substitutes for Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor; the only safe, sure, and painless corn cure. Putnam's Pain Extractor is the best, the safest, and only painless corn remedy. Sold by all dealers in medicine.

The Haines & Lockett Fire.

Owing to our loss by the recent fire, we placed what few accounts we had on our books in the hands of W. J. Diamond with instructions to send them in without respect of persons, and to urge immediate payment. We hope all parties concerned will respond promptly at Mr. Diamond's office.

d115tf HAINES & LOCKETT.

Asthma Sufferers.

Who have in vain tried every other means of relief, should try "Schiffman's Asthma Cure." No waiting for results. Its action is immediate, direct and certain, as a single trial proves. Send to Dr. R. Schiffmann, St. Paul, Minn., for a free trial package, but ask your druggist first.

Delicate and Refreshing.

The delicate and lasting perfumes received recently by L. W. Yeomans & Co., are sold in quantities to suit purchasers. They comprise several new odors particularly refreshing and fragrant.

SPORTING NEWS

Messrs. David, George and Henry Leavens and Frank Rutherford, left this morning for the North woods, where they will hunt partridges for a few days and be ready for the deer when the season opens on the 20th. Several other parties will leave next week.

The Grand Trunk has issued a neat little book for sportsmen, describing the various resorts along this favorite line. It gives maps and a vast amount of information, including synopsis of the fish and game laws.

A large moose was struck by a west freight bound train on the Drummodville County Railway. The moose was running ahead of a train approaching a bridge, about thirty feet long, which the animal cleared at one leap, but on landing it lost its footing and was struck by the train. It was bled to death and loaded on the train.

Two parties were out hunting black squirrels yesterday. One party of three got eleven and another party of two got twelve squirrels.

At Lexington yesterday the trotting wonder B.B.P. (winner of Clark's Horse Review stake) and Expressive were beaten by Limonero. Following is the summary:

Stallion representative stake, value $5,000, for foals of 1891:

Limonero	3	4	4	1	1	1
B. B. P.	4	1	1	3	3	4
Expressive	1	5	3	5	5	2
Baron Dillon	6	3	2	3	2	ro
Axinite	2	6	5	4	3	ro
Futurity	5	2	6	dis

Time, 2.15¼, 2.14¾, 2.14¼, 2.15¾, 2.16¾, 2.21½.

Online paced a mile at Sioux City yesterday in 2:04.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—The Field says that Lord Dunraven has practically decided to build a new challenger for America's cup. It will be a cutter the size of Britannia, or a trifle longer. The paper adds:—"This, perhaps, under the circumstances, is the best decision, as we have no yachts that a seventy-footer could fairly be tried against. We understand Lord Dunraven has not communicated with the New York Yacht Club yet, but the conditions that ruled last year's matches will probably prevail."

HOCKEY WILL BE THE GAME.

Will Belleville Have a First-class Team and Rink?

It is wonderful how the game of hockey has leaped into popularity within the last few winters, and judging by reports from all parts of the Dominion, it promises to be even more popular this winter than ever before. Clubs are being organized and rinks erected in towns where the game was never played before, and the craze bids fair to outrival its sister game, lacrosse.

Belleville has the material for a first-class team, or two of them, for that matter, and it is to be hoped a strong organization will be effected. There has been some talk of forming an association and having a first, second, third and if necessary, a fourth team. We think that this is the most feasible idea, as all the best players would then be under one head and the best possible team could be chosen without causing any dissatisfaction. As the teams played last winter they worked satisfactorily so far as the city league was concerned, but when it came to playing outside teams a call had to be made on all the teams for the best players, with unsatisfactory results in many cases. Let all those interested in hockey get together some evening in the near future and discuss the question and ascertain, if possible, the best plan of organization. There is no doubt that a league will be formed in this district and Belleville should be in it.

As to a rink, we understand two young gentlemen of means and leisure time are willing to construct a rink, if they are assured of the support of the hockeyists. It has also been suggested that a stock company be formed and the Curling Club induced, if possible, to join the hockey players in building a first-class combination rink. This has been done successfully in Sherbrooke, Que., Cobourg and other cities and towns.

At any rate let there be a meeting called and have the question thoroughly discussed.

SPECIAL MENTION

—Turnkey Bruce, of Whitby gaol, was beaten almost to death yesterday by a convict named Arnold, who escaped.

DR. LOW'S PLEASANT WORM SYRUP removes worms of all kinds from children or adults.

—The anniversary of the battle of Queenston Heights was celebrated to-day at Niagara Falls.

—It is reported that under pressure from the Czar the Czarewitch will marry Princess Alix of Hesse early next month.

THAT HACKING COUGH can be quickly cured by Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam. Price 25c.

—Two tramps were arrested at Three Rivers, Que., on a charge of setting fire to buildings and robbery.

—Mr. Crowell Willson, ex-M. P. for East Middlesex, died yesterday suddenly at Wingham, aged 80 years.

—The strike in the Dominion Cotton Company's mills at Brantford continues, and a reduction in all departments is announced.

ALWAYS AVOID HARSH PURGATIVE PILLS. They first make you sick and then leave you constipated. Carter's Little Liver Pills regulate the bowels and make you well. Dose, one pill.

—The Registrars of Ontario met yesterday and organized a Provincial association, with Col. Cole of Brockville as President.

—At the session of the North American Beekeepers' Association, held in St. Joseph, Mo., Mr. G. S. Holterman, of Brantford, Ont., was elected President.

ALL CASES OF WEAK OR LAME BACK, backache, rheumatism, will find relief by wearing one of Carter's Smartweed and Belladonna Backache Plasters. Price 25 cents. Try them.

—Contracts have been let for most of the construction work on the T., H. & B. between Brantford and Hamilton.

—The convention of Brotherhood of St. Andrew at Washington voted to hold the next convention in Louisville.

—The Illinois Central railroad has given notice of withdrawal from the Western Passenger Association. It will act independently hereafter.

—General Booth, of the Salvation Army, was at Gananoque yesterday, and had a cordial reception from all classes of the community.

—The amount paid for pensions in the United States during the year ending June 30 was $139,904,461.05, leaving a balance of $25,205,712,65 of the appropriation.

—Thomas Bailey, Aldrich, of Boston, the well known poet, and Hon. H. L. Pierce, ex Mayor of Boston, are at Vancouver, and will leave on the Empress of India for the Orient.

THE GREAT FAMILY MEDICINE OF THE AGE.—There is probably, no family medicine so favorably and so widely known as DAVIS' PAIN KILLER. It is extensively used in India, China, Turkey—and, in every civilized country on earth, not only to counteract the climatic influences, but for the cure of bowel troubles, Cholera and Fevers. It is used internally for all diseases of the bowels, and externally for wounds, burns, bruises, &c. Sold by druggists generally. 26c. for a big bottle.

LIFE BECAME A BURDEN.

THE WONDERFUL NARRATIVE OF A PATIENT SUFFERER.

The After Effects of La Grippe Developed Into Inflammation of the Lungs and Chronic Bronchitis—After Four Years of Suffering Health is Almost Miraculously Restored.

From Le Monde, Montreal.

Mrs. Sarah Cloutier, who resides at No. 405 Montcalm Street, Montreal, has passed through an experience which is worthy of a widespread publication for the benefit it may prove to others. Up to four years ago, Mrs. Cloutier's health had been good, but at that time she was attacked by that dread scourge, la grippe. Every fall since, notwithstanding all her care to avoid it, she has been afflicted with inflammation of the lungs, which would bring her to the very verge of death. This was followed by bronchis for the rest of the year. Her bronchial tubes were affected to such an extent that it was with difficulty she could breathe, and a draught of outside air would make her cough in the most distressing manner. "There was," said Mrs. Cloutier to the reporter, "a constant rattling sound in my throat, and in the state I was in death would have been a relief. I could not attend to my affairs nor to the house, and had it not been for my niece, on whom I relied, I cannot say what would have become of me. It was in vain that I tried the numerous remedies given me by various doctors, and when I think of all the money they cost me I cannot but regret I have ever tried them. I had read frequently of the cures effected by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I felt that they must contain the truth, for if they unfounded none would dare to give the names and addresses of the persons said to be cured in the public manner in which these are given in the newspapers. I decided to try Pink Pills, and none but those who are acquainted with my former condition can understand the good I have derived from their use, which I continued until I felt that I was completely cured. As a proof that I am cured I may tell you that on the first occasion of my going out after my recovery I walked for two miles on an up hill road without feeling the least fatigue or the least pant for breath, and since that time I have enjoyed the best of health. Last fall I was afraid that the inflammation of the lungs to which I had been subject at that period of former years might return, but I had not the least symptom of it, and never felt better in my life. You can imagine the gratitude I felt for Dr. Williams Pink Pills, and I recommend them to all who will heed my advice, and I do not think it possible for me to say too much in favor of this wonderful remedy, the use of which in other cases as well as mine has proved invaluable."

A depraved or watery condition of the blood or shattered nerves are the two fruitful sources of almost every disease that afflicts humanity, and to all sufferers Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are offered with a confidence that they are the only perfect and unfailing blood builder and nerve restorer and that where given a fair trial disease and suffering must vanish. Pink Pills are sold by all dealers or will be sent by mail on receipt of 50 cents a box or $2.50 for six boxes, by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., or Schenectady, N.Y. Beware of imitations and always refuse trashy substitutes alleged to be "just as good."

What everyone says must be true, and everyone who has used Wide Awake Soap says it is the best they ever used. Have you tried it yet?

A Woman's Reply.

Do you know you have asked for the costliest thing
Ever made by the hand above—
A woman's heart, and a woman's life,
And a woman's wonderful love?

Do you know you have asked for this priceless thing
As a child might ask for a toy,
Demanding what others have died to win
With the reckless dash of a boy?

You have written my lesson of duty out,
Man-like you have questioned me;
Now stand at the bar of my woman's soul
Until I shall question thee

You require your mutton shall be always hot,
Your socks and your pants shall be always whole;
I require your heart to be as true as God's stars,
And as pure as in heaven your soul.

You require a cook for your mutton and beef,
I require a much greater thing—
A seamstress you are wanting for socks and shirts,
I look for a Man and a King.

A king for the beautiful realm called home,
And a man that his maker, God,
Can look upon, as he did on the first,
And say, "It is very good"

I am fair and young, but the rose will fade
From my soft young cheek one day;
Will you love me then "'mid the falling leaves,
As you did 'mid the blossoms of May?'

Is your heart an ocean so strong and deep
I may launch my all on its tide;
A loving woman finds heaven or hell
The day she becomes a bride.

I require all things that are good and true,
All things that a man should be;
If you give this all, I would stake my life,
To be all you demand of me.

—WANTED.

A Wonderful Conqueror.

No disease is more common among the people than scrofula. Handed down from generation to generation, it is found in nearly every family, in some form. It may make its appearance in dreadful running sores, in swellings in the neck or goitre, or in eruption of varied forms. Attacking the mucous membrane it may be known as catarrh, or developing in the lungs it may be, or often is, the prime cause of consumption.

In whatever form scrofula may manifest itself, Hoods Sarsaparilla is its inveterate foe and conqueror. This medicine has such powerful alterative and vitalizing effects upon the blood that every trace of impurity is expelled and the blood is made rich, pure and healthy.

A Coming Craze.

A song that promises to be as popular as "After the Ball" and "Two Little Girls in Blue," and of the same type, is sung by Billy Jerome in "The Prodigal Father" and Steve Brodie in "On the Bowery":

Of course, every boy has a sweetheart,
And some boys dey have two or tree;
But of all the girls in dis great city,
Dere's only one in it wid me
She lives 'way down on de Bowery,
A few doors away from Canal,
And helps to support her old mudder,
Does my little Bowery gal.
My Pearl's a Bowery girl,
She's all de world to me,
She's in it wid any de girls 'round town,
And a corkin' good looker, see?
At Wallhalla Hall she kills dem all
As waltzing togedder we twirl;
A speeler, a daisy, she sets dem all crazy,
Does my little Bowery Pearl.

Have a Thought.

Do not be contented with thinking once, but think twice or three times before you leave your measure for a suit or overcoat this fall. Just think that the Oak Hall is prepared to save you a nice little bit of money on your purchase and give you equally as good satisfaction, as if you paid the highest "made to order" price.

AN UNLUCKY FELLOW.

I'm the most unlucky fellow that a mortal ever knowed.
I never wanted sunshine but it up an' rained or snowed;
An' ef a band of music was a-playin' full an' free,
The horns 'ud stop thare tootin', long afore they got to me!

A 'lection never happened but what I's always late,
An' had to do my tradin' with a stingy candidate,
While other loafin' fellers got their dollar to my dime,
For throwin' in a ballot not one bit better'n mine!

I never went a-fishin' yet, and got a single bite,
Although I've watched a-holdin' pole from early morn till nite;
An' I'm just so blamed unlucky I believe that heaven's gate
Would mash me as I entered—unlucky to be late.

—Atlanta Constitution.

A SAD EXPERIENCE.

Or Why Hercules P. Smith Was Up a Tree in More Ways Than One.

It was during the progress of the picnic given in Jurnigan's Grove by the Methodist Sabbath school of Hawville, Okla.

Alkali Ike, who sings bass in the choir, and Miss Lillie Cusack, the soprano, had wandered a short distance from the scene of the festivities and seated themselves on a moss-covered log which lay at the foot of a tall tree.

The gallant's arm had strayed around the maiden's slender waist and lingered there, apparently to the profound satisfaction of both persons, and Isaac had asked, for the sixteenth time:

"Does oo love me, Lillie?"

"Course I do!" replied the maid, snuggling closer to him. "I love you gooder than any—Oh, mercy! I do believe there is some kind of a horrid animal up in this tree!"

"We'll soon see!" remarked Ike, grimly, at the same time drawing his revolver and firing a few shots into the foliage above. "I'll stir the varmint up a little, anyhow."

At that instant a reproachful voice was heard proceeding from the canopy of leaves above their heads:

"How long, oh Lord? How long?

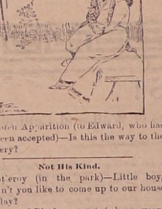

"What the dev——; that is, who are you?" demanded Ike.

"All that remains of Hercules P. Smith," was the reply. I was in swimming before the picnicers came, and a cow ate up the most of my clothes before I noticed her. I chased her through a blackberry tangle, and then a stray dog, that appeared to be mad, chased me back again. Then the coming of the Sabbath-school drove me up this tree, and here I have been ever since, with a hornets' nest on one bough and a snake on another. And now you are trying to finish the job by assassinating me."

"Why didn't you come down before?"

"Well, you see, I happen to be engaged myself to Miss Cusack, whom you are hugging."—Life.

The Skeleton at the Feast.

Sudden Apparition (to Edward, who has just been accepted)—Is this the way to the cemetery?

Not His Kind.

Fontleroy (in the park)—Little boy, wouldn't you like to come up to our house and play?

Swipes, of Bleeker street (whose years are six)—Whatju play—craps?

Fontleroy—O, dear, no.

Swipes—Gotter pistol an' play Injuns?

Fontleroy—No.

Swipes—Swipe your ole man's cigaroots an' smoke 'em in de alley?

Fontleroy—O, no, indeed.

Swipes—What do you play, anyhow?

Fontleroy—We play croquet, and we have a lovely little kitten and—

Swipes—Ah, g'way, sissy. Youse don't know nothin' 'bout playin'. Youse should die and jine de angel band, you should.

In Old Kentucky.

Ministerial Looking Stranger—I am collecting statistics for a forthcoming work on temperance. I have carefully examined this town's records and, I am glad to say, I do not find a single instance of arrest for drunkenness.

Col. Bluegrass (hotly)—Arrest for drunkenness, sah! I should say not, sah! Such an outrage has never sullied the annals of this community. The populace would be up in arms, sah!

As a Cloak.

He—Why do you always have your dog with you when I call?

She (demurely)—For protection, of course.

He—In what way?

She—Well, if mamma heard anything she might think I was kissing Fido.

Fit for the Place.

Museum Manager—Yes, we need a snake-charmer; but we want one with experience.

Fair Applicant—Oh, I've had plenty of that.

Museum Manager—Where?

Fair Applicant—In the alcoholic ward at Bellevue.

Advanced.

Mrs. Twickenham: What a forward child that Elsie Plunger is.

Mrs. Von Blumer: Yes, indeed, only fourteen, and her mother is going to put her in bicycle bloomers—Cloak Review.

A FAITHFUL SENTINEL

IN GUARDING ONE OF UNCLE SAM'S PORTALS RELATES HIS EXPERIENCE.

Treasury Department, U. S. Immigration Service, Buffalo, N. Y.

WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION:

Dear Sirs—From early childhood I have suffered from a sluggish liver with all the disorders accompanying such a companion. Doctors' prescriptions and patent medicines I have used in abundance; they only afforded temporary relief. I was recommended to try Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, I did so, taking three at night and two after dinner every day for two weeks. I then reduced the dose to one "Pellet" every day and continued this practice for two months. I have in six months increased in solid flesh, twenty-six pounds. I am in better health than I have been since childhood. Drowsiness and unpleasant feelings after meals have completely disappeared.

PIERCE Guarantees a CURE

OR MONEY RETURNED.

Respectfully yours,

John H. H. Barry

U. S. Inspector of Immigration.

Like a Miracle

Consumption—Low Condition

Wonderful Results From Taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Miss Hannah Wyatt
Toronto, Ont.

"Four years ago while in the old country (England), my daughter Hannah was sent away from the hospital, in a very low condition with consumption of the lungs and bowels, and weak action of the heart. The trip across the water to this country seemed to make her feel better for a while. Then she began to get worse, and for 14 weeks she was unable to get off the bed. She grew worse for five months and lost the use of her limbs and lower part of body, and if she sat up in bed had to be propped up with pillows. Physicians

Said She Was Past All Help

and wanted me to send her to the 'Home for Incurables.' But I said as long as I could hold my hand up she should not go. We then began to give her Hood's Sarsaparilla. She is getting strong, walks around, is out doors every day; has no trouble with her throat and no cough, and her heart seems to be all right again. She has a first class appetite. We regard her cure as nothing short of a miracle." W. WYATT, 89 Marion Street, Parkdale, Toronto, Ontario.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

Hood's Pills are purely vegetable and perfectly harmless. Sold by all druggists. 25c.

A WORD ABOUT

CHILDREN'S MANTLES.

Many Ladies who always purchase their own mantles ready-made, buy the cloth for their children's coats and go to the trouble and worry of making them up. You will find this no longer necessary if you will take a look through our Children's Department. We invite you to look our stock over anyway.

GEO. RITCHIE & CO.

Changed Daily.

SATURDAY, Oct. 13th, 1894.

NO FAULT FOUND.

Once in a while a customer is not pleased with the tea we sell them. In every case we try to remedy the cause of complaint to their satisfaction. It is very seldom, however, we have any fault found with our 50 and 60c. teas. Why? because they are teas of the best quality. They taste good and they go the farthest. A trial of a half pound will enable you to judge of their excellence yourself.

Stroud's

TEA STORE.

"AN ALL ROUND MAN"

CAN'T DODGE THE OVERCOAT

QUESTION.

One of our good live preachers delivered a stirring sermon the other Sunday on the subject of "The All Round Man," Among some of the things the INTELLIGENCER reported him to have said, was :—"A man with self will and well defined ambition alone, was incomplete He must have breath, and health, and length to attain that moral excellence and symmetry of character which would approximate the ideal of the All Round Man he has endeavored to present.

We cordially endorse every word of the above ; but, from our point of view, the All Round Man is still incomplete without an OVERCOAT Men judge by appearance. If there be sermons in stones, books in the running brooks, and good in everything, THERE IS LIFE IN AN OVERCOAT—and the All Round Man is not complete without one. To day, too—OUR TEXT IS OVERCOATS

We haven't had an opportunity to say a word about OVERCOATS ; but, we have a few COLD facts for you now. When you are ready to "shake" your summer duds, we're ready to serve you with winter ones No man, who has any respect for his pocket book, can help 'feeling" for it when he sees our pile of New Overcoats just ont of the case. If you imagine we can't RETAIL Overcoats at WHOLESALE prices, your imagination fools you. No barbed-wire-high-priced fence around our Overcoats. No adjective, however STRONG, no statement, however extravagant, can exaggerate our banner stock of Light and Heavy Weight Overcoats for Fall and Winter wear. Keep on paying war prices for Overcoats if you will, but let the name of GOUGH remind you that you needn't Giving you merely good value doesn't satisfy us—we aim to give you BETTER VALUE than you get elsewhere. No matter what you have been accustomed to paying or to wearing, we'll show you a $7 Bargain in an Overcoat that you can't afford to ignore—whoever you are.

Light Fall Overcoats for $5.75. $7 50 and $10 00, fit for any business ; and any man who wears one of these can readily palm it off as a custom-made. Every garment a novelty, made by artists of the first standing. Don't pay other dealers $12 to $15 for an Overcoat you can buy at Gough's for $9 Don t pay other dealers $8 to $10 for an Overcoat you can buy at Gough's for $5. GOUGH'S OVERCOATS ARE FLYERS !

Mothers, save !—by buying our reliable Boy's Overcoats at Gough's, for we are giving extraordinary values for little money. We show every new idea for this fall Now, will the tailor get all your money, or may we sell you one of our tightly made tailor Overcoats at a price about a third of what the merchant tailor demands?

LOWER AND LOWER go the Prices. HIGHER AND HIGHER we grow in public estimation. FINER AND FINER grades of goods all the time.

"ALWAYS GOOD AT GOUGHS"

GOUGH, The Wonderful Cheap Man, Belleville.

SOME HINTS !

Upon the Uses of Wall and Ceiling Paper.

TEN Per Cent Discount Now.

1. The better grades of paper last longer, are easier to hang and can be purchased at but slight advance in cost over the poorer grades.

2. Whitewash and calsomine are but little cheaper than ceiling papers and add nothing to the appearance of the room, in fact they more often destroy the harmony To think of furnishing all the rest of your room (the floor even, which you deliberately tramp upon) and leave the most important part of it (the ceiling) without a particle of furnishing or character, except that of cleanliness, is beyond comprehension. Your upper wall and ceiling are the only unbroken decorative feature of a room. Furniture breaks the view of the lower wall and it is still further obscured by the hanging of pictures upon it; therefore let special attention be paid to the selection of wide border that shall be in harmony with wall and ceiling, and of ceiling that fittingly completes the beauty of the room

3. Narrow borders are sufficient, if your aim is only to conceal the ragged ends of paper, but a wide border or frieze serves to heighten the appearance of a room and gives it a more artistic finish—makes it appear as if frescoed.

4. In making your selections, if the room has a north window, let some warmth appear in the paper. If the exposure is south or west, cooler shades can be appropriately used. For Dining-rooms let the walls be mellow in tone, indicative of hospitality.

Parlors can be treated accordingly to individual taste, care being used to have wall and ceiling decorations in harmony with carpets and furniture.

Use for sleeping rooms, light ground papers with a spice of color in the pattern. Floral decorations are most in favor for such purposes,

5. Whatever may be the room or rooms that you are about to paper, don't forget that the better qualities of paper will retain their lustre long after cheaper grades have become dull and colorless,

6. Ten per cent. discount now.

CHAS. B. SCANTLEBURY.

RHEUMATISM

NEURALGIA, MUSCULAR STIFFNESS, PAIN IN SIDE & LAME BACK MUST GO

WHEN THE "D.&L." MENTHOL PLASTER IS USED.

TRUE

Always—and why do we lead always in our line. It's not mixed up with other trades. The London and Belleville Crystal Hall is to-day the oldest Wholesale Crockery House in Canada. A resident European buyer is constantly sending us new wares as they come from the Kilns, which enables us to sell at what the small general trader has to pay. The goods look better because they are better. We can't afford to handle poor stuff such as is made for the "give away ticket" trade. That's why we always lead. Our new Fall Stock when all in, of China, Silver, Crockery and Lamps, will this year be the most beautiful display of the potter's art ever seen in Belleville, and prices are a long way below last year.

W. J. REID & CO'Y.

CRYSTAL HALL. Rous' Old Stand.

London and Belleville.

LISTEN FRIENDS ! !

We SAY because we KNOW !

Our COAL ! This Season is unexcelled for quality because the Bill of Lading bears the Brand of the Delaware & Hudson Canal Company.

Cut this out and test this "Ad" when the Winter Winds whistle.

THE RATHBUN COMPANY,

BABY FARMING IN TORONTO

A Deplorable State of Affairs as Exposed by the Police.

SHAMEFUL TREATMENT OF INFANTS

Epsom Salts Fed to the Little Ones by Inhuman Keepers of These Institutions —When They Die Several are Buried Together in One Box—A Number of These Houses in the City.

TORONTO, Oct. 13.—Since the Lace baby farm case was first exposed dilligent searches have been made by the police authorities for similar offenders and the results of these investigations are appalling.

In Toronto there are only three licensed baby farms, but the police now know that at least six places are carrying on this business illegally, and there are no doubt twice as many houses unknown to the police. When all the facts come to light some one will suffer, and it cannot be done too soon.

One woman particularly may soon feel the weight of the law. Information reached the police that an infant had been buried hurriedly some time ago in a vacant lot at the rear of this woman's house. A neighbor had seen two women digging the hole. Detective Duncan and Patrol Sergeant Brown went up there and dug up the remains of what is supposed to be an infant, but the body was so badly decomposed as to be unrecognizable.

There is evidence undeniable that students in their first and second year, have attended women at these private lying-in houses and Inspector Archibald wants to know if this cannot be stopped. He says that the law must interfere to prevent these young men from undertaking work that none but a skilled doctor should attempt.

The undertakers are also being severely censured. It is said that there is proof that several infants have been disposed of at one time, they being buried together in a box, and with only one burial certificate. It is even stated that bodies of little ones have been placed in the coffins of adults at the undertakers' rooms and thus buried without anyone knowing it.

If the late inquest is re-opened, the police will endeavor to show the way in which these babies are killed. It is worthy of note that in one house all the infants die apparently from the same complaint. The detectives have been following up this clue and have found that the woman in charge buys large quantities of salts. This, it is affirmed, she gives to the infants and when its deadly effects have put them beyond the reach of medical aid she takes them to a physician and then if arrested this fact tends to lead to her acquittal.

A Correction.

He—What is he going to do after he graduates?

She—Wouldn't it be more appropriate to ask: "Whom he is going to do?"—Truth.

Quite Shocking.

Stewart—Miss Mitford is a very magnetic girl.

Darley (who is jealous)—I have heard that she shocks everyone she meets.—Judge.

A Social Philosopher.

Agent—Bunker is a social philosopher.

Caller—In what respect?

Agent—He never kicks when we dun him repeatedly for his rent. He just moves.

A SOAP BUBBLE PARTY.

Happiness Galore, Although Many Pipes Were Broken in Pursuit.

"Mamma! oh, Mamma! See what Phillip Jay brought, see it is a piece of cardboard with a real pipe tied to it—what pretty blue ribbon. Read it, Mamma, quick!"

As soon as mamma could explain to the breathless little girl that it was an invitation to play soap-bubbles with her little friend Lenore Jay, that afternoon, she danced off to show her treasure and tell her next door neighbor, about it. She found he had an invitation, too. Both children could scarcely wait for the time to pass up till it was at the hour for meeting at Lenore's.

Mrs. Jay had provided plenty of pipes, and a bowl of soapsuds on the hardwood floor of the dining room, and there they merrily and safely amused themselves and Lona, the baby, all the long, bright afternoon. A little before 5 o'clock, Norman, Jay and Phillip came in with cookies and lemonade. Later, as the little guests wandered homeward looking for flowers and ripe berries in the hedgerow, gathering the sweet wild roses, they agreed that it was the nicest party they were ever at, for as they said, "soapsuds doesn't hurt calico and gingham. It didn't matter if the pipes did break, and it was so much fun seeing who could make the biggest bubble." How much happiness there can be at a soap bubble party is vividly depicted in the accompanying illustration.—American Agriculturist.

The Latest Men's Fashion.

What we may see on the avenue this winter if those coat-tails grow much longer.

His Delicate Reproof.

"I don't care," exclaimed the prehistoric woman, "if it is on crooked."

A shadow of pain flitted across the face of the prehistoric man.

"Dearest," he pleaded, "say not so. Thou knowest not"——

He gazed anxiously into her eyes.

"—but it may be the imprint of thy form that the archeologist will find upon the inseminate rock."

With a new realization of the responsibilities of existence she turned again to the mirror.—Puck.

THEY'RE AT IT AGAIN.

THE IRASCIBLE MR. BOWSER HAS ANOTHER TIFF WITH HIS SPOUSE.

And It Was All Over a Tramp About Whom They Differed—Mrs. Bowser Objects to Feeding Every Knight of the Road Who Comes Along.

"Aren't you feeling well, Mr. Bowser?" queried Mrs. Bowser the other evening as he came home from the office looking very sober and a trifle pale around the mouth.

He waited until he had hung up his hat and overcoat and removed his rubbers and wiped his nose and then replied:

"They were dragging for his body in the river as I came along."

"Whose body?"

"A poor and discouraged man's. He was out of work and hungry and cold. He felt that he could not live longer. As he stood on the wharf ready to take the plunge he cried out that he had even been refused a crust of bread, and he asked heaven to forgive the heartless woman."

"That was sad."

"And who was the heartless woman?" demanded Mr. Bowser as he looked down upon her with stern set face.

"Why, how do I know?"

"I believe it was you. That's just your way. If a man comes to the door and says he's hungry and discouraged and out of work, you bang the door on his toes and add to the bitterness of his woes. The moment I heard the words wailed out by that poor man I felt sure that it was you who refused him bread. Mrs. Bowser, you may be a murderess!"

"Do you suppose I'm going to feed and sympathize with every beggar who comes along?" she spiritedly replied.

"You drove that man to his death."

"I didn't do anything of the sort. It isn't likely that he came within a mile of our house. If I fed every body who came along, we'd have to turn the house into a hotel and get extra help."

"Mrs. Bowser, when a poor and distressed man comes along you can at least pass him out a crust and say that you are sorry for him. I wouldn't have your heart of stone for all the money——"

"There's one ringing now," she interrupted. "Go to the basement door and greet him, Mr. Bowser."

"I certainly will. The poor man shall not only receive kind words, but something substantial."

When Mr. Bowser opened the basement door he found a wobegone and hungry looking man with his thumb on the electric button. He was a fair specimen of the average caller.

"My dear man, you are out of work, hungry and discouraged?" softly observed Mr. Bowser.

"Right you are Jimmie!" replied the man, who was evidently laboring under a mistake. "Has the old bird got home yet."

"Old bird!"

"Yes, the old cock-a-doodle-do, you know. They say he's as soft as putty and can be worked for half a dollar, while his hen is sharper than a knife."

"His hen!"

"Yes, his wife, you know. Don't speak too loud or she may hear you. What time does the old bird get home?"

"Do you mean the owner of the house?"

"Cert—price, soft old duffer, with a bald head and baggy trousers. I've got a tip that he can be worked as easy as rolling down hill."

"He's—he's home now!" stammered Mr. Bowser, who realized that his wife was standing at the head of the stairs and could hear every word.

"Then go and tell him that a hard-working, respectable man is out of work and has a sick wife and four hungry children. If he comes down with a half, I'll whack up with you. Strike a trot, my bully, for I'm dying for a nip of old rye."

"Sir! I am the nice, soft old bald-headed duffer you refer to!" exclaimed Mr. Bowser as his temper flamed up all of a sudden.

"Oh, you are! I was only joking, you know. You behold in me, sir, an unfortunate man. Two weeks ago I lost my job, and on that same day my wife——"

"You'll get nothing here, sir!" shouted Mr. Bowser.

"Alas, sir, but I haven't tasted food for nearly two days! Can you have heart to turn a starving man away?"

"I can. If you are hungry, go and eat snow or fence posts. You are a deadbeat and a liar. The idea of you calling me an old bird and my wife a hen! You ought to be arrested, sir!"

The tramp didn't get his half, but he hit Mr. Bowser on the chin before he left.

M. QUAD.

Chiaro-Oscuro.

Sunlight on the firwood, shadow on the wheat,
Gloom o'er gleam and gleam thro' gloom.
When my love I meet.

Shadow on the wheat field, sunlight on the fir,
Gloom o'er gleam and gloom thro' gleam,
When I part with her.
—Life.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

TORONTO, Oct. 13, 1894.

Dun & Co. report the failures this week to have been 231 in the United States, against 203 last year, and 43 in Canada, against 42 last year.

There was considerable activity on the local grain market. These sales were made on the street: 1,500 bushels barley at 44 to 48 1-2c; 4,000 bushels oats at 31 to 32c; 100 bushels peas at 57 1-2 to 58 1-2c, and 300 bushels wheat at 53c, 55c and 56c, for white, red and goose respectively.

Exports of wheat, including wheat from both the United States and Canada for six days ending with Thursday of this week, aggregate 3,317,615 bushels, compared with 3,243,000 bushels last week.

Wheat was dull in Chicago, but closed a shade higher. Corn closed firm. Oats were stronger.

Sellers in Buffalo are doing a great deal of hustling in barley but find few buyers. The feeling among maltsters is that prices are too high, and they intend to hold off as long as possible. Canada barley is coming in fair, but there is no demand at the prices asked.

At East Buffalo live stock market the total offerings were 33 cars, including 10 cars Canadas. The early trading was rather quiet, but late in the day there was increased firmness, and, near the close of the market some choice Canadas sold up to $4.40, with closing values of good to choice at $4.25 to $4.40.

The gains in price in the New York stock market were pretty well distributed, and their relative magnitude gave a fair means of discovering the short interests present location. Aside, however, from this retreat of local speculators there was nothing significant or interesting in the market. The buyers on yesterday's advance were parties as a rule quite as irresponsible as the recent sellers.

= SILKS =

We have in stock a full line of the

Corticelli Embroidery and Knitting Silks

—IN—

Honiton Lace Emb'y Silk.
Outline do do
Knitting Silk,
Twist Embroidery,
Roman Floss,
Filo Floss.

—ALSO—

27 INCH PURE JAPANESE SILK IN

LIGHT BLUE,
CREAM,
ROSE PINK,
CORAL PINK,
BUTTERCUP,
CARDINAL,

BLACK = SILKS !

In all the leading makes.

J. P. THOMPSON & CO.

H. C. DICKENS & SON.

Bread . . .

We wish to say a word or two about Bread This being the great staple of our business and one of the greatest necessities of life, it seems but natural that the baker should turn out the best that can be produced and that the customer should demand the same. This we pretend to have ; while one can hardly expect to please everybody (there being some who will even turn off a good thing) yet we do claim to please nine out of every ten, so if you are dissatisfied with your bread, have our driver call upon you and you will not be able to say good bread is not turned out in Belleville,

H. C. DICKENS & SON.

TELLIGENCER PRINTING AND PUBLISHING COMPANY (LIMITED.

J. C. JAMESON, President | J. W. LONDON, Secretary

THE Treasurer is the only person authorized to receive money from the Company, or to grant receipts for the same.

All Bills, Notes, Cheques and other documents binding on the Company, will require the signature of the President, in addition to that of the Treasurer.

THE INTELLIGENCER is printed and published by the INTELLIGENCER Printing and Publishing Company (Limited) by James C. Jamieson, resident in Belleville. Office, Front St., south of Ann St.

SUNLIGHT SOAP
LESS LABOUR GREATER COMFORT!

DOES YOUR WIFE DO HER OWN WASHING?

IF she does, see that the wash is made Easy and Clean by getting her SUNLIGHT SOAP, which does away with the terrors of wash-day.

Experience will convince her that it PAYS to use this soap.

TO THE PUBLIC

When we decided to add the manufacure of carriages, phaetons, democrats, &c., to our business, we immediately put under construction a few of each. As we decided to place no vehicle on the market which is not A 1 in in every detail, and knowing that no first-class vehicle can be produced on the rush, it has been necessary for us to take sufficient time to produce what we aimed at. We think we have succeeded; and we now have a few rigs completed, and others nearing completion to offer for sale. The iron work is all hand forged; the wood work carefully made, and strongly ironed; and the painting and upholstering done with the best material and greatest care. We can freely recommend these rigs. We will be pleased to have parties who may need anything in the above line, call and inspect our work.

ST. CHARLES & PRINGLE.
JAS ST CHARLES. HENRY GI E

THE - FALL - RAINS
ARE WITH US.
YOUR HOUSE WANTS A NEW ROOF—
WE HAVE THE SHINGLES.
In all grades, at lowest prices. Ask for quotations and see
XX. XXX. Clear Butts
THE RATHBUN COMPANY.

Miss Flora McDonald.

AN ACHING HEAD.

Dear Sirs,—I had severe headache for the past three years, and was not free from it a single day. I used doctors' medicines and all others I could think of, but it did me no good. My cousin said I must

TRY B.B.B.

because it is the best medicine ever made, and I took three bottles of it, with the result that it has completely cured me. I think Burdock Blood Bitters, both for headaches and as a blood purifier, is the

BEST IN THE WORLD,

and am glad to recommend it to all my friends. Miss Flora McDonald, Glen Norman, Ont.

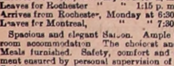

HAMILTON, TORONTO, AND MONTREAL,
Via Bay of Quinte, Calling at all Ports Weekly.
THE FAVORITE STEAMER

"MAGNET"

Leaves St. Catharines Tuesday 9 a. m.
Toronto " 4 p. m.
Leaves Belleville for Montreal } Wednesday 7:30 a m
Leaves Belleville for Toronto } Sunday 8 p. m.
First Class Passenger Accommodation, Large Freight Capacity. Lowest Rates
For Tickets, Rates, &c., Apply to the RATHBUN COMPANY, Agents,
or to
Capt. J. J. Towers, Superintendent, No. 2 King st., Toronto.
C. F. Gildersleeve, General Manager, 228 St. Paul st., Montreal.

ROCHESTER, KINGSTON AND MONTREAL.
Weekly Service Calling at Way Ports
The People's Favorite Steamer.

"ALEXANDRIA"

Leaves Montreal, Thursday at 10:00 a. m.
Arrives Belleville, Saturday at 11:45 a. m.
Leaves for Rochester " " 1:15 p. m.
Arrives from Rochester, Monday at 6:30 a. m
Leaves for Montreal, " " 7:30 a. m.
Spacious and elegant Saloon. Ample Stateroom accommodation The choicest and best Meals furnished. Safety, comfort and enjoyment ensured by personal supervision of Capt. Smith and Purser Melrose. Careful handling o freight.
For Tickets, State rooms at lowest rates apply to
THE RATHBUN COMPANY, Agents.

Bay of Quinte Steamb t Route
TRI-WEEKLY
DESER'TO, PICTON & KINGSTON
1894 - 1894

STR. "HERO"

THIS favorite steamer is now lighted by electricity and will have a strong search light for excursion business and the boat is heated by steam.
Commencing Monday, April 9th, will leave Belleville Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 6 a m, returning Tuesday, Thursday and Friday at 11 p m.
The very best facilities are offered to shippers of freight. The lowest through and local rates quoted.
No wharfage at Picton on freight for this steamer.
Full information given by Gilbert Johnston on board, or to the RATHBUN COM'Y.
. H. GILDERSLEEVE. Ticket Agent, Kingston.

DR. WOOD'S

Norway Pine Syrup.

Rich in the lung-healing virtues of the Pine combined with the soothing and expectorant properties of other pectoral herbs and barks.

A PERFECT CURE FOR
COUGHS AND COLDS
Hoarseness, Asthma, Bronchitis, Sore Throat, Croup and all THROAT, BRONCHIAL and LUNG DISEASES. Obstinate coughs which resist other remedies yield promptly to this pleasant piny syrup.
PRICE 25C. AND 50C. PER BOTTLE.
SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

ROCHESTER.
STEAMER

NORTH KING.

Leaves for Charlotte, N. Y., every Sunday, 11:45 p m.
Leaves for Picton and Kingston every Sunday, 3:20 a. m.
Arrive from Picton and Kingston every Sunday, 11:45 p.m.
Arrives from Charlotte, N. Y., every Sunday, 3:20 a. m.
Special attention given to passengers and freight
WEEK DAYS.—Steamer leaves Port Hope week days for Charlotte, N. Y., at 9:45 a.m.
Calls at Brighton Monday 2 a.m., aand Wednesday 2.30 a.m., and at Colborne Wednesday and Fridays 4 a.m.
Connection made by Grand Trunk morning trains.
The Rathbun Co, Agents. U. E. THOMPSON, Agent.
43tf

INSURANCE.

Western Assurance Company,
Fire and Marine Head Office, Toronto.
North British & Mercantile Ins. Co.,
Fire and Life, Head Office (Can.) Montreal
Atlas Insurance Company,
Fire Head Office (Canada), Montreal
M. M THOMPSON
W Works Office, Bridge St.

Steamer "Iona"

Will eave Belleville three times each week for Oswego, connecting with trains for New York.

STEAMER VARUNA

A HICKS, Captain.

WILL leave Trenton every morning, (Sunday excepted) at 7:00 o'clock, calling at Rednerville and all points between the head of the bay and Picton, leaving Belleville at 8:30 a.m., Deseronto at 10:20 a.m.
On Tuesday and Thursday evenings to meet North King at Brighton, returning will leave Brighton Wednesday and Saturday mornings at 5:30,
Will connect at Picton with stage for Sand Banks.
Parties wishing to arrange for excursion rates will see Capt. Hicks on board
Will leave Picton at 1 p.m. on return for the head of the bay, Deseronto 2:30 p.m., Belleville, at 4:30 p m., and Trenton, at 6.
Omnibuses in waiting at Picton, Belleville and Brighton.
The Rathbun Co., Agents, Belleville and Deseronto.
A. W. Hepburn, Agent, Picton.

Daily Intelligencer.

At Death's Door—Dyspepsia Conquered —A Great Medical Triumph.

Gentlemen,—My medical adviser and others told me I could not possibly live when I commenced to use Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery for Dyspepsia. My case was one of the worst of its kind. For three years I could not eat meat and my weight decreased from 219 to 119 lbs. All the food I took for thirteen months previous to taking the Vegetable Discovery consisted of milk. I am now entirely cured and have regained my usual weight, can eat anything with a keen relish and feel like a new man. I have sold over thirty dozen Vegetable Discovery since it cured me, as I am well-known, and people in this section know how low I was, and thought I could not possibly be cured. They are eager to try this grand medicine. It certainly saved my life, as I never expected to recover when first I commenced using it. I am not exaggerating anything but feel glad to be able to contribute this testimonial and trust it may be the means of convincing others of its merits as a certain cure for Dyspepsia.

Signed. Jean Valcourt,
Wotton, P. Q.

In 1888 the people of Great Britain paid taxes on 492,200 carriages.

Is there anything more annoying than having your corn stepped upon? Is there anything more delightful than getting rid of it? Holloway's Corn Cure will do it. Try it and be convinced.

In Portugal the tobacco tax brings £900,000, the land tax £700,000.

Some people laugh to show their pretty teeth. The use of Ivory White Tooth Powder makes people laugh more than ever. It's so nice. Price 25c. Sold by druggists.

Worms cause feverishness, moaning and restlessness during sleep. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator is pleasant, sure and effectual. If your druggist has none in stock, get him to procure it for you.

The rate of taxation has nearly quadrupled in France since 1830.

Dyspepsia causes dizziness, headache, constipation, variable appetite, rising and souring of food, palpitation of the heart, distress after eating. Burdock Blood Bitters is guaranteed to cure Dyspepsia if faithfully used according to directions.

Until about forty years ago, the Persian Government levied a tax on cats,

Mr T. J. Humes, Columbus, Ohio, writes: 'I have been afflicted for some time with kidney and Liver Complaint, and find Parmelee's Pills the best medicine for these diseases These Pills do not cause pain or griping, and should be used when a cathartic is required. They are Gelatine Coated, and rolled in the Flour of Licorice to preserve their purity and give them a pleasant, agreeable taste.

Norway pine syrup cures Bronchitis.

For cholera morbus, Cholera Infantum Cramps, Colic, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, and Summer Complaint Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is a prompt, safe and sure cure that has been a popular favorite for over 40 years.

Camping Supplies!

— AND —

Picnic - Requisites !

Our list of articles suitable for Picnic Lunches and Camping, includes :

Canned Meats.

ARMOUR'S COOKED BEEF,
ARMOUR'S OX TONGUES,
ARMOUR'S LUNCH TONGUES,
ARMOUR'S POTTED HAM,
ARMOUR'S COOKED PIG FEET'
ARMOUR'S LUNCHEON MEAT.
ARMOUR'S POTTED TONGUE
ARMOUR'S BRAWN.
SANDWICH MEATS,
BONELESS CHICKEN,
BONELESS TURKEY,
POTTED BEEF,
POTTED GAME,
ETC.! ETC.!! ETC.!

Canned Fish.

FINEST SARDINES IN OIL,
FINEST SARDINES IN TOMATO,
HERRINGS IN TOMATO SAUCE,
KIPPERED HERRINGS,
FRESH HERRINGS,
SALMON, LOBSTERS,
FINNAN HADDIES,
BLOATER PASTE,
ANCHOVY PASTE,
SARDINE PASTE,
ETC.! ETC.!!ETC.!!!

Sundries.

Condensed Milk in Tins, Cream in Tins, Biscuits (in great variety), Fine old Cheese, McLaren's Imperial Cheese (in small crocks), Dried Beef, Choice Hams and Bacon, Lime Juice, Spanish Olives, CROSSE & BLACKWELL'S Pickled White Onions, Walnuts, Chow Chow, and and Mixed Pickles.

WALLBRIDGE & CLARKE
Grocers and Wine Merchants,
33 and 37 Bridge Street. Also Front Street, in Caldwell Building.

REMOVAL

MR. JOSEPH CALDWELL, DENTIST

Has removed his office to the new premises which he has had specially fitted up in the

Caldwell Block,

First door south of the Anglo-American Hotel Front street, 108tj

LAST SLAVE AUCTION.

AND HOW IT WAS WAS CONDUCTED ON A GEORGIA PLANTATION.

Interesting Account of a Scene Witnessed Near Savannah—The Class of People Who Attended Such Sales—Slaves Valueless After the War Broke Out.

The death of a gentleman in Philadelphia recently has recalled the last great slave auction in the south in 1859. This gentleman was the clerk of the sale, and and he wrote as a memento an elaborate and circumstantial account of the two days' proceedings, and this he did secretly, so intense was the desire of the managers to prevent any report getting to the papers of the north.

The sale was held at the race track, near Savannah, and the negroes were the property of Mr. Pierce Butler of Philadelphia. His family name was Mease, but inheriting a fortune in land and slaves from his grandfather, Maj. Pierce Butler of South Carolina, he changed his name. He very generously shared his fortune with his brother John, who, after service in the Mexican war, died about 1850. Mr. Butler was an inveterate and most unlucky card player, and spent most of his time in Joe Hall's rooms, Eighth, above Sansom, then the most fashionable and exclusive card saloon in this city. Hall was, despite his profession, much respected and liked. He died a few years ago, a poor Methodist minister on the eastern shore. It was in Mr. Hall's place that Mr. Butler made the losses that forced him to sell his slaves. It is said that on one occasion he held four deuces and proceeded to bet in a fashion that led Hall to remonstrate, but Butler laughed at him. With $26,000 up he was called, and Hall held four kings.

Butler inherited the beautiful old mansion now the site of the Sharpless building, Eighth and Chestnut, Philadelphia, and this he was forced to sell, and, in 1859, his creditors began to press for their money and his agent, Charles Munhead, conveyancer, of this city, went to Georgia to arrange the sale of his slaves. It was a cheerless day in October, 1859, when there came trooping into the race ground 988 negroes, divided into groups representing families. At the head of that sad procession was a withered man and woman, bent almost double by toil, leaning on sticks, and with them a giant negro, their only son and a well known blacksmith All were marched under the sheds, and negrolike, at once commenced to gather sticks for a fire. About half of them came from the rice fields of Darien. These were pure Congo and in many instances retained their uncouth African language. The rest were far more intelligent in appearance and were from St. Simon island, a cotton plantation.

The white crowd was a typical southern one, partly negro traders, flashing in diamond shirt pins and gaudy chains, and bullies from the swamps and ruffianly overseers, many of them northerners. All of these were heavily armed and made an ostentatious show of weapons, and their loudly expressed wish was "to ketch, be Gawd, sah, any yankee newspapah sneak that might ventuh on the ground."

There was not a single representative of the old planter families from the vicinity, as they were disgusted with the whole proceeding. It was one of their traditions that they had never sold a negro born on their plantations, except for persistent misconduct, and after the sale Butler found himself a stranger among his former associates.

And now the bell in the grand stand rang and the crowd gathered around the portly "Majah" Stone, who, in a speech fluent with adjectives, praised the crowd, the "niggahs," and our beloved Georgia, first among the states—and that was business in those halcyon days. There were 429 lots of black humanity, and prices ranged from $260 up to $2,100—this last for a first-rate black-smith, bought for an estate in the neighborhood. Ten years later the slave was in the legislature, and the master's family lived on his bounty.

The professional traders were the largest buyers, Col. Pate of Vicksburg taking 220. It was announced from the first that no division of famili s would be permitted and this made the sale less profitable, as many of the members were old or infirm, and to get the good ones purchasers had to take others less desirable. It took two days to make a finish and the proceeds amounted to $303,850. The second day brought in a wind from the sea and a cold fog that swept in waves over the grounds. The negroes huddled about the fires, cooking their bacon and hoe cake, and here Mr. Butler put in an appearance. From a bag carried by a servant he gave each one of his old servants $1 in bright quarters. After all was said in denunciation of the sale, the fact remained that it was necessary on Butler's part; his creditors ordered it, and one of the most vigorous people in enforcing his claim was a Philadelphia gentleman who was a leading and oratorical abolitionist.

Out of the sale of one of the groups arose a series of tragedies that fitly illustrated the tendencies of negro trading. Most of the men in this business were fighters. They knew they were despised and avoided by gentlemen, and so exacted a certain amount of respect socially by their readiness to resent an insult Tom Pate, a well-known Vicksburg trader, bought at the sale a man, his two sisters, and wife, with the guarantee that they should not be separated. Disregarding this Pate sold the sisters, one to Pat Somers, a brother trader, and the other to a resident of St. Louis. What legal rights a negro had in the south were well protected. Somers was told of the guarantee, and he sent the girl back to Pate and demanded his money. A quarrel was the result and Somers was shot dead. Ten days later his nephew killed Pate and died from the wounds received. The feud was kept up until every male bearing the name of Pate was wiped out and then the war liberated the sisters, who were alive in St. Louis in 1887.

Butler sold in time. A year afterward his slaves would not have brought $1 apiece. He died in 1867, and without suspicion of having been poisoned by some of his negroes on the plantation in Georgia.

OF GENERAL INTEREST.

In New York city it takes people from twelve to sixteen seconds to get into and out of cars In London it requires thirty seconds.

In the sixteenth century no lady was considered in full dress unless she had a mirror at her breast. It was oval in shape, about four by six inches in size.

The catacombs of Rome contain the remains of about six million human beings, and those of Paris about three million. The latter were formerly stone quarries.

London bridge is nine hundred and twenty feet long, fifty-six feet wide and fifty-five feet in height. It has five semi-elliptical arches, the centre one being one hundred and fifty feet,

FAMOUS ANIMALS.

Tray, the Noble Life-Saving Dog of the London Docks.

Tray was one of those noble dogs who live about the docks and save people who fall into the water. Some of these dogs have received medals for bravery, in saving life, from the Humane Society. We do not know that Tray ever got a medal; probably not, but he certainly deserved one, and he got something much better than any medal, and that was a poem by Robert Browning, who made him celebrated.

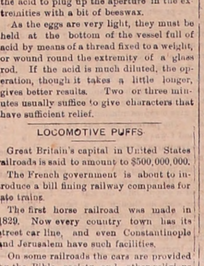

One day a little beggar child was sitting on the edge of the quay. She was playing with her doll, and singing to herself and having a nice time, so that she forgot how near she was to the edge, and all at once she lost her balance and fell into the water.

The poor child screamed as she fell in and the people on the dock all rushed to the edge and looked over, but the water was very deep, ten or twelve feet, and the current very strong, so that the men were afraid to jump in after the poor little girl, who was drowning before their eyes. To be sure they had to think of their own wives and children before risking their lives to save her. While they were all calling on each other for help, and none willing to be the one to come forward, a dog ran up. He was not afraid, and he did not stop one minute to think about whether he would get drowned.

He saw the child struggling in the water and he leaped over at once. He dived down to the bottom, then he rose near her and in a minute he had her tight and swam with her to land.

The people took her from him and she stood on the pier dripping with water. Then they turned to Tray to praise him, but he was gone. He had jumped over again.

They were surprised. They thought another child must have fallen in without their seeing it, but they were quite willing that Tray should have all the responsibility of saving it. This time Tray was a long time under the water. They began to wonder what had become of him, but no one thought of doing anything to help the brave dog. They did not even throw a rope out that he could have caught in his teeth, although the current ran very strong where he had gone down. However, he did come up to the surface in time and then they saw he had something in his mouth.

TRAY.

He came slowly to shore, for he was very tired. He had been down to the very bottom of the river and fished up the doll which the little girl had in her hand when she fell over, and now he came to her with it. It was just as good in Tray to save the doll as to save the child, but the people laughed at him, except the little girl Tray trotted off home. He did not know what a hero he was or how much better than the people who thought themselves so much wiser than the dog, and yet would not run a risk of hurting themselves to do what he had done without thinking of himself at all.

Engraving on Eggs.

Here is an experiment pretty and simple: Write upon the eggshell with wax or varnish, or simply with tallow, and then immerse the egg in some weak acid, such, for example, as vinegar, dilute hydrochloric acid, or etching liquor. Wherever the varnish or wax has not protected the shell, the lime of the latter is decomposed and dissolved in the acid, and the writing or drawing remains in relief.

A few precautions must be taken in order to be successful at the experiment. In the first place, as the eggs that are to be engraved are usually previously blown, so that they be preserved without alteration, it is necessary before immersing them in the acid to plug up the aperture in the extremities with a bit of beeswax.

As the eggs are very light, they must be held at the bottom of the vessel full of acid by means of a thread fixed to a weight, or wound round the extremity of a glass rod. If the acid is much diluted, the operation, though it takes a little longer, gives better results. Two or three minutes usually suffice to give characters that have sufficient relief.

LOCOMOTIVE PUFFS.

Great Britain's capital in United States railroads is said to amount to $500,000,000.

The French government is about to introduce a bill fining railway companies for late trains.

The first horse railroad was made in 1829. Now every country town has its street car line, and even Constantinople and Jerusalem have such facilities.

On some railroads the cars are provided by the Bible society and other religious organizations with Bibles that are kept in racks, and curiously enough the racks are systematically robbed.

The Central railroad of Brazil carried 10,684,135 passengers in 1893, against 9,394,069 in 1892. The freight traffic decreased from 607,800 tons to 591,700 tons. The number of locomotives has increased from 192 to 225.

Japan's railroads at present have a total locomotive equipment of two hundred and six engines, two hundred of which are of English, four of German and two of American make. The last are of the mogul type and were built at the Baldwin works. The German engines are rack-rail locomotives built on the Abt system.

SOCIETY'S WAYS.

Ringlets for women and whiskers for men are announced as among the fashionable possibilities of London's near future.

The stovepipe hat is shaking on its pedestal. It began to disappear in the circles of British business. The great heat in London has worked a revolution.

Fashions may come, and fashions may go, but the diamond furor abates not. The sparkling little stone holds its fascination as of yore, and maintains its high value.

In Austrian society it is the custom to take a partner for only one round of a dance. By this means ladies and gentlemen change partners five or six times in a single dance.

To be photographed while you doze in a corner of your pew at church is one of the latest terrors. The kodak has made its way into the pulpit. An Irish clergyman the other Sunday during the service took a snap shot of his congregation.

A BLIND WOMAN SEES.

MYSTERIOUS CASE OF MOLLIE FANCHER, OF BROOKLYN.

She Lost Her Sense of Sight Twenty-Eight Years Ago, Yet She Paints Flowers, Works Delicate Embroidery, Reads Prints and Can Distinguish Colors.

Mary J. Fancher, formerly known as Mollie Fancher, has been bedridden for nearly thirty years. She is now about 46 years old, and has been suffering from a spinal trouble ever since a fall which she received while stepping off a horse car, at the age of 16. It was at the time when ladies wore hoopskirts, and in getting off the car the hoopskirt caught and draggled her a considerable distance before the conductor discovered her and stopped the car.

She was taken up unconscious, and was found to be severely injured in her side, back and head, and two ribs were broken. After six weeks' illness she apparently recovered for a time, and was able to go about the house, until spinal trouble began to manifest itself in the shape of convulsions, about nine months after the accident.

These convulsions alternated with periods of rigidity, or apparent lifelessness, which she calls trances, and which are to this day her substitutes for sleep. This was early in the year 1866, and at this time she lost her sense of sight, which she has never recovered. At this time she also lost, temporarily, some of her other senses, and for years her throat was so contracted that it was impossible for her to swallow, food being injected artificially. Her right arm was distorted and bent up over her head, but her left hand being unaffected, she was able to work by bringing the left hand up over her head to meet the right. She remained in this condition for nine years.

Of this period Judge Dailey says in his report: "During those nine years, I am informed from unquestionable authority that she wrote upward of 6,500 letters, worked 1,000 ounces of worsted, did a vast amount of fine embroidery and a great deal of very beautiful wax work."

At the end of these nine years, of which she has no recollection whatever, now, nor at any time since, her muscles relaxed, and, pulling her right arm down, she seemed to wake from sleep, and turning to Dr. J. Fleet Speir, who was in the room she said: "Well, doctor, did your brother get home in time for his chicken pot-pie?" thus continuing a conversation which had been begun nine years before with Dr. Robert Speir.

The most remarkable thing about Miss Fancher is the fact that she is blind and yet sees. This is the point where credulity rebels and refuses to be convinced.

With eyes sightless she does the most beautiful embroidery, paints flowers, writes letters and numerous other things which one hardly dares to mention for fear of being laughed at. When the dainty, prettily-embroidered handkerchief cases, neatly-crocheted iced-wool facinators and other fancy things were shown to me by her nurse, my one thought was that either Miss Fancher could see, or else she had a skillful needle-woman in her employ.

Full of doubt and curiosity, I repaired to the office of Dr. J. Fleet Speir, of No. 162 Montague street, Brooklyn, who was for years her attending physician, and he occasionally sees her now.

"Doctor," I said, "can you tell me what it all means?"

He smiled pityingly upon me as though he would say, "and is this another?" but he shook his head and replied: "No, I don't deal in these things. I don't believe in spiritualism nor clairvoyance, nor any of these supernatural phenomena. I confine myself to this mundane sphere. This is why, when I come to the facts in Mollie Fancher's case, I am stalled. They are things to be explained. I don't believe in seeing without eyes, but in some mysterious way, I don't intend to say how, Miss Fancher manages to do both. I have been so prejudiced against clairvoyance and that sort of thing that I haven't given the poor girl the credit she deserves."

"But, Doctor," I asked, "don't you think there is great opportunity for deception?"

"Hardly," he replied. "The case has been under constant scrutiny for so long that if there had been any humbugging in it, it would have been found out long ago."

"Besides," he continued, "I believe that she is perfectly honest. My prejudice induced me once to take my oculist, Dr. Wright, up to see her, to ascertain whether her blindness was or was not assumed. He tore off a slip of newpaper which he himself had not read, and placing his hand over it, asked her to read it, which she did. When he removed his hand for the benefit of his own eyes, which could not see through such barriers, he found that she had read it correctly. Then he tried her with colored worsteds, asking her to name the shades of each, which she did correctly in every case. He then examined her eyes and found that it was impossible for her to see, for two reasons. In the first place the optic nerve was practically dead, and in the second place, the condition of the eyes themselves was such that it would be impossible to see without glasses.

"At this result, I felt ashamed of my distrust of the poor girl, but it only made it the harder to understand."

"I have heard that she was somewhat changed in the past few years. Is that true?"

"Yes. She is much fleshier than she was. From a weight of, perhaps, 75 or 80, she has developed into a woman of 150 or 160 pounds. But that is the case with all bed-ridden patients. They get fatter and fatter, until at last they burst. Some day she will die of apoplexy, or something of that kind."—New York cor. St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Daring Deadheads.

Several theatrical people were talking the other night of the devices of deadheads at shows, concerts, etc., and one of them related the following:

"I was on the door with a show one night in a small western town and outside before the overture the orchestra had its brass instruments and was drumming up an audience with a free concert. After the concert the musicians passed by me through the front door on their way to the orchestra. I knew that there were only eight pieces and when ten were passed in by showing instruments I determined to call a halt. The next five to pass I stopped and then and there I took an inventory of their possessions. One man had the main portion of the cornet to show me as his passport, another had the mouthpiece of the instrument, a third carried the case into which it fits, a fourth had the music rack, and the fifth carried the cornet player's music. The cornet player had tried to pass in four friends on the different parts of his cornet outfit. Just think what a chance that would be for a trombone player or the pianist. He could distribute the legs among his friends."

OWNERSHIP OF RAILROADS.

The Extent to Which it Has Been Adopted by Nations.

Here is the list of railroads owned by governments as compiled by the Encyclopedia Brittanica:

Austria owns and operates nearly 2,000 miles of railway.

Baden owns 829 miles of railway.

Bavaria had 1,806 miles of railway owned by the government.

Belgium owns about 2,000 miles of railway.

Some 181 miles of railroad is owned by Ceylon.

Chili owns 670 miles of railroad.

China owns and operates all her railway.

The United States of Columbia owned 218 miles of railway in 1890.

Denmark has about 1,000 miles of railroad owned by the government.

France owns about 2,000 miles of railway, but most or quite all is leased to companies.

The German Empire owns about 21,840 miles of railway.

England and Wales own 14,034 miles of railway.

Scotland has 3,118 miles of railway belonging to the state.

Ireland owns 2,691 miles of railway.

Hesse owns 226 miles of her railway system.

A large per cent of the railways of Italy belong to the government, but are leased to companies.

Japan owns 603 miles of railway.

The colony of Natal owns 305 miles of railway.

The Netherlands has nearly 1,000 miles owned by the government.

New South Wales owns 2,182 miles of railway.

New Zealand in 1890 owned 672 miles of railroad.

Norway has 929 miles of railroad all her own.

Portugal owns about one half of the railroads in the country.

Oldenburg owns 222 miles of her railroads.

Peru has 1,621 miles of railroad owned by the state.

Roumania in 1880 owned 1,590 miles of railway.

Poland and Caucasia own 5,065 miles of railway.

Sweden owns 1,645 miles of railroad.

Victoria, Australia, owns all her railroads—2,341 miles.

Some 1,137 miles of railroad in Finland belongs to Russia. About one-tenth of the government.

Servia also has a few lines of railway owned by the state

Brazil owns and operates 2,091 miles of railroad.

South Austria owns her railway system

FACTS IN FEW WORDS.

Points of Interest to All Sorts and Conditions of People.

Paganini would never let anyone hear him tune his violin, and it is believed that many of the extremely peculiar effects he produced were obtained by his tuning his instrument half a tone lower or higher than the ordinary pitch.

Over fifty kinds of bark are now used in the manufacture of paper. Even banana sking, pea vines, cocoanut fibres, hay straw, water weeds, leaves, shavings, corn husks and hop plants are used for the same purpose.

The edible dogs of china are known by their bluish tongues. They never bark and are very taciturn. Four and a half millions are slaughtered annually to titillate the palates of the celestials.

An old album of stamps collected thirty years ago in Savannah and recently discovered by an heir of the collector, has revealed a number of valuable issues, some of them worth $1,500.

Herat, in Afghanistan, is the city which has been most often destroyed. Fifty-six times have its walls been laid in ruins, and the same number of times have they been erected again.

Fishhooks are precisely the same in shape to-day as they were twenty centuries ago. The only difference is the material; then they were made of bronze, now they are made of steel.

In twelve months no fewer than 21,389 persons died in India from snake-bite, and more than half a million of snakes were destroyed during that period.

The highest lakes in the world are on the Himalayas in Thibet, where there are some bodies of water as high as 20,000 feet above the level of the sea.

Through a pneumatic tube, 700 miles in length, letters are whirled between Paris and Berlin at the speed of twenty miles a minute.

The Bon Marche of Paris has the largest kitchen in the world. There are fifty frying pans; each large enough to hold 300 cutlets at a time.

The sweepings of the Denver mint, which have been accumulating for years, were washed recently and yielded $3,000 worth of gold.

Trolley cars in New York city are often chartered by special parties, who traverse the route for pleasure.

A farmer of Conway, Ky., 78 years old, was recently married to a 13-year-old girl of the same place.

Wooden goods were first manufactured in England in the fourth century.

A single hair will bear a weight of 1,150 grains.

By the Deep Sea.

They are watching the foam as it trailed itself in strange, fantastic shapes along the yellow sands.

"How wonderful, how mysterious is the sea!" exclaimed Paul. "How superior in its majestic naturalness it is to all the achievements of art. Think, darling, into what beautiful, harmonious forms you bubbling foam is wrought."

"I am thinking," replied Fantine, catching his enthusiasm, "thinking what lovely embroidery patterns it would make."

Tribute to Departed Worth.

"That man Ardup," said the man in the mackintosh, "was as good hearted a fellow as ever lived, but he was always in debt and always hounded by creditors. Poor follow! He deserves a better epitaph than an unfeeling posterity will engrave on his tombstone."

"'Well dunned, good and faithful servant,'" suggested the man who had his feet on the table, and a deep silence fell on the group.

Not Up in Tennis.

Mrs. Homestead (from the letter)—Wa-al, I swanny! of Hirim don't wanter hev us send him two dollars fer a tennis racket. Naow this is goin' too fer alto——

Mr. Homestead (interrupting)—Send it along, Mariar. Boys 'll be boys, an' they might 's well go through th' mill fust as last. (Aside.) Durned ef I kin kick on thet. It use' ter cost me over four dollars, when I wuz his age, ter git full on lager.

THESE ARE ODD FISH.

SOME CURIOUS DEEP SEA CREATURES WHICH HAVE BEEN CAUGHT.

The Hackle-Head—Conger Eels—Untimely End of a Fishing Frog—Various Odd Members of the Finny Tribe From the Salt Water.

A number of fishermen who go out on the fishing banks steamboats have been thoughtful enough to save their cold and curious catches for the New York Aquarium. The result is that Prof. H. T. Woodman now has as pets in his whale and shark tanks two huge anglers or fishing frogs, weighing from seventy-five to ninety pounds; one exceptionally perfect specimen of the deep-sea skate, measuring about four feet from tip to tip of its wings like fins; three large deep sea eels or sirens (conger eels the fishermen call them), a small sturgeon, a dogfish four feet long and half a dozen sea ravens, small and large.

There would now be three anglers had the fishermen tempered enthusiasm with discretion. The third one is now presumably in the fish heaven. He lived more than a week, showing how hardy some fish forms are, for everything was done to disgust him with life. He was hooked on the fishing banks and hauled to the surface hand over hand. Then somebody jammed a boathook deep into his head between his eyes and landed him. On arriving at the battery the exultant fishing frog was jabbed again with the boathook, which a man then put over his shoulder, with the unhappy monster dangling at the end. The hole in his head was as big round as a half dollar, yet he tried pluckily to live it down, and only turned up his ventral fin after ten days.

The two biggest sea ravens also had a bitter experience. When they were hooked the enthusiastic amateur scientists put them into a pail than was too small for them, and consequently when they were put into the tank they remained bent like bows for several miserable hours. Now they are straightened out and as full of original sin as ever. The other specimens fared better after Prof. Woodman had gently hinted that fish were not made of boiler iron.

The anglers are naturally the most interesting fish of the lot to landlubbers, both on account of their habits and their hideous appearance. The angler is a pollywog monstrously magnified, with sea-weed trimmings. The two specimens in the aquarium are exceptionally perfect. The sea-weed like fringe along their jaws is unique, and as they possess the full complement of long tentacles on the beard and back. These they erect and wave gently in the water to attract small fish who think the deceitful things are something good to eat.

The Coney armies would have another cause for grievance against things in general if they could see those two anglers. They lie still with their chasms of mouths half open and the foolish killies, with which the tank is well supplied, swim right in. The angler does the rest. His mouth reaches clean to his tail, which is also curious, being exactly like a big, muscular hand.

The skate doesn't like the angler at all. When he was hove into the whale pool he swam around madly on the surface, flapping his wings like a turkey buzzard and turning up his eyes in disgust. The unmistakingly human-like face was twisted into an expression of hauteur embarrassing to witness. He is still discontented.

The conger eels, horrible basilisk-like creatures, don't care for anything. They just exist and nothing interferes with them, for their venomous shape scares even the blundering dog-fish, who, whenever they approach him, darts off in an "Excuse me a minute" fashion and pretends to be very hungry for killies. This is a palpable mockery, for he couldn't catch one in a thousand, except by accident.

It is interesting, however, to see him hunt them, for he drives them exactly like a hound drives a rabbit. The sturgeon doesn't pay any attention to these doings. He swims around gracefully, the Beau Brummel of the aquarium. The sea ravens —those wonderful, weird, grotesque creatures which can make themselves look like toadfish or sea robins or hackleheads, but preferably imitate rocks or seaweed—don't swim around much, because each raven has found some particular rock or clump of weeds which he now simulates wonderfully. The biggest one lies behind some brown bladderweed, which he resembles so closely that many people have failed to distinguish the fish from the weed until after long inspection. Another lies beside a weed-covered rock, and on Friday the writer could barely discover him.

Besides these fish there is a simple but most interesting collection in one of the big wall tanks. It comprises a magnificent glowing red sea anemone, half a dozen bengalis, a score of tom cods, several three-spined sticklebacks, half a dozen hackleheads (the thorny-headed sculpin, striped white and black like a zebra), about twenty sea horses, some shrimp, several crabs and lobsters and a school of the common killies.—New York World.

Jim Boot.

John Hay's verses reciting the heroism of Jim Bludso, who held the nozzle of his burning ship agin the bank till the last galoot was ashore, immortalized an imaginary hero, but the story of Engineer Boot's race for the lives of his passengers on the relief train sent out from St. Paul to rescue the people fleeing from the forest fires in Minnesota is from real life. The dispatches have told the graphic story of how the fire came in every window of his cab, and three times his clothes were ablaze. Had he abandoned the throttle of his engine, hundreds of lives would have been sacrificed, but he stood at his post urging his engine on and saving his passengers. Small wonder that the praises of Engineer Boot are on everybody's tongue!

FRUIT BUDS.

Doesn't your orchard want manuring? For apples and pears autumn planting is good enough.

Evidence of white spots among huckleberries and blackberries are hardly rare enough to deserve much fuss to be made over them.

The complaints of the authorities about zinc found in America dried apples, seems to be "much ado about nothing."

The English walnut may be a semi-tropical fruit, and not entirely hardy. But it flourishes and bears well in protected spots, especially in the the suburbs of cities, as far north as western New York and lower Canada.

Corn stalks cut in pieces two feet long (whole or split), set around the tree and tied top and bottom with willow or binder twine will stay on for three years, and protect the tree from sun-scald, borers, mice and rabbits. At least this is what one of our contemporaries says.

STILL EXTANT.

Are Some Old Virginian Customs of a Hundred Years Ago.

The genuine untouched Virginian of today has often been declared to be the most complete survival of Eighteenth Century England now in existence. There are certain Eighteenth Century customs and phrases and manners in common use there that have not been heard of in a hundred years in England. One of the quaintest is a custom of the road which died out in England when the post road and the traveling chariot went out of vogue.

In those days it was considered almost an affront for one traveling in a carriage to drive past another going the same way. The traveling class was made up generally of the rich and leisurely, and as they traveled along in their coaches to have another coach dash by and give back its dust and perhaps incite the coachman to a rage was considered highly indecorous. To "take one's dust" was a common expression of contempt. The custom was not without its uses in its day. But will it be believed that at the close of the Nineteenth Century this etiquette of the road is rigidly maintained, and that among well-bred people each equipage has to take the gait of the slowest?

True it is, some iconoclasts and outsiders drive past their fellow-travelers without compunction, but they, therefore, prove their claims to be called iconoclasts and outsiders. When it is a very pressing case, an apology is called out such as, "Pray, excuse me, but my horse is restless," or "I am in haste to catch the boat," or something of the kind. But to drive unblushingly ahead without a word of apology is considered the acme of ill-breeding.

The roads in this part of the world are not interesting, except for their natural beauty, as the people of wealth, following their English ancestors in practice, sought a proud seclusion for their houses. Only the poorest people built their homes on the main road, and one may travel from one end of this fair country to the other and not find a single handsome residence on the public highway. There was another and very practical reason for abjuring this public highway. Every man's house was at the service of every man, woman and child in the county.

An Arab hospitality obtained and was enjoyed to the full. The people who had undesirable homes were always willing to borrow their company upon their more fortunate neighbors, so that it wouldn't do to be too convenient to the main arteries of travel. Especially was this so when a visit from a family meant the entertaining of two coach horses, a coachman and a maid, for the negroes went visiting with the white people and enjoyed it just as much. Hospitality was one of their great virtues and is still, for those people exist in social virtues, and this particular virtue costs little.

It only meant the killing of a half dozen or more chickens for dinner, when there were hundreds, perhaps, scratching about in the poultry yard; and the gardens were overgrown with vegetables, for which there was neither sale nor consumption. There were icehouses full of ice and meadows full of cows, and ice cream was manufactured in a big tin freezer turned about in a keg of ice and salt. It took two women and a boy to make ice cream, but it took that many to do everything.

The icehouses are among the most picturesque features in the landscape here. A great mound of earth, thirty or forty feet high, was thrown up around a place that was bricked up and looked like a gigantic well. This was finished at the top by a circular coping. The sides of the mound were graded and turfed, and made nice places for boys and girls to roll down when the short, slippery grass was wet.—Philadelphia Press.

Seven Years Without a Birthday.

A Scottish clergyman who died thirty years ago—Mr. Leishman, of Kinross—used to tell that he once lived seven years without a birthday. The statement puzzled most who heard it. They could see that if he had been born on the 29th of February he would have no birthday except in a leap year. But leap year comes once in four years, and this accounts for a gap of three years old. Their first thought would, therefore, naturally be that the old man, who, in fact, was fond of a harmless jest, was somehow jesting about the seven. There was, however, no joke or trick in his assertion.

At the present time there can be very few, if there be any, who have this tale to tell of themselves, for one who can tell it must have been born on the 29th day of February at least ninety eight years ago. But a similar line of missing dates is now soon to return; and, indeed, there are, no doubt, some readers who will have only one birthday to celebrate for nearly twenty years to come.

The solution of the puzzle is to be found in the fact, which does not appear to be widely known, that the year 1800 was not a leap year, and 1900 will not be. The February of 1892 had twenty-nine days, but in all the seven years intervening between 1896 and 1904, as well as in the three between 1892 and 1896, that month will have only twenty-eight.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Cheap Artificial Teeth.

Inasmuch as real teeth are so easily lost it is a comfort to know that artificial ones cost only 15 to 18 cents each at the manufacturer's. One maker in New York sells 8,000,000 teeth every year. They are porcelain, composed chiefly of kaolin. The enamel is put on with metallic oxides, the process being so delicate that no two teeth are exactly alike in coloring. After being finished thousands of them are taken together and matched in shades. There are fifty different shades, corresponding to variations in the coloring of natural teeth. Defects are often made in false teeth so as to render them more deceptive to the eye. The best plates are of rubber. Celluloid is the prettiest material for the purpose, but it does not resist the acids of the mouth.—Providence Journal.

Snap Judgments.

An extremist is always a misfit.

Slyness is the only vice that does not write itself upon the face.

"A good shape is in the shears' mouth" and a good fit is all in the needle's eye.

If you wish to keep your friend you must laugh at his jokes, but you are not bound to hear his stories twice.

It is a mistake to endow a man with imaginary qualities. He knows no more than is known by his works.

Make allowance for the follies of youth and hope for the best. The cat, the gravest of all animals, is the most frisky when young.—Judge.

To Perfume Money.

A "money disinfectant" is the latest invention meant to woo coins from feminine pocketbooks. It is a perfumed button with a sandalwood fragrance intended to place in the pockets of a purse to sweeten the rumpled, greasy bills which carry unpleasant suggestions of their previous abiding places.

ART IN IRISH CABINS.

BEAUTIFUL WORK OF PEASANTS IN THE GREEN ISLE.

Just Coming Into Notice—Embroideries, Wood Carving and Earthenware—The Porcelain of Belleek—Frail and Beautiful Wares Produced by Skilled Hands.

In these days of drought—art drought—in the season between the going out and coming in of artists, one turns any place for rare findings, and that is how it comes about that out of the depths of the Irish Store, on Wabash avenue, says the Chicago Times, there was raked up the other day some of the rarest bits of wood carving, embroidery, and Belleek porcelain in the city.

The carving was of course of bogwood, that wood which soaks in the bogs until it is black as ebony and twice as beautiful. It was in all odd shapes, and the articles were both ornamental and useful.

Owls and other birds of the night looked with ill-omened eyes out of the case in which they stood, and tall candlesticks told eerie tales of Irish homes and Irish bogles. On them were carved the great wolf dogs—the dogs of Ireland long since passed away, save in the traditions of the people.

Fanciful trays and boxes, tiny vases and paper cutters, everything to which the wood carver turns his attention, were there; and all the work of the peasants of Ireland. Beautiful to look upon, and yet something one must approach with selfassured heart, because each carved leaf and scroll, each tiny feather of bird, each hair of the gaunt wolf dog, tells the story of a gaunter wolf which ever stands at the Irish peasant's door.

And so with the embroidery. In every stitch it was what we call high art, and yet Mrs. White, whose heart and soul is with Lady Aberdeen in her work, says: "Each stitch, each drawn thread there, tells a story to me of hunger and privations. My country women work these things in peasant homes, where never a ray of hope enters, unless—unless it is the hope of death."

And looking at them through Mrs. White's eyes one could no longer see the rare embroideries as one looks at those turned out by machines, but each bit of linen seemed stamped with the individuality of her whose fingers had beautified it. Upon each leaf and flower some woman's tears had dropped, and with the stitches some woman's heart strings had been woven in the cloth. There were visions of homes of which we cannot conceive, earthen floors and peat fires; of hungry women and wailing children; of men grown desperate with suffering.

But over all and through it all art seems to have held sway—the art of the needle and ofttimes the pocket-knife. Painters and sculptors will probably not be inclined to accept this.

To them art means only the covering of canvas with paint, or the cutting of stone, or moulding of plaster into form, but the layman accepts more. Perhaps it needed the rare embroideries of Japan to open our eyes to the fact that needlework may encroach upon the realm of art, but having once been opened they will never be closed.

And so it is that among the artists the Irish peasant, man or woman, is not all unworthy to stand. With the needle and with the knife they work, as they have worked for generations, but no longer without recognition.

As for Irish porcelain, that is different. There is no need to plead its cause. For the matter of twenty years or more Americans have been proud to own a piece of Belleek porcelain. It is manufactured in Belleek, Lough Erne, Fermanagh County, and the only porcelain works Ireland can boast.

The ware is peculiarly beautiful. The glaze is iridescent, of a lustrous silvery appearance. It is translucent and is like an eggshell in thinness. It is rarely made in conventional patterns, the designs usually possessing all the charm of originality. A favorite shape is that of a shell, and when made in that form it is hard to detect it from a beautiful sea shell, so like the pearly lining is the glazed surface. France and England both try to duplicate the Belleek ware, but have to substitute an artificial metallic glaze to produce the luster of mother-of-pearl.

How Coolness Saved a Panic.

"The presence of mind displayed by the members of a small theatrical troupe who were playing in a frame building in one of the mining towns of Colorado last winter struck me as being almost heroic," said Clement Sawyer, of Cincinnati. "I had struck the town on business and to pass away an hour in the evening had looked into the little hall to see a travelling company give a representation of 'The Danites.' The performance was by no means bad and I was getting quite interested in the adventures of the heroine, when all at once I noticed the stage manager beckon the star to the screens which served as wings. He whispered something hurriedly and a second later the star fell heavily on the stage as though in a faint. The curtain was rung down and the stage manager, coming to the front, stated that owing to the sudden and dangerous illness of the leading actor the performance could not go on. A free entertainment would be given on the following evening to make up for the shortening of the play. The audience began to file out quietly and the hall was nearly half empty when a burst of fire came through the curtain. The shanty, for it was little more, had caught fire behind the scenes and the stage manager's idea was to get out the bulk of the audience before a panic set in. He succeeded so well that, although, of course, the building was burned to the ground, no one was hurt and the men who had been cheering the actors a few minutes before helped to save adjoining buildings by stretching wet blankets over the roofs."—St. Louis Globe Democrat.

Disgusted the Tramp.

Two traveling men stood in one of the front corridors of a hotel the other afternoon when a ragged old tramp hobbled across from his dump siesta on a bench. He walked as though a bed of broken glass were underneath his heavy feet and his face was furrowed by lines of care and pain.

"See that old chap?" said one of the drummers to the other as the tramp reached the curb. "I saw him last evening on the street. I was standing with a friend in front of a cigar store when he came along, and he evidently thought we were good for a dime, as he limped up to us, took off that ragged cap, and began to unfold a pitiful tale of hard luck and woe—said his feet were frozen last winter and that he had almost lost them.

"'Gents,' he said, 'I can hardly walk.'

"'Have you ever tried to ride a wheel, my friend?' asked my friend.

"You should have seen the look of disgust the old fellow cast over his shoulder at us as he walked away. What do you think of a man who will propound such a question to a tramp with frozen feet?"

PETER'S MISTAKE.

He Really Lost Money on That $24 Investment.

History tells us that 268 years ago, or in 1626, Peter Minuit bought Manhattan Island from the Indians, and paid for it $24 in merchandise.

It has usually been thought that Peter took advantage of the ignorance of the untutored savage, and made an excellent bargain for himself.

No doubt but that Peter thought it was a good trade, particularly when he considered the value of lots after the streets would be laid out, Central Park improved, Brooklyn Bridge built, and the island had a population of 2,000,000; for Peter was a shrewd real estate speculator, and looked a long way ahead with a correct, prophetic eye.

Notwithstanding all of Peter's shrewdness and foresight he made the mistake of his life, and lost millions of dollars by his purchase. He didn't stop to figure interest.

Since 1626 the rate of interest in this country, where money has always been in demand, has ranged from six per cent up to highway robbery. It will be conservative to say that eight per cent is a fair average.

Now, if Peter had loaned his $24 at eight per cent compound interest, from then until this date, what would its value be compared with the value of Manhattan Island.

At 8 per cent. compound interest money will double once in about nine years. Now, there have been twenty-nine times nine years, and seven years more, since Peter made his purchase. Then, if he had loaned his $24 he would have had nearly $400,000 at the end of the first 100 years, and more than $200,000,000 at the close of the second century, while in 1894 his principal of $24 would have grown to be $20,000,000,000—the value of Manhattan Island many times over.

So, in fact the Indians got the best of the bargain, and no doubt they chuckled over the situation as they walked down through Baxter street with the $24 dollars worth of merchandize on their arms.—New York World.

HE WEAKENED.

She Cured Him, and in Her Own Way, Too.

They had too seats next the aisle. He had been interested during the first act, laughing immoderately at the low comedian and applauding after the manner of a business person who has spent $3 for two good seats and is determined to get $4 worth of entertainment in encores.

As soon as the curtain fell, however, he began to show signs of uneasiness. The usual procession of young and old men filed out until the parquet seemed empty in spots. He turned about in his seat and watched them.

"Why do all these men go out?" she asked.

"To get a breath of fresh air or smoke a cigarette or——"

"Take a drink, I suppose."

"Well, maybe they do."

"Then, it's a shame that a man can't go to the theatre and sit through an evening without running out to get liquor."

"It's not liquor; it's beer."

"What's the difference? Don't you want a drink of water?"

The boy with the tray of ice-water served them, and the young man settled back with a sigh of resignation.

After the second act he said nothing, but he refused the ice-water. When the curtain had fallen on the third act he said, with a sudden determination: "I believe I'll step out for a moment."

"No sir; you stay here."

"I want a breath of fresh air and——"

He bolted away, leaving her red faced and bubbling with indignation.

A rich, malty aroma permeated that part of the theatre as he resumed his seat.

"This is the last act, isn't it?" he asked. No reply.

"I want to tell you right now the only way you can reform me is by kindness. No? No more conversation? Very well."

They did not exchange another word. At the close of the performance she followed him out. She had her lips tight pursed and deliberately looked in an opposite direction every time he glanced at her.

At the corner he hailed a car, but, when he attempted to assist her she would not allow him. She sat down and he sat beside her. Then she rose and moved to the other side of the car.

"Chilly evening," he observed. She looked out of the window.

Presently the conductor came through and said to her, "Fare please."

She nodded in the direction of the young man, who handed the conductor a nickel.

"How about this young lady?"

"I don't know her; never saw her before."

The conductor turned to her and said, "I must ask you for your fare."

For a moment she hesitated, and then said: "Stop the car, I'll walk home."

The conductor reached for the rope, and at that moment the young man weakened. "Here's your money," said he. Then he went over and sat beside her.

"What's the use!" said he.

"You'll never take another drink?"

"Never."

Peace was at once declared.—Chicago Record.

Lives in His Own Way.

The London costermonger is a man who lives his own life without regard to what his neighbors are doings. He has his own peculiar way. He resents interference with his mode of living and looks his door against the curious and inquisitive. He forms part of that great class that never emerge from their surroundings. Born in the heart of London, crushed into a narrow, foul-smelling, unhealthy spot reeking with crime and vice, his pleasures are necessarily of a low order. The honest dwellers of Whitechapel become costermongers and try to earn a living by hawking cat meat, whelks, mussels and vegetables throughout the streets. He hunts for rags and empty bottles, gathers up cigar stumps from the gutters and does many other things to turn an honest penny. The remaining dwellers of Whitechapel who lack the energy and character of the coster becomes loafers and often develop into thieves. Whitechapel has a black record in the criminal annals of England, yet, in spite of the misery and degradation of his surroundings, the coster, with all his roughness and rudeness, shines like a bright pearl in the mire.

Tribute to Departed Worth.

"That man Ardup," said the man in the mackintosh, "was as good hearted a fellow as ever lived, but he was always in debt and always hounded by creditors. Poor fellow! He deserves a better epitaph than an unfeeling posterity will engrave on his tombstone."

"Well dunned, good and faithful servant," suggested the man who had his feet on the table, and a deep silence fell on the group.

A WONDERFUL DELIVERANCE FROM SUFFERING.

COULD NOT TURN IN BED OR WALK WITHOUT HELP.

Paine's Celery Compound the Great Medicine that has Rescued Thousands in the Past, Cures Mrs. Vince.

MRS. M. J. VINCE, BARRIE, ONT.

From day to day the people of Canada fondly praise the marvellous cures of Paine's Celery Compound. Physicians know well that there is but one medicine in the world that can grapple with Sciatica, Rheumatism, and all the troubles that lead on to these dreadful diseases.

Hundreds have been cured by nature's great nerve medicine, Paine's Celery Compound, after having been discharged from hospitals as incurable. We can show the people the records of these cures, and the cured ones are well known in their several districts. No other medicine can show such evidence, simply because other medicines have not the curing virtues need ed by the suffering and afflicted.

If you suffer, dear reader, or have suffering relatives and friends, we would utter a few words of warning. Do not be talked into mixtures of pills that will only prolong your months of agony and suffering. Insist upon getting Paine's Celery Compound; with it you are sure to banish your pain and troubles.

Hundreds of people in Barrie, Ont., know of Mrs. M. J. Vince, and her happy release from suffering through the use of Paine's Celery Compound.

The Rev. M. McGrath, Episcopal Minister of Barrie, vouches for the lady's statements.

Mrs. Vince writes as follows:—

"I am happy to say that I have taken Paine's Celery Compound with great result. I had sciatica so badly that I could not turn in bed, or walk without help; and for a period of three weeks was helplessly laid up and suffered pain that at times was unbearable.

"I tried many medicines, but all in vain, I was afterwards recommended to try Paine's Celery Compound. I used six bottles and am entirely cured, and enjoy good health. I take great pleasure in recommending the valuable medicine that cured me."

ONTARIO MUTUAL LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY.

S. Burrows, Esq., General Agent, Ontario Mutual Life Co., Belleville, Ont.

DEAR SIR, Received your company's check for $2,000 for our Matured Endowment, and we both wish to show our gratitude to you and the Company for the straightforward and satisfactory way you deal with policy holders, and that we are more than satisfied with our investment. I will always urge our friends to follow in our footsteps. Thanking you very kindly.

Yours very sincerely,
Mr. & Mrs. GOODWIN, Bowmanville,
Formerly of Belleville.

Only Ten Cents ...PER WEEK...

Will secure you the....

Finest Collection ...of... Canadian Scenes

Ever Published.

It is a Purely Canadian Production.

Canadian Paper,
Canadian Views,
Canadian Printing,
Canadian Cuts.

Everything that enters into its production is Canadian, and as a work of art is equalled by few and surpassed by none of the American publications.

Every Canadian Should Secure This Valuable Collection of Canadian Scenes.

We have secured the right for this locality and will issue One Part Each Week.

See Coupon upon another page of this paper, cut it out and remit to this office with Ten Cents.

The "Intelligencer" P. & P. Co.,

LIMITED.

BELLEVILLE, ONT.

DR. FOWLER'S EXT. OF WILD STRAWBERRY CURES COLIC CHOLERA CHOLERA-MORBUS DIARRHOEA DYSENTERY AND ALL SUMMER COMPLAINTS OF CHILDREN OR ADULTS Price 35 CTS BEWARE OF IMITATIONS

HAPPY HOME RANGES.

Best in the Market.

—ALSO—

A Full Line of

Art Garland and Famous Heaters.

—(o)—

Wm. McGIE.

Next to Nathan Jones.
Telephone 38. Front St

SPORT.

Lacrosse Sticks,
Foot Balls,
Tennis Goods,
Croquet, etc.,
Base Ball Supplies.

Also, Wall Paper, Window Shades, Hammocks, Fans, Purses, Albums, Bibles and Novels.

—AT—

Overell's Book Store.

Next to Glasgow Warehouse.

LANDSEER'S OLD HOME.

WILL SOON BE NOTHING BUT A MEMORY OF THE PAST.

About to be Demolished to Make Room For a Railway—Reminiscences of the Place and its Owner—The Old Gardener Tells of the Place.

The railway companies are on the point of adding one more to their long list of crimes, and in a few days Sir Edwin Landseer's home in St. John's wood road, London, will be a thing of the past. A northern railway is to be cut through St. John's wood, and the two and a half acres of ground that Sir Edwin's old house and garden at present occupy are to be given over to blue tiled, stuccoed villas for the reception of the homeless. It is, no doubt, a prosaic enough reason for doing away with a historic house, and of course the average sentimentalist will rave a good deal and quote largely from Ruskin's most approved passages. But, before calling an indignation meeting, the average sentimentalist is advised to go and see the house. It will probably make him pause in his undertaking. Anything more unlike what one would naturally expect of such an artist's house could not be imagined. It is the color of gray plaster, awkwardly constructed, rambling, and unpardonably commonplace. There is no exaggeration in saying that it passeth the permission of even architectural ugliness. Any ordinary man would have lived in it, but no one but a genius would have been allowed to build it. When an artist designs his own house—as Sir Edwin did his—one at least expects it to have an individuality of its own. But in this case, except for a reproduction on the porch of part of the frieze on the Parthenon, the house differs in no respect from that of an ordinary country gentleman. True, there a few niches at stated intervals in the outside walls, filled with little groups of sculptured figures, but it takes more than that for a house to establish an artistic reputation. As it is, one can easily imagine an ennobled soap boiler walking through the grounds, and dwelling with a smug complacency on its substantial well-to-do appearance.

Of course the house has associations enough, sentimental and otherwise. Landseer bought it in 1825, when he was 23 years old, and lived in it till his death at the age of 71. In those days it was a little farmhouse with six rooms, and, perhaps, a great deal prettier than it is now. In it he painted, probably, not far short of 100 pictures. With the standing exception of Sir Joshua Reynolds' house in Leicester square, it has received within its walls more distinguished visitors than any other artist's house in London. But these associations seem, somehow, to lose their force when one in confronted with its hideousness. As for the inside, the rooms are large and airy and nicely arranged. The studio is on the ground floor, forming an entire wing by itself, with two large side windows, but no skylight. In it Sir Edwin painted for nearly fifty years, clad for the most part in a gray tweed suit and wearing a wide green shade on his eyes. There has been a good deal of talk about painted panels which Sir Edwin was said to have perpetrated. One in particular the queen is reported to have greatly admired. I asked old William Pedder, Sir Edwin's gardener and attendant, about it.

"Well, sir," was his answer, "all I can say is that I was 'ere when the queen came, and that's the door as she came in by."

I looked, expecting to find minature "Monarchs of the Glen" painted all over it, but there was only a streak or two of whitewash visible. It was just such a door as an average man with a moderate list of acquaintances sees about 5,000 times a year. But, then, there is no limit to the immagination of a hardened journalist.

"Would you mind showing me the rustic seat on which Sir Edwin carved his name?" I inquired.

"I never 'eard tell of no such thing, sir," said the honest Pedder, shocked at the mere idea that his late master could ever have played such pranks without his knowledge.

William Pedder is a short, comfortable-looking man with a kindly face and twinkling eyes—a kind of plagiarism from the "old blue-coated servitors" and "faithful retainers" whom one comes across persistently in the novels of fifty years ago. He entered Sir Edwin's service as gardener some thirty-five years ago and remained in it till his master's death. As the man in whose arms Sir Edwin died Will Pedder will have some claim to be remembered by posterity. There is a certain pathos about the relations between the two men in the closing years of Sir Edwin's life, when his mind, worn out by the stress of nearly seventy laborious years, had begun to show unmistakable signs of failing powers.

"About two years before his death," said Pedder, "I was bending over the clump of this tree here when Sir Edwin runs out of the studio up to me and put his hand on my shoulder and says: 'Will you be my friend?' And from that day, sir, I never left him, and he wouldn't let any other man come near him."

Peddler is full of the kindest reminiscences of his master, and shows with pride two or three pictures which Sir Edwin gave him with an affectionate inscription written in a great, ugly, scrawling hand.

In his best days Landseer was an indefatigable diner-out and fond of entertaining at St. John's wood. It is said that at one of these parties his butler entered the drawing-room after dinner and asked in a quite ordinary, matter-of-fact tone: "Did you order a lion, sir?" The guests looked nervously at the door, but Landseer boldly went out and found in the hall a dead lion that had been sent "with the compliments of the secretary of the zoological gardens." A better known anecdote—also located (without proof) at St. John's wood—tells how Sir Edwin once asked Sydney Smith to sit to him, to which the divinely irreverent one answered: "Is thy servant a dog that he should do this thing?" If this is true, it certainly does seem a pity that the house is going to be pulled down.

An Unsatisfactory Liege.

He—I'm not half as bad a husband as you thought I'd be, am I?

She—No; you've been disappointing in everything.—Truth.

Not Up in Tennis.

Mrs. Homestead (from the letter)—Wa-al, I swanny! ef Hirim don't wanter hev us send him two dollars fer a tennis racket. Naow this is goin' too fer alto——

Mr. Homestead (interrupting)—Send it along, Mariar. Boys 'll be boys, an' they might 's well go through th' mill fust as last. (Aside.) Durned ef I kin kick on thet. It use' ter cost me over four dollars, when I wuz his age, ter git full on lager.

VALUABLE REMEDY.

Inhaling Cologne Water Will Check Asthma, So It Is Said.

Attacks of asthma may be brought on by the most varied and singular causes; different sorts of scents, the odor of raspberries, as was the case of Claude Bernard; the smell of hay, the vapor of a sulphur match that has just been lighted, the dust from oats or powdered ipecacuanha. One patient will have asthma in the north, but will be free from it in the south; another will have asthma in Paris, but will be perfectly well in Vienna; still another will have the most terrible attacks as long as he is in Egypt, but will be relieved as soon as he gets to sea.

It is generally admitted nowadays that the attack of asthma is due to a spasm of the inspiratory muscles, and that the origin of the trouble is some stimulation of the nasal mucous membrane. On the other hand, it is also known that a vigorous stimulation of the mucous membrane of the nose may put an end to an attack of asthma; therefore in this purely nervous phenomenon the same cause may either bring on or put an end to the attack.

It is on this peculiarity that are based a certain number of methods of treatment of an attack of asthma, and the latest born of these methods consists in sniffing eau de cologne. My readers may remember that I made known to them the process whereby M. Roux of Lyons cuts short colds in the head and chest at their beginning. It consists in having the patients inhale by the mouth and nose for about two minutes and about four or five times a day about fifty drops of cologne water. It is now claimed that the same method will put an end to an attack of asthma.

The Human Leg.

Our Paris correspondent writes: A French caricaturist has been showing us what cyclists will come to in a few generations. The future "veloce man" is from the hips up like the definition of a line—length without breadth. Below the belt he is swollen out with hard flesh and muscles, and the calves are monstrously big. Prof. Yung, of the Geneva University, on the other hand, believes that the time is coming when human beings will have no legs to speak of. What with cycling, the great end of civilization now seems to be to enable us to move about without using feet and legs. It is fast getting on to electrical hackney coaches and rudder balloons. The tendency is to throw all the muscular activity into the hands and arms. Prof. Yung believes that the future human creature will have the merest survivals of nether limbs and arms of great length.

Teeth will probably be dwarfed also by the constant use of soft foods that need not be chewed, but as the march of intellect will increase in pace the brain will develop. Of course the standards of beauty with these anatomical changes will alter. When they do, a person with a set of teeth such as would now excite the admiration of a dentist would almost seem a beast of prey.—London Daily News.

Plucky Little Praying Mantis.

Most people have heard of and seen pictures of the "praying mantis," a curious insect of large size, so named from the devotional attitude it assumes when watching for its prey. It lives on caterpillars such as injure apple trees. A large number of these valuable insects were hatched out in the vivarium at the State Horticultural society's rooms yesterday, and by evening had grown to be as large as mosquitoes. A great number of caterpillars are being reared for them to feed upon, and it was wonderful to see the tiny mantis, as soon as it had straightened out its legs, start off up the branch of an apple tree on which the young caterpillars, now two weeks old, were feeding. One little mantis not more than ten minutes old, tackled a caterpillar ten times as heavy as himself, but was put to flight. The eggs of the mantis were sent from Japan, and the insects raised are eventually to be distributed among orchardists to destroy caterpillars and other insect pests.—Portland Oregonian.

The White and Black Cross Fish.

Both China and Japan have long been known as lands where rare forms of both vegetable and animal life exist, but I don't remember of ever having seen anything in print until lately concerning the "cross fish," a piscatorial wonder which abounds in the fresh waters of both countries. The rarest specimen of the two is the one known of the Japs by a term signifying "the fish of the black cross." It is a pink-colored fish (belonging to the goldfish family), only about four inches long, and seemingly almost transparent, with the exception of a jet black cross extending down the back, with side arms pointing down and outward toward the lateral fins. The "white cross fish" appears to be but a variety of the above described species, resembling it in general outline of form. In this variety the skin is of a more decided red and the tail broader and more flattened. It takes its common name from the fact that both sides are marked with perfect figures of white crosses.

Freak of a Sleep-Walker.

Simon Bunte, aged forty, came out of his boarding-house last night at 10 o'clock and paraded down Mississippi street. The peculiarity of Bunte's outing was that he was sound asleep, and had on not a stitch of clothing. As he ambled along, his hands folded behind him, pedestrians shied from him, believing him insane. An acquaintance summoned up courage and asked Bunte what he meant by this shattering of the proprieties, but he merely grunted and went on his way. Finally he turned into an alley, lay down on the cobblestones and continued his sleep. The police aroused him and loaded him into the patrol-wagon and took him to the police station. The jolting of the Black Maria awakened him, and, realizing his predicament, he was overwhelmed with mortification. This morning in court it was shown to be a plain case of somnambulism, and the prisoner was released.—Indianapolis Journal.

Just the Reverse.

She—Do you believe in fortune-telling by cards?

He—No; but I believe in fortune losing in that way.—Boston Beacon.

Oh, Yes.

When some ministers struggle with a sermon a limited-round contest is preferable to a fight to a finish.—Yonkers Gazette.

Quite So.

The "hey-day" of life generally comes when we grow hard of hearing.—Richmond Dispatch.

Romaunt.

He wore a coat of shining mail,
A visor closed and tight;
Like a soldier of crusades
And wars he was benight.

And when with wassail good and pipes
He filled the dusk with light,
The neighbors knew there was a sound
Of revelry by knight.

—J. J. Meehan.

A NOCTURNE.

The moonlight falls upon thy hair
And turns its gold to molten silver,
It shines across thy melting eyes
And sets their shining orbs aquiver.

We hear the music from afar,
The dancers yet are lightly tripping,
While fast the hours on wings of bliss
Toward the morn are swiftly slipping.

We've left the crush and glaring lights,
The hot perfume of withered flowers,
And found a cool, secluded spot
Amidst the garden's moonlit bowers.

I sit beside thee, yet far away
Thy heart is in another's keeping,
I hush the words of love I feel
Lest thou shouldst know my inward weeping.

The music sounds a sobbing waltz,
An echo of my heart's sad sorrow,
I gaze within thine eyes once more,
For I must leave thee on the morrow.

Thou'lt wed the one thou lovest best,
While I become a hopeless rover.
The music's hushed, the dance is done,
Good night—a sigh, and all is over.

The moonlight falls upon thy hair
And turns its gold to molten silver,
It shines on thee, but ah, on me
The shadows fall, to rest forever.

THE FUSSY MAN.

He Does More Than He Thinks to Spoil a Home.

If there is one thing a real womanly woman despises more than another it is a fussy man. She can never overlook effeminate qualities in the other sex; yet there are certain little qualities of character make-up not essentially masculine that go such a long way toward making her lot a happier one. The helpful man need not be a Miss Nancy by any means because he sees to putting away his clothes instead of leaving them strewn about for the wife to gather up. He is not one whit less manly because he does not throw cigar ashes on the floor, but puts them in the place allotted for such debris.

Some lords of creation, spoiled from boyhood by mothers and sisters who waited on them hand and foot, do not realize the amount of unnecessary work they cause their wives by habits of negligence so easily conquered if only they would think a little.

Very few men realize what a well-kept, pleasant home means to a wife. They cannot understand the genuine affection women have for chairs and tables, and that a scratch on one or a stain on the other is a real wound to their feelings. Of course men appreciate a perfect ensemble, but so few help their wives to keep up this high standard. Comfort suggests putting up the feet on the window sill—up they go; result, paint spoiled and woodwork marred—wife naturally vexed. Comfort suggests leaning back in a spindle-legged chair with head resting on delicately-tinted wall paper. The only wonder in this case is that the result is not far more disastrous than it usually is, and that the ease-loving gentleman does not get a much-deserved tumble. In a dozen ways a man unwittingly adds to his wife's labors, while a tiny bit of thought, which means no diminution of his personal comfort, would so materially augment hers. Easy-going husbands, who seldom think, begin to think now.—Philadelphia Times.

Dulcin and Dogs.

Dulcin, or sucrol, a new sweetening agent, which is said to be from 200 to 250 times as sweet as sugar, was first produced by J. Berlinerblau. Structurally it must be described as para-pueuacetol carbamid. It is an aromatic uric acid derivative related to phenacetin. It is a white powder which melts at 173 degrees C. to 174 degrees C., and is soluble in about 800 parts of water at 15 degrees C., fifty parts of boiling water, and twenty-five parts of a cold 90 per cent. solution of alcohol. These particulars are taken from a contribution by Professor Kobert, of Dorpat, to the Centralblatt fur Innere Medicin. Particulars as to its physiological effects are also given. Dogs seems comparatively senseless to Dulcin, dying with such evidences of blood destruction as icterus, while rabbits appear to be quite impervious to its influence. Professor Kobert relates his own experience with the drug in the case of cats. These animals reveal no evidence of blood destruction, but seem to die with symptoms of cerebral paralysis; this is also the manner of death of frogs subjected to subcutaneous injections of dulcin. These are, of course, the extreme effects of poisonous doses. In the relatively small doses necessary for sweetening the food of biabetic patients and the obese, Professor Kobert considers the agent harmless, and mentions a case in which eight grammes were taken daily for three weeks with impunity. The Lancet says it is quite evident, however, from the physiological experiences related that care is necessary in the use of this article.

It Was the Fourteenth.

"No," said the man who was waiting for his turn in the barber shop, "I'm not superstitious, but I have a kind of horror of the number thirteen, and I think a good many other men have the same kind of sentiment about it. I had only one experience, but that was a peculiar one."

"Did you sleep in No. 13 in a hotel?" asked the man to whom he was talking.

"No. I went to Pontiac to attend the funeral of a friend and was invited with others who were at the services to dine at the house of a relative of the deceased—his neice, in fact. When we sat at table our hostess, who was assisting in waiting upon us, remarked that there were just thirteen at the table. She had a beautiful child, two years of age, and to break the spell she brought the little fellow and put him in my arms. He was much admired and was passed from one to another until his mother was ready to sit down, when he was taken away."

"Well, what happened? Did some one die before the year was out?"

"That's the strange part of it. It was not one of the thirteen guests who died, but the little child, who was brought in to break the spell."

His voice faltered, and he looked thoughtful as he took his seat in the tonsorial chair.

Within the Law.

Sunday-school Teacher (to Chinese pupil)—John, it is against the law to sell opium in this Christian country.

Chinese John—Alle light. Me stop selle opium and startee gin-mill.

Brief and Bright Proverbs.

Big words won't split rails.
Where fathers flee mothers fight.
Sweat is the champion fertilizer.
The blackguard is the thief of slime.
Most farms pasture too many fences.
Ache corns do not grow on boot trees.
Scalding tears will sear the fairest cheek.
Bank books contain many tales of fashion.
Short sermons make wide-awake Christians.
Art loses nothing by conceding modesty a fig leaf.
Guns without foresight shoot wide of the mark.
A toothbrush should go with every dirty story.

Daily Intelligencer.

The Ahr Valley.

It is becoming the custom among European travellers to stop at Remagen on the Rhine, and make a little excursion to the beautiful Valley of the Ahr, with its picturesque villages along the vine clad slope. Here is also located the spring from which flows that world wide favorite "Apollinaris Water." At Neuenahr, in the valley, the river Ahr is very beautiful, and one can find few more quaintly attractive spots than the Upper Gate at Ahrweiler, or the old mill at Hoppingen.

A tax on dogs was levied in Rome during the reign of Nero.

For Over Fifty Years

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for children teething. It soothes the child, sof ens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhœa. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by druggists throughout the world.

17d&w1y

In the time of Queen Anne soap was taxed £28 per ton.

Dear Sirs.—I have used Yellow Oil for two or three years, and think it has no equal for croup. Mrs. J. S. O'Brien, Huntsville, Ont.

The tithes in England amounted to £4,050,000 a year.

Dyspepsia and Indigestion.—C. W. Snow & Co., Syracuse, N.Y., writes: "Please send us ten gross of Pills. We are selling more of Parmelee's Pills than any other Pill we keep. They have a great reputation for the cure of Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint." Mr. Chas. A. Smith, Lindsay, writes: "Parmelee's Pills are an excellent medicine. My sister has been troubled with severe headache, but these pills have cured her."

Russia raises $1,5000,000 a year by the sale of passports.

That tired, languid feeling and dull heseache is very disagreeable. Take two of Carter's Little Liver Pills before retiring, and you will find relief. They never fail ot do good.

SAFE

BRISTOL'S SUGAR-COATED

VEGETABLE PILLS

EASY TO TAKE — INFALLIBLE

PROMPT

LAKEHURST SANITARIUM
OAKVILLE, ONT.

For treatment and cure of
ALCHOLISM, MORPHINE HABIT,
TOBACCO HABIT AND
NERVOUS DISEASES

The system employed at this institution is the familiar Double Chloride of Gold System. Through its agency over 200,000 Slaves to the use of these poisons have been emancipated in the last fourteen years. Lakehurst Sanitarium is the oldest Institution of the kind in Canada, and has a well earned reputation to main ain in this line of medicine. In its whole history there is not an instance of failure to remove the appetite for these poisons. In its whole history there is not an instance of any after ill-effects from the treatment. Hundreds of happy homes in all parts of the Dominion bear eloquent witness to the efficacy of a course of treatment with us. For terms and full information write

THE SECRETARY,
28 Bank of Commerce Chambers,
aug7d3m34w3m) Toronto, Ont.

Trafalgar Institute.
(Affiliated to McGill University.)
No. 83 Simpson Street, Montreal.
— FOR THE —
Higher Education
OF
Young Women

With preparatory department for girls between 10 and 14.
President, Rev. James Barclay, D.D.
Vice-President, Mr. A. T. Drummond.
Principal, Miss Grace Fairley, M.A., Edinburgh.
The institute will re-open with an efficient staff of twelve resident and visiting teachers, on
Tuesday, 11th September 1894.
The Institute buildings are situated on the mountain side overlooking the City. The spacious grounds are attractively laid out and the surroundings are not only beautiful but very healthful.
For copy of Prospectus and other information apply to the principal, at the Institute, or to
A. F. Riddell, Secretary, 22 St. John St., Montreal.

STOVE PIPES!
STOVE PIPES!!
STOVE PIPES!!!

WHIPS!	LANTERNS!
WHIPS!!	LANTERNS!!
WHIPS!!!	LANTERNS!!!
Lamps,	Flower Pots,
Lamps,	Flower pots,
Lamps,	Flower Pots.

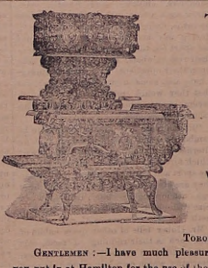

—AT—
THE FAIR,
N WEEKS, Manager.

Before putting up your STOVES have the
TRIMMINGS RE-PLATED
— AT THE —
BELLEVILLE PLATING WORKS
HARRIS & WALTON'S FACTORY, MILL ST.

A STRAIGHT TIP
— TO BUYERS OF —
SOAP.
— THE GREAT DEMAND FOR —
BABY'S OWN
Has led many dealers to sell it at a very low margin of profit. Others unwilling to sell so low, will try and induce purchasers to buy other lines on which they make more profit,
BEWARE OF THIS
BABY'S OWN is made of Pure Castile Soap, and exquisitely perfumed, and leaves the skin soft, smooth and fresh.
ALBERT TOILET SOAP CO.,
— MANUFACTURERS. —

A GOOD, WARM, CHEERFUL FIRE!
Will soon be in order as the cold weather is rapidly approaching
SO . . . . .
. . . Do not Lose any Time
In ordering your supply of Telephone C 68. Coal and Wood
. . . FROM . . .
S. A. LAZIER & SON'S.
The Leading Coal and Wood Merchants.

THE......
SOUVENIR....
RANGE......
What Miss Surridge, Principal of the Toronto School of Cookery, Says :--

Toronto, Monday, April 2nd, 1894.
Gentlemen :—I have much pleasure in saying SOUVENIR RANGE you put in at Hamilton for the use of the cooking class recently held there, gave me Every Satisfaction. It is certainly the Very Best Stove I have ever used, being Cleanly, Reliable, and Most Economical, consuming an Astonishingly small quantity of Fuel.
I have the honor to remain, yours sincerely,
Signed, FLORENCE SURRIDGE.

C. F. Smith & Co.,
AGENTS, - - BELLEVILLE.

CLIC AND CHOLERA MORBUS
ALWAYS PROMPTLY CURED BY
PERRY DAVIS' PAIN-KILLER

Floor Oil Cloths...
We have now in stock, FLOOR OIL CLOTHS up to 24 ft. wide
....FOR STOVES!
- - ALSO A LINE - -
ENGLISH OIL CLOTHS
Suitable for under Stoves at 30c. sq. yd.
NATHAN JONES.

The Sale of Boots and Shoes:
Slightly damaged by Smoke and Water will continue until everything is sold.
HAINES & LOCKETT
Opposite Anglo-American Hotel

Belleville and Napanee, Office, Bridge St. Telephone A. 4.
COAL — AND — WOOD.
THOS. STEWART,
The only dealer in Scranton Coal in Belleville and Napanee. The very best facilities for delivering to any part of the city or surrounding towns this coal, which is the best and cheapest mined.
No Gas. No Clinkers. No Waste
Clean, quick, hot, strong, cheerful fire. Smithing, Cannell, Brier Hill, Run of Mine coal and Coal Screenings always on hand. Hard and soft wood, Blocks and Edgings delivered to any part of the City.

GENTLEMEN....
Before ordering your Fall Clothing don't fail to take a look through
A. N. REID'S
New Fall Importations of
Scotch, English and Irish Suitings, Overcoatings, Pantings, Irish Serges, Cheviots, Hop Sackings and Black Worsteds
First Class Goods and Prices low.
Mr. Minor, our cutter, is one of the best in Ontario.
EVERY GARMENT GUARANTEED!!
Please call and inspect our New Goods.
A. N. REID.

RIBBONS!
We have an extra large stock of Ribbons on hand in all the light and fancy shades including
BABY RIBBONS,
SILK " "
SATIN " "
MOIRE " "
ETC., - ETC.
Our prices are the lowest, and we will be pleased to have you give us a call whenever wanting Ribbons.
SILK ELASTICS....
We have a splendid stock of Fancy Silk Elastic, made in Yellow, Blue, Green, Orange, Cardinal, Black, Pink, Mauve, White. All one price, 25c yard, at
THE BEEHIVE
CHAS. N. SULMAN

BEST QUALITY
CANADIAN "Silver Star,"
—AND—
AMERICAN "Water White"
COAL OIL.
Delivered promptly to any part of the city,
D. M. WATERS.

ALLAN LINE,
Royal Mail Steamships. Liverpool, Calling at Moville.

	From Montreal daylight	From Quebec
PARISIAN	Oct. 6	Oct. 7
MONGOLIAN	" 13	" 14
HIBERNIAN	" 20
LAURENTIAN	" 27	" 28
NUMIDIAN	Nov. 3	Nov. 3
PARISIAN	" 10	" 11

RATES OF PASSAGE.
First cabin Derry and Liverpool, $45 and upwards single; $95 and upwards return. Second cabin, Liverpool, Derry, Belfast, Glasgow, $30; return $55. Steerage at lowest rates (everything found).
All steamships except the Hibernian carry 1st cabin, 2nd cabin and steerage passengers.
STATE LINE SERVICE
NEW YORK, LONDONDERRY AND GLASGOW.

STATE OF NEBRASKA	Oct. 12
STATE OF CALIFORNIA	" 26
STATE OF NEBRASKA	Nov. 22

Cabin passage, $40 and upward, return $80 and upward; Second cabin $25. Steerage at lowest rates.
For tickets and other information apply to
U. E. THOMPSON
General Ticket Agency, Bridge St., Belleville
or to S. BURROWS, Agent

CANADIAN PACIFIC RY.
EVERY - FRIDAY
- - FROM - -
TORONTO!
At 12:30 noon runs a—
THROUGH TOURIST CAR
- - TO - -
SEATTLE and the PACIFIC COAST.
Making 12 Hours quicker time.
Full information can be had from
S. BURROWS,
General Ticket Agent, Belleville.

PREPARE
FOR the STRUGGLE.
The course of study offered by the Belleville business College gives a young person a thorough and practical knowledge of business, and also that mental culture and discipline which sharpens perceptive faculties, stimulates ambition, develops ability and prepares for the struggle of making a living. Every step in the work is characterized by thoroughness. Besides we use the most practical methods.
In teaching shorthand we dictate actual letters and legal evidence. Other schools have undertaken to imitate our methods, but the quality of their work bears that relation to practical business which the imitation does to the real.
We represent things exactly as they are.
Belleville Business College.
ROBERT BOGLE, Proprietor.

WELLMAN'S CAPTIVE SHIP.

Thrilling Adventures In the Sea of Ice.

FUTILE EFFORT TO MOVE THE JARL

Weary Days of Waiting Passed as Pleasantly as Possible—A Sledge Party's Expedition of Discovery—Getting Ready to Start.

(Published by special arrangement.)

FRIDAY, May 18.—Officer of the day, Professor French.

Our search for an opening in the floating ice yesterday proved unavailing. After steaming near all the afternoon and evening, following three or four promising leads, all of which came to an end in heavy ice, with no higher northing than 80.48 or 80.56 and a rapid drift to the west and south, Captain Bottelfsen was compelled to return to the land for anchorage to the shore ice. The wind sprang up stronger from the northeast, and great streams of pack ice went by at a rate of fully a mile an hour. We passed the night tied up some distance north of Walden island and early this morning moved farther north, or very near to our old mooring at Table island, but the wind then veering almost to the north it brought the ice inshore and made it necessary to let the ship drift in order to keep her free.

This northeast and northerly storm has held us here now since Monday, and there is no immediate prospect of better weather. The speed at which the light ice of this region moves is no criterion as to the drift of the main pack. It drives by us with these high northeasterly winds at a rate of a mile an hour. But it is principally winter and young ice. Wherever the ice is heavy, reaching well down into the water, it drifts more slowly. The main pack drifts slower still, and while there is a generally southerly and southwesterly set to all the ice of this region the main ice moves at a rate of speed scarcely appreciable except when the set is accentuated by northeasterly winds. That was Parry's experience. As long as the winds were favorable he did not notice the driftage, but with several days together of winds from the north he found his highway moving south at an average rate of four miles per day. We are not afraid of the drift nor of the conditions of travel upon the main pack after we are once there. The question is how to get across the belt of debris from both pack and shore that now lies between us and the main ice, probably 20 or 30 miles in width, exceedingly rough and moving to and fro with every change of wind. To make this crossing with the ship we need but a day or two of favorable winds. We had so much good luck up to last Tuesday that we can well afford to be patient during this week, or even longer if necessary.

WELLMAN ON SKIS.

Making the Waiting Hours Merry.

While waiting we are having some rare sport. It was long ago determined by the American members of our party that we were going to avoid solemnity as long as possible and not suffer ourselves to be made miserable as long as there was no absolute necessity for it. So we have had our jokes and song, our books and games. Into this spirit our Norwegian members have heartily entered. Last night, for instance, they renewed their celebration of the Norwegian holiday. From some mysterious quarter they managed to fish up a bottle of spirits, and this they supplemented with alcohol and eggs and produced out of the combination a very fair quality and a comfortable quantity of eggnog. With song and speeches—some of the latter exceedingly funny efforts in Norwegian by Americans, and even more comical struggles of Norwegians with the English—they made merry until a late hour. Captain Pedersen was delegated by his Norwegian comrades to propose a toast to the health of the leader of the expedition, and in his neat little speech he thanked the officers of the expedition for the kindness they had invariably shown the members from Norway, and to bespeak their confidence in the result of our effort in the north.

For most of us this was without doubt the last drink for pleasure's sake for many a month. We have no spirits in our equipment, with the exception of a very small quantity in the medical stores. We do not believe in the use of intoxicants as a field ration. The old idea that a man must have so much rum every day in order to endure cold was long ago exploded. In old time arctic expeditions the rum ration was considered indispensable. If 75 pounds of food was carried for each man, then about 25 pounds of rum was considered necessary. It is true that a small drink of spirits is a good thing on special occasions, as when men come to camp after a day of unusually severe exposure or labor, but all its virtues even in such cases are psychological and not physiological. It does not help the body to repair waste or retain strength, but it may induce cheerfulness and contentment under trying circumstances. We have enough brandy in our kit to issue once in a while for this purpose or in cases of illness.

This morning the Ragnvald Jarl was brought to a mooring in a little cove on the southwest shore of Walden island in latitude 80.37, where we are safe against the pack coming from the northeast, and where we could also be secure should the wind shift to the northwest. Here we have had some rare sport. First all hands that could be spared from the ship started bear hunting on Walden island. To reach the island it was necessary to work one's way through several hundred yards of indescribably rough shore ice. Bergs rising 40 feet from the water's level were thrown among pieces ranging in size down to a foot thick. Heavy pieces stood on edge against the big blocks, leaving crevasses 20 feet deep, blue as indigo. All was covered with a thick layer of soft snow. At one step a man would be standing upon the edge of a piece of ice standing perpendicularly, and the next he would go into a pocket of snow up to his armpits, or his foot would stick in a crevice and give him a severe wrench in the effort to extricate himself. Some of the Norwegians tried their skis on the ice. A Norwegian wants a pair of skis on his feet wherever there is snow. If such a thing as snow could be imagined in the infernal regions, a genuine Norwegian would want to slide into it, if he had to go at all, on his favorite pair of snowshoes, or if given his choice of going to a snowless and skiless heaven or to an icy hades with skis he would be sure to prefer the latter. But skis did not go very well in this ice. One Norwegian was seen head downward in a pocket of snow, with his skished feet kicking about just above the surface. Declining all assistance—he would have felt disgraced thereby—he managed to pick himself out, covered with smiles and frost. But he took off his skis and saved them for use on the mountain side. Americans accustomed to the use of the snowshoe will be surprised to learn that the ski is used most effectually in mountain climbing. The ski runner in such work has his choice of three methods. He may go up the hill sidewise, inching along slowly, and this he must do where the acclivity is very steep. He may on a more moderate incline toe in for a grip upon the surface, pushing with his bamboo ski pole, or he may toe out, crossing his skis behind him. It is in coming down the hill that the ski runner has the most sport.

Today, for instance, Mr. Juell took a slide from the top of the mountain on Walden island down a sharp declivity, landing in a mass of soft snow, in which he was buried fairly out of sight. Mr. Heyerdahl turned a somersault on skis, and Mr. Almo and Mr. Dahl followed their example. Three livelier young men than these it would not be easy to find, with or without skis. Mr. Heyerdahl, who is a young lawyer, is noted as the best ski runner in Christiania. Lawyer Juell is almost as skillful, while Geologist Dahl and Meteorologist Almo are crack men with the national snowshoes. Mr. Franklin of New York, the second fastest skater in America, takes to the ski almost as kindly as to the steel runners. In fact, we all like the Norwegian snowshoe and are learning to use it in any kind of snow. It will doubtless be of much assistance to us on the pack. With a bright sun and a temperature of 14 above zero F. a ramble through the frightful shore ice and upon the rocky hills, with their magnificent views of the Seven Islands and of the north coast of Spitzbergen, was greatly enjoyed.

The Bear Hunt.

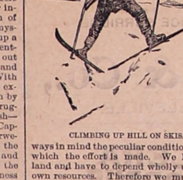

But the best of the day's sport was the bear hunt. On the east side of the island one of our hunting parties descried a large ice bear some distance away. They at once dropped behind a piece of ice, while Sailor Boervig crept out on his belly and worked his limbs and grunted in imitation of a seal. The bear's attention was attracted, and he came toward us, though cautiously. He sidled along, snuffing the air and occasionally shading his eyes with his paw, but advancing and then retreating, but finally coming nearer and nearer Boervig industriously wallowed in the snow and grunted seallike, and so successfully inflamed the bear's curiosity that at length he came within 150 yards. Three or four rifles cracked, and the bear never took another step. He proved to be an uncommonly large and fine specimen, weighing perhaps 700 pounds and with his winter's fur soft and thick. The Norwegians say they never saw a better pelt. A good tug our men had with the hide returning through the ice foot, giving us an omen of the work we are to have with our boats and sledges. But we shall encounter little such ice. It is produced only where the land offers the resistance of immovability to the almost infinite force of the storm driven pack.

Still Waiting.

SATURDAY, May 19.—Officer of the day, Dr. Mohun.

With fine weather and a westerly breeze we have nothing to do but to wait. We are still eagerly looking for the change of wind that will clear our way farther north. We could start our sledge journey where we are, but it would be an exceedingly discouraging journey for the first 40 or 50 miles, or until the main pack was reached. If it were not that we felt reasonably sure of getting 30 or 40 miles farther with the ship by exercising a little patience, we should start our sledge journey at once, even under the unfavorable conditions of ice existing about these islands.

While waiting we are perfecting our arrangements for sledge traveling. As always happens in such expeditions, the weights are greater than they should be. We intend starting with a little heavier weight than we had originally planned, but this is not a permanent weight. It will in all probability be much reduced after we shall have been out a few days, and this reduction will be in addition to the usual diminution of weights by consumption of food and fuel. In arranging a sledge journey like that which we contemplate it has been necessary to bear always in mind the peculiar conditions under which the effort is made. We leave the land and have to depend wholly upon our own resources. Therefore we must have ample protection in boats, sails, oars, etc., against the dangers of the sea, particularly if we must make a crossing from the pack to the land on our return. Therefore we take three good boats, and while they are wonderfully light, considering their strength and size, thanks to aluminium and the skill of Mr. McGuire, our engineer, yet with their fittings they run to a considerable weight. Our three boats weigh 1,200 pounds, 450 pounds less than one of Parry's weighed. We might safely start with only two boats, but where human life is in the balance one cannot afford to take unnecessary chances. In this effort to penetrate the unknown regions we are trying to do what many people call a reckless thing in a careful way. So we shall cling to our three boats as long as possible.

CLIMBING UP HILL ON SKIS.

It being necessary to leave the land, we shall not be able to establish depots or to send out advance parties, as has been the case with most sledging expeditions that have attempted to come long distances. This is one reason why our total weight is about as great as that of former sledge parties notwithstanding the great advantage which we get out of aluminium boats and sledges and concentrated foods. Besides we are going equipped for a journey of 110 days, which is a longer period than any other sledge party has ever been out without the aid of depots or of a land filled with game. Going for so long an absence from civilization, to be prudent we must have an ample store of medicines and surgical instruments, of reserve clothing, especially boots. We must carry photographic cameras and astronomical instruments.

Being so long in a country absolutely destitute of fuel, we must make sure of having enough alcohol with us to melt our snow and do our cooking. Our weights are made heavier, too, by the fact that we take dogs with us for motive power, as it is necessary to carry some food for them. But the dogs will doubtless give us assistance far beyond the weight which we must carry on account of them and enable us to move so much the faster.

Without going too much into details, which might not prove interesting at the present moment, our weights are approximately as follows: The three boats, 1,200 pounds; oars, paddles, bamboo push poles (or masts), awnings, boathooks, etc., 400 pounds; five aluminium sledges, 400 pounds; one wooden sledge, 40 pounds; alcohol, 250 pounds; 15 pairs skis and bamboo ski poles, 180 pounds; seven pairs snowshoes, 20 pounds; sleeping bags of reindeer skin for 14 men, 140 pounds; photographic instruments and plates, 25 pounds; astronomical and meteorological instruments, 55 pounds; extra clothing bags for 14 men, 275 pounds; medical supplies and surgical instruments, including lime juice tablets and spirits, 70 pounds; tobacco, 35 pounds; guns and ammunition, 110 pounds; food for men and packing, 2,300 pounds; dog cakes, 400 pounds; reserve boots and clothing, repair tools, axes and shovels, dishes and cooking machines, ice creepers, incidental, 250 pounds. At the start we shall have about 600 pounds of devices destined to help us over our difficulties, such as snow paths, ladders, etc., some of which we expect to throw away, and all of which may be soon discarded. After our first week it is not likely our total weight will exceed 5,500 pounds, or about 400 pounds per man, or only 100 pounds to the man and dog. With anything like a decent load we should be able to move along at a promising rate of speed.

The day and week closed with no change in the wind or ice, save that the Ragnvald Jarl was by this time completely inclosed by the pack. It was a dreary scene which met the eye as we ascended to the crow's nest. An expressive paraphrase might be, "Water, water everywhere, and not a drop in sight!" The ocean was literally a sea of ice.

Our men still show a tendency to forget when it is night. No one wants to go to bed when the time comes nor to get up at the proper hour. Meals are served later and later, and if we are not careful we will slip a sufficient number of cogs to throw us back an entire day and find ourselves serving breakfast in the evening and supper in the morning. At midnight half our party were ashore looking for bear and sliding down the icy hills on skis—a sport with which we Americans have become as much fascinated as our Norwegian comrades. The temperature was delightful, ranging from 16 to 22 F.

WALTER WELLMAN.

Interesting Animal Athletics.

The ant, whose brain is larger, comparatively speaking, than that of other known creatures, spends its leisure hours in wrestling, running and other athletic sports. Pierre Huber, son of Francis Huber, the celebrated "blind naturalist," tells the following remarkable story concerning sports among ants:

"I approached one day to the formicary of some wood ants, exposed to the sun and sheltered from the north. The ants were heaped upon one another in great numbers, appearing to enjoy the temperature of the surface of the nest.

"None of them were at work, and the immense multitude of insects presented the appearance of a liquid in a state of ebullition, upon which the eye could scarcely be fixed without great difficulty, but when I examined the conduct of each ant I saw that they were approaching each other, each moving his antennae with astonishing rapidity, each patting the cheek of one of his fellows. After these preliminaries, which very much resembled caressing, they were observed to raise themselves upright on their hind legs by pairs, struggle together, seize each other by mandible, foot or antennae, and then immediately relax their hold, only to renew the attack again in a moment.

"They would fasten to each other's shoulders, embrace, and wrestle, overthrow each other, then raise themselves by turns, each taking revenge without producing any serious mischief. They did not spurt out their venom as they do in their real combats, nor retain their hold upon their opponents with such obstinacy. I have seen some so eager in these exercises that they would pursue and vanquish several in succession, only struggling with each a few seconds.

"In one place two ants appeared to be gamboling about a stalk of straw, turning alternately to avoid or seize each other, which forcibly brought to my recollection the sport and pastime of young dogs, when they are observed to rise on their hind legs, attempting to bite, overthrow or seize each other, without once closing their teeth."

Mr. Huber tells of other queer habits of ants, such as their running of races, carrying each other on their backs, etc., characteristics which certainly prove that they are endowed with a very high degree of intelligence.—New York Sun.

She Held Col. Bowie's Head.

Senora Candelaria, who is said to be 109 years old, is the last survivor of the Alamo. She was in the fort during the twelve days from Feb. 23 to March 6, 1836, when 177 Texas Americans held it against 6,000 Mexicans. Senora Candelaria asserts that she was supporting the head of Col. Bowie, who lay ill in the fort, when the Mexicans rushed in and killed him and wounded her. Her life was begun under the dominion of Spain and she has seen five flags float over Texas. Her home is near San Antonio.—Philadelphia Press.

What Napoleon Said.

The greater the man the less will should he have; he depends on circumstances and events.

Men are not so ungrateful as they are said to be. If they are often complained of it generally happens that the benefactor exacts more than he has given.

Jam of Roses.

Rose-leaf jam is a common dish in Roumania, where roses are grown by the millions.

INTER-OCEANIC SMILES.

"How about the new cook? Does she make your favorite dishes now?" Mrs. Newed—No, but she breaks a lot of them.

"Miss Wayback carries her age wonderfully well, doesn't she?" She—Yes, considering the number of years in it.

"That horrid old Miss Blabton came of good family? I don't see why you think so." He—Well, don't good blood always tell? "Yes, indeed." "Well, I never knew her to keep anything she happened to hear."

"I never saw such impudence as that Mr Puffup at the five-cent counter displays." "Well, what did he do?" "Really presumed to act as if we were acquaintances, when we were only engaged for a month at the seashore."

"Sneezer seemed to get acquainted with every one here the first day." "Yes, it was a pretty clever scheme he worked to bring it about." "What did he do?" "Took a violent cold and then everyone wanted an introduction so as to offer a remedy."

HORTICULTURAL GEMS.

The tallest tree on earth is a gum tree in Australia—four hundred and fifteen feet.

A curious growth is noted at Hartford, Conn. A cucumber vine has wound itself around the stalk of a large sunflower plant, and a cucumber has grown under the leaves of the sunflower.

India has perhaps a greater variety of plants than any other country in the world, having fifteen thousand native species, while the flora of the entire continent of Europe only embraces about ten thousand.

The gulf weed (fucus natans) which, with its little round "berries," is not unlike the mistletoe in form, but of a brownish yellow color, has been thought to have lost its property of rooting on rocks and to have acquired the power of living afloat.

The vine at Hampton Court is believed to be the largest in Europe, its branches extending over a space of two thousand three hundred feet. It was planted from a slip in the year 1768 and generally bears upward of two thousand bunches of grapes of the black Hambro' kind.

COSTLY SHOPS OF PARIS.

ORIGIN AND GROWTH OF THE DEPARTMENT STORES.

A Tour of Them Means Bankruptcy—How They are Crowding Out the Smaller Shops—Regarded by Socialists as an Indication of Government Control.

In Paris the big shops are eating up the little. The Socialists say that they are preparing the way for the great revolution when the state shall handle all capital and run every business. For in these great shops the countless employes who otherwise would be selling on their own account are directed by a central organization and receive their share of the profits at the end of the year. Until then the great shops certainly represent the use of capital pushed to its extreme. French politicians have worried their heads about the matter and the parliament has quarreled about the special taxes to be imposed on these big shops which eat up the little ones.

The great objection against these grands magasins, according to Cucheval-Clarigny, a member of the Institute of France, is that "they embrace at one and the same time so many branches of commerce that they extend their business operations beyond all bounds, and make life impossible to the little shops which are unable to hold out in so unequal a struggle." It is admitted that the great shops are victorious in the struggle only because they are profitable to the general public, whose interest they serve and whose taste they satisfy more completely. There is great choice offered to customers, and customers are allowed to exchange goods purchased ill-advisedly or hurriedly—a liberality which is quite outside the business ideas of the small Paris tradesmen. The power of purchasing many different things under the one roof without running here and there across the city, is also a vast economy of time and money.

On their side these establishments can afford to sell cheaply, because their general expenses are so reduced by being lumped together. This has even been brought up in politics as a reason why they should be taxed more than the smaller shops, in proportion, whose proprietors are regularly forbidden by their leases to handle anything but their own special line of merchandise.

Whatever may be said of all this it is certain that the big shops have revolutionized all the habits of buying and selling in France. Up to 1830 everything went by barter and there was no fixed price. Traces of this practice are still found in the small shops around Paris, where the price first asked has very little to do with what will be accepted. If you are evidently a foreigner, and especially if you are accompanied by a man who looks like a commissionaire or a guide or a lady of the land of France, whose sharp and hungry looks proclaims her to be on the make while showing you about, the prices charged will be higher than if you were alone. This is the Paris shopkeeper's way of recovering the commission which he expects your companion to come back and collect when you are safely out of the way. It is a regular method of the small Paris shops to mark up the price of articles which remain long on their hands, as it were to recover interest on the capital invested. This is called "guelt"ing. It is claimed that even in the big shops each department has its damaged or imperfect or worn goods, on whose adroit sale the clerk is allowed an extra commission. But in general the big shops have brought into France the "one-price system."

This was begun a little before 1830 by La Belle Jardiniere, which is still one of the seven biggest shops and owns three of the others. It is still in the hands of the family that made this great change in French commerce. "Belle Jardiniere" means the Beautiful Garden Girl; it is a sample of the names which the French have always been fond of giving to their shops. Aux Honheur des Enfants" (At the Happiness of Children) is the name of a great toy shop. "The Blue Dwarf" is another. Au Bonheur de Dames (At the Happiness of Ladies) was the fancy name chosen by Zola for his great book on the big shops. So houses which make a specialty of mourning goods have mournful, resigned, hopeful, or symbolical names, such as "Le Cypres" (The Cypress), "La Scabieuse" (A little flower which the people strew on graves), "Les Deux Saules" (The Two Weeping Willows), and "Le Sablier" (The Hour Glass). Five of the seven great shops have fanciful names: The "Grands Magasins du Lourve" (named from its location opposite the palace), the "Bon Marche" (Cheap Market), the "Printemps" (Spring), "La Samaritaine" (named from the first public bath built in the river Seine in the time of Henry IV, which in turn was named from the Samaritan woman at the well), and the "Belle Jardiniere," already spoken of. The two remaining great shops have plain names: "A La Place Clichy," which refers to its location in the city, and "La Menagere" (The Housekeeper), which simply indicaees its line of trade.

With the abolition of barter and the continuation of fancy names these great shops have created a new career for those who might otherwise have been each at the head of his own little property. In the new system each clerk is not without interest to sell the articles of his shelf. For the customers the price is fixed, but the clerk gets his commission on each sale. This varies according to the kind of goods and the demand that exists for them, so as to put all the clerks on an equal footing. Thus the one who sells silk has 2 per cent, while 5 per cent. is given the seller of linen. The commissions vary, but they are supposed on a week's business to equalize each clerk's remuneration.

Oscar Wilde's Reply.

A story is being told that on the death recently of the great scholar, Walter Pater, the editor of a London evening paper telegraphed to Oscar Wilde to ask him to supply some personal gossip about the dead man, who was known to be a friend of the ex-æsthetic, whereupon Mr. Wilde wired back: "Leave the gossip to the jackals, not the lions, of literature."

Large Birds.

"Wa-al," said Farmer Cranberry of New Jersey as he looked for the first time on the grated window of a large insane asylum, "they must have bigger mosquitoes here than we have at home."

The Modern Method.

"Do you take any interest in the Corbett-Jackson matter?"

"Yes, indeed; but it looks to me now as if they might settle it by arbitration."—Judge.

Always Good Form.

"He is wretchedly bad form in every particular."

"Except, my dear, his bank account."—Truth.

MANY MOURNERS.

Description of a Funeral in Far Distant Egypt.

From along the banks of the Mahmoudiyeh canal one day I saw a sad but interesting sight, says a foreign taaveler. Away in the distance, on the opposite side, a large number of people were coming along, and upon their nearer approach I saw that they formed a funeral procession. Two sheikhs, with long blue tunics and white turbans, led the way; and immediately behind them were the men, to the number of twenty-six, chanting in a dismal way: "La Illah ila Allah, wa Mohammed rusool Allah!" (There is no God but God, and Mohammed is the apostle of God.)

The funeral costumes were their everyday dresses, showing wide contrasts of color, some being blue, others black, yellow, white and brown. Then followed the bier, a young Moslem lad being carried to his long home. It was covered with large native rugs and was supported by four men, relieved in turn by others. The women and children came next, about sixty in all, the women weeping and wailing and waving handkerchiefs in front of them, now and again filling the still air with fearful shrieks. The women were dressed in the usual sombre blue covers and their faces were closely veiled. They halted opposite to the spot where I stood, and the men got on board of one of the tiny ferries that play backward and forward over the canal, taking the bier with them, and were rowed safely to the other side, the women meanwhile waiting and wailing for the dead youth.

The boat, which was about twenty feet long and eight feet in beam, having returned, the women and children then got on board, most of them sitting, and they were pushed across and landed. The procession then reformed and the wailing continued. The procession wended its way for a considerable distance along the banks of the canal under a grove of sycamore trees. The sight left a painful impression upon my mind. The day was beautiful, the birds piping out their joys overhead. Everything seemed happy except these poor Arabs, without a hope to cheer the dark tomb.

HE CAME BACK.

Jules Carle Refused to Be Buried Alive—He Rose Again.

Jules Carle of Juneau is 78 years old, but vigorous and well preserved. Twenty-six years ago he was living in New Westminster, B.C. One morning, as he sat in a restaurant awaiting his ordered breakfast, he suddenly died—at least there was every physical evidence of death—a victim of heart disease. He was laid out for burial and his friends kept the usual vigil over his body.

All the time he was keenly conscious of what went on about him and could realize his fate in store for him and yet was as helpless as if he had been really dead. In the afternoon of the next day his friends bore him in sadness to the graveyard. He suffered untold agonies lying in the coffin, with the lid fastened down. He tried in vain to move or make a noise to indicate that he was alive. The trance held him a deathlike prisoner. Finally he could feel himself being lowered into the grave. As the first clod of earth struck the lid of the coffin he began feeling warm blood pulsing from his heart. All at once he could move his hands. He struck the coffin lid and called out for help. The alarmed pallbearers stopped shoveling dirt into the grave. He called again. The majority of those present beat a hasty retreat, alarmed over the fact that the dead had come to life.

One courageous friend unscrewed the lid of the coffin and helped him out. He never felt better in his life, and ran about exercising his benumbed limbs. The people believed they had witnessed a miracle. He returned to town and entered the restaurant, hungry for supper, and when the cook and servants saw him come in wrapped in his shroud they rushed out through windows and doors shaking with fright.—Chicago Times.

Electrolysis in Iron Buildings.

The erection of immense iron structures and the enlarged use of iron for outdoor construction is attracting the attention of engineers and scientists, because of the electrolytic effects on the iron. Paints generally do not preserve the iron, and probably the best coating is made from a solution of asphalt and bisulphide of carbon. Sir W. Thompson advises that metal structures be connected by wires with a ball of zinc buried in moist earth.

Deseronto Navigation Company (Limited

Steamer Ella Ross.

This fast sailing and comfortable steamer leaves Belleville for Trenton daily (Sunday excepted), at 10 a.m. Leaves Belleville for Deseronto and Picton at 3 p.m., connecting at Deseronto with steamers for Napanee and Oswego. Lowest freight and passenger rates. For further information apply to the Rathbun Co., Bridge street, or to R. C. Carter, General Manager. Deseronto.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP cures Coughs.

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry cures Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cramps, Colic, Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum, and all looseness of the bowels. Never travel without it. Price 35c.

In parts of Peru taxes are paid in cocoa leaves and Peruvian barks.

For coughs, colds, bronchitis and all lung and throat troubles, there is no preparation of medicine can compare with Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup. It never fails to afford prompt and permanent relief. It removes all soreness, and heals the diseased parts. It immediately soothes the most troublesome cough, and by promoting expectoration, removes the mucus which stops up the air tubes which, cause difficulty in breathing, thereby gives relief to that depressing tight ness experienced in the chest. Public speakers and singers will find Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup of inestimable value, as it speedily and effectually allays all irritation, and huskiness in the throat and bronchial tubes, and gives power to the vocal cords, rendering the voice clear and sonorous. If parents wish to save the lives of their children, and themselves from much anxiety trouble and expense let them procure a bottle of Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup, and whenever a child has taken cold, has a cough or hoarseness, give the Syrup according to directions.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP heals the lungs.

A sainted wife can find a vest pocket in the dark.

Ample warning is given us by our lungs when they are in danger. If foolhardy enough to neglect the warning signal, we incur imminent peril. Check a cough at the outset with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil—which is a sovereign pulmonic—besides being a remedy for soreness, lameness, abrasions of the skin, tumors, piles, rheumatism, etc.

BURDOCK PILLS, small, safe, and sure, regulate the liver and cure constipation.

Robert Lubbork, Cedar Rapids, writes: "I have used Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil both for myself and family for Diptheria with the very best results. I regard it as the best remedy for this disease, and would use no other.

Holland is the only country in Europe that admits coffee free of duty.

DYSPEPSIA arises from wrong action of stomach, liver and bowels. Burdock Blood Bitters cures Dyspepsia and all diseases arising from it, 99 times in 100.

EX-MEMBER of PARLIAMENT

REUBEN E. TRUAX

Hon. Reuben E. Truax, one of Canada's ablest thinkers and statesmen, a man so highly esteemed by the people of his district that he was honored with a seat in Parliament, kindly furnishes us for publication the following statement, which will be most welcome to the public, inasmuch as it is one in which all will place implicit confidence. Mr. Truax says:

"I have been for about ten years very much troubled with Indigestion and Dyspepsia, have tried a great many different kinds of patent medicines, and have been treated by a number of physicians and found no benefit from them. I was recommended to try the Great South American Nervine Tonic. I obtained a bottle, and I must say I found very great relief, and have since taken two more bottles, and now feel that I am entirely free from Indigestion, and would strongly recommend all my fellow-sufferers from the disease to give South American Nervine an immediate trial. It will cure you.

"REUBEN E. TRUAX,

"Walkerton, Ont."

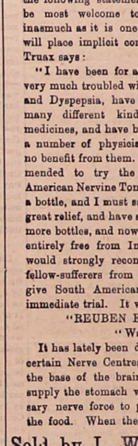

It has lately been discovered that certain Nerve Centres, located near the base of the brain, control and supply the stomach with the necessary nerve force to properly digest the food. When these Nerve Centres are in any way deranged the supply of nerve force is at once diminished, and as a result the food taken into the stomach is only partially digested, and Chronic Indigestion and Dyspepsia soon make their appearance.

South American Nervine is so prepared that it acts directly on the nerves. It will absolutely cure every case of Indigestion and Dyspepsia, and is an absolute specific for all nervous diseases and ailments. It usually gives relief in one day.

Its powers to build up the whole system are wonderful in the extreme. It cures the old, the young, and the middle-aged. It is a great friend to the aged and infirm. Do not neglect to use this precious boon; if you do, you may neglect the only remedy which will restore you to health. South American Nervine is perfectly safe, and very pleasent to the taste. Delicate ladies, do not fail to use this great cure, because it will put the bloom of freshness and beauty upon your lips and in your cheeks, and quickly drive away your disabilities and weaknesses.

Dr. W. Washburn, of New Richmond, Indiana, writes: "I have used South American Nervine in my family and prescribed it in my practice. It is a most excellent remedy."

Sold by L. W Yeomans and R. Templeton.

EVERY MOTHER WISHES

Her children to be strong and healthy. All doctors agree that the

"HEALTH BRAND"

Combinations do more than anything else to insure this.

Lady Aberdeen writes to us strongly in favor of the Health Brand.

Ask your dealer to show you these goods. You will never buy any other after seeing them.

THE MONTREAL SILK MILLS CO., Ltd., MONTREAL.

OXFORD WOOD and... COAL FURNACES

..FOR ALL SIZES OF BUILDINGS..

Capacity from 10,000 to 80,00 Cubic Feet

"CYCLONE STEEL RADIATOR"

OXFORD WOOD FURNACE

WOOD FURNACE

HEAVY GRATE, especially adapted for wood burning

Heavy Steel Plate Fire Box Dome and Radiator, which heat quicker and are more durable

RADIATOR of Modern Construction and Great Heating Power

LARGE ASH PIT

COAL FURNACE

Large Combustion Chamber

Long Fire Travel, encircling radiator

Large Heating Surface

Large Feed Door

Sectional Fire Pot

Rotating Bar Dumping Grate

DEEP ASH PIT

Full Guaranteed Capacity: Send for... CATALOGUE and TESTIMONIAL BOOK.

....Manufactured by....

The GURNEY FOUNDRY COMPANY Ltd., TORONTO.

IT - HAS - BEEN - ADMITTED

—— BY OVER 125 PEOPLE IN BELLEVILLE THAT THE ——

John Bull Wrought Steel Range,

Is the most Economical, Everlasting and Useful Range on the market. How is this for three Seasons.

SEE THEM AT FOSTER'S.

Also the Duchess of Oxford Cast Iron Range

The Daily Intelligencer.

LET THERE BE HARMONY IN THINGS ESSENTIAL—LIBERALITY IN THINGS NOT ESSENTIAL—CHARITY IN ALL.

VOL 28. BELLEVILLE ONTARIO MONDAY OCTOBER 15 1894 NO. 139

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

MEDICAL.

DR. WISHART.

47 GROSVENOR ST., Toronto, will be at the Huffman House, Belleville, Saturday, Dec, 1st, '94. 192dwly

DR. QUACKENBUSH, M.D., H.M.D., M.D., P.S.O.

HOMŒOPATHIC Physician, Surgeon and Accoucheur, has removed his office over store lately occupied by J. C. Overell, Residence George St., opposite H. Corby's.

JOHN J. FARLEY, M. D., C. M., M. R. C. S. England.

OFFICE and Residence—corner of Bridge and George Streets—three streets east of Post Office.

LEGAL.

FLINT & McCAMON.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public, etc. Solicitors for the Canadian Bank of Commerce. Office, City Hall, Front Street, Belleville, Ont. d84tf
JOHN J. B. FLINT, W. J. McCAMON.

STEWART MASSON.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, Notary, Conveyancer, etc. Office, South side Bridge st., over Wallbridge & Clark's, Belleville, Ont, Money to loan at lowest rates. 76dwtf

J. F. WILLS' LAW OFFICE.

REMOVED to Campbell Street (south side) 2nd door from Front Street, on ground floor.

A. GOODRICH.

LAWYER, 124 Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill., 28 years' experience; secrecy; special facilities in several States; Goodrich on Divorce; with laws of all States in press. 76dly

GEO. A. KINGSTON.

BARRISTER Solicitor, etc., with Lount, Marsh and Cameron, 25 Toronto St., Toronto. Money to loan on farm property at lowest rates. 233dtf9w.

MIKEL & ROBERTS.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notary Public, Conveyancers, etc. Offices Bridge St., Belleville. Monies to loan at lowest rate.

THOMAS & HALLIWELL.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Conveyancers, &c. Money to loan. 293d3mwly
J. PARKER THOMAS, J. EARL HALLIWELL.

PONTON & MORDEN,

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public, Conveyancers. Office over Express and Telegraph Office, Bridge St., Belleville. Money to loan—private funds.
WM. N. PONTON, M. A., Solicitor Hastings Loan and Investment Society.
W. S. MORDEN, B.A.

E. GUSS PORTER.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, Notary Public. etc. Office in the Robertson Block, east side of Front Street.
☞Private Money to Loan, 271dwly

FRANCIS S. WALLBRIDGE.

(Successor to Hon. Lewis Wallbridge, Q.C.)
BARRISTER, Solicitor, Conveyancer, etc. Office, McAnnany building, corner Front and Bridge streets, Belleville, Ont. Private and Company money to loan at 6 per cent., on easy terms upon good land security. Charges moderate.

HENRY CARRE, C. E

M.C. Soc C.E.,
DOMINION AND PROVINCIAL LAND SURVEYOR.

Special attention paid to Hydraulics and Land Drainage. Patents obtained and Drawings made. Office—McAnnany Block, under Ontario Business College, Front St. P.O. address—Box 203, Belleville.

A. G. NORTHRUP.

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Shire Hall, Belleville. 226d&wly

D. I. DULMAGE, L.D.S., D.D.S. (Tor. University).

DENTIST—Office over Brignall & Thompson's. Night calls at residence on Forin Street. d,w

CHAS. JOSE.

VETERINARY Surgeon, Graduate Ontario Veterinary College, Member Ontario Veterinary Society. Office and residence, Foxboro, Ont. Calls by mail or telegram promptly attended to. 304d,wly

MISCELLANEOUS.

AGENT OF the Liverpool and London and Globe Fire and Life Insurance Companies.
W. P. HUDSON, Agent.
Office Campbel. street, Belleville. d,w

-PLUMBING-

We have added to our Workmen,

MR, GEORGE JOHNSON,

Who has for the past six years been prominent on large contracts in Victoria, B. C., San Francisco, Denver, and Chicago.

— — ALSO — —

MR. EDWIN W. BISHOP,

A graduate of the New York School for Plumbing (class 92), who comes highly recommended.

With these men added to our staff, we feel sure of giving satisfaction to all in Sanitary Plumbing.

C. F. Smith & Co.

STOVE PIPES!
STOVE PIPES!!
STOVE PIPES!!!

WHIPS! LANTERNS!
WHIPS!! LANTERNS!!
WHIPS!!! LANTERNS!!!

Lamps, Flower Pots,
Lamps, Flower pots,
Lamps, Flower Pots.

—AT—

THE FAIR,

FRANK WEEKS, MANAGER.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

ACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York.

Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

A. Leflar.

DISEASED LUNGS

CURED BY TAKING

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral.

"I contracted a severe cold, which settled on my lungs, and I did what is often done in such cases, neglected it. I then consulted a doctor, who found, on examining me, that the upper part of the left lung was badly affected. The medicines he gave me did not seem to do any good, and I determined to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking a few doses my trouble was relieved, and before I had finished the bottle I was cured."
—A. LEFLAR, watchmaker, Orangeville, Ont.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Highest Awards at World's Fair.

Ayer's Pills Cure Indigestion.

"FOR THE BENEFIT OF RHEUMATIC SUFFERERS,"

ACETOCURA MADE ME ANOTHER MAN

G. H. REEVES,
(Reeves & Beebe),
169 State street, Chicago.

Coutts & Sons,
72 Victoria street, Toronto.

Write for gratis pamphlet to COUTTS & Sons, 72 Victoria street, Toronto. Head offices—London, Glasgow and Manchester, (G.B.) Cologne, Germany, Aaron, Switzerland.

Local Agents—

L. W. YEOMANS & CO.,
DRUGGISTS,
BELLEVILLE.

PREPARE FOR the STRUGGLE.

The course of study offered by the Belleville business College gives a young person a thorough and practical knowledge of business, and also that mental culture and discipline which sharpens perceptive faculties, stimulates ambition, develops ability and prepares for the struggle of making a living. Every step in the work is characterized by thoroughness. Besides we use the most practical methods.

In teaching shorthand we dictate actual letters and legal evidence. Other schools have undertaken to imitate our methods, but the quality of their work bears that relation to practical business which the imitation does to the real.

We represent things exactly as they are.

Belleville Business College.

ROBERT BOGLE, Proprietor.

Daily Intelligencer.

WHERE THE LINES ARE LAID

Two Boundary Lines in Dispute Between U. S. and Great Britain.

RESULT OF THE RECENT SURVEYS

The Location of Mount St. Elias Still in Doubt—The Engineers Have Concluded Their Labors in Alaska—The Boundary Line Between Maine and New Brunswick in Dispute.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—There is a dispute between the United States and Great Britain over two boundary lines, and as a work preparatory to the settlement of this controversy various engineering and surveying parties have been in the field for a year or more, making surveys in the supposed vicinity of the boundary lines. Their labors have been completed and their reports submitted, but they decline to discuss the result of their work until it is made public.

It is known, however, that these surveys have resulted in a manner satisfactory to the United States. The statement published that Mount St. Elias, which has always been held to be on United States soil, had been found to be in British territory, is stated to be at least premature and made without authority of any one in possession of the facts. The computations have not been made, and until this is done the survey will not make any statement on the subject. The officers say that until the present season's work has been completed no authentic details can be presented upon which to base any calculation.

The result of the work will enable the survey to make the inter-sections of the boundary line between Alaska and British Columbia, with all the principal inlets and rivers and determine the location of the principal mountains from the Portland canal to 141st meridian.

The other boundary in controversy is the water line between Maine and New Brunswick formed by the St. Croix river. This river bounds the eastern-most limit of the United States, Eastport, Maine, being on its banks, near where it enters the sea. The boundary which is an imaginary line, follows the course of the stream, meandering in and out among the islsnds that are found near the mouth of the St. Croix and in the Atlantic near the Main land. Just where the line is, in certain parts, has for a long time been an open question and the fixed determination of the line and its marking by fixed buoys is the object of these surveys. There will be some change in the boundary, but not of special importance. One place known as Pope's Folly which is claimed by New Brunswick has been located west of the boundary and inside the state limits of Maine. It is a small island, a mere rock however, and from either a commercial or strategic standpoint, useless.

After these several surveying parties have compiled the results of their observations the whole work will be arranged by the Unitde States survey and turned over to the two commissioners, one each on the part of each government. If they can agree they will determine the proper line, based upon the survey, down the St. Croix and between Alaska and British Columbia. This done they will report to their respective governments and the boundaries will be for ever fixed by definite bounds, marked by indestructable land marks. The commissioners cannot possibly complete their task short of another year's work.

VICTIMS OF A COOL SWINDLER.

Farmers Near Montreal Taken in by a Pretended Monk.

MONTREAL, Oct. 15.—The farmers and residents of the district to the north of Montreal would be glad to hear of the whereabouts of a certain individual who a few days ago dressed in the garb of the Brothers of St. Joseph's Order, reached their district and after visiting the leading residents, including many priests, a number of people were victimized.

It appears that he was the bearer of many credentials, among these a letter signed by Archbishop Fabre, another by Bishop Emard, and three or four others signed by distinguished people including Lieut.-Governor Chapleau. Some time ago he gave out a very large contract for what he claimed to be a branch of "His Order," which he wanted to erect at "Kiamika." Plans were drawn for the new building and work commenced. As the man at first exhibited a large sum of money the farmers thought they had a good "haul" in store and they commenced to trust the man.

Upwards of $20,000 worth of materials was forwarded by various firms to the so-called "monk" and the building was well under way, when a few days ago the so-called Brother said he was not authorized to pay out any money for God's work until such a time as his "Superior" had approved of the same. A few days afterwards he skipped out with considerable money and no word has since been heard of him.

Crawford Adjudged Insane.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Oct. 15.—The jury in the case of Asa Crawford, charged with the murder of John Branton, at Fairville, returned a verdict of not guilty on the ground of insanity. The prisoner has been committed to jail and will probably be sent to the insane asylum to remain there until released by order of the Lieutenant-Governor. The verdict has roused strong feeling here, as Crawford was seen to commit the deed and it is thought he is not insane.

The H. G. and B. Electric Railway.

HAMILTON, Oct. 15.—The formal opening of the Hamilton, Grimsby and Beamsville electric railway will take place on Wednesday. A trial trip over the road was made on Saturday with every satisfaction and in every particular the road was found to be first class. The shareholders, municipal representatives and others will be invited to take part in the opening ceremonies.

Accidentally Shot Dead.

HAWKESBURY, C. B., Oct. 15.—A sad shooting accident occurred here on Saturday evening. A young lad named Willie Reynolds while coming down a ladder in the house fell against a gun that was leaning against a wall, discharging it, the shot entering his side and killing him instantly. Coroner McDonald summoned a jury, and held an inquest. The verdict was accidental death.

The Escaped Convict Arrested.

SIMCOE, Ont., Oct. 15.—A man answering the description of the convict who escaped from Whitby jail some days ago after knocking the turnkey unconscious, was arrested in the Norfolk house here by a constable from Port Dover, who handed the man over to the chief of police of this town.

NEWS FROM OTTAWA.

Survey of Lake Nepigon—Martini-Metford Rifles for the Militia.

OTTAWA, Oct. 15.—Ferdinand Van Bruysel, the Belgian Consul-General, who has been here for three years past, has been recalled by the home government.

William McInness and D. B. Dowling, of the geological survey, have returned from their summer work at Nepigon, where they were making a detailed topographical and geological survey of Lake Nepigon and the Nepigon river, which connects this lake with Lake Superior. This lake, they say, lies in a basin of rocks of the lower Cambrian range, its length is about 80 miles and its breadtn is about 40, its water is clear and is a great] depth. To the southern and western sides are many irregular bays and almost every variety of coast line from a flat delta at the mouth of the river to perpendicufar cliffs rising to a height of 400 feet.

Judge Mosgrove returned from the Kingston Military College where he was inquiring into the "hazing" case. The Judge has a son there, and he also went through the "hazing." It is the intention of the Judge to interview the Minister of Militia as to what he learned during his visit to the institution.

The Militia department is sending out ten of the new, Martini-Metford rifles to each of the principal shooting regiments of the Dominion. Some 23 regiments in all will receive them. The intention is to have the new arm, which Major-General Herbert would like to see in the hands of all the militia men of the country, thoroughly tested. The rifle has already been well tested as to its merits, but it is impossible for marksmen to make so good scores with it as with the arm they have been used to until they become familiar with it. This limited supply will afford an opportunity for riflemen to practice with it.

In the Canada Gazette appears the notice of application to Parliament of Mrs. Clara Victoria Ellis, of Toronto, for a bill of divorce from her husband, Thomas D. Ellis, traveller for the firm of P. W. Ellis & Co., residing at 583 Sherbourne street, on the ground of adultery.

A NOTABLE EVENT.

The Unveiling of the Statue of Sir John Macdonald in Toronto.

TORONTO, Oct. 15.—The unveiling of the monument to the memory of Sir John A. Macdonald in Queen's Park on Saturday by Sir John Thompson was a notable event. At 1.30 the reception committee proceeded to the park. In College street the school boys were received by the Minister of Militia and Lieut.-Col. Otter, who had gone up in advance of the other members of the party. Fully 1,200 of the schoolboy soldiers turned out, and their marching was excellent, so excellent as to call forth the encomiums of the War Minister and the commandant of the regulars.

The review over, the distinguished people went up to the platform around the veiled statue and the speaking began. E. F. Clarke, the chairman of the committee, made a few opening remarks. He told the audience how the work of collecting funds had gone on. Then came the customary remarks concerning the man whose bronze effigy was hidden behind the folds of the Union Jack. Sir John Thompson followed. Hon. Mackenzie Bowell, Hon. G. W. Ross, Sir Adolphe Caron and Sir C. H. Tupper followed, and Mayor Kennedy made the closing remarks. Amongst the guests were: Sir John Carling, K. C. M. G.; Hon. T. M. Daly, Minister of the Interior; Hon. W. B. Trees, President of the Council; Hon. John F. Wood, Controller of Inland Revenue; Hon. N. Clarke Wallace, M. P., Sir Frank Smith, the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Kirkpatrick, Sir Oliver Mowat, Hon. Mr. Dryden, Hon. A. S. Hardy, Hon. Mr. Harcourt, Chancellor Boyd, Justices Rose, Ferguson and McMahon, Sir Thomas Galt, Senators Sanford, Dobson and Ferguson, Mr. Craig, M. P., Mr. Mulock, M.P., Hon. J. C. Aikens, Sir James Grant, K.C.M.G., M.P., Major-General Cameron, the Bishop of Toronto, Judge Chisholm, of Port Hope, Hon. Colonel Clarke, Senator Ogilvie, of Montreal, and Dr. Bourinot, of Ottawa.

The new Chief Justice, Mr. W. R. Meredith, was present.

Fatal Accident to a Brock Farmer.

BLACKWATER, Ont., Oct. 15.—Last Wednesday night Mr. William Thompson, of the 2nd concession Brock, while working a hay press, met with what proved to be a fatal accident. He was driving the team attached to the arm of the machine when the belt came out of clevis, allowing the arm to fly back. It struck Mr. Thompson with great force across the stomach and bowels, inflicting internal injuries from which he died Saturday evening. The bereaved family have the sympathy of the entire community.

Hamilton's Youthful Thieves.

HAMILTON, Oct. 15.—John Benson and Wm. Ford, two boys aged 12 and 14 years respectively, pleaded guilty in the police court on Saturday to the charge of stealing two pairs of shoes from in front of Pratt's shoe store. Magistrate Jelfs is in quandary how he should dispose of young boys for petty thefts and suggested to the fathers of the lads that they publicly chastise them. As a result the boys were taken to the jail yard, stripped of coat and vest and given a severe flogging with a strap.

Stabbed by a Tramp.

NAPANEE, Oct. 15.—Radford & Sons, gents' furnishing store, was entered on Saturday evening from the back door by a tramp who attempted to steal an overcoat but was detected by Geo. Gordon, a young man in charge, who made a rush for the robber and during the scuffle that ensued Gordon was stabbed below the heart. The wound is not thought to be dangerous. The police have not been able to capture the would-be murderer.

Mgr. Satolli Comes to Canada.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Mgr. Satolli left the city on Saturday for Montreal, Canada, having been called there to act as arbitrator to settle the misunderstanding which has arisen between Cardinal Taschereau, Metropolitan of Canada, and the civil authorities. He will act in some troubles which have arisen between the Cardinal and his clergy.

Three Men Drowned at Coney Island.

BROOKLYN, Oct. 15.—Yesterday a catboat containing four men was capsized in the lower bay, opposite McPherson's pavilion at Coney Island. John and Daniel Bailey put out in a rowboat and succeeded in rescuing one of the men, who gave his name as Walter Booth, of New Brighton, S.I. His three companions are supposed to have been drowned.

Another Attack by the Kaffirs.

CAPETOWN, Oct. 15.—The natives attacked Lourenzo Marquez on Delagoa Bay again on Saturday but were repulsed. Twelve Portuguese were killed. The country is open revolt and the authorities intend to ask the Transvaal for assistance. Premier Cecil Rhode's offer of help has been refused.

BRITISH POLITICAL NEWS

Importance of the Premier's Speech to be Made at Bradford.

CHAMBERLAIN'S BILL FOR ARTISANS

The Plan Proposed to Enable Workingmen to Purchase Their Own Houses With Aid From the State—Labor Representatives to the Trades Congress at Denver—John Burn's Criticism of His Colleagues.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—The successive declarations made this week by the Right Hon. George Shaw-Lefevre, President of the Local Government Board, the Right Hon. Herbert Gladstone, First Commissioner of Works, Sir John T. Hibbert, M.P., and Sir George O. Trevelyan, Secretary for Scotland, that the Government had definitely decided to deal with the question of abolishing the veto power of the House of Lords, has prepared the public mind for a statement from Lord Rosebery on the subject upon the occasion of his making a speech at Bradford on October 27. Expectant interest in this matter has become so keen that the Premier will not dare to omit from his address an explicit pronouncement of the Government's policy.

In his recent declaration Mr. Herbert Gladstone said the time was near at hand when the Government should publicly announce this intention in regard to the House of Lords and expressed his opinion that the Prime Minister's statement would undoubtedly meet with the entire concurrence of the rank and file of the Liberal party. Sir John T. Hibbert, though not a member of the Cabinet, has the close confidence of Lord Rosebery. His forecast of the course to be adopted by the Ministry in dealing with the House of Lords question is that the first action will be taken through a resolution introduced in the House of Commons immediately upon the re-convening of Parliament, affirming the principle of limiting the veto power of the peers, and next through a bill to be introduced later, in which the same principle shall be embodied. The great advantage of this plan lies in the fact that the resolution could be carried after a debate of not more than a week's duration, while the consideration of the bill would be apt to take up the time of the entire session and might then be rejected. With the resolution thus passed the Government could well afford to allow the bill to drag along until the dissolution of Parliament.

The members of the Executive Committee of the National Federation are at variance over the question of the introduction into the programme of their coming conference of certain proposed measures with a tendency toward socialist doctrines and beliefs. The measures are seductive to the members of the labor party and are in competition with Mr. Joseph Chamberlain's latest state socialist platform. A majority of the committee have reached the conclusion that by far the greater number of Liberals in the kingdom disapprove strongly of coqueting with the socialists. The bill prepared by Mr. Joseph Chamberlain for introduction at the coming session of Parliament is approved by the Unionists but is looked upon with suspicion by the Radical workingmen for whose benefit it is designed. The measure as it stands includes provisions for the furnishing of state aid to artisans for the purposes of homes of their own, for the granting of old age pensions; for the limitation of the hours of labor in shops and factories, for the restriction of pauper alien immigration and a new employers liability act, embodying a contracting-out clause. It is looked upon as a high old Tory dodge which will result in the shelving of the questions of the abolishing of the veto power of the House of Lords; the disestablishment of the church and various land reforms and the placing of them with socialist bribes at the cost of the masses of the people.

The scheme proposed in Mr. Chamberlain's measure of giving to every workingman a house of his own, proposes that the workingman shall supply one fifth of the money for the purchase, the state advancing the other four fifths at such a rate of interest as it is supposed will enable the borrower to pay off the debt incurred in 10 years. The Economist characterizes the proposal as a sheer illustration of the beguiling of a man into the fallacious idea that the state will endow them with houses of their own without the least additional expense to themselves. An analysis of the plan proves that Mr. Chamberlain has omitted from his calculations the payment of rates, the cost of keeping the house in repair, the ground rent, charges. the cost of insurance, the loss of interest on the capital invested by the workingmen and the possibiiity of loss of this capital in the event of the vicissitudes of his trade compelling the investor to change his place of residence. The genuine socialist laborists have evolved another sort of a programme, which has been formulated by Tom Mann for the behalf of the independent labor party. It provides, among other things, for the furnishing of remunerative work to the unemployed for taxation to the extinction of all unearned incomes, for the collective ownership of property and for the control of production, distribution and exchange. These subjects are made the basis of the chief planks in the party's reform. In the meantime, however, the independent labor party cannot boast of its solititary.

John Burns, M.P., who, accompanied by David Homes, president of the Weavers' Association, will shortly start for Denver, Col., where he and his companion will sit as delegates in the trades congresses to be held shortly, has been publicly berating Tom Mann, whom he speaks of as a "shifty and incapable person, having a tidal intellect." The leaders of the various factions of the independent labor party he characterizes as a clique of "bounders on the bounce." The free laborists he regards as a "conglomerate mass of men on the make and retired boozers, with all the evidences of subsidy on their faces and incompetency written on their large beery features." Certain persons who have ventured to criticize him and his actions through the newspaper press Mr. Burns denounced as a "loathesome brood of journalistic jerry didlers."

Tom Mann and James K. Hardie, M.P., are also going to Denver as delegates to the trade congress. At a meeting held subsequent to the tirade delivered by Burns the independent labor party bewailed the virulence displayed by him in his remarks, but did not attempt to excuse in any way the language of which he had made use. Another leader, Frank Smith, who was one of those to whom Burns referred as a "journalistic jerry didlers," has retorted in kind. He refers to Burns as a "bombastic, bullying boss, bull-dozing, selfish and conceited."

Big Collision at New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 15.—Fifteen people were more or less injured and $40,000 worth of railroad property destroyed in a collision at the junction of the Louisville and Nashville, and New Orleans and Northwestern tracks about two miles from the city. T. P. Simpson, engineer of the East Louisiana train, is under arrest charged with criminal negligence.

See This Dress?

Surprise Soap Washed it.

And will wash any washable material without injury to the color or material—it is harmless yet effective.

White goods are made whiter and colored goods brighter by the use of Surprise Soap.

Thousands use it. Why don't you?

Use Surprise on washday for all kinds of goods without Boiling or Scalding.

SURPRISE SOAP LASTS LONGEST GOES FARTHEST. 180 READ the directions on the wrapper.

FATAL ACCIDENT IN BUFFALO.

A Buffalo Society Woman and Two Girls Killed.

BUFFALO, Oct. 15.—A terrible accident, resulting in three deaths, shocked Buffalo society yesterday. At five o'clock Miss Emily S. Woods and two daughters of John N. Scatcherd, went for a drive along the Niagara boulevard. Miss Wood is one of the best known society women of Buffalo. Mr. Scatcherd is a millionaire, the best horseman in Buffalo and the Republican state committeeman from the 31st district.

The children who went with Miss Wood were aged 11 and 5 years respectively. The eldest girl was driving and Miss Wood was reading aloud from a newspaper. Seeing the belt line passenger train approaching at the Parkside crossing the girl whipped the horse over ahead of it. A Central freight train going east escaped the notice of the occupants of the carriage.

The engine struck the carriage and threw it clear up on the pilot, breaking it to pieces. The two girls were almost instantly killed and Miss Wood died soon after being removed to a near-by house. Mr. and Mrs. Scatcherd are nearly insane from grief.

ELECTIONS IN BELGIUM.

Voting Under Universal Suffrage is Held for the First Time.

BRUSSELS, Oct. 15.—Belgium's first parliamentary election with universal suffrage was held yesterday. The complications of the three-class system caused much delay in the voting. The electors are divided into classes designated by the names Univox, Rivox and Trivox. The first class includes all men over 25 years of age who have resided a year or more in the election district. Many of these voters are ignorant and were exceedingly slow in preparing their ballots. With the second class of married men and widowers who pay personal taxes of five francs or more each there was little difficulty. In the third class are most of the highly educated men, and consequently all the priests, who in Belgium number fully 10,000. As every priest has three votes, the total vote of the Belgian priesthood is about 30,000.

No summary of the general result will be possible before to-morrow. The success of the Catholics in Ghent is assured. The socialists united with the progessionists having gained ground in Charleroi and Liege and have lost none in Mons. Minister Bruyn was re-elected in Termonde. The Liberals have carried Namur. It is announced that M. Wooste, the clerical leader, has been defeated.

IN THE HANDS OF JUSTICE.

A Woman Charged With the Murder of Montgomery Gibbs.

BUFFALO, Oct. 15.—Mrs. Sarah Robinson, the woman brought here from Cleveland, charged with the murder of Montgomery Gibbs, made a statement to the police yesterday. According to her story she and her husband set out on that night with the intention of holding up some one. They selected a long, dark block on Delaware avenue and walked up and down, laying in wait for the first well-dressed man who came along. Gibbs was the man. When Robinson demanded his valuables Gibbs struck at him and Robinson fired two shots, one of which inflicted the fatal wound in the temple.

The police and the public have always entertained the theory that the murder was committed by some one who thought Gibbs had wronged him or a relation. The Cleveland people will get a reward of $1,000 in case Robinson is convicted of the crime. Chief Detective Cusack believes that he has a sure case.

The Ahr Valley.

It is becoming the custom among European travellers to stop at Remagen-on-the Rhine, and make a little excursion to the beautiful Valley of the Ahr, with its picturesque villages along the vine-clad slope. Here is also located the spring from which flows that world wide favorite "Apollinaris Water." At Neuenahr, in the valley, the river Ahr is very beautiful, and one can find few more quaintly attractive spots than the Upper Gate at Ahrweiler, or the old mill at Heppingen.

A tax on dogs was levied in Rome during the reign of Nero.

For Over Fifty Years

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhœa. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by druggists throughout the world. 17d&wly

In the time of Queen Anne soap was taxed £28 per ton.

DEAR SIRS.—I have used Yellow Oil for two or three years, and think it has no equal for croup. Mrs. J. S. O'Brien, Huntsville, Ont.

The tithes in England amounted to £4,-050,000 a year.

Dyspepsia and Indigestion.—C. W. Snow & Co., Syracuse, N.Y., writes: "Please send us ten gross of Pills. We are selling more of Parmelee's Pills than any other Pill we keep. They have a great reputation for the cure of Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint." Mr. Chas. A. Smith, Lindsay, writes: "Parmelee's Pills are an excellent medicine. My sister has been troubled with severe headache, but these pills have cured her."

Russia raises $1,5000,000 a year by the sale of passports.

THAT TIRED, LANGUID FEELING and dull headache is very disagreeable. Take two of Carter's Little Liver Pills before retiring, and you will find relief. They never fail to do good.

DELICATE

MURRAY & LANMAN'S

PURE SWEET LASTING

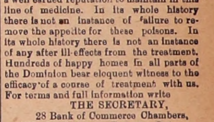

RICH RARE PUNGENT

FLORIDA WATER

STILL HOLDS THE FIRST PLACE IN POPULAR FAVOR. BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

REFRESHING IMPERISHABLE

FRAGRANT

LAKEHURST SANITARIUM
OAKVILLE, ONT.

For treatment and cure of
ALCHOLISM, MORPHINE HABIT, TOBACCO HABIT AND NERVOUS DISEASES.

The system employed at this institution is the familiar Double Chloride of Gold System. Through its agency over 200,000 Slaves to the use of these poisons have been emancipated in the last fourteen years. Lakehurst Sanitarium is the oldest Institution of the kind in Canada, and has a well earned reputation to maintain in this line of medicine. In its whole history there is not an instance of failure to remove the appetite for these poisons. In its whole history there is not an instance of any after ill-effects from the treatment. Hundreds of happy homes in all parts of the Dominion bear eloquent witness to the efficacy of a course of treatment with us. For terms and full information write

THE SECRETARY,
28 Bank of Commerce Chambers,
aug7d3m34w3m) Toronto, Ont.

Before putting up your STOVES have the

TRIMMINGS RE-PLATED

— AT THE —

BELLEVILLE PLATING WORKS

HARRIS & WALTON'S FACTORY MILL ST.

HAPPY HOME RANGES.

Best in the Market.

—ALSO—

A Full Line of

Art Garland

and

Famous Heaters.

—(o)—

Wm. McGIE.

Next to Nathan Jones.
Telephone 38. Front St

QUINCES....

Are said to be, by those who know their uses best, the nicest fruit grown.

We expect to receive regular supplies each day, also

Grapes and Peaches.

Those who may not have bought their peaches early in the season can get fully as good value now as the "Smock" variety is one of the best grown for canning or pickling, and is now the only peach in the market.

Jas. Wallace & Co.

Mothers

suffering with weakness and emaciation, who give little nourishment to babies, should take

Scott's Emulsion

the Cream of Cod-liver Oil and hypophosphites. It will give them strength and make their babies fat. Physicians, the world over, endorse it.

Don't be deceived by Substitutes!

Scott & Bowne, Belleville, All Druggists. 50c. & $1.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, MONDAY, OCT. 15.

DISTINGUISHED VISITORS.

General Booth, the founder and leader of the Salvation Army, and his staff, will visit Belleville to-morrow, and we bespeak for them a hearty welcome. The religious organization of which Gen. Booth is the leader and founder, is one of the most potent agencies for good that has ever been originated outside of the churches, and its influence is world wide.

We hope that the city will present a gala appearance to-morrow, in honor of General Booth, who will be officially welcomed by the Mayor, on behalf of the city, by other organizations, and by leading Christian workers.

The General and his party, accompanied by the Ensign of the local corps, will arrive on their steam yacht at 5 p.m. and headed by their band will march to the Market Square, where a public reception will be held. Mr. A. G. Northrup presiding, His Worship Mayor Walmsley, will read an address of welcome, and speeches will be delivered by Mr. John Ball, D.S. Gibson and Walker, Mr. J. W. Johnson, of the O.B.C., and Rob. Boyle, of the B.B.O., County Crown Attorney Anderson, and for the Board of Trade either Mr. Thomas Ritchie or Mr. John Frost.

During his stay in the city General Booth, with his private secretary, Staff Capt. Malan, and Commandant and Mrs. Booth, will be entertained by Mr. Richardson, Manager of the Bank of Montreal. Col. Lawlor will be entertained at the Army headquarters on Pinnacle St.; Major Frey and Staff Capt. Sharp will be the guests of Mr. L. W. Yeomans. Adjt. Jones, the lady officer, will be quartered with Miss Bonar.

TO BOOM ONTARIO.

Mayor Walmsley has received a circular from Messrs. Roaf, Curry, Gunther and Green, of Toronto, mentioning a proposal for the formation of an association for the purpose of making known the advantages of the Province of Ontario as a resort for visitors and tourists, and inviting the co-operation of the municipalities.

This is no doubt a desirable object, but the work has been done by the Grand Trunk, the C. P. R., the steamboat lines, leading hotels and other concerns interested in it. A meeting on the subject, in which all who feel interested might take part, is, however, desirable, as by this means it would be ascertained whether further action is necessary.

The Mayor will hand the letter to the Board of Trade.

That Joyful Feeling.

With the exhilarating sense of renewed health and strength and internal cleanliness, which follows the use of Syrup of Figs, is unknown to the few who have not progressed beyond the old time medicines and the cheap substitutes sometimes offered but never excepted by the well informed.

FOXBORO RACES.

The Full Programme for the Races on Harford Ashley's Track.

The following is the programme for the race meeting at Foxboro on the 24th inst.:

Three Minute Class.—Purse from $30 to $60, according to number of entries. Horses eligible from Sept 25th, 1894, including E wood.

Named Race.—Purse from $30 to $50, according to number of entries, composed of the following horses: Annie Laurie, Mambrino Sheridan, Hall's bay mare, Sheffield bay horse, Bonter's bay horse, Captain Jinks, Bay Legacy, Kentucky Chief, Easy Farmer, Black Morgan, Scriver's bay horse, Lady Canton, Logan's brown horse and Black Moll.

Three and four year old race.—Purse from $30 to $50, according to entries.

Free for All.—Purse from $50 to $70, according to number of entries made.

Free for all, mile heats, best 3 in 5. The others one half mile, best 3 in 5. Money divided 50, 30 and 20 per cent.

Excellent accommodation at the track. American trotting rules to govern.

Judges.—T. McKee, of Stirling; James O'Neil, of Belleville; C. Bills, of Frankford.

Races to commence at 1 o'clock sharp.

Entries to close October 22nd. Four to enter, three to start in each race.

How to Get a "Sunlight Picture

Send 25 "Sunlight" soap wrappers (wrapper bearing the words "by does a woman look old sooner than a man") to Lever Bros. Ltd., 43 Scott St., Toronto, and you will receive by post a pretty picture, free from advertising, and well worth framing. This is an easy way to decorate your home. The soap is the best in the market, and it will only cost 1c. postage to send for the wrappers. If you leave the ends open, print your address carefully.

PLUMP CHEEKS,

A clear skin, and all the other indications of good health will quickly follow the use of Campbell's Sulphur Soap.

Skrei Cod Liver Oil.

It is pure and almost tasteless.

AMONG THE CHURCHES.

Rev. Mr. Price Refers to Mr. Daw's Resignation in Christ Church.

In Emmanuel Reformed Episcopal church, the Rev. J. Simpson Trotter's yesterday morning subject was life lessons on human frailty under the emblem of the fading leaf, from the words, "We all do fade as a leaf." The subject was instructive and interesting. In the evening he preached a powerful gospel sermon from the text: "Who both labor and suffer reproach, because we trust in the living God, who is the saviour of all men, specially of them that believe." He announced that a vestry meeting on the 22nd inst., to consider the resignation of the rector and also what were the best interests of the parish. "Our hearts are sorrowful this morning," he said, "the venom of slander and the vicious tongue have done their work in this parish and we are without a rector. He was a man who had done everything for the welfare of his people and this was his reward. This lesson has been an awful one, and this malicious slander has caused it all." He took his text from John 3 13.

Rev. R. Roberts preached at both services in the Tabernacle yesterday. His subject in the morning was "The highest character and the greatest good," from Psalms 84 11. His evening subject was "Weather probabilities and others that are more important," from Matthew 16—2 and 3.

Rev. Mr. Gough preached two splendid sermons in John St. church yesterday. His subject in the morning was "Charity," from 1 Cor. 13. His evening subject was "The young men and the churches," from Ecclesiastes, 12—1. In the evening the choir rendered the anthem "Praise the Lord O Jerusalem," with baritone obligato by Mr. Fox.

Mr. J. Parson Smith, the converted prize fighter, and temperance lecturer, occupied the pulpit in Bridge St. Methodist church in the morning and created a very favorable impression by his evident sincerity. He was assisted in the singing by Prof. Morgan, Canada's blind singer, and his daughter, Miss Fairy, whose singing was very much admired and will produce a great attraction to their meetings. He took for his text the 7th verse of the 32nd Psalm, claiming that if christian churches did their duty there would be neither drunkards, saloons or infidels. In the evening the pastor, Rev. E. N. Baker preached an impressive sermon on the signs of the times.

Stirring appeals were made by Rev. M. W. Maclean, minister of St. Andrew's, to the congregation assembled in Bellevile Business College yesterday. His earnest exhortations for united sympathy and co-operation at the present urgent crisis, so as to secure the construction of a fitting temple of worship on the grounds hallowed by so many old associations, were founded on Exodus 25—8, "And let them make Me a sanctuary, that I may dwell among them." The evening text was St. John 6—63 and St. John 7—46, "It is the spirit that quickeneth," "Never man spoke like this man." The choir rendered two anthems with good effect, taking into consideration the fact that the best piano music can never be made to accord with the exigencies of combined church effort. A meeting of the managers is to be held this afternoon. It is expected that nearly all the $10,000 required will be subscribed this week, payable in four annual instalments.

WEDDED AT ST. MICHAELS.

A Young Gentleman From Kingston Takes Away a Belleville Lady.

A pretty wedding was celebrated in St. Michael's church at 8:30 this morning, when Miss Nellie Hadale, eldest daughter of Mr. Alex Hadale, the popular boat builder, was married to Mr. John Givens, guard at the Kingston penitentiary. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Father O'Brien in the presence of a few invited guests and a number of spectators. The bride, who wore a costume of cream cashmere trimmed with lace and pearls, and a bridal veil and white roses, was given away by her father. The bridesmaid was Miss Mary Givens and her gown was white cashmere trimmed with canary velvet and lace, and she carried a bunch of yellow roses. The maids of honor, Miss Gertie Givens and Miss Nora Hadale, wore pink chalilee with pale green trimmings and cream challies with white lace respectively. The groom was supported by Mr. Thos. Bloomfey, of Brockville. After the ceremony the wedding party drove to the residence of the bride's father on South Front St., where a wedding breakfast was partaken of. The happy couple left on the 12:45 train for their future home, which was awaiting them in Kingston. The bride has been a very popular young lady in this city, she having been for four years a member of St. Michael's church choir, and also taking part in many entertainments, for which her musical talents fitted her. Mr. Givens is a native of Kingston but is not unknown here, having been connected with the Hero for many years. He is now a guard at the Kingston penitentiary. The bride received many beautiful presents among which was a silver tea service from the groomsmen; silver teapot from Mr. Williamson, grocer; silver mounted cake basket, Miss Lalonde; silver sugar bowl, Miss Mary O'Rourke; China tea set from sister of the groom; rocking chair from Mr. and Mrs. S. Sidley; parlor lamp from her own sisters and cutlery from her father.

The Emeralds.

The "Emerald Trio," consisting of J. Parsons Smith, Professor Morgan and his talented daughter, "Fairy," held the first of a series of gospel temperance meetings in the City Hall yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. There was a good audience, who were delighted with the service. Mr. Smith, together with Mr. Webb, held a series of meetings in this city nearly three years ago and were very successful in arousing public interest in temperance reform and in the raising of a large membership for the Royal Templars, under whose auspices they are here at present. Mr. Smith is a gentleman of extensive experience in temperance work, as he has been engaged in it almost continually for nearly nine years. He is a strong, earnest speaker, who has great faith in the principles he advocates. Prof. Morgan, the blind singer, is well known as a gospel temperance singer for a number of years; he sings in a sweet voice, with great expression, while his daughter "Fairy," is truly a wonder in song and elocution. They were the only Canadians who were engaged to sing at the world's fair at Chicago. Mr. Smith preached yesterday morning in Bridge St. church with great acceptance. A large crowd gathered at 8:15 last evening at the City Hall, but owing to some oversight the janitor failed to open the place, so no meeting was held.

Asthma Sufferers.

Who have in vain tried every other means of relief, should try "Schiffman's Asthma Cure." No waiting for results. Its action is immediate, direct and certain, as a single trial proves. Send to Dr. R. Schiffmann, St. Paul, Minn., for a free trial package, but ask your druggist first.

ROBBERS MAKE A BIG HAUL

Masked Men Hold Up an Express Train Near Washington.

VALUABLE MONEY PARCELS STOLEN

It is Estimated That Sums Aggregating $150,000 Are Missing—The Biggest Train Robbery on Record—A Notorious Ex-Convict Was at the Head of the Gang—Reward Offered for Their Capture.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—All Washington was astounded on Saturday to learn that seven masked men had held up a train within a few miles of the Capitol. The robbery took place at Quantico and a number of men were concerned in the job.

The train was brought to a standstill and the engineer covered with a half dozen ugly revolvers. The leader of the messenger robbers then entered the car below the door open with a dynamite cartridge.

The express safe contained $15,000. The robbers secured this and all of the express packages containing money. It is thought this amount will foot up to $180,000.

None of the passengers were molested.

The robbery is one of the largest on record. Seldom have the train robbers made away with more than $100,000 and this has been extraordinary. There is little doubt, however, but that the Acquia Creek bandits secured $150,000. The manifest of the company, it is said, show that $182,000 is missing but some of this is believed to be in bonds and paper which cannot be readily negotiated by thieves. The chances for the capture of the robbers are poor. The men had ample time to get away before being pursued.

There is every reason to suppose that the leader of the gang which perpetrated the bold train robbery at Acquia Creek, Va., on Friday night has been identified. He is George Carter, a former resident of the neighborhood, an ex-convict of Sing Sing, a railroad engineer and a man who has been associated with many scenes of robbery and bloodshed. Carter in all respects resembles the man who fired the shot through the door at the express messenger and subsequently threw the stick of dynamite.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—The Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac railway train which was held up and robbed by a gang of train robbers near Quantico, Va., arrived in Jersey City yesterday. It was in two sections and the express car which was forced open by the robbers with dynamite, was on the second section. The car was No. 214 of the Atlantic Coast line. It was in charge of Messenger Crutchfield, who lives in Richmond, Va. As soon as the car was unloaded it was hustled to the repair shops in the Hackensack Meadows.

The crew of the train was not the same as was on the train when the robbery occurred. The crew which brought the train in took charge at Philadelphia. Messenger Crutchfield hurried to the headquarters of the Adams Express Co. He was immediately taken into the private office of Superintendent Ware, with whom he was closeted for a few hours. Then Crutchfield went to the headquarters of the Pinkerton Detective Agency and had an interview with Mr. Pinkerton.

The officers of the Adams Express Company refuse to give any information at present as to the amount of money taken by the robbers, except to say that it would not exceed $150,000, as reported. One of the clerks said there was no means at present of finding out the extent of the loss, as the robbers had taken away all the way bills.

The railway officers are very incensed at the manner in which the desperadoes uncoupled the engine from the train and ran it several miles up the road into a coal chute, where it was wrecked. The employes of the Adams Express Company say they have no doubt that the robbery was committed by men who were skilled in railroad business. One package consigned to Wilmington, Del., which it is said is missing, contained $20,000.

At the office of the Adams Express Co. Mr. H. H. Gates, the president's private secretary, said: "Messenger Crutchfield has been here and delivered his report to the officers of the company and has again started south, as it is necessary for him to be at the scene of the robbery. The story of the robbery, as printed, is substantially correct, except as to the amount stated. $150,000. That we cannot say anything definite about as yet, as we really do not know how much was taken. It is impossible for us to estimate at the present time as the money way bills were all destroyed."

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 15.—Gov. C. Farrel has offered a reward of $1,000 for the arrest of the robbers. Major Myers, president of the railroad company, has offered a reward of $1,000 for the arrest of the cut throats who held up the train and Mr. Welsh, Richmond, representative of the express company, said to-day he had no doubt that his company would follow suit.

An Escaped Convict Killed.

QUINCY, Ills., Oct. 15.—George Williams who escaped from the Missouri state prison together with another convict, was shot and killed by Sheriff Pratt at Palmyra on Saturday evening. William's companion escaped.

Strikers Heavily Sentenced.

OGDEN, Utah, Oct. 15.—Sentences were pronounced in the district court on Saturday on Decamp, McConnell and King found guilty by a jury of attempted train wrecking during the A. R. U. strike. King was given four years and Decamp and McConnell twelve years each in the penitentiary.

The Fiercest War.

The Chinese fight the Japanese and all the earth is rent, and batals thunders shake the seas that lave the Orient; and in the southern hemisphere the usual revolution fills all the nations with great fear and miserable confusion. And Russia looks with warlike eye upon the Turkish crescent, and France still looks at Germany with glance that's far from pleasant; and in the islands of the sea there's warlike perturbation, and rumors of great waves to shake many a frightened nation.

But these great world rumors move not me, for in my grief alone I bear a heavier misery—a great war of my own. I lead the singing in our church, and all about me rages a war whose equal you may search through the wars of ages. The war in any land or age can be so fierce and dire as the peculiar war they wage when a row is in the choir.

The Secret Safe.

"And you ask me to marry you!" exclaimed the proud beauty, scornfully. "You! Hiram Jinks! I would not for the world have any of my friends know you have subjected me to this humiliation!"

"Then we'll not say anything about it, Miss Rockley," said Hiram, looking about for his hat. "Great Scott! You can't feel any more sneakin' over it than I do."—Chicago Tribune.

Looking Out for Number One.

Bingo—You are not going to try and fire off that rusty old cannon that's been lying in the cellar for the past year, are you, Bobbie?

Bobbie—Yes, sir; I thought I would.

Bingo—Now, Bobbie, the first time you fire it off, the chances are that it will burst and blow you up.

Bobbie—I thought of that, pop, and I'm going to get the little boy next door to touch it off first.—New York Herald.

SPORTING NEWS

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 12. The American Field champion, J. A. R. Elliott, broke the world's record at trap shooting at 50 yards boundary, in the second match of the series with Dr. W. F. Carver. Elliott made a clean score of 100 killed, which is one more than the record heretofore made, which was held by Elliott. Carver's score of 99 equals the best previous record, and the match itself stands without an equal in trap shooting contests. Carver lost his fourth bird, which was badly hit, falling dead ten feet outside the boundary, making virtually every bird which left the trap killed.

The Forest and Stream Club's fishing competitions closed to-day.

A professional base ball club—semi professional at least—is on the cards for Belleville next season.

The first two whitefish of the season were netted at Stiger Island on Friday. One more was taken at Massasaga Point on Saturday.

Governor Mitchell, of Florida, says that the Legislature will, at the coming session, pass a law that will effectually prevent the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight from taking place in that State. If that is done New Orleans will get the battle.

At Lexington on Saturday Vera Cupel won the 2:11 pace and Dan Cupid the 2:11 trot. Directly beat Marietta Wilkes two straight heats in the two year old pacing stake. Time of each 2:12

Joe Patchen made two unsuccessful attempts to beat his record of 2:04 at Rossville, Ill., on Saturday. Time, 2:05½, 2:06. In the second trial the pacer left his feet for the first time this season. Kentucky Union ran his four-all trot in straight heats, 2:12½ being the fastest. The weather was warm and the track fast.

A Prominent Lawyer Says:

"I have eight children, every one in good health, not one of whom but has taken Scott's Emulsion, in which my wife has boundless confidence."

Lane's Medicine Moves the Bowels Each Day

In order to be healthy this is necessary.

THE OLD SNIPE JOKE.

How a Wag Played an Innocent Visiting Sportsman.

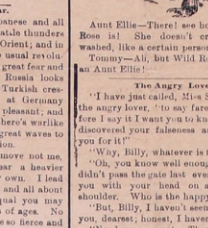

Nothing can be more interesting, in an ordinary way, than the fate of practical jokers. Shooters and sportsmen generally will appreciate the latest from Eureka, Nev. Bent on landing game, a visitor held forth in his store with regard to his ability to bring quail to earth. Among the audience was a wag who, being a good sport himself, was desirous of testing the foreigner's ability as a shot.

"We do not shoot quail," said he "we bag them, and if you want to go out you do so to-night and see better fun than any gun can furnish."

Accordingly the soi-disant gamester journeyed out from a small hotel in Nevada to see the extraordinary plan by which quail could be "bagged" at night time. The party walked two miles into the hills and arranged a trap by laying down thirty pieces of cards in shape. "Into this," they explained, "we drive the quail, and one of us holds a sack at the end of the V, into which the quail run. By a previous arrangement an argument was commenced as to who should have the honor of holding the sack and securing the birds while the remainder, did the hard work of beating them toward the trap.

When the point was apparently settled one of the party said: "No, this is not fair. Mr. de——— is our guest, and as such is entitled to hold the sack." Generously enough to the boasting sportsman was given the honor of holding a bag bound at the mouth on a long pole, so as to catch the birds. All the others left to beat up quail. For three hours the visitor faithfully held that sack, and when the last candle burned out he found himself in the midst of a lonely valley, which was full of deserted shafts and other dangerous holes, two miles from any house, and surrounded by a darkness which resembled a stack of black cats. When he arrived at his hotel and found that his cohorters had been there enjoying the joke for hours he simply went to bed and wept. He sold his gun next morning and left for California —a state where, he says, "people would not do such a thing."—San Francisco Call.

All the Difference.

Aunt Ellie—There! see how good Wild Rose is! She doesn't cry when she's washed, like a certain person I know of.

Tommy—Ah, but Wild Rose hasn't got an Aunt Ellie!

The Angry Lover.

"I have just called, Miss Simpson," said the angry lover, "to say farewell, but before I say it I want you to know that I have discovered your falseness and I despise you for it!"

"Why, Billy, whatever is the matter?"

"Oh, you know well enough. Maybe I didn't pass the gate last evening and see you with your head on another man's shoulder. Who is the happy man?"

"But, Billy, I haven't seen any man but you, dearest; honest, I haven't."

"No, I suppose not. Then maybe I am blind, deaf, and dumb, and an idiot. Maybe you didn't have company last evening!"

"No one, Billy, but my best friend, Emily. No, I didn't, and I think you are a wretch."

"And you didn't stand at the gate?"

"Oh, yes, we did. We were counting the stars in the big dipper—making wishes on them."

"Oh, yes, I suppose I was blind. Now, maybe you'll describe Emily to me!"

"Why, she had on her Knox hat, her black blazer suit, a white shirt waist, with a black satin tie, and a white duck vest. You know Emily, Billy."

"Billy, indeed! I see."

And what might have been a modern tragedy was averted and Billy made up at once.—Indianapolis Sentinel.

Why He Is So.

"Chelly is very unfortunate in the impression he makes," said one girl.

"Yes," replied another, "his clothes are so loud and his remarks are so soft!"—Washington Star.

Cheese Markets

LONDON.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—Fourteen factories offered 2,075 boxes of August and 1,660 boxes of September and October. Sales:—290 boxes August at 10c; market dull.

ODDENSBURG.

ODDENSBURG, Oct. 13.—To-day 991 boxes of cheese were offered on the board. The prices bid were 9½ and 9¾ on the street, and afterwards 10c, but they were not accepted.

WATERTOWN.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., Oct. 13.—At the cheese board on Saturday, 1,000 boxes of cheese were sold, the leading and ruling prices being 10c.

SPECIAL MENTION

—London Patrons have nominated Mr. Edward Switzer.

DR. LOW'S PLEASANT WORM SYRUP removes worms of all kinds from children or adults.

—Lieut. Baert, the Belgian explorer, died recently at Leopoldville, in the Congo State.

FOR WHOOPING COUGH can be quickly cured by Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam. Price 25c.

—The International Order of King's Daughters will hold its annual convention in Montreal, beginning on Wednesday.

ALWAYS AVOID HARSH PURGATIVE PILLS. They first make you sick and then leave you constipated. Carter's Little Liver Pills regulate the bowels and make you well. Dose, one pill.

—Col. Breckinridge has been suspended from communion by Mount Horeb Presbyterian church in Paris, Ky., until next February.

ALL CASES OF WEAK OR LAME BACK, backache, rheumatism, will find relief by wearing one of Carter's Smallweed and Belladonna Backache Plasters. Price 25 cents. Try them.

DAVIS PAIN KILLER. — The best and most popular Family Medicine in the world. A blessing to the rich; a friend to the poor; within the reach of all, it has saved more lives and relieved more suffering in different to travelling than any other medicine. 25c. per bottle, large size.

Nearly all infants are more or less subject to delay or some such complaints while teething, and as this period of their lives is the most critical, mothers should not be without a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial. This medicine is a specific for such complaints and is highly spoken of by those who have used it. The proprietors claim it will cure any case of cholera or summer complaint.

Bad Boys Whipped.

At Hamilton on Saturday, two boys who had been stealing shoes, were brought before Judge Snider, who ordered after conviction to be whipped by their parents. The sentence was carried out in the station court yard, each boy getting ten good lashes with a strap. The magistrate, says the Hamilton Spectator, does not think the strap is stiff enough and intends to get a suitable one, of the old-fashioned kind, which, while it will break no bones, will considerably stinging and leave impressions on both mind and back that will prove of a rather lasting nature. Herein is a hint for our local P. M.

Quack Advertisements

Are a nuisance and we think it behooves publishers to examine into the merits of many articles offered up in their columns. We do not deny that many meritorious remedies are properly to be classed under this heading. Take the hundreds and thousands of loved from reverend authority the use of Polson's Nervilline; would it not be unreasonable to expect them to condemn that fr framed remedy? Now we know for a fact that Polson's Nervilline is without exception the most powerful, pleasant and certain remedy in the world for pain. It cannot fail, for it goes right to the bottom of pain, penetrates to the nerves, soothes them into quietness, and affords prompt and permanent relief.

New Advertisements.

LOST.

BETWEEN Mr. C. M. Stark's residence and Coleman St., an L. C. Smith breech-loading shot-gun, in leather case. Return to Jos. Stenabaugh for reward.

BELLEVILLE, Oct. 15, 1894. 139,14

TO LET.

TO LET 99 Dundas st., opposite South John st; barn, hard and soft water. Apply next door. 137d3t

TO LET 2 semi-warm brick houses in terrace, situated on Charlotte St., West Belleville, known as Morton's, or Fillifer's terrace. For terms of rent apply to R. C. Fillifer, collector, or sub-agent to the estate of the late R. H. Fillifer Residence at Mr. Jardin's Corner of William and Dundas Sts., East Belleville. 85d2m

H. C. DICKENS & SON.

YOU'LL BE TOO BUSY

To do any baking during the S. S. Convention. (We are addressing more particularly the ladies at whose houses the delegates are to be entertained.)

Let us come to your aid by suggesting that we do it for you. We'll do it first class" too.

It will relieve you of a lot of trouble and anxiety, and give you more time to entertain your guests. Our bakery will be especially attractive during convention week. So be on the lookout!

H. C. DICKENS & SON.

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS,

A positive cure for all kidney diseases, such as

Backache, Rheumatism, Diabetes, Brights Disease, &c., &c.

For sale at the Pharmacy.

D. M. WATERS.

VOTERS' LIST, 1894.

MUNICIPALITY OF THE CITY OF BELLEVILLE, COUNTY OF HASTINGS.

NOTICE is hereby given, that I have transmitted or delivered to the persons mentioned in sections 5 and 6 of "The Ontario Voters' Lists Act," of 1889 the copies required by said sections to be so transmitted or delivered of the List made pursuant to said Act, of all persons appearing by the last revised Assessment Roll of the said Municipality to be entitled to vote in the said Municipality at elections for Members of the Legislative Assembly and at Municipal elections; and that said List was first posted up in my office at the City Hall, Belleville, on the 15th day of October, 1894, and remains there for inspection.

Electors are called upon to examine the said List, and if any omissions or any other errors are found therein, to take immediate proceedings to have the said errors corrected according to law.

Dated this 15th day of October, 1894.

D. B. ROBERTSON,
Clerk of the said Municipality.

NEVER

Were prices as low for new goods, or prospects better for an unusually brilliant display and lively trade for the holiday china and crockery trade.

We have advices that the Belleville goods are being packed as fast as possible, and will be here in good time. As there is an immense lot, and being goods of of a fragile nature, we must be patient. How satisfactory it is to know at least, that this store's stock is direct from the potteries in England, France and Germany, and not from Toronto or Montreal, and besides, is made for the legitimate crockery trade, which accounts for its better quality and appearance.

W. J. REID & CO'Y,

CRYSTAL HALL. Rous' Old Stand.

London and Belleville.

MONTHLY DIVIDENDS!!!

NEW YORK TRADING COMPANY,

17 & 19 Broadway New York

CAPITAL, 100,000.

This company has been formed to place small speculators in the Stock, Grain and other markets, in an equally strong position with the great manipulators who make and rule the markets. Legitimate speculation is the quickest road to wealth. The smallest investment may soon grow into a competency.

In the speculative markets alone do such opportunities exist.

Small speculators combined and guided by wise counsellors become a power in the market. This is the position of our subscribers.

By our plan, holders of one share, which costs TEN DOLLARS, enjoy the same privileges and benefits as holders of one hundred shares.

Subscriptions invited to a Syndicate now being formed to operate in a direction where we have peculiar and exclusive information.

Accounts always open to inspection of members. Accounts rendered and dividends payable monthly. Full details of our methods mailed free on application.

Correspondence respectfully solicited.

Bank references furnished.

New York Trading Company,

17 & 19 Broadway, New York City.

CAPITAL $100,000

THIS MATTER CHANGED DAILY.

MONDAY, Oct. 15th.

Cleaning

Are you house cleaning now and getting fixed up for the cold weather? Kindly run your eye over this:

Lace curtains,
Chenille curtains,
Curtain poles
Art silks and muslins,
Chair tidies in silk,
Table mats in silk & linen
Table covers and scarfs, etc., etc.

W. FLINT JONES.

Next door to Haines & Lockett.

WALL STREET!

OPERATE SUCCESSFULLY IN WALL ST.

UNDER THE DIRECTION OF OUR

Co-Operative R.R. Stock Syndicate.

Prospectus and Daily Market Letter Mailed Free. Highest Reference.

"PROSPECTUS AND DAILY MARKET LETTER" MAILED FREE. HIGHEST REFERENCE.

WEINMAN & CO.

Stock and Grain Broker,

NO. 41 BROADWAY, NEW YORK CITY.

[d Oct. 1st, 3m sod

A. E. FISH & CO.

Try our King Shirt, and you will buy no other.

CANADIAN PACIFIC RY

EVERY - FRIDAY

- - FROM - -

TORONTO!

At 12:30 noon runs a —

THROUGH TOURIST CAR

- - TO - -

SEATTLE and the PACIFIC COAST.

Making 12 Hours quicker time.

Full information can be had from

S. BURROWS,

General Ticket Agent, Belleville.

Ask how you can get a CLOCK!

... At MINAKER'S ...

The Men's Furnisher.

Telephone Rings, IS THAT

OBC?

YES.

R. J. Graham is speaking:

We are rushed in the office. Send us another good man at once.

ALL RIGHT,

We shall have a man there in ten minutes We sent J. R. Snaiden, who had just graduated Mr. Graham has now three graduates of

ONTARIO BUSINESS COLLEGE.

In his office here, namely Managing Accountant, Assistant and Stenographer.

GENTLEMEN.....

Before ordering your Fall Clothing don't fail to take a look through

A. N. REID'S

New Fall Importations of

Scotch, English and Irish Suitings, Overcoatings, Pantings, Irish Serges, Cheviots, Hop Sackings and Black Worsteds.

First Class Goods and Prices low.

Mr. Minor, our cutter, is one of the best in Ontario.

EVERY GARMENT GUARANTEED!!

Please call and inspect our New Goods.

A. N. REID.

UNDERWEAR...

AT FISH'S!

WALL STREET!

Don't go shivering around any longer, but come and get some of our warm underclothing, and you will be happy and comfortable.

Sizes run from 30 to 46 inches. Our prices suit all pocket books.

We give value that cannot be beaten.

A. E. FISH & CO.

ALLAN LINE,

Royal Mail Steamships. Liverpool. Calling at Moville.

	From Montreal	From Quebec daylight
PARISIAN	Oct. 6	Oct. 7
MONGOLIAN	" 13	" 14
HIBERNIAN	" 20
LAURENTIAN	" 27	" 28
NUMIDIAN	Nov. 3	Nov. 3
PARISIAN	" 10	" 11

RATES OF PASSAGE.

First cabin Derry and Liverpool, $45 and upwards single; $95 and upwards return. Second cabin, Liverpool, Derry, Belfast, Glasgow, $30; return $55. Steerage at lowest rates (everything found).

All steamships except the Hibernian carry 1st cabin, 2nd cabin and steerage passengers.

STATE LINE SERVICE

NEW YORK, LONDONDERRY AND GLASGOW.

STATE OF NEBRASKA..... Oct. 12
STATE OF CALIFORNIA..... " 26
STATE OF NEBRASKA..... Nov. 23

Cabin passage, $40 and upward, return $80 and upward; Second cabin $25. Steerage at lowest rates.

For tickets and other information apply to U. E. THOMPSON
General Ticket Agent,
Bridge St., Belleville
or to S. BURROWS, Agent.

We Are..

Busy.....

Our new groceries are going with a rush, but more are arriving daily, and we think why we keep our stock fresh and wholesome. We take pride in our confectionery for it's the best money can buy and our prices are away down. See the values we offer in teas and sugars. Provisions, and flour and feed also receive our particular attention.

J. A. ELLIOTT.

Front St., Belleville.

Seasonable Goods
. . AT THE .
GLASGOW WAREHOUSE.

We are now fully prepared to show one of the largest and best assorted stocks of Staple and Fancy Dry Goods in the city, and at the lowest possible prices, consisting of the following:

STAPLE DEPARTMENT.

Grey and white Blankets, Elder Quilts and Pillows, navy and grey Flannel, grey and white flannel sheeting, grey and fancy Homemade Flannel, Towels, Towellings, Table Linens, Tickings and Ginghams, Table plush.

50 pieces Flannelettes, just received, Splendid values.

Mantles and Mantle cloths, Velvet and Cloth Shawls, Sealettes, all prices. Dress goods in great variety.

Carpets, Oilcloths, Rugs, Lace, and Chenille Curtains, and Table Covers in the very newest designs.

VANDERVOORT & GIBSON,
Successors to the late J. W. Dunnet.
Belleville, Oct. 11, 1894.
P.S.—A large show case and table for sale cheap.

COUPON
—FOR—
PART 9.
Canada Portfolio of Art.

A Coupon appears in all issues of this paper.

Cut out this coupon and forward, together with 10 cents, to the Art Department of this paper, and you will receive one part of Canada, as mentioned above, by mail postpaid, or bring the coupon and 10 cents to this office and receive Portfolio.

NAME.....

ADDRESS.....

N.B.—Remember, only one Coupon required for each part.

Daily Intelligencer.
BELLEVILLE, MONDAY, OCT. 15.

Chauncey Ashley, issuer of marriage licenses, Division Court Office, Pinnacle street or at residence over Benmore & Benson's store. d&w

CITY AND DISTRICT.

It was a slipping air last night.

Warmer weather may come after last night's sleet.

The market square received a much needed sweeping this afternoon.

Police officer Stoneberg seemed more than usually proud this morning. It's a girl.

Be sure and attend Grant's cheap cash sale if you want bargains in Boots and Shoes.

Kingston has already two or three mayoralty candidates in the field and more in prospect.

Officer Hayes arrested John Murphy yesterday on a charge of vagrancy. He was allowed to go.

Mrs. Horace Dickson, Market Square, reported to the police that Fred Sero had knocked her husband down on Saturday.

Miss Purdy will form a class in club-swinging for young ladies, on Tuesday, Oct. 16th, at 7:30 p.m., in Royal Templar's Hall.

Rheumatism is primarily caused by acidity of the blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, and thus cures the disease.

The Oswego Times says that Capt. O'Toole of the schr. Hartford, which was lost in Mexico Bay during the late storm, left a sister, Mrs. Maggie O'Toole, of Belleville.

A thief effected an entrance into John Campbell's butcher shop, Station Road, on Friday night, through the transom, and stole 181bs. of pork.

Irvine Rose left his horse standing on Moira St. while he went into a house, and when he came out it was gone. It was found some hours later and taken care of.

Miss Pearl Lalonde, Front St., entertained a number of young friends at her birthday party on Saturday. The young people spent a happy time.

The police received a call to the canning factory on Saturday, where a lot of boys were annoying a trahsman. When an officer appeared they scattered.

Ayer's Hair Vigor, which has outlived and superseded hundreds of similar preparations, is undoubtedly the most fashionable as well as economical hair-dressing in the market. By its use, the poorest head of hair soon becomes luxuriant and beautiful.

The remarkable number of cures of gout and rheumatism which have followed the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, point conclusively to the fact that this remedy comes nearer being the specific for complaints of this nature than any other medicine in pharmacy.

Persons accustomed to take students or others to board, and who can provide rooms and board for delegates to the Provincial Sunday School Convention, will please write to the undersigned on or before the 19th inst., stating number they can accommodate, and terms.—W. H. GORDON, Sec'y. 18841

On this page will be found the coupon for Part 9—which will be ready for delivery on the 16th inst—of "Canada Portfolio of Art." This is truly a magnificent piece of work and is something that will adorn any drawing room or parlor table. You can't afford to be without it. Cut out this coupon and bring it, together with ten cents, to this office, and we will give you Part 9; or, on receipt of coupon and money, the part will be sent postpaid, to any address in the Dominion.

Cold in the head—Nasal Balm gives instant relief; speedily cures. Never fails.

SOCIAL & PERSONAL.

The INTELLIGENCER invites all its readers to contribute to this column. If you or your friends are going away for a holiday trip or if you have friends visiting you drop a card to this office.

A. A. McDonald, Madoc, was in the city to day.

Fred Bourne, who has been ill for some days, was able to be out to-day.

Hon. M. Bowell spent yesterday in the city and left last night for Ottawa.

Mr. W. E. Holton started this morning on a business trip for Messrs. Scott & Bowne.

Mr. Robert Foy will leave to morrow for Bloomfield, in the vicinity of which place he will do some hunting.

J. C. Lockwood, Brighton; Wm. Scott, Napanee; J. W. Mann, Brockville; G. Crowe, Trenton, were at the Anglo to day.

Dan. Houston, of Brooklyn, is in the city. He came up for Mrs. Houston and child, who will accompany him home to-morrow.

Miss Eva Carscallen, of Belleville, spent a few hours with friends in town on Wednesday.—Miss Falconer, of Belleville, and Miss Bariegh, of Moneymore, are guests at Mr. W. F. Campbell's.—Tweed News

A COURT OF ENQUIRY.

The Affairs of the 15th Battalion to be Investigated.

We understand a court of enquiry, composed of the senior officers of our militia corps, will be held in the city on the 22nd. inst., on the affairs of the 15th Battalion. The witnesses received their summonses to day. The court will likely bring out the true causes leading up to the recent trouble and subsequent resignation of some of the officers.

The British Apple Market.

Messrs H & W. Peterson, Colborne, received the following cablegram from Messrs. James Adam Son, & Co., Liverpool:—"Fair demand, with prices slightly lower. Snows, 12s to 15s; Colvests, 9s to 14s; Jonnettings, 7s to 12s."

Messrs. B. & S. Simons, Glasgow, cable:—"Apples arriving in bad condition; market closed with a downward tendency except for superior quality."

Death of a Respected Lady.

In another column of this day's issue is announced the death of Amelia Jenkins, relict of the late John Lazier, who died at her home in Sophiasburg this morning, at the advanced age of 84 years. Deceased, who was the second wife of Mr. Lazier, was widely known and much respected in the county of Prince Edward, where she had lived all her life. She leaves a family of two—a son and a daughter. The funeral will take place at 11 a. m. on Wednesday, to the family burying ground.

They Have Returned.

Messrs. Ritchie, Stork, Flint, Stoneberg and Reed, who spent last week at Crow Lake, fishing and hunting, returned on Saturday night. Although it rained five days out of the six they were there, they had fair luck, capturing 36 muskinonge, 6 bass, 5 ducks, and 1 partridge. They had rather an eventful trip home, their vehicle and harness breaking down five times.

Overcoat Weather.

This is overcoat weather in earnest. If you have to buy a coat, why not do so at once? You have first choice of all the nice garments and then you know you ought to be wearing an overcoat this cold weather. The Oak Hall are turning them out at a great pace these days, and would be pleased to see you with the rest.

Optics.

Spectacles to be of any benefit to the wearer must first have the lenses properly adjusted to the amount of defective sight, which can only be ascertained by a test with accurate trial lenses; then the frame must suitably fit the face. L. W. Yeomans & Co. are devoting special attention to spectacle fitting. Spectacles and eyeglasses of all kinds constantly in stock.

To Manufacture Bicycles.

At a meeting of directors of the Kingston vehicle company, it was decided to manufacture bicycles as well as buggies. A first class maker from the United States has been engaged, to superintend the department. One thousand bicycles and an equal number of buggies will be manufactured, as soon as the works are ready.

They Took Cigars.

Between 12 o'clock on Saturday night and last evening some person unknown broke the back door of Geo. Hanwell's cigar store to splinters, went in, and took several boxes of cigars. The burglar got no money, and left no trace by which a clue could be established.

Disappointed.

A large gathering outside of the City Hall last night were very much disappointed when they found that the Hall was not opened.

The City Clerk claims to have given notice for the care-taker to open it, so that the fault would seem to be with the care-taker. Such carelessness is inexcusable.

Stabbed a Man in Napanee.

The police received a telephone message from Napanee to be on the lookout for a man about 5 ft, 6 in. in height, slight mustache and short beard, dark clothes and soft hat. The report said that he had been detected stealing a coat by a man and to get free he had stabbed his detector.

Singing and Elocution.

By the Emerald Trio, to-night, at the City Hall, at 8 o'clock. Crossley and Hunter say: "Bro. J. Parsons Smith has been a friend and personal acquaintance of ours for the last five years, and has proved himself a great success in temperance work." Sing service to night. Silver collection at door.

To-Night

And all day Tuesday we will sell a lot of women's kid button boots size 2½ and 3 for seventy five cents. Any of our goats' fine kid evening shoes for one dollar a pair. Open to night until ten o'clock.—HAINES & LOCKETT.

Boys' Boots.

We have a splendid range of Boys' Boots from 68 cents up. Our Granby Waterproof Boots are great wearers.—VERMILYEA & SON.

PROBABILITIES.

TORONTO, Oct. 15 — Moderate to fresh winds, becoming southeasterly; fair weather; not much change in temperature today; higher to-morrow.

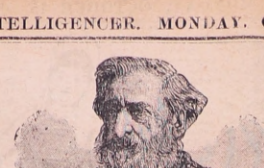

Births.

HUNT—On October 11th, the wife of H. Campbell Hunt, Belleville, of a son.

Died.

LAZIER—On Monday, Oct 15th, 1894, AMELIA LAZIER, aged 83 years and 6 months, relict of the late John Lazier.

The funeral will take place from her late residence, Sophiasburg, P. E. County, on Wednesday morning, October 17th, at 11 o'clock to the family burying place.

GENERAL BOOTH.

A GREAT SALVATIONIST.

GEN. BOOTH AND HIS STAFF TO VISIT BELLEVILLE.

Sketches of the Leader and his Aide-de-Camp—Their Wonderful Career—The Stupendous Organization of Which Gen. Booth is the Head—The Object of the General's Visit.

As General Booth, the eminent man who founded the wonderful agency for good known as the Salvation Army, is to visit Belleville to morrow on his tour of this continent, and will be received officially on behalf of the civic corporation, we give beneath a portrait of the General and a brief sketch of his career:

General Booth is certainly one of the best known men to-day, and his "Darkest England" schemes have been subjects of discussion with many of the great thinkers of the present time. His early history, however, is not so well known as his prominent position. He was born in Nottingham in 1829. Although his mother was an earnest Christian he was unconverted at the age of fifteen. He became interested in Christian work, and publicly confessed Christ in a Wesleyan chapel. His talent for Christian work very soon made him a leader among the workers of that place. When seventeen years of age he was apointed a local preacher. He commenced to study for the ministry about three years later. When a division took place in the Wesleyan Society in 1861 he joined the reformers. He was then set apart as an evangelist and his labors were wonderfully successful. About this time he was married to Miss Catherine Mumford. As Mr. Booth's wife and helper she became famous and the Salvation Army owed much of its success to her efforts. But a few years ago death claimed her and her removal from active labor in the work was the cause of great sorrow; the Army was in mourning for weeks. After several years of evangelistic work his reappointment was refused, and he resigned his position. London offered a great scope for work, so he moved there in 1864, and began work in a tent in the east end. This work grew so rapidly that he gave all his time to it. He soon found that assistance was needed, and that some organization would be required. Ultimately, what was known as the Christian Mission was formed. It consisted of Mr. William Booth and his small band of workers. This organization continued to grow, until in 1878 the first great war congress was held, and the Christian Mission was merged into the Salvation Army. The scope of the Army is now well known, and General Booth is still its indefatigable leader, deputing his wonderful energy through thousands of officers and followers. General Booth is largely responsible for the success of the Salvation Army, which now has some 4,000 corps under 12,000 officers, and almost uncounted soldiers and adherents in 40 countries and colonies. It publishes 33 weekly and monthly papers in 21 languages, having a circulation of 50,000,000 copies a year. All of them are sold, and none of them given away.

His American tour is a part of the jubilee of his conversion from the ways of wickedness in 1844.

The American celebration of the General's jubilee and tour of the country, is not to be confined to processions and unheard of spectacular features, by any means. Its most important and interesting part is of a practical nature, and was devised by Commander and Mrs. Ballington Booth. This plan of practical celebration has twenty four divisions, each one of them having some important bearing on the spiritual or bodily welfare of a large number of persons. The combined effect of all these plans will be felt more or less directly, no doubt, by the whole nation. In the first place, the Army's division of the Pacific is to begin an attack on the devil as manifested in the Hawaiian Islands. Adjutant Egner has just set sail for the little republic. In the second place, 50 new corps are to be opened in various cities of the United States. The chief cities selected are New York, Brooklyn, Newark, N. J.; Chicago, Milwaukee, Detroit, San Francisco, Sacramento, Oakland, Cal.; Boston, Providence, R. I.; Portland, Me.; St. Louis, Kansas City, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Toledo, Buffalo, Rochester, Albany, Leavenworth, Kan.; Fort Scott, Kan.; Minneapolis, Philadelphia, Scranton, Pittsburg, Peoria, Ill., and Springfield, Ill. A training garrison is also to be opened in New York, Brooklyn, Hoboken, Cincinnati and Milwaukee.

One of the most important features of the celebration is to be the establishment of what are to be known as prison gate brigades, whose duty it shall be to look after discharged convicts from the moment they are released and provide them with work, shelter and spiritually healthy surroundings. The Salvation Army seems to have been more successful than any other agency working in this direction in other countries, and in India, Ceylon and Australia the prison brigade has come to be recognized by the prison officials as almost a part of the prison system. In Australia the Army is supplied by the Government with money to carry on the work, and it is thought likely that state aid can be looked for in this country when the system gets to working well here.

Last but not least on this extraordinary programme of celebration comes the observance of a week of jubilee thank offering some time this month. The army observes what it calls self-denial week once every year, and it raised $35,000 by this means last year, and that came, too, chiefly from the salaries of soldiers, who in many cases had to go without food and the necessaries of life in order to make a contribution.

"Faith Fenton," the clever editor of "Woman's Empire," in the Toronto Empire, recently interviewed General Booth at Montreal and attended his meetings. In the course of a long article, she gives the following estimate of the great leader's character and abilities, as follows:

Gen. Booth at first sight and upon first hearing is a disappointment to the listeners; and they find themselves wondering, as I did, wherein his power lies.

"It must be there somewhere," I said, as I watched the tall unkempt figure upon the platform. "It must lie in some direction, but where?"

He is not eloquent. He makes no pretence of silvery speech. He is not in the least dramatic. He does not pose. He is not even highly educated, in a literary sense, and he is given to ignoring that troublesome aspirant in an altogether English way.

I shook my head over the list of negations. Clearly there was something not to be discovered within the first few minutes of platform utterance, for without power, a mighty power, this man to whom I hearkened could never have become the leader of the great movement with which his name is identified, nor the recognized originator of the most comprehensive social scheme ever planned.

The secret reveals itself but slowly. We get but a hint here and there from his platform addresses. But the closer we come in contact with the man, the more quickly and surely we perceive the truth.

He possesses the genius of a general—a real military general—in the highest degree. I have never met a man so practical, keen, prompt, decisive, so instant and direct in attack, with such a capacity for devising plans and utilizing the materials that come to his hand.

The Army leader claimed but his rightful title by inherited gifts when he called himself "General." Had he but attained his military genius to affairs mundane instead of spiritual, he would doubtless have reardered to England, had occasion demanded, the service of another Wellington.

We of the world's market places, have been disposed to eye askance Gen. Booth's scheme for Darkest England, and his Army work in general, thinking to find him a fanatic or a gamester. Yet, having met him, we are constrained to say that he is neither; but a practical man of business, with the keenest of insight, a quick detection and hatred of shams, a wholesome touch of dry humor; having an altogether shrewd, observant, matter-of-fact nature, mellowed and consecrated by his simple, whole-souled religious belief.

He is not eloquent, I said. Yet, when he addresses an audience upon this social scheme that lies so close to his heart, he has the real eloquence of absolute sincerity and conviction, and the force that comes of plain direct speech.

COLONEL LAWLOR.

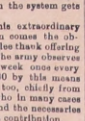

The following sketch of Col. Lawlor, A.D.C. to the General, and who will accompany him, will also be found of interest:

Col. Lawlor, the General's A.D.C., is a striking individuality, no less in character than in person. Of Norfolk parentage, brought up in Yorkshire, endowed with the arm of a Hercules, and with a spirit as tender and pitying as that of a woman, he has conquered the disadvantages of a poor education, risen to eminence in the service of God, and worked his way into the confidence and heart of his leaders and comrades throughout the world. Humanly speaking, he owes all he possesses to the Salvation Army. If asked what he is most thankful for in his life, he will tell you that it is that God overtook him, when an outcast lad, in Fullan's Theatre, Bedford, and saved his soul. One of the happiest moments in his life was when the General, in the front bedroom of Col. (then Mr.) Dowie's quarters in the same city, accepted him, along with Ted Irons, as an officer, and appointed him to open the 30th corps of the Salvation Army. His scholastic qualifications were, then, as we have hinted, rare. He could read, but he had to be careful what chapters he selected; he could write, but the writer would have to be close by. If the reader wanted to decipher it rapidly. When sixteen years old he stepped forward as an ambassador for Jesus Christ, all he had was a Bible and a Bible. Since then he has grown to be one of God's giants and is still growing. With a heart as full of music as Heaven, as fond of it as a seraph, he could not, strange to say, play a tin whistle if you were to offer him the Bank of England. He has not read a couple of "standard works" in all his career, and as for quotations and newspaper references, them with mingling when he invests in them to read about some wreck or explosion from which to draw morals to warn the ungodly. On Colonel Lawlor has fallen the mantle of a poet. He is forever versifying. He began fourteen years ago by putting two or three verses together to the tune of "I'm a soldier bound for glory," and has written hundreds, off and on, since then. His songs have sung thousands into the Light. His singing of a salvationist song is his choicest gift.

PIERCE Guaranteed CURE
OR MONEY RETURNED.

For over a quarter of a century, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has been effecting cures of Bronchial, Throat and Lung affections. The makers have such confidence in the "Discovery" for curing Asthma, Bronchitis, and incipient Consumption, that they can afford to guarantee it.

MRS. ISAAC LOTMAN, of Thurlow, Delaware Co., Pa., writes as follows:

H. C. TROUP.

"Dr. R. V. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y.: Dear Sir—I wish to write you of my brother, Harry C. Troup, who has been sick for ten years with asthma. He has been treated by ten different physicians, who have said he could not be cured. He had to sit up at night, he got so short of breath; he suffered with fearful headaches and had a bad cough. After taking Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Pleasant Pellets, he did not get short of breath, and can sleep all night."

FIRE IN PRINCE EDWARD.

A Farm House and Contents Totally Destroyed.

Yesterday afternoon, Mrs Jas. Ellsworth, who lives at Mountain View, left with her children to visit her mother, Mrs. John White, at Roslin, leaving the house in the care of Mr. Elliott and the hired man, who had occasion during the evening to visit the upper story to fasten a window, when the lantern caught and exploded, and soon enveloped the room in fire. Like desperate men they fought the fire until they had it subdued, as they supposed, when they went to the barn to milk; but there were embers left, which soon ignited, and totally consumed the building. A portion only of the contents were saved. The building was insured for $1,000 in the London and Liverpool and Globe, and the contents for $600 in the same Company. The dwelling, which was of stone, was an old landmark, having been built about 40 years since by Mr. Jno. Benson, now over 90 years of age, and who is living at Northport.

POLICE COURT.

Henry Revoy gets Six Months in the Central Prison.

The Hagerman seduction case was further enlarged till Saturday for argument.

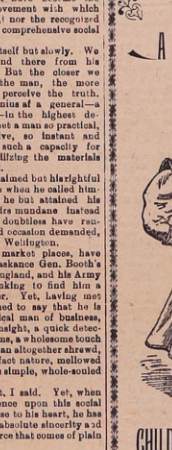

The Lezzard-Thompson case, which has been before the court for three weeks, also went over till Friday.

Henry Revoy was brought down from the gaol for sentence for stealing a horse and buggy. The Magistrate said he had no doubt the prisoner was drunk when he committed the offence and he would give him the lightest sentence he could—six months in the Central Prison on each charge, the sentences to run concurrently.

Beyond Comparison

Are the good qualities possessed by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Above all it purifies the blood, thus strengthening the nerves; it regulates the digestive organs, invigorates the kidneys and liver, tones, and builds up the entire system, cures Scrofula, Dyspepsia, Catarrh and Rheumatism. Get Hood's and only Hood's.

Hood's Pills cure all liver ills, biliousness, jaundice, indigestion, sick headache. 25c.

A WORD ABOUT
CHILDREN'S MANTLES.

Many Ladies who always purchase their own mantles ready-made, buy the cloth for their children's coats and go to the trouble and worry of making them up. You will find this no longer necessary if you will take a look through our Children's Department. We invite you to look our stock over anyway.

GEO. RITCHIE & CO.

Changed Daily.

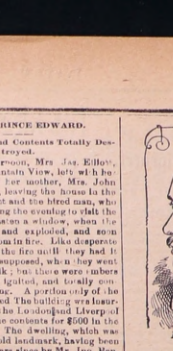

SATURDAY, Oct. 13th, 1894.

JUST IN A FRIENDLY WAY

Let us ask you to take a look at those nice Dinner Sets that we are displaying in our window. They are new goods and we have marked them unusually low.

SEE THEM ANYHOW!

Stroud's
TEA STORE.

Mr. J. Alcide Chaussé
Montreal, P. Q.

A Marvelous Medicine

Whenever Given a Fair Trial Hood's Proves Its Merit.

The following letter is from Mr. J. Alcide Chaussé, architect and surveyor, No. 153 Bleau Street, Montreal, Canada:

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

"Gentlemen:—I have been taking Hood's Sarsaparilla for about six months and am glad to say that it has done me a great deal of good. Last May my weight was 132 pounds, but since

HOOD'S Sarsaparilla CURES

I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla it has increased to 163. I think Hood's Sarsaparilla is a marvellous medicine and am very much pleased with it." J. ALCIDE CHAUSSÉ.

Hood's Pills cure liver ills, constipation, biliousness, jaundice, sick headache, indigestion

= SILKS =

We have in stock a full line of the

Corticelli Embroidery and Knitting Silks
—IN—
Honiton Lace Emb'y Silk.
Outline do do
Knitting Silk,
Twist Embroidery,
Roman Floss,
Filo Floss.

—ALSO—

27 INCH PURE JAPANESE SILK IN
LIGHT BLUE,
CREAM,
ROSE PINK,
CORAL PINK,
BUTTERCUP,
CARDINAL,

BLACK - SILKS!
In all the leading makes.

J. P. THOMPSON & CO.

A GOOD, WARM, CHEERFUL FIRE!

Will soon be in order as the cold weather is rapidly approaching

SO.....

... Do not Lose any Time

In ordering your supply of

Telephone C 68.

Coal and Wood
... FROM ...

S. A. LAZIER & SON'S.

The Leading Coal and Wood Merchants.

HOW NICE...
AND
...SO CHEAP

This expression was heard on all sides by our hundreds of patrons who visited us last Saturday.

No wonder such prices and novelties, one cannot resist the temptation of letting the purse strings loose.

No wonder when you can buy goods for almost one half the former price. This store introduced CUT PRICES and intend to keep it up.

No fancy or private mark, but in plain figures are all our goods marked. These are a few of the bargains we offer you this week:

5 Cases Flannelette, dark, pretty patterns, 28 in. worth 9c.. .. .. .. 7c
3 do Grey Flannel, worth 20c.. .. .. 15c
2 do do do all wool, worth 25c.. .. .. 18c

A thousand different bargains in every department which space will not permit us to mention. Call and convince yourself.

H. A. LAYTON, BELLEVILLE.
Front St., Opposite Campbell St.

SOME HINTS!
Upon the Uses of Wall and Ceiling Paper.

1. The better grades of paper last longer, are easier to hang and can be purchased at but slight advance in cost over the poorer grades.

2. Whitewash and calsomine are but little cheaper than ceiling papers and add nothing to the appearance of the room, in fact they more often destroy the harmony (that is think of furnishing all the rest of your room (the floor even, which you deliberately tramp upon) and leave the most important part of it (the ceiling) without a particle of furnishing or character, except that of cleanliness, is beyond comprehension. Your upper wall and ceiling are the only unbroken decorative feature of a room. Furniture breaks the view of the lower wall and it is still further obscured by the hanging of pictures upon it; therefore let special attention be paid to the selection of wide border that shall be in harmony with wall and ceiling, and of ceiling that fittingly completes the beauty of the room.

3. Narrow borders are sufficient, if your aim is only to conceal the ragged ends of paper, but a wide border or frieze serves to heighten the appearance of a room and gives it a more artistic finish—makes it appear as if frescoed.

4. In making your selections, if the room has a north window, let some warmth appear in the paper. If the exposure is south or west, cooler shades can be appropriately used. For Dining rooms let the walls be mellow in tone, indicative of hospitality.

Parlors can be treated according to individual taste, care being used to have wall and ceiling decorations in harmony with carpets and furniture.

Use for sleeping rooms, light ground papers with a spice of color in the pattern. Floral decorations are most in favor for such purposes.

5. Whatever may be the room or rooms that you are about to paper, don't forget that the better qualities of paper will retain their lustre long after cheaper grades have become dull and colorless.

6. Ten per cent. discount now.

TEN Per Cent Discount Now.

CHAS. B. SCANTLEBURY.

24TH — — YEAR.

Our Novelties in . . . Fur Capes and Jackets

Are the talk of the City, and our Goods are The reason for this is we have the

FIRST CLASS! RIGHT STYLES AND PRICES

And our Furs are quite different from any other house in the City.

S. A. HYMAN.
Manufacturiug Furrier.

Old Furs of all kinds cleaned, dyed and made over.

Miss Flora McDonald.

AN ACHING HEAD.

DEAR SIRS,—I had severe headache for the past three years, and was not free from it a single day. I used doctors' medicines and all others I could think of, but it did me no good. My cousin said I must

TRY B.B.B.

because it is the best medicine ever made, and I took three bottles of it, with the result that it has completely cured me. I think Burdock Blood Bitters, both for headaches and as a blood purifier, is the

BEST IN THE WORLD,

and am glad to recommend it to all my friends. MISS FLORA McDONALD, Glen Norman, Ont.

HAMILTON,

TORONTO, AND MONTREAL,

Via Bay of Quinte, Calling at all Ports Weekly.

THE FAVORITE STEAMER

"MAGNET"

Leaves St. Catharines Tuesday 9 a. m.
Toronto " 4 p. m.
Leaves Belleville for Montreal } Wednesday 7:30 a m
Leaves Belleville for Toronto } Sunday 3 p. m.

First Class Passenger Accommodation, Large Freight Capacity. Lowest Rates

For Tickets, Rates, &c., Apply to the RATHBUN COMPANY, Agents,

or to

CAPT. J. J. TOWERS, Superintendent, No. 2 King st., Toronto.
C. F. GILDERSLEEVE, General Manager, 228 St. Paul st., Montreal.

ROCHESTER,

KINGSTON AND MONTREAL.

Weekly Service Calling at Way Ports

THE PEOPLE'S FAVORITE STEAMER.

"ALEXANDRIA"

Leaves Montreal, Thursday at 10:00 a. m.
Arrives Belleville, Saturday at 11:45 a. m.
Leaves for Rochester " 1:15 p. m.
Arrives from Rochester, Monday at 6:30 a. m.
Leaves for Montreal, " " 7:30 a. m.

Spacious and elegant Saloon. Ample State-room accommodation. The choicest and best Meals furnished. Safety, comfort and enjoyment ensured by personal supervision of Capt. Smith and Purser Melrose. Careful handling o freight.

For Tickets, State rooms at lowest rates apply to

THE RATHBUN COMPANY, Agents.

Bay of Quinte Steamb't Route

TRI-WEEKLY

DESER'TO, PICTON & KINGSTON

1894 - 1894

STR. "HERO"

THIS favorite steamer is now lighted by electricity and will have a strong search light for excursion business and the boat is heated by steam.

Commencing Monday, April 9th, will leave Belleville Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 6 a m, returning Tuesday, Thursday and riday at 11 p m.

The very best facilities are offered to shippers of freight. The lowest through and local rates quoted.

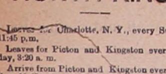

No wharfage at Picton on freight for this steamer.

Full information given by Gilbert Johnston on board, or to the

RATHBUN COM'Y,
H. GILDERSLEEVE. Ticket Agents, Kingston.

ROCHESTER.

STEAMER

NORTH KING.

Leaves for Charlotte, N. Y., every Sunday, 11:45 p.m.

Leaves for Picton and Kingston every Sunday, 3:20 a. m.

Arrive from Picton and Kingston every Sunday, 11:45 p.m.

Arrives rom Charlotte, N. Y., every Sunday, 3:20 a. m.

Special attention given to passengers and freight.

WEEK DAYS.—Steamer leaves Port Hope week days for Charlotte, N. Y., at 9:45 a m.

Calls at Brighton Monday 2 a.m., aand Wednesday 2.30 a.m., and at Colborne Wednesday and Fridays 4 a.m.

Connection made by Grand Trunk morning trains.

THE RATHBUN CO., Agents. U. E. THOMPSON, Agent.
43tf

INSURANCE.

Western Assurance Company,
Fire and Marine Head Office, Toronto.

North British & Mercantile Ins. Co.,
Fire and Life, Head Office (Can.) Montreal.

Atlas Insurance Company,
Fire Head Office (Canada), Montreal

M. M. THOMPSON
Water Works Office, Bridge St.

Steamer "Iona"

Will eave Belleville three times each week for Oswego, connecting with trains for New York

---

Daily Intelligencer.

At Death's Door—Dyspepsia Conquered —A Great Medical Triumph.

GENTLEMEN,—My medical adviser and others told me I could not possibly live when I commenced to use Northrop & Lyman's VEGETABLE DISCOVERY for Dyspepsia. My case was one of the worst of its kind. For three years I could not eat meat and my weight decreased from 219 to 119 lbs. All the food I took for thirteen months previous to taking the VEGETABLE DISCOVERY consisted of milk. I am now entirely cured and have regained my usual weight, can eat anything with a keen relish and feel like a new man. I have sold over thirty dozen VEGETABLE DISCOVERY since it cured me, as I am well-known, and people in this section know how low I was, and thought I could not possibly be cured. They are eager to try this grand medicine. It certainly saved my life, as I never expected to recover when first I commenced using it. I am not exaggerating anything but feel glad to be able to contribute this testimonial and trust it may be the means of convincing others of its merits as a certain cure for Dyspepsia.

Signed JEAN VALCOURT, Wotton, P. Q.

In 1888 the people of Great Britain paid taxes on 492 200 carriages.

Is there anything more annoying than having your corn stepped upon? Is there anything more delightful than getting rid of it? Holloway's Corn Cure will do it. Try it and be convinced.

In Portugal the tobacco tax brings £900,000, the land tax £700,000.

Some people laugh to show their pretty teeth. The use of Ivory White Tooth Powder makes people laugh more than ever. It's so nice. Price 25c. Sold by druggists.

Worms cause feverishness, moaning and restlessness during sleep. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator is pleasant, sure and effectual. If your druggist has none in stock, get him to procure it for you.

The rate of taxation has nearly quadrupled in France since 1830.

DYSPEPSIA causes dizziness, headache, constipation, variable appetite, rising and souring of food, palpitation of the heart, distress after eating. Burdock Blood Bitters is guaranteed to cure Dyspepsia if faithfully used according to directions.

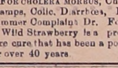

Until about forty years ago, the Persian Government levied a tax on cats,

Mr T. J. Humes, Columbus, Ohio, writes: 'I have been afflicted for some time with kidney and Liver Complaint, and find Parmelee's Pills the best medicine for these diseases These Pills do not cause pain or griping, and should be used when a cathartic is required. They are Gelatine Coated, and rolled in the Flour of Licorice to preserve their purity and give them a pleasant, agreeable taste.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP cures Bronchitis.

FOR CHOLERA MORBUS, Cholera Infantum Cramps, Colic, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, and Summer Complaints Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is a prompt, safe and sure cure that has been a popular favorite for over 40 years.

STEAMER VARUNA

A. HICKS, Captain

WILL leave Trenton every morning, (Sunday excepted) at 7:00 o'clock, calling at Rednersville and all points between the head of the bay and Picton, leaving Belleville at 8:30 a.m., Deseronto at 10:20 a.m.

On Tuesday and Thursday evenings to meet North King at Brighton, returning will leave Brighton Wednesday and Saturday mornings at 5:30.

Will connect at Picton with stage for Sand Banks.

Parties wishing to arrange for excursion rates wil see Capt. Hicks on board

Will leave Picton at 1 p.m. on return for the head of the bay, Deseronto 2:30 p.m., Belleville, at 4:30 p. m., and Trenton, at 6.

Omnibuses in waiting at Picton, Belleville and Brighton.

The Rathbun Co., Agents, Belleville and Deseronto.

A. W. Hepburn, Agent, Picton

PETTYJOHN'S

CALIFORNIA BREAKFAST FOOD

Dyspeptics can eat this food.

It is particularly adapted for children and persons of sedentary habits.

It is made from Pacific coast wheat hulled and crushed by improved machinery.

It can be easily prepared for breakfast, as this crushing process makes it soft and tender and easy to cook

Ask your physician which is best for you to eat, oats or wheat

Pettijohn's California Breakfast Food is sold in packages by

BENMORE & BENSON.

RIBBONS!

We have an extra large stock of Ribbons on hand in all the light and fancy shades including

BABY RIBBONS,
SILK " "
SATIN " "
MOIRE " "
ETC., - ETC.

Our prices are the lowest, and we will be pleased to have you give us a call whenever wanting Ribbons.

SILK ELASTICS....

We have a splendid stock of Fancy Silk Elastic, made in Yellow, Blue, Green, Orange, Cardinal, Black, Pink, Mauve, White. All one price, 25c yard, at

THE BEEHIVE

CHAS. N. SULMAN

SPORT.

Lacrosse Sticks,
Foot Balls,
Tennis Goods,
Croquet, etc.,
Base Ball
Supplies

Also, Wall Paper,
Window Shades,
Hammocks,
Fans,
Purses,
Albums, Bibles and Novels.

—AT—

Overell's Book Store.

Next to Glasgow Warehouse.

THE KISS OF GOLD.

By KATE JORDAN.

[Copyright, 1893, by J. B. Lippincott Company and published by special arrangement with them.]

It was now early in December. The theaters had just deluged Broadway with thousands of matinee goers. The evening was slushy, the air damp and warm. Rose leaf tints flecked the smoky vapor of the sky. At the perspective of the crowded street, crawling like a luminous cleft between vast masses of rock, the humidity had heaped itself into a low hanging pink cloud.

Tom came out of the stage entrance, paused to light a cigar and strolled toward Broadway. He had not risen until 3 o'clock. The day was just beginning for him. His face had the opaque whiteness debauchery leaves, and warm though it was the occasional dabs of damp air struck through him, carrying a depressing chill.

As he turned the corner the currents of people eddied around him. His wandering glance alighted with butterfly swiftness on the trifles that sway a crowd, then darkened, dilated, fastened upon one face.

One face—it seemed to leap up from the sea of other faces to meet him, the eyes strained, piteous, dark with an arraignment, a challenge.

Tom's jaded heart suddenly livened with an awful fear. But he did not pause. The streets swayed around him as he walked on. Once he turned as if to glance at some flowers in a florist's shop, and he saw the pale lamplight and the gray dusk casting a weird radiance over the face. He was being followed. He seemed to hear those dogging steps above the multitude of footfalls on every side.

A hansom stood idle at a corner. He sprang into it, telling the man to drive fast, and sank back, feeling bewildered, stunned, sick.

Felix Dawson, the man he had defrauded, was alive.

It had been so easy for Tom with the comfortable suppleness of his nature to assume that this man's long silence had meant his death and gradually to assimilate this supposition until it became a surety. He had never realized the enormity of his act before. Felix Dawson had been but a shadowy memory to him, a name. He had taken his play, and by a tortuous, sophistical vein of reasoning this fact had grown to seem scarcely worse than if he had only destroyed it, since no one was injured.

It was so different now that he knew Felix Dawson was not dead—no longer a memory, but a man, following him, his heart fired by this wrong; a man with eyes to scorch and voice to be raised in condemnation; an opponent to face, to fear.

His coming meant ruin, disgrace before the world, but it meant also a sudden, sickening awakening to the nature and consequences of his act, a shame and hatred of himself. He was a thief in the commonest sense.

When the horse was pulled up at the curb before his door, it was almost a shock. He had been sitting upright, his hands grasping the apron of the hansom, looking straight ahead, but blind, not even aware that it had commenced to rain.

Delatole called to him as he went down the hall. He paid no heed, and entering his study flung himself into a chair. His face was clammy and wan.

Something must be done. What? What could he say when Felix Dawson faced him? What defense could he make? That he was coming he was absolutely sure. He must be near now. Perhaps in five minutes he would cross the threshold. Suppose Delatole heard him. Suppose the blow fell that afternoon.

He sat absolutely still, his eyes fixed upon the door, his veins holding a fluid, icy terror instead of blood.

At last, to his intense relief, Delatole thrust in his head, saying:

"Are you going to dine here? Well, I'll be back in time to have a demitasse with you. I want to see you. Don't go out."

The danger of betrayal over for the moment, Tom breathed more freely. He crossed to the window and flung it up, letting the rain dash upon his face. The chaos in his brain was rent suddenly by one sententious thought:

"This man you dread has no proof."

No proof. The words sang in his brain, the denuded trees creaked them, the wind laughed in glee.

"Defy him. Defeat him. He is powerless. You are strong."

The bell in the passage gave a whispering tinkle. Tom turned, scarcely surprised. The moment had come.

"Mr. Murray, sir, a gentleman to see you," said the English valet.

"Show him in here. If any one else comes, I'm out. Remember."

He was lighting a cigar with an affectation of carelessness, his back to the door as the visitor entered. In reality his muscles were braced to a painful rigidity, his face was greenish white. He was prepared to deny the charge absolutely, to decry the man as mad.

"No proof. No copy. No eye saw you. It is your word against his."

Braced by a dogged, passionless assurance in the stability of the lie on which he had surely builded, he looked Felix Dawson in the eyes, and then his plan of defense shriveled, his heart melted within him for very pity. This was not an accuser come to demand justice. This was a man in whom the fires of life had died. His eyes were graves of dead illusions. So might one look who had parted with hope and stood with outstretched, empty hands, crying to fate, in tones of imbittered triumph:

"Pass by me now. Leave me free. You have taken all."

"You remember me?" And his quiet voice was peculiarly sad and strong.

Tom stood like one arraigned before a superior, a judge.

"Yes, I do."

"A long time ago I left a play with you. This afternoon I saw it acted at Palliser's theater, your name on the programme as its author."

This was the moment of supreme dissimulation, and Tom knew it. All the forces within him were roused to a throbbing sense of self preservation. But he could not lie to him. He could be very wicked but for one strain inherent in his nature. The waywardness rolled like a sea, only to break upon this as upon a bar and surge back strengthless and abortive. No, he could not lie to him. His glance wavered, the cigar dropped from his trembling fingers, he moved a little nearer Felix Dawson, his heart in his eyes.

"What will you do? Wait before you speak. Hear me." He stopped suddenly, pierced to the heart. "My God! what must you think of me?"

"What do I think of you?" asked Dawson, the low, resonant voice suddenly quivering with contempt. "I would not touch your hand for all the money in the world if I starved tomorrow. You seem to me like a rich man who searches through a beggar's rags and steals his last coin. You are utterly detestable to me. You coward! You thief!"

Tom started and flung back his head.

"No, I'm not that. I'm not what you believe. I didn't rob you of your one possession and add it to my many. I took it when I was mad with despair. You must believe me—you must. It was here in this very room," and he held out his arms, looking around the place, with an almost childish pleading in his eyes. "I came in knowing I had failed. I accepted defeat with what agony perhaps you can guess. It was then I read your play for the first time. More than a year had passed since you left it, and I thought you dead. It would mean nothing to you, everything to me. I took it. I ask you again, what will you do?"

There was understanding in Felix Dawson's eyes, but no softening. His heart was like a wrung out sponge—it knew no extremes. The one passion left him was a morbid love for the play he had written.

(To be Continued)

REJECTS CHINA'S PROPOSAL.

Japan is Not Anxious That War Should Cease—Rising in Hankow.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—The Central News is informed that Japan has rejected as inadequate China's proposals of peace. The report was that China had offered to acknowledge Corea's independence and pay a war indemnity in case hostilities should be suspended forthwith.

It is rumored that the Admiralty intends to charter a number of passenger vessels in eastern waters, to be used as a refuge for Europeans at the Chinese treaty ports in case of an emergency.

The Central News correspondent at Shanghai cabled yesterday:

"It is reported that in consequence of the projected 10,000,000 pounds 10 per centage loan to be guaranteed by the Imperial customs Chinese agents abroad have been instructed to put the best face possible on the recent Chinese reverses and to represent the fleet as being active and efficient.

"The outbreak of the Kulaowhei society in Hankow has spread rapidly. Troops were sent out to quell it but they were resisted savagely and eventually were put to flight. Two mandarins were killed.

More Trouble for San Salvador.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Among the passengers who arrived on the La Champagne was D. Jiminez, a central American said to be a member of the cabinet of ex-President Ezeta, of Salvador, who with Ezeta and his friends were forced to flee after the late successful uprising. He left the steamer immediately upon arrival and could not be found. It was understood aboard ship that he proposed to take up abode in Honduras, near the San Salvador line and instigate an insurrection with a view of re-establishing the former regime.

Double Murder at a Barbeque.

VAN BUREN, Ark., Oct. 15.—A double murder occurred at a barbecue fifteen miles north of here on Saturday. George Trutt struck Casey Hensey with a barrel stave during a fight and mashed his skull, and as Hensey was falling he disemboweled Trutt, who cannot recover.

Mormons Tarred and Feathered.

CENTERTOWN, Ky., Oct. 15.—Elders Freeman and Mercier, Mormon missionaries who have converted fifty people in this vicinity, mostly women, to their faith, were visited by a party of indignant citizens and given a coat of tar and feathers and ordered to leave town at once.

Father and Son Fight a Duel.

WACO, Texas, Oct. 15.—A duel to the death between an old man named Stripling and his son George, living ten miles from this city, was fought Saturday. The father was shot and mortally wounded and the son's skull crushed and he will probably die.

Presbyterian 250th Anniversary.

HEMPSTEAD, L. I., Oct. 15.—The 250th anniversary of the establishment of the first Presbyterian Church in America was celebrated at Christ's Presbyterian Church in Hempstead yesterday. The ceremonies will be continued to-day and Tuesday.

GOODWOOD, Ont., Oct. 15.—The carriage shop, blacksmith shop, show room, dry-house' stables and dwelling house, the property of W. H. Todd, were burned here. Cause unknown; loss about $10,000; insurance $4,000, about equally divided between the Gore District and London Mutual.

Suicide at Sherbrooke.

SHERBROOKE, Oct. 15.—M. J. Milward, toys and fancy goods dealer, established here for many years, committed suicide a little after midnight by jumping over a bridge near his house to the rocks 60 feet below. He died two hours later.

Deseronto Navigation Company (Limited

Steamer Ella Ross.

This fast sailing and comfortable steamer leaves Belleville for Trenton daily (Sunday excepted), at 10 a.m. Leaves Belleville for Deseronto and Picton at 3 p.m., connecting at Deseronto with steamers for Napanee and Oswego. Lowest freight and passenger rates. For further information apply to the Rathbun Co., Bridge street, or to R. C. Carter, General Manager, Deseronto.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP cures Coughs.

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry cures Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cramps, Colic, Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum. and all looseness of the bowels. Never travel without it. Price 35c.

In parts of Peru taxes are paid in cocoa leaves and Peruvian barks.

For coughs, colds, bronchitis and all lung and throat troubles, there is no preparation of medicine can compare with Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup. It never fails to afford prompt and permanent relief. It removes all soreness, and heals the diseased parts. It immediately soothes the most troublesome cough, and by promoting expectoration, removes the mucus which stops up the air tubes which, cause difficulty in breathing, thereby gives relief to that depressing tightness experienced in the chest. Public speakers and singers will find Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup of inestimable value, as it speedily and effectually allays all irritation, and huskiness in the throat and bronchial tubes, and gives power to the vocal cords, rendering the voice clear and sonorous If parents wish to save the lives of their children, and themselves from much anxiety trouble and expense let them procure a bottle of Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup, and whenever a child has taken cold, has a cough or hoarseness, give the Syrup according to directions.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP heals the lungs.

A stinted wife can find a vest pocket in the dark.

Ample warning is given us by our lungs when they are in danger. If foolhardy enough to neglect the warning signal, we incur imminent peril. Check a cough at the outset with Dr Thomas' Eclectric Oil—which is a sovereign pulmonic—besides being a remedy for soreness, lameness, abrasions of the skin, tumors, piles, rheumatism, etc.

BURDOCK PILLS, small, safe, and sure, regulate the liver and cure constipation.

Robert Lubbork, Cedar Rapids, writes: "I have used Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil both for myself and family for Diptheria with the very best results. I regard it as the best remedy for this disease, and would use no other.

Holland is the only country in Europe that admits coffee free of duty.

DYSPEPSIA arises from wrong action of stomach, liver and bowels. Burdock Blood Bitters cures Dyspepsia and all diseases arising from it, 99 times in 100.

SUNLIGHT SOAP

Has proved by its enormous sale that it is

The best value for the Consumer

of any soap in the market.

Millions of women throughout the world can vouch for this, as it is they who have proved its value. It brings them less labor, greater comfort.

COLIC AND CHOLERA MORBUS

ALWAYS PROMPTLY CURED BY
PERRY DAVIS' PAIN-KILLER

Floor Oil Cloths...

We have now in stock, FLOOR OIL CLOTHS up to 24 ft. wide

....FOR STOVES!

- - ALSO A LINE - -

ENGLISH OIL CLOTHS

Suitable for under Stoves at 30c. sq. yd.

NATHAN JONES.

LISTEN FRIENDS!!

We SAY because we KNOW!

Our COAL! This Season is unexcelled for quality because the Bill of Lading bears the Brand of the Delaware & Hudson Canal Company.

Cut this out and test this "Ad" when the Winter Winds whistle.

THE RATHBUN COMPANY.

ONTARIO MUTUAL LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY.

S. Burrows, Esq., General Agent, Ontario Mutual Life Co., Belleville, Ont.

DEAR SIR, Received your company's check for $2,000 for our Matured Endowment, and we both wish to show our gratitude to you and the Company for the straightforward and satisfactory way you deal with policy holders, and that we are more than satisfied with our investment. I will always urge our friends to follow in our footsteps. Thanking you very kindly.

Yours very sincerely,
Mr. & Mrs. GOODWIN, Bowmanville,
Formerly of Belleville.

TO THE PUBLIC.

When we decided to add the manufacure of carriages, phaetons, democrats, &c., to our business, we immediately put under construction a few of each. As we decided to place no vehicle on the market which is not A 1 in in every detail, and knowing that no first-class vehicle can be produced on the rush, it has been necessary for us to take sufficient time to produce what we aimed at. We think we have succeeded; and we now have a few rigs completed, and others nearing completion to offer for sale. The iron work is all hand forged; the wood work carefully made, and strongly ironed; and the painting and upholstering done with the best material and greatest care. We can freely recommend these rigs. We will be pleased to have parties who may need anything in the above line, call and inspect our work.

ST. CHARLES & PRINGLE

JAS ST CHARLES. - - - - HENRY GI E

IT - HAS - BEEN - ADMITTED

—BY OVER 125 PEOPLE IN BELLEVILLE THAT THE—

John Bull Wrought Steel Range,

Is the most Economical, Everlasting and Useful Range on the market. How is this for three Seasons.

SEE THEM AT FOSTER'S.

Also the Duchess of Oxford Cast Iron Range

The Sale of Boots and Shoes:

Slightly damaged by Smoke and Water will continue until everything is sold.

HAINES & LOCKETT

Opposite Anglo-American Hotel

Belleville and Napanee, Office, Bridge St. Telephone A. 4.

COAL - AND - WOOD.

THOS. STEWART,

The only dealer in Scranton Coal in Belleville and Napanee. The very best facilities for delivering to any part of the city or surrounding towns this coal, which is the best and cheapest mined.

No Gas. No Clinkers. No Waste

Clean, quick, hot, strong, cheerful fire. Smithing, Cannell, Brier Hill, Run of Mine coal and Coal Screenings always on hand. Hard and soft wood, Blocks and Edgings delivered to any part of the City.

DR. WOOD'S Norway Pine Syrup.

Rich in the lung-healing virtues of the Pine combined with the soothing and expectorant properties of other pectoral herbs and barks.

A PERFECT CURE FOR

COUGHS AND COLDS

Hoarseness, Asthma, Bronchitis, Sore Throat, Croup and all THROAT, BRONCHIAL and LUNG DISEASES. Obstinate coughs which resist other remedies yield promptly to this pleasant piny syrup.

PRICE 25C. AND 50C. PER BOTTLE.

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

Dr FOWLER'S EXT OF WILD STRAWBERRY

CURES
COLIC
CHOLERA
CHOLERA-MORBUS
DIARRHOEA
DYSENTERY
AND ALL SUMMER COMPLAINTS of CHILDREN or ADULTS
Price 35 CTS
BEWARE of IMITATIONS

Camping Supplies!

—AND—

Picnic - Requisites!

Our list of articles suitable for Picnic Lunches and Camping includes:

Canned Meats.

ARMOUR'S COOKED BEEF,
ARMOUR'S OX TONGUES,
ARMOUR'S LUNCH TONGUES,
ARMOUR'S POTTED HAM,
ARMOUR'S COOKED PIG FEET'
ARMOUR'S LUNCHEON MEAT.
ARMOUR'S POTTED TONGUE
ARMOUR'S BRAWN,
SANDWICH MEATS,
BONELESS CHICKEN,
BONELESS TURKEY,
POTTED BEEF,
POTTED GAME,
ETC.! ETC.!! ETC.!

Canned Fish.

FINEST SARDINES IN OIL,
FINEST SARDINES IN TOMATO,
HERRINGS IN TOMATO SAUCE,
KIPPERED HERRINGS,
FRESH HERRINGS.
SALMON, LOBSTERS,
FINNAN HADDIES,
BLOATER PASTE,
ANCHOVY PASTE,
SARDINE PASTE,
ETC.! ETC.!! ETC.!!!

Sundries.

Condensed Milk in Tins, Cream in Tins, Biscuits (in great variety), Fine old Cheese, McLaren's Imperial Cheese (in small crocks), Dried Beef, Choice Hams and Bacon, Lime Juice, Spanish Olives, CROSSE & BLACKWELL'S Pickled White Onions, Walnuts, Chow Chow, and and Mixed Pickles.

WALLBRIDGE & CLARKE

Grocers and Wine Merchants,

33 and 37 Bridge Street, Also Front Street, in Caldwell Building.

REMOVAL

MR. JOSEPH CALDWELL, DENTIST

Has removed his office to the new premises which he has had specially fitted up in the

Caldwell Block,

First door south of the Anglo-American Hotel Front street. 108tf

---

INTELLIGENCER PRINTING AND PUBLISHING COMPANY (LIMITED.

J. O. JAMIESON, President. | J. W. LONDON, Secretary

THE Treasurer is the only person authorized to receive money from the Company, or to grant receipts for the same.

All Bills, Notes, Cheques and other documents binding on the Company, will require the signature of the President, in addition to the of the Treasurer.

THE INTELLIGENCE is printed and published by the INTELLIGENCER Printing and Publishing Company (Limited) by James O' Jamieson, resident in Belleville, the Office, Front St., south of Hotel St.

The Daily Intelligencer.

LET THERE BE HARMONY IN THINGS ESSENTIAL—LIBERALITY IN THINGS NOT ESSENTIAL—CHARITY IN ALL.

VOL. 28. BELLEVILLE ONTARIO TUESDAY OCTOBER 16 1894 NO 140

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

MEDICAL.

DR WISHART.

47 GROSVENOR ST. Toronto, will be at the Huffman House, Belleville, Saturday, Dec. 1st, '94. 192dwly

DR. QUACKENBUSH, M.D., W.M.D., M.D., P.S.O.

HOMŒOPATHIC Physician, Surgeon and Accoucheur, has removed his office over store lately occupied by J. C. Yerell, Residence George St., opposite H. Corby's.

JOHN J. FARLEY, M. D., C. M., M. R. C. S. England.

OFFICE and Residence—corner of Bridge and George Streets—three streets east of Post Office.

LEGAL.

FLINT & McCAMON.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public, etc. Solicitors for the Canadian Bank of Commerce. Office, City Hall, Front Street, Belleville, Ont. 484tf

JOHN J. B. FLINT, W. J. McCAMON.

STEWART MASSON.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, Notary, Conveyancer, etc. Office, South side Bridge st., over Wallbridge & Clark's, Belleville, Ont. Money to loan at lowest rates. 783wtf

J. F. WILLS' LAW OFFICE.

REMOVED to Campbell Street (south side) 2nd door from Front Street, on ground floor.

A. GOODRICH,

LAWYER, 124 Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill. 28 years' experience; secrecy; special facilities in several States; Goodrich on Divorce; with laws of all States in print. 76dly

GEO. A. KINGSTON.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, etc., with Lount, Marsh and Cameron, 25 Toronto St., Toronto. Money to loan on farm property at lowest rates. 233dtf9w.

MIKEL & ROBERTS.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notary Public, Conveyancers, etc. Offices Bridge St., Belleville. Monies to loan at lowest rate.

THOMAS & HALLIWELL.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Conveyancers, &c. Money to loan. 293d3mwly
J. PARKER THOMAS, J. EARL HALLIWELL.

FONTON & MORDEN,

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public, Conveyancers. Office over Express and Telegraph Offices, Bridge St., Belleville. Money to loan—private funds.
WM. N. PONTON, M. A., Solicitor Hastings Loan and Investment Society.
W. S. MORDEN, B. A.

F. GUSS PORTER.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, Notary Public, etc. Office in the Robertson Block, east side of Front Street.
Private Money to Loan, 271dwly

FRANCIS S. WALLBRIDGE.

(Successor to Hon. Lewis Wallbridge, Q.C.)
BARRISTER, Solicitor, Conveyancer, etc. Office, Madoc Building, corner Front and Bridge streets, Belleville, Ont. Private and Company money to loan at 6 per cent. on easy terms from good land security. Charges moderate.

HENRY OARRE, C. E

M.O. Soc. C.E.,
DOMINION AND PROVINCIAL LAND SURVEYOR.

Special attention paid to Hydraulics and Land Drainage. Patents obtained and Drawings made. Office—McAnany Block, under Ontario Business College, Front St. P.O. address—Box 203, Belleville.

A. G. NORTHRUP.

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Shire Hall, Belleville. 226d twly

D. I. DULMAGE, L.D.S., D.D.S. (Tor. University).

DENTIST—Office over Brignall & Thompson's. Night calls at residence on Forin Street. d,w

CHAS. JOSE.

VETERINARY Surgeon, Graduate Ontario Veterinary College. Member Ontario Veterinary Society. Office and residence, Foxboro, Ont. Calls by mail or telegram promptly attended to. 304d,wly

MISCELLANEOUS.

AGENTCY of the Liverpool and London and Globe Fire and Life Insurance Companies.
W. P. HUDSON,
Agent.
Office Campbel. street, Belleville. d,w

-PLUMBING-

We have added to our Workmen,

MR. GEORGE JOHNSON,

Who has for the past six years been prominent on large contracts in Victoria, B. C., San Francisco, Denver, and Chicago.

—ALSO—

MR. EDWIN W. BISHOP,

A graduate of the New York School for Plumbing (class 92), who comes highly recommended.

With these men added to our staff, we feel sure of giving satisfactory to all in Sanitary Plumbing.

C. F. Smith & Co.

STOVE PIPES!
STOVE PIPES!!
STOVE PIPES!!!

WHIPS! LANTERNS!
WHIPS!! LANTERNS!!
WHIPS!!! LANTERNS!!!

Lamps, Flower Pots,
Lamps, Flower pots,
Lamps, Flower Pots.

—AT—

THE FAIR,

FRANK WEEKS, MANAGER.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

ACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York.

Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

A. Lefar.

DISEASED LUNGS

CURED BY TAKING

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral.

"I contracted a severe cold, which settled on my lungs, and I did what is often done in such cases, neglected it. The consulted a doctor, who found, on examining me, that the upper part of the left lung was badly affected. The medicines he gave me did not seem to do any good, and I determined to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking a few doses my cough was relieved, and before I had finished the bottle I was cured."
—A. LEFLAR, watchmaker, Orangeville, Ont.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Highest Awards at World's Fair.

Ayer's Pills Cure Indigestion.

"FOR THE BENEFIT OF RHEUMATIC SUFFERERS,"

ACETOCURA

MADE ME ANOTHER MAN

G. H. REEVES,
(Reeves & Beebe).
169 State street, Chicago.

Coutts & Sons,
72 Victoria street, Toronto.

Write for gratis pamphlet to COUTTS & Sons, 72 Victoria street, Toronto. Head office—London, Glasgow and Manchester, (G.B.) Cologne, Germany, Aaron, Switzer land.

Local Agents—

L. W. YEOMANS & CO.,
DRUGGISTS,
BELLEVILLE.

PREPARE FOR the STRUGGLE.

The course of study offered by the Belleville business College gives a young person a thorough and practical knowledge of business, and also that mental culture and discipline which sharpens perceptive faculties, stimulates ambition, develops ability and prepares for the struggle of making a living. Every step in the work is characterized by thoroughness. Besides we use the most practical methods.

In teaching shorthand we dictate actual letters and legal evidence. Other schools have undertaken to imitate our methods, but the quality of their work bears that relation to practical business which the imitation does to the real.

We represent things exactly as they are.

Belleville Business College,
ROBERT BOGLE, Proprietor.

Apollinaris

"THE QUEEN OF TABLE WATERS."

"THE TYPE OF WHAT A NATURAL MINERAL EFFERVESCENT TABLE WATER SHOULD BE"
Land and Water.

"ITS PURITY AND THE ABUNDANCE OF ITS NATURAL CARBONIC ACID COMBINE, WITH ITS SOFT VELVETY TASTE, TO MAKE IT PRE-EMINENT."
British Medical Journal.

Daily Intelligencer.

AMEER OF AFGHANISTAN ILL

Complications May Arise Should His Illness Prove Fatal.

EUROPEANS AT CABUL IN DANGER

If the Ameer Dies the Hatred of the Afghans for Foreigners Will Break Out—The Succession to the Throne in Dispute—The Situation Causes Anxiety to the Indian Government.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—Advices from Cabul say that the condition of the Ameer is critical. A special vice-regal council has been summoned to meet at Simla. No definite statement as to the nature of the Ameer's illness can be obtained, but it is understood that he is suffering from internal hemorrhage.

General Lord Roberts, who was for many years commander-in-chief of the British forces in India, was interviewed in regard to the probable addition to the eastern complications in the event of the death of Ameer Abdur Rahman Kahn, and said:

"Similar reports of illness and from which the Ameer has recovered have reached India in years gone by. But the Ameer is now older and the constantly recurring attacks of the gout must have seriously undermined his general health.

"The news doubtless was brought from Cabul to Peshawer by horsemen and was telegraphed from the latter place to Simla. Should the question of succession arise there will certainly be serious trouble at Cabul between the opposing parties, one favoring the succession of the elder son, Sardar Habibulla Kahn, the child of a wife of low rank, who has already held a sort of power at Cabul. The second party supports the royal wife in the interest of her son, who is a child. Upon a former occasion, when the Ameer's death was expected, the royal wife made preparations to seize the treasury and gain the adhesion of the army.

"If the Ameer dies the Europeans at Cabul will be in danger from the fanatical hatred of the Afghans, which is only suppressed through the personal influence of the Ameer. Unfortunately there are two or three English women at Cabul and their only means of escape is a journey of 100 miles to Peshawer, during which they will be at the mercy of the Afghans until they reach Lundikhotal where they will be under the protection of the Khyber rifles. The situation will cause the greatest anxiety to the government of India. The summoning of a special council is a very unusual proceeding, and it is evident that the Earl of Elgin considers the situation to be grave."

Mr. Martin, the Afghan agent, said last evening that he did not expect immediate trouble in Cabul. Nevertheless it would be prudent for the English residents to leave the country and get to the frontier as soon as possible.

Study of the Moon's Surface.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 16.—Scientific camera artists on top of Mount Hamilton have made the finest negatives of the moon ever registered on sensitive plates. Hills, valleys and craters that have never been noticed by the most powerful eyes through the telescope are perceptible, and those men on Mt. Hamilton have been able to see lunar objects one-tenth of a mile in diameter in certain condition. The negatives are five inches in diameter. It was found that an exposure of two seconds was sufficient for the brighter regions, and was even more than sufficient for the intensely bright. An exposure of four or more seconds was not too much for others. By comparing these photographs with others made in the past and still others to be made in the future, astronomers expect to settle the interesting question as to changes of the moon's surface.

Triple Murder and Suicide.

ELIZABETH, N J., Oct. 16.—A horrible triple murder and suicide occurred near here yesterday. Mrs. Thomas Cross, aged 30 years, took her three children, aged 5, 3 years and 6 months, and huddling them close to her in the hay mow set fire to the hay. The mother and three children were burned to death.

Duel Over a Woman.

WACO, Texas, Oct. 16.—Hosea Stone and Virgil Moon, farmers, quarrelled last night over a woman and engaged in a duel with knives. Moon was cut and stabbed several times and died shortly afterwards. Stone was badly wounded, but escaped.

A Clergyman Missing.

TROY, N.Y., Oct. 16.—Rev. L. C. Pettit, pastor of the St. James' Methodist church, Cohoes, has mysteriously disappeared. The missing clergyman has for some time been suffering from nervous prostration.

Pacific Express Office Robbed.

THE DALLES, Oregon, Oct. 16.—The Pacific express office in this city was robbed yesterday at an early hour of $10,000. The officials believe that it was done by local thieves.

Aid for Lourenzo Marquez.

LISBON, Oct. 16.—Eight hundred reinforcements sailed from Lisbon yesterday for Lourenzo Marquez where the Portuguese colonial troops are besieged by Kaffirs.

WINDSOR, Ont. 16.—Rev. G. W. Wye, rector of Christ's Church, Amherstburg, who was served with a notice not to continue in charge of the church, held service as usual on Sunday. He has begun a civil suit to recover arrears of salary amounting to $1,800.

Italy Must Retrench.

ROME, Oct. 16.—The ministers are under instructions to report on all possible means of curtailing expenses in their departments. The deficit which must be covered is estimated at 60,000,000 to 65,000,000 lire.

AUSTRALASIAN ADVICES.

Women Enfranchised in New South Wales—Rich Gold Finds.

VANCOUVER, B.C., Oct. 16.—The steamer Arawa, from Sydney and Honolulu, brings the following advices:

The New South Wales legislative assembly has passed a resolution favoring the extension of the franchise to women by a vote of 58 to 15.

Her Majesty's ship Royalist is now at the Solomon Island group investigating the murder of Capt. Guy, master of a trading schooner, who was killed by natives, and the schooner plundered.

News from the Coolgardie gold fields say that the excitement continues and many rich finds are reported. People are flocking there from all parts of Australia and New Zealand, special steamers being put on for traffic.

The co-operative colliery recently started at Newcastle proved a failure owing to quarrels between the unionists and non unionists. A number of fights occurred and the colliery has been shut down. Feeling is very bitter between the rival factions.

The amalgamation scheme of the Bank of New Zealand and Colonial Bank of New Zealand has met with general approval. The terms of the amalgamation between the banks are that the Bank of New Zealand shall raise £1,000,000 in capital, of which 4,000,000 shall be given fully paid up, and carrying no further liability to the Colonial Bank's shareholders in exchange for the present paid-up capital of that bank, the balance of £600,000 remaining unissued. The capital of the bank after amalgamation is to amount to £3,600,000.

Burglars Work the Royal City.

GUELPH, Oct. 16.—Burglars are operating in this city. A few nights ago a domestic in Postmaster Stirton's house heard some one escape by a back entrance, but nothing further was thought of the incident. Sunday evening while Mr. M. Costello and family were at church some one unlocked the front door with a key, lit a lamp and made a careful and thorough investigation of the interior. Every drawer in the house was opened and the contents ransacked. The only thing taken was some cake. The burglars in their quest overlooked a purse containing some small change. After doing the house the visitors left again by the back door, re locking it after them. The police have the case in hand.

Systematically Robbed Their Employer.

TORONTO, Oct. 16.—William McClayment is a prisoner at police headquarters, charged with stealing a quantity of flour from his employer, George Coleman, the baker, of King street west. The prisoner has been employed by Mr. Coleman for about ten years as a baker and the stealing is said to have been going on for over a year. Several other employes are, it is said, involved in the matter, and other arrests will follow. Mr. Coleman estimates his losses during the last twelve months at about twenty barrels a week. The prisoner was caught in the act by a man employed for that purpose.

Robbed by His Guest.

KINCARDINE, Ont., Oct. 16.—A man representing himself to be John Parsley, from Leeds, England, called upon M. D. Chadbourne, miller, of Kingerford, and said he wanted to buy a farm. He was invited to stay with Mr. Chadbourne a few days when the two would go out to see about purchasing the property. When Mr. Chadbourne arose yesterday his guest had gone, taking with him $17 and leaving a valise containing a $3 bill, a revolver ball, two small files and a piece of paper with the name "John Moffatt" written upon it.

Trusky Must Hang in December.

WINDSOR, Oct. 16.—Word has been received from Judge Robertson by the counsel for Trusky, the murder of Constable Lindsay, that the judge would not grant another trial at the spring assizes and that Trusky must hang in December. The counsel is determined that another trial shall be given Trusky and will petition the Minister of Justice to that end. The counsel claims that the judge's charge to the jury was biased and that he gave the jury questions to answer which he claims the judge had no right to ask.

Mgr. Satolli's Visit.

MONTREAL, Oct. 16.—Monseigneur Satolli, papal ablegate, reached here from New York yesterday accompanied by his private secretary, Abbe Pupi. The ablegate granted an interview in Italian, being interpreted by his secretary. He says he has no mission of any kind in Canada. He came here on the invitation of the clergy to visit the educational establishments and goes to Quebec on the invitation of his former pupils. He said that neither the Manitoba school question nor any other Canadian question had been brought to his attention.

Fatal Shooting at Woodstock.

WOODSTOCK, Oct. 16.—Ned Hogan, about 18 years of age, son of Martin Hogan, laborer, was shot and instantly killed yesterday by a companion, William Cross. According to the story told by Cross, they were hunting in the woods at the time and began to play with their guns. They marked off a distance and aimed at each other. Cross, not knowing that the hammer was cocked, fired and instantly killed Hogan. The body was taken to the Hogan home. Cross gave himself up to the police immediately. He is now in the lock-up.

Fifteen Fishermen Drowned.

APALACHICOLA, Fla., Oct. 16.—The saddest feature of the recent storm was the drowning of fifteen fishermen, all whites, near Sand Island, about ten miles from Apalachicola. It was known that these men were caught in the gale and until Saturday it was hoped that they had escaped. Since the gale subsided searching parties have been looking for them and on Saturday their bodies were found.

A Markham Farmer Killed.

MARKHAM, Ont., Oct. 16.—While leading a vicious cow home yesterday, George Braithwaite, a farmer living on the 6th concession of Markham, in some way became entangled by the rope and was dragged along the ground, receiving injuries resulting in his death. He leaves a wife and one child.

Fatal Boiler Explosion.

BRADFORD, Pa., Oct. 16.—A boiler explosion occurred at M. H. Kelley's saw mill situated on Sugar Run, five miles from this place. George McAlister and Gus Carlson were instantly killed and William Dyer was fatally injured. Another man, George Lewis, received a slight flesh wound on one of his legs. The mill was wrecked.

Our Prairie Sheep in England.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—Eighteen hundred live prairie sheep have just been received at Islington from Canada. The price received is four shillings a stone, or sixpence per pound, excluding the offal. It is claimed that this mutton will find more favor here than frozen Australian mutton.

NEWS FROM THE CAPITAL

Hon. Mr. Daly's Interesting Account of the Outlook in Manitoba.

PROSPECTS OF AN EARLY SESSION

Hurrying Up the Estimates for the Ensuing Year—Captain Howard, of Gatling Gun Fame, Reported to Have Been Drowned With His Son Off the Coast of Labrador—The Ottawa Voters' Lists.

OTTAWA, Oct. 16.—The Conservatives say they have added about 2,000 names to the Dominion voters' lists and the Liberals state they have placed about 1,000 thereon.

Better Times for Manitoba.

Hon. T. M. Daly, who has returned to the city, on being interviewed said that the condition of the farmers in Manitoba was very much improved over that of last year. They had not run into debt during the year and were working very cautiously and within their means and eschewing the old principle of buying everything on credit. In Dalhousie, Brandon and Minnedosa, horse men, and trades people generally, were willing to give the farmers credit to any extent, and were doing a thriving trade, the latter took advantage of their opportunities. They now regret it, and find they have got to pay, on the old lines. The sample of wheat throughout Manitoba is excellent. The yield will be about sixteen bushels to the acre, and this makes the third year without a frost. The harvest weather was perfect, and when Mr. Daly left Manitoba last week the great bulk of the wheat was threshed and in the elevators. Altogether, the people are more hopeful, and look forward to a turn in the tide of their affairs, when the depression which is prevalent all over the world ceases. In the minister's opinion, when times are good again, Manitoba and the territories will be favored with the best, for by that time the farmers will be practically free from their old debts, and will be strengthened by their experience during the past two years. Creameries and cheese factories are becoming more general, and are giving great satisfaction to their patrons.

The Session in Sight.

The heads of the different departments of the public service have been advised to have their estimates for the next year ready as soon as possible. This looks like an early session.

Fate of Captain Howard.

A letter received in town from Gaspe, Que., says grave fears are entertained that Capt. Howard, of Gatling gun fame, and his son Alan have been drowned. Capt. Howard, who runs a lobster cannery on the Labrador coast, left Gaspe Basin a week ago on Friday with his son in an open flshing smack to visit his canneries, a trip of 90 miles up the coast. There was a storm on when both men left. It lasted for three days. Neither of them has since been heard from.

WHY THE CZAR IS SICK.

A Sensational Story That His Illness is Not a Natural One.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 16.—Dr. George Fry Schmidt, an officer in the Prussian army stationed at Berlin, who has made public in an afternoon paper a letter received from a friend in St. Petersburg. The most sensational matter in the despatch is the intimation that the Czar's illness has been caused by other than natural means. The doctor translated the despatch as follows:

"The Czar is lying at the point of death. It is understood in a wide circle in Russia that the Czar's sickness was brought about by scientific means and that his death will not be a natural one. It is on account of this that the journals contradict the fact of the Czar's sickness.

"There is a party that wants to set the Czarewitch on the throne. The Czarewitch is of a cranky, melancholy nature, is inclined to institute the most radical reforms throughout Russia and has already made plans for such actions. He is very much hated by the clergy. The patriarch of Moscow, who is at the head of the Greek Church, has travelled about with the Czar in order to persuade him to put his second son on the throne instead of the Czarewitch.

"As this second son is very hot-headed he is sure not to remain long on the throne without becoming seriously involved in state troubles. He is a fine soldier, fond of a fight, a martial fellow and very ambitious. He is an enemy of England, of Germany and above all of America." He not only intends to increase the size of Asiatic Russia, but also to attempt the tremendous task of bridging the Behring Straits and extending his empire in the direction of America."

A Preacher Who Traded Wives.

ANDERSON, Ind., Oct. 16.—Judge Ellhanon has granted Mrs. M. Smith a divorce from Rev. Dr. Smith, who is well known throughout Indiana. Two years ago, while preaching in Winchester, Rev. Mr. Smith, it is said, became infatuated with Mrs. Fred Helm, a member of his congregation. She also became infatuated with him. Mr. Helm then fell in love with Mrs. Smith, and the result was a trade in wives that raised a commotion and necessitated Mr. Smith's retirement from the pulpit. All four persons involved moved to this city, where two applications for divorce were filed one year ago. The petitions were not granted. Smith and Mrs. Helm are in Ohio, where he is preaching.

Incendiary Fire at North Bay.

NORTH BAY, Ont., Oct. 16.—Fire broke out in Henry J. Davis' barn and stables north of here. Both buildings were destroyed with all the season's crops, one horse and nine calves. Loss $1,400, covered by insurance in the Western. The origin of the fire is supposed to have been incendiary.

The Brantford Weavers Strike.

BRANTFORD, Ont., Oct. 16.—The Dominion Cotton Mills are still closed down. The weavers were given a chance to resume work at scheduled prices, but none of them put in an appearance. All other employes are shut out on account of the weavers.

Desperadoes Killed by Officers.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Col., Oct. 16.—While officers were transporting two prisoners who were charged with holding up a faro bank at Victor an escape was attempted. Sheriff Sterling killed James Cannon and mortally wounded the other man, who refused to give his name.

Salvador French to Die.

BARCELONA, Oct. 16.—The execution of Salvador French, the anarchist at the head of the Lyceum Theatre plot, is imminent. His wife had her last interview with him last evening.

To Test Diphtheria Serum.

PARIS, Oct. 16.—The budget committee has resolved upon an appropriation of 100,000 francs with which to test the efficacy of the new diphtheria serum.

SURPRISE SOAP LASTS LONGEST GOES FARTHEST. 180 READ the directions on the wrapper

Perry Davis' PAIN-KILLER

Buy Big 25c. Bottle

NO OTHER MEDICINE ON EARTH is so efficacious for Colic, Canadian Cholera, Cramps, Chills, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum and all Bowel Complaints.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

TORONTO, Oct. 16, 1894.

The visible supply of barley is 3,117,000 bushels, an increase during the past week of 367,000 bushels.

There is nearly four times the quantity of barley in Buffalo now that there was at this time last year. Markets are all reported quiet without noteworthy sales. Canada barley is nominally 63 to 66c.

On the street here 400 bushels of wheat sold at 58c for white, 51c for red and 49 1-2c for goose; 2,000 of barley at 46c to 48 1-2c and 500 of oats at 41 to 32c. Outside prices of grain remain unchanged.

Wheat was depressed in Chicago on account of lower cables and large increase in visible supply. Corn followed wheat. Oats were dull and lost 1-2c on the day.

The Mark Lane Express in its weekly review of the British grain trade says: English wheats have fallen to an incredibly low price, 6s to 28s 2d having been the average offered at Saturday's market, which is 13s 6d below the very lowest price compatible with profit. American flour is firmly held. Oats are dull; corn steady and barley, beans and peas quiet.

The New York stock market turned upon the sterling exchanges. For days past the latter have been decidedly strong and the actual figures have gradually advanced to the gold exporting point. Yesterday it was announced after the closing of the stock exchange that Kidder, Peabody & Co., of Boston, had withdrawn $500,000 of gold from the local sub-treasury for shipment for Europe. The gold will go direct to Germany.

—THE KAISER'S PROPOSED VISIT.—

Conspicuous Parisians Give Opinion as to His Reception.

PARIS, Oct. 16.—The Echo de Paris has got the opinions of conspicuous Parisians as to the treatment to be accorded Emperor William should he visit the city in 1900.

Jules Simons said: "He ought to receive the same courtesy as the other guests."

Joseph Reinach: "He should be received with courtesy. An insult would be madness and cowardice."

Deputy General Rui: "As a soldier I should turn pale and slumber. As a deputy I should uphold France's tradition of courtesy."

Editor Drumont: "The Parisians would hoot him."

Mme. Adam: "If Alsace should be German still I should taunt the French with cowardice even if I should be the only woman to speak."

A Mystery Solved.

DIAMOND, La., Oct. 16.—The body of Adolph Clark, an old and wealthy orange grower of this parish, who mysteriously disappeared some time ago, has been discovered floating down the river. His feet were tied together and a five-gallon demijohn filled with water was attached to them. Louis Dienet and his son were arrested, charged with the crime.

Oyster Crop Failing Off.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 16.—The oyster dredging season in the Chesapeake Bay opens this week. The outlook is not encouraging. The supply has fallen nearly one-half in fourteen years. What was one of the largest industrial interests in the state has declined for want of a system of cultivation.

The Ahr Valley.

It is becoming the custom among European travellers to step at Remagen on the Rhine, and make a little excursion to the beautiful Valley of the Ahr, with its picturesque villages along the vine-clad slope. Here is also located the spring from which flows that world wide favorite "Apollinaris Water." At Neuenahr, in the valley, the river Ahr is very beautiful, and one can find few more quaintly attractive spots than the Upper Gate at Ahrweiler, or the old mill at Heppingen.

A tax on dogs was levied in Rome during the reign of Nero.

For Over Fifty Years

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhœa. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by druggists throughout the world. 17d&wly

In the time of Queen Anne soap was taxed £28 per ton.

DEAR SIRS.—I have used Yellow Oil for two or three years, and think it has no equal for croup. Mrs. J. S. O'Brien, Huntsville, Ont.

The tithes in England amounted to £4,050,000 a year.

Dyspepsia and Indigestion.—G. W. Snow & Co., Syracuse N.Y., writes: "Please send us ten gross of Pills. We are selling more of Parmlee's Pills than any other Pill we keep. They have a great reputation for the cure of Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint." Mr. Chas. A. Smith, Lindsay, writes: "Parmelee's Pills are an excellent medicine. My sister has been troubled with severe headache, but these pills have cured her."

Russia raises $1,5000,000 a year by the sale of passports.

THAT TIRED, LANGUID FEELING and dull headache is very disagreeable. Take two of Carter's Little Liver Pills before retiring, and you will find relief. They never fail ot do good.

See This Dress?

Surprise Soap Washed it.

And will wash any washable material without injury to the color or material—it is harmless yet effective.

White goods are made whiter and colored goods brighter by the use of Surprise Soap.

Thousands use it. Why don't you?

Use Surprise on washday for all kinds of goods without Boiling or Scalding.

DELICATE
MURRAY & LANMAN'S
REFRESHING IMPERISHABLE
PURE SWEET LASTING
RICH RARE PUNGENT
FLORIDA WATER
STILL HOLDS THE FIRST PLACE IN POPULAR FAVOR. BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.
FRAGRANT

LAKEHURST SANITARIUM
OAKVILLE, ONT.
For treatment and cure of ALCHOLISM, MORPHINE HABIT, TOBACCO HABIT AND NERVOUS DISEASES.

The system employed at this Institution is the familiar Double Chloride of Gold System. Through its agency over 200,000 Slaves to the use of these poisons have been emancipated in the last fourteen years. Lakehurst Sanitarium is the oldest institution of the kind in Canada, and has a well earned reputation to maintain in this line of medicine. In its whole history there is not an instance of failure to remove the appetite for these poisons. In its whole history there is not an instance of any after ill-effects from the treatment. Hundreds of happy homes in all parts of the Dominion bear eloquent witness to the efficacy of a course of treatment with us. For terms and full information write

THE SECRETARY,
28 Bank of Commerce Chambers,
sug7d3m34w3m) Toronto, Ont.

Trafalgar Institute.
(Affiliated to McGill University.)
No. 83 Simpson Street, Montreal.
FOR YOUNG LADIES.

Higher Education of Young Women

With preparatory department for girls between 11 and 16.
President, Rev. JAMES BARCLAY, D.D.
Vice-President, Mrs. A. T. DYMOND.
Principal, Miss CHARLOTTE FARLEY, M.A., Edinburgh.

The institute will re-open with an efficient staff of teachers resident and visiting teachers, on

Tuesday, 11th September 1894.

The handsome buildings are situated on the mountain side overlooking the City. The grounds are attractively laid out and the surroundings are not only beautiful but very healthful.

For copy of Prospectus and other information apply to the principal, at the Institute, or to
A. F. Riddell, Secretary, 22 St. John St., Montreal.

HAPPY HOME RANGES.

Best in the Market.

—ALSO—

A Full Line of

Art Garland and Famous Heaters.

—(o)—

Wm. McGIE.

Next to Nathan Jones.
Tel ephone 38. Front St

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 75c. bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, TUESDAY OCT, 16.

SOME HARD FACTS.

The Ottawa Citizen gives a few hard facts elicited from the trade returns, showing some gratifying results of the Liberal Conservative tariff.

In 1878 the value per head of crude material for use in the industrial arts was $2 18 Last year, so great had been our development in manufactures, that our import of crude material went up to $5 02 The extension of our manufactures means the growth of a city population who become consumers of farm products, and create a market at the farmers' doors.

Articles partly manufactured to be subjected to further processes in Canada, were imported in 1878 to the extent of $2 41 per head; in 1893 to the extent of $3 90 per head. The enlargement here has the same significance as the item first above mentioned.

Our import of manufactures per head in 1878 was $8 78; in 1893 there was a slight falling off to $8.30. So the manufacturer, that "blood sucker" as he is represented by the Opposition—Sir Richard Cartwright calls him a thief—has to meet the competition of almost the same amount of foreign goods as he had 16 years ago. His gain has been in supplying the increased local demand that has arisen in the interval.

But now come two striking facts—the purchase in foreign countries of articles of voluntary use and luxury is one of the very best tests of a country's prosperity—and here the proof is clear that our citizens as a whole are better off now than they were under the old conditions. In 1878 their import of this class of goods was $1 75 per head; in 1893 it had increased to $2.06.

Finally, the farmer's interest lies in being able to dispose of larger amounts of the products of the farm and dairy. Now since 1878, we have added 25½ per cent. to the numbers of our population, and our consumption of breadstuffs may be assumed to have increased in proportion. Yet, whereas formerly our import of articles of food and of animals and their products reached $7 05 per head, now it is but $3 78. The difference is supplied by our own farmers. The difference is clear gain to them. And here it is that we find a satisfactory explanation of the prosperous condition of our agricultural population, notwithstanding the adverse legislation of the United States, notwithstanding the low price of wheat and other cereals, and notwithstanding the great depression which has existed all over the world among the members of their class

"The Ripened Leaves."

Margaret E. Sangster, in Harper's Young People

Said the leaves upon the branches
 One sunny autumn day;
"We've finished all our work, and now
 We can no longer stay.
So our gowns of red and yellow,
 And our sober cloaks of brown,
Must be worn before the frost comes,
 And we go rustling down.

"We've had a jolly summer,
 With the birds that built their nests
Beneath our green umbrellas,
 And the squirrels that were our guests,
But we cannot wait for winter,
 For we do not care for snow,
When we hear the wild northwesters
 We loose our clasp and go.

"But we hold our heads up bravely
 Unto the very last,
And shine in pomp and splendor
 As away we flutter fast.
In the mellow autumn noontide
 We kiss and say good-by,
And through the naked branches
 Then may children see the sky."

Quack Advertisements

Are a nuisance and we think it behooves publishers to examine into the merits of many articles puffed up in their columns. We do not deny that many meritorious remedies are properly to be classed under this heading. Take the hundreds and thousands relieved from severe suffering by the use of Polson's Nerviline; would it not be unreasonable to expect them to condemn that far famed remedy? Now we know for a fact that Polson's Nerviline is without exception the most powerful, pleasant and certain remedy in the world for pain. It cannot fail, for it goes right to the bottom of pain, penetrates to the nerves, soothes them into quietness, and affords prompt and permanent relief.

PALE CHILDREN

With poor appetites and frequent coughs, should be given a few bottles of . . . . . Campbell's

Skrei Cod Liver Oil.

Doctors recommend it because it is pure and easy to take and to digest.

OUR DEAD CHIEFTAIN.

His Oldest Colleague Testifies to his Many Excellencies.

At the unveiling of the statue to Sir John Macdonald at Toronto on Saturday, loud cheers greeted Hon. Mackenzie Bowell on stepping to the front. The Minister of Trade and Commerce said: Mr. Chairman, and ladies and gentlemen, —After the eloquent eulogy which has been passed upon our late chieftain, the matter might well have been left in the hands of Sir John Thompson, but for the reason, I presume, that I happen to be the only surviving colleague, that is now in the Cabinet, of Sir John A. Macdonald at the time he formed his Government in 1878, I have been honored by the request to say a few words upon this very important occasion of unveiling a statue to the most eminent man that ever lived in Canada. (Applause.) I feared that I should not be able to do justice to a subject of such vast importance, were I left even to memory, and therefore I shall in the very few words I have to say, merely read what I believe to be characteristics of the late Sir John A. Macdonald. I might say, however, that I have first to congratulate the citizens of Toronto as well as others who contributed to the erection of this monument in having given to the city of Toronto something which in the future will be looked upon as an emblem of statesmanship in the Dominion of Canada, which will not only be a credit to themselves, but also to the memory of a great man—one of the greatest who have lived amongst us, and who, during a public career of half a century, had few, if any, peers at all in social or political life. His wonderful personality and knowledge of human nature made him a master of the science of governing. He was a patriot in the broadest sense of the word, and, while he had a passion for ruling, it was that he might establish upon a solid foundation British power and British institutions upon this, the greater half of the North American Continent—(applause)—which would, in our time of need as in theirs, prove the right arm of strength to that great empire whose history and institutions he never wavered in extolling, or to bear allegiance to. The practical unity of the empire by a closer relationship of the outlying dependencies was one of the dreams of his life. "I look forward to the time," he exclaimed to a friend, "when all the people holding allegiance to the British crown will be welded firmly together, trading with each other as one people, and independent of all foreign powers or foreign control." Although he saw that this great union might not be accomplished in his time, he believed it to be inevitable if British subjects were true to themselves and true to the traditions and deeds of their fathers. Canada has an important part to play in bringing about this imperial union. To those who followed Sir John A. Macdonald, and were associated with him in his life work, he left this legacy of bringing the great scheme to successful completion, and when they have passed from the stage of life, and the work be still unfinished, young Canadians must take up the cause. Let us hope they will not prove recreant to their duty. The late Sir John A. Macdonald was a British Canadian in everything he did, and in every scheme propounded. The proofs of his genius are written upon every page of modern Canadian history, and his most enduring monument will be found in a united Canada, her public works, her progress and her strength. Although assisted in the noble work by many able contemporaries, it is conceded by those who opposed him most bitterly, that he towered above them all. (Applause.) It has been often said that he was not only ambitious for power, but that he dominated over those who were associated with him by an iron will. This is a misapprehension of the character. While he delighted in the thought of ruling and guiding the destinies of his country, no man ever more freely courted the frank opinion of his colleagues, no man ever listened with greater attention to such opinions, and no man more readily yielded to the judgment of others. I speak of him as one of his colleagues for over 13 years, and therefore, know whereof I speak. (Applause.) He was kind and considerate to all with whom he came in contact, not only winning their confidence and sincere affection, but he was ever ready to aid, as far as was possible to do so, all who sought his friendship and assistance. For nearly half a century he was the most prominent figure in Canadian politics, respected and beloved by all who knew him, whether political associates or opponents. Never in the history of any country did one man, for so long a time, have so strong a personal following as did the late chieftain, Sir John Macdonald. No man ever achieved more in the same length of time in settling the great questions which divided men in Canada, nor did anyone receive greater recognition at the hands of his countrymen or at the hands of the sovereign. (Applause.) Let this monument teach the lessons of a great life to statesmen yet to come, and stimulate future generations to emulate his devotion to Queen and country, that they may ever be ready to say, as he did, with almost his last breath: "He was born a British subject, and such he would die." (Cheers.)

DEMORESTVILLE.

Mr. C. S. McGillvary and lady, of Glenora, spent Sunday in town visiting their parents. — Mrs. Branscomb and daughter, Genie, were the guests of W. E. Baker and family through the fair. – On account of the rain the fair was poorly attended and the races were postponed till this week.—The Van Amburgh family gave a concert on the 11th, which was very well attended considering the bad weather. They were highly appreciated by the audience.—Mrs. Bongard, of Picton, spent some time with her brother, Mr Jas. Hart, of this place.—Mr. W. Meyers, of Belleville, is visiting among friends in the village.—The Methodist Sabbath school, has appointed Mrs. (Rev.) Buckler as delegate to the convention soon to be held in Belleville.

GILEAD.

OCT. 15.—The recent rains have made the roads very muddy. Fall grain is growing finely.—Mr. Frank Huffman, youngest son of Mr. Wm. Huffman, left on the first to attend Queen's University, Kingston. May success go with him.—Mr. Christie, of Sawyer, Massey Co, Hamilton, was here last week to inspect the Brintnell self feeder and band cutter at work at Mr. Clayton Sheffield's. He expressed himself as delighted with the machine on account of its compactness, simplicity and accuracy of cutting. As to its rapidity 56 machine bound sheaves of oats were threshed in one minute, by the watch.—Miss C. Fairman was visiting friends at Crofton last week.—Mr W. Balcanquel's condition is little changed.—Mr. W. Robinson last week killed two six months' old pigs, which, when dressed, weighed 510 pounds.—While Mrs. Julia Huffman was at the wood pile the other day a stick fell on her hand bruising and cutting it badly. She is doing as well as can be expected.—Miss Burk, of Moira, is spending the week with Miss Baker.—A slight flurry of snow fell here last Sunday. —Threshing is nearly over with for this year in this vicinity.

THE PARKDALE TRAGEDY

No Further Light Received on the Mysterious Shooting Affair.

EVIDENCE TAKEN AT THE INQUEST

Mrs. Card's Story of the Crime Contradicted—Testimony Which Goes to Show the Shooting May Have Occurred Inside the House—The Inquest Further Adjourned for a Week.

TORONTO, Oct. 16.—The inquest into the cause of the death of Frank B. Westwood, who was shot down by an assassin at his father's door one week ago last Saturday was resumed at No. 6 police station last evening. The hall was again crowded and a curious crowd, unable to gain admission, assembled outside the building. Jurors, witnesses and reporters took up half the room, and detectives and police officers were everywhere.

Excitement over the murder has now cooled down a little from the fever heat of last week and the tragedy has become but a bit of current history in the daily life of a big city; still there was a look of expectation in the faces of most people present last evening, for some interesting disclosures were expected and sensational developments were whispered of.

Promptly at 8 o'clock Coroner Orr opened proceedings. Before the hour of opening there was a great crush at the door, the crowd being very anxious to get in. The police had to force them back, so persistent were they.

Dr. Lynd was first called. Frank had told him that the man who shot him down did not speak a word. He described his murder as a short young man dressed in dark clothes and wearing a dark hat and light moustache. He believed the boy had told the whole truth regarding the matter. It was possible that Frank Westwood had committed suicide but not probable. He had seen two young men on Springer ave., west of Jameson ave., and heard them whistle as he passed. One wore a light overcoat, the other a dark one.

Mrs. Card was re-called. She had remained at the Grand Opera House till the play was over. This means that she could not possibly have reached Jameson ave. before the shooting, for the opera was not out till 11.05. At least so swore C. B. Shepherd, manager of the house. This exploded Mrs. Card's little theory.

The evidence of several witnesses who followed was unimportant.

M. K. Keeler, 70 Victoria crescent, had seen a young lady get off a King street car at Jameson avenue about 11.30 on the night of the murder. She met a couple of other ladies a short distance down the avenue, but he paid no attention to them. He had whistled on Victoria crescent that night. It was 11.35 when he got home. This knocks out the "whistling signal" evidence.

W. H. Monroe, 70 Victoria crescent, had reached home about 11 o'clock on the night of the shooting. He had heard a pistol shot just after he turned on to Jameson avenue. He heard but one shot and had seen no person on the street. It was a few minutes after 11 when he got home, but he could not state the time exactly.

Miss Helen Watson, 72 Victoria crescent, had heard two shots at 10.50 on that fatal Saturday night, one three or four minutes later than the other. She had also heard a furious barking of dogs after the first shot.

Stephen Leslie, 118 Victoria crescent, had heard the first shot while in front of the South Parkdale depot. The shot sounded smothered. At least seven minutes intervened between the two shots. He saw no person on Jameson avenue. He entered his own house not a minute after the second shot and it was just 11.14 then. Some importance is attached to this man's evidence, as it supports a possible theory of the shooting having taken place inside the house.

Dr. Sparrow swore that it was only 11.10 when he reached Westwood's after the shooting, which contradicts Leslie's evidence as to time. Frank told him that he had walked upstairs after the shot was fired. He had also said he placed his right foot against the door and only partially opened it. Mr. Westwood, sr., said the shot might have been intended for him, although he knew of no motive.

Miss Bessie Stephen, the domestic at Westwood's, said that she had been awakened by Mrs. Westwood screaming, "Oh Ben, don't go." She then heard a commotion in the house but had not been called by Mrs. Westwood until ten minutes later. Frank was then lying on his bedroom floor with his coat off, and Mrs. Westwood was alone in the room with him. Mrs. Westwood had told her how the shooting had occurred, and Frank had said that his assailant was short and stout. Frank had not, to her knowledge, quarrelled with any other member of the family.

Frank Rice, aged 14, 17 Star ave., had been asked by a stranger on the day of the shooting where the Westwood residence was. The stranger was about 5 feet 8 inches, had light curly hair and light moustache, and wore dark, shabby clothes.

James Burns, express driver, swore that he was the person who made the inquiry of the boys; he had a piano to deliver at Westwoods. And another clue was proven valueless. "Private Detective" Hornby, the man who found the scraps of paper, repeated his little story. No importance is attached to his story. He had found some more scraps on Victoria crescent which he exhibited, but this latest discovery of the modern Lecogue only served to amuse the court.

The inquest was then adjourned for one week.

Hog Train Derailed.

HAMILTON, Oct. 16.—Special train No. 88 from Fort Huron to Toronto on the G. T. R. left the track this side of Copetown. The tender broke and as a result nine cars loaded with 780 hogs were derailed. Five hundred and nine hogs were recovered by the railway employes but a few escaped and a large number were killed. Several of the cars were badly wrecked. It took the wrecking crew about six hours to clear the track.

A London Family's Narrow Escape.

LONDON, Ont., Oct. 16.—Mrs. W. C. Hiscott, her two children and her father, John Crone, had a very narrow escape from asphyxiation at their home on Cartright street. One of the children fortunately fell out of bed, and this awakened Mrs. Hiscott sufficiently to realize the trouble. With great difficulty she crawled to the front door and attracted attention.

Grand Trunk Returns.

LONDON, Eng., Oct. 16.—The weekly return of traffic to be issued by the Grand Trunk Railway authorities to-day will show a decrease in receipts of £30,000. The half-yearly report will likely be issued about the 22nd inst., later than usual.

SPECIAL MENTION

DR. LOW'S PLEASANT WORM SYRUP removes worms of all kinds from children or adults.

THAT HACKING COUGH can be quickly cured by Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam. Price 25c.

Nearly all infants are more or less subject to diarrhoea and such complaints while teething, and as this period of their lives is the most critical, mothers should not be without a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial. This medicine is a specific for such complaints and is highly spoken of by those who have used it. The proprietors claim it will cure any case of cholera or summer complaint.

HOME SLAVES.

From Early Morn Till Late at Night.

WORK, WORRY AND BUSTLE.

Results: Nervousness! Sleeplessness! Headache! Dyspepsia and Run-Down Constitution

Paine's Celery Compound the Wife and Mother's Salvation.

It Gives Health and Strength and a New Lease of Life.

The home slaves of our country—the thousands of wives and mothers who toil from early morn till late at night—deserve comfort, cheering and encouragement.

The daily toil, worry and bustle in the management of home and children is so severe on the vast majority of mothers, that they become prematurely aged and broken down in body. Thousands are nervous, sleepless, dyspeptic, despondent and melancholy.

Unless some effort, some means of rescue be devised for saving these devotees and slaves of home life, the dark grave will greedily engulf many wearied and worn-out mothers, leaving mourning husbands and helpless little ones behind. 'Tis a fearful picture, but nevertheless true as heaven's sun shines on earth. It is well to know the truth. It is our duty to utter warnings in time that cannot be misunderstood.

Our weary, nervous, faint, weak and broken down wives and mothers must follow the example of a multitude of their sisters who have renewed and changed their lives, by the use of Paine's Celery Compound, nature's true and infallible invigorator and strengthener.

Oh! ye overworked, burdened mothers, your duty is clear. Your husband and dear ones need your presence in the home for years to come. Lay hold of the great health builder, Paine's Celery Compound, at once; it will give you new life, vigor, strength and lengthened years. Husbands, you have a duty to perform; a true devotion to wife and children will compel its performance. See that your devoted wives are supplied with the medicine that is so well adapted to their condition. Nothing but Paine's Celery Compound can bring back the glow of health to the faded and pallid cheeks; nothing else can make your weak and despondent wives bright, vigorous and happy.

Saved and cured women in all parts of Canada have sent in telling testimony regarding the life-giving effects of Paine's Celery Compound; the following from Mrs. Joseph Lloyd, Gananoque, Ont., will be interesting to all women:—

"I feel it my duty to tell you what Paine's Celery Compound has done for me. I was always a sufferer from nervous debility and very bad headache and found it impossible to obtain regular sleep and rest.

Two years ago I read of your Paine's Celery Compound and bought a bottle of it. After I had used it I found I could get rest and quiet. I have used altogether seven bottles and find myself completely cured.

Your medicine purifies the blood and regulates the system, and I would not be without it in my house if it took my last dollar.

Before using Paine's Celery Compound my weight was only 100 pounds; now I weigh 141 pounds. Is this not sufficient reason for me to praise the Compound highly?

Before I knew of your wonderful medicine I was treated by the doctors but never received any good. Five of my friends are now using your valuable medicine since they have seen what it has done for me.

I wish you to use my statements, as they may be of encouragement to others."

Emerald Trio

Scored another success last night in the City Hall; their singing is far above the average and the rendering of "Prohibition Bells," so enchanted the people that long after the singers had ceased, the distant echo of "The Bells" seemed to ring on and will long live in the memory of the audience. Mr. J. P. Smith gave a short but thrilling speech on prohibition; tracing the life of Moses hid for 3 months by his anxious watchful mother, found by Pharaoh's daughter, whose heart opens toward him, handing him over to her mother to be nursed. Here Mr. Smith's power was felt, as by his great dramatic ability he made "live" before his audience, the scene of the mother saving her boy from the blood thirsty marauders, sent off by the edict of Pharaoh, as Mr. Smith, declared it the bloodiest that ever stained the annals of history. But God wanted a man and carried Moses through this trying time, thus fitting him for his mission. Here again the speaker introduced Moses endowed with power from God, leading forth captive Israel. See the chariot eers urging their horses with lash and curse, shaking the lines over their backs like snakes, coiling, squirming and springing, the iron hoofs crushing shells, and the wheels grinding the sand in the deep ruts made by the heavy chariots, on they go after the accursed slave, who dare flee for freedom, and there stand the mighty walls of water like glaciers frozen into stillness by Jehovah's word, until the last chariot has dashed down the 1 ping beach into the seabed, then suddenly the walls of water tremble and fall. With one piercing scream they become panic stricken and rush upon each other in a vain endeavor to escape a faint struggle, a gurgling sound, and the great army that would dare enslave God's people perished. That night there was bitter anguish in Egypt, for the mothers had just lost their first born, and now a double curse had fallen upon them and they cursed the false gods of Egypt, while upon the other shore stand God's people with Miriam in their midst. With arms outstretched towards heaven and her feet dancing in the new found joy of freedom, She sings, "Sound the loud timbrel o'er Egypt's dark sea, Jehovah hath triumphed. His people are free." Then he makes the application that God wants men to-day who are not afraid of party. Moses was brought up in the king's palace, but royal "pap" did not stifle his conscience, like party pap does with men to-day, and when God's people are ready to march in a body, then the country will be freed from a greater bondage than Egypt ever held over Israel, for then the people's bodies only were in bondage, but now, through the saloon, mind, will power, heart, body and soul are enslaved.

The Emeralds will hold no meeting to-night, as General Booth will absorb all attention, but Wednesday will be a special night of interest in the City Hall.

DAVIS' PAIN KILLER. — The best and most popular Family Medicine in the world. A blessing to the rich; a friend to the poor; within the reach of all, it has saved more lives and relieved more suffering incidental to travelling than any other medicine. 25c. per bottle, large size.

CARMEL.

The roads at present are in a very bad condition, owing to the heavy rains.—Very little fall grain was sown here this season, as the dry weather continued so late that the farmers did not think it would be profitable to put in grain so late in the season.—There has been considerable fall ploughing here, and farmers are at it every day—The apples are nearly all gathered, and are a very good crop, snow apples being of unusually good quality.—Potatoes are small, and few in a hill.—Threshing is not over with yet, as Mr. Hawley is back in this neighborhood with his machine, and will do some threshing here this week.—As Mr. W. Parliament was starting out of a field with a load of hay from one of his stacks one day last week, his horses became unmanageable and succeeded in getting away from him, but did not run far before coming in contact with a gate in Vandewaters' lane; in trying to get over it, both fell, when Mr. Parliament captured them without damage being done, excepting a few scratches on one of the horses.—Mr. Jerman Horton, one of our Carmel boys (who has been away about two years,) spent a couple of weeks with his parents and friends here, and has returned to Canandaigua, N. Y., where he is engaged as book keeper at the Asylum in that place.—Mr. F. Benedict spent Sunday with friends back of Stirling.—Alfred and Chas. Roper have taken the Boldrick farms to work this year —Mrs. Jas. Clarke has returned from Port Hope. She attended the convention of the Women's Missionary Society as delegate from Carmel Auxiliary. —Miss Pitman, from Mount Pleasant, is visiting at her brother's, Mr. Jno. Pitman. —Mr. and Mrs. Barragar, of St. Ola, are visiting at Wilson Reed's.—Miss Ketcheson is spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. Jas Boldrick.

Asthma Sufferers.

Who have in vain tried every other means of relief, should try "Schiffman's Asthma Cure." No waiting for results. Its action is immediate, direct and certain, as a single trial proves. Send to Dr. R. Schiffmann, St. Paul, Minn., for a free trial package, but ask your druggist first.

Lane's Medicine Moves the Bowels Each Day

In order to be healthy this is necessary.

New Advetrfisemens.

REMOVAL.

MISS WAY has removed her dress making rooms to the Singer Office, one door north of Lattimer's Barber Shop, where she will be pleased to meet her old customers, and as many new ones as wish to favor her with a call. 40d6t w1t

TO LET.

TO LET 90 Dundas st., opposite South John st., barn, hard and soft water. Apply next door. 137d3t

TO LET 2 snug, warm brick houses in terrace, situated on Harriett St., West Belleville, known as Morten's, or Filliter's terrace. For terms of rent apply to R. C. Filliter, collector, or sub agent to the estate of the late H. E. Filliter Residence at Mr Jardin's Corner of William and Dundas Sts, East Belleville. 85d2m

QUEEN'S - OPERA - HOUSE,

THOS. P. J. POWER,—MANAGER.

VAN AMBURG CONCERT COMPANY.

ONE NIGHT ONLY

—ON—

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 23rd, 1894,

Under the auspices of Canton Belleville, No. 8, P. M., I. O. O. F.

Prices, - 15, 25 and 35c.

Plan at Riggs' Music Store.

H. C. DICKENS & SON.

YOU'LL BE TOO BUSY—

To do any baking during the S. S. Convention (We are addressing more particularly the ladies at whose houses the delegates are to be entertained.)
Let us come to your aid by suggesting that we do it for you. We'll do it first class too
It will relieve you of a lot of trouble and anxiety, and give you more time to entertain your guests. Our windows will be especially attractive during convention week. So be on the lookout!

H. C. DICKENS & SON.

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS,

A positive cure for all kidney diseases, such as

Backache, Rheumatism, Diabetes, Brights Disease, &c., &c.

For sale at the Pharmacy.

D. M. WATERS.

QUINCES . . . .

Are said to be, by those who know their uses best, the nicest fruit grown.

We expect to receive regular supplies each day, also

Grapes and Peaches.

Those who may not have bought their peaches early in the season can get fully as good value now as the "Smock" variety is one of the best grown for canning or pickling, and is now the only peach in the market.

Jas. Wallace & Co

We Are . .

Busy. . . . .

Our new groceries are going with a rush, but more are arriving daily, and that's why we keep our stock fresh and wholesome. We take pride in our confectionery for it's the best money can buy and our prices are away down. See the values we offer in teas and sugars. Provisions, and flour and feed also receive our particular attention

J. A. ELLIOTT.

Front St., Belleville.

NEVER

Were prices as low for new goods, or prospects better for an unusually brilliant display and lively trade for the holiday china and crockery trade.

We have advices that the Belleville goods are being packed as fast as possible, and will be here in good time. As there is an immense lot, and being goods of of a fragile nature, we must be patient. How satisfactory it is to know at least, that this store's stock is direct from the potteries in England, France and Germany, and not from Toronto or Montreal, and besides, is made for the legitimate crockery trade, which accounts for its better quality and appearance.

W. J. REID & CO'Y.

CRYSTAL HALL. Rous' Old Stand.

London and Belleville.

IT - HAS - BEEN - ADMITTED

—BY OVER 125 PEOPLE IN BELLEVILLE THAT THE—

John Bull Wrought Steel Range,

Is the most Economical, Everlasting and Useful Range on the market. How is this for three Seasons.

SEE THEM AT FOSTER'S.

Also the Duchess of Oxford Cast Iron Range

MONTHLY DIVIDENDS!!!

NEW YORK TRADING COMPANY,

17 & 19 Broadway New York

CAPITAL, 100,000.

This company has been formed to place small speculators in the Stock, Grain and other markets, in an equally strong position with the great manipulators who make and rule the markets Legitimate speculation is the quickest road to wealth The smallest investment may soon grow into a competency.

In the speculative markets alone do such opportunities exist.

Small speculators combined and guided by wise counsellors become a power in the market. This is the position of our subscribers.

By our plan, holders of one share, which costs TEN DOLLARS, enjoy the same privileges and benefits as holders of one hundred shares.

Subscriptions invited to a Syndicate now being formed to operate in a direction where we have peculiar and exclusive information

Accounts always open to inspection of members. Accounts rendered and dividends payable monthly Full details of our methods mailed free on application

Correspondence respectfully solicited

Bank references furnished.

New York Trading Company,

17 & 19 Broadway, New York City.

CAPITAL $100,000

For . .

THIRTY . . .

DAYS . . . . .

WE will sell our entire line of

Wall Paper . . . .

—AND—

Window Shades

AT A DOUBLE DISCOUNT 10 & 5p.c.

10 per cent. off Special, and 5 per cent. off for cash.

We positively will not be undersold at

OVERELL'S BOOK STORE.

THIS MATTER CHANGED DAILY.

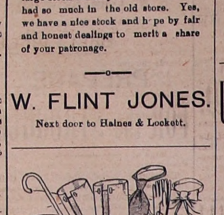

TUESDAY, Oct. 16 h.

SETTLED!

At last we feel comfortably settled in our new store, and we are pleased to see our customers are finding us out, and many new friends are being made. People are surprised at our large stock for they did not think we had so much in the old store. Yes, we have a nice stock and hope by fair and honest dealings to merit a share of your patronage.

W. FLINT JONES.

Next door to Haines & Lockett.

Ask how you can get a CLOCK!

. . . At MINAKER'S . . .

The Men's Furnisher.

CANADIAN PACIFIC RY.

WILL RUN HUNTERS' EXCURSIONS

TO MUSKOKA LAKES AND ALL STATIONS.

MATTAWA, NEPIGON, SPANISH RIVER AND INTERMEDIATE STATIONS

OCT. 19 and 20
OCT. 26 and 27
NOV. 2 and 3

When Round Trip Tickets will be sold for

SINGLE FIRST CLASS FARE

Good for Return until Dec. 1st, 1894.

For business passing through Toronto, rates to above points will not be less than 25 cents added to ordinary Round Trip Rates to Toronto.

Dogs, Guns Personal Baggage, Camp Equipments, to the amount of 200 lbs will be carried FREE

S. BURROWS,

General Ticket Agent, Belleville.

Telephone Rings,

IS THAT

O B C?

YES.

R. J. Graham is speaking:

We are rushed in the office. Send us another good man at once.

ALL RIGHT,

We shall have a man there in ten minutes

We sent J. R. Snedden, who had just graduated. Mr. Graham has now three graduates of

ONTARIO BUSINESS COLLEGE.

In his office here, namely Managing Accountant, Assistant and Stenographer.

GENTLEMEN . . . .

Before ordering your Fall Clothing don't fail to take a look through

A. N. REID'S

New Fall Importations of

Scotch, English and Irish Suitings, Overcoatings, Pantings, Irish Serges, Cheviots, Hop Sackings and Black Worsteds.

First Class Goods and Prices low,

Mr. Minor, our cutter, is one of the best in Ontario.

EVERY GARMENT GUARANTEED!!

Please call and inspect our New Goods.

A. N. REID.

UNDERWEAR . . .

—AT FISH'S!

Don't go shivering around any longer, but come and get some of our warm underclothing, and you will be happy and comfortable.

Sizes run from 30 to 46 inches. Our prices suit all pocket books.

We give value that cannot be beaten.

A. E. FISH & CO.

Try our King Shirt, and you will buy no other.

Seasonable Goods
. . AT THE . .
GLASGOW WAREHOUSE.

We are now fully prepared to show one of the largest and best assorted stocks of Staple and Fancy Dry Goods in the city, and at the lowest possible prices, consisting of the following:

STAPLE DEPARTMENT.

Grey and white Blankets, Elder Quilts and Pillows, navy and grey Flannel, grey and white flannel sheeting, grey and fancy Homemade Flannel, Towels, Towellings, Table Linens, Ticknigs and Ginghams, Table plush.

50 pieces Flannelettes, just received. Splendid value.

Mantles and Mantle cloths, Velvet and Cloth Shawls, Sealettes, all prices. Dress goods in great variety.

Carpets, Oilcloths, Rugs, Lace, and Chenille Curtains, and Table Covers in the very newest designs.

VANDERVOORT & GIBSON,
Successors to the late J. W. Dunnet.
Belleville, Oct. 11, 1894.
P.S.—A large show case and table for sale cheap.

COUPON
—FOR—
PART 9.
Canada Portfolio of Art.

A Coupon appears in all issues of this paper.

Cut out this coupon and forward, together with 10 cents, to the Art Department of this paper, and you will receive one part of Canada, as mentioned above, by mail postpaid, or bring the coupon and 10 cents to this office and receive Portfolio.

NAME.....

ADDRESS.....

N.B.—Remember, only one Coupon required for each part.

Daily Intelligencer.
BELLEVILLE, TUESDAY OCT. 16

Chauncey Ashley, issuer of marriage licenses, Division Court Office, Pinnacle street or at residence over Bennmore & Benson's store. d&w

CITY AND DISTRICT.

Tabernacle tea meeting Thursday night.

Philharmonic rehearsal this week on Thursday night.

The net receipts of the Panopticon will total about $250.

A new post office has been opened at Crow Lake, Addington.

Crossley and Hunter are stirring up Pembroke in their usual lively way.

Be sure and attend Grant's cheap cash sale if you want bargains in Boots and Shoes.

A seasonable combination is made up of small boy, hickory or butternuts, stone and bruised fingers.

The dredge Queen came down from Trenton to-day and will continue the work on Ashery Point.

Ab. Wheeler, the popular black face comedian, will take part in a concert at Plainfield to-morrow night.

Upwards of eleven years have elapsed since the Salvation Army "opened fire" in Belleville, namely, on Sept. 25th, 1883.

Wallace Root found a straw-hat, three linen collars and a silk tie on the street last night and left them at the police station.

Major Harrison, Chas. Herring, and two other men returned yesterday from a duck-shooting trip down the bay. They got 43 ducks.

Fred Sero says that it was not he who struck Horace Dickson on Saturday night. We have reason to believe that what he says is true.

"What an unsightly hole that footbridge gangway is," remarked a citizen who has to traverse it three miles four or five times a day. Something should be done to make it passable in wet weather.

Ayer's Hair Vigor, which has outlived and superseded hundreds of similar preparations, is undoubtedly the most fashionable as well as economical hair-dressing in the market. By its use, the poorest head of hair soon becomes luxuriant and beautiful.

The remarkable number of cures of gout and rheumatism which have followed the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, point conclusively to the fact that this remedy comes nearer being the specific for complaints of this nature than any other medicine in the market.

Persons accustomed to take students or others to board, and who can provide rooms and board for delegates to the Provincial Sunday School Convention, will please write to the undersigned on or before the 19th inst., stating number they can accommodate, and terms.—W. H. GORDON, Secy.

Capt. Towers, district manager of the Richelieu & Ontario Navigation Co., has stated to a reporter that at the next meeting of the directors in Montreal a very important item was to be discussed, viz., the advisability of building a couple more steamers for the lake route. These steamers would be of the most modern design and would ply between Toronto and Prescott. The steamers at present on the route would take the passengers from there down.

On this page will be found the coupon for Part 9—which will be ready for delivery on the 16th inst.—of "Canada Portfolio of Art." This is truly a magnificent piece of work and is something that will adorn any drawing room or parlor table. You can't afford to be without it. Cut out this coupon and bring it, together with ten cents, to this office, and we will give you Part 9; or, on receipt of coupon and money, the part will be sent postpaid, to any address in the Dominion.

Catarrh—Use Nasal Balm Quick, positive cure. Soothing, cleansing, healing

SOCIAL & PERSONAL.

The INTELLIGENCER invites all its readers to contribute to this column. If you or your friends are going away on a holiday trip or if you have friends visiting you, drop a card to this office.

J. P. McBride, of the Empire, is in the city.

G. C. Marlin and wife, of Tweed are registered at the Anglo.

Miss Annie E Graham is home from Hamilton and Toronto.

Mrs. Hansford and daughter are in the city, the guests of Mrs. Roy.

Harford Ashley, who has been away on business, will return this evening.

General Booth was banquetted and presented with an address at Picton.

D. Coyle, of the Anglo-American, is confined to his room through illness.

Lord and Lady Aberdeen were addressed and feted at Edmonton and St. Albert.

Miss Mabel Moon, who has been seriously ill with the fever, is able to be out again.

Mr. Harry Wallis, formerly with L. W. Yeomans & Co., is in the city visiting his father.

Mrs. and Miss Sutherland, of Kingston, are the guests of the Misses Yeomans, Bridge St. West.

Miss Mary Yeomans, who has been visiting friends in Lindsay and Toronto for some weeks, returned home yesterday.

Mrs. J. G. Anderson, of Belleville city, and her sister, Mrs. A. F. Cole, of Brockville, returned yesterday from Paris, Ont.

Miss Blanche Pigon, of Madoc, who has been visiting Miss Cora Reid, Alexander st., returned to her home to-day.

Mrs. D. Roblin, of Belleville, is paying a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Snowdon, of the Snowdon House.—Peterboro' Examiner.

Mr R. D. Chisholm, who has been teaching all summer in Manitoba, returned home on Saturday, and left yesterday to resume his medical studies at Toronto.

The Kindergarten.

Messrs. Hugh Walker, T. Wills, Irvine Diamond, and Wm. Johnson, of the Board of Education, as requested by the Board at its last meeting, visited the Kindergarten, on John St., yesterday morning, and for nearly an hour were interested spectators of the methods of instruction imparted there. They came away impressed with the fact, that in Miss Stocking, the right person as Principal has been found, and that with assistants as enthusiastic and clever as Miss Annis, Miss F Jones, Miss Brignall, Miss M. Yeomans, and Miss Phillips, the school must be a success.

The Event of Next Week.

We are requested to say that as yet not twenty names of the delegates to the Sunday School Convention have been received. According to the circular announcing the meetings, to-day is the last day for the Secretary in Toronto to receive delegates' names; so that by Thursday a great many names should reach Belleville. To-morrow afternoon and evening the various Billeting Committees are to meet in Bridge St. church parlor and on Thursday evening in the same place. All the committees are to convene.

Y.P.A. Emmanuel Church.

The Young People's Association of this church held their annual meeting last night, the Rector in the chair. There was a large attendance, and several schemes are to be worked out during the year. All were much pleased with the bright and attractive appearance of the church and lecture room, since the alterations were made. The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Mr. Jos. Craig; Vice do., Mr. Geo. Wright. Secretary, Miss A. M. Gallagher. Treasurer, Miss Hampton. Organist, Miss Gallagher.

St. Andrew's Managers.

The managers of St. Andrew's Church met last evening, to transact some general business. A cordial resolution of thanks was passed unanimously to all the congregations and ministers of the city who had extended their sympathy and assistance during their late trouble.

A committee was appointed to procure an organ, for use during the services in the Commercial College.

Of the $10,000 required to begin the erection of the new church, $5,000 has been subscribed, and the balance, the managers think, will be forthcoming.

This Morning's Fire.

At 2:15 this morning fire was discovered in the cellar under Jas. Wilson's harness shop. The firemen were soon on the spot, and by strenuous efforts the fire was confined to where it originated. Smoke, however, considerably damaged the cigar and tobacco stock of Mrs. T. Lockerby, next door, as well as Mr. Wilson's harness and horse furnishings. How the fire originated is a mystery, as the stove in the shop above had had no fire in it since yesterday morning. The back door, which was fastened with two bolts, had been forced and it looks like the work of an incendiary. Wilson's loss covered by insurance in the Guardian. Mrs. Lockerby's loss is also covered.

Getting Ready for It.

The Sunday School rooms of Bridge St. church are this week in the hands of decorators and painters. When Mr. F. Richardson and Mr. John Cornallus and his corps of artists get through on Saturday evening the rooms will be made more attractive than ever, and will be an object lesson to the hundreds of Sunday School workers that will be here next week.

That Joyful Feeling.

With the exhilarating sense of renewed health and strength and internal cleanliness, which follows the use of Syrup of Figs, is unknown to the few who have not progressed beyond the old time medicines and the cheap substitutes sometimes offered but never excepted by the well informed.

Little Boys' Overcoats.

Does your little boy need a new overcoat? The Oak Hall is making a careful study as regards the needs of the small boys. Prices for good outside coats run $2.50, $3.00 $3.50, $4.00 and up. You will find the value at these prices better than ever before, and when you can get Sanford's clothing at the Oak Hall only. Don't forget this latter fact.

Trusses.

A large assortment of trusses of English, French and American manufacture, is carried in stock by L. W. Yeomans & Co., among which may be found those of the most modern and approved construction. All the springs are made from best steel or copper, and may be bent to the form. The prices range from one to four dollars.

Strange, but Unwelcome.

Mice were at one time numerous here, but few are now left of that destructive species of animal in this vicinity. That they have not all gone, however, was evidenced this morning by a small one being seen near Mr. Chas. Nosworthy's stables on the west side of the river, near the lower bridge.

Rubbers.

We have just received a splendid lot of Rubbers. See our ladies' and gents' rubbers with tin toe caps good quality. We have a good cheap line also.—VERMILYEA & SON.

WELCOME TO BOOTH.

The City's Address to the Great Salvation Army Leader.

Following is the address prepared for presentation on behalf of the City Corporation to the leader of the Salvation Army:

To the Rev. William Booth, General of the Salvation Army:

DEAR SIR.—On behalf of the citizens of Belleville, it affords me very great pleasure to present to you a few words of welcome on the occasion of your visit to our city.

We have heard much of your work, and believe that the great army of self-sacrificing christian soldiers under your command has done much for the amelioration of the condition of the most wretched and needy classes of society, especially in the great centres of population.

The common spirit of humanity inspires in all hearts a measure of gratitude for such services rendered to the unfortunate and the fallen; and we can assure you that all classes of our citizens are in sympathy with the great philanthropic object you have in view.

The hearts of many have been touched by the revivals that have come to us through your "Darkest England." In our land of plenty and prosperity, we can hardly realize the conditions that obtain among the poor in London and other large cities.

From the light you have shed upon these dark places, we are prompted the more earnestly to pray that you may by the Divine blessing, be more and more successful in your efforts to save men and women from poverty, pauperism and crime.

Again we bid you welcome to our beautiful city, and wish you God speed in your labor of love. Trusting that your visit may inspire us with greater interest in the cause of humanity, and may stimulate many to greater sacrifice on behalf of the poor and needy.

Signed on behalf of the citizens of Belleville,

J. E. WALMSLEY,
Mayor.
BELLEVILLE, Ont., Oct. 16th, 1894.

Orange Blossoms.

READ—WARTMAN.

OTTAWA, Oct. 16th.

St. John's church was the scene of a brilliant and happy gathering to-day, the occasion being the marriage of Hon. Robert Read, Senator, of Belleville, and Miss Mary Jane Wartman, of Eden Villa, Portsmouth, near Kingston, Ont. The impressive service of the Church of England was conducted by the Rev. Henry Pollard, rector of the church, in the presence of a select company, including Sir John and Lady Thompson, Sir Charles Hibbert and Lady Tupper, Sir Adolphe and Lady Caron, Hon. Mackenzie Bowell, Hon. N. C. Wallace, Hon. W. E. Sanford and a large number of other ladies and gentlemen. After the ceremony the bridal pair received the congratulations and good wishes of their numerous friends. They then proceeded to the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. Edward Horsey, Wellington St., where the wedding breakfast was served in recherche style. After toasts and speeches had been given the bride and bridegroom left on the 4.45 train, en route for England, where they will spend their honeymoon, returning to Canada some time in January or February next. They bear away with them the best wishes of a large circle of sincere friends.

EDITOR'S NOTE.—We add our sincere congratulations to the youthful couple, who unitedly have seen one hundred and forty two summers and winters, and who we wish may long live to enjoy the happiness of connubial bliss.

Obit.

Mr. Jno. R. Babcock, another old resident, passed peacefully away on Saturday, 13th inst., at the residence of his son-in-law, Mr. Herman Wesse, in Ameliasburg. The deceased, who was 84 years of age, was apparently in his usual health a few minutes before death claimed him.

Mrs. Stanley Welbanks, of Redneerville, daughter of Mr. J. W. Anderson, died very suddenly this morning, the 16th inst. A husband, but no family, is left to mourn her loss.

Many old friends of Mr. John Cornenay, who carried on business here as a merchant for several years, will regret to learn his death, which took place suddenly last night at his home in Toronto. Deceased, who was about seventy years of age, was much respected. He leaves a widow and several children, amongst whom are Mrs. Henry Corby and Mrs. Jas. Mackay, of this city. The afflicted relatives are tendered our sympathy in their bereavement.

A VALUABLE MINE.

The Man who Operates it Values it at $300,000.

For several weeks an American has been making experimental workings on a vein of gold-bearing rock near the old paint mine in Ezovir, and with, as it appears, bright satisfactory results; for he has gone to Buffalo to purchase machinery for working the vein. He is of opinion that the mine is worth $800,000. It is to be hoped that this will prove to be correct, as the vein has been traced across adjoining lots, in which local parties are interested, and on which the showing is as good as in the portion of the lode that has been worked.

Wedding This Afternoon.

A happy event took place this afternoon at the residence of Mr. Jas. Woodley, jr., Murray St., being the marriage of his only daughter, Gussie, to Philip A. Miller, of Milford. Rev Mr. McOamus performed the ceremony in the presence of a few intimate friends and relatives. The bride, who was handsomely attired, was supported by Miss Frankie Miller of Picton, and her cousin, Miss Genevieve Brooker, of Oshawa. The best men were Charles Meyers, of the bride's brother, and Philip Woodley. After the ceremony the company sat down to a bountiful repast.

At 3 o'clock the young couple left on the steamer Maple Leaf for Toronto and other places, where they intend spending a few days visiting the groom's friends before taking up their residence at Milford. The bride has been for a long time been an active member of Halloway st. church, being a Sunday school teacher and a valuable member of the choir.

The bride received a handsome and costly collection of presents. Her brother George, who is in Montreal, sent her a handsome silver tea pot. With their many friends we join in congratulations.

The Voters' Lists.

The number of applications filed with Judge Leslie as Revising Officer for West Hastings are as follows: Belleville, 184 Conservatives and 58 Reformers; Tronton, 63 Conservatives, and 7 Reformers; Sidney 26 Conservatives and no Reformers. Total 223 Conservatives against 64 Reformers.

In East Hastings the Conservatives added about 630 names, Patrons, 20 Reformers, 15.

PROBABILITIES.

TORONTO, Oct. 16th.—Increasing fresh to west winds; mostly fair and milder; light local showers.

Correspondence.

Whilst correspondence will be accorded space for the expression of their ideas on topics of public interest, it must be in all cases understood that the views so expressed are simply those of the correspondents themselves.

To the Editor of the Intelligencer.

SIR:—In answer to Mr. Wm. Anderson's letter of the 8th inst., in which he says my statements are false and untrue, and wishes to create a false impression, I simply wish to say that I can prove my statements to be true, and the only impression I wish to create is to show Mr. Anderson up in his true colors. The evidence which I produced in court proved that the harness was left on the horse which kicked me, night and day for a week or more, because Andersons were afraid to take it off. My wages, which Mr. Anderson says was taken by the court, was the yearly sum, about $14, my wages for the year being $220 (the debt was not an honest one, it being one which my brother got me into. Mr Anderson says he will say that he would not pay me until I sued him, then he paid my wages over to my solicitor, all but $8, which he has got yet. I can also prove that Mr. Anderson's son, Geo. W. Anderson, did come to me and say his father's orders were for me to leave his house, when I was on my bed of sickness, from the effects of his vicious horse kicking me; so if Mr. Anderson never authorized his son to tell me leave his house, his son told a falsehood in saying so. Mr. W. Anderson, let Andersons prove themselves clear or else swallow the pill.

I am, sir, very truly yours,
EDWARD MCCULLOUGH
MOUNTAIN VIEW, Oct. 16 th, 1894.

ATTEMPTED MURDER

In Napanee—The Criminal Still at Large —Great Excitement.

NAPANEE, Oct. 14.—Never since the 14th of September, 1893, when Angus McLeod was shot dead in his own house by a daring burglar, has Napanee been in such a furore of excitement as it was on Saturday evening last when the news rapidly spread that George Gordon, clerk in Radford & Son's men's furnishing establishment, had been stabbed while protecting his employer's goods from a bold thief. The daring, and almost successful, attempt at robbery and murder, occurred between the hours of 6 and 7 p.m., when most of the residents were at their supper and the streets were almost deserted. Young Gordon was alone in the store at the time, Mr. Radford having gone home to tea, when he saw a tall man, fairly well dressed, with a board of about a week's growth, and a black moustache, enter the back door of the store, seize an expensive overcoat and make off. The clerk made a rush for him and caught the overcoat just as the man was going through the back door. The thief struck Gordon above the left eye with his fist, knocking him down, but he still pluckily clung to the overcoat. The rascal perceiving that his plans were about to be frustrated, picked up a knife that was lying on a table close by and as Gordon was attempting to rise drove it to the hilt in his left breast. He then dropped the knife and decamped without the coat. Gordon had strength enough left to stagger into Haines & Lockett's store and acquaint George Thompson with the circumstances and he and Fred Maybee quickly gave the alarm. The assailant is still at liberty, although the police are making strenuous efforts to discover his whereabouts. The weapon was used in the store as a shirt knife and to its particular construction young Gordon owes his life. The blade of the knife is about 6 inches long, but by pressing a spring it can be shoved up into the handle until only about 2 inches of the blade is visible. Fortunately the blade was in the handle when Gordon was attacked. The villain evidently struck with full force and intent to kill, as not only the blade but the handle was driven into the young man's breast. George Gordon is delicately constituted and but recently underwent an operation at the Kingston General Hospital for an abscess. Although under ordinary circumstances the wound would not be considered dangerous, in the present state of his health it may have a fatal result. Dr. Leonard, who dressed the wound and is in attendance on the young man, says, however, that if no unforeseen complication arises there is no fear of Gordon's death, although he may be laid up for a long time. For over two hours after the occurrence hundreds of people were congregated in front of Radford & Son's store and it was almost an impossibility to push one's way through the crowd. About half an hour after the outrage had been perpetrated a suspicious character was lodged in the Police station by Chief Storms, but as he does not answer to the description given by young Gordon of his assailant, he was allowed to go this morning. The people are very indignant at the rascal's escape. As in the McLeod murder case, the criminal is still at large, and no hopes are entertained that he will be captured. For the past month or so the town has been fairly overrun with tramps of a very impudent and villainous stamp.

THEY KILLED A BEAR.

Two Young Farmers of Rawdon Give the "Happy Despatch" to an Ursine Intruder.

On Friday last, Archie Haslett, of the 12th con. Rawdon, near the Diamond Crossing, saw a large black animal in the orchard. He at first thought it was a big black dog, but as dogs do not climb up and eat apples from trees as this one did, he began to realize that it was a bear. So calling to a young friend, William Webb, the two went to the orchard and the bear ran across two fields to a small clump, closely pursued by the young men. Haslett, who carried a six tined fork, drove it into the beast's neck and there left it until Webb slay'd the brute with blows of an axe on the head. The bear weighed 200 lbs. Its slayers found it a heavy burden to drag to Mr. Haslett's.

Mr. Parker's Opinion.

Mr. Gilbert Parker, our Canadian novelist, in an article in the New Review, says that colonial women are half a century behind the troubled ladies of London—in nerves and ennui and morbidness. The air and life of the average London drawing-room is, he says, enormous, its real ignorance so vivid that it is pungent.

Suffered for Twelve Years.

Oracle, (formerly Enterprise,) Tipton County, Ind.

WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, Buffalo, N.Y.:

Gentlemen—A heart overflowing with gratitude prompts me, to write you. Twelve long weary years I suffered greatly, from Uterine Derangement and at last was given up by my physicians to die, besides spending almost all we had. After five months' treatment with your Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription, I now enjoy most excellent health. I would, to day, have been in my grave, and my little children motherless, but it not been for you and your medicine. I will recommend your medicine as long as I live.

If any one doubts this, give my name and address.

Yours sincerely,
Mrs. MALVINA WILSON.

MRS. WILSON AND CHILD.

THE MORTON CASE.

Three Witnesses Examined and the Case Adjourned.

The case of Mrs W. A. Morton against her husband for desertion and non support was called in the police court this morning. Mrs. Morton was the first witness called and she testified that her husband had not supported her nor her child since their marriage. She had heard that he was working in Oshawa. Mrs. Morton's mother also gave evidence substantiating that of her daughter. Mr. Geo. Grass, brother in law of the prisoner, was called and swore that Morton had told him that he was not earning any more than enough to pay his board while in the G. T. R. shops here last winter, and that he had told him since that he was not able to start house keeping. As this juncture the case was enlarged for a week to give the prosecution an opportunity to summons more witnesses.

A VALUABLE DISCOVERY.

A Boon For All Infants.

Lactated Food Baby's Protecter and Mother's Comfort.

As far as babies are concerned, time and science have contributed much for their comfort and health.

The greatest boon of science for the infant is Lactated Food, a highly nutritious form of diet containing all the principal elements of pure and healthy breast milk.

Lactated Food, thoroughly well known to thousands of mothers in Canada, takes precedence of all other forms of prepared foods. Its purity, strengthening powers, its adaptability for weak digestion and its non-irritating qualities are well known to physicians who prescribe it every day.

Babies properly and regularly fed on Lactated Food are always secure from such ills as cholera infantum, dysentery, diarrhoea and bowel consumption. In a word, Lactated Food "Saves babies' lives," when all other foods fail. Try it, mothers, the results will delight you.

A Prominent Lawyer Says:

"I have eight children, everyone in good health, not one of whom but has taken Scott's Emulsion, in which my wife has boundless confidence."

YOUR . NEW . . DRESS—

What shall it be made up of?

Perhaps you'd like to choose it from some of those beautiful Scotch mixtures we're showing in a variety of prices! They're very nobby and just the fashion now.

—OR—

You will find a large assortment of plainer waves in our dress department. Ladies always like to make choice from a large assortment. That's one reason why they come here.

WE MAKE DRESSES!

Both our Miss Craig and Mrs. McLean have been to New York this season. They still be pleased to offer any ideas or suggestions as to making costumes free.

If you should decide to leave your gown with us to be made, you will find the prices very moderate indeed.

GEO. RITCHIE & CO.

A new lot of.... "Health Brand" underwear just.. received.....

Changed Daily.

TUESDAY, Oct. 19 h, 1894.

HEAT . . . WILL NOT BREAK . . . THEM

Those Quaker Flint Lamp Chimneys we are selling. So a lady informed us Saturday evening, said they were the only kind she found that "heat will not break."

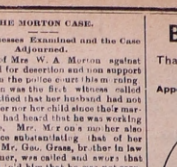

Medium Size, 5c.
Large Size, 7c.

Stroud's
TEA STORE.

Broken in Health

That Tired Feeling, Constipation and Pain in the Back

Appetite and Health Restored by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Mr. Chas. Steele
St. Catherine's, Ont.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"For a number of years I have been troubled with a general tired feeling, shortness of breath, pain in the back, and constipation. I could get only little rest at night on account of the pain and had no appetite whatever. I was that tired in my limbs that I gave out before half the day was gone. I tried a great number of medicines but did not get any permanent relief from any

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

source until, upon recommendation of a friend, I purchased a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, which made me feel better at once. I have continued its use, having taken three bottles, and

I Feel Like a New Man.

I have a good appetite, feel as strong as ever I did, and enjoy perfect rest at night. I have much pleasure in recommending Hood's Sarsaparilla." CHARLES STEELE, with Erie Trimming Co., St. Catherine's, Ontario.

Hood's Pills are prompt and efficient, yet easy in action. Sold by all druggists. 25c.

= SILKS =

We have in stock a full line of the

Corticelli Embroidery and Knitting Silks

—IN—

Honiton Lace Emb'y Silk.
Outline do do
Knitting Silk,
Twist Embroidery,
Roman Floss,
Filo Floss.

—ALSO—

27 INCH PURE JAPANESE SILK IN

LIGHT BLUE,
CREAM,
ROSE PINK,
CORAL PINK,
BUTTERCUP,
CARDINAL,

BLACK = SILKS!

In all the leading makes.

J. P. THOMPSON & CO.

A GOOD, WARM, CHEERFUL FIRE!

Will soon be in order as the cold weather is rapidly approaching

SO . . . . . .

. . . Do not Lose any Time

In ordering your supply of

Telephone C 68. Coal and Wood

. . . FROM . . .

S. A. LAZIER & SON'S.

The Leading Coal and Wood Merchants.

HOW NICE . . .

—AND—

. . . SO CHEAP

This expression was heard on all sides by our hundreds of patrons who visited us last Saturday.

No wonder such prices and novelties, one cannot resist the temptation of letting the purse strings loose.

No wonder when you can buy goods for almost one half the former price. This store introduced CUT PRICES and intend to keep it up.

No fancy or private mark, but in plain figures are all our goods marked. These are a few of the bargains we offer you this week:

5 Cases Flannelett, dark, pretty patterns, 28 in. worth 9c.. .. .. 7c
3 do Grey Flannel, worth 20c.. .. .. 15c
2 do do do all wool, worth 25c.. .. .. 18c

A thousand different bargains in every department which space will not permit us to mention. Call and convince yourself.

H. A. LAYTON, BELLEVILLE.
Front St., Opposite Campbell St.

SOME HINTS!

Upon the Uses of Wall and Ceiling Paper.

1. The better grades of paper last longer, are easier to hang and can be purchased at but slight advance in cost over the poorer grades.

2. Whatever may be your calculations for less than ceiling papers and add nothing to the appearance of the room, in fact they more often destroy the harmony To think of furnishing all the rest of your room (the floor even, which you deliberately trample upon) and leave the most important (little and ugly) without a particle of furnishing or character, except that of cleanliness, is beyond comprehension. Your upper wall and ceiling are the only unbroken decorative feature of a room. Furnishing from the view of the lower wall and it is still further obscured by the hanging of pictures upon it; therefore let special attention be paid to the selection of wide border that shall be in harmony with wall and ceiling, and of ceiling that fittingly completes the beauty of the room

3. Narrow borders are sufficient, if your aim is only to conceal the ragged ends of paper, but a wide border or frieze serves to heighten the appearance of a room and gives it a more artistic finish—makes it appear as if frescoed.

4. In making your selections, if the room has a north window, let some warmth appear in the paper. If the exposure is south or west, cooler shades can be appropriately used. For Dining-rooms let the walls be mellow in tone, indicative of hospitality.

Parlors can be treated according to individual taste, care being used to have wall and ceiling decorations in harmony with carpets and furniture.

Use for sleeping rooms, light ground papers with a spice of color in the pattern. Floral decorations are most in favor for such purposes.

5. Whatever may be the room or rooms that you are about to paper, don't forget that the better qualities of paper will retain their lustre long after cheaper grades have become dull and colorless.

6. Ten per cent. discount now.

TEN Per Cent Discount Now.

CHAS. B. SCANTLEBURY.

24TH — YEAR.

Our Novelties in . . .

Fur Capes and Jackets

Are the talk of the City, and our Goods are

The reason for this is we have the

FIRST CLASS! RIGHT STYLES AND PR.CES

And our Furs are quite different from any other house in the City.

S. A. HYMAN.
Manufacturing Furrier.

Old Furs of all kinds cleaned, dyed and made over.

Bay of Quinte Steamb't Route

TRI-WEEKLY

DESER'TO, PICTON & KINGSTON

1894 - 1894

STR. "HERO"

THIS favorite steamer is now lighted by electricity and will have a strong search light for evening business and the boat is heated by steam.

Commencing Monday, April 9th, will leave Belleville Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 6 a.m. returning Tuesday, Thursday and Friday at 11 p.m.

The very best facilities are offered to shippers of freight. The lowest through and local rates quoted.

No wharfage at Picton on freight for this steamer.

Full information given by Gilbert Johnston on board, or to the

RATHBUN COM'Y,
H. GILDERSLEEVE, Ticket Agent.
Kingston.

ROCHESTER.

STEAMER

NORTH KING.

Leaves for Charlotte, N. Y., every Sunday, 11:45 p.m.

Leaves for Picton and Kingston every Sunday, 3:30 a.m.

Arrive from Picton and Kingston every Sunday, 11:45 p.m.

Arrives from Charlotte, N. Y., every Sunday, 3:30 a.m.

Special attention given to passengers and freight.

WEEK DAYS.—Steamer leaves Port Hope week days for Charlotte, N. Y., at 9:45 a.m.

Calls at Brighton Monday 2 a.m., and Wednesday 2:30 a.m., and at Colborne Wednesday and Fridays 4 a.m.

Connection made by Grand Trunk morning train.

THE RATHBUN CO., Agents. U. E. THOMPSON, Agent.
434f

HAMILTON,

TORONTO AND MONTREAL,

Via Bay of Quinte, Calling at all Ports Weekly.

THE FAVORITE STEAMER

"MAGNET"

Leaves St. Catharines Tuesday 9 a. m. Toronto " 4 p. m.
Leaves Belleville for Montreal } Wednesday 7:30 a m
Leaves Belleville for Toronto } Sunday 8 p. m.

First Class Passenger Accommodation. Large Freight Capacity. Lowest Rates

For Tickets, Rates, &c., Apply to the RATHBUN COMPANY, Agents, or to

CAPT. J. J. TOWERS, Superintendent, No. 2 King st., Toronto.
C. F. GILDERSLEEVE, General Manager, 228 St. Paul st., Montreal.

Steamer "Iona"

Will eave Belleville three times each week for Oswego, connecting with trains for New York

INSURANCE.

Western Assurance Company,

Fire and Marine Head Office, Toronto.

North British & Mercantile Ins. Co.,

Fire and Life, Head Office (Can.) Montreal

Atlas Insurance Company,

Fire, Head Office (Canada), Montreal

M. M. THOMPSON

Water Water Office, Bridge St.

REMOVAL

MR. JOSEPH CALDWELL, DENTIST

Has removed his office to the new premises which he has had specially fitted up in the

Caldwell Block,

First door south of the Anglo American Hotel Front street.
1081

Daily Intelligencer.

At Death's Door—Dyspepsia Conquered —A Great Medical Triumph.

GENTLEMEN,—My medical adviser and others told me I could not possibly live when I commenced to use Northrop & Lyman's VEGETABLE DISCOVERY for Dyspepsia. My case was one of the worst of its kind. For three years I could not eat meat and my weight decreased from 212 to 119 lbs. All the food I took for thirteen months previous to taking the VEGETABLE DISCOVERY consisted of milk. I am now entirely cured and have regained my usual weight. can eat anything with a keen relish and feel like a new man. I have sold over thirty dozen VEGETABLE DISCOVERY since it cured me, as I am well known, and people in this section know how low I was, and thought I could not possibly be cured. They are eager to try this grand medicine. It certainly saved my life, as I never expected to recover when first I commenced using it. I am not exaggerating anything but feel glad to be able to contribute this testimonial and trust it may be the means of convincing others of its merits as a reliable cure for Dyspepsia.

Signed JEAN VALCOURT,
Wotton, P. Q.

In 1888 the people of Great Britain paid taxes on 492 200 carriages.

Is there anything more annoying than having your corn stepped upon? Is there anything more delightful than getting rid of it? Holloway's Corn Cure will do it. Try it and be convinced.

In Portugal the tobacco tax brings £900,000, the land tax £700,000.

Some people laugh to show their pretty teeth. The use of Ivory White Tooth Powder makes people laugh more than ever. It's so nice. Price 25c. Sold by druggists.

Worms cause feverishness, moaning and restlessness during sleep. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator is pleasant, sure and effectual. If your druggist has none in stock, get him to procure it for you

The rate of taxation has nearly quadrupled in France since 1830.

DYSPEPSIA, causes dizziness, headache, constipation, variable appetite, rising and souring of food, palpitation of the heart, distress after eating. Burdock Blood Bitters is guaranteed to cure Dyspepsia if faithfully used according to directions.

Until about forty years ago, the Persian Government levied a tax on cats.

MR. T. J. HOMES, Columbus, Ohio, writes: "I have been afflicted for some time with kidney and Liver Complaint, and find Parmalee's Pills the best medicine for those diseases These Pills do not cause pain or griping, and should be used when a cathartic is required. They are Gelatine Coat'd, and rolled in the Flour of Licorice to preserve their purity and give them a pleasant, agreeable taste.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP cures Bronchitis.

FOR CHOLERA MORBUS, Cholera Infantum Cramps, Colic, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, and Summer Complaint Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is a prompt, safe and sure cure that has been a popular favorite for over 40 years.

PETTYJOHN'S

CALIFORNIA BREAKFAST FOOD

Dyspeptics can eat this food.

It is particularly adapted for children and persons of sedentary habits.

It is made from Pacific coast wheat hulled and crushed by improved machinery.

It can be easily prepared for breakfast, as the crushing process makes it soft and tender and easy to cook.

Ask your physician which is best for you to eat, oats or wheat.

Pettijohn's California Breakfast Food is sold in packages by

BENMORE & BENSON.

STEAMER VARUNA

A. HICKS, Captain.

WILL leave Trenton every morning, (Sunday excepted) at 7:00 o'clock, calling at Redeerville and all points between the head of the bay and Picton, leaving Belleville at 8:30 a.m., Deseronto at 10:30 a.m.

On Tuesday and Thursday evenings to meet North King at Brighton, returning will leave Brighton Wednesday and Saturday mornings at 6 o'clock.

Will connect at Picton [with stage for Sand Banks.

Parties wishing to arrange for excursion rates will see Capt. Hicks on board.

Will leave Picton at 1 p.m. on return for the head of the bay, Deseronto 2:30 p.m., Belleville, at 4:30 p.m., and Trenton, at 5.

Omnibuses in waiting at Picton, Belleville and Brighton.

The Rathbun Co., Agents, Belleville and Deseronto.

A. W. Hepburn, Agent, P. ton.

ROCHESTER,

KINGSTON AND MONTREAL

Weekly Service Calling at Way Ports

THE PEOPLE'S FAVORITE STEAMER.

"ALEXANDRIA"

Leaves Montreal, Thursday at 10:00 a.m.
Arrives Belleville, Saturday at 11:45 a.m.
Leaves for Rochester " 1:15 p.m.
Arrives from Rochester, Monday at 6:30 a.m.
Leaves for Montreal, " 7:30 a.m.

Spacious and elegant Saloon. Ample Stateroom accommodation. The choicest and best Meals furnished. Safety, comfort and enjoyment ensured by personal supervision of Capt. Smith and Purser Melrose. Careful handling of freight.

For Tickets, State rooms at lowest rates apply to

THE RATHBUN COMPANY, Agents.

THE KISS OF GOLD.

By KATE JORDAN.

[Copyright, 1894, by J. B. Lippincott Company and published by special arrangement with them.]

"Fools, wronged dead men. They cannot all come back as I have done. But unfortunately for you," he said, with a slight curl of his lip, "I was not dead. I came here three times in the summer following. The place seemed shut up. The rest of the time I have spent in a hospital. Facing death and eternity, I forgot life, I forgot you. God has cursed me for many years, and I never best to the rod. And now, when I had thought the long, bitter day was to end in storm and darkness, there is a promise of a new dawn."

"You mean?"—and the words were a terrified breath on Tom's lips.

"What can I mean but that you are to give me my play?" he cried.

"I can't. Don't you see that it is impossible—now?" The prayer had gone from Tom's voice. It was dogged, desperate. "I'll give you every penny I get for it, but my name must stand as its author. To acknowledge your rights would be confessing my theft. That I refuse to do. It would mean social disgrace. Do you understand?"

Dawson's face was terrible in its scorn. "Money won't content me."

"See here. I could have denied your right to this play—lied to your teeth. But I didn't. Face to face in this silent room I have been honest with you. I would undo it all if I could, God knows how readily." He paused, and his voice, though quiet, was like the strokes of steel upon steel. "But before the world it will be different. If you have no mercy on my position, I'll have none on you. I will swear if need be that the play is mine from the first word to the last. I tell you it will be an unequal struggle, and I will win. Cranks and blackmailers abound in New York. You will be classed among them and be forgotten. You'd better accept my terms. Think again. Take the money. I'll be glad to give it to you. But the play must remain mine. It is too late for anything else. Don't you see? Can't you see?"

Dawson seemed scarcely to listen to him. He was looking past him, a faint, dreamy smile upon his pale lips.

"That's your view of the situation. Now hear mine. I've been trying for 15 years to touch success. I've always just missed it. I made my last throw when I wrote 'Dr. Fleming' and it won. Money? Do you think money will make up for the loss of the thing most precious to me? Deny me as you will; I'll take my chances. You've robbed me of what I have. That play was friend and sweetheart, fire and food, to me for a year. It is part of me. All I have hoped and suffered appears in its lines like a reflection in a glass. Oh, yes, I'll have it back."

He walked to the door, the bluish dusk shading his white, earnest, clear cut face, and plotting him with mystery.

Long after he was gone Tom stood listening to the splashing of the rain. His brain was afire with questions.

Dawson would accuse him, but it would amount to nothing: he would be thought a man driven frantic by misfortune. But the money—that was a different matter and an unpleasant one. He would never put another penny of the play's payments to his own use. They must be saved for Felix Dawson—saved secretly—and some day he might be induced to accept them. This meant sudden poverty for himself and might excite curiosity. He could say he was paying his debts, or some of the speculations recently indulged in might be fortunate. He was not afraid. He felt secure.

Coffee and liquors were on the table when Delatole rushed in.

"Pass over the absinthe, Tom," he said, with a smile and a comfortable kind of shiver. "God, this room looks cozy after the rain. Hear it, splashing in bucketfuls. I had to go to Emerson's and have a bite with him—listened to nothing but praises of you from the soup until I broke away before dessert. He says you're a genius. But that's nothing new. Haven't I always said you stood alone? This last play settles the point beyond dispute. The Russian colony is admirable! How the dence you caught it I can't tell, when you never had your nose in Russia. But who can explain the vagaries of genius? When you wrote that play, Tom, you prepared a delight for posterity."

Ah, it was to hear words like these that Felix Dawson demanded what he created. Money, after all, was the smallest part of the triumph. Tom roused himself and found Delatole smiling at him in his most engaging way. His smiles were usually very expensive dainties and augured frowns for somebody else.

"Do you know, Tom," and his black eyes sparkled as he looked down at the opalescent liquor swaying under the movement of his fingers, "the time has come when you can do me a favor"

"Can I indeed?"

"You don't seem overjoyed," he said in a purring tone. "Look here. I know we've had a few small differences, but can any two people of marked individuality live together in a state of unruffled peace? Tom, give me your hand."

"Oh, yes, I'll have it back."

Don't be mawkish. Come to the point. You want something. What is it?"

"Why, you're positively brutal, you uncompromising young dog" said Delatole, with a laugh, and then leaned confidingly on his arm, something terrier like in the intensified sharpness of his face, "but how good I know you'll be by me, now that you are a Croesus again. I'm tired working for The Challenge. The pay, large as it seems, is beastly small for all I do. Emerson is anxious to sell The Morning Cry, and I want to buy it. Whew! What a chance for me. I'd make it yell. Why, I'd be rich in a year. Now, if I can only pay him a third of the required amount down, it's mine. I want you, Murray, to lend it to me."

It was triumph that flickered deeply in Tom's level glance. How often in his reckless moments this voice had sharply prodded him that now, sunk to a caressing tone, asked help of him!

"Quite impossible, my dear Delatole," he said promptly, with a shrug. "I need every penny just now."

"You're jesting." And Delatole grew visibly pale. "What is your pressing need, pray?"

(To be Continued.)

THE MURDER OF GIBBS.

Mrs. Robinson Makes a Full Confession of the Crime.

BUFFALO, Oct. 16.—District Attorney Knefick has returned from Cleveland with the written confession of Clarence Robinson, the murderer of Montgomery Gibbs. Mrs. Robinson made a confession last evening. Here is the substance of it:

"Shortly after our wedding Robinson and I went to Mount Vernon, Ohio, to live. Soon after our arrival there some show people came along and induced my husband to put into the show $1,000 of the $3,000 he had. We went on the road and finally went broke at Jamestown, N.Y. Then we came to Buffalo. On Saturday night, April 7, we did not have a cent and my husband proposed that we go out and hold up somebody to get some money. I dressed in men's clothes and we took revolvers and started out. Gibbs was the first well-dressed man we met.

"When Robinson ordered Gibbs to hold up his hands Gibbs struck out viciously with his right hand. Robinson fired his revolver within a foot of his head. Gibbs fell down on the walk and my husband shot him again, striking him in the arm. Then we made our way to our room on Eagle street.

"Next morning while we were in bed we heard the boys crying, 'All about the murder,' and my husband said, 'That's a good thing. He can't tell who did it.' The next day we left Buffalo for Cleveland.

"The story of the murder got out through my husband's sister. I was talking with her one day and she said something about my reputation not being good. I was angry and I said to her, 'Well, your brother didn't think so when he married me.' She reported what I had said to the Cleveland police and this set them working on the case."

Both Mr. and Mrs. Robinson will be put on trial for murder.

Robinson is in a pitiable condition and fears are entertained that he will lose his reason. The unfortunate man will be guarded day and night to prevent suicide. It is generally says that he will plead guilty to murder in the first degree as he has no desire to live. His family has been notified against his wishes.

ELECTIONS IN BELGIUM.

Socialists Win a Number of Seats—A Catholic Club Stoned.

BRUSSELS, Oct. 16.—The result of the Belgian elections, as far as known, are that 41 Clericals and 25 Liberals had been elected to the Senate and 75 Clericals, 9 Liberals and 6 Socialists had been elected to the Chamber. The results in 15 districts are expected to be favorable to the Socialists. Re-ballots will be necessary in 44 Senate and 19 Chamber constituencies. Several thousand Socialists paraded the streets last evening with bands playing the "Marseillaise."

The Clericals numbered 93 in the old chamber. So far they have lost 10 and gained 8 seats. The Liberals had 59 seats in the old chamber and have lost 24 and gained 7. The Socialists, who previously had no seats, score every constituency won by them as a clear gain. In the Senatorial contests the Clericals have won 10 Liberal seats.

Socialists stoned the windows of the Catholic club in Mons last evening. There was a great uproar but nobody was injured.

FROM THE SEAT OF WAR.

China Takes the Foreigners Under its Protection—The Fight Will Go On.

LONDON, Sept. 16.—The Times has this despatch from its Tien-Tsin correspondent: "In an imperial edict issued from Pekin the government assumes full responsibility for the protection of foreigners and denounces rowdyism. It orders the punishment of several culprits who assaulted travellers and assures strangers that their persons and property will be protected. It especially favors the missionaries."

"Japan having rejected China's peace overtures without a hearing the war will now enter upon a chronic stage demanding an appeal to the latent forces of China. If the government is prepared, although reluctant to engage in a protracted conflict. The party in power recognize, however, the urgency of radical military and fiscal reforms. There is danger of a revolution, which might be followed by prolonged anarchy."

Deseronto Navigation Company (Limited

Steamer Ella Ross.

This fast sailing and comfortable steamer leaves Belleville for Trenton daily (Sunday excepted), at 10 a.m. Leaves Belleville for Deseronto and Picton at 3 p.m., connecting at Deseronto with steamers for Napanee and Oswego. Lowest freight and passenger rates. For further information apply to the Rathbun Co., Bridge street, or to R. O. Carter, General Manager Deseronto.

Catarrh—Use Nasal Balm Quick, positive cure. Soothing, cleansing, healing

NORWAY PINE SYRUP cures Coughs.

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry cures Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cramps, Colic, Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum, and all looseness of the bowels. Never travel without it. Price 35c.

In parts of Peru taxes are paid in cocoa leaves and Peruvian bark.

For coughs, colds, bronchitis and all lung and throat troubles, there is no preparation of medicine can compare with Hickie's Anti-Consumptive Syrup. It never fails to afford prompt and permanent relief. It removes all soreness, and heals the diseased parts. It immediately soothes the most troublesome cough, and by promoting expectoration, removes the mucus which clogs up the air tubes when a cough or cold is breaking, thereby gives relief to that depressing tight mess experienced in the chest. Public speakers and singers will find Hickie's Anti-Consumptive Syrup of inestimable value, as it speedily and effectually allays all irritation, and banishment in the throat and bronchial tubes, and gives power to the vocal cords, rendering the voice clear and sonorous If parents wish to save the lives of their children, and themselves from much anxiety trouble and expense let them procure a bottle of Hickie's Anti-Consumptive Syrup, and whenever a child has taken cold, has a cough or hoarseness, give the Syrup according to directions.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP heals the lungs.

A stinted wife can find a vest pocket in the dark.

Ample warning is given us by our lungs when they are in danger. If foolhardy enough to neglect the warning signal, we incur imminent peril. Check a cough at the outset with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil—which is a sovereign panacea—besides being a remedy for soreness, lameness, abrasions of the skin, tumors, piles, rheumatism, etc.

BURDOCK PILLS, small, safe, and sure, regulate the liver and cure constipation.

Robert Lubbork, Cedar Rapids, writes: "I have used Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil both for myself and family for Diphtheria with the very best results. I regard it as the best remedy for this disease, and would use no other.

Holland is the only country in Europe that admits coffee free of duty.

DYSPEPSIA arises from wrong action of stomach, liver and bowels. Burdock Blood Bitters cures Dyspepsia and all diseases arising from it, 99 times in 100.

DOCTORS DIFFER

Occasionally, but never on the question of

"HEALTH BRAND"

Combinations being absolutely the best thing for women and children to wear.

Every first-class dry goods house keeps them. Look for the word "Health" on silk label at neck.

Buy no imitations.

THE MONTREAL SILK MILLS CO., Ltd.
MONTREAL.

Severe Pain in Shoulder 2 Years Cured by "The D. & L." Menthol Plaster.

My wife was efficient for two years with a severe pain under the left shoulder and through to the heart; after using many remedies without relief, she tried a "D. & L." Menthol Plaster, it did its work, and owing to this cure hundreds of these plasters have been sold by me here, giving equal satisfaction.

J. B. SUTHERLAND Druggist, River John, N.S.

Sold Everywhere, 25c. each

Floor Oil Cloths...

We have now in stock, FLOOR OIL CLOTHS up to 24 ft. wide

....FOR STOVES!

- - ALSO A LINE - -

ENGLISH OIL CLOTHS

Suitable for under Stoves at 30c. sq. yd.

NATHAN JONES.

WALLBRIDGE & CLARKE

Grocers and Wine Merchants,

33 and 37 Bridge Street, Also Front Street, in Caldwell Building.

LISTEN FRIENDS!!

We SAY because we KNOW!

Our COAL This Season is unexcelled for quality because the Bill of Lading bears the Brand of the Delaware & Hudson Canal Company.

Cut this out and test this "Ad" when the Winter Winds whistle.

THE RATHBUN COMPANY.

ONTARIO MUTUAL LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY.

S. Burrows, Esq., General Agent, Ontario Mutual Life Co., Belleville, Ont.

DEAR SIR, Received your company's check for $2,000 for our Matured Endowment, and we both wish to show our gratitude to you and the Company for the straightforward and satisfactory way you deal with policy holders, and that we are more than satisfied with our investment. I will always urge our friends to follow in our footsteps. Thanking you very kindly.

Yours very sincerely,
Mr. & Mrs. GOODWIN, Bowmanville,
Formerly of Belleville.

The Sale of Boots and Shoes:

Slightly damaged by Smoke and Water will continue until everything is sold.

HAINES & LOCKETT

Opposite Anglo-American Hotel

Belleville and Napanee, Office, Bridge St. Telephone A. 4.

COAL - AND - WOOD.

THOS. STEWART,

The only dealer in Scranton Coal in Belleville and Napanee. The very best facilities for delivering to any part of the city or surrounding towns this coal, which is the best and cheapest mined.

No Gas. No Clinkers. No Waste

Clean, quick, hot, strong, cheerful fire. Smithing, Cannell, Brier Hill, Run of Mine coal and Coal Screenings always on hand. Hard and soft wood, Blocks and Edgings delivered to any part of the City.

TO THE PUBLIC.

When we decided to add the manufacture of carriages, phaetons, democrats, &c., to our business, we immediately put under construction a few of each. As we decided to place no vehicle on the market which is not A 1 in in every detail, and knowing that no first class vehicle can be produced on the rush, it has been necessary for us to take sufficient time to produce what we aimed at. We think we have succeeded; and we now have a few rigs completed, and others nearing completion to offer for sale. The iron work is all hand forged; the wood work carefully made, and strongly ironed; and the painting and upholstering done with the best material and greatest care. We can freely recommend these rigs. We will be pleased to have parties who may need anything in the above line, call and inspect our work.

ST. CHARLES & PRINGLE

JAS ST CHARLES. - - - HENRY PRINGLE

Camping Supplies!

—AND—

Picnic - Requisites!

Our list of articles suitable for Picnic Lunches and Camping includes:

Canned Meats.

ARMOUR'S COOKED BEEF,
ARMOUR'S OX TONGUES,
ARMOUR'S LUNCH TONGUES,
ARMOUR'S POTTED HAM,
ARMOUR'S COOKED PIG FEET
ARMOUR'S LUNCHEON MEAT.
ARMOUR'S POTTED TONGUE
ARMOUR'S BRAWN.
SANDWICH MEATS,
BONELESS CHICKEN
BONELESS TURKEY,
POTTED BEEF,
POTTED GAME
ETC.! ETC.! ETC!

Canned Fish.

FINEST SARDINES IN OIL,
FINEST SARDINES IN TOMATO,
HERRINGS IN TOMATO SAUCE,
KIPPERED HERRINGS,
FRESH HERRINGS,
SALMON, LOBSTERS,
FINNAN HADDIES,
BLOATER PASTE,
ANCHOVY PASTE,
SARDINE PASTE,
ETC! ETC.! ETC.!!!

Sundries.

Condensed Milk in Tins, Cream in Tins, Biscuits (in great variety), Fine old (brew) McLaren's Imperial Cheese (in small cracks). Dried Beef, Choice Hams and Bacon, Lime Juice, Spanish Olives, CROSSE & BLACKWELL'S Pickled White Onions, Walnuts. Chow Chow, and and Mixed Pickles.

Before putting up your STOVES have the

TRIMMINGS RE-PLATED

— AT THE —

BELLEVILLE PLATING WORKS

HARRIS & WALTON'S FACTORY MILL ST.

RIBBONS!

We have an extra large stock of Ribbons on hand in all the light and fancy shades including

BABY RIBBONS,
SILK " "
SATIN " "
MOIRE " "
ETC., - ETC.

Our prices are the lowest, and we will be pleased to have you give us a call whenever wanting Ribbons.

SILK ELASTICS....

We have a splendid stock of Fancy Silk Elastic, made in Yellow, Blue, Green, Orange, Cardinal, Black, Pink, Mauve, White All one price, 25c and 35c at

THE BEEHIVE

CHAS. N. SULMAN

ALLAN LINE,

Royal Mail Steamships. Liverpool, Calling at Moville.

	From Montreal	From Quebec
PARISIAN	Oct. 6	Oct. 7
MONGOLIAN	" 13	" 14
HIBERNIAN	" 20
LAURENTIAN	" 27	" 28
NUMIDIAN	Nov. 3	Nov. 3
PARISIAN	" 10	" 11

RATES OF PASSAGE.

First cabin Derry and Liverpool, $45 and upwards single; $90 and upwards return. Second cabin, Liverpool, Derry, Belfast, Glasgow, $30; return $55. Steerage at lowest rates (everything found).

All steamships except the Parisian carry 1st cabin, 2nd cabin and steerage passengers.

STATE LINE SERVICE
NEW YORK, LONDONDERRY AND GLASGOW.

STATE OF NEBRASKA..... Oct. 12
STATE OF CALIFORNIA..... " 19
STATE OF NEBRASKA..... Nov. 22

Cabin passage, $40 and upward, return $80 and upward. Second cabin $25. Steerage at lowest rates.

For tickets and other information apply to U. E. THOMPSON
General Ticket Agency,
Bridge St., Belleville
or to S. BURROWS
Agent!

TELLIGENCER PRINTING AND PUBLISHING COMPANY (LIMITED).

J. O. JAMIESON, President. | J. W. LONDON, Secretary

THE Treasurer is the only person authorized to receive money from the Company, or to grant receipts for the same.

All Bills, Notes, Cheques and other documents binding on the Company, will require the signature of the President, in addition to that of the Treasurer.

THE INTELLIGENCER is printed and published by the INTELLIGENCER Printing and Publishing Company (Limited) by James O. Jamieson, resident in Belleville, the Office, Front St., south of St. 99.

The Daily Intelligencer.

LET THERE BE HARMONY IN THINGS ESSENTIAL—LIBERALITY IN THINGS NOT ESSENTIAL—CHARITY IN ALL.

BELLEVILLE ONTARIO WEDNESDAY OCTOBER 17 1894

VOL 28. NO 141

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

MEDICAL.

DR. WISHART.

47 GROSVENOR ST., Toronto, will be at the Huffman House, Belleville, Saturday, Dec. 1st, '94. 1926dw

DR. QUACKENBUSH, M.D., V.M.D., M.D., P.S.O.

HOMŒOPATHIC Physician, Surgeon and Accoucheur, has removed his office over store lately occupied by J. C. Yerrell, Residence St., opposite H. Corby's.

JOHN J. FARLEY, M. D., C. M., M. R. C. S. England.

OFFICE and Residence—corner of Bridge and George Streets—three streets east of Post Office.

LEGAL.

FLINT & McCAMON.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public, etc. Solicitors for the Canadian Bank of Commerce. Office, City Hall, Front Street, Belleville, Ont. 184tf

JOHN J. B. FLINT, W. J. McCAMON.

STEWART MASSON.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, Notary, Conveyancer, etc. Office, South side Bridge st., over Wallbridge & Clark's, Belleville, Ont. Money to loan at lowest rates. 764wf

J. F. WILLS' LAW OFFICE

REMOVED to Campbell Street (south side) 2nd door from Front Street, on ground floor.

A. GOODRICH.

LAWYER, 124 Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill., 28 years' experience; access cy; special facilities in several States; Goodrich on Divorce; with laws of all States in press. 765dly

GEO. A. KINGSTON.

BARRISTER Solicitor, etc., with Lount, Marsh and Cameron, 25 Toronto St., Toronto. Money to loan on farm property at lowest rates. 2336dfrw

MIKEL & ROBERTS.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notary Public, Conveyancers, etc. Offices Bridge St., Belleville. Monies to loan at lowest rate.

THOMAS & HALLIWELL.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Conveyancers, &c. Money to loan. 2583dwly
J. PARKER THOMAS. J. EARL HALLIWELL.

FONTON & MORDEN.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public, Conveyancers. Office over Express and Telegraph Office, Bridge St., Belleville. Money to loan—private funds.
WM. N. FONTON, M.A., Solicitor Hastings Loan and Investment Society.
W. S. MORDEN, B.A.

E. GUSS PORTER.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, Notary Public, etc. Office in the Robertson Block, east side of Front Street. 271dwly
Private Money to Loan.

FRANCIS S. WALLBRIDGE.

(Successor to Hon. Lewis Wallbridge, Q.C.) BARRISTER, Solicitor, Conveyancer, etc. Office, McAnaney building, corner Front and Bridge streets, Belleville, Ont. Private and Company money to loan at 6 per cent., on easy terms upon good land security. Charges moderate.

HENRY CARRE, C. E

M.C. Soc. C.E.
DOMINION AND PROVINCIAL LAND SURVEYOR.

Special attention paid to Hydraulics and Land Drainage. Patents obtained and Drawings made. Office—McAnaney Block, under Chamberlain Business College, Front St. P.O. Address—Box 203, Belleville.

A. G. NORTHRUP.

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Shire Hall, Belleville. 220dlwly

D. I. DULMAGE, L.D.S., D.D.S. (Toronto University)

DENTIST—Office over Dingnall & Thompson's. Night calls at residence on Forin Street. d,w

CHAS. JOSE.

VETERINARY Surgeon, Graduate Ontario Veterinary College, Member Ontario Veterinary Society. Office and residence, Foxboro, Ont. Calls by mail or telegram promptly attended to. 3044,wly

MISCELLANEOUS.

AGENTCY of the Liverpool and London and Globe Fire and Life Insurance Companies.
W. F. HUDSON,
Agent.
Office Campbel, street, Belleville. 160 d,w

PLUMBING

We have added to our Workmen,

MR. GEORGE JOHNSON,

Who has for the past six years been prominent on large contracts in Victoria, B. C., San Francisco, Denver, and Chicago.

—ALSO—

MR. EDWIN W. BISHOP,

A graduate of the New York School for Plumbing (class 92), who comes highly recommended.

With these men added to our staff, we feel sure of giving satisfactory to all in Sanitary Plumbing.

C. F. Smith & Co.

STOVE PIPES!
STOVE PIPES!!
STOVE PIPES!!!

WHIPS! LANTERNS!
WHIPS!! LANTERNS!!
WHIPS!!! LANTERNS!!!

Lamps, Flower Pots,
Lamps, Flower pots,
Lamps, Flower Pots.

—AT—

THE FAIR,

FRANK WEEKS, MANAGER.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieves all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

ACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York.

Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

A Lyar.

DISEASED LUNGS

CURED BY TAKING

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral.

"I contracted a severe cold, which settled on my lungs, and I did what is often done in such cases, neglected it. I then consulted a doctor, who, on examining me, said that the upper part of the left lung was badly affected. The medicines he gave me did not seem to do any good, and I determined to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking a few doses my trouble was relieved, and before I had finished the bottle I was cured."—A. C. LETAL, watchmaker, Orangeville, Ont.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Highest Awards at World's Fair.

Ayer's Pills Cure Indigestion.

"FOR THE BENEFIT OF RHEUMATIC SUFFERERS,"

ACETOCURA

MADE ME ANOTHER MAN

G. H. REEVES,
(Reeves & Beebe).
169 State street, Chicago.

Coutts & Sons,
72 Victoria street, Toronto.

Write for gratis pamphlet to COUTTS & Sons, 72 Victoria street, Toronto. Head offices—London, Glasgow and Manchester, (G.B.) Cologne, Germany, Aaron, Switzerland.

Local Agents—

L. W. YEOMANS & CO.,
DRUGGISTS,
BELLEVILLE

PREPARE FOR THE STRUGGLE

The course of study offered by the Belleville Business College gives a young person a thorough and practical knowledge of business, and also that mental culture and discipline which sharpens perceptive faculties, stimulates ambition, develops ability and prepares for the struggle of making a living. Every step in the work is characterized by thoroughness. Besides we use the most practical methods.

In teaching shorthand we dictate actual letters and legal evidence. Other schools have undertaken to imitate our methods, but the quality of their work bears that relation to practical business which the imitation does to the real.

We represent things exactly as they are.

Belleville Business College.

ROBERT BOGLE, Proprietor.

Daily Intelligencer.

PREPARING FOR A BATTLE

Opposing Forces Face to Face on the Yalu River.

CAPTAIN VON HENNECKIN DYING

Blood Poisoning Results From the Wound He Received in the Yalu Engagement.

The Prisoners Taken at Ping Yang Arrive at Tokio, Where They Have Been Distributed Among Military Stations.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—A despatch to the Central News from Wi-Ju dated Monday says:

"The opposing armies still face each other on the banks of the Yalu river. The Chinese have not fired a shot, but work night and day strengthening their defences. Count Yamagata, the Japanese commander-in-chief, is awaiting the arrival of heavier artillery before attacking the Chinese position. Japanese scouts estimate that the Chinese forces altogether number 25,000 men. The scouts have brought in detailed information as to the condition of the Chinese defences, showing that they are not so strong as the first reports indicated. The Chinese artillery is shown to be less formidable than the Japanese had supposed. A decisive attack is expected shortly. Various indications justify the belief that the chief stand of the Chinese will be at Kuleneheu."

A despatch from Tokio says that several hundred Chinese prisoners, who were taken at the battle of Ping Yang, arrived in Tokio yesterday. Crowds were in the streets to see the captives and followed them from the station to the prisons. The crowds were quiet and orderly, indulging in no insults or signs of exultation. The captives were distributed among several military stations.

A despatch from Shanghai says it is reported there that Captain Von Hennecken, the German officer who was wounded on one of the Chinese warships in the battle off the mouth of the Yalu river, is suffering from blood poisoning resulting from his wounds and is not likely to recover.

The Central News claims to have the highest authority for the statement that overtures looking to a declaration of peace between China and Japan have been made but that Japan rejected the proposals made, considering them inadequate. According to the Central News, however, there is every reason to believe that the proposals were eminently satisfactory to China and that her representatives signified their willingness to acquiesce in them.

The Times publishes a despatch from its St. Petersburg correspondent saying that arrangements are making to have in readiness and in case of necessity the despatch six steamers of the Russian volunteer fleet to Vladivostock where they will be fitted out as cruisers.

MR. CHAMBERLAIN SPEAKS.

The Unionist Leader Addresses the Conference at Durham.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—Joseph Chamberlain, M.P., the Liberal Unionist leader, addressed the Unionist conference in Durham yesterday. He held that the Unionist party was growing in strength at the expense of the Gladstonians and he insisted upon the importance of having a definite policy of social reform. He defended in detail the bill which he has prepared for introduction at the next session of Parliament providing for the furnishing of State aid to artisans in the purchase of homes of their own, for the granting of old age pensions, for the limitation of the hours of labor in shops and factories for the restriction of pauper alien immigration, and for a new employers' liability act embodying a contracting out clause.

Referring to the adverse opinions of certain Unionist papers on this bill, he said that if he thought the criticisms were approved by any considerable section of the Unionist party he would resign the responsible position which he now holds in the party's councils. The party would never succeed, he declared, with a barren policy of negative criticism or cynical indifference.

Central Pacific Affairs.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—A meeting of security holders of the Central Pacific railroad was held here to consider important proposals in view of the unsettled relations of the company with the United States government and the Southern Pacific railroad. A motion was made that a committee of seven be appointed to represent and protect the interests of the European shareholders. It was determined that the services of Sir Charles Rivers Wilson be secured by the committee. Among the matters which Sir Charles will endeavor to settle while in America will be the question of the indebtedness of the Central Pacific Company to the Washington government and he will also see what modifications can be made in the lease between the Central Pacific and the Southern Pacific roads.

Given the Lie Direct.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—The World prints a startling story purporting to give the reasons for Mr. Gladstone's retirement from active political life. According to that paper, he withdrew from the House of Commons for the purpose of taking holy orders, and if he retains his health and regains his eyesight, he is likely to be ordained in 1895. In the meantime he will have an opponent in the proposal to disestablish the church in Wales. Concerning the story, Mr. Gladstone telegraphs that it is untrue.

The Belgian Elections.

BRUSSELS, Oct. 17.—The socialists announce that in the supplementary ballots they will vote for all liberal candidates who pledge themselves to support free trade and universal suffrage in both local and general elections. The socialists estimate that they will have thirty members in the new house.

Attempt to Kill Da Gama.

MONTEVIDEO, Oct. 17.—An attempt to kill Admiral Da Gama has been frustrated. Two persons would-be assassins have been arrested, one a Portuguese, the other a Brazilian. Both arrived three days ago from Rio de Janeiro.

A Bomb Under a Club House.

HAVERHILL, Mass., Oct. 17.—A dynamite bomb was found under the Pentucket club house. The police will make an investigation as the explosive was evidently put where it was found for the purpose of blowing up the building.

MONTREAL'S POLICE FORCE.

Investigating Charges Against Them—Judge Dugas' Evidence.

MONTREAL, Oct. 17.—A great deal of interest is being taken by the citizens in the enquiry that is being held by a committee of the city council into the standing of the police force.

The committee met yesterday and heard the evidence of Judge Dugas, the police magistrate of Montreal, who gave some very straight evidence against the force. Judge Dugas has been a criminal judge for over fifteen years and speaks with authority. He declared that there was an entire lack of system in the force as at present constituted. The members seemed to act without any method and the result was that many criminals escaped. There was an entire absence of the modern appliances that had been established in connection with other detective forces in the old and new world. There was no system of identification and no record of criminals was kept. The members of the force made no attempt at disguisement and as they were well known by the criminal classes their usefulness was impaired. There was also a lack of administrative ability displayed in the management of the force, which only consisted of some seven men, a number altogether to small for the city.

Judge Dugas advocated that houses of ill-fame should be tolerated and placed under police control.

The citizens who are moving against the force promise some startling revelations against the members.

An American Suicides in Montreal.

MONTREAL, Oct. 17.—The guests at the St. James hotel, near the Grand Trunk station, were startled last night by the report that one of the guests had deliberately committed suicide. The report proved to be correct. A few days ago a man about 40 years of age of rather shabby appearance arrived at the hotel and registered as James Robertson of New York. He was noticed to be rather despondent and retired to his room somewhat earlier than usual. A short while afterwards moans were heard, and on investigation it was found that he had deliberately cut one of his veins open and he bled to death before anything could be done. He left a letter behind stating that he was in financial trouble and unable to meet his bills.

The Murphy Forgery Case.

HAMILTON, Oct. 17.—The forgery case against Cornelius Murphy came up before Judge Muir yesterday, when A. Bruce, Q.C., acting for the Chicago prosecutors, produced affidavits showing that the prosecution is trying to find Fred Murphy, who is believed to be in hiding in this city, and will not be ready to go on till he is located. He asked for a remand and if Fred Murphy is not discovered in a few days evidence will be brought from Chicago to convict Cornelius. F. Fitzgerald, of Hamilton, and C. L. Mahoney, of Chicago, appeared for Murphy, and the former protested against the remand. The prisoner was remanded until Monday. The judge refused to allow him out on bail.

A Young School Teacher Drowned.

PETERBOROUGH, Ont., Oct. 17.—J. O. Proteau, a young French Canadian school teacher at Lafontaine, was drowned yesterday at Sing Beach. He and a companion started out in the morning to where they had left a fishing net. The wind was blowing very hard and as they reached the net his companion remarked that they had better go back, and in turning the boat capsized and they both fell into the water. Proteau took hold of the boat which held him down. His companion managed to reach the shore very much exhausted. He immediately gave the alarm and a large party went out and found the unfortunate man still holding on to the net.

Journeying to Jerusalem.

HAMILTON, Oct. 17.—A man about 40 years of age with a covered democrat waggon drawn by two burros and a broncho passed through the city yesterday en route for New York. He says he left the Gulf of Mexico in Quebec without a cent and on a wager of $10,000 he must reach Jerusalem within a year. He must travel alone and cook his own meals. He took up a collection here and left for Toronto east. He hopes to reach New York in five weeks where he will take steamer for Jerusalem.

An Ex-Minister on a Missing Ship.

TACOMA, Wash., Oct. 17.—Frederick J. Grant, managing editor and principal owner of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer, is a passenger on the missing ship Ivanhoe, which is twenty days overdue from Puget Sound for San Francisco. He was President Harrison's minister to Bolivia, and is one of the leading Republicans of this state.

Fire in Kincardine.

KINCARDINE, Ont., Oct. 17.—Fire destroyed the store of John Puetell, tailor. Mr. Puetell's loss will be $4,000, with an insurance in the Lancashire of $1,700. The building is owned by the Merchants' Bank of Canada and is fully insured in the Royal.

Sullivan Swears Off Drinking.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 17.—John L. Sullivan said, in answer to an inquiry if he ever expected to fight again: "I do; I am only in the business for the money. I'm being. I expect to challenge the winner of the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight. I can get into condition by that time to enter the ring again." Sullivan was 36 years old on Monday and to celebrate his natal day swore off drinking liquor.

First Colored Lawyer Dead.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—Judge Macon B. Allen, the first colored man admitted to the bar in the United States, has died here. He was admitted to the bar from the office of Samuel Fessenden (son of the Secretary of the Treasury) at Boston, May 3, 1845. He removed to Charleston, S. C., after the war, and was judge of the Criminal Court and of the Probate Court of Charleston county, S. C.

Canadian Wheat in Buffalo.

BUFFALO, Oct. 17.—There is a big consignment of Canadian wheat here again. The propellers Olympic, Gilchrist, Stone, Craig and Algonquin all came from Port Arthur, and their cargoes foot up 350,841 bushels. This is the largest amount received from a foreign port in one day for a long time.

Morocco City in Rebellion.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—A despatch from Tangier, Morocco, says Morocco city has been in rebellion for a week owing to the Caliph's attempt to arrest the Cadi Demnas by the Sultan's order. The Caliph is now hemmed in by insurgents. The Sultan is sending troops to the scene.

To Go in Search of His Brother.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—Captain Batty will lead a small expedition to the Arctic Ocean to seek his brother and his companion, Hyland, both naturalists, who landed on the Island of Kolguevin in June last and have not since been heard of.

PERISHED IN THE FLAMES

Two Catholic Sisters the Victims of a Fire in Houston, Texas.

AN INFIRMARY TOTALLY DESTROYED

Two Patients Thought to Have Perished in the Building—One of the Sisters Was Formerly of Montreal—The Loss by the Fire Amounts to Half a Million Dollars.

HOUSTON, Tex., Oct. 17.—Fire was discovered in the San Jacinto boarding house on Franklin and Jacinto streets, and before the flames were under control two lives and probably four were lost and $500,000 worth of property was destroyed.

The flames quickly spread to St. Joseph's Catholic Infirmary on Franklin street and despite the efforts of the firemen the building was totally destroyed. The two sisters of the institute, Jane and Doreil, perished. Two patients lying in an upper story of the dormitory are missing and it is feared they were burned to death. Another sister named Clothilda had a narrow escape. She was frightfully burned about the head and shoulders, but it is believed she will recover.

From St. Joseph Infirmary the flames spread to St. Jacinto boarding house, then to an adjoining store. The flames lasted for two hours and in that time destroyed over a dozen buildings. The losses will aggregate half a million dollars. This is partially covered by insurance. It is supposed the fire was started by the explosion of an oil lamp.

The names of the two sisters of mercy who lost their lives are Sister Dolores and Jennie Ellis. The family name of Sister Dolores was Elizabeth Boyle. Jennie Ellis was a novitiate and removed to San Antonio from Montreal two weeks ago. The debris is still burning.

THE CZAR'S ILLNESS.

His Majesty's Strength Diminishing Gradually—The Succession.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 17.—A special edition of the Official Messenger contains a bulletin signed by Drs. Leyden, Zacharin, Popoff and Refaminoff, the Czar's physicians, stating that on consultation they found no improvement in the kidney disease from which the Czar is suffering and that his Majesty's strength has diminished since their last examination. They hope, however, that the climate of the southern climes will benefit him.

COPENHAGEN, Oct. 17.—The Politiken of this city publishes a statement that the Czar intends to change the succession to the throne, naming his youngest son Michael as heir, in consequence of the Czarevitch's political views. Change of succession being considered impossible owing to his bad health. The story is regarded as absurd.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—Grand Duke Vladimir, brother of the Czar, arrived in Paris yesterday and visited President Casimir Perier at the Palace d'Elysee. The Paris correspondent of the Daily News says that the Grand Duke declared that Russia's pacific policy had not changed and that the Czar's condition has improved in the Crimea and is not considered hopeless.

Protest Against Turkish Outrages.

LONDON, Oct. 17.—A meeting to protest against Turkish outrages in Armenia was held in London last evening. Francis Seymour, S. Stevenson, M. P., chairman of the Anglo-Armenian Association, presided. The speakers complained of the inability of the British foreign office and of the Church of England in the Armenian's sufferings. A resolution was adopted to invoke the aid of the European concert to induce the Porte to remove the restraint placed upon Azarian, which is declared to be a violation of the Berlin treaty. Other resolutions protested against Turkey's preventing Armenians from emigrating to the United States and other countries, and against other restrictions.

Princess Alix's Backbone.

BERLIN, Oct. 17.—The Berlin Zeitung says the Russian holy synod has made an extraordinary and highly important concession in the case of the adoption of the Greek faith by Princess Alix of Hesse. The Princess refused to declare her former religion accursed or that her conversion was due to the conviction that her own religion was not founded upon truth, as is required by the law of the Greek Church. She merely made the declaration that she had joined the Greek Church in order that she might be of one faith with her future husband, and the holy synod accepted her declaration as sufficient.

Not Too Old for a Long Tramp.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—On a private wager of $1,000 made by John Chamberlain with a New York broker, Edward Payson Weston, the veteran pedestrian, is going to try to demonstrate that he is not too old to walk forty miles a day for twelve consecutive days. He will make the start from Newburg next Monday at 1 p.m. and his route will follow the line of the West Shore road to Albany, thence through the Mohawk Valley to Schenectady, Utica, Rome and Syracuse, thence to Binghampton and Port Jarvis, ending at Middletown Saturday, November 3. The distance is 0.7 miles.

Serum Injections for Diphtheria.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—Surgeon-General Wyman has received a preliminary report from Past Assistant J. J. Kinyoun from the Pasteur Institute in Paris, where he is making a special study of the methods of Prof. Roux in the treatment of diphtheria by means of serum injections. Dr. Kinyoun says that he is convinced that Prof. Roux has been too modest in his claims for the efficacy of this treatment. He says the discovery is one of the great ones in medicine and has passed through the experimental stage and laid a foundation for a new system of preventative medicine.

A Monument to the Greater William.

BERLIN, Oct. 17.—Emperor William yesterday unveiled the monument erected at Weisbaden to the memory of his grandfather Emperor William I. The city was appropriately decorated for the occasion and the ceremony of unveiling the monument was witnessed by an enthusiastic crowd. The Emperor congratulated the Mayor of the city and the sculptor of the monument, Schilling, upon the excellence of the memorial.

Town Swept by Fire.

LA GRANGE, Ky., Oct. 17.—Fire broke out in Sulphur, eight miles east of here, and swept away the entire central part of the town. The list of property destroyed embraces seven stores, deposit bank of Sulphur, livery stables, two hotels and six residences. The Louisville and Nashville railroad depot, which was filled with merchandise, and the water tank were destroyed. Loss over $100,000; partially insured.

SURPRISE SOAP LASTS LONGEST GOES FARTHEST. 180 READ the directions on the wrapper

See This Dress?

Surprise Soap Washed it.

And will wash any washable material without injury to the color or material—it is harmless yet effective.

White goods are made whiter and colored goods brighter by the use of Surprise Soap.

Thousands use it. Why don't you?

Use Surprise on washday for all kinds of goods without boiling or Scalding.

Robbed His Benefactor.

OTTAWA, Oct. 17.—Dr. Davies, of Chelsea, while returning from the old country last summer paid the passage fare of a stowaway who was discovered on the steamer, and whom the captain was going to take back to England to have him prosecuted. The doctor not only did this but took the young Englishman, whose name is William Lester, to Chelsea, where he was to make himself generally useful. He, however, proved ungrateful and ran away with $200 which he found in the doctor's safe. He got one year in the Central prison in the police court yesterday.

Bad Accident to an Oshawa Man.

OSHAWA, Oct. 17.—A distressing accident happened here to Alfred Snodden, an employe of James Robson, of the South tannery. He was out exercising a bay colt, and when about a mile west of the town the animal became frightened and threw Snodden out of the cart. To prevent his head coming in contact with a telegraph post Snodden put out his hands, but he struck that object with terrific force, breaking the left fish bone.

Mr. Mercier's Condition.

MONTREAL, Oct. 17.—Mr. Mercier's condition is not encouraging. It was learned at Notre Dame hospital that the ex-premier had passed a restless night and is perceptibly weaker. There has been a gradual decline for the past week or ten days. The doctors in attendance held a consultation, but the result was not encouraging, as they give no hopes. They state that he may live for several weeks, but his ultimate recovery is impossible.

The Abrjvalley.

It is becoming the custom among European travellers to stop at Remagen on the Rhine, and make a little excursion to the beautiful Valley of the Ahr, with its picturesque villages along the vine clad slopes. From Remagen to the spring from which flows that world wide favorite "Apollinaris Water." At Neuenahr, in the valley, the river Ahr is very beautiful, and one can find few scenes equally attractive as that in the Upper Gate at Anrweiler, or the old mill at Hepplingen.

A tax on dogs was levied in Rome during the reign of Nero.

For Over Fifty Years

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for children teething. It soothes the child, soft ens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhœa. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by druggists throughout the world. 17d4wly

In the time of Queen Anne soap was taxed £28 per ton.

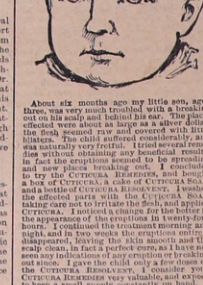

DEAR SIRS—I have used Yellow Oil for two or three years, and think it has no equal for croup. Mrs. J. S. O'Brien, Huntsville, Ont.

The tithes in England amounted to £4,050,000 a year.

Dyspepsia and Indigestion.—C. W. Snow & Co., Syracuse, N.Y., writes: "Please send us ten gross of Pills. We are selling more of Parmelee's Pills than any other Pill we keep. They have a great reputation for the cure of Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint." Mr. Chas. A. Smith, Lindsay, writes: "Parmelee's Pills are an excellent medicine. My sister has been troubled with severe headache, but these pills have cured her."

Russia raises $1,5000,000 a year by the sale of passports.

THAT TIRED, LANGUID FEELING and dull headache is very disagreeable. Take two of Carter's Little Liver Pills before retiring, and you will find relief. They never fail ot do good.

About six months ago my little son, aged three, was very much troubled with a breaking out on his scalp and behind his ears. Pimples effected were about as large as a silver dollar, the flesh around raw and covered with little blisters. The child suffered considerably, and was naturally very fretful. I tried several remedies without obtaining any beneficial results, in fact the eruptions seemed to be spreading and new places breaking out. I concluded to try the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and bought a box of CUTICURA, a cake of CUTICURA SOAP, and a bottle of CUTICURA RESOLVENT. I washed the effected parts with the CUTICURA SOAP, taking care not to irritate the flesh, and applied CUTICURA. I noticed a change for the better in the appearance of the eruptions in twenty-four hours. I continued the treatment morning and night, and in two weeks the eruptions entirely disappeared, leaving the skin smooth and the scalp clean, in fact a perfect cure, as I have not seen any indications of any eruption or breaking out since. I gave the child only a few doses of the CUTICURA RESOLVENT. I consider your CUTICURA REMEDIES very valuable, and expect to keep a small supply constantly on hand. I believe CUTICURA would be excellent for applying to insect bites, which are very annoying in this country. C. A. ARMSTRONG,
Swift Island, S. C.

CUTICURA REMEDIES cleanse the system by external and internal medication of every eruption, impurity and disease, and constitute the most effective treatment of modern times.

Sold throughout the world. Price, CUTICURA, 75c.; SOAP, 35c.; RESOLVENT, $1.50 POTTER DRUG AND CHEM. CORP., Sole Proprietors, Boston.

"How to Cure Skin Diseases," mailed free.

LAKEHURST SANITARIUM
OAKVILLE, ONT.

For treatment and cure of

ALCHOLISM, MORPHINE HABIT, TOBACCO HABIT AND NERVOUS DISEASES.

The system employed at this institution is the Tandlar Double Chloride of Gold System. Through its agency over 200,000 Slaves to the use of these poisons have been emancipated in the last fourteen years. Lakehurst Sanitarium is the oldest Institution of the kind in Canada, and has a well earned reputation to maintain in this line of medicine. In its whole history there is not an instance of failure to remove the appetite for these poisons. In its whole history there is not an instance of any after ill-effects from the treatment. Hundreds of happy homes in all parts of the Dominion bear eloquent witness to the efficacy of a course of treatment with us. For terms and full information write

THE SECRETARY,
28 Bank of Commerce Chambers,
aug7d3t-34w3m) Toronto, Ont.

CANADIAN PACIFIC Ry.

WILL RUN HUNTERS' EXCURSIONS TO MUSKOKA LAKES AND ALL STATIONS.

MATTAWA, NEPIGON, SPANISH RIVER AND INTERMEDIATE STATIONS

OCT. 19 and 20
OCT. 26 and 27
NOV. 2 and 3

When Round Trip Tickets will be sold for

SINGLE FIRST CLASS FARE

Good for Return until Dec. 1st, 1894.

For busin as passing through Toronto, rates to above points will be less than 25 cents added to ordinary Round Trip Rates to Toronto.

Dogs, Guns, Personal Baggage, Camp Equipments, to the amount of 200 lbs will be carried FREE.

S. BURROWS,
General Ticket Agent, Belleville.

Ask how you can get a CLOCK!
...At HINAKER'S...
The Men's Furnisher.

HAPPY HOME RANGES.
Best in the Market.
—ALSO—
A Full Line of
Art Garland
and
Famous Heaters.
—o—
Wm. McGIE.
Next to Nathan Jones.
Telephone 38. Front S

Mothers

suffering with weakness and emaciation, who give little nourishment to babies, should take

Scott's Emulsion

the Cream of Cod-liver Oil and hypophosphites. It will give them strength and make their babies fat. Physicians, the world over, endorse it.

Don't be deceived by Substitutes!

Scott & Bowne, Belleville. All Druggists, 50c. & $1.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, WEDNESDAY, OCT. 17

A PLATFORM WANTED.

The weakness of the Reform party has always been its wavering platform, which has ever had about it an air of uncertainty which may be satisfactory to the Grit heelers, but not so to the intelligent elector, who desires the party he supports to define the policy clearly, which it claims as being in the best interests of the country.

If we are to judge from the editorials of the local Grit organ the Reform party have yet to give an intelligent expression of their policy on the question of protection; as, for instance, in its issue of October 16th it claims the nation's needs in this respect to be a "freer fiscal policy, a tariff for revenue only." If this policy means anything, it means a policy that will collect sufficient revenue only to meet the current expenses of the country, without any regard to the requirments of home industries, which the Conservative party declares requires protection against the cheap labor of Europe and an equivalent against the duty imposed against our products, both raw and manufactured, by our neighbors to the south of us. This is one side of the Grit protection shield; yet in another issue of the same journal it declares itself under the heading "LET US HAVE FREE TRADE." Upon which platform, we would ask, are the Reformers going to the country? And until they decide, it will be difficult for them to induce thinking electors to put their faith in a party the leaders of which cannot even agree upon a policy. This same organ of the party of so-called Reform seems to be certain of only one thing, namely that, right or wrong, the party which it supports is the one that the masses should follow. In its issue of the 16th it calls the party to arms, saying:

"Now then is the accepted time. Let every Liberal organization in this county arrange at once for mass meetings to be addressed by able men. They can be had. And wherever there are Liberals without an organization, let them organize at once."

There is no question of the meaning of the above paragraph. Yet it is not long since the same organ said: "The best minds, the loftiest natures among us, turn from the machinery of Government with disgust." And again, it said: "Politics! what is it to the multitude but a vast heap of fetid, putrifying corruption?" With its confessed knowledge of Grit politics through a life long service for the Grit party, and from a knowledge of its secret management, we may not be surprised that this party organ should turn from politics with disgust, but to be consistent, it should not ask the party to be called together when, by its own showing, that party is a "vast heap of fetid putrifying corruption." But then it seems to calculate upon a servile following or it would not thus dare to insult the intelligence of the electorate in this independent county of ours, who are as capable of judging right from wrong, and probably more so, than the organ of a party from which, by its own showing, "the best minds, the loftiest and noblest natures turn in disgust."

Thus again it insults the intelligence of electors when in its issue of Sept. 28th it says, "We are safe in saying not one in ten of our enfranchised masses can give an intelligent unprejudiced reason for the political faith that they profess." Yet this same organ of the Grit party would have these "enfranchised masses" brought together and addressed by "able men" of the Reform party and be dragged into the arena of Grit politics, which it says is a "heap of fetid putrifying corruption."

We feel safe to leave the country's well being in the hands of these "enfranchised masses," fully relying upon their good judgment, as in the past, in not allowing the guidance of the country's destiny to fall into the hands of such a party, if it is as their own organ in Belleville describes it as being.

Effect of the French Treaty. Clarets at Half Price.

The Bordeaux Claret Company established at Montreal in view of the French Treaty, are now offering the Canadian connoisseur beautiful wines at $3.00 and $4.00 per case of 12 large quart bottles. These are equal to any $6 00 and $8.00 wines sold on their label. Every swell hotel and club are now handling them, and they are recommended by the best physicians as being perfectly pure and highly adapted for invalids' use. Address Bordeaux Claret Company, 30 Hospital Street, Montreal. 114d8: Weds&Sats.

Lane's Medicine Moves the Bowels Each Day

In order to be healthy this is necessary.

Quack Advertisements

Are a nuisance and we think it behooves publishers to examine into the merits of many articles puffed up in their columns. We do not deny that many meritorious remedies are properly to be classed under this heading. Take the hundreds and thousands relieved from severe suffering by the use of Polson's Nerviline; would it not be unreasonable to expect them to condemn that far famed remedy? Now we know for a fact that Polson's Nerviline is without exception the most powerful, pleasant and certain remedy in the world for pain. It cannot fail, for it goes right to the bottom of pain, penetrates to the nerves, soothes them into quietness, and affords prompt and permanent relief.

CAMPBELL'S QUININE WINE. It will tone up your system, and restore the appetite. JUST WHAT YOU NEED - - THIS SPRING. The best cure for Debility.

WELCOME TO GENERAL BOOTH

(Continued from Page 3.)

serving differ in their sinning from the deserving, or from perhaps ourselves, only in that they have indulged in what might be called the more vulgar sins, while the others have been guilty of what they might term more refined vices. He did not believe in heredity in vice. He then related how as a little boy he crept up stairs in his night shirt and stole apples for his sisters. His father spent the first half of his life getting a fortune, and the last half spending it. As to his grandfathers and great grandfathers, he did not know. Some sins make one class of people poor, while equally black sins make others rich. Do not go too deeply into people's ancestry.

He then went on to show what he gave the unfortunates for a penny. They have 5,000 in the shelters in London. Each gets a warm room, (no bed), hot and cold water, a piece of bread, and an hour's Salvation Army service for a penny. If one comes in covered with vermin, as the General described, 3000 strong, he is sent out but once. Some say this is making poverty easy, but why not make it as easy as wealth? If a well dressed man enters a great hotel with a lady on his arm, he is given the best, and no one enquires if he got his money by beating some unfortunate creditor, or even if the woman is his wife. We beat the hotels, we take the people in without question, and we also have family prayer with them.

Show them that they must work out their own salvation. They can't be saved without work.

Reform them. This is the greatest of all. Experience shows that 75 per cent of all are willing to work, and the other 25 should be compelled to work. It is a crying shame that those who do not want to work should be allowed to idle their time away and be supported by the people. Make them work. Work is largely a habit and many well dressed people have become addicted to the habit. No man ought to eat unless he works. It costs £3 4s 6d to save each fallen girl, and out of 2,500 per year that pass through the Army's hands, 70 per cent are now earning an honest living and leading virtuous lives. Keep the reclaimed ones at work. The three years' experience of the army has been highly successful. The General said he had gathered about him in 42 different countries, 1,190 officers, 1,990 corps. Slum posts, 176; rescue homes, 305; food stations, 21; shelters, 38; farm colonies, 6; total nightly accommodation for the homeless, 4,850; and tens of thousands of soldiers. The strength of the army does not lie in the uniforms, but in the ardor and zeal for the salvation of souls all about them. There are at present 1,090 engaged alone in the social work, and more can be had. He first placed them at their home, then out to service, and later on to houses across the sea in Canada, Africa and Australia. He said he was keeping his eyes open as to the best thing to do in this connection. At first he asked for £100,000, but got £112,000. He is now some £58,000 short, but he would not lose sleep over it, and hoped to run across some millionaire who might help the army out of the difficulty. He actually kissed a man once who gave $100,000 to the fund, and he was prepared to repeat the ceremony under similar conditions, and if it were a lady he might kiss both cheeks. He asked not for a million, but he wanted something to assist the work in Canada, which his son and daughter-in-law were struggling hard to carry on. In Canada there are now eight rescue homes for women, four poor men's shelters, four cheap food depots, one prison gate home, one poor women's night shelter, eight children's shelters and nurseries, two wood yards for giving employment to the poor, one industrial farm and three mission ships, one of which is a steam yacht on the lakes.

Drawing to the close he thanked the audience for their kind attention, and said as there was to be a collection he would be glad if they would help his poor people as they were able.

His address, which lasted nearly two hours, was clever and effective and studded with gems of humor, and applause was frequent and spontaneous.

While the collection was being taken up Staff Capt. Malon, an Italian, sang two songs in his own tongue, French and English. The collection was large, many giving $10 and $5 donations.

The chairman said he was sure he voiced the sentiments of the audience in tendering the General a hearty vote of thanks for his very excellent address. The General acknowledged the honor done him in a few well chosen words, and announced that there would be a half-night prayer at the barracks commencing at the conclusion of the meeting in the church. The pronouncing of the benediction brought to a close a memorable meeting.

Half-Night of Prayer.

A number of officers and soldiers met at the barracks on Pinnacle St., after the mass meeting and held, what they called, a half-night of prayer. Col. Lawley conducted the meeting. There were present, Capts Burr, of Picton, and Brindley, of Trenton; Ensigns McMillan, Morris and Wiseman, Lieut. Wilson and a number of soldiers. A most profitable time was spent by those present.

At John St. Church.

General Booth's meeting in John Street Church this morning was fairly attended. The Rev. Mr. George presided and the Rev. J. S. Trotter offered prayer. The General related some of his early experiences in Christian work, and then gave some good, wise and practical advice to all church workers. He urged the necessity and importance of definiteness in working for God, whether in conversion of sinners or in building up believers. The great work of Christian people is to bring the world to God. He insisted that there can be no salvation without regeneration by the Holy Ghost; that Christ is the only way to God; that the church was becoming too worldly and idle in salvation work; that the chief need of the church was a great wave of penitential power; that all toilers in the kingdom of Christ should themselves realize much of the spirit of Christ and not be afraid to show themselves on the Lord's side. The General closed the service by an earnest prayer for all church workers in our city. He is evidently the right man in the right place.

NOTES.

Rev. Mr. Ash waited on General Booth and his son, who favored him with their authographs, which were as follows:—

Saved to Save. Birth, April 10th, 1829.
WILLIAM BOOTH.
October 15th, 1894,
Belleville.

I have a Saviour that's mighty to keep,
All day on Sunday and six days a week,
I have a Saviour that's mighty to keep,
Fifty-two weeks in the year.
HERBERT H. BOOTH.
October 15th, 1894.

The General and staff left on the noon train for Port Hope, where he will speak to night. He was given a send off by a number of Army people and citizens.

An amusing incident happened in Bridge St. church last evening. While the audience was being seated, one of the prominent members of the church found what he took to be a revolver, on a back seat. There was quite a sensation for a time, but it was quelled when a prominent merchant on Front St. appeared, and inquired whether any one had found his match-box—which was made in the shape of a revolver.

The General is of tall, angular form, slightly stooped and at first appearance there is nothing particularly striking in his manner. His face tends towards the Jewish cast, having a remarkably prominent nose and keen eyes. He wears beneath his frock coat, which is of military cut, the regulation red waist coat of the Army. As he speaks he draws his audience to him with some inherent force, and to this force is largely due his success in his great work. His son, Commandant H. H. Booth, resembles very much his father, although quite a young man. The General is a good conversationalist and has a fair knowledge of the current topics.

On board the yacht, besides the General, were Commandant A. Booth, Col. Lawley, Staff Capt Malan, private secretary to the General, Capt. Taylor, artist for the War Cry, Brigadier Holland, of Toronto; Brigadier Scott and wife, Staff Capt. Jower and naval brigade.

TO-DAY'S WEDDING.

A Popular Printer Marries One of Our City's Fairest Daughters.

Another of those interesting events, which have been almost daily occurences for the past few weeks, took place at the residence of Mrs. John Ostrom, Grove St., at 10:30 this morning, when her only daughter, Clara Louise, was united in the bonds of matrimony to Mr. E. T. Cherry, job printer. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Roberts in the presence of about forty invited guests. The bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. Nelson Gilbert of Sidney. The bridesmaid was Miss Bessie Alford, and Mr. Charles Ostrom supported the groom. The bride's personal charms were, if possible, enhanced by a beautiful travelling costume of bronze green material, trimmed with payette. After the ceremony had been duly performed the guests partook of a recherche wedding breakfast. The young couple left on the 12:45 train for Montreal and other eastern cities, followed by the best wishes of a host of friends. The groom's present to the bride was a handsome piano, while the bridesmaid gave her a costly chased stick pin set with pearls. The groom is perhaps one of the best known and most popular young men in the city, and has been quite successful in his business. The bride has a host of friends who will wish her and her husband every happiness in their future life. The INTELLIGENCER adds its congratulations.

Died at Albert College.

A young man named Dinneck, son of Rev. Mr. Dinneck, a superannuated minister of Toronto, who preached in the Tabernacle on the 7th inst., and in Holloway St. church last Sunday, died at Albert College last night. He commenced his course in September and was soon after taken ill, and although everything that medical skill could devise was done, the end came as above stated. His father took charge of the remains and they have been removed to his home.

The young man was 22 years of age. He contracted pleuro-pneumonia and pleurisy some five weeks ago, and never rallied; his brother and a trained nurse were with him when he died. A short service was held in the chapel, previous to the removal of the remains to the depot.

In Constant Demand.

Miss Ella Metcalfe left this morning for Huntsville, where she has secured, through the Ontario Business College, the position of book keeper for Mr. W. E. Hutchison, merchant, who is himself a graduate of the O.B.C. Miss Metcalfe's two sisters are likewise graduates of this college. Miss Emma is book keeper for Mr. O. B. Scantlebury of this city and Miss Lillie is stenographer and secretary to Mr. R. Mathison, Principal of the Institution for the Deaf and Dumb.

The Bay Fisheries.

One effect of the change made this year in the fishery law, whereby the use of seines has been prohibited and gill nets allowed in the Bay of Quinte, is that whilst many of those who formerly used seines have retired from the business, a number of parties from other portions of the province have taken out license and are fishing with gill nets in these waters. These strangers are not likely to make their fortunes in their present occupation.

That Joyful Feeling.

With the exhilarating sense of renewed health and strength and internal cleanliness, which follows the use of Syrup of Figs, is unknown to the few who have not progressed beyond the old time medicines and the cheap substitutes sometimes offered but never excepted by the well informed.

Beaver Overcoats $7.

The Oak Hall are altogether too modest sometimes in advertising. We have got a beaver overcoat at $7, this year, and it is such a beauty that if any one else had the same for $10, they would yell themselves hoarse over it. You can get these coats in navy and brown, and they are worth $10. At the Oak Hall for $7.

Fire Near the Station.

Fire broke out at 2 p.m. yesterday, in a frame barn near the east end of the G.T.R. yard, owned by Stephen Casey and occupied by Jas. Cummings. The building, together with a quantity of hay, carriages, and harness, was burned. The Grand Trunk employees got out a horse and pig. Had the wind not been in the west, the house would also have burned. There was no insurance.

A Creamery for Ameliasburg.

Phillips Bros. are erecting a creamery building on their farm near Rednerville, which when completed will be one of the best equipped in the province. It will have a separator with a capacity of 3000 lbs. of milk per hour. They expect to be ready to receive milk about the 1st of November.

Asthma Sufferers.

Who have in vain tried every other means of relief, should try "Schiffman's Asthma Cure." No waiting for results. Its action is immediate, direct and certain, as a single trial proves. Send to Dr. R. Schiffmann, St. Paul, Minn., for a free trial package, but ask your druggist first.

The Long Evenings.

With the long evenings it becomes of increasing importance to find a coal oil of excellent illuminating power. This may be found at L W. Yeomans & Co's.. Their Canadian and American oils burn brightly, and free from smoke or disagreeable smell.

Fine American Boots.

We have just received several splendid lines of ladies' fine button boots from one of the best makers in the United States. Call and see them, latest toes and lasts, and finest quality ever shown in Belleville.—VERMILYEA & SON.

A False Alarm.

An alarm of fire was sent in this morning at 11:30 from Boswell's terrace, Moira St., but when the hose carts got there the blaze was out.

FIRE AT MADOC.

The Continental Hotel Burned by an Incendiary—Other Damage Done.

(Special to the Intelligencer)

MADOC, Oct. 17.—The Continental Hotel was burned to the ground at an early hour this morning. Fire was discovered about 12:15 midnight, in the kitchen in the southeast corner. Soon the entire building was in flames. Nothing remains standing. The firemen responded promptly to the alarm and soon had a stream on the fire. After two hours hard work the fire was under control, after burning all the outbuildings in connection with the Dale block and the hotel. The block was in great danger during the fire, but by hard work was saved with some damage. When first discovered the wind was blowing from the north-west, but veered to the west, which saved the west side of the street from harm.

The opinion is general in the town that the cause of the fire was incendiary, as no one was surprised. One of the merchants in the Dale block was heard to say he lay awake expecting the fire. The building was unoccupied, having been closed about a week. It narrowly escaped burning several weeks ago. Some damage was done to the neighboring stores by fire and water.

This fire shows how Madoc stands in need of a steam fire engine. The hand engine, though it did noble work, is not large enough for such a fire. After the fire, lunch with hot tea and coffee was served at Moon's hotel.

LATER.

W. S. Volume loses considerable of his grocery stock by fire and water. In rear of his store adjoining the Continental, was the hottest fight with the fire on account of the wooden structure. This was kept wet inside and out. If the fire had got control of this building the Weiss block could not have been saved.

Following are the principal losses: Continental, $5,000; Volume grocery, $500; Milne, dry goods, $200; Connor & Richardson, hardware storehouse, $300; J. C. Dale, on building, $1000; C. G. Wilson, $50. All insured. Some other minor losses on outbuildings, household goods, etc., damaged by removal to street, no insurance. Cause of fire as yet unknown.

LATEST.

Our regular correspondent sends us an account of the fire received since the above was in print. He adds that Mr. M. Maybee suffered some damage from stock by removal. Insured. J. Christy's barn was also burned.

A Voyage to Asia's War Scenes.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE FROM THE EAST.

Julian Ralph, in Harper's Weekly.

The Canadian Pacific steamship Empress of Japan arrived in Yokohama on the morning of September 10, bringing her notable collection of Japanese and Chinese, and her little handful of a hundred Europeans and Americans.

All day long the shore was in sight, and at night it made its near presence known by the flashing of the light-house lamps. Anxiety to know the latest news of the war kindled in every breast, and became so intense that by the next morning, when the steamer rode into Yokohama harbor, every passenger, no matter what his or her nationality, waited with no vestige of anything like patience for the coming of the news. Had we found the harbor as full of war ships as it is said to be of torpedoes, no one would have been surprised. Had it been learned that Yokohama was sacked and burned, or had we come upon the actual bombardment of the place, the facts would not have seemed more than the active minds aboard ship had anticipated. But there was nothing but calm waters, blue sky, and settled peace in every view. Two war-ships lay idly near the city, and a fort that seemed deserted frowned upon the channel. A rickety health-office boat, with its engines housed under a dirty tent, came out to meet the "Empress," and the ship's doctor told the Japanese that all on board were well. The Japanese uttered no word of news. Soon the sampans and hotel launches clustered like flies around the ship; and men of many sorts—naval, military, and commercial—swarmed upon the deck. Not one had any news. "There is no news," they said. "You will hear the news in New York and London long before we will have it here."

Hours have passed since then. The "Empress's" passengers have been ashore for a large part of the day, but all the news they get is that news is contraband. The newspapers get no news. The government will not permit any material facts about the war to be published. It is understood that all of Japan's soldiery and navy is now in and before Korea. "But if there has been a great battle," say all the people, "it must have gone badly for the Japanese, since we are not allowed to know a word about it." There is news that war correspondents from Europe and America are thick as fleas in Chemulpo, the port of Seoul, but it is said that they are practically stalled by the prohibitive regulations of both the Chinese and Japanese armies. The only way open to Korea is by foreign war-ships. Whoever can get there by such means is free to go, but after he is there no one may approach the seat of war, and thus far, it is said, no war-correspondent has been accredited to either army in the field.

SPORTING NEWS

The annual meeting of the Ontario Curling Association was held yesterday at Toronto. W. H. Biggar, M.P.P., presided. Group No. 1 was arranged as follows: To be played mainly at Cobourg—Belleville, Cobourg, Bowmanville, Oshawa, Whitby. Umpire J. A. Vance, Millbrook. Mr. Biggar was re-elected President.

Poor Digestion

Leads to nervousness, fretfulness, peevishness, chronic Dyspepsia, and great misery. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the remedy; it tones the stomach, creates an appetite, and gives healthy action to all the organs of the body. Take Hood's, for Hood's Sarsaparilla cures.

HOOD'S PILLS become the favorite cathartic with every one who tries them. 25c.

The Team for Friday.

The first game of football between the City's and Mutes takes place on Friday afternoon. Following is the City team: Goal, Moon; backs, Marsh and Diamond; half-backs, Jamieson, Twining, and Weller; forwards, Rous, Hardy, Cummings, Nash, and Campbell. Referee, H. P. Thomas.

A Prominent Lawyer Says:

"I have eight children, everyone in good health, not one of whom but has taken Scott's Emulsion, in which my wife has boundless confidence."

PROBABILITIES.

TORONTO, Oct. 17.—Strong westerly and northwesterly winds; fair weather; stationary or a little lower temperature.

Died.

WELBANKS.—In Ameliasburg, Oct. 16th, MARY E., wife of Stanley Welbanks, and only daughter of J. W. Anderson, aged 29 years, 1 month, 25 days.

SOCIAL & PERSONAL

Mr. A. A. Roberts is confined to his bed by illness.

John Cunningham, of Ameliasburg, is dangerously ill.

Mr. Corby, M P., and party have had good sport in the vicinity of the Bruton farm, where they are staying.

Mrs. (Rev) Marshall is attending the meeting of the Baptist Women's Missionary Society of Ontario at Toronto.

The Archbishop of Ontario, who has been in England for the past three months, will sail for Canada on November 1.

Daddy Downs was taken ill with another attack of epilepsy at the Commercial hotel Monday afternoon, and was removed to the General hospital. This morning he had almost entirely recovered.—Guelph Herald.

Mr. G. B. VanBlaricom, who about six months ago entered the Woodstock Sentinel-Review office as reporter, has been promoted to the editorship of the Galt Daily Reformer, Mr. Andrew Laidlaw, proprietor. "Van's" many friends in town will be pleased to hear of his advancement, which is but a practical tribute to his "hustling" qualities as a newspaper man.

SIDNEY CROSSING.

Oct. 15th.—Mr. J. W. Young was the recipient of the sad intelligence this week, that his brother, Mr. Geo. Lawrence, of San Francisco, had died very suddenly of heart failure. He retired at night as well as usual, but in the morning his wife was shocked to find him a corpse. The deceased was born here, but left at an early age to seek his fortune in that southern clime. His sudden demise has cast a feeling of gloom over the community at large. We offer our heart felt sympathies to the sorrowing family in their hour of affliction.—Mr. and Mrs. Wellington Crouter, were visiting at Orillia on Thursday.—Mrs. Robt. Juby of Corbyville, was the guest of her daughters, Mrs. Ed. Bartlett, and Miss Hester Juby, during last night.—Rev. Michael Fawcett, an eminent divine of Toronto, is to preach in this church on Sabbath. This aged gentleman was stationed on this circuit in his youthful days. —Mr. Burrell, also Mr. Alex. Ray, druggist of Belleville, paid a flying visit to Mr. Stanley Vandervoort's on Thursday.—This Sabbath School send their Supt. as delegate to the coming convention.—Thresher Dafoe, of Trenton, who has threshed for the majority of the farmers in this section, is authentically reported to have threshed 100 bushels of barley in an hour at the barn of Mr. Emory Finkle. This is a record which few have attained.—Rev. Robinson is to conduct special services in the school house for a week prior to its removal to the church.—Miss Phoebe Kelley is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Morden, of Adrian, Michigan.—Butcher Hicks, of Belleville, makes his weekly trips though this neighborhood.—A number from here took in the excursion to Orillia via Toronto last week.—The hunting party from Trenton who were scouring the woods adjoining the station in quest of game, were successful in killing two large raccoons besides smaller game.—Inspector Johnson visited this school on Monday. The school is prospering finely under the able management of Mr. P. W. Fairman, our popular pedagogue.—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Vandewater, of Belleville, were the guests of their son Marshall last week. —Loads of apples are seen daily moving in the direction of the cider mill. Large quantities of this delicious liquid is manufactured at this season of the year.—Mr. Ransom Vandervoort, who has been farming in Manitoba during the summer, has returned home for the winter.—Mr. Emory Finkle has the carpenters busily engaged rebuilding his house. He will soon be in possession of a handsome and comfortable residence.—Miss Annie Spafford is visiting in Belleville.

Montreal Markets.

MONTREAL, Oct. 15.—Flour—Receipts 3,800 bbls.; market quiet and unchanged Patent winter, $3 20 to $3.60; do. spring, $3 20 to $3 40; straight roller, $2.70 to $2 85; extra, $2 40 to $2 50; superfine, $2 25 to $2 35; strong baker's, $3 20 to $3 30; Ontario bags, $1 20 to $1 30.

Grain—Wheat, No. 2 Manitoba hard, 60 to 62c. Corn—68 to 70c.; Peas—66 to 67c. Oats—34 to 35c.; Barley—50 to 53c; Rye—50 to 52c.; Oatmeal—$2 to $2.10; Cornmeal—$1 20 to $1 30. Provisions—Pork. $20 to $22; Lard—8 to 13c; Hams—11 to 12c; Cheese—10 to 11c; Butter—Townships, 16 to 18c; Western, 14 to 16c; Eggs—13 to 14c.

LIVE STOCK.

There were about 550 head of butchers' cattle, 60 calves, and 700 sheep and lambs offered at the East end market to day. The butchers were present in considerable numbers, but trade was not brisk, and prices continue about the same as on Thursday. A few of the best cattle were sold at about 3¾c per pound, but most of the sales seemed to range from 2½c to 3½c, while some of the leaner beasts brought about 2c per pound.

There is a good demand for calves, but many of the best veals are bought up before getting to this market. Two of the best calves sold for $21, and the prices of the others ranged from $3 to $8 each.

Shippers are paying about 3½c per pound for good large sheep, and a few superior lambs are also being bought at that rate for shipment to Britain. Common lambs sell from 2½c to 3½c per pound.

Fat hogs are in good supply, and sell at from 5 to 5½c per pound.

Cheese Markets

UTICA, N Y., Oct. 15.—Little Falls dairy market—Cheese: 25 lots, 9½c.; 17 lots, 9¾c; 27 lots, 10c; 7 lots, commission; farm dairy, 386 boxes, 9½c to 10c. Total sales, 5,717 boxes. Butter: dairy, 48 pkgs at 22c to 23c. Creamery, 76 pkgs. at 23 to 23½.

SPECIAL MENTION

DR. LOW'S PLEASANT WORM SYRUP removes worms of all kinds from children or adults.

THAT HACKING COUGH can be quickly cured by Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam. Price 25c.

ALWAYS AVOID HARSH PURGATIVE PILLS. They first make you sick and then leave you constipated. Carter's Little Liver Pills regulate the bowels and make you well. Dose, one pill.

ALL CASES OF WEAK OR LAME BACK, backache, rheumatism, will find relief by wearing one of Carter's Smartweed and Belladonna Backache Plasters. Price 25 cents. Try them.

DAVIS' PAIN KILLER. — The best and most popular Family Medicine in the world. A blessing to the rich; a friend to the poor; within the reach of all, it has saved more lives and relieved more suffering incidental to travelling than any other medicine. 25c. per bottle, large size.

Nearly all infants are more or less subject to diarrhoea and such complaints while teething, and as this period of their lives is the most critical, mothers should not be without a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial. This medicine is a specific for such complaints and is highly spoken of by those who have used it. The proprietors claim it will cure any case of cholera or summer complaint.

NEVER

Were prices as low for new goods, or prospects better for an unusually brilliant display and lively trade for the holiday china and crockery trade.

We have advices that the Belleville goods are being packed as fast as possible, and will be here in good time. As there is an immense lot, and being goods of of a fragile nature, we must be patient. How satisfactory it is to know at least, that this store's stock is direct from the potteries in England, France and Germany, and not from Toronto or Montreal, and besides, is made for the legitimate crockery trade, which accounts for its better quality and appearance.

W. J. REID & CO'Y.

CRYSTAL HALL. Rous' Old Stand.

London and Belleville.

New Advetrtisemens.

WANTED.

WANTED—At once, a good General Servant. Apply to MRS J. A. PHIPPEN, Bridge Street. 140dwtf eod

REMOVAL.

MISS WAY has removed her dress-making rooms to the Singer Office, one door north of Lattimer's Barber Shop, where she will be pleased to meet her old customers, and as many new ones as wish to favor her with a call. 40d6t wlt

TO LET.

TO LET 90 Dundas st., opposite South John st., barn, hard and soft water. Apply next door. 137d3t

TO LET 2 snug, warm brick houses in terrace, situated on Harriett St., West Belleville, known as Morten's, or Filliter's terrace. For terms of rent apply to R. O. Filliter, collector, or sub agent to the estate of the late H E Filliter Residence at Mr. Jardin's Corner of William and Dundas Sts, East Belleville. 85d2m

FOR SALE.

ONE 30 Key National Cash Register, in use about 18 months; cost $225. One Buffalo Sausage Chopper, capacity 75 to 100 lbs, (in use one season only) Also Sausage Stuffer (new), and one upright Engine and Boiler, 4 horse power. Will sell all of the above for cash. Chopper, Stuffer, Engine and Boiler must go together. The Register will be sold separate if required (cheap). Reason for selling, going out of business. Also one new J. J. Taylor Safe, 25x30x30 inside. For further particulars apply to the undersigned.
W. C B. RATHBUN, Deseronto, Ont.
141d4t

QUEEN'S · OPERA · HOUSE, THOS. P. J. POWER,—MANAGER.

VAN AMBURG CONCERT COMPANY.

ONE NIGHT ONLY — ON — TUESDAY, OCTOBER 23rd, 1894,

Under the auspices of Canton Belleville, No. 8, P. M., I. O. O. F.

Prices, - 15, 25 and 35c.

Plan at Riggs' Music Store.

H. C. DICKENS & SON.

YOU'LL BE TOO BUSY

To do any baking during the S. S. Convention (We are addressing more particularly the ladies at whose houses the delegates are to be entertained.)
Let us come to your aid by suggesting that we do it for you. We'll do it first class too.
It will relieve you of a lot of trouble and anxiety, and give you more time to entertain your guests. Our windows will be especially attractive during convention week. So be on the lookout!

H. C. DICKENS & SON.

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS,

A positive cure for all kidney diseases, such as Backache, Rheumatism, Diabetes, Brights Disease, &c., &c.

For sale at the Pharmacy.

D. M. WATERS.

WALL - STREET!

OPERATE SUCCESSFULLY IN WALL ST.

THROUGH OUR Co-Operative R.R. Stock Syndicate.

Large Profits Realized with Minimum Risks.

"PROSPECTUS AND DAILY MARKET LETTER" MAILED FREE. HIGHEST REFERENCE.

WEINMAN & CO. Stock and Grain Broker, NO. 41 BROADWAY, NEW YORK CITY. [d Oct. 1st, 3m eod

THIS MATTER CHANGED DAILY.

WEDNESDAY, Oct. 17th.

SETTLED!

At last we feel settled in our new store, and we are pleased with the change, and pleased at seeing our customers finding us out. We'll all feel at home now and we desire all who favor us with a share of their trade to feel at liberty to do what they like in the store. Make it your headquarters, and anything we can do to help you in shopping we shall be glad to do.

W. FLINT JONES.

Next door to Haines & Lockett.

Telephone Rings, IS THAT OBC?

YES.

R. J. Graham is speaking: We are rushed in the office. Send us another good man at once.

ALL RIGHT,

We shall have a man there in ten minutes. We sent J. R. Snedden, who had just graduated. Mr. Graham has now three graduates of

ONTARIO BUSINESS COLLEGE.

In his office here, namely Managing Accountant, Assistant and Stenographer.

For.. THIRTY... DAYS.....

WE will sell our entire line of Wall Paper.... —AND— Window Shades AT A DOUBLE DISCOUNT 10 & 5p.c.

10 per cent. off Special, and 5 per cent. off for cash.

We positively will not be undersold at OVERELL'S BOOK STORE.

MONTHLY DIVIDENDS!!!

NEW YORK TRADING COMPANY, 17 & 19 Broadway New York

CAPITAL, 100,000.

This company has been formed to place small speculators in the Stock, Grain and other markets, in an equally strong position with the great manipulators who make and rule the markets. Legitimate speculation is the quickest road to wealth. The smallest investment may soon grow into a competency.

In the speculative markets alone do such opportunities exist.

Small speculators combined and guided by wise counsellors become a power in the market. This is the position of our subscribers.

By our plan, holders of one share, which costs TEN DOLLARS, enjoy the same privileges and benefits as holders of one hundred shares.

Subscriptions invited to a Syndicate now being formed to operate in a direction where we have peculiar and exclusive information.

Accounts always open to inspection of members. Accounts rendered and dividends payable monthly. Full details of our methods mailed free on application.

Correspondence respectfully solicited.

Bank references furnished.

New York Trading Company, 17 & 19 Broadway, New York City. CAPITAL $100,000

QUINCES....

Are said to be, by those who know their uses best, the nicest fruit grown.

We expect to receive regular supplies each day, also

Grapes and Peaches.

Those who may not have bought their peaches early in the season can get fully as good value now as the "Smock" variety is one of the best grown for canning or pickling, and is now the only peach in the market.

Jas. Wallace & Co.

We Are.. Busy.....

Our new groceries are going with a rush, but more are arriving daily, and that's why we keep our stock fresh and wholesome. We take pride in our confectionery for it's the best money can buy and our prices are away down. See the values we offer in teas and sugars. Provisions, and flour and feed also receive our particular attention.

J. A. ELLIOTT.

Front St., Belleville.

JUST - RECEIVED
..AT THE..
GLASGOW WAREHOUSE.

Another large shiement of PRIESTLY & SONS' Celebrated

DRESS - GOODS,

— INCLUDING —

Black Crepe Cloths,
Black Mourning Cloths,
Black Wool Sateens,
Black Revenna Cords,
Black Silk Warps,
Black Wool Henriettas,
Black & Navy Serges,
Black & Navy Cheviots.

These Good are all fast Black & Thoroughly Reliable.

—ALSO—

NEW GOLF CLOAKINGS, all prices
NEW CURL CLOAKINGS,
New Black and Colored Beavers,
New Black and Colored Box Cloths,
Full lines in Mantles and Capes,
Large lines of CANADIAN STAPLES at CLOSE CASH PRICES.
CARPETS, OIL CLOTHS and CURTAINS a specialty.

VANDERVOORT & GIBSON,

Successors to the late J. W. Dunnet.

Belleville, Oct. 17, 1894.

P.S.—A large show case and table for sale cheap.

COUPON
—FOR—
PART 9.
Canada Portfolio of Art.

A Coupon appears in all issues of this paper.

Cut out this coupon and forward, together with 10 cents, to the Art Department of this paper, and you will receive one part of Canada, as mentioned above, by mail post-paid, or bring the coupon and 10 cents to this office and receive Portfolio.

NAME..

ADDRESS......................................

N. B.—Remember, only one Coupon required for each part.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, WEDNESDAY, OCT 17.

Chauncey Ashley, issuer of marriage licenses, Division Court Office, Pinnacle street or at residence over Benmore & Benson's store. d&w

CITY AND DISTRICT.

A sale of the farm effects of the late Jacob Tice took place in Ameliasburg to-day.

Be sure and attend Grant's cheap cash sale if you want bargains in Boots and Shoes.

Come and have tea with the Tabernac's Ladies' Aid to-morrow evening any time between 6 and 8 o'clock.

Samuel Merrill found a lady's shopping bag on the street yesterday and left it at Fleming's confectionery store.

Rheumatism is primarily caused by acidity of the blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, and thus cures the disease.

Six hundred and fifty-two lambs were shipped from Campbellford in two days last week. They were for New York parties.

George Gordon, the young man who was stabbed on Saturday at Napanee, is progressing favorably, and is pronounced out of danger.

Jane Smith, who was charged with appropriating and damaging a waggon the property of Ed. Bolyea, was taxed $3 at the police court to-day.

General Booth's remarks about the tramps were fully appreciated by the police last night when seven of these tourists applied for protection.

The list of delegates to the S. S. Convention will be on exhibition at the Bridge St. Reading room to morrow. Over three hundred names were received by the noon mail to-day.

The social held at Mr. Roblin's residence on Monday evening, given by the Ladies' Aid of Bleecker St. Church, was a decided success. A good programme was rendered and a sociable time was spent. The proceeds amounted to $12.

Ayer's Hair Vigor, which has outlived and superseded hundreds of similar preparations, is undoubtedly the most fashionable as well as economical hair-dressing in the market. By its use, the poorest head of hair soon becomes luxuriant and beautiful.

The remarkable number of cures of gout and rheumatism which have followed the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, point conclusively to the fact that this remedy comes nearer being the specific for complaints of this nature than any other medicine in pharmacy.

Persons accustomed to take students or others to board, and who can provide rooms and board for delegates to the Provincial Sunday School Convention, will please write to the undersigned on or before the 19th inst., stating number they can accommodate, and terms.—W. H. GORDON, Sec'y. 138d4t

The Emerald Trio, gospel temperance singing evangelists, will hold another meeting to-night in the City Hall. The Prohibition Bell will be sung by request and "Jim" Smith will tell the story of his life. Montreal Witness says the story of Mr. Smith's life is the most thrilling and dramatic experience ever listened to in that city. Silver collection at door.

On this page will be found the coupon for Part 9—which will be ready for delivery on the 16th inst—of "Canada Portfolio of Art." This is truly a magnificent piece of work and is something that will adore any drawing room or parlor table. You can't afford to be without it. Cut out this coupon and bring it, together with ten cents, to this office, and we will give you Part 9; or, on receipt of coupon and money, the part will be sent postpaid, to any address in the Dominion.

Cold in the head—Nasal Balm gives instant relief; speedily cures. Never fails.

WELCOME TO GENERAL BOOTH

THE ARMY PEOPLE TURN OUT TO DO HIM HONOR.

The Arrival at the Wharf—Addresses and Speeches at the Market Square—At Bridge St. Church—The General Outlines His "Darkest England" Scheme—A Large Collection—A Half-Night of Prayer—Notes.

Yesterday was a red letter day in the history of the Salvation Army of Belleville and surrounding towns and villages. From early morn red shirted men and poke bonneted women could be seen rushing to and fro making preparations for receiving their leader, General Booth. Soldiers and officers came from the towns, villages and surrounding country to add their mite to the event.

The Arrival.

The General and his party were expected to arrive at 5 p. m., and as early as four o'clock crowds were at the wharf straining their eyes to catch a glimpse of the craft that was bearing him hither. The wind was cold and came in fitful gusts, yet the crowd never wavered and stood and shivered until 5:30, when the Salvation Army yacht Blandina, rounded the Grand Junction wharf, and the naval brigade band, which was on board, struck up an Army air. All thoughts of cold were at once dissipated and the crowd made a rush towards the south end of the Rathbun wharf, where the craft was soon made fast. Mr. Robt. Richardson, who entertained the General during his stay in the city, was present and was shown aboard the yacht, where he was introduced to General Booth and his staff. When the General and his staff stepped upon the wharf, his people "fired a volley." He was at once shown to the carriage in waiting and driven to the City Hall, where the Mayor, a number of aldermen, ministers, and prominent men were introduced to him.

Addresses and Speeches.

It was after six o'clock when the General, accompanied by his staff, Mayor Walmsley, Ald. Ponton, Clarke and Haight, Messrs. Thos. Ritchie, Curtis Bogart, J. W. Johnson, Robt. Bogle, Dr. Walker, Rev. J. L. George, C. M. Stork, J. Wilson, J. J. B. Flint, Rev. J. S. Trotter, R. Marshall, J. A. McCamus, R. Wallace, and others, appeared on the platform, and his appearance, was the signal for another "volley."

The exercises were opened by singing, "Victory for me," after which Col. Lawley led in prayer.

By this time it was quite dark and a lantern had to be procured, by the light of which Mayor Walmsley, on the behalf of the citizens, read the address which we published yesterday, and Ald. Clarke presented the General with a copy beautifully engrossed.

Mr. Thos. Ritchie was next called upon and read the following address on behalf of the Board of Trade:

To the Rev William Booth, General of the Salvation Army:

DEAR SIR,—It was only this afternoon that information reached me that I was expected to address you on behalf of the Belleville Board of Trade, but I do so with the utmost pleasure, though permitted but a short time for any preparation.

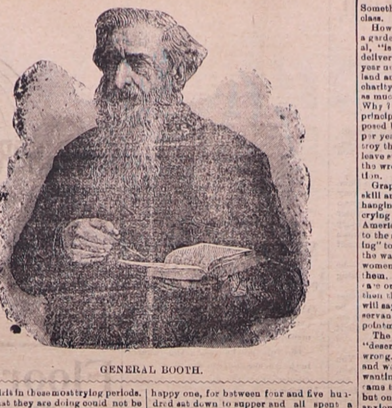

It may not appear at first sight to some here that there is much connection between trade and commerce and the salvation of men, though there is the most intimate connection, which would be readily seen by all were it not for the arbitrary and utterly unjustifiable divorce hitherto commonly made by religious teachers and others between the material and spiritual, between this world and the next. By this unreasonable attempt to separate souls and bodies, by treating as two separate entities what must always be to us mortals but two aspects of an indivisable unity, men lose themselves and lead others to the darkness of Tophet. In a vain and selfish attempt to save their souls, they lose both body and soul together.

Now, sir, whatever else may be said of your methods in the work of the Salvation Army, you deal with men in their totality, as the Almighty has made them, and not as mere abstractions of a theological brain. You accept the fact that we are beings of flesh and blood and bone and muscle and heart and nerves, through which we think and move and feel and act, and you perceive that any system of religious teaching which disregards or ignores in the smallest degree these necessary conditions of our existence here, is nothing but rank superstition—however seemingly profound its philosophy or exalted its theology it is of no more practical good to humanity than the fetishism of the naked savage. Indeed where this other worldliness prevails in religion, while what makes for the happiness and comfort of our fellow men on earth is wholly or partially neglected, it becomes the greatest kindness to human progress towards the divine ideal, and blights and shrivels the souls who practice it. Your work is an illustration of true religion, which is to succor the needy, relieve the distressed and extend sympathy to the downtrodden and the weak. To do justly and love mercy, this in an eminent degree has been the feature which has marked your efforts in striving that God's will might be done on earth as it is done in heaven.

You recognize also that it is not enough that we be right personally as individual men and women, but that it is incumbent upon all to strive to remove wrongs committed in our social capacity, as communities, states and nations, to right the wrongs in our social system and to bring to an end the gross injustice wrought by bad laws and evil social precedents, whereby heavy burdens are laid upon men's shoulders, and they debark from the boundless resources of nature which God in his goodness has provided for the use of all.

Among some of the evils in the world to be remedied is the separation of the people of the earth into hostile camps ready to hinder and harm one another instead of helping and furthering one another's interests. Trade and Commerce, that is, the exchanging between people in the world of those things which are needful for the sustenance, comfort and pleasure of each other, besides stimulating to exertion and healthful activity, tend to draw men of all nations closer together and reveal to them their brotherhood and mutual dependence, but ignorance and selfishness so prevail at present in nearly all countries, though professedly christian, as to raise barriers to the freedom of exchange and the great good to result therefrom. These barriers can only be removed by the people at large becoming animated by the simplest first principles of christian ethics which they profess to believe in, and insisting upon their country doing as it would be done by, whatever others may do, looking not every man on his own things but every man also on the things of others, then shall happiness and prosperity prevail in the earth and the Kingdom of Heaven be hastened.

Dr. Walker, representing the medical profession, was the next speaker. He said it was a great pleasure to be present to meet General Booth. He had been fully alive to the grand work being done by the Army among the poorer classes, and had often met its members at the bedside of the sick, and he could testify to their kindly

GENERAL BOOTH.

Christian spirit in these most trying periods. The work that they are doing could not be touched by any other organization. He had heard much of the sainted wife of their illustrious visitor, and he wished to add his token of esteem for the General and his work.

Mr. J. W. Johnson was the next speaker. He said that he had stood on many platforms, but never felt more highly honored than he was in standing along side of General Booth, who has done so much for humanity; a man who is not only one of the most remarkable of our day, but one of the most noted men of the nineteenth century. He rejoiced that the people and press of Canada were honoring him in such a marked degree, and that Belleville was doing its share.

We have no record, so far as he knew, of any man who has done more for the poor and the outcast since the days of our Saviour. No man has more closely followed the footsteps of Christ in seeking to save that which was lost. General Booth has emphasized the fact that God is no respecter of persons, and that he has not only made of one flesh all the nations of the earth, but that all classes of society are equally the children of the Creator. In face of the results that have been, and are being, achieved by the Salvation Army in rescuing the perishing, the cynical and the critical should now be silent. Christ like work should commend itself to every man and woman, even though the methods may be extraordinary.

There have been great religious movements in the past—the Crusades of the middle age, when the people of Europe were stirred by an enthusiasm that resulted in sending armies to the Holy Land to rescue Jerusalem from the infidel Turk. The great reformation of the 15th century, and the revival of Whitfield and the Wesleys in the 18th century. The last two were principally concerned about the soul and the future life. The Salvation Army seeks also the salvation of the soul and felicity in the world to come, but it also very emphatically concerns itself about the welfare of the body in this world. It is the greatest of all the gold cures—it cures both soul and body, and enables its patients to put gold and silver into their pockets.

The day is past when anybody can simply patronize the Salvation Army. Among those who have commended its work and prayed the Almighty to bless it are, Her Gracious Majesty Queen Victoria, a Lord Chancellor of England, (Lord Cairns), Cardinal Manning, Bishops of the Church of England, and that eminent and Godly and sympathetic man Dr. Farrer, Canon of Westminster. The old mother church herself has followed the Salvation Army by establishing the Church Army.

In conclusion Mr. Johnson paraphrased the well known eulogium pronounced by Daniel Webster on the British Empire as follows: "The Salvation Army has dotted the surface of the whole globe with its possessions and military posts, whose drum beat, following the sun and keeping company with the hours, circles the earth with one continuous and unbroken strain of gospel airs."

In this march it has elevated thousands of degraded lives. It has given hope and help to myriads of hopeless and helpless outcasts. To such work what man will hesitate to say, God speed.

Mr. Robt. Bogle, representing Belleville Business College, read an address of welcome from the faculty and students of that institution.

Rev. J. L. George, on behalf of the Ministerial Association, said he could only repeat the words of the preceding speakers. He said the duty of a minister was to bring sinners face to face with Christ, and then disappear. This, he believed, was the principle of the Salvation Army. He likened General Booth to Napoleon, in that he never wanted to hear the word "can't." He concluded by eulogizing the work of the Army.

Mayor Walmsley stepped to the front of the platform and called upon the audience to give the General three Bay of Quinte cheers, to which they responded most heartily.

The General, in coming forward, was warmly received. He said he did not expect to make a speech and he saw a banquet was prepared and he felt much in need of a cup of tea. He thanked the Mayor and the gentlemen who had addressed him. He felt that their kind words were born of sympathy for the work in which he was engaged. The purpose of the Salvation Army is simplicity and they had endeavored to carry out this idea to the fullest extent. They were trying to make men fit to live and ready to die. There are many to whom Christ seems almost impossible. They are the slaves of vice, habits and circumstances. These are the people the Salvation Army are trying to rescue. They were the wastrels of society and theirs was the only method of reclaiming them. The kind words that had been spoken would go with him and stimulate him to renewed efforts on behalf of the unfortunate class whom he was trying to deliver. These words of cheer would not only go out through himself, but through his officers and people, and through twenty-seven War Cries, to the ends of the earth. As they had spoken, so he asked them to pray for his people. Let us not be satisfied with our own selfish desires, but follow the teachings of the blessed Christ. He again thanked those present for the very kind reception tendered him. (Applause.)

After the benediction had been pronounced by Commandant Booth, the crowd dispersed, and the General and some of his staff were driven to the residence of Mr. R. Richardson, where they took tea.

The Banquet.

Great preparations had been made by the officers and soldiers of the local corps for supplying the wants of the inner man, and a splendid spread was laid in the butter market. Their idea was evidently a happy one, for between four and five hundred sat down to supper and all spent a most enjoyable time. The proceeds will be applied to the work in this city.

The Mass Meeting.

As early as seven o'clock crowds of people, anxious to see and hear the man of whom all had heard so much, could be seen wending their way towards Bridge st. church and when the doors were opened at 7:30 the large building was soon filled. The officers of various corps from surrounding towns and villages, together with the naval brigade were in the aisles seating the people and selling their song books. Major Fry presided at the organ and rendered several selections while the people were being seated. Staff Capt. Jewer, before the General made his appearance, asked the audience, and the Salvation Army soldiers, in particular, to give their leader a hearty welcome, and as soon as he stepped upon the platform there was a general clapping of hands and a regular Salvation volley fired. The General was preceeded by Col. Lawley and Mr. A. G. Northrup, the latter of whom acted as chairman. Among those on the platform, besides Army officers and soldiers, we noticed Revs. E. N. Baker, Trotter, A. Campbell, J. A. McCamus, Faull, J. L. George, Bodle, Robt. Wallace, Woodcock, and Messrs. Robt. Richardson, Mayor Walmsley, and W. B. Northrup, M. P., together with the officers of the General's staff.

The chairman asked the audience to rise and sing "Praise God from Whom All Blessings Flow," which they did in most hearty spirit. Col. Lawley then delivered a short but impressive prayer.

Mr. A. G. Northrup, chairman, said he was sure all would heartily welcome General Booth. He was doing a noble work, but he believed that his dead help mate had helped largely towards framing the principles of that work. He said he had been at the first meeting of the Salvation Army in this city and he was always pleased to hear of their success in their good work. He welcomed the General, whom he then called upon.

The General's Address.

General Booth on rising to his feet was greeted with loud applause. He said he had not been in the best of health of late and at first his voice was subdued and harsh, but in a very few minutes the rough edges were worn off and he went right along.

He began by thanking the audience for the kind welcome in extended, which he took as a compliment to the principles of the army which they were endeavoring to carry out.

DARKEST ENGLAND.

The General in opening said that in talking on this question it would be difficult to disassociate his own name and personality from it, and it was not the most congenial thing to be compelled to make references to himself, but he would do the best he could under the circumstances, for the cause must not be allowed to suffer through any feelings of his. "What shall I say? Where shall I begin? Where leave off?" asked the speaker. He wanted to make his ideas so plain that they could be comprehended by everyone. He did not care to lay claim to originality in his scheme outlined in "Darkest England," and it was charged that it was but a hash up. He did not care so long as it worked. When Solomen said there was nothing new under the sun he had never seen the Salvation Army. His scheme might be compared to an Irish stew, but he was willing to stick to the stew till his critics produced a turkey or chicken instead. "Darkest England" still holds the fort, and the speaker declared that he was giving an object lesson to the world. In great cities great evils exist, and these right in the cities of the loudest tongued professions of christianity. Not alone in England, but in Australia, Africa and America he had found them. The speaker said he would divide those to be reclaimed into several classes.

First were the destitute and starving. The description of the homes into which the poor of the great cities are often huddled was a vivid one. One room to be born in, to be raised in, to work in, to live in, to be sick in and to die in, without scarcely a ray of sunlight or a breath of fresh air. Under such circumstances, morality is difficult, and religion almost impossible.

Second, the vicious and drunkards. What will be done with them? In a manner they are cruel, selfish creatures, injuring others and sacrificing their own destiny here and hereafter. Still they are to be pitied, and thousands lie helpless, unable to shake off the shackles. Should not something be done?

Third, the Harlots. Society falls in its duty to those poor creatures who are offered up on the altar of man's selfishness. He drew a vivid picture of the vices of Piccadilly, and the ruination of thousands of girls from 12 to 14 years of age. Something must be done, for society and friends will have nothing to do with them.

Fourth, the Criminals. If a cab-horse falls down we lift him up, take him to the barn and give him oats, till he is strong enough to resume work. That is what is asked for the criminals. He showed a pair of boots worn by himself made by an ex-convict who had been rescued by the Army and was now in charge of their boot making establishment. When criminals get out of prison, there are three things which they can do—commit suicide, starve, or work. They are seldom public spirited enough to do the first. We help others in trouble—why not help them? Society is under obligations to help them. No one will engage an ex convict, and they cannot be blamed. How is it to be done?

Fifth, the Unemployed. It is said that there are 1,000,000 tramps in the United States. How jolly they are! With no taxes, no car fares, no political struggles—they live tourists, and go to a tourist's grave. In Australia they live on the fat of the land, and are fed whenever they demand it. Something must be done to reclaim this class.

How will the wilderness be turned into a garden? "My scheme," said the General, "is not one of amelioration, but actual deliverance. $50,000,000 is now spent each year under the Poor Relief Law in England and $50,000,000 is spent in private charity, but at the end of the year nearly as much destitution prevails as before. Why? Because it is dealt out on wrong principles. According to the plan proposed by him he thought that $50,000 000 per year for ten years would largely destroy the evils to which he had referred and leave sufficient property to compensate for the wreckage caused by the transformation.

Grapple with them by combined effort, skill and money. If your friends were hanging to the rigging of a stranded vessel crying for help you would not bring an American organ and a well dressed choir to the shore and sing "Rescue the Perishing" to them. No, you would plunge into the water, and if the men refused, the women would push them in, God bless them. People are afraid it will cost them care or money to lift up the fallen, and then they expect at the last day Christ will say, "Well done, good and faithful servant," but there will be great disappointments.

The poor are generally classified into the "deserving" and "undeserving," which is all wrong. People grow philosophical over it and work on the survival of the fittest, wanting only to save the fit, but Christ came to save the unfit. There should be but one classification. Help those who are anxious for help and are willing to put forth and effort in their own behalf. Be not harsh in judging of the sins of these people; the class sometimes called unde follow good health while low spirits, melancholia, impaired memory, morose, or irritable temper, fear of impending calamity and a thousand and one derangements of body and mind, result from pernicious, solitary practices, often indulged in by the young, through ignorance of their ruinous consequences. Nervous debility, and loss of manly power, not infrequently result from such unnatural habits.

(Continued on Page 2.)

GOOD SPIRITS

To reach, reclaim and restore such unfortunates to health and happiness, is the aim of an association of medical gentlemen, who have prepared a treatise, written in plain but chaste language and treating of the nature, symptoms and curability, by home treatment, of such diseases.

A copy of this useful book will, on receipt of this notice, with 10 cents in stamps, for postage, be mailed securely sealed in a plain envelope. Address, WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, Buffalo, N. Y.

YOUR. NEW.. DRESS—

What shall it be made up of?

Perhaps you'd like to choose it from some of those beautiful Scotch mixtures we're showing in a variety of prices? They're very nobby and just the fashion now.

— OR —

You will find a large assortment of plainer waves in our dress department. Ladies always like to make choice from a large assortment. That's one reason why they come here.

WE MAKE DRESSES!

Both our Miss Craig and Mrs. McLean have been to New York this season. They will be pleased to offer free, any ideas or suggestions as to making costumes.

If you should decide to leave your gown with us to be made, you will find the prices very moderate indeed.

GEO. RITCHIE & CO.

A new lot of....
"Health Brand"
underwear just..
received.......

Changed Daily.

WEDNESDAY, Oct. 19 h, 1894

Our 50 AND 60 CT. Teas!

Have you ever Tasted them?

THEY RECALL—

The delicious Teas of 30 years ago...

Stroud's
TEA STORE.

Hood's Cured After Others Failed

Scrofula in the Neck—Bunches All Gone Now.

Sangerville, Maine.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"Gentlemen:—I feel that I cannot say enough in favor of Hood's Sarsaparilla. For five years I have been troubled with scrofula in my neck and throat. Several kinds of medicines which I tried did not do me any good, and when I commenced to take Hood's Sarsaparilla there were large bunches on my neck so sore that I could not bear the slightest touch. When I had taken one bottle of this medicine, the soreness had gone, and before I had finished the second the bunches had entirely disappeared." BLANCHE ATWOOD, Sangerville, Maine.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

N. B. If you decide to take Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to buy any other.

Hood's Pills cure constipation by restoring the peristaltic action of the alimentary canal.

= SILKS =

We have in stock a full line of the

Corticelli Embroidery and Knitting Silks

..IN..

Honiton Lace Emb'y Silk.
Outline do do
Knitting Silk,
Twist Embroidery,
Roman Floss,
Filo Floss.

—ALSO—

27 INCH PURE JAPANESE SILK IN

LIGHT BLUE,
CREAM,
ROSE PINK,
CORAL PINK,
BUTTERCUP,
CARDINAL,

BLACK = SILKS!

In all the leading makes.

J. P. THOMPSON & CO.

A GOOD, WARM, CHEERFUL FIRE!

Will soon be in order as the cold weather is rapidly approaching

SO.....

...Do not Lose any Time

In ordering your supply of

Telephone C 68. Coal and Wood

...FROM...

S. A. LAZIER & SON'S.

The Leading Coal and Wood Merchants.

HOW NICE...

AND

...SO CHEAP

This expression was heard on all sides by our hundreds of patrons who visited us last Saturday.

No wonder such prices and novelties, one cannot resist the temptation of letting the purse strings loose.

No wonder when you can buy goods for almost one half the former price. This store introduced CUT PRICES and intend to keep it up.

No fancy or private mark, but in plain figures are all our goods marked. These are a few of the bargains we offer you this week:

5 Cases Flannellet, dark, pretty patterns, 28 in. worth 9c.. .. .. 7c
3 do Grey Flannel, worth 20c.. .. ..15c
2 do do do all wool, worth 25c.. .. .. 18c

A thousand different bargains in every department which space will not permit us to mention. Call and convince yourself.

H. A. LAYTON, BELLEVILLE.

Front St., Opposite Campbell St.

SOME HINTS!

Upon the Uses of Wall and Ceiling Paper.

TEN Per Cent Discount Now.

1. The better grades of paper last longer, are easier to hang and can be purchased at but slight advance in cost over the poorer grades.

2. Whitewash and calsomine are but little cheaper than ceiling papers and add nothing to the appearance of the room, in fact they more often destroy the harmony. To think of furnishing all the rest of your room (the floor even, which you deliberately tramp upon) and leave the most important part of it (the ceiling) without a particle of furnishing or character, except that of cleanliness, is beyond comprehension. Your upper wall and ceiling are the only unbroken decorative feature of a room. Furniture breaks the view of the lower wall and it is still further obscured by the hanging of pictures upon it; therefore let special attention be paid to the selection of wide border that shall be in harmony with wall and ceiling, and of ceiling that fittingly completes the beauty of the room.

3. Narrow borders are sufficient, if your aim is only to conceal the ragged ends of paper, but a wide border or frieze serves to heighten the appearance of a room and gives it a more artistic finish—makes it appear as if frescoed.

4. In making your selections, if the room has a north window, let some warmth appear in the paper. If the exposure is south or west, cooler shades can be appropriately used. For Dining-rooms let the walls be mellow in tone, indicative of hospitality.

Parlors can be treated according to individual taste, care being used to have wall and ceiling decorations in harmony with carpets and furniture.

Use for sleeping rooms, light ground papers with a spice of color in the pattern. Floral decorations are most in favor for such purposes.

5. Whatever may be the room or rooms that you are about to paper, don't forget that the better qualities of paper will retain their lustre long after cheaper grades have become dull and colorless.

6. Ten per cent. discount now.

CHAS. B. SCANTLEBURY.

24TH - - - - - YEAR.

Our Novelties in..

Fur Capes and Jackets

Are the talk of the City, and our Goods are

FIRST CLASS!

The reason for this is we have the

RIGHT STYLES AND PRICES

And our Furs are quite different from any other house in the City.

S. A. HYMAN.

Manufacturing Furrier.

Old Furs of all kinds cleaned, dyed and made over,

Bay of Quinte Steamb't Route

TRI-WEEKLY

DESER'TO, PICTON & KINGSTON

1894 - 1894

STR. "HERO"

THIS favorite steamer is now lighted by electricity and will have a strong search light for excursion business and the boat is heated by steam.

Commencing Monday, April 9th, will leave Belleville Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 6 a m, returning Tuesday, Thursday and Friday at 11 p m.

The very best facilities are offered to ship ers of freight. The lowest through and local rates quoted.

No wharfage at Picton on freight for this steamer.

Full information given by Gilbert Johnston or board, or to the

RATHBUN COM'Y.

. H. GILDERSLEEVE, Ticket Agents Kingston.

ROCHESTER.

STEAMER

NORTH KING

Leaves for Charlotte, N. Y., every Sunday, 11:45 p m.

Leaves for Picton and Kingston every Sunday, 3:20 a. m.

Arrive from Picton and Kingston every Sunday, 11:45 p.m.

Arrives rom Charlotte, N, Y., every Sunday, 3:20 a. m.

Special attention given to passengers and freight

WEEK DAYS.—Steamer leaves Port Hope week days for Charlotte N. Y., at 9:45 a m.

Calls at Brighton Monday 2 a.m., aand Wednesday 2.30 a.m., and at Colborne Wednesday and Fridays 4 a.m.

Connection made by Grand Trunk morning trains.

THE RATHBUN CO., - U. E. THOMPSON,
43tf Agents. Agent.

HAMILTON,

TORONTO, AND MONTREAL,

Via Bay of Quinte, Calling at all Ports Weekly.

THE FAVORITE STEAMER

"MAGNET"

Leaves St. Catharines Tuesday 9 a. m.
Toronto " 4 p. m.
Leaves Belleville for Montreal } Wednesday 7:30 a m
Leaves Belleville for Toronto } Sunday 3 p. m.

First Class Passenger Accommodation, Large Freight Capacity. Lowest Rates

For Tickets, Rates, &c., Apply to the RATHBUN COMPANY, Agents, or to

CAPT. J. J. TOWERS, Superintendent, No. 2 King st., Toronto.

C. F. GILDERSLEEVE, General Manager, 228 St. Paul st., Montreal.

GENTLEMEN....

Before ordering your Fall Clothing don't fail to take a look through

A. N. REID'S

New Fall Importations of

Scotch, English and Irish Suitings, Overcoatings, Pantings, Irish Serges, Cheviots, Hop Sackings and Black Worsteds

First Class Goods and Prices low.

Mr. Minor, our cutter, is one of the best in Ontario.

EVERY GARMENT GUARANTEED!!

Please call and inspect our New Goods.

A. N. REID.

UNDERWEAR...

—AT FISH'S!

Don't go shivering around any longer, but come and get some of our warm underclothing, and you will be happy and comfortable.

Sizes run from 30 to 46 inches. Our prices suit all pocket books.

We give value that cannot be beaten.

A. E. FISH & CO.

Try our King Shirt, and you will buy no other.

REMOVAL

MR. JOSEPH CALDWELL, DENTIST

Has removed his office to the new premises which he has had specially fitted up in the

Caldwell Block,

First door south of the Anglo-American Hotel Front street. 108t

Daily Intelligencer.

At Death's Door—Dyspepsia Conquered—A Great Medical Triumph.

GENTLEMEN,—My medical adviser and others told me I could not possibly live when I commenced to use Northrop & Lyman's VEGETABLE DISCOVERY for Dyspepsia. My case was one of the worst of its kind. For three years I could not eat meat and my weight decreased from 219 to 119 lbs. All the food I took for thirteen months previous to taking the VEGETABLE DISCOVERY consisted of milk. I am now entirely cured and have regained my usual weight, can eat anything with a keen relish and feel like a new man. I have sold over thirty dozen VEGETABLE DISCOVERY since it cured me, as I am well-known, and people in this section know how low I was, and thought I could not possibly be cured. They are eager to try this grand medicine. It certainly saved my life, as I never expected to recover when first I commenced using it. I am not exaggerating anything but feel glad to be able to contribute this testimonial and trust it may be the means of convincing others of its merits as a certain cure for Dyspepsia.

Signed JEAN VALCOURT,
Wotton, P. Q.

In 1888 the people of Great Britain paid taxes on 492 200 carriages.

Is there anything more annoying than having your corn stepped upon? Is there anything more delightful than getting rid of it? Holloway's Corn Cure will do it. Try it and be convinced.

In Portugal the tobacco tax brings £900,000, the land tax £700,000.

Some people laugh to show their pretty teeth. The use of Ivory White Tooth Powder makes people laugh more than ever. It's so nice. Price 25c. Sold by druggists.

Worms cause feverishness, moaning and restlessness during sleep. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator is pleasant, sure and effectual. If your druggist has none in stock, get him to procure it for you.

The rate of taxation has nearly quadrupled in France since 1830.

DYSPEPSIA causes dizziness, headache, constipation, variable appetite, rising and souring of food, palpitation of the heart, distress after eating. Burdock Blood Bitters is guaranteed to cure Dyspepsia if faithfully used according to directions.

Until about forty years ago, the Persian Government levied a tax on cats.

Mr T. J. Humes, Columbus, Ohio, writes: 'I have been afflicted for some time with kidney and Liver Complaint, and find Parmelee's Pills the best medicine for these diseases. These Pills do not cause pain or griping, and should be used when a cathartic is required. They are Gelatine Coated, and rolled in the Flour of Licorice to preserve their purity and give them a pleasant, agreeable taste.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP cures Bronchitis.

FOR CHOLERA MORBUS, Cholera Infantum Cramps, Colic, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, and Summer Complaint Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is a prompt, safe and sure cure that has been a popular favorite for over 40 years.

PETTYJOHN'S

CALIFORNIA BREAKFAST FOOD

Dyspeptics can eat this food.

It is particularly adapted for children and persons of sedentary habits.

It is made from Pacific coast wheat hulled and crushed by improved machinery.

It can be easily prepared for breakfast, as this crushing process makes it soft and tender and easy to cook

Ask your physician which is best for you to eat, oats or wheat

Pettijohn's California Breakfast Food is sold in packages by

BENMORE & BENSON.

Steamer "Iona"

Will leave Belleville three times each week for Oswego, connecting with trains for New York

STEAMER VARUNA

A HICKS, Captain

WILL leave Trenton every morning, (Sunday excepted) at 7:00 o'clock, calling at Rollerville and all points between the head of the bay and Picton, leaving Belleville at 8:30 a.m., Deseronto at 10:20 a.m.

On Tuesday and Thursday evenings to meet North King at Brighton, returning will leave Brighton Wednesday and Saturday mornings at 5:30.

Will connect at Picton with stage for Sand Banks.

Parties wishing to arrange for excursion rates will see Capt. Hicks on board

Will leave Picton at 1 p.m. on return for the head of the bay, Deseronto 2:30 p.m., Belleville, at 4:30 p. m., and Trenton, at 6.

Omnibuses in waiting at Picton, Belleville and Brighton.

The Rathbun Co., Agents, Belleville and Deseronto.

A. W. Hepburn, Agent, Picton.

ROCHESTER,

KINGSTON AND MONTREAL.

Weekly Service Calling at Way Ports

THE PEOPLE'S FAVORITE STEAMER.

"ALEXANDRIA"

Leaves Montreal, Thursday at 10:00 a. m.
Arrives Belleville, Saturday at 11:45 a. m.
Leaves for Rochester " " 1:15 p. m.
Arrives from Rochester, Monday at 6:30 a. m.
Leaves for Montreal, " " 7:30 a. m.

Spacious and elegant Saloon. Ample State room accommodation The choicest and best Meals furnished. Safety, comfort and enjoyment ensured by personal supervision of Capt. Smith and Purser Melrose. Careful handling of freight.

For Tickets, State rooms at lowest rates apply to

THE RATHBUN COMPANY,
Agents.

INSURANCE.

Western Assurance Company,

Fire and Marine Head Office, Toronto.

North British & Mercantile Ins. Co.,

Fire and Life, Head Office (Can.) Montreal.

Atlas Insurance Company,

Fire, Head Office (Canada), Montreal

M. M. THOMPSON

Water Works Office, Bridge St.

THE KISS OF GOLD.

By KATE JORDAN.

[Copyright, 1893, by J. B. Lippincott Company and published by special arrangement with them.]

"I must pay my debts. As you so often reminded me, they are legion. I owe you nothing more—thank God for that—but there are others."

"Murray, this is bosh. Let them wait. I should certainly be first with you. This is a critical moment for me. You can't refuse."

"I do. I refuse."

There was a sullen, red point in Delatole's purplish pupils. He felt very much as an elderly hen does who sees a half feathered chicken leave the shelter of her wing and with a defiant chirp make its hesitating way alone. It was a moment before he could control himself and speak.

"Surely Mrs. Baudoine's money"—he commenced with a forced, insulting laugh.

"You've talked a good deal about that money, Delatole. I'm sorry it must be left out of your calculations. The engagement's off. Sink or swim, I go it alone. Mrs. Baudoine understands, and we remain good friends."

"So that's the way the wind lies? You must be growing sentimental again. Well, then, your own money will answer. You're drawing big royalties from your play, and it's one to last. I tell you, Murray, if you refuse to assist me you are a contemptible ingrate." He stood up, placed his palms upon the table, his voice coiling serpent wise around the words. "It was I who made you. Don't forget that, my friend. You are an unformed stripling, a youngster groping in the dark, without polish, without suavity. Why, without me"——

The blood rushed to Tom's face.

"Don't remind me of what I was—without you. Don't let me think of what I have become following you," he interrupted fiercely. "You made me, you say? I have ruined myself, rather, and you have ably assisted at the wrecking. You can no more remake me now than can I myself."

He stood up, his eyes flashing with their old impulsive passion. The words came slowly, deliberately:

"Perhaps it's just as well we speak plainly at last. Delatole, you've robbed me."

"What?"

"Yes, you've lived upon me successfully for two years. I'm negligent about money, and I let you go on, but I'm not a fool. You have bled me in a most consistent and masterly manner, doubled my expenses with a lavish recklessness, and I knew it all the time. But I kept the peace, for I had made up my mind to end it at the first opportunity." He leaned forward, his face close to Delatole's, and his clinched hand rang on the table. "It's ended now."

During his adventurous life Anthony Delatole had many times been surprised, but never so thoroughly confounded before. He stood leaning upon the table and watched Tom out of the room. There was a craven malignity in every line of his sneering face. A longing almost irresistible gripped him to knock Tom down and kick him until the hot, brutal desire for retaliation had been glutted.

"Stumped, by God!" he muttered.

CHAPTER XIII.

The next fortnight saw an important change in Tom's life. He left the University building and took a cheaper suite of rooms on Irving place, one of the bivouacs of Bohemia. Delatole and he had parted in a silence that was sultry.

His plunges in Wall street kept him well supplied with money for the time being, and of the future he thought but little.

The secret had changed its aspect. He no longer cared to face it. It was now a monstrous fear maddening him with whispers of a hundred possibilities, prodding him, sending out false alarms and slowly chilling his assurance into an ever present premonition. Since the day Felix Dawson left him with the declaration, "Oh, yes, I'll have it back," he had not seen nor heard of him. This absolute withdrawal was more significant than threats. Suppose he had incontestable proof, after all? What if he lied when he said he had no copy? What if he could produce witnesses to prove he had written the play? Would this man some day appear again, relentless in his quiet way, and hurl the bombshell that would bring his false life in ruins about his ears?

His rupture with Delatole—that, too, made him uneasy. Oh, it was a load from his heart to have told him the truth, to have seen the sullen surprise deepen into a stolid hatred in his horrid eyes. It was a relief, a balm, but it brought a danger in its wake. Suppose they met, these two who for different reasons would rejoice in his overthrow. Then indeed might he shudder. Delatole would follow the scent insatiably. He would come like a vulture to pick his bones. Even if proof were not possible he would so damn him with suspicion, so besmear him with the trail of his innuendoes, so riddle him with the darts of his acrid humor, his prestige would be lost forever. Delatole had the power, the opportunity and the unswerving patience to write an enemy down and out of existence.

These dangers lay in wait for him at some turning in the darkness beyond his vision. But there was something more terrible—a voice that spoke to him as no living voice could. Mystic and personal, it came from his soul. Conscience, like the giant of fairy lore, sometimes awakens refreshed and hungry from a seven years' sleep. In this interval of inaction it was impossible for Tom to look back on the short life he had so quickly and completely degraded and feel no pang.

The heartburning, the anxiety, left their haggard marks upon his face. He grew thin, he became morose and melancholy. His world lost sight of him, but hidden in some corner of the crowded theater, driven there by a restless fascination, by the same resistless impulse which forces the murderer to feast his shrinking eyes upon his victim, he nightly watched the play that told him in every line he was a thief.

His nights were sleepless and filled with fears—intolerable links between morbid, feverish days. He drank heavily, trying to find in the flaming odors of brandy an assuagement for the ache in his heart.

This was Tom's life now. And across this waste, like a pale ray trembling from pure, open skies, came a longing, persistent as a thirst, to see Virginia.

He could not account for it. It was not that he fancied their friendship might be in any degree renewed, indeed he never seemed farther from her than at this period, never more undeserving of a glance from her eyes. But the desire was there, not forcible enough to send him seeking her, yet with him always. While fearing, half expecting to come face to face with Dawson, he was unconsciously looking for her on the streets, in shops and at the theater.

Two years had passed, and he had never chanced upon her. Such a thing could only be possible in a city like New York, where interests lie so widely apart and life rushes in great circles, one within another, never meeting. Virginia was scarcely a mile from him, yet not seeking each other they could not have been more separate had they lived in different towns. Bohemia and Chelsea square are antithetic—the one all fever, struggle, laughter, frailty, the other somnolent in an odor of sanctity, ruffled only by tremulous chimes as the days walk demurely on.

(To be Continued)

NEWS FROM THE CAPITAL

BEHRING SEA CORRESPONDENCE

Application Has Been Made to the Imperial Government to Publish the Documents, Which Has Not Yet Been Granted —The Supreme Court—An Appointment to the Quebec Superior Court.

OTTAWA, Oct. 17.—Sir Charles Tupper, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, on being interviewed, admitted the truth of the report that the Government had asked the permission of the British Government to publish the correspondence in the Behring Sea case. So far that request had not been granted. The publication of the documents would show that the contentions of the Americans in their case had not been carried out. The course the Government pursued would have the approval of the Canadian people.

Contrary to the general expectation the Supreme Court, when it met yesterday, did not give judgment in the power to prohibit case. The Ontario list, which includes all the cases west of the province of Quebec, was proceeded with.

The Ontario fees commission, which has been taking evidence all through the province with regard of payment of sheriffs and other provincial officers by fees instead of salaries, will open its enquiry in Ottawa to-morrow.

Judge Brooks, ex-M.P., will succeed to the position of Acting Chief Justice of the Superior Court of Quebec, rendered vacant by the promotion of Sir Napoleon Cassault to the chief justiceship. It had been erroneously stated that ex-Provincial Treasurer Hall would get the position.

ST. JOHNS, Nfld., Oct. 17.—The Twillingate bye-elections took place yesterday, Knight, Surveyor-General, having had to resign through acceptance of office. The contest is a very exciting one. Knight's majority last fall was only three votes. Both sides claim victory. The result will not be known before Thursday. In Trinity also there is a hard fight.

A Fatal Breckinridge Quarrel.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 17.—Buchanan Berry is dying at Turner from a pistol wound in the stomach inflicted by C. B. James, foreman of railroad construction. The two were discussing Breckinridge. James is a cousin of Jesse James. He is in custody.

After Coxey, Junior.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—A special from Massillion, Ohio, says a warrant has been issued for the arrest of Jesse Coxey, jr., on a delicate charge preferred by Miss Tidy Myers. Coxey has disappeared.

Drowning Disaster in Ireland.

DUBLIN, Oct. 17.—Eight persons were drowned through the capsizing of a fishing boat in Tralee Bay yesterday.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

TORONTO, Oct. 17, 1894.

In Oswego the barley market was rather nervous, Canadians being quoted at 51.

On the street here 400 bushels of wheat sold at 53c for white and 51c for red; 2,000 of barley at 44 to 49c; 150 of peas at 57 to 58c; and 600 of oats at 31 to 32c. Outside prices were unchanged.

Wheat was steady in Chicago and closing prices were about the same. Corn was firm and advanced 3-8 to 1-2. Oats were steady and unchanged.

The London stock markets were dull on account of the illness of the Ameer of Afghanistan. Consols have fallen. Americans were flat on advices that gold shipments from New York to the continent were beginning.

Contrary to general expectation, the New York stock market ruled firm. In some of Monday's weakest stocks there was a sharp reaction. The market as a whole was all but motionless up to the close.

Deseronto Navigation Company (Limited

Steamer Ella Ross.

This fast sailing and comfortable steamer leaves Belleville for Trenton daily (Sunday excepted), at 10 a.m. Leaves Belleville for Deseronto and Picton at 3 p.m., connecting at Deseronto with steamers for Napanee and Oswego. Lowest freight and passenger rates. For further information apply to the Rathbun Co., Bridge street, or to R. C. Carter, General Manager. Deseronto.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP cures Coughs.

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry cures Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cramps, Colic, Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum. and all looseness of the bowels. Never travel without it. Price 35c.

In parts of Peru taxes are paid in cocoa leaves and Peruvian barks.

For coughs, colds, bronchitis and all lung and throat troubles, there is no preparation of medicine can compare with Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup. It never fails to afford prompt and permanent relief. It removes all soreness, and heals the diseased parts. It immediately soothes the most troublesome cough, and by promoting expectoration, removes the mucus which stops up the air tubes which, cause difficulty in breathing, thereby gives relief to that depressing tightness experienced in the chest. Public speakers and singers will find Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup of inestimable value, as it speedily and effectually allays all irritation, and huskiness in the throat and bronchial tubes, and gives power to the vocal cords, rendering the voice clear and sonorous If parents wish to save the lives of their children, and themselves from much anxiety trouble and expense let them procure a bottle of Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup, and whenever a child has taken cold, has a cough or hoarseness, give the Syrup according to directions.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP heals the lungs.

A stinted wife can find a vest pocket in the dark.

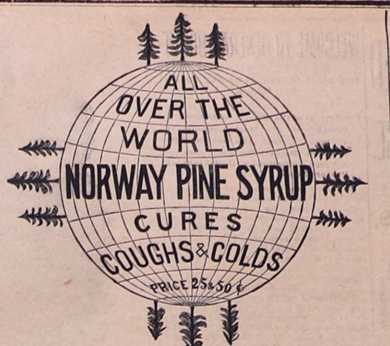

Ample warning is given us by our lungs when they are in danger. If foolhardy enough to neglect the warning signal, we incur imminent peril. Check a cough at the outset with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil—which is a sovereign pulmonic—besides being a remedy for soreness, lameness, abrasions of the skin, tumors, piles, rheumatism. etc.

BURDOCK PILLS, small, safe, and sure, regulate the liver and cure constipation.

Robert Lubbork, Cedar Rapids, writes: "I have used Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil both for myself and family for Diptheria with the very best results. I regard it as the best remedy for this disease, and would use no other.

Holland is the only country in Europe that admits coffee free of duty.

DYSPEPSIA arises from wrong action of stomach, liver and bowels. Burdock Blood Bitters cures Dyspepsia and all diseases arising from it, 99 times in 100.

Floor Oil Cloths...

We have now in stock, FLOOR OIL CLOTHS up to 24 ft. wide

....FOR STOVES!

- - ALSO A LINE - -

ENGLISH OIL CLOTHS

Suitable for under Stoves at 30c. sq. yd.

NATHAN JONES.

IT - HAS - BEEN - ADMITTED

—BY OVER 125 PEOPLE IN BELLEVILLE THAT THE—

John Bull Wrought Steel Range,

Is the most Economical, Everlasting and Useful Range on the market. How is this for three Seasons.

SEE THEM AT FOSTER'S.

Also the Duchess of Oxford Cast Iron Range

LISTEN FRIENDS!!

We SAY because we KNOW!

Our COAL! This Season is unexcelled for quality because the Bill of Lading bears the Brand of the Delaware & Hudson Canal Company.

Cut this out and test this "Ad" when the Winter Winds whistle.

THE RATHBUN COMPANY.

ONTARIO MUTUAL LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY.

S. Burrows, Esq., General Agent, Ontario Mutual Life Co., Belleville, Ont.

DEAR SIR, Received your company's check for $2,000 for our Matured Endowment, and we both wish to show our gratitude to you and the Company for the straightforward and satisfactory way you deal with policy holders, and that we are more than satisfied with our investment. I will always urge our friends to follow in our footsteps. Thanking you very kindly.

Yours very sincerely,
Mr. & Mrs. GOODWIN, Bowmanville,
Formerly of Belleville.

The Sale of Boots and Shoes:

Slightly damaged by Smoke and Water will continue until everything is sold.

HAINES & LOCKETT

Opposite Anglo-American Hotel

Belleville and Napanee, Office, Bridge St. Telephone A. 4.

COAL—AND—WOOD.

THOS. STEWART,

The only dealer in Scranton Coal in Belleville and Napanee. The very best facilities for delivering to any part of the city or surrounding towns this coal, which is the best and cheapest mined.

No Gas No Clinkers. No Waste

Clean, quick, hot, strong, cheerful fire. Smithing, Cannell, Brier Hill, Run of Mine coal and Coal Screenings always on hand. Hard and soft wood, Blocks and Edgings delivered to any part of the City.

TO THE PUBLIC.

When we decided to add the manufacture of carriages, phaetons, democrats, &c., to our business, we immediately put under construction a few of each. As we decided to place no vehicle on the market which is not A 1 in every detail, and knowing that no first-class vehicle can be produced on the rush, it has been necessary for us to take sufficient time to produce what we aimed at. We think we have succeeded; and we now have a few rigs completed, and others nearing completion to offer for sale. The iron work is all hand forged; the wood work carefully made, and strongly ironed; and the painting and upholstering done with the best material and greatest care. We can freely recommend these rigs. We will be pleased to have parties who may need anything in the above line, call and inspect our work.

ST. CHARLES & PRINGLE.

JAS ST CHARLES. - - - - HENRY PRINGLE

Camping Supplies!

—AND—

Picnic - Requisites!

Our list of articles suitable for Picnic Lunches and Camping includes:

Canned Meats.

ARMOUR'S COOKED BEEF,
ARMOUR'S OX TONGUES,
ARMOUR'S LUNCH TONGUES,
ARMOUR'S POTTED HAM,
ARMOUR'S COOKED PIG FEET'
ARMOUR'S LUNCHEON MEAT.
ARMOUR'S POTTED TONGUE
ARMOUR'S BRAWN,
SANDWICH MEATS,
BONELESS CHICKEN,
BONELESS TURKEY,
POTTED BEEF,
POTTED GAME,
ETC.! ETC.!! ETC!

Canned Fish.

FINEST SARDINES IN OIL,
FINEST SARDINES IN TOMATO,
HERRINGS IN TOMATO SAUCE,
KIPPERED HERRINGS,
FRESH HERRINGS,
SALMON, LOBSTERS,
FINNAN HADDIES,
BLOATER PASTE,
ANCHOVY PASTE,
SARDINE PASTE,
ETC.! ETC.! !ETC!!!

Sundries.

Condensed Milk in Tins, Cream in Tins, Biscuits (in great variety), Fine old Cheese, McLaren's Imperial Cheese (in small crocks), Dried Beef, Choice Hams and Bacon, Lime Juice, Spanish Olives, CROSSE & BLACKWELL'S Pickled White Onions, Walnuts, Chow Chow, and and Mixed Pickles.

WALLBRIDGE & CLARKE

Grocers and Wine Merchants,

33 and 37 Bridge Street. Also Front Street, in Caldwell Building.

Before putting up your STOVES have the

TRIMMINGS RE-PLATED

— AT THE —

BELLEVILLE PLATING WORKS

HARRIS & WALTON'S FACTORY MILL ST.

RIBBONS!

We have an extra large stock of Ribbons on hand in all the light and fancy shades including

BABY RIBBONS,
SILK " "
SATIN " "
MOIRE " "
ETC., — ETC.

Our prices are the lowest, and we will be pleased to have you give us a call whenever wanting Ribbons.

SILK ELASTICS....

We have a splendid stock of Fancy Silk Elastic, made in Yellow, Blue, Green, Orange, Cardinal, Black, Pink, Mauve, White All one price, 25c yard, at

THE BEEHIVE

CHAS. N. SULMAN

ALLAN LINE,

Royal Mail Steamships. Liverpool. Calling at Moville.

	From Montreal daylight	From Quebec
PARISIAN	Oct. 6	Oct. 7
MONGOLIAN	" 13	" 14
HIBERNIAN	" 20
LAURENTIAN	" 27	" 28
NUMIDIAN	Nov. 3	Nov. 3
PARISIAN	" 10	" 11

RATES OF PASSAGE.

First cabin Derry and Liverpool, $45 and upwards single; $95 and upwards return. Second cabin, Liverpool, Derry, Belfast, Glasgow, $30; return $55. Steerage at lowest rates (everything found).

All steamships except the Hibernian carry 1st cabin, 2nd cabin and steerage passengers.

STATE LINE SERVICE

NEW YORK, LONDONDERRY AND GLASGOW.

STATE OF NEBRASKA	Oct. 12
STATE OF CALIFORNIA	" 26
STATE OF NEBRASKA	Nov. 22

Cabin passage, $40 and upward, return $80 and upward; Second cabin $25. Steerage at lowest rates.

For tickets and other information apply to
U. E. THOMPSON
General Ticket Agency,
Bridge St., Belleville,
or to S. BURROWS,
Agent

INTELLIGENCER PRINTING AND PUBLISHING COMPANY (LIMITED.

J. O. JAMIESON, President. | J. W. BORDON, Secretary

THE Treasurer is the only person authorized to receive money from the Company, or to grant receipts for the same.

All Bills, Notes, Cheques and other documents binding on the Company, will require the signature of the President, in addition to the signature of the Treasurer.

THE INTELLIGENCE is printed and published by the INTELLIGENCER Printing and Publishing Company (Limited) by James O Jamieson, resident in Belleville, the Office, Front St., south of Hotel St.

The Daily Intelligencer.

LET THERE BE HARMONY IN THINGS ESSENTIAL—LIBERALITY IN THINGS NOT ESSENTIAL—CHARITY IN ALL.

VOL 28. BELLEVILLE ONTARIO THURSDAY OCTOBER 18 1894 NO 142

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

MEDICAL.

DR. WISHART.

47 GROSVENOR ST., Toronto, will be at the Huffman House, Belleville, Saturday, Dec. 1st, '94. 192dw1y

DR. QUACKENBUSH, M.D., H.M.D., M.D., P.S.O.

HOMŒOPATHIC Physician, Surgeon and Accoucheur, has removed his office over store lately occupied by J. C. Overell, Residence George St., opposite H. Corby's.

JOHN J. FARLEY, M. D., C. M., M. R. C. S. England.

OFFICE and Residence—corner of Bridge and George Streets—three streets east of Post Office.

LEGAL.

FLINT & McCAMON.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public, etc. Solicitors for the Canadian Bank of Commerce. Office, City Hall, Front Street, Belleville, Ont. d84tf
JOHN J. B. FLINT, W. J. McCAMON.

STEWART MASSON.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, Notary, Conveyancer, etc. Office, South side Bridge st., over Wallbridge & Clark's, Belleville, Ont. Money to loan at lowest rates. 76dwtf

J. F. WILLS' LAW OFFICE.

REMOVED to Campbell Street (south side) 2nd door from Front Street, on ground floor.

A. GOODRICH.

LAWYER, 124 Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill., 28 years' experience; secrecy; special facilities in several States; Goodrich on Divorce; with laws of all States in press. 76d1y

GEO. A. KINGSTON.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, etc., with Lount, Marsh and Cameron, 25 Toronto St., Toronto. Money to loan on farm property at lowest rates. 233dtf9w.

MIKEL & ROBERTS.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notary Public, Conveyancers, etc. Offices Bridge St., Belleville. Monies to loan at lowest rate.

THOMAS & HALLIWELL.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Conveyancers, &c. Money to loan. 293d3mw1y
J. PARKER THOMAS, J. EARL HALLIWELL.

PONTON & MORDEN,

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public, Conveyancers. Office over Express and Telegraph Office, Bridge St., Belleville. Money to loan—private funds.
WM. N. PONTON, M. A., Solicitor Hastings Loan and Investment Society.
W. S. MORDEN, B.A.

E. GUSS PORTER.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, Notary Public. etc. Office in the Robertson Block, east side of Front Street.
Private Money to Loan, 271dw1y

FRANCIS S. WALLBRIDGE.

(Successor to Hon. Lewis Wallbridge, Q.C.) BARRISTER, Solicitor, Conveyancer, etc. Office, McAnnany building, corner Front and Bridge streets, Belleville, Ont. Private and Company money to loan at 6 per cent., on easy terms upon good land security. Charges moderate.

HENRY CARRE, C. E.

M. C. Soc C.E.,
DOMINION AND PROVINCIAL LAND SURVEYOR.

Special attention paid to Hydraulics and Land Drainage. Patents obtained and Drawings made. Office—McAnnany Block, under Ontario Business College, Front St. P.O. address—Box 203, Belleville.

A. G. NORTHRUP.

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Shire Hall, Belleville. 226d&w1y

D. I. DULMAGE, L.D.S., D.D.S. (Tor. University).

DENTIST—Office over Brignall & Thompson's. Night calls at residence on Forin Street d,w

CHAS. JOSE.

VETERINARY Surgeon, Graduate Ontario Veterinary College, Member Ontario Veterinary Society. Office and residence, Foxboro, Ont. Calls by mail or telegram promptly attended to. 304d,w1y

MISCELLANEOUS.

AGENTCY of the Liverpool and London and Globe Fire and Life Insurance Companies.
W. P. HUDSON, Agent.
Office Campbel. street, Belleville. d,w

-PLUMBING-

We have added to our Workmen,

MR. GEORGE JOHNSON,

Who has for the past six years been prominent on large contracts in Victoria, B. C., San Francisco, Denver, and Chicago.

— ALSO —

MR. EDWIN W. BISHOP,

A graduate of the New York School for Plumbing (class 92), who comes highly recommended.

With these men added to our staff, we feel sure of giving satisfaction to all in Sanitary Plumbing.

C. F. Smith & Co.

STOVE PIPES!
STOVE PIPES!!
STOVE PIPES!!!

WHIPS! LANTERNS!
WHIPS!! LANTERNS!!
WHIPS!!! LANTERNS!!!

Lamps, Flower Pots,
Lamps, Flower pots,
Lamps, Flower Pots.

—AT—

THE FAIR,

FRANK WEEKS, MANAGER.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

ACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York.

Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

A. Leflar.

DISEASED LUNGS

CURED BY TAKING

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral.

"I contracted a severe cold, which settled on my lungs, and I did what is often done in such cases, neglected it. I then consulted a doctor, who found, on examining me, that the upper part of the left lung was badly affected. The medicines he gave me did not seem to do any good, and I determined to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking a few doses my trouble was relieved, and before I had finished the bottle I was cured."
—A. LEFLAR, watchmaker, Orangeville, Ont.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Highest Awards at World's Fair.

Ayer's Pills Cure Indigestion.

"FOR THE BENEFIT OF RHEUMATIC SUFFERERS,"

ACETOCURA

MADE ME ANOTHER MAN

G. H. REEVES,
(Reeves & Beebe),
169 State street, Chicago.

Coutts & Sons,
72 Victoria street, Toronto.

Write for gratis pamphlet to COUTTS & Sons, 72 Victoria street, Toronto. Head offices—London, Glasgow and Manchester, (G.B.) Cologne, Germany, Aaron, Switzerland.

Local Agents—

L. W. YEOMANS & CO.,
DRUGGISTS,
BELLEVILLE.

PREPARE FOR the STRUGGLE.

The course of study offered by the Belleville business College gives a young person a thorough and practical knowledge of business, and also that mental culture and discipline which sharpens perceptive faculties, stimulates ambition, develops ability and prepares for the struggle of making a living. Every step in the work is characterized by thoroughness. Besides we use the most practical methods.

In teaching shorthand we dictate actual letters and legal evidence. Other schools have undertaken to imitate our methods, but the quality of their work bears that relation to practical business which the imitation does to the real.

We represent things exactly as they are.

Belleville Business College.

ROBERT BOGLE, Proprietor.

Daily Intelligencer.

THEY HISSED NED BLAKE

His Opponents Attempt to Break Up a Meeting in New York.

A SHAM BOMB CAUSES A PANIC

While Mr. Blake Was Speaking Smoke Was Seen Rising From a Box—Irish Independents Issue a Circular in Which the Great Canadian Irishman Is Referred to as a Begging Ambassador.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—Edward Blake, who was formerly leader of the Opposition in the Canadian Parliament and who some years ago went to Ireland and was elected to Parliament from an Irish borough, was given an enthusiastic reception in Lennox Lyceum last night. As things look now his visit will be productive of the hottest fight among Irishmen that has been known in years.

Mr. Blake has been visiting in Canada, and came here on Tuesday night. A reception had been planned for him by his friends to take place in Cooper Union last night, but an entirely different one has been arranged for him by the Parnellites, who are not his friends. The purpose of this reception is set forth in a circular issued by the Irish Independent parliamentary party of which Edward O'Flaherty is president, John Brennan, secretary and Henry G. Bannon, treasurer. The circular says among other things:

"The Hon. Edward Blake, M. P., Canadian loyalist and politician, after the death of Mr. Parnell, went to Ireland to find a larger field for the exercise of his peculiar talents, and was received with open arms by those who hounded Parnell to the grave. He comes to the United States as a begging ambassador to replenish the depleted funds of the Whig factions in Ireland, who have openly acknowledged an Englishman as their leader and whose grovelling submission to English influences has placed home rule in the dim regions of future speculation."

The circular winds up by asking if Irishmen remember the lessons of history, and if Irish nationality is a myth, and it is signed by the circular committee as follows: John P. Moran, chairman, Geo. W. M. Gee, secretary, Thomas F. Brady, J. J. Cullen, T. P. Edwards, Edward Dornan, Joseph L. Keane.

Justice Wauhope Lynn said to-day to a reporter that this circular was as good a representation of his position as could be made.

"We propose," said Justice Lynn, "to do all we can to help Irishmen on the other side with money and influence, but we want nothing to do with Mr. Blake."

Judge Lynn and the other Irish-Americans will have a mass meeting in the near future, probably at Cooper Union, and other meetings will be held in different parts of the city; the object being to resent what they term the interference of Mr. Blake and call upon the Irish leaders on the other side to stop wrangling and to get together at this critical time when unity is essential.

The friends of Mr. Blake are in no manner frightened by the onslaught of his opponents in New York.

An attempt, apparently well organized, was made to break up the meeting last night, which under the auspices of the Irish National Federation, was being held. Several hundred men attempted to gain admissions on forged tickets but nearly all were stopped at the doors. There had been reports that trouble might be expected and twenty policemen were stationed at the entrance of the doors and about the interior. The persons who took seats on regular tickets numbered probably 500. Three men who tried to disturb the speaker by hissing were ejected.

One man had gained access to a box by paying $1 for a platform ticket. He remained quiet till shortly before 10 o'clock when he left the box and got out of the building. Almost immediately after he went from the box a thin line of smoke was noticed by a few to arise from a point where the man had been sitting. People in the immediote vicinity arose in excitement. A moment later the smoke suddenly thickened to a dense column and there was a stampede for the door.

Mr. Blake, who was speaking at the time, remained perfectly cool. Raising his arm towards the people who were running, he said: "Don't leave. It is only a little smoke and won't hurt you."

Someone cried, "Dynamite," and three policemen rushed over to the box, which was situated in the southeast corner of the auditorium. The policemen found an ordinary rocket bomb which had been filled with powder and had burned itself out. It had apparently been arranged in an old umbrella and brought in the hall concealed thus. The bomb was a blue-colored pasteboard affair.

The meeting had been called to tender a reception to Mr. Blake and to raise funds for the McCarthy section of the Irish party. Mr. John Walsh, chairman of the City Council of the Irish Federation of America, introduced Judge Daly as the presiding officer of the evening. In doing so he stated that Mayor Gilroy had accepted an invitation to preside, but at the last moment had declined for the reason that he was called away from the city. Among those on the platform was Hon. F. W. Glen, who was a colleague of Mr. Blake in the Canadian Parliament. Judge Daly paid a high tribute to Mr. Blake, speaking of him as one who had made great sacrifices for the Irish Nationalists' cause and whose commission commended itself to everyone who had the good of the Irish people at heart.

Mr. Blake was warmly received by the audience. He said it gave him peculiar pleasure to have at last the opportunity of addressing a body of fellow Irishmen and women assembled in the city of New York which, he believed, contained the largest aggregate of those claiming Irish birth or descent of any place. He continued in part as follows:

"It would take a practised orator to do what I am about to attempt and I don't set up to be an orator. I am but a plain man, capable of saying plain things in a plain way to plain people like myself, and what I have to try to do is to bring before you in one short address something of the past, something of the present and something of the future of the movement. I believe that we are at this moment arrived at a very critical period in the great struggle in which we have been engaged for so long a period.

"It may do us good to take stock of the situation, to see how we have stood, how we stand, and to see how we expect to stand and by what steps we propose to advance. Now, let me bring before you some of those facts which ought to bear upon our estimate of the situation and our view of the duty of the future. It must be borne in mind that during the last half century Ireland's population has been diminishing with a steadiness and rapidity that is truly appalling. Half a century ago there were 8,175,000 people on the island. In 1891 there were 4,700,000, a loss of nearly 3,500,000, absolutely independent of the natural increase of population altogether.

"Meantime, while this unexampled depopulation was taking place, the population of the neighboring island of Great Britain has been rapidly and steadily increasing, and the result is a great absolute and a still greater relative reduction of our strength, measuring that strength by population' as compared with the island of Great Britain. The net result is that in 1841 we had one-third the population of the United Kingdom and that to-day we have about one-eighth of the population of the Kingdom.

"Terribly misgoverned, over taxed, Ireland could not have been expected to make progress in comparison with the sister Island. Let me say one thing with reference to those whom seem disposed, I believe, to a more forcible programme for the gaining of Ireland's rights and who despair of the constitutional movement. Let me remind them of another obvious fact, that the resources of the undisciplined strength of the people have enormously increased with the invention of weapons of precision, and modern tactics have altogether changed the methods of armies struggling for supremacy."

The speech was warmly applauded, and afterwards a subscription list was opened and over $2,000 was subscribed.

It was feared that violence might be offered to Mr. Blake or members of the committee when they left the building, but sufficient police protection was on hand, however, to prevent any demonstration. The several gangs of men did not disperse until Mr. Blake was safely on his way in a Fourth avenue car to the residence of Dr. Thomas Addis Emmet.

A CANADIAN COPYRIGHT.

Frederick Daldys Replies to Mr. Lancefield of Hamilton.

LONDON, Oct. 18.—The Times of the 11th inst. printed a long letter from Richard Lancefield, dated at the public library in Hamilton, Canada, attacking Frederick Daldys' statements as to the Canadian copyright. The statements were contained in a letter to the Times of last May 3. Daldys now replies at length, contending that the copyright Canada offers is a mockery.

Lancefield complained that Canadian publishers cannot require the copyright of British authors, because the United States publishers buy the Canadian market with the American.

Daldys retorts: "Why does not the Canadian publisher come forward first and buy both markets? It is all a matter of commercial competition. I regret that American copyright of British authors is jeopardized by the apprehension of our allowing Canadian printers to re-print copyrighted books with the authors' sanction."

Daldys finally appeals to Lancefield, who is proud of imperial unity, to advocate copyright unity.

The King's Daughters.

MONTREAL, Oct. 18.—The second triennial convention of King's Daughters and Sons opened here yesterday. Elizabeth M. Tilley, of London, the Dominion secretary, presided. Miss A. M. Browne, the Ontario secretary, Toronto, and other provincial secretaries, and Mrs. Marion Bottone, New York, the international president, were among those present. Lady Aberdeen, who is a member of the order, sent a letter of regret at being unable to attend.

H., G. and B. Railway Opened.

HAMILTON, Oct. 18.—The Hamilton, Grimsby and Beamsville Electric Railway was formerly opened yesterday, and three special trains left the city conveying hundreds of invited guests, including the municipal representatives, shareholders of the road and others, to Grimsby. At the latter place refreshments were served and speeches of congratulatory nature were made by a number of prominent men. To-day the road opens for general traffic.

A Blaze in Collingwood.

COLLINGWOOD, Oct. 18.—A fire broke out in the stables of the Toronto House and before it could be got under control the stables, the rear part of the hotel, two cottages and several piles of lumber and shingles were destroyed. Wilson Bros., who owned the lumber, lose about $600. No insurance. Mr. Cook, of the Toronto House, loses about $3,000. Insured for $1,300.

Mr. Foster Arrives in England.

LONDON, Oct. 18.—Hon. Geo. Foster, Canadian Minister of Finance, has arrived here. He will rest for a couple of days before beginning negotiations with British financial institutions for the coming year. The arrangements will include the floating of a small loan to replace the floating indebtedness on which a much higher rate of interest is being paid.

Fire in Listowel.

LISTOWEL, Ont., Oct. 18.—Yesterday fire broke out in a frame building at Main and Raglan streets, owned and occupied by A. Morrow as a dwelling, and partially occupied by Mrs. Gibson as a grocery. The building is badly damaged; no insurance. Mrs. Gibson's stock, considerably damaged by removal, is insured in Perth Mutual for $700.

A Boy Killed by a Train.

GRAVENHURST, Ont., Oct. 18.—A boy about 10 years of age named Tommy Day, son of Fred Day, an employe of the Rathbun Co. here, while attempting to cross the track in front of the incoming mail train, was struck in the head by the engine and fatally injured.

Three Kingston Cadets Suspended.

KINGSTON, Oct. 18.—As a result of the investigation into the treatment of Cadet Plummer, of Toronto, by comrades, three Royal Military College cadets have been suspended and fourteen confined to the college grounds.

Mrs. Ives Wants Divorce.

LONDON, Ont., Oct. 18.—The wife of Henry Ives, the insane blackmailer, is reported to be endeavoring to obtain a divorce. She has been told that Ives has a wife and two children in England.

Died of Her Injuries

QUEBEC, Que., Oct. 18.—Else Gagnon, who was fatally injured in an accident on the Quebec, Montmorency and Charlevoix railway several days ago, died at the Hotel Dieu hospital yesterday.

Mgr. Satolli in Quebec.

QUEBEC, Oct. 18.—Mgr. Satolli was entertained at dinner in the Grand Seminary dining room yesterday, after which he visited the Ursuline and Grey nunnery convents, where addresses were read and appropriate hymns sung. In the evening a controversial debate on theology was rendered before him by his former pupils in Rome at Laval University. He officiated at an evening service at the Basilica. He left by special train this morning for St. Anne de Beaupre.

NEWS FROM THE CAPITAL

The Premier Preparing for His Trip Across the Ocean.

TO BE SWORN IN PRIVY COUNCILLOR

Senator Sanford Will Accompany Him—The Session in February—The Investigation Into Ocean Rates on Cattle—A French and English Company of Capitalists Will Tender for the Cable.

OTTAWA, Oct. 18.—A prominent politician who was here to-day confirms the recent report that Sir John Thompson is preparing to leave for England. It is stated that the Premier will be accompanied on this trip by Senator Sanford, of Hamilton, who has been here for a couple of days past. A reporter was unable to ascertain at the Department of Justice what day the Premier would sail. His departure would no doubt depend upon public business. The politician referred to says that Sir John and Mr. Sanford will be away until about the end of November. During his stay in England the Premier will be sworn in a member of the Privy Council. He has not been in England since that honor was conferred upon him. The same politician stated that Parilament will meet early in February. He said that he had been so informed on good authority. It is understood that Senator Sanford's family will accompany him to England. Sir John's departure will put an end for the present to all talk about opening Cardwell and Lisgar.

Mr. Magee, of the Fisheries Department, who was appointed by Order-in-Council to take evidence as to the alleged exorbitant ocean freight rates on cattle, has communicated with the various steamship companies, and they have all expressed their readiness to give evidence whenever the commissioner is ready to hear it. Mr. F. O. Robson, of the Dominion Live Stock Association, whose reply was delayed owing to his absence from Montreal, has written to say that he thinks the investigation had better be postponed until after the close of navigation.

G. F. Blackstock, Q.C., of Toronto, is in town in connection with a large company of English and French capitalists, who are preparing to tender for the construction of the Pacific cable. He had an interview with Hon. Mr. Bowell in reference to the matter.

A scheme is on foot to build an electric railway from Aylmer to Ottawa, a distance of nine miles.

W. A. Plummer, of Sault Ste. Marie, and Mr. MacDonnell, M.P. for Algoma, are here on business with the Government in regard to water privileges on the St. Lawrence.

Montreal Police Investigation.

MONTREAL, Oct. 18.—At yesterday's session of the Montreal police investigation committee Andrew Cullen, chief of the Montreal deeective force, was placed on the stand and asked to explain the system pursued in the force. Cullen is a shrewd Irishman who served for many years in the Irish constabulary and the lawyers found it pretty hard to get any admissions out of him. He admitted, however, that the force was entirely too small for a city of the size of Montreal. There were only eight detectives altogether and they had to cover work over the whole district. Cullen produced the books of the department, which showed that the system in vogue was very antiquated.

Ignored Their Passports.

DETROIT, Oct. 18.—Immigratian Inspector Batthey arrested three Chinamen, who arrived on the Grand Trunk train at Port Huron from Canada. Two of the Chinamen carry passports and say they are naturalized citizens of Canada, and are entitled to all the privileges of a Britisher while traveling. Chin Ling says he is a member of the firm of A. Quong Huy & Co., of Montreal, and Sang Weh says he is a member of the firm of On Gin Hong & Co. The arrest may lead to an exchange of diplomatic letters between Washington and London.

FIRED ON THE RIOTERS.

They Attempt to Lynch a Prisoner—Three of the Mob Killed.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 18.—In the criminal court at Washington court house yesterday Jasper Dolby, the negro, who assaulted Mrs. Mary C. Bird a week ago, confessed the crime and was sentenced to the penitentiary for twenty years. An attempt to lynch the prisoner had been feared and the court house and jail, which form parts of one building, were surrounded with militia.

As darkness came on a crowd of 1,500 people surrounded the building, yelling "Lynch him, lynch him!"

Finally some one throw a stone, which struck a soldier in the breast. Then Col. Coit, of this city, whose anger was aroused, addressed the people. He told them not to repeat the offence.

"If you want to injure anyone," said he, "hit me and not those young men," and, with hat uplifted, he walked out into the crowd. The crowd gathered around him, but not a man lifted his hand to strike the officer.

As the darkness increased, the crowd surged closer and closer to the court house steps. Col. Coit addressed them again, but they would not listen to him. He shouted that he would have to order the soldiers to fire if they did not fall back, but on they came and finally the order to fire was given. Many were seen to fall and the mob fled like a lot of frightened sheep. The following were killed:

Smith Welch, 18 years old, son of a grocer; shot in the head and abdomen.

Jesse Juty, 25 years old; shot in breast and abdomen.

Mack Johnson, of Williamsburg, shot in bowels.

Eight others were wounded, three seriously.

Two Men Asphyxiated.

BROOKLYN, Oct. 18.—Two race track followers were found asphyxiated in the Metropolitan hotel at Kent avenue and Grand street. They were identified as Harris Olney and James Dallen. When the two men entered the hotel the previous night they were under the influence of liquor.

The Ameer Reported Dead.

CALCUTTA, Oct. 18.—A Lahore newspaper says that the Ameer of Afghanistan is dead. It describes the death scene and relates at length how the Ameer exhorted his eldest son and heir, Habib Ulla, to maintain friendship with Great Britain. No confirmation of this story has been obtained.

A British Bye-Election.

LONDON, Oct. 18.—A parliamentary election was held in Berkenhold yesterday to fill the seat left vacant by Viscount Bury's succession to the peerage. The Conservatives held the seat, returning Elliot Lees, with 6,149 votes against 6,033 cast for Lover, a Radical.

See This Dress?

Surprise Soap Washed it.

And will wash any washable material without injury to the color or material—it is harmless yet effective.

White goods are made whiter and colored goods brighter by the use of Surprise Soap.

Thousands use it. Why don't you?

Use Surprise on washday for all kinds of goods without Boiling or Scalding.

SURPRISE SOAP LASTS LONGEST GOES FARTHEST. 180 READ the directions on the wrapper.

Gas Association in Convention.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—The American Gaslight Association met here yesterday in its twenty-second annual convention. President W. H. Pearson, of Toronto, read an address, in which he said that electricity was making no inroads on the gas business, and that gas would continue to be the principal illuminating power. He touched on the question of municipal control of gas plants, but expressed no opinion in the matter beyond that it was of great and growing moment.

Collapse of a Bridge.

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., Oct. 18.—A portion of the false work located at the south wing of the Louisville and Jeffersonville bridge, between piers 3 and 4, fell with a crash yesterday, injuring three men, one of whom is believed to be hurt fatally. The injured men were conveyed to the Louisville side, where they were taken to the bridge office and their injuries dressed. There were twenty men at work on the structure at the time.

The Way of the Transgressor.

BUFFALO, Oct. 18.—Joseph Harding, aged 31, a railroad fireman, shot and killed himself yesterday at the feet of his mistress. Harding separated himself from his wife and child two years ago to live with another woman and the couple were apparently happy until a few days ago when, alleging that Harding had abused her, the woman left and resumed relations with an old lover.

He Ran His Own House.

ESCANABA, Mich., Oct. 18.—Two woodsmen named Burns and Mercy were shot and killed in a house of bad repute in Rapid River. Burns and Mercy entered the house and wanted to run it to suit themselves, but the proprietor objected and killed them with a rifle.

The Ahr Valley.

It is becoming the custom among European travellers to stop at Remagen on the Rhine, and make a little excursion to the beautiful Valley of the Ahr, with its picturesque villages along the vine clad slope. Here is also located the spring from which flows that world wide favorite "Apollinaris Water." At Neuenahr, in the valley, the river Ahr is very beautiful, and one can find few more quaintly attractive spots than the Upper Gate at Ahrweiler, or the old mill at Heppingen.

A tax on dogs was levied in Rome during the reign of Nero.

For Over Fifty Years

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhœa. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by druggists throughout the world. 17d&w1y

In the time of Queen Anne soap was taxed £28 per ton.

DEAR SIRS.—I have used Yellow Oil for two or three years, and think it has no equal for croup. MRS. J. S. O'BRIEN, Huntsville, Ont.

The tithes in England amounted to £4,050,000 a year.

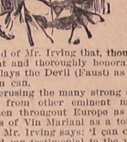

Dyspepsia and Indigestion.—C. W. Snow & Co., Syracuse, N.Y., writes: "Please send us ten gross of Pills. We are selling more of Parmelee's Pills than any other Pill we keep. They have a great reputation for the cure of Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint." Mr. Chas. A. Smith, Lindsay, writes: "Parmelee's Pills are an excellent medicine. My sister has been troubled with severe headache, but these pills have cured her."

Russia raises $1,5000,000 a year by the sale of passports.

THAT TIRED, LANGUID FEELING and dull headache is very disagreeable. Take two of Carter's Little Liver Pills before retiring, and you will find relief. They never fail to do good.

HENRY IRVING.

THE GREATEST OF LIVING ACTORS. HELD IN THE HIGHEST ESTEEM BY THOSE WHO KNOW HIM BEST. HIS OPINION ON 'VIN MARIANI.'

It is said of Mr. Irving that, though an upright and thoroughly honorable man he plays the Devil (Faust) as no other man can.

After perusing the many strong expressions from other eminent men and women througout Europe as to the merits of Vin Mariani as a tonic stimulant Mr. Irving says: 'I can certainly add my testimonial to the virtues of 'Vin Mariani,' which I have found excellent, and am well convinced of its quality.' This tonic coca wine (Vin Mariani) invigorates and sustains weak constitutions run down by over-exertion of body or brain. What can be more convincing than the written endorsements of seven thousand prominent physicians. Send stamp to Lawrence A. Wilson & Co., Montreal, the Canadian agents of this beautiful wine, and get a little album, free, containing the photos and testimonials of celebrities throughout the world.

LAKEHURST SANITARIUM
OAKVILLE, ONT.

For treatment and cure of
ALCHOLISM, MORPHINE HABIT,
TOBACCO HABIT AND NERVOUS DISEASES.

The system employed at this institution is the familiar Double Chloride of Gold System. Through its agency over 200,000 Slaves to the use of these poisons have been emancipated in the last fourteen years. Lakehurst Sanitarium is the oldest Institution of the kind in Canada, and has a well earned reputation to maintain in this line of medicine. In its whole history there is not an instance of failure to remove the appetite for these poisons. In its whole history there is not an instance of any after ill effects from the treatment. Hundreds of happy homes in all parts of the Dominion bear eloquent witness to the efficacy of a course of treatment with us. For terms and full information write
THE SECRETARY,
28 Bank of Commerce Chambers,
aug7d3m34w3m) Toronto, Ont.

CANADIAN PACIFIC RY.

WILL RUN HUNTERS' EXCURSIONS

TO MUSKOKA LAKES AND ALL STATIONS.

MATTAWA, NEPIGON, SPANISH RIVER

AND INTERMEDIATE STATIONS

OCT. 19 and 20
OCT. 26 and 27
NOV. 2 and 3

When Round Trip Tickets will be sold for

SINGLE FIRST CLASS FARE

Good for Return until Dec. 1st, 1894.

For business passing through Toronto, rates to above points will not be less than 25 cents added to ordinary Round Trip Rates to Toronto.

Dogs, Guns, Personal Baggage, Camp Equipments, to the amount of 200 lbs will be carried FREE.

S. BURROWS,
General Ticket Agent, Belleville.

Ask how you can get a CLOCK!

. . . At MINAKER'S . . .

The Men's Furnisher.

HAPPY HOME RANGES.

Best in the Market.

—ALSO—

A Full Line of

Art Garland

and

Famous Heaters.

——(o)——

Wm. McGIE.

Next to Nathan Jones.

Telephone 38. Front S

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 75c. bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, THURSDAY OCT. 18.

TRADE WITH THE WEST INDIES.

The abrogation of the favored national treaty between Spain and the United States promises to be of great benefit to the Dominion of Canada, and to the maritime provinces especially. The West India markets have been in times past a great source of wealth to our people, and a restoration of more favorable conditions, to whatever cause it may be due, is to be welcomed. The population of Cuba and Porto Rico alone is nearly three millions, and the people, though not highly civilized, use great quantities of codfish, potatoes, and other farm produce, lumber and flour, for which they are almost entirely dependent upon foreign markets. Under the new order of things, there is about 24 cents a barrel in favor of Canadian potatoes as against American, and on flour about 45 cents a barrel, and that is sufficient difference to divert the big trade from New York and Boston to Halifax, St. John, and other maritime province ports. Our Government last session made important concessions in favor of West India products, and our people, if alive to their interests, must reap large benefits. Mr. Geo. Musgrove, interviewed by a Halifax Mail reporter, estimates the trade of New York with the Spanish West Indies at ten million dollars a year, and under present existing tariffs it is not unreasonable to expect an increase of several millions in our West India trade within the next year or two.

EDITORIAL BREVITIES.

Mr. Corby has won high favor on all hands. The non-political Trade Review remarks: "We much regret to hear that Mr. H. Corby, M. P., is likely to decline entering Parliament after dissolution on account of failing health, but trust he will be strong enough to alter his mind when elections are in sight."

Illinois has 10 parties in the field. They are: Democratic party, Republican party, Prohibition party, People's party, Independent Republican party, the People's Silver party, Populist party, Independent party, Independent Democratic Party and Independent People's party. Ample room for a choice, one would think.

"He clings to the old flag still," said Inspector Hughes, of Toronto, when they had difficulty at the unveiling of the Queen City statue of Sir John Macdonald in loosing the folds of his loved Union Jack from the image of the old Chieftain. And it was his puissant hand, remarks the Empire, that, more than any other, made it certain that his country too would cling to the old flag as long as Canada is Canada.

It would appear that Canadian farmers are much wealthier in the matter of herds than those of Great Britain. According to the latest returns of the Board of Agriculture there are in the United Kingdom 2,460,086 cows, or one for every six of the population. By the census of 1891 there were in Canada 1,885,122 cows, or one for every 2.60 of the population. In proportion to population, therefore, Canadians have almost four times as many cows as have the people of Great Britain. In the number of cattle of all kinds, also the Canadians were ahead, having 4,120,584 animals to 6,347,113 owned by the immensely greater number of people in Great Britain.

That Joyful Feeling.

With the exhilarating sense of renewed health and strength and internal cleanliness, which follows the use of Syrup of Figs, is unknown to the few who have not progressed beyond the old time medicines and the cheap substitutes sometimes offered but never accepted by the well informed.

Lane's Medicine Moves the Bowels Each Day

In order to be healthy this is necessary.

TO CURE DEBILITY,

Loss of appetite, sleeplessness and all nervous troubles, physicians recommend

Campbell's Quinine Wine.

Do not let your druggist persuade you that some other is just as good.

K. CAMPBELL & CO., Mfrs., MONTREAL.

The MARKETS

BELLEVILLE MARKETS

INTELLIGENCER OFFICE,
Belleville, Oct. 17, 1894.

The market for all kinds of grain is quiet, with peas and buckwheat 2c per bush. lower. Wheat is nominal in the absence of receipts, which cannot be said of western points, as the visible increase in Chicago last week, nearly one and a half million bushels, where it now stands at 75,674,000 against 65,293,000 bush. In 1893, and 55,091,000 bush. in 1892. English wheats have fallen to an incredibly low price, 16s to 18s 2d having been to average offered on Saturday's market, which is 13s 6d below the very lowest price comparable with profit. The farmers throughout the Thames valley are losing 54s per acre upon all the land they have put under wheat. The area of wheat sown in England is greater than in 1893 and it is expected that 6,000,000 qrs. will reach the mill against 4,850,000 qrs. last year. The market for hogs has weakened during the past ten days and packers are more careful in buying; 6c would be the top price for dressed hogs and 4½c is being paid for live hogs for shipment. There has been symptoms of an improvement in hides, but tanners have held off, claiming that they cannot dispose of leather at a price that would warrant paying an advanced price for hides, consequently the price of hides has fallen off half a cent in the Chicago and Boston markets. Butter is scarce and in good demand at 25c for home consumption. Eggs find ready sale at 15c for strictly fresh. Potatoes 60c to 65c per bag; tomatoes, 40c per bush; cabbage, 40c per doz; apples, 40c per bag, and onions, $1 per bag.

WHEAT—50c to 52c.
BARLEY—40c to 43c.
RYE—40c to 45.
OATS—26 to 27c.
PEAS (Common)—50c.
RUNNER PEAS—56c.
BUCKWHEAT—40c. to 43c
BUTTER—Roll, 25c.
EGGS—15c per doz
LIVE HOGS—$4 50 to $4.75 per 100 lbs.
DRESSED BEEF—5c.
LAMB—8c
HIDES—$3 00.
CALFSKINS—50c
LAMB SKINS—50c.
DEAKINS—30c.
TALLOW—Rough, 3c.
TALLOW—Rendered, 5½c
WOOL—17c to 18c.
LARD—10c.
POTATOES—65c. per bag.
HAY—$7 to $8.00 per ton.
CHICKENS—40c to 60c per pair
DUCKS—50c. to 60c.
ONIONS—20c. to 25c per peck.

HOPS

OCT. 17, 1894.

There is nothing new to note in the hop market. Sales have been made in Toronto at 9c, and in this neighborhood at 8½c, which is fully equal to the sales reported in New York state. At Oneida, N.Y., an extra quality brought 8c, and for all others a uniform price of 8c is being paid. At Coopertown N.Y., sales of 700 bales is reported at prices varying from 6½c to 8c.

Cheese Markets

OCT. 18, 1894.

The cheese market is quiet at about last week's prices, whilst the cable has dropped to 49s, being a fall of 1s 6d in two weeks. At Peterborough yesterday 9041 boxes of cheese were boarded of which 235 sold at 10⅛c, and 400 at 10½c.

Mr. J. B. McKeown, formerly cheese instructor for the E. O. Dairymen's Asso'n., has been appointed by the New Zealand Government to superintend their dairying interests for which point he sailed on the 16th.

UTICA, N. Y., Oct. 15.—Little Falls dairy market—Cheese: 25 lots, 9½c.; 17 lots, 9⅝c; 27 lots, 10c; 7 lots, commission; farm dairy, 386 boxes, 9½c to 10c. Total sales, 5,717 boxes. Butter: dairy, 48 pkgs at 22c to 23c. Creamery, 76 pkgs. at 23 to 23½.

Business Bits.

The export of rice from China has been prohibited.

The report of the Russian Minister of Finance shows that the prices for grain in the southern and central districts of that empire are unprecedentedly low. Farmers are selling at 38 to 40 cents per bushel for wheat, and in some places only 29 cents is paid. Rye brings 31 to 33 cents per bushel.

Prior to 1657 tea was sold in England for $50 a pound.

Montreal quotations are for hides:—Light hides 4c. to 4½c. for No. 1, 3c. to 3½c. for No 2, and 2c. to 2½c. for No. 3; to tanners 4½c. to 5c. for No. 1. Heavy hides are quoted at 5c. to 6c.; calfskins 5c. to 6c.; lambskins, 55c. to 60c.

MAYNOOTH.

Oct. 15.—Weather wet, roads bad. Deer are quite numerous, and local sportsmen have cleaned their guns and are anxiously waiting the advent of the hunting season.—The McClure cheese factory will close on Saturday next. It is estimated that about 170 standards will have been contributed. The directors will meet on Saturday to arrange the final business of the year and decide the time of the annual meeting. G. Rose, our cheese maker, having given entire satisfaction this year, will most likely be engaged for the ensuing year.—On Tuesday last a very pleasant event occurred here, when Miss Jennie, daughter of D. McLeod, was united in marriage to J. Lawson. The ceremony was performed at the church; Rev. Portoous officiated. Miss Jessie, the bride's sister, and H. Livingston acted as attendants. After the ceremony, the young couple were accompanied to their home by the the many guests, and a sumptuous repast was then provided. Mr. and Mrs. Lawson are well and favorably known throughout this section, as was manifest by the many presents they received.—Allow me to return my thanks to your Halloway Cor., I will comply,—visitors,—G. Jose at R. Murdock's; M. Cannon at Fern Vale; Mr. Elliott at D. Carswell's.

PLAINFIELD.

Mr. E. N. Gould, the secretary of the west Methodist church Sabbath school, has been elected a delegate to the Sabbath school convention.—Mr. Thomas Lloyd, of Morganston, spent Sunday with his brother, Mr. J. W. Lloyd.—Mr. and Mrs. R. Badgley have returned from Colborne, where on Sunday they attended the funeral of their nephew, Mr. Wm. Tues.

Asthma Sufferers.

Who have in vain tried every other means of relief, should try "Schiffman's Asthma Cure." No waiting for results. Its action is immediate, direct and certain, as a single trial proves. Send to Dr. R. Schiffmann, St. Paul, Minn., for a free trial package, but ask your druggist first.

How to Get a "Sunlight Picture

Send 25 "Sunlight" soap wrappers (wrapper bearing the words "Why does a woman look old sooner than a man") to Lever Bros., Ltd., 43 Scott St., Toronto, and you will receive by post a pretty picture, free from advertising, and well worth framing. This is an easy way to decorate your home. The soap is the best in the market, and it will only cost 1c. postage to send in the wrappers, if you leave the ends open. Write your address carefully.

CAUGHT WITH THEIR SPOILS

Two Quantico Express Robbers in the Hands of the Police.

ANOTHER ONE MAKES HIS ESCAPE

One of the Desperadoes Had His Share of the Boodle Concealed in His Stockings—A Memorandum Showing Where the Spoils Were Divided—Thirty Detectives Are at Work on the Case.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—President E. C. Weir, of the Adams Express Company, confirms the reports that two men had been arrested who were undoubtedly concerned in the recent train robbery on the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac railroad at Cherry Run, W. Va. He added that the robbers got less than $20,000 in cash, as it has been learned that several packages supposed to contain easily negotiable securities and cash contained in reality drafts with bills of lading attached, which can be stopped and after a little duplicated. The company has over thirty detectives engaged on the case.

CUMBERLAND, Md., Oct. 18.—Officer Beck noticed a man acting in a rather suspicious manner near the Baltimore and Ohio depot. He tried to board express train No. 9 westbound with two satchels. The man answered the description of the one who was implicated in the robbery of the express car at Quantico, Va., last week. As soon as the officer attempted to arrest the man he started to run but was soon caught.

He was taken to the station-house, and upon being searched $1,553 was found hidden in two woollen stockings. The sum of $923 was in notes and $630 in silver; there was one silver watch and one gold one, a lot of pawn tickets and three silver pocket-books. A fine Colt's navy revolver was in his pocket. There were forty three cartridges in his pocket.

A memorandum showed where the entire boodle had been divided between the men. The police are confident they have one of the robbers.

A special from Cherry Run, W. Va., says: An unknown man was arrested near here answering the description of one of the men implicated in the Aquia Creek train robbery. He was as active as an athlete and caused considerable trouble before being overpowered. He carried a 44 calibre, self-acting revolver, and held up a number or men, but was finally arrested by George Spangler, a Western Maryland Railroad contractor, after slightly wounding him and several other men. A pal, who carried a satchel, escaped through a deep ravine in the mountain and has not been seen since. Both men were well dressed.

HILL ON THE NEW TARIFF.

The Senator Compares It With the McKinley Bill.

GLOVERVILLE, N.Y., Oct. 18.—Senator Hill made the first extended reference to the new tariff bill in his speech at a big Democratic mass meeting here last night. He said:

"I desire to emphasize the point that the reduction of duties in the present tariff are so reasonable and conservative that the wages of a single workingman in the country need not be lessened. The only disturbance which the enactment of this bill has created is among our Republican friends who are "disturbed" because the bill has not destroyed business, injured manufactures and diminished wages. They predicted these dire results and their predictions have not been fulfilled. They are annoyed and disappointed that the country gives evidence on every hand of returning prosperity; they are annoyed that the country refuses to be panic-stricken, and they are disgusted that the people propose to give the new tariff bill a fair and impartial trial. They hoped for the passage of an extreme measure that would imperil the industries of the nation, but they have hoped in vain. They discover that our manufacturers are delighted with the prospect of free and freer raw materials, especially the boom of free wool, and they are indignant that wool does not rapidly decline in price as they assumed it would.

"The McKinley bill raised the duties upon wool, but wool was cheaper thereafter than before, and since the passage of the present bill, in which wool has been placed on the free list, wool has not declined in price, but maintains an upward tendency. These facts speak volumes in favor of the Democratic policy of using the tariff for public rather than private purpose, and not attempting directly to regulate prices by tariff laws, but leaving prices to be controlled by the natural laws of trade by the great question of supply and demand. In this connection permit me to observe that the new duty placed upon raw sugar does not seem to have enhanced its price in the market, but the price continues about the same as before the passage of the present bill. This illustrates how idle it is to seek to affect prices by statute to any great extent for a long period of time.

"In speeches which I have had the honor of making in other campaigns I have always advocated the policy of adjusting necessary tariff duties, so that they would represent the difference in wages paid in this and in other countries, and I adhere to that policy still. That was all that any workingman ever asked, and all that manufacturers could reasonably expect.

"They have always insisted that they should be placed on an equality with foreign manufacturers by reason of the larger wages paid here than elsewhere, and it gives me pleasure to state that the present bill recognizes the wise policy of this discrimination, and I assert as a fact that there is no manufactured article upon which the duty has been reduced under this bill, upon which there is not still left thereon a duty sufficient to represent the difference in wages paid between this and other countries. If that be so, and I challenge a contradiction of the fact, then the present bill may well be deemed in these particulars to be a fair and reasonable bill, under which no industrial interest will suffer. There is no use, then, anywhere, for the cutting down of wages, and no reason for longer attributing any present business depression to the radical features of the present tariff bill. That bill benefits the consumers of the country by affording them some measures of relief and at the same time it enables their wages to be paid and allows manufacturers to make compensatory profits on their actual investments. More than this no good citizen has a right to demand and no congress could consistently grant."

Some Truisms.

It may be true that the woman who gave the two mites never had very much to say in the church.

When the sower goes out to sow he carries more than one wheat field on his back.

There is no promise in the Bible for the man who wants to eat bread without earning it.

Keeping right with God is the surest way ever yet discovered of keeping bread in the house.

How much we would have lost, had God made the sun so that it could never leave us in the dark.

Poor Girl.

"I have almost made up my mind to break the engagement," said the young woman with the copper-colored hair.

"Why so?" emphatically asked the woman who had been married twice.

"I'm afraid we can never be happy together. Fido and he are madly jealous of each other already.—Indianapolis Journal.

SPRINGBROOK.

F. C. Reynolds, of Campbellford, who has been keeping the hardware store here, has sold out his stock and had it removed to Campbellford, which now leaves us without a hardware store.—Stanley Reddick, harness maker, was the fortunate one in the drawing for the new Raymond Sewing machine, given by the R. C. congregation of Stirling.—Miss Olive Gunter, who taught the Junior department of our school three years, is now teaching in the Senior room.—Mr. S. McComb, cheese maker, secured first prize on his cheese at Rawdon fair, on Oct. 10th.—The C. O. R. have made several improvements in their freight platform; they were greatly needed.—Our municipal election promises to be an interesting one this year, as several candidates have already announced themselves for the different offices.—Mr. Deprose, of Campbellford, has moved his family here.—There was some property taken from a house in Rawdon in which no one was residing, the owner having moved away, leaving the house locked. The theft was committed during the summer of 1893; it has now become known who the guilty parties are. County Constable P.J. Scrimshaw has a warrant, and is after them.

MADOC.

OCTOBER 16th.—Owing to the increased rate on fire insurance Madoc is making an effort to have more fire prevention. It is probable we shall have a steamer ere long.—On Monday morning Mr. William Conlin, aged about sixty years, was out in the orchard picking up apples when he had a stroke, which the doctor calls rupture of the brain. He has lost the use of his legs and arms, and the only place where he seems to have any feeling is over the left temple.—George Miller, a farmer, who resides about four miles from the village, on Tuesday morning, after breakfast, left home to thresh and his wife went out to milk. In a short time after she discovered the house to be on fire, with her three year old child in the house. The child got a chair, climbed up and opened the door and escaped. The house and contents were destroyed. There was a small insurance.—Many of our young folks are interesting themselves in having a free reading room opened in the near future. A meeting was held Monday evening in the Town Hall, which was largely attended. The W. C. T. U. offered $50 to start the ball rolling.—A few nights ago Mr. Ed. Bristol had stolen from him 10 bags potatoes. Mr. Farrall 100 bushels of grain. John St. Charles a single harness and three bags of grain. John Stewart a single harness. Peter Vancleek about 10 bushels of apples.

SPECIAL MENTION

—Mr. W. G. McDonald, barrister, of London, is dead.

—The Dominion Reformatory will be built at Alexandria.

DR. LOW'S PLEASANT WORM SYRUP removes worms of all kinds from children or adults.

—It has been decided that Canadian codfish may enter Cuba and Porto Rico free of duty.

—Major General Howard reports in favor of doubling the strength of the United States army.

THAT HACKING COUGH can be quickly cured by Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam. Price 25c.

—Gen. Booth arrived at Lindsay yesterday, and was welcomed by the corporation and citizens in the warmest manner.

—A Baltimore inventor, Mr. Simon Lake, after years of study and experiment, has invented a submarine boat.

—A 10 year old boy named Thomas Day was fatally injured at Gravenhurst, by being struck by a railway engine.

ALWAYS AVOID HARSH PURGATIVE PILLS They first make you sick and then leave you constipated. Carter's Little Liver Pills regulate the bowels and make you well. Dose, one pill.

—Manitoba wheat shipments the past two months exceed in quantity all previous records for a similar period.

—The students of Queen's were disorderly at the opening ceremonies, objecting to the presence of policemen.

Chauncey Ashley, issuer of marriage licenses, Division Court Office, Pinnacle street or at residence over Benmore & Benson's store. d&w

ALL CASES OF WEAK OR LAME BACK, backache, rheumatism, will find relief by wearing one of Carter's Smartweed and Belladonna Backache Plasters. Price 25 cents. Try them.

—The Baptist Women's Mission Convention closed yesterday, Mrs. C. J. Holman being elected president for the ensuing year.

—An attempt to lynch a colored criminal near Columbus, Ohio, was stopped by militiamen, who fired on the mob with deadly effect.

DAVIS' PAIN KILLER.—The best and most popular Family Medicine in the world. A blessing to the rich; a friend to the poor; within the reach of all, it has saved more lives and relieved more suffering incidental to travelling than any other medicine 25c. per bottle, large size.

—Advices from Port au Prince, Hayti, say President Hippolyte and his Minister of War had a hand to hand fight in the palace the other day. The Minister of War was badly whipped.

Nearly all infants are more or less subject to diarrhoea and such complaints while teething, and as this period of their lives is the most critical, mothers should not be without a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial. This medicine is a specific for such complaints and is highly spoken of by those who have used it. The proprietors claim it will cure any case of cholera or summer complaint.

—There was a sudden change for the worse in Mr. Mercier's condition to-day and he became delirious. The doctors now say that the disease has made rapid headway, and that the end is only a question of a very short time.

Ayer's Hair Vigor, which has outlived and superseded hundreds of similar preparations, is undoubtedly the most fashionable as well as economical hair-dressing in the market. By its use, the poorest head of hair soon becomes luxuriant and beautiful.

—The biennial session of the Grand General Council of the Indians of the Ontario and Quebec reservations began in Moraviantown, Ont., on Tuesday. Chief Albert Tobias delivered an address.

Quack Advertisements

Are a nuisance and we think it behooves publishers to examine into the merits of many articles puffed up in their columns. We do not deny that many meritorious remedies are properly to be classed under this heading. Take the hundreds and thousands relieved from severe suffering by the use of Polson's Nerviline; would it not be unreasonable to expect them to condemn that far famed remedy? Now we know for a fact that Polson's Nerviline is without exception the most powerful, pleasant and certain remedy in the world for pain. It cannot fail, for it goes right to the bottom of pain, penetrates to the nerves, soothes them into quietness, and affords prompt and permanent relief.

A Prominent Lawyer Says:

"I have eight children, everyone in good health, not one of whom but has taken Scott's Emulsion, in which my wife has boundless confidence."

DESERONTO.

OCT 16.—Mr. and Mrs. John McCullough spent Friday in Belleville.—Deputy Reeve Reeve Valleau spent Friday in Belleville. Mrs. A. G. Knight has been visiting friends at Roslin.—The tax collector is busy making his rounds.—Mrs. Margaret L. Shepherd has been giving several lectures here recently.—Large quantities of apples are being shipped through this port.—About 75 candidates from Deseronto and Napanee were confirmed here last Sunday by Archbishop Cleary. The local C.M.B.A. turned out 80 or 90 strong and met the prelate on the Napanee road. He was accompanied by Mons. Farrelly, Ven. Archdeacon Kelly and Father Hogan. The Archbishop spoke for about two hours and at the conclusion the children took the total abstinence pledge to last till they are 21 years old.—General Booth and staff arrived here at noon to-day on their yacht. They were met at the dock by the Mayor, E. W. Rathbun, Esq; the Citizens' band, the Deseronto and Napanee S. A. armies and several others. They were then entertained at Mr. Rathbun's residence from which place they went to the Methodist church, which was crowded. Mayor Rathbun acted as chairman at the church and Gen. Booth gave an address. Revs. Yeomans and Taylor were on the platform. The party left for Belleville at 3 p.m. Flags were floating from several buildings during their short stop here and they had a very enthusiastic reception.

CORBYVILLE.

Mr. W. Bennett, our aged and respected Postmaster, is very poorly. The old gentleman has been ailing for some time.—Mrs. Robt. Juby has returned home, after having spent a week with friends in Sidney.—Mr. Jas. Hume is moving into the house lately vacated by Mr. Drew.—Mr and Mrs. Wm. Fairman have returned to Havelock, where they will board for the winter, expecting to start housekeeping in the spring.—Mrs. Hambly, one of the oldest residents of Corbyville, is still able to walk out when the weather permits, with the assistance of her attentive companion, Miss White.—Mr. Rod. Embury is home, after his tour through the country with the steam thresher.—Miss Lila Palmer has been out of town for a week past, visiting friends elsewhere.—Another vacant house in town, the one recently occupied by Stillman Root.—The Hotel bears a prosperous appearance; the labor and expense put upon it show off to good advantage.—Miss Jennie Moore, of Bancroft, is visiting at her aunt's, Mrs. Jas. Moore.—W. R. Taylor is improving; he is now able to be about his duties again.

New Advetrfisemens.

TO LET.

TO LET 90 Dundas st., opposite South John st., barn, hard and soft water. Apply next door. 137d3t

TO LET 2 snug, warm brick houses in terrace, situated on Harriett St., West Belleville, known as Morten's, or Filliter's terrace. For terms of rent apply to R. C. Filliter, collector, or sub agent to the estate of the late H. E. Filliter. Residence at Mr. Jardin's Corner of William and Dundas Sts., East Belleville. 85d2m

REMOVAL.

MIS WAY has removed her dress-making rooms to the Singer Office, one door north of Lattimer's Barber Shop, where she will be pleased to meet her old customers, and as many new ones as wish to favor her with a call. 40d6t w1t

FOR SALE.

ONE 30 Key National Cash Register, in use about 18 months; cost $225. One Buffalo Sausage Chopper, capacity 75 to 100 lbs., (in use one season only) Also Sausage Stuffe (new), and one upright Engine and Boiler, 4 horse power. Will sell all of the above for cash. Chopper, Stuffer, Engine and Boiler must go together. The Register will be sold separate if required (cheap). Reason for selling, going out of business. Also one new J. J. Taylor Safe, 25x30x30 inside. For further particulars apply to the undersigned.

W. C. B. RATHBUN,
141d4t Deseronto, Ont.

Jewelry Business For Sale

TENDERS, at so much on the $ per stock list, will be received by the undersigned, at his office, 151 Wellington street, Kingston, up to Saturday, October 20th 1894, for the Stock-in-Trade and other assets of the business of W. J. Arniel & Co., 329 King street, Kingston.

The goods and stock list (about $1,600) may be seen on application to the undersigned. The store may also be secured by the purchaser if desired. Terms cash. No tender necessarily accepted.

W. MUNDELL,
Barrister.
Kingston, Oct. 4th, 1894. d4t, Oct6,9,13,18

Before putting up your STOVES have the

TRIMMINGS RE-PLATED

— AT THE —

BELLEVILLE PLATING WORKS

HARRIS & WALTON'S FACTORY MILL ST.

SLIPPER SOLES.

We have just received a large number of the best

LAMB'S WOOL SLIPPER SOLES, IN

Nos. 2, 3, 4, 5 & 6.

Also in Children's Sizes, which we are offering at the low price of 35 Cents per pair.

We have also a full range of Single and Double Berlin Wool, for Crocheting and Knitting Bedroom Slippers.

THE BEEHIVE

CHAS. N. SULMAN

THIS MATTER CHANGED DAILY.

THURSDAY, Oct. 18th.

NEW GOODS : : :

NEW GOLPH CAPES
NEW JACKETS
NEW GOLPH CLOTH
NEW DRESS GOODS

These goods are just in. Our Jackets are selling well now, and we urge our friends to call before the best are gone.

W. FLINT JONES.

Next door to Haines & Lockett.

NEVER

Were prices as low for new goods, or prospects better for an unusually brilliant display and lively trade for the holiday china and crockery trade.

We have advices that the Belleville goods are being packed as fast as possible, and will be here in good time. As there is an immense lot, and being goods of of a fragile nature, we must be patient. How satisfactory it is to know at least, that this store's stock is direct from the potteries in England, France and Germany, and not from Toronto or Montreal, and besides, is made for the legitimate crockery trade, which accounts for its better quality and appearance.

W. J. REID & CO'Y.

CRYSTAL HALL. Rous' Old Stand.

London and Belleville.

IT - HAS - BEEN - ADMITTED

— BY OVER 125 PEOPLE IN BELLEVILLE THAT THE —

John Bull Wrought Steel Range,

Is the most Economical, Everlasting and Useful Range on the market. How is this for three Seasons.

SEE THEM AT FOSTER'S.

Also the Duchess of Oxford Cast Iron Range

Telephone Rings,

IS THAT

O B C ?

YES.

R. J. Graham is speaking:
We are rushed in the office. Send us another good man at once.

ALL RIGHT,

We shall have a man there in ten minutes

We sent J. R. Snedden, who had just graduated. Mr. Graham has now three graduates of

ONTARIO BUSINESS COLLEGE.

In his office here, namely Managing Accountant, Assistant and Stenographer.

QUEEN'S - OPERA - HOUSE,

THOS. P. J. POWER,—MANAGER.

VAN AMBURG CONCERT

COMPANY.

ONE NIGHT ONLY

— ON —

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 23rd, 1894,

Under the auspices of Canton Belleville, No. 8, P. M., I. O. O. F.

Prices, - 15, 25 and 35c.

Plan at Riggs' Music Store.

UNDERWEAR ...

AT FISH'S !

Don't go shivering around any longer, but come and get some of our warm underclothing, and you will be happy and comfortable.

Sizes run from 30 to 46 inches. Our prices suit all pocket books.

We give value that cannot be beaten.

A. E. FISH & CO.

Try our King Shirt, and you will buy no other.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

PURSUANT to Chapter 110 of the Revised Statutes of Ontario, notice is hereby given that all creditors and other persons having claims upon the estate of William McKay, late of the city of Belleville, deceased, who died on or about the 25th day of August, 1894, are required to deliver the same to John Parker Thomas, of said city, solicitor for Donald M. Waters, executor of the last will and testament of said William McKay, deceased, on or before the 30th day of October next, 1894, full particulars of their claim, with dates and items and particulars of the security, if any, held by them; and after the said last mentioned date the said executor will proceed to distribute the assets of the said deceased amongst the parties entitled thereto, having regard only to the claims of which notice shall have been given as above required and shall not be liable for the assets or any part thereof so distributed to any person of whose claims the said executor had not notice at the time of the distribution thereof or any part thereof.

Dated at Belleville this 27th day of September 1894.

J. PARKER THOMAS,
124d4t law Solicitor for Executor,

H. C. DICKENS & SON.

YOU'LL BE TOO BUSY

To do any baking during the S. S. Convention. (We are addressing more particularly the ladies at whose houses the delegates are to be entertained.)
Let us come to your aid by suggesting that we do it for you. We'll do it first class too
It will relieve you of a lot of trouble and anxiety, and give you more time to entertain your guests. Our windows will be especially attractive during convention week. So be on the lookout!

H. C. DICKENS & SON.

MONTHLY DIVIDENDS!!!

NEW YORK TRADING COMPANY,

17 & 19 Broadway New York

CAPITAL, 100,000.

This company has been formed to place small speculators in the Stock, Grain and other markets, in an equally strong position with the great manipulators who make and rule the markets. Legitimate speculation is the quickest road to wealth. The smallest investment may soon grow into a competency.

In the speculative markets alone do such opportunities exist.

Small speculators combined and guided by wise counsellors become a power in the market. This is the position of our subscribers.

By our plan, holders of one share, which costs TEN DOLLARS, enjoy the same privileges and benefits as holders of one hundred shares.

Subscriptions invited to a Syndicate now being formed to operate in a direction where we have peculiar and exclusive information

Accounts always open to inspection of members. Accounts rendered and dividends payable monthly. Full details of our methods mailed free on application

Correspondence respectfully solicited.
Bank references furnished.

New York Trading Company,
17 & 19 Broadway, New York City.
CAPITAL $100,000

For ..
THIRTY ...
DAYS .....
WE will sell our entire line of
Wall Paper ....
— AND —
Window Shades
AT A DOUBLE DISCOUNT 10 & 5p.c.

10 per cent. off Special, and 5 per cent. off for cash.

We positively will not be undersold at

OVERELL'S BOOK STORE.

QUINCES ...

Are said to be, by those who know their uses best, the nicest fruit grown.

We expect to receive regular supplies each day, also

Grapes and Peaches.

Those who may not have bought their peaches early in the season can get fully as good value now as the "Smock" variety is one of the best grown for canning or pickling, and is now the only peach in the market.

Jas. Wallace & Co.

DODD'S
KIDNEY PILLS,

A positive cure for all kidney diseases, such as

Backache, Rheumatism, Diabetes, Brights Disease, &c., &c.

For sale at the Pharmacy.

D. M. WATERS.

We Are ..
Busy .....

Our new groceries are going with a rush, but more are arriving daily, and that's why we keep our stock fresh and wholesome. We take pride in our confectionery for it's the best money can buy and our prices are away down. See the values we offer in teas and sugars. Provisions, and flour and feed also receive our particular attention

J. A. ELLIOTT.
Front St., Belleville.

JUST - RECEIVED

.. AT THE ..

GLASGOW WAREHOUSE.

Another large shiement of PRIESTLY & SONS' Celebrated

DRESS - GOODS,

— INCLUDING —

Black Crepe Cloths,
Black Mourning Cloths,
Black Wool Sateens,
Black Revenna Cords,
Black Silk Warps,
Black Wool Henriettas,
Black & Navy Serges,
Black & Navy Cheviots.

These Goods are all fast Black & Thoroughly Reliable.

— ALSO —

NEW GOLF CLOAKINGS, all prices
NEW CURL CLOAKINGS,
New Black and Colored Beavers,
New Black and Colored Box Cloths,
Full lines in Mantles and Capes.
Large lines of CANADIAN STAPLES at CLOSE CASH PRICES.
CARPETS, OIL CLOTHS and CURTAINS a specialty.

VANDERVOORT & GIBSON,

Successors to the late J. W. Dunnet.

Belleville, Oct. 17, 1894.

P.S.—A large show case and table for sale cheap.

COUPON

—FOR—

PART 9.

Canada Portfolio of Art.

A Coupon appears in all issues of this paper.

Cut out this coupon and forward, together with 10 cents, to the Art Department of this paper, and you will receive one part of Canada, as mentioned above, by mail postpaid, or bring the coupon and 10 cents to this office and receive Portfolio.

NAME..

ADDRESS......................................

N. B.—Remember, only one Coupon required for each part.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, THURSDAY OCT. 18.

CITY AND DISTRICT.

There will be a rehearsal of the amateur minstrels to-night.

The dredge is making another cut northward, to widen the channel.

Be sure and attend Grant's cheap cash sale if you want bargains in Boots and Shoes.

The late John Courtenay was buried yesterday from his home at No. 19 Spencer Avenue, Toronto.

Grand Trunk traffic returns for the week ending October 13th were $408,102; same week last year $475,347; decrease $67,245.

Thousands of cases of rheumatism have been cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This is abundant reason for belief that it will cure you.

The next convention of Provincial Christian Endeavorers will be held at Brantford. In the province now there are 1,497 societies with 70,000 members.

Look out for the grandest concert of the season, Dec. 18th, in the Opera House. Programme, made up of the Fax Brothers and Miss Maud Stephenson, of London.

The re-opening services of Kingston Road Church will take place Sunday, 21st Oct. A concert will be held on Monday evening, 22nd. Tickets 15c. d&w1t

The evangelistic services conducted by Messrs. Crossley and Hunter at Pembroke still continue to increase in interest, as over four hundred have professed conversion.

Dacey Vincent Dinnick, son of Rev. Wm. Dinnick, who died at Albert College on Tuesday, will be buried to-morrow from Trinity Methodist church, corner of Bloor and Robert streets, Toronto.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week our people are going to be able to hear that attractive and accomplished speaker Mrs. Mountford, as she gives three of her best tableau-lectures in Bridge Street Church.

To-night "The Emerald" will give a limelight exhibition in the City Hall. This is their last meeting. About 100 views by the most powerful light. The best entertainment ever given in this line. Admission 10c.

The remarkable number of cures of gout and rheumatism which have followed the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, point conclusively to the fact that this remedy comes nearer being the specific for complaints of this nature than any other medicine in pharmacy.

The music was furnished by the Van-Amburgh Concert Company, and we must say, without any disparagement to those who have contributed in that way to the interest and enjoyment of former gatherings, that it was the best rendered musical programme we have ever listened to.—Norfolk Reformer, Simcoe, Ont. Queen's opera house, Tuesday evening next.

The ladies who are interested in the management of the Panopticon wish to thank all kind friends who assisted them in making the affair so great a success; particularly the different newspapers and Prof. Riggs, through whose kindness the band gave their services gratuitously. The proceeds amounted to $360 and will be given towards the Mechanics' Institute and Library Association.

On this page will be found the coupon for Part 9—which will be ready for delivery on the 16th inst—of "Canada Portfolio of Art." This is truly a magnificent piece of work and is something that will adore any drawing room or parlor table. You can't afford to be without it. Cut out this coupon and bring it, together with ten cents, to this office, and we will give you Part 9; or, on receipt of coupon and money, the part will be sent postpaid, to any address in the Dominion.

Catarrh—Use Nasal Balm. Quick, positive cure. Soothing, cleansing, healing.

SOCIAL & PERSONAL

Mr. J. J. B Flint was in Toronto to-day.

Mr. Robt. Weddell, of Trenton, is in the city.

Mr. James White, of Madoc, was in town to-day.

Mr. H. Bull has left for Campbellford, where he will spend a few days on business.

The two sons of Mrs. Chas. L. Coleman arrived in the city this morning, on a visit to their mother.

Mr. D. Coyle is still confined to his bed through illness. Mr. Chas. Hunter is conducting the hotel for the time being.

Dr. Forster, of the Hamilton Asylum, has been appointed first assistant at the Kingston Asylum. Dr. Forster is son-in-law to Mrs. Terrill, of the Institute, and his many friends here will congratulate him on his promotion.

Police News.

George Tyner, who was committed for trial by Police Magistrate Cleak at Bancroft for shooting a cow, the property of Mrs. Fraleck, and attempting to burn the same, has arrived at the gaol.

Thomas Martin, sentenced by Mr. Cleak to a year in the Central for obtaining a sulky and harness under false pretences from Mr. Fitzgerald, hotel keeper, has also arrived here in custody en route to Toronto.

Mrs. Isabella Fortune, of Sidney, charged with lunacy, arrived last night in charge of County Constable Johnson.

The first case under a new law will be brought before the P.M. to morrow, County Constable Johnson having laid information against Wm. Donovan, Dorland Berridge and Frank McDonald for throwing stones at Eliza Startz, a well known woman of weak intellect.

At the police court this morning John H. Newin, for breaking into a bonded car on the Grand Trunk, was sent up for a month.

Peter Johnson, drunk, was remanded until Tuesday next.

SPORTING NEWS

Robert J and John R. Gentry will meet in a race at Nashville, Tenn., to-day.

Ziegler, the California flyer, yesterday at Sacramento cut the quarter mile unpaced record from 26 3 5 to 25 1 5 seconds.

The horse that proved the largest money-winner on the American turf this year is Dobbins, the property of Richard Croker, and a high-class colt, but not as good as several others that were not able to win as much money. He won $55,770.

The backer of C. R. Harding, the English oarsman, challenges any oarsman in the world to row Harding over the Tyne course for £200 a side.

Mr. Seagram's horses won about $20,000 this season, about $9,000 having been picked up in Canada. D. A. Boyle won $5,750, and Alex. Shields $2,100.

Ducks are very scarce up the bay but in Weller's Bay there has been a great deal of shooting lately.

It is said that Watson has drawn the lines for Lord Dunraven's next cup challenger, and that she will be a 90 footer.

That exploded humbug John L. Sullivan, once more advertises himself by saying for the thousandth time, that he has given up drinking. Corbett and Mitchell have both, ere now, made him "take water"

Look Out For Cold Weather

but ride inside of the Electric Lighted and Steam Heated Vestibule Apartment trains of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway and you will be as warm, comfortable and cheerful as in your own library or boudoir. To travel between Chicago, St. Paul and Minneapolis, or between Chicago, Omaha and Sioux City, in these luxuriously appointed trains, is a supreme satisfaction; and, as the somewhat ancient advertisement used to read, "for further particulars, see small bills." Small bills (and large ones, too) will be accepted for passage and sleeping car tickets. For detailed information address A. J. Taylor, Canadian Passenger Agent, Toronto, Ont. d3eod

Look Out for it.

On Wednesday morning Mr. J. G. Keefer, editor of the Norwood Register, discovered a huge Russian thistle, which had evidently been carried there by the high wind of Tuesday night. The plant corresponds exactly with the engravings in the bulletins sent out by the Dominion Government, and specimens have been forwarded to Ottawa for examination. It is larger than a half-bushel measure, is thickly branched, and about two feet high. Farmers everywhere should be on their guard.

The Madoc Fire.

In addition to the losses previously reported by the fire at Madoc yesterday morning were the following: E. L. Maybee, damage to furniture. Insured: E. L. Weiss, damage to household effects, also covered by insurance. The Orange Lodge and True Blues, small loss on lodge room. No insurance. The report that Connor & Richardson were insured for $300 on storehouse was incorrect.

A Nice Suit for $5.

On Saturday next, you can buy at the Oak Hall the best suit of clothes for $5 that was ever offered in Canada. This is talking strong, but we never exaggerate in our advertisements. Think of a nice dark German cheviot double-breasted suit for $5! The like of it has never before been heard of. All sizes at the Oak Hall on and after Saturday.

Schiffmann's Asthma Cure

instantly relieves the most violent attacks facilitates free expectoration and insured rest to those otherwise unable to sleep except in a chair, as a single trial will prove. Send for a free trial package to Dr. R. Schiffmann's, St. Paul, Minn., but ask your druggist first.

Banquet Lamps and Silk Shades.

A very handsome display of brass Banquet Lamps may be seen at L. W. Yeomans & Co's. These goods are very fashionable, and form a rich decoration. They have superseded the Library hanging lamps that have now become somewhat out of date.

The Address Engrossed.

The address presented by the Mayor, on behalf of the citizens, to General Booth, of the Salvation Army, has been beautifully engrossed by Mr. W. J. Osborne, of Ontario Business College.

Ladies' Cheap Rubbers.

We have just received several hundred pairs of ladies' rubbers to be sold at 30 cents. They are all new goods, and good quality.—VERMILYEA & SONS.

Notice.

The name of I. L. Windover, appearing as the President of Foxboro Driving Park, is a mistake, it should be F. Tunnicliffe.
d&w1t W. H. F., Sec.

PROBABILITIES.

TORONTO, Oct 18.—Westerly and northerly winds to day; easterly to morrow; fine weather.

THE DELEGATES

That Will Visit the Great Sunday School Convention.

Following is a list of the delegates, so far as received, to the Provincial Sunday School Convention that convenes in this city on Tuesday next, alphabetically arranged:

Miss M. Austin, Trenton; Geo. Anderson, Toronto; Miss Anderson, Napanee; Rev. W Amos, Aurora; Miss Tottie Ashton, Rednerville; S. R. Armstrong, Peterborough; Miss Hettie Allan, Bannockburn; W. T. Allan, Cooper; Rev. J. J. Allen, Napanee; C. J. Atkinson, Mimico; Alfred Alty, Toronto; Miss Lena Aylesworth, Bath; S. Arnold, Toronto; Rev. A. L. Adams, Foxboro; F. B Allan, Galt; Jacob Anderson, Aurora.

Miss Bogart, Campbellford; Rev. J. R. Black, Kingston; Rev. Orr Bennett, Russell; H. M. Blight, Toronto; Mrs. H. M. Blight, Toronto; Miss Brown, Secretary King's Daughters, Toronto; Mrs. Baker; Wellington Boulter, Demorestville; Hon. S. H. Blake, Toronto; Miss Bayne, Toronto; Frank Barker, Georgetown; Rev. Alfred Brown, Orangeville; Rev. W. H. Buckler, Demorestville; Mrs. W. H. Beckler, Demorestville; John Bailes, Oshawa; Jos. W. Brewster, Rednerville; Rev. W. D. Balfour, Marmora; Rev. Dr. Barrass, Toronto; J. R. Brown, Madoc; Miss Ida Brown Madoc; Fred W. Bennett, Mallorytown; Dr. Bissonnette, Napanee; Miss Mary Blain, Goderich; Rev. Wm. Bryens, Acton; Rev. Geo. Brown, Madoc; Moses Boardman, Chatterton; Jas. Batstone, Tyrone; S. T. Bartlett, Cobourg; E. S. Barker, Guelph; Miss Annie Brown, Brighton; Miss C. Bowerman, Wellington; Miss A. Brown, Toronto.

R. W. Clarke, Millbrook; Rev. A. C. Courtice, Kingston; Mrs. A. C. Courtice, Kingston; D. Clapp, Rose Hall; Rev. D. C. and Mrs. Crossley, Napanee; Rev. Crothers, Port Hope; James R. Clarke, Holloway; T. Dixon Craig, M.P., Port Hope; John Charlton, M.P., Lynedoch; Miss Etta Campbell, Tyrone; Miss Carroll, St. Catharines; A. F. Crombie, Toronto; Wesley Campbell, Dead Creek; W. Clemens, Tyrone; Miss Nellie Corbett, Toronto; John Chislett, Rednerville; W. H. Clarke, Eldorado; Miss H. Coyan; Rev. Geo. H. Clare, Bridgenorth; John Coomb, Carrville; Mrs. James Conron, Toronto Junction; Rev. S. Childerhose, Eldorado; Mrs (Rev.) John S. Clarke, Oshawa; Mrs. (Rev.) A. R. Campbell, Hastings; Richard Curry, Smith's Falls; Rev. J. W. Cooley, Tilsonburg; C. W. Chadwick, Toronto; Miss A. M. Corneth, Millbrook, Dr. S. W. Clarke, Millbrook; Miss Couthard, Toronto; J. F. Conley, Yarker; John Conlin, Madoc; Miss Lillian M. Coutts, Brockville; C. N. Callander, Windsor; A. A. Chard, Toronto; Miss Cowan, Galt; Mrs. (Rev.) T. M. Campbell, Picton; Miss E. Crysdale, Picton; Mrs. George Collins, Selby; S. D. Clark, Odessa; P. P. Clark St. Ola; Walter Clapp, Rose Hall.

A. J. Donley, Simcoe; Alfred Day (Sec'y) Toronto; Miss Davis, Deseronto; Moses Dickie, Bracebridge; Miss Minnie Dickson, Cold Springs; Rev. Chas. J. Dabson B.D., Welland; Rev. Robt. Droff, Georgetown; Alex. Dingwall, Hamilton; Geo. E. Davis, Picton; Thos. Dunnigan, Warkworth; A E. Dickson, Peterborough; Wm E. and Mrs. Dyer, Oshawa; R. A. Donald, Toronto; Mrs. Helena Duncan, Yorkville; Robert Davidson, Toronto; W. K. Doherty, Toronto; Elizabeth Denike, Picton; Mrs. M. Dudley, Colborne; Miss Nellie Denike, Guelph; Miss Alice Donald, Campbellford; Wm. J. Demster, Kintore; Miss Maggie Dixon, Galt; Thos. Dunlop, Aurora; B. F. Doxsee, Hastings; Mrs. E. Dorland, Castleton; Miss Demill, Brighton.

Mr. English, Madoc; Misses Eggleston, Queensboro; Mr. and Mrs. Elliott, Napanee; Mrs. Wm. Embury, Napanee; Mrs. Ursula Eaton, Waupoos; John Egan, Newcombe's Mills; Miss Bella Egleson, Cold Springs; Robt. Eagle, Harlow; Rev. T. J. Edmison, Wellington; Thos. H. Evenson, Oshawa; James Edwards, Toronto; W. J. Esmond, Canifton; Geo. Edwards, Kingston; Mrs. (Dr.) Eccles, London; R. J. Elliott, Burlington; Isaac Eaton, Melrose.

Miss Fraser; Miss Fairbairn, Napanee; Geo. Fenwick, Kingston; Lucius Flagg, Morrisburg; Mrs. David Fraser, Norwood; Mis M. Fusee, Peterborough; F. T. Frost, Smith Falls; Rev. Wm. Frizzell, Toronto; Mrs. Fox, Toronto; Jas. Fry, Collingwood; Wm. Fryer, Collingwood; Mrs. John Fennell, Napanee; Mrs. Finkle, Napanee; J. O. Fretts, Hawley; Mrs. John Francis, Madoc; A. Fulford, Port Hope; Mrs. J. H. Ford, Toronto; Miss A. Fountain, Simcoe; Miss M. Foote, Toronto.

Miss Gillespie, Picton; Rev. Principal Grant, Kingston; Chas. J. Gray, Seaforth; E. N. Gould, Latta; Miss Susie Graham, Meadowvale; Mrs. S. Gibson, Napanee; Mrs. Garratt, Napanee; Wm. Grigg, Toronto; Andrew Gemmill, McLaren's Depot; A. C. German, Castleton; J. W. Gilbert, Picton; Miss E. Goard, Peterborough.

Rev. H. Houston, Kingston; Miss Hart, Perth; Wm. Harris, Hamilton; Wm. Hamilton, Toronto; Thos. H. Henderson, Brougham; Miss Bertha Hicks, Waupoos; Rev. and Mrs. Newton Hill, Omemee; Ogden Hinch, Napanee; Mr. J. Hooper, Toronto. E. C. S. Huyck, Cobourg; Miss M. Bigginbotham, Toronto; Chas. Huyck, Chapman; Miss Louise Henry, Thomasburg; Smith Hinman, Edville; Miss Lizzie Hume, Galt; H. C. Hoar, Bowmanville; Miss Emily A. Honey, Brickley; Mrs. Ogden Hinch, Napanee; Miss B. Henry, Napanee; Miss Henderson, Napanee. M. Huston, Chatham; Rev. John Anderson, South Woodsley; Miss A. Hill, Stony Creek; Wm. Hildreth, Tweedside; Benj. Herrington, Rylston; W. D. Hogarth, Tilsonburg; H. Y. Huffmann, Port Dover; Richard Hyde, Warsaw; Miss Laura Harvey, Toronto; Rev. E. Howell, Acton; Mrs. J. S. Hodgins, Bloomfield; John A. Holgate, Foxboro; Jas. Homan, Wilton; Jas. Hudgins, Chatterton; J. Henderson, Woodville; F. Hawkie, Port Hope. Miss M. Hopkins, Picton; W. F. Henderson, Pickering; J. B. Hudgins, Selby; Jas. Homan, Bath; Miss Lena Hoppins, Kingston; C. E. Harper, Guelph; Rev. Mr. Howard and wife, Keene; Dr. Harrison and wife, Keene; Wm. Hopkins, Port Nelson; W. N. Horsle and wife, Brantford; Miss M. Hadden, Picton.

Rev. and Mrs. W. Johnson, Trenton; A. J. Jacobs, Chicago; Rev. W. J. Jolliffe, Cobourg; Wesley Jackson, Cannington. Rev. and Mrs. John A. Jewell, Hastings; Miss Lizzie Jackson, Toronto; F. Johnson, Colborne. Jno. Jamieson, Picton; Miss Isa Illsey, Picton; W. H. Ives, Colborne.

Duncan Ketcheson, Rev. and Mrs. Jas. Kines, Oshawa; Mrs. W. B. Kelly, Bridgenorth; Rev. T. W. Kelly, Port Rowan; Alfred Kent, Napanee; Robt. Kerr, Toronto; Rev. H. B. Kenny, Oshawa; E. L Kennedy, Toronto; S. Judson Kelly, Glanford; Rev. S. J. Kelly, Glanford; Miss May Kemp, Brighton; Mrs. M. M. Lowry, Picton; Mrs. Laine, Toronto; Geo. A. Kingston and wife, Toronto; Miss Keith, Toronto; Miss L. Kennedy, Peterborough; J. E Kerr, Galt; Jas. Knowles, jr., Toronto.

Mrs. John. Lawson, Trenton; Miss Amy Lear, Waupoos; Mrs. E S. Lapum, Waupoos; Miss Mabel Leavens, Pickering; Miss Alma Lawless, Grafton; Miss Laidlaw, Kingston; Mr. Thos. Leslie, T. G. and Mrs. Lynde, Madoc; Rev. J. G. and Mrs. Lewis, Trenton; Jas. B. Lobb, Galt; E mer Lick, Oshawa; Rev. and Mrs. O. R. and Miss Lambly, Bloomfield; Wm. B. and Mrs Leavens, Chisholm; Miss M. Lattimer, Madoc; J. H Lewis, Toronto; Rev. H. Leitch, Castleton; Miss. F. Ledgerwood, Tottenham; Miss Miss Fannie Ledgerwood, Tottenham; Miss Nellie Laturney, Kingston; Jos. Lidston, Hickston; Miss Lear, Toronto.

Rev. Albert Moore, Dunnville; H. P and Mrs. Moore, Acton; Miss Minore, Peterborough; Miss Meighen, Perth; L. J. Moore, Toronto, Mrs. Mountford; T. T Millburn, Peterborough; Mrs. M. S Madole, Napanee; Frank Moses, Toronto; C. A. Mitts, Ivanhoe; Miss Catharine Miller, Hamilton; Rev. B. W. Merrill, Toronto; Thos. Moffatt, Toronto; R. Meek, Kingston; Miss Lou Minsker, Cobourg; Mrs. Jas. Mann, Bridgenorth; Miss Nolite Moon, Eldorado; Mrs. A. Miles, Madoc; Peter Maybee, Odessa; Wm. Multon, Hilton; Stanley Minns, Trenton; Miss Agnes Miller, Blenheim; W. H. Morgan, Toronto; W. J. Meiklejohn, Sarginson; Miss Rene Maynard, Toronto; Jas. Moore, Acton; Rev. John Moore, Burn Brae; Mrs. Andrew Meiklejohn, Wellman's Corners; J. R. Morrison, Burn Brae; Jas. Miller, McLaren's Depot; Jno. Moffat, Windsor; Miss Annie Moon, Campbellford; Geo E. Maynard, Bowmanville; H. I. Mills, Northport; J. L. Mullett, Castleton; Miss M. MacSteven, Picton; Robt. Mowat, Toronto; Miss E. Miller, Toronto; Sidney Moss, Toronto; C. R Morrow, Copetown; R. B. Martin, Picton; Jno. L. Mullett, Castleton; Dr. Meacham, Odessa.

Harry McMullen; Miss McAdam, Kingston; Wm. and Mrs. Mackintosh, Madoc; Rev. John McEwen; Rev. Alex. McCormack, Cold Springs; Miss McMillan, St. Catharines; D. A. McDermid, London; Rev. J. M. Macalister, Iroquois; Robt. A. McConnell, Toronto; John W. McDonald, Wellington; Rev. F. H. McDonald, Queensboro; Mrs. McIntyre, London; Donald McKay, Cannington; Rev. Roderick McKay, Douglas; F. W. McConnell, Trenton; Rev. Jas. McFarland, Warkworth; Mrs. A. McIntyre, Peterborough; D. M. McKay, Kintore; Rev. D. MacEachem, Napanee; Rev. H. W. McTavish, Blenheim; Rev. J. McLaren; Mr. McLeod, Toronto; David J. McClure, Brampton; Mrs. S. J. McLelland, Toronto; A. H. and Mrs. McLeod, Brighton; Rev. Geo. McCullough, Toronto; Miss Lizzie McConnell, Toronto; Miss J. McCracken, Streetsville; Rev. D N. McCosmus, Millbrook; Miss C. E McCameron, Keene; Jas. McNiel, Keene; R H. McBride, Toronto; Miss D. McDonald, Ottawa; Rev. R McCullough, Newburg.

Miss Nash, Morrisburg; Robt Norman, Schomburg; R. E. Nelson, Guelph; Edwin Nancekivell, Columbus; John Nicol, Queensboro; Mr. Naylor, Toronto; Robt. Norman, Schomberg; Thos. Nickol, Richmond.

Miss Hattie Ostrander, Cherry Valley; W. M. Orr, Stony Creek; W. J. Osborne, Bloomfield; R. F. Oliver, Stittsville.

Mrs. Pratt, Picton; Wm. Porte, Campbellford; Miss Post, Picton; Mrs. D. Phillips, Foxboro; Rev. Wm. Patterson, Toronto; Geo. Phillips, Brougham; A. E. Paul, Napanee; Rev. S. C. Philf, Pickering; Mrs. Sarah A. Pomeroy, Sutton; Mrs. A. C. Parks, Hay Bay; Miss S. Porteous, Galt; Miss Parker, Toronto; Jas. A. Packham, Owen Sound; Jas. Phinnemore, Toronto; Robt. Phillips, Holstein; Miss Petrie, Campbellford; Miss M. Peters, Campbellford; Rev. Pope, Picton; Rev. J. B. Pasteur, McLaren's Depot; Miss Cassie Porter, Castleton; Clare Powell, London; Dr. Platt, Picton.

Mrs. Russell, Deseronto; John C. Rosenear, Cold Springs; Rev. David J. Ross, M. A., Cannington; Mrs. Rowe, Orono; Miss Eva Richardson, Toronto; Miss Ritsen, Oshawa; Tony Ragnor, Wellington; Mr. D. E. Rose, Tamworth; Hercules Rollins, Remington; Mrs. Jane Robinson, Blessington; T. W. Ralph, North Augusta; Frank and Mrs. Reid, Simcoe; Mrs. (Rev.) A. R. Russell, Leamington; John Rutherford, Owen Sound; B. J. Rogen, Oshawa; E. G. Ringenger, Toronto; Florence Rose, Picton; Miss C. Rose, Ottawa; J. R. Reid, Ottawa; Jno. Russell, Napanee; Rev. J. J. Rae, Peterborough; Chas. Robinson, South Mountain; A. L. Russell, Leamington: John Riddell, Bensford; Jno. Riddell, Bensford; Miss A. Rowan, Kilsyth.

Mr. and Mrs. Sinclair, Madoc; W. J. Scott, Lancaster; Mrs. Thos. Symington, Napanee; Miss Saul Napanee; Mrs. Robert Smith Napanee, Rev. Geo. and Mrs. Salton, Stratford; Rev. D. and Mrs. Sutherland, Warkworth; Mrs. Stephens, Toronto; Mrs. M. B. Smith, Seaforth; Miss A. Sanderson, Peterborough; Andrew Shearer, Keene; E. O. Stickle, Glen Miller; Miss Simmons, Trenton; John B. Smith, Stoney Creek; Rev. Ray R. and Mrs. Smith, Stony Creek; Miss Lillian Smith, Port Dover; J. N. Shannon, Toronto; Miss T. V. Salter, Toronto; Rev. S. Sellery, Guelph; Wm. B. Switzer, Binbrook; Miss Aggie Steen, Streetsville; Miss Nina Stanley, Toronto; Chas. H. Saylor, Bloomfield; Miss C. Stewart, Madoc; Ernest Shepherd, Bath; Wm. B. Seccombe, Odessa; Mrs. W. B. Seccombe, Odessa; Samuel Sellery, Guelph; M. E. Sexsmith, Bridewater; Jno. Semple, Tottenham; Rev. M. Scott, Campbellford; Jno. Smith, Lonsdale; Abigail Smith, Smithfield; J. W. Shier, St. Ola; Samuel Spencer, Northport; J. H. Scriver, Hastings; T. Steadman, Belleville; C. R. Sing, Meaford; F. B. Stratton, Selby.

Mrs. M. Terrill, Trenton; Dr. W. E Telley, Bowmanville; Mrs. Talbott, Bloomfield; Miss Tallough, Cooper; Rev. S. W. Thorn, Arthur; Miss Annie E. Tomblin, Ameliasburg; Joseph H. Taylor, Keene; Rev. C. L. Thompson, Stirling. Rev. T. S. Turnbull, Clanbrassle; Miss J. Thompson, Goderich; Geo. T. Thrasher, Stirling; D. Toplady, Clinton; John Teskey, Halston; O. C. Filman, Aurora; J. A. Tice, Rose Hall; Mrs. U. Tobey, Picton; Rev. J. C. Tebb, Streetsville.

Miss F. Vella, Lynn, Mass.; Samuel VanHyck, Toronto; J. T. Vallentyne, Cannington; Miss Jennie Vankleek, Cooper; M. VanLuven, Morven.

Rev. and Mrs. Wilson, Tweed; J. J Woodhouse, Toronto; Rev. C. W. and Mrs. Watch, Brighton; Rev. Weese, F. C. Ward, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Willson, Brougham; Arthur Woodley, Tyrone; H. C. Webb, Cobourg; Miss Edith L. Waters, Norwood; Miss A. Werry, Blackstock; Rev. D. Williams, Plainfield; Rev. D. Wishart, Madoc; Miss May Werder, Trenton; Miss J. H. Wetherall, Toronto; R. P. and Miss M. Williams, Galt; T. C. and Mr. Ward, Toronto; John Wylie, Streetsville; Dr. C.H. Wartman, Napanee; Mrs. Warner, Napanee; T. Wickett, Port Hope; Jno. Wood, Toronto; Ald. R. E. Welson, Guelph; Miss Wharen, Toronto; Mrs. M. Widner, Simcoe; Mrs. A. Woolley, Simcoe; Miss L. Watts, Simcoe; Miss L. Willcox, Simcoe; A. C Wilson, Tyrone; W. Woodrow, Picton; M. E. Wilson, Baltimore; Mrs. M. H. Wilson, Baltimore; Joseph M. Whyte, Baltimore; Miss N Whyte, Toronto; Rev. C. W. Watch and wife, Brighton; Miss Wellington, Brighton.

Thos. Yeomans, Arden; Rev. W. R Young, Peterborough; Rev. W. J Young, Cherry Valley; Rev. G. A. Yeomans, Deseronto.

When Others Fail.

Hood's Sarsaparilla builds up the shattered system by giving vigorous action to the digestive organs, creating an appetite and purifying the blood. It is prepared by modern methods, possesses the great curative powers, and has the most wonderful record of actual cures of any medicine in existence. Take only Hood's.

HOOD'S PILLS are purely vegetable, and do not purge, pain or gripe. 25c.

Effect of the French Treaty. Clarets at Half Price.

The Bordeaux Claret Company established at Montreal in view of the French Treaty, are now offering the Canadian connoisseur beautiful wines at $3 00 and $4 00 per case of 12 large quart bottles. These are equal to any $6 00 and $8 00 wines sold on their label. Every swell hotel and club are now handling them, and they are recommended by the best physicians as being perfectly pure and highly adapted for invalids' use. Address Bordeaux Claret Company, 30 Hospital Street, Montreal.

114 8 Weds&Sats.

A Lesson in Hygiene.

Now that water supplies are recognized as the chief vehicle for propagating typhoid fever, medical and scientific authorities throughout the world are constantly dwelling on the necessity of using water of known purity. While this has no bearing on medicinal waters, which, however valuable, cannot safely be made part of the ordinary daily diet, because of the active chemical substances they contain, it has, however, given a wonderful stimulus to the consumption of dietetic or table waters, such as Apollinaris. It is little wonder, however, that the use of Apollinaris is on the increase, for who does not gladly take the beverage which, besides being pure and healthful, is delightful and refreshing?

Cold in the head—Nasal Balm gives instant relief; speedily cures. Never fails.

Have Asthma?

R. Schiffmann, St. Paul, Minn., will mail trial package of "Schiffmann's Asthma Cure," free to any sufferer. He advertises by giving it away. Never fails to give instant relief in worst cases and cures where others fail. Name this paper and send address for a free trial package.

A PALE FACE comes from poor blood. Your blood needs to be enriched and vitalized. For this there's nothing in the world so thoroughly effective as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Children who are weak, thin, pale, and puny are made strong, plump, rosy, and robust by the "Discovery." It's especially adapted to them, too, from its pleasant taste. It's an appetizing, restorative tonic which builds up needed flesh and strength. In every blood-taint or disorder, if it doesn't benefit or cure, you have your money back.

DR. R. V. PIERCE: Dear Sir—I will say that I used the "Medical Discovery" for my little girl, and she is entirely well. I cannot praise your medicines too highly. You may rest assured that you will always have my support.

Henry Ledbetter

Postmaster of Aldon, Perry Co., Tenn.

YOUR. NEW.. DRESS

What shall it be made up of?

Perhaps you'd like to choose it from some of those beautiful Scotch mixtures we're showing in a variety of prices? They're very nobby and just the fashion now.

— OR —

You will find a large assortment of plainer waves in our dress department. Ladies always like to make choice from a large assortment. That's one reason why they come here.

WE MAKE DRESSES!

Both our Miss Craig and Mrs. McLean have been to New York this season. They will be pleased to offer free, any ideas or suggestions as to making costumes.

If you should decide to leave your gown with us to be made, you will find the prices very moderate indeed.

GEO. RITCHIE & CO.

A new lot of....
"Health Brand"
underwear just..
received.......

Changed Daily.

THURSDAY, Oct. 18 h, 1894.

OLD BACHELORS

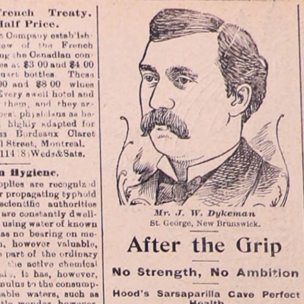

Cannot appreciate the nice assortment of new goods that we are now displaying on our tables. Why should they? Men are not catered to by us, but but we Want Wives...

And Ladies in general, to come in and see our beautiful new stock of Chinaware, Glassware, Lamps, Wedding Presents, etc. We are always pleased to have you visit us.

Stroud's

TEA STORE.

Mr. J. W. Dykeman
St. George, New Brunswick.

After the Grip

No Strength, No Ambition

Hood's Sarsaparilla Gave Perfect Health.

The following letter is from a well-known merchant tailor of St. George, N. B.:

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"Gentlemen—I am glad to say that Hood's Sarsaparilla and Hood's Pills have done me a great deal of good. I had a severe attack of the grip in the winter, and after getting over the fever I did not seem to gather strength, and had no ambition. Hood's Sarsaparilla proved to be just what I needed. The results were very satisfactory, and I recommend this medicine to all who are afflicted with rheumatism or other afflictions caused by poison and poor blood. I always keep Hood's Sarsaparilla in my house and use it when I need a tonic. We also keep Hood's Pills on hand and think highly of them." J. W. DYKEMAN, St. George, New Brunswick.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

Hood's Pills are purely vegetable, and do not purge, pain or gripe. Sold by all druggists.

= SILKS =

We have in stock a full line of the

Corticelli Embroidery and Knitting Silks

.. IN ..

Honiton Lace Emb'y Silk.
Outline do do
Knitting Silk,
Twist Embroidery,
Roman Floss,
Filo Floss.

— ALSO —

27 INCH PURE JAPANESE SILK IN

LIGHT BLUE,
CREAM,
ROSE PINK,
CORAL PINK,
BUTTERCUP,
CARDINAL,

BLACK = SILKS!

In all the leading makes.

J. P. THOMPSON & CO.

A GOOD, WARM, CHEERFUL FIRE!

Will soon be in order as the cold weather is rapidly approaching

SO.....

... Do not Lose any Time

In ordering your supply of

Telephone C 68.

Coal and Wood

... FROM ...

S. A. LAZIER & SON'S.

The Leading Coal and Wood Merchants.

HOW NICE...

AND

...SO CHEAP

This expression was heard on all sides by our hundreds of patrons who visited us last Saturday.

No wonder such prices and novelties, one cannot resist the temptation of letting the purse strings loose.

No wonder when you can buy goods for almost one half the former price. This store introduced CUT PRICES and intend to keep it up.

No fancy or private mark, but in plain figures are all our goods marked. These are a few of the bargains we offer you this week:

5 Cases Flannellet, dark, pretty patterns, 28 in. worth 9c........ 7c
3 do Grey Flannel, worth 20c........................ 15c
2 do do do all wool, worth 25c.................... 18c

A thousand different bargains in every department which space will not permit us to mention. Call and convince yourself.

H. A. LAYTON, BELLEVILLE.

Front St., Opposite Campbell St.

SOME HINTS!

Upon the Uses of Wall and Ceiling Paper.

TEN Per Cent Discount Now.

1. The better grades of paper last longer, are easier to hang and can be purchased at but slight advance in cost over the poorer grades.
2. Whitewash and calsomine are but little cheaper than ceiling papers and add nothing to the appearance of the room, in fact they more often destroy the harmony. To think of furnishing all the rest of your room (the floor even, which you deliberately tramp upon) and leave the most important part of it (the ceiling) without a particle of furnishing or character, except that of cleanliness, is beyond comprehension. Your upper wall and ceiling are the only unbroken decorative feature of a room. Furniture breaks the view of the lower wall and it is still further obscured by the hanging of pictures upon it; therefore let special attention be paid to the selection of wide border that shall be in harmony with wall and ceiling, and of ceiling that fittingly completes the beauty of the room.
3. Narrow borders are sufficient, if your aim is only to conceal the ragged ends of paper, but a wide border or frieze serves to heighten the appearance of a room and gives it a more artistic finish—makes it appear as if frescoed.
4. In making your selections, if the room has a north window, let some warmth appear in the paper. If the exposure is south or west, cooler shades can be appropriately used. For Dining-rooms let the walls be mellow in tone, indicative of hospitality.

Parlors can be treated according to individual taste, care being used to have wall and ceiling decorations in harmony with carpets and furniture.

Use for sleeping rooms, light ground papers with a spice of color in the pattern. Floral decorations are most in favor for such purposes.

5. Whatever may be the room or rooms that you are about to paper, don't forget that the better qualities of paper will retain their lustre long after cheaper grades have become dull and colorless.
6. Ten per cent. discount now.

CHAS. B. SCANTLEBURY.

24TH - - - - - YEAR.

Our Novelties in .. Fur Capes and Jackets

Are the talk of the City, and our Goods are

FIRST CLASS!

The reason for this is we have the

RIGHT STYLES AND PRICES

And our Furs are quite different from any other house in the City.

S. A. HYMAN.

Manufacturing Furrier.

Old Furs of all kinds cleaned, dyed and made over,

ALL OVER THE WORLD
NORWAY PINE SYRUP
CURES
COUGHS & COLDS
PRICE 25c & 50c

Bay of Quinte Steamboat Route
TRI-WEEKLY
DESERONTO, PICTON & KINGSTON
1894 - 1894

STR. "BERO"

THIS favorite steamer is now lighted by electricity and will have a strong search light for excursion business and the boat is heated by steam.

Commencing Monday, April 9th, will leave Belleville Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 6 a.m. returning Tuesday, Thursday and Friday at 11 p.m.

The very best facilities are offered to shippers of freight. The lowest through and local rates quoted.

No shortage at Picton on freight for this steamer.

Full information given by Gilbert Johnston, on board, or to the

RATHBUN COM'Y.
J. H. GILDERSLEEVE, Ticket Agents
Kingston.

ROCHESTER,
STEAMER

NORTH KING

Leaves for Charlotte, N. Y., every Sunday, 11:45 p.m.

Leaves for Picton and Kingston every Sunday, 8:30 a.m.

Arrives from Picton and Kingston every Sunday, 11:45 p.m.

Arrives from Charlotte, N. Y., every Sunday, 3:30 a.m.

Special attention given to passengers and freight

WEEK DAYS.—Steamer leaves Port Hope week days for Charlotte, N. Y., at 9:45 a.m.

Calls at Brighton Monday 2 a.m., and Wednesday 2:30 a.m., and at Colborne Wednesday and Fridays 4 a.m.

Connection made by Grand Trunk morning trains.

THE RATHBUN CO. U. E. THOMPSON, 43tf Agents. Agent.

HAMILTON,
TORONTO, AND MONTREAL,
Via Bay of Quinte, Calling at all Ports Weekly.
THE FAVORITE STEAMER

"MAGNET"

Leaves St. Catharines Tuesday 9 a. m
Toronto " 4 p. m.
Leaves Belleville for Montreal } Wednesday 7:30 a m
Leaves Belleville for Toronto } Sunday 3 p. m.

First Class Passenger Accommodation, Large Freight Capacity. Lowest Rates For Tickets, Rates, &c., Apply to the RATHBUN COMPANY, Agents, or to

CAPT. J. J. TOWERS, Superintendent, No. 2 King st., Toronto.
C. F. GILDERSLEEVE, General Manager, 298 St. Paul st., Montreal.

Steamer "Iona"

Will leave Belleville three times each week for Oswego, connecting with trains for New York.

INSURANCE.
Western Assurance Company,
Fire and Marine Head Office, Toronto.
North British & Mercantile Ins. Co.,
Fire and Life, Head Office (Can.) Montreal
Ætna Insurance Company,
Fire Head Office (Canada), Montreal
M. M. THOMPSON
Water Works Office Bridge St

REMOVAL

MR. JOSEPH CALDWELL, DENTIST
Has removed his office to the new premises which he has had specially fitted up in the
Caldwell Block,
First door south of the Anglo-American Hotel
Front street. 1086

Daily Intelligencer.

At Death's Door—Dyspepsia Conquered —A Great Medical Triumph.

GENTLEMEN,—My medical advisers told me I could not possibly live when I commenced to use Northrop & Lyman's VEGETABLE DISCOVERY for Dyspepsia. My case was one of the worst of its kind. For three years I could not eat meat and my weight decreased from 219 to 119 lbs. All the food I took for thirteen months previous to taking the VEGETABLE DISCOVERY consisted of milk. I am now entirely cured and have regained my usual weight, can eat anything with a keen relish and feel like a new man. I have sold over thirty dozen VEGETABLE DISCOVERY since it cured me, as I am well known, and people in this section know how low I was, and thought I could not possibly be cured. They are anxious to try this great medicine. It certainly saved my life, as I never expected to recover when first I commenced using it. I am not exaggerating anything but feel glad to be able to contribute this testimonial and trust it may be the means of convincing others of its merits as a certain cure for Dyspepsia.

Signed JEAN VALCOURT,
Wotton, P. Q.

In 1888 the people of Great Britain paid taxes on 492 200 carriages.

Is there anything more annoying than having your corn stepped upon? Is there anything more delightful than getting rid of it? Holloway's Corn Cure will do it. Try it and be convinced.

In Portugal the tobacco tax brings £900,000, the land tax £700,000.

Some people laugh to show their pretty teeth. The use of Ivory White Tooth Powder makes people laugh more than ever. It's so nice. Price 25c. Sold by druggists.

Worms cause feverishness, moaning and restlessness during sleep. Mother Gray's Worm Exterminator is pleasant, safe and effectual. If your druggist has none in stock, get him to procure it for you.

The rate of taxation has nearly quadrupled in France since 1830.

DYSPEPSIA causes dizziness, headache, constipation, variable appetite, rising and coming of food, palpitation of the heart. Blitres after eating. Burdock Blood Bitters is guaranteed to cure Dyspepsia if faithfully used according to directions.

Until about forty years ago, the Persian Government levied a tax on cats.

Mr T. J. Hems, Columbus, Ohio, writes: "I have been afflicted for some time with kidney and Liver Complaint, and find Parmelee's Pills the best medicine for these diseases These Pills do not cause pain or griping, and should be used when a cathartic is required. They are Gelatine Coat d, and rolled in the Finest of Licorice to preserve their purity and give them a pleasant, agreeable taste.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP cures Bronchitis.

FOR CHOLERA MORBUS, Cholera Infantum Cramps, Colic, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, and Summer Complaint Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is a prompt, safe and sure cure that has been a popular favorite for over 40 years.

PETTYJOHN'S
CALIFORNIA BREAKFAST FOOD

Dyspeptics can eat this food.
It is particularly adapted for children and persons of sedentary habits.
It is made from Pacific coast wheat hulled and crushed by improved machinery.
It can be easily prepared for breakfast, as this crushing process makes it soft and tender and easy to cook
Ask your physician which is best for you to eat, oats or wheat.
Pettijohn's California Breakfast Food is sold in packages by

BENMORE & BENSON.

STEAMER VARUNA

A. HICKS, Captain.

WILL leave Trenton every morning, (Sunday excepted) at 7:00 o'clock, calling at Redcreville and all points between the head of the bay and Picton, leaving Belleville at 8:30 a.m., Deseronto at 10:20 a.m.

On Tuesday and Thursday evenings to meet North King at Brighton, returning will leave Brighton Wednesday and Saturday mornings at 5:30.

Will connect at Picton with stage for Sand Banks.

Parties wishing to arrange for excursion rates will see Capt. Hicks on board

Will leave Picton at 1 p.m. on return for the head of the bay, Deseronto 2:30 p.m., Belleville, at 4:30 p. m., and Trenton, at 6.

Conveyance in waiting at Picton, Belleville and Brighton.

The Rathbun Co., Agents, Belleville and Deseronto.
A. W. Hepburn, Agent, Picton.

ROCHESTER,
KINGSTON AND MONTREAL
Weekly Service Calling at Way Ports
THE PEOPLE'S FAVORITE STEAMER.

"ALEXANDRIA"

Leaves Montreal, Thursday at 10:00 a. m.
Arrives Belleville, Saturday at 11:45 a. m.
Leaves for Rochester " 1:15 p. m.
Arrives from Rochester, Monday at 6:30 a. m.
Leaves for Montreal, " 7:30 a. m.

Spacious and elegant Saloon. Ample State-room accommodation. The choicest and best Meals furnished. Safety, comfort and enjoyment ensured by personal supervision of Capt. Smith and Purser Melrose. Careful handling of freight.

For Tickets, State rooms at lowest rates apply to

THE RATHBUN COMPANY, Agents.

THE KISS OF GOLD.

By KATE JORDAN.

(Copyright, 1893, by J. B. Lippincott Company and published by special arrangement with them.)

Yet, so strange is the affinity between thought and sequence, Tom felt scarcely any surprise when one night at the theater he lifted his languid eyes and saw Virginia in a lower box.

There she was as he had so often pictured her through these useless, feverish, fear haunted days. His sick soul raged with yearning, and in all the crowded, half lit house he only saw her face. He scarcely seemed to breathe. His eyes devoured her. The dear face! There was no other like it in the world.

The light was in her eyes, the red in her arching lips, the soft fire of expecting, exulting youth not one whit dimmed. It is only in books women show upon their faces when they have passed the first milestone on the path of pain.

Would she see him? He hardly knew whether he most longed for or dreaded her glance. How would she look if she knew the truth about the play she watched so earnestly? What would her eyes say then?

A coldness began to steal over him, a desire to shriek. His head was whirling. Was he going mad? This dull, inarticulate grief preying upon his heart—oh, if he could sigh it away!

Saw Virginia in a lower box.

And all the while in the rosy gloom thrown upward by the footlights Virginia's face shone like a star. And all the while the old passion grew with the seconds, no longer single and pure, the ideal love of a man's youth, but a reckless, dominant craving for her, the fruit of past experience and present despair.

He remembered nothing more until he stood before her, their hands locked.

Oh, that moment!

He was dimly conscious of a strange man with Virginia and of an introduction to him, but he seemed an interminable distance away through a maddening red blur. The crowd, the music, too, had receded, and Virginia's upraised eyes, her warm, confiding palm, were the only realities.

What he said to her he never knew—something muttered, incoherent—words seemed of such little value then beside the longing to crush her to his sore heart.

Then for a moment he looked away, his eyes drawn upward as by a spell.

A cry wavered from his paling lips; he reeled backward and flung her hand from him. Above, among the sea of faces, was Felix Dawson's, the light from his eyes shooting through Tom's guilty heart like a vein of electricity. To his blinded, maddened senses the face seemed distorted by a terrible menace. His doom was written there.

In a moment he was fleeing from it, pushing through the waiting crowds in the aisles as a man breasts a sea.

CHAPTER XIV.

Virginia, at the door of the box, stood facing the crowd where Tom had disappeared. A shudder shook her from head to foot. She still seemed looking into a pair of tormented blue eyes alight with a shifting flame, the choked, broken accents of a familiar voice were in her ears.

And yet—oh, could it be?—was it really Tom who had stood there? That gaunt figure and sickly face, the dissolute eyes and coarsened mouth were like a travesty on the memory cherished so tenderly. The pity of it!

Her raised arm drooped against the curtain in the shadow, and she laid her face upon it, closing her eyes and letting the slow, heavy tears fall as they would.

A love born of long association is not an easy thing to kill. Virginia's died hard in that piteous moment, but it died surely. She scarcely knew it herself, so keen, so deep was the rush of compassion, almost maternal in its intensity, that took its place.

But gradually as the tears fell and the throes of the awakening continued she saw the truth. The passion that had held her to the past was like a wornout coil whose strands in the weak places she had persistently kept mended until Tom's own hand had cast it tonight, leaving in her grasp only a handful of worn-out shreds. The old feeling was like something done with and put away forever. Weak and morbid natures cling to a sentiment when the ideal that projected it is lost. A proud and virile heart leaps exultant, free.

"Virginia!"

But there was none of the triumph of freedom tempering the first acuteness of Virginia's awakening. She was thinking of Tom as she had first seen him years ago. He had stood on the steps of the chapel that April morning when the square was a glory of white clouds and young, rustling leaves. The stiff student cap threw a pointed shadow across his glowing eyes. His head was pressed roughly back, one hand deep in his pocket as he laughed aloud and snapped his fingers at a little terrier rolling on the grass, mad in the caress of the sunlight.

The then and now! Ages had rolled between that moment and this one. Was there nothing to be done—no price she would pay, no sacrifice she could make—to give him back that innocence and know him again as he was that day?

"Virginia!"

There was a new significance in Richard Monklow's touch upon her arm, light as it was. She felt it in her blood. There was a sudden shyness in her glance. She drew back, a new recognition startling her, and looked intently at the bronzed face under the shorn white hair. How composed it was, how earnest and gentle!

"You know who that was," she said; "you've heard father revile him often enough." She paused, and again a biting mist swam across her sight. "Poor Tom! His bitterest enemy might pity him now."

(To be Continued.)

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

TORONTO, Oct. 18, 1894.

Canadian barley in Oswego is held at 61.

The demand for western barley is very light. Some figuring is going on in Canada at Buffalo at 66c, but maltsters, as a rule, are waiting for a decline.

On the street here 300 bushels of wheat sold at 65 to 67c for white and 51 for red; 3,000 of barley at 44 to 48 1-2, and 400 of oats at 31 1-2 to 32. Outside prices were nominally unchanged.

Wheat was weak in Chicago during the greater portion of the day, but closed firm. Corn was strong at the close and 1-8c higher. Oats were strong.

Most of the 20 cars of Canada lambs on sale at the East Buffalo live stock market had not been disposed of at the close of the market. The choice lots were generally held at $4.30 to $4.35 and sales of good Canadas were at $4 to $4.15. The close was weak with but limited demand.

The London stock markets are still depressed by the political situation abroad. Americans were about the best market, closing at the top, but this was merely a reflection from the New York side.

For the rather decided recovery in New York stocks, there were two causes. One was the published interview with President Roberts of the Pennsylvania, the other a formal reduction in sterling postal rates. Mr. Roberts' views were cheerful on the whole and were rendered somewhat more emphatic from the fact that previous utterances from the same authority have not been at all encouraging. Sugar certificates led the early upward movement, advancing a full point further, at the top figure the usual expert profit taking began and the price fell back below the opening. The general market closed a little heavy, professional speculators for the fall using the Baltimore and Ohio dividend reduction with some effect.

Attempted to End His Life.

WINDSOR, Ont., Oct. 18.—John Askin, who is employed in the post office here as delivery clerk, attempted to commit suicide by cutting his throat with a very dull knife. Drs. Ashbaugh and Samson were immediately called and after examining the wound declared that it would not be fatal. Askin has been drinking heavily lately and seemed to be laboring under the delusion that his wife was seeking to get him into difficulty with the post office officials.

Heavy Floods in Quebec.

MONTREAL, Oct. 18.—The inhabitants of Lake St. John Valley have suffered severely during the last week from exceptionally heavy floods. Rain has been incessant for eight days. Bridges and even buildings have been carried away. The damage will reach two hundred thousand dollars. As the bulk of the farmers in this district belong to the poorest class of settlers, great distress is expected during the winter.

Haldimand Patrons.

CAYUGA, Ont., Oct. 18.—A meeting of the Patrons of Industry was held here yesterday. It was determined to defend the protest that has been brought against Mr. Senn, and to support Mr. Beck, of South Cayuga, in the coming contest for member in the House of Commons.

Lewis Will Come Back.

MONTREAL, Que., Oct. 18.—It is reported that Lewis, the hotel porter, who was arrested with the Grand Trunk conductors, charged with defrauding the company, and who afterwards skipped, has consented to come back and give evidence in the case.

Dundas Will Vote on the Bylaw.

DUNDAS, Ont., Oct. 18.—At a meeting of the Dundas council it was decided to submit a by-law to the ratepayers of the town asking them to vote $20,000 bonus to the Toronto, Hamilton and Buffalo railway to run their line through the town.

Armenian Shot by a Turk.

PROVIDENCE, Oct. 18.—John Sommonian, an Armenian, was shot four times by Chaboarin Chahsonian, a Turk, yesterday. Sommonian is dying in the hospital and his assailant is under arrest. The men were enemies.

Deseronto Navigation Company (Limited

Steamer Ella Ross.

This fast sailing and comfortable steamer leaves Belleville for Trenton daily (Sunday excepted), at 10 a.m. Leaves Belleville for Deseronto and Picton at 3 p.m., connecting at Deseronto with steamers for Napanee and Oswego. Lowest freight and passenger rates. For further information apply to the Rathbun Co., Bridge street, or to R. C. Carter, General Manager, Deseronto.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP cures Coughs.

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry cures Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cramps, Colic, Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum, and all looseness of the bowels. Never travel without it. Price 35c.

In parts of Peru taxes are paid in cocoa leaves and Peruvian barks.

For coughs, colds, bronchitis and all lung and throat troubles, there is no preparation of medicine can compare with Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup. It never fails to afford prompt and permanent relief. It removes all soreness, and heals the diseased parts. It immediately soothes the most troublesome cough, and by promoting expectoration, removes the mucus which stops up the air tubes which, with difficulty in breathing, thereby gives relief to that depressing tightness experienced in the chest. Public speakers and singers will find Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup of inestimable value, as it speedily and effectually allays all irritation, and hoarseness in the throat and bronchial tubes, and gives power to the vocal cords, rendering the voice clear and sonorous. If parents wish to save the lives of their children, they themselves from much anxiety trouble and expense let them procure a bottle of Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup, and whenever a child has taken cold, has a cough or hoarseness, give the Syrup according to directions.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP heals the lungs.

A situated wife can find a vest pocket in the dark.

Ample warning is given us by our lungs when they are in danger. If foolhardy enough to neglect the warning signal, we incur imminent peril. Check a cough at the outset with Dr Thomas' Eclectric Oil—which is a sovereign pulmonic—best for being a remedy for soreness, lameness, abrasions of the skin, tumors, piles, rheumatism, etc.

BURDOCK PILLS, small, safe, and sure, regulate the liver and cure constipation.

Robert Lubbock, Cedar Rapids, writes: "I have used Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil both for myself and family for Diptheria with the very best results. I regard it as the best remedy for this disease, and would use no other.

Holland is the only country in Europe that admits coffee free of duty.

DYSPEPSIA arises from wrong action of stomach, liver and bowels. Burdock Blood Bitters cures Dyspepsia and all diseases arising from it, 99 times in 100.

DONT LET ANOTHER WASH-DAY GO BY WITHOUT USING

YOU will find that it will do what no other soap can do, and will please you every way.

It is Easy, Clean, and Economical to wash with this soap.

SUNLIGHT SOAP

DRESSMAKERS DIFFER

About fashions in dresses, but everyone agrees that the best foundation for any costume is the

"HEALTH BRAND,"

Black tights, which allow the figure to be shewn to perfection and do away with over-stockings, bloomers, and unnecessary skirts.

All ladies in Montreal wore them last fall and winter, and during the coming season nothing else will be considered, they were such a success.

Send for our illustrated catalogue, free by post, if your own dealer has not got them.

THE MONTREAL SILK MILLS CO., Montreal.

Floor Oil Cloths...

We have now in stock, FLOOR OIL CLOTHS up to 24 ft. wide

....FOR STOVES!

- - ALSO A LINE - -

ENGLISH OIL CLOTHS.

Suitable for under Stoves at 30c. sq. yd.

NATHAN JONES.

LISTEN FRIENDS!!

We SAY because we KNOW!

Our COAL! This Season is unexcelled for quality because the Bill of Lading bears the Brand of the Delaware & Hudson Canal Company.

Cut this out and test this "Ad" when the Winter Winds whistle.

THE RATHBUN COMPANY.

ONTARIO MUTUAL LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY.

S. Burrows, Esq., General Agent, Ontario Mutual Life Co., Belleville, Ont.

DEAR SIR, Received your company's check for $2,000 for our Matured Endowment, and we both wish to show our gratitude to you and the Company for the straightforward and satisfactory way you deal with policy holders, and that we are more than satisfied with our investment. I will always urge our friends to follow in our footsteps. Thanking you very kindly.

Yours very sincerely,
Mr. & Mrs. GOODWIN, Bowmanville,
Formerly of Belleville.

The Sale of Boots and Shoes:

Slightly damaged by Smoke and Water will continue until everything is sold.

HAINES & LOCKETT

Opposite Anglo-American Hotel

Belleville and Napanee, Office, Bridge St. Telephone A. 4.

COAL - AND - WOOD

THOS. STEWART,

The only dealer in Scranton Coal in Belleville and Napanee. The very best facilities for delivering to any part of the city or surrounding towns this coal, which is the best and cheapest mined.

No Gas. No Clinkers. No Waste

Clean, quick, hot, strong, cheerful fire. Smithing, Cannell, Brier Hill, Run of Mine coal and Coal Screenings always on hand. Hard and soft wood. Blocks and Edgings delivered to any part of the City.

TO THE PUBLIC.

When we decided to add the manufacture of carriages, phaetons, demoerats, &c., to our business, we immediately put under construction a few of each. As we decided to place no vehicle on the market which is not A 1 in in every detail, and knowing that no first-class vehicle can be produced on the rush, it has been necessary for us to take sufficient time to produce what we aimed at. We think we have succeeded; and we now have a few rigs completed, and others nearing completion to offer for sale. The iron work is all hand forged; the wood work carefully made, and strongly ironed; and the painting and upholstering done with the best material and greatest care. We can freely recommend these rigs. We will be pleased to have parties who may need anything in the above line, call and inspect our work.

ST. CHARLES & PRINGLE.

JAS ST CHARLES. HENRY PRINGLE

Camping Supplies!
AND
Picnic - Requisites!

Our list of articles suitable for Picnic Lunches and Camping, includes:

Canned Meats.

ARMOUR'S COOKED BEEF,
ARMOUR'S OX TONGUES,
ARMOUR'S LUNCH TONGUES,
ARMOUR'S POTTED HAM,

ARMOUR'S COOKED PIG FEET
ARMOUR'S LUNCHEON MEAT.
ARMOUR'S POTTED TONGUE
ARMOUR'S BRAWN.

SANDWICH MEATS,
BONELESS CHICKEN
BONELESS TURKEY,
POTTED BEEF,
POTTED GAME,
ETC., ETC., ETC.

Canned Fish.

FINEST SARDINES IN OIL,
FINEST SARDINES IN TOMATO,
HERRINGS IN TOMATO SAUCE,
KIPPERED HERRINGS,
FRESH HERRINGS,

SALMON, LOBSTERS,
FINNAN HADDIES,
LOBSTER PASTE,
ANCHOVY PASTE,
SARDINE PASTE,
ETC., ETC., ETC.

Sundries.

Condensed Milk in Tins, Cream in Tins, Biscuits (in great variety), Fine old Cheese, McLaren's Imperial Cheese (in small cronks), Dried Beef, Choice Hams and Bacon, Lime Juice, Spanish Olives, CROSSE & BLACKWELL'S Pickles White Onions, Walnuts, Chow Chow, and and Mixed Pickles.

WALLBRIDGE & CLARKE
Grocers and Wine Merchants,
33 and 37 Bridge Street, Also Front Street, in Caldwell Building.

GENTLEMEN....

Before ordering your Fall Clothing don t fail to take a look through

A. N. REID'S

New Fall Importations of Scotch, English and Irish Suitings, Overcoatings, Pantings, Irish Serges, Cheviots, Hop Sackings and Black Worsteds

First Class Goods and Prices low,

Mr. Minor, our cutter, is one of the best in Ontario.

EVERY GARMENT GUARANTEED!!

Please call and inspect our New Goods.

A. N. REID.

ALLAN LINE,
Royal Mail Steamships. Liverpool.
Calling at Moville.

	From Montreal daylight	From Quebec
PARISIAN	Oct. 6	Oct. 7
MONGOLIAN	" 13	" 14
HIBERNIAN	" 20
LAURENTIAN	" 27	28
NUMIDIAN	Nov. 3	Nov. 4
PARISIAN	" 10	" 11

RATES OF PASSAGE.

First cabin Derry and Liverpool, $45 and upwards single; $80 and upwards return. Second cabin, Liverpool, Derry, Belfast, Glasgow, $30; return $55. Steerage at lowest rates (everything found).

All steamships except the Hibernian carry 1st cabin, 2nd cabin and steerage passengers.

STATE LINE SERVICE
NEW YORK, LONDONDERRY AND GLASGOW.

STATE OF NEBRASKA ..... Oct. 12
STATE OF CALIFORNIA ..... " 26
STATE OF NEBRASKA ..... Nov. 22

Cabin passage, $60 and upwards, return $90 and upward; Second cabin $25. Steerage at lowest rates.

For tickets and other information apply to U. E. THOMPSON General Ticket Agency Bridge St., Belleville or to S. BURROWS, Agent

TELLIGENCER PRINTING AND PUBLISHING COMPANY (LIMITED.

J. O JAMIESON, President. | J. W. LONDON, Secretary

THE Treasurer is the only person authorized to receive money from the Company, or to grant receipts for the same.

All Bills, Notes, Cheques and other documents binding on the Company, will require the signature of the President, in addition to that of the Treasurer.

THE INTELLIGENCER is printed and published by the INTELLIGENCER Printing and Publishing Company (Limited) by James O Jamieson, resident in Belleville, the s O.B.,s. Front St., south of Hotel St.

The Daily Intelligencer.

LET THERE BE HARMONY IN THINGS ESSENTIAL—LIBERALITY IN THINGS NOT ESSENTIAL—CHARITY IN ALL.

VOL 28. BELLEVILLE ONTARIO FRIDAY OCTOBER 19 1894 NO 143

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

MEDICAL.

DR. WISHART.

47 GROSVENOR ST., Toronto, will be at the Huffman House, Belleville, Saturday, Dec. 1st, '94. 192dw1y

DR. QUACKENBUSH, M.D., U.M.D., M.D., P.S.O.

HOMŒOPATHIC Physician, Surgeon and Accoucheur, has removed his office over store lately occupied by J. O. Overell, Residence George St., opposite H. Corby's.

JOHN J. FARLEY, M. D., C. M., M. R. C. S. England.

OFFICE and Residence—corner of Bridge and George Streets—three streets east of Post Office.

LEGAL.

FLINT & McCAMON.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public, etc. Solicitors for the Canadian Bank of Commerce. Office, City Hall, Front Street, Belleville, Ont. d84tf
JOHN J. B. FLINT, W. J. McCAMON.

STEWART MASSON.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, Notary, Conveyancer, etc. Office, South side Bridge st., over Wallbridge & Clark's, Belleville, Ont. Money to loan at lowest rates. 76dwtf

J. F. WILLS' LAW OFFICE.

REMOVED to Campbell Street (south side) 2nd door from Front Street, on ground floor.

A. GOODRICH.

LAWYER, 124 Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill., 28 years' experience; secrecy; special facilities in several States; Goodrich on Divorce; with laws of all States in press. 76d1y

GEO. A. KINGSTON.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, etc., with Lount, Marsh and Cameron, 25 Toronto St., Toronto. Money to loan on farm property at lowest rates. 233dtf9w.

MIKEL & ROBERTS.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notary Public, Conveyancers, etc. Offices Bridge St., Belleville. Monies to loan at lowest rate.

THOMAS & HALLIWELL.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Conveyancers, &c. Money to loan. 293d3mw1y
J. PARKER THOMAS, J. EARL HALLIWELL.

PONTON & MORDEN,

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public, Conveyancers. Office over Express and Telegraph Office, Bridge St., Belleville. Money to loan—private funds.
WM. N. PONTON, M. A., Solicitor Hastings Loan and Investment Society.
W. S. MORDEN, B.A.

E. GUSS PORTER.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, Notary Public. etc. Office in the Robertson Block, east side of Front Street.
Private Money to Loan, 271dw1y

FRANCIS S. WALLBRIDGE.

(Successor to Hon. Lewis Wallbridge, Q.C.)
BARRISTER, Solicitor, Conveyancer, etc. Office, McAnnany building, corner Front and Bridge streets, Belleville, Ont. Private and Company money to loan at 6 per cent., on easy terms upon good land security. Charges moderate.

HENRY CARRE, C. E.

M.C. Soc C.E.,
DOMINION AND PROVINCIAL LAND SURVEYOR.

Special attention paid to Hydraulics and Land Drainage. Patents obtained and Drawings made. Office—McAnnany Block, under Ontario Business College, Front St. P.O. address—Box 203, Belleville.

A. G. NORTHRUP.

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Shire Hall, Belleville. 226d&w1y

D. I. DULMAGE, L.D.S., D.D.S. (Tor. University).

DENTIST—Office over Brignall & Thompson's. Night calls at residence on Forin Street d,w

CHAS. JOSE.

VETERINARY Surgeon, Graduate Ontario Veterinary College, Member Ontario Veterinary Society. Office and residence, Foxboro, Ont. Calls by mail or telegram promptly attended to. 304d,w1y

MISCELLANEOUS.

AGENTCY of the Liverpool and London and Globe Fire and Life Insurance Companies.
W. P. HUDSON, Agent.
Office Campbel. street, Belleville. d,w

-PLUMBING-

We have added to our Workmen,

MR. GEORGE JOHNSON,

Who has for the past six years been prominent on large contracts in Victoria, B. C., San Francisco, Denver, and Chicago.

— — ALSO — —

MR. EDWIN W. BISHOP,

A graduate of the New York School for Plumbing (class 92), who comes highly recommended.

With these men added to our staff, we feel sure of giving satisfactory to all in Sanitary Plumbing.

C. F. Smith & Co.

STOVE PIPES!
STOVE PIPES!!
STOVE PIPES!!!

WHIPS! LANTERNS!
WHIPS!! LANTERNS!!
WHIPS!!! LANTERNS!!!

Lamps, Flower Pots,
Lamps, Flower pots,
Lamps, Flower Pots.

—AT—

THE FAIR,

FRANK WEEKS, MANAGER.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

ACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York.

Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

A. Leflar.

DISEASED LUNGS

CURED BY TAKING

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral.

"I contracted a severe cold, which settled on my lungs, and I did what is often done in such cases, neglected it. I then consulted a doctor, who found, on examining me, that the upper part of the left lung was badly affected. The medicines he gave me did not seem to do any good, and I determined to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking a few doses my trouble was relieved, and before I had finished the bottle I was cured."
—A. LEFLAR, watchmaker, Orangeville, Ont.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Highest Awards at World's Fair.

Ayer's Pills Cure Indigestion.

"FOR THE BENEFIT OF RHEUMATIC SUFFERERS,"

ACETOCURA

MADE ME ANOTHER MAN

G. H. REEVES,
(Reeves & Beebe),
169 State street, Chicago.

Coutts & Sons,
72 Victoria street, Toronto.

Write for gratis pamphlet to COUTTS & Sons, 72 Victoria street, Toronto. Head offices—London, Glasgow and Manchester, (G.B.) Cologne, Germany, Aaron, Switzerland.

Local Agents—

L. W. YEOMANS & CO.,
DRUGGISTS,
BELLEVILLE.

PREPARE

FOR the STRUGGLE

The course of study offered by the Belleville business College gives a young person a thorough and practical knowledge of business, and also that mental culture and discipline which sharpens perceptive faculties, stimulates ambition, develops ability and prepares for the struggle of making a living. Every step in the work is characterized by thoroughness. Besides we use the most practical methods.

In teaching shorthand we dictate actual letters and legal evidence. Other schools have undertaken to imitate our methods, but the quality of their work bears that relation to practical business which the imitation does to the real.

We represent things exactly as they are.

Belleville Business College.

ROBERT BOGLE, Proprietor.

Daily Intelligencer.

FOR SWEET CHARITY'S SAKE

Child-Saving Workers of the Province Gather at Toronto.

ADDRESSES BY MANY ENTHUSIASTS

Advisability of Importing Pauper Children From the Old World Discussed—The Gibson Act—Senator Allen Commends Its Object—Some of Those Interested in the Work Who Were Present.

TORONTO, Oct. 19.—For a first conference of provincial proprotions that of those engaged in child-saving work in Ontario, which was convened yesterday in Confederation hall, was a splendid success. In numbers and social standing, as well as for the representative character, the attendance was a remarkable one.

Judge McDonald, of Brockville, was chairman. In his opening remarks he paid a high tribute to Superintendent Kelso for the admirable arrangements of the conference.

Hon. J. M. Gibson, Provincial Secretary of Ontario, made the opening speech, dealing with the Act, of which he is the author, passed two years ago, giving official recognition and special powers to children's aid societies. The chief aim of this legislation which is quite a new departure, is to remove dependent and neglected children from unhealthy and immoral environments and to place them for adoption in suitable families.

This, Mr. Gibson said, would take time, to have its provisions thoroughly understood and the machinery which it contemplates fully in working order. Those who have become familiar with the Act and its provisions will understand that it is of the utmost importance that the visiting committee in each of the electoral divisions in the province should be a reality instead of merely names on paper. The need and aim of the Act is that visiting committees shall be seeking out homes that are in need of children, and that the different societies in the centres shall be seeking out the children who need homes, and that they shall work reciprocally, one being necessary to the other. He thought there was not a constituency in the province that has not homes that are ready to receive the children of the crowded centres. The provision for the care of children in this province is pretty ample, and all that is being done in any country for that helpless class is being done in this country, but the present Act is intended to go farther in regard to compulsory care of children, who need to be looked after by the state.

Senator G. W. Allan commended this fostering system as far better than allowing children to become criminals for punishment. Nothing was better for the child than the sweet influences of home life. Judge Ardagh, of Barrie; Mr. J. K. Macdonald, president of the Toronto Children's Aid Society, and Mr. E. W. Kingston, deputy police magistrate of Toronto, also spoke at the opening session.

J. J. KELSO, SUPERINTENDENT.

In the afternoon addresses were made by Warden Massie, of the Central prison, on "Neglect of Youth and Its Bearing on Crime"; Chief Detective Stark, of the Toronto police department; Rev. Thomas Geohegan, of Hamilton, on "Industrial School Work," and by Superintendent McCrosson upon "The Work of the Ontario Reformatory for Boys."

A discussion of "The Importation of English Children," an address by Rev. Mr. Wallace, of the Belleville home, became animated through a speech by Mr. D. J. O'Donoghue, representing the Trades and Labor Council, presenting strong arguments against the practice of the Dominion immigration policy of aiding such. Mr. Alfred Jury also spoke in opposition of the state assistance for landing the waifs and strays of European cities on our shores. The outcome of the talk was the general agreement that all such children should be rigidly examined as to health, and a register of them, as well as of those with whom they are placed, be kept by the officers of the children's aid societies.

In the evening an open meeting drew a large audience, when addresses of the deepest interest were made by Chaplain Card, of the Boys' Reformatory, Penetang; Rev. J. E. Starr, agent of the Toronto Children's Aid Society; Hon. Solicitor Edwards, of the Peterboro Society; Toronto Public School Inspector, J. L. Hughes; O. A. Howland, M. P.P.; F. W. Matthews, London, and John Armstrong, president of Owen Sound Children's Aid Society.

The conference will resume to-day, the programme spreading over two days. Some of those attending are Hon. Charles Drury, Inspector Archibald, Supt. A. B. Owen, of Dr. Barnardo's Home; Rev. Dr. Parker, Dr. Rosbrugh, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Bollert, Guelph; G. W. Marshall, secretary S. P. W. and children, Montreal; Wm. Thompson, Orillia; S. M. Thomson, Brantford; E. B. Edwards, Peterboro; S. R. Break and Thos. R. Parker, London; Mr. and Mrs. James Burgess, Orphans' Home, Brockville; Dr. Oldright, Mrs. A. O. Rutherford, W. C. T. U., Toronto; Police Magistrate Flint, Belleville; R. H. Bartlett, Trenton; Miss Code, Peterboro; Mrs. W. Stevenson, Guelph; Mrs. Henry Freeland Burnside, Brockville; A. W. Richardson, Brantford; Miss Macdonald, Gananoque; Mrs. Wm. Foster, E. L. Robertson, Guelph; Frank Hills, Hamilton; J. Sanders, London; F. Howard Annes, Whitby; Mrs. Wm. Foibes, London; Wm. Wrigley, Toronto; Deputy Minister of Education Millar, Toronto.

The Suspended Cadets.

KINGSTON, Ont., Oct. 19.—The cadets who were "rusticated" for having been the most guilty in the hazing troubles at the Royal Military College are Cadets Holden, Weatherbee and Wilby, of St. John, N.B. A despatch received here from the Minister of Militia expresses his wish that Cadet Plummer return to the college.

TO TERMINATE THE WAR.

The Powers Are Negotiating to That End—A Rumored Battle.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—The Daily News publishes this semi-official statement: "A day or two after the last cabinet council China informed Great Britain that she was prepared to negotiate for peace on certain terms. Great Britain made overtures to the powers on a new basis of negotiation. Japan did not reply definitely, but has not rejected the proposal.

"The majority of the powers are in accord with England, and there is a likelihood that the others will assent. The intervention is purely diplomatic and is offered to both combatants in the friendliest spirit."

A despatch to the Globe from Port Arthur, under date of October 16, says it is reported in native circles that a great battle was fought north of the Yalu river on October 15, but no details are given.

The Robinson Pair Indicted.

BUFFALO, N.Y., Oct. 19.—Indictments charging Clarence and Sarah Robinson with murder in the first degree were reported to the superior court this morning. Most of the evidence in the hands of the district attorney was presented to the grand jury yesterday and some minor witnesses were heard. The indictments charge the defendants with murder in the first degree under that provision of the penal code which holds that homicide committed in the act of committing a felony is murder in the first degree. By their own confessions they planned to rob Gibbs and deliberately killed him when he resisted.

Narrow Escape From Death.

BUFFALO, Oct. 19.—Assemblyman Chas. I. Schoepflin had a narrow escape from death here. He was driving with a man in his employ over the Lackawanna tracks at Clinton street when the vehicle in which he was riding was struck by an engine. Mr. Schoepflin and his man were thrown to the side of the track. Mr. Schoepflin was considerably bruised and otherwise injured, but the other man was not hurt. The buggy and harness were ruined, but the horse was not injured. It seemed a miraculous escape.

Viscount Drumlarg Accidentally Killed.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—Baron Kelhead, better known as Viscount Drumlarg, accidentally discharged his gun and shot himself dead yesterday while hunting at Quantock Lodge, Bridgewater, the estate of E. J. Stanley, M.P. He was the eldest son and heir apparent of the Marquis of Queensberry, and was Lieutenant of the Second Battalion of the Coldstream Guards. He was born in 1867.

Miss Monroe Wins Her Suit.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—In the United States Circuit Court the jury in the case of Miss Harriet Monroe, of Chicago, against the Press Publishing Company (the New York World) returned a verdict of $5,000 damages against the World. Miss Monroe sued the Press Publishing Company for $50,000 damages for publishing her World's Fair ode without her permission.

The Crew of Four Were Lost.

GREENPORT, L.I., Oct. 19.—D. C. Sage, owner of the Long Island Brick Co., Greenport, and owner of the schooner S. S. Scranton, which was lost in the gale of October 10 near New London, has returned home from the scene of the wreck. He states that the entire crew of four were lost. The report sent out on the 16th that the crew had been saved was unfounded.

The Czar's Death Is Near.

BERLIN, Oct. 19.—The Koelnische Zeitung's correspondent in St. Petersburg has sent this despatch: "The Czar appears to be nearing the end. All the members of the imperial family are journeying to Livadia, where, it is reported, Princess Alix of Hesse will be received formally into the church and married quietly to the Czarewitch before Nov. 20."

SUICIDE OF A CIVIL SERVANT.

No Reason Is Known for the Terrible Act of Charles Judd.

OTTAWA, Oct. 19.—Charles Judd, a temporary clerk in the Department of Agriculture, committed suicide yesterday. He shot himself while in bed at 6 o'clock, with a small revolver, the bullet lodging in his head near the right temple. He was about 24 years of age and came here from London, Ont., in the summer of 1890. No cause is assigned for the unfortunate man's rash act. He is reported to have been steady and in fairly comfortable circumstances. He was unmarried and boarded at 102 Victoria street.

The coroner's jury returned a verdict of death by his own hand.

The following will was found in his vest pocket: "Last will and testament: I. Charles Judd, of the city of Ottawa, in the county of Carleton, in the province of Ontario, Canadc, civil servant, do declare this to be my last will. To my brother, Joseph C. Judd, I give and bequeath that parcel of land on Wellington street, of which I hold 1-8 share, together with $800 cash. To my sister, Mary Judd, I give and bequeath a share in the homestead together with the mortgage held by me against Joe's property on Rideau street south. To my brother, Frederick William Judd, I give and bequeath my Manitoba farm and what may be left after the bequeaths have been paid. I appoint my brother, J. C. Judd, and Russell E. Smith as my executors. Dated at Ottawa this 15th day of October, 1894."

Some other papers were found, but these gave no information as to why he took his own life. The pistol, a 32 calibre, has been in possession of Judd for some time and a box with two cartridges for it was also in the room.

A reply was received from the friends in London saying to have the body embalmed and a brother would come down on the first train.

Captain Howard is Safe.

OTTAWA, Oct. 19.—Captain Howard's daughter is at present visiting friends here. She has received the following telegram from her brother:

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct, 19, '94—"Word from Halifax, nothing has happened." Signed, W. A. Howard.

This would go to show that Gatling Gun Howard is safe and has reached Halifax: It is supposed that he had hugged the shore instead of taking to the open sea as was proposed.

Burglars at Inkerman.

INKERMAN, Ont., Oct. 19,—Burglars entered the store of W. R. Sweet, Inkerman, and carried off quite a lot of boots, shirts and clothing. The safe was drilled and powder put in, but the fuse did not work. The postoffice was ransacked, but nothing was taken. There were several registered letters and about thirty dollars in stamps, which were overlooked. No clue.

Almost a Centenarian.

HAMILTON, Oct. 19.—John Mewburn, aged 97 years, died at the residence of his son-in-law, James Ancaster, 169 Victoria avenue, yesterday. Deceased was born in Sligo county, Ireland, and has lived a retired life in Hamilton for the past 20 years. He enjoyed good health until a year ago.

LETTER TO MR. HUDDART

Admiral Hopkins Strongly Urges the Need of Fast Steamships.

THE PREMIER'S VISIT TO ENGLAND

The Morning Post Hints That It Has Something to Do With the Resolutions of the Ottawa Conference—Apathy of Australians Impede the Enterprise—Sir John Assured a Hearty Reception.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—The Morning Post says this morning of Sir John Thompson's proposed visit to England: "The Canadian premier's visit undoubtedly has some connection with the resolutions of the Ottawa intercolonial conference. Owing to the apathy of the Australian colonies, it is unlikely that the Government will enter into any contract with Canada anent the cable and steamship lines, until a former offer from Australia arrives. Minor questions, such as copyright, can, however, be debated with a prospect of obtaining Great Britain's views. Sir John Thompson may be sure of a hearty reception and general encouragement of views promoting closer relations between Canada and the mother country."

Admiral Hopkins has written an open letter to promoter Huddart who came to England in the interest of the fast steamship proposals. In it he says: "It seems a pity that the enterprise and genius which completed the magnificent service over the major part of the route between the United Kingdom and the west via the Canadian Pacific railroad should not now be backed by some further enterprise, able and willing to furnish means for bridging the remaining portion and making the whole possible in far shorter time than at present. The dangers of navigation may be dismissed as existing but surmountable. I feel confident that most commanders of the Allan and Dominion steamers would unhesitatingly and with alacrity exchange their present vessels for others running twenty knots. Detention by fog is no greater for a fast ship than a slow one. It does not effect the present question."

ON TRIAL FOR HIS LIFE.

John Warnock, of Tilbury, Charged With Killing John Radcliffe.

CHATHAM, Oct. 19.—The trial of John Warnock for the murder of John Radcliffe, of Tilbury, on September 10 is going on here. Walter O'Hara was the first witness, and testified as to the correctness of the plan of the vicinity of the crime produced.

Joseph Reid was next called. Reid, it will be remembered, was one of the men in company of the deceased on the night of the crime. To the crown prosecutor he told again the story of the night: He was in company with Thomas Wass, William Haight and Radcliffe on the night in question. About 11 or later they were coming down the main street and noticed Warnock following them. Radcliffe turned back and witnessed crossed the street. He next saw Warnock on top of Radcliffe, striking at him. Witness saw something shining in Warnock's hand. Radcliffe got up, staggered a few paces and then fell in a pool of blood. He shortly after died, and the body was taken to the fire hall. Witness then went with the constables to the Commercial hotel, where Warnock was arrested. After Warnock's arrest witness went back to the hotel with Constable Shaw, where in Warnock's pocket was found a knife like the one produced, and it had blood on it.

Cross-examined by Mr. Osler, witness said: "Neither I nor my companions did anything to irritate Warnock. There was something said to Warnock by one of our party. There was nothing to provoke Warnock, yet we all ran away when we saw him coming. Later in the evening, after the murder, I threw a clod of mud at him. I had four drinks of beer. Haight and Radcliffe were under the influence of liquor. Wass and I were sober. I first saw Warnock on the sidewalk. I did not see him on the street and come on to the sidewalk after. After this evidence the court adjourned.

TO PROTECT OUR COPYRIGHT.

Mr. Lancefield, of Hamilton, Sues an English and a Toronto Firm.

HAMILTON, Oct. 19.—R. T. Lancefield, librarian, instructed his solicitors to issue writs against Frederick Ware & Co., publishers, of London, Eng., and the Anglo-Canadian Music Publishing Co., of Toronto, for an infringement of the Canadian Copyright Act. The alleged infringement is the selling in Canada of a book entitled "John Bull and Co," which was printed in England. The Canadian copyright says that Canadian copying must be printed in this country.

A demand is also made for royalty on a song entitled "The Man that Broke the Bank at Monte Carlo."

Drowning at Wolfeville, N.S.

WOLFEVILLE, N.S., Oct. 19.—A drowning accident occurred here by which William Elderkin, a native of this place, lost his life. The unfortunate man went out alone in a sail boat, and when between Long Island and Kingsport the boat was seen to capsize. The accident was witnessed by several persons on the shore, but the distance was too great to render any assistance. The boat was picked up in a badly delapidated condition. Mr. Elderkin only arrived a few days ago from Boston and was visiting friends in this place.

Conductors' Trial Concluded.

MONTREAL, Que., Oct. 19.—The preliminary enquete in the case of the Grand Trunk conductors, Defries and Tamblyn, of Toronto, and Stone and Mulligan, of Montreal, charged with knocking down fares, has been concluded, and Judge Dugas will now decide whether there is sufficient evidence to warrant the accused being sent to the Court of Queen's Bench. In the event of commitment a change of venue will be asked for in the case of the Toronto conductors.

A Young Bride Disappears.

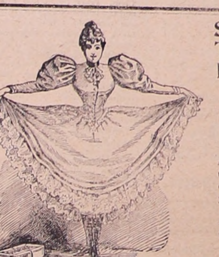

BLOOMFIELD, Ont., Oct. 19.—Mrs. W. A. Chrisby, a bride of a little over a month, and a very amiable young woman, has disappeared from her home. Though a vigorous search has been kept up by the relatives and neighbors she has not been found. Gravest fears are entertained.

These Were Hard Names.

HAMILTON, Oct. 19.—Martin Malone, barrister, has issued a writ against ex-Alderman Daniel McBride, claiming damages for alleged slander, consisting of allegations to the effect that the plaintiff is a thug, a rogue and a robber. The amount of damages claimed is not stated.

Death of an Old Toronto Official.

TORONTO, Oct. 19.—Bobert Curzon, receiving teller in the city treasurer's office, died yesterday. He was 71 years of age and had been in the treasurer's department for 20 years. His widow is Mrs. C. A. Curzon, the well-known writer.

SURPRISE SOAP LASTS LONGEST GOES FARTHEST. 180 READ the directions on the wrapper.

See This Dress?

Surprise Soap Washed it.

And will wash any washable material without injury to the color or material—it is harmless yet effective.

White goods are made whiter and colored goods brighter by the use of Surprise Soap.

Thousands use it. Why don't you?

Use Surprise on washday for all kinds of goods without Boiling or Scalding.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

TORONTO, Oct. 19, 1894.

On the local street market 200 bushels of wheat sold at 53 for white and 51 for red. Goose was nominally quoted at 50. Some 2,500 bushels of barley brought from 44 to 49. Peas, 150 bushels, sold at 57 to 58. Oats, weaker, 300 bushels went at 32 to 32 1-2.

At Buffalo, receipts by lake, 95,000 bushels, Exports by canal, 39,114. Market quiet but firm. Canada quoted at 64 to 66c.

There was a decidedly better tone to the Chicago wheat market and the close was higher. Corn was rather dull but showed a tendency to follow wheat, the close being firm. Oats easy and about unchanged.

There were 11,000 head of sheep on sale at East Buffalo, including 4,500 Canadas. Market closed dull, 7,000 head held over. Best lambs—native, $4, Canadas, $4.05.

The London stock markets were flat on rumors that the Czar's condition is critical. There was no business and prices were just hammered down by jobbers.

In general the New York stock market was firm. This was in spite of the rapid decline in general electric stock, whose influence on the general market, however, had become very limited.

To Construct Canal and Harbor.

HALIFAX, N. S., Oct. 19.—William Penn Hussey, of Boston, is at Broad Cove, N. S., arranging for the construction of canal and harbor at McIsaac's Lake, to give access by water to Broad Cove coal mine. It is proposed to cut through the sand to the lake and channel. About 16 feet deep will be dredged. Passage from the Gulf will be over 1,300 feet in length and the sides built of crib work. The harbor will be the lake.

Shocking Accident in Prescott.

PRESCOTT, Oct. 19,—While Maggie Leperte, daughter of L. Laperte, of this place, was sweeping a room, she moved a loaded gun standing in the corner and in doing so the trigger caught in her dress and discharged the gun. The shot blew the top of the head off her little brother about five years old, killing him instantly.

A Cattle Exporter in Difficulties.

MONTREAL, Oct. 19.—Mr. James Eakins, of Port Hope and Montreal, who has for the last few years been the heaviest exporter of cattle in Canada to Britain, is reported to be financially embarrassed. A few years ago Mr. Eakins was worth about half a million dollars, and even when he started to ship at the beginning of the present season his bank account was a fairly big one. During September and part of this month the British markets have been disastrously weak, and in consequence every exporter lost heavily. His friends, including the banks interested, expect that Mr. Eakins will pull through all right, and by next year will be as active an exporter as ever.

The Toilers Were Disappointed.

HAMILTON, Oct. 16.—The contractors for the Toronto, Hamilton and Buffalo railway were to have set a large force at work yesterday morning, but owing to the non-arrival of tools and the delay in obtaining the right of way only a few men and teams were employed. Nearly 1,000 idle laborers were on the ground and were very much disappointed.

Mr. Hobbs Nominated.

LONDON, Ont., Oct. 19.—At the Liberal convention last night Thomas S. Hobbs was unanimously nominated to contest the seat made vacant by the resignation of W. R. Meredith.

The Ahr Valley.

It is becoming the custom among European travellers to stop at Remagen on the Rhine, and make a little excursion to the beautiful Valley of the Ahr, with its picturesque villages along the vine clad slope Here is also located the spring from which flows that world wide favorite "Apollinaris Water." At Neuenahr, in the valley, the river Ahr is very beautiful, and one can find few more quaintly attractive spots than the Upper Gate at Ahrweiler, or the old mill at Heppingen.

A tax on dogs was levied in Rome during the reign of Nero.

Lane's Medicine Moves the Bowels Each Day

In order to be healthy this is necessary.

For Over Fifty Years

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by druggists throughout the world.

17d&w1y

In the time of Queen Anne soap was taxed £28 per ton.

DEAR SIRS,—I have used Yellow Oil for two or three years, and think it has no equal for croup. Mrs. J. S. O'Brien, Huntsville, Ont.

The tithes in England amounted to £4,-050,000 a year.

Dyspepsia and Indigestion.—C. W. Snow & Co., Syracuse, N.Y., writes: "Please send us ten gross of Pills. We are selling more of Parmelee's Pills than any other Pill we keep. They have a great reputation for the cure of Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint." Mr. Chas. A. Smith, Lindsay, writes: "Parmelee's Pills are an excellent medicine. My sister has been troubled with severe headache, but these pills have cured her."

Russia raises $1,5000,000 a year by the sale of passports.

THAT TIRED, LANGUID FEELING and dull headache is very disagreeable. Take two of Carter's Little Liver Pills before retiring, and you will find relief. They never fail to do good.

MONTHLY DIVIDENDS!!

NEW YORK TRADING COMPANY

17 & 19 Broadway New York

CAPITAL, 100,000.

This company has been formed to place small speculators in the Stock, Grain and other markets, in an equally strong position with the great manipulators who make and rule the markets. Legitimate speculation is the quickest road to wealth. The smallest investment may soon grow into a competency.

In the speculative markets alone do such opportunities exist.

Small speculators combined and guided by wise counsellors become a power in the market. This is the position of our subscribers.

By our plan, holders of one share, which costs TEN DOLLARS, enjoy the same privileges and benefits as holders of one hundred shares.

Subscriptions invited to a Syndicate now being formed to operate in a direction where we have peculiar and exclusive information.

Accounts always open to inspection of members. Accounts rendered and dividends payable monthly. Full details of our methods mailed free on application.

Correspondence respectfully solicited.

Bank references furnished.

New York Trading Company,

17 & 19 Broadway, New York City.

CAPITAL $100,000

For.. THIRTY... DAYS.....

WE will sell our entire line of

Wall Paper....

—AND—

Window Shades

AT A DOUBLE DISCOUNT 10 & 5p.c.

10 per cent. off Special, and 5 per cent. off for cash.

We positively will not be undersold at

OVERELL'S BOOK STORE.

CANADIAN PACIFIC RY.

WILL RUN HUNTERS' EXCURSIONS

TO MUSKOKA LAKES
AND ALL STATIONS.

MATTAWA, NEPIGON, SPANISH RIVER

AND INTERMEDIATE STATIONS

OCT. 19 and 20
OCT. 26 and 27
NOV. 2 and 3

When Round Trip Tickets will be sold for

SINGLE FIRST CLASS FARE

Good for Return until Dec. 1st, 1894.

For business passing through Toronto, rates to above points will not be less than 25 cents added to ordinary Round Trip Rates to Toronto.

Dogs, Guns, Personal Baggage, Camp Equipments, to the amount of 200 lbs. will be carried FREE

S. BURROWS,

General Ticket Agent, Belleville.

PETTYJOHN'S

CALIFORNIA BREAKFAST FOOD

Dyspeptics can eat this food.

It is particularly adapted for children and persons of sedentary habits.

It is made from Pacific coast wheat hulled and crushed by improved machinery.

It can be easily prepared for breakfast, as this crushing process makes it soft and tender and easy to cook

Ask your physician which is best for you to eat, oats or wheat

Pettijohn's California Breakfast Food is sold in packages by

BENMORE & BENSON.

Mothers

suffering with weakness and emaciation, who give little nourishment to babies, should take

Scott's Emulsion

the Cream of Cod-liver Oil and hypophosphites. It will give them strength and make their babies fat. Physicians, the world over, endorse it.

Don't be deceived by Substitutes!

Scott & Bowne, Belleville. All Druggists. 50c. & $1.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, FRIDAY, OCT 19.

LADIES AND BIRDS.

The St. John, New Brunswick, Telegraph published the following editorial in a recent issue:

The ladies of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, at their last convention passed a strongly worded resolution against the slaughter of innocent birds, whose feathers are used for the purpose of personal ornamentation in the bonnets of ladies. There is no doubt that fashion imposes a great deal of unnecessary cruelty, not only on innocent animals who are slaughtered for its sake, but also on humanity, which has to conform to certain rules and forms which fashion dictates. The ladies have, therefore, done well to enter a protest against the slaughter of innocent birds, but they might have gone much further, and treated the question of the slaughter of animals unnecessarily, from a broader standpoint. Some ladies for instance, who belong to the Women's Temperance Union, wear sealskin sacques, which are made from the fur of an innocent and harmless animal which is slaughtered for that special purpose. The slaughter of these seals involves an immense amount of cruelty, as any one can ascertain by reading an account of how the business is carried on in the Islands of Alaska; and we think the women of the W.C.T.U. might venture to discountenance this form of destroying life, both by precept and example. It is true that a sealskin sacque is a token of wealth and fashionable position, but it is by no means a necessary garment, and could be easily dispensed with. Indeed, the fact that it savors too much of fashion should make it less acceptable in the eyes of the ladies of the W.C.T.U. The same remark may be applied to fur lined cloaks and other fur ornaments and trimmings, which are only obtained by the slaughter of innocent animal life. So far as warmth is concerned, quite as good results can be had by the use of garments made of wool taken from the backs of sheep, whose life is not involved in the loss of their fleece, but are rather benefited by having the encumbrance removed in the early summer. The same argument might be advanced further so as to apply to kid gloves, and gloves of all kinds made from the skins of animals, tanned or untanned, all of which are the result of destroying animal life. Probably this view of the matter has not occurred to the women of the W.C.T.U. who are opposed to the killing of birds for hat ornaments. We are sure that when they give the subject due consideration, they will come to the conclusion that all this destruction of innocent animal life belongs to the same category and ought to be treated in the same way. No doubt when we next hear from the W.T.C.U. on this subject, they will extend the scope of their resolutions, so as to embrace the cases we have here mentioned.

There can be no doubt that the destruction of small birds for the ornamentation of ladies' head gear has been a great evil in the past, as the birds are not only a great ornament to our woods and fields, but a valuable ally to the farmer in destroying the insect pests which, when unchecked by their natural enemies, the birds, work a great deal of damage to the crops and fruit.

So far, no one can reasonably dissent from the Telegraph's opinion. But to say that seals and other fur-bearing animals which can serve no other useful purpose than that of clothing mankind, ought not to be killed, and that the wearing of gloves and mitts made from the skins of animals, and of furs should be discontinued, is the veriest nonsense. It is unfortunate that many people who advocate causes which are good should not know where to draw the line between wisdom and folly.

In the preservation of the lovely feathered songsters, the recently formed Humane Society will, no doubt find a congenial portion of the work which they have undertaken. There is not only room, but need for their organization, and we heartily wish them success.

That Joyful Feeling.

With the exhilarating sense of renewed health and strength and internal cleanliness, which follows the use of Syrup of Figs, is unknown to the few who have not progressed beyond the old time medicines and the cheap substitutes sometimes offered but never accepted by the well informed.

Quack Advertisements

Are a nuisance and we think it behooves publishers to examine into the merits of many articles puffed up in their columns. We do not deny that many meritorious remedies are properly to be classed under this heading. Take the hundreds and thousands relieved from severe suffering by the use of Polson's Nerviline; would it not be unreasonable to expect them to condemn that far famed remedy? Now we know for a fact that Polson's Nerviline is without exception the most powerful, pleasant and certain remedy in the world for pain. It cannot fail, for it goes right to the bottom of pain, penetrates to the nerves, soothes them into quietness, and affords prompt and permanent relief.

Lane's Medicine Moves the Bowels Each Day

In order to be healthy this is necessary.

October 25, 1893.

My health was completely restored by CAMPBELL'S SKREI COD LIVER OIL. 3 bottles taken in 22 days increased my weight by 18 lbs.

HENRY ZIVERN,

Prop. Renovo Co. Montreal.

Two Interesting Babies.

This seems to be the year of interesting babies. There is that one, as you know, the little Prince Edward, born to the Duke and Duchess of York, making the fourth in the direct line of succession to the throne, the first and only baby in English history who was ever born while three of his predecessors were still living.

And now there's another baby almost as interesting, the little daughter of Lieut. and Mrs. Peary, born way up in Greenland, further north than any white child ever dreamed of being born before.

The relief party which went out to find Lieut. Peary found him safe and sound, and the baby quite a year old. The little one comes back with his mother, while Lieut. Peary stays another year to complete his work.

Lieut. Peary, by the way, has not been much more fortunate than the rest of the Arctic explorers this year. Mr. Wellman, you remember, lost all his boats and equipments before he came home. Dr. Cook lost his ship, the Miranda, and all the trophies his party had taken. Other explorers have lost their lives, for the Arctic regions this winter have been harder to explore than ever. The floating ice has been tremendous, filling even the seas that are sometimes open. Lieut. Peary says that the storms and the cold have been the worst known for years. It is doubtful whether any white man ever encountered any to equal them.

Even the dogs were frozen under the snow during the storm when the Lieutenant and his men were making an exploration. Some of the dogs were frozen to death, and others were frozen so fast to the ice that the men had to chop them loose. The wind blew at the rate of 48 miles an hour, and the thermometer fell to 60 degrees below zero. This was when the party had encamped on an ice cap 5,000 feet above the sea. Still there are people who love an Arctic expedition better than anything else in the world.—Lillie Hamilton French in New York World.

On Turning Up Trousers.

I am asked to explain why some men think it fashionable to turn up the bottoms of their trousers, and how such a fashion originated. Men may turn up their trousers in wet weather without reproach, because the doing so is neat and thrifty; but to turn up trousers in dry weather was first thought of by a lot of London bank clerks, who sit on the razor-back tops of the Oxford street omnibuses, and are apt to rub the bottoms of their trousers against the hardware of the seats. To keep them turned up through the day probably struck them as economical. But I have never seen men of fashion in London turn up their trousers under any circumstances. In wet weather they take cabs, but for one of them to appear on Rotten Row in the season with his trousers turned up would be justly considered as a serious breach of decorum.

I am aware that a noble earl at a wedding recently in this city appeared at the altar with his trousers turned up. But I am forced to conclude he intended that as a cynical practical joke on the anglo-maniacs and weak imitators he had met at the New York clubs, who think it is English to wear trousers turned up an inch at the bottom.—New York Press.

HORTICULTURE.

Sir William Harcourt is not only fond of flowers, but he is an enthusiastic amateur gardener.

The only frostless belt in this country is said to be three miles in breadth, lying between Los Angeles and the ocean. Tender vegetables flourish in winter.

All plants have periods of activity and rest. Some are active in the daytime and sleep at night; others repose during the daylight hours and are awake at night.

The ramie fiber is tough and wears well. It is said that in China, where it is used for making clothing, it lasts so well that children frequently wear the clothes which their grandparents wore when children.

SPECIAL MENTION

—The Czar is reported in a critical condition.

—General Booth has reached Peterborough.

—Rev. J. Allister Murray, of London, is reported to be very low.

DR. LOW'S PLEASANT WORM SYRUP removes worms of all kinds from children or adults.

—The evidence in the Grand Trunk conductors' case at Montreal is closed.

THAT HACKING COUGH can be quickly cured by Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam. Price 25c.

—The C. P. R. will build two dairy stations in the Northwest this winter.

ALWAYS AVOID HARSH PURGATIVE PILLS. They first make you sick and then leave you constipated. Carter's Little Liver Pills regulate the bowels and make you well. Dose, one pill.

—The Pullman Company has decleared the regular dividend of $2 per share.

The remarkable number of cures of gout and rheumatism which have followed the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, point conclusively to the fact that this remedy comes nearer being the specific for complaints of this nature than any other medicine in pharmacy.

Chauncey Ashley, issuer of marriage licenses, Division Court Office, Pinnacle street or at residence over Benmore & Benson's store. d&w

ALL CASES OF WEAK OR LAME BACK, backache, rheumatism, will find relief by wearing one of Carter's Smartweed and Belladonna Backache Plasters. Price 25 cents. Try them.

DAVIS' PAIN KILLER. — The best and most popular Family Medicine in the world. A blessing to the rich; a friend to the poor; within the reach of all, it has saved more lives and relieved more suffering incidents to travelling than any other medicine. 25c. per bottle, large size.

Nearly all infants are more or less subject to diarrhoea and such complaints while teething, and as this period of their lives is the most critical, mothers should not be without a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial. This medicine is a specific for such complaints and is highly spoken of by those who have used it. The proprietors claim it will cure any case of cholera or summer complaint.

Ayer's Hair Vigor, which has outlived and superseded hundreds of similar preparations, is undoubtedly the most fashionable as well as economical hair-dressing in the market. By its use, the poorest head of hair soon becomes luxuriant and beautiful.

A Prominent Lawyer Says:

"I have eight children, everyone in good health, not one of whom but has taken Scott's Emulsion, in which my wife has boundless confidence."

How to Get a "Sunlight" Picture

Send 25 "Sunlight" soap wrappers (wrapper bearing the words "Why does a woman look old sooner than a man") to Lever Bros., Ltd., 43 Scott St., Toronto, and you will receive by post a pretty picture, free from advertising, and well worth framing. This is an easy way to decorate your home. The soap is the best in the market, and it will only cost 1c. postage to send in the wrappers, if you leave the ends open. Write your address carefully.

ONLY A SMALL SKY ROCKET

This Was the Infernal Machine That Alarmed New York Irishmen.

NEWSPAPERS MADE MUCH OF IT

Their Readers Were Lead to Believe That it Was the Work of a Russian Anarchist —Mr. Blake Ignores the Incident—He and His Friend, Dr. Emmet, Leave for the South.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—When Irish-Americans read the story of the reception at the Lenox Lyceum to Hon. Edward Blake, M.P., and envoy in America of the McCarthyite party in Ireland, they were a bit stirred up and for good cause. According to the reports a mysterious person with an infernal machine tried to dynamite the elderly M.P. for Longford. In order to make the matter more interesting the mysterious dynamiter was described as being a strange looking old man with a gingham umbrella, with a mustache and stooped shoulders of a Russian anarchist. Stern, relentless, underrating truth compels the statement that there was no Russian anarchist, for Mr. Blake had never done anything to arouse the enmity of Russian anarchists or their admirers either. Furthermore there was no dynamite bomb.

The Captain of the East 53rd police station puts the matter tersely: "There was a bum, I believe, at the Lennox Lyceum last night but no bomb." The captain further stated that the importance of the incident had been ridiculously magnified. It is not mentioned on the police blotter and no special officers have been detailed to hunt the mysterious would-be assassin.

The facts as related by the police and by the members of the Irish American Federation are somewhat in this fashion: An elderly man, carrying an umbrella, but not otherwise noticeable, bought a box seat. Some of those about the doors of Lennox Lyceum further noticed that he carried a pretty good cargo of liquified enthusiasm. They and the police say that he carried a small cheap sky rocket with him but this fact did not develope until the meeting was in full blaze. The meeting was somewhat of a hot one.

According to the police it was just after the Irish member of parliament got well into his argument that the ultra-enthusiastic party in the box set off his rocket. He had placed it in the gingham umbrella, after which he left the box. Presently the gingham umbrella emitted a sound like that of a weak fire-cracker. Mr. Joseph Dillon, who was in the box, promptly stamped on the umbrella and the infernal machine was squelched and put out. Mr. Blake paid no attention to the incident and went on with his speech.

It was reported that several hundred men, bent on mischief, got into the meeting by means of the bad tickets, but at the office of the Irish-American Federation this report is denied and it is asserted that less than a dozen bogus tickets escaped scrutiny.

Envoy Blake and his friend, Dr. Emmet, with whom he has been stopping here, left this city for Atlanta, Ga., where Mr. Blake is to speak in a few days. Returning, he will speak in Baltimore, Philadelphia and probably other cities.

Neither of the gentlemen would discuss last night's incident, holding it to be a matter of no importance or consequence.

MURDER AND SUICIDE.

Accidentally the Cause of His Betrothed's Death Ellet Titus Suicided.

SEACLIFF, L.I., Oct. 19.—Miss Mary Duff and her betrothed husband, Ellet L. Titus, of Brooklyn, went out for a walk on Tuesday evening. Their dead bodies have been found in a bath-house belonging to the young lady's father.

Edward P. Floyd-Jones, Miss Duff's brother-in-law, reports that the result of the autopsy shows Miss Duff died from the effects of chloroform administered by Titus, but it is thought, without murderous intent. It is now remembered that Titus had a small bottle of chloroform with him the day previous and offered Miss Duff a small quantity to allay a severe headache. It is believed he again prescribed the same in a larger quantity while they were out for a walk and the drug causing her death, Titus shot himself.

The blood on Miss Duff's face and clothing proved to have come from Titus' wounds. No bullet wound was found in Miss Duff's temple as stated yesterday.

Titus was a son of the late Col. Henry Titus, founder of Titusville, Fla. His mother, who is well known in Southern social circles, is still living at Titusville. At her death young Ellet Titus would have been heir to a fortune.

Dynamite on the Rails.

MCKEESPORT, Pa., Oct. 19.—Dynamite was placed on the track of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad at Long Rainbridge and a serious wreck narrowly averted. The stock of dynamite was tied to the rails. Bissell accommodation encountered it. The explosion damaged the track and tore off one of the front wheels of the engine. The passengers were badly frightened, but no one was seriously hurt. No motive can be assigned for the deed.

SATOLLI TO BE A CARDINAL.

His Grace Knows Nothing of the Reported Promotion.

QUEBEC, Oct. 19.—Whatever concerns Monseignor Satolli's visit to this important see of the Roman Catholic church is kept quiet. His calling here is, it is said, but an informal visit of no particular importance. But Monseignor Begin, coadjutor to Cardinal Taschereau, is a strong factor in the movement. Monseignor Satolli held a levee at the Cardinal's Palace which was very largely attended to. The representative men of Quebec and indeed of the province presented themselves at the levee.

As it has been circulated in the press that Mgr. Satolli would shortly receive the Laretta titles and insignia of a cardinal of the Holy Roman Catholic Church, a correspondent sought an interview with his grace, but owing to manifold occupations and engagements the eminent churchman could not be interviewed, but his Grace's secretary, Mgr. Pappi, was authorized to answer to the following effect: "The ablegate is not aware of the promotion alluded to. Newspaper men generally pick up these news sooner than anyone else. His Grace, Mgr. Satolli, has no intelligence so far of his elevation in the Roman Catholic hierarchy."

Death of a G.T.R. Caterer.

LONDON, Ont. Oct. 19. — William J. Fowler, proprietor of the G.T.R. refreshment rooms in London and Chatham, was found dead in his room at the station here yesterday. Mr. Fowler had been residing in Detroit, but made weekly business visits to this city. Apoplexy is supposed to have been the cause of death. For 23 years Mr. Foweler had been catering to the travelling public and was well known all over the Grand Trunk system.

Art.

"Do you care for art?" asked the woman who was making a short call.

"Sometimes. My husband brought home a lovely lot of engravings last night."

"What were they?"

"Dominion notes."

A Way to Get Even.

Waterson—Don't you think it's quite the right thing to keep liquor-dealers out of our society?

Beerson—I don't know about that. Supposing the liquor dealers should retaliate by keeping us out of their saloons?—Boston News.

WAS IT SUICIDE?

A Homeless Cur Who Probably Accepted Ingersoll's Reasoning.

He was a homeless, mangy cur, who would probably have wagged his tail at any name. A boy came down the street and made a strike at him with a stick. The dog drew back into the doorway of an apartment house, and stood there thinking it over. He sniffed the air weakly and found in it no suggestion of food. Then, with a little whine, he nursed his wounds. A man came out of the door and finding a scraggy-looking cur blocking his way kicked him to one side and walked up town. The dog picked himself up. Perhaps he would have better luck next time, so he just loafed around. He attempted to tag behind a passer-by as if he belonged and just as he was regaining his self-respect the man turned around and said: "Get out, you cur." The dog stopped short. He watched the man until he turned down a side street. Then the dog walked back to his corner, still hopping. When a young woman with her escort passed him he was a wise dog, and he got up a little appealing bark. The young woman bent over and said: "Why, you poor, lonesome little dog." And when she patted him on the head his stubby little tail wagged hard and his eyes brightened. This was the sympathy he had been looking for. He fell in behind and followed his newly acquired friends to an apartment-house half a dozen blocks up the street. Several times the woman turned around and addressed a remark to him, and she called him "Doggie" because she hadn't known him long enough to give him a name. She probably would attend to that after she had fed him. As his two friends entered the apartment-house they evidently forgot him, for the door was closed in his face. They would remember him when he barked, so he made a noise. Then he whined a little and waited.

An open car was coming down grade at a rapid pace and a party of picnickers in it were singing. The dog walked out to the curb and watched the well-lighted car approach. Possibly the lights and the noise dazed him as he was crossing the track. As the car bowled by there was a wild kiyi under the horse's hoofs and the wheels rolled over something. The conductor went back to investigate. "Only a dog," he said, as he rang to go ahead, "and he's dead for fair. What I don't understand is why, with the whole street free, he should permit himself to be run over."

Jamaica Belles on Their Way to Church.

In pours the black portion of the congregation. It is composed for the most part of women. They are gorgeously arrayed in silks and cottons of the most bewildering brilliancy, with golden beehive-shaped ornaments in their ears and twists of gold about their necks, and all are beaming and smiling with the utmost complacency and self satisfaction.

With a great many of them the first duty is to take off their boots or shoes. Small wonder, for half of them are in the habit of trudging twenty or thirty miles a day, barefooted to and from market, and the other half, if they do not use their feet so hardly, at any rate never confine them. Poor, or wanting in proper pride indeed, must be that woman who cannot raise a pair of boots or shoes for Sunday wear. It means agony, you may conceive, to keep pinched up in stiff leather a pair of feet used to free, untrammelled movement, but it has to be borne—for a few minutes. It is managed thus:

On the road to church a halt is made at about 200 yards' distance for the purpose of putting on the boots or shoes, which have been hitherto held in the hands. Church is then hobbled into and the boots and shoes taken off, to be again put on as the service draws to a close. Church is then hobbled out of, and at a respectable distance from it the instruments of torture are again got rid of, not to be put on again for a week.

Only a Summer Resort Tyro.

The youth in white flannel suit, russet shoes, albino pink shirt and pancake hat was doing his first time at a summer resort hotel, and he had as his companion something very similar in his makeup, but of three or four season's experience of summer resorts. In a burst of confidence, after the first week of it, the new fellow called the veteran aside.

"I say, Tom," he said, blushing much and whispering low, "if I tell you something will you keep dead still about it?"

"Sure; what is it?" and the blaze youth was almost interested.

"Swear you won't say anything?"

"Of course I swear. Now what is the great secret?"

"Well, old fellow"—this with many blushes and much hesitency—"I'm engaged."

"No; you don't say so?" and the veteran smiled.

"Yes; I'm engaged," he nodded cheerily.

"To how many?"

"How many?" gasped the new one. "One, of course; how many did you think, pray?"

The veteran pulled himself together.

"That's so," he said; "excuse me; I forgot that you were only an amateur."—The Fireside Journal.

Carved Out His Pardon.

Gesa Berger, the actor and newspaper man, has a picture in caligraphy that has a remarkable history. It is in size 30x42 inches, and is the work of Joseph Loew, the most noted counterfeiter that the Austrain government ever knew.

When an application is made for a pardon in Austria the red tape policy of that country compels the applicant to address the emperor with all his titles. Emperor Ferdinand had about forty titles. Loew engraved all of these names, together with his petition for a pardon, on a cherry stone.

The letters were so fine that it required the aid of a powerful microscope to decipher them. One day when the emperor visited the prison Loew in person presented a cherry stone to the emperor and told him what it contained. The emperor made an examination and was so amazed at the work that he gave him an unconditional pardon. Not only did he pardon him, but gave him a position as a detective to trail down counterfeiters. Loew was a well-informed man in all the arts and rascalities of counterfeiters, and in less than two years after his pardon he ran to the earth almost every counterfeiter in Austria, and died a few years ago covered with detective honors. The picture, although made fifty years ago, is in a remarkable state of preservation.

A Polite Paradox.

"His expressions are very objectionable," said the precise young woman. "I think I shall have nothing more to do with him."

"Why?" inquired her companion.

"He writes me that he has reached home in good shape."

"That is thoughtful on his part."

"I know that. But 'good shape' is such bad form.—Washington Star.

WITTY BREVITIES.

Hope is the twin brother of happiness.

To a small soul a dollar always looks big.

It isn't the biggest tree that bears the best fruit.

When riches fly they do not do it with a broken wing.

There is no deception so dangerous as self-deception.

When we fail to justify ourselves we lose our self respect.

The man who lives only to please himself has a hard master.

It is a great mistake to suppose that money can buy happiness.

If the bass drum could think it would probably wonder why it has to keep still so much.—Ram's Horn.

GREATEST OF WARRIORS

INCIDENTS IN THE LIFE OF THE FIRST NAPOLEON.

The Famine in Paris—Some of the "Trampler's" Sayings—His Scheme to Fly to America After Waterloo—A Yankee Who Was to Help Him.

After the thirteenth Vandemaire, when Napoleon Bonaparte was really in the position of dictator of Paris, he had to contend against a famine that made public distribution of bread necessary. Naturally the scarcity of food was liable to become a serious element in the politics of the time. It was essential to look carefully to the state of feeling in the mob, which had so often proved itself capable of overthrowing an administration. Napoleon was walking along the street with a pair of his staff one morning after the distribution of bread had been insufficient, and tumultuous scenes were occurring in front of the doors of the bakers. As the officers passed the crowd jeered at them. One woman, monstrously big and fat, made herself conspicuous by wild gesticulation. "All that crowd of epaulet wearers are making a laughing stock of us!" she exclaimed bitterly. "If they can eat and grow fat it's all the same to them if poor people are starving."

Napoleon stopped and interrupted her. "My good woman," he said, "look me over carefully and tell me which of us two is the fatter just now."

Napoleon at that time was as thin as a rail. He says himself: "I was like a sheet of parchment." The crowd took in the situation at once and broke into laughter and cheers. The story was told all over Paris, and had a very appreciable influence in calming the irritation of the populace.

Early in April, 1797, the people of Austria demanded peace with France. Negotiations were begun in the vicinity of Leoben. Bonaparte, in an interview with the Austrian plenipotentiaries, said to them: "Your government has sent against me four armies without generals and this time a general without an army." In the treaty which the Austrian commissioners projected the first article stipulated that the Emperor of Austria thereby recognized the French republic. "Erase it!" exclaimed Napoleon. "The existence of the republic is as plain as the sun. This article is only fit for the blind. We are our own masters, and shall establish any government we prefer. If one day the French people," he continued, "should wish to create a monarchy, the emperor might object that he had recognized a republic." The preliminaries were soon settled, Napoleon signing for France, thus placing himself on an equal footing with the emperor of Austria. The formal treaty known as Campo Formio was signed in October, 1797, Austria fulfilling the pledges she had already given. The Austrian plenipotentiary protested against the distribution of the provinces beyond the Adige. Napoleon was angered at this, and seizing a vase dashed it to the ground, exclaiming: "If it is not so arranged I will break your monarchy as I have broken this vase!" This argument of force, as demonstrated to the diplomat, was convincing, and the treaty was signed.

In the early days of the century S. P. Wilder, a prominent Boston business man, established himself comfortably in Paris. Through his business, political, and religious relations, he was soon widely known and his house became a rendezvous for such men as Baron de Stael and Lafayette. Talleyrand, too, was an occasional comer. He was in Paris during all the vicissitudes of the empire. He saw the emperor's sun rise at Austerlitz and set at Waterloo. On the dissolution of the empire his personal knowledge of Napoleon and his observations of the material prosperity of the land led him to take a lively interest in the fate of the unthroned monarch and propose plans for his escape.

Meanwhile, on an occasional trip to this country, Mr. Wilder had married and purchased an ideal pastoral home in Bolton village, thirty miles west of Boston.

Here it was Mr. Wilder offered the fugitive Napoleon a home. Strange reversion of circumstances! It was but five short years before that Mr. Wilder had represented our government at the emperor's marriage with Maria Louisa, the emperor's guest at the Tuileries.

In July of that tremendous year, 1815, Mr. Wilder had merchant vessels lying off the French coast. Napoleon had abdicated and was at Malmaison, considering what yet might be done. Nothing could be done. He determined to leave the France "he had loved so well." He would fly to the United States. Various schemes were suggested, most of which are recorded in history; and history tells us they failed because it was deemed impossible to elude the British cruisers.

Mr. Wilder, however, conceived that he, well known and respected as an American merchant, and controlling the ships laden under his direction, could avoid this difficulty. He communicated his plans to the emperor. The emperor was to be conducted to the coast disguised as Mr. Wilder's valet, for whom Mr. Wilder had already a passport. Arrived at the coast the gentleman and his valet would embark on an American merchantman. This ship was to be supplied with a huge cask, placed so as to be plainly visible from the deck. This cask was to have false compartments near the end, from which water was constantly to drip. Napoleon was to be smuggled under this and to stay there till the vessel stood well out to sea beyond the reach of the English-men-of war.

On reaching the New England shore the emperor, still in disguise, was to accompany Mr. Wilder to his lovely homestead at Bolton. Here he was to remain incognito for six months, wandering around the antique porticos and embowered lanes, exclaiming (we presume): "Vanity of vanities! All is vanity, saith the preacher." But it remained for other hills to echo that voice.

This plan Napoleon seriously considered and declared it feasible, but finally declined, saying he would not desert his faithful friends who had clung to him through prosperity and adversity.

Studying Suicide.

Dr. A. Haig, writing on an epidemic of suicide, is of opinion that such cases of self-destruction, occurring in seasonal waves as it were, are to be explained in the theory of mental depression affecting the functions of the kidneys, and tending towards an excess of uric acid in the blood. This causes high tension in the brain-circulation with consequent mental instability, leading to self-destruction. Curiously enough, between 6 a. m. and noon is the period when suicide most frequently occurs; it is then also that most uric acid is passing through the blood. These observations, which Dr. Haig is going to publish in full, show once again how inter-dependent are the mental and physical sides of our manifold nature.

IN 1794.

Dry goods were designated as "men's stuffs" or "women's stuffs."

No large river in this country had been spanned by a bridge.

A gentleman bowing to a lady always scraped his foot on the ground.

Six days were required for a journey between Toronto and Montreal.

A man who jeered at the preacher or criticised the sermon was fined.

Virginia contained a fifth of the whole population of the country.

Stoves were unknown; all cooking was done before an open fireplace.

Colored engravings, very badly executed, were the only wall ornaments.

The houses were not numbered and many of the streets were not named.

NEVER

Were prices as low for new goods, or prospects better for an unusually brilliant display and lively trade for the holiday china and crockery trade.

We have advices that the Belleville goods are being packed as fast as possible, and will be here in good time. As there is an immense lot, and being goods of of a fragile nature, we must be patient. How satisfactory it is to know at least, that this store's stock is direct from the potteries in England, France and Germany, and not from Toronto or Montreal, and besides, is made for the legitimate crockery trade, which accounts for its better quality and appearance.

W. J. REID & CO'Y,

CRYSTAL HALL. Rous' Old Stand.

London and Belleville.

New Advetrtisemens.

TO LET.

TO LET 90 Dundas st., opposite South John st., barn, hard and soft water. Apply next door. 137d3t

TO LET 2 snug, warm brick houses in terrace, situated on Harriett St., West Belleville, known as Morten's, or Filliter's terrace. For terms of rent apply to R. C. Filliter, collector, or sub agent to the estate of the late H. E Filliter. Residence at Mr. Jardin's Corner of William and Dundas Sts., East Belleville. 85d2m

REMOVAL.

MISS WAY has removed her dress making rooms to the Singer Office, one door north of Lattimer's Barber Shop, where she will be pleased to meet her old customers, and as many new ones as wish to favor her with a call. 40d6t w1t

FOR SALE.

ONE 30 Key National Cash Register, in use about 18 months; cost $225. One Buffalo Sausage Chopper, capacity 75 to 100 lbs, (in use one season only) Also Sausage Stuffer (new), and one upright Engine and Boiler, 4 horse power. Will sell all of the above for cash. Chopper, Stuffer, Engine and Boiler must go together. The Register will be sold separate if required (cheap). Reason for selling, going out of business Also one new J. J. Taylor Safe, 25x30x30 inside For further particulars apply to the undersigned.

W. C. B RATHBUN, Deseronto, Ont.

141d4t

Before putting up your STOVES have the TRIMMINGS RE-PLATED — AT THE — BELLEVILLE PLATING WORKS

HARRIS & WALTON'S FACTORY MILL ST.

NEW HATS and CAPS TO COVER

OUR HEADS.

GEO. P. MINAKER.

QUEEN'S - OPERA - HOUSE,

THOS. P. J. POWER,—MANAGER.

VAN AMBURG CONCERT COMPANY.

ONE NIGHT ONLY

— ON —

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 23rd, 1894,

Under the auspices of Canton Belleville, No. 8, P. M., I. O. O. F.

Prices, - 15, 25 and 35c.

Plan at Riggs' Music Store.

UNDERWEAR...

AT FISH'S!

Don't go shivering around any longer, but come and get some of our warm underclothing, and you will be happy and comfortable.

Sizes run from 30 to 46 inches. Our prices suit all pocket books.

We give value that cannot be beaten.

A. E. FISH & CO.

Try our King Shirt, and you will buy no other.

H. C. DICKENS & SON.

YOU'LL BE TOO BUSY

To do any baking during the S. S. Convention (We are addressing more particularly the ladies at whose houses the delegates are to be entertained.)

Let us come to your aid by suggesting that we do it for you. We'll do it first class too

It will relieve you of a lot of trouble and anxiety, and give you more time to entertain your guests. Our windows will be especially attractive during convention week. So be on the lookout!

H. C. DICKENS & SON.

Telephone Rings,

IS THAT

OBC?

YES.

R. J. Graham is speaking: We are rushed in the office. Send us another good man at once.

ALL RIGHT,

We shall have a man there in ten minutes

We sent J. R. Snedden, who had just graduated. Mr. Graham has now three graduates of

ONTARIO BUSINESS COLLEGE.

In his office here, namely Managing Accountant, Assistant and Stenographer.

THIS MATTER CHANGED DAILY.

FRIDAY, Oct. 19th.

DIFFERENT.

The styles in jackets are quite different from last year's styles, and the difference is for the better. They are much warmer, more comfortable, and also more stylish. See the new golph capes so much worn now in large cities.

W. FLINT JONES.

Next door to Haines & Lockett.

SLIPPER SOLES.

We have just received a large number of the best

LAMB'S WOOL SLIPPER SOLES, IN Nos. 2, 3, 4, 5 & 6.

Also in Children's Sizes, which we are offering at the low price of 35 Cents per pair.

We have also a full range of Single and Double Berlin Wool, for Crocheting and Knitting Bedroom Slippers.

THE BEEHIVE

CHAS. N. SULMAN

WALL - STREET!

OPERATE SUCCESSFULLY IN WALL ST

THROUGH OUR

Co-Operative R.R. Stock Syndicate.

Large Profits Realized with Minimum Risks.

"PROSPECTUS AND DAILY MARKET LETTER" MAILED FREE. HIGHEST REFERENCE.

WEINMAN & CO.

Stock and Grain Broker,

NO. 41 BROADWAY, NEW YORK CITY.

1d Oct. 1st, 3m eod

QUINCES...

Are said to be, by those who know their uses best, the nicest fruit grown.

We expect to receive regular supplies each day, also

Grapes and Peaches.

Those who may not have bought their peaches early in the season can get fully as good value now as the "Smock" variety is one of the best grown for canning or pickling, and is now the only peach in the market.

Jas. Wallace & Co.

We Are..

Busy....

Our new groceries are going with a rush, but more are arriving daily, and that's why we keep our stock fresh and wholesome. We take pride in our confectionery for it's the best money can buy and our prices are away down. See the values we offer in teas and sugars. Provisions, and flour and feed also receive our particular attention.

J. A. ELLIOTT.

Front St., Belleville.

JUST - RECEIVED
..AT THE..
GLASGOW WAREHOUSE.

Another large shiement of PRIESTLY & 'SONS' Celebrated

DRESS - GOODS,

— INCLUDING —

Black Crepe Cloths,
Black Mourning Cloths,
Black Wool Sateens,
Black Revenna Cords,
Black Silk Warps,
Black Wool Henriettas,
Black & Navy Serges,
Black & Navy Cheviots.
These Good are all fast Black & Thoroughly Reliable.

— ALSO —

NEW GOLF CLOAKINGS, all prices
NEW CURL CLOAKINGS,
New Black and Colored Beavers,
New Black and Colored Box Cloths,
Full lines in Mantles and Capes,
Large lines of CANADIAN STAPLES at CLOSE CASH PRICES.
CARPETS, OIL CLOTHS and CURTAINS a specialty.

VANDERVOORT & GIBSON,

Successors to the late J. W. Dunnet.

Belleville, Oct. 17, 1894.

P.S.—A large show case and table for sale cheap.

COUPON
—FOR—
PART 9.
Canada Portfolio of Art.

A Coupon appears in all issues of this paper.

Cut out this coupon and forward, together with 10 cents, to the Art Department of this paper, and you will receive one part of Canada, as mentioned above, by mail postpaid, or bring the coupon and 10 cents to this office and receive Portfolio.

NAME..................................

ADDRESS..................................

N. B.—Remember, only one Coupon required for each part.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, FRIDAY OCT. 19

Underwear.

We shall clear out a lot of old lines in men's, boys' and children's underclothing to-morrow (Saturday) at a great bargain. come and see them.—A. E. FISH & CO. [143d2t

CITY AND DISTRICT.

The umbrella girl hath come,
Her shelter spread on high;
And with a sweet, 'Excuse me, please,'
She punches out your eye.

Two tramps sought the protection of the police cells last night.

Be sure and attend Grant's cheap cash sale if you want bargains in Boots and Shoes.

Chancery sittings before Judge Rose will open here on Tuesday next at 10 o'clock.

The Baptist Church Convention of Ontario and Quebec is meeting at St. Thomas.

W. H. Scholes, of this city, and Chas. Scott, of Sidney, leave to-morrow for the north on a hunting trip.

Purify your blood, tone up the sytem, and regulate the digestive organs by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. Sold by all druggists.

The Thompson assault case, which was down for hearing this morning, went over owing to the absence of the Magistrate. The case will likely be settled.

The Rev. J. F. Somerville, lately of Windsor, Ont., was formally inducted as minister of the Presbyterian Church, Norwood, yesterday.

Major F. H. Bonsall, Bowmanville, was fined $2 and costs on Wednesday for asking for liquor at the Balmoral hotel in Bowmanvillle on a Sunday.

On Tuesday evening the Stirling Odd fellows visited Tweed Lodge, No. 29 , and performed the secret work. The visitors were afterwards dined in the hall of the lodge.

Hon. Mackenzie Bowell, Hon. J. F. Wood, and Commissioner Larke, left Ottawa yesterday for Brockville, to discuss the question of trade between Canada and Australia.

The Amateur Minstrels held their first rehearsal last evening and a good attendance was the result. The boys purpose giving their first entertainment about the first of December.

The Emerald Trio concluded their engagement in this city last evening with a lime light exhibition before a fair sized audience. They left to day for Trenton, where they will appear to-night and then go to Campbellford.

The wise man nowadays when he sees a wire dangling in the street passes by on the other side. A Montreal man came across such a wire the other night and his curiosity prompted him to take hold of it. The coroner said the cause of death was so plain there was no need of an inquest.

Mrs. VanAmburgh appeared for the first time before a Port Elgin audience in "The Song I'll Ne'er Forget." She made a splendid impression. Mr. VanAmburgh's children, Earl, Fred, Kate and Frank, sang "Bingo" amidst uproarious applause. Mr. VanAmburgh brought down the house with his violin solo.—[Port Elgin Times] Opera House, Tuesday evening next.

On this page will be found the coupon for Part 9—which will be ready for delivery on the 16th inst—of "Canada Portfolio of Art." This is truly a magnificent piece of work and is something that will adore any drawing room or parlor table. You can't afford to be without it. Cut out this coupon and bring it, together with ten cents, to this office, and we will give you Part 9; or, on receipt of coupon and money, the part will be sent postpaid, to any address in the Dominion.

Cold in the head—Nasal Balm gives instant relief; speedily cures. Never fails.

SOCIAL & PERSONAL

H. Boyle, Kingston, was in the city today.

Jas. Alexander, Kingston, is at the Huffman

H. J. T. Ieco has passed the matriculation examination at TrinityCollege, Toronto.

Messrs. O'Rourke, McClelland and Abbott, of Trenton, were in the city today on legal business.

Mr. Thomas Mills, of Pitceathly & Co., wholesale grocers, Belleville, is in town this week.—Picton Gazette.

James Warham, the tonsorial artist, who went some years ago to Minneapolis, has returned to Belleville and located in his old home.

Miss M. Dempsey, of Belleville. is in town visiting Miss Ambrose.—Miss Aggie Parent is at Belleville visiting friends.—Trenton Advocate.

Dr. J. W. Wright, M.D., brother of the late Dr. Geo. S. Wright, was in town today on business connected with the estate of his deceased brother.

R. Rayburn, Deseronto; R. Weddell, jr., W. H. Delaney, Trenton; W. H. McKeel, C. Stephen and F. Huffman, Campbellford, were guests at the Anglo to day.

Miss Stella Taylor, of Belleville, is in town, the guest of Miss Hawley, at the Homestead.—Mrs. Lockett, of Belleville, is spending a week in town visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Haines.—Trenton Courier.

G. M. Ferris, Campbellford; J. Shurie, Trenton; and J. M. Jory, Norwood, have passed the final examination of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario, and have been admitted as members.

Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Wannamaker, of Missouri, Ill. who have been visiting friends in Prince Edward County after an absence of 25 years, are in the city, the guests of Mr. Byron Way, and will return to their home in the west on Monday.

Apples For Export.

It cannot be too strongly impressed upon fruit growers and other shippers that all apples for export or storing should be carefully handled. The barrel ought to be well shaken several times while being filled and the last layer should be turned stem end up. A firm and steady pressure is necessary before the barrel head is inserted, and, as far as possible, each layer should be placed so that the whole will remain in position firmly. In no case should a hammer be used to pound the head in, nor should the pressure be removed before the head is in place, as the juice in any "chipped" apple will then go back into the bruise, and decay will be rapid.

Cattle Shipments.

The following is a record from the office of Messrs. Pope and Morgan, Dominion cattle inspectors, showing shipments and losses at sea of cattle shipped from the port of Montreal for the years 1892 93 94, ending Sept. 30th:

1892—Shipped, 86,877; lost, 171—19 100 of 1 per cent.

1893—Shipped, 70,541; lost, 115—16 100 of 1 per cent.

1894 Shipped, 69 880; lost, 77—11 100 of 1 per cent.

The loss of sheep up to Sept. 30th, for the year, is out of 105,888 shipped, 695; 220 of these were lost off one steamer.

Will Run the Suburban.

The committee composed of Mayor Walmsley, and Messrs. Thos. Stewart and R. Templeton, appointed to wait upon Mr. Gunn, Station Agent, performed the mission this morning. Mr. Gunn readily acceded to the proposal of running a suburban train to the city during the coming S. S. Convention, and stated that the suburban would meet every regular train during the three days. This is a commendable action on the part of Mr. Gunn, and his kindness will be duly appreciated by both the citizens and visitors.

A Successful Season.

The annual meeting of the Thousand Island Park Association was held at Watertown this week. The annual report of President Foltz showed one of the most prosperous years the Thousand Island Park has had. The receipts of the park from all sources amount to about $15,000, an increase of $2,000, and the expenses of the past year are about the same as the previous year. The report of Secretary Goodale showed the gross liabilities to have been reduced to $5,000 during the last fiscal year.

Military Enquiry.

The military enquiry set for next Monday has been postponed until Tuesday, 30th inst., at 10 o'clock at the drill shed. We understand the court comprises three distinguished and capable officers of the Canadian Militia.

The court, we understand on the best of authority, will be composed of Lt.-Col. H. R. Smith, of the 14th Batt., Kingston, President; Lt.-Col. H. Smith, Commandant of London School of Infantry; and Lt.-Col. Arthur J. Matheson, of the 42nd Batt, Perth.

A Strange Experience.

One of the cattle belonging to a Chesley drover's shipment had a peculiar experience not long ago. When approaching Acton the door of the G. T. R. car in which it was shipped fell off and a steer jumped out, and was unhurt. It got onto the farm of Peter McDonald, and was advertised as astray. The G. T. R. authorities saw the notice and as they had paid the drover for his loss claimed the animal.

Ringing Noises

In the ears, sometimes a roaring, buzzing sound, are caused by catarrh, that exceedingly disagreeable and very common disease. Loss of smell or hearing also results from catarrh. Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier, is a peculiarly successful remedy for this disease, which it cures by purifying the blood.

HOOD'S PILLS are the best after dinner pills, assist digestion, prevent constipation.

Rush of Settlers.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 18.—A heavy influx of settlers for the Northwest has set in from the United States, and daily large parties pass through the city en route to the Canadian West. Yesterday a party of 50 Norwegians, all heads of families, and young men came in from the vicinity of Crookston, Minnesota. They are the advance guard of a considerable number who will settle in Bella Coola valley, British Columbia.

The Bath and Toilet.

The white Castile soap cannot be surpassed for the bath or toilet. It is made with pure vegetable oil—not grease—and is healing and refreshing to the skin. The finest quality may be obtained of L. W. Yeomans & Co. at 20c. per pound.

Trunks and Valises.

We have a good assortment of Trunks from the best makers; we take any special orders for steel or sole leather trunks.—VERMILYEA & SON.

PROBABILITIES.

TORONTO, Oct. 19.—Increasing easterly winds; fair to day, followed by rain in most localities to-night.

Correspondence.

Whilst correspondents will be accorded space for the expression of their ideas on topics of public interest, it must be in all cases understood that the views so expressed are simply those of the correspondents themselves.

To the Editor of the Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, Oct. 18, 1894.

SIR,—As editors are supposed to know everything in general, and to be particularly well posted on the movements and actions of officials and employees of the city, I ask you in the name of many anxious enquirers, what is being done with the curb stones taken from Front Street? These stones have cost the city many hundreds of dollars, and they should be carefully put away for the use of the city, or sold for cash to builders or others who may want them, and the proceeds applied to the improvement of the streets. But what are the facts? Many of them are broken up and destroyed; and I am told that even some of the alder men are using them for their private purposes. Attention has often been called to the disgraceful state of the footbridge lane, and it just seems to me that these valuable stones which are now so recklessly dissipated, could be used to advantage in making a clean and permanent road from Front St. to the bridge. In any case, they should be held as an asset of the city, and used for some useful purpose, or sold for cash.

TAXPAYER

[ED. NOTE]—A reporter asked Mr. Hulme to day what was being done with the old curb-stones and he stated that the committee had ordered that they be given to whoever asked for them for boulevards. Mr. Hulme said he could not understand the action of the committee, as the stones had cost the city $1,600 and they were as good as ever. He said they would make good culverts or they could be used in crossings.

A Further List of Delegates.

Following is the list of delegates to the S. S. Convention received to day:

Miss Aikens, Bowmanville.

Wm. K. Bowerman, Bloomfield; Rev. J. R. Berry, Garden Hill.

Geo. Ellack, Wellman's Corners; Rev. Wm. H. Easton, Cataraqui.

Mrs. Mary Graham, Wellman's Corners; Rev. John Garbutt, Omemee.

Rev. W. H. Hincks, LL. D., Owen Sound; Mrs. Haines, Miss Haycraft, John Hellyar, Bowmanville; Miss Helen Humphries, Hastings.

Miss Libby Isaac, Campbellford.

Rev. T. W. Jolliffe, Campbellford.

Miss Sarah Kingston, Campbellford.

Rev. A. B. Miller, St. Catharines; Frank Marshall, Westbrook.

Rev. D. L. Mackechnie, Mattawa.

Herbert G. Paull, Toronto; Wm. Purves, Columbus; Rev. Geo Porteous, L'Amable.

J. L. Richmond, Campbellford; Thos. Roberts, Welcome; Miss Eunice Roach, Hampton.

Geo. J. St. Leger, Toronto; Miss Maggie Shaw, Hastings; Thos. Sproule, Westbrook.

Mrs. Toole, Mrs. Dr. W. E. Tilley, P. Treblicock, Bowmanville.

Miss A. Veale, Bowmanville.

Rev. J. P. and Mrs. Wilson, Colborne; S. T. Weaver, Ormsby.

A GLUT OF BUTTER.

The Market Filled With It—Being Filled With It.

There is a great glut of butter in the market and prices are falling as a consequence, says the Toronto News.

"I was offered ten car loads of Manitoba butter at ten cents a pound and would'nt buy it," said one dealer to the News.

It seems a large quantity of butter has been held back both in Ontario and Manitoba, and the consequence is it is now being sold at any price.

The Last Rites.

The remains of the late Mrs. Stanley Walbanks were taken to their last resting-place on the 18th inst., when there was an immense gathering to pay their last tribute of respect to the deceased. Amongst those from a distance was Mr. Wm. Kerr, Q C., of Cobourg, who was an old schoolmate of Mr. Welbanks. Over a hundred carriages were in the mourning procession, which proceeded to the Methodist church, where an impressive service was conducted by the Rev. S. Duprau, in which he was assisted by Rev. Mr. McQuade. From the church the remains were taken for burial to the Methodist burial ground. The bearers were Messrs. Gilford Stafford, David Stafford, Geo. Roblin, Theodore Roblin, Gilbert Roblin and Jas. Phillips.

Married in Sidney.

A pleasant event took place at 2:30 p.m. on Wednesday, 17th inst. at the residence of Mr. W. A. Roblin, in the 6th concession of Sidney, being the marriage of his second daughter, Annie, to Mr. S. W. Lloyd, of the 4th con. of the same township. Rev. Mr. Adams, of Foxboro, tied the knot in the presence of about fifty guests. The bride was assisted by her sister, Miss Mary Roblin and Miss Price, of this city. The groomsmen were Mr. Barragar and Mr. Frank Knight. The bride received an unusually large number of presents. The newly married couple left on the evening train for Lindsay, Toronto and Niagara Falls on their honeymoon. The INTELLIGENCER unites with their many friends in congratulations.

Committee Work.

Only two of the civic committees met last evening, the Public Works and Water and Gas.

The Public Works recommended the payment of the pay sheet and a number of accounts. It was also recommended, that in consideration of having $1,800 of assets in hand, consisting of $1,000 worth of lumber and a crusher costing $850, this committee respectfully ask the Council to make a further appropriation of $1,000 to the Board of Works Committee and that the Finance Committee be instructed to finance for the same.

The Water and Gas Committee recommended the payment of a few accounts.

Tea at the Tabernacle.

The Ladies' Aid of the Tabernacle gave a very successful tea in the church last evening. The attendance was good and the proceeds amounted to about $70. After tea some time was spent in short addresses by Revs. J. L. George, E. N. Baker, J. S. Trotter and others. Splendid music was furnished by the choir of the church and a most enjoyable time was spent.

Cheese Markets

BROCKVILLE, Oct. 18.—There still remains about 50,000 boxes of cheese unsold in this section, of which about half white and half colored. At to-day's meeting 500 boxes colored were sold at 10c. Board adjourned for two weeks.

LISTOWEL, Oct. 18.—At the cheese fair here to day 37 factories boarded 10,264 boxes August and balance of the season cheese. There were four lots sold; 60 boxes at 9⅞c, 720 at 10c and 320 at 10 1 16c; seven buyers present.

Students' Trade.

Young men attending the different colleges often ask at the Oak Hall for ten per cent. discount. We cannot possibly afford to give any discount from our already low prices, and besides, it would not be fair to other customers. Our prices are always the lowest in Belleville for good clothing, and we have "one price only" for all.

SPORTING NEWS

The Y. M. C. A. Hockey Club will meet at 7:30 this evening for organization.

The Canadian 25 mile and hour records were boosted up by T. B. McCarthy, the Athenaeum crack of Dunlop Trophy fame. when he covered 23 miles and 1,672 yards within the hour, and negotiated the 25 miles in 1.02.44. The Canadian records fell from 6 miles up. McCarthy was paced for 17 miles of the distance, 9 on the start and 8 at the finish by Hensel and Robertson on a tandem.

Deer shooting will open to-morrow.

Six thousand people gathered at Cumberland Park, Nashville, yesterday, being chiefly attracted by the prospects of match between Robert J. and John R. Gentry. The day and track were perfect, and when Robert J. (Geers) and John R. Gentry (McHenry) came upon the track they were greeted by a great shout. Robert J. was on the outside at the start. Around they paced and came in so closely together that the judges decided it a dead heat Time—2:04. After the heat it was found that Gentry had cut himself and was allowed to be withdrawn. Robert J. was given the race, and then went a mile in the gathering dusk with a running mate. Time—2:03.

A Fine Bridge.

A Trenton correspondent writes as follows:—

At Glen Miller, in the township of Sidney, about four miles from the town of Trenton, there is being erected a very fine bridge of about 400 feet.

The abutments and piers are built of solid masonry of that known as rock faced ashler, the stone being bought from the Longford quarries. Mr. Robert Weddell, of Trenton, is the contractor.

On the masonry there will be placed four steel spans, three of 126, 79 and 79 feet respectively, and one 92 feet span. Having been on the piers on the west side of the river, this one was carried over and placed on the piers on the east side. The work has been carried on under the able management of Mr. W. McKeel, of Campbellford, as foreman; a man fully competent to manage such an undertaking.

The Trenton Advocate gives the following particulars of the opening:

"On Wednesday, the 10th inst., the new Gordon's bridge built across the Trent just south of Glen Miller, was formally delivered over to the County of Hastings, by Mr. R. Weddell. The county was represented on the occasion by Messrs. Warden Farley, Reeve English, chairman of Bridge Committee, Deputy Reeve Dench, Inspector of Works, and County Clerk Aylsworth. Among others present were Mr. R. Weddell, Mayor Jaques, the editor of the Advocate, and Mr. Peter Miller.

The bridge is as handsome a structure as can be found in the province. There are three piers and two abutments built of Longford stone, from Muskoka, and the length of the bridge is 380 feet. It will be of interest to state that the agreement was executed by Mr. Weddell and the county July 9th, and the time fixed for completion of the work was Oct. 15th.

Construction commenced July 17th, and the whole was completed Oct. 1st or fifteen days ahead of time. The masonry was commenced Aug. 8th, and finished Sep. 10th.

After the bridge had been accepted from Mr. Weddell those present repaired to the office, when Mr. Alysworth was moved into the chair and addresses were made by Mayor Jaques, P. J. O'Rourke, R. Weddell, Peter Miller, Warden Farley, Reeve English, Dep. Reeve Dench, and others. The County Officials were quite outspoken in praise of our townsman and his bridges. Mr. Weddell in turn expressed the pleasure he always experienced in his dealings with the officials of the County of Hastings. The relations between himself and them had always been cordial and he would do all in his power to give them satisfaction in the future. He was proud of the bridge he had just handed over to them, and thought he had every reason to be. He made it a point to put the best workmanship and material into every job he took, and was glad to know that the County of Hastings was pleased with the manner in which he lived up to his agreements.

After a cordial vote of thanks had been voted the chairman and had been ably responded to, the meeting broke up, all present being well pleased with the afternoon's work.

A Wedding Gift.

See Tickell & Sons' window on Saturday evening, if you are selecting a wedding present. An elegant show of Brass and Oak, Brass and Onyx Tables, also Oak and Walnut Secretaries. Offered at very low prices.

One Hundred More Needed.

The Sunday School Convention committees were "busy as nailers" for two hours and a half last night, perfecting the arrangements for Belleville's largest Convention. The number of names of delegates received is now close to five hundred; the Secretary in Toronto expects a hundred more, and as yet but five hundred homes have been provided for by our citizens The meeting was quite satisfied that when Bellevillians know this, they would as usual, rise to the occasion, and that there would be on the part of every one a willingness to entertain these strangers.

The names we published yesterday quite surprised some, as hitherto they did not suppose that people so representative came to such gatherings, and were willing to devote time and money to the furtherance of a cause they had hitherto looked askance at.

Everything is being attended to very thoroughly, all the details of the arrangements having committees composed of one representative from each Church to look after them. Last evening, committees were selected to welcome the delegates at the G. T. R. station and the church; to arrange for a suburban train; to have a choir of eighty voices for the evening meetings; to secure plants and flowers for the platform; to attend to the cab and 'bus service; and to have a corps of fifty boys to act as guides.

The City Council was requested to welcome the Convention officially, and all our public buildings, stores, &c., to have every bit of bunting flying, so as to give the city a gala appearance.

THE HEART

is liable to great functional disturbance through sympathy. Dyspepsia, or Indigestion, often causes it to palpitate in a distressing way. Nervous Prostration, Debility and Impoverished Blood, also cause its too rapid pulsations. Many times, Spinal Affections, cause it to labor unduly. Sufferers from such Nervous Affections often imagine themselves the victims of organic heart disease.

ALL NERVOUS DISEASES, as Paralysis, Locomotor Ataxia, Epilepsy, or Fits, St. Vitus's Dance, Sleeplessness, Nervous Prostration, Nervous Debility, Neuralgia, Melancholia and Kindred Ailments, are treated as a specialty, with great success, by the Staff of the Invalids' Hotel. For Pamphlet, References, and Particulars, enclose 10 cents, in stamps for postage.

Address, WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, Buffalo, N. Y.

Both Won.

We sat in the dog cart, Maud and I,
A roguish twinkle in Maud's blue eye,
As the speedy trotters went flying by,
At the races.

A wager I'll lay, said Maud to me;
That the little bay pacer wins first, said she,
But the wager, said I, now what shall it be,
At the races.

You name, said Maud, if it's what I can pay,
If you win I'll pay whoever you say,
Said I, this diamond 'gainst your hand I'll play,
At the races.

The dapple gray won, and the hand I claimed,
While her blue eyes, just like my diamond, flamed,
I clasped her hand and the wedding day named,
At the races.

Now Maud is my wife, but she says, with a smile,
I was told the bay could not go a mile
And I wanted the grey horse to win all the while,
At the races.

—EM PIERCE

MANY LADIES
...COME...
MANY MILES!

From all the surrounding Towns to purchase their Mantles and Wraps at

RITCHIE'S.

If they didn't, we could not show the hundreds of different styles we do.

GEO. RITCHIE & CO.

Changed Daily.

"SAY A LITTLE BUT SAY IT STRONG."

FRIDAY, Oct. 19th, 1894.

WE Don't Think

We know our prices are very reasonable for those nice new Dinner Sets that we have just opened up:

DINNER SETS AT $5.80
" " " 6.50
" " " 7.70
" " " 8.00

And higher for larger sets. The patterns and ware are excellent quality.

Stroud's
TEA STORE.

Wanted!

10,000 People of the City of Belleville, to buy the famous

ENGLISH SPICED SAUSAGE!

Manufactured by

McGUINNESS,
Front Street.

Tender Loins, Feet, Ribs, Hocks and Fresh Heads, Choice Roasts 9c. per lb.

FRANK LEAKE
Oshawa, Ont.

Pains in the Joints

Caused by Inflammatory Swelling

A Perfect Cure by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"It affords me much pleasure to recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla. My son was afflicted with great pain in the joints, accompanied with swelling so bad that he could not get up stairs to bed without crawling on hands and knees. I was very anxious about him, and having read so much about Hood's Sarsaparilla I determined to try it, and got a half-dozen bottles, four of which entirely cured him." MRS. G. A. LAKE, Oshawa, Ontario.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

N. B. Be sure to get Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Hood's Pills act easily, yet promptly and efficiently, on the liver and bowels. 25c.

= SILKS =

We have in stock a full line of the

Corticelli Embroidery and Knitting Silks

-- IN --

Honiton Lace Emb'y Silk.
Outline do do
Knitting Silk,
Twist Embroidery,
Roman Floss,
Filo Floss.

— ALSO —

27 INCH PURE JAPANESE SILK IN

LIGHT BLUE,
CREAM,
ROSE PINK,
CORAL PINK,
BUTTERCUP,
CARDINAL,

BLACK = SILKS!

In all the leading makes.

J. P. THOMPSON & CO.

A GOOD, WARM, CHEERFUL FIRE!

Will soon be in order as the cold weather is rapidly approaching

SO.....

...Do not Lose any Time

In ordering your supply of

Telephone C 68.

Coal and Wood

...FROM...

S. A. LAZIER & SON'S

The Leading Coal and Wood Merchants.

HOW NICE...

AND

...SO CHEAP

This expression was heard on all sides by our hundreds of patrons who visited us last Saturday.

No wonder such prices and novelties, one cannot resist the temptation of letting the purse strings loose.

No wonder when you can buy goods for almost one half the former price. This store introduced CUT PRICES and intend to keep it up.

No fancy or private mark, but in plain figures are all our goods marked. These are a few of the bargains we offer you this week:

5 Cases Flannellet, dark, pretty patterns, 28 in. worth 9c.. .. .. 7c
3 do Grey Flannel, worth 20c.. .. .. 15c
2 do do do all wool, worth 25c.. .. .. 18c

A thousand different bargains in every department which space will not permit us to mention. Call and convince yourself.

H. A. LAYTON, BELLEVILLE.

Front St., Opposite Campbell St.

SOME HINTS!

Upon the Uses of Wall and Ceiling Paper.

TEN Per Cent Discount Now.

1. The better grades of paper last longer, are easier to hang and can be purchased at but slight advance in cost over the poorer grades.

2. Whitewash and calsomine are but little cheaper than ceiling papers and add nothing to the appearance of the room, in fact they more often destroy the harmony To think of furnishing all the rest of your room (the floor even, which you deliberately tramp upon) and leave the most important part of it (the ceiling) without a particle of furnishing or character, except that of cleanliness, is beyond comprehension. Your upper wall and ceiling are the only unbroken decorative feature of a room. Furniture breaks the view of the lower wall and it is still further obscured by the hanging of pictures upon it; therefore let special attention be paid to the selection of wide border that shall be in harmony with wall and ceiling, and of ceiling that fittingly completes the beauty of the room

3. Narrow borders are sufficient, if your aim is only to conceal the ragged ends of paper, but a wide border or frieze serves to heighten the appearance of a room and gives it a more artistic finish—makes it appear as if frescoed.

4. In making your selections, if the room has a north window, let some warmth appear in the paper. If the exposure is south or west, cooler shades can be appropriately used. For Dining-rooms let the walls be mellow in tone, indicative of hospitality.

Parlors can be treated according to individual taste, care being used to have wall and ceiling decorations in harmony with carpets and furniture.

Use for sleeping rooms, light ground papers with a spice of color in the pattern. Floral decorations are most in favor for such purposes.

5. Whatever may be the room or rooms that you are about to paper, don't forget that the better qualities of paper will retain their lustre long after cheaper grades have become dull and colorless.

6. Ten per cent. discount now.

CHAS. B. SCANTLEBURY.

24TH - - - - - YEAR.

Our Novelties in..

Fur Capes and Jackets

Are the talk of the City, and our Goods are

FIRST CLASS!

The reason for this is we have the

RIGHT STYLES AND PRICES

And our Furs are quite different from any other house in the City.

S. A. HYMAN.

Manufacturing Furrier.

Old Furs of all kinds cleaned, dyed and made over,

Bay of Quinte Steamb't Route

TRI-WEEKLY

DESERTO, PICTON & KINGSTON

1894 - 1894

STR. "HERO"

THIS favorite steamer is now lighted by electricity and will have a strong search light for excursion business and the boat is heated by steam.

Commencing Monday, April 9th, will leave Belleville Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 6 a.m., returning Tuesday, Thursday and Friday at 11 p.m.

The very best facilities are offered to shippers of freight. The lowest through and local rates quoted.

No wharfage at Picton on freight for this steamer.

Full information given by Gilbert Johnston on board, or to the

RATHBUN COM'Y,

H. GILDERSLEEVE, Ticket Agents Kingston.

ROCHESTER.

STEAMER

NORTH KING

Leaves for Charlotte, N. Y., every Sunday, 11:45 p.m.

Leaves for Picton and Kingston every Sunday, 3:30 a.m.

Arrives from Picton and Kingston every Sunday, 11:45 p.m.

Arrives from Charlotte, N. Y., every Sunday, 3:30 a.m.

Special attention given to passengers and freight

WEEK DAYS.—Steamer leaves Port Hope week days for Charlotte, N. Y., at 9:45 a.m.

Calls at Brighton Monday 2 a.m., and Wednesday 2:30 a.m., and at Colborne Wednesday and Friday 4 a.m.

Connection made by Grand Trunk morning trains.

THE RATHBUN CO., U. E. THOMPSON, 491 Agents. Agent.

HAMILTON,

TORONTO, AND MONTREAL,

Via Bay or Quinte, Calling at all Ports weekly.

THE FAVORITE STEAMER

"MAGNET"

Leaves St. Catharines Tuesday 9 a. m.
Toronto " 4 p. m.
Leaves Belleville for Montreal } Wednesday 7:30 a m
Leaves Belleville for Toronto } Sunday 8 p. m.

First Class Passenger Accommodation, Large Freight Capacity. Lowest Rates

For Tickets, Rates, &c., Apply to the RATHBUN COMPANY, Agents, or to

Capt. J. J. TOWERS, Superintendent, No. 2 Ring st., Toronto.

C. F. GILDERSLEEVE, General Manager, 228 St. Paul st., Montreal.

HAPPY HOME RANGES,

Best in the Market.

—ALSO—

A Full Line of

Art Garland

and

Famous Heaters

—(o)—

Wm. McGIE,

Next to Nathan Jones.

Telephone 38. Front S.

Steamer "Iona"

Will eave Belleville three times each week for Oswego, connecting with trains for New York.

INSURANCE.

Western Assurance Company,

Fire and Marine. Head Office, Toronto.

North British & Mercantile Ins. Co.,

Fire and Life. Head Office (Can.) Montreal

Atlas Insurance Company,

Fire. Head Office (Canada), Montreal

M. M. THOMPSON

Water Works Office, Bridge S.

REMOVAL

MR. JOSEPH CALDWELL, DENTIST

Has removed his office to the new premises which he has had specially fitted up in the

Caldwell Block,

First door south of the Anglo American Hotel Front street. 1091

Daily Intelligencer.

At Death's Door—Dyspepsia Conquered —A Great Medical Triumph.

GENTLEMEN,—My medical adviser and others told me I could not possibly live when I commenced to use Northrop & Lyman's VEGETABLE DISCOVERY for Dyspepsia. My case was one of the worst of its kind. For three years I could not eat meat and my weight decreased from 210 to 119 lbs. All the food I took for thirteen months previous to taking the VEGETABLE DISCOVERY consisted of milk. I am now entirely cured and have regained my usual weight, can eat anything with a keen relish, and feel like a new man. I have sold over thirty dozen SARSAPARILLA DISCOVERY since it cured me, as I am well known, and people in this section know how low I was, and thought I could not possibly be cured. They are eager to try the grand medicine. It certainly saved my life, as I never expected to recover when first I commenced using it. I am not exaggerating anything but feel glad to be able to contribute this testimonial and trust it may be the means of convincing others of its merits as a certain cure for Dyspepsia.

Signed, JEAN VALCOURT.

Wotton, P. Q.

In 1888 the people of Great Britain paid taxes on 492 200 carriages.

Is there anything more annoying than having your corn stepped upon? Is there anything more delightful than getting rid of it? Holloway's Corn Cure will do it. Try it and be convinced.

In Portugal the tobacco tax brings £900,000, the land tax £700,000.

Some people laugh to show their pretty teeth. The use of Ivory White Tooth Powder makes people laugh more than ever. It's so nice. Price 25c. Sold by druggists.

Worms cause feverishness, moaning and restlessness during sleep. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator is pleasant, sure and effectual. If your druggist has none in stock, get him to procure it for you.

The rate of taxation has nearly quadrupled in France since 1830.

DYSPEPSIA causes dizziness, headache, constipation, variable appetite, rising and souring of food, palpitation of the heart, distress after eating. Burdock Blood Bitters is guaranteed to cure Dyspepsia if faithfully used according to directions.

Until about forty years ago, the Persian Government levied a tax on cats.

Mr. T. J. Howe, Columbus, Ohio, writes: 'I have been afflicted for some time with kidney and Liver Complaint, and find Parmelee's Pills the best medicine for these diseases. These Pills do not cause pain or griping, and should be used when a cathartic is required. They are Gelatine Coated, and rolled in the Flour of Licorice to preserve their purity and give them a pleasant, agreeable taste.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP cures Bronchitis.

FOR CHOLERA MORBUS, Cholera Infantum Cramps, Colic, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, and Summer Complaint Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is a prompt, safe and sure cure that has been a popular favorite for over 40 years.

LAKEHURST SANITARIUM

OAKVILLE, ONT.

For treatment and cure of

ALCOHOLISM, MORPHINE HABIT, TOBACCO HABIT AND NERVOUS DISEASES.

The system employed at this Institution is the familiar Double Chloride of Gold System. Through its agency over 200,000 Slaves to the use of these poisons have been emancipated in the last fourteen years. Lakehurst Sanitarium is the oldest Institution of the kind in Canada, and has a well earned reputation to maintain in this line of medicine. In its whole history there is not an instance of failure to remove the appetite for these poisons. In its whole history there is not an instance of any after ill-effects from the treatment. Hundreds of happy homes in all parts of the Dominion bear eloquent witness to the efficacy of a course of treatment with us. For terms and full information write

THE SECRETARY,

28 Bank of Commerce Chambers,

aug7d3m34w3m) Toronto, Ont.

DODD'S

KIDNEY PILLS,

A positive cure for all kidney diseases, such as

Backache, Rheumatism, Diabetes, Bright's Disease, &c., &c.

For sale at the Pharmacy.

D. M. WATERS.

STEAMER VARUNA

A. HICKS, Captain.

WILL leave Trenton every morning, (Sunday excepted) at 7:00 o'clock, calling at Redperville and all points between the head of the bay and Picton, leaving Belleville at 8:30 a.m., Deseronto at 10:20 a.m.

On Tuesday and Thursday evenings to meet North King at Brighton, returning will leave Brighton Wednesday and Saturday mornings at 5:30.

Will connect at Picton with stage for Sand Banks.

Parties wishing to arrange for excursion rates will see Capt. Hicks on board

Will leave Picton at 1 p.m. on return for the head of the bay, Deseronto 2:30 p.m., Belleville, at 4:30 p. m., and Trenton, at 6.

Omnibuses in waiting at Picton, Belleville and Brighton.

The Rathbun Co., Agents, Belleville and Deseronto.

A. W. Henburn, Agent, Picton.

ROCHESTER

KINGSTON AND MONTREAL

Weekly Service Calling at Way Ports

THE PEOPLE'S FAVORITE STEAMER.

ALEXANDRIA

Leaves Montreal, Thursday at 10:00 a. m.
Arrives Belleville, Saturday at 11:45 a. m.
Leaves for Rochester " " 1:15 p. m.
Arrives from Rochester, Monday at 6:30 a. m.
Leaves for Montreal, " " 8 a. m.

Spacious and elegant Saloon. Ample State room accommodation. The choicest and best Meals furnished. Safety, comfort and enjoyment ensured by personal supervision of Capt. Smith and Purser Melrose. Careful handling of freight.

For Tickets, State rooms at lowest rates apply to

THE RATHBUN COMPANY,

Agents.

THE KISS OF GOLD.

By KATE JORDAN.

[Copyright, 1893, by J. B. Lippincott Company and published by special arrangement with them.]

"Perhaps you would like to follow him. Would you? If he lives alone, has no one to help him"—

"What do you mean?" And her burning hand was on his arm.

"He seemed to me on the verge of a collapse. I saw a sailor once whose face wore that look. He shot himself. If he hadn't, I think he would have gone mad."

She threw out her hands in a gesture of pain.

"Yes—come. We can get his address at the box office. If not, I know where the manager lives. Come. You will go with me, won't you?"

He made no answer in words, but gazing down into her questioning eyes a flood of fealty poured from his, a long, yearning, inspiring glance of passion that thrilled her to the core of her troubled soul.

CHAPTER XV.

Scarcely 10 minutes later Tom entered his sitting room. It was dark. He hated the darkness. He wanted light—light to keep the terrors from crowding upon him—an invisible, awful horde. He lit the lamp, staggered to the sinking fire and fell exhausted into a chair, where he sat with heavily hanging arms and head fallen forward. His breath came in spasms, his heart was in his throat, his wide, circled eyes were sightless, but his inward vision was the more hideously acute. Oh, God, the pathos of what he saw!

One after another he reviewed the wickednesses, the degradations of his life. How closely they pressed together—a series of steps, each one lower, forming a stairway and descending into a gulf! He stood faltering upon the edge of the last, the darkness hungry for his soul, the roar of an incoming torrent in his ears.

Tonight he had stood face to face with Virginia, not with the white memory which had always followed him, but with the living woman whose warm, fragrant lips had surrendered to his kiss for one ecstatic moment, long, long ago. Oh, that fervent, remembered kiss! Oh, her deep, mystical eyes!

Those eyes! Ah, they had read him through and through, making his blood leap and shiver! Her power was still unshaken in his soul—nay, she was indeed his soul, for near her he felt and understood more keenly, and life took on a deeper meaning. She was his light, his breath, his revelation, with power in the small compass of one glance to save him even from himself.

But she was lost to him forever. With the sight of Dawson's face had come the thought of what he was—not fit to stand before her, not fit to touch her hand.

With a cry like an animal struggling he threw out his arms. Oh, if he could be better—or worse! But to have always seen the good and loved it, and yet with unstable feet to have drifted away to all that was vile, even while keeping his eyes fixed upon the beacon that shed its light in vain for him—this was torture. Oh, if he could go back! If he only could live a child go back and begin all over again!

He got up slowly and fumbled among the glasses on the table until he found the bottle he wanted—a little wine to help quench this aching regret, this self reproach in every heart throb! He drained the glass thirstily, let his folded arms rest upon the table and laid his head upon them.

The light of the actual world slipped away, and his sleep was troubled by a dream.

He was alone. The night sighed around him, the moon swung in the high, misty spaces. He felt a sense of predestination as he moved along, as if each step had been ordered by a will other than his own, as if he must walk that road and eventually see what lay ahead in the mystery of the far, blue shadows.

His vision became clearer, and he saw himself clad in a long, white gown, made pilgrim fashion, a staff in his hand. The silver at his feet became the sand of a beach, and the sweet, monotonous whisper stealing through the desolate whiteness the incessant sobbing of the sea. Yes, he was walking on the very edge of the fretting waters.

A warm hand slipped into his, and Virginia walked beside him. Her hair was unbound. It softly lashed her cheeks, and sometimes he felt its silken caress. He drew her to him, seeking her lips.

"Stay with me, dear," he whispered. "Stay with me now."

He felt the warmth of her young, red mouth on his, but her eyes remained wide and beseeching. She murmured his name and led him on until they stood before a building of austere and awful structure. It seemed to have risen from the waters. The waves broke in greenish tongues upon its steps, and within he saw a fallen lamp sputtering before a ruined shrine. As they paused in the shadow of its door they heard the sound of bare feet whispering upon stone, and slowly up one staircase and down another a silent multitude poured, all garbed like Virginia and himself in the simple vestments of the antique world. Many of his friends were in the throng, many of his old classmates; his enemies, too—Delatole and Dawson. It was a curious thing that those going up smiled at him, but those returning poured down and passed him with reviling glances or cold faces turned away.

In silence, with his love's hand clinging to his, they joined the ascending line. Up, up, until his body was weary and his veins throbbed with pain, and still beyond were other shadowy stairs under appalling arches. Faint and battling for breath, they reached the top at last. A vast hall wrapped in luminous gloom stretched away into immeasurable space. From its strange circular windows they could see the green of the sea, far, far below, the waves rolling in with a languorous movement.

Tom felt a numbness seize him. He sighed again and again, at length tearing away the white folds of cloth from his breast in an effort to ease its burning.

"What place is this?" faltered from his dry lips.

Virginia did not answer. She seemed stricken dumb with grief.

Before a door leading to an inner chamber an old man stood on guard. His shoulders were curved as if he had toiled with the spade. His hairy, labor twisted hands were crossed upon a staff. One sentence only left his lips in a monotonous sing song:

"The Hall of the Sinful Copy."

Tom hesitated before him, joy welling in his heart. The simple, trusting, adoring old man was his father. Oh, here he would find love unspeakable.

"Father!" he whispered, with vehe-

He let his folded arms rest upon the table and laid his head upon them.

ment tenderness.

But the worn, gentle face took on a look of hatred it had never worn in life. The gnarled fingers flung his arms away.

"I sacrificed myself for you. Hunger, despair were my portion many a time that you might be happy, free and some day great. This I did for you, but you have poisoned eternity for me," were the words that left his lips with the fury of a malediction.

Tom could not linger to question or appeal. The throng pressing behind him bore him on to the center of the inner hall, where a presence, awful in its austerity and grandeur, hung like a shadow, with eyes of fire above a parchment outspread upon a marble ledge. Around this the crowd circled, looked and moved on one by one.

(To be Continued.)

THE FEES COMMISSION.

Dr. Bourinot Gives His Opinion on the Fees System.

OTTAWA, Oct. 10.—The Ontario Fees Commission met in the court house here yesterday.

Dr. J. C. Bourinot, clerk of the House of Commons, was the principal witness examined. On the permission of the commission he read a very carefully written statement setting forth his opinions on the questions upon which the commission was seeking information. His conclusions were: That the present system of appointment to provincial offices seemed, on the whole, the best calculated to give the country an efficient and permanent public service; that to change the system of responsibility resting upon the execution of every appointment for irresponsible methods of popular elections would be subversive of the English principles of government and a weakening of the whole public service; that municipal councils should be kept within the strict lines of their local power; that the uniform system of paying all salaries by the government at a fixed rate, graded according to the importance and responsibilities of the office would conduce to the public advantage by placing all officials on a basis of equality; that the efficiency of a public service must be enhanced by conditions of permanence of tenure and a fixety of salary."

Mayor Cox said that the present system of appointment of municipal officers should remain unchanged. The appointment of license commissioners should be under the control of the government.

John M. Garland said he would regret to see sheriffs and other officials elected by popular vote because a poorer class of officers would naturally be the result. He thought that in some cases the salaries of officers was not sufficient and in the other places they were very large, if not too much. He believed that the sheriff should receive the fees as he does now but only up to a certain amount, after which the balance of fees should be paid over to the government. In smaller counties, where the fees were small and did not make a sufficient salary, he believed the government should pay a salary in addition from the overplus from the more remunerative offices. He was opposed to popular elections in the appointment of officials. J. P. Featherstone, clerk of the crown, gave similar evidence. City Clerk Henderson was also examined and favored the present system.

Sheriff Sweetland favored the present system of appointing public officials. He thought that the payment of officers by fees was preferable to salaries, for the officers would pay greater attention to the public interests if they were paid by the fees they collected than would be the case if they were paid a salary.

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 16.—William C. Liphardt, the school inspector convicted of receiving a bribe, was brought into court and sentenced to five years imprisonment in the state prison. His lawyers will endeavor to obtain a new trial.

Deseronto Navigation Company (Limited

Steamer Ella Ross.

This fast sailing and comfortable steamer leaves Belleville for Trenton daily (Sunday excepted), at 10 a.m. Leaves Belleville for Deseronto and Picton at 3 p.m., connecting at Deseronto with steamers for Napanee and Oswego. For freight and passenger rates. For further information apply to the Rathbun Co., Bridge street, or to R. C. Carter, General Manager Deseronto.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP cures Coughs.

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry cures Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cramps, Colic, Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum and all looseness of the bowels. Never travel without it. Price 35c.

In parts of Peru taxes are paid in cocoa leaves and Peruvian barks.

For coughs, colds, bronchitis and all lung and throat troubles, there is no preparation of medicine can compare with Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup. It never fails to afford prompt and permanent relief. It removes all soreness, and heals the diseased parts. It immediately soothes the most troublesome cough, and by promoting expectoration, removes the mucus which clogs up the air tubes which, cause difficulty in breathing, thereby gives relief to that depressing tight sensation experienced in the chest. Public speakers and singers will find Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup of inestimable value, as it speedily and effectually allays all irritation, and keeps the throat and bronchial tubes, and given power to the vocal cords, rendering the voice clear and sonorous. If parents wish to save the lives of their children, and themselves from much anxiety trouble and expense let them procure a bottle of Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup, and whenever a child has taken cold, has a cough or hoarseness, give the Syrup according to directions.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP heals the lungs.

A stinted wife can find a vest pocket in the dark.

Amp'e warning is given us by our lungs when th y are in danger. If foolhardy enough to neglect the warning signal, we incur imminent peril. Check a cough at the outset with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil—which is a sovereign pulmonic—besides being a remedy for soreness, lameness, abrasions of the skin, tumors, piles, rheumatism, etc.

BURDOCK PILLS, small, safe, and sure, regulate the liver and cure constipation.

Robert Lubbock, Cedar Rapids, writes: "I have used Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil both for myself and family for Diptheria with the very best results. I regard it as the best remedy for this disease, and would use no other.

Holland is the only country in Europe that admits coffee free of duty.

DYSPEPSIA arises from wrong action of stomach, liver and bowels. Burdock Blood Bitters cures Dyspepsia and all diseases arising from it, 99 times in 100.

ALL OVER THE WORLD

NORWAY PINE SYRUP

CURES

COUGHS & COLDS

PRICE 25c. 50c.

Floor Oil Cloths...

We have now in stock, FLOOR OIL CLOTHS up to 24 ft. wide

....FOR STOVES!

- - ALSO A LINE - -

ENGLISH OIL CLOTHS

Suitable for under Stoves at 30c. sq. yd.

NATHAN JONES.

LISTEN FRIENDS!!

We SAY because we KNOW!

Our COAL! This Season is unexcelled for quality because the Bill of Lading bears the Brand of the Delaware & Hudson Canal Company.

Cut this out and test this "Ad" when the Winter Winds whistle.

THE RATHBUN COMPANY.

ONTARIO MUTUAL LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY.

S. Burrows, Esq., General Agent, Ontario Mutual Life Co., Belleville, Ont.

DEAR SIR, Received your company's check for $2,000 for our Matured Endowment, and we both wish to show our gratitude to you and the Company for the straightforward and satisfactory way you deal with policy holders, and that we are more than satisfied with our investment. I will always urge our friends to follow in our footsteps. Thanking you very kindly.

Yours very sincerely,
Mr. & Mrs. GOODWIN, Bowmanville,
Formerly of Belleville.

Belleville and Napanee, Office, Bridge St. Telephone A. 4.

COAL - AND - WOOD

THOS. STEWART,

The only dealer in Scranton Coal in Belleville and Napanee. The very best facilities for delivering to any part of the city or surrounding towns this coal, which is the best and cheapest mined.

No Gas No Clinkers. No Waste

Clean, quick, hot, strong, cheerful fire. Smithing, Connell, Brier Hill, Ron of Mine coal and Coal Screenings always on hand. Hard and soft wood, Blocks and Edgings delivered to any part of the City.

TO THE PUBLIC.

When we decided to add the manufacture of carriages, phaetons, demo-crats, &c., to our business, we immediately put under construction a few of each. As we decided to place no vehicle on the market which is not A 1 in in every detail, and knowing that no first-class vehicle can be produced on the rush, it has been necessary for us to take sufficient time to produce what we aimed at. We think we have succeeded; and we now have a few rigs completed, and others nearing completion to offer for sale. The Iron work is all hand forged; the wood work carefully made, and strongly ironed; and the painting and upholstering done with the best material and greatest care. We can freely recommend these rigs. We will be pleased to have parties who may need anything in the above line, call and inspect our work.

ST. CHARLES & PRINGLE

JAS ST CHARLES. HENRY PRINGLE

IT - HAS - BEEN - ADMITTED

BY OVER 125 PEOPLE IN BELLEVILLE THAT THE

John Bull Wrought Steel Range,

Is the most Economical, Everlasting and Useful Range on the market. How is this for three Seasons.

SEE THEM AT FOSTER'S.

Also the Duchess of Oxford Cast Iron Range

The Sale of Boots and Shoes:

Slightly damaged by Smoke and Water will continue until everything is sold.

HAINES & LOCKETT

Opposite Anglo-American Hotel.

Camping Supplies!

—AND—

Picnic - Requisites!

Our list of articles suitable for Picnic Lunches and Camping, includes:

Canned Meats.

ARMOUR'S COOKED BEEF,
ARMOUR'S OX TONGUES,
ARMOUR'S LUNCH TONGUES,
ARMOUR'S POTTED HAM,
ARMOUR'S COOKED PIG FEET
ARMOUR'S LUNCH CORN-MEAT,
ARMOUR'S POTTED TONGUE
ARMOUR'S BRAWN,
SANDWICH MEATS,
BONELESS CHICKEN,
BONELESS TURKEY,
POTTED BEEF,
POTTED GAME,
ETC., ETC.! ETC.!

Canned Fish.

FINEST SARDINES IN OIL,
FINEST SARDINES IN TOMATO,
HERRINGS IN TOMATO SAUCE,
KIPPERED HERRINGS,
FRESH HERRINGS,
SALMON, LOBSTERS,
FINNAN HADDIES,
BLOATER PASTE,
ANCHOVY PASTE,
SARDINE PASTE,
ETC.! ETC.! ETC.!

Sundries.

Condensed Milk in Tins, Cream in Tins, Biscuits (in great variety), Fine old Cheese, McLaren's Imperial Cheese (in small cracks), Dried Beef, Choice Hams and Bacon, Lime Juice, Spanish Olives, CROSSE & BLACKWELL'S Pickled White Onions, Walnuts, Chow Chow, and and Mixed Pickles.

WALLBRIDGE & CLARKE

Grocers and Wine Merchants,

33 and 37 Bridge Street. Also Front Street, in Caldwell Building.

ALLAN LINE,

Royal Mail Steamships. Liverpool. Calling at Moville.

From Montreal. From Quebec daylight

PARISIAN..... Oct. 6 Oct. 7
MONGOLIAN..... " 13 " 14
HIBERNIAN..... " 20
LAURENTIAN..... " 27 " 28
NUMIDIAN..... Nov. 3 Nov. 3
PARISIAN..... " 10 " 11

RATES OF PASSAGE.

First cabin Derry and Liverpool, $48 and upwards single; $95 and upwards return. Second cabin, Liverpool, Derry, Belfast, Glasgow, $30; return $55. Steerage at lowest rates (everything found).

All steamships except the Hibernian carry 1st cabin, 2nd cabin and steerage passengers.

STATE LINE SERVICE

NEW YORK, LONDONDERRY AND GLASGOW.

STATE OF NEBRASKA..... Oct. 12
STATE OF CALIFORNIA..... " 26
STATE OF NEBRASKA..... Nov. 23

Cabin passage, $40 and upward, return $80 and upward; Second cabin $25. Steerage at lowest rates.

For tickets and other information apply to U. E. THOMPSON General Ticket Agency, Bridge St., Belleville or to S. BURROWS, Agent.

GENTLEMEN....

Before ordering your Fall Clothing don fail to take a look through

A. N. REID'S

New Fall Importations of

Scotch, English and Irish Suitings, Overcoatings, Pantings, Irish Serges, Cheviots, Hop Sackings and Black Worsteds

First Class Goods and Prices low,

Mr. Minor, our cutter, is one of the best in Ontario.

EVERY GARMENT GUARANTEED!!

Please call and inspect our New Goods.

A. N. REID.

BELLEVILLE PRINTING AND PUBLISHING COMPANY (LIMITED).

J. C. JAMIESON, President. | J. W. LOSEE, Secretary

THE Treasurer is the only person authorized to receive money from the Company, or to grant receipts for the same.

All Bills, Notes, Cheques and other documents binding on the Company, will require the signature of the President, in addition to that of the Treasurer.

THE INTELLIGENCER is printed and published by the INTELLIGENCER Printing and Publishing Company (Limited) by James C. Jamieson, resident in Belleville, at the Office, Front St., south of Hotel St.

DOUBLE EIGHT

The Daily Intelligencer.

NUMBER. PAGES.

H Janeway

LET THERE BE HARMONY IN THINGS ESSENTIAL—LIBERALITY IN THINGS NOT ESSENTIAL—CHARITY IN ALL.

VOL 28. BELLEVILLE ONTARIO SATURDAY OCTOBER 20 1894 NO 144

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

ACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York.

Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

A. Leflar.

DISEASED LUNGS

CURED BY TAKING

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral.

"I contracted a severe cold, which settled on my lungs, and I did what is often done in such cases, neglected it. I then consulted a doctor, who found, on examining me, that the upper part of the left lung was badly affected. The medicines he gave me did not seem to do any good, and I determined to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking a few doses my trouble was relieved, and before I had finished the bottle I was cured." —A. LEFLAR, watchmaker, Orangeville, Ont.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Highest Awards at World's Fair.

Ayer's Pills Cure Indigestion.

"FOR THE BENEFIT OF RHEUMATIC SUFFERERS,"

ACETOCURA MADE ME ANOTHER MAN

G. H. REEVES,
(Reeves & Beebe),
169 State street, Chicago.

Coutts & Sons,
72 Victoria street, Toronto.

Write for gratis pamphlet to COUTTS & Sons, 72 Victoria street, Toronto. Head offices—London, Glasgow and Manchester, (G.B.) Cologne, Germany, Aaron, Switzerland.

Local Agents—

L. W. YEOMANS & CO.,
DRUGGISTS,
BELLEVILLE.

PREPARE FOR the STRUGGLE

The course of study offered by the Belleville business College gives a young person a thorough and practical knowledge of business, and also that mental culture and discipline which sharpens perceptive faculties, stimulates ambition, develops ability and prepares for the struggle of making a living. Every step in the work is characterized by thoroughness. Besides we use the most practical methods.

In teaching shorthand we dictate actual letters and legal evidence. Other schools have undertaken to imitate our methods, but the quality of their work bears that relation to practical business which the imitation does to the real.

We represent things exactly as they are.

Belleville Business College,
ROBERT BOGLE, Proprietor.

Daily Intelligencer.

DEFEATED OARSMEN.

"THE MEN ROWED HARD TO BRING IT TO THE LAND."

Dr. Talmage's Latest Sermon—Jonah and the Fishermen in the Storm—The Wild Waves Beating Around Us To-Day and How We May Escape the Ocean's Depths.

BROOKLYN, October 14, 1894.—Rev. Dr. Talmage, who is still absent on his round-the-world tour, has selected as the subject of to-day's sermon, through the press, "The Oarsmen Defeated," the text chosen being Jonah I: 13, 14: "The men rowed hard to bring it to the land; but they could not: wherefore they cried unto the Lord."

Navigation in the Mediterranean Sea always was perilous, especially so in early times. Vessels were propelled partly by sail and partly by oar. When, by reason of great stress of weather, it was necessary to reef the canvas or haul it in, then the vessel was entirely dependent upon the oars, sometimes twenty or thirty of them on either side the vessel. You would not venture outside your harbor with such a craft as my text finds Jonah sailing in; but he had not much choice of vessels. He was running away from the Lord, and when a man is running away from the Lord, he has to run very fast.

God had told Jonah to go to Ninevah to preach about the destruction of that city. Jonah disobeyed. That always makes rough water, whether in the Mediterranean, or the Atlantic, or the Pacific, or the Caspian Sea. It is a very hard thing to scare sailors. I have seen them, when the prow of the vessel was almost under water, and they were walking the deck knee-deep in the surf, and the small boats by the side of the vessel had been crushed as small as kindling-wood, whistling as though nothing had happened; but the Bible says that these mariners of whom I speak were frightened. That which sailors call "a lump of a sea" had become a blinding, deafening, swamping fury. How mad the wind can get at the water, and the water can get at the wind, you do not know unless you have been spectators. I have in my house a piece of the sail of a ship, no larger than the palm of my hand; that piece of canvas was all that was left of the largest sail of the ship Greece, that went into the storm two hundred miles off Newfoundland. Oh, what a night that was! I suppose it was in some such storm as this that Jonah was caught.

He knew that the tempest was on his account, and he asked the sailors to throw him overboard. Sailors are a generous-hearted race, and they resolved to make their escape, if possible, without resorting to such extreme measures. The sails are of no use, and so they lay hold on their oars. I see the long bank of shining blades on either sides of the vessel. Oh! how they did pull, the bronzed seamen, as they laid back onto the oars. But rowing on the sea is very different from rowing upon a river; and as the vessel hoists, the oars skip the wave and miss the stroke, and the tempest laughs to scorn the flying paddles. It is of no use, no use. There comes a wave that crashes the last mast, and sweeps the oarsmen from their places, and tumbles everything in the confusion of impending shipwreck, or, as my text has it, "The men rowed hard to bring it to the land; but they could not; wherefore they cried unto the Lord."

This scene is very suggestive to me, and I pray God I may have grace and strength enough to represent it intelligently to you. Years ago I preached a sermon on another phase of this very subject, and I got a letter from Houston, Texas, the writer saying that the reading of that sermon in London had led him to God. And I received another letter from South Australia, saying that the reading of that sermon in Australia had brought several souls to Christ. And then, I thought, why not now take another phase of the same subject, for perhaps that God who can raise in power that which is sown in weakness may now, through another phase of the same subject, bring salvation to the people who shall hear, and salvation to the people who shall read. Men and women who know how to pray, lay hold of the Lorn God Almighty, and wrestle for the blessing.

Bishop Latimer would stop sometimes in his sermon, in the midst of his argument, and say, "Now, I will tell you a tale;" and to-day I would like to bring the scene of the text as an illustration of a most important religious truth. As those Mediterranean oarsmen trying to bring Jonah ashore were discomfited, I have to tell you that they were not the only men who have broken down on their paddles, and have been obliged to call on the Lord for help. I want to say that the unavailing efforts of those Mediterranean oarsmen have a counterpart in the efforts we are making to bring souls to the shore of safety and set their feet on the Rock of Ages. You have a father, or mother, or husband, or wife, or child, or near friend, who is not a Christian. There have been times when you have been in agony about their salvation. A minister of Christ, whose wife was dying without any hope in Jesus, walked the floor, wrung his hands, cried bitterly, and said, "I believe I shall go insane, for I know she is not prepared to meet God." And there may have been days of sickness in your household, when you feared it would be a fatal sickness; and how closely you examined the face of the doctor as he came in and scrutinized the patient, and felt the pulse, and you followed him into the next room, and said, "There isn't any danger, is there, doctor?" And the hesitation and the uncertainty of the reply made two eternities flash before your vision. And then you went and talked to the sick one about the great future. Oh, there are those who have tried to bring their friends to God! They have been unable to bring them to the shore of safety. They are no nearer that point than they were years ago. You think you have got them almost to the shore, when you are swept back again. What shall you do? Put down the oar? Oh, no! I do not advise that; but I do advise that you appeal to that God to whom the Mediterranean oarsmen appealed—the God who could silence the tempest and bring the ship in safety to the port. I tell you, my friends, that there has got to be a good deal of praying before our families are brought to Christ. Ah! it is an awful thing to have half a household on one side the line, and the other part of the household on the other side of the line! Two vessels part on the ocean of eternity, one going to the right and the other to the left—farther apart, and farther apart—until the signals cease to be recognized, and there's only two specks on the horizon, and then they are lost to sight forever!

I have to tell you that the unavailing efforts of these Mediterranean oarsmen have a counterpart in the efforts some of us are making to bring our children to the shore of safety. There were never so many temptations for young people as there are now. The literary and the social influences seem to be against their spiritual interests. Christ seems to be driven almost entirely from the school and the pleasurable concourse; yet God knows how anxious we are for our children. We cannot think of going into heaven without them. We do not want to leave this life while they are tossing on the wave of temptation and away from God. From which of them could we consent to be eternally separated? Would it be the son? Would it be the daughter? Would it be the eldest? Would it be the youngest? Would it be the one that is well and stout, or the one that is sick? Oh, I hear some parent saying to-night, "I have tried my best to bring my children to Christ. I laid hold of the oars until they bent in my grasp, and I have braced myself against the ribs of the boat, and I have pulled for their eternal rescue; but I can't get them to Christ." Then I ask you to imitate the men of the text and cry mightily unto God. We want more importunate praying for children, such as the father had indulged in when he had tried to bring his six sons to Christ, and they had wandered off into dissipation. Then he got down in his prayers and said, "O, God! take away my life, if through that means my sons may repent and be brought to Christ;" and the Lord startlingly answered the prayer, and in a few weeks the father was taken away and through the solemnity the six sons fled unto God. Oh, that father could afford to die for the eternal welfare of his children! He rowed hard to bring them to the land, but could not, and then he cried unto the Lord.

There are parents who are almost discouraged about their children. Where is your son to-night? He has wandered off, perhaps, to the ends of the earth. It seems as if he cannot get far enough away from your Christian counsel. What does he care about the furrows that come to your brow; about the quick whitening of the hair; about the fact that your back begins to stoop with the burdens? Why, he would not care much if he heard you were dead! The black-edged letter that brought the tidings he would put in the same package with other letters telling the story of his shame. What are you going to do? Both paddles broken at the middle of the blade, how can you pull him ashore? I throw you one oar now with which I believe you can bring him into the harbor. It is the glorious promise, "I will be a God to thee, and to thy seed after thee." Oh, broken-hearted father and mother, you have tried everything else; now make an appeal for the help and omnipotence of the covenant-keeping God! and perhaps at your next family gathering—perhaps on Thanksgiving Day, perhaps next Christmas Day—the prodigal may be home; and if you crowd on his plate more luxuries than on any other plate at the table, I am sure the brothers will not be jealous, but they will wake up all the music in the house, "because the dead is alive again, and because the lost is found." Perhaps your prayers have been answered already. The vessel may be coming homeward, and by the light of this night's stars that absent son may be pacing the deck of the ship, anxious for the time to come when he can throw his arms around your neck and ask for forgiveness for that he has been wringing your old heart so long. Glorious reunion! that will be too sacred for outsiders to look upon; but I would just like to look through the window when you have all got together again, and are seated at the banquet.

> Though parents may in covenant be,
> And have their heaven in view;
> They are not happy till they see
> Their children happy too

Again, I remark that the unavailing effort of the Mediterranean oarsmen has a counterpart in the effort which we are making to bring this world back to God, His pardon, and safety. If this world could have been saved by human effort, it would have been done long ago. John Howard took hold of one oar, and Carey took hold of another oar, and Adoniram Judson took hold of another oar, and Luther took hold of another oar, and they pulled until they fell back dead from the exhaustian. Some dropped in the ashes of martyrdom, some on the scalping-knives of savages, and some into the plague-struck room of the lazaretto; and still the chains are not broken, and still the despotisms are not demolished, and still the world is unsaved. What then? Put down the oars and make no effort? I do not advise that. But I want you, Christian brethren, to understand that the church, and the school, and the college, and the missionary society are only the instrumentalities; and if this work is ever done at all, God must do it, and He will do it, in answer to our prayer. "They rowed hard to bring it to the land, but they could not; wherefore they cried unto the Lord."

Again, the unavailing effort of those Mediterranean oarsmen has a counterpart in every man that is trying to row his own soul into safety. When the Eternal Spirit flashes upon us our condition, we try to save ourselves. We say, "Give me a stout oar for my right hand, give me a stout oar for my left hand, and I will pull myself into safety." No. A wave of sin comes and dashes you one away, and a wave of temptation comes and dashes you in another way, and there are plenty of rocks on which to founder, but seemingly no harbor into which to sail. Sin must be thrown overboard, or we must perish. There are men who have tried for years to become Christians. They believe all I say in regard to a future world. They believe that religion is the first, the last, the infinite necessity. They do everything but trust in Christ. They make sixty strokes in a minute. They bend forward with all earnestness, and they lie back until the muscles are distended, and yet they have not made one inch in ten years toward heaven. What is the reason? That is not the way to go to work. You might as well take a frail skiff, and put it down at the foot of the Niagara, and then head it up toward the churning thunderbolt of waters, and expect to work your way up through the lightning of the foam into calm Lake Erie, as for you to try to pull yourself through the surf of your sin into the hope, and pardon, and placidity of the Gospel. You can not do it in that way. Sin is a rough sea, and the long-boat, yawl, pinnace, and gondola go down unless the Lord deliver; but if you will cry to Christ and lay hold of divine mercy you are as safe from eternal condemnation as though you had been twenty years in heaven.

I wish I could put before my unpardoned readers their own helplessness. No human arm was ever strong enough to unlock the door of heaven. No foot was ever mighty enough to break the shackles of sin. No oarsman swarthy enough to row himself into God's harbor. The wind is against you. The tide is against you. The law is against you. Ten thousand corrupting influences are against you. Helpless and undone. Not so helpless as a sailor on a plank in mid-Atlantic. Not so helpless a traveller girded by twenty miles of prairie on fire. Prove it, you say. I will prove it. John 6: 44:—"No man can come to Me, except the Father which hath sent Me draw him."

But while I have shown you helplessness, I want to put by the side of it the power and willingness of Christ to save you. I think it was in 1680 a vessel was bound for Portugal, but it was driven to pieces on an unfriendly coast. The captain had his son with him, and with the crew they wandered up the beach, and started on the long journey to find relief. After a while the son fainted by reason of hunger and the length of the way. The captain said to the crew, "Carry my boy for me on your shoulders." They carried him on; but the journey was so long that after awhile the crew fainted from hunger and from weariness, and could carry him no longer. Then the father rallied his almost wasted energy, and took up his own boy and put him on his shoulder, and carried him on mile after mile, mile after mile, until, overcome himself by hunger and weariness, he, too, fainted by the way. The boy lay down and died, and the father, just at the time rescue came to him, also perished, living only long enough to tell the story—sad story, indeed! But glory be to God that Jesus Christ is able to take us up out of our shipwrecked and dying condition, and put us on the shoulder of His strength, and by the omnipotence of His Gospel bear us on through all the journey of this life, and at last through the opening gates of heaven! He is mighty to save. Though your sin be long and black, and inexcusable, and outrageous, the very moment you believe I will proclaim pardon—quick, full, grand, unconditional, uncompromising, illimitable, infinite. Oh, the grace of God! I am overwhelmed when I come to think of it. Give me a thousand ladders, lashed fast to each other, that I may scale the height. Let the line run out with the anchor until all the cables of earth are exhausted, that we may touch the depth. Let the arcangel fly in circuit of eternal ages in trying to sweep around this theme. Oh, the grace of God! It is so high. It is so broad. It is so deep. Glory be to my God, that where man's oar gives out, God's arm begins! Why will ye carry your sins and your sorrows any longer when Christ offers to take them? Why will you wrestle down your fears when this moment you might give up and be saved? Do you not know that everything is ready?

Plenty of room at the feast. Jesus has the ring of His love all ready to put upon your hand. Come now and sit down, ye hungry ones, at the banquet. Ye who are in rags of sin, take the robe of Christ. Ye who are swamped by the breakers around you, cry to Christ to pilot you into smooth, still waters. On account of the peculiar phase of the subject, I have drawn my present illustrations, you see, chiefly from the water. I remember that a vessel went to pieces on the Bermudas a great many years ago. It had a vast treasure on board, but the vessel, being sunk, no effort was made to raise it. After many years had passed, a company of adventurers went out from England, and after a long voyage they reached the place where the vessel was said to have sunk. They got into a small boat and hovered over the place. Then the divers went down, and they broke through what looked like a limestone covering, and the treasures rolled out—what was found afterward to be, in American money, worth one million five hundred thousand dollars, and the foundation of a great business house. At that time the whole world rejoiced over what was called the luck of these adventurers. Oh, ye who have been rowing toward the shore, and have not been able to reach it, I want to tell you to-night that your boat hovers over infinite treasure! All the riches of God are at your feet. Treasures that never fail, and crowns that never grow dim. Who will go down now and seek them? Who will dive for the pearl of great price? Who will be prepared for life, for death, for judgment, for the long eternity? See two hands of blood stretched out toward thy soul, as Jesus says, "Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest."

FOULLY MURDERED.

A Young Girl Near Listowel Outraged and Brutally Killed.

LISTOWEL, Ont., Oct. 20.—A girl named Jessie Keith, aged 14 years, daughter of Mr. Wm. Keith, a farmer about one and a half miles from this town, was foully outraged and murdered yesterday. The unfortunate girl was met on the railway track, by a tramp it is supposed, as she was returning from town where she had been to the post-office, when the heinous crime was committed.

The railroad sectionmen, returning down the track after dinner, saw some newspapers and spilled rice on the track. Upon further investigating they discovered evidences of foul play. They went to Mr. Keith's, about half a mile distant, and upon returning and following the tracks across a plowed field and about eighty yards into a swamp, discovered the body of the girl covered over with moss and rotten wood, the clothing having been removed and taken away. The body bore evidence of the foulest of crimes.

The perpetrator of this brutal crime no doubt came up the railroad track, met his victim and disposed of the body as stated, leaving the swamp, crossed over a portion of Mr. Rolls' farm, directly abutting Mr. Keith's on the town line east of Listowel and across to the third concession of Wallace, where he was seen about 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

A search party is scouring the county in all directions and it is hoped they will succeed in discovering and bringing to justice this fiend in human shape.

County Crown Attorney Idington, Sheriff Hossie and the coroner from Stratford arrived at the scene of the murder on the 8.15 p.m. train, stopping at the swamp where, after reviewing the body and surroundings, had it removed to her late home. A jury was sworn in and an inquest held. The body presented a frightful appearance, her throat having been cut and her body terribly cut and torn.

Intercolonial Trestle Burned.

MONCTON, N.B., Oct. 20.—A short trestle bridge on the Intercolonial, near Hall's Creek, Moncton, was discovered on fire yesterday. It was almost entirely destroyed. There have been heavy rains recently and it is thought the fire must have been set by a tramp for the purpose of wrecking the train. Several hard-looking characters were noticed about town. Had the fire not been discovered a serious accident might have resulted, as the train was nearly due.

Another Big Express Robbery.

FORT WORTH, Tex., Oct. 20.—The west-bound Texas and Pacific through express train for California, was robbed near Gordon, 70 miles west of here. The robbers secured about $20,000 from the Pacific Express Co. and but for their inability to open the safe of the Texas and Pacific Coal Co., containing $20,000 in gold, would have made a better haul. Four men did the work.

Brazilian Troops Active.

RIO JANEIRO, Oct. 20.—The government is fitting out three transports to take troops and munitions of war to Rio Grande. Gen. Firminio has been relieved of his command on account of his recent defeats. The government troops fell into a well prepared ambush and were badly beaten.

UNITED IN A GOOD WORK

Child-Saving Workers Form a Provincial Organization.

EVILS OF ILLICIT BABY FARMING

Toronto's Inspector of Morality Refers to the Startling Growth of the Practice in That City—Hon. Adam Brown Attends the Convention—Officers of the New Society—The Convention Closed.

TORONTO, Oct. 20.—There was an increased attendance yesterday at the conference on Child-Saving Work. Judge McDonald, of Brockville, again presided.

Among the new comers were Hon. Adam and Mrs. Brown, Mrs. McLaren, Chief McKinnon, of Hamilton; Miss Gaviller, secretary of the Girl's Home, Hamilton; N. Higginbotham, president Humane Society, Guelph; Mrs. B. F. Campbell, Brooklin; Nathaniel Sheepwash, Minesing; Mrs. Hepinstall, Toronto.

Rev. J. E. Starr, agent of the Children's Aid Society of Toronto, led the discussion on "The Children's Protection Act of 1893," also known as the Gibson Act. The enforcement of this act thoroughly would cover all phases of the work, he thought.

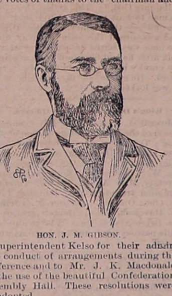

The net work of "Visiting Committees," now established throughout the province, was described by J. J. Kelso. He found them of great service.

Messrs. Thomas R. Parker, treasurer of the Children's Aid Society of London, and S. M. Thompson, secretary of Children's Aid Society of Brantford, described the work of their local societies. Hon. Adam Brown, J. J. Kelso, T. R. Parker, London, and Rev. J. R. Black, Kingston, also spoke.

J. J. Kelso said the whole spirit and meaning of the Act was to place the cases entirely in the hands of the agents of the society. He recommended that where magistrates are not in accord with the spirit of the Act in allowing private trials, cases be taken before the County Judge.

The afternoon session was a ladies' one. They were there in large numbers. Rev. J. R. Black, of Kingston, reported from the committee on resolutions in favor of a provincial organization to secure unity of action and to assist in the spreading of the work of child-saving. Judge Macdonald, of Brockville, who had so acceptably filled the chair during the conference, was proposed as president, Superintendent Kelso, Toronto, as secretary-treasurer, and an executive committee of John Armstrong, Owen Sound; P. H. Bartlett, London; James Watson, Hamilton; E. B. Edwards, Peterboro; Dr. Oldright, Toronto; G. M. McDonell, Q. C., Kingston, and S. M. Thompson, Brantford.

Another resolution was to recommend that magistrates be given power to use discretion in ordering corporal punishment for juvenile offenders, even without the consent of parents, as at present necessary, and that the Dominion Government should pass legislation to that end. There were votes of thanks to the chairman and to Superintendent Kelso for their admirable conduct of arrangements during the conference and to Mr. J. K. Macdonald for the use of the beautiful Confederation Assembly Hall. These resolutions were all adopted.

HON. J. M. GIBSON.

Mrs. Leigh, secretary of the Protestant Orphans' Home, Toronto, outlined the work done there. Miss K. S. Scott, matron of the Boys' Home, similarly dealt with that institution. Miss M. H. Simpson, of Hamilton, spoke of the work done by the Girls' Home in that city. Superintendent Kelso strongly advocated the adopting-out plan of the children's aid societies as one that would eventually dispense with the need of industrial schools. Mr. J. Sanders, of London, spoke of the working of the home in that city.

Inspector Archibald spoke about baby farms, introducing his very vigorous and spicy remarks by dealing with the question of desertion of children and urging that the courts should act more stringently in making the fathers contribute to the support of their children. So many baby farms in Toronto are due, he said, to the lying-in hospitals that are in the city, betrayed girls from rural towns and villages thus endeavoring to hide their shame. The Act of 1883 had made it difficult to continue the evil practices that were till then notorious in baby farms. Now the plan of paying a lump sum to baby-farmers for the adoption of children was in use and recently disgusting disclosures of the baby killing practices resorted to under the adoption plan had startled the public. Legislation making such adoption a criminal offence was imperatively needed. He advocated a system of careful registration of mothers of infants placed in homes as leading to the detection of the fathers.

Lewd posters were talked about entertainingly by County Crown Attorney Curry, and Mrs. Macdonell, seconded by Mrs. Helliwell, moved that the conference recommend that legislation be secured enforcing an inspection of all posters by proper authorities before being put up on the bill boards and walls.

The conference, which must necessarily lead to an awakened interest throughout the country in the work of child-saving, came to an end with a vote of thanks to the chairman and the singing of the National Anthem and the Doxology.

Trade in the Dominion.

MONTREAL, Oct. 20.—Collections here are fairly good with prices stronger, but the volume of business is not equal to one year ago. At Toronto general trade has been less active, but collections have improved somewhat. General trade has been moderate at Nova Scotia. New Brunswick advices are that recent heavy rains have favored the interests of lumbermen. Bank clearings at Hamilton, Toronto, Montreal and Halifax amount to $19,850,900, a slight decrease from the total in the preceding week but a gain of about five per cent. from the corresponding total one year ago. There are 39 failures in the Dominion of Canada this week, compared with 37 last week, 34 in the week a year ago and 30 two years ago.

See This Dress? Surprise Soap Washed it.

And will wash any washable material without injury to the color or material—it is harmless yet effective.

White goods are made whiter and colored goods brighter by the use of Surprise Soap.

Thousands use it. Why don't you?

Use Surprise on washday for all kinds of goods without Boiling or Scalding.

SURPRISE SOAP LASTS LONGEST GOES FARTHEST. 180 READ the directions on the wrapper.

Perry Davis' PAIN-KILLER

Buy Big 25c. Bottle

NO OTHER MEDICINE ON EARTH is so efficacious for Colic, Canadian Cholera, Cramps, Chills, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum and all Bowel Complaints.

Mrs. Christy's Body Found.

BLOOMFIELD, Ont. Oct. 20.—The lifeless body of the young married woman, Mrs. Wm. A. Chrsity, of this place, who was missing from her home since Thursday morning, was found in the waters of West Lake, over six miles from her home. Deceased, it seems, had been rather despondent of late, but not much notice had been taken of it. She was only nineteen years old and possessed more than ordinary beauty and amiability. She had been married but seven weeks. No cause can be assigned for the rash act other than temporary insanity.

Serious Accident to a Raleigh Farmer.

CHATHAM, Oct. 20.—While a Raleigh farmer named Patrick McLaughlin was crossing the G. T. R. tracks on Queen street, his horses became frightened at a locomotive which was shunting cars and ran away. Before they could be controlled they collided with Gonne's grocery waggon, the force of the collision throwing McLaughlin head first against a telegraph pole with terrific force, causing concussion of the brain. He now lies at the point of death in St. Joseph's hospital.

The Ahr Valley.

It is becoming the custom among European travellers to stop at Remagen on the Rhine, and make a little excursion to the beautiful Valley of the Ahr, with its picture que villages along the vine-clad slope. Here is also located the spring from which flows that world wide favorite "Apollinaris Water." At Neuenahr, in the valley, the river Ahr is very beautiful, and one can find few more quaintly attractive spots than the Upper Gate at Ahrweiler, or the old mill at Heppingen.

A tax on dogs was levied in Rome during the reign of Nero.

For Over Fifty Years

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for children teething. It soothes the child, soft ens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhœa. Twenty five cents a bottle. Sold by druggists throughout the world.

17d&wly

In the time of Queen Anne soap was taxed £28 per ton.

DEAR SIRS.—I have used Yellow Oil for two or three years, and think it has no equal for croup. Mrs. J. S. O'Brien, Huntsville, Ont.

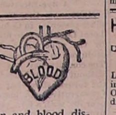

The tithes in England amounted to £4,050 000 a year.

Dyspepsia and Indigestion—C. W. Snow & Co., Syracuse, N.Y., writes: "Please send us ten gross of Pills. We are selling more of Parmelee's Pills than any other Pill we keep. They have a great reputation for the cure of Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint." Mr. Chas. A. Smith, Lindsay, writes: "Parmelee's Pills are an excellent medicine. My sister has been troubled with severe headache, but these pills have cured her."

Russia raises $1,5000,000 a year by the sale of passports.

THAT TIRED, LANGUID FEELING and dull headache is very disagreeable. Take two of Carter's Little Liver Pills before retiring, and you will find relief. They never fail ot do good.

Tortured Disfigured Humiliated

By unsightly skin and blood diseases.
Is there hope of cure?
CUTICURA RESOLVENT
Is the greatest of skin purifiers,
As well as blood purifiers,
Because of its peculiar action on the PORES,
It is successful in curing
Torturing, disfiguring, humiliating humors,
When the usual remedies and even
The best physicians fail.
Entirely vegetable, innocent, and effective,
It especially appeals to those who have Suffered long and hopelessly.
It acts upon the liver, kidneys, and bowels as well as upon the skin and blood.
Its use at this season
Insures a clear skin and pure blood,
As well as sound bodily health.
It is the only Purifier acting on the Skin and Blood at the same time.

Sold throughout the world. Price, CUTICURA, 75c.; SOAP, 35c.; RESOLVENT, $1.50. POTTER DRUG AND CHEM. CORP., Sole Proprietors, Boston.

"How to Cure Skin and Blood Humors," free.

Facial Blemishes, falling hair and simple baby rashes prevented by Cuticura Soap.

If tired, aching, nervous mothers know the comfort, strength, and vitality in Cuticura Plasters, they would never be without them.

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

MEDICAL.

DR. WISHART.

47 GROSVENOR ST., Toronto, will be at the Huffman House, Belleville, Saturday, Dec, 1st, '94. 192dwly

DR. QUACKENBUSH, M.D., V.M.D., M.D., P.S.O.

HOMŒOPATHIC Physician, Surgeon and Accoucheur, has removed his office over store lately occupied by J. C. Averell, Residence George St., opposite H. Corby's.

JOHN J. FARLEY, M. D., C. M., M. R. C. S. England.

OFFICE and Residence—corner of Bridge and George Streets—three streets east of Post Office.

LEGAL.

FLINT & McCAMON.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public, etc. Solicitors for the Canadian Bank of Commerce. Office, City Hall, Front Street, Belleville, Ont. d84tf
JOHN J. B. FLINT, W. J. McCAMON.

STEWART MASSON.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, Notary, Conveyancer, etc. Office, South side Bridge st., over Wallbridge & Clark's, Belleville, Ont. Money to loan at lowest rates. 76dwtf

J. F. WILLS' LAW OFFICE.

REMOVED to Campbell Street (south side) 2nd door from Front street, on ground floor.

A. GOODRICH.

LAWYER, 124 Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill., 28 years' experience; secrecy; special facilities in several States; Goodrich on Divorce; with laws of all States in press. 76dly

GEO. A. KINGSTON.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, etc., with Lount, Marsh and Cameron, 25 Toronto St., Toronto. Money to loan on farm property at lowest rates. 233dtf9w.

MIKEL & ROBERTS.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notary Public, Conveyancers, etc. Offices Bridge St., Belleville. Monies to loan at lowest rate.

THOMAS & HALLIWELL.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Conveyancers, &c. Money to loan. 293d3mwly
J. PARKER THOMAS, J. EARL HALLIWELL.

PONTON & MORDEN,

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public, Conveyancers. Office over Express and Telegraph Office, Bridge St., Belleville. Money to loan—private funds.
WM. N. PONTON, M. A., Solicitor Hastings Loan and Investment Society.
W. S. MORDEN, B.A.

F. GUSS PORTER.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, Notary Public. etc. Office in the Robertson Block, east side of Front Street.
Private Money to Loan, 271dwly

FRANCIS S. WALLBRIDGE.

(Successor to Hon. Lewis Wallbridge, Q.C.) BARRISTER, Solicitor, Conveyancer, etc. Office, McAnnany building, corner Front and Bridge streets, Belleville, Ont. Private and Company money to loan at 6 per cent., on easy terms upon good land security. Charges moderate.

HENRY CARRE, C. E.

M.C. Soc C.E.,
DOMINION AND PROVINCIAL LAND SURVEYOR.

Special attention paid to Hydraulics and Land Drainage. Patents obtained and Drawings made. Office—McAnnany Block, under Ontario Business College, Front St. P.O. address—Box 203, Belleville.

A. G. NORTHRUP.

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Shire Hall, Belleville. 226d&wly

D. I. DULMAGE, L.D.S., D.D.S. (Tor. University).

DENTIST—Office over Brignall & Thompson's. Night calls at residence on Forin Street d,w

CHAS. JOSE.

VETERINARY Surgeon, Graduate Ontario Veterinary College, Member Ontario Veterinary Society. Office and residence, Foxboro, Ont. Calls by mail or telegram promptly attended to. 304d,wly

MISCELLANEOUS.

AGENCY of the Liverpool and London and Globe Fire and Life Insurance Companies.
W. P. HUDSON, Agent.
Office Campbel. street, Belleville. d,w

We Are.. Busy.....

Our new groceries are going with a rush, but more are arriving daily, and that's why we keep our stock fresh and wholesome. We take pride in our confectionery for it's the best money can buy and our prices are away down. See the values we offer in teas and sugars. Provisions, and flour and feed also receive our particular attention.

J. A. ELLIOTT.
Front St., Belleville.

KNOWLEDGE

brings comfort and improvement and aids to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 75c. bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed you will not accept any substitute if offered.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, SATURDAY, OCT. 20.

THOSE CURB-STONES.

In view of the Public Works Committee asking for a further appropriation of $1000 more this year, it seems an extraordinary thing that, at the same time the very same Committee should be giving away the curbstones formerly in use on Front street, which cost the rate-payers $1,600 and are still worth all they cost. Our correspondent, "Tax payer," who brought out the facts, is entitled to the thanks of his fellow tax payers, and whilst we have no doubt that the extravagance complained of will at once be stopped, the responsibility for it should be located on the proper quarter.

AN ELECTRIC CURIOSITY.

Of the purposes that electricity can be made to serve, there is apparently no end in sight. For instance, according to a contemporary, an ingenious Englishman, after suffering the loss of a valuable personal ornament, has fitted up on his person what he calls an "electric mousse," which weighs about twenty-two ounces, gives no trouble to recharge the battery, and not only serves as an alarm against sneak thieves, but offers certain other conveniences. A double pocket accumulator is the source of electric energy, and contacts are so arranged for watch and scarf pin that a tiny electric bell would be rung if either were removed. A tiny electric lamp, concealed on an artificial flower pinned to his coat, enables the gentleman to read his programme at the theatre when the lights are lowered, and a piece of platinum wire in a cavity of asbestos gives him light for his cigar, whatever the weather, on bringing it into the circuit of the pocket battery. A late addition to this equipment is an electric light cane, with an incandescent lamp in the handle and a battery in the hollow body of the stick.

EDITORIAL BREVITIES.

A man in Vancouver, Washington, bears the highly suggestive name of Jagg; but as he is a vender of dry goods, the name is not so appropriate as it would be were he a seller of wet goods.

A "tell tale" milk jug has been devised in England. It is a glass measure, graduated at every quarter pint. Below the pint and half pint marks three lines are etched, showing the thickness of cream which should appear in milk of average quality, in good and in very good milk—thus measuring both quantity and quality.

One effect has come from the new tax on inheritances in England. Instead of bequests, gifts are being made while the donor is alive. Lord Ducie, for instance, has just sent a check for £400 to the Gloucestershire Infirmary, saying that his will contained that bequest, but that he preferred to save the charges made by the State. The same practice is being followed to some extent in Canada.

A writer in a contemporary finds it extraordinary that Mr. Lourier has attained to his present leading position "at so early an age." The mystery is not wonderful to those who know that Mr. Lourier is three years older than Sir John Thompson, and six years older than Mr. Foster. He is older than Sir John A. Macdonald was when he became premier of the Dominion of Canada, and older than Mr. Mackenzie was when he succeeded to that office. Mr. Blake was several years younger when he became leader of the Opposition than Mr. Laurier is now. Mr. Laurier is fifty-three years old.

A Prominent Lawyer Says:

"I have eight children, everyone in good health, not one of whom but has taken Scott's Emulsion, in which my wife has boundless confidence."

PLUMP CHEEKS,

A clear skin, and all the other indications of good health will quickly follow the use of Campbell's famous

Skrei Cod Liver Oil.

It is pure and almost tasteless.

FAST OCEAN STEAMSHIPS

Mr. Huddart Out With Another Letter to the Times.

HON. MR. FOSTER INTERVIEWED.

Why British Exports to Canada Have Declined—The Attacks of the Investors' Review Ignored — Newfoundland's Position—Speculating as to the Cause of His Visit.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—Mr. James L. Huddart has addressed to the Times another letter, enclosing the communication he had received from Admiral Sir John Hopkins, of the North Atlantic squadron, in support of the Admiral's letter confirms his previously-expressed idea of the safety of the St. Lawrence route for a fast Atlantic service.

The Times also publishes another communication, which is also supplied by Mr. Huddart. It is a copy of a letter addressed to the late Sir John A. Macdonald by Mr. Andrew Allan, and is dated May, 1891, offering to supply, without qualification, twenty-two steamships for a subsidy of $5,000 per voyage. This offer, it may be stated, the Hon. Mr. Foster declined. Mr. Huddart says that the latter forms a humorous commentary on the recent attitude assumed by the Messrs. Allan.

Hon. Geo. E. Foster, Finance Minister of Canada, who has arrived in London, has intimated that he is only here on "a quiet business visit," and will return to Canada as speedily as possible.

Mr. Foster said in an interview last evening, "We are satisfied with the general outlook in Canada. We are coming through the depression more satisfactorily than most countries. This is evidenced by the trade returns. The tariff changes certainly were framed to encourage British trade. The fact that British exports to Canada declined is owing to the general tendency to economy and curtailed purchases, which is one of the most notable features of Canadian life just now. Moreover, Canada yearly increases her own manufactures. It is emphatically true that Canada desires to strengthen her commercial relations with the United Kingdom, the Australian and other colonies.

The Ottawa conference emanated from that wish and developed a strong pro-English sentiment. Doubtless the tendency is to look away from the States, although our attitude to them is perfectly friendly. The Behring Sea arbitration happily removed the most debatable question. The tariff changes in both countries must help the interchange of trade and virtually constitute a reciprocity treaty. Canada has responded as far as possible to every lowering of the United States duties.

Mr. Foster questioned Gov. Sir Terrance O'Brien's dictum that Newfoundland would prefer to be annexed to the States rather than to Canada. The latter's position might be summed up in her desire to remain off the Canadian confederation by the inclusion of Newfoundland, if terms could be agreed to and the latter were willing. But there was no idea of pressure, far less of coercion.

Mr. Foster finds the attacks on Canadian finance in the Investors' Review so impregnated with animus and inaccuracies as to have no influence. He will take no notice of the Review. The Minister admits that the revenue of Canada, like that of all other countries, has declined just now, owing to the lessened value of her imports, restricted buyings, with the consequent desire in commercial circles to economize, and the lull due to the tariff charges, but he says that he regards the future with confidence. The general impression of Mr. Foster's "quiet business visit" is that he is here in the interests of a further loan. It is possible that one may be issued on the same lines as the last advance, that is, without a public subscription. Mr. Foster himself states that he has nothing to communicate on the subject. Others seem to think that Mr. Foster's mission is principally in connection with the fast Atlantic service. The rumor had it that Mr. James L. Huddart cabled the Government at Ottawa to send over a member of the Cabinet to help along his scheme, and that the letter in the Times is the first outcome of Mr. Foster's visit.

McCarthy and O'Brien at Walkerton.

WALKERTON, Oct. 20.—A meeting was held here yesterday by Mr. Dalton McCarthy and Col. O'Brien in advocacy of their present political position. It was arranged to escort the visitors from the station by a large turnout but only a small number took part in the demonstration, the procession when it reached Main street consisting only of the thirteen single buggies and a dog cart. The presentation of the address was reserved from the announced place on the market square on account of the smallness of the crowd but was afterwards read in the drill shed by Mr. John McCallum, of Brant. Mr. Shaw, who presided as chairman, made a brief address and introduced Col. O'Brien. This gentleman spoke for a long time and was followed by Mr. McCarthy at considerable length. Mr. McCarthy referred to the Manitoba school question, the French race question, the dual language question and the trade question. There were about four hundred people present in the audience, most of the time all of whom listened patiently but manifested scarcely either applause or dissent. Nearly two-thirds of those present were town people.

A Bye-Election in Quebec.

MONTREAL, Oct. 20.—An election took place yesterday in Compton County for the Local Legislature to fill the vacancy caused by the appointment of the Hon. John McIntosh to the shrievalty of Sherbrooke. The constituency has been Conservative without a break since Confederation and the returns show that Mr. McCarthy, the Conservative candidate, is returned by over 700, with a few polls to hear from, over Mr. St. Laurent, Liberal. The election partook of some interest because of the retirement of Hon. J. S. Hall, the only English minister in the cabinet. Though Compton gives a small French majority on the voter's list, national lines seem to have been forgotten.

A Bomb in Rimini, Italy.

ROME, Oct. 20.—A bomb with a lighted fuse was placed yesterday at the door of the Mayor of Rimini on the 25th anniversary of his aunt and cousin near Prescott, May 1, 1892. Dooley went to the gallows bravely. did not explode as the light went out half an inch from the shell. An examination showed that the bomb was found charged with powder and bits of iron. Three men have been arrested.

Sixteen Spanish Women Drowned.

MADRID, Oct. 20.—Twenty women who were unloading the steamer Independencia at Bilbao yesterday were thrown from the dock in some unknown manner and 16 of them were drowned.

Raided a Bucket-Shop.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—The bucket-shop of D. H. Valentine at 38 New street was raided by the police yesterday. Eight prisoners, $3,200 in cash and a number of fake quotations were secured. The prisoners were held for trial. This is the place that has become a subject of investigation by the Lexow committee.

Two Boys Hanged.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 20.—Otto Wanigkeit and Charles Ernisch were executed here. Not a word was spoken by either. The crime for which the two boys were hanged was the shooting of Bartender Lindhoff on the night of May 2nd last. The boys were 17 and 19 years old respectively.

THE FEE COMMISSION.

Salaries Favored by Witnesses at Ottawa—Regarding Appointments.

OTTAWA, Oct. 20.—At the second session of the Ontario Fee Commission Mr. Joseph Kavanagh, vice-president of the Board of Trade, was first called at the morning session. He was in favor of all officers being under the control of the government, at stated salaries. Regarding fees it was his opinion that a fixed sum would be in accordance with the constitution of the country, salaries to be fixed at a fair sum, considering the position, duties and responsibilities, as well as social standing of the officers, sheriffs especially. Regarding the appointment of license commissioners he thought the county councils should appoint one and government two, and that there should have no political influence or take any part in politics. He would not favor the election of them by the people. He would not favor the election by the people of any of the officers. In the matter of deputy sheriffs he would like to see them appointed by the sheriffs themselves at a stated salary.

Mr. Charles Magee, president of the Bank of Ottawa, went over the list of questions seriatim. He would add that police magistrates should be precluded from practising law and paid a sufficient salary commensurate with the position and put the increase on the city. He considered that the city should have some say in the appointment of the commission. With regard to the inspectors, they should be appointed by the city. The present system was not desirable, as it was subject to influences. He favored the present system regarding Division Court clerks and bailiffs. In the matter of payment the officers should be paid by salary and deposit their own deposits, with salaries regulated by the officer.

Owing to a remark of Mr. Magee, the Chancellor explained that when a vacancy occurs the local county judge becomes the Master-in-Chancery. That law was already in force and several appointments of this kind had already been made in the province.

Warden Conn, of Carleton County, said: "Registrars of Deeds should at least be recommended to the County Council, who would submit at least half a dozen names irrespective of politics or religion to the Government. He held that the Government should have the appointment. Sheriffs should be also appointed by the Government with a recommendation from the County Council. The county should at least have the appointment of one license commissioner. The present system of election by the people would ruin the independence of the offices. All the money received as fees should be handed over to the Government, and the officers paid a fixed salary."

Mr. Charles Mohr, reeve of Fitzroy, considered that the registrar should be appointed by the County Council at a salary of $1,500, or that names should be submitted from the Council to the Government, but only residents of the county. He had always held the position that a salary for sheriffs would prove more satisfactory. Regarding Division Court clerk they should be appointed by the judge and the bailiffs by the clerks. The clerk would this have more control over his bailiff. In the question of payment he would allow the system of fees to go on. He could not give much opinion on the license system, but there was a prevailing opinion that each municipality should have control of the system. Still, in the interests of temperance and morality he thought the present system was sufficient.

A Crank in a New York Bank.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—A crank entered the Clinton Place Bank on Astor Place yesterday. He was a fairly dressed man and put down a check at the window of Paying Teller Hind. The check was signed "Almighty God." The teller then told the man to wait until he could open the safe and get the money. He turned his head was turned the man shot at him. The man was seized by employes of the bank after he had fired four shots at Hind. The crank's identity could not be ascertained. He refused to say who he was. He was locked up.

King's Daughters Elect Officers.

MONTREAL, Oct. 20.—At last evening's session of the Dominion Convention of the King's Daughters the following officers were elected: Dominion secretary, Mrs. Tilley, London, Ont.; Quebec secretary, Mrs. W. S. Patterson, Montreal; Ontario secretary, Miss A. M. Brown, Toronto; Dominion treasurer, Mrs. Jennings, London, Ont.; Ontario treasurer, Miss Jeffers, Havelock, Ont.; Quebec treasurer, Mrs. Bright, Dorel, Que. A large number of life patrons and annual patrons were elected.

Review of American Trade.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Bradstreet's says: With few exceptions the leading features of the business situation this week have been those of continual moderate improvement, although the total volume of business was so far as indicated by the bank clearings throughout the country, will require considerable expansion to compare favorably with corresponding totals two years ago. The volume of clearings for six business days ending with Oct. 10 is 2.3 per cent more than the preceding week, and 2.5 per cent. larger than in the third week of October last year, but nearly 31 per cent. smaller than in the corresponding week in 1892. This relatively favorable bank clearings report is off-set in part by a decline in prices of staples, coffee alone scoring a slight advance. There have been 253 business failures in the United States within a week as compared with 233 last week.

Howard Must Go Back Again.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Acting under instructions already given now that Judge Lacombe has decided that he has jurisdiction in the case of John James Howard imported under contract as under conchman for ex-Vice-President Morton, Immigrant Commissioner Senner at New York will immediately deport Howard and United States District Attorney Mr. Farlane will enter civil suit against Mr. Morton for violation of the alien contract labor law.

Fort Madison's First Hanging.

FORT MADISON, Ia., Oct. 20.—The first execution in the history of the penitentiary here occurred yesterday, the victim being Johnny O. Dooley, the youthful murderer of Johnny and Daisy go to school together, and are very fond of each other. One day in school the teacher asked Johnny to define "signed."

"Signed is a young seal," answered Johnny.

"Signed means a small seal," quickly said the boy below. Johnny, and Johnny had to go down the class.

Everybody laughed except Daisy, who gave Johnny a look of sympathy.

Soon afterward the teacher asked Daisy what is meant by "stem" when you use it in the sentence "to stem the current."

"It means," said Daisy, "when mamma takes the stems off the currents to make plum pudding."

Then the whole school, except Johnny, laughed at Daisy.

After school Johnny put his arm around Daisy's waist and said:

"If it doesn't mean that, Daisy, it ought to."

And Daisy replied:

"I am sure, Johnny, a small seal must be a young one."

And so they were both comforted.

OVER THE SEA.

Glencoe, the scene of the massacre of the MacDonalds, was lately sold for £80,000. The estate comprised 6,000 acres.

Ibsen's income now has just be n assessed in Norway at £335, based on a fortune of £6,000 and an income of £8,000.

Kossuth's son has been declared by the authorities to be ineligible to the Hungarian parliament, as he is not a Hungarian subject, and has never taken steps to become one.

Little King Alfonso of Spain lately reviewed at San Sebastian his boy battalion, composed of little fellows of his own age, drawn from the best families of Spain. They went through their drill with the precision of veterans.

Since the new Tower bridge was opened an average of 70,000 foot passengers and over 8,000 teams have crossed it daily. On the first Sunday 156,000 people crossed. It has reduced the crowd on London bridge by nearly one-half.

At Bologna it has lately been discovered that the university seal has been forged and affixed to spurious diplomas. The chief offender has been arrested, and it is believed that the diplomas of other Italian universities will be brought under suspicion.

Fonts of type and a printing press are now ready to be presented by the Bible society to the Katholikos of the Armenian church. He has agreed to have not only the ancient version printed, but also that of the Armenian now spoken around Mount Ararat.

Manuel Garcia, the author of the "Method of Singing," the brother of Malibran and Mme. Viardot Garcia, who is now ninety years old, has just published in a book of one hundred pages "Hints to Singers," the result of his sixty-five years' experience as a teacher.

A HUNDRED YEARS AGO.

The leading export of Canada was peltry.

The first spinning machine had not been set up.

Imprisonment for debt was a common practice.

Every gentleman wore a cue and powdered his hair.

There was not a public library in the United States.

Almost all the furniture was imported from England.

There were no maps, charts or globes in the schoolroom.

An old copper mine in Connecticut was used as a prison.

There was only one hat factory, and that made cocked hats.

A horseman who galloped on a city street was fined four shillings.

Crockery ware were objected to because they dulled the knives.

A day laborer considered himself well paid with two shillings a day.

Books were very expensive. "The Lives of the Poets" cost fifteen dollars.

Tom (during the political debate)—What do you know about municipal government, I'd like to know? Billy—What do I know? Hang it all, wasn't I lookout in a Chicago gambling house for two years?—Chicago Record.

Children's Sayings.

It was a hot day and the ice cart on its round attracted the usual crowd of thirsty young-ters clamoring for "the pieces." Ray's mamma, who had dressed him in a clean white suit, was shocked when he made his appearance, wet and dripping.

"Oh! You naughty, bad boy; just look at that nice, clean suit, all dirty so soon! I believe I shall have to give you a good whipping."

"Taint dirt," bubbled Ray; "it's jes only ice juice and I'll dry up pretty soon if you won't whip me."

What the Teacher Wanted.

"Papa," said little Tom one day when he came home from school, "teacher says you must have me 'assasinated.'"

"Assassinated!"

"Yes, sir. She says every child must be 'assisted before he comes back to school, because smallpox is in town."

"Oh, vaccinated!"

"Yes, sir; that's it."

That Joyful Feeling.

With the exhilarating sense of renewed health and strength and internal cleanliness, which follows the use of Syrup of Figs, is unknown to the few who have not progressed beyond the old time medicine and the cheap substitutes sometimes offered but never excepted by the well informed.

Quack Advertisements

Are a nuisance and we think it behooves publishers to examine into the merits of many articles puffed up in their columns. We do not deny that many meritorious remedies are properly to be classed under this heading. Take the hundreds and thousands relieved from severe suffering by the use of Polson's Nerviline; would it not be unreasonable to expect them to condemn that far famed remedy? Now we know for a fact that Polson's Nerviline is without exception the most powerful, pleasant and certain remedy in the world for pain. It cannot fail, for it goes right to the bottom of pain, penetrates to the nerves, soothes them into quietness, and affords prompt and permanent relief.

SPECIAL MENTION

DR. LOW'S PLEASANT WORM SYRUP removes worms of all kinds from children or adults.

THAT HACKING COUGH can be quickly cured by Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam. Price 25c.

ALWAYS AVOID HARSH PURGATIVE PILLS. They first make you sick and then leave you constipated. Carter's Little Liver Pills regulate the bowels and make you well. Dose, one pill.

The remarkable number of cures of gout and rheumatism which have followed the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, point conclusively to the fact that this remedy comes nearer being the specific for complaints of this nature than any other medicine in pharmacy.

ALL CASES OF WEAK OR LAME BACK, backache, rheumatism, will find relief by wearing one of Carter's Smallweed and Belladonna Backache Plasters. Price 25 cents. Try them.

DAVIS PAIN KILLER. — The best and most popular Family Medicine in the world. A blessing to the rich; a friend to the poor; within the reach of all, it has saved more lives and relieved more suffering inflicted by travelling than any other medicine. 25c. per bottle, large size.

Nearly all infants are more or less subject to diarrhœa and such complaints while teething, and as this period of their lives is the most critical, mothers should not be without a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial. This medicine is a specific for such complaints and is highly spoken of by those who have used it. The proprietors claim it will cure any case of cholera or summer complaint.

Ayer's Hair Vigor, which has outlived and superseded hundreds of similar preparations, is undoubtedly the most fashionable as well as economical hair-dressing in the market. By its use, the poorest head of hair soon becomes luxuriant and beautiful.

Lane's Medicine Moves the Bowels Each Day

In order to be healthy this is necessary.

New Advertisements.

BOARD.

LARGE Double Room, suitable for sitting room and bed room, furnished or unfurnished, with board. Apply at this office. 144d36

Wanted!

10,000 People of the City of Belleville, to buy the famous

ENGLISH SPICED SAUSAGE!

Manufactured by

McGUINNESS,

Front Street.

Tender Loins, Feet, Ribs, Hocks and Fresh Heads, Choice Roasts 9c.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

IN THE ESTATE OF GEORGE SILLS WRIGHT DECEASED.

NOTICE is hereby given, pursuant to chap. 110 of the Revised Statutes of Ontario, 1887, that all persons having claims against the estate of George Sills Wright, late of the City of Belleville, County of Hastings, deceased, who died on the 16th day of September, A.D., 1894, at Picton, are required to send to J. W. Wright Esq., M.D., at Picton, Attorney for Mary P. S. Wright, the administratrix, on or before the 24th day of November, A.D. 1894, their christian names and surnames, addresses and descriptions and full particulars of their claims and statements of their accounts, and notice is hereby further given that after the said date Mary P. S. Wright, the Administratrix, will proceed to distribute the assets of the said deceased among the parties entitled thereto, having regard to those claims only of which she shall then have notice and that the said Administratrix shall not be liable for the said assets, or any part thereof so distributed to any person or persons of whose claim or claims notice has not been received by the said Administratrix at the time of such distribution.

WRIGHT & WALMSLEY,

Picton, Ont.,

Solicitors for the Administratrix.

Dated Oct. 18th, 1894. 144d41

FULL WEEK AT . . .

BRIDGE ST. METHODIST CHURCH.

Monday Evening, 8 p.m.

Mass Meetings, City Choirs; Mr. and Mrs H. M. Flight, Cook.

Tuesday Evening, 8 p.m.

Words of Greeting; Addresses by John Charlton, M.P., and A. C. Courtice, B.D.

Wednesday Evening, 8 p.m.

Ideal in Practice, Miss Bertha F. Vells, Addresses by Rev. G. M. Smart, M.A.; D.D., LL.D., and Mr. B. F. Jacobs, Chicago.

Thursday Evening, 8 p.m.

Mrs Lydia M. Mountford, "Home and Haunts of Jesus."

Friday Evening, 8 p.m.

Mrs. Lydia M. Mountford, "Life in Jerusalem."

Saturday Evening, 8 p.m.

Mrs Lydia M. Mountford, "From Bethlehem to Calvary."

Collection Tuesday and Wednesday evening. Tickets 25 cents for Oriental lectures, Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings.

SEE SMALL BILLS.

FOR THE NEXT FEW DAYS

We will publish a partial list of table delicacies that we make. We will mention only a few each day. Peruse the daily papers for list.

This may be of some help to the many friends who will be entertaining delegates and who want a change of menu each day. Call at our fruit stand for Oranges, Lemons, California Peaches and Pears, Grapes, Bananas, Boiled, Roasted and green Chestnuts, Finest buttered pop-Corn, hot peanuts, &c.

Jas. Wallace & Co.

THIS MATTER CHANGED DAILY.

SATURDAY, Oct. 20th.

FIGURES.

New Jackets, $5, $6.

Wool Socks, 10c, 12½c. 15c, 20c.

Wool Hose, 15c, 20c, 25c.

New Prints, 5c, 10c, 12½c.

Linen Towels, 10c, 12½c.

White Quilts, $1 up.

Cashmere Gloves, 15c, 20c, 25c.

Good Corsets, 50c, 75c, $1, $1.25.

W. FLINT JONES.

Next door to Haines & Lockett.

H. C. DICKENS & SON.

YOU'LL BE TOO BUSY

To do any baking during the S. S. Convention (We are addressing more particularly the ladies at whose houses the delegates are to be entertained)

Let us come to your aid by suggesting that we do it for you. We'll do it first class too

It will relieve you of a lot of trouble and anxiety, and give you more time to entertain your guests. Our windows will be especially attractive during convention week. Be be on the lookout!

H. C. DICKENS & SON.

24TH YEAR.

S. A. HYMAN, Manufacturing Furrier.

Special Prices in Ladies' Fur Capes.

Grey Lamb Capes, 18 inches long,		$15 00
" " 24 "		18 00
Greenland Seal Capes, 24 inches long,		12 00
Empire Capes, 26 inches long,		18 00
Military " 27 "	Garrick Collars,	22 00
" " 27 "	with vest	22 00

See my Window for Styles.

S. A. HYMAN, OLD FURS MADE OVER IN THE LATEST STYLES.

A GOOD, WARM, CHEERFUL FIRE!

Will soon be in order as the cold weather is rapidly approaching

SO . . . . .

. . . Do not Lose any Time

In ordering your supply of

Telephone C 68. Coal and Wood

. . . FROM . . .

S. A. LAZIER & SON'S

The Leading Coal and Wood Merchants.

Severe Pain in Shoulder 2 Years Cured by "The D.&L." Menthol Plaster.

My wife was afflicted for two years with a severe pain under the left shoulder and through to the breast; after using many remedies without relief, she tried a "D. & L." Menthol Plaster, it did its work, and owing to this cure hundreds of these plasters have been sold by me here, giving equal satisfaction.

J. B. SUTHERLAND Druggist, River John, N.S.

Sold Everywhere. 25c. each.

HOW NICE . . .

AND

. . . SO CHEAP

This expression was heard on all sides by our hundreds of patrons who visited us last Saturday.

No wonder such prices and novelties, one cannot resist the temptation of letting the purse strings loose.

No wonder when you can buy goods for almost one half the former price. This store introduced OUT PRICES and intend to keep it up.

No fancy or private mark, but in plain figures are all our goods marked. These are a few of the bargains we offer you this week:

5	Cases Flannelett, dark, pretty patterns, 28 in. worth 9c.	7c
3	do Grey Flannel, worth 20c.	15c
2	do do do all wool, worth 25c.	18c

A thousand different bargains in every department which space will not permit us to mention. Call and convince yourself.

H. A. LAYTON, BELLEVILLE.

Front St., Opposite Campbell St.

QUEEN'S - OPERA - HOUSE,

THOS. P. J. POWER, MANAGER.

VAN AMBURG CONCERT COMPANY.

ONE NIGHT ONLY

— ON —

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 23rd, 1894,

Under the auspices of Canton Belleville, No. 8, P. M., I. O. O. F.

Prices, - 15, 25 and 35c.

Plan at Riggs' Music Store.

Telephone Rings, IS THAT OBC? YES.

R. J. Graham is speaking:

We are rushed in the office. Send us another good man at once.

ALL RIGHT,

We shall have a man there in ten minutes We sent J. R. Snedden, who had just graduated. Mr. Graham has now three graduates of

ONTARIO BUSINESS COLLEGE.

In his office here, namely Managing Accountant, Assistant and Stenographer.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY

HUNTERS' EXCURSIONS.

Return Tickets AT SINGLE FIRST-CLASS FARE

FROM BELLEVILLE TO PENETANG, MIDLAND,

and all points in the following districts:—

SEVERN to NORTH BAY, inclusive.

ARGYLE to COBOCONK, inclusive.

CAMERON to HALIBURTON, inclusive.

MAITTAWA to NIPISSING and inclusive.

(via North Bay) SPANISH RIVER.

MUSKOKA LAKES (via Muskoka, Nav. Company)

Good Going October 19, 20, 26, and 27. Nov. 2 and 3

Valid for Return leaving destination not later than December 1st, 1894.

Sportsman's Dog, Gun, and 200 lbs. Camping Outfit Carried Free.

For tickets and all information, apply to

U. E. THOMPSON

GEN. TICKET AGENCY,

Bridge Street.

AUCTION - SALE OF VALUABLE FARM PROPERTY.

UNDER and by virtue of the Power of Sale contained in a certain Mortgage made by the late William Hamilton Foster, deceased, to the vendors, which will be produced at the time of sale, there will be offered for sale by Public Auction, on Saturday, the twenty-seventh day of October, 1894, at the hour of twelve o'clock noon, at the Court House, in the City of Belleville, by J. Upton Auctioneer, the following valuable real estate in one parcel, namely:—

All and singular that certain parcel or tract of land and premises situate, lying and being in the Township of Sidney in the County of Hastings and Province of Ontario, being part of the west half of Lot number Thirty-one in the First Concession of the Township of Sidney, together with the broken front of the said Lot, and described as follows:—Commencing at the Bay Shore between numbers Thirty-one and Thirty-two thence north sixteen degrees west one hundred and eleven chains, thence south seventy-four degrees six chains, sixty-six and two-thirds links of the allowance for road in rear of said Concession; thence north seventy-four degrees, east nine chains, thirty-three links more or less to the centre of said Bay shore, thence south sixteen degrees, east one hundred and eight chains, nineteen links, more or less to the Bay of Quinte; thence westerly, following the windings of the Bay shore, to the place of beginning, containing by admeasurement One Hundred and one acres, one rood and thirty-six perches, less twenty acres sold to the Queen off the west side of the same; also reserving about one half of an acre of land heretofore sold to the Queen on the north side of the Trenton Road; also reserving five acres off the north side of the land above described, heretofore sold to Edward Welsh by deed, dated August 19th, 1873, also reserving two acres south of the Kingston Road, as described in a deed dated the 27th day of August 1868, and registered as No. 6284 T.

On the premises there are said to be erected a stone dwelling house, also a brick cased dwelling house and two frame barns. This property lies immediately east of the Ontario Institution for the Deaf and Dumb.

TERMS.—Ten per cent of the purchase money must be paid at the time of sale, when easy terms for the balance can be arranged. For further particulars and conditions of sale, apply to the Auctioneer, or to Deacon & Morden, Barristers, Belleville, or to Lount, Marsh & Cameron, Vendors' Solicitors.

23 Toronto St., Toronto.

3rd October. dat, Oct. 13, 20, 25

FOR SALE.

ONE 30 Key National Cash Register, in use about 18 months; cost $225. One Buffalo Sausage Chopper, capacity 75 to 100 lbs., (in use one season only) Also Sausage Stuffer (new), and one upright Engine and Boiler, 4 horse power. Will sell all of the above for cash. Chopper, Stuffer, Engine and Boiler must go together. The Register will be sold separate if required (cheap). Reason for selling, going out of business. Also one new J. J. Taylor Safe, 20x30x30 inside. For further particulars apply to the undersigned.

W. C. B. RATHBUN,

141d4t Deseronto, Ont.

JUST - RECEIVED

..AT THE..

GLASGOW WAREHOUSE.

Another large shiement of PRIESTLY & SONS' Celebrated

DRESS - GOODS,

— INCLUDING —

Black Crepe Cloths,
Black Mourning Cloths,
Black Wool Sateens,
Black Revenna Cords,
Black Silk Warps,
Black Wool Henriettas,
Black & Navy Serges,
Black & Navy Cheviots.

These Good are all fast Black & Thoroughly Reliable.

—ALSO—

NEW GOLF CLOAKINGS, all prices
NEW CURL CLOAKINGS,
New Black and Colored Beavers,
New Black and Colored Box Cloths,
Full lines in Mantles and Capes,
Large lines of CANADIAN STAPLES at CLOSE CASH PRICES.
CARPETS, OIL CLOTHS and CURTAINS a specialty.

VANDERVOORT & GIBSON,

Successors to the late J. W. Dunnet.

Belleville, Oct. 17, 1894.

P.S.—A large show case and table for sale cheap.

COUPON

—FOR—

PART 9.

Canada Portfolio of Art.

A Coupon appears in all issues of this paper.

Cut out this coupon and forward, together with 10 cents, to the Art Department of this paper, and you will receive one part of Canada, as mentioned above, by mail post-paid, or bring the coupon and 10 cents to this office and receive Portfolio.

NAME...

ADDRESS.....................................

N. B.—Remember, only one Coupon required for each part.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, SATURDAY, OCT. 20.

Underwear.

We shall clear out a lot of old lines in men's, boys' and children's underclothing to-night, (Saturday) at a great bargain, come and see them.—A. E. FISH & Co. {143d2t

CITY AND DISTRICT.

There will be a rehearsal of the amateur Minstrels on Monday evening.

Wash your linen with Wide Awake Soap and see how beautifully white they will be.

Be sure and attend Grant's cheap cash sale if you want bargains in Boots and Shoes.

Last trip for the season to Rochester to-morrow (Sunday) night at midnight, by str. North King.

Wide Awake Soap will do more work and do it better, than any other soap in the world. Try it.

The police got a call to the G.T.R. station last night, but when an officer got there no one could tell what he was wanted for.

Dyspepsia seldom causes death, but permits its victims to live on in misery. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures dyspepsia and all stomach troubles,

Ensign McNamara, a lady officer, is in the city, and will sing and speak in the Salvation Army barracks to-morrow afternoon and evening.

Mr. McGuinness' advertises Choice English Spiced Sausage, Tender Loins, Feet, Ribs, Hocks, and fresh Heads, etc., at his store near the market, which is noted for choice meats in his line.

Geo. Tyner, charged with shooting a cow and burning it to cover the alleged crime, was to have been brought up for election before Judge Lazier this morning, but the case was postponed until Monday.

The Hunters' Excursions which are being run by the C. P. R. should be a special inducement to lovers of that sport, an extra amount of baggage beside cheap rates will be appreciated. S. Burrows, Ticket agent, will furnish all information.

Mr. and Mrs. VanAmburgh appeared in several duets and solos, both vocal and instrumental, and their selections were received with decided marks of appreciation, Mr. VanAmburgh's skill on the violin and Mrs. Van Amburgh's charming singing render their presence on a programme highly acceptable.—[Picton Gazette.] Opera House, Tuesday evening next.

Mr. James Parks, lot 22, 3rd concession of Rawdon, met with a serious accident on Tuesday morning last. He was leading a horse to water, when the animal becoming frightened, became unmanageable, kicking Mr Parks on the forehead, and fracturing the skull. Dr. Zwick was sent for, and removed several small pieces of bone, and it is hoped his injuries may not prove serious.

Mr. S. Burrows returned last night from Toronto, where he has been attending the annual meeting of the Canadian Ticket Association. At a banquet held in the evening where a large gathering of Railway and Steamboat men of both Canada and the United States was held, he was called upon for a song to which he responded by singing the "Union Jack," in his own familiar style, and was heartily assisted in the chorus by those assembled.

The Toronto Empire says: Mrs. Mountford speaks with the greatest ease and fluency, and has also a perfect command of the English. In addition to these qualifications she is endowed with a magnificent presence and marvellous voice, great histrionic ability, and tireless energy. The whole entertainment is an inspiration, as well as being full of information found nowhere in print. Teachers, students, and all who wish to spend a most enjoyable and profitable evening, should make it a point to attend Mrs. Mountford's lectures.

Catarrh—Use Nasal Balm. Quick, positive cure. Soothing, cleansing, healing.

SOCIAL & PERSONAL

S. J. Cooley, Trenton, was in the city to day.

Capt. Donnelly, of Kingston, was in the city yesterday.

Mr. James S Cook, of Belleville, spent yesterday in the city.—Kingston News.

Miss Celia Sutton, from second con. Thurlow, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. N. Ostrom, of this city.

E. C. Galley, Kingston; W. W. Carter, Fesserton; P. C. Foy, Campbellford, are registered at the Anglo.

Mrs. E. Brundige, Miss Emma and Mr. Delbert Brundige, of Watertown, are visiting Mrs. Chas. Williams, Murney st.

Miss Florence Ockerman has accepted an engagement with Stowe's dramatic company and left to-day to join them in New Jersey.

Dr Sine, who has practised here as veterinary surgeon, will remove to Belleville, where he will take charge of a lucrative business.—Whig.

Rev. F. C. Powell, lately of All Saints', Kingston, retired as a minister of Ontario diocese and began training in Boston for the African mission fields.

Mr. John Macoun, of the Bank of Commerce, Toronto, passed through the city to-day, en route to the northern townships for a hunting trip.

The Mayoralty.

Although two months and a half intervene between the present and the municipal elections we hear many rumors of prospective candidates for Mayoralty and aldermanic honors. A canvass of the different gentlemen mentioned in the former elicits the fact that none of them wish to speak on the subject just at present. Ald. Starling will not be a candidate. Ald. Ponton would not say whether he would or would not offer himself. Mayor Walmsley had not yet given the matter sufficient consideration to speak positively. Ex-Ald. Fowell said it was yet too early for him to say whether he would or not, although it was his intention when defeated last January to make another trial. Ald. Robinson, whose name has been mentioned, is out of the city and his intentions could not be obtained.

Death of a Veteran.

Lieut.-Col. James Wood, one of the oldest and most esteemed residents of Sydenham, died there on the 19th inst., after a long illness. Deceased, who was about 83 years of age, was for some twenty years Reeve of the Township of Loborough, and for a long period commanded "C" troop of the 40th Hussars (volunteers), from which he retired with the rank of Lieut.-Col. In politics he was an unswerving Conservative. He leaves a family, namely Mr. John Wood, of Loborough; Mrs. T. Carscallen, of Kingston; Mrs. A. C. Barnett, of Deseronto; and Mrs. S. Joyner, of Sydenham. His wife, with whom he lived for over 52 years, died six years ago. Deceased was nearly related by marriage to Mr. Jos. P. Reeves and family, of this city.

Coming.

The first consignment of new foreign goods for Messrs. W. J. Reid & Co., of the Crystal Hall China Store will arrive the first week of next month. The quantity being brought in this fall is much larger and finer than any past season and as fast as the goods are received they will be opened for inspection until every foot of space in this finest of our city's establishments is full. The designs are, as usual, handsomer than ever, and when the stock is complete the store will be a perfect museum of all that is beautiful, from the art pottery centres of Europe, and every body will be pleased to take a look through. A large shipment of elegant silver ware from the celebrated Meriden Britannia Co. will arrive next week.

Arriving From East and West at O. B. C.

One of the notable incidents at Ontario Business College this week, was the arrival this morning of a club of six students from Parrsboro, Cumberland Co., Nova Scotia, sent by former students from the same place. Minnesota was added to the United States representation this week. O. B. C. is the most widely attended business college in America.

A Congressman Sick at Trenton.

Congressman M. B. Wright, of Pennsylvania, who arrived at Trenton on the yacht Juniata about two weeks ago with several gentlemen from the United States, has been very sick at the Grand Central hotel since his arrival, suffering from an attack of bronchial pneumonia, but the attending physician, D. McKenzie, considers him now out of danger.

Died in Manitoba.

Henry Irvine, formerly of Thurlow, who removed to Boissevain, Manitoba, about sixteen months ago, died on the 12th inst. of pneumonia. He married a daughter of Mr. Thos. Hagerman, Thurlow. Deceased was 30 years of age and had been married eight years. He was a brother-in-law of W. A. Huffman, of this city. His wife, but no children, survives him.

Large Clothing Dealers.

In buying your new suit or overcoat this fall note the fact, "That the Oak Hall carry a stock 10 to 1 of any clothing house in Central Ontario." Being large dealers, we are, of course, close buyers. Our customers can depend on getting the lowest prices, the best clothing, and an immense variety to select from.

A Bold Thief.

A bold thief made a good haul in Harris' restaurant yesterday. While there was no one in the shop some one sneaked in and took a $5 bill and 25 cents in silver from the till and got away without being discovered. Mr. Harris says he has no one but himself to blame for his carelessness.

Police Court.

John Stewart, a vagrant, got drunk, and as a consequence faced the beak this morning. He was allowed to go.

Nathaniel Easton, for throwing rubbish on the streets was allowed to go with a caution, but the magistrate said he would deal harshly with the next offender.

As Age Advances.

Do you find the use of spectacles becoming a necessity? If so, do not make the mistake of either delaying, or being contented with a badly fitted pair. J. W. Yeomans & Co. are devoting special attention to spectacle fitting, testing the eyesight free, and supplying spectacles as required.

Ladies' Fine Boots.

We have as good a line of fine Button Boots for Ladies as was ever shown in the city. Be sure and see our new American Boots.—VERMILYEA & SON.

A Writer and Historian Dead.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—James Anthony Froude, LL. D., the celebrated writer and historian died this morning. Aged 73 years.

To-night.

Girls' fine kid slippers and shoes at 50c a pair. Men's kid, evening shoes worth $2.50c for $1, at Haines & Lockett's.

A POSTMASTER'S STORY.

A STRANGE ATTACK AND THE DIRE RESULTS THAT FOLLOWED.

Mr. Robt. Sharp, of Starkville, Tells of His Sufferings—Lost the Use of Both Hands and Feet and was Forced to Give up Business—The Timely Action of a Friend Pointed the Way to Renewed Activity.

From the Bowmanville News.

Mr. Robert Sharpe is a well known resident of Starkville, Durham county, who has been living in Canada for about thirteen years. He is by trade a blacksmith, and on coming to this country located in the township Haldimand, in the county of Northumberland. After working there for a time he purchased a residence and shop at Starkville, where he worked at his trade and established a nice business. Being both courteous and obliging he was well liked and was appointed postmaster for the place. He was in the best of health and with the exception of a slight asthma trouble had no complaint of any kind. In the month of March, 1892, he attended an auction sale in the neighborhood and came home in the evening apparently all right, but during the night was taken with a chill, accompanied with a violent pain which gradually grew worse and before morning he went into convulsions and became unconscious. A doctor was summoned who bled him freely, which seemed to relieve him for a time, and next day he seemed better, and the doctor told him he would be all right in a few days. This, however, was not verified, and although he could go around he was fast failing in health and at times would be in an agony of pain. One doctor said he had sciatica, and another told him that his trouble was rheumatism of the spine and that he would never be better. He tried many medicines but all failed to do him any good. At this time he was so weak that he could only hobble around with the assistance of two sticks, and had to give up work. The pain continued day and night and finally he lost the use of both hands and feet and often longed for death to relieve him of his suffering. About this time Mrs. Sharpe wrote a letter for him to a friend for whom he had worked when he first came out to the country, and this friend sent him a couple of boxes of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, urging him to give them a fair trial. Before the second box was done he felt somewhat better and purchased another supply. To hasten the story, Mr. Sharpe continued the use of the Pink Pills until he had taken fourteen boxes, by which time he had completely recovered and is now as well as ever he was, and has lost all the asthma trouble as well. He is now able to do a hard day's work, and is loud in his praises of Dr. Williams' wonderful Pink Pills. As the reporter was leaving a Mr. Stark, an intelligent farmer who lives close by, called, and verified all that Mr. Sharpe had said, and referred the reporter to others in the neighborhood who knew the circumstances as well. One who had never seen Mr. Sharpe before would not think, looking at him to day, that he had come through the ordeal he has, as he seems the very picture of health and both he and Mrs. Sharpe attribute the whole cure to Pink Pills.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills strike at the root of the disease, driving it from the system and restoring the patient to health and strength. In cases of paralysis, spinal troubles, locomoter ataxia, sciatica, rheumatism, erysipelas, scrofulous troubles, etc. these are superior to all other treatment. They are also a specific for the troubes which make the lives of so many women a burden, and speedily restore the rich glow of health to sallow cheeks. Men broken down by overwork, worry or excess, will find in Pink Pills a certain cure.

Sold by all dealers or sent by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2 50, by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont., or Schenectady, N. Y. Beware of imitations and substitutes alleged to be "just as good."

Wide Awake Soap is a solid bar of pure soap that will not vanish like snow in hot water. Try it.

For Buying Grounds.

The meeting of the directors and others interested in the advancement of the Hungerford Agricultural Society was held at the Huyck House, Tweed, on Saturday afternoon last. Several of the more important farmers of Hungerford were present and freely discussed the advantages, advisability, etc., of purchasing suitable grounds for the annual fall fairs. Finally a motion was passed naming three from the township and two from the village to form a committee to enquire into the possibility, cost, etc. of suitable grounds, said committee to report at the next special meeting. The committee consists of Messrs. Thos. Graham, Sr., Robt. Tufts, Sr., and David Beatty, for the township and Messrs. Thos. Graham, Jr., and E. R. Huyck for the village.

The Key to Their Success.

The Messrs. Stroud, tea dealers, inform us that they received their third large shipment of new teas to-day, comprising 80 hf. chests received by them in the past 6 weeks, The Messrs. Stroud evidently believe that 'there is nothing that succeeds like success.' They give all the facts of interest they can to the public about their stores and goods; no mysteries, no nonsense, no evasions, but simply telling the plain truth, and doing the right thing at the right time. They further inform us that in the past 5 months they have received nearly 400 hf. chests—over 16 tons—of tea; and to a Belleville tea store, such figures as these of tea alone are indeed worth mention and reflection.

Nearly a Quarter of a Century.

It was twenty-four years ago to day that the D. & D. Institute was opened and in honor of the event Supt. Mathison gave the pupils a half holiday yesterday afternoon. Mr. Mathison has been Superintendent for over fifteen years and has seen the Institute grow from its infancy to its present magnitude, and its growth is due largely to his untiring efforts.

To the late Ketchan Graham we are principally indebted for having the Institute located in our midst, and which for nearly quarter of a century has done very much towards ameliorating the condition of the afflicted. The first year the attendance was less than 100 from which it has grown to 254.

Common Sense

Should be used in attempting to cure that very disagreeable disease, catarrh. As catarrh originates in impurities in the blood, local applications can do no permanent good. The common sense method of treatment is to purify the blood, and for this purpose there is no preparation superior to Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Hood's PILLS cure constipation by restoring peristaltic action to the alimentary canal.

Good morning, Mrs. Smith, I have just finished my washing, using Wide Awake Soap. It is the best soap I ever used. It washes so easily, make the clothes cleaner than I ever had them before, and it lasts twice as long as any other soap I ever used; and just feel how nice and soft my hands are.

THEY ARE INVINCIBLE.

The Mutes Football Team Defeat the City's 3 to 0.

Yesterday afternoon was the time set for the first of a series of three games of foot ball between the city team and the Mutes for the championship of the city. The weather was propitious and a large number of admirers of the game went up to the D. and D. Institute grounds, hoping to see the city team retrieve the defeats of previous seasons, as it had got abroad that there were many weak spots in the Mutes' team. They were disappointed, however, in the first particular if not in the latter.

The Mutes are undoubtedly very much weaker than they have been for years. They miss greatly their old general, Isbister, and many others who have left the institution. About the only familiar faces were those of Chambers, Symard and Lewis. They have some splendid new material, although they are light.

The City team was very much the same as last season, although the places of Weller, Kelso and Bogart were filled with new men. They need a good goal tender much, this proving one of their weakest points. Individually the men are for the most part good kickers, but they lack a combination, which their opponents have down to a system. It was evident, after half time, that the City team were not in proper condition, as they began to lag, while their opponents were comparatively fresh. At 4:30 the referee called the teams out and they lined up as follows:

City's	Position	Mutes
F. Diamond	Goal	McKay
Marsh, Harris	backs	Wallace, Lewis
Twining, Jamieson, Moon	half-backs	Kavanaugh, Symard, Lett
Cummings, Hardy, Nash, Trualsch, Rous	forwards	Chambers, King, Watt, Dubois, Gillam

H. P. Thomas, Referee.

From the kick off the ball travelled up towards the City's goal, but Harris relieved and down the field it went again. There were some spirited scrimmages in the centre field and some nice combination work on the part of the Mutes, but it was not effective, rush as they would Marsh at back and Diamond in goal saved time after time. Chambers played a capital game, his dodging fooling the City halfs time after time, but he has a habit that should not be tolerated—that of playing offside. after being warned by the referee he did better and kept his position. For the City's Rous, for a light man, played an extraordinarily fine game; as did also Nash and Cummings. Twining did not play as brilliantly as in the former years, although many of the Mutes went down before his heavy checking. It was an up and down game, with, perhaps, the odds in favor of the Mutes, for the first half, and when the referee's whistle blew neither team had scored. Harris got a bad kick on the knee during the first half and had to go off, one of the Mutes going with him.

After a few minutes rest the teams again lined up, the Mutes kicked down, and the advantage of the slope in the ground was soon apparent. After four minutes play the City's got a throw on, but Moon did not hear the Captain's order to throw down the line and landed in the centre field instead and with a rush the Mutes scored their first goal.

By this time it was growing dusk and the City's were beginning to feel the hard work they had been doing, but they stuck to it pluckily for twenty minutes, when the Mutes again scored.

It was now too dark to distinguish one team from the other, still they played on until their silent foes put one more between their flags, when the referee called the game, 3—0.

NOTES.

Hardy, who was putting up a good hard game, got a couple of feet in the body that nearly laid him out, but he hung on pluckily and finished the game.

Parker Thomas is all right as referee. His decisions were just and he kept an eye on the fouls.

The next game takes place on Friday next on the new cricket field, East Bridge St., and the city boys say they will hold the Mutes down a little better.

When Harris was hurt and compelled to retire, Wollver went to take his place, but the Mutes objected so strenuously that he also was forced to retire.

Do you use soap? Why not try Wide Awake then? It is guaranteed absolutely pure, and is the best in the world.

SPORTING NEWS

S. Eustace and Marshall Vandewaters shot 15 black squirrels yesterday in Sidney, near Frankford.

Claus is favorite in the quoit match which he is to pitch with Richardson, of Toronto, here on Tuesday. The money is now all up.

Entries for the races on the Ashley track, Foxboro, will close on Monday. The course is being put in fine shape.

A. M. Ketcheson and W. Cummings Bagged 14 black squirrels in two and a half hours yesterday near Stirling. They would like to hear from parties who can beat this record.

The Central and Albert College football teams are playing a game on the hospital lot this afternoon.

The Y.M.C.A. hockey club met last night for organization. There was a good attendance and those present were most enthusiastic over the prospects for the coming winter's sport. L. Lockett was appointed manager; M. Jamieson, Sec.-Treas.; Mr. Stevens, Trainer and coacher. The club adjourned to meet at the call of the Manager.

L. D. Robertson left the corner of King and Yonge sts., Toronto, yesterday afternoon at 2:35 on a record ride to Montreal. He rode a three minute clip. Laurie Lockett went up to Brighton to meet him and paced him as far as this city. They arrived here about one o'clock this morning. He was riding strong and expected to reach Montreal early this evening.

How to Get a "Sunlight" Picture.

Send 25 "Sunlight" soap wrappers (wrapper bearing the words "Why does a woman look old sooner than a man") to Lever Bros., Ltd., 43 Scott St., Toronto, and you will receive by post a pretty picture, free from advertising, and well worth framing. This is an easy way to decorate your home. The soap is the best in the market, and it will only cost 1c. postage to send in the wrappers, if you leave the ends open. Write your address carefully.

PROBABILITIES.

TORONTO, Oct. 20.—Moderate winds, some local showers, but mostly fair; stationary or a little lower temperature.

On this page will be found the coupon for Part 9—which will be ready for delivery on the 16th inst—of "Canada Portfolio of Art." This is truly a magnificent piece of work and is something that will adore any drawing room or parlor table. You can't afford to be without it. Cut out this coupon and bring it, together with ten cents, to this office, and we will give you Part 9; or, on receipt of coupon and money, the part will be sent postpaid, to any address in the Dominion.

ONTARIO S. S. CONVENTION.

PROGRAMME OF EXERCISES FOR THE GREAT THREE DAYS' GATHERING.

All the Meetings to be Held in Bridge Street Church—The Subjects for Discussion, and who will Introduce Them—A Generous Measure of Instructive Themes.

MONDAY AFTERNOON, OCTOBER 22

3 00—Meeting of the general executive committee, to receive reports from the central executive committee, the general secretary, the normal secretary, the honorary primary secretary, the treasurer.

N. B—The committee will resume its session, if need be, on Monday evening and Tuesday morning.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 23.

9 30—Public prayer meeting for special supplication for spiritual power and blessing on the convention, and on the general work of the association; conducted by Rev. M. W. Maclean, M.A., of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Belleville.

10.30.—Separate conferences of the various district sub-committees.

2 30.—Devotional service, conducted by Rev. E. N. Baker, M.A, B D., pastor of Bridge St. Methodist church; appointment of a nominating committee. Reports (general) by district chairmen, not to exceed 3 minutes. Reports (specific) by representatives from counties or districts and cities, not to exceed 5 minutes. (Districts, cities, and counties should see that they are represented by reports at this hour, as it is uncertain whether a subsequent opportunity can be afforded.)

4.00.—Address, "The forces of the twentieth Century, the Sabbath School in Relation Thereto," Rev. W. Patterson, Toronto. Report of the nominating committee. General business.

7.45—Prayer and praise.

8 00—Introduction of president elect.

8 20—Words of greeting, including civic address.

8.30—"Sabbath observance; how may it best be promoted?" followed by a discussion, John Charlton, M.P.

9 15—"The Gospels; a fourfold and authentic photograph of the world's Saviour." Rev. A. C. Courtice, B.D., Kingston. Collection and closing exercises.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 24.

9:00—Devotional service.

9:15—Presentation of reports from executive committee, general secretary, normal secretary, honorary primary secretary, treasurer, representative on international S.S. committee.

10:30—Separate conferences:—

Pastors—Chairman, Rev. S. Houston, M.A., Kingston.

Superintendents.

Bible class teachers.

Intermediate class teachers—Chairman, William Hamilton, Toronto.

Primary teachers.

Secretary and librarians.

County and township secretaries.

2:00—Devotional services.

2:15—Reception of visiting delegates from other fields.

2:45—"The Ideal Teacher,' Rev. John McEwen, normal secretary.

"Nearer, my God, to Thee," in the sign language by twelve pupils of the Provincial Deaf and Dumb Institution.

3:40—The International Bible Reading Association (I.B.R.A.), George Anderson, Toronto.

3:45—"How may the Sabbath School 'Fifth' of the population reach the other 'Four-Fifths'?" George M. Elliott, Napanee.

4:15—"Supplementary work in Primary Teaching." Illustrated by use of the "sand-table." Miss Bertha F. Vella.

7.45—Prayer and praise.

8.00—"The Ideal in Practice.' Miss Bertha F. Vella.

8 45—"The School School in Relation to National Progress." Rev. G. M. Grant, M. A., LL. D., Principal Queen's University, Kingston.

9 15—"World-wide Sabbath School Work." B. F. Jacobs, Chicago. Collection and closing.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 25.

6.45—Sunrise Bible and prayer service—"The Light of Revelation on the Christian's prerogative of prayer," led by B. F. Jacobs.

9 30—Devotional services.

9 45—Reports of committees.

10 00—Reports of conferences.

10.30—Primary unions in scattered populations in connection with county and township associations." Miss Bertha F. Vella.

11 15—Committee of the whole on organized Sabbath School work, viz.: county, township, city. Chairman, B. F. Jacobs.

2 00—Devotional service.

2.15—Provincial Sabbath School interests as to financial pledges, etc.

3 30—Reports of examiners—normal department—and presentation of diplomas.

4 00—Closing addresses, "Theory and Practice," Hon. S. H. Blake, Q. C.

4 30—Children's primary service—lesson, Mark xi, 1 22. Miss Bertha F. Vella. (Class of children in attendance) Collection and closing.

8.00—Mrs. Lydia M. (Von Finkelstein) Mountford will give before the Convention one of her lectures on Eastern manners and customs, etc. The charge for admission to all parts of the building will be 25 cents. No reserved seats.

A Successful Educator.

Eighteen years ago this month Prof. G. A. Swayze came to Belleville from London, Ont., in which latter city he had for three years been manager and joint proprietor of the London Business College. On his arrival in this city he accepted a position on the staff of the Ontario Business College. In April following he became writing master in the city schools—high and public,—which position he held until Sept. 1884—more than seven years—when he resigned, and was for more than four years professor of penmanship and commercial science in Albert College. This was followed by nine months' residence in Sterling, Ill., where he had charge of the commercial department of the Business College in that city. He was offered a partnership interest in that institution if he would remain; but being offered the principalship of the Belleville Business College, he in October 1889 returned to this city, and since then has assisted in bringing to that institution whatever success has attended it in the past. Next week Mr. Swayze will remove to Kingston, where he will assume the Principalship of the Business College, which he was recently offered. We feel assured of his success in his new position.

Riding the "Blind."

Through the past summer several young men of Belleville who have been in the habit of using the bumpers to reach Trenton, says the Advocate, without hiring a livery rig, complain that the train hands are not at all courteous, having resorted to the practice of administering black oil and naturally feel displeased. The trainmen claim that they are obliged to rid themselves of the passengers, even if they have to spoil good clothes in the attempt. After a few more doses of oil, perhaps those who indulge in riding the bumpers will discontinue their practice.

THE DOCKET.

The Cases and Nature of the Actions to be Tried Next Week.

Following is a list of the cases down for trial at the non jury sittings to open here on Tuesday next before Mr Justice Rose, and the nature of each:

Potts vs. Collins.—Action to recover possession of land occupied by deft. D. E. K. Stewart for pff., E. Guss Porter for deft.

Fuller vs. Ashley.—Action on two promissory notes endorsed by Albert Loucks, Hiram Ashley and the late Daniel Phillips. E. Guss Porter for pff., C. E. Lyons for deft.

Graham vs. Graham.—Action by piff. to recover an annuity. E Guss Porter for piff, Bell & Biggar and Wallbridge for deft.

Dafoe vs. Ashley.—Action on two promissory notes of $500 made by deft., and endorsed by Albert Loucks and Hiram Ashley. W. J Diamond for piff; C. E. Lyons for deft.

Kyle vs. Kyle.—Action to set aside a deed given by father to son. W. B. Northrup for piff, Clute & Williams for deft.

Roberts vs. Williams.—Action for eject ment of deft. from lands in the 4th con. of Tyendinaga, purchased by piff in 1885, under a mortgage made by deft. to late N. S. Appleby and assigned by him to the Farmers' Loan and Savings Co. Defense deny the execution of the mortgage to Appleby; deny plft. became owner of the land and claim title by possession. Mikel & Roberts for plff., A. R. Dougall, Q. C. for deft.

Lock et al vs. Clark et al.—Action to set aside the will of the late William Dunk, of Campbellford, on the grounds of undue influence and incapability through illness. C. D. Macaulay for piffs; A. L. Colville, John Hoskin, Q.C., and Wm. Davidson for defts.

Rosebush vs. Rosebush.—Action to declare support, maintenance and education of plff. during his minority under will of late Edward Rosebush. Clute & Williams for p'ff; Flint & McCamon, C. E Lyons, and A. J. Anderson for defts.

Claus vs. Webb.—Action on bond to recover lands in Brighton and damages for trespass. Clute & Williams for p'ff; Webb, Hooey & Mills for deft.

McLaren vs. Payne.—Action to recover $260,000 overdue interest upon stock held by Senator Payne, of Cleveland, Ohio, in the Central Ontario Railway, and which stock plff. claims is not fully paid up. The case will be called here and set down for hearing in Toronto by consent. Bell & Biggar for piff; Beatty, Blackstock, Nesbitt & Chadwick for deft.

Wescott vs. Conly.—Action to set aside a conveyance from Nancy Wescott to Geo. T. Wescott on ground of fraud. J. Parker Thomas for piff; Clute & Williams and Ponton & Morden for defts.

Eastwood vs. Stiles.—Action to recover possession of lands in Rawdon, which were sold under conditions which were not fulfilled. A. A. McDonald for p'ff; J E Halliwell for deft.

DIAMOND DYES ARE THE BRIGHTEST, STRONGEST AND BEST.

AIR: SPRING! SPRING! GENTLE SPRING.

Dyes! Dyes! Diamond Dyes!
At all seasons of the year,
Every wife and mother wise
Greet thee with the kindest cheer.
Autumn with its varied shades—
Reds ets dark, and brown and gold,
Reds and greens of summer glades—
All these colorings ye unfold,
Yet, while nature's color fly,
Ye still bloom 'neath changing sky.

Dyes! Dyes! Diamond Dyes!
Choicest colors in the land
Onward! Forward! as time flies
There will live no other brand.
None so brilliant, pure and fast,
Pleasing daughters, mothers, wives;
'Tis well known that in the past
Ye have added to our lives
Comfort, wealth and great increase,
Constant streams of joy and peace.

Look Out For Cold Weather

but ride inside of the Electric Lighted and Steam Heated Vestibule Apartment trains of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway and you will be as warm, comfortable and cheerful as in your own library or boudoir. To travel between Chicago, St. Paul and Minneapolis, or between Chicago, Omaha and Sioux City, in these luxuriously appointed trains, is a supreme satisfaction; and, as the somewhat ancient advertisement used to read, "for further particulars, see small bills." Small bills (and large ones, too) will be accepted for passage and sleeping car tickets. For detailed information address A. J. Taylor, Canadian Passenger Agent, Toronto, Ont. d3 eod

Chauncey Ashley, issuer of marriage licenses, Division Court Office, Pinnacle street or at residence over Benmore & Benson's store. d&w

—Nathan Straus has withdrawn his name from the Tammany ticket for Mayor of New York. Hugh J. Grant has consented to run in his place.

IT FILLS THE BILL

—a dose of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. Sick Headache, Dizziness, Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, and all derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels are promptly and permanently cured.

Glen Easton, Marshall Co., W. Va.

R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y.:

Dear Sir—Two years ago I was pale and emaciated, food fermented in my stomach. A physician pronounced my case "Catarrh of the Stomach," but he could not help me. I lived a month without solid food and when I tried to eat I would vomit. At this time I began taking Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, and in two weeks I was decidedly better. I am now in good health, and never felt better in my life. I have a better color, eat more, and have no distress after eating—having gained thirteen pounds since I began taking them.

MISS ANGUISH.

Yours truly, MARY ANGUISH.

The Plan of Selling Medicines Through Dealers, ON TRIAL, IS PECULIAR TO PIERCE

CHURCH DIRECTORY.

TABERNACLE METHODIST CHURCH. Church St.

REVD. E ROBERTS.—PASTOR.

Preaching service to-morrow at 11 a. m., by Rev E. Woodcock, and at 7 p. m., by the pastor Subject, "What think ye of Christ as the incomparable King."

Sunday school at 2:30 p.m.

You are cordially invited to be present at all these services.

JOHN ST. PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Pastor—Rev. J. L. George.

Morning service, 11 o'clock. Bible class and Sunday school, 3 o'clock. Evening service, 7 o'clock. Wednesday evening prayer meeting, 8 o'clock. Young people's meeting after the evening service. All are welcome.

"Feed My Lambs"
"The Child"

Will be the Rev. E. N. Baker, M. A., B. D's., subjects at BRIDGE STREET METHODIST CHURCH

To-morrow.

At 11 a. m. and 7 p. m.

Strangers in the city, Students at Albert College, Business Colleges, Schools, and all other visitors are invited to these services or to Sunday School at 2:30 p.m.

MR. GEO. MERRETT

Toronto, Ontario.

As Well as Ever

After Taking Hood's Sarsaparilla

Cured of a Serious Disease.

"I was suffering from what is known as Bright's disease for five years, and for days at a time I have been unable to straighten myself up. I was in bed for three weeks; during that time I had leeches applied and derived no benefit. Seeing Hood's Sarsaparilla advertised in the papers I decided to try a bottle. I found relief before I had finished taking half of a bottle. I got so much help from taking the first bottle that I decided to try another, and since taking the second bottle I feel as well as ever I did in my life." GEO. MERRETT, Toronto, Ont.

HOOD'S Sarsaparilla CURES

Hood's Pills are prompt and efficient, yet easy of action. Sold by all druggists. 25c.

REMOVAL.

MISS WAY has removed her dress-making rooms to the Singer Office, one door north of Lattimer's Barber Shop, where she will be pleased to meet her old customers, and as many new ones as wish to favor her with a call, 40d6t wlt

MANY LADIES ...COME... MANY MILES!

From all the surrounding Towns to purchase their Mantles and Wraps at

RITCHIE'S.

If they didn't, we could not show the hundreds of different styles we do.

GEO. RITCHIE & CO.

Changed Daily.

"SAY A LITTLE BUT SAY IT STRONG."

SATURDAY, Oct. 20th, 1894.

200 PACKAGES

Of New Season's Teas now in store. To-day we receive our last shipment of 80 half chests New Teas. The qualities of these Teas are superb, and it is your privilege to enjoy them at the most reasonable prices we have ever asked for such delicious teas.

Stroud's

TEA STORE.

THE PRICES TELL,

—AND—

Everybody Tells the Price!

GOUGH gives the efforts of other dealers to rival their prices of Clothing a six months' hoist. Come to Headquarters. Come if you want the biggest Values at the smallest Price.

$3.90 - Our Overcoats - $3.90

Come and ask to see the Overcoat that so much fuss has been made about and vaunted cheap at $5.00. Gough has the Same Coat, bought from the same dealer, and Gough's price is $3.90.

THIS IS AN INDEX OF OUR RIPPING VALUES.

CLOTHING FOR BRIGADES! FURNISHING GOODS FOR REGIMENTS!! HATS AND CAPS FOR COMPANIES!!!

"ALWAYS COOD AT GOUGHS"

GOUGH, The Wonderful Cheap Man, Belleville.

= SILKS =

We have in stock a full line of the

Corticelli Embroidery and Knitting Silks

—IN—

Honiton Lace Emb'y Silk.
Outline do do
Knitting Silk,
Twist Embroidery,
Roman Floss,
Filo Floss.

—ALSO—

27 INCH PURE JAPANESE SILK IN

LIGHT BLUE,
CREAM,
ROSE PINK,
CORAL PINK,
BUTTERCUP,
CARDINAL,

BLACK = SILKS!

In all the leading makes.

J. P. THOMPSON & CO

Before putting up your STOVES have the

TRIMMINGS RE-PLATED

— AT THE —

BELLEVILLE PLATING WORKS

HARRIS & WALTON'S FACTORY MILL ST.

SLIPPER SOLES.

We have just received a large number of the best

LAMB'S WOOL SLIPPER SOLES, IN

Nos. 2, 3, 4, 5 & 6.

Also in Children's Sizes, which we are offering at the low price of 35 Cents per pair.

We have also a full range of Single and Double Berlin Wool, for Crocheting and Knitting Bedroom Slippers.

THE BEEHIVE

CHAS. N. SULMAN

NEW HATS and CAPS TO COVER

OUR HEADS.

GEO. P. MINAKER.

UNDERWEAR...

—AT FISH'S!

Don't go shivering around any longer, but come and get some of our warm underclothing, and you will be happy and comfortable.

Sizes run from 30 to 46 inches. Our prices suit all pocket books.

We give value that cannot be beaten.

A. E. FISH & CO.

Try our King Shirt, and you will buy no other.

TO LET.

TO LET 2 snug, warm brick houses in terrace, situated on Harriett St., West Belleville, known as Morten's, or Fillite's terrace. For terms of rent apply to R. C. Filliter, collector, or sub agent to the estate of the late H. E Filliter. Residence at Mr. Jardin's Corner of William and Dundas Sts., East Belleville.

85d2m

STOVE PIPES!

STOVE PIPES!!

STOVE PIPES!!!

WHIPS! LANTERNS!
WHIPS!! LANTERNS!!
WHIPS!!! LANTERNS!!!
Lamps, Flower Pots,
Lamps, Flower pots,
Lamps, Flower Pots.

—AT—

THE FAIR,

FRANK WEEKS, MANAGER.

THE CZAR SLOWLY DYING

Important Affairs of State Are Almost at a Standstill.

SERVICES HOURLY IN CATHEDRALS

He Is Too Ill to be Present at the Czarewitch's Marriage—The European Press Praise Him for His Love of Peace—Speculations as to the Future Policy of the Czarewitch.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—The correspondent of the Times at St. Petersburg telegraphs: "The Czar has now taken to his bed and his imperial relatives are now gathering around him. With an organic disease such as his the continued decline of strength is one of the most alarming symptoms.

Later symptoms strengthen the belief that the Czar has cancer. It is feared that he is now too ill for the solemnization of the marriage. Accounts of the grief of the Imperial family are heartrending. The anxiety in official circles is very great. All important affairs are almost at a standstill. When the Czar arrived at Livadia he had not slept for ten nights.

A service conducted by the metropolitan palladius in the St. Isaacs Cathedral yesterday was attended by a vast crowd of people in full uniform and private dress. Among the dignitaries present were the Minister of War, Minister of the Interior, Minister of Finance and the Minister of Justice who had just returned to the capital. There were also present the German Charge d'Affaires, Count Reid.

Despatches from all parts of the continent show that the whole European press is brimming with articles on the Czar. The vast majority of writers praise him for his love of peace.

Speculation as to the Czarewitch's future policy is rife. No two estimates of his character agree. Many of them are exceedingly unfavorable. The censorship of the St. Petersburg press is reported as being unusually strict.

The Allegemeine Zeitung in Vienna suggests that the Czar is already dead and the fact is concealed as it was in the case of Emperor Nicholas I.

The Russian embassy in Rome received a despatch saying that a miracle alone could save the Czar's life. Prayers are offered hourly in the Russian cathedrals and daily in the Russian churches and chapels of Russian embassies in European capitols.

Baptist Convention at St. Thomas.

ST. THOMAS, Oct. 20.—The proceedings of the Baptist Convention opened with a devotional meeting and addresses on the personality of the Holy Spirit. Hon. John Dryden presented the report of the senate and board of governors of McMaster University and in moving its adoption congratulated the different departments on the strongly marked Christian character of the work done. The afternoon and evening meetings were taken up with the subject of home missions. The superintendent's report showed success all along the line; 1,600 baptisms in home mission churches, 105 missionaries and 52 students preaching the gospel in 233 churches and preaching stations. New chapels built, new fields opened and many others striking tokens of success were cause for much congratulation.

A Rentinck Farmer Killed.

CHESLEY, Ont., Oct. 20.—Mr. John McGregor, a farmer living on the townline of the township of Bentinck, slipped and fell while entering his dwelling and broke his neck. Death was instantaneous. He leaves a wife and six children to mourn his loss.

SUICIDE AT BRANTFORD.

A Carpenter Takes His Life in a Sensational Manner.

BRANTFORD, Oct. 20.—Robert Turner, aged 45, a carpenter, committed suicide yesterday by drinking carbolic acid. His son on going down stairs to the dining-room saw a pass book on the table, which was not there the previous night. In the pass book was written the following:

"BRANTFORD, Oct. 19, 1894. 3 o'clock in the morning.—This is my last voyage on earth. I have been tired of life for the last five weeks. God forgive my poor wife and all the curses of hell be put upon Miss D—— and J—— and Mrs. ——. God protect my little girl Nina. God bless my son Tom. (Signed) R. A. TURNER."

The boy went immediately to his father's room and found him in bed, life having passed away, though the body was still warm. A doctor was summoned, but it was too late. A bottle which had contained carbolic acid was found on the table. Deceased has been drinking some of late, but nothing appeared wrong when he retired at night and no cause can be found for the rash act. His wife is in the hospital suffering from inflammation.

She Was Hungry.

This one on a G street boarding-house. A little girl asked if she might have a small piece of meat. A very small piece was placed on her plate, when she remarked:

"I want a piece to eat, not to look at!"

An audible smile traveled around among the boarders and an audible frown settled on the brow of the landlady.—Washington Capital.

The Reason for It.

HE.

"Why doesn't he write?" cried a maiden fair,
As she toyed with her wealth of golden hair,
And gazed in the mirror with a queenly air.
"Can he be faithless? Or've forgotten the night
When he vowed he loved me!—Why doesn't he write?"

HE.

"Why doesn't she write?" cried a handsome youth,
Whose face was an index of honor and truth.
"She said she would, and I, forsooth,
Have waited and waited, day and night,
But no letter comes—why doesn't she write?"

THE REASON.

Two servants sat in separate towns,
Two thievish, knavish, country clowns,
With unkempt hair and untidy gowns;
In fact they looked like regular tramps,
And they tore up some letters to sell the stamps.
—New York Mercury.

The Source of His Inspiration.

Teacher—Children, now that the Fourth is so near at hand, let me ask you if you know what inspired Patrick Henry to utter those great words, "Give me liberty or give me death!"

Bright Boy—My pa says he must have been a married man.—New York World.

At The Front Door.

He—Can I see Miss Smith?

Servant (who knows him)—No, sir; she's out.

He—Out where? Out with some other fellow?

Servant—No, sir; she's out with you, sir. That's what she told me, sir.—Indianapolis Journal.

An Incident of Travel.

Fair Traveler—What does this mean? The expressman says he can't find my trunk. Here's the check for it.

Baggage Man—The trouble is, ma'am, that you changed cars too often. The check and part of the handle has arrived, but the other pieces haven't.—Texas Siftings.

Mill Dam Burst at Cobden.

COBDEN, Ont., Oct. 20.—The dam belonging to Alex. McLaren's flour mill at this place burst, breaking down about seven feet of a stone wall. The powerhouse was completely smashed and swept away by the waters along with a bridge which spanned the stream. Fragments of the timbers are scattered within three-quarters of a mile of the spot. It is a complete washout. The loss is estimated at within $5,000 and $6,000. The dam has been in the course of construction all summer, and was for the purpose of running McLaren's flour mill by electricity. The dynamo plant is lost in the wreck. The work of construction was just completed the day before.

A New Gas Field at Comber.

WYNDSOR, Oct. 20.—A new gas field about to be explored by the Ontario Natural Gas Company is at Comber, Essex County. The company are directing their attention to explore the Comber gas region. Geo. Pearce, the company's agent, has leased several thousand acres near Comber.

It Was Another Canard.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—The statement that differences existed between Lord Rosebery and the Earl of Kimberley is officially denied, and it is asserted the premier and the Foreign Secretary are in perfect accord.

No Appeal for Irrecinrig...

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—On motion of Calderon Carlisle, counsel for Madeleine Pollard, in her case against Col. Breckinridge, of Kentucky, the Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia have ordered the defendant's appeal stricken from the docket on the ground that it had not been entered within the statutory time.

Warnock Convicted of Manslaughter.

CHATHAM, Oct. 20.—The jury in the case of John Warnock, charged with the killing of John Radcliffe at Tillbury on Sept. 10 returned a verdict of manslaughter against the prisoner. The verdict was a surprise to the public.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

TORONTO, Oct. 20, 1894.

Exports of wheat, (flour included as wheat,) both coasts of the United States and Canada, amount this week to 3,193,000 bushels, against 3,317,000 last week.

On the local street market 200 bushels of wheat sold at 57 for white and 50 1-2 for goose. Some 3,500 bushels of barley brought from 43 to 49. Peas—200 bushels sold at 55 to 56. Oats—Weaker, 800 bushels went at 31 to 32.

A fair sized lot of Canada barley was sold at Buffalo at 60 1-2 to 64 and at present there are a few takers at this place, but the majority will not bid above 62c for the best. Western very quiet but held firmly at quotations.

Wheat firm in Chicago on heavy exports sales, the close being 7-8c higher. Corn was strong and gained 3-8c on the day's business. Oats were firm and 1-4 to 1-2 higher.

At East Buffalo live stock market there were all told 64 cars of sheep on sale. Closed very weak with large numbers unsold and for the Canadas disposed of only 84 to 84.10 was paid.

Another close figuring of profits on gold shipment resulted on Wall street in the withdrawal from the sub-treasury of half a million specie. This shipment is made presumably on the basis of Thursday's exchange quotations, for actual sterling rates were easier and the market limited. The stock market, so far as this operation had any influence, seemed to be reassured that the shipment was no heavier. Prices for stocks were firm throughout the list, the Granger stocks lending the movement.

BLANKETS

We are showing a large line of Blankets in all Wool and Union from $2.00.

Grey Flannel

Our Grey Flannels are from the best makers. You should call and see our 15c. line.

NATHAN JONES.

OPPOSITE HOTEL STREET.

NEVER

Were prices as low for new goods, or prospects better for an unusually brilliant display and lively trade for the holiday china and crockery trade.

We have advices that the Belleville goods are being packed as fast as possible, and will be here in good time. As there is an immense lot, and being goods of of a fragile nature, we must be patient. How satisfactory it is to know at least, that this store's stock is direct from the potteries in England, France and Germany, and not from Toronto or Montreal, and besides, is made for the legitimate crockery trade, which accounts for its better quality and appearance.

W. J. REID & CO'Y.

CRYSTAL HALL. Rous' Old Stand.

London and Belleville.

SOME HINTS!

Upon the Uses of Wall and Ceiling Paper.

1. The better grades of paper last longer, are easier to hang and can be purchased at but slight advance in cost over the cheaper grades.

2. Whitewash and calsomine are but little cheaper than ceiling papers and add nothing to the appearance of the room, in fact they more often destroy the harmony To think of furnishing all the rest of your room (the floor even, which you deliberately tramp upon) and leave the most important part of it (the ceiling) without a particle of furnishing or character, except that of cleanliness, is beyond comprehension. Your upper wall and ceiling are the only unbroken decorative feature of a room. Furniture breaks the view of the lower wall and it is still further obscured by the hanging of pictures upon it; therefore let special attention be paid to the selection of wide border that shall be in harmony with wall and ceiling, and of ceiling that fittingly completes the beauty of the room

3. Narrow borders are sufficient, if your aim is only to conceal the ragged ends of paper, but a wide border or frieze serves to heighten the appearance of a room and gives it a more artistic finish—makes it appear as if frescoed.

4. In making your selections, if the room has a north window, let some warmth appear in the paper. If the exposure is south or west, cooler shades can be appropriately used. For Dining-rooms let the walls be mellow in tone, indicative of hospitality.

Parlors can be treated according to individual taste, care being used to have wall and ceiling decorations in harmony with carpets and furniture.

Use for sleeping rooms, light ground papers with a spice of color in the pattern. Floral decorations are most in favor for such purposes.

5. Whatever may be the room or rooms that you are about to paper, don forget that the better qualities of paper will retain their lustre long after cheaper grades have become dull and colorless.

6. Ten per cent. discount now.

TEN Per Cent Discount Now.

CHAS. B. SCANTLEBURY.

STYLISH FALL DRESSES.

TAILOR-MADE CLOTH AND SERGE GOWNS WILL BE THE FASHION.

The Method of Making Skirts—They Will be More Becoming to Stout Figures—Some Dainty Hats and Theater Bonnets —Materials this Season.

The chief occupation just now of women is shopping. Women haunt the shops and stand in groups around the windows admiring the new things in the way of hats and dress goods. Even if a woman does not care for shopping in the abstract at this time of the year, she is forced into it by the dilapidated condition of her wardrobe. At no season of the year does a new gown give the wearer such a feeling of proud satisfaction with herself and the world at large as in the fall. Summer fabric and light colors seem out of place, and a gown that is fresh and stylish, plainly made, with a touch of bright color about it, is wonderfully taking.

Women and men turn and look at a stylish tailor-made dress, and the women, one and all, immediately think they must also be getting something appropriate for the crisp, cool weather that is now with us.

BLACK MOIRE BODICE.

Every well-dressed woman has her cloth and serge gowns made at the tailor's. No dressmaker can give them the desired finish that at once stamps them as stylish. There is not very much difference in tailor-made gowns from the spring except that there is a tendency to make them a trifle more elaborate. Of course, the plain skirt will be worn for some time, but there is a new method of making it which is more becoming to stout figures. The front is gored and buttoned up either side not making the hips so prominent as in a plain skirt.

A stylish dress for fall wear is made of russet brown serge, with the bodice fastening over on one side, and having two basques outlined with coarse black braid. This is worn over a silk skirt, the whole being very different from the gowns we have seen all summer.

Melton is to be one of the favorite materials for these tailor-made gowns and the coats will have the velvet collars, the same as men's coats, and the skirts will be trimmed with smoked pearl buttons. The waistcoats will be buttoned up to the neck and will be of plushed leather or kid or scarlet cloth. These are finished round the neck with a tight band beneath which shows the white linen collar. White buckskin makes fine vests, but as this is extremely expensive it is rather rare.

It is somewhat of a relief to find that all dresses are not to be skirts and coats. Braiding is to be used on a great many of the new gowns, so that some of the bodices will be plain, tight fitting. A very pretty design is to have the whole bodice braided.

A very pretty gown that is a little different from the usual skirt and coat style is of dark gray blue camel's hair. The sleeves are made of pink fancy silk, which is again introduced into the bodice as vest, collar and belt. Both of the latter are finished with stylish bows.

One of the most stylish of serge dresses seen lately was a black serge, having a well-cut skirt, with the seams braided a la militaire, the short coat turned back with perfectly straight revers stripped with double rows of the braid. This was lined thoroughly with black satin, and worn with a white blouse. The effect was most stylish.

Shot satins are something new for evening wear, and a beautiful dress had the skirt of this material, and the bodice of brocade arranged in folds. The neck was trimmed with a frill of lace, and the sleeves were made of the satin reaching to the elbows. Another pretty gown for evening was of black crepon, with a bodice of cerise, which seems to suit everybody. It was covered with accordion-plaited chiffon, hanging full from neck to waist, falling in a bag from over a ribbon waistband with long ends. There was a folded velvet collar of cerise and huge sleeves.

Black still continues in favor, and some of the handsomest gowns this fall will still be made of it. One dress that is very stylishing is made of black silk crepon over black silk. White satin ribbons trim the skirt and bodice, and white satin is also the material of which the quaint revers on the sleeves are made. Plaited white chiffon, arranged fichu-like on the collar, falls over the bodice, forming graceful epaulets and jabot combined. A touch of bright pink is introduced at the neck, and again in the shape of bows on the hat, together with bows of black and white chiffon.

Violet is likely to be one of the special colors this autumn. A skirt that was made in this color by one of the best modistes was slightly draped at the side. It was bordered with jet and fur, the bodice having a jet waistband. There was an accompanying cape in black and violet velvet, with a double-breasted front and much extra fullness at the back, which could be brought to the front for warmth, and was richly embroidered with jet.

We seem to be coming very slowly to double skirts, for they are not generally liked, and there are indications that there will be other changes in dress. Small waists and broad shoulders will prevail, though the chief ornamentation will not remain on the bodice so much, for more elaborate trimmings of various kinds are finding their way on to skirts.

Fur will be seen on dresses early in the autumn. Bodices will be trimmed with it as well as skirts. A handsome dress that can be worn late in the season without a wrap is made of green cloth, with carmen revers and edging round the skirt, which is trimmed in addition with strappings of the cloth arranged in undulating lines. The bodice is further ornamented with jeweled embroidery, which gives a pretty finishing touch to a noticeably elegant gown.

Some very dainty hats are seen in the stores, and no matter how somber the trimmings as a whole, there is always a dash of color about the hat somewhere. Black and white striped and checked ribbons seem to be the most in evidence. Several very pretty hats were trimmed with ivy leaves and stems. No roses are seen in these wreaths. A great deal of gold embroidery is used, and some of the little theatre bonnets are made entirely of this embroidery. Bonnets are only to be used for ceremonious calls and for theatre wear, although a great many of the theatres are trying harder than ever this season to make women attend without bonnets. This will be a difficult matter, for most women look their prettiest when their face is surmounted by a dainty flower bonnet or a trifling band and bow of bright-hued velvet.

A pretty little toque of jet has a pointed crown, trimmed with ivy leaves and red roses, and a bow of lace secured by a jet ornament.

The toque is one of the most comfortable of shapes and will be as much a favorite as ever. Made in colored velvet, edged with sable, with a wing at one side, they are particularly pretty. Again the crowns of some of them are of felt, resting on folds of velvet, and others that are a little more dressy have crowns of Indian embroidery.

A pretty butterfly hat is made of wire net, profusely spangled and secured with fancy pins. It has an aigrette of black ostrich tips and osprey.

The fancy waist that is worn with this hat is made of accordion plaited pompadour gauze, set off with bows and sash in velvet, in the deepest tone of the pattern. It has shoulder drapery in white chiffon. The yoke is of lace, over silk the same color as the velvet sash.

Another waist that is not quite so elaborate is of black moire antique, having odd shaped revers of pink satin, covered with jet passementerie. The lower part of the sleeve is of satin, covered with jet. Pink chiffon constitutes the vest and the jabot down the front.

Quite the prettiest capes this season are made double, reaching a few inches below the waist, of ox-cloth, edged with a strapping and lined with silk. It is strange that capes continue to be so popular, for they only keep one warm to the waist, while the arm from the elbow to the wrist is generally uncovered. The Golf cape is the favorite and looks well on tall women, but makes the stout woman look double her true width. They are made of cheviot, tweed, cloth or any heavy material.

The double cape is made of gobelin blue cloth, having a lining of shot black and white silk, or one of the pretty plaids so much used. These capes must be lined with silk, for the lining of the hood and cape is what gives it its style.

CALLING COSTUME.

The other cape is of fawn cloth and trimmed with strappings, forming a design. These strappings in different forms are the most appropriate of anything for trimming these cloth capes. These capes are particularly pretty when lined with a very bright material.

Preserving Cucumbers in Winter.

Here is a German recipe for preserving cucumbers for the winter. Take as many cucumbers as you may wish, and pare and slice them as for salad, and then salt them well; after leaving them in the salt for a few hours the salt and liquid should be squeezed out of them by using a clean white cloth. Take a quantity of finely cut onions and pepper corns, and mix well into the cucumber. Put the whole into a large stone jar, and pour over it the best white wine vinegar, and on top two inches of good salad oil; cover the top of the jar with a bladder. During the whole time the cucumber remains fresh and good. When necessary add a little more vinegar, and always leave two inches of oil on the top.

A New Convenience.

A new kind of mustard pot has been made that insures always having fresh mustard. It is the size of an ordinary mustard pot, and consists of two parts, in the lower half of which is placed the dry mustard, while in the neck of the upper part is a small container for the water necessary for mixing, together with a little screw, which, when turned by the consumer, allows the water to escape into the mustard below, the two being amalgamated by a turn or two of the screw. In this way a fresh supply for each meal can be obtained without waste or trouble, and as the pot can be taken in two in an instant, there is no difficulty about cleaning it.

Jots for Busy Women.

Oyster juice is a perfect cleanser of linen from fruit and wine stains.

Before beginning to seed raisins cover them with hot water and let them stand fifteen minutes. The seeds can then be removed easily.

Cider Jelly.

Take one half package of gelatine, scant measure one-half pint of sugar and one and one-half pints of cider. Soak the gelatine in half a pint of the cider for two hours. Heat the rest of the cider to the boiling point and pour it on the soaked gelatine. Add the sugar and place the bowl in a pan of boiling water. Stir until the liquid is clear; then strain, pour into a mould and set away to harden.

A Helpful Hint.

Resolve that when you go to church you will prove false the old masculine taunt about women's looking at their neighbor's bonnets. Do not strive to see what other people are wearing. It is not only undignified and irreligious, but it is likely to make you green with envy.

A Nursery Wall Panel.

A very pretty bit of decoration for the nursery is a wall panel of blue linen, made eighteen inches wide, and a yard and a half long.

Take a Mother Goose book, illustrated in colors, cut out the pictures and paste them on the linen panel, making as regular and artistic an arrangement as possible. The pictures should be cut in squares, and, when transferred to the linen, should be bordered with gilt paint, as if framed. An irregular border of the same is painted all around the edge of the linen panel, which is fastened with brass headed tacks to a gilded curtain rod cut the required length.

SCIENCE.

Explorers declare that no flowering plant has ever been found within the Antarctic circle. In the Arctic circle seven hundred and sixty-two different kinds are known.

The perfume of flowers is more clearly perceived just before or after a rain, because the air, then laden with a moisture, better conveys the essential oils that contribute the odor.

Until now the depth of four and a half miles, sounded off the coast of Japan, has been the record for deep-sea soundings; but this is now beaten by a sounding in the South Atlantic of seven thousand seven hundred fathoms, or nearly nine miles.

Prof. Alexander Graham Bell, the inventor of the telephone, is now at work on the problem of seeing as well as talking through a wire. He firmly believes that we will soon be able to see the people we are talking to by telephone, although hundreds of miles away.

HORTICULTURE.

THE POND LILY.

Webb Donnell Tells How to Acclimatize Them Anywhere.

Those who do not live in regions that have among their flora the delightful Nymphoea odorata, or pond lily, as it is commonly called, have missed one of the most pleasant experiences of flower-gathering. One who has had such an experience, and has gathered great handfuls, and even basketfuls, of these daintiest and sweetest of all water-flowers, dripping with sparkling drops as they are brought from the water, can feel decided sympathy for those who do not live neighbors to these lovely floating blossoms. The common sweet-scented pond lily—hardly "common," however, except in the Eastern States—is not difficult to transfer from its natural habitat in some sluggishly moving pond or lake to a new situation, provided one has a bit of water on his premises that offers conditions somewhat similar to those this lily delights in—slowly moving water and a muddy bottom, where the long, prostrate root-stocks may have a chance to anchor themselves.

NYMPHEA ODORATA.

I have never tried them in tubs of water sunk in the ground, but I am quite confident that if proper care were exercised, the plants would adjust themselves to such new conditions. At all events, they are such delightful little friends that the experiment would well be worth the trial by any one whose home is not in the vicinity of their natural abiding place, as is my own home, fortunately for me. A faint blush of pink is sometimes seen upon the pond lily, and much rarer still is seen a suggestion of blue. There is another member of this branch of the water lily family, the Nymphoea luberosa, which is common in the West and South, while still another is the blue water-lily of Egypt, which is tender, and cultivated in this country only by artificial means. —Webb Donnell, in Country Gentleman.

NATIVES OF MANY LANDS.

It has been circulated that on an average the German emperor receives over six hundred letters every day.

John Moore and wife, of Ferrin, have celebrated their seventieth wedding day and have received three pounds sterling for the fact from Queen Victoria.

The King of Italy has sent one thousand francs to the chairman of the committee in charge of the preparations to erect a monument to the memory of Marshal Canrobert. The contribution was accompanied by a letter expressive of his majesty's admiration of the great Frenchman.

Stambouloff, the Bulgarian ex-minister, was in his younger days apprenticed to a cobbler. On becoming prime minister, he appointed his former master, the cobbler, prefect of the police at Sofia, as a mark of respect for his just and unerring severity and his remarkable talent for flogging.

WHAT WOMEN WILL WEAR.

Rough goods to fairly smooth for outdoor wear; big checks, showy plaids and startling effects in tartans.

Heavy lines in reds and golden browns for some complexions; gray and lavender; mignonette and black; black and gray.

Silk blouses, surah, taffeta, moire, shot fabrics, plain, figured, striped, made usually upon linings; at least until very late in the fall.

Long upper shoulder seams to give a drooping effect, high crush or stock collars; jet corsage trimmings; Van Dyke points downward from collar, upward from belt.

In skirts the plain perfect cut tailor effects for most occasions. French and English modistes agree fairly well in this, though the former allow draperies in gowns of frolic effect.

Much use of black, especially of black ribbon in generous widths for bows, ties, rosettes and for points of emphasis. A narrow show of black running over the top of each shoulder and ending midway of the armhole, front and back, is a happy touch upon a gown of almost any hue.—Ellen Osborn.

NEWS OF EUROPE.

The report put on the registry by the French executioner tells that Santo Caserio came to his death at the hands of Deibler, "executeur des hautes oeuvres."

At Budapest the congress of hygiene has just unveiled a monument to Semmelweiss, who, in 1847, first advocated the chemical washing of the hands of operators in surgical cases, and fought all his life for the antiseptic treatment.

Pinturicchio's great frescoes in the Borgia apartments in the Vatican, for years covered by a coating of plaster which Gregory XVI. and Pius IX. refused to have removed, are now being exposed at the expense of Pope Leo XIII.

Guy de Maupassant's body is soon to be removed from the Montparnasse cemetery, where it now lies, to a place in Père la Chaise, between the graves of Balzac and Gerard de Nerval. At the foot of the grave will rise a block of rough marble, shaped like a Breton menhir, with no inscription but his name.

FARM AND BARNYARD.

Soft food does not tax the digestive organs sufficiently to insure their vigor. It is the cause of more deaths of young chicks than anything else, excepting lice.

The mutton of most varieties of English long-wool sheep is only slightly more valuable than New Zealand mutton in London shops and those of many provincial towns.

The most expensive fertilizer to the farmer is nitrogen, and this cost he can reduce on his farm by growing clover, cow peas and green crops for turning under, for the purpose of renovating his soil.

Sunflower seed is an excellent egg-producing food and deserves more attention from poultry raisers. It is easily raised in out-of-the-way places and requires little cultivation. Its seed production is enormous, one acre often yielding one hundred bushels. It should be planted in hills four feet apart. Three quarts of seed will plant an acre.

Daily Intelligencer.

The Nile Valley.

It is becoming the custom among European travellers to step at Remagen on the Rhine, and make a little excursion to the beautiful Valley of the Ahr, with its picturesque villages along the vine clad slope. Here is also located the spring from which flows that world wide favorite "Apollinaris Water." At Neuenahr, in the valley, the river Ahr is very beautiful, and one can find few more quaintly attractive spots than the Upper Gate at Ahrweiler, or the old mill at Hepplingen.

A tax on dogs was levied in Rome during the reign of Nero.

Lane's Medicine Moves the Bowels Each Day

In order to be healthy this is necessary.

For Over Fifty Years

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhœa. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by druggists throughout the world.

17dawly

In the time of Queen Anne soap was taxed £28 per ton.

DEAR SIRS.—I have used Yellow Oil for two or three years, and think it has no equal for croup. Mrs. J. S. O'Brien, Huntsville, Ont.

The tithes in England amounted to £4,050,000 a year.

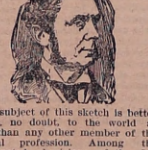

Dyspepsia and Indigestion.—C. W. Snow & Co., Syracuse N.Y., writes: "Please send us ten gross of Pills We are selling more of Parmelee's Pills than any other Pill we keep. They have a great reputation for the cure of Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint." Mr. Chas. A. Smith, Lindsay, writes: "Parmelee's Pills are an excellent medicine. My sister has been troubled with severe headache, but these pills have cured her."

Russia raises $1,5000,000 a year by the sale of passports.

THAT TIRED, LANGUID FEELING and dull headache is very disagreeable. Take two of Carter's Little Liver Pills before retiring, and you will find relief. They never fail ot do good.

SIR MORELL MACKENZIE, M. D.

COURT PHYSICIAN TO EMPEROR FREDERICK OF GERMANY.

The subject of this sketch is better known, no doubt, to the world at large than any other member of the medical profession. Among the many noted physicians of the Old World perhaps there is not one whose opinion on nervous affections is more highly regarded. He says: "I have much pleasure in stating that I have used the "Vin Mariani" (Mariani wine) for many years, and I consider it a valuable stimulant. "Vin Mariani" is a tonic containing the medicinal properties of two ounces of fresh, selected coca leaves, equal to thirty grains to a wineglassful; and is the greatest invigorator of body and brain known to the present generation. No one has ever remedy has ever drawn forth such strong expressions of approval from so many celebrated people from all parts of the world. If you will send a stamp to Lawrence A. Wilson & Co., Montreal, the Canadian agents for 'Vin Mariani,' you will receive a little album of celebrities, who have testified to the excellence of 'Vin Mariani,' free of charge.

LAKEHURST SANITARIUM
OAKVILLE, ONT.

For treatment and cure of

ALCHOLISM, MORPHINE HABIT, TOBACCO HABIT AND NERVOUS DISEASES.

The system employed at this institution is the familiar Double Chloride of Gold System. Through its agency over 200,000 Slaves to the use of these poisons have been emancipated in the last fourteen years. Lakehurst Sanitarium is the oldest Institution of the kind in Canada, and has a well earned reputation to maintain in this line of medication. In its whole history there is not an instance of failure to remove the appetite for these poisons. In its whole history there is not an instance of any after ill effects from the treatment. Hundreds of happy homes in all parts of the Dominion bear eloquent witness to the efficacy of a course of treatment with us. For terms and full information write

THE SECRETARY,
28 Bank of Commerce Chambers,
aug7d3w34e3m) Toronto, Ont.

CANADIAN PACIFIC RY.

WILL RUN

HUNTERS' EXCURSIONS

TO MUSKOKA LAKES AND ALL STATIONS.

MATTAWA, NEPIGON, SPANISH RIVER AND INTERMEDIATE STATIONS

OCT. 19 and 20
OCT. 26 and 27
NOV. 2 and 3

When Round Trip Tickets will be sold for

SINGLE FIRST CLASS FARE

Good for Return until Dec. 1st, 1894.

For busine ss passing the nigh Toronto, rates to above points will not be less than 25 cents a ded to ordinary Round Trip Rates to Toronto.

Dogs, Guns, Personal Baggage, Camp Equipments, to the amount of 200 lbs will be carried FREE.

S. BURROWS,
General Ticket Agent, Belleville.

ALL OVER THE WORLD
NORWAY PINE SYRUP CURES COUGHS & COLDS
PRICE 25&50¢

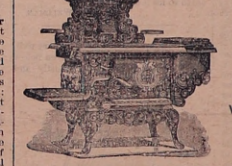

B.O.S.

Remember the three words when you are ordering

"BABY'S OWN SOAP"

and see that you get the genuine, and not any of the imitations. It is made by THE ALBERT TOILET SOAP CO.

THE..... SOUVENIR .... RANGE .....

What Miss Surridge, Principal of the Toronto School of Cookery, Says :—

TORONTO, MONDAY, APRIL 2nd, 1894.

GENTLEMEN :—I have much pleasure in saying SOUVENIR RANGE you put in at Hamilton for the use of the cooking class recently held there, gave me Every Satisfaction. It is certainly the Very Best Stove I have ever used, being Cleanly, Reliable, and Most Economical, consuming an Astonishingly small quantity of Fuel.

I have the honor to remain, yours sincerely,
Signed, FLORENCE SURRIDGE.

C. F. Smith & Co.,
AGENTS, - BELLEVILLE.

Floor Oil Cloths...
We have now in stock, FLOOR OIL CLOTHS up to 24 ft. wide
.... FOR STOVES !
- - ALSO A LINE - -
ENGLISH OIL CLOTHS
Suitable for under Stoves at 30c. sq. yd.

NATHAN JONES.

LISTEN FRIENDS ! !
We SAY because we KNOW !
Our GOAL ! This Season is unexcelled for quality because the Bill of Lading bears the Brand of the Delaware & Hudson Canal Company.
Out this out and test this "Ad" when the Winter Winds whistle.

THE RATHBUN COMPANY.

ONTARIO MUTUAL LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY.
S. Burrows, Esq., General Agent, Ontario Mutual Life Co., Belleville, Ont.

DEAR SIR, Received your company's check for $2,000 for our Matured Endowment, and we both wish to show our gratitude to you and the Company for the straightforward and satisfactory way you deal with policy holders, and that we are more than satisfied with our investment. I will always urge our friends to follow in our footsteps. Thanking you very kindly.
Yours very sincerely,
Mr. & Mrs. GOODWIN, Bowmanville,
Formerly of Belleville.

ALLAN LINE,
Royal Mail Steamships. Liverpool. Calling at Moville.

	From Montreal	From Quebec
PARISIAN	daylight
MONGOLIAN	Oct. 6	Oct. 7
HIBERNIAN	" 13	" 14
LAURENTIAN	" 20
NUMIDIAN	" 27	" 28
PARISIAN	Nov. 3	Nov. 4
	" 10	" 11

RATES OF PASSAGE.
First cabin Derry and Live pool, $45 and upwards single; $90 and upwards return Second cabin, Liverpool, Derry, Belfast Glasgow, $30; return $55. Steerage at lowest rates (everything found).
All steamships except the Hibernian carry 1st cabin, 2nd cabin and steerage passengers.

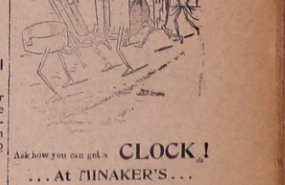

STATE LINE SERVICE
NEW YORK, LONDONDERRY AND GLASGOW.
STATE OF NEBRASKA ..... Oct. 12
STATE OF CALIFORNIA ..... " 26
STATE OF NEBRASKA ..... Nov. 22
Cabin passage, $40 and upward, return $80 and upward; Second cabin $25. Steerage at lowest rates.
For tickets and other information apply to
U. E. THOMPSON
General Ticket Agency,
Bridge St., Tellevill
or to S. BURROWS,
Agent.

GENTLEMEN....
Before ordering your Fall Clothing don t fail to take a look through
A. N. REID'S
New Fall Importations of
Scotch, English and Irish Suitings, Overcoatings, Pantings, Irish Serges, Cheviots, Hop Sackings and Black Worsteds
First Class Goods and Prices low,
Mr. Minor, our cutter, is one of the best in Ontario.
EVERY GARMENT GUARANTEED ! !
Please call and inspect our New Goods.
A. N. REID.

PETTYJOHN'S
CALIFORNIA BREAKFAST FOOD
Dyspeptics can eat this food.
It is particularly adapted for children and persons of sedentary habits.
It is made from Pacific coast wheat hulled and crushed by improved machinery.
It can be easily prepared for breakfast, as this crushing process makes it soft and tender and easy to cook
Ask your physician which is best for you to eat, oats or wheat.
Pettijohn's California Breakfast Food is sold in packages by
BENMORE & BENSON.

PLUMBING
We have added to our Workmen,
MR. GEORGE JOHNSON,
Who has for the past six years been prominent on large contracts in Victoria, B. C., San Francisco, Denver, and Chicago.
— ALSO —
MR. EDWIN W. BISHOP,
A graduate of the New York School for Plumbing (class 92), who comes highly recommended.
With these men added to our staff, we feel sure of giving satisfactory to all in Sanitary Plumbing.
C. F. Smith & Co.

HAPPY HOME RANGES.
Best in the Market.
—ALSO—
A Full Line of
Art Garland
and
Famous Heaters.
—(o)—
Wm. McGIE.
Next to Nathan Jones.
Telephone 38. Front S

Ask how you can get a CLOCK !
... At MINAKER'S ...
The Men's Furnisher.

NO ARCTIC THOROFARE

Thrilling Adventures In the Sea of Ice.

FUTILE EFFORT TO MOVE THE JARL

Weary Days of Waiting Passed as Pleasantly as Possible—A Sledge Party's Expedition of Discovery—Getting Ready to Start.

SUNDAY, May 20.—Officer of the day, Professor French.

A sledge party, with Mr. Dodge in charge, started a little after noon today for the Parry and Marten Islands, 12 miles to the east, for the purpose of ascending the mountain there and examining with a glass the ice to the east and north. In the event of continued delay here at Walden Island we hope to find a better route to the northeast over the fast ice which lies between the Seven Islands and the northeast land. Of the condition of the ice here we are well satisfied. It is favorable for travel, except as the rising temperature makes its surface soft and slushy. The question is what lies farther north—whether screwed up drift ice or solid pack in heavy and smoother floes. Captain Pedersen and the sailor Boervig were assigned to the journey, and Captain Bottelfsen volunteered to go also, of which we were very glad because of his skill in the judgment of ice. The party took an aluminum sledge, a three man sleeping bag, a small cook machine, with a bottle of spirits, food and guns. After an hour spent in cross ing the pressed up ice and hills of Walden Island the party struck out over the smooth ice lying between the islands. This ice is about four feet thick, covered with six inches of snow, and it is smooth because it has been fast to the shore all winter and has not been driven to and fro by the wind and "screwed" into fragments piled high upon one another. The party made good progress and reached the Parry Island point 6 in the evening, as we could see with a glass from the heights of Walden Island.

Today we lost two of our best dogs. Pluribus proved to have been so badly hurt that it was necessary to shoot him, and within an hour Dodge, who is a good shot, but very serviceable dog, was brought on deck suffering from frightful wounds inflicted in combat with his fellows. A bullet from a revolver put an end to his career. Pluribus was the largest and handsomest dog in the pack, of nearly pure St. Bernard breed, and his loss was much deplored by all on board. Some of the men wanted to hold funeral services over his remains, but this proposition did not meet with our favor, and old Pluribus was buried in the ice pack without ceremony.

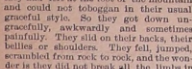

We made an excursion today on skis to the far end of Walden Island, a distance of about three miles. Ascending there an elevation, a most impressive panorama was spread out before us—to the east the Seven Islands, where, with a glass, we could easily see our sledge party climbing the mountain of the Parry Island. To the north, Table and Little Table islands, both now prominent in the chronicles of arctic effort, rose clear and prominent from amid the desert of ice. Far to the north, Cape Plateu, 35 miles distant, seemed so near that one could easily imagine himself able to walk thither in a few hours. Beyond could be seen the faint outlines of the Outer Rep and other small islands which but a few months have been visited. To the northeast one looked in vain for the Gillis Land, which has been twice seen, but never explored; to the south, Spitzbergen's lofty peaks and the ice pack along coast, with its great glacier plateau on Northeast Land and an ice wall rising precipitously 1,000 feet high, affording a line of demarkation between the low lands and the eternal ice caps. Farther we could trace out the coast as far as Verlegen hook, that coast strewn with the bleaching bones of hundreds of thousands of walrus, which the Norwegian hunters used to slaughter wholesale upon the land, and with the graves of Dutchmen, Norwegians and Russians who had perished in the hunt, most of them, however, from natural causes. On that coast, too, may be seen a pile of rocks which marks the last camp of Matthias, a veteran who hunted in the Spitzbergen region forty odd years, at last to be caught in the late autumn and to die before spring in his improvised hut. With anxious eyes we looked far to the north, toward that region of effort and of sacrifice and of so many vain aspirations, and saw nothing but a white horizon, ominous with the innumerable elevations with which nature, by means of storms and cold, had written the words, "No thoroughfare."

With a gentle breeze from the south and west and a temperature only a few degrees below the freezing point it was much too warm for heavy clothing, and mittens and gloves were cast aside.

Exciting Adventure With a Bear.

MONDAY, May 21.—Officer of the day, Dr. Mohun.

Our sledge party returned a little before noon after 24 hours of hard work and exciting sport. Shortly after reaching Parry's Island they saw a herd of four reindeer near the shore. The animals were almost as white as the snow itself and in very poor. But any sort of a rein is good enough for an enthusiastic sportsman, and our sledgemen all were enthusiasts in the chase. Without pausing to consider whether er the deer were fat or lean, white with winter fur or brown in summer raiment, they dashed down the hills. Their sled they had left at the foot of the mountain and could not toboggan in their usual graceful style. So they ran on foot, gracefully, awkwardly and sometimes painfully. They slid on their backs, their bellies or shoulders. They fell and were scrambled from rock to rock, and the wonder is they did not break all the limbs in their bodies and their heads against the hillsides. How they got down the thousand feet of hillside they will never be able to explain, but on reaching the bottom they had the pleasure of seeing their game flying over the snow at a rate of something less than a mile a minute. The deer were gone, but now new and better game appeared. Two or three polar bear had also seen the reins and had set after them. There is nothing the ice bear likes better than a feast of rein meat, though he does not often get it. One of the bears soon fell a victim to the three winchesters, and another one was seen about half a mile away. It was thought this one was the cub of the dam which lay reddening the snow, and which the men were skinning before the poor old creature had fairly gasped her last, though at this season of the year the bears are very hungry and ferocious, often attacking a man. The hunters are not afraid of the cubs. So sailor Boervig, who never yet saw anything he was afraid of, young or old, gentle or ferocious, set out to drive the supposed cub nearer to the dead body of its mother and the rifles of her slayers. Disregarding the warnings of the other men, Boervig started without a gun and approached within a short distance of brula before discovering that, instead of a harmless cub, it was a full grown male bear. It was too late to turn back and run for it so the wily Norwegian, as we often call our fair haired daredevil of a sailor, ran at the bear, shouting with all his might and waving his arms.

READY TO START.

Contrary to tradition, the animal refused to become frightened and run away. Instead he started toward Boervig with a manifest intention of having that courageous man for supper. Boervig held his ground as long as he dared, playing his game of bluff much longer than the strength of his hand warranted. But, the bear showing no signs of weakening, the sailor took a long slide down the side of a ridge, landing up to the neck in a pocket of snow. The life of the hunter depended wholly upon the bear's decision as to whether or not he would follow suit. Fortunately he did not press his advantage, but paused at the edge of the hill, peered over it at the helpless Norwegian floundering in the snow some distance below, moved his head, bear fashion, from side to side, and snapped with his ugly mouth. By this time Captain Bottelfsen had divined Boervig's danger, and came running as hard as he could, firing his rifle as he came in hopes of attracting bruin's attention. Mr. Dodge came up a few moments later, just in the nick of time, for now Captain Bottelfsen found himself unable to throw the empty shell out of his gun, and the bear had scented his courage to the point of sliding down the snow for a hand to hand scrap with Boervig. The first shot from Mr. Dodge's winchester brought the big white fellow to his knees, and as he was shoving himself through the snow with his fore legs, maddened with rage, a second shot finished him with the exception of the bold sailor. In a second Boervig was upon the body of his prostrate foe, dancing a hornpipe of victory.

Return of the Party.

With two magnificent skins on their sledge the party started on the return trip at 3 o'clock this morning. Yesterday's warm sun had softened the snow, and they had a hard pull, their labor being greatly increased by thirst. They tried snow eating, only to have their throats burn with hotter fires. Boervig was so thirsty that he scooped the blood of the bear up in his two hands and drank his full of it. They had used all their spirits in making supper and could melt no more snow. The prospect of obtaining water from snow placed in rubber bottles and worn inside their shirts seemed provokingly slow, but it helped a little, and in this way they managed to cover the 12 or 13 miles that lay between them and the ship.

The report which they brought of the condition of the ice was not very encouraging. To the east and south of the Seven Islands, in the bay between them and Northeast Land, the surface was flat and smooth, as we had expected they would find it. But farther out was a wide belt of drift ice that had been screwed into confusion. Beyond it lay the great polar pack, but so far beyond that it was not to be seen, even from an elevation of 1,000 feet.

Decide to Leave the Ship.

TUESDAY, May 22.—Officer of the day, Mr. Dodge.

After consultation between the officers of the expedition and Captain Bottelfsen a decision is reached that it is worthless while to spend more time looking for an opening to the north with the ship. Between us and the main pack lies that wild nigh impassable belt of drift ice, and there is not much chance of its clearing out or opening up for weeks to come. While we have been very fortunate in reaching the Seven Islands thus early without accident or much trouble, it is not to be denied that we have met extraordinary unfavorable conditions to the north of this point. But we are not content to sit down and wait for a change for the better. We propose, instead, to push southward our way along the smooth ice to the east, our plan being to cross from the extreme north lying island to the northeast Land to Gillis Land and to the other islands which are believed to exist in that direction. While we must travel a considerable distance to the eastward before we can go north, probably we shall gain in the end. We shall certainly do so if we are able to make the land and use it as a base of future operations. We do not disguise the fact that we should much prefer to adhere strictly to our original plan of going straight to the north from this point over the pack, but it being so difficult or next to impossible to cross the belt of drift ice without waiting an indefinite period we believe our best chance lies to the east and north.

This change, of course, necessitates a little change in the instructions given to Captain Bottelfsen. The Jarl is now ordered to remain a week here, looking after our fear, as it were, and then to proceed to Treurenberg bay as rapidly as the state of the ice will permit. There, taking on a large quantity of coal, she will without delay return to the Seven Islands. If we should be defeated in our effort to reach land to the northeast in our small boats, we might still have another chance, and that would be to fall back upon the Seven Islands about July 1, here again taking the steamer and pushing north with an ample supply of coal aboard. We should still have about 70 days for our journey, and the ship in that season might push her way as far as the eighty-third parallel of north latitude. While we have every reason to believe we shall succeed along our northeasterly route, making both high latitude and exploring new land, we still have another chance—a second string to our bow.

This morning the orders are given to prepare to leave the ship within 24 hours. The sledges are to be done, notwithstanding our weeks and months of preparation. It was evening before our equipment of sledges, sledge boats, with all their contents and accessories, were amassed upon the ice, ready to move forward. It is not a very imposing array in size, but in weight it seems to us as big as a mountain. Tomorrow we shall have our first day's real hard work. To get away from Walden Island and upon the smoother ice to the east we must cross first the three or four hundred yards of pressed up shore ice, indescribable in its rough confusion, through which we have worn and cut some sort of road. Then we must somehow get our sledges over a steep hill, now covered, and thence down to the plain of ice below. Our men are eager for the work, and in the morning, or what corresponds to morning in this country of constant daylight, we shall be up and at it.

The Equipment on the Ice.

Our equipment has a novel and even handsome appearance as it lies upon the ice by the side of the ship. The aluminium boats are of graceful lines, and even the aluminium sledges, with their tanks of cases of the same metal, are not ugly. These five sledges contain nearly all of our 2,500 pounds of man food, and also our 250 pounds of alcohol. The method which we have adopted for packing our alcohol is certainly a new one. On the sledges Nordenskjold and Peary are two aluminium cases of rectangular shape, tight and strong. Within each of these cases are a dozen cans of tin, completely filling the aluminium compartment. Each can contains 22 pounds of alcohol, except one, which has a small quantity of brandy in it. If the tin cans leak their precious contents, the aluminium cases will hold the fluid. If the cans should be broken in a severe accident, perhaps no more than one or two of the cans would be fractured, and instead of the loss being a large quantity of alcohol we should lose very little. Again, by siphoning from but one can at a time we prevent much of the loss by evaporation which usually attends the drawing of alcohol. This is our only fuel, and its loss would ruin us. We feel that we have thrown about it every possible precaution.

We are to sleep in our boats under awnings of light waterproof. These we believe to be lighter and more serviceable than tents, and besides a good roof over our heads we shall have a comparatively dry floor under us. For beds we stretch a canvas cover across the gunwales of the boats, drawing it tight with lacings of a simple sort. Upon these we place our sleeping bags and hope to slumber in comfort in our wrappings of reindskin. Five of the men in the Lookwood will find it necessary to sleep in the bottom of the boat, but they will not mind that, for down there they should be as snug and comfortable as in their beds at home.

Though we have more than 40 dogs to start on the journey, we take only 500 pounds of food for them. This will not last them more than two weeks, but when while we expect to be compelled to shoot a few of the poorer dogs, while others will fall victims to broken legs or the combativeness of their fellows. Their flesh will be added to the rations of the survivors.

In all likelihood, we shall get nearly enough game to feed the dogs. Our luck with bear continues. A little before midnight the whisper went through the ship: "Bear! Sh! Bear!" A comical scene ensued. Half a dozen men rushed on deck; rifles in hand, some of them fully armed, others dressing themselves as they ran, while Mr. Jaell had on only his underwear and a pair of moccasins. They scrambled over the rough ice, fell in pockets of snow and were presently rewarded with a sight of bruin scrambling over the ice with a red wound in his body. Second Mate Sandbu had stolen a march on the other sportsmen. Being the first to catch a glimpse of the "iborn," as the Norwegians call the polar bear, and without saying a word to any one, he had slipped over the side of the Jarl into a boat and paddled after the white brute, who was swimming within a hundred yards of the ship. He got the first shot and drew blood. The bear then scrambled upon the ice, where Mr. Dahl put another bullet into his lean and hungry carcass.

SLEDGE PARTY AT LUNCH.

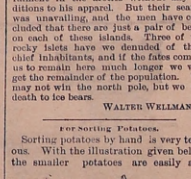

Not liking the looks of his motley half dozen pursuers on the ice, bruin turned again to the water, where Mate Sandbu met him with a third and final shot. In a few minutes the victim had been loaded into the boat and brought on board the ship, causing us to comment on the promptness shown by the Walden island bears in coming to the steamer to be killed in order to save us the trouble of carting in their skins and meat, now that we are so busy with our sledging preparations.

This bear episode stirred up all the sporting blood in Captain Bottelfsen, who was treated by Dr. Mohun today for snow blindness, caused by going on the long journey Parry and Martens Islands without spectacles, pulled off his bandages, seized his gun and started off in a boat after the mate to the poor bear that had brought it in. He was accompanied by Mr. Jaell, who seems to fancy bedchamber raiment in the arctics without any additions in his apparel. But the chase north was unavailing, and the men have concluded that there are just a pair of bears on each of these islands. Reports of early hints have we denuded of their chief inhabitants, and if the fates compel us to remain here much longer we will get the remainder of the population. We may not win the north pole, but we are death to ice bears.

WALTER WELLMAN.

For Sorting Potatoes.

Sorting potatoes by hand is very tedious. With the illustration given below the smaller potatoes are easily and quickly separated from the larger ones suitable for market. It is a very simple and cheap apparatus that can be made by anyone. It consists of a slatted trough 5 or 6 feet long. Pieces of inch laces or standards of proper length to keep it so inclined that when potatoes are shoveled upon it they will roll down. The slats may be of inch stuff attached to the two bottom cleats, their centres 1½ inches apart, a little closer at the top and a trifle further separated at the bottom, so that the potatoes may not become wedged in the spaces. A suitable width for the sorter is 20 inches, with sideboards 8 inches high. When unloading potatoes from the wagon place the sorter at the side or rear and shovel them directly upon it. Those of suitable size will run into the basket, while the smaller ones, with the heart, little stones, etc., will fall upon the ground or into any receptacle placed to receive them.—Farm and Home.

FOR SORTING POTATOES.

Fruit Storage.

There is some hope that sanitary reasons will banish the cave under our houses that goes by the name of cellar. But there are other reasons why a storage room for fruit and vegetables should not be under a house in which people live. The ideal cellar for fruit would have an even temperature and does not require ventilation. In fact, apples will begin to rot rapidly as soon as windows are opened in April. Keep the cellar closed. But it must be added that to keep apples well a cellar must be slightly damp; not wet or moldy but moist. This is not the right atmosphere to have under our habitation room. Besides a moist air cannot be had in connection with a furnace. The object of the moisture is to balance the natural waste by evaporation or drying of the fruit. Such a cellar as described, moist and close, preserves fruit far better than one that is ventilated. The apples are then placed in bins or hammocks that rise in tiers one above another, leaving the fruit not over six inches deep anywhere. These, after careful sorting and handling with tenderness, are stirred as little as possible till spring. A cellar such as described is easily constructed under a barn or carriage house, or as a separate building.—American Agriculturist.

Flowing Potato Ground.

When the potato field is plowed in the fall, a considerable number of fair sized tubers may usually be profitably gathered by a boy following the plow. The succeeding harrowing often uncovers many more potatoes, which should be gathered.

Valuable in Orchards.

The vetch or tare is found to be a good plant to grow in orchards, being sowed at the rate of about a bushel of seed per acre. The trees make an excellent growth, and the land is left in good condition.

ROAD IMPROVEMENT

ROAD METAL.

The Requirements Are That It Should Be Both Hard and Tough.

The material employed for a macadamized road should be both hard and tough. Hardness is that disposition of a solid which renders it difficult to displace its parts among themselves; thus steel is harder than iron, and diamond almost infinitely harder than any other substance in nature. The toughness of a solid is that quality by which it will endure heavy blows without breaking, is again distinct from hardness, though often confounded with it. It consists in a certain yielding of parts with a powerful general cohesion, and is compatible with various degrees of elasticity.

Some geological knowledge is requir ed to make a proper selection of materials. The most useful are those which are most difficult to break up. Such are the basaltic and trap rocks particularly those in which the hornblende predominates. The greenstones are very variable in quality. Flint or quartz rocks and all pure siliceous materials are improper for use, since though hard, they are brittle and deficient in toughness. Granite is generally bad, being composed of three heterogeneous materials, quartz, fispar and mica; the first of which is brittle, the second liable to decomposition, and the third laminated. The sienitic granites, however, which contain hornblende in the place of fispar are good, and better in proportion to their darkness of color. Gneiss is still inferior to granite, and mica-slate wholly inadmissable. The argillaceous slates make a smooth road, but one which decays very rapidly when wet. The sandstones are too soft. The limestone of the carboniferous and transition formations are very good, but other limestones, though they will make a smooth road very quickly, having a peculiar readiness in "binding," are too weak for heavy roads, and wear out very rapidly. In wet weather they are liable to be slippery. It is generally better economy to bring good material from a distance than to employ an inferior article obtainable close at hand.—Municipal World

The Ideal Country Road.

The ideal country road is the macadam. The first cost is heavy, but the resulted cost in time to repair at small expense, and ultimately saves to those who use it far more than it cost. The usual method of laying a macadam road is as follows: First, a layer of three to six inches of brown stone, about the size of one's fist, is put upon the graded roadbed in dry weather. After consolidation add successive layers until the desired thickness has been obtained—all the layers except the first to be put down in wet weather or saturated with water and rolled. Macadam's custom was to put three layers of broken stone to secure a depth of nine to ten inches. The cost of the construction varies chiefly according to the material used, distance of transportation and manner of putting down. A part of Randolph street was macadamized last year, and it furnishes a test of the cost of such work in the vicinity. After the roadbed had been put in the proper shape a course of broken limestone about eight thick was laid and solidly packed by sledging. On the top of this a course of finer stone, none larger than two inches in its largest dimensions, of about four inches thick was laid and thoroughly rolled with a fifteen ton roller. The top layer was kept sprinkled while being rolled, and it was rolled a second time. A thin layer of gravel or very fine stone was put over the top to act as a binding material. Limestone was used, although it is a little too soft to make the best roadway, because of the crumbling away. The cost was about $4,000 a mile.—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

SEASONABLE NOTES.

Some Hints That are of Value at this Time of Year.

In all places where a general collection of plants is maintained, there will be an abundance of work on hand in the green house as well as for the ornamental department. In many places slight frosts and lower temperatures have given ample warning of the approach of colder weather, so the cultivator should be very careful to have all plants placed beyond the reach of danger, and all half hardy plants such as hydrangeas, pomegranates, crape myrtles, etc., should be removed to their winter quarters before they are injured by excessive cold and wet. Green house or conservatory at this date should be properly arranged for the winter. If not, lose no time in placing everything in order, and in arranging the plants carefully study ing their requirements as to light, air and temperature. As this is the beginning of a new season under glass, it is advisable to give as much ventilation as possible every favorable opportunity offers; yet at the same time the proper temperature must be maintained. It is well to avoid fire heat as long as possible, but in continued cool or wet weather it must be employed. Close attention must be given to watering and syringing, and it is very important that all dead and decaying flowers and foliage be promptly removed.

In the flower garden and ornamental department constant attention will now be necessary to have everything as neat and attractive as possible. The lawn should be mown as often as necessary, says the Country Gentleman, and the walks cleaned and rolled. Remove all plants from the beds and borders as soon as they are much damaged by frost. Keep all beds and borders smooth and clean and their edges trimmed so that the beauty of the remaining plants may be fully enjoyed in the bright fall weather.

As soon as the first frosts have given a check to vegetation, the planting of ornamental trees and shrubs should be pushed forward as rapidly as possible so that the roots may get a start before the ground becomes frozen. The planting of hardy perennial plants should also be completed as early in the month as possible.

A Pointed Reply.

Reginald—What pet name do you call your father, Miss Laura?

Laura—Pop.

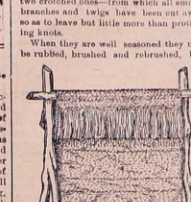

Reginald (tenderly)—And what pet name would you call me if I should ask you to marry me?

Laura—Popper.—Truth.

A Lovely Rustic Fire-screen.

One can see at a glance how the frame for this pretty rustic screen is fashioned from natural branches—two straight and two crotched ones—from which all smaller branches and twigs have been cut away, so as to leave but little more than protruding knots.

When they are well seasoned they must be rubbed, brushed and varnished, both with a soft brush and a stiff one, to remove from every crevice in the bark every loose particle of moss and dust. Then, with liquid gold, gild the bark all over; or, if preferred, gild only the bare wood where it is exposed at the ends and where the limbs are cut off, and give a touch of gold to every other protuberance; or, if a smoother finish is desired, remove all of the bark and smoothly gild or enamel the whole surface.

RUSTIC FIRE SCREEN.

The screen, suspended from the upper cross-piece, is a fringed silk rug woven on a hand-loom—as old fashioned carpets are woven. It falls freely from the top, its own weight keeping it in place; but it might be tied to the standards—half way down and at the upper corners—with bows of broad, soft ribbon, or with heavy tassel-tipped cords. Or a smaller rug, without fringe, might be bounded by gilt rings and furnished at the bottom with a row of tassels in mingled shades.

These screens are handsome, and are very useful where there are open fires, both in cold and warm weather, and they shield from the heat in the former, and as a screen for the open emptiness of the grate or fireplace in the latter. Painted, embroidered or appliqued banners of velvet, silk or cloth, or painted or gilded matting, may be used instead of the rug if desired.

Whitewash.

The following recipe makes much better whitewash than that made of lime and water: For interior work, slake a peck of lime till it is thick and creamy. While it is hot mix with it a pint of linseed oil and a pound of glue previously dissolved in water. Let the mixture stand several hours before applying it. A little lampblack dissolved in vinegar and mixed with whitewash gives a grayish tint, which may be preferable to pure white; a little umber gives a fawn color, and yellow a cream tint. Very little coloring matter should be used, or the shade will be too dark.

For outside work the oil and glue may be omitted, and to a pail of lime add a pound of salt to a peck of lime. It is claimed that salt and glue are the best ingredients to prevent rubbing off.

A good whitewash is made of whiting and glue. Mix 8 pounds of whiting with hot water till the compound is like thick cream. Mix with this ½ pound of glue thoroughly dissolved in water. Before applying this every crack in the wall should be filled with a putty made of one part of water to one part of silicate of potash, mixed with whiting.—Ohio Farmer.

A Made-Over Dish.

Made over dishes sometime have a spicy flavor which fresh ones miss. Stews are not to be despised, and even hash may be made delicious.

A stew which is really palatable may be made by cutting cold meat and potatoes into cubes about an inch square, adding a little cold tomato, and placing the whole on the back of the stove where it can heat slowly for an hour or so. About half an hour before it is to be served it should be moved forward on the stove and allowed to cook briskly. A little parsley or celery seed in addition to the pepper and salt gives a delicious flavor.

Desoronto Navigation Company (Limited

Steamer Ella Ross.

This fast sailing and comfortable steamer leaves Belleville for Trenton daily (Sunday excepted), at 10 a.m. Leaves Belleville for Picton and Pleasant Bay at 1 p.m., connecting at Desoronto with steamers for Napanee and Oswego. Lowest freight and passenger rates. For further information apply to the Rathbun Co., Belleville, Ont., or to R. C. Carter, General Manager Desoronto.

Catarrh—Use Nasal Balm Quick, positive cure Soothing, cleansing, healing

NORWAY PINE SYRUP cures Coughs.

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry cures Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cramps, Colic, Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum, and all looseness of the bowels. Never travel without it. Price 35c.

In parts of Peru taxes are paid in cocoa leaves and Peruvian opportunity

For coughs, colds, bronchitis and all lung and throat troubles, there is no preparation of medicine equal to Hickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup. It never fails to afford prompt and permanent relief. It removes all soreness, and heals the throat immediately on application, the most troublesome cough, and by promoting expectoration, removes the mucus which stops up the air cells and causes suffocation. In croup, it gives relief to that depressing tight mess experienced in the chest. Public speakers and singers will find Hickle's Anti Consumptive Syrup of inestimable value, as it speedily and effectually allays all irritation, and weakness in the throat and bronchial tubes, and gives power to the vocal cords, rendering the voice clear and sonorous. If parents wish to save the lives of their children, and themselves from much anxiety and sleepless nights, they should procure a bottle of Hickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup, and whenever a child has taken cold, has a cough or hoarseness, give the Syrup according to directions.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP heals the lungs.

A stinted wife can find a vest picket in the dark.

Ample warning is given us by our lungs when they are in danger. If loobarde enough to neglect the warning, we incur imminent peril. Check a cough at the outset with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil—which is a sovereign panacea—besides being a remedy for soreness, lameness, abrasions of the skin, tumors, piles, rheumatism, etc.

BROMO-SELTZER PILLS, small, safe, and sure, regulate the liver and cure constipation.

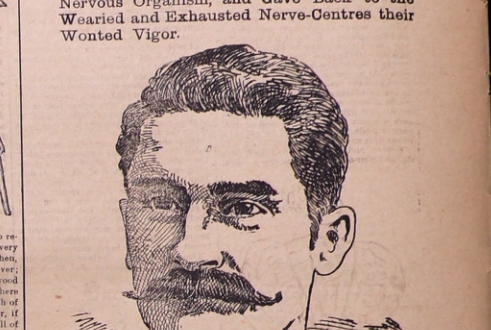

Robert Ludorck, Cedar Rapids, writes: "I have used Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil both for myself and family for Diptheria with the very best results. I regard it as the best remedy for this disease, and would use no other.

Holland is the only country in Europe that admits coffee free of duty.

DYSPEPSIA arises from wrong action of stomach, liver and bowels. Burdock Blood Bitters cures Dyspepsia and all diseases arising from it, 99 times in 100.

Goes to Europe for Treatment

Suffering For Years from Insomnia and Nervous Debility—Prostrated, Exhausted—No Vitality —No Rest Until "Nature's Sweet Restorer," South American Nervine Tonic, Built up the Nervous Organism, and Gave Back to the Wearied and Exhausted Nerve-Centres their Wonted Vigor.

ADOLPHE LABODIE, B.C.L., J.P., OF THE WELL-KNOWN LEGAL FIRM OF LABODIE & LABODIE, MONTREAL.

For four generations the remarkable family of LaBodie have been prominently identified with the legal and professional life of Montreal. A long line of active, intellectual men, whose ambition to rise to prominence meant a constant drain upon the nerve forces and a tremendous demand for brain power. Mr Adolphe LaBodie, B.C.L., J.P.,etc., has for seventeen years been actively engaged in the legal profession, living, as the duties of intellectual men of this fast age demand, beyond the reserve limit of natural nerve force, requiring more of the nerve centres at the base of the brain than they can possibly fulfil, which always results in nervous prostration, dyspepsia, hot flashes, insomnia, constipation, and attendant evils.

Mr. LaBodie spared neither time nor money to obtain relief, went to Europe for special treatment, all to no purpose. His attention being directed to South American Nervine Tonic, he concluded to try it. Result—immediate relief from insomnia, and a perfect and permanent cure from all other disorders, with but five bottles of the Nervine.

Mr. Adolphe LaBodie, under date of April 27th, writes from Montreal: —"I was suffering from insomnia and nervous debility; prostration and exhaustion, rather than rest, followed a night's experience. I took five bottles of South American Nervine, and am wholly recovered, and now enjoy restful nights. I have tried many remedies, have been treated in Europe, and can say with truthful emphasis that the South American nervine has cured me."

There is reason in all things; business reasons in business, truthful reasons in truth. Mr. LaBodie's statement herewith is the truthful reason why, if South American Nervine Tonic cured him, it will cure you. It is the nerve builder for brain workers. Brain and stomach cannot both work at the same time with healthful and happy issues. One must suffer. Intense intellectual activity produces indigestion because the brain is consuming all the nerve power. South American Nervine Tonic holds nature to a happy poise, and life and its duties swing to fruitful success.

Sold by L. W Yeomans and R. Templeton.

EVERY LADY WHO WANTS UNDERWEAR

and understands what pure wool is and appreciates exquisite finish buys the

"HEALTH BRAND,"

both for herself or children. These goods are made in Vests, Drawers, Tights and Combinations, and are kept by every first-class dry goods store.

THE MONTREAL SILK MILLS COMPANY, Ltd., MONTREAL.

OXFORD WOOD AND COAL FURNACES

..FOR ALL SIZES OF BUILDINGS..

Capacity from 10,000 to 80,000 Cubic Feet

OXFORD WOOD FURNACE

WOOD FURNACE

HEAVY GRATE, especially adapted for wood. Duplex Grate

Heavy Steel Plate Fire Box Dome

Large Heating Surface

Large Feed Door

Sectional Fire Pot

Patent Fire Pot Dumping Grate

DEEP ASH PIT

COAL FURNACE

Large Combustion Chamber

Long Fire Travel, encircling radiator

Large Heating Surface

Large Feed Door

Sectional Fire Pot

Patent Fire Pot Dumping Grate

DEEP ASH PIT

Full Guaranteed Capacity : Send for our CATALOGUE and TESTIMONIAL BOOK.

....Manufactured by....

The CURNEY FOUNDRY COMPANY Ltd., TORONTO.

TO THE PUBLIC.

When we decided to add the manufacture of carriages, phaetons, democrats, &c., to our business, we immediately put under construction a few of each. As we decided to place no vehicle on the market which is not A 1 in every detail, and knowing that no first-class vehicle can be produced on the rush, it has been necessary for us to take sufficient time to produce what we aimed at. We think we have succeeded; and we now have a few rigs completed, and others nearing completion to offer for sale. The iron work is all hand forged; the wood work carefully made, and strongly ironed; and the painting and upholstering done with the best material and greatest care. We can freely recommend these rigs. We will be pleased to have parties who may need anything in the above line, call and inspect our work.

ST. CHARLES & PRINGLE.

JAS ST CHARLES. HENRY PRINGLE

SUNLIGHT SOAP

Has proved by its enormous sale that it is

The best value for the Consumer

of any soap in the market.

Millions of women throughout the world can vouch for this, as it is they who have proved its value. It brings them less labor, greater comfort.

Belleville and Napanee, Office, Bridge St. Telephone A. 4.

COAL — AND — WOOD.

THOS. STEWART,

The only dealer in Scranton Coal in Belleville and Napanee. The very best facilities for delivering to any part of the city or surrounding towns this coal, which is the best and cheapest mined.

No Gas. No Clinkers. No Waste

Clean, quick, hot, strong, cheerful fire. Smithing, Cannell, Briar Hill, Run of Mine coal and Coal Screenings always on hand. Hard and soft wood, Blocks and Edgings delivered to any part of the City.

IT - HAS - BEEN - ADMITTED

BY OVER 125 PEOPLE IN BELLEVILLE THAT THE

John Bull Wrought Steel Range,

Is the most Economical, Everlasting and Useful Range on the market. How is this for three Seasons.

SEE THEM AT FOSTER'S.

Also the Duchess of Oxford Cast Iron Range

HAMILTON, TORONTO, AND MONTREAL.

Via Bay of Quinte, Calling at all Ports Weekly.

THE FAVORITE STEAMER

"MAGNET"

Leaves St. Catharines Tuesday 9 a. m.
" Toronto " 4 p. m.
Leaves Belleville for Montreal } Wednesday 7:30 a m
Leaves Belleville for Toronto } Sunday 8 p. m.

First Class Passenger Accommodation. Large Freight Capacity. Lowest Rates

For Tickets, Rates, &c., Apply to the RATHBUN COMPANY, Agents, or to

Capt. J. J. Towers, Superintendent, No. 2 King st., Toronto.
C. F. Gildersleeve, General Manager, 228 St. Paul st., Montreal.

ROCHESTER, KINGSTON AND MONTREAL

Weekly Service Calling at Way Ports

The People's Favorite Steamer.

"ALEXANDRIA"

Leaves Montreal, Thursday at 10:00 a. m.
Arrives Belleville, Saturday at 11:45 a. m.
Leaves for Rochester " 1:15 p. m.
Arrives from Rochester, Monday at 6:30 a m.
Leaves for Montreal, " " 7:30 a m.

Spacious and elegant Saloon. Ample State-room accommodation. The choicest and best Meals furnished. Safety, comfort and enjoyment ensured by personal supervision of Capt. Smith and Purser Melrose. Careful handling of freight.

For Tickets, State rooms at lowest rates apply to

THE RATHBUN COMPANY, Agents.

Bay of Quinte Steamb't Route

TRI-WEEKLY

DESER'TO, PICTON & KINGSTON

1894 - 1894

STR. "HERO"

THIS favorite steamer is now lighted by electricity and will have a strong search light for excursion business and the boat is heated by steam.

Commencing Monday, April 9th, will leave Belleville Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 6 a. m. returning Tuesday, Thursday and Friday at 11 p. m.

The very best facilities are offered to shippers of freight. The lowest through and local rates quoted.

No wharfage at Picton on freight for this steamer.

Full information given by Gilbert Johnston on board, or to the

RATHBUN COMY,
H. GILDERSLEEVE Ticket Agents.
Kingston.

ROCHESTER.

STEAMER

NORTH KING.

Leaves for Charlotte, N. Y., every Sunday, 11:45 p.m.

Leaves for Picton and Kingston every Sunday, 9:30 a. m.

Arrives from Picton and Kingston every Sunday, 11:45 p.m.

Arrives ron Charlotte, N. Y., every Sunday, 2:30 a. m.

Special attention given to passengers and freight.

WEEK DAYS.—Steamer leaves Port Hope week days for Charlotte, N. Y., at 9:45 a m.

Calls at Brighton Monday 2 a.m., and Wednesday 2.30 a.m., and at Colborne Wednesday and Fridays 4 a.m.

Connection made by Grand Trunk morning trains.

The Rathbun Co, U. E. Thompson, 43tf Agents. Agent.

STEAMER VARUNA

A. HICKS, Captain

WILL leave Trenton every morning, (Sunday excepted) at 7:00 o'clock, calling at Redperville and all points between the head of the bay and Picton, leaving Belleville at 8:30 a.m., leaves at 10:20 a.m.

On Tuesday and Thursday evenings to meet North King at Brighton, returning will leave Brighton Wednesday and Saturday morning at 5:30.

Will connect at Picton with stage for Sand Banks.

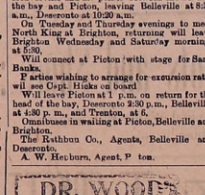

For rates wishing to arrange for excursion rates will see Capt. Hicks on board.

Will leave Picton at 1 p.m. on return for the head of the bay, Deseronto 2:30 p.m., Belleville, at 4:30 p. m., and Trenton, at 6.

Omnibuses in waiting at Picton, Belleville and Brighton.

The Rathbun Co., Agents, Belleville and Deseronto.

A. W. Hepburn, Agent, P ton.

Pitch in the long-healing virtues of the Pine combined with the soothing and expectorant properties of other pectoral herbs and barks.

A PERFECT CURE FOR
COUGHS AND COLDS

Hoarseness, Asthma, Bronchitis, Sore Throat, Croup and all THROAT, BRONCHIAL and LUNG DISEASES. Obstinate coughs which resist other remedies yield promptly to this pleasant pine syrup.

PRICES 25c. AND 50c. PER BOTTLE.
SOLD BY ALL DEALERS.

INSURANCE.

Western Assurance Company,
Fire and Marine Head Office, Toronto.

North British & Mercantile Ins. Co.,
Fire and Life, Head Office (Can.) Montreal.

Atlas Insurance Company,
Fire Head Office (Canada), Montreal

M. M THOMPSON
Water Works Office, Bridge St.

Steamer "Iona"

Will eave Belleville three times each week for Oswego, connecting with trains for New York

RIBBONS!

We have an extra large stock of Ribbons on hand in all the light and fancy shades including

BABY RIBBONS,
SILK " "
SATIN " "
MOIRE " "
ETC., - ETC.

Our prices are the lowest, and we will be pleased to have you give us a call whenever wanting Ribbons.

SILK ELASTICS . . .

We have a splendid stock of Fancy Silk Elastic, made in Yellow, Blue, Green, Orange, Cardinal, Black, Pink, Mauve, White. All one price, 25c yard, at

THE BEEHIVE

CHAS. N. SULMAN

Daily Intelligencer.

At Death's Door—Dyspepsia Conquered —A Great Medical Triumph.

Gentlemen,—My medical adviser and others told me I could not possibly live when I commenced to use Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery for Dyspepsia. My case was one of the worst of the kind. For three years I could not eat meat and my weight decreased from 219 to 119 lbs. All the food I took for thirteen months previous to taking the Vegetable Discovery consisted of milk. I am now entirely cured and have regained my natural weight, can eat anything with a keen relish and feel like a new man. I have sold over thirty dozen Vegetable Discovery since it cured me, as I am well known, and people in this section know how low I was, and thought I could not possibly be cured. They are eager to try this grand medicine It certainly saved my life, as I never expected to recover when first I commenced using it. I am not exaggerating anything but feel glad to be able to contribute this testimonial and trust it may be the means of convincing others of its merits as a certain cure for Dyspepsia.

Signed JEAN VALCOURT,
Wotton, P. Q.

In 1888 the people of Great Britain paid taxes on 492,200 carriages.

Is there anything more annoying than having your corn stepped upon! Is there anything more delightful than getting rid of it? Hollaway's Corn Cure will do it. Try it and be convinced.

In Portugal the tobacco tax brings £900,000, the land tax £700,000.

Some people laugh to show their pretty teeth. The use of Ivory White Tooth Powder makes people laugh more than ever. It's so nice. Price 25c. Sold by druggists.

Worms cause feverishness, moaning and restlessness during sleep. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator is pleasant, sure and effectual. If your druggist has none in stock, get him to procure it for you.

The rate of taxation has nearly quadrupled in France since 1830.

Dyspepsia causes dizziness, headache, constipation, variable appetite, rising and souring of food, palpitation of the heart, distress after eating. Burdock Blood Bitters is guaranteed to cure Dyspepsia if faithfully used according to directions.

Until about forty years ago, the Persian Government levied a tax on oats.

Mr. T. J. Humes, Columbus, Ohio, writes: 'I have been afflicted for some time with kidney and Liver Complaint, and find Farmelee's Pills the best medicine for these diseases. These Pills do not cause pain or griping, and should be used when a cathartic is required. They are Gelatine Coated, and rolled in the Flour of Licorice to preserve their purity and give them a pleasant, agreeable taste.

Norway Pine Syrup cures Bronchitis.

For cholera morbus, Cholera Infantum Cramps, Colic, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, and Summer Complaint Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is a prompt, safe and sure cure that has been a popular favorite for over 40 years.

Camping Supplies!

AND

Picnic - Requisites!

Our list of articles suitable for Picnic Lunches and Camping includes:

Canned Meats.

ARMOUR'S COOKED BEEF,
ARMOUR'S OX TONGUES,
ARMOUR'S LUNCH TONGUES,
ARMOUR'S POTTED HAM,
ARMOUR'S COOKED PIG FEET'
ARMOUR'S LUNCHEON MEAT.
ARMOUR'S POTTED TONGUE
ARMOUR'S BRAWN.
SANDWICH MEATS,
BONELESS CHICKEN
BONELESS TURKEY,
POTTED BEEF,
POTTED GAME,
ETC.! ETC.!! ETC!

Canned Fish.

FINEST SARDINES IN OIL,
FINEST SARDINES IN TOMATO,
HERRINGS IN TOMATO SAUCE,
KIPPERED HERRINGS,
FRESH HERRINGS.
SALMON, LOBSTERS,
FINNAN HADDIES,
BLOATER PASTE,
ANCHOVY PASTE,
SARDINE PASTE,
ETC.! ETC.! ETC.!!

Sundries.

Condensed Milk in Tins, Cream in Tins, Biscuits (in great variety), Fine old Cheese, McLaren's Imperial Cheese (in small crocks), Dried Beef, Choice Hams and Bacon, Lime Juice, Spanish Olives, CROSSE & BLACKWELL'S Pickled White Onions, Walnuts. Chow Chow, and and Mixed Pickles.

WALLBRIDGE & CLARKE

Grocers and Wine Merchants,
33 and 37 Bridge Street. Also Front Street, in Caldwell Building.

REMOVAL

MR. JOSEPH CALDWELL, DENTIST

Has removed his office to the new premises which he has had specially fitted up in the

Caldwell Block,

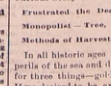

First door south of the Anglo-American Hotel Front street. 108tf

ALL ABOUT THE NUTMEG

HERE'S A COLUMN WORTH READING AND REMEMBERING.

Curious Story of the Dutch—How Nature Frustrated the Design of an Old-Time Monopolist—Tree, Flower and Nut—Methods of Harvesting.

In all historic ages men have dared the perils of the sea and desert in the search for three things—gold, gems and spices. If we desired to be extremely learned we could doubtless formulate an indisputable array of authorities, proving that Hamilcar, the Carthaginian, in his voyage of African circumnavigation, stored the holds of his galleys with all sorts of aromatic products. We might dig out of Herodotus quotations showing how the Lydians, Carians, Phœnicians and Egyptians bartered bags of spices for gold of Darics and staters. We might even read with the aid of Martyrs and Champollion, in the hieroglyphics of the rock tombs of Thebes and Pylæ, the receipts for the curing of the citizens of Heliopolis and Karnak in baths of natron, cinnamon, cloves and pepper. We are content, however, to point out the fact that spice and perfumes have always divided honors with gold and jewels.

A RIPE NUTMEG.

Leaving to the fanciful Spaniard the search for the Western El Dorado, the more practical Dutchman devoted himself to the accumulation of the riches to be gathered from the clove, cinnamon and nutmeg trees—mines whose treasures are renewed from season to season.

The thrifty Dutch soon speedily discovered the enormous value of the nutmeg. They found it growing plentifully on all of the Moluccan archipelago; but as they had especially established their power over the Banda Group, and as the nut had become instantly a most valuable commodity, they resolved to secure the monopoly of so profitable an article. Your Dutchman does not think quickly; but once he has made up his mind, he is not to be diverted from his aim. The Dutch merchant of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries was a soldier and sailor, as well as a trader. In order to keep the nutmeg supply in his own hands, he headed armed expeditions, to all the adjacent islands, and, after conquering them, made a condition of his treaty of peace that all nutmeg trees should be destroyed, and no more grown. Jan Van Evertsen, a Dutch writer of the seventeenth century, records that on one of these forays the victorious leader compelled the natives, first, to chop down all their nutmeg trees, and next, to pile upon the fallen trunks all of the nuts in the possession of the people. "There were several piles," says Evertsen, "as large as good-sized houses, and they used ladders for to carry the baskets to be emptied atop. They were veritable small mountains; and I have seen many a church-en Holland of less size than those accumulations of nuts, which were burned to ashes with a most odorous smell."

But Dutch arms and Dutch greed could not oppose the will of nature. In the Moluccan Archipelago there is a bird which feeds upon the fresh mace, or second envelope of the nutmeg. It is called the "nutmeg pigeon." In order to secure the mace, which clings firmly to the nut, this bird carries away both envelope and nut to its nest; which, as it is a creature of long flight, may be upon an adjacent island, or even upon the distant mainland. Having stripped off the mace, the bird drops the nut, with its fructifying germ, upon the rich soil, where it immediately sprouts, takes root, and, in the course of time, becomes a fruitful tree. At the present time, though the Banda Group still produces a large proportion of the world's supply, many thousand pounds are annually exported from the East Indies at large and from Hindostan.

The nutmeg-tree somewhat resembles our hardy pear, and seldom reaches more than thirty-five or forty feet in height. The flowers are pale yellow, and are very similar in size and shape to lilies of the valley. The leaves are large, averaging six inches in length, dark green, polished on the upper surface; and grayish beneath. As leaves, flowers and fruit are all richly odorous, the atmosphere in the neighborhood of a nutmeg-grove is constantly laden with a delightful and characteristic perfume. So persistent and penetrating is this perfume that it is readily perceived on ships passing twenty miles off the coast.

The fruit is round, and as about as large as a moderate-sized apple; or, to be more exact, nearly three inches in diameter. The outer portion is a thick, fleshy rind, very similar to that which surrounds the hickory-nut. Inside of this is the husk, a sort of rough, thready substance, of a brilliant scarlet when first opened, but soon changing to a yellowish brown as it dries on exposure to the air. This husk is the mace of commerce. When this is stripped off, there is left a hard, thin, dark brown shell, covering the seed, or nutmeg proper.

LEAF AND FLOWER ON THE NUTMEG TREE.

The outer rind splits into two nearly equal parts when the nut is ripe and is thrown away as valueless; but in some parts of the Moluccas the rind is peeled off in its green and juicy state, and made into a species of sweetmeat with honey or sugar.

Though the flower and fruit are upon the tree together at all seasons, the nut is harvested in July, November and April; in the last-named month both mace and nut are in their utmost perfection. A healthy tree will produce, at a single harvest, about six pounds of nuts and two pounds of mace. The fruit is commonly gathered by hand, by means of small wicker baskets at the end of long, bamboo poles; the outer rind is removed, and the mace carefully separated with a knife. The mace is dried in the sun, or, in the rainy season, by artificial heat; it is flattened between the hands, making what the housewives know as blades of mace. After it has assumed the proper bronze, or ochre-yellow color, it is dipped in salt water to preserve it, dried again and finally packed in boles and bags for export.

The nuts themselves are placed upon small wire nets, or grates, over a mild fire, sufficient to dry, without roasting, them. This is a process requiring care and patience, taking about fifty or sixty days to complete. When the nut rattles in the thin, inner shell, the operation is supposed to be complete. The shell is then knocked off with a mallet or mallet. A solution of lime and water, of the thickness of milk, is prepared, and the nuts are dipped into it, the object being to prevent the attacks of beetles and grubs, and also the sprouting of the nut, which spoils its usefulness. The feathery white coating which you observe upon the nutmegs of commerce is due to this lime solution. A nutmeg which lacks this coating may be suspected of being of inferior quality, perhaps the acrid South American variety.

SOME APPLE RECIPES.

Delicious Dishes That Are Particularly Seasonable.

The fresh autumn crop of apples is just entering the market, and receipts for the use of this wholesome and cheap fruit are very much in order. The ways of preparing them for the table are as the stars in number, and each one of them is good and nutritious, and few of them expensive or troublesome.

APPLE SOUP.

Begins the dinner very pleasantly, and is simple and easy to make. To two cups of stewed apples add two cups of cold water. Set over the fire until the apple is dissolved and very soft. Mix two teaspoonfuls of corn starch in a little cold water, and add to this two teaspoonfuls of sugar, a salt spoonful of ground cinnamon and a pinch of salt; stir into smooth paste and add to the apples, stirring all the while. Let it boil for five minutes and strain it into a hot tureen. Just before serving it sprinkle a handful of hot buttered sippets into the tureen.

A nice dish for breakfast or luncheon is made by coring and peeling several large tart apples. Cut slices right across the apples, so that they make rings about a quarter of an inch thick. Let these lie a few minutes in ice water. Then dip them in sugar and fry quickly in hot butter. They make a delightful relish. One of the very nicest of the many puddings made of apples is the

APPLE TAPIOCA.

Core and pare six apples fully ripe. Set these in a pudding dish; fill the hollow of each apple with powdered sugar and stick into the pulp three cloves. Sprinkle around the fruit six tablespoonfuls of large pearl tapioca; squeeze a little lemon juice on each apple and pour two cups of cold water into the dish. If this is cooked very slowly for an hour and a half the tapioca will form a delicate jelly around the apples, and served lukewarm (not hot) with cream will be found very good. It is a dish perfectly wholesome for children and invalids.

APPLE TURNOVERS

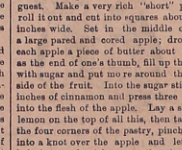

Are nice to serve at a luncheon party, enough being made to serve one to each guest. Make a very rich "short" pastry, roll it out and cut into squares about five inches wide. Set in the middle of each a large pared and cored apple; drop into each apple a piece of butter about as big as the end of one's thumb, fill up the hole with sugar and put more around the outside of the fruit. Into the sugar stick two inches of cinnamon and press three cloves into the flesh of the apple. Lay a slice of lemon on the top of all this, then take up the four corners of the pastry, pinch them into a knot over the apple and let them take in a good quick oven so that the pastry may be well browned, but they must have time to be well done. This way of doing apples is very rich and good. They may be eaten either with or without cream.

APPLE SNOW

is one of the best of the cold dishes for luncheon. Dissolve half a box of gelatine in a cup of cold water. Pass three heaping cups of stewed apples through a sieve, sweeten and flavor with lemon juice and cinnamon and mix with the jelly. Whip a pint of sweet, rich cream and stir it lightly into the fruit. Heap this into a glass dish and set it into the refrigerator until ready to serve.

Artistic Doily Borders.

The accompanying illustrations are designed for borders to be worked upon doilies, tray cloths, tidies, or any of their near relatives, in outline stitch with wash silk of any desirable shade. Very little explanation is needed, as the illustrations speak quite plainly for themselves. The little pansies and daisies are conventional in design, but it will add greatly to their artistic effect if they are not all "twins," but are made to vary in some slight details. The pansy faces may not toward each other further on in the border, thus relieving the "sameness" of any absolutely conventional pattern. It takes but a little taste and skill to make this variation, and the effect gained will more than repay one's work. In the case of the daisies, a petal or two twisted, here and there, relieves the stiffness greatly. The interwining stems form a beautiful inside finish to the border. The fancy stitching on the outside edge may vary almost indefinitely, the illustrations suggesting two styles. Of course, if one has not the "gift" of making one's pencil obey one's fancies, the little variations in the border can be omitted, and it can be made simply a repetition throughout of one little daisy blossom or pansy face. The design is sketched or stamped upon the linen with colored crayon or a soft pencil.

ARTISTIC DOILY BORDER.

Things Worth Knowing.

About a tablespoonful of coal oil put into a quart of cold water makes a nice preparation for washing windows. Wipe dry first with a damp cloth, then rub dry with a dry cloth, and the glass will polish like a piece of China.

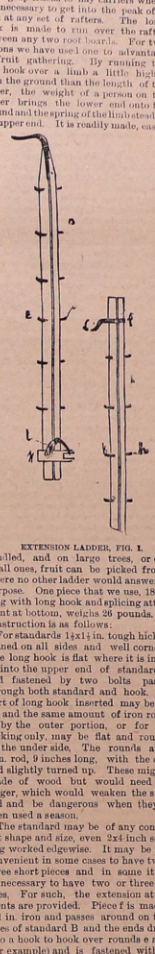

A rug made of coarse sacking, such as that in which phosphate is sold, has a very pretty effect. Cut the sacking in about four-inch strips; ravel it down to four threads; sew these strips on closely to a firm foundation. The effect is very much like a gray fur rug.

FARM AND GARDEN.

AN EXTENSION LADDER.

Two Views of a Handy One That Can Be Made at Home.

Fig. 1 shows a ladder that is made for putting up tracks to hay carriers where it is necessary to get into the peak of a barn at any set of rafters. The long hook is made to run over the rafter between any two roof boards. For two seasons we have used one to advantage in fruit gathering. By running the long hook over a limb a little higher from the ground than the length of the ladder, the weight of a person on the ladder brings the lower end onto the ground and the spring of the limb steadies the upper end. It is readily made, easily handled, and on large trees, or even small ones, fruit can be picked from it where no other ladder would answer the purpose. One piece that we use, 18 feet long with long hook and splicing attachment at bottom, weighs 26 pounds. Its construction is as follows:

EXTENSION LADDER, FIG. I.

For standards 1¼x1 in. tough hickory planed on all sides and well cornered. The long hook is flat where it is inserted into the upper end of standard A, and fastened by two bolts passing through both standard and hook. The part of long hook inserted may be ⅝x1¼ in. and the same amount of iron rounded by the outer portion, or for fruit picking only, may be flat and rounded on the under side. The rounds are of ⅝ in. rod, 9 inches long, with the outer end slightly turned up. These might be made of wood but would need to be larger, which would weaken the standard and be dangerous when they had been used a season.

The standard may be of any convenient shape and size, even 2x4 inch scantling worked edgewise. It may be more convenient in some cases to have two or three short pieces and in some it may be necessary to have two or three long ones. For such, the extension attachments are provided. Piece f is made of 1¼x1 in. iron and passes around on three sides of standard B and the ends drawn into a hook to hook over rounds e and c (for example) and is fastened with one bolt passing through standard. The piece j is of 1x2 in. iron and in a similar way passes around standard A. The ends are crotched so as to admit rounds h and k and is fastened to standard with one bolt.

Hook i drops over round k and a corresponding one on the opposite side drops over round h, which, of course, is the other end of round k, but lettered for convenience. These attachments must be the same distance above and below the last round on the standard, as the rounds are apart so that they will fit one place as well as another.

EXTENSION LADDER, FIG. II.

Another convenience I have to-day been using with much satisfaction. We had a ladder that had been on the place at least twenty years. The side pieces were white ash 2x4 at bottom and tapered from bottom to top, and 12 feet long. One rainy day the past summer (we had a very few such) I took it into the shop and re-dressed the side pieces and rimmed the holes from the inside tapering. I turned all new large rounds out of seasoned white ash and hickory and fitted each end to a certain hole and put a rod with a bur on one end through toward each end of the ladder and drew the side pieces onto the rounds until they were as firm as the spokes in a new wheel. I then painted it, which made it good for another twenty years.

To-day I was picking pears from a standard tree, and a high standard, too, which was heavily loaded and the small limbs spread so that neither the extension ladder above described nor the 6 foot step ladder were available. I took two 2x3 inch by 12 feet, sawed out two pieces, and fastened to the top of the the 12 foot ladder as shown in Fig. 2. I put on three cross pieces ¾ inch thick and fitted in an X for brace. Cross piece p is only long enough to allow the side piece to turn freely on bolt o. Piece r is 4 feet long and piece q short enough to draw the side pieces a little to that point.

I like this ladder because I can stand on the highest round and reach the otherwise tantalizing fruit 18 feet from the ground. It took two of us only about twenty minutes to put on the whole thing, and when not needed can be quickly removed by taking out the two bolts tone on each side at top and fold up in a dry place until another fruit season.—E. E. Boyne, in Ohio Farmer.

THE HARROW.

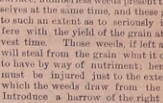

Its Free Use Advocated by Prof. Thomas Shaw of Minnesota.

The harrow has never been used to anything like the extent to which it ought to be in our systems of agriculture. The necessities of some of the prairie soils of the far west are compelling many of the farmers to do what science and good judgment should have taught them long ago. I refer to the harrowing of the grain after it has appeared above the surface of the ground. Owing to the persistence with which they have grown wheat on the same lands from year to year, these lands are becoming very foul with weeds. Two ways of cleaning them have been resorted to. The first is through the instrumentality of the bare fallow, and the second is through the free use of the harrow after the grain has appeared above the surface of the ground. The latter practice has not been resorted to very generally, but some farmers have tried it, and with results that are most encouraging.

When the grain appears above the surface, numberless weeds present themselves at the same time, and these grow to such an extent as to seriously interfere with the yield of the grain at harvest time. These weeds, if left alone, will steal from the grain what it ought to have by way of nutriment; hence it must be injured just to the extent to which the weeds draw from the soil. Introduce a harrow of fine tooth make at such a time. The teeth will put those weeds into a tribulation from which they will never recover. The whole surface of the ground will be so stirred that the weeds which are shallow rooted at such a time, will be torn from their place, and in consequence will perish in the hot rays of the sunshine. Another advantage follows. The surface of the ground having been thus stirred and mouldered, the dust blanket formed in this way arrests the ascension of ground moisture; that is to say, it prevents its escape, and holds it for the advantage of the crop.—Thomas Shaw, Minn. Ex. Station.

A Farmer's Gate.

"I send you a style of farmer's gate," writes a subscriber of the Country

FARMER'S GATE.

Gentleman; "it is made from the woods at small cost except the labor, and cannot sag in use."

The heel post has a rod or pivot turning in a hole in a stone. The upper bar is mortised into the right-hand branch of it and the uprights are mortised into the top bar. The horizontal slats are of split poles.

Restoring Fertility.

"Having rented out 30 acres of my land for several years, it having been planted in corn each year, was almost unfit for anything. I concluded to try to restore it to productiveness. I sowed it in wheat, then in the spring in clover. When I cut my wheat I found a very poor stand of clover. On July 20 I began to plow again for wheat, using rolling coulters and chains, so as to hide everything in the way of the drill. I began to sow my wheat Sept. 10. When I cut this wheat I had about a half stand of clover. In September following I sowed in wheat again, having begun my plowing on July 25. The plowing under the clover seemed to make the ground fresh and new. After cutting this third crop of wheat I had a perfect stand of clover.

"The first crop of wheat yielded about eight bushels per acre the second crop yielded twenty-two bushels, and the third crop twenty-eight bushels per acre.

"This, the fourth year, I have planted the thirty acres in corn, having plowed the land in the fall and, notwithstanding the severe drought, I have a splendid prospect for a first-class corn.

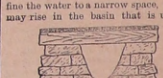

"I do heartily recommend plowing under clover as a fertilizer."—W. H. Glasscock in Journal of Agriculture.

Sub-Soiling.

We think it most advantageous to subsoil just before the ground freezes up; so that there will be no beating rains on it before freezing solid. Under these conditions the soil is most befitted and is filled with moisture by the winter snows melting and gradually working into the ground. If the ground can then be seeded in the spring before it is beaten down so that the roots can get growth downward with the gradual settling, ideal conditions of growth are furnished for a vegetation of all kinds. No soil is nicer to work than well-subsoiled land just after the frost has left it and before beating rains have impacted it.—The Homestead.

An Improved Culvert.

A correspondent of Good Roads sends to tha; journal the sketch which we reproduce. "The object of making a culvert in this shape," he says, "is to confine the water to a narrow space, that it may rise in the basin that is usually found on the upper side of the road, thus causing depth, volume and force, to carry through the culvert any sediment that may have accumulated in it, and also to prevent the water from freezing in winter. In use it proves to be a success."

AN IMPROVED CULVERT.

The roads and highways of many of the states of the union are in such a wretched condition that the general prosperity of the country is actually impeded thereby. The whole subject is one of which there is so much ignorance that any scheme for a more comprehensive knowledge leading ultimately to better roads and highways is welcome.—N. Y. Recorder.

A Cause for Unnecessful Expenditures.

The erroneous idea that the evils of an undrained, wet, clayey soil can be remedied by a large quantity of material has caused a large part of the costly and unsuccessful expenditures in making broken-stone roads.

A DRESS FOR AUTUMN.

WHEN THE LEAVES BEGIN TO TURN DON THE NEW DRESS.

A Dress Having the Latest Sleeve Novelties of the Season—A Skirt With Round Graceful Drapery—The Style of the Trimmings and the Materials Used.

When the leaves have begun to turn one doesn't like to go about in one's essentially summer gowns, no matter how fluffy and pretty they are nor how becoming, nor in what good taste they have been conceived and executed. When cool breezes have begun to blow, and chilly nights and mornings are abroad, the woman who appreciates the fitness of things begins to busy herself about the arrangement of her autumn wardrobe. Indeed, if she is a clever and far-sighted woman, she will have that arrangement well under way before those chilly hours have come, because certain sad experiences have taught her how busy a dressmaker is in "the season," and how absolutely impossible it is to secure the service of one at a moment's or even at a month's, notice. Woman's work may be overcrowded — some people say it is—but the fact remains that the demand for dressmaking exceeds the supply. Women who dress ever so little—buying, perhaps, two suits a year—are often put to their wits' end to get their dresses properly made at the time when they are most needed. Very busy women are usually so pressed for time that it is a difficult matter to plan their gowns ahead, and arrange for their construction; but a series of continued sad experiences will soon convince them that they must make time for this important duty if they will create for themselves any of the convenience and enjoyment that comes from the wearing of appropriate dress.

CORRECT STREET DRESS.

Any woman who wants to make a good appearance will never wear a gown the second season without a bit of freshening, but if this is properly done it is usually all that is necessary among those in the plainer walks of life. An appropriate fall wrap —it may be a last year's garment with a few clever alterations—is added early to the fall costume, which is never complete, or, in fact, safe, without it, as the temperature soon begins to vary so much that on going out one should at least carry a jacket with her for contingencies. The gloves and hoots should be thicker than those used for mid-summer wear. The divided skirt and Union suit should be of somewhat warmer material; in fact, every effort should be made to prepare the appearance and the person for the expected change in the barometer.

The material known as crepon has been by far the most popular of any of the fabrics affected this summer, and bids fair to continue so in its accentuated forms for the fall and winter. This stuff has a peculiarly artistic quality, which endears it to all lovers of the beautiful. Its original manufacturer must have made a fortune out of it by this time, for it is affected in its different qualities by all classes of people. It is now made in a silk and-wool mixture, a plain wool, a mohair, and a cotton. Some of it is almost transparent, and other qualities are thick and heavy.

One of the chief novelties of the season is observed in the sleeve used in the costume shown in the illustration. This natty adjunct to an elegant fall gown is a happy diversion from the hackneyed mutton-leg, and shows a style entirely new and graceful. The over-part of the sleeve is open from elbow to shoulder, showing a wide flare at the top like an epaulette. A puffing of silk begins at the elbow and fills in the sleeve with its soft, ample folds to the shoulder. From elbow to wrist the sleeve is close-fitting, and garnished with three buttons. Nothing so attractive or original has been devised for a long time. The gown itself is of corn-flower blue cheviot, combined with blue silk showing cardinal figures. The waist is a stylish Eton jacket worn over a full, soft vest of the silk, and finished with a silk stock belt and collar of the same style. The skirt is a double one, with a round, graceful drapery which reaches the foot of the gown in front, and is short and full in the back. An effective embroidery in cardinal and blue on cloth forms the stylish revers of the jacket. The hand trimming that edges sleeves and drapery is of the same material.—Jeness Miller Monthly.

A Life Work.

The farmer gazed proudly at his book. It represented the work of a lifetime. "There is a great deal of interest in it," he said. He had not written it for fame, but he knew his children and his children's children would gaze reverently upon its pages long after he was dust. It was not the memoirs of an uneventful life. Its title was on its cover: "John Hayes in account with Barnes' Corners Savings Bank."

And every penny honest, was his thought. No; he had never taken in summer boarders.—Puck.

Asking Too Much.

Mrs. Culture, of Boston, had been making inquiries about the healthfulness of the place.

"No," replied the summer boarding-house keeper snappishly, "no, we ain't got no typhoid germs, and there hain't been no calls for 'em, either. Folks is wanting everything now a days, and ain't satisfied with clean beds and plenty of what's good to eat."—Texas Siftings.

A Testimonial.

"To the Hirzooting Hair Vigor Company: Gentlemen—Three years ago my hair began coming out in handfuls. With in a year I was as bald as a fried egg. Then I heard of your remarkable remedy and began using it, and it is sufficient testimony to its powers to say that I am now the candidate of the Populist party for a seat in the Legislature."—Indianapolis Journal.

FIXING THE COUNTRY ROADS.

Uncle Corners—Finished s'vayin' the road to Puckerbrush yit?

N. Gineer—Ye-up.

Uncle Corners—What do you make it?

N. Gineer—Four miles long, four rods wide and four feet deep.—Puck.

PRETTY ROADSIDES.

A Wide-Awake Woman Offers Several Sensible Suggestions.

Now that the newspapers are agitating the subject of good roads, would it not be advisable to say a word in regard to roadsides? The city people advocate good roads, especially the bicycle element which is rapidly increasing. What shall we do with those who disfigure our roadsides by dumping all the refuse of their back yards and pantries, consisting of broken crockery, old tinware, tin cans, etc., by the country roadside without leave or license? One of the beautiful mountain roads leading from the neighboring city, which has been widened and improved at considerable expense to the town, as it is a popular and pleasant drive, has been made such a dumping ground that, although the trees grow beautifully on either side, you can hardly find a spot of ground which is not covered with back yard refuse. If these people who consider the whole country free, would dig a hole and bury such refuse out of sight, or dump it in a hole and shovel a little earth over it, doubtless nature would soon conceal their broken treasure. But at present, it is not a pleasant sight for country people or anyone else, and this practice should be discontinued. There is very little to encourage country people to beautify their roadsides. For instance, there is a case very near home of a farmer having about half a mile of land fronting a public street, who has taken a certain amount of pride in picking up all the stones and smoothing off the land by the roadside so that it is green and level. Too level, in fact, so that people will turn down on to it and drive right straight up through past the front gate, cutting deep ruts, not only during the springtime when the roads are muddy, but in the warm weather if the roads are a trifle dusty. Of course the people who do this have their own roadsides dug out in holes from which they cart soil to the barnyard, or covered with heaps of stone picked up from the farm. The road is always kept in good repair, but there is a certain lawlessness about such things in the country that is discouraging to improvements and exasperating to would be improvers.—Alice E. Pinney, in Rural New Yorker.

Roads in Europe.

To an American visiting Europe there is nothing more impressive than the general excellence of the roads. Their climate is more rainy than ours, and their roads, under the same conditions, would probably be even worse than those usually met with in America. But in England, in France, in Germany, and in Switzerland, everywhere one goes, the excellence of the roads is a constant source of surprise to one visiting those countries. During the last summer it was my fortune to take a long drive in the Alps. The party was made up of six persons. A coach was employed for the whole trip. We were thirty-three days in the coach, and during that time we went over four of the great passes and traveled nearly a thousand miles. But the matter of chief significance to those interested in good roads is the fact that, although we drove from twenty-five to fifty miles a day for more than a month in these mountainous regions, the whole trip was done with one team of horses. No change was made, and none was needed. More than that, it was our opinion that the horses were in better condition at the end of August than they had been at the beginning of the trip, a little after the middle of July. Could there be any more significant commentary on the quality of the roads? What would be the condition of a team of horses in midsummer in America which had been driven over mountain roads at the rate of twenty-five to fifty miles a day for six days in a week?—C. K. Adams, President of Cornell University.

The Queen's Highway.

It is well known that for soft or sandy ground the broad tire is much better than the narrow one. It does no sink so deeply, for which reason the same load can be drawn with less horse power. On all soft roads and soft stretches the owner of the vehicle would find the tire proportioned in width to the weight of the load to be decidedly to his own advantage in the motion force to be expended, while on the hard roads he would be no worse off, though abstaining from the commission of a great injury on the street pavements. On all kinds of pavements the narrow tire works so much mischief that its speed is out of all proportion to the amount of money necessary to make the change in the wheels. It is a moderate estimate to place the shortening of the life of a pavement by narrow tires at one third.

An Apt Simile.

"Well, old man, how does the Mayor's wife dance?"

"Horribly. She's as unimpressionable as a fire-proof safe."—Fliegende Blaetter.

Just as Good.

Higbee—By Jove, old man, you are looking extremely well. Been taking a vacation?

Bradford—No; my wife has.—Judge.

Reconcilable.

The President editor—I neither drink, smoke, nor play cards.

The Dear Girl—Do you think I'm going to marry a freak?—Life.

The Reason Why.

Mrs. Bogby—Why are you crying so, Lucie dear? Is someone you loved dead?

Lucie—W—worse. He—he's married. —Judge.

The Dilatory Season.

When winter lingers in the lap of spring,
Most doleful are the songs the poets sing.
But there is greater coldness, after all,
When summer lingers in the lap of fall.
—Washington Star.

LOOKED UP WEBSTER'S.

AND FOUND WHAT A TRICK HIS IGNORANCE HAD PLAYED.

A Young Woman, Her Young Man, and the Cook Whose "Bones Were Ossifying"—He Wasn't Quite Clear on the Word and So He Floundered.

They were sitting in the parlor of a West Side house and the conversation was dragging somewhat. They had exhausted all the available social topics, had taken a dip into literature by criticising some of the latest novels, had discussed the summer resorts and the prospects for a good fall season, talked a bit about the theatres and had decided it seem to be rather slow.

After an embarrassing pause of five minutes, the girl said: "We have got the funniest cook. She says the most killing things."

"Yes," put in the young man, interestedly.

"Yes, she is a crank about sickness. Every day she has some new sickness. As a matter of fact, she is a great buxom woman, strong and healthy as can be, but she imagines she has one foot in the grave."

"Must keep her busy finding symptoms," said the young man.

"Indeed it does, and some of her complaints are very laughable. Why, the other day she came and told me she felt perfect seriousness that her bones were ossifying."

The young man looked puzzled. He laughed a little, though, and said: "What a remarkable complaint. I don't suppose it was true, do you?" The young woman's face took on a pained expression. "I said she said her bones were ossifying," she remarked.

"So I understood. And I asked if it was true."

The young woman passed her hand wearily over her forehead. She looked at the young man pityingly, and said: "I am afraid you do not yet understand the drift of my remark. I said the cook came to me and told me that her bones were ossifying."

The young man bit his mustache. "I fully understand what you said, Miss Brown," he replied. "I think, too, that I gather the meaning of the remark. Still, I do not suppose that, except in rare instances, such things do occur."

She put both hands to her brow this this time, smiled a bit, and abruptly changed the conversation by saying it was wonderful how yellow the leaves on the trees were getting so early in the season.

Half an hour later the young man passed on his way to his room and hunted up a dictionary. He turned nervously to the Os, found Os, and ran his finger down the column until he came to "ossify." Then he threw his hands into the air and shrieked: "Great Scott, and I didn't know that ossify means to turn to bone!"

And he hasn't called on Miss Brown since.

It Depended.

Miss Suburb—What will you have?

T. Ramper—Dunno, mum; let me see your bill of fare.

Planting Orchards.

A recent bulletin issued by the Cornell experiment station treats this important subject at some length. We condense some of the more important paragraphs as follows:

Preparation of land.—It is generally best to put the land in hoed crops the season before planting, as most soils need the cultivation to bring them into a mellow and uniform condition. If the subsoil is hard and impervious, plow very deep, and in some cases, as for dwarf pears, subsoiling will pay well. Lands which hold surface water must be tile drained, whether flat or rolling.

When to plant.—Fall planting is generally preferable to spring planting upon thoroughly drained soils, particularly for the hardy tree fruits, like apples, pears and plums; and if the ground is in good condition and the stock well matured, peaches can sometimes be set in October with success. The trees for fall planting should be well matured. Some nurserymen strip the leaves from trees before growth is complete, in order to put the trees on the market for September delivery. This weakens the trees and is the cause of many failures. Place your orders for trees in August and September, with orders to let the trees stand unmolested till the leaves begin to fall. Get everything ready, and plant the trees as soon as delivered, without heeling in. Trees are mature enough to take up, in this latitude, in late September or early October. Unless all conditions are right, spring planting is safest.

Distance apart.—Do not set too close. Trees are wide feeders. Roots nor branches should interfere. Do not set outside rows close to fences. Trees must be sprayed, and they should be planted so as to be most easily accessible. The following represents the outside average limit when the trees are allowed to take their natural form:

Apples	40 ft. each way.
Pears, standard	20 to 25 ft.
Pears, dwarf	12 ft. to 1 rod.
Quinces	1 rod.
Peaches	20 ft.
Plums	20 ft.
Apricots	20 ft.
Grapes	6 x 8 to 8 x 10.
Currants	4 x 6 to 6 x 8.
Blackberries	4 x 7 to 6 x 9
Raspberries	3 x 6 to 5 x 8.

Where the soil is strong and the grower makes a thorough work of cultivating, fertilizing and pruning, these distances may be reduced somewhat, except with apples. In general it is not best to plant short-lived trees between, but a first-class orchardist may do so with profit.

How to plant.—Plow the whole land first, and dit it well. Level culture is best. Dig holes by hand, broad and ample; in hard soils make the holes larger than in loose, mellow soils. Set the trees an inch or two deeper than they stood in the nursery. Dwarf pears should be set three to six inches below the bud. Get the soil thoroughly firmed about the roots. Leave no air spaces. Fill the hole full enough to carry off surface water and stamp the earth firmly about the tree.

HAD TO FIGHT.

How a Captain Enforced Discipline Aboard Ship.

The British ship City of Florence was lying at anchor off port waiting to sail. There was a breeze of excitement on board, the result of which was a "scrap" between two sailors and a plunge for liberty into the bay. The crew had been engaged for some days, and the steward and the cook had become great cronies, and Capt. Leask noticed that the steward spent most of his time in the galley, and he took him to one side and spoke to him "like a father." He told him that it was very bad policy to get chummy with the cook, for it would be sure to end in a disagreement.

As the captain had predicted, it came to pass that the cook went to him with a long complaint about the steward, and scarcely had he gone out of the cabin when the steward came in with a similar tale.

"Wait a bit," said Capt. Leask, and he passed the word for the cook. When the latter entered the cabin the captain said:

"Now then, you two gentlemen have started to fight, and we will say to-morrow. It will be a continual fight on the home voyage, so the two of you get out there on the main deck and pummel each other until one cries enough, and let me hear no more of this."

The men went out and fought each other to a finish. There was little science displayed, but both could fight. The steward begged to be excused at the end of half an hour, but the captain insisted that the fight be continued. The steward rose to the occasion and landed on the cook's starboard ear, and the cook responded with a blow that knocked all the wind out of the steward's sails. The steward failed to come to time and sat on the deck until he recovered his wind.

"Go forward," said the captain to the cook. The steward began to strip himself.

"What are you doing?" demanded the captain.

"I'm going ashore," said the steward surlily; "I've had enough of this ship."

"Have you? Well, take your clothes with you. I don't want them. Put on that coat."

The steward put on his coat and then went to the side. Capt. Leask did not interfere with him, and he sprang lightly to the railand took a header into the bay.

"Follow that man in a boat," cried the captain quickly to the mate, "and let him swim till he can't swim any more, then bring him back."

The orders were obeyed with alacrity and the boat followed the unfortunate steward until he appealed to the mate to take him back to the ship. He was taken back and landed on the ship a soaked, repentant, and crestfallen steward.

Drew on the Sultan.

A large operator and speculator of St. Louis, whose account with one friendly bank had often been temporarily overdrawn, wanted $10,000 once for a certain deal, his balance in hand in the time being less than $100. The cashier suggested that he should draw upon someone not too near to St. Louis. Smith said he did not know whom to draw upon. "Oh, anyone," said the obliging cashier, "as long as the party is far enough away—that will give you time to turn around." Smith drew at sight for $10,000 on the Sultan of Turkey. The draft was duly forwarded by the bank, reaching New York, whence it was sent to a London correspondent. It then came into the hands of the Rothschilds, who forwarded it to their Constantinople branch, where it was duly presented for payment to the Sultan's chamberlain, the latter bringing it to his highness. "Who is this 'John Smith'?" said the Sultan. "Don't know," replied the chamberlain. "Do we owe him anything?" "No," replied the other. "Then I'll not pay it," replied his high mightiness. "One moment, if I might advise," said the astute counselor; "this draft comes through the Rothschilds, with whom we are seeking a two-million loan. Would it be safe, under the circumstances, to dishonor it?" "Pay it," said the Sultan; and it was paid, and no one was more astonished than John Smith, of St. Louis, and the quick-witted cashier.—San Francisco Argonaut.

Odds and Ends.

Australia has more places of public worship in proportion to population than any other country.

Some Chinese and many Africans use the ear as a pocket to carry coins and other small articles.

Frequent cutting or trimming of the hairs increases their thickness, but not their number.

Of 1,000 men who marry, 332 marry younger women, 579 marry women of the same age, and eighty-nine marry older women.

The flesh of forest rats is esteemed a culinary delicacy in parts of Cuba. Their main article of diet is Brazil nuts, which imparts a good flavor to them.

A peculiar disease of the will is more common in France than in any other country. The sufferer is unable fo cross any open space like the city square.

Salt Lake city is one of the most beautiful in the United States. It was laid out when land was worthless, the streets are wide and each has a rivulet running through it.

It is said that only Mecca, in Arabia, and Thessa, in Thibet, are now closed to Christian preachers, but 100 years ago nearly the whole world outside of Europe and America was shut.

Deaf and Dumb Mates Wedded.

A curious wedding took place at Romford Abbey Church, England, recently, both parties being deaf and dumb. A deaf and dumb clergyman was expected to officiate, but he was prevented by illness from attending. This caused a little anxiety to the couple, and a search was made for a lawyer to give advice, so that the contract might be perfectly valid, but one could not be found. However, a clergyman, with the assistance of the bride's brother, who acted as interpreter, proceeded with the ceremony. Prayer books were placed in the hands of the bride and bridegroom, and each made signs by pointing as the passages were read. Then, when responses were required to the questions the parts were submitted in writing, and read and duly signed and witnessed. These documents will be kept in the abbey as mementoes of the wedding.

A Daylight Meteor.

A daylight meteor was seen recently near Ayrshire, Scotland. Its movement was very slow and it shone with a brilliant, intense light, which was concentrated in itself and did not leave a train behind it. It got gradually smaller and smaller, and this before disappearing broke into three or four pear-shaped portions. During its course, although the massy head was brilliantly white, the little tail varied in hue, crimson and a rich ultramarine blue being most noticeable.

Roads in New Jersey.

The roads of New Jersey are now among the best in the Unite States, and this desirable result has been reached in a great measure through wise state legislation. Here is a plank for the new party, the Patrons, in Ontario politics.

Deep Diving.

It is said that while 150 feet is the limit at which diving work can be carried on safely under water, a depth of 201 feet has been attained by a "helmet-diver"—a diver who descends by himself not in a diving bell.

A Gentle Hint.

"The wind blow my old bonnet off today."

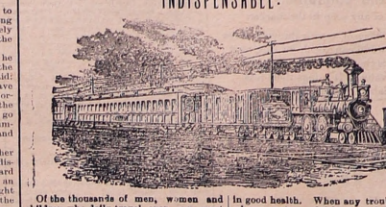

He—Ah?

She—Yes; it was an Easterly wind.

DANGERS AHEAD OF THE IRON STEED.

Locomotive Engines and Their Tremendous Responsibilities.

A CLEAR HEAD, STEADY NERVES AND KEEN EYES ARE INDISPENSABLE.

Of the thousands of men, women and children who daily travel over our great net-work of Canadian railways, few, very few, realize the many dangers and perils that are at all times ahead of the swift and powerful steam horse.

Swing bridges, tunnel bridges, spans of mouldering and rotten timbers, wash-outs, misplaced switches, broken rails, wrong signals and errors in train dispatching; all, in turn, contribute to scenes of ruin, agony and death. Commonplace and seldom are frequently appalled with some awful catastrophe that has occurred—some train tumbling into a chasm, canyon or river, and hundreds of souls launched into eternity.

Locomotive engineers shoulder tremendous responsibilities as their impetuous iron steeds bound through cities, towns, forests, mountain passes, and over rapid streams and torrents. While they hourly carry their own lives in their hands, they are really the custodians of other people's lives.

Notwithstanding the fact that parliament has enacted laws for the protection of railway travellers, and that progressive and honest railway corporations have in use the most modern appliances that can conduce to the safety of trains; yet, with all these measures of protection, the engineer is the all-important agent. He must have courage, good judgment, a clear head and brain, steady nerves and quick eye, in order to insure safety to all who are committed to our fast and mail trains.

Fortunately for us the large majority of our locomotive engineers possess all the necessary qualifications for their important work. They shun strong drink and evil habits, and as a rule they keep themselves in good health. When any troubles arise, when symptoms of sickness and disease are felt, the wise and prudent engineer has his friend and protector, Paine's Celery Compound, near him in his cab. As he uses the lever of his engine to regulate its movements, so he uses Paine's Celery Compound to banish the seeds of disease and to regulate all the movements of the intricate machinery of the nervous system and brain, from which originate the majority of human troubles.

By adopting this wise course, the body is strengthened, digestion is kept perfect, nerves are steady and reliable, eyes keen and judgment is always right.

An old railway official recently remarked: "Locomotive engineers who are teetotallers and who use Paine's Celery Compound when physical derangements occur, are the men most appreciated by railway companies, as they contribute more to the safety of trains and human lives than any other class of employees." The truth of this statement is apparent to all who are fully posted in railway matters, and who thoroughly understand the heavy responsibilities of engineers.

The above important facts should deeply interest all whose work and duties call for clearness of head and brain, steady nerves and general good health. Success, in these days of rush and cutting competition, can never be achieved in any department of work by sickly, nervous and dull-brained men. Paine's Celery Compound does the same good work for professional men, merchants and mechanics, that it does for the brave man who controls the powerful steam steed, and who daily has the safety of hundreds in his hands.

The Sale of Boots and Shoes :

Slightly damaged by Smoke and Water will continue until everything is sold.

HAINES & LOCKETT

Opposite Anglo-American Hotel

MONTHLY DIVIDENDS!!!

NEW YORK TRADING COMPANY,

17 & 19 Broadway New York

CAPITAL, 100,000.

This company has been formed to place small speculators in the Stock, Grain and other markets, in an equally strong position with the great manipulators who make and rule the markets. Legitimate speculation is the quickest road to wealth. The smallest investment may soon grow into a competency.

In the speculative markets alone do such opportunities exist.

Small speculators combined and guided by wise counsellors become a power in the market. This is the position of our subscribers.

For our plan, holders of one share, which costs TEN DOLLARS, enjoy the same privileges and benefits as holders of one hundred shares.

Subscriptions invited to a Syndicate now being formed to operate in a direction where we have peculiar and exclusive information.

Accounts always open to inspection of members. Accounts rendered and dividends payable monthly. Full details of our methods mailed free on application.

Correspondence respectful y solicited. Bank references furnished.

New York Trading Company,
17 & 19 Broadway, New York City.
CAPITAL $100,000

For . .

THIRTY . . .
DAYS . . . . .

WE will sell our entire line of Wall Paper . . . .
—AND—
Window Shades
AT A DOUBLE DISCOUNT 10 & 5p.c.

10 per cent. off Special, and 5 per cent. off for cash.

We positively will not be undersold at

OVERELL'S BOOK STORE.

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS,

A positive cure for all kidney diseases, such as

Backache, Rheumatism, Diabetes, Brights Disease, &c., &c.

For sale at the Pharmacy.

D. M. WATERS.

Only Ten Cents ...PER WEEK...

Will secure you the....

Finest Collection ...of... Canadian Scenes

Ever Published.

It is a Purely Canadian Production.

Canadian Paper,
Canadian Views,
Canadian Printing,
Canadian Cuts.

Everything that enters into its production is Canadian, and as a work of art is equalled by few and surpassed by none of the American publications.

Every Canadian Should Secure This Valuable Collection of Canadian Scenes.

We have secured the right for this locality and will issue

One Part Each Week.

See Coupon upon another page of this paper, cut it out and remit to this office with Ten Cents.

The "Intelligencer" P. & P. Co.,

LIMITED.

BELLEVILLE, ONT.

The Daily Intelligencer.

LET THERE BE HARMONY IN THINGS ESSENTIAL—LIBERALITY IN THINGS NOT ESSENTIAL—CHARITY IN ALL.

VOL. 28. BELLEVILLE ONTARIO MONDAY OCTOBER 22 1894 NO 145

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

MEDICAL.

DR. WISHART.

47 GROSVENOR ST., Toronto, will be at the Huffman House, Belleville, Saturday, Dec. 1st, '94. 192dwly

DR. QUACKENBUSH, M.D., H.M.D., M.D., P.S.O.

HOMŒOPATHIC Physician, Surgeon and Accoucheur, has removed his office over store lately occupied by J. C. verell, Residence George St., opposite H. Corby's.

JOHN J. FARLEY, M. D., C. M., M. R. C. S. England.

OFFICE and Residence—corner of Bridge and George Streets—three streets east of Post Office.

LEGAL.

FLINT & McCAMON.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public, etc. Solicitors for the Canadian Bank of Commerce. Office, City Hall, Front Street, Belleville, Ont. d84tf
JOHN J. B. FLINT, W. J. McCAMON.

STEWART MASSON.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, Notary, Conveyancer, etc. Office, South side Bridge st., over Wallbridge & Clark's, Belleville, Ont. Money to loan at lowest rates. 76dwtf

J. F. WILLS' LAW OFFICE.

REMOVED to Campbell Street (south side) 2nd door from Front Street, on ground floor.

A. GOODRICH.

LAWYER, 124 Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill., 28 years' experience; secrecy; special facilities in several States; Goodrich on Divorce; with laws of all States in press. 76d1y

GEO. A. KINGSTON.

BARRISTER. Solicitor, etc., with Lount, Marsh and Cameron, 25 Toronto St., Toronto. Money to loan on farm property at lowest rates. 233dtf9w.

MIKEL & ROBERTS.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notary Public, Conveyancers, etc. Offices Bridge St., Belleville. Monies to loan at lowest rate.

THOMAS & HALLIWELL.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Conveyancers, &c. Money to loan. 293d3mwly
J. PARKER THOMAS, J. EARL HALLIWELL.

PONTON & MORDEN,

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public Conveyancers. Office over Express and Telegraph Office, Bridge St., Belleville. Money to loan—private funds.
WM. N. PONTON, M. A., Solicitor Hastings Loan and Investment Society.
W. S. MORDEN, B.A.

F. GUSS PORTER.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, Notary Public. etc. Office in the Robertson Block, east side of Front Street.
Private Money to Loan, 271dwly

FRANCIS S. WALLBRIDGE.

(Successor to Hon. Lewis Wallbridge, Q.C.) BARRISTER, Solicitor, Conveyancer, etc. Office, McAnnany building, corner Front and Bridge streets, Belleville, Ont. Private and Company money to loan at 6 per cent., on easy terms upon good land security. Charges moderate.

HENRY CARRE, C. E.
M.C. Soc C.E.,
DOMINION AND PROVINCIAL LAND SURVEYOR.

Special attention paid to Hydraulics and Land Drainage. Patents obtained and Drawings made. Office—McAnnany Block, under Ontario Business College, Front St. P.O. address—Box 203, Belleville.

A. G. NORTHRUP.

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Shire Hall, Belleville. 226dtwly

D. I. DULMAGE, L.D.S., D.D.S. (Tor. University).

DENTIST—Office over Brignall & Thompson's. Night calls at residence on Forin Street. d,w

CHAS. JOSE.

VETERINARY Surgeon, Graduate Ontario Veterinary College, Member Ontario Veterinary Society. Office and residence, Foxboro, Ont. Calls by mail or telegram promptly attended to. 304d,wly

MISCELLANEOUS.

AGENCY of the Liverpool and London and Globe Fire and Life Insurance Companies.
W. P. HUDSON, Agent.
Office Campbel. street, Belleville. d,w

CANADIAN PACIFIC RY.

WILL RUN HUNTERS' EXCURSIONS
TO MUSKOKA LAKES
AND ALL STATIONS.
MATTAWA, NEPIGON, SPANISH RIVER
AND INTERMEDIATE STATIONS
OCT. 19 and 20
OCT. 26 and 27
NOV. 2 and 3

When Round Trip Tickets will be sold for
SINGLE FIRST CLASS FARE
Good for Return until Dec. 1st, 1894.

For business passing through Toronto, rates to above points will not be less than 25 cents added to ordinary Round Trip Rates to Toronto.

Dogs, Guns, Personal Baggage, Camp Equipments, to the amount of 200 lbs. will be carried FREE.

S. BURROWS,
General Ticket Agent, Belleville.

STOVE PIPES!
STOVE PIPES!!
STOVE PIPES!!!

WHIPS! LANTERNS!
WHIPS!! LANTERNS!!
WHIPS!!! LANTERNS!!!

Lamps, Flower Pots,
Lamps, Flower pots,
Lamps, Flower Pots.

—AT—

THE FAIR,

FRANK WEEKS, MANAGER.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

ACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York.

Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

Thomas A. Johns.

CURED BY TAKING
AYER'S Sarsaparilla

"I was afflicted for eight years with Salt Rheum. During that time, I tried a great many medicines which were highly recommended, but none gave me relief. I was at last advised to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and before I had finished the fourth bottle, my hands were as

Free from Eruptions

as ever they were. My business, which is that of a cab-driver, requires me to be out in cold and wet weather, often without gloves, but the trouble has never returned."—THOMAS A. JOHNS, Stratford, Ont.

Ayer's The Only Sarsaparilla
Admitted at the World's Fair.
Ayer's Pills Cleanse the Bowels.

"FOR THE BENEFIT OF RHEUMATIC SUFFERERS,"

ACETOCURA
MADE ME
ANOTHER MAN

G. H. REEVES,
(Reeves & Beebe),
169 State street, Chicago.

Coutts & Sons,
72 Victoria street, Toronto.

Write for gratis pamphlet to COUTTS & Sons, 72 Victoria street, Toronto. Head offices—London, Glasgow and Manchester, (G.B.) Cologne, Germany, Aaron, Switzerland.

Local Agents—
L. W. YEOMANS & CO.,
DRUGGISTS,
BELLEVILLE.

PREPARE
FOR the STRUGGLE.

The course of study offered by the Belleville business College gives a young person a thorough and practical knowledge of business, and also that mental culture and discipline which sharpens perceptive faculties, stimulates ambition, develops ability and prepares for the struggle of making a living. Every step in the work is characterized by thoroughness. Besides we use the most practical methods.

In teaching shorthand we dictate actual letters and legal evidence. Other schools have undertaken to imitate our methods, but the quality of their work bears that relation to practical business which the imitation does to the real.

We represent things exactly as they are.

Belleville Business College.
ROBERT BOGLE, Proprietor.

Daily Intelligencer.

THE CZAR'S CASE HOPELESS

Sensational Rumors at the Capital Regarding Him.

ALL RUSSIA IS GRIEF-STRICKEN

The Czarina's Mind Has Broken Down Under Her Afflictions—The Report That the Czarewitch Has Renounced the Succession Is Denied—Grand Duke George Said to Be Dead.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 22.—Despatches made public here last evening say that the Czar has rallied slightly.

No confidence is felt by the people in the official announcements. The meagreness of the news has left room for the craziest rumors, which multiply on every street corner and in every cafe. It is said that the Czarewitch has renounced the succession, that the Czar is dead and the fact is suppressed, and that the Grand Duke George died two days ago. Official bulletins do not dispel these rumors. The last story is that the Czarina's mind has broken down under her many afflictions.

Despite the intensity of the interest in the Czar's condition the theatres and restaurants are crowded as usual.

In the churches throughout Russia prayers were said for the Czar. A despatch from Moscow says that the city is grief-stricken. Nevertheless, the theatres are open. Between the acts last evening the orchestra in every theatre played: "God protect the Czar." The audience stood during the hymn and insisted upon several repetitions of it.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—The Daily News has this from its Vienna correspondent:

A cipher telegram received here from Russia declares that it is impossible to send news except by letter across the frontier, A Vienna daily asserts that the Czar's illness is the consequence of arsenical poisoning.

A Paris correspondent of the Daily News discredits the report that the Czarewitch has renounced the succession. "It is none the less true," the correspondent adds, "that the Czar's brothers, who now have been summoned to Livadia, came to France so as to be out of the way during any possible crisis about the order in which the throne should be transmitted."

From St. Petersburg the News hears: "The latest advices from Livadia are that, despite the fact that he is out of bed, the Czar's case is hopeless. The doctors have discovered that he has a cancer. In the last ten days he has lost 32 pounds. The excitement here and in Moscow is indescribable."

VIENNA, Oct. 22.—Several of the leading Vienna dailies publish what are virtually obituary notices of the Czar. The Wiener

THE CZAR OF RUSSIA.

Allgemine Zeitung says: "The Czar never knew a pitying tear until he shed it for himself. Nobody in Russia will weep for him."

The Pesther Lloyd, the most influential of Hungarian dailies, says: "The present Czar threw all traditions overboard. A sigh of relief will proceed from the Russian people when he is gone and his evil spirit, the procurator of the Holy Synod, will vanish into oblivion."

With regard to the policy of the Czarewitch, M. Stephiak, the Russian Nihilist, in an interview, said the heir apparent's character was an enigma, but it was improbable that the new regime would concede anything in the direction of liberalism. If a council of regency was formed, with the Grand Duke Vladimir, the Czar's eldest brother, who is strongly reactionist in his views, as one of the members, the administration of government would be far worse than under the Czar. M. Stepniak expressed the opinion that among the ruling powers at St. Petersburg there was none with sufficient intelligence to advise reform in the government of the empire.

WARSAW, Oct. 22.—Despatches from Yalte say that the Czarina is suffering from nervous collapse and paralysis of the legs. Her illness was caused by overwork in the Czar's sick room, loss of sleep and constant anxiety. The Grand Duchess Xenia has been confined to her bed for several days.

Crushed to Death.

GRAVENHURST, Ont., Oct. 22.—William J. Burkinshaw, son of E. Burkinshaw, of this town, who had been a driver on a street car in Toronto for some years, finding no work in Toronto returned home on Friday and engaged with Nickle Dyment & Son to go to the lumber woods, where he commenced work clearing a roadway at a sawlog dump and had cut off a large overhanging hemlock log, and in trying to get away from it he tripped and fell in front of the log, which was fast descending the dump. The log passed over him, completely breaking his spine and instantly crushing him to death.

Accidentally Shot Himself.

BRACEBRIDGE, Ont., Oct. 22.—An accident, with fatal results, befell Jesse Coleman, an undertaker of Akron, N.Y., when hunting in Little Lake Joseph, Muskoka, on Saturday. The deceased in company with several others was out on a hunting expedition. He got into his boat and was shifting his gun when it went off, the charge entering his right breast. He only lived a few minutes. Deceased was about 30 years old and leaves a widow and two children.

A Simple Accident, But Fatal.

ALVINSTON, Ont., Oct. 22.—A fatal accident happened at John Clark's, in the township of Brook. His son, a boy of 14 years of age, was pitching horseshoes along with some others and was accidentally hit in the temple by a shoe, from which cause he afterwards died.

Died of His Injuries.

CHATHAM, Ont., Oct. 22.—Patrick McLaughlin, the Raleigh farmer who was hurt in a runaway accident at the Queen street crossing of the Grand Trunk Railway, has died of his injuries. An inquest will be held.

FROM THE CAPITAL.

Hawaii Has No Favors for Britain—The Hunt Season.

OTTAWA, Oct. 22.—The Government has been advised that Sanford Fleming and Mr. Mercer have arrived at Honolulu and been told by the provisional government that the reciprocity treaty with the United States prevents their giving Great Britain a station for landing a cable at Honolulu, Neckar Island, or any of the ocean islands that could be utilized, over the whole of which Hawaii claims prior rights.

The deer hunting season in Ontario opened on Saturday and will close on November 15. Dogs are allowed to be used during the whole season and no additional is allowed for "still" hunting, as there used to be. A person is permitted to shoot but two deer per season. It is illegal to shoot a fawn. For a first violation of any of the regulations of the statute a fine of $20 is provided. The penalty for a second offence is $50 fine and three months imprisonment. The season in the Province of Quebec opened on October 1 and closes on January 1. There, however, dogs are not allowed to be used at all.

A correspondent writes from Parry Sound: "Detective Greer, of Toronto, Constable McCrae, of French River; Constable Greer, of Parry Sound, and two other provincial officers left here on Saturday on a steam tug armed to the teeth, for the purpose of capturing the Perrault brothers, the gang of outlaws who have long bid defiance to the officers of the law and have terrorized every small hamlet on the shores and islands of Georgian Bay. It will be remembered that the leader of the Perrault brothers was recently shot and instrntly killed in a scuffle with Constable McCrae, who attempted to arrest the gang single-handed and barely escaped with his life.

J. W. Emard, of Montreal, who is counsel for contractor St. Louis, is here looking after the case of St. Louis in the Supreme Court against the Crown for $64,000. Asked as to the new suit started by the Government against St. Louis, Mr. Emard replied that he or his client had no notice of it. It would be time enough to talk of a defence when they were notified that the suit was taken.

JAPAN'S TROOPS REPULSED.

Rumor of Another Big Battle—News From the Orient.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—A despatch from Shanghai to the Central News says the Chinese report that a battle has been fought on the banks of the Lower Yalu, in which the troops of Japan, who made the attack, were repulsed with heavy losses. It is added that neither side claims a definite victory. It is regarded as probable that the Japanese will declare an effective blockade of the gulf of Pe-Chi-Li within the coming week.

A despatch from Tien-Tsin reports that large quantities of munitions of war, supplied by Germans, are arriving there and are being forwarded to New-Chang and Port Arthur. German contracts for further supplies have been concluded.

The Standard prints a despatch from Tokio saying that 40,000 Japanese troops under command of Marshal Count Oyama, who was temporarily relieved from the duties of his position as Minister of War to take command of the Japanese forces in Corea, have left Hiroshima. The destination of this force is not known. A fleet of 35 transports was necessary for the conveyance of these troops.

The St. James' Gazette publishes a despatch from Yokohama saying that several hundred Coreans have rebelled in the province of Chal-La-Do, the extreme southwest province of Corea, and that a combined Corean and Japanese force has been sent to suppress the uprising. The Coreans, the despatch says, have become very restless under the firm rule of the Japanese.

The Graphic has a despatch to the effect that the neogotiations for peace between China and Japan have been resumed and likely to be completed soon.

SHANGHAI, Oct. 22.—Four of the warships of the Chinese southern squadron have arrived at Wei-Hai-Wei. The Chinese steamer Tung Chow, which has arrived here reports that two Chinese ironclads and one cruiser which were repaired at Port Arthur have sailed from that port and reached Wei-Hai-Wei. More extensive repairs are required in other warships and they will not be able to leave Port Arthur for some time.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—A telegram has been received at the Japanese legation, stating that on the 19th instant, upon the assembling of the Diet at Hiroshima, Count Ito, Prime Minister of Japan, made an elaborate speech in the House of Lords, in which he explained at length the causes of the war between Japan and China. The feeling of the Diet appears to be unanimous in approval of the course pursued by the government. The two Houses on the 20th instant passed by a unanimous vote the bills introduced by the government relating to war expenditures involving a total sum of 150,000,000 yen.

The Tokio correspondent of the Central News says that the letters read by Count Ito in parliament yesterday will be published shortly. They are expected to throw new light on China's attitude before the war. "It is believed," he says, "that China intended to take advantage of the growing troubles to declare Corea a Chinese province."

A special embassy from Corea has arrived in Hiroshima. The Emperor received them yesterday. A report generally credited in Tokio is that China will sue for peace on the basis of the independence of Corea and the payment of a war indemnity.

The Howland Memorial.

MIMICO, Oct. 22.—The annual meeting of the Industral School Association on Saturday was attended by large number of people, the special feature being the laying of the corner-stone of the Howland Memorial building. The afternoon's programme consisted of drill by the boys of the Victoria Industrial School, inspecting of workshops and cottages by the visitors and the laying of the corner-stone by Mr. H. A. Massey, after which the meeting was held. Hon. G. W. Ross occupied the chair, and reports of Sec-Treasurer Alexander Girls' School, secetrary Board of Management and superintendents were read and adopted. The officers for the ensuing year were re-elected. The present by-laws were confirmed, after which speeches were made by some of the gentlemen present.

A Pumpmaker Killed.

VARNA, Ont., Oct. 22.—William Lang, a pumpmaker, was killed while fixing a pump in a well. The pump hung over him, and in some way gave way, falling on him and killing him instantly. Mr. Lang was unmarried.

North Grey Liberals.

OWEN SOUND, Oct. 22.—The Liberals of the north riding of Grey met in the town hall here on Saturday to select a candidate for the next general election for the House of Commons. The only candidate in the field being Mr. John Clarke, reeve of Kepple and ex-warden, his nomination was made unanimous.

MURDERED AND MUTILATED

A Young Woman Killed in a Terrible Manner by Her Lover.

SHE REJECTED HIS ATTENTIONS

With Demoniacal Fury He Hammered the Girl to Death and Afterwards Mutilated Her Body in a Shocking Manner—The Assassin Chased and Captured—He Makes a Confession of the Awful Deed.

ALBION, N. Y., Oct. 22.—One of the most brutal and atrocious murders ever committed in western New York took place eight miles north of here. Emma Hunt, a servant and companion of Joseph Vancamp's sister, Mrs. Allis, was murdered by William Lake, a farm employe, who was in love with the young woman.

The house is on a road near Curtiss Corners. After supper Farmer Vancamp rode to a neighbor's house, where his sister had spent the day. Upon reaching home an hour later the mutilated body of Miss Hunt was found on the floor. Lying near her were a razor and a hammer. Her throat and other parts of her body were cut, and about the head were marks of blows from the hammer. She was lying with arms outstretched in a corner, and pools of blood were near both doors of the room. The woman's skirt was nearly torn away.

William Lake, the farm hand, who in all probability committed the crime, could not be found, and deputy sheriffs scoured the woods in search of him. Lake is 24 years old, and is well educated. Miss Hunt did not care for Lake, it is stated, and in all probability he murdered her upon her refusal to marry him.

Although the crime was comitted on Thursday evening the murderer was not found till yesterday when he was arreste and lodged in jail.

Constable Barry Handy of Waterport located the fugitive in the large grain barns of Mrs. Rachel Hoag about a mile and a half northeast of the village of Waterport, and about seven miles from the scene of the tragedy. Handy on discovering Lake covered him with his revolver. Lake at once threw up his hands. A large crowd soon gathered and some shouted "Hang him," but the constable drove rapidly away with his prisoner and was not molested. Two hours later he delivered Lake to Sheriff Rice at the county jail in this village.

Lake refuses to say a word to reporters. To Officer Handy he said: "After I killed Emma I went to Carlton station and then to John Ross' barn, where I stayed until Friday morning, and before daylight I went to the woods of George Matheis. This is about four miles from Vancamp's, where the murder was committed. I stayed in the woods until night, and then came to Albion and went to Maloney's grocery store, near Albion depot, and got some cookies. I was soon chased out of there and went down across the yards to the west part of the town and came near being caught. I finally got away and went to Nahum Latin's barn, about four miles west of Albion, and stayed there until midnight. I then went to the barn where I was arrested, which is about seven miles north of Latin's, and got in the hay mow and stayed there until you found me.

"I have not had anything to eat since I killed Emma except some apples, and three or four cookies that I got at the grocery. I am very tired and am glad I am caught. I am very sorry I killed Emma, but it is too late now. She bothered me and hectored me and I made up my mind to kill her. I loved her and could not bear to have her live. I struck her first with the hammer. I wrote out a confession while they were eating supper that night and packed my satchel also, but had no chance to take that. I lost my rubber coat in Albion. They were making it so hot for me that I made up my mind I had better shed the coat."

Lake would not talk much about the murder. Officer Handy will receive the $300 reward offered for Lake's capture. A large crowd gathered around the jail in Albion in the afternoon, but it was orderly and there is no fear of violence.

Charles Judd Buried.

LONDON, Ont., Oct. 24.—The body of Charles Judd arrived here on Saturday. The funeral took place in the afternoon and was very largely attended. An Ottawa despatch credits Mr. Judd, brother of deceased, with having said: "I have thoroughly examined my brother's papers and effects and am at a loss to find how he could have taken his life. He was a quiet and temperate boy, on good terms with his family, and, moreover, had an estate of about $5,000 invested in various ways. I further understand that in a few weeks his position in the department would have been a permanent one."

Train Robbers Foiled.

GRAND LODGE, Mich., Oct. 22.—An attempt was made by confidence men to hold up passengers on the Detroit, Lansing and Northern train. G. H. Flowers, a Detroit drummer, and Mr. Reuben Reynolds, of Grand Rapids, were attacked by the men, as was Father O'Connor, of Grand Rapids. The crooks were knocked down and, although one of them attempted to shoot the drummer, were overpowered. While the train was approaching East Paris the crooks again drew their pistols and, holding the trainmen at bay, jumped from the train and escaped.

LONDON, Ont., Oct. 22.—William Baker, the desperado, was taken across to Uncle Sam's domains on Saturday. The prisoner was greatly surprised when the American officers called for him, but there was no time wasted upon him. He was heavily shackled and walked to a cab in waiting. Detectives Furlong and McGinn, the two St. Louis officers, believed that Baker's confederates, of whom he is supposed to have many on the other side, would make an attempt to rescue Baker at the slightest opportunity, and to this end they went to considerable trouble to create impression that the desperado would not leave London jail until late next week.

Sword Championship Contest.

MONTREAL, Oct. 22.—The sword and bayonet contest between Sergt.-Major Morgans, of Kingston, and Sergt. Hawker, of Montreal, for the championship of Canada, which took place here on Saturday night, resulted in a tie, each contestant taking 19 points. The contest was a very lively one and Sergt. Morgans' sword drew blood, Hawker being slightly cut on the head.

A Whitewayite Victorious.

ST. JOHNS, Nfld., Oct. 22.—The result of the Twillingate election for members of the Assembly has been announced. Mr. Foote, the Whiteway candidate, defeated Surveyor-General Michael Knight by a majority of 575. Knight carried the seat last November by three votes against the same opponent.

Why Don't You Use Surprise Soap?

IT does away with hard work,—dont boil or scald the clothes nor give them the usual hard rubbing. (See the directions on the wrapper).

It gives the whitest, sweetest, cleanest clothes after the wash.

It prevents wearing and tearing by harsh soaps and hard rubs. Rub lightly with Surprise Soap,—the dirt drops out. Harmless to hands and finest fabrics.

SURPRISE SOAP LASTS LONGEST GOES FARTHEST.
The cheapest Soap to Use. 181 THE ST. CROIX SOAP MF'G. CO., ST. STEPHEN, N. B.

SUFFERINGS OF A WRECKED CREW.

For Thirteen Days Living in a Hut on the Barren Coast of Labrador.

HALIFAX, Oct. 22.—The steamer Harlaw, which arrived on Saturday night from the west coast of Newfoundland, brought from Bay of Islands Captain J. H. MacDonald and five men, who composed the crew of the Gloucester schooner Martha C, which was driven ashore on that coast on September 28 and totally wrecked.

The schooner had been on a trading voyage to Labrador and was on her way home with a cargo of pickled fish valued at about $5,000 when the disaster overtook her. The vessel was at anchor in a place called Bear Cove or Bear Head. The force of the gale drove her from her anchors on to the rocks. The vessel soon commenced to break up and the crew after considerable trouble and narrow escapes from drowning managed to reach the shore, which they found uninhabited and barren. They constructed a hut from wreckage which came ashore and lived in it for thirteen days, being on the verge of starvation most of the time, their only food being a little flour which had become soaked with salt water and some salt fish which drifted ashore from the wreck.

They managed to secure some fresh water, however, and this helped to relieve their sufferings to some extent. They thought some vessel would eventually pass and take them off, but after waiting six days and none appearing two of the men started out to try and reach a settlement, and after a fifteen-mile tramp, during which time they suffered considerable from weakness, they got to Bay of Islands, and secured the services of a tug, and just seven days from the time they left their shipmates they arrived back at the scene of the wreck.

Capt. McDonald and the other three men, who had remained at the hut, had by this time become so weak from lack of proper nourishment that they could hardly row off to the tug, which was obliged to lay some distance off from the shore. When the men got to Bay of Islands they were kindly cared for by the United States consular agent, and after waiting a week took passage on the Harlaw.

Suicide at Jerseyville, Ont.

TORONTO, Oct. 22.—Mr. W. H. Howell, clerk in the Bon Marche, this city, received a telegram on Saturday announcing the suicide of his brother, Curson Howell, at Jerseyville, township of Ancaster, in Brant county, fifteen miles west of Hamilton. The suicide was 40 years of age, formerly resident in Toronto, but of late has been living in Detroit. His family relations have not been of the most pleasant character, and of late he has made repeated threats of ending his existence. He arrived in Jerseyville on Friday from Detroit, and gave out that the object of his visit was to view his mother's grave. About 7 p.m. he left his hotel to go up to the cemetery. Saturday morning, shortly after daylight, a visitor to the cemetery found the corpse of Howell lying across his mother's grave. Blood and brains were oozing from a gaping wound in his head and a revolver with one chamber destroyed, which was found beside him, showed the means he had taken to end his existence.

A Woman Struck by a Trolley.

TORONTO, Oct. 22.—While Mrs. Jordan, an old lady, was attempting to cross the street railway near Mount Pleasant cemetery in front of an approaching car, on Saturday evening, the motor struck her, inflicting a severe scalp wound. She was conveyed to the General Hospital. Her injuries are so serious that it is not thought she can recover.

The Ahr Valley.

It is becoming the custom among European travellers to stop at Remagen on the Rhine, and make a little excursion to the beautiful Valley of the Ahr, with its picturesque villages along the vine clad slope. Here is also located the spring from which flows that world wide favorite "Apollinaris Water." At Neuenahr, in the valley, the river Ahr is very beautiful, and one can find few more quaintly attractive spots than the Upper Gate at Ahrweiler, or the old mill at Heppingen.

A tax on dogs was levied in Rome during the reign of Nero.

For Over Fifty Years

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by druggists throughout the world. 17d&wly

In the time of Queen Anne soap was taxed £28 per ton.

DEAR SIRS.—I have used Yellow Oil for two or three years, and think it has no equal for croup. Mrs. J. S. O'Brien, Huntsville, Ont.

The tithes in England amounted to £4,050,000 a year.

Dyspepsia and Indigestion.—C. W. Snow & Co., Syracuse, N.Y., writes: "Please send us ten gross of Pills. We are selling more of Parmelee's Pills than any other Pill we keep. They have a great reputation for the cure of Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint." Mr. Chas. A. Smith, Lindsay, writes: "Parmelee's Pills are an excellent medicine. My sister has been troubled with severe headache, but these pills have cured her."

Russia raises $1,5000,000 a year by the sale of passports.

THAT TIRED, LANGUID FEELING and dull headache is very disagreeable. Take two of Carter's Little Liver Pills before retiring, and you will find relief. They never fail to do good.

MONTHLY DIVIDENDS!!

NEW YORK TRADING COMPANY
17 & 19 Broadway New York

CAPITAL, 100,000.

This company has been formed to pla small speculators in the Stock, Grain and oth markets, in an equally strong position with th great manipulators who make and rule th markets. Legitimate speculation is the quickest road to wealth. The smallest investmen may soon grow into a competency.

In the speculative markets alone do sue opportunities exist.

Small speculators combined and guided by wise counsellors become a power in the market. This is the position of our subscribers.

By our plan, holders of one share, whic costs TEN DOLLARS, enjoy the same privileges and benefits as holders of one hundred shares.

Subscriptions invited to a Syndicate now being formed to operate in a direction where w have peculiar and exclusive information

Accounts always open to inspection of members. Accounts rendered and dividends payable monthly. Full details of our methods mailed free on application

Correspondence respectful'y solicited.

Bank references furnished.

New York Trading Company,
17 & 19 Broadway, New York City.
CAPITAL $100,000

For..
THIRTY...
DAYS.....
WE will sell our entire line of
Wall Paper....
—AND—
Window Shades
AT A DOUBLE DISCOUNT 10 & 5p.c.

10 per cent. off Special, and 5 per cent. off for cash.

We positively will not be undersold at

OVERELL'S BOOK STORE.

-PLUMBING-

We have added to our Workmen,

MR. GEORGE JOHNSON,

Who has for the past six years been prominent on large contracts in Victoria, B. C., San Francisco, Denver, and Chicago.

— — ALSO — —

MR. EDWIN W. BISHOP,

A graduate of the New York School for Plumbing (class 92), who comes highly recommended.

With these men added to our staff, we feel sure of giving satisfactory to all in Sanitary Plumbing.

C. F. Smith & Co.

We Are..
Busy.....

Our new groceries are going with a rush, but more are arriving daily, and that's why we keep our stock fresh and wholesome. We take pride in our confectionery for it's the best money can buy and our prices are away down. See the values we offer in teas and sugars. Provisions, and flour and feed also receive our particular attention.

J. A. ELLIOTT.
Front St., Belleville.

CONSUMPTION

is averted, or if too late to avert it it is often cured and always relieved by

Scott's Emulsion

the Cream of Cod-liver Oil. Cures Coughs, Colds and Weak Lungs. Physicians, the world over, endorse it.

Don't be deceived by Substitutes!

Scott & Bowne, Belleville. All Druggists. 50c. & $1.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, MONDAY, OCT. 22.

STILL AT IT.

The Brockville Recorder says:

Inspector Pulslow has been stirring up some of the fat citizens of the Anvil factory at Fairfield. He swooped down gently on Monday and proceeded with his tests, which he continued on Tuesday, with the result that one man was fined $60, and it is said some others have received letters concerning the scarcity of butter fat in their milk.

It is to be hoped that every rascal of like kind will be caught and punished. The refusal to receive milk at the factories from those convicted of dishonest practices in connection with the milk supplied by them would, it seems to us, be the most effectual remedy.

THE PROVINCIAL S. S. ASSOCIATION.

TO-MORROW'S CONVENTION—579 DELEGATES REPORTED UP TO SATURDAY NIGHT.

The Association to which our city is indebted for a visit from its members this week, is an organization of officers and teachers of Protestant Sunday schools in this province. Its constitution is similar to and as broad as that of the almost world-wide Evangelical Alliance, under whose auspices every year is held "the week of prayer." The Association was organized in 1857 in Hamilton, and since then has held twenty-nine conventions, two of which have been held in this city. It was as first called "The Sunday School Association of Canada," Canada then meaning Upper and Lower Canada. Then, as the Association developed, it was found better to have separate societies for each province. Within the last ten years, so great has been the growth of the society's work, that now three paid officers are found necessary to carry on its operations. The first permanent secretary was the Rev. Wm. Millard, of Toronto, to whose cordial much lethargy, is due the great strides in popular favor made by the Association since 1876 to 1886, when his removal to England, where he died four years ago, he was succeeded by the Rev. John McEwan, of Lakefield, and now for several years Alfred Day, of Toronto, has been the gentleman on whose broad shoulders has rested the responsibility of representing it at Conventions and Institutes in counties, towns and townships, and of establishing Sunday Schools where none exist, and encouraging those who are struggling under great difficulties to keep them going. This missionary work of the association has been one of its "Crowning Glories," and has been carried on not only by Mr. Day, but by numbers of gentlemen and ladies who devote their holidays to the good work, and who find in the wilds of Muskoka, the Nipissing, Mattawa, or some other back townships, not only opportunities for thus prosecuting a good work, but also in the ozone of "the piney woods" added health and vigor. The latest fields of labour undertaken by the Association is the Normal Depar ment, for the training of teachers. For this work the Rev. John McEwan was set apart last year and he is now known as "Normal Secretary" of the work, and how he can do it the Convention of this year will have opportunities of judging. The other officer is Mr. J. J. Woodhouse, who is corresponding Secretary and Treasurer, who resides and always in Toronto. In the interim between each Convention its affairs are managed by a large Executive Committee with a Central Executive composed of gentlemen and ladies residing in Toronto. The chairman of this central executive is Mr. J. J. McLaren, Q.C. LL. D., who devotes much time to the office. The following list of ex Presidents of the Association will perhaps give as good an idea as can be found of how representative the Association is of the churches, and of the order of the men who from year to year have been chosen to preside over its deliberations when in convention, and guide its affairs during the year: Sir J. W. Dawson, Montreal; D. W. Ardwell, B.A., Toronto; Hon. Billa Flint, Belleville; Rev. James Young, Galt; Rt. Rev. Bishop Bond, Montreal; Daniel McLaren, Toronto; Judge Jones, Brantford; Wm. Edgar, Hamilton; Wm. Johnson, Belleville; E. W. McCollum, M.D., Guelph; J. F. Jeffers, M.A., London; Hon. S. H. Blake, Q.C., Toronto; J. W. Bengough, Q.C., Brampton; John M. Gill, Brockville; J. J. Cassidy, Cobbe. Hon. George Rutherford, Hamilton; Wm. Bowman, Hamilton; Abraham Shaw, Kingston; J. K. Macdonald, Toronto; W. R. Hoare, Brantford; Alex. Match, Ottawa; James A. McCrea, Guelph; and the present President is Alderman R. J. Score, Toronto.

From the files of the Daily INTELLIGENCER, we reproduce the names of the gentlemen who formed the local committees of 1869 and 1876, when the Conventions of those years met here:

THE CONVENTION OF 1869

was composed of three hundred and twenty eight delegates and was held on the 13th, 14th and 15th of October in Bridge St. church.

The gentlemen who arranged for it were Rev. G. R. Sanderson, Chairman; Wm. Johnson, Secretary.

Reception and Entertainment Committee.—St. Andrew's church, Messrs. Andrew Thomson and S. S. Lazier; John St. Presbyterian, messrs. G. V. N. Relyea and John Forlo; Methodist Episcopal, Prof. Robt. Carman, Mr. C. Garratt; Congregational Church, Messrs. J. White, and D. Hampton; Bridge St. Methodist, Messrs. Jas. Ross, and Wm. Watt; Bleecker St. Methodist, Messrs. R. Vanorman, and James Watson.

Finance Committee.—Hon. B. Flint, W. A. Shepard, J. C. Holden, and E. Miles.

Correspondence Committee.—Rev. Joseph Wild, Rev. J. C. Smith, Rev. Wm. McLaren, Messrs. A. G. Northrup and Wm. Johnson. The Hon. B. Flint was elected the president of the Convention, the singing was conducted by Phillip Phillips, of New York, then in the heyday of his popularity, and the chief speaker was Wm. Reynolds, Esq., of Peoria, Ill., then known as "the consecrated pork packer."

THE SECOND CONVENTION

was held on the 9th, 10th and 11th of October, 1876, also in Bridge St. church. The local committee, who managed the billeting, etc., of the Convention was organized as follows: President, Mr. A. G. Northrup; Treasurer, Mr. John Bell, Q.C.; Secretaries, Messrs. J. J. B. Flint and D. C. Ferguson. Finance Committee, Messrs. W. A. Shepard, M. B. Robins, W. Mitore, John Forlo, C. P. Holton, Jas. Wessley, R. Osborne, J. Ricks, J. Mc Cridden, John Hodgson.

Correspondence Committee.—Rev. B. F. Austin and Messrs. Jas. Hambly, D. J. Smith, J. B. Flint, W. Aris, W. H. Gordon, F. Martin, J. W. Dunnet, F. Lockett.

Entertainment Committee.—Rev. I. Sadgley, F. D. Hawley, Angus McKeown, Wm. Robertson, D. J. Smith, Geo. Kelly, John Forlo, C. P. Holton, N. H. Peterson, I. Barlow, Wm. Wessley, S. Harris, R. Irvine, J. W. Dunnet, J. McCredden, W. Connor, A. Shearing, A. Simmons. When the convention met, its chief for President was another resident of Belleville, Mr. Wm. Johnson. Professor Sherwin, of Boston, conducted the service of song; his singing and addresses on various themes formed the most attractive and valuable features of the Convention. Next to him was Rev. Dr. Winton, of Philadelphia.

The members of the Convention ar, individually and collectively, heartily welcome to Belleville. We trust that their session will be profitable, and that their stay in our beautiful city will be of the most pleasant character.

THE ROOMS RE-OPENED.

Bridge St. Sunday School Comes Forth in a Bright, New Coat.

Bridge St. Sunday School rooms have been undergoing extensive improvements and repairs during the past week preparatory to receiving the six hundred delegates to the Provincial Convention, who will arrive to morrow. Yesterday afternoon the rooms were re-opened and they are truly greatly improved. The changes that first caught our eye was in the north wall, which under the skilful treatment of Mr. Fred Richardson, has been greatly beautified. As Mr. Wm. Johnson said, the arrangement was left solely in Mr. Richardson's hands, and his taste cannot fail to please all who see his work. The wall has been colored a mellow brown ground, and panneauettes have been painted between the windows. On these are texts and quotations from scripture. The idea of the texts taken in the order from left to right is harmonious. The first text is "Little children abide in Him." Second, "He died for our sins." Behind the choir is the appropriate text "Peace before His presence with singing." These are followed in order by "I will never leave thee," and "Thy law do I love." The ceiling has been frescoed and the wood work re paint d by John Corneliss, and the whole room has a bright and cheerful appearance.

Mr. Wm Reeves, the oldest scholar of the school, was on the platform and offered a prayer for the success and well being of the school. Mr. Reeves, who is eighty-two years, has been a member of the school for fifty nine years and seldom misses a Sunday.

Superintendent Johnson said the work of refitting the room had only cost $100 and the trustees of the church had contributed $26 of that sum. He hoped to be able to give a good collection towards paying the balance, and his plea was couched in such a felici tous language that all were kept in good humor and a large collection was the result.

RE-OPENING OF WESLEY CHURCH.

Great Improvements in the Building—Large Congregations and Good Sermons.

The reopening of Wesley church took place on Sunday 21st inst. The day was fine, the congregations were good and all present expressed their admiration of the improvements made. Two very excellent sermons were preached in the morning by Rev. Mr. Roberts, of the T.bernacle, on the transfiguration of Christ, Matt. XVII, 1—4, and in the evening by Rev. Dr. Dyer, of Albert College, on God's Jewels, Matt. 3—17. The church has been repaired at an expense of about $600, and it looks very neat and comfortable. A new black roof would be noticed, the windows, cornices, and tower painted, a new pipe form built in front of the church and the fence straightened and repaired. Inside it is tastily papered, both ceiling and walls. The whole church is carpeted and the seats cushioned, besides other repairs. Two beautiful pulpit lamps were donated by Mr. R. J. Graham, and two hanging lamps equally handsome by Mrs. W. Jones, who with her husband, has done much to bring the church to its present condition. Very much credit is due to Mr. R. J. Graham, who promised at the first meeting of the Trustees a subscription equal to all the people of the neighborhood would subscribe, and to the Ladies' Aid, which has done its full share.

This is the fourth church repaired and re-opened under Mr. Faull's parcrate in the eastern part of Sidney township, in addition to one new one built and dedicated. Nearly $6000 have been given and pledged for the three repairs of church property on Sidney and Bayside circuits during the past few years. This does not show that the Methodist church is on the wane in this township.

Words did it.

Under the above heading the Empire gives an account of the suit of Thos. H. Hastings against James Humphries for $5,000 damages for alleged slander.

Mr. G. A. Kingston in this case made his maiden effort before a jury in behalf of the plaintiff, referring to which the Empire says;

"Mr. G. A. Kingston ably represented the plaintiff's side of the story, dwelling at length upon the injury which the allegations had wrought against his client in the minds of all except his most intimate acquaintances.

"The jury, after a two hours' deliberation, brought in a verdict for the plaintiff, assessing the damage at $1. The verdict, however, carried costs, which will foot up considerably."

Just as Good,

Perhaps; but if just as good as Putnam's, is that not a very high recommendation for the original and best corn cure? Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor. Refuse to accept any of the dangerous sore producing substitutes offered by greedy dealers who make larger profits and disregard the interests of customers. Safe, painless, certain.

PALE CHILDREN

With poor appetites and frequent coughs, should be given a few bottles of ... Campbell's

Skrei Cod Liver Oil.

Doctors recommend it because it is pure and easy to take and to digest.

SOCIAL & PERSONAL

Mr. and Mrs. Conldery, Miss Annie Doctor and Rev. S. Daw sailed for Europe on the Labrador on Saturday last.

Major Farley, of "B" Battery, and Mrs. Farley are in town.

Hon. Mr. Lambart, of Ottawa, is in town.

An Ottawa despatch says that Lady Thompson accidentally fell the other day and broke here arm.

E. T. Cherry and bride have returned to this city and are at their home, Coleman St.

Mr. J. Richardson, who will pitch quoits with Claus to morrow, and his backer, Mr. Walker, of Toronto, are at the Huffman

F. J. Rogers, Dansville; Mr. and Mrs. Hanahan, Napanee, were at the Anglo to day.

Dr. Embury returned to day from the Post Graduate Medical School, Chicago.

Miss Hattie Payne, of Oshourg, is visiting Miss Cora Browne, Moira St.

Mr. J. H. Peckham, a form r Belleville boy, is to own a delegate to the convention.

Mr. F. Spence, of J. P. Thompson & Co., went to Kingston on Saturday night to-day to his Methodist church on Sunday.

Mr. A. J. Roe, of Robertson & Roe, photographers, Chicago, is the guest of Mr. S. A. Moore.

In the list of passengers that sailed by the Dominion S.S. Labrador on Saturday last were Senator Read and Mrs. Read.

J. C. Watson, whose father was for some years connected with the D. and D. Institute, is now an attorney-at-law at 24 Montgomery St., San Francisco. Mr. Watson is the nominee of the People's party for the State Legislature.

Mr. Frank Wimperly, son of Mr. John Wimperly, of this city, a well known engineer on the Grand Trunk, is in the hardware business at Everett, Washington. The Sentinel of that town says:

"It is not often that so young a man as Frank Wimperly is worthy of public commendation. His close attention to business and marked ability are the subjects of considerable comment among his business and party associates."

Prof. Swayze, now Principal of the Kingston Business College, left by the early train this morning to enter upon his duties. His many friend in this city will wish him success in his new field of labor.

Henry Boyle, of Kingston, who has been visiting in Peterborough, returned to the city to-day and will leave this evening on a visit to friends in St. Catharines.

Archdeacon of Lauder, of Ottawa, arrived in the city this afternoon to attend a rectory meeting at Christ Church to-night. He is acting as commissary for the Archbishop of Ontario.

CHURCH NOTES.

Paragraphs From Many of the City Pulpits.

Rev. J. L. George preached at both services in John St. church yesterday. His text for his text in the morning, Matthew XX., 28: "Christ is all and in all." In the evening his text was John, XXI. 14. Communion was administered in the morning.

Rev. Mr. Price preached at both services in Christ Church yesterday; the congregation in the evening was unusually large. A vestry meeting will be held this evening to determine what will be done with Rev. S. Daw's resignation.

Rev. M. W. Maclean, pastor of St. Andrew's, preached two excellent sermons yesterday. His morning text was Luke, XIV: 26, 27, and his evening text, Romans, I. 16. The adjourned congregational meeting will be held on Monday evening next. About $8,000 of the $10,000 required to start the erection of the new church, has already been subscribed.

Rev. Canon Burke preached in St. Thomas' church yesterday morning. His text words: "And they knew we have eaten ni drunk with you, and walked in the streets." In the evening Rev. Mr. Bleecker preached from the words, "Bear ye one another's burdens; each man shall bear his own burden."

In the morning the pulpit of Bleecker St. church was occupied by the pastor, Rev. Amos Campbell. The text was taken from St. John 4—38. In the evening the pulpit was occupied by the Rev. J. B. Freebury, a student of Albert College. He took for his text Rev. 3—20. "Behold, I stand at the door and knock; if any hear My voice, and open the door, I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with me."

In Bridge St. church Rev. E. N. Baker preached morning and evening. In the morning he preached from the text "Feed my lambs," eulogizing on the duty of the church to young converts and to Sunday School scholars.

Emmanuel Reformed Episcopal Church was well attended yesterday. In the morning, the Rev. J. Simpson Trotter gave an interesting expression of the parable of the Rich man, to Lazarus, and deduced from it some practical life lessons. In the evening his text was, "If they hear not Moses and the prophets, neither will they be persuaded, though one rose from the dead." He showed that repentance was imperative, that the Scriptures were quite sufficient to persuade men to repent, and that if they would not thus be persuaded, their case was hopeless, they would not be persuaded by a messenger from the dead.

SPORTING NEWS

Claus was practicing to-day for to morrow's match.

What promises to be one of the most hotly contested quoit matches ever held in this city will be pitched to-morrow, beginning at 9 o'clock, on the Commercial House grounds, between Frank Claus, of Tyendinaga, and Joshua Richardson, of Toronto. The game is for $100 a side, best two of three 61 point games. No admission fee; all are invited.

The Carnival football team defeated Albert College on Saturday afternoon on the Hospital lot by 3 goals to 2. The game was spirited and both teams played well.

The following games of football have been arranged for this week: City's vs. Centrals, on Tuesday; City's vs. Albert College, on Wednesday afternoon; City's vs. Mutes, Friday afternoon. All these games will be played on the new cricket field, east Bridge st. The City's will practice every afternoon this week on which they have not a match.

A match of hockyists to arrange for a rink, will be held at the Huffman House to morrow night.

The Alix-Dreetum race at Mystic Park, Medford, Mass., on Saturday was a farce. The mare won the first heat in 2:09 very easily and the second in 2:14¼. Then she got going lame. He was then withdrawn, and the "queen" went a third heat with a running pace maker in 2:07¼.

The sword and bayonet exercise at Montreal on Saturday night between Sergt.-Major Morgans, of Kingston, and Sergt. Hawker, of Montreal, for the championship of Canada, resulted in a tie.

Napanee High School beat Picton High School at f otball in Napanee on Saturday by 3 to 1.

The weather is too fine for deer hunting, as the animals that are killed cannot be kept. Looks as if the season opened too early.

LISTOWEL'S AWFUL CRIME

The Suspected Tramp Captured and Placed in Custody.

AN INQUEST HELD IN THE SWAMP

The People of Listowel and Vicinity Greatly Excited Over the Tragedy—The Clothes of the Murdered Girl Found in Another Part of the Swamp—The Inquest Adjourned.

LISTOWEL, Oct. 22.—It is learned here that the searchers for the perpetrator of the shocking murder on Friday have come up with a man suspected of the crime at Arthur and that he has been taken into custody.

The people of this town and vicinity are very much excited and incensed against the perpetrator of this foul act and searching parties scoured the country with the view of obtaining some more direct clue. Reports from one of the searching parties returned from the vicinity of Arthur indicated that the guilty party had travelled in that direction. A tramp was seen about half a mile distant from the spot south and again on the north, having apparently come from the swamp where the body was found and where indications were also found that the perpetrator washed his hands in a pool of water in a ditch. The searchers followed each clue and it is reported overtook their man in the vicinity of Arthur, as stated.

The coroner's jury was sworn in in the swamp. After viewing the body of the unfortunate girl, and having examined some pools of blood, the jurymen adjourned to the residence of Mr. Keith. Evidence was given by the section men, Mr. and Mrs. Keith, the father and mother of the deceased, and others. Nothing was elicited, however, throwing any light or giving any information as to the perpetrator of this most brutal crime. The Listowel Inn was appointed the place to meet next Friday at 10 o'clock for the purpose of awaiting developments and obtaining further information as to the perpetrator of this most brutal and cruel crime.

The clothes of the deceased were found on Saturday in another part of the swamp.

THE ATTACK ON CANADA.

A "Montreal Banker" Replies to Mr. Wilson and the Investors Review.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—Mr. Foster's interview in the Chronicle is rather remarkable for it contains no hint as to the loan which the Canadian Government organ stated he was coming to Great Britain to negotiate. Mr. Foster touches upon pretty nearly the whole range of topics common to British and Canadian discussion except this "Loan" and the fast Atlantic service. There is little doubt, but that Mr. Foster's visit is for the purpose of aiding Mr. Huddart in a semi-official capacity. The people here generally approve of Mr. Foster's utterance that it is the desire of Canada to encourage British imports while all the same time she is perfectly friendly to the United States. His statement that Canada would never force confederation upon Newfoundland is regarded as superfluous because Canada is not in a position to do so.

The attacks of S. L. Wilson, the editor of the financial journal called the Investors Review upon Canada has not been allowed to pass unnoticed. In the Chronicle there appears a letter signed "Montreal Banker," in which the ridiculous character of Wilson's attack also echoed in the Chronicle is exposed. Now that Mr. Wilson's attack has secured the recognition that he has desired for it, he will level his second broadside at the Dominion. Another attack upon Canada in the Review may be expected any day.

The Baptist Convention.

ST. THOMAS, Ont., Oct. 22.—At the Baptist convention on Saturday a report was presented by Dr. Goodspeed re the outrage committed on Rev. D. Reddick. The report expressed indignation at the assault committed on a British subject in Harrison county, Texas, and urged the Canadian Government to enquire into the matter and take such action as will secure justice being done. The report was adopted. The following were elected to fill vacancies on the home mission board: Messrs. Thomas Urquhart, J. L. Carter and Rev. C. Goodspeed. The report of the committee on the state of religion in the churches was also presented. It showed a most favorable condition of spiritual life and steady progress in every department. The report of the publication board was presented by the business manager and showed that the cash sales during the year had made considerable advance and the profits enabled the board to declare a dividend of $15,000, which would be divided between the various denominational interests.

FAMOUS HISTORIAN DEAD.

James Anthony Froude, LL.D, Passes Away—Works of his Life.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—James Anthony Froude, LL.D., the celebrated religious writer and historian, died on Saturday, aged 76 years.

James Anthony Froude, born at Dartington, Devonshire, in 1818, achieved fame principally through his "History of England," which deals with the period between the fall of Wolsey and the death of Queen Elizabeth. The history was published in 1856. He was educated at Oxford, later he became a fellow of Exeter. His first literary effort that attracted notice was a novel entitled the "Shadows of the Clouds," which appeared in 1847. Two years later the "Nemesis of Fate," was published. This work made a great stir in orthodox circles in England and the result was that Froude lost his fellowship.

Other works that have appeared from his pen "Short studies on great subjects," "The English in Ireland in the 18th century," "Cæsar Asketh," and two books about Carlyle's early life and Carlyle's life in London. Mr. Froude also edited Carlyle's "Reminiscences" and the "Final Memoir of Jean Welsh Carlyle." The clinical frankness which he exhibited in these two books provoked a great deal of savage criticism.

In 1872 Mr. Froude visited the United States on a tour. Mr. Froude was appointed Regius professor of history at Oxford by Lord Salisbury in 1892, succeeding the late Prof. Freeman. He has been looked upon as almost the last of a generation of English literary men that included Tennyson, Carlyle, Thackeray, Dickens, Newman and Kingsley, all of whom he had known and with most of whom he had warm friendship.

Warnock Gets Fifteen Years.

CHATHAM, Ont., Oct. 22—John Warnock, who killed John Radcliffe, at Tilbury, on September 30th, and who was found guilty of manslaughter, has been sentenced to 15 years imprisonment in Kingston penitentiary.

Ex-President of Colombia Dead.

PANAMA, Oct. 22—A despatch to the Star and Herald says that Carlos Holguin, ex-President of the Republic and President of the Senate died of kidney disease in Bogota.

Two Children Cremated.

KNOXVILLE, Iowa, Oct. 22.—The house of Silas Jones was destroyed by fire on Saturday and Mrs. Jones and her two children, a boy and a girl, cremated.

Fifteen Killed by an Explosion.

VIENNA, Oct. 22.—An explosion occurred in a coal pit at Anina, Hungary. Fifteen persons were killed and twenty others injured.

SPECIAL MENTION

Catarrh—Use Nasal Balm. Quick, positive cure. Soothing, cleansing, healing.

DR. LOW'S PLEASANT, WORM SYRUP removes worms of all kinds from children or adults.

THAT HACKING COUGH can be quickly cured by Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam. Price 25c.

ALWAYS AVOID HARSH PURGATIVE PILLS. They first make you sick and then leave you constipated. Carter's Little Liver Pills regulate the bowels and make you well. Dose, one pill.

ALL CASES OF WEAK OR LAME BACK, backache, rheumatism, will find relief by wearing one of Carter's Smallweed and Belladonna Backache Plasters. Price 25 cents. Try them.

DR. BURNS AND SCALES.—"If you are so unfortunate as to injure yourself in this way, we can suggest a remedy that will (we speak from experience) soon relieve you of all pain and quickly heal the wound; it costs but twenty five cents for the large bottle and is sold by all Druggists—ask for PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER.

Mrs. Webb, Liberty, Miss., says: "I have been using Ayer's Pills for over twenty five years, and recommend them in cases of chronic diarrhœa, knowing their efficacy from personal experience, they having cured when every other medicine failed."

No one need fear cholera or any summer complaint if they have a bottle of Dr. J. D Kellog's Dysentery Cordial ready for use It corrects all looseness of the bowels promptly and causes a healthy and natural action. This is a medicine adapted for the young and old, rich and poor, and is rapidly becoming the most popular medicine for cholera, dysentery, etc., in the market.

Military.

The following is from Saturday's Gazette: 16th "PRINCE EDWARD" BATTALION OF INFANTRY—No 1 Company—To be Lieutenant—2nd Lieutenant Samuel McCormick, vice Adams, promoted.

That Joyful Feeling.

With the exhilarating sense of renewed health and strength and internal cleanliness, which follows the use of Syrup of Figs, is unknown to those who have not progressed beyond the old time medicines and the cheap substitutes sometimes offered but never excepted by the well informed.

CAMPBELLFORD.

October 22nd.—A quiet, interesting wedding was celebrated at Mr. Charles Dunk's residence on Wednesday afternoon, when Miss Ada Dunk, only daughter of Mr. Charles Dunk, contractor and builder, was married to Mr. B. Norman, book-keeper for the firm of the Superior Lumber Co., Toronto, N. Y. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Cooper, Rector of the Church of England, in the presence of a few relatives and friends. The bride was given away by her father, Mr. C. Dunk. She was neatly and becomingly attired and looked most charming. The young couple left by the evening train for their future home in Buffalo, followed by the best wishes of a host of relatives and friends.

A Great Battle.

Is continually going on in the human system. The demon of impure blood tries to gain victory over the constitution, to ruin health and drag victims from the grave. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the weapon with which to defend one's self, drive the desperate enemy from the field, and restore bodily health for many years.

Hood's PILLS cure nausea, sickness, indigestion and biliousness. 25c.

Chauncey Ashley, issuer of marriage licences, Division Court Office, Pinnacle street or at residence over Benmore & Benson's store. d&w

A Graduate of Toronto University says:

"My children have been treated with Scott's Emulsion from their earliest years! Our physician first recommended it and now whenever a child takes cold my wife immediately resorts to this remedy, which which always effectas cure."

New Advertisemens.

TO LET.

TO LET 2 snug, warm brick houses in terrace, situated on Harriet St., West Belleville, known as Mrs. Oak's, or Fillter's terrace. For terms of rent apply to R. C. Fillter, collector, or sub agent to the estate of the late H. E Fillter Residence at Mr. Aylsworth's Corner of William and Dundas Sts., East Belleville. 85d2m

BOARD.

LARGE Double Room, suitable for sitting room and bed room, furnished or unfurnished, with board. Apply at this office. 144d3t

McLaughlin's QUEEN FLOUR

Which is warranted THE BEST IN CANADA

For sale by Chas. E. Bishop.

Bridge St., Belleville,

Send him an order.

ORDER From us the following:

Brooklyn Cake,
Apple Rice Pudding,
Allumette,
Straw Pastry,
Mignon Cake,
Vienna Strips,
Fonchonette,
Apple Dumplings,
Soufflees,
Esolaire,
Cream Puff,

Jas. Wallace & Co

See our windows for ornamental goods tomorrow.

A Few Lines For To-morrow.

Charlotte Russe (individuals, larger ones to order). Cream Rolls. Corn Muffins. Graham Gems and all kinds of pastry. Oyster Pat ies to order Fresh Oysters, fine stock. Ice cream.

Although the season seems to be past we are still making and selling ice cream Orders can be filled for any quantity and in any shape. Also served in our parlors daily.

H. C. DICKENS & SON.

WALL - STREET!

OPERATE SUCCESSFULLY IN WALL ST THROUGH OUR

Co-Operative B.R. Stock Syndicate.

Large Profits Realized with Minimum Risks.

"PROSPECTUS AND DAILY MARKET LETTER" MAILED FREE.

HIGHEST REFERENCES.

WEINMAN & CO.

Stock and Grain Broker

NO. 41 BROADWAY, NEW YORK CITY.

d Oct. 1st, 3m sod

$1.00

To $5 00 saved on all Dinner Sets bought here. Look to quality always. Pattern may please the eye, but if not fired right, will soon look worn and you're disappointed.

TO MAKE

A living by Crockery alone we must sell better goods at lower prices than the small general storekeeper. Our knowledge, the assortment, the superior styles is what keeps this big establishment to the front, and if the trade comes here, it's because it pays to do so. The new importations will begin to arrive first week next month—then look out.

W. J. REID & CO'Y.

CRYSTAL HALL. Rous' Old Stand.

London and Belleville.

NEW HATS AND CAPS TO COVER

OUR HEADS.

GEO. P. MINAKER.

REMOVAL.

MISS WAY has removed her dress making rooms to the Singer Office, one door north of Lattimer's Barber Shop, where she will be pleased to meet her old customers, and as many new ones as wish to favor her with a call. 40d6 wlt

FULL WEEK AT . . .

BRIDGE ST METHODIST CHURCH.

Monday Evening, 8 p.m.
Mass Meetings, City Choirs; Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Blight, Con's.

Tuesday Evening, 8 p.m.
Words of Greeting; Addresses by John Charlton, M.P., and A. C. Courtice, B.D.

Wednesday Evening, 8 p.m.
Ideal in Practice, Miss Bertha F. Vella. Addresses by Rev. G. M. Smart, M.A.; D.D., LL.D., and Mr. B. F. Jacobs Chicago.

Thursday Evening, 8 p.m.
Mrs. Lydia M. Mountford "Home and Haunts of Jesus"

Friday Evening, 8 p.m.
Mrs. Lydia M. Mountford, "Life in Jerusalem."

Saturday Evening, 8 p.m.
Mrs Lydia M. Mountford, "From Bethlehem to Calvary."

Collection Tuesday and Wednesday evening Tickets 25 cen's for Oriental lectures, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

SEE SMALL BILLS.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY

HUNTERS' EXCURSIONS.

Return Tickets AT SINGLE FIRST-CLASS FARE

FROM BELLEVILLE TO PENETANG, MIDLAND, and all points in the following districts:—SEVERN to NORTH BAY, inclusive. ARGYLE to BROOCK, inclusive. CAMERON to HALIBURTON, inclusive. MATTAWA to NEPIGON and inclusive. (via North Bay) ST. ALBERT JUNCTION, MUSKOKA LAKES (Via Muskoka, Nav. Company).

Good going October 19, 20, 26, and 27. Nov. 2 and 3

Valid for Return leaving destination not later than December 1st, 1894.

Sportsman's Dog, Gun, and 200 lbs. Camping Outfit Carried Free.

For tickets and all information, apply to

U. E. THOMPSON,

GEN. TICKET AGENCY, Bridge Street.

UNDERWEAR . . . AT FISH'S

Don't go shivering around any longer, but come and get some of our warm underclothing, and you will be happy and comfortable.

Sizes run from 30 to 46 inches. Our prices suit all pocket books,

We give value that cannot be beaten.

A. E. FISH & CO.

Try our King Shirt, and you will buy no other.

Telephone Rings, IS THAT OBC?

YES.

R. J. Graham is speaking:
We are rushed in the office, Send us another good man at once.

ALL RIGHT,

We shall have a man there in ten minutes We sent J. R. Sneddon, who had just graduated. Mr. Graham has now three graduates of

ONTARIO BUSINESS COLLEGE.

In his office here, namely Managing Accountant, Assistant and Stenographer.

QUEEN'S - OPERA - HOUSE,

THOS. P. J. POWER,—MANAGER.

VAN AMBURG CONCERT COMPANY.

ONE NIGHT ONLY

—ON—

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 23rd, 1894,

Under the auspices of Canton Belleville, No. 8, P. M., I. O. O. F.

Prices, - 15, 25 and 35c.

Plan at Riggs' Music Store.

THIS MATTER CHANGED DAILY.

MONDAY, Oct. 22nd.

Still More.

More New Goods just received in both Millinery and Jacket Department.

New Jackets, $5.
New Jackets, $6.
New Jackets, $10.
New Jacket Cloths, $1.
New Flannelettes, 5c.
New Millinery.

W. FLINT JONES.

Next door to Haines & Lockett.

PETTYJOHN'S CALIFORNIA BREAKFAST FOOD

Dyspeptics can eat this food.

It is particularly adapted for children and persons of sedentary habits.

It is made from Pacific coast wheat hulled and crushed by improved machinery.

It can be easily prepared for breakfast, as this crushing process makes it soft and tender and easy to cook.

Ask your physician which is best for you to eat, oats or wheat.

Pettyjohn's California Breakfast Food is sold in packages by

BENMORE & BENSON.

JUST - RECEIVED
..AT THE..
GLASGOW WAREHOUSE.

Another large shipment of PRIESTLY & SONS' Celebrated

DRESS - GOODS,

— INCLUDING —

Black Crepe Cloths,
Black Mourning Cloths,
Black Wool Sateens,
Black Revenna Cords,
Black Silk Warps,
Black Wool Henriettas,
Black & Navy Serges,
Black & Navy Cheviots.

These Good are all fast Black & Thoroughly Reliable.

— ALSO —

NEW GOLF CLOAKINGS, all prices
NEW CURL CLOAKINGS,
New Black and Colored Beavers,
New Black and Colored Box Cloths,
Full lines in Mantles and Capes.
Large lines of CANADIAN STAPLES at CLOSE CASH PRICES.
CARPETS, OIL CLOTHS and CURTAINS a specialty.

VANDERVOORT & GIBSON,

Successors to the late J. W. Dunnet.

Belleville, Oct. 17, 1894.

P.S.—A large show case and table for sale cheap.

COUPON
—FOR—
PART 9.
Canada Portfolio of Art.

A Coupon appears in all issues of this paper.

Cut out this coupon and forward, together with 10 cents, to the Art Department of this paper, and you will receive one part of Canada, as mentioned above, by mail postpaid, or bring the coupon and 10 cents to this office and receive Portfolio.

NAME..

ADDRESS..

N. B.—Remember, only one Coupon required for each part.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, MONDAY. OCT. 22.

CITY AND DISTRICT.

The insurance adjusters are expected to-night.

The water in the river is extremely low and still falling.

There are broken boards on several of the old sidewalks.

Pure blood is absolutely necessary in order to enjoy perfect health. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood and strengthens the system.

Front St., from the lower bridge to the market is in an abominably muddy state, owing to the sidewalks on both sides being ripped up for the laying of the granolithic.

The schr. D. Freeman is unloading a cargo of coal for Thos. Stewart at his elevator dock. She will return to-morrow to Oswego for another cargo for the same firm.

A young child of Mr. Phil Acton, near the G.T.R. station, was badly burned this morning by playing with matches. It was so badly burned that its face had to be placed in a plaster.

We know whereof we affirm when we state that Ayer's Pills, taken promptly, at the first symptoms of colds and fevers, arrest further progress of these disorders, and speedily restore the stomach, liver, and bowels, to their normal and regular action.

Mr. VanAmburgh is a splendid violinist. Mrs. VanAmburgh sang a solo in each part of the programme in such a manner as to elicit loud encores. As for Earl and Fred they are musical marvels. The VanAmburgh Family are all excellent musicians.—[Shelburne Free Press. Opera House to-morrow night.

The Toronto Empire says: Mrs. Mountford speaks with the greatest ease and fluency, and has also a perfect command of the English. In addition to these qualifications she is endowed with a magnificent presence and marvellous voice, great histrionic ability, and tireless energy. The whole entertainment is an inspiration, as well as being full of information found nowhere in print. Teachers, students, and all who wish to spend a most enjoyable and profitable evening, should make it a point to attend Mrs. Mountford's lectures.

Superintendent Mathison writes:—"The INTELLIGENCER has always evinced a friendly interest in the success of our Institution, for which I have felt and now feel the liveliest satisfaction, but I cannot appropriate to myself all your kindly references in your Saturday's paper. The Institution was well and favorably known throughout the Province before I came here owing to the efforts of the late Principal Palmer, and I have been fortunate in having associated with me a staff of good, earnest teachers and officers, who are also deserving of commendation."

PROBABILITIES.

TORONTO, Oct. 22.—Southeasterly, veering to southwesterly winds; generally fair and warm, with a few local showers, chiefly at night.

Stoves and Stove Pipes.

The best varnish for pipes and stoves may be had in small tin cans for 10 and 15 cents, at L. W. Yeomans & Co. It is more durable than ordinary pipe varnish, and less offensive when the fire is first started.

Died.

MILLS.—Died at Belleville on October 20th, 1894, David Mills, in his 67th year.

The funeral will take place from his late residence, Coleman Street, to Christ Church on Tuesday, Oct., 23rd, at 2:30 o'clock.

To-night.

From 6 until 10 o'clock we will offer in children's boots, 25 fours, 75 fives and 26 sixes, at 25c. a pair.

Also, about 100 pairs of men's Rubbers No. 6, at 25c.

The above goods are but slightly soiled.

HAINES & LOCKETT.

FATAL ACCIDENT.

Fireman Seth Luke Killed Instantly at Trenton This Morning.

As engine No. 139, (light) was approaching Trenton on the Grand Trunk this morning at 10 o'clock, going west, the fireman in applying the brake leaned or was thrown forward, striking a car and breaking his neck. Death was instantaneous. The fireman's name was Seth Luke, age about 23, and resided at York. Though some time on the road he was very lately raised to the position of fireman.

NEARLY A DISASTROUS FIRE.

Discovered Just in the Nick of Time—Good Work by the Firemen.

What would have proved one of the most disastrous fires this city has seen for years was happily averted by being discovered before it had gained much headway. Wm. Brown, foreman of No. 1 fire company, had occasion to come up Front St. shortly before seven o'clock yesterday morning, and when in front of the hallway leading to the Ontario Business College he heard a crackling sound. On looking up the first flight of stairs he discovered smoke rolling down in clouds. He at once ran back to the station and ordered out his men, at the same time sending in alarms to No. 2 company and the police station. Lines of hose were quickly laid and the firemen mounted the steps of the first stairs, but only found smoke of the most dense character. Up the second flight they went and at the second landing they found the fire, which was creeping along with lightning rapidity over the varnished woodwork of the entrance to the business college. By almost superhuman efforts they managed to stay the progress of the flames and confine it to the landing. Fortunately the school room of the college was shut off from the hall by an iron door, thus saving this well-equipped room. The fire was thought to be under control in about an hour and the firemen left, but Messrs. Robinson and Johnson, who stayed to watch, soon discovered a flame between the floor and the ceiling below and the brigade were called back, but a little water soon finished the fire.

The damages upstairs will not exceed $500, being principably woodwork and ceilings. The business office of Messrs. Robinson & Johnson was slightly damaged, the door being broken in and some water running through on the floor.

All the water poured on by the firemen seemed to run down upon the gents' furnishing stock of A. E. Fish & Co., and with the dense smoke has greatly damaged it.

The building is owned by the McAnnany estate and insured for $15,000 in the Royal, British American and Manchester. Mr. Fish's stock was insured for $2,000 in the Commercial Union and $2,000 in the Western.

The origin of the fire is a mystery. It started in a bare hall with nothing but the woodwork to feed it. Owing to the many recent fires of a similar character it would be in order if an inquest was held and the origin, if possible, ascertained.

The firemen deserve great credit for the work they did yesterday morning. The flames had gained considerable headway and it was only by the hard labor of the men and the excellence of their appliances that the building was saved.

Vandervoort & Gibson suffered some loss in chenille and lace curtains, damaged by smoke.

HE WAS WATCHED.

Mr. E. Ormondy Presented with an Address and a Gold Watch.

Mr. Ed. Ormondy, who for the last seven years has so capably filled the position of Accountant for the Rathbun Co. in this city, left to-day to accept a very responsible position with Messrs. Cossitt Bros., of Brockville.

While in Belleville Mr. Ormondy, by his courteous and obliging manner, has won a host of friends who regret to see him leave the city.

The manager and employes of the firm met in the office on Bridge St. on Saturday evening and presented Mr. Ormondy with a gold watch and chain and the following address:

BELLEVILLE, Oct. 16, 1894.

E. Ormondy Esq., Accountant.

DEAR FRIEND.—It is with feelings of regret we meet you this evening to say good-bye.

Some of us have known you for years and can well bear testimony to many acts of kindness received from you in the relationship with which we have been connected. We have admired you for your integrity and uprightness of character, your genial disposition in many ways, to your faithfulness and devotion to the interests of our employers.

We are sincerely glad that while you are leaving us you enter on a larger field of usefulness and responsibility, and we are confident that in your new position you will, as in the old, earn the same respect and confidence which you held and still hold in the esteem of our Company.

As a memento of our regard we ask you to accept this gold watch and chain in memory of your connection with us and with the Rathbun Co. We beg you to convey to Mrs. Ormondy our kindest regards and hope you and family will have all prosperity in your new home.

Signed on behalf of Employes,
JNO. JOYCE,
E P. FREDERICK.

Buy Good Clothing.

Oak Hall suits for boys are famous for good style and good wear. They were never made to be shovelled off as "bargain truck" and that is the reason you never find Sanford's clothing at any cheap John store. This celebrated maker's clothing can be had in Belleville at the Oak Hall only and we guarantee the prices lower than some dealers are asking for trash.

Married in Toronto.

Mr. Jas. J. MacCallum, mechanical superintendent of the the Fun, was quietly married in St. Mary's church, Toronto, on Saturday morning to Miss Emma Power, of that city. The happy couple took the train and arrived in this city the same evening. They went at once to their future home at 110 Coleman St. We extend congratulations.

The Fire Will Not Interfere With the Work at O. B. C.

The fire in the Ontario Business College will in no way interfere with the work of the College. The halls only have been injured, and until the Front St. entrance has been repaired, the Bridge St. entrance will be used.

Ladies' Rubbers.

We have good Rubbers for Ladies at 30 cents up to 50 cents. See our Strap and Toe cap Rubbers.—VERMILYEA & SON.

Cold in the head—Nasal Balm gives instant relief; speedily cures. Never fails.

ON MARMORA LAKE.

A PARTY OF BELLEVILLE ANGLERS DO SOME "TALL FISHING" THERE.

A Poetic Description of the Trip by a Practised Pen—Delightful Sport Graphically Described—"It is not all of Fishing to Fish."

For the Intelligencer.

What a jolly load of sports was that, that on Monday night about one o'clock started for a thirty-two mile ride in the dark, and in the mud, for the rendezvous at Crow Lake! What fun, jokes, and laughter whiled away the hours, until the faint light of dawn began to be seen lighting up the foliage, and ushering in a new day. How fresh and pure seemed the air, how green the foliage of the evergreen, and how bright and warm were the russet and bright colors of the dense woods! Soon the picturesque village of Marmora was reached, and what keen appetites we had for the bountiful breakfast supplied by our host, McWilliams. Then came the unloading of the mountain of luggage, and its transference to the boats. All night long the beacon light of that venerable Nestor and prince of good fellows, Almon Reed, had guided us on our way to the promised land. Soon everything was comfortably stowed away, the troll's gold and silver lures cast in the stream, and we were on the dark water of Crow river, on our way to the lake. In a short time we found ourselves on the beautiful Crow lake, with its broad bays and mirror-like surface. Visions of enormous fish ready for the morning repast floated before our eager eyes, but alas! mile after mile was traversed but the fish were too coy, and would not notice the flattering inducements offered to secure a bite. Island after island, each conspicuous by its beauty, was passed, and soon we drew near the lofty banks of iron ore which mark the site of the iron village of Blairton. Selecting our camping ground in a lovely nook of an island, we erected our tents and lighted a grand fire of driftwood that seemed to enter into the spirit of the thing, and diffused light and happiness. Then such preparations were made for our comfort, oilskins formed the floor and upon these we placed our beds. Such fun was made of one individual who, to provide against cold feet, had brought a rubber bottle to be filled with hot water, and an enormous fur carriage muff in which to encase his extremities during the watches of the night. Alas, some vandal had stolen that most indispensable article, the frying iron, but Joe was equal to any emergency, a tin frying pan was secured and by dint of pot hooks fashioned from the surrounding trees, everything we required came to hand and soon our hearts were rejoiced by the bubbling of boiling potatoes and the savory smell of frying bacon and eggs. Stores were opened, and everything arranged for a sumptuous repast. After full justice had been done, pipes were lighted and reclining at full length by the camp fire, we arranged our plans for the fishing. We were fortunate in securing the services of Andy, "who was handy" for everything. A genial North of Ireland man, who had spent forty years in these northern wilds, who knew every part of the wonderful lake, and from his own account could tell the exact spots where the big fish were to be found. Tom, although an experienced angler, being the only tenderfoot of the party, it being his first trip to this lovely spot, was confided to his care, and Andy vowed a solemn vow that his boat would take more fish than any two of the others. Packing and unpacking had consumed a great part of the day, and at a reasonably early hour, after enjoying the roasting fire, and drinking numberless cups of hot fragrant tea, we sought our comfortable couches. Whether owing to the tea, or the strangeness of the situation, sleep seemed difficult to woo. Some of the party, however soon began to blow their unmelodious horns, while others ventured out of the tent to catch a glimpse of the sleeping lake by moonlight. How beautiful it was, In the dead silence, as we stood on the shore, and looked out on the broad expanse, saw the deep, mysterious woods, listened to the occasional crack of the bushes as if some nocturnal animal was venturing near to see what strange being had come into his stronghold and lightened the woods by the accustomed glare of the fire, as it leaped upwards, painting the trees with its ruddy light. Far away we could see the islands, casting their shadows on the waters. All was so still, so quiet, so virginal, it seems as if the foot of man had never before penetrated the solitude. It had a wild, awesome beauty, all its own. Soon we too wooed the drowsy god, and slept serenely, until in the dim and misty light of approaching dawn, we heard the sounds of oars as our veteran fisherman rowed away on the "vasty deep" to get a fresh fish for breakfast. In an hour or two he returned with two beauties, which were quickly transferred to the firying pan, and which, with the accompaniments of hot coffee, home-made bread, and mealy potatoes, made a breakfast fit for a king, or any other less favored mortal. What gossip we had discussing the merits of the different spoons and arranging for the day's sport. Away we went, and in a short time we experienced that deep joy only known to an angler's heart, as we felt the sharp tug on the line, and away forty feet see the great splash of the water, as a splendid fish, fast hooked, vaults into the air. Now he heads for the boat, and the busy fisherman reels in the line; now he takes a curve and heads out, then doubles and comes straight for you, trying to get under the boat, and free himself from this strange thing that holds him so fast; now he is alongside, when by a dexterous lift you land him in the boat, and quiet him with a blow from your gaff. A grand fellow; such beautiful colors; what lovely greens; what delicate whites. You never can know the full beauty of a fish until you see him just as he is landed. Such congratulations; such guesses as to his weight; then off we go again, and so the day passes on. Hist, says Joe, lie still, we are approaching a reed bed, and just on the margin a flock of ducks has alighted and are taking their bath. Oh, how quietly we steal on them—the paddle just moving in the water—not the slightest sound but the slight gurgle of the water as it leaves the paddle; suddenly Joe rises, crack goes the gun, again, and four black and white butter ball ducks have said their last good night to the world. Did any of your readers ever eat stewed duck? Just go out to Crow Lake and try it. You must prepare yourself for the repast by three or four hours' rowing on the lake, then get Joe to cook them with plenty of gravy, and you will say the Fifth Avenue Hotel in New York has nothing on its menu to approach it. And so day after day passed. When the lake was too boisterous, or the showers too numerous, we had a lazy time, and indulged in the usual amusements of camp life. Not an hour hung heavily on our hands. When we felt a little dull, we would spin fish yarns, or get Joe to tell us some of his trapping exploits. Poor Andy too contributed his share to the general fun. Charley's boots on one occasion became too stiff to draw on; it was suggested to apply a boiled potato to the boot, when it would slip on with perfect ease; so the boots were handed to Andy to try the experiment. We watched him for a moment, and imagine our fun, when we found him applying the potato to the outside instead of the inside of the boot! We learned some strange wood lore about otters, beavers, &c. One strange fact about otters is, that they indulge in tobogganing as an amusement. Wherever you find an otter's home, you will find his slide; he selects a clay bank, and forms his slide as you would a toboggan slide, making it hard and smooth. When completed, he will go to the top and slide down into the water, amusing himself for hours. A beaver clan will keep one of their number on watch, and while the others are at work cutting the poplar logs and rolling them into the water,—there to strip and eat the bark, he will announce the approach of danger by slapping the water with his tail. As soon as the signal is given not a beaver will be seen. I would like to spin a yarn or two about fish, but as there are so many unbelievers I think it best to keep them for fishermen, who are always credulous and swallow a big fish story quite as easily, and much more frequently, than a big fish the bait. What a wonderful thing is the camp fire, how welcome its heat and light. Tired and weary, we would cast ourselves on the ground and gazing into its depths, revel in tints and colors that no Turner or Titian could produce, ever changing, never quiet; leaping, rushing, roaring, bright, beautiful, dangerous thing, bringing us so much comfort and so much sorrow, consuming with it ravenous appetite in a few moments the ambitions and work of a lifetime, and burning out the warm life blood amid inexpressible agonies. How many beautiful pictures it gave us. Beautiful faces, old castles, baronial halls, weird, naked forests, banners and knights in armor.

"Oft died the words upon our lips,
As suddenly from out the fire
Built of the wreck of stranded ships,
The flames would leap and then expire.

And as their splendor flashed and failed,
We thought of wrecks upon the main,
Of ships dismasted that were hailed,
And sent no answer back again.

O flames that glowed! O hearts that yearned!
They were indeed too much akin,
The driftwood fire without that burned,
The thoughts that burned and glowed within

One of our friends was constantly seeing huge animals in the fire, he would say come and see that head of a maskinonge, see that alligator, that lion, etc.,—once he shouted, see those snakes. We drew the line at this, and mildly suggested he had taken his tea too strong, and that he had better go to bed. The lake is six or seven miles in length, several miles in width. Upon its capacious bosom are many islands. It is very capricious, and inconstant. Mirror-like, not a ripple, suddenly a zephyr is fanned into gale, and soon the white caps chase each other. There can be no picture more lovely, no landscape more entrancing than the lake presents on a bright sunny day in October. The water so clear and quiet, reflecting along its shores with startling distinctness the trees and rocks, the cliffs of iron ore scarped and scored by the miner. Exhibiting the black ore and the bright yellow of the sulphur. The trees decked out with all their beautiful leaves, painted by the frost, the golden russets, the greens, pinks, the reds, the woods literally flowing with color, and when the setting sun cast its radiance upon the great water forming the most exquisite shades of opal and pink; the scene was of the utmost beauty. Space will not permit me, in this letter, to refer to the village of Marmora, the most picturesque and charming village of the county, and the enterprising men who are doing so much for the North Country.

Well, our delightful Autumn outing came to an end much to soon, and we were all sorry to get back to work, and the ordinary routine. We all feel that the trip did us great good and are simply hungering for another.

J. J. B. FLINT.

A SUDDEN DEATH.

Mr. David Mills, Coleman st., Succumbs to Heart Failure.

Death has claimed another of Belleville's oldest residents in the person of Mr. David Mills, Coleman st. Mr. Mills was in his usual health on Saturday, working all day at his trade, machinist, and went home in the evening apparently as well as he had been for years. He retired at 10 o'clock, and was shortly afterward seized with an attack of heart failure and died at 11:20, before a doctor could reach his side.

Deceased was born in Birmingham, Warwickshire, Eng., in 1828 and came to Belleville with his wife and family in 1859. He was employed for upwards of twelve years on the G.T.R., and for the past twenty-two years has been working for the Walker Foundry Co. In religion he was a member of the Church of England and in politics a Reformer. He leaves a wife and six children, five boys and one girl—Joseph, with the Walker Co.; Arthur James, with the Karn Organ Co., Woodstock; Thomas, with Pitceathly & Co; William, with Thompson & Co; Frank, with W. W. Chown & Co., and Annie, wife of Wm. Smith, of the G.T.R. Mr. Mills was a good citizen, quiet and unassuming in his character, a kind father and good husband, and respected by a large circle of friends. The family have the sympathy of all who know them.

The funeral will take place to-morrow (Tuesday) afternoon from his late residence, Coleman st., to Christ church at 2:30, and thence to the cemetery.

Bridge St. Methodist Church, Thursday, Friday & Saturday.

The Toronto Mail says: The word "lecture" as applied to Mrs. Mountford's performances, is altogether too tame. No word has yet been found that describes them. They are tableau, drama, opera, lecture, recital and song intermingled, and everything pictured out in realistic fashion by a woman of pleasing address, mellifluent voice, magnetic personality, and a stage presence that would turn most of the dramatic stars green with envy.

Ministerial Association.

A meeting of the Ministerial Association was held this morning, in the Y.M.C.A rooms, when Rev. Mr. Trotter read a very interesting paper on Foreign Missions, of which one member said it was beautiful, comprehensive and Christ like, and would tend to a greater interest in foreign missions.

ABOVE ALL OTHERS,

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, in every disease caused by torpid liver or impure blood. For Dyspepsia, Liver and Bowel derangements, and kindred ailments, nothing approaches it as a remedy.

PIERCE GUARANTEES A CURE
OR MONEY RETURNED.

AURELIA VANZILE.

MRS. AURELIA VANZILE, of Hamilton, Ind., writes: "My friends said I would never be any better, for I had ulceration of the bowels. By the time I had taken a bottle and a half of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the bleeding had almost stopped. My appetite was good, nothing seemed to hurt me that I ate. My improvement was wonderful. Several years have passed and my cure is permanent."

Our Portrait Gallery.

In to-morrow's issue of the INTELLIGENCER, besides giving an up to date account of the great Sunday School Convention, there will appear likenesses, and brief biographical sketches of the late HON. BILLA FLINT, who can be said to be the founder of Sunday schools in this district, REV. M. W. MACLEAN, President of the city S. S. Association, and a life-long Sunday school worker; MR. A. G. NORTHRUP, who was for twenty-five years Superintendent of John st. Presbyterian Sunday school, and who has always taken a deep interest in all christian work, regardless of denomination; MR. W. JOHNSON, Superintendent of the great Methodist Sunday school, and who is known throughout the length and breadth of Canada for his zeal in this sphere of christian labor. And last, but not least, MR. W. H. GORDON, the indefatigable Secretary of the City S. S. Association, and Superintendent of the Tabernacle Methodist Sunday school, through whose great exertions the success of the Convention to a great measure is due.

Persons wishing extra copies of this illustrated edition will please order before noon to-morrow, as the edition will be limited.

BILLETING COMMITTEE.

Delegates Arriving—Strength of the Denominations.

The Billeting Committee of the S S. Convention has been in session for the past four nights until the wee sma' hours ayont the twal. Up to Saturday night 579 delegates had reported, and with a few received to day and Belleville's delegates added makes a total of over six hundred. Of these 576 more than half are Methodists. The figures for each denomination being, Church of England 3; Christians 4; Friends 5; Congregationalists 12; Baptists 22; Presbyterians 162; Methodists 371.

Several delegates arrived on Saturday, quite a number this morning and afternoon and by the evening trains. At 5 and 5:45 this evening about a hundred are expected. The suburban train so kindly provided by Mr. Gunn, will commence running this evening and will prove a great convenience.

Lane's Medicine Moves the Bowels Each Day

In order to be healthy this is necessary.

To The DELEGATES.

We extend a cordial invitation to the delegates to the S. S. Convention to visit our store.

No undue attention will be forced upon them. They will be made perfectly welcome whether they purchase or not.

GEO. RITCHIE & CO.

Changed Daily.

"SAY A LITTLE BUT SAY IT STRONG."

MONDAY, Oct. 22nd.

THE DELEGATES

Will arrive to-morrow. Let every one do their best to make their stay with us a pleasant one. We will be pleased to have you bring your visiting friends in to see our bright little store and nice goods. We have many little Fancy articles, such as visitors like to purchase as souvenirs.

Stroud's
TEA STORE.

Like a Miracle

Consumption—Low Condition

Wonderful Results From Taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Miss Hannah Wyatt
Toronto, Ont.

"Four years ago while in the old country (England), my daughter Hannah was sent away from the hospital, in a very low condition with consumption of the lungs and bowels, and weak action of the heart. The trip across the water to this country seemed to make her feel better for a while. Then she began to get worse, and for 14 weeks she was unable to get off the bed. She grew worse for five months and lost the use of her limbs and lower part of body, and if she sat up in bed had to be propped up with pillows. Physicians

Said She Was Past All Help

and wanted me to send her to the 'Home for Incurables.' But I said as long as I could hold my hand up she should not go. We then began to give her Hood's Sarsaparilla. She is getting strong, walks around, is out doors every day; has no trouble with her throat and no cough, and her heart seems to be all right again. She has a first class appetite. We regard her cure as nothing short of a miracle." W. WYATT, 89 Marion Street, Parkdale, Toronto, Ontario.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

Hood's Pills are purely vegetable and perfectly harmless. Sold by all druggists. 25c.

= SILKS =

We have in stock a full line of the

Corticelli Embroidery and Knitting Silks
-- IN --

Honiton Lace Emb'y Silk.
Outline do do
Knitting Silk,
Twist Embroidery,
Roman Floss,
Filo Floss.

— ALSO —

27 INCH PURE JAPANESE SILK IN

LIGHT BLUE,
CREAM,
ROSE PINK,
CORAL PINK,
BUTTERCUP,
CARDINAL,

BLACK = SILKS!

In all the leading makes.

J. P. THOMPSON & CO.

Cash is King

And when backed by low prices always wins.

Prices in our store are not copyrighted, others are permitted to copy them.

Read our "Celebrated" prices, they are chips from our block of "UNDERBUY and UNDERSELL."

Cottons, a yard wide, for 4c.
Flannelettes for 5c.
All wool Flannels, 27 inches wide, for 18c,
All wool Navy Flannels, 28 inches wide, for 25c.
Dress Goods, 8, 10, 20, 25, and 50c per yard—All low values.
Ladies' all wool seamless hose. 18c.
Misses' and Boys' double ribbed, seamless and all wool hose, 20c.
Men's underwear from 50c to $5 per suit
New goods rolling in every day. We don't get them for keep sakes. Bargains everywhere to remember us by

THE LEADING BARGAIN HOUSE.

H. A. LAYTON, BELLEVILLE.

Front St., Opposite Campbell St.

A GOOD, WARM, CHEERFUL FIRE!

Will soon be in order as the cold weather is rapidly approaching

SO.....

... Do not Lose any Time

In ordering your supply of

Telephone C 68.

Coal and Wood

... FROM ...

S. A. LAZIER & SON'S.

The Leading Coal and Wood Merchants.

SOME HINTS!

Upon the Uses of Wall and Ceiling Paper.

TEN Per Cent Discount Now.

1. The better grades of paper last longer, are easier to hang and can be purchased at but slight advance in cost over the poorer grades.

2. Whitewash and calsomine are but little cheaper than ceiling papers and add nothing to the appearance of the room, in fact they more often destroy the harmony. To think of furnishing all the rest of your room (the floor even, which you deliberately tramp upon) and leave the most important part of it (the ceiling) without a particle of furnishing or character, except that of cleanliness, is beyond comprehension. Your upper wall and ceiling are the only unbroken decorative feature of a room. Furniture breaks the view of the lower wall and it is still further obscured by the hanging of pictures upon it; therefore let special attention be paid to the selection of wide border that shall be in harmony with wall and ceiling, and of ceiling that fittingly completes the beauty of the room

3. Narrow borders are sufficient, if your aim is only to conceal the ragged ends of paper, but a wide border or frieze serves to heighten the appearance of a room and gives it a more artistic finish—makes it appear as if frescoed.

4. In making your selections, if the room has a north window, let some warmth appear in the paper. If the exposure is south or west, cooler shades can be appropriately used. For Dining-rooms let the walls be mellow in tone, indicative of hospitality.

Parlors can be treated according to individual taste, care being used to have wall and ceiling decorations in harmony with carpets and furniture.

Use for sleeping rooms, light ground papers with a spice of color in the pattern. Floral decorations are most in favor for such purposes.

5. Whatever may be the room or rooms that you are about to paper, don't forget that the better qualities of paper will retain their lustre long after cheaper grades have become dull and colorless.

6. Ten per cent. discount now.

CHAS. B. SCANTLEBURY.

24TH - - - - - - YEAR.

S. A. HYMAN, Manufacturing Furrier.

Special Prices in Ladies' Fur Capes.

Grey Lamb Capes, 18 inches long,	$15 00
" " " 24 "	18 00
Greenland Seal Capes, 24 inches long,	12.00
Empire Capes, 26 inches long,	18 00
" " 27 " Garrick Collars,	22 00
Military " 27 " with vest	22 00

See my Window for Styles.

S. A. HYMAN,

OLD FURS MADE OVER IN THE LATEST STYLES.

Bay of Quinte Steamb t Route

TRI-WEEKLY

DESER'TO, PICTON & KINGSTON

1894 - 1894

STR. "HERO"

THIS favorite steamer is now lighted by electricity and will have a strong search light for excursion business and the boat is heated by steam.

Commencing Monday, April 9th, will leave Belleville Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 6 a. m., returning Tuesday, Thursday and Friday at 11 p. m.

The very best facilities are offered to shippers of freight. The lowest through and local rates quoted.

No charge at Picton on freight for this steamer.

Full information given by Gilbert Johnston on board, or to the

RATHBUN COMY,

. H. GILDERSLEEVE, Ticket Agents. Kingston.

ROCHESTER.

STEAMER

NORTH KING

Leaves for Charlotte, N. Y., every Sunday, 11:30 p. m.

Leaves for Picton and Kingston every Sunday, 2:30 a. m.

Arrive from Picton and Kingston every Sunday, 11:45 p. m.

Arrives from Charlotte, N. Y., every Sunday, 3:30 a. m.

Special attention given to passengers and freight

WEEK DAYS.—Steamer leaves Port Hope week days for Charlotte N. Y., at 9:45 a. m.

Calls at Brighton Monday 2 a.m., and Wednesday 2:30 a.m., and at Colborne Wednesday and Fridays 4 a.m.

Connection made by Grand Trunk morning Express.

THE RATHBUN Co., Agents. U. E. THOMPSON, Agent.

436f

SLIPPER SOLES.

We have just received a large number of the best

LAMB'S WOOL SLIPPER SOLES, IN

Nos. 2, 3, 4, 5 & 6.

Also in Children's Sizes, which we are offering at the low price of 35 Cents per pair.

We have also a full range of Single and Double Berlin Wool, for Crocheting and Knitting Bedroom Slippers.

THE BEEHIVE

CHAS. N. SULMAN

HAPPY HOME RANGES,

Best in the Market.

—ALSO—

A Full Line of

Art Garland

and

Famous Heaters

—(o)—

Wm. McGIE.

Next to Nathan Jones.

Taleph one 38 Front S

Steamer "Iona"

Will save Belleville three times each week for Oswego, connecting with trains for New York.

INSURANCE.

Western Assurance Company,

Fire and Ma ine Head Office, Toronto.

North British & Mercantile Ins. Co.,

Fire and Life, Head Office (Can.) Montreal

Atlas Insurance Company,

Fire Head Office (Canada), Montreal

M. M. THOMPSON

Wells Works Office Pinto St.

REMOVAL

MR. JOSEPH CALDWELL, DENTIST

Has removed his office to the new premises which he has had specially fitted up in the

Caldwell Block,

First door south of the Anglo-American Hotel Front street. 1084

Daily Intelligencer.

At Death's Door—Dyspepsia Conquered —A Great Medical Triumph.

GENTLEMEN,—My medical adviser and others told me I could not possibly live when I commenced to use Northrop & Lyman's VEGETABLE DISCOVERY for Dyspepsia. My case was one of the worst of its kind. For three years I could eat but meat and my weight decreased from 219 to 119 lbs. All the food I took for thirteen months previous to taking Northrop & Vegetable Discovery consisted of milk. I am now entirely cured and have regained my usual weight, can eat anything with a keen relish and feel like a new man. I have sold over thirty dozen VEGETABLE DISCOVERY since it cured me, as I am well-known, and people in this section know how low I was, and thought I could not possibly be cured. They are eager to try the grand medicine. It certainly saved my life as I never expected to recover when first I commenced using it. I am not exaggerating anything but feel glad to be able to contribute this testimonial and trust it may be the means of convincing others of its merits as a certain cure for Dyspepsia.

Signed JAMES VALCOURT,

Wotton, P. Q.

In 1888 the people of Great Britain paid taxes on 492 200 carriages.

Is there anything more annoying than having your corn stepped upon? Is there anything more delightful than getting rid of it? Holloway's Corn Cure will do it. Try it and be convinced.

In Portugal the tobacco tax brings £900,000, the land tax £700,000.

Some people laugh to show their pretty teeth. The use of Ivory White Tooth Powder makes people laugh more than ever. It's so nice. Price 25c. Sold by druggists.

Worms cause feverishness, moaning and restlessness during sleep. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator is pleasant, sure and effectual. If your druggist has none in stock, get him to procure it for you.

The rate of taxation has nearly quadrupled in France since 1830.

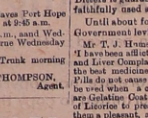

DYSPEPSIA causes dizziness, headache, constipation, variable appetite, rising and souring of food, palpitation of the heart, distress after eating. Burdock Blood Bitters is guaranteed to cure Dyspepsia if faithfully used according to directions.

Until about forty years ago, the Persian Government levied a tax on cats.

MR. T. J. HOBBS, Columbus, Ohio, writes: 'I have been afflicted for some time with kidney and Liver Complaint, and find Parmlee's Pills the best medicine for these diseases. These Pills do not cause pain or griping, and should be used when a cathartic is required. They are Gelatine Coat d, and rolled in the Flour of Licorice to preserve their purity and give them a pleasant, agreeable taste.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP cures Bronchitis.

FOR CHOLERA MORBUS, Cholera Infantum Cramps, Colic, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, and Summer Complaint Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is a prompt, safe and sure cure that has been a popular favorite for over 40 years.

LAKEHURST SANITARIUM

OAKVILLE, ONT.

For treatment and cure of

ALCHOLISM, MORPHINE HABIT, TOBACCO HABIT AND NERVOUS DISEASES.

The system employed at this institution is the familiar Double Chloride of Gold System. Through its agency over 200,000 Slaves to the use of these poisons have been emancipated in the last fourteen years. Lakehurst Sanitarium is the oldest Institution of the kind in Canada, and has a well earned reputation to maintain in the line of medicine. In its whole history there is not an instance of failure to remove the appetite for these poisons. In its whole history there is not an instance of any after ill-effects from the treatment. Hundreds of happy homes in all parts of the Dominion bear eloquent witness to the efficacy of a course of treatment with us. For terms and full information write

THE SECRETARY,

28 Bank of Commerce Chambers,

aug7d3m34w3m) Toronto, Ont.

DODD'S

KIDNEY PILLS,

A positive cure for all kidney diseases, such as

Backache, Rheumatism, Diabetes, Bright's Disease, &c., &c.

For sale at the Pharmacy.

D. M. WATERS.

STEAMER VARUNA

A. HICKS, Captain

WILL leave Trenton every morning, (Sundays excepted) at 7:00 o'clock, calling at Redperville and all points between the head of the bay and Picton, reaching Belleville at 8:30 a.m., Deseronto at 10:30 a.m.

On Tuesday and Thursday evenings to meet North King at Brighton, returning will leave Brighton Wednesday and Saturday mornings at 5:30.

Will connect at Picton with stage for Sand Banks.

Parties wishing to arrange for excursion rates will see Capt. Hicks on board

Will leave Picton at 1 p.m. on return for the head of the bay, Deseronto 3:30 p.m., Belleville, at 4:30 p. m., and Trenton, at 6.

Omnibuses in waiting at Picton, Belleville and Brighton.

The Rathbun Co., Agents, Belleville and Deseronto.

A. W. Hepburn, Agent, P ton.

ROCHESTER,

KINGSTON AND MONTREAL.

Weekly Service Calling at Way Ports

THE PEOPLE'S FAVORITE STEAMER.

ALEXANDRIA

Leaves Montreal, Thursday at 10:00 a. m. Arrives Belleville, Saturday at 11:45 a. m. Leaves for Rochester " " 1:15 p. m. Arrives from Rochester, Monday at 6:30 a. m Leaves for Montreal, " " 7:30 a. m

Spacious and elegant Saloon. Ample State-room accommodation The choicest and best Meals furnished. Safety, comfort and enjoyment ensured by personal supervision of Capt. Smith and Purser Melrose. Careful handling o freight.

For Tickets, State rooms at lowest rates apply to

THE RATHBUN COMPANY, Agents.

THE KISS OF GOLD.

By KATE JORDAN.

[Copyright, 1893, by J. B. Lippincott Company and published by special arrangement with them.]

He bent over it eagerly. Here lay the explanation, the quest of this vast throng. He looked, and his breath seemed to cease. Before his eyes lay the stolen play. It pages were charred as if it had been passed through flame. It was blotted with tears and smeared with blood. His name was written there for all to see, and far off he still heard his father's quavering, husky voice—the voice that once sang a lullaby to him—repeating to the curious thousands:

"The Hall of the Sinful Copy."

The dews of terror for some unknown but approaching disaster broke from every pore, and he sank to his knees, drawing Virginia with him.

"Oh, kiss me once, love," she whispered, her soft cheek hard upon his; "we must part so soon!"

"Don't leave me," he pleaded. "I love you. To be near you is delight even in this fearful place. I'll give back the play. In the light of truth I will stand unmasked. I'll do it gladly, let them revile me as they will. Then I'll have peace—and your love, dearer than all the world."

Oh, her lovely, melting eyes, her kiss heavy with farewell!

"It is too late," she sighed, and he felt her arms upon his throat. "All that is past." And for another moment she clung to him.

"No, no. We will be happy yet," he cried in anguish.

But the words were hushed upon his lips. In some occult way the truth was revealed to him. He knew that all the faces he had looked upon were those of the dead. He too was dead, and Virginia. Life and earth were gone forever. Repentance was vain, redemption impossible, parting, shame and despair eternal.

In the sudden blackness that swept down like the shadow cast by a monstrous wing Virginia's body slipped from his longing arms, and he was alone.

The cry that broke from his humiliated soul sent the vision whirling, and he awoke, conscious of a bursting heart and a quivering body bathed in cold dews. He made an effort to rise, and as he did so felt a hand upon his shoulder, heard a voice speaking his name.

"What else?" he cried, flinging back his head, his eyes flashing a maddened defiance and clouded with blood. "What else? Oh, God!"

Mr. Plunket's commonplace face was close to him.

"Murray, you must be ill. You've been dreaming—crying out as if some one were hurting you. Wake up. Don't stare so, man. Wake up."

Staring, trembling, his tongue thick, Tom sprang up. The sense of utter loss, the tragedy of Virginia's last kiss, were still with him. He looked around, startled, dumb. Yonder in the crimson circle cast by the lamp stood Delatole smiling. Just beyond him were the gaunt form and lonely eyes of Felix Dawson. Both were waiting.

"My dear Murray, I am here under protest," said Plunket, wringing his fat hands in a loose, soft, helpless way as he stood with his head on one side. "This man's story is absurd—now be quiet, don't get angry, but—here he says your last play was one he sent you and which you—er—er—er—appropriated. He hasn't a shadow of proof. How could he? Why, it's preposterous! As if I wouldn't know your style anywhere! I peophooshed him, but Mr. Delatole persisted me to let him face you with his story. That is all, my dear Murray; that is all."

Tom regarded him vacantly while he spoke. He started blindly forward and paused midway in the room, leaning upon a chair.

He was not dreaming still? No; these were men, not shades. This was his familiar room—Virginia was not far away. All was not over. The living moment was still his. Considerations so important left a little while ago were lost sight of; his tortured sensibilities overleaped them all in a maddening thirst to redeem himself in his own eyes while he could, to purge the future from shame, so that never—oh, never—might he really know that sense of awful, final condemnation revealed to him in a dream.

"Speak up, Murray. Throw the lie in his teeth," cried Plunket.

A pallor suddenly struck Tom's face from brow to chin; a pale smile came and went upon his lips. Wretched and wild though his face was, there was something of inexplicable triumph in that smile—a light above a wreck.

He looked straight at Plunket.

"The lie! No! The lie was mine. Do you hear? The horrid, damnable lie was mine. The play was his," Istoleit, I called it 'In the Name of the Czar,' and when he came to me I wouldn't give it up. I wouldn't do it. But now—oh, take it—and with it remove the curse that has followed me!"

A groan of agony came with the words. His eyes looked past the amazed and startled group to the open doorway.

Was Virginia's gray, drawn face as he had seen it in his dream still before his fancy? He looked again. Then he saw the wind among the tops of tired dancing sentinel wise came like a tremendous sigh ascending to a moan. The year would die and the new year be born in a whirling whiteness, winding sheet and baptismal robe in one.

The lights in the lamps flared lonesomely or bent to the rush of the wind. Their uncertain flicker fell upon Tom and sent strange, leaping shadows across his face. He walked as one without purpose and kept close to the palings.

Following his confession had come Delatole's attacks in the press, each word an adder bite. He had expected them, but they drove him mad, and for a week he had been hidden in the nether circles of the city. Such a week—such conflagration in which he had tried to burn every vestige of honorable manhood left him.

But he had not succeeded. No, for he was here in this last hour of the year, making his indeterminate way for a last look at the peaceful old square he had once thought so stupid, a last look at the walls that had frowned on his froward hopes, perhaps a last word with Virginia. And then? The river—a sleep in the snow—an end somehow.

At the tree where the knowledge of his love and power first came to him he paused. His arms were loosely folded on his breast. His eyes were shadowy and grieved as those of a beaten animal

A moment they stood closely together, then Virginia was in his arms, clinging to him, and he had kissed her.

A sharp breath of longing broke from Tom. To shut out the picture he turned his face to the wet bark of the tree, shuddering and sobbing like a woman. Virginia another's. He not the slightest influence in her life ever again—fallen into darkness, utterly forgotten.

Faintly the first chimes floated from the belfry, and he looked up.

Virginia had left her lover, who stood just behind her. She was again at the window, still under cover, hands looking into the darkness, and now he could plainly see the pity, the tender, searching look in the wide, clear eyes.

Thoroughly moved.

Suddenly the shade at Virginia's window was raised, and she stood with her body pressed against the glass, her hands arched over her eyes as she peered into the night. Oh, was she watching for him? Oh, had she one thought for him?

With a yearning sob Tom made a movement forward and then retreated. He could see the whole room. A man had entered. He remembered him as Virginia's companion at the theater. He carried a bunch of flowers as white as the snow clinging to his broad shoulders, and as Virginia went toward him he took her hand and gave them to her.

What words was he speaking now? Tom could see his strong, quivering face, his moving lips, his submissive yet impassioned attitude.

He loved Virginia. Yes, and the enchanted whisper of his love seemed to steal out to the watcher through the drifting snow.

He was not forgotten. No, no, not even in this first moment of her new happiness. It was for him her gaze strived to pierce the deep gloom, for him—poor wanderer—the light burned brightly in her window, as if she knew, who knew him so well, he might stray back that night.

He stepped into the deeper shadow, but his spent heart felt one quivering thrill of hope. A tumultuous, anguished craving to live again swept through him. If he were worth her remembrance, if she wanted him back, might he not yet make something of the ruins of his youth—of the marvelous structure he had once dreamed of with turrets in the clouds—yet something—something——

He covered his face with his crossed arms, and the bitterest moment of his life was upon him.

A picture seemed to rise before him, thrown outward in bold lines upon a misty whiteness. He saw a disheartened miner laying down his spade before a worked out mine which had failed in its golden promise. Before him into the west and the falling night stretched a new road, and toward this his face was set. But he looked back once over the blue prairie, back to the east, a farewell in his eyes. It was a moment's halt—a little space for dreaming and regret.

Tom's nerveless hands fell down. He gave a quivering sigh, like a man coming up to breathe after the water had passed over him.

His artistic life was complete in its terrible incompleteness. This was his moment of transition. Was there a new road for him? Its beginning might lie in shadow, but did it lead anywhere? Could he go on? Where? How? He did not know.

But Virginia in the window still watched for him, and now the chimes were pealing like mad. Oh, their rise and fall, their winged clamor, their ecstatic repetitions reasoning down his pitiful hesitation!

He turned his face from where the river lay and walked eastward through the falling snow. His heart was bathed in a strange, warm peace. The chimes followed him—a silver, celestial voice.

THE END.

A Young Man Drowned.

THREE RIVERS, Que., Oct. 22.—A young Englishman named Reynolds, in the employ of the Laurentian pulp mills at Grand Mere was accidentally drowned by his boat being carried over the falls at that place. On the Piles branch of the C. P. R. a man named Lemay fell off the train and had both his legs cut off.

Killed by Highwaymen.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Oct. 22.—A special from Orange says Mr. Robert Copes, county treasurer, was waylaid and killed by highwaymen on his return from a calling tour. The governor has offered $500 reward for the murderers. The amount secured by the murderers was $5,000.

Deseronto Navigation Company (Limited

Steamer Ella Ross.

This fast sailing and comfortable steamer leaves Belleville for Trenton daily (Sunday excepted), at 10 a.m. Leaves Belleville for Deseronto and Picton at 3 p.m., connecting at Deseronto with steamers for Napanee and Oswego. Lowest freight and passenger rates. For further information apply to the Rathbun Co., Bridge street, or to R. C. Carter, General Manager, Deseronto.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP cures Coughs.

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry cures Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cramps, Colic, Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum, and all looseness of the bowels. Never travel without it. Price 35c.

In parts of Peru taxes are paid in cocoa leaves and Peruvian barks.

For coughs, colds, bronchitis and all lung and throat troubles, there is no preparation of medicine can compare with Hickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup. It never fails to afford prompt and permanent relief. It removes all soreness, and heals the diseased parts. It immediately soothes the most troublesome cough, and by promoting expectoration, removes the cause which stops up the air tubes which, cause difficulty in breathing, thereby gives relief to that depressing tight sore experienced in the chest. Public speakers and singers will find Hickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup of inestimable value, as it speedily and effectually allays all irritation, and hoarseness in the throat and bronchial tubes, and gives power to the vocal cords, rendering the voice clear and sonorous If parents wish to save the lives of their children, and themselves from much anxiety trouble and expense let them procure a bottle of Hickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup, and whenever a child has taken cold, has a cough or hoarseness, give the Syrup according to directions.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP heals the lungs.

A stinted wife can find a vest pocket in the dark.

Ample warning is given us by our lungs when they are in danger. If loathardy enough to neglect the warning signal, we incur imminent peril. Check a cough at the outset with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil—which is a sovereign pulmonic—besides being a remedy for soreness, lameness, abrasions of the skin, bunnes, piles, rheumatism, etc.

BURDOCK PILLS, small, safe, and sure, regulate the liver and cure constipation.

Robert Lubbock, Cedar Rapids, writes: "I have used Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil both for myself and family for Diptheria with the very best results. I regard it as the best remedy for this disease, and would use no other.

Holland is the only country in Europe that admits coffee free of duty.

DYSPEPSIA arises from wrong action of stomach, liver and bowels. Burdock Blood Bitters cures Dyspepsia and all diseases arising from it, 99 times in 100.

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

THREE RUNNING SORES

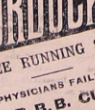

PHYSICIANS FAILED

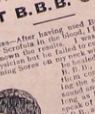

BUT B.B.B. CURED

A SCALY ERUPTION

UNENDURABLE ITCHING

Suffered Three Years—Now Perfectly Cured by B.B.B.

PURIFIES THE BLOOD

BLANKETS

We are showing a large line of Blankets in all Wool and Union from $2.00.

Grey Flannel

Our Grey Flannels are from the best makers. You should call and see our 15c. line.

NATHAN JONES.

OPPOSITE HOTEL STREET.

LISTEN FRIENDS!!

We SAY because we KNOW!

Our COAL! This Season is unexcelled for quality because the Bill of Lading bears the Brand of the Delaware & Hudson Canal Company.

Cut this out and test this "Ad" when the Winter Winds whistle.

THE RATHBUN COMPANY.

ONTARIO MUTUAL LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY.

S. Burrows, Esq., General Agent, Ontario Mutual Life Co., Belleville, Ont.

DEAR SIR, Received your company's check for $2,000 for our Matured Endowment, and we both wish to show our gratitude to you and the Company for the straightforward and satisfactory way you deal with policy holders, and that we are more than satisfied with our investment. I will always urge our friends to follow in our footsteps. Thanking you very kindly.

Yours very sincerely,
Mr. & Mrs. GOODWIN, Bowmanville,
Formerly of Belleville.

Belleville and Napanee, Office, Bridge St. Telephone A. 4.

COAL — AND — WOOD.

THOS. STEWART,

The only dealer in Scranton Coal in Belleville and Napanee. The very best facilities for delivering to any part of the city or surrounding towns this coal, which is the best and cheapest mined.

No Gas. No Clinkers. No Waste

Clean, quick, hot, strong, cheerful fire. Smithing, Cannell, Brier Hill, Run of Mine coal and Coal Screenings always on hand. Hard and soft wood, Blocks and Edgings delivered to any part of the City.

TO THE PUBLIC.

When we decided to add the manufacure of carriages, phaetons, demo-rais, &c., to our business, we immediately put under construction a few of each. As we decided to place no vehicle on the market which is not A 1 in in every detail, and knowing that no first-class vehicle can be produced on the rush, it has been necessary for us to take sufficient time to produce what we aimed at. We think we have succeeded; and we now have a few rigs completed, and others nearing completion to offer for sale. The iron work is all hand forged; the wood work carefully made, and strongly ironed; and the painting and upholstering done with the best materisl and greatest care. We can freely recommend these rigs. We will be pleased to have parties who may need anything in the above line, call and inspect our work.

ST. CHARLES & PRINGLE

JAS ST CHARLES. HENRY PRINGLE

IT - HAS - BE N - ADMITTED

BY OVER 125 PEOPLE IN BELLEVILLE THAT THE

John Bull Wrought Steel Range,

Is the most Economical, Everlasting and Useful Range on the market. How is this for three Seasons.

SEE THEM AT FOSTER'S.

Also the Duchess of Oxford Cast Iron Range

The Sale of Boots and Shoes:

Slightly damaged by Smoke and Water will continue until everything is sold.

HAINES & LOCKETT

Opposite Anglo-American Hotel.

Camping Supplies!

AND

Picnic - Requisites!

Our list of articles suitable for Picnic Lunches and Camping, includes:

Canned Meats.

ARMOUR'S COOKED BEEF,
ARMOUR'S OX TONGUES,
ARMOUR'S LUNCH TONGUES,
ARMOUR'S POTTED HAM,

ARMOUR'S COOKED PIG FEET
ARMOUR'S BONELESS MEAT.
ARMOUR'S POTTED TONGUE
ARMOUR'S BRAWN,

SANDWICH MEATS,
BONELESS CHICKEN,
BONELESS TURKEY,
POTTED BEEF,
POTTED GAME,
ETC.! ETC.!! ETC.!

Canned Fish.

FINEST SARDINES IN OIL,
FINEST SARDINES IN TOMATO,
HERRINGS IN TOMATO SAUCE,
KIPPERED HERRINGS,
FRESH HERRINGS,

SALMON, LOBSTERS,
FINNAN HADDIES,
BLOATER PASTE,
ANCHOVY PASTE,
SARDINE PASTE,
ETC.! ETC.! ETC.!!

Sundries.

Condensed Milk in Tins, Cream in Tin Biscuits (in great variety), Fine old Cheese, McLaren's Imperial Cheese (in small crocks), Dried Beef, Choice Hams and Bacon, Lime Juice, Spanish Olives, CROSSE & BLACKWELL'S Pickled White Onions, Walnuts. Chow-Chow, and and Mixed Pickles.

WALLBRIDGE & CLARKE

Grocers and Wine Merchants.

33 and 37 Bridge Street. Also Front Street, in Caldwell Building.

ALLAN LINE,

Royal Mail Steamships. Liverpool, Calling at Moville.

	From Montreal daylight	From Quebec
PARISIAN	Oct. 6	Oct. 7
MONGOLIAN	" 13	" 14
HIBERNIAN	" 20
LAURENTIAN	" 27	" 28
NUMIDIAN	Nov. 3	Nov. 4
PARISIAN	" 10	" 11

RATES OF PASSAGE.

First cabin Derry and Liverpool, $45 and upwards single; $95 and upwards return. Second cabin, Liverpool, Derry, Belfast, Glasgow, $30; return $55. Steerage at lowest rates (everything found).

All steamships except the Hibernian carry 1st cabin, 2nd cabin and steerage passengers.

STATE LINE SERVICE

NEW YORK, LONDONDERRY AND GLASGOW.

STATE OF NEBRASKA	Oct. 13
STATE OF CALIFORNIA	" 26
STATE OF NEBRASKA	Nov. 27

Cabin passage, $40 and upward, return $80 and upward; Second cabin $25. Steerage at lowest rates.

For tickets and other information apply to U. E. THOMPSON General Ticket Agency, Bridge St., Telleville or to S. BURROWS, Agent

GENTLEMEN....

Before ordering your Fall Clothing don fail to take a look through

A. N. REID'S

New Fall Importations of

Scotch, English and Irish Suitings, Overcoatings, Pantings, Irish Serges, Cheviots, Hop Sackings and Black Worsteds

First Class Goods and Prices low,

Mr. Minor, our cutter, is one of the best in Ontario.

EVERY GARMENT GUARANTEED!!

Please call and inspect our New Goods.

A. N. REID.

TELLEGRAM PRINTING AND PUBLISHING COMPANY (LIMITED.

J. O. JAMIESON, President. J. W. LEDGER, Secretary

THE Treasurer is the only person authorized to receive money from the Company, or to grant receipts for the same.

All Bills, Notes, Cheques and other documents binding on the Company, will require the signature of the President, in addition to th of the Treasurer.

THE INTELLIGENCER is printed, and published by the INTELLIGENCER Printing and Publishing Company (Limited) by James C Jamieson, resident in Belleville, the s Office, Front St., south of Stout St.

The Daily Intelligencer.

LET THERE BE HARMONY IN THINGS ESSENTIAL—LIBERALITY IN THINGS NOT ESSENTIAL—CHARITY IN ALL.

VOL. 28. BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, TUESDAY OCTOBER 23 1894 NO 146

= SILKS =

We have in stock a full line of the

Corticelli Embroidery and Knitting Silks

— IN —

Honiton Lace Emb'y Silk.
Outline do do
Knitting Silk,
Twist Embroidery,
Roman Floss,
Filo Floss.

— ALSO —

27 INCH PURE JAPANESE SILK IN

LIGHT BLUE,
CREAM,
ROSE PINK,
CORAL PINK,
BUTTERCUP,
CARDINAL,

BLACK - SILKS !

In all the leading makes.]

J. P. THOMPSON & CO.

UNDERWEAR . . .

AT FISH'S !

Don't go shivering around any longer, but come and get some of our warm underclothing, and you will be happy and comfortable.

Sizes run from 30 to 46 inches. Our prices suit all pocket books.

We give value that cannot be beaten.

A. E. FISH & CO.

Try our King Shirt, and you will buy no other.

PETTYJOHN'S
CALIFORNIA BREAKFAST FOOD

Dyspeptics can eat this food.
It is particularly adapted for children and persons of sedentary habits.
It is made from Pacific coast wheat hulled and crushed by improved machinery.
It can be easily prepared for breakfast, as this crushing process makes it soft and tender and easy to cook.
Ask your physician which is best for you to eat, oats or wheat
Pettijohn's California Breakfast Food is sold in packages by

BENMORE & BENSON.

Before putting up your STOVES have the

TRIMMINGS RE-PLATED
— AT THE —
BELLEVILLE PLATING WORKS
HARRIS & WALTON'S FACTORY! MILL ST.

CANADIAN PACIFIC RY.

WILL RUN

HUNTERS' EXCURSIONS,

TO MUSKOKA LAKES
AND ALL STATIONS.

MATTAWA, NEPIGON, SPANISH RIVER
AND INTERMEDIATE STATIONS
OCT. 19 and 20
OCT. 26 and 27
NOV. 2 and 3

When Round Trip Tickets will be sold for

SINGLE FIRST CLASS FARE

Good for Return until Dec. 1st, 1894.
For business passing the ugh Toronto, rates to above points will not be less than 25 cents a ded to ordinary Round Trip Rates to Toronto.
Dogs, Guns, Personal Baggage, Camp Equipments, to the amount of 200 lbs will be carried FREE

S. BURROWS,
General Ticket Agent, Belleville.

STOVE PIPES!
STOVE PIPES!!
STOVE PIPES!!!

WHIPS ! LANTERNS !
WHIPS ! ! LANTERNS ! !
WHIPS ! ! ! LANTERNS ! ! !

Lamps, Flower Pots,
Lamps, Flower pots,
Lamps, Flower Pots.

—AT—

THE FAIR,

FRANK WEEKS, MANAGER.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

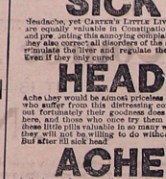

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

ACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold everywhere, or sent by mail.
CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York.

Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

Thomas A. Johns.

CURED BY TAKING

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

"I was afflicted for eight years with Salt Rheum. During that time I tried a great many medicines which were highly recommended, but none gave me relief. I was at last advised to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and before I had finished the fourth bottle, my hands were as

Free from Eruptions

as ever they were. My business, which is that of a cab-driver, requires me to be out in cold and wet weather, often without gloves, but the trouble has never returned."—THOMAS A. JOHNS, Stratford, Ont.

Ayer's The Only Sarsaparilla

Admitted at the World's Fair.

Ayer's Pills Cleanse the Bowels.

"FOR THE BENEFIT OF RHEUMATIC SUFFERERS,"

ACETOCURA

MADE ME ANOTHER MAN

G. H. REEVES,
(Reeves & Beebe),
169 State street, Chicago.
Coutts & Sons,
72 Victoria street, Toronto.

Write for gratis pamphlet to COUTTS & Sons, 72 Victoria street, Toronto. Head office—London, Glasgow and Manchester, (G.B.) Cologne, Germany, Aaron, Switzerland.

Local Agents—

L. W. YEOMANS & CO.,
DRUGGISTS,
BELLEVILLE.

PREPARE FOR the STRUGGLE

The course of study offered by the Belleville business College gives a young person a thorough and practical knowledge of business, and also that mental culture and discipline which sharpens perceptive faculties, stimulates ambition, develops ability and prepares for the struggle of making a living. Every step in the work is characterized by thoroughness. Besides we use the most practical methods.

In teaching shorthand we dictate actual letters and legal evidence. Other schools have undertaken to imitate our methods, but the quality of their work bears that relation to practical business which the imitation does to the real.

We represent things exactly as they are.

Belleville Business College,
ROBERT BOGLE, Proprietor.

Apollinaris

"THE QUEEN OF TABLE WATERS."

Supplied under Royal Warrants to Her Majesty the Queen of England, and to His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales.

Received the HIGHEST AWARD at the WORLD'S FAIR.

Daily Intelligencer.

ARRESTED AT PICKERING

Another Tramp Suspected of the Jessie Keith Murder.

SPOTS OF BLOOD ON HIS COAT

He Claims They Were Found There After A Fight in Toronto—He is Shaved and Shorn, Otherwise He Answers the Description of the Listowel Murderer Landed in Whitby Jail.

PICKERING, Ont., Oct. 23.—Constable Decker arrested a tramp at Cataract yesterday afternoon who resembles the description given in the papers of the tramp who was seen in the vicinity of Listowel on the Friday afternoon of the Jessie Keith murder except that he was clean shaven and had his hair cut rather short. He wore dark pants, brown hat and coat. There appeared to be marks of blood on his coat which he stated he got in a row in Toronto. He was taken to the County Jail, at Whitby.

Mr. R. Household, the late auditor of of the Grand Trunk Railway Company, states that a committee of four or five influential holders of Grand Trunk stock, representing some $750,000, are demanding from the Board of Directors that a strict investigation of the accounts of the company be made before the semi-annual meeting is held, on Tuesday, October 30. Household in this connection suspects that the company is living on loans, and he says, further, that if the enquiry is granted, and the results are as he expects they will be, the committee will be ready to lay the whole case before the meeting and also demand that Sir Henry Tyler retire from the Presidency of the company, and that the Board of Directors be re-formed.

LISTOWEL, Ont., Oct. 22.—There are no new development as to the Keith tragedy. About 9 o'clock yesterday morning word was received from Alma, 30 miles northeast of here, of a man answering the description of the man wanted. A constable went out, and, after some inquiry as to his whereabouts at the time of the tragedy, he said that he was ignorant of the facts, and after having satisfactory statements they released him.

The body was fearfully disfigured. There were several gashes in the throat and bruises on the head and body. The girl had evidently been struck with a heavy stick and stunned. Then she was carried into the wood where she was found. There her throat was cut from ear to ear, and then the brute, as if glorying in his horrible work, slashed the body with a sharp knife.

There was a long entrance through the stomach, and another one in a downward direction from the neck right down the middle length of the body.

When the body was found it was entirely naked, save for a white petticoat which was rewrapped around the neck.

The petticoat did not belong to the murdered girl, but was made for a large, stout woman.

The clothes of the victim were found on Saturday afternoon. They were near where the body was discovered, and all the articles were there except the hat and boots.

The valise carried by the murderer has been found in the woods. It contained a number of articles of female wearing apparel. There was also a pair of overalls spotted with blood.

NEWS FROM OTTAWA.

An Unknown Man Found by the Track Side Slowly Starving.

OTTAWA, Oct. 23.—Thomas Birkett is talked of here as a candidate for the mayoralty against Mayor Cox.

The supreme court to-day had the case of the city of Toronto vs. Jarvis up for hearing. This is a dispute about a drain which was built through the property of the late Sheriff Jarvis and for which damages are claimed. The city contends that they are not entitled to pay any damages as located within its rights and hence the suit.

A despatch received here last night from Chalk River states that John Ahern, a bright young man 20 years of age, was shot dead while taking his gun from a boat by the muzzle. He was one of a shooting party and a nephew of Thomas Ahern.

OTTAWA, Oct. 23.—An unknown man was picked up by the track side near Carleton Place by the Brockville train yesterday and brought to Ottawa. He way dying of starvation.

TORONTO TO BUFFALO.

Niagara Falls Asked to Assist the Promoters of a Connecting Line.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Oct. 23.—William Kyle and R. F. Segsworth of Toronto, representing the Toronto capitalists who lately purchased the old horse car line between Niagara Falls and Drummondville, waited on the town council in special meeting last evening. Mr. Kyle addressed the meeting, pointing out that it was the intention of the new company to rebuild the old line, making it an electric line and changing the route to run along the escarpment to Chippewa, with line to Drummondville, extending the line north to connect with boats at or below Queenstown for Toronto; also with boats at Chippewa for Buffalo, and asked the council to provide a bonus of $60,000 to $75,000 to assist in constructing the new line. The council passed a resolution referring the matter to their business committee to look into the genuineness of their financials and matters generally and report to the next regular monthly meeting.

Crossley and Hunter Leave Pembroke.

PEMBROKE, Ont., Oct. 23.—The evangelistic services conducted for the past month by Crossley and Hunter have closed. The immense rink was literally packed at both meetings. A large number of the converts accompanied the evangelists to the depot to bid them farewell.

WANT CONFEDERATION.

Newfoundland, Says Mr. Murray, Would Like to Unload Her Public Debt.

HALIFAX, Oct. 23.—James Murrry, a former member of the Newfoundland Government arrived from St. John's yesterday. In an interview on political affairs in the colony, among other things he said: "Public finances of the colony are in such condition that the tendency is to seek relief in confederation and thus get Canada to assume the public debt and its consequent responsibilities. Fisheries this year are turning out very poor. Labrador fish is worth only about $3 per quintal and this year it is only worth $2.50. Much privation and distress is anticipated during the coming winter in outlying districts. This will be a heavy drain upon the government for relief in addition to their other difficulties. This is the first year Newfoundland has had really bad fishing since the Whiteway party got in office in 1889."

A POOR HALF YEAR

Had the G. T. R.—Mr. Household Renews His Attack on President Tyler.

LONDON, Oct. 23.—To many causes is ascribed the poor showing of the Grand Trunk railway in its half-yearly report. The Board of Directors blame the silver question and the panic that ensued in the Western States as the first cause and they also cite as an additional cause the strike of the Pullman workmen and its disastrous spread. The coal strike is another contributing cause, as are also the low price of farm produce and other general causes that have brought about the present depression of trade. It is admitted that the half-year just closed is the most disastrous ever experienced in the history of the Grand Trunk Railway.

THE CURRAN BRIDGE.

Emmanuel St. Louis, the Contractor, Charged With Fraud.

MONTREAL, Oct. 23.—Criminal proceedings were taken out yesterday afternoon at the instance of the Dominion Government against Emmanuel St. Louis, the big Montreal contractor, who built the famous Curran bridge. The information, which was sworn out by Commissioner Sherwood, of the Dominion Police, charges St. Louis with six offences of obtaining money by false pretences from the Government. He is also charged with destroying his books. The Government's action has caused a sensation as St. Louis has many influential friends in the party.

Date of Baptist Conventions Changed.

ST. THOMAS, Ont., Oct. 23.—The Baptist convention yesterday a most important change was made respecting the date of meeting of the convention which was on motion altered from October to the last week in May, to take effect in 1895. The associational return as a consequence will in future be made up to March 31. The foreign mission report showed a most successful record. The entire receipts for the year were $27,360. For the last fifteen years the membership of the churches has doubled itself each five years. Rev. R. Garside, returned missionary, read an important paper on "Face to face with heathendom," describing the country and people as they have appeared to him in the course of his work in India.

What Mr. Haycock Said.

KINGSTON, Ont., Oct. 23.—Mr. Haycock, M.P.P., leader of the Patrons, says the published reports of his Glengarry speech were incorrect. He did not give, he says, expression to annexation sentiments. He said that during the past year Canadian farmers have been watching tariff legislation at Washington, the Wilson bill, more closely than they have watched affairs at Ottawa, and they have received benefits from the lowering of the duty on hay, horses, barley and eggs.

Mr. Fred Davis Killed.

TORONTO, Oct. 23.—Mr. W. H. Davis, night editor at the Stereotype Plate Co. received a despatch from Palmerston yesterday evening saying that his brother, Frederick Davis, yardmaster at that town, had been killed while coupling cars. Deceased was 36 years of age. He leaves a wife but no children. Mr. W. H. Davis left for Palmerston at midnight.

Settlers Wanted in Northern Ontario.

TORONTO, Oct. 23.—The Ontario Government will issue another pamphlet dealing with the resources of Muskoka and Nipissing, and pointing out the advantages for settlers who desire a cheap and profitable investment in farm lands. Mr. Avern Pardoe, at one time an editorial writer on a Reform newspaper, has been selected to compile the information.

G. T. R. Conductors Arousee.

TORONTO, Oct. 23.—Grand Trunk conductors are dissatisfied at the new order of things, which gives them a different run every day. The cause of the dissatisfaction is assigned by the men to be the trial now in progress in Montreal, and they resent the new order as an imputation cast on their characters. It is said that meetings will be held here and in Montreal and that something serious may be the outcome.

The Hartley Murder Case.

BRANTFORD, Oct. 23.—This city was crowded yesterday with farmers from the township of Burford, who came in anticipating the commencement proceedings in the Hartley murder trial. They are disappointed, as Mrs. Maria Hartley will not be taken from the county jail until ten o'clock to-morrow morning.

Death of Prof. Carpmael.

TORONTO, Oct. 23.—Mr. Charles Carpmael, M. A., F. R. S. C., F. R. A. S., director of the Magnetic Observatory, Toronto and the Meteorological Service of Canada, died on Saturday in the south of France, where he had gone for the purpose of benefiting his health.

Captured the Perrauits.

TORONTO, Oct. 23.—The Attorney-General's Department has received a despatch from Detective Greer saying that three of the Perrault brothers have been landed in jail at Midland. Greer will be home to-morrow.

GLEAM OF HOPE IN RUSSIA

Cure is Impossible but the Czar's Life May Be Spared a While.

PREPARATIONS MADE AT CORFU

In Anticipation of His Intended Visit—The War Office is Said to be Fully Prepared for the Succession of the Czarewitch—The Marriage of the Son Will Be Hastened.

LONDON, Oct. 23.—The Russian ambassador received a despatch from Livadia yesterday afternoon saying that the Czar was much better. This news was communicated to all callers at the embassy.

The Daily News despatch from Berlin says: "The Czar walked half an hour in the park yesterday. The doctors keep him out of bed as much as possible so as to maintain his normal energy and counteract the weakness of the heart which is increased by lying.

BERLIN, Oct. 23.—The first despatch of yesterday concerning the Czar's condition was received here from Corfu, near Livadia. It was substantially as follows: "If the Czar's death should not be hastened by heart failure owing to recurring spasms or by apoplexy, both incidental to his malady, the doctors hope to combat the uræmia for some time. Usually the final stage of Bright's disease is marked with convulsions, delirium and at the last profound coma. These symptoms have not set in."

The North German Gazette says: A semi-official despatch received this morning says the condition of the Czar leaves everything to be desired. According to human foresight hope of a cure is excluded. Nevertheless, the press have been overhasty in treating the Czar as a dead man. We have good reason to state that a catastrophe is not expected in the immediate future.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—A despatch to the Herald from Vienna says: The Czarewitch has telegraphed here that his father's state is not very alarming.

A cable to the Herald from Biaritz says: Better news has reached the Czar's relatives here. The Czar has resisted the weakness which prostrated him a few days ago, and a more hopeful feeling prevails.

VIENNA, Oct. 23.—The Fremdenblatt says the Grand Duke Alexis, who arrived here yesterday evening on his way to Livadia, received a despatch from the Czarewitch, saying that the Czar felt better, and that otherwise his condition was unchanged.

COPENHAGEN, Oct. 23.—A despatch received here this morning from Livadia says the Czar passed a good night and feels stronger to-day.

PARIS, Oct. 23.—A despatch from Corfu to the Figaro says that notwithstanding the unfavorable reports of the Czar's condition the preparations for his reception there are still in progress.

The French foreign office has been paralyzed by the reports from Livadia. Business has been at such a complete standstill that Lord Dufferin, the British ambassador, has been unable to finish his negotiations as to commercial treaty. He will go to London October 27 or earlier, as there is nothing to be done here.

The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Tagehlatt says that all preparations in the Russian capital point to the succession of the Czarewith, Nicholas. He says that the war office already holds in readiness the standards of Emperor Nicholas II. "The Czarewitch's marriage with the Princess Alix of Hesse," he adds, "will be hastened in view of the house law declared by Emperor Paul I. that no unmarried heir should succeed to the throne. Should the Czarewitch be childless upon ascending the throne the Grand Duke Michael, his younger brother, would be declared the heir presumptive."

PARIS, Oct. 23.—A despatch from Livadia received at the Russian Embassy at 4.45 yesterday afternoon said that the Czar was improving noticeably.

SEVEN MEN BURIED.

A Building Falls Inflicting Serious Injury to Several.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 23.—The Pabst Brewing Co is engaged in tearing down an old building at the corner of Wabash and Third streets preparatory to putting up a new one. Yesterday the walls collapsed and buried seven workmen beneath the ruins. A large force was immediately set to work to rescue the men, and all were taken out alive, though some will probably die. The injured are: Frank Mullen, probably fatally; William Whalen, arm amputated; Andrew Wilzah, severe injuries in head; Jacob Schmidt, scalp wounds; Steve Bloom, internal and internal injuries; Andrew Nelson, badly cut and bruised; Eugene Brodhagen, dangerously injured about the body. The building inspector warned the contractor yesterday morning of the danger.

The Aquia Creek Train Robbery.

FREDERICKSBURG, Va., Oct. 23.—Charles J. Searcey, the alleged Aquia Creek train robber, left Stafford county in charge of Robert Pinkerton, Sheriff Edrington and Commonwealth Attorney White and was taken to Stafford court-house for a hearing. The commonwealth attorney of Stafford county has prepared papers for the requisition of Charles A. Morganfield, the alleged accomplice of Searcey, who is held in Cincinnati. Mr. White wired the Cincinnati authorities to hold Morganfield for the Virginia officers.

Supposed Suicide of "Dr." Franke.

NEW HAMBURG, Ont., Oct. 23.—A German medicine peddler named "Doctor" Franke, who has made his headquarters in various villages and hamlets in German communities in Western Ontario, was last seen on Saturday in the vicinity of Heller's Bridge, which spans the River Nith, on the western outskirts of New Hamburg. Yesterday his coat and medicine box were found lying upon the river bank. A purse containing $1.05 was found in a pocket of the coat. It is supposed that he has committed suicide by drowning. The river was dragged near the spot mentioned but without discovering his body.

A Hunter's Terrible Blunder.

BARRIE, Ont., Oct. 23.—While out deer hunting in the Vespra swamp Robert Foster mistook two brothers named Tomlin for a deer and shot them both. One of the brothers, it is thought, cannot recover. Several of the buckshot entered his side. The other brother had two fingers shot off and was wounded in the arm.

Mercier's Case is Peculiar.

MONTREAL, Que., Oct. 23.—Ex-Premier Mercier's condition is puzzling the medical men. He was unconscious to-day and it was thought that he was dying, but towards the afternoon he rallied and to-night was reported a little better. He has frequent fits of unconsciousness and it is expected that he will die in one of these.

SURPRISE SOAP LASTS LONGEST GOES FARTHEST.

The cheapest Soap to Use. 181 THE ST. CROIX SOAP MFG. CO., ST. STEPHEN, N. B.

Why

Don't You Use

Surprise Soap ?

It does away with hard work, —dont boil or scald the clothes nor give them the usual hard rubbing. (See the directions on the wrapper).

It gives the whitest, sweetest, cleanest clothes after the wash.

It prevents wearing and tearing by harsh soaps and hard rubs. Rub lightly with Surprise Soap,—the dirt drops out. Harmless to hands and finest fabrics.

THE CHINESE-JAPANESE WAR.

The King's Palace Guarded by 400 Japanese Soldiers.

LONDON, Oct. 23.—The Graphic has this despatch from Chemulpo: Four hundred Japanese have been quartered in the King's palace in Seoul in consequence, it is said, of the discovery that the King's father is in league with the Tongkak rebels. The Chinese are mobilizing large forces in Kuren and Pow-Ting-Fu. The King's second son started for Hiroshima, Japan, on October 18, with a quantity of presents for the Mikado. Some 1,800 Japanese who were wounded in battle are under treatment here. There are many more in Seoul and 2,100 have been sent to Japan. At Ping Yang there are 1,200 Chinese in the hospital. Other despatches repeat the previous reports as to the burning of letters sent by Europeans in Corea. The mail bag between Chemulpo and Seoul was detained three weeks.

The Tien-Tsin correspondent of the Times says that Admiral Ito with his fleet of 17 vessels off the coast opposite Ping Yang and the Chinese fleet is at Wei Hi-Wei.

Japs Open a Despatch Bag.

LONDON, Oct. 23.—A despatch to the Central News from Shanghai says that the British consul at Seoul states that a despatch bag which was officially and amply sealed must have been opened while in transit from Chemulpo to Seoul. This must have been done, the consul adds, with the knowledge of the highest Japanese officials at Seoul, because they have since shown that they were acquainted with the gist of the contents of the bag. The consul has requested the Foreign Office to cable him instructions as to what action he shall take in the matter.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—The officials of the Chinese Legation gave an emphatic denial of the reports that China is negotiating with Japan for peace or that she will at this time seriously consider overtures of peace from any source whatever. "The winter season and the use of those gentlemen to-day, "is so near at hand that hostilities must necessarily cease in a few weeks until the warmer weather of next year. China meanwhile will continue her preparations for war. What conclusions may be reached during the interval between now and spring no one can foretell but the present sentiment of the Chinese people to-day is for a continuance of the war and any rejection of any proposals looking towards peace."

TIEN TSIN, Oct. 23.—It is stated from a reliable source that negotiations for peace between China and Japan are proceeding at Seoul. Chinese officials at London are, however, inclined to discredit the story.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—Within the last few days heavy contracts for Japan have been placed in New York for canvas duck, suitable for army tents and sails, and for leather and manufactured boots suitable for military use.

Four Babies Burned to Death.

NYACK, N.Y., Oct. 23.—A terrible fire occurred at South Nyack yesterday, which destroyed the fine new residence of Rev. Ross Taylor, son of Rev. William Taylor, Bishop of Africa. Four of Mr. Taylor's children were burned to death and three workmen were seriously injured.

Cigarmakers Go on Strike.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 23.—A special from Tampa says that the cigarmakers in Feidenberg's big factory walked out yesterday. They demand 35 per thousand more and say they will refuse to return to work until this is granted. It is feared that this is the forerunner of a general strike.

The Jabez Valley.

It is becoming the custom now among European travellers to stop at Remagen on the Rhine, and make a little excursion to the beautiful Valley of the Ahr, with its picturesque villages along the vine clad slope. Here is also found the spring from which flows that world wide favorite "Apollinaris Water." At Neuenahr, in the valley, the river Ahr is very beautiful, and one can find few more quaintly attractive spots than the Upper Gate at Ahrweiler, or the Old mill at Heppingen.

A tax on dogs was levied in Rome during the reign of Nero.

For Over Fifty Years

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for children teething. It soothes the child, soft ens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhœa. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by druggists throughout the world.
17d&wly

In the time of Queen Anne soap was taxed £28 per ton.

DEAR SIRS.—I have used Yellow Oil for two or three years, and think it has no equal for croup. Mrs. J. S. O'Brien, Huntsville, Ont.

The tithes in England amounted to £4,050,000 a year.

Dyspepsia and Indigestion—C. W. Snow & Co., Syracuse N.Y., writes: "Please send us ten gross of Pills We are selling more of Paimelee's Pills than any other Pill we keep They have a great reputation for the cure of Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint." Mr. Chas A. Smith, Lindsay, writes: "Parmelee's Pills are an excellent medicine. My sister has been troubled with severe headache, but these pills have cured her."

Russia raises $1,5000,000 a year by the sale of passports.

THAT TIRED, LANGUID FEELING and dull headache is very disagreeable. Take two of Carter's Little Liver Pills before retiring, and you will find relief. They never fail ot do good.

ORDER

From us the following :

Brooklyn Cake,
Apple Rice Pudding,
Allumettes,
Straw Pastry,
Mignon Cakes,
Vienna Strips,
Fouchonette,
Apple Dumplings,
Souffless,
Eclairs,
Cream Puffs,

Jas. Wallace & Co

See our windows for ornamental goods to-morrow.

WALL - STREET!

OPERATE SUCCESSFULLY IN WALL ST

THROUGH OUR

Co-Operative R.R. Stock Syndicate.

Large Profits Realized with Minimum Risks.

"PROSPECTUS AND DAILY MARKET LETTER" MAILED FREE.

HIGHEST REFERENCE.

WEINMAN & CO.
Stock and Grain Broker,
NO. 41 BROADWAY, NEW YORK CITY.
[d Oct. 1st, 3m eod

For . .

THIRTY . . .

DAYS . . . . .

WE will sell our entire line of

Wall Paper . . . .

—AND—

Window Shades

AT A DOUBLE DISCOUNT 10 & 5p.c.

10 per cent. off Special, and 5 per cent. off for cash.

We positively will not be undersold at

OVERELL'S BOOK STORE.

PLUMBING

We have added to our Workmen,

MR. GEORGE JOHNSON,

Who has for the past six years been prominent on large contracts in Victoria, B. C., San Francisco, Denver, and Chicago.

— ALSO —

MR. EDWIN W. BISHOP,

A graduate of the New York School for Plumbing (class 92), who comes highly recommended.

With these men added to our staff, we feel sure of giving satisfactory to all in Sanitary Plumbing.

C. F. Smith & Co.

A Few Lines

For To-morrow.

Chalottte Russe (individuals, larger ones to order), Cream Rolls, Corn Muffins, Graham Gems and all kinds of pastry, Oyster Patties to order. Fresh Oysters, fine stock. Ice cream,

Although the season seems to be past we are still making and selling ice cream. Orders can be filled for any quantity and in any shape. Also served in our parlors daily.

H. C. DICKENS & SON.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 75c. bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, TUESDAY OCT 23

THEY NEVER REFUSE IT!

Relished From Day to Day.

Lactated Food the Baby's Strong Tower of Safety.

The food that babies love and cherish every day, is indeed a triumph in the art of infant feeding.

Before the production of Lactated Food, it is well known that mothers of bottle fed infants were obliged to make a change of diet for the little ones, at least once a month. This had to be done because babies became nauseated when fed too long on the common foods. The old foods often brought on infantile troubles and sicknesses, and the great majority of hand-fed infants died.

Infants love Lactated Food, and take it with a relish and zest. Being modeled after nature's food—mother's milk—it is palatable, healthful, strengthening and invigorating.

Lactated Food is a boon to every home in Canada where there is a baby. It "Saves babies' lives."

Cheese Markets

LONDON, Oct. 20.—Twenty-two factories offered 1,035 boxes of August make and 7-485 September and balance of season. Sales:—195 boxes of August at 9⅞ c, 230 boxes at 9 15 16c, 140 August and September at 10c, 650 boxes September and balance of season at 10 1-16c; market quiet.

OGDENSBURG, Oct. 20—Today 1 092 boxes of cheese were offered. A bid of 10c was made but none sold.

COOPER.

The weather in this part is very fine; ploughing is the rage with the farmers, and hunting for the blacksmiths and merchants—Our school has been closed for two weeks, but we are glad to learn our teacher is able to resume his duties this week—Mrs Robt. McKnight and her daughter Ida went to Port Hope last week to witness the marriage of her daughter Lillie, to a Mr. Scott of that place.—John Macoun, of Toronto, is hunting in this vicinity and is the guest of Wm. Galway.—Mrs. M. M. Allen, who has been gone from this place for the summer, is back visiting friends and neighbors.—There were a good many visitors from Rimmington at the Blair appointment on Sunday night last to help on with the revival service held in that place. Instead of a sermon Mr. Mallett gave his congregation a bible reading, pointing out the holiness question. — Mr. Richard Farrell, of Hazzards' Corner, went with R. R. Hannah to spend a few days at Hartsmore, hunting.—Mrs. Anson Connor has returned to her home at Sarginson.—The missionary social held at Mr. Wm. Tuller's was a grand success. Prof. Munroe, of Madoc, took a prominent part in the programme.

SPRINGBROOK.

A Serious Railway Smash.

As a freight train on the C. P. R. was rounding the curve about one mile east of Springbrook on the 22nd, the van and two cars, loaded with 200 brls. of apples, broke loose from the train, and came to a stop. The rest of the train, which was attached to the locomotive, ran on for a short distance, to keep out of the way of the cars which had broken loose. Before they could back up and couple on again, another freight came tearing around the curve. The engineer and fireman, seeing that a pitch in could not be averted, jumped before the crash came, and escaped with a few bruises. The locomotive plunged into the van, smashing right through into the cars of apples. The van and two cars were burned, only saving eight barrels of the apples. Considerable injury was done to the locomotive. There were five carloads of horses on the rear train, but they were uninjured.

Just as Good,

Perhaps; but if just as good as Putnam's, is that not a very high recommendation for the original and best corn cure? Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor. Refuse to accept any of the dangerous sore producing substitutes offered by greedy dealers who make larger profits and disregard the interests of customers. Safe, painless, certain.

ALL CASES OF WEAK OR LAME BACK, back ache, rheumatism, will find relief by wearing one of Carter's Smartweed and Belladonna Backache Plasters. Price 25 cents. Try them.

CAMPBELL'S QUININE WINE. It will tone up your system, and restore the appetite. | JUST WHAT YOU NEED — THIS SPRING.

The best cure for Debility.

GOVERNMENT RAILROADS.

Chili owns 670 miles of railroad.

Baden owns 829 miles of railway.

Ireland owns 2,694 miles of railway.

China owns and operates all her railway.

Some 181 miles of railroad is owned by Ceylon.

Belgium owns about 2,000 miles of railway.

England and Wales own 14,034 miles of railway.

The German empire owns about 21,000 miles of railway.

Scotland has 3,118 miles of railway belonging to the state.

Austria owns and operates nearly 2,000 miles of railway.

Bavaria had 1,806 miles of railway owned by the government.

The United States of Colombia owned 218 miles of railway in 1890.

Denmark has about 1,000 miles of railroad owned by the government.

France owns about 2,000 miles of railway, but most or quite all is leased to companies.

THE FUNNY MEN.

Subscriber—I have just heard that fifty people are coming to settle here. Editor—Thank the Lord! John, make out the bills.—Atlanta Constitution.

"My task in life," said the pastor, complacently, "consists in saving young men." "Ah!" replied the maiden, with a soulful longing, "save a good one for me, won't you?"—Life.

"I tell you," said Mabel's father, "Charley Slogo has a level head." "Very likely," replied Mabel, sweetly. "Probably that's what makes his conversation so flat."—Washington Star.

Cora—Miss Newrich has a new maid that is a great deal better than her old one. "Did she tell you?" "No, but the last note I had from her was spelled, every word of it, correctly."—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Guest—Waiter, bring me a steak and some mushrooms. Waiter—Yes, sah; you'll have to wait a few minutes foh de mushrooms, sah, dey are being used on a steak foh another customer jes' now, sah. —N. Y. Herald.

FOREIGN PICK-UPS.

The French people, it is said, now pay more attention to eating and drinking and less to dancing than formerly.

Hungary is about to hold an exhibition of historical relics to celebrate the millennial anniversary of the foundation of the kingdom by Arpad in 894.

A log of African mahogany, said to be the largest ever landed in England, was recently sold in London. It measured thirty-six by forty inches, and was forty-one and one-half feet long, free from knots, shakes and all other defects.

Eisleben, the birthplace of Martin Luther, is sinking into the moor upon which it is built. Measures have been taken in recent years to drain the bog, without avail, and the inhabitants are seriously thinking of abandoning the town.

THE WIDOWED FARMER.

Since Hanner died the sun don't shine so bright,
The stars don't twinkle near so keen at night,
The church bell Sunday mornin' an't the cheer
It had when she was here,
Since Hanner died.

The very chickens misses Hanner's care,
And go 'round with a sorter lonesome air,
There ain't no kind of joy about the place
Without her smilin' face,
Since Hanner died.

The garden tools hang in the apple trees,
The hossweeds are a-killin' off the peas;
There's no one here to hoe the taters now,
Er feed the hogs an' cow,
Since Hanner died.

I s'pose, of course, I'd orter be resigned,
But when I go out in the shed and find
The ax she chopped the wood with all them years,
I wet it with my tears,
Since Hanner died.

"Love and Life" is in the Cellar.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—In regard to the published report that as superintendent of public buildings he had decided that the painting "Love and Life" was too immoral to be hung in the White House, Col. John M. Wilson, the official thus referred to, says: "Upon the request of the state department I allowed the picture to be stored in the basement of the White House. I have no authority to say what shall or shall not be put on the walls of the executive mansion. The painting has never been unpacked and I have expressed no opinion about it.

Cholera Decreasing in Europe.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—The latest advices received by the marine hospital service show that cholera in Europe is on the decrease, and it is hoped that the advent of cold weather will put an end to the epidemic entirely. Many cases are still being reported in Holland, Belgium and France, but they seem mostly of a sporadic nature and nowhere assume an epidemic form.

Double Murder in Mississippi.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 23.—News has just reached here of a tragedy near Shelby, Miss,, on Sunday in which John Thomas slew his faithless wife and shot her paramour, Donald Hill. Thomas made his escape.

A Cyclone in Arkansas.

ARKANSAS CITY, Oct. 23.—Geudo Springs a hamlet 10 miles west of here was struck by a cyclone Saturday evening. The damage is estimated at $10,000. At Winfield the storm wrecked J. B. Dinn's store and Baden's warehouse.

Harcourt's Eyesight Improving.

LONDON, Oct. 23.—The Daily News learns that Sir William Harcourt, who has returned from consulting a Wiesbaden oculist, can see better than for years past.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

TORONTO, Oct. 23, 1894.

On the street 150 bushels of wheat sold at 53c for white, 51c for red and 50c for goose; 2,500 of barley at 42c to 48c, and 500 of oats at 31c to 31 1-2c. Outside prices were unchanged.

The London stock markets were idle yesterday on account of Jewish holidays. The tone, however, was better, led by the rise in consols. Paris keeps firm and absorbs stocks, and this induces a calmer feeling all around amid the various political rumors. Americans were firm.

Prices in the New York stock market continued virtually unchanged. Neither the European situation nor the course of sterling exchange gave the cue for local operations. So far the signs are certainly indicative that the stock market fright over the Russian uncertainty has run its course. It will perhaps be remembered that even the assassination of the older Czar in 1881 failed to upset the markets. No gold was ordered for to-morrow's steamers.

At East Liberty sheep receipts were liberal. Extra, $3 to $3.10; good, $2.20 to $2.60; fair, $1.60 to $1.90; common, 50c to $1; yearling, $2 to $3; lambs, $2 to 3.60.

That the hog trade in the Toronto market is assuming large proportions is shown by the fact that last week the number brought in and sold beat all previous records by a large increase. The total number of hogs reached 7,694. Over 3,000 hogs were brought in on Friday and Saturday. The last highest record in one week was a month or so ago, when the number reached 6,466. The number of cattle last week were 3,075, and of sheep there were 5,442.

SPORTING NEWS

To the Editor of the Intelligencer.

SIR—Last Friday's game of football between the Cities and Mutes was a good one, and one in which, although they were defeated, the former team put up some splendid individual plays. But in this age individual play don't go, and if the C's want to get there on Friday they must play a team game. Put Nash and Rous together on the right forward and Hardy and Truaisch on the left. Bogart and McFee were strong on right last year, and if Nash and Rous play their game, they would equal these at the least, and with their natural push and vim, the strong support of the left wing and half back line, Cummings will do the rest of the needful and the C's should win. Twining being the best check on the half back line should shift his position so as to keep pacing Chambers. Wolever should go between the poles again, and Diamond out on the field where he should be. An old hand like Marsh is right at home as full back, and the captain will do well to keep him there, but Diamond should be with him. Harris, Jamieson and Moon are all right. The Mutes' strongest points in the past seasons were Chandler at full back and Patrick in goal. They are gone and also are Isbister and Noonan, two other strong men, and with the Mutes' team in this shakey condition the boys will not likely ever have as good a chance at them again. The C's will do well to consider these changes carefully and make them at once, and then go in and win.

ONE WHO SAW THE GAME

"The paragrapher who wrote 'this is a pneumatic age,' must have had a tired feeling." And he who wrote the above must have had a spoke loose.—Chicago Horseman.

The quoit match between F. Claus, of Belleville, and Jos Richardson, of Toronto, was begun at 9:30 this morning. The Toronto man began with a strong lead, and seemed the better pitcher, but Claus pulled up and passed his opponent before half the first game was pitched. The first game ended at 2.10 with the score 61 to 39 in Claus' favor.

The races at Foxboro to-morrow promise to be a success, as the track is in fine condition, and horses from Belleville, Gananoque, Picton, Brighton, Frankford, Stirling and Campbellford are expected.

HIS RESIGNATION ACCEPTED.

A New Rector to be Appointed for Christ Church.

A special Vestry Meeting was held in the Vestry of Christ church last evening for the purpose of considering the resignation of the Rev. Mr. Daw. The attendance was larger than has been present at any meeting for some years. Archdeacon Lauder, of Christ church, Ottawa, Commissary of Archbishop Lewis, was present to represent the Bishop, who is absent on a visit to England. The resignations of Mr. Daw as rector, and Miss Mabel Wilson as organist, were accepted without comment. The Wardens, Mr. Walter Alford and Dr. Ackrill, with Mr. Overell were appointed as a committee to interview the Archdeacon in regard to the appointment of a new rector. A motion was passed to the effect that owing to the present finances of the church, it would be impossible to guarantee the future rector more than $1000 a year salary. It was left with the Archdeacon to send a suitable man subject to the approval of the Vestry. A lengthy discussion took place in reference to rented pews, and a motion in favor of the same on being put to the meeting was carried unanimously; everyone present, except one, expressing themselves so favorable to the change.

A motion by Mr. Walter Alford, seconded by Mr. Cooper, "that a hearty vote of thanks be tendered Archdeacon Lauder for being present with us, and to assist in smoothing over our difficulties," was carried by a standing vote. The Archdeacon stated that he offered his services willingly and cheerfully. He was pleased to be present, to find them all united and such a good feeling existing. Each person present seemed to be animated with the same spirit; to let by gones be forgotten and together unite prayerfully and earnestly, and work for the best interests of Christ church parish. The Archdeacon closed the meeting by pronouncing the benediction.

KINGSTON ROAD CHURCH.

Re-opening Services on Sunday, and a Concert Last Evening.

Kingston Road church was re opened on Sunday with special services, and a concert last evening. The services on Sunday were conducted by Revs. E. N. Baker and J. A. McCamus. The church has been in the hands of painters for the past three weeks, and they have wrought a complete change in the interior. From the dead, uninteresting walls have grown the warmest tints and shades, and the interior now presents a most inviting appearance. The work was provided for by the young people of E. L. of C. E., and the entertainment last evening was to secure proceeds for paying for the work. There was a good attendance, and Rev. A. Campbell, of Bleecker St. Church, occupied the chair. In a short address he told the audience how the improvements had been carried out, and called upon the friends to help pay the cost—about $80. By his persuasive manner and speech he succeeded in his object, the whole amount being guaranteed. The concert was a great success. The following ladies and gentlemen took part: Miss Lazier, Mr. William Mackintosh, the Milne family, the Misses Wilson, and the choir.

Chancery Sittings.

The Autumn Chancery Sittings opened this morning at 10 o'clock before Mr. Justice Rose.

The first case called was Potts vs. Collins. This was an action of ejectment for possession of a lot of land in Hungerford. Deft. claimed pltf. had given him the land about fourteen or fifteen years ago, and was to have given him a deed therefor, pff being permitted to take his wood off the land as long as it lasted. After several witnesses had been examined the Judge suggested that the parties settle the matter, which they did under the following terms: Deft. to pay the costs plff. was put to in connection with an injunction motion made by deft., and that each party bear his own costs of the action, and that the plff. shall give the deft. a deed of the lands in question.—D. E. K Stewart, sol. S. Masson, counsel for pff; E. Guss Porter for deft.

Fuller vs. Loucks.—Action on two promissory notes, of which Albert Loucks was an endorser. Defence set up by Loucks that the maker had been given time without his own consent or acquiescence, and that he was therefore relieved from liability. E. Guss Porter, for plff; C. E. Lyons, for deft. The case is still in progress.

Look Out For Cold Weather

but ride inside of the Electric Lighted and Steam Heated Vestibule Apartment trains of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway and you will be as warm, comfortable and cheerful as in your own library or boudoir. To travel between Chicago, St. Paul and Minneapolis, or between Chicago, Omaha and Sioux City, in these luxuriously appointed trains, is a supreme satisfaction; and, as the somewhat ancient advertisement used to read, "for further particulars, see small bills." Small bills (and large ones, too) will be accepted for passage and sleeping car tickets. For detailed information address A. J. Taylor, Canadian Passenger Agent, Toronto, Ont. d3:eod

THAT HACKING COUGH can be quickly cured by Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam. Price 25c.

GO TO THE FOUNTAIN.

Your Burden of Pain and Suffering will Roll Away.

Paine's Celery Compound Heals and Cures.

Thousands Have Been Given a New Lease of Life.

Test Its Virtues Weary Sufferer.

"Go with thy pains to the fountain,
Go with thy load of disease;
Use nature's curer and healer,
Thou shalt have health, strength and ease."

Every ailing, sick and diseased man, woman and child must go to the same fountain for cure. There is no fashionable or royal road for the elite and wealthy of society; the noble of birth, the titled and affluent must lay hold of the same means for banishing disease and suffering that is so eagerly sought after by those in humbler positions and circumstances.

As the sun shines on the rich and poor, the righteous and unrighteous, blessing all alike; so does Paine's Celery Compound give life, health, strength and a fresh lease of life to people of every grade and class who are victims of nervousness, rheumatism, neuralgia, dyspepsia, indigestion and liver and kidney troubles.

All troubles quickly roll away when nature's great medicine is used. In the past tens of thousands have used the waters of that unfailing fountain of virtues, and have been made whole. Thousands are testing it to day, and miraculous results are the fruits. If you are suffering, dear reader, delay no longer; test the great healer that has won so many victories, it will meet your wants and needs. For your encouragement the following letter from Mrs. Fanny M. Huff, of Salmon Point, Ont. is given as a proof of what results you may reap, if you use Paine's Celery Compound:—

"After receiving so much benefit from Paine's Celery Compound, I think it my duty to inform sufferers what this great medicine can do for all who wish to regain health and strength. I have been a great sufferer for years from nervousness and weakness, and have had the advice and attendance of doctors with but little benefit. I was induced to use your Paine's Celery Compound, some time ago, and I must confess it is the best medicine I ever used. Nothing else has ever done me so much good, and I now feel quite a different person.

"I trust sufferers will not be influenced to use any other medicine while they can procure yours which does such good work. I cannot speak strongly enough in favor of Paine's Celery Compound, and you may be assured I will always recommend it. You are at liberty to publish this letter in your work."

Wesley Tea Meeting.

A large number attended the re-opening services and supper at the Wesley church last evening. Among those present were Rev. Messrs. Baker, McCamus, Dupreu, Roberts, and the pastor, Mr. Faull. Mr. Graham occupied the chair. In the fore part of the evening supper was served, after which speeches were given by the above named ministers, interspersed with singing by the West Belleville choir, who left the city in a carryall at 7:15 p.m., and arrived in time for the speeches. Four anthems were sung; a solo by Mr. Frank Brenton, which left a deep impression upon the hearers, and a duet by Misses Dafoe and Swayze accompanied by Mr. Dafoe with the banjo. After the programme the choir adjourned, by the aid of a late invention called a lantern, to the spacious Grange Hall, situated about 500 yds. from the church. On arriving at the door, one was struck with the gaily illuminated interior and the tastily decorated walls and ceiling, but most of all, the article which seemed to make the hungry choir smile the most was the table which, thanks to Wesley ladies, was a sight in itself. All fell to, and after clearing the table of all its delicacies, the now overburdened choir left in the van for a joyous return trip, arriving home about one this morning.

A Graduate of Toronto University says:

"My children have been treated with Scott's Emulsion from their earliest years! Our physician first recommended it and now whenever a child takes cold my wife immediately resorts to this remedy, which which always effects a cure."

A Lesson in Hygiene.

Now that water supplies are recognized as the chief vehicle for propagating typhoid fever, medical and scientific authorities throughout the world are constantly dwelling on the necessity of using water of known purity. While this has no bearing on medicinal waters, which, however valuable, cannot safely be made part of the ordinary daily diet, because of the active chemical substances they contain, it has, however, given a wonderful stimulus to the consumption of dietetic or table waters, such as Apollinaris. It is little wonder, however, that the use of Apollinaris is on the increase, for who does not gladly take the beverage which, besides being pure and healthful, is delightful and refreshing?

Schiffmann's Asthma Cure

Instantly relieves the most violent attacks facilitates free expectoration and insured rest to those otherwise unable to sleep except in a chair, as a single trial will prove. Send for a free trial package to Dr. R. Schiffmann's, St. Paul, Minn., but ask your druggist first.

SPECIAL MENTION

Cold in the head—Nasal Balm gives instant relief; speedily cures. Never fails.

DR. LOW'S PLEASANT WORM SYRUP removes worms of all kinds from children or adults.

ALWAYS AVOID HARSH PURGATIVE PILLS. They first make you sick and then leave you constipated. Carter's Little Liver Pills regulate the bowels and make you well. Dose, one pill.

"BURNS AND SCALDS."—If you are so unfortunate as to injure yourself in this way, we can suggest a remedy that will (we speak from experience) soon relieve you of all pain and quickly heal the wound; it costs but twenty five cents for the New big bottle and is sold by all Druggists—ask for PERRY DAVIS' PAIN-KILLER.

Dr. S. C. Webb, Liberty, Miss., says: "I have been using Ayer's Pills for over twenty five years, and recommend them in cases of chronic diarrhœa, knowing their efficiency from personal experience, they having cured when every other medicine failed."

No one need fear cholera or any summer complaint if they have a bottle of Dr. J. D Kellog's Dysentery Cordial ready for use. It corrects all looseness of the bowels promptly and causes a healthy and natural action. This is a medicine adapted for the young and old, rich and poor, and is rapidly becoming the most popular medicine for cholera, dysentery, etc., in the market.

New Advertisements.

BOARD.

LARGE Double Room, suitable for sitting room and bed room, furnished or unfurnished, with board. Apply at this office. 144d3t

TO LET.

NEW Brick House to let on Queen Street. Apply to THOS. LUSCOMBE d1t

TO LET 2 snug, warm brick houses in terrace, situated on Harriett St., West Belleville, known as Morton's, or Filliter's terrace. For terms of rent apply to R. C. Filliter, collector, or sub agent to the estate of the late H E Filliter Residence at Mr. Jardin's Corner of William and Dundas Sts., East Belleville. 85d2m

TAKE NOTICE

Of the "Old Home" grocery store and drop in and see us. It gives us pleasure to show you our new stock of groceries and quote prices whether you are a purchaser or not We are making a special run in flour this month. We can also supply you with all kinds of feed. Of our choice blends of TEA we can only say "see it and you'll appreciate its merits, use it and you'll sing its praises."

J. A. ELLIOTT.

Front St., Belleville.

QUEEN'S - OPERA - HOUSE,

THOS. P. J. POWER,—MANAGER.

VAN AMBURG CONCERT COMPANY.

ONE NIGHT ONLY

— ON —

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 23rd, 1894,

Under the auspices of Canton Belleville, No. 8, P. M., I. O. O. F.

Prices, - 15, 25 and 35c.

Plan at Riggs' Music Store.

FULL WEEK AT . . .

BRIDGE ST. METHODIST CHURCH.

Monday Evening, 8 p.m.
Mass Meetings, City Choirs; Mr and Mrs. H. M. Blight, Con's.

Tuesday Evening, 8 p.m.
Words of Greeting; Addresses by John Charlton, M.P., and A. C. Courtice, B D.

Wednesday Evening, 8 p.m.
Ideal in Practice, Miss Bertha F. Vella, Addresses by Rev. G. M. Smart, M. A.; D.D., LL. D., and Mr. B. F. Jacobs, Chicago.

Thursday Evening, 8 p.m.
Mrs Lydia M. Mountford, "Home and Haunts of Jesus."

Friday Evening, 8 p.m.
Mrs. Lydia M. Mountford, "Life in Jerusalem."

Saturday Evening, 8 p.m.
Mrs Lydia M. Mountford, "From Bethlehem to Calvary."

Collection Tuesday and Wednesday evenings Tickets 25 cents for Oriental lectures, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

SEE SMALL BILLS.

MONTHLY DIVIDENDS!!

Syndicate Trading

$10 00 UPWARDS,

40 Per Cent. Profit in September, 1894

Stock Exchange Risks less than Trade Risks. Stock Exchange Profits Greater than any Trade Profits.

Syndicate Trading is conducted with smallest individual risk while the greatest possible profits are earned for each investor. Syndicate Trading is a LEGITIMATE road to wealth. A small sum quickly becomes a yearly income.

Anyone can Share Our Profits!!

Send $10 00 or upwards in registered letter, by post or money order or New York draft, payable to New York Trading Co., or A W Pearse, Manager.

All money at your credit can be withdrawn first of month when accounts are rendered. The elections will make active markets This is a grand opportunity to make money. Details mailed free References furnished. Representatives wanted

New York Trading Company,

17 & 19 Broadway, New York City.

THIS MATTER CHANGED DAILY.

TUESDAY, Oct. 23rd.

PRESENTS . .

Convention delegates will want to take home a nice present or two. We have a nice stock of dry goods, Millinery and Jackets to select from.

MATS, TIDIES,
TABLE COVERS,
KID GLOVES,
DRESS GOODS,

All make nice presents.

W. FLINT JONES.

Next door to Haines & Lockett.

Bibles 20 Per Cent. Discount. | S. S CONVENTION OCTOBER 23RD, 24TH, 25TH. | Bibles 20 Per Cent Discount.

During the Sunday School Convention, Oct 23rd, 24th and 25th, we will offer every Bible in our stock at a Discount of 20 Per Cent. off our already low prices There is not a finer stock of Bibles in any retail book store in Canada, and our prices have been such as to induce several orders from distant points from people who have heard from us and our low prices through some source or another.

This is an opportunity that has never been offered, and as the discount will positively be allowed for three days only we should not miss it, The following prices will give you an idea of what the discount will do for you:—

50c. Bibles for 40c, | $3.00 Bibles for $2.40
$1.00 Bibles for 80c. | $4.00 Bibles for $3.20
$2.00 Bibles for $1.60 | $5.00 Bibles for $4.00

$10.00 Bibles for $8.00,
12.00 Bibles for 9.60,
15.00 Bibles for 12.00.

Bibles 20 Per Cent. Discount. | C. B. Scantlebury. | Bibles 20 Per Cent. Discount.

Of Course . . . .

IT IS——

. . . . Nonsense

To spend money foolishly or buy something that you have not any use for. When you want an article that you cannot do without, for instance, COAL OR WOOD, buy the best, and always bear in mind that WE sell nothing but the best, and furthermore, we do not hesitate to claim that our present stock of all kinds of COAL and HARD and SOFT WOOD and PINE and CEDAR KINDLING has NEVER been surpassed in quality in the Belleville Market.

Our constantly increasing orders del'vrd promptly.
Our Carters are experienced and obliging.
Our Coal carefully screened and weighed.

TRY US ONCE AND WE FEEL SURE YOU WILL COME AGAIN.

S. A. LAZIER & SON'S.

The Leading Coal and Wood Merchants. Telephone C 68.

24TH - - - - - - YEAR.

S. A. HYMAN, Manufacturing Furrier.

Special Prices in Ladies' Fur Capes.

Grey Lamb Capes, 18 inches long,	..	$15 00
" " " 24 "	..	18 00
Greenland Seal Capes, 24 inches long,	..	12.00
Empire Capes, 26 inches long,	..	18.00
" " 27 " Garrick Collars,	..	22 00
Military " 27 " with vest	..	22.00

See my Window for Styles.

S. A. HYMAN, OLD FURS MADE OVER IN THE LATEST STYLES.

LAME BACK NEURALGIA, PLEURISY, SCIATICA AND RHEUMATISM CURED EVERY TIME WHEN THE "D.&L." MENTHOL PLASTER IS USED.

Cash is King

And when backed by low prices always wins.

Prices in our store are not copyrighted, others are permitted to copy them.

Read our "Celebrated" prices, they are chips from our block of "UNDERBUY and UNDERSELL."

Cottons, a yard wide, for 4c.
Flannelettes for 5c.
All wool Flannels, 27 inches wide, for 18c.
All wool Navy Flannels, 28 inches wide, for 25c.
Dress Goods, 8, 10, 20, 25, and 50c per yard—All low values.
Ladies' all wool seamless hose, 18c.
Misses' and Boys' double ribbed, seamless and all wool hose, 20c
Men's underwear from 50c to $5 per suit
New goods rolling in every day. We don't get them for keep-sakes. Bargains everywhere to remember us by

THE LEADING BARGAIN HOUSE.

H. A. LAYTON, BELLEVILLE.

Front St., Opposite Campbell St.

$1.00

To $5.00 saved on all Dinner Sets bought here. Look to quality always. Pattern may please the eye, but if not fired right, will soon look worn and you're disappointed.

TO MAKE

A living by Crockery alone we must sell better goods at lower prices than the small general storekeeper. Our knowledge, the assortment, the superior styles is what keeps this big establishment to the front, and if the trade comes here, it's because it pays to do so. The new importations will begin to arrive first week next month—then look out.

W. J. REID & CO'Y.

CRYSTAL HALL. Rous' Old Stand.

London and Belleville.

ONTARIO MUTUAL LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY.

S. Burrows, Esq., General Agent, Ontario Mutual Life Co., Belleville, Ont.

DEAR SIR, Received your company's check for $2,000 for our Matured Endowment, and we both wish to show our gratitude to you and the Company for the straightforward and satisfactory way you deal with policy holders, and that we are more than satisfied with our investment. I will always urge our friends to follow in our footsteps. Thanking you very kindly.

Yours very sincerely,
Mr. & Mrs. GOODWIN, Bowmanville,
Formerly of Belleville.

The Daily Intelligencer.

LET THERE BE HARMONY IN THINGS ESSENTIAL—LIBERALITY IN THINGS NOT ESSENTIAL—CHARITY IN ALL.

VOL. 28. BELLEVILLE ONTARIO WEDNESDAY OCTOBER 24 1894 NO 147

= SILKS =

We have in stock a full line of the

Corticelli Embroidery and Knitting Silks

IN

Honiton Lace Emb'y Silk.
Outline do do
Knitting Silk,
Twist Embroidery,
Roman Floss,
Filo Floss.

—ALSO—

27 INCH PURE JAPANESE SILK IN
LIGHT BLUE,
CREAM,
ROSE PINK,
CORAL PINK,
BUTTERCUP,
CARDINAL,

BLACK - SILKS!

In all the leading makes.

J. P. THOMPSON & CO

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY.

HUNTERS' EXCURSIONS.

Return Tickets

AT

SINGLE FIRST-CLASS FARE

FROM BELLEVILLE TO

PENETANG, MIDLAND,

and all points in the following districts:—
SEVERN to NORTH BAY, inclusive.
ARGYLE to COBOCONK, inclusive.
CAMERON to HALIBURTON, inclusive.
MATTAWA to NEPIGON and inclusive.
(via North Bay) SPANISH RIVER,
MUSKOKA LAKES (Via Muskoka, Nav, Company).
Good Going October 19, 20, 26, and 27. Nov. 2 and 3.
Valid for Return leaving destination not lates than December 1st, 1894.
Sportsman's Dog, Gun, and 200 lbs. Camping Outfit Carried Free.
For tickets and all information, apply to

U. E. THOMPSON,

GEN. TICKET AGENCY, Bridge Street.

SLIPPER SOLES.

We have just received a large number of the best

LAMB'S WOOL SLIPPER SOLES, IN

Nos. 2, 3, 4, 5 & 6.

Also in Children's Sizes, which we are offering at the low price of 35 Cents per pair.

We have also a full range of Single and Double Berlin Wool, for Crocheting and Knitting Bedroom Slippers.

THE BEEHIVE

CHAS. N. SULMAN

Wanted!

10,000 People of the City of Belleville, to buy the famous

ENGLISH SPICED SAUSAGE!

Manufactured by

McGUINNESS,

Front Street.

Tender Loins, Feet, Ribs, Hocks and Fresh Heads, Choice Roasts 9c. per lb.

STOVE PIPES!
STOVE PIPES!!
STOVE PIPES!!!

WHIPS! LANTERNS!
WHIPS!! LANTERNS!!
WHIPS!!! LANTERNS!!!

Lamps, Flower Pots,
Lamps, Flower pots,
Lamps, Flower Pots.

—AT—

THE FAIR,

FRANK WEEKS, MANAGER.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

ACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York.

Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

Thomas A. Johns.

CURED BY TAKING

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

"I was afflicted for eight years with Salt Rheum. During that time, I tried a great many medicines which were highly recommended, but none gave me relief. I was at last advised to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and before I had finished the fourth bottle, my hands were as

Free from Eruptions

as ever they were. My business, which is that of a cab-driver, requires me to be out in cold and wet weather, often without gloves, but the trouble has never returned."—THOMAS A. JOHNS, Stratford, Ont.

Ayer's The Only Sarsaparilla

Admitted at the World's Fair.

Ayer's Pills Cleanse the Bowels.

"FOR THE BENEFIT OF RHEUMATIC SUFFERERS,"

ACETOCURA

MADE ME ANOTHER MAN

G. H. REEVES,
(Reeves & Beebe),
169 State street, Chicago.

Coutts & Sons,
72 Victoria street, Toronto.

Write for gratis pamphlet to COUTTS & Sons, 72 Victoria street, Toronto. Head offices—London, Glasgow and Manchester, (G.B.) Cologne, Germany, Aaron, Switzerland.

Local Agents—

L. W. YEOMANS & CO.,
DRUGGISTS,
BELLEVILLE.

CANADIAN PACIFIC RY.

WILL RUN HUNTERS' EXCURSIONS

TO MUSKOKA LAKES
AND ALL STATIONS.

MATTAWA, NEPIGON, SPANISH RIVER

AND INTERMEDIATE STATIONS

OCT. 19 and 20
OCT. 26 and 27
NOV. 2 and 3

When Round Trip Tickets will be sold for

SINGLE FIRST CLASS FARE

Good for Return until Dec. 1st, 1894.

For business passing through Toronto, rates to above points will not be less than 25 cents added to ordinary Round Trip Rates to Toronto.

Dogs, Guns, Personal Baggage, Camp Equipments, to the amount of 200 lbs will be carried FREE

S. BURROWS,
General Ticket Agent, Belleville.

Daily Intelligencer.

ALEXANDER HAS A RELAPSE

Caused by Excitement Attending Princess Alix's Arrival.

TROUBLED WITH HEART FAILURE

The Wedding of the Czarewitch and Princess Alix to Take Place at the Royal Palace This Afternoon, Provided the Emperor's Case Does Not Take a Serious Turn in the Meantime.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Daily News says: The excitement of Princess Alix's arrival had a bad effect on the Czar. Private information concerning the Czar's condition is again pessimist. The weakness of his heart is no better. His insomnia somewhat abated on the 21st and 22d, but reappeared yesterday. The heartiness of the Czarewitch's reception of Princess Alix will silence all unpleasant rumors regarding the marriage.

A despatch to the News from Odessa says: With the exception of official reports no telegrams referring to the Czar's condition are permitted to be sent from Lavidia. Nobody known to be a foreign reporter is allowed to reside in Yalta, hence the many untrustworthy rumors afloat. Odessa believed on the 21st and 22d that the Czar was dead.

The bulletin yesterday caused the greatest anxiety and grief. All the members of the Czar's family except the Duchess of Coburg are now at Lavidia.

The Czarina, in responding to the telegram of the Paris journalists, said that she was deeply touched by their expression of sympathy.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 24.—The Czar's physicians issued a bulletin at 7 o'clock last evening, saying that in the course of the day the patient had been languid and had shown slight convulsive symptoms, but his appetite was better.

The Crisis Reached.

PARIS, Oct. 24.—The Figaro correspondent at Livadia says the Czar recently experienced thirteen hours of terrible suffering. The crisis of the disease, the paper further says, is now reached. His Majesty's condition shows a slight improvement and the members of his entourage are more hopeful of his ultimate recovery. His physicians, however, consider his condition grave. Galignani's Messenger publishes a despatch from Lavidia signed by the Grand Duke Valdimir and timed 1.12 p. m., saying that the condition of the Czar has shown improvement for the past two days, but is still very grave.

A Central News despatch from St. Petersburg says: "It is semi-officially announced that the wedding of the Czarewitch and the Princess Alix will take place in the presence of the Czar in the palace chapel at Lavidia at 2 o'clock to-day. The princess joined the Orthodox church yesterday. It is stated that on leaving Spala the Czar weighed 200 pounds, about 28 pounds below his normal weight and that he now weighs only 140 pounds." The Berlin correspondent of the Central News says that an official despatch from St. Petersburg confirms the announcement that the marriage of the Czarewitch and Princess Alix will take place to-day unless tde Czar should become suddenly worse in the meantime.

Peculiar Surrogate Court Case.

BUFFALO, Oct. 24.—A somewhat unusual application was made at the Surrogate term yesterday, when John J. Ferguson filed papers asking for letters of administration for the estate of his son, Daniel J. Ferguson, without knowing positively that he was dead. Mr. Ferguson lived in Toronto in 1877, and was a traveling man. Daniel was in the same business and was working for a Toronto firm. He owed the firm considerable money, which he was unable to pay, and he left his home suddenly to escape the demands which were being made upon him by his employers. His folks heard from him nine years ago, when they received a letter which had been mailed in Minneapolis. In this letter he said he was doing pretty well and promised to write to his folks frequently. Since then nothing has been heard from him, and his relatives have come to the conclusion that he is dead. The Surrogate granted letters of administration to the father.

Troubles of Those Celestial Actors.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—B. C. Chetwood, counsellor for five Chinese actors, Chin Ah Bond, Loi Shei Han, Lau Yeong, Ye Ong Pan and San Hai Lan, now in Canton jail, St. Lawrence county, for attempting to enter the United States contrary to law, obtained from Judge Wallace yesterday a writ of habeas corpus for the men. The writ is returnable before Judge Coxe, in Utica, on November 13. The men were arrested on September 17 at Ogdensburg, a week after they had rowed across the St. Lawrence river at night. They declared they had missed the ferry boat from Montreal to Ogdensburg. They were detained by United States Commissioner Edward L. Strong for deportation after a hearing.

Will Allow No Interference.

HIROSHIMA, Oct. 24.—At the special session of the Japanese Diet, which closed yesterday, a memorial was adopted urging the government to execute the desires of the Mikado with a view to the restoration of peace in the east, the increase of the glory of Japan, the punishment of China, and the prevention of future disturbances of eastern peace. The memorial concludes with the declaration that Japan will not tolerate interference by any nation to prevent her obtaining the ultimate objects of the war which she has been waging against China.

Sickles Still in It.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—Gen. Sickles has not withdrawn from the Congressional race, as stated early yesterday afternoon. It is the general opinion, however, that he and Mr. Walsh are slated to withdraw in the interests of harmony. F. T. Adams offered on the stock exchanges yesterday to bet $10,000 to $8,000 that Morton would have 25,000 plurality over Hill.

Rumored Illness of Bismarck.

BERLIN, Oct. 24.—A rumor spread in this city this afternoon that Prince Bismarck had suffered a stroke of paralysis. In response to inquiries Dr. Chryaunder telegraphed from Varzin at 8 o'clock this evening that the rumor was unfounded; that the condition of the Prince and the Princess is satisfactory in spite of the prevailing bad weather.

Annexation of Neckar Island.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—The protest against the annexation by Great Britain of Neckar Island in the Pacific, which was to be presented by the combined colonies to the Imperial Government, will now be allowed to lapse owing to the failure on the part of the delegates to Hawaii to secure the purchase of the island.

GOVERNMENT MUSEUM FOR BANFF.

To Illustrate the Mineralogy and Natural History of the Rockies.

OTTAWA, Oct. 24.—A new Government museum will soon be started at Banff, N.W.T. For some time past the Dominion Government have been contemplating this move, with the object of illustrating the mineralogy and natural history of the Rocky Mountains. The directors of the Geological Survey have been instructed to prepare a complete exhibit for this museum. Prof. Macoun has prepared an exhibit of all the birds and plants of the mountains and prairie. Two hundred specimens of birds and 1,000 of plants will be shipped in a few days, also a large collection of minerals and specimens of the forest trees.

A Conservative demonstraeion is to be held at Moncton, N.B., on the 6th of November. Addresses will be delivered by Hon. John Costigan, Sir Charles Tupper, Hon. J. A. Ouimet and Controller Wallace. A number of meetings will in all likelihood be held in Nova Scotia.

Hugh Sutherland is in the city on Hudson Bay railway business.

In the Exchequer Court yesterday judgment in favor of the plaintiffs in the case of Gilbert v. Regina was rendered. Gilbert Bros. were contractors for Galops Rapids, and while their work was in progress were compelled to excavate more material than their contract called for owing to the nature of the soil. The amount of the judgment was $149,931, with interest at 4 per cent. This, with costs, will aggregate $200,000. Over $1,000,000 has been spent already on the work in dispute.

HAMILTON HAPPENINGS.

The Howell suicide—Murphy Must Go To Chicago—Hamilton Bridge Co. Assigns.

HAMILTON, Oct. 24.—An inquest into the death of Carson Howell, who shot himself, while resting on his mother's grave was held at Jerseyville when the jury found that the deceased came to his death by a pistol shot fired by his own hand while he was in a state of mental depression caused by financial and domestic troubles.

At the conclusion of the extradition trial of Cornelius F. Murphy, ex-commission merchant of Chicago before Judge Muir, the Judge intimated that he must direct that Murphy be extradited to Chicago to stand trial there on the charges against him.

The Hamilton Bridge Co'y has assigned to C. S. Scott, official assignee. The immediate cause of the assignment was a judgment for $10,000 obtained by A. T. Wood, one of the directors against the Company. A meeting of the creditors will be held on Monday next.

Hon. N. Clarke Wallace will be in Hamilton on Saturday and Monday next to hold a conference with merchants and manufacturers in regard to tariff question on which they may desire to consult him.

VILLIANOUS, IF TRUE.

A Sad, Strange Case of Domestic Trouble Before the Toronto Courts.

TORONTO, Oct. 24.—The sensation that was created some time ago by the two unsuccessful attempts of Nathaniel Hutchinson, a machinist of Richmond street west, to have his wife incarcerated in an asylum was revived by legal proceedings that were taken at Osgoode Hall yesterday morning when Mrs. Hutchinson's solicitors began suit against the husband for alimony.

Mrs. Hutchinson's story is that her husband told her that she was to be taken to the asylum, and if she did not go willingly she would be dragged by the hair. After that she determined to break the furniture so that no other woman could enjoy the little home she had made, and after that to kill herself. She says she would have committed suicide had not the sight of her children prevented her.

True Bill Against Mrs. Hartley.

BRANTFORD, Oct. 23.—The grand jury returned a true bill for murder against Mrs. Hartley, the woman who is charged with the heinous offence of poisoning her husband. The facts as alleged resemble very much those which were proven in the sensational Sharon case, where a woman attempted to poison her husband with arsenic. Louis Henry Ling, the hired man, created a sensation by a confession that Mrs. Hartly wanted him to give poison to her husband, and that he had seen her give him medicine with poison in it. The fellow also stated that he had been led into an intimacy with Mrs. Hartley at her intigation. That Hartley suspected he being poisoned by something was also developed at the inquest. The only son, Fred. Hartley, said to the doctors, "It's a hard thing to say, but I suspect my mother."

The Perraults at Penetang.

PARRY SOUND, Oct. 24.—The steamer "Manitou" arrived here last evening from Penetanguishene with the two Perrault brothers, who had evaded the detectives at Moon River last week. They were accompanied by Detective Greer and Albert Greer, a constable of this town. It appears that after getting away from Moon River the Perraults went to their home at Penetanguishene and remained around there in hiding until pounced upon by Detective Greer. When being laid hold of they made no resistance. They had evidently intended clearing out as their boat was provisioned and ready for sailing.

Dominion House in January.

TORONTO, Oct. 24.—Hon. Mackenzie Bowell talked to a reporter yesterday as to the rumors of a December session. He said that the reports had probably gained credence because the order had already been given for the yearly house-cleaning in the main block of the Parliament buildings. This, the Minister said, was being done early this year, but it was no indication of the early opening of Parliament. "I don't think you will see the session begun before the end of January."

Baptist Convention.

ST. THOMAS, Oct. 24.—The Baptist convention was occupied yesterday with foreign missions and papers were read by Dr. Dempsey on "Qualifications required for missionary service"; by Prof. Farmer, on "Home hindrances to foreign work"; by Prof. Osler on "The Scriptural Standard of Giving"; and by Rev. L. S. Hughson on "The present opportunity." The convention accepted with great heartiness an invitation to hold its next meeting at Montreal in May next.

Fire in Collingwood.

COLLINGWOOD, Ont. 24.—Another fire broke out yesterday morning in the Toronto House at about two o'clock and nearly destroyed the main buildings. A number of people were sleeping and had difficulty in saving themselves. Most of the furniture was destroyed. Total loss $3,000 insured for $1,350.

Mercier is Sinking.

MONTREAL, Oct. 24.—Mr. Mercier is still living, but enquiry at a late hour elicited the information that he was very low.

MIXED UP IN A GIRL AFFAIR

Statement of One of Frank Westwood's Friends at the Inquest.

THE PARENT'S STORIES DIFFER

Mrs. Westwood Says Her Son Went to His Room Unassisted and Partially Undressed Himself—Sound of Breaking Glass Followed the Shot—The Inquiry Further Adjourned Until the 29th Inst.

TORONTO, Oct. 24.—The inquest into the shooting of Frank B. Westwood, the Parkdale youth who was recently shot down at the door of his father's house by an unknown person, was resumed at No. 6 police station last evening. That interest in this dark deed has not to any great extent abated in the interval which had elapsed since the last session of the enquete was evidenced by the presence in the hall of several hundred citizens of the West End, and the usual complement of reporters, police officers and waiting witnesses.

The adjournment of a week ago was taken ostensibly for the purpose of giving the Crown's representatives an opportunity to get in shape the line of evidence they proposed to offer, and to await developments. The expectation, then, that something new would come out, and the fact that several members of the Westwood family would take the stand made the audience anxious and interested.

Mrs. Westwood, mother of the murdered boy, first took the stand. Her evidence was but a repetition of the now familiar story of the crime, with the addition of a few minor details not before brought out. The shooting occurred but a few minutes after she retired to her room. A peculiar fact is that she swore the denotation of the shot was accompanied by a sound like the shivering of glass. In some slight particulars her evidence contradicted her husband's. Strange to say, his mother's story was that the wounded boy reached his room and partially undressed without assistance while she was telephoning for medical aid. Frank had always made her his confidante and she knew of no trouble he had had with any person. He and his brother Charles were on the best of terms, and she knew of no intimacy between him and his brother's wife. Neither did she know of him going with any girl in the city. There was smoke in the hall when she reached Frank's side, and the outer door was closed.

Willie Westwood, the 16-year-old brother of Frank, had nothing of importance to tell. He was first awakened by a sound like breaking glass and a few minutes later Frank staggered into his room, and in reply to a question of what the noise was, said "I'm shot. Realistically he described his brother's condition and his terrible wound. Frank was a member of the Maroon Boat Club and associated principally with Edgar Lennox, young Cooper and the Caldwell boys. Willie had never seen his brother with nor heard him speak of any girls. The stonehooker story was revived and the boy said the first shot his father fired struck the water, but the others went over the tree tops. He knew of no difficulty Frank had ever had. To his knowledge the murdered youth had seldom visited his brother Charley's house. The latter had a 22-calibre revolver.

W. H. Andrews had met Frank at the corner of Queen street and Jamieson avenue about 9.10 o'clock on the night of the shooting. Lennox and Cooper were with Frank and the four strolled around for an hour. He left Frank with Cooper at 10.15 at the corner of Jamieson and King. He knew of no girls with whom young Westwood associated and was not aware that he had any enemies.

Isaac Anderson did not know of Frank having any improper relations with any girl. He had, however, heard of him being mixed up in a "girl affair" last winter, but could not say whether there was any truth in the story.

W. Cooper, who was one of Frank's intimates, said he knew nothing of the latter's being intimate with any girl. He had never heard of Frank having improper relations with females. Westwood was not a "lady's man." Crown Attorney Curry pressed the witness hard, seemingly suspecting that he was not anxious to tell all he knew; but Cooper stood by his first statements.

Edgar Lennox, Frank Westwood's bosom friend, knew of no city girl with whom the murdered youth kept company. He had heard him mention a young lady outside the city. Frank had had improper relations with a girl a year ago, but not during the present year. The first thing Frank said to him after the shooting was: "Well, old boy, it's hard lines." He then declared that he knew of no possible reason for the shooting. Frank had said the afternoon before his death: "Well, if I have to die it's all right." Lennox gave his evidence in a hesitating, unsatisfactory way.

Wm. Britt, of Jameson ave., son-in-law of [illegible] Sparrow, had, with two [illegible], made a thorough search of [illegible] shortly after the shooting, but failed to find a [illegible] or other evidence of the presence of the murderer.

[illegible] M. Taylor, Eglington, had been with Bert. Westwood all the evening of the murder up till 11.30 o'clock. He knew Frank Westwood well and thought him a youth of exemplary character. Mrs. Bert. Westwood was with him (the witness) and her husband during the whole of the evening of the 6th inst.

W. B. Keene, boat builder, Sunnyside, knew Frank Westwood well, and never saw him with a girl. He knew nothing of him being intimate with a girl living at his (Keene's) house.

At this point the inquest was again adjourned till Monday, 29th inst.

He Was Not Arnold.

ESSEX, Oct. 24.—A suspicious looking character giving his name as Chas. Ennis, of Cincinnati, was arrested here on suspicion of being George Arnold, the man who escaped jail from Whitby after nearly murdering a turnkey last week. Upon investigation it was proven that he was not Arnold.

Tenders for the Canadian Loan.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—Immediately upon the announcement that tenders for the Canadian loan of £2,250,000 would be received until the 29th inst. at a minimum price of 95, the bonds were quoted at 2 per cent. premium.

Still After Italian Socialists.

Rome, Oct. 24.—The Italian police officials are striving energetically to break up all socialist clubs. Many members of such clubs have been summoned for trial on various charges.

The Fund Released.

DUBLIN, Oct. 24.—The Freeman's Journal announced yesterday that the Irish party Paris fund has at last been released and is now in the hands of Mr. Justin McCarthy.

Why Don't You Use Surprise Soap?

IT does away with hard work,—dont boil or scald the clothes nor give them the usual hard rubbing. (See the directions on the wrapper).

It gives the whitest, sweetest, cleanest clothes after the wash.

It prevents wearing and tearing by harsh soaps and hard rubs. Rub lightly with Surprise Soap,—the dirt drops out. Harmless to hands and finest fabrics.

SURPRISE SOAP LASTS LONGEST GOES FARTHEST.

The cheapest Soap to Use. 181 THE ST. CROIX SOAP MF'G. CO., ST. STEPHEN, N. B.

No Carnival at Quebec.

QUEBEC, Oct. 24.—At a meeting of the carnival committee, held at the city hall yesterday, it was decided not to have a carnival this winter, in order to give Ottawa all possible chance for its carnival. The board of directors has been maintained, so as to organize a grand carnival for next year. Preparations will be started early in the spring, so as to secure an unparalleled success.

An Agreement Made.

TORONTO, Oct. 24.—At last an agreement has been made between the city and the aqueduct company, and a franchise is in sight for the capitalists at the back of the scheme. The agreement provides adequate protection for the city.

St. Louis Out on Bail.

MONTREAL, Oct. 23.—Emmanuel St. Louis, the Curran bridge contractor, was brought up before Judge Dugas yesterday, charged with defrauding the Government. He pleaded not guilty and was remanded. Bail was accepted in $10,000.

Bradford Fall Fair.

BRADFORD, Ont., Oct. 24.—The attendance at the Bradford fall fair, which opened yesterday, was better than ever before on the first day. The exhibit in the Hall is the best ever made in this place and totally eclipses all former efforts. The speeding in the ring attracted a large crowd and gave general satisfaction.

The Ahr Valley.

It is becoming the custom among European travellers to stop at Remagen on the Rhine, and make a little excursion to the beautiful Valley of the Ahr, with its picturesque villages along the vine clad slope. Here is also located the spring from which flows that world wide favorite "Apollinaris Water." At Neuenahr, in the valley, the river Ahr is very beautiful, and one can find few more quaintly attractive spots than the Upper Gate at Ahrweiler, or the old mill at Heppingen.

It takes many a wail to make a drunkard's laugh.

For Over Fifty Years

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by druggists throughout the world.

17d&wly

Dyspepsia or Indigestion is occasioned by the want of action of the biliary ducts, loss of vitality in the stomach to secrete the gastric juices without which digestion cannot go on; also, being the principal cause of headache. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills taken before going to bed, for a while, never fail to give relief and effect a cure. Mr. F. W. Ashdown, Ashdown Ont., writes: "Parmelee's Pills are taking the lead against ten other makes which I have in stock."

Don't put your secrets in the advertising columns.

Burdock Blood Bitters cures all diseases of the blood from a common Pimple to the worst Scrofulous Sores or Ulcers. Skin Diseases, Boils, Blotches and all Blood Humors cannot resist its healing powers.

Beware the strength born of carrying all the burdens.

GENTLEMEN.—I have used your Yellow Oil and have found it unequalled for burns, sprains, bruises, scalds, rheumatism, croup and colds. All who use it recommend it. Mrs Hight, Montreal.

Temptation relies more on suggestion than exposure.

When my little girl was one month old, she had a scab form on her face. It kept spreading until she was completely covered from head to foot. Then she had boils. She had forty on her head at one time, and more on her body. When six months old she did not weigh seven pounds, a pound and a half less than at birth. Then her skin started to dry up and got so bad she could not shut her eyes to sleep, but laid with them half open. About this time, at the earnest request of friends, I started using the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and in one month she was completely cured. The doctor and drug bills were over one hundred dollars, the Cuticura bill was not more than five dollars. My child is now two years old, strong, healthy and large as any child of her age (see photo.) and it is all owing to CUTICURA. Yours with a Mother's Blessing,

MRS. GEO. H. TUCKER, JR.,
335 Greenfield Avenue, Milwaukee, Wis.

Sold throughout the world. POTTER DRUG AND CHEM. CORP., sole proprietors, Boston. Mailed free, "All about the Blood, Skin, Scalp, and Hair."

Baby Blemishes, falling hair, and red, rough hands prevented and cured by Cuticura Soap.

WALL - STREET!

OPERATE SUCCESSFULLY IN WALL ST

THROUGH OUR

Co-Operative R.R. Stock Syndicate.

Large Profits Realized with Minimum Risks.

"PROSPECTUS AND DAILY MARKET LETTER" MAILED FREE.

HIGHEST REFERENCE.

WEINMAN & CO.

Stock and Grain Broker,

NO. 41 BROADWAY, NEW YORK CITY.

[d Oct. 1st, 3m eod

PETTYJOHN'S

CALIFORNIA BREAKFAST FOOD

Dyspeptics can eat this food.
It is particularly adapted for children and persons of sedentary habits.
It is made from Pacific coast wheat hulled and crushed by improved machinery.
It can be easily prepared for breakfast, as this crushing process makes it soft and tender and easy to cook
Ask your physician which is best for you to eat, oats or wheat
Pettijohn's California Breakfast Food is sold in packages by

BENMORE & BENSON.

For.. THIRTY... DAYS.....

WE will sell our entire line of

Wall Paper....

—AND—

Window Shades

AT A DOUBLE DISCOUNT 10 & 5p.c.

10 per cent. off Special, and 5 per cent. off for cash.

We positively will not be undersold at

OVERELL'S BOOK STORE.

Before putting up your STOVES have the

TRIMMINGS RE-PLATED

— AT THE —

BELLEVILLE PLATING WORKS

HARRIS & WALTON'S FACTORY: MILL ST.

-PLUMBING-

We have added to our Workmen,

MR. GEORGE JOHNSON,

Who has for the past six years been prominent on large contracts in Victoria, B. C., San Francisco, Denver, and Chicago.

— — ALSO — —

MR. EDWIN W. BISHOP,

A graduate of the New York School for Plumbing (class 92), who comes highly recommended.

With these men added to our staff, we feel sure of giving satisfactory to all in Sanitary Plumbing.

C. F. Smith & Co.

A Few Lines

For To-morrow.

Charlotte Russe (individuals, larger ones to order). Cream Rolls, Corn Muffins, Graham Gems and all kinds of pastry. Oyster Patties to order. Fresh Oysters, fine stock. Ice cream.

Although the season seems to be past we are still making and selling ice cream. Orders can be filled for any quantity and in any shape. Also served in our parlors daily.

H. C. DICKENS & SON.

For 20 Years

the formula for making Scott's Emulsion has been endorsed by physicians of the whole world. No secret about it. This is one of its strongest endorsements. But the strongest endorsement possible is in the vital strength it gives.

Scott's Emulsion

nourishes. It does more for weak Babies and Growing Children than any other kind of nourishment. It strengthens Weak Mothers and restores health to all suffering from Emaciation and General Debility.

For Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Weak Lungs, Consumption, Blood Diseases and Loss of Flesh.

Scott & Bowne, Belleville. All Druggists. 50c. & $1.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, WEDNESDAY, OCT 25.

"SMALL POTATOES."

The Toronto Star, an independent journal, says in its issue of the 22nd inst.:

Harry Corby, M.P., is a staunch Conservative and a supporter of the National Policy, a part of which doctrine is 'Canada for the Canadians.' It is therefore just a trifle strange to find him going to Michigan to purchase the furniture for a new hotel which he erected in Belleville. Cannot he secure satisfactory goods in Ontario?

The Star's statement lacks, besides other things, the essential element of truth.

Mr. Corby is only one of several gentlemen who are the proprietors of the hotel, which they jointly—not he only—erected.

Neither Mr. Corby nor his associates have purchased furniture in the States for the hotel, the contract for equipping which has been let to the London (Ont.) Furniture Company.

THE CONVENTION.

So far, the Convention of the Provincial Sunday School Association, now in session here, has proved a great success. The attendance is up to high water mark, the exercises have been inspiring, and the discussions helpful and profitable to an extent that will be seen hereafter in improved methods. That this pleasing state of affairs will continue until the end there can be no doubt.

In selecting Mr. H. P. Moore as their President, the Convention have fitly honored a most worthy member of their body, and at the same time secured an able presiding officer. Mr. Moore, who is a gentleman of highly genial personality, is a graduate of Albert College, in which he still takes a warm interest, being a member of its governing body. He has long been a Christian worker, and has well earned the distinction now bestowed upon him. We also take pride in him as a worthy member of the "fourth estate," he being the editor and proprietor of the Acton Free Press, which is the best village newspaper in Ontario, being as pure morally as it is conspicuous for its typographical beauty. We congratulate Mr. Moore on the honors which have so fitly been bestowed upon him.

TRADE IN ENGLAND.

England is feeling very keenly the general depression in trade, despite free trade, says a contemporary. During the month of August the imports of the United Kingdom decreased by $16,000,000, and the exports by $4,500,000. A striking feature of the hard times experienced for many years past is that a decline in trade is coincident with great depression in agriculture. The cause of the latter is easily seen in the low prices of breadstuffs, meat, dairy products and fruit, caused by large importations from abroad. The former is in part attributed to hostile tariffs, and more recently to the financial distress felt by the United States, Australia and the Argentine Republic, as well as in a less degree by every European nation. But these are not the only influences at work in injuring English trade. One is that John Bull has so long had control of the world's commerce that he has come to believe that he can retain his position without special exertion. John is, in fact, behind the times in his methods. English manufacturers do not sufficiently study the condition of the markets abroad, and the tastes and whims of customers. England clings to the complicated system of counting in pounds, shillings and pence, whereas the decimal system is in vogue in the United States, Canada, Mexico, and other countries.

Then the workingmen want the originality and fertility of idea that their competitors in America possess. The London Ironmonger says of this class: "The workmen on their part stick to their own old world rules and regulations, limit the number of apprentices, stint the quantity of work done daily, repress any tendency towards individualism, and blindly decline to admit that any other nation can by any possibility produce goods which will sell in the markets of the globe." All this means ruin in the end, and if Britain is to retain its place as the work-shop of the world, there will have to be a great change in the methods of her master mechanics, and her workingmen as well.

That Joyful Feeling.

With the exhilarating sense of renewed health and strength and internal cleanliness, which follows the use of Syrup of Figs, is unknown to the few who have not progressed beyond the old time medicines and the cheap substitutes sometimes offered but never accepted by the well informed.

Lane's Medicine Moves the Bowels Each Day

In order to be healthy this is necessary.

CAMPBELL'S QUININE WINE. It will tone up your system, and restore the appetite. JUST WHAT YOU NEED THIS SPRING. The best cure for Debility.

Correspondence.

Whilst correspondents will be accorded space for the expression of their ideas on topics of public interest, it must be in all cases understood that the views so expressed are simply those of the correspondents themselves.

That Curb Stone Deal.

To the Editor of the Intelligencer.

Sir,—I read with much curiosity, in last night's paper, the report of the City Council proceedings of the previous evening, hoping to find that some alderman had sufficient interest in the City's welfare to demand payment for the curbstones, which are now so generously given away to private parties, and even delivered, in some cases, at the City's expense. But it would seem that the aldermen are quite unanimous in this gross fraud upon the taxpayers of the City, as not one of them even mentioned the matter in a whisper.

The citizens who are now taking advantage of the noble spirit of generosity on the part of the aldermen, could not supply these stones from any other source for less than fifty or sixty cents per lineal foot, and while stone is so much needed for crossings, culverts, pavements, &c., I can see no excuse for this wanton waste of the City's resources.

If citizens want to beautify their premises and thus enhance the value of their property, they should do so at their own, and not at the expense of the other taxpayers of the City. But these favored ones will tell us they are adding to the attractions of the City, and that, instead of fault finding, we should all shout hurrah at their generous enterprise. Most citizens are quite anxious to make improvements, but they seldom think of passing the hat around for contributions from their neighbors, the taxpayers, and although the writer of this has had fences built, and trees planted, and did his share generally towards the improvement of the City, he has invariably done so at his own expense, and shall see that so far as the public is concerned, others shall do likewise.

The Public Works Committee should see to it that these stones are used in some legitimate way for the benefit of the people who paid for them, or, if private individuals want them for their own use and benefit, let them pay cash for them at their proper value. No Committee of the Council have any legal or moral right to give away valuable property which is owned by the whole body of taxpayers, and they should be held strictly to account for so gross a breach of trust.

TAXPAYER.

BELLEVILLE, Oct. 1894.

SPORTING NEWS

The second game of quoits between Claus and Richardson, which began yesterday afternoon, was continued until darkness set in. Claus had the lead in the first of the game, and for a time they were only two or three points apart. Then Richardson drew out till he was nine points ahead, but the plucky Indian pulled himself together and at the finish the score stood 44 to 47 in favor of the Toronto man. The game was started again this morning and Richardson pitched much the better game, winning by 61 to 50 points. The third and last game began at 10:15.

The Quoit match was concluded with—Claus 61 points, Richardson 54. Upon the conclusion of the match, a return match was proposed for $200, to come off in Toronto within two weeks—Claus to be allowed $35 for travelling expenses.

Mrs. Mountford.

Bridge St. church Thursday, Friday and Saturday. From the Montreal Witness: "From the Occident to the Orient, from frost and snow to flowers and sunshine, from the monotony of the present to the glamor of the novel and the strange, from the realism of life's struggle to the enthralling environment of Bible story—such enchanting effects were produced by Mrs. Von Finkelstein Mountford's wonderful Oriental entertainment, in the Windsor Hall, last evening. The scenes described were ever present—voice, language, gesture, dress, mise en scene, were presented with a force and truth that left nothing to be desired. It would be safe to say that no more delightful entertainment was ever given in Montreal. At the conclusion were heard on all sides the word "splendid" "charming," "beautiful," and of such expressions the entertainment was eminently worthy. Mrs. Mountford is an ideal lecturer upon her subject. Her voice and presence are very pleasing, and she is untiringly energetic in her fatiguing role of practical exposition.

Amusements.

The grandest spectacular production ever seen on the local stage will be on Friday evening when Mr. Kennedy in the Biblical play of Samson, will be produced. The Montreal press speak in the very highest terms of praise of this production, and the Belleville theatre goers should be congratulated that they have the privilege of seeing one of the greatest spectacular attractions in their own city, without having to go to Toronto or Montreal. The company is an exceedingly large one and the costumes magnificent. A carload of scenery and properties are carried, and a first-class production is guaranteed. Mr. Power gives his personal recommend that the attraction is first-class in every particular. He has had considerable difficulty in getting this company to visit Belleville, and it is to be hoped that his efforts in inducing these large companies to visit Belleville will be appreciated, and that a packed house will greet the Samson Company on Friday night. Prices 25, 50 and 75 cents.

Chancery Sittings.

In the case of Fuller vs. Ashley, judgment was given for full amount of notes, with interest and costs.

Dafoe vs. Ashley was a similar action on two promissory notes of $500 each. Judgment for plaintiff for $1080, with costs.—W. J. Diamond for pl'ff; C. E. Lyon for deft.

Roberts vs. McWilliams—Action for ejectment of deft. from lands in the 4th con. of Tyendinaga, purchased by p'ff in 1885, under a mortgage made by deft. to the late N. S. Appleby and assigned by him to the Farmers' Loan and Savings Co. Defense denied the execution of the mortgage to Appleby; denied p'ff. became owner of the land and claimed title by possession. Judgment for pl'ff with costs, allowing deft. ten days to leave the property. Mikel & Roberts for pl'ff., A. R. Dougall, Q C. deft.

Kyle vs. Kyle.—An action brought by William Kyle, of the 6th Con. of Thurlow, to set aside the deed of a farm given to his son. Plaintiff claims he signed the paper without knowledge of contents. After some evidence had been taken the judge told the parties to settle, if possible, between themselves. W. B. Northrup for p'aint ff, Clute & Williams for defendent.

Just as Good,

Perhaps; but if just as good as Putnam's, is that not a very high recommendation for the original and best corn cure? Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor. Refuse to accept any of the dangerous sore producing substitutes offered by greedy dealers who make larger profits and disregard the interests of customers. Safe, painless, certain.

THE VANAMBURG FAMILY.

They Gave a Splendid Concert to a Small House Last Evening.

The concert given by the VanAmburg family in the Queen's Opera House last night was but slimly attended. The entertainment was worthy of a large house and should they ever return to the city no doubt large numbers would be present to hear them. Every member of the family from the father and mother to Bonnie, a dot less than five years of age took part, and all did well. The proceedings opened with an overture, entitled "The Hope of Alsace," in which Mr. and Mrs. VanAmburg, Earl and Fred took part. It was beautifully executed. A song and chorus, "Nights of the Mystic Star," was rendered by the whole family, and was so well done that they were compelled to respond to an encore. A claronet solo by Fred, a lad about 7 years of age, was given in such a manner as to call forth loud applause. He plays the instrument with such ease that the highest notes do not appear to be an obstacle to him. The cornet solos by Earl were one of the chief features of the entertainment. The boy has complete control of the instrument, playing with ease and grace. He rendered "Polka Georgienne" in a manner which called forth loud applause and an encore. Mrs. VanAmburg sang three songs in fine voice and was also encored. A violin solo, "Home Sweet Home," by Mr. Van Amburg was performed with much effect. Miss Katie, a girl of about twelve years of age, sang sweetly a song entitled "When Mamma Lets me Out." The singing of Bonnie, the smallest member of the family was highly appreciated and the little one received a great ovation. For one so young she has a sweet voice and a becoming manner. Mrs. Morgan, the accompanist, rendered a piano solo with good effect. It would be difficult to particularize each selection and say which was the best, as all were given in a manner which showed that each member of the family are richly endowed with musical talent. The proceedings were brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem.

A HOCKEY ASSOCIATION FORMED.

A Large and Enthusiastic Meeting Held at the Huffman House.

A more enthusiastic lot of sports could not well be found than the forty that assembled at the Huffman House last evening to form a Hockey Association, and by the manner in which they went to work they evidently intend to have two or three first class teams on the ice the coming winter. It appeared to be the unanimous opinion that all the players of the city should be under one head, as advocated in the these columns some weeks ago, and they proceeded to elect officers, which resulted as follows:

President—D. C. Stevens.
Vice-President—A. A. Roberts.
Captain—J. G. Phippen.
Secretary—W. E. Brown.
Treasurer—J. B. Gibson.
Executive Committee—L. Lockett, H. O. Powell, E. Holton, C. Armstrong, H. Burrell, and H. Arnold.

Another meeting will be called in the near future to arrange for a rink.

All Belleville hockeyists require now is a first class rink and they can hold their own with the best in Canada. Many of the present members have been on the very best teams and we bespeak for our boys a prominent place in any league they join.

BITTEN BY A DOG.

A Young Lad Severely Hurt as the Result of His Own Carelessness.

A ten year old boy named Roy Spencer, who came up from Picton yesterday to visit his aunt, Mrs. Geo. E. Minns, Bridge St., West, was badly bitten by a large dog in Mr. Phil Harte's yard this morning. The boy said he was sitting on the fence when the dog, which he did not see, came up and seized him by the side. He screamed loudly and ran for home. On being examined, it was found that a severe tear had been made in his side, which it took five stitches to close.

Mr. Harte was seen and stated that boys had been teasing his dogs from outside the fence with whips, sticks and stones; that he had warned their parents of the probable consequences; that the boy who was bitten had been warned not to go on the fence; and that, although the dog was not his own, but only temporarily in his charge, he blamed the child and not the dog.

The little fellow admitted that his cousin had warned him, and the relatives do not, under the circumstances, attach any blame to the dog.

It is to be hoped that no serious consequences will follow to the unfortunate boy.

Poor Digestion

Leads to nervousness, fretfulness, peevishness, chronic Dyspepsia, and great misery. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the remedy; it tones the stomach, creates an appetite, and gives healthy action to all the organs of the body. Take Hood's, for Hood's Sarsaparilla cures.

HOOD'S PILLS become the favorite cathartic with every one who tries them. 25c.

GILEAD.

Mr. and Mrs. Murchison Hagerman, of Rawdon, were visiting here last week.—Miss Whitton, of Deseronto, is visiting friends.—Hornets have taken possession of our Methodist church. Several parties have been painfully reminded of their presence.—Mr. Byron Fairman and family, of Carmel, spent Sunday at Mr. C. Sheffield's.—Mr. and Mrs. Wellington Fairman, of Belleville, spent the day at Mr. J. R. Sheffield's.—Mr. R. Fairman, of Belleville, is the guest of Mr. Jas. Sheffield.—Communion service will be held in St. Andrew's church next Sunday morning.—Quarterly meeting will be held in our Methodist church one week from next Sunday morning.

CORBYVILLE.

Oct. 24th.—The scholars attending high-school had to walk home last night in consequence of the belated train, some of them having long distances to walk after the train would arrive, thus making it very late when they reached home.—Mr. Dean's foreman, Mr. Elliot of Toronto, arrived the first of this week with the first lot of cattle for the sheds. This is the second year of Mr. Elliots foremanship here, he having crossed the ocean, with the cattle, the preceding year.—Mr Sam and Allie Palmer have arrived from Rochester; they will be among the party of twenty-fifth to go on the annual hunting expedition with Mr. R Palmer.—Mr. and Mrs. Drew have been visiting at Mr. Jas. Brenton's for the past few days.—Miss Frankie Thompson of Belleville has been spending a few days days with Miss. Fairman.—Mr. W. Palmer has been laid up for a week past with a lame back.—The Corbyville mills and distillery have resumed operation again.

Schiffmann's Asthma Cure

Instantly relieves the most violent attacks facilitates free expectoration and insured rest to those otherwise unable to sleep except in a chair, as a single trial will prove. Send for a free trial package to Dr. R. Schiffmann's, St. Paul, Minn., but ask your druggist first.

Holmes and His Poems.

To know which of Dr. Holmes' own poems are his favorites, will be interesting to many, as told in his own language: "In my own opinion, 'The Chambered Nautilus' is my most finished piece of work, and I think it is my favorite. But there are also 'The Voiceless,' 'My Aviary,' written at my window there; 'The Battle of Bunker Hill,' and 'Dorothy Q.,' written to the portrait of my great-grandmother, which you see on the wall there. All those I have a liking for, and when I speak of the poems I like best there are two others that ought to be included—'The Silent Melody,' and 'The Last Leaf.' I think these are among my best.

"What is the history of 'The Chambered Nautilus?' It has none—it wrote itself. So, too, did 'The One Hoss Shay.' That was one of those random conceptions that gallop through the brain, and that you catch by the bridle. I caught it and reined it. All my poems are written while I am in a sort of spasmodic mental condition that almost takes me out of my own self, and I write only when under such influence. It is for this reason, I think, that I can never remember a poem a short time after it is written any more than the subject of double consciousness can recall the ideas of his other state."—Book Buyer for June.

For the Curious.

Glass coffins are used in Russia.

Sense of touch is dullest on the back.

Ostrich farms return handsome profits.

Sugar as a food produces fat and muscle.

The metal gallium is worth $3,000 an ounce.

White huckleberries grow in Connecticut.

Russian railways have ladies' smoking cars.

Japanese children are taught to write with both hands.

A machine has been invented to count dust particles in the air.

In France the bicycle is ridden by more women than men.

Steamboating is becoming quite an industry on African rivers.

It is estimated that 115,000,000 people speak the English language.

Electric shocks are used to overcome the effects of alcoholic drinks.

The Rival Hairdressers.

One of the two, by way of advertising himself, cuts his hair in the most faultless manner, according to the latest fashion plate; the other, on the contrary, cuts his in the most clumsy way imaginable. The first customer who entered his shop did not fail to take him to task about it. "How in the world, being yourself a barber, do you have your hair so badly cut?"

"Why, sir, the reason is simple enough. I cannot possibly cut my hair myself, but am obliged to have recourse to my colleague over the way, and he is such a duffer!"

"And I suppose you cut his in turn?"

"Of course. And you can judge for yourself whether he oughtn't to be satisfied."—Il Carlino.

Domestic Retrenchment.

Father (at tea)—We must retrench in every way, my dear; and you, too, Laura, must do your part.

"Yes, papa."

Father (next morning)—Had you company last night, Laura?

"Yes, papa; Mr. Billcoe was here."

"Seems to me you had very little light in the parlor."

"Yes, papa; I remembered what you said about retrenching."—Brooklyn Life.

Blessings of One of the Elements.

Teacher—You may tell us, Tommy, some of the ways in which the element of fire confers a benefit on the human race.

Tommy (who knows something of his father's business methods)—When the amount of the insurance exceeds the value of the stock on hand,—Chicago Record.

Only One Instance.

Miss Pinkerly—You must have a delightfully happy disposition, Mr. Jagway.

Jagway—Why?

Miss Pinkerly—Mr. Cleverton told me that the other night was the first time he had ever seen you really sober.

The Task Too Great.

"I am strong in my love for you," the youth protested. But when she bade him open the window in the first-class railway coach in which they were journeying he fled in despair.—Detroit Tribune.

He Might Well Sigh.

"Am I the first girl you ever kissed?" she asked, as she re-arranged her rumpled collar.

"You are," he replied, with emphasis. Then he asked:

"Were you ever kissed by a man before?"

"Never," she replied.

The messenger who flew up to heaven's chancery with the foregoing dialogue giggled as he gave it in, but the recording angel, when he looked it over, shook his head and sighed.—New York Press.

SIDNEY CROSSING.

Oct., 24th.—A goodly number from this section attended the anniversary service held in Wesley church, Bayside, on Sabbath. Prof. Dyer, D. D., of Belleville, delivered an exceedingly clever and effective exhoration from the pulpit in the evening, which was listened to with marked attention by an interested crowd of hearers. The interior of the church has been entirely remodelled and now presents a tasty and handsome appearance.—Mr. James Davis, tax collector, made his annual tour through here last week.—A new lodger,—a bright, little baby girl,—put in its appearance at Mr. James Hogle's last week.—Miss Jennie Wright, who was a delegate to the C. E. Convention, at Kingston, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Emory Finkle, on her return trip.—A number of upsets have occurred here lately, but fortunately no serious damage was done.—Rev. Michael Faucett, who has been visiting here since Thursday, preached one of his inspiring sermons on the parable of the sower from this pulpit on Sabbath. He 's remarkably active for one so advanced in years and is the proud possessor of a thorough education, the result of many years of wide experience.—Mrs. Jos. Jackson, of Thurlow, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Hadrel.—Mr. W. W. Kelly, Mrs. Stanley Vanderwaters, Mrs. Angus Lawrence, and Miss Minnie Fletcher, left on Tuesday to attend the Sabbath School Convention.—Rev. Mr. Faucett was the guest of Mr. W. R. Vandervoort during his short stay in this vicinity.—Mr. Marsh Vandervoort captured ten brace of black squirrels and several partridge while out on a hunting expedition last week.—Master Percy Vandervoort, a new beginner, is making rapid strides towards being an expert cyclist. He made the distance of six miles from here to Belleville in 28 minutes on his wheel. Perc is a hustler.—Mr. Oliver Lawrence and family were visiting in Murray over Sunday.

Cheese Markets

UTICA, Oct. 22.—Cheese—Large white, 6 lots, 581 boxes, $9\frac{3}{4}$c; do., 2 lots, 105 boxes, $9\frac{7}{8}$c; do., 1 lot, 117 boxes, 10c; large colored, 17 lots, 919 boxes, $9\frac{3}{4}$c; do, 35 lots, 2,123 boxes, $9\frac{3}{4}$c; do. 4 lots, 370 boxes, $9\frac{7}{8}$c; do., 12 lots, 1,255 boxes, 10c; small white, 8 lots, 518 boxes, 10c; skims, 2 lots, 181 boxes, $9\frac{1}{4}$c; do, 3 lots, 227 boxes, $9\frac{1}{2}$c; do., 2 lots, 164 boxes, 9c; small colored, 21 lots, 1,739 boxes, 10c; do., 4 lots, 390 boxes, $10\frac{1}{8}$c; commission, 3,160 boxes. Total, 3,847 boxes. Butter—Creamery, 10 packages at $23\frac{1}{2}$c, 13 packages at 23c, 10 packages at $23\frac{3}{4}$c, 117 packages at $24\frac{1}{2}$c.

Montreal Markets

MONTREAL, Oct. 22.—Flour—Receipts, 6 200 bbls.; market quiet and unchanged; patent winter, $3 20 to $3 40; do. spring, $3 20 to $3 40; straight roller, $2 70 to $2 85; extra, $2 40 to $2 50; superfine, $2 25 to $2 35; strong bakers, $3 20 to $3 30; Ontario bags, $1 20 to $1 30 Grain—Wheat—No 1 Manitoba hard, 60c to 62c; corn, 66c to 68c; peas, 66 to 67c; oats, 34 to 35c; barley, 50c to 58c; rye, 50c to 52c; oatmeal, $1 90 to $2; cornmeal, $1 40 to $1 50; provisions, Pork, $19 to $20; lard, 8 to 10c; bacon, 11c to 13c; hams, 11c to 12; cheese, 10c to 11c; butter, Townships, 15c to 18c; Western, 14c to 16c; eggs, 13c to 14c.

LIVE STOCK.

There were about 450 head of butchers' cattle, 100 calves, and 600 sheep and lambs offered at the East-end abattoir to day. Trade was unusually dull, with the probability of a considerable number of cattle remaining unsold. Really good beeves were not plentiful, and some of the best were held at $3\frac{3}{4}$c per pound, but $2\frac{3}{4}$c per pound was about the highest figure paid up to eleven o'clock. Pretty good cattle sold at from 3 to $3\frac{3}{8}$c per pound; common dry cows and rough and old fatted steers about $2\frac{1}{2}$c per pound; and old lean cows at about 2c per pound.

Lambs and sheep—Shippers are paying from $3\frac{1}{2}$c to $3\frac{1}{2}$c per pound for good large sheep. Good lambs bring from $3\frac{1}{2}$c to $3\frac{3}{4}$c per pound, and common lambs $2\frac{1}{2}$c to 3c per pound.

Hogs—Fat hogs are still plentiful, and prices are low. A lot of hogs just come off the cars were sold yesterday (Sunday) at 5c per pound. The highest price paid for feed hogs to day was $4 90 per 100 lbs., but it is probable that a good many could be bought for less than $4 75 per 100 lbs.

A Graduate of Toronto University says:

"My children have been treated with Scott's Emulsion from their earliest years! Our physician first recommended it and now whenever a child takes cold my wife immediately resorts to this remedy, which always effects a cure."

SPECIAL MENTION

Catarrh—Use Nasal Balm. Quick, positive cure. Soothing, cleansing, healing.

THAT HACKING COUGH can be quickly cured by Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam. Price 25c.

THEY MAKE ONE FEEL as though life was worth living. Take one of Carter's Little Liver Pills after eating; it will relieve dyspepsia, aid digestion, give tone and vigor to the system.

MORE CASES OF SICK HEADACHE, biliousness, constipation, can be cured in less time, with less medicine, and for less money, by using Carter's Little Liver Pills, than by any other means.

IF YOU ARE NERVOUS OR DYSPEPTIC try Carter's Little Nerve Pills. Dyspepsia makes you nervous, and nervousness makes you dyspeptic; either one renders you miserable, and these little pills cure both.

"BURNS AND SCALDS."—If you are so unfortunate as to injure yourself in this way, we can suggest a remedy that will (we speak from experience) soon relieve you of all pain and quickly heal the wound; it costs but twenty five cents for the New Big bottle and is sold by all Druggists—ask for PERRY DAVIS' PAIN-KILLER.

Dr. S. C. Webb, Liberty, Miss., says: "I have been using Ayer's Pills for over twenty five years, and recommend them in cases of chronic diarrhœa, knowing their efficiency from personal experience, they having cured when every other medicine failed."

No one need fear cholera or any summer complaint if they have a bottle of Dr. J. D Kellog's Dysentery Cordial ready for use. It corrects all looseness of the bowels promptly and causes a healthy and natural action. This is a medicine adapted for the young and old, rich and poor, and is rapidly becoming the most popular medicine for cholera, dysentery, etc., in the market.

New Advertisements.

TO LET.

TO LET 2 snug, warm brick houses in terrace, situated on Harriett St., West Belleville, known as Morten's, or Filliter's terrace. For terms of rent apply to R. C. Filliter, collector, or sub agent to the estate of the late H E Filliter. Residence at Mr. Jardin's Corner of William and Dundas Sts., East Belleville. 85d2m

TAKE NOTICE

Of the "Old Home" grocery store and drop in and see us. It gives us pleasure to show you our new stock of groceries and quote prices whether you are a purchaser or not. We are making a special run in flour this month. We can also supply you with all kinds of feed. Of our choice blends of TEA we can only say "see it and you'll appreciate its merits, use it and you'll sing its praises."

J. A. ELLIOTT. Front St., Belleville.

ORDER

From us the following:

WALLNUT PASTRY,
ECCLES PASTRY,
HONNY TARTS,
BOSTON CHIPS,
CREAM TARTS,
BAMBURRY TARTS,
CHEESE CAKE,
PRESIDENT.

The above with a full assortment of Cakes, comprise a partial list for to-day.

Your orders will have prompt attention Telephone 172.

Jas. Wallace & Co.

Don't forget to see our windows of ornamented goods

THIS MATTER CHANGED DAILY.

WEDNESDAY, Oct. 23rd.

BARGAINS.

People do like a good bargain, and we like to have them too. Here are a few :--

Jacket Cloths, $1.00.
New Jackets, $5.00.
Dress Goods, 50c. worth 75c.
Dress Goods, 25c. worth 40c.

In Millinery we are very busy, and please remember this department.

W. FLINT JONES.

Next door to Haines & Lockett.

NIGHT SCHOOL .... MECHANICS' INSTITUTE, Corner Front and Hotel Sts., will commence THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 1st, 1894.

The Advantages are :--

The Business Course, Shorthand and Type-writing Course, Instruction in Penmanship.

For four months, two evenings each week, from 7 to 9 o'clock, and six months' membership in the Institute

FEE FOR ALL IS .... $3.00.

Books, Stationery, Etc., for the Business Course, cost $3.00.

Apply to W. J. OSBORNE, of ONTARIO BUSINESS COLLEGE

NIGHT .. SCHOOL Opens at BELLEVILLE BUSINESS COLLEGE ON Tuesday Evening, Nov. 1st, 1894 AT 7:15.

BELLEVILLE BUSINESS ... COLLEGE, ROBERT BOGLE, Proprietor,

BOARD.

LARGE Double Room, suitable for sitting room and bed room, furnished or unfurnished, with board. Apply at this office. 144d3t

FULL WEEK AT ... BRIDGE ST. METHODIST CHURCH.

Wednesday Evening, 8 p.m.
Ideal in Practice, Miss Bertha F. Vella, Addresses by Rev. G. M. Smart, M A; D.D., LL.D., and Mr. B. F. Jacobs Chicago.

Thursday Evening, 8 p.m.
Mrs Lydia M. Mountford "Home and Haunts of Jesus."

Friday Evening, 8 p.m.
Mrs. Lydia M. Mountford, "Life in Jerusalem,"

Saturday Evening, 8 p.m.
Mrs. Lydia M. Mountford, "From Bethlehem to Calvary."

Collection Tuesday and Wednesday evening Tickets 25 cents for Oriental lectures, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

SEE SMALL BILLS.

MONTHLY DIVIDENDS!!

Syndicate Trading

$10 00 UPWARDS,

40 Per Cent. Profit in September, 1894

Stock Exchange Risks less than Trade Risks. Stock Exchange Profits Greater than any Trade Profits.

Syndicate Trading is conducted with smallest individual risk while the greatest possible profits are earned for each investor. Syndicate Trading is a LEGITIMATE road to wealth. A small sum quickly becomes a yearly income.

Anyone can Share Our Profits!!

Send $10 00 or upwards in registered letter, by post or money order or New York draft, payable to New York Trading Co., or A W. Pearse, Manager.

All money at your credit can be withdrawn first of month when accounts are rendered. The elections will make active markets This is a grand opportunity to make money. Details mailed free References furnished. Representatives wanted

New York Trading Company, 17 & 19 Broadway, New York City.

Bibles 20 Per Cent. Discount.

S. S CONVENTION OCTOBER 23RD, 24TH, 25TH.

Bibles 20 Per Cent Discount.

During the Sunday School Convention, Oct. 23rd, 24th and 25th, we will offer every Bible in our stock at a Discount of 20 Per Cent. off our already low prices There is not a finer stock of Bibles in any retail book store in Canada, and our prices have been such as to induce several orders from distant points from people who have heard from us and our low prices through some source or another.

This is an opportunity that has never been offered, and as the discount will positively be allowed for three days only we should not miss it, The following prices will give you an idea of what the discount will do for you :—

50c. Bibles for 40c,
$1.00 Bibles for 80c.
$2.00 Bibles for $1.60
$3.00 Bibles for $2.40
$4.00 Bibles for $3.20
$5.00 Bibles for $4.00
$10.00 Bibles for $8.00,
12.00 Bibles for 9.60,
15.00 Bibles for 12.00.

Bibles 20 Per Cent. Discount.

C. B. Scantlebury.

Bibles 20 Per Cent. Discount.

24TH - - - - - YEAR.

S. A. HYMAN, Manufacturing Furrier.

Special Prices in Ladies' Fur Capes.

Grey Lamb Capes, 18 inches long,	..	$15 00
" " " 24 "	..	18 00
Greenland Seal Capes, 24 inches long,	..	12.00
Empire Capes, 26 inches long,	..	18.00
" " 27 " Garrick Collars,	..	22 00
Military " 27 " with vest	..	22 00

See my Window for Styles.

S. A. HYMAN, OLD FURS MADE OVER IN THE LATEST STYLES.

$1.00

To $5 00 saved on all Dinner Sets bought here. Look to quality always. Pattern may please the eye, but if not fired right, will soon look worn and you're disappointed.

TO MAKE

A living by Crockery alone we must sell better goods at lower prices than the small general storekeeper. Our knowledge, the assortment, the superior styles is what keeps this big establishment to the front, and if the trade comes here, it's because it pays to do so. The new importations will begin to arrive first week next month—then look out.

W. J. REID & CO'Y.

CRYSTAL HALL. Rous' Old Stand.

London and Belleville.

LISTEN FRIENDS!!

We SAY because we KNOW!

Our COAL! This Season is unexcelled for quality because the Bill of Lading bears the Brand of the Delaware & Hudson Canal Company.

Cut this out and test this "Ad" when the Winter Winds whistle.

THE RATHBUN COMPANY.

GLASGOW WAREHOUSE.

We are now showing the following novelties in

DRESS GOODS;

Watered silks, all prices, in black, white, cream, pink, pale blue, navy, myrtle, brown, fawn, etc
Black and colored satins
Black satin merv.
Black pau de sire dress silks,
Black co-operative dress silks.
Black and colored velvets.
Black and colored velveteens.
Beautiful silks for blouses.
Beautiful silks for drapings
Black and grey curl trimmings,
Black and colored beaver trimmings.
Black and cream silk laces.
Black and colored button kid gloves,
Black and colored laced kid gloves
Special lines in ribbons.
Ladies' and Misses' underwear,
Ladies' and Misses' corsets.
Spot muslins and valenciennes laces for evening wear.
Light shades in henriettas and crepons, with sequence trimmings to match
Priestly & Sons' dress goods, large variety.

Dress and Mantle making and Tailoring done on the premises.

Carpets and House Furnishings in great Variety.

VANDERVOORT & GIBSON,

Successors to the late J. W. Dunnet.

Belleville, Oct, 34, 1894.

COUPON
—FOR—
PART 9.
Canada Portfolio of Art.

A Coupon appears in all issues of this paper.

Cut out this coupon and forward, together with 10 cents, to the Art Department of this paper, and you will receive one part of Canada, as mentioned above, by mail post-paid, or bring the coupon and 10 cents to this office and receive Portfolio.

NAME.......................................

ADDRESS...................................

N. B.—Remember, only one Coupon required for each part.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE. WEDNESDAY, OCT. 25

Our sale of goods damaged by smoke and water, will commence on Friday morning at nine o'clock. Look for bargains.—A. E. FISH & CO. 147d2t

CITY AND DISTRICT.

There is a difference in the way
A modern maiden's heart will soften:
To this young man "come off" she'll say;
While to that one it is "come often"

Nomination for the Northwest elections take place to-day.

John Connors, of Bloomfield, drunk, was let go this morning.

Quite a number of local sports attended the races at Foxboro this afternoon.

The doctor's report the condition of Phil Acton's child as somewhat improved.

Fish's sale of damaged goods commences on Friday morning at 9 o'clock. 147d2t

Geo. Tyner will be tried at the sessions in December. Mr. C. E. Lyons will defend him.

Work on the granolithic pavement is being pushed along rapidly and will soon be completed.

Strangers in the city will find great bargains in Haines & Lockett's fire sale of Boots and Shoes.

Justice Rose is hustling through the Chancery docket and it will likely be completed this evening.

Keep your blood pure and healthy and you will not have rheumatism. Hood's Sarsaparilla gives the blood vitality and richness.

Chauncey Ashley, issuer of marriage licenses, Division Court Office, Pinnacle street or at residence over Benmore & Benson's store. d&w

The police were notified last night about ten o'clock that a crazy man was wandering about South John st., but he could not be found when the Chief went down.

There has been a complete change of passenger conductors on the G.T.R. between Toronto and Montreal. The old hands on this end have been sent west.

A meeting of the Y.M.C.A. Hockey Club is called for on Thursday evening at 7:30. A full attendance is requested as important matters are to be discussed. 147d2t

We know whereof we affirm when we state that Ayer's Pills, taken promptly, at the first symptoms of colds and fevers, arrest further progress of these disorders, and speedily restore the stomach, liver, and bowels, to their normal and regular action.

A ploughing match, under the auspices of the Seymour Ploughman's Association, is to be held on the farm of Wm. Cleugh, lot 25 in the 8th concession of Seymour, on Tuesday, the 30th inst. Prizes are offered for first, second, third and fourth class men.

Crossley and Hunter concluded their services in Pembroke on Sunday. They were most successful, some seven hundred having signified a desire to live holier lives. Monday morning the evangelists left for Albany, N. Y. They were given ovations at all the stations from Pembrook to Smith's Falls.

PROBABILITIES.

TORONTO, Oct. 24.—Mostly fair; little change in temperature; a few local showers, with moderate winds; fine to morrow.

$1 Full Cloth Pants.

The Oak Hall have them, and in abundance. Do not think because the price is low that the material is not good. They are made of solid wool and are good and heavy. And remember this fact "That the Oak Hall always have what they advertise." Do not judge us by some business houses who are always just "sold out."

Cold in the head—Nasal Balm gives instant relief; speedily cures. Never fails.

ONTARIO S. S. ASSOCIATION

THE DELIBERATIONS PROGRESSING MOST FAVORABLY.

Mr. H. P. Moore, of Acton, the New President—Stirring Addresses by Rev. Wm. Patterson, John Chartlton, M. P., Rev. A. C. Courtice and Miss Vella, of Massachusetts—Receiving of Reports and Routine Business.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON SESSION.

The afternoon session was opened at 2:30. Mr. R. Score, the retiring president, took the chair and expressed his pleasure at seeing so many present at the commencement. Rev. E. N. Baker, B D. conducted the devotional exercises. He read the Acts, II chap. The hymn, "All Hail the power of Jesus' name" was sung He led the Convention in prayer.

"I will sing of my Redeemer" was sung. The chairman named a Nominating Committee. The following are some of the names of the members, Messrs. G. Anderson, W. H. Gordon, Rev. J. Bennett, R. J. Graham, G. M. Elliott, Rev. J. Smith, H. P. Moore, who retired to prepare the list of officers. Calls were made for reports from districts, but as a great number of the chairmen were absent only a few districts were reported. Dufferin County reported $330 and paid with the funds of the Association. Peel and Halton counties reported favorably respecting annual work. Dundas county was reported as being in active operation and expressed the intention of organizing the townships.

In Prescott county the international lessons are used in every school. Last year 46 children joined their respective churches.

Grenville county presented a good report, so did North Hastings, which has several Normal Institutes. Finances are raised by assessment.

East Durham was reported through Mr. R. W. Clarke, comprises three townships and one town, all of which are organized. They are endeavoring to collect two cents per member.

Rev. W. J. Crothers spoke well for Port Hope. They are training teachers.

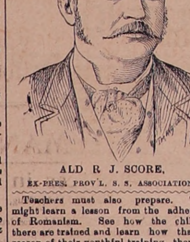

The above are specimens of what is doing in various counties.

Rev. W. Patterson from Toronto delivered a thrilling address on "The Forces of the xx Century."

The session opened with devotional exercises.

Rev. W. Patterson, Cooke's church, addressed the Convention on "The Forces of the xx Century." Mr. Patterson deliver a most thrilling address during which he was greatly cheered. He argued that those forces would be mental and not physical. In doing so he made reference to physical forces as being greatly in demand in past ages. Goliath went against David. Strong powerful men fought with beasts in the amphitheatres, but mental strength was far more to be desired than physical inasmuch as the former can utilize the latter in a variety of ways. Men might suppose that they could stop the falls of Niagara, but men of mental strength utilize the force of those falls by using the power to drive the machinery of street cars, etc. The boys and girls in our Sunday Schools will be the men and women of the 20th century. Judges and professional men of the present day will then be dead and boys who are now growing up around us will be their successors. He therefore thought that the Sunday School teachers should feel inspired with the thought that they are now training those who will be at the helm of affairs in the coming time.

Teachers' work was preventative as well as preparatory. Men fall into the rivers and lakes and are devoured, in many instances they do so of their own accord. They have not been trained aright. Boys and girls who are now being trained in our Sunday Schools are taught to imbibe better principles and will not commit such foolish acts.

ALD R J. SCORE,
EX-PRES. PROV'L. S. S. ASSOCIATION

Teachers must also prepare. They might learn a lesson from the adherents of Romanism. See how the children there are trained and learn how that by reason of their youthful training they adhere to what they were taught. The speaker remembered his own early training relative to the singing of hymns and the use of organs in churches. All persons who were trained as he was experience great difficulty in bringing themselves to adopt modern practices now so common in churches.

The work of a Sunday School Teacher may not be appreciated, but the time is coming when it will be. John Brown's body was laid in the tomb, but his soul is still marching on, his principles of freedom are nobly advancing. Patriots have bled for their country, but the principle civil liberty for which they died are now in the ascendency. The same is true of the Reformers. John Knox wanted a school in connection with every church. S.S. scholars are carrying out his order. There are many encouragements which should inspire us. See how the Hebrews acted in Babylon. If our children are Babylon trained they will be equally steadfast.

Think of the dangers surrounding our children and young people. The devil sows tares. There are the poisonous tares of literature, theatre, etc. There are those who talk of the brotherhood of man. Cain slew his brother, but the good Samaritan nursed and fed the suffering one and this is the brotherhood which we must prefer.

"Sowing the Seed," was sung.

The Report of the nominating Committee was presented. The Committee recommended the following as the officers for the current year.

President, Mr. H. P. Moore, Acton.

Vice-Presidents, all former Presidents and President of County Association.

Minute Secretaries, Rev. J. Tibb and Dr. Tilley.

Business Committee, D Harrison, Convener. Besides, Rev. John Ewen and Mr. Alfred Day, permanent Secretaries, there were some 20 others—ladies and gentlemen thus appointed.

After singing the doxology, the benediction was pronounced by the Rev E. Roberts and the session adjourned.

EVENING SESSION.

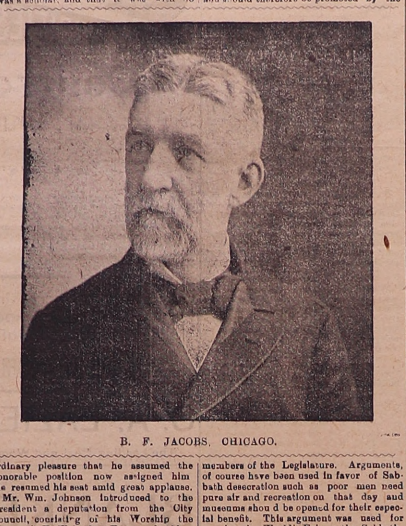

A Service of Song was held from 7:45 to 8 o'clock. The church was crowded to its utmost. The singing was greatly appreciated, especially the Solo by Mr. Blight, entitled the "Life Line."

Rev. Mr. George led in prayer, and the audience joined in repeating the Lord's prayer.

"There is life for a look," was sung.

The President elect was introduced to the Convention by the retiring President, who congratulated him on his appointment and expressed his wish that he might have a year of unbounded prosperity. He assured him that though he, Mr. S., was retiring from the chair of the Association he would not retire from the Sunday School. His heart was in the work and he trusted it would ever be so until he was called upon to come up higher.

President Moore received quite an ovation on taking the chair. He thanked those who had elected him, though he assured them that the honor had come upon him both unsought and unexpected. He regarded the honor, however, not so much a personal honor as an honor to his county—Halton, which has so long been prominent in Sunday School work. The honor could not come to him at any place which he more highly esteemed than Belleville, because here he was born and in the Sunday School taught in this very church he was a scholar, and that it was with no ordinary pleasure that he assumed the honorable position now assigned him. He resumed his seat amid great applause.

B. F. JACOBS, CHICAGO.

Mr. Wm. Johnson introduced to the President a deputation from the City Council, consisting of his Worship the Mayor, J. E. Walmsley, Esq., and Aldermen Diamond, Ponton, Harte, Marshall, Petty, Foster, Clarke, Lindenberger, Luscombe and Shevlin, and City Clerk Robertson, all of whom belonged to the various churches of the city, including the Roman Catholic and all were more or less identified with the Sabbath School in their various churches. His Worship the Mayor, for many years has been Secretary of the Tabernacle Sunday School.

The Mayor read the following address on behalf of the corporation:

To the President and Members of the Provincial Sunday School Association of Ontario:

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN,—We desire, on behalf of the city of Belleville, to bid you a cordial welcome upon the auspicious occasion of your united meeting in our midst. With pardonable pride and sincere pleasure we greet you as you gather from the north, the east, the south, and the west, each animated with the same enthusiasm, each inspired with the same worthy object, which we conceive to be the building up of the character of our young Canadian citizens; the establishing of their standards of right; the amelioration of their moral status, and the enlightening and expanding of the mental and moral horizon of those who in a few years will take up the burdens and assume the responsibilities of citizenship in Canada.

As municipal public men we do not fail to recognize the good and efficient work of Sunday schools in their practical and progressive results of moulding public opinion, of educating as well as spiritually influencing, of creating a law-abiding, right respecting class in the season of national unrest; of upholding the due observance of the Lord's day according to law, and of maintaining the christian religion, upon the basis of which as a christian community our constitution and civilization are founded.

It is with exceeding satisfaction that all must note this union of the churches in hearty co-operation sowing good seed and reaping rich harvests together—workers on systematic and non-sectarian lines, teachers of children and adults, and teachers of teachers, all devoted in the living, active present, and in the best practical way, to lead forward in whatsoever is true, honest and of good report, guiding those whose minds in youth are "wax to receive and marble to retain."

We trust that your labors of love now happily begun may close in all harmony and with the satisfying assurance that your gathering has been productive of much good along the lines of that "righteousness which exalteth a nation," and that more ears may be opened and more hearts respond to the "cry of the children," up on whose proper bringing up and development the future destiny of Canada so largely depends.

Trusting that your visit to Belleville, whose citizens "are given to hospitality," may be counted among your pleasures of memory, and that you may soon again and often collectively and individually honor and grace our city with your presence, we again assure you of continued welcome and Godspeed.

Signed on behalf of the Corporation of the City of Belleville,

J. E. WALMSLEY,
Mayor.

Belleville, Oct. 23rd, 1894.

The Ex-President, M. Score, replied on behalf of the Convention. He assured his Worship and the Alderman that they were all glad to welcome them to the platform and rejoiced to behold such a manifestation of true christian catholicity as the deputation presented. He, Mr. Score, had long been connected with Sunday Schools, and he was proud to inform the Mayor that in the Queen's City, where he resided, (Toronto) they also had a Mayor who was an old Sabbath School man, and for many years was Superintendent. Several of the Councilmen were also connected in various ways with such schools. He knew what he was saying when he testified that these schools promote good citizenship.

A sacred song was sung, after which John Charlton, M.P., was introduced, and spoke on "Sabbath observance and how it can be best promoted." Mr. Charlton was most cordially greeted. He began by stating that he greatly preferred the word Sabbath to Sunday, as the latter was a heathen name and reminded us of the worship of the sun. The Sabbath was so called by the Almighty himself as the day when he rested from all his labors, so that we have God's example and the ten commandments as our authority for regarding this rest day as sacred and of divine authority. As to the best means of promoting its observance, christians should realize the sanctity of the sacred day. Whatever they might think the observance tended to maintain christianity. Voltaire stated that so long as one day out of seven was observed as the Sabbath christianity would never be driven out of the world,

And then the sanctity must be taught. The mother must begin at the cradle and the minister must teach it from the pulpit. Sabbath school teachers should be so thoroughly conversant with all the phases of this subject that they might teach them diligently to their children. They learned the origin from Genesis 2nd and 3rd chapters. They need not depend upon the Old Testament. The New Testament teaches how Christ acted on the 7th day. The passages in the New Testament such as Acts 20—7; 1st Cor. 16—2; Rev. 1—10, give them the teachings of the Apostles, from which they learned how the seventh day observance was changed to the first in honor of the Saviour's resurrection. Other passages also teach how that the change was made by the authority of the Holy Ghost.

The Sabbath was also a civil right and a mental and physical blessing. Many reasons would be given for its observance. The Sabbath tends to promote good morals and social purity. Favors higher education, enlightens the conscience and promotes liberty, maintains good homes prevents crime and promotes temperance promotes security of property and the welfare of the state.

Sunday rest is beneficial to law-makers and should therefore be promoted by the members of the Legislature. Arguments, of course have been used in favor of Sabbath desecration such as poor men need pure air and recreation on that day and museums should be opened for their especial benefit. This argument was used for opening the World's Fair on the Sabbath, but what of the thousands that are compelled to work that such places may be kept open. In conclusion Mr. Charlton strongly urged all members of the Convention to use their influence with their members of Parliament to uphold all legislation which form Sabbath observance.

After a song, the Rev. A. C. Courtice, B.D., was cordially received and delivered and eloquent oration on the Gospels: "A four-fold and authentic photograph of the world's Savior." We regret our inability to give this address verbatim. It was one of the most profound kind and yet was presented so clearly and forcibly that the vast audience listened with uninterrupted attention to the end. Such an address is not often presented to a mixed audience, and we feel assured that the hundreds of Sunday School teachers present would feel that they had even a more important book to study than many of them supposed. The living, spiritual Christ was the more dear to them from the fact that they had four historical books, and the first Epistles of Paul, which have never been disputed, may be regarded as a fifth Gospel. He exhorted his hearers especially to embrace the life offered them in Christ.

The collection was taken, the doxology sung and the benediction pronounced, and the vast audience dispersed soon after ten o'clock.

WEDNESDAY MORNING SESSION.

After Devotional exercises, the General Secretary, Mr. A. Day, read his annual report, which was a most lengthy document and occupied about half an hour in reading. It was full of valuable information and made appropriate reference to some who have passed away who were active in Association work at former Conventions, as Hon. Billa Flint, Chancellor Nelles, Dr. O'Meara and others.

Passing reference was made to the work of the other secretaries which was of great importance in their respective departments. Mr. Day has attended 83 conventions and travelled 9,000 miles. He found great lack of interest among some christians respecting Sunday School work. During the year 35 new Associations had been formed, including towns and townships. Some friends had given gratuitous services which was greatly appreciated. It had been almost impossible to obtain correct statistics owing to the apathy of county and township secretaries. He was glad to know that the spiritual results had been ample compensation for the labor expended. There were 20,828 scholars who are known to be members of churches and of these more than 4,000 are known to have joined during the past year.

In view of the Secretary's report the Executive recommended the formation of Ward Associations in cities similar to Township Associations in the county also a better method of collecting statistics.

Rev. J. McEwen, Normal Secretary, presented his report viva voce. He commenced his labors in January last and for two months was associated with the General Secretary in Convention work east and west of Toronto. Next he visited several counties purely for normal class work. He was emphatic in urging that attention should be paid to the northwest counties which he would call New Ontario, where there must be a good deal of gratuitous work given, which he felt assured would be fruitful of good.

Dr. Barrass confirmed Mr. McEwen's views of Algoma District as deserving special attention.

The Executive Committee, having considered Mr. McKwen's report, recommend institute work and yearly examinations. There should be five examiners to prepare questions, also institutes in every township. Home course of study on the Life of Christ was especially recommended.

The session then adjourned, and eight district conferences, in as many departments, were held in various churches.

That on Primary Teaching was held in the Lecture room of Bridge St., was numerously attended, and was presided over by Miss Kennedy, of Peterborough. The presence of Miss Vella, from Massachusetts, doubtless was an inducement for many to attend. She is an eminently well qualified lady, who for upwards of an hour kept the attention of her audience, as she explained "The Church Garden, (a) the buried seed, (b) growing plants, (c) care in pruning, (d) buds and blossoms, (e) ripened fruit. These several points were well explained with numerous illustrations, and the lady urged the teachers to seek for fruit, and gave many striking illustrations of fruit [illegible].

We could not obtain reports from all the conferences. In that which related to Superintendents, Mr. A. Donley spoke at length on the Home department of the Sabbath School, a portion of which we here give.

Mr. A. J. Donley, of Simcoe, is an old Sunday School worker. He said that all his efforts hitherto had been put forth to induce the workers of his county to make a start in this division of the Forward Movement.

As to the nature and scope of this department of S. S. work, one writer calls it that branch which systematizes and develops the weekly study of the lesson at home by those who are unable to attend the Sunday School.

Who are they? Those not able to attend because of long distance or their occupations for ill in health. Domestic servants, mothers with young children, nurses doctors, druggists, telegraph operators, and telephone employes, commercial travellers, etc.

Home classes may be composed of a few persons who meet once a week, in groups under the directions of one or more visitors who shall systematically furnish lesson helps and other requisites and assist them by visitation or correspondence.

These classes have the same relation to the Sunday School as the Primary and other departments. The Home classes may be enrolled as members, and have all the rights and privileges of the Sunday School. They must study at least half an hour each week, Sunday preferred, keep a record of their meetings and report to their respective visitors and make their weekly offerings to the funds.

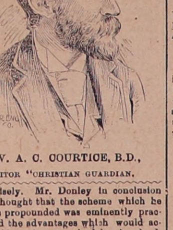

The advantages of the system are obvious. The members are linked with the Sunday School in the study of God's word. They thus experience the hallowed influence of Bible Study, to sanctify home life, and aid parents to prepare their children for the Sunday School. It brings all thus engaged into contact with many who are now negligent of the Bible, and carries the joy of christian fellowship and many who are now shut in, both from church and school, and greatly increase the membership of our School.

Canvass must be made to secure members for this department of labor. House to house visitation is indispensably necessary. There should be a committee of three persons in each township whose duty it will be to go together, and from such classes appoint one or more suitable persons in charge and keep up their connections with the classes when formed by occasional visits a by correspondence and report regularly to the Secretary of the S. S. Association. The said visitation committee could induce children to attend Sunday school and by their counsels urge all who can to join such classes as are here recommended.

This canvass would be found to be of paramount importance, and the superintendents of the classes would have opportunities of usefulness, which he would do well to improve, as they might accomplish an incalculable amount of good. Each superintendent should be left very much to exercise such methods as they may see fit to adopt, and they would do well now and then to report to the pastors of their respective churches the result of their visitations and they might thus draw some to the house of God who are now habitual neglecters of divine ordinances.

The superintendents of Sunday schools, within whose jurisdictions such classes of the Home department are established would do well by hearty co-operation with the superintendents of such classes to afford all the help possible, both by sympathy and counsel. He should ever regard such classes as neither more nor less than departments of his school as much so as the classes taught in the school.

The pastor will always see to it that he gives such classes all the counsel and encouragement in his power, and if he should mention them from the pulpit and occasionally visit them in person he would be

REV. A. C. COURTICE, B.D.,
EDITOR "CHRISTIAN GUARDIAN.

acting wisely. Mr. Donley in conclusion said he thought that the scheme which he had thus propounded was eminently practical, and the advantages which would accrue would amply repay the labor involved.

In the Conference of Pastors, which was held in the Reformed Episcopal church, Rev C. W. Watch, from Brighton, gave an interesting address on the Pastors relation to the Sabbath School, engagements that antagonise it, and how they may be adjusted.

The pastor, he said, was a busy man, he had to be a many sided man, looked at as an ideal man by many, he was expected to be a perfect triangle, perfect in mind and body and soul. It was expected of him that he be four square as to character. He must be a man of resources. There was no other profession compared with it in the requirements if made upon the intellectual faculty and function, or equal to it in the demand it makes upon the time. But there was no absolute perfection in the pulpit anymore than anywhere else. Every duty was important, but duties were of relative, not equal importance. Men were not cast in the same mould and allowance must be made of diversity of taste and gift.

The pastor of the church is also the pastor of the school. He might be something else as well, but from this position he could not separate himself. Whatever he was as pastor to any one in the church that he was to each member of the school. The pulpit must not be ignored. The social means of grace must be sustained, and equally so the pastoral relation to each department of the church must be sustained. The engagements that antagonize his efficiency in the school are the services that are held at hours which prevents his attendance at school. While objecting to lay preachers, in many cases themselves the church often had no objection to debar the children the privilege of the pastor's attention. To overcome this difficulty it was suggested: (1) To lessen the number or change the hour of services so as not to conflict with the school. (2) To place the school in connection with the morning service; or (3) so to change the services as to permit of periodic visits to the school; and (4) To encourage work through the Home Department of the school, that his influence and interest shall be felt among his people. The question of other engagements such as funerals and society sermons the Rev. gentleman thought that churches were becoming sufficiently well educated to deal with these unnecessary things. There were engagements that antagonize the teacher's meeting. There was no more difficult work to sustain than the weekly meeting for the study of the lesson. It was suggested that where it had not succeeded, the topic of the weekly prayer meeting be the lesson and a half hour meeting for study be held after the prayer meeting, and at the monthly teachers' meeting a normal lesson on methods of teaching, and the unfolding of the word be given.

NOTES OF THE CONVENTION.

The delegates one and all express their delight in the beauties of our fair city, and the hospitality of the citizens.

The visiting delegates will visit the Deaf and Dumb Institute to morrow afternoon. McCoy Bros. have been engaged to transfer them.

The S. S. rooms of Bridge St. church are none too large to accommodate the crowds that flock to the day sessions. The platform is a veritable bower, being covered with flowers and palms.

SOCIAL & PERSONAL

Mr. H. Smalling, of Rochester, is in the city visiting his friends.

Rev G. J. Dingman leaves on Saturday to spend the winter with friends in Denver, Col.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. O'Flynn, Madoc, are in the city attending the Sunday School Convention.

Mrs. A Campbell, of Marine City, Mich., is in the city, visiting her brother, Mr. — Wickett, of the G.T.R.

The Oriental Lecturer, Mrs. Lydia Von Finkelstein Mountford, arrived this afternoon from Guelph, and is registered at the Huffman House.

F. B. Parker and Fred and Harry Ferguson, Stirling; J. W. Gordon, Brighton; John Fisher, Cobourg, were among the guests at the Anglo to-day.

Mr. and Mrs. H'y Harvey, Mrs. and Miss Holden, and Mrs. Paterson, of Montreal, leave that city th's week, to be present at the wedding of Miss Minnie Davy, in this city, on the 31st Oct.

Mrs. McLean, of Bowmanville; Miss Kingston, of Campbellford; Miss Ostrander, of Cherry Valley; Miss Anderson, of Napanee, are in attendance at the Convention and are the guests of Mrs. J. S. Marsh, Court House.

The following appointments have been made, by the Lieutenant Governor, to be Justices of the Peace for Montreal: Messrs. Henry Harvey and M. Charles Foley, proprietors and publishers of the Trade Review, Montreal; M. C. Hinshan, General Manager of the Atlas Insurance Co.; E. A. Lilly, General Manager of the London Assurance Co.; G. W. J. O'Malley, of the firm af D. McCall & Co., the well-known dry goods merchants of Toronto.

David Mills' Funeral.

The funeral of the late David Mills took place yesterday afternoon, from his late residence, Coleman St., to Christ Church, where Rev. Mr. Price conducted the service. After the ceremony, the remains were taken to the cemetery for interment. The bearers were, Messrs. Walter Alford, R.B. Cooper, Jas. Macoun, Geo. Keith, — Carr, and A. N. Pringle. On the casket were some beautiful floral tributes, among which was a pillow from his fellow employees at the Walker foundry.

Y.M.C.A. Notes.

The gymnasium class met last evening. The new German horse has arrived and will be found a great addition to the appliances.

The class in mechanical drawing will meet this evening.

A new street lamp has been placed in position over the main entrance.

The hockey club will hold a meeting tomorrow evening.

Demand More Than Doubled.

The superior quality of Coal Oil being received by L. W. Yeomans & Co. has lead to a greatly increased demand over any former season, the sales having more than doubled within 12 months. For a bright, burning oil, free from disagreeable smell, it will pay to try L W. Yeomans & Co's.

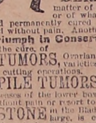

Rubbers.

Remember we have a full assortment of Rubbers for Ladies and gentlemen good Ladies' Rubbers for 30 and 35 cents, Gents' 40 and 50 cents.—VERMILYEA & SONS.

Gone Farther West.

Rev. Jos. Mottershead, who is well known in this city, and whose wife is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Dulmage, Everett Street, writes friends here that he is now stationed a G'mao, King Co., Washington Territory, about twenty miles from the coast.

THROW IT AWAY.

There's no longer any need of wearing clumsy, chafing Trusses, which give only partial relief at best, never cure, but often inflict great injury, inducing inflammation, strangulation and death.

HERNIA (Breach), or Rupture, no matter of how long standing, or of what size, is promptly and permanently cured without the knife and without pain. Another Triumph in Conservative Surgery is the cure of TUMORS, Ovarian, Fibroid and other varieties, without the perils of cutting operations.

PILE TUMORS, however large, Fistula, and other diseases of the lower bowel, promptly cured without pain or resort to the knife.

STONE in the Bladder, no matter how large, is crushed, pulverized, and washed out, thus avoiding cutting.

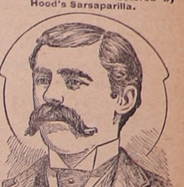

STRICTURE of urinary passage is also removed without cutting. Abundant References, and Pamphlets, on above diseases, sent sealed, in plain envelope, 10 cts. (stamps). WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, Buffalo, N. Y.

OUR GREAT : SALE
OF GOODS
Damaged by
SMOKE AND WATER,
Will commence
FRIDAY Morning
AT 9 O'CLOCK.
Look our for Bargains.
A. E. FISH & CO.

Broken in Health

That Tired Feeling, Constipation and Pain in the Back

Appetite and Health Restored by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Mr. Chas. Steele
St. Catherine's, Ont.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"For a number of years I have been troubled with a general tired feeling, shortness of breath, pain in the back, and constipation. I could get only little rest at night on account of the pain and had no appetite whatever. I was that tired in my limbs that I gave out before half the day was gone. I tried a great number of medicines but did not get any permanent relief from any

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

source until, upon recommendation of a friend, I purchased a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, which made me feel better at once. I have continued its use, having taken three bottles, and

I Feel Like a New Man.

I have a good appetite, feel as strong as ever I did, and enjoy perfect rest at night. I have much pleasure in recommending Hood's Sarsaparilla." CHARLES STEELE, with Erie Preserving Co., St. Catherine's, Ontario.

Hood's Pills are prompt and efficient, yet easy in action. Sold by all druggists. 25c.

REMOVAL.

MISS WAY has removed her dress making rooms to the Singer Office, one door north of Lattimer's Barber Shop, where she will be pleased to meet her old customers, and as many new ones as wish to favor her with a call. 40d6t w1t

To —
The DELEGATES.

We extend a cordial invitation to the delegates to the S. S. Convention to visit our store.

No undue attention will be forced upon them. They will be made perfectly welcome whether they purchase or not.

GEO. RITCHIE & CO.

Changed Daily.

"SAY A LITTLE BUT SAY IT STRONG."

WEDNESDAY, Oct. 24th.

DON'T . .
BE . . . .
AFRAID

To ask the price. Sometimes you will see a nice article that you would like to have, but you think it will cost more than you can afford, until you hear the price. Our goods are marked in plain figures, and as low as we can afford to sell them. Take for instance, those fine Japanese Cups, 30c. and 35c. Everyone is surprised and buys one. See them no matter if you do not want to buy.

Stroud's
TEA STORE.

Cash is King

And when backed by low prices always wins.

Prices in our store are not copyrighted, others are permitted to copy them.

Read our "Celebrated" prices, they are chips from our block of "UNDERBUY and UNDERSELL."

Cottons, a yard wide, for 4c
Flannelettes for 5c
All wool Flannels, 27 inches wide, for 18c.
All wool Navy Flannels. 28 inches wide, for 25c
Dress Goods, 8, 10, 20, 25, and 50c per yard—All low values
Ladies' all wool seamless hose 18c.
Misses' and Boys' double ribbed seamless and all wool hose, 20c
Men's under wear from 50c to $5 per suit
New goods rolling in every day. We don't get them for keep-sakes. Bargains everywhere to remember us by

THE LEADING BARGAIN HOUSE.

H. A. LAYTON, BELLEVILLE.

Front St., Opposite Campbell St.

ONTARIO MUTUAL LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY.

S. Burrows, Esq., General Agent, Ontario Mutual Life Co., Belleville, Ont.

DEAR SIR, Received your company's check for $2,000 for our Matured Endowment, and we both wish to show our gratitude to you and the Company for the straightforward and satisfactory way you deal with policy holders, and that we are more than satisfied with our investment. I will always urge our friends to follow in our footsteps. Thanking you very kindly.

Yours very sincerely,
Mr. & Mrs. GOODWIN, Bowmanville,
Formerly of Belleville.

HAPPY HOME RANGES.

Best in the Market.

—ALSO—

A Full Line of

Art Garland and Famous Heaters.

—(o)—

Wm. McGIE

Next to Nathan Jones.
Telephone 38. Front S

LAKEHURST SANITARIUM

OAKVILLE, ONT.

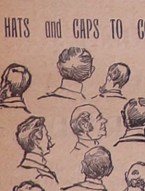

For treatment and cure of

ALCHOLISM, MORPHINE HABIT, TOBACCO HABIT AND NERVOUS DISEASES.

The system employed at this institution is the familiar Double Chloride of Gold System. Through its agency over 200,000 Slaves to the use of these poisons have been emancipated in the last fourteen years. Lakehurst Sanitarium is the oldest Institution of the kind in Canada, and has a well earned reputation to maintain in this line of medicine. In its whole history there is not an instance of failure to remove the appetite for these poisons. In its whole history there is not an instance of any after ill-effects from the treatment. Hundreds of happy homes in all parts of the Dominion bear eloquent witness to the efficacy of a course of treatment with us. For terms and full information write

THE SECRETARY,
28 Bank of Commerce Chambers,
aug7d3m34w3m) Toronto, Ont.

NEW HATS and CAPS TO COVER

OUR HEADS.

GEO. P. MINAKER.

REMOVAL

MR. JOSEPH CALDWELL, DENTIST

Has removed his office to the new premises which he has had specially fitted up in the

Caldwell Block,

First door south of the Anglo-American Hotel Front street. 108t

Daily Intelligencer.

A Wonderful Cure.

Mr. David Smith, Coe Hill, Ont., writes: "For the benefit of others I wish to say a few words about Northrop & Lyman's VEGETABLE DISCOVERY. About a year ago I took a severe cough and had a virulent sore on my lips, was bad with dyspepsia, constipation and general debility. I tried almost every conceivable remedy, outwardly and inwardly to cure the sore, but all to no purpose. I had often thought of trying Northrop & Lyman's VEGETABLE DISCOVERY, so I got a bottle and when I had used about one half the sore showed evident signs of healing. By the time that bottle was done it had about disappeared and my general health was improving fast. I was always of a very bilious habit and had used quinine and lemon juice with very little effect. But since using 3 bottles of the VEGETABLE DISCOVERY the biliousness was entirely gone and my general health is excellent. I am 60 years old. Parties using it should continue it for some time after they think they are cured. It is by far the best health restorer I know."

Big words won't split rails.

Holloway's Corn Cure destroys all kinds of corns and warts, root and branch. Who then would endure them with such a cheap and effectual remedy within reach?

Where fathers flee mothers fight.

Sweat is the champion fertilizer.

BAD BLOOD causes Blotches, Boils, Pimples, Abscesses, Ulcers, Scrofula, etc. Burdock Blood Bitters cures Bad Blood in any form from a common Pimple to the worst Scrofula Sore.

The blackguard is the chief of slime.

Some people laugh to show their pretty teeth. The use of Ivory White Tooth Powder makes people laugh more than ever. It's so nice. Price 25c. Sold by druggists.

Most farms pasture too many fences.

Much distress and sickness in children is caused by worms. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator gives relief by removing the cause. Give it a trial and be convinced.

Ache corns do not grow on boot trees.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP strengthens the lungs and cures all throat troubles, coughs colds, etc.

Scalding tears will scar the fairest cheek.

Out of Sorts—Symptoms, Headache, loss of appetite, furred tongue and general indisposition. These symptoms, if neglected, develop into acute diseases. It is a trite saying that an "ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," and a little attention at this point may save months of sickness and large doctor's bills. For this complaint take from two to three of Parmelee's Vegetable Pills on going to bed, and one or two for three nights in succession, and a cure will be effected.

Bank books contain many tales of fashion.

HAGYARD'S PECTORAL BALSAM cures Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis and all Throat and Lung Troubles.

McLaughlin's
QUEEN FLOUR
Which is warranted
THE BEST IN CANADA
For sale by
Chas. E. Bishop.
Bridge St., Belleville.
Send him an order.

DODD'S
KIDNEY PILLS,
A positive cure for all kidney diseases, such as
Backache, Rheumatism, Diabetes, Brights Disease, &c., &c.
For sale at the Pharmacy.
D. M. WATERS.

INSURANCE.
Western Assurance Company,
Fire and Marine Head Office, Toronto.
North British & Mercantile Ins. Co.,
Fire and Life, Head Office (Can.) Montreal
Atlas Insurance Company,
Fire Head Office (Canada), Montreal
M. M. THOMPSON
Water Works Office, Bridge St.

IT HUNG FIRE FOR YEARS

Long Standing Suit for a Large Amount Decided at Last.

MANY FORTUNES WERE INVOLVED

J. B. and S. R. Ritchie, of Cleveland, Operated a Gigantic Railroad and Mining Scheme, Risked Their Own and the Millions of Others and Lost—Ordered to Repay $1,500,000 to Stockholders.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 24.—Judge Augustus J. Ricks, sitting in the United States Circuit Court, Northerh Ohio district, has decided the famous suit involving the ownership of millions of dollars worth of stock of the Canadian Copper Co., Anglo-American Iron Co. and Central Ontario Railroad Co. The suit has been pending in the courts for several years, and grew out of the manipulations of the stocks of three companies by James B. and Samuel R. Ritchie. Those interested in the deals with the Ritchies were ex-Senator H. B. Payne, Judge Stevenson Burke, of Hocking Valley fame, the estate of H. B. Cornell and J. B. and George McMullen. The Ritchies sunk fortunes in the enterprises, and something like $1,500,000 was borrowed from the other stockholders named, the Ritchies giving large blocks of stock as collateral securities.

When the failure of the enterprises became apparent to even the most sanguine of the stockholders, the Ritchies were sued for the amounts borrowed. A counter-claim of nearly a million and half was set up for personal services of the Ritchies in manipulation of the stocks. The best legal talent in the state was engaged in the trial of the case and the fight was a very bitter one. In deciding it to-day Judge Ricks disallowed all of the claims of the Ritchies and entered judgments against them as follows: H. B. Payne $600,000; Stevenson Burke $230,000; Cornell estate $200,000; McMullens $270,000.

The Ritchies were given eleven days in which to liquidate the judgments. In the event of their failure to do so the collateral securities were ordered sold. The sale will be advertised in all the financial centres of the world. If the amount realized from the sale of the stocks exceeds the amount of the judgments the balance will be paid to the Ritchies. If there is a deficit, securities held by the wife of S. H. Ritchie will be ordered sold by the court. In passing on the case Judge Ricks referred to S. R. Ritchie as a man who was bound up in an effort to make millions and in whose scruples he had very little faith.

IS THIS THE MAN?

Aleneda Chattelle, a Frenchman, a Likely Suspect in the Keith Murder.

LISTWEL, Oct. 24.—The tramps arrested at Erin, Ont., and held on supicion of being the murderer of Jessie Keith, gave the name of Chatle. When arrested Chattelle had in his possession ladys black waist and a pair of hose. He is a Frenchman. Upon being advised of the arrest the Crown authorities ordered the prisoners removal to Listowel for identification.

At Stevensville yesterday afternoon another tramp was detained on suspicion, but was released after a thorough examination.

The prisoner Chattelle, who was arrested at Erin and brought here for identification, was taken to Stratford jail last evening. While the authorities have not been able as yet to fully identify Chattelle his general appearance answers more exactly the published description of the murderer than any of those yet apprehended. He could not give a satisfactory account of his movements since the fatal day, and the police felt quite justified in sending him to jail after investigation. Many of those who have seen Chattelle believe him to be the right man.

LATER—The latest development in the Keith tragedy is the arrest at Erin of a suspicious character who answers to the description of the murderer. The man, whose name is Aleneda Chattelle, was arrested by Constable Travis of Erin on account of his suspicious actions, and when searched he had a number of articles of ladies' wearing apparel that may lead to the detection of the crime. He threw away a parcel containing a ladies' cashmere waist, but Constable Travis recovered it and he gave what seemed to be a satisfactory account of how he came in possession of it.

Should it be the property of the owner of the much discussed valise, then the chain of evidence is sufficient to bring the murderer to justice. The suspect was brought here yesterday afternoon and while the witnesses as to his identity were of the the opinion that he is the man wanted, there still appears to be some material evidence lacking in the matter.

Chatelle's account of his doings and whereabouts are not considered satisfactory, and he will have to render a much better account of himself than he has yet done. Government Detective Murray arrived here last night and will proceed to Stratford with the witnesses to fully identify the man, who has already been lodged in the county jail there. The valise and contents will also be taken in order to have its alleged owner in Ailsa Craig identify it and the garments. Chattelle is a French Canadian, and has evidently not been a particularly good citizen, to say the least, and the indications point to his complicity in the crime.

OMEMEE, Ont., 24.—About a dozen men went out ten miles north of Omemee last night and arrested a tramp answering the description of the Listowel murderer. He is now in the lock-up here.

MARTER THE NEW LEADER

Chosen as Successor to Mr. Meredith at the First Caucus of the Opposition.

TORONTO, Oct. 24.—The members of the Opposition in the Local House met here last evening to select a successor to Mr. Meredith. Messrs. Marter, Whitney, Ryerson, Miscampell, Howland and Willoughby were nominated.

Miscampbell and Willoughby retired, and the other nominees left the meeting, while their colleagues balloted on the remaining names. After considerable discussion Mr. Marter was chosen.

"Dr." Franke Suicided.

NEW HAMBURG, Ont., Oct. 24.—The body of "Dr." Franke, a medicine peddlar reported to have suddenly disappeared from here, was found in the river yesterday. Coroner Bowlby, of Berlin, was notified. An inquest was held, and a verdict of suicide by drowning was rendered.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

TORONTO, Oct. 23, 1894.

On the street 200 bushels of wheat sold at 53 for white and 51 for red; 6,000 of barley at 42 to 48, 100 of peas at 55 1-2, 800 of oats 31 to 32, and a load of buckwheat at 45. Outside prices were unchanged.

Grand Trunk return of traffic for week ending October 20, 1894—Passenger train earnings, 1894, $125,463; 1893, $204,541; freight train earnings, 1894, $273,679; 1893, $272,439. Total earnings, 1894, $399,142; 1893, $476,980; decrease, 1894, $77,838.

Except for a few independent fluctuations the New York stock market hardly stirred. These individual movements, however, were not uninteresting. Nothing more characteristic of the market could be imagined than the fact that despite the rather noteworthy legal victory of the Reading management hardly a share of the stock was dealt in on the market throughout the day. The advance in sterling rates did not affect this apathy. The actual rates were well up to the figure under which last Saturday's half million gold shipment was made.

RIOT IN CHICAGO.

Hoodlums Board a Train, Abuse the Crew and Fire the Depot.

CHICAGO, Oct. 24.—Deeds of violence such as characterized the recent railroad strike were repeated last night at Grand Crossing and South Chicago by a gang of hoodlums. An Illinois Central suburban train was boarded by a gang of toughs, who abused the crew, calling them scabs. When the train reached Wildwood the depot was burning, and while the trainmen devoted themselves to extinguishing the flames the miscreants set fire to a train of box cars on a side track, one car being destroyed. When the train again started it was found that all the semaphores had been removed and the lamps placed under the wooden work of the roadbed, the structure burning like tinder. The flames were put out with sand and tinders, but not until the track in places was so weakened that supports had to be placed under it. This is the first outbreak of the tough element since the strike and the damage would have been much greater but for the hard work of the train crew.

Stole From James Livingstone, M. P.

NEW HAMBURG, Ont., Oct. 24.—William Layno, the tramp postage stamp vender, was arrested on the G. T. R. track west of Shakespeare by Constable Fraser. He was brought before a justice of the peace here and pleaded guilty of breaking into James Livingstone, M. P.'s office, Baden, and stealing about $6 worth of postage stamps. He was sent to Berlin jail. At first this man was counted as a Keith murder suspect.

Defaulter Hardiker Surrenders.

EL PASO, Texas, Oct. 24.—George Hardiker, defaulting assistant cashier of the Grand Trunk and Detroit, Grand Haven and Milwaukee railroads, was induced yesterday to come over from Giudad Juarez, Mexico, and give himself up. Hardiker says his accounts are $3,500 short. He expects his friends to help him settle up the loss.

Grover Changed His Mind.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—A Herald special from Washington says: President Cleveland's attitude in regard to the participation of administration officials in the present campaign has been somewhat modified, and from this time on Federal office holders will take quite a prominent part in the contest.

The Report Lacks Confirmation.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—No news has been received in Washington regarding the reported mobilization of Mexican and Guatemalan troops on the boundary between those countries, although such a movement would not occasion surprise at the respective legations.

Explosion of Gasoline.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 24.—Two three-story buildings at Nineteenth and Biddle streets were demolished by a gasoline explosion about noon yesterday. A barrel of the fluid was standing on the sidewalk at the corner and in some way took fire and exploded. H. W. Damme's grocery store and Paul Kurtz's butcher shop were wrecked and several other adjacent buildings damaged. Frank Kelly, Patrick Dwyer, Gus Bear and Mrs. Damme and child were injured.

All is in Readiness.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Oct. 24.—Prof. George Forbes, electrical engineer of the Cataract Construction Company, is here to superintend the placing of dynamos, one of which will be here in a few days. There is nothing to do but to put this dynamo on the bed that is ready for it, connect it with the shaft, and turn on the water.

The Candidate (gloomily)—The majority of voters against me was enormous. His Friend (consolingly)—Never mind; just think what it would have been if everybody had voted.—Chicago Record.

RATHER AN UNFAIR QUESTION

Customer—Have you any common scents, Mr. Mortar?

Deseronto Navigation Company (Limited

Steamer Ella Ross.

This fast sailing and comfortable steamer leaves Belleville for Trenton daily (Sunday excepted), at 10 a.m. Leaves Belleville for Deseronto and Picton at 3 p.m., connecting at Deseronto with steamers for Napanee and Oswego. Lowest freight and passenger rates. For further information apply to the Rathbun Co., Bridge street, or to R. C. Carter, General Manager, Deseronto.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP heals the lungs.

It is worse than madness to negect a cough or cold which is easily subdued if taken in time, but becomes, when left to itself, the fore runner of consumption and premature death. Inflammation, when it attacks the delicate tissue of the lungs and bronchial tubes, travels with perilous rapidity; then do not delay, get a bottle of Bickle's Anti Consumptive Syrup, the medicine that grasps this formidable foe from the human body, and drives it from the system. This medicine promotes a free and easy expectoration, subdues the cough, heals the diseased parts, and exerts a most wonderful influence in curing consumption, and other diseases of the throat and lungs. If parents wish to save the lives of their children, and themselves from much anxiety, trouble and expense, let them procure a bottle of Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup, and whenever a child has taken cold, has a cough or hoarseness, give the Syrup according to directions

Short sermons make wide awake Christians.

Jacob Loeckman, Buffalo, N.Y., says he has been using Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil for rheumatism; he had such a lame back he could not do anything, but one bottle has, to use his own expression, "cured him up". He thinks it is the best thing in the market

Art loses nothing by concealing modesty a fig leaf.

SIGNS OF WORMS are variable appetite itching at the nose, etc. Dr. Low's Worm Syrup is the best worm expeller.

Guns without foresight shoot wide of the mark.

Dr. Low's Worm Syrup cures and removes worms of all kinds in children and adults. Price 25c. Sold by all druggists.

A toothbrush should go with every dirty story.

DYSPEPSIA arises from wrong action of stomach, liver and bowels. Burdock Blood Bitters cures Dyspepsia and all diseases arising from it, 99 times in 100.

It would be a gross injustice to confound that standord healing agent—Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil—with the ordinary unguents, lotions and salves, They are oftentimes inflammatory and astringent. This Oil is on the contrary, eminently cooling and soothing when applied externally to relieve pain, and powerfully remedial when swallowed.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP cures Bronchitis.

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS:-

THREE RUNNING SORES
PHYSICIANS FAILED
BUT B.B.B. CURED

DEAR SIRS—After having used Burdock Blood Bitters for Scrofula in the blood, I feel it my duty to make known the results. I was treated by a skilled physician but he failed to cure me. I had three Running Sores on my neck which could not be healed until I tried B. B. B., which healed them completely, leaving the skin sound and whole. As long as I live I shall speak of the virtues of B.B.B., and I feel grateful to Providence that such a medicine is provided for sufferers.
MRS. W. BENNETT, Acton P. O. Ont.

A SCALY ERUPTION
UNENDURABLE ITCHING
Suffered Three Years—Now Perfectly Cured by B. B. B.

GENTLEMEN—I have used Burdock Blood Bitters for Skin Diseases, from which I have been a sufferer for three years. I have used six bottles and am now entirely cured. I tried other remedies, such as Donald Kennedy's Medical Discovery and the Cuticura Remedies, but all to no good. I doctored one year with the best physicians in the land; they pronounced my disease a Scaly Eruption, but could not remove it. It came on in red blotches and spread over my body; the skin became dry and formed hard dry scales. The itching was intolerable, but I am now completely cured, and I owe it all to B. B. B.
GEO. TRIBE, Straffordville, Ont.

PURIFIES THE BLOOD

Of Course . . . .
IT IS——
. . . . Nonsense

To spend money foolishly or buy something that you have not any use for. When you want an article that you cannot do without, for instance, COAL OR WOOD, buy the best, and always bear in mind that WE sell nothing but the best, and furthermore, we do not hesitate to claim that our present stock of all kinds of COAL and HARD and SOFT WOOD and PINE and CEDAR KINDLING has NEVER been surpassed in quality in the Belleville Market.

Our constantly increasing orders del'vrd promptly.
Our Carters are experienced and obliging.
Our Coal carefully screened and weighed.

TRY US ONCE AND WE FEEL SURE YOU WILL COME AGAIN.

S. A. LAZIER & SON'S.

The Leading Coal and Wood Merchants. Telephone C 68.

BLANKETS

We are showing a large line of Blankets in all Wool and Union from $2.00.

Grey Flannel

Our Grey Flannels are from the best makers. You should call and see our 15c. line.

NATHAN JONES.

OPPOSITE HOTEL STREET.

TO THE PUBLIC.

When we decided to add the manufacure of carriages, phaetons, democrats, &c., to our business, we immediately put under construction a few of each. As we decided to place no vehicle on the market which is not A 1 in in every detail, and knowing that no first-class vehicle can be produced on the rush, it has been necessary for us to take sufficient time to produce what we aimed at. We think we have succeeded; and we now have a few rigs completed, and others nearing completion to offer for sale. The iron work is all hand forged; the wood work carefully made, and strongly ironed; and the painting and upholstering done with the best material and greatest care. We can freely recommend these rigs. We will be pleased to have parties who may need anything in the above line, call and inspect our work.

ST. CHARLES & PRINGLE
JAS ST CHARLES. - - - - HENRY PRINGLE

Belleville and Napanee, Office, Bridge St. Telephone A. 4.
COAL—AND—WOOD.
THOS. STEWART,

The only dealer in Scranton Coal in Belleville and Napanee. The very best facilities for delivering to any part of the city or surrounding towns this coal, which is the best and cheapest mined.

No Gas. No Clinkers. No Waste

Clean, quick, hot, strong, cheerful fire. Smithing, Cannell, Brier Hill, Run of Mine coal and Coal Screenings always on hand. Hard and soft wood, Blocks and Edgings delivered to any part of the City.

IT - HAS - BEEN - ADMITTED

—BY OVER 125 PEOPLE IN BELLEVILLE THAT THE—

John Bull Wrought Steel Range,

Is the most Economical, Everlasting and Useful Range on the market. How is this for three Seasons.

SEE THEM AT FOSTER'S.

Also the Duchess of Oxford Cast Iron Range

The Sale of Boots and Shoes:

Slightly damaged by Smoke and Water will continue until everything is sold.

HAINES & LOCKETT

Opposite Anglo-American Hotel.

Camping Supplies!

—AND—

Picnic - Requisites!

Our list of articles suitable for Picnic Lunches and Camping includes:

Canned Meats.

ARMOUR'S COOKED BEEF,
ARMOUR'S OX TONGUES,
ARMOUR'S LUNCH TONGUES,
ARMOUR'S POTTED HAM,
ARMOUR'S COOKED PIG FEET
ARMOUR'S LUNCHEON MEAT,
ARMOUR'S POTTED TONGUE
ARMOUR'S BRAWN,
SANDWICH MEATS,
BONELESS CHICKEN,
BONELESS TURKEY,
POTTED BEEF,
POTTED GAME,
ETC.! ETC.!! ETC.!

Canned Fish.

FINEST SARDINES IN OIL,
FINEST SARDINES IN TOMATO,
HERRINGS IN TOMATO SAUCE,
KIPPERED HERRINGS,
FRESH HERRINGS,
SALMON, LOBSTERS,
FINNAN HADDIES,
BLOATER PASTE,
ANCHOVY PASTE,
SARDINE PASTE,
ETC.! ETC.! ETC.!!!

Sundries.

Condensed Milk in Tins, Cream in Tin Biscuits (in great variety), Fine old Cheese, McLaren's Imperial Cheese (in small crocks), Dried Beef, Choice Hams and Bacon, Lime Juice, Spanish Olives, CROSSE & BLACKWELL'S Pickled White Onions, Walnuts, Chow Chow, and and Mixed Pickles.

WALLBRIDGE & CLARKE

Grocers and Wine Merchants.
33 and 37 Bridge Street. Also Front Street, in Caldwell Building.

GENTLEMEN....

Before ordering your Fall Clothing don fail to take a look through

A. N. REID'S

New Fall Importations of

Scotch, English and Irish Suitings, Overcoatings, Pantings, Irish Serges, Cheviots, Hop Sackings and Black Worsteds]

First Class Goods and Prices low,

Mr. Minor, our cutter, is one of the best in Ontario.

EVERY GARMENT GUARANTEED!!

Please call and inspect our New Goods.

A. N. REID.

ALLAN LINE,

Royal Mail Steamships. Liverpool, Calling at Moville.

	From Montreal daylight	From Quebec
PARISIAN	Oct. 6	Oct. 7
MONGOLIAN	" 13	" 14
HIBERNIAN	" 20
LAURENTIAN	" 27	" 28
NUMIDIAN	Nov. 3	Nov. 3
PARISIAN	" 10	" 11

RATES OF PASSAGE.

First cabin Derry and Liverpool, $45 and upwards single; $95 and upwards return. Second cabin, Liverpool, Derry, Belfast, Glasgow, $30; return $55. Steerage at lowest rates (everything found).

All steamships except the Hibernian carry 1st cabin, 2nd cabin and steerage passengers.

STATE LINE SERVICE
NEW YORK, LONDONDERRY AND GLASGOW.

STATE OF NEBRASKA	Oct. 12
STATE OF CALIFORNIA	" 26
STATE OF NEBRASKA	Nov. 22

Cabin passage, $40 and upward, return $80 and upward; Second cabin $25. Steerage at lowest rates.

For tickets and other information apply to
U. E. THOMPSON
General Ticket Agency,
Bridge St., Bellevill
or to S. BURROWS,
Agent,

INTELLIGENCER PRINTING AND PUBLISHING COMPANY (LIMITED.

J. O. JAMIESON, President | J. W. LONDON, Secretary

THE Treasurer is the only person authorized to receive money from the Company, or to grant receipts for the same.

All Bills, Notes, Cheques and other documents binding on the Company, will require the signature of the President, in addition to the of the Treasurer.

THE INTELLIGENCE is printed and published by the INTELLIGENCER Printing and Publishing Company (Limited) by James O Jamieson, resident in Belleville, the Office, Front St., south of Hotel St

The Daily Intelligencer.

LET THERE BE HARMONY IN THINGS ESSENTIAL—LIBERALITY IN THINGS NOT ESSENTIAL—CHARITY IN ALL.

VOL. 28. BELLEVILLE ONTARIO THURSDAY OCTOBER 25 1894 NO. 148

= SILKS =

We have in stock a full line of the

Corticelli Embroidery and Knitting Silks

.. IN ..

Honiton Lace Emb'y Silk.
Outline do do
Knitting Silk,
Twist Embroidery,
Roman Floss,
Filo Floss.

— ALSO —

27 INCH PURE JAPANESE SILK IN

LIGHT BLUE,
CREAM,
ROSE PINK,
CORAL PINK,
BUTTERCUP,
CARDINAL,

BLACK - SILKS !

In all the leading makes.

J. P. THOMPSON & CO

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY.

HUNTERS' EXCURSIONS.

Return Tickets

AT

SINGLE FIRST-CLASS FARE

FROM BELLEVILLE TO

PENETANG, MIDLAND,

and all points in the following districts :—
SEVERN to NORTH BAY, inclusive.
ARGYLE to COBOCONK, inclusive.
CAMERON to HALIBURTON, inclusive.
MATTAWA to } NEPIGON and inclusive.
(via North Bay) } SPANISH RIVER,
MUSKOKA LAKES (Via Muskoka, Nav. Company).

Good Going October 19, 20, 26, and 27. Nov. 2 and 3.
Valid for Return leaving destination not later than December 1st, 1894.
Sportsman's Dog, Gun, and 200 lbs. Camping Outfit Carried Free.
For tickets and all information, apply to

U. E. THOMPSON,

GEN. TICKET AGENCY, Bridge Street.

SLIPPER SOLES.

We have just received a large number of the best

LAMB'S WOOL SLIPPER SOLES, IN

Nos. 2, 3, 4, 5 & 6.

Also in Children's Sizes, which we are offering at the low price of 35 Cents per pair.

We have also a full range of Single and Double Berlin Wool, for Crocheting and Knitting Bedroom Slippers.

THE BEEHIVE

CHAS. N. SULMAN

Wanted !

10,000 People of the City of Belleville, to buy the famous

ENGLISH SPICED SAUSAGE !

Manufactured by

McGUINNESS,

Front Street.

Tender Loins, Feet, Ribs, Hocks and Fresh Heads, Choice Roasts 9c. per lb.

STOVE PIPES !
STOVE PIPES ! !
STOVE PIPES ! ! !

WHIPS ! LANTERNS !
WHIPS ! ! LANTERNS ! !
WHIPS ! ! ! LANTERNS ! ! !

Lamps, Flower Pots,
Lamps, Flower pots,
Lamps, Flower Pots.

—AT—

THE FAIR,

FRANK WEEKS, Manager.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

ACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York.

Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

Thomas A. Johns.

CURED BY TAKING

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

"I was afflicted for eight years with Salt Rheum. During that time, I tried a great many medicines which were highly recommended, but none gave me relief. I was at last advised to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and before I had finished the fourth bottle, my hands were as

Free from Eruptions

as ever they were. My business, which is that of a cab-driver, requires me to be out in cold and wet weather, often without gloves, but the trouble has never returned."—THOMAS A. JOHNS, Stratford, Ont.

Ayer's The Only Sarsaparilla

Admitted at the World's Fair.

Ayer's Pills Cleanse the Bowels.

"FOR THE BENEFIT OF RHEUMATIC SUFFERERS,"

ACETOCURA

MADE

ME

ANOTHER

MAN

G. H. REEVES,
(Reeves & Beebe),
169 State street, Chicago.

Coutts & Sons,
72 Victoria street, Toronto.

Write for gratis pamphlet to COUTTS & Sons, 72 Victoria street, Toronto. Head offices—London, Glasgow and Manchester, (G.B.) Cologne, Germany, Aaron, Switzerland.

Local Agents—

L. W. YEOMANS & CO.,

DRUGGISTS,

BELLEVILLE.

CANADIAN PACIFIC RY.

WILL RUN HUNTERS' EXCURSIONS:

TO MUSKOKA LAKES

AND ALL STATIONS.

MATTAWA, NEPIGON, SPANISH RIVER

AND INTERMEDIATE STATIONS

OCT. 19 and 20
OCT. 26 and 27
NOV. 2 and 3

When Round Trip Tickets will be sold for

SINGLE FIRST CLASS FARE

Good for Return until Dec. 1st, 1894.

For business passing through Toronto, rates to above points will not be less than 25 cents added to ordinary Round Trip Rates to Toronto.

Dogs, Guns, Personal Baggage, Camp Equipments, to the amount of 200 lbs will be carried FREE

S. BURROWS,

General Ticket Agent, Belleville.

Daily Intelligencer.

LOOKS BAD FOR CHATTELLE

Step by Step They Bring Him Face to Face With His Crime.

CHAIN OF EVIDENCE MOST COMPLETE

Mrs. MacLeod Claims the Valise and its Contents and Identifies the Petticoat Found With the Body as Hers—Chattelle Admits He Had the Articles Previous to the Murder.

LISTOWEL, Oct. 25.—Immediately it became known that the man who had been captured at Erin, and whose description tallied so closely with the description of the man with the valise wanted for the fiendish murder of Jessie Keith in Elma township was coming in on the train from Palmerston the excitement rose to fever heat.

When Chattelle was searched the most important find was a receipt showing that he had purchased recently at St. Mary's a pair of overalls, which may be the cottonade ones discovered near the scene of the murder. The St. Mary's merchant, whose name has not been divulged, was notified by the police last night.

STRATFORD, Oct 25.—There is now no reasonable doubt but that the murderer of Jessie Keith is safe in Stratford jail. For an hour yesterday morning Government Detective Murray, Constable Woods and several witnesses from Listowel and Ailsa Craig were closeted with Crown Attorney Idington in his office.

From there they proceeded directly to the county jail, where Almeda Chattelle is confined. As a result of this conference Chattelle will be arranged on a charge of murder as soon as Police Magistrate O'Loane returns from a shooting expedition in Muskoka.

The all-important black valise and its contents, the white petticoat wrapped about the throat of the murdered girl, the parcel dropped by Chattelle when first arrested, the woman's garments found on his person, the brush and comb, were all identified by Mrs. MacLeod, of Ailsa Craig, as her property. This alone is regarded as sufficient to hang Chattelle, but there are other points that connect him with the crime. The walking stick left near Mrs. MacLeod's house was exhibited and Chattelle identified as its previous owner. The boy who gave it to the murderer also testified.

Even without the identification of the cottonade overalls which has not yet been effected, there is enough to make it a hanging matter.

Mrs. MacLeod arrived from Ailsa Craig at 5 p.m. and after a few hours' rest was taken to the Crown Attorney office, when all the exhibits of the crime were displayed. In detail Mrs. MacLeod identified everything presented to her. She is a thrifty housewife and many of the articles were of her own manufacture. Others she had worn for some time, and she was quite positive about them. The black valise with one end somewhat battered was first shown her and recognized. Two black cashmere skirts, a pair of white woollen stockings, a black bonnet, satin trimmed, with jet and black feathers, were all displayed and identified.

The Crown Attorney reserved his coup de theatre to the last. The little group held its breath while a carefully guarded parcel was untied and the white petticoat with the gory stains of the tender victim was exposed. "It's mine," exclaimed Mrs. MacLeod. "I made it myself, and should know it." There was no doubt about it. The petticoat was a plain white skirt with a deep hem and one tuck. About six inches from the bottom there is a row of deep insertion.

After this and something like a sixth act to the tragedy was the production of the parcel dropped by Chattelle on the railroad track near Erin. The black cashmere basque that it contained, the black brush and brown horn comb were all claimed by Mrs. MacLeod. The girl's black stockings in the valise were not hers. Mrs. MacLeod also identified a walking-stick shown her as one discovered near her house after the theft of the satchel. The house she said had been entered through a cellar window, evidently broken by a stick.

Angus McLean, engineer for Gunn & Co., of Ailsa Craig, then stepped forward. He identified the stick as one he had seen in the possession of Chattelle on the afternoon of October 3rd, the day of the Northern Fair. He discovered Chattelle lying in the long grass about 25 yards from the railroad track and not far from Mrs. MacLeod's residence. He told the tramp to move on, which he did sulkily.

Twelve year old Gordon McEwan, of Ailsa Craig, a bright little fellow, testified that he had given the cane shown to him to a tramp on October 2nd, when he met him near the fair grounds.

"That's the very man I gave it to," said Gordon when he saw Chattelle at the jail.

The visit to the jail still further riveted the chain about Chattelle. Angus McLean recognized him as the suspicious tramp who was basking in the sunshine; Gordon McEwan added his weighty recognition. Robert Morris, of Listowel, saw the prisoner near Britton at 10.45 a.m. on Friday. At that time he carried a valise. When he met him an hour later, and a couple of miles nearer Listowel, he had no portmanteau. Mr. Foley, implement agent, Stratford, recognized his walk, but could not recall his features, as he had not seen the face distinctly. Featherstone Smith was positive that Chattelle was the man seen by him near Listowel on the day of the murder.

Mrs. MacLeod's work was not yet done. The black cashmere jacket worn by Chattelle as an undershirt was likewise identified, as was also the black tamoshanter, the tassel of which was found in the black valise. The drawers did not belong to her.

Under the questioning of the Crown Attorney and Detective Murray, Chattelle gave a very confused story. During the interview he sat cross-legged and quite impassive on a table near the window, overlooking the prison yard. He still stuck to it that he had found the valise between Lucan and St. Mary's. He carried it, he admitted, until Friday night, when he buried it. Where he was that night he didn't know. Of where he buried the satchel he was likewise ignorant.

There are other important facts known to the Crown. The knife found on the prisoner has a razor-like edge. It has been recently cleaned. But between the hinge of the blade and shaft are some copperish stain as of dried blood, on which an expert will be asked to pronounce.

LUCAN, Ont., Oct. 25.—Mr. Joseph Hall, farmer, says Almeda Chattelle left his place at 11 o'clock on Sunday morning, the 14th instant, after having worked there a week. The day he arrived he had a black valise. Walker Jell, a brother-in-law of Mr. Hall, opened the valise and saw the woman's skirt and other articles of female apparel therein. Mr. Jell had heard about the stolen valise in Ailsa Craig, and, suspecting the prisoner, suggested a trip to Ailsa Craig. The man became alarmed and left the place the following day. He said he was on his way to Toronto from the mines and the clothes belonged to his wife. Both Mr. Hall and Mr. Jell can readily recognize this man.

SERIOUS STATE OF AFFAIRS.

The U. S. War Department Asked to Protect Indian Territory

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Secretary Smith yesterday transmitted to the War Department for their information in regard to his request that troops be sent to the Indian Territory to suppress the lawlessness which prevails there, the following telegram from Agent Wisdom, at Muskogee: "The Cook gang of outlaws in force is camped at Gibson station, eight miles from here on the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad. Believe that another hold-up is contemplated. My police force, such as I can get together, is not equal to an emergency, and Col. Crump, at Fort Smith, Ark., writes me that he has not the money to keep marshals in the field for campaign. Affairs are in a desperate condition, commerce impeded, business suspended, the people generally intimidated and private individuals robbed every day and night.

"I renew my recommendation for troops, and earnestly insist that the government, through the proper channels, take the matter in hand and protect its courts and citizens of the United States who are lawful residents in the territory. Licensed traders are especially suffering, and they are here under treaty stipulations. This state of suspense must be broken up, and prompt action is urged to save life and property."

JAPAN NOT SATISFIED.

With the Proposals for Peace—China Willing to Arrange a Settlement.

LONDON, Oct. 25.—The Central News says: The mediating powers submitted further and more definite proposals for peace to China and Japan, but Japan rejected them. The Japanese government held that the opening overtures must be made direct at Hiroshima from a quarter formally accredited and empowered to make them. China was ready to conclude an armistice for peace on reasonable conditions.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—A Herald special from Shanghai says: Generals Yeh Chi-Chao and Wei Yu-Kwei, formerly commanders in Corea, have been handed over to the proper board for punishment. They will probably lose their heads. The former is charged with cowardice and with responsibility for the murder of the French missionary, Joseph Eau. General Wei is accused of extortion and cowardice. Other important officials have been arrested, and a complete re-shuffle has taken place throughout the Viceroy's provinces.

Baptist Convention.

ST. THOMAS, Oct. 25.—At the morning session of the Baptist convention Rev. O. C. S. Wallace, of Toronto gave an address, "The call of the Grand Ligne to the young Baptists of Ontario and Quebec." A paper was read by Rev. S. J. Farmer, B.A., on "The relation of our educational work to French evangelization." Sunday school work occupied a prominent place in the day's business. The annual report of the Sunday School Committee showed 34,513 scholars on the roll, 4,086 teachers and officers. During the year 1,405 scholars were added to the Church, the total number of scholars members of the Church at the present time being 6,144. A paper was read by Linus Woolverton, M.A., Grimsby, on "Sunday schools as starting points of Baptist enterprises on unoccupied fields." Mr. S. Tapscott, Brantford, read a paper on "Personal works." Messrs. Crossley and Hunter were introduced to the convention and received a very cordial reception. Each spoke briefly and Mr. Crossley sang a solo.

Death of Thos. D. Millar.

INGERSOLL, Oct. 25.—Mr. Thomas D. Millar died yesterday afternoon. Mr. Millar was well known in Oxford county and throughout Canada generally as one of the early pioneers in the cheese trade in which he has made and lost large amounts of money. When the manufacture of cheese was first commenced in Canada Mr. Millar who was at that time largely engaged as a commission merchant in the grain trade, turned his attention more particularly to cheese and was one of the first to introduce upon the English and European markets our Canadian cheese. For the past few years he has been engaged in the manufacture of the now celebrated Millars paragon cheese.

Crispi's Big Deficit.

ROME, Oct. 25.—As the date for the opening of the Chamber of Deputies approaches it becomes very evident that the situation of the ministry is one of extreme difficulty. The financial problem is still unsolved and the deficit is calculated 60,000,000 lire. In semi-official circles it is asserted that the government will propose to meet this deficit with 20,000,000 lire of fresh economies and with 40,000,000 lire additional taxes.

Fatal Fire in Montreal.

MONTREAL, Oct. 25.—Hotel de Normandie, 14 St. Gabriel, was gutted by fire at 1.30 this morning. The fire broke out in the kitchen, and the guests were rescued by firemen by way of ladders. Twenty people were taken out in a half unconscious condition. A man named Rouen was taken to Notre Dame hospital, but his injuries are such that he cannot live. He was badly burned.

Burglar Shot Twice.

TORONTO, Oct. 25.—James H. Crowther, his brother John, and a man named Wm. Marshall were surprised by Thomas Barnes in the act of burglarizing his store at Carlton village, a suburb of Toronto. Barnes fired on the robbers twice, both shots taking effect on James H. Crowther. He was taken to the General Hospital. He may recover. The others are under arrest. Barnes surrendered and was released on his own bail.

Married a Prince.

PARIS, Oct. 25.—The religious ceremonies of the marriage of Miss Susan Tucker Whittier, daughter of Gen. Whittier, of New York, to Prince Beloersky, son of the Czars aide-de-camp, took place yesterday. The first ceremony according to the rights of the Greek church was performed in the Russian church in the Rue Daru and the second in the church of the Holy Trinity according to protestant rites.

Farmer Accidentally Killed

LANARK, Ont., Oct. 25.—Yesterday afternoon, between 1 and 2 o'clock, as Mr. Thomas Francis, a farmer about two miles from Lanark village, was drawing out manure, the whiffle-trees came off the waggon, and he being standing the sudden stop caused him to fall forward, his head striking the waggon tongue, killing him instantly. He was about 60 years of age and very highly respected.

SHE WISHED TO MARRY LING

Damaging Statement Made by Mrs. Hartley to a Neighbor.

THREE MOTIVES FOR THE CRIME

Strained Relations of the Hartleys, the Wife's Intimacy With the Hired Man and the Almighty Dollar in the Shape of Life Insurance Policies Payable to the Prisoner—First Day of the Trial.

BRANTFORD, Oct. 25.—The trial of Maria Hartley for the murder of her husband, Caleb Hartley by poisoning at New Durham on Sunday, May 13, 1894, commenced yesterday before His Honor, Mr. Justice MacMahon. The case promises to be a lengthy one.

The prisoner, who was looking rather pale and nervous, took her seat in the box, and in a clear voice replied: "I am not guilty."

Mr. Lount, Q. C., for the Crown, commenced the statement of the case. He said the Crown would prove that prisoner had three distinct motives for committing the murder, any one of which would be sufficient in itself to convict. There were:

First, The unpleasant marital relations always subsisting between the parties;

Second, The illicit connection between Mrs. Hartley and the young man Henry Ling;

Thirdly, The fact that several insurance policies had been effected, and recently made over in her name.

The statement of Henry Louis Ling that prisoner had given the deceased poison, and that she told him so, would be borne out by circumstances and independent testimony. He believed he would be able to convince the jury that beyond all question the prisoner not only had a motive to kill her husband, but was the only person who had one.

Mrs. Sarah Allen, wife of William Allen, New Durham, was the first witness. She said: "I have known Mr. and Mrs. Hartley thirty years. Mr. and Mrs. Hartley and Fred Hartley were at my place for dinner on Christmas. Mrs. Hartley said if Caleb was out of the way she would marry Ling. She began the conversation by talking about Ling, and I asked her what she wanted to do with Ling when she had a good husband and a grown family. She said that she did not like her husband, and I told her Ling was young for her. She said she could keep him and would use him well. She frequently said she did not like her husband, and said that some years ago. I did not see her again from Christmas until after her husband's death. I know Ling by sight and I saw him between Christmas and the time of Mr. Hartley's death. I have never seen Ling and the prisoner together on the road.

MRS. HARTLEY.

The witness was cross-examined by Mr. Osler, but the learned Q.C. failed to shake her testimony.

Daniel Quigg, shoemaker, of New Durham, deposed: "I can't exactly answer the question as to the relations between Mr. and Mrs. Hartley, but at certain times they were not acting as man and wife. For the last year I had very little to do with Mr. Hartley. I have heard Mrs. Hartley speak of her husband, and say that he was lazy, or something to that effect. I saw Mr. Hartley on Thursday morning after May 1 in my shop. I do not know where he had been except what he told. He did not stay over twenty minutes that morning. It seemed that his face was bloated, his eyes were puffed and he had a peculiar color of the skin. I judged from his looks that he was sick, as he shivered once in a while.

Mr. Osler objected to the evidence as to what Mr. Hartley said, and Mr. Lount argued that whatever Mr. Hartley told witness regarding his health was perfectly admissible as evidence. Cases were cited both by the counsel for the prosecution and the defence.

The next witness was Miss Nettie Quigg, daughter of the previous witness. She had spoken frequently to Mrs. Hartley of her unseemly association with the young man named Ling. He seemed to be following her closely wherever she went. He talked rudely to her at times as if he had some hold upon her. When she heard that Mrs. Hartley had gone to Hawtry with Ling she was much surprised. The relations between Mr. and Mrs. Hartley were not of a cordial character. Mrs. Hartley disliked her husband and would not allow him to come near her. In her cross-examination the witness stood her ground well, and her testimony was not in any way shaken.

Catherine Woodward, of Hawtry, spoke of a clandestine visit that Mrs. Hartley and Ling made to her house, and of the woman sitting on the man's lap and of other unseemly conduct for a married woman. In her cross-examination the witness was convicted of several little discrepancies. She left the stand in a fainting condition.

Choice of North Ontario Reformers.

BEAVERTON, Ont., Oct. 25.—At a largely attended convention of the Reformers of the electoral district of North Ontario held here yesterday F. J. Gillespie, reeve of the township of Mara and warden of Ontario, was unanimously chosen to contest this riding at the coming election for the House of Commons. The party organization was perfected and all arrangements made as to the final revision of the voters' list.

Edward Blake in Georgia.

ATLANTA, GA., Oct. 25.—Hon. Edward Blake addressed a large and representative audience in this city last night. Governor Northen and Mayor Goodwin occupied seats on the platform in addition to many prominent citizens. His speech lasted two hours. The speaker avowed that the Irish party was not idle, but was paving the way for an overwhelming victory. The speech created a profound impression.

SURPRISE SOAP

While the best for all household uses, has peculiar qualities for easy and quick washing of clothes. READ the directions on the wrapper.

156 ST. CROIX SOAP M'F'G. Co., St. Stephen, N. B.

KIDNAPPED A WITNESS.

The Charge Made Against New York Police Before the Lexow Committee.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Counsel Goff startled the Lexow committee when they re-convened yesterday by saying the police had carried into execution a plot to do away with a witness who would give the most sensational testimony yet published. Mr. Goff said: "For the first time I am compelled to ask for an adjournment until 2 o'clock. I told the committee that our star witness, a woman who had paid money to high officials, had been stolen from us at the dead of night. We had her under subpœna and under surveillance in the daytime, but at midnight the police or their agents came in a carriage and stole the woman. I now tell you her name for the first time, Matilda Hermann. The police or their agents hurried her to Canada and then to the large cities of the west. Our detectives got back to the trail and finally ran her down in Chicago. She consented to come east. When the party arrived in Jersey City an outrage was committed. The police of New York got the police of Jersey City to arrest all our party on a charge of kidnapping and trumped up charges designed to detain her. The police of Jersey City even went so far as to try to get the woman to leave our detectives."

The Jersey City story is that the woman was entrapped to come east by a bogus telegram stating that her husband was at Hoboken hospital in a dangerous condition, and that when she arrived there the detectives endeavored to compel her to go to New York against her will. She resisted and a friend engaged counsel. The case came up in the Jersey City police court yesterday, counsel for the Lexow committee insisting that the woman was a fugitive from justice. She was committed to the city prison for 30 days to await extradition proceedings to compel her to return to New York. She has broken down and will likely volunteer to return without proceedings.

THE LATE CHARLES GOUNOD.

THE GREAT FRENCH COMPOSER WHOSE SACRED MUSIC HAS BREATHED FORTH THE PRAYER OF A GENERATION.

With the beautiful 'Ave Maria' in one's mind, one must almost feel a reverence for its creator. Gounod sang out the prayer that was in his very soul, and all the world has felt its influence. His words of praise for a tonic that strengthened and sustained him in his declining years is one of the most valued tributes to the great 'Vin Mariani.' He says: 'Honor to "Vin Mariani," that admirable wine which so often has restored my strength.' No other tonic so quickly restores strength and energy when weakened by brain exhaustion, nervous depression, fatigue, dyspepsia or sleeplessness, and it hastens convalescence after confinements and fevers. You should send a stamp and receive a little album, free, containing the photos of the many great people who are recommending 'Vin Mariani.' Address Lawrence A. Wilson & Co., Montreal.

The Ahr Valley.

It is becoming the custom among European travellers to stop at Remagen on the Rhine, and make a little excursion to the beautiful Valley of the Ahr, with its picturesque villages along the vine clad slope. Here is also located the spring from which flows that world wide favorite "Apollinaris Water." At Neuenahr, in the valley, the river Ahr is very beautiful, and one can find few more quaintly attractive spots than the Upper Gate at Ahrweiler, or the old mill at Heppingen.

It takes many a wall to make a drunkard a laugh.

For Over Fifty Years

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by druggists throughout the world.

15d&w1y

Dyspepsia or Indigestion is occasioned by the want of action of the biliary ducts, loss of vitality in the stomach to secrete the gastric juices without which digestion cannot go on; also, being the principal cause of headache. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills taken before going to bed, for a while, never fail to give relief and effect a cure. Mr. F. W. Ashdown, Ashdown Ont., writes: "Parmelee's Pills are taking the lead against ten other makes which I have in stock."

Don't put your secrets in the advertising columns.

Burdock Blood Bitters cures all diseases of the blood from a common Pimple to the worst Scrofulous Sores or Ulcers. Skin Diseases, Boils, Blotches and all Blood Humors cannot resist its healing powers.

Beware the strength born of carrying all the burdens.

GENTLEMEN.—I have used your Yellow Oil and have found it unequalled for burns, sprains, bruises, scalds, rheumatism, croup and colds. All who use it recommend it. Mrs Hight, Montreal.

Temptation relies more on suggestion than exposure.

AUCTION - SALE

— OF —

VALUABLE FARM PROPERTY.

UNDER and by virtue of the Power of Sale contained in a certain Mortgage made by the late William Hamilton Ponton, deceased, to the vendors, which will be produced at the time of sale, there will be offered for sale by Public Auction, on Saturday, the Twenty-seventh day of October, 1894, at the hour of twelve o'clock noon, at the Court House, in the City of Belleville, by J. Lyons Biggar, Auctioneer, the following valuable real estate in one parcel, namely :—

All and singular that certain parcel or tract of land and premises situate, lying and being in the Township of Sidney in the County of Hastings, in the Province of Ontario, being part of the west half of Lot number Thirty-seven in the First Concession of the Township of Sidney, together with the broken front of said half lot, described as follows :—Commencing at the Bay Shore between numbers Thirty-six and Thirty-seven, thence north sixteen degrees west one hundred and eleven chains, nine links, more or less, to within six chains, sixty-six and two-thirds links of the allowance for road in rear of said Concession ; thence north seventy-four degrees, east nine chains, thirty-three links more or less to the centre of said lot ; thence south sixteen degrees, east one hundred and eight chains, nineteen links, more or less to the Bay of Quinte; thence westerly, following the windings of the Bay shore, to the place of beginning, containing by admeasurement One Hundred and one acres, one rood and thirty-six perches, less twenty acres sold to the Queen off the west side of the same ; also reserving about one half of an acre of land heretofore sold to the Queen, on the north side of the Trenton Road; also reserving five acres off the north end of the land above described, heretofore sold to Edward Welsh by deed, dated August 19th, 1873; also reserving two acres south of the Kingston Road, as described in a deed dated the 27th day of August 1888, and registered as No. 6584 T.

On the premises there are said to be erected a stone dwelling house, also a brick cased dwelling house and two frame barns. This property lies immediately east of the Ontario Institute for the Deaf and Dumb.

TERMS.—Ten per cent of the purchase money must be paid at the time of sale, when easy terms for the balance can be arranged. For further particulars and conditions of sale, apply to the Auctioneer, or to Ponton & Morden, Barristers, Belleville, or to Lount, Marsh & Cameron,

Vendors' Solicitors,
25 TORONTO ST., TORONTO.

3rd October. d4t,Oct6,13,20,25

For . .

THIRTY . . .

DAYS . . . . .

WE will sell our entire line of

Wall Paper . . . .

— AND —

Window Shades

AT A DOUBLE DISCOUNT 10 & 5p.c.

10 per cent. off Special, and 5 per cent. off for cash.

We positively will not be undersold at

OVERELL'S BOOK STORE.

Before putting up your STOVES have the

TRIMMINGS RE-PLATED

— AT THE —

BELLEVILLE PLATING WORKS

HARRIS & WALTON'S FACTORY, MILL ST.

-PLUMBING-

We have added to our Workmen,

MR. GEORGE JOHNSON,

Who has for the past six years been prominent on large contracts in Victoria, B. C., San Francisco, Denver, and Chicago.

— — ALSO — —

MR. EDWIN W. BISHOP,

A graduate of the New York School for Plumbing (class 92), who comes highly recommended.

With these men added to our staff, we feel sure of giving satisfactory to all in Sanitary Plumbing.

C. F. Smith & Co.

A Few Lines

For To-morrow.

Charlotte Russe (individuals, larger ones to order). Cream Rolls, Corn Muffins, Graham Gems and all kinds of pastry. Oyster Patties to order. Fresh Oysters, fine stock. Ice cream,

Although the season seems to be past we are still making and selling ice cream. Orders can be filled for any quantity and in any shape. Also served in our parlors daily.

H. C. DICKENS & SON.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 75c. bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, THURSDAY OCT. 25

MARTER AS LEADER.

The choice of the Conservative party in the Ontario Legislature has fallen upon Mr. Marter as their leader, in succession to the present Chief Justice Meredith.

Mr. Marter, who is the member for North Toronto, where he overcame a large Grit majority and defeated the well known Joseph Tait, is a strong man, as is proved by the above fact. He is able and aggressive, and will, we believe, be found a worthy successor of the great man who preceded him. That he will command the confidence of the entire party we have no doubt, and we trust that the highest hopes formed of his leadership may be realized.

Our new leader was born at Brantford, his father, Dr. Peter Marter, being a native of England. Mr. Marter received his education at the public schools and Brantford Grammar school. He is a merchant. He was clerk of Windham Township for ten years, a councillor of Waterford and reeve of Gravenhurst for one year. He has held a seat in the Legislature since 1886, for two terms as the representative of Muskoka. Mr. Marter is a total abstainer and pronounced prohibitionist. His resolution calling for the stoppage of all retail licences in the Province led to the taking of the Ontario plebiscite, the Government resorting to that expedient to avoid a vote on the direct issue. He is a fair speaker, is active and energetic, and is in the 54th year of his age.

Mrs. Mountford's Entertainment this Evening.

"Homes and Haunts of Jesus," is the title of the Tableau-lecture this evening at Bridge Street church, under the auspices of the Ontario Sabbath School Association. This lecture illustrates many points mentioned not only in the New Testament, but also the Old; and as each point is made not only by voice, but by movement of ten or fifteen assistants, who are dressed in oriental costume to represent various characters, everything is made intensely interesting. The platform will be arranged this evening as a country home in Palestine, and the assistants will represent priest, holy woman, bride, shepherd, hireling, man possessed of demon, etc. Mrs. Mountford is a native of Jerusalem, and is thoroughly acquainted with Palestine life.

That Joyful Feeling.

With the exhilarating sense of renewed health and strength and internal cleanliness, which follows the use of Syrup of Figs, is unknown to the few who have not progressed beyond the old time medicines and the cheap substitutes sometimes offered but never accepted by the well informed.

SPECIAL MENTION

Cold in the head—Nasal Balm gives instant relief; speedily cures. Never fails.

THAT HACKING COUGH can be quickly cured by Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam. Price 25c.

THEY MAKE ONE FEEL as though life was worth living. Take one of Carter's Little Liver Pills after eating; it will relieve dyspepsia, aid digestion, give tone and vigor to the system.

MORE CASES OF SICK HEADACHE, biliousness, constipation, can be cured in less time, with less medicine, and for less money, by using Carter's Little Liver Pills, than by any other means.

"BURNS AND SCALDS."— If you are so unfortunate as to injure yourself in this way, we can suggest a remedy that will (we speak from experience) soon relieve you of all pain and quickly heal the wound; it costs but twenty five cents for the New big bottle and is sold by all Druggists—ask for PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER.

Dr. S. C Webb, Liberty, Miss., says: "I have been using Ayer's Pills for over twenty-five years, and recommend them in cases of chronic diarrhoea, knowing their efficiency from personal experience, they having cured when every other medicine failed."

No one need fear cholera or any summer complaint if they have a bottle of Dr. J. D Kellog's Dysentery Cordial ready for use. It corrects all looseness of the bowels promptly and causes a healthy and natural action. This is a medicine adapted for the young and old, rich and poor, and is rapidly becoming the most popular medicine for cholera, dysentery, etc., in the market.

TO CURE DEBILITY.

Loss of appetite, sleeplessness and all nervous troubles, physicians recommend

Campbell's Quinine Wine.

Do not let your druggist persuade you that some other is just as good.

K. CAMPBELL & Co., Mfrs., MONTREAL.

The MARKETS

BELLEVILLE MARKETS

INTELLIGENCER OFFICE,
Belleville, Oct. 24, 1894.

The receipts of grain are very light. Wheat sells up to 52c for the choicest, barley 40c to 43c. A buyer remarked today that extra No. 1 would bring 45c, but that there was none of that grade. Oats are in good demand for home consumption at 27c. Other kinds of grain nominal. The wheat outlook, of which there has been so much written during the past year, is still in an unsatisfactory condition, although a rise of one and a half cents during the week is, to say the least, encouraging. During the week the visible increased over a million and a half bushels, an increase of 9,740,000 bush. over last year, but it must be remembered that the season has been particularly favorable to the marketing of wheat. and as well that the price is 14c per bush. less than last year. Other kinds of grain have in the past been equally depressed, when an unexpected development of the low stock in first hands have been startling to those who never think there is a bottom to prices. Messrs. Lindblom & Co., of Chicago, in a recent circular writes on this aspect of the wheat question, saying.

"The export is small, although fully up to our ability to supply it, but the milling demand is good, and reports from official and unofficial sources fully confirm the most extravagant estimates as to the consumption of wheat for feed, and if it continues three months longer, as we hope it will, and prices do not advance, as we hope they may not, then we shall probably wake up to a realization of the fact that the surplus and the necessary requirements have been exhausted. That is what we feel "bullish" on We are perfectly willing to acknowledge that but for this new demand on wheat, prices would have gone down to a point where farmers would have been compelled to repay the freight in order to rush it to the market. We have seen them do that on hops and then next year sell them at 75c per pound. We have seen corn burned in Kansas and inside of six months the farmers were paying 60c per bushel for it. We have seen warehouse receipts for oats burned up because the holder did not want to pay the storage on them. We have seen extremes in prices and in sentiment and in supplies and demands, and another extreme has always followed within a reasonable time, and we know that the same result will take place in wheat, and if prices should go down lower than they are now the extreme will be all the sharper."

The price of Hogs has suffered a decline of half a cent during the week. Mr. McGuinness reports Dressed Hogs worth 5c to 5½c, whilst live Hogs are selling at 4c 4½c. Dealers being afraid to touch them at over 4c on account of the large supply. Long clear Bacon is weaker at 8½c. New cured meats will be ready to export in a couple of weeks. Mr. McGuinness is now packing pork for shipment to England where he shipped 13,000 doz. Eggs last week and will ship about an equal amount this week, but the demands in that market is weakening so that these are about the last shipments which will be made.

Roll Bacon is 9c, whilst lard is worth 9½c and in three pound tins one cent more, Hams are lower at 10½c to 11c.

Eggs were very firm during the week, selling up to 16c, whilst Butter was in good demand at 26c for choice, which is an extreme price, as there is a large quantity in the west which is being let loose, and which will weaken the market.

WHEAT—50c to 52c.
BARLEY—40c to 43c.
RYE—40c to 45.
OATS—26 to 27c.
PEAS (Common)—50c.
RUNNER PEAS—56c.
BUCKWHEAT—40c. to 43c.
BUTTER—Roll. 25c.
EGGS—15c per doz
LIVE HOGS—$4 50 to $4.75 per 100 lbs.
DRESSED BEEF—5c.
LAMB—8c
HIDES—$3 00,
CALFSKINS—50c.
LAMB SKINS—50c.
DEAKINS—30c.
TALLOW—Rough, 3c.
TALLOW—Rendered, 5½c
WOOL—17c to 18c.
LARD—10c.
POTATOES—65c. per bag.
HAY—$7 to $8.00 per ton.
CHICKENS—40c to 60c per pair.
DUCKS—50c. to 60c.
ONIONS—20c. to 25c per peck.

HOPS.

Oct. 24.—There is no change in the hops outlook, and it is becoming more evident each day that growers will be compelled to take the price that brewers choose to offer. The Prince Edward crop this year will be about fifty per cent. larger than last year, and the quality good. The crop in the Prince Edward district is almost without exception in the hands of growers. We hear of a sale of 6 tons by the Howell Bros. at 8½c, and another in the Bloomdistrict on private terms. Throughout York State the average price can be said to be about 8c.

FURS AND SKINS.

The following changes are cabled from the London sales, which closed on the 21st: "Raccoon, Northern and Western, 10 per cent. lower than last March; Southwestern, 20 do.; red fox, 5 do.; grey fox. 15 do; lynx, 20 do; muskrat, 15 do; skunk, 12½ do; mink, 20 do; wildcat, 25 per cent. higher than last March; house cat, 40 per cent. lower than last March; badger, 12½ do; marten, 45 per cent. higher than last March; beaver, 10 per cent lower than last January; otter, 7½ lower than last March; Russian sable, 10 higher than March; wolverine, 10½ do; wolf; 7½ lower than March; opossum, 20 higher than March; black bear, 5 do; brown and grizzly bear, 40 do.

Cheese Markets

BELLEVILLE, Oct 24 —The market is in far from a satisfactory condition, and it is predicted that the price will go lower on account of the large quantity in first hands, which is hard to compute. Factorymen in this district, with few exceptions, wisely closed out the season's make at good prices, but west of Toronto and in the Brockville districts there is a large quantity in first hands, for which, from a half to three-quarters of a cent less than the price bid some time since would now have to be taken, and the end is not yet. The cable now stands 48s 6d, one shilling lower than at this time last year.

The export to the close of last week from Montreal were 1,384,311 boxes, showing an increase of 104 000 boxes as compared with the corresponding period last year.

The Export Apple Trade.

The Montreal Trade Bulletin says: The market has been very quiet here during the past week, and sales of fall fruit have transpired at very low prices, poor, small and wasty lots selling as low as 65c to 75c per bbl.; but good fall apples have realized $1 50 to $1 75 for car lots, while winter varieties have brought from $2 10 to $2 50, with holders of fancy straight lots of red fruit asking more money. There have been sales of ordinary to pretty good lots of winter apples in the West at $1 85 to $2 25 f.o.b.; but fancy straight lots of red are held at more money.

FACTS FOR FARMERS.

After a pear tree is badly blighted it is useless to attempt to save it, and the sooner the ax is used the less liability of danger to other trees.

Among the varieties of pears the Lawrence holds a high place. It is not so subject to blight as some varieties and is late, giving a crop after the bulk of the pears have been marketed.

Well-cured corn fodder is more fully digested than timothy hay, and is nutritious and palatable. It is roasted, however, if left in the fields to be exposed to rains, winds and frosts during the winter.

Though the price of dairy products is low, it is paid twelve times a year, enabling the farmer to have cash for his purchases throughout the year, thereby getting the benefit of cash prices. This is one great factor of dairying.

Experiments show that a grain of wheat reproduces forty fold. Every pound should bring forty. It therefore follows that much of our seed wheat is wasted when we sow one and one-fourth bushels an acre and get from ten to twenty.

The Virginia creeper is an excellent vine for covering fences and outbuildings. The plants should be cut down to the ground when planted, that the young shoots may cling as they grow. In the fall the foliage becomes a brilliant red and yellow.

Excepting the golden rod, milkweed and ragweed, all the rest of our weeds have been imported. Those foreign are the most troublesome and persistent. If it was some one's duty to keep them from the highways these pests would not travel so fast.

DONT'S OF DRESS.

Don't hold up silks and display rags.

Don't use pins where stitches would do.

Don't wear a sailor hat with a silk dress.

Don't wear striped material if you are tall.

Don't wear tan shoes if you have large feet.

Don't wear a white petticoat unless it is white.

Don't dress more fashionably than becomingly.

Don't imagine that beauty will atone for untidiness.

Don't buy common boots—they are not economical.

Don't trim good material with common trimmings.

Don't wear big sleeves and big hats if you are short.

Don't expect great bargains to turn out great savings.

Don't jump into your clothes and expect to look dressed.

Don't dress your head at the expense of your hands and feet.

Don't wear a fur or feather boa with a cotton dress or shirt.

Don't wear feathers in your hat and patches on your boots.

Don't achieve the grotesque while attempting the original.

Don't wear a sailor hat and blouse after your fortieth birthday.

Don't pinch your waist. Fat, like murder, will out—somewhere.

NEWSPAPER WAIFS.

He—I should like to kiss you as often as the ocean has drops. She—Which ocean? —Fliegende Blatter.

"Papa," said Jack, as he gazed at his ten cents—one week's allowance—"do you know what I would do if I was an awful rich king?" "No Jack. What?" "I'd increase my allowance to a quarter a week."

Young Housekeeper—Those soles I bought of you were not fresh. Fisherman —Well, marm, that be your fault—it bean't mine. I've offered 'em yer every day this week, and you might 'a 'ad 'em days before if you'd 'a' liked!—Tit-Bits.

"Did Miss Chilton give you any encouragement when you proposed to her?" "Not a great deal. I used every argument. I even went as far as to assure her of my ability to support her in the style to which she had been accustomed." "And what did she say?" "She said I might call around later and show her my income-tax receipt."—Washington Star.

FUNERAL ODDITIES.

Many tribes of the aborigines of this country elevated the bodies of the dead on poles.

The practice of burials in churches was commonly discontinued in France about 1777.

"Death is an eternal sleep" is the favorite epitaph above the doors of Russian tombs.

The Magi did not bury their dead, but left them to be devoured by birds of prey or dogs.

Nero delivered a funeral oration at the funeral of Poppeae, whom he had killed with a kick.

The putting of the body in mourning for the dead has been practiced by the people of many nations.

QUEER LITTLE ONES.

Queen Victoria pays over $4,000 a year in doctor's fees.

Worn out ivory billiard balls are usually cut up into dice.

Alaska has a newspaper which is published but once a year.

In Liverpool recently 150 temperance sermons were preached on what was observed as "Temperance Sunday."

The swell visiting card in China is an oblong piece of red paper about four inches wide and eight inches long with the name in black rubber.

It is said that it takes ten men to carry the Emperor of China's umbrella. There are many people in this country who have more men than that carrying their umbrellas.

FOXBORO.

A very interesting debate was given in the North Church, on Tuesday evening by the Epworth League of Foxboro. The subject was "Resolved, that love has a greater influence than money." The Affirmative was supported by W. Ferguson (Capt.); Miss L. Miller and W. F. Boyd The negative was supported by D. A. Brown (Capt.) Miss E. E. Clarke and W. Ramsay. Some very prominent points were brought out by each side, and those who listened to it enjoyed a rare treat. The judges, Rev. A. L. Adams, Jas Davis and Jas. Scott, decided that the most points were brought out for money, and therefore the victory was won by the negative.—Mr. W. Cornelius, of Toronto, is visiting at Mr. Jas. Bryants.—Mr. John Clarke has returned to Toronto to pursue his medical course at Trinity College.—Mrs. A. Hubble, who has been ill for some time is now very much improved. —Miss Ethel Gowsell has, through illness, been confined to the house for several days. —Mr. A. Reed has set up his cider mill, and is making a lot of cider.—An accident took place on the Midland Railway, near the Foxboro stone quarry, on Tuesday afternoon. A freight on its way to Belleville, became uncoupled just after it had passed the quarry. The front part of the train ran on until it reached the top of a grade just ahead, when upon learning of the case the engineer stopped the train and began to back up to meet the part that had became separated, and in so-doing they had to go down the grade they had just ascended. The cars got going down so fast that the brakes seemed to have very little impression on the wheels and the result was a collision between the two divisions of the train piling several cars upon the track, and blockaded the road, so that the mail train could not get through. No one was injured.

MADOC.

Oct. 23.—Mr. Wm. Conlin has had another attack, and all hopes of his recovery are, by his family, given up. Mr. Conlin is 78 years old, instead of 60, as reported last week.—Mr. Miller, of the firm of Miller & Sills, owners of the Bannockburn gold mine, is one of those whole souled fellows who makes it pleasant for those that come in contact with him; a few days ago the employees of the Company presented him with a meerschaum pipe, with his name inscribed thereon. The Co'y is still adding new machinery. The last time they cleaned up they were more than pleased with the result.—Bishop Cleary arrived in Madoc last Friday, and was met at the station by a large number of friends, who escorted him to the presbytery.—Sunday was one of those most beautiful days we are favored with at this season of the year.—A great number assembled at the church for the confirmation service; a large congregation was present, and mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Davis, after which the candidates for confirmation were arrayed in order around the sanctuary rail, presenting a unique and beautiful appearance. His Grace addressed them on the nature and solemnity of the rite they were about to receive and the future obligations incumbent upon them. He then anointed each one on the forehead with the Holy Chrism, saying over each "I sign thee with the sign of the Cross and anoint thee with the Chrism of Salvation, in the name of the Father and the Son and the Holy Ghost." After finishing this ceremony and the accompanying usual prayers, the confirmed returned to their seats where they were again addressed on the effects of the sacrament just received, and the parents were told in plain words of the care with which they should cherish their sanctified little ones. Before concluding, His Grace exacted from the boys a solemn pledge to abstain from all kinds of intoxicating liquors until the age of 21 years, and those among them near to it, a pledge to the same effect for five years. Before preaching his sermon of the day, Mr. A. A. Macdonald, together with a representative number of the gentlemen of the congregation, advanced within the sanctuary rail and presented him with their sentiments. Number of confirmed, 132 Monday, His Grace, accompanied by Rev. Monsignor Farrelly, Ven. Archdeacon Kelly, Father Davis and Murtagh drove to Marmora, where another large class were confirmed with similar ceremonies, before returning. Marmora was erected into a separate and new parish, with Rev. Father Murtagh, Curate to Father Davis, appointed as its first pastor.

Just as Good,

Perhaps; but if just as good as Putnam's, is that not a very high recommendation for the original and best corn cure? Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor. Refuse to accept any of the dangerous sore producing substitutes offered by greedy dealers who make larger profits and disregard the interests of customers. Safe, painless, certain.

Schiffmann's Asthma Cure

Instantly relieves the most violent attacks facilitates free expectoration and insured rest to those otherwise unable to sleep except in a chair, as a single trial will prove. Send for a free trial package to Dr. R. Schiffmann's, St. Paul, Minn., but ask your druggist first.

IF YOU ARE NERVOUS OR DYSPEPTIC try Carter's Little Nerve Pills. Dyspepsia makes you nervous, and nervousness makes you dyspeptic; either one renders you miserable, and these little pills cure both.

THIS MATTER CHANGED DAILY.

THURSDAY, Oct. 25 h.

LADIES!

Special value in Ladies' Vests just received this morning. See our

15 Cent
20 Cent
25 Cent

Vests. Some stores sell our 20c. vest for 25c.

W. FLINT JONES.

Next door to Haines & Lockett.

ORDER

From us the following:

WALLNUT PASTRY,
ECCLES PASTRY,
HONNY TARTS,
BOSTON CHIPS,
CREAM TARTS,
BAMBURRY TARTS,
CHEESE CAKE,
PRESIDENT.

The above with a full assortment of Cakes, comprise a partial list for to-day.
Your orders will have prompt attention Telephone 172.

Jas. Wallace & Co.

Don't forget to see our windows of ornamented goods.

NIGHT :: SCHOOL

Opens at

BELLEVILLE BUSINESS COLLEGE

ON

Tuesday Evening, Nov. 1st, 1894 AT 7:15.

BELLEVILLE BUSINESS ••• COLLEGE

ROBERT BOGLE, Proprietor,

New Advertisements.

If you use a blended Tea ask your grocer for

'MORAHNEE'

It has no equal.

In one half pound packets, 40c. and 50c. per lb

J. E. WALMSLEY & CO.,

Agents for the British Tea and Trading Association, London Eng

Statement of the Expenses of A. F. Wood

In Electoral District of the North Riding of the County of Hastings for the Election Held on June 26th, 1894:

Personal expenses for hotel, livery, printing bills, etc	$95 25
Expenses of agents for telegrams, stage fares and hotel and livery bills	$94 40
	$189 65

I hereby certify that the above account is correct,

S. D ROSS,
Financial Agent for dlt A. F. WOOD.

TAKE NOTICE

Of the "Old Home" grocery store and drop in and see us. It gives us pleasure to show you our new stock of groceries and quote prices whether you are a purchaser or not We are making a special run in flour this month. We can also supply you with all kinds of feed. Of our choice blends of TEA we can only say "See it and you'll appreciate its merits, use it and you'll sing its praises.'

J. A. ELLIOTT.

Front St., Belleville.

SPECULATORS AND INVESTORS

SEND FOR OUR

DAILY MARKET LETTER AND ILLUSTRATED PAMPHLETS ON SPECULATION,

mailed free on application, and operate successfully in Wall Street.

Our discretionary speculations have paid a monthly profit of

$20 NET TO EACH $100 MARGIN.

Stocks, Bonds, Grain, Provisions and Cotton bought and sold for cash or on a margin of 3 to 5 per cent.

COMMISSION 1-16 PER CENT.

Special Attention paid to Discretionary Accounts.

Correspondence Solicited

Direct wire from our office to all Western Union Offices in the United States. Bank references.

WEINMAN & CO.,

STOCK & GRAIN BROKERS, 41 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.
[d Oct. 1st, 3m eod

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS,

A positive cure for all kidney diseases, such as

Backache, Rheumatism, Diabetes, Brights Disease, &c., &c.

For sale at the Pharmacy.

D. M. WATERS.

FULL WEEK AT...

BRIDGE ST. METHODIST CHURCH.

Thursday Evening, 8 p.m.
Mrs Lydia M. Mountford, "Home and Haunts of Jesus."

Friday Evening, 8 p.m.
Mrs. Lydia M. Mountford, "Life in Jerusalem."

Saturday Evening, 8 p.m.
Mrs. Lydia M. Mountford, "From Bethlehem to Calvary."

Collection Tuesday and Wednesday evening. Tickets 25 cents for Oriental lectures, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

SEE SMALL BILLS.

NIGHT SCHOOL

.... MECHANICS' INSTITUTE,

Corner Front and Hotel Sts, will commence

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 1st, 1894.

The Advantages are :--

The Business Course, Shorthand and Type-writing Course, Instruction in Penmanship.

For four months, two evenings each week, from 7 to 9 o'clock, and six months' membership in the Institute

FEE FOR ALL IS

.... $3.00.

Books, Stationery, Etc., for the Business Course, cost $3.00.

Apply to W. J. OSBORNE, of ONTARIO BUSINESS COLLEGE.

PETTYJOHN'S CALIFORNIA BREAKFAST FOOD

Dyspeptics can eat this food.
It is particularly adapted for children and persons of sedentary habits.
It is made from Pacific coast wheat hulled and crushed by improved machinery.
It can be easily prepared for breakfast, as this crushing process makes it soft and tender and easy to cook
Ask your physician which is best for you to eat, oats or wheat.
Pettijohn's California Breakfast Food is sold in packages by

BENMORE & BENSON.

Bibles 20 Per Cent. Discount.	S. S CONVENTION OCTOBER 23RD, 24TH, 25TH.	Bibles 20 Per Cent Discount.

During the Sunday School Convention, Oct 23rd, 24th and 25th, we will offer every Bible in our stock at a Discount of 20 Per Cent. off our already low prices There is not a finer stock of Bibles in any retail book store in Canada, and our prices have been such as to induce several orders from distant points from people who have heard from us and our low prices through some source or another.

This is an opportunity that has never been offered, and as the discount will positively be allowed for three days only we should not miss it, The following prices will give you an idea of what the discount will do for you :—

50c. Bibles for 40c,	$3.00 Bibles for $2.40
$1.00 Bibles for 80c.	$4.00 Bibles for $3.20
$2.00 Bibles for $1.60	$5.00 Bibles for $4.00

$10.00 Bibles for $8.00,
12.00 Bibles for 9.60,
15.00 Bibles for 12.00.

Bibles 20 Per Cent. Discount.	C. B. Scantlebury.	Bibles 20 Per Cent. Discount.

YOU

Will be hard to please if you don't say our new stock is the most beautiful display of elegant art china ever presented before the people of Belleville. Next week we'll be at it night and day until everything is open and in place. THE SILVER will be opened to-day—Thursday.

W. J. REID & CO'Y,

CRYSTAL HALL. Rous' Old Stand.

London and Belleville.

Of Course ....

IT IS

.... Nonsense

To spend money foolishly or buy something that you have not any use for. When you want an article that you cannot do without, for instance, COAL OR WOOD, buy the best, and always bear in mind that WE sell nothing but the best, and furthermore, we do not hesitate to claim that our present stock of all kinds of COAL and HARD and SOFT WOOD and PINE and CEDAR KINDLING has NEVER been surpassed in quality in the Belleville Market.

Our constantly increasing orders del'vrd promptly.
Our Carters are experienced and obliging.
Our Coal carefully screened and weighed.

TRY US ONCE AND WE FEEL SURE YOU WILL COME AGAIN.

S. A. LAZIER & SON'S.

The Leading Coal and Wood Merchants. Telephone C 68.

Cash is King

And when backed by low prices always wins.

Prices in our store are not copyrighted, others are permitted to copy them.

Read our "Celebrated" prices, they are chips from our block of "UNDERBUY and UNDERSELL."

Cottons, a yard wide, for 4c
Flannelettes for 5c.
All wool Flannels, 27 inches wide, for 18c,
All wool Navy Flannels, 28 inches wide, for 25c.
Dress Goods, 8, 10, 20, 25, and 50c per yard—All low values.
Ladies' all wool seamless hose, 18c.
Misses' and Boys' double ribbed, seamless and all wool hose, 20c.
Men's underwear from 50c to $5 per suit
New goods rolling in every day. We don't get them for keep-sakes. Bargains everywhere to remember us by

THE LEADING BARGAIN HOUSE.

H. A. LAYTON, BELLEVILLE.

Front St., Opposite Campbell St.

24TH - - - - - YEAR.

S. A. HYMAN, Manufacturing Furrier.

Special Prices in Ladies' Fur Capes.

Grey Lamb Capes, 18 inches long,	$15 00
" " " 24 "	18.00
Greenland Seal Capes, 24 inches long,	12.00
Empire Capes, 26 inches long,	18.00
" " 27 " Garrick Collars,	22.00
Military " 27 " with vest	22.00

See my Window for Styles.

S. A. HYMAN, OLD FURS MADE OVER IN THE LATEST STYLES.

LISTEN FRIENDS!!

We SAY because we KNOW!

Our COAL! This Season is unexcelled for quality because the Bill of Lading bears the Brand of the Delaware & Hudson Canal Company.

Cut this out and test this 'Ad' when the Winter Winds whistle.

THE RATHBUN COMPANY.

GLASGOW WAREHOUSE.

We are now showing the following novelties in

DRESS GOODS;

Watered si ks, all prices, in black, white, cream, pink, pale blue, navy, myrtle, brown, fawn, etc
B ack and colored satins.
Black satin merv.
Black pau de sire dress silks,
Black co-operative dress silks.
Black and colored velvets.
Black and colored velveteens.
Beautiful silks for blouses.
Beautiful silks for drapings
Black and grey curl trimmings.
Black and colored beaver trimmings,
Black and cream silk laces.
Black and colored button kid gloves,
Black and colored laced kid gloves
Special lines in ribbons.
Ladies' and Misses' underwear,
Ladies' and Misses' corsets.
Spot muslins and valenciennes laces for evening wear.
Light shades in henriettas and crepons, with sequence trimmings to match
Priestly & Sons' dress goods, large variety.

Dress and Mantle making and Tailoring done on the premises.

Carpets and House Furnishings in great Variety.

VANDERVOORT & GIBSON,

Successors to the late J. W. Dunnet.

Belleville, Oct, 34, 1894.

COUPON
—FOR—
PART 10.
Canada Portfolio of Art.

A Coupon) appears in all issues of this paper.

Out out this coupon and forward, together with 10 cents, to the Art Department of this paper, and you will receive one part of Canada, as mentioned above, by mail postpaid, or bring the coupon and 10 cents to this office and receive Portfolio.

NAME..

ADDRESS.......................................

N. B —Remember, only one Coupon required for each part.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, THURSDAY OCT. 25.

Our sale of goods damaged by smoke and water, will commence on Friday morning at nine o'clock. Look for bargains.—A. E. Fish & Co. 147d2t

CITY AND DISTRICT.

The amateur minstrels practice to-night.

"Is this our Indian summer?" is the general inquiry.

The claims resulting from the recent fire have been adjusted.

The W. C. T. U. will meet to-morrow at 3 o'clock in the Royal Templar's Hall.

Fish's sale of damaged goods commences on Friday morning at 9 o'clock. 147d2t

A quoit match between Claus and Kitchen, his conqueror last year, would take well now.

A young man named Birmingham, from Picton, had his leg broken in a football match in Napanee.

Strangers in the city will find great bargains in Haines & Lockett's fire sale of Boots and Shoes.

The only way to cure catarrh is to purify the blood. Hood's Sarsaporilla purifies the blood and tones up the whole system.

S. Symons, Sinclair St., found a lady's purse, containing a small amount of money on the lower bridge yesterday afternoon.

Next Wednesday evening is the date which every small boy is keeping foremost in his mind at present. It will be Hallow E'en.

Chauncey Ashley, issuer of marriage licenses, Division Court Office, Pinnacle street or at residence over Benmore & Benson's store. d&w

Peterborough schools have entirely adopted the new system of vertical writing, and the students are said to lead the province in efficency in the system.

A meeting of the Y.M.C.A. Hockey Club is called for on Thursday evening at 7:30. A full attendance is requested as important matters are to be discussed. 147d2t

It is an easy matter for fire-bugs, if there are any about, to gain an entrance to many business places on Front St. The police found three doors insecure last night.

Those of our readers who have not secured No. 9 of "Canada," that beautiful art series, can do so now. They contain the gems of Canadian scenery. Only 10 cents with coupon.

Ald. Luscombe has secured the hospital lot and will run a skating rink on it again this winter. He says if sufficient inducements are held out he would be willing to construct a hockey rink also.

J.E. Walmsley & Co., wholesale grocers announce in our advertising columns that they are supplying to the trade a new blended tea, "Morahnee," for which great excellence is claimed. Ask your grocer for it.

That crazy man on South John St., and vicinity has been identified as the notorious "Bill" Dumesnil. He tackled a member of the Ontario staff last evening and used him up badly. He should be taken care of.

The Kingston papers, the News and Whig, are at war, and a cut of one hundred per cent has been made in the retail price of the daily issues, which formerly sold at two cents. Now the price is one.

"Canada," a Canadian production, is a work that should be in every Canadian home. It is a magnificent publication, and only needs to be seen to be appreciated. Only 10 cents a number with coupon. No. 9 now in.

PROBABILITIES.

Toronto, Oct. 25.— East to south winds, fine, stationary or a little higher temperture.

ONTARIO S. S. ASSOCIATION

INTERESTING EXERCISES AT THE LATEST SESSIONS.

B. F. Jacobs and Miss Vella Give Instructive Discourses—Discussions and Hints Valuable to Teachers—Practical Addresses by Principal Grant and Others Discussed by the Delegates—Drawing Toward the Close.

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON SESSION.

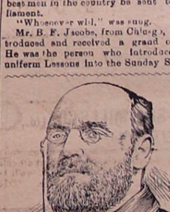

After Devotional exercises, the Treasurer's Report was presented. The total income reported was $4,629 21. The report was adopted. Mr. J. J. McLaren, Q. C., read the report of the Executive Committee, which was adopted. The principal item was the recommendation for the Incorporation of the Association.

Mr. McLaren also gave an account of his visit to the International Convention at St. Louis, and he urged the members of this Association to attend the next International Convention to be held in Boston in 1896. Mr. McLaren received thanks for his services.

T. Dixon Craig, M. P., was introduced to the Convention, and expressed his pleasure in being present. He thought that every citizen should see to it that the best men in the country be sent to Parliament.

"Whosoever will," was sung.

Mr. B. F. Jacobs, from Chicago, was introduced and received a grand ovation. He was the person who introduced the uniform Lessons into the Sunday Schools,

MR. ALFRED DAY,
SEC'Y. PROVINCIAL S. S. ASSOC'N.

which are now almost universally adopted.

Rev. J. McEwen delivered an address on the "Ideal Teacher," whom he described as humble, prayerful, sympathetic, and helpful. Jesus Christ was regarded as an Ideal Teacher who should be imitated by the S. School Teacher.

"He leadeth me," was sung.

Mr. Geo. Anderson addressed the Convention on the International Bible Reading Association, of which there are now more than half a million of readers.

Mr. George M. Elliott, of Napanee, spoke a short time on How may the Sabbath School "fifth" of your population reach the other four "fifths." Owing to sickness he was unable to proceed.

"Come to the Saviour," was sung.

Mr. Jacobs took up the question introduced by Mr. Elliott, and said the only way to reach the four-fifths of our population was to go after them. They cannot be reached otherwise and when you reach them don't leave them until you can bring them with you. To accomplish this desirable end, a system of house to house visitation must be organized. You must assign districts to two persons each and they must not be content to go once or twice, but must go repeatedly. Such a system as now recommended has been started in several places known unto the speaker with grand results. They are now visiting Connecticut for the 17th time.

Here we will give a short account of two of the District Conferences which were held in the forenoon, the reports of which we could not obtain for yesterday's edition.

The Pastors' Conference was held in John St. Presbyterian church. Rev. S. Houston, M. A., Kingston, occupied the chair. The subject considered was, How may the Sabbath School become assimilated to and by the church. It was said that the rendering of the age is specializ tion. Mr. Bennett followed Mr. Houston and said it was a question if this may not do harm in this department of the work. The church is the ideal religious organization and the Sabbath School is the junior. The first thing he recommended for this was to elect and install the officials in the presence of the parents and children. A missionary spirit should be cultivated in the School, it being essential to the church. The same hymnal should be used in the church and the school. As far as possible the denominational doctrines and polity should be taught to the children and they should be taught to realize spirituality equally with the older members.

Rev. J. R. Black urged the duty of the pulpit to the children, special sermons should be preached, not in dry technical theological phraseology, but to bring the children to Christ.

The Intermediate teachers assembled in the Methodist Tabernacle S. S. room. Chairman Mr. Hamilton, Toronto; Mr. R. Kerr, Secretary.

Dr. Tilley, of Bowmanville, introduced the subject, "The best methods of preparation." He opened by asking for the aims of preparation, and drew from the teachers the three aims each teacher should have for himself. 1. To know his lesson. 2. To know his class. 3. To know how to teach the lesson to his class. For his scholars the teacher's aim should be, (1) memory storing, (2) mind awakening, (3) character building. A teacher must know what he wishes to teach. But besides getting knowledge he must know his class to whom he wishes to communicate that knowledge. He must know his scholars individually, their home life, their street life, their habits, their tastes, their desires, how they view the bible, whether they are from homes where God's Word is honored, or from homes where that Word is neglected and perhaps doubted or rejected. Then he must know how to reach his scholars and to cause them to understand the lessons he has paepared for them. He must not be satisfied in preparing simply to entertain his class, to spend a half hour in giving them information. He must, of course, have the information at hand and endeavor, to impart as his class may be able to assimilate. Memory storing for his scholars is of far less importance than mind awaking. That from say six to fourteen or fifteen the child's memory is very active and should be taken advantage of in our teaching and in storing these minds with gems of thought, and important passages of God's Word. From say eight to fifteen or sixteen the child's mind opens up to thought, hence the age to teach with a view to mind awaking. This, perhaps, is the range of intermediate work in our Sunday schools. We have to consider then how to prepare for teaching for mind awakening. We must judge of the success of our preparation by the amount of character building we accomplish as the weeks pass on. Let us take care how we build. Coming to the methods of preparation, the doctor took up first those in which the bible itself is used. (1) Read the lesson carefully early in the week, for leading thoughts and general analysis. (2) Study the connection of the lesson with preceding lessons and with those which follow (3) Consult marginal references for connections, parallel passages, scripture analogy, etc. (4) Give special thought to words and phrases of difficult or obscure meaning. After a careful and independent study of the lesson from the bible itself, thinking, praying, meditating on and over its difficulties, the teacher is ready for lesson helps so far as available and as time will allow. These should be issued for (1) to stimulate thought, (2) to correct errors (3) to get additional light, (4) to get illustration.

Lesson plan was then outlined. Not that all should use the same plan, not that any one teacher should always use the same plan from question to question. The following was suggested as an outline:

(1) Select the leading truth.
(2) Cluster the minor truths around it.
(3) Gather illustrations suitable for your class.
(4) Arrange line of approach and your application.

The following hints on preparation were then given:

(1) Begin early in the week and do a little daily.
(2) Study independently, using the thoughts of others not to displace but to quicken your own.
(3) Talk with others about the lesson, in the family, in the teachers' meetings, and in social life.
(6) Do not expect to teach all you propose. About one thought in ten will be enough.
(6) Pray, meditate, be in earnest.

Some hints were given to help in analysis, or division of the lesson, as follows—not claimed as original or particularly recommended:

(1) What does lesson say? What does it teach? Why was it written?
(2) What? why? what of it?
(2) When? where? whom? what? why?
(4) Places, persons, parallel passages, precepts, purpose.
(5) Bible—Book in which lesson is found, when written by whom, etc. I.—Intention of lesson, etc. B.—Blessings, following the leaving and obeying the truths of the lesson. L.—Losses, likely to follow the neglect of learning and obeying. E.—Exhortations, experiences and examples,

The discussions and hints must be most valuable to the large number of teachers in their future work.

Remainder of the afternoon session in the Convention.

Rev. John M. Ewen gave an address on "The Ideal Teacher," which was eminently practical, calculated to be very helpful to those engaged in the work. There was, he said, the ideal teacher and the teacher's ideal. The teacher must understand what he has to teach, for how can he teach others what he does not understand himself? To do this he must prepare by study, and the more he does of this the more he will become the ideal teacher. The better he is prepared the more the scholars will appreciate his efforts for their welfare.

Miss. Vella, who may be regarded as a Model Primary class teacher, and who has done yeoman service at this convention, having delivered two addresses already, to day, and delivered two others at the evening session, for after speaking in the church she went to the overflow meeting and repeated her address, which she had already given in the church, so that she was truly in labors more abundant.

This afternoon she gave a model address bearing the title "Supplementary work in primary teaching, illustrated by the use of the 'sand table'." She had some half dozen little girls on the platform with her, whom she employed in making objects with the damp sand, which added greatly to the interest of the occasion.

She said teachers must be careful how they act before their children, as they are observing creatures. They must be remarkable for their prayer, preparation, patience, perseverance, and punctuality. Have everything in order when wanted. Don't give the scholars a chance to get into mischief. Keep in mind that the Sunday School hour is to be reverential as much so as the church service.

A model lesson was here given. How make the school a happy place? A system of correspondence is adopted in some schools. Little letters are written to the children. The cost is trifling. There should be birth day letters, mother's letters, mother's receptions and children's social—all useful. A system of visitations should be adopted. Call on the children on their birthdays. "At Homes" for children are good. Take care of the class by illustrating the lessons. They should be brief, appropriate, and several incidents were related. Every lesson should tend to inform the mind, and impress the heart. Close with a brief prayer.

Buds and blossoms may be taught. Make the room attractive. Act as fishers of men. Children go forth and fish for scholars.

Ripened fruit should be sought, child christians. A most delightful session was brought to a close by the Secretary of the Business Committee announcing the names of the new Executive Committee. Every county in the province was represented. In addition to the permanent officers, there is a Sub-Executive in Toronto, which acts during the year.

WEDNESDAY EVENING.

Long before the hour announced for opening the service the church was full to overflowing. The people were literally packed into every available place. The platform was well occupied by the speakers and resident clergy, among whom we observed Rev. Dr. Carman, General Superintendent of the Methodist Church; Rev. E. Roberts and several others. A delightful service was first held. Mr. Blight and his assistant seemed to make this part of the programme increasingly interesting. The church having been filled until no more could possibly obtain even standing room, an overflow meeting was held in the school room, at which Dr. Harrison, of Keene, presided, where Mr. Jacobs first spoke, followed by Miss Vella and the young people from the Deaf and Dumb Institute, who, in addition to the exercise they went through in the church, also repeated the Lord's Prayer by signs.

Rev. Mr. Maclean conducted the devotional exercises in the church. Miss Vella gave the opening address on "The Ideal in practice," which was a real object lesson, as she had a great variety of pictures and objects which she used and recommended every teacher to make one such for every Sabbath lesson. She explained how they could be made, as a pair of scissors and a piece of pasteboard were the chief requisites.

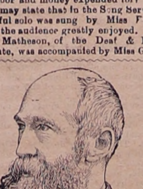

Principal Grant, of Queen's College, Kingston, delivered a most eloquent address on the Sabbath School in relation to National Progress. He amused the audience not a little by stating that he had inserted the letters in his pocketbook, N. P., for National progress, which brought down the house and prevented him for some time proceeding. When calmness was restored he explained what he understood by national progress, and showed from history that the only progress worthy the name was moral progress, righteousness alone exalteth the nation. Small countries are those which have exerted this kind of influence on other nations, as instance Switzerland and Scotland. A comparison was made between England and France, in both of which education has lately made great advance, but in the former, crime, especially juvenile crime, has decreased, while in France the same kind of crime has fearfully increased, which was accounted for by reason of the kind of education taught, in the one religion is taught but in France none is taught. As to Canada, our system of education is purely secular. True, the Bible is read very briefly in the schools, but no religion is taught; here Sabbath Schools alone supply the lack, which, of course, he thought was too little, but the state of things teaches us what is our duty in the premises. Every means should be adopted to make Sunday School teachers efficient. They never can become too well qualified for their work. Public school teachers are becoming better qualified and children will not accept less efficiency in the Sabbath School than they get in the Public Schools. Teachers should especially be pious, but they should possess intelligent piety, give a reason of the hope that is in them. They must prove by their conduct that their main object is to lead the children to Christ.

"Let the lower lights be burning," was sung with great power.

Mr. B. F. Jacobs was next introduced, and gave a characteristic address on world wide Sabbath School work. The hour was late, near 10 o'clock, but he held his audience. He is a master in the work and devotes much time to the progress of Sabbath Schools. His account of what the International Committee is doing was the best answer to the question. What is all this labor and money expended for?

We may state that in the Song Service a beautiful solo was sung by Miss Ficton, which the audience greatly enjoyed.

Mr. Matheson, of the Deaf & Dumb Institute, was accompanied by Miss Green,

REV. DR. GRANT, M.A., LL D,
PRINCIPAL QUEEN'S UNIVERSITY.

who is herself Deaf and Dumb—and some 20 pupils, 10 of whom stood on the platform arrayed in white. They excited the sympathy of the audience as they rendered by signs, "Nearer my God to Three," and "Every day and every hour, &c."

THURSDAY MORNING SESSION.

A Sunrise Prayer meeting was held in the Lecture Room, commencing at 6:45 a. m. At least 100 were present. Mr. Jacobs conducted the service. The service was one of deep interest and all felt it good to be there. Mr. Jacobs expounded the Lesson of next Sabbath. He had not time to do more than give pointers and now and then an incident of his own experience was related. His object was to help the Teachers and make the Lesson so interesting that they would not on any account absent themselves from the School. If all Teachers had a helper such as Mr. Jacobs is, no doubt they would become better qualified, but let them not be discouraged. Get all the help they can and boil down until they can put all their good things into order and then pour them forth.

At 9 o'clock the session proper was opened by a service of song. Rev. Mr. McCormick read the scripture lesson and offered the first prayer.

The Business Committee reported through Dr. Harrison that there was a slight deficit in the funds, and that now they appealed for funds to carry on the work, and $5,000 would enable the Board to get through the year successfully. The Executive thought that 2 cents per member would more than cover the amount required. Pledges were then given and the Committee were called in order.

Mr. Jacobs wanted Canada to double their contribution to the International Committee, as they want to employ a colored man to labor among the colored men of the South, and also increase the agency of Mr. Reynolds, as he is not able to overlook the work assigned him.

After going over the counties seriatim, Mr. Jacobs appealed for personal subscriptions; a great number responded, some paying $10, $5, $2, $1, and then in a good-natured manner he suggested the propriety of taking a collection.

The Convention by a rising vote approved of the Executive increasing their contribution to the International Committee work.

"Battle Cry" song was sung.

Mr. Jacobs addressed the Convention for a few minutes. He said: We study the Bible, the word of God. He had great love for the ministry, who are men poorly paid and work hard. There were many grumblers to-day who have taken every degree in grumbling college and have come out, knowing as little as they did when they went in. The word of God is too little studied. There is too little expository preaching and too little time spent at prayer meetings reading the Bible. Better break up the present plans as soon as possible and study the word of God. We want more acquaintance with the Bible in all departments of christian labor. Too little time spent at family prayer and he feared the study of the Bible was mostly done in the Sabbath School. There may be reading and not study. Mr. Jacobs gave many incidents. Closed at noon.

NOTES OF THE CONVENTION.

The D. & D. Institute has been a great centre of attraction for the delegates. Yesterday about seventy of them went through the institution and this morning about twenty more took advantage of Mr. Mathison's invitation. A great many more will likely go up this afternoon.

The Convention closed at five o'clock this afternoon.

Death of a Former Resident.

News reached here to-day of the death of Mrs. Jane Cardinell, which occured at Portland, Oregon, on the 14th inst. Mrs. Cardinell was the wife of Charles Cardinell, and was well-known to the old residents of Belleville. She was the daughter of the late William K. Blaind, one of the pioneers in educational matters in this district, and a sister of Mrs. Hugh Walker and Sergt. Major William Blaind of this city. She and her husband had been residents of the far west since 1855 She is survived by her husband, (after over fifty years of wedded life), and a son and daughter.

$5 Suits Sell Well.

When the Oak Hall get a line of suits to sell at $5 such as they now have, the public are not slow to appreciate the value offered them. You should see them sell. If you want one, and wait too long, don't blame us if we have none left.

Catarrh – Use Nasal Balm. Quick, positive cure. Soothing, cleansing, healing.

MARRIED AT SHANNONVILLE.

W. J. Magrath, of this City, and Miss Ada Lake, of Deseronto, are One.

Mr. W. J. Magrath, of this city, bookkeeper for Hodgson Bros., cheese exporters, was married at 8:30 last evening, to Miss Ada Lake, of Deseronto, at the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. M. D Lake, Shannonville. Rev. R. Taylor, of Deseronto, securely tied the knot, in the presence of a company of invited guests. Miss Ida Knight, daughter of Dr. Knight, of Bloomfield, was bridesmaid, and Mr. W. J. Embury, of the Post Office staff, acted as groomsman. Two little tots, Ada Anderson and Louis Lake, were pages. After a wedding supper, the happy couple came to their home on Hillside Street, this city.

Mr. Magrath has been a resident of this city for some years past, and has made many friends, who will wish him and his wife bon voyage on the journey of life.

Mrs. Magrath, before leaving Deseronto, recently resigned her position as teacher in the Sabbath school of the Methodist church. The pupils in her class wishing to show their appreciation of her services, called the other evening at the residence of Mr. Frank Lake and presented her with a silver toothpick holder, accompanied by an address. Miss Lake was a faithful and efficient teacher, and the school sustains a decided loss by her departure.

INJURED ON PINNACLE STREET.

And the City is Called Upon to Pay the $5,000 Damages—Another Action.

Mrs. Ernest Bulpit was going up Pinnacle St. Saturday evening last, when she stepped in a hole in the sidewalk and fell, severely injuring herself.

This morning Dennis Lake was in court, charged with letting one of his horses run at large, and it is claimed that while on the street the horse ran on the sidewalk and broke the board through which Mrs. Bulpit fell. Lake claimed the horse in question was in charge of a boy and that a train frightened it, causing it to run on the sidewalk.

Mr. W. P. McMahon has issued a writ for Mrs. Bulpit against the city for $5000 damages for injuries caused by the fall.

Mr. McMahon has also given notice of action for $1000 on behalf of Miss Stella Brady, daughter of a Grand Trunk engineer, on similar grounds.

Chancery Sittings.

Graham vs. Graham.—Action on behalf of Margaret M. Graham to realize on her annuity charged against the Metropolitan Block in this city, and to have the annuity declared prior charge to the mortgage held by deft., Wm. Leonard. An offer being made by S. S. Lazier of $10,250 for the property, the court sanctioned the sale, the proceeds to be applied to payment of deft. Leonard's mortgage, $7,157 and costs, $2,500 to plff in full of her claim, she to pay her own costs, and $150 to the solicitors for Grace Annie Graham and her children. E. Guss Porter and John Parker Thomas for pff.; S. Masson and F. S. Wallbridge for deft. Leonard; W. H. Biggar for Grace Annie Graham and infant defts.

Rosebush vs. Rosebush.—Action to declare support, maintenance and education of plff. during his minority under will of late Edward Rosebush. Referred to local Master to wind up the estate of the late Edward Rosebush. Clute & Williams for plff; Flint & McCamon, C. E. Lyons and A. J. Anderson for defts.

Claus vs. Webb.—Action on bond to recover lands in Brighton and damages for trespass. Settled between the parties. Clute & Williams for plff; Webb, Hocey Mills for deft.

McLaren vs. Payne.—Action to recover $260,000 overdue interest upon stock held by Senator Payne, of Cleveland, Ohio, in the Central Ontario Railway, and which stock plff. claims is not fully paid up. The case was called and set down for hearing in Toronto by consent. Bell & Biggar for plff.; Beatty, Blackstock, Nesbitt & Chadwick for deft.

Wescott vs. Conly.—Action to set aside a conveyance from Nancy Wescott to Geo. T. Wescott on ground of fraud. Dismissed with costs. J. Parker Thomas for plff; Clute & Williams and Ponton & Morden for deft.

Lock et al vs. Clark et al.—Action to set aside the will of the late William Dunk, of Campbellford, on the grounds of undue influence and incapability through illness. Case dismissed with costs. C. D. Macaulay for plffs; A. L. Colville, John Hoskins, Q. C., and Wm. Davidson for defts.

Eastwood vs. Stiles.—Action to recover possession of lands in Rawdon, which were sold under conditions which were not fulfilled. Case still in progress. A. A. McDonald for plff; J. E. Halliwell for deft.

SOCIAL & PERSONAL

Jas. Haggerty, M. P. P., was in town to day.

Mr. Geo. Kingston, Toronto, is in the city.

Mr. Jas. Fry, Collingwood, is the guest of Wm. Cook.

L. Smyth, Madoc; G. O. Egan, Montreal; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Moon, Hamilton; H. C Webb, Cobourg, are guests at the Huffman.

W. H. Little and wife, L. A. Little and wife and F. W. McConnell and wife Trenton; M. A. Madole and E. S Lapum, Napanee, are among the guests at the Anglo.

SPORTING NEWS

The City Football team played the Albert College team on the grounds of the latter yesterday afternoon, and when darkness set in neither team had scored.

The City's and Mutes play their second game to morrow afternoon on the new cricket field, East Bridge St.

Following will compose the city team for to morrow: Goal, Wollver; backs, Marsh and Moon; half backs, Jamieson, Twining and Sotherland; forwards, Nash, Rous, Cummings, Conger, and Kelso. Game called at 3:30

When Others Fail.

Hood's Sarsaparilla builds up the shattered system by giving vigorous action to the digestive organs, creating an appetite and purifying the blood. It is prepared by modern methods, possesses the great curative powers, and has the most wonderful record of actual cures of any medicine in existence. Take only Hood's.

Hood's Pills are purely vegetable, and do not purge, pain or gripe. 25c.

No. 13.

We have some great bargains in Girl's boots size 13, fine. Lace and Button at 75 cents, fine kid. Boots worth $2 for $1 —Vermilyea & Son.

Marriages.

Magrath—Lake —In Shannonville, on the 24 inst., by Rev R. Taylor, pastor of the bride, Mr. William J Magrath of Belleville, to Miss Ada T. Lake, of Deseronto

Lane's Medicine Moves the Bowels Each Day

In order to be healthy this is necessary.

RACING AT FOXBORO.

A Pleasant Afternoon's Sport on the New Race Track.

The first race meeting on the new half-mile race track on the Ashley farm, near Foxboro, took place yesterday afternoon, with a fair degree of success. There was a good attendance, despite threatening weather, and the sport, although tame, was yet enjoyed by the crowd.

The track is well constructed. It is of the regulation shape, the turns well thrown up, and it is nearly on a level. It was in excellent order yesterday and although the time made over it was slow, the day was not favorable to fast time. Following is a brief account of the day's sport:

THREE MINUTE CLASS.—HALF MILE HEATS.

Kate O'Brien, br. m., E. K. ney, Picton..	1	1	1
Black Jess, blk m., D. Lake, Belleville.	2	2	3
Lady Watson, b.m, S. Cook Brighton.	3	3	2

Time—1:19, 1:20, 1:18.

The old bay pacing mare won as she pleased, and Black Jess had no trouble in taking second place.

COLT RACE, HALF MILE HEATS.

Little Hazel, gr. m. R. Hewitt, Brighton	1	1	1
Harry Nutgrove, b.h. H. Ashley, Belleville	2	2	2
Little Maud, b.m J. Latta Shannonville	3	3	3
Daisy H, b. m. Picton, ...	4	4	4

Time—1:25, 1:28, 12: 2,

This was another procession, Little Hazel being by far the best of the bunch. She is a handsome young mare, and will be heard of in the future. Daisy H was fast enough to have made a good race for second, but would not trot when up with the other horses.

NAMED RACE—HALF MILE HEATS.

Mambrino Sheridan, br. h., S. Currie, Belleville,	1	1	1
Annie Laurie, b.m., R. Fairman, Canifton	2	2	2
Kentucky Chief, b. h., S. Barnum, Madoc	3	3	3

Time—1:22, 1:23, 1:26.

This was the best race of the day, Mambrino Sheridan an Mr. Fairman's pacer being well matched. Mr. Curry drove his own horse to victory and was congratulated on his skill with the ribbons.

FREE FOR ALL—MILE HEATS.

Kate O'Brien..........................	1	2	1	1
Picket Boy, rn., g., B. Weese, Am'b..	2	1	2	3
Black Jess...........................	3	3	3	2

Time—2:38, 2:47, 2:39, 2:42.

The old mare was pulled out a second time and won quite handily. She finished first in the second heat, but was set back for running. Picket Boy was second at the wire in the last heat, but was set back for a long run.

This brought the afternoon's sport to a close, and the rain began to sprinkle as the crowd took their way homeward.

Harford Ashley has probably done as much for the Grit party and the Grit farmers around Foxboro as any other man, but yesterday afternoon there were well-to-do farmers who, rather than pay the admission fee, drove up close to the fence, and took in the races without cost to themselves. Mr. Ashley has built a fine track, but unfortunately he has no fence that cannot be seen over between it and the road, and several took advantage of it.

A Shooting Match.

On Monday last a shooting match took place at Holloway between sides chosen from all the men and boys in that village and vicinity. The conditions were that each animal and bird shot should count so many points and the side getting the least number of points should buy an oyster supper for the whole party. Some of the defeated side claim that their opponents bought game, but they got the oysters and had a jolly time after the hunt.

The Sight.

Spectacles to be of benefit to the wearer must first have the lenses properly adjusted to the amount of defective sight, which can only be ascertained by a test with accurate trial lenses; then the frame must suitably fit the face. L. W. Yeomans & Co. are devoting special attention to spectacle fitting. Spectacles and eyeglasses of all kinds constantly in stock.

At our fire sale (to-morrow) Friday, we we shall sell Underwear, Flannel Shirts, Neckties and Braces at prices that will astonish you. A. E. Fish & Co.

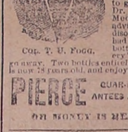

We know whereof we affirm when we state that Ayer's Pills, taken promptly, at the first symptoms of colds and fevers, arrest further progress of these disorders, and speedily restore the stomach, liver, and bowels, to their normal and regular action.

The Brockville Recorder printed, on Monday, a picture of Hon. A. M. Ross, as that of Rev Principal Grant. Surely the editorial staff had been celebrating the football victory of Saturday until a late date.—Whig

A G. T. R. ballast train jumped the track Tuesday night on the Midland Division. The cause of the mishap is alleged to have been the spreading of the rails. No one was hurt, but considerable trouble was experienced in getting the heavily laden cars back on the rails again.

Carbuncles Large as Hen's Eggs!

Mrs. Nannie Gouldman, of Beulahville, King William Co., Va., writes as follows: "For about eight or ten years my father, Col. T. U. Fogg, of West Point, Va., was laid up with carbuncles, the worst that I ever saw. He tried everything he heard of, his doctor could do nothing for him. Had six or seven carbuncles at a time, as large as hen's eggs. He got so weak and suffered so much he could not walk a step. In 1872 he had his bed put in the middle of his room and got on it to die. No one expected him to get well. He saw Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery advised for all blood disorders. Before he had taken half-a-bottle of 'Discovery' they began to go away. Two bottles entirely cured him. He is now 78 years old, and enjoys good health."

Col. T. U. Fogg.

PIERCE GUARANTEES A CURE OR MONEY IS REFUNDED.

OUR GREAT : SALE - - - OF - - - GOODS Damaged by SMOKE AND WATER, Will commence FRIDAY Morning AT 9 O'CLOCK.

Look our for Bargains

A. E. FISH & CO.

Hood's Cured After Others Failed

Scrofula in the Neck—Bunches All Gone Now.

Sangerville, Maine.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"Gentlemen:—I feel that I cannot say enough in favor of Hood's Sarsaparilla. For five years I have been troubled with scrofula in my neck and throat. Several kinds of medicines which I tried did not do me any good, and when I commenced to take Hood's Sarsaparilla there were large bunches on my neck so sore that I could not bear the slightest touch. When I had taken one bottle of this medicine, the soreness had gone, and before I had finished the second the bunches had entirely disappeared." Blanche Atwood, Sangerville, Maine.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

N. B. If you decide to take Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to buy any other.

Hood's Pills cure constipation by restoring the peristaltic action of the alimentary canal.

A Graduate of Toronto University says:

"My children have been treated with Scott's Emulsion from their earliest years! Our physician first recommended it and now whenever a child takes cold my wife immediately resorts to this remedy, which which always effects a cure."

Rugs!

Many Housekeepers

Fail to recognize the amount of furnishings and the cozy, warm appearance a few nice selected Rugs give the home.

Within the last few years a complete revolution has taken place in the use as well as in the improved style and character of Floor Rugs. Their area of usefulness is not now restricted as of old to the cheerful hearth. They are now used for a great variety of purposes.

We have them in stock from the small door mat at 35c each to the large Tapestry and Brussels Squares up to $37 50 They comprise the following different makes:

Smyrna,
Wilton,
Moquette,
Axminster,
Dag Dag's,
Cocoa.
Sheepskin,
Goatskin,
Goorka,
Velvet,
Mohair.
Linoleum.

We will be pleased to have you inspect them.

GEO. RITCHIE & CO.

Home Furnishers.

Changed Daily.

"SAY A LITTLE BUT SAY IT STRONG."

Thursday, Oct. 25th.

NINE . .
WEEKS
TILL . .
XMAS.

Not very long is it, and it will soon slip by. We are making preparations for it and hope to have the nicest goods and the most tempting prices we have ever had for Christmas goods. Do you buy your tea and coffee from us? Why not begin now, and if you like our tea and coffee, see what you tickets will bring you at Christmas?

Stroud's
TEA STORE.

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS:

THREE RUNNING SORES

PHYSICIANS FAILED

BUT B.B.B. CURED

A SCALY ERUPTION

UNENDURABLE ITCHING

Suffered Three Years—Now Perfectly Cured by B.B.B.

PURIFIES THE BLOOD

HAPPY HOME RANGES.

Best in the Market

—ALSO—

A Full Line of

Art Garland

and

Famous Heaters

—(o)—

Wm. McGIE.

Next to Nathan Jones.

Telephone 38. Front S

LAKEHURST SANITARIUM

OAKVILLE, ONT.

For treatment and cure of

ALCOHOLISM, MORPHINE HABIT, TOBACCO HABIT AND NERVOUS DISEASES.

The system employed at this Institution is the familiar Double Chloride of Gold System. Through its agency over 200,000 Slaves to the use of these poisons have been emancipated in the last fourteen years. Lakehurst Sanitarium is the oldest Institution of the kind in Canada, and has a well earned reputation to maintain in this line of medicine. In its whole history there is not an instance of failure to remove the appetite for these poisons. In its whole history there is not an instance of any after ill effects from the treatment. Hundreds of happy homes in all parts of the Dominion bear eloquent witness to the efficacy of a course of treatment with us. For terms and full information write

THE SECRETARY,

28 Bank of Commerce Chambers,

aug7d3m34w8u) Toronto, Ont.

NEW HATS and CAPS TO COVER

OUR HEADS.

GEO. P. MINAKER.

REMOVAL

MR. JOSEPH CALDWELL, DENTIST

Has removed his office to the new premises which he has specially fitted up in the

Caldwell Block,

First door south of the Anglo-American Hotel Front street. 108t

INSURANCE.

Western Assurance Company,

Fire and Marine Head Office, Toronto.

North British & Mercantile Ins. Co.,

Fire and Life, Head Office (Can.) Montreal

Atlas Insurance Company,

Fire Head Office (Canada), Montreal

M. M. THOMPSON

Water Works Office, Bridge St

Daily Intelligencer.

A Wonderful Cure.

Mr. David Smith, Coe Hill, Ont., writes: "For the benefit of others I wish to say a few words about Northrop & Lyman's VEGETABLE DISCOVERY. About a year ago I took a severe cough and had a virulent sore on my lips, was bad with dyspepsia, constipation and general debility. I tried almost every conceivable remedy, outwardly and inwardly to cure the sore, but all to no purpose. I had often thought of trying Northrop & Lyman's VEGETABLE DISCOVERY, so I got a bottle and when I had used about one half the sore showed evident signs of healing. By the time that bottle was done it had about disappeared and my general health was improving fast. I was always of a very bilious habit and had used quinine and lemon juice with very little effect. But since using 3 bottles of the VEGETABLE DISCOVERY the biliousness was entirely gone and my general health is excellent. I am 60 years old. Parties using it should continue it for some time after they think they are cured. It is by far the best health restorer I know."

Big words won't split rails.

Holloway's Corn Cure destroys all kinds of corns and warts root and branch. Who then would endure them with such a cheap and effectual remedy within reach?

Where fathers flee mothers fight.

Sweet is the champion fertilizer.

BAD BLOOD causes Blotches, Boils, Pimples, Abscesses, Ulcers, Scrofula, etc. Burdock Blood Bitters cures Bad Blood in any form from a common Pimple to the worst Scrofula Sore.

The blackguard is the chief of slime.

Some people laugh to show their pretty teeth. The use of Ivory White Tooth Powder makes people laugh more than ever. It's so nice. Price 25c. Sold by druggists.

Most farms pasture too many fences.

Much distress and sickness in children is caused by worms. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator gives relief by removing the cause. Give it a trial and be convinced.

Ache corns do not grow on boot trees.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP strengthens the lungs and cures all throat troubles, coughs colds, etc.

Scalding tears will scar the fairest cheek.

Out of Sorts—Symptoms, Headache, loss of appetite, furred tongue and general prostration. These symptoms, if neglected, develop into acute disease. It is a trite saying that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," and a little attention at this point may save months of sickness and large doctor's bills. For those complaint take from two to three of Parmelee's Vegetable Pills on going to bed, and one or two for three nights in succession, and a cure will be effected

Back books contain many tales of fashion.

HAGYARD'S PECTORAL BALSAM cures Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis and all Throat and Lung Troubles.

TO LET.

TO LET 2 new, warm brick houses in terrace, situated on Harriett St., West Belleville, known as Morten's, or Fillter's terrace. For terms if rent apply to R. G. Fillter, collector, or sub agent to the estate of the late H E Fillter Residence at Mr Jardin's Corner of William and Dundas Sts., East Belleville. 85d2m

MONTHLY DIVIDENDS!!

Syndicate Trading

$10 00 UPWARDS,

40 Per Cent. Profit in September, 1894

Stock Exchange Risks less than Trade Risks. Stock Exchange Profits Greater than any Trade Profits.

Syndicate Trading is conducted with smallest individual risk while the greatest possible profits are earned for each investor. Syndicate Trading is a LEGITIMATE road to wealth. A small sum quickly becomes a yearly income.

Anyone can Share Our Profits!!

Send $10 00 or upwards in registered letter by post or money order or New York draft, payable to New York Trading Co., or A. W. Pearse, Manager.

All money at your credit can be withdrawn first of month when accounts are rendered. The elections will make active markets. This is a grand opportunity to make money. Details mailed free References furnished. Representatives wanted

New York Trading Company,

17 & 19 Broadway, New York City.

McLaughlin's

QUEEN FLOUR

Which is warranted

THE BEST IN CANADA

For sale by

Chas. E. Bishop.

Bridge St., Belleville,

Send him an order.

RUSSIA'S CZAR STILL LIVES

He May Linger On For Three Weeks the Doctors Think.

DIFFICULT TO KEEP HIM AWAKE

Much Relief Given by Puncturing His Limbs—Another Operation to Be Performed to Alleviate the Distress in Breathing—There is No Improvement in His Malady.

PARIS, Oct. 25.—A dispatch to the Figaro sent from Odessa at midnight last night says the Czar's death is imminent. The drowsiness which is frequently apparent just before the end has set in. The death of Grand Duke George, the second son of the Czar, according to the Gazette, is a question of a few days. A despatch received here from Livadia by a government official says that the death of the Czar is expected in a few hours. There is growing anxiety in French government circles.

BERLIN, Oct. 25.—The Yalta correspondent of the Lokal Anzeiger says: "Prof. Leyden's system of feeding has done much to support the Czar's strength. The patient is fed at 7 and 11 in the morning, 4 in the afternoon and 9 in the evening. It is reported that a prominent court officer at St. Petersburg has received from Livadia the following despatch: "It is not expected that the death of the Czar will occur even in the next forty-eight hours, and it is probable that his Majesty's life will be prolonged for a much longer time."

LONDON, Oct. 25.—A medical correspondent telegraphed from Livadia yesterday saying that the Czar had been much relieved by the puncture of his lungs, which is reducing the oedma. Preparations are being made for the operation of thoracentesis in order to relieve the effusion into the thoracic cavity, which will doubtless relieve the distressed breathing of the patient and restore the action of his heart. But, says this correspondent in conclusion, there is little or no improvement in his malady.

The Moscow correspondent of the Pall Mall Gazette telegraphs that the drowsiness with which the Czar has been affected is increasing, and it is almost impossible for his Majesty to keep awake except when he is attacked by the nervous spasms which frequently seize him. Nevertheless he is able to take and retain more food. The wedding of the Czarewith and Princess Alix depends entirely upon the condition of his Majesty.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 25.—An imperial decree issued yesterday declares Grand Duke Michael, third son of the Czar heir apparent to the throne after the accession of Grand Duke Nicholas, the present heir apparent. Grand Duke George, the Czar's second son, in consequence of the condition of his health has renounced his rights of succession.

BERLIN, Oct. 25.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Koelnische Zeitung says it is rumored that the Czar's physicians have hopes that he will live two or three weeks, and consequently have favored postponing the wedding.

SAD DEATH IN OTTAWA.

Patrick Tobin, a Well-Known Horseman, Dies From Alcholic Poisoning.

OTTAWA, Oct. 25.—Pat. Tobin, at one time one of the best horseman in the this district, was found dead yesterday morning in Kirby's drug store in this city. Tobin is known to Toronto and Montreal horsemen, having spent most of last summer between these cities. He was about 35 years of age. It is thought he may have been tampering with some of the bottles in the store in search for whisky. An inquest was held and a verdict of alcholic poisoning brought in.

The funeral of the late John Ahern, of Duke street, took place such a tragic death while hunting on the Petewawa last Sunday, took place yesterday afternoon and was very largely attended.

NEWS FROM HAMILTON.

Proposal to Connect Dundas With the T., H. & B.—An Old Resident Dead.

HAMILTON, Oct. 25.—The Hamilton Bridge Company's works are being carried on under an arrangement with Assignee C. S. Scott, and it is probable that at the creditors' meeting on Monday next arrangements for the carrying on of the business will be made.

H. B. Osler, Q. C., has written to the mayor of Dundas proposing that for a bonus of $25,000 he will convert the Hamilton and Dundas Street Railway into an electric road, with rails and roadbed heavy enough for steam trams, his idea being to run freight trains from the junction with the Toronto, Hamilton and Buffalo road to Dundas.

A telegram from Buffalo announces the sudden death of ex-Health Inspector Ford of Hamilton. Mr. Ford has been a resident of Hamilton for over forty-five years and was visiting his son in Buffalo.

Would Have Killed 100 Men.

NEW ROCHELLE, N.Y., Oct. 25.—For some time past there has been bad blood between Pat Reilly and Frank Murray, two of a gang of 100 laborers engaged building a sewer near here. Last night, after the men had retired to the shanty where they live, Reilly went outside and a few minutes after was discovered in a fiendish plot to dynamite the house and blow the whole gang into eternity, in order to be revenged on one man. He had 18 pounds of dynamite under the sill of the house. He was arrested.

Warrant for Howell, the Suicide.

IONIA, Mich., Oct. 25.—Justice Curry issued a warrant Monday for the arrest of Carson M. Howell, the life insurance agent who committed suicide in Canada, on complaint of State Agent Aldeman, of Detroit, for the embezzlement of $1500 from an Ionia citizen. A telegram was soon after received announcing his death.

Father Killed, Family Injured.

BUFFALO, Oct. 25.—At Watts Flatts near Jamestown Alonzo Eddy driving his family across the Erie railroad track had his conveyance struck by the flyer. Eddy was killed, his wife badly and two daughters slightly injured.

Suicided Near Listowel.

LISTOWEL, Ont., Oct. 25.—Francis Kelly, an aged man, deliberately committed suicide by throwing himself in front of the train arriving here at 2.45 p.m. yesterday. This occurred just north of Listowel station, about one and a half miles out.

Anarchists Leaving London.

LONDON, Oct. 25.—Numbers of leading English and foreign anarchists are vacating their haunts in London, and the majority are proceeding singly to America. The reason for this migration is the incessant harassing they have been subjected to on account of the vigilance of the police. Mowbray, the socialist leader, will shortly return to the United States.

May Raise the Rates.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—L. C. Weir, President of the Adams Express Co., stated today that the presidents of the various express companies have been conferring on the advisability of raising the express rates for the transportation of money on account of heavy losses recently from the many robberies.

Seargeant Is Satisfied.

MONTREAL, Oct. 25.—Mr. Seargeant, general manager of the Grand Trunk, in an interview expresses himself as satisfied with the results shown in the Grand Trunk report just issued in London, and expresses the opinion that their prospects for railway traffic are becoming brighter.

MUSIC AND MUSICIANS.

Musical vibrations will cause high explosives to go off.

The once famous court violinist, Enrico Masi, died in Rome a few days ago. He was at one time a member of the well-known "Florentine Quartette."

Leoncavallo is busily at work on two operas and a ballet to be called "Reynard the Fox," the libretto of which has been written from Goethe's famous poem.

The czar of Russia plays on the cornet, it is said, with such utter disregard to time and place that some one once hinted that it entirely accounted for the existence of nihilists.

The favorite amusement of Theodore Havemeyer, the multi-millionaire, is playing the violin. President William R. Harper, of the University of Chicago, is an admirable performer on the cornet.

Mme. Lucca, the widow of the music publisher, who has just died in Milan, carried on the business herself after her husband's death, and was among the first to introduce Richard Wagner's operas to the the Italians.

Verdi's new opera has for its subject, not King Lear, as has been reported, but Count Ugolino and the Tower of Famine from Dante's Inferno. In preparing it he has had examined a musical setting to the episode written in the sixteenth century by Vincenzo Galileo, the father of the astronomer.

Tolstoi, after writing a libretto to an opera called "The Distiller," a musical and operatic tract intended to cure the Russian peasant of intemperance, and procuring a teetotal composer to write the appropriate music, finds that the Russian peasant expresses no interest in his work, and the opera is a failure.

Heavy Failure at Windsor.

WINDSOR, Oct. 25.—Gillman & Barnes, the proprietors of the Des-Chree-Shos-Ka Hotel, have assigned to Robert A. Reynolds, of Windsor. A meeting of the creditors has been called for Friday next. The liabilities including the mortgage on the grounds and the land amount to about $84,000. The mortgage is for the sum of $77,000 and is held by Felice M. Paxton, of Detroit. The chief creditors are Windsor merchants and their claims amount to about $7,000. All they can realize on is the furniture, and Mrs. Paxton has also a claim on that.

Against Alien Labor.

BUFFALO, Oct. 25.—Inspector De Barry has had a warrant issued for the arrest of Vice-President Metcalfe of the Piano Manufacturing Company, of Brockport, N. Y., on the charge of importing an alien laborer, George Dodds, of Toronto, Canada, to work in the factory at $18 a week. Dodds came, but left his family in Canada where they yet remain.

Nine Cases of Smallpox at Windsor.

WINDSOR, Oct. 25.—Yesterday's report of the smallpox situation says that six members of the Reaume family, living on the Tecumseh road, and six more from Windsor are down with the disease. This makes a total of nine new cases within the past week.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

TORONTO, Oct. 25, 1894.

At East Buffalo of the 23 2 cars on sale 9 cars were Canadas, most of which were sold, the market closing weak; good to choice Canadas, $3.75 to $4.

At Chicago wheat showed a further tendency to weakness and closed 1-4c lower than yesterday. Corn followed wheat, showing a net loss of 1-2@3-8c on Friday's business. Oats were decidedly weak and closed 3-8 to 1-2c under yesterday. Provisions were lower.

The sentiment on the London stock market disclosed a very small account. Business was dull, but the tone generally good. Americans were flat and firm, but closed better. South American stocks were particularly strong. The chances of increased activity in stocks is apparently poor, but no material set-back is anticipated. Forty lacs of Indian council drafts were sold at 13 3-8. Paris exchange is low enough to take gold from here.

The complete inactivity of the New York stock market during the last few days fairly reflects, as the stock market is apt to do, conditions of outside trade. Enterprise generally is at a standstill and shows little present sign of moving. In the main this is logical enough. The reaction from August's advance in activity and prices has indeed spent itself, but there is no fresh propelling force, nor is any such influences going to be felt until after the new tariff shall have had a fair chance, with next year's opening, to exert its own good influence. It is always dangerous to say what will not happen among possibilities, but the present outlook for the next two months is one of general dulness. What passing influence the election results will have is naturally a matter of conjecture. The general market hardly moved yesterday from the opening to the close.

Deseronto Navigation Company (Limited

Steamer Ella Ross.

This fast sailing and comfortable steamer leaves Belleville for Trenton daily (Sunday excepted), at 10 a.m. Leaves Belleville for Deseronto and Picton at 3 p.m., connecting at Deseronto with steamers for Napanee and Oswego. Lowest freight and passenger rates. For further information apply to the Rathbun Co., Bridge street, or to R. G. Carter, General Manager, Deseronto.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP heals the lungs.

It is worse than madness to neglect a cough or cold which is easily subdued if taken in time, but becomes, when left to itself, the fore runner of consumption and premature death. Inflammation, when it attacks the delicate tissues of the lungs and bronchial tubes, travels with perilous rapidity; then do not delay, get a bottle of Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup, the medicine that grasps this formidable foe from the human body, and drives it from the system. This medicine promotes a free and easy expectoration, subdues the cough, heals the diseased parts, and exerts a most wonderful influence in curing consumption, and other diseases of the throat and lungs. If parents wish to save the lives of their children, and themselves from much anxiety, trouble and expense, let them procure a bottle of Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup, and when ever a child has taken cold, has a cough or hoarseness, give the Syrup according to directions

Short sermons make wide awake Christians.

Jacob Lockman, Buffalo, N.Y., says he has been using PUTNAM'S PAINLESS Extractor for rheumatism; he had such a lame back he could not do anything, but one bottle has, to use his own expression, "cured him up." He thinks it is the best thing in the market

Art loses nothing by conceding modest a big leaf.

SIGNS OF WORMS are variable appetite itching at the nose, etc. Dr. Low's Worm Syrup is the best worm expeller.

Guns without foresight shoot wide of the mark.

Dr. Low's Worm Syrup cures and removes worms of all kinks in children and adults. Price 25c. Sold by all druggists.

A toothbrush should go with every dicty story.

DYSPEPSIA arises from wrong action of stomach, liver and bowels. Burdock Blood Bitters cures Dyspepsia and all diseases arising from it, 99 times in 100.

It would be a gross injustice to confound that standard healing agent—Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil—with the ordinary unguents, lotions and salves. They are oftentimes inflammatory and astringent. This Oil is on the contrary, eminently cooling and soothing when applied externally to relieve pain, and powerfully remedial when swallowed.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP cures Bronchitis.

EVERY MOTHER WISHES

Her children to be strong and healthy. All doctors agree that the

"HEALTH BRAND"

Combinations do more than anything else to insure this.

Lady Aberdeen writes to us strongly in favor of the Health Brand.

Ask your dealer to show you these goods. You will never buy any other after seeing them.

THE MONTREAL SILK MILLS CO., Ltd., MONTREAL.

BLANKETS

We are showing a large line of Blankets in all Wool and Union from $2.00.

Grey Flannel

Our Grey Flannels are from the best makers. You should call and see our 15c. line.

NATHAN JONES.

OPPOSITE HOTEL STREET.

TO THE PUBLIC.

When we decided to add the manufacture of carriages, phaetons, democrats, &c., to our business, we immediately put under construction a few of each. As we decided to place no vehicle on the market which is not A 1 in in every detail, and knowing that no first-class vehicle can be produced on the rush, it has been necessary for us to take sufficient time to produce what we aimed at. We think we have succeeded; and we now have a few rigs completed, and others nearing completion to offer for sale. The iron work is all hand forged; the wood work carefully made, and strongly ironed; and the painting and upholstering done with the best material and greatest care. We can freely recommend these rigs. We will be pleased to have parties who may need anything in the above line, call and inspect our work.

ST. CHARLES & PRINGLE

JAS ST CHARLES. — — — HENRY PRINGLE

ONTARIO MUTUAL LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY.

S. Burrows, Esq., General Agent, Ontario Mutual Life Co., Belleville, Ont.

DEAR SIR, Received your company's check for $2,000 for our Matured Endowment, and we both wish to show our gratitude to you and the Company for the straightforward and satisfactory way you deal with policy holders, and that we are more than satisfied with our investment. I will always urge our friends to follow in our footsteps. Thanking you very kindly.

Yours very sincerely,

Mr. & Mrs. GOODWIN, Bowmanville, Formerly of Belleville.

Belleville and Napanee, Office, Bridge St. Telephone A. 4.

COAL — AND — WOOD.

THOS. STEWART,

The only dealer in Scranton Coal in Belleville and Napanee. The very best facilities for delivering to any part of the city or surrounding towns this coal, which is the best and cheapest mined.

No Gas. No Clinkers. No Waste

Clean, quick, hot, strong, cheerful fire. Smithing, Cannell, Briar Hill, Run of Mine coal and Coal Screenings always on hand. Hard and soft wood, Blocks and Edgings delivered to any part of the City.

IT - HAS - BEEN - ADMITTED

BY OVER 125 PEOPLE IN BELLEVILLE THAT THE

John Bull Wrought Steel Range,

Is the most Economical, Everlasting and Useful Range on the market. How is this for three Seasons.

SEE THEM AT FOSTER'S.

Also the Duchess of Oxford Cast Iron Range

The Sale of Boots and Shoes

Slightly damaged by Smoke and Water will continue until everything is sold.

HAINES & LOCKETT

Opposite Anglo-American Hotel.

Camping Supplies!

—AND—

Picnic - Requisites!

Our list of articles suitable for Picnic Lunches and Camping, includes:

Canned Meats.

ARMOUR'S COOKED BEEF,
ARMOUR'S OX TONGUES,
ARMOUR'S LUNCH TONGUES,
ARMOUR'S POTTED HAM,
ARMOUR'S COOKED PIG FEET,
ARMOUR'S LUNCHEON MEAT,
ARMOUR'S POTTED TONGUE
ARMOUR'S BRAWN,
SANDWICH MEATS,
BONELESS CHICKEN,
BONELESS TURKEY,
POTTED BEEF,
POTTED GAME,
ETC., ETC., ETC.

Canned Fish.

FINEST SARDINES IN OIL,
FINEST SARDINES IN TOMATO,
HERRINGS IN TOMATO SAUCE,
KIPPERED HERRINGS,
FRESH HERRINGS,
SALMON, LOBSTERS,
FINNAN HADDIES,
BLOATER PASTE,
ANCHOVY PASTE,
SARDINE PASTE,
ETC., ETC., ETC.

Sundries.

Condensed Milk in Tins, Cream in Tin Biscuits (in great variety), Fine old Cheese, McLaren's Imperial Cheese (in small crocks), Dried Beef, Choice Hams and Bacon, Lime Juice, Spanish Olives, CROSSE & BLACKWELL'S Pickles, White Onions, Walnuts, Chow Chow, and and Mixed Pickles.

WALLBRIDGE & CLARKE

Grocers and Wine Merchants,

33 and 37 Bridge Street. Also Front Street, in Caldwell Building.

GENTLEMEN....

Before ordering your Fall Clothing don fail to take a look through

A. N. REID'S

New Fall Importations of

Scotch, English and Irish Suitings, Overcoatings, Pantings, Irish Serges, Cheviots, Hop Sackings and Black Worsteds.

First Class Goods and Prices low.

Mr Minor, our cutter, is one of the best in Ontario.

EVERY GARMENT GUARANTEED!!

Please call and inspect our New Goods.

A. N. REID.

ALLAN LINE,

Royal Mail Steamships. Liverpool, Calling at Moville.

	From Montreal daylight	From Quebec
PARISIAN	Oct. 7
MONGOLIAN	" 13	" 14
HIBERNIAN	" 20
LAURENTIAN	" 27	" 28
NUMIDIAN	Nov. 3	Nov. 3
PARISIAN	" 10	" 11

RATES OF PASSAGE.

First cabin Derry and Liverpool, $45 and upwards single; $95 and upwards return. Second cabin, Liverpool, Derry, Belfast, Glasgow, $30; return $55. Steerage at lowest rates (everything found).

All steamships except the Hibernian carry 1st cabin, 2nd cabin and steerage passengers.

STATE LINE SERVICE

NEW YORK, LONDONDERRY AND GLASGOW.

STATE OF NEBRASKA..... Oct. 12
STATE OF CALIFORNIA..... " 26
STATE OF NEBRASKA..... Nov. 23

Cabin passage, $40 and upward, return $80 and upward. Second cabin $25. Steerage at lowest rates.

For tickets and other information apply to

U. E. THOMPSON

General Ticket Agency, Bridge St., Belleville or to S. BURROWS, Agent,

TELLIGENCER PRINTING AND PUBLISHING COMPANY (LIMITED.

J. O. JAMIESON, President. | J. W. LONDON, Secretary

THE Treasurer is the only person authorized to receive money from the Company, or to grant receipts for the same.

All Bills, Notes, Cheques and other documents binding on the Company, will require the signature of the President, in addition to that of the Treasurer.

THE INTELLIGENCE is printed and published by the INTELLIGENCER Printing and Publishing Company (Limited) by James O Jamieson, resident in Belleville, the s Office, Front St., south of Hotel St

The Daily Intelligencer.

LET THERE BE HARMONY IN THINGS ESSENTIAL—LIBERALITY IN THINGS NOT ESSENTIAL—CHARITY IN ALL.

VOL 28. BELLEVILLE ONTARIO FRIDAY OCTOBER 26 1894 NO 149

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

MEDICAL.

DR. WISHART.

47 GROSVENOR ST., Toronto, will be at the Huffman House, Belleville, Saturday, Dec. 1st, '94. 192dwly

DR. QUACKENBUSH, M.D., H.M.D., M.D., P.S.O.

HOMŒOPATHIC Physician, Surgeon and Accoucheur, has removed his office over store lately occupied by J. C. Averell, Residence George St., opposite H. Corby's.

JOHN J. FARLEY, M. D., C. M., M. R. C. S. England.

OFFICE and Residence—corner of Bridge and George Streets—three streets east of Post Office.

LEGAL.

FLINT & McCAMON.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public, etc. Solicitors for the Canadian Bank of Commerce. Office, City Hall, Front Street, Belleville, Ont. d84tf
JOHN J. B. FLINT, W. J. McCAMON.

STEWART MASSON.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, Notary, Conveyancer, etc. Office, South side Bridge st., over Wallbridge & Clark's, Belleville, Ont, Money to loan at lowest rates. 76dwtf

J. F. WILLS' LAW OFFICE.

REMOVED to Campbell Street (south side) 2nd door from Front Street, on ground floor.

A. GOODRICH.

LAWYER, 124 Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill., 28 years' experience; secrecy; special facilities in several States; Goodrich on Divorce; with laws of all States in press. 76d1y

GEO. A. KINGSTON.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, etc., with Lount, Marsh and Cameron, 25 Toronto St., Toronto. Money to loan on farm property at lowest rates. 233dtf9w.

MIKEL & ROBERTS.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notary Public, Conveyancers, etc. Offices Bridge St., Belleville. Monies to loan at lowest rate.

THOMAS & HALLIWELL.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Conveyancers, &c. Money to loan. 293d3mwly
J. PARKER THOMAS, J. EARL HALLIWELL.

PONTON & MORDEN,

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public Conveyancers. Office over Express and Telegraph Office, Bridge St., Belleville. Money to loan—private funds.
WM. N. PONTON, M. A., Solicitor Hastings Loan and Investment Society.
W. S. MORDEN, B. A.

F. GUSS PORTER.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, Notary Public, etc. Office in the Robertson Block, east side of Front Street.
Private Money to Loan, 271dwly

FRANCIS S. WALLBRIDGE.

(Successor to Hon. Lewis Wallbridge, Q.C.)
BARRISTER, Solicitor, Conveyancer, etc. Office, McAnnany building, corner Front and Bridge streets, Belleville, Ont. Private and Company money to loan at 6 per cent., on easy terms upon good land security. Charges moderate.

HENRY CARRE, C. E.

M. C. Soc C.E.,

DOMINION AND PROVINCIAL LAND SURVEYOR.

Special attention paid to Hydraulics and Land Drainage. Patents obtained and Drawings made. Office—McAnnany Block, under Ontario Business College, Front St. P.O. address—Box 203, Belleville.

A. G. NORTHRUP.

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Shire Hall, Belleville. 226d twly

D. I. DULMAGE, L.D.S., D.D.S. (Tor. University).

DENTIST—Office over Brignall & Thompson's. Night calls at residence on Forin Street. d,w

CHAS. JOSE.

VETERINARY Surgeon, Graduate Ontario Veterinary College, Member Ontario Veterinary Society. Office and residence, Foxboro, Ont. Calls by mail or telegram promptly attended to. 304d,wly

MISCELLANEOUS.

AGENCY of the Liverpool and London and Globe Fire and Life Insurance Companies.
W. P. HUDSON, Agent.
Office Campbel. street, Belleville. d,w

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY.

HUNTERS' EXCURSIONS.

Return Tickets AT SINGLE FIRST-CLASS FARE FROM BELLEVILLE TO PENETANG, MIDLAND, and all points in the following districts:—

SEVERN to NORTH BAY, inclusive.
ARGYLE to COBOCONK, inclusive.
CAMERON to HALIBURTON, inclusive.
MATTAWA to NEPIGON and (via North Bay) SPANISH RIVER, inclusive.
MUSKOKA LAKES (Via Muskoka, Nav. Company).

Good Going October 19, 20, 26, and 27. Nov. 2 and 3.
Valid for Return leaving destination not later than December 1st, 1894.
Sportsman's Dog, Gun, and 200 lbs. Camping Outfit Carried Free.
For tickets and all information, apply to

U. E. THOMPSON,

GEN. TICKET AGENCY, Bridge Street.

STOVE PIPES!
STOVE PIPES!!
STOVE PIPES!!!

WHIPS! LANTERNS!
WHIPS!! LANTERNS!!
WHIPS!!! LANTERNS!!!

Lamps, Flower Pots,
Lamps, Flower pots,
Lamps, Flower Pots.

—AT—

THE FAIR,

FRANK WEEKS, MANAGER.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

ACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York.

Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

Thomas A. Johns.

CURED BY TAKING

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

"I was afflicted for eight years with Salt Rheum. During that time, I tried a great many medicines which were highly recommended, but none gave me relief. I was at last advised to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and before I had finished the fourth bottle, my hands were as

Free from Eruptions

as ever they were. My business, which is that of a cab-driver, requires me to be out in cold and wet weather, often without gloves, but the trouble has never returned."—THOMAS A. JOHNS, Stratford, Ont.

Ayer's The Only Sarsaparilla

Admitted at the World's Fair.

Ayer's Pills Cleanse the Bowels.

"FOR THE BENEFIT OF RHEUMATIC SUFFERERS,"

ACETOCURA

MADE ME ANOTHER MAN

G. H. REEVES,
(Reeves & Beebe),
169 State street, Chicago.

Coutts & Sons,
72 Victoria street, Toronto.

Write for gratis pamphlet to COUTTS & Sons, 72 Victoria street, Toronto. Head offices—London, Glasgow and Manchester, (G.B.) Cologne, Germany, Aaron, Switzerland.

Local Agents—

L. W. YEOMANS & CO.,

DRUGGISTS,

BELLEVILLE.

CANADIAN PACIFIC RY.

WILL RUN HUNTERS' EXCURSIONS

TO MUSKOKA LAKES AND ALL STATIONS.

MATTAWA, NEPIGON, SPANISH RIVER

AND INTERMEDIATE STATIONS

OCT. 19 and 20
OCT. 26 and 27
NOV. 2 and 3

When Round Trip Tickets will be sold for

SINGLE FIRST CLASS FARE

Good for Return until Dec. 1st, 1894.

For business passing through Toronto, rates to above points will not be less than 25 cents added to ordinary Round Trip Rates to Toronto.

Dogs, Guns, Personal Baggage, Camp Equipments, to the amount of 200 lbs will be carried FREE

S. BURROWS,

General Ticket Agent, Belleville.

Daily Intelligencer.

WAS THIS JESSIE'S PENCIL

It May be an Important Discovery in the Listowel Case.

FOUND IN CHATTELLE'S POCKET

Should it Prove to Have Been the Murdered Girl's Property it Stamps Him Beyond Doubt as the Assassin—Detective John Murray Tracing His Movements Prior to the Murder.

STRATFORD, Oct. 26.—In the Keith murder no further arrests are being made, and the authorities are now tracing Chatelle's itinerary up to the time of the murder. From Monday, 15th, up to Friday night his route in Perth county has been accurately followed. On Monday he was in Stratford and had his dinner at Farmer McCaffrey's, about a mile from town. His supper he took at the house of Donald Ross, Front street, Stratford. In the evening in company with a black valise and a stout cudgel he went through Queen's park, when he was noticed by Park Superintendent Downs and Engineer Clark of the waterworks. Chatelle struck northwards on the Listowel track. On Wednesday night he appeared in Ellice swamp, when two laborers, Yorke and Lamb, were draining some waste land for a Mrs. Hammett. He assisted in building some stump fires and was in return given his supper. On Thursday he had his evening meal at Farmer Towers, between Milbank and Milverton.

Just now the authorities are interested in a red cedar lead pencil that was found on Chatelle. It has a rubber end with no ferule and is uncut. It is thought that Jessie Keith may have purchased it in Listowel on the morning of the murder.

LISTOWEL, Oct. 26.—With the later developments the happenings of the fatal Friday afternoon when the murderer was alone with his victim, become plain. It would seem that Chattelle met Jessie on her way home and struck her down. He then dragged her across the ploughed field to the bush, where he attempted to assault her. Her struggle to preserve her honor was successful, although it cost her her life. The evidence of the medical witnesses at the adjourned inquest Friday night will prove that the girl died a virgin. Maddened by the resistance of his victim, the assassin cut her throat, then stripped her and completed his horrible butchery. He then concealed the body and clothes. Before hiding the valise he removed his overalls, and, taking from the satchel a pair of trousers he had purchased in St. Mary's, donned them, leaving the overalls in the valise.

SEEKING THE TRAITOR.

A Spy in the Camp of the Buffalo A. P. A. Societies.

BUFFALO, N.Y., Oct. 26.—Yesterday's issue of the Catholic Union devoted two whole pages to an expose of the A. P. A. The author, who entered the camp as a spy, succeeded in taking notes of what was said and done without detection.

He writes: "Friend Beeson, who, by the way, is an old cavalry officer, arose and said: 'If there is a traitor in this council to-night I will find him.' He asked for a sword and it was given to him by the sergeant-at-arms. Then he asked for two volunteers to assist him. Friends Frick and Albro volunteered and he passed me out into the ante-room. He asked eight men to come out. I was one of the men who went out. Frick asked me to strip to the waist.

"All of a sudden I heard the stamping of feet and the swish of the sword as it came close to me and through a paper. Then it was drawn back again. I asked if that was all and he said yes. I then made way for the next worthy Amorean.

Followed Him for Years.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Joseph Fex, a shoemaker of 395 Wythe avenue, Brooklyn, was paroled by Justice Walsh in Adams street court yesterday pending examination on a charge of abandoning his wife. Fex was arrested yesterday morning, after eluding his wife for nearly four years, during which she says she has pursued him to various places in Canada and finally to Brooklyn. Mrs. Fex lives in Brockville, Ont. On August 16 Police Inspector MacKellar of Brooklyn received a letter from Lawyer D. J. O'Brien, of Brockville, asking for information concerning Fex. detectives located him at 395 Wythe avenue. Inspector MacKellar notified Lawyer O'Brien of the fact. The hearing was adjourned.

McKinley's New York Campaign.

BUFFALO, Oct. 26.—Hon. Wm. McKinley, Governor of Ohio, author of the lately defunct tariff bill and probable candidate for president two years hence, began yesterday his effort to spoil the chances of David B. Hill as a Democratic probability in the presidential race of 1896. Governor McKinley opened at Dunkirk, N.Y., last night and addressed three meetings in this city, in all cases confining himself almost exclusively to the tariff issue. His most noteworthy utterance was: ' Every dollar's worth of goods purchased outside the United States means the loss of a dollar in wages to the American workingman."

Mr. Blake in the Graveyard City.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 26.—At the Academy of Music last night Hon. Edward Blake addressed a large and enthusiastic audience upon the subject of home rule for Ireland. Mr. Blake's address was delivered under the auspices of the Philadelphia council of the Irish National Federation of America. The address in itself was a masterpiece of eloquence, and Mr. Blake was frequently interrupted by the enthusiastic cheering of his auditors, whose sympathy with the cause he represented was shown in a practical manner by the liberal contributions that were given at the close of the meeting.

Republican War Cry.

BUFFALO, Oct. 26.—The Evening News in a political editorial yesterday evening, said: The free lumber clause is rapidly driving the business away from this city and the neighboring city of Tonawanda to Canada. Canadian workmen will find employment while American workmen will remain idle. Already one lumber mill at Tonawanda has been stripped of its machinery, which has been sent to Canada.

To Mark the Frontier in Melilla.

TANGIER, Oct. 26.—The Sultan has ordered Muley Amin to go to Melilla with a force of 700 infantry, 700 cavalry and 40 guns, in order to mark out the Spanish and Moorish frontier, the accomplishment of which, in accordence with the agreement with Spain and Morocco, has hitherto been prevented by the Riff tribesmen.

WILL THEY MOVE IT?

Question of Transferring the Meteorological Service to Ottawa Not Discussed.

OTTAWA, Oct. 26.—Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper was asked as to the truth of the rumor that the Meteorological office was to be removed from Toronto to Ottawa. "You can say," replied the Minister of Marine, "that I have not done anything at all in the matter." "So that it is not to be removed?" "Nothing has been done in the matter; it has not been been discussed."

Mr. Wallace Nesbitt, Q. C., Toronto, has an engagement with Sir John Thompson at his office here to discuss the Truskey murder case. Mr. Nesbitt defended the prisoner.

Among the matters which the Premier of British Columbia will discuss with the Federal Government is a proposal to bring tuberculosis under the contagious diseases act so that it may be the more effectually stamped out on the Pacific coast where it is rather prevalent.

Messrs. Bush Vinning and Fred Vinning, of Plantagenet, have, they claim, struck gold near Shoal Lake. They surveyed and took up over 1,000 acres of land, and they claim it to be of the richest kind. Next to them is a claim of Messrs. Jerry Robinson, late of Ottawa, Maeser and Campbell and an American syndicate are said to have offered them $35,000 for a half interest in their claim. The claim is within three miles of river navigation and already five crushing mills have been contracted to be delivered before the first of next July. A company will be floated to work the mine.

A despatch received in the city yesterday from Esquimaux Point, on the north shore of the St. Lawrence, states that Captain (Gatling Gun) Howard is safe.

Hon. T. M. Daly entertained Northwest and Manitoba delegates to dinner last night in the Rideau Club. They had an interview with the members of the Government yesterday in the Privy Council Chamber. It is reported that the Hudson Bay railway was discussed, with a view as to its construction, but the delegates are reticent as to their business.

IT BREAKS UP HOMES.

Peculiar Result of a Pennsylvania Divines Teachings.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 26.—The preaching of Rev. Dr. W. J. McCrory, pastor of the Free Presbyterian church, of Rochester, Pa., has created a sensation throughout the Beaver valley. His recent discourses urging the application of the biblical laws concerning unequal marriages has caused trouble in several homes and may lead to divorce proceedings.

He based his statements on a portion of the verse of the sixth chapter of the second Epistle to the Corinthians which reads: "Be ye not unequally yoked together with unbelievers; for what fellowship hath righteousness with unrighteousness and what communion hath light with darkness." These utterances were literally accepted. A dozen or more engagements between young people have been unceremoniously severed while at least three instances women who have been for some time married and are mothers of families have also accepted the doctrine and declined to further continue the marital relations.

DESERTED AT CLEVELAND.

Mrs. Sclaw Searching for Her Runaway Husband at London.

LONDON, Ont., Oct. 26.—A pleasant-looking woman of medium height is in town in search of her husband who, she claims, has deserted her. She has with her two children. Her story is that she came from Cleveland, Ohio, that her faithless spouse long ago ceased to contribute to her support and that for six weeks has eluded her. Hearing that he was at London she came here, but found he had left and was supposed to be in Woodstock. She gives her name as Sclaw. Her husband was in the city last week canvassing the town with a line of note paper. etc. The indignant wife tells a pitiful story of her neglect, and charges her husband with dividing his affections with a London girl.

The Socialists' Convention.

FRANKFORT, Oct. 26.—Herr Stadthagen's motion empowering Socialists to support the provincial government on condition that such support would not imply acquiescence in the existing social system or confidence in the government, was carried by a vote of 164 to 64. Herr Schoenlanck opened the Agrarian question in the afternoon session. He said the peasants must be won over to the Socialists or they would fall a prey to the anti-Semities and the social attitude toward the Agrarians had hitherto been wrong.

The Collision Was Not Serious.

SOUTHAMPTON, Oct. 26.—The Paris landed all her passengers here in safety, and beyond a slight damage to her forward rails she was uninjured and will sail for New York on Saturday on time. A number of the passengers were seen previous to their departure for London and on the train, and they joined in saying that the shock of the collision was so light that they did not know of it until the next day.

Valuable Find of Zinc and Lead.

NEW LISBON, Oct. 26.—A few days ago while Newton Johnson & Co. were sinking an oil well in Union Township, Carroll County, the drill passed through a vein of lead several feet in thickness, 45 feet below the surface. Directly beneath the lead was found a vein of zinc 14 feet thick. It is said that the lead assays 85 per cent and the zinc 40 per cent.

International Rating Rule.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—At a meeting of the Yacht Racing Association yesterday it was decided not to attempt to establish an international rating rule. It was resolved to amend the existing rules, and a committee of ten was appointed to recommend what amendment is desirable, and to take steps to have such amendment adopted.

Riot in Newark.

NEWARK, Oct. 26.—A mob of incensed Poles and Russian Jews, discarged hatters, surrounded the non-union hat manufactory of J. L. Kreidel this morning threatening death to Kreidel and his nephew. This message was sent to Kreidel: "Join the union or die in 24 hours."

Diphtheria in Illinois.

STURGIS, Ky., Oct. 27.—Diphtheria is raging in Illinois, opposite Caseyville, Ky., and coffins can hardly be furnished fast enough to bury the death. Forty deaths have occured within the week. Among the few recoveries noted, the victims have been left blind or paralyzed.

Snow in the East.

QUEBEC, Oct. 26.—News received from the Lower St. Lawrence is to the effect that several points on the north and south shores are already covered with snow. Several schooners are reported lost during the last storm of eight days ago.

GAVE HIM ROUGH ON RATS

Ling, the Hired Man, Testifies Against Mrs. Hartley.

HE TELLS OF THEIR INTIMACY

The Prisoner Asked Him to Remain in the House After Other Friends Had Gone Home—Subsequently She Confessed Having Administered the Poison, and Cautioned Him Not to Tell Any One.

BRANTFORD, Oct. 26.—At the Hartley murderer trial yesterday James Doherty, jr., testified to having been asked by Mrs. Hartley to bring her from Norwich ten cents' worth of strychnine. This was about a year ago last April or May. Rufus Hannan being sworn said: I live in Hawtrey and about two weeks after Christmas saw Mrs. Hartley with Ling go up to the third floor of the American Hotel, Brantford. In twenty minutes they left the American and went to another hotel, where a Miss Quigg, a friend of Mrs. Hartley's was staying. Luther Hussey lives next to Ling and saw Mrs. Hartley and Ling enter O'Brien's bush on April 22. Merrill Allen, of New Durham, testified to suspicious friendship on the part of Mrs. Hartley and Ling. His evidence was directly incriminating.

Mrs. Woodward, who was carried out the previous evening in a fainting condition, was cross examined by Mr. Osler. The cross-examination had not gone far when it became apparent she was again in a fainting condition. Mr. Osler then said he would release her from further cross-examination. Frank Allan said he saw Caleb Hartley on the Wednesday before he died. He had bloodshot eyes and looked bad. He said to witness he felt ill. Next day he appeared worse and complained of pains in his stomach and vomiting. He got gradually worse and died on the Sunday. Mrs. Harley did not seem to think the case a serious one.

Frank Allan,, New Durham, said he knew Caleb Hartley. He saw him on May 3rd near the cheesefactory. He was going to the doctors. His face was flushed and eyes were bloodshot. He told him he had vomited five or six times that day. "I board near Hartley's and called often to see the deceased," said Allen. "I saw him Saturday night before he died. I know Mrs. Hartley and Ling. I never saw them together.

Isaac Haight, farmer of New Durham, gave evidence as to Hartley's illness. Mrs. Hartley told witness that somebody must have given Hartley a big dose when he was away in Hamilton. Hartley joined the Home Circle about seven years ago. Mrs. Hartley wanted the deceased to join the A. O. U. Workmen. She said the insurance should be made payable to her as her son was provided for in his grandfather's will.

Louis Ling, the principal witness, then took the stand. He gave an account of the different places where he had been working for some time previous to his first going to work for Caleb Hartley. Witness first worked two weeks for Caleb Hartley and boarded at Jacob Goulds. He first became acquainted with Mrs. Hartley in the store about eighteen months previous to Caleb Hartley's death. He went to Hartley's store with George Hall and Harry Walker.

He saw Mrs. Hartley and remained till ten o'clock. He went again on Thursday or Friday night of the same week about 9 o'clock and left between 12 and 1. The others left about 10. "Mrs. Hartley slapped me on the shoulder," said Ling, "and said, 'Henry, don't go home yet; I want to see you.'" She then took me in the house. There was no light in the house. She sat down beside me on the lounge and put her arms around me. Somebody came. She put me in a bedroom. When they left she took me in the bedroom with her. She partly undressed and we went to bed. I had improper relations with her. I left between 12 and 1. I next saw her the first part of the next week. I had promised to come the following night when I left.

I again had improper relations with her at her own house. Three weeks before Christmas I went to Brantford with her and tried to get a room in a hotel there, but was refused. I again had improper relations with her in O'Brien's woods, near Hawtry.

Continuing the witness said deceased vomited on Thursday and Friday. "I was hitching up the horse to get ice for Caleb at his request, when Mrs. Hartley came out and said: 'I want to tell something and want you never to tell as long as you live.' I would not promise, but she said: 'Thursday Caleb went to Hamilton. I gave him a big dose of rough on rats and the reason I never sent the rig for him was I never expected him to come back alive.'

"I said: 'For God's sake, Maria, did you do such a trick as that?' She only laughed. She said: 'The insurance is what I want and what I am going to have.' I said: 'If I had known you were going to do such a trick as that I would never have come to work here.' Nor would any one else. She laughed and said she had intended to do it for three years and kept the rough on rats in the house for that purpose."

In the cross-examination by Mr. Osler the witness became mixed and could not tell exactly where he had lived since moving from Hamilton twelve or thirteen years ago, and in a different number of ways contradicted himself. He had sworn, at the inquest and preliminary examination, that he was at Norwich on Friday, whereas he swore in court that it was Harley. He said that he confessed to Rev. Mr. Best before the funeral, another time after the funeral, and at a third examination three weeks after the funeral.

TO DIE TOGETHER,

Because of Finacial Difficulties a Newly-Married Couple Attempt Suicide.

WATERTOWN, N.Y., Oct. 26.—James Pierce, aged 27, and wife came to this city from Ontario a few days ago and registered at the Harris hotel. Because of financial difficulties they decided to die together. He administered chloroform in an overdose to his wife and then took poison himself. Pierce is dead. Mrs. Pierce will recover. The couple were married three weeks ago at Kingston, Canada. He was a native of Bristol, England

The Bavarians Are Satisfied.

BERLIN, Oct. 26.—The principal ministers of the Federal States of Germany met in Berlin yesterday to discuss imperial measures for combatting the elements of revolution. Chancellor von Caprivi presided. The representatives of Bavaria and Saxony opposed the proposed measures. One of the Bavarian ministers declared that Bavaria's own laws regarding political societies were absolutely sufficient for her own needs, and therefore Bavaria would object to any bill aiming at imperial control. The speaker instanced the recent dissolving of two Bavarian trade unions to show the effect of the Bavarian laws. The other southern ministers evinced great confidence in the Chancellor's conception of the situation.

SURPRISE SOAP

While the best for all household uses, has peculiar qualities for easy and quick washing of clothes. READ the directions on the wrapper.

156 ST. CROIX SOAP M'FG. CO., St. Stephen, N. B

ENGLAND'S POLICY.

Rosebery States the Government's Position in the Oriental War.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—Lord Rosebery made an important speech at Sheffield last evening. He would, he said, state in general terms the Government's policy in regard to China and Japan. It was impossible to regard with indifference a possible sudden destruction of the central government of China, a government already none too strong. Its destruction would involve appaling danger to every Christian in the Chinese empire and overflow of dangerous and barbarous elements on to every adjoining part of the world, involving the gravest possible catastrophe to Asiatic civilization.

After the first Japanese victory the British Government had learned from a very high and most convincing source that China was willing to concede honorable terms, materially exceeding Japanese demands when the war was entered upon and such as Japan could certainly accept without lessening her prestige or advantage. The ministry felt that they could not absolutely "pocket" these and they did not found great hopes upon overtures, but they thought it was their duty to sound countries of Europe and the United States to ascertain whether in their opinion there was any possibility of China and Japan coming to terms on the basis indicated. The reception of Great Britain's approaches was remarkably favorable. The European powers seemed to feel that a common calamity overhung them, but one or two judged that the time had not arrived when conditions could with advantage be submitted to the combatants. Personally, he was rather inclined to concur with the latter. It might be asked why he had consulted the powers at all, why he had not acted alone. He would reply that in a great catastrophe of this kind the more powers there were engaged in efforts toward peace, so much the better was the prospect of their attaining their object. He believed that whenever it was possible every British foreign minister should obtain a concert of the powers in important international affairs, and in such a case as the present the foreign minister would have been culpable if he had not sought a concert of the powers. Moreover, in the jealous condition of affairs the war had produced it would have been impossible for Great Britain to attempt to act as bottle-holder without incurring the suspicion of the other powers and all interested in the East.

MAY BE A MURDER.

Mysterious Disappearance of a Rich Resident of Windsor.

WINDSOR, Oct. 26.—The abrupt and mysterious disappearance of John Owens, who has been living at the International hotel, Windsor, has caused much concern among his friends. Those who knew that he always carried between $50 and $100 with him fear that he has met foul play. He is about seventy years of age and disappeared Tuesday, having paid his board a few weeks in advance. The police have since been looking for him. The night he disappeared he was seen in the company of a man who is suspected of being a Chicago crook. Owens had a bank book showing that he had $10,000 in Detroit, and the police think that the bunco steerer has induced him to draw his money from the bank and then made away with him. Mr. Owens has lived in the hotel for about six months and has no relatives in this part of the country.

Christian Workers' Convention.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Oct. 26.—A district convention of the International Association of Christian Workers commenced its session in the Central Presbyterian Church in this city last evening. Brief addresses were made. The convention will continue for six days, and many prominent Christian workers will take part in it.

The Ahr Valley.

It is becoming the custom among European travellers to stop at Remagen on the Rhine, and make a little excursion to the beautiful Valley of the Ahr, with its picturesque villages along the vine clad slope. Here is also located the spring from which flows that world wide favorite "Apollinaris Water." At Neuenahr, in the valley, the river Ahr is very beautiful, and one can find few more quaintly attractive spots than the Upper Gate at Ahrweiler, or the old mill at Heppingen.

It takes many a wail to make a drunkard's laugh.

For Over Fifty Years

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhœa. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by druggists throughout the world. 1?d&wly

Dyspepsia or Indigestion is occasioned by the want of action of the biliary ducts, loss of vitality in the stomach to secrete the gastric juices without which digestion cannot go on; also, being the principal cause of headache. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills taken before going to bed, for a while, never fail to give relief and effect a cure. Mr. F. W. Ashdown, Ashdown Ont., writes: "Parmelee's Pills are taking the lead against ten other makes which I have in stock."

Don't put your secrets in the advertising columns.

Burdock Blood Bitters cures all diseases of the blood from a common Pimple to the worst Scrofulous Sores or Ulcers. Skin Diseases, Boils, Blotches and all Blood Humors cannot resist its healing powers.

Beware the strength born of carrying all the burdens.

GENTLEMEN.—I have used your Yellow Oil and have found it unequalled for burns, sprains, bruises, scalds, rheumatism, croup and colds. All who use it recommend it. Mrs Hight, Montreal.

Temptation rellies more on suggestion than exposure.

= SILKS =

We have in stock a full line of the

Corticelli Embroidery and Knitting Silks

-- IN --

Honiton Lace Emb'y Silk.
Outline do do
Knitting Silk,
Twist Embroidery,
Roman Floss,
Filo Floss.

— ALSO —

27 INCH PURE JAPANESE SILK IN

LIGHT BLUE,
CREAM,
ROSE PINK,
CORAL PINK,
BUTTERCUP,
CARDINAL,

BLACK = SILKS!

In all the leading makes.

J. P. THOMPSON & CO.

ALLAN LINE,

Royal Mail Steamships. Liverpool, Calling at Moville.

	From Montreal daylight	From Quebec
PARISIAN	Oct. 6	Oct. 7
MONGOLIAN	" 13	" 14
HIBERNIAN	" 20
LAURENTIAN	" 27	" 28
NUMIDIAN	Nov. 3	Nov. 3
PARISIAN	" 10	" 11

RATES OF PASSAGE.

First cabin Derry and Liverpool, $45 and upwards single; $95 and upwards return. Second cabin, Liverpool, Derry, Belfast, Glasgow, $30; return $55. Steerage at lowest rates (everything found).

All steamships except the Hibernian carry 1st cabin, 2nd cabin and steerage passengers.

STATE LINE SERVICE

NEW YORK, LONDONDERRY AND GLASGOW.

STATE OF NEBRASKA	Oct. 12
STATE OF CALIFORNIA	" 26
STATE OF NEBRASKA	Nov. 22

Cabin passage, $40 and upward, return $80 and upward; Second cabin $25. Steerage at lowest rates.

For tickets and other information apply to
U. E. THOMPSON
General Ticket Agency,
Bridge St., Belleville
or to S. BURROWS,
Agent

NIGHT .. SCHOOL

Opens at

BELLEVILLE BUSINESS COLLEGE

ON

Tuesday Evening, Nov. 1st, 1894 AT 7:15.

BELLEVILLE BUSINESS COLLEGE

ROBERT BOGLE, Proprietor.

A Few Lines For To-morrow.

Charlotte Russe (individuals, larger ones to order). Cream Rolls, Corn Muffins, Graham Gems and all kinds of pastry, Oyster Patties to order. Fresh Oysters, fine stock. Ice cream,

Although the season seems to be past we are still making and selling ice cream. Orders can be filled for any quantity and in any shape. Also served in our parlors daily.

H. C. DICKENS & SON.

Daily Intelligencer.

Largest Daily Circulation in Belleville

THE DAILY INTELLIGENCER is published every evening except Sunday.

THE WEEKLY INTELLIGENCER is published every Thursday morning, and sent, postpaid, to any address in Canada, the United States or Great Britain for One Dollar a year.

ADVERTISEMENTS in DAILY INTELLIGENCER, first insertion, 10 cents per nonpareil line; each subsequent consecutive insertion, 5 cents per line; when not inserted every day, 10 cents per line each insertion.

ADVERTISEMENTS in WEEKLY INTELLIGENCER, 10 cts per line each insertion.

READING MATTER NOTICES, 15 cents per line each insertion.

BIRTHS, MARRIAGES AND DEATHS, 50 cents each insertion. With notice of funeral added the charge for each notice is $1.

CONTRACTS made for business advertisements for one month or longer at reduced rates.

Remittances, Drafts, Cheques, and Post-Office Orders should be made payable to the order of INTELLIGENCER PRINTING & PUBLISHING CO'Y (LIMITED), Belleville, Ont.

For 20 Years

the formula for making Scott's Emulsion has been endorsed by physicians of the whole world. No secret about it. This is one of its strongest endorsements. But the strongest endorsement possible is in the vital strength it gives.

Scott's Emulsion

nourishes. It does more for weak Babies and Growing Children than any other kind of nourishment. It strengthens Weak Mothers and restores health to all suffering from Emaciation and General Debility.

For Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Weak Lungs, Consumption, Blood Diseases and Loss of Flesh.

50c. & $1. Scott & Bowne, Belleville.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, FRIDAY, OCT 26

SPECIAL MENTION

—The Quebec Legislature has been summoned to meet on Nov. 22.

—The Hotel de Normandie, St. Gabriel Street, Montreal, was gutted by fire at 1 30 Wednesday morning.

THAT HACKING COUGH can be quickly cured by Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam. Price 25c.

—Rolland Bros., furniture dealers of Montreal, have failed. Liabilities $132,000.

—North Grey Patrons have confirmed their nomination of Reeve R. A. Stark, of Darby, made over a year ago.

—Mayor Emery has been nominated by the London Conservatives for the seat vacated by Chief Justice Meredith.

—Two brothers named Vianlay claim to have found a very rich gold territory in the Rainy River District, near Shoal Lake.

THEY MAKE ONE FEEL as though life was worth living. Take one of Carter's Little Liver Pills after eating; it will relieve dyspepsia, aid digestion, give tone and vigor to the system.

—The Marchioness of Queensberry, nee Miss Weedon, is said to have obtained a decree nullifying her marriage to the Marquis. They were married last November.

—Messrs. G. H. Knowling, Frank Oliver and Fraser Tims were returned by acclamation in the nominations for the Northwest Territories Legislative Assembly.

—At a Sault Ste. Marie, Judge Johnston sentenced John Hynes, the lake-hog, to 2 years in Kingston Penitentiary. There is little doubt that Hynes was responsible for the last four fires.

MORE CASES OF SICK HEADACHE, bilious ness, constipation, can be cured in less time, with less medicine, and for less money, by using Carter's Little Liver Pills, than by any other means.

—Three Whitewaytites have been elected in Trinity Bay, Newfoundland, bye-elections, and now that party's majority is secure.

—Messrs. Hillyard, Mitchell and C. C. McGrath have been returned by acclamation in the N.W.T. Legislative Assembly elections.

"BURNS AND SCALDS."—If you are so unfortunate as to injure yourself in this way, we can suggest a remedy that will (we speak from experience) soon relieve you of all pain and quickly heal the wound; it costs but twenty five cents for the New Big Bottle and is sold by all Druggists—ask for PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER.

—The writ for London, ordering an election to fill the seat in the Local Legislature made vacant by the elevation of Mr. Meredith to the bench, issues Nov. 5, for nomination day, and November 20 for polling.

Dr. S. C. Webb, Liberty, Miss., says: "I have been using Ayer's Pills for over twenty five years, and recommend them in cases of chronic diarrhœa, knowing their efficiency from personal experience, they having cured when every other medicine failed."

No one need fear cholera or any summer complaint if they have a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellog's Dysentery Cordial ready for use. It corrects all looseness of the bowels promptly and causes a healthy and natural action. This is a medicine adapted for the young and old, rich and poor, and is rapidly becoming the most popular medicine for cholera, dysentary, etc., in the market.

—The past season of the Richelieu and Ontario Navigation Company has been so successful, that it is expected a supplementary dividend will be declared.

Just as Good,

Perhaps; but it just as good as Putnam's, is that not a very high recommendation for the original and best corn cure! Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor. Refuse to accept any of the dangerous acre producing substitutes offered by greedy dealers who make larger profits and disregard the interests of customers. Safe, painless, certain.

Schiffmann's Asthma Cure

Instantly relieves the most violent attacks facilitates free expectoration and insured rest to those otherwise unable to sleep except in a chair, as a single trial will prove. Send for a free trial package to Dr. R. Schiffmann's, St. Paul, Minn., but ask your druggist first.

October 25, 1893.

My health was completely restored by CAMPBELL'S SCOTCH COD LIVER OIL. 3 bottles taken in 22 days increased my weight by 18 lbs. HENRY ZIVERN,

Prop. Renovo Co. Montreal.

CABLE AND TELEGRAPH

SOMETHING ABOUT THE NET-WORK OF WIRES AROUND THE WORLD.

How the Work First Got a Start in China

—Getting a Line Across Australia—Description of the Work of Construction—

Some of the Lines Now Operating.

It is commerce and competition which explain, as a rule, the extraordinary system of land and cable lines. They have been laid to meet the demands of business, and for the most part a business already assured. Not that there are no examples of that admirable daring which, foreseeing a chance, makes the venture, preferring to create a demand rather than to follow one. A remarkable case of just such a venture was the laying of the first cable along the Chinese shore in 1871.

Russia had finished the land line across Siberia—the line which, it will be remembered, was intended to be part of the route so long projected into the United States by Bering Straits. But the American end of the project had failed, and she found she had an interminable stretch of line across her barren steppes and now had nothing to attach the end to. In fault of anything better to do with the straggling terminus, it was carried to Vladivostock.

The Northern Telegraph Company of Denmark saw the possibility of utilizing this end for a European communication with China and Japan. Not that China and Japan had expressed any desire for such a union. The wily Danes took care not to ask permission, but slipped the land end of their cables into shore in inoffensive drain pipes, and quietly made their connections until they had a cable running from Hong Kong to Amoy, Gotzlaff, Woosung, Nagasaki (Japan) and connecting with the land line at Vladivostock.

When the Chinese wakened up to the presence of the cable it was too late to object. They simply professed themselves utterly skeptical of its usefulness and refused to have anything to do with it. However as they soon had a practical demonstration of its capabilities. An Oriental, more bold than his compatriots, resolved to act on the price of rice; telegraphed down to Shanghai from Pekin, and to buy up a quantity. He did so, and made a big sum. Soon after a fierce gnawing came off in Pekin, in which many residents of Shanghai were interested. The lucky numbers were telegraphed down, but the majority of the holders felt it unorthodox to trust to the impious Western contrivance which disdained time and space, two things which the Imperial Dragon himself had always respected, and they let their skepticism go so far that they sold their tickets for a song to more progressive gamblers. The next week when the recognized post arrived the report of the telegraph was confirmed. The new contrivance could not have had a more impressive advertisement.

The success of the Danish company in laying its cable along the coast induced it to attempt to run wires inland. It made a successful beginning, but was stopped oddly enough. There are no burial grounds in China, each family making a sepulchre for its dead upon its own premises. Dead ancestors are so reverenced that a shadow upon the grave is looked upon as an insult which must not be passed by. Now, when the Danes began to put up poles for their wires the shadows were sure, at some time of the day, to fall on the grave of the Celestial ancestor. There were constant disputes between workmen and natives, and the enterprise was seriously interrupted for a time. However, the convenience of the telegraph became at last so evident to the Chinese that the Government decided to go on with the work. Ever since, even the shadows on the ancestors' tombs have not prevented the men from setting up poles.

It was the year before the Eastern Extension carried its cable to Hong Kong that it concluded to go on to Australia, on condition that one or all of the colonies combined would lay a land line across the continent to meet it. The offer was accepted by the South Australian Government. This colony then numbered 170,000 inhabitants; it was in debt heavily for railroad and telegraph lines in the settled parts of its territory, but it bravely set aside the money for the new undertaking.

The work was begun early in 1870. The history of telegraphy does not include another dramatic chapter. All but 300 of 300 miles of the 2,000 from Adelaide on the South to Port Darwin, the cable terminus, on the north, was through a desert where the worst reputation or utterly unknown, save from the reports of the one explorer who, after infinite risk and hardship, had traversed it nearly 10 years before.

The expedition was to be baffled by nothing, however. It carted every inch of its wire, most of its poles and all its supplies, across a country often waterless and so hot that a thermometer burst and pork melted in the brine. The men saw their cattle die of hunger and thirst. They were forced literally to crawl through miles upon miles of scrub of the most exasperating character. The natives harassed them constantly, stealing their supplies, rigging up their insulators as spear heads, to use when the native boomerangs were not up to the occasion, and threatening their finished work. The northern portion of the work was once abandoned, so hopeless did it seem. Again terrific heat drove the expedition entirely from the field. In spite of the loss and discouragement, the line was finished in two years and a half, and after October 21, 1872, the London papers were publishing daily despatches from Australia. On November 15, 1872, a grand banquet was held in London, celebrating the completion of the work, and at it was read a telegram of thanks in response to one of congratulation which had been sent to Adelaide just two hours before.

"M. Casimir-Perier."

President Casimir-Perier has a strongly developed jaw, a look of determination and something of the aggressive appearance of a bull-dog. A clever caricaturist took advantage of the resemblance in appearance and name to portray him as "M. Casimir-Perier," and the caricature has "caught on." Far from lowering him in the eyes of the public esteem, however, it has greatly increased his prestige as the uncompromising watchdog of the Republic.

At a meeting of the British Meteorological society at London, Shelford Bidwell made a remarkable experiment, showing the effects of electricity upon steam. It is a well known fact that the shadow of a jet of steam cast upon any white background under ordinary circumstances is of feeble intensity and of a neutral tint. But, however, if the jet be given a discharge of electricity just at the moment when it comes in contact with the air, the density of the shadow is amazingly increased as a result of condensation, and it assumes a peculiar orange brown hue with fines and waves merging into inky blackness.

Mr. Bidwell, the only person to my knowledge who has ever made these experiments scientifically, suggests that the electricity promotes a coalescence of the exceedingly minute particles of water contained in the jet of steam, thus forming drops large enough to obstruct the more refrangible rays of light, but why the color of the shadow should change from neutral to shades of the least three well defined colors he does not attempt to explain. From one of his late articles I gather ideas which point to the intense blackness of thunderclouds being due to similar causes.—St. Louis Republic.

JOHN BULL IN AFRICA.

The Crafty Old Gentleman Now Owns About 1,400,000 square Miles.

The latest acquisition of African territory gives Great Britain an unbroken line across the length of Africa from the Mediterranean and the Nile to the extreme point of the continent. In all, this territory, held in various ways, from Cape Colony up to the occupation of Egypt, is in extent about 1,400,000 square miles, and has a population of 30,000,000. In the Nile Valley it includes incomparably the best of North Africa. In Uganda it holds the key to the lakes of central Africa, nearly as large as our own lake system. The new treaty gives it the high land west of Lake Tanganyika, considerably higher and healthier than the eastern, in German hands. The new conquests of the British South Africa Company add the great arable lands of the interior of subtropical Africa, in much of which white men live. Lastly, there is Cape Colony, the only vital European settlement in all Africa. As it stands, this great highway holds two-thirds of all of Africa in which Europeans can live and carry on efficient administration. It has the most fertile tract in the confluent in Egypt, its healthiest in Cape Town, its greatest gold mines and the only region from which tropical Africa can be controlled. Still more important is its relation to African water courses. A steamer can start at Alexandria and run, when the mahdi's successor is cleared away, to a point on Albert Edward Nyanza, 125 miles from Lake Tanganyika. This runs to within seventy miles of Lake Nyassa. From this lake the Shire River, broken at Murchison Falls, descends to the Zambesi and the Indian Ocean. From a navigable point on the Congo it is less than 100 miles to Lake Tanganyika. The Aruwimi runs as near the Nile. It is possible to start at the mouth of the Zambesi and reach the mouth of the Congo or Nile with less than 200 miles of land to travel, and the key and centre to this great system is now in English hands.

How to Live a Century.

First, live as much at possible out of doors, never letting a day pass without spending at least three or four hours in the open air.

Second, keep all the powers of mind and body occupied in congenial work. The muscles should be developed and the mind kept active.

Third, avoid excesses of all kinds, whether of food, drink or of whatever nature they may be. Be moderate in all things.

Fourth, never despair. Be cheerful at all times. Never give way to anger. Never let the trials of one day pass over to the next.

The period from fifty to seventy-five should not be passed in idleness or abandonment of all work. There is where a great many men fail. They resign all care and interest in worldly affairs and rest of body and mind begins. They throw up their business and retire to private life, which in too many cases proves to be a suicidal policy.

During the next period—the period from seventy-five to one hundred years, while powers of life are at their lowest ebb—one cannot be too careful about catching cold. Bronchitis is a most prolific cause of death in the aged. During this last period rest should be in abundance.

Anybody who can follow these directions ought to live to be one hundred years old at least. There is always this comfort, however; if we cannot live up to our ideas always, we can at least, try our best to do so, and the steady effort will be bringing us constantly nearer them.

Sanitation by Sea Water.

The new system of sanitation adopted in Brighton based upon the electrolysis of sea water—has proved a gratifying success. The electric current decomposes the chloride of magnesium, and the chloride of sodium serves as a conductor, the result being a liquid disinfectant of great power, being almost odorless, leaving no residuum whatever, and for purposes of flushing and is entirely inoffensive; the solid matter in sewage is instantaneously consumed in this solution, as well as the organic matter, what is left being simply an odorless and troubled liquid, incapable of fermentation, and containing only a few phosphates, the salts of ammonia and the salts of the disinfectant. Of the two classes of microbes—anaerobic organisms, existing without air, and aerobic organisms, requiring air to live—the action of this chloride compound on the first is simple, for, as they cannot live in the presence of oxygen, their extinction is swift and sure; the destruction of the microbes which require free oxygen to support life is equally certain.

PERSONAL POINTS.

M. Emile Zola proposes to leave Paris very shortly for Spain, with a view of making studies for a new book.

Baroness Burdett-Coutts possesses the finest and most carefully preserved copy of the first folio of Shakespeare, 1623.

Mrs. Alexander, the well-known novelist, who is really Mrs. Alexander Hector, is a grandmother, nearly seventy.

The Dahomau King Behanzin is wasting away in his exile at Martinique. He is pining for his African wilds and incidentally smoking stacks of Yankee cigarettes.

Miss Sophie A. Northoff, a former student of medicine at Washington, has been appointed a physician at the famous woman's clinic of Prof. von Winkel in Munich.

Bret Harte's hair is silvery white, contrasting vividly with the ruddy glow of his healthful complexion. His face is clean-shaven except for an ample mustache, and his smile most genial.

The reason that Prince Bismarck drinks champagne out of the bottle is to get the benefit of the gas. It is by the doctor's orders. They say you do get all the gas that way, but not much champagne.

Andreas Zorn, the artist whose original style of portraiture was much admired during the world's fair, says that Mrs. Potter Palmer and Mrs. Grover Cleveland are two of the most lovely representatives of womanhood he has ever seen.

Of Some Use.

"Depend upon it, children," said the benignant old gentleman who was addressing the Sunday-school, "We were published by a wiser power than ourselves. There was no mistake made in putting us together. If our hands were placed where our feet are, and our feet where our hands are, how could we get along? It would be exceedingly awkward, children; exceedingly awkward. I stretch my hand out this way. I move my fingers like this. Now, what is this an evidence of, children?"

There was no reply, and after waiting a moment the speaker answered the question himself.

"It is an evidence of design. Don't forget that, children," he continued, impressively. "It is an evidence of design. Suppose my eye had legs. How could I use them?"

"You could use them in running your eye over the congregation, couldn't you?" replied a deeply interested little boy near the door.—Chicago Tribune.

Queer Custom.

Asia exaggerates all things, and the virtue of penance among the rest, but the virtue is still believed in, even in Western Europe. The writer has seen a gentleman of Bengal, remarkable at once for wealth and fatness, crawling, stretched at full length, along a road before the image of Juggernaut, suffering, in fact, torture such as no one would inflict upon a convict.

ARTS AND ARTISTS.

Fra Bartolomeo was the intimate friend of Raphael, and is believed to have finished many pictures planned or sketched by the latter.

Gainsborough has rarely been surpassed in the technique of his art. It is rare to find one of his pictures cracked or impaired.

Zamfieri was the son of a shoemaker and himself followed that calling. He was the ugliest man of his time and badly deformed.

Masaccio was originally named Maso, the addition to the name being by way of reproach for his negligence and slovenliness in dress.

Oreagna's Last Judgment, now in the Campo Santo at Pisa, was, in the fourteenth century, deemed the greatest picture in the world.

Perdenone's saints were depicted with so great a display of muscle that it was commonly said all his holy men looked like prize fighters.

Tintoretto's real name was Jacozo Robusti. He was called Tintoretto from being the son of a dyer, the word Tintore having that meaning.

Tisio did his best work after sixty years of age. He lost one eye at that time, but painted with the same correctness until he became totally blind.

HOME POINTERS.

Gum arabic and gum tragacanth in equal parts, dissolved in hot water, make the best and most convenient mucilage to keep in the house.

An English novelty is a basket for removing the soiled forks, spoons and knives from the dinner table between courses without making a clatter.

In arranging the kitchen closet put powdered borax on the shelves to prevent roaches and other vermin from getting between the paper and shelves.

Ink stains may be removed from colored table covers by dissolving a teaspoonful of boiling water and rubbing the stained part well with the solution.

If feathers have become damp hold them to dry over a gentle heat, shaking and waving until dry, and you will save the expense or trouble of re-curling.

If any foreign substance is swallowed which is sharp, a needle, for instance, do not give an emetic, but confine the diet to mashed potatoes for two days.

Blankets and counterpanes should not be included in the general washing. To give these articles the care they require a special day should be set aside for them.

PEOPLE.

The prince of Wales says that "Robinson Crusoe" was the favorite book of his childhood. Mr. Ruskin's chief delight in his youth was "Arabian Nights."

T. D. Sullivan, formerly Lord mayor of Dublin, but now representing West Donegal in the house of commons, will visit this country during the coming season. He will make a long tour, lecturing on the Irish question in the principal cities.

Abdul Aziz, the young sultan of Morocco, does nothing without consulting his mother, who is a woman of tact and talent. After the discovery of the recent conspiracy at Fez she persuaded him to spare the lives of the culprits of lower rank and to pardon his brother, who was involved.

The personal appearance of Jean Richepin, who is described as the most versatile genius in all France since the death of Victor Hugo, must impress the stranger who meets him for the first time. He is pictured as a tall, burly man, handsome in a brutal style, with a low brow, a thick neck, dilated nostrils and a general air of athletic calm.

One Cause.

One cause of dyspepsia is emotional waste of nervous force. The nerve force is to the physical system what steam is to the machine. In the normal condition of things it is reserved as far as it is used. But nature makes no provision for the immense amount expended by excessive care, by fuss and worry, by hurry and fever, by explosions of passion and by the undue excitements of pleasure. All these are like a great leakage of steam. The stomach is the first and largest sharer in the loss.

A Queer Find.

In the year 553, A.D., while workmen were engaged in trenching the salt mines in Prussia, they unearthed a triangular building in which was a column of white marble. At the side of the column was a tomb of freestone and over it a slab of agate inscribed with these words, which were in Latin: "Here rests the ashes of Peleg, grand architect of the Tower of Babel. The Almighty had pity on him because he became humble."

Great Vines.

While in the public mind the great vine at Hampton Court Palace is esteemed the most remarkable, even that is excelled in dimensions by the still greater vine at Cumberland Lodge, Windsor Park. Not only these giants, but probably all other vines in the kingdom, have to give place for extent and productiveness to that most remarkable vine which is just at the present moment carrying the enormous quantity of 832 bunches and a total weight materially exceeding half a ton.

—Dr. H.T. Helmbold, the famous patent medicine man and one time millionaire, died in the State Asylum for the Insane at Trenton, N.J., aged about 66.

IF YOU USE A

BLENDED - TEA

Ask Your Grocer For

'MORAHNEE'

It has no equal.

In one-half pound packets, 40c. and 50c. per lb

J. E. WALMSLEY & CO.,

Agents for the British Tea and Trading Association, London, Eng

THIS MATTER CHANGED DAILY.

FRIDAY, Oct. 26 h.

JACKETS . . .

Jackets are selling very well. We keep getting new styles every few days. Just see what a nice Jacket we have for Five Dollars . .

W. FLINT JONES.

Next door to Haines & Lockett.

New Advertisements.

CARD OF THANKS.

BELLEVILLE, Oct. 24th, 1894.

Mr. James Booth, Agent London and Lancashire Fire Ins. Co:

DEAR SIR,—Kindly convey my thanks to the above Company, which you represent here, for prompt payment for loss and damage to my property, occasioned by fire in premises adjoining my res dence, on the 16th inst., and oblige 149d-wlt MRS. ANNIE ROSS.

TO LET.

TO LET 2 new, warm brick houses in terrace, situated on Harriett St., West Belleville, known as Morlen's, or Fillter's terrace. For terms of rent apply to E. O. Fillter, collector, or sole agent to the estate of the late H. E. Fillter Residence at Mr Jardin's Corner of William and Dundas Sts., East Belleville. 85d2m

WE HAVE

For To-morrow

PEARS,
GRAPES,
LEMONS,
PEACHES, HICKORY NUTS,
ORANGES, CHESTNUTS,
BANANAS, HOT PEANUTS,
HICKORY NUTS BUTTERED POP-CORN,
CRACKED, COKEN,
CHESTNUTS BOILED,
CHESTNUTS ROASTED,
SHELLED WALNUTS.

Don't forget Wallace's Quaker Bread

Jas. Wallace & Co

TAKE NOTICE

Of the "Old Home" grocery store and drop in and see us. It gives us pleasure to show you our new stock of groceries and quote prices whether you are a purchaser or not. We have a special run in flour this month. We can also supply you with all kinds of feed. Of our choice blend of TEA we can only say "Pee it and you'll appreciate its merits, use it and you'll sing its praises."

J. A. ELLIOTT.

Front St., Belleville.

SPECULATORS AND INVESTORS

SEND FOR OUR

DAILY MARKET LETTER AND ILLUSTRATED PAMPHLETS ON SPECULATION,

mailed free on application, and operate successfully in Wall Street.

Our discretionary speculations have paid 8 monthly profits of $20 NET TO EACH $100 MARGIN.

Stocks, Bonds, Grain, Provisions and Cotton bought and sold for cash or on a margin of 2 to 5 per cent. COMMISSION 1-16 PER CENT.

Special Attention paid to Discretionary Accounts.

Correspondence Solicited

Direct wire from our office to all Western Union Offices in the United States. Bank references.

WEINMAN & CO.,

STOCK & GRAIN BROKERS, 61 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

(6 Oct. 1st, 3m sod

TRENT CANAL

Simcoe and Balsam Lake Division.

ALSO

Peterboro' and Lakefield Division.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "Tender for Trent Canal," will be received at this Office until noon on Saturday, Seventeenth day of November, 1894, for the construction of Canal five and a half miles of Canal on the Simcoe and Balsam Lake Division, and also for the construction of about three and a half miles of Canal on the Peterboro' and Lakefield Division.

Plans and specifications of the work can be seen at the office of the Chief Engineer of the Department of Railways and Canals, at Ottawa, or at the Superintending Engineer's Office, Peterboro', where forms of tender can be obtained on and after Monday, October 29th, 1894.

In the case of firms there must be attached the actual signature of the full name, the nature of the occupation and place of residence of each member of the same, and further, an accepted bank cheque for the sum of $7,500 must accompany the tender for each section; this accepted cheque must be endorsed over to the Minister of Railways and Canals, and will be forfeited if the party tendering declines entering into contract for work at the rates and terms stated in the offer submitted. The accepted cheque thus sent in will be returned to the respective parties whose tenders are not accepted.

The lowest or any tender not necessarily accepted.

By order,

J. H. BALDERSON,
Secretary.

Department of Railways and Canals,
Ottawa, October, 1894. 149d52w

FULL WEEK AT . . .

BRIDGE ST. METHODIST CHURCH.

Friday Evening, 8 p.m.

Mrs. Lydia M. Mountford, "Life in Jerusalem"

Saturday Evening, 8 p.m.

Mrs. Lydia M. Mountford, "From Bethlehem to Calvary."

Collection Tuesday and Wednesday evening.

Tickets 25 cents for Oriental lectures, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

SEE SMALL BILLS.

NIGHT SCHOOL

. . . . MECHANICS' INSTITUTE,

Corner Front and Hotel Sts., will commence

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 1st, 1894.

The Advantages are:--

The Business Course, Shorthand and Typewriting Course, Instruction in Penmanship.

For four months, two evenings each week, from 7 to 9 o'clock, and six months' membership in the Institute

FEE FOR ALL IS

. . . . $3.00.

Books, Stationery, Etc., for the Business Course, cost $3.00.

Apply to W. J. OSBORNE, of ONTARIO BUSINESS COLLEGE.

OLD KING COLE

. . . . . WAS A MERRY OLD SOUL !!

BUT . . . . . THAT HAS NOTHING TO DO WITH OUR

FAMOUS LEHIGH VALLEY COAL!

Which is the KING of all COALS.

TRY IT ! GOOD PEOPLE ! TRY IT !!

AND if you do not burn COAL we can supply you with

The finest CORD WOOD in the Land.

Place your Orders with us before the rush, which always begins as soon at the weather turns Cold.

S. A. LAZIER & SONS, The Leading Coal and Wood Merchants, Telephone C 68.

Wall-Paper!

10 Per Cent. Discount

AT

Scantlebury's.

The LEADING BARGAIN HOUSE

Not a day passes over the history of the store that doesn't bring "Grist" to our "Bargain Mill." There's no dormant energy in the management.

Every nerve is at straining point to bring the people of this vicinity within ready reach of the best money's worth to be had in

DRY Goods, Millinery, Gents' Furnishings

ONLY A FEW LEADING PRICES :--

25 in. Heavy Flannel, 15c. 27 in. Heavy Flannel, all wool, 18c; 28 in. all patterns Flannelette, 8c; 25 in. all patterns Flannelette, 5c; beautiful Opera Flannels, 40c; 500 corsets, value $1.00, at 50c; a special bargain in Ladies' Handkerchiefs, 5c; latest designs in French dress patterns from $3 to $8 A full range of anything and everything at exceedingly low prices. Call early for selection.

H. A. LAYTON, BELLEVILLE.

Front St., Opposite Campbell St.

YOU

Will be hard to please if you don't say our new stock is the most beautiful display of elegant art china ever presented before the people of Belleville. Next week we'll be at it night and day until everything is open and in place. THE SILVER will be opened to day—Thursday.

W. J. REID & CO'Y,

CRYSTAL HALL. Rous' Old Stand.

London and Belleville.

IF YOU WANT THE BEST FUEL THAT COMES TO THIS MARKET, buy the Celebrated

SCRANTON COAL

Mined and shipped by the D. L. & W. R. R. Co.

THOS. STEWART,

COAL AND WOOD MERCHANT, is Sole Agent for Belleville. Office Bridge Street. Yards, foot of Front Street.

24TH YEAR.

S. A. HYMAN, Manufacturing Furrier.

Special Prices in Ladies' Fur Capes.

Grey Lamb Capes, 18 inches long,		$15.00
" " 24 "		18.00
Greenland Seal Capes, 24 inches long,		18.00
Empire Capes, 26 inches long,		18.00
" " 27 "	Garrick Collars,	22.00
Military " 27 "	with vest	22.00

See my Window for Styles.

S. A. HYMAN, OLD FURS MADE OVER IN THE LATEST STYLES.

GLASGOW WAREHOUSE.

We are now showing the following novelties in

DRESS · TRIMMINGS.

Watered silks, all prices, in black, white, cream, pink, pale blue, navy, myrtle, brown, fawn, etc

Black and colored satins.
Black satin merv.
Black pau de soie dress silks,
Black co-operative dress silks.
Black and colored velvets.
Black and colored velveteens.
Beautiful silks for blouses.
Beautiful silks for drapings
Black and grey curl trimmings,
Black and colored beaver trimmings.
Black and cream silk laces.
Black and colored button kid gloves,
Black and colored laced kid gloves
Special lines in ribbons
Ladies' and Misses' underwear,
Ladies' and Misses' corsets.
Spot muslins and valenciennes laces for evening wear.
Light shades in henriettas and crepons, with sequence trimmings to match
Priestly & Sons' dress goods, large variety.

Dress and Mantle making and Tailoring done on the premises.

Carpets and House Furnishings in great Variety.

VANDERVOORT & GIBSON,
Successors to the late J. W. Dunnet.
Belleville, Oct, 34, 1894.

COUPON
—FOR—
PART 10.
Canada Portfolio of Art.

A Coupon) appears in all issues of this paper.

Out out this coupon and forward, together with 10 cents, to the Art Department of this paper, and you will receive one part of Canada, as mentioned above, by mail post-paid, or bring the coupon and 10 cents to this office and receive Portfolio.

NAME..

ADDRESS......................................

N. B.—Remember, only one Coupon required for each part.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, FRIDAY OCT. 26

Chauncey Ashley, issuer of marriage licenses, Division Court Office, Pinnacle street or at residence over Benmore & Benson's store. d&w

CITY AND DISTRICT.

Two tramps sought protection in the cells last night.

Mrs. Bridget Clapper is looking for law for her son in law, Ben Sanford.

A meeting with regard to the protection of children law will be held here at an early date.

An addition to the City Mission in the shape of a class room, is being built at a cost of $300.

The sale of Underwear, Ties, Braces, and flannel Shirts will be continued to-morrow.—A. E. FISH & Co. 1t

Rheumatism is primarily caused by acidity of the blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, and thus cures the disease.

Those of our readers who have not secured No. 9 of "Canada," that beautiful art series, can do so now. They contain the gems of Canadian scenery. Only 10 cents with coupon.

Frank Moon, an employee in the evaporator at Ameliasburg, met with a painful accident yesterday. In passing a team one of the horses kicked him, breaking his hip. Dr. Farncomb, of Rednerville, was called and reduced the fracture.

The first Institute meeting of the Hungerford Township Association will be held in the Presbyterian church, Tweed, on Nov. 18th; the afternoon session will begin at 2 o'clock, and the evening session at 7.30. All are invited to both sessions.

We know whereof we affirm when we state that Ayer's Pills, taken promptly, at the first symptoms of colds and fevers, arrest further progress of these disorders, and speedily restore the stomach, liver, and bowels, to their normal and regular action.

"Canada," a Canadian production, is a work that should be in every Canadian home. It is a magnificent publication, and only needs to be seen to be appreciated. Only 10 cents a number with coupon. No. 9 now in.

The Orangeville Banner says that another bunch of cattle were killed on the C. P. R. track above Amaranth station recently, and the blame appears to lie solely with the railway company. A big blunder was made when the present style of "guard" was put down. It is altogether worthless. Cattle can and do walk over it without the least difficulty, and the wonder is that more accidents do not happen.

Every student of the bible should attend the performance of Samson at the Queen's opera house this evening. One of our prominent merchants, who witnessed the performance in Montreal last week, speaks very highly of it. The costumes and scenery are exceedingly fine, which, combined with the clever acting of Mr. Kennedy and his company, promises an evening of rare enjoyment. Prices, 25, 50 and 75c.

PROBABILITIES.

TORONTO, Oct. 26.—Strong winds and gales from south, shifting to west and northwest; unsettled, with some rain.

$5 Overcoats and Ulsters.

This is a low price, but it is a price at which the Oak Hall always give a good wearing article. If you want a nice respectable looking overcoat or a heavy double-breasted ulster, we can do either for $5. The Oak Hall never bombast in advertising and customers often tell us that the articles advertised are a long way better than they expected to see.

Cold in the head—Nasal Balm gives instant relief; speedily cures. Never fails.

ONTARIO S. S. ASSOCIATION

THE CLOSING HOURS OF THE GREAT CONVENTION.

Report of the Normal Secretary—Votes of Thanks—The Closing Exercises—Next Convention at London—A Biographical Sketch of the New President — Miss Vella and Her Work.

THURSDAY AFTERNOON SESSION.

The usual song of service was held for about 20 minutes.

Rev. J. McEwen read the report of the examination of the Normal work Committee. There were 12 places where the series of lessons of honory classes were held in 3 counties at which there were 30 candidates. 25 took both courses of Bible and honor work. 8 had 30 papers on the New Testament. All stood higher in the Bible than in honor work. 15 had total number of marks amounting to 75 per cent of the whole. Stratford, Keene, and Brockville were the places specified. Duly qualified persons presided and Mr James McNabb prepared the questions and examined the answers. This is the first time that such a report has been made. It is

MR. H. P. MOORE,
President of the Ontario Sunday School Association.

Mr. H. P. Moore, who is a son of the late Edward Moore, of Acton, was born in Acton on October 18th, 1858, and was educated at Rockwood Academy and Albert College, of which he is a member of the Board of Management. His interest in the institution is evinced by his having in each of the past five years presented a gold medal for competition in the Collegiate Department.

Mr. Moore learned the trade of a printer and after being associated with his brother, Rev. T. Albert Moore, of Dunnville, Chairman of the Welland District, in the Acton Free Press, became its sole proprietor and is its present editor and publisher. Mr. Moore has had many marks of appreciation conferred upon him by his associates of the press and in church work, namely President of the Canadian Press Association; member of the General Conference of the Methodist Church for five years and of its Executive Committee, also of the Book and Publishing Committee; Secretary of the Business Committee of the recent General Conference at London, provincial editor of the Ontario Christian Endeavor Union; also a missionary from the Provincial S.S. Association to Sunday Schools in the Georgian Bay District during vacation. Mr. Moore married a daughter of the late Jacob Speight, of Acton, and has one son, who is now attending school at Hamilton.

The honor bestowed on the subject of this sketch has been well bestowed. He is an able and progressive Sunday School officer and is a thorough and earnest worker in whatever he undertakes.

regarded as most satisfactory. List book of honor series will be put into circulation in December, which will afford sufficient time for all candidates of the series to prepare themselves. A resolution of thanks was presented to Mr. McEwen for his services, which the Convention gratefully acknowledged, and express the hope that this report is only the beginning of many future reports.

The Resolution Committee presented thanks to the Town and County Associations, and to the Secretaries of the Convention. It is recommended that 2 cents per member be contributed to the funds of the Association. It is also recommended that the most extensive publicity be given to the proceedings of this Convention.

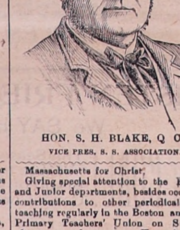

Votes of thanks were tendered to R. J. Score for President; also to Dr. McLaren, chairman of the Executive committee; to the Railway Companies, and to the Press, especially the local press. To the speakers, particularly Miss Vella and Mr. B. Jacobs; to the Pastor and Trustees of the Church; to the Choir; to Belleville friends for their hospitality; to the billeting committee and Sec'y Gordon and the pages; to Mr. Gunn, Grand Trunk agent, for the Suburban rail; to J. J. Woodhouse, Treasurer and Secretary. We pledge ourselves to aid Prison Aid Association.

Letters of sympathy to be sent to the families of the Revs. W. J. Maxwell and W. T. Hicks.

The Convention re-affirms its resolutions in favor of Prohibition, also to John Charlton, Esq., M. P., for his aid to secure better observance of the Sabbath.

REV. W. PATTERSON,
OF COOKES CHURCH, TORONTO.

HON. S. H. BLAKE, Q. C.,
VICE PRES. S. S. ASSOCIATION.

Mrs. Mountford, from Palestine, lecturer on "The Haunts and Home of Jesus Christ," was introduced, and gave a fine illustration respecting the salt losing its savor.

Mr. Johnson introduced Miss Vella, who conducted a Primary Class Service, which was if possible superior to her former addresses. She called for questions from the audience, a great number of which were handed to the platform. She said that in Massachusetts the hymns and exercises are printed in pamphlet form and given to the children, which has a good effect upon children, and mothers especially, as in many instances the mothers, and may be elder sister, will teach the little child the song which is on the leaf. She strongly recommended that the graded method should be adopted in every school. Miss Vella exhibited a great number of Sunday School periodicals, which Primary Teachers could consult with advantage.

An interval was utilized by singing some of the most lively songs in the book and the collection was taken up.

It was ascertained that the amount promised this morning for the services of the Association amounts to $2 692.

Miss Vella then conducted a Primary Class, having a number of children on the platform. There was considerable singing and the relating of incidents which served to secure the attention of the little folks. While Miss Vella is an admirable speaker she is eminently qualified for the position of teaching little children. The black board was used.

A little girl presented Miss Vella with a large bouquet of flowers which she acknowledged in a few choice words.

The Business Committee recommended that a new Sunday School Journal shall be published in the interest of the Association, and further that Mr. G. M. Elliott shall be editor of the same, and that he and the President and Mr. G. Anderson, shall be the Publishing Committee.

Dr. Carman was then called upon to say the final word. He said there was a foreclosure all around, and he would only say to all present, Farewell, come again and you may be sure that you will be welcome.

On motion of Mr. W. Johnson, the next Convention was appointed to be held in the City of London.

The Doxology was sung, and Rev. O. Lumbly pronounced the benediction. Closed sine die.

MISS VELLA AND HER WORK.

As the Sunday school field has extended, and its usefulness made more manifest, attention has been directed to the development of different branches of the work, and it has been found that the primary department affords a vast field, with the promise of a rich harvest for the Master.

This branch of the work in the United States has received particular attention, and it is fresh from this field of labor that Miss Vella comes, with her new and approved methods which attracted so much attention. Her bright face and energetic manner stamp her as particularly adapted for duties that require magnetic sympathy, an untiring energy, and a diligence that knows not defeat.

It is two years since Miss Vella entered the Massachusetts Association as the first State Primary Secretary of the Union. The Association has held district conventions throughout the State, and over 7,000 children have attended these conventions during children's hour. At the beginning of that time there were five Primary Teachers' Unions in Massachusetts. Through the influences extended in the district convention work she has organized 14 more, giving Massachusetts 19, more than one-third of the number in the United States and Canada. A year ago she was elected Secretary of the International Primary Union upon the resignation of Mr. J. P. Black of Philadelphia. In connection with this office with its large correspondence, she serves as publisher of the International Monthly Bulletin of the Union; is associate editor of the Massachusetts S. S. Record and the S. S. Magazine; Secretary of the Massachusetts Sunday School Association which has for its motto;

All the church in the Sunday School.
All the Sunday School in the church.
Massachusetts for Christ.

Giving special attention to the Primary and Junior departments, besides occasional contributions to other periodicals, and teaching regularly in the Boston and Lynn Primary Teachers' Union on Saturday afternoons and evenings. Hence it will be seen that the labors in this branch of the work do not fall lightly upon the shoulders of this youthful enthusiast.

In response to the many inquiries received from workers who desired material used by Miss V., she has compiled "Song and Study for God's Little Ones," a book for use in work with the Primary and Junior grades. The testimonials regarding this book are very flattering. Dr. Vincent writes:

"Your book is full and sparkling, and will be a help to any Primary Class Teacher. It ought to 'fly like a voice, an inspiring voice."

Rev. Lyman Whiting, D. D., East Charlemont, Mass., writes: "The copy of 'Song and Study,' came duly. Once inside I was in a garden of luscious small fruits, sweet, bright berries of choicest color, shape and taste. There is a very lisp of the Divine Spirit intoning the beautiful book. Many of the selections 'sing themselves.' The church hymns are good enough to suit an old hymn-book maker."

Whilst the labors are arduous, as any one can understand, Miss Vella's energy is equal to the task, and during her brief visit here her individuality has impressed those who came in contact with her, and inspired them through her example to greater energy—to make a pleasure out of what is too often considered a task, the instruction of the young in those Bible lessons which are a shield from temptation, and whose influences are for good all along the rough path way of life.

The primary work in Ontario has been undertaken by the Hon. Primary Secretary, Mrs. Duncan, for the past year with great encouragement. It has been with her a new labor of love and has been instrumental in stimulating many teachers to greater efforts.

Five primary unions already exist in Ontario, Toronto, Hamilton, St. Catharines, Brantford, and Galt, and Miss Vella's visit to this Convention has awakened fresh interest in this primary work, which will extend throughout this province. A resolution has been passed by the General Executive, recommending each county and city association, wherever practicable, to appoint a Superintendent to organize primary unions. Mrs. M. A. Laines is President of the Toronto Primary Union of this branch of the work.

NOTES OF THE CONVENTION.

Belleville did herself proud in entertaining the large number of delegates, and many were loath to leave so soon.

Another large crowd of delegates visited the D. & D. Institute yesterday and were loud in their praises of the conduct of the Institution.

Most of the visitors left for home by this morning's and to day noon's trains.

POISONED AT WATERTOWN.

James Pearse, of North Marysburg, Found Dead in Bed There.

A despatch was received at Toronto yesterday from Watertown, N. Y., stating that a man who registered at the Harris House in that city on Wednesday as E. Case of Toronto, Ont., had been found dead in bed yesterday morning from the effects of an overdose of morphine. With him was a young woman, who claimed to be his wife, and was registered as such. She was also suffering from the effect of the poison, and when taken to the hospital said that she and Case had been married in Kingston on the 17th, and were on their bridal trip. It was at first supposed that the man's real name was Pearse, and that he did in fact come from Toronto. A despatch received later from Picton, however, states that the dead man's real name was James Pearse, and that he left North Marysburg, in the County of Prince Edward, where he had lived for the past two years, together with a Miss Wright of the same place, last week. Nothing had been heard of him until last night, when his brother received a telegram saying he had been found dead in bed.

Bishop Strachan School.

The Mail says: "Those who are interested in the work and success of the Bishop Strachan school will be glad to learn that it has this year maintained its reputation for thorough scholarship by passing six candidates for university matriculation. Their names are;—Miss Shiela Macdonald, Toronto, with first class honors in English and second in French and German; Miss Helen Johnstone, Toronto, with first class honors in English and second in French and German; Miss Louise Warren, Whitby; Miss Edith Gibbs, Port Arthur; Miss Jessie Jamieson, Toronto, with second class honors in English and German, also passed in divinity; and Miss Amelia Hare, St. Catharines. Miss Hare already held a second class professional certificate, but joined the school classes that she might fulfil the requirements for matriculation, which she did by passing in Latin, French and German. She will continue her studies at Trinity University, as will also the Misses Warren and Jamieson. Miss Johnstone and Miss Gibbs will attend lectures at Toronto University."

Queen's Opera House To-Night.

Don't fail to see J. Walter Kennedy in a great spectacular production as Sampson. Mr. Kennedy does not pretend to be a strong man but an actor of high merit and ability and it is to be understood that his performance is far different from that of Saunders or Lewis Cyr. He doesn't give any exhibitions in lifting heavy weights. This piece is a biblical tragedy and is produced just as the bible reads. Mr. Kennedy has a very strong company of artists. He also carries a carload of magnificent scenery, gorgeous costumes, etc. He played last night in Kingston to a large and very fashionable audience. It is to be hoped he will do the same here to-night. Prices, 25c, 50c and 75c.

From "Flannel" Town.

A Campbellford citizen has the presumption in this week's Herald to severely criticise Sir Walter Scott's literary style. In speaking of "Kenilworth" he says: "There is nothing in the book to enrich or strengthen the mind; nothing there to ennoble or dignify the character. No, but it teems with the nauseating drivellings of drunkards, the sensualities of profligates, and the plottings of ruffians. Amy Robsart and her maid Janet, are the most redeeming features in the book, and hard to find, on account of the mass of corruption one has to wade through in the search for anything good."

Cheese Markets

WOODSTOCK.

WOODSTOCK, Oct. 24.—Fourteen factories boarded 3 100 boxes, mostly August and September. Sales - 580 boxes August at 9 13/16c and 400 at 10c Next market October 31st.

BRANTFORD.

BRANTFORD, October 25.—At the cheese market to-day, eleven factories offered 1,982 boxes September and October cheese. Sales: 400 boxes at 9 15-16c.

Ringing Noises

In the ears, sometimes a roaring, buzzing sound, are caused by catarrh, that exceedingly disagreeable and very common disease. Loss of smell or hearing also results from catarrh. Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier, is a peculiarly successful remedy for this disease, which it cures by purifying the blood.

HOOD'S PILLS are the best after dinner pills, assist digestion, prevent constipation.

Bath and Toilet Sponges.

A direct importation of bath and toilet sponges is received by L. W. Yeomans & Co. The selection has been made with care, from the Superior Mediterranean Sponges and will be found unusually low in price.

Fine American Boots.

Remember we have the best quality of fine American Boots for Ladies ever offered in the city; do not fail to see them.—VERMILYEA & SON.

IF YOU ARE NERVOUS OR DYSPEPTIC try Carter's Little Nerve Pills. Dyspepsia makes you nervous, and nervousness makes you dyspeptic; either one renders you miserable, and these little pills cure both.

SOCIAL & PERSONAL

Rev. Dr. Chiniquy is seriously ill in Montreal.

Major General Herbert is in Kingston, inspecting "A" Battery.

Angus Dickson leaves on Monday for Cape Town, South Africa.

Mrs. C. F. Nicholson, of Oshawa, is in the city, on a visit to friends.

Mr. S. R. Armstrong, Town Clerk of Peterboro, was one of our callers to-day.

Lieut. Governor Mackintosh is suffering from sciatica. He is on his way to Ottawa.

John Keith, Colborne, and R. McGill Hood, Montreal, were at the Queen's to-day.

Edgar Ashley, of Grand Rapids, is home on a visit to his father, Charles Ashley, of Foxboro.

Harold C. James, of Bridgewater, has secured an apprenticeship on an ocean vessel.

Mr. J. W. Campion, of the B. C. Iron Works, Vancouver was at the Queen's hotel, Toronto, yesterday.

Mr. Geo. Spooner, of this city, who has been engaged in Montreal during the past five months, has returned home.

Mrs. Hennessy and daughters, Julia and Kathleen, have returned to their home in Alvinston, after spending a month in the city.

Messrs. J. W. Walker and E. G. Porter will leave to-morrow for the back country, where they will join Mr. Corby and party at their hunting head quarters.

Rev. S. Reynolds Hole, D.D., Dean of Rochester (Eng.) arrived on the Majestic on a lecture tour, which will include all the larger cities of the United States.

Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Stevenson, Deseronto, are visiting at the parents of the former on Wharf St. Mr. Stevenson has just recovered from a severe attack of typhoid fever.

Duncan McClellan and T. W. T. Bleasdell, Trenton; J. C. Lansing, Peterborough; J. Collins, Hastings; C. W. Chadwick, Toronto; W. J. Daly, Montreal; Chas. A. Holden, Oakville are guests at the Anglo.

Miss Howe and her sister Violet of Belleville, spent Saturday and Sunday in Town the guests of Miss Maud Scriver.—On Tuesday, Trenton was visited by Mr Oscar Kesler of Belleville and Mr. Fred Kesler of Texas, N.S., both Trenton boys. Their many old friends and school mates were glad to greet them.—Trenton Advocate.

Mr. M. J. Maclean has been obliged to go home for a short time laid up with a sore knee. While absent, Mr. Bleecker, Belleville, will conduct his business.—We regret to learn that Mrs. Lazier and family, who have been residing here for some time, have removed to Belleville. While here they made many friends, a number of whom were at the station on Monday to bid them farewell.—Stirling News Argus.

Amongst the visitors to the S. S. Convention was the Rev. Dr. Barrass, of Toronto, who has been an occasional visitor to Belleville during the last thirty years. This estimable gentleman has been a Methodist minister for fifty-four years and was superannuated last year, against his wishes. He is still sufficiently vigorous to preach every Sunday, and does a large amount of literary work. Dr. Barrass, who left for home at noon, states that the late Convention was one of the best and most enjoyable ever held by the Association.

Literary Notes.

Harper's for November presents the following special features:—The Sea Robbers of New York. (A familiar history of the Red Sea trade,) by Thomas A. Janvier. (Five pictures by Howard Pyle.) A Painter's Impressions of Rajpootana. (In Feudal India,) by Edwin Lord Weeks. (Fourteen pictures by the author.) At the Capital of the Young Republic. (Official life in the United States a century ago,) by Henry Loomis Nelson. (Five pictures by T. DeThulstrup) On the Trail of the Wild Turkey, by Charles D. Lanier. (Four pictures by A. B. Frost.) The Cossack as Cowboy, Soldier, and Citizen, by Poultney Bigelow. (Eleven pictures by Frederic Remington.) The Religion of the Sioux, by Lieut. Wm. H. Wassell, U. S. A. (Five illustrations.) Five short stories by Julian Ralph, Marguerite Merington, Grace King, Ewan Macpherson and Joan Gardner.

With the November number the Arena concludes its tenth volume, and it gives promise of even greater achievement and prosperity for the coming year than in the past. A glance at the index for the past six months shows what an immense amount of reading on all subjects is afforded in one volume of this live and progressive review.

For the November number of the Ladies' Journal Mr. Wenzell has designed an attractive cover, which does its part toward making this holiday number a particularly attractive one, and one which no woman can afford to be without. The Journal is published by The Curtis Publishing Company, of Philadelphia, for ten cents per number and one dollar per year.

The December issue of the Delineator which is called the Christmas number is always a notable edition of this favorite magazine, and this year it is full of unusually good things. Many of the contributions have the distinctive flavor of the season. The subscription price of the Delineator is one dollar a year. Single copies, fifteen cents. Address orders to the Delineator Publishing Co., 33 Richmond St. West, Toronto, Ont.

That Joyful Feeling.

With the exhilarating sense of renewed health and strength and internal cleanliness, which follows the use of Syrup of Figs, is unknown to the few who have not progressed beyond the old time medicines and the cheap substitutes sometimes offered but never accepted by the well informed.

A Lesson in Hygiene.

Now that water supplies are recognized as the chief vehicle for propagating typhoid fever, medical and scientific authorities throughout the world are constantly dwelling on the necessity of using water of known purity. While this has no bearing on medicinal waters, which, however valuable, cannot safely be made part of the ordinary daily diet, because of the solve chemical substances they contain, it has, however, given a wonderful stimulus to the consumption of dietetic or table waters, such as Apollinaris. It is little wonder, however, that the use of Apollinaris is on the increase, for who does not gladly take the beverage which, besides being pure and healthful, is delightful and refreshing?

A Graduate of Toronto University says:

"My children have been treated with Scott's Emulsion from their earliest years! Our physician first recommended it and now whenever a child takes cold my wife immediately resorts to this remedy, which always effects a cure."

Severe Asthma?

R. Schiffmann, St. Paul, Minn., will mail trial package of "Schiffmann's Asthma Cure," free to any sufferer. He advertises by giving it away. Never fails to give instant relief in worst cases and cures where others fail. Name this paper and send address for a free trial package.

Catarrh—Use Nasal Balm. Quick, positive cure. Soothing, cleansing, healing.

HOME AND HAUNTS OF JESUS.

Mrs. Mountford's Lecture Draws a Crowded House.

Bridge St. church was crowded to the doors again last night, the attraction being the lecture of Mrs. Von Finkelstein Mountford. Mrs. Mountford was here in April last and created so favorable an impression that she was assured of a full house last night. Most of the delegates to the Sunday School Convention took advantage of the opportunity afforded of hearing this talented woman.

The subject last night was "The Home and Haunts of Jesus," and dealt with life and manners among the country people and villagers. The platform was fitted up to represent an oriental house, and reclining around the room on divans and mats were a number of ladies and gentlemen dressed to represent people in the various ranks and classes of society. By this means the speaker illustrated the fact that in the East every man's and woman's rank in society can be at once ascertained from his or her dress, as also whether a woman is married or single. The dress and costumes shown were very beautiful, woven many of them, from the finest of camel's hair and embroidered in gold. The dresses and costumes and draperies carried by Mrs. Mountford are said to have cost over $25,000.

The audience for the time being was transported to Palestine and saw the people as they dressed and acted. In fact a better idea of these in many respects can be obtained from this lecture than from an actual visit to the Holy Land, for Mrs. Mountford speaks from an intimate personal knowledge, while travellers are purposely deceived by the inhabitants. Many obscure passages in the scriptures were made clear by her explanations. Christ's command to the seventy, "Salute no man by the way," for instance, has puzzled Bible students and has been sneered at by skeptics. But when it is known that it takes from half an hour to half a day to make the salutation spoken of, and the same command is given to this day to anyone sent on a message, the passage becomes clear and emphatic. The woman's intense anxiety about the lost piece of silver has also puzzled many people, but becomes plain when it is known that every married woman wears a necklace of ten pieces of silver, that is given her by her husband at marriage, that it answers the same purpose as the wedding ring in this country, and that if a woman lose anyone of those pieces of silver she was disgraced in the eyes of her husband and her neighbors. In this way did the lecturer take up passage after passage and make them clear and beautiful, illustrating her points by going through the various operations with her assistants. Her description of the duties of a shepherd and the relationship between him and his sheep, of the women grinding at the mill, of the maidens gleaning in the harvest field, etc., were very beautiful and intensely interesting.

1352 people attended the lecture last night.

Mrs. Mountford lectures again to night and to morrow night at the same place. Her subject to night will be "Life in Jerusalem." There is no doubt that she will be accorded another full house.

Children will be admitted at 15 cts. each, or two for 25 cts.

SPORTING NEWS

Negotiations are pending for a quoit match between Claus and Kitchen.

Mr. W. W. Pope, who was one of the Corby hunting party, has returned. He reports that the party have killed two deer and eighty partridge. They were under canvas, and Mr. Corby, whose health has greatly improved, will remain until about Nov. 10th. Mr. Hamilton will return on Tuesday next.

The New York Baseball Club's profits this season are officially declared to be not less than $40,000, on an outlay of $120,000.

The Prince of Wales' cutter Britannia won $13,000 in prizes this year, the Vigilant has $2,905 and the Satanita $2,000.

The Y. M. C. A. hockey team met in their rooms last evening to talk over matters in connection with the club. They did not appoint a captain, and nothing definite was decided upon as to joining the City Association, although there were few in favor of it. The members of the team begin training to-morrow for a cross-country-run on Thanksgiving Day.

Lane's Medicine Moves the Bowels Each Day.

In order to be healthy this is necessary.

Sudden Death.

While Mrs. W. F. Chisholm, aged 66, of Chisholm's Mills, was engaged in preparing dinner on Tuesday she dropped dead. Heart disease was the cause.

ST. VITUS'S DANCE,

Spasms, Convulsions, Dizziness, Fainting Spells, Nervous Prostration and those nervous conditions brought on by functional disorders are permanently cured by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It's a strengthening nervine and restorative tonic, prescribed by an eminent Physician for all those distressing "weaknesses" and irregularities common to women.

MISS MERKEL.

MRS. ADAM BERK, Albany, Berks Co., Pa., writes: "DR. R. V. PIERCE: Dear Sir—My sister, Miss Cordelia Merkel, had St. Vitus's Dance. Her head and right arm moved or twitched constantly; she could not walk without being held under her arms. She tried four doctors, but without good. After fifteen months, having been given up as a hopeless invalid, I bought her Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription; in two months she was well and strong."

PIERCE Guarantees a CURE.

OUR GREAT : SALE
--- OF ---
· GOODS ·
Damaged by
SMOKE AND WATER,
Will commence
FRIDAY Morning
AT 9 O'CLOCK.
Look our for Bargains.
A. E. FISH & CO.

Mr. J. W. Dykeman
St. George, New Brunswick.

After the Grip

No Strength, No Ambition

Hood's Sarsaparilla Gave Perfect Health.

The following letter is from a well-known merchant tailor of St. George, N. B.:

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"Gentlemen—I am glad to say that Hood's Sarsaparilla and Hood's Pills have done me a great deal of good. I had a severe attack of the grip in the winter, and after getting over the fever I did not seem to gather strength, and had no ambition. Hood's Sarsaparilla proved to be just what I needed. The results were very satisfactory, and I recommend this medicine to all who are afflicted with rheumatism or other afflictions caused by poison and poor blood. I always keep Hood's Sarsaparilla in my house and use it when I need a tonic. We also keep Hood's Pills on hand and think highly of them." J. W. DYKEMAN, St. George, New Brunswick.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

Hood's Pills are purely vegetable, and do not purge, pain or gripe. Sold by all druggists.

Before putting up your STOVES have the
TRIMMINGS RE-PLATED
— AT THE —
BELLEVILLE PLATING WORKS
HARRIS & WALTON'S FACTORY MIL ST.

Rugs!

Many Housekeepers

Fail to recognize the amount of furnishings and the cozy, warm appearance a few nice selected Rugs give the home.

Within the last few years a complete revolution has taken place in the use as well as in the improved style and character of Floor Rugs. Their area of usefulness is not now restricted as of old to the cheerful hearth. They are now used for a great variety of purposes.

We have them in stock from the small door mat at 35c. each to the large Tapestry and Brussels Squares up to $37 50. They comprise the following different makes:

Smyrna,
Wilton,
Moquette,
Axminster,
Dag Dag's,
Cocoa.
Sheepskin,
Goatskin,
Goorka,
Velvet,
Mohair.
Linoleum.

We will be pleased to have you inspect them.

GEO. RITCHIE & CO.
Home Furnishers.

Changed Daily.

"SAY A LITTLE BUT SAY IT STRONG."

FRIDAY, Oct. 26th.

CELEBRITIES

ON . . .

TEA . .

Tea is an agreeable exhilarator of mind and body combined with a feeling of contentedness and placidity, and a cool and fresh feeling of the body.—Dr. Newton, New York.

Stroud's 40c. tea is a high grade tea and it is sold at a fair price. It gives splendid satisfaction.

Stroud's
TEA STORE.

·PLUMBING·

We have added to our Workmen,

MR. GEORGE JOHNSON,

Who has for the past six years been prominent on large contracts in Victoria, B. C., San Francisco, Denver, and Chicago.

— — ALSO — —

MR. EDWIN W. BISHOP,

A graduate of the New York School for Plumbing (class 92), who comes highly recommended.

With these men added to our staff, we feel sure of giving satisfactory to all in Sanl ary Plumbing.

C. F. Smith & Co.

HAPPY HOME RANGES.

Best in the Market.

—ALSO—

A Full Line of

Art Garland

and

Famous Heaters

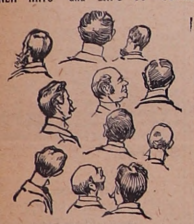

—(o)—

Wm. McGIE.

Next to Nathan Jones.

Telephone 38. Front S

NEW HATS and CAPS TO COVER

OUR HEADS.

GEO. P. MINAKER.

Wanted !

10,000 People of the City of Belleville, to buy the famous

ENGLISH SPICED SAUSAGE !

Manufactured by

McGUINNESS,

Front Street.

Tender Loins, Feet, Ribs, Hocks and Fresh Heads, Choice Roasts 9c. per lb.

PETTYJOHN'S

CALIFORNIA BREAKFAST FOOD

Dyspeptics can eat this food.

It is particularly adapted for children and persons of sedentary habits.

It is made from Pacific coast wheat hulled and crushed by improved machinery.

It can be easily prepared for breakfast,as this crushing process makes it soft and tender and easy to cook

Ask your physician which is best for you to eat, oats or wheat.

Pettijohn's California Breakfast Food is sold in packages by

BENMORE & BENSON.

REMOVAL

MR. JOSEPH CALDWELL, DENTIST

Has removed his office to the new premises which he has had specially fitted up in the

Caldwell Block,

First door south of the Anglo American Hotel Front street. 108t

INSURANCE.

Western Assurance Company,

Fire and Marine Head Office, Toronto.

North British & Mercantile Ins. Co.,

Fire and Life, Head Office (Can.) Montreal.

Atlas Insurance Company,

Fire Head Office (Canada), Montreal

M. M. THOMPSON

Water Works Office, Bridge St.

Daily Intelligencer.

A Wonderful Cure.

Mr. David Smith, Coe Hill, Ont., writes: "For the benefit of others I wish to say a few words about Northrop & Lyman's VEGETABLE DISCOVERY. About a year ago I took a severe cough and had a virulent sore on my lips, was bad with dyspepsia, constipation and general debility. I tried almost every conceivable remedy, outwardly and inwardly to cure the sore, but all to no purpose. I had often thought of trying Northrop & Lyman's VEGETABLE DISCOVERY, so I got a bottle and when I had used about one half the sore showed evident signs of healing. By the time that bottle was done it had about disappeared and my general health was improving fast. I was always of a very bilious habit and had used quinine and lemon juice with very little effect. But since using 3 bottles of the VEGETABLE DISCOVERY the biliousness was entirely gone and my general health is excellent. I am 60 years old. Parties using it should continue it for some time after they think they are cured. It is by far the best health restorer I know."

Big words won't split rails.

Holloway's Corn Cure destroys all kinds of corns and warts root and branch. Who then would endure them with such a cheap and effectual remedy within reach?

Where fathers flee mothers fight.

Sweat is the champion fertilizer.

BAD BLOOD causes Blotches, Boils, Pimples, Abscesses, Ulcers, Scrofula, etc. Burdock Blood Bitters cures Bad Blood in any form from a common Pimple to the worst Scrofula Sore.

The blackguard is the chief of slime.

Some people laugh to show their pretty teeth. The use of Ivory White Tooth Powder makes people laugh more than ever. It's so nice. Price 25c. Sold by druggists.

Most farms pasture too many fences.

Much distress and sickness in children is caused by worms. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator gives relief by removing the cause. Give it a trial and be convinced.

Ache corns do not grow on boot trees.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP strengthens the lungs and cures all throat troubles, coughs colds, etc.

Scalding tears will scar the fairest cheek.

Out of Sorts.—Symptoms, Headache, loss of appetite, furred tongue and general indisposition. These symptoms, if neglected, develop into acute disease. It is a trite saying that an "ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," and a little attention at this point may save months of sickness and large doctor's bills. For this complaint take from two to three of Parmelee's Vegetable Pills on going to bed, and one or two for three nights in succession, and a cure will be effected.

Bank books contain many tales of fashion.

HAGYARD'S PECTORAL BALSAM cures Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis and all Throat and Lung Troubles.

MONTHLY DIVIDENDS!!

Syndicate Trading

$10 00 UPWARDS,

40 Per Cent. Profit in September, 1894

Stock Exchange Risks less than Trade Risks. Stock Exchange Profits Greater than any Trade Profits.

Syndicate Trading is conducted with smallest individual risk while the greatest possible profits are earned for each investor. Syndicate Trading is a LEGITIMATE road to wealth. A small sum quickly becomes a yearly income.

Anyone can Share Our Profits !

Send $10 00 or upwards in registered letter, by post or money order or New York draft, payable to New York Trading Co., or A W Pearse, Manager.

All money at your credit can be withdrawn first of month when accounts are rendered. The elections will make active markets. This is a grand opportunity to make money. Details mailed free. References furnished. Representatives wanted

New York Trading Company,

17 & 19 Broadway, New York City.

LAKEHURST SANITARIUM

OAKVILLE, ONT.

For treatment and cure of

ACHOLISM, MORPHINE HABIT, TOBACCO HABIT AND NERVOUS DISEASES.

The system employed at this institution is the familiar Double Chloride of Gold System. Through its agency over 200,000 Slaves to the use of these poisons have been emancipated in the last fourteen years. Lakehurst Sanitarium is the oldest institution of the kind in Canada, and has a well earned reputation to maintain in this line of medicine. In its whole history there is not an instance of failure to remove the appetite for these poisons. In its whole history there is not an instance of any after ill-effects from the treatment. Hundreds of happy homes in all parts of the Dominion bear eloquent witness to the efficacy of a course of treatment with us. For terms and full information write

THE SECRETARY,

28 Bank of Commerce Chambers,

aug7d3m34w3m) Toronto, Ont.

SLIPPER SOLES.

We have just received a large number of the best

LAMB'S WOOL SLIPPER SOLES, IN

Nos. 2, 3, 4, 5 & 6.

Also in Children's Sizes, which we are offering at the low price of 35 Cents per pair.

We have also a full range of Single and Double Berlin Wool, for Crocheting and Knitting Bedroom Slippers.

THE BEEHIVE

CHAS. N. SULMAN

THE CZAR IS READY TO DIE

He Drafts a Farewell Message to the People of Russia.

BLAME CAST ON HIS PHYSICIAN

It is Charged that He Made a Mistake in Diagnosing the Case—Negligence and Lacked of Professional Skill Alleged—Preparations Being Made for the Funeral—He Faces the Invitable Bravely.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—Despatches from St. Petersburg say there is a general feeling against Prof. Zacharin who is held responsible through his mistaken diagnosis of the Czars malady for much of his suffering and the probable fatal termination of his illness. The professor is charged with negligence and lack of professional skill.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—A despatch from St. Petersburg says that the Czar gasped for breath for four hours last night without cessation. He complained of sharp pains in the legs. The swelling has now reached the thighs. The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Daily News says that the official bulletins do not represent the gravity of the Czar's condition. The temporary relief afforded by tapping, he adds, means nothing. It is the general opinion that his Majesty is already dying. It is known that his unconsciousness lasted several hours.

A despatch to the Pall Mall Gazette from Yalu says that the state carriages trappings, etc., to be used on the occasion of the marriage of the Czarewitch and Princess Alix, together with the regiments necessary to an adequate military display have arrived at Livadia. It is also stated that the mourning coaches, garments of woe, etc., to be used in the event of the Czar's death arrived at the same time.

BERLIN, Oct. 26.—A despatch from St. Petersburg to the Cologne Gazette says that the Czar heard the intimation of his physicians that his case was hopeless with great bravery. The opinion is freely expressed that should the Czar die it will be because the proper treatment of his case was not begun in time. It is said that his condition yesterday varied between drowsiness and comparative cheerfulness. He passed an hour alone with the Czarewitch and during the interview dictated an affectionate farewell message to Russia which upon his death will be issued to the public. It is said that he is very grateful to the Russian people for their free expressions of sympathy.

It is reported that when he was given to understand that his case was hopeless he remarked: "It is sad that a man of my years should have to die, though personally I do not cling overmuch to life. If God still deems my life of use to my dear country he will make me well."

LONDON, Oct. 26.—The Czar's physicians issued a bulletin at 8 o'clock last evening saying: "During the day neither somnolence nor spasmodic symptoms have been observed. The patient's appetite is satisfactory. The oedma has not increased."

CLEVER FEMALE SPY.

Japanese Officials Told Her Many Important Military Secrets.

VANCOUVER, B.C., Oct. 26.—Chief among the advices received by the Empress of Japan is news of the arrest at Hiroshima of a female spy who gives her name as Otain. She has been using her wiles with effect among Japanese officials and had several of them at her beck and call, with the result that she was piling up a magnificent load of information for Li-Hung-Chang, of whose extensive household, it appears, she was a member. She is beautiful and accomplished, and as she spoke Japanese fluently was admirably fitted for the work of which she was assigned. Her accent betrayed her Chinese birth. The officers who had been paying for her smiles with military secrets will pay the penalty of their rashness.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—The Japanese legation have no confirmation of the report that the Japanese army under Field Marshal Count Oyama has landed near Port Arthur, but the report is credited nevertheless.

The End is Near.

MONTREAL, Oct. 26.—Dr. E. P. Lachapelle, medical adviser of Mr. Mercier, said yesterday that there was but little change in his condition, except that he was still weaker. He did not sleep any on Wednesday night, but he is perfectly conscious and able to recognize all who go near him. He has not had any crisis since Monday, but should one present itself it may be the last. If there is no crisis he may last some days more, but all realize that the end is near at hand.

Police Collide with Soldiers.

KINGSTON, Oct. 26.—A dance which took place last night at a house on Bay street was largely patronized by soldiers belonging to "A" Battery and their female friends. In consequence of complaints the police were compelled to break up the party, and for a time there threatened to be a serious collision. One soldier who distinguished himself in abusing the police was, after much difficulty, brought to the lock-up and appeared before police magistrate yesterday morning. The case was adjourned.

Raised the Price of Coal.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—The coal agents at their meeting yesterday advanced prices 25 cents a ton for stove coal and 15 cents a ton for all other sizes. The new schedule for November delivery is $4 a ton for stove, $3.75 for egg and chestnut and $3.60 for grate. This should dispose of the stories current of the dissolution of the so called anthracite coal combination.

The Crew Saved.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—The crew of the Danish schooner Helene, who were supposed to have perished by the explosion of the vessel's cargo of gunpowder in the North Sea, arrived at Leith yesterday in the Helene's boats.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

TORONTO, Oct. 26, 1894.

On the street 500 bushels of wheat sold at 53c for white, 51c for red and 50 1-2 for goose; 4,000 of barley at 42c to 47c, and 800 of oats at 31c to 32c. Prices at outside railway points were unchanged. Wheat was freely offered at 49c. Canadian barley in Oswego is steady, with Canadian at 61c to 65c.

The tone of the London stock markets is still improving, but almost nothing is doing. South Americans were firmer on a further deal in the Argentine securities held by the Bank of England for the Baring estate. Americans were irregular.

At East Buffalo all told there were but 15 cars on sale, but that was more than enough, and what Canada dealers can be thinking of to ship choice fat lambs here to sell at $3.75 to $3.90, with the very best at $4 per cwt., duty included, is more than even commission men can understand. The run has been too heavy and should be restricted until colder weather sets in.

A decided interruption to the New York stock market apathy came in the shape of a break in prices for the coal stocks. The decline was more sensational than any which has overtaken this group during many months, and the anthracite properties were affected without exception. The selling, however, was not continuous and the low prices were scored as a rule in the opening half hour.

DANDY LIONS.

A TRAGEDY AVERTED.

A Painful Episode for Which a Fin de Siecle Girl Was Responsible.

"I have just called, Miss Simpson," said the angry lover, "to say farewell, but before I say it I want you to know that I have discovered your falseness, and I despise you for it."

"Why, Billy, whatever is the matter?"

"Oh, you know well enough. Maybe I didn't pass the gate last evening and see you with your head on another man's shoulder. Who is the happy man?"

"But, Billy, I haven't seen any man but you dearest, honest, I haven't."

"No, I suppose not. Then, maybe, I am blind, deaf and dumb, and an idiot. Maybe you didn't have company last evening?"

"No one, Billy, but my best friend, Emily. No I didn't, and I think you are a wretch."

"And you didn't stand at the gate?"

"Oh, yes, we did. We were counting the stars in the big dipper—making wishes on them."

"Oh, yes, I suppose I was blind. Now, maybe you'll describe Emily to me."

"Why, she had on her Knox hat, her black blazer suit, a white shirt waist, with a black satin tie, and a white duck vest. You know Emily, Billy."

Billy—"Um—m—! I see."

And what might have been a modern tragedy was averted, and Billy made up at once.

Two of the Gang Caught.

FORT ERIE, Ont., Oct. 26.—On the 23d inst. a party of five tramps attacked an Arabian peddler about two miles west of this village and robbed him of something over $100 in cash beside the goods he carried. After robbing him the tramps tied him to a tree and left him, while four of them made for Uncle Sam's domain. On the 25th John L. Hubard was arrested in Stevensville and released, then afterwards re-arrested by Chief Young and Mains of Niagara Falls and brought to this place for examination. He was taken to Welland there to await trial. Another one of the party by the name of Frank Spencer was arrested as he came off the Buffalo ferry boat by Officer Metcalf of this place, given an examination before Squire Treble and committed for trial at Welland.

One Man Died.

MONTREAL, Oct. 26.—August Petit, the chef of the Hotel Normandie, perished in the fire yesterday morning. His room was in the rear of the building and he was overcome before he could escape. He was discovered on his knees beside his bed in an attitude of prayer. He had made a brave struggle for life, but it was of no avail. The poor man's footprints could plainly be seen where his feet rested on the floor, the space surrounding them being black with smoke. The body was taken to Notre Dame Hospital, where doctors worked for hours upon it. There was a spark of life, but not enough to rekindle and he finally expired.

The Barring Liquidation.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—The Governors of the Bank of England have issued circulars announcing an extension of the term of the Baring liquidation until November 13, 1895, in accordance with the powers granted in 1893.

Will Visit Samoa.

AUCKLAND, N.Z., Oct. 26.—It is announced that either Premier Dodson or Minister Ward will visit Samoa in January with reference to the proposal of New Zealand to assume control of the islands.

A very fine steel pen is best for marking with indelible ink.

Brown is the most becoming color for a blonde with fair skin and pale golden hair.

Repeated applications of alcohol will remove stains from any sort of white material.

When you curl your bangs first moisten the hair with bay rum; that will make it glossy and make it stay in curl longer.

Deseronto Navigation Company (Limited

Steamer Ella Ross.

This fast sailing and comfortable steamer leaves Belleville for Trenton daily (Sunday excepted), at 10 a.m. Leaves Belleville for Deseronto and Picton at 3 p.m., connecting at Deseronto with steamers for Napanee and Oswego. Lowest freight and passenger rates. For further information apply to the Rathbun Co., Bridge street, or to R. C. Carter, General Manager, Deseronto.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP heals the lungs.

It is worse than madness to negect a cough or cold which is easily subdued if taken in time, but becomes, when left to itself, the fore runner of consumption and premature death. Inflammation, when it attacks the delicate tissue of the lungs and bronchial tubes, travels with perilous rapidity; then do not delay, get a bottle of Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup, the medicine that grasps this formidable foe from the human body, and drives it from the system. This medicine promotes a free and easy expectoration, subdues the cough, heals the diseased parts, and exerts a most wonderful influence in curing consumption, and other diseases of the throat and lungs. If parents wish to save the lives of their children, and themselves from much anxiety, trouble and expense, let them procure a bottle of Bickle's Anti Consumptive Syrup, and whenever a child has taken cold, has a cough or hoarseness, give the Syrup according to directions.

Short sermons make wide awake Christians.

Jacob Loeckman, Buffalo, N.Y., says he has been using Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil for rheumatism; he had such a lame back he could not do anything, but one bottle has, to use his own expression, "cured him up". He thinks it is the best thing in the market.

Art loses nothing by conceding modest a fig leaf.

SIGNS OF WORMS are variable appetite itching at the nose, etc. Dr. Low's Worm Syrup is the best worm expeller.

Guns without foresight shoot wide of the mark.

Dr. Low's Worm Syrup cures and removes worms of all kinds in children and adults. Price 25c. Sold by all druggists.

A toothbrush should go with every dirty story.

DYSPEPSIA arises from wrong action of stomach, liver and bowels. Burdock Blood Bitters cures Dyspepsia and all diseases arising from it, 99 times in 100.

It would be a gross injustice to confound that standord healing agent—Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil—with the ordinary unguents, lotions and salves. They are oftentimes inflammatory and astringent. This Oil is on the contrary, eminently cooling and soothing when applied externally to relieve pain, and powerfully remedial when swallowed.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP cures Bronchitis.

McLaughlin's

QUEEN FLOUR

Which is warranted

THE BEST IN CANADA

For sale by

Chas. E. Bishop.

Bridge St., Belleville.

Send him an order

DODD'S

KIDNEY PILLS,

A positive cure for all kidney diseases, such as

Backache, Rheumatism, Diabetes, Brights Disease, &c., &c.

For sale at the Pharmacy.

D. M. WATERS.

BLANKETS

We are showing a large line of Blankets in all Wool and Union from $2.00.

Grey Flannel

Our Grey Flannels are from the best makers. You should call and see our 15c. line.

NATHAN JONES.

OPPOSITE HOTEL STREET.

ONTARIO MUTUAL LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY.

S. Burrows, Esq., General Agent, Ontario Mutual Life Co., Belleville, Ont.

DEAR SIR, Received your company's check for $2,000 for our Matured Endowment, and we both wish to show our gratitude to you and the Company for the straightforward and satisfactory way you deal with policy holders, and that we are more than satisfied with our investment. I will always urge our friends to follow in our footsteps. Thanking you very kindly.

Yours very sincerely,
Mr. & Mrs. GOODWIN, Bowmanville,
Formerly of Belleville.

IT - HAS - BEEN - ADMITTED

—— BY OVER 125 PEOPLE IN BELLEVILLE THAT THE ——

John Bull Wrought Steel Range,

Is the most Economical, Everlasting and Useful Range on the market. How is this for three Seasons.

SEE THEM AT FOSTER'S.

Also the Duchess of Oxford Cast Iron Range

TO THE PUBLIC.

When we decided to add the manufacure of carriages, phaetons, democrats, &c., to our business, we immediately put under construction a few of each. As we decided to place no vehicle on the market which is not A 1 in in every detail, and knowing that no first-class vehicle can be produced on the rush, it has been necessary for us to take sufficient time to produce what we aimed at. We think we have succeeded; and we now have a few rigs completed, and others nearing completion to offer for sale. The iron work is all hand forged; the wood work carefully made, and strongly ironed; and the painting and upholstering done with the best material and greatest care. We can freely recommend these rigs. We will be pleased to have parties who may need anything in the above line, call and inspect our work.

ST. CHARLES & PRINGLE

JAS ST CHARLES. — — — — HENRY PRINGLE

LISTEN FRIENDS ! !

We SAY because we KNOW !

Our COAL ! This Season is unexcelled for quality because the Bill of Lading bears the Brand of the Delaware & Hudson Canal Company.

Cut this out and test this "Ad' when the Winter Winds whistle.

THE RATHBUN COMPANY.

The Sale of Boots and Shoes :

Slightly damaged by Smoke and Water will continue until everything is sold.

HAINES & LOCKETT

Opposite Anglo-American Hotel

Camping Supplies!

— AND —

Picnic - Requisites !

Our list of articles suitable for Picnic Lunches and Camping includes :

Canned Meats.

ARMOUR'S COOKED BEEF,
ARMOUR'S OX TONGUES,
ARMOUR'S LUNCH TONGUES,
ARMOUR'S POTTED HAM,
ARMOUR'S COOKED PIG FEET
ARMOUR'S LUNCHEON MEAT.
ARMOUR'S POTTED TONGUE
ARMOUR'S BRAWN,
SANDWICH MEATS,
BONELESS CHICKEN,
BONELESS TURKEY,
POTTED BEEF,
POTTED GAME,
ETC.! ETC.!! ETC.!

Canned Fish.

FINEST SARDINES IN OIL,
FINEST SARDINES IN TOMATO,
HERRINGS IN TOMATO SAUCE,
KIPPERED HERRINGS,
FRESH HERRINGS.
SALMON, LOBSTERS,
FINNAN HADDIES,
BLOATER PASTE,
ANCHOVY PASTE,
SARDINE PASTE,
ETC.! ETC.! ETC.!!

Sundries.

Condensed Milk in Tins, Cream in Tin Biscuits (in great variety), Fine old Cheese, McLaren's Imperial Cheese (in small crocks) Dried Beef, Choice Hams and Bacon, Lime Juice, Spanish Olives, CROSSE & BLACKWELL'S Pickled White Onions, Walnuts, Chow Chow, and and Mixed Pickles.

WALLBRIDGE & CLARKE

Grocers and Wine Merchants,

33 and 37 Bridge Street, Also Front Street, in Caldwell Building.

GENTLEMEN....

Before ordering your Fall Clothing don fail to take a look through

A. N. REID'S

New Fall Importations of

Scotch, English and Irish Suitings, Overcoatings, Pantings, Irish Serges, Cheviots, Hop Sackings and Black Worsteds

First Class Goods and Prices low.

Mr Minor, our cutter, is one of the best in Ontario.

EVERY GARMENT GUARANTEED ! !

Please call and inspect our New Goods.

A. N. REID.

For ..

THIRTY ...

DAYS .....

WE will sell our entire line of

Wall Paper ....

— AND —

Window Shades

AT A DOUBLE DISCOUNT 10 & 5p.c.

10 per cent. off Special, and 5 per cent. off for cash.

We positively will not be undersold at

OVERELL'S BOOK STORE.

INTELLIGENCER PRINTING AND PUBLISHING COMPANY (LIMITED).

J O JAMIESON, President | J. W. LONDON, Secretary

THE Treasurer is the only person authorized to receive money from the Company, or to grant receipts for the same.

All Bills, Notes, Cheques and other documents binding on the Company, will require the signature of the President, in addition to the of the Treasurer.

THE INTELLIGENCER is printed and published by the INTELLIGENCER Printing and Publishing Company (Limited) by James O Jamieson, resident in Belleville, the s Office, Front St., south of Hotel St

DOUBLE NUMBER.

The Daily Intelligencer.

EIGHT PAGES.

LET THERE BE HARMONY IN THINGS ESSENTIAL—LIBERALITY IN THINGS NOT ESSENTIAL—CHARITY IN ALL.

VOL 28. BELLEVILLE ONTARIO SATURDAY OCTOBER 27 1894 NO 150

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

ACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York.

Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

Thomas A. Johns.

CURED BY TAKING AYER'S Sarsaparilla

"I was afflicted for eight years with Salt Rheum. During that time, I tried a great many medicines which were highly recommended, but none gave me relief. I was at last advised to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and before I had finished the fourth bottle, my hands were as

Free from Eruptions

as ever they were. My business, which is that of a cab-driver, requires me to be out in cold and wet weather, often without gloves, but the trouble has never returned."—THOMAS A. JOHNS, Stratford, Ont.

Ayer's The Only Sarsaparilla

Admitted at the World's Fair.

Ayer's Pills Cleanse the Bowels.

"FOR THE BENEFIT OF RHEUMATIC SUFFERERS,"

ACETOCURA

MADE ME ANOTHER MAN

G. H. REEVES,
(Reeves & Beebe),
169 State street, Chicago.

Coutts & Sons,
72 Victoria street, Toronto.

Write for gratis pamphlet to COUTTS & Sons, 72 Victoria street, Toronto. Head offices—London, Glasgow and Manchester, (G.B.) Cologne, Germany, Aaron, Switzerland.

Local Agents—

L. W. YEOMANS & CO.,
DRUGGISTS,
BELLEVILLE.

CANADIAN PACIFIC RY.

WILL RUN HUNTERS' EXCURSIONS

TO MUSKOKA LAKES AND ALL STATIONS.

MATTAWA, NEPIGON, SPANISH RIVER AND INTERMEDIATE STATIONS

OCT. 19 and 20
OCT. 26 and 27
NOV. 2 and 3

When Round Trip Tickets will be sold for

SINGLE FIRST CLASS FARE

Good for Return until Dec. 1st, 1894.

For business passing through Toronto, rates to above points will not be less than 25 cents added to ordinary Round Trip Rates to Toronto.

Dogs, Guns, Personal Baggage, Camp Equipments, to the amount of 200 lbs will be carried FREE

S. BURROWS,
General Ticket Agent, Belleville.

Daily Intelligencer.

'TIS A CHEERY MESSAGE.

THAT DR. TALMAGE SENDS OUT TO THE GRAY WORLD.

Let Us Make Life a Song, Says He—From the Birds and Their Annual Flight We May Learn Much—They are More Sagacious Than We.

BROOKLYN, Oct. 21, 1894.—Rev. Dr. Talmage, who has left India and is now on his homeward journey, has selected as the subject for his sermon to-day through the press, "October Thoughts," his text being Jeremiah 8:7: "The stork in the heaven knoweth her appointed time; and the turtle and the crane and the swallow observe the time of their coming; but my people know not the judgment of the Lord."

When God would set fast a beautiful thought, He plants it in a tree. When He would put it afloat He fashions it into a fish. When He would have it glide the air, He moulds it into a bird. My text speaks of four birds of beautiful instinct—the stork, of such strong affection that it is allowed familiarly to come, in Holland and Germany, and build its nest over the doorway; the sweet-dispositioned turtle dove, mingling in color, white and black, and brown, and ashen, and chestnut; the crane, with voice like the clang of a trumpet; the swallow, swift as a dart shot out of the bow of heaven, falling, mounting, skimming, sailing—four birds started by the prophet twenty-five centuries ago, yet flying on through the ages, with rousing truth under glossy wing and in the clutch of stout claw. I suppose it may have been this very season of the year—autumn—and the prophet out-of-doors, thinking of the impenitence of the people of his day, hears a great cry overhead.

Now, you know it is no easy thing for one with ordinary delicacy of eye-sight to look into the deep blue of noonday heaven; but the prophet looks up, and there are flocks of storks and turtle-doves, and cranes, and swallows, drawn out in long lines for flight southward. As is their habit, the cranes have arranged themselves in two lines making an angle, a wedge splitting the air with wild velocity, the old crane, with commanding call bidding them onward; while the towns, and the cities, and the continents slide under them. The prophet, almost blinded from looking into the dazzling heavens, stoops down and begins to think how much superior the birds are in sagacity about their safety than men about theirs; and he puts his hand upon the pen, and begins to write: "The stork in the heaven knoweth her appointed times, and the turtle and the crane and the swallow observe the time of their coming; but my people know not the judgment of the Lord."

If you were in the field to-day, in the clump of trees at the corner of the field, you would see a convention of birds, noisy as the American Congress the last night before adjournment, or as the English Parliament when some unfortunate member proposes more economy in the Queen's household—a convention of birds all talking at once, moving and passing resolutions on the subject of migration, some proposing to go to-morrow, some moving that they go to-day, but all unanimous in the fact that they must go soon, for they have marching orders from the Lord written on the first white sheet of the frost, and in the pictorial of the changing leaves. There is not a belted kingfisher, or a chaffinch, or a fire-crested wren, or a plover, or a red-legged partridge but expects to spend the winter at the South, for the apartments have already been ordered for them in South America, or in Africa; and after thousands of miles of flight, they will stop in the very tree where they spent last January. Farewell, bright plumage! Until spring weather, away! Fly on, great band of heavenly musicians! Strew the continent with music, and whether from Ceylon Isle or Carolinian swamps, or Brazilian groves, men see your wings, or hear your voice, may they yet bethink themselves of the solemn words of the text: "The stork in the Heaven knoweth her appointed times; and the turtle and the crane and the swallow observe the time of their coming; but my people know not the judgment of the Lord."

I propose so far as God may help me, in this sermon, carrying out the idea of the text, to show that the birds of the air have more sagacity than men. And I begin by particularizing and saying that they mingle music with their work. The most serious undertaking of a bird's life is this annual flight southward. Naturalists tell us that they arrive thin and weary, and plumage ruffled, and yet they go singing all the way; the ground the lower line of the music, themselves the notes scattered up and down between. I suppose their song gives elasticity to their wing, and helps on with the journey, dwindling a thousand miles into four hundred. Would to God that we were as wise as they in mingling Christian song with our every-day work! I believe there is such a thing as taking the pitch of Christian devotion in the morning and keeping it all day. I think we might take some of the dullest, heaviest, most disagreeable work of life, and set it to the tune of "Antioch" or "Mount Pisgah."

It is a good sign when you hear a workman whistle. It is a better sign when you hear him hum a roundelay. It is a still better sign when you hear him sing the words of Isaac Watts or Charles Wesley. A violin chorded and strung, if something accidentally strike it, makes music, and I suppose there is such a thing as having our hearts so attuned by divine grace, that even the rough collisions of life will make a heavenly vibration. I do not believe that the power of Christain song has yet been fully tried. I believe if you could roll the "Old Hundred" doxology through the street, it would put an end to any panic! I believe that the discords, and the sorrows, and the sins of the world are to be swept out by heaven-born hallelujahs. Some one asked Haydn, the celebrated musician, why he always composed such cheerful music. "Why," he said, "I can't do otherwise. When I think of God, my soul is so full of joy that the notes leap and dance from my pen." I wish we might all exult melodiously before the Lord. With God for our Father, and Christ for our Saviour, and Heaven for our home, and angels for our future companions, and eternity for a life time, we should strike all the notes of joy. Going through the wilderness of this world, let us remember that we are on the way to the summery clime of Heaven, and from the migratory populations flying through this autumnal air learn always to keep singing.

> Children of the heavenly King,
> As ye journey, sweetly sing—
> Sing your Saviour's worthy praise,
> Glorious in His works and ways.
> Ye are traveling home to God,
> In the way your father's trod;
> They are happy now, and we
> Soon their happiness shall see.

The church of God never will be a triumphant church until it becomes a singing church.

I go farther, and remark that the birds of the air are wiser than we, in the fact that in their migration they fly very high. During the summer, when they are in the fields, they often come within reach of the gun; but when they start for the annual flight southward, they take their places in mid-heaven, and go straight as a mark. The longest rifle that was ever brought to shoulder cannot reach them. Would to God that we were as wise as the stork and crane in our flight heavenward. We fly so low that we are within easy range of the world, the flesh and the devil. We are brought down by temptations that ought not to come within a mile of reaching us. Oh for some of the faith of George Muller, of England, and Alfred Cookman, once of the church militant, now of the church triumphant! So poor is the type of piety in the church of God now, that men actually caricature the idea that there is any such a thing as a higher life. Moles never did believe in eagles. But, my brethren, because we have not reached these heights ourselves, shall we deride the fact that there are such heights? A man once talking to Brunel, the famous engineer, about the length of the railroad from London to Bristol, the engineer said: "It is very great. We shall have, after a while, a steamer running from England to New York." They laughed him to scorn; but we have gone so far now that we have ceased to laugh at anything as impossible for human achievement. Then, I ask, is anything impossible for the Lord? I do not believe that God exhausted all his grace in Paul, and Latimer and Edward Payson. I believe there are higher points of Christian attainment to be reached in the future ages of the Christian world. You tell me that Paul went up to the tiptop of the Alps of Christian attainment. Then I tell you that the stork and crane have found above the Alps plenty of room for free flying. We go out and we conquer our temptations by the Grace of God, and lie down. On the morrow those temptations rally themselves and attack us, and by the Grace of God we defeat them again; but, staying all the time in the old encampment, we have the same old battles to fight over. Why not whip out our temptations, and then forward march, making one raid through the enemy's country, stopping not until we break ranks after the last victory. Do, my brethren, let us have some novelty of combat, at any rate, by changing, by going on, by making advancement, trading off our stale prayers about sins we ought to have quit long ago, going on toward a higher state of Christian character, and routing out sin that we have never thought of yet. The fact is, if the Church of God—if we, as individuals, made rapid advancement in the Christian life, these stereotyped prayers we have been making for ten or fifteen years would be as inappropriate to us as the shoes, and the hats, and the coats we wore ten or fifteen years ago. Oh for a higher flight in the Christian life, the stork and the crane in their migration teaching us the lesson!

> Dear Lord, and shall we ever live,
> At this poor dying rate—
> Our love so faint, so cold to Thee,
> And thine to us so great?

Again, I remark that the birds of the air are wiser than we, because they know when to start. If you should go out now and shout, "Stop, storks and cranes, don't be in a hurry!" they would say, "No, we cannot stop; last night we heard the roaring in the woods bidding us away, and the shrill flute of the north wind has sounded the retreat. We must go. We must go." So they gather themselves into companies, and turning not aside for storm or mountain top, or shock of musketry, over land and sea, straight as an arrow to the mark they go. And if you come out this morning with a sack of corn and throw it in the fields and try to get them to stop, they are so far up they would hardly see it. They are on their way south. You could not stop them. Oh, that we were as wise about the best time to start for God and heaven! We say, "Wait until it is a little later in the season of mercy. Wait until some of these green leaves of hope are all dried up and have been scattered. Wait until next year." After awhile we start, and it is too late, and we perish in the way when God's wrath is kindled but a little. There are, you know, exceptional cases, where birds have started too late, and in the morning you have found them dead on the snow. And there are those who have perished half-way between the world and Christ. They waited until the last sickness, when the mind was gone, or they were on the express train going at forty miles an hour and they came to the bridge and the "draw was up" and they went down. How long to repent and pray? Two seconds! To do the work or a lifetime and to prepare for the vast eternity in two seconds! I was reading of an entertainment given in a king's court, and there were musicians there, with elaborate pieces of music. After awhile Mozart came and began to play, and he had a blank piece of paper before him, and the king familiarly looked over his shoulder and said, "What are you playing? I see no music before you." And Mozart put his hand to his brow, as much as to say, "I am improvising." It was very well for him, but oh, my friends, we cannot extemporize heaven.

If we do not get prepared in this world, we will never take part in the orchestral harmonies of the saved. On that we were as wise as the crane and the stork, flying away, flying away from the tempest!

Some of you have felt the pinching frost of sin. You feel it to-day. You are not happy. I look into your face, and I know you are not happy. There are voices within your soul that will not be silenced, telling you that you are sinners, and that without the pardon of God you are undone forever. What are you going to do, my friends, with the accumulated transgressions of this lifetime? Will you stand still and let the avalanche tumble over you? Oh that you would go away into the warm heart of God's mercy. The Southern grove, redolent with magnolia and cactus, never waited for Northern flocks as God has waited for you, saying, "I have loved thee with an everlasting love. Come unto me, all ye who are weary and heavy laden, and I will give you rest."

Another frost is bidding you away—it is the frost of sorrow. Where do you live now? "Oh," you say, "I have moved." Why did you move? You say, "I don't want as large a house now as formerly." Why do you not want as large a one? You say, "My family is not so large." Where have they gone to? Eternity! Your mind goes back through that last sickness, and through the almost supernatural effort to keep life, and through the almost supernatural effort to keep life, and through those prayers that seemed unavailing, and through that kiss which received no response, because the lips were lifeless, and I hear the bells tolling and I hear the hearts breaking—while I speak, I hear them break. A heart! Another heart! Alone, alone! alone! This world, which in your girlhood and boyhood was sunshine, is cold now; and oh! weary dove, you fly around this world as though you would like to stay, when the wind and the frost and the blackening clouds would bid you away into the heart of an all-comforting God. Oh, I have noticed again and again what a botch this world makes of it when it tries to comfort a soul in trouble! It says, "Don't cry." How can we help crying when the heart's treasures are scattered, and father is gone, and mother is gone, and companions are gone, and the child is gone, and everything seems gone? It is no comfort to tell a man not to cry. The world comes up and says, "Oh, it is only the body of your loved one that you have put in the ground!" But there is no comfort in that. The body is precious. Shall we never put our hand in that hand again, and shall we never see that sweet face again? Away with your heartlessness, oh world! But come, Jesus! and tell us that when the tears fall they fall into God's bottle; that the dear bodies of our loved ones shall rise radiant in the resurrection; and all the breakings down here shall be liftings up there, and "they shall hunger no more, neither thirst any more, neither shall the sun light on them nor any heat, for the Lamb which is in the midst of the throne shall lead them to living fountains of water, and God shall wipe all tears from their eyes."

You may have noticed that when the chaffinch or the stork or the crane starts on its migration, it calls all those of its kind to come too. The tree-tops are full of chirp and whistle and carol and the long roll-call. The bird does not start off alone. It gathers all of its kind. Oh that you may be as wise in this migration to Heaven, and that you might gather all your families and your friends with you! I would that Hannah might take Samuel by the hand, and Abraham might take Isaac, and Hagar might take Ishmael. I ask you if those who sat at your breakfast-table this morning will sit with you in Heaven? I ask you what influences you are trying to bring upon them, what example you are setting them. Are you calling them to go with you? Ay, ay, have you started yourself?

Start for heaven and take your children with you. Come thou and all thy house into the ark. Tell your little ones that there are realms of balm and sweetness for all those who fly in the right direction. Swifter than eagles' stroke, put out for heaven. Like the crane or the stork, stop not night nor day until you find the right place for stopping. Seated to-day in Christian service; will you be seated in the same glorious service when the heavens have passed away with a great noise, and the elements have melted with fervent heat, and the redeemed are gathered around the throne of Jesus?

> The Saviour calls.
> Ye wanderers come;
> Oh, ye benighted souls
> Why longer roam?
> The Spirit calls to-day,
> Yield to His power;
> Oh, grieve Him not away.
> 'Tis mercy's hour.

West Bruce Reformers Elect Officers.

KINCARDINE, Oct. 27.—The annual meeting of the West Bruce Reform Association was held here yesterday, upwards of 150 delegates being present. Mr. John Humberstone, Ripley, president, in the chair. The officers elected are: President, J. G. Murdock, Lucknow; first vice-president, James Steele, Amberley; second vice, John Pierson, Burgoyne; third vice, Jas. McLeod, Holyrood; treasurer, William Millarton; secretary, William Henderson, Bervie. The date for a convention to select a candidate was, after some discuscussion, left in the hands of the executive committee.

An Unknown Steamer Sinks.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—The Captain of the German bark Rebecca which arrived at Cardiff yesterday reports that at 3 o'clock yesterday morning when off Ilfracombe on the Bristol clannel she sighted a large steamer flying signals of distress. Soon afterwards she went down headforemost. The crew could be seen running about on her deck and their cries for help could be heard distinctly. The Rebecca could do nothing to save them as he was running under bare poles before a furious gale. The name of the steamer is unknown.

Montreal Police Investigation.

MONTREAL, Oct. 27.—The investigation in the workings of the Montreal police detective force was continued last night by the special committee. Chief Detective Cullen was again placed on the stand and examined regarding the prevalence of gambling houses. He admitted that the police had refused to take action in regard to gambling houses unless complaint was laid. He also admitted that the police had received money from outside parties, but it was for expenses. There was nothing of a very startling nature in the evidence.

Shipping Trade Is Dull.

MONTREAL, Oct. 27.—The Canada Shipping Company contemplate a big reduction this winter and a meeting will be held shortly to take steps in this direction. It has already been decided to lay up all the company's steamers from the close of navigation to the St. Lawrence until the shipping business gets better. The stock of the company is all held in Montreal and the last transaction in it was made some few weeks ago at 11 cents on the dollar. It is now offered on the stock exchange at 5 cents on the dollar with 1-8 cents bid.

Says Sunday Cars Are Legal.

HAMILTON, Oct. 27.—At the last meeting of the Finance Committee County Crown Attorney John Creerar sent a written opinion as to the legality of running cars and steamboats on Sunday. Mr. Creerar was of the opinion that the running of cars and boats, except for excursion purposes, was quite within the statutes, and advised that no such prosecution as the Lord's Day Alliance wanted the Council to institute would be likely to have any result.

Three Men Burned to Death.

HALIFAX, N.S., Oct. 27.—Two barns of Holmes Kirkpatrick, a farmer of Aylesford, were burned with horses, cows and all the season's crops. Edward Moriarity, a neighboring farmer, rushed into the burning stables to save the horses and lost his own life. Subsequently the remains of two other men were found in the debris. It is thought two tramps slept in the barn and started the fire with their pipes.

Gignac May Die.

WINDSOR, Oct. 27.—Ex-Constables Wilson and Montgomery, the two men under arrest on the charge of assaulting Alexander Gignac in Sandwich about six weeks ago, were brought before Magistrate Bartlett yesterday. Owing to the serious condition of the complainant, who it is said may not recover, the trial will be held in his house. The prisoners were remanded for a week. Bail was refused.

Girl Missing at Orillia.

ORILLIA, Oct. 27.—A girl aged 14, named Hilda May Campbell, disappeared from Orillia public school on Wednesday, 24th inst., at 3 o'clock, and her friends have since been unable to find her. She is 5 feet 3 inches high, slight build, fair complexion, brown eyes and curly brown hair. She wore a black Tam O'Shanter, black coat trimmed with curly goods, brown cashmere dress and button boots.

CHATTELLE PLEADS GUILTY

After the Inquest He Admitted He Murdered Jessie Keith.

COMPLETE CASE FOR THE CROWN

An Angry Mob at Listowel Give the Officers Alarm by Crys of "Lynch Him," "Hang Him," etc.—A Stone Thrown after the Inquest and a Lively Scene Enacted at the Depot.

LISTOWEL, Oct. 27.—The train arriving here yesterday from Stratford carried Almeda Chattelle. Crowds thronged the way to the station. By a ruse of the authorities, however, a hack was employed and met the train where the railway crosses the road some distance from town. A crowd assembled at the jail on arrival of the hack carrying the prisoner, and as he was being hurried into the cell cries of "Hang him!" "Lynch him!" and similar expressions were heard, and for a time there appeared indications of trouble, but the officers of the law succeeded in placing the prisoner securely in the cell of the jail.

The adjourned inquest was then proceeded with. The prisoner occupied a seat at the right of the coroner, and was dressed the same as on Tuesday when he was brought on the platform at the depot here. The proceedings commenced by an examination by the jury of the articles in the valise, and also those found on the prisoner when arrested.

After hearing all the evidence the coroner's jury handed in a verdict of wilful murder against the prisoner, Almede Chattelle. The evidence given was very conclusive. Constable McCarthy was first called. He recognized the articles found on the prisoner as those he was entrusted with on Tuesday last when prisoner was handed over to him by Constable Travis. Constable Robert Woods produced the celebrated black valise and parcel containing the murdered girls clothing.

Mr. Wm. Maynard identified the blue jacket stolen from his clothes line, also the black stockings marked "N," and a towel and other articles found in the valise or in the tramps possession.

Mrs. Isabella McLeod identified the articles as before at Stratford. At this point the prisoner was made to exhibit the ladies' black cashmere jacket which he was wearing when captured. This also the witness declared to be her property.

Mr. William Rodgers, St. Marys, identified the pants but not the prisoner. Donald Ross, engine driver; Bertram Teskey, St. Marys; William McCaffrey, Ellic; John Zimmerman, Gadshill; Reuben Yorke, Alf Poole, William Lambe, Fannie Mornington, Miss Theresa Loney, near Peffer station; John Jones, Mornington, all testified to having seen prisoner.

Miss Carrie Lantz, near Listowel, testified to having given prisoner a lunch on the day of the murder. He afterwards went in the direction of the railroad track and distant from the scene of the murder less than a mile.

Thomas Johnston, residing at the same place as the last witness, also testified that from where he met the prisoner a man walking an ordinary pace could reach the scene of the tragedy in about 25 minutes.

Robert Morris, of this town, saw the prisoner in two different places on the day the murder was committed. The last time ten minutes walk from the place.

Dr. Rutherford said the cause of death was due to loss of blood from the cut in throat, and detailed a technical description of the condition of the body when found.

Mrs. Keith, mother of the murdered girl, identified the blood-stained garments and a purse shown her, and said that they were Jessie's.

A number of other witnesses were called and their evidence taken, some of them having seen the prisoner before and others after the murder. The evidence taken as a whole was very complete and left no doubt as to the criminality of the prisoner. The route he went has been indicated by the witnesses nearly the whole distance from Ailsa Craig to Listowel, thence to Cataract.

The prisoner was next arraigned before a magistrates' court, consisting of Police Magistrate Teehune and Mayor Featherstone. Much of the evidence taken by the coroner's jury was gone over. The magistrate charged him under the section in the revised statutes which gives the prisoner an opportunity to make a statement, and warned him that anything he might say might be used against him. He replied that he was guilty and had nothing else to say. Then he was removed to the cell, where he was stripped and his clothing examined. Many blood stains were found on his drawers.

While being searched he repeatedly said he did not care how soon he was put out of the world.

"Let them cut me to pieces, or hang, or shoot me," he remarked. "They have proved I did it. What is the good of delaying matters. The sooner they get it over and done with the better."

At 10.15 a hack was in waiting at the jail door and a restless mob was clamoring outside for the prisoner. A number of constables were on hand and the prisoner was suddenly rushed through and into the hack. A large rock followed in dangerous proximity and narrowly escaped hitting persons in the crowd. He was driven off at full speed to the station, followed by a turbulent crowd. At the station the train was not yet in and the prisoner was taken into the depot, where he remained closely guarded until its arrival.

The crowd here was very demonstrative and seemed dangerous. All sorts of cries and threats were made, such as "Lynch him," "Hang him," "Use the rope," "Throw him under the train," etc. The officers ran him down the platform, followed by the crowd, and at the car steps a determined effort was made to get him. There was no organized leader, but a few men the worse of liquor called for volunteers to follow them into the car and take him. In the scramble Constable McCarthy drew his revolver and Chief McCarthy, of Stratford, narrowly escaped falling under the car. For ten minutes the train remained, during which many inflammatory threats were made by the crowd. Finally, at 10.40 the train pulled out, followed by wild and derisive cries from the mob.

Chattelle will remain in Stratford jail until the spring assizes.

The Husband Lives in Peterborough.

BUFFALO, N.Y., Oct. 27.—Mrs. Rebecca Hodge made application before Judge Ward yesterday for an absolute divorce. About two years ago Mrs. Hodges secured a limited divorce from her husband, Isaac J. Hodge, and it was also ordered that she be given possession of their one child, Frank, a boy of 13. In her present application Mrs. Hodge stated that when the limited decree was granted her husband ran away to Peterborough, Ont., and is there living with a woman whom he is introducing as his wife.

SURPRISE SOAP

While the best for all household uses, has peculiar qualities for easy and quick washing of clothes. READ the directions on the wrapper.

156 ST. CROIX SOAP M'FG. CO., St. Stephen, N. B.

American Cattle Excluded.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—The German ambassador notified the Secretary of State that in consequence of the introduction of Texas fever by means of two shipments from New York the importation of fresh beef and cattle from the United States to Germany will shortly be prohibited. Shipments made from the United States up to the 28th inst. will be allowed to enter German ports, but only on condition of being slaughtered upon landing.

Pathetic Scene in Court.

BUFFALO, Oct. 27.—Clarence Robinson and his wife, Sarah Robinson, were arraigned in the Supreme Court yesterday for the murder of Montgomery Gibbs. Both pleaded not guilty to the indictments. As Mrs. Robinson was being led from the room she sprang away from the deputy sheriff and threw herself on her husband's neck. They kissed each other with passionate fierceness, and the officers had to pull them apart. Nothing was said by either of them.

Protection for Civil Service Clerks.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—In consequence of the danger of a smallpox epidemic the Interior Department was yesterday ordered closed until Monday for disinfection. Those clerks who have been exposed to infection by contact with the employes of the afflicted law division were granted leave of absence for twelve days. The department will be opened on Monday, but no clerk will be admitted who has not been vaccinated.

Mr. Montague, M.P., Ill Again.

DUNNVILLE, Oct. 27.—Since his return home Dr. Montague, M.P., has been ill again and is still confined to his bed. His friends are very anxious about him.

The Ahr Valley.

It is becoming the custom among European travellers to stop at Remagen on the Rhine, and make a little excursion to the beautiful Valley of the Ahr, with its picturesque villages along the vine clad slope. Here is also located the spring from which flows that world wide favorite "Apollinaris Water." At Neuenahr, in the valley, the river Ahr is very beautiful, and one can find few more quaintly attractive spots than the Upper Gate at Ahrweiler, or the old mill at Hoppingen.

It takes many a wall to make a drunkard s laugh.

For Over Fifty Years

MRS. WINSLOW'S Soothing Syrup has been used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by druggists throughout the world. 17d&wly

Dyspepsia or Indigestion is occasioned by the want of action of the biliary ducts, loss of vitality in the stomach to secrete the gastric juices without which digestion cannot go on; also, being the principal cause of headache. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills taken before going to bed, for a while, never fail to give relief and effect a cure. Mr. F. W. Ashdown, Ashdown Ont., writes: "Parmelee's Pills are taking the lead against ten other makes which I have in stock."

Don't put your secrets in the advertising columns.

Burdock Blood Bitters cures all diseases of the blood from a common Pimple to the worst Scrofulous Sores or Ulcers. Skin Diseases, Boils, Blotches and all Blood Humors cannot resist its healing powers.

Beware the strength born of carrying all the burdens.

GENTLEMEN,—I have used your Yellow Oil and have found it unequalled for burns, sprains, bruises, scalds, rheumatism, croup and colds. All who use it recommend it. Mrs Hight, Montreal.

Temptation relies more on suggestion than exposure.

SCRATCHED 28 YEARS

A Scaly, Itching, Skin Disease with Endless Suffering Cured by Cuticura Remedies.

If I had known of the CUTICURA REMEDIES twenty-eight years ago, it would have saved me $200.00 and an immense amount of suffering. My disease (psoriasis) commenced on my head in a spot not larger than a cent. It spread rapidly all over my body, and got under my nails. The scales would drop off of me all the time, and my suffering was endless, and without relief. One thousand dollars would not tempt me to have this disease over again. I am a poor man, but feel rich to be relieved of what some of the doctors said was leprosy, some ring-worm, psoriasis, etc. I cannot praise the CUTICURA REMEDIES too much. They have made my skin as clear and free from scales as a baby's. All I used of them was $5 worth. If you had been here and said you would have cured me for $200.00, you would have had the money. I looked like the picture (No. 2, page 47) in your book, "How to Cure Skin Diseases," but now I am as clear as any person ever was. Through force of habit I rub my hands over my arms and limbs to scratch once in a while, but to no purpose. I am all well. I scratched twenty-eight years, and it got to be a kind of second nature to me.

DENNIS DOWNING, Waterbury, Vt.

CUTICURA WORKS WONDERS

And daily performs more great cures of torturing, disfiguring, humiliating skin, scalp and blood diseases than all other blood and skin remedies combined. CUTICURA, the great skin cure, CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite skin purifier, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new blood purifier, constitute the only unfailing external and internal treatment known.

Sold throughout the world. Price, CUTICURA, 75c.; SOAP, 35c.; RESOLVENT, $1.50 POTTER DRUG AND CHEM. CORP., Sole Proprietors, Boston.

"How to Cure Skin Diseases," mailed free.

PIMPLES, baby blemishes, chapped hands and falling hair prevented by CUTICURA SOAP.

ACHING SIDES AND BACK. Hip, kidney, and uterine pains and weaknesses relieved in one minute by the Cuticura Anti-Pain Plaster. The only pain-killing plaster, 25c.

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

MEDICAL.

DR WISHART.

47 GROSVENOR ST., Toronto, will be at the Huffman House, Belleville, Saturday, Dec. 1st, '94. 192dwly

DR. QUACKENBUSH, M.D., C.M.D., M.D., P.S.O.

HOMŒOPATHIC Physician, Surgeon and Accoucheur, has removed his office over store lately occupied by J. C. verell, Residence George St., opposite H. Corby's.

JOHN J. FARLEY, M. D., C. M., M. R. C. S. England.

OFFICE and Residence—corner of Bridge and George Streets—three streets east of Post Office.

LEGAL.

FLINT & McCAMON.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public, etc. Solicitors for the Canadian Bank of Commerce. Office, City Hall, Front Street, Belleville, Ont. d84tf
JOHN J. B. FLINT, W. J. McCAMON.

STEWART MASSON.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, Notary, Conveyancer, etc. Office, South side Bridge st., over Wallbridge & Clark's, Belleville, Ont. Money to loan at lowest rates. 76dwtf

J. F. WILLS' LAW OFFICE.

REMOVED to Campbell Street (south side) 2nd door from Front Street, on ground floor.

A. GOODRICH.

LAWYER, 124 Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill., 28 years' experience; secrecy; special facilities in several States; Goodrich on Divorce; with laws of all States in press. 76dly

GEO. A. KINGSTON.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, etc., with Lount, Marsh and Cameron, 25 Toronto St., Toronto. Money to loan on farm property at lowest rates. 233dtf9w.

MIKEL & ROBERTS.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notary Public, Conveyancers, etc. Offices Bridge st., Belleville. Monies to loan at lowest rate.

THOMAS & HALLIWELL.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Conveyancers, &c. Money to loan. 293d3mwly
J. PARKER THOMAS, J. EARL HALLIWELL.

PONTON & MORDEN,

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public Conveyancers. Office over Express and Telegraph Office, Bridge St., Belleville. Money to loan—private funds.
WM. N. PONTON, M. A., Solicitor Hastings Loan and Investment Society.
W. S. MORDEN, B. A.

F. GUSS PORTER.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, Notary Public. etc. Office in the Robertson Block, east side of Front Street.
Private Money to Loan, 271dwly

FRANCIS S. WALLBRIDGE.

(Successor to Hon. Lewis Wallbridge, Q.C.) BARRISTER, Solicitor, Conveyancer, etc. Office, McAnnany building, corner Front and Bridge streets, Belleville, Ont. Private and Company money to loan at 6 per cent., on easy terms upon good land security. Charges moderate.

HENRY CARRE, C. E.
M. C. Soc C.E.,
DOMINION AND PROVINCIAL LAND SURVEYOR.

Special attention paid to Hydraulics and Land Drainage. Patents obtained and Drawings made. Office—McAnnany Block, under Ontario Business College, Front St. P.O. address—Box 203, Belleville.

A. G. NORTHRUP.

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Shire Hall, Belleville. 226dtwly

D. I. DULMAGE, L.D.S., D.D.S. (Tor. University).

DENTIST—Office over Brignall & Thompson's. Night calls at residence on Forin Street d,w

CHAS. JOSE.

VETERINARY Surgeon, Graduate Ontario Veterinary College, Member Ontario Veterinary Society. Office and residence, Foxboro, Ont. Calls by mail or telegram promptly attended to. 304d,wly

MISCELLANEOUS.

AGENCY of the Liverpool and London and Globe Fire and Life Insurance Companies.
W. P. HUDSON,
Agent.
Office Campbell street, Belleville. d,w

TAKE NOTICE

Of the "Old Home" grocery store and drop in and see us. It gives us pleasure to show you our new stock of groceries and quote prices whether you are a purchaser or not. We are making a special run in flour this month. We can also supply you with all kinds of feed. Of our choice blends of TEA we can only say "use it and you'll appreciate its merits, use it and you'll sing its praises."

J. A. ELLIOTT.
Front St., Belleville.

A Few Lines For To-morrow.

Charlotte Russe (individuals, larger ones to order) Cream Rolls, Corn Muffins, Graham Gems and all kinds of pastry. Oyster Patties to order. Fresh Oysters, fine stock. Ice cream.

Although the season seems to be past we are still making and selling ice cream. Orders can be filled for any quantity and in any shape. Also served in our parlors daily

H. C. DICKENS & SON.

KNOWLEDGE

...ings comfort and improvement and ...to personal enjoyment when ...ly used. The many, who live bet... than others and enjoy life more, with ...expenditure, by more promptly ...ing the world's best products to ...ne needs of physical being, will attest ...ue to health of the pure liquid ...ative principles embraced in the ...edy, Syrup of Figs.

...s excellence is due to its presenting ...the form most acceptable and pleas... to the taste, the refreshing and truly ...ficial properties of a perfect lax... effectually cleansing the system, ...ispelling colds, headaches and fevers ...d permanently curing constipation. ...has given satisfaction to millions and ...ets with the approval of the medical ...profession, because it acts on the Kid... Liver and Bowels without weak... them and it is perfectly free from ...every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists ...in 75c. bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, SATURDAY, OCT. 27.

THE GRAND TRUNK.

The report to be submitted to the half-yearly meeting of shareholders of the Grand Trunk, to be held in London on Oct. 30th, has just been issued. The accounts show the gross receipts to be £1,695,874, as compared with £1,890,119 the receipts of the corresponding period of 1893. The working expenses were £1,226,374 as against £1,370,687. Net traffic receipts have been reduced to £469,599 from £519,432. Adding the income from the International Bridge Co. and deducting pro preference charges, the net revenue balance on the working of half year was £54. There was a decrease of 330,013 in the number of passengers carried, with a decrease of receipts from passengers of £26,421.

The receipts from mails compare with a period when exceptional payments had been made by the Government on account of arrears, and thus show an apparent decrease of £3,210, whilst express and small parcels receipts decreased £918. The freight and live stock shows a decrease of £124,144.

The total amount charged to capital during the half year was £37,661, of which £16,888 was on account of the Union Station, Toronto.

The gross receipts of Chicago & Grand Trunk Railway for the half year, show a decrease of £63,517, and the net receipts a decrease of £40,236.

That the result is not so unfavorable as appears on the surface, is shown by the statement made by Mr. Seargeant, General Manager, to the Montreal Star. He said that, considering everything, it was more than satisfactory to find that the Company could meet all their liabilities to the preference and pre preference shareholders, for many people who know about the state of railway business did not expect that even that could be done. Secondly, that although last year the World's Fair inflated the receipts of the G.T.R., it never had any appreciable effect in the way of putting up the prices of Grand Trunks on the London market—and that the apparently large deductions of profits, or at least of receipts since 1893, is misleading on account of 1893 being so big a year, owing to the Chicago exhibition. Mr. Seargeant calls attention to the fact that the report speaks of the Company's affairs up to the 30 h June, and that since that date a great deal of business has been again taken on—that during the coal famine and other labor disturbances, they were simply left alone by the Comp'y, such as carrying lumber and stone; all that work is taken up again, and is very active. With regard to the future, Mr. Seargeant expressed himself as quite easy-minded, as there are many signs of reviving business. A good deal has been saved in past months on maintenance charges, but things are looking well enough to induce those responsible for the maintenance of the tracks to turn their attention to certain repairs and improvements. Mr. Seargeant was altogether satisfied and hopeful about the affairs of the G.T.R.

Just as Good,

Perhaps; but it just as good as Putnam's, is that not a very high recommendation for the original and best corn cure? Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor. Don't be deceived by any of the dangerous acre producing substitutes offered by greedy dealers who make larger profits and disregard the interests of customers. Safe, painless, certain.

A Graduate of Toronto University says:

"My children have been treated with Scott's Emulsion from their earliest years. Our physician first recommended it and now whenever a child takes cold my wife immediately resorts to this remedy, which which always effectes cure."

Schiffmann's Asthma Cure

Instantly relieves the most violent attacks facilitates free expectoration and insured rest to those otherwise unable to sleep except in a chair, as a single trial will prove. Send for a free trial package to Dr. R. Schiffmann's, St. Paul, Minn., but ask your druggist first.

October 25, 1893.

My health was completely restored by CAMPBELL'S SCOTT COD LIVER OIL. 3 bottles taken in 22 days increased my weight by 18 lbs.

HENRY ZIVERN,
Prop. Renovo Co. Montreal.

CAPRIVI CRUSHED AT LAST

The Agrarian-Bismarckian Intrigue is Triumphant.

THE SOCIALISTS WILL NOW REJOICE

Germany Has a Crisis to Face, the Result of Which Cannot be Foretold—Caprivi's Quarrel With Zuculenburg Thought to Have Had Something to Do With His Resignation.

BERLIN, Oct. 26.—The report that Chancellor von Caprivi has handed his resignation to the Emperor is confirmed. Count Zuculenburg, president of the Ministerial Council, has also resigned. Dr. Miquel, Prussian Finance Minister, has been appointed President of the Council. Prince von Hohenlohe-Schillingsfurst, Governor of Alsace-Lorraine, was offered the Chancellorship, but declined. Before offering the Chancellorship to Prince Hohenlohe, Emperor William consulted with the envoys from Bavaria, Wurtemburg, Saxony and Baden. It is reported that Prince Hohenlohe declined the office owing to his age. The Emperor has summoned Gen. Count Waldersee, the military authority who was conscicuous in the final intrigues against Bismarck. The general inference is that he intends to make him Caprivi's successor. Should Waldersee become Chancellor the office of Prussian Premier would be given him shortly, and thus the division of the two posts which was effected at the time of the school bill crisis would be ended. There is a rumor that Gen. Bronsart von Schellendorf is a candidate for the Prussian Premiership and the Chancellorship. Either of these generals would be acceptable to the Conservatives, who have become totally estranged from the Government under the Caprivi regime.

One of the causes, leading to the last action before offering his resignation was to notify the Reichsbank that the decree prohibiting advances on Russian stocks had been cancelled, as no longer necessary on either economic or political grounds. The Emperor had arranged to leave Potsdam to hunt in the neighborhood of Blankenburg, but he gave up the trip in view of the disruption of his Cabinet.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—The Morning Post's Berlin correspondent says: Everybody with a sense of fair play denounces the despicable intrigue of the Bismarcks and Bismarckian reactionist groups against Count von Caprivi. "The socialists will rejoice because the dread of them, although they did not raise a finger, has been sufficient to plunge the empire into a crisis."

The Daily News correspondent in Berlin says of Caprivi's fall: It is not known whether the Chancellor previously informed his Majesty of his intention to convoke the federal ministers; if not, the reason of his fall is clear. It was an Imperial reprimand. At home the removal of Caprivi must arouse the greatest apprehensions in German Liberal quarters. Although a thorough Conservative, he was not a man of force. He disliked extremes. As matters stand his dismissal can only be regarded as a sign that the Emperor is determined to adopt Eulenburg's scheme against Socialism. A conflict of a dangerous character therefore appears on the horizon, the consequences of which are simply incalculable. The acceptance of Eulenburg's resignation does not exclude the possibility of his being appointed Chancellor, which, however, is improbable. Caprivi will start in a few days for Geneve.

ANOTHER RELAPSE

The Czar of Russia is Growing Steadily Worse.

BERLIN, Oct. 27.—The Lokal Anzeigner publishes a dispatch from Livadia saying that the Czar has suffered a very serious relapse and it is not expected that he can survive the night or to-morrow at the very furthest.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 27.—The marriage of Princess Alix and the Czarewitch has been set for October 30, subject to change. The last bulletin from Livadia was issued at 9 o'clock last evening. It says: "During the day the Emperor ate with a good appetite, but felt some weakness; otherwise his condition is unchanged."

LONDON, Oct. 27.—The Daily News correspondent in St. Petersburg says: "The Princess Alix's conversion and the exchange of rings has been effected already. According to private advices the Czar is growing steadily worse." Private letters received in Vienna say that the development of the cancerous symptoms in the Czar's case has extinguished all hope.

Bradstreet's Review of Trade.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Bradstreet's review says: Merchant's interviewed in various portions of the country report in some instances, the condition of business not having realized anticipations and in other points that the recent bright outlook for trade is modified. Such advices are based in part on the practical conclusion of the fall trade and delays in demand for holiday goods. Dealers in dry goods, clothing, groceries, shoes, hats and a few other lines have had relatively the more satisfactory volume of business, although in many instances faults have been found with the Goods shipped. General trade continues checked throughout some portions of the regions supplied by Kansas City, St. Louis, Omaha, Minneapolis and St. Paul due to unseasonably warm weather. Exports of wheat and flour as wheat from both coasts of the United States and Canada for six business days ending with October 25 equal 3,353,000 bushels as compared with 3,192,000 bushels last week.

McKinley's Tariff Speeches'.

BUFFALO, N.Y., Oct. 27.—Gov. McKinley in his tour through the state, stopped yesterday at Auburn and said: "What we want in this country is good money, good times, good wages and steady employment. The American farmer wants a good home market. He sells ninty per cent of his produce in this country. The Democratic party has been troubling itself about the other ten per cent. You cannot have steady employment at good wages and give part of the work to foreign countries. You can't import a single competing product from a foreign country without displacing the American product.

Sanford Fleming in Frisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27.—Sanford Fleming, commissioner of the Canadian Government in the matter of establishing cable connections between Canada and Australia, and English Commissioner Mercer arrived on the Alameda from Honolulu yesterday morning. Both gentlemen express themselves as sanguine of the success of the cable project. In an interview with a representative of the United Press Mr. Fleming said that he and his colleague were very warmly received by the members of the Hawaiian government, and that the people are more than anxious for a consummation of the project.

The War Against Tyler.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—It is said that Sir Henry Tyler has proxies enough to retain his position as president of the Grand Trunk. The Financial Times this morning publishes six letters urging concerted action on the part of the stockholders with a view to thoroughly investigating the affairs of the Grand Trunk.

To Bring Fitz and Corbet Together.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—A letter was forwarded to-day by Gray Latham, vice-president of the Kinteoscope Exhibition Co. to James J. Corbett and Bob Fitzsimons offering a purse of $50,000 for the fight to take place in Mexico where there will be no danger of official interference.

ARSENIC KILLED HARTLEY

Prof. Ellis Says There Was One Grain in His System.

HE HAD A "TOBACCO HEART"

Mrs. Hartley Said Someone Must Have Given Him a Dose of Poison, and When Constable Allen Hinted That Ling or She Knew Something About It She Tried to Purchase His Silence.

BRANTFORD, Oct. 27.—The third day of the Hartley murder trial opened with the continuation of the cross-examination of Louis Henry Ling by Mr. Osler.

Ling (to Mr. Osler)—I know Wm. Caven, driver of the mail wagon. When he passed the Hartley residence on the Wednesday before Hartley's death, he stopped and asked me how Caleb was. I did not tell him that he was much worse since I gave him the medicine.

I told Mr. Best, the Baptist minister in New Durham, that I was induced to go to her house by Mrs. Hartley.

I don't remember asking Bishop what they were going to do about this thing. I will not swear that on that occasion I did or did not say "—— —— you Maria. If you can't tell what is straight I will."

I can't say how often improper intimacy took place between the prisoner and myself, but it was as often as I could get her house. Such relations existed over a period of nine months, the last occasion being about three weeks before Hartley's death.

I never gave Hartley his medicine, but I gave him an egg nog on the Friday and Saturday before his death.

I went to Dr. Haight's for the medicine and saw it prepared. I have seen prisoner go to the powders in which the pills are processed, but never saw it mixed. My first intimacy with the prisoner was on the second night I knew her.

I did not consent to secrecy before the prisoner told me about poisoning the deceased. She said that she substituted "rough on rats" for the powders which Dr. Haight ordered.

Dr. Haight being sworn deposed: I knew Caleb Hartley before being called in to see him professionally and for some time before that he seemed to be in good health. My visit there in my office on the 1st of May and asked me to prescribe for him. He complained of vomiting, pains in the stomach and general indisposition. His countenance was sallow and slightly bloated; his eyelids were puffed and his eyes blood-shot. I prescribed for the effect of alcoholic excess. I had heard reports that he was drinking hard and the deceased told me that while going to Hamilton on the previous Tuesday he was seized with violent illness at Harley station which continued with vomiting during his trip to Hamilton and while he stayed there. He was drinking freely during the day.

On the 3rd I found his pulse of low tension and bounding, that is tremulous and very full. The pulse beats were about 90 a minute; his tongue was foul and his bowels loose.

I called on him the next day and found him lying down but feeling about the same as on the day before. I made an examination of his physical condition and found the lungs normal but his abdomen tender in the vicinity of the stomach. There was a pulsation of the heart caused by tobacco, for he had what is known as tobacco heart. There was visible pulsation in the large arteries and in the aorta.

Cross-examined by Mr. Osler, Dr. Haight said that deceased had a tobacco heart, caused by over-smoking. Witness did not see the jar washed in which the stomach of deceased was sent to Toronto. It was washed but not in his presence. He did not know if there was any arsenic around and if there was he would not swear that it was impossible for it accidentally to get into the jar. It might have got there. He found that the heart of deceased was affected by his tobacco habit. He found a decadence of the tissue. There was, however, no more than what would have been expected in a man of his age.

On re-examination by Mr. Lount witness said that he had no doubt of the existence of arsenic in the system and he was also quite satisfied that death resulted from poisoning. He thought that two grains were enough to cause death.

Dr. Hill, of Norwich, followed, and corroborated his fellow-physician's evidence. The physical condition of deceased was always fairly good.

Dr. Ellis, public analyst, Toronto, described the analysis, said: "On the basis of what I examined there would be a grain or more in the whole body. The conclusion arrived at was that there must have been more taken. Apart from an analysis the symptoms pointed to arsenical poisoning.

Dr. McCurdy, of Norwich, examined Caleb Hartley for entrance to the Work men. He found an affection of the heart from excessive use of tobacco. Otherwise the deceased was in perfect health. It was the witness' opinion that deceased died of arsenical poisoning. Dr. Griffin and Dr. Harris, Brantford, Dr. Johnson, Toronto, followed in similar evidence to the other doctors.

Wm. Allan, constable, went to Hartley's next day after deceased returned from Hamilton. Mrs. Hartley told him Caleb had gone to Hamilton, and she did not expect him to come home alive as he had been vomiting. While he was there Ling made Caleb an egg nog, putting in some unknown mixture. The following Sunday he saw Caleb and Caleb said he was bleeding at the nose, which continued till he died. Friday I told Mrs. Hartley the doctor wanted me to stay with Caleb. When Ling was out Mrs. Hartley started talking about Ling. Ling came in suddenly and said, "Maria, shut your head, it is no wonder folks are talking about us. It is your own fault." She seemed annoyed at the expression when Ling put his arms around her and hugged and kissed her which quieted her ruffled feelings. When Caleb was dead Mrs. Hartley went into the room and looking on the face of her dead husband said, "My, I believe some one has given him a dose." After I left the stomach in Toronto for the analysts Mrs. Hartley then enquired how they would find out if there was poison in it. I replied that I did not know and said if she did it she would know, and if Ling did it he would know it then said, "If you don't tell on Henry I will give you anything in the store."

The evidence for the Crown is all in. The case will probably occupy a portion of next week.

OUT FOR ANNEXATION.

The American Union Party to Make it the Leading Issue.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27.—The United Press correspondent at Honolulu, writing under date of October 19, says: On the 13th inst. a convention of thirty delegates of the American Union party of this island met and adopted a platform of seventeen articles and nominated for the approaching election on the 29th inst six senators and six representatives. The senators are all well known and trusted men. This ticket represents the great majority of the registered voters, and will undoubtedly be elected. The leading plank in the platform declares annexation to be the foremost mission of the party. Three planks oppose the further introduction and employment of Asiatic labor. Reform is asked in land distribution and in taxation, and homesteads for the native Hawaiians are recommended. The action for annexation will be in the hands of the senate. While some of the planters are dissatisfied toward annexation the great body of the whites are urgent for it as the great security of a stable government.

HE WAS A PRISONER.

Thirty-five Years of Suffering.

EXPERIENCED MANY SAD FAILURES AND DISAPPOINTMENTS.

A Strong Hand Brings Deliverance.

Paine's Celery Compound Rescues and Cures.

Few men or women, made captives and prisoners by dyspepsia, have ever suffered so much pain and agony as fell to the lot of Mr. Ambrose Budd, of Shanty Bay, near Barrie, Ont.

Thirty-five years in the toils of renal disease, meeting with failures and disappointments from medicines that promised to cure, but which proved utterly worthless, is worse in some respects than being confined in a walled dungeon.

AMBROSE BUDD.

Mr. Budd's efforts to escape from suffering and sickness were all in vain, until he laid hold of that mighty and powerful deliverer, Paine's Celery Compound. He escaped from death, and his complete cure is known to hundreds in his district, and has given Paine's Celery Compound a name and reputation as a true life giver that will never fade from the memory. Mr. Budd has communicated the facts of his case for publication; he says:

"For the benefit of sufferers I gladly give my experience with Paine's Celery Compound. After suffering from dyspepsia for thirty five years, and meeting with many failures with other medicines, I decided to use Paine's Celery Compound, having heard of so many wonderful cures effected by it. The Compound, after I used it for a time, produced miraculous results, and banished my troubles.

"From a condition of helplessness—being unable to sleep or eat—I now feel well and strong. I am astonished at the results, as my trouble was an old and chronic one. I have recommended Paine's Celery Compound to some of my neighbors, and in every case it has given satisfaction. I will always strongly recommend its use when I have opportunity."

AVOID TROUBLE AT HOME.

Use Only the Reliable Diamond Dyes.

It is well known that the ladies of Canada often experience trials and tribulations in the household management. These small but irritating troubles can be avoided if a little care and common sense is exercised. Women who go on suffering these little miseries have themselves to blame, as they suffer through their own careless ness and inexperience. To day, one great source of annoyance in the household is the use of poor imitation dyes for do mestic dying. In some sections of our land the ladies have lived up their voice against them in a way which cannot be misunderstood. These imitation dyes have caused not only great loss of material and money, but anger and heartache as well All these domestic trials and tribulations are avoided when Diamond Dyes are used. By their use work is well and quickly done; results are always grand, and the colors are brilliant and lasting. Ladies who have used Diamond Dyes for the last ten years know their great worth and possibilities. Avoid all imitation dyes, and always insist upon getting Diamond Dyes from your druggist or dealer.

—An English syndicate has purchased the Sultana and Ophir gold mines, two of the richest properties in the Lake of the Woods district.

That Joyful Feeling.

With the exhilarating sense of renewed health and strength and internal cleanliness, which follows the use of Syrup of Figs, is unknown to the few who have not progressed beyond the old time medicines and the cheap substitutes sometimes offered but never excepted by the well informed.

Lane's Medicine Moves the Bowels Each Day.

In order to be healthy this is necessary.

A Sure Asthma!

R. Schiffmann, St. Paul, Minn., will mail trial package of "Schiffmann's Asthma Cure," free to any sufferer. He advertises by giving it away. Never fails to give instant relief in worst cases and cures where others fail. Name this paper and send address for a free trial package.

How to Get a "Sunlight Picture

Send 25 "Sunlight" soap wrappers (wrapper bearing the words "by does a woman look old sooner than a man") to Lever Bros., Ltd., 43 Scott St., Toronto, and you will receive by post a pretty picture, free from advertising, and well worth framing. This is an easy way to decorate your home. The soap is the best in the market, and it will only cost 1c. per cake to send in the wrappers. If you leave the ends open write your address on a slip.

Use Wide Awake Soap, it is the best in the world.

An Odd Lament.

Shortly before his death Oliver Wendell Holmes indulged in curious reflections over the number of books he might have written had his long life been applied as diligently to literary pursuits as it was engrossed by acquiring and imparting scientific knowledge. This speculation had something of pathos in it. Its mournful humor was experienced by Nathaniel Hawthorne and Charles Lamb, those fine spirits that often chafed under the drudgery of official employment.

Yet such complaints seem, on careful examination, to be poetic rather than real. Literature is a good walking stick, but a bad crutch, said Thackeray. It is an excellent, wise thing for young poets to find some more reliable support than is furnished by their verses.

We do not observe, for example, that the splendid imagination of Hawthorne was hindered by his duties in the Salem Custom-house, nor that Lamb lost fancy through his long employment with the East India Company.

Dr. Holmes represented the true wealth as well as the health of American life. He had earned a competence by hard work and enjoyed a luxury of repose by bringing forth music that touched his neighbor's heart as deeply as his own. His song was spontaneous, free and joyous as that of the meadow larks. He had weathered the storms of youth, triumphed over the disappointments of maturity and reached a ripe old age, cheered by the applause and the affection of mankind.

How blest is he who crowns in shades like these
A youth of labor with an age of ease!
And all his prospects brightening to the last
His heaven commences ere the world be past.
—New York Press.

Misdirected Sympathy.

A New York clergyman, meeting one of his female parishioners dressed in deep black, tried to console her by saying:

"You have no idea how I regret to see you wearing those sad habiliments of woe."

"You can't be as sad about it as I am," responded the widow. "I only wear mine in black than in any other color. It makes me look like a fright."—Alex Sweet, in Texas Siftings.

CHURCH DIRECTORY.

TABERNACLE METHODIST CHURCH.
Church St.

REVD. E. ROBERTS—Pastor

Preaching service to morrow at 11 a. m., subject, "Paul's Great Prayer." At 7 p m., "Gospel Power and Human Folly."
Sunday school at 2:30 p.m.
E L prayer meeting at 6:30 p m
You are cordially invited to be present at all these services.

JOHN ST. PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Pastor—Rev. J. L. George.
Morning service, 11 o'clock. Bible class and Sunday school, 3 o'clock. Evening service, 7 o'clock. Wednesday evening prayer meeting, 8 o'clock. Young people's meeting after the evening service. All are welcome.

"Piety at Home"
"The Greatest Theme"

Will to the Rev. E. N. Baker, M. A, B. D's. subjects at BRIDGE STREET METHODIST CHURCH

To-morrow,

At 11 a. m. and 7 p. m.

Strangers in the City, Students at Albert College Business Colleges, Schools, and all other visitors are invited to these services or to Sunday School at 2: 0 p.m.

New Advertisements.

WANTED.

WANTED—A Chambermaid and a Cook. Apply at O'Brien House. 1506 1

WANTED—A Lewis Clerk who wants to study law. Apply to E. Guss Porter 1506 1

WANTED—General Servant. Apply to Mrs. J. W. Johnson, corner Hotel and Albert sts. 1506 1

TO LET.

TO LET 2 snug, warm brick houses in terrace, situated on Harriett St., West Belleville, known as Morton's or Fillter's terrace. For terms of rent apply to R. C. Fillter, collector, or with agent to the estate of late Mr. H. E. Fillter Residence at Mr. Jardin's Corner of William and Dundas Sts., East Belleville. 85d2m

IF YOU USE A

BLENDED - TEA

Ask Your Grocer For

'MORAHNEE'

It has no equal.

In one half pound packets, 40c. and 50c. per lb

J. E. WALMSLEY & CO.,
Agents for the British Tea and Trading Association, London, Eng

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS,

A positive cure for all kidney diseases, such as

Backache, Rheumatism, Diabetes, Brights Disease, &c., &c.

For sale at the Pharmacy.

D. M. WATERS.

PETTYJOHN'S CALIFORNIA BREAKFAST FOOD

Dyspeptics can eat this food.

It is particularly adapted for children and persons of sedentary habits.

It is made from Pacific coast wheat hulled and crushed by improved machinery.

It can be easily prepared for breakfast, as this crushing process makes it soft and tender and easy to cook

Ask your physician which is best for you to eat, oats or wheat.

Pettijohn's California Breakfast Food is sold in packages by

BENMORE & BENSON.

STOVE PIPES!
STOVE PIPES!!
STOVE PIPES!!!

WHIPS! LANTERNS!
WHIPS!! LANTERNS!!
WHIPS!!! LANTERNS!!!

Lamps, Flower Pots,
Lamps, Flower pots,
Lamps, Flower Pots.

—AT—

THE FAIR,

FRANK WEEKS, MANAGER.

MRS. MOUNTFORD'S
- CLOSING -
ORIENTAL ENTERTAINMENT
. . To-Night . .
Bridge Street Methodist Church.
ADMISSION, 25c.
Children, 15c., or 2 for 25c.

NIGHT SCHOOL
. . . . . MECHANICS' INSTITUTE
Corner Front and Hotel Sts., will commence
THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 1st, 1894.

The Advantages are:—
The Business Course, Shorthand and Type-writing Course, Instruction in Penmanship.
For four months, two evenings each week, from 7 to 9 o'clock, and six months' membership in the Institute
FEE FOR ALL IS
.... $3.00.
Books, Stationery, Etc., for the Business Course, cost $8.00.
Apply to W. J. OSBORNE, of ONTARIO BUSINESS COLLEGE.

Wanted!
10,000 People of the City of Belleville, to buy the famous
ENGLISH SPICED SAUSAGE!
Manufactured by
McGUINNESS,
Front Street.
Tender Loins, Feet, Ribs, Hocks and Fresh Heads, Choice Roasts 9c. per lb.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

IN THE ESTATE OF GEORGE BILLS WRIGHT DECEASED.

NOTICE is hereby given, pursuant to chap. 110 of the Revised Statutes of Ontario, 1887, that all persons having claims against the estate of George Bills Wright, late of the City of Belleville, County of Hastings, deceased, who died on the 19th day of September, A.D., 1894, at Picton, are requested to send to J. W. Wright Esq., M.D., at Picton, Attorney for Mary P. S. Wright, the administratrix, on or before the 24th day of November, A.D. 1894, their christian names and surnames, and addresses and descriptions and full particulars of their claims and statements of their accounts, and notice is hereby further given that after the said date Mary P. S. Wright, the Administratrix, will proceed to distribute the assets of the said deceased among the parties entitled thereto, having regard to those claims only of which she shall then have notice and that the said Administratrix shall not be liable for the said assets, or any part thereof so distributed to any person or persons of whose claim or claims notice has not been received by the said Administratrix at the time of such distribution.

WRIGHT & WALM-LEY,
Picton, Ont.,
Solicitors for the Administratrix.
Dated Oct. 18th, 1894. 1444d1

THIS MATTER CHANGED DAILY.

SATURDAY, Oct. 26th.

LISTEN . . .

Do you want to buy nice, new, stylish, pretty millinery?

We have it!

We also have Stylish Jackets, Fine Dress Goods.

Jas. Wallace & Co

W. FLINT JONES.
Next door to Haines & Lockett.

WE HAVE
For To-morrow
PEARS,
GRAPES,
LEMONS,
PEACHES HICKORY NUTS,
ORANGES, CHESTNUTS,
BANANAS, HOT PEANUTS,
HICKORY NUTS BUTTERED POP-CRACKED CORN,
CHESTNUTS BOILED,
CHESTNUTS ROASTED,
SHELLED WALNUTS.
Dont forget Wallace's Quesker Bread

Jas. Wallace & Co

OLD KING COLE
. . . . . WAS A MERRY OLD SOUL !!
BUT . . . . . THAT HAS NOTHING TO DO WITH OUR FAMOUS LEHIGH VALLEY COAL!
Which is the KING of all COALS.
TRY IT! GOOD PEOPLE! TRY IT!!
AND if you do not burn COAL we can supply you with
The finest CORD WOOD in the Land.
Place your Orders with us before the rush, which always begins as soon at the weather turns Cold.

S. A. LAZIER & SONS, The Leading Coal and Wood Merchants, Telephone C 68.

YOU

Will be herd to please if you don't say our new stock is the most beautiful display of elegant art china ever presented before the people of Belleville. Next week we'll be at it night and day until everything is open and in place. THE SILVER will be opened to-day—Thursday.

W. J. REID & CO'Y.
CRYSTAL HALL. Rous' Old Stand.
London and Belleville.

24TH - - - - YEAR.

S. A. HYMAN, Manufacturing Furrier.

Special Prices in Ladies' Fur Capes.

Grey Lamb Capes, 18 inches long,	$15.00
" " " 24 "	18.00
Greenland Seal Capes, 24 inches long,	12.00
Empire Capes, 26 inches long,	18.00
" " 27 "	22.00
Military " 27 " with seal	22.00

See my Window for Styles.

S. A. HYMAN, OLD FURS MADE OVER IN THE LATEST STYLES.

GLASGOW WAREHOUSE.

We are now showing the following novelties in

DRESS TRIMMINGS.

Watered si ks, all prices, in black, white cream, pink, pale blue, navy, myrtle, brown, fawn, etc.
B ack and colored satins.
Black satin merv.
Black pau de sobe dress silks,
Black co-operative dress silks
Black and colored velvets.
Black and colored velveteens.
Beautiful silks for blouses.
Beautiful silks for drapings
Black and grey curl trimmings,
Black and colored beaver trimmings
Black and cream silk laces.
Black and colored button kid gloves,
Black and colored laced kid gloves
Special lines in ribbons
Lad es' and Misses' underwear,
Ladies' and Misses' corsets.
Spot muslins and valenciennes laces for evening wear.
Light shades in hen iettas and crepons, with sequence trimmings to match
Priestly & Sons' dress goods, large variety.

Dress and Mantle making and Tailoring done on the premises.

Carpets and House Furnishings in great Variety.

VANDERVOORT & GIBSON,

Successors to the late J. W. Dunnet.

Belleville, Oct, 34, 1894.

COUPON
—FOR—
PART 10.
Canada Portfolio of Art.

A Coupon appears in all issues of this paper.

Cut out this coupon and forward, together with 10 cents, to the Art Department of this paper, and you will receive one part of Canada, as mentioned above, by mail postpaid, or bring the coupon and 10 cents to this office and receive Portfolio.

NAME..

ADDRESS.......................................

N. B—Remember, only one Coupon required for each part.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, SATURDAY, OCT. 27.

Monday.

At Fish's great Fire Sale we shall sell waterproof coats, umbrellas and silk handkerchiefs. Bargains ! bargains ! don't miss them !—A. E. FISH & Co.

CITY AND DISTRICT.

The water in the bay is steadily falling.

Wide awake people always use Wide Awake Soap.

Second crop raspberries are quite common.

Wash your linen with Wide Awake Soap and see how beautifully white it will be.

Fishermen are having very poor luck. The season has been one of the worst on record.

Mr. Jas. Grant has received the present from a friend in Philadelphia of a magnificent English mastiff.

Salt rheum with its intense itching, dry, hot skin is cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla, because it purifies the blood.

A large number of chrysanthemums were sold on the market to-day. The chrysanthemum is the seasonable flower.

Charles Ed. Powley charged Sid Wilson at the police court this morning with assault. Wilson was fined $1, and $1.50 costs.

Three tramps, who, rather than sleep in a box car or on a grassy knoll, asked for a bed at Chief Newton's hotel last night; they got it.

Chauncey Ashley, issuer of marriage licenses, Division Court Office, Pinnacle street or at residence over Benmore & Benson's store. d&w

The carcases of two deer were offered for sale on the market this morning. The vender asked 8c per lb. for the hind quarters.

According to a recent proclamation issued at Ottawa, the new law for the inspection of electric light will go into effect on the first of April next.

There was a very large market this morning. Garden produce, fruit and fowl were the chief offerings, and the prices quoted on Thursday ruled.

The footbridge should be re-planked. There are many weak boards, and an accident would cost the city five times the value of the planking.

The walls of sample rooms of Hotel Quinte are being rushed along, and will soon be completed. A stone wall has been built between the hotel property and Bridge St. church.

California news informs us that one of Redlands' most esteemed young ladies, formerly of Belleville, is soon to be led to the altar by a wealthy young gentleman of Connecticut.

As a result of the S. S. Convention, two of the delegates have decided to locate in Belleville. One is negotiating for the purchase of a house and the other is looking for a suitable dwelling to rent.

S. Burrows, ticket agent, would like you to remember that he sells tickets to nearly all points in Canada and the United States from Belleville station—or any other place most convenient to the purchaser.

Seven men at the G.T.R. blacksmith shops have been notified that they will not be wanted after Wednesday next. Lack of work to keep them going is the cause assigned. They are expected to be followed by others.

"Sampson," as produced by J. Walter Kennedy and his company last evening, was a magnificent portrayal of the old biblical story. The costumes were gorgeous, and the scenery, especially in the last act, was as good as anything ever seen here. It is a pity to see so good a production so poorly patronized.

Catarrh—Use Nasal Balm. Quick, positive cure. Soothing, cleansing, healing.

SOCIAL & PERSONAL

Harry Melrose, porter of the Alexandria, was in the city to-day.

J. Parsons Smith, of the "Emerald Trio, was in the city to day.

Rev. Mr. Chiniquy is recovering slowly from his illness at Montreal.

Jas Alexander, Kingston; R. Fyler, Montreal, are at the Hoffman.

Mrs (Dr.) Hudson, Roslin, is the guest of Mrs. Chas. Hudson, West Bridge St.

W. H. Pearson, jr., Toronto, lessee of the Gas Works, was in the city yesterday.

Mr. C. E. Hall, of Alexander, Manitoba, formerly of Belleville, is a frequent visitor to Winnipeg.

Mrs. John White, of Roslin, left yesterday for British Columbia, where she will settle up her husband's estate.

Mr. W. J. Hudson, commercial traveller, is in town. He is recovering from an attack of pneumonia.

Mrs. Schuster left town to-day for a month's recuperation. She will visit friends at Lindsay and elsewhere.

It is reported that the Rev. J.C. Hutton, of Sharbot Lake, has been offered the Rectorship of Christ Church, Belleville.

Rev. G. J. Dingman and wife, will leave on Monday for Denver, where they will visit two of their children who are located there.

Mr. J. W. Campion and Mrs. Campion arrived to-day from Vancouver. They will probably pass several weeks in this vicinity visiting relatives.

Mrs. Walker and daughter, of Chicago, who have been spending the summer in Napanee, are the guests of Mrs. Chas Addison, Cedar St.

Rev. Jonathan Goforth, a Presbyterian missionary to the Chinese, is at present addressing meetings in Ontario. His name is highly appropriate to his calling.

Miss. C. A. Nichols returned to Belleville on Friday last.—Mr. Walter Towers, Salem, intends going to Belleville to reside.—Mrs. Garrat Allen, West Lake, has returned after a fortnight's absence visiting her daughters at Napanee and Belleville.—Beaver.

Mr. James Hanley, of Belleville, was in town on Wednesday and favored us with a call.— Messrs. Harry Bryant, Chas. Myers and James Thompson, of Belleville, were visiting at Mr. A. Thompson's, Green street, on Wednesday.—Deseronto Tribune.

SPORTING NEWS

The Leavens hunting party have been heard from. They have had bad luck, having failed to get a deer.

Lucien Reed and a friend caught a maskinonge at Fairfield's bridge, near Foxboro, recently, that weighed 30 pounds.

The Rover football team are playing a game with a junior team from the D. & D. Institute this afternoon on the new cricket grounds.

Jones Bros., from Prince Edward, who have been at Wolf lake on a deer hunt returned to-day. They had with them a fine buck.

Wide Awake Soap can be used in hot water, in cold water, in hard water in soft water, in any way you choose; it makes clothes clean and sweet, and leaves the hands smooth.

Dr. W. W. Boyce Located in Belleville.

Dr. W. W. Boyce, who has recently located in the city, in the rooms vacated by Dr. Cook, is a gentleman of some years' experience in the practice of his profession. A Canadian by birth and education, being a graduate of Trinity Medical School and Fellow of Trinity Medical College.

The past three years he has resided in Albuquerque, N. M., going there for the benefit of his wife's health, which has been restored.

Dr. Boyce is very favorably impressed with the climate of that region for pulmonary troubles.

For the past eight months he has been pursuing a special course in Gynecology under Professor Wm. H. Wothan of Louisville, Ky , Dean of the faculty of the Kentucky School of Medicine.

We wish the Doctor success in his new field of labor.

Child Preservation.

Mr. J. J. Kelso, of Toronto, the Ontario government superintendent of neglected children, expects to visit Belleville on Friday, 2nd November, with a view to having a conference with those who are interested in the care of children. Mr. Kelso will be glad to meet all who can come, and will explain the provisions of the Gibson act. The curfew bell question will also be discussed. Possibly a children's aid society may be formed as an outcome of Mr. Kelso's visit. Due notice of the time and place of the meeting will be given.

Common Sense

Should be used in attempting to cure that very disagreeable disease, catarrh. As catarrh originates in impurities in the blood, local applications can do no permanent good. The common sense method of treatment is to purify the blood, and for this purpose there is no preparation superior to Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Hood's PILLS cure constipation by restoring peristaltic action to the alimentary canal.

Do you use Wide Awake Soap? Every one says it is the best in the world.

Died in California.

Rev. Harrie A. Webb, the beautiful singer, who in conjunction with J. Parsons Smith, visited this city about three years ago, died in San Francisco Oct. 13th, and was interred in that city on the 16th. He leaves a widow and an infant child. He married a daughter of the Rev. Dr. Reid, of British Columbia.

To be Tried on Tuesday.

Benjamin, Elvin and Oliver Arnold, of Rawdon, charged with larceny, were brought up for election and elected to be tried by the Judge. Their trial has been set down for Tuesday. They will be defended by C. E. Lyons and J. F. Wills.

Not a Public Court.

Col. Henderson was advised from Ottawa this morning that the military court of enquiry into the affairs of the 15th Batt., which will be held at the drill shed on Tuesday, will be a closed court, and not open to the public as supposed by some.

Surrogate.

Mary Collins, of township of Huntingdon, probate of will granted to James McEvoy, executor. Estate $400 F. E. O'Flynn, solicitor.

Trunks and Valises.

If you need a Trunk or Valise, call and see us, as we have a good assortment, from best makers in Canada.—VERMILYEA & SON.

Great Fire Sale at Fish's.

To-night we make a special sale of underwear, neckwear and flannel shirts. All put on sale specially for to night.—A. E. FISH & Co.

THE MUTES WERE DOWNED

FOR THE FIRST TIME IN SEVEN LONG YEARS.

It was a Great Game—Cummings the Hero of the Hour—The City Team Worked Like Trojans — Great Enthusiasm Among their Friends—The Next Game Will Tell the Tale.

"What's the matter with Cummings?'

That was the cry of the crowd who flocked the dressing room of the City football team after yesterday afternoon's game with the Mutes. Bert, who has afforded so much amusement to lovers of cycling in this city, demonstrated yesterday afternoon that he was as good a football player as a bicycle rider.

The afternoon was fine and calm and quite a crowd of lovers of the kickers game wended their way to the cricket field on East Bridge St., most of them fully expecting to see the Mutes beat their opponents in straights, as usual. The Mutes came down at four o'clock and brought the same team that played a week ago, with one exception—Labelle replaced Watts at centre, an improvement if anything.

The City team had been greatly shaken up since last Friday. Diamond and Hardy, who were injured in the last game, were unable to play, and Marsh, the old reliable full back, was unavoidably absent. Truaisch was replaced by Kelso, and this proved a wise change. Conger played in Hardy's position, and appeared afraid of the Mutes at the start, but later braced up and did some good work. Wollver was in his old position in gaol, and played the game of his life. Sutherland replaced Moon in the half line and Moon played back.

At 4:15 Referee Thomas lined the teams up as follows :

City's	Position	Mutes.
Wollver	Goal	McKay
Geen, Moon	backs	Wallace, Lewis
Twining, Jamieson, Sutherland	half-backs	Kavanaugh, Symard, Lett
Conger, Nash, Cummings, Kelso, Rous	forwards	Chambers, King, Labelle, Dubois, Gillam

H. P. Thomas, Referee.

The City team elected to kick up the field and the game soon began. The Mutes started their old game of bluff and tried to frighten the city team, but it didn't work. As usual Chambers played the game of his team and his work was highly commended by those who watched the game. Twining seemed to come in for the heaviest checking of the Mutes, who never lost an opportunity of giving him the body. He was equal, however, to them all and many of them will doubtless remember him for a week at least. Moon at back played a magnificent game, saving time after time. Jamieson also did effective work on the half back line. Sutherland, the new man, did some heavy body checking, which bothered Chambers not a little. For half an hour the ball hovered between the centre and the Mutes' goal most of the time, and their goal tender had many hot ones to stop. A goal was scored by the Citys, which was not allowed, or even claimed, the goal tender of the Mutes being fully two feet behind the tape when he stopped the ball. Shortly before half time, Cummings, who had been playing a fine game, made a rush up the field with the ball and by a pretty shot scored for his team. At the kick off the Mutes tried their old rush, but they were met by foes worthy of their steel and they were checked. No more goals were scored in the first half.

It was still thought by many that the Mutes had the game well in hand when they were called for the second half, but hopes ran high in the hearts of the city team. After a few minutes' play Chambers shot on the city goal, but it was wide. Geen endeavored to stop the ball, but in so doing gave the sphere a slant that was missed by Wollver and the Mutes had scored. The City team settled down to work and from this out there was little doubt of the result. Cummings time and again carried the ball through the half and back line of the Mutes, but their goal tender saved as often as he kicked, till about twenty minutes from the face, when Bert made another rush and carried every thing before him, scoring the second and last goal. It was now getting quite dark, but they all wanted to play out the time, that no kick could be raised. The game from this out was up and down, honors being pretty evenly divided till time, when a mighty cheer rent the air and the Mutes were beaten for the first time in seven years.

Special mention should be made of the work done by Kelso and Rous on their wing, the former proving to Chambers that he had not learned all about the game yet. Nash was also effective and worked his share of the combination to good advantage.

The next game will be played on Friday next on the same grounds, and we can see no reason why the City team should not win, with Marsh at back. The game will decide the custody or ownership of the Corby cup, and it is expected the Mutes will put forth their strongest efforts to secure, they having already won it two seasons in succession. If the City team win they will hold the trophy till next year.

NOTES.

It has always been maintained that the Mutes were not as strong off their own grounds, and it was proven yesterday beyond doubt.

H. P. Thomas refereed the game to the satisfaction of every one.

Rous came in contact with a mute with his head and was laid out for a few minutes, but soon went back to his position.

The City's should practice every night next week, and take no chances on the next game,

All First-Class Makers.

Some people may imagine from the Oak Hall advertising Sanford's make of clothing so extensively that no other make is handled. We sell nothing but Sanford's children's suits, because they are the best, and we have tried them all. In other departments we have clothing from several first class makers, such as Johnston's, of Toronto, and Mackedie, of Montreal. The Oak Hall buy wherever they can do the best.

The Bath and Toilet.

The white Castile soap cannot be surpassed for the bath or toilet. It is made with pure vegetable oil—not grease—and is healing and refreshing to the skin. The finest quality may be obtained of L. W. Yeomans & Co. at 20c per pound.

Body Snatching Near Kingston.

On Thursday night the body of Mrs Van Luven was stolen from the Wilton grave yard near Kingston. The grave diggers had been hired to watch the grave, but left at midnight, and in the morning the body was gone. Students from Kingston are suspected, but little hopes are entertained of finding the remains.

Cold in the head—Nasal Balm gives instant relief ; speedily cures. Never fails.

LIFE IN JERUSALEM

As Portrayed by the Talented Lecturer Mrs Mountford.

The audience at Mrs. Mountford's lecture in Bridge St. church last evening was large and appreciative, and the talented lecturer kept them interested for two hours, while she portrayed "Life in Jerusalem."

MRS. VON FINKELSTEIN MOUNTFORD.

The platform was fitted up to represent the interior of the house of a wealthy citizen. The lecturer was dressed in a gorgeous apparel and adorned with jewels and gold ornaments in profusion. The costumes of her assistants were also very rich and beautiful, representing a bride, a white slave, a daughter of the house, a priest, a rich man dressed in "purple and fine linen" and various other personages. The lecturer described and illustrated some of the street scenes, such as the water carrier, etc. She also explained that much discussed passage "It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to enter the kingdom of heaven."

About an hour before sunset the mistress of the house prepares to receive her husband. She arrays herself in her finest robes, and if she were asked the reason why, she would reply, "We do not dress for strangers, but for our own husbands, fathers and brothers, who are the ones who toil to give us these comforts and luxuries," a sentiment that was loudly applauded. The matter in which the lord of the house was received was dramatically illustrated by the whole company, such as washing the hands and feet, etc. Special honor is shown when the wife pours the water. The table manners of the east are exemplified, and the absurdity of most of the pictures of the Last Supper pointed out.

The customs relating to courtship were fully explained and illustrated, and in a spectacular way this was by far the most brilliant portion of the lecture. An Arabic valentine, translated, was most amusing. The interior of a harem, which Europeans are never permitted to enter, was shown, the women reclining in graceful attitudes, sipping coffee and conversing with the men. The wedding ceremonies of the East in all their formality and grandeur were displayed, and the meaning of the parade of the wise and foolish virgins thoroughly elucidated. With an impressive climax Mrs. Mountford concluded a lecture in which all possible elements of interest were happily blended.

To-night she will give "Ecce Homo ! or, from Bethlehem to Calvary." Scene : Bethlehem and Interior of an Inn—The Shepherds' Fields—Bethlehem; The Inn or Khan; The Babe in the Manger; Mary's Offering; Why there was no Lamb; Adoration of the Wise Men; The Tax-Gathering; Flight into Egypt; Joseph the Architect; Return to Nazareth; "The Grace of God was upon Him"; Christ in Jerusalem; "His Father's Business'; The Jordan; Meeting with John; The Baptism; The Marriage at Cana; Why there was no Wine; The Woman of Samaria; Astonishment of the Disciples Explained; Galilee, Home of Lazarus; Why Mary Anointed Christ's Feet; Triumphal Entry into Jerusalem; Court of the Temple; The Den of Thieves; Easter; The Last Supper; Gethsemane; Judas' Salvation; Before Pilate; Peter in the Servants' Hall; Calvary; The Thief on the Cross; The Usurped Nobleman; Going into the Far Country; The Burial; Christ in His Kingdom.

The Humane Society's First Public Meeting.

The first regular meeting of the Belleville Humane Society will be held in the Mechanic's Institute hall next Thursday evening, The meeting will be public and anyone is cordially invited. An excellent entertainment will be furnished, both musical and literary, and what at this stage of affairs will be even more interesting, the aims, objects and methods of the society will be outlined by the president, Mr. Curtis Bogart. Another interesting question for discussion will be Humane work in relation to the children introduced by Principal Gardner. and participated in by W. C. Mikel, Mr. W. N. Ponton and others.

Wide Awake Soap is a mammoth bar of pure soap. Try it.

Villanelle.

Chambers' Journal.

Down the dear old lane, where we always meet,
With its hedges tall and its grassy way,
Comes Ethel, blushing, her lover to greet.

The bracken is tall and the wild rose sweet,
And the air is scented with new mown hay,
Down the dear old lane, where we always meet.

In a simple frock, so pretty and neat,
With a face fresh and fair as the day,
Comes Ethel, blushing, her lover to greet.

There's an old gray stone makes a mossy seat,
With a bank behind, where butterflies stray,
Down the dear old lane, where we always meet.

Daintly tripping on dainty, wee feet,
With an innocent haste that brooks no delay,
Comes Ethel, blushing, her lover to greet.

There's a thrill that quickens my heart's quick beat,
And I fain would think 'twill ever be May ;
Down the dear old lane, where we always meet,
Comes Ethel, blushing, her lover to greet.

Dr. S. C. Webb, Liberty, Miss., says : "I have been using Ayer's Pills for over twenty five years, and recommend them in cases of chronic diarrhœa, knowing their efficiency from personal experience, they having cured when every other medicine failed."

We know whereof we affirm when we state that Ayer's Pills, taken promptly, at the first symptoms of colds and fevers, arrest further progress of these disorders, and speedily restore the stomach, liver, and bowels, to their normal and regular action.

"Canada," a Canadian production, is a work that should be in every Canadian home. It is a magnificent publication, and only needs to be seen to be appreciated. Only 10 cents a number with coupon. No. 10 now in.

PROBABILITIES.

TORONTO, Oct. 27.—Moderate winds, mostly fair; a little change in temperature; light local showers.

FAINTED IN CHURCH.

THE DEPLORABLE CONDITION OF A YOUNG LADY IN BROCKVILLE.

A Case That Created Much Interest—Weak, Almost Bloodless and Frequently Confined to her Bed—Again Enjoying Complete Health.

From the Brockville Recorder.

Readers of the Recorder have no doubt followed with interest the many instances related in these columns of recoveries—sometimes of a very remarkable nature, of persons affected with diseases of different kinds, by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Apart from the marvellous recoveries, the accounts were interesting to the people of Brockville and vicinity from the fact that this town is the home of the Dr. Williams' Co., and the place where the celebrated medicine is made. The family of Mr. Thomas Humble, residents on Park street north, furnish a case of such recovery no less notable than many previously published, that will be of particular interest to this community. Mr. Humble is an employee of Bowie & Co., brewers, and is well known and highly respected by many of our citizens. The member of his family whose cure we have mentioned, is his eldest daughter Carrie, a girl of about nineteen years of age. The facts in the case were brought to the notice of the Recorder by Mr. Wm. Birks, a well known merchant tailor, who on one occasion assisted in removing Miss Humble, who was attacked with a fit of extreme weakness while attending service in the George street Methodist church. The other evening a reporter visited the home of the family in question, and upon stating his mission to Mrs. Humble, the story of the case was briefly related, not however, with any desire for notoriety, but rather a determination on her part that it should be given if it might in the least be of benefit to others similarly afflicted. According to her mother's story, Miss Humble's illness dates back to the summer of 1889. Her trouble was extreme weakness and exhaustion, caused by weak and watery blood. She was subject to severe headaches, heart palpitation, and other symptoms which follow a depraved condition of the blood Often while down street on business the young lady would become so exhausted by the walk as to be scarcely able to get home, and she was frequently confined to her bed for weeks at a time, and had to have her meals carried to her. For a period of over three years she was almost continually under medical treatment. The doctor's medicine would prove of benefit while being taken, but as soon as the treatment was discontinued, the patient would become worse. Her friends were much discouraged and feared she would not recover. In the winter of 1893 Mrs. Humble read of a similar case where a cure was brought about by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. This prompted her to give them a trial in her daughter's case, who was at that time that she could not leave her room. The result was remarkable. There was soon a marked improvement, and by the time two boxes were used Miss Humble appeared to be so much improved that the treatment was discontinued. But it later became evident that the patient had not been fully restored, for after a few months there was a return of the trouble. Miss Humble was sent on a visit to some friends in the United States in the hope that a change of air would prove beneficial, but she returned to her home worse than when she went away. Her mother was then determined to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a further trial, and the results proved most gratifying, as the girl's health has been completely restored, and she is to day as well and strong as any girl of her age. Mrs. Humble told the story of her daughter's illness and recovery with an impressiveness that carried conviction of its absolute truthfulness. Miss Humble also corroborated her mother's statements, and they can be vouched for by many of her friends in the church, the Sunday School and others.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are an unfailing cure for all troubles resulting from poverty of the blood or shattered nerves, and where given a fair trial they never fail in cases like the above stated. Sold by all dealers or sent postpaid at 50 cents a box, or 6 boxes for $2 50, by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., or Schenectady, N.Y. See that the registered trade mark is on all packages.

SPECIAL MENTION

—The Ameer of Afghanistan is now able to attend to business.

—Mr. W. M. Robson was elected first Deputy Reeve of Lindsay.

—Prairie fires have done much damage and caused loss of life in Nebraska.

THAT HACKING COUGH can be quickly cured by Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam Price 25c.

—The Arctic exploring steamer Falcon has been given up as lost, with all on board.

—Hugh Ryan & Co's. power house and machine shop were burned at Sault Ste. Marie, entailing a loss of $25,000

THEY MAKE ONE FEEL as though life was worth living. Take one of Carter's Little Liver Pills after eating; it will relieve dyspepsia, aid digestion, give tone and vigor to the system.

—Mr. John Kelly, a butcher of Kingston, started to a doctor's for consultation. On the threshold of the doctor's surgery he fell dead.

MORE CASES OF SICK HEADACHE, biliousness, constipation, can be cured in less time, with less medicine, and for less money, by using Carter's Little Liver Pills, than by any other means.

—Hog cholera is raging in the neighborhood of Bloomington. Ill. Many farmers have lost from 10 to 50 head each.

IF YOU ARE NERVOUS OR DYSPEPTIC try Carter's Little Nerve Pills. Dyspepsia makes you nervous, and nervousness makes you dyspeptic; either one renders you miserable, and these little pills cure both.

—The Ross Maclaren Lumber Company, of Victoria, B.C., has contracted to ship 10,00,000 feet of lumber to South Africa.

"BURNS AND SCALDS."—If you are so unfortunate as to injure yourself in this way, we can suggest a remedy that will (we speak from experience) soon relieve you of all pain and quickly heal the wound ; it costs but twenty five cents for the New Big bottle and is sold by all Druggists—ask for PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER,

—The Ontario Government has offered a reward of $500 for the discovery of the murderer of Frank Westwood of Parkdale.

No one need fear cholera or any summer complaint if they have a bottle of Dr. J. D Kellog's Dysentery Cordial ready for use It corrects all looseness of the bowels promptly and causes a healthy and natural action. This is a medicine adapted for the young and old, rich and poor, and is rapidly becoming the most popular medicine for cholera, dysentery, etc., in the market.

Those of our readers who have not secured No. 10 of "Canada," that beautiful art series, can do so now. They contain the gems of Canadian scenery. Only 10 cents with coupon.

NEW PLEA FOR A MURDERER.

His Lawyer Says Truskey is Subject to Pulse Apopleptic Mania.

OTTAWA, Oct. 27.—Wallace Nesbitt Q. C., of Toronto, yesterday had an interview with Mr. Power, Q. C., of the Justice Department, who has charge of all capital cases; also with Mr. Newcombe, Deputy Minister of Justice, and finally, with the Premier asking for intervention in the case of Jos. Truskey, sentenced to death for the murder of Wm. Lindsay. He made a strong case in asking for a commutation on the ground that the prisoner was subject to "pulse apopleptic mania," and was not responsible for his act., or rather could not resist it. Sir John promised to carefully consider the representations made to him.

A company is talked of here with a view of building an electric railway from here to Brockville, a distance of about seventy miles.

Japs Win Again.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—A despatch to the Central News from Tokio says that Field Marshal Count Yamagata has reported to the Emperor that at daybreak on Oct. 25 the Japanese army under his command completed its crossing of the Yalu river and in the forenoon attacked and defeated the Chinese near Fu-Shang, also capturing a fortress on the right bank of the river Ai. According to the statement of a Chinese officer who was made prisoner the enemy was eighteen battalions strong. The Chinese lost 200 killed and a large number wounded, though it is not known how many. The number of Japanese killed or wounded was five officers and ninety men. Count Yamagata adds : Col. Sato with his detachment has rejoined the main army and we expect to attack Kullenchao at daybreak on October 26.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—A despatch to the Times from Tien-Tsin says that thirty-seven transports were sighted Wednesday making toward Tatung-Kao (Hai-Yun-Tau) near the scene of the late naval battle. The Yokoham correspondent says it is believed in that city that the Japanese army numbering 22,000 men landed at Shang-Ting, north of Talian Bay, on Tuesday.

Colonization Frauds.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Extensive colonization frauds were discovered by the police yesterday in the twelfth assembly district. Nine men were arrested, each of whom was supplied with a list of twenty or more names and had registered several times. Supt. Byrnes says that before to-morrow night he will have arrested every man in the least connected with the fraud.

The Election in London.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—The writ for the election in London has been issued. Nomination is fixed for November 13, the polling for Tuesday, November 20. Sheriff Cameron wil act as returning officer. The Board of Registration will consist of the two local judges, the police magistrate and Mr. Shanley, the local Master of the High Court. The candidates are Mr. T. S. Hobbs, Liberal, and Mayor Essery, Conservative.

Muley Amin's Victory.

TANGIER, Oct. 27.—The Riff tribesmen at Melilla have been crushingly defeated by the Sultan's forces under Muley Amin, who was sent with 700 cavalry and 700 infantry and four guns, to mark out the Spanish and Moorish frontier, the accomplishment of which has hitherto been prevented by the Riffians.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

TORONTO, Oct. 27, 1894.

The tone of the London stock market market was good, but prices finished generally under the best, This movement was concluded with ease. Americans are still neglected and were irregular in their movements, with Louisville and St. Paul strong and the coalers weak.

In Chicago wheat was dull and steady, closing at about the same prices as the previous day. Corn was dull, closing 1-8 to 1-4c higher. Oats showed a similar gain on light trading. Provisions were lower.

On the street 300 bushels of wheat sold at 52c for white and 51c for red ; 3,000 of barley at 40 to 45c; 600 of oats at 31 to 31 1-2c ; and one load of blackeye peas at 60c. Outside prices were unchanged. The Oswego barley market is unchanged with Canadian still at 61 to 65c.

On the New York stock market, contrary to the week's earlier expectations, no gold was taken for export. Sterling exchange ruled quite as high even this morning as it did when last Saturday's half million of gold was ordered, but it has not presumably been as easy this week to market the requisite drafts against new shipments. One factor which at present seems to have little influence here is the fall in Paris exchange on London below the regular gold importing point. Berlin exchange on London is also within a fraction of the gold import level. These two marks have not at this season been simultaneously touched in many years, not even in 1892, when sixty day money ruled in London at 1-2 per cent.

A LIST of reasons why you should insist upon having Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, and nothing else in their place :—

Because they're the smallest, and the pleasantest to take.

Because they're the easiest in their ways. No disturbance, no reaction afterward. Their effects last.

They absolutely and permanently cure Biliousness, Indigestion, Constipation, Sick Headache, and Sour Stomach. The most common cause of Piles is constipation. By removing the cause a cure is effected.

Montgomery, Orange Co., N. Y.
DR. PIERCE: Dear Sir—I suffered untold misery with bleeding piles. I could get no relief night or day, until I commenced using your "Pleasant Pellets," and now for two years or more, I have not been troubled with the piles; if my bowels get in a constipated condition, I take a dose of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, and the trouble is all dispelled by next day.

Mary Barnhart

OUR

GREAT : SALE

OF

GOODS

Damaged by

SMOKE AND WATER,

Will commence

FRIDAY Morning

AT 9 O'CLOCK.

☞ Look our for Bargains.

A. E. FISH & CO.

FRANK LEAKE
Oshawa, Ont.

Pains in the Joints

Caused by Inflammatory Swelling

A Perfect Cure by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"It affords me much pleasure to recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla. My son was afflicted with great pain in the joints, accompanied with swelling so bad that he could not get up stairs to bed without crawling on hands and knees. I was very anxious about him, and having read so much about Hood's Sarsaparilla, I determined to try it, and got a half-dozen bottles, four of which entirely cured him." MRS. G. A. LAKE, Oshawa, Ontario.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

N. B. Be sure to get Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Hood's Pills act easily, yet promptly and efficiently, on the liver and bowels. 25c.

Before putting up your STOVES have the

TRIMMINGS RE-PLATED

— AT THE —

BELLEVILLE PLATING WORKS

HARRIS & WALTON'S FACTORY- MIL ST.

Rugs!

Many Housekeepers

Fail to recognize the amount of furnishings and the cozy, warm appearance a few nice selected Rugs give the home.

Within the last few years a complete revolution has taken place in the use as well as in the improved style and character of Floor Rugs. Their area of usefulness is not now restricted as of old to the cheerful hearth. They are now used for a great variety of purposes.

We have them in stock from the small door mat at 35c. each to the large Tapestry and Brussels Squares up to $37 50. They comprise the following different makes :

Smyrna,
Wilton,
Moquette,
Axminster,
Dag Dag's,
Cocoa.
Sheepskin,
Goatskin,
Goorka,
Velvet,
Mohair.
Linoleum.

We will be pleased to have you inspect them.

GEO. RITCHIE & CO.

Home Furnishers.

Changed Daily.

"SAY A LITTLE BUT SAY IT STRONG."

SATURDAY, Oct. 27th.

England DRINKS

INDIA and CEYLON TEA.

And Englishmen know what's right when it comes to the good things of life. Indian and Ceylon teas are noted for their rich flavor and great strength and we recommend them to all lovers of black tea. We have them in the finest qualities at 40c, 50c and 60c per pound.

Stroud's

TEA STORE.

NEW GOODS FOR COLDER WEATHER.

FROST-PROOF OVERCOATS
—AND—
Wind-Turning, Double-Breasted SUITS.

Like the mighty Niagara, trade is pouring in. Praise pouring in. Sales grow larger every day. Stocks grow larger every day. The fall campaign in our big stores becomes more interesting as the new goods arrive. What's New, what's Best, what's Reliable, is what we offer—reliable in make and honest in value.

MEN'S Fall Suits worth $8 and $10,
= = For $5.00. = =

SUITS

Men's heavy Weight Suits, in double and single breasted Sack Styles, for $5. Every suit is strictly all wool, well made, well sewed, good Style. Fabrics and Cheviots, Tweeds, Cassimerer, Worsteds, etc. Colors are grey, neat mixtures, natty checks, plaids and solid colors. Actual values, $8 and $10.

MENS' Fall Suits Worth 12, $14, $15,
= For $7.00 =

SUITS

Men's Fine All Wool Suits, usually sold at $12, $14 and $15, for only $7. Remember these suits are all new, fresh goods—are all fashionable styles of cut and color—fixed to suit everybody. Styles are Cutaways, Frocks, Sacks, made from the best Domestic and Imported Woollens. Your choice for $7.

OVERCOATS.—You know it! Everybody knows it! Our Overcoats, and the price of them, takes the shivers out of the cold winds out of a Canadian winter. Past Bargains out-distanced.

TWEED LINED OVERCOATS
Worth $10, for $6.45.

MELTON OVERCOATS,
Worth $12.50, for $7.38

IRISH FRIEZE OVERCOATS,
Worth $14, for $8.50.

"ALWAYS GOOD AT GOUGHS"

GOUGH, The Wonderful Cheap Man, Belleville.

Wall-Paper!

10 Per Cent. Discount
AT
Scantlebury's.

The LEADING BARGAIN HOUSE

Not a day passes over the history of the store that doesn't bring "Grist" to our "Bargain Mill." There's no dormant energy in the management.

Every nerve is at straining point to bring the people of this vicinity within ready reach of the best money's worth to be had in

DrY Goods, Millinery, Gents' Furnishings

ONLY A FEW LEADING PRICES :—

25 in. Heavy Flannel, 15c. 27 in. Heavy Flannel, all wool, 18 ; 28 in. all patterns Flannelette, 8c; 25 in. all patterns Flannelette, 5c; beautiful Opera Flannels, 40c; 500 corsets, value $1.00, at 50c; a special bargain in Ladies' Handkerchiefs, 5c; latest designs in French dress patterns from $3 to $8. A full range of anything and everything at exceedingly low prices. Call early for selection.

H. A. LAYTON, BELLEVILLE.
Front St., Opposite Campbell St.

IF YOU WANT THE BEST FUEL THAT COMES TO THIS MARKET, buy the Celebrated
SCRANTON COAL
Mined and shipped by the D. L. & W. R. R. Co.
THOS. STEWART,
COAL AND WOOD MERCHANT, is Sole Agent for Belleville. Office Bridge Street. Yards, foot of Front Street

THEY TRADED HORSES.

SWAPPED A CRAZY PINTO MARE FOR A BRONCHO THAT BUCKED.

Two Western Sharps Skin One Another on an Even Deal—A Pair of Competent Liars Practice—Jim McCue and the Stranger Met in San Rafael.

Jim McCue and a stranger traded saddle horses at San Rafael, Cal., the other day, and, according to the evidence of reputable witnesses, the bargain was consummated in this way:

"Hiah, stranger?"

"Hiah?" responded the stranger, dismounting.

"Likely looking horse you got there."

"They ain't raised no better."

"Lookin' for a trade?"

"Swap anything I got but the old woman."

Jim commenced examining the horse critically. After he had walked around the animal he gave the stranger a chance to lie a little by inquiring:

"How old is he?"

"Five year old."

Jim grabbed the horse by the nose and pried his jaws apart with his thumbs.

"His teeth tell me he is 6," said Jim decisively.

"Well, he's a January colt."

"He's a mite thin. Ain't hide-bound, is he?" And Jim prodded the horse in the ribs with his thumbs.

"No, I have been chasin' stock on him for two months and stakin' him out on grass."

"Must ha' been runnin' him pretty hard, judgin' from the windgalls on him. He's got a ringbone comin', too," remarked Jim, as he rubbed the animal's pastern. "Is that a splint on his foreleg?"

"No, that's a rope burn."

"Is that sweeney or a collar burn?" and Jim examined the horse's shoulder critically.

"Just scratched from runnin' through the brush."

"Got a been jumpin' him considerable. He's showing a little curb. Hello, he's stifled or badly sprained."

"No, sir, he's as sound as a dollar."

"Good stock horse?"

"You can turn him on a sheepskin. What kind of a rig is that you've got?" And the stranger examined Jim's horse as critically as Jim had scrutinized his, and found all the defects and diseases that a veterinarian ever heard of.

"Well, how'll you swap?" inquired Jim. The stranger dropped a fresh chew of fine-cut in his jaw and Jim got out his jackknife and went to work on a shingle. Both sat down on a dry goods box.

"I'll take hoss," said the stranger, as he killed a fly at three yards with a stream of tobacco juice.

"You won't take it from me," said Jim, as he cut a long shaving from the shingle. "Gimme $50 to boot and we'll trade."

"Twenty dollars ought to buy that pinto plug of yourn, but gimme $15 to boot and the horse is yourn." The stranger drowned a whole bunch of flies that had congregated on an apple core and Jim shed three shavings in succession.

"I'll tell you what I'll do. I'll split the difference. You gimme $2.50 to boot and take the filly."

"Never give boot in my life and an't goin' to get into the habit of it now," said the stranger decisively.

"Guess we can't swap then."

Jim was getting in his fine work and cut five shavings to correspond.

"Gimme $5 and we swap," remarked the stranger after a long pause.

"No, I'll be demmed if I do. What's cattle worth up your way?" Jim had evidently abandoned all idea of a trade.

"Four'n a half on foot for steers. Say I'll trade you even up."

Jim shut one eye and cut a long shaving, examined the horse again, and dashed his hand in front of each of the horse's eyes to be sure that he wasn't blind.

"Is he well broke to the saddle?"

"Never bucked a lick in his life. How's yourn?"

"Gentle as a kitten."

"I'll go you if you'll treat."

"No, I'll shake you for the drinks."

"It's a go," decided the stranger, throwing his fine cut against the side of the box. They shifted saddles, took their drink, and each went around blowing about how he had swindled the other.

That night the horse bucked Jim off on the way home, and the pinto filly kicked in three of the stranger's ribs.—Chicago Times.

In the Country.

Visitor—I suppose when you get a bad egg you make the hen change it.

Filling It On.

"You will have to give me another room," said a visitor to the hotel manager.

"What's the matter? Aren't you comfortable where you are?"

"Well, not exactly. That German musician in the next room and I don't get along well. Last night he looked away on his clarinet so that I thought I would never get to sleep. After I had caught a few winks I was awakened by a pounding on my door. 'What's the matter?' I asked. 'Of you please,' said the German, 'dot you would schnore of der same key. You vas go from B flat to G, und it schpoils der moosic!'"—Harlem Life.

A Reasonable Explanation.

Leader Lynching Party.—It's been proved that this horse is Si Silo's, an' you was ridin' on 'im. Now, wot you got to say before we string yeh up?

Horse Thief.—The horse disappeared the night o' the cyclone, didn't it?

"Yes."

"Well, I happened along about that time, an' the cyclone blew th' horse out o' the barn and blew me onto his back, and w'en I came to my sinses I was forty miles away."

"Wall, that's reasonable. Beg pardon for suspecting yeh."—N. Y. Weekly.

The Small Boy's Paradise.

Small boys who cannot resist the temptation to make predatory excursions on neighboring apple orchards should be transported to the Sandwich islands where the apples have become wild, and where forests of many acres are found in various parts of the country. They extend from the level of the sea far up the mountain sides. It is said that miles of these apple forests can occasionally be seen. A traveler is responsible for the statement that the extent of one of them is between five and ten miles in width and about twenty miles long.

IN SEARCH OF A ROOM.

A WANDERER'S LITTLE EXPERIENCE IN COLD, DAMP LONDON.

"A 'All Room, to be Sure, But a Roomy, Comfortable Room, Sir"—And It Was Only the Twenty-First One of the Kind He Struck That Afternoon.

"You have furnished rooms to rent?" said the Wanderer to the plump, red-faced woman who came to the door.

"Yes, sir, I 'ave," answered the woman. "Step right upstairs, sir."

The Wanderer followed wearily, for he had been up other stairs to see other rooms, says the New York Tribune.

"Now, there, sir," said the woman as she threw open the door of a hall bedroom and waved her hand as if she were exhibiting Westminster abbey, "there, sir, is a room for you; a 'all room, to be sure, sir, but a roomy, comfortable room, sir—for a 'all room."

"I'm afraid it is hardly big enough," suggested the Wanderer, making a mental note of the fact that it was the twenty-first hall-room which sanguine ladies had tried to foist upon him during the afternoon.

"La, sir, not big enough, sir? Why, sir, 'ow could it be any bigger? The 'all is only so wide, sir. The last gentleman that 'ad it, sir, found it big enough, sir. He was very comfortable in it, sir. Of an evening he would sit with his feet on the chest of drawers and sing, he was that 'appy, sir. He's gone to the confitry or he'd be here yet, 'appy and comfortable, sir."

"But I'm sure a ballroom won't do," said the Wanderer in an apologetic tone.

"I'm sorry, sir. I have one other room right here, sir," and she pushed open the door of the adjoining large room. "This is a fine room, sir, and it has, sir, this room has, sir, a—private—bawth!" She threw open the door of this institution as if she were wrenching the slab from the tomb of all the Capulets. "You see, sir—a—private—bawth. I am an English woman, sir, and I'm sure you won't care, sir, when I say that we English know what comfort is. I try to make my house comfortable, sir. But," and she turned to the large room, "this is rented to a young gentleman. He has been here for some time, but he is going away soon to the country." The Wanderer glanced around. There were four pairs of trousers spread out on the bed with immaculate smoothness, two pairs on the couch, and one pair on a table.

"Perhaps," he ventured, "this young gentleman is getting ready to pack up now?"

"La, no; he spread 'em out so they won't wrinkle, sir. He's a very particular young gentleman, indeed."

"He seems—er—he appears to be well supplied," went on the Wanderer, unable to take his mind from the remarkable exhibition.

"And these are not all, sir; indeed, no. Seven spread, sir." She pulled open a drawer of the bureau. "Two in here—nine, sir." She went into the closet and opened a wardrobe. "Three 'ere—twelve, sir." She turned and swept her eyes around the hooks. "One hanging—thirteen, sir. He's a fine young gentleman, sir, and his father is rich!"

No doubt. Thirteen, you say? But the young gentleman is out, I take it?" said the Wanderer.

"Oh, yes; gone to a wedding."

"Er, then, of course—he's—you see—being out and at a wedding, I mean, of course——"

"Oh, yes, sir; certainly, sir. Fourteen altogether, sir. And perhaps some at the tailor's being pressed—you can't tell, sir."

"Well," said the Wanderer, turning from the wilderness of trousers, "if he goes away let me know and I will see you again about the room. It doesn't require a van to move my trousers, but I think I'd like the room."

"Very pleasant, sir. And cool, sir. And the best mattresses, sir. And the private bawth, sir. You don't get private bawths everywhere, sir. Good day, sir."

On the steps he met a tailor's boy carrying a box, which apparently contained trousers.

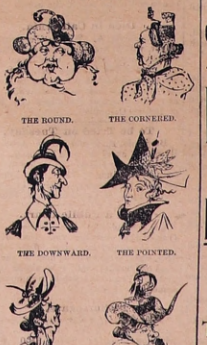

Why He Left.

Keeper.—I thowt you was workin' up at Morley's farm, Giles.

Giles—Well, I wer; but two weeks ago t'cowd cow died and we 'ad to eat 'im; and next week t' pig died and we 'ad to eat 'im, an' this mornin' t' master's mother-in-law died, so I thowt—I'd leave.—Phil May in Pall Mall Budget.

NEW HATS TO MATCH THE FACE.

THE ROUND. THE CORNERED.

THE DOWNWARD. THE POINTED.

THE UPWARD. THE COMBINATION.

"Doctor," said Mrs. Weeds, "I can't get it out of my head that possibly my poor dear husband was buried alive."

"Nonsense!" snorted Dr. Pelleucle. "Didn't I attend him myself in his last illness?"

= SILKS =

We have in stock a full line of the

Corticelli Embroidery and Knitting Silks
-- IN --
Honiton Lace Emb'y Silk.
Outline do do
Knitting Silk,
Twist Embroidery,
Roman Floss,
Filo Floss.

— ALSO —

27 INCH PURE JAPANESE SILK IN
LIGHT BLUE,
CREAM,
ROSE PINK,
CORAL PINK,
BUTTERCUP,
CARDINAL,

BLACK - SILKS!
In all the leading makes.

J. P. THOMPSON & CO.

NIGHT . . SCHOOL
Opens at
BELLEVILLE BUSINESS COLLEGE
ON Tuesday Evening,
Nov. 1st, 1894 AT 7:15.

BELLEVILLE BUSINESS COLLEGE
ROBERT BOGLE,
Proprietor.

DON'T LET ANOTHER WASH-DAY GO BY WITHOUT USING

YOU will find that it will do what no other soap can do, and will please you every way.

It is Easy, Clean, and Economical to wash with this soap.

SUNLIGHT SOAP

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

THREE RUNNING SORES
PHYSICIANS FAILED
BUT B.B.B. CURED

DEAR SIRS—After having used Burdock Blood Bitters for Scrofula in the blood, I feel it my duty to make known the results. I was treated by a skilled physician but he failed to cure me. I had three Running Sores on my neck which could not be healed until I tried B.B.B., which healed them completely, leaving the skin sound and whole. As long as I live I shall speak of the virtues of B.B.B., and I feel grateful to Providence that such a medicine is provided for sufferers.
MRS. W. BENNETT, Acton P. O. Ont.

A SCALY ERUPTION
UNENDURABLE ITCHING
Suffered Three Years—Now Perfectly Cured by B. B. B.

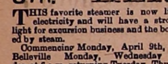

GENTLEMEN—I have used Burdock Blood Bitters for Skin Diseases, from which I have been a sufferer for three years. I have used six bottles and am now entirely cured. I tried other remedies, such as Donald Kennedy's Medical Discovery and the Cuticura Remedies, but all to no good. I doctored one year with the best physicians in the land; they pronounced my disease a Scaly Eruption, but could not remove it. It came on in red blotches and spread over my body; the skin became dry and formed hard dry scales. The itching was intolerable, but I am now completely cured, and I owe it all to B. B. B.
GEO. TRIBE, Straffordville, Ont.

PURIFIES THE BLOOD

Bay of Quinte Steamb t Route

TRI-WEEKLY
DESER'TO, PICTON & KINGSTON
1894 - 1894

STR. "HERO"

THIS favorite steamer is now lighted by electricity and will have a strong search light for excursion business and the boat is heated by steam.

Commencing Monday, April 9th, will leave Belleville Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 6 a m, returning Tuesday, Thursday and Friday at 11 p m.

The very best facilities are offered to shippers of freight. The lowest through and local rates quoted.

No wharfage at Picton on freight for this steamer.

Full information given by Gilbert Johnston on board, or to the
RATHBUN COM'Y,
. H. GILDERSLEEVE, Ticket Agents, Kingston.

ROCHESTER.

STEAMER

NORTH KING

Leaves for Charlotte, N. Y., every Sunday, 11:45 p m.

Leaves for Picton and Kingston every Sunday, 3:20 a. m.

Arrive from Picton and Kingston every Sunday, 11:45 p.m.

Arrives rom Charlotte, N. Y., every Sunday, 3:20 a. m.

Special attention given to passengers and freight.

☐WEEK DAYS.—Steamer leaves Port Hope week days for Charlotte, N. Y., at 9:45 a.m.

☐Calls at Brighton Monday 2 a.m., aand Wednesday 2.30 a.m., and at Colborne Wednesday and Fridays 4 a.m.

Connection made by Grand Trunk morning trains.

THE RATHBUN CO., Agents. U. E. THOMPSON, Agent.
43tf

HAPPY HOME RANGES.

Best in the Market.

—ALSO—

A Full Line of

Art Garland

and

Famous Heaters.

—(o)—

Wm. McGIE.

Next to Nathan Jones.
Telephone 38. Front S

Steamer "Iona"

Will eave Belleville three times each week for Oswego, connecting with trains for New York.

ALLAN LINE,

Royal Mail Steamships. Liverpool, Calling at Moville.

	From Montreal daylight	From Quebec
PARISIAN	Oct. 6	Oct. 7
MONGOLIAN	" 13	" 14
HIBERNIAN	" 20
LAURENTIAN	" 27	" 28
NUMIDIAN	Nov. 3	Nov. 3
PARISIAN	" 10	" 11

RATES OF PASSAGE.

First cabin Derry and Liverpool, $45 and upwards single; $95 and upwards return. Second cabin, Liverpool, Derry, Belfast, Glasgow, $30; return $55. Steerage at lowest rates (everything found).

All steamships except the Hibernian carry 1st cabin, 2nd cabin and steerage passengers.

STATE LINE SERVICE
NEW YORK, LONDONDERRY AND GLASGOW.

STATE OF NEBRASKA	Oct. 12
STATE OF CALIFORNIA	" 26
STATE OF NEBRASKA	Nov. 22

Cabin passage, $40 and upward, return $80 and upward; Second cabin $25. Steerage at lowest rates.

For tickets and other information apply to
U. E. THOMPSON
General Ticket Agency, Bridge St., Bellevill
or to S. BURROWS, Agent

STEAMER VARUNA

A HICKS, Captain.

WILL leave Trenton every morning, (Sunday excepted) at 7:00 o'clock, calling at Rednerville and all points between the head of the bay and Picton, leaving Belleville at 8:30 a.m., Deseronto at 10:20 a.m.

On Tuesday and Thursday evenings to meet North King at Brighton, returning will leave Brighton Wednesday and Saturday mornings at 5:30.

Will connect at Picton with stage for Sand Banks.

Parties wishing to arrange for excursion rates wil see Capt. Hicks on board

Will leave Picton at 1 p.m. on return for the head of the bay, Deseronto 2:30 p.m., Belleville, at 4:30 p m., and Trenton, at 6.

Omnibuses in waiting at Picton, Belleville and Brighton.

The Rathbun Co., Agents, Belleville and Deseronto.

A. W. Hepburn, Agent, P ton.

ROCHESTER,
KINGSTON AND MONTREAL.

Weekly Service Calling at Way Ports
THE PEOPLE'S FAVORITE STEAMER.

"ALEXANDRIA"

Leaves Montreal, Thursday at 10:00 a. m.
Arrives Belleville, Saturday at 11:45 a. m.
Leaves for Rochester " " 1:15 p. m.
Arrives from Rochester, Monday at 6:30 a. m.
Leaves for Montreal, " " 7:30 a. m.

Spacious and elegant Saloon. Ample Stateroom accommodation The choicest and best Meals furnished. Safety, comfort and enjoyment ensured by personal supervision of Capt. Smith and Purser Melrose. Careful handling o freight.

For Tickets, State rooms at lowest rates apply to THE RATHBUN COMPANY, Agents.

INSURANCE.

Western Assurance Company,
Fire and Ma ine Head Office, Toronto.

North British & Mercantile Ins. Co.,
Fire and Life, Head Office (Can.) Montreal

Atlas Insurance Company,
Fire, Head Office (Canada), Montreal

M. M. THOMPSON
Water Works Office. Bridge St.

TELLIGENCER PRINTING AND PUBLISHING COMPANY (LIMITED.

J. C. JAMIESON, President. | J. W. LONDON, Secretary

THE Treasurer is the only person authorized to receive money from the Company, or to grant receipts for the same.

All Bills, Notes, Cheques and other documents binding on the Company, will require the signature of the President, in addition to th of the Treasurer.

THE INTELLIGENCE is printed and published by the INTELLIGENCER Printing and Publishing Company (Limited) by James C Jamieson, resident in Belleville, the Office, Front St., south of Hotel St

Daily Intelligencer.

At Death's Door—Dyspepsia Conquered —A Great Medical Triumph.

GENTLEMEN,—My medical adviser and others told me I could not possibly live when I commenced to use Northrop & Lyman's VEGETABLE DISCOVERY for Dyspepsia. My case was one of the worst of its kind. For three years I could not eat meat and my weight decreased from 219 to 119 lbs. All the food I took for thirteen months previous to taking the VEGETABLE DISCOVERY consisted of milk. I am now entirely cured and have regained my usual weight, can eat anything with a keen relish and feel like a new man. I have sold over thirty dozen VEGETABLE DISCOVERY since it cured me, as I am well-known, and people in this section know how low I was, and thought I could not possibly be cured. They are eager to try this grand medicine. It certainly saved my life, as I never expected to recover when first I commenced using it. I am not exaggerating anything but feel glad to be able to contribute this testimonial and trust it may be the means of convincing others of its merits as a certain cure for Dyspepsia.

Signed. JEAN VALCOURT,
Wotton, P. Q.

In 1888 the people of Great Britain paid taxes on 492,200 carriages.

Is there anything more annoying than having your corn stepped upon? Is there anything more delightful than getting rid of it? Holloway's Corn Cure will do it. Try it and be convinced.

In Portugal the tobacco tax brings £900,000, the land tax £700,000.

Some people laugh to show their pretty teeth. The use of Ivory White Tooth Powder makes people laugh more than ever. It's so nice. Price 25c. Sold by druggists.

Worms cause feverishness, moaning and restlessness during sleep. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator is pleasant, sure and effectual. If your druggist has none in stock, get him to procure it for you.

The rate of taxation has nearly quadrupled in France since 1830.

DYSPEPSIA causes dizziness, headache, constipation, variable appetite, rising and souring of food, palpitation of the heart, distress after eating. Burdock Blood Bitters is guaranteed to cure Dyspepsia if faithfully used according to directions.

Until about forty years ago, the Persian Government levied a tax on cats,

Mr T. J. Humes, Columbus, Ohio, writes: 'I have been afflicted for some time with kidney and Liver Complaint, and find Parmelee's Pills the best medicine for these diseases. These Pills do not cause pain or griping, and should be used when a cathartic is required. They are Gelatine Coated, and rolled in the Flour of Licorice to preserve their purity and give them a pleasant, agreeable taste.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP cures Bronchitis.

FOR CHOLERA MORBUS, Cholera Infantum Cramps, Colic, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, and Summer Complaint Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is a prompt, safe and sure cure that has been a popular favorite for over 40 years.

Camping Supplies!

—AND—

Picnic - Requisites !

Our list of articles suitable for Picnic Lunches and Camping, includes :

Canned Meats.

ARMOUR'S COOKED BEEF,
ARMOUR'S OX TONGUES,
ARMOUR'S LUNCH TONGUES,
ARMOUR'S POTTED HAM,

ARMOUR'S COOKED PIG FEET
ARMOUR'S LUNCHEON MEAT.
ARMOUR'S POTTED TONGUE
ARMOUR'S BRAWN,

SANDWICH MEATS,
BONELESS CHICKEN,
BONELESS TURKEY,
POTTED BEEF,
POTTED GAME,
ETC.! ETC.!! ETC.!

Canned Fish.

FINEST SARDINES IN OIL,
FINEST SARDINES IN TOMATO,
HERRINGS IN TOMATO SAUCE,
KIPPERED HERRINGS,
FRESH HERRINGS.

SALMON, LOBSTERS,
FINNAN HADDIES,
BLOATER PASTE,
ANCHOVY PASTE,
SARDINE PASTE,
ETC.! ETC.! !ETC.!!

Sundries.

Condensed Milk in Tins, Cream in Tin Biscuits (in great variety), Fine old Cheese, McLaren's Imperial Cheese (in small crocks), Dried Beef, Choice Hams and Bacon, Lime Juice, Spanish Olives, CROSSE & BLACKWELL'S Pickled White Onions, Walnuts. Chow Chow, and and Mixed Pickles.

WALLBRIDGE & CLARKE

Grocers and Wine Merchants,
33 and 37 Bridge Street. Also Front Street, in Caldwell Building.

REMOVAL

MR. JOSEPH CALDWELL, DENTIST

Has removed his office to the new premises which he has had specially fitted up in the

Caldwell Block,

First door south of the Anglo-American Hotel Front street. 108t.

GREAT GAME PLENTY.

A TALL HUNTING STORY OF THE GOOD OLD DAYS.

A Deer, a Panther and Three Bears Bagged in One Shot—A Deer Played One Bear Against the Panther—Both Died—The Hunter Shot the Deer.

"Game was plentiful in those days,' said the old hunter. "One day I was still-hunting around the headwaters of Cowley Run. The fact of the matter is I had to still-hunt that day because Zenas Cowley had shot my two hounds. Zenas didn't believe in running deer with hounds, and he always put a ball into anybody's dog that came his way on the trail of venison. My two hounds were Russian greyhounds. The day they were killed Laroy Lyman came to me and said:

"'What'll you take for them two hounds o' your'n, Noah?'

"'You can't buy 'em for $100 apiece,' said I.

"'I didn't know,' said Laroy, 'but I seen 'em taking a deer over toward Cowley's half an hour ago, and I thought I'd ask you.'

"'In that case,' said I, 'you can buy them hounds for four shillin'!'

"And he could, too, for I knew they'd never come back if they had been so forgetful as to take a deer over toward Cowley's. But there isn't any doubt that is just what they did, for I never saw 'em again. And they were the best dogs in Haliburton. So I was out still hunting that day.

"I sat down at the roots of a big fallen hemlock to wait and see what would come my way. I hadn't waited long before I saw a big she bear and two cubs come slouching up out of the hollow and tumble into a clump of bushes not more than twenty rods from where I sat. I was getting ready to send a bullet into the old bear when I saw a deer break out of the woods and come bounding along the open side hill opposite me. Only a few jumps behind it came a big panther, hot on the trail of the deer, and as the panther was clearing more than thirty feet feet at every jump I saw that it wouldn't be a very long chase before he had his claws on that deer.

"The course the deer was taking brought her—it was a doe—along above the bushes where the bear and her cubs were lying. I saw at once that the deer either saw or smelt the bears from the way she kind o' swerved as she went past the bush. Now, there isn't anything a panther likes more than bear cubs, and there is the deadliest enmity between bears and panthers just on that account. The old she bear smelt the panther and got to her feet just as he was bounding by. The panther was evidently too intent on the deer to either hear or see the threatening bear. Of course this all took place in a few seconds, and before I made up my mind just exactly what tactics to adopt to get the most benefit out of the situation. I hadn't fully resolved yet, when, to my surprise I saw the deer wheel like a flash, leap clear over her savage pursuer, and take her back track. The panther took up the chase with renewed fury, and gained rapidly on the deer. I was on the point of stopping him with a rifle ball, when I saw by the action of the deer that she had discovered the bears in the bushes, and it struck me that she had a scheme.

"'There's going to be some fun here,' thought I, and I lowered my rifle.

"With the passing of the panther the first time the old bear, seeing that her cubs were not the object of the panther's quest, had returned to the bushes and lain down with her cubs again. The second time he went by she got up again and stood ready to tackle him if necessary, but the panther shot by without noticing the bear. The deer bounded on and into the woods. In less than a minute she came out again, with the panther dangerously close. This time the deer was headed straight for the bushes where the bear and her cubs were, and she slackened her pace.

"'Aha!' said I. 'Smart deer! She's going to turn that panther over to the bear!'

"When she reached the bush she leaped over it, and the panther was only one easy spring behind her. He crouched to make it, but he didn't, for right in front of him out of the bushes rose the gigantic front of this savage she bear. The suddenness of the change in the situation seemed to surprise the panther, but not for long. He was out for blood, and if he couldn't get deer blood he would take his chances with bear. He lashed his long tail nervously on the ground for a second or two and then launched his big body straight at the bear. His claws were in the bear's shoulders and his red jaws at her throat the next instant. But the huge bear folded the panther in her terrible embrace and put all her strength in the hug. I could hear the panther's bones crack, and both bear and panther fell to the ground dead. As I discovered later the panther's fangs had severed the bear's jugular vein and windpipe both.

The deer took but two leaps after bringing the panther face to face with the bear. Then she stopped and became an excited spectator of the result of her stratagy. When the bear and the panther came together her eyes blazed, she shook her head high in the air, stamped her feet, and relieved her feelings by resounding snorts. She seemed to take fiendish enjoyment in the sight of her deadly foe in the toils of the equally savage bear. When the two combatants fell to the ground and rose no more the deer approached them cautiously, sniffing and snorting and stopping every few steps to stamp her feet on the ground. At last she came to where the two big beasts lay dead together. She sniffed at the carcasses. The hair on her neck stood erect, and she showed the fury she felt by rising on her hind feet and striking with her sharp forefeet the body of the panther. I wanted that panther's skin and knew that the deer would soon rip it into worthlessness with her hoofs, so I shot her where I stood. She never knew what hurt her. I was always sorry that her vindictiveness against the panther forced me to kill her, for she played a smart trick on him to save her life, and she ought to have had it. I captured the two bear cubs alive. And that is the way I bagged all that game with only one shot."

Bedtime.

Lucy climbs on Grandma's chair,
Gently smooths the snowy hair,
Softly says "Please tell me true,
Grandma, dear, do you, do you
Like bedtime?"

BEDTIME.

Grandma says in thoughtful way:
"Very long has been the day,
Night seems slow to come, and late.
Lucy, yes I watch and wait
For bedtime."

CATCHING SARDINES.

How the Work Was Done in the Early Days of California.

The next time the readers of this paper eat sardines it may interest them to remember how they were caught in the old California days. Only Spanish and Indians were in California then, and they were far more interesting to look upon than the present inhabitants of the Gold state. The men of the aristocracy—caballeros—wore jacket and trousers of colored silk over white lace and linen, high boots of soft leather, broad hats covered with silver eagles; the women—donnas—full, flowered gowns, and a strip of silk about the head and shoulders and many jewels. The Indians wore a gay striped blanket, their children nothing but a shirt twined about the waist and tied in a knot at the back.

In the autumn, on certain days, all the fine people stood on the beach of the bay of Monterey and watched the Indians catch sardines. The Indians would wade up to their knees in the surf and scoop up the swarming little fish with their nets. But the sardines would sometimes come to the shore in shoals to escape the greed of the larger fish. It was a very fine sight to see the silvery fish rushing through the dark blue water, then leaping over the rocks on the white sand.

In the bay the great whales spouted like geysers or reared so high above the water that the swordfish, seeing his chance, sprang upon and pierced his enemy. Thereupon the whale would drift to the shore and die among the sardines. Hundreds of birds, attracted by the dead fish, would fly down from the pine woods on the hills and add to the liveliness of the scene by their tireless darting and screaming. At night, when the caballeros and the donnas were dancing in the adobe houses and the Indians were asleep, bears and coyotes would come prowling out of the hills and eat what the birds had left.—American Youth.

A QUEER DRUNKARD.

The Hercules Beetle of South America Goes on Regular Sprees.

South America can furnish a dreadful example for a temperance lecture, and yet not summon a human being. The Hercules beetle will do as an object lesson.

About six inches long and strong in proportion, it is rightly named. Instead of the ordinary nippers, with which beetles are armed, this one has an immense pair that work up and down like jaws. These have sharp ridges on the inside like rasps, and that indicates their use. They do not fit into each other, but, resembling the pliers of the plumber, are made to fit around something else. The writer does not know what these nippers are meant for, but knows what Hercules does with them.

He is a natural drunkard, going on a spree regularly. When he wants something strong he does not seek a bottle nor a saloon, but he climbs a tree. Finding one that produces an intoxicating juice, such as grow in South America, this toper ascends until he reaches a branch that his nippers can grasp; then he seizes hold, holds on, pinches tight, and moves around. The rasp cuts the bark, the juice flows, and Hercules drinks until so full that he can hold no more, and until too drunk to hold on. His feet let go, his nippers relax, and he tumbles to the ground. There he lies helplessly drunk and sleeps off his stupor. When sobered he goes about his business, but signs no pledges, nor does he give indications of repentance. Again thirsty, he climbs another tree and gets drunk once more. Thus his life is spent in business, drinks, drunks and sobering, a natural and persistent drunkard.

ROYAL OUTCASTS.

Ex-Empress Eugenie lives in England as the guest of Queen Victoria, who is her warm personal friend. She often goes to the continent, and is said on one or two occasions to have visited Paris incognito.

After the downfall of Napoleon, his mother, Mme. Bonaparte, went to Blois and thence to Rome. She returned to France during the Hundred Days, and after Waterloo, went back to Rome, where she died in 1836.

Isabella II. of Spain was expelled by her long-suffering people in 1870. She has since lived in Paris, and while in by no means good repute with respectable people before, she has been much less careful of her conduct since her enforced retirement from the throne.

Count de Mirabeau, the father of the famous revolutionist, had so pleasant a time with his family that in the course of his married life he took out no less than fifty-two lettres de cachet against his wife and her people, and had most of them exiled or imprisoned.

Louis Napoleon was taken prisoner by the Prussians September 2, 1870, and imprisoned in a German castle until the close of the war. He was then allowed to depart, and, going to England, took up his residence in Chiselhurst, where he lived quietly until his death, January 9, 1873.

Louis XVIII. spent most of the years of his exile in England. He took a house in London, where he lived quietly, and, it is said, was much more concerned with the quality of his dinner than the nature of the news from the war that was waged for his reinstatement on the throne of France.

Fashions in Waterproofs.

There are such an infinite variety of shapes and materials in waterproofs that all a woman has to do is to select one that suits her figure. They are made to look well on thin or stout women, and come in all prices, from $1 for the poorer kind to $20 or $25 for the best. Between those prices one is sure to find something that will suit.

A FASHIONABLE WATERPROOF.

The heaviest mackintoshes are not always the best, as they have a tendency to grow stiff when not used for some time. They become so unwieldy that it is impossible to wear them with any comfort.

Some women like a cloak that they can put on over their cape or cloak, and for them there is a stylish long cape falling in pretty folds from the neck to the bottom of the skirt. These have a fitted collarette at the top and look well on tall, slight women. They are hardly so comfortable for general wear as those cloaks without sleeves, as to some extent the arms are confined.

A Furniture Fad.

Tea tables are made in all sorts of quaint shapes.

A WOMAN'S TOOL BOX.

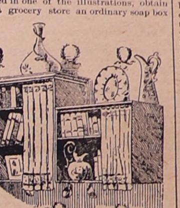

HOW TO MAKE SOME PRETTY PIECES OF FURNITURE.

A Very Little Experience in Domestic Upholstery Will Enable Clever Fingers to Work Household Wonders—A Hanging Cabinet and a Model Shoe Box.

The women of this country seem to take great interest in manufacturing odd bits of decorative furniture for their homes, and many are the pretty and useful things that have been constructed by them.

The only tools necessary for this work are a hammer, small saw, medium-sized chisel, an awl, plane and nails of assorted sizes. With these implements she can do a great deal toward beautifying an unpretentious home.

To make a shoe-holder and seat, as depicted in one of the illustrations, obtain at a grocery store an ordinary soap box and let this form the end upright box. Get another packing case of the same width but longer, and arrange on top a lid with hinges so it may be raised. Use the cover to the upwright one for two shelves, nail them securely in place and let them be an equal distance apart, so they will accommodate shoes and slippers.

HANGING CABINET.

Fasten these boxes together securely with screws. Next obtain a board and after rounding corners off screw it fast to the back of the boxes and you will have as a result the frame-work for the seat.

The hinged lid of the low box will act as a seat, the board with the rounded corners forms the back, while within the box rubbers and heavy boots may be kept, the upright one holding fine shoes and slippers.

After long experience in domestic upholstery, denim, in its rich assortment of colors, is found to be superior to all other materials. It combines artistic beauty with astonishing durability, and is heartily recommended to the amateur cabinet-maker.

The tops of the boxes should be covered first and tufted. This may be accomplished by spreading curled hair on the wood and tacking the material over it and at regular distances apart catch a button to form a tuft. This is done by boring two small holes through the wood side by side, and, having threaded the eye of the button with a bit of twine, pass the string through the holes and tie the ends tightly together at the under side of the lid.

A MODEL SHOE BOX.

The material is to be tacked all around to the outer edge of the tops with ordinary carpet tacks driven close together.

Next upholster the back, placing some curled hair behind the material and give it a cushioned appearance and in turn drape the sides of the boxes.

To do it nicely, shir several yards of the material on a cord and then tack the string fast all around the upper edges of the boxes.

Around the top edge of each box and to hide the joint where the covering meets the draping material, fasten a piece of wide gimp with large oval-headed upholsterer's tacks driven an even distance apart. This will lend a good finish to complete a charming and useful piece of furniture.

The very attractive hanging cabinet shown here is also made of a couple of packing cases.

Two shallow oblong boxes are needed, and should be fastened securely together with screws, the end of one to the side of the other as the drawing shows. Around the top of the upright box a narrow strip of cornice molding, that can be obtained from a carpenter, is to be mitred and fashioned with nails, while the top edge of the other one may be left plain by way of contrast.

Two shelves should be arranged in the unright box and one in the other. The entire inside and outside of the boxes are painted with several successive coats of some good color, light shades being preferable. Or they may be enameled, and when dry arrange a small brass rod at the top of each box from which a curtain may be suspended on rings.

Silkoline or an inexpensive silk of an art color will wear nicely for drapery.

Along under the bottoms of the boxes a few hooks can be fastened from which teacups may be hung, while on the top some odd bits of bric-a-brac, if tastefully arranged, will lend greatly to the appearance.

This cabinet ought to be securely fastened to the wall with long screws passing through the plaster and taking firm anchorage in the studding. This fastening should be particularly good if the cabinet is to sustain such weight as a number of books would amount to.—J. Harry Adams, in Chicago Record.

Flies on the Wing.

A Russian has discovered by patient research that the wings of a fly vibrate 330 times in a second, from which he infers that a fly can perform the distance of one kilometre per minute, which is the rate of speed of an express train. By flying straight in one direction without stopping, a fly could travel round the world in less than twenty-eight days.

A Lesson in Gender.

I said to Johnnie, one day in class:
"The masculine form of 'duchess' give;"
And what do you think his answer was?
'Twas "Dutchman"—just as true as you live.

CROPS.

Russia's rye crop is 539,000,000 bushels.

The Kansas wheat crop is 70,831,000 bushels.

The total hog slaughter last year was 18,196,530.

India has 27,000,000 acres in rice, 18,000,000 in wheat, 75,000,000 in other food grains, 1,600,000 in sugar cane, 251,000 in tea, 10,000,000 in cotton, 1,000,000 in indigo, 800,000 in tobacco.

In the United States, from a bushel of corn a dealer gets four gallons of whiskey, which retails for $16. Of this the government gets $3.60 the retailer $7, the distiller $4, the railroads $1 and the farmer who raised the corn 40 cents.

It is estimated that Florida's crop of pineapples this year will aggregate 50,000 crates, or fully 2,300,000 pineapples. The growers have been doing so well financially that the acreage set to pines is increasing very rapidly and it is expected that the crop of 1895 will amount to 100,000 crates.

VIOLETS.

Among what Time has left me petals pale,
A bunch of scentless violets; long ago
I plucked them dewy, wore them 'mid the glow
One harvest afternoon; their graces frail
Had fled forever ere an evening tale
Of sweet first-love o'erwhelmed me, even so
I kept them dearest of the flowers that blow,
And yet their keeping was of no avail.
E'en as I gaze, the breath of life is given
To joy long dead, first felt in twilight hours,
And tingling memories wake the living past;
So may it be when dawn shall rise in heaven,
Life's faded treasures bloom like morning flowers,
And drooping hope be garlanded at last.
—W. WOODWARD.

A BIRD-HUNTING PIG.

He Was as Reliable as Any Pointer Dog in the Field.

We call pigs stupid creatures. This is not fair. They are really as intelligent as the majority of domestic animals, but the lives we allow them are too short and their opportunities too few for them to show their abilities to advantage. The pig of which I have more particularly to tell was by no means a handsome specimen, but what she wanted in beauty she made up in talent.

As a baby pig she belonged to a person named Toomer, and she was reared with a family of young pointer puppies. She took kindly to her playfellows, and when they became old enough to follow the keeper in his walks she too would come trotting and grunting after. When Mr. Toomer began to train his young charges for their work of finding and pointing out game there was danger that piggy might make mischief. Put the keeper would not leave her shut up at home. He had, he said, broken many dogs as obstinate as pigs, and could surely break a pig that was so much more tractable than the rest of her kind. So he taught her to "back," that is, to stand perfectly still whenever a dog had found game and was pointing at it. To teach her this he used both rewards and punishments; when she did wrong he pelted her with tiny stones, for he could not catch her and chastise her as he did naughty puppies, and when she behaved herself well he had always barley meal pudding in his pocket for her.

But this was not all. He discovered that piggy, like many other pigs, had a keen sense of smell. She learned to scent the game, and point at it for herself; but not quite like a dog. A pointer dog when he has found game stands generally with one of his forepaws held up till his master comes to him. Piggy, as soon as she was sure that she had found a partridge or a hare or a rabbit, would drop on her knees and so remain for five minutes if necessary. Unfortunately before her schoolmaster had time to teach her any further accomplishments he died. His widow sent piggy to a man with whom she lived for three years. But, alas, piggy did not escape the common doom of pigs. In the end she was shut in a sty, fattened, and made into bacon, as all her ancestors had been before her.—Chicago Times.

About Women.

Mrs. Amelie Rives Chanler, who is now in Europe, is planning a trip to the Holy Land.

The daughters of the Prince of Wales have taken to cycling and run into each other just as every-day wheelers do.

Empress Eugenie is not going to Scotland this year, so she has declined Queen Victoria's offer of Abergeldie Castle.

So far Miss Anna Gould has been engaged to three princes, one count, one banker, and one actor. Money makes the gossips gabble.

The wife of J. M. Barrie, the novelist, was a London actress, but it is said she was always, as she is now, a most quiet, modest and well-bred lady.

Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe is still allowed a revenue from "Uncle Tom's Cabin" from her publishers, although the copyright expired some time ago.

Bernhardt has been photographed over a thousand times. Her first picture was taken in 1867 and she is shown in crinoline and with an innocent, childish face.

A Viennese journalist has made a collection of aphorisms on love, women and marriage uttered at the German parliamentary sessions. Bismarck is quoted as saying that "it is an extraordinary advantage to a man's career if he can make his journey through life without any feminine baggage."

To Protect Wild Animals.

A committee of English sportsmen and naturalists has been formed for the purpose of devising some scheme for the protection of South African mammals, chiefly giraffe, zebra, gland, gnu, koodoo and other antelopes, several of which, owing to indiscriminate slaughter, are on the verge of extinction. To attain this desirable end it is proposed to inclose a suitable tract of country of about 100,000 acres by a wire fencing, strengthened by a strong live fence of thorn on the outside.

A New Incubator.

The latest thing in the chicken business is the electric incubator, which is now very neatly perfected. The capacity of such a machine is practically unlimited, and the experiments have shown that electricity is very much better adapted to hatching purposes than steam or hot air. The percentage claimed for it is far greater than has ever been accomplished before, and the chicks come into the world in much healthier condition. The electric incubator has evidently come to stay.

Electric Lighting in Alaska.

A system of electric lighting is being put in at Juneau, one of the best known of Alaskan settlements, but a place nevertheless of only 2,000 inhabitants. When completed this will be the first central electric light plant in the territory. Electricity, however, is not altogether new in Alaska. It has been used for some time in a limited way in the mines. Water power is abundant everywhere and the current is generated on the streams and carried to the mines by cables.

Hungarian Opals.

Most of the finest opals come from Hungary, but the principal vein has been exhausted lately, so that the gem in its finest variety is exceedingly rare. The clear bright opals with the luminous fire come from Mexico. Any opal, and particularly the Mexican stone, becomes dull by washing the hands with the ring on, and all lose their brilliant play of color. The stones are not durable like diamonds, nor will they stand the same wear.

Two Faithful Servants.

In London there are two faithful servants who have probably beaten the record of domestic service. They are sisters, one of whom is sixty and the other six years younger. They have been in the same family for the better part of half a century, the one having served for forty years and the other for thirty-five.

Monkey and Goose Contests.

Combats between animals of different species are a source of great amusement among the Javanese. One of the most popular contests is that between monkey and goose. The monkey is tied to one of the goose's legs, by means of a cord, and both animals are set down near the bank of a river, or pond. The goose, standing in dread of the monkey, seeks for safety in the water, and the monkey, afraid of the water, exerts himself to the uttermost not to be drawn into it. As a rule, the goose draws the monkey into the water, and then the cunning simian sits astride the goose, in equestrian fashion. The goose then tries to dive, and the monkey prevents her if he can; and so the fight goes on until the spectators tire, and the animals are released from an uncongenial companionship.

HE WAS PRETTY TOUGH.

A BOLD OUTLAW WHO WAS NEVER CAPTURED.

One of Our Neighbors' Bad Citizens and His Life of Crime—His Mother Taught Him the First Lessons—He Was an Apt Pupil—Some of His Deeds.

Never in the history of outlawry was there a more notorious bandit than John A Murrell, who operated during the decade preceding 1842 along the Georgia and Florida boundary line and in portions of Alabama and Mississippi. For years his crimes formed the darkest unwritten page in the history of the country.

Murrell was taught by maternal example to be a thief and robber.

Young Murrell asked a notorious set of gamblers to join his band. They laughed at him. He left the room and in the darkness of the night secured a dozen horses belonging to the gamblers and fled.

Murrel made a successful raid one night in Alabama at a country church where he had just preached a sermon. He rode off in the darkness, leading a drove of the finest horses in the community. He crossed the Chatahoochee river and never halted until he reached Georgia.

He was walking along the road near Thomasville shortly afterward and saw a young man coming toward him.

"Where are you going, my friend?" asked Murrell.

"I am not going your way," was the reply.

"Well," said Murrell, "if I can't have the pleasure of your company, won't you turn over your money to me?"

The youngster was covered with a pistol and came to a halt.

His hands went up, but by some means he made a brave reach for his pistol.

Murrell saw the movement and sent a bullet through the young man's heart. The dead body was buried in a lime sink.

Murrell organized a band of highwaymen and he was chief. His word was law, and perfect obedience was required or death was the penalty.

So perfect was the organization and system of operations under Murrell that not until near the end of the Murrellites' existence was it known that there was a lawless band of whites in that section.

The Murrellites need secret signs and held their meetings in caves and swamps.

A few Indians of the Seminole tribe were scattered here and there throughout southern Georgia, and the crimes committed by the Murrellites were charged to them.

Companies of whites were formed to war against the Indians. Finally the Seminoles were driven into Florida, where they sought refuge in the Everglades.

After the Indians left the country horrible crimes were perpetrated throughout that section.

Whole families were brutally butchered. Men were shot down at work and helpless women and children were beaten to death with clubs. Houses and barns were plundered and then burned. Lives and property were hourly in danger of destruction. Victims cried for mercy in vain—there was none shown. The crimes were laid at the door of John A. Murrill or his band.

The assassins wore moccasins, feathers on their heads, and red paint on their faces and hands, and indulged in great war whoops.

Tremendous excitement filled the whole section. Doors were barred at night, and in the day men stood guard at their homes.

Work on the farms and in the shops and stores was abandoned. Many residents fled to the North, and left their homes to the mercy of the bandits. It was at this time, early in 1842, that Gen. William Bailey, a wealthy citizen of Monticello, Fla., began the organization of a band for the suppression of crime in that section.

He had studied the situation carefully and came to the conclusion that the crimes of the Indians had fled to the Everglades the crimes in his section had not decreased, but instead had increased to an alarming extent, the red man was not the guilty one. He organized a band of spies known as the "regulators."

James Ellenwood of that place was a regulator. He is now in his eighthieth year and is thoroughly familiar with the times in which the Murrellites operated.

In speaking of the regulators and the final history of the Murrellites, Mr. Ellenwood says:

"After the 'regulators' were thoroughly organized there was a horrible murder near St. Marks, Fla. A well-known young man left Monticello, Fla., for St. Marks. He had on his person a large sum of gold and bills. Before reaching St. Marks the Murrellites fell upon him and murdered him. A man named Youmans, who was a notorious character, was suspected of the murder.

"He was captured by the regulators and finally confessed that he knew all about the murder.

"He said John A. Murrell and a large band of robbers had committed the murder. Youmans was made to stand on the rear end of a wagon and a rope was fastened to an oak limb over his head and then adjusted to his neck.

"He confessed that the Murrellites were guilty of many crimes charged to the Indians. He said Jack Jewell was a Murrellite and was the meanest man under Murrell.

"When he was told to make his peace with God, Youmans asked for a Bible. One was handed him.

"With a bible in his hand and a song in his mouth, Youmans met his death.

"Jack Jewell was next caught and hanged near the place of Youmans' death. No confession could be obtained from him.

"He was taken to a place near where Youmans was hanged and there swung to a limb with the same.

"John A. Murrell, the chief of the Murrellites, was never captured, but died a natural death among strangers. He made no confessions and never made any disposition of his property. It was supposed that Murrell was immensely rich, and several attempts have been made to discover the whereabouts of the hidden wealth."

Prospects Good.

"What's the outlook for a newspaper in this town?"

"First-class. We've got a map of a railroad, six candidates for postmaster, an' it ain't ten miles to where the circus shows!" —Atlanta Constitution.

Another Pole Hunter.

To reach the north pole an architect, M. Hanin, has proposed to the Geographical Society of Paris the construction of wooden huts one or two days' journey apart. He considers Greenland the most favorable locality for an experiment of this kind. Each of the huts would become in its turn a base of supplies for the construction of the next. As the distance to be covered is about 900 miles, a score of huts would be necessary to establish a route to the pole.

Not Difficult.

Young Bluffleigh—I'd like to see the father that would scare me. Wait until I meet yours. I'll make him toe the mark.

Miss Gruffjop—All right, dear. But be careful where you place the mark.

Reassured.

Rural Ragges—Have yer got any wood yer want choppin', lady?

Miss Hussiff—No, we have not.

Rural Ragges—Thank yer, lady. Then will yer please gimme some breakfast.

Precipitous.

Mrs. Wabash—Mrs. Weed says she is beginning to think marriage is a failure.

Mrs. Lakeside—That's just like her, to jump to a conclusion; why, she hasn't been married but four times.

"DON'T SHOOT—I'LL COME DOWN."

"'Scurious like," said the tree toad,
"I've twittered for rain all day!
And I got up soon,
And I hollered till noon;
But the sun hit blazed away.

"Dased away for an hour,
And I tackled the thing again;
And I sung, and sung,
Till I knowed my lung
Was jest about to give in;

"And then, thinks I, if it don't rain now,
There's nothin' in singin' anyhow.

"Once in a while some farmer
Would come a-drivin' past;
And he'd hear me cry,
And stop and sigh,
Till I jest laid back at last,
And I hollered rain till I thought my throat
Would bust wide open at ever' note!

"But I fetched her! Oh, I fetched her!
'Cause a little while ago,
As I kind o' set,
With one eye shet,
And a singin' soft and low,
A voice dropped down on my fevered brain,
Saying, 'If you'll just hush, I'll rain'"
JAMES WHITCOMB RILEY.

WORE SMUGGLED GARTERS.

Richly Jeweled Bands Brought Ashore in Spite of Government Officers.

On the promise of seeing something new, if not startling, I accompanied an acquaintance to meet an incoming steamer from Europe. My acquaintance had informed me that his cousin was bringing over goods of very great value, and I expected that considerable trouble would be consumed in examining and appraising the articles. The "cousin" was an attractive young lady and looked rosy and healthy as she tripped down the long plank. She had had a delightful voyage, etc., and had been good enough to bring only two trunks. These were found, an inspector made a hasty examination of the contents, saw that they were only ordinary wearing apparel, chalked the backs and we started off. We went up town and made for a good restaurant. The interesting small talk of travelers filled in the time until we three were seated at a table and the order given for luncheon. The lady sat next to the wall.

"I suppose everything is all right, Juliet," asked my friend.

"Yes, indeed," she replied, smiling triumphantly.

"I promised to show this gentleman something," he said. "There's no danger that anybody will catch on, so if you've no objection—"

He paused. She blushed furiously and replied: "Well, I don't know that I care, but it's unusual."

Then she reached down toward the floor on the side next the wall, and of course I don't know exactly what she did, but when her hand appeared again it was closed over something. She held it toward me, saying: "Open both hands and be careful." I did as she told me and she laid upon my palms a garter that fairly blazed with diamonds. I took one look and whispered "Smuggled!" She nodded vigorously, while her companions smiled approval, and remarked: "I shall keep that interesting piece of ribbon. It saves me several thousand dollars in duties."

"There's another like it," said the fair cousin, "but I guess I won't take that off." The other, of course, was on the side not next to the wall. "You have to get a cab now for your curiosity," she added, "for that article was worn for use as well as profit, and if I walk—well, it might come down, and that wouldn't be pleasant."—Atlanta Constitution.

Defence of Bull-Fighting.

The terrible death of a promising young torero in the bull ring has once again attracted the attention of the English public to the Spanish national sport. One is accustomed to hear bull-fighting denounced as both cruel and cowardly—cruel because of the suffering it inflicts on animals, cowardly because the risk run by the bull fighter is infinitesimal. The first charge is absolutely true, so far, at least, as concerns the unfortunate horses. The second is equally false, as the tragic death of Espartero the other day should serve to teach the amateur critics who, for the most part, have never seen the spectacle they denounce in such unqualified terms.

If the Spaniards would only revive the original form of the sport they borrowed from the Moores—that is to say, the riding, not of wretched cab horses, only fit for the knacker, and mounted by professional picadores, but of valuable horses, with "owners up," who would, of course, exercise their skill in trying to save their mounts—there would be little to be said against bull fighting on the score of cruelty.—London Graphic.

Dogs and Insomnia.

On the occasion of a dog show in Paris a French statistician has published an estimate of the number of dogs at present to be found in that city. Evidently it is with no good feelings towards the poor animals, for after informing the world that there are no fewer than 80,000 of them in the French capital alone the calculator proceeds to speculate upon the number of persons who are kept awake by their barkings. On an average, he thinks, one dog in ten would be restless and inclined to bark during the night, and in each case the barking would cause at least one person to lose his night's rest. On this basis he arrives at the dreadful conclusion that there are in Paris at all times 8,000 persons who cannot sleep from this cause alone. And yet, he complains, the barking of dogs is not even mentioned in medical works as one of the causes of insomnia.—London Daily News.

A Curious Custom.

A custom that has existed for several centuries is still maintained in some towns on the lower Rhine. On Easter Monday—auction day—the town crier or clerk calls all the young people together and to the highest bidder sells the privilege of dancing with the chosen girl, and her only, during the entire year. The fees flow into the public poor box.

Valuable Oil.

Cottonseed oil, now so important commercially, has been known to commerce for a long time. New Orleans once attempted to use it for street lighting. It was an old charge of abolition days that slaves were fed on cottonseed, a charge indignantly denied by the slaveholders, though cottonseed was then used as food by the peasants of southern Europe.

One of the Latest.

At a late meeting of the Royal Society of England an appliance called a thermogen was exhibited. It was a quilted cushion, with fine wires arranged inside by which it could be heated to any desired temperature by electricity. It seems to have been used with success in the hospitals, where it makes it possible to keep up the temperature of patients during prolonged operations with hemorrhage without such cumbersome appliances as blankets and vessels of hot water.

He Mistook Her.

"How much is this here goods worth?" asked the woman with the business eye.

"Eighteen cents a yard," replied the merchant.

"Gimme ten yards."

The merchant cut off the goods and remarked to himself: "Clear loss of six cents a yard. I thought she was only a shopper."

Unprepared.

Dusty Rhodes—I'm sorry, ma'am; if I'd a known you had wood to saw, I'd a come prepared.

Mrs. Dogood—I have a saw.

Dusty Rhodes—But I couldn't think of undertaking any violent exercise without my sweater.

ARTISTIC PIANO COVER.

AN ORCHID DESIGN FOR AN UPRIGHT INSTRUMENT.

How It Is Worked—Selecting the Shades—Materials for Piano Covers—Why the Design Illustrated Is One of the Best in Scope and Plan.

As an upright piano stands most frequently out from the wall, and is placed so that the back is toward the entrance of the room, where it is much seen, it has become necessary to have drapery for the back as well as the top and front. The design of orchids, given in the illustration, shows the back and top for a cover for an upright piano. It may be worked in two sections. The two portions, embroidered as shown, would be very handsome, but a selection of the design may be made and simply the back embroidered, the front and top being left unadorned, making the cover much less expensive.

No flower furnishes a better scope for clever shading than the beautiful orchid, and its varieties are numerous. The special flower from which this design was drawn is particularly attractive. The main upper petal was white, the lines a grass green; the two side petals perfectly white and the lines a violet brown; the spots on the leaf a very dark ruby red; the centre, green, and the cup-shaped lower petal of a violet brown; the stem brown shaded, and the leaves a light green, dotted in effect, as is depicted in the drawing. This result is gained by using a dark green.

ORCHID DESIGN FOR UPRIGHT PIANO.

The English filo floss furnishes a close shading for work of this character. An easy mode of working flowers is to stretch in the background, and cross with the same shade. If so worked, outline the edge with a darker shade, almost a brown, which will cast a shadow, and give them the appearance of being raised; to finish, simply catch up the edge in a garland-like effect, with a bead to fasten the top. A combination of blue and pink shades will give an effect thoroughly in keeping with the design. Upon a background of blue mail-cloth the design is exquisite.

As far as possible it is wisest to select materials for piano covers wide enough to avoid seams. This is especially necessary for the cover of a square piano. Fortunately there are a number of fabrics now obtainable which lend themselves particularly well to this special decoration. The Ronaan or silk sheeting comes in many shades: blue, pink, white, gold, green and terra cotta pink. It is about fifty inches wide, and is extremely soft and pliable. Art satin also comes in many shades. It is nearly as wide as the Roman sheeting. Mail-cloth is a little heavier than the others, but equally beautiful, although a little more difficult to embroider upon. Especially attractive for embroidery purposes are the colored linens, coming, as they do, in the light and darker shades of color. They are not so wide as the above-mentioned materials, but will be found particularly suitable for the cover of an upright piano, as they form a beautiful background. China silk is always available.

Much of the beauty of the tone of a piano is lost by putting heavy materials on the top of the case, a reverberating sound being caused by them, as well as an injury to the piano by their weight. Carefully covered with a cloth, embroidered in an artistic manner, upon which may rest the photographs of a few of our famous composers, lightly framed, the piano is sufficiently adorned.

For Fruit With Meats.

Fruits preserved in vinegar are very good with cold meats. The best fruits to preserve in this way are cherries, damsons, grapes, lemons, oranges, peaches and melons. White wine vinegar is the best to use, especially for fruits, but the brown vinegar is the more wholesome. Use enameled or stone kettles and stir with a wooden spoon. Pickled grapes: Take them from the stalks and put them into jars, cover with plenty of white wine vinegar. Tie them down and keep in a dry place. For peaches, wipe off the down from sound fruit and stick them with cloves. Put them in jars and cover with hot pickle made with one pound of moist sugar to one quart of white wine vinegar. Set them aside for about twelve days, drain off the vinegar, reboil, skim well and pour it over the peaches again. Tie down securely. For plums, wipe the plums and fill the bottle with them; boil together half a pint of white wine vinegar with one half a pound of sugar, one or two cloves and a bit of cinnamon, and pour it when lukewarm over the fruit; leave till next day, then strain, reboil the vinegar and pour it again over the plums. Any kind of plums may be used.

The Complexion.

A new idea for keeping the complexion clear is never to use soap on the face, but to use butter instead. A little of this is rubbed over the face with a soft cloth and then removed by means of a second cloth. It renders the skin beautifully soft and elastic. Buttermilk is an old-fashioned remedy for removing tan and sunburn. In Sicilini a favorite cosmetic is citron au lait, or milk of lemons, made by rasping off the peel of a lemon with a nutmeg grater, letting the raspings fall into a pint of new milk, cutting the lemon open and pressing the juice into the milk. After it has stood for a short time the milk will curdle. Then the whole must be strained through fine muslin, and the liquid which runs through is the milk of lemon so much sought after.

Home-Made Furniture Polish.

Excellent furniture polish is made of equal parts of wine, vinegar and olive oil. Put in a large bottle and shake thoroughly every day for a week. It will then be ready for use. It should be applied to the furniture with a soft, woolen cloth and well rubbed in.

Hayrick—Did they give your son a good mark at college?

Treetop—Pretty fair; forty-two inches cheat measure.

In His Line.

Miss Pipkin—We spent the whole evening playing a new kind of polka.

Jack Potts—I wish I'd been with you; what was the limit?

In Harmony.

Jess—What was the subject of Dr. Thirdly's wedding oration?

Bess—Behold how great a matter a little spark kindleth.

Special Pattern Needed.

Maud—But why doesn't the catcher use a glove with fingers instead of that bag?

George—They don't make gloves to fit his style of fingers.

At the Sea Shore.

Marie—"I hope you are not going to leave your heart down by the sea?"

Claire (ingenuously)—"Oh, no, Charlie is going back to town when I go."

A MODERN INSTANCE.

An unsophisticated tramp made request at our doctor's house for a pair of the doctor's old pants. But, then, he had never seen——the doctor.

OI THE TIMES.

What the Man Who Had Holidays May Expect.

Smith comes downtown wearing an "I know-how-it-will-be" sort of expression, for he has passed through the same ordeal every year for the last decade. He has been away on his summer vacation. That is, he has spent a week on his father-in-law's farm 20 miles from the city. He didn't gain or lose in flesh; he didn't have a good time. In fact, he just went away and came back the same as the cat did.

"Ah! there—hello!"

Smith has met a friend. He stops and shakes hands and prepares for the inevitable.

"Been away, eh?"

"Yes."

"Heard you'd gone. Have a good time?"

"Yes."

"Cool and nice?"

"Yes."

"No mosquitoes?"

"No."

"Feel a hundred per cent better?"

"Yes."

"Of course you do! You look ten years younger. Great thing to go away eh?"

"Yes."

"Fresh eggs, rich milk, nice butter and all that?"

"Yes."

"What was your largest? Come, now, give me straight figures. No use lying to an old liar, you know."

"You mean fish?"

"Of course."

"I—I didn't go fishing."

"You didn't! Do you mean to tell me you went off on a vacation and didn't go fishing?"

"No, I didn't go."

"There was a lake around there?"

"No, no lake."

"Then a river?"

"No, no river."

"And no place to fish?"

"Not a place."

"Humph! What did you go out there for?"

"I dunno."

"What did you do when you got out there?"

"Nawthin'."

The friend backs off, looks Smith up and down with disgust on every line of his countenance, and turns away with:

"Well, of all the blamed cranks I ever heard of! I have heard men say you were level-headed and had a heap of horse sense, but after this—!"

Smith doesn't wait to hear the rest. He'll get the same thing from No. 2 and No. 3 and No. 4 before he can reach his office, and for the next two weeks almost every man who drops in will salute him with:

"Been away, somebody was saying. Don't suppose you had a pair of scales with you, but perhaps you'll measure off on the desk as near the exact length of your largest as conscience will permit."

Jokers' Bric-a-Brac.

A sensitive Hamilton girl gets sassick every time she wears a yachting cap.

Tommy's Father (sternly)—What were you fighting that bad boy for, Tommy? Tommy—To keep from gettin' licked.

As the express dashed through the station—"O porter, doesn't that train stop here?" Porter—No, mum; it don't even hesitate.

Jilson says that since the introduction of shoemaking machinery the old-time disciples of St. Crispin have had to come down a peg or two.

A man regards his newspaper much as he does his wife—something to find fault with when he feels cross and something he never approves of.

In a Railroad Carriage: She—That man sitting opposite to us is a detestable fellow. He—Why so, my darling? She—Because he makes a point of lighting his cigar whenever we reach a tunnel.

Theory of Creation.

"What makes you think that man was created after woman?"

"Just this: If man had been created first he would probably be wanting a woman yet. But woman, being created first, and making up her mind that she wanted a man, there was nothing to do but trot him out in the shortest possible time."

A Well-Earned Reward.

Hardwright—You are getting pretty fat, Hops! You better look out!

Mr. Hopschen—Yah, I vad und trink me a beaty for git fat; und den mein doctor tells me schmoke a beauty for git thin.

ELECTRICITY.

The electrical railways of this country numbered 469 last year.

It cost $2.68 per word to send a message from New York to Demerara.

At the end of last year there were 5,446 miles of electric railways in this country.

The Western Union Telegraph company had at the end of last year 21,078 offices, which received 66,591,858 messages, which were sent out over 709,201 miles of wire.

Wanted a Change.

Ragged Reuben—I serppose a feller should hev some convictions, even of he is only a tramp.

Hungry Harry—Huh! I've allers had too blamed menny for me own good. Jes' lemme hev acquittals after this an' I'll be puffickly satisfied.—Buffalo Courier.

MONTHLY DIVIDENDS!!

Syndicate Trading

$10 00 UPWARDS,

40 Per Cent. Profit in September, 1894

Stock Exchange Risks less than Trade Risks. Stock Exchange Profits Greater than any Trade Profits.

Syndicate Trading is conducted with smallest individual risk while the greatest possible profits are earned for each investor. Syndicate Trading is a LEGITIMATE road to wealth. A small sum quickly becomes a yearly income.

Anyone can Share Our Profits!!

Send $10 00 or upwards in registered letter, by post or money order or New York draft, payable to New York Trading Co., or of W. Pearse, Manager.

All money at your credit can be withdrawn first of month when accounts are rendered. The elections will make active markets. This is a grand opportunity to make money. Details mailed free. References furnished. Representatives wanted

New York Trading Company,
17 & 19 Broadway, New York City.

LAKEHURST SANITARIUM
OAKVILLE, ONT.
For treatment and cure of
ALCHOLISM, MORPHINE HABIT, TOBACCO HABIT AND NERVOUS DISEASES.

The system employed at this institution is the familiar Double Chloride of Gold System. Through its agency over 200,000 slaves to the use of these poisons have been emancipated in the last fourteen years. Lakehurst Sanitarium is the oldest Institution of the kind in Canada, and has a well earned reputation to maintain in the line of medicine. In its whole history there is not an instance of failure to remove the appetite for these poisons. In its whole history there is not an instance of any after ill-effects from the treatment Hundreds of happy homes in all parts of the Dominion bear eloquent witness to the efficacy of a course of treatment with us. For terms and full information write
THE SECRETARY,
28 Bank of Commerce Chambers,
aug7d3m34w3m) Toronto, Ont.

TO LET.

TO LET 2 semi, warm brick houses in terrace, situated on Harriett St., West Belleville, known as Morton's, or Fuller's terrace. For terms of rent apply to R. O. Fuller, collector, or sub agent to the estate of the late H. E Fuller. Residence at Mr. Jardin's Corner of William and Dundas Sts., East Belleville. 85d2m

BLANKETS

We are showing a large line of Blankets in all Wool and Union from $2.00.

Grey Flannel

Our Grey Flannels are from the best makers. You should call and see our 15c. line.

NATHAN JONES.
OPPOSITE HOTEL STREET.

ONTARIO MUTUAL LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY.

S. Burrows, Esq., General Agent, Ontario Mutual Life Co., Belleville, Ont.

DEAR SIR, Received your company's check for $2,000 for our Matured Endowment, and we both wish to show our gratitude to you and the Company for the straightforward and satisfactory way you deal with policy holders, and that we are more than satisfied with our investment. I will always urge our friends to follow in our footsteps. Thanking you very kindly.

Yours very sincerely,
Mr. & Mrs. GOODWIN, Bowmanville,
Formerly of Belleville.

IT - HAS - BEEN - ADMITTED

BY OVER 125 PEOPLE IN BELLEVILLE THAT THE

John Bull Wrought Steel Range,

Is the most Economical, Everlasting and Useful Range on the market. How is this for three Seasons.

SEE THEM AT FOSTER'S.

Also the Duchess of Oxford Cast Iron Range.

The Sale of Boots and Shoes:

Slightly damaged by Smoke and Water will continue until everything is sold.

HAINES & LOCKETT

Opposite Anglo-American Hotel

Only Ten Cents
...PER WEEK...

Will secure you the....

Finest Collection
...of...
Canadian Scenes

Ever Published.

It is a Purely Canadian Production.

Canadian Paper,
Canadian Views,
Canadian Printing,
Canadian Cuts.

Everything that enters into its production is Canadian, and as a work of art is equalled by few and surpassed by none of the American publications.

Every Canadian Should Secure This Valuable Collection of Canadian Scenes.

We have secured the right for this locality and will issue One Part Each Week.

See Coupon upon another page of this paper, cut it out and remit to this office with Ten Cents.

The "Intelligencer" P. & P. Co.,
LIMITED.
BELLEVILLE, ONT.

THE LIMEKILN CLUB.

BROTHER GARDNER DISCOURSES ON MENTAL WABBLING.

How the President of the Club Was Deeply Pained—The Declaration of Independence Due to the Home-Made Shirt—The Oracle Has Spoken.

"I hev bin deeply pained," began Brother Gardner as he slowly rose up and stood with his hands under his coattails—"I hev bin deeply pained at cumin' across fresh evidences to show dat de cull'd man am mentally wabbling about instead of walkin' right ahead in de middle of de road. Two weeks ago to-night I was in a store when Brudder Waydown Bebee cum in dar an' got measured for three shirts an' ordered dat dey be made to button behind. He didn't see me, an' I was so paralyzed dat I couldn't hev spoken to him if he had. All my life I hab fought unbleached cotton at six cents a yard an' had de ole woman make my shirts, an' dey was shirts same as George Washington, Henry Clay and Abraham Linkum wore. De shirt dat buttoned in front, wid buttons costin' six cents a dozen, has bin good nuff fur poets, warriors an' statesmen. De homemade shirt passed de Declarashun of Independence. It won liberty for dis nashun. It cl'ared forests an' plowed de prairies an' laid de foundashun fur our present greatness. De ideah dat de time has arrove when a passon airmin sebben dollars a week an' kevin' only one lung left to breathe with feels dat he must hev twelve shillin' shirts to be in de swim jest takes my breath away!

"A few nights ago I met Brudder Elder Toots in a drug store. De elder am an ole man. Anyone to look at him would say dat he was not to stay not. I hev also considered him a man without any foolishness, an' you kin imagine my surprise when he boldly inquired fur scented soap, vaseline, cole cream an' tooth powder. He actually turned away from a 10 cent toothbrush an' took one at 25! Did George Washington inquar' fur scented soap before he crossed de Delawar'? Did Patr'ck Henry hold a bottle of vaseline in his hand when he closed dat memorable speech by saying: 'Gin me liberty or gin me death!' Did Abraham Linkun go an' brush his teeth wid pink powder befo' signing dat emancipashun proclamashun? Shakespeare, Byron an' Milton cleaned deir teeth wid a rag tied to a stick, but our Elder Toots must fill his mouf wid Paris powder an' grease up his paws like a duke! Doan' make no kifference dat he's in debt an' got a big fam'ly an' doan' work half de time—he a got to be in style!

"What am Brudder Shindig Watkins to-night? I answer dat he am home an' in bed, an' de doctor says his backbone am two inches over plumb. I was workin' in my garden de odder day when Brudder Watkins cum in to see me. He leaned up agin de fence an' talked, an' by and by he sprung it on me. What d'ye s'pose dat pusson wanted? Wanted to borry fo' dollars to get a pa'r o' shoes—patent leather shoes—an' another dollar to buy two pa'rs o' red summer socks. My fren's, I didn't 'pear to breathe fur three minits. Den my breff cum wid a rush, an' I picked up Brudder Watkins an' frowed him ober a nine fut fence on to a heap o' bricks.

"My ole woman was tooken sick de odder night, an' I went ober to de cabin of Divedam Jones to borry a leetle ginger. Brudder Jones has allus 'peared to me to be a solid, sensible man, an' I couldn't skasnly believe dat I was awake when I looked around dat house. Dar was a cuckoo clock, same as de President of de United States goes to bed by. Dar was three stuft cheers, a bust of Napoleon, a futstool dat nebber cost less'n 50 cents, an right on de floor, bein' stepped on by all de fam'ly a dozen times a day, was a rug dat cost $8. When Mr. Fulton inwented de steamboat, did he hev his feet on an $8 rug? When Sir Isaac Newton diskivered gravity, did he hev a cuckoo clock cuckooin' to him? When General Taylor fit an' licked de Mexicans, did he set on a stuft cheer an' direct his battles?

"But dat was not all, my fren's. I got a peep into de spar' bedroom an' beheld shamholders on de bed an' a canopacious canopy above it, same as de kings of Europe. Dar was a red tablecloth, on de table, an album fit fur a queen lyin' around an' all de knives an' forks had handles on 'em. Brudder Jones works in a woodyard for $9 a week an' has a wife an' eight children, but he must be in de swim! I knowed one time last winter when he went widout socks in order to buy a soup dish wid two leg'lar handles to it!

"My fren's, I hev mensioned only three or fo' instances out of a dozen I could name. It makes me sick at heart to see dese things. If de time has arrove in de history of de cull'd man when he has got to set down on stuft cheers, dangle his patent leather boots on $8 rugs an' be sure to sleep by cuckoo clocks, den de sooner I am called to go de better. It's ahead of my time, an' I can't catch up to it. I hain't gwine to say no' mo' about it, but I want it understood right yere and now dat de man who am in de swim hadn't better cum to my house to borrow money. 'Bout de time he gits half way frew explainin' to me dat he has got to hev $6 to get a set o' silk underclothes to wear to de baseball game I shell light down on him an' make him wish he had nebber bin born. He will now go home."

M. QUAD.

The Napoleon Craze.

Aged Applicant—I fought wit' ze gr'a't and Napoleon at St. Helena.

Young Man—Napoleon didn't fight at St. Helena.

Aged Applicant—Monsieur see mesmin-formed. I was mes valet and he fought me all ze time when I dress him in ze morning.

Curious Chinese Coins.

A curious feature of Chinese coins, the nail-mark, appears to have originated in an accident very characteristic of China. In the time of Queen Wentek a model in wax of a proposed coin was brought for her majesty's inspection. In taking hold of it she left on it the impression of one nail, and the impression has in consequence been a marked characteristic of Chinese coins for hundreds of years.

They're Drinking More.

It is a subject for grave consideration by the American people that the use of alcoholic liquors is increasing in that country. In the year 1883 the consumption of distilled spirits was 1.46 gallons per capita; in 1893 it had increased to 1.51 gallons. The consumption of beer per capita in 1883 was 10.27 gallons, which had increased to 16.06 gallons in 1893.

LONGEVITY IS ON THE INCREASE.

Men Attain to Greater Age Than Formerly, Especially in America.

The number of deceased persons who had attained an exceptional old age was probably greater in the year 1893 than in any recent period. During the last three or four months of the year the general public became familiar, through a perusal of the daily papers, with the remarkable obituaries of those who had departed having lived to a great old age. A month or so since we read of a life that had reached the extraordinary limit of 135 years. We have since read of the death of a woman at Hartford, Conn., who was old enough to give warning of the approach of the British fleet in 1813, and so saved the New England coast from threatened devastation. And still later we have been apprised of the death at Terre Haute, Ind., of a man 104 years old who attended the funeral of Washington, cast his first vote for Madison, and was a soldier in the war of 1812. From other data it is apparent that great longevity has been on the increase for many years, particularly in America. But it may be remarked that the constitutions that carried these persons up to the centennial mark or beyond were formed very many years before people began living at the present rate, and that the best part of most of these old lives was passed before the modern suicidal rush of the society and business worlds.

To have a good chance for longevity it is almost unnecessary to say that an originally good constitution is of the very first importance, though to this primary excellence carefulness in the art of living must be added. The secret of long life is one of which nature alone holds possession. A remarkable fact is that intellectual activity and success have been no barriers to long life. Even deep philosophical studies have proved a help rather than a hindrance to men of literary pursuits. Voltaire, who at birth was put into a quart pot, could never have obtained his eighty-fourth year had he not followed the strict, sober, active life which he chose. Gladstone exercises the highest powers of successful statesmanship at an age of eighty-four years, after undergoing the constant turmoil of political contest for considerably more than half a century. Bismarck is practically an octogenarian. Von Moltke was nearly ninety when he died. It seems that the review of these and numerous other instances would sufficiently establish the theory that continuous intellectual activity is conducive to the perpetuation of good health and the prolongation of life.—Washington Post.

A Little Story of Editor Dana.

Mr. Dana was managing editor and I a correspondent on a leading daily journal. Abraham Lincoln had signed a proclamation, the first call for troops during the civil war. I think it was in April, 1861. Then I was in Washington at the time, and, being impressed in my little journalistic heart with the importance of the occasion, I ventured, as an introduction to the literal proclamation phrase, upon a quotation from a favorite hymn in our family circle, worded thus:

"We are living, we are dwelling, in a grand and awful time,
In an age on ages telling, to be living is sublime."

"What, then, must it be to be a factor in the affairs of nations, such as Abraham Lincoln, president of the United States, who to-night has affixed his signature to the proclamation?" And then followed the Lincolnian document. Two days afterward I received from Brother Dana by mail, not by wire, a cautionary suggestion to the following effect:

"Dear Mr. Howard—After this, if, in your dispatches you really must drop into poetry, telegraphy being four cents a word, won't you kindly wire us the number of the hymn, as we have the book in the office?"—Joe Howard's Reminiscences.

He Got It.

A prisoner before the police judge secured the services of a young sprig of an attorney who not only was a very consequential young man, but he thought he knew about ten times as much as the judge knew he knew. When the case was called the attorney arose.

"May it please your honor," he said, with great formality, "my client wants more time——"

"Very well, very well," interrupted the judge in the kindliest way. "I'll be glad to accommodate him. He was arrested for abusing his wife, wasn't he?"

"That's the charge of the arresting officer, your honor."

"Very good," said his honor. "I had intended giving him only three months, but since he wants more I'll make it six. I always strive to please. Call the next case, Mr. Clerk."

An Experiment.

One of the experiments made by those whose business it is to test the strength of dynamite, gun cotton and other explosives is to place fresh plucked leaves between two plates of panel steel and explode cartridges on the upper plate. The recoil in such cases is so great and sudden that the upper plate is driven downward with such force and rapidity as to catch exact impressions of the leaves before they deliquesce ribs have time to give way to the force of the blow. This novel method of engraving is one of the wonders of the century.

A Pretty Legend.

It is the pretty Christian legend that the aspen perpetually shakes because from its wood the cross was made. Observers of nature have discovered, however, that the quivering of the aspen's leaves is due to the fact that the leaf stalk is flat on the sides and so thin about the middle that the slightest breath of wind sets all the leaves a-wagging horizontally. A single leaf plucked off and taken by the end of the leaf stalk between the thumb and the forefinger forcibly illustrates the peculiarity of the aspen.

An Innovation.

The University of Lille, France, is said to be the first institution of learning on the continent to add a department of Journalism. Abbe Dr. Cooten will read lectures on the great editors of England and Germany. Professor Gaud will lecture on the law governing the press, and M. Tavernier, of the Paris Univers, will speak upon the duties of newspaper men and the way a paper is printed.

Theory and Practice.

Cora—Why did she leave the room when she was in the middle of her argument about the cruelty of killing song birds?

Merritt—She went to show the servant how to drop a live lobster into boiling water.—Truth.

Was It Sickness In the Family?

Officer McNabb—What's the trouble, Bill?

Officer Hennessy—I just went across de way ter git me Sunday morning cocktail, an' I'm blessed if de place ain't closed up tight.—Puck.

Save Them for Jelly.

Fruit skins and cores may be used to great advantage in the manufacture of jelly. Especially round the apple cores is there a large amount of gelatinous matter. Peach skins and kernels make a nice jelly, also quince and grape skins.

No Use.

Kashem—Why don't you put a check to that fellow who is everlastingly dunning you?

Bilker—What'd be the use? The bank wouldn't pay it.—Buffalo Courier.

Serious Objection.

She—Do you see any real objection to these living pictures.

He—Yes; they always are given in houses not half big enough to hold the people anxious to see them.

DEADLIEST OF POISONS.

THE PRODUCTION OF THE DRUG CALLED ARSENIC.

It is Mined, and the Miners, it is Said, Really Do Not Suffer from Its Effects—How and Where it is Obtained—Queer Effect of the Poison on Linen Fabrics.

Many points of interest are brought out in a description in a technical journal of the way in which arsenic is obtained from one of the most famous mines in England, the Devon Great Consols. The mine was originally worked for copper alone and would have been abandoned but for the discovery that the waste thrown out as worthless when copper was sought proved rich in arsenic. Although copper is still raised, it is in small quantities, and the mine has been resolved into an arsenic works. The arsenical pyrites consist of 25 to 30 per cent. of iron, 12 1-2 to 14 per cent. of arsenic and the rest of earthy matter. After being crushed this is sorted by hand to about 15 to 16 per cent. of arsenic. It is then washed and "jigged" or sifted and passed on to the first calciner, where it is burned with low heat and coal and produces "arsenic soot"—that is, arsenic so mixed with smoke soot from the coal as to be a gray color.

The arsenic and soot, deposited in combination in the chimney or condenser, are scraped out and taken to the second calciner for purification. The calciners consist of revolving iron drums, through which a fire of anthracite coal is carried on. The soot and arsenic, ashdrawn Ont., writes: "Parmelee's Pills are taking the lead against ten other makes which I have in stock."

Put your secrets in the advertising columns.

Burdock Blood Bitters cures all diseases of the blood from a common Pimple to the worst Scrofulous Sores or Ulcers. Skin Diseases, Boils, Blotches and all Blood Humors cannot resist its healing powers.

Beware the strength born of carrying all the burdens.

GENTLEMEN,—I have used your Yellow Oil and have found it unequalled for burns, sprains, bruises, scalds, rheumatism, croup and colds. All who use it recommend it. Mrs Hight, Montreal.

Temptation relies more on sugg stion than exposure.

PROFESSOR CHARLES FAUVEL, M.D.

ONE OF THE MOST DISTINGUISHED SPECIALISTS IN DISASES OF THE THROAT AND NOSE.—FOUNDER OF A LARGE FREE DISPENSARY IN PARIS.

Professor Fauvel was born in 1830, at Amiens, and now resides in Paris. For his, high attainments in his profession he has received almost every mark of distinction that could be conferred upon him by his country or his confrères in medicine. These are his words,: "Of all the tonics, none equal "Vin Mariani." I use it personally and for my family, and have prescribed it for more than twenty years with unvarying satisfaction to myself and patients." Vin Mariani is the only tonic-stimulant without any unpleasant reaction and which may be taken indefinitely. If you are tired, weak, nervous, irritable, if you feel a want of energy and have not a good appetite, just try 'Vin Mariani.' Surely a remedy recommended by thousands of eminent people the world over is worth a single trial. Send stamp to Lawrence A. Wilson & Co., Montreal, the Canadian agents, and receive, gratis, a beautiful little album containing the photographs of many celebrities who have testified to the excellence of 'Vin Mariani.'

McLaughlin's QUEEN FLOUR

Which is warranted

THE BEST IN CANADA

For sale by

Chas. E. Bishop.

Bridge St., Belleville.

Send him an order.

ALLAN LINE,

Royal Mail Steamships. Liverpool, Calling at Moville.

	From Montreal	From Quebec
PARISIAN	Oct. 6	Oct. 7
MONGOLIAN	" 13	" 14
HIBERNIAN	" 20
LAURENTIAN	" 27	" 28
NUMIDIAN	Nov. 3	Nov. 4
PARISIAN	" 10	" 11

RATES OF PASSAGE.

First cabin Derry and Liverpool, $45 and upwards single; $95 and upwards return. Second cabin, Liverpool, Derry, Belfast, Glasgow, $30; return $55. Steerage at lowest rates (everything found).

All steamships except the Hibernian carry 1st cabin, 2nd cabin and steerage passengers.

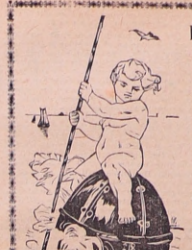

For tickets and other information apply to U. E. THOMPSON, General Ticket Agency, Bridge St., Belleville, or to S. BURROWS, Agent

NEW HATS and CAPS TO COVER

OUR HEADS.

GEO. P. MINAKER.

Do the Fairies Help to Make BABY'S OWN Soap. IT'S SO NICE!!

THE ALBERT TOILET SOAP CO., Sole Manufacturers MONTREAL.

1f&wly

THE..... SOUVENIR RANGE.....

What Miss Surridge, Principal of the Toronto School of Cookery, Says :--

TORONTO, MONDAY, APRIL 2nd, 1894.

GENTLEMEN :—I have much pleasure in saying SOUVENIR RANGE you put in at Hamilton for the use of the cooking class recently held there, gave me Every Satisfaction. It is certainly the Very Best Stove I have ever used, being Cleanly, Reliable, and Most Economical, consuming as Astonishingly small quantity of Fuel.

I have the honor to remain, yours sincerely,

Signed, FLORENCE SURRIDGE.

C. F. Smith & Co.,

AGENTS, - - BELLEVILLE.

Of Course....

IT IS—

....Nonsense

To spend money foolishly or buy something that you have not any use for. When you want an article that you cannot do without, for instance, COAL OR WOOD, buy the best, and always bear in mind that WE sell nothing but the best, and furthermore, we do not hesitate to claim that our present stock of all kinds of COAL and HARD and SOFT WOOD and PINE and CEDAR KINDLING has NEVER been surpassed in quality in the Belleville Market.

Our constantly increasing orders del'vrd promptly. Our Carters are experienced and obliging. Our Coal carefully screened and weighed.

TRY US ONCE AND WE FEEL SURE YOU WILL COME AGAIN.

S. A. LAZIER & SON'S

The Leading Coal and Wood Merchants. Telephone C 68.

RHEUMATISM NEURALGIA, MUSCULAR STIFFNESS, PAIN IN SIDE & LAME BACK WHEN THE "D. & L." MENTHOL PLASTER IS USED. MUST GO

Cash is King

And when backed by low prices always wins.

Prices in our store are not copyrighted, others are permitted to copy them.

Read our "Celebrated" prices, they are chips from our block of "UNDERBUY and UNDERSELL."

Cottons, a yard wide, for 4c.
Flannelettes for 5c
All wool Flannels, 27 inches wide, for 18c,
All wool Navy Flannels, 28 inches wide, for 25c
Dress Goods, 8, 10, 20, 25, and 50c per yard—All low values.
Ladies' all wool seamless hose, 18c.
Misses' and Boys' double ribbed, seamless and all wool hose, 20c
Men's underwear from 50c to $5 per suit
New goods rolling in every day. We don't get them for keep-sakes. Bargains everywhere to remember us by

THE LEADING BARGAIN HOUSE.

H. A. LAYTON, BELLEVILLE.

Front St., Opposite Campbell St.

LISTEN FRIENDS!!

We SAY because we KNOW!

Our COAL! This Season is unexcelled for quality because the Bill of Lading bears the Brand of the Delaware & Hudson Canal Company.

Cut this out and test this "Ad" when the Winter Winds whistle.

THE RATHBUN COMPANY.

Daily Intelligencer.

The Ahr Valley.

It is becoming the custom among European travellers to stop at Remagen on the Rhine, and make a little excursion to the beautiful Valley of the Ahr, with its picturesque villages along the vine clad slope. Here is also located the spring from which flows that world wide favorite "Apollinaris Water." At Neuenahr, in the valley, the river Ahr is very beautiful, and one can find few more quaintly attractive spots than the Upper Gate at Anrweiler, or the old mill at Hepplingen.

It takes many a wall to make a drunkard a laugh.

For Over Fifty Years

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhœa. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by druggists throughout the world.

1f&wly

Dyspepsia or Indigestion is occasioned by the want of action of the biliary ducts, loss of vitality in the stomach to secrete the gastric juice without which digestion cannot go on; also, being the principal cause of headache. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills taken before going to bed, for a while, never fail to give relief and effect a cure. Mr. F. W. Andrews, Ashdown Ont., writes: "Parmelee's Pills are taking the lead against ten other makes which I have in stock."

Burdock Blood Bitters cures all diseases of the blood from a common Pimple to the worst Scrofulous Sores or Ulcers. Skin Diseases, Boils, Blotches and all Blood Humors cannot resist its healing powers.

Beware the strength born of carrying all the burdens.

GENTLEMEN,—I have used your Yellow Oil and have found it unequalled for burns, sprains, bruises, scalds, rheumatism, croup and colds. All who use it recommend it. Mrs Hight, Montreal.

Temptation relies more on sugg stion than exposure.

GENTLEMEN....

Before ordering your Fall Clothing don fail to take a look through

A. N. REID'S

New Fall Importations of Scotch, English and Irish Suitings, Overcoatings, Pantings, Irish Serges, Cheviots, Hop Sackings and Black Worsteds

First Class Goods and Prices low.

Mr. Miner, our cutter, is one of the best in Ontario.

EVERY GARMENT GUARANTEED!

Please call and inspect our New Goods.

A. N. REID.

-PLUMBING-

We have added to our Workmen,

MR. GEORGE JOHNSON,

Who has for the past six years been producing some large contracts in Victoria, B. C., San Francisco, Denver, and Chicago.

—ALSO—

MR. EDWIN W. BISHOP,

A graduate of the New York School for Plumbing (class 92), who comes highly recommended.

With these men added to our staff, we feel sure of giving satisfactory to all in Sani ary Plumbing.

C. F. Smith & Co.

For...

THIRTY...

DAYS.....

WE will sell our entire line of Wall Paper.....

—AND—

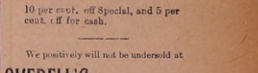

Window Shades

AT A DOUBLE DISCOUNT 10 & 5p.c.

10 per cent. off Special, and 5 per cent. off for cash.

We positively will not be undersold at

OVERELL'S BOOK STORE.

HUNTERS' EXCURSIONS.

Return Tickets

AT

SINGLE FIRST-CLASS FARE

FROM BELLEVILLE TO

PENETANG, MIDLAND,

and all points in the following districts:—SEVERN to NORTH BAY, inclusive. ARGYLE to CODOCONK, inclusive. CAMERON to HALIBURTON, inclusive. MAJTAWA to NIPISSING and inclusive. (via North Bay) SPANISH RIVER, MUSKOKA LAKES (Via Muskoka Navy Company)

Good Going October 19, 20, 26, and 27. Nov. 2 and 3

Valid for Return leaving destination not later than December 1st, 1894.

Sportsman's Dog, Gun, and 200 lbs. Camping Outfit Carried Free.

For tickets and all information, apply to

U. E. THOMPSON,

GEN. TICKET AGENCY, Bridge Street.

SLIPPER SOLES.

We have just received a large number of the best

LAMB'S WOOL SLIPPER SOLES, in Nos. 2, 3, 4, 5 & 6.

Also in Children's Sizes, which we are offering at the low price of 35 Cents per pair.

We have also a full range of Single and Double Berlin Wool, for Crocheting and Knitting Bedroom Slippers.

THE BEEHIVE

CHAS. N. SULMAN

INTELLIGENCER PRINTING AND PUBLISHING COMPANY (LIMITED).

J. O. JAMIESON, President. | J. W. LONDON, Secretary

THE Treasurer is the only person authorized to receive money from the Company, or to grant receipts for the same.

All Bills, Notes, Cheques and other documents binding on the Company, will require the signature of the President, in addition to that of the Treasurer.

THE INTELLIGENCER is printed and published by the INTELLIGENCER Printing and Publishing Company (Limited) by James O. Jamieson, resident in Belleville, the a Office, Front St., south of Bridge St

GRAPHIC STORY OF THE WRECK.

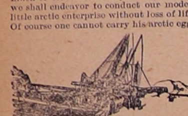

How the Ragnvald Jarl Was Crushed by Icy Fangs.

WELLMAN'S WAY OF RETREAT LOST

The Disaster a Terrible Blow to the Expedition, but Wellman Decides to Push on Northward—The Ice's Awful Power. Drying Dynamite In a Cook Stove.

(Published by special arrangement.)

WEDNESDAY, May 30.—The Ragnvald Jarl has been crushed in the ice. She lies a hundred yards from the rocky shore of this (Walden) island, a hopeless wreck. It was day before yesterday that this disaster befell us, at 4 in the afternoon. We were not here to witness the victory of the ice king over our stanch little craft. A week ago tonight was our last aboard the ship. The next day we were to set out upon our long sledge journey. One's feelings on such an occasion it is difficult to describe. Not often in one's life does he plunge into an unknown region, deliberately banishing himself from communication with the outer world, and more or less uncertain whether that world will ever see him again. There is some satisfaction in the thought that the prudent nature of our plans has reduced the risk of casualty to a minimum, for we are not unmindful of the promise which we made some months ago that, whether we do much or little in the way of exploration, we shall endeavor to conduct our modest little arctic enterprise without loss of life. Of course one cannot carry his arctic eggs to market without some little danger of breakage, but we hope to have all our men back in Norway next October safe and sound. That night Captain Bottelfsen and the crew brewed a punch and gave us a farewell toast, and the next day, the 24th, our departure from the ship was made under pleasant auspices. Our pack of dogs had been tied in teams on the shore ice, and the men stood by them awaiting the signal. As the officers of the expedition came upon deck the American and Norwegian colors were run aloft, and as they left the ship a salute was fired from the whaling guns. We gave three cheers for Captain Bottelfsen and his crew, which they returned as we took our sledges and our long string of dogs and started away. In half an hour we were tugging with might and main at the boats and sleds, the first stage of an onerous summer's campaign.

THE CRUSHED SHIP.

An Undreamed of Misfortune.

When we left the ship, she was believed to be in a perfectly safe position. Perhaps no other arctic expedition had as much actual experience in ice navigation as that which we have at command. Captain Bottelfsen is noted as one of the best ice pilots in Norway. His crew are men to whom ice dangers are an old story. Of our own party Captain Pedersen, the expedition's executive officer and navigator, has been a seal hunter for 24 years, ever since he was a lad of 17. Boervig, Iversen and others of our party have been in the ice year after year all their lives. Every one of these men thought the Jarl safe from harm in the harbor which her captain had found for her, behind a tongue of heavy shore ice, 20 feet or more in thickness. No one dreamed that this massive breakwater could be broken into fragments by the pressure of the pack outside. If experience counts for anything, these men were right in saying the ship was secure, and that in leaving her we could do so in confidence that our line of retreat was secure.

Three days and a half had we journeyed to the eastward before the sad news overtook us. We traveled at night, when the sun is lower and the surface of the snow a little harder. Novel indeed were our experiences during those first few days of the sledge journey. But before giving extracts from the journal descriptive of them it is well to hasten on to the greater event, the wreck of the steamer. All night the 28th a heavy storm raged from the northwest. At 7 o'clock on the morning of the 29th we saw two men approaching us from the direction of Walden island. Instinctively we knew that they brought us bad news. The two men advanced so slowly that we set out to meet them. They were staggering along, snow blind, nearly famished for water and so fatigued that only with great difficulty could they put one foot before another. They were First Mate Olen and Sailor Hovde of the Jarl.

"The Ragnvald Jarl is a total wreck," was their announcement. "She was screwed to pieces in the gale yesterday afternoon. We have saved one of the boats and some of the stores. Captain Bottelfsen wants to know if Mr. Wellman has any new orders for him."

This disaster was a terrible blow to the expedition. It cut off our line of retreat, which had been so carefully arranged. It left us stranded in the sea of ice. Though prudence perhaps suggested we should now turn back, probably not a man in the party thought of retreat. All our sorrow was for the gallant Captain Bottelfsen, who had suffered that greatest grief to a navigator, the loss of his ship. We made as good a camp as we could in the howling wind, which made it next to impossible to cook a meal or keep up our awnings. Fortunately the weather was not cold, only a few degrees below freezing. After supper—at 8 a. m.—a ration of brandy was served, the first which we have issued. The storm increased in fury and drove particles of snow under the flaps of our tents and half buried us in our sleeping bags while we slumbered.

At 11 last evening four of us—Messrs. Dodge, Juell and the sailor Ellefsen, with the writer—set out on skis for Walden island. It was a trying journey, especially for the writer—20 miles of heavy snow, in the teeth of the storm, while as yet unaccustomed to the use of the Norwegian snowshoe. Imagine a man trying to run 50 miles straightway on his bicycle the first day after his initial lesson in the art of riding, and you may realize the difficulty under which the writer labored. But we made fairly good progress, stopping at the Parry island to lie down in the deep snow and eat lunch. Our little stock of water was soon exhausted, and we all suffered dreadfully from thirst. A few lemons which the thoughtfulness of Dr. Mohun had provided were made into lemonade by the process of sandwiching a handful of snow between two slices of lemon and melting in the mouth. When the lemons were gone, we ate snow alone, and at every hourly stop lay down in the snowdrift and resorted to this doubtful method of relieving thirst.

As we rose to the hilltop of Walden island early this morning a sad scene met our eyes. In the foreground was the tent camp, made of a few sticks of timber and some of the sails from the ship, a mere hut upon the rough shore ice, in which the crew of the Jarl had taken temporary refuge. But a few yards away was the terrible pack ice, even now groaning and crackling under the tremendous pressure from without. If the wind increases in force, the hut will not be safe, for the pack will climb upon the shore ice, rising 40 or even 50 feet, and overwhelm the rude little habitation. It is obvious enough to us that the crew must have been pressed for time when they made their beds under the sails so near the creaking pack. Doubtless they were worn out with their long struggle to save as much as possible from the hold of the crushed steamer. A hundred yards farther out we could get a glimpse of the Ragnvald Jarl, with only one mast still standing, and that at an angle of 30 degrees from the perpendicular. The ice had run over her decks and even to the top of her upper works, almost hiding the hull from our view. Even at this distance it was easy to see the gallant little ship had been dealt a deathblow.

As we approached the tent Captain Bottelfsen and his men crawled out to greet us. There were no smiles upon their faces. More dejected men than they it would be difficult to find upon the face of the earth. And no wonder. Within a few days more than a month from sailing from their home port their ship goes to pieces under their feet, and with her loss their wages are cut off. They have lost much of their clothing and are stranded upon an inhospitable rock in a remote part of the world, 560 miles from the north pole. They will be lucky if they get home in the autumn, and when they do get there they will have no wages, no income with which to support their families during the coming winter. Other employment they cannot get, and not a ray of hope is to be seen in their honest faces.

Their camp is a mere nest under a bit of sail, with beds made upon the ice, and the ship's galley in the center of the hut melting the ice away underneath and causing pools of water to form almost as fast as one man can sweep them away. The captain and his men brightened up on our arrival and gave us a good breakfast and a warm welcome.

The Loss of the Jarl.

We then went over to see the wreck of the poor little Ragnvald Jarl. The ice for many yards around was strewn with the debris of disaster. It was Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock that the ship had been destroyed. At 10 o'clock of the morning of that day the ice had begun to screw around her, and Captain Bottelfsen and his men had run out extra hawsers for her protection. In a few minutes the ice was quiet again, and, though a northwest gale was blowing, Captain Bottelfsen thought the ship in no danger, believing the young, soft ice about her would form a cushion for her hull and bring her through without damage. After noon the ice was again disturbed, and as a matter of precaution Captain Bottelfsen and his men began getting provisions out of the hold and upon deck. It was well they did so, for, though they still had no idea of the impending danger, at a quarter of 4 o'clock the heavy ice came against the side of the ship. The point of shore ice, which projected beyond the Jarl and seemingly gave her ample protection, had broken asunder under the tremendous pressure of the shoving mass outside, and the Ragnvald Jarl was doomed.

In 15 minutes the fell work was done. The hull had been listed over and broken into three pieces. Heavy masses of ice had been driven right through her side like a knife into an eggshell. The water poured in, and there was grave fear that when it came in contact with the boilers, in which there was 40 pounds of steam pressure at the time, there would be an explosion. Fortunately this did not occur, and in a few minutes the crew were at work saving everything that could be reached. The trunks and other personal effects of members of the expedition were in the cabins or hold, and most of these were rescued, though some of them water soaked and damaged. The trunks in the hold were smashed by the breaking in of the timbers, but their contents were fished out with boat hooks after a man had risked his life down in the hold moving the top or end with an ax. The ship's provisions and the reserve supplies of the expedition were in great part saved by the same means. Captain Bottelfsen and his brave men saved the trunk, books, loose clothing and records of the writer at risk of life while the ship was creaking and groaning under the tremendous pressure and while the water was pouring in under their feet.

All night Monday the crew worked getting out of the ship such boxes of food and other articles as could be reached. Captain Bottelfsen thoughtfully sent the first mate and Sailor Hovde after us, 20 miles away, to give us information of the disaster. After a day of anxiety and a night of dangerous and arduous work they had taken this long tramp without skis, and upon overtaking us at Marten's island were barely able to crawl along. If ever men did the best they could in the face of irretrievable disaster, Captain Bottelfsen and his crew did so on this occasion.

A Sight to Stir the Emotions.

When we stepped aboard the ill fated craft today, it was difficult to repress tears over the fate of the little ship. Aside from the fact that our expedition has been given a hard blow and our personal fortune, little as it is, has been in all probability swallowed up, the mere appearance of the wreck was enough to stir the emotions. A thing of life and beauty had been dismembered, crushed, beaten into uselessness and ugliness. The mainmast, with the crow's nest, in which we had spent so many hours that it seemed almost like home, still lashed to it, was prostrate upon the ice, having been cut down and made clear, so that in case of sinking of the hull it and the rigging attached to it might be saved. Wreckage was scattered all about. Here is Dr. Mohun's trunk, water soaked; there Mr. Dodge's, completely collapsed. On the ice one picks up the photograph of his children or the portrait of his sweetheart.

As Captain Bottelfsen and the writer step on board the Jarl her timbers give another creak and the hull lists over a few inches. "Come, sir!" exclaims the alert captain. "We have no time to lose. She may go down at any moment." And suiting the action to the word he leads us over the gunwale upon the ice. After a few moments, no further movement appearing, we step aboard again and visit the cabin wherein we spent so many pleasant hours, now a miserable wreck of its former cozy self. The wardroom, where the men made merry in our days of good luck—as we said at the time, determined to enjoy life while the opportunity was at hand, not knowing what a day might bring forth—was a scene of hopeless confusion. Underneath we could see that the boilers and stanch little engine were immersed in water, and Captain Bottelfsen said the bottom was likely to drop out of the ship as soon as the ice slacked away a few inches, for it was only the pressure of the ice that was holding her together.

So great was the power of the ice in motion that the sides of the ship had been pressed inward, causing the deck to swell up and burst in the center. That she had not completely collapsed and rendered impossible the saving of stores from her hold was due to the great strength of the hull, for the Ragnvald Jarl was one of the stoutest ships in Norway. Before we sailed from Tromso a rumor was in circulation, and doubtless will be renewed when the news of this disaster reaches civilization, that the Jarl was old and worthless and ill adapted to withstand contact with heavy ice. This is not true. The Jarl was built for work in the ice, and her hull was made as strong as heavy timbers and good workmanship could make her. Besides she was sheathed below the ice line with greenheart. Just before sailing the official inspectors rated her hull A1. It is true she was not a very large steamer, but size doesn't count in a combat with the ice. The cruiser Chicago or the great Majestic would have fared quite as badly as the little Jarl in that terrible pressure of last Monday.

The Stores Saved.

Thanks to the energy and bravery of the captain and his men, enough stores have been saved to support the crew for three or four months. They have also taken some coal and many timbers out of the hold and will not want for fuel.

Our predicament is a most unhappy one. The more we consider it the more serious a loss to us does the wreck of the Ragnvald Jarl appear. In the first place, it cuts off that certain and easy line of retreat which we had so carefully arranged. If we go on with the sledge journey which we had so auspiciously begun, it must be without the knowledge that a ship is waiting to give us succor and to carry us speedily toward civilization. Such a ship may be procured for us, and it may not. There is a rather provoking uncertainty about the matter. If the ice persists in blocking up the coast all through June, Captain Bottelfsen will not be able to move west and south with his whaleboat, and the fishing vessels will not be able to come to the eastward from Dane's island.

Usually the fishing vessels, a dozen or a score of them, arrive at the northwest point of Spitzbergen about July 1, coming from the Jan-Mayen seal fishery. If the north coast is clear or has a favorable appearance, they sail up or wait awhile for a change for the better. But if the outlook be too unfavorable they turn south and sail round to the southeastern shore, there catching walrus and an occasional seal. The question with us is, Is this to be such an unfavorable year that there will be no hunting ships on this coast? If the answer should be in the affirmative, both Captain Bottelfsen and his crew and our expedition must depend upon our own resources for escape during the summer. In such a case it stands us well in hand to lose no time in getting about it. A season of this description might make it impossible for us to meet a vessel of any sort to take us back to Norway, and of course a boat voyage from land to land is not to be thought of. If we set out upon our sledge journey to the northeast, we only add to the number of miles which must be covered somehow in the autumn if we are to get back to our headquarters or to civilization alive.

THE CAMP ON THE ICE.

The Unexpected Had Happened.

A great bundle of water soaked letters lying beside the tent stove drying reminds us most pointedly of the nature of the loss which we have suffered in the ice hard by. By this time, or within a week or ten days at furthest, we had hoped the Jarl would be steaming toward Tromso, carrying our newspaper and private letters.

The wrecking of the Ragnvald Jarl was one of those occurrences which tend to justify the somewhat stupid adage that "the unexpected always happens." In our plans there was no idea of placing the little steamer in any jeopardy whatever. It was the controlling principle of the expedition that we were not going to try to sail to or near the north pole in a ship. In steaming to the Seven islands, as we did in such fine style a fortnight or more ago, not a man on board thought the ship was incurring any risk of disaster. In response to inquiries both of our captains gave assurance that the steamer could easily be taken care of in the shore ice, and so she might have been in anything but a northwester like that which raged last Monday, when the ice was screwed steeple high on every foot of the north Spitzbergen coast. The masses thrown up by this terrific pressure half cover the sides of the rocky hills, and where we sit in a sleeping bag, writing this letter, is probably 50 feet from the water level, and ice compressed with the power of a hundred hydraulic engines all the way down.

Still we have reached a decision as to what we are going to do, or try to do. We are going on, just as if nothing had happened, with the exception that the cutting off of our sure line of retreat makes it necessary for us to shorten our campaign and return to the Seven islands not later than Sept. 1. This leaves us 90 days in which to go forward and come back, and if we can find a practicable road, which is, we must confess, somewhat doubtful since the northwesterly gales have broken and screwed the drift ice, we shall do the best we can. What a fortnight ago promised to be a good chance for a pack ice journey has been quickly changed into conditions about as forbidding as it is possible for them to be.

Juell and Ellefsen are sent back to the sledge camp with the intelligence that the expedition is to go on as soon as we shall have rejoined it, but it is with anything but cheerful faces that we crawl into the snug beds which the sailors have prepared for us in their tent. Before we go to sleep some one makes the discovery that the ship's steward is drying sticks of dynamite in the cook stove a few feet from our beds, and this causes so much amusement that we crack our jokes, light our pipes and take a round at the camp bottle. Human nature is a buoyant thing, after all, if it can rise superior to shipwreck, almost hopeless conditions of pack ice and dynamite packages sizzling in a redhot stove near by.

WALTER WELLMAN.

OBSERVATIONS.

Here is something new, a sign in a wine store window which reads: "Cold claret punch, 20 cents a quart."

A New England dictionary offers the following definitions: "Bicycle: Pleasure's treadmill. Ink: A black fluid often used to make black seem white."

Capt. Moore, of the Mary Gibbs, is home from a voyage to Africa with a cargo of rum and missionaries from Boston. He called at thirteen ports to unload rum, which was received with wild enthusiasm. At the thirteenth port the missionaries went ashore uninvited.

"The laziest cigarette smoker I have seen lately," said a citizen, "was a young man who crossed the street the other day with a cigarette in one hand and an unlighted match in the other; he held the sulphur end of the match against the rim of the wheel of a wagon that was passing and let the wheel light it as it revolved."

MIRTH.

He—I heard a report that Gus Dudeleigh had fallen and hurt his head. She—Well, there's nothing in it.—Munsey's.

He—She has very handsome teeth. She—Why shouldn't she, when her brother is a dentist?—Syracuse Post.

He—You are the only girl I ever loved—She—Oh, never mind that. The main question is am I the only girl you ever will love.—Cincinnati Tribune.

"She just dotes on poetry." "She does? Then I think I'll try my luck with her, for if she loves poetry she isn't looking for a man with money."—N. Y. Press.

"Miss Meek seems to always be as mild as her name." "Humph! You ought to see her in a 'drive whist' when her partner trumps her ace."

A BATCH OF SCIENCE.

The barking of a dog on earth can be distinctly heard by balloonists at an elevation of four miles.

A star 25,000,000,000,000 miles away would be considered quite remote by anyone except the astronomer.

Through telescopic observations we have learned that when en route birds travel at an altitude of from one to three miles above the earth.

Bathing is often answerable for aural disease when ducking the head is practiced. It should be borne in mind that the ear is intolerate of cold water.

Iceland is pronounced by a writer in the current number of the Quarterly Review but a burnt out cinder, more akin to a bit of the moon than anything on this planet.

TAMING WILD ANIMALS

A PROFESSIONAL TAMER RELATES SOME OF HIS EXPERIENCES

With Lions, Tigers, Elephants and Bears —Many Thrilling Adventures and Narrow Escapes—Bitten by a Lion—Traveling With a Circus.

I cannot remember when I have not been surrounded, so to speak, by wild animals, writes a veteran tamer. For the past thirty years I have been on the most intimate terms with lions and tigers and panthers and leopards and bears and hyenas and elephants, and all sorts of other animals. I have trained them, eaten with them, slept with them, petted them and fought them by the hundreds in that time.

In all of my experience with animals I have only been bitten once, and that was owing to my own carelessness. A lioness bit me in the thigh one day when I was in her cage. I had my back to her and was teasing a lion at the time. She fastened her teeth in my thigh from behind, and the wound laid me up for three weeks. When she grabbed me I hit her on the nose, and she let go. Yes, she had tasted my blood, but that made no difference.

The talk about a lion or a tiger becoming unmanageable after it tastes blood is nonsense. I would as soon go into a cage all covered over with blood and let the animals lick it off as any other way. Lions and tigers won't attack a man in a cage, or out of it either, unless they are hungry. I make no exception to this rule. Any man can go into a cage of lions or tigers without danger of being hurt if he only understands the animals and is not afraid of them. They may be just caught—not two months out of the forest or jungle, and yet they will not attack a man.

There never was a lion or a tiger that was not afraid of a man. Let them alone and they never will attack a man so long as he keeps his face towards them. I am speaking now of those that are wild. The trained ones will not even spring at their keeper from behind. I can teach the wildest animal that was ever caged not to attack me under any circumstances, and I won't take more than half an hour or so to give the lesson.

I had an exciting time once, however, when I was with a circus and "moral menagerie." I had forty cages of animals under my charge. The cages were all painted with scenes from the Bible. On the cage where I used to perform with the lions—there were four of them—there was a picture of Daniel in the lions' den. I used to be bound hand and foot and thrown into th cage with the four lions.

One night one of the lions gnawed out of his cage and got in among the elephants. The elephants became excited and the lion sprang on the back of a little elephant. The little elephant trumpeted and kneeled down, and that woke up the watchman. I was sent for. I took a pitchfork and jabbed at the lion, and he let go and sprang for a big elephant close by. The big elephant was called Queen Anne—they've changed her name to Empress and she is still in the business.

She grabbed the lion with her trunk and threw him from her about twenty feet. He fell in a heap of bones which had come from the meat with which the animals were fed. The bones were under the stairway leading to the hayloft and a man was asleep up there. I got into the hayloft from the outside of the building and fastened the trapdoor down. Then I went down and tackled the lion. I got a shifting-box close up to where he was and then I got into the box. It had a door on each side. I teased the lion and made him mad so that he came for me. I had a close shave getting out at one side while he got in at the other, but I succeeded and caged him.

The elephants are by far the most dangerous in the menagerie. They can never be depended on. One bad elephant is worse than a dozen lions. They will try to kill their keepers when they get ugly, and when an elephant is thoroughly enraged he will stop at nothing. Every year all male elephants who have reached a certain age will have a spell of viciousness. This period keeps up for a month to six weeks, and at such times the elephant is always very dangerous. Lions and tigers will obey half a dozen or more masters, but elephants will only obey one.

One man is sufficient to look out for a herd of elephants. Of course he has helpers, but he alone is the master of the elephants. The keeper, when an elephant is going to become vicious, prepares for it by chaining the big beast. The elephant Tip that was killed up in Central Park could have been kept in this way and would have got over his ugly fit in a short time. The idea of killing an elephant at such times is absurd. No first-class elephant man would think of such a thing.

When I was with another circus they had a big elephant named Sampson. Sampson was nearly as big as Jumbo and was every bit as gentle. He used to carry a band on his back. Afterwards we made it a feature of the parade to have a whole lot of children—fifteen or more—on his back. We used to advertise marriages on Sampson's back under the canvas.

One day I noticed that Sampson showed signs of an ugly temper, and I made up my mind that I would have to chain him up in a few days. On this day he had sixteen children on his back, and they had just got off and we were going into the tent when Sampson showed his temper.

He came for my cage and upset it. I crawled out, but before I could do anything Sampson had attacked the horses attached to the cage. They were four big grays, but he knocked them down and trampled on them. I got a pitchfork and jabbed it into Sampson's hindquarters. He turned on me and I ran behind a lot of cages. He came after me and knocked over eight of the cages trying to get at me. Mr. Cole was with me and I told him to get me a horse or the elephant would wreck the whole show.

He got me the horse and I attracted Sampson's attention and made him take after me. His fore feet were chained together loosely, and another chain ran from the middle of the foot-chain to a collar about his neck. I led him along the railroad track in hope that his chains would catch in the ties and throw him, but it didn't work. He kept right after me. At last I procured a shotgun, with a lot of cartridges loaded with buckshot.

I fired seventeen loads of buckshot into the elephant before I could turn him. When he at last ran I fired three more into him. Then I got him in between two flat cars and he gave up.

WRITERS OF FICTION.

Rudyard Kipling is said to have been jilted by six London girls before he wooed and won his American wife.

John Jacob Astor was annoyed because a Londoner asked him if his recently published novel was to be translated into English.

The Scotch writer of stories, S. R. Crockett, says that he began his literary career by publishing a volume of poems which no one read.

The neighbors of the present Lord Tennyson think he is a great poet. One of them recently remarked to a stranger: "He carries on the business now."

To Emerson is this story attributed: On being asked by a friend what he lectured for, he replied: "F-a-m-e." "What do you mean by that?" inquired the other. "Fifty and my expenses."

Alphonse Daudet has nearly completed a new novel, "Le Soutied de Famille," whose hero is a Russian student living in Paris. Another novel, "La Petite Paroisse," dealing with life in a small French town, is ready, and will soon be published as a serial.

WHAT REAL TASTE IS.

Merely a Clever Appreciation of "the Eternal Fitness of Things."

From whence that most suggestive and admirable phrase, "the eternal fitness of things," is derived, I must own myself at a loss to say, but whoever first originated it deserves our heartiest thanks for expressing so clearly and in so small a compass what we instinctively feel to be a great truth. For, though Eternal Fitness is probably one of the mighty laws which govern this universe itself, it is so all-embracing that it applies with equal force to our own little lives, and ought to regulate —even if it does not—our mode of garbing ourselves and decorating our homes. Indeed, if only some of us could remember oftener than we do, that such a quality does actually exist, this world would be a good deal freer than it is now from the ridiculous mistakes and terrible eyesores which are continually annoying us!

For instance, who has not experienced a feeling of vexation at seeing some such error in taste as a too lavish display of jewels at the breakfast table, or a silken and trailing skirt in the street on a particularly muddy day? Worse still, do not many of us number among the houses we visit one or two where somehow the tout ensemble is not restful or pleasing to the eye, where the furniture is too aggressively new, the plate too self-evident, and our hostess herself over-dressed? The explanation of all this is generally not far to seek—the eternal fitness of things has been violated—that is all. But strangely enough the mere parvenus are not the only sinners in this respect, for people of culture, and what they are pleased to consider taste, have been known ere now to commit the most terrible solecisms. I am writing more particularly about mistakes made in furnishing, and, as a passing remark, let me venture to say that attempting to improve what already approaches as nearly as possible to perfection is one of the snares we most easily fall into. Many an Old World drawing room, once haunted with dim, sweet memories of the First Empire, has been transformed into something like a bric-a-brac shop by an inartistic crowding of Japanese or Indian curios! And many a tiny modern room has been tortured into a carcature of the aforesaid Empire salon, with an utter obliviousness of the fact that this style demands lofty ceilings and long perspectives! A terrible instance of mistaken energy of this kind came to my notice the other day.

I was visiting a friend's house in England and as it was an historic one, where, if report said true, "good Queen Bess" had once actually dined, and the young Pretender sought refuge from his enemies, I expected to find it both quaint and interesting. Upon entering the long, low hall, with its hangings of exquisitely tinted tapestries and wealth of blue china displayed above the old-fashioned chimney-piece, it seemed as if my most sanguine expectations were about to be fulfilled; but alas! a downward glance showed that the beautiful oak floor was almost entirely hidden by staring Indian rugs, and in one corner stood a terrible Japanese jar, doing duty as an umbrella stand.

But the drawing room was a sight to make angels—at least those endowed with anything like artistic proclivities—weep. It was a small room, panelled from floor to ceiling, and it had a magnificently carved chimney-piece, in the centre of which the portrait of some ancient worthy had evidently once been framed. Not that a trace of it remained now, for it had carefully been removed and replaced by a meaningless square of flowered brocade, while every scrap of oak paneling and carving had been painted ivory-white!

"And is it not too utterly charming?" inquired my volatile friend, as the writer of this article stood speechless with what she doubtless thought was admiration. "You cannot have any idea how different this room looks since I took it in hand," she continued. "It was all that horrid, dark oak, you know, and looked ever so dirty, but it really is wonderful what a difference enamel judiciously applied will make, and the whole effect is quite modern now, is it not?"

I assented.

This was indeed a case where "eternal fitness" had been compelled to give way before a fashionable craze.

Taste is not a peculiar property which some people may have and others may lack, it is merely a true appreciation of the "eternal fitness of things;" and this everybody by the exercise of that most precious gift, common sense, may obtain.

The land office has just rendered an important decision, and one entirely without precedent. The land laws require that a settler taking up government land must make improvements thereon, and in the case in question a Sac and Fox Indian, who had become a citizen and settled upon government land, was contested on the ground of not having made proper improvements. But the office holds that as he had erected a wigwam upon the land and that being all the improvement he considered necessary for comfortable living, he was entitled to the land.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Deseronto Navigation Company (Limited

Steamer Ella Ross.

This fast sailing and comfortable steamer leaves Belleville for Trenton daily (Sunday excepted), at 10 a.m. Leaves Belleville for Deseronto and Picton at 3 p.m., connecting at Deseronto with steamers for Napanee and Oswego. Lowest freight and passenger rates. For further information apply to the Rathbun Co., Bridge street, or to R. C. Carter, General Manager, Deseronto.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP cures Coughs.

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry cures Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cramps, Colic, Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum, and all looseness of the bowels. Never travel without it. Price 35c.

In parts of Peru taxes are paid in cocoa leaves and Peruvian barks.

For coughs, colds, bronchitis and all lung and throat troubles, there is no preparation of medicine can compare with Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup. It never fails to afford prompt and permanent relief. It removes all soreness, and heals the diseased parts. It immediately soothes the most troublesome cough, and by promoting expectoration, removes the mucus which stops up the air tubes which, cause difficulty in breathing, thereby gives relief to that depressing tight ness experienced in the chest. Public speakers and singers will find Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup of inestimable value, as it speedily and effectually allays all irritation, and huskiness in the throat and bronchial tubes, and gives power to the vocal cords, rendering the voice clear and sonorous. If parents wish to save the lives of their children, and themselves from much anxiety trouble and expense let them procure a bottle of Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup, and whenever a child has taken cold, has a cough or hoarseness, give the Syrup according to directions.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP heals the lungs.

A stinted wife can find a vest pocket in the dark.

Ample warning is given us by our lungs when they are in danger. If foolhardy enough to neglect the warning signal, we incur imminent peril. Check a cough at the outset with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil—which is a sovereign pulmonic—besides being a remedy for soreness, lameness, abrasions of the skin, tumors, piles, rheumatism, etc.

BURDOCK PILLS, small, safe, and sure, regulate the liver and cure constipation.

Robert Lubbork, Cedar Rapids, writes: "I have used _Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil_ both for myself and family for Diptheria with the very best results. I regard it as the best remedy for this disease, and would use no other.

Holland is the only country in Europe that admits coffee free of duty.

DYSPEPSIA arises from wrong action of stomach, liver and bowels. Burdock Blood Bitters cures Dyspepsia and all diseases arising from it, 99 times in 100.

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER Rejoice Together.

Nine Year Old Maggie McRitchie, a Victim of Chronic Fainting Spells and Nervous Weakness, Completely Cured by South American Nervine After all Other Efforts had failed. The Mother, a Sufferer From Nervous Prostration and Indigestion, Likewise Cured. Hear What the Thankful Father Has to Say.

MRS. JAMES McRITCHIE AND DAUGHTER.

A leading local physician, whose profession takes him among the children of the various public institutions, remarked to the writer, that one would hardly believe that so many children were affected by nervous troubles, which sap the system and prevent proper development. In many cases the doctors are powerless to cure these troubles. They can relieve the suffering little ones, but in South American Nervine we have a medicine that does more than simply give relief. Its peculiar strength is that it completely cures where physicians relieve. A case in point came to us the 24th ult., in a letter from Mr. James W. McRitchie of Bothwell, Ont. He says :—"My daughter Maggie, aged 9 years, was afflicted with nervous fainting spells for over a year, which left her in such a condition of weakness afterwards that the child was practically an invalid. We tried several remedies and doctored with her in one way and another, but nothing gave relief. Seeing South American Nervine advertised, as particularly efficacious in nervous diseases, I decided on trying it for her, and I must say that I noticed a decided change in my daughter for the better after she had taken only a few doses. As a result of using this medicine, she is now entirely free from those fainting spells and possessed of that life and brightness that is the happy lot of childhood. I am satisfied it is an excellent medicine for any nervous weakness. My experience has been further supplemented in the fact that my wife has also been using South American Nervine for indigestion, dyspepsia and nervous prostration, and has found very great relief."

Whether the patient be man or woman, young or old, South American Nervine provides a complete medium for restoration to health. It is a medicine differing absolutely from every other. A cure is effected by application to the nerve centres of the human system, and science has proved that when these nerve centres are kept healthy the whole body is healthy. For these reasons failure is impossible.

Sold by L. W Yeomans and P. Templeton.

DRESSMAKERS DIFFER

About fashions in dresses, but everyone agrees that the best foundation for any costume is the

"HEALTH BRAND,"

Black tights, which allow the figure to be shewn to perfection and do away with over-stockings, bloomers, and unnecessary skirts.

All ladies in Montreal wore them last fall and winter, and during the coming season nothing else will be considered, they were such a success.

Send for our illustrated catalogue, free by post, if your own dealer has not got them.

THE MONTREAL SILK MILLS CO., Montreal.

OXFORD WOOD and... COAL FURNACES

..FOR ALL SIZES OF BUILDINGS..

Capacity from 10,000 to 80,00 Cubic Feet

"CYCLONE STEEL RADIATOR"

OXFORD WOOD FURNACE

WOOD FURNACE

HEAVY GRATE, especially adapted for wood burning
Heavy Steel Plate Fire Box Dome and Radiator, which heat quicker and are more durable
RADIATOR of Modern Construction and Great Heating Power
LARGE ASH PIT

COAL FURNACE

Large Combustion Chamber
Long Fire Travel, encircling radiator
Large Heating Surface
Large Feed Door
Sectional Fire Pot
Rotating Bar Dumping Grate
DEEP ASH PIT

Full Guaranteed Capacity : Send for... CATALOGUE and TESTIMONIAL BOOK.

....Manufactured by....

The GURNEY FOUNDRY COMPANY Ltd., TORONTO.

TO THE PUBLIC.

When we decided to add the manufacure of carriages, phaetons, democrats, &c., to our business, we immediately put under construction a few of each. As we decided to place no vehicle on the market which is not A 1 in in every detail, and knowing that no first-class vehicle can be produced on the rush, it has been necessary for us to take sufficient time to produce what we aimed at. We think we have succeeded; and we now have a few rigs completed, and others nearing completion to offer for sale. The iron work is all hand forged; the wood work carefully made, and strongly ironed; and the painting and upholstering done with the best material and greatest care. We can freely recommend these rigs. We will be pleased to have parties who may need anything in the above line, call and inspect our work.

ST. CHARLES & PRINGLE.

JAS ST CHARLES. — — — — HENRY PRINGLE

The Daily Intelligencer.

LET THERE BE HARMONY IN THINGS ESSENTIAL—LIBERALITY IN THINGS NOT ESSENTIAL—CHARITY IN ALL.

VOL 28. BELLEVILLE ONTARIO MONDAY OCTOBER 29 1894 NO 151

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

MEDICAL.

DR. WISHART.

47 GROSVENOR ST., Toronto, will b at the Huffman House, Belleville, Saturday, Dec. 1st, '94. 192dwly

DR. QUACKENBUSH, M.D., H.M.D., M.D., P.S.O.

HOMŒOPATHIC Physician, Surgeon and Accoucheur, has removed his office over store lately occupied by J. C. verell, Residence George St., opposite H. Corby's.

JOHN J. FARLEY, M. D., C. M., M. R. C. S. England.

OFFICE and Residence—corner of Bridge and George Streets—three streets east of Post Office.

LEGAL.

FLINT & McCAMON.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public, etc. Solicitors for the Canadian Bank of Commerce. Office, City Hall, Front Street, Belleville, Ont. d84tf
JOHN J. B. FLINT, W. J. McCAMON.

STEWART MASSON.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, Notary, Conveyancer, etc. Office, South side Bridge st., over Wallbridge & Clark's, Belleville, Ont, Money to loan at lowest rates. 76dwtf

J. F. WILLS' LAW OFFICE.

REMOVED to Campbell Street (south side) 2nd door from Front street, on ground floor.

A. GOODRICH.

LAWYER, 124 Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill., 28 years' experience; secrecy; special facilities in several States; Goodrich on Divorce; with laws of all States in press. 76d1y

GEO. A. KINGSTON.

BARRISTER. Solicitor, etc., with Lount, Marsh and Cameron, 25 Toronto St., Toronto. Money to loan on farm property at lowest rates. 233dtf9w.

MIKEL & ROBERTS.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notary Public, Conveyancers, etc. Offices Bridge St., Belleville. Monies to loan at lowest rate.

THOMAS & HALLIWELL.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Conveyancers, &c, Money to loan. 293d3mwly
J. PARKER THOMAS, J. EARL HALLIWELL.

PONTON & MORDEN,

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public Conveyancers. Office over Express and Telegraph Office, Bridge St., Belleville. Money to loan—private funds.
WM. N. PONTON, M. A., Solicitor Hastings Loan and Investment Society.
W. S. MORDEN, B. A.

F. GUSS PORTER.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, Notary Public. etc. Office in the Robertson Block, east side of Front Street.
☞Private Money to Loan, 271dwly

FRANCIS S. WALLBRIDGE.

(Successor to Hon. Lewis Wallbridge, Q.C.) BARRISTER, Solicitor, Conveyancer, etc. Office, McAnnany building, corner Front and Bridge streets, Belleville, Ont. Private and Company money to loan at 6 per cent., on easy terms upon good land security. Charges moderate.

HENRY CARRE, C. E.
M.C. Soc C.E.,
DOMINION AND PROVINCIAL LAND SURVEYOR.

Special attention paid to Hydraulics and Land Drainage. Patents obtained and Drawings made. Office—McAnnany Block, under Ontario Business College, Front St. P.O. address—Box 203, Belleville.

A. G. NORTHRUP.

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Shire Hall, Belleville. 226dtwly

D. I. DULMAGE, L.D.S., D.D.S. (Tor. University).

DENTIST—Office over Brignall & Thompson's. Night calls at residence on Forin Street d,w

CHAS. JOSE.

VETERINARY Surgeon, Graduate Ontario Veterinary College, Member Ontario Veterinary Society. Office and residence, Foxboro, Ont. Calls by mail or telegram promptly attended to. 304d,wly

MISCELLANEOUS.

AGENCY of the Liverpool and London and Globe Fire and Life Insurance Companies.
W. P. HUDSON, Agent.
Office Campbell street, Belleville. d,w

-PLUMBING-

We have added to our Workmen,

MR, GEORGE JOHNSON,

Who has for the past six years been prominent on large contracts in Victoria, B. C., San Francisco, Denver, and Chicago.

— — ALSO — —

MR. EDWIN W. BISHOP,

A graduate of the New York School for Plumbing (class 92), who comes highly recommended.

With these men added to our staff, we feel sure of giving satisfactory to all in Sanitary Plumbing.

C. F. Smith & Co.

STOVE PIPES!
STOVE PIPES!!
STOVE PIPES!!!

WHIPS! LANTERNS!
WHIPS!! LANTERNS!!
WHIPS!!! LANTERNS!!!

Lamps, Flower Pots,
Lamps, Flower pots,
Lamps, Flower Pots.

—AT—

THE FAIR,

FRANK WEEKS, MANAGER.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

ACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York.

Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

Mrs. May Johnson.

Ayer's Pills

"I have taken Ayer's Pills for many years, and always derived the best results from their use.

For Stomach and Liver

troubles, and for the cure of headache caused by these derangements, Ayer's Pills cannot be equaled. They are easy to take, and

Are the Best

all-round family medicine I have ever known."—MRS. MAY JOHNSON, 368 Rider Ave., New York City.

AYER'S PILLS
Highest Awards at World's Fair.
Ayer's Sarsaparilla for the blood.

"FOR THE BENEFIT OF RHEUMATIC SUFFERERS,"

ACETOCURA
MADE ME
ANOTHER MAN

G. H. REEVES,
(Reeves & Beebe),
169 State street, Chicago.
Coutts & Sons,
72 Victoria street, Toronto.

Write for gratis pamphlet to COUTTS & Sons, 72 Victoria street, Toronto. Head offices—London, Glasgow and Manchester, (G.B.) Cologne, Germany, Aaron, Switzerland.

Local Agents—
L. W. YEOMANS & CO.,
DRUGGISTS,
BELLEVILLE.

CANADIAN PACIFIC RY.

WILL RUN HUNTERS' EXCURSIONS
TO MUSKOKA LAKES
AND ALL STATIONS.
MATTAWA, NEPIGON,
SPANISH RIVER
AND INTERMEDIATE STATIONS
OCT. 19 and 20
OCT. 26 and 27
NOV. 2 and 3

When Round Trip Tickets will be sold for

SINGLE FIRST CLASS FARE

Good for Return until Dec. 1st, 1894.

For business passing through Toronto, rates to above points will not be less than 25 cents added to ordinary Round Trip Rates to Toronto.

Dogs, Guns, Personal Baggage, Camp Equipments, to the amount of 200 lbs will be carried FREE.

S. BURROWS,
General Ticket Agent, Belleville

Daily Intelligencer.

CABLE NEWS FROM LONDON

How England Would be Affected by the Death of the Czar.

IT WILL BE BAD FOR FRANCE

The Czarewitch Not Likely to be as Favorably Disposed as the Emperor—His Marriage Will Bind Him Closer to England—Lord Rosebery's Adverse Criticism of the Little England Party.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—George Smalley cables to the Tribune from London: The great issues which hang upon the Czar's life have kept all eyes fixed all the week on Livada. Down to Wednesday his death was thought a question of days if not hours. Since then the bulletins have been slightly better, and there is now some hope that he may live for weeks; none that he may recover. Probably there is no responsible statesman in Europe who does not look with dread to the possibilities which his death opens. What Lord Rosebery said at Sheffield on Thursday is no more than what all Europe feels. He spoke for all Europe when he described the Czar as "a monarch whose watchword and whose reign and whose character have been the worship of truth and the worship of peace." The Prime Minister and late foreign minister of Great Britain knows whereof he speaks when he affirms publicly that "if peace had not been broken in more than one instance during late years it is due as much to the character and influence of the Emperor of Russia as to any other cause we can mention."

Such a tribute from such a source and from the head of a state often necessarily in collision with Russia has never been paid to another sovereign nor was ever better deserved.

France may learn from it that she has no monopoly of interest in the ruler of Russia. There are European interests less selfish than hers. France, indeed, has been in a panic since it became known that the Czar's life was in imminent danger. She sees slipping away from her the support on which she counted. She would not take warning by the recent declaration of the Czar's minister most in his confidence that Russia would be no party to an aggressive war, whether France or any other power began it. She relied blindly on Cronstadt and Toulon and on a few civil words from Copenhagen, where the Czar was visiting, while Paris was in delirium.

It is no secret that on his visit here the Czarewitch showed himself cordial and sympathetic.

The Queen's influence over him was thought to be great, and an influence of that kind still counts for much. His marriage with Princess Alix of Hesse brings him near to the royal family of England. The days of alliances based on marriage ties are not quite over. They are certainly not over in Russia, where old ideas and old feelings of consanguinity and connection are still strong. Russia would not understand her new Emperor if he showed himself hostile to a fellow sovereign whose granddaughter he weds. The French know all this, vaguely if not accurately, and it adds to their depression. Elsewhere it adds to the security of the future, for it is everywhere felt that aggression is more likely from France than from any other power and that it is less likely if the new Emperor lends it no countenance.

But the shadow of death is a warning which even the French cannot disregard. It covers France with gloom, and it is the more menacing because no man quite knows what the Czarewitch thinks and feels and intends. He may prove as friendly to France as his father. It is more probable that he will prove less so. He has kept his own counsel. No word publicly spoken by him can be quoted but those mostly likely to know privately describe him privately as anti-French and friendly to England. Anti-French in the sense that he will not strengthen, but probably loosen the ties, whatever they be which bind or are supposed to bind France and Russia. Friendly to England from personal predilections and family connections.

France will draw comforting conclusion from that part of the Prime Ministers Rosebery's Sheffield speech touching Madagascar. He declares that in no recent negotiations between France and England has the word Madagascar been mentioned. She will at once understand that she is to have a free hand in Madagascar and a message is doubtless already on its way to her Buccaneering envoy, M. LeMyre de Vilers that he need give no thought to England. True Lord Rosebery limits his remark. He assumes that France will do nothing more than she may rightly do under her protectorate. Is Siam forgotten so soon? the French idea of what may rightly be done under pretence of protecting Madagascar w[illegible] soon be made clear and England is l[illegible]ely enough to find France solidly estal[illegible]shed on the flank of her one road to Ind[illegible] over the high seas.

The French press, never well or quickly informed, had received yesterday but an imperfect summary of Lord Rosebery's words, and their comments are cautious. They snatch at his recognition of a French protectorate over Madagascar, as if there had been some doubt whether Lord Rosebery might not repudiate the unlucky Salisbury agreement of 1890. This is absurd. They will like much less his frank declaration next day against the channel tunnel, that mad scheme to which Mr. Gladstone under Sir Edward Watkins' influence, and in his most cosmopolitan mood, lent his ill-considered sanction.

The Prime Minister's Sheffield speech is a clear appeal to the patriotic sentiment of the nation and there is a clear response. He has set his foot on the little England faction. He describes it in terms which they will not forgive and others will not forget as "the party of a small England, of a shrunken England, of a degraded England, of a neutral England, of submissive England." That party, says Lord Rosebery, has died. It is at any rate now buried beneath all these adjectives. The Sheffield speech is its funeral oration. The fact that certain conspicuous members of it are also members, conspicuous and otherwise, of Lord Rosebery's cabinet, gives point to the oration.

Nobody ever supposed that the present Prime Minister had the least sympathy with that party. His predecessor perhaps had. More than once Lord Rosebery came into collision with Mr. Gladstone on questions which involved the greater question, whether little England or greater Britain was to prevail. More than once Mr. Gladstone had to decide whether he would give way or lose his foreign minister. He always gave way. Now that Mr. Gladstone is gone Sir William Harcourt and Mr. Labouchere are commonly supposed to be the leaders of the clique which regards Holland as the ideal commonwealth which England ought to copy. Mr. Labouchere has hardly a following. Sir William's sphere is finance. The policy of the Liberal party is the policy of the Prime Minister.

Mr. Asquith, who may be called the labor member of Lord Rosebery's cabinet, has been speaking on labor. This is his third speech this week. The others are of no great importance, but this is important because of the Home Secretary's relations to the labor party. It is to both sides a disappointing speech, and for the same reason that it is the speech of a politician not of a statesman. It is an open attempt to catch votes. The workingmen see that just as plainly as those who are not workingmen. Mr. Asquith, while civil, extremely civil, to every shade and set of labor leaders, depreciates the formation of a labor party as such. He invites laborers to put their trust in Liberalism, and tells them truly enough that to organize a third party will help the Conservatives.

The purient fanatics of the London county council have triumphed, and a license has been refused to the Empire Theatre, except on condition that the promenade be closed and no drinks sold in the auditorium. The music halls are, I hear, waiting, all considering that a stand must be made unless they are all to be made or all placed under petticoat ordinances. The effect on the next county council election promises to be considerable. The workingmen of London don't like their amusements interfered with, and don't like being told they cannot take care of themselves. Grandmotherly government, whether parliamentary or municipal, is unpopular in this country. Unpopular also is the obvious unfairness of the council in singling out one hall, condemning it on the volunteered testimony of amateur purists and leaving two others in full blast. The Empire has closed and its 600 employes are on the streets.

Slowly, but I think surely, the project for rescuing Carlyle's house in Chelsea from decay and desecration is taking shape. Messrs. Lumsden and Miller, who conceived it, have shown tact as well as energy and patience. They have secured some very strong names for their committee, including the Duke of Argyle, Baroness Burdett Coutts, Dr. Garnett, of the British Museum, and Mr. John Bigelow. More good American names would be welcomed and, of course, American subscriptions. Carlyle's niece lends her sanction and name and has promised gifts of relics, including the furniture, books and pictures which once belonged to Carlyle. The house, if acquired, will soon become a museum. Those concerned hope that Americans will be not less interested than Englishmen in thus setting up an international memorial to the great writer.

ARE THEY RETALIATING?

The Probable Cause of Germany's Prohibition of American Cattle.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—The World has the following despatch from Washington.

The German Ambassador has informed the Secretary of State that Germany will prohibit the importation of beef and cattle from this country on the ground that cattle imported from this country have been found to be infected by Texas fever. While this is the ostensible ground, there is little doubt that Germany is seeking to retaliate for the imposition by the tariff law of a discriminating duty upon German beet sugar.

During the consideration of the tariff bill the German Ambassador called attention to the fact that the discrimination would violate an existing treaty stipulation. In a treaty made many years ago with Prussia, a treaty still in force, this Government agreed that Prussian imports should not be discriminated against but should receive the treatment accorded to the most favored nation. Notwithstanding this fact, congress passed the tariff bill with the 1-10 cent discriminating tax included. Of course the state department will not talk upon the subject as it is the rule of the diplomats to cover themselves with the cloak of secrecy; but there is good reason to believe that the officials of this Government admit to themselves at last that the attitude of this country is indefensible. The law must be executed, however, and it seems that the state department can do nothing. The supposition that the action of Germany is meant as a retaliation finds support in the fact that Texas fever is non-communicable by diseased cattle and that the meat of cattle afflicted by the ailment is not considered harmful.

Secretary Morton sent to the Secretary of State this communication, in reply to a notice of the action of Germany:

"Referring to your communication in regard to the prohibition of American cattle and fresh beef by Germany, please represent to the American Ambassador that the Texas fever is not communicated by diseased cattle so that even if the reported discovery of this disease is correct there is no danger to German cattle; also that meat of the cattle affected by this disease has never been shown to be dangerous to the consumer. This Government inspected all meat exports and certifies that the cattle were free from disease when slaughtered. A vigorous protest should be entered against the proposed action."

CRUEL BRAZILIANS.

They Bury Men Alive and Set Fire to the Women.

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay Oct. 29.—An American newspaper correspondent, who has just arrived here overland from Rio de Janerio, having passed through the entire intervening country, reports that he saw on the way the bodies of fourteen men who had been buried alive in a standing position by order of Brazilian commanders, but with their heads exposed, and would have perished either from starvation or from the attacks of the vultures, which had eaten out their eyes and picked the skulls bare of flesh.

At San Mateo the clothing of women suspected of sympathy with the revolution had been saturated with oil and set on fire. While the women were burning the soldiers were ordered to shoot and wound, but not to kill them. The correspondent says some of his fingers were torn off after she had been subjected to torture by the extraction of the nails.

A Serious Charge.

BRAMPTON, Oct. 29.—Detective Wasson of the College of Physicians and Surgeons, in company with High Constable Hurst, Saturday, arrested Andrew Vanwink on a charge of attempting to procure an abortion. Prisoner was brought up and remanded pending subpœneing of witnesses.

All Rescued Alive.

IRON MOUNTAIN, Mich., Oct. 29.—The work of rescuing the imprisoned miners at the Pewabic mine has been accomplished. They were hoisted to the surface safely and without a mark after having been entombed for more than forty-three hours.

Franch's Execution.

BARCELONA, Oct. 29.—Salvator Franch, the anarchist who threw the bomb in the Liceo Theatre a year ago, will probably be executed on November 7, the anniversary of his crime.

VERDICT FOR MRS. HARTLEY

Acquitted of the Charge of Having Murdered Her Husband.

THE JURY WAS OUT THREE HOURS

Three Men Were Committed to the Cells for Forty-Eight Hours Because They Cheered the Finding—Mr. Osler Made a Stirring Address of Two Hours' Duration.

BRANTFORD, Oct. 29.—On the fourth day of the Hartley murder trial a large number of farmers from the vicinity of New Durham crowded the court and listened to all the details of the trial with intense interest.

The defence was commenced, and Mr. Osler put forward witnesses to show that Ling has a bad reputation for veracity.

The first witness was John Hill, of New Durham. I know Louis Henry Ling. He has not a very good reputation for veracity in the neighborhood of New Durham. I would not like to believe him on oath. His reputation was not good for truthfulness before the death of Caleb Hartley.

I have been called "Mr. Slick" as a nickname, but I do not know the reason why.

I think his reputation is attributed to the rumors regarding the relations between himself and Mrs. Hartley.

I have heard his character for untruthfulness spoken of before last Christmas, but cannot recall the names. Most of the talk I have heard concerning Ling's untruthfulness has been spoken since Hartley's death, and the chief reason I have for not believing him is a talk I had with him myself.

Jacob Moore, of Norwich, said: Ling had made no reputation for telling the truth. I would not care to believe him on oath. Ling worked for me about nine years ago, and while with me he lied to me several times. What he told me, together with what my neighbors said about him since, leads me to say I would not believe him on oath.

Robert Kelly, of Wyndham Township, said: Ling worked for me two years ago, I did not find him truthful and his reputation for veracity was not good. From my own knowledge and what I have heard about him I would not like to believe him on oath.

The whole day was taken up with this kind of evidence.

After producing twenty witnesses to swear that they would not believe Ling upon oath, the defence rested their case. Counsel began at one o'clock to address the jury.

Mr. Osler made the most powerful address of his career. He began by pointing out the gravity of the case, and drew the attention of the jury to the fact that it was a woman and not a man with whom they were dealing. He claimed that there was a marked absence of sufficient motive for the crime, inasmuch as the amount of money to be realized was small. He then proceeded to castigate Ling. He pointed out the fact that twenty people who had known him for some time (some for many years) had said on oath that they would not believe him. Most had declared that even his sworn statement could not be relied upon. Ling, he said, was the man who had committed the crime and not Mrs. Hartley.

There was a motive for this. Once Hartley was dead Ling would have the money and the woman.

Mr. Osler then asked the jury not to condemn Mrs. Hartley, but to do what was just—to acquit her.

The jury retired at 7 o'clock.

At 10.15 they returned to court, when the foreman announced that they had found the prisoner, Marie Hartley, not guilty of the charge.

A loud cheer at once burst from the audience, which was immediately suppressed.

The judge ordered three of the offenders to the cells for forty-eight hours as a punishment.

The prisoner was warned of the narrow escape she had and was thereupon discharged.

NEALE IN MONTREAL.

The Absconding Sub-Collector of Customs on His Way to Regina.

MONTREAL, Oct. 29.—Captain Perry Neale, the absconding sub collector of customs, St. Mary's, N.W.T., is in Montreal, and will leave to-night for Regina in charge of Inspector O'Leary, of the Dominion police force, Ottawa, where his trial will take place in due course. The prisoner is accused of having embezzled some $6,000 of government money collected in the course of his duties. He fled on August 30th last, and, crossing the line, left New York on one of the Cunarders, but electricity is faster than steam, and long before he set foot in England the news of his flight had been flashed across and he had spent but one day in the metropolis when he was apprehended, the arrest taking place on the 18th September. Inspector O'Leary was sent over to bring him back.

The prisoner is but another added to the long list of alcohol's victims. He has always enjoyed an excellent character, was very well known in the territory, where his good conduct and ability had earned him the position of captain in the Northwest mounted police, an office which he filled with honor for many years before accepting the position as sub-collector. Neale feels his position keenly and now that it is too late expresses the deepest remorse for his rash act. What adds to the sadness of the event is the fact of his having left behind a wife and family, on whom the brunt of the misfortune will fall. At the time of his arrest the larger part of the amount of his defalcation was found on his person.

Twelve Burned to Death.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 29.—A fire which resulted in the death of at least twelve persons and the injury of three more broke out in the West Street House at Columbia and West streets yesterday. The flames broke out so suddenly and so fiercely that the occupants of the building were taken by surprise, and there was a wild panic, men and women jumping from the windows in their night clothing. An explosion was heard in the kitchen in the rear part of the second story by S. F. Butler, a son of the proprietor, and immediately the flames began to spread rapidly through the dry inner timber of the corrugated iron building.

Young Man Suicides.

NEWBORO, Oct. 29.—George Ferguson, a young man about 30 years old, committed suicide on Friday by hanging himself to a tree in the woods about a mile north of Crosby station. He left Mr. James Stout's on Thursday evening to go to his mother's, about a mile distant, to stay over night. He went to bed and that was the last seen of him until his body was found yesterday morning about half a mile in the woods. He was slightly deranged lately.

SURPRISE SOAP
LASTS LONGEST GOES FARTHEST.
The cheapest Soap to Use. 181

Why

Don't You Use

Surprise Soap?

IT does away with hard work, —dont boil or scald the clothes nor give them the usual hard rubbing. (See the directions on the wrapper).

It gives the whitest, sweetest, cleanest clothes after the wash.

It prevents wearing and tearing by harsh soaps and hard rubs. Rub lightly with Surprise Soap,—the dirt drops out. Harmless to hands and finest fabrics.

THE ST. CROIX SOAP M'F'G. CO., ST. STEPHEN, N. B.

ROSEBERY'S PROGRAMME.

How He Will Probably Handle the House of Lords.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—The Sun's London cable says: "Somewhat contrary to general expectation, Lord Rosebery at Bradford Saturday night made a good rousing speech, which will be likely to satisfy every Liberal, except perhaps Henry Labouchere and two or three eccentric politicians who follow his lead.

"Lord Rosebery cannot see his way to abolish the Lords off-hand. That could only be done, he says, by a revolution but his announcement amounts to this, that the House of Commons is to pass at the next session a couple of good radical measures, say the disestablishment of the alien church in Wales and a land bill in Ireland. As soon as the Lords attempt to mutilate these bills or actually reject them the Commons will pass a resolution declaring themselves supreme in legislative matters and calling the attention of the peers to their unjustifiable assumption of despotic power.

"Then the Government will appeal to the country upon the direct understanding of the issue of the Commons against the Lords. If the general election should shoulder the result by a strong Liberal majority the Government would be in a position to deal with the Lords in more drastic fashion, without much fear that they would have the courage to offer serious resistance to the expressed will of the people. The programme is not heroic, but is sensible and practicable, and as such the country is certain to approve of it."

AN ENCOURAGING REPORT.

A Very Hopeful Statement on the Czar's Case Received at Washington.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Prince Cantacuzene, the Russian Minister to the United States, yesterday received the following satisfactory bulletin as to the condition of the Russian Emperor, from the Minister of Foreign Affairs:

"ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 28.—The Emperor slept well on Friday night. Yesterday his appetite was good and the function of the heart more satisfactory. General condition better. Œdema has not increased."

The Prince feels very greatly encouraged at the receipt of this telegram, which carries the story of the Emperor's condition down to Saturday night. The fact that the Emperor is improving, however slightly, is in itself a matter for congratulation and encourages the hope that he may ultimately recover.

The further fact that the marriage of the Crown Prince and the Princess Alix has not been performed is regarded in diplomatic circles as additional proof that the Emperor's condition is not as serious as has been reported. Had his death been imminent the wedding would have been expedited. Its postponement justifies the belief that the Emperor is improving and that the hope is indulged by his family that he may rally sufficiently to be present.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—A Herald special from Sapulka, I.T., says: The Cook gang, undiminished in numbers, as defiant as ever, were sighted near here yesterday. They were not moving and seemed in no hurry to break camp there. If such be the case a battle between the bandits and pursuers will surely be fought within the next few hours, as the two bodies are only a short distance apart. Matters in Fort Gibson are growing worse daily. Cook men were riding and shooting in the streets all last night. "Bill" Cook will be shot on sight. The Indian police have received orders to that effect, and they are sure to get the first glimpse of him.

The Ahr Valley.

It is becoming the custom among European travellers to stop at Remagen on the Rhine, and make a little excursion to the beautiful Valley of the Ahr, with its picturesque villages along the vine clad slope. Here is also located the spring from which flows that world wide favorite "Apollinaris Water." At Neuenahr, in the valley, the river Ahr is very beautiful, and one can find few more quaintly attractive spots than the Upper Gate at Ahrweiler, or the old mill at Heppingen.

It takes many well to make a drunkard's laugh.

For Over Fifty Years

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhœa. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by druggists throughout the world. 17d&wly

Dyspepsia or Indigestion is occasioned by the want of action of the biliary ducts, loss of vitality in the stomach to secrete the gastric juices without which digestion cannot go on; also, being the principal cause of headache. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills taken before going to bed, for a while, never fail to give relief and effect a cure. Mr. F. W. Ashdown, Ashdown Ont., writes: "Parmelee's Pills are taking the lead against ten other makes which I have in stock"

Don't put your secrets in the advertising columns.

Burdock Blood Bitters cures all diseases of the blood from a common Pimple to the worst Scrofulous Sores or Ulcers. Skin Diseases, Boils, Blotches and all Blood Humors cannot resist its healing powers.

Beware the strength born of carrying all the burdens.

GENTLEMEN.—I have used your Yellow Oil and have found it unequalled for burns, sprains, bruises, scalds, rheumatism, croup and colds. All who use it recommend it. Mrs Hight, Montreal.

Temptation rallies more on suggestion than exposure.

Steamer "Iona"

Will leave Belleville three times each week for Oswego, connecting with trains for New York.

Wanted!

10,000 People of the City of Belleville, to buy the famous

ENGLISH SPICED SAUSAGE!

Manufactured by

McGUINNESS,
Front Street.

Tender Loins, Feet, Ribs, Hocks and Fresh Heads, Choice Roasts 9c. per lb.

= SILKS =

We have in stock a full line of the

Corticelli Embroidery and Knitting Silks

-- IN --

Honiton Lace Emb'y Silk.
Outline do do
Knitting Silk,
Twist Embroidery,
Roman Floss,
Filo Floss.

— ALSO —

27 INCH PURE JAPANESE SILK IN

LIGHT BLUE,
CREAM,
ROSE PINK,
CORAL PINK,
BUTTERCUP,
CARDINAL,

BLACK = SILKS!

In all the leading makes.

J. P. THOMPSON & CO.

ALLAN LINE,

Royal Mail Steamships. Liverpool. Calling at Moville.

	From Montreal daylight	From Quebec
PARISIAN	Oct. 6	Oct. 7
MONGOLIAN	" 13	" 14
HIBERNIAN	" 20
LAURENTIAN	" 27	" 28
NUMIDIAN	Nov. 3	Nov. 3
PARISIAN	" 10	" 11

RATES OF PASSAGE.

First cabin Derry and Liverpool, $45 and upwards single; $95 and upwards return. Second cabin, Liverpool, Derry, Belfast, Glasgow, $30; return $55. Steerage at lowest rates (everything found).

All steamships except the Hibernian carry 1st cabin, 2nd cabin and steerage passengers.

STATE LINE SERVICE
NEW YORK, LONDONDERRY AND GLASGOW.

STATE OF NEBRASKA	Oct. 12
STATE OF CALIFORNIA	" 26
STATE OF NEBRASKA	Nov. 22

Cabin passage, $40 and upward, return $80 and upward; Second cabin $25. Steerage at lowest rates.

For tickets and other information apply to
U. E. THOMPSON
General Ticket Agency,
Bridge St., Belleville
or to S. BURROWS,
Agent

Weak Women

and all mothers who are nursing babies derive great benefit from Scott's Emulsion. This preparation serves two purposes. It gives vital strength to mothers and also enriches their milk and thus makes their babies thrive.

Scott's Emulsion

is a constructive food that promotes the making of healthy tissue and bone. It is a wonderful remedy for Emaciation, General Debility, Throat and Lung Complaints, Coughs, Colds, Anaemia, Scrofula and Wasting Diseases of Children.

Send for Pamphlet on Scott's Emulsion. Free.

Scott & Bowne. Belleville. All Druggists. 50c. & $1.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, MONDAY, OCT. 29.

LAURIER THE INDEFINITE.

The Montreal Star (Independent) commences an article on Laurier's western tour as follows:—

The demon of indefiniteness seems to have dogged the steps of Mr. Laurier all through his sunny western tour. It appeared with a malignant grin in the Winnipeg press at the very beginning of his voyage into the prairies; it turned up with impish persistence in his wake all the way out to the Pacific; it inspired countless criticisms of the eloquent and pleasing gentleman in British Columbia; and now on the home journey it is complacently spoiling the crop he has so laboriously sown along the fertilely discontented strip of prairie settlement. The men of the Northwest and the Pacific coast feel their need of a more sympathetic government policy; the liberal leader is superlatively the man to lay a sympathetic policy before a discontented people in an effective way. These two complements have been brought together in the west during these early autumn days, and the result is that the people are asking, But what is the "sympathetic policy?" There is one thing that the most eloquent pleader cannot get along entirely without, and that is a case.

The Star proceeds to quote the Brandon Times criticism of Laurier's speech at Brandon, to the effect that even his political friends were not satisfied with his vague and uncertain deliverances. It then continues:

"It is the old weakness. The Brandon Times may or may not be a friendly critic, but it only repeats the complaint that has followed Mr. Laurier from Winnipeg to Vancouver, and from Vancouver to Winnipeg. There has been a unanimity in hostile criticism on this point. And it will not do in this case to plead that no man can please those who vote with the opposite party. Mr. Laurier must please his old opponents in the Northwest, if he is to bring back any grapes as evidence of his journey into that land of promise."

Well, so far there is no evidence that he converted anybody. He has passed through the country (in Sir William VanHorne's private car), made a number of flowery speeches, had a number of bouquets presented to him, kissed a number of pretty damsels, and no doubt made the acquaintance of a goodly number of excellent people. But up to date no person has been heard from, who voted the Lib.-con. ticket last election, who has been converted to Gritism by Laurier's speeches. And, as the Star says, unless abundant results of that kind are made apparent, Laurier's western tour will be of no practical use to the Grit party when next Gritism is asked to stand up and take its thrashing.

The soul of the impecunious man
Is filled with a dose of the blues,
For he's trying to figure out how they will look
When he blackens his tan-colored shoes.
—Brooklyn Eagle.

That Joyful Feeling.

With the exhilarating sense of renewed health and strength and internal cleanliness, which follows the use of Syrup of Figs, is unknown to the few who have not progressed beyond the old time medicines and the cheap substitutes sometimes offered but never excepted by the well informed.

These be the days that bring to me
A melancholy shock;
The frost is on the pumpkin;
My overcoat in hock.
—Philadelphia Record.

TWENTY YEARS MARRIED.

Mr. and Mrs W. W. Spafford, of Sidney, Celebrate the Event.

On Saturday, the 27th inst., at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Spafford, second concession of Sidney, was the scene of a very happy gathering, the occasion being the 20th anniversary of their marriage. Among the guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wilson, Mr. Spafford sr. and his daughter Miss Jessie Spafford, Mrs. Sid. Lawrence, Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Dyer, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Spafford, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Fairman, Mr. and Mrs. C. Lawrence, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bleecker, Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Faull, Mrs. Cyrus Lawrence and a number of others.

After the usual ceremonies the guests sat down to a sumptuous dinner to which ample justice was done. It was rather puzzling to know how so much turkey could have disappeared in so short a time and nobody hurt. Dinner being over it was decided to have a programme, when many would be expected to sing, play, recite or make a speech. Mr. Fairman being chairman insisted upon all called upon to contribute to the pleasure of the hour. Mr. and Mrs. Spafford are among the best citizens and consistent christians in the country, and as a result their home is one of the most happy. Two daughters and one son grown almost to man and womanhood, grace the home. All are walking in the fear of the Lord. A number of articles in china were presented, reminding our friends that time was on the wing and that the silver wedding was not far away. Mr. Spafford made a touching reply to the congratulatory addresses, &c., and after singing by the company and prayer by Mr. Faull the happy guests separated, feeling the truthfulness of the old hymn, "Happy to meet and sorry to part and hope to meet again."

Cold in the head—Nasal Balm gives instant relief; speedily cures. Never fails.

PLUMP CHEEKS,

A clear skin, and all the other indications of good health will quickly follow the use of Campbell's famous . . . . . .

Skrei Cod Liver Oil.

It is pure and almost tasteless.

SUNDAY SERVICES.

Notes of Interest From the City Pulpits Yesterday.

Sunday morning in Bleecker St. church, the Rev. Amos Campbell, preached from St. Matt XII 28; his subject being "Christ glorified." God glorified his son, in the time preceding the text, first, in his infancy, second, in his boyhood, when he was twelve years of age, third by his miracles. God glorified his son in the future, by his agony in the garden, by his crucifiction, by his resurrection, and by his ascension. In the evening, Rev. J. B. Freeburg, preached from Genesis III 9, his subject, "The fall of man." Disobedience drove man from God and disobedience keeps him from God. He closed with an appeal to the sinners to listen to the voice of God and to the Christians to be more jealous in the cause of God.

There were good congregations in Emmanuel Ref. Epis. church, yesterday. In the morning, the Rev. J. S. Trotter reviewed the late Sunday School Convention and preached from the words of Christ, "Feed my Lambs," setting forth, who are the lambs of Christ's flock,—the kind of food necessary for them, nutritious, unadulterated, suitable,—who ought to be their feeders,—and the motive power by which Sunday School teachers ought to be actuated. In the afternoon he conducted divine service at the hospital, and in the evening he preached his third sermon on the parable of the rich man and Lazarus, from the word "remember." After speaking of the power, mystery and indestructibility of memory, he said the remembrance of earthly scenes will be retained in eternity, that memory will be more vivid, distinct, and active, and that to lost souls, memory will be one of their sorrows of misery. While in this life we ought to remember our sins, our Creator, our Redeemer, our privileges, our death, the Judgement, and that we have but one probation.

Rev. J. L. George occupied the pulpit of John St. church at both services yesterday. His morning subject was "Christian Giving," a discourse on the old system of tithes, from the words "Honor the Lord with thy substance, and the first fruits of thine increase." His subject at the evening service was "Bible Study," his text being from the 119th Psalm. The evening service was the regular monthly praise service and the choir rendered some excellent music As the introductory anthem they gave R A. Smith's "Lord Bless us Still." During the service they sang "The Radiant Morn." During the offertory Mr. Fax rendered the solo "Guide me, Keep me," in splendid voice.

Rev. Mr. Roberts preached two excellent sermons in the Tabernacle yesterday. His morning subject was "Paul's great prayer," from the words found in Ephesians III. 14, and five following verses. His evening subject was "Gospel power and human folly," from Acts, XXIV. 25.

The Bridge St. Sunday School yesterday had 622 present, an increase of 156 over the corresponding Sunday of last year. Other Sunday School Superintendents seen this morning, report a larger attendance than usual—all attributable to the Sunday School Convention. The managers of several Sunday Schools meet this week to inaugurate new departures, and to adopt suggestions received at the Convention. Bridge Street Sunday School has secured the editor elect of the Christian Guardian, the Rev. A. C. Courtice, of Kingston, for its anniversary, on Sunday, 18th November; he will preach twice.

In St. Thomas' church yesterday, Rev. Mr. Blacklock preached in the morning and Rev. Canon Burke in the evening. The evening sermon was from Mark XVI 20, "And they hent forth and preached everywhere, the Lord working with them."

Rev. E. N. Baker preached two excellent sermons in Bridge St. church yesterday from the subjects, "Purity at Home," and "The Greatest Theme."

Rev. Mr. Price preached at both services in Christ church yesterday. During the evening sermon he made the remark that the Salvation Army were nothing but blasphemers.

Large congregations assembled in Belleville Business College listened to two forcible discourses from Rev. M. W. Maclean, M. A., yesterday. The choir rendered, "Lead, Kindly Light," without an accompaniment most beautifully. The Congregational Meeting to finally decide upon rebuilding will be held to-night in the college. The subject of Mr. Maclean's morning sermon was "Love to God and Love to your Neighbor," the summary of the christian religion. The church should be a spiritual hospital, and the worst men and women should be brought within its reach. Love gives insight. The measure of true love is the whole personality of man. He first loved us. Let us come into contact Let us think. Do not let it be said that while your servant was busy here and there, the King passed by. The evening text was Acts, IV. 12: "For there is none other name." We cannot flee from sin, nor can we purchase salvation. He alone is omnipotent, omnipresent, and omniscient.

Fishing on Sunday.

"That man a perilous course doth keep,
Swept on like tides of Fundy,
Who preys—while others pray (or sleep)—
Upon the trout on Sunday.

"A prayer and sermon, closed with some Good psalm-tune like old 'Dundee,'
His sinful state would more become
Than catching trout on Sunday.

"Has he no dread of what is said
By pious Mrs Grundy:
'However can that wicked man
Go fishing on a Sunday?'

"There is an angler shrewd as he
(And craftier could none be),
Who sets a bait for sinners straight,
That fishing go on Sunday.

"Then let him heed his wicked deed,
Put up his rod till Monday,
Or he'll be fish for the devil's dish
And served up hot some Sunday."

A Railway Manager Says:

"In reply to your question do my children object to take Scott's Emulsion, I say No! on the contrary, they are fond of it and it keeps them pictures of health."

Smothered in Bran.

The Ottawa correspondent of the Empire writes: "The many friends of Mr. William Himsworth, secretary of the Department of Inland Revenue, will sympathize with him in the sad affliction which has fallen on him in the loss of his eldest son, Alfred, under very distressing circumstances. The boy, with a comrade, went to spend Saturday on the farm of Mr. Robert Bayle, on the Merivale road. A bran elevator was at work, and in playing near it young Himsworth accidentally fell into the hopper. The machinery was stopped as soon as possible, but a great deal of bran had fallen upon him, and, although he was taken out alive and medical assistance summoned, so much bran had been taken into his lungs that he died last night."

Deceased was a grandson of the late Mrs. Andrew Thomson, of this city, and had frequently visited here.

You Asthma?

R. Schiffmann, St. Paul, Minn., will mail trial package of "Schiffmann's Asthma Cure," free to any sufferer. He advertises by giving it away. Never fails to give instant relief in worst cases and cures where others fail. Name this paper and send address for a free trial package.

IN HIS YOUTH HE RAN AWAY

Chattelle Was Absent from Home for Over Thirty Years.

EARLY HISTORY OF THE MURDERER

He Was Twice in the West, Once With the James Boys and a Second Time in Search of Gold—Then He Took to the Sea—Returned Home to St. Hyacinthe Last September.

MONTREAL, Oct. 29.—A special despatch from St. Hyacinthe states that Almeda Chattelle was born in that town 52 years ago. He has two brothers and several sisters alive and married there. In his youth Chattelle was one of the altar boys there in the Roman Catholic church, and was rather a commonplace youth. While in his teens, however, he became restless, and one day disappeared from St. Hyacinthe. Year after year passed and no tidings of the missing boy reached his parents, who mourned him as one dead.

Chattelle told his friends when he was in St. Hyacinthe in September last that he never had time to make the trip from Montreal or Quebec back to St. Hyacinthe. He deserted from a ship when in New York and made his way across the continent and it was then that he fell in with the James boys. But he had been west before this, for when the gold fever broke out in the State of California Chattelle, youth though he was, joined the army of "forty-niners," and tried his fortune in the western gold fields. His luck was but indifferent, and he shipped from San Francisco for New York and thus first took to sea.

THE SELF-CONFESSED MURDERER.

After having thus, as it were, roved from clime to clime for 30 years, Chattelle took a notion last summer to return to St. Hyacinthe. His father and mother were dead and his brothers and sisters had houses of their own. The old home had passed into other hands. It was near the first of July when the long absent man came back. No one knew him, he had to impress his identity upon his friends before they would receive him. Chattelle was well dressed, and expressed a desire to settle down in his birthplace. He cast about for employment and shortly after he reached here procured work with the Electric Light Co. In September he disappeared. He left suddenly and without warning one Saturday night, after being paid by the Light Co.

News of Chattelle's arrest caused a sensation in St. Hyacinthe and the confession he has made caused another and greater one. It is believed some of Chattelle's relatives will go from St. Hyacinthe to Stratford to see the unfortunate man.

Chattelle had a conversation with a reporter, in which he told of his loathsome crime. He met Jessie on the track and attempted to assault her.

"Did you accomplish your purpose?

"No; she resisted me on the track, and was too strong for me, and after a struggle I hit her on the head with a stone, rendering her insensible. I then half-carried, half-supported her across the field to the bush, where I cut her throat and then inflicted the other wounds."

"What did you do with the organs you removed?"

"I buried them in a field near where the valise was found. I can't describe the place exactly, but if a bloodhound was put on the scent it would find them."

"Why did you remove the parts?"

"I don't know; after I found I could not accomplish my purpose I became maddened and did not know what followed."

"Why did you strip the body?"

"I don't know."

"There was a strong case against you?"

"Yes, and the witnesses told the truth for the most part."

"They say you have been guilty of similar acts before this?"

"No, never; and I would not do it again for all the world. I am sorry I killed the poor girl."

"Were you not afraid of being lynched?"

"I would not have cared. I might as well die to-day as to-morrow. What difference does a day make? I did it. I have confessed it, and I have got to die anyway, and the sooner it is over the better."

FROM THE CAPITAL.

Lieut.-Gov. Mackintosh Ill — Sir John Thompson to Sail Wednesday.

OTTAWA, Oct. 29.—Lieut.-Gov. Mackintosh, of the Northwest, is here on Government business. He is confined to his room with sciatica and will be unable to leave it for weeks.

Sir John Thompson will sail from New York for England on Wednesday next. He will be accompanied by Senator Sanford.

A bad smash up took place at the junction of the Parry Sound and Canada Atlantic railways in this city Saturday. A train backing up on the C. A. R. ran into a freight train on the Parry Sound Railway. The result was that a number of cars were badly damaged and eighteen sheep killed. The roadbed was torn up for some distance, but everything was in repair and in running order yesterday.

THE BOY ACROSS THE WAY.

Bud sez he jist wish he was
The boy 'cross the way, 'cause
He is brown an' strong an' big,
An' don't have to wear a "Fauntleroy rig,"
But jist a "sure 'nuff" hickory shirt
Tatter'd an' patch'd an' covered with dirt,
An' kin go barefoot.

Sez he jist wish he was
Ther boy 'cross ther street, 'cause
He don't wear his hair in curl,
An' look jist like a "sissy girl;"
An' thet boy has a ball an' bat,
An' wears a nice broad rim hat,
An' kin go barefoot.

Sez he jist wish he was
Ther boy 'cross ther street, 'cause
He kin run an' shout an' play,
An' don't have to wash his hands every day,
An' kin play the mouth organ, an' dance,
An' has sure 'nuff gallowses to his pants,
An' kin go barefoot.

Bud sez he jist wish he was
Ther boy 'cross ther street, 'cause
He can go ter the creek an' swim,
Or fish with a line an' old tree lim',
An' folks an't afraid he'll fall in;
An' they never tell him it's a dreadful sin
Ter go barefoot.

A Presentiment.

Servant.—Miss Penstock told me to tell you she had gone out shopping, sir.

Dashaway.—Queer she should say that. Why, she did not know I was going to call.

Servant.—She said she feared it, sir.—N. Y. Herald.

CAPRIVI'S SUCCESSOR.

The Chancellorship and Prussian Ministry's Presidency United.

BERLIN, Oct. 29.—Prince von Hohenlohe-Schillinghurst, as the result of his conference with the Emperor at Potsdam, has accepted the appointment of Chancellor to succeed Gen. von Caprivi and also the portfolio of President of the Prussian Council of Ministers, vacated by the resignation of Count Bothe Zueulenberg.

A story is in circulation that the Emperor while at Liebenburg was shown an article in the Cologne Gazette violently indignantly requested Chancellor Caprivi opposing Count Zueulenburg. The Emperor to disown the article. Caprivi replied that he had not written it, nor had he ordered it written, but he declared that its contents were absolutely true. A breach between the Emperor and the Chancellor was the result and the latter immediately received his conge.

The newspapers comment thus on Caprivi's fall and the cabinet crisis:

Hamburger Nachrichten (Bismarckian): It does not matter who his successor may be, for he will merely execute the Emperor's will. We hear that Count Zothe Zueulenburg before resigning earnestly advised the Emperor to re-unite the chancellorship and Prussian premiership.

Reichsbote (Con.): Caprivi fulfilled the prophecy that he made when appointed, namely, that he must sacrifice himself. Even his most violent opponents must admit that he was a man of noble thought and action, although he lacked the power and energy which Germany expects from her chancellor.

Vossiche Zeitung (Radical): Nobody of sound judgment desires more severe legislation against the socialists. It is a strange dispensation of fate, that Bismarck went because he wanted too severe measures and Caprivi because he wanted too mild ones. Prince Hdhenlohe has proved by his deeds his friendship for Prussia. His name is connected intimately with the history of German unity. He is of a peaceful, conciliatory nature and is opposed to police legislation. His appointment is a guarantee that the foreign policy will remain in the old course. Baron Koeller is a person of an entirely different sort. He won his spurs as a police president of Frankfort. He is a friend of Dr. Miguel, and is well fitted to spin the yarn of the Puttkamers and Eulenburg.

HE WANTED KICKING

It Was an Old Trick but He Had tumbled Into It.

It was evident that something had gone wrong with an oldish man, who came in on a Lake Shore train from Toledo yesterday, says the Detroit Free Press. He looked all around the depot until he found a policeman, and then began to unburden himself by saying:

"I want you to look at this Canadian $10 bill."

"Yes, sir," replied the officer as he reached for it. "I don't see much Canadian money, but I shouldn't care to take this bill for a good one. Have you asked anyone about it?"

"The conductor said was bad."

"Let's see the ticket agent."

They walked over to the window, to be told that it was not even a good counterfeit, and the officer asked of the stranger:

"Did you take it for good money?"

"Say! How easy is it for a man to make a fool of himself?" exclaimed the other. "I thought I knew enough to fall off a fence when the top rail broke, but I don't. I haven't got the sense of a barn door. I ought to be sent to an idiotic asylum for a term of five years!"

"How did it happen?" queried the officer.

"A chap came into my car and asked me if I could give change for a $5 bill. That is the bill. He had on goggles and seemed to have sore eyes, and I took it that he thought the ten was a five."

"Chance to make $5!" laughed the officer.

"Of course. I am an honest man, but I couldn't let that chance slip. I counted him out five ones in greenbacks and put this in my pocket. After he got off at Wyandotte I began to be suspicious and showed the bill to the conductor. Ever hear of the trick before?"

"About a hundred times."

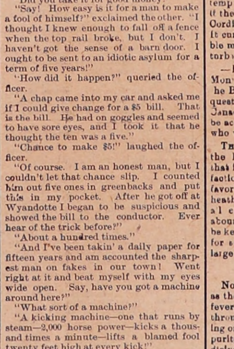

"And I've been takin' a daily paper for fifteen years and am accounted the sharpest man on fakes in our town! Went right at it and beat myself with my eyes wide open. Say, have you got a machine around here?"

"What sort of a machine?"

"A kicking machine—one that runs by steam—2,000 horse power—kicks a thousand times a minute—lifts a blamed fool twenty feet high at every kick!"

The officer had to tell him that no such machine had yet been invented, though inquired for almost every day, and the man went off up Jefferson avenue to see if he couldn't find a beer wagon to run over him.

ANOTHER VIEW.

Jinks.—If you women had to earn your money, you wouldn't be so fond of spending it!

Mrs. Jinks.—Earn it, indeed! How would you men feel if you had to beg yours?

Longevity of Nuns.

Cloistered nuns, writes a Paris correspondent, are said to die early, and those active women of the orders of St. Thomas de Villeneuve, St. Vincent de Paul and the Augustine sisterhoods to live to great ages. I know a sister of charity who was engaged in the cholera wards of the Hotel Dieu in 1832. She refuses to retire from active service, and has three times volunteered to attend smallpox patients during epidemics. Sister Rosalie, who organized the French military hospital service in the Crimea, lived to a great age. The other day the golden wedding of Sister Delphine with the order of St. Vincent de Paul was celebrated at Romanville. She was a full year a novice before she took the black veil, and has been fifty years a school teacher. Sister Delphine was thirty years old when she determined to take the vows. By the rules of the order of St. Vincent de Paul the nuns are not allowed to aspire to extraordinary virtue through mortification. Such efforts might feed pride and cause self righteousness. The teaching is that those who want to be angels before God calls them to a higher world are liable to fall lower than ordinary mortals.

A New York gentleman accompanied by his little son took a stroll into the fields that were white unto the harvest. They met a sturdy farmer, whereupon the gentleman remarked:

"That's a fine field of oats you have there."

"Don't you know the difference between oats and wheat?" asked the sturdy farmer.

"No, I don't."

"I thought that every donkey knew that," courteously responded the rustic.

"You see, pa," said the gentleman's little boy, who had not taken any part in the debate, "you see, pa, if every donkey knows the difference, it's lucky you said you didn't."—Alex Sweet, in Texas Siftings.

SPECIAL [MENTION]

—Mr. Jacob Hurst, of Hamilton, lost his life while duck shooting.

THAT HACKING COUGH can be quickly cured by Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam. Price 25c.

—East Huron Conservatives have nominated Mr. E. L. Dickinson, barrister, of Wingham, for the Commons.

—Governors of British West Indian colonies are endeavoring to promote a federation of West Indian colonies.

—W. S. Gilbert's new opera "His Excellency," was produced in London on Saturday evening and scored a success.

—Mr. Justice Tait, of the Supreme Court of Quebec, has been appointed acting Chief Justice of the court at Montreal.

THEY MAKE ONE FEEL as though life was worth living. Take one of Carter's Little Liver Pills after eating; it will relieve dyspepsia, aid digestion, give tone and vigor to the system.

—Two hundred royal marines, destined for Esquimalt, B. C., and for ships in the Pacific squadron, landed at Montreal from the Numidian and took a C. P. R. train for the west.

MORE CASES OF SICK HEADACHE, biliousness, constipation, can be cured in less time, with less medicine, and for less money, by using Carter's Little Liver Pills, than by any other means.

—Despatches state that the entire Japanese army has crossed the Yalu River, and the Chinese force that was awaiting it immediately fled.

IF YOU ARE NERVOUS OR DYSPEPTIC try Carter's Little Nerve Pills. Dyspepsia makes you nervous, and nervousness makes you dyspeptic; either one renders you miserable, and these little pills cure both.

—A large boarding house, filled with Hungarians, at Laurel Run, Pa., was blown to atoms by dynamiters yesterday morning. Three inmates were killed, four fatally hurt, and half a dozen seriously injured.

—The Manitoba Government has sent a reply to the Ottawa school memorial, reaffirming its position and declaring that any attempt at interference would be resisted.

Chauncey Ashley, issuer of marriage licenses, Division Court Office, Pinnacle street or at residence over Benmore & Benson's store. d&w

All we have ever said of the curative virtues of Ayer's Sarsaparilla sinks into insignificance when compared with the statements made by those who have been benefited by the use of this wonderful blood-purifier. Many of the cures seem indeed almost incredible.

—The latest developement in Newfoundland politics is the unseating of three Whitewaylites on their own protests. When the election was in progress they discovered that ballots had run out, and protested the election on that ground, before the result was known. They had a majority.

Cholera morbus, cramps, and kindred complaints annually make their appearance at the same time as the hot weather, green fruit, cucumbers, melons, etc., and many persons are debarred from eating these tempting fruits, but they need not abstain if they have Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial, and take a few drops in water. It cures cholera and cramps in a remarkable manner, and is sure to check every disturbance of the bowels.

—Hon. Mackenzie Bowell will leave for Montreal on Tuesday, when he will meet the Board of Trade there and discuss the question of better trade relations between Canada and Australian colonies. He will be accompanied by Commissioner Lark, who will leave for Australia next January.

THE PAIN KILLER — We have known the high character of this medicine, and that it is used with great success and satisfaction in our very best families. It is the favorite medicine of our missionaries in heathen lands, where they use it more than all else together for the diseases that abound in those warm climates. It should be kept in every house, and be in readiness for sudden attacks of sickness. 25c. per large bottle.

A Lesson in Hygiene.

Now that water supplies are recognized as the chief vehicle for propagating typhoid fever, medical and scientific authorities throughout the world are constantly dwelling on the necessity of using water of known purity. While this has no bearing on medicinal waters, which, however valuable, cannot safely be made part of the ordinary daily diet, because of the active chemical substances they contain, it has, however, given a wonderful stimulus to the consumption of dietetic or table waters, such as Apollinaris. It is little wonder, however, that the use of Apollinaris is on the increase, for who does not gladly take the beverage which, besides being pure and healthful, is delightful and refreshing?

How to Get a "Sunlight" Picture.

Send 25 "Sunlight" soap wrappers (wrapper bearing the words "Why does a woman look old sooner than a man") to Lever Bros., Ltd., 43 Scott St., Toronto, and you will receive by post a pretty picture, free from advertising, and well worth framing. This is an easy way to decorate your home. The soap is the best in the market, and it will only cost 1c. postage to send in the wrappers, if you leave the ends open. Write your address carefully.

Lane's Medicine Moves the Bowels Each Day.

In order to be healthy this is necessary.

THIS MATTER CHANGED DAILY.

MONDAY, Oct. 29th.

The Leaves

THE LEAVES HAVE GONE.

And the bare, cold branches speak to us of winter's wind and snow. And then we think of snug, warm clothing, and fear not.

WARM JACKETS
WARM UNDERWEAR
WARM BLANKETS
WARM DRESS GOODS.

W. FLINT JONES.

Next door to Haines & Lockett.

TO LET.

TO LET 2 snug, warm brick houses in terrace, situated on Harriett St., West Belleville, known as Morten's, or Filliter's terrace. For terms of rent apply to R. C. Filliter, collector, or sub agent to the estate of the late H. E. Filliter. Residence at Mr Jardin's Corner of William and Dundas Sts., East Belleville. 85d2m

SWEET

Little bon-bons, lovely little tea pots, pretty little plates, tiny sweet little cups, exquisite little pitchers, dear little coffee cans, beautiful little jewel and olive trays. Great big handsome pedestals and pots to match, hundreds of nice things together with charming and brilliantly decorated dinner, tea and bedroom ware are coming with the new goods and we hope to get some opened this week and will let you know when all can be seen. We promise to make Belleville's own china store very interesting this fall.

W. J. REID & CO'Y.

CRYSTAL HALL. Rous' Old Stand.

London and Belleville.

New Advertisements.

WANTED.

WANTED—Man—trusty, who will study his employer's interests and work hard for promotion to travel. Salary $780 and expenses. Enclose reference and self-addressed stamped envelope, EXPORTERS, Lock Box, P., Chicago. 152d1t

WANTED—A Chambermaid and a Cook. Apply at O'Brien House. 150d6t

WANTED—A Law Clerk who wants to study law. Apply to E. Guss Porter. 150d6t

WANTED—General Servant. Apply to Mrs. J. W. Johnson, corner Hotel and Albert sts 150d3t

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY.

CHEAP EXCURSION!

— TO —

Toronto, = = $1.70.
Niagara Falls, - $2.85.

— ON —

OCTOBER 30TH AND 31ST,

Good for return not later than Nov. 1st.

For tickets and all information, apply to

U. E. THOMPSON,
GEN. TICKET AGENCY, Bridge Street

..POTTER'S..

Canned Tomatoes, Corn, Peas & Pumpkin

Have such a reputation that they need no comment from us. We have bought a large stock of these goods this season, and hope to supply our customers with the best goods ever packed.

We have also a choice stock of new Canned Peaches, Strawberries, Raspberries, Plums, Currants, Pine Apples, Cherries, Lima Beans, Asparagus, etc., etc., and solicit your favors

BENMORE & BENSON.
Family Grocers. Telephone 190

McLaughlin's QUEEN FLOUR

Which is warranted THE BEST IN CANADA

For sale by Chas. E. Bishop.

Bridge St., Belleville.
Send him an order.

TAKE NOTICE

Of the "Old Home" grocery store and drop in and see us. It gives us pleasure to show you our new stock of groceries and quote prices whether you are a purchaser or not. We are making a special run in flour this month. We can also supply you with all kinds of feed. Of our choice blends of TEA we can only say "See it and you'll appreciate its merits, use it and you'll sing its praises."

J. A. ELLIOTT.
Front St., Belleville.

A Few Lines For To-morrow.

Charlotte Russe (individuals, larger ones to order), Cream Rolls, Corn Muffins, Graham Gems and all kinds of pastry. Oyster Patties to order. Fresh Oysters, fine stock. Ice cream,

Although the season seems to be past we are still making and selling ice cream. Orders can be filled for any quantity and in any shape. Also served in our parlors daily.

H. C. DICKENS & SON.

NEW HATS and CAPS TO COVER

OUR HEADS.

GEO. P. MINAKER.

NIGHT SCHOOL

.... MECHANICS' INSTITUTE

Corner Front and Hotel Sts., will commence

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 1st, 1894.

The Advantages are:—

The Business Course, Shorthand and Type-writing Course, Instruction in Penmanship.

For four months, two evenings each week, from 7 to 9 o'clock, and six months' membership in the Institute

FEE FOR ALL IS .... $3.00.

Books, Stationery, Etc., for the Business Course, cost $3.00.

Apply to W. J. OSBORNE, of ONTARIO BUSINESS COLLEGE.

NIGHT : SCHOOL

Opens at

BELLEVILLE BUSINESS COLLEGE

ON

Thursday Evening, Nov. 1st, 1894 AT 7:15.

BELLEVILLE BUSINESS ••• COLLEGE

ROBERT BOGLE, Proprietor,

IF YOU USE A BLENDED - TEA

Ask Your Grocer For 'MORAHNEE'

It has no equal.

In one half pound packets, 40c. and 50c. per lb

J. E. WALMSLEY & CO.,

Agents for the British Tea and Trading Association, London, Eng

SPECULATORS AND INVESTORS

SEND FOR OUR DAILY MARKET LETTER AND ILLUSTRATED PAMPHLETS ON SPECULATION,

mailed free on application, and operate successfully in Wall Street.

Our discretionary speculations have paid a monthly profit of

$20 NET TO EACH $100 MARGIN.

Stocks, Bonds, Grain, Provisions and Cotton bought and sold for cash or on a margin of 3 to 5 per cent.

COMMISSION 1-16 PER CENT.

Special Attention paid to Discretionary Accounts.

Correspondence Solicited.

Direct wire from our office to all Western Union Offices in the United States. Bank references.

WEINMAN & CO.,

STOCK & GRAIN BROKERS, 41 BROADWAY, NEW YORK. (d Oct. 1st, 3m eod

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS,

A positive cure for all kidney diseases, such as

Backache, Rheumatism, Diabetes, Brights Disease, &c., &c.

For sale at the Pharmacy.

D. M. WATERS.

WE HAVE For To-morrow

PEARS, GRAPES, LEMONS,
PEACHES, HICKORY NUTS,
ORANGES, CHESTNUTS,
BANANAS, HOT PEANUTS,
HICKORY NUTS BUTTERED POP-CORN, CRACKED,
CHESTNUTS BOILED,
CHESTNUTS ROASTED,
SHELLED WALNUTS.

Dont forget Wallace's Quaker Bread.

Jas. Wallace & Co.

GLASGOW WAREHOUSE.

We are now showing the following novelties in

DRESS - TRIMMINGS.

Watered silks, all prices, in black, white cream, pink, pale blue, navy, myrtle, brown fawn, etc
Black and colored satins,
Black satin merv.
Black pan de soie dress silks,
Black co-operative dress silks
Black and colored velveta.
Black and colored velveteens.
Beautiful silks for blouses.
Beautiful silks for drapings
Black an' grey curl trimmings,
Black and colored beaver trimmings
Black and cream silk laces.
Black and colored button kid gloves,
Black and colored laced kid gloves.
Special lines in ribbons
Ladies' and Misses' underwear,
Ladies' and Misses' corsets.
Spot muslins and valenciennes laces for evening wear.
Light shades in hem'ettas and crepons, with sequence trimmings to match
Priestly & Sons' dress goods, large variety.

Dress and Mantle making and Tailoring done on the premises.

Carpets and House Furnishings in great Variety.

VANDERVOORT & GIBSON,
Successors to the late J. W. Dunnet.
Belleville, Oct. 24, 1894.

COUPON
—FOR—
PART 10.
Canada Portfolio of Art.

A Coupon appears in all issues of this paper.

Cut out this coupon and forward, together with 10 cents, to the Art Department of this paper, and you will receive one part of Canada, as mentioned above, by mail postpaid, or bring the coupon and 10 cents to this office and receive Portfolio.

NAME.....

ADDRESS.....

N.B.—Remember, only one Coupon required for each part.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, MONDAY, OCT. 29.

To-Night.

Fish's Great Fire Sale. We keep open till 10 o'clock.—A. E. FISH & CO.

CITY AND DISTRICT.

The corner loafing nuisance has once more broken out.

Only one trip per day is made between Cape Vincent and Kingston.

John Lakey was arrested for being drunk, but was released later.

Stephen Lynch, drunk, fined $2 or ten days, was given till Saturday to pay up or go to gaol.

The Osbourg Town Council has decided to discontinue the curfew bell, which the Star terms a "farce."

The Kingston News issued a twenty page paper on Saturday, giving illustrations of the principal business places of that city.

Catarrh is a constitutional disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla is a constitutional remedy. It cures catarrh. Give it a trial.

Simcoe is the leading pea county of the Province. Its yield in 1893 having aggregated 528,000 bushels. Bruce came next with 509,000.

The police were notified on Saturday night that a suspicious looking man was prowling around a residence on George st., but he had gone when the police arrived.

Those of our readers who have not secured No. 10 of "Canada," that beautiful art series, can do so now. They contain the gems of Canadian scenery. Only 10 cents with coupon.

Magistrate Flint will have a busy day on Friday next. He will hold court in Tweed and there will be five cases before him,—four for assault and battery and one for adulteration of milk.

Here's a chance for the Humane Society. John Keelcher, near the wharf, owns a horse which is a pitiful sight. Its shoulders and back are raw sores and it looks as though its owner were striving to starve it to death.

Ald. Ponton's new barn is fast nearing completion. The roof is on and by the end of this week it will be enclosed. The building will be a model of neatness and will comprise all the more modern improvements.

The total loss of the Richelieu & Ontario navigation company through accidents will not exceed $2,500. The most expensive of the year was the recent mishap to the Magnet near Cornwall. The loss through this accident amounted to about $800.

"Canada," a Canadian production, is a work that should be in every Canadian home. It is a magnificent publication, and only needs to be seen to be appreciated. Only 10 cents a number with coupon. No. 10 now in.

A certain young man advertised for a wife in an American paper and his sister answered the advertisement. The young fellow now thinks advertising doesn't pay, and the old folks think it is pretty hard to have two fools in one family.

While thorough in action, Ayer's Pills strengthen rather than stimulate the excretory organs. Leading physicians recommend them because they are free from calomel or other injurious drugs, being composed entirely of the best vegetable aperients.

The Hamilton Spectator of Saturday says: J. J. Morehouse, of the smelting works, said to-day that two more cars of machinery had arrived from Philadelphia, and that it would be side tracked to the works this afternoon. It is his intention to smelt Canadian ore obtained from the Central Ontario and Sudbury districts.

To-night.

Men's Patent Leather shoes $1 25, and Kid evening shoes only $1 at HAINES & LOCKETT'S.

THREATENED TO KILL A FAMILY

SHOT AT AN INNOCENT MAN, BUT HIS HAND WAS SHAKY.

"Bill" Arnott Got Drunk and Wanted Blood—Steph. Lynch had a Narrow Escape—A Warrant for Arnott's Arrest Sworn Out, But His Friends Have Hidden Him—A Bad Character.

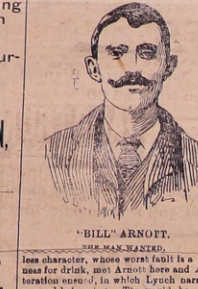

"Bill" Arnott, who has given the police no end of trouble on different occasions in the past seven years, and who became notorious about five years ago, when he was arrested on the charge of murdering Hannah Cole, has brought himself before the public again in an unenviable way.

When drunk Arnott is a terror to all with whom he comes in contact, and is given a wide berth by his best friends. On Saturday he load d up with whisky and proceeded to bully everyone he met. About five o'clock in the evening he went into M. Babcock's house, near Bingham's mill, and

THREATENED TO SHOOT

Babcock and his wife, at the same time flourishing a revolver. After terrorizing the family to his heart's content and using most fiendish language, he left the house.

His next escapade, so far as we can learn, took place in the yard north of the Commercial House. Stephen Lynch, a harmless character, whose worst fault is a fondness for drink, met Arnott here and an altercation ensued, in which Lynch narrowly escaped being shot. The would be Jesse James

"BILL" ARNOTT.

THE MAN WANTED.

SHOT AT LYNCH.

but his nerve must have failed him, for he decamped and has not since been seen.

Babcock came to the police station yesterday and swore out a warrant for his arrest, but the police have not yet been able to find their man. They say his friends keep him informed of their movements, and it may be some time before they capture him. He is said to be secreted near his home in the eastern part of the city, and as on former occasions he will likely keep dark till the storm has blown over.

A BAD RECORD

Arnott, when sober, is inoffensive, but when to liquor he is quite the contrary. It was thought that his narrow escape from severe punishment in the Cole murder case would work a reformation in his habits, and it did for a while, but he has since broken out afresh, and it is difficult to predict what the end will be.

Stockdale Council, No. 169.

To the officers and members of Stockdale Council, No. 168, Canadian Order of Chosen Friends. I want to express my heartfelt gratitude to you as a society in the way which my dear husband was well and upon during his illness and also for the way in which said society turned out the day of his funeral and buried him under the order, and now to think how soon after his death to present me with a cheque for $1000. May God grant success to such a society.

AGNES WINTERBOTTOM.

A Great Battle.

Is continually going on in the human system. The demon of impure blood tries to gain victory over the constitution, to ruin health, to drag victims from the grave. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the weapon with which to defend one's self, drive the desperate enemy from the field, and restore bodily health for many years.

Hood's Pills cure nausea, sickness, indigestion and billiousness. 25c.

Fading Beauty.

The beauties of the Canadian woods in autumn are nearly over for this year, the leaves having fallen in a perfect shower last week. There may be complaints of the heat of Canadian summers, but no one will deny that they dis gloriously and beautifully. In no country in the world does foliage take on the rainbow tints it does in Canada, and in no other country does the winter herald its approach with so much beauty.

$5 Reward.

I have missed my large mastiff dog since Friday afternoon the 26th Oct. He is a light color and answers to the name of "Leo." I will pay the above reward for information that will lead to the discovery of the party or parties who have stolen, or may be retaining him.

C. H. VERMILYEA,
Oak Hall Clothing House.

The Clappers Again.

The police received three calls from Mrs. Clapper and family on Saturday night and Sunday morning to put Henry Kelsey out of her house on Front St. When the officer went down the man had gone and all was quiet. This family have caused the police more trouble than any other in the city and the Magistrate has made up his mind to rid the community of them at the earliest opportunity.

Fine Tooth Brushes.

A large assortment of very fine tooth brushes from the most renowned English and French makers has just been received by L. W. Yeomans & Co. and are marked at especially low prices.

Boots and Shoes Repaired.

Remember we keep a first-class man for repairing Boots and Shoes. All repairing promptly attended to and promptly delivered.—VERMILYEA & SON.

At Fish's Great Fire Sale

We sell the following lines to-morrow: Underwear, Flannel Shirts, Braces, Neckwear, Umbrellas, Waterproof Coats, and Silk Handkerchiefs.—A. E. FISH & CO.

Frau Cesnicek, Madam Tourgis and Madam Putnam are arranging classes in French and German at the rooms of the Literary Association, two nights in the week, one for French and one for German. This will be a rare opportunity for those already proficient in either language to familiarize them with the accent. Charges moderate. Evenings thus spent in conversation, varied with music, might be made interesting, delightful and improving. Classes for beginners will also be formed at once. See advertisement next week.

BUILDING OPERATIONS IN 1894.

Thos. Hanley's List—Great Improvements in the Appearance of Front St.

The building record in Belleville, during the past season has not been as lively as might be wished for, nevertheless, many important buildings have been erected in the city, and many improvements made which will add much to its beauty, as well as to the ratable value of property. The new buildings on Front street in conjunction with the new pavement give town a more city-like appearance and dignity to the place; and next season, when the new hotel and electric cars are in full blast, Belleville will assume an air of business activity and enterprise which is unrivalled position for trade and commerce justly entitles it to. Nature has done wonders for the charming "City of the Bay," and it only requires ordinary intelligence and enterprise on the part of its citizens to make it what nature intended it to be—the Mecca for all lovers of the beautiful. This enterprise, which for many years past seemed dead, has, by some magic touch, bounded into active life. Its influence is already felt and seen on every side. Courage has taken the place of despondency, and a sluggish inaction has given way to business activity.

Early in the season, F. E. O'Flynn, Esq., barrister, commenced extensive repairs to four houses on Station street, and formerly known as the Dixon property. The buildings were thoroughly repaired both inside and out. New kitchens and outbuildings were added, fences erected, and walks laid down; which together with new plaster and fresh paint, transformed the whole block into handsome and commodious residences, and a credit to the locality.

The cost of these several improvements amounted to about $1,150. The work was done under the direction of Mr. Thomas Hanley, builder, etc.

The residence owned by Major Farley of Quebec, on the corner of Bridge Street and Bleecker Avenue, has, by the magic wand of the several mechanics who were employed on the work, and the good taste of Mr. and Mrs. Hope, its present occupants, been made one of the handsomest in the city. The whole building was thoroughly renovated and repaired, both inside and out, and from cellar to garret. The ceiling was concreted, and a tile drain put down to keep it thoroughly dry. A "Daisy" boiler was placed in the building, and the latest and most approved system of hot water heating introduced. A new bath," and marble top stationary wash stands, enamelled closet, etc, are now some of the luxuries enjoyed. A great portion of the building was newly plastered, and the whole interior beautifully papered and painted. The handsomest verandah ever erected in this city, now adorns the front of the building, and the whole lot is enclosed with a low picket fence. A new kitchen was added to the rear of the house, and the whole exterior, including brick walls, painted a handsome drab color. A new stable and drive house were built and finished in a superior manner. Gravel walks were laid down, lawn ploughed, rolled and seeded, and many other necessary repairs made, which now make the premises one of the handsomest and most desirable in the city.

The cost of the several improvements amounted to about $2600 and were done under the direction of Mr. Thos. Hanley, contractor. Messrs. Foster & Foster did the plumbing and the painting; Mr. Wm. McGie the tin work on verandah, etc.; and Ald. Malcolm Moon the painting and papering. All these works were performed in the most satisfactory manner, and certainly are not excelled in the city by anything of the kind.

Mr. J. R. Warrington, on the south-east corner of Bridge Street and Bleecker Avenue, has erected, during the season, a novel balcony, which connects with the verandah on the north east corner of his fine residence and forms an octagon of about twenty-two feet in diameter. This is floored and covered over with a tin roof, and handsomely finished, while railing etc., and makes a most attractive place for a party to spend a summer evening. This novel and handsome acquisition to Mr. Warrington's beautiful premises cost about $160, and was built by Mr. Thomas Hanley, contractor.

The new premises of the Hastings Loan & Investment Society, in the Carman block, Bridge St., are very nicely fitted up for the purpose of a banking institution. A new counter, a handsome panelled and glass partition dividing the business and private offices, and richly papered walls, together with a system of plumbing, and a well equipped fire proof vault, are some of the improvements made in this handsome business office.

The cost of these works was about $300. Messrs. Foster & Foster did the plumbing, Ald. Moon the painting and papering, and the woodwork was executed by Mr. Thomas Hanley.

The community of Loretto have made considerable additions and repairs to their premises on John street. A second storey has been added to a portion of this building, making increased sleeping accommodation, and also the necessary space for bath rooms, &c. The drains and water pipes have been laid down and a new plumbing service introduced. The building is of brick covered with tin. Mr. Thomas Hanley had the contract for the whole; Mr. Joshua Lang did the mason work; Frank Dolan the plastering, Ald. Moon the painting and glazing; Mr. McGie the plumbing. The cost is about $400.

WHO WILL BE NEXT?

"Dr." Thomas Connors and Widow Westervelt Made One.

Will there be a hard winter?

The matrimonial indicator points that way. The old, the young, the bald, the lame, the blind and those who can see, are rushing to the married estate like young ducks towards a mill pond. The hearts of the ministers are made glad in proportion to the increase in the business.

The latest accession to the ranks of the benedicts is "Dr." Thos. Connors, who has sold medicine, (his own manufacture) on the streets and market for years. The "doctor" is only 74 years of age, but young as he is this is his second venture of a similar nature. His bride is also a graduate of the matrimonial school, being a widow of 76 years and bearing the name of Westervelt. The happy couple were made one by Rev. S. N. Baker, at the house of Mrs. Bligh, Front St., on Saturday afternoon. It is reported that the "doctor" borrowed the price of the license. Be that as it may, they are to-day snugly ensconsed in their new home, in what is known as "Wallbridge's barn," on Pinnacle Street. Bridesmaids, groomsmen, maids of honor and pages were dispensed with at the wedding, the couple claiming that they were old enough and experienced enough to help themselves. The bride is quite fanny, but the "doctor" says she is fast enough for him.

Tweed Pants for $1.00.

You pay $1 for a good pair of overalls any time and do not complain. Now then the Oak Hall have a snap for you. Good wearing tweed pants, with nice patterns, and we have all sizes, for only $1 per pair. Think of this if you need a pair of pants, and feel that you cannot afford the ordinary price.

FIRES AT GANANOQUE.

TERRIBLE CONFLAGRATION IN THE 1000 ISLAND TOWN.

Two Fires This Morning One That Will Aggregate $40,000 or $50,000—Second That Will Prove a Loss of About $1,800.

(Special to the Intelligencer)

GANANOQUE, Oct. 29 h, 1894

A terrible fire started here this morning at 1.30 in the hay loft of Lloyd's livery stables, which spread from there and totally destroyed Stunden's confectionery, Bennett & Sons, hardware, Belfer's grocery stores and damaged the buildings owned by J. A. Acton and occupied by J. Fall, ready made clothing, Ross Taylor's building occupied up stairs as dwelling, and dry goods down stairs, and W. Latimer's dry goods building.

Owing to an accident to the force pump it looked at one time as though the whole street would go.

The water was put on the fire for about 10 minutes, and then a coupling in a shaft at the pump house broke, and caused a delay of about 20 minutes, after which the firemen soon got the fire under control.

Most of the stocks of the different stores were saved, but in a very damaged condition, and some were stolen.

The local loss will run up to tens of thousands.

Lloyd saved all of his horses and some of his rigs and harness.

The cause of the fire is a mystery, as only electric lights are used in Lloyd's livery stables.

LOSSES AND INSURANCE.

M. McIntyre, owner of livery and Belfit's buildings, $3 000, insurance, $1,500; Lloyd's loss $2 500, insured for $1,500; Bennett's loss $10,000, insured about $4,000; Stunden's loss $7,000, insured for $2,970; Fraid's, Taylor's and Acton's loss will be about $3,0 0, all covered by insurance.

Waterloo Mutual, Perth Mutual, Norwich Union, Phoenix of Brooklyn, Hartford, Atlas, British American, and Queen.

A second fire occurred at Gibson & Turner's lace leather tannery at 6:30 a.m., which resulted in a loss of about $2000 or $3000.

It started from the boiler, and the whole boiler-house was enveloped in flames when discovered. A considerable quantity of the finished stock was removed. Insured in the Norwich Union for $2,000 on stock, and $1,000 on building in another Comp'y.

SOCIAL & PERSONAL

Mr. P. O'Brien, of Toronto, is in the city.

F. B. Smith is in Toronto on business.

Mr. F. G. Lockett was in Montreal on Saturday.

D. E. K. Stewart, Madoc, was in the city to-day.

Mr. Jas. H. Bell is laid up with an attack of quinsey.

Dr. and Mrs. Heber Campbell are spending a few weeks in Ottawa.

Miss Lena Walsh of St. Andrews, Que., is visiting Mrs (Dr) Clarke, Hotel St.

W. S. Morden, of the firm of Ponton & Morden, is in Toronto on legal business.

Douglas Ponton, Inspector of the Trust & Loan Company, Toronto, is in the city. Messrs. G. Pierce, H. Bryant, F. Hicks and W. Fairman, spent Sunday in Trenton.

Mr. J. Bonnett Faill, who is attending the Model School, Picton, spent Saturday and Sunday with his parents, Murney St.

Mr. W. D. Mace, Mr. Daniel Rose, and Miss Hattie Mace, of Tamworth, are visiting at Mr. Jas. Rose's, Albert St.

A. Lafferty, Napanee; J. N. Laird, Foxboro; W. W. Grant, Peterboro; R. J. Orr and W. M. Grant, Toronto, are at the Anglo.

D. A. R. Elliott, of Chicago, has been appointed a Professor in the post graduate Medical School of Chicago.—A School for doctors to take special courses of graduation, and one of the largest in the United States.

Marine Notes.

The str. Empress of India called here on her way down to Picton to-day, where she will lay up for the season.

The Annie Lake, which has just returned from taking a tow of timber to Kingston, took a fishing party out this afternoon.

The str. Magnet, which was due here yesterday, did not arrive until this morning, being delayed by fogs.

The Alexandria left yesterday forenoon for Picton. She will make three and probably four more trips this season.

Schiffmann's Asthma Cure

instantly relieves the most violent attacks, facilitates free expectoration and insured rest to those otherwise unable to sleep except in a chair, as a single trial will prove. Send for a free trial package to Dr. R. Schiffmann's, St. Paul, Minn., but ask your druggist first.

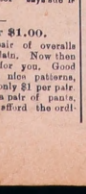

The Case Dismissed.

The case against a young man named Hagerman, of the township of Rawdon, for seducing a girl in the employ of his father, which has been before the court for more than a month, was disposed of on Saturday. The Magistrate said the evidence of the girl was not reliable and that there was no evidence to sustain the charge. Hagerman was honorably acquitted. It was not deemed necessary to examine any witnesses for the defence.

PROBABILITIES.

TORONTO, Oct. 29.—Increasing east to south and west winds; fair and mild followed by some rain to-night.

LOSS OF POWER

and Manly Vigor, Nervous Debility, Impotency or Palsy, Organic Weakness and wasting Drains upon the system, resulting in the Ruin of Mental Faculties, Impaired Memory, Low Spirits, Horror or Irritable Temper, fear of impending calamity, and a thousand and one derangements of both body and mind, result from pernicious secret practices indulged in by the young, through ignorance of their ruinous consequences. To reach, reclaim and restore such unfortunates to health and happiness is the aim of an association of medical gentlemen who have prepared a book, written in plain but chaste language, treating of the nature, symptoms and curability, by home treatment, of such diseases. The World's Dispensary Medical Association, Proprietors of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., will on receipt of this notice, with 10 cents in stamps for postage mail, in plain envelope, a copy of this useful book. It should be read by every young man, parent and guardian in the land.

SPORTING NEWS

Duck shooting was good last week. Several large bags were made.

A number of hunters left town within the past few days in pursuit of deer. "The woods are full of 'em"—hunters, not deer.

A dispatch from Londo to says: "The match between Robert J. and John R. Gentry at Buffalo has been abandoned. Gentry sends the Hamlin stable home in charge of his assistant, and goes to his home at Louisville for a short vacation. He will take Fan sey, Robert J. and a few others to California for the winter. McHenry also expects to spend his long vacation on the Pacific slope with John P. Gentry, Impetuous and other stars in his string.

Ed. Read, of Toronto, shot a white partridge near Campbellville, the other day.

The Rover football team defeated a team from the D. & D. Institute on Saturday by 2 to 1.

Hamilton's Rugby Football Team defeated Osgoode Hall 21 to 11 on Saturday. In an exhibition game Ottawa University defeated Queen's by 27 to 7.

Wm. Kelleher caught a muskinonge in Mosquito Bay on Saturday weighing 26 pounds.

Have you Neuralgia?

If you are suffering the agonies of neuralgia, and have failed to get a remedy that will afford relief, we want you to try Poison's Nerviline. No remedy in the market has given anything like the same degree of satisfaction. Its action on nerve pain is simply marvellous, and as it is put up in 25 cent bottles, no great expense is involved in giving it a trial. Poison's Nerviline is the most pleasant, powerful, and certain pain remedy in the world. Sold by druggists and all dealers in medicine, 25 cents a bottle.

Rights on the Streets.

A well-known lawyer gives the following as the rights on the public highways in towns and cities: The streets belong to teams, and vehicles and pedestrians have no more business upon them than teams would have upon the sidewalk. The crossings at the street corners belong to pedestrians who have right of way there by law and against teams. Many drivers ignore the law and dash over the crossings, endangering the lives of the pedestrians, without thinking they are of the law. No vehicle over the crossing nor can the driver obstruct the crossing.

Rugs!

Many Housekeepers

Fail to see quite the amount of furnishings and the cosy, warm appearance a few nice selected Rugs give the home.

Within the last few years a complete revolution has taken place in the use as well as in the improved style and character of Floor Rugs. Their area of usefulness is not now restricted as of old to the cheer full hearth. They are now used for a great variety of purposes.

We have them in stock from the small door mat at 35c each to the large Tapestry and Brussels Squares up to $37.50. They comprise the following different makes:

Smyrna,
Wilton,
Moquette,
Axminster,
Dag Dag's,
Cocoa.
Sheepskin,
Goatskin,
Goorka,
Velvet,
Mohair,
Linoleum.

We will be pleased to have you inspect them.

GEO. RITCHIE & CO.
Home Furnishers.

Changed Daily.

"SAY A LITTLE BUT SAY IT STRONG."

MONDAY, Oct. 29th.

Those Fine Teas

That we have just received we are confident will give you a good cup of tea in every instance. We are speaking more particularly of our 40c and 50c teas. A little high in price, but they are high grade good teas and the cheapest in the end.

Stroud's
TEA STORE.

MR. GEO. MERRETT
Toronto, Ontario.

As Well as Ever

After Taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Cured of a Serious Disease.

"I was suffering from what is known as Bright's disease for five years, and for days at a time I have been unable to straighten myself up. I was in bed for three weeks; during that time I had leeches applied and derived no benefit. Seeing Hood's Sarsaparilla advertised in the papers I decided to try a bottle. I found relief before I had finished taking half of a bottle. I got so much help from taking the first bottle that I decided to try another, and since taking the second bottle I feel as well as ever I did in my life." GEO. MERRETT, Toronto, Ont.

HOOD'S Sarsaparilla CURES

Hood's Pills are prompt and efficient, yet easy of action. 25 cts by all druggists. 25c.

Catarrh—Use Nasal Balm. Quick, positive cure. Soothing, cleansing, healing.

OUR GREAT SALE
— OF —
GOODS
Damaged by
SMOKE AND WATER,
Will commence
FRIDAY Morning
AT 9 O'CLOCK.

Look our for Bargains.

A. E. FISH & CO.

Before putting up your STOVES have the
TRIMMINGS RE-PLATED
— AT THE —
BELLEVILLE PLATING WORKS
HARRIS & WALTON'S FACTORY MIL ST.

24TH YEAR.

S. A. HYMAN,
Manufacturing Furrier.

Everybody
Is talking about our Furs, because we have the newest and best

Jackets! We make them to order in all styles, sizes and shapes out of Persian lamb, Alaska seal, grey Persian lamb and beaver.

Capes! In all kinds of fur, Alaska seal, beaver, Persian lamb, grey lamb, Greenland seal in all lengths from 18 inches to 42 inches long.

S. A. HYMAN, OLD FURS MADE OVER IN THE LATEST STYLES

OLD KING COLE
WAS A MERRY OLD SOUL!!

BUT ..... THAT HAS NOTHING TO DO WITH OUR

FAMOUS LEHIGH VALLEY COAL!

Which is the KING of all COALS.

TRY IT! GOOD PEOPLE! TRY IT!!

AND if you do not burn COAL we can supply you with

The finest CORD WOOD in the Land.

Place your Orders with us before the rush, which always begins as soon at the weather turns Cold.

S. A. LAZIER & SONS,
The Leading Coal and Wood Merchants, Telephone C 68.

Wall-Paper!

10 Per Cent. Discount
AT

Scantlebury's.

The LEADING BARGAIN HOUSE

Not a day passes over the history of the store that doesn't bring "Grist" to our "Bargain Mill." There's no dormant energy in the management.

Every nerve is at straining point to bring the people of this vicinity within ready reach of the best money's worth to be had in

DRY Goods, Millinery, Gents' Furnishings

ONLY A FEW LEADING PRICES:—

25 in. Heavy Flannel, 15c. 27 in. Heavy Flannel, all wool, 18c; 28 in. all patterns Flannelette, 8c; 25 in. all patterns Flannelette, 5c; beautiful Opera Flannels, 40c; 500 corsets, value $1.00, at 50c; a special bargain in Ladies' Handkerchiefs, 5c; latest designs in French dress patterns from $3 to $8. A full range of anything and everything at exceedingly low prices. Call early for selection.

H. A. LAYTON, BELLEVILLE.
Front St., Opposite Campbell St.

Bay of Quinte Steamb't Route

TRI-WEEKLY

DESER'TO, PICTON & KINGSTON

1894 - 1894

STR. "HERO"

THIS favorite steamer is now lighted by electricity and will have a strong search light for excursion business and the boat is heated by steam.

Commencing Monday, April 9th, will leave Belleville Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 6 a.m., returning Tuesday, Thursday and Friday at 11 p.m.

The very best facilities are offered to shippers of freight. The lowest through and local rates quoted.

No wharfage at Picton on freight for this steamer.

Full information given by Gilbert Johnston on board, or to the

RATHBUN COM'Y,

H. GILDERSLEEVE, Ticket Agents, Kingston.

STEAMER VARUNA

A. HICKS, Captain.

WILL leave Trenton every morning, (Sunday excepted) at 7:00 o'clock, calling at Redservile and all points between the head of the bay and Picton, leaving Belleville at 8:30 a.m., Deseronto at 10:20 a.m.

On Tuesday and Thursday evenings to meet North King at Brighton, returning will leave Brighton Wednesday and Saturday mornings at 5:30.

Will connect at Picton with stage for Sand Banks.

Parties wishing to arrange for excursion rates will see Capt. Hicks on board

Will leave Picton at 1 p.m. on return for the head of the bay, Deseronto 2:30 p.m., Belleville, at 4:30 p. m., and Trenton, at 6.

Omnibuses in waiting at Picton, Belleville and Brighton.

The Rathbun Co., Agents, Belleville and Deseronto.

A. W. Hepburn, Agent, Picton.

KINGSTON AND MONTREAL.

Weekly Service Calling at Way Ports

THE PEOPLE'S FAVORITE STEAMER.

"ALEXANDRIA"

Leaves Montreal, Thursday at 10:00 a. m.
Arrives Belleville, Saturday at 11:45 a. m.
Leaves for Rochester " " 1:15 p m
Arrives from Rochester, Monday at 6:30 a. m.
Leaves for Montreal, " " 7:30 a. m.

Spacious and elegant Saloon. Ample Stateroom accommodation. The choicest and best Meals furnished. Safety, comfort and enjoyment ensured by personal supervision of Capt. Smith and Purser Melrose. Careful handling o freight.

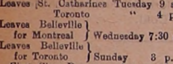

For Tickets, State rooms at lowest rates apply to THE RATHBUN COMPANY, Agents.

HAMILTON,

TORONTO, AND MONTREAL,

Via Bay of Quinte, Calling at all Ports Weekly.

THE FAVORITE STEAMER

"MAGNET"

Leaves St. Catharines Tuesday 9 a. m
Toronto " 4 p. m.
Leaves Belleville for Montreal } Wednesday 7:30 a m
Leaves Belleville for Toronto } Sunday 8 p. m.

First Class Passenger Accommodation, Large Freight Capacity. Lowest Rates

For Tickets, Rates, &c., Apply to the RATHBUN COMPANY, Agents, or to

CAPT. J. J. TOWERS, Superintendent, No. 2 King st., Toronto.

C. F. GILDERSLEEVE, General Manager, 22 St. Paul st., Montreal.

HAPPY HOME RANGES.

Best in the Market.

—ALSO—

A Full Line of

Art Garland

and

Famous Heaters.

—(o)—

Wm. McGIE.

Next to Nathan Jones.

Telephone 38. Front S

REMOVAL

MR. JOSEPH CALDWELL, DENTIST

Has removed his office to the new premises which he has had specially fitted up in the

Caldwell Block,

First door south of the Anglo-American Hotel Front street. 108t

INSURANCE.

Western Assurance Company,
Fire and Marine Head Office, Toronto.

North British & Mercantile Ins. Co.,
Fire and Life, Head Office (Can.) Montreal.

Atlas Insurance Company,
Fire Head Office (Canada), Montreal

M. M. THOMPSON
Water Works Office, Bridge St.

Daily Intelligencer.

A Wonderful Cure.

Mr. David Smith, Coe Hill, Ont., writes: "For the benefit of others I wish to say a few words about Northrop & Lyman's VEGETABLE DISCOVERY. About a year ago I took a severe cough and had a virulent sore on my lips, was bad with dyspepsia, constipation and general debility. I tried almost every conceivable remedy, outwardly and inwardly to cure the sore, but all to no purpose. I had often thought of trying Northrop & Lyman's VEGETABLE DISCOVERY, so I got a bottle and when I had used about one half the sore showed evident signs of healing. By the time that bottle was done it had about disappeared and my general health was improving fast. I was always of a very bilious habit and had used quinine and lemon juice with very little effect. But since using 3 bottles of the VEGETABLE DISCOVERY the biliousness was entirely gone and my general health is excellent. I am 60 years old. Parties using it should continue it for some time after they think they are cured. It is by far the best health restorer I know."

Big words won't split rails.

Holloway's Corn Cure destroys all kinds of corns and warts, root and branch. Who then would endure them with such a cheap and effectual remedy within reach?

Where fathers flee mothers fight.

Sweat is the champion fertilizer.

BAD BLOOD causes Blotches, Boils, Pimples, Abscesses, Ulcers, Scrofula, etc. Burdock Blood Bitters cures Bad Blood in any form from a common Pimple to the worst Scrofula Sore.

The blackguard is the chief of slime.

Some people laugh to show their pretty teeth. The use of Ivory White Tooth Powder makes people laugh more than ever. It's so nice. Price 25c. Sold by druggists.

Most farms pasture too many fences.

Much distress and sickness in children is caused by worms. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator gives relief by removing the cause. Give it a trial and be convinced.

Ache corns do not grow on boot trees.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP strengthens the lungs and cures all throat troubles, coughs colds, etc.

Scalding tears will scar the fairest cheek.

sition These symptoms. Headache, loss of into acute disease. It is a trite saying that an "ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," and a little attention at this point may save months of sickness and large doctor's bills. For this complaint take from two to three of Parmelee's Vegetable Pills on going to bed, and one or two for three nights in succession, and a cure will be effected.

Bank books contain many tales of fashion.

HAGYARD'S PECTORAL BALSAM cures Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis and all Throat and Lung Troubles.

MONTHLY DIVIDENDS!!

Syndicate Trading

$10.00 UPWARDS,

40 Per Cent. Profit in September, 1894

Stock Exchange Risks less than Trade Risks. Stock Exchange Profits Greater than any Trade Profits.

Syndicate Trading is conducted with smallest individual risk while the greatest possible profits are earned for each investor. Syndicate Trading is a LEGITIMATE road to wealth. A small sum quickly becomes a yearly income.

Anyone can Share Our Profits!

Send $10 00 or upwards in registered letter, by post or money order or New York draft, payable to New York Trading Co., or A W. Pearse, Manager.

All money at your credit can be withdrawn first of month when accounts are rendered. The elections will make active markets. This is a grand opportunity to make money. Details mailed free. References furnished. Representatives wanted.

New York Trading Company,
17 & 19 Broadway, New York City.

LAKEHURST SANITARIUM

OAKVILLE, ONT.

For treatment and cure of

ALCHOLISM, MORPHINE HABIT, TOBACCO HABIT AND NERVOUS DISEASES.

The system employed at this institution is the familiar Double Chloride of Gold System. Through its agency over 200,000 Slaves to the use of these poisons have been emancipated in the last fourteen years. Lakehurst Sanitarium is the oldest Institution of the kind in Canada, and has a well earned reputation to maintain in this line of medicine. In its whole history there is not an instance of failure to remove the appetite for these poisons. In its whole history there is not an instance of any after ill-effects from the treatment. Hundreds of happy homes in all parts of the Dominion bear eloquent witness to the efficacy of a course of treatment with us. For terms and full information write

THE SECRETARY,
28 Bank of Commerce Chambers,
aug7d3m34w3m) Toronto, Ont.

SLIPPER SOLES.

We have just received a large number of the best

LAMB'S WOOL SLIPPER SOLES, IN Nos. 2, 3, 4, 5 & 6.

Also in Children's Sizes, which we are offering at the low price of 35 Cents per pair.

We have also a full range of Single and Double Berlin Wool, for Crocheting and Knitting Bedroom Slippers.

THE BEEHIVE

CHAS. N. SULMAN

INTERESTING PARAGRAPHS.

A carload of matches was ignited by friction in transportation and burned the other day at Burgin, Ky.

The consumption of wine in Nimes, France, averages a bottle a day for every man, woman and child in the city.

The tensile strength of wrought iron rods varies as the square of the diameter. A 1-inch rod will support 7,000 pounds and a 2-inch rod 28,000 pounds.

The leaf of the cocoanut tree is nearly thirty feet long. A single leaf of the parasol magnolia of Ceylon affords shade for fifteen or twenty persons.

Tromsoe, in Norway, has just celebrated its 1,000th anniversary. In that time it has grown from sixty people to 6,000. The inhabitants are chiefly devoted to fishing.

The alligator does not attain his full length until he is fifty years of age. When one year old his length is about twelve inches; at the age of fifteen he has grown to two feet.

The cold is so intense in northern Siberia that the earth never thaws to a greater depth than five or six feet. Bodies buried at a greater depth remain perpetually frozen.

A railroad between Coalzacoalcos and Salina Cruz, Mexico, which opens a new means of transportation between the Gulf of Mexico and the Pacific coast, has been completed recently.

The pin machines of England, Holland and Germany turn out an average of 67,000,000 pins for every work day of the year. At Birmingham one factory makes 30,000,000 pins per day.

QUEER ODDS AND ENDS.

The pope's annual income is $1,430,000.

Harriet Beecher Stowe was born in 1811 instead of 1812, as given in numerous biographies.

The first product of Bret Harte's pen, a poem, was printed in the New York Atlas when the author was eleven years old.

Since January last any one of the 71,000,000 population of Bengal can obtain a five-grain dose of quinine at the nearest post office for one farthing.

A curious estimate comes from London. It is that out of 1,000 men who marry 332 marry younger women, 579 marry women of the same age and 89 marry older women.

In certain districts of Sicily the industry of gathering the threadlike substance secreted by mussels is carried on. The fiber thus obtained is used in the manufacture of silk.

[illegible] machine is whirled [illegible] wets, rubs and [illegible] three movements of the machine make the boards shine.

Herat, in Afghanistan, is the city which has been most often destroyed. Fifty-six times have its walls been laid in ruins and the same number of times have they been erected again.

PICTURES AND PAINTERS.

Vanderbilt paid $75,000 for Rosa Bonheur's masterpiece, "The Horse Fair," now in the Metropolitan museum in New York. The artist herself received $5,000 for it.

The dowager duchess of Montrose has decided to sell her fine collection of pictures, which includes seven important works by Sir Joshua Reynolds, some Gainsboroughs and Romneys, and some choice examples of Sir F. Leighton, Landseer and Morland.

The great Spanish painter, Federico Madrazo, who died recently in Madrid, was the son of an artist and was born at Rome in the year of the battle of Waterloo. For the past thirty-five years he had been rector of the Royal gallery at Madrid.

Mrs. Leland Stanford is said to contemplate converting her San Francisco residence into a fine art gallery and museum for the benefit of the public. The house is big and the rooms on its lower floor are so large and admirably arranged that but little change would be needed to adapt it to such uses.

MULTUM IN PARVO.

Presence of mind is courage.—Byron.

Good reasons must, of force, give place to better.—Shakespeare.

A bad Christain will never make a good Turk.—Turkish Proverb.

No man was ever written out of reputation but by himself.—Monk.

Peace is the first of necessities, and the first of glories.—Napoleon.

We should accustom ourselves to self-denial and patient waiting.—Scott.

Repose and cheerfulness are the badge of the gentleman—repose in energy.—Emerson.

Man's rich with little were his judgment true; nature is frugal, and her wants are few.—Young.

Overtaxing the mind is an unwise act; when nature is unwilling, the labor is in vain.—Seneca.

Individuality is everywhere to be spared and respected as the root of everything good.—Richter.

MULTUM IN PARVO.

Oratory, like the drama, abhors lengthiness.—Bulwer.

Fortune calls at the smiling gate.—Japanese Proverb.

Experience teaches slowly, and at the cost of mistakes.—Froude.

Life not so short but that there is always time for courtesy.—Emerson.

The reward of one duty done is the power to fulfill another.—George Eliot.

It is easy when we are in prosperity to give advice to the afflicted.—Æschylus.

He who can suppress a moment's anger may prevent a day of sorrow.—Anon.

Even from the body's purity the mind receives a secret sympathetic aid.—Thomson.

Who seeks, and will not take when once 'tis offered, shall never find it more.—Shakespeare.

Capacity without education is deplorable, and education without capacity is thrown away.—Saadi.

CURIOUS FACTS.

The tusks of the largest Siberian mammoth ever dug up weighed 859 pounds.

The cubical extent of water in the ocean is fourteen times that of the land above sea level.

The largest tree in the world lies broken and petrified at the end of a defile in northwestern Nevada. It is said to be 666 feet long.

A bat can absorb and digest in one night three times the weight of its own body. Bats never have more than two little ones at a time.

From one-eighth to three-quarters of a cord of wood is required to start a fire in a locomotive furnace—the latter amount when hard coal is used.

In Italy the senate consists of princes of royal blood and an unlimited number of members appointed by the king for life. In 1890 there were 355 members.

A Hit at the Minister.

Minister (to Rory)—Why weren't you at the kirk on Sunday?

Rory—I was at Mr. Dunlop's kirk.

Minister—I don't like you running about to strange kirks in that way. No' that I object to you hearing Mr. Dunlop, but I'm sure ye widna like yer ain sheep straying away into strange pastures.

Rory—I widna care a grain, sir, if it was better grass.—Glasgow Times.

Science Right.

Husband.—A great scientist says that women are less sensitive to pain than men.

Wife.—I presume it is so. I can suffer torments, and go right along with a smile on my face, while you swear and tear around like mad if you bump your head while hunting a collar button.—N. Y. Weekly.

I FEASTED ON THE FREE LUNCH.

The Man From Algoma Enjoyed the Dainties of a Saloon and Wanted to Die.

A party of boys playing near a corner ran excitedly to a policeman and told him that they had found a dying man in a lumber yard near by. The officer hastened to the place pointed out to him, and there he came upon an old fellow lying on his back, groaning. He appeared to be suffering greatly; he was rolling his eyes, and wholly regardless of any possible punishment that might be waiting for him in the eternity which he was unquestionably approaching he would bellow a blasphemous malediction upon all life and all causes that lead to death.

"Go on away from here, now," he commanded, raising up and "walling" his eyes at the officer.

"What's the trouble with you?" the policeman asked.

"None of your business. Go on away from here, I tell you. And I want you to drive them there boys away and not let 'em stand a gazin' and a gapin' at me."

"I guess a little too much whisky is about all that's the matter with you."

"Ain't touched a drop of licker. Wish I had—wish I had tuck enough to kill me. Go on away now and let me die."

"You are all right. You are not going to die."

"Look here," he said, propping himself against a pile of lumber, "I reckon I know my business better than you do. I didn't come all the way from Jim Conmee's ridin' for you to tell me what I am goin' to do. Reckon I know my own affairs."

"You say you are from Algoma?"

"Yes; fotch a load of calves down here, and dinged if I hain't found that I am the biggest calf among the whole lot."

"Well, you'd better tell me something about yourself, so that word may be sent to your people in case you do die."

"Never mind about my people. A man that's as big a fool as I am ought to go away off somewhere and die and not let his folks know anything about it."

"I don't know whether to call a patrol wagon or not," said the officer, laughing, but with a severe look commanding the boys to cease their merriment.

"Don't call nothin'. Jest go on away from here and let me die alone. I tell you that as big a fool as I am don't deserve no sympathy at all."

"What have you done?"

The old fellow eased his position and thus answered: "I told you that I fotch some calves down here from Algoma. Well, after I sold 'em I put the money in a letter and sent it home, afraid that these sharp fellers here might git the best of me, and then I started out to see if I knowin' that as I had no money to speak of I was on the safe side. Well, I went along down the street, and feelin' pretty hungry, as I hadn't eat much to amount to since I left home, I stepped into a place and set down at a table. I never did see as much stuff piled on a table. There was a great bowl of marmalade in the centre of the table, and in it was a ladle; there was a big bowl of beets, a peck of butter in little cakes, pickles by the jar, and great piles of bread. After I had looked at the layout I naturally concluded that it would take a small fortune to eat there, and I was about to get up, when the thought struck me that this might be a good chance to get ahead of the feller that run the house—thought that I would order about 10 cents' worth of something and then stuff myself while he wasn't looking. Well, that's exactly what I did. I dipped into the marmalade, gouged out a handful of pickles, dived into the beets and pitched into the butter, dobbin' on a whole gob at a time. Yes, sir; I'd glance around at the feller, and whenever I'd see that he wasn't lookin' I'd dive in again. I was determined that for once a man from my section of country should get ahead of a Hogtown man. I never did stuff so—eat till I could hardly breathe, and was about to get up and sneak out when the feller that I thought I had been foolin' came along and told me to eat all I wanted to—said that I was welcome to everything in sight. Well, I got up after several attempts and staggered out. I wandered around till I found myself here, and I have laid down here to die. I don't deserve any attention, I'm such a blamed fool, and I want you to go on away and let me alone."

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Senor Lazo Arriaga, the Guatemalan Minister to-day made the following statement regarding the boundary dispute between his county and Mexico: "I believe that war between the two nations is a very improbable contingency not only because the present difficulties are not of great importance but chiefly because the treaty between the two counties provides that all questions incident to the demarcation of boundary lines shall be settled by arbitration. Should the actnal difficulties reach this point the president of the U. S. of America will be invited to act as arbitration."

Mr. Mercier Growing Weaker.

MONTREAL, Oct. 29.—Mr. Mercier's condition yesterday did not show much change, but he is getting very much weaker.

Deseronto Navigation Company (Limited

Steamer Ella Ross.

This fast sailing and comfortable steamer leaves Belleville for Trenton daily (Sunday excepted), at 10 a.m. Leaves Belleville for Deseronto and Picton at 3 p.m., connecting at Deseronto with steamers for Napanee and Oswego. Lowest freight and passenger rates. For further information apply to the Rathbun Co., Bridge street, or to R. C. Carter, General Manager, Deseronto.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP heals the lungs.

It is worse than madness to neglect a cough or cold which is easily subdued if taken in time, but becomes, when left to itself, the fore-runner of consumption and premature death. Inflammation, when it attacks the delicate tissue of the lungs and bronchial tubes, travels with perilous rapidity; then do not delay, get a bottle of Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup, the medicine that grasps this formidable foe from the human body, and drives it from the system. This medicine promotes a free and easy expectoration, subdues the cough, heals the diseased parts, and exerts a most wonderful influence in curing consumption, and other diseases of the throat and lungs. If parents wish to save the lives of their children, and themselves from much anxiety, trouble and expense, let them procure a bottle of Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup, and whenever a child has taken cold, has a cough or hoarseness, give the Syrup according to directions.

Short sermons make wide-awake Christians.

Jacob Loeckman, Buffalo, N.Y., says he has been using Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil for rheumatism; he had such a lame back he could not do anything, but one bottle has, to use his own expression, "cured him up". He thinks it is the best thing in the market.

Art loses nothing by conceding modest a fig leaf.

SIGNS OF WORMS are variable appetite itching at the nose, etc. Dr. Low's Worm Syrup is the best worm expeller.

Guns without foresight shoot wide of the mark.

Dr. Low's Worm Syrup cures and removes worms of all kinks in children and adults. Price 25c. Sold by all druggists.

A toothbrush should go with every dirty story.

DYSPEPSIA arises from wrong action of stomach, liver and bowels. Burdock Blood Bitters cures Dyspepsia and all diseases arising from it, 99 times in 100.

It would be a gross injustice to confound that standard healing agent—Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil—with the ordinary unguents, lotions and salves. They are oftentimes inflammatory and astringent. This Oil is on the contrary, eminently cooling and soothing when applied externally to relieve pain, and powerfully remedial when swallowed.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP cures Bronchitis.

BLANKETS

We are showing a large line of Blankets in all Wool and Union from $2.00.

Grey Flannel

Our Grey Flannels are from the best makers. You should call and see our 15c. line

NATHAN JONES.

OPPOSITE HOTEL STREET.

IF YOU WANT THE BEST FUEL THAT COMES TO THIS

MARKET, buy the Celebrated

SCRANTON COAL

Mined and shipped by the D. L. & W. R. R. Co.

THOS. STEWART,

COAL AND WOOD MERCHANT, is Sole Agent for Belleville. Office Bridge Street. Yards, foot of Front Street.

ONTARIO MUTUAL LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY.

S. Burrows, Esq., General Agent, Ontario Mutual Life Co., Belleville, Ont.

DEAR SIR, Received your company's check for $2,000 for our Matured Endowment, and we both wish to show our gratitude to you and the Company for the straightforward and satisfactory way you deal with policy holders, and that we are more than satisfied with our investment. I will always urge our friends to follow in our footsteps. Thanking you very kindly.

Yours very sincerely,
Mr. & Mrs. GOODWIN, Bowmanville,
Formerly of Belleville.

IT - HAS - BEEN - ADMITTED

— BY OVER 125 PEOPLE IN BELLEVILLE THAT THE —

John Bull Wrought Steel Range,

Is the most Economical, Everlasting and Useful Range on the market. How is this for three Seasons.

SEE THEM AT FOSTER'S.

Also the Duchess of Oxford Cast Iron Range

TO THE PUBLIC.

When we decided to add the manufacure of carriages, phaetons, democrats, &c., to our business, we immediately put under construction a few of each. As we decided to place no vehicle on the market which is not A 1 in every detail, and knowing that no first-class vehicle can be produced on the rush, it has been necessary for us to take sufficient time to produce what we aimed at. We think we have succeeded; and we now have a few rigs completed, and others nearing completion to offer for sale. The iron work is all hand forged; the wood work carefully made, and strongly ironed; and the painting and upholstering done with the best material and greatest care. We can freely recommend these rigs. We will be pleased to have parties who may need anything in the above line, call and inspect our work.

ST. CHARLES & PRINGLE.

JAS ST CHARLES. — — — — HENRY PRINGLE

LISTEN FRIENDS!!

We SAY because we KNOW!

Our COAL! This Season is unexcelled for quality because the Bill of Lading bears the Brand of the Delaware & Hudson Canal Company.

Cut this out and test this "Ad" when the Winter Winds whistle.

THE RATHBUN COMPANY.

The Sale of Boots and Shoes:

Slightly damaged by Smoke and Water will continue until everything is sold.

HAINES & LOCKETT

Opposite Anglo-American Hotel

Camping Supplies!

—AND—

Picnic - Requisites!

Our list of articles suitable for Picnic Lunches and Camping, includes:

Canned Meats.

ARMOUR'S COOKED BEEF,
ARMOUR'S OX TONGUES,
ARMOUR'S LUNCH TONGUES,
ARMOUR'S POTTED HAM,
ARMOUR'S COOKED PIG FEET
ARMOUR'S LUNCHEON MEAT.
ARMOUR'S POTTED TONGUE
ARMOUR'S BRAWN,
SANDWICH MEATS,
BONELESS CHICKEN,
BONELESS TURKEY,
POTTED BEEF,
POTTED GAME,
ETC.! ETC.!! ETC!

Canned Fish.

FINEST SARDINES IN OIL,
FINEST SARDINES IN TOMATO,
HERRINGS IN TOMATO SAUCE,
KIPPERED HERRINGS,
FRESH HERRINGS,
SALMON, LOBSTERS,
FINNAN HADDIES,
BLOATER PASTE,
ANCHOVY PASTE,
SARDINE PASTE,
ETC! ETC.! ETC!!!

Sundries.

Condensed Milk in Tins, Cream in Tin Biscuits (in great variety), Fine old Cheese, McLaren's Imperial Cheese (in small crocks), Dried Beef, Choice Hams and Bacon, Lime Juice, Spanish Olives, CROSSE & BLACKWELL'S Pickled White Onions, Walnuts, Chow Chow, and and Mixed Pickles.

WALLBRIDGE & CLARKE

Grocers and Wine Merchants,
33 and 37 Bridge Street. Also Front Street, in Caldwell Building.

GENTLEMEN....

Before ordering your Fall Clothing don fail to take a look through

A. N. REID'S

New Fall Importations of

Scotch, English and Irish Suitings, Overcoatings, Pantings, Irish Serges, Cheviots, Hop Sackings and Black Worsteds

First Class Goods and Prices low.

Mr. Minor, our cutter, is one of the best in Ontario.

EVERY GARMENT GUARANTEED!!

Please call and inspect our New Goods.

A. N. REID.

For..

THIRTY...

DAYS.....

WE will sell our entire line of

Wall Paper....

—AND—

Window Shades

AT A DOUBLE DISCOUNT 10 & 5p.c.

10 per cent. off Special, and 5 per cent. off for cash.

We positively will not be undersold at

OVERELL'S BOOK STORE.

INTELLIGENCER PRINTING AND PUBLISHING COMPANY (LIMITED.)

J. C. JAMIESON, President. | J. W. LONDON, Secretary

THE Treasurer is the only person authorized to receive money from the Company, or to grant receipts for the same.

All Bills, Notes, Cheques and other documents binding on the Company, will require the signature of the President, in addition to th of the Treasurer.

THE INTELLIGENCER is printed and published by the INTELLIGENCER Printing and Publishing Company (Limited) by James C. Jamieson, resident in Belleville, the Office, Front St., south of Hotel St

The Daily Intelligencer.

LET THERE BE HARMONY IN THINGS ESSENTIAL—LIBERALITY IN THINGS NOT ESSENTIAL—CHARITY IN ALL.

VOL. 28. BELLEVILLE ONTARIO TUESDAY OCTOBER 30 1894 NO 152

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

MEDICAL.

DR. WISHART.

47 GROSVENOR ST., Toronto, will be at the Huffman House, Belleville, Saturday, Dec. 1st, '94. 1924wly

DR. QUACKENBUSH, M.D., V.M.D., M.D., D.P.S.

HOMŒOPATHIC Physician, Surgeon and Accoucheur, has removed his office over store lately occupied by J. C. Tyrrell, Residence George St., opposite Dr. Corby's.

JOHN J. FARLEY, M. D., C. M., M. R. C. S. England.

OFFICE and Residence—corner of Bridge and George Streets—three streets east of Post Office.

LEGAL.

FLINT & McCAMON.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public, etc. Solicitors for the Canadian Bank of Commerce. Office, City Hall, Front Street, Belleville, Ont. 434tf

JOHN J. B. FLINT, W. J. McCAMON.

STEWART MASSON.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, Notary, Conveyancer, etc. Office, South side Bridge st., over Wallbridge & Clark's, Belleville, Ont. Money to loan at lowest rates. 763wtf

J. F. WILLS' LAW OFFICE.

REMOVED to 2nd door from Front Street, on ground floor.

A. GOODRICH.

LAWYER, 124 Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill., 28 years' experience; secrecy; special facilities in several States; Goodrich on Divorce; with laws of all States in press. 764ly

GEO. A. KINGSTON.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, etc., with Lount, Marsh and Cameron, 25 Toronto St., Toronto. Money to loan on farm property at lowest rates. 250dlfw.

MIKEL & ROBERTS.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notary Public, Conveyancers, etc. Offices Bridge St., Belleville. Monies to loan at lowest rate.

THOMAS & HALLIWELL.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Conveyancers, &c. Money to loan. 293d3mwly

J. PARKER THOMAS, J. EARL HALLIWELL.

PONTON & MORDEN.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public Conveyancers. Office over Express and Telegraph Office, Bridge St., Belleville. Money to loan—private funds.

W. N. PONTON, M. A., Solicitor Hastings Loan and Investment Society.
W. S. MORDEN, B.A.

F. GUSS PORTER.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, Notary Public, etc. Office in the Robertson Block, east side of Front Street.

To Private Money to Loan, 271dwly

FRANCIS S. WALLBRIDGE

(Successor to Hon. Lewis Wallbridge, Q.C.)
BARRISTER, Solicitor, Conveyancer, etc. Office, McAnnaby building, corner Front and Bridge streets, Belleville, Ont. Private fund to loan at 5 per cent., on easy terms upon good land security. Charges moderate.

HENRY CARRE, C. E.

M.C. Soc C.E.,
DOMINION AND PROVINCIAL LAND SURVEYOR.

Special attention paid to Hydraulics and Land Drainage. Patents obtained and Drawings made. Office—McAnnaby Block, under Ontario Business College, Front St. P.O. address—Box 203, Belleville.

A. G. NORTHRUP.

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Shire Hall, Belleville. 226dlwly

D. I. DULMAGE, L.D.S., D.D.S. (Tor. University).

DENTIST—Office over Bignall & Thompson's. Night calls at residence on Forin Street. d,w

CHAS. JOSE.

VETERINARY Surgeon, Graduate Ontario Veterinary College. Member Ontario Veterinary Society. Office and residence, Foreman Ont. Calls by mail or telegram promptly attended to. 304d,wly

MISCELLANEOUS.

AGENTCY of the Liverpool and London and Globe Fire and Life Insurance Companies. W. P. HUDSON, Agent, Office Campbell. street, Belleville. d,w

-PLUMBING-

We have added to our Workmen,

MR. GEORGE JOHNSON,

Who has for the past six years been prominent on large contracts in Victoria, B. C., San Francisco, Denver, and Chicago.

- - ALSO - -

MR. EDWIN W. BISHOP,

A graduate of the New York School for Plumbing (class 92), who comes highly recommended.

With these men added to our staff, we feel sure of giving satisfactory to all in Sanitary Plumbing.

C. F. Smith & Co.

STOVE PIPES!
STOVE PIPES!!
STOVE PIPES!!!

WHIPS! LANTERNS!
WHIPS!! LANTERNS!!
WHIPS!!! LANTERNS!!!

Lamps, Flower Pots,
Lamps, Flower pots,
Lamps, Flower Pots.

—AT—

THE FAIR,

FRANK WEEKS, MANAGER.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieves all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

ACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York.

Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

Mrs. May Johnson.

Ayer's Pills

"I have taken Ayer's Pills for many years, and always derived the best results from their use."

For Stomach and Liver troubles, and for the cure of headache caused by these derangements, Ayer's Pills cannot be equaled. They are easy to take, and

Are the Best all-round family medicine I have ever known."—Mrs. MAY JOHNSON, 368 Rider Ave., New York City.

AYER'S PILLS

Highest Awards at World's Fair.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla for the blood.

"FOR THE BENEFIT OF RHEUMATIC SUFFERERS,"

ACETOCURA

MADE ME ANOTHER MAN

G. H. REEVES,
(Reeves & Beebe),
169 State street, Chicago.
Coutts & Sons,
72 Victoria street, Toronto.

Write for gratis pamphlet to COUTTS & Sons, 72 Victoria street, Toronto, Head offices—London, Glasgow and Manchester, (G.B.) Cologne, Germany, Aarau, Switzerland.

Local Agents—

L. W. YEOMANS & CO.,
DRUGGISTS,
BELLEVILLE

CANADIAN PACIFIC Ry.

WILL RUN

HUNTERS' EXCURSIONS
TO MUSKOKA LAKES
AND ALL STATIONS.

MATTAWA, NEPIGON, SPANISH RIVER
AND INTERMEDIATE STATIONS
OCT. 19 and 20
OCT. 26 and 27
NOV. 2 and 3

When Round Trip Tickets will be sold for

SINGLE FIRST CLASS FARE

Good for Return until Dec. 1st, 1894.
For busine ss passing the 45th Toronto, rates to above points will not be less than 25 cents added to ordinary Round Trip Rates to Toronto.

Dogs, Guns, Personal Baggage, Camp Equipments, to the amount of 300 lbs will be carried FREE

S. BURROWS,
General Ticket Agent, Belleville

Apollinaris

"THE QUEEN OF TABLE WATERS.

"FAMILIAR IN MILLIONS OF MOUTHS AS ANY HOUSEHOLD WORD."
"OF IRREPROACHABLE CHARACTER."
"CHEAP AS WELL AS GOOD."
"INVALIDS ARE RECOMMENDED TO DRINK IT."
"THE DEMAND FOR IT IS GREAT AND INCREASING."

The Times, London.

Daily Intelligencer.

RECOVERY IS IMPOSSIBLE

But the Czar of Russia May Live for Several Weeks.

HIS HEART NOW BEATS STEADIER

There is Also an Improvement in the Œdema of the Legs—The Princess Alix Attending the Four Days' Services of the Orthodox Church Before Taking Communion.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 30.—It is considered that for the present the danger of a fatal ending to the Czar's illness is over. It is probable that the doctors will succeed in prolonging his Majesty's life for some weeks. The ozæma of the legs causes less anxiety than general organic weakness and the diminution of the heart's activity. These symptoms constitute the real danger, as a syncopic attack under these conditions may lead to sudden death. The mental state of his Majesty, on which much depends, has improved since he has seen all the members of his family and Princess Alix assembled and preparations made for the marriage of the Czarewitch. The regular publication of bulletins of a slightly more favorable nature has had the effect of quieting the people of St. Petersburg. The general impression here is that the end is inevitable, but that it will not occur for some time.

A despatch from Livadia says that the Metropolitan of St. Petersburg arrived there yesterday morning to perform the ceremony of anointing Princess Alix. For the next four days the princess will attend the services of the orthodox church, and at the final service will partake of communion, after which the marriage ceremony may be performed at any time.

The following bulletin, signed by the physicians in attendance on the Czar, was issued at 11 o'clock yesterday morning: "The Czar slept less last night. His appetite is unchanged. The œdema does not decrease."

The official bulletin sent from Livadia at 8 o'clock last evening said: The Emperor ate a little yesterday. He felt weaker. The cough, with which he has been long troubled in consequence of chronic catarrh of the throat and trachea, has grown perceptibly worse and interferes with his breathing. His expectoration is tinged with blood.

The anniversary of the Czar's escape in the railway accident near Borki was celebrated with a special Te Deum in the chapel at Livadia yesterday. Among those present were the Czarina, the Czarewitch and Princess Alix of Hesse.

Awaiting a Better Opportunity.

ROME, Oct. 30.—The text of the Pope's speech to the conference held to consider the union of the eastern and western churches has just been made public. After praising all who had helped to bring about the conference he said: "We wish that all governments who had embraced this grand ideal, inasmuch as they had achieved well be for the interest and benefit of the entire world; but political views, and still more, we regret to say, the unreasonable jealousies of some of the governments, which shrink in what condition the papacy is placed, have prevented these reunions from having the large and solid results rightly expected from them. Above all, we must lament the absence of the patriarch of the Armenians. We shall not on this account, however, recede from our purpose, and even if we can count only within certain limits on political union, nothing will prevent us from solving the grand problem from the religious side, while awaiting more propitious times for the rest of the world."

Were Women's Clothes for Three Years.

WINFIELD, Ills., Oct. 30.—Peter Cline, son of Farmer Cline, residing near here, was arrested in an Iowa town three years ago for robbery. He made his escape before he was taken to prison and never recaptured until last night. Two years ago, a woman made her appearance at Farmer Cline's place and was introduced as a sister. Miss Cline had gentleman callers and everything went well. An officer from Iowa, however, put in an appearance and arrested the supposed woman, who proved to be Peter Cline, and who for three years had worn female garments and made his home here entirely unsuspected. Cline has been taken to Iowa.

Time They Killed the Bull.

SOMERVILLE, N. J., Oct. 30.—Jacob Swartz, a farm laborer at the Bellmeade stock farm of Charles Rowell Cook, arranged to death yesterday afternoon by an infuriated Holstein bull. Swartz is the third man the animal has killed.

Mayor Marsh's Murderers.

WICHITA, Kas., Oct. 30.—After a week's chase the murderers of J. F. Marsh, mayor of Kinsley, were captured in a cave in Logan county. They are the names of Arnold and Harvey and said they were from Indian Territory. They confessed.

Several Inches of Snow in Dakota.

SIOUX CITY, Ia., Oct. 30.—Snow fell yesterday over nearly all of South Dakota and Northwestern Iowa. Several inches of snow have fallen here, and it is still coming down.

Proposed New Freight Line.

BOSTON, Oct. 30.—Donaldson Bros., the steamship owners are desirous of establishing a freight line between this city and Bristol, England, and negotiations are in progress which, give promise of the plan being tried this winter. Donaldson boats now run to Montreal from Bristol but during the winter it is necessary for them to change their eastern terminal owing to ice. This therefore gives them the opportunity to try Boston and the firm is now looking at the Hoosac tunnel docks which will be their Boston headquarters if they come here.

OTTAWA NOTES.

Several Important Cases Decided in the Exchequer Court.

OTTAWA, Oct. 30.—In the Exchequer Court judgment was given for the respondents in the case of the Toronto Street Railway Co. vs. the Crown. The case was of great importance and involved a sum of $56,000 paid by the company as duty on steel rails imported from England in 1891-2 and '93. The appellants claimed that the rails, which weighed 69 pounds per lineal yard, should be "free," being over 25 pounds in weight. The case will be appealed to a higher court.

Sinclair & Bowdrey, G.T.R. contractors, vs. the Crown, another customs dispute over rails, was given by default in favor of the plaintiffs, who will amend their statement of claim to bring the rails under the 30 per cent. clause in the tariff and thus save a big portion of the 80 per ton duty imposed.

During the races of Quebec Yacht Club Senator Landry's Bermudette ran down the Muriel. The race rules provided that yachts should be sailed by owners. A professional sailed the Muriel and Senator Landry consequently thought she was out of the race. Mr. Landry kept his course and in so doing ran down the opposing yacht. The judge held that both parties were responsible and ordered costs and damages divided.

Sir John Thompson left at three yesterday for England. He was accompanied by Senator Sanford. The Premier takes his second daughter with him to Paris where he leaves here in a convent to pursue her education. Sir Adolphe Caron goes with the Premier as far as New York.

Lieut.-Governor Mackintosh of the Northwest is already beginning to feel very much better since he arrived in Ottawa. Sir James Grant has made a careful diagnosis of his case and has come to the conclusion that he is not suffering from sciatica at all, but from the effects of injuries he sustained some time ago.

The Ottawa district has been disfranchised from representation at the general assembly of the Knights of Labor which meets at New Orleans on November 15th and this gives cause for trouble. The reason alleged for the disfranchisement is that Ottawa district assembly has not one hundred members, the number required for representation at the general assembly. Local labor men believed that the true reason is that the Sovereign party who are in power in the general assembly and who overthrew Powderly have reason to believe Ottawa would send a Powderly man to the assembly. It is said other districts have been treated likewise.

The Protest Entered.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Secretary Gresham, upon receipt of the protest from the Secretary of Agriculture on Saturday regarding the prohibition of American cattle by Germany, promptly directed Mr. Theodore Runyon, the United States ambassador at Berlin, to make representations to the German government stating that Texas fever could not be communicated by diseased cattle, so that even if the reported discovery of this disease were correct there would be no danger to German cattle; also that the meat of cattle affected by this disease had never been shown to be dangerous to the consumer. The ambassador was therefore instructed to protest against the action of the German government.

The Newfoundland Elections.

ST. JOHNS, Nfld., Oct. 30.—Both political parties are preparing for the final struggle which takes place on Saturday week. The Government nominated strong teams for all the districts. Placentia will be contested by Receiver General Donnelly, Walter Grieve and John Foran; Burin by George Buffet and Marmaduke Winter, brother of Justice Winter; St. Johns West by Charles Tessie Tessier, the new Superior General, James Callahan and Joseph Downey; St. Johns East by Robert Morris and John O'Dea. The Whitewavites have nominated James Pittman and Henry Grear for Burin, Michael Tobin, John Dunphy and William Bonia for Placenda. The teams for the city division were chosen last night.

They Blame Their Pastor.

HAMILTON, Oct. 30.—There is a little unpleasantness existing in Knox Church at present, which may force Rev. Mungo Fraser, D. D., to resign. James Ogilvie sent a letter to the pastor complaining that a new Sunday school building has been erected, on account of which the church has been run into debt, and he thinks the pastor is greatly responsible for it. Rev. Mr. Fraser has stated that unless the over-officious member resigns or withdraws he will himself retire.

Murdered His Affianced.

VOROQUA, Wis., Oct. 30.—Last week the body of Miss Mary A. Hine, aged 16, was found suspended by the neck in a chamber of her house near this city. It was supposed that she had committed suicide but this morning Samuel S. Buxton who was arrested Saturday at the instance of the dead woman's brother confessed to having murdered Miss Jones. He ruined her under promise of marriage and when she pressed him to keep his agreement strangled her to death.

Big Fire In Pittsburg.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 30.—J. Porter & Co., wholesale dealers in millinery and notions at 830-834 Liberty street were entirely burned out last night. The fire started shortly after 9 o'clock and it took the entire fire department to keep the flames confined to the Porter building. Porter & Co.'s loss on stock is $200,000. The building which is owned by B. F. Jones and valued at $50,000 is almost entirely destroyed.

Canada Loan Freely Subscribed.

LONDON, Oct. 30.—Tenders for the new Canadian loan were opened yesterday afternoon in the Bank of Montreal in the presence of Hon. G. E. Foster. The amount subscribed was more than double that asked. The tenders at 4.97 8s 6d will receive 45 per cent of the amount applied for, and above that allotments will be made in full.

Crawford's Assailants Captured.

SPRING HILL MINES, N.S., Oct. 30.—The other two Italians implicated in the shooting of Edward Crawford were captured yesterday afternoon by Constables Fraser and McRae near River Phillip station and lodged in the lock-up.

One Killed and Four Injured.

DELAWARE, O., Oct. 30.—While a freight train was passing through the Big Four yards at noon yesterday a switchman sent a cut of cars down a side track. A gang of workmen were struck. John O'Donnell was cut in two, Foreman John Rinns had his foot smashed. Three others were slightly injured.

Italians Are Satisfied.

ROME, Oct. 30.—The appointment of the Prince of Hohenlohe to be German Chancellor and Prussian Premier has made a good impression on Italian politicians. His brother Prince Gustav Adolf of Hohenlohe, Cardinal Priest, has received numerous messages of congratulation.

TWO THOUSAND LIVES LOST

And Twenty Thousand People Were Rendered Homeless

BY AN EARTHQUAKE IN LA JA RIOJA

The Chief City of the Province and San Juan Suffer the Most, Though Great Destruction Was Wrought in Many Outlying Towns—One Village Was Swallowed by the Earth.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—The Herald has the following from Buenos Ayres: A correspondent from La Ja Rio Ja, capital of the province of the same name, telegraphs that the city has been ruined by Saturday night's earthquake. Churches, schools and public offices are all thrown down.

At times the shocks lasted 25 seconds. The scene was a horrible one, women shrieking and fainting on every hand, as walls came crashing down. Two sisters of Mercy were killed, and many more are now entombed beneath the ruins.

The Governor fears that the killed and wounded throughout the province must number at least two thousand, as many of the outlying towns also suffered greatly.

At San Juan not a house in the town is without damage. It is reported that in various parts of the province the ground opened and a geyser of boiling water and mud spouted forth. The village of Arboredon has been completely swallowed up in the huge gaps which opened in the ground. It is estimated at least 20,000 persons are homeless.

HIDDEN TEASURE FOUND.

Many Thousand Dollars Dug Up at East Otto.

BUFFALO, Oct. 30.—A Times correspondent at East Otto writes: Some time ago a middle-aged man came to this village and secured employment as a mill hand. On Sunday evening and whenever he could get a day off he would start out with a pickaxe over his shoulder, as though in search of something. His peculiar actions aroused considerable curiosity, and as to the motives of his trip he would give no satisfactory reply. Last Thursday after finishing his day's work the man shouldered his pickaxe and started out as usual, but this time he was followed at a discreet distance by some of his fellow-workmen.

The man went directly to the creek which flows through this village and proceeded down its banks and began to dig. In a few minutes he uncovered a box. One blow of the pickaxe broke open the affair, and those who were watching saw him gather up and put into a bag that appeared to them to be gold pieces in large quantities. They were too astonished to peak or move, and when they recovered the man had left and his bag, but it under his coat and disappeared through the woods.

The watchers hurried to the spot and found a single gold coin of English mintage, bearing the date of 1802. It is believed by those who saw the man gather up the coin that its value must be away up in the thousands of dollars. Nothing has been seen since of the man. How the money came to be hidden in that spot is a mystery which puzzles all the residents of this village. It is generally believed, however, that is was buried here by the British during the war of 1812, and that the stranger was a descendant of one of the men who hid the treasure.

SAID TO HAVE DIED.

Rumored Death of the Young Empress of China.

LONDON, Oct. 30.—The Central News correspondent in Shanghai says it is rumored in Pekin that the young Empress is dead, but the fact will not be announced nor mourning be worn by the court until after the birthday of the Dowager Empress. The Central News correspondent in Tokio telegraphs: It is not believed here that the Japanese will attack Port Arthur before the end of the week. Gen. Nozu, who commands the advance force of the Japanese army, has abandoned the pursuit of the fugitives from Kiuchuan, as he does not wish to be burdened with more Chinese prisoners. The Japanese march upon Feng-Huang-Chang has begun. The London correspondent of the Berlin Kreuz Zeitung had an interview with a Japanese attache here yesterday. The attache said he learned privately from friends acquainted with Manchuria that for a trained army campaigning in that region would be easier in winter than in summer. The ice in Corea bay would not affect the Mayflower in the movement of the Japanese warships.

The Fast Atlantic Project.

MONTREAL, Oct. 30.—Robert Grayson, the London manager for Jas. L. Huddart, the promoter of the fast Atlantic service, arrived here yesterday from New York. He is here to see the Canadian Pacific railway people, and will go on to Ottawa to see the Government. He expresses confidence that the scheme will go through as soon as Lord Jersey's report is made public and that the funds for the project can easily be raised in London. Lord Jersey's report will doubtless carry with it a financial subsidy by the British Government. Mr. Grayson says the scheme has already the moral support of the British public.

Gold From Alaska.

TACOMA, Wash., Oct. 30.—The steamer Filcot from Alaska yesterday brought 100 pounds of gold dust valued at $40,000, the result of the season's work of four miners on the Yukon river. The steamer Bertha is now on the way to San Francisco with $100,000 in gold obtained on the same diggings. Eight hundred miners are to winter on the Yukon this season.

Halifax Fire Brigade Dismissed.

HALIFAX, Oct. 30.—The city council last night voted by 10 to 7 to summarily dismiss the fire department of Halifax. It was on account of the refusal of the Union Engine Company to obey an order of the council. New firemen have been provided to man the apparatus in case of emergency and until permanent arrangements can be made.

This is a New Election Trick.

WILMINGTON, Del. Oct. 30.—Frederick Edenbach chairman of the Republican first district committee and the private secretary of U. S. Senator Higgins was arrested Saturday night charged with bribery in buying tax receipts from Democrats and thereby disfranchising them from voting at the coming election.

Heavy Verdict Against a Railroad.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 30.—In the action of Henry W. Purchase against the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore Railroad Company, for injuries received February 22, 1893, the jury in the Court of Common Pleas yesterday gave a verdict of $35,000 for the plaintiff.

SURPRISE SOAP — LASTS LONGEST GOES FARTHEST.

The cheapest Soap to Use. 181 THE ST. CROIX SOAP MFG. CO., ST. STEPHEN, N. B.

Why

Don't You Use

Surprise Soap ?

IT does away with hard work, —dont boil or scald the clothes nor give them the usual hard rubbing. (See the directions on the wrapper).

It gives the whitest, sweetest, cleanest clothes after the wash.

It prevents wearing and tearing by harsh soaps and hard rubs. Rub lightly with Surprise Soap,—the dirt drops out. Harmless to hands and finest fabrics.

Wheat Mixing Frauds.

TORONTO, Oct. 30.—The alleged irregularities and frauds in the mixing of wheat at Fort William led the grain section of the Board of Trade to decide to complain to the department at Ottawa. Mr. James Carruthers complained that he had received from Crow & Co. of Winnipeg a car load of wheat, partly number one, but mixed with number three, and classed by the inspector at Fort William as number one. A resolution was passed protesting against the practice.

Part of the Cook Gang Captured.

MUSKOGEE, I.T., Oct. 30.—Charles Beck, with twenty Indian deputy sheriffs, yesterday morning captured five of the Cook gang. The men are Joe Simmons, Mose Price, Dick Reynolds, Jim Bates and Lon Perry. The capture was made midway between Wagner and this city. The rest of the gang are in hiding near Sagnes and the Indian police. Sheriffs and deputy marshals are scouring the country. It is believed the remaining outlaws will soon be under arrest.

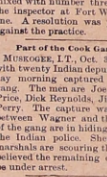

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Oct. 30.—The steamer Athos, from Porto au Prince for New York, brings advices stating that President Hippolyte of Hayti is about to resign in favor of Nord Alexis.

Severe Storm in Nebraska.

OMAHA, Oct. 30.—A severe snow storm prevailed all yesterday throughout Nebraska.

SARAH BERNHARDT.

NOT ONLY THE GREATEST ACTRESS OF THIS DAY BUT A WOMAN OF HIGH ATTAINMENT IN MANY OTHER BRANCHES OF ART.

Probably there is not a woman in the world to-day whose name is more familiar than that of Sarah Bernhardt; she needs no introduction to the Canadian people, therefore, we will simply quote what she has written about 'Vin Mariani': 'I have been delighted to find 'Vin Mariani' in all the large cities of the United States, and it has, as always, largely helped to give me that strength so necessary in the performance of the arduous duties which I have imposed upon myself. I never fail to praise its virtues to all my friends, and I heartily congratulate you upon the success which you so well deserve.'

Dr. Cyrus Edson, chief of Health Department, New York, says that in cases of influenza (La Grippe) where patients suffer with high fever and catarrh in the head, the most effectual remedy is the generous diffusible tonic 'Vin Mariani.' All grocers and druggists keep it, but if you should not find it at your dealers write direct to Lawrence A. Wilson & Co., Montreal, and if you enclose a stamp for postage you will receive an album containing the photographs of many celebrities who have testified to the excellence of 'Vin Mariani.'

The Ahr Valley.

It is becoming the custom among European travellers to stop at Remagen on the Rhine, and take a little excursion to the beautiful Valley of the Ahr, with its picturesque villages along the vine clad slope. Here is also located the spring from which comes that world wide favorite "Apollinaris Water." At Neuenahr, in the valley, the river Ahr is very beautiful, and one can find few more quaintly attractive spots than the Upper Gate at Ahrweiler, or the Id mill at Heppingen.

It takes many wall to make a drunkard's laugh.

For Over Fifty Years

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for children teething. It soothes the child, soft ens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for Diarrhœa. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Sold by druggists throughout the world.

17d&wly

Dyspepsia or Indigestion is occasioned by the want of action of the biliary ducts, loss of vital energy in the stomach to secrete the gastric juices without which digestion cannot go on; also, before the principal cause of headache, Parsons's Vegetable Pills taken before going to bed, for a while, never fail to give relief and effect a cure. Mr. F. W. Ashdown, Ashdown Out., writes: "Parmelee's Pills are taking the lead against ten other makes which I have in stock."

Don't put your secrets in the advertising columns.

Burdock Blood Bitters cures all diseases of the blood from a common Pimple to the worst Scrofulous Sores or Ulcers. Skin Diseases, Boils, Botches and all Blood Humors cannot resist its healing powers.

"Beware the strength born of carrying the burdens.

GENTLEMEN,—I have used your Yellow Oil and have found it unequalled for burns, sprains, bruises, scalds, rheumatism, croup and colds. All who use it recommend it. Mrs Hight, Montreal.

Temptation rellies more on suggestion than exposure.

Steamer "Iona"

Will eave Belleville three times each week for Oswego, connecting with trains for New York.

Wanted!

10,000 People of the City of Belleville, to buy the famous

ENGLISH SPICED SAUSAGE!

Manufactured by

McGUINNESS,

Front Street.

Tender Loins, Feet, Ribs, Hocks and Fresh Heads, Choice Roasts 9c. per lb.

= SILKS =

We have in stock a full line of the

Corticelli Embroidery and Knitting Silks

- - IN - -

Honiton Lace Emb'y Silk,
Outline do do
Knitting Silk,
Twist Embroidery,
Roman Floss,
Filo Floss.

— ALSO —

27 INCH PURE JAPANESE SILK IN

LIGHT BLUE,
CREAM,
ROSE PINK,
CORAL PINK,
BUTTERCUP,
CARDINAL,

BLACK - SILKS!

In all the leading makes.

J. P. THOMPSON & CO.

ALLAN LINE,

Royal Mail Steamships. Liverpool, Calling at Moville.

	From Montreal daylight	From Quebec
PARISIAN	Oct. 6	Oct. 7
MONGOLIAN	" 13	" 14
HIBERNIAN	" 20
LAURENTIAN	" 27	" 28
NUMIDIAN	Nov. 3	Nov. 4
PARISIAN	" 10	" 11

RATES OF PASSAGE.

First cabin: Derry and Liverpool, $45 and upwards single; $95 and upwards return. Second cabin, Liverpool, Derry, Belfast, Glasgow, $30; return $55. Steerage at lowest rates (everything found).

All steamships except the Hibernian carry 1st cabin, 2nd cabin and steerage passengers.

STATE LINE SERVICE NEW YORK, LONDONDERRY AND GLASGOW.

STATE OF NEBRASKA..... Oct. 12
STATE OF CALIFORNIA..... " 26
STATE OF NEBRASKA..... Nov. 22

Cabin passage, $40 and upward, return $80 and upward; Second cabin $20. Steerage at lowest rates.

For tickets and other information apply to
W. E. THOMPSON
General Ticket Agency,
Bridge St., Belleville
or to S. BURROWS,
Agent,

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and aids to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adopting the world's best products to the needs of physical beauty, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c. bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, TUESDAY OCT. 30.

EDITORIAL BREVITIES.

Notwithstanding the great reduction in the United States tariff, amounting to nearly one half in the case of potatoes and eggs and to a considerable amount on lambs, prices paid to our farmers are little, if any, better than last fall. There is something adically wrong with Grit tariff theories.

The use of street cars for distributing mail matter, which has been a marked success in St. Louis for a year or two, is to be tried in Pittsburg. The branch office at the East end will now receive letters from the main office twenty times a day, instead of ten. The Postmaster expects not only to expedite the mail, but to make a material reduction in expense.

In 1869, the year of the opening of the Suez Canal, the tonnage of ships entered at Hong Kong was 2,509,000; three years later it had risen to 3,800,000; last year it was 7,177,025; the total tonnage entered and cleared being 14,349,122. This places Hong Kong first in the list of the ports of the British Empire, although London and Liverpool run it pretty close. Fifty years ago, when ceded to England by the treaty of Nankin in 1842, it was a desolate island.

To repress drunkenness, the Governor of St. Petersburg has just ordered that the names and addresses of all persons found intoxicated in the streets, regardless of rank or sex, shall be posted in certain public places in the city, and also printed in the official Gazette. Fifty years ago they were compelled to sweep the streets, under the eye of the police, for a number of hours.

It is rather amusing to witness Mr. Laurier visiting our great North-West, which Mr. Blake described as "cursed with an Arctic climate," and praising it as it deserves. Time brings its revenges.

It speaks well for the law-abiding character of the Canadian people, that no attempt was made to lynch the inhuman monster who was guilty of the atrocious butchery of the poor young girl Jessie Keith. The punishment prescribed by law seems insufficient for such a wretch as Chatelle.

The public gaze is at present turned towards London the Less, which will shortly elect a member to the Legislature in place of Mr. W. R. Meredith, who was appointed Chief Justice. The Grits are making a "big push" in support of Mr. Hobbs, who was defeated by Mr. Meredith in June last. The Conservative candidate is Mr. Thos. Essery, Mayor of the city, who is likely to retain the seat for the Conservative party by at least as large a majority as Mr. Meredith had.

Have you Neuralgia!

If you are suffering the agonies of neuralgia, and have failed to get a remedy that will afford relief, we want you to try Polson's Nerviline. No remedy in the market has given anything like the same degree of satisfaction. Its action on nerve pain is simply marvellous, and as it is put up in 25 cent bottles, no great expense is involved in giving it a trial. Polson's Nerviline is the most pleasant, powerful, and certain pain remedy in the world. Sold by druggists and all dealers in medicine. 25 cents a bottle.

—The number of birds killed by striking light-houses is incalculable. Over 1500 have been found dead at the foot of the Bartholdi statue in a single morning, while from Fire Island (Long Island) light we have a record of 230 birds of our spectacled black poll warblers—which met their death on the night of Sept. 30, 1893.

—A famous London will bequeathed 'all my black and white horses' to a certain devisee. After the lawyers had wrangled to determine whether all the black horses and all the white ones were meant, or only the piebald, or black and white ones, a witness testified that all the horses of the dead man were mares, and confusion was worse confounded.

Lane's Medicine Moves the Bowels Each Day.

In order to be healthy this is necessary.

PALE CHILDREN

With poor appetites and frequent coughs, should be given a few bottles of . . . Campbell's

Skrei Cod Liver Oil.

Doctors recommend it because it is pure and easy to take and to digest.

FRANK HAD TWO ENEMIES

In His Ante-Mortem Statement Westwood Spoke of Two Young Men.

SUPPOSED TO BEAR HIM ILL WILL

One's Name is Gus Clarke—The Assassin Looked Like a Companion of His One James Lowe—"We Fooled Around in the Hall" Was Another Remark made by the Deceased.

TORONTO, Oct. 30.—Once more the old Parkdale Town Hall was crowded last evening for the people of the west end have not yet lost interest in the Westwood mystery and at each resumption of the much adjourned inquest, cling to the hope that something new will be brought on. The "Parkdale Mystery" as it is now commonly termed is indeed a mystery deep and dark. Still does the pall of the black unknown hang over it and still are the efforts of justice wholly at sea as regards a plausible explanation of the dark deed or the identity of the dastardly perpetrator. Other crimes more horrible have since darkened the annals of the province, but their perpetrators are now within the grasp of the law and the interest of the ever-curious public has reverted to the Toronto murder case. Every possible theory has been formulated and evidence advanced to substantiate it, but still the sleuth hounds of the law are baffled and the people are beginning to believe that murder will not out.

The first witness examined last evening was C. B. Vaunant, 13 Close avenue. He heard both shots, with an interval of three minutes between, at about 10.30.

P. C. McLennan gave official evidence of no importance. The blinds of the dining room were in such a position that a view of its interior would be obtainable from the lawn. A search of the grounds revealed no tracks.

Attorney Curry first saw Frank Westwood the Sunday afternoon after the shooting, when Mr. Westwood gave him an account of the affair. His story differed from the version given by Mr. Westwood at the inquest in some slight particulars. One expression Frank muttered was, "We fooled around the hall a few minutes." The boy did not seem to care to say much that day. On Tuesday he, in company with others, listened to Frank's ante-mortem statement, which he produced and read in court. It repeated the same old story, with this addition: "I had some trouble with Gus Clarke. The man who shot me looked like a chum of his, James Lowe, who worked in the nail works." The boy himself, however, seemed to attach no importance to this statement. He would, he said, not care to have any person get into trouble on his statement. He was positive it was not Clarke who shot him. He (Frank) had put his foot against the door and only partially opened it. Frank was fully conscious and stated that he had never had any trouble with any female. Mr. Westwood, father of the boy, had told Mr. Curry that he had not yet retired when Frank came in on the night of the shooting. Those words: "We fooled around in the hall" might or might not, Mr. Curry thought, have related to the case. The peculiar wording of Mr. Westwood's message to the police, "There's a man in the hall with my son," however, brought back the boy's words to him.

Dr. Lynd said that Frank was in a condition to make an intelligent anti-mortem statement and he realized that he could not recover. He thought Frank's apparent reluctance to talk was due to exhaustion. The boy had told Mr. Curry that he (Curry) could not pump him.

Police Sergeant Coombs had made notes of Frank's statements on the night of the shooting. They agreed substantially with the many statements already made. Frank had spent the evening with his chums, Cooper, Lennox and Andrews, with whom he parted at 10.15. It was only about 10.30 he said, when the bell rang. Frank had said, "Don't search my clothes." Later he had muttered while the officer was alone with him: "I saw you on Queen street to-night. Gus is in the cooler, isn't he?" The police officer said, "Do you mean Gus Clarke?" and on Frank replying in the affirmative, said: "No, he's not arrested." Frank then said, "That settles it." Replying to a question, he said he did not think it was Clarke who shot him. It was a man with a black moustache. The officer had mentioned Clarke name because he knew the latter to be a wild youth and thought some of the boys of that section of the city were afraid of him.

William Peer, jr., of Port Credit, one of "those stonehookers," gave evidence which amounted to nothing, but it amused the audience. He had heard nothing of any of "the boys" being shot in the city. A thorough examination elicited nothing.

Albert Peer, father of the previous witness, knew nothing either. Roars of laughter greeted his queer sallies. He evidently didn't want to tell much.

William R. Jeffry, who knew Frank Westwood well, never knew that he had any girl friends.

Chas. H. Westwood, the married brother of Frank, first heard of the shooting from his brother Willie on Sunday morning. He detailed how he spent the whole of Saturday evening with his wife and Mr. German. He knew little of Frank's affairs during the past eighteen months and had never had any difficulty with Frank over any girl. Never knew Frank had had any trouble, as far as he knew, with any person. He knew of no person bearing his father or any member of the family on ill-will. He was positive he knew of no South Parkdale girl with whom Frank kept company.

Once more the inquest was adjourned, this time till Monday, November 5.

Burglars go Through a Town.

HALIFAX, N.S. Oct. 30—Sunday night the post office at Wallace, Cumberland County, was burglarized and $43 in cash besides valued papers and notes of land secured. The office of G. B. Sherwood was also entered and a large number of valuable papers extracted from the vault, which was forced open. R. S. Fines office was also broken into, the safe was blown open and cash and cheques to the amount of $1200 taken, besides notes of land and private documents.

To Investigate G. T. R. Accounts.

LONDON, Oct. 30.—The Financial News says that Sir Henry Tyler may not find the general body of shareholders of the Grand Trunk Railway quite so easily satisfied as the selected deputation which waited on the Directors on Friday. The directors of the Grand Trunk have agreed to the demand of Friday's deputation to allow a thorough examination of the accounts of the company by an expert in Canada.

Wants the Money Returned.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 30.—Charles Morganfield, the alleged train robber, is making a fight against the Adams Express Co. to recover the money taken from him at the time he was arrested. It is claimed that the Express Company cannot identify the money. Morganfield's attorney says they have proof that their client was not engaged in the robbery.

The wavering mind is but a base possession.—Euripides.

It is better to fall among crows than flatterers.—Antisthenes.

Nothing is more noble, nothing more venerable than fidelity.—Cicero.

Noble desires, unless filled up with action, are but a shell of gold hollow within. —Roscoe.

If I built my felicity upon my reputation I am happy as long as the railer will give me leave.—Sidney.

THE SUBJECT OF WASTING.

SOME OF ITS PHASES AND HOW THEY ARE CURED.

The "Wasting" of Consumptive and the "Wasting" of Babies and Children—Scrofula, Anæmia and Other Forms of Illness Discussed—Coughs and Colds Reveal a Weakened Condition.

In the obituary notices of the late Prof. Hermann von Helmholtz, the German scientist, were references to one of his earlier works "On the Consumption of Tissue During Muscular Action." In this work Prof. Helmholtz set the theory for it as an established fact that whatever there is muscular action there is also a wasting, or rather a consumption of tissue.

The body is constantly changing. There is wasting going on all the time. Food is designed to counteract this wasting, and if the organs of the body are in a healthy state food does its work in a wholesome way. But the digestive and vital organs get out of tune every once in a while, so that an extra nourishment, one that is concentrated and easy of assimilation, is needed in order to keep up a normal condition of health.

If this extra nourishment is not taken the wasting which goes on incessantly soon impairs health. One of the first signs of a weakened, poorly nourished body is that cold easily. Colds are such common things that people are very apt to neglect them. They do not know that the cold reveals a weakened condition, but after taking cold several times they find it harder work to recover the semblance of health again.

The common way to cure a cold or a cough is to take some household specific, or when a person feels run down in health he thinks he needs a tonic or stimulant.

The truth is, however, ordinary specifics and tonics or stimulants for coughs and colds, afford only temporary relief. They are merely superficial means of relieving the local trouble, but they do not give that nourishment necessary to strengthen the system and overcome the wasting tendencies.

It is because Scott's Emulsion promotes the making of healthy tissue, enriches the blood, and gives vital strength that physicians give it such unqualified endorsement. Scott's Emulsion is quick to relieve Inflammation of Throat and Lungs, and its power to cure the most stubborn cough is unquestioned. But this is only part of its work. Scott's Emulsion nourishes the system able to ward off disease and other ailments.

This subject of wasting is almost inexhaustible. Scrofula results in a wasting of the vital elements of the blood, and Anæmia is simply no blood at all. Consumption is probably the worst form of wasting. In all of the early stages of this disease Scott's Emulsion will effect a cure. It requires time to recover after a patient has come into Consumption but there are numerous cases where Scott's Emulsion has cured persons who had got so far that they raised quantities of blood.

The wasting tendencies of babies and children are known to too many unhappy parents. There does not in thousands of instances seem to be any cause for their growing thin, but as a matter of fact their food does not nourish them and the babies and children do not thrive. The babies are weak and children seem to grow only one way.

Now it costs only 50c. to try Scott's Emulsion, and you will find that it will do more to stop a cough or a cold and build up all the rest of the nourishment taken. Scott's Emulsion makes babies fat and children robust and healthy. It takes away that thin haggard look in the pinched face of so many children.

Another one of the many uses of Scott's Emulsion is the way it helps mothers who are nursing babies. It gives them strength and makes their milk rich with the principles of food all babies need.

Scott's Emulsion is not a secret mixture. Its formula is furnished to physicians and has been endorsed by physicians for twenty years. It has a record unequalled by any other preparation in the world. For sale by all druggists, 50c. cents and one dollar. pamphlet mailed by Scott & Bowne, Belleville, on application.

CORBYVILLE.

CORBYVILLE, Oct. 30th.—A number of carriages from the city passed through Corbyville on Sunday. People enjoy driving on such a beautiful day. Among them I noticed Mr. and Mrs. Benmore, Mr. and Mrs. Bateman and Mrs. and Miss Lazier.—Mr. S. Fairman is suffering from a severe felon on the thumb of the left hand.—Mr. and Mrs. Beiser and Mr. Carruthers were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Goodwin on Sunday.—The young folks are anxiously awaiting Hollowe'en. The pea shooter is in great demand.—Mores water is needed in the river to operate the distillery satisfactorily.—Mr. Dean was here on business connected with the cattle now being placed in the sheds. On Saturday he returned to Toronto by the evening train.

OBITUARY.

Died on the 26th, at the home of her parents, at Glenmire, Annie B. Ray, eldest daughter of Wm. Ray, of Ameliasburg, of the lungs. Deceased was beloved by all who knew her, and a special favorite among young and old. The bereaved parents and friends have the entire sympathy of a large circle of acquaintances.

Stealthily the dark-winged angel,
In the shadow hovered nigh,
And our Annie's soul has vanished
To its home beyond the sky.
Now the tender flower transplanted
Thrives in Heaven's purer air,
But our tears will start unbidden,
Yet we cannot know she's there.

Now her form lies cold and tranquil
And her cheeks are waxen white,
Oh! we turn away in anguish
From the sad, unwelcome sight.
Brush away the dark brown ringlets,
From her cold and silent brow;
Close the eyes so full of sunshine,
All their light is faded now.

Though we know that she is safer,
In her bright home over there,
Still 'tis hard to lose our loved one,
Yet sweet to think of her up there.
Aching hearts are filled with sadness
And our eyes with tears are dim,
Though we know a loving Saviour
Called our Annie home to him.

—A. G.

ADAMS.

Mr. J. Beach, of Minturn, Arkansas, who has been visiting relatives in this vicinity, has left for home.—Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Cumming, late of Amsterdam, have returned home and taken up farming on his farm here.—Our Sabbath School sent a full deputation to the recent convention held in Belleville, viz:—Warden J. E. Glenn, David Adams and E. R. Boo se.—The R. T. of T. have removed their lodge room to Bush's school house. They report to be in a prosperous condition.—Miss Vandersourt, of Sidney, has been spending a few days in this locality.—We are having fine weather at present and the farmers are taking advantage in their ample work of fall plowing.

—The Florida gopher, a tortoise weighing eight or ten pounds, digs in sandy ridges remote from water, his burrow being eighteen or twenty feet long and descending at an angle of thirty five degrees. Being long lived, it occupies this place many years.

A CONFESSION.

THOUSANDS POISONED.

Many Are Dying Weekly.

Post Attacks of "Grippe" Have Left the Seeds of Death.

Ordinary Prescriptions Fail to Cleanse the System.

Paine's Celery Compound is Curing the Poisoned Victims.

The ablest medical men in the world say that all who have been attacked by "Grippe," and who have not thoroughly recovered, have the seeds of disease in their bodies working surely toward death. A deadly poison is in the blood in all the nerves of the body. We see around us nervous and trembling men and women; we see the melancholic, despondent, and sleepless who are weary of life, and we note with alarm the haggard appearance of hundreds whose expression of face indicates nothing but misery.

For such unfortunate individuals wise and prudent physicians have recommended Paine's Celery Compound as the safest, surest and most effective medicine for eradicating all traces of poison and impurities from the system.

Past experience has fully proved the superiority of Paine's Celery Compound over every other form of medicine. It quickly purifies the blood, braces the nervous system, gives tone and vigor, health and great bodily strength.

The following letter of testimony from Mrs. Mary E. Lampman, of Woodstock, Ont., is assuring, comforting and consoling for every sufferer:—

"After serious consideration I think it my duty to acknowledge the great good I have derived from Paine's Celery Compound. No living mortal can imagine the suffering that I endured for four months. That demon "La Grippe" got a fast hold of me; I became nervous, and was so prostrated that I could not sleep night or day. My life became a burden and I was reduced to a mere skeleton. My appetite was very poor; and I was so extremely nervous that I could not bear to have any person in the room with me.

"One Sabbath afternoon I read one of your papers, "Our Album," and found that Paine's Celery Compound had cured many people, I thought I would try a bottle, and bought one that afternoon, and commenced to take it according to directions. The relief was almost instant. I continued the use of the Compound, with the result that I can now sleep well all night and feel well when morning comes. My appetite is good; I am gaining in flesh and feel like a new person.

"I cannot find words to express my gratitude for your great Paine's Celery Compound, and for the wonderful cure it has brought about. I am 73 years of age, and can now walk five miles without feeling very tired. I am telling my friends and neighbors, who are sleepless and nervous and suffering as I was, about your medicine. Wishing you the abounded success, and hoping this may be read by some one who is afflicted and anxious for relief."

THIS MATTER CHANGED DAILY.

TUESDAY, Oct. 30 h.

WHICH?

HOME MADE OR GERMAN MADE?

Which will you buy? A ready made Jacket, or get up one at home? The German Jackets fit better, look better and wear better. See ours at $5, $6, $7.50, $10, $12 $14, $15.

W. FLINT JONES.

Next door to Haines & Lockett.

NIGHT SCHOOL

MECHANICS' INSTITUTE

Corner Front and Hotel Sts., will commence

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 1st, 1894.

The Advantages are:—

The Business Course, Shorthand and Type-writing Course, Instruction in Penmanship.

For four months, two evenings each week, from 7 to 9 o'clock, and six months' membership in the Institute

FEE FOR ALL IS

. . . . $3.00.

Books, Stationery, Etc., for the Business Course, cost $3.00.

Apply to W. J. OSBORNE, of ONTARIO BUSINESS COLLEGE.

A PERFECT FOOD.

Adopted in Thousands of Homes.

Lactated Food the Best.

Doctors, Mothers and Nurses Say So.

A perfect and intimate knowledge of what babies required for a life-giving diet, produced Lactated Food.

The old fashioned foods were too heavy, too strong, too irritating for the stomach, and in many cases were positively dangerous to health.

Since the advent of Lactated Food the majority of the old foods have disappeared and are almost forgotten. To-day infants nourished on Lactated Food are bright, vigorous and happy, they grow fat and strong, and are free from all the common infant sicknesses.

Our ablest physicians strongly recommend Lactated Food for children when weaned. The little ones like it, and are easily led to the important change in diet.

Are you using Lactated Food for your baby, dear mother? If not, we strongly urge you to do so, the change will delight your heart, and bring joy to your home.

—At a meeting held yesterday in Montreal of the shareholders of the Canada Shipping Company (Beaver Steamship Line), it was decided to take advantage of the Winding Up Act. The company has not paid a dividend since 1890.

New Advertisements.

WANTED.

WANTED—A Chambermaid and a Cook App y at O'Brien House. 1506j

WANTED—A Law Clerk who wants to study law. Apply to E. Guss Porter. 1506j

WANTED—General Servant. Apply to Mrs. J. W. Johnson, corner Hotel and Albert sts. 1503j

TO LET.

TO LET 2 sunny, warm brick houses in terrace, situated on Harriet St., West Belleville, known as Morten's, or Fillister's terrace. For terms of rent apply to R. C. Fillister, collector, or sub agent to the estate of the late H. E. Fillister Residence at Mr. Jardin's Corner of William and Dundas Sts., East Belleville. 85d2m

. . POTTER'S . .

Canned Tomatoes, Corn, Peas & Pumpkin

Have such a reputation that they need no comment from us. We have bought a large stock of these goods this season, and hope to supply our customers with the best goods ever packed.

We have also a choice stock of new Canned Peaches, Strawberries, Raspberries, Plums, Currants, Fine Apple, Cherries, Lima Beans, Asparagus, etc., etc., and solicit your favors.

BENMORE & BENSON.

Family Grocers. Telephone 190.

McLaughlin's

QUEEN FLOUR

Which is warranted

THE BEST IN CANADA

For sale by

Chas. E. Bishop.

Bridge St., Belleville.

Send him an order.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY

CHEAP EXCURSION!

—TO—

Toronto, - - $1.70.

Niagara Falls, - $2.85.

—ON—

OCTOBER 30TH AND 31ST,

Good for return not later than Nov. 1st.

For tickets and all information, apply to

U. E. THOMPSON,

GEN. TICKET AGENCY,

Bridge Street

TAKE NOTICE

Of the "Old Home" grocery store and drop in and see us. It gives us pleasure to show you our new stock of groceries and quote prices whether you are a purchaser or not. We are making a special run in flour this month. We can also supply you with all kinds of feed. Of our choice bran is of TEA we can only say "Just try it and you'll appreciate its merits, use it and you'll sing its praises."

J. A. ELLIOTT.

Front St., Belleville.

A Few Lines

For To-morrow.

Charlotte Russe (individuals, larger ones to order), Cream Rolls, Corn Muffins, Graham Gems and all kinds of pastry. Oyster Pat ies to order. Fresh Oysters, fine stock. Ice cream,

Although the season seems to be past we are still making and selling ice cream. Orders can be filled for any quantity and in any shape. Also served in our parlors daily.

H. C. DICKENS & SON.

NEW HATS and CAPS TO COVER

OUR HEADS.

GEO. P. MINAKER.

SWEET

Little bon-bons, lovely little tea pots, pretty little plates, tiny sweet little cups, exquisite little pitchers, dear little coffee cans, beautiful little jewel and olive trays. Great big handsome pedestals and pots to match, hundreds of nice things together with charming and brilliantly decorated dinner, tea and bedroom ware are coming with the new goods and we hope to get some opened this week and will let you know when all can be seen. We promise to make Belleville's own china store very interesting this fall.

W. J. REID & CO'Y,

CRYSTAL HALL. Rous' Old Stand.

London and Belleville.

ONTARIO MUTUAL LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY.

S. Burrows, Esq., General Agent, Ontario Mutual Life Co., Belleville, Ont.

DEAR SIR, Received your company's check for $2,000 for our Matured Endowment, and we both wish to show our gratitude to you and the Company for the straightforward and satisfactory way you deal with policy holders, and that we are more than satisfied with our investment. I will always urge our friends to follow in our footsteps. Thanking you very kindly.

Yours very sincerely,
Mr. & Mrs. GOODWIN, Bowmanville,
Formerly of Belleville.

IF YOU WANT THE BEST FUEL THAT COMES TO THIS MARKET, buy the Celebrated

SCRANTON COAL

Mined and shipped by the D. L. & W. R. R. Co.

THOS. STEWART,

COAL AND WOOD MERCHANT, is Sole Agent for Belleville; e. Office Bridge Street. Yards, foot of Front Street.

LISTEN FRIENDS!!

We SAY because we KNOW!

Our COAL! This Season is unexcelled for quality because the Bill of Lading bears the Brand of the Delaware & Hudson Canal Company.

Cut this out and test this "Ad" when the Winter Winds whistle.

THE RATHBUN COMPANY.

NIGHT . . SCHOOL

Opens at

BELLEVILLE BUSINESS COLLEGE

—ON—

ThursdayEvening,

Nov. 1st, 1894 AT 7:15.

BELLEVILLE BUSINESS • • • COLLEGE

ROBERT BOGLE, Proprietor.

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS,

A positive cure for all kidney diseases, such as

Backache, Rheumatism, Diabetes, Brights Disease, &c., &c.

For sale at the Pharmacy.

D. M. WATERS.

WE HAVE

For To-morrow

PEARS, GRAPES, LEMONS, PEACHES, HICKORY NUTS, ORANGES, CHESTNUTS, BANANAS, HOT PEANUTS, HICKORY NUTS BUTTERED POP-CRACKED, CORN, CHESTNUTS BOILED, CHESTNUTS ROASTED, SHELLED WALNUTS.

Dont forget Wa lace's Quaker Bread

Jas. Wallace & Co.

IF YOU USE A

BLENDED - TEA

Ask Your Grocer For

'MORAHNEE'

It has no equal.

In one half pound packets, 40c. and 50c. per lb

J. E. WALMSLEY & CO.,

Agents for the British Tea and Trading Association, London, Eng

GLASGOW WAREHOUSE.

We are now showing the following novelties in

DRESS - TRIMMINGS.

Watered silks, all prices, in black, white cream, pink, pale blue, navy, myrtle, brown fawn, etc
Black and colored satins.
Black satin merv.
Black pau de sioe dress silks,
Black co-operative dress silks
Black and colored velvets.
Black and colored velveteens.
Beautiful silks for blouses.
Beautiful silks for drapings
Black and grey curl trimmings,
Black and colored beaver trimmings.
Black and cream silk laces.
Black and colored button kid gloves,
Black and colored laced kid gloves
Special lines in ribbons
Ladies' and Misses' underwear,
Ladies' and Misses' corsets.
Spot muslins and valenciennes laces for evening wear.
Light shades in henriettas and crepons, with sequence trimmings to match
Priestly & Sons' dress goods, large variety.

Dress and Mantle making and Tailoring done on the premises.

Carpets and House Furnishings in great Variety.

VANDERVOORT & GIBSON,

Successors to the late J. W. Dunnet.

Belleville, Oct, 34, 1894.

COUPON
—FOR—
PART 10.
Canada Portfolio of Art.

A Coupon appears in all issues of this paper.

Cut out this coupon and forward, together with 10 cents, to the Art Department of this paper, and you will receive one part of Canada, as mentioned above, by mail post-paid, or bring the coupon and 10 cents to this office and receive Portfolio.

NAME.......................................

ADDRESS....................................

N. B.—Remember, only one Coupon required for each part.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, TUESDAY OCT. 30

To-Night.

Fish's Great Fire Sale. We keep open till 10 o'clock.—A E. FISH & Co.

CITY AND DISTRICT.

The change in conductors on the Grand Junction and Midland divisions went into force yesterday.

A Vermont wedding invitation hit the bull's eye of fact. It read:—"Your presents requested."

The schooner Singapore has been loading barley at Big Island for Oswego. The price paid was 42c. per bushel.

Thousands of cases of rheumatism have been cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. This is abundant reason for belief that it will cure you.

Halloween on Wednesday. The small boy is preparing for his "night off" and some innocent jokes will likely result from his careful forethought.

A young lad named Chappee, living on North Front St., while playing with some young companions last evening was hit by a piece of coal, which made a bad cut over his eye.

Those of our readers who have not secured No. 10 of "Canada," that beautiful art series, can do so now. They contain the gems of Canadian scenery. Only 10 cents with coupon.

Citizens about Albert College report tramps very numerous in that part of the city. They are prowling about the streets all night long; several people out late at night have been accosted by them.

"Canada," a Canadian production, is a work that should be in every Canadian home. It is a magnificent publication, and only needs to be seen to be appreciated. Only 10 cents a number with coupon. No. 10 now in.

The laying of the granolithic walk on the trestle in front of the Robertson block began this morning. There had been a good deal of curiosity to learn how the work would be done, and quite a number of people watched the workmen.

While thorough in action, Ayer's Pills strengthen rather than stimulate the excretory organs. Leading physicians recommend them because they are free from calomel or other injurious drugs, being composed entirely of the best vegetable aperients.

The merchant who grumbles and sighs,
And turns up the white of his eighs
In sorrow and pique
Because trade's very wique,
Is the fellow who won't advertighs!

PROBABILITIES.

TORONTO, Oct. 30.—Partly fair with moderate to fresh winds; some local rains.

Kid Gloves.

Messrs. Geo. Ritchie & Co. have put on sale to day 375 pairs ladies' kid gloves in black and colors, all sizes at 35c a pair. Many of these were $1 00 a pair.

Ladies' Rubbers Cheap.

We have any amount of Ladies' Rubbers at 30 cents per pair, fine Croquets at 35 cents, also 1 strap rubbers of the finest quality.—VERMILYEA & SON.

Wednesday

At Fish's great fire sale we sell gloves and socks at prices never heard of in Belleville. Come early.—A. E. FISH & Co.

Opera Glasses.

A very handsome assortment of Opera Glasses have just been opened by L. W. Yeomans & Co. They are as fine goods as can be found in Montreal or Toronto, and marked at much lower prices than dealers in those cities ask.

Cold in the head—Nasal Balm gives instant relief; speedily cures. Never fails.

SOCIAL & PERSONAL

Jos. Walters, of Toronto, is home on a visit to friends.

Mr. John Taylor has returned from a trip to the North West.

Sam Small, the revivalist, is now running a paper at Norfolk, Va.

Miss Ella S Inman has returned to Toronto, to resume her studies in art.

Mr. W. D. Mace and daughter Hattie, of Tamworth, left for home to day.

Miss Rosa Lessarge, after a month's visit in the city, has returned to her home at Bogart.

Mr. J. T. Warrington, who has been ill for two days past, is still confined to his bed, but is improving.

Mr. John McLennan, of Belleville, formerly of Brockville, spent yesterday in town.—Brockville Times.

Dr. Roome, M.P., has been re-nominated by the West Middlesex Conservatives as their candidate for the Commons.

Mr. Wilfrid Laurier and party returned to Montreal yesterday from their tour of the North-West and British Columbia

Mr. A. B Calvery, of Carlton, who has been teaching school in the North west during the summer, returned home last night.

Constable Johnston leaves to the morning for Toronto and Owen Sound on business. He will be away the rest of the week.

Rev. Dr. Sims was last night formally installed in the pastorate of the Bond St. Congregational Church, Toronto, formerly held by Rev. Dr. Wild.

Sir Henry Bessemer, the inventor of the process of making steel which bears his name, has nearly completed an autobiography. He is now 84 years old.

The Marquis of Lansdowne, formerly Governor-General of Canada, and more recently Viceroy of India, has been created a Knight of the Order of the Garter.

W. J. Crothers, W. Raymond and Jas. Halliday, Kingston; H. I. Pelletier, Superior, Wis; A. L. Mackenzie and C. J. Sheriff, Brockville, were at the Anglo today.

J. W. London left for Toronto to-night, to attend a special committee meeting of the Sons of England who are considering changes in the constitution with a view of forming Provincial Grand Lodges in the various provinces.

Col. Cotton, Kingston; J. D. Riddell, G.T.R., Stratford; Col. Henry R. Smith, Ottawa; Col. A. J. Matheson, Perth; Lt.-Col. Smith, London. Jas. Richardson, London; F. W. Williams, Toronto; D. King, Galt; are guests at the Huffman.

Chief Justice Meredith presided for the first time since his appointment at the High Court of Justice at St. Catharines yesterday. It was the intention of the members of the bar of the County of Lincoln to present his Lordship with a congratulatory address, but the Chief Justice declined.

Police Court.

Peter Grey, of Tyendinaga, was charged by John McIntyre, with appropriating $2 of his (pliff's) money to his own use. Magistrate, after hearing the evidence, told deft. to give the money back, or deliver to pliff. the boots, on which the $2 was to apply, on payment of balance, in default he would fine him $2 and costs.

Jos. Weller was charged by Geo. Graham with non-payment of wages. Verdict for $43 35 for plff.

The Morton case, in which W. A. Morton was charged with desertion and non-support of his wife, was again taken up this morning and after some further evidence had been taken, the Magistrate dismissed the case.

Genuine Friendship.

The neighbors of Mrs. Maggie Ray, of the 3rd con. of Sidney township, took their teams, ploughs and implements, and met on her farm on the 17th inst.; they showed by the way they turned under the stubble and sowed one field of rye with the drill, the esteem in which she was held by her neighbors. Mrs Ray expressed herself as very thankful for the ploughing and sowing, and said that she appreciated much more the motive of kindness which prompted the act.

Beyond Comparison

Are the good qualities possessed by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Above all it purifies the blood, thus strengthening the nerves; it regulates the digestive organs, invigorates the kidneys and liver, tones, and builds up the entire system, cures Scrofula, Dyspepsia, Catarrh and Rheumatism. Get Hood's and only Hood's.

HOOD'S PILLS cure all liver ills, billiousness, jaundice, indigestion, sick headache. 25c.

For a Good Cause.

The Mission Band of St. Andrew's church, which is composed of some of the Sunday School children, intend holding a "Jumble Sale" on Friday and Saturday next in the store next McGuinnes' near the market. As the affair is gotten up by the children no doubt it will be what they have called it, a "Jumble Sale." The proceeds will be applied to the building fund of the new church.

A Dandy Frieze Ulster For $8.

If you buy your frieze ulster without first seeing what the Oak Hall can do for you, there will be a sick man in town. Don't pay $10 and $12 for tan, claret and oxford frieze ulsters that you can buy at the Oak Hall for $8. We invite a comparison of value with any clothing house in Canada, and don't forget, our prices are always the lowest.

A Disgraceful Scene.

About 12:30 this morning a well known character, who had been drinking freely, created a great disturbance in front of the Queen's hotel, by using the most profane and insulting language toward a young man who had given him no cause whatever. The worse feature of the case is that two policemen were within easy hearing of the whole affair and made no attempt to arrest the party.

The Military Enquiry.

The enquiry into the financial matters of the 15th Battalion is being conducted to day before a court composed of Col. Cotton, D.A.G., Lt. Col. H. R. Smith, Ottawa; Lt.-Col. A. J. Matheson, Perth; and Lt.-Col. H. Smith, London. The enquiry is strictly private, each witness being examined in a separate room.

Is Chattell the Ripper?

STRATFORD, Ont., Oct. 29.—Although Chattell claims that he is not "Jack the Ripper," the Attorney General's Department will, it is understood, at once forward his picture to London, to see if the only two women now alive of the twelve attacked by "Jack" recognize him. The "Jack the Ripper" theory is quite popular here.

New Telephones.

The following places are now connected with the central exchange: No. 247, Boyce, Dr. W. W.; 342, Brown, Cameron; 246, Caron, F.; 243, Clark, Mr. W C; 244, Lewis, Jno, & Co.; 245, Phillips, J. P. C.

Died.

CARTER.—On Oct. 8, Elizabeth Carter, of Tyendinaga, aged 80 years.

MERCIER DEAD.

After Many Months of Suffering the ex-Premier of Quebec Passes Away.

MONTREAL, Oct. 30.

Honore Mercier, ex Premier of Quebec, died this morning at about a quarter to nine o'clock. The end had been expected any time during the preceding twenty four hours and hopes of recovery had been given up weeks ago. In fact, from the moment that he first fell seriously ill on August 14 h last, it had been felt that he lay on his death bed.

Mr. Mercier had been suffering from a complication of diseases for years past, diabetes predominating.

After his defeat at the general elections of March, 1892, his friends expressed the opinion that he had only a few months to live, but by adopting abstemious habits of living he managed to prolong existence longer than had been expected.

Yesterday Mr. Mercier was unconscious most of the time, reviving at intervals for a few seconds and then relapsing into a state that was almost akin to death. Throughout the night the vital spark flickered, growing lower and lower until the end came.

Mr. Mercier in his prime would have weighed close on to 185 pounds. His dead body is now a mere skeleton, so much has it wasted away.

LATER.

Mr. Mercier was unconscious when he died, and had been so for several hours. He was surrounded by Madam Mercier and his children, Madame DeCahe, her sister and his brother Edward.

The funeral will take place on Friday or Saturday at the church of the Gesu.

Honore Mercier was born at St. Athanase October 15 h, 1840. He was called to the house 1867. Sat in the Commons for Rouville from 1872 to 1874. Was returned to the Quebec Assembly as Solicitor General in May 1879, held office in the Joly administration till October of the same year, when the Government was defeated. Was re-elected in 1881 and in 1886 and 1890, and on the resignation of the Taillon administration in 1887, became Premier and Attorney General. His Government, which was founded on the race and religion cry and was the most corrupt that ever held office in Canada, some of its members, including its head sharing in the "spoils," was defeated overwhelmingly in 1892. Since then Mr. Mercier had been a private member of the opposition, his followers repudiating his leadership, but he was making a bold bid for the position of leader when his fatal illness seized him.

A WORTHY OBJECT.

The Humane Society Will Institute Penny Readings to Further Their Cause.

The institution of the Humane Society has met with the hearty approval of all citizens who at all apprehend its aim and purposes. That its constituency may be widened and with a view to cultivation of a humane public sentiment the society has determined upon a series of penny readings to be given in the first Thursday of each month in the Mechanics Institute hall. The admission fee will be only five cents, and excellent entertainments will be provided, a surety vouched for by the fact that Mrs. York has charge of this department of the work.

The first entertainment will be given Thursday evening of this week and a large attendance is anticipated. The programme will consist of readings, music, and brief papers on humane work, followed by discussions of them. The president, Mr. Curtis Bogart, will deliver an address on the purposes and methods of the society. There will be readings by Miss Anning, Mrs. York, and Miss Stocking; music by Miss Caldwell, Miss F. Jones and Mr. Easton. Principal Gardner will read a paper on the society's work in relation to the children, which will be followed by a discussion led briefly by Mr. W. N. Ponton, Mr. J. J. B. Flint and W. C. Mikel. Mr. Flint will give a talk on the work of the late Child Saving Conference in Toronto. This is a menu certain to be alike interesting, entertaining and profitable.

THE ARNOLDS ON TRIAL.

They are Charged With Stealing Household Goods in Rawdon.

Oliver Arnold and his two sons, Benjamin and Elvin, were placed on trial at noon to day in the County Judges Criminal Court on a charge of stealing a number of articles of furniture and other household goods from a house owned by a man named Scrimshaw, in the township of Rawdon. The sons admitted taking the goods at a preliminary hearing, and were put in the box to-day against the father. Benjamin told a straightforward story, explaining the taking of the goods, but his brother Elvin could not remember anything, except that he was thinking of of getting married. From the evidence it appeared that Scrimshaw had left his house and gone away to work last fall and when he returned some time later he discovered that his furniture, pictures, dishes and a large family bible had been stolen. The case was put in the hands of a constable, who a short time ago found the articles in Oliver Arnold's house. The furniture had been repainted, but some marks on were recognized by the owner. The case is still in progress.

THE WORK WILL GO ON.

Tenders to be Asked for the Erection of the New St. Andrew's Church.

W. P. Hudson occupied the chair at a well attended meeting of the congregation of St. Andrew's church last evening. A resolution was passed that tenders be asked for on the plans of Messrs. Darling, Sporatt & Pearson, architects of Toronto. The Trustees and architect were to hold a meeting this afternoon to arrange details and the work will be proceeded with at once.

The committee who have the subscription list in hand reported that there had been sufficient subscribed to warrant the congregation in starting the work.

The Ladies' Aid held a meeting afterwards to make arrangements for the work connected with an entertainment and sale of work which they propose holding during the first week in December.

CONSECON.

OCT. 29th.—The hum of the thresher is heard once more, as it is on its last round threshing buckwheat.—Fall ploughing is the order of the day; there is a good deal being done, as it is an excellent fall for the farmers.—There has been an excellent crop of apples, which are nearly all attended to. The evaporators are nearly through, as they have used up nearly all the apples—Prices of grain are next to nothing; barley No. 1 40 cts.; buckwheat 37 cts.—Our new miller, Mr. Smith, has moved in Mrs. Susan Weeks' house, as she has gone to live with her daughter, Mrs. Sdy. Hennesy.—Mrs. Harrison is visiting her sister, Miss Robinson, in Belleville.—Mrs. Cory fell and hurt her hip—Elias Clark has moved back on the farm.—One of our trappers thought he had caught an enormous muskrat, but it turned out to be the doctor's cow; caught it by the tongue.

A Railway Manager Says:

"In reply to your question do my child object to take Scott's Emulsion, I say No! on the contrary, they are fond of it and it keeps them pictures of health."

Correspondence.

Whilst correspondents will be accorded space for the expression of their ideas on topics of public interest, it must be in all cases understood that the views so expressed are simply those of the correspondents themselves.

A Good Institution for this Country.

To the Editor of the Intelligencer.

SIR,—The Patrons of Industry, farmers and all working men now have within their reach a system for settling expeditiously and inexpensively nearly all financial and many other difficulties, which in this country creates so much ruinous litigation.

In Norway and Sweden they have a law in force which in its machinery is so effectual, so simple and inexpensive, that it commends itself to the common sense of the people, and has already reached the ordinary litigation by more than half.

It is known as "Courts of Conciliation," and is so constituted that parties having disputes are brought together by process of law, and either there settle their difficulties before a Judge elected by the people or, failing to effect this, make such suggestions for settlement the one to the other through the Judge as will or ought to tend to a settlement, and which offers of settlement so made are recorded by the Judge, and if either party refuses to be bound by what appears to be a fair and reasonable for settlement and force the case into a higher court he can do so, but he must or should take two very important principles with him into the higher court:

1st. The offers or suggestions made for settlement before the Judge of the Court of Conciliation.

2nd. He shall give security that he will pay all costs if the case shall be decided against him in the higher court, or in case he gets no more than was offered to him in the court of Court of Conciliation.

In this simple and inexpensive court the poorest man is on a perfect level or equality with the richest. If his case is good and his claim just he wins. But the poor man cannot force the case into the higher courts and there create expense for his neighbor to pay unless he there makes himself equal with his neighbor by giving a reasonable security that he will pay all costs if he fails to get more than was offered to him in the Court of Conciliation.

This simple and inexpensive court is constituted by the people electing a Judge; and it is found that any plain, common and fairly intelligent man, is competent for the position. And when so elected he has the power to fix the time and place for holding his courts, and upon application to summon the parties before him, who must appear without lawyers, and proceed to inquire into the merits and demerits of the question at issue between the parties, and by offers or propositions and counter proposals, and the conciliatory advice of the Judge, approach a settlement.

Such Judge for the time being (if the people desire it) may be the Warden of the County, or the Reeve of the Township; and thus make the courts either Township or County, according to the will of the people.

This plan, I know meets the approval of many of our best men and some of our ablest lawyers, and I have good reason to believe that the Parliament and Government of Ontario would readily place such a law on the statute books of our Province, if the Patrons of Industry would apply for it.

I am, Sir, very truly yours,

WM ANDERSON.

Mountain View, Oct. 27, 1894.

SPORTING NEWS

Wild geese have made their appearance on the Rideau.

Betting on the New York Governorship is 2 to 1 in favor of Morton.

At the State-fair races at Dallas, Texas, on Oct. 28 h, El Roi, by Electric, dam by Dumas, in the yearling colt race, half mile, paced the first heat in 1:07 flat, 3½ seconds faster than the world's record for yearling pacers.

The entries for the 10th annual national horse show of New York, which closed on Wednesday, were given out on Saturday. The number is considerably over 1,200, exceeding by nearly 300 those of last year, which in turn showed a considerable increase over the list of 1892

The great running match which the British papers described as "the race of the century" has been won and lost. The contestants were F. E. Bacon, champion of England, and J.J. Mullen, champion of Ireland. The pair met at Ball's Bridge track, Dublin, on Oct. 28. for the five-mile international honors. The event aroused widespread interest, as Bacon had defeated Mullen in a four-mile run over the same track a month before, while Mullen had turned the tables in a five-mile run at Belfast a week later. An enormous crowd was in attendance when the pistol cracked. Mullen went to the front at once, and made nearly all the running. He flattered his backers up to the last lap, but Bacon was always within striking distance, and when the bell rang he moved up to the Irishman. When the pinch came the English champion proved much the faster, and he drew clear away. Mullen hung on for a time, but eased up when he saw pursuit was hopeless, and Bacon romped in, an easy winner in 25 mins. 2 5 seconds. Followers of the Irishman were hit heavily, as he had previously covered the distance 10 seconds less.

The only maskinonge caught by the fishing party yesterday was captured bo S. D. Lazier. Its weight is variously stated at from 5 lbs. to 30 lbs.

For the mile standing start, class A. bicycle record, A. W. Porter, at Waltham, Mass., yesterday rode in two minutes flat, beating the record of 2:02 4-5.

At Waltham, Mass., yesterday, Harry Tyler regained the two-mile flying start world's record, making the distance in 4:04 flat. Butler held the record of 4:04 4-5.

Mr. Wm. Dunnel, sr., who lived on the shore of Rice Lake, went out in a canoe yesterday to fish, and his dead body was afterwards found by his son in the canoe.

Billy Lavigne, of Saginaw, Mich., beat Johnnie Griffin, of Braintree, Mass., in a fifteen round fight at Coney Island Athletic Club last night. The men fought at 124 pounds.

Fairport Harbor, Lake Co., Ohio.
WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, Buffalo, N.Y.:

MRS. LEWIS.

Gentlemen—I cannot tell you how my wife has improved since she began the use of your "Favorite Prescription," coupled with "G. M. D." She has no more trouble with falling of the womb, and she never feels any pain unless she stands too long. She has no bearing-down pains since she began the use of your remedies. She does nearly all of her own housework now, but before she commenced taking your remedies, she could hardly walk across the room. I do not know how to thank you for all the good your remedies have done her, for the best doctors had given her case up as incurable.

Yours truly,
ALFRED LEWIS.

PIERCE Guarantees a CURE OR MONEY RETURNED.

THE ANNUAL MEETING.

The Curlers Turn Out in Large Numbers to Elect Officers—A Resolution of Condolence.

The annual meeting of the Curling Club was held last night in B & Biggar's office and resulted in a very large attendance. The election of officers resulted as follows:

Patrons—Messrs. H. Corby, M.P., and W. H. Biggar, M.P.P.

Patronesses—Mrs. H. Corby and Mrs. W. H. Biggar.

President—Frank Dolan.

Vice President—W. W. Pope.

Representative Members—W. H Biggar and W. W. Pope.

Chaplain Rev. D. F. Bogart.

Sec.-Treas —T. W. R. McRae.

Council of Management — D. B. Robertson, chairman; Curtis Bogart, John Bonar, J. F. Wills, E. H. LaRoche, John Brasler, J. D. Clarke and J. A. McKee.

Skips—W. H. Biggar, J. D. Clarke, J. V. Jenkins, F. Dolan, D. B. Robertson, E. H. LaRoche, J. F. Wills and T. W. R. McRae.

It was moved, seconded and unanimously resolved that a resolution of condolence be sent to Mrs. W. A. Shephard, Toronto.

There was some discussion as to fixing up the rink and the matter was finally left with the committee of management.

The fee was fixed at $5 and no non-members will be allowed on the ice.

The Man They Want.

The Venerable Archdeacon Lauder, of Ottawa, acting as commissioner for His Grace the Metropolitan of Canada, has appointed Rev. C. J. Hutton, of Sharbott Lake, rector of Christ church, Belleville. The appointment is generally considered a good one. The new rector is a devoted and earnest young priest who has done good service in the missionary field of the Diocese of Ontario.—Kingston News

The above paragraph was shown Mr. Walter Alford, the People' Church Warden, this morning. He said that Mr. Hutton was the man the congregation of Christ church wanted, and had asked Archdeacon Lauder to send him, but they had not been apprised that he was coming.

Kid Gloves.

YOUR CHOICE OF 375 PAIRS LADIES' KID GLOVES, BLACK AND COLORS AT 35c A PAIR.

GEO. RITCHIE & CO.

Home Furnishers.

Changed Daily.

"SAY A LITTLE BUT SAY IT STRONG."

TUESDAY, Oct. 30th.

WILL YOU Marry

Soon or in the near future? In any event go to housekeeping, make a home for yourself and wife and furnish it comfortably. There is no happiness beyond home. We are ready to furnish you with a dinner set for $5.80, $6.00, $7.70, $8.00 and up, a hanging lamp, chamber set or your table glassware, china ware, etc., and to supply you with delicious tea and coffee. Goods sold as we sell them makes home happy.

Stroud's
TEA STORE.

Like a Miracle

Consumption—Low Condition

Wonderful Results From Taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Miss Hannah Wyatt
Toronto, Ont.

"Four years ago while in the old country (England), my daughter Hannah was sent away from the hospital, in a very low condition with consumption of the lungs and bowels, and weak action of the heart. The trip across the water to this country seemed to make her feel better for a while. Then she began to get worse, and for 14 weeks she was unable to get off the bed. She grew worse for five months and lost the use of her limbs and lower part of body, and if she sat up in bed had to be propped up with pillows. Physicians

Said She Was Past All Help

and wanted me to send her to the 'Home for Incurables.' But I said as long as I could hold my hand up she should not go. We then began to give her Hood's Sarsaparilla. She is getting strong, walks around, is out doors every day; has no trouble with her throat and no cough, and her heart seems to be all right again. She has a first class appetite. We regard her cure as nothing short of a miracle." W. WYATT, 89 Marion Street, Parkdale, Toronto, Ontario.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

Hood's Pills are purely vegetable and perfectly harmless. Sold by all druggists. 25c

OUR GREAT : SALE
--- OF ---
GOODS

Damaged by

SMOKE AND WATER,

Will commence

FRIDAY Morning

AT 9 O'CLOCK.

Look our for Bargains.

A. E. FISH & CO.

Before putting up your STOVES have the TRIMMINGS RE-PLATED — AT THE — BELLEVILLE PLATING WORKS

HARRIS & WALTON'S FACTORY MIL ST.

Catarrh—Use Nasal Balm. Quick, positive cure. Soothing, cleansing, healing.

24TH - - - - - - YEAR.

S. A. HYMAN,
Manufacturing Furrier.

Everybody
Is talking about our Furs, because we have the newest and latest styles at the lowest prices.

Jackets! We make them to order in all styles, sizes and shapes out of Persian lamb, Alaska seal, grey Persian lamb and beaver.

Capes! In all kinds of fur, Alaska seal, beaver, Persian lamb, grey lamb, Greenland seal in all lengths from 18 inches to 42 inches long.

S. A. HYMAN, OLD FURS MADE OVER IN THE LATEST STYLES

OLD KING COLE

.......WAS A MERRY OLD SOUL!!

BUT..... THAT HAS NOTHING TO DO WITH OUR

FAMOUS LEHIGH VALLEY COAL!

Which is the KING of all COALS.

TRY IT! GOOD PEOPLE! TRY IT!!

AND if you do not burn COAL we can supply you with

The finest CORD WOOD in the Land.

Place your Orders with us before the rush, which always begins as soon at the weather turns Cold.

S. A. LAZIER & SONS,
The Leading Coal and Wood Merchants, Telephone C 68.

Wall-Paper!

10 Per Cent. Discount

AT

Scantlebury's.

The LEADING BARGAIN HOUSE

Not a day passes over the history of the store that doesn't bring "Grist" to our "Bargain Mill." There's no dormant energy in the management.

Every nerve is at straining point to bring the people of this vicinity within ready reach of the best money's worth to be had in

DrY Goods, Millinery, Gents' Furnishings

ONLY A FEW LEADING PRICES:---

25 in. Heavy Flannel, 15c. 27 in. Heavy Flannel, all wool. 18c; 28 in. all patterns Flannelett, 8c; 25 in. all patterns Flannelette; 5c; beautiful Opera Flannels, 40c; 500 corsets, value $1.00, at 50c; a special bargain in Ladies' Handkerchiefs, 5c; latest designs in French dress patterns from $3 to $8. A full range of anything and everything at exceedingly low prices. Call early for selection.

H. A. LAYTON, BELLEVILLE.
Front St., Opposite Campbell St.

Bay of Quinte Steamb't Route

TRI-WEEKLY

DESER'TO, PICTON & KINGSTON

1894 - 1894

STR. "HERO"

THIS favorite steamer is now lighted by electricity and will have a strong search light for excursion business and the boat is heat ed by steam.

Commencing Monday, April 9th, will leave Belleville Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 6 a m, returning Tuesday, Thursday and riday at 11 p m.

The very best facilities are offered to shippers of freight. The lowest through and local rates quoted.

No wharfage at Picton on freight for this steamer.

Full information given by Gilbert Johnston on board, or to the

RATHBUN COM'Y,
. H. GILDERSLEEVE, Ticket Agents.
Kingston.

HAMILTON,

TORONTO, AND MONTREAL,

Via Bay of Quinte, Calling at all Ports Weekly.

THE FAVORITE STEAMER

"MAGNET"

Leaves St. Catharines Tuesday 9 a. m.
Toronto " 4 p. m.
Leaves Belleville for Montreal } Wednesday 7:30 a m
Leaves Belleville for Toronto } Sunday 8 p. m.
First Class Passenger Accommodation, Large Freight Capacity. Lowest Rates
For Tickets, Rates, &c., Apply to the RATHBUN COMPANY, Agents,
or to
CAPT. J. J. TOWERS, Superintendent, No. 2 King st., Toronto.
C. F. GILDERSLEEVE, General Manager, 22 8St. Paul st., Montreal.

STEAMER VARUNA

A. HICKS, Captain

WILL leave Trenton every morning, (Sunday excepted) at 7:00 o'clock, calling at Rednerville and all points between the head of the bay and Picton, leaving Belleville at 8:30 a.m., Deseronto at 10:20 a.m.

On Tuesday and Thursday evenings to meet North King at Brighton, returning will leave Brighton Wednesday and Saturday mornings at 5:30.

Will connect at Picton with stage for Sand Banks.

Parties wishing to arrange for excursion rates will see Capt. Hicks on board

Will leave Picton at 1 p.m. on return for the head of the bay, Deseronto 2:30 p.m., Belleville, at 4:30 p. m., and Trenton, at 6.

Omnibuses in waiting at Picton, Belleville and Brighton.

The Rathbun Co., Agents, Belleville and Deseronto.

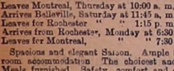

A. W. Hepburn, Agent, P ton.

ROCHESTER,

KINGSTON AND MONTREAL.

Weekly Service Calling at Way Ports

THE PEOPLE'S FAVORITE STEAMER.

"ALEXANDRIA"

Leaves Montreal, Thursday at 10:00 a. m.
Arrives Belleville, Saturday at 11:45 a. m.
Leaves for Rochester " " 1:15 p. m.
Arrives from Rochester, Monday at 6:30 a. m.
Leaves for Montreal, " " 7:30 a. m.

Spacious and elegant Saloon. Ample Stateroom accommodation The choicest and best Meals furnished. Safety, comfort and enjoyment ensured by personal supervision of Capt. Smith and Purser Melrose. Careful handling of freight.

For Tickets, State rooms at lowest rates apply to

THE RATHBUN COMPANY,
Agents.

HAPPY HOME RANGES.

Best in the Market.

—ALSO—

A Full Line of

Art Garland

and

Famous Heaters

—(o)—

Wm. McGIE.

Next to Nathan Jones.
Telephone 38. Front S

INSURANCE.

Western Assurance Company,
Fire and Marine Head Office, Toronto.

North British & Mercantile Ins. Co.,
Fire and Life, Head Office (Can.) Montreal

Atlas Insurance Company,
Fire Head Office (Canada), Montreal

M. M. THOMPSON
W... Works Office, Bridge St.

INTELLIGENCER PRINTING AND PUBLISHING COMPANY (LIMITED).

J. O. JAMIESON, President | J. W. LONDON, Secretary

THE Treasurer is the only person authorized to receive money from the Company, or to grant receipts for the same.

All Bills, Notes, Cheques and other documents binding on the Company, will require the signature of the President, in addition to that of the Treasurer.

THE INTELLIGENCER is printed and published by the INTELLIGENCER Printing and Publishing Company (Limited) by James O Jamieson, resident in Belleville, the Office, Front St., south of Hotel St.

Daily Intelligencer.

A Wonderful Cure.

Mr David Smith, Coe Hill, Ont., writes: "For the benefit of others I wish to say a few words about Northrop & Lyman's VEGETABLE DISCOVERY. About a year ago I took a severe cough and had a virulent sore on my lips, was bad with dyspepsia, constipation and general debility. I tried almost every conceivable remedy, outwardly and inwardly to cure the sore, but all to no purpose. I had often thought of trying Northrop & Lyman's VEGETABLE DISCOVERY, so I got a bottle and when I had used about one half the sore showed evident signs of healing. By the time that bottle was done it had about disappeared and my general health was improving fast. I was always of a very bilious habit and had used quinine and lemon juice with very little effect. But since using 3 bottles of the VEGETABLE DISCOVERY the biliousness was entirely gone and my general health is excellent. I am 60 years old. Parties using it should continue it for some time after they think they are cured. It is by far the best health restorer I know."

Big words won't split rails.

Holloway's Corn Cure destroys all kinds of corns and warts root and branch. Who then would endure them with such a cheap and effectual remedy within reach?

Where fathers flee mothers fight.

Sweat is the champion fertilizer.

BAD BLOOD causes Blotches, Boils, Pimples, Abscesses, Ulcers, Scrofula, etc. Burdock Blood Bitters cures Bad Blood in any form from a common Pimple to the worst Scrofula Sore.

The blackguard is the chief of slime.

Some people laugh to show their pretty teeth. The use of Ivory White Tooth Powder makes people laugh more than ever. It's so nice. Price 25c. Sold by druggists.

Most farms pasture too many fences.

Much distress and sickness in children is caused by worms. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator gives relief by removing the cause. Give it a trial and be convinced.

Ache corns do not grow on boot trees.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP strengthens the lungs and cures all throat troubles, coughs colds, etc.

Scalding tears will scar the fairest cheek

Out of Sorts.—Symptoms, Headache, loss of appetite, furred tongue and general indisposition. These symptoms, if neglected, develop into acute diseases. It is a trite saying that an "ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," and a little attention at this point may save months of sickness and large doctor's bills. For this complaint take from two to three of Parmelee's Vegetable Pills on going to bed, and one or two for three nights in succession, and a cure will be effected.

Bank books contain many tales of fashion.

HAGYARD'S PECTORAL BALSAM cures Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis and all Throat and Lung Troubles.

LAKEHURST SANITARIUM

OAKVILLE, ONT.

For treatment and cure of

ALCHOLISM, MORPHINE HABIT, TOBACCO HABIT AND NERVOUS DISEASES.

The system employed at this institution is the familiar Double Chloride of Gold System. Through its agency over 200,000 Slaves to the use of these poisons have been emancipated in the last fourteen years. Lakehurst Sanitarium is the oldest Institution of the kind in Canada, and has a well earned reputation to maintain in this line of medicine. In its whole history there is not an instance of failure to remove the appetite for these poisons. In its whole history there is not an instance of any after ill effects from the treatment. Hundreds of happy homes in all parts of the Dominion bear eloquent witness to the efficacy of a course of treatment with us. For terms and full information write

THE SECRETARY,
28 Bank of Commerce Chambers,
aug7d3m34w3m) Toronto, Ont.

MONTHLY DIVIDENDS!!

Syndicate Trading

$10.00 UPWARDS,

40 Per Cent. Profit In September 1894

Stock Exchange Risks less than Trade Risks. Stock Exchange Profits Greater than any Trade Profits.

Syndicate Trading is conducted with smallest individual risk while the greatest possible profits are earned for each investor. Syndicate Trading is a LEGITIMATE road to wealth. A small sum quickly becomes a yearly income

Anyone can Share our Profit!!

Send $10 00 or upwards in registered letter, by post or money order or New York draft, payable to New York Trading Co., or A. W. abarse, Manager.

All money at your credit can be withdrawn first of month when accounts are rendered. The elections will make active markets This is a grand opportunity to make money. Details mailed free. References furnished. Representatives wanted

New York Trading Company,
17 & 19 Broadway, New York City.

SLIPPER SOLES.

We have just received a large number of the best

LAMB'S WOOL SLIPPER SOLES, IN

Nos. 2, 3, 4, 5 & 6.

Also in Children's Sizes, which we are offering at the low price of 35 Cents per pair.

We have also a full range of Single and Double Berlin Wool, for Crocheting and Knitting Bedroom Slippers.

THE BEEHIVE

CHAS. N. SULMAN

OVER IN EUROPE.

Windsor castle has been used for a royal residence seven hundred and eighty four years.

The results of the recent expedition to the polar regions prove that north of seventy-five degrees the ice over the whole surface averages six thousand feet in thickness.

The highest spot inhabited by human beings on this globe is the Buddhist cloister of Hanle, Thibet, where twenty-one monks live at an altitude of sixteen thousand feet.

In a ton of Dead Sea water there are one hundred and eighty-seven pounds of salt; Red Sea, ninety-three; Mediterranean, eighty-five; Atlantic, eighty-one; English channel, seventy-two; Baltic, eighteen; Black sea, twenty-six, and Caspian sea, eleven.

A man in Germany recently bought one thousand cigars and had them insured against fire. Then he smoked them and demanded the amount of his policy from the insurance company. The company refusing to pay it, he brought suit and got a verdict.

According to Power, a foreign chemist has devised a sensitive paint which is yellow at ordinary temperatures, but turns bright red on reaching one of two hundred and twenty degrees. It is suggested that this paint may be used advantageously to indicate heat from friction in machinery.

One part of the wedding ceremony among the Babylonians was very significant. The priest took a thread from the garment of the bride, and another from the garment of the bridegroom, and tied them into a knot, which he gave to the bride. This is probably the origin of the modern saying about tying the knot in regard to marriage.—Jewish Messenger.

FOWL, FISH AND SERPENT.

A boa-constrictor, which lives in the Adelaide zoological gardens, caught its fangs the other day in a rug. Being unable to disengage itself, it proceeded to swallow the rug, which was seven feet by six in size.

A sturgeon weighing 1,440 pounds was caught in the Caspian sea two weeks ago. The head alone weighed 223 pounds, and the fish furnished about 120 pounds of roe for caviare. The fish was sold for $160.

The most formidable check to the increase of serpents and venomous insects in the tropical regions is the abundance of ants which, attacking in thousands, will kill and devour animals often of considerable size.

There is a mystery about the method of motion of condors that has never been explained. They have been seen to circle to and fro in the sky, half a day at a time, rising and descending without once flapping a wing.

SCIENTIFIC EXPERIMENTS.

Experiments are now being made with compressed hay for paving blocks. The hay, after being pressed, is soaked in a drying oil, which, it is claimed, renders it indestructable.

A new alloy has been invented by a Paris manufacturer, composed of silver and copper. It has great strength, and will resist sudden or long sustained strains. The low price of silver has lately made such an alloy practicable.

Great success has been obtained in Belgium with the ammonia process for sinking shafts through quicksand. The principle is that of freezing the quicksand by an ammonia freezer similar to that used in making artificial ice.

A new thermometer for registering extreme heat is composed of a liquid alloy of sodium and potassium, instead of mercury. The boiling point of this alloy is about 1,100 degrees above, and its freezing point 12 degrees below zero.

IN SCHOOL AND COLLEGE.

The students at Princeton college have abolished "hazing."

Viceroy Li Hung Chang has established at Tientsin an imperial medical college, with a staff of western (English) medical men who assist native Chinese in teaching. A four years' graduated course is required and a well-equipped hospital has been built.

The degrees of bachelor of medicine and of master of surgery have this year, for the first time in the history of the Scottish universities, been conferred on women. One of these young women, who ranked third in a class of sixty-one members, stood first in her class of zoology, practical chemistry, anatomy, history, physiology, surgery, medicine, pathology and midwifery.

MEDICAL SCIENCE.

A burning gasjet is unhealthy in a bedchamber, because one gaslight gives out as much carbonic gas as two sleepers.

Sir Andrew Clark, general physician in the largest London hospital, says that seven out of every ten persons taken to the building owe their ill health to drink.

Dr. Roux, of the Pasteur institute, claims to have found a cure for croup. It consists in the injection of serum from the blood of a horse that has been inoculated with the cultivated microbes of croup.

Dr. Goriansky, a Russian physician, claims to have found that the juice of raw cranberries given freely, pure or diluted with an equal part of water, is an excellent means of relieving thirst and vomiting in Asiatic cholera.

ABOUT PEOPLE IN GENERAL.

The mother of Gen. Boulanger, who died in Paris, was ninety-two years of age.

The salary and expense allowance of President Casimir-Perier are $240,000 per year.

George W. Cable has named his summer home at Northampton, Mass., "Stay-awhile."

The once famous court violinist, Enrico Masi, died in Rome a few days ago. He was at one time a member of the well-known "Florentine Quartette."

The Confederate Women's Monument association has been organized at Richmond, and a charter is to be obtained. Voluntary subscriptions toward the monument now amount to six hundred dollars.

GOLDEN GEMS.

The feet of truth are slow, but they never slip.

Golden opportunities do not travel by a time table.

There are men who like to speak well of others—on a tombstone.

If some people had money enough they would vex themselves to death.

A genius is a man who does something that others say cannot be done.

There is no way of getting children to be good like showing them how.—Ram's Horn.

Snowing in Colorado.

RED CLIFF, Col., Oct. 30.—It has been snowing steadily for twenty-four hours. At Cold Park mining camp two and a half feet of snow has fallen.

Markham Station Dynamited.

MARKHAM, Oct. 30.—At 1 o'clock yesterday morning burglars entered the Grand Trunk station by smashing in the door. They drilled a hole in the safe and blew it into pieces with dynamite. For their trouble they secured only 16 cents. The dynamite charge was about five times stronger than was needed. As a result the station is badly shattered. The stove and furniture of the office were smashed to atoms and all the windows of the building broken. The report aroused many of the villagers from their beds.

Manitoba School Question.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 30.—The Privy Council of Canada recently submitted to the Manitoba Government a report upon a petition received from the Roman Catholics of Manitoba on school matters. The report expressed the hope that the grievances complained of would be speedily redressed.

In its reply the council of the legislatures of Manitoba and the Territories says: The school law is enacted by the Legislature, and the duty of the executive is to carry out its provisions. Educational legislation however, is of such importance as to be a matter of Government policy, and it is, therefore, to be presumed that the above report has been forwarded in order that the executive may declare its position on the subject matter of the report. The report concludes as follows: Disallowance of the act of 1894, as suggested by the memorialists, would be a most unjustifiable attempt to prevent the Legislature from performing that duty which has been judicially declared to appertain to it, and it may be assumed that such disallowance would call for an emphatic protest. The Government and Legislative Assembly would unitedly resist by every constitutional means any such attempt to interfere with their provincial autonomy.

An Inventor in More Than One Way.

LONDON, Oct. 30.—The Daily News correspondent in Paris says: "M. Turpin's much discussed invention was published yesterday, in accordance with the French patent law: It is merely a rocket charged with powder and shrapnel. Almost every assumption of the inventor in designing it is an exploded fallacy." This is the invention which Turpin said the German government was barganing to buy from him. His statement raised a great hullaballoo in France, and eventually two Paris reporters induced him to decline the German offer aud give his war machine to the French War Department.

THE WHEEL.

France derived 950,000 francs last year from the tax on cycles, the number of machines being 132,276.

The bicycle of the khedive of Egypt is a gorgeous machine, almost entirely covered with silver plating.

A young French officer lately, on a wager, made his way on a bicycle to the top of the Pic du Midi in the Pyrenees, 9,540 feet high, and then down again.

The Bell Telephone company, of Cincinnati, O., have mounted thirty inspectors on bicycles. Thirty horses and as many buggies have been displaced thereby.

Wheels propelled by petroleum are being introduced in Paris to take the place of the cycle. They are very costly, one thousand dollars being the price for one.—Hardware.

ODD NAMES IN QUEER PLACES.

The Philadelphia College of Pharmacy has a student named Pelett.

Col. Cash Surplus was proprietor of a Texas newspaper that suspended a few days ago.

Despite the suggestion contained in its name, Vermillion is one of the banner Woman's Christian Temperance union towns in South Dakota.

Mr. White, of Greenwood county, Kan., has a daughter named "Snow." This is as bad as Mr. Button, of Fort Scott, who has a daughter named "Pearl."

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

TORONTO, Oct. 30, 1894.

On the Buffalo barley market maltsters are looking for something below quotations and quite a quantity could be sold at 1 to 2c under prices asked for western. Canada is also wanted at 60c.

All the wheat that was offered on the street was one load of goose; it brought 50 1-2c. White was quoted nominally at 53c and red at 52c. Some bushels of barley sold at 41 to 44 1-2c, 200 of peas at 56c, and 300 of oats at 30 1-2 to 31 1-2c.

The London stock markets were idle. Foreign stocks and mining shares alone were active. The tone was good. Consols are rising again. Americans were dull and neglected. Grand Trunks were firm on vague hopes concerning the meeting to-day. The China silver loan is expected this week. Gold is going largely to France. The new Canada loan of £2,250,000 is an immense success and has been applied for nearly five times over. It was allotted at about 2 1-2 per cent. premium.

Business at the New York stock exchange was more active, but the activity was at the expense of values. The anthracite coalers were the features of speculation. Liquidations were quite pronounced in the cases of the coalers, grangers and other issues. For a long time past the bulls have been boasting that the efforts of the bears to dislodge long stock were unavailing and that each attack only served to increase the short interest. They can say so no longer, for there was enough stock and to spare so far as the bears were concerned.

Deseronto Navigation Company (Limited

Steamer Ella Ross.

This fast sailing and comfortable steamer leaves Belleville for Trenton daily (Sunday excepted), at 10 a.m. Leaves Belleville for Deseronto and Picton at 3 p.m., connecting at Deseronto with steamers for Napanee and Oswego. Lowest freight and passenger rates. For further information apply to the Rathbun Co., Bridge street, or to R. C. Carter, General Manager, Deseronto.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP heals the lungs.

It is worse than madness to negect a cough or cold which is easily subdued if taken in time, but becomes, when left to itself, the fore-runner of consumption and premature death. Inflammation, when it attacks the delicate tissue of the lungs and bronchial tubes, travels with perilous rapidity; then do not delay, get a bottle of Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup, the medicine that grasps this formidable foe from the human body, and drives it from the system. This medicine promotes a free and easy expectoration o subdues the cough, heals the diseased parts, and exerts a most wonderful influence in curing consumption, and other diseases of the throat and lungs. If parents wish to save the lives of their children, and themselves from much anxiety, trouble and expense, let them procure a bottle of Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup, and whenever a child has taken cold, has a cough or hoarseness, give the Syrup according to directions.

Short sermons make wide awake Christians.

Jacob Loeckman, Buffalo, N.Y., says he has been using Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil for rheumatism; he had such a lame back he could not do anything, but one bottle has, to use his own expression, "cured him up". He thinks it is the best thing in the market.

Art loses nothing by conceding modest a fig leaf.

SIGNS OF WORMS are variable appetite itching at the nose, etc. Dr. Low's Worm Syrup is the best worm expeller.

Guns without foresight shoot wide of the mark.

Dr. Low's Worm Syrup cures and removes worms of all kinks in children and adults. Price 25c. Sold by all druggists.

A toothbrush should go with every dirty story.

DYSPEPSIA arises from wrong action of stomach, liver and bowels. Burdock Blood Bitters cures Dyspepsia and all diseases arising from it, 99 times in 100.

It would be a gross injustice to confound that standord healing agent—Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil—with the ordinary unguents, lotions and salves. They are oftentimes inflammatory and astringent. This Oil is on the contrary, eminently cooling and soothing when applied externally to relieve pain, and powerfully remedial when swallowed.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP cures Bronchitis.

SUNLIGHT SOAP

Has proved by its enormous sale that it is

The best value for the Consumer

of any soap in the market.

Millions of women throughout the world can vouch for this, as it is they who have proved its value. It brings them less labor, greater comfort.

EVERY LADY WHO WANTS UNDERWEAR

and understands what pure wool is and appreciates exquisite finish buys the

"HEALTH BRAND,"

both for herself or children. These goods are made in Vests, Drawers, Tights and Combinations, and are kept by every first-class dry goods store.

THE MONTREAL SILK MILLS COMPANY, Ltd., MONTREAL.

COLIC AND CHOLERA MORBUS

ALWAYS PROMPTLY CURED BY PERRY DAVIS' PAIN-KILLER

BLANKETS

We are showing a large line of Blankets in all Wool and Union from $2.00.

Grey Flannel

Our Grey Flannels are from the best makers. You should call and see our 15c. line

NATHAN JONES.

OPPOSITE HOTEL STREET.

TO THE PUBLIC.

When we decided to add the manufacure of carriages, phaetons, democrats, &c., to our business, we immediately put under construction a few o feach. As we decided to place no vehicle on the market which is not A 1 in in every detail, and knowing that no first-class vehicle can be produced on the rush, it has been necessary for us to take sufficient time to produce what we aimed at. We think we have succeeded; and we now have a few rigs completed, and others nearing completion to offer for sale. The iron work is all hand forged; the wood work carefully made, and strongly ironed; and the painting and upholstering done with the best material and greatest care. We can freely recommend these rigs. We will be pleased to have parties who may need anything in the above line, call and inspect our work.

ST. CHARLES & PRINGLE.

JAS ST CHARLES. — — — — HENRY PRINGLE

IT - HAS - BEEN - ADMITTED

— BY OVER 125 PEOPLE IN BELLEVILLE THAT THE —

John Bull Wrought Steel Range,

Is the most Economical, Everlasting and Useful Range on the market. How is this for three Seasons.

SEE THEM AT FOSTER'S.

Also the Duchess of Oxford Cast Iron Range

The Sale of Boots and Shoes:

Slightly damaged by Smoke and Water will continue until everything is sold.

HAINES & LOCKETT

Opposite Anglo-American Hotel

Camping Supplies!

— AND —

Picnic - Requisites!

Our list of articles suitable for Picnic Lunches and Camping, includes:

Canned Meats.

ARMOUR'S COOKED BEEF,
ARMOUR'S OX TONGUES,
ARMOUR'S LUNCH TONGUES,
ARMOUR'S POTTED HAM,
ARMOUR'S COOKED PIG FEET
ARMOUR'S LUNCHEON MEAT.
ARMOUR'S POTTED TONGUE
ARMOUR'S BRAWN,
SANDWICH MEATS,
BONELESS CHICKEN,
BONELESS TURKEY,
POTTED BEEF,
POTTED GAME,
ETC.! ETC.!! ETC!

Canned Fish.

FINEST SARDINES IN OIL,
FINEST SARDINES IN TOMATO,
HERRINGS IN TOMATO SAUCE,
KIPPERED HERRINGS,
FRESH HERRINGS,
SALMON, LOBSTERS,
FINNAN HADDIES,
BLOATER PASTE,
ANCHOVY PASTE,
SARDINE PASTE,
ETC.! ETC.! ETC.!!!

Sundries.

Condensed Milk in Tins, Cream in Tin Biscuits (in great variety), Fine old Cheese, McLaren's Imperial Cheese (in small crocks) Dried Beef, Choice Hams and Bacon, Lime Juice, Spanish Olives, CROSSE & BLACKWELL'S Pickled White Onions, Walnuts, Chow Chow, and and Mixed Pickles.

WALLBRIDGE & CLARKE

Grocers and Wine Merchants,
33 and 37 Bridge Street. Also Front Street, in Caldwell Building.

GENTLEMEN....

Before ordering your Fall Clothing don fail to take a look through

A. N. REID'S

New Fall Importations of

Scotch, English and Irish Suitings, Overcoatings, Pantings, Irish Serges, Cheviots, Hop Sackings and Black Worsteds

First Class Goods and Prices low.

Mr. Minor, our cutter, is one of the best in Ontario.

EVERY GARMENT GUARANTEED!!

Please call and inspect our New Goods.

A. N. REID.

For..

THIRTY...

DAYS.....

WE will sell our entire line of

Wall Paper....

— AND —

Window Shades

AT A DOUBLE DISCOUNT 10 & 5p.c.

10 per cent. off Special, and 5 per cent. off for cash.

We positively will not be undersold at

OVERELL'S BOOK STORE.

REMOVAL

MR. JOSEPH CALDWELL, DENTIST

Has removed his office to the new premises which he has had specially fitted up in the

Caldwell Block,

First door south of the Anglo American Hotel Front street. 1084

The Daily Intelligencer.

LET THERE BE HARMONY IN THINGS ESSENTIAL—LIBERALITY IN THINGS NOT ESSENTIAL—CHARITY IN ALL.

VOL 28. BELLEVILLE ONTARIO WEDNESDAY OCTOBER 31 1894 NO 153

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

MEDICAL.

DR WISHART.

47 GROSVENOR ST., Toronto, will b at the Huffman House, Belleville, Saturday, Dec. 1st, '94. 192dwly

DR. QUACKENBUSH, M.D., H.M.D., M.D., P.S.O.

HOMŒOPATHIC Physician, Surgeon and Accoucheur, has removed his office over store lately occupied by J. C. Iverell, Residence George St., opposite H. Corby's.

JOHN J. FARLEY, M. D., C. M., M. R. C. S. England.

OFFICE and Residence—corner of Bridge and George Streets—three streets east of Post Office.

LEGAL.

FLINT & McCAMON.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public etc. Solicitors for the Canadian Bank of Commerce. Office, City Hall, Front Street, Belleville, Ont. d84tf
JOHN J. B. FLINT, W. J. McCAMON.

STEWART MASSON.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, Notary, Conveyancer, etc. Office, South side Bridge st., over Wallbridge & Clark's, Belleville, Ont, Money to loan at lowest rates. 76dwtf

J. F. WILLS' LAW OFFICE.

REMOVED to Campbell Street (south side) 2nd door from Front Street, on ground floor.

A. GOODRICH.

LAWYER, 124 Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill., 28 years' experience; secrecy; special facilities in several States; Goodrich on Divorce; with laws of all States in press. 76dly

GEO. A. KINGSTON.

BARRISTER Solicitor, etc., with Lount, Marsh and Cameron, 25 Toronto St., Toronto. Money to loan on farm property at lowest rates. 233dtf9w.

MIKEL & ROBERTS.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notary Public, Conveyancers, etc. Offices Bridge St., Belleville. Monies to loan at lowest rate.

THOMAS & HALLIWELL.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Conveyancers, &c. Money to loan. 293d3mwly
J. PARKER THOMAS, J. EARL HALLIWELL.

PONTON & MORDEN.

BARRISTERS, Solicitors, Notaries Public Conveyancers. Office over Express and Telegraph Office, Bridge St., Belleville, Money to loan—private funds.
WM. N. PONTON, M. A., Solicitor Hastings Loan and Investment Society.
W. S. MORDEN, B. A.

F. GUSS PORTER.

BARRISTER, Solicitor, Notary Public, etc. Office in the Robertson Block, east side of Front Street.
☞ Private Money to Loan, 271dwly

FRANCIS S. WALLBRIDGE.

(Successor to Hon. Lewis Wallbridge, Q.C.) BARRISTER, Solicitor, Conveyancer, etc. Office, McAnnany building, corner Front and Bridge streets, Belleville, Ont. Private and Company money to loan at 6 per cent., on easy terms upon good land security. Charges moderate.

HENRY CARRE, C. E.

M.C. Soc C E.,

DOMINION AND PROVINCIAL LAND SURVEYOR.

Special attention paid to Hydraulics and Land Drainage. Patents obtained and Drawings made. Office—McAnnany Block, under Ontario Business College, Front St. P.O. address—Box 263, Belleville.

A. G. NORTHRUP.

ISSUER of Marriage Licenses, Shire Hall, Belleville. 226dtwly

D. I. DULMAGE, L.D.S., D.D.S. (Tor. University).

DENTIST—Office over Brignall & Thompson's. Night calls at residence on Forin Street. d,w

CHAS. JOSE.

VETERINARY Surgeon, Graduate Ontario Veterinary College, Member Ontario Veterinary Society. Office and residence, Foxboro, Ont. Calls by mail or telegram promptly attended to. 304d,wly

MISCELLANEOUS.

AGENCY of the Liverpool and London and Globe Fire and Life Insurance Companies.
W. P. HUDSON, Agent.
Office Campbel. street, Belleville. d,w

-PLUMBING-

We have added to our Workmen,

MR. GEORGE JOHNSON,

Who has for the past six years been prominent on large contracts in Victoria, B. C., San Francisco, Denver, and Chicago.

— — ALSO — —

MR. EDWIN W. BISHOP,

A graduate of the New York School for Plumbing (class 92), who comes highly recommended.

With these men added to our staff, we feel sure of giving satisfactory to all in Sanitary Plumbing.

C. F. Smith & Co.

STOVE PIPES!
STOVE PIPES!!
STOVE PIPES!!!

WHIPS! LANTERNS!
WHIPS!! LANTERNS!!
WHIPS!!! LANTERNS!!!

Lamps, Flower Pots,
Lamps, Flower pots,
Lamps, Flower Pots.

—AT—

THE FAIR,

FRANK WEEKS, Manager.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

ACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York.

Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

Mrs. May Johnson.

Ayer's Pills

"I have taken Ayer's Pills for many years, and always derived the best results from their use.

For Stomach and Liver

troubles, and for the cure of headache caused by these derangements, Ayer's Pills cannot be equaled. They are easy to take, and

Are the Best

all-round family medicine I have ever known."—Mrs. MAY JOHNSON, 368 Rider Ave., New York City.

AYER'S PILLS

Highest Awards at World's Fair.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla for the blood.

"FOR THE BENEFIT OF RHEUMATIC SUFFERERS,"

ACETOCURA

MADE ME
ANOTHER MAN

G. H. REEVES,
(Reeves & Beebe),
169 State street, Chicago.

Coutts & Sons,
72 Victoria street, Toronto.

Write for gratis pamphlet to COUTTS & Sons, 72 Victoria street, Toronto. Head offices—London, Glasgow and Manchester, (G.B.) Cologne, Germany, Aaron, Switzerland.

Local Agents—

L. W. YEOMANS & CO.,
DRUGGISTS,
BELLEVILLE

CANADIAN PACIFIC RY.

WILL RUN HUNTERS' EXCURSIONS

TO MUSKOKA LAKES
AND ALL STATIONS.

MATTAWA, NEPIGON,
SPANISH RIVER
AND INTERMEDIATE STATIONS

OCT. 19 and 20
OCT. 26 and 27
NOV. 2 and 3

When Round Trip Tickets will be sold for

SINGLE FIRST CLASS FARE

Good for Return until Dec. 1st, 1894.

For business passing through Toronto, rates to above points will not be less than 25 cents added to ordinary Round Trip Rates to Toronto.

Dogs, Guns, Personal Baggage, Camp Equipments, to the amount of 200 lbs will be carried FREE

S. BURROWS,
General Ticket Agent, Belleville

Daily Intelligencer.

CZAR OF RUSSIA'S END NEAR

Several of the Dangerous Symptoms Have Increased.

LEFT LUNG SERIOUSLY ATTACKED

Marlborough House, the Residence of the Prince of Wales, to Be Draped in Mourning—The Prince and Princess and King Christian of Denmark Start for Livadia To-Day.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—The report is current here that the Czar is dying. The decorating firm of Marshall & Snelgrove are engaged upon an order which will occupy them until midnight preparing mourning paraphernalia for Marlborough House, the residence of the Prince of Wales. The Prince and Princess of Wales will start for Livadia by special train at 8.45 o'clock in the morning in consequence of the receipt of an urgent telegram from the Czarina.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 30.—The Czar's left lung has been attacked. His condition is very serious. It was announced here yesterday morning that the condition of the Czar has sensibly changed for the worse. It is added that there is a marked increase in his coughing and spitting of blood.

The following official bulletin was issued at 10 o'clock yesterday morning by the physicians who are in attendance on the Czar:

"The general condition of the Czar has become considerably worse. Last night the spitting of blood, which began yesterday with severe coughing, increased. Symptoms of congestion of the left lobe of the lungs have manifested themselves. His Majesty's condition is one of danger."

The Czar received Holy Communion yesterday. It was administered by Father Ivan, Holy John of Cronstadt.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 31.—The following bulletin was issued from Livadia at 10 o'clock last evening: During the day the spitting of blood continued, and the Emperor was seized at times with shivering fits. His temperature was 100 degrees Fahrenheit and his pulse was 90 and weak. His breathing was difficult. He can take only a little nourishment and has become very weak. The œdma has increased materially.

VIENNA, Oct. 31.—The evening edition of the Neue Freie Presse has this despatch from St. Petersburg: "The Czar was delirious last night and did not recognize his family. He grew calmer in the morning. Upon learning that death was near he asked that several friends who had not been summoned be called at once to his bedside."

BERLIN, Oct. 31.—A despatch from Valta says that the congestion of the Czar's lungs is spreading rapidly, as the patient has too little strength to resist it.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—The Central News correspondent in Denmark says that in consequence of an urgent telegram received yesterday King Christian and his wife will start to-day for Livadia.

THE ARCHBISHOP WINS.

The Canada Revue's Action Against His Grace of Montreal Dismissed.

MONTREAL, Oct. 31.—In the Superior Court yesterday Judge Doherty dismissed with costs the action of the proprietors of the Canada Revue against his Grace Archbishop Fabre in connection with the Archbishop's mandament which had the effect of suppressing that paper's publication.

This case, it will be recalled, arose out of the criticisms of the Canada Revue newspaper upon alleged irregularities claimed to exist among the clergymen of the diocese, the misdeeds of Abbe Guyhot, of St. James' church, having given rise to a bitter tirade in the paper in this connection. The paper, refusing to be silenced by a clerical warning, continued to carry on the crusade upon which it had entered with renewed bitterness.

Then Archbishop Fabre promulgated his famous mandement, which at a blow cut down the circulation of the once-paying paper to a few hundred, and practically swept it out of existence.

Following this ecclesiastical action Mr. Filiatrault, the editor of the Canada Revue, took an action for $50,000 against the Archbishop. The trial took place during the past summer, and the judgment rendered yesterday has been looked forward to as of vast importance.

Mr. Bowell in Montreal.

MONTREAL, Oct. 31.—Hon. Mackenzie Bowell, Minister of Trade and Commerce, and Mr. Tarte, Canadian Commissioner to Australia, had a conference yesterday afternoon with a number of Montreal merchants interested in Australian trade. The minister heard their views and promised to give them attention. He expressed himself as strongly in favor of the establishment of a line between the port of Montreal and the Cape of Good Hope.

Gang of Burglars Caught.

MONTREAL, Oct. 30.—For two years systematic burglaries have taken place at Point St. Charles, south end of city, puzzled the detectives and police. Grand Trunk freight cars, private houses and stores were robbed, the losses amounting in all to thousands of dollars. At three o'clock yesterday morning detectives came upon the rendezvous of the gang in Island street and succeeded in getting four men. The place was full of booty.

Geo. Francis Goes Back.

WINDSOR, Oct. 31.—Detective Mason, of the Montreal Surety Co., arrived in Windsor yesterday morning from Quincy, Ills., and took away with him George Francis who was arrested in Windsor on Saturday night and admitted that he was guilty of embezzlement while manager of a meat company in that city. Although the information only charged him with embezzlement of the sum of $500 it is now learned that the sums missing well foot up to the thousands.

W. C. T. U. Annual Convention.

CORNWALL, Oct. 31.—The 17th annual convention of the W. C. T. U. of the province of Ontario opened here yesterday. Between 75 and 100 delegates are in attendance. The president's address dealt very fully with the temperance question and the probability of prohibition in the near future. Essex county won the prize banner awarded the county showing the greatest percentage of increase in membership in the past year.

A Centenarian Dead.

SALEM, Oct. 31.—Thos. Harris, aged 104, a native of Ireland, died here yesterday. He has resided in this village for the past 40 years and has acted as constable at the elections for a number of years.

Rosebery and Burke.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—Lord Rosebery was the recipient yesterday of the freedom of the city of Bristol, where he afterwards unveiled a statue of Edmund Burke.

G. T. R. HALF-YEARLY MEETING.

Shareholders Refused to Adopt the Report Until After the Investigation.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—On the meeting of the shareholders of the Grand Trunk Railway yesterday afternoon being opened, Sir Henry Tyler, president of the company moved to adopt the report and accounts.

Mr. Searl, a shareholder, moved an amendment that the report and accounts be received, but that their adoption be postponed until the result of the investigation of the accounts to be made in Canada by an expert shall be announced.

The amendment was voted upon, and carried by a vote of 161 to 160. Sir Henry Tyler challenged the vote, and it was decided to have a re-ballot.

The directors upon entering the meeting were greeted with hisses and cheers in about even proportion.

Sir Henry Tyler said he had always hitherto spent two months in Canada in the autumn of each year, but everything had become so disastrous and wages had been so greatly reduced during 1894 that he had not gone this year because his presence there would have caused applications for increase of wages as well as applications for employment, which could not be granted.

He felt that his duty was in London during the time of the crisis, and he consequently had remained. He was, he asserted, in daily attendance at his office, and devoted himself to discovering and making use of the best means of mitigating the results of these disasters. All knew, he said, that the business depression in the United States during the past two years was owing to the difficulties encountered in the solution of the silver questions, followed by the great coal strike and the Pullman strike, which had had a strong tendency to cause a decrease in the Grand Trunk's traffic.

Sir Henry said that the low rates had caused a decrease in the freight earnings of one one-hundredths of one per cent., making a difference in the total revenue from the transportation of freight of 20,000 pounds. He believed that now that the fiscal policy of the United States and Canada were settled trade would revive, but the cheapness of wheat was still a great trouble. During the coal strike, he said, the New York Central Railroad had seized for their own use coal which they were carrying over their line for the Grand Trunk.

The Financial News says to-day: "The Grand Trunk meeting began aud continued to the end in the same way as most other Grand Trunk meetings. It is doubtful if the shareholders' interests were furthered in the slightest. It was a display of clumsy comedy rather than a serious effort to produce a remedy. The crisis is of the greatest importance. The whole difficulty is due to the fearful burdens resulting from ambitious extensions."

SPAIN'S CABINET RESIGNS.

They Disagree Over the Question of Tariff Reform and Dissolve.

MADRID, Oct. 31.—The Cabinet resigned yesterday because the Ministers could not agree as to several measures to be introduced in the coming session of the Cortes, most notably the proposal to reform the tariff. Queen Regent Christina accepted the resignations, but is understood to have requested Senor Sagasta to form a new Cabinet. Should he consent several of his late colleagues will join him.

Sagesta succeeded Canouas del Castillo as Premier in December, 1892. The retiring Ministers are: President of the Council, Senor Sagasta; Foreign Affairs, S. Moret; Justice, R. Capdepon; Finance, Senor Samazo; Interior, Lopez Puicerver; War, Gen. Dozlegpez; Public Works, Senor Woret; Colonies, Senor Raura; Marine, Admiral Pasquin.

The Exclusion of American Cattle.

BERLIN, Oct. 31.—The officials of the foreign office, interior department and other branches of the government say the prohibition is the result of the action of the different German states, they clearly having that right. The foreign office authorities say they have nothing to do with the matter, the states having adopted the measure as a purely sanitary precaution. The empire, as such, has taken no steps to prohibit the landing of American cattle or American meat. The interior department officials say that the measures are of a purely preventive nature, it having been proved that cattle suffering from Texas fever have been imported into the country, and declares that each German state has the right to take such measures within its own territory.

Salisbury Replies to Rosebery.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—Lord Salisbury speaking Edinburgh last evening replied to Lord Rosebery speech against the House of Lords. The Prime Minister, he said, had drawn a big herring in the way of Home Rule, but it was evident that during his Bradford address he mentally, if not actually held his tongue in his cheek. Lord Rosebery had no more power than had anybody else to determine the subject which would be referred to the voters at the next election. To submit a detailed measure for the decision of the electors was certainly an honest proceeding and in the form in which it existed in the states was decidedly advantageous.

New Submarine Torpedo Boat.

MELBOURNE, Oct. 31.—Mr. Allan, a resident of Melbourne, has invented an electric submarine torpedo boat which he claims can be sunk to any depth and can be run as fast as a surface boat. It can be kept submerged, he says, for three days. A successful experiment with Allan's model was made last week in the presence of the Earl of Hopetoun and many naval and military officers. After seeing the experiments, Rear Admiral Bowden-Smith gave the opinion that the boat was all that Mr. Allan claimed and was destined to revolutionize naval warfare.

M. Favette Is Removed.

PARIS, Oct. 31.—In the cabinet council at the Elysee yesterday the ministers considered the case of M. Favette, the high official who almost wrecked the cabinet by charging up 640 dinners and six cab fares against the government. At the instance of M. Lourties, minister of commerce, President Casimir-Perier signed a decree removing Favette from office. M. Guerin, minister of justice, says that the papers bearing upon M. Favette's misconduct will be submitted to the attorney-general.

Official Appointments.

BERLIN, Oct. 31.—The appointment of the Prince of Hohenlohe-Langenburg to be Staatholfer of Lorraine, has been announced officially. The Koelnische-Zeitung says that Freiher-Marschall von Biebartein has been appointed Prussian Minister of State while still retaining the Imperial Secretaryship of Foreign Affairs.

Gignac's Assailants Sent for Trial.

WINDSOR, Oct. 31.—Wilson and Bell, who so murderously assaulted Gignac a few weeks ago, were yesterday committed for trial at the December sessions. The magistrate refused to admit the prisoners to bail.

DEATH OF COUNT MERCIER

Quebec's Former Premier Passes Away at Montreal.

UNCONSCIOUS WHEN HE DIED

Messages of Sympathy to Madame Mercier Received from Many Parts of Canada and the United States—The Funeral on Friday—A Sketch of the Life and Work of the Dead Statesman.

MONTREAL, Oct. 31.—Honore Mercier died yesterday morning at 8.45. The end had been expected any time during the preceding twenty-four hours, and hope of recovery had been given up weeks ago. From the moment that he first fell seriously ill on the 14th day of August last it had been felt that he lay on his death bed.

Mr. Mercier has been suffering from a complication of diseases for years past, diabetes predominating. After his defeat at the general elections of March, 1892, his friends expressed the opinion that he had only six months to live, but by dint of adopting abstemious habits of living he managed to prolong existence longer than had been expected. Drs. E. P. Lachapelle and Rattot were his medical attendants, and the last rites of the church were administered by the Rev. Father Garceau, S. J.

It is a remarkable fact that a spiritualist here had foretold about ten days ago that the end would come on the thirtieth of October.

Monday Mr. Mercier was unconscious most of the time. For ten hours of the day he lay in a comatose condition, reviving at intervals for a few seconds and then relapsing into a state that was almost akin to death. Mr. Mercier at late hour Tuesday evening was very weak. Morphine was administered at 10.30, and the patient became much agitated. It was then feared by the physicians that a reaction would take place, and the end might come any minute. Throughout the night the vital spark flickered, growing lower and lower until the end came.

THE LATE HONORE MERCIER.

Mr. Mercier, in his prime, would have weighed close on to 185 pounds. His dead body is now a mere skeleton, so much had it wasted away.

Notwithstanding that Mr. Mercier's death was expected at any time, the news has created great interest here, and the bulletin boards containing the information were soon surrounded by crowds eager to learn the particulars of the once great French Canadian leader's last hours.

Mr. Mercier was unconscious when he died, and had been so for many hours. He was surrounded by Madame Mercier and his children, Madame DeCahe, her sister, and her brother Edward. The funeral will take place on Friday.

Many messages of sympathy have already been received by Mr. Mercier's family. They are from all parts of the United States and Canada. The funeral, which will take place on Friday, promises to be very large and imposing. Many people visited the house yesterday and arrangements have been made to have the remains in view until the day of the funeral. Word has been received that delegations will come from many parts of the province to take part in the funeral.

Honore Mercier was born at St. Athanase, Quebec, on October 15, 1840. He was educated at the college of the Jesuit Fathers in Montreal; studied for the bar and began to practice at St. Hyacinthe in 1865.

He took an active part in the politics of that day and edited the Courier of St. Hyacinthe. He was a strong opponent of confederation, which caused him to sever his connection with the Courier.

His first attempt to form a national party was in 1871, when the question of separate schools in New Brunswick was under discussion. He then advocated the formation of a national party which would enable the French Canadians to exercise a greater influence in federal affairs.

He entered Parliament in 1872 as the representative of Rouville, and during his first session made a deep impression upon the House in the debate on the New Brunswick school question.

In 1879 Mr. Mercier was persuaded to relinquish the retired life he had withdrawn to and enter the cabinet of Hon. Mr. Joly as solicitor-general.

When the Government was defeated in 1879 over Lieut.-Governor Letellier's dismissal of his ministers, Mr. Mercier took up his abode in Montreal and determined to give himself up to his profession. He was not permitted to carry out this intention, however, for his political allies again sought him out and persuaded him to enter the Government.

In 1883 he was selected as leader of the provincial party, then in opposition. In 1886, after the contest in September of that year, his party was returned to power and he was made Premier.

During his term of office he was a dramatic figure in Canadian politics. His undoubted ability was turned in the direction of ultramontane principles, and while he was supported by the clergy of that complexion he cut a wide swath. The charges of corruption made against him, his subsequent condemnation at the polls, and final retirement from politics are all fresh in the public mind.

Mr. Mercier was a patriot as far as French Canada is concerned, and indulged hopes of building up a French nation on the banks of the St. Lawrence.

A Brakeman Fatally Hurt.

HAMILTON, Oct. 31.—William McMillan, of Allandale, a brakeman employed on the G. T. R., fell from a freight train when about a mile from Burlington yesterday morning. He was brought to the city hospital here and has been unconscious ever since. He may recover.

A Midget but No Freak.

ASHALDN, Ky., Oct. 31.—Abner Astrop, a midget, is dead in his mountain home in Johnson county, at the age of 52 years. Astrop never in his life weighed more than 45 pounds, and at the time of his death his weight was but 30 pounds. He was two inches less than three feet tall. He died worth $10,000, and refused to become a museum freak.

SURPRISE SOAP LASTS LONGEST GOES FARTHEST.
The cheapest Soap to Use.

Why Don't You Use Surprise Soap?

IT does away with hard work,—dont boil or scald the clothes nor give them the usual hard rubbing. (See the directions on the wrapper).

It gives the whitest, sweetest, cleanest clothes after the wash.

It prevents wearing and tearing by harsh soaps and hard rubs. Rub lightly with Surprise Soap,—the dirt drops out. Harmless to hands and finest fabrics.

181 THE ST. CROIX SOAP MFG. CO., ST. STEPHEN, N. B.

MARCHING AGAINST PORT ARTHUR.

It is Garrisoned by 13,000 Chinese Soldiers—One Station Taken.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—The Wesminster Gazette has a despatch from Yokohama which says that the second Japanese army has landed at Talien-Wan bay, and is now marching upon Port Arthur. The total number of Chinese troops at Port Arthur and Kin Chow is 13,000, of which 4,000 are raw recruits.

A special from Valparaiso says: "The reason the Chilian warships were not sold to China was the difficulty of securing a neutral flag under which to sail them over to a Chinese port, and the fear of a protest from the Japanese legations in Washington, London and Paris.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—Secretary Gresham yesterday received the following cablegram from Minister Denbey at Pekin: "Chinese forces have been defeated at Chihlien Cheng. They have retreated to Moukden. Japanese have taken one fort at Port Arthur."

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—It is still asserted at the Chinese legation that the fall of Pekin will not end the war. They are not prepared to believe that Pekin can be captured by the Japanese, but should such an event occur the Emperor, it is said, will betake himself and his household to a more remote point in the interior, and hostilities will continue as before.

The Ahr Valley.

It is becoming the custom among European travellers to stop at Remagen on the Rhine, and make a little excursion to the beautiful Valley of the Ahr, with its picturesque villages along the vine clad slope. Here is also located the spring from which flows that world wide favorite "Apollinaris Water." At Neuenahr, in the valley, the river Ahr is very beautiful, and one can find few more quaintly attractive spots than the Upper Gate at Ahrweiler, or the old mill at Heppingen.

The largest battle ship is owned by Italy.

For Over Fifty Years

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for children teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Twenty five cents a bottle. Sold by druggists throughout the world.
172dw1y

Missouri produces 1,200 tons of zinc a year.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion is occasioned by the want of action of the biliary ducts, loss of vitality in the stomach to secrete the gastric juices without which digestion cannot go on; also, being the principal cause of headache. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills taken before going to bed, for a while, never fail to give relief and effect a cure. Mr. F. W. Ashdown, Ashdown Ont., writes: "Parmelee's Pills are taking the lead against ten other makes which I have in stock."

Europe pays $50,000,000 taxes a year on salt.

Burdock Blood Bitters cures all diseases of the blood from a common Pimple to the worst Scrofulous Sores or Ulcers. Skin Diseases, Boils, Blotches and all Blood Humors cannot resist its healing powers.

The best bricks are made by the tribes of Central Asia.

GENTLEMEN.—I have used your Yellow Oil and have found it unequalled for burns, sprains, bruises, scalds, rheumatism, croup and colds. All who use it recommend it. Mrs Hight, Montreal.

Siberia has 5,000,000 miles of square good farm land.

25 CENTS

Proves the efficacy of

CUTICURA

Since a cake of CUTICURA SOAP costing 25 cents is sufficient to test the virtues of these great curatives there is now no reason why thousands should go through life

Tortured
Disfigured
Humiliated

by skin, scalp and blood diseases which are speedily and permanently cured by the CUTICURA REMEDIES at a trifling cost.

Cuticura
Works Wonders

and its cures are the most remarkable performed by any blood and skin remedy of modern times.

Sold throughout the world. POTTER DRUG AND CHEM. CORP., Sole Proprietors, Boston. "All about the Skin, Scalp and Hair," free.

Complexion, hands and hair preserved, purified and beautified by Cuticura Soap.

Pain is the cry of a suffering nerve. Cuticura Anti-Pain Plaster is the first and only pain-killing plaster.

Steamer "Iona"

Will leave Belleville three times each week for Oswego, connecting with trains for New York.

Wanted!

10,000 People of the City of Belleville, to buy the famous

ENGLISH SPICED SAUSAGE!

Manufactured by

McGUINNESS,

Front Street.

Tender Loins, Feet, Ribs, Hocks and Fresh Heads, Choice Roasts 9c. per lb.

= SILKS =

We have in stock a full line of the

Corticelli Embroidery and Knitting Silks

-- IN --

Honiton Lace Emb'y Silk.
Outline do do
Knitting Silk,
Twist Embroidery,
Roman Floss,
Filo Floss.

— ALSO —

27 INCH PURE JAPANESE SILK IN

LIGHT BLUE,
CREAM,
ROSE PINK,
CORAL PINK,
BUTTERCUP,
CARDINAL,

BLACK - SILKS!

In all the leading makes.

J. P. THOMPSON & CO.

ALLAN LINE,

Royal Mail Steamships. Liverpool, Calling at Moville.

	From Montreal daylight	From Quebec
PARISIAN	Oct. 6	Oct. 7
MONGOLIAN	" 13	" 14
HIBERNIAN	" 20
LAURENTIAN	" 27	" 28
NUMIDIAN	Nov. 3	Nov. 3
PARISIAN	" 10	" 11

RATES OF PASSAGE.

First cabin Derry and Liverpool, $45 and upwards single; $95 and upwards return. Second cabin, Liverpool, Derry, Belfast, Glasgow, $30; return $55. Steerage at lowest rates (everything found).

All steamships except the Hibernian carry 1st cabin, 2nd cabin and steerage passengers.

STATE LINE SERVICE

NEW YORK, LONDONDERRY AND GLASGOW.

STATE OF NEBRASKA	Oct. 12
STATE OF CALIFORNIA	" 26
STATE OF NEBRASKA	Nov. 22

Cabin passage, $40 and upward, return $80 and upward; Second cabin $25. Steerage at lowest rates.

For tickets and other information apply to
U. E. THOMPSON
General Ticket Agency, Bridge St., Belleville
or to S. BURROWS, Agent.

Weak Women

and all mothers who are nursing babies derive great benefit from Scott's Emulsion. This preparation serves two purposes. It gives vital strength to mothers and also enriches their milk and thus makes their babies thrive.

Scott's Emulsion

is a constructive food that promotes the making of healthy tissue and bone. It is a wonderful remedy for Emaciation, General Debility, Throat and Lung Complaints, Coughs, Colds, Anaemia, Scrofula and Wasting Diseases of Children.

Send for Pamphlet on Scott's Emulsion. Free.

Scott & Bowne. Belleville. All Druggists. 50c. & $1.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, WEDNESDAY, OCT. 31

CANADA'S CREDIT.

The result of the application for a Dominion 3 per cent. loan in England has been, as stated in our news columns, highly gratifying, in that it has shown that the credit of Canada stands above that of any other British colony. It was different when the Grits had their short lease of office, but prudent and careful management of our affairs has raised our credit to the highest notch. The Ottawa correspondent of the Empire writes: The result of the opening of the tenders was received by Sir John Thompson just before his departure, and he expressed great pleasure at Mr. Foster's success. Hon. Mackenzie Bowell, who is acting Premier during Sir John's absence, at once sent a cable to Mr. Foster, heartily congratulating him on the result. In conversation with your correspondent to night Mr. Bowell said: "Considering the desperate onslaughts made by the Investor's Review, the Chronicle, and other interested parties, on the credit of Canada, the loan may be looked upon not only as a great success, but as the best evidence of the faith which English investors have in the solvency of Canada. It may be regarded as one of the most successful loans Canada has ever floated on the English market. A satisfactory feature in connection with this loan is that it was effected through the agency of a Canadian institution, the Bank of Montreal, and without the intervention of the means which had to be resorted to in former years, thus effecting a large saving in the way of percentage."

Mr. J. M. Courtney, Deputy Minister of Finance, said: "As far as the cablegram informs the world, and in the absence of further details, the loan seems to be a thorough success—success from the number of applications, from the amount tendered (five times that called for), from the price realized, which approximates closely to the quotations of the previous issues of 3 per cent. stock, and a success as showing the confidence felt by the English investing public in Canadian securities."

The Markets

BELLEVILLE MARKETS

INTELLIGENCER OFFICE,
Belleville, Oct. 31, 1894.

Very little grain is being offered. The principal portion being peas. Oats are scarce and wanted at 28c.

BARLEY

Is beginning to move more freely, but at present prices the sales will be small, as the bulk of the barley crop will never reach maltsters at less than 50c here. The street price is 40c to 42c for the best offerings. Messrs. Irwin & Greens, Oswego, circular says that "Canadian barley does not command the attention that it should on account of its foul condition." This is a caution that should command attention as duty has to be paid upon the foul matter as well as the grain, and this the seller must loose.

WHEAT

The wheat market is in about the same condition as last week, and can be called a waiting market. 50c is being paid on the street, and Manitoba is offered laid down at 65c.

The visible in the United States and Canada increased last week another million and a half bushels, making the total increase over last year 9,862,000 bushels. The price in Chicago is 16c per bush less than last year.

In Montreal the losses sustained by dealers who have had wheat in store for a long time must have been tremendous, as the Trade Bulletin says:

"There is wheat in the elevators here, the charges on which have eaten up its whole cost, and of course, if the real owners took delivery of it, it would be a double loss to some of them, as they have already lost the whole first cost thereof, and do not want to incur any further loss in the shape of storage and other charges."

Messrs. Robt. Lindblom & Co's Chicago Circular says: The entire value of wheat is now dependent upon its use for animal food, particularly as regards the winter wheat, and it would be a blessing in disguise if half of the wheat in Chicago would be distroyed by weevil and forced into consumption at some price. I was talking to a miller yesterday about the quantity of wheat used for feed, and he told me he did not believe the amount fed was as large as people generally supposed. He said that the demand for mixed feed, which he made earlier in the season, had dropped off, "but," says he, "we put all our low grade flour into the middlings." I called his attention to the fact that this item alone, namely, allowing the low grade flour to go into the middlings, would divert sixty million bushels of wheat from human into animal food, and that if as much more as that was directly used for feed the demand and supply would be revolutionized within six months. I am free to confess that present prices are much lower than I thought it was possible for wheat to go, and had it not been for the shortage in the corn crop it is very probable that wheat would have gone down to a price where farmers would have been compelled to practically give it away. But the lower wheat is and the longer it stays down the more it will be wasted, and the greater the reaction will be when it sets in. That a reaction must come is an absolute necessity from an economic as well as philosophic point.

The unprecedented low price of wheat is very depressing to the agricultural interests of Great Britain, as an exchange says: "The London quotation on September 29th, of English wheat, was 19s 8d per quarter, equal to, say, 59 cents. No such low price for this cereal has been recorded, it appears, since the sixteenth century, at which period money in relation to commodities was entirely out of purity with its present value. A hundred and fifty years ago, say, in 1743 and 1744, the yearly average price is stated to have been 22s. 1d. per quarter, which is nearly 66 cents per bushel. During the half century, from 1846 to the present time, the lowest weekly recorded average has been 24s. 8d., which was in March last year. Previous to that the record went below 28 shillings only once in the fifty years; it touched 27s. 11d. Continuing, with reference to damaged wheat in Britain and its price, our contemporary says that wheat is being sold as low as 14 shillings per quarter—about 42 cents per bushel—in country markets, and that large quantities have changed hands at from 16 to 18 shillings.

APPLES.

Oct 31st, 1894.

It is so often that the unexpected happens that forecasts of markets seem to be of little advice. This is unfortunately the case in the apple trade this year, as early in the season there was every prospect of the price advancing with the season, instead of which it has gradually shrank, until the losses to the buyers, who contracted early in the season, has been enormous. It is an evidence of the fine crop in this section, that 500 bbls. have been purchased within the limits of this city for export. Lately buyers have been paying $1.50 per bbl., but now are unwillingly pay over $1 25 per bbl.

The London correspondent of the Trade Bulletin says: "Brokers still say there is a good market here, but the heavy arrivals at Liverpool—nearly 60,000 bbls. against less then 600 this time last year—have had their effect, and already receivers are complaining of the quality of Canadian arrivals, reports of yesterday's sales being of a disastrous character. Quotations of this week's sales range between 10s and 22s 6d, the latter being for King pippins. If you have much more early fruit it will smash the market for winter goods. Shipments of soft are a great mistake."

HOPS.

Oct. 31, 1894.—The hop market is featureless, buyers having everything their own way. We hear of sales of several tons during the week at 8½c to 9c per lb.

Mr. McGuiness reports dressed hogs worth 5c to 5½c. The market has been very weak during the past week, but there has been a good demand for long clear pork at 8½c, and for leaf lard at 9½c. Rolls 8½c, green hams 10c, and smoked hams 11½c. A car load of live hogs were shipped to Montreal yesterday at 3½c.

Mr. McGuiness shipped 30,000 doz. eggs to Bristol this week and will ship the same amount to Glasgow. Offers for eggs have been made equal to 15c here F. O. B., for the American market, but they are worth more to ship to Montreal or Toronto. They command 15c in the market here.

The boom has entirely left the market for hides and pelts, and dealers in Montreal write dolefully of future prospects, predicting that hides will touch as low a price this winter as they did last.

WHEAT—50c to 52c.
BARLEY—40c to 42c.
RYE—40c.
OATS—28c.
PEAS (Common)—50c to 52c.
RUNNER PEAS—58c.
BUCKWHEAT—40c. to 43c.
BUTTER—Roll, 25c.
EGGS—15c per doz
LIVE HOGS—$3 75 per 100 lbs.
DRESSED BEEF—5c.
LAMB—8c
HIDES—$3 00,
CALFSKINS—50c.
LAMB SKINS—50c.
DEAKINS—30c.
TALLOW—Rough, 3c.
TALLOW—Rendered, 5½c.
WOOL—17c to 18c.
LARD—10c.
POTATOES—65c. per bag.
HAY—$7 to $8.00 per ton.
CHICKENS—40c to 60c per pair.
DUCKS—50c. to 60c.
ONIONS—20c. to 25c per peck.

Montreal Markets.

MONTREAL, Oct 29.—Flour—Receipts 3,100 bbls; market quiet and unchanged; patent winter, $3 20 to $3.40; do spring, $3 20 to $3 40; straight roller, $2.70 to $2 95; extra, $2.40 to $2.50; superfine, $2.15 to $2.25; strong bakers', $3 15 to $3 25; Ontario bags, $1 20 to $1.30.

Grain—Wheat—No. 2, Manitoba hard, 60 to 62c; corn, 63 to 65c; peas, 66 to 67c; oats, 34 to 35c; barley, 50 to 53c; rye, 50 to 52c; cornmeal, $1 40 to $1.50; oatmeal, 1 90 to $2.

Provisions—Pork, $19 to $20; lard, 8 to 10c; bacon, 11 to 13c; hams, 11 to 12c; cheese, 10 to 11c; butter, townships, 17 to 19c; western, 15 to 16c. eggs, 13 to 15c.

Stocks in store here this morning—Wheat, 695,036 bush; barley, 2,443 bush; corn, nil; peas, 70,899 bush; oats, 86,953 bush; rye, 2 936 bush; buckwheat, 18,180 bush; oatmeal, 297 bush.

LIVE STOCK MARKETS.

There were about 600 head of butchers' cattle, 75 calves, and 1,300 sheep and lambs offered at the East-end market today. The butchers were present in large numbers, and trading was fairly brisk, but the prices continue very low, involving more or less serious losses to the drovers. A few head of the best cattle were sold at from 3¼ to 3½c per pound, with pretty good animals at about 3c, and common cattle at from 2 to 2¾c per pound, with the probability that some of the leaner old cows will bring less than 2c per pound.

Calves were in good demand, and a considerable number were bought up before reaching this market. Ten picked lambs also were bought at $3.40 per 100 lbs

Shippers are paying from 3 to 3½c per pound for good large sheep, and also for lambs weighing over 90 lbs. Common lambs sell in lots at from 2½ to 3c per pound.

Fat hogs are less plentiful than for some time past, and sell at a little over 4½c per pound for good lots of fed hogs.

A Railway Manager Says:

"In reply to your question do my children object to take Scott's Emulsion, I say No! on the contrary, they are fond of it and it keeps them pictures of health."

Cold in the head—Nasal Balm gives instant relief; speedily cures. Never fails.

All we have ever said of the curative virtues of Ayer's Sarsaparilla sinks into insignificance when compared with the statements made by those who have been benefited by the use of this wonderful blood-purifier. Many of the cures seem indeed almost incredible.

CAMPBELL'S QUININE WINE. It will tone up your system, and restore the appetite. JUST WHAT YOU NEED . . THIS SPRING. The best cure for Debility.

FINANCIAL AND INDUSTRIAL.

As eleven years is said to be the life of the average steel rail, the 10,000,000 tons now in use in the United States must sooner or later make way for others. These renewals involve an annual replacement of not less than 1,727,272 tons.

The Carrara marble quarries are practically inexhaustible. The entire mass of Monte Sagro, 5,600 feet high, which dominates Carrara, is solid marble. About 160,000 tons of marble are annually exported, most of which comes to America.

All the car-building companies in St. Louis—the Laclede, the St. Louis, the American, the Brownell and the St. Charles—have combined. There will be $5,000,000 of bonds and $15,000,000 of stock issued to represent the combined properties.

Mr. Samuel E. Morse, the consul general at Paris, has sent to the state department an abstract of the official report on the wheat crop in France for 1894. It is estimated by the French statisticians, says Mr. Morse, that the crops of 1894 throughout the world will be 35 per cent. in excess of the world's demands for consumption and seed.

The celebrated Baring estate is approaching final liquidation. At one time the liabilities were largely over $100,000,000; now they are but $12,500,000. With the improvement in all assets the world over, the bank of England will not need long time to close out the collateral they hold. A large surplus is expected. In history this will stand as the greatest financial exploit ever accomplished in business.—Banker's Monthly.

TO INTEREST AND ENTERTAIN.

The highest masts of sailing vessels are from 160 to 180 feet high, and spread from 60,000 to 100,000 square feet of canvas.

In New Mexico have been discovered ruins of magnificent buildings. The wall surrounding one of them is 4 feet high, and 935 long. The ruins are of Pueblo Indian origin.

The average whale is from 50 to 65 feet in length and 35 feet in circumference. The jawbones are 20 to 25 feet long, and a tongue has been known to yield almost a ton of oil.

An Antarctic iceberg has been seen that was 20 miles wide, 40 miles in length and 400 feet in height; a square township or two could break off from this and hardly affect it.

There are only one or two places in Toronto and Montreal where foreign postage stamps can be bought to inclose in letters sent abroad for return postage, and even at these places a price nearly double the face value of the stamp is asked.

BAYONET POINTS.

A new Italian rifle will send a bullet through five inches of solid oak at a distance of 4,000 feet.

Aluminum drums are proving most successful in the Prussian military bands. Not only are they lighter than the ordinary kind, but they give out a much fuller and richer sound.

Chateaudun, where the French maneuvers have just been held, has the distinction of having received as a municipality the cross of the Legion of Honor for its heroic defense against the Germans in 1870.

Experiments are being conducted at the armory in Springfield, Mass., in the use of aluminum for the bayonet scabbards for the new rifle. While the metal works well in bending and is about fifty per cent. lighter than the steel scabbard, no satisfactory method has been devised for soldering the edges together.

POINTS FOR SCIENTISTS.

The 132,856 craters which have been discovered on the moon are supposed to have been caused by a bombardment of aerolites.

Sea bathing causes many diseases of the ear. Cotton should be put in the ear when it is the intention to submerge the head.

All known chemical elements are represented in sea water. They are not always capable of being detected by chemical analysis.

The theory that the remains of animals form the raw material from which petroleum is formed by nature is still held by some prominent scientists.

The Medical News says that even sewage water can be converted into pure drinking water by sand filtrations in filter basins at the rate of two million gallons per acre per day.

STUDYING NATURE.

In a month a caterpillar devours six thousand times its own weight in food.

Darwin asserted that there is insanity among animals just as there is among people.

No worm or insect is ever found upon the encalyptus tree or in the earth penetrated by its roots.

Solitary confinement is calculated, doctors state, to produce melancholia, suicidal mania and loss of reason. Nine months of absolutely solitary confinement are almost certain to result in the mental ruin of the convict.

The reason given why birds do not fall off their perch is because they cannot open the foot when the leg is bent. Look at a hen walking and you will see it close its toes as it raises the foot and open it as it touches the ground.

THE LITTLE MOTHER.

And Some of the Amusing Things She Does.

It is very amusing to notice the maternal air a girl of four of five summers will assume toward another of two years. In the northwest part of the city lives a little girl named Annie, who puts on such a maternal look when taking care of a neighbor's baby that everybody has to laugh.

Annie's chief weakness was an unconscious yearning to spoil this baby. She was crowding its little inside with cake the other day when its mother came upon the scene.

"Don't give Helen any more cake," said the mother, "I'm afraid it will make her sick."

Notwithstanding this request, Annie thought she knew better, and went in the house for more cake.

A moment or two afterward Helen's mother discovered her child still swallowing cake.

"Annie, didn't I tell you not to give her any more cake? I'll take her in the house if I see you give her another crumb."

So Annie kept the rest of the cake to herself. Little Helen stuck up her mouth invitingly and it almost broke Annie's heart to refuse the child. Helen begged for more cake and not getting it, burst into tears.

Then Annie took her in the arms and said:

"Never mind, Helen. I'll be your mother. You come with me. You can have all the cake you want." And if the mother hadn't stepped in with a slipper the two might have wandered away to start housekeeping far from her sway.

Alas! A Lass.

She.—So you do not love me well enough to marry me, after all?

He.—I think you are a very beautiful woman, a talented woman, a good woman, and I know you to be a rich woman—but after all, you are a woman, you know.

A Difficult Calculation.

Visitor—You say you are sentenced here for life. Does not the future seem perfectly hopeless to you?

Convict—It did; but me friends is tryin' ter get me sentence redooced one-half.

A DICKENS' CHARACTER.

THE "ARTFUL DODGER" LIVES IN GOTHAM.

Some of the Bad Boys of Our Neigbors' Big City—Juvenile Pickpockets and Sneak Thieves as They Are Turned Out of an American Crook Academy.

Among our neighbors over the boundary line, where crime is of course more rampant than in peaceful, law-abiding Canada, some queer criminals flourish. The "Artful Dodger" of Dickens's "Oliver Twist," has an exact counterpart in New York. An organized gang of juvenile pickpockets and sneak thieves, as carefully trained and as thoroughly organized as any commanded by the great Fagin of fiction, have been diligently operating in and around town for the past six months.

In many respects the artful little criminal's resemble the old Cockney's gang.

They all contribute to a common fund which is banked by the boss. They work in sets of three and four, each one having his especial duty.

Two "steerers," one "dipper" and a "passer" form a set. They are bound together by fear of the power of the "push" or gang. They firmly believe that the life of a "squealer" is not worth a moment's purchase.

Bill Sikes, of the story, is represented by one or two burly bullies who live upon the boys' "earnings." But the ruling mind of all this association of sin is contained in the curly black head of a fourteen-year-old boy.

They have no Fagin. The Artful Dodger dominates the whole.

Abe Solomon, who is supposed to live at No. 10 Suffolk street, is the modern Artful Dodger of this wicked young crew.

This precocious prince of pickpockets first achieved an unenviable notoriety in May last. On the thirteenth day of that month two Polish lads, Michael Mendelovitch and Bernard Ragafsky, were arrested for stealing a pocketbook from a Mrs. Mary Conners, in Central Park. They professed to be perfect strangers the one boy to the other. This is an essential part of the scheme taught in Solomon's school of thieving. Ragafsky, the elder of the boys, who gave his age as fifteen years, indignantly repudiated the idea of his being a thief. He claimed that he worked hard for an iceman called Solomon. The proof of his hard work was found on his person in the shape of Mrs. Conner's pocket-book.

Mendelovitch, the younger boy, stoutly stood out for his honesty at first, but when he found himself in the hands of the Gerry society for an indefinite period he expressed his willingness to "give the snap away." Her story was he reached over her with his right hand and made a grab at a pear. At the same time she felt his left hand slip into her pocket. She seized him but was immediately surrounded by a dozen young hoodlums, and he wriggled away, but not before she had recognized him and others of the group as the redoubtable Solomon gang.

That night her son Benny went down to the junction of Essex and Division streets and there found the crew. He mingled with them, and being familiar with crooks' slang he readily pitched a story that he had just come from doing time and was anxious for work. They told him it was no use "going it alone" down there. Solomon bossed the whole show. A woman passed along, and wishing to test them, Mendel put them on her as a plant. Quicker than thought they had sampled her pocket. The result was only a handkerchief. This achievement they pooh-poohed. One of them bragged he had "lifted a leather" with twenty-three dollars odd that very day. Mendel grabbed him and held on. But the gang came in force, and he had to let go.

Finding Patrolman Ed Housmann, he took him to the boy's home, No. 85 Ludlow street. The boy, Sammy Abrahams, was in bed. His mother said he was thirteen years old, a good boy, and went regularly to school. But the policeman took him along, and the sight of an Eldridge street cell caused young Sammy to squeal. He said he was there when the pocketbook was stolen, but he did not do the job. He said the thieving was done by one of Abe Solomon's scholars called Davey Schopiro. He swore he had never attended the school, although he was quite familiar with the methods of teaching, and described the whole process in detail.

Schopiro was taken, and at the hearing was committed for trial at General Sessions, and Sammy Abrahams, against whom there was no direct evidence, was discharged with a caution. He profited by this caution so far as to change his scene of action to Coney Island. There on Sunday, Aug. 9, as a man called Davis, who keeps the camera obscura on Surf avenue, was standing outside his show, he saw two or three tiny young urchins surround a lady, while one slipped his hand into her pocket and withdrew it plus a fat pocketbook. He grabbed the boy and secured the purse just as it was being passed to another.

Five Life Chapters.

Gerhardt Hauptmann's "Die Weber" is said to be one of the most impressive representations of real life ever seen in New York. It takes a strong stomach to digest some of the stupendously strong scenes in the drama.

Yet it is a marvelous work. Play, you cannot call it. It is, rather, five chapters taken out of the book of life. Such a book! It makes one shudder to think that Hauptmann has taken his scenes from nature—that such hunger, such poverty, such soul anguish can possibly exist within the pale of civilization. We have, however, the author's word for it that he has simply transplanted to the stage an all too common sample of the sort of existence led by the Silesian peasants.

Sporting Notes.

Again Miss Rose Mosenthim has defeated Tillie Ashley at St. Louis, and she is now champion female sculler of the United States.

That was an enthusiastic gathering in the Broadway theatre the other night when the Giants were presented with the Temple Cup. Gothams big nine will make a strong bid for the pennant next season.

A sale of horses in training, the property of Messrs. McCafferty & Wishard and P. Lorillard, took place in the paddock at Morris Park the other day. Judge Morrow, a Brooklyn Handicap winner, brought the top price of $1,400, going to S. S. Howland. Kenwood, at one time a stake winner, sold for $5.

Wheeling Time.

And now the Ziegler, the California wonder, holds the mile flying start record, having clipped 3-4 of a second off John S. Johnson's 1.50 3-4 record. With the record at 1.50 flat it is no wonder that some person bobs up and asks "What next?"

A Bit of the Autocrat's Wit.

Everyone probably has heard the story that when James T. Fields invented the name of Manchester-by-the-Sea and wrote a note dated from there to Dr. Holmes, the poet replied in a note dated "Beverly-by-the-Depot." It is said that Whittier, egged on by the irrepressible Autocrat, also wrote one dated "Danvers-among-the-Hollyhocks."—Boston Transcript.

Then He Went.

He—Will you think of me when I'm gone?

She (yawning)—Yes, Mr. Staylate, if you will give me an opportunity.—Answers.

The Result.

Mr. Povvynu—Yahs, we are having our genealogy traced up now.

Dickson—Your blood be on your own head, then!

SPECIAL MENTION

—Rev. Mr. Lund, Methodist minister, of Woodstock, is dead.

THAT HACKING COUGH can be quickly cured by Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam Price 25c.

—Polling in the North-west Legislative Assembly elections takes place to-day.

THEY MAKE ONE FEEL as though life was worth living. Take one of Carter's Little Liver Pills after eating; it will relieve dyspepsia, aid digestion, give tone and vigor to the system.

—The new Canadian loan is quoted at 4½ premium on the London Stock Exchange.

MORE CASES OF SICK HEADACHE, biliousness, constipation, can be cured in less time, with less medicine, and for less money, by using Carter's Little Liver Pills, than by any other means.

—A Winnipeg delegate says that the almost immediate construction of the Hudson Bay Railway is assured.

IF YOU ARE NERVOUS OR DYSPEPTIC try Carter's Little Nerve Pills. Dyspepsia makes you nervous, and nervousness makes you dyspeptic; either one renders you miserable, and these little pills cure both.

—A log of African mahogany, said to be the largest ever landed in England, was recently sold in London. It measured thirty six by forty inches, and forty-one and one-half feet long, free of knots, shakes and all other defects.

Cholera morbus, cramps, and kindred complaints annually make their appearance at the same time as the hot weather, green fruit, cucumbers, melons, etc., and many persons are debarred from eating these tempting fruits, but they need not abstain if they have Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial, and take a few drops in water. It cures cholera and cramps in a remarkable manner, and is sure to check every disturbance of the bowels.

—Thos Harris, aged 104, died at Salem. He was a native of Ireland, and had resided in that village for the past 40 years.

—The troop ship Tyne, from England, via Bermuda, with drafts and supernumeraries for the garrison and ships, has arrived at Halifax.

THE PAIN KILLER — We have known the high character of this medicine, and that it is used with great success and satisfaction in our very best families. It is the favorite medicine of our missionaries in heathen lands, where they use it more than all else together for the diseases that abound in those warm climates. It should be kept in every house, and be in readiness for sudden attacks of sickness. 25c. per large bottle.

—The 17th annual convention of the W.C.T.U. of Ontario opened in the Baptist church at Cornwall yesterday.

That Joyful Feeling.

With the exhilarating sense of renewed health and strength and internal cleanliness, which follows the use of Syrup of Figs, is unknown to the few who have not progressed beyond the old time medicines and the cheap substitutes sometimes offered but never excepted by the well informed.

New Advertisements.

WANTED.

WANTED—A Chambermaid and a Cook Apply at O'Brien House. 150d6t

WANTED—A Law Clerk who wants to study law. Apply to E. Guss Porter. 150d6t

WANTED—General Servant. Apply to Mrs. J. W. Johnson, corner Hotel and Albert sts. 150d3t

GET YOUR TABLEWARE RE-PLATED NOW

Dont wait for the holiday rush.

BELLEVILLE PLATING WORKS

HARRIS & WALTON'S FACTORY MILL ST.

..POTTER'S..

Canned Tomatoes, Corn, Peas & Pumpkin

Have such a reputation that they need no comment from us. We have bought a large stock of these goods this season, and hope to supply our customers with the best goods ever packed

We have also a choice stock of new Canned Peaches, Strawberries, Raspberries, Plums, Currants, Pine Apples, Cherries, Lima Beans, Asparagus, etc., etc., and solicit your favors.

BENMORE & BENSON.

Family Grocers. Telephone 190.

- MEETING OF -

"Wellington and Blucher After Waterloo,"

..OR..

"The Death of Nelson."

GIVEN FREE

With twenty-five (25) wrappers of 5c "Star" Laundry Soap. We have also all kinds of soap in stock. Try our new "Telephone" soap in 5c bars Remember we don't follow the leaders, we lead the followers and can give the good, better and best at right prices.

J. A. ELLIOTT.
(FAMILY GROCER)
McMullen's Old Stand, Front Street

McLaughlin's QUEEN FLOUR

Which is warranted

THE BEST IN CANADA

For sale by

Chas. E. Bishop.

Bridge St., Belleville.

Send him an order.

- - A FULL ASSORTMENT OF - -

NUTS, CANDY - AND - FRUITS For Hallowe'en.

Jas. Wallace & Co

Manufacturers of "Wallace's Quaker Bread."

SWEET

Little bon-bons, lovely little tea pots, pretty little plates, tiny sweet little cups, exquisite little pitchers, dear little coffee cans, beautiful little jewel and olive trays. Great big handsome pedestals and pots to match, hundreds of nice things together with charming and brilliantly decorated dinner, tea and bedroom ware are coming with the new goods and we hope to get some opened this week and will let you know when all can be seen. We promise to make Belleville's own china store very interesting this fall.

W. J. REID & CO'Y.

CRYSTAL HALL. Rous' Old Stand.

London and Belleville.

Have you Neuralgia!

If you are suffering the agonies of neuralgia, and have failed to get a remedy that will afford relief, we want you to try Polson's Nerviline. No remedy in the market has given anything like the same degree of satisfaction. Its action on nerve pain is simply marvellous, and as it is put up in 25 cent bottles, no great expense is involved in giving it a trial. Polson's Nerviline is the most pleasant, powerful, and certain pain remedy in the world. Sold by druggists and all dealers in medicine, 25 cents a bottle.

TRENT CANAL.

Simcoe and Balsam Lake Division,

ALSO

Peterboro' and Lakefield Division.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "Tender for Trent Canal," will be received at this Office until noon on Saturday, Seventeenth day of November, 1894, for the construction of about five and a half miles of Canal on the Simcoe and Balsam Lake Division, and also for the construction of about three and a half miles of Canal on the Peterboro' and Lakefield Division.

Plans and specifications of the work can be seen at the office of the Chief Engineer of the Department of Railways and Canals, at Ottawa, or at the Superintending Engineer's Office, Peterboro', where forms of tender can be obtained on and after Monday, October 29th, 1894.

In the case of firms there must be attached the actual signatures of the full name, the nature of the occupation and place of residence of each member of the same, and further, an accepted bank cheque for the sum of $7,500 must accompany the tender for each section; this accepted cheque must be endorsed over to the Minister of Railways and Canals, and will be forfeited if the party tendering declines entering into contract for work at the rates and terms stated in the offer submitted. The accepted cheque thus sent in will be returned to the respective parties whose tenders are not accepted.

The lowest or any tender not necessarily accepted.

By order,
J. H. BALDERSON,
Secretary.

Department of Railways and Canals,
Ottawa, October, 1894. 149d5t2aw

THIS MATTER CHANGED DAILY.

WEDNESDAY, Oct. 31th.

DRESS GOODS.

Pity the sorrow of a dry goods house that has not a beautiful stock of dress-goods. This is a big department with us and we do a large business. Because our styles are right and value excellent. Remember our dress-goods.

W. FLINT JONES.

Next door to Haines & Lockett.

NIGHT SCHOOL

.... MECHANICS' INSTITUTE

Corner Front and Hotel Sts, will commence

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 1st, 1894.

The Advantages are :--

The Business Course, Shorthand and Type-writing Course, Instruction in Penmanship.

For four months, two evenings each week, from 7 to 9 o'clock, and six months' membership in the Institute

FEE FOR ALL IS .... $3.00.

Books, Stationery, Etc., for the Business Course, cost $3.00.

Apply to W. J. OSBORNE, of ONTARIO BUSINESS COLLEGE.

SLIPPER SOLES.

We have just received a large number of the best

LAMB'S WOOL SLIPPER SOLES, IN

Nos. 2, 3, 4, 5 & 6.

Also in Children's Sizes, which we are offering at the low price of 35 Cents per pair.

We have also a full range of Single and Double Berlin Wool, for Crocheting and Knitting Bedroom Slippers.

THE BEEHIVE

CHAS. N. SULMAN

NIGHT . . SCHOOL

Opens at

BELLEVILLE BUSINESS COLLEGE

ON

Thursday Evening, Nov. 1st, 1894 AT 7:15.

BELLEVILLE BUSINESS COLLEGE

ROBERT BOGLE, Proprietor,

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS,

A positive cure for all kidney diseases, such as

Backache, Rheumatism, Diabetes, Brights Disease, &c., &c.

For sale at the Pharmacy.

D. M. WATERS.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY.

CHEAP EXCURSION!

— TO —

Toronto, - - $1.70.
Niagara Falls, - $2.85.

— ON —

OCTOBER 30TH AND 31ST,

Good for return not later than Nov. 1st.

For tickets and all information, apply to

U. E. THOMPSON,

GEN. TICKET AGENCY, Bridge Street.

A Few Lines For To-morrow.

Charlotte Russe (individuals, larger ones to order). Cream Rolls, Corn Muffins, Graham Gems and all kinds of pastry. Oyster Patties to order. Fresh Oysters, fine stock. Ice cream,

Although the season seems to be past we are still making and selling ice cream. Orders can be filled for any quantity and in any shape. Also served in our parlors daily.

H. C. DICKENS & SON.

NEW HATS and CAPS TO COVER

OUR HEADS

GEO. P. MINAKER.

IF YOU USE A BLENDED - TEA

Ask Your Grocer For

'MORAHNEE'

It has no equal.

In one half pound packets, 40c. and 50c. per lb

J. E. WALMSLEY & CO.,

Agents for the British Tea and Trading Association, London, Eng.

Fur Goods.

Just in hand in the following lines:

GREY GOAT ROBES,
BLACK GOAT ROBES.

Saskatchewan Buffalo Robes,
Gents' Saskatchewan Buffalo Coats
Gents' Black Astrachan Coats,
Ladies' Black Astrachan Coats,
Ladies' Grenland Seal Capes.
Splendid value in sealettes,
NEW MANTLE PLUSHES,
NEW CULT CLOAKINGS,
NEW GOAT CLOAKINGS,
NEW BEAVER CLOAKINGS,

Priestley's Dress Goods in great variety. Dress and mantle making and tailoring done on the premises.

CARPETS! CARPETS! CARPETS!

Velvet squares, wool squares, floor oilcloths and Linoleums
Chenille curtains, lace curtains, curtain poles and brass goods in large variety

VANDERVOORT & GIBSON,

Successors to the late J. W. Dunnet.
Belleville, Oct. 24, 1894.

COUPON
—FOR—
PART 10.
Canada Portfolio of Art.

A Coupon appears in all issues of this paper.

Cut out this coupon and forward, together with 10 cents, to the Art Department of this paper, and you will receive one part of Canada, as mentioned above, by mail post-paid, or bring the coupon and 10 cents to this office and receive Portfolio.

NAME.....

ADDRESS.....

N.B.—Remember, only one Coupon required for each part.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, WEDNESDAY, OCT 31

Chauncey Ashley, issuer of marriage licenses, Division Court Office, Pinnacle street or at residence over Bennett & Bleecker's store. d&w

CITY AND DISTRICT.

Henry Taylor, drunk, was allowed to go this morning.

The police will be on the watch to-night for mischievous youths.

Musical entertainment in Bethesda St. church to-morrow night.

Night school in connection with the Mechanic's Institute, will open to-morrow night. See the advertisement.

The military enquiry at the drill shed is still in session. The evidence of the first witness was not all taken yesterday.

R. J. Graham has received an invitation to attend a Thanksgiving dinner, gotten up by his employes at Norwich.

Purify your blood, tone up the system, and regulate the digestive organs by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. Sold by all druggists.

Foul play is suspected in the case of W. Dunnet, who was found dead in his canoe near Hastings a few days ago, and an inquest is to be held.

The Philharmonic Society had a full practice last night. The members are getting along nicely with the "Messiah," which will be produced at an early date.

The season for whitefish closes to-day. It has been a very poor one for the Bay fishermen, who hope to make up their losses by catching herring during November.

Those of our readers who have not secured No. 10 of "Canada," that beautiful art series, can do so now. They contain the gems of Canadian scenery. Only 10 cents with coupon.

The Grand Trunk and Canadian Pacific railways have decided to restore their rates for the transportation of grain and flour to the east to the old basis, which was lower than the present tariff.

The man who puts off his winter advertising till December will find that spring comes before his returns are in. If you are going to do a thing, do it in time. Push your business. Don't let it push you.

Mr. Pearson, of the firm of Darling, Sproat & Pearson, architects, Toronto met the Trustees of St. Andrew's church last evening and they gave orders for his firm to proceed at once towards the completion of the plans submitted by them.

"Canada," a Canadian production, is a work that should be in every Canadian home. It is a magnificent publication, and only needs to be seen to be appreciated. Only 10 cents a number with coupon. No. 10 now in.

Ald. Landenberger will introduce a by-law at the Council next Monday evening, to empower the city to clear the snow from the walks in front of all vacant lots, and have the cost charged against the lots, unless cleared by the owner.

While thorough in action, Ayer's Pills strengthen rather than stimulate the excretory organs. Leading physicians recommend them because they are free from calomel or other injurious drugs, being compound entirely of the best vegetable aperients.

The Glasgow Warehouse is offering a big drive in Ladies' and Gents' Kid Gloves in Opera, Tan, Grey, and Black. Sizes from 5½ to 7—regular 75c. to $1 goods—for the low price of 25c. Call early and get your choice. Sole agents for the Josephine Glove cleaner.

Cheap Rubbers.

Ladies rubbers 30 cents, girls' spring heel rubbers 30 cents, women's croquet rubbers 35 cents, men's good rubbers 45 and 50 cents. These are all new goods.—VERMILYEA & SON.

Catarrh—Use Nasal Balm. Quick, positive cure. Soothing, cleansing, healing.

SOCIAL & PERSONAL

J. R. Mical was in Brockville yesterday.

The Misses Hitchon, of Belleville, were in town yesterday.—Brockville Times.

Mr. W. L. Hamilton returned last night from his hunting trip with the Corby party.

Mrs. W. L. Hamilton of Belleville, is at present a guest of the Misses Lawless, Market street.—Brockville Recorder

W. W. Grant and A. Staples, Peterborough; W. Bassett, Warkworth; Alf. Morden Bird, Stirling; G. A. Booth, Trenton, were at the Anglo to day.

T. J. Shanks, editor of the Kingston News, having retired to lease a new young people's paper, has been succeeded by Mr. W. R. Tandy, late city editor.

Rev. A. L. Geen has gone to Napanee to attend the annual meeting of the Lennox and Addington Deanery, to be held there.

Mr. Alex McDonnell, of Montreal, formerly with Ponton & Morden, of this city, is in the city attending the wedding of his cousin, Mr. C. D. Macaulay.

THE APPLE MARKET DULL.

Still R. J. Graham is Handling Large Quantities Here, and in the West.

A reporter asked R. J. Graham how the market was abroad for evaporated apples. He said it was dull indeed, and no buyers at the quotations. Evaporated apples today are only worth about 5½ a pound, whereas three years ago he got 12c for them, and the cost of manufacture was no greater then than now.

Mr. Graham says there are plenty of good apples in the country as they could had at a very low price. Notwithstanding the low price for the fall when evaporated, Mr. Graham is running all his evaporators at full blast, and has no idea of stopping. In doing may be obtained from the fact that he is paying out in his different factories, about $3000 per day for labor and fruit.

Mr. Graham sends his goods to almost every part of the world. Yesterday he shipped 120 barrels of dried apples to Australia and to-day he consigned 200 boxes of evaporated fruit to Hamburg, Germany. He is also shipping nearly every day to the principal cities of the United States.

SPORTING NEWS

The Leaside hunting party, whose ill luck up to Thursday last was previously noted, returned last night. They were more successful in the last days of their stay, during which they killed four deer. Game Warden Smith is working on some cases of duck shooting by illegal means down the bay.

According to latest advices, the Corby hunting party had killed five deer and a large number of partridges.

GRAND TRUNK AFFAIRS.

The Report Adopted by the Sharehol ders

LONDON, Oct. 31.—The result of the ballot at the Grand Trunk meeting last night was announced to-day. It showed a total of 286,681 votes against Mr. Seris' amendment and 11,138 for it. In consequence of this result Sir Henry Tyler has declared his motion to adopt the reports and accounts carried.

St. Andrew's Society.

A large y attended meeting of the above society took place last night at the residence of A. D. Wasker, M. D. The meeting was the largest in years, and a vast amount of business was gone through. Dr. Walker was again re elected president unanimously, as were the other officers to their several positions. Geo. Tudhope was elected secretary in place of W. Heber Campbell, who retired on motion of A. R. Walker, seconded by John Johnston. A committee was appointed to prepare a resolution of condolence to be forwarded to the relatives of the late brother, Dr. Geo. S. Wright, who as death was deeply regreted by every member of St. Andrew's Society. It was agreed to celebrate St. Andrew's day on Nov. 30 h. by service in John St. church in the afternoon, and in the evening by a grand concert in the Opera House, at which Maggie Barr, of Hamilton, Mr. Fred Warrington, Toronto, and some of our best local talent will appear.

Poor Digestion

Leads to nervousness, fretfulness, peevishness, chronic Dyspepsia, and great misery. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the remedy; it tones the stomach, creates an appetite, and gives healthy action to all the organs of the body. Take Hood's, for Hood's Sarsaparilla cures.

HOOD'S PILLS become the favorite cathartic with every one who tries them. 25c.

The Sight.

Spectacles to be of benefit to the wearer must first have the lenses properly adjusted to the amount of defective sight, which can only be ascertained by a test with accurate trial lenses; then the frame must suitably fit the face. L. W. Yeomans & Co. are devoting special attention to spectacle fitting. Spectacles and eyeglasses of all kinds constantly in stock.

Sailor Suits One Half Price.

For the balance of this week you can buy any sailor suit for boys from 3 years old to 10, at the Oak Hall for exactly half price. We are over stocked in these goods and they are not selling fast enough to suit us. All marked in plain figures, with the price cut in two. This is the greatest bargain the Oak Hall ever offered.

A Golden Wedding.

Mr. W. J. Northgraves and his wife former respected residents of this city, celebrated their golden wedding at Winnipeg, where they were visiting their daughters, recently. We join with their other friends in congratulations to the venerable couple.

Medical Election.

Dr. Thornton, of Consecon and Dr Rutan, of Napanee, two candidates for Member of the Council to represent this (N. 14) medical district, met yesterday in Dr. Day's office. The ballots returned for Thornton member for the ensuing year.

Taken for a Tramp.

A man named Smith was left last night to watch an excavation near Cooper's mill. Some of the residents in that vicinity mistook Smith for a tramp, and telephoned the police to come and arrest him.

To be Sentenced on Monday.

The trial of the Arnolds was continued yesterday afternoon before Judge Lazier, but little evidence was adduced to shake that of the sons against the father. The prisoners were remanded till Monday next for sentence.

A Large Yield.

From one acre of orchard at his residence on the front of Sidney, Mr. R. J. Graham this year picked 176 barrels of prime apples, principally Snows and Spys, and 250 bags of "pesters." This is the largest yield we have heard of this year.

PROBABILITIES.

TORONTO, Oct. 31.—Unsettled, some fair intervals; local rains; not much change in temperature.

MACAULAY-DAVY.

BRILLIANT AND PICTURESQUE WEDDING AT ST MICHAEL'S.

Mr. Charles D. Macaulay and Miss Minnie Davy United for Life—A Large Congregation Witness the Ceremony—Interesting Details of the Event.

St. Michael's church was the scene of a very pretty and fashionable wedding this morning, when Mr. Charles D. Macaulay, barrister, of this city, led to the altar Miss Minnie Davy, daughter of the late Robert Perry Davy, formerly City Treasurer of Belleville, and grand daughter of the late B. F. Davy, Esq., first Mayor of Belleville. Crowds of ladies wended their way church ward, and the seats of the sacred edifice were rapidly filled by an orderly crowd of people, who managed to see the ceremony, and catch a glimpse of the bride. At eleven o'clock the wedding procession advanced up the aisle, to the inspiriting strains of the organ under the clever touch of Mr. J. N Doyle, organist. The ushers, in two lines, came first. What can one say about such ers, but that they are the to be blessed benedicts, of such scenes in the future—some in the very near future. At all events, as they moved up the church, there was a very perceptible flutter amongst the young lady spectators. They were Messrs. Walter Donaldson, Toronto; Jack McDonnell, Montreal, (cousin of the bride); H. P. Thomas, A. A. Roberts, Edward Butler, John Earl Halliwell, W. S. Morden, R. Musson and H. Smart. They followed Miss Helen Davy, of Chicago, and Miss Marguerite Holden, of Montreal, two little tots, very sweet to look upon, quaintly and daintily attired in white silk. The maid of honor, Miss Lulu Davy, sister of the bride, followed by the two bridesmaids, Miss Ruby Holden and Miss Maude Laferte, of Montreal. They were pretty creations. All gowns, large white chip picture hats, trimmed with Alsatian bows of lisse. Each bore a bouquet of chrysanthemums and wore souvenir rings, the gift of the groom.

They were all very attractive brunettes, which added to the picturesque beauty of the scene. The bride on the arm of her brother, Mr. Benjamin Davy, looked very charming in an ivory satin gown en traine, and trimmed with white flowers. A chin meeting tulle veil descended to her feet and was caught up by a pearl star which was the gift of the groom. She carried a bouquet of white roses tied with white satin ribbon, also the gifts of the groom. A coronet of orange blossoms crowned the lovely head and at her throat she wore a diamond star, the gift of her mother. The groom was assisted by his brother, Dr. Allek Macaulay, Frankford; Monsignor Farrelly assisted by Fathers O'Brien and Connolly, performed the ceremony and also celebrated nuptial mass. The bride's mother wore a very handsome and becoming costume of heliotrope satin, trimmed with jet, bonnet to match. After the ceremony the party drove to the residence of the bride's mother, Alexander st., where they partook of a dejeuner prepared by caterer Fleming. The house was prettily decorated with palms, flowers and smilax. The wedding gifts were costly, beautiful and many. A few might be mentioned: An exquisite Irish point lace handkerchief, made by the bride's grandmother, Mrs. B. F. Davy, who is in her 90th year. One hundred dollars in gold from the groomsman, Dr. Frank Macaulay; a delicate chocolate set, hand painted by Mrs. E. W. Davy of Calcasy; gold spoons enamelled in blue from Miss Helen Davy; a Dresden china bijou lamp, Miss Ruby Holden, Montreal; an elegant silver tea server from Mr. J. Neily, Bristol; a quantity of sterling silver spoons, Mr. and Mrs. James Grant; a black onyx clock from Mr. and Mrs. P. O'Brien, Toronto; sterling silver jelly spoon and cake fork, Miss Louie Davy, Montreal; sterling silver spoons from Mr. and Mrs. A. Holden, Montreal; white onyx clock, H. P. Thomas; a sterling silver pudding dish, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Munroe; a hand some cheese dish, silver and china, Mr. and Mrs. Warrington; silver spoons, Mr. W. S Peterson, of Chicago and from Miss Emma McCormick, of Lake City; pearl opera glasses from Robert Breth, of Vancouver; bronze candlestick and shade, Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Forster, Hamilton; armchair, Mr. and Mrs. Bowley, Wintipeg; beautiful hand painted tea plates from Miss S. Dickson; an exquisite china jardinere, Mrs. Laferte, Montreal In addition to those mentioned there was a quantity of table silver, cutlery, fancy work, and no less than five elegant lamps to light the happy pair on the flowery path. Mr. and Mrs. Macaulay left by the five o'clock express going west for a short tour. The bride's going away gown was of green lady's cloth, trimmed with crimson, fawn hat with green velvet and peacock feathers.

Mr. and Mrs. Macaulay will take up their future residence on Alexander St., where they will settle down next door and close under the matrimonial wing, in a very easy and beautiful little home, where we wish them a very happy and prosperous life. Mrs. Macaulay will receive her friends on the 19 h, 20 h, and 21st of November.

This evening, Mrs. Davy gives a "Hallow Eve" dance for the bridesmaids and ushers. The following is a list of the invited guests: Mrs. Albert Holden, Montreal; Mrs. Harvey, Mrs. W. S. Peterson, Mrs. E. W. Davy, Chicago; Mrs. Kelso, Bath; Mrs. D. Macauley, Misses Sweetman; Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Macauley and Miss Macauley, Frankford; Mr. J. N. Doyle, Mrs. M. Wilson, Misses Wilson, Mrs. Perkins, Mr. Richardson; Mr. and Mrs. Warrington, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Grant; Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Grant.

A Lesson in Hygiene.

Now that water supplies are recognized as the chief vehicle for propagating typhoid fever, medical and scientific authorities throughout the world are constantly dwelling on the necessity of using water of known purity. But this has no bearing on medicinal waters, which, however valuable, cannot safely be made part of the ordinary daily diet, because of the active chemical substances they contain, it has, however, given a wonderful stimulus to the consumption of distetic or table waters, such as Apollinaris. It is little wonder, however, that the use of Apollinaris is on the increase, for who does not gladly take the beverage which, besides being pure and healthful, is delightful and refreshing?

George Redington Killed.

Geo. Redington, a brother of Mrs. H. W. Baragar, who lives near Keene, was killed in a runaway accident at Wolcott, N. Y., on the 22nd of October. He tried to stop a runaway team and was run over by the waggon, crushing his skull. The young man was 26 years of age and a son of William Redington.

How to Get a "Sunlight Picture

Send 25 "Sunlight" soap wrappers (wrapper bearing the words "by does a woman look old sooner than a man") to Lever Bros. Ltd., 43 Scott St., Toronto, and you will receive by post a pretty picture, free from advertising, and well worth framing. This is an easy way to decorate your home. The soap is the best in the market, and it will only cost 1c. postage to send in the wrappers. If you leave the ends open, write your address carefully.

MAYNOOTH.

Oct 30.—Business booming. Sixty men passed through here en route to the counties.—A large number of the young men have left for the shanties.—Four of our young men, J. and A. Barr, E. Aykroyd and G. Rose, had a rather peculiar experience on Friday night last. At at 6:30 o'clock they started for the Bangor Settlement, some six miles north. A Barr and F. Aykroyd waiting, with two double barreled shot guns, and the other two riding on a board on a lumber waggon. On their way they were followed by a wild cat that made the woods ridiculous with its shrieks. Later, on their way they met a small bear and before they saw it, the night being dark, were within three feet of it. F. Aykroyd now fired and was about to fire, when it turned short around and ran past A. Barr, so close that it almost touched his leg. Barr, not having seen it before, was somewhat shocked and yelled. Aykroyd "thought then that it must be a dog he was scaring," and so lowered his gun. In public, smartly not another word with asking himself known to the pedestrian element, now ran under the waggon, upon which the occupants dismounted in a right royal style. They turned to get a shot at him, although early the next morning they were on the scene and scoured the woods in every direction.—Deer hunting is being indulged in, but with very little success as the ground is so soft that deer can not be made "take the water."—Mr Corby, M. P., has been rusticating near Rice Lake.

DESERONTO.

The weather has been delightful and the leaves are fast falling from the trees.—The shipment of lumber is brisk from this port at present.—Capt. Forester of the barge "Ostela," died here yesterday after a short illness. His family who live in Eastern Ontario, have the sympathy of this community.—Quarterly services will be held in the Methodist church next Sunday.—Rev. G. A. Yeomans is conducting the services at the church of the Redeemer.—Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Rathbun and family have removed this week to Southern California, where they will spend the winter months.—Mr. and Mrs. E. C. French and family have removed to Montreal.—Miss Scott of Quebec, is the guest of Mr. E. W. Rathbun.—Miss Stoddart has returned home from an extended visit to Toronto. Mr. T. Butler, jr., has passed his final examination at Queens University and is now an M. D. C. M.—Mr. J. Parsons Smith, Prof. Morgan and Miss Fairy Morgan, are conducting Temperance meetings at the Union Hall this week.

HILLIER.

HILLIER, Oat., Oct. 28th.—No person ought to find fault with the weather that we are now having. It is just grand, and the people are very busy getting, while the apple pickers cannot call to memory such a fine, warm fall for picking fruit.—The majority of the people around here sold their apples by the orchard and the most of them have done well, but now and then a report reaches us of a man that got badly "taken in." Such was the case with Mr. B. Davidson, who sold his orchard for $45, and has packed about 100 bbls.—The threshing machines are still quite busily engaged threshing out buckwheat, which is turning out about 25 bushels to the acre.—The evaporator in the village has suspended work for a few days on account of scarcity of apples.—Some farmers are selling their barley at 40 cts. and peas for 60 cts. per bushel.—Wm. Bull, our popular butcher, intends going back north this week to build up a trade there. We wish him luck.—Several from this place attended the funeral, on Sunday, of Mrs. Mabel Christie, of Bloomfield, who was found drowned in West Lake on the 19th. The deceased was formerly a resident of this place, and very highly respected.—Miss Agnes Mahaffa, of Toronto, is spending the fall at her sister's, Mrs. Levi Palmer.—Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Palmer spent last Sunday at Mr. Fitzduff's, near Smithfield.—Miss Jessie Jones, of Toronto, who spent a few days here visiting at her sister's, Mrs. R. Stapleton, and Mrs. L. Noxon, left for Baton on Friday, accompanied by her brother, David Jones.—Mr. Stephen Lessens has learned his trade, that of cheese making, and is home now.—It is reported that our worthy Post Master, Mr. Thomas Titus, has bought the farm which was formerly known as the Robt. Frye farm.—Mrs. Herrington, daughter of Mr. W. H. Titus, is spending a few days at Picton.

Asthma Cured

By Schiffman's Asthma Cure. No waiting for results. Its action is immediate, direct and certain. Price 50 cents and $1, of druggists or by mail. Trial package to convince the most skeptical, free. Address Dr. Schiffman, St. Paul, Minn.

CAMPBELLFORD.

Oct. 30.—One of the oldest inhabitants of Campbellford, Capt. Tice, was yesterday carried to his last resting place. Deceased was 84 years of age, and had lived the greatest part of his life in this town; he was a native of England, and in religion belonged to that church. Mr. Tice was a good citizen, quiet and unassuming in his character, a kind neighbor, and highly respected by a large circle of friends.

Cheese Markets

Oct 31, 1894.—The cheese market is quiet with little change from last week's quotations.

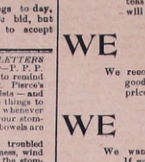

At Peterboro' yesterday 9000 boxes were sold at the following prices: Hodgson Bros 1200 boxes at 10c, 300 at 9¾; Warrington 3700 boxes at 10c 2300 at 9 15 16 and 1100 boxes at 9¾.

UTICA.

UTICA, Oct. 29.—Large white, seven lots, 180 boxes, 9½; do, four lots, 32 boxes 10; large colored, 41 lots, 2,950 boxes, 9¾; do, three lots 10c; do, one lot, 40 boxes, p.t.; small colored, four lots, 347 boxes, 10; do, three lots, 210 boxes, 10½; do, four lots, 310 boxes, 10¾; countries on two lots, 95 boxes; total, 6006 boxes. Butter—10 pkgs at 22½c, 90 pkgs. at 23¾c.

INGERSOLL.

INGERSOLL, Oct. 30.—Offerings to day, 2,050 boxes; 9¾c bid, 10c asked, but salesmen were not inclined to accept prices.

THREE LETTERS to remember—P. P. P. They'll help to remind you of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets—and these are the things to keep in mind whenever you feel liver, your stomach, or your bowels are out of order.

If you're troubled with costiveness, wind and pain in the stomach, giddiness or disturbed sleep, you'll find these little Pellets just what you want—tiny in size, sugar-coated, pleasant to take and pleasant in the way they act. They tone up and strengthen the lining membranes of the stomach and bowels, and do permanent good.

To prevent, relieve, and cure Biliousness, Dizziness, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Sick or Bilious Headaches, and Indigestion, take Dr. Pierce's Pellets. If they're not satisfactory, in every way and in every case, you have your money back.

The "Old reliable"—Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy has been sold for thirty years. Has cured thousands, will cure you.

OUR NEW STORIES.

By special arrangement we will, within a few days, begin the issue of serial stories from the pens of the following well-known authors, whose names alone are a guarantee of the excellence of the service. The stories cost $9,000, but through special arrangement we are able to furnish the series to our readers and we know that they will highly appreciate them

Conan Doyle, Stephen Crane, Hamlin Garland, Margaret Deland, "Ouida," S. R. Crockett, Frank R. Stockton, Florence Warden, Richard Malcolm Johnston, Amelia E. Barr, Mary N. Murfree, Bret Harte, Mrs. Alexander, Jerome K. Jerome, Sarah Grand, David Wechsler, Brander Matthews, Elizabeth Stuart Phelps Ward, Mary E. Wilkins, Julian Hawthorne, Sarah Orne Jewett, Barry Pain, Opie Read, The Duchess, Howard Fielding, Matt Crim, Maxwell Gray, T. Quiller Couch, Thomas Hardy, Harriet Prescott Spofford, Henry Harland (Sidney Luska), Ruth McEnery Stuart, Rudyard Kipling, Rosa Nouchette Carey.

MARRIED AT ST. JOHN'S CHURCH.

A Popular Young Lady, of This City, United to a Toronto Young Man.

A very pretty wedding was quietly celebrated in St. John's church this morning, when Miss Maud Nicholson, youngest daughter of Mr. Jacob Nicholson, Holloway st., was married to Mr. George Brigden, of the Toronto Engraving Company, Toronto. Only a few near relatives were present to witness the ceremony, which was performed by the Rector, Rev. D. F. Bogert. Miss Gertrude Nicholson was bridesmaid and Mr. Fred Brigden groomsman. The bride was attired in a handsome traveling costume. The bride and bridesmaid carried beautiful bouquets of roses. The groom's present to the bride was a beautiful gold brooch set with pearls and to the bridesmaid a gold ring set with pearls and rubies. The bride received numerous and handsome presents. The happy couple left on the noon train for their future home in Toronto. The INTELLIGENCER extends congratulations.

Mr. J. Alcide Chausse
Montreal, P. Q.

A Marvelous Medicine

Whenever Given a Fair Trial Hood's Proves Its Merit.

The following letter is from Mr. J. Alcide Chausse, architect and surveyor, No. 153 Shaw Street, Montreal, Canada:

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

"Gentlemen:—I have been taking Hood's Sarsaparilla for about six months and am glad to say that it has done me a great deal of good. Last May my weight was 152 pounds, but since

HOOD'S Sarsaparilla CURES

I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla it has increased to 168. I think Hood's Sarsaparilla is a marvellous medicine and am very much pleased with it." J. ALCIDE CHAUSSE.

Hood's Pills cure liver ills, constipation, biliousness, jaundice, sick headache, indigestion

Lane's Medicine Moves the Bowels Each Day.

In order to be healthy this is necessary.

24TH YEAR.

S. A. HYMAN, Manufacturing Furrier.

Everybody Is talking about our Furs, because we have the newest and latest styles at the lowest prices.

Jackets! We make them to order in all styles, sizes and shapes out of Persian lamb, Alaska seal, grey Persian lamb and beaver.

Capes! In all kinds of fur, Alaska seal, beaver, Persian lamb, grey lamb, Greenland seal in all lengths from 18 inches to 42 inches long.

S. A. HYMAN, OLD FURS MADE OVER IN THE LATEST STYLES

BLANKETS.....

We are showing a very complete range of all-wool and union Blankets in a variety of qualities and sizes. These are all from the most reliable makers and can be thoroughly recommended.

FLANNEL SHEETING!

All wool and union Flannel Sheeting, 72 inches wide, in White and Grey.

GEO. RITCHIE & CO.

Home Furnishers.

Changed Daily.

"SAY A LITTLE BUT SAY IT STRONG."

WEDNESDAY, Oct. 31st.

WE

We know you want good tea—tea that will please YOU—not somebody else.

WE

We sell tea at all prices and qualities. We believe our teas are the kind that you will relish.

WE

We recommend our 40c tea as good tasting tea, and the price is not excessive.

WE

We want you to try our teas. If you are pleased we want your steady patronage, and we'll give you the greatest possible value for it.

Stroud's TEA STORE.

OUR GREAT SALE —OF— GOODS Damaged by SMOKE AND WATER, Will commence FRIDAY Morning AT 9 O'CLOCK.

Look our for Bargains.

A. E. FISH & CO.

TO LET.

TO LET 2 snug, warm brick houses in terrace, situated on Harriet St., West Belleville, known as Morton's, or Pellitt's terrace. For terms of rent apply to R. O. Pellitt, collector, or sub-agent to the estate of the late H. E. Pellitt, Residence at Mr. Judd's Corner of William and Dundas Sts., East Belleville. 85d2m

Lane's Medicine Moves the Bowels Each Day.

In order to be healthy this is necessary.

OLD KING COLE

.....WAS A MERRY OLD SOUL I!

BUT..... THAT HAS NOTHING TO DO WITH OUR

FAMOUS LEHIGH VALLEY COAL!

Which is the KING of all COALS.

TRY IT! GOOD PEOPLE! TRY IT!!

AND if you do not burn COAL we can supply you with

The finest CORD WOOD in the Land.

Place your Orders with us before the rush, which always begins as soon at the weather turns Cold.

S. A. LAZIER & SONS. The Leading Coal and Wood Merchants, Telephone C 68.

Wall-Paper!

10 Per Cent. Discount AT

Scantlebury's.

The LEADING BARGAIN HOUSE

Not a day passes over the history of the store that doesn't bring "Grist" to our "Bargain Mill." There's no dormant energy in the management.

Every nerve is at straining point to bring the people of this vicinity within ready reach of the best money's worth to be had in

DRY Goods, Millinery, Gents' Furnishings

ONLY A FEW LEADING PRICES:—

25 in. Heavy Flannel, 15c. 27 in. Heavy Flannel, all wool, 18; 28 in. all patterns Flannelette, 8c; 25 in. all patterns Flannelette; 6c; beautiful Opera Flannels, 40c; 500 corsets, value $1.00, at 50c; a special bargain in Ladies' Handkerchiefs, 5c; latest designs in French dress patterns from $3 to $8. A full range of anything and everything at exceedingly low prices. Call early for selection.

H. A. LAYTON, BELLEVILLE.

Front St., Opposite Campbell St.

Bay of Quinte Steamb't Route

TRI-WEEKLY

DESER'TO, PICTON & KINGSTON

1894 - 1894

STR. "HERO"

THIS favorite steamer is now lighted by electricity and will have a strong search light for excursion business and the boat is heated by steam.

Commencing Monday, April 9th, will leave Belleville Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 6 a m, returning Tuesday, Thursday and Friday at 11 p m.

The very best facilities are offered to shippers of freight. The lowest through and local rates quoted.

No wharfage at Picton on freight for this steamer.

Full information given by Gilbert Johnston on board, or to the

RATHBUN COM'Y,

, H. GILDERSLEEVE, Ticket Agents Kingston.

HAMILTON,

TORONTO, AND MONTREAL,

Via Bay of Quinte, Calling at all Ports Weekly,

THE FAVORITE STEAMER

"MAGNET"

Leaves St. Catharines Tuesday 9 a. m.
Toronto " 4 p. m.
Leaves Belleville for Montreal } Wednesday 7:30 a m
Leaves Belleville for Toronto } Sunday 8 p. m.

First Class Passenger Accommodation, Large Freight Capacity. Lowest Rates

For Tickets, Rates, &c., Apply to the RATHBUN COMPANY, Agents,

or to

CAPT. J. J. TOWERS, Superintendent, No. 2 King st., Toronto.

C. F. GILDERSLEEVE, General Manager, 22 8St. Paul st., Montreal.

STEAMER VARUNA

A. HICKS, Captain.

WILL leave Trenton every morning, (Sunday excepted) at 7:00 o'clock, calling at Rednerville and all points between the head of the bay and Picton, leaving Belleville at 8:30 a.m., Deseronto at 10:20 a.m.

On Tuesday and Thursday evenings to meet North King at Brighton, returning will leave Brighton Wednesday and Saturday mornings at 5:30.

Will connect at Picton with stage for Sand Banks.

Parties wishing to arrange for excursion rates will see Capt. Hicks on board

Will leave Picton at 1 p.m. on return for the head of the bay, Deseronto 2:30 p.m., Belleville, at 4:30 p. m., and Trenton, at 6.

Omnibuses in waiting at Picton, Belleville and Brighton.

The Rathbun Co., Agents, Belleville and Deseronto.

A. W. Hepburn, Agent, Picton.

ROCHESTER,

KINGSTON AND MONTREAL

Weekly Service Calling at Way Ports

THE PEOPLE'S FAVORITE STEAMER.

"ALEXANDRIA"

Leaves Montreal, Thursday at 10:00 a. m.
Arrives Belleville, Saturday at 11:45 a. m.
Leaves for Rochester " " 1:15 p m.
Arrives from Rochester, Monday at 6:30 a. m.
Leaves for Montreal, " " 7:30 a. m.

Spacious and elegant Saloon. Ample State-room accommodation. The choicest and best Meals furnished. Safety, comfort and enjoyment ensured by personal supervision of Capt. Smith and Purser Melrose. Careful handling of freight.

For Tickets, State rooms at lowest rates apply to THE RATHBUN COMPANY, Agents.

HAPPY HOME RANGES.

Best in the Market.

—ALSO—

A Full Line of

Art Garland

and

Famous Heaters

—(o)—

Wm. McGIE,

Next to Nathan Jones.

Telephone 38 Front S

INSURANCE.

Western Assurance Company,

Fire and Marine Head Office, Toronto.

North British & Mercantile Ins. Co.,

Fire and Life, Head Office (Can.) Montreal

Atlas Insurance Company,

Fire Head Office (Canada), Montreal.

M. M. THOMPSON

Water Works Office, Bridge St.

INTELLIGENCER PRINTING AND PUBLISHING COMPANY (LIMITED.

J. O. JAMIESON, President. | J. W. LONDON, Secretary

THE Treasurer is the only person authorized to receive money from the Company, or to grant receipts for the same.

All Bills, Notes, Cheques and other documents binding on the Company, will require the signature of the President, in addition to that of the Treasurer.

THE INTELLIGENCER is printed and published by the INTELLIGENCER Printing and Publishing Company (Limited) by James O Jamieson, resident in Belleville, the ... St., Front St., south of Hotel St.

Daily Intelligencer.

A Wonderful Cure.

Mr. David Smith, Coe Hill, Ont., writes: "For the benefit of others I wish to say a few words about Northrop & Lyman's VEGETABLE DISCOVERY. About a year ago I took a severe cough and had a virulent sore on my lips, was bad with dyspepsia, constipation and general debility. I tried almost every conceivable remedy, outwardly and inwardly to cure the sore, but all to no purpose. I had often thought of trying Northrop & Lyman's VEGETABLE DISCOVERY, so I got a bottle and when I had used about one half the sore showed evident signs of healing. By the time that bottle was done it had about disappeared and my general health was improving fast. I was always of a very bilious habit and had used quinine and lemon juice with very little effect. But since using 3 bottles of the VEGETABLE DISCOVERY the biliousness was entirely gone and my general health is excellent. I am 60 years old. Parties using it should continue it for some time after they think they are cured. It is by far the best health restorer I know."

Fine shavings from soft pine wood make a pleasant pillow that may be utilized for comfort if you have a hammock.

Holloway's Corn Cure destroys all kinds of corns and warts, root and branch. Who then would endure them with such a cheap and effectual remedy within reach?

BAD BLOOD causes Blotches, Boils, Pimples, Abscesses, Ulcers, Scrofula, etc. Burdock Blood Bitters cures Bad Blood in any form from a common Pimple to the worst Scrofula Sore.

The devil has never been able to find out how to make his mud stick to the Christian's back.

Some people laugh to show their pretty teeth. The use of Ivory White Tooth Powder makes people laugh more than ever. It's so nice. Price 25c. Sold by druggists.

The devil will keep on making hypocrites as long as there is a good man in the church.

Much distress and sickness in children is caused by worms. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator gives relief by removing the cause. Give it a trial and be convinced.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP strengthens the lungs and cures all throat troubles, coughs colds, etc.

Vinegar will remove lime from the carpets.

Out of Sorts—Symptoms, Headache, loss of appetite, furred tongue and general indisposition. These symptoms, if neglected, develop into acute disease. It is a trite saying that an "ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," and a little attention at this point may save months of sickness and large doctor's bills. For this complaint take from two to three of Parmelee's Vegetable Pills on going to bed and one or two for three nights in succession, and a cure will be effected.

Electric pianos make excellent music all by themselves.

HAGYARD'S PECTORAL BALSAM cures Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis and all Throat and Lung Troubles.

LAKEHURST SANITARIUM

OAKVILLE, ONT.

For treatment and cure of

ALCHOLISM, MORPHINE HABIT, TOBACCO HABIT AND NERVOUS DISEASES.

The system employed at this institution is the familiar Double Chloride of Gold System. Through its agency over 200,000 Slaves to the use of these poisons have been emancipated in the last fourteen years. Lakehurst Sanitarium is the oldest Institution of the kind in Canada, and has a well earned reputation to maintain in this line of medicine. In its whole history there is not an instance of failure to remove the appetite for these poisons. In its whole history there is not an instance of any after ill effects from the treatment. Hundreds of happy homes in all parts of the Dominion bear eloquent witness to the efficacy of a course of treatment with us. For terms and full information write

THE SECRETARY,

28 Bank of Commerce Chambers,

aug7d3m34w3m) Toronto, Ont.

MONTHLY DIVIDENDS!!

Syndicate Trading

$10.00 UPWARDS,

40 Per Cent. Profit in September 1894

Stock Exchange Risks less than Trade Risks. Stock Exchange Profits Greater than any Trade Profits.

Syndicate Trading is conducted with smallest individual risk while the greatest possible profits are earned for each investor. Syndicate Trading is a LEGITIMATE road to wealth. A small sum quickly becomes a yearly income

Anyone can Share our Profit!!

Send $10 00 or upwards in registered letter, by post or money order or New York draft, payable to New York Trading Co., or A. W. abarse, Manager

All money at your credit can be withdrawn first of month when accounts are rendered. The elections will make active markets. This is a grand opportunity to make money. Details mailed free. References furnished. Representatives wanted

New York Trading Company,

17 & 19 Broadway, New York City.

SPECULATORS AND INVESTORS

SEND FOR OUR

DAILY MARKET LETTER AND ILLUSTRATED PAMPHLETS ON SPECULATION,

mailed free on application, and operate successfully in Wall Street.

Our discretionary speculations have paid a monthly profit of

$20 NET TO EACH $100 MARGIN.

Stocks, Bonds, Grain, Provisions and Cotton bought and sold for cash or on a margin of 3 to 5 per cent.

COMMISSION 1-16 PER CENT.

Special Attention paid to Discretionary Accounts.

Correspondence Solicited

Direct wire from our office to all Western Union Offices in the United States. Bank references.

WEINMAN & CO.,

STOCK & GRAIN BROKERS, 41 BROADWAY, NEW YORK

[d Oct. 1st, 3m eod

MURDERED WITH A HAMMER

Mrs. Fred Skinner Struck Down While She Slept.

SEVEN PEOPLE BURNED TO DEATH

Two Men Killed and One Fatally Injured by a Boiler Explosion in West Virginia—Massey Manufacturing Co. Propose Removing Their Works to Tonawanda—Smallpox Epidemic in Washington.

LAPEER, Mich., Oct. 31.—At three o'clock yesterday morning an unknown man entered the residence of Fred Skinner, at Columbiaville, and attempted to murder the occupants. The murderer used a blacksmith's hammer. Mrs. Skinner was mutilated almost beyond recognition and will die. Mrs. Lucetta Standley, Mrs. Skinner's mother, was struck twice on the head and is perhaps fatally injured. Mr. Skinner warded off the attack on himself with a pillow and the assailant escaped.

The Smallpox Epidemic in Washington.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—Another death and an additional case have resulted from the smallpox epidemic which began in the law division of the interior department, and the marine hospital service is investigating still another death, traceable to the same source. William Owens, a young man employed in the census office as a messenger, died yesterday from the disease.

Massey Talks to Tonawanda People.

TONAWANDA, N. Y., Oct. 31.—H. A. Massey and L. M. Jones of Toronto and other members of the Massey Manufacturing Co. met the North Tonawanda Business Men's Association yesterday and heard proposals for the establishment of the Massey works in Tonawanda. The question is still undecided.

The Fire Trap Tenement.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Seven persons were burned to death yesterday in the five-storey tenement, No. 216 West 22nd street. A woman who tried in vain to save her life by jumping from a third storey window is another victim. She is fatally burned.

Two Killed and One Fatally Injured.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Oct. 31.—A boiler in Krep's saw mill across the Kanawha river blew up yesterday, wrecking the mill and killing John A. Kreps, one of the owners, and Samuel Jones, a workman, and fatally injuring James Mount.

REFUSED TO ANSWER.

Montreal's Chief Detective Declined to Say Whether He Had Been Bribed.

MONTREAL, Oct. 31.—Chief Detective Cullin of the Montreal detective force was again on the rack before the police investigation committee last night, and there was a little fun to relieve the otherwise monotonous proceedings. Chief Cullin described the custom of receiving complaints in the department. The complaints were entered in a large book, which was kept private. Witness was asked regarding a number of the complaints and went into details. He was asked if he had received money in connection with certain cases, but he flatly declined to answer. The counsel for the prosecution demanded that he be compelled, but on a vote being taken the majority of the committee sustained Cullin in his refusal. The prosecution protested against the enquiry being burked and were loudly applauded by the large crowd of citizens present.

NEWS FROM THE CAPITAL.

Government Contracts Awarded—John Taylor Not a Medical "Quack."

OTTAWA, Oct. 31.—The Department of Railways has awarded a contract for 4,300 tons of steel rails to C. J. DeSola of Montreal, representing the Cockerill works in Belgium, spoken of as the Belgian syndicate. The price which the Government will pay is about £4 sterling per ton. The rails must be delivered in June, 1895. The rails will be used on the main line of the Intercolonial, the Prince Edward Island line and the Windsor branch. The Department of Railways and Canals has also awarded the contract for re-building the docks at Port Dalhousie, Ont., to Messrs. Battle & Co., of Thorold.

Judge Musgrove has dismissed the suit brought by the College of Physicians and Surgeons, Toronto, against Mr. John Taylor, manager of the Murphy Gold Cure Institute of this city, charged with illegally practising medicine in connection with the institute.

The election of president for the Medical Council of No. 17 division, which comprises the counties of Carleton, Russell, Prescott, Glengarry and Stormont, took place here yesterday, the candidates being Dr. A. F. Rogers of Ottawa, and Dr. Bergin of Cornwall. The result was that Dr. Rogers was elected by 47 of a majority.

TARIFF REFORM IN ARGENTINE.

The Republic to Reduce the Duty on American Importations.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—The protectionists in the congress of the Argentine Republic have suffered a defeat in their efforts to increase the duties on imports and to lessen the internal revenue tax on spirits, sugar, coffee and other domestic products. The majority of the congress are favorable to the new tariff bill, which decreases the duty on American importations, particularly of lumber, petroleum, rice and agricultural implements from 15 to 20 per cent. The loss of revenue resulting to the government from a general tariff reduction will be off-set by continuing the present internal tax.

De Barry at Work.

BUFFALO, Oct. 31.—Immigration Inspector De Barry has been very busy of late over an alien contract labor case. Advertisements were inserted in the Toronto papers during the latter part of last year by the King Spring Company of 1400-1410 Niagara street for a number of first class carriage body makers. A number of the desired workmen came to Buffalo in response to the advertisement. Three men, Wm. Holman, Samuel Heaps and Harry J. Mummery wrote to the company regarding their prospective wages and received letters of contract. Advertising for labor in a foreign country with the printing and publishing of such advertisements is a violation of section 3 of the Alien Contract Labor Act of 1892. And the penalty as specified in section 3 of the act of 1894 is a fine of $1,000 for every such infraction. Inspector Debarry placed the case in the hands of Assistant District Attorney MacKey yesterday, and papers will be issued at once.

The New Orleans Trouble.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 31.—The situation was quiet on the river front yesterday and there was no rioting. Very little work, however, is being done and commerce is suffering severely. The ships are having considerable difficulty in getting white men to finish work started by negroes, and of the latter there are few on the river front. The colored laborers remain away owing to the high feeling that prevails against them.

Fatal Railway Wreck.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Oct. 31.—A frightful coal train wreck in which three unknown men were killed and Lewis E. Trump, of Williamsport, was badly injured occured about three quarters of a mile east of Niaduct, a station near Peale on the line of the Beech Creek Railway at an early hour yesterday morning. A coal train was moving past Viaduct, when one of the brake beams dropped down and the result was a bad wreck, 17 cars being piled up in a confused mass.

Is He An Alien Laborer?

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31—Attorney-General Olney has been asked for an opinion in the case of Howard, the under coachman of Vice-President Morton. Secretary Carlisle will be guided to a great extent by the opinion of the law officers of the government, though the law constitutes him the sole final judge of who is an alien contract laborer, regardless of judicial determination.

Plundered by Pirates.

ALMERIA, Spain, Oct. 31.—The Italian barque Scutolo, Captain Statia, which sailed from Philadelphia September 21st for Naples with a cargo of petroleum in boxes, has arrived here. She was boarded by pirates off Norro Nuevo, Africa, and plundered of 1,000 boves of her cargo.

Peculiar Shooting Accident.

EGANVILLE, Ont., Oct. 31.—Miss Adeline Prendergast was accidentally shot on Sunday by the discharge of a gun which stood in the corner of a room. The weapon fell. She saw it and stooped to pick it up. In doing this it exploded, the contents passing into her body. She only lived five hours.

The Pope Consulted.

ROME, Oct. 31.—Cardinal Prince Hohenlohe called upon the Pope yesterday to speak with him concerning his brother's appointment to the German Chancellorship.

Bismarck in Berlin.

BERLIN, Oct. 31.—Count Herbert Bismarck and his wife arrived in Berlin yesterday.

Water and Sediment.

It has been estimated by competent civil engineers that the Mississippi river annually discharges 19,500,000,000,000 cubic feet of water into the Gulf of Mexico. Of this prodigious quantity the 1-2900th part is sediment. Thus it will be seen that the Mississippi annually deposits enough mud in the gulf to cover a square mile of surface to a depth of 240 feet.

Mad at Uncle Sam.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—Salvador will withdraw her diplomatic representative because the San Francisco courts liberated the Salvador rebel refugees.

An Anarchist on Trial.

ROME, Oct. 31.—The trial of the notorious anarchist Merlino began in Florence yesterday. The charge is that he published articles inciting the people to revolution. Merlino was condemned some years ago in Contumacian with Cipriani.

Victoria Parliament Opened.

MELBOURNE, Oct. 31.—The Earl of Hopetown, governor of Victoria, opened parliament yesterday. He said that the session would be devoted to the work of placing the colony's finances on a sound basis.

Not Yet Done With Leist.

BERLIN, Oct. 31.—Ex-Chancellor Leist, the woman beater from the Cameroons, who was virtually acquitted by a disciplinary court, will be tried before the Supreme Court in Leipsic.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

TORONTO, Oct. 31, 1894.

The Oswego barley market is steady, Canada selling at 61 1-2c.

On the street market 300 bushels of wheat sold at 53c for white, 51c for red and 50 1-2c for goose; 3,000 of barley at 40 to 44c; 200 of peas at 54 to 55 1-2c, and 1,000 of oats at 30 to 31c.

Despite the warning of last week there was a big run of Canada lambs at East Buffalo. Nearly 25 cars; in consequence prices went off fully 25c per cwt., with 18 cars not sold at close.

On the New York stock market there was a pause in the professional campaign against the coal stocks. From this standpoint of market tactics this movement has been extremely stupid. Its organizers delayed until Wall street was well aware that the inside interests in these properties were not selling their stock. The attack on a large scale had even been postponed until everybody learned and reflected on the real facts of the coal trade situation, for the sitation certainly has two sides. No one will easily mistake the condition in which such a performance leaves the market. Outside of the anthracite properties, moreover, stocks have sustained a very thorough test, and thus far have met the shock with encouraging response.

The London stock markets were idle in part owing to the miserable weather. The Grand Trunk railway meeting was the only feature of interest. The main result of the meeting is a decision to appoint a special auditor to go to Canada to look into the accounts. The stock was flat, more on traffic returns than the meeting. Americans were flat until after hours, when there came a distinct rally in Louisville, St. Paul, Atchison and others. South American stocks were firm. The withdrawal of gold is for Paris and more is going. The new Canadian loan has risen to 4 1-2 premium.

Deseronto Navigation Company (Limited

Steamer Ella Ross.

This fast sailing and comfortable steamer leaves Belleville for Trenton daily (Sunday excepted), at 10 a.m. Leaves Belleville for Deseronto and Picton at 3 p.m., connecting at Deseronto with steamers for Napanee and Oswego. Lowest freight and passenger rates. For further information apply to the Rathbun Co., Bridge street, or to R. C. Carter, General Manager, Deseronto.

It saves time and leather to have a broom, brush and dustpan for every floor in the home.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP heals the lungs.

It is worse than madness to negect a cough or cold which is easily subdued if taken in time, but becomes, when left to itself, the fore-runner of consumption and premature death. Inflammation, when it attacks the delicate tissue of the lungs and bronchial tubes, travels with perilous rapidity; then do not delay, get a bottle of Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup, the medicine that grasps this formidable foe from the human body, and drives it from the system. This medicine promotes a free and easy expectoration, subdues the cough, heals the diseased parts, and exerts a most wonderful influence in curing consumption, and other diseases of the throat and lungs. If parents wish to save the lives of their children, and themselves from much anxiety, trouble and expense, let them procure a bottle of Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup, and whenever a child has taken cold, has a cough or hoarseness, give the Syrup according to directions.

For damp closets or cellars put shallow dishes of unslaked lime and change often.

Jacob Loeckman, Buffalo, N.Y., says he has been using Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil for rheumatism; he had such a lame back he could not do anything, but one bottle has, to use his own expression, "cured him up". He thinks it is the best thing in the market.

To keep salt dry for table use mix a teaspoonful of corn starch with one cupful of salt.

SIGNS OF WORMS are variable appetite itching at the nose, etc. Dr. Low's Worm Syrup is the best worm expeller.

Temptation relies more on suggestion than exposure.

Dr. Low's Worm Syrup cures and removes worms of all kinks in children and adults. Price 25c. Sold by all druggists.

DYSPEPSIA arises from wrong action of stomach, liver and bowels. Burdock Blood Bitters cures Dyspepsia and all diseases arising from it, 99 times in 100.

It would be a gross injustice to confound that standard healing agent—Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil—with the ordinary unguents, lotions and salves. They are oftentimes inflammatory and astringent. This Oil is on the contrary, eminently cooling and soothing when applied externally to relieve pain, and powerfully remedial when swallowed.

NORWAY PINE SYRUP cures Bronchitis.

IF YOU WANT THE BEST FUEL THAT COMES TO THIS MARKET, buy the Celebrated

SCRANTON COAL

Mined and shipped by the D. L. & W. R. R. Co.

THOS. STEWART,

COAL AND WOOD MERCHANT, is Sole Agent for Belleville. Office Bridge Street. Yards, foot of Front Street.

LISTEN FRIENDS!!

We SAY because we KNOW!

Our COAL! This Season is unexcelled for quality because the Bill of Lading bears the Brand of the Delaware & Hudson Canal Company.

Cut this out and test this "Ad' when the Winter Winds whistle.

THE RATHBUN COMPANY.

ONTARIO MUTUAL LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY.

S. Burrows, Esq., General Agent, Ontario Mutual Life Co., Belleville, Ont.

DEAR SIR, Received your company's check for $2,000 for our Matured Endowment, and we both wish to show our gratitude to you and the Company for the straightforward and satisfactory way you deal with policy holders, and that we are more than satisfied with our investment. I will always urge our friends to follow in our footsteps. Thanking you very kindly.

Yours very sincerely,
Mr. & Mrs. GOODWIN, Bowmanville,
Formerly of Belleville.

BLANKETS

We are showing a large line of Blankets in all Wool and Union from $2.00.

Grey Flannel

Our Grey Flannels are from the best makers. You should call and see our 15c. line

NATHAN JONES.

OPPOSITE HOTEL STREET.

TO THE PUBLIC.

When we decided to add the manufacure of carriages, phaetons, democrats, &c., to our business, we immediately put under construction a few of each. As we decided to place no vehicle on the market which is not A 1 in every detail, and knowing that no first-class vehicle can be produced on the rush, it has been necessary for us to take sufficient time to produce what we aimed at. We think we have succeeded; and we now have a few rigs completed, and others nearing completion to offer for sale. The iron work is all hand forged; the wood work carefully made, and strongly ironed; and the painting and upholstering done with the best material and greatest care. We can freely recommend these rigs. We will be pleased to have parties who may need anything in the above line, call and inspect our work.

ST. CHARLES & PRINGLE.

JAS ST CHARLES. - - - - HENRY PRINGLE

IT - HAS - BEEN - ADMITTED

— BY OVER 125 PEOPLE IN BELLEVILLE THAT THE —

John Bull Wrought Steel Range,

is the most Economical, Everlasting and Useful Range on the market. How is this for three Seasons.

SEE THEM AT FOSTER'S.

Also the Duchess of Oxford Cast Iron Range

The Sale of Boots and Shoes:

Slightly damaged by Smoke and Water will continue until everything is sold.

HAINES & LOCKETT

Opposite Anglo-American Hotel.

Camping Supplies!

— AND —

Picnic - Requisites!

Our list of articles suitable for Picnic Lunches and Camping, includes:

Canned Meats.

ARMOUR'S COOKED BEEF,
ARMOUR'S OX TONGUES,
ARMOUR'S LUNCH TONGUES,
ARMOUR'S POTTED HAM,
ARMOUR'S COOKED PIG FEET'
ARMOUR'S LUNCHEON MEAT.
ARMOUR'S POTTED TONGUE
ARMOUR'S BRAWN,
SANDWICH MEATS,
BONELESS CHICKEN,
BONELESS TURKEY,
POTTED BEEF,
POTTED GAME,
ETC.! ETC.!! ETC.!

Canned Fish.

FINEST SARDINES IN OIL,
FINEST SARDINES IN TOMATO,
HERRINGS IN TOMATO SAUCE.
KIPPERED HERRINGS,
FRESH HERRINGS.
SALMON, LOBSTERS,
FINNAN HADDIES,
BLOATER PASTE,
ANCHOVY PASTE,
SARDINE PASTE,
ETC.! ETC.!!ETC.!!!

Sundries.

Condensed Milk in Tins, Cream in Tin Biscuits (in great variety), Fine old Cheese, McLaren's Imperial Cheese (in small crocks). Dried Beef, Choice Hams and Bacon, Lime Juice, Spanish Olives, CROSSE & BLACKWELL'S Pickled White Onions, Walnuts, Chow Chow, and and Mixed Pickles.

WALLBRIDGE & CLARKE

Grocers and Wine Merchants.

33 and 37 Bridge Street, Also Front Street, in Caldwell Building.

GENTLEMEN....

Before ordering your Fall Clothing don fail to take a look through

A. N. REID'S

New Fall Importations of

Scotch, English and Irish Suitings, Overcoatings, Pantings, Irish Serges, Cheviots, Hop Sackings and Black Worsteds

First Class Goods and Prices low.

Mr. Minor, our cutter, is one of the best in Ontario.

EVERY GARMENT GUARANTEED!!

Please call and inspect our New Goods.

A. N. REID.

For.. THIRTY... DAYS.....

WE will sell our entire line of Wall Paper....

—AND—

Window Shades

AT A DOUBLE DISCOUNT 10 & 5p.c.

10 per cent. off Special, and 5 per cent. off for cash.

We positively will not be undersold at

OVERELL'S BOOK STORE.

REMOVAL

MR. JOSEPH CALDWELL, DENTIST

Has removed his office to the new premises which he has had specially fitted up in the

Caldwell Block,

First door south of the Anglo American Hotel Front street. 108t